MR. MARSHALL

Popular Mayor May Move From City At End Of Term

THANKS FOR THE OUTING

A pleasant feature of last night's meeting of the City Council was the passing of a resolution thanking Mayor Marshall for the very pleasant outing tendered his colleagues at the Board recently.

The resolution, which was introduced in committee, with Ald. W. H. Bensen in the chair, Ald. Bensen made a motion that the Council pass a resolution putting on record their hearty appreciation and thanks for the enjoyable outing and fish dinner tendered them by the Mayor.

Mayor Marshall in replying said he was taken by surprise with this resolution of thanks and appreciation, though he was indeed glad that his outing was thoroughly enjoyed. He gave out the information during his remarks, that it was not his intention to again seek honors as First Magistrate of Chatham, and that there was a possibility that he would not be residing in the city for another year, though he would still be interested in a business which would be located here.

By-laws were passed authorizing the construction of a sidewalk on Colborne St. west to Adelaide St., and the laying of granite walks on the south side of Park St. west to Pine St., on the north side of Wellington St. from Sixth St. to the Market, and on Selkirk from Van Allen Ave. to the city limits.

N. H. Harper drew attention to a mistake made in his assessment, whereby he was assessed for $750, when the slip only called for $500. The collector was instructed to rectify the matter.

H. Macaulay and H. MacDonald complained that the C. W. & L. E. R. R. is in the habit of allowing cars to stand in front of their property on Edward St. for a much greater length of time than the by-law allows.

They also drew attention to the fact that piles of bricks were left on the street.

Ald. Austin moved, seconded by Ald. Edmondson, that the complaint be referred to the Chief of Police, and that he be instructed to see that the by-law is enforced.—Carried.

Batoplayers on Park St. West petitioned for an electric light to be placed between Lenoir and Queen Sts.—Referred to Property.

The Mayor informed the Council that he had received a cheque from the Mayor of Detroit for $19.25, which had been subscribed in that city last summer towards the Venedass fund, but which amount had been refused by those who took up the subscription here.

He said that Mrs. Venedass's address in Belgium would be ascertained and the cheque forwarded to her.

A letter was received from the Pere Marquette, stating that they were willing to settle the bill with Elight and Fiedler for work done on Head St. The letter was filed.

The matter of the Chatham Mineral Water Co.'s assessment for the years 1905-06 was brought up by Ald. Scullard, who said that when the Mineral Water Co. had leased a section of land from the city in 1901, an agreement was entered into between the company and the city, to the effect that the former should only pay school and frontage taxes.

For the year 1905 the assessors had placed the assessment at $759.98, whereas if the agreement had been observed the assessment would amount to but $321.50. Ald. Scullard hinted that the agreement had been disputed, and this was the reason the rate of taxation had been raised.

When the matter was put to a vote the Council unanimously decided that the Mineral Water Company should be assessed as per the terms of their agreement with the city.

Ald. Edmondson thought that it would be a good idea to have a committee of citizens appointed to examine the approaches to the city bridges, with a view to receiving a report from them and having the approaches paved with bitulith.

The other aldermen, however, did not seem to think that the matter should be taken up so late in the season. They believed that it should be left over for another Council to deal with.

Ald. Bensen drew the attention of the Property committee to the bad shape in which the electric light at Indian Creek was reported to be in at the present time.

The Chatham Motor Car Co. wrote, stating that they were enlarging their business and capital, and they asked for a fixed assessment for ten

THE LABOR

CONDITIONS

Tradesmen Are Very Busy And Oil Field Is Developing

AN OFFICIAL REPORT

The Labor Gazette for the month of September has the following from the Chatham correspondent: GENERAL CONDITION OF THE LABOR MARKET.

There was no very marked change in the condition of the labor market during September as compared with August. Weather conditions have been favorable for all kinds of work, but trade generally was quiet.

The building trade was dull, very few new buildings being started and little repair work done. Transportation in through traffic was active.

Wholesale and retail trade was quiet. No changes in rates of wages or hours of labor were reported, and no unrest in the labor market.

The Maple City Oil and Gas Company has 27,000 acres of oil lands in Tilbury under lease and is drilling in a three by two mile field that is producing 1,500 barrels of oil a day. The wells are 1,400 feet deep. There is a natural gas pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch. This pressure has been unabated for months. There is a wastage of 1,500,000 feet of gas per day from one well alone. In drilling for water at the Maple City Creamery, gas was struck at a depth of 40 feet. The Halliday well in Raleigh, which was reported at first as a dry hole is now yielding 1,500,000 feet of gas per day. The output of the Tilbury oil field is now estimated at from 800 to 1,000 barrels per day. Four-inch pipe lines have been laid to Merlin station. It is expected those lines will handle all the oil from the field.

The first fatality in the Tilbury oil fields took place on the 22nd inst., when a man was overcome by gas in a tank. One of his employers went to his assistance and was also overcome.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

Agriculture—Farmers were busy harvesting and marketing crops. The Chatham Fruit Growers' Association, composed of eight farmers, is doing a large business in the shipment of choice fruit to the North-west, sending forward two carloads of apples and pears each week.

The association has established a reputation as a careful shipper and every consignment has been eagerly sought for, at advanced prices upon daily market quotations. Extensive additions in the building will be commenced in the course of a few days.

Manufacturing—All local factories were fairly busy.

Railroad construction and employment—There is no railroad construction going on at present, except repair work.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

Building—Bricklayers and masons, carpenters, lathers and plasterers, were quiet. Painters and plumbers were dull.

Metal and engineering—Iron moulders and iron workers were quiet. Steam engineers and electrical linemen were busy, and sheet metal workers active.

Woodworking—Carriage workers were active, and coopers busy.

Printing—Printers, pressmen and bookbinders were active.

Clothing—Journeyman tailors, and boot and shoe makers were quiet.

Food and tobacco preparation—Bakers had steady work. Cigar-makers were busy.

Leather trades—Harnessmakers and saddlers were dull.

Miscellaneous—Barbers, clerks and stenographers were active, and delivery employees busy.

Transport—All classes of railroad employees were busy. Teamsters were dull.

Unskilled labor—Farm hands had plenty of work.

ENGLISHMAN DROPS DEAD

Blenheim, Oct. 29.—James Sellers, an Englishman, 40 years of age, who has been out here three years, died suddenly Saturday night at the home of Harwich Councillor J. B. Clark.

He had been slightly ailing for a few days, but not seriously ill. Saturday, after supper he dropped dead while crossing the floor in the summer kitchen. A little daughter, 14 years of age, who recently arrived here, survives.

WRECK IS

INSPECTED

Only Two Unclaimed Of Atlantic City Wreck Victims

TOTAL NUMBER DEAD 53

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 30.—The total number of dead in the appalling wreck of an electric train, which on Sunday afternoon, loaded with passengers, plunged into the waterway separating this city from the mainland, now is placed at 53.

Of these 49 bodies have been identified, and two others remain unclaimed in the temporary mortuary.

The bodies of two persons known to have been drowned have not been recovered.

A special car containing the bodies of the Philadelphia victims left last night for that city.

The day has been one of unceasing activity, of gruesome scenes and pathetic incidents. Wrecking crews with derricks succeeded in bringing one of the two submerged cars to the surface, and divers working in relays, brought up bodies until their task was completed and they reported that no more dead remained either inside the second car or in the water and mud anywhere in the vicinity.

Interest now centres in the work of the coroner's jury, which yesterday made a careful inspection of the scene of the wreck and the drawbridge, at which the train left the rails. State Senator Edward S. Lee is foreman of the jury.

No More Than 53.

After the forward car of the two submerged coaches had been hoisted to the surface and the divers who had worked on the wreckage all day long, had made a final examination of the second car without finding any more bodies, W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railway, who, with several of his assistants, had been on the scene since Sunday night, expressed his belief that the total number of dead would not exceed 53.

"There is a bare possibility that one or two others may have been killed," he added. "I cannot believe that any of the unfortunate were carried out to sea by the ebbling tide."

Mr. Atterbury said the cause of the accident was a mystery to him.

Sad Scenes at Morgue.

At the morgue the scenes were pathetic. Persons who had friends on the train crowded about the entrance and were with difficulty restrained from forcing their way into the building.

One of the most heartrending incidents was furnished by Frederick Benckert, who lost his entire family, a wife and two children. Benckert was not informed in Philadelphia of the accident until too late to catch a train, and he hurried here in an automobile.

When he saw the dead bodies of his wife and two little boys lying side by side on the floor, he collapsed and had to be carried from the building. Benckert had intended to accompany his family Sunday, but was unable to get away.

Walter Scott, the dead motorman, lost his life through his anxiety to spend a part of the day with his wife here. It was his custom to run only as far as Millville, but Sunday he swapped runs with another motorman and his terrible death was the result.

A FREAK PRACTICE

Post Card Field Should Be Stopped By The Government Authorities

The post card field is evidently at work again, as several complaints about this silly nuisance have been made during the past few days. The man or woman who is indulging in this freak pastime might find much more commendable fields of energy than that of sending out threatening post cards, which to say the least are annoying.

During the week just passed a number of local young ladies have been recipients of these cards. The cards are nearly all alike, and along with a verse from the Bible they contain a threat that if the bearer doesn't say the prayers asked and send out nine cards to nine other persons, dire calamities will befall them. The effect on nervous women who receive these cards can be surmised.

In some of the States in the Union to the south laws have been passed and are being enforced prohibiting this nuisance, and the postal authorities have been authorized to destroy all such mail matter. The action of the State legislators merely goes to show what view they take of the post card revival business.

The sending out of the cards with the biblical verse can hardly be spoken of as harmful, but the threats contained in the epistles are not at all in keeping with any sincere religious movement. The practice should be stopped.

Ambition is the germ from which all the growth of nobleness proceeds.

The person who falls asleep in church is in danger of falling into disrepute.

DID A LOT

OF TALKING

Nothing Important Transpired At The Council Meeting

THE SOLICITOR'S BILL

The members of the City Council were in an extremely talkative mood last night, and though nothing of any great importance came up, they managed to put in two solid hours in lugubrious debate, which towards the last was somewhat accentuated in its dolefulness by the long-drawn yawns of the City Clerk and reporters. The Council last night excelled any of its past efforts at making much ado about nothing. All the members were present. The strong feature with this year's Council has been the faithfulness with which nearly every member has attended all meetings.

One of the most important matters which came up, was the following letter, which is self explanatory: Chatham, Oct. 29, 1906.

The Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chatham:

Gentlemen,—We beg to advise you that in accordance with the resolution of your honorable body, pursuant to which we were instructed to have bills of fees, charges and disbursements of Messrs. Wilson, Pike & Gundy taxed, we procured from the local judge of the High Court here an order referring such bills to the local registrar of the city of Chatham for taxation.

The reference was proceeded with before him on the 21st and the 25th of September and the 1st and 19th of October inst., with the result that the bills in question (three in number, which we return herewith numbered at $535.66) were taxed and allowed at $328.88.

The taxing officer directed that each party should pay their and its own costs of the reference, except with regard to his fees thereon, which he directed to be paid by the solicitors whose bills were being taxed, and his certificate has this day been filed accordingly. We have also to-day served notice of filing of such certificate upon Messrs. Wilson, Pike & Gundy, and, unless notice of appeal from the taxation is given within fourteen days from this date, you will conclude that the matter is finally disposed of and the solicitors will be entitled to payment of the amount at which the bills have been taxed as above mentioned.

Yours truly,
LEWIS & RICHARDS.

MATERNITY HOSPITAL PLANS.

The Planet has no apology to offer for what it said about tenders not having been asked from the four remaining firms in the city, as it thinks that a great injustice was done by the committee having this part of the work in hand. It was thought these architects were incompetent to figure on the work, it was the duty of the committee to go outside the city and, in any event, get competition and the best available plans for the purpose within the appropriation which has been created for the erection of the Maternity Ward. A. M. Piper writes a letter to the Banner in last evening's issue which The Planet declined to publish because it contained statements which the writer and this journal knew to be untrue, and the ladies who so considerably trusted their business to his care will hardly thank him for its appearance. The present hospital originally cost eight thousand dollars or thereabouts to erect, and it is proposed to construct an addition at a cost of seven thousand dollars. Yet, although Mr. Piper knew this was the amount they had to expend, he prepares plans which the local tenders say cannot be constructed at a less cost than eleven thousand dollars. Is this gentleman who was so voluminous in his abuse of his associates in his profession, so ignorant of the current rates for labor and material that he is incapable of getting out plans which will be acceptable to those who entrusted him with the work.

The Planet would therefore suggest to the ladies, as they are spending the money of our citizens who so liberally patronized the Fair of Nations, that they meet the architects of the city and explain what is required, and then ask for plans and specifications and make a selection from amongst them. It is a case where no favoritism should be shown, and it is the only course any body of men or women should take in a matter of this kind. The Planet in saying this has only words of the highest commendation for the splendid work the ladies have done in accumulating such a large fund for so worthy an object, and if what they aim to have cannot be obtained for seven thousand dollars, there are enough liberal minded citizens in this city to make up the deficiency to any reasonable amount provided they pursue a course which is not open to criticism, as the action of the committee would appear to be in the present instance.

At three o'clock to-day Hon. Charles Hyman was still holding his seat in London. Mr. Hyman's actions are proving the evident truth of the old adage that stolen fruits are the sweetest.

Dr. Weldon, the Conservative candidate for Shelburne-Queens, asked Hon. Mr. Fielding these three questions on Wednesday:

1. How many persons did Mr. Fielding pay sums of money to about two years after the election of 1903?
2. How much money was so paid?
3. How much money had been so spent?

Mr. Fielding said he had no answer to make beyond what he had stated in the court, and that was that he refused to answer any questions regarding former elections, for which he was not on trial. The doctor will repeat the questions at every meeting of the campaign at which he may be present.

A RICH COUNTY.

Ridgeway Plaindealer.

The richness of this grand old county of Kent is not yet half realized. It reports be true. The strikes of oil and gas are only a small beginning, prospectors being confident that thousands of derricks will dot western Ontario in the near future. The find of salt in Tilbury is also reported to be a valuable one.

LAURIER CONDEMNED.

No doubt it was the throwing of Conservative votes in with the dissentient Liberals in Quebec county that won victory for the Bourassa candidate, and the Liberal press is making much of the fact. Nevertheless it was a strong rebuff to the Government.

RISKED HIS LIFE.

How an Enterprising Reporter Got the News For His Paper.

Undoubtedly the boldest undertaking on the part of a reporter to score a "beat" ever known in the history of American journalism was when Thomas B. Fielders of the New York Times leaped from a steamer in New York harbor at odds of about 100 to 1 of being drowned and brought in the graphic story of the loss of the ocean liner Oregon. It is the custom of New York dailies to send reporters down the bay to meet incoming steamers when it is known there is "big news" about it. On the ground there is better to be safe than sorry. The editors dispatch the reporters by special permit on a government revenue cutter or else on a specially chartered tug, with a view to catching their game before the ship docks. It was known early one afternoon that a North German Lloyd steamer was not far out, and every city editor in New York laid plans for sending reporters to meet the incoming liner.

Fielders was one of these. He managed to get aboard the big steamer far down the bay and went among the survivors of the Oregon disaster and obtained some thrilling tales of escape. He took notes enough to write a book about the sinking of the ship, with minute details of heroic rescues and plenty of what newspaper men call "human interest" stories. Then time began to wear heavy on his hands. It was getting late at night and the ship had not yet passed quarantine. To make matters worse, the captain said that he would allow no one to leave the ship until she had made her way clear of quarantine. Fielders vainly pleaded that he was not a passenger and therefore was not amenable to the inspection of the ship by the health officers. His remonstrances were unavailing. The captain was obdurate. Ten o'clock came. The city editor of the Times paced nervously around the night desk, repeatedly asking, "Where on earth is Fielders?"

Out there in the bay Fielders, wrought to a pitch of anger almost sufficient to impel an assault upon the exacting captain, looked vainly at the dimpling stream of light from his tug as she lay out in the darkened waters waiting for him. The captain of the steamer would not permit the tug to come any nearer to his ship. Fielders stood beside the rail, loudly remonstrating with the man commanding the big ship. He stealthily placed one leg over the rail, then the other. Then there was a splashing sound below and a chorus of shouts from the passengers. The reporter was overboard! Out in the rippling light his body was seen to rise, and as it did the dazed man began swimming toward his tug. His comrades had thrown out a line at a signal from him previously given, and he made for that line. Would he ever get it? Could they see him, a mere speck on the dimly lighted water? He gained a hold on the rope, was pulled aboard the tug and gave orders for her nose to be turned toward the Manhattan shore with all possible speed. The Times contained a full and graphic story of the loss of the Oregon the next morning.—Remson Crawford in Success Magazine.

Courting in the Tyrol.

Tyrolean maidens are by old custom spared the necessity of giving tongue to their "aye" or "no." The first time a young man pays a visit as an avowed suitor he brings with him a bottle of wine, of which he pours out a glass and offers it to the object of his affections. In any case she will not refuse it point blank—that would be too gross an insult—but should the wooer not be agreeable to her or his declaration come a little too prematurely she declines the proffered wine, pleading that it looks sour or that wine disagrees with her or any other excuse that feminine ingenuity may suggest. If she likes the lad and is equal to owning it she empties the glass, taking care not to spill any of the wine, for if she does so the glass or bottle be broken it is an unhappy omen. "They have split the wine between them," say the peasants when the marriage turns out badly.

Harmful Stomach Dosing

No Need Of It When Hyomei Is Used To Cure Catarrh.

Physicians and scientists agree that the least medicine one swallows, the better. It is in keeping with this idea that Hyomei is recommended by leading physicians throughout this and other catarrhal sections.

When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

They Found the Man.

A good story is told in a recent issue of William's Magazine, of Hon. F. W. Aymer, of Golden, B. C., relating to the early days when Mr. Aymer came to the Pacific West in charge of a body of surveyors of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and was widely known as the "Hon. Frank Aymer." One day while the men were at dinner eating ordinary camp fare, three rowdy lumberjacks came to the camp and asked to see the man in charge. Being told that he was in charge, they followed him to the dining room. "The Hon. Frank Aymer," they became very insulting and loud, "Frank Aymer—the Honorable Frank Aymer!" the largest one in the crowd exclaimed in a sneering tone of voice. "The Honorable Frank Aymer," pointed him out to me that I can get a good look at him! Who is this Hon. Frank Aymer? A gentleman of husky, manly proportions jumped up from his seat at the table and confronted them. "Who are you?" the rowdy asked. "I am the Honorable Frank Aymer," he replied, and proceeded in true Canadian style to thrash the three of them. At first, the man's rowdy companions wanted to step in and help out their comrade, but the boys in the camp compelled them to desist, and he finished up the three in succession. Mr. Aymer, a day lives in Golden, and is one of the town's highly esteemed and respected citizens, numbering his friends by the score.

Better Than Spanking

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if you children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

Most Highly Prized of the Surviving Orders of Chivalry.

Of all the orders of mediaeval chivalry which have survived the shock of successive revolutions on the continent of Europe since the great cataclysm of 1789, that of the Golden Fleece is perhaps the most distinguished and the most highly coveted by personages of royal birth or of illustrious patrician lineage.

The badge of the order is the figure of a sheep in embossed gold suspended from a heavy chain of gold. The full robes consist of a long mantle of crimson velvet, cut in the fashion of a sacerdotal cope, richly embroidered at the borders with emblematic devices of stars, half moons and fleeces in gold and lined with white satin, over a doublet and hose of crimson damask. The full robes also comprise a "chaparron," or hood, with a long flowing streamer of black satin, but this head-gear has in modern times been generally dispensed with.

Originally the robes of the order, which was founded in 1429 by Philip the Good, duke of Burgundy, were of crimson cloth lined with white lamb's wool, and this circumstance has somewhat strengthened the theory that the golden fleece was instituted by Philip the Good in grateful recognition of the immense treasures which the Duke of Burgundy had acquired from the wool of the flocks reared on his vast estates in Flanders. Be it as it may, the woolen costume was changed in 1478 at a chapter held at Valenciennes for the more costly materials of velvet, taffeta, damask and gold embroidery.—London Telegraph.

SINGULAR CUSTOMS.

Bulgarian Ceremonies That Come From Pagan Rites.

The people of Varna, on the coast of the Black sea, in Bulgaria, have a singular custom which they observe at the feast of the Epiphany, which takes place on Jan. 6. The clergy, both Greeks and Bulgarians, accompanied by an immense crowd, go to the seashore, carrying with them a wooden cross. The cross is thrown by the clergy into the sea, and thereupon the strongest swimmers jump in after it. The best swimmer gets it, of course, and brings it in triumph to shore.

The Varna people have a still more singular salt water custom on the same day. After dark at night all the newly married men in the town are conducted, with bands of music and singing, to the shore and made to take three successive plunges into the icy water. They are then conducted home, where their brides, accompanied by their relatives and friends, have been awaiting them in state. After this there is feasting and merry making. These singular customs are believed to have a Pagan origin.

One of the most interesting places in New York to study human nature is at a counter in a photographer's shop where the customers come to get amateur photographs they have had developed and printed. The anxiety they display to get the products of their "shots" would seem to be out of all proportion to the results, when you catch a glimpse of them, and their disappointment if the prints are not as good as they hoped for. The frankness of these exhibitions is not the least interesting phase of the whole thing.

Firing a Distress Signal.

When a ship does not carry a cannon or mortar with which she can fire distress signals, a metal socket on the bridge or poop rail is used for that purpose. Into the socket a detonating tube is placed, and inside this is a firing tube. A lanyard is hooked on to the tube, and a man by giving the lanyard a sharp jerk, explodes the rocket. It contains a high explosive and on leaving the rail gives a loud report and another on reaching its highest altitude. Both reports are as loud as the report of a twelve pounder cannon. The socket is slipped in the rail at an angle to prevent the rocket touching the rigging.

A Spoiled Sermon.

A clergyman was unexpectedly called upon to preach before the students of a well known college. He chose a sermon from his "barrel" and without reading it went to the college chapel. He got on splendidly until near the close, when he uttered the boys with his peroration, beginning, "And now a word in conclusion to you who are mothers."

Several Dialects.

McCall—What sort of hybrid creature is that new butler of yours? Nutch—Why, how do you mean? McCall—I called to see you the other day, and when I asked him what time I might catch you at home he said, "At half pawst tin, sah."

Quite Regular.

"The last time I saw Gayley he wasn't very regular in his habits."

"Oh, he's very regular now."

"Well, well, I didn't think he'd ever reform."

"He hasn't. His habits are all bad now."

See what thy soul doth wear. Dare to look into thy chest, for 'tis thine own, and tumble up and down what thou findest there.—Wordsworth.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 29.—The colonial Legislature will meet early in January, to consider the American fisheries difficulty. This is nearly two months prior to the usual time of assembling.

The Legislature will enact measures asserting the colonial authority in such manner that the Imperial Cabinet will find it difficult to veto them. It will also appeal to Canada, Australia and South Africa to support the colony in insisting upon its power to legislate respecting its own people. It is held that the modus vivendi violates this power.

DREADFUL WORK

Moroccan Insurgents Capture Town and Commit Excesses.

Tangiers, Oct. 29.—Raisuli, the bandit chief, who had been appointed pasha of Arzila, entered that town Saturday, after a short fight with insurgent tribesmen.

Three persons were killed and many wounded, and all the principal caids were made prisoners. Afterwards letters from Mohammed El Torres, the representatives of the Sultan here, ordering that Raisuli be obeyed, were read publicly. The city presented a terrible appearance.

Many houses had been burned and the streets were full of the bodies of Jews who had been violated.

MR. REID DENIES.

Bribery Stories of Mr. J. H. Pritchett and Mr. Ellis.

London, Oct. 29.—Robert Reid, a member of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, was in the city on Saturday.

"I noticed," he said to The Advertiser, "that Mr. J. H. Pritchett had repeated the old affidavit, wherein he made charges against me. This I have already denied through the press, and am prepared to do so again. It is simply a case of his word against mine. I also see that Mr. Ellis of the Barber & Ellis Co., Toronto, had attempted to connect my name with a supposed deal in supplies, which was purchased through the Commission Co., of which Mr. John O'Gorman is an agent.

"This matter is new to me, and I have not had an opportunity to give my side of the case. I will say, however, that it will not only bring a flat contradiction from me but also documentary evidence will be produced to prove that Mr. Ellis has wilfully gone out of his way to malign the Commission. As a matter of fact, the purchases were all made through our purchasing agent, and documents will corroborate this. I give to have the opportunity of giving my evidence at the proper time, and in the proper place."

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that he might be able to hunt. Therefore, he dug "popoos" root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weakness. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and debilitated women, who are "worn out" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

For constipation, the true, scientific cure is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Mild, harmless, yet sure.

DR. CLARK RESIGNS A TRIAL PACKET

Makes friends and converts
This is the whole secret why

Provincial Forester Going Into Business on His Own Account.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Dr. Judson F. Clark has resigned his post as Provincial Forester to the Ontario Government.

The unexpected announcement was made by Dr. Clark himself late on Saturday, and will come as somewhat of a surprise to the Government and the authorities of Toronto University. In the latter institution it has been the intention for some time to found a chair of forestry, and Dr. Clark was to have had the position. It was generally understood last spring that Dr. Clark refused the chair of forestry at Yale, with this appointment in view. Dr. Clark intends to take up the management of a British Columbia lumbering industry, which he is himself organizing.

Dr. Clark's resignation, which was handed in to Hon. Nelson Montell, was accepted, and will take effect on Nov. 15.

Dr. Clark is a native of Prince Edward Island, and a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, subsequently taking the degree of Ph.D. at Cornell, where he also was lecturer on forestry. He afterwards joined the United States Bureau of Forestry, where he remained until he accepted the appointment he now resigns.

HAVOC AT PORT COLBORNE.

Storm Unroofs Houses and Causes Damage to Shipping.

Port Colborne, Oct. 29.—Considerable damage was done along the lake-front by a storm yesterday. Boat houses at the Humberstone Club resort were carried away, and a large ice-house was completely demolished.

Contractor Hogan had one or two scows beached. Several small boats were damaged, and several buildings were unroofed.

Five Storm at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Oct. 29.—A fierce wind and rainstorm prevailed here Saturday night. The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour and continued to blow at that rate for several hours. Six yachts were torn from their moorings and cast high upon the beach.

Big Steamer Smashed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—In a fierce gale, which swept down upon Lake Erie late Saturday, the steel steamer Lackawanna, owned by the Mutual Transit Co. was struck outside the west breakwater and ran upon the breakwater crib. Her side was stove in and she filled immediately.

SIX TAKEN FROM LUTIN.

Leaks in Hull of Submarine Tell Cause of Disaster.

Biserta, Tunis, Oct. 29.—The bodies of six of the crew of the French submarine boat Lutin were removed from the vessel yesterday. The Lutin sank off this port Oct. 16 with 14 men and two officers on board.

The work of removing the dead probably will not be completed before Monday. It is planned to hold the funerals Tuesday.

All the bodies were in a horrible condition owing to the action of acids. The only means of identification was by objects found on the bodies. The indications are that the men met death instantly. The opinion prevails that the Lutin tried to come to the surface too rapidly and that consequently her stern struck on the bottom. The caused rivets to start and plates to burst. Six leaks were found in the hull.

DYMENTS LOSE HEAVILY.

Buildings Situated a Mile Apart Fired by Incendiaries.

Shortly before 7 the Dyment foundry, a mile away, was ablaze. It was totally destroyed with all its contents. Loss $95,000. No insurance.

Gave Grandmother Poison.

Thorold, Ont., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Cody, an aged lady, told her granddaughter to mix a dose of medicine. By mistake the young lady got hold of a bottle containing eye medicine, a deadly poison, which immediately stiffened the old lady out as if she were dead. The neighbors ran in and gave Mrs. Cody sweet milk to drink, and a doctor was summoned, and she is believed now to be out of danger.

CAMDEN TOWNSHIP.

Nearly everybody was at the fair last Thursday at Moraviantown.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, of Kent Bridge, spent part of last Sunday on the 12th concession.

Bean threshing is nearly over. Mrs. Symon, of the 11th concession, is in London undergoing a very critical operation.

Peter Morgan, our enterprising agriculturist, predicts an open winter.

One of the best things that has ever happened Camden is the fixing of the Base Line road from the 12th concession to Thamesville. This road travelled more than any other in the township, and up till now has been the worst road in the township, but the people turned out with their wagons and carried clay and almost covered the entire part of the bad road, so we are looking for a better road in the near future.

Mrs. Whitel, of Detroit, is home for a few days.

The Free Methodists are holding prayer meetings all around the neighborhood. They are conducted by two ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Kelly celebrated their fifth anniversary of married life last week. They received numerous costly presents, besides $60 in gold. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity. Guests from California, British Columbia, New Ontario and Australia were present, besides a great number of neighbors and relatives.

Mr. Wm. Huff, of Huff's Siding, was a Chatham visitor last Saturday.

vember a spell of bad weather during the opening days; a good deal of rain and frost during the middle cold wave about the 12th. One of "The autumn days are bright,

Yet I am feeling very blue—

IRISH LEADER WAXES WARM

Redmond Would Resort To
Compulsion To Reinstale
Tenants

NATIONALISTS TRIUMPH

London, Eng., Oct. 30.—John E. Redmond, the Irish leader moved the adjournment of the House of Commons yesterday in order to call attention to the lack of progress in the matter of reinstating evicted tenants, hindering the operations of the land act by refusing to sell untenantable lands. The land commission consequently were unable to provide farms for evicted tenants.

Mr. Redmond said it was obvious that the Government must resort to some system of compulsion. The patience of the Irish people was becoming exhausted, and although the Irish party desired to give opportunity for the greatest degree of fair play pending a declaration of the Government's intention regarding Irish self-government, he thought the Chief Secretary for Ireland Bryce ought to grapple with the matter vigorously.

Replying to Mr. Redmond, Mr. Bryce, after some debate, said the Government had done its best to cope with the grave obstacles before it, and had won a certain measure of success. If the remedy is compulsion, the chief secretary said the Government might have to come to that.

Walter Hume Long, Conservative, then declared that Mr. Bryce's statement involved a complete triumph for the Nationalists, and the subject was dropped.

ANNIVERSARY TEA

Event Held in Park St. Methodist Church Last Night Proves Highly Successful

The anniversary tea held in Park St. Methodist Church last night, proved a huge success. The S. S. Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the tables were all fully occupied two or three times. The proceeds from the event should be highly satisfactory.

Quite an interesting program was given later in the evening, over which Rev. W. L. Rutledge presided. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. R. L. Long, MacGillivray and Malott, all of whom referred to the splendid success which characterized the event.

A duet was rendered by Mrs. R. G. and Miss Hollinrake, and were sung by Miss Hollinrake, Miss Ross, Mrs. C. C. and G. C. Brackin.

CAME TO A SAD END

Principal J. W. Plewes, of the Central school, has worn a Derby hat for some time. This venerable hat came to a rather sad and cruel ending last night, and as a result of some small boy's prank it will no longer shelter the classical features of the energetic principal.

Mr. Plewes went to the anniversary tea in Park street church last night, with no thought of the dire plottings some mischievous youngster had been hatching out, nor of the dark designs the same youngster had upon his faithful headpiece.

But some time during the evening while Mr. Plewes was inside, some ruthless party or parties who apparently have no respect for advanced old age, fell upon the hat, and endeavored to deprive him of usefulness by punching the crown full of holes.

This, however, was just carrying a prank a little too far, and the young man who punctured the hat should feel ashamed of his silly and uncalled for deed.

THEY KNOW IT.

Thousands of people throughout the country know that the ordinary remedies for piles—ointments, suppositories and appliances—will not cure.

The best of them only bring passing relief.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet taken internally that removes the cause of Piles, hence the cure is permanent. Every package sold carries a guarantee with it.

It's perfectly harmless to the most delicate constitution. A month's treatment in each package. Sold at $1.00 at any drug store, or The Wilson Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

THE CZAR'S MANIFESTO

Non-Students Hold Mass Meeting in University Building

GOVERNMENT IS DEFIED

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—On the eve of the anniversary of the publication of the Imperial manifesto, giving a constitution to Russia Oct. 30, the prefect of police has caused the city to be placarded with proclamations warning the public that in case of disorders, demonstrations, or even the assembling of crowds armed force will be used with all the vigor permissible under the rules of "extraordinary security."

The Government's ultimatum to the faculty of the university, announcing that the institution would be closed if meetings involving the participation of non-students were continued, was defied yesterday. An immense mass meeting was held in the university building, at which many workmen, professional men and several army officers were present.

After fiery revolutionary speeches had been delivered a resolution was adopted, declaring that the gift of a constitution by the Emperor last October had proved valueless and asserting that the situation of the country was as intolerable as before the manifesto. A second resolution rejected a proposition to celebrate to-day with a meeting or a demonstration, as the anniversary was not deserving of special notice, and it was useless to play into the hands of the police by provoking disorder.

The Emperor has signed a ukase granting full religious freedom to the sect known as the "Old Believers," who number several millions and constitute the most prosperous and industrious of the Russians. It is understood that the ukase will be published on the anniversary of the constitutional manifesto.

Cossacks to Suppress.
Warsaw, Oct. 30.—Fears that disturbances will occur to-day, the anniversary of the publication of the Imperial manifesto, giving a constitution to Russia, have led to the adoption of vigorous measures by the authorities. Cossacks and infantry will suppress the slightest attempts at demonstrations.

London, Oct. 30.—A despatch to a news agency from Odessa says that elaborate military precautions have been taken there in view of the possibility of exciting events to-day. Four thousand Cossacks are ready for instant action, quick-firing guns are posted at a dozen points, and the streets are closely patrolled.

LARGEST CHECQUE

Provinces Gets Half a Million From the Gooderham Estate.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The largest cheque ever received by the Ontario Government for succession dues, and perhaps the largest ever received by the Provincial Treasury, except from other Government sources, came into the possession of Hon. Col. Matheson yesterday.

It was for $519,672.43, and was in payment of the succession dues on the estate of the late George Gooderham. The cheque was drawn on the Bank of Toronto and signed by W. G. Gooderham, as chairman of the trustees of the estate.

The sum received by the province is percentage collected on a valuation placed on the estate of $10,400,000.

THE POLICE COURT

To-day was pay-day at the Police Court, and in every case the reason for the necessity for paying was directly attributable to whiskey.

The men who stole a number of ducks in a joke were let off, after paying the costs, which amounted to about $16. As soon as the man who lost the ducks found out who the men were he wanted to withdraw the charge.

Jackson was allowed to go on suspended sentence, after paying the costs, which he was anxious to do. They amounted to $19. His partner, Gordon, a young man about 22 years of age, was remanded until the 7th of next month.

Thomas Walls was allowed to go, after he had paid $3 to the women whose house he had damaged.

A Chrysler, who was charged with misappropriating a sum of money, was also allowed his freedom after he had made the necessary restitution.

In every case the offenders said that they would never drink whiskey again.

The fellow who hasn't the money feels that he is a natural born spender.

Wanted—A bright boy about seventeen years of age, to assist in office work. Must be able to furnish references. Address Box 23, Planet.

The First Presbyterian church are holding meetings each night this week. Rev. Mr. Arnold, of Petrolia, will deliver an address to-night and to-morrow night.

Another case of typhoid fever has developed in Blenheim, making three in the past month. This time little Alice Burk, daughter of Ira Burk, is the victim. How serious her attack will be it is not yet known.

N. H. Stevens was in Toronto yesterday attending a meeting of the Reliance Loan & Savings Company. The report showed a very good year. An additional building being added to their large head offices is just about completed.

Premier Alex. Rutherford, of Alberta, was entertained along with some ten others, including Mr. and Mrs. James Rutherford, of Blenheim, by Mrs. N. H. Stevens yesterday.

Mr. Rutherford left on the 3.25 train for Toronto on his way home.

Measure, A. M. McQueen, John Fraser and W. M. Lowery, of Petrolia, were in the city on Saturday attending the sheriff's sale of the Eagle & Alpina Oil Co.'s leases.

The number of cases of fever about Ridgeway has caused many of the citizens to remark that the time has arrived when a system of water-works should be installed. The Business Men's Association have the matter in hand, and it is likely a by-law will be submitted to the elders next January.

Arthur W. Martin, of the Sovereign Bank, Toronto, met with a painful accident recently. In attempting to jump a ditch he slipped and fell, fracturing a small bone near the ankle. On his arrival in this city he was immediately attended by a surgeon. It is likely that Mr. Martin will be confined to his home for four or five weeks.

J. Hamilton Brown, a clerk in the Dominion Bank, met with a rather peculiar accident while helping to move a piano in Park St. Church last evening. Mr. Brown in some way got crushed between the piano and the wall, suffering a couple of rather painful bruises. He is confined to his rooms at the Glassford Hotel to-day as a result.

Reg. Miller is spending the day in Detroit.

A FOURTH VICTIM

Foster Wedding Anniversary Was Very Tragic Event.

Hamilton, Oct. 30.—Richard Laidman of Blenheim, who was one of the guests at the Foster wedding anniversary in Onondaga township, died Sunday. This makes the fourth victim among those who attended the affair. While it was thought at first that the deaths were due to pneumonia poisoning from eating tainted chicken, it is now believed that they were due to typhoid fever, which resulted from drinking impure water. Mrs. S. A. Laidman and Mrs. Laidman are also very ill, but it is believed that they will recover.

TWO WOMEN DEAD

Shocking Fire Fatality at Old Folks Home at Bowmanville.

Bowmanville, Oct. 30.—A shocking fatality occurred here yesterday morning at the burning of the old Folks Home, when Mrs. Mary Best Curtis of Clarke Township and Mrs. James Wilson of South Darlington were burned to death before they could be rescued.

Fire was discovered by Matron Johnston about 4 a. m. and she awakened John Griffin, a retired saddler, who resided there. He gave the alarm to the occupants on the second floor. Prof. Wm. Allen ran out to alarm the neighbors and ring the fire bell, while Mrs. Johnston and Griffin tried putting the fire out with pails of water. Falling in this, Griffin ran to the fire hall to ring the bell but missed his way and smashed the wrong window, injuring himself.

In the meantime Mrs. Lavie Bureau, the former matron, and her husband reached the home, and they succeeded in bringing out Mrs. Jane Heard, of Newcastle and Mrs. John Bonathan of this town. As the latter was helpless Mr. Bureau carried her to his home.

When he returned he tried to rescue Mrs. Curtis from an upstairs window, but could not find a ladder. Her cries of "Help, for God's sake, help!" were heartrending, but the house was by this time enveloped in flames.

It seems that Granny Wilson was gotten out with a Mrs. Alex. Kilham, one of the domestic helpers, but she rushed again to get some clothes and was suffocated. Bureau saw her outside and supposed she was saved, but under her room. She was in her 94th year, but was remarkably active for one so aged.

There were no fire appliances in particular, but a supply of water was kept in a tank or vessel of some kind. It was a storey and a half house with three or four exits, and the smoke was so very dense by the time the old folks were aroused that they could not find their way out and the doors were fastened so that those outside could not get in. The fire brigade arrived late, finding the lateness of the alarm, and could do nothing but save the surrounding buildings. The trustees of the home had a small insurance on the furniture and effects.

Crows in Nesting Time.

While it is a fact that in places the crow is not destructive to an important degree, it will be a long time before he will be considered a friend of either the farmer or the sportsman—perhaps never. And all the arguments that may be advanced in favor of the crow will not save him from being shot at; killing is a different matter. While those who have grown morbid from reading new nature stuff go to extremes concerning crows, or anything else for that matter, sportsmen as a rule permit the crow to live in peace during the nesting season. It is merely a question of fairness that dictates their actions in this. It stands to reason that the sportsman who avoids fishing during the spawning season and protects game and game birds in the summer will not molest a crow when it has little ones in the nest that would starve if the old birds were killed. But after the young birds have grown strong enough to take care of themselves and all of this black race have resumed active operations again the agriculturist and other birds they must take care of themselves if found guilty of marauding.—Field and Stream.

Disraeli's Ideal of Greatness.

When Disraeli was curly and smart and comparatively unknown, he visited the Royal Exchange of Liverpool in company with Duncan Stewart, a leading merchant of the city. It was at high noon and the exchange was thronged by merchants. The scene so impressed the young member of parliament that he said to Mr. Stewart: "My ideal of greatness would be that a man should receive the applause of such an assemblage as this—that he should be cheered as he came into this room."

Disraeli went in and came out unnoticed, but several years later he again visited the Liverpool exchange in company with Mr. Stewart. His entrance was greeted by a cheer which spread into a roar and ended in an ovation. The testimony to his political prominence deeply moved Disraeli, who, recalling to Mr. Stewart the remark he had made years before, said, "My ideal test of greatness has been realized."

In Wall Street

By EDITH M. DOANE

Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas

Jack Bentley was permitting himself the luxury of a day off. He felt that he was entitled to it.

For a month past the situation had been too tense, the excitement too keen, for any thought beyond the whirl of the ticker.

The firm of Curtice & Co., stock brokers, was the medium through which a wealthy syndicate had manipulated the stock market to its own advantage. Bentley, the junior partner of Curtice & Co., had labored steadily at his post on the floor of the exchange, cool and imperturbable in the midst of the rising storm, and only the day before the deal had been pulled off successfully.

And now upon this bright morning in early summer Jack Bentley was feeling decidedly well satisfied with life in general. His part of the transaction had been well handled, his share in the way of commissions was distinctly gratifying, and in addition he had cleaned up a neat little sum by going into the deal on his own hook.

It was getting well into July, and as Bentley's automobile whirled up Fifth avenue his mind turned longingly to the city, sweltering in midsummer heat, to the vision of a clubhouse in the heart of the Berkshire hills.

It was a picture often in his thoughts. The long, low, rambling, clubhouse, with its old fashioned garden at one side, a little winding brook sparkling and splashing between clumps of fern and low banks, willow fringed; a girl, sweet and gracious, her white frock cool against a great moss covered boulder, the sunlight falling through the leaves in flickering shadows on her soft, fair hair.

In the height of the fight he had received her letter. "You'd better come," she wrote. "It's as lovely as ever here," and at the end again, "Do come." He had smiled as he telegraphed his answer. There was no doubt of his attitude where Constance Elliott was concerned.

A great longing for country sights and sounds swept over him, for the woods and hills and her. A little while and he would have them. A few days' attention to straightening out the aftermath of the great fight and then—Constance had no parents to object, and even her old curmudgeon of a guardian—strange how he had always mistrusted that man—could not fail to be impressed by the tidy sum he had pulled out of the late deal.

Where Fifth avenue broadens into the plaza he mechanically lessened speed, his mind still with the girl in the Berkshire as the huge car turned smoothly into Central park.

And the first person his eyes lighted on was Constance Elliott.

The next instant he was before her, cap in hand, and she rose in astonishment to meet him. For a second they faced each other, he scarcely crediting the evidences of his senses, she coloring prettily and holding out one slim hand in cordial greeting.

"I phoned to your office this morning, but you were not there," he asked uneasily.

"Nothing, except that I returned to the country this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and I thought—"

"I am wondering," he interrupted, laughing uncertainly to cover his hurt, "why I might not have known you were in town?"

"But I wasn't, not until late last night, and Mr. Sheldon did not wish any one to know. He wired me yesterday to come at once. You know, he has managed everything for me just as much since I have been of age as he did before." She hesitated, flushing with excitement. "Jack," she cried, "it is a great secret, but I am going to be very rich."

He regarded her gravely.

"Through some stock deal," she went on, with feminine vagueness. "Perhaps you've heard of it. Mr. Sheldon has made over so much money lately—yesterday—and I am to make a lot in the same way. He has all my securities. I gave them to him this morning."

"Do you mean you have given that man all your money?" Bentley blurted out.

Had Sheldon appropriated the girl's money to his own use? That same instant Bentley was sure of it. His brain, used to quick deductions, leaped from the rumor on the street that Sheldon had been badly hit to the sudden wire to Constance—the secrecy—the misrepresentation—These, coupled with the man's well known shrewdness, could mean only one thing. Sheldon had lost heavily and intended to recoup with Constance's money.

His first impulse was to tell her of the deception that was being practiced upon her. But she would not believe him. Besides, he was not absolutely certain of it and might alarm her needlessly.

How he accomplished what followed he never clearly knew. He heard a voice he hardly recognized as his own claiming a pressing engagement and begging her to lunch with him later.

He saw the surprise in her eyes succeeded by frank acceptance of his explanation, he heard each inflection of her dear voice as she promised to meet him, and then a moment later he was speeding toward lower Broadway. Once only did his pace lessen, and then only so long as it took him to rush up the steps of his apartment and slip something small and shining into the pocket of his long, loose coat.

The situation from Sheldon's point of view was bad enough without the interference of Jack Bentley, who had entered his private office with scant ceremony.

"Mr. Sheldon," said that young man abruptly, "I learned an hour ago that you have, through misrepresentation, appropriated certain securities belonging to Miss Elliott."

For once Sheldon's self possession deserted him. "What lie is this?" he cried, half rising from his chair.

"And," continued Bentley coolly, "I have come to get them and return them to her."

"I refuse to give them to you."

"You must."

"I am acting as her agent. By what right do you—"

Bentley leaped across the table. "Mr. Sheldon," he said grimly, "I have come for the papers and intend to get them."

Sheldon, his face livid, reached for the bell, only to find himself confronted by a gleaming pistol barrel mounted by a white face with blazing, determined eyes.

"Stay where you are till I'm through with you," cried Bentley, at white heat. "Now give them to me."

"I will not."

"You shall!"

"I'll be ruined," gasped Sheldon.

"You'll be ruined if you don't. I'll have you arrested inside of an hour."

The beads of perspiration stood out on Sheldon's forehead. With trembling hands he opened a tin box and thrust its contents malignantly across the table.

"Take them, —you!" he cried, with a bitter oath.

And so it was not until Miss Elliott sat opposite Bentley at a table at lunch that she learned how nearly she had been delivered from her "abundance of riches." She sat speechless, watching Bentley with beautiful, horrified eyes as he laid bare the deception that had been practiced upon her, touching lightly upon his own part in the affair.

"Oh," she said in an unsteady voice, "what can I say to you? I want to thank you. I cannot—I do not know how."

He leaned forward, his eyes holding hers across the flowers on the center of the table.

"I know," he said under his breath, "but I dare not ask—it is so much!"

She colored a delicious pink, but her eyes met his bravely.

"There is nothing—that could be—too much," she said.

DAWN MILLS

Considering the late seeding the wheat in this neighborhood is looking fine.

Apple packers are busy. Charles Pringle and Henry Webster have quite a large quantity and of good quality.

Welland Oliver is busy grinding apples for cider.

Mrs. Charles Campion and Miss L. Elgie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Reid.

It appears to us that there must be something wrong with the evaporating business, as in driving along Sunday the roads one sees such quantities of apples on the ground going to waste in the orchards.

Mr. Jonah Carpenter's sale was largely attended and everything brought good prices, one pair of colts, 2 and 3 years old, being bought in at $465. It pays to breed the right kind.

James Elgie is raising the roof of his store and making other repairs, which will make quite an improvement in the looks of the village.

Miss Arnold, our teacher, spent Thanksgiving at her home in Chatham.

Mrs. Charles Peters is visiting with her father, J. D. Traxler.

OUR WAY

When a man takes out his pocket-book and pays us $7.50, $9.00, $10 or $15 for his Fall and Winter Suit, we don't consider the transaction closed by any means.

The Salesman probably told him good points about the particular suit he bought, and we consider it our duty to see them carried out to the letter.

For this reason we want your co-operation and we want you to insist that your suit fulfills our representation of it, or bring it back and get your money.

Remember our way of doing business and we ask that you please remember, that you take no chances, whatever, with cheapness when you buy our clothes here.

LITERARY

The November number of the Wm. Foreman's Home Companion is to hand, bigger and better than ever. This magazine has made most remarkable strides towards the top of Magazine-dom, and judging by the forecast for 1907, it will continue its steady growth. The current number contains the first instalment of a new serial entitled "Jerry Junior." A New England Thanksgiving story, by the popular authoress, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, also deserves special mention.

"Schools that Are, and Schools that Should Be," by an ex-teacher, which appears in the October number of Everyday Housekeeping, might be read with advantage by Canadian parents, although it refers to the schools in the United States. "Home Improvement," in the same number, treats of not only our homes but our streets, parks, business places, etc., which men, women and children can combine to improve. The Domestic Science Department contains many valuable recipes.

The Canadian Pictorial, the first number of which has just been issued by The Pictorial Publishing Co. Montreal, is a 24-page illustrated magazine. It is printed on calendar paper, which shows the pictures to good advantage. The illustrations are chiefly Canadian and embrace scenes from all parts of our magnificent Dominion. The Canadian Pictorial should have a good field, as it is the only magazine of this class in Canada, and The Planet joins in wishing the publishers success in their enterprise. The price is 10c. a number or $1.00 per annum.

In the November number of Keith's Magazine on Home Building, the decoration of ceilings is dealt with in a manner that will be a help to everyone who has tried to solve the knotty question "What can I do with this ceiling?" The designs for the home builder are, if anything, more costly and pretty than ever. The Decoration and Furnishing Department takes up the one room problem, which confronts so many residents of the large cities. Keith's Magazine, at $1.50 per annum, is one that no artistic householder should be without.

In the November number of Success, in "The Mind of the Child," by Patterson Du Bois, (who is considered one of the greatest authorities on the moral training of children), all parents and teachers will find much food for thought. "The Human Machine," by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, is a second article of a series on human and common sense diet, that is a combination of humor and good sense. It is illustrated by Clara V. Dwiggins.

These are only two of the many interesting papers with which the seventy-three pages of the magazine are filled. The price is only 10c.

"Livest" of all the November magazines is the Review of Reviews, with every one of its special features and all its departments edited in the light of the news. Copper, the great industrial fact of the month—see the market quotations—see the topic selected for most extended treatment. The British House of Lords, a venerable institution that is facing a crisis in its history as Parliament reassembles, is the subject of a trenchant political essay from the pen of W. L. Stead. There are other contrived articles, amongst which we might mention Dr. Schumacher, the brilliant young economist who is lecturing this fall at Columbia University on the Kaiser Wilhelm foundation; and the forthcoming visit of British teachers to the United States.

"BARKING BACK"

Most of us have moments when we should like to "bark back" when our early memories rise up in appalling images clothed in the freshness of childhood; and we should be glad to forsake the dusty road of middle age and travel backward if we could reclaim them. Charles Embree's story in the November McClure's Back "When Jonathan Hatch Harks Back" is a tender chord in every one of us. Beneath its rollicking humor there is a strain of homesely sentiment which refreshes and charms the weary victim of the "strenuous life."

UP-TO-DATE HOUSE PLANS.

We have just received from the publishers, J. S. Ogilvie Company, New York, a book entitled "Fifty Up-to-Date House Plans," which contains over 150 new, practical, up-to-date, 1906 plans of houses, costing from $500 to $15,000, and to all who are now thinking of building or ever expect to build a house, we can heartily recommend this book as giving information, hints and helps as to how to build a good house at a low price. One interesting and practical feature of the book is a list of working plans and specifications from which any one can get an estimate. The price of these working plans is about one-fourth of the price usually charged for this work. The price of this practical book, containing 160 pages, bound in paper cover, is only $1.00, for which amount it will be sent to any one by mail, postpaid. J. S. Ogilvie Publishing Company, 57 Rose Street, New York, are the publishers.

Successful anniversary services were conducted at Botany Presbyterian church on Sunday. Mr. John Smith's famous boy choir even excelled themselves on this occasion. A number from here attended the services.

RHEUMATISM ALMOST KILLED HER.

For years Mrs. S. Stahlschmidt, of Hamberstone, Ont., was a martyr to rheumatism. "I was so stiff and lame I could scarcely walk," she writes. "An attack striking my limbs made walking impossible. Friends and doctors gave prescriptions but I only got relief from Ferronine. I took twelve boxes and gained from the first. To-day I am well, feel stronger, weigh heavier and look the picture of health." Whether muscular or inflammatory, chronic or otherwise, Ferronine does cure rheumatism and sciatica, 50c. per box at all dealers.

October as usual has brought forth a variety of cloak and suit styles—different of course from those shown earlier of these later productions. We received several shipments this week, these shipments embrace an assortment which is broad, which reaches a big total in many instances. However, there is but a single garment of a kind. Our cloak and suit department, you know aims for style exclusiveness, this exclusiveness is quite noticeable in almost every garment we show. We're proud of the style, character which compels visitors to say—"Well in The New York Cloak Store things are different." A coats a coat and a suit a suit of course, but our offerings bear the hall mark of the aristocracy of fashion, the price is not a bit higher than quality and style.
