

BRITISH COLUMBIA GOVERNMENT DEFEATED AND HOUSE IS PROMISED DISSOLUTION

Two Ministers Dismissed and a Third Resigns.

A Hot Exchange of Personalities Between Members.

On Motion to Adjourn Government Was Defeated 17 to 14—Explanations by Prior, Eberts, Wells.

Victoria, B. C., May 27.—The dismissal of two ministers, the resignation of a third and the defeat of the cabinet in the record of British Columbia for the last 24 hours. Following closely on the events of yesterday afternoon came today the resignation of Mr. McInnes, forecasted in last night's dispatch. Mr. McInnes, in a letter to the Premier, said he took this step to facilitate an appeal to the country on party lines, but frankly admitted he would accept Premier Prior's support for the purpose of granting supply. Col. Prior's statement to the House and those of the other ministers led to some bitterness. Col. Prior said he attended meetings of the committee and came to his own conclusions and formed the opinion that it was impossible for the Government to continue effectively with such differences of opinion existing between the ministers.

PROMISED A DISSOLUTION.

He had acquainted the Lieutenant-Governor with the situation, and had been promised dissolution. The Governor had promised him this, but urged that he get supply voted first.

The Premier was here closely questioned as to whether the promise of dissolution was unconditional. He said it was, and even if the House defeated him he could go to Sir Henri Joly and get leave to appeal to the country.

Mr. McInnes' explanation was brief. He said he had seen a chance to conduct the affairs of the Government efficiently he would have remained, but the last few days demonstrated that was impossible. He advocated appeal to the country on party lines as soon as supply was secured.

MR. EBERTS' STATEMENT.

Mr. Eberts said he had consistently opposed bill sixteen, and a majority of the ministers agreed with him that it was the more honest course. He asked the Premier if he did not tell him he would not vote for bill sixteen, and that if he was asked to do so he would resign.

Col. Prior interjected: "No, I said you could do whatever you please. The reflections passed on him by the Premier, Mr. Eberts hurled back in his face. He also criticised Col. Prior's course in taking action before the committee reported.

MR. PRENTICE'S STRONG LANGUAGE.

Mr. Prentice, who seemed excited, replied with heat, and said he could tell things that happened in the executive for the last four years that would make Eberts want to find a hole and crawl into it. The plotting by the C. P. R., he said, was engineered by Brown and Eberts' "famous partner, Taylor," whom he characterized as a blackguard.

He added: "The Premier has had ministers who were unfaithful to him and were liars and cowards."

This Mr. Speaker compelled him to retract.

Mr. Wells complained because the Premier did not wait for the committee to report. He refused the Premier's charge that his department was inefficient, and challenged the Premier to state instances. He also said the Premier's action was taken with a view to divert the blame from himself.

Mr. McBride refused to say whether or not he would co-operate with Col. Prior to grant supply. He challenged Col. Prior's statement that he had a promise unconditionally of dissolution, declaring such a course would be unprecedented.

A GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

Subsequently the Premier moved that the House adjourn till 2 o'clock tomorrow. This was opposed by the Opposition, who defeated the Government by 17 to 14.

Col. Prior then rose, and said it having been demonstrated that he had lost control of the House he would ask the Governor to come down tomorrow and dissolve the House.

Mr. McBride then moved the adjournment till 3 tomorrow. This was also defeated, Mr. Dunsmuir and one or two others who had voted against the Government again switching. Things remained in a hopeless deadlock for an hour and a half, till finally a simple motion to adjourn by the Premier passed.

Mr. Martin voted with the Government, as he said he was willing to grant the Government supply on the understanding that they appeal to the country. His real object, however, was to frustrate the efforts of Mr. McBride and the Opposition to place themselves in line of succession for the Government.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

During the afternoon the special committee reported unanimously. Briefly, they found that the original transfer of lands to the C. and W. Railway was contrary to the public interest, that there were ample subsidy lands to satisfy the legitimate demands of the railway without appropriating these two blocks, that there were no conditions attached to the delivery of the grants, that the Government gave answers in the House contrary to the facts, that letters from the C. P. R. to the Government were not brought down with the return ordered by the House, that under bill 8, the company would have been given claim to the blocks, and, finally, that the railway company have no ground for complaint, either in the rescinding order or in bill sixteen, both of which were in the public interest. As a preliminary to these findings the committee reflect on the Government, and particularly on Messrs. Eberts and Wells, for allowing the C. P. R. undue influence in the Government.

A DELAY INEVITABLE.

As to the outcome of the present situation, if Col. Prior is given dissolution by the Governor it will take at least three months to get the lists in shape under the new redistribution act. In the meantime, unless some arrangement can be made for supply, the Government will have to be carried on by special warrants. Messrs. Martin and Prior hope to lead the Conservative and Liberal parties respectively in the fight, but neither will be accepted by the great mass of the people. If Col. Prior is not granted dissolution, the Governor is likely to send for Mr. McBride, who will appeal to the country, and the Premier will be left with a head of the party which has won nearly every bye-election since Mr. McBride retired from the Government.

CROATIAN SEPERATION

A General Rising Had Been Planned for May 9 and 10.

Vienna, May 28.—The ban of Croatia, Count Hadvary, has made a statement to a Budapest newspaper in which he declares that the whole movement in Croatia was the result of a general rising planned for May 9 and 10. The ban, however, soon restored order. The troops, however, soon restored order. The ban is convinced that parliamentary obstruction in Hungary engendered the trouble, and that peace would soon return when the parliamentary crisis was ended. It is reported that Gen. Vancsics, the commander of the Agram army corps, was summoned to Vienna and received in a special audience by the Emperor.

COLONY ENTERS THE MEAT TRADE

New Zealand Government to Establish Enterprise.

London, May 28.—The Government of New Zealand will shortly initiate a big meat selling enterprise. Prime Minister Seddon has cabled a response to an inquiry from London that the Government proposed to buy meat in the colony, and ship it direct to the United Kingdom, where depots will be established in the big manufacturing centers. The meat will be sold at a price that will simply cover the costs. It is further learned that New Zealand intends to employ the existing six or seven factories to kill, freeze, pack and ship the meat at a fixed sum per carcass.

A commissioner will manage the Government's business in the United Kingdom, and superintend a staff of branch managers. The first depots will be established at Glasgow, Manchester, Liverpool and Cardiff; all will be in the name of the New Zealand Government.

There will be also retail shops, although it is intended when the business is firmly established to abandon these and lease the retailing to ordinary butchers, the Government simply maintaining experts to oversee the trade.

The New Zealand mutton imported into Great Britain in 1907 was valued at $2,077,000 and the beef at $1,890,000. The mutton imports had risen in value to $3,219,000 and the beef to $1,417,000. Great Britain's total imports of mutton in 1902 amounted to nearly $7,000,000 and nearly $3,000,000. Mr. Seddon hopes to capture a large proportion of this trade.

TO INTIMIDATE COLONIES

Germany Hopes to Do So by Tariff Reprisals Against Canada.

London, May 28.—Telegrams from Berlin state that the German press is delighted at Australia's refusal to grant a preference to England.

The German reprisals upon Canada will be published by the end of the week and the Berlin newspapers express the hope that they will be such a character as to intimidate the other colonies from adopting a similar policy to that sanctioned by the Dominion Parliament.

It is, however, certain that any reprisals will have exactly the opposite effect here to that desired by Germany.

An English M. P. of prominence stated that if Germany hits Canada, which is a part of the empire, then the whole empire must hit back.

Russia After Norway.

The Finnish Persecution But a Step to Greater Moves.

Christiana, Norway, May 28.—The Aftenbladet, in a sensational article, accuses the Czar of the responsibility for the Russian oppression of Finland. It asserts that the motive for the destruction of the Finnish nationality is Russia's secret desire to secure the free ports of Northern Norway, and the necessity of securing communications through Finland. The general opinion in Norway, says the paper, is that Russia will become a dangerous neighbor when the Russification of Finland is completed.

Town of Melazgherd, Asiatic Turkey, Wiped Out.

WITH ITS ENTIRE POPULATION

In Addition 400 Buildings in Neighboring Villages Were Destroyed—London Sends Relief.

Constantinople, May 28.—Advices which reached here today from Asiatic Turkey show that a terrible earthquake occurred April 29 at Melazgherd, in the vilayet of Van, 80 miles southeast of Erzurum, on the Euphrates. The town was totally destroyed, with its entire population, numbering 2,000 souls, including 700 Armenians, as well as the troops forming the garrison of Melazgherd.

In addition over 400 houses in neighboring villages collapsed. A somewhat severe earthquake was felt here this morning, but no damage was done.

London, May 28.—The foreign office here today received some details from the British consul at Erzurum, regarding the recent earthquake at Melazgherd, according to which a strong earthquake, lasting 30 seconds, was felt in the morning of April 29 throughout the entire district between Lake Van and the Russian frontier, and as far west as Kharpout. The town of Melazgherd, consisting of 500 houses, was destroyed, and much havoc was wrought in the surrounding villages. Col. Khalil Bey, commanding the garrison of Melazgherd, with his whole family, three other officers and eighty soldiers perished in the ruins. Lieut. Col. Tayi Bey, whose family perished, became insane.

The telegraph operator who sent the news of the catastrophe said he himself was badly injured and that his wife and sister had been killed. He only rescued his instruments from the ruins of the office with the greatest difficulty.

The foreign office has appealed for subscriptions for the relief of the destitute Melazgherd Christians of the Melazgherd district.

RAILWAY BILL FULLY DISCUSSED

Proposal to Include Express Companies.

MANY PRIVATE BILLS PASSED

After This Government Will Take Mondays Until the End of the Session.

Ottawa, May 27.—The House of Commons today took up the bill "to amend and consolidate the law respecting railways." This is the measure for the appointment of a railway commission. Mr. Blair, after having considered the matter, could not see his way to incorporate in the bill a clause making it applicable to express companies. Admitting, for the sake of argument, that express companies should be under the jurisdiction of the railway commission, it could be done by a separate bill.

Mr. MacLean favored bringing express companies under the railway bill. The railways, he said, owned their own express companies and this part of their business should be controlled as well as other parts.

Mr. McCreary thought that to go into so many details might endanger the bill. What was wanted was to get the bill through. It could be amended afterwards as experience showed to be necessary.

Mr. Kemp called attention to the position of fruit growers who ship by express, as their product is perishable. The business was dependent on reasonable rates.

Mr. Blair held that the bill was large enough as it stood, and should not be encumbered with more clauses. He advised Mr. MacLean to have patience for another session.

Mr. Monk had no great confidence in the commission idea. He favored responsible control under Government.

Mr. Smith, of Wentworth, complained that the fruit business of the railways was being run on a purely restricted by high charges and poor train service. A large portion of the fruit was taken by express, and therefore the omission of such companies was important.

Mr. Kemp said that up to the present the railways had practically been able to do as they liked with regard to rates.

Mr. Blair thought the country was hoping for more from the bill than would be justified by its working, but the railway committee of the Privy Council was not a tribunal to do effective work, and there was no other way to proceed except by appointing a commission. As to the conduct of the railways in issuing a new freight classification without securing permission from the Governor-in-Council, he did not know how they could be prevented, but it was a high-handed proceeding, just the same. Mr. Blair contended that the bill would in practice give the railway commission much more power over express rates than members seemed to suppose. The commission would have power to say what shall be the toll exacted on every parcel of goods carried by rail, proceeding, just the same, Mr. Blair contended that the bill would in practice give the railway commission much more power over express rates than members seemed to suppose. A CANADIAN SUICIDES

W. H. Woodward, of Woodstock, kills himself at Dexter.

Dexter, Mich., May 28.—The body of W. H. Woodward, of Woodstock, Ont., employed as a canvasser for the Chicago Portrait Company, was found Monday in the cellar of an unused house on a farm near here, the throat cut from ear to ear. Three weeks ago Woodward borrowed a razor from another canvasser on the plea that he wanted to shave. Later he disappeared, and it was supposed that he had gone into the country to make some debt collections. The borrowed razor was found lying beside the body, showing clearly that it was a case of suicide.

As Summer Advances Make MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

The First Dish at the Morning Meal.

As summer advances, avoid meats at the morning meal. They conduce to heaviness, drowsiness and defective digestion. Summer dieting that does not contribute to health, vigor and heartiness, should be stopped at once. If the stomach is weak and irritable and digestion impaired, use Malt Breakfast Food instead of a meat diet, and carefully avoid oatmeal and other blood-heating foods. Malt Breakfast Food is delicious in taste, light and refreshing to the stomach, easy to digest, and keeps the user in good condition physically. All Grocers heartily recommend Malt Breakfast Food.

Gambling among American workmen is almost unknown as compared with the same evil in Great Britain, says the Moseley commissioners.

THE FEAR OF LYNCHING

It is Driving Large Numbers of the Negroes to the Cities.

Tuskegee, Ala., May 28.—Booker T. Washington yesterday submitted his annual report to the board of trustees of the Tuskegee Institute. It is in part as follows: "There are several influences that are constantly exerting themselves against the negro in the country. One of these is the lack of public school facilities in the country districts, and the frequent and unwise agitation of the question of dividing the school fund in proportion to the tax paid by each race. One thing which sends a large number of negroes to the city is the fear of lynching. The surety of getting police protection in the city when one is charged with crime. I think I do not overstate the matter when I say that for every lynching or attempt at a lynching that takes place in the country a score of colored persons leave the country for the city."

A GIGANTIC SWINDLE

Prospective French Colony in Manitoba Loses $50,000.

Winnipeg, May 28.—A party of Parisians, Count de Saint Phalle, Baron de Peulise, Mons. H. Morin and Mons. E. Papelland, who sent an agent ahead to purchase lands and buildings for a French colony at St. Norbert, Manitoba, claim to have been swindled out of $50,000 by their man.

They made extensive purchases of the necessary machinery in France before coming to Canada. As a forerunner, they sent an agent ahead of them to purchase improved farm lands, cattle and buildings necessary to start operations, and in him they vested the power to draw on them to the extent of $50,000. With this money he was to start the industry going and was then to wait their arrival with the machinery. On their landing at St. Norbert they were disgusted to find that, instead of their agent being in charge of the buildings and stock all ready purchased, he was non est.

They had a title to "all and certain lands lying" etc. The lands however, were what is commonly known as hay land or plain virgin prairie. The inconvenience and unnecessary expense to which they are being put by the alleged rascality of their agent has put them in no pleasant mood, and may be instrumental in causing their return to France without carrying out their extensive project, which would have been of great benefit to the province.

U. S. POSTAL SCANDAL

Prominent Official Accused of Gigantic Swindlings.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—By far the most sensational development of the postoffice investigation up to this time occurred yesterday, when August W. Machen, general superintendent of the free delivery system, was charged with a statement that his recovery of postoffice inspector charging him with having received "rake-offs" from contractors made with the local firm of Croft Bros. for a patent postal box fastener. The warrant specifically charges him with receiving $18,981.78 since Aug. 8, 1900. It is alleged, however, at the department that this amount does not represent all that Machen obtained in connection with those contracts, it being charged that he has prior to the present contract mentioned in the warrant. Other arrests are to follow. Immediately after Mr. Machen was taken into custody the postoffice inspector issued an order removing him from office. He had been under suspension for a fortnight, pending inquiry into his department. The discovery of irregularity of Machen's accounts was made quite accidentally three weeks ago, and since then efforts have been made to make out a case.

NEW YORK PROTESTS

A Big Mass Meeting in Interest of Russian Jews.

New York, May 28.—Carnegie Hall was packed last night, the occasion being an indignation mass meeting to protest against the massacre of the Hebrews at Kishineff. The announcement that former President Cleveland would speak drew additional interest to the gathering. Mayor Low, in his opening remarks, expressed the hope that Russia would give more liberty to her Jewish subjects. The resolution adopted denounced the massacre, urged the claim of the Jews in Russia to just treatment and protection, and declared: "That the people of the United States should exercise such influence with the Government of Russia as the ancient and unbroken friendship between the two nations may justify, to stay the spirit of persecution upon the Jews of Kishineff and to prevent the recurrence of outbreaks such as have amazed the civilized world."

Mr. Cleveland said he wished to be counted among those who are in hearty sympathy with the purpose of this meeting. "The influences which have called us together tonight grow out of our recognition of the promptings of Christian civilization and our dutiful devotion to the best and deepest of our national characteristics."

Every American humane sentiment has been shocked by a late attack on the Jews in Russia, an attack murderous, atrocious and in every way revolting."

A Canadian Policy.

The Dominion Government has fulfilled the promise in the speech from the throne to appoint a commission to consider the whole problem of the transportation of Canadian products to the markets of the world. The commissioners will be Sir William Van Horne, John Bertram and E. C. Fry. Sir William Van Horne, the directing genius of the C. P. R. for so many years, needs no introduction to the public. Mr. Bertram is the head of the great shipping firm of that name in Toronto. Mr. Fry is Lloyd's agent in Quebec and has had a large experience in the shipping business. These gentlemen are admittedly well qualified to deal with the question of transportation by land and water. Sir Wilfrid Laurier points out that this question resolves itself into three different parts—first, water stretches and harbors; second, railway facilities for the new and rapidly growing settlements in the prairie sections; third, railways from the prairie sections to the seaboard. Works of great magnitude have been carried on at all parts of Canada's great water system—on the great lakes, on the canals, on the St. Lawrence, at Montreal, Quebec, Three Rivers, and on the seaboard at St. John and Halifax. The Premier describes the situation clearly:

"I think it may be said that all these works have been carried on, not under any general system, but chiefly from the local point of view of each particular place. We deem it of the greatest importance to have, if possible, all these different works carried on under a general comprehensive system. Before we ask for more money to be expended upon them, we think that it is advisable to have the report of a commission of the best experts that we have in the country in order that we may be able to lay before Parliament at this session or next session a comprehensive plan, as to what should be done in different localities or in other localities in order to meet the object in view."

The object in view, it is almost needless to say, is to place the Canadian producers in a position to compete successfully through all-Canadian channels, with the producers and exporters of other countries. The Government's memorandum on this subject sets forth that grain and other products will naturally seek their markets by the cheapest routes, and therefore the aim must be to make the Canadian routes cheaper and more convenient than competing routes. In this it is evident that the waterways must play an important, if not a supreme part. A great deal of money has been spent in improving the harbors and the terminal facilities of ports on the great lakes, but as the Premier says, these expenditures have had no reference to any broad comprehensive system. The scope of the commission will be a wide one. It will be the duty of the commissioners to select the harbors which are best located for the cheap transportation of western products to the seaboard and for the diversion of this traffic from American to Canadian channels. They are to report on the advisability of enlarging and improving any Canadian channel of transportation by land or water, and their investigations will not be confined to existing routes and facilities, but if necessary they are to make new surveys to determine whether any more economical channels by land or water can be opened up.

The sudden development of the Northwest compels the Government to face the transportation problem and to inaugurate a policy. It will mean the outlay of a great deal of public money, which will be thrown away unless the scheme is a well-considered one. It is to avoid a false step that the Government has decided to appoint this commission, composed of men who can bring an expert knowledge to the investigation of the problem. The report of the commission will have a direct bearing upon the Grand Trunk Pacific project. It is contended that during navigation, traffic from the Northwest will inevitably seek the Great Lakes, the rates by water being so low that no all-rail route to the Atlantic seaboard can hope to compete. Mr. Charlton points out that for a cent and a quarter or a cent and a half a bushel of wheat can be laid down at Duluth or Port Arthur, and a cent and a half, or at the most, two cents more, will put it in an elevator at Buffalo. Wheat is carried from Buffalo to New York by rail for one cent and six mills per bushel, so that the total cost from Port Arthur to New York is less than four cents a bushel. It is useless, Mr. Charlton says, to think of hauling wheat from Port Arthur by an all-rail route to Quebec or to Halifax at such a price. The obvious answer to this argument is that the Grand Trunk Pacific, in order to get the business, will have to meet the competition of the lake route during the season of navigation. There is also the fact that in the winter the Canadian roads would control the transportation of the Northwest. All these are questions which will be investigated by the commission, and its report will give the Government a working basis for a Canadian transportation policy.

The Ontario Government will compel counties to erect houses of refuge. We shall hear less in the future about the jails being filled with "insane" people.

Dr. Barr, M. P. P., lost a diamond ring at the Parliament buildings, Toronto, and the Opposition may lay a charge against the Ministry.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier announces that the Government lays down two conditions in respect to any transcontinental railroad which it may assist: First, that it must be all-Canadian, from the Atlantic to the Pacific; second, that no land subsidies will be granted. So far, so good.

The Chicago Record-Herald points out that Canada's population is one-fifth of the United States, and her immigration this year is two-fifths of that of the United States. Moreover, the Canadian immigration is almost entirely Teutonic, while two-thirds of that of the United States is Latin and Slav. "One absolutely certain fact of the near future is that the United States is to have a great competitor in the grain markets of the world," says the Record-Herald.

New York is celebrating her 250th anniversary and looks forward to the day when she will be the world's metropolis. Her population is 3,500,000; that of London 6,500,000. If the present rate of growth in both is maintained it is estimated they will be even about the year 1945. Some time ago the New York Sun published statistics to show that the increase of population in New York was created wholly by immigration. This is not a very certain basis for calculations that extend far into the future.

The dinner given by the American Pilgrims at New York to the British ambassador to the United States was a significant event. The Pilgrims are an "international association, organized to promote good fellowship between Great Britain and the United States." The banquet was attended by 150 representative Americans—soldiers, statesmen, authors, lawyers and men famous in many walks of life. Two of the speakers were members of the national administration—Mr. Root, Secretary of War, and Mr. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury. A few years ago any public man of note who figured in such an affair would have risked his political future.

Hon. Mr. Sifton, speaking in England, is reported as saying that until the people of Great Britain showed whether they desired Mr. Chamberlain's policy or not, the Dominion Government would express no opinion. It is safe to say the Dominion Government will have more sense than to interfere in the domestic politics of Great Britain. Nothing would be more hurtful to any scheme for drawing the mother countries and the colonies closer together, Canada cannot be too thankful to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for his refusal to demand a preference from Great Britain in 1897. The whole movement would have been wrecked or seriously retarded by such maladroitness. And yet he was roundly abused in this country by those who call themselves Imperialists.

A Noted Knight Templar Owes His Health to Peruna.

Colonel T. P. Moody, a prominent Knight Templar, is well known in every city in the United States west of Buffalo, N. Y., as a Jeweler's Auctioneer. In the city of Chicago as a prominent lodge man, being a member of the K. T.'s and also of the Masons. The cut shows Colonel Moody in the costume of the Oriental Consistory, Masons, 2nd degree.

In a recent letter from 590 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., Mr. Moody says the following:

"For over twenty-five years I suffered from catarrh, and for over ten years I suffered from catarrh of the stomach terribly.

"I have taken all kinds of medicines and have been treated by all kinds of doctors, as thousands of my acquaintances are aware in different parts of the United States, where I have traveled, but my relief was only temporary, until a little over a year ago I started to take Peruna, and at the present time I am better than I have been for twenty years.

"The soreness has left my stomach entirely and I am free from indigestion and dyspepsia and will say to all who are troubled with catarrh or stomach trouble of any kind, don't put it off and suffer, but begin to take Peruna right away, and keep it up until you are cured, as you surely will be if you persevere.

"My wife, as many in the southwest can say, was troubled with a bad cough and bronchial trouble, and doctors all over the country gave her up to die, as they could do nothing more for her. She began taking Peruna with the result that she is better now than she has been in years, and her cough has almost left her entirely. The soreness has left her lungs and she is as well as she ever was in her life, with thanks, as she says, to Peruna. Yours very truly,

T. P. Moody.

Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a general curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Prominent men have come to know of its virtues, and are making public utterances on the subject. To save the country we must save the people. To save the people we must protect them from disease. The disease that is one of the most prevalent and stubborn of cures is catarrh.

If one were to make a list of the different names that have been applied to catarrh in different locations and organs, the result would be astonishing. We have often published a partial list of these names, and the surprise caused by the first publication of it to all people, both professional and non-professional, was amusing. And yet we have never enumerated all of the diseases which are classed as catarrh. It must be confessed, however, to see even this partial list drawn up in battle array is rather appalling. If the reader desires to see this list, together with a short exposition of each one, send for our free catarrh book. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Colonel T. P. Moody, of Chicago, Had Catarrh Twenty-five Years and Was Cured by Peruna.

PREMIER ROSS ON TEMPERANCE

Legislation To Be Introduced
Early Next Session.

"CAP" SULLIVAN'S APPEARANCE

Letter Brought Before the House—
The Premier Promises to Make Inquiry.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, May 27.—Hon. G. W. Ross made an important pronouncement in the Legislature today on the subject of the Government's promised temperance legislation. He gave very cogent reasons why the Government had decided not to bring down a bill this year, and that it would be introduced early next year. He showed clearly that nothing would be lost by the delay, as a bill introduced now could not affect the present license year, while a bill passed next session would be in time for the new license year.

The House had a busy afternoon and a goodly quantity of business was done. The order paper. The House was handicapped by the absence of Adam Beck, M. P. for London, but it worried along as cheerfully as possible under the circumstances.

RAILWAY BILLS.
The Sarnia, Petrolia and St. Thomas Railway bill received its third reading and that of the Southwestern Traction Company was given its second reading. The subject of temperance legislation was brought up by Dr. Barr's motion for an order of the House for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Government, any member, or department thereof, and any person or persons respecting any temperance legislation introduced by the Government in the speech from the throne.

In making his motion, which was seconded by Mr. Foy, Dr. Barr said that his purpose was the ascertaining of the Government's position on the important question which had attracted so much of the attention of the people of Ontario. The prohibitionists had polled an enormous vote, but they had fallen short of the required majority. The Government, when waited upon by a big deputation, had promised a party prohibitive measure, but after the session had progressed toward its close, a second deputation had been told by the Premier that, owing to the delay, no legislation would be introduced this session. Dr. Barr said he stood as an independent member of the House, ready to give support to any good measure, and particularly to any measure which would introduce legislation to eliminate the morality of the Province.

The Premier, in reply, admitted the importance of the question. It had engaged the attention of the House for 25 years, and would probably do so for 25 more. The Government had done much for the temperance people, and the Premier said he did not know that anybody had questioned the bona fides of the Government in the matter of temperance legislation. Though the referendum had been severely criticized, the Government had taken a justifiable course in the matter, and one which merited the respectful recognition of all interested. The people had been given an opportunity to express their opinion on the measure for the final judges of legislation embodying such radical changes. It was important to know whether the law would be supported by such a large section of public opinion that its enforcement would not be difficult or impossible.

The Government's promise to bring down temperance legislation during the present session, had been made in good faith, and with the honest intention of fulfillment. On the other hand, the proposed bill had been made, and it was intended to revise, consolidate, and improve the present license laws and make more effective provision for their enforcement. The bill would have been brought down about ten days after the opening of the session, had it not been for charges made by Mr. Gurney against the Government, more particularly against the member of the Government who would have such a bill in charge. From the time the Gurney commission opened, the minister was necessarily absent from the House, and he had therefore been prevented from acting in the matter. That was the reason why the measure had not been brought down.

It would be unreasonable, in view of the circumstances, to bring down such an important bill so late in the session. The Government had meant to have the measure before the House for the greater part of the session, in order to get it thoroughly discussed, but it had been barred from pursuing that course.

The new license year had been entered upon, and even if an act was passed, it could not materially affect the liquor traffic this year. If, however, an act was introduced at the session beginning about January next, it could be thoroughly discussed and adopted in time to take effect at the beginning of the next license year. The Government, said Mr. Ross, had not broken its promise to the temperance people. It had merely postponed the fulfillment of its pledge, taking nothing unforeseen intervened, a bill would be introduced early in the next session. It would be such a measure as would commend itself to all who seek the best interests of the Province. The Government desired to deal patiently and rationally with the question, and it trusted to the good sense of the country to appreciate its efforts. Only a mistaken prejudice had created the impression that any great loss to the morals of the country had been occasioned by the delay. The Government must confront the conditions with the coolness, calmness and sanity demanded by a great problem.

The referendum campaign had done much good in an educative sense. The question was one more of education than legislation, and the campaign had done much which would assist the Government in enforcing temperance legislation.

Nothing would be lost, and much would be gained, said the Premier, by waiting till next session. When the bill was introduced, it would be found that more good would be accomplished than if it were put through now. The Premier said he had no objection to the motion passing.

Mr. Crawford (West Toronto) said that the excuses of the Premier for not fulfilling his promise to introduce the legislation at the present session were not good ones. The temperance people had all along been given to understand that the Premier would make good his promise, and were now greatly disappointed.

This closed the incident, and Dr. Barr's order was passed.

"CAP" SULLIVAN.

Mr. Graham (Brockville), under instructions from the Public Accounts Committee, reported to the House that Cap Sullivan had refused to appear before the committee after being personally notified by a messenger, and that he had left for Toronto, but was now understood to be in Buffalo.

Col. Matheson said he intended to press a motion that the House summon Sullivan to appear before the committee.

The Premier said he had no objection to the motion passing, but he asked that it be left over that he might ascertain the correctness of the procedure.

The matter was laid over.

PIG IRON BOUNTIES.
Mr. Hoyle (North Ontario), in moving for a return showing bounties paid to pig iron manufacturers, made the suggestion that the $25,000 bounty at present applied to this purpose should be discontinued, as the industry was now beyond the experimental stage. He thought the money could be advantageously applied to the encouragement of the pig iron industry.

The commissioner of crown lands, in reply, said that the pig iron bounty was never intended to be permanent, but that it had simply justified itself. He was glad to know that the pig iron industry was making progress.

Mr. Russell (East Hastings) favored the bounties of the pig iron industry. The Temiskaming Railway came up again for discussion. Hon. Mr. Latchford, replying to Mr. Powell, said that there was no intention of leasing the line to the Grand Trunk. He pointed out that the bill expressly provided that no railway should be given exclusive running rights over the road. The Premier announced that the question of the Dominion Government to grant increased subsidies to the province would be taken up tomorrow.

A petition from Toronto labor organizations, protesting against merging the Technical School board in the proposed amalgamation of educational boards, was presented.

The House adjourned at 6:25 p.m.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

Members of Swell Club Mixed Up in Strange Case.

New York, May 28.—There is no clue to the identity of the man who shot and killed John Hefferman near the Ardsley clubhouse at Irvington-on-Hudson Sunday night. A report was circulated yesterday that Dr. Robert Denniston, of Irvington, had informed the coroner that Hefferman had told him that he recognized the man who shot him as a member of the Ardsley Club. This Dr. Denniston denied today. What Hefferman did say, according to the doctor, was that, he thought his assailant mistook him for one of the club members and shot him for the purpose of robbery.

AMHERSTBURG HIT BY THE STORM

Levels Barns and Dwellings and Injures Crops.

SEVERAL NARROW ESCAPES

The Speed and Force of the Tornado Was Terrific—Elora
Also Suffers.

Amherstburg, Ont., May 28.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small tornado swept everything before it for a width of about 60 rods, passing through the district about half a mile south of here, going in a northerly and easterly direction. As a result window panes, barns, sheds of different kinds and other things belonging to William Lepin are a mass of ruins leveled with the ground. A corncrib close by, containing several hundred bushels of corn, was hurled over and over, scattering the corn about the ground. Loss about $1,000. His house entirely escaped the path of the tornado. The barn of J. Gould, containing his buggy, farm implements, hay and grain, and the residence of David Hall, were severely damaged, and the contents are scattered for half a mile or more through the fields.

John Gould and his brother George ran from the field to the barn at the approach of the storm. John just stepped into the stable door when the crash came. His brother Alfred, behind, was picked up off his feet and carried several rods, thrown against a tree and dumped over on the other side of it against the trunk. The next instant the largest part of the roof of the barn struck the tree on the opposite side from him, breaking it in pieces, considerable of it falling on him. He is seriously hurt. As John went into the barn door the roof was blown off and he turned and shot out again. The wind caught him and hurled him over and over, throwing him into a ditch.

John Gould's loss will be about $1,000. Both brothers escaped with their lives. Hall's residence was a two-story house. The upper story now lies scattered here and there through the fields. Parts of the roof and the windows of the lower story are blown out. Mrs. Hall and her children were in the house when the storm struck it. She caught up her two small children and fled through the open door to the field, narrowly escaping with her life. None of them were injured. Loss on house and contents not known.

The speed and force of the tornado was terrific, everything went instantly when struck. Miles of fence lies fallen in the fields. Immediately after the wind came a deluge of rain and hail. Although the buildings were insured, the policies only cover loss by fire and lightning.

Elora, Ont., May 27.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock a cyclone passed over a section of the country about three miles northwest of this town. It seemed to take a narrow strip, and in its course unroofed part of the barn of Charles Hays, carrying it a distance of 60 yards, and depositing it by the house. Scantlings and pieces of lumber were scattered like feathers, windows were broken and many trees in the path of the storm snapped off.

Many makers are now building gas engines of 2,500 horse power and are ready to double this efficiency.

The oven of an Imperial Oxford Range and the old-fashioned spit before an open fireplace do better roasting than any other cooking apparatus invented. In the olden days the spit had to be kept turning to get all sides of a roast cooked. It is much the same with the ordinary cook-stove. The heat of the oven is greatest on the fire side—roasts, bread, pies, cakes, etc., have to be turned and twisted to get them cooked at all. The result is uneven, unsatisfactory cooking—good food ruined. The diffusive flue construction of the draws fresh air into the flue chamber, super-heats it and diffuses it evenly over the oven, thus heating it quickly, thoroughly and uniformly—back, front and sides are at the same equal temperature. The result is juicy, tender roasts, light, dainty pastry, evenly raised bread—successful cooking. When you buy an Imperial Oxford Range you get the result of over sixty years' thought and experience in scientific construction of cooking apparatus.

No shoe manufacturer would have the temerity to guarantee ordinary Patent or Enamelled leather—certainly the makers of the famous "Slater Shoe" would not guarantee ordinary Patent or Enamelled leathers because with them a guarantee is a guarantee, not a pleasant sounding but meaningless play of words.

But the "Slater Shoe" makers use a standard of Enamelled leather which they can and do guarantee—every Enamelled shoe which bears the "Slater Shoe" trademark is guaranteed—The "Slater Shoe" makers use no Enamelled leather which they cannot guarantee.

MAY LOSE EYESIGHT.

An accident which occurred at Windsor on Monday may have serious results with Gordon Doug, the 7-year-old son of Mr. Walter Doug, clothing merchant of that town, and formerly a commercial traveler of this city. It is feared the little fellow may lose the sight of both eyes.

He is now progressing as favorably as could be expected.

MARRIED AT TORONTO

Miss Eleanor Garrett Becomes the Bride of Mr. James Richards.

A wedding took place in Toronto on Victoria Day in which many Londoners will be interested, the bride having been a resident of this city before her removal to Toronto. She was Miss Eleanor Garrett, daughter of Mr. W. A. Garrett, a merchant of this city, who left here about five years ago. The groom is Mr. James Richards, a popular young traveler for the Beaver Flint Glass Company, of Toronto. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Thomas at the bride's home, Ketchikan avenue, which was beautifully bedecked with wreaths while the bride and groom were in the church.

Coal and Wood Dealers Don't Get After City Business.

Aldermen Find They Can Get Wood Cheaper Outside City.

"I won't be talked to in that way," emphatically declared Ald. Matthews, replying to a rebuke from Chairman Greenleaf at No. 3 committee last night. The trouble arose over a tender that had been received for wood, Ald. Matthews telling who the tender was for, from which he was accused by the chairman of giving things away.

Chairman Greenleaf was surrounded at the board by Ald. Becher, Matthews and Saunders. Secretary Bell, Chief Roe, Inspector McCallum and Market Clerk Maker.

A communication was read from G. Minihagen and others petitioning for an electric light at the corner of Ormsby and Egerton streets. There were no funds, so it was filed.

The committee decided to also file the communication of William Watson, in which he had complained that John Fraser had moved a frame building into the fire limits on his King street property.

The chief of the fire department reported that on receiving the resignation of Harry Andrews, May 23, which took effect immediately, he appointed P. P. Haystack, a native of a number of applications had been received, out of which he recommended the permanent appointment of either P. P. Haystack or John E. Crawford. The latter was appointed.

Since the last meeting of the committee tenders had been asked for a supply of wood for relief purposes, of which the city had a large stock on hand to be used during the year. In the meantime prices had been obtained from some outside dealers, and it was estimated that the city would save $10,000 by getting the wood outside the city in preference to buying it from the single dealer in the city who had tendered. Some thought it would be best to leave the matter open for a week, but Ald. Matthews thought it a fake to fool the dealers by advertising for tenders and then not accepting them. He was just the other way, and he moved its acceptance.

Ald. Saunders moved that the matter be laid over. With him voted Chairman Greenleaf, but Ald. Becher stood by Ald. Matthews, so there was a deadlock. Like the wood, Ald. Becher suggested, the matter was cut and dried.

Was then that Ald. Matthews spoke up. "That tender," he said, "for wood was Chantler Bros'."

Whereupon the chairman rebuked him and said: "You're too good at that sort of thing."

"I won't be talked to in that way by you, Mr. Chairman," said Ald. Matthews. "You think you're running the whole business."

"It looks as if you thought you were," retorted the chairman, and the matter was put down.

Later Ald. Matthews refused to make a motion that the repairs to the market house, for which contracts have been let, be commenced at once by Ald. Matthews, the chairman would rule him out.

The motion, however, was made by Ald. Saunders, and passed after the committee had listened to Mr. Lockyer, a butcher in the market. He claimed that no new floor was needed, but a sidewalk was. His rent was to be paid on account of a new floor, and he would pay for it, but he objected to begin paying for it July 1, when it would likely be put down in December. Secretary Bell stated that the engineer said the floor could be put in before July 1. The motion passed.

The matter of firemen's benefit fund was simply broached. Ald. Matthews said he had a motion that it would be like the policeman's benefit fund. A policeman could not be found satisfied with the system. Ald. Becher thought policemen had service ten years or more were satisfied.

The chief reported that all the uniforms had been finished.

The committee adjourned at a rather early hour.

A New Bank.

By the offer of the stock of the Crown Bank of Canada, as announced by advertisement today, an opportunity is afforded for investment in bank stock at the moderate price of 110. The reasons in support of the issue are very carefully given in the prospectus, which cannot fail to attract attention.

It is interesting to notice that the board of directors is composed altogether of men in the prime of life, in a large and successful way of business in their several lines. This promises to be a business bank for business men in good hands.

LONDONERS WERE ELECTED

The annual convention of the grand lodge of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association was concluded in this city yesterday, when the following officers were elected for the year: Worshipful mistress, Miss M. The visiting delegates were entertained at a banquet by the London lodge at the K. of P. Hall. The chair was taken by the supreme organizer of the I. O. O. F., Mr. Wilkinson, of this city. Latham was chosen for the next meeting of the association.

STORM BLOCKED THE CARS

Threw Tree Across Track and Broke Wire.

Terrific Wind Swept City—The Rain Was Heavy.

The storm which struck London yesterday afternoon was attended by more wind and less thunder and lightning than the one of Tuesday. The wind yesterday did considerable damage, especially to trees in different parts of the city. Small trees were blown down, and the limbs were torn off larger ones, but as far as known no damage was done to buildings of any kind.

Before the rain fell the wind was unusually strong, and carried sand and dust in clouds through the streets. This was especially the case at the intersection of Dundas at Clarence and Wellington. At both of these points the wind was so fierce and the sand so thick that it was almost impossible at times to see across the street.

CARS WERE BLOCKED.

Two Springfield cars had a narrow escape from being struck by a falling tree near Warden Cemetery. The cars were approaching from opposite directions and were within a short distance of each other, when the tree fell in front of them. The overhead wire was torn away and all the cars were stalled for a couple of hours. The passengers had the option of waiting for the line to be repaired or walking back to the Warden road, the majority choosing the latter course.

TO CAMP IN CANADA

Cy Warman Wanted Roosevelt to Come to a Warm Land.

The Two Were Friends in the Poet's Denver Days.

Being "surrounded" by a reporter from The Advertiser, Mr. Cy Warman reluctantly surrendered this correspondence, which ought to be interesting to Canadians, to Londoners especially.

It seems that, some years ago, when Mr. Warman was lisping little lyrics in the shelter of the Sangre de Christo, not quite sure whether he ought to try to be a poet or a plumber, many letters of encouragement came to him from eastern authors and editors who read his rhymes in the New York Sun. One of his warmest admirers was a young New Yorker who had spent much of his youth in the West. "The Poet of the Rockies," as the great Dana named him, appealed to this eastern rider of the western range. By and by the poet left Denver, wandered over the face of the earth for two or three years and finally settled in Canada, in order to be near, but not too near, New York, for he had evolved from poet to author.

Meanwhile the friend of his literary youth, having found a better job, gave up literature, but never his friendship and sympathy for other authors.

The other day while the Yankee Canadian author was out on a strawberry patch in a big sun hat, the paper brought the paper to him and he read that his friend was snowbound away out in California. Then remembering the friendship of this snow-bound traveler, Warman wired him: "To President Roosevelt, Yosemite, California: 'Won't you come and camp in Canada? It's summer over here.'"

Soap-washing is too much for any woman. Ask a good doctor what he thinks of it—long stooping over the washbowl, breathing dirty steam and working as hard as a horse to work. How much easier, pleasanter, healthier PEARLINE washing is! It is science applied to cleaning of clothes. Doesn't the saving of work and money appeal to you?

STORM BLOCKED THE CARS

Threw Tree Across Track and Broke Wire.

Terrific Wind Swept City—The Rain Was Heavy.

The storm which struck London yesterday afternoon was attended by more wind and less thunder and lightning than the one of Tuesday. The wind yesterday did considerable damage, especially to trees in different parts of the city. Small trees were blown down, and the limbs were torn off larger ones, but as far as known no damage was done to buildings of any kind.

Before the rain fell the wind was unusually strong, and carried sand and dust in clouds through the streets. This was especially the case at the intersection of Dundas at Clarence and Wellington. At both of these points the wind was so fierce and the sand so thick that it was almost impossible at times to see across the street.

CARS WERE BLOCKED.

Two Springfield cars had a narrow escape from being struck by a falling tree near Warden Cemetery. The cars were approaching from opposite directions and were within a short distance of each other, when the tree fell in front of them. The overhead wire was torn away and all the cars were stalled for a couple of hours. The passengers had the option of waiting for the line to be repaired or walking back to the Warden road, the majority choosing the latter course.

TO CAMP IN CANADA

Cy Warman Wanted Roosevelt to Come to a Warm Land.

The Two Were Friends in the Poet's Denver Days.

Being "surrounded" by a reporter from The Advertiser, Mr. Cy Warman reluctantly surrendered this correspondence, which ought to be interesting to Canadians, to Londoners especially.

It seems that, some years ago, when Mr. Warman was lisping little lyrics in the shelter of the Sangre de Christo, not quite sure whether he ought to try to be a poet or a plumber, many letters of encouragement came to him from eastern authors and editors who read his rhymes in the New York Sun. One of his warmest admirers was a young New Yorker who had spent much of his youth in the West. "The Poet of the Rockies," as the great Dana named him, appealed to this eastern rider of the western range. By and by the poet left Denver, wandered over the face of the earth for two or three years and finally settled in Canada, in order to be near, but not too near, New York, for he had evolved from poet to author.

Meanwhile the friend of his literary youth, having found a better job, gave up literature, but never his friendship and sympathy for other authors.

The other day while the Yankee Canadian author was out on a strawberry patch in a big sun hat, the paper brought the paper to him and he read that his friend was snowbound away out in California. Then remembering the friendship of this snow-bound traveler, Warman wired him: "To President Roosevelt, Yosemite, California: 'Won't you come and camp in Canada? It's summer over here.'"

Too Hard

Soap-washing is too much for any woman. Ask a good doctor what he thinks of it—long stooping over the washbowl, breathing dirty steam and working as hard as a horse to work. How much easier, pleasanter, healthier PEARLINE washing is! It is science applied to cleaning of clothes. Doesn't the saving of work and money appeal to you?
