This is the situation as it stands prior to the convention. It is just as well to keep clearly in mind how this situation has been brought about. The basis of the agreement between the two political associations is that if a Conservative-Unionist is chosen for Victoria then a Liberal-Unionist should be selected for Nanaimo. Objection has been taken to such an agreement, but it has been accepted, and as a matter of fact no better basis for agreement could have been offered. This arrangement will govern the choice of the convention today, always provided, of course, that Victoria's choice is a Conservative-Unionist.

The particular political label of the candidate makes no difference to the Win-the-War League. The League has no politics in its composition. It was organized and exists first of all to secure a union government. The arrangement between the Liberal and Conservative assocations was perfectly acceptable to the League, so long as it resulted in the nomination of a candidate who would endorse the objects of the league. The League itself is not organized in such a manner as to be able to put candidates of its own in the field. It was organized sufficiently, however, to obtain consideration from the recognized political associations, and it was largely owing to its work, initative, and influence that today a union convention to select a union candidate is being held in Duncan.

The arrangement then is that the Conservative delegates are ready and willing to support a Liberal nomination in the convention. The League, as has been said, has no politics, and its delegates will be satisfied to get a Win-the-War candidate without regard to whether he is nominated from the right or the left of the convention. The only thing to do is to agree upon a nomination, and we can only hope that no politcal or personal influences will be obtruded on the deliberations of the convention. What we all want is a union candidate, a union candidate who will win the election, and we must all be prepared to put aside our personal and political prejudices and predelictions. Only by so doing will the convention agree upon a candidate, and the consequences of a disagreement are too hateful to consider.

NANAIMO'S NEEDS.

(By a Visitor).

Nanaimo needs more unity
  In commerce, church and state.
She has an opportunity
  To make or break her fate.
She has a fine location,
  It beats Victoria's stand,
A proper adaptation
  Would make a city grand.
She has a normal climate—
  The best along the coast.
But if you want to climb it,
  Of hills she well can boast.
She has less rain in winter
  Than big Vancouver's clime.
She's not as good a sprinter
  For keeping in the line.
Light of the traveling tourist,
  She ought to be their goal.
Her sunlight is the purest,
  Her people have a soul.
She's close to big Vancouver,
  Two hours across the bay
Of normal boat manoeuvre
  Will land you any day.
Her channel is a safe one,
  No rocks there are beneath,
Her risks don't need a brave one
  Her fogs are like hen's teeth.
Her social life is normal,
  Her coast is calm and sweet.
Her churches may be formal,
  But that don't spell cold feet.
For really Man's religion
  Is in his throbbing heart,
That tells if he has pigeon-holed conscience on the Mart.
Service is true religion,
  The proper use of pence
Serve God in man the motive,
  But work to pay expense.
Nanaimo has such products
  As ought to make her grow,
Her shores are lined with coal docks
  Where coal from down below
Load up more cars of tonnage
  That any other town,
Along this coast Canadian
  And does her work up brown.
She has a bigger payroll
  Than anything in B. C.
She has a fishing pay toll
  Whose limits none can see.
But as a home for millions
  She never can be beat,
Some day men will spend billions
  Along her coast so sweet.
Until men do get unity
  We always will have war.
Now is our opportunity
  To show 'tis fools who spar.
At least who down the gauntlet
  And hoist the crimson flag,
Such action should be flaunted
  Such flag should just spell rag.

HANNA DECLARES PLANS MUST BE CARRIED OUT

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Order-in-Council regulating the serving of beef and bacon in public eating houses and requiring that substitutes for white bread be provided at all meals must be observed. Food Controller Hanna left no doubt about his intention to see that the law in this respect is enforced when he called before him yesterday six Ottawa restaurant keepers against whom police court proceedings had been instituted for failure to comply with the regulations.

"This must be stopped,' he said. "If it does not stop under this order then there will be no other course open to us but to put every restaurant under license, and if it becomes necessary for us to do so we shall see that every restaurant keeper who does not obey the law shall not get a license nor shall a license be granted for the premises which he occupied. This is not intended as a threat, but the Order must be met in the spirit in which it was issued."

BUYING A DIAMOND

It's not an every day business transaction, hence more than ordinary care should be exercised in buying as so very few people other than experts know the value of precious stones.

The only logical, sensible thing then to do is to seek a jewelry house which has an established reputation of knowing its business and is jealous of its good name.

We sell Diamonds "On Honor"—we can't say more with due modesty except to add our prices are fairly based upon the actual value of each stone.

Our $25.00 to $30.00 Diamond Rings are good examples of Harding's values.

Nailing a Lie—Cold!

WE have read letters from Chalmers Distributors in which they have stated that competitors were saying to present owners of Chalmers cars and to prospective buyers, generally, that the manufacture of Chalmers cars would be discontinued.

There are thirty (30) automobile companies in the United States recognized by the general trade that manufacture and sell Touring Cars and Roadsters at retail prices in Canada between $1,500 and $2,000. We haven't heard that all of these companies, or any one of them, were going to discontinue production or quit business. Why, then, should the Chalmers, with a better car than many others in this class of 30 manufacturers, stop production?

WE MAKE A PROPHECY, and will authorize our Distributors to back it up with $200,000 of our money; that the Chalmers Company under the Maxwell Management, will stand ahead of 15 of these companies in production in 1918, and the Chalmers Company will stand ahead of 20 of these companies in production in 1919. This doesn't look as though we expected to discontinue making Chalmers Cars.

The reason some people are trying to disturb the present Chalmers owners is to scare them about service as to get a better "trade-in" on their Chalmers.

The reason for circulating such a story generally would be to prevent the prospective purchaser from inspecting a Chalmers car, because if a prospective buyer of an automobile will look at and ride in the present Chalmers models he will be very apt to buy one. It is the best car selling at $1785 in Canada that we know of.

This is one reason why Chalmers cars will continue to be made, not only in 1918, but in 1919, 1920 and other years.

Another reason is that the Maxwell organization has told the general Public that Chalmers cars would be produced in larger quantities than ever before and we have a way of making good with the public on sales and production.

President,
Chalmers and Maxwell Motor Companies.

Nanaimo will send eighteen delegates to the Unionist convention to be held at Duncan today.

At the close of last night's splendid entertainment "The Young Village Doctor," the management announced that it would be repeated in the same plec on Monday night of next week, when the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross Society. The Epworth League has also consented to repeat the sketch at South Wellington on Tuesday next and at North Wellington on the following Friday, Nov. 22nd.

ITALIANS A UNIT AGAINST THE ENEMY

Rome, Nov. 14.—More than 600 Senators and Deputies arrived in Rome from all parts of the country for the opening of Parliament today. The prevailing talk among them is that the people of their constituencies are determined to support the Government and the army to the fullest extent in resisting the invasion.

The Red Cross Society acknowledge with thanks a donation of 50 to the British Red Cross Fund from the Canadian Explosives Company, Departure Bay, through Mr. J. Hall the manager of the Company's works there.

GERMAN CREDIT IS DROPPING RAPIDLY

New York, Nov. 14.—Wall Street banks have received advices stating that the exchange value of the German mark in the Holland and Switzerland markets recently has decreased to the equivalent of about 10½ cents. The mint value of one German mark is 23.8 cents. Last March, when German exchange was last traded four marks were quoted at 69½ cents, or about 17 cents a mark.

TRY "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS IF SICK OR BILIOUS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

BIJOU THEATRE

Wallace Reid is unquestionably one of the best of film leading men and is deservedly popular everywhere "The Hostage," in which he is appearing at the Bijou to-day, calls for his best work and is a strong and unusual picture.. With this is shown two comedies, one featuring Jerry Ovey, one of the great favorites among the motion picture funmakers.

SAPPER "DON" CLARKE IN FRENCH HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ida Clarke has received official notification that her son Sapper Donald Holden Clarke, better known in Nanaimo as "Don" Clarke, was admitted to No. 47 general hospital, Letreport, France, on October 31st, suffering from shell gas.

Sapper Clarke enlisted with the 30th Battalion, and has been thirty-two months on the firing line. He has indeed, had three birthdays in France, and this is his first accident. An elder brother was killed at second Ypres battle, and a younger brother, Charlie, was reported gassed a couple of weeks ago.

PRIVATE C. HARPER HAS BEEN "GASSED"

Mrs. James Harper, of Departure Bay, has been informed that her son Pte. Christopher Harper, who went overseas with the 103rd Battalion, but later transferred to the 2nd C. M. R. Battalion, is reported to have been admitted to the Eleventh Field Ambulance on Nov. 2nd, suffering from gas poisoning.

Haunting Columbia Hawaiian Records

The exotic harmonies of the Ukalele and native Hawaiian voices are highly appealing. You can almost feel the weird enchantment of night in the South Sea Islands when you listen to the strange sobbing, plaintiveness of voices, the all but human notes of the Hawaiian Guitar and the rhythmic throbbing of the Ukalele in these Columbia double-disc Records.

TEUTONIC ALLIES CONTINUE SMASH AT ITALIAN LINE

Italian Troops Are Holding the Enemy in Check Along Piave River but Teutons Have Made New Advances on the Asiago Plateau—Italian Line is Shortened for Strategic Purposes.

London, Nov. 15.—With the Russian situation still obscured by reason of the fact no direct advices are being received from Petrograd or Moscow, the Italian situation remains of transcendent interest in the news of the world war.

Everywhere along the battle front from Lake Garda eastward thence southward along the Piave river to the Adriatic Sea, the Italians are holding the enemy in check except in the hilly region in the vicinity of the Asiago plateau, where additional gains have been made by the invaders. New advances by the Teutonic Allies do not indicate that points of strategic value have been won, but the Italians on various sectors have given ground before superior numbers and have straightened out and lessened the length of their front.

In the hills north of the Venetian Plain, Gen. Diaz, the new Commander-in-Chief of the Italian army, has withdrawn his advanced posts south of Monte Tomatico. On the Adiago Plateau and thence eastward to where the battle front meets the upper reaches of the Piave river German and Austro-Hungarian forces are adding strength to their attacks, dobutless hoping to drive through the highland country to the plains of Venetia before the expected arrival of British and French reinforcements

Notwithstanding the arduous retreat from the Isonzo westward, the Italians evidently have been able to reinforce the northern line sufficiently to give battle to the enemy in such strength as to prevent a precipitate invasion of the lowlands, where undoubtedly the ambition of the enemy is to turn the flank of defenders and force a withdrawal of their line still further westward.

Along the Piave from the region of Feltre to the Adriatic the invaders at numerous points endeavored to make new crossings of the river, but everywhere they have been thwarted, those already on the west bank of the river being held to their original positions by big guns and rifles.

Near Zenson the positions of the enemy are gradually being encroached upon, while near the mouth of the river at Grisolera the invaders in the swampy lowlands constantly are under vigorous shell and rifle fire.

Varied reports are still coming through concerning the situation in Russia, but out of the maze it has been impossible to disentangle one statement that may be considered trustworthy. One report says that Petrograd is in flames and another says 2000 persons killed in streets of Moscow during the fighting between the Kerensky and Bolsheviki factions. There is still another to the effect that a Coalition Government has been formed in Moscow, with members of the Bolsheviki holding portfolios in it. Other unconfirmed reports are to the effect that anarchy reigns in Kiev and other Russian cities and that excesses against the Jews are being committed.

STRIVING FOR $100,000 MARK

Watch the Dial today and see if Nanaimo's Victory Loan Campaign Committee and corps of volunteer salesmen succeed in pushing the indicator past the $100,000 mark. The big drive for Nanaimo's quarter of a million in Canada's Victory Loan continues with encouraging results and yesterday witnessed the clock moved forward $50,000. The total this morning stands at slightly over eighty thousand, and the Committee is determined if at all possible, to end today's efforts with $100,000 to Nanaimo's credit and to see the week brought to a close with the half-way mark attained.

Several big purchases of Bonds yesterday swelled the day's sales from $36,000 to the present figure, the day's receipts being the largest of any single day during the campaign. Every salesman is urged to make an extra effort today in order that the ambitions of the chairman J. M. Rudd and his staff of assistants be realized. Capt. Beattie exhorted his corps last evening to put in their best licks today and it is to be hoped the public will respond by purchasing Victory Bonds to the utmost limit of their financial resources. Every home in Nanaimo should have at least one Victory Bond in its possession. Money is required to continue the war and by buying a bond the purchaser not only places a weapon in the hands of a Canadian soldier but also adds to the buyers' wealth in proportion to the number of Bonds purchased.

THE SITUATION IN PETROGRAD

Commander of Revolutionary Forces Declares His Army is Strong Enough to Resist a Force Ten Times as Strong As Kerensky's.

Copenhagen, Nov. 15.—A Helsingfors dispatch says that the Military Committee last night received the following by telephone:

"When the revolutionary troops reconquered Gatchina, Kerensky, with from three to five thousand men, retired to the south. An order was given to cut off his retreat, and part of the northern army was dispatched to attack him in the rear.

The people seem to have lost confidence in Lenine and Trotsky. It is intended to form a Social-Revolutionary Coalition government, with representatives of all parties except the well-to-do. The first task of the new government will be to make peace with the enemy."

Stockholm, Nov. 15.—Lieut.-Col. Mouravieff, commander of the forces defending Petrograd, according to an undated dispatch from Haparanda to the Dagens Nyheter, has issued the following proclamation:

"Kerensky has circulated a false rumor that troops in Petrograd have gone over voluntarily to the Provisional government. The troops of the free Russian people are not retiring and are not surrendering. They only have evacuated Getchina in order to avoid useless bloodshed and take a defensive position nearer Petrograd. Their position now is strong enough to resist forces ten times as strong as Kerensky's Our troops are in the best of spirits. Order and calm prevail in Petrograd.

"Beside the cruiser Aurora, the warships Sarga and Svobody, the training ship Afrikanna and six torpedo boats of the Baltic fleet have arrived from Helsingfors and are anchored in the Neva near the Nicholas Bridge, in the centre of Petrograd, whence they can bombard the entire city. Their crews are made up of Bolsheviki."

London, Nov. 15.—According to press reports from Stockholm, travelers who arrived yesterday in Haparanda from Finland, said rumors were current there that Petrograd was in flames.

BRITISH TAKES A HEAVY TOLL

Thousands of Prisoners, Thousands of Square Miles of Territory and Hundreds of Guns Wrested from Enemy by British Arms.

London, Nov. 15.—In the House of Commons today, Henry William Forster, Financial Secretary of War, said that since July 1, 1916, the British have captured from the Turkish armies 30,197 prisoners and 186 guns, and from the Germans on the western front 101,534 prisoners and 519 guns.

The approximate square mileage conquered or reconquered by the British in the same time, said Mr. Forster, was 1,8,000. The number of prisoners captured on all fronts since the beginning of the war was 166,000, with 800 captured guns.

L. W. BRECK PASSED AWAY IN KINGSTON

Word was received in this city yesterday of the death in Kingston, Ont. on November 5th, of L. W. Breck, for a number of years night managing operator of the C. P. R. Telegraph Office in Nanaimo. The deceased was well known to many in the city, especially to checker players, for nothing pleased him more than to pit his skill against draught experts and come off victorious. He had been confined to bed for practically the last twelve months.

CANDIDATE FOR NANAIMO RIDING

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, of Esquimalt, was chosen as the Union candidate for the Nanaimo Electoral District by the fusion convention which met in Duncan yesterday. There were two other nominations before the convention in the persons of Major Harvey and Chief Justice Hunter. On the first ballot the votes were McIntosh 40, Harvey 34 and Hunter 12. On the second ballot the voting was McIntosh 52 and Harvey 32. The nomination of Mr. McIntosh was thereupon made unanimous, and an advisory committee consisting of Messrs. Pooley, Pauline, Curtis-Sampson, Gold, Paterson and a returned soldier yet to be named, was appointed to look after the campaign in the interests of Mr. McIntosh.

The convention assembled fairly well on time, and Alderman J. W. Coburn, of Nanaimo, was appointed chairman, and Mr. Hugh Savage, of Duncan, secretary. At the outset of the proceedings a claim was made by the returned soldiers for equal representation with the Liberal and Conservative Associations and the Win-the-War League. The claim received the most sympathetic consideration, but the difficulty was raised that the representation at the convention had been fixed at a previous meeting, and then accepted by the various associations there represented, and it was argued that the delegates did not have the power to make such a vital amendment.

The discussion lasted until the luncheon hour at which point the chairman ruled the motion out of order. When the convention re-assembled, Captain Macdonald, one of the returned soldiers' delegates, announced that they had decided to withdraw their claim and to accept the representation of three which had been given them. The Credentials Committee then reported that the Conservatives were short two delegates and that only one labor delegate was present. It was thereupon agreed that the two votes should be given the Conservative delegates and the labor representative was given three votes. The two Conservative votes were allocated to the districts which had failed to send their full quota of delegates, namely the Islands and Esquimalt.

With all the difficulties cleared away to the satisfaction of all the delegates present, the business of nominating candidates was then proceeded with, resulting, as stated above, in the selection of Mr. J. C. McIntosh.

Called upon for a speech, Mr. McIntosh, after expressing his appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon him, stated that he was born a Liberal and had been a Liberal all his life. But he had discarded politics and appeared before the convention as a Canadian, desirous only of working in the interests of the Dominion in the present crisis. He would leave it to the electors, in the event of his election, to judge by his actions on the floor of the House of Commons whether or not he kept faith. He was sure he would never betray the faith that had been reposed in him.

Three hearty cheers and a tiger marked the close of his remarks, and the convention was brought to an end with the singing of the National Anthem.

ENEMY FOILED AT PIAVE RIVER

London, Nov. 15.—Austro-German attempts to cross Piave have been foiled generally by the Italians and the party that crossed at Zenson has not been able to debouch. Several attempts have been made to cross the river between Zenson and the Adriatic, but only in the marshland on the coast have the Germans been able to make progress. Here they are under heavy fire and it is improbable that any large number of Austro-Germans will be able to take advantage of the break, because of terrain conditions.

On the line from the Piave to Lake Garda, the Italians have retired between the river and the region northeast of Asiago, reducing the bulge in the Italian line. Austro-German pressure here and around Asiago continues heavy. The invaders have gained some vantage points on the Asiago plateau and on Sette Comuni, west of Asiago. Another threat to the new Italian defence is noted in a strong German effort between Lake Garda and Lake Ledro. It was the first in this region, but was [illegible]

Rome, Nov. 15.—The Ita[illegible] ces have defeated renewed [illegible] ver. Those of the enemy who forced a crossing at two points on previous days are being held in check, the War Office announced today. The enemy forces which effected a crossing at Zenson are being more closely invested, and those across the river in the marshy sector near the coast are being checked and shelled. Other enemy attacks were repulsed.

In the mountains in the north the Italian forces have made a further withdrawal. The advanced positions at Monte Tomatice, south of the Feltre, were drawn back to positions previously determined.

The announcement says:

"The enemy has intensified his action on our mountainous front from the Asiago zone to the Piave Valley. On Tuesday night he attacked the Monte Sizamon-Meletta d'Avanti sector and was resisted effectively. The action was continued succesfully by us yesterday with the object of driving back with local counter attacks enemy parties which had reached some advanced elements of our position and attempted to remain there.

"Yesterday morning the enemy made an attack more to the north along the front of Meletta d'Avanti-Monte Fior-Monte Castelgoberto and was repulsed. He repeated his attempt during the evening with larger forces and greater violence, but was again repulsed."

ISSUE INSTRUCTIONS FOR OVERSEAS MAIL

Owing to a certain amount of confusion which appears to exist regarding the sending of parcels to prisoners of war in Germany and neutral countries, the postoffice dead letter office yesterday morning quoted the restrictions and regulations covering the sending of such parcels.

Parcels containing other than prohibited articles, may be sent to prisoners addressed in care of the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England. Parcels for Canadians with the Imperial forces must be addressed care of the Central Prisoners of War Committee, 4 Thurloe Place, London, S. W.

In packing parcels the prohibitions cover tins or other receptateles which can not be conveniently opened in England. Foodstuffs are barred. In parcels going to enemy countries, regulation uniforms and all articles of clothing and boots for other than officers are banned. This latter does not apply to those held in neutral countries. No written communications may be included in the parcels nor may any printed matter, pictorial illustrations or photographs be included, nor should money be sent in parcels. Stationery, stamps, playing cards and similar articles affording [illegible] communications, [illegible], leather or rubber [illegible] otballs and golf balls, spirits or solidified spirits for cooking purposes, matches or inflammable materials are prohibited. Photographic apparatus, field glasses, sextants, compasses and other instruments of use for military or naval purposes are barred to enemy countries only.

Persons desiring to have food or articles of clothing sent to Canadian prisoners of war belonging to the Canadian contingent, should send money for the purpose to the Red Cross Society, prisoners of war department, London. Articles other than food or clothing, may be purchased through this department, and will be forwarded if not prohibited. The number, rank and name of the prisoner, together with the camp where he is held, should be put on all letters, havng in addition the words "care Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England."

TRIBUNALS HAD A BUSY DAY

The two local Exemption Tribunals yesterday had the busiest day since they commenced their sittings to decide upon applications for exemption under the terms of the Military Service Act. Upwards of forty applicants were passed upon there being but a small percentage of exemptions granted.

The Boards face another busy session today, when the following named applicants will be passed upon:

E. D. Pyrah, J. Milburn, G. Oswald H. Lind, J. C. Spence, J. W. McKenzie. H. G. Yarrow, A. McCrory, C. C. Cuthbert, T. Charnock, T. P. Inglis, S. Calverley, A. W. Taylor, J. Wheatley, T. Thompson, W. Wakelem, William Corlett, William Calverley, Samuel McKeown, Ed. Haapala, W. K. Whitta, William Finnamore, J. T. Scott, George Scales, Walter Dick, Peter Aitken, Ed. Chadwick,, John John, Frank Djer, Geo. H. Green, R. Jones, A. Lane, D. Johnston, D. Lewis,, Robert Jones, G. W. Langham, W. Beattie, Malcolm Campbell and W. McKie.

BENJAMIN SIDDONS DIED SUDDENLY

Yesterday morning when in the act of getting tally checks preparatory to entering the Harewood Mine to engage in his occupation as a miner, Benjamin Siddons suddenly dropped to the ground and died almost immedietely, his sudden end being due to heart failure.

The deceased was a native of York shire, England, aged 43 years, and had resided in this district the past two years. He is survived by his widow, but no family.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence, Robins street, to St. Paul's church at 1:30, Rev. Cockshott officiating. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Mr. D. J. Jenkins.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The conversion of more than a million tons of American sailing vessels into steamships, was proposed to the Shipping Board today by Thomas A. Edison.

Edison will go over the details of the plan with Rear-Admiral Capps, general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

BREAKDOWN OF SUB CAMPAIGN

Teuton Victories Over Russians and And Italians are Trivial Matters Compared to Failure of U Boats.

New York, Nov. 15.—Arthur Pollen, the famous British war expert, has made the following statement to the Associated Press on the submarine war and the various political crises in Europe:

"Anything unsatisfactory in the military and political situation in Europe is balanced by the extraordinary news that the German submarine campaign has broken down altogether. The submarine is defeated. This is the most momentous event since the United States declared war. It means that we can all stay in and that the Americans can really come in.

"Six months ago shipping was being destroyed, according to some authorities, at a rate of 9,000,000 tons per annum. Had this loss continued the Germans had a right to expect, not indeed a military victory, but a peace that would gain something less than defeat. This was Germany's only hope, and it was the Allies' only anxiety, for everyone, including the German higher command knew that with sea communication reasonably safe, the military defeat of the German army was certain.

"In the first fortnight of November the rate of British tonnage of ships greater than 1,600 tons each lost has fallen to about 1,000,000 tons a year. The present shipbuilding capacity of Britain alone can make this loss good in less than eight months. At the rate Great Britain, the United States and Japan are striving to attain, we should replace this loss in less than eight weeks. The rate of loss for the last week is actually less than the annual toll of wrecks in peace times. It is an amazing developement. It is not to be expected that the losses can remain as low as this. They will fluctuate up and down. But they should never cause any of us serious uneasiness again.

"Compared with this, Germany's recent successes against Russia and Italy and the blow they have given to Allied morale—which we see reflected in the discussions of Mr. Lloyd George's speech—are really trivial incidents. Whether the Italians hold the Piave, the Brenta or the Adige; whether it takes Kerensky and the forces that are making for order in Russia a week or two weeks to pull that distracted country together; whether the House of Commons on Monday forgives the British Prime Minister's blazing brutality or resents it, are all, compared with the change in the position at sea, quite unimportant.

"Now that the means required for victory are assured, no dispute as to the best way of using them can do worse than slightly delay the issue. Germany can never make a separate peace with Russia and must always maintain a great army on the Eastern front. It is unbelieveable that the demoralization of a part of the Italian army could spread to the whole. The German and Austrian invasion of Italy amounts really to an extension of their Western front. For the first time France and Britain and the United States will be able to strike at Austria as well as at Germany. This will not ultimately be a military advantage for the enemy. It may, indeed, be his ruin.

BORDEN WILL CURTAIL TRIP

Halifax, Nov. 15.—Premier Borden, on account of the opening up of the election campaign, and the urgent need for his presence in Ottawa, has decided to curtail his Maritime Provinces' trip. He will address a Unionist meeting this evening at Sidney, and then will go to Kentville, King's County, in which constituency he has been invited to run, an invitation he will probably accept.

ON STRIKE AT TRAIL SMELTER

Victoria, Nov. 15.—Several hundred men are on strike at the Trail Smelter and an appeal has been made to the Provincial Government to settle matters at that point.

J. H. Warren, manager of the smelter, was here today conferring, and the situation will be laid before the officials at Ottawa. It is said the men object to the Military Service Act. The situation is reported serious.

PARCELS FOR SOLDIERS

Regarding the sending of candy to the men in France and Flanders, the government prohibition of the exportation of candy and sugar does not apply. Candy may be sent to soldiers on actual overseas duty with the Canadian or British forces.

The government recommends that parcels be made up in strong double cardboard boxes, preferably those of corrugated cardboard. Shoe boxes and other thin cardboard boxes are not of sufficient strength. Strong wooden boxes of several folds of stout packing paper may be used. Additional security is offered by an outer covering of linen, calico or canvas securely sewn.

In sending parcels the name of the sender must be shown clearly on all covers for prisoners of war, and a list of contents must be given on the cover.

PLANNED WRECK OF TROOP TRAIN

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 15.—Plots to wreck troop trains, assassinate certain county officials and members of the Draft Board, burn cotton gins, and railroad depots, were hatched at a meeting of I. W. W. leaders at Saskawa, the scene of the working class union rebellion of last summer, according to a warning received at Tulsa officials from the sheriff of Pontotoc county tonight. The warning was received by Sheriff Duncan, of Ada, from a person who said he had been a member but had determined to "quit the gang for good and get out of the country."

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Woman Party Headquarters announced tonight that thirty women were sent to the district workhouse yesterday for displaying banners before the White House and had joined Miss Alice Paul in her hunger strike, for treatment of militants as political prisoners.

CANDIDATE FOR NANAIMO RIDING

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, of Esquimalt, was chosen as the Union candidate for the Nanaimo Electoral District by the fusion convention which met in Duncan yesterday. There were two other nominations before the convention in the persons of Major Harvey and Chief Justice Hunter. On the first ballot the votes were McIntosh 40, Harvey 34 and Hunter 12. On the second ballot the voting was McIntosh 52 and Harvey 32. The nomination of Mr. McIntosh was thereupon made unanimous, and an advisory committee consisting of Messrs. Pooley, Pauline, Curtis-Sampson, Gold, Paterson and a returned soldier yet to be named, was appointed to look after the campaign in the interests of Mr. McIntosh.

The convention assembled fairly well on time, and Alderman J. W. Coburn, of Nanaimo, was appointed chairman, and Mr. Hugh Savage, of Duncan, secretary. At the outset of the proceedings a claim was made by the returned soldiers for equal representation with the Liberal and Conservative Associations and the Win-the-War League. The claim received the most sympathetic consideration, but the difficulty was raised that the representation at the convention had been fixed at a previous meeting, and then accepted by the various associations there represented, and it was argued that the delegates did not have the power to make such a vital amendment.

The discussion lasted until the luncheon hour at which point the chairman ruled the motion out of order. When the convention re-assembled, Captain Macdonald, one of the returned soldiers' delegates, announced that they had decided to withdraw their claim and to accept the representation of three which had been given them. The Credentials Committee then reported that the Conservatives were short two delegates and that only one labor delegate was present. It was thereupon agreed that the two votes should be given the Conservative delegates and the labor representative was given three votes. The two Conservative votes were allocated to the districts which had failed to send their full quota of delegates, namely the Islands and Esquimalt.

With all the difficulties cleared away to the satisfaction of all the delegates present, the business of nominating candidates was then proceeded with, resulting, as stated above, in the selection of Mr. J. C. McIntosh.

Called upon for a speech, Mr. McIntosh, after expressing his appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon him, stated that he was born a Liberal and had been a Liberal all his life. But he had discarded politics and appeared before the convention as a Canadian, desirous only of working in the interests of the Dominion in the present crisis. He would leave it to the electors, in the event of his election, to judge by his actions on the floor of the House of Commons whether or not he kept faith. He was sure he would never betray the faith that had been reposed in him.

Three hearty cheers and a tiger marked the close of his remarks, and the convention was brought to an end with the singing of the National Anthem.

ENEMY FOILED AT PIAVE RIVER

London, Nov. 15.—Austro-German attempts to cross Piave have been foiled generally by the Italians and the party that crossed at Zenson has not been able to debouch. Several attempts have been made to cross the river between Zenson and the Adriatic, but only in the marshland on the coast have the Germans been able to make progress. Here they are under heavy fire and it is improbable that any large number of Austro-Germans will be able to take advantage of the break, because of terrain conditions.

On the line from the Piave to Lake Garda, the Italians have retired between the river and the region northeast of Asiago, reducing the bulge in the Italian line. Austro-German pressure here and around Asiago continues heavy. The invaders have gained some vantage points on the Asiago plateau and on Sette Comuni, west of Asiago. Another threat to the new Italian defence is noted in a strong German effort between Lake Garda and Lake Ledro. It was the first in this region, but was f...

Rome, Nov. 15.—The Ita... ces have defeated renewed ... ver. Those of the enemy who forced a crossing at two points on previous days are being held in check, the War Office announced today. The enemy forces which effected a crossing at Zenson are being more closely invested, and those across the river in the marshy sector near the coast are being checked and shelled. Other enemy attacks were repulsed.

In the mountains in the north the Italian forces have made a further withdrawal. The advanced positions at Monte Tomatice, south of the Feltre, were drawn back to positions previously determined.

The announcement says:

"The enemy has intensified his action on our mountainous front from the Asiago zone to the Piave Valley. On Tuesday night he attacked the Monte Sizamon-Meletta d'Avanti sector and was resisted effectively. The action was continued succesfully by us yesterday with the object of driving back with local counter attacks enemy parties which had reached some advanced elements of our position and attempted to remain there.

"Yesterday morning the enemy made an attack more to the north along the front of Meletta d'Avanti-Monte Fior-Monte Castelgoberto and was repulsed. He repeated his attempt during the evening with larger forces and greater violence, but was again repulsed."

ISSUE INSTRUCTIONS FOR OVERSEAS MAIL

Owing to a certain amount of confusion which appears to exist regarding the sending of parcels to prisoners of war in Germany and neutral countries, the postoffice dead letter office yesterday morning quoted the restrictions and regulations covering the sending of such parcels.

Parcels containing other than prohibited articles, may be sent to prisoners addressed in care of the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England. Parcels for Canadians with the Imperial forces must be addressed care of the Central Prisoners of War Committee, 4 Thurloe Place, London, S. W.

In packing parcels the prohibitions cover tins or other receptateles which can not be conveniently opened in England. Foodstuffs are barred. In parcels going to enemy countries, regulation uniforms and all articles or clothing and boots for other than officers are banned. This latter does not apply to those held in neutral countries. No written communications may be included in the parcels nor may any printed matter, pictorial illustrations or photographs be included, nor should money be sent in parcels. Stationery, stamps, playing cards and similar articles affording ... communications, ..., leather or rubber ... otballs and golf balls, spirits or solidified spirits for cooking purposes, matches or inflammable materials are prohibited. Photographic apparatus, field glasses, sextants, compasses and other instruments of use for military or naval purposes are barred to enemy countries only.

Persons desiring to have food or articles of clothing sent to Canadian prisoners of war belonging to the Canadian contingent, should send money for the purpose to the Red Cross Society, prisoners of war department, London. Articles other than food or clothing, may be purchased through this department, and will be forwarded if not prohibited. The number, rank and name of the prisoner, together with the camp where he is held, should be put on all letters, havng in addition the words "care Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England."

TRIBUNALS HAD A BUSY DAY

The two local Exemption Tribunals yesterday had the busiest day since they commenced their sittings to decide upon applications for exemption under the terms of the Military Service Act. Upwards of forty applicants were passed upon there being but a small percentage of exemptions granted.

The Boards face another busy session today, when the following named applicants will be passed upon:

E. D. Pyrah, J. Milburn, G. Oswald H. Lind, J. C. Spence, J. W. McKenzie, H. G. Yarrow, A. McCrory, C. C. Cuthbert, T. Charnock, T. P. Inglis, S. Calverley, A. W. Taylor, J. Wheatley, T. Thompson, W. Wakelem, William Corlett, William Calverley, Samuel McKeown, Ed. Haapala, W. K. Whitta, William Finnamore, J. T. Scott, George Scales, Walter Dick, Peter Aitken, Ed. Chadwick,, John John, Frank Djer, Geo. H. Green, R. Jones, A. Lane, D. Johnston, D. Lewis,, Robert Jones, G. W. Langham, W. Beattie, Malcolm Campbell and W. McKie.

BENJAMIN SIDDONS DIED SUDDENLY

Yesterday morning when in the act of getting tally checks preparatory to entering the Harewood Mine to engage in his occupation as a miner, Benjamin Siddons suddenly dropped to the ground and died almost immedietely, his sudden end being due to heart failure.

The deceased was a native of York shire, England, aged 43 years, and had resided in this district the past two years. He is survived by his widow, but no family.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence, Robins street, to St. Paul's church at 1:30, Rev. Cockshott officiating. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Mr. D. J. Jenkins.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The conversion of more than a million tons of American sailing vessels into steamships, was proposed to the Shipping Board today by Thomas A. Edison.

Edison will go over the details of the plan with Rear-Admiral Capps, general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

BREAKDOWN OF SUB CAMPAIGN

Teuton Victories Over Russians and And Italians are Trivial Matters Compared to Failure of U Boats.

New York, Nov. 15.—Arthur Pollen, the famous British war expert, has made the following statement to the Associated Press on the submarine war and the various political crises in Europe;

"Anything unsatisfactory in the military and political situation in Europe is balanced by the extraordinary news that the German submarine campaign has broken down altogether. The submarine is defeated. This is the most momentous event since the United States declared war. It means that we can all stay in and that the Americans can really come in.

"Six months ago shipping was being destroyed, according to some authorities, at a rate of 9,000,000 tons per annum. Had this loss continued the Germans had a right to expect, not indeed a military victory, but a peace that would gain something less than defeat. This was Germany's only hope, and it was the Allies' only anxiety, for everyone, including the German higher command knew that with sea communication reasonably safe, the military defeat of the German army was certain.

"In the first fortnight of November the rate of British tonnage of ships greater than 1,600 tons each lost has fallen to about 1,000,000 tons a year. The present shipbuilding capacity of Britain alone can make this loss good in less than eight months. At the rate Great Britain, the United States and Japan are striving to attain, we should replace this loss in less than eight weeks. The rate of loss for the last week is actually less than the annual toll of wrecks in peace times. It is an amazing developement. It is not to be expected that the losses can remain as low as this. They will fluctuate up and down. But they should never cause any of us serious uneasiness again.

"Compared with this, Germany's recent successes against Russia and Italy and the blow they have given to Allied morale—which we see reflected in the discussions of Mr. Lloyd George's speech—are really trivial incidents. Whether the Italians hold the Piave, the Brenta or the Adige; whether it takes Kerensky and the forces that are making for order in Russia a week or two weeks to pull that distracted country together; whether the House of Commons on Monday forgives the British Prime Minister's blazing brutality or resents it, are all, compared with the change in the position at sea, quite unimportant.

"Now that the means required for victory are assured, no dispute as to the best way of using them can do worse than slightly delay the issue. Germany can never make a separate peace with Russia and must always maintain a great army on the Eastern front. It is unbelieveable that the demoralization of a part of the Italian army could spread to the whole. The German and Austrian invasion of Italy amounts really to an extension of their Western front. For the first time France and Britain and the United States will be able to strike at Austria as well as at Germany. This will not ultimately be a military advantage for the enemy. It may, indeed, be his ruin.

BORDEN WILL CURTAIL TRIP

Halifax, Nov. 15.—Premier Borden, on account of the opening up of the election campaign, and the urgent need for his presence in Ottawa, has decided to curtail his Maritime Provinces' trip. He will address a Unionist meeting this evening at Sidney, and then will go to Kentville, King's County, in which constituency he has been invited to run, an invitation he will probably accept.

ON STRIKE AT TRAIL SMELTER

Victoria, Nov. 15.—Several hundred men are on strike at the Trail Smelter and an appeal has been made to the Provincial Government to settle matters at that point.

J. H. Warren, manager of the smelter, was here today conferring, and the situation will be laid before the officials at Ottawa. It is said the men object to the Military Service Act. The situation is reported serious.

PARCELS FOR SOLDIERS

Regarding the sending of candy to the men in France and Flanders, the government prohibition of the exportation of candy and sugar does not apply. Candy may be sent to soldiers on actual overseas duty with the Canadian or British forces.

The government recommends that parcels be made up in strong double cardboard boxes, preferably those of corrugated cardboard. Shoe boxes and other thin cardboard boxes are not of sufficient strength. Strong wooden boxes of several folds of stout packing paper may be used. Additional security is offered by an outer covering of linen, calico or canvas securely sewn.

In sending parcels the name of the sender must be shown clearly on all covers for prisoners of war, and a list of contents must be given on the cover.

PLANNED WRECK OF TROOP TRAIN

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 15.—Plots to wreck troop trains, assassinate certain county officials and members of the Draft Board, burn cotton gins, and railroad depots, were hatched at a meeting of I. W. W. leaders at Saskawa, the scene of the working class union rebellion of last summer, according to a warning received at Tulsa officials from the sheriff of Pontotoc county tonight. The warning was received by Sheriff Duncan, of Ada, from a person who said he had been a member but had determined to "quit the gang for good and get out of the country."

A UNION CANDIDATE

The union candidate for the Nanaimo riding is Mr. J. C. McIntosh, of Esquimalt. Mr. McIntosh is a lawyer by profession, and is very little known at this end of the constituency. He is, however, well known in the southern end of the riding, and is highly spoken of for his ability, his strong character, and his outstanding probity. In politics he has been a Liberal, but like thousands of other men belonging to both parties, he is a Canadian first and a politician after.

His selection as candidate for this riding marks a new era in local political history. The convention of which he was the choice represented the two political parties, the Win-the-War League, the War Veterans Association, labor and farming. He was proposed by a well known Conservative, and in the end became the unanimous choice of this fusion convention. He is no longer a Liberal. He is a plain unionist candidate, pledged to support the union government and rush on the government's programme to win the war. As such he will have the support of every man in the constituency whose chief desire at present is for Canada to use its whole available strength in men, money, and resources in the war

Whether or not Mr. McIntosh will have opposition remains to be seen. It is improbable that a Laurier-Lib- [illegible] candidate he may not enter the contest. At any rate there should be no doubt about Mr. McIntosh's election. Even in the labor party, which really means the Socialist party, there must be a large proportion who will support the government in this war against Prussian barbarity. The other parties are overwhelmingly in favor of Canada doing everything in its power to carry the war to a successful conclusion. One of the means of doing this is to return a union government, and as a union candidate Mr. McIntosh will have the support of Liberals, Conservatives, Leaguers, Returned Soldiers and Independents, whose slogan is "Let Canada carry on."

COMMUNICATION

Dear Mr. Editor:

Seeing that our friend, the Editor of The Free Press has seen fit to wilfully misrepresent the statements made by the writer at the annual meeting of the [illegible] branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening last, I propose, with your permission to more fully explain the principle which, to my mind, should be in operation lest a misunderstanding may arise in the minds of some members of this community as a result of the biased report to which I have already alluded.

Our worthy friend's pretensions as to being a good sport are not at all compattable wih his side kicks and glaring inconsistency which, upon more than one occasion has been clearly demonstrated in regard to the Patriotic Fund which, notwithstanding its shortcomings is the most sacred trust in the charge of Canadians (not Canada) today. Broadly speaking the civilian ceases to have anything to do with the military side of the war when he has decided, or when the government has decided for him whether or not he shall join the active fighting forces. But exemption from military service because of age, physique or sex does not absolve citizens from all participation in the war. So great a war as this has given a new meaning to the old saying that "They also serve who sit at home and wait." The new meaning however, plays havoc with the comfortable idea of sitting and waiting. Such restful occupations have no place in the great adventure of the day. Those who stay at home must serve while they wait. Action does not end in the war zone; it only begins there. Action should end at home after every effort of every individual has been exhausted in service and helpfulness. When a nation goes to war in a national cause all the people of that nation go to war. Every blow struck by our men in Flanders or in France must be backed by the finest spirit of our people at home. Patriotism is nothing unless it unites every class; at such a time at this (when we are at grips with realities upon which the destiny of our suceeding generations depends) those who hold themselves apart from the national expression of good will by withholding their support on behalf of the dependents of our soldiers or by shirking the dangers and responsibilities of the hour, are committing treason against the people and my contention, as stated at Monday night's meeting, upon which I now stand and which will further govern my future attitude resolves itself into a nutshell, and in effect was that every citizen (even to newspaper editors, with which I think you will agree) who is in receipt of good wages or a regular income and could well afford to support this greatest of all Canadian funds, and had hitherto refrained from so doing, should have influence brought to bear upon them not of an unkindly character (not by any means "pilliored" or exposed to ridicule which term and meaning was implied by the editor of the Free Press to my observations), but sufficiently forceful and convincing as to cause them to shoulder their rightful share of the burden and thereby materially augment our local fund and turn the deficit into a credit balance.

The firing of the first shot in the war may or may not have sounded the death-knell of war itself, but it certainly sounded the death-knell of our old self-satisfied method of individualised life. We have been forcer to realise our social interdependence. In the moment of our nation's trial, we called for "solidarity," and it was solidarity of mind and effort that saved the Empire during those early dark days. In every direction calls for solidarity abound. The need of a vast army has created a gigantic system of State Subsidies for the men and their families whilst the war continues, and of pensions for those who are seriously wounded, and for the widows of the men who fall in battle. Before the war solidarity was a term strangely lacking in practical associations: now it should and must be the corner-stone of the temple.

With apoligies for trespassing thus far upon your valued space.

Very truly yours,

J. C. DAKIN.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

THEATRE

"Her Beloved Enemy," an exciting five-act drama with the favorites Wayne Arey and Doris Grey in the leading roles, heads the Bijou programme for today and tomorrow. It is a Rathe production of high-class and sure to please.

With this will be offered another episode of the thrilling serial "Patria," wth Mrs. Vernono Castle in some new and daring adventures. This serial is getting more and more interesting with every new instalment.

DOMINION THEATRE

From merry hearted girlhood on a ranch high in the California mountains to a womanhood of beautiful gowns and real love affairs, dainty Vivian Martin is as winsome as ever in her latest Paramount photoplay, "The Sunset Trail," which is appearing today and tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

This is an exceptionally interesting scenario with an unusual plot. It was arranged for the screen by Beulah Marie Dix from the story by Alice McIver.

The comedy on the bill should be a big attraction. It is produced by the famous Mack-Sennett being the first one he has made for the Paramount Company. It is in two reels of continuous laughter.

15 TIMES THE MONEY

was spent on doctors' bills, without any benefit, as was spent in Zam-Buk, which effected a complete cure!" says Mrs. Fred Gervais of 126 Bleury St., Montreal.

"A rash broke out on my baby's skin, and she became very fretful and lost weight. I took her to a doctor, who gave me some lotion to apply, but it did not do baby any good. I then took her to another doctor, but with the same result.

"Then a friend, who saw the condition baby was in, brought me some Zam-Buk, which she so highly recommended that I commenced using it. In one week's time baby looked much better, and before a month had elapsed she was quite well again.

"Baby is now the picture of health, and I think it wonderful that $2 worth of Zam-Buk brought about this cure when $30 spent in doctors' treatments did no good whatever! I certainly advise other mothers not to experiment with useless remedies, but to save their little ones unnecessary suffering and themselves needless anxiety and expense by using Zam-Buk in the first place."

Zam-Buk is also best for eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, boils, ulcers, abscesses, bad legs, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns and scalds. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

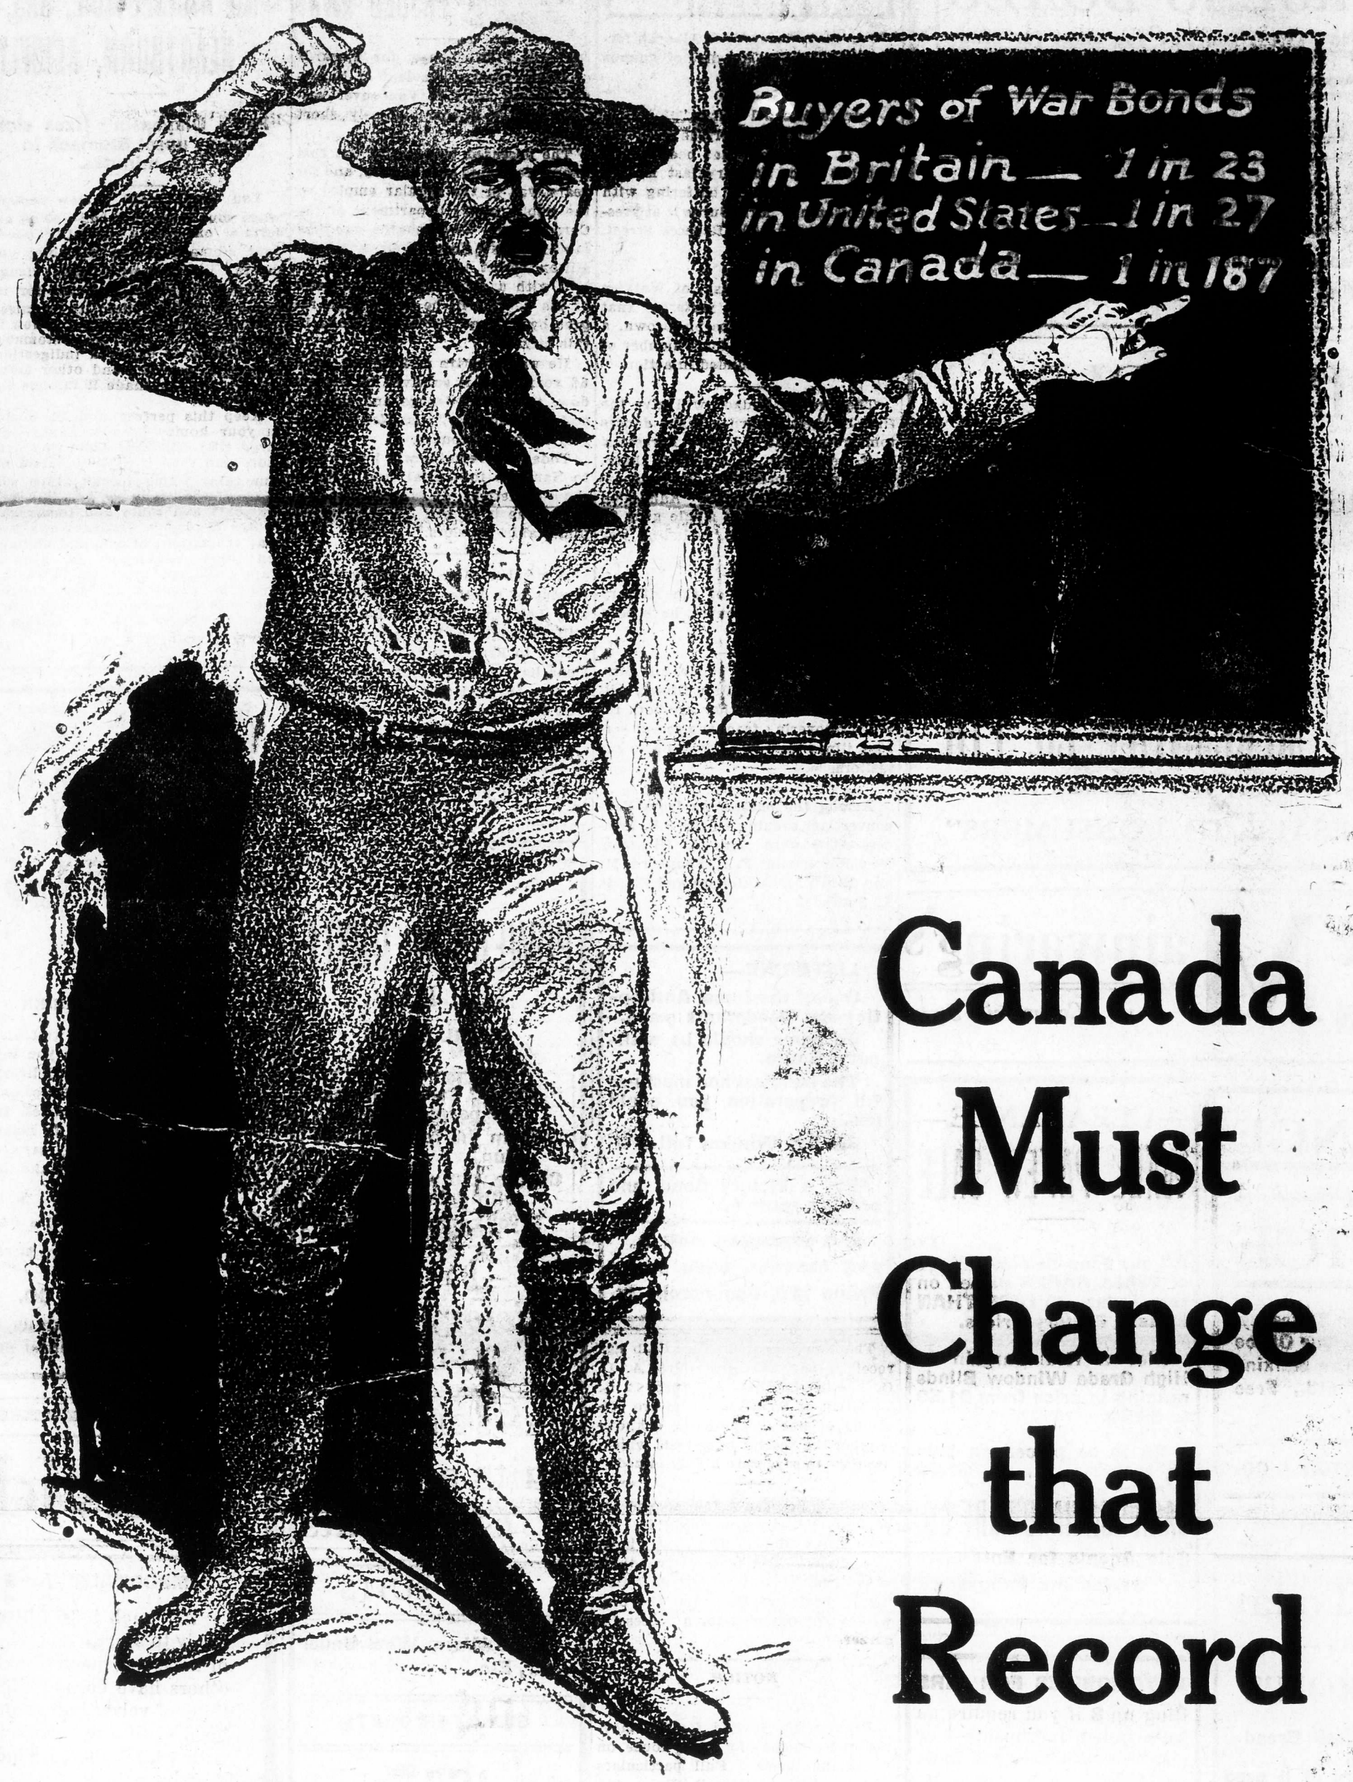
SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.



The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Canada Must Change that Record

FEWER CANADIANS in proportion to the population have lent their money to the nation than have either the British or American people.

This in spite of the fact that the individual wealth of the Canadian people to-day is greater than it has ever been and is one of the largest of any country in the world.

You owe it to Canada, to yourself, to your children, to see that it is changed.

If you never bought a war bond before do it now. Be ready when the canvasser calls.

Remember this—That to win this war every man and woman in Canada must do his or her share, and to-day the most important, vitally necessary thing is to buy Victory Bonds.

Help to Change Canada's Record to 1 in 20 Buyers of Victory Bonds

LORD NORTHCLIFFE DECLINED

London, Nov. 15.—Lord Northcliffe has declined the proffer of the administration of the new Air Ministry made to him by Premier Lloyd George. In a long letter to the Premier, Lord Northcliffe explained that his refusal of the portfolio is due to dissatisfaction with some of the methods of Lloyd George's administration, especially with regard to the relations with the United States, and says that Lord Northcliffe's desire therefore is to maintain an independent attitude.

Copenhagen, Nov. 15.—The German Socialists have determined to disregard the agreement entered into at the outset of the war for a political truce and will nominate a candidate for the Reichstag in the Bautzen-Kamenez district of Saxony. This is the seat for which the Conservatives have asked Admiral von Tirpitz former Minister of Marine, to stand.

JAMES NICHOLSON PASSED AWAY

James F. Nicholson, for upwards of thirty years a resident of Nanaimo, passed away in Vancouver yesterday after a comparatively short illness.

The deceased was one of the best known residents of Nanaimo, and for years was in the regular employ of the public works department of the Corporation. Two months ago the family moved from their home on Milton Street to Vancouver to reside with a daughter, and the news of his death will be heard with regret by a large circle of friends in this city.

He was a native of England, aged 68 years, and is survived by his widow, two sons, George and Robert, and one daughter, Miss Nellie Docherty all of Vancouver.

Today the remains will be brought to Nanaimo for burial, and pending the completion of funeral arrangements the body will lie at McAdie's undertaking parlors.

A member of the Herald staff is in receipt of a letter from Captain Arthur Leighton. Captain Leighton is still in England, but is expected to return to France any day. He mentions having seen Lieut. Elder, who is very fit, and also Lieut Mitchell, who has gone to France again.

Just arrived at local headquarters of the Red Cross Society's "Win-the-War candidate will be on exhibition in a few days. Watch papers for particulars.

TEUTONIC ALLIES UNABLE TO PENETRATE ITALIAN FRONT

Stubborn Resistance Is Offere d to Austro-German Forces Which Are Repulsed from Lake Garda to the Adriatic Sea—Russian Situation in a Quandry—Petrograd and Moscow Scenes of Serious Fighting.

London, Nov. 16.—The situation in Russia is still clouded by uncertainty owing to interrupted communication with Petrograd, but, so the latest reports the Bolsheviki faction was in control, and fighting was in progress in the streets.

A belated dispatch to the Associated Press, sent from Petrograd last Wednesday morning, reiterates that the forces of Kerensky met with defeat at the hands of the Bolsheviki south of Petrograd while endeavoring to march up on Tsarskoe Selo, and were compelled to retreat back to Gatchina, whence they started for the attack.

A more belated communication dispatched from Petrograd last Tuesday, contained more hopeful news concerning Kiev, where it was said the Cossacks and military cadets gained control of the city after considerable fighting during which the leaders of the Recalcitranta were arrested.

Moscow, however, is partly in the hands of the Government troops and partly under control of the Bolsheviki Government contingents holding the central portion of the city, and Bolsheviki its environs. The casualties in Moscow as the result of street fighting is estimated at from 700 to 2,000.

On the Italian front the Italians daily continue to stiffen their front from the region of Lake Garda to the Adriatic Sea. Nowhere have the Teutonic Allies been able to penetrate their front for new gains of great importance. On the other hand their attacks have met with fierce resistance and ultimate repulse, except in the north where the town of Cismon, on the east bank of the Brenta river and several hill positions have been taken by the invaders. All along the Piave a furious artillery action is in progress and Italian airplanes have again come into the fray and doing notable work in dropping bombs on the enemy lines. On the south near the mouth of the Piave in the region knows as the "Holland of Italy," Italian engineers have opened dikes against the enemy forces which crossed the stream at Grisolera, who, possibly, have been trapped by the inrush of water. The inundation will make harder the task of the enemy in bringing up guns with which to shell Venice from the northeast.

The British in Palestine continue to press forward against the Turks. They have now reached a point three miles south of Jaffa, and meeting with only slight resistance. Since operations began on Oct. 31, more than 9,000 Turks have been made prisoners.

A new French Cabinet has been formed under the leadership of Georges Clemenceau who, in addition to his post as Premier, has assumed the portfolio of Minister of War.

SUB MENACE NOT REMOVED

First Lord of The Admiralty Warns British Against Too Early Belief That Sub Campagn Broken.

London, Nov. 16.—In reply to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty said.

"The good return of the tonnage of sinkings last week and, indeed, the comparatively favorable result of the last two months, ought not to be taken as indicating that the submarine menace is a thing of the past or defeated."

Sir Eric recalled his recent speech in the House of Commons in which he said the enemy's attack on British trade had been held up, but had not been defeated, and that the Germans were building submarines faster than the British were destroying them, but that with the improved methods he looked for eventual defeat of this menace. He also reminded his hearers that he had said that the mercantile marine tonnage was not being maintained against the depredations of the submarines.

"I see no reason in what has happened since or in the favorable results of the last week" he continued, "to qualify or modify in any way what I have said as publicly as possible—that the calls upon the merchant shipping of the world necessary for waging war are so great that nothing should be left unsaid or undone which will bring home to the people of this and the allied countries that economy in everything which is seaborne will have a direct, vital and early result in the successful prosecution of the war; that the shipyards are short of men and women, and that all labor which can be saved from unnecessary work and diverted to the shipyards will have a direct effect on winning the war. I ask the house and the country not to be lifted up or cast down by one good or one bad week or month in tonnage sinkings.

"The steady downward curve since April shows that we hold and for the present are mastering the enemy submarines. The rise in merchant shipbuilding at present and proposed shows we are counteracting the enemy's efforts. But I repeat that we must have an increased output of marine engines and in the shipyards"

Prefer to Wait.

Washington, Nov. 16.—American naval experts, it was made plain today, do not agree with the view that the lull in the German submarine activities indicates a collapse of the U-boat campaign or that the anti-submarine measures have proved wholly effective.

They agree that progress is being made against the menace, but prefer to postpone judgment on whether the U-boat has been eliminated as a factor until the theory has been more thoroughly tested. Meanwhile the American navy will continue its preparations to deal with the menace.

BIJOU THEATRE

"Her Beloved Enemy," with Wayne Arey and Doris Grey in the leading roles is securing most favorable mention by the patrons of the Bijou. It is a very exciting story and the hearts interest is strong and appealing "Patria" the Mrs. Vernon Castle serial gets better with each instalment and the two reel shown this week are full of thrills and excitement.

Two well known provincial politicians were in the city last evening. Mr. W. W. B. McInnes was on his way to vsit the electors of the Comox district, and Mr. Joseph Martin was in the city on business. To a representative of The Herald, Mr. Martin denied the rumor that he intended to be a candidate in the Nanaimo Federal Riding as a Laurier Liberal.

GRANBY COMPANY IS DEVELOPING

Preparations for the erection of accommodation for the men the company will place at work in the development of its recently acquired coal properties, are being made by the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., at Cassidy's Siding, near Nanaimo, at which point its works, necessitated for the development of the large coal producing area the company has acquired, will be centred. Bunkhouses will be erected and other needed equipment installed.

The company has had two gangs of men working with diamond drills proving their holdings, and work on the development of the outcrop near Cassidy's Siding will be started at will be started at once, it is stated. The company, as recently announced, will develop its holding for its own use in the production of coke. A modern coke plant, capable of producing the many valuable by-products of coal, will be erected at the company's mines at Anyox at a cost of $1,500,000. The coal produced at its Vancouver Island holdings will be shipped to Anyox and there manufactured into coke with which the big smelter at the latter point will be operated, thus rendering the company independent of any other source of supply.

SERGT. MITCHELL KILLED IN ACTION

Sergt. William C. Mitchell of Nanaimo, was killed in action on October 30th, this distressing news being received by Mrs. Mitchell, Strickland Street, last night in an official dispatch from the War Records Office at Ottawa.

The fallen hero went overseas with the 11th C. M. R., and had been through most of the recent heavy fighting on the western front. He was exceptionally well known in Nanaimo and was prominent in athletic circles, being an ardent footballer, and proficient in other branches of sport. At the time of his enlistment he was in partnership with Mr. William Thorpe in the Central pool room on Wharf Street, disposing of his interest in the business to Mr. William Burnip.

He is survived by his widow and four small children, who will have the deepest sympathy of the community in their hour of affliction.

PRELUDE TO BIG BATTLE

Heavy Guns Roar Continuously Behind Both British and German Lines, Particularly in the Neighborhood of Passchendaele.

London, Nov. 16.—Intense artillery activity on the British front in France and Belgium occurred today, according to the War Office official announcement today. The communication follows:

"There has been intense artillery activity during the day on both sides of the battlefront, particularly in the neighborhood of Passchendaele.

"Our patrols brought in a few prisoners."

London, Nov. 16.—The correspondent of Reuters, with the British Headquarters in Palestine, in a dispatch dated November 15, described the followng operations of British troops in that war theatre:

"Indian troops captured the junction of Wadi Surah and two field guns. Scottish troops reached Mansura and positions to the north. English yeomanry captured Naneh, north of Mansura, taking sixty prisoners and a mountain gun. Anzac forces reached Kezuzeh and advanced toward Er-Ruale. British airmen bombed train troops."

SEES WAR'S END IN A YEAR

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—Opinion that the end of the war will come in twelve months as the result of a racial and social upheaval in Austria-Hungary, was expressed by Sir George Reid, former premier of Australia, in an address here today. "I think the drive on Italy one of the worst disasters of the war," he said, "and but for it there would have been a quick end to all trouble. Austria was crumbling and Germany had to summon all her power to hold her ally on her feet."

TEDDY DEMANDS MORE ACTION

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt, in an address tonight declared that to "make the world saf for democracy" demands an immediate declaration of war by the United States against Austria and Turkey. He urged that the States take some action towards establishing a permanent policy of preparedness and compared the pacificists and pro-Germans to the disintegrating forces in Russia.

CALGARY'S SHARE

Calgary, Nov. 16.—Calgary's total subscriptions to the Victory Loan last night reached $1,056,550. Yesterday's total was $221,150, subscribed by 1,077 firms and individuals.

TRY TO BURN TABERNACLE

Victoria, Nov. 15.—An attempt to burn down a wooden tabernacle capable of seating 3500 people, in which Dr. French Oliver, a revivalist has been conducting a series of meetings, was discovered shortly after midnight last night. The flames were well under way at the rear end of the structure when the fire department arrived and extinguished them. The fire chief describes the outbreak as of incendiary origin. A threat was made some weeks ago anonymously, that the structure was doomed.

Mr. George S. Hougham, secretary of the Nanaimo Retail Merchants' Association, has resigned his position to accept the appointment of Provincial organizer of the B. C. Retail Merchants' Association. Mr. Hougham's resignation was received by the associaton at a meeting held Thursday evening.

Sorrowing relatives last evening brought over from Vancouver the remains of the late James F. Nicholson for burial in the Nanaimo cemetery. The body now lies at McAdie's undertaking parlors, but at noon today will be removed to the family residence, Milton Street, from whence the funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

NO DIRECT NEWS FROM PETROGRAD

Bolshevki Is Still in Control in Petrograd—Kerensky Is the Victor in Moscow.

London, Nov. 16.—Communication with Petrograd has been resumed, but no direct news has been received from the capital. The Bolsheviki are still in control in Petrograd, while Premier Kerensky's troops are reported to be in flight and, again, to be marching on the Bolsheviki stronghold. Efforts of the Socialists to arrange a settlement with the Bolsheviki and to bring about a new Coalition Government have failed. Other reports say that the Maximalist leaders, Lenine and Trotsky, are losing their popularity.

The Bolsheviki in Moscow are reported to have been defeated completely in street fighting, which claimed 2,000 lives. Heavy fighting has occurred at Kiev, where the Cossacks were said to have arrived several days ago.

London, Nov. 16.—According to official circles here, the latest news from Russia is a message from the British Minister dated Petrograd, Tuesday, via Haparanda, and received last evening. It reports "all well here."

Another message from Haparanda reports a certain amount of guerilla warfare in Petrograd and declared the city was in control of the Bolsheviki, whose soldiers were without officers. The telegraph and telephone offices had been wrecked the message added.

The Russian Embassy here is with out news from Russia.

ON WAY TO PARIS

Paris, Nov. 16.—Nikolai P. Pachitch, the Serbian premier, according to a Havre dispatch from Corfu, left there yesterday for Paris to take part in the Allied conference.

UNION LABOR IS LOYAL TO FLAG

Buffalo, Nov. 16.—A plea from the farmers for close co-operation with other branches of the nation's industries to the end that victory over autocracy might be sooner achieved and reports from two great labor organizations in the British Empire, stating that union labor there still faces the enemy determined and confident of victory, brought cheers from the delegates attending today's session of the 37th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. It was another day devoted entirely to oratory, but the delegates appeared willing to defer the heavy work of the convention to go on with speech-making.

OPEN FLOODGATES TO SAVE VENICE

Enemy Faces Insuperable Obstacle in Region of Mouth of the Piave—Teutons Are Repulsed.

London, Nov. 16.—Embattled for the protection of Venice and Lombardy, the Italians have opened the floodgates of the Piave and Sile Rivers northeast of Venice to keep in check the Austro-German force which crossed the Piave near Grisolera. In making this move to inundate the triangle whose apex is near San Dona di Piave, the Italians hope to prevent any enemy movement to flank the right wing of the Italian army along the Piave.

Near the Adriatic the Piave and Sile Rivers are contained in a canal running through land at or below sea level and which stretches for several miles along the Adriatic from the Venetian lagoon. With the rivers allowed to flom unchecked, it would appear that Austro-German operations in that region would be barren of results.

In the mountains between Asiago and the Piave, the great pressure of the invaders has not brought great results. On the Asiago plateau the Italians are straightening out their line gradually and it is there that the Austro-Germans have progressed slightly. These gains, however, apparently have not been of great strategic value and the danger of the Piave line being outflanked, although still present, probably has not become serious enough to cause any changes in the Italian plans. The Teuton pressure between the Sugana Valley and the Piave is very strong, but the Italians have been able to check violent attacks at various points along the sector.

Fresh Austro-German attempts to cross the Piave have been rendered futile by the Italian defence. The Italians are holding in check those troops which crossed near Zenson and in the marshy land near the Piave the invaders were unable to make any progress in the face of the Italian counter attacks and artillery fire previous to the opening of the floodgates.

The greater portion of the populace of Venice has left that city from which all portable art treasures also have been removed. The city, which is now but a scant seventeen miles from the battleline, may not be defended in the event of attack, in order to spare the monuments and art treasures that remain there.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 15, via Rome and London, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The floodgates of the Piave River and Silè or old Piave River, have been opened by Italian military engineers and the enemy is now faced by another Yser inundation.

The flood was loosed at the point where the enemy succeeded in crossing the Piave near Grisolera, four miles from the coast, and the whole region where he gained lodgment is now under water. The inundated territory forms a huge triangle about 12 miles on each side, with the apex at Dona di Piave.

The enemy had been driven back but still held on within this triangle until the dykes from both rivers released the water over the low-lying plain.

The chief menace at that point was that the enemy might be able to approach Venice through the lagoon or bombard the city from his position between the rivers. The inundation imposes a barrier of water 12 miles across and several feet deep.

Reports which have reached headquarters from other points on the front also are favorable.

Owing to the inability of representatives of the Pilot Boards of Vancouver Victoria and New Westminster to be present, the conference which was to have been held in this city on Tuesday evening next has been postponed to a date to be arranged later on.

DOMINION THEATRE

In addition to the regular programme comprising the five reel feature Vivian Martin in "The Sunset Trail," and the Mack Sennett two reel comedy "A Bedroom Blunder," the Dominion will offer to-day the special reel of film for the Win-The War and Victory Loan efforts and shown in every motion picture house in Canada. It is unique and should be seen to be appreciated. All Canadian exhibitors are showing this gratis.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 16.—Patrick Donnelly received the nomination tonight at the hands of Unionist-Liberals for Burrard Centre.

FIVE THOUSAND OVER THE MARK

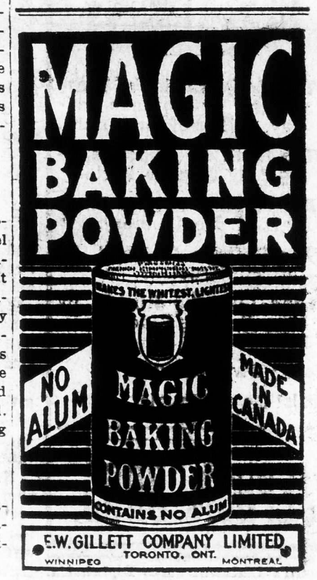
The official figures of Nanaimo's Victory Loan campaign now stand at $105,000, and wth the closing of the first week of the big drive today the committee expect to pass the half way mark in the effort to raise a quarter million dollars in Nanaimo.

On Monday evening at 8:30, the salesmen and committee connected with the local campaign will hold a meeting to discuss matters in connection with the week's program, the meeting taking the form of a supper in the Oddfellows' Hall served by members of the local Red Cross Club. Every person connected with the campaign is invited to attend and partake of the supper for important matters in connection with the compaign will be considered and the plans for the week mapped out.

Subscriptions to the Victory Loan as reported from all parts of Canada up to noon yesterday totalled $55-725,000. according to very incomplete returns received at Dominion headquarters in Toronto. The Ontario provincial area so far reported remains at the same figure as last night, $33,365,150. Other provincial totals up to noon were: Quebec, $6,817,50; Manitoba, $5,480,000; Saskatchewan, $1,985,400; Alberta, $1,632,350; British Columbia, $1,-233,900; Nova Scotia, $2,997,150; New Brunswick, $622,720; Prince Edward Island, $152,455.

HUN SOCIALISTS DEMAND PEACE



London, Nov. 16.—The Independent Socialist group in the German Reichstag has requested the President to convoke an immediate session of the Reichstag to discuss the peace offer of Nikolai Lenine, leader of the Russian Boisheviki, the Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News cables.

The Independent Socialists also ask that the Reichstag take up consideration of the new state of affairs as regards Courland, Lithuania and Poland.

No word has come of a peace offer by the Bolsheviki to Germany, although telegraphic communication with the United Kingdom and America has been stopped for nearly a week. The programme of the Bolsheviki calls for an armistice, but it is understood their purpose is to address their proposals to all the belligerents and not to arrange a separate peace with Germany.

Majority Socialists

Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—The German majority Socialists, not to be outdone by the Radical Socialists, have issued an appeal urging the greatest activity in holding meetings to proclaim solidarty with their Russian colleagues in a demand for an immediate armistice and a speedy peace. This will be made a special note at meetings held in accordance with the resolution adopted at the party's convention at Wurzburg to demonstrate for peace without annexations or indemnities.

Hacking Coughs

For hacking coughs—the kind that make your throat sore and your head ache, that rob you of your sleep until you are so run down that you are in danger of pneumonia or consumption—take

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, stops the tickling in the throat, and by its tonic effects helps you to throw off the disease.

Chamberlain's is quite different from the ordinary cough medicine, for it not only soothes but also heals, restores the affected parts to a healthy condition. I believe it is the best and most reliable preparation ever produced for coughs and colds.

Yours for Health,
—Granny Chamberlain

GERMAN PROPAGANDA

Russia's failure in the war, and the hopeless chaos now existing in that country, are very largely the result of German propaganda. It is now admitted that the Italian army and the Italian people were attacked by the same means before the German guns began to thunder on the Isonzo front. The use of spies and sedition-mongers is a strong part of German war policy. It succeeded in Russia because it was not met and fought by the Allies as it ought to have been, and it succeeded to some extent against Italy because its gravity and importance were not realised. Premier Lloyd George has warned the British people that the same propaganda is being carried on in all the Allied countries. Germany has her agents at work in Britain, in France, and in Italy, and they are here in Canada as they are everywhere in the United States. Money is no object with Germany in this work. The German policy and the German aim is to cause dissatisfaction with the war, and to dampen the naton's spirit. No possible means of causing trouble is overlooked, nor of hampering the country's war efforts. There is only one way of dealing with this peril, and up to the present the government has been lamentably weak in the action it has taken. If sedition had been dealt with as it ought to have been from the beginning of the war, Canada would have had fewer difficulties to dispose of today, and would have been free from the disgrace of junketing politicians playing Germany's game.

EXPLANATION WANTED

The Socialists of Canada are crying down militarism. One of them speaking in Victoria the other night in support of the nomination of a comrade, declared that he was opposed to militarism in all its forms, for the reason that where militarism has planted its feet away have gone the rights of the people. This is just the reason that Canada and the Empire is at war. The world was threatened by Prussian militarism, and this is the only issue in the war. Will the Socialists, who will not lift a hand against German militarism, explain what would have happened if everybody else had been of the same mind ?

NORTHCLIFFE AGAIN

Lord Northcliffe is back on the job again. It was generally conceded to be one of the shrewdest moves ever made by Lloyd George when he appointed Lord Northcliffe the head of the British Mission in the United States. So long as Northcliffe remained in America, the Premier had reason to think that his government would be free from attack. In the last analysis it was Northcliffe who made Lloyd George Premier, and by methods more in keeping with the record of Harmsworth journalism, than with the traditions of British statesmen. It was, therefore, both a sound and a smart move to load Northcliffe with honors, and send him as far away from England as possible. Unfortunately for the Premier, Northcliffe has returned to England, and his first act is to announce that things have not been carried on to suit him by the government in his absence. The Premier, it seems, tried to avert the avalanche. He offered Northcliffe the head of an important new administration, but the great newspaper dictator refused to swallow the bait, tempting as it was. He will not be gagged a second time, and there is surely trouble ahead for the British government. The only thing for the Premier to do now is to take in Northcliffe as a partner in the dictatorship he has succeeded in getting for himself, not only in the United Kingdom, but practically in western Europe. The Premier could take in hand the Inter-Allied Conferences, while Northcliffe could take the government in hand at home. Then we could all sing the old song with new gusto "Now We Shan't Be Long."

COMMUNICATION

Dear Mr. Editor: . . . . . .

I have neither the time nor the inclination to enter into a wordy warfare with the editor in chief of the Free Press, but propose with your kind permission to briefly reply to the vitriolic attack he has thought fit to launch against me. A saying of some significance in English parliamentary circles has reference to the house of Cecil, and is to this effect that "if you scratch a Cecil you produce a bounder." I am not aware that my worthy friend is connected by family ties with this branch of English aristocracy, but he certainly has shown the unmistakable qualifications of a bounder.

It is not, according to my conception of "playing the game" to revert to personalities or exhibit what "men" regard as bad form, i.e. peevishness, neither do I marshal the ladies as a protecting bodyguard when engaged in a fight. "Play the game, my worthy friend; play the game."

It is a matter of amusement to me and adds a little spice to life for the Free Press editor to imagine that I am in the habit of feeling ashamed or annoyed at myself for espousing and affirming a principle which is held by all those who have the best interests of their country at heart, namely, equality of service, equality in giving and equality of sacrifice, if striving for these attainments bring shame upon me I feel proud to bear that shame.

No one is more conscious of my shortcomings than I am myself, nevertheless, I strive to do my duty fearlessly according to the dictates of my own conscience and venture to hope that when the time arrives for Nanaimo to consider the record I leave behind it will compare very favorably with that of my friend, the editor of the Free Press.

I have no need to add anything to my statement which appeared in yesterday's issue of your paper which will, I feel sure, have the backing and endorsation of most of my colleagues who are charged with the administration of the work of the Patriotic Fund.

I thank you again for the further use of your columns upon a matter in which I have now stated my final word.

Yours very truly,
J. C. DAKIN.

"Her Money Troubles"—They get more vexatious as the cost of foods climbs skyward. Meat, eggs and vegetables are almost beyond the family purse. Happy is the housewife who knows Shredded Wheat, its low cost and its high food value. A better balanced ration than meat or eggs and costs much less. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream make a complete, perfect meal, supplying all the nutriment needed for a half day's work at a cost of a few cents. Delicious for any meal with milk or cream, or with fresh or stewed fruits. Made in Canada.

Hurrah! How's This

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callous.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

WINNIPEG ATHLETES IN CASUALTY LISTS

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 16.—A noted Winnipeg athlete has made the supreme sacrifice in France. Sergt. Mathew Webb, who figured prominently in hockey and rugby before going overseas, has been reported killed in action. Still another star athlete is on the casualty list in the name of Sergt. Frank Morton, who was wounded on Oct. 27th. He figured in senior hockey and baseball circles.

WAUGH FOULED BY JOE RIVERS

Silver City, N.M., Nov. 16.—Bobby Waugh, lightweight boxer of Dallas, was given the decision on a foul in the thirteenth round of a scheduled 20-round bout with Joe Rivers, of Los Angeles, here last night. Rivers who was badly punished in this round, struck Waugh in the groin with his knee.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOU HAIR.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few week's use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Wnowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter for a few cents.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid. Deputy Minister of the Interior.

ENEMY GUN POSITIONS ARE BEING BATTERED

London, Nov. 16, via Reuter's Ottawa Agency. — Telegraphing from British Headquarters in France, Reuter's correspondent last night said:

"An extremely violent artillery battle rages in the Passchendaele area. The enemy has been shelling for the past two days with the utmost violence the advanced lines of the Canadians, but if the Germans have been shelling heavly, our shelling has been heavier. Wounded Canadians speak of our artillery work with the greatest admiration, and say whenever they have been threatened in an infantry attack our artillery has set down a curtain of fire, sweeping the ground so thoroughly that no infantry could live. Moreover, under our counter battery work the German gun positions are growing more and more difficult to maintain. It is doubtful if a more fierce and more concentrated artillery duel has ever been seen on this front.

STANFIELD'S

Unshrinkable UNDERWEAR

Owes its Popularity to the Very Best of Wool

Of the kinds of wool needed for the favorite lines of Stanfield's Underwear, we are the largest purchasers in Canada. This gives us command of the market, so that we are able to secure just what we want in weight and length of fibre—in fact, we get the pick of the kind of wool best suited to the many different weights and classes of Stanfield's Underwear.

Our practice is to buy our wool supply months ahead of requirements. This gives plenty of time to grade it accurately and clean it thoroughly. During the cleaning, and before it goes to the machines to be spun and knitted, a secret Stanfield's process takes the "shrink" out of the wool.

Made up into garments, this wool is delightfully soft, and so strong and durable that Stanfield's actually costs less per year of wear than the cheaper, less comfortable kinds. 18

For the growing child, Stanfield's new Adjustable Combinations and Adjustable Sleepers (with feet) are simply perfect. By moving the waist buttons each combination or sleeper can be kept just the right length till it is worn out, and the lower part of the garment can be quickly removed.

Lemon Juice is Skin Beautifier, Also a Whitener

Many women use just the juice of lemons to bleach or whiten the skin, but pure lemon juice is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it? Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to bring back to any skin the whiteness, the sweet freshness and flexibility of which it has been robbed by carelessness or trying atmospheric conditions.

RHONDDA WILL ENTER WHOLESALE TEA TRADE

Edinburgh Nov. 16.—Baron Rhondda, the food controller, in an address here yesterday, said that although the country rejoiced over the small number of ships sunk by German submarines last week, the seriousness of the food situation had not diminished. The speaker said he intended buying all stocks of tea in India and Ceylon, and selling them here at cost.

He added he also was going to provide cheaper milk for expectant and nursing mothers and for children, at the cost of the state.

RUNNER'S SON DEAD

Followers of long distance runners and admirers of Edouard Fabre, Canadian and American champion, will regret to hear of the death of his 15-year-old son, who, small as he was, already promised to make a mighty runner like his father. Emile Lefebvre, the father's trainer, deeply mourns the boy's death, as he prophesied a great career for him.

HUN AIRMEN RAIDED FRANCE

Paris, Nov. 15.—"French reconnoitring parties in the region of the Ailette took prisoners," says an official statement issued here this afternoon. "The night was calm except in the region of Caurieres (Verdun front), where a heavy bombardment is being carried on.

"On Tuesday four German aeroplanes were brought down by our pilots and four others fell disabled within the enemy lines. Our aviators made a number of effective raids Many projectiles were dropped on various enemy depots and cantonments in the region of Mulhausen. German aviators carried out a violent bombardment on Tuesday night in the region of Calais. It is reported there were a number of victims among the civilian population."

JAMES B. McVEY DEAD.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—The death is announced of James B. McVey, one of the great Shamrock lacrosse players of two decades ago. He played on the home, and did much to win the championship in October, 1892, which was one of the most brilliant years the Shamrocks ever had. He was one of the most popular players on the team because he never lost his temper and never was ruled off for assault.

HARRY LAUDER'S LOVE FOR FRANCE

Harry Lauder was one of the speakers at a luncheon recently to a distinguished French editor, Mr. Stephane Lauzanne in London. He surprised his hearers by the simple pathos, as well as by the trumpet-like patriotism of his address. In closing he turned to Mr. Lauzanne, and said: "I am one of those who love France. I own a little corner of your country. It is a small spot, lying on the crest of one of her green hills, back of the battle lines. My son is there buried in the sacred soil, which has always nutured human liberty. All of the gladness of my life is buried there in his grave.

Greater Love Hath No Man Than This

Half hidden in the files of the London Gazette, where it is set forth with all the ponderousness of official language, is a story of self-sacrifice that stands out pre-eminently, even in this age of deeds of superlative courage and superchivalry.

The record is contained in the announcement of the award of the Albert Medal of the First Class to Lance-Corporal Charles Henry Anderson, late of the 1-14th Battalion of the London Regiment, who lost his life in France in November last. The official narrative is as follows.—On November 28, 1916, Lance-Corporal Anderson was in a hut in France, with eleven other men, when, accidentally, the safety-pin was withdrawn from a bomb. In the semi-darkness he shouted a warning to the men, rushed to the door, and endeavored to open it so as to throw the bomb into a field.

Failing to do this, when he judged that the five seconds during which the fuse was timed to burn had elapsed, he held the bomb as close to his body as possible with both hands in order to screen the other men in the hut. Anderson himself and one other man were mortally wounded by the explosion, and five men were injured. The remaining five escaped unhurt. Anderson sacrificed his life to save his comrades.

When history opens the purple testament of bleeding war ....

every man and woman who has played a part will bear a record.

Your name may not be writ among those of the immortals—

But for honour's sake—for the sake of men like Anderson—see to it that it is writ on the Scroll with those who at least placed their money at the service of their country.

Shall it be said that Canada spares not her sons from the sacrifice of death, yet withholds her dollars needed to give them victory?

BUYING A DIAMOND

It's not an every day business transaction, hence more than ordinary care should be exercised in buying as so very few people other than experts know the value of precious stones.

The only logical, sensible thing then to do is to seek a jewelry house which has an established reputation of knowing its business and is jealous of its good name.

We sell Diamonds "On Honor"—we can't say more with due modesty except to add our prices are fairly based upon the actual value of each stone.

Our $25.00 to $30.00 Diamond Rings are good examples of Harding's values.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SUNDAY, NOV. 18, 1917. NUMBER 221.

ITALY'S ARMIES ARE MAKING HEROIC DEFENCE

Despite Repeated Desperate Assaults by Germans the Italian Line on the Piave River has Not Been Breached at Any Point—Italian Resistance is Proving Stronger Daily—British Recorded Further Gains.

London, Nov. 17.—Italy's armies are making a heroic and so far successful stand against the Austro-German masses thrown against them in desperate attacks along the line of the Piave river and in the mountainous region from the Piave westward to the edge of the Trentino district. The river line has not been breached at any point while the thrust of the Austrians southward from the hills in an attempt to drive a wedge through to the plains behind the Piave is making slow progress. It is now more than a week since the Italians retreating from the Tagliamento crossed to the west bank of the Piave and took up their different positions behind it. The German commander lost no time in attempting to force a passage of the stream and enemy efforts were pressed on a scale of increasing intensity during all last week.

Italian resistance however, seems to be growing stronger, rather than the opposite. The latest Austro-German attempts to gain a permanent hold on the westerly side of the Piave were not only brilliantly frustrated, but the enemy columns were badly cut up, and nearly one thousand Teutons were taken prisoners. These attacks on the river were delivered just above the Zenson loop, where the invaders first effected a crossing and were hemmed in from the start. They were steadily being driven here into an increasingly restricted zone, the Rome War Office now announces.

Near the Adriatic a water barrier to any Austro-German advance toward Venice, was raised by the opening of flood gates into the Sampy region, which is being reinforced by work of the army, artillery and the guns of the Italian war ships on the Adriatic. The Italian line has yielded slightly in the hills east of Brent, where tthe capture of Monte Prassolan by the Austro-German forces, is announced by Berlin. No further advances for the attacking forces in the mountain region northeast of Asiago are claimed.

Military operations in other war theatres were on a comparatively small scale. The most important move was made in Flanders by the British who pushed further north on the Goeburg spur, northwest of Passchendaele, and captured a strongly fortified redoubt known as Vocation farm, and so improving their positions in this sector as to make the line across the Passchendaele ridge easier to hold.

In Palestine British forces which recently have made so spectacular an advance up the Mediterranean coast to the neighborhood of Jaffa are still moving forward, but apparently feeling their way with some caution. The Turks are givng signs of maning a stand a few miles north of Jaffa, where they are reported attempting to prepare an entrenched position.

In the sector of the French front held by American troops there has been increased activity by the artillery, incidental to which there have been additions to the American casualty list, some of which occurred when a German shell hit an American gun. The American batteries have been energetic in their reply.

On the naval side of the war there is an interesting development in the North Sea, where British light forces operating near Heligoland encountered and engaged German light cruisers on Saturday morning. The British Admiralty reported in an early statement that the Germans made off at high speed with the British vessels in pursuit.

From Russia the latest dispatches report Premier Kerensky in flight, his whereabouts unknown in Petrograd, after having been defeated by the Bolsheviki and deserted by a greater part of his own officers and men. One report attributes the Premier's defeat to the intervention of Lettish forces, 30,000 strong on the side of the Bolsheviki. The Bolsheviki are also apparently in control of Moscow, where the Provisional Government's forces are reported penned within the Kremlin under artillery bombardment.

Unconfirmed reports says the bombardment was followed by the arrangement of a truce between the hostile factions.

HEADING FOR $200.000 MARK

Up to Last Night Nanaimoites Had Purchased Nearly $140,000 Worth of Victory Bonds.

Nanaimo started out to raise $250,000 for the Victory Loan and the local campaign committee adopted "A Quarter of a Million for Nanaimo" as its slogan. The campaign had three weeks to run, yet with only one-third of the period gone the half-way mark has been passed. The Indicator is now standing at $130,000, but as a matter of fact the secretary's records at the close of business last night showed total sales of $138,550.00.

Chairman J. M. Rudd and his committee are highly pleased with the week's showing and now feel confident of reaching the goal set out for at the opening of the campaign. There will be no let up in the campaign this week, but on the other hand added zeal will be put into the drive with the object of leaving but little of the quarter million to secure druing the closing week. The question is now, not can Nanaimo raise a quarter of a million dollars for the Loan, but how far beyond that figure will the sale of Victory Bonds go. The drive has but only began and this week should see not only a few large purchases of bonds, but hundreds of small investments by the public at large.

On Monday evening at 6:30, the salesmen and committee connected with the local campaign will hold a meeting to discuss matters in connection with the week's program, the meeting taking the form of a supper in the Oddfellows' Hall service [illegible] of the local Red Cross Club. Every person connected with the campaign is invited to attend and partake of the supper for important matters in connection with the campaign will be considered and the plans for the week mapped out.

A dance will be held under the auspices of local 872, U.M.W.A., in Richards' Hall, South Wellington, on Wednesday, Nov. 21, commencing 9 p.m. Gents 75 cents, including tax. Ladies pay tax, 5c. 3t

SOCIALISTS IN FULL CONTROL

Finland Controlled by Socialists Who Are Supported by Armed Workers and Russian Bolsheviki Soldiers—Heavy Fighting in Moscow.

London, Nov. 17.—A dispatch today from Petrograd to Reuters Limited, says:

"News from Moscow is so contradictory that it is impossible to say whether the casualties there are hundreds or thousands in number. The Petrograd Maximalists have announced the sending of detachments of sailors, soldiers and Red Guard to Moscow to hasten victory for the Moscow proletariat and the garrison.

"A lull now is reported in Moscow after fighting that lasted a week, and involved most of the city. There was a constant bombardment by cannon and machine guns of the Kremlin and the town hall which are the chief strongholds of the military cadets and other adherents of the Provisional Government. Many shells burst in private houses and sarted fires. The latest reports say that three-quarters of Moscow is in the hands of the Maximalists."

Stockholm, Nov. 17.—Advices received here from Finland say that the entire country is in control of the Socialists who are supported by armed workers and Russian Bolsheviki soldiers. Only the trains carrying provisions are permitted to operate. The Revolutionists have instituted a strict censorship over the telegraph lines."

KERENSKY IS IN FULL FLIGHT

London, Nov. 17.—Defeated in battle by the Bolshevki and deserted by most of his officers and men, Premier Kerensky is in flight, and his whereabouts are unknown in Petrograd. The head of Russia's Provisional Government was aboutt to surrender to the Maximalists under coercion when he disappeared.

In Moscow the tide apparently has turned and the Bolsheviki are in control of the ancient Russian capital, with the forces of the Provisional Government besieged in the Kremlin. One report says heavy artillery is being used against the historic walls. Another declares a truce between the Government and Bolsheviki troops has been arranged. Between 2,000 and 5,000 persons have been killed in Moscow since the outbreak of the revolt. Gen. Kaledines, leader of the Cossacks, is reported approaching the city with relief for the Kerensky forces. A third armed force supposed to be composed of released convicts is said to be fighting both Bolsheviki and Government troops.

A traveler returning from the Caucasus reports that while conditions in most provinces are not abnormal, there is no sympathy with Kerensky. He believes that the Russian people want a leader who will maintain authority and order. The Cossacks in Kuban, Astrakan and the Don region have united and formed their own government.

Petrograd, Nov. 16.—Noon.—Via London, Nov. 17.—Deserted by most of his officers and virtually ordered to surrender tto he Bolsheviki, Premier Kerensky evaded the guards sent for him and has disappeared.

General Krasnoff, former commander under Premier Kerensky and who was arrested with other members of the Premier's staff, has been released on the ground that he was only obeying the orders of his superior. General Krasnoff's report concerning the disappearance of M. Kerensky confirms the statement that he fled in disguise.

Premier Kerensky, who was told that his officers were against him, and that his men were on the point of deserting, agreed to come to Petrograd, but while a guard was being arranged he dropped out of sight.

"At 3 o'clock on the afternoon of November 14, I called at the quarters of the Commander-in-Chief," said General Krasnoff. "He appeared nervous and excited.

" 'General," he said, 'you have betrayed me. Your Cossacks say they will arrest me and give me up to the sailors.' "

GERMANS FORCED TO GIVE GROUND

Successful Operations Carried Out by British Force North-West of Passchendaele on on the Goeburg Spur—Number of Prisoners Captured.

British Front in Belguim (by Associated Press) Nov. 17.—During last night the British carried out small, successful operations northwest of Passchendaele on the Goeberg spur by which they advanced a section of their line and forced the Germans to give up Vocation Farm, a strongly fortifed redoubt which has been the scene of bitter fighting recently. The attack was delivered on a very narrow front for the purpose of improving British positions so as to make the present line across the Passchendaele ridge more easily held.

Vocation Farm which was heavily equipped with machine guns, had been giving the British much trouble in the past few days.

A number of prisoners were captured in the operation

London, Nov. 17.—In Flanders last evening, in the Passchendaele area, British troops carried out a successful operation, taking more of the valuable ground on the main ridge north of the village. They effected a slight advance as well as in the difficult low lying terrain sloping off to the west.

"A successful operation was carried out late yesterday by detachments from Highland Berkshire and Lanchashire battalions in the village of Passchendaele. Further portions of the enemy's defences on the main ridge north of the village, including a strongly fortified farm, were captured by us. We also took a number of prisoners.

"West of this locality also we have advanced our line slightly at certain points.

"The enemy's artillery again was active throughout the night on the battlefront. The German shelling has been particularly severe in the Passchendaele sector."

Paris, Nov. 17.—"There were active artillery engagements last night north of Courtecon," says an official communication issued here this afternoon.

"We repulsed an enemy detachment which attempted to approach our lines n this region, inflicting serious losses on it. Raids on German trenches southeast of St. Quentin, in the Champagne east of Teton, and in the Woevre enabled us to bring back prisoners, including one officer and war materials. In the upper Alsace the artillery fighting was rather heavy at Schonholz. Everywhere else the night passed in quiet."

With the American Army in France, Nov. 16, via London, Nov. 17—(By the Associated Press)—The artillery fighting in the sector held by American troops has become even more lively, and there have been further casualties, shrapnel wounding some men in the trenches. An enemy shell hit an American gun today and caused casualties. Some of the men wounded in the last two days have died.

Mr. Walter Baxter left on theCharmer yesterday afternoon to spend the week-end in Vancouver.

The first rehearsal for the production of "The Messiah" will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church directly after the evening's service. Over fifty people have already promised to attend and the conductor, Mr. A. Dunsmore wishes to extend an invitation to any other singers who would like to take part in the performance of this great oratorio.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Filmer arrived in the city last evening from the prairies. They will again take up their residence here, Mr. Filmer having accepted a position with the George A. Beattie Printing Co.

INFORMATION WANTED.

A short time ago, as was announced in the local press Messrs. Lambert Bros. opened out a new industry for this coast. The new industry was the breeding of black foxes and milk goats. Realising that the success of the enterprise depended upon a proper location, Lambert Bros. acquired two islands near to Lasqueti Island, and there began their breeding ranch. The advantages of ranching on the Islands lay in the fact that the necessity of any fencing was obviated, while the risk of trespassing and the raiding of the stock was reduced to a minimum. The proprietors of the ranch also went to the trouble and expense of putting up numerous signs warning off trespassers, but in spite of everything they have done some one landed on one of the islands the other night and shot a valuable goat. It was just to get away from the possibility of such a thing that the Lamberts went to these islands, and, thinking they were secure against raiders, invested thousands of dollars in stocking and equipping their ranch. Such depredattions as this naturally imperil the success of the whole enterprise. The Lambert Bros., in this issue of the Herald, are offering a reward of three hundred dollars cash to any one who can give information which will lead to the arrest of the raider, and we can only hope that the guilty party or parties will be rounded up.

THE MILITARY ACT

No instructions have yet been received locally from Ottawa as to the action to be taken against men who have refused to register. The government cannot afford to show any weakness in this matter. They have to consider, not the men who refused to register, but the men who, obedient to the provisions of the Military Service Act, duly registered. It would be in the highest degree unfair to these men if the government should hesitate to carry out the act in its entirety. Unless a man can offer a good and satisfactory reason for failing to register within the time set by the act, then he is not entitled to any consideration. In this district and in Victoria nothing has been done in the matter owing to the absence of instructions from the Militia Department. In Vancouver, on the other hand, a number of men have been arrested, and military police are on the track of all delinquents. It is obvious that the same lines of procedure should be followed in all exemption tribunals. There is a tremendous difference in the percentage of exemptions allowed in different cities and districts, and the result is bound to be a lot of bitter dissatisfaction. The sooner the authorities take a firm stand in the administration of the act the better it will be for everybody concerned.

THE BLESSING OF A HEALTHY BODY

Has Not Had An Hour's Sickness Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MR. MARRIOTT
August 9th, 1915.

"I think it my duty to tell you what "Fruit-a-tives" has done for me. Three years ago, I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having read of "Fruit-a-tives", I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 3½ years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using "Fruit-a-tives", and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain".

DOMINION THEATRE

Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." Here is an announcement that should pack the Dominion on Monday and Tuesday for every performance.

Mary Pickford, the queen of the film world, in what has been characterized by many eminent critics as the sweetest story of girlhood ever written. "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," as a romance, is famous the world over, having been translated into every European language. As a play, its success was simply enormous, and now it comes to us as the most delightful of photo plays interpreted by the idol of the screen. Do not miss it even at the cost of sacrificing some other engagement. In spite of the unusual attraction there will be no advance in the regular prices.

Picton, U. S.; Nov. 17.—The body of County Court Judge Morrison was discovered in the Bay of Quinte this morning.

Judge Morrson had been in failing health for the last year. He left his home at 3 o'clock in the morning for a walk in the open air. It is presumed he lost his way and walked off the pier.

HOLDING UP FOOD

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—The closing of the Italy-Swiss frontier, which has been in effect since the beginning of the Austro-German offensive against Italy, has held up 300 carloads of food for Switzerland, much of which is perishable, according to the Neue Zurich Zeitung. The newspaper advocates a new arrangement to permit freight to cross the frontier, even when passenger and mail traffic and telegraphic communications have been stopped.

INTERN LUTHERAN

Kitchener, Ont., Nov. 17.—Rev. H. S. Sherling, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran church for the last three years, coming here from Utica, N.Y., has been taken into custody by the Dominion police and will be interned until the end of the war.

He is alleged to have been aiding the enemy financially, but the officials are silent as to what methods he employed in doing so.

Owing to the breaking of a crank shaft on the hoisting engine at No. 1 mine yesterday, operations were suspended for the day. The break will be repaired so that operations may be resumed on Monday.

Among the passengers from Vancouver last evening on the S.S. Princess Alice were M. Scurr, J. H. Malpass, R. Wilson, Hy. Shepherd, Mrs. B. Bolster, Mrs. A. Cunningham, G. Thomas, D. McConvey, and James Wilkes.

The honey output in the Creston valley this year is 4,000 pounds.

A Good Fellow Falls for Pie

Or Anything Else a Good Cook Prepares. Ask Him Why and He Will Say "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"Hot Mince Pie! Fine, Fine; One of the Healthiest Things to Eat in the Whole List of Foods."

You can digest pie of any kind, eggs fried in pork fat, and lots of other so-called indigestible foods if you follow meals with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. And it is from such food you get the most food value, the greatest energy, the highest degree of nutrition. But whether you eat these plain dishes or prefer salads, rarebits, fancy pastry and the highly seasoned, special food it is all the same if you use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. They digest food. They do what the weak stomach can no longer accomplish alone.

Get a 50-cent box of these tablets at any drug store, then eat heartily and note how comfortable you feel.

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance.

Surrender of Bonds

Holders of Dominion of Canada Debenture Stock, due October 1st, 1919, and of bonds of the three preceding Dominion of Canada War Loan Issues, have the privilege of surrendering their bonds in part payment for subscriptions to bonds of this issue, under the following conditions:—

War Loan Bonds, due December 1st, 1925, at 97½ and Accrued Interest.

(The above will be accepted in part payment for bonds of any of the three maturities of this Issue.)

(These will be accepted in part payment for bonds of the 1937 maturity ONLY of this Issue.)

Bonds of the various maturities of this issue will, in the event of future issues of like maturity, or longer, made by the Government, other than issues made abroad, be accepted at par and accrued interest, as the equivalent of cash for the purpose of subscription to such issues.

Issue Price Par

Free from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on December 1st, 1917 — 20% on March 1st, 1918
10% on January 2nd, 1918 — 20% on April 1st, 1918
20% on February 1st, 1918 — 20% on May 1st, 1918

A full half year's interest will be paid on 1st June, 1918

5.61% on the 20 year Bonds
5.68% on the 10 year Bonds
5.81% on the 5 year Bonds

All payments are to be made to a Chartered Bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a Chartered Bank. Any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will forward subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied toward payment of the amount due on the January instalment.

Subscriptions may be paid in full on January 2nd, 1918, or on any instalment due date thereafter under discount at the rate of 5½% per annum. Under this provision payments of the balance of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid on January 2nd, 1918, at the rate of 89.10795 per $100.
If paid on February 1st, 1918, at the rate of 79.46959 per $100.
If paid on April 1st, 1918, at the rate of 39.90959 per $100.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank, or from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof.

The books of the Loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of this issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Subscription Lists will close on or before December 1st, 1917.

LLOYD GEORGE IN FIGHTING FORM

British Premier Defended Himself Against Attacks on His Administration — Made No Apologies and Gave no Hint of Apologetic Action.

London, Nov 19.—Premier Lloyd George defended himself in the House of Commons this morning against the first serious attack his ad- [illegible] as far as the Commons is concerned, his defence seemed highly successful, the Prime Minister's admirers called it a triumph.

The attack was forced upon two points as to the character of the War Council which the Premier announced in Paris and condemnation of the Allies' past strategy which he pronounced in his Paris speech.

Former Premier Asquith was the spokesman for the opposition. His speech was not in the tone of an attack, but sharp criticism of the new plan for Allied control of the war, and vindication of his own Government. It was keyed in much milder strain than the outburst from newspapers and sections of Liberal and Conservative parties which greeted the Premier on his return home.

The Welsh leader's reply was a characteristic, fighting speech of the type which has made hm famous. There was no thought of retraction for anything he had said or done, no hint of an apologetic strain which some expected for what had been called his Paris indiscretion. There were some passages which would have made old school parliamentarians steeped in Gladstonian traditions of stately courtesy wince, as when he said the attacks made him feel as if he were crossing the channel in a storm on a small destroyer. But Mr. Lloyd George always brings something of the touch of the stump speaker into the Commons and this gives him a stronger appeal to the greater audience outside. The Premier argued that the new body would co-ordinate the work of various staffs whereas under the old ar- [illegible] together only once a year for the purpose of settling strategy of Allies for the battle fronts extending over thousands of miles. He announced that Lord Kitchener had recommended such a council in January, 1915, and that the General Staff had proposed it in July this year.

Dwelling on the charges that the new arrangement was designed to take the control of operations from the hands of the military and put them in the hands of politicians, he declared that he had only twice overridden his military advisers, when he launched his program for making more guns than they said were needed, and when he placed the control of the building of railways behind the lines in the hands of a civilian, Sir Eric Geddes, and both decisions had proved successful.

FLED BEFORE BRITISH FLEET

London, Nov. 19.—An announcement made by the Admiralty yesterday, said:

"There is no further detailed information yet regarding the operations of our light cruisers in the Heligoland Bight yesterday beyond the fact that the enemy's light cruisers were chased by them to within 30 miles of Heligoland, until they got under the protection of their battle fleet and minefield when our light forces returned.

"One of the enemy's light cruisers was seen on fire. Another appeared damaged in her machinery, as she was dropping behind. One enemy minesweeper was sunk in addition.

"We had no losses and only slight material damage to our ships. Our casualties in personnel were slight."

Usual German Style

Amsterdam, Nov. 19—Strong British naval forces for the first time since early in the war attempted to break into the German Bight (Heligoland Bight) on Saturday morning, said a Berlin dispatch yesterday quoting a German official communication dated Saturday. The British were located by the German guard ships at Horn Reef on the Tereschelling line, about 60 miles out from Heligoland Island, and the advance German naval forces speedy counterthrusts easly repulsed them, it was declared without losses on the German side.

TEUTONS SWEPT FROM THE PIAVE

Italian Forces Have Captured Advanced Elements of Enemy Trenches on the Asiago Plateau.

Rome, Nov. 19.—Italain forces have begun an offensive on the Asiago Plateau and have occupied advanced elements of trenches, the War Office announces to-day.

Further attempts of the Austro-German troops to cross the Piave have been prevented.

[illegible] south of Quero, great numbers of Austro-German troops are attacking the Montre Monfenera and Montre Tomba lines. The statement reads:

Last night there was lively artillery activity between Lake Garda and the Astico.

"On the Asiago Pliteau the enemy made violent concentrations of fire on our positions at Monte Tonberecar and Monte Badenecche without following up with infantry attacks. Our parties in new offensive operations reoccupied advanced elements of trenches capturing six officers and 202 men.

"On the plains the vigilance of our troops has stopped the enemy from renewing any attempt whatsoever to cross the Piave.

"Among our troops the following deserve to be specifically mentioned again for valor shown during these last days: Bersaglieri battalions in the Fagare zone and the Granotieri and Catania Brigades at the Zenson loop.

"Enemy troops repeatedly were bombarded in the course of the day by our aeroplanes, and in the night in spite of a strong wind, by our airships at the basin of Primolano, to the northwest of Susegana and at Tehzedi Livenza."

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 18, via Rome and London, Nov. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The Austrian troops who forced their way across the Pave River above Zenson have been thrown [illegible] killed or captured until not an enemy remains on the west bank at that most threatened point. The fight was one of the most fearful chapters of the war and one of the most glorious.

Details of the fighting have been gathered from eyewitnesses who saw the fearful carnage through Friday night and yesterday, and who stayed until the whole west bank had been cleared except for the corpses on the shore and in the foreground. The wounded were so numerous that many have not yet received succor.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JAMES NICHOLSON SUNDAY

The funeral of the late James Nicholson, an old time resident of Nanaimo, who passed away in Vancouver on Thursday last, took place Sunday from the family residence, Milton street, the interment being made in the Nanaimo cemetery. The deceased was well and favorably known throughout the city and there was a large attendance at the funeral, the pall-bearers being Messrs. W. H. Morton, H. McAdie, W. Dee, A. Selventi, R. McKenzie, and Senator Planta.

The following floral tributes are gratefully acknowledged:

Pillow, The Family.

Wreaths, Mrs. Lobley and family, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hirst, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Matthews, Mr. E. Hunt, Mrs. C. Rowbottom.

Sprays, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jemson, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryant.

ITALIANS HOLDING THE LINE FIRM

London, Nov. 19.—While the Italians are holding the middle and lower reaches of the Piave River successfully against the Teutonic invaders, and have thrown back the greater portion of those who crossed the stream, the enemy is trying with strong forces to the north to beat back the troops of General Diaz, pierce his line and force its retirement westward from the region of Vidor to the Adriatic Sea. In this endeavor the invaders have captured several important points of vantage, notably the village of Quero and Monte Cornelle and compelled the Italians under heavy bombardment to evacuate their strongly fortified position on Monte Tomba, almost the last stronghold barring the way to the northern edge of the Venetian plains. Their captures are reported by the German War Office, but that admission had been made previously by Rome, that the enemy was attacking in this region with heavy effectives, doubtless among them reinforcements which it had been known for several weeks they were hurrying southward. The Germans announced also the taking of 1100 prisoners during the fighting.

Nothing yet has been heard of the arrival of the British and French reinforcements to aid the Italians. All enemy forces which last week crossed the Piave River near Zenson have been swept clear of the western bank in a brilliant attack by the Italians. Large numbers of them met death along the eastern bank or were doomed in their hurried attempts to ford the stream.

No infantry action of importance has taken place along the western front in Belgium and France, but indications point to another attack by Field Marshal Haig in Flanders, and possibly by General Petain's forces near Verdun. On both sectors extremely heavy bombardmentts are in progress.

While the Bolsheviki elements in Russia are threatening to make peace of their own terms and thence forth remain neutral in the war dispatches from Petrograd are to the effect that the German Emperor has made it known that he will negotiate for peace only with a successor to the Imperial Russian Government or with the Russian Constituent Assembly.

NANAIMO'S TOTAL CLIMBING FAST

At the close of business last night Nanaimo's total sales of Victory Bonds reached $160,000, and Chairman Rudd and his corps of assistants and salesmen are out today to boost the total to over the $175,000 mark. Last evening the members of the Campaign committee met at luncheon provided by the ladies of the Red Cross Club and discussed matters in connection with this week's campaign and plans for the closing days of the drive which it is expected will not only succeed in raising a quarter of a million dollars in Nanaimo, but going considerably beyond that figure.

PTE. F. THOMAS WAS GASSED IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, of Wellington, are in receipt of the following letter from their son F. Thomas who left here with the 103rd Battalion, being transferred to another unit after reaching France. He writes:

Just a word or two to let you know how I am going along. Well, I got a touch of gas since I wrote last, which made me feel rocky for a few days, but I am all O.K. and smiling now. I got a letter from sister yesterday, dated Sept. 13th, and was very glad to hear you were all well and hope this wil find you still the same. I cannot understand why you are not hearing from me, for I wrote fairly often, certainly I haven't missed anything like two months without writing.

Well, we are having rather a hot time here now, and our good weather is gone—I fear for this year. It begins to feel like winter, and we are getting quite a lot of wet weather, also plenty of mud. Still we don't have too bad a time of it considering the size of the war that is going on, but I shall be glad when it is over. Well, goodbye for now.

With love, from son,

F. C. THOMAS.

GENERAL MAUDE DEAD

London, Nov. 19.—An official announcement issued today says General Maude died in Mesopotamia yesterday after a brief illness.

UNION LABOR IS SOLID FOR WAR

Convention of American Federation of Labor Pledges Every Support for Vigorous Prosecution of the War Against Germany.

Buffalo, Nov. 19.—Union Labor today put its stamp of approval on the attitude of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to work hand in hand with President Wilson and placing the needs of the nation above all other considerations in questions involving the workingman's part in a vigorous prosecution of the war against Germany. The vote of confidence came after more than three hours of debate in which the pacifist element at the 37th annual convention of the Federation was given ample opportunity to express itself. Out of a total of 450 delegates only fifteen were recorded in opposition.

MADE PRESENTATION TO DR. M'PHEE

A pleasant and interesting function took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Weeks, Selby street, when the members of Nanaimo Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, met to do honors to their esteemed Lodge Physician, Dr. J. T. McPhee, on the occasion of his marriage. A very happy gathering was presided over by Past Dictator A. A. Davis, who introduced and outlined the main purpose of the gathering, calling upon Junior Past Dictator Bro. William Fulton to make the presentation, which consisted of a handsome mahogany table and cover, which ceremony was duly performed in appropriate manner. The genial doctor replied in marm terms of appreciation on behalf of Mrs. (Dr.) McPhee and himself. Thereafter a pleasant evening was spent in song and sentiment a happy function being brought to a close with expressions of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Weeks for providing hospitality of their home for the occasion. The terms of the address accompanying the gifts to the Doctor were as follows:

Dr. J. T. McPhee,
Lodge Physician, I. O. O. M.:
Dear Doctor and Brother,—

It is with sincere pleasure the members of Nanaimo Lodge No. 1052 Loyal Order of Moose, have learned of your marriage and now wish to tender you their heartiest congratulations and best wishes for your future happiness.

You have been our Lodge Physician since institution of the Loyal Order of Moose in this city and in such capacity have ministered in true fraternal spirit to such of our members as have required your aid as Brother and Physician; we appreciate also the ungrudging service at all times and any hour of the day or night which has been at the disposal of members' families and we have nothing but praise to record for the spirit and manner in which these services have been rendered.

The members feel, therefore, that they cannot allow this happy event in your life to pass without some tangible token of their fraternal regards and so ask your acceptance of the accompanying gifts, not for their intrinsic value, but as a small token of their sincere and highest esteem for a Loyal Brother Moose. With every good wish to Mrs. McPhee and yourself, trusting you will be blessed with long life and happiness.

ENEMY ATTACKS ALL REPULSED

Prisoners, Considerable War Material Including Machine Guns Captured by Italians—Captured Guns Were Turned Against the Enemy.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The desperate character of the fighting between the Italians and Austro-Germans on the Piave River is emphasized in an official cable received here today from Rome.

"Yesterday morning," says the dispatch, "Austrian troops attacked our positions near Pontesi Piave after intense artillery fire.

"Positions were defended by the 54th Infantry Division composed of the Novara brigade and the Third Bersaglier brigade.

"Overcome by the effect of asphyxiating gases our soldiers at the beginning gave way to the advancng enemy, but later in the day a dashing counter attack by our troops succeeded in pushing the Austrians back to the river after a most furious hand-to-hand engagement.

"Units of the Bersaglieri also are fighting desperate battles between Fagaro and San Bartholomeo where every ravine, hole and obstacle is desperately contested between the enemy and the defenders and becomes the center of the most sanguinary encounters. An entire division of Austrians is participating in the battle, which is still raging.

"The Austrians have been compelled to withdraw to the river edge where they are stubbornly fighting with the river behind them, and with little hope of receiving assistance in their difficult position.

"In this sector alone our soldiers captured more than 500 prisoners with 22 officers and considerable war material including many machine guns, which were immediately turned against the enemy."

MAGISTRATE WILL DEAL HARD WITH PITLAMPERS

Three men were arrested by Game Warden Graham in the Chemainus district on Saturday night. The trio hailed from Ladysmith, and yesterday afternoon were brought before Police Magistrate Stewart, charged with night-hunting, and fined $50 and costs in each case, with a warning that in future cases of this kind would be dealt with more severely.

Amsterdam, Nov. 19.—The Foreign Minister of Holland announces that the Russian Provisional Government has denounced the commercial treaty of September 18 between Holland and Russia.

SPLIT IN RANKS OF MAXIMALISTS

Petrograd, Nov. 19—Germany has refused to treat for peace with the new Soldiers' and Workmen's Government in response to a recent proposal, according to the newspapers here, which publish this news as coming from a well-authenticated source.

It is stated that Kaiser Wilhelm announced in his reply that he would treat only with the legal successor to the late Imperial Government or with the Constituent Assembly.

In this connection the Volia Nooda says it has information that the Soldiers' and Workmen's Government, in the event of its failure to receive replies from the belligerents by November 23, reserves the right to make peace on its own account, after which, if the war continues, Russia would occupy a neutral position.

London, Nov. 19.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent, telegraphing Sunday, said there had been a split among the Maximalists. The Ministers of the Interior, Agriculture and Supplies had resigned, holding that the formation of a Coalition Socialist Government was essential. Several other commissioners, said the correspondent, supported their views

It was added by the correspondent that M. Zinovieff, associate of Nikolai Lenine and M. Knmeneff, vice-president of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates, and three other members of the Maximalist central committee of the Petrograd Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates had resigned.

London, Nov. 19.—Another army is reported marching on Petrograd to oust the Bolsheviki from control there. The vanguard, which is said to be near Gathchina, 30 miles southwest of the capital, already has had several brushes with the Bolsheviki forces. It is rumored that Premier Kerensky is returning with new forces. All the reports lack confirmation.

CITY TO INVEST IN VICTORY LOAN

City Council Voted Last Night to Invest $31,000 in Present War Loan—Committee Appointed re Conservation of Fish Supply.

The City Council at last night's meeting authorized the Finance Committee to invest $31,000 worth of the city's Sinking Fund in Canada's Victory Loan, $17,000 at five years, $6,000 at ten years, and $8,000 at twenty years.

The meeting was a short one, there being present Ald. Coburn, Sharp, Harding and Ferguson, His Worship Mayor McKenzie, presiding.

A communication was received from the Canada Victory Loan Committee, of Victoria, informing the Council a Victory Loan Ball was to be held in Victoria on Friday next under the patronage of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire and asking the Council to give publicity of the event in Nanaimo so that if any Nanaimoites desired to attend the tickets required would be forwarded.

On motion of Ald. Ferguson, seconded by Ald. Harding the communication was referred to the Secretary of the local Victory Loan Committee for attention.

A communication was received from the chairman of the Publicity Committee of Canada's Victory Loan, Toronto, calling attention to the splendid opportunity for investment offered by the Victory Loan.

A communication was received from the secretary of the Union of Canadian Municipalities asking the Council to appoint a committee of two members of the Council and one or two citizens outside the Council to co-operate to the utmost in the present effort for the conservation of food, with particular attention to increasing the consumption of fish in Canada.

Ald. Coburn moved the communication be received and filed and the request granted, and the Board of Trade asked to co-operate in the work by appointing two members on the committee. The motion was seconded by Ald. Harding and adopted, the Mayor appointing Ald. Coburn and Ferguson the Council's representatives on the committee.

Mr. W. G. Ross, president of the Navy League of Canada wrote thanking Red Cross and Daughters of the Empire for taking up the collection in aid of the Sailors' Relief Fund.

The Social Service Council was granted permission to use tthe Council Chambers for a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

The committee appointed to make an investigation of the heating apparatus of the Athletic Club building reported an inspection had been made by a plumber, who estimated it would cost $681.00 to put the heating plant into good condition, and Mr. Fletcher was of the opinion the piano could be put in first-class shape for an expenditure of about $50.

Ald. Harding moved, seconded by Ald. Sharp that the report of the committee be received and referred to the Finance Committee.

Ald. Coburn was of the opinion the committee should devise ways and means of raising the necessary funds and moved in amendment the matter be referred back to the committee for action. The amendment was seconded by Ald. Ferguson and adopted.

The Street Foreman reported an expenditure in wages during the week of $110.35, and the Water Works Manager reported an expenditure of $50.17.

His Worship appointed Ald. Harding chairman of the committee named last week to arrange matters in connection with the visit of the Governor-General to Nanaimo, Ald. Forrester, who was chairman of the committee, being called out of the city on business which will necessitate his absence during the week.

Ald. Coburn moved the Daughters of the Empire, Red Cross Club, and the Social Service Council be requested to appoint representatives to work with a committee of the Council in devising ways and means to put the Athletic Club building into use. The motion was seconded by Ald. Harding and adopted by the Council.

CARD

Mrs. James F. Nicholson and family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to those who sent floral tributes in memory of deceased husband and father, and also the kind friends who sympathized with them in their bereavement.

In These War Times you want real food that contains the greatest amount of body-building material at lowest cost. The whole wheat grain is all food. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the whole wheat in a digestible form. THE FIGHT ON

There are three candidates in the field for the Nanaimo Riding. The candidates are Mr. McIntosh, Unionist; Mr. Stewart, Laurier-Liberal, and Mr. Taylor, Labor. None of the three candidates is very well known in Nanaimo, but this is an election in which it is the issue and not the man that counts. So far as the Herald is concerned, Mr. McIntosh is the candidate supporting the only issue which counts with us.

This issue, as we have often repeated is: Shall Canada "carry on" in the war, or, as a people, shall we quit, and line-up with Russia. We are aware that some of the straight Liberals will not agree to this analysis of the issue before the electors, but it is nevertheless the true and correct one. The great majority of the peope of Canada endorsed the decision of the government in going to war. Time has only served to prove that no other decision could have been taken. Time has also served to bring home to us that only by means of a union government can the task confronting the Dominion be properly and efficiently handled. Time has also proved to demonstration that if reinforcements are to be sent to the boys at the front compulsory military service is an absolute necessity. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denies all three conclusions. He will in no circumstances agree to compulsory service, and his policy and programme have been framed at the dictation of Quebec. Should he be returned to power then Canada will cease to participate in the war. No true Canadian will suffer such disgrace to overtake the Dominion, and so he cannot vote for a Laurier-Liberal candidate.

Why the men who profess to be leading labor in Canada are opposed to this war against the Kaiser and Prussian militarism is more than we can understand. What we do understand is that they are working for the success of the Kaiser and Germany. Why they should be so down on their own country and their own flag in comparison with Germany and the Prussian eagle they do not explain. That they should have any following at all is surprising, and it is hardly likely that they will have any effect on the elections.

Mr. McIntosh is out as a Win-the-War candidate. He will have no politics in this election. He will stand as a Canadian, desirous only that Canada should continue to fight with all its available resources in this war against Prussian militarism. As such he will have the support of all those members of the community who, without regard to the political affiliations in the past, are a unit in their desire to see Canada go through with the war. The fact that he has two opponents is not altogether to be regretted. The result may well be to make all the more certain his election.

FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shirk, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few week's use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

DOMINION THEATRE

Mary Pickford in the leading role of "Rebecca of Sunny-brook Farm," is a delight and those who did not see her fascinating impersonation yesterday owe it to themselves to attend one of the few remaining performances of today. We cannot have many pictures of this sort, clean, pure wholesome with tears and laughter chasing each other through the seven splendid reels, and never has this darling of the screen been fitted with a better role.

That is what Rabbi M. Shallit of Edenbridge, Sask., says regarding a cure by Zam-Buk, of which he gives the following particulars:

"A short time ago," said the Rabbi, "a man brought his little son to me and asked if I knew of anything that would cure the child of a terrible skin disease, with which he had suffered for three years. The child's forehead, eyes and ears were covered with sores. The sight was shocking, and the child had not been able to see for two years. As he was an only child, the father said he would give anything to have him cured, but as he had already been treated by many doctors, each of whom had given up the case as incurable, he had about despaired of ever finding a cure. Having great faith in Zam-Buk, I recommended it, and to cut a long story short, perseverance with Zam-Buk has now completely cured the child.

THE FATHER'S ACCOUNT

The following letter from the father of the boy expresses his gratitude:
"The Zam-Buk Company, Toronto
Dear Sirs: I beg to testify that my boy suffered for three years with a severe skin disease, which doctors tried to cure, but in vain. The sores on his eyes were so terrible that for two years he was quite unable to see. Zam-Buk, however, has worked a complete and permanent cure.
The Zam-Buk treatment was recommended to me by Mr. M. Shallit, Rabbi of Edenbridge, for which I shall be grateful to him forever.
With hearty thanks to you, I remain, Yours faithfully,
(Signed) "M. ROMANUK."

Zam-Buk is just as good for scalp sores, ringworm, salt rheum, running sores, old wounds, boils, ulcers, abscesses, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

BIJOU THEATRE

"The Bitter Truth" with the famous emotional actress Virginia Pearson in the leading role head the bill at this popular playhouse for today. This strong five-reel photoplay is from the well known Fox studios and is produced with all their attention to detail and disregard of expense.

With this fine attraction will be offered another one of the famous Billie West two reel comedies. Billie West is Chaplin's only real rival and is by many considered fully his equal as a fun-maker.

PRINCIPAL MACKAY AT OPEN FORUM SUNDAY

Rev. S. Mackay of Vancouver was the speaker at Sunday afternoon's meeting of the Open Forum in the Oddfellow's Hall. He presented Christianity as a reasonable religion for thoughtful men. Modern science with it conception of all pervading force had made reasonable the true Christian teaching of an all-pervading spirit. Matter was an expression of omnipresent mind. What was the nature of this mind? Chris't answer was "Love" Brotherhood was the outcome of this divine Fatherhood. Discussing the social order, Dr. McKay said the night social order grew out of man's right relationship with God and therefore with each other.

SAYS THE DRUG IS AN EITHER COMPOUND.

Just a Fed Drops Loosens Any Corn So It Lifts Out Without Pain.

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out with the fingers without pain.

This new drug called freezone is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati man, who says that while freezone is sticky it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but cut this out and make him try it.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—Tom Andrews, local boxing promoter, yesterday was authorized by a Minneapolis boxing club to offer $30,000 to Jess Willard for a ten-round bout with Fred Fulton, to be held in Minneapolis within four months.

A Milwaukee club at the same time made an offer of $40,000 for the entire match (Willard-Fulton), to be held here during the winter.

Minneapolis, Wis., Nov. 19.—Joe Hilton and Eddie Reddy, St. Paul fight promoters, announced here tonight that they would offer $40,000 for a fight between Fred Fulton and Jess Willard on the condition that Fulton wins over "Gunboat" Smith here next Tuesday night.

"We want to stage the fight in St. Louis on New Year's Day if the offer is accepted," said Reddy in making the announcement.

Get a 10-cent box.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep: cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
South Wellington School
Second Call.

Sealed Tenders, superscribed "Tender for South Wellington School," will be received by the Honourable the Minister of Public Works up to 12 o'clock noon of Tuesday, the 27th day of November, 1917, for the erection and completion of a four-room school at South Wellington, in the Newcastle Electoral District, B. C.

Plans, specifications, contract, and forms of tender may be seen on and after the 8th day of November, 1917, at the office of J. Mahony, Government Agent, Court-house, Vancouver B.C.; S. McB. Smith, Government Agent, Court-house, Nanaimo, B.C.; J. E. Parrott, Esq., Secretary of the School Board, South Wellington, B. C.; or the Department of Public Works, Victoria, B. C.

Intending tenderers can obtain one set of plans and specifications by applying to the undersigned with a deposit of ten dollars ($10) which will be refunded on their return in good order.

Each proposal must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque on a chartered bank of Canada, made payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for a sum equal to 20 per cent. of tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. The cheques of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned to them upon the execution of the contract.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on the forms supplied signed with the actual signature of the tenderer, and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 21, 1917 NUMBER 222.

FREE VICTORY BOND FOR PATRON OF THE HERALD

Every Fifty Cents Spent on Subscriptions, Advertising or Job Work at The Herald Office Gives a Patron the Opportunity of Becoming the Owner of a Canada Victory Bond Without Cost.

Everybody is thinking about the Victory Loan just now, and planning [illegible] get hold of one or more of the bonds. Nanaimo is doing as well as any city in the Dominion in her subscription to the loan and pointing the way to some of her bigger sisters on the coast.

This is especially gratifying in these troublous times when so much is heard of disaffection and even disloyalty. It shows that the people of Nanaimo are all right at heart, and loyal to their country.

With Victory Bonds so much in demand, the Herald has decided to offer one of fifty dollars for competition among its patrons and subscribers.

Be it understood that this is not a circulation contest of the kind promoted by itinerant rake-off men. The Herald could have had one of these old timers, but refused for several reasons. Some of these reasons may be stated here.

The first is that the Herald has no encouragement to offer itinerant promoters who just blow in to town oozing over with philanthropic zeal, and blow out of town with the biggest rake-off they can grab. Time was when Nanaimo was the happy hunting ground of these masters of plausibility, and nobody wants the time to come back again.

The second reason is the Herald does not need to pad its circulation at the expense of a few merchants. It prefers to develop legitimate advertising at reasonable rates, and look after its circulation itself. Certainly it would use no scheme that involved the boycotting of regular advertisers in favor of those who had gone into the scheme.

Finally the Herald is heartily opposed to any scheme which has as the chief bait for its success the use of the names of local ladies. A contest of such a kind has too much notoriety about it to be sweet or pleasant. And there are always indefinite features about the contest itself which involves the result in mystery, as witness the contest conducted by the Free Press a few years ago.

The Herald is putting up a very simple competition. It is putting up a fifty dollar Victory Loan Bond which everybody doing business with the Herald will have the same chance of winning. A jar of beans has been placed in the window, and for every 50 cents paid to the Herald one ticket, giving the purchaser one chance to estimate the number of beans in the jar, will be given to the purchaser. The person estimating the correct number of beans in the jar, or the nearest correct number, will win the Victory Bond. In the case of a tie, the jar will be recharged and the tie decided. A sealed box for the reception of the tickets will be provided at the Herald office.

Everybody dealing with the Herald gets the same chance. Old subscribers paying their subscription will get the same chance as new subscribers. Advertisers will get an equal chance, as will also those paying for job printing.

The Christmas Card season is at hand, and those buying their cards at the Herald will also get a chance of winning the Victory Loan Bond.

The competition will end on January 31, 1918, and the winner of the Bond will be announced in the Herald on February 1st.

SETTLEMENT IS EXPECTED

Washington, Nov. 20.—Concessions made by both the railroads and heads of the Four Brotherhoods, as the results of the present wage issue is taken by officials as complete assurance that America's part in the possibilities of a transportation tie-up over wage differences, is remote.

BOLSHEVIKI IS BEING DISRUPTED

Petrograd, Nov. 19.—Seven commisioners appointed by the Maximalist Government to manage various Departments have resigned their posts in protest against the "methods of political terroish" by which they allego the Bolsheviki seek to maintain themselves in offce. "We are of the opinion," they assert in a declaration announcing their retirement, "that the necessary form of Socialistic Government by parties is that participated in by the Congress of Workmen's and Soldier's delegates."

They do not wish to follow the lines chosen by the Bolsheviki, which they assert will lead to alienating the proletariat element from political life and lead to the creation of an impossible regime which will mean "the destruction of the revolution and the country."

Among the commissioners quitting their posts were those in charge of Trade, Industry, Interior, Supplies, and the Press. The Labor Commissioner joined in the protest, but retained his post.

AMERICAN DESTROYER SINKS

Washington, Nov. 20.—Sinking of the American destroyer Chauncey in collision in the war zone early yesterday morning with a probable loss of 21 lives, was announced by the navy department.

ROUNDING UP THE REMNANTS

London, Nov. 20.—Sustained pursuit of the remaining German forces in German East Africa, during which nearly 1,000 prisoners were captured important positions occupied and the last heavy gun remaining to the Germans in to colony taken, is reported in an official statement to-day.

RHONDDA WARNS BRITISH PUBLIC

London, Nov. 20.—Baron Rhondda, the Food Controller, in a speech in the House of Lords, today said he was still hopeful that compulsory rationing could be avoided, but that it must come unless in the approaching future weeks the public fully responded to appeals for voluntary rationing.

"There is no fear whatever of famine," said Baron Rhondda, "but the country might have to endure a scarcity."

ROCHESTER SUVIVOR LAND

London, Nov. 20.—The missing boat from the American steamship Rochester, which was sent to the bottom by a German submarine Nov. 2, has just landed at a port in Ireland, the British Admiralty announced today. The boat contained five men, the only survivors from the original boat's crew of twelve.

ENEMY ATTEMPTS BEATEN OFF

German and Austrian Forces Driven Back Four Times by the Italian Troops in Mountainous Region of Italy.

Rome, Nov. 20.—The struggle between the Italian and Austro-German forces on Monte Tomba and Monte Monfenera, in the mountainous region of Northern Italy, continues, it was announced today by the War Office here. The invading forces were driven back four times when they attempted to take the Italian positions on the Monfenera spur.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 19, via Rome and London Nov. 20.—The enemy is concentrating his attack in the north and very heavy fighting is in progress south of Quero, where large enemy masses are attacking the Italian positions on Monte Tenera and Monte Tomba.

The Austro-German attempts with heavy masses of troops to drive south ward along the west bank of the Piave from Quero and thus outflank the lower river points have been checked by the heroic resistance of the Italian troops at the Monte Tomba-Monte Monfenera line.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—Strong Italian counter attacks against positions captured on the northern slope of Monte Tomba, on the mountain front near the upper Piave, were unsuccessful, the War Office here announces. Heavy firing continues in that secttor.

GERMAN STATEMENT

Berlin, Nov. 20.—Intense artillery fighting is in progress in Flanders says to-day's official announcement. The repulse of an attack on the Verdun front also is reported.

WIN THE WAR LEAGUE

A meeting of the General Committee of the League will be held in the Council Chamber on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN BERLIN

London, Nov. 20.—Serious rioting took place in Berlin last Sunday, according to dispatches received by the Wireless Press and the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam.

The message to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the fighting between the mob and the police was very fierce and that there was a heavy casualty list, as the police used their firearms.

The dispatch to The Wireless Press says the military and police were called upon to oppose the progress of the Independent Socialist demonstrators. In the riotous scenes which followed the police were forced to fire with their rifles and revolvers and the organizers of the meeting responded with firearms and knives.

The German press, the dispatches say, has been forbidden to publish details of the affray. No newspapers have arrived in Amsterdam from Berlin since the affair.

HEARTY CO-OPERATION

Washington, Nov. 20.—Packing houses and the meat industry generally are co-óperating fully, the food administration announced to-day, in support of a meatless Tuesday.

LOCAL TRIBUNALS HAD BUSY DAY

The two local Exemption Tribunals had a busy day yesterday, when no less than 62 applicants appeared for exemption.

Tribunal No. 36 had 35 applicants of which number 11 were ordered for service, 19 given temporary exemption and 5 deferred for medical examination.

Tribunal No. 37 disposed of 27 applicants, 14 being ordered to report for service, 4 temporarily exempted, and 9 deferred for medical examination.

OVERSEAS IN EARLY JANUARY

Toronto, Nov. 20.—In East Hamilton, Major-General the Hon. S. C. Memburn was nominated by Lyman Lee, a Liberal, and Sergeant-Major John Anderson, M.C., a war veteran.

General Mewburn announced that he was planning to send 10,000 or 12,000 troops to England early in January. In impressing upon his audience the need of sending more men overseas, he said that the Canadian casualties in the recent fighting at Passchendaele were about 11,000, of whom 8,000 were wounded.

He said that he would perform his duties as Minister of Militia at Ottawa no matter how the election went. and he would leave his election in the hands of his workers.

RUSSIAN EXTREMISTS DISTURBING GERMANY

Copenhagen, Nov. 20. — Philip Scheidemann and Frederick Ebert, the German Socialists leaders, before large meetings in Dresden and Eberfield yesterday launched a campaign designed to force the German and Austrian Governments to abandon their present plans for annexation under the guise of protectorates of Poland Lithuania and the Baltic provinces and accept the peace offer of the Russian Bolsheviki.

Scheidemann said Germany would be endangered by the proposed general disarmament and lasting peace and placed in jeopardy if Russia should be forced by German pressure to become a military state. He expressed pleasure at the General condomination which he said was being made manifest within the Central Empires of the plan to make the Austrian Emperor King of Poland and invest the German Kaiser with the mantle of Duke of Courland and Prince of Lithuania. Such disregard of Russia's vital interest, on the principle that the foe had been vanquished, would sow permanent discord between Russia and Germany, he said, and perpetuate the war in Europe.

Ebert like Scheidemann, proposed resolutions of solidarity with the Russian Maximalists and declared that German labor must do its duty to force the Government to make a definite affirmative answer to the proposals of the Bolsheviki.

LOS ANGELES VOTED DRY

Los Angeles, Nov. 20.—Partial returns from fifty scattered precincts indicate that Los Angeles has adopted a law eliminating the saloons after April 30, 1918 by a large majority.

AUSTRIANS CAPTURED

Washington, Nov. 20.—The capture of 1,200 Austrians who crossed the Piave River is announced in a message from Gen. Diaz, Italian the Commander-in-Chief, to his army, received today by cable.

DEFEATED BY FRENCH

Paris, Nov. 20.—German troops made an attack last night on a front of one kilometre in the Verdun sector north of Caurieres Wood. They succeeded in penetrating the French advanced positions over a small extent of the front, says an official report issued here this afternoon, but subsequently were expelled for the most part.

Mr. George A. Fletcher returned last evening from a business trip to the Mainland.

HEADING FOR $200,000 MARK

Nanaimo Victory Loan Campaign Is Succeeding Beyond all Expectations—Nanaimoites Investing Heavily in Bonds.

Nanaimo's Victory Loan Campaign has passed tthe $180,000 mark, the total sales up to the closing hour last night being in the neighborhood of $190,000.

Today the committee is putting forth every effort to push the Indicator well beyond the $200,000 mark on the dial, and if this is accomplished, the volunteer salesmen will be working on the home stretch for the quarter of a million dollars which amount was the goal set by the local committee. This does not mean that should the quarter million be reached the committee will cease its labors. Every home in Nanaimo should have at least one Victory Bond in its possession no matter if the city's total sales aggregate several hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Victory Loan is intended for the masses and the easy payment plan makes it comparatively easy for every person to make the purchase of a Bond.

A large number of those who have already filled in application forms have no account at the bank and have signed their name to a form agreeing to pay ten cent. of the Bond applied for in cash at the bank on December 1st. It is not necessary to wait until that date to pay the first installment for payment can be made at the bank at any time and the committee requests that everyone who can possibly do so visit the bank at once and make their first payment and by so doing avoid the rush which is sure to occur on the last days of the drive.

Visit the bank today if at all possible and make your first cash payment. This does not apply to those who have either current or savings accounts at the bank, for the amount signed for by them will be deducted from their account and applied to the loan by the banker at the proper time.

THE BOLSHEVIKI FACE FAMINE

London, Nov. 20.—Premier Kerensky is reported to be at Luga, ninety miles south of Petrograd, where two army corps loyal to the Committee for the Salvation of the Revolution, which is opposed to the Bolsheviki, are stationed.

The Bolsheviki now hold the upper hand in Petrograd, Moscow, and other large cities, but it is indicated that the question of food supplies now overshadows the political situation. Telegrams received here indicate that the food problem is most pressing and that the menace of famine has brought about a cessation of hostilities between the opposing factions at least for the moment.

Petrograd, Nov 20.—Two army corps loyal to the Committee for the Salvation of the Revolution, stationed at Luga, report that Premier Kerensky is with them. There is no confirmation.

MUNITIONS MINISTERS CONFER

Paris, Nov. 20.—Winston Spencer Churchill, Louis Loucheur and General Dallollo, the British, French, and Italian ministers of munitions, held a conference yesterday at the ministry of munitions here.

TEUTON LINES BATTERED ON ALL BATTLEFRONTS

British Army is Rapidly Encircling Jerusalem and is Only Twelve Miles from Ancient City—Italians Are Tenaciously Holding Back all Teuton Attacks—Haig Has Inaugurated a New Offensive.

London, Nov. 20.—The British are rapidly encircling Jerusalem in their Palestine campaign, having now brought their forces to points twelve miles northwest and fifteen miles west of the ancient city.

Between the Brenta and Piave rivers on the northern front of the Italian theatre, the Italians are tenaciously holding back the enemy and preventing his advance southward to the Venetian plain, the gaining of which would threaten their entire line along the Piave river southward to the Adriatic Sea. Four times attacks against Monte Tomba, the chief position blocking the way from the hilly country to the plain, has been repulsed by the Italians. East of the Asiago Plateau the Italians are keeping up their offensive against the invaders, and have taken more than three hundred prisoners and a number of machine guns and several hundred rifles. Along the Piave river the enemy apparently has made no further effort to cross the stream, after the serious losses [illegible] Monday from the Zenson bridgehead.

Shifting his offensive to the south Field Marshal Haig delivered a series of attacks against the Germans in the region between St. Quentin and the River Scarpe in France, territory on which there has been little fighting since the spring offensive when notable gains eastward from Arras to Peronne were made. Details of the new offensive are not yet at hand but the British official communication states that the strike had a satisfactory result and a number of prisoners and a quantity of material had been gained in the roads leading from Bapaume and Peronne toward the important railroad junction of Cambrai.

ENTERTAINMENT IN AID OF PRISONERS OF WAR FUND

The committee of the Prisoners of War Fund have made arrangements for the holding of a musicale with afternoon tea on Friday next at Mrs. Hunter's residence on the Townsite, between the hours of 3 and 6 in the afternoon and 8 and 10 in the evening. There will be an abundance of home made candy on sale, and the drawing for a camisole and blouse, which have been donated to the fund will be held in the evening.

Tea will be served at the nominal charge of 15 cents and all proceeds will go to swell the Prisoners of War Fund.

FLOUR MILLS TO BE LICENSED

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—On and after December 1 it will be illegal for any person, firm, corporation, or Association to operate without license from the Food Controller, any flour mill in Canada havng a daily capacity of 100 or more barrels. License are optional in the case of mills with a lesser daily capacity, than 100 barrels but may be granted upon application in which case such mills will be subject to the same rules as those upon whom licensing provisions are compulsory.

NANAIMO NATIVE SON MADE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Private Thomas Collier, of this city, succumbed to wounds in the Fourth General Hospital, France, on November 15th. Such was the distressing news received yesterday from Ottawa by his father, Mr. Geo. Collier, of 431 Kennedy street, who had been expecting the worse since being informed a short time ago that his son had been dangerously wounded.

Private Collier, who was a native son of this city, received his education here and went to work in the mines after leaving school, being employed therein until the time of his enlistment in the 143rd Battalion, the B. C. Bantams, with whom he left for overseas on Feb 9 last. On arriving in England he was transferred to another fighting unit, with which he served until he was wounded two weeks ago.

He would not have reached his 27th birthday until January next, and was deservedly popular among the younger men of the city.

CONCERT AND DANCE AT NANOOSE TONIGHT

A concert and dance will be given in the Nanoose Hall, Nanoose, this evening, and a good time is promised to all Nanaimo folks who care to attend. Among the local artistes contributing to the programme are Miss Blundell, Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale, Miss Grace Morgan, Miss Hazel Martin, and Messrs. McAlpine, Walford and Jones. Mr. Allison will give a violin solo, and Mrs. R. Wallis will act as accompanist. For the convenience of Nanaimo people wishing to attend a car or cars will leave the I. X. L. stables at 6:45 p.m. sharp, return fare 50 cents. Admission to concert and dance 50 cents.

BRITISH REPORT

London, Nov. 20.—"Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire troops made a successful raid last night east of Fampeux," says a report from Field Marshal Haig issued here today "In the region of Wytschaete a raiding party of Germans was driven off by our fire."

D'ANNUNZIO FIGHTING

Washington, Nov. 20.—An official dispatch from Rome says Gabriele d'Annunzio, the aviator poet, reported missing after a flight over the enemy lines, and possibly held prisoner by the Austrians, actually is at the front displaying great activity.

FALLEN HERO WAS POPULAR WITH COMRADES

Mrs. Richardson, of Fairview, whose husband, Pte. Percy Richardson was killed in action on Sept. 19, last, is in receipt of letters from the officer commanding, giving additional details of her husband's death. Capt. Carling writes as follows:

Dear Madam:

We wish to express our deepest sympathy with you in your sad bereavement, the death of your husband. We can quite realize the severe shock you would be given on receiving the sad news.

"As he died with the brave
So shall he live with the righteous."

He was always held in the very highest of esteem by his fellow men, having such high ideals which drew all men towards him. He will be missed very much by his comrades, as he was the light and spirit of his section. We feel that in his death we have lost a true friend and a staunch companion.

Yours in sympathy,
N. H. CARLING, Lt.,
... O.C. 5th Can. T.M.B.

Dear Madam:

We are in receipt of your letter dated 17th Sept., re the death of your husband. We are afraid we cannot give very many particulars, but will do our best.

He was killed on the 19th of August, while working on a carrying party which was carrying ammunition to the front line when on the way there he wat hit by a shell and killed instantly, the poor chap never spoke but just fell where he was.

He was carried out the following day and buried. The Graves Registration Office, London, Eng., can give you the map location of his grave, and we think a photo of same can be had on application to the Canadian Chaplain Services.

We are sorry we can give you no particulars about his personal effects but we are of the opinion that they have been sent to you by his Battalion.

Yours respectively,
N. H. CARLING, Capt.,
O.C., 5th Can. Gun Battery.

Are The Four Fruits Used in Making "Fruit-a-tives

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives", is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. KEEP FAITH

It was never expected that the Military Service Bill would be accepted without some protest from those affected. There are included in the men who are now being called up a small smattering who have made it their boast since the war began that nothing nor nobody could make them don khaki, and who have openly sneered at the men who volunteered. There are behind these men again others who are not being called up, but who have supported and abetted this spirit of disloyalty, and are still urging opposition to the new service bill. It is useless to attempt to reason with this type of man. They are without a thread of patriotic spirit, and they have derided its expression in any one else under all circumstances.

There are others, however, among the men who are being called up, who have no objection to the principle of selective service, but who find other causes of dissatisfaction. To these men we would say that they have a much greater chance of having their complaints considered if they keep away from the other element we have mentioned. We understand that a Liberty League has been formed in Nanaimo. It sounds harmless enough and may be all right in its objects. But there is a good deal of liberty talk going on the streets these days which is nothing more nor less than straight opposition to the enforcement of the Military Act. There can be no general sympathy with this talk or the sentiments which inspire it. It is frankly seditious, and in far the majority of cases is of enemy or slacker origin.

The first thing to remember in connection with the whole question is that Canada is fighting a war of liberty. The reasonable-minded will not attempt to deny this. If Germany wins this war there will be an end of all liberty and all individual freedom. Neither can anyone get away from the fact that citizenship in a free country imposes its obligations as well as grants its privileges. The privileges being equal to all, it follows that the obligations should be shared equally by all. As the privileges are defined and set up by law, so also it follows that the obligations should be defined and set forth by law. There is no question of individual liberty involved, but rather the liberty of all composing the state.

There may remain in the administration of such a measure as the Military Service Act some real causes for dissatisfaction. The thing to do is get these causes eliminated rather [illegible] the act itself. We cannot say why a man should be allowed to go at large after he has told a tribunal that he would rather fight for Germany than for Canada. There is something wrong in this case, just as there is in another case where the man told the tribunal to go to Hades, they could not make him fight. The one man is an enemy, and the other a traitor, to Canada. There are other circumstances locally which are in the highest degree unsatisfactory, and which should be righted at the earliest possible moment. Strong efforts are being made to have them remedied, and in the meantime it should not be forgotten that Germany must be beaten if liberty and freedom are to remain on earth. In this cause thousands of Canadians have already given up their lives, although there existed, when they set out west, the same conditions are complained of today. Thousands more are battling gallantly in the great cause. They did not pause to consider whether reinforcements would be sent them when they were needed. They had trust in the good faith of their fellows who stayed behind, and they have not lost that faith. But the time has come when they must have reinforcements if the fight is to go on, and in spite of difficulties and insidious counsel we believe that in this district there are few of the men who have been called who will betray the faith of the men who have gone ahead of them.

BIJOU THEATRE

Victor Hugo's immortal romance "Les Miserables," has, with practically no dissenting voice, been acclaimed as the greatest work of fiction ever penned. Its marvelous story of the reformation of that extraordinary character Jean Valjean, and the beautiful and touching story of Fantine and Cosette have stirred the hearts of millions as no others have. This great work has now reached the silent stage and its eight superb acts make the great romance in this form even more thrilling and heart and mind engrossing. The cast presenting it were carefully selected from the most prominent of the French stage, the scenes were taken in Paris and the costumes and settings are absolutely faithful and accurate. Despite the cost of this film there will be no advance in prices.

Prohbit Fertilizer Export.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—An order-in-council has been passed prohibiting the exportation of livestock, fertilizers and various foodstuffs other than to the United Kingdom, British protectorates and possessions.

IRON EXPORTATION ONLY UNDER LICENSE

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Exportation from Canada of iron and steel in unfinished forms suitable for use in manufacturing will be prohibited by the Government except under licence.

The classes of iron and steel goods upon the sale of which outside the Dominion an embargo is placed, include pigs of iron, steel ingots, billets, rods, shapes, angles and plates. The prohibittion of exporation is due to the serious shortage of iron and steel for munitions making, shipbuilding and other manufactures.

The United States has placed restrictions upon the exportation of iron and steel from that country, and has established a priority board to pass upon applications of export licences. That board will give precedence to requests for steel for munition and other war supplies and for shipbuilding. It will then consider the needs of the railways, railway car and locomotive building firms and other industries.

MISSING DORY ACCOUNTED FOR.

Relatives of members of the crew of the ill-fated fishing steamer Manhattan, which was driven ashore near Lituya Bay on Nov. 15, will be relieved to learn that the missing dory containing six men had been reported safe, so that the entire crew is now on dry land.

According to a message received by Mr. Al Hager, manager of the New England Fish Company, from Mr. Henry Wilke, manager of the company's plant at Ketchikan, the missing dory was noticed by an Indian boat and the fishermen were landed at Hoonah, Alaska. Here they were at once taken in charge by the United States authorities and sent to Juneau, where the other twenty-seven members of the crew are awaiting trial on Wednesday on a charge of lootting the wrecked steamer Al-Ki, which is a wreck at Point Augustus.

Good for the whole family

While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The more powerful convulsive cough of a big man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a big man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the delicate tissues of the throat, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza and whooping cough.

Yours for Health —Granny Chamberlain

CREATES NEW BUREAU FOR WAR DEMANDS

Washington, Nov. 20.—Closer coordination of the Government's war demands with the country's industrial facilities will be sought by the council of national defence in the creation of a bureau of manufacturing resources, the personnel of which will be announced soon.

Plans for the new bureau disclose that the council's advisory commission is taking extensive precautions to guard against an economic unsettlement in calling on American business men and the industries they have built up for war service.

The new bureau will be a part of the war industries board. Manufacturers who have facilities which they desire to place at the Government's disposal, will deal with the bureau, which will undertake to distribute war contracts so that there will be a minimum of unsettlement in any one section, and the contracts filled in the most efficient way. Establishments of the bureau is expected to eliminate much of hesitation and possible loss in business as war demands call for a curtailment of non-essential industries. It was stated authoritatively that the council would make no arbitrary classification of industries as necessary and unnecessary, but would let the question of curtailment be decided by the available supply of raw material, coal and transportation facilities.

The question of housing workers in cities where livng quarters are inadequate probably will be placed before Congress next month with a request for appropriations to carry out the recommendations of the council's commission on housing, which reported that the Government was the only solution of the question

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

VICTOR RECORDS & TALENT

The recent visit to Vancouver of such famous Artists as Madame Melba, Alma Gluck, and the preliminary announcement of Caruso and Paderewski to that same city must indeed be very gratifying to all true lovers of music inasmuch that some of the world's greatest artists are here represented. Everyone, musically interested, we presume, would be delighted to hear these talented artists in person, but probably on account of time and other circumstances are prevented from doing so. It is disappointing, we know, but we can help you; perhaps you are not aware that we have had these same artists, and many others, too, in our store all the time. They are here waiting to give their voices any time you may wish to hear them. Our Victor Demonstrating Parlors are always at your disposal, and we extend a cordial invitation to you to hear the world's greatest artists which the Victrola alone can give you. DOMINION THEATRE

A drunken bank robber in the garret, two frightened girls on the second floor, and a young man being initiated into a college fraternity on the first floor in a haunted house. This is the condition at the opening of "The Ghost House," a Paramount picture with Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in the stellar roles which will be shown today and tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. The denouement is most amusing. None of the persons in the house is aware of the presence of the others until a series of complications straighten matters out and "all's well that ends well."

United States Revenue cutter Bear has been at Ladysmith for the past few days and left for the south yesterday morning. The Bear has been in Alaska waters for the past six months most of the time in the vicinity of Nome. Nome, the members of the crew say, is very dull just now, the mining industry being practically dead.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Co."

HERE'S A WAY TO —USE APPLES—

A woman in Vancouver proved to us that scientists were not practical in the ways they recommend the use of Pacific Milk.

She says (and she did not say it boastingly) that she gets almost half as much again from Pacific Milk as she can even from fresh milk. She cites this as an example. Try it.

½ cup Pacific Milk.

3 cups of water—when nearly boiling mix in 3 tablespoonsful corn starch and two tablespoons of sugar. Cook five minutes stirring all the time then beat in two cups of apple sauce and put into mould to set.

Using ½ cup Pacific Milk to 3 cups of water makes this quite rich enough, although she says Pacific Milk is the only milk that stands so much reduction.

British Arms Won Most Brilliant Victory

VAUNTED HINDENBURG LINE SMASHED ON WIDE FRONT

British Forces, Under General Byng, Recorded Big Gains—Eight Villages Captured, Tanks and Enemy Line Penetrated to a Depth of Five Miles or More — Number of Villages Captured.

British Army Headquarters, Nov. 20, via London, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press).—The redoubtable Hindenburg Line in the Cambrai sector was broken in many places today by the great force of he British tanks and this afternoon the infantry which followed through the gaps still was battling its way forward.

The surprise attack was launched at dawn over a wide front. In the first few hours its progress was marked with evident success, and up to the latest reports received at this time (4 p.m.) had been moving along regularly, according to schedule.

The resistance offered by the dazed Germans this morning was negligible and by noon British pioneers were already at work laying roads across the old front line trenches, while prisoners in considerable numbers had begun to come back from various directions.

Many Villages Captured.

British Armies in France, Nov. 21. —(By Associated Press).—The advance of the British army against the Germans was continuing this afternoon. The towns of Masniero, Marcoing, Bibscourt, Havrincourt, Graincourt and Flesquieres, all were behind the British advancing line and cavalry, which is co-operating with the tanks and rendering invaluable service, was drawing in toward Bourlon Wood, west of Cambrai.

London, Nov. 21.—Andrew Bonar Law announced this evening in the House of Commons that 8,000 prisoners, including 180 officers, had been taken by the British in their present operations. At one point the British penetrated five miles behind the German lines and several villages in addition to those already announced, have been taken.

London, Nov. 21.—The Earl of Derby in a speech this afternoon, said Field Marshal Haig's victory was a great triumph, the full extent of which is not yet known.

Victory Thrilled Britain.

London, Nov. 21.—In one of his longest communications, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British troops in France, thrilled the British nation tonight with the news of perhaps the most striking victory yet achieved on the western front, and certainly owing to the novel phases of the British attack the victory is reviving hope at a very gloomy period.

"The Hindenburg line smashed," was the giant caption in evening papers, and aptly focuses the point engaging public interest and attention and although there was no bell ringing or other marked sign of public jubiliation, wherever men gathered together there was acclamation of the brilliant accomplishment of Field Marshal Haig and General Byng, and discussion of the surprising features of the attack.

First its secrecy and surprise to the enemy; second, astonishment at the number and novel employment of tanks; third, the absence of artillery preparation and customary barrage fire to assist the infantry advance, and, fourth, there were many guesses why the tremendous German defensive organizations in the attacked area, in words of one commentatory, "melted away" before the British onslaught.

Everywhere the victory was heralded as the forerunner of still bigger things and the question "what next" is on everybody's lips.

General Byng is the hero of the hour. The honor of planning and carrying out the unique stroke belongs to him.

DR. McPHEE REMEMBERED BY LIBERAL FRIENDS

Members of the executive of the Nanaimo Liberal Association and a number of friends invaded the home of Dr. McPhee, president of the Association, last night, and presented him with two easy chairs in commemoration of hs marriage.

The genial doctor made a most felicitous reply after which the evening was given over to general merrymaking, a most pleasant time being spent.

SUB LOSSES SHOW A INCREASE

London, Nov. 21.—Seventeen British merchantmen were sunk by mines or submarines last week, according to the weekly statement issued by the Admiralty. Of these 10 were vessels of 1600 tons and over, and seven of less than 1600 tons.

Rome, Nov. 21.—Italian marine losses from submarine attacks during the week ending Nov. 18, were one large steamer sunk and another steamer damaged, afterwards towed into port.

DRIVE NEARS THE QUARTER MILLION

Nanaimo's Goal in Connection with Victory Loan Campaign May be Reached This Week.

The $220,000 mark has been reached in Nanaimo's Victory Loan Drive, and by the end of the week the committee is confident of reaching the quarter of a million mark, and in all probability going beyond that figure.

Even though the mark first set be reached during the next few days, there will be no let up in the Drive until the last day, but every effort will be made to make Nanaimo's total subscriptions the best per capita in the province. The committee is desirous of placing at least one bond in every home in the city and during the final days of the campaign a thorough canvas will be made of those who have not already made their purchase. Five dollars on or before December 1st, Five dollars on Jan. 2nd and ten dollars a month for the following four months buys a Victory Bond, which pays 5½ per cent. interest and is repayable in five ten or twenty years as the purchaser desires.

A large number of those who have already filled in application forms have no account at any bank and have signed their name to a form agreeing to pay ten per cent. of the Bond applied for in cash at a bank on Dec. 1st. It is not necessary to wait until that date to pay the first instalment, for payment can be made at the bank at any time and the committee requests that everyone who can possibly do so, visit the bank at once and make their first payment and by so doing avoid the rush which is sure to occur on the last days of the drive.

Visit the bank today if at all possible and make your first cash payment. This does not apply to those who have either current or savings accounts at the bank, for the amount signed for by them will be deducted from their account and applied to the loan by the banker at the proper time.

WOMEN VOTERS IN ELECTIONS

Stepmother, Grandmother or Mother-in-law of Soldier is Not Entitled to Vote.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Misunderstandings in regard to the female vote are apparently fairly common. Some returning officers appear to have given the opinion that the female relatives of soldiers or sailors in the British army or navy are not entitled to vote unless the soldier or sailor relatives have been at some time resident in Canada. W. F. O'Connor, general returning officer, states that this view is incorrect. Female relatives (within the degrees of relationship mentioned in the act) of all soldiers or sailors in the Canadian or British army or navy, whether or not such soldiers or sailors have ever resided in Canada, are entitled to vote, providing the male relatives have themselves the necessary racial or residential qualifications.

The position of the squaw has also raised some doubt. If she has a husband at the front, is she entitled to vote? The answer is that when an Indian has been disfranchised under provincial law, his female relatives will not vote. Where, on the other hand, a male Indian is enttitled to vote under provincial law, the female relative of an Indian soldier will vote. In certain provinces, therefore, Indian women will have the franchise.

Mr. O'Connor also expresses the view that the stepmother, grandmother or mother-in-law of a soldier is not entitled to vote. A half-sister may vote, however.

ODESSA IS ORDERLY

Washington, Nov. 21.—Order has been restored in Odessa. The Revolutionary committee on the Black Sea port has come to an agreement for the time being, the State Department was advised today.

LARGE INCREASE IN CANADA'S TRADE

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—An increase of approximately $273,000,000 for the first seven months of the fiscal year ending with October, as compared with a similar period last year is shown in the trade statement for October just issued. For the seven months the trade of the Dominion totalled $1,586,616,258, as against $1,313,189,951 last year. For the month of October alone Canada's trade amounted to $238,834,321. In October, 1916, it aggregated $164,330,179.

Exports of domestice goods for the seven months were to the value of $922,197,134, as compared with $622,049,481 last year. These figures include coin and bullion.

Imports for the seven months' period amounted to $636,749,263. Dutiable goods were to the value of $346,108,703, on which the customs amounted to $102,186,364. Free goods imported were to the value of $281,922,997. During the same period in 1916 duties on goods worth $254,530,818 were received, amounting to $82,177,312.

Manufactured goods to the value of $420,340,372 were exported, a big increase as compared with last year, when domestic manufacturers to the value of $219,461,504 were shipped out of the country.

Agricultural prdoucts hold second place in value at $206,159,775. Animals and their products to the value of $101,681,970 were exported.

WAS ASKED TO SHOW PAPERS

To be asked by an enumerator to show his naturalization papers as a British subject before he could have his name placed on the voters' list was the experience yesterday of Capt. Gilchrist, the popular master of the SS. Princess Patricia.

In these stirring times when the freighter is looked upon with a certain degree of mistrust in Canada it is to say the least aggravating to be accosted by anyone and accused of foreign birth, more especially of an enemy race. For the benefit of those who may hold views similar to the enumerator mentioned above, the writer is pleased to state the Empire has no more loyal Britisher than Capt. Gilchrist. Fifty-three years of age the genial captain was born in Scotland as was his ancestors for many generations. He was for 13 years in the British Navy and went through the Egyptian and Soudan campaigns, coming to Canada in 1892, since which time he has been a voter of the province, his voting precinct being Royal Oak, near Victoria. He is a Justice of the Peace for the province and holds papers of reference from the time he was a lad in his early teens. The Gilchrist family has taken and is still taking an active part in the war with the British forces, the captain having lost a brother in the conflict, besides several nephews and other relations. With such a record to his credit it would hardly be safe for anyone to accuse Capt. Gilchrist to his face of being anything but of the British race.

TO PARADE FOR VICTORY LOAN

School Children of the City Will Parade Commercial Street on Friday in Connection with Local Campaign.

To signalize the attainment of Nanaimo's "Quarter of a Million," which the canvasers are confident of procuring by Friday of this week, there is to be a parade of the pupils of the several City Schools on Friday afternoon. Arrangements are under way to marshal the rising generation of Nanaimo in marching squad form at the intersection of Wallace and Commercial street to the Post Office Victory Loan headquarters, from which point it is intended to parade Commercial street to the Post Office where a halt will be called and the children will sing a stirring patriotic song, after which a return will be made by the same route to the starting point, where short addresses will be given by members of the School Trustee Board. The Victory Loan Campaign Indicator will be brought up to the standard aimed at by Nanaimo, after which the children will sing the National Anthem, having been prominently associated with a function which, in the years to come, they will be able to recall with no small degree of pride.

Although the exact hour has not yet been fixed, this ceremony will most likely be staged for 3:30 p. m., when it is hoped the citizens will be out in force to do honor to the patriotic loyalty of the children of this city.

Mr. Robert Stewart, a former member of The Herald's mechanical staff, returned to Nanaimo last evening from an extended stay across the line. During his absence from home "Bob" has visited all the large American cities, including Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, New York, Boston, and Washington.

Among the passengers from Vancouver last evening on the S.S. Princess Patricia, were George Barrass, Mr. and Mrs. William Burnip, J. H. Good, Austin Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Eby.

PRETTY WEDDING AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Baptist Church, Albert street, was the scene last evening of one of the prettiest weddings that has taken place in the city for many months the principals in the interesting event being Mr. Thomas Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsay, Haliburton street, and Miss Jeanette Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Milton street.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and was filled with relatives and friends of the contracting parties during the progress of the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. West, the bride being attended by Miss May Lindsay of Vancouver, the groom being supported by his brother William. Mr. Andrew Dunsmore presided at the organ and played selections appropriate to the occasion, while Mrs. Grayshon rendered a solo entitled "Sweet Spirit Hear My Prayer."

At the close of the marriage ceremony the wedding party retired to the home of the bride's parents where some fifty guests partook of a sumptuous repast and enjoyed themselves up to a late hour in general amusement. The bride has been prominently connected with the work of the Baptist Church and on Sunday she was made a presentation by tthe Sunday School, and on Tuesday evening she as the recipient of a linen shower by the young people of the Good Templars Lodge at the home of Mrs. George Lindsay on the Five Acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay who were the recipients of many beautiful presents, leave this morning on a trip to the Mainland, and upon their return will take up their residence on Irwin Street.

Mrs. Jos. P. Tait and family, left yesterday to join her husband in Cumberland, where they will in future reside.

WILL ACT WITH A FIRM HAND

Premier Borden Declares Will Be No Delay on the Part of the Government in the Enforcement of the Military Service Act.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—"We intend to see that the Military Service Act is enforced in every community, every district, every province fairly, impartially and firmly," declared Premier Borden, in the course of his address before an immense audience in Massey Hall this evening to hear the leader of the Union Government open the campaign in Ontario. The Government, he said, would itself appeal against decisions of any Tribunal which seemed based on the idea of wholesale exemptions."

TEUTON FORCES MOWED DOWN

Italians Caught Enemy Between Two Enfilading Lines and Opened a Deadly Fire From Both Sides.

Italian Army Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 20, via Rome and London, Nov. 21.—Going to points along the Piave River where the heaviest fighting has occurred the Associated Press correspondent attached to the Italian forces was told by officers of unusual circumstances connected with the engagement. The colonel commanding the Bersaglieri who carried the day said the strategy which the Austrians attempted turned the tide against them.

In the fight on the cemetery road it was observed early Saturday morn ing that a number of Austrians were coming toward the Italian line with both hands held up as though ready to surrender. For a moment it was believed that the fight was over and the enemy had capitulated. But it was then noticed that all the Austrian machine guns had been removed and close observation showed that behind this front line of men with their hands up followed lines with bayonets and machine guns.

The Italians let them come until the range was short and they were between two enfilading lines. Then a deadly fire was opened on both sides and the Austrians were mowed down in heaps.

It was then that the rout began. The Austrian resistance was broken at the Sega Mill where the enemy had a brief lodgment. He was forced back until he was driven to the brink of the river and then into the water. The Austrians were bayoneted and killed or captured.

A colonel eighteen miles further down the river told of a similar fight when the Austrians attempted to cross in boats from their positions near Calvecchia.

"Our men are absolutely determined," he said. "Their determination to hold the river line is based on experience. You should have seen them yesterday when the Austrians tried to cross in boats there," he added, pointing to a stretch where the river widens. "Our men remained silent while they saw the boats loading and going to midstream. Then they opened with machine guns and rifles. The boats and men were torn to pieces before they got another 20 feet. Not a man was left alive and all the boats sunk. No, you may depend upon it, they will never pass."

FATE OF VENICE IN THE BALANCE

Geneva, Nov. 21.—The Austrian Empress in reply to a telegram sent to her by the Geneva Press Association, asking her to take Venice and its treasures under her protection, says:

"It is understood that an open town which makes no attempt to defend itself has certainly the right to every indulgence. Nevertheless the fate of Venice depends entirely upon the action of the Italian Government."

BRITISH CHARGED ENEMY GUNS

German Battery at Rumilly was Captured by British Cavalry and Gun Crews Sabred — Was Severe Hand to Hand Fighting.

With the British Armies in France Nov. 21.—(By Associated Press).—Nov. 21.— In the severe hand-to-hand fighting at Flespuieres today, British troops preceded by tanks stormed the town. The Germans fired on the tanks with seven big guns at short range. British infantry charged the guns, captured them and killed the crews. Three other guns were captured in a similar manner at Premy Chappelle. British cavalry captured a battery at Rumilly, sabering the crews.

With the British armies in France (by the Associated Press) Nov. 21. via Reutters—Rarely has there been more dramatic stroke in the war than that dealt the Germans in the latest offensive. The great "impregnable" Hindenburg line has been penetrated at a number of points and it was primarily tanks that did it. We had against us here the extremely formidable defences of the Hindenburg line, a great barrier upon which the enemy fell back when he retired last spring. The enemy had increased his strength considerable since, having made it indeed a triple cordon of seperate trench systems. The Germans believed they could hold up the assaults of the world here. Along a part of the central portion is a great tunnel with openings at frequent intervals, which makes it necessary for troops to move above ground and keeps the garrison safe from heavy gun fire. I believe much of this tunnel is now ours. Each of the three lines was protected with a belt of specially stout wire in intricate patterns, all co-ordinated with machine gun posts and strong redoubts, so that apparently the infantry could not approach any point without being swept by machine guns until resistance ceased and the enemy fled to his dug-outs.

"The Hindenburg trenches have been made especially wide for the purpose of frustrating tanks, but they were not wide enough. The Tanks rolled through and over every obstacle and the loss of the infantry behind them was exceedingly light."

BRITISH PATROL VESSEL LOST

London, Nov. 21.—A British patrol vessel was torpedoed by an enemy submarine in the Mediterranean on November 18, according to an Admiralty statement issued tonight. Four officers and five men of the crew were killed.

R. R. HINDMARCH

THE OLD ARMY

Those Nanaimo people who read "The Retreat from Mons" will be interested to know that the author, Major A. Corbet-Smith has published a companion volume entitled, "The Marne—and After." The first named volume was by far the most interesting story of the war we have read. It was not and did not profess to be a history. What it did was to enable the reader to realise to some degree the glorious feat of arms carried out by the British Expeditionary Force in the first ten days' fighting. It gave a masterly portrayal of Tommy in all his moods and laid before the reader his unquenchable good nature, his inexhaustible humor, his unbreakable spirit and his incredible gallantry.

In this new volume the author takes the same army he described in retreat from the Marne to the Aisne and then on to Ypres. The operations are bigger and the time longer, and there is necessarily some difference in the plan and scheme of the work. But again it is Tommy who tells the bigger part of the story and again is the reader made to glow with the incredibly glorious nature of Tommy's service and to weep at the appalling sacrifice he so willingly and so heroically made. We learn for the first time that the force began the battle of the Marne without reinforcements either of men or of guns, that it dug in on the Aisne, after making an impassible crossing without equipment and that up to and right through its last glorious stand at Ypres it never had a high explosive shell. "The Last Stand of the Old Army," the last chapter in the book, should be read again and again by all Englishman and the sons and daughters of Englishmen. The old army "the contemptible little army," was wiped out, but it stopped the German hordes. Fighting at odds of seven to one, without a chance to dig in, and pounded to pieces by German artillery, with no relief possible and no reserves, these heroes of the 7th Division and Haig's 1st Corps fought off the Germans and in the end actually charged back to their original positions.

As the author says it had been a square stand-off fight between Briton and German, and the Briton won against all odds. The story should be told again, and we agree with the author that the tale of such glorious heroism should be kept alive. The old army lost 75 per cent. of its strength in this battle. The men thus lost were truly sacrifices to the Empire's unpreparedness. What they saved us all from the author briefly hints in his stories of German barbarity and soulless cruelty. At this stage in the great struggle the authorities should see that the work of the soldiers and the sacrifices they have made are fully realised by the people. There would be all the less latitude for slackers and traitors, for the people as a whole would know what has been done and realise what has still to be done.

Wincarnis is the one thing you need when you are—

Weak, Anaemic, Nervous, Run-down

THE wonderful results of Wincarnis in cases of Weakness, Anaemia, Nerve Troubles, and that "Run-down" condition, are due to the four-fold power that Wincarnis possesses. Wincarnis is not merely a "tonic"—it is a Tonic, a Restorative, a Blood-maker, and a Nerve Food—all combined in one. Therefore, when you take Wincarnis, you derive new strength,—and at the same time, new rich blood—and at the same time, new nerve-force—and at the same time, new vitality. Thus the whole system is invigorated, and revitalised, and becomes surcharged with a delicious feeling of new life. That is why over 10,000 Doctors recommend Wincarnis.

Take advantage of the new and lasting health Wincarnis offers you. Don't suffer needlessly. Remember that Wincarnis has an unrivalled reputation of 30 years' standing.

THE VICTORY LOAN

When the local Victory Loan committee, at its initial meeting, decided to make a quarter of a million dollars the slogan for their campaign there were some present who thought the figure rather high and all were agreed that they were going the limit. Yet with other nine days to go the total is well over the two hundred thousand mark, and it is obvious that the campaign is going to produce an even larger subscription than was aimed at. The splendid response of the people of Nanaimo must be very gratifying to the campaign committee, and should encourage the canvassers who have done such excellent work to put on a whirlwind finish. The city has made a splendid showing, and proved conclusively that the hearts of the bulk of the people are in the right place, that they want to see the war carried through to a victorious finish.

NEARLY ALL ALLOWED.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Keen disappointment is expressed by the local military authorities over the returns so far reported by the exemption tribunals for the Montreal military district. So far the exemptions allowed total 6,962, and the exemptions refused 235.

A. F. OF L. STANDS WITH GOVERNMENT

Buffalo, Nov. 21.—Without a dissenting voice the American Federation of Labor reaffirmed its unswerving loyalty to the country and a determination to stand behind the national administration until peace comes. The pacifist element which yesterday mustered a small minority against President Gomper's attitude in support of the war, was silent.

The resolution containing the declaration was reported favorably by the resolutions committee. It was sweeping in scope.

The course pursued by President Gompers in calling a conference of the national and international officers of the Federation at Washington March 12 was approved, and all its subsequent actions and those of the executive council with reference to the war were concurred in.

NEW GOVERNMENT AND RIOTS IN FINLAND

Helsingfors, Nov. 21.— The general strike which has been in progress in Finland for several days will be ended tomorrow. A Socialist government of twelve persons has been formed in an effort to overcome the food shortage. The Red Guard will remain under arms until all the demands of the workmen have been satisfied. Disarmament of the White Guard by workmen has resulted in a few clashes, in which nine people were killed.

REPORTS FROM BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The French opened a strong attack on the Germans on a six-mile front north of the Aisne this afternoon, according to the official report from general head quarters tonight. The British are still using powerful forces against the Hindenburg line in the Cambrai sector.

PERSHING WATCHED AS BRITISH STRUCK

British Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press).—General Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, was present at the British headquarters as the guest of Field Marshal Haig to witness the British offensive. The American commander followed the novel battle with the deepest interest.

WILL PRESENT CASE.

Victoria, Nov. 21.—The British Columbia department of railways has received permission to present its case against the Canadian Northern railway before the commission which will arbitrate upon the value the common stock of the C. N. R. The position of the province in respect of bond guarantees should the company's stock be taken over by the Dominion is one point upon which Brittish Columbia is desirous of informaion. Hon. John Oliver holds that if the Dominion asumes control it should also asume the company's obligation under its agreement with he province.

CLERGY FAVORS MONARCHY.

Washington, Nov. 21.—An official German statement radiographed from Nauen, says the Catholic clergy of Germany, rejecting the principle of sovereignty of the people, have aligned themselves in support of the ruling house and the Monarchistic constitution.

TAKE "CASCARETS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colds sour stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

FRENCH PRISONER SHOT.

Copenhagen, Nov. 21.—The trial by courtmartial of a French prisoner of war has brought out the hitherto suppressed fact that the dommissary storehouse at Augsburg, Bavaria, containing hay, straw and flour from last year's crop to the value of nearly 1,000,000 marks, has been destroyed by an incendiary fire. The prisoner admitted having set the fire and was condemned to death.

TEUTONS SENT HOME.

At Atlantic Port, Nov. 21.—A Norwegian pasenger steamer left today for a Norwegian port, having among its passengers German and Austrian diplomatic and consular representatives from South America and Asiatic countries en route to their native countries under a safe conduct, guaranteed by the Entente Governments. Including women and children, the party numbered 70.

Smash Through to Victory
BUY VICTORY BONDS

OVER at the battlefront, rolling onward remorselessly, its guns belching forth disaster and death to the enemy, the Tank smashes through all obstacles that bar the way.

And here in Canada the Victory Loan brings to every one of us the privilege of helping to crush the Hun with our money.

We cannot all serve in the trenches; we cannot all fire a gun or help to man a Tank; but we can all buy Victory Bonds.

What of your money? Is it helping to smash through to Victory?

The amount of the Victory Bonds you buy is the measure of your fighting power.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

DRIVING WEDGE DEEPER INTO THE TEUTON LINE

Great Stretches of New Country And Fresh Villages Are Being Captured by Victorious British Arms—Teutons' Last Line of Defence s Broken Into And Every Fot of Ground Taken From Enemy Is Held by the Victors.

With the Brtish Armies in France, Nov. 22.—(By Associated Press).—British cavalry, tanks and infantry [illegible] along the line running from the west of Cambrai to the south of that town.

London, Nov. 22.—The British official communication issued today announced the successful consolidation of all captured area in the region of Cambrai except the village of Fantain Notre Dame, which has been recaptured by the Germans in a counter attack.

Success Grows Hourly

With the British Armies in France Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Via Reuters Ottawa Agency.—We have not yet reached the limit of our victory, success grows hourly. The total prisoners is over 9,000. Great stretches of new country and fresh villages are being captured and besides increasing in depth the wedge is spreading at the base. The weather continues most unfavorable, heavy mist preventing airplane observation. Nevertheless, airmen continue to fly over the battleground penetrating far into the enemy territory at the level of the tree tops.

The latest village captured is Cantaing and our troops are now in the neighborhood of Bourlon and Mocurres, while fighting is progressing in the region of Rumilly and Noyelles with troops hurried up for the purpose, but all were easily repulsed.

At Cantaing and beyond Mesnieres we have broken into sections of the last line of defense and now hold the Hindenburg line with the famous tunnel where counter attacks have been heavy and pressed with great determination, but we hold everything taken.

Our casualties are incredibly small The troops are most cheerful and are roaming over new and unspoiled country where villages have not been destroyed and tilled fields abound.

Cambrai Now Threatened.

London, Nov. 22.—The British are carrying forward successfully the manoeuvres which apparently has as their objective the encirclement and capture of the important railroad junction of Cambrai in northern France.

For three days the forces of Gen. Byng have been strictly keeping to their task of smashing the German positions in this region and now, having driven the enemy from all his fortified strongholds are battling with him in the open with monstrous tanks and dashing cavalry everywhere opening the way for an onslaught by infantry. Already the British line describes an arc from the west to the southwest of Cambrai with the lower point resting in the district near Fontaine Notre Dame. This village was captured in a brilliant attack Wednesday night, but the Germans in a counter attack Thursday regained it. Throughout the entire area taken by the British in the drive the work of consolidating the new positions is rapidly being carried forward.

In addition to heavy losses in men killed or wounded more than 9,000 Germans have been made prisoners up to midday Thursday. The British casualties are declared to be considerably less than the number of prisoners taken by General Byng's men.

To the south of Juvincourt, in the Aisne region where French troops took several positions from the Germans on Wednesday, a counter attack which cost the enemy serious losses, has been effectually blocked. South of S. Quentin, the French again raided the enemy positions at several points, destroying them and taking prisoners.

ARE PUSHING ON TOWARE CAMBRAI

Victorious British Forces Are Now Threatening the Main Links in the German Supply System on Western Front.

London, Nov. 22.—Triumphant in their stroke against the Hindenburg Line, British troops are pushing on toward Cambrai and the main links in the German supply system, now less than three miles away.

The village of Fonaine Notre Dame, two and three-quarter miles southwest of Cambrai, on the main road between Bapaume and Cambrai, is now in British hands, a fact which Field Marshal Haig reported today.

As the execution has been unlike any previous operation on the Western front, so is the success of General Byng's smash. Without artillery preparation and with only tanks to cut the wire entanglements, British infantry tore such holes in the German defences that British cavalry is now taking part in the drive toward Cambrai and the Belgian border beyond.

While the British attacked on a front of 32 miles between St. Quentin and the Scarpe, their main effort was on a 15-mile front west and southwest of Cambrai, where an initial advance of more than five miles was made.

At Cantaing and Noyelles British troops advanced to within three miles of Cambrai and on the south they reached Crevecoeur, four miles away. The Scheldt Canal was gained, as also the towns on the Scheldt or L'Escaut River, whose valley extends northeast through Belgium to Antwerp.

In the United Kingdom the victory of General Byng is hailed as the greatest on the Western front and it is looked upon as the forerunner of still greater achievements against the supposedly impregnable Hindenburg Line.

What effect the British drive will have on the Austro-German invasion of Italy is not apparent, but the Italians are holding tenaciously to the positions and the invaders have not been able to make a marked gain in two days.

REOPENING THE JINGLE POT

Chief Inspector of Mines Wilkinson yesterday opened out the stopping which was built in the main slope of the Jingle Pot mine about six weeks ago because of an outbreak of fire in the workings. So fas as The Herald can learn the investigation so far as it went, was very encouraging and pointed to the extinction of the fire. Further examination will be made and it is expected that the mine will be in operation again in the course of a few days.

Chief Inspector Wilkinson is having an epidemic of fires. In addition to the others he has been called upon to look after during the last few months, he was called to the Morden mine on Wednesday. Fortunately the fire there was caught in time, and was easily isolated, so that the operation of the mine will not be interfered with at all.

CONTRACT LET FOR 1200 SHIPS

Washington, Nov. 22.—Contracts for almost two-thirds of the 1200 merchant vessels contemplated in the Government's shipbuilding program have been awarde the Shipping Board announced today. The tonnage contracted for totals more than 4,000,000 tons. The entire program calls for about 8,000,000 tons to which will be added ships building for private account commandeered in the yards. The contracts let are for 345 steel, 58 composite and 375 wooden vessels.

Enumerators Chas. Wilson, Jas. Bennett and Will F. Norris of Districts 5, 6 and 7, which constitute the South Ward, will open offices today in the Balmoral block, Haliburton street for the convenience of voters in this ward to ascertain if their names are on the voters' lists. Any other information in connection with the forthcoming Dominion elections of interest to residents of this ward will also be obtained upon application to any one of the enumerators

GREEK TROOPS AT THE FRONT

Many New Divisions of Greek Troops Have Been Swiftly Formed and Several Have Joined Allied Forces on Salonica Front.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Greece is rapidly preparing to take her part in the war. A cablegram received here today from Athens via Switzerland, says many new divisions of Greek troops have been swiftly formed and several have taken their places at the front. The morale of the new troops is declared excellent.

Petrograd, Nov. 22.—The Russian Caucasus army has won a marked gress. It initiated an attack and over river Dyal, according to information reaching army circles here and the Workmen's and Soldiers' Congram have been awarded the Shipping came the Turks, capturing 1600 of them, of whom 354 were officers. The morale of the troops is said to be excellent.

BRAZIL FEARS GERMAN SUBS

Brazilian Authorities Under Impression Germany Intends to Operate Submarines in South American Waters.

Rio Grande de Sal Brazil Nov. 22.—Coastwise vessels report having seen a submarine near this port and Brazilian warships have been seeking it. The crew of the vessel which arrived here recently reported having sighted a Spanish sailing vessel off the Island of Arvoredo, and the belief was held that this vessel was one of several that was conveying submarines.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 22.—A resident of Rio Janeiro, well known, has been arrested for photographing sections of the coast near the German colonies. Search of his house revealed extensive plans for the operation and subsistence of submarines in Brazilian waters. The authorities believe that it is the intention to operate German submarines in Brazilian waters if they have not already arrived. As a result, all navigation lights along the Brazilian coast have been shut off and vessels are navigating without lights of any kind.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Railroad brotherhood chiefs in a statement issued tonight after a two-hours' conference with President Wilson on the wage dispute, announced that any suspension of transportation would be avoided and declared their willingness to discuss and consider any suggested solution of the difficulties.

VICTORY BOND SALES MOUNTING

Nanaimo Is Fast Nearing the Quarter Million Mark in the Sale of Victory Bonds—Big Parade Today.

Salesmen who are canvassing Nanaimo in connection with the sale of Victory Bonds are showing additional energy as the goal of a quarter of a million is being reached and when the Drive comes to an end there is no doubt Nanaimo's total will have passed well beyond the mark set at the opening of the campaign.

Last night the Indicator showed Nanaimoites had purchased $235,000 worth of Victory Bonds and the committee and its staff of volunteer salesmen are determined if at all possible to not only reach the quarter million mark today but to go as far as possible beyond that total. The results of today's efforts will be shown by the Indicator at the close of the children's parade this afternoon, and no doubt considerable interest will be shown in the total contributions todate by Nanaimo for the purchase of Victory Bonds.

Today's parade will marshal at the Victory Loan Headquarters at the intersection of Wallace and Commercial Stret at 2.30, thence march along Comercial street to the Post Office where a patriotic air will be sung by the school children, after which the marchers will return to the Victory Loan Headquarters where they will be addressed by members of the School Trustee Board.

The salesmen will be busy today calling on prospective buyers and it is hoped the public will not hesitate to purchase Victory Bonds and thus swell Nanaimo's total to large proportions.

CANADIAN POLL IN THE STATES

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—For the first time in the history of the Dominion, Canadian polls will be established in the United States. Many Canadians have joined the Royal Flying Corps and are stationed in one of the Southern States. For those military polls will be established and men will cast their vote in the elections as though still in Canada. Further, once a soldier leaves Canada his female relatives are entitled to vote. Therefore, female relatives of Canadians in British or Canadian units in the States, will vote as well as soldiers themselves. Female relatives of soldiers in Canada do not vote.

KERENSKY NOW WITHOUT TROOPS

Copenhagen, Nov. 22.—"The Bolsheviki press agency, officially reports from Petrograd that all of Premier Kerensky's troops have surrendered and that the Bolsheviki also have gained a complete victory at Moscow," says a dispatch to the Berlingsk Etidende from Haparanda.

"The Ukrainan Government has sent an army of 150,000 men against Gen. Kaledines head man of the Cossacks and at the same time General Krasnoff, a member of Kerensky's staff, is sent to Kaledines' headquarters to open negotiations with him."

At a meeting of the Win-the-War League last night, it was decided to send an invitation to the Liberal and Conservative Associations to send ten delegates each to a meeting to be held in the Board of Trade rooms on Tuesday night next to meet with ten delegates from the League for the purpose of arranging a joint campaign committee to look after the interests of the union candidate, Mr. J. C. McIntosh, in this district, during the election.

ITALIANS INFLICT SEVERE LOSSES UPON INVADERS

Repeated Desperate Attacks By Austro-German Forces Fail to Break Italian Line Between Brent and Piave Rivers Where Sanguinary Battles Are In Progress—Enemy Masses Attacked on the Asiago Plateau But Were Everywhere Repulsed.

London, Nov. 22. — Sanguinary battles are in progress in the Italian theatre between the Brent and Piave rivers where the armies of the Teutonic allies, greatly superior in numbers, are striving to break through the hill country to the Venetian plains. The Italians seemingly are holding their own and inflicting severe losses on the invaders.

West of the upper reaches of the Piave, where the enemy is endeavoring to gain the valley leading into Venetia, the Berlin War Office claims the capture of Monte Spinnaccia but according to the Rome War Office, except on the former position where a few advanced Italian lines were reached, the enemy everywhere has been repulsed.

Rome, Nov. 22.—The Austro-German forces invading Northern Italy yesterday reached a few of the outstanding positions on the Italian advanced lines on Monte Fontana Secca but elsewhere the Teutons were repulsed, the War Office here announced [illegible]

The report follows:

"Yesterday the enemy made several attacks between the Brenta and the Piave rivers. He was sanguinarily repulsed with the bayonet at the barrier lines of St. Marino, where he fruitlessly renewed the attack three times. He was arrested completely by artillery fire at Monte Monfenera. A few outstanding elements of our advanced lines on Monte Fantana were reached.

"During the early hours of last night enemy masses on the Asiago Plateau attacked our positions at Casara and Meetta d'Avanti, but our troops, offering heroic resistance, and counter attacking, promptly drove them back.'

I. O. D. E. ENTERTAINED SOLDIERS AT QAULICUM

Selections from "The Country Girl" formed the principal attraction of the I. O. D. E. programme for the boys on Wednesday, our old friend the Rajah (J. McGill) singing at his best, "Peace." Miss Martin and Miss Jackson singing the now popular "Try Again Tommy," "My Partners, Crinoline" and "Molly the Marchioness" to the delight of every "Tommy" in the room. Miss Martin also kindly contributed extra songs which were encored again and again. Winnie Pollard, though very young, is an old favorite with her comic songs and tongue twisters, sang Burlington Bertie and Ginger Wine.

Owing to unforseen circumstances one car was late but Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale never sang more beautifully than she did Wednesday night in "Under the Deodas" and "There is Plenty of Love in the World."

Mr. P. McAlpine (takes a lot to beat him) was introduced to the boys for the first time but it will never be his last. He made a great hit. It was hard to nnow which they liked him best as a girl, as a kiltie or as a "chicken"—a jolly chorus and everyone was glad to be able to help amuse the returned soldier boys in our midst.

REPLIED TO WIN THE WAR LEAGUE

At a meeting of the Win-the-War League last night, the following letter from the Minister of Militia, in reply to a resolution of the League dealing with the conscription of allied aliens, was read:

Ottawa, Nov. 12th, 1917.

My Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 5th inst., enclosing copy of a resolution adopted by the Win-the-War League regarding the enlistment of aliens.

I wish some provision in the Military Service Act would permit us to do as your resolution suggests.

I am, however, forwarding your letter to the Minister of Labor and asking him to bring it before the Privy Council for consideration.

Yours very truly,
S. C. MEWBURN.

E. Marshall, Esq., Secretary, Nanaimo Win-the-War League:

The question was tabled by the League pending the taking of further steps to press upon the Government the necessiy of taking prompt and drastc action.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA.

Mr. W. W. B. McInnes is apparently the leader of the party in this province which is opposed to conscription and union government, in other words he is the head of the party in British Columbia which has lined up alongside Quebec in its support of Laurier against the empire and against Canadianism.

Mr. McInnes is well known locally and is personally very popular. The oldtimers here have a store of legend about his Homeric oratory of his political crosses and truly he has behind him a wonderful political record. He was one of the judges of the province, a position which was given him, not on account of the reputation he had made in law, but as a reward for his unique political accomplishments. He has left the bench to again enter politics, and most people will agree that it cannot be a good thing for the judiciary of this province when a politically made judge uses the bench as a political springboard.

He has opened his campaign with a gusty criticism of the Borden government. In all probability the criticism was justified, just as any party government with which Mr. McInnes was identified would deserve probably severer criticism. The point is that the record of the government is not the issue of this election. There are thousands of Canadians who will vote for union candidates in this election, just because they believe that a union government can alone save Canada and can carry on the business of the war. The only other alternative is Laurier and separatism, and this they will not have.

Mr. McInnes argues that there is no need of conscription for the reason that there are at present 100,000 Canadians in England. This is the of the genial Billy's familiar political quibbles. There are Canadians at the front who have been there since the spring of 1915. Their only leave from the front has been when they were sent back wounded, and no sooner where they recovered that they were sent back again. We know of Nanaimo boys who have only been once or twice away from the front since the first Canadian force landed in France, and then only because of wounds received and still in the trenches, and they are there with others like them, for the sole reason that there are no available men to take their place. It is these men who have suffered and are suffering, and not the men who are being called up now.

Mr. McInnes is frankly Kaiser's chief. He is quite right in declaring that there will be no need for a referendum after the election. If the Union government is defeated, then it may be taken that the people of Canada are against conscription, and the question will have been decided one way for all time. This will not be the case if Laurier is returned to power. And there must be no beating about the bush as to the nature of the forces which are working against conscription. Lloyd George, speaking the other day in England, referred broadly to the propaganda work being carried on by Germany. They have been busy in the United States, and in Italy and the neutral countries, and in every other belligerent country. We have seen how active they have been in the United States, and they are still busy across the border. It goes without saying they are busy in Canada, and some of the recent labor troubles in the Dominion have been traced to a German source. They will be busy in this election, and the defeat of the Union government and the paralysis of Canada's war efforts. A vote for Laurier, or for any of his supporters in this election, is a vote against Canada and, however much it may be explained and argued, a vote for Germany.

CLEMENCEAU SPEAKS OF FRENCH WAR AIMS

Paris Nov. 21.—The war aim of Premier Clemenceau is to be a victor, he told the Chamber of Deputies today.

"If Germany expressed a wish to enter into the society of nations I would not agree," the Premier said, "for Germany's signature cannot be trusted.

"You ask what my war aims are? My aim is to be a victor."

During interpellations after the ministerial declaration, Deputy Pierre Forget demanded the firm handling of the political scandals. He declared that Louis J. Malvy, former Minister of the Interior, either is a traitor or that Leon Daudet, Malvy's accuser, is a scoundrel. He demanded that the connection of Joseph Caillaux with the scandals should be made clear. Premier Clemenceau made an approving gesture and M. Caillaux applauded, but the Premier, in reply, refused to enter into details. He assured the Chamber that justice would be dealt relentlessly for crimes against the country.

The Premier expressed sympathy with the Socialists and idealists, but declared that experiments were impossible in war time. He turned the laugh on some of his interrupters by saying that the only advantage of old age is that one becomes deaf.

DOMINION THEATRE

Winsor Mackenzie, who appears tonight at the Dominion theatre in "The Trouble Buster," is known around the studios as "Miss Merry." This is because of the unlimited supply of good cheer which Miss Martin invariably carries concealed on her small person. The Trouble Buster, which was written for Miss Martin by Rowland Forman, a fellow-actor and an author, brings every bit of fun and lovableness of which Miss Martin is capable and proves that its name was well chosen, for it is guaranteed to dispel any lingering gloom, besides telling a very dramatic story of real life.

With this fine feature is also shown a two-reel comedy "A Reckless Romeo" with that prince of funmakers Fatty Arbuckle. Don't over look this attraction.

VICTOR RECORDS & TALENT

The recent visit to Vancouver of such famous Artists as Madame Melba, Alma Gluck, and the preliminary announcement of Caruso and Paderewski has come as gratifying to all true lovers of music—because that the world's greatest artists are here represented. You, too, are interested, we presume, would be delighted to hear these talented artists in person, but probably on account of time and other circumstances are prevented from doing so. It is disappointing, we know, but we can help you; perhaps you are not aware that we have had these same artists, and many others, too, in our store all the time. They are here waiting to give their voices any time you may wish to hear them. Our Victor Demonstrating Parlors are always at your disposal, and we extend a cordial invitation to you to hear the world's greatest artists within the Victor catalogue.

Fifty Dollars

To Herald Patrons

The Herald it putting up a Victory Loan Bond, value $50.00 for competition among its Subscribers and Customers. Every person paying 50 cents to The Herald between now and the 31st of January, 1918 has an equal chance of getting this Victory Bond. The conditions are very simple.

There is a jar of beans in The Herald window, and with every payment of 50 cents to The Herald a ticket is given, entitling the person making this payment to make an estimate of the number of beans in the jar. The estimated number is written on the ticket, together with the name and address of the estimator, and the ticket deposited in a sealed box in The Herald office.

The person who estimates the correct number, or the nearest correct number, gets the Victory Bond. In case of a tie another contest will decide.

The jar in the window is sealed and nobody knows the number of beans it contains.

The chance of securing this fifty dollar Bond is equal to all, and it costs nothing.

A subscriber to The Herald gets the same chance as the person who buys advertising, stationery, printing, or Christmas cards.

The 'Daily Herald'

"The next solacing fact is this: That most of this debt will be a debt we owe to ourselves. Great Britain is borrowing in the main from her own children. The debt is in the family . . . and the more we lend the less will Great Britain owe to others. And that is the most important fact in our national security and national wealth."

— Premier Lloyd George in Albert Hall, London, October 22nd last.

Happy will be the Nation which Owes its War Debts to its Own People

THE interest on Canada's war debt is now about $25,000,000 a year.

If that interest is paid in Canada to the Canadian people it will go back into circulation in Canada, instead of being sent out to foreign creditors.

Likewise when the principal comes due it will be kept in Canada for re-investment and thus will aid in the development of the nation and its resources.

And that is a most important fact in Canada's national security following the war, just as it is important to Great Britain's National security that her war debt shall be owed to her own children, when the war is over.

So when you buy Victory Bonds you not only directly help Canada to fight the war but you contribute to the national security after the war.

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT HELPED HER

"Fruit-a-tives" Again Proves Its Extraordinary Powers

ROCHON, QUE., March 2nd, 1915.

"I have received the most wonderful benefit from taking "Fruit-a-tives". I suffered for years from Rheumatism and change of life, and I took every remedy obtainable without results. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and it was the only medicine that really did me good. Now I am entirely well—the Rheumatism has disappeared, and the terrible pains in my body are all gone. I hope that others, who suffer from such distressing diseases, will try "Fruit-a-tives". MADAME ISAIE ROCHON.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

REFERENDUM MUST CARRY.

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 22 (via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Since the announcement of the conscription referendum, recruiting has been brisker. Hon. Mr. Cook, minister of the navy, announces that the government will resign if the referendum is defeated.

EAT BIG MEALS! NO SOUR, ACID STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

Time it. Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There wil be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness of intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a crtain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

EIGHT MILLIONS FOR C. N. R. HEADS

Otawa, Nov. 21.—An official statement given out today by the government dealing with the agreement recently arrived at with the Canadian Northern railway to arbitrate the value of the 600,000 shares of the company to become the property of the government, confirms previous reports in regard to the same, and some new details are given. No arbitrator is named in the agreement, but the appointment of Sir William Meredith, chief justice of Ontario, to represent the government, is officially confirmed. The agreement, as has been stated, provides that no greater sum than $10,000,000 can be paid for the C. N. R. shares. If the value is found to be less than $10,000,000, then the less sum will be paid. It is understood, says the announcement that MacKenzie, Mann & Co., Ltd. own approximately five-sixths of these shares; consequently, the maximum that can be paid to them will be something over $8,000,000. As, however, these shares are pledged to their bankers as part security for advances of various kinds, the money, doubtless, will be paid to the banks.

EARL CRADDOCK WILL TUSSLE WITH YUSHIF

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 22.—Earl Caddock, champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, announced yesterday that he would be ready to meet Yushif Hussane, the Bulgarian giant, in a match here December 7. The match was originally scheduled for Wednesday night, but a minor operation caused Craddock to call it off.

The champion will get his training workouts while exhibiting with Mike and Tommy Gibbons and other boxers and wrestlers, making the barnstorming trip through Illinois and Iowa for the benefit of the Camp Dodge gymnasium fund. The troupe starts its tour at Sioux City.

WINNIPEG BONSPIEL.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT COLD!

You never know what a bad cold may develop into. Many a serious illness has resulted from "only a cold." Take Peps at the start and you will have nothing to fear. When a Pep is dissolved in the mouth Pine vapor is liberated and breathed down the bronchial tubes into the lungs, soothing and healing all the sore and inflamed membranes.

Mr. J. Wall of South Nelson, N.B., writes: "I had a very obstinate cold and sent for a free trial package of Peps, which helped me so much that I immediately secured a box from the druggist. These I took regularly, with the result that my cold soon disappeared."

Peps cannot be equalled for such ailments as bronchitis, asthma, sore throat, laryngitis, catarrh, colds, coughs and all other affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. All dealers. 50c. box.

C.P.R. Brings a Tank to Canada

(1) British "Tanks" moving for a charge on German trenches.
(2) The "Tank" is equally at home on the level or climbing hills.
(3) The side that faces the foe. The shells are poured from the opening on the right.

EVERY one remembers the sensation produced on the battlefront in Flanders by the appearance of the land-battleships familiarly known as "Tanks." Through the efforts of Lord Shaughnessy of the C. P. R., who undertook to cover the heavy expense of transport, the British Government has agreed to send one of the "Tanks" to Montreal to take part in a great parade for the Victory Loan. Owing to the urgent need for this "Tank" elsewhere, its stay in this country cannot be for long, so that Montreal will be the only city in Canada to have the privilege of seeing this wonderful weapon of war. It carries six machine guns, and will be manned by a crew of gunners, all of whom have been wounded in actual "Tank" service at the front. The Tank will be manned and guarded night and day by its own crew, who will be assisted by a large squad of C. P. R. police.

King George, while recently in Flanders, rode with the Prince of Wales in a "Tank" almost identical with the one coming to Montreal. The strain of riding in a "Tank" under action is so terrific that after one day each man gets a week's leave to recuperate his nerves. Such, however, is the competition among volunteers to ride in the "Tank" that there is a large waiting list of men who have put down their names for the privilege of fighting the Hun in this way. It will be noted from the close up illustration that the shield of the machine gun is just like a human eyeball, but no human eye was ever more watchful than that of the man behind the gun.

CORPORATION DIVIDENDS.

New York, Nov. 22.—Bethlehem Steel Corporation has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent on the "A" and "B" common, also an initial quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the new 8 per cent preferred stock, both payable January 2 to stockholders of record December 15. Following the meeting of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, President F. G. Grace stated that the company, like the other steel companies, was feeling the effect of the shortage of ore cars and equipment.

$4 Saved Two Fingers

The fingers were those of Mr. J. W. Besnard, of 539 Craig St. E., Montreal. He says, —"A falling beam badly smashed my hand. Two fingers were so severely crushed that the doctors said they would have to be amputated. Naturally I didn't want this, so decided to try Zam-Buk first. I applied Zam-Buk daily, and by the time I had used $4 worth, the injury was completely healed. My fingers were saved!"

Just another illustration of the healing power of Zam-Buk. Accidents will happen. It may be your turn next. Better get a box and keep it handy. Accidents are less frequent than skin diseases, and remember this—

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ulcers, skin diseases, and piles, as for cuts, burns, bruises.

All druggists and stores 50c. box, or 3 for $1.25. Refuse substitutes.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
South Wellington School
Second Call.

Sealed Tenders, superscribed "Tender for South Wellington School," will be received by the Honourable the Minister of Public Works up to 12 o'clock noon of Tuesday, the 27th day of November, 1917, for the erection and completion of a four-room school at South Wellington, in the Newcastle Electoral District, B. C.

Plans, specifications, contract, and forms of tender may be seen on and after the 8th day of November, 1917, at the office of J. Mahony, Government Agent, Court-house, Vancouver B.C.; S. McB. Smith, Government Agent, Court-house, Nanaimo, B.C.; J. E. Parrott, Esq., Secretary of the School Board, South Wellington, B. C.; or the Department of Public Works, Victoria, B. C.

Intending tenderers can obtain one set of plans and specifications by applying to the undersigned with a deposit of ten dollars ($10) which will be refunded on their return in good order.

Each proposal must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque on a chartered bank of Canada, made payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for a sum equal to 20 per cent. of tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. The cheques of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned to them upon the execution of the contract.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on the forms supplied signed with the actual signature of the tenderer, and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

KAISER'S BLESSING FALLS UPON POLAND

Berlin, Nov. 22.—The Polish regency council, upon entering office, says an official statement issued today, sent a letter to Emperor William declaring it was the intention to conduct the regency on lines laid down in the Emperor's manifesto of November 5 and December 12. The letter adds: "We expect the Polish people in the further development of historic events, relying on their own defensive force and pursuing their own interests, founded on common Western kultur, will strive with both central powers for common political and economic aims." Emperor William, in reply said he shared the regency's conviction that on the basis of union with the Central Powers vital conditions are provided for guaranteeing prosperity to the Polish state, and "blessings of peace, kultur and welfare to its citizens."

He added that he was confident Poland had been called to enter a new period of national greatness and "thereby has become an important factor in Europe's development in accordance with the Western ideals of kultur." The Emperor concluded with the words: "May the Almighty bless your work."

G. T. R. CONCILIATION BOARD.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The Minister of Labor has appointed a board of conciliation to deal with the dispute between the Grand Trunk Railway and its maintenance of way men. The board is composed of Judge Wallace, of Woodstock, chairman, and F. H. McGuigan and J. G. O.Donoghue, of Toronto.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Mothers can rest easy, after giving "California Syrup of Figs,, because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit Fig Syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

OFFICIAL PROSPECTUS

The Proceeds of this Loan will be used for War purposes only, and will be spent wholly in Canada

The MINISTER OF FINANCE offers for Public Subscription

Canada's Victory Loan

$150,000,000. 5½% Gold Bonds

Bearing interest from December 1st, 1917, and offered in three maturities, the choice of which is optional with the subscriber, as follows:

5 year Bonds due December 1st, 1922
10 year Bonds due December 1st, 1927
20 year Bonds due December 1st, 1937

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The amount of this issue is $150,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $150,000,000.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold

Denominations; $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Subscriptions must be in sums of $50 or multiples thereof.

Principal payable without charge at the Office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the Office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, June 1st and December 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Bearer or Registered Bonds

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable, or payable to bearer, in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued after allotment in exchange for provisional receipts. When these scrip certificates have been paid in full, and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer, or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of interim certificates and of definitive bonds will be made through the Chartered Banks.

Bearer bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $50., $100., $500., and $1,000. and may be registered as to principal only. Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance.

Surrender of Bonds

Holders of Dominion of Canada Debenture Stock, due October 1st, 1919, and of bonds of the three preceding Dominion of Canada War Loan Issues, have the privilege of surrendering their bonds in part payment for subscriptions to bonds of this issue, under the following conditions:—

(These will be accepted in part payment for bonds of the 1937 maturity ONLY of this Issue.)

Bonds of the various maturities of this issue will, in the event of future issues of like maturity, or longer, made by the Government, other than issues made abroad, be accepted at par and accrued interest, as the equivalent of cash for the purpose of subscription to such issues.

Issue Price Par

Free from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on December 1st, 1917	20% on March 1st, 1918
10% on January 2nd, 1918	20% on April 1st, 1918
20% on February 1st, 1918	20% on May 1st, 1918

A full half year's interest will be paid on 1st June, 1918

5.61% on the 20 year Bonds
5.68% on the 10 year Bonds
5.81% on the 5 year Bonds

All payments are to be made to a Chartered Bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a Chartered Bank. Any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will forward subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied toward payment of the amount due on the January instalment.

Subscriptions may be paid in full on January 2nd, 1918, or on any instalment due date thereafter under discount at the rate of 5½% per annum. Under this provision payments of the balance of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid on January 2nd,	1918, at the rate of	89.10795 per $100.
If paid on February 1st,	1918, at the rate of	79.46959 per $100.
If paid on April 1st,	1918, at the rate of	39.90959 per $100.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank, or from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof.

The books of the Loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of this issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Subscription Lists will close on or before December 1st, 1917.

BOARD WILL ACCEPT PUBLIC SUGGESTIONS

After two week's work, which has consisted chiefly of considering figures and other facts concerning the existing systems of taxation and assessment and getting such information into convenient form, the members of the Taxation Board recently appointed by the Provincial Government to act with Professor Haig, the taxation expert employed by the Government, is ready to accept suggestions from public organizations. Notice is given that the board has set aside next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, on which days it will be open to the public will be held morning, sessions will be held from 10.30 to 1.30 o'clock. The programme has been arranged as follows:

Friday, Nov. 23—Forenoon session United Farmers of B.C. and farming. Afternoon, miscellaneous.

The above meetings will be open to the public. Requests for hearings must be addressed to the chairman of the board, Mr. John B. McKilligan, Victoria, B.C.

The idea of these public meetings is to give any delegation or representative of taxpayers an opportunity to air their objections, if any, to the existing system of Provincial taxation as embodied in the present Taxation Act and amendments thereto. Professor Haig, of New York, who is acting in an advisory capacity for the Government and the board, will attend these meetings.

BIJOU THEATRE

"When Love Was Blind" with Florence La Badie in the leading role, is the feature on the Bijou programme for today and tomorow. This photoplay deserves additional interest from the fact that this beautiful and talented actress dropped dead in the studio but a few days since. With this will be shown a thrilling instalment of "Patria" with Mrs. Vernon Castle.

COLORED BATTALION FULL OF THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

Genial Jack Belton, the shoe-shine artist, is naturally interested in the welfare of his brethren in Washington who have been drafted into the Canadian great Liberty Army. He is particularly interested in the boys of the 49th Company, 13th Jodoca Battalion, who have just gone into camp from Los Angeles. The boys had a great trip through, and in a message of thanks to the California Eagle say "We hope to return to you when the war is over, but while we fight for you we want you to pray for us and we will assure you that the flag you gave us in honor will be returned in glory or we will die in the attempt. We have the reason why." Truly a high and martial sentiment.

Hon. Alexander K. Maclean, Minister without portfolio, and representing Nova Scotia Liberalism in the Union Cabinet, is late member for Halifax. "The Problem of Poverty" is a subject on which he has lectured much.

TWENTY ACCLAMATIONS.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—With reports in from all constituencies where nominations occurred, the clerk of the Crown in Chancery says there is no change in the political line-up. The list of acclamations remain at 20—12 Laurier Liberals in Quebec and eight Unionists in other provinces.

MAGNIFICENT WORK OF TANKS IN CAMBRAI BATTLE

With the British Armies in France, (By Associated Press)., Nov. 23.—The tanks have demonstrated fully their power in saving he lives of men and in conserving ammunition. The casualties among the infantry which followed the tanks into the Cambrai action were exceedingly light.

A correspondent has heard that two battalions, for instance had only one casualty each, and that another suffered the loss of only three men. The casualties among the crews of the tanks also were very light.

It is impossible to state how many tanks were in action but there were several hundred, and out of all the men who went forward in them it appears that fewer than twenty were killed and fewer than 100 wounded. The performance of the tanks was the more remarkable because there was only a short time to prepare for their use. Some of the tanks were veterans, but many had never been in an engagement before and their crews lacked actual fighting experience.

In addition a great amount of work was done to get the tanks into position and bring forward fuel. Many hundred tons of petrol were brought up secretly and stored pending the attack.

The advance of the tanks with their general leading the way in a monitor flying his flag was the most impressive sight imaginable.

For miles they were lined up along the British front, and when they started forward it was like a great ceremonial parade. Back of them came the infantry giving a final touch to the picture. At Ribecourt the tanks arrived just as the Germans were sitting down to breakfast. The crews of the tanks got their morning meal from food prepared for the enemy. These are not the only places which the tanks assisted in taking. They have been swarming over the whole great territory annexed by the British and when the full story of their exploit is told it will make remarkable history.

ELKS' DANCE PROMISES TO BE BIG SUCCESS

The dance being given by the local lodge of Elks in aid of the Soldiers' Kiddies Christmas Tree Fund, promises to be a great success, and the members of the Lodge are sparing no efforts to make it the event of the season. At a meeting last night a very strong committee was appointed to take charge of the various work allotted. The Hall will be decorated in a most unique and effective manner suitable for the occasion. The music will be supplied by a six-piece orchestra under the leadership of Mr. J. Lewis, and the committee in charge have selected a splendid repertoire of music, there will also be several novelties in dancing introduced. For the benefit of those who do not dance, arrangements have been made for a whist drive to be held in the lesser hall upstairs under the able management of Bros. Al. Davis, Joe Fox and Dobinson, for which six valuable prizes will be given. It is hoped that the general public of Nanaimo will give this worthy cause their generous support as the proceeds go towards the fund for buying presents for the Kiddies' Christmas Tree.

WORDS OF PREMIER OF POLAND UNDER GERMANY

Amsterdam, Nov. 23.—Professor Jan Kucharzevski, the Polish Premier, according to an interview in the Frankfurter Zeitung, favors the speedy formation of a Polish national army and declares that an attempt to create a Government or army outside of Poland would be rejected absolutely by him and the Regency Council. He is quoted as saying:

"I can state that the Polish constitution will be based on true democracy, namely, general, equal, direct and secret franchise."

BRITISH LINES ARE ADVANCED

After Sharp Fighting British Troops Forced Their Way Into Tadpole Wood—Dangerous Salient in the British Line Was Straightened.

With the British Armies in France, Nov. 23.—(By Associated Press).—During the last 24 hours, the chief activity has been behind the lines, where heroic work is being done by the transport service and engineers and artillery engineers in catching up with the rapidity of our thrust into enemy territory. We fell back on Fontain because the occupation of that point which is completely dominated, exposes Bourlon wood to the west on one side, and is exposed to enemy fire from across the canal on the other side, made a salient which could not be held until a general advance was made on either side.

The enemy strongly attacked, and threatened by an enfilading fire from both sides we fell back to conform to the general line. To the left of Fontain we pushed on into the hamlet of Anneux Capelle, north of Anleux on the Cambrai road. Further to the left we pushed into the southern portion of Moeuvres and again to the left after sharp fighting this morning we forced our way 1500 yards south of Inchy into Tadpole Wood. A formal line has been established through points striking the canal at Delescant north of Noyelles and this is being held while guns and supplies are being brought up to the front lines.

FINANCE MINISTER IS DISAPPOINTED

Sir Thomes White Says Subscriptions to Canada's Victory Loan Has Not Come up to Expectations.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance, who has been engaged all this week with afternoon and evening meetings in his constituency of North Leeds has telephoned the following message respecting the Victory Loan:

"While greatly gratified at the widespread patriotic interest which has been manifested in the Victory Loan throughout he entire Dominion I am disappointed at the total subscription to date, which has not equalled our expectations and is not so large as it should be, having regard to the national importance of the loan.

"There are more subscribers than at the corresponding periods of previous loans, but the individual average is comparatively small. I think many people, to show their goodwill and interest in the loan, are taking fifty-dollar bonds where they could take one-hundred-dollar bonds; one hundred-dollar bonds where they could take five-hundred-dollar bonds, and one-thousand-dollar bonds where they could take many thousands.

"I desire to urge as strongly as possible upon the Canadian people the supreme importance of making this loan an overwhelming national success. If we can reach a total of $300,000,000—which can easily be accomplished if everybody will do his part—there will be adequate financial support for our military forces, and in addition to this the prosperity of the Dominion will be assured for the coming year.

"I most earnestly appeal to the people of Canada to give this great and vital undertaking their most loyal and unstinted support. Let those who have already subscribed immediately make application for as large an allotment as their means will permit. Canada must decisively score in her great Victory Bond."

PTE. J. T. DIXON IS WOUNDED BY SHRAPNEL

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, of North Gabriola, that their son, J. T. Dixon has been wounded in the shoulder and knee by shrapnel, in the recent fighting in Flanders. Pte. Dixon left with the 131st Battalion from New Westminster, but was transferred to another unit at the front.

SCORES OF GUNS CAPTURED

With the British Armies in France, Nov. 23.—The British renewed their attack on Fontain and are still holding the ground between Cantaing and the south of Fontaine. It is unofficially estimated that several score of guns have been captured.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE TOWARD ALLIES

Armistice With the Teutons Would Put Russia Outside of the Pale of Civilized Europe, Declares British Minister of Blockade.

London, Nov. 23.—Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, in his weekly talk with Associated Press, spoke of the proclamation issued by Nikolai Lenine and his followers in Russia, urging an immediate armistice, saying:

"If it represents the real opinion of the Russian people, which I do not believe it does, it would be a direct breach of treaty obligations and Russia's alliance. Such an action if approved and ratified by the Russian nation, would put them virtually outside the pale of civilized Europe."

Washington, Nov. 23.—Officials of this government regard the Bolsheviki move for an armistice between Russia and her enemies and the opening of immediate peace negotiations, as an act that would place Russia almost in the list of unfriendly nations.

Press dispatches telling of the peace movement were confirmed by a cablegram from Ambassador Francis received today concerning Trotzky's formal notification to the diplomats at Petrograd that his Government had proposed an armistice with a view to immediate peace negotiations.

It was poined out that should negotiations be successful, it would be most difficult to deal with Russia as a neutral country in view of the position she has held as an ally of the nations fighting Germany and the marked advantage in the war that such a course might give the latter country.

THOR FOUNDERS IN MID OCEAN

The S. S. Thor, well known in Nanaimo, having operated in the coal-carrying trade for years, foundered in a storm in latitude 34 north, longitude 161 west, it was reported by Capt. O. Hansen, who reached Honolulu with fifteen members of his crew on Thursday, One lifeboat with a part of the crew is still missing.

The Thor, 4,719 tons, was transferred from the coastwise coal trade to service between San Francisco and Oriental ports after being sold to Wilhelmsens, of Tonsberg, Norway. The Thor sailed from San Francisco in November, carrying no passengers.

JAPANESE TROOPS FOR THE FRONT

Provided Russia Co-operates Japan Will Send all the Men That Are Necessary for Eastern and Western Fronts.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 23.—Unless the internal disorders of Russia are subdued and the cooperation of Russian troops is guaranteed, the Entente Powers need expect little assistance from the Japanese ally on the Eastern front, declared Kasama, a member of the Japanese imperial railway commission, in an address here today. The sending of Japanese troops to Russia is a serious question confronting the Allies, said Mr. Kasama.

"It would be of little value to send assistance to Russia as long as the people are quarrelling among themselves. Until the co-operation of the Russian troops can be secured, in my opinion, Japan will not send any men to their assistance, but if that co-operation can be guaranteed, Japan will send all the men that is necessary, not only to the Eastern front, but to the Western front also."

NANAIMO'S VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Quarter of a Million Mark Has Been Left Far Behind—Big Drive Will be Continued with Unabated Vigor

Nanaimo's Drive in connection with Canada's Victory Loan has passed the $300,000 mark which is $50,000 beyond the goal set at the inauguration of the campaign. Chairman Rudd and his committee are jubilant over the results of their efforts during the first eleven days of the campaign and are now out to conduct a whirlwind finish which will boost Nanaimo's total to unexpected proportions.

The moving forward of the Indicator to the $300,000 mark took place yesterday afternoon and marked the climax of a parade and demonstration of children of the city schools the like of which is not often seen in Nanaimo. At 2:30 some thousand pupils attending the High and Public Schools of the city assembled at Victory Loan Headquarters at the intersection of Wallace and Commercial streets. Carrying flags and banners indicative of the campaign for the sale of Victory Bonds the scholars paraded to the Post Office wher a number of patriotic airs were rendered after which the return was made by way of Commercial street to the Indicator where the scholars and a large number of adult citizens were addressed by Trustee Jno. Shaw and Mr. J. C. Dakin, publicity agent of the Campaign Committee.

Trustee Shaw delivered an excellent address in which he referred at length to the great struggle in Europe and the necessity of securing money to fight Canada's batles and thanked the children for the part they had taken and the assistance they had rendered in making Nanaimo's Drive such a success. Mr. Dakin also thanked the children and the teachers for the success they had made of the parade, the demonstration being brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem and the giving of three lusty cheers and a tiger from a thousand lusty throats.

CHRISTMAS CARDS—The Herald has a fine display of Christmas Cards to choose from. Choose early and avoid the rush. Remember, that in getting your Christmas Cards from the Herald, you also get a chance of winning a fifty dollar Victory Loan Bond

The local Victory Loan Campaign Committee is in receipt of a shipment of buttons to be worn by the purchasers of Victory Bonds. Anyone entitled to one of these buttons can secure one by calling at the headquarters office.

After a shut down of a couple of days owing to a break in machinery, No. 1 mine will resume work this morning.

BRITISH TROOPS ARE ON THE THRESHOLD OF CAMBRAI

London, Nov. 23.—While in the main British troops in the region of Cambrai are consolidating the positions they won in the spectacular two day battle considerable hard fighting of local character is taking place on numerous sectors, where the Germans are endeavoring to drive out the English, Scotch, Welsh and Irish contingents, whose drive has placed them virtually on the threshold of Cambrai. Especially severe has been the fighting around Creve Coeur-Moeuvres and Bourlon Wood in the latter of which regions at last accounts British cavalry was operating brilliantly in an endeavor to capture the wood which would give to Gen. Byng a position dominating the entire battle front. All the ground gained by the British has been held up to late Friday and in addition, to the west of Moeuvres an elevation dominating a large section of the Canal Ducnord and the town of Moeuvres, has been captured. The Germans are fighting bitterly to recapture lost territory and to hold back further incursions into their line. Fighting, however, apparently is between the opposing British advance and the German rear-guard for a major portion of Gen. Byng's army evidently is engaged in consolidating the territory already won and preparing for another dash forward when the time is opportune.

Although the British are busily engaged in the Cambrai sector Field Marshal Haig has not overlooked a chance to again strike at the line in Flanders. Again the British have thrown forward their line slightly. On the south front the Germans delivered several small attacks in the Aisne region northwest of Rheims, and in Champagne, and all of them were repulsed by French arttillery.

Between the Brenta and Piave rivers in the Italian theatre the Italian and Teutonic Allies are still at deadly grips with the enemy endeavoring to break through to the Venetian plains, but with the Italians tenaciously holding them all along the front the fighting is of a particularly sanguinary nature, troops frequently meeting in hand-to-hand encounters and positions often change hands. The enemy everywhere is throwing masses of men against the Italians, and his losses have been extremely heavy, and it seemingly is the ambition of the invaders to break out upon the plain before the expected British and French reinforcements arrive, but up to the present their efforts have been without avail. Comparative quiet prevails along the Piave river to the Adriatic.

Following a proposal made by the Bolsheviki Government in Russia for an armistice, a reduction in the Russian army has been ordered by Nikolai Lenine, the Bolsheviki leader, to take effect immediately. Simultaneously, it is stated unofficially, that a Russian diplomat has left Stockholm for Petrograd to deliver the Russian Revolutionary Government's peace proposals of the Central Powers. Leon Trotzky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister in an interview, announced that the Bolsheviki are against a separate peace with Germany, but desire universal peace with all nations.

GOVR. GENERAL COMING TO-DAY

His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, will visit Nanaimo today. Arrangements for the reception of the distinguished visitor are all complete, and his brief stay in Nanaimo will be made as pleasant as possible.

The party will arrive here by special train at four o'clock, after paying a visit to the soldiers quartered at the Qualicum Convalescent Camp. He will be met at the station by the Mayor, Aldermen and other leading citizens, and will be conveyed by automobile to the Provincial Government building on Front street, the route to be followed being via Fitzwilliam street, down Wallace street, to Commercial street, and then along Commercial and Front street.

Upon arrival at the Government Buildings where a special staging has been erected for the occasion His Worship the Mayor will present the City's address of welcome and no doubt His Excellency will reply there to, though since time is limited, the proceedings will necessarily be of the briefest. This ceremony concluded, the vice-regal party will once more enter their automobiles and will return to the station via Comox Road, Wallace and Fitzwilliam Sts.

DOMINION THEATRE

In these days when the world seems to be in trouble all around the map, anything that would tend to break up this trouble should be welcomed with open arms, so to speak. Such a play is "The Trouble Buster" starring Vivian Martin and now showing at the Dominion.

As for Fatty Arbuckle in the two-reel comedy "A Reckless Romeo," well see him for yourself, and laugh your head off.

A lady resident of the city dropped a letter on the street last night which she had opened at the Post Office and extracted a cheque therefrom, but did not read the contents. The letter was from the woman's husband in Alberta and the person finding the same will confer a favor by delivering it to the owner or leaving it at the Herald office.

Public Meeting

A public meeting in the interests of Mr. H. A. Stewart, Laurier Liberal candidate for this riding, will be held in the Opera House, on Saturday, Nov. 24, at 8.30 p.m.

The following speakers will address the meeting: Mr. Gerald McGreer, M.P.P., Mr. Joseph Martin, K.C., Mrs. Stanley Brown and Mr. H. A. Stewart.

Public Notice

In view of the approaching visit of His Excellency the Governor General to Nanaimo on Saturday afternoon next, the Mayor and Aldermen hope that all storekeepers and others will co-operate toward making the occasion a memorable one, by closing their places of business on that afternoon between the hours of 3.30 and 5 p. m.

BYNG'S VICTORY

For the first time since the war began over three years ago, there was an official celebration of a British victory in the Mother Country yesterday. It marks a departure from British official policy, and surely a departure in the right direction. British valor has never shone more gloriously than in this war, and never in any war in history can there be found more heroic feats of arms than the British troops have put to their credit in this war against the Hun hordes representing Prussian might. But from the very beginning of the war the people at home have been starved for news. In the early days when the "Contemptible" little force of Tommies were fighting annihilation, their glorious deeds were given out only in cold and formal official reports. A small paragraph, or a passing reference, would chronicle the passing of a whole battalion even when it went out to a man fighting against unbelievable odds. The officials and its instrument, the Censor's office, have always had a greater fear of the German intelligence department than ever the British soldier has had of his German enemy. Let it be said that the officials have played safe, but at what cost to the people at home, and even to the soldiers in the field, no one at present can say.

And so we say that this new departure marks a step in the right direction. It is all very well to talk of British stolidity and British tenacity, but even the British people are none the worse for encouragement and cheer when it is warranted on the day's events. From the first the press at home and throughout the empire, has insisted on knowing the facts, and the government has met their insistence by blank reports of reverses and attenuated accounts of successes. The first Admiralty report of the battle of Jutland conveyed the impresson of a paralysing disaster, and the country was in a dumb amaze until this impression was corrected by later and fuller reports. We cannot help thinking that there would have been fewer troubles of all kinds, and that the needs of the Empire in carrying on this great struggle would have been more quickly and willingly filled, had the deeds of the men who were fighting for us all been fittingly chronicled.

The British victory this week was well worth celebrating. One result of the stupendous nature of the struggle, and of the vast character of the operations, has been to upset the normal perspective of things. If only in the number of German prisoners taken in the two days' fighting, the British victory is a notable one. But it has other notable features. It was a complete surprise to the Germans, and came after three years of a war in which it has been generally accepted that there could be no surprises. It represented the biggest individual forward push that has been made on the western front since the day of trench warfare began. It marks the adoption of a new system in offensives, and proves that in the mechanical side of modern warfare the British are superior to the Germans. As to the strategic value of the victory it is too early to say anything definite, as the fighting is still going on, and in more or less open country. The weather, since the attack began, has been very bad, but there is no mud in this sector as in Flanders to bring operations to a standstill, and with the famous Hindenburg Line smashed, there should be quicker developments in the open fighting now going on.

Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, the leader of the Laurier forces in this province has advanced the original argument that with 100,000 fit Canadians in England, there is no need of compulsory service in Canada. The Minister of Militia reduces this 100,000-to 10,000, and says that he must have 20,000 more men over in England by January. Of course, the Minister of Militia, who is also a Liberal, does not know what he is talking about.

Retail Traders and Their Employees
Editor Herald:

Dear Sir,—Christmas Day this year falls on Tuesday. The day following is our usual half-holiday, which half-holiday is omitted on the Wednesday before Christmas. I therefore would suggest that Employers and Employees get together and arrange that the Wednesday following Christmas be made a whole holiday. I feel sure that our Nanaimo traders will be very pleased to grant the four hours' extra holiday, and there is yet plenty of time to arrange the matter suitably.

Yours faithfully,

The Brawn and Brain of a boy are not made out of books or sermons. They are built out of foods that supply in well-balanced proportion and in digestible form every needed element. These elements are found in Shredded Wheat Biscuit, a real whole wheat food which contains all the material for building the human body. A perfect food for growing youngsters. Its crispness encourages thorough chewing, which develops sound teeth and healthy gums. Children like it and thrive on it. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. MINISTER MEWBURN HAS HEAVY TASK

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 23.—"I feel it is my duty to get 20,000 men overseas by January 1," was the important statement of Major-General S. C. Mewburn, Minister of Militia and Defense, to a mass meeing of women here today.

He declared that the 5th Division now numbered less than 10,000 men, and would probably have to be "wiped off the slate" in order to reinforce men on the fighting line. For that reason, he said, he was not going to spend much time in electioneering; his chief duty was to get men overseas.

Sir George Foster and Hon. N. W. Rowell were the other speakers, both maintaining that there was only one issue before the electors. That issue was whether or not Canada should continue in the war or whether she should call a halt and finally forget her obligations.

JIMMY HEWITT HAS GIVEN UP HIS LIFE

Vancouver, Nov. 23.—"Jimmy T. Hewitt, one of the best sporting writers of the West, and widely known, who left Vancouver as a lieutenant in the 143rd "Bantam" Battalion, which was recruited in Victoria, was killed at the front on November 10, says a cable message received in this city today.

BIJOU THEATRE

"When Love Was Blind" which is the feature on the bill of fare at the Bijou for today, is a forceful and deeply interesting film and it gives Florence Labadie splendid opportunities for a display of emotional acting. There is also shown a two-reel episode of the serial "Patria," with dashing Mrs. Vernon Castle in some new and thrilling stunts.

The most hearty thanks of the Publicity Committee of the Victory Loan Campaign is extended to the principals and all the teachers and scholars of the city schools for the splendid response and public spirited cooperation exhibited in connection with their efforts at such short notice and the manner in which the parade was conducted by them yesterday afternoon. They deserve three cheers and not one but three tigers.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove very hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivles up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

BARBARIANS TRY TO KILL WOUNDED

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Belgian Minister today handed to the State Department a protest of the Belgian Government against the bombing of Belgian sanitary units at Calais and Petit Fort Phillippe and the military hospital at the Gravelines gateway by the German airplanes on September 26 and 27. Several casualties resulted from bombs dropped on the hospital.

The protest points out that Germany was one of the nations signing the Geneva convention for amelioration of the conditions of the wounded and sick of armies in the field on July 6, 1906, calls attention to the Red Cross emblems were conspicuously displayed on the sanitary units and hospital bombed, and continues:

"The King's Government enters a solemn protest against the systematic bombardment of Belgian sanitary formations by German airplanes.

"It denounces this new and flagrant violation of international law to the international committee of the Red Cross and to the Allied and neutral governments which have signed the Geneva international convention of July 6, 1916."

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Immediately — Yes! Certain! that's the joy of. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp forever stopping itching and you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SUNDAY, NOV. 25, 1917. NUMBER 2[illegible]

WESTERN FUEL CO. GIVES TEN PER CENT ADVANCE

As Result of Negotiations Carried Out by Men's Committee the Company Grants Increase of Ten Per Cent to All Underground Employees.

The Herald is authorized to make an announcement this morning which is of prime importance to the community, and which will be received [illegible] beginning on December 1st the Western Fuel Company will grant an increase in wages of ten per cent. to all its underground employees.

The company's notice of the new wage scale is clear and explicit. It is addressed to "underground employees," and reads as follows:

"Beginning with December 1st, 1917, an additional special bonus of ten (10) per cent. on the base rates of all contract rates and day wages, as covered by the working agreement, will become effective and continue until further notice.

The granting of this special bonus is the result of negotiations carried on by your committee with the company."

The company has followed its old policy in granting this increase in wages, and acted in accordance with its reputation for considerate and generous treatment of its employees. It is not many months since a similar advance was granted, but the men's committee, charged with looking after the interests of their fellows, claimed that a further increase of wages was due on the ground of the higher cost of living. They laid [illegible] and, as a result of their negotiations, this additional ten per cent. advance has been granted.

The Committee is to be congratulated on its success, and the management is to be commended for its sense of justice. The men will feel that their interests are being well looked after by their committee and also that they can have confidence in the company giving fair and even generous consideration to any claim presented in their behalf.

The increase, as at present arranged, only affects underground employees, but the case of the top hands is also to be considered.

The advance in wages, it is pleasant to think, has been granted without any sign of discontent or dissatisfaction with the present rates. It has been quietly and amicably negotiated and should strengthen still further the good understanding and good feeling existing between the company and the men.

Address of Welcome to Governor-General

To His Excellency the Most Noble Victor Christian William, Duke of Devonshire, Earl of Burlington, Baron Cavendish of Hardwicke, Baron Cavendish of Keighly, Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and one of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, Governor-General and Commander-in Chief of the Dominion of Canada:

GREETING:—

May it please Your Excellency:

On behalf of the citizens of Nanaimo, we beg to extend to Your Excellency a most hearty welcome to our city, and thank you for the very distinguished honor conferred upon us by your visit at this time. We can assure you that your Vice-Regal visit will be highly appreciated by all classes of our citizens, and on this auspicious occasion they desire to express a continuance of their unfaltering loyalty and attachment to the Throne and Person of Our Beloved Sovereign His Most Gracious Majesty King George V.

We do not aspire to offer Your Excellency such a reception as the larger and wealthier cities of the Dominion; but in our admiration and esteem for the Constitution and Laws of the British Empire, of which we form an integral part, and in our respect to you as the honored and distinguished representative of the Crown in the Dominion of Canada, we yield to no city in the Dominion, or in Our Empire in the warmth of our welcome to you.

You will pardon us, we are sure, if with commendable pride, we draw the attention of your Excellency to the large number of our citizens who have gone overseas for service and sacrifice in the conflicts in France and Flanders. Many of them lie in graves hallowed by their blood and glorified by their suffering, but we by their sacrifice feel that our partnership in the British Commonwealth is more firmly welded and as the burden falls more heavily upon our shoulders, we are resolved to gird on our fullest strength in this struggle for liberty and to "carry on" to a successful conclusion.

We have here a magnificient harbor, where he largest class of vessels can steam alongside the docks and take their valuable cargoes, fully protected by nature from any of the vicissitudes that may arise.

We would beg to draw the attention of Your Excellency to the vast resources of this District: The city of Nanaimo is the seat of one of the most important industries in British Columbia, and is at present in a most prosperous and progressive state. The coal mines are now being most energetically operated under able and efficient management. Coal is rapidly becoming an indispensable factor in the military and commercial enterprises of the civilized world, thus enhancing the value and importance of the coal measures which nature has so generously and providentially placed in several sections of Vancouver Island, he Western stepping stone as it were between the Occident and the Orient.

The fisheries are most extensive and valuable, herring, salmon, and cod, forming the basis of this remunerative industry. Our hidden wealth; the surface of which has been scarcely laid bare, contains mountains of iron and copper; and our forests contain the finest timber in the world.

With such a wealth of nature's gifts at its command, we feel that Nanaimo will soon come into its own, placing us in the position of some day becoming the "Pittsburg of the West."

We would have been gratified had circumstances permitted the Duchess of Devonshire to accompany you at this time, to have accorded your Gracious Consort a welcome, no less cordial and sincere than that now proffered to Your Excellency. We beg that you will convey to her the assurance of our profound respect and kindly regard.

In conclusion, we earnestly trust that the tour of Your Excellency through our Dominion may be both profitable and pleasant, your journey agreeable and safe, and that you may be blessed with long life and happiness.

Signed on behalf of the citizens of Nanaimo.

LOCAL CAMPAIGN IS OPENED

Meeting Last Night in Opera House in the Interest of Laurier Liberal Candidate Was Poorly Attended and Lacked Enthusiasm.

The local political campaign was opened last night by a meeting in the Opera House in the interests of Mr. Hugh Stewart, the Laurier-Liberal candidate, with less than two hundred persons in attendance.

If last night's meeting is any criterion the campaign is to be a quiet one for the meeting was lacking in enthusiasm and the thrills usually attendant with political meetings in Nanaimo. Mr. Richard Booth was chairman the meeting being addressed by Mr. Joseph Martin, K.C., of Vancouver, Mr. G. McGreer, M.P.P., and the candidate.

Gerald McGreer, provincial member for Vancouver district, the first speaker of the evening, denied the charge that the Liberal party was opposed to the continuation of Canada in the war, and stated no better proof of the falsity of such a charge could be found than in the fact that almost without a single exception the leaders of the Liberals and the candidates under the Laurier banner, had brothers or sons who had made the supreme sacrifice or who were at present doing their bit on the battlefields of Europe. The speaker charged the present Unionist government was Unionist in name only and was only the old Conservative machine under a new name. As proof of his charge the speaker stated but little unionism was shown in the decision of the government to allow the Liberals four out of thirteen seats in B. C. and the appointment of all Conservatives to the positions of Returning officers throughout the province. Continuing in his remarks the speaker charged millions had been made by friends of the Conservative party in war contracts and reviewed a number of such contracts. He also charged commissions had been awarded not by reason of ability and service but on account of their political affiliations and in conclusion criticized the action of the government in the conscripting of men and leaving wealth seriously alone.

In his opening remarks Mr. Joseph Marttin, K. C., stated he had no faith in the present Union government, which, he believed, was a conspiracy, a combination formed with the object of knocking out Laurier, with unlimited money at its back, endorsed by the profiteers, a combination which originated in the brain of Sir Clifford Sifton. The speaker expressed his desire to see Sir Wilfrid Laurier returned to power in Canada and classed as treasonable the actions of those who were endeavoring to stir up race hatred in Canada at a time when the French were fighting valiantly side by side with the British in France and Flanders. He was opposed to the Unionist government in Canada, and he was opposed to the Unionist government in England which he charged was a great mistake. He believed opposition was necessary for good government, and felt sure conditions would have been worse at Ottawa than ever they are now had there not been a strong opposition to keep some kind of check on the profiteers. Sir Robert Borden, the speaker stated, had been considered a very weak man, but the speaker believed Borden had shown unexpected ability in arranging the coalition government which would probably ensure his return to power for, declared the speaker, everybody knows had the Conservative party gone to the country on party lines it would have been swept off the map. Now things were changed, declared the speaker, and it was now disloyal to criticise such profiteers like Sir Joseph Flavelle. Mr. Martin felt Quebec had not done its duty not owing to cowardice, but there was some other reason, and if Quebec was approached properly different conditions would exist. The speaker reviewed the history of the Nationalist Party in Quebec, and stated Sir Robert Borden, in order to win elections had taken three Nationalists into his cabinet and thus associated himself with a party which openly declared itself opposed to Canada sending a man to fight outside its own borders. In conclusion the speaker argued for the election of Mr. Stewart who, he declared, would support a government which would not only put the manhood of the nation to the use of the state, but would conscript wealth and do away with profiteering.

Mr. Stewart's remarks were very brief. He stated his reason for contesting the election was in protest to the action of the Duncan convention which he attended as a delegate in naming a candidate who was selected by the interests. He favored a Coalition government, but not the present Coalition government which was not prepared to give a square deal. He had accepted the nomination on the Laurier Liberal platform for he believed the Liberal policy the one best calculated to conduct the affairs of the country in the present crisis. He denied the charge that if Laurier was returned to power Canada would cease to participate in the war and stated in B. C. no less than three of the Laurier Liberal candidates were returned soldiers. viz., Ramsay, Leighton and Maxwell, and he had no hesitation in saying that by reason of the scandals in connection with war supplies a majority of the soldiers overseas were going to vote against the Borden party. Mr. Stewart criticized the Elections Act and charged money was being extravagantly expended in the employment of enumerators for the purpose of winning the election. He favored increasing the soldiers' allowance and also advocated the conscription of wealth, and in conclusion charged the government with duplicity in regards to the large number of exemptions granted by the Quebec Tribunals

The meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

DEATH OF ROBERT WALLACE.

Mrs. Robert Wallace, of Ladysmith, received word on Friday from the department at Ottawa that her son Robert had been killed in action. This is the second son of Mrs. Wallace who has died in France. Only a year ago James made the supreme sacrifice. Robert went overseas with the Pioneers about two years ago and had seen many months of active service. Only a few days ago Mrs. Wallace had a letter from him, and he said that he expected to get out of the trenches for a short rest a few days later. Robert Wallace was well known in Ladysmith and his death will be deeply deplored by a large number of friends, and the bereaved family will have the sympathy of all citizens of Ladysmith. He was born in Wellington about thirty years ago.

An important meeting of the Victory Loan salesmen will be held at the Loan Headquarters on Monday evening at 8 o'clock

Private Joseph Minnes of Ladysmith is among the returned soldiers who will reach Victoria next Monday.

CITY WELCOMED GOVR. GENERAL

His Excellency The Duke of Devonshire Visited Nanaimo Yesterday and Was Cordially Welcomed by Large Concourse of Citizens.

Nanaimo was honored yesterday afernoon by a visit from His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, and his party, which arrived here by special train at 4 o'clock on the return from a visit to the Canvalescing Soldiers' Home at Qualicum. Included in the party were Lord Richard Neville, Comptroller of the Household, Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Harold G. Henderson, military secretary and Capt. Bulkley-Johnson, A. D. C., Hon. H. C. Brewster, Hon. William Sloan, Major Harvey and others. The train arrangements were under the supervision of Superintendent Beasley. Upon arrival at the station the distinguished party was met by Mayor McKenzie, members of the City Council and a number of prominent citizens and conveyed by autos to the court house grounds where a large concourse of citizens had gathered to give a welcome to His Excellency upon the occasion of his first visit to Nanaimo.

After the usual formal introductions had taken place Mayor McKenzie read the address of welcome to which His Excellency replied, thanking the citizens for the enthusiastic manner reception tendered him. He stated he knew well of the part Nanaimo had taken in the great war and the splendid services recorded during the past few days in the purchase by the citizens of Victory Bonds and he hoped the good work would be continued and steadily pursued until the Empire had gained its objective. Many young men had gone to the war from Nanaimo His Excellency declared and were missed in many homes. Sacrifices had been nobly borne and much had been accomplished declared the speaker but the nation could not afford to rest upon its oars for much remained to be done. It was true that during the past two years good reports continued to come from the western front. Glorious deeds had been done but the nation had got to prepare itself to face the fact that whatever successes were accomplished on the western front a very long and strenuous task faced the Empire in the future. As to the final result he Empire had no reason to be afraid. The future could be looked forward to with confidence declared His Excellency but every ounce of strength would have to be put into the struggle now going on. In regards to skill and ability the army had leaders for whom no praise was too great and it was necessary for those who could not go to the firing line to see that the boys in the trenches were kept supplied with all their needs. There was only one guiding principle on which to act and that was that every man, woman and child, whatever their position in life must do their part. In this connection he was reminded of a motto which he recently heard made use of in one of the most eloquent speeches it had ever been his pleasure to listen to, and that motto was Production, Production, Producttion" Every ounce more that can be produced will help to shorten the war, whether in lumbering, fisheries or agriculture the nation could be assisted by increased production and the transporting of the products thereof to the points where it is most needed If all did their best to help forward the solution of the problem of production they would not only help in finishing the war but finishing it in such a manner that no nation in the future will ever commit such outrages on civilization and humanity as the world is experiencing at the present day The Empire had created the greatest machine for making war, a machine created in a period of stress and difficulty and it behoved the nation to see the machine was kept up to perfection In referring to a passage in the address read by His Worship the Mayor, His Excellency remarked all the assets of Nanaimo, of the province and of the Dominion were of no avail unless the nation had security The men fighting in the mud of Flanders, in the dust of Palestine and standing guard in the North Sea were looking well after the security of the Empire and the nation need not fear, for the charge was in good hands In concluding his interesting address His Excellency spoke feelingly of the children who had assembled in his honor, expressing the belief that they would reap the benefit of the great work now being done by the relatives and friends on the battlefields of Europe and made a special request that they be given a full holiday on Monday in commemoration of his visit His Excellency then called for three cheers for His Majestty The King which were lustily given, after which Ald Coburn called for three cheers for His Excellency, the large assembly responding most enthusiastically, the reception being brought to a close by the rendering of the National Anthem by the Silver Cornet Band

After a number of introductions the party entered waiting autos and drove to the station, His Excellency being confronted upon entering his car with a beautiful basket of roses, the gift of Bastion Chapter, Daughters of the Empire.

HARD FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES ROUND CAMBRAI

Byng's Troops Now Hold Bourlon Wood and Town of Moeuvres While Fontaine Is in Flames Indicating Further German Retirement.—Italians Still Successfully Defend Piave Line—Americans Bag Submarine.

London, Nov. 25.—Hard fighting continued in the battle of Cambrai on Saturday with the British pushing determinedly northward on the Fontaine-Queant line, west of Cambray, indicated the probably day, indicated that probably General Byng's troops had wrested the possession of the hotly disputed Bourlon wood from the Germans, and had recaptured the town of Moeuvres. The village of Fontaine, less than three miles from Cambrai was reported in flames, suggesting the possibility of an impending German retirement from that place

The Germans are resisting desperately the British advance, which is being pressed most energetically in this east to west west front. General Byng's evident intention is to drive in behind the main Hindenburg line, breached in Tuesday's surprise attack, and the Queant-Drocourt swith line, while still pushing his encircling movement of Cambrai to the north and east.

Friday's British attacks were chiefly delivered on this same front. Gains were scored, but the Bourlon village to the north of the wood, the Berlin official statement indicated, but were driven back by strong German counter attack. The British have pushed considerably to the northwest of Moeuvres, however and are hammering at Inchy, which the Germans are battling determinedly to retain.

[illegible] a successful two weeks' defense of the Piave line and northern front protecting its flank. Although they had to yield ground during this time on the front between the upper Piave and the Asiago plateau, their defensive line remains unbroken.

The Italian fourth army, under General Robilant, was on the aggressive between Piave and Brenta on Friday, while the first army beat off heavy attacks between the Asiago plateau and Brenta, and the third army foiled further efforts by the Austro-German forces to bridge the Piave with pontoons.

In Palestine, the British are closing in on Jerusalem, their official statement claiming added interest because of the frequent mention of biblical names. The seat of ancient Mizpah, some eight miles west of Jerusalem, was carried by storm. Northwest of the city the British were still closer, but their mounted troops near Reitonia, in this sector, were forced back a short distance by a strong Turkish counter attack.

SOCIAL TIME BY FIRST AID MEN

The first monthly social of the W. F. Co's First Aid Class was held in the Oddfellows' Hall last night, about 70 persons being present, a long and varied program of vocal and instrumental selections being rendered. During the course of the evening an interesting and instructive paper entitled "Safety First or First Aid to the Uninjured" was read by Mr. George Yarrow who is a veteran in first aid work.

A pleasant part of the evening's program was the surprise visit by Lewis Orchestra, which rendered a number of selecions which were much appreciated, and it is pleasing to note that the management of the Company has engaged the orchestra to supply music for the social sessions which will be held throughout the winter and continuing up to April next, providing good times for the Ambulance Class and its friends.

At the next session Mr. T. R. Jackson will furnish a paper on the "Safety First" movement.

LOCAL MUSICIANS AT RECEPTION TO GOVERNOR

Local musicians assisted in the reception tendered his Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, at Qualicum Beach yesterday. Miss Dolly Fisher played two violin solos and Mr. J. McMillan Muir, organist and choirmaster of Wallace Street Methodist Church sang a group of songs, one of them of his own composition. The Duke later expressed to Mr. Muir his appreciation of his singing and complimented him upon the song of his own composing. Miss Verna Beckley acted as accompanist.

The Duncan and district Victory Loan drive has already resulted in subscriptions amounting to $69,200. Canvassers report courteous receptions from those on whom they call, and are well pleased with the results.

EXPRESSED THANKS.

His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, on the eve of his departure for Victoria, requested me to tender the Daughters of the Empire his thanks for the boquet of roses received.

HENRY McKENZIE,
Mayor.

The second rehearsal for "The Messiah" will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church this evening after service. There was a splendid turnout last Sunday and several more singers have signified their intention of being present tonight. Mr. Dunsmore has secured the assistance of Mrs. McIndoo and Miss Grace Morgan who will play the accompaniments for organ and piano respectively.

NORTHCLIFFE'S HONOR

Lord Northcliffe has been created a Viscount, and the Colonist says it is a tribute to the striking success of his mission to the United States. It is much more probably a sop to keep him quiet. Having made Lloyd George Premier, he told him in an open letter the other day that he was not satisfied with Llyod George as Premier. However, the Premier is not a bad hand with Northcliffe's favorite weapon, and he headed of further Northcliffe criticisms by his triumph in the House of Commons. This new honor should make everything comfy. Meantime as a result of the little private difference between Northcliffe and the Premier, Lord Cowdray has resigned his position as head of the air department (there was nothing else he could do) and Sir Edward Carson has grown openly restive. We confess that the canting eulogy of the Colonist to use a vernacular phrase, gives us a pain. The broad patriotism of Northcliffe has taken a form and found an expression which violate every British traditions. The Northcliffe campaign against both men and movements have been conducted in a manner to raise the gorge of all fair-minded Britishers. It cannot be forgotten that he loosed his press at Kitchener, that Balfour is only in the present government on sufferance, being a doddering, decrepit, incompetent, and that two of the greatest living British statesmen are not in the government, purely on Northcliffe's say-so. Just as the first honor conferred on him was a tariff bribe, so his latest is a sop for his silence.

It is not a good thing for Britain or the Empire, either now or at any time, when one man possesses the power to make or break governments.

SEDITION MONGERS

Says the Post-Intelligencer: "The action of a superior court jury in petitioning for the dismissal of a juror who, they averred, had spoken disparingly of the American government and of its participation in the war is significant of the increasing feeling of patriotism throughout the country. There is a disposition everywhere to classify those who are not wholeheartedly for the country with those who are against it. There can be no middle ground between Germany and America or between the kaiser and democracy. The man who depreciates the motives of America in this war, or who belittles the government in times like these, is not the proper associate for patriotic Americans." The same thing may be said of Canada and Canadians. In the crisis the Dominion is now facing a Canadian is either helping Canada or he is helping Germany. There can be no fifty-fifty business.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, it that you will feel that your stomach and intestines arec lean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for billiousness or constipaton.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigesion in five minutes.

To Whom It May Concern:

I take this means of thanking the National Ben Franklin Fire Insurance Co., (through the agency of Mr. J. A. Macdonald, for the satisfactory settlement of the claim caused through the loss of my dwelling.

BIJOU THEATRE

"The Love Thief," which is the feature on the Bijou programme for Monday and Tuesday is a tale of love and war on the Mexican border. Those two favorites Gretchen Hartman and Alan Hale and they do full justice to the splendid opportunities given them. With this film is also offered an uproariously funny two-reel Fox comedy entitled "A Bath-House Tangle."

Be a Beauty Where'er You Go

Stuart's Calcium Wafers Rid the Skin of Pimples, Blackheads and Skin Eruptions — They Work Marvels Quickly

SEND FOR FREE TRIAL PACKAGE

If you don't become a Red Cross nurse you will likely join in entertainments for their benefit. But be a beauty, wherever you go. It is an inspiration.

Just in a few days you can clear the skin of all blemishes, pimples, blotches, liver spots, muddy complexion, blackheads, etc., if you will use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Pimples and eruptions come from the inside—from impure blood—and you can't cure them by rubbing stuff on the outside of the face. Purify the blood and the blemishes will disappear.

Your face will become as clear and pure as a rose. With Stuart's Calcium Wafers you don't have to wait for months before getting results. Even boils have been cured in a few days' time with these remarkably effective blood cleansers.

You can get Stuart's Calcium Wafers of any druggist at 50 cents a box. Also mail coupon today for a free trial package.

We have recently received several notices direct from the leading linen manufacturers in Ireland—as to the new restrictions placed on the use of flax for the manufacture of general goods. Part of one notice reads:

"The British War Council have been obliged to impose further drastic restrictions on the use of all flax for general trade. This is due to the uncertain conditions in Russia, and also for the enormous demand for linen for war equipment. The whole Irish crop will be required for airplane fabric and thread, and has been taken over by the government. Under these circumstances very little flax will be available for making linen for general trade purposes."

Other letters speak in the same trend, which goes to prove conclusively that linen goods in the near future will be very scarce.

In the light of these facts, it will be out of place for us to suggest that you go through your household linens and carefully anticipate your needs for many months to come and buy them now.

To buy linens now, is to save considerably later on.

Ladies' Wool Bloomers

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your stopped-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head, relieve the inflamed mucous cells and end grippe misery by taking "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store.

An intelligent person may earn $100 monthly corresponding for newspapers. $40 to $50 in spare time. Experience unnecessary. No canvassing, subjects suggested. Send for particulars. National Press Bureau, Room 3569, Buffalo, N.Y. 24

DOMINION THEATRE

Mae Marsh, one of the recognized stars of the film world, appears at the Dominion tomorrow and Tuesday in her latest success "Sunshine Alley." The action of this picture takes place largely in a bird and animal store, the inmates figuring prominently in the story. It was written expressly for this charming little artist and fits her like the proverbial glove. There is also an amusing comedy and the always interesting Gaumont Weekly.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, NOV. 27, 1917. NUMBER 227.

VICTORY BOND CAMPAIGN DRAWING TO A CLOSE

To the Chairman Victory Loan Committee, Nanaimo, B. C.:

"Excellent work the past fortnight should be kept to the very end. We want every cent British Columbia can raise to stand behind Haig and his men. The present drive on the Western front should stimulate every man to do his best at home. It should be impressed on all subscribers that under the circumstances it looks extremely unlikely that any such opportunity for investment will occur again.

"WILLIAM FARRELL,
"Chairman Provincial Committee"

Although Nanaimo has exceeded the mark originally set in the Victory Loan campaign, the committee has decided to continue the campaign for another week in order to relieve the tension and make the closing week of the drive one long to be remembered in Nanaimo.

Last night the total sale of Victory Bonds in Nanaimo had passed the $350,000 mark, and now nothing less will satisfy Chairman Rudd and Captain Beattie than a cool half million. Every member of the committee realizes it will take some great hustling to raise $150,000 in four days, and while no one will predict this large amount will be secured all the canvassers are setting forth today with the determination to do his bit in selling bonds and by Saturday they feel the grand total will not fall many thousands short of the half million.

Nanaimo's youngest bond holder was recorded yesterday in the person of Master Norman Francis William Kingswood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kingswood, of Finlayson St., the young holder of a $100 bond being but three days old. A number of other youthful personages were made the owners of registered bonds but Master Kingswood holds the honor to date and in all probability will hold on to his record, although there is a chance within the next four days of some tot taking his laurels from him.

The canvassers may find it impossible to call upon every home within the short time remaining and those not visited are asked to visit the Loan Headquarters where the secretary will be in attendance to sell them anything from one bond up. Every home should be the owner of a Victory Bond.

BIJOU THEATRE

Alan Hale is one of the very best of the younger set of film leading men and Gretchen Hartman has also attained a prominent place in the moving picture world. They have leading roles in "The Love Thief," a strong story of love and war now showing att the Bijou.

"The Bath House Tangle," a two-reel Fox Comedy, is also on today's programme.

The pupils of Mountain School held a bazaar and concert in the East Wellington schoolhouse last night in aid of Belgian children. The affair was a big success, some $94 being realized. Mrs. Kenyon, with ticket No. B53 won the drawing held in connection with the event.

BRITISH FORCES MENACE CAMBRAI

Two Days of Vicious Fighting Ends in the Capture of Important Positions by British Troops Near Town of Cambrai.

London, Nov. 26.—British troops now hold the high ground in Bourlon Wood and dominate the region of Cambrai. This success came after two days of the most vicious fighting and its importance is indicated in part by the fact that German traffic heavy, the probability being that the civil population of the town has been removed.

General Byng's latest triumph was one of hard and heroic endeavor. In paying tribute to the Third Army, Field Marshal Haig declares that the capture of the Bourlon position "crowns a most succesful operation, and opens the way to the further exploitation of advantages already gained."

Apparently the British commander will push his advantage still further and besiege Cambrai, which lies three miles to the east.

In six days General Byng has broken the Hindenburg Line, taken a score of villages, secured the dominating position west of Cambrai and overrun territory equal in area to that which required months to gain in the drive in the Ypres salient Nearly 10,000 prisoners, 100 guns, and much war material have been captured. More important still probably is the "further exploitation" to which Field Marshal Haig refers in his congratulatory message.

Around Verdun, the pivot of the German line in France, there has been fighting in which the French have been victorious. After repulsing a strong German attack on the right bank of the Meuse near Hill 344, the French attacked the enemy on a front of more than two miles in the same region. They occupied the first and second German lines and captured more than 800 prisoners.

London, Nov. 26.—The Germans have not repeated their attacks on the Bourlon position, west of Cambrai, since their failure of yesterday, Field Marshal Haig reported today in the following communication:

"On the Cambrai battlefront the enemy has not repeated his attacks on the Bourlon position since the failure of his attempt at midday yesterday. and the situattion is unchanged.

"Northeast of Ypres there was considerable artillery activity on both sides early last night in the Passchandaele sector, but no infantry action developed."

The united Call to Prayer meetings of all ministers and congregations in Nanaimo, will be held in the Presbyterian Church Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30. All welcome.

HONORS OF WAR FOR AMERICANS

With tthe American Armies in France (By the Associated Press), Nov. 26.—The French war cross has been conferred on fifteen American officers and men, who were cited with their company by the French general commanding the sector in which the Americans are stationed at the time of the first American raid on the night of Nov. 23, and the men were decorated and were informed they must keep the medals in their possession, but must not wear them, until congress gives authorizattion.

The party of returned soldiers which was due to reach Nanaimo last night will not arrive here until today, the delay being due to the fact that the train was six hours late in reaching Vancouver yesterday.

"Jim" Craig, the well known rancher of Englishman's river, bagged two more panthers on Sunday. The animals were on exhibition yesterday in P. Burns' Store, and attracted considerable attention.

BRIEF SESSION OF THE COUNCIL

The Acceptance of Four Reports Was the Only Business the City Fathers Were Called Upon to Handle at Last Night's Meeting.

The meeting of the City Council last night was probably the shortest on record, it requiring but fifteen minutes to dispose of all the business that required attention.

There were no communications and no petitions. The Street Foreman reported an expenditure in wages during the past week of $128.65 and the Water Works Manager reported an expenditure of $22.55.

The special committee appointed to arrange matters in connection with the visit to Nanaimo of His Excellency the Governor-General reported the reception had passed off smoothly and recommended the thanks of the Council be extended to all persons who assisted in making the function a success.

On motion of Ald. Harding the report of the committee was received and recommendation adopted.

Ald. Harding reported in connection with the Athletic Club building stating the plumber had declared it was not feasible to heat part of the building, and also declared it was a mistake to try and heat a shell building like the club with hot water, a hot air plant being much preferable. He also reported the Red Cross and Daughters of the Empire had been approached and asked to appoint representatives to meet with the Council Committee to consider the question of fixing up the building for the use of the public and the maintenance of the building when in use.

WILL NOT CURTAIL AUTO PRODUCTION

Washington, Nov. 26—Drastic curtailment of passenger automobile production which have been talked of since the manufacturers were called into conference recently with the advisory commission of the council of national defence has been found unnecessary, according to the expert advisors of the commission. The facilities of the plants were said today to be sufficient for handling the work now in sight, and steel manufacturers have given assurance that they can supply all the metal needed.

BETHMANN-HOLLWEG SENT TO SWITZERLAND

London, Nov. 26.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Amsterdam, says Pan-German newspapers received there protest against Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the former Imperial German Chancellor, being chosen to go to Switzerland on what they allege is a mission of great political importance, accompanied by his former assistant, Arnold Wahnschaffe, and a staff of secretaries.

SURVIVORS TELL OF HARDSHIPS

An Atlantic Port, Nov. 26.—Eight survivors of the crew of the American steamer Rochester, torpedoed off the Irish coast early this month, arrived here today. They confirmed the reports that the vessel was sunk without warning. Several of the crew were five days in open boats before being rescued. David Caldwell, one of the arrivals, said they suffered so severely that four attempted to commit suicide, and a fifth begged the captain to shoot him.

The Red Cross Rooms will not be opened this afternoon on account of the Elks' Dance. Tea will be served Friday afternoon.

BRITISH ARE ON ITALIAN FRONT

Italian Forces on Fighting Line Have Been Strengthened by Arrival of British and French Units.

Italian Army Headquarters, Nov. 25, via Rome and London, Nov. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—Solid ranks of Franco-British infantry with artillery and supply trains were seen by the writer today within sound of the battle on the Italian northern line. They had been on an eight-

Rome, Nov. 26.—Strong Austro-German attacks on the northern mountain front between the Brenta and Piave Rivers were repulsed yesterday, it was announced officially here today.

The announcement follows.

"Yesterday enemy masses supported by heavy artillery again attempted to storm our positions between the Brenta and Piave Rivers. On our left wing the enemy's efforts were directed against the Mount Pertica. They were crushed promptly and a well-executed counter-attack on our part was made in answer to every fresh effort by the enemy. At Tasson, the Monte Rosa battalion of Alpini annihilated its assailants.

"At our centre, where the enemy was strongest, the 56th Division lived up to its enviable reputation. Enemy columns which with stubborn fury attacked from the northwest and north in the direction of Monte Casonet, Col Dell Orso, Monte San Larolo and Monte Spinocia were mowed down by our fire repeatedly, met by furious counter-attacks and definitely repulsed, leaving more than 200 prisoners in our hands.

"On our right the enemy attack started from the eastern slopes of Monte Fenera. The assaulting waves were first checked by our artillery and afterward counted-attacked several times and repulsed by our gallant Alpini. A few score of prisoners were taken."

London, Nov. 26.—From Lake Garda to the Adriatic, the Italians continue to hold the invading Austro-Germans in check. Finding it impossible to break through the line directly west of tthe Piave river, the enemy has been making very strong attacks on the Asiago Plateau, where he was defeated last week in an attempt to encircle the important Monte Melettta position. The fighting has been most severe, the Italians meeting attack with counter-attack.

SWEEPING CHANGES BEING MADE IN RUSSIA

Petrograd, Nov. 26.—Maximalist commissioners have proclaimed the abolition of class titles, distinctions, and privileges. All persons henceforth are citizens of the Russian republic, and the corporate property of the nobles, merchants, and burgesses, according to the proclamation, must be handed over to the State.

SWISS HEMMED ON ALL SIDES

Geneva, Nov. 26—Both the French and Italian frontiers are closed again for an indefinite period while the German and Austrian frontiers, which already are difficult to cross, will be hermetically sealed shortly. Thus it appears Switzerland will become an Alpine oasis created by four powerful nations surrounding it.

TRIBUNALS ARE NEARING END OF THEIR WORK

The two local Exemption Tribunals are nearing the end of their labors. Yesterday Tribunal No. 36 disposed of 24 applications, of which number 4 were ordered for service, 3 were granted temporary exemption 10 deferred for medical examinaion, and 7 medically unfit.

In Tribunal No. 37, one was reported for service and 14 previously disposed of.

The Nanaimo Musical Club will hold a business meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 28th in the Bible Room of the Wallace Street Methodist Church. The report will be read and the election of officers will take place. All members of the Club are asked to make a special effort to be present and those who sang in the production of The Messiah last year are invited to attend.

Mr. Robert Swanson is over from Vancouver on a business trip.

TEUTONS FORCED TO GIVE GROUND BEFORE ITALIANS

London, Nov. 26.—Apparently the peril of the Italian troops guarding the Piave line and the hilly country in northern Italy against the Teutonic allies, is at an end. A large number of British and French reinforcements, infantry and artillery, at last arrived upon the scene after days of anxious waiting in which the Italians have borne the brunt of the terrific fighting on both fronts solely on their own shoulders, and kept back the enemy from a further invasion of the Venetian plains. Although faced everywhere by superior numbers of men and guns the Italians valiantly defended every foot of the ground in the hills and along the Piave and in the former region in recent days actually have taken the offensive against the invaders, and pushed them back from strategic points of advantage they gained under terrific sacrifices in lives.

For eight days allied reinforcements have marched to the rescue, bringing along with them large numbers of guns and huge supply trains. All the troops are declared to be in fine fettle and eager to test their strength against the enemy. Just where the British and French forces will be thrown into the fray has not been made known, but doubtless large numbers of them will be used to strengthen the Italian front on the north from Lake Garda eastward to the Piave where the Austro-Germans have been making the strongest efforts to pierce the Italian line.

At the last account Gen. Byng's British troops before Cambrai were holding in their entirety the Bourlon positions west of Cambrai. Since their repulse of Sunday the Germans had failed to renew their counter attacks. Only minor operations have taken place on the other sectors of the front where Gen. Byng's men last week carried out their swift and spectacular operation which resulted in smashing the famous Hindenburg Line.

Along the Chemin des Dames and in the Verdun region, violent artillery duels are in progress between the French and Germans. In the latter sector the Germans several times essayed attacks with the purpose of recapturing ground taken from them Saturday but met with repulse. This ground which is situated to the north of the famous Hill 344, for the possession of which so many sanguinary battles have been fought, is in progress of consolidation by Gen. Petain's men.

Daily operations by the Brittish, having for their purpose the investment of Jerusalem, are being pushed forward. Southwest and west of the city, British cavalry have taken respectively, Bittir station and Ailkarim, six miles and three and a half miles from the city. Just outside the city to the west and to the north strong contingents of Turks are assembled to oppose a further advance. To the nonrtheast on the Mediterranean coast, advanced patrols of British, four miles north of Jaffa have been forced to give ground before a Turkish attack.

My own my native graft.

Bastion Ballads, Page 76.

Mr. W.—— W.—— B.
Ex-judge of Vancouver B. C.
Has tired of his slow, non-political show
And would like to become an M. P.

And, W.—— W.—— B.
Is a great politician, for he
Ranks king of them all, in courage and gall,
And that's going some in B. C.

Yes! W.—— W.—— B.
Can peddle the tweedledum-dee;
He can talk like a streak, for a day or a week,
In proportion, of course, to the fee.

So! W.—— W.—— B.
Has gone up to Comox, B. C.,
With the noble intent, to try on Clement
Camouflaging—whatever that be.

And, W. —— W. —— B.,
Using Laurier's Quebec recipe,
Has started the fight—to the slacker's delight—
By pounding conscription per se.

Now, W. —— W. —— B.
Is such a good fighter that we
Wonder why in the hell, he is willing to sell,
The lads who went over the sea.

Poor W.—— W.—— B.
Have you sunk to that low-down degree?
You had none of those tricks, in the year ninety-six,
When we first sent you back an M. P.

Then, W. —— W. —— B.
You were proud as the proudest could be
And you couldn't be bought by the whole bloomin' lot,
A fact which you soon let them see.

But, W. —— W. —— B.
What a sight for the gods now to see,
As you sit at the stool, a mere party tool,
Awaiting the Caucus decree.

Pause! W. —— W. —— B.
In the midst of your tweeedledum-dee
Just think of the groans, and the dead heroes' bones
Now rotting in France—for this.

And, W. —— W. —— B.
Beware of the reckoning to be.
A political wail, will little avail
The excuses of you or of me.

THE ISSUE

It is easy enough for Mr. McGeer, or any other straight Liberal speaker, to enter a denial to the charge that he, or the party he is supporting, is against the continuation of the war. The denial does not alter the fact. Laurier has declared that he will not enforce the Military Service Act, and it is taken for granted that if he is returned in this election there will be no need for a referendum. Without this measure Canada cannot possibly go on with the war, and if there should be any doubt of this, just look at the character of the forces which have lined up with Laurier to defeat the Union government. Bourassa, Marcil, Lavergne are all agreed that Canada should never have taken any part in the war, and it is from Quebec that Laurier is drawing his chief support and has taken his policy. There is no getting away from the facts of this situation. The forces supporting Laurier are either opposed to Canada being in the war, or believe that Canada has already done enough. The official labor party in Canada has also always opposed Canada's participation in the war. So far as the leaders are concerned, they hindered voluntary recruiting, and denounce the Military Service Bill as an infringement of the citizens' liberty. Yet as trade unionists they will not tolerate the open shop, and openly advocate conscription for their associations. The point then is clear that backing Laurier, or co-operating with Laurier are all the elements in the Dominion who are against Canada prosecuting the war. The issue before the electors is to "carry on" or quit. The Union Government will "carry on," and Laurier will quit. No amount of gusty oratory can alter this issue.

ORGANIZING FOR NANAIMO CONTEST

Victoria, Nov. 26.—Plans for a vigorous election campaign on behalf of Mr. J. C. McIntosh, Fusionist candidate for Nanaimo riding, are rapidly taking shape in all sections of the district. The whole territory has been canvassed fairly thoroughly by organizers during the past week, and at all the important centres the Liberal and Conservative party organizations are getting together to pave the way for a decisive victory for Union Government on December 17.

Last night the Metchosin and Colwood Liberal Association met and formally endorsed the candidature of Mr. McIntosh. On Wednesday evening its representatives will meet with members of the Metchosin and Colwood Conservative Association for the purpose of obtaining thorough cooperation throughout that locality. The Esquimalt town party associations will meet for the same purpose tomorrow. Organization work is proceeding well at Nanaimo and Duncan.

No actual campaign meetings have yet been set. Mr. McIntosh intends to make a visit to the Gulf Islands this week and will deliver speeches at several points.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

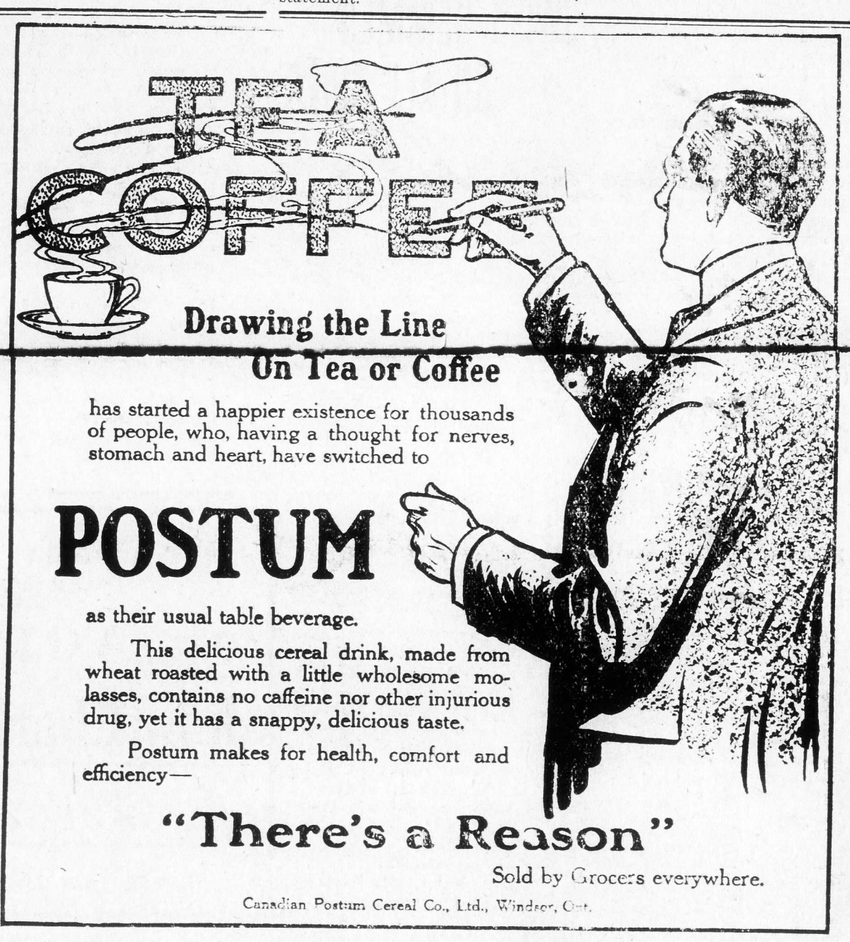
Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and skimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has not been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A small bottle will double the beauty of your hair.

DOMINION THEATRE

Mae Marsh is known wherever films are shown as the bright particular star of three of the greatest pictures ever screened. They are, "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," and "Polly of the Circus," not to mention a dozen others. She is doing some of her very best work in "Sunshine Alley," now being shown for the last times today at the Dominion. With this big six-reel Goldwyn Feature is also shown a timely Weekly and an amusing Christie comedy.



ORGANIZING CAPTURED GROUND

Paris, Nov. 26.—Violent artillery activity is continuing in the Verdun region, east of the Meuse, where the French are organizing the ground they captured yesterday to the north of Hill 344, says today's War Office statement.

A druggist can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto house at a very low price and have it labeled his own product.

This greasy imitation is the poorest one we have yet seen of the many that every Tom, Dick and Harry has tried to introduce.

Ask for MINARD'S and you will get it.

BUYING A DIAMOND

The only logical, sensible thing then to do is to seek a jewelry house which has an established reputation of knowing its business and is jealous of its good name.

We sell Diamonds "On Honor"—we can't say more with due modesty except to add our prices are fairly based upon the actual value of each stone.

Our $25.00 to $30.00 Diamond Rings are good examples of Harding's values.

"CASCARETS" FOR A COLD, BAD BREATH OR SICK HEADACHE

Get a 10-cent box now.

Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Cincinnati Man Tells How to Shrivel up Corns so they Lift Out

Ouch!??!?!?! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or inauguration of the high heels.

Notice is hereby given that no one will be allowed on the Caledonian Grounds without a written permit from the owners. Any one found on the grounds will be prosecuted for trespassing.

"Gerhard Heintzman" Canada's Greatest Piano

A Challenge to the Fatidious Music-Lover

Some day, you have decided the cheering sympathy of a piano's music will brighten your home.

On that day recall this fact: The purchase of a piano is the purchase of certain elements of musical satisfaction and mental enjoyment. Not least in your thoughts will be pride of ownership.

You'll want to see the Gerhard Heintzman—you know you would be proud to possess Canada's Greatest Piano.

You know its maker as one of Canada's pioneer builders—a man who breathed music and nurtured an ideal.

In this piano there's the exquisite harmony of outline that comes only as the result of half a century's experience in producing goodness combined with beauty.

Its rich deep tone is a revelation—due to its many exclusive tone-producing and tone-sustaining devices.

Its craftsmanship will bear the most careful and elaborate scrutiny.

Indeed, the Gerhard Heintzman piano is, from every standard, a challenge to the most fastidious music lover.

So its purchase is a proud moment—and the satisfaction of your choice permanent and lasting.

We have recently received several notices direct from the leading linen manufacturers in Ireland—as to the new restrictions placed on the use of flax for the manufacture of general goods. Part of one notice reads:

"The British War Council have been obliged to impose further drastic restrictions on the use of all flax for general trade. This is due to the uncertain conditions in Russia, and also for the enormous demand for linen for war equipment. The whole Irish crop will be required for airplane fabric and thread, and has been taken over by the government. Under these circumstances very little flax will be available for making linen for general trade purposes."

Other letters speak in the same trend, which goes to prove conclusively that linen goods in the near future will be very scarce.

In the light of these facts, it will be out of place for us to suggest that you go through your household linens and carefully anticipate your needs for many months to come and buy them now.

To buy linens now, is to save considerably later on.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28, 1917. NUMBER [illegible]

ORGANIZED FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Strong Committee Representing Three Local Organizations Selected to Look After the Interests of Unionist Candidate in Nanaimo.

As a result of the meeting last night of delegates from the Liberal and Conservative associations and the campaign committee was formed to look after the interests of Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the union candidate in the coming election. This committee which will act as a whole as a union committee is composed of Messrs. Jepson, Marshall, Hindmarch, Freeman, McGregor, Coburn, Bailey, Cunningham, Coombs and Rudd, representing the Win-the-War League; Messrs. Brown, Lewis, Callow, Gibson, Jolly, McAdie, Ormonde, Murphy, Gilbert and Spencer, representing the Liberal Association; and Messrs. Cunliffe, Busby, Planta, McGill, Tippett, Pender, Barnes, Williams, Young, and Cavalsky representing the Conservative Association.

The committee will have their headquarters in the Gibson Block. The office will be opened today, a telephone installed, and a man put in charge. Friends and supporters of the union candidate, Mr. McIntosh will be welcomed at headquarters, and any information as to registering and the qualifications necessary to vote will be willingly given to those requiring it.

The meeting last night was characterized by the utmost harmony, and all present are more than willing to do all they can to secure the return of Mr. McIntosh and will push his candidature with the greatest vigor. An executive committee consisting of Messrs. Brown, Jepson, Bubsy, Marshall, and Hindmarch was appointed, and they will map out the work for the main committee. It was also decided to enl'st the services of the lady members of the three associations to help in the registration of the women entitled to vote. The ladies will be asked to meet the executive members at headquarters on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, when this important work will be taken in hand.

It was decided to open a campaign fund and Messrs. Cunningham, Bailey, and Lewis were appointed a finance committee to look after this.

The committee will get right down to work and will welcome any assistance from supporters of the union government whose candidate Mr. McIntosh it. There is little doubt of Mr. McIntosh's election, but the one safe principle in elections is to leave nothing to chance. The committee will at least leave nothing undone to secure a majority for Mr. McIntosh in Nanaimo.

EXTENSION MEN GET ADVANCE

After duly considering the rapid advance in the cost of living, the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, have decided to raise the wages of their employees 10 per cent, says yesterday's Ladysmith Chronicle. This arrangement was arrived at Sunday morning at a meeting between Superintendent Thomas Spruston and the commitee. It is only a short time since the company made a substantial advance in the wages of the cost of living was increasing so much during recent months that a further raise was the only way in which to meet the changing conditions. In return for this concession on the part of the company it is hoped the men will avoid as much as possible any loss of time in getting out the coal. The men will be asked to aid the company in fulfilling its contracts, which at the present time are very pressing, the demand being far in advance of the supply, caused by the requirements in manufacturing supplies.

The local order of Elks will hold a Memorial Service on Sunday next which will be open to the public. The time and place will be announced later.

Kitchener, Nov. 27.—Otto Litfin Schuler, who were charged with disorderly codnuct on King Street, during the Borden disturbance last Saturday night, were found guilty by Police Magistrate Weir this afternoon and fined $50 and coss.

A party of twenty Ladysmith people motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Keast, in Oyster district Monday evening, the occasion being the silver wedding of that couple. Mr. and Mrs. Keast were presented with a silver butterdish and a pleasant evening was spent with musical selections contributed by the visitors.

WAR SITUATION ON ALL FRONTS

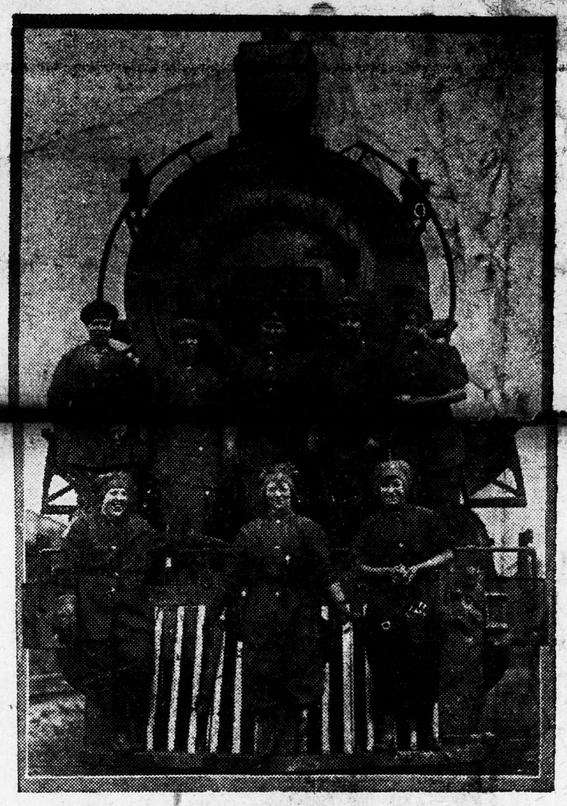
Allies in Conference for More Unified Action—Situation in Russia Is Getting More Serious—Victories in the West.

London, Nov. 27—Representatives of the chief nations at war with the Teutonic Allies are assembling in Paris for an Inter-Allied conference at which is to be discussed momentnous questions for more unified action in the prosecution of the war.

The American, British and Italian missions already have reached the French capital. They are led respectively by Col. E. M. House, David Lloyd George, British Prime Minister, and Yittorio Orlando, the Italian Premier. In addition to determining the basis for stronger joint action against enemy countries the conferes doubtless also will discuss at length the anomalous solution in Russia, where the Bolsheviki faction is in control, and where German staff officers are reported acting as military advisers to the Lenine Government. Possibly the most pertinent point in the discussion will be the future attitude of the Allied countries toward Russia, whether the situation as it now stands, does not place the Bolsheviki Government and its followers in the category of the allies of the Central Powers.

Inside Russia unsettled conditions of affairs seems to be growing more serious. All communications has been severed between the north and south of Russia and even the foreign embassies in Petrograd are being unable to get in touch with Odessa and other points to the south. Unofficial advices are to the effect that the Russian northern army is in dire straits for food, having had no bread for several days.

Around the village of Bourlon and Bourlon Wood and about Fontaine Notre Dame, in the region of Cambrai, British troops are keeping hard after the Germans. In both sectors Gen. Byng's forces have made considerable progress, especially at Fontaine, where, having been evicted by the Germans after the initial drive of last week, they again have obtained a footing in the town and have advanced almost to the main street. The southern portion of Bourlon village also has been occupied by the British after a hot fight, but after having rescued some of their troops who had been isolated there for some time, the British withdrew to their original positions.



In a supreme endeavor to break the Italian line before the British and French reinforcements enter the fray, the Austro-Germans, comprising an entire division, attacked the Italians in the Brenta valley, on the northern sector of the Italian front. The offensive was stopped by the Italian artillery and infantry, the enemy suffering heavy losses.

Four additional attacks between the Brenta and Piave rivers also [illegible] ties and everywhere the Italians held their original lines.

Another American steamer, the Actaeon, a former German vessel has been sunk by a German submarine. Boats containing 21 survivors have landed in Spain but three other boats with additional members of the crew are missing.

MARIPOSA IS A TOTAL LOSS

Seattle, Nov. 27.—The steamer Mariposa which went ashore on Strait Island reef 50 miles west of Wrangell, Alaska, on the night of Nov. 18, is a total loss. She was broken in tow and the after part sunk in 40 fathoms. Some of the copper ore in the forward section of the vessel may be saved. The Mariposa and cargo was valued at approximately $1,500,000.

This group of women munition workers was taken by a Victory Loan photographer, who was spending the morning with a Victory Bond canvasser. The canvasser sold one or more bonds to each of these daring young women.

$100,000 MORE IS REQUIRED

Nanaimo's Victory Loan Campaign Will Be Brought to a Close on Saturday—A Big Spurt Required.

Nanaimo has got to subscribe $25,000 a day for the next four days if the city is to raise a half million dollars toward Canada's Victory Loan. At the close of business last night the $400,000 mark was reached and there will have to be some strenuous work on the part of the canvassers and also a liberal response on the part of the public if the last $100,000 is to be subscribed in the four remaining days of the Drive.

"A quarter of a million for Nanaimo" the original slogan of the campaign in this city has been almost forgotten by the canvassers in their zeal to reach the half million and they have buckled down to work determined if at all possible to attain the goal. There are a number of the canvassers, however, who have not been working as hard as they may have done and an urgent appeal is made to them to get busy today and assist in crowning the Drive with overwhelming success.

In connection with the publicity part of the campaign Mr. J. C. Dakin has a big attraction projected for Thursday night in connection with which a large number of brooms are required and if anyone has an old broom lying about they will confer a favor by either sending it to Loan Headquarters or phoning 700, when a messenger will be dispatched for the desired article.

Buy a Victory Bond today as Nanaimo needs $100,000 more.

ELK'S DANCE A BIG SUCCESS

The Elks' Christmas Tree dance, supper and whist drive in aid of the Soldiers' Kiddies' Christmas Fund, held last night in the Oddfellows' Hall was most successful in every respect. There were nearly two hundred couples in attendance and all details in connection with the affair were carried out in a manner that reflected much credit on the committee in charge. The hall was artistically and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Evergreen was displayed in abundance, and the decorations were given a patriotic tint in the display of bunting and flags, the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes being most conspicuous, while overlooking all was a magnificent Elk spread, emblematic of the order.

Lewis' Orchestra supplied the mustc and this talented organization never appeared to better advantage. The program was varied and lengthy and was enjoyed to such an extent that almost every number was encored, the orchestra invariably responding.

The supper contributed materially to the success of the evening for the spread was most elaborate and the subject of much favorable comment. Those who did not dance spent the evening in a grand whist drive, the prize winners being, Ladies, Miss Cox, 1st prize; Gents, Mr. Joseph Fox. Booby prize, Mrs. Dobinson; Booby prize, gents, R. Dobinson.

Mr. J. Hope with ticket number 181 won the drawing for the crocheted bed spread.

THE DUKE'S VISIT TO QUALICUM HOSPITAL

Gov.-General and Party Visit the Military Hospital at Qualicum Beach.

On. Nov. 23, His Excellency the Governor-General, accompanied by Lord Neville and members of his suite; Major-Gen. Leckie, Major J. S. Harvey, O. C. "J" Unit; Hon. W. Sloan, Premier H. C. Brewster and other prominent citizens paid an official visit to the Military Hospital at Qualicum Beach. The distinguished party were met at the station and escorted to the Hospital by a Guard of Honor, composed of veterans of the great war, under command of Capt. B. Aylmer, O.C. Hospital, who also wears the gold stripe designating injuries received at the front. The guard made a smart appearance, emanating a spirit of cheerfulness and zeal that made one overlook the physical imperfections that are unhappily synonymous with such a gathering of our veterans.

On arrival at the hospital the Vice Regal party were received by Dr. Davidson and Matron O'Brien, and after an inspection of the hospital and equipment, during which the Duke expressed great interest in the Massage Department; the party partook of a splendid six course luncheon. The Governor General, after decorating Pte. McLean, of the 54th B C. Battalion with the D.C.M., for bravery in the field; in a concise but happy speech, expressed great pleasure over the good work done and results obtained at the Institution and heartily congratulated Capt. Aylmer, Dr. Davidson, Matron O'Brien, the Nurses and Staff on the spirit of contentment and good cheer prevalent amongst the patients, also the splendid interior economy evidenced.

During the afternoon Mr. Muir, of Nanaimo, and Miss Steele of Nanaimo, rendered songs and musical selections, that gained hearty approval of all present, and felicitous thanks from the Duke.

Pte. Joseph Barrett of Gabriola Island returned last evening from overseas, being invalided home after doing his bit on the firing line.

Pte. Barrett was met at the wharf by representatives of the City Council, Daughters of the Empire and Red Cross Club and a large number of old time friends and given a warm reception.

HOLIDAY ON FRIDAY

As it was the expressed wish of His Excellency the Governor-General that the children of the Public Schools should have a holiday, the Board of School Trustees is pleased to declare that Friday next will be a holiday in all the Public Schools of Nanaimo, in honor of His Excellency's visit to the city on Saturday last.

MR. A. S. WALLACE DIED IN VICTORIA SUNDAY

The death occurred in Victoria on Sunday as the result of a long illness, best known commercial agent of Victoria, and a frequent visitor to this city in which he had many friends.

Mr. Wallace was born in 1865 at Mount Pleasant, Ont., and nine years ago left London, Ont., for Vancouver, where he accepted a position as Mainland representative for Messrs. Wood, Vallance & Leggatt. He was transferred to Victoria as Island representative five years ago.

He was a member of the Masonic Order, and is survived by his widow and one son, Donald S. Wallace, of Seattle. The funeral took place yesterday in Victoria.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Anatoly Lankovsky, son of former Russian surgeon general Vladimir Lankovsky, enlisted today in the United States army engineering corps here. He said his father told him he could be of great service to his own country by fighting under the American flag.

SERIOUSLY HURT BY AUTOMOBILE

Accident on Commercial Street Last Evening Resulted in Serious, If Not Fatal Injuries to Miss Nellie Rawlinson.

Miss Nellie Rawlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawlinson of this city was knocked down and run over at 8 o'clock last evening by an auto driven by W. Edmunds, the accident occurring about midway between the Bijou Theatre and Clarke's confectionery store.

Miss Rawlinson was crossing the street at the time and evidently did not notice the approach of the car which bystanders say was travelling at a speed of less than ten miles an hour, neither did the driver notice Miss Rawlinson until when within a few feet of her, the shadows cast by the three lights in that vicinity making it exceedingly difficult to distinguish any object even though a short distance away.

Miss Rawlinson was struck by the mud guard and knocked down, the wheels of the car afterwards passing over her body. She was rendered unconscious and on the latest inquiry at the hospital had not yet regained consciousness. An examination as to the extent of her injuries revealed that while Miss Rawlinson had sustained no broken bones she is suffering from concussion of the brain and it will not be known for 24 hours as to what turn her injuries may take.

BRITISH LINE HOLDING FIRM

New Assault Made by British Forces at Fontaine and Hard Fighting Developed—Enemy Counter Attacks Repulsed.

British Front in France and Belgium (By the Associated Press), Nov. 27.—A new assault was made by the British at Fonaine at dawn after a comparatively quiet night and hard fighting developed immediately. The Germans poured heavy machine gun fire against the British from windows and roofs of buildings and large concentration of enemy machine guns in La Folie Wood, southeast of Fontaine also which were brought into action against the attacking troops.

This machine gun fire presented the main difficulty to an advance, for the Germans in the hamlet were working from behind walls and other cover, while it was necessary for the British to charge across more or less open stretches, giving the enemy a good chance to sweep their ranks with intense fire. The battle of the southern edge of Bourlon village continued last night. As the result of a determined drive against the German line the British were enabled to break through at one point and bring back a party of English troops that had been holding out in the southern part of the hamlet and had been isolated for some time. No attempt was made to remain in the village after this body of men had been rescued and gotten back through the gap in the German line. It was reported this morning another body of British troops were holding a position in the northern section of the village with the Germans all about them. The enemy delivered a counter attack against the northeast corner of Bourlon wood about 10 o'clock last night but was repulsed.

The British line this morning is holding firm along the northern fringe of the wood and up to the edge of the Bourlon village.

British artillery has been hammering the Germans heavily at various poins and during the night projected a large amount of gas into Queant. The weather moderated some yesterday and heavy storms set in. It rained torrents most of the night and for some time this turned to snow, small patches of which are still to be seen about the countryside. Rain continued today, making the position of the troops operating in the new territory most uncomfortable.

ARE YOU ON THE VOTERS LIST?

New List Is Being Compiled for Pending Dominion Elections and Every Qualified Citizen Should See His or Her Name Is Enrolled.

There is some confusion in the public mind as to the course to be followed in getting on to the voters' list for the coming election. It should be understood that the existing lists are not being used. Enumerators are compiling a brand new list, and all those entitled to vote should see that their name is taken down by the enumerator covering the section of the city in which they reside. Here is the full list of enumerators now busy in Nanaimo and the immediate district, and any one in any doubt as to his vote should see the enumerator covering his section and see that his or her name is placed on the list. The enumerators are as follows:

Middle Ward.
William Bennett, Kennedy Street.
Alex. Gibbons, Kennedy Street.
M. G. Clark, Kennedy Street.

South Ward.
Charles Wilson, Finlayson Street.
W. F. Norris. Chapel Street.
J. Bennett, Grand Hotel.

North Ward.
H. P. Hickling,
J. W. Faulkner.
T. Harrison.

Five Acres.
T. W. Martindale.

Chase River.
T. Bedford.

Brechin.
Harry Hickling.

As to the qualifications for voters they are as follows:

Male Voters.

Being a British subject; able to read any portion of Act if required; having resided in this Province six months and in the Electoral District, in which he claims to vote one month of that period, immediately previous to sending in claim to vote.

Female Voters.

Same qualifications as Male Voter, provided, however, that this applies to the wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of any person, male or female, living or dead, who is serving or has served without Canada in any of the Military Forces or within or without Canada in any of the Naval Forces of Canada or of Great Britain in the present war.

Provided further that this section shall not apply to the wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of a person no longer serving as aforesaid unless such person has died in or has been honorably discharged from such service, or in the case of an officer, hos died in or has been permitted to resign from such service or has been dispensed by competent authority from further service, or in any case, has died after honorable discharge, resignation by permission or dispensattion from further service as aforesaid.

DR. L. J. O'BRIEN IS VISITING IN NANAIMO

Capt. Dr. L. J. O'Brien who recently returned to his home in Victoria after serving two years and a half with No. 5 Hospital Corps at Salonica, is at present visiting in Nanaimo and is the guest for a few days of Dr. Brown, Machleary Street.

Dr. O'Brien resided for a number of years in Nanaimo and has many friends in the city who would like to see him again take up his residence here. The doctor, however, has not as yet formed his plans for the future and has not decided whether or not to again take up his residence in Nanaimo.

Before returning to Victoria Doctors O'Brien and Brown will go out on a hunting expedition.

THE DIFFERENCE

There is a marked difference between the attitude of organized labor in Canada and in the United States towards the war. In Canada the men who have got hold of the direction of labor unions all more or less affect the pose of social Ishmaels. They have so little use for the country that it passes understanding why they stay in it. To them the Dominion is not worth fighting for, as they claim they are merely the slaves of capital. They have not a single privilege worth having, and patriotism to them is mockery. How much of what they preach they themselves believe in let doctors tell, but they get along with it. At all events they deny any obligation to fight for the Dominion and have consistently and violently opposed all war measures, and are out now in force to down the union government.

It is different in the United States. The American Federation of Labor has re-elected Mr. Samuel Gompers to the presidency, on the understanding that he will do everything in his power to assist the government in the vigorous prosecution of the war. There was hardly any opposition to speak of, and the only excitement was caused by a Canadian delegate whose reference to the compulsory service act as a piece of dastardly legislation caused a roar of dissent. Gompers, inded, was re-eleced by a vote of 450 to 15, and here is how he stated his position:

"I am not neutral in this war. Pacifist as I have been all my life, when I find there is a band of murderers abroad and I fail to defend my children I am not a pacifist but a coward.

"President Wilson and the members of his cabinet were peace-loving men. I know of no militarist in their number but now they are fighting men. And I publicly declare now that I am a fighting man and will continue to fight for the country to which I owe all, the country which I love, and in which my hopes and aspirations are bound up.

"I propose to do a man's duty in helping to make this war the last war of this world. All my energies shall be laid at the feet of America and of our allies to do what I can toward the establishment of democracy, even in Germany."

There are in Canada thousands of trade unionists who will preach the sentiments of Gompers, and who will vote in accordance with these sentiments in spite of the attitude of their leaders.

THE KITCHENER AFFAIR.

Bearing in mind that Kitchener, Ontario, was formerly Berlin, Ont., that it posseses a large pro-German element and that it already had gained an unenviable notoriety in connection with the Dominion's war efforts, we require no key to the demonstration against Sir Robert Borden when he attempted to address a public meeting there on Saturday night, says yesterday's Vicoria Times in its editorial columns. The demonstrators were inspired less by antagonism to the Government than by their hostility to the cause for which this country is fighting and for which men whose shoes they are not fit to clean have sacrificed their lives.

In the early stages of the war undisguised efforts were made by these elements to prevent recruiting. They interfered with officers who were trying to induce men to enlist and openly insulted the flag of the country. In this, however, they were emboldened by the weakness of the Government in dealing with them. Had they been promptly interned or punished to the full extent of the law, as their kind are punished in the United States, the Prime Minister of Canada would not have had any trouble at the meeting on Saturday night.

A country at war should take no chances on the development of the enemy's warfare behind its front, the warfare that was carried on in Russia and Italy and was attempted in France. The Government should keep under strict surveilance all soil favorable to the growth of the pan-German seed.

DOMINION THEATRE

We had the pleasure a few days since of presenting to Nanaimo theatre goers Jane Cowl, and we announced her as a beautiful woman and distinguished actress, encomiums which were endorsed by our enthusiastic patrons who witnessed "The Spreading Dawn." Today we introduce another reigning star and international beauty to Nanaimo audiences in the person of Elsie Ferguson, one of the greatest actresses on the English speaking stage. She will be shown in a wonderful six-act picturization of "Barbary Sheep," derived from Robert Hichen's famous novel of the same title. Some of the most elaborate settings ever shown were devised for this picture, and the Algerian views are truly wonderful.

Though this great film is attraction enough in itself, there will also be shown a late and hilariously funny Fatty Arbuckle comedy entitled "Oh Doctor." Don't miss this programme.

MISERABLE FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Felt Wretched Until He Started To Take "Fruit-a-tives"

594 CHAMPLAIN ST., MONTREAL.

"For two years, I was a miserable sufferer from Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. I had frequent Dizzy Spells, and when I took food, felt wretched and sleepy. I suffered from Rheumatism dreadfully, with pains in my back and joints, and my hands swollen.

A friend advised "Fruit-a-tives" and from the outset, they did me good. After the first box, I felt I was getting well and I can truthfully say that "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that helped me". LOUIS LABRIE.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DOMINION THEATRE

Albert Brown, who comes to the Dominion next Monday and Tuesday in two plays from his repertoire, comes with a long established reputation in Eastern Canada and the States as Canada's greatest comedian This is the first time he has appeared on the Pacific Coast and Nanaimo is fortunate in having him visit us. He brings a carefully selected company of twenty-seven artists and a carload of scenery.

For the opening night, Monday, Dec. 3, he will appear in "The White Feather," a play which has made a tremendous hit in the Old Country, and for Tuesday will present "The Love of a King," written especially for Mr. Brown by Paul Kester, the famous author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and "Sweet Nell of Old Drury."

BIJOU THEATRE

The five-reel Paramount film "The Little Boy Scout,' presents Ann Pennington, one of the daintiest and altogether delightful of film stars in the leading role. Since going into motion pictures Miss Pennington has in a very short time achieved a popularity fully up to that which she already enjoyed on the legitimate stage. "The Little Boy Scout" has proved a winner wherever shown, and there is no doubt of its success in Nanaimo.

DRANK WOOD ALCOHOL.

Montreal, Nov. 27. — Charles Brady, aged 68, drank a pint of wood alcohol here on Friday and lived until last night when he died.

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, FROM CONSTIPATION

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweetens the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

NEW MINE IS SHIPPING COAL

The Canadian Collieries' mine at South Wellington, which will be known as No. 5, is already shipping coal, and will continue to increase is output from day to day. Last week a record drive was made. This was 60 feet long, 16 feet wide and nine feet high. Great care has been taken to have the timbering of the best quality. A ventilating fan capable of renewing 6,000 cubic feet of air every minute has been installed, and the mine will be modern in every respect. The grading for trackage to connect with the E. & N. Railway is under way, and all coal will be shipped through Ladysmith. Before many months a large quantity of coal will be mined at No. 5, and the people of Vancouver Island will reap the benefit of the enterprise.

We have recently received several notices direct from the leading linen manufacturers in Ireland—as to the new restrictions placed on the use of flax for the manufacture of general goods. Part of one notice reads:

"The British War Council have been obliged to impose further drastic restrictions on the use of all flax for general trade. This is due to the uncertain conditions in Russia, and also for the enormous demand for linen for war equipment. The whole Irish crop will be required for airplane fabric and thread, and has been taken over by the government. Under these circumstances very little flax will be available for making linen for general trade purposes."

Other letters speak in the same trend, which goes to prove conclusively that linen goods in the near future will be very scarce.

In the light of these facts, it will be out of place for us to suggest that you go through your household linens and carefully anticipate your needs for many months to come and buy them now.

To buy linens now, is to save considerably later on.

THE BOLSHEVIKI DISTRUST HUNS

Teuton Treachery Feared by Russians During Progress of Armistice—Soldiers Ordered to be on Guard Against German Duplicity.

London, Nov. 28.—Sunday next has been set by the Germans as the date for a conference with the Bolsheviki leaders for the purpose of negotiating an armistice. The arrangements for a discussion followed the visit of representatives of the Bolsheviki to the German military authorities on the Teuton side of the fighting front in Russia. The Germans apparently gave quick acquiesence to the proposal of the Russians for an armistice, looking to ultimate peace, for only a few hours intervened between the visit of the Russians to the German line and the acceptance by the Germans of the proposition that was made to them. While the negotiations expected embrace an armistice "on all fronts of the belligerent countries," it is certain that the Entente Allies will give no heed to the overtures, either of the Bolshviki who comprise the radical section of the Russians, who long have desired Russia to cease fighting, or of the Germans, who, for even a greater period of time have been endeavoring to put into operation negotiations for peace that would prove a suitable one for themselves and their allies.

That the Bolsheviki leaders are distrustful of the Germans, although they agreed to enter into negotiations for an armistice, is apparent from the fact that Krylenko, the Bolsheviki commander ordered, pending the conference here shall be no fraternizing on the part of the Russians and Germans and advised vigilance and caution by the troops.

Meanwhile a great inter-allied conference was convened in Paris, and doubtless it will discuss the situation in Russia and agree upon some method to bring the disaffection to an end, or of putting the Bolsheviki element in the category of the Central Powers.

In northern France the battle between the British and Germans around Cambrai continued throughout Tuesday night, but on Wednesday, died down to somewhat small proportions. The Germans had brought up large numbers of reinforcements and fighting for the Bourlon village, Bourlon wood and Fontaine Notre Dame was waged with great bitterness and positions several times changed hands.

East and northeast of Ypres a violent artillery engagement is in progess, especially on the sector of Passchendaele and it seems probable that another big battle in this region is brewing.

The Italians continue to hold their northern front between the Brenta and Piave rivers against Austro-German forces who have been unable to gain additional terrain. An armistice in order that they might bury their numerous dead has been requested by the Austrians but owing to the lack of faith in the enemy's intentions the Italians refused to grant it.

Major General Maurice, Chief Director of military operations at the British War Office upon whose official statements much importance is placed, announces that the crisis in Italy has passed.

Jerusalem is within sight of British forces operating in Palestine but the Turks in force have been gathered about the city and it is not improbable that a great battle will be fought for its possession.

Call to Prayer for Nanaimo.

United meeting of Churches and other Christian organizations at St. Andrew's church tonight at 7.30. All welcome.

LOOKING FOR A BIG OFFENSIVE

British Drive on Cambrai May Be Followed Up Relentlessly With Similar Attacks Along Western Front.

London, Nov. 28.—"The German artillery was active last night in the region of Bourlon Wood, in the Cambrai area," says an official communication issued here today. "No further infantry fighting has taken place.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Artillery fighting greatest violence is now in progress on the Flanders front, in the region of Passchendaele, the scene of the recent heavy fighting, the War Office here stated today.

Washington, Nov. 28. — The British drive on Cambrai will be followed up relentlessly with similar offensives along the Western front, in the opinion of officers here familiar with what is in prospect in France. An authoritative announcement already has been made abroad that this winter would see no halting of the operations and with the return of American divisional commanders from observation tours in France, it has become certain that the British and French armies will prosecute winter campaigns.

The mud of Flanders has been the greatest barrier to major operations during the past few weeks, but the Cambrai attack was forced home despite it.

Meagre reports of the progress of the drive on Cambrai indicate clearly that General Byng's forces are aiming at a great encircling movement. With a wide wedge driven into the Cambrai front, the British commander apparently is working his way behind the German lines on his left flank. If he succeeds in penetrating deeply in that direction many officers here believe he will force a retirement by the Germans on a wide front.

Meanwhile the British and French pressure toward the Belgian coast is unceasing. A new effort there is expected as a part of the whole plan on which the Allies are engaged, of forcing the Germans back from along the section of the coast where the submarine bases are located. The Cambrai success has an important bearing, in the opinion of officers here, on this general plan of action during the winter.

DOMINION THEATRE

Albert Brown's coming engagement at the Dominion Theatre will mark his first appearance in Nanaimo as a star,, and during his stay of two nights, he will be seen in two plays widely different in character. In one, "The Love of a King" he will be seen first as the rollicking, handsome young Prince of Wales and later as the unfortunate George the Third, while in "The White Feather," he will essay the role of an apparently foolish young fellow, but who, in reality, is an English Secret Service agent engaged in thwarting the designs of a band of German spies. "The White Feather" will be presented on Monday, and "The Love of a King" on Tuesday night. Get your reserved seats at Van Houten's and be advised. Get them early.

ITALIAN CRISIS NOW PASSED

Chief Director of Military Operations Declares Austro-German Menace on Italian Front is Now Over.

London, Nov. 28.—"It is now time to say definitely that the crisis in Italy has passed," said Major-General F. B. Maurice, Chief Director of Military Operations at the War Office, in an interview today.

General Maurice said there had been no important movement of German troops from the Russian front.

Rome, Nov. 28.—"On the Asiago Plateau, in the Primolano basin, at the north of Col Della Berrata, and on the middle Piave," says an official report issued here today, "our batteries in co-operation with bombing flights have carried out concentrations of fire on enemy troops massed and in movement.

"Four enemy aeroplanes were brought down yesterday by our airmen."

Berlin, Nov. 28.—There is nothing to report from the Italian front, the War Office here announced today

New York, Nov. 28.—A United Press dispatch received here, dated Rome, says:

"Within the last 24 hours Italian troops, assuming the offensive, have smashed the German first and second lines, inflicting tremendous casualties on the invaders, official announcement was made here today.

The news was cited as evidence of the growing strength of the Italian army and its complete rehabilitation, the enemy's most powerful efforts to break the mountain line having been utterly fruitless.

"With French and British aid Rome looks for a decisive strategic step of vast importance.

"A whole enemy division, in massed formation strove to break the Italian line. The attacking waves came after a furious bombardment. The two lines clinched in a desperate battle, the hand-to-hand fighting extending over a wide front.

"The Italian reinforcements decided this deadlock, flinging back the enemy with severe losses. A number of prisoners were taken.

Mrs. William Vanderbilt, Mrs. Havemeyer, Mrs. Ruth Morgan and a number of other prominent American women reached Rome today from France to organize and aid in the work of relief among Italian refugees."

BELGIAN ARMY IS PREPARED

Ten Divisions of Well Trained Troops Ready to Take Part in Offensive Against Teutons in Flanders.

Havre, Nov. 28.—Ten divisions strong the Belgian army is ready to take its part in the offensive in Flanders whenever the word is given. The Belgian Minister of War today told the Associated Press that the Belgian army was composed of 117,000 men at the beginning of war, increased by 20,000 volunteers in August, 1914, and reduced to 60,000 men after the Battle of the Yser. Since then by enrollment of Belgian refugees and the enlistment of volunteers who have braved live wire barriers on the Holland frontier, it has been brought up to ten divisions of well trained troops.

ELK'S HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE ON DEC. 2ND.

The Nanaimo Lodge No. 26, B. P. O. E., is holding a grand memorial service in the Dominion Theatre on Sunday, December 2nd, at 3:30 p.m., in memory of departed brothers and friends who have laid down their lives in the great war for freedom and humanity. While it is an Elks' service everybody is invited and everybody will be made welcome. There is no admission fee or collection.

All Elks are requested to meet at the Club rooms at 2:30 p.m. to parade to the service, at which the following programme will be given:

1. Traumerii. Orchestra.
2. Memorial Ritual.
3. Opening Ode. Auld Lang Syne.
4. Invocation.

LIEUT. GOODEVE IS KILLED IN ACTION

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Commissioner A. S. Goodeve, of the Dominion Railway Board has been notified that his son, Lieut. Stewart M. Goodeve, was killed in action in the Allied drive at Cambrai. He was a member of a squadron of the Royal Flying Corps.

Commissioner Goodeve, formerly member of parliament for Kootenay, B.C., has lost two sons in the war. The first was Lieut. Arthur Goodeve, killed at Courcelette.

Rev. Dr. Laird, of Toronto, secretary of the Board of Finance of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, will visit Nanaimo on Friday and on the evening of that day will speak at the men's supper to be held in the school room of the church.

Call at Victory Loan Headquarters today and fill in your application for Victory Bonds.

MUSICAL CLUB ELECTED OFFICERS

A meeting of the Nanaimo Musical Club was held last evening in the Bible Class Room of the Wallace St. Methodist Church, the attendance being small. The report of the secretary proved most interesting to those present, and the president, Mrs. Skinner, gave a brief review of the work done by the Club since its institution.

Owing to the small attendance permanent officers were not elected, it being decided to re-elect the retiring officers, who will hold office protem, as follows:

President, Mrs. Skinner; Vice-President, Mrs. Powers; Secretary, Miss Dobeson; Treasurer, Mr. George S. Pearson, who was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. E. T. Powers. Mrs. L. Jones, Mrs. Mahrer and Ald. Coburn were elected with the officers to constitute the executive of the club.

A lengthy discussion took place on the work of the Club in the future, but nothing definitely was decided upon until a larger meeting is secured on a near date.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Barbary Sheep," with the beautiful stage star Elsie Ferguson in the leading role, is a wonderful visualization of Hichen's novel of the same title. In this story Mr. Hichens shows his power in setting forth the mystery, the fascination and the strange atmosphere of the desert.

The picture is charged with the heat, passion and swift action that befit a daring romance of the Algerian desert, and holds an audience spellbound from beginning to end. The Fatty Arbuckle comedy is a pleasant change from the gripping and intense feature.

For a pleasant game of billiards or pool, call at Shepherd's and get a chance for the $2.50 in cash, which is given away every Wednesday and Saturday at 8 p.m. A chance with every game. 4t.

BRANCH FORMED IN NANAIMO

The Nanaimo Association of the Victorian Order of Nurses was instituted last night at a meeting held in the City Hall, the election of officers and completion of the work of organization being held over to the next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 5th.

Rev. Dr. Unsworth occupied the chair, and Mr. T. Spencer was elected secretary protem. The chairman outlined the object of the meeting, and submitted the report of the committee appointed for the purpose of taking the initial steps in connection with the organization of the Association.

The object of the Association is to provide the services of a trained graduate nurse to visit the home at a moderate cost to the patient. It was pointed out that the Victorian Order of Nurses was founded 20 years ago by Lady Aberdeen and has now 296 nurses in Canada who had waited on 50,000 patients and made no less than 300,000 visits.

MAY SEND SUGAR TO THE SOLDIERS

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The Food Controller's office announced tonight that the Commissioner of Customs had issued the following memorandum to collectors of Customs and others:

"It is now ordered that sugar, refined and unrefined, including maple sugar, may be exported by parcel post up to the regulation weight when consigned to and intended for military and naval forces overseas, the limit of weight to the United Kingdom being 11 pounds and for furtherance to France 7 pounds."

TEUTON MASSES ARE DISCONTENTED

Peace Demonstrations Took Place in Berlin and Budapest—Rioters Clashed With Police and Number of Arrests Made.

Amsterdam, Nov. 28.—The Berlin Socialist organ Vorwaerts reports numerous peace demonstrations in Berlin on Sunday, and especially in the northern part of the city did they assume considerable proportions. In going through the streets the demonstrators called for cheers for peace, and the name of Karl Liebknecht was loudly applauded at one point. There was a tussle with the police and several arrests were made.

The Vorwaerts says:

"The police authorities ought not to regard such gatherings as dangerous, because the people are with the demonstrations in their aim of bringing about peace and because this effort calls forth no serious opposition throughout the country."

The Vorwaerts wishes that such demonstrations would take place in Paris and London, "for then we would not be far from peace."

Amsterdam, Nov. 28. — A great Socialist demonsration in Budapest on Sunday in favor of an armistice and peace is reported by The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. Declarations were made that democracy must employ all means to end the war, and that it is impossible to bring about peace by force of arms. These statements led to demonstrations against the war and in favor of a general strike.

A resolution was passed opposing the aims of the Pan-Germans and annexation of Poland and Livonia by Germany. The meeting voted in favor of holding an international labor conference at Stockholm.

London, Nov. 28—Concerning the proposal of T. Staunig, leader of the Danish Socialist Party, for a conference of the Socialist International next month to further a general peace, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Friedensberg, Denmark, says:

"The Vorwaerts, of Berlin, saying that the German Socialists would support the proposed new international peace conference warmly and energetically as they did the unsuccessful Stockholm conference, declares the new conference would not be dependent on the issuance of passports by the Entente Powers. The conference, it adds, held only for international Socialists, could not allow the Governments of states which are only apparently democratic to deprive them of the right to influence the peace question."

ENTERTAINMENT AT ST. PAUL'S WAS BIG SUCCESS

St. Paul's Institute was crowded to the doors last night by an appreciative audience which thoroughly enjoyed the splendid entertainment provided by young talent. The programme was rendered without a hitch, and consisted of solos, duets, drills and choruses and closing with a comic sketch.

The entertainment will be repeated at a matinee on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the price of admission being children 10 cents, and 15 cents for grown-ups.

Insurance Underwriters from Victoria arrived in the city yesterday and turned in a surprise alarm to the fire hall in order to test the qualities of Nanaimo's fire brigade. Chief Parkin and his staff were on deck in record time and the visitors expressed themselves well pleased with the test.

FINAL DAYS OF THE CAMPAIGN

Big Demonstration Will Be Held This Evening to Mark Final Effort of Nanaimo to Raise Half a Million in Victory Bonds.

Nanaimo's Victory Loan Drive last night passed the $410,000 mark and has now but three days to run. Victory Bond purchasers are requested to boost all they can for recruits to the loan, and notify headquarters, phone 700, or any of the canvassers who will be delighted to call upon all such and write them up for the much needed subscriptions which are required to enable Nanaimo to reach the coveted half million mark.

Signalising the passing of the $400,000 mark Tuesday evening proved too great a task for the Kaiser suspended from the official indicator, for he slipped the noose and got away, but was subsequently recaptured. It will therefore require the extra $90,000 to make doubly sure of his safety this time.

The committee are most anxious to secure the active co-operation of all sections of the community in their effort to make a whirlwind finish to the campaign during the last three days, and all help will be most gratefully accepted and acknowledged.

The Publicity Committee of the Victory Loan campaign had intended celebrating the wind-up of Nanaimo's effort by a big demonstration on Saturday evening next, but as the result of a conference of the canvassing committee it has been deemed advisable to devote every energy to making a big boost this evening, and thus to stimulate and apply the necessary "pep" for the last lap in the race for the $500,000 which the committee feel sure will be forthcoming from this community by Saturday evening.

A torchlight procession at 8 o'clock tonight with bands of music is now in process of being arranged for. This, it is expected, will include among the attractions, a hayseed band, quite a number of vocalists, together with several comic or masquerade features. The first public appearance in the city of the Italian band.

It is the desire of the Victory Loan executive that the citizens turn out in full force demonstrating community interest, a just pride in what has already been accomplished and thereby encourage the canvassers (who, as most readers will be aware, are passing up their commission earnings to the Nanaimo branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund) to work with renewed vigor to bring the finger of the official indicator well into the red section representing the half million dollar mark. It is intended that the procession be lined-up at the Victory Loan headquarters afterwards marching along Commercial sreet to the Post Office, returning by the same route to the starting point, where Senator A. E. Planta will briefly address the gathering. Mr. G. A. Beattie, the captain of the canvass teams, will also make an announcement of some importance, the vocalists at this point will render special selections. As a proud finale the massed bands will play as the assembled crowd of people sing The National Anthem with a fervor worthy of the splendid response made by Nanaimo's citizens to the Victory Loan appeal.

The condition of Miss Nellie Rawlinson, who was injured by an auto on Tuesday night is still serious, not having yet regained consciousness.

LAURIER AND THE WAR

Speaking at Ottawa Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied the claim of the Unionist party to be the win-the-war party. "We all want to win the war," declared Sir Wilfrid. We would hesitate to say that this is not true of Sir Wilfrid, but it certainly is not true of many of his supporters. The greater portion of his Quebec following want only to get out of the war. They have no thought of winning the war, or even of going on with it. There are other elements in the country who are talking stop the war, or stop Canada's part in the war, and they are all opposed to the unionist party, and either supporting Laurier or co-operating with him. Sir Wilfrid pointedly remarked that he was not dominated by Bourassa. This also may be true, but it is equally true that Bourassa is not dominated by Sir Wilfrid. It is equally certain that if Sir Wilfrid were returned he could only keep his forces together by submitting to the dictation of Quebec. Candidates in the province of Quebec, who favor the win-the-war policy are refused a hearing. Thanks to the criminal weakness of the Borden government the people of Quebec have been fed with sedition and race prejudice until now the situation is intolerable. Laurier must also take his share of the responsibility for this condition of things. He may, as he claims, in his position as leader of the Opposition, have done as much to help his country to win the war as any man in a similar position in any of the belligerent countries. We are unable to think of a comparison, no more than we can think of anything Sir Wilfrid has done to bring the war situation more clearly home to his countrymen. At all events he cannot for a moment hold to his statement that he is leading a win-the-war party. Whatever may be his personal wishes and plans, there is no denying the fact that a very considerable part of his following want to quit the war.

THE VICTORY LOAN

There are only three more days to go in the Victory Loan Campaign. The compaign committee as a result of its energetic work and canvass, has carried the total subscriptions well over the four hundred thousand mark. This is a long way beyond the figure originally set for the good folk of Nanaimo, but having done so well, why not do better? The committee is now trying to reach the half million mark, and there is still a chance of reaching it. There are many good people who have hesitated to get in because they could only buy one or two bonds. If only they could have bought more they would have been in before this. These are just the people the committee want to see get in. There are very few citizens of Nanaimo who cannot manage one bond, and now is their time to come in. There are others who have bought bonds, but who, by stretching a point, could buy more. Now is their time as well. If the half million mark is to be reached there must be no holding back for any reason whatsoever. The canvassers will be out these next three days in a final effort to hoist the subscriptions to the half million total, and with the spirit now prevailing, and everyone doing what he or she can, this total will be reached. But it is a case of everyone co-operating to the very best of his or her ability.

Ladies belonging to the Liberal and Conservative Associations, the Win-the-War League and the Next of Kin Society, will not forget that the executive of the unfon committee would like to meet them at Union Headquarters in the Gibson Block tonight at 8 o'clock. It is imperative that all the women entitled to vote in the coming election should be placed upon the voters' list and this can be much better accomplished by a women's committee than by any other means. The union committee executive hopes that as a result of the meeting this evening the ladies will organize a band of workers which will see that every woman entitled to vote is placed on the voters list.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

LAURIER SCORED USE OF THE GAG

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—For a little over an hour tonight Sir Wilfrid Laurier addressed a crowd which filled Russell Theatre. Outside there was a long line of people who vainly sought admittance. E. J. Daly, Vice-President of the Ottawa Reform Association in his introductory remarks as chairman asserted that 5,000 had been turned away.

Sir Wilfrid dealt equally with charges made against him in regard to recruiting and with recent disturbances at public meetings. Referring more particularly to the incident at Kitchener, when Sir Robert Borden was unable to speak, Sir Wilfrid expressed regret that it had occurred. "I do not approve," he said, "of any interference with free speech. The gag is a gag whether it is applied by a turbulent crowd in a public meeting or whether it is applied in parliament by the obedient majority of cold blooded Government."

Why Best for Babies?

"Granny" Chamberlain

"I am often asked why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is best for babies. Well, there are several reasons:

First: It is perfectly harmless and can be given with every confidence to the youngest or most delicate child.

Secondly: It contains no alcohol, opium, chloroform, morphine or any other narcotic.

For the above reasons alone it is impossible to get a better medicine for babies than

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

But aside from its safety it relieves coughs and colds, is the best remedy known for croup, and when given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will even prevent the attack."

Yours for Health —Granny Chamberlain

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull throbibng, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

PRESENT CONFERENCE IN PARIS MOMENTOUS

London, Nov. 28—Representatives of the Allied Powers are in Paris for a conference upon which the future course of their countries war activities probably will depend. The French leaders have been joined by the chosen representatives of Great Britain, the United States and Italy.

A basis for joint action against the Central Powers will be determined at the conference, it is indicated, and the future policy toward Russia may be decided upon.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, NOV. 30, 1917. NUMBER 30.

QUALICUM BOYS ARE APPRECIATIVE

Have Enjoyed Entertainments Given Them in the Past and are Looking Forward to Future Concerts With Keen Pleasure.

Some few months ago a committee was formed consisting of members of the I.O.D.E., Bastion Chapter, and the Nanaimo Red Cross Society for the purpose of putting on weekly concerts for the entertainment of the patients domiciled at the Qualicum Beach Hospital, and up to date three have been gone through with. Dr. and Mrs. Unsworth, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Rev. West and wife of the Bapitst Church have also organized amusement for the boys along similar lines, and Mrs. F. G. Peto, after promoting several entertainments for the veterans during the summer months, arranged a very enjoyable time for the boys a few evenings ago by presenting for their approval selections from "The Country Girl" by various members of the cast.

To supply travelling facilities for the performers the auto owners of Nanaimo have been most generous in the loan of their cars on all occasions.

Miss Gibson, on behalf of the Red Cross, presented to the Hospital Funds a cheque for $120, proceeds of a musical comedy produced in Nanaimo. During the second week in October, a dance, the music furnished by a Nanaimo orchestra, and favored with an exceptionally large attendance of Nanaimoites, resulted in a clearance of $90 above expenses. Ten days later a second dance was given, music being supplied by a Victoria orchestra of 5 pieces, conducted by Mr. Heatley. Unfortunately, owing to a counter attraction in Nanaimo, this affair did not meet with the success of the first endeavor. On both occasions Capt. and Mrs. Aylmer joined with Dr. and Mrs. Davidson in greatly facilitating the efforts of the boys to entertain their guests. The entire proceeds of the dances go towards the Return Soldiers' Fund for defraying expenses coincident with matters appertaining to sports and amusements for the patients.

Mrs. Martindale and Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale, representing the I. O. D. E. have also shown great interest in the welfare of the patients; donations from that source having reached the Hospital on different occasions.

The patients greatly appreciate the past efforts of the good people of Nanaimo to make their sojourn at Qualicum Beach a happy one and look forward with pleasure to the future entertainments at present on the tapis.

DOMINION THEATRE

An unusually attractive program is offered at the Dominion for today and tomorrow. Petrova appears in her latest success "Exile," a powerful five-act photoplay written expressly for her, and with this will be shown one of the old reliable two-reel Keystone comedies "Villa of the Movies," which is said to be a whirlwind of laughs.

BRITISH GUNS POUND CAMBRAI

Berlin Tells of Cambrai Being Heavily Shelled by British Artillery—Raids Take Place on French Front

London, Nov. 29.—No change in the British positions on the Cambrai front was reported in the usual daily communications received from Field Marshal Haig today. Heavy shelling yesterday of the town of Cambrai, which has been a most important point in the German system, was told of in an official statement issued in Berlin today.

An official communication issued in Paris reported artillery actions north of the Aisne and in the region of Sapigneul, a successful raid by French troops at a point on the Argonne front, the repulse with enemy losses of a strong German raid in the Champagne and the repulse of two enemy raids on the Verdun front.

"A hostile attack delivered against Belgian positions in the neighborhood of Aschoop was beaten off after sharp fighting.

"South of the Scarpe River we captured a few prisoners during the night in patrol encounters.

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing of special importance to report."

Paris, Nov. 29.—Artillery actions occurred north of the Aisne and in the region of Sapigneul, says an official report issued here this afternoon.

"In the Champagne north of Carrillet enemy troops last night after a violent bombardment, undertook a raid in great strength. Our troops repulsed them, inflicting heavy losses," says the report.

"In the Argonne, west of the Aire, we raided the German lines, and brought back 10 prisoners.

'Twe enemy raids, one on the left bank of the Meuse, in the region of Bethincourt, the other on the right bank northwest of Vaux-le-Damloup, were completely repulsed.

"There was active artillery fighting in upper Alsace."

Berlin, Nov. 29.—British artillery yesterday was shelling the town of Cambrai, the objective of the latest British offensive in France, it was announced officially here today.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press).—The business of cutting and transporting wood has become one of first importance with the American force in France. For several weeks large detachments have been deep within the forests in France, some near the Swiss border, others near the coast and some far south. The products of their labor are being shipped by rail and motor to various localities for use in heating and cooking.

So great has been the scarcity, which is now beginning to be alleviated, that the troops on their "hikes" have been marched through nearby forests where every man picked up pieces of wood to carry back to the billets. In this way the marching troops brought into the billet towns many cords of wood in a short time.

A cloud-burst at the head of Englishman's river on Tuesday is believed to be the cause of an unprecedented and therefore unexpected freshet, the water having risen between four and five feet in a few hours. The principal damage doné was the carrying away of a boom at the mouth of the stream and with it about six hundred cords of fine cedar bolts into the gulf. The timber was awaiting shipment to Vancouver and had been sold by the owner, Mr. Walter Marriott, Parksville, at $9.00 per cord.

For a pleasant game of billiards or pool, call at Shepherd's and get a chance for the $2.50 in cash, which is given away every Wednesday and Saturday at 8 p.m. A chance with every game. 4t.

TO VICTORY LOAN SUBSCRIBERS.

Victory Loan subscribers who have signed cash undertakings, are reminded that these must be paid on or before Saturday, December 1st.

At the request of the Minister of Finance, banks will remain open until 10 p.m. on Saturday for the express purpose of receiving payments.

WOMEN TO ASSIST IN CAMPAIGN

There was quite a large turn out of ladies from the various women's associations in the city at the Unionist headquarters last night to meet the executive of Mr. McIntosh's campaign committee. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange for a thorough canvass of the city so as to get every woman entitled to vote on the list for the coming election.

The ladies took up the work with the greatest willingness and enthusiasm, and Mesdames Lewis, Neave, Brown and Cope were appointed conveners of committees to go over the city by sections. It is hoped in this way to get every woman entitled to vote on to the list for polling day on December 17th.

Mr. McIntosh has arranged to hold his first meeting in the Opera House on Friday evening, December 7th. Fuller particulars of the meeting will be published later.

MORE MONEY FOR SOLDIERS WIVES

Order-in-Council Increases Separation Allowance to Twenty-five Dollars a Month—December to be Included.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Recognizing the high cost of living confronting soldiers' wives, an order-in-council has been passed increasing separation allowance paid to wives and other dependents of soldiers below the rank of sergeant in the Canadian Expeditionary Force from $20 to $25 per month, beginning December 1. The effect of this is that in the month of January the wife or other dependent of every soldier hitherto in receipt of $20 per month will receive $30, the extra $10 representing the increase for two months of December and January, and in each month thereafter she will receive $25 instead of $20 as heretofore. Cheques for January will be issued early.

CLOSING DAYS OF THE CAMPAIGN

$65,000 is required to make Nanaimo's subscriptions to the Victory Loan reach the half million dollar mark. But two days remain in which this amount is to be raised, and it will require the united efforts of all the salesmen and a disposition to buy on the part of the public if the local campaign is to be crowned with complete success.

At the close of business last night the Indicator passed the $435,000 mark, and today and tomorrow every effort will be made to sell Victory Bonds to those who have not as yet invested.

The demonstration scheduled for last night was called off owing to the wet weather, but if the atmospheric conditions are more favorable tonight the demonstration will be held at 7:30.

DOMINION THEATRE

The Great English Secret Service Play "The White Feather."

"The White Feather" the immense international success will be seen for the first time in British Columbia at the Dominion Theatre, Nanaimo, on Monday night, December 3. One of the interesting feature of this drama is while its topic is war there is no sanguinary conflict in any of its scenes. It is simply a battle of wits between English and German secret service agents for the upper hand in a plot to raid the English coast with German submarines. The principal agent of the British War Office is a young fellow who pretends to be both a coward and a "Silly Ass" in order to avert suspicion as to his real mission is an unusually clever character drawing which proves most effective in outwitting the wily Teuton, Albert Brown who presents the play will be seen as the English secret service agent, a role he originated in New York.

On Tuesday night Mr. Brown will be seen in "The Love of a King."

SWEDEN ACTING AS MEDIATOR

Offer of a Truce and Peace Negotiations Has Already Been Sent from Stockholm to Berlin Foreign Office.

Petrograd, Nov. 29.—A decree has been issued by Lenine, Bolsheviki Premier, giving the commissioner of the State Bank the right to issue from the State Treasury a short time advance to the council of commissaries of 25,000,000 rubles. The decree followed a conference of the commissioner and the bank authorities, in which legal proceedings for drawing funds were exchanged. This method was declared by the commissioner to be too dilatory in view of the immediate needs of funds. The decree was then issued, after which the bank managers resigned. Their places have been filled by appointees of the Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates.

Copenhagen, Nov. 29.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, says that the Swedish Legation at Petrograd has agreed at Leon Trotzky's request, to act as mediator between Russia and Germany and has already sent to the Berlin Foreign Office a note offering a truce and peace negotiations.

PRESENTED WITH PURSE OF GOLD

Mr. "Jack" Murray, of 104 Haliburton street, leaves this morning to take up his residence in the Kamloops district. Last evening he was given a surprise party by a large number of friends and fellow workers of the Wallace Street Methodist Church, and presented with a purse of gold together with the following address:

Nanaimo, Nov. 29th, 1917.

Mr. John Murray, Nanaimo, B.C.:

Dear Friend,—We meet in your home tonight with mingled feelings happy to share the friendly goodwill of another of those social evenings we have so often spent together, but with our smiles near to tears because it is the eve of farewell. Tomorrow you sail out of our harbor to sojourn among strangers. Your kind heart and unfailing good nature will soon make you many friends. We know your loyalty too well however, to fear that you will ever forget the old friends you leave behind. It is not necessary to say to you "make new friends, but keep the old." You will do both.

We who remain behind to tread the old familiar paths will have good reason not to forget you. We shall miss you constantly in all our work and future gatherings. So many men are away, and leaving us, that the vacancy will be keenly felt. Nor is it by any means apparent who is to take your place among us.

We confidently expect that the pleasant surroundings and stimulating air of your new home will quickly restore you to your usual health. We trust that your recovery may be speedy and that you will not long be absent from us. Till then your place in the "Village Doctor," the "League," and the "Bible Class" constantly awaits your return and your associates unite in wishing you to accept this purse of gold as a symbol of that tested friendship which, though tried by the fire of separation, rings true amid all life's changes. We wish you God speed and Heaven's blessing.

Frank Baldwin an employee of the Giant Powder Company at Nanoose Bay, was seriously injured yesterday when he fell from a ladder and striking head foremost was rendered unconscious. He was brought to the local hospital for treatment and at the latest accounts was doing as well as could be expected.

BIJOU THEATRE

The feature on the Bijou program for today and tomorrow is a striking five-act Pathe production, entitled "Pots and Pans Peggy," with popular Gladys Hulette in the leading role. Another stirring instalment of that exciting serial "Patria," is also on the program.

TORPEDO BOAT LOST

London, Nov. 29.—A German torpedo boat destroyer belonging to a Zeebrugge flotilla, struck a mine off Westkappelle, Holland and sank, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. Only two of her crew were saved.

GONE BACK ON THE FATHERLAND

Baltimore, Nov. 29. — Several thousand native born Germans and their descendants gathered here today in St. James Catholic Church and prayed for President Wilson and the men who have fallen so far in the war. Prayers were in particular for Nicholas Wagner, who went down with the destroyer Chauncey several weeks ago. He was a member of the congregation.

CORPL. CHARLES HARDY KILLED IN ACTION

Mr. Charles Hardy, of Parksville, was officially informed yesterday from Ottawa, that his son, Corporal Charles Hardy, was killed in action on Nov. 9th.

The young soldier who has made the supreme sacrifice, was but 22 years of age. He was a native of Nanaimo, and went overseas with the 47th, Battallion two years ago.

VON HERTLING EAGER FOR PEACE

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Count von Hertling, Imperial German Chancellor, told the Reichstag today that he was ready to enter into peace negotiations as soon as the Russian Government sends representatives having full powers, to Berlin.

"I hope and wish," he said, "that these efforts will soon take definite shape and bring us peace."

Respecting Poland, Lithuania and Courtland, Count von Hertling said: "We respect the right of self determination of their peoples. We expect that they will give themselves a constitutional form of government corresponding to their condition."

TWO HUNGARIAN REGIMENTS CLASHED

Before Mistake Was Found Out Two Hungarian Regiments Almost Annihilated Each Other.

Headquarters of the Italian Army in Northern Italy, Nov. 29.—Details have been officially received of one of the most sanguinary fights in the northern zone in which two Austro-Hungarina regiments fought until they almost exterminated each other. The fight was back of Asiago, during one of the main attacks against the Italians.

The enemy advanced from the two flanks and toward night a regiment of Hungarian Czechs became engaged with a regiment of Galician Poles, both wearing different uniforms, speaking a different dialect. Rifle fire was followed by a bayonet charge and then a hand to hand struggle with grenades, lasting the night, until the two regiments were disentangled after heavy losses when it became known that they belonged to the same side.

END OF HUN IN AFRICA IN SIGHT

London, Nov. 29.—The end of the East African campaign before Christmas is predicted by the Reuter correspondent at Ndara. He declares that by that time the German commander in chief will either be a prisoner or in exile.

BATTLES RAGE ON ITALIAN FRONT

Italian Civilians Without Respect to Age or Sex are Compelled to Work on Fortifications in Captured Regions of Italy.

Rome, Nov. 29.—Heavy artillery fighting is in progress all along the front but no further infantry actions of importance are reported by the War Office today. On the lower Piave River Italian batteries directed a destructive fire at enemy boats.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The Austro-German invaders in Italy, an official dispatch received here today from Rome states, are compelling the civil population of the captured region, wihout respect to age or sex, to work on fortifications on the Tagliamento, the left bank of the Piave and in the Cadore zone.

A German officer taken prisoner, the dispatch says, confirms the report that Hindenburg had personal charge of the drive into Italy.

"According to his plan," says the dispatch, Gen. Conrad's army was to roll down like an avalanche on the Settee Communi Plateau, while the armies of Korbatin and von Buelow were to pour into the Brenta Valley, surmount the mountainous barrier and descend into the fertile Venetian Plain. The commencement of the colossal offensive was set for November 14, with the arrival of the Austro-German troops at Castelgoaberto, but the Italian resistance before Meletta and Gallio upset the plan."

Berlin, Nov. 29.—"Italian attacks against our mountain positions on the west bank of the Brenta and on Monte Tomba (on the northern front) failed." says an official communication issued here today.

BOYS ENJOY CIGARETTES SENT FROM NANAIMO

The department of the Bastion Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, which, with Mrs. W. W. Lewis as convener, is handling the tobacco fund for Nanaimo boys at the front, still continues its good work. Packages of cigarettes and tobacco have been sent to all the boys whose address Mrs. Lewis has been able to get and she would be glad to get the names of more boys, as she does not wish that any one of them should be missed.

Among the donations received last month were Mrs. Jas. Young, $2.50; Mr. John Shaw, $2.00; Mr. Kirkup, $1.50, and Messrs. J. B. Hodgins and J. Doyle $1 each. Mr. Eby also donated a handsome tea cosy which is to be raffled for the fund. The ladies are still asking for donations and if smokers will only remember the next time they are buying their smokes to leave the price for one of the boys, the ladies would be very grateful.

As showing how the packages from home are appreciated by the boys at the front the following acknowledgments just received by Mrs. W. W. Lewis, will be read with great interests:

Bandsman Bert Hughes writes: Received cigarettes o.k. Thanks very much for same as we enjoyed them fine. Hoping to be remembered to the I. O. D. E.

Pte. Sanford says simply: I thank you very much for the nice parcel of cigarettes.

J. Gilmour writes: Many thanks for the cigarettes which came to me this morning as a pleasant surprise.

R. S. Burns says: Please accept my sincere thanks for parcel which has just come to hand. It is certainly very welcome and appreciated.

There are similar cards from H. Thorne, Sandy Young, A. E. Hilbert, J. Gold, G. W. Kneen, J. Isherwood, Jas. Clark, Archie Patterson, R. K. Smart, L. Tyler, J. H. Dobinson, and Jos. E. Anders. The following letter from H. A. Whiteside seems to express what all the boys feel about these gifts. He writes:

Dear Mrs. Lewis,—Just a few lines to thank you for the cigarettes you were so kind as to send me. I could hardly think where the parcels came from, as it seemed to have been addressed from Bristol, Eng.; but your card settled all doubts. It is great to see the boys when one mentions that he has received a parcel of Canadian cigarettes, especially "Players." Their enjoyment, written on their faces, is a pleasure to see, so you may imagine the joys contained in your gift. We all heartily join in sending our best thanks.

BIG CONFERENCE BEGINS LABORS

Fifteen of Allied Nations Are in Conference in Paris Discussing Plans for the Crushing of the Central Powers.

London, Nov. 29.—The all important Inter-Allied conference has begun its sessions in Paris. Fifteen nations were represented at the first meeting and much is expected from the decisions of the conference in the way of co-operation in carrying on the war against the Central Powers and the pooling of the great resources of the Allies.

Important meetings of the Supreme War Council composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy will be held shortly at which military operations on the entire western front will come under consideration.

There has been little change on the various fronts, according to meagre information coming out of the capitals of the belligerent countries in the last 24 hours, but the British are pounding hard along the Cambrai sector. The town of Cambrai is now directly under the fire of British cannon. The battling of infantry for the possession of Fontaine Notre Dame and between Moeuvres and Bourlon has ceased temporarily but at times artillery fire is of great intensity in these regions. Near Poelcappelle and between Becelaers and Gheluvelt and in the Arras sector, big guns of both groups of belligerents are maintaining a heavy bombardment.

An attack on the Belgian position east of Merckam by Bavarian storming troops netted the enemy some prisoners and two machine guns but another hostile attack on the Belgian troops in the neighborhood of Archoop was beaten off after desperate fighting.

After violent preparation the Germans in great strength undertook a raid north of Carnillet in the Champagne, but were beaten back by the French troops, who inflicted heavy losses. Two other German attacks, one near Bothincourt, on the left bank of the Meuse, and the other to the west of Vaux les Damloup on the right bank also were repulsed, while a fifth raid on the German lines in the Argonne west of Aire was carried out successfully and resulted in the taking of some German prisoners

Along the entire Italian front batteries of the contending armies are maintaining a violent bombardment but there are no infantry actions of importance. The German War Office reports that Italian attacks against Austro-German mountain positions on the west bank of the Brenta and on Monte Tomba failed.

News from Petrograd is meagre, and no exact details of conditions in Russia are available.

Up to Tuesday evening in the Duncan district, $107,250 had been subscribed towards Victory Bonds. Chemainus and Shawnigan are yet to be heard from. It is hoped that at least $250,000 will be forthcoming from the three districts.

R. R. HINDMARCH

THE LAURIER CANDIDATE

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, the Laurier candidate in the Nanaimo riding, tells the electors of Duncan through the medium of a paid advertisement, why they should vote for him and incidentally turn out the union government. In citing these reasons, Mr. Stewart confuses the union government with the late Borden government. He even takes it for granted, or so his advertisement would suggest, that Sir Sam Hughes is still a member of the government. He forgets, or very conveniently ignores the fact that the strongest men in the union government are leading Liberals, men who have severely criticised the Borden government for the very things now dished up by Mr. Stewart.

It is also noticeable that Mr. Stewart never once refers to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He contents himself with saying that a national government will be formed after the election. This is pure nonsense. Either the union government, composed of the best men of both parties, will be returned, or Sir Wilfrid Laurier will go into office. The bulk of Sir Wilfrid's support in that event will be drawn from Quebec, and the French-Canadian members know only one form of national government. It would be a government from Quebec. It is impossible for a unionist candidate to get a hearing in Quebec even now, and the incidents of the last week in the election campaign in that province, following after the action of the exemption tribunals, have more than anything else proved the imperative necessity of a union government.

To get back to Mr. Stewart, he has so far failed to advance any good reason for being in the field as a follower of Laurier. A very short while before the day of nomination he was an avowed supporter of unionism. We are even informed that he attended the nominating convention at Duncan, at which every delegate pledged himself to support the union candidate. Whether this be so or not, he was professedly in favor of the union government. Why, then, this sudden change of attitude? He said at his meeting in Nanaimo that he was dissatisfied with the manner in which the convention was conducted. There were others at the convention who did not support the nomination of Mr. McIntosh, but at least they are all honorably abiding by their pledge. Mr. Stewart has taken the extreme course of coming into the field as an opposition candidate. What has become of his previous convictions, and why has he turned face so completely? What particular influence worked the change? He has stultified himself at the very beginning, and he is absurdly inconsistent. He says that British Columbia is being unfairly treated as compared with Quebec by the Military Service Act. Would he have us believe that the unfairness would be redressed by the election of Laurier? Is it not patent to all that if Laurier is elected Quebec will dominate and defy the rest of the Dominion and positively refuse to perform its share in the war? Mr. Stewart is in a very unenviable position.

HIS HEART BADLY AFFECTED

682 GERRARD ST. EAST, TORONTO.

"For two years, I was a victim of Acute Indigestion and Gas In The Stomach. It afterwards attacked my Heart and I had pains all over my body, so that I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of Medicine but none of them did me any good. At last, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone suffering from Indigestion".

FRED J. CAVEEN.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

UGH! ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN GAS OR INDIGESTION

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down; Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress vanishes—your stomach gets, sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

CANADIAN HERO WON VICTORIA CROSS

London, Nov. 3[illegible].—(Via Reuter's Agency).—The Gazette announced the award of twenty new Victoria Crosses, the recipients including five Australians, one Canadian and one South African.

Acting Corporal Phillip Konowal, Canadian infantry, was awarded the Vicoria Cross "for conspicuous bravery and leadership when in charge of a section which had the difficult task of mopping up cellars, craters and machine gun emplacements. Under his direction all resistance was overcome successfully and heavy casualties inflicted upon the enemy. In one cellar he himself bayonetted three Germans and attacked three others in a crater, killing them all. On reaching the objective, a machine gun was holding up the right flank, causing many casualties. Konowal rushed forward and entered the emplacement, killed the crew and brought back the gun to our lines.

"The next day he again attacked single-handed another machine gun emplacement with explosives. This non-commissioned officer alone killed at least sixteen of the enemy, and during two days' fighting carried on his good work until severely wounded."

Acting Cpl. Konowal was born at Peveske, Russia. He enlisted in an Ottawa battalion, the 77th, with whom he went overseas. He was engaged as a laborer in Ottawa. All his relatives are in Russia.

WOMAN CONSPIRATOR RELEASED FROM PRISON

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Margaret Cornell was released from San, Quentin today after serving one year and a day, for conspiring to violate the neutrality of the United States by putting forward a military expedition into Canada.

Franz Bopp, the German Consul-General in San Francisco, and others who were indicted and convicted with Mrs. Cornell, chose to appeal, and have not yet begun serving their sentences. Mrs. Cornell was secretary to Chas. C. Crowley, a detective employed by Bopp.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

IF YOU NEED MORE REASONS——!

There are nearly half a million reasons for buying Canada's Victory Bonds: 1. Money will be spent in Canada. 2. Money thus spent on Britain's behalf offsets Britain's payments to our soldiers overseas. 3. Money raised in Canada does not add to Canada's obligations abroad. 4. Money invested in Victory Bonds encourages the saving habit. 5. By denying themselves luxuries in order to buy Victory Bonds, Canadians will release labor for munitions which is now employed in making luxuries, and will also reduce Canada's importations of luxuries. 6. As a business proposition, the Victory Loan is gilt-edged. 7. It pays 5½ per cent. 8. The bonds can be bought in as low a denomination as $50. 9. They can be purchased on the easy payment plan at par. 10. Those who wish to complete their whole payment in January get a further discount. 11. These bonds can be sold at any time; the money invested is not "tied up" for the five, ten or twenty years which the bonds run. 12. There is no red tape about buying a bond—just your promise to pay. 13. There is no red tape about receiving the interest; take a coupon to the nearest bank half-yearly. 14. Even the $50 bonds can be registered so that in case of fire or loss the owner is protected. 15. Principal and interest are payable in gold. 16. The Government is pledged not to tax income from these bonds. 17. The security for payment is the whole of Canada.

The "Other" Reasons

Other reasons to the number of 400,000 or thereabouts are or have been overseas. Some have paid the supreme sacrifice. Some are crippled for life. Others, surviving as by a miracle, carry the glory of Canada's name into the most terrible conflicts of all time. Who shall say "no" to these reasons? The Victory Loan appeals to every Canadian because it IS a Victory Loan; because it is Canada's pledge to her men at the front that the flow of munitions will be maintained and that their sacrifices will not have been in vain.

CHRISTMAS CARDS—The Herald has a fine display of Christmas Cards to choose from. Choose early and avoid the rush. Remember, that in getting your Christmas Cards from the Herald, you also get a chance of winning a fifty dollar Victory Loan Bond

The closing incident in the cougar story which has gone round the world was recorded in Victoria last Thursday when His Excellency the Governonr General presented, at the Red Cross rooms, the Albert medal of the second class to Doreen Ashburnham and Anthony Farrer. The award was specially conferred by His Majesty the King in recognition of the children's devotion and gallantry in saving each other's life when attacked by a starving panther.

At the request of the Minister of Finance the banks of Nanaimo will keep open until 10 o'clock Saturday night for the purpose of receiving applications of Victory Bonds. No other business is to be transacted by the banks after the regular closing hour.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your Druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

If eggs are high don't use them.

When eggs get as high as they are now women set their heads working and get along as well without.

We've dozens of recipes that women have given us since they've discovered that Pacific Milk can be made to take the place of eggs in so many places.

Here's a Date Pudding.

Rub ½ cup of lard into 2 cups of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder and one cup of sugar sifted together.

Add one cup of chopped dates and pour in ½ cup Pacific Milk. Mix well and steam one hour.

We shall be glad to print any recipes you may send in that will help to reduce the cost of living.

If they contain Pacific Milk we'll send you a little surprise.

NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, DEC. 1, 1917.

...N ON ...RONTS

...Italians in ...n of Vene- ...ans Fail in ...h Front.

...—Comparative ...he battle fronts ...unbardments on ...front fierce engagements by infantry in which men often came to hand to hand encounters, turned into duels with big guns in the hilly region north of the Venetian plain and along the middle and lower Piave river.

Around Cambrai on the French front where last week the British forces under Gen. Byng made notable advances toward an important railway junction, virtual quiet prevails so far as the infantry is concerned, except for an attack by the Germans near Gonnelieu, at the southerly base of the salient formed by Byng's advance. No details have been received regarding this attack.

In Palestine on the line extending from northeast of Jerusalem to the sea, the Turkish forces facing troops under Gen. Allenby, are showing considerable activity, but as yet have made no manoeuvres in the nature of a general attack. Several local fights have taken place, however, and these, according to General Allenby, resulted favorably.

Following Germany's announced willingness to treat with the Russian Bolsheviki for an armistice, having for its purpose ultimate peace, comes the statement that Austria-Hungary is likewise disposed. Already the government of the Dual Monarchy has sent an official reply accepting the present Russian government's wireless proposal for negotiations. Unofficial reports say the Russo-German plenipotentiaries will meet at noon Sunday on the northern Russian battlefront, and thence proceed by train to German headquarters at Brest Litouvsk, to discuss the Bolsheviki project.

The letter of the Marquis of Lansdowne, one of Great Britain's leading statesmen, pleading for a restatement of the war aims of the Entente Allies and favoring an attempt to secure peace before "prolongation of the war leads to the ruin of the civilized world," is still the theme for bitter discussion in England.

Lord Robert Cecil, Blockade Minister and Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, both stated that the views of the Marquis were not those of any of the members of the British Cabinet.

At a meeting of the Unionist party, Mr. Bonar Law repudiated the letter of the Marquis of Lansdowne, describing it as a "disaster," while the meeting in a resolution condemned his utterances.

Units of National Guardsmen from all the States in the country, have arrived in France. Some of the men already are in training in sound of the guns on the battle front.

NANAIMO NEEDS $50,000 MORE

Blue Ribbon of the Province for Nanaimo if the Half Million Dollar Mark is Reached in Victory Bonds.

"If Nanaimo disposes of $500,000 worth of Victory Bonds it will carry off the blue ribbon of the province."

Such was the message received yesterday by the local committee of the Victory Loan campaign from B. C. Headquarters in Vancouver, conveying the thanks of Chairman Farrell and his congratulations to Nanaimo for its splendid achievement. The last day of the campaign finds the local committee only $50,000 short of the required half million and the old town will be turned upside down today in a final effort to boost the Indicator completely around the Dial. Nanaimo can raise the half million if every citizen does his or her bit. Those who have not yet subscribed are urged to buy today and those who have already bought are asked if they can possibly afford it to subscribe for another bond or two. If that half million mark is reached Nanaimo will be placed on the map as the banner town of the province, if not in the entire Dominion. Up to the present it has purchased bonds to the value of $65 per capita and this record will be considerably improved upon when the big drive is brought to an end at midnight.

Publicity Agent J. C. Dakin put the final touches to his work last evening when a demonstration was staged which attracted hundreds of citizens to Commercial street. The local Italian Band made its initial appearance under the leadership of Mr. Carlo Spartari, and created a most favorable impression, the committee being most thankful to the leader and members of the organization for their valuable services.

At the close of the parade the large assembly was addressed by Senator Planta and Mr. Geo. A. Beattie, captain of the canvassers, both of whom set forth reasons why Victory Bonds should be purchased and made a special appeal that Nanaimo's total be boosted beyond the half million dollar mark.

The campaign closes today and the Loan Headquarters will be open from 10 o'clock this morning until 12 o'clock tonight to receive subscriptions. A sufficient number of canvassers will be on hand to accommodate the expected rush for Victory Bonds, and for the convenience of the public the banks of the city will be open from 2 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 10 p.m., to handle no other business than that connected with the sale of Victory Bonds.

GUNS ROAR ON ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, Nov. 30.—Violent artillery fighting is in progress at several points on the front, but no further large infantry actions were reported today by the War Office, which issued the following communication:

"The artillery struggle, which has been growing more intense on the whole front, was particularly brisk in the region of Meletta, on the Asiago Plateau, and on the plains along the middle and lower Piave. In the coast area a British monitor obtained a direct hit and severed a bridge of boats which the enemy had thrown across the river in the vicinity of Passarella.

"Above Asiago an enemy aeroplane was brought down in an aerial combat.

"Last night an enemy encampment between Feltre and Fonza was bombarded effectively by some of our machines."

GREAT WORK BY RED CROSS LADIES

Handsome Donations Sent Overseas and Gifts to the Boys by Indefatigable Workers of the Great Cause.

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society have forwarded $1025.00 to the British Red Cross, the result of the "Our Day" movement in Nanaimo. The following is the statement:

I.O.D.E. and Red Cross Tag	$ 674.90
Cabaret Committee's and Ladysmith show	90.00
Can. Explosives Co., donation (per Mr. Hall)	50.00
Raffles	104.95
Orange Lily lodge donation	5.00
Red Cross Society dona'n	100.15
	$1025.00

The Society have also forwarded $1,000 for Our Own Canadian Hospitals in France; $145 to the Prisoners of War; $25 of which was donated by the Nanaimo School children. Besides this five cases of supplies have been shipped containing the following articles:

306 pairs of socks.
54 suits of pyjamas.

The Society extend their sincere thanks to the citizens of Nanaimo for their generous response to the "Our Day" movement, and also to the schol children for their liberal donation to the Prisoners of War Fund, and to the North Gabriola Auxiliary for 45 pairs of socks.

ATTACKED WOMAN ON PRIDEAUX ST.

While walking along Prideaux street in the vicinity of the E. & N. water tank about 8 o'clock last evening, Mrs. Watson, of Newcastle Townsite, wife of a soldier overseas, was attacked by a young man at present unknown, who, walking up behind Mrs. Watson, struck her on the head with a club and immediately made his getaway. The blow, which made a gash some three inches long in Mrs. Watson's head, did not render her unconscious and she was able to discern that her assailant was a young man about 18 years af age and wore a cap and grey sweater.

The motive for the attack is a mystery as the thug did not make any attempt to molest or rob his victim, and it is thought the act was committed by someone who is mentally deranged.

Mrs. Watson was attended by Dr. Smyth, her injuries not being of a serious nature.

In view of the fact that today is the last day on which subscriptions to the Victory Loan can be received, the local banks have agreed to remain open after the usual banking hours for the transaction of loan business only, between the following hours: In the afternoon from 2 till 5 o'clock and in the evening from 7 till 10 o'clock. It must be distinctly understood, however, that no business other than that connected with the taking of subscriptions for the loan will be transacted between these hours.

TIME EXTENDED FOR LODGING APPEALS

POLLING OPENED IN ELECTION

Votes of Soldiers Proceeding Overseas Are Being Taken as Well of Men Now on the High Seas.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—Polling has opened. Votes of all soldiers proceeding overseas since the issue of election writs, has been taken under the emergency poll provision of the Military Voters' Act. Already ballot boxes from a great number of polls are back in Ottawa, but have not been opened.

On the high seas also, several electors proceeding overseas will be taken in the same way.

All the formalities required by the law were observed at the emergency polls. There were scrutineers present representing the government and opposition, and notification when the polls would be held was sent to both political parties.

Voting at the front, in England, and on ships with the Canadian naval voters on board opens tomorrow and continues until polling day. The jurisdiction of the various overseas presiding officers has been defined, and preparations are completed. Between now and polling day there will be polls held at over twenty points in the States.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING THURS.

At the annual meeting of the Nanaimo Agricultural and Horticultural Society held Thursday night, officers were elected as follows:

President, J. Booth.
Vice-Pres., A. E. Mainwaring.
Treasurer, E. H. Bird.
Secretary, J. Isherwood.
Directors.—A. E. Planta, T. Hodgson, P. Gordon, Dr. Ross, J. Stewart, W.E. Rumming, J. Shaw, W. Tippett W. Newbury, J. R. Benson, J. J. Dickinson, F. Newberry, W. Brown, J. S. Jones, Charles Wilgress, J. Perry and T. Robson.

The balance sheet for the past year showed total receipts of $2,159.58, and disbursements of $2,140.81, leaving cash on hand of $18.77.

APPEAL PERIOD IS EXTENDED

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The date for filing appeals from members of the local exemption tribunals has been extended until Monday, Dec. 10. Under the Military Service regulations the time for filing appeals was limited to "three clear days by the military representatives." Some misunderstanding appears to have arisen as to the right to appeal, and the applicants of military representatives have allawed the time limit to expire.

Provision for the extension is made on the authority of the Minister of Justice with the approval of Hon. Justice Duff, central appeal judge.

In the coming Dominion elections there will be nine polling stations in Nanaimo, three in each ward.

LANSDOWNE SPOKE ONLY FOR HIMSELF

Lord Robert Cecil States to The Associated Press That War Aims of the Allies Are the Same as Have Always Been and Spell Victory.

London, Nov. 30.—Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, in his weekly talk with Associated Press to-day, declared that Marquis of Lansdowne, in writing the letter containing peace suggestions, was not speaking for any important body of opinion in England.

"The most important thing to say in regard to Lansdowne's letter," Lord Robert said, "is that he spoke only for himself. Before writing it, he did not consult or have any communication with any member of the Government, and members of the Government read the letter in the newspapers with as much surprise as anybody else. It does not represent our views, nor has there been any change in the slightest degree in the war policy of this country. Our policy is still what it always has been and desired by the authorized spokesmen of the country, namely Premier David Lloyd George, Asquith, Bonar Law and Balfour. It has been put in different words by them, but perhaps is best summed up in the recent utterance of Premier Clemenceau, that the war aim for which we are fighting, is victory."

A special meeting of the Bastion Chapter, I.-O. D. E., will be held on Saturday afternoon at 4.30 to discuss the advisability of the Chapter purchasing Victory Bonds.

WILL CLOSE MINE FOR FOUR MONTHS

A thorough investigation of the Jingle Pot mine by Mine Inspectors and Manager Freeman has revealed the fact that the fire which caused a shut-down of the property some weeks ago is not yet extinguished, and it has been found necessary to reseal the mine. Manager Freeman informs The Herald that the mine will remain closed for a period of four months and in the meantime his entire staff with the exception of two men, will be laid off.

BIJOU THEATRE

"Pots and Pans Peggy," with pretty Gladys Hulette in the principal role, pleased good audiences yesterday at the Bijou. It is one of those Cinderella sort of stories which are so deservedly popular. "Patria" grows more interesting with each instalment and this week's episode furnishes plenty of excitement for Mrs. Vernon Castle.

Inquiry at the hospital at an early hour this morning elicited the information that the condition of Miss Nellie Rawlinson, who was run over by an auto on Tuesday night, showed a slight improvement, although she has not yet regained consciousness.

DOMINION THEATRE

Petrova, the beautiful, she is truly called and in "Exile," the exciting five-reel feature which heads the Dominion programme for today, it is not only by her personal charms that she appeals to her audiences, but equally so by some remarkably fine acting.

The two reel comedy "Villa of the Movies" is a typical Keystone packed with fun and rapid fire action.

BOMB FOUND IN A DETROIT POLICE STATION

Detroit, Nov. 30—A 10-inch bomb with an unlighted fuse was found on the window ledge at the Police Station today. The city chemist said it contained a sufficient quantity of powder to have wrecked the building.

HUNS ATTACK BRITISH LINES

Gonnelieu is The Scene of Attack by Germans Upon British—Germans Report Success Against The French.

British Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 30—(By the Associated Press.)—German troops this morning made an attack on the British lines about Gonnelieu, which is just south of the area included in last week's British offensive.

London, Nov. 30.—Dispatches from the British front in France report an attack by the Germans in progress in the region of Gonnelieu, in the Cambrai battle area. The point struck at lies at the southerly base of the salient formed by General Byng's recent advance.

The early advices did not disclose whether the attack was merely a relatively unimportant counter-attack or a more ambitious attempt by the Germans to push in behind the British forces west of the Scheldt and compel them to abandon the hold they have gained on the east bank of the river in the Masnieres region, which seriously menaces Cambrai from the south.

London, Nov. 30.—The following report from Field-Marshal Haig was issued here to-day!

"A German raiding party which endeavored to approach our lines yesterday in the neighborhood of Gavrelle was driven off by our fire before reaching our trenches.

"The enemy's artillery was active during the night east of Ypres and also at a number of points southwest and west of Cambrai."

Paris, Nov. 30.—"The night was calm over the whole front," the War Office here reports, "except in the Argonne, where the artillery on both sides showed particular activity and in the region of Chambrettes, where after a series of violent bombardments, the enemy undertook a large raid, which was repulsed completely by our troops."

German Statement

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Storming troops of the German Crown Prince yesterday made a successful attack against the French positions north of Braye and captured a number of prisoners, according to a statement issued today by the War Office here. The statement follows:

"Army group of the German Crown Prince—An enterprise by our storming troops north of Braye met with complete success and prisoners were captured.

"In the Sudgau there has been lively activity by the French in the course of the last week.

"In aerial engagements and by fire from the ground our opponents have lost 30 aeroplanes and two captive balloons."

HUNS SUSTAINED HEAVY LOSSES

London, Nov. 30.—Strong German forces attacked the British on a wide front in the Cambrai sector this morning but were repulsed after heavy fighting, in which the attackers sustained heavy losses, according to an official statement tonight.

To the south in the region of Corneleu, the enemy entered British possessions at several points and penetrated their line for some distance, but later were driven back.

BR... ALL...

The Well-Oil... ...ine is Running Like Cl... ...work—Big Guns Pour ... luge of Fire along the Ridge South of Moeuvres.

With the British Armies in France Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—The British actually have completed the consolidation of the greater part of the area wrenched from the enemy in the Cambrai push. Work accomplished in a few days is litle short of miraculous and today, throughout much territory recently held by the enemy the well-oiled British machine is running like clockwork. The famous Hindenburg line has been so thoroughly formed by well built highways and tracks, that the famous German defences seem little more than a myth. As one goes about this sector it appears incredible that the labyrinth of defences, built at such pains by the Germans during the last three years have not always been in the hands of the men now holding them. The Germans brought considerable new artillery into this region to replace the guns that Gen. Byng captured, but their fire is still weak, compared with that on the Flanders front. The correspondent in visits today to the forward areas found Bourlon Wood and surrounding country under very heavy enemy gun fire with frequent barrages of gas shells. This afternoon big guns poured a deluge of explosives along the ridge just south of Moeuvres.

Graincourt, Anneux and Flesquiere and other towns are being methodically shelled, and Graincourt is being gradually being reduced to a pile of bricks. Cambrai appears thus far to have escaped the ravages of the artillery. The civilian population of Cambrai after living for three years almost like prisoners under the iron rule of the Prussians, has been evacuated. It is reported that trains are still running and there is considerable industrial activity in Cambrai, but it is all for a military purpose.

PICTURE MAN ARRESTED

Los Angeles, Nov. 30.—Robt. Goldstein, author and producer of the motion picture play films which were seized last night, was arrested last night here on a Federal warrant, charging him with "Producing publications" tending to cause disloyalty and mutiny among the armed forces of United States.

ITALY'S COAL NEEDS

Rome, Nov. 30.—Italy needs 800,000 tons of coal to run its railroads, munition factories and war industries. Virtually no coal is required for domestic purposes, since heating has been suppressed, except in public buildings. Cooking is done with gas or charcoal. The prices of charcoal, however, average $50 a ton retail. The United States is being depended upon to supply the needed coal.

WORKMEN KILLED AT TRENTON, ONT.

Trenton, Ont. Nov. 30.—Four workmen were killed and two injured in an explosion in one of the buildings of the British Chemical Company here between 2 and 3 a.m. today. The building was destroyed by the fire which followed. The company had been very busy and the force was working in three shifts. An inquest will be held to-night.

LORD LANSDOWNE

Lord Lansdowne has thrown a bomb into British political life. Without any warning he has come out as a pacifist, and in a long letter he pleads for a revision of the war aims of the Allies, and an effort to secure peace before the continuation of the war leads to the ruin of the civilized world. Coming from such a quarter the letter will almost certainly give rise to heated discussion, and at the best Lord Lansdowne's action is ill-timed.

After all the main point in the whole situation is what kind of peace could be obtained now. The German nation, which began this war, still claims to be the victors, and as a matter of fact has its armies in Belgium, France, Serbia, Roumania, Poland, while in addition to this Russia has ceased fighting. Any peace which was negotiated now would continue the Kaiser in power, and would be nothing better than an armistice. Even before the war the people of the British Empire were told by responsible statesmen that the civilized world was tottering to its ruin under the burden of its increasing armaments. This was in peace times, when the majority of the British people could not be brought to believe that Germany would precipitate a war. If peace were concluded now the British Empire would be loaded down with the cost of maintaining itself in peace on a war footing. It is idle to talk of a league of nations to maintain peace until a decisive result has been reached in this war. Germany has shown that it can defy a league of nations, and until it is beaten and beaten decisively, who is going to accept its signature to an agreement?

The German people are behind the Kaiser in this war. They want no instruction from the Allies in government, and they are not ready for a peace which would guarantee the future peace of the world. The same atrocities are being perpetrated on the Italian people which disgraced the German occupation of Belgium and northern France in the beginning of the war, and of Roumania later. The spirit of the German people has undergont no alteration during the three years of war, and the German rulers are not yet ready to make peace except it is an advantageous one for them. The British Empire went to war because its safety and security were threatened, and it has taken all these three years to teach the people of the British Empire just how gravely their safety and security were threatened. There are only two courses open now. The first is to continue the fight until Germany is decisively beaten, when a peace which would make a war in the future impossible, could be concluded. The second is to sign a peace which would be as indecisive as the war has been. It would at the best be only an armistice, with an even more terrible war than this has been, the only possible result. Such a course after all the sacrifices the Empire has made, is unthinkable.

MORE ROWDIES

There was rather a serious riot in Sherbrooke on Thursday night because a union meeting was held there. Two Cabinet Ministers were to address the meeting, and hundreds of rowdies banded together to break up the meeting. The theatre in which the meeting was held was badly damaged, and there was considerable fighting. Sherbrooke, it may be said, is in Quebec, where it seems that the people, having been allowed to say anything they liked, are now carrying the same license into their actions. It is rather pitiable to think that the brave boys at the front should be risking and giving their lives for such a rabble as this.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save Your Hair — Double Its Beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

A. C. V. B. FOR XMAS.

There is no better Christmas present than a Victory Bond for whatever denomination you can afford.

A lot of Christmas presents—some quite costly, too—are broken or worn out inside a few months. Very few last five years, to say nothing of ten or twenty years. And still fewer are worth as much at the end of five, ten or twenty years as they were originally.

But consider the Victory Bond. It can be bought to last for either one of the periods mentioned, and at the end of its period it is absolutely as good as new. That is beyond dispute. For at the end of the period Canada pays the holder in gold the amount which was originally paid for the bond. Moreover, this payment will be made promptly in one lump sum, while the original buyer is allowed to spread his purchase of the bond over a period of five months.

So the Victory Bond is an ideal present. It does not "wear out." It is never forgotten. Every six months there comes a reminder of it in the shape of interest at five and

The Victory Loan is in keeping a contribution to the ... longer be able to stalk abroad under the guise of Prussianism.

Viewed practically or viewed sentimentally, there is no Christmas present like a Victory Bond.

WOLGAST HAS LITTLE CHANCE TO RECOVER

It is not likely that Ad Wolgast the former lightweight champion, will ever recover from his illness, which has confined him to a sanitarium in Milwaukee for several months, as the little fighter has grown weaker every day. According to his brother, Lewis, Ad now only weighs 86 pounds and his hair is rapidly turning grey. The physicians who are attending Ad claim he has little chance of recovery.

...p Meat?

You may be eating the wrong foods, the foods that cost most and give the least nutriment. Shredded Wheat Biscuit contains more real, body-building nutriment, pound for pound, than meat, eggs or potatoes and costs much less. Two of these Biscuits with milk and a little fruit make a nourishing meal at a cost of a few cents. Make Shredded Wheat your "meat." A satisfying breakfast on which to start the day's work. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Made in Canada.

DOMINION THEATRE

Every Vancouver paper, without one dissenting voice overflowed in praise of the famous Canadian actor, Mr. Albert Brown, who is appearing at the Avenue Theatre in that city all this week. The critics compare him with Mr. Cyril Maude in "Grumpy," and not to Mr. Brown's discredit, and surely no higher praise can be given than that. He will appear at the Dominion Theatre here, next Monday and Tuesday, for Dec. 3rd, giving the well known English war comedy "The White Feather," and the evening of Dec. 4th, offering "The Love of a King," written expressly for Mr. Brown by Paul Kester, the distinguished author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and "Sweet Nell of Old Drury." Reserved seats now on sale at Van Houten's drug store. Mr. Brown brings a carefully selected company of some twenty-five artists and a carload of scenery.

BUYING A DIAMOND

The only logical, sensible thing then to do is to seek a jewelry house which has an established reputation of knowing its business and is jealous of its good name.

We sell Diamonds "On Honor"—we can't say more with due modesty except to add our prices are fairly based upon the actual value of each stone.

Our $25.00 to $30.00 Diamond Rings are good examples of Harding's values.

Women! It's Cheap! Use Lemon Juice and Make Lotion

To keep your skin and complexion naturally soft, white and clear at all times you simply must use a lotion or cream every day. But choose the one that is best and costs the least.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable beauty lotion at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness, and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try this lotion! Bake up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant cream and massage it into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

CANADIAN RECRUITING IN UNITED STATES

Colonel J. S. Dennis, who was recently given a step in rank as a full colonel in command of the Western Division of the British Canadian Recruiting Mission in the United States, has again been promoted to the position of second in command of the Mission.

Through the medium of the Mission some 14,000 recruits have been obtained and it is expected that by the end of the year an additional 5,000 will be recruited.

Lieutenant Colonel F. C. Jamieson who has been in command of the Chicago Depot under Colonel Dennis has been promoted to command the Eastern Division of the Mission with headquarters in New York.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pested with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of a ounce of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callous.

You are futher warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

BYNG'S TROOPS ON OFFENSIVE

Prompt Counter Attacks by British Forces Retrieved Much of the Lost Ground Which Germans Secured at a Heavy Cost.

London, Dec. 1.—General Byng's troops in the Cambrai salient in northern France were on the aggressive again decisively, attacking the Germans who in a determined thrust the day previous along virtually the entire 18 mile front, had thrown back the British from a few advanced positions they had captured in their recent great drive. A prompt counter attack by Byng's troops while the Germans were still trying to push forward on Friday checked the Teuton advance before it had gained too great an impetus. For a time the situation looked serious for the British, however, as the Germans encircling movement toward the south end of the salient pivoting on the west bank of the Scheldt, north of Banteux, swung its left flank back to the original British line, while its centre reached Lavacquierie.

There was a hurried exodus of the British from the sector where the envelopment was threatened, and apparently all but a few of the most exposed parties got clear. Berlin, however, claims the taking of 4000 British prisoners and dispatches from British headquarters report the British blew up a number of their guns which were in danger of falling into the enemy's hands. Prompt counter atttacks retrieved much of the lost ground including the towns of Gonzeau Court and Lavacquierie where the penetration had been deepest, and on Saturday Byng's forces pushed the fighting in an effort for further recovery of the lost ground. No admission of any retrograde movement by the British elsewhere has come from the London office, although Berlin claims to have thrown the British back upon Graincourt, Anneux and Cantaing along the northerly side of the salient.

Germans appear to have gained an initial success in this sector, but apparently were driven back by the British counter thrusts before they could establish themselves. The German losses in massed attacks are reported heavy, and Byng's forces also suffered considerable casualties in repelling assaults and vigorous counter drives.

On the Italian front there have been no further attempts by the Austro-German forces to break into the Italian line. An attempt, if one is to be made, is apparently waiting the arrival of heavy gunss, which are reported on the way to the front.

General Diaz's armies appear also to have been largely reinforced both as regards men and artillery. In one sector they seem to have taken the aggressive probably in an attempt to rectify their front slightly.

A.F. and A.M. Funeral Notice.

A meeting of Ashlar Lodge, No. 3, A.F and A.M., will be held in the lodge room on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 4th, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of deceased brother, William Richardson.

Officers and members of Doric Lodge and visiting brethren are respectfully invited to attend.

GERMANS FOILED NEAR CAMBRAI

Enemy Casualties Were Exceedingly Large While They Were Repulsed in Repeated Attacks on British Lines.

London, Dec. 1.—The Germans last night made no further large attacks on the Cambrai front, where they conducted a violent offensive yesterday in an effort to regain the ground captured by the British last week. The following official statement was given out here today:

"On the Cambrai front the Germans during the night made no effort to renew their principal attacks.

"Southwest of Vendhuille local attacks were successfully repulsed by us. The hostile artillery has been more active than usual in the Scarpe Valley.

"Three raid attempts by enemy troops last night south of La Bassee were driven off by our fire.

"We made two successful raids in the neighborhood of Warneton, inflicting many casualties on the enemy and securing prisoners on both occasions.'

British Headquarters in France, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press). —In their operations in the Cambrai region yesterday the Germans began a turning movement, but the British were able to pull back most of their troops and guns at the first attack and save them from being caught. The British blew up a certain number of guns.

As far as can be ascertained this morning no British guns were captured by the Germans.

The German casualties yesterday were exceedingly large. The British probably lost a considerable number of men.

There is no concealing the fact that the enemy gave the British an uncomfortable hour or two, but the situation this morning is not one to cause particular uneasiness.

Some scattered British troops in the front line may have fallen into the hands of the Germans, but most of the troops are reported to have been withdrawn safely. Some ground has been lost, but unless unforseen events arise the German plans have been frustrated with the infliction of serious losses on them.

Fighting still is proceeding today. The British troops are continuing their counter attacks.

Paris, Dec. 1.—German troops made a violent attack last night on the Verdun front, the War Office reports. Two efforts were defeated by the French who after a severe engagement held their line intact.

The text of the report follows:

"Attempts of the enemy to raid our positions in the region of Louvre northwest of Rheims, and in the Argonne near Courtescheaes, were arpulsed by our fire. We made a successful incursion into the German line near St. Marie-a-Py, in the region of the heights of the Meuse and brought back prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse River (Verdun front) the artillery fighting became intense in the sector between Beaumont and Chaume Wood and was followed by a violent attack of the enemy against our positions north of Fosses Wood. The assailants made two efforts and in both instances were driven back to their trenches. After a spirited combat our line was maintained completely."

WAR COUNCIL MET IN PARIS

Versailles, Dec. 1.—The Premiers of Great Britain, France, Italy and Col. E. M. House, representing the United States, met here today as a Supreme War Council and after taking the military situation under consideration were joined by Generals Wilson, Bliss, Foch and Cadorna.

The Council was in session three hours and the American members said at the conclusion of the session that much more had been accomplished than was expected. The deliberations, it was added, had been most harmonious and satisfactory.

NEW YORK PRESS SCORES LANSDOWNE

New York, Dec. 1—The leading editorials in all of the New York papers this morning leave no room for doubt that the Marquis of Lansdowne's letter to The London Daily Telegraph has created an exceedingly unfavorable impression on the editorial mind of New York.

The World publishes a cartoon depicting John Bull standing beneath the Union Jack confronted by the Marquis of Lansdowne, who holds in his hands the white flag of surrender, and in an editorial under the heading "Lansdowne's Surrender," says in part:

"Nothing could be more inopportune than the Marquis of Lansdowne's letter demanding a restatement of the Allies' war aims and a further attempt on their part to bring about peace before "the prolongation of the war leads to the ruin of the civilized world." If Lord Lansdowne had desired to give the largest possible measure of comfort to the Russian Bolsheviki who are now negotiating with the Kaiser for a separate peace or had coldly determined to do whatever lay in his power to embarrass the Inter-Allied Conferance now in session in Paris his letter could not have been more adroitly timed.

"There can be no serious quarrel with the definite proposals Lord Lansdowne advances. Substantially everything that he says in that respect has been said by President Wilson, and said much more impressively. Then why re-open the controversy now when the Allies are in conferance trying to agree upon measures of co-operation and German intrigue is making efforts to prevent the unity that is essential to democratic unity.

"But while the Marquis of Lansdowne is fraternizing with the Bolsheviki and the junkers, the democracies of Great Britain, France and the United States will stick to their task."

The Times in part says:

"If Lord Lansdowne's letter is to be accepted as a piece of strategy in England politics perhaps we do not need to give it so much attention although it would be disquieting to us in the United States to see a British Statesman of his prominence putting party interest above the great cause in which, we beg to remind him, the American Government and the American people have a not in considerable task.

It is reassuring to be told that Lord Lansdowne, in his letter, does not represent any important section of the British public opinion. Here as well as there, it is in pacifist quarters that his demand for a statement of war aims has chiefly given satisfaction."

OLD WELLINGTON RESIDENT PASSED AWAY FRIDAY

The death occurred in Vancouver Friday night of William Richardson, aged 70 years, who for more than 40 years had been a resident of the Wellington district. Born in Lanarkshire, deceased came to this country while still a young man, and settling on Vancouver Island, was well known to many of the old time residents of this and surrounding districts

The remains will arrive in the city from Vancouver by boat on Monday, and the funeral will take place from the undertaking parlors of Mr. D. J. Jenkins at 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. J. K. Unsworth officiating.

Call to Prayer for Nanaimo

The ministers, churches and other Christian organizations of the city will meet for prayer in the Wallace St. Methodist Church Monday and Tuesday, at 7:30 and at the Baptist Church Wednesday and Thursday at the same hour. All welcome. 2t.

NANAIMO'S TOTAL—VICTORY LOAN

Local Committee of Canada's Victory Loan Campaign Raised More Than Double the Amount Set Out For—Returns Not Complete.

"A quarter of a million for Nanaimo" was the slogan adopted by the local committee at the commencement of the big drive in connection with Canada's Victory Loan, but at the close of the campaign last evening the total reached more than double the amount originally set out for and when the complete returns are tabulated at the closing of banking hours on Monday the total for Nanaimo District will aggregate a sum in the neighborhood of $700,000, out of which Nanaimo city itself will contribute the magnificent sum of $450,000.

Of this amount the volunteer canvassers secured $251,000, the three local banks disposing of the remainder, while the conversions of former loans amounted to only $17.000.

When the returns for the Province are published it will undoubtedly be shown that Nanaimo takes the premier position in subscriptions per capita. The residents of this city have subscribed over $70 per head, a record to be proud of.

While the local committee is proud of the results it had, during the past few days been laboring under a false delusion. By reason of the fact that the returns from the Royal Bank included both the bank's business as well as the canvassers' deposits at that bank, the two totals were credited as business done by the bank which meant the doubling up of these returns. Naturally such returns swelled the totals considerably and the committee was soaring high when the error was discovered and the figures rectified. The corrected returns are as stated above, $450,000, with a little more to be added on Monday. It will probably be a day or so before the complete figures for Nanaimo district are all in and revised, and when these are secured, the final figures will be made public.

The publicity committee take this opportunity of thanking the general public for the assistance given through the campaign to the various agencies brought into operation in connection with publicity, special mention might be made of the assistance rendered by the Daily Herald and the Free Press, and also those business firms who, as regular advertisers in the said papers, donated so liberally their space to the local committee.

In this connection mention should be made of the speakers who addressed the audiences at the Dominion and Bijou theatres, and the facilities arranged by the management for their appearance each evening of the last week; to the Bands which have rendered gratitious services to the boys who have distributed leaflets and literature from time to time: to one and all who have contributed in any way whatsoever towards the splendid showing which marks the close of the Victory Loan Campaign in this community.

WAR AIMS OF ENTENTE ALLIES

London, Dec. 1.—John Robert Clines, Parliamentary secretary of the Food Minister, speaking at Oldham tonight, said the war aims of the Entente Allies were being grossly misrepresented in enemy countries and that he should like the parliamentary labor party to seriously consider the important statements in the Marquis of Lansdowne's letter. The collective statement of the Allies War Aims now would, he said, help to strengthen the people at home and probably tend to weaken their foes in foreign countries.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NANAIMO AND DISTRICT :

Allow me to tender you my wholehearted thanks for the magnificent support you have rendered our soldiers at the front, and the cause that in these days is our one thought—"Winning the War"; by your subscriptions to the Victory Loan. The canvassers who have worked so zealously and faithfully to attain this end, and who are willingly contributing any remuneration that may be their due to patriotic purposes, are entitled to all praise. We have proved to the people of Canada that Nanaimo will not take second place to any city of her size when the true sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the glorious traditions of our Empire are at stake.

JOHN M. RUDD, Chairman.

Dear Mrs. Lewis:

Accept my thanks for the cigarettes I have received from the I. O. D. E. Each one as I smoke reminds me of home and the dear old town of Nanaimo, and the ladies who seem never to tire working and caring for the boys who are out here doing their bit. I hope that your Chapter may flourish in the great work they are doing for the boys and the Empire. I wish you all a Merry Christmas.

The Red Cross Society extend their thanks to Miss C. Freeman, Miss F. Cook and the children of the Brechin School for a donation of one hundred dollars, the proceeds of their bazaar.

HUN OFFENSIVE BROUGHT TO END

Germans Thrown Out of La Vacquerie With Extremely Heavy Losses—Enemy Gains in Northern Sector Nullified in Many Places.

British Headquarters in France, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press). —Hindenburg's troops made yesterday their first pretentious attempts to oust the British from territory won by Gen. Byng last week. They have thus far failed to accomplish their object, although they captured a considerable stretch of country in the Gonnilieu region, just south of the scene of the recent British offensive. Two attacks were delivered yesterday morning. One extended from Mouevres to Bourlon Wood, the other was along approximately a 12,000 yards front between Vendhuile on the south and Creve Coeur on the north. Both assaults were made in very strong force and infantry was supported by fire from newly concentrated German guns.

In the northern attack the Germans succeeded in pushing down between Moeuvres and Bourlon Wood, for a considerable distance, but were hurled back by a counter attack after particularly sanguinary fighting. The line in this section today was virtually as it stood before the Germans attacked. In the southern battle the Germans broks through the British front south of Villiers-Cuislain and by executing a turning movement to the north succeeded in enveloping Gauche Wood, Gouzcucourt, Gonnelieu and La Vacquierie temporarily. After the first shock of the attack by superior number of forces, the British organized a counter attack and sent up reinforcements. The British troops were thrown against the Germans in Gouzeucourt, which represented the enemy's extreme advance, a distance of about 4000 yards The Germans got into Gouzeucourt about ten o'clock in the morning and from that hour until three o'clock in the afternoon hand to hand fighting of the most terrific nature, took place there. The British were outnumbered, but so furious was the onslaught that they rushed the Germans back from the town and re-occupied it. Just east of Gouzeucourt is a ridge and the Germans has occupied this in force. The British continued their attacks and gradually forced the enemy from this ridge to lower ground. As a result the ridge was re-taken and the ground with Gauche Wood southeast of Gouzecourt and they pushed on to the western end of Gonnelie.

In the meantime British counter attacks at La Vacquerie had proceeded successfully and the Germans were thrown out of this place with heavy losses. The German line this morning was just west of Villiers Guislain, which represented an advance of 3,000 yards. At Gennelieu the enemy had made very little advance, and his gain further north had virtually been nullified in many places. At no point is the advance so great as in the Villers Guislain sector.

TRAINMEN DEMAND INCREASE

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—Demands were presented to practically every railroad in the country today for an increase in wages for trainmen and conductors, approximately 40 per cent. higher than the present scale. The general chairman of the two labor organizations presented the wage schedule to the general managers of the railroads throughout the country today. The railroads are asked to make an answer by December 31st at the latest.

NANAIMO'S BIG TOTAL

The citizens of Nanaimo went over the top for the second time yesterday in the course of the Victory Loan campaign. At the time of writing, the $450,000 mark has been reached and passed by several thousand dollars. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the committee who have had the handling of the campaign. The sum allotted to Nanaimo by the provincial board was two hundred thousand dollars. This figure was estimated not altogether on the basis of population, but on the combined basis of population and financial standing. There are no wealthy men in Nanaimo, and no big business houses or manufacturers as they are found say in cities like Victoria and Vancouver. These facts would be taken into consideration by the provincial loan board in making its different estimates and allocations. At all events Nanaimo was told that it was expected to raise two hundred thousand dollars, and that it would be doing exceptionally well if it carried the figures to three hundred thousand dollars. When Chairman Farrell was informed that the four hundred thousand mark had been passed, and an effort was being made to [illegible] half a million, he wired to the effect that if Nanaimo did that, then she would be the blue ribbon city of the Province. If Chairman Farrell is right, then Nanaimo has won the blue ribbon, and in any case there is every reason to feel proud of her achievement. $450,000 is a lot of money to raise in a town the size of Nanaimo, in which the populations consists entirely of wage-earners. It shows as nothing else could, that the citzens of Nanaimo are willing to back Canada for all they are worth in the great war for freedom and humanity. A word of praise is also due the committee who have conducted the campaign. The members of the committee have worked indefatigably, and they have given their time and their services to the cause of patriotism. None of them is taking the commission which the government arranged to pay the Loan canvassers, all having agreed to turn over whatever amount is earned by the canvass as a whole to the Patriotic Fund. There is all the more credit coming to them in that, working on a strictly voluntary basis they made such a huge success of the campaign. Nanaimo has never made a better showing in any patriotic cause than in its subscription to the 1917 Victory Loan.

SEVEN YEARS TORTURE

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

ALBERT VARNER

Buckingham, Que., May 3rd, 1915.

For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives". I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives", and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take "Fruit-a-tives", and you will get well".

AROUND CAMBRAI

According to the reports of correspondents at the front, the British forces in the Cambrai sector suffered something in the nature of a reverse in the fighting on Friday. Berlin claims the capture of 4,000 prisoners and several batteries of guns. The British official statement admitted only that in the first rush the attacking Germans penetrated the British positions in some parts, but later were driven out in counter attacks. From such dissimilar and conflicting reports it is not easy to form an intelligent idea as to what really did happen. It seems, however, that the Germans were more successful in their counter thrust than they have been for many months Their desperate attempts to retake these positions wrested from them by Byng's surprise attack, shows the importance they attach to their possession, and they are using all their available strength to gain their ends. The British command anticipated a period of vicious fighting, and no doubt will deal effectively with this latest thrust of the Germans. After having won the dominating positions in the whole sector, no effort will be spared to hold them and the British forces are in different condition now to what they were in the first Ypres battle. Let the Germans concentrate as they will, the British can mass more men and more guns to back up these men than the enemy. There is only one result to such conditions. The enemy may gain a temporary or local success, but in the end his defeat is certain.

IN FIVE MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

"Really does" put bad stomach in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollors' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

WELL DONE RESTHAVEN

The convalescent soldiers at Resthaven have contributed no less a sum than $3,600 to the Victory Loan These boys have gone and done their bit at the front and yet they are willing to stand behind their comrades on duty there to the extent of this magnificent sum. Should this not be an added incentive not only to the people of British Columbia, but to the whole Dominion, to buy, and buy, and buy Victory Bonds. At the time the salesmen called at Resthaven there were one hundred and forty patients there.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

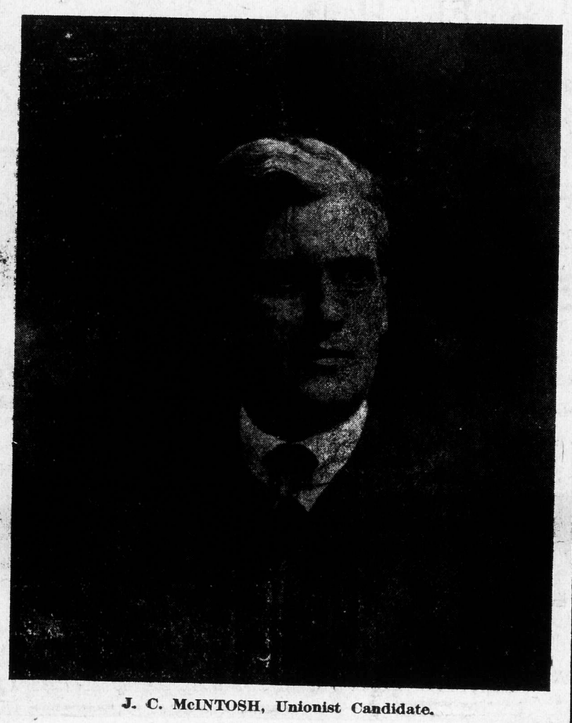
BUYING A DIAMOND

The only logical, sensible thing then to do is to seek a jewelry house which has an established reputation of knowing its business and is jealous of its good name.



We sell Diamonds "On Honor"—we can't say more [illegible] except to add our prices are fairly based upon the actual value of each stone.

Our $25.00 to $30.00 Diamond Rings are good examples of Harding's values.

HARDING, THE JEWELER

—Fine Watch Repairing Our Specialty—

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum ?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

LAUDER SAYS HE HAS CHANGED HIS MIND

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Speaking before the Rotary Club here yesterday Harry Lauder said he had changed his mind about the French-Canadians after he "had got into an atmosphere in Montreal that was anything but conducive to winning the war."

Recently Corporal Emil La Rochelle, a returned soldier, challenged Harry Lauder to explain his recent criticisms of the French-Canadians in contrast to a speech he made in London in praise of the French-Canadian troops, which Corporal La Rochelle said he had heard there. Mr. Lauder denied having made such a speech in London.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL STAR NOT KILLED IN ACTION

Montreal, Dec. 1.—There seems little doubt today but that the report of the death in action in France of "Monte" Montgomery, former McGill footballer, was incorrect. It is now believed that Lieut. Montgomery was only slightly wounded. Montgomery's name was confused with that of another Lieut. Montgomery, of New Brunswick.

"THE WHITE FEATHER"

On Monday Night at the Dominion Theatre Albert Brown will present "The White Feather" which deals with the present European conflict and is described as the greatest detective war play ever written and which is now in its third year of unprecedented success. The play contains all the ingredients and thrills necessary to satisfy the most blase theatre goer including German submarines and English warships, four German spies, two English secret service agents, a new recruit, an irascible M. P., and his daughter who, of course is in love with the secret service chap; a wireless outfit concealed in the drawing room where the scene of the play is laid; a wonderful dictograph; an always-to-be-forgotten paper; a code book of signals which falls into the wrong hands; carrier pigeons, a cane shaped gun which works wonders at the proper time all add to the great success and endless thrills of this big secret service war drama, Mr. Brown will be supported by an all English Company.

"The Love of a King" will be presented on Tuesday Night.

Next Monday night at the Dominion Theatre Nanaimo, Albert Brown will present the famous British War Office secret service drama "The White Feather." This stirring melodramatic comedy with the present war as a background has not a dull moment in it. While there are countless thrills throughout the play the most intense are reserved for the final act, but there is sufficient humor to relieve the high pressure of the exciting incidents. Now in its third year in London and after a full year in New York, where Mr. Brown created the role in which he will be seen here, Nanaimo Theatre goers will have an opportunity to see it in its first presentation anywhere in British Columbia. An all English company and a carload of scenery figure in the presentation. On Tuesday Night Mr. Brown will present "The Love of a King."

BIG SNOWSTORM IN NORTH SASKATCHEWAN

Prince Albert, Sask., Dec. 1.—A heavy snowstorm is raging over Northern Saskatchewan today, accompanied by a strong east wind. It is the first break in an autumn which has established a record for mild weather. The Saskatchewan river is still open. In 1899 the river did not freeze over till December 2. This year that record promises to be broken.

NO INFANTRY FIGHTING ON ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, Dec. 1.—The official report from General Headquarters today says: "There was no infantry fighting yesterday. Artillery fire continued with marked intensity along the whole front."

Berlin, Dec. 1.—The Italian forces on the front between the Piave and Brenta attacked Monte Pertica yesterday, army headquarters announces. The Italian effort failed.

WAR STAMP TAX EFFECTIVE

Washington, Dec. 1.—The war stamp taxes counted upon by the treasury officials to produce $100,000,000 annually as part of the great revenue measure enacted by Congress last October, became effective today.

"THE WHITE FEATHER"

On Monday Night at the Dominion Theatre Albert Brown will present "The White Feather" which deals with the present European conflict and is described as the greatest detective war play ever written and which is now in its third year of unprecedented success. The play contains all the ingredients and thrills necessary to satisfy the most blase theatre goer including German submarines and English warships, four German spies, two English secret service agents, a love romance, an irascible M. P., and his daughter who, of course is in love with the secret service chap; a wireless outfit concealed in the drawing room where the scene of the play is laid, a wonderful dictograph; an always-to-be-forgotten supper; a code book of signals which tells how the wrong

COUNCIL APPOINTS COURT REVISION

Will Hold First Sitting for Revision of Municipal Voters' List on December Tenth—Court Consists of Mayor and Two Aldermen.

The City Council met in regular [illegible] evening, the full Board being present, His Worship Mayor McKenzie presiding.

A communication from the local Order of Elks asking for a donation from the Council in aid of the Christmas Tree entertainment which the Lodge is preparing to give to the kiddies of Nanaimo soldiers, was, on motion of Ald. Forrester, seconded by Ald. Harding, referred to the Finance Committee for action.

A communication was received from Rev. J. K. Unsworth, president of the Social Service Council of this city, stating the willingness of that organization to co-operate with the Council and other local organizations in fixing up and maintaining the Athletic Club building as a Community Centre.

The Street Foreman reported an expenditure in wages during the past week, of $111.43 on streets and the Water Works Manager reported an expenditure of $41.70.

Ald. Coburn moved the City Clerk be instructed to write Capt. Troop, of the C.P.R., asking as a convenience for voters that the sailings of the S.S. Princess Patricia on Dec. 17th be changed, the boat to leave Nanaimo at 9:30 a.m., and, returning, leave Vancouver at 2 p.m., instead of 3 o'clock, and that the Board of Trade be requested to supplement the request with a similar appeal to Capt. Troop.

Ald. Morton seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Ald. Ferguson moved, seconded by Ald. Harding that the Mayor appoint a Court of Revision to revise the Municipal Voters List, the Court to hold its first sitting on Dec. 10th, at 10 a.m. The motion was adopted and His Worship appointed Ald. Ferguson and Ald. Coburn the committee.

On motion of Ald. Harding, seconded by Ald. Forrester, the Council made a donation to the volunteer members of the Fire Department equal to the amount paid by them in Road Tax.

BYNG SMASHED GERMAN HOPES

British Forces Have Successfully Withstood all Efforts of the Enemy to Break Through.

London, Dec. 3.—The violent German efforts to wipe out the salient before Cambrai have brought little tactical success, for Gen. Byng's forces have withstood successfully for several days all attempts to break [illegible] mans have maintained slight terrain at heavy cost and the British evacuated Masnieres, south of Cambrai. The Germans have suffered very heavy losses in dead and wounded and the British have taken many hundreds of prisoners.

In the important sector west of Cambrai, embracing Bourlon Wood, the dominating position in this region, the Germans have made no impression on the British defences nor have General Byng's men given any ground between Bourlon Wood and Moeuvres, the northern side of the salient. Ten heavy attacks in the region of Masnieres were driven off by the British with costly losses for the attackers, but a sharp attack involving the village made its abandonment necessary. Southwest of Masnieres, toward Gonnelieu, German troops attacked the British positions at La Vacquerie this morning. An early report received here stated the enemy had been beaten off. This effort of the enemy followed three attempts made in vain yesterday. It is said that earlier fighting in this area the Germans killed in twelve hours numbered more than in any similar period since the beginning of the war.

British troops reached Gonnelieu and fighting was in progress Sunday in and around the village. In this region the Germans used four or five divisions Friday and attacked in mass formation Saturday and Sunday At least six or seven divisions were used by the attackers in their fruitless efforts to break the northern leg of the salient.

British Army Headquarters in France, Dec. 3.—(By the Associated Press).—British troops last night reoccupied a section of a trench on the high ground southwest of Bourlon village, on the Cambrai front, which was lost on Friday.

The town of Masnieres, which was evacuated by the British, was shelled last night by British artillery.

General Byng's troops last night pressed near to the village of Villers-Guislain and along the ridge southwest of that place and their line is now facing the town.

It is estimated that the Germans had about 20 divisions for their assault on Friday, which, except for the first Ypres battle, is regarded as having been their heaviest attack on the British.

German troops attacked the British positions at La Vacquerie, southwest of Cambrai at 8:45 o'clock this morning and an hour later it was reported that they had been successfully beaten off. Today's attack followed three futile attempts made by the enemy to retake this village yesterday afternoon.

DOMINION THEATRE

When Albert Brown presents "The Love of a King" at the Dominion Theatre tonight, the playgoer is promised several things he cannot get at a movie show—beautiful colors, graceful movement, refined sentiment and tender emotion. That is to say, it is a revival of the romantic drama, in which field its author, Paul Kester, has many times proved himself an adept. Those who applauded "When Knighthood Was in Flower," will find still more brilliant craftmenship in this piece. Few actors have so enthusiastic a following as Albert Brown, and his admirers will rejoice at an opportunity which will show the light and shade of his art. "The Love of a King" is a romance of youth, and has for its central figure, George, Prince of Wales, afterward George III. The historical tale of his infatuation for the pure and love Quakeress, Hannah Lightfoot, has been the basis of a most vivid and appealing plot. It will be sumptuously presented and the supporting company is of exceptional eloquence.

Mr. Brown has been very fortunate in securing a leading woman of the first order of ability, in the person of Lenore Phelps, who will play the role of Hannah.

MASSES HURLED AT BRITISH LINE

British Forces Strongly Reinforced Met the German Onslaught Firmly at all Points—Enemy Losses Extremely Heavy.

British Front in France and Belgium (By Associated Press), Dec. 3.—Employing great forces of infantry in succeeding waves under terrific artillery concentration, the Germans today made a second attempt to pierce the British defenses in the Gonnelieu sector. The British strongly reinforced, were meeting the onslaught firmly at all points according to the latest reports at 2 o'clock today. The battle was along a considerable front from Lavaquerie southward toward Vendhuile. The Germans succeeded in entering Lavacquerie but were immediately ejected. In the course of the day the attack which spread northward toward Masnieres, was one of terrific fierceness.

With the British Armies in France (By Associated Press), Dec. 3.—The Germans today made a second great attempt to break through the British defenses in Gonnelieu sector, and pinch off the salient which General Byng recently drove into the enemy territory further north. The German assault was launched against Lavacquerie shortly before 9 o'clock this morning and spread rapidly. Within two hours a heavy battle was in progress over a considerable front from Lavacquerie southward toward Vendhuile. The enemy was employing great forces of infantry which were sent forward under terrific artillery bombardments from the concentration of guns which the Germans had perfected since the smashing of the Hindenburg line. By noon there were indications that the German onslaught might equal if not surpass in fierceness their drive which carried them through the British front south of Gonnelieu last Friday. British infantry and artillery met the shock brilliantly.

SUFFERED HEAVY LOSSES

London, Dec. 3.—"From Conelli Marcoing," Field Marshal Haig's report from Fronce tonight says, "the enemy delivered attacks in great strength with large forces and had been repulsed with heavy losses."

ASKS FURLOUGH FOR VETERANS

Bastion Chapter I. O. D. E. Receiving Signatures to Petition Asking for Furlough for First Contingent Heroes.

The secretary of Bastion Chapter I. O. D. E. has received a petition from the National Chapter, Toronto, asking for the granting of furlough to the remnant of the First Contingent of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Anyone wishing to sign the petition may do so by calling at the headquarters any afternoon this week between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

The petition reads as follows:

A petition for the granting of Furlough to the Remnant of the First Contingent of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, circulated by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire to be forwarded to the Minister of Militia at Ottawa:

"The petition of the undersigned citizens of Canada respectfully showeth; That while fully appreciating the urgent need of every available man in order to maintain the Canadian Expeditionary Force at strength in Flanders and France, the opinion is ventured that it is possible without seriously impairing the efficiency of the forces, to grant furlough to the few remaining Canadian heroes of the First Canadian Contingent to return for rest and recuperation in Canada.

These brave boys—now unhappily but a remnant—for the past three years have been continuously absent from their loved ones, enduring untold hardships without complaint, in the tremendous conflict between Right and Might. They have, by their gallant and heroic sacrifices brought honour and glory to their Native Land and the Empire, and under all the circumstances your petitioners most respectfully but urgently submit the prayer for favorable and prompt consideration and action."

DOINGS OF BASTION CHAPTER I.O.D.E.

The Bastion Chapter, I. O. D. E., are planning to give the soldiers at Qualicum a Christmas tree and entertainment just before Christmas.

Plans are well on the way for the Christmas Fair to be held in Young's Block on Saturday, the 8th, and Monday the 10th. The Fair will commence at 10 a. m.

The members of the Chapter hope the general public will respond with their usual generosity. Moderate prices for articles on sale will prevail.

Donations for November were, kimona and Boudoir Cap, Miss M. Johnson, 2 strings of beads for raffling from Mrs. O'Connell, 2 pairs of socks, Mrs. Shakespeare, Christmas cake, Mrs. Martindale.

A jam shower for the Soldiers at Qualicum will be held at the I. O. D. E., headquarters, the 12th, 13th and 14th of this month. Each housewife is asked to contribute at least one pot of jam or jelly.

The Dominion Distributing Company whose local agency is located in the Queens Hotel Block, is busy these days filling Christmas orders. Those who have not yet ordered will be well advised to file the same at once as it requires some time to have the order delivered

CELEBRATED THEIR CRYSTAL WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Reifel, Dunsmuir street, was the scene last evening of a merry gathering, the occasion being the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding. A large number of friends gathered and spent a most enjoyable evening, the festivities being kept up to an early hour this morning.

During the course of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Reifel were presented with a cut glass berry bowl and dishes, the presentation being made by Mr. Carmichael with remarks appropriate to the occasion, Mr. Reifel, on behalf of himself and Mrs. Reifel replying in a few well chosen remarks, in which he expressed appreciation of the magnificent gift and the sentiments expressed in the address, which was worded as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Reifel:

Dear Friends,—On this, the fifteenth anniversary of your marriage day, which has been named the crystal wedding, the undersigned, who are but a few of your many well wishers, take the opportunity of expressing their feelings towards you. The many friends you have made during your long residence in Nanaimo speaks for itself as to your value as a citizen, and we desire you to know that we appreciate the kindly disposition you both have shown towards all those with whom you have come in contact.

We value you as friends and trust that both yourselves and your dear son have many, many happy years in store, your troubles few, your prosperity great, your record clear as crystal, and may this occasion be but the forerunner of many anniversaries till you reach your Diamond Jubilee.

As a token of our good wishes we would ask you to accept this small present to remind you of this gathering and of the good feeling felt toward you by the undersigned.

ELK LODGE AFTER ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

The campaign for additional members which the local lodge of Elks has been conducting for the past three weeks, will close next Friday, at which meeting it is expected that there will be quite a number of additional applicants for initiation admitted to the lodge. For every member initiated on Friday next the lodge will donate the sum of $2.50 to the fund for the Christmas Tree for soldiers' children.

The campaign so far has proved to be an unequalled success no less than 55 new members having been added to the roll since it was undertaken. There were nine initiated on Friday last, Messrs. R. G. Hindmarch, S. Carruthers, C. Quennell, W. Beattie, P. Masi, W. Fulton, C. Mottishaw, W. Brown and W. Erickson being admitted into the mysteries of Elkdom by exalted ruler E. G. Heinel.

FIGHTING FAVORS THE ENTENTE

British Forces Repel all Attacks Made by Germans to Regain Lost Ground on the Western Front—Hun Losses Are Heavy.

London, Dec. 3.—Extremely hard fighting, with the Germans using great forces of infantry in mass formation is taking place along the southwestern and southeastern sections of the Cambrai salient.

In the region of Gonnelieu Lavcequerie and southward to Vendhuile and northward toward Masnieres, battles waged with great fierceness throughout Monday, but with the Germans nowhere successful in breaking through the British front. At Lavacquerie they, again succeeded in penetrating the village from which they were ejected previously, but in a strong counter attack, Gen. Byng's forces threw out the enemy, inflicting heavy casualties.

As in their previous attacks the Germans used great masses of infantry, but the British are firmly holding their line.

Although the Germans in their offensive have been using men reckoned at twenty divisions, the British have been able at several points to regain some of the ground they lost in the initial attack which was delivered with a suddenness similar to that of Byng's drive toward Cambrai. Sunday night they had gained the eastern edge of the village of Villers-Guislain and driven out the Germans from Lavacquerie. Southwest of Bourlon village to the west of Cambrai, the British also recovered lost terrain. The British have recaptured a large number of their own guns. The four days' battle is described as the most sanguinary since Verdun and the first battle of Ypres.

Artillery duels are in progress between the French and Germans north of Chemin des Dames and in the Verdun sector. An attack by the Germans north of Fliery in the latter region, is entirely without result, the Germans suffering heavy casualties and leaving prisoners behind.

$749,050 FOR NANAIMO DISTRICT

Nanaimo City Takes Fourth Place in the Province in the Total Value of Victory Bonds Purchased.

The final returns in connection with the Victory Loan Campaign, show Nanaimo City has purchased bonds to the value of $480,300, and Nanaimo District $749,050.

There were in all 1118 separate subscribers from the city alone, which, counting the population at 7,000, which is generally conceded to be about the correct figure shows that more than one in every seven of the city's population is today the owner or potential owner of a Victory Bond.

Subscriptions in cash amounted to $456,300 while conversions from previous loans amounted to $15,000. Residents of Nanaimo also subscribed in other centres, paying for their subscriptions by cheque on local banks, to the extent of $9,000, thus making up the grand total.

The official figures are as follows:

Nanaimo City	$456,300
Ladysmith	107,100
Cumberland	52,950
Courtenay	50,700
Alberni	45,750
Parksville	37,050

Nanaimo had 1118 subscribers, Ladysmith 287, Cumberland 143, Alberni 123, and Parksville 187 subscribers.

PAID DEARLY FOR SMALL GAINS

Territory Gained by Teutons Trifling in Comparison to the Loss of Many Thousands of Fighting Men.

London, Dec. 3.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The amount of territory gained by the Germans in Friday's attack at a loss of many thousands of men is so trifling that it scarcely shows appreciably on the military map. Tactically the situation may be said to remain virtually unaffected by the fighting, owing to the magnificent spirit and determination of the British troops.

The difference between the recent splendid British victory and the German reply is that the British retain gains up to a depth of nearly six miles from where they started.

The enemy's intention was to turn the British line and pinch the troops out from their new line toward Cambrai. It was a test of respective fighting qualities, with the numerical odds probably about three to one in favor of the Germans.

By far the greater proportion of guns abandoned in the first German onset on Friday hase been recaptured; the others were disabled.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—Under a Paris date The Toronto Mail and Empire has this special cable today:

"Reports are rife here that the Germans are preparing to use the guns captured in Italy and the reserves and man-power set free by the Russian defection to deal a mighty blow at the eastern end of the line in France.

"Swiss newspapers have been publishing rumors of a strengthening of the enemy's forces in Alsace as well as along the Swiss-German frontier, which has been closed for the past three days. Sunday's official German report also gave a hint of such move, saying that there had been increased artillery activity on both sides of Altkirch, in Alsace.

"Any German offensive launched against the French before the new year, it is believed here, would be followed by a fresh peace offer."

GOVERNMENT TO ACT PROMPTLY

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The announcement was made tonight that the government has arranged for immediate action on appeals from decisions of tribunals in case of farmers, farmers' sons and hired help, where such has been refused exemption, and also on appeals where exemption has been granted indiscriminately, or en masse.

Canada's subscription to the Victory Loan will exceed $400,000,000.

Rev. Septimus Ryle, Rector of Chemainus, has been appointed Rector of St. Paul's Church in succession to Rev. Mr. Cockshott, resigned.

RARE TREAT FOR THEATRE GOERS

Those who saw Albert Brown and his company at the Dominion Theatre last night in "The White Feather," saw one of the best shows that has been seen in Nanaimo for many moons. Mr. Brown came here with a great press reputation, and in his impersonation of Christopher Brent, the man who stayed at home, he more than justified everything that has been said of him. He gave an amusing and realistic exhibition of the vacuous idiot, and his acting was just as finished and effective as the clever and coolly-daring British secret service man. He had excellent support throughout and the performance was really enjoyable. It should be said that last night was the first time "The White Feather" has been played west of the Rockies and after seeing it one can easily understand the wonderful vogue it has had.

Tonight Mr. Brown and his company will present "The Love of a King," said to be one of the finest romantic plays ever staged, and with Mr. Brown in the feature role, it should be well worth seeing. The house last night was only fair, but after such an excellent performance there should be a bumper audience tonight.

THIRTEEN BILLION DOLLAR CONGRESS

United States Congress Now in Session Will Vote Enormous Sum for the Prosecution of the War Against Germany.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Congress is ready to take up again its part in the prosecution of the war.

The second session of the 65th Congress began today at noon with brief routine session marked by the receipt of appropriation estimates for the next year's war and ordinary expenses aggregating the vast sum of $13,500,000. Tomorrow the Senate and House will meet in joint session at 12 p. m. to hear President Wilson deliver his annual address.

The guidance of the President in the work ahead is awaited by tacit agreement. Congressional leaders tonight admitted that his recommendations awaited with profound interest by the world virtually would outline the session's program. Speculation as to the nature of the President's address centers largely upon the question whether he will recommend declaration of war by the United States against Germany's allies. The general belief is that he will not, at least for the present.

A war budget of more than $11,000,000,000 to pay army and navy costs during the fiscal year 1919 faced the legislators when the Government's estimates were presented. The sum represents only the strictly military expenses that can be estimated so far in advance and is more than $2,500,000,000 larger than similar appropriations made for the year 1917-18. So far as the estimates show it provides only for raising and maintaining an army of 1,500,000 men and carrying out naval and coast fortifications increase projects already authorized.

The chief item in the budget is for the military establishment of the army, to cost $6,615,936,553, an increase of $1,365,907,609 over the total of army appropriations made at the last session. The only means of determining the size of the army provided is in the estimate of $1,003,933,676 for pay. This is $159,294,558 greater than the appropriation obtained last season for the pay of 62,000 officers and 1,208,300 enlisted men of the line and 398,000 enlisted men of the various auxiliary corps.

The estimates total more than $13,500,000—the greatest in the nation's history—for the conduct of the Government and prosecution of the war during the fiscal year of 1918.

In round figures more than $11,000,000,000 of that vast sum is for the war alone. Only part of it will be realized from taxation, the remainder will come from issues of Liberty Bonds.

For the signal service, which includes the great army for the air, $1,138,240,315 is estimated. This sum includes the $640,000,000 previously appropriated for the great air fleet. A billion dollars is asked for pay and miscellaneous expenses for the army, more than $2,000,000,000 for the quartermaster's corps, $390,000,000 for ammunition, $237,000,000 for machine guns and $75,000,00 for armored motor cars.

The navy's total asked for is $1,104,177,503. For the food administration $5,000,000 is estimated, and for the fuel administration $2,500,000.

London, Dec. 3.—"East Africa has been completely cleared of the enemy," says an official announcement made tonight.

With the loss of East Africa all her colonies have been taken from Germany. These had an area of more than one million square miles, and a population of about 14,000,000 including 25,000 whites.

UNFORTUNATE

The Minister of Lands in the provincial government has dismissed an employee in the parliament buildings because of his connection with the War Veterans' Association. It is probable that the Hon. Mr. Patullo had more than one reason for his action, but all the same he may be given good grounds for regretting such an arbitrary step. For various causes the Brewster government has been suspected of a lack of sympathy for returned soldiers, and most assuredly little or no preference has been given to any returned men in government appointments. And now we see a Minister taking the first opportunity that presents itself of getting rid of one man who had been given a job. The result is not going to be good for the government.

In a general way we believe in the principle that a civil servant should take no active part in politics. But the Win-the-War League is not a political organization, and the War Veterans' Association exists primarily to look after the interests of the men who have returned from the fighting and of the men who are still fighting. The dismissed man had taken an active part in some of the Win-the-War meetings and was president of the latter association. Even at that it is not clear why his connection with either of these societies should be held to justify his dismissal. The one thing that stands out clear is that the Minister of Lands has no sympathy with the objects of the Win-the-War League, and no use for the War Veterans' Association. Presumably if the man in question had been as active in the interests of a Laurier candidate everything would have been all right. The Hon. Mr. Patullo will find out that so far as a majority of the electors in this province are concerned there is no politics in this election at all, and it is a pity that the government should be saddled with the effects of such an unfortunate exhibition of temper and narrow-mindedness.

THE VOTERS' LISTS

The voters' list which will be used for Nanaimo and district in the Federal election on December 17th, is now completed, and can be seen in the Post Office. The list has been compiled by nine enumerators in the city, and three in the district, namely, one for Chase River, one for the Five Acres, and one for Brechin. Every voter, male or female, should take steps to see that his or her name is on the list covering the section in which he or she lives. The enumerators are only fallible. They have done their best to get all the names on their lists, but there may be men or women entitled to vote whose names have not been taken down. The only way for any voter to find out whether he or she has a vote is to look over these lists and see that their names are on them. If a voter finds that his or her name has been omitted, then the enumerator should be appraised of the fact, and the name will be added. It is imperative that all those citizens who wish to cast their vote in the coming election should see that their names are on the lists.

Minard's Liniment cures Distemper

CENTENARY MEETING OF BANK OF MONTREAL

Montreal, Que., Dec. 3.—The hundredth annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal was held here today. The features of the meeting were the annual address of Sir Vincent Meredith the president, who this year, celebrated his fiftieth year with the institution, and Sir Frederick William Taylor, general manager. The directors were re-elected.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

Yours truly,
ERNEST LEVEILLE.

BIJOU THEATRE

June Caprice at the Bijou yesterday proved a potent attraction and drew well filled houses for each performance. The five reel feature in which she appeared, "The Child of the Wild" is exactly suited to her winsome self. The two-reel Fox comedy on the programme is a hurricane of mirth, and the entire bill made a big hit.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY!

A Small Bottle Destroys Dandruff and Doubles Beauty of Your Hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single tract of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle or scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

The Real "War Bread" must contain the entire wheat grain—not the white flour center — but every particle of gluten and mineral salts—also the outer bran coat that is so useful in keeping the bowels healthy and active. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the real "war bread" because it is 100 per cent. whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Contains no yeast, baking powder, seasoning, or chemicals of any kind. Food conservation begins with Shredded Wheat Biscuit for breakfast and ends with Shredded Wheat Biscuit for supper. Delicious with sliced bananas, berries, or other fruits.
Made in Canada.

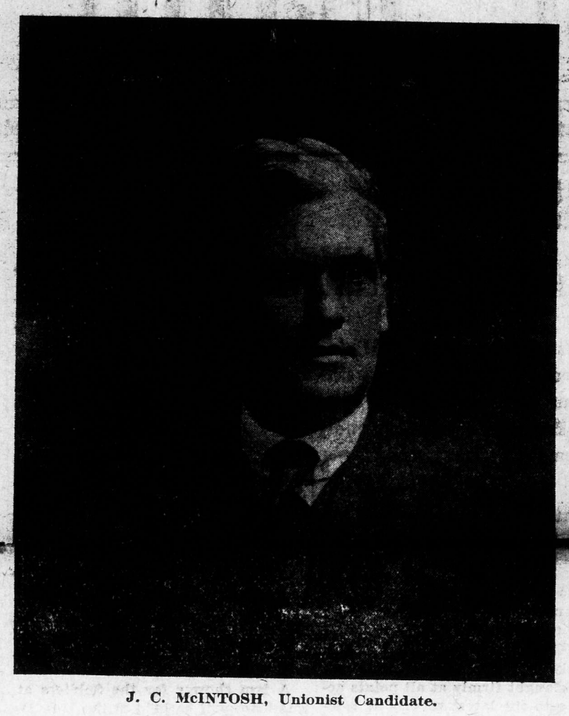
ASK FOR A QUARTER OUNCE OF FREEZONE

Any corn will dry up and lift out, says a Cincinnati authority.

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is said to simply shrivel up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.



It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.
UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum ?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

Seattle, Dec. 3.—Miss Louise Olivereau, a self-declared anarchist, convicted last week on six counts of indictment, charging the violation of the Espionage laws, today was sentenced to ten years in the State Prison at Canon City, Colo., by Judge Jeremiah Neterer, in the Federal Court, accepted the sentence without comment. Judge Neterer told Miss Olivereau that he could have given her a maximum sentence of 75 years and severely scored her action in circulating literature calculated to hamper the operations of the Selective Draft Law.

A CONCLUSIVE PROOF

That the claims we make for the Heintzman & Co. Piano is the fact that nearly every world-renowned virtuoso that has visited Canada insists on using the Heintzman & Co. "Ye Olde Firme" Piano. Such artists as Tetrazzini, Nordica, Melba, Plancon, Albani, Gadski, Calve and several others have used and endorsed this illustrious instrument, speaking of it in the highest terms.

What better proof do you want? When you buy a "Ye Olde Firme"

HEINTZMAN & CO. PIANO

you purchase the very best instrument manufactured in the Dominion.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE WAS IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

The memorial Service held on Sunday by the local Order of Elks, was a most impressive ceremony and was largely attended. The address was given by Rev. J. K. Unsworth, and during the afternoon Mrs. Drysdale, Miss Jean Patterson, Messrs. T. Lewis, D. Jones and others contributed vocal selections, while Mrs. McIndoo at the piano and Lewis' splendid orchestra provided most appropriate music.

At the conclusion of a most interesting meeting on Sunday, officers were elected by Nanaimo Open Forum as follows: President, Geo. S. Hougham; Vice-President, Dr. Unsworth; Secretary-Treasurer, J. C. McGuffie; Executive Committee, Messrs. Geo. Lindsay, A. C. Foreman and David Smith.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

Get a 10-Cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Minard's Liniment cures Distemper

This is New

The Peps way of treating coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung and throat troubles. How? Well, up to now people with these chest and throat troubles have swallowed cough mixtures, sickly syrups and the like, into their stomachs. Sore lungs and throat get no good by dosing the stomach. Peps work differently.

Peps are tablets made up of Pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing. Try a 50c. box of Peps for your cold, your cough, bronchitis or asthma. All druggists and stores or Peps Co., Toronto, will supply

"Shall Canada's effort in this war be maintained or withdrawn? Such is the issue."

Sir Robert Borden, at Halifax

United in the Cause of Liberty

UNION Government in Canada, clearly became necessary for the successful prosecution of the war. In it are united the representative men of the two great political parties.

These men have joined forces to make Canada's effort in the war most effective in the support of our men at the front with additional forces, and to direct and control the industrial and economic life of Canada to the one end of winning the war.

If this policy represents your judgment of Canada's duty, you should

Support Union Government

Four hundred thousand of Canada's manhood have gone into Khaki. THEY are united in the cause of liberty. Today the insistent, the imperative call is for an additional hundred thousand re-inforcements. The policy of Union Government is to raise this force quickly and impartially under the provisions of the Military Service Act.

The Election Issue is Clear

If you are in favor of supporting the men at the Front you will vote for the Unionist Candidates. If you prefer that our soldiers should NOT receive the reinforcements they so urgently need, the Referendum proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his adherents is the instrument through which you can sacrifice the men already at the front, who have set aside their business ambitions and have given up their home life and loved ones in the defence of YOUR liberty, and indeed, the liberty of the world.

There can be only one course for every Patriotic Canadian—Support the Unionist Candidates

Brief Mention

Among the passengers from Vancouver last evening on the S.S. Princess Patricia, were W. Mainwaring, H. L. Johnston, W. W. B. McInnes, Rev. Mr. Kelly, W. F. Wilcox, Mrs. R. R. Hindmarch, Ald. J. W. Coburn, E. Priest, James Wilks, Geo. A. Beattie, W. A. Owen, and Dr. Gill and Mrs. Gill.

The remains of the late William Richardson arrived in the city last evening from Vancouver, and the funeral will take place from Jenkins' undertaking parlors this afternoon at 2:30, the interment taking place in the Nanaimo cemetery.

A fire which broke out in the cabin at an early hour yesterday morning, did considerable damage to the interior fittings of a gasoline launch owned by Mr. Harry Reid. The department were called out and soon had the blaze under control the hull of the boat not being damaged to any extent.

HEAVY SACRIFICES MADE IN VAIN

German Losses Were Terrible Price to Pay for the Small Recovery of Lost Terrain to British Forces.

London, Dec. 4.—The Germans apparently have ceased the reckless expenditure of lives of their troops in trying to blot out the Cambrai salient held by Byng's forces. After four days' onslaughts that have been characterized as equalling any previously witnessed during the war, only artillery is now engaged. Although the Germans claim the capture of more than 6,000 prisoners and more than 100 guns reports from the British War Office and some war correspondents indicate that the German loss in men killed, wounded and made prisoners, was a terrible price to pay for the very small recovery of lost terrain. It is expected further attacks will be delivered in the Cambrai sector, which as a salient vitally menacing to the important railroad junction of Cambrai, and British troops are declared now to be in a better position to offer stronger resistance than heretofore.

As yet the anticipated renewal by the Austro-Germans of their infantry attacks on a large scale against the Italians on the Venetian front, have not materialized. Enemy artillery, however, continues active from Asiago Plateau eastward toward the headwaters of the Piave river. On the Trentino front an enemy attack which was prepared for by a heavy bombardment met with repulse. Along the Piave valley, the Italians again dispersed Austrian bodies concentrating for attacks.

In Palestine the battle between the Turks and the British for the possession of Jerusalem, has not begun. Taken all in all there is no change in the situation in this region, although Gen. Allenby's forces have carried out small offensives in the nature of raids and killed or captured [illegible] Turkish

The Russian General Staff headquarters on the northern Russian front, has been captured by Bolsheviki troops. The headquarters capitulated without fighting.

MURDERED BY THE BOLSHEVIKI

Petrograd, Dec. 4.—An official was issued to-day signed by the Bolsheviki commander Chief, confirm the killing by infuriated members of the Bolsheviki of Gen. Dukhonin, former commander in chief of the Russian armies who recently was deposed because of his refusal to request German army officials to enter into an armistice with the Bolsheviki.

General Dukhonin was killed by being thrown from a train after Bolsheviki forces had captured his headquarters at Mohilev where he had remained after his deposition. Gen. Korniloff, also a former Russian commander in chief and who some time ago started an unsuccessful revolt against the Kerensky Government fled from Mholev before the arrival of Bolsheviki forces.

OPENS CAMPAIGN HERE ON FRIDAY

Member of Dominion Cabinet Will Speak in Nanaimo In Support of Unionist Candidate, Mr. J. C. McIntosh.

Mr. J. C. McIntosh will open his campaign in Nanaimo on Friday, when, with the Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Mines in the Union government, and Mr. F. Stacpoole, of Esquimalt, he will address a meeting in the Opera House. The union candidate is getting well through the constituency, and everywhere he has gone he has found a hearty welcome and the very best prospects for his success on polling day. He will no doubt have a most successful meeting here on Friday night, and all supporters of unionism will see to it to keep this date clear.

In the meantime there is a good deal for his local committee to look after. Now that the voters' lists have been completed and are available the members of the committee can get right down to the real work of the campaign. A preliminary meeting was held at headquarters last night, and members of the committee are asked to turn out tonight. The work to be done will be all mapped out and what is needed is willing workers to carry it through. The executive desires a strong muster tonight not later than 8 o'clock, and the members of the committee will please accept this notice in lieu of a more formal and individual invitation.

EXPLOSIVES WERE MEANT FOR IRELAND

Dublin, Dec. 4.—The Dublin Evening Mail says the police have seized a large quantity of high explosives which was being brought into Ireland from Scotland. It is stated the explosives were found in a portmanteau carried by two boys, who are Count Georgina Markievicz's Boy Scouts, who landed at Belfast from Scotland Sunday morning. One report of the seizure connects it with the Sinn Feiners.

The portmanteau contained explosives, it is said, to wreck most of the public buildings in Dublin. It is further asserted that one boy had dispatches inside his coat lining.

An arrest has been made at Glasgow in connection with the affair.

The Countess Markievicz was a prominent figure in the Dublin revolt in 1916. She was sentenced to death but the sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life. Later she was released from prison.

REMNANT OF THE ARMENIANS

Washington, D. C. Dec. 4.—Socialist organizations of the Central Powers has been called upon by the International Socialist bureau to intervene on behalf of the few remaining Armenian women and children the Turks have left in Monia-Alop district. A Stockholm despatch today says the bureau has learned it is the intention of the Turkish Government to deport these people into the deserts of Mesopotamia. The bureau declares that this is equivalent to condemnation to death of hundreds of women and children.

HUN ATTEMPT GREATEST YET MADE

German Attack in the Cambrai Sector Was Greatest Effort Since the Second Battle of Ypres.

London, Dec. 4.—"There was renewed artillery activity in the Cambrai sector in the neighborhood of Bourlon and Moeuvres," says a report from Field Marshal Haig, made public here today. "There was no further infantry action.

"On the remainder of the front nothing of special interest has been reported."

London, Dec. 4.—Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters in France reports the latest German attack in the Cambrai region as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, the Germans have yet launched on the West Front. The only battle comparable with it was the Second Battle of Ypres.

It is estimated that 20 German divisions were thrown against two British divisions, which even at the diminished strength of the German divisions now would mean at least 200,000 infantrymen.

London, Dec. 4.—The British casualties reported during the week ended today totalled 28,822, as follows: Killed or died of wounds, officers, 169; men, 6,153; wounded or missing, officers, 494; men, 22,006.

Paris, Dec. 4.—On the Verdun front west of the Meuse River German troops last night attempted to approach French positions, but were thrown back, the War Office here announced this afternoon. On the Champagne front heavy artillery fighting is in progress. The report says:

"There was great activity on the part of the artillery, especially in the region of Maisons-de-Champagne, and Tahure.

"On the left bank of the Meuse River German troops attempted to approach our lines in the sector of Forges and west of Avocourt Wood. Our fire promptly checked the effort.

"The night was calm on the rest of the front.

"Two German aeroplanes were brought down Sunday by our pilots. Three other enemy machines fell within the German lines."

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Baden troops yesterday stormed and held La Vacquerie, southwest of Cambrai, it was announced officially here today. Five hundred prisoners were taken.

HAIG THWARTED HUN DESIGNS

With the British Armies in France (By Associated Press)—Dec. 4.—That Field Marshal Haig prevented the Germans from breaking through his lines on the Cambrai front discounts the small gains which the enemy achieved yesterday at a terrible cost in life. It means that yesterday's critical period has been successfully passed and that for the second time in four days Field-Marshal Haig thwarted what is believed to have been a German attempt to duplicate the German-Austrian performance in Italy.

The Germans were collected from the eastern theatre and various parts of the German lines in the west. At Lavacquerie the enemy fought his way through the town and one party penetrated for some hundreds of yards into British territory. This was the extreme gain.

The attacking forces secured a very narrow strip of ground a little north and south of Lavacquerie but the British still clung to the high ground north of this place.

The British commander voluntarily pulled back his line to the west and southwest of Masnieres to make it firmer. This morning the British line was near the western part of Marcoing Copse and included Marcoing, a small triangular piece of territory. The heavy concentration of German guns suffered greatly by British counter battery works.

Things appeared much brighter in the British camp this morning. The battle probably has not yet run its course, but the defenders from now on will be in much better shape to handle the situation.

AIMED AT SLACKERS

[illegible] one of the decisions taken today by the Cabinet was aimed directly against slackers doing active service. It declared that men mobilized for the army shall be admitted to or retained in offices of ministers or under secretaries.

FORTY-EIGHT HOUR ARMISTICE SIGNED

London, Dec. 4.—An armistice between Russia and Germany has been signed at the headquarters of Prince Leopold of Bavaria, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam today. The armistice is valid for a period of 48 hours.

Advices received last night from various sources indicated that an armistice was in effect on the Russo-German front, but were not specific as to the actual signing of a formal agreement or as to the period during which hostilities would be suspended.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Negotiations for an armistice on the Russian front have begun, the War Office here announced today.

MR. AND MRS. ED. DEVLIN CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING

A surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Devlin, of Nicol street, Monday evening, by a large number of their friends in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, and a right royal welcome was given them. A very pleasant evening was spent in song and games. During the evening a presentation was made of a silver casserole which was appreciated by the recipients.

On leaving the guests expressed the wish that they may all be spared to celebrate their golden wedding together.

Corporal Tom Richards, son of the late Wm. Richards, of Wellington, is expected to reach Victoria tomorrow. Corporal Richards enlisted with the 67th Western Scots Battalion, and has seen considerable service at the front. He was severely wounded at Vimy, and having lost an eye, has been invalided home. He is expected to get to Wellington about the 8th, where he will receive a rousing welcome on his return.

BRITISH GUNS STOPPED ATTACK

London, Dec. 4.—A report from Field Marshal Haig says:

"During the day concentrations of hostile artillery east of Gouzecourt, and in the neighborhood of Moeuvres were broken up by our artillery before any attack could develop.

"The enemy's artillery has been active in the neighborhood of Lavacquerie and there has been considerable hostile artillery activity north of Armentieres, southeast of Ypres, and in the Passchendaele sector.

PRESIDENT WILSON ADVISED CONGRESS

Congress of United States is Asked by President Wilson to Issue Declaration of War Against Austria.

Washington, Dec. 4.—A declaration of war against Austro Hungary, was recommended to Congress today by President Wilson.

Immediate war with Turkey and Bulgaria, Germany's other allies the President told Congress, he believed unnecessary at this time because as yet they do not stand in the direct path of necessary action.

Immediate war against Austria even though she only be Germany's vassal and not her own mistress, the President declared, was necessary because the Central Powers must be considered as one and because the war can be conducted successfully in no other way.

Giving a plain warning, however, that he would not hesitate to ask for declarations of war on Turkey and Bulgaria when he considered them necessary, the President said: "We shall go whenever the necessities of this war call us, but it seems to me that we should go only where immediate and practical considerations lead us, and not heed any others."

Peace, the President told Congress can come only when the Prussian military autocracy is beaten down.

Germany's declaration that she is fighting a war of self-defense against deliberate aggression, the President in ringing words declared "wantonly false."

The developments in Russia he dismissed in a few words.

"The Russian people have been poisoned by the very same dark falsehoods," he said, "that they have kept the German people in the dark, and the poison has been administered by the same hands. The only possible antidote is the truth. It can not be uttered too plainly or too often."

Accompanying his recommendation for a declaration of war on Austria, the President in no uncertain terms told Congress it must make adequate provision to protect the nation against the enemy aliens.

Among his recommendations for legislation connected with the war the President included more laws to control profiteering. The law of supply and demand, he declared, had been replaced by the "law of unrestrained selfishness."

To Congress itself the President made a plea for economy in Government expenditures. He closed with an appeal to Congress to devote its entire energies to legislation for winning the war and reiterated the disinterested war policy of the United States, seeking only for the preservation of liberty and democracy.

TALENTED CO. HERE TONIGHT

By Special Request "The White Feather" Will be Repeated at the Dominion Theatre Tonight.

The Albert Brown Company is staying an extra day in Nanaimo, and by special request is giving a second performance of "The White Feather" tonight. It is safe to say that many of those who saw the show on Monday night will again take it in tonight. As for those who missed it on Monday night they will be missing the chance of their lives if they do not see it tonight.

The Herald review of the performance yesterday morning was necessarily brief. The play itself is written to explain why Christopher Brent stayed at home while other young Englishmen were taking up arms. The explanation is found in the German espionage system, and the activities of German agents in the Motherland immediately following the outbreak of the war. "Kit" Brent is a British secret service man, and in his search for the German plotters and their headquarters he has to bear the doubts, suspicions and sneers of his friends, not to speak of the fears and worries of his sweetheart.

To cover up the grim and serious work in which he is engaged, he assumes the post of a cheerful idiot, and his impersonation is a triumph of the actor's art. No more gifted actor has ever been seen in Nanaimo, and in all his drollery as in his few serious moments, he was inimitable. No local play-goer should miss the chance of seeing him.

And his support is really excellent. Charles Welsh-Homer as a type of the irascible British M.P., pompous and opinionated, gives a fine piece of character acting. Dillon M. Deasy, as Fritz, the waiter, was excellent while Joseph De Setfani, as Carl Sanderson, the head and brains of the German plotters, gives a finished reading to the part. Of the ladies, Lenore Phelps makes a charming Molly Preston, while Lara Perry, as Miriam Lee, Brent's associate, is clever and effective. Grace May Lamkin, as Mrs. Sanderson, is very capable and Helen Keers, as Fraulein Schroeder, is remarkably clever. All the other parts are in capable hands and the staging of the play leaves nothing to be desired. No one who enjoys a clever play, very cleverly acted, will miss Albert Brown in "The White Feather" tonight.

THEATRE GOERS MISSED A TREAT

There was rather a disappointing house at the Dominion Theatre last night to see Albert Brown and company in "The Love of a King." This was all the more surprising after the excellent performance of a previous night. The play was one of the best, the company as a whole a very great deal above the average of travelling companies, and Albert Brown one of the leading artists in his profession. No finer piece of acting than the final scene in the play last night has ever been seen in Nanaimo or anywhere else. It reminded one irresistibly of Irving's Veteran, and as a contrast to the part of Christopher Brent exhibited the remarkable versatility of Albert Brown's art. Do not forget that he is again to be seen tonight in "The White Feather."

Inquiry at the hospital this morning elicited the information that the condition of Miss Nellie Rawlinson, who was injured by an auto a week ago, is still serious. She has not yet regained consciousness and her condition is but little, if any, improved.

CRIMEANS DECLARE FOR A REPUBLIC

The Bolsheviki is Apparently Making no Effort to Check the Disintegration of the Russian Empire—Spirit of Sedition Rife.

London, Dec. 4.—[illegible]lishment of a Tartar R[illegible]he Crimea is announced, according to the Petrograd correspondent of The London Times, who adds that the details are unknown. In this connection, the correspondent refers to the declaration of independence made by the Caucasus and the secession of Siberia.

He declares it is difficult to say where the process of disintegration in Russia will end. It appears to be causing little concern to the Bolsheviki politicians in power, who are wholly absorbed with their peace programme.

Petrograd, Dec. 4.—General Dukhonin, who took over the post of Commander-in-Chief of the Russian armies after the overthrow of Premier Kerensky, was thrown from a train and killed as the result of the lynch law, after Ensign Krylenko, the Bolsheviki Commander-in-Chief, had captured Mohilev, it was officially announced by the War Office here today.

Petrograd, Dec. 4.—Ensign Krylenko, the Bolsheviki Commander-in-Chief, telegraphed today that the General Staff, which had refused to recognize the authority of the Bolsheviki, has surrendered.

Petrograd, Dec. 4.—A battle between detachments from the Petrograd garrison commanded by Ensign Krylenko and Cossacks is reported to be impending at Vitebsk. According to a telegram from Krylenko's adjutant, Cossacks have gathered on the flanks and in the rear of Krylenko's forces.

A circumstantial report is being circulated that General Kornilloff, former Russian Commander-in-Chief who led an unsuccessful revolt against the Kerensky government, escaped from custody last night.

FARMERS ARE TO BE EXEMPTED

Toronto,. Dec 4.—The following statement was given out to-day by Hon. N.W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, and Major. Gen. Mewburn, Minister of Militia and Defence.

MR. McINTOSH'S ADDRESS

We would draw the attention of our readers to the election address of Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the union candidate, which is now running in the Herald.

Mr. Stewart, the Laurier-Liberal candidate, has given as his one reason for entering the field that he was dissatisfied with the manner in which the convention at Duncan was conducted. We cannot say what Mr. Stewart's grounds of dissatisfaction were, except, as we have heard it stated, he expected to be nominated and wasn't. This is a very poor reason for falling foul of the convention and no excuse at all for turning one's back on all his previously expressed convictions. Mr. McIntosh was nominated and won out, and was thereupon endorsed by the whole convention. He rightly claims therefore, that he was the choice of Liberals, Conservatives, Labor, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, and it is as the representative of all these various organizations and interests that he is contesting the riding. For the time being he has discarded party politics, just as the men who are supporting him have discarded party politics.

The reasons he sets forth for this action will satisfy any Canadian who has the best interests of the Dominion at heart in this great crisis. There is a frank and manly ring to his address. He puts the country, his or our country, at the very forefront. Canada comes first with Mr. McIntosh, as with every other true Canadian patriot. For this reason he favors the government's Military Service Bill, just as he favors the taking by the government of all excess war profits. He is right also in claiming that for most of the things complained of today, and out of which the Laurier party is making so much political capital, party government is responsible. The Laurier spell-binders, did they succeed in getting the support of the people, would only perpetuate the evils they now make so much of. Mr. McIntosh would have these evils removed also, and he finds the best remedy for them in union government.

Contrast his position with the Laurier men who, on the platform profess to be in favor of compulsory military service. It is impossible to credit the sincerity of such men as these. Even Mr. McInnes does not stoop to such twaddle as this. He is quite frank in admitting that if Laurier is returned the question of compulsory military service will have been settled definitely as far as Canada is concerned. It is perfectly obvious that if Laurier is returned it will be with the aid of the anti-conscription vote, and so Mr. McInnes argues that Compulsory Military Service is unnecessary. The other candidates who profess to favor compulsory service, and are yet running as followers of Laurier, are simply trying to deceive the people. They know very well that Laurier will never lead them to compulsory service, and that his return means the suspension of the present act. Again we say the only issue in the election is unionism and the carrying on of the war with all the available resources of the nation as against the choice of Laurier and quitting.

DOMINION THEATRE

Owing largely to a severe storm, the attendance Monday night at the first performance of "The White Feather" was by no means commensurate with its merits. The Albert Brown Company is the premier dramatic organization of Canada, and Mr. Brown is concededly the Dominion's leading actor. In "The White Feather" his abilities are fully tested and his performance is wonderful. The Dominion Theatre management has prevailed on him to give Nanaimo another chance to see his great company, and "The White Feather" will be repeated tonight. This will be positively the last chance of seeing Mr. Brown and his talented associates. The seat sale is now on at Van Houten's; get your seats early.

BIJOU THEATRE

After a long absence, the popular film artiste Alice Joyce makes her re-appearance on the Bijou screen in her latest success "The Question" a deeply interesting five-act photo-play. A carefully selected company appears in her support.

With this is shown one of the always welcome Captain Jinks Comedies, and some interesting war pictures.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

A CONCLUSIVE PROOF

That the claims we make for the Heintzman & Co. Piano is the fact that nearly every world-renowned virtuoso that has visited Canada insists on using the Heintzman & Co. "Ye Olde Firme" Piano. Such artists as Tetrazzini, Nordica, Melba, Plancon, Albani, Gadski, Calve and several others have used and endorsed this illustrious instrument, speaking of it in the highest terms.

What better proof do you want? When you buy a "Ye Olde Firme"

you purchase the very best instrument manufactured in the Dominion.

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits [illegible] men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum ?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

IMMIGRATION After The WAR

By Col. J. S. DENNIS

CANADA'S greatest need is agricultural producers. Out of her population of less than 8,000,000 people, only slightly more than half are from the rural districts. Nature's most bounteous bequests to Canada were in our rich farm lands. She should not only raise all her own food products, but should be an exporter of those products upon a large scale. The balance of trade in favor of Canada is now piling up at the rate of half a billion a year, as compared with a reverse balance of some $275,000,000 in 1913. To maintain this balance of trade on the right side of the ledger is the great problem that Canada must face during the reconstruction period after the war.

During the ten year period previous to the war, some 2,500,000 immigrants came into Canada. Of this total, Great Britain provided, roughly, 1,000,000; the United States 900,000; the balance coming from other countries. Only a small proportion of the immigration from Great Britain settled on our farms, while most of the settlers coming here from the States went on to farms in Western Canada.

Our problem will be, how we can obtain settlers for our vacant farm lands, and at the same time care for the unskilled labor which is quite sure to flock to our cities after the war.

The United States at the close of the Civil War practically threw open her doors and invited immigration from most parts of the world. A comparison of conditions prevailing in the United States then, and Canada now, however, shows a number of important differences. The urban population in the United States was only about 16% of the total at the start of the Civil War. A large proportion of the enlistments in the Union Army came from among the farmers, as against only 12% of our enlistment from among farmers and ranchers. When the Civil War ended there was a wave of industrial development that called for a large quantity of labor. The returning soldiers for the most part turned back to their farms, or moved with their families to the newly opened homestead lands in the Central West. This made it possible to absorb the unskilled labor from Europe as rapidly as it came to the States. In the meantime, the agricultural production soon was brought back to a normal basis and then started to increase rapidly. The opening of the new lands in the West created a demand for extensive railways, and about 16,000 miles were constructed in the central and Mississippi Valley States during the half decade following the Civil War. This in turn added to the demand for labor and helped to absorb the flood of immigration.

A survey of labor conditions in Canada indicates that there will be employment for about 300,000 more men after the war than are needed at present. This would take care of the returning soldiers but for the fact that when the manufacturing of munitions ceases, probably 300,000 persons now employed will be seeking other jobs. Perhaps of this number 25% will not require positions; still this leaves fully 100,000 to be cared for even after the returning soldiers are placed.

This situation indicates that we should restrict our immigration to the cities as much as possible and encourage our agricultural development to the greatest extent possible. We cannot hope for the railway construction boom that absorbed the surplus labor in the United States. Canada already has a greater rail mileage per capita than any other country in the world—some 35,000 miles for a population of 8,000,000, while the U. S. boasted only 24,000 in 1870 with a population of 38,500,000. Our industrial development must come in manufacture and mining, backed up by as large an increase in agriculture as possible.

It will not be patriotic or good business to invite unrestricted immigration from the Mother Country after the war. Great Britain will need to look to her own agricultural development. There will be a demand for labor there to rehabilitate British industry. It has been the desire of economists to develop a larger portion of the British population into farm workers. It would seem that the reconstruction period will afford this long sought opportunity.

Canada must look to the United States and to the northern European countries for agricultural immigrants. In the United States alone, there are a large number of young men each year who leave the farms and flock to the cities because of their inability to obtain cheap farm lands. Every effort must be made to interest these men and by placing the inducements of Canada before them, attract them to this country.

There is every reason to suppose that the tide of immigration that flowed to Western Canada from the United States before the war can be started again through the proper direction. But most all of this immigration was from experienced farmers, whose training had been under practically the same conditions of climate, soil, government, language, money and society, as they found in Canada. Failure among this class of immigrants has been the exception. In large numbers of cases these immigrants came from European countries originally, having merely passed a period of acclimation to American continent conditions during a stay in the United States.

Canada will continue to attract numbers of agricultural immigrants from the northern countries of Europe in spite of the rigid laws, in many of these countries, against emigration. Sweden, Norway, Denmark, have sent many valuable farm producers to our borders, and we may expect many more. Even Russia, in spite of the broadening democratic development there, should be a source from which a large number of good agricultural settlers can be obtained.

Special homestead provisions for British soldiers have been proposed as a possible means of colonization in the Dominions. Canada's experience with such a plan after the South African war was anything but satisfactory. The objective of providing liberally for the men who have fought for the Empire by granting farms through the issue of land scrip was reached in only a small percentage of cases. Instead, the plan made it possible for land speculators to obtain the choicest of the Government lands through the purchase of the soldier scrip at a heavy discount. And it has been the experience of the west that speculators have held back the development of large areas of excellent land. In our Western Provinces, drastic measures have been taken for forcing this unoccupied land, held by speculators, into the hands of producers by the imposition of a sur-tax on unimproved land.

As previously stated, the crying need of Canada is greater agricultural production. Colonization by our returning soldiers that will increase the number of our producers will help us solve both the labor and immigration problems, but we know from experience that the man from the offices, the stores and the trades, will seldom make good on the farm, unless they are given some sort of special training in the principles of agriculture, or have had some experience in this line of work. One way to successfully place soldiers upon the land would be to organize them into military colonies after they have been given one year's instruction at a district agricultural school.

It would be an excellent investment for the Government to even support the families of such soldiers, through the same separation allowance that was given soldiers' families during overseas duty, while they were attending the agricultural camps. Agriculture is a business requiring special knowledge, just as store-keeping, or any of the trades.

The Civil War veterans were allowed a rebate in time equal to the period of their service in the army in obtaining title to their homesteads. A similar provision has been adopted in Canada. Due care should be taken in the other regulations surrounding the homesteading of soldiers as well as civilians, so as to be sure that every entry comes from a man who has a sincere desire to engage in the business of farming. It must be remembered in this connection that almost 90% of our Canadian soldiers, and even a higher percentage of those of Great Britain, have had no experience in farming. As against this, the predominance of farmers among the Civil War veterans, and the population of the country, was almost 3 to 1. Yet the history of the Central Western States during these re-construction days is filled with stories of hardships endured and ultimate failures of those veterans who were not familiar with conditions attending farm life.

Canada has been wont to consider that all her farm problems are located west of the Great Lakes; that the Eastern Provinces are sufficiently settled. We have now to face quite the same problem that the United States faced a decade after the Civil War, namely the re-population of the farms in the older sections, left vacant during the rush to the prairie lands in the West. Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and other States were for years dotted with vacant farms. The same situation is to be found in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces to-day. Our Provincial and Federal Governments have only recently come to realize this fact and are now putting forth a concerted effort to bring a betterment of these conditions.

And again we have large areas of new lands in both Ontario and Quebec—lands tributary to rail service even—which are yawning for occupation and production.

Canada's immigration problem, concerned as it is with the economic foundation of our future prosperity, should receive the most careful attention of our Government, and the deepest thought of our statesmen. Canada's greatest economic need is more farmers. This need translated into other terms means a necessity for a prolific immigration of the sort of settlers who have the inclination to go on to our lands and the knowledge of how to make these lands produce the utmost, so that Canada may at least feed herself, and finally develop a surplus to sell abroad. This selected immigration can only be secured through an intensive campaign under the direction of the very best experts obtainable.

GERMAN ATROCITIES IN SERBIA HORRIBLE

Stockholm, Dec. 4—Camille Huysman, secretary of the Socialist Internationale, who is in Gothenburg on his way to Holland, is the bearer of a British report to the Dutch-Scandinavian committee regarding German atrocities in Serbia. He declared according to the Afton Tidningen, that the report was of such a nature that it would arouse a cry of indignation from the whole world.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless: children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

KORNILOFF HAS SMALL FOLLOWING

London, Dec. 5.—General Korniloff, the former Commander-in-Chief who escaped from the Bolsheviki at Mohilev, according to a Petrograd dispatch to The London Daily Mail, was accompanied by 400 Caucasian troops. He was at Orsha, north of Mohilev, on Monday.

Washington, Dec. 5.—It was officially declared today at the State Department that both Lieut.-Colonel Judson, head of the American Military Mission in Russia, and Major M. C. Kearth, temporary Military Attache at the Embassy, acted without instructions from this government in presenting communications to the Bolsheviki government on the attitude of the United States in the effort to effect separate peace and armistice with Germany.

London, Dec. 5.—The situation in Russia in unique in history, according to the Petrograd correspondent of the London Morning Post, writing Saturday, but it is not yet advisable to attempt to raise the curtain upon the "mysteries of the tragic-comic drama." The correspondent insists that "Russia will right herself if generously allowed the necessary latitude by the puzzled Allies, and next spring she will put new armies in the field to fight the invader with the success that marked the Russian efforts earlier in the war."

"In the meantime," he adds, "the situation is extremely curious. Some force which is above or beyond all the contending parties is putting spokes into the wheels of all of them."

The correspondent instances various interferences with the administration, without, however, elucidating his suggestion.

CONCERT PARTY AT QUALICUM

Despite bad roads and inclement weather, the good folk of Nanaimo favored the boys at Qualicum with the usual Wednesday evening Concert last evening. Owing to an unavoidable hitch in transportation, the accompanist and several of the performers were late in making an appearance. Miss Dobeson graciously volunteered and accompanied the singers until the arrival of Mrs. McIndoo.

Senator Planta occupied the chair and after a few interesting words to the boys, which were greeted with hearty applause, the following programme was rendered. An encore was demanded and kindly responded to in each case by the performers:

Songs—Senator Planta; Messrs. J. Dobeson, Welford, T. Lewis. D Jones, Sgt. Meikle, Mrs. L. Jones, Miss Dobeson, Mrs. Greenshields and Mrs. Webb.

Duet—Messrs. Jones and Lewis.

Trio—Mrs. Jones, Miss Dobeson, and Mrs. Webb.

Capt. Aylmer, in a happy little speech, thanked the Nanaimo Musical Club for their splendid efforts on behalf of the boys, who showed their appreciation by giving the artists three hearty cheers, the singing of National Anthem bringing a most enjoyable evening to a close.

British Hope the Germans Will Attempt Another Smash Such as They Launched in the Cambrai Area.

London, Dec. 5—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters in France, states:

"The British forces, though they were faced with some anxious moments during the recent German massed attack south of Cambrai have now recovered confidence. Owing to their doggedness and valor the crisis is past. This is not to say that the Germans have abandoned their big plans for an offensive in this region. It is said that fresh German troops are continually arriving to replace those shattered by the terrific fire of the British artillery when the enemy attempted to advance. The British only hope that the Germans will attempt another drive and pay the same high price as they did for an insignificant gain last week.

"The big battle began in the morning after the British patrols had made their rounds, the Germans massed troops being concealed at a favorable spot. The first infantry assault was practically underalded by artillery action and the German waves swept against La Vacquerie in dense formation. These tactics were adopted throughout the whole of their attacks.

"As the first wave melted another immediately took its place, and it simply became a matter of expenditure of men—men versus shells and bullets. The Germans pressed the British back slightly because they were willing to carry this massed attack right up to the annihilation point. Measured on the map, the ground which the Germans gained was less than one-twelfth the area of the salient driven into their lines in the recent British drive. The ratio of losses in the two attacks must be as hundreds of Germans to dozens of British. Undoubtedly some German divisions in the new attack remain as mere skeleton formations, while the British divisions are intact.

"There is now a contagious spirit of Victory in the British ranks, and it is felt that the Germans at last have shot their bolt on the Western front and have failed to do more than bend the British line."

GERMANY TO FORCE BOYS INTO ARMY

Amsterdam, Dec. 5.—Intimations that Germany is planning to force boys of sixteen and seventeen years into the army, are contained in an appeal appearing in the Essen General Anzeiger, that they immediately join the juvenile corps.

"This great struggle between nations," says the newspaper, "will necessitate those who are now sixteen and seventeen being called up at no very remote date for army service."

GERMAN CRUISER HIT MINE FIELD

Copenhagen, Dec. 5.—It is reported from Dragoer, the southeast extremity of the Island of Amager, that the German auxiliary cruiser, Guardship Botnia, was blown up after a collision with a German mine field off that coast. The cruiser sank, but the number of men lost is unknown, survivors refusing to give any information. The Botnia was formerly a Russian vessel which was captured by the Germans.

TERRIFIC BATTLES ARE ANTICIPATED

Indications Are That Cambrai Sector and Northern Italian Front Will Soon Witness Titanic Struggles With Teutons Aggressors.

London, Dec. 5.—While for the moment there are no infantry operations of great magnitude in progress on any of the battle fronts indications are not wanting that shortly the Cambrai sector in France and the nonrthern line in the Italian theatre will again witness titanic struggles with the Austro-Hungarians and Germans the aggressors.

Already the Germans in the Cambrai region have brought up reinforcements with the object of blotting out the salient drive into their line by General Byng's intrepid dash a small portion of which they have re-conquered, but at a fearful price.

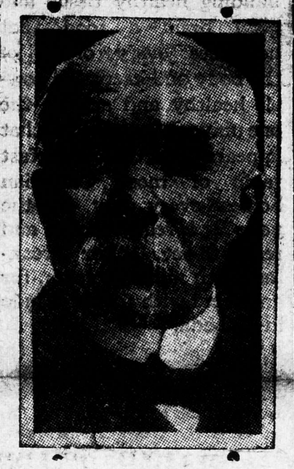
In Italy along the Sette Communi and Asiago Plateau enemy guns of all calibres have opened fire on Italian positions and several hill positions have been captured in small attacks. Both before Cambrai and in the Italian region the allied armies are awaiting with complacency the enemy's assaults. While near Cambrai, it is conceded that the British will be forced, by reason of a dangerous salient held by the enemy in their line, to somewhat straighten out their front, optimism is expressed that on the whole General Byng's force will be able to give a good accounting for any attacks the enemy may launch.

Likewise the menace of a dash by the Austro-Germans out upon the plains of Venetia has been provided for by reinforcements of Italians with British and French troops and guns. If Field Marshal von Hoetzendorff, commander of the enemy troops should be able to breach the line and gain his objective, it will be only after one of the most sanguinary encounters of the war.

In Mesopotamia British and Russian troops have carried out a successful operation against the Turks, but just where has not been stated. This has significance inasmuch as it is the first report of fighting of Russians with the British in this region since they formed a junction after the British had captured Bagdad.

Although the British official announcement characterizes as "shameful statement" the report from Berlin and Vienna that Roumania has proposed to enter into negotiations for an armistice with the Teutonic allies, both Berlin and Vienna reiterate that negotiations are in progress.

INSTITUTED A BRANCH HERE



Nanaimo Has a Branch of Victorian Order of Nurses—Officers Elected and Steps Taken to Secure Services of Trained Nurse.

The Nanaimo Association of the Victorian Order of Nurses was fully instituted last evening with the election of the following officers:

President, Dr. T. J. McPhee.
Vice-Pres., Dr. W. E. Wilks.
Secretary, Mrs. A. G. King.
Treasurer, Mrs. (Dr.) Brown.
Executive—Mrs. J. Wright, Mrs. T. W. Martindale, Mrs. McPhee, Miss Macmillan, Dr. G. B. Brown and Rev. Dr. Unsworth.

The by-laws of the new organization were adopted and membership is open to all at the nominal fee of 25 cents a year. After the Association has received its charter from the parent order at Ottawa, the Executive will proceed with the raising of funds and the engaging of a nurse who, it is estimated, will cost $1,000, the larger part of which will be obtained by fees from patients.

DONALD CLARKE IN HOSPITAL AT BATH

Mrs. Ida Clarke of this city is in receipt of two letters from her son Donald, one dated Nov. 14th. written in a French Hospital and the other is from War Hospital, Bath, Eng. and dated Nov. 17th.

In his first letter Donald states he had been seriously gassed but was getting along nicely. He says: "well mother, it took the huns long time to do me any damage, so I have no kick coming, even now he hasn't placed ne out of the war for long for I don't doubt that by the time this reaches you I will once more be my same old self again. With me being here and Charlie in the hospital too it is the first time in nearly three years that our family is not represented at the front line. In a way it is very nice here a fine bed and nothing to worry one, but I have to hurry back, as I expect Charlie will be going to the company any day and he will be disappointed if he doesn't find me there. I had a letter from Gordon just a few days before I left. He is still in England, and from what he says is likely to be there for some time. I hope he never leaves as there are enough of us in this."

Writing from Bath, Eng., Donald says, "just a few lines that you may know I have arrived in England and on no occunt are you to worry about me for I am getting on fine and in all ways I am better off than I have been for nearly three years. I have one regret leaving France as I was expecting Charlie to join me everyday. I have just written a letter to a chum of mine at my unit so if Charlie arrives he will have my address. So goodbye for the present from your loving son, Donald.

BIJOU THEATRE

"The Question," the five-act feature in which the popular Alice Joyce is starring at the Bijou, is an unusual picture in many respects. It is full of thrills and there is plenty of action, while the settings and photography are practically flawless. The Capt. Jinks comedy furnishes lots of laughs and the Weekly Review is timely and interesting.

WAR DECLARATION BEFORE CONGRESS

Expected That United States Will Declare War on Austria-Hungary on Friday—May Include Turkey and Bulgaria.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress took up the work of declaring war on Austria-Hungary today with the expectation of having the formal war resolution passed by Friday.

The Senate was not in session but its Foreign Relations Committee, which will handle the resolution was in conference.

In the House the war resolution was brought up by chairman Flood of the Foreign Affairs Committee. The sentiment for including Turkey and Bulgaria in the list of recognized enemies persisted and there was promise of some attempt to amend the resolution.

The committee of both Houses, however, will be guided by the State Department in framing the language of the resolution, and if the administration has its way, as it probably will, Turkey and Bulgaria will be left for the time when they come directly in the path of the action of the United States against Germany, as the President expressed it in his address yesterday. While Congress is working on the actual declaration of war the executive departments of the government are setting in motion the machinery which will make the declaration effective.

The Department of Justice began taking steps for disposition of the great number of alien enemies the war declaration will create.

"Whereas the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian Government has shown its hostility to the Government and the people of the United States by severing diplomatic relations and has formally adhered to the ruthless policy of submarine warfare adopted by its ally, the Imperial German Government, with which the United States is at war, and has given to its ally every support and aid on both land and sea in the prosecution of the war against the Government and people of the United States of America, therefore be it

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that a state of war be and is hereby declared to exist and to have existed since noon of the fifth day of December, 1917, between the United States of America and the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian Government, and that the President be and he is hereby authorized and directed to employ the entire naval and military forces of the United States and the resources of the Government to carry on the war against the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian Government, and to bring the conflict to a successful termination all the resources of the country are hereby pledged by the Congress of the United States."

PLOTTED TO BLOW UP SHIPS

German Agents Supplied With Funds to Purchase Explosives to Blow up British Munition Ships in New York.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—That Albert Kaltschmidt conspired to blow up British munitions ships in New York harbor in 1915, was the testimony of Charles Respa, chief witness for the government today at the trial of Kaltschmidt and five others on charges of widespread dynamite conspiracy.

Respa was brought from a Canadian prison, where he had been serving a life sentence for complicity in plots charged to Kaltschmidt. Respa testified that at Kaltschmidt's direction he and three others went New York in 1915 supplied with funds to purchase explosives intended for use in destroying British munition ships in the harbor there. He found, he said, that the ships were too closely guarded and the plan was abandoned. He described the dynamiting of the Peabody Overall plant at Walkerville, Ont., June 21, 1915; trips made to Port Huron, where, he said, it was intended to dynamite a railroad tunnell, to Nipigon, Ont., where a Canadian Pacific Railroad bridge was to be destroyed, and several other visits to Canadian points with the same purpose.

MRS. GILBERT McKINNELL DIED IN VANCOUVER

Word was received in the city yesterday by relatives of the death in Vancouver on Tuesday of Mrs. Gilbert McKinnell, for a number of years a well known resident of Nanaimo.

The deceased was 53 years of age, and besides her husband is survived by three daughters and one son, a son having recently been killed in action in France. The funeral will take place in Vancouver this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WILL CONTROL COAL CONTRACTS

Washington, Dec. 5.—The direct supervision of coal contracts will be assumed soon by the Fuel Administration. Regulations about to be issued provide operators and wholesalers contracts must be submitted for approval and that none may be drawn to run for a period longer than a year.

Complaints of high coal prices in many parts of the country drew from Dr. Garfield today a statement that Government control of fuel had gone far toward preventing run away markets and that in many instances the price on domestic coal actually had been reduced. Bituminous prices have been cut down, he said, almost everywhere.

Mrs. W. J. Ince, of Prideaux street has received word that her husband, Sapper W. J. Ince, who left Nanaimo a year and a half ago, and has seen considerable service in France, is on his way back, having been invalided home as the results of wounds and shell-shock.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

President Wilson's speech to Congress was delivered at a very opportune time for the cause of the allies. There comes a time in any long drawn out struggle when a feeling of weariness and depression saps the courage and endurance of those engaged in it. The recent letter of Lord Lansdowne was an expression of this feeling, and for that very reason must have been proportionately encouraging to the Germans. His letter, it was speedily established, simply expressed his own views, and was written entirely on his own responsibility. Lord Robert Cecil, who acts as the mouthpiece of the British government, repudiated the letter, and reiterated what has so often been said in different words, that the aim of the allies was, always has been, and could only be, victory.

President Wilson in his speech to Congress, strikes the same note and almost uses the same language. The immediate task of the allies is to win the war, he said, and this represents the aim of the United States as of all the allies. Then the President went on to say that nothing should turn his country aside until this aim has been accomplished. "Every power and resource we possess, whether of men, of money, or of materials, is being devoted and will continue to be devoted to that purpose until it has been achieved." As soon as the British Premier returns to England from the allied conference which he has been attending at Paris, a similar speech may be expected from him, and alongside the British Premier and the American President, Lord Lansdowne is a very small figure. There can be no draw to this war, no compromise of the issues involved. A peace now would mean victory for Germany and for Prussian autocracy, and an end to all international security. Germany, as a nation, with all its perverted ideals, impossible ambitions, and debased morality must be beaten if freedom and liberty are to live on in the world.

CHRISTMAS PARCELS

According to an Ottawa dispatch, which has appeared in some of the coast papers, the British government has stopped the entry into the United Kingdom of Christmas parcels from Canada. How far this report is correct we have no means of telling, and up to the present we have seen no notification to this effect from the Dominion authorities. If, however, the British government has taken this extreme step, then surely some statement should be made by the Canadian government. The reported embargo, is should be said, only applies to parcels for civilians. Christmas parcels for members of the Canadian expeditionary forces may still go in, although there are said to be strict limitations as to weight and size. As a matter of fact, from Western Canada, Christmas parcels have been going out for weeks now, and more than ever will be mailed this week. If these parcels are to be refused entry into the United Kingdom, then a full explanation is due the Canadian people, and the sooner it is forthcoming the better.

REGULATIONS REGARDING EXPORT OF SUGAR

The latest regulations regarding the export of sugar and articles containing sugar which have just been issued from Ottawa, are most stringent in their provisions. Under them sugar is allowed to be sent in small quantities only, to soldiers or others serving with the forces overseas but under no circumstances may any sugar, or articles containing sugar be sent abroad to any one else. This prohibition applies to maple sugar and other candies, and is explicit in stating that sugar in any quantity and regardless of value is absolutely prohibited from being sent to anyone else.

The quantities prescribed as being the limit allowed to be sent to soldiers and other members of the forces, are, in the case of persons serving in England eleven pounds, and in the case of persons serving in France seven pounds.

COLD AT DAWSON ; FIFTY BELOW ZERO

Dawson, Dec. 5.—The first cold snap of the winter has prevailed at Dawson for the past four days, and it is now fifty degrees below zero. Despite this fact the two largest dredges near Dawson, owned by the Canadian Klondike Company, are operating day and night recovering gold as they do in summer. One of them worked all last winter.

INCREASE APPROVED

Washington. Dec. 5.—To discourage inflation and promote sound business conditions the Federal Reserve Board has approved a general increase in discount rates of about ½ per cent. for most of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" BEST LAXATIVE FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Don't stay constipated, headachy, bilious, with breath Bad or Stomach Sour

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from a cold, constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets tonight; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick sour, and gassy stomach, bad cold, offensive breath and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear heead for months All druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

Yours truly,

BEST FAMILY PATENT ROYAL STANDARD

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

—is milled from the finest wheat the world produces. Not until this wheat is up to the standard set by the company is it ever turned into "ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR.'

The scientific process through which it passes —the exacting tests it undergoes absolutely insures the results we demand—PERFECT FLOUR.

So the housewife and her family will have the comforting knowledge that "ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR" is a CLEAN, PURE FOOD PRODUCT.

REMEMBER the "Circle V" on every sack is your guarantee of protection against inferior flours.

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum ?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

FIRED ON WOMEN AND CHILDREN

London, Dec. 4.—The British steamer Apapa has been torpedoed and sunk according to the morning papers. Eight passengers and the crew of the vessel perished. About one hundred and twenty passengers were saved. It is reported that the submarine fired on women and children in open boats.

BRANTFORD IS AFTER KITCHENER FACTORIES

Brantford, One., Dec. 4.—With a view to inducing some of the Kitchener manufacturers to move their factories to Brantford as a result of the recent troubles in that city, the Brantford City Council at a meeting last night authorized its manufacturers' committe to go to Kitchener.

BUILT IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Dec. 5.—The first war order to come to Vancouver since the floating of the Victory Loan is, by coincidence, one for $7,250,000, almost exactly equal to the city's contribution to the loan issue. The order came from the Imperial Munitions Board to the Coughlan shipyards, and provides for the construction of four additional 8,800-ton steel freight steamships, turbine propelled, similar to the six already under construction in the yards. The Coughlan yards have now shipbuilding contracts to the value of more than $15,000,000.

The Government fishery patrol boat Alcedo, which on the night of November 27 was aground in Houston's Passage, near Cowichan Gap, was yesterday hauled out on the slip at Yarrows to repair the damage caused by the mishap. The damage is confined principally to the keel, but while the vessel is on the ways other minor repairs will be effected. It is anticipated that the Alcedo will be out of commission about eight days.

GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE

Toronto, Dec. 4—Mrs. Anna Wood, wife of a Canadian officer in Germany, was adjudged by a coroner's jury to be guilty of criminal negligence following the death of Gordon Moysey, aged 14, and the injury of another, when Mrs. Wood's motor-car, skidding, crashed into another car and drove it on to the sidewalk.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Referendum Would Leave Our Fighters in the Lurch!

Hon. N. W. Rowell said in Toronto--"On Dec. 17th you must choose a real Union Government, or you must choose a Government that will abolish conscription and leave our men in the lurch!"

IT is imperative that the Canadians at the front be reinforced at the earliest possible moment. Union Government asks for your support that it may continue raising the necessary 100,000 reinforcements from CLASS ONE.

Laurier and his adherents propose delaying the sending of those reinforcements about a year to tinker with a referendum. Modern warfare is a matter of hours and minutes. Armies cannot wait!

Therefore

Support Union Government

Vote for the Unionist Candidate

He represents a Union of those men in both great parties in Canada who place the winning of the war above all else; who are resolved that nothing shall interfere with Canada's participation and who realise that the future history of the Dominion is now being shaped.

The Ballot is a Weapon in Your Hands

Oppose Union Government now and you turn that weapon on your own soldier relative or friend in the trenches. Therein lies the issue and you cannot close your eyes to it—

Vote for the Unionist Candidate and thereby

Defend the Men Who are Defending

YOU!

THE HALIFAX DISASTER

While as yet there is no authentic or official statement of the explosion at Halifax, due to the fact that all telegraphic and cable communication is destroyed, there is no reason to doubt that Canada has suffered a grave disaster. Halifax has been Canada's great shipping port during the war, and at no point in the whole Dominion could an accident fraught with such disastrous consequences to the country have occurred. It is impossible to say as yet what damage has been done, or how many lives have been lost, and even the cause of the disaster is at present largely a matter of speculation. It is the first disaster of the kind to happen in Canada, and in this respect the Dominion has been very fortunate as compared with other countries at war. In a sense we may regard Halifax as the first Canadian city to have suffered the ravages of war, and the first effect will be to draw the east and the west closer together.

SERVE OR SCUTTLE?

If Russia signs a separate peace with Germany, Russia thereby becomes a traitor to the Allies. She breaks her solemn pledges and tears up her treaties as scraps of paper.

Shall Canada do the same? Shall Canada break her solemn engagement to the British commonwealth to give the last man and the last dollar? Shall she also prove traitor?

The war can be won only with men. No way of securing these men is known except that of conscription. Australia tried the alternative that Canada is asked to try. And Australia today has to admit her mistake.

Either conscription or a traitorous scuttle out of the war. There is no other choice.—Vancouver World.

FIGHTING AT CAMBRAI

The various press stories of the fighting at Cambrai make curious reading, and leave one with no intelligent idea of what has really happened. Some of the correspondents say that the British troops were outnumbered ten to one, and that only stubborn British valor saved Byng's forces from a serious reverse. What the correspondents fail to explain is how the Germans were able to mass such immense numbers of men without the knowledge of the British commanders. We have been told again and again that the British had more men in reserve than the Germans, that they were superior in the number and weight of their guns, and that the British fliers were masters of the air. Yet the German commanders seem to have sprung as big a surprise on General Byng as the latter first of all sprung on the Germans. Either that, or it follows the greater the success of any single offensive, the more difficult it is to hold the ground won. In Sir Douglas Haig's report of Byng's victory, he stated that advantageous ground had been captured which could be used for a fresh advance. The Germans have replied before a fresh advance could be organized. They have simply rushed men in thousands into the Cambrai sector, and the gray avalanche swept the British forces back in places by its sheer weight. The battle was opened as an experiment in offensive operations. It succeeded beyond all expectations; but the German counter thrust has shown the need of a stronger defensive system, and particularly of overwhelmingly artillery support. Apart from the loss of some of the ground gained the fighting has been strongly in favor of the British. The German commanders have simply fed their men to slaughter, relying on weight and numbers to beat the British field guns and machine batteries. They have followed the same tactics adopted at Verdun and have suffered even more appalling losses than they did there. In other words their slight gains in terrain has cost them thousands of lives, and they can no longer afford such reckless prodigality.

TWO LONG YEARS HE SUFFERED

"Fruit-a-tives" Made Him Feel As If Walking On Air

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 26th, 1914.

"For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign which read "Fruit-a-tives make you feel like walking on air." This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends'

SERVICE TO BE CURTAILED

Vancouver, Dec. 5.—It is officially announced here that after January 1 there will be a considerable reduction in the train and steamship service on all C.P.R. lines made necessary for the conservation of fuel. The service, it is said, will be cut to the lowest point possible compatable with efficiency. As in the past special trains will be run for carrying soldiers.

QUIT OR CARRY ON?

Shall Canada quit or carry on?
That's the question you're asked today.
Will we back up the men who are fighting for us
Or shall Laurier have his way?

Every shirker and slacker in this broad land
Will vote for the "white plumed chief."
Regardless of whether our boys at the front
Shall receive the needful relief.

Shame! Shame on the traitors—for traitors they are Whatever their name or estate,
Who would sacrifice country for mere party gains,
And our fighting men leave to their fate.

Then remember the men who have given their lives
That Canada still may be free;
Not forgetting the lads who are still fighting on,
For Freedom—for you—and for me.

And—remembering—vote as true patriots should,
Thus doing your own little "bit";
And we'll let the world see—including Quebec—
That Canada Never will quit.

BERLIN CLAIMS GAIN

Berlin, Dec. 6.—Strong Italian positions in the Meletta region of the northern front were taken and held by the Teutonic forces, who captured more than sixty guns, the official statement says.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS, OR STOMACH MISERY IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" for sour acid stomach, heartburn dyspepsia.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without family eat something which don't dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

FORD—HIRST

At Parksville yesterday morning, the marriage took place of Mr. Allan Walter Ford of Coombs, and of the Sampson Motor Company, of this city, and Miss Rae Hirst, daughter of Mrs. A. Hirst, of Parksville.

The wedding party which was a large one, included a number of friends of both bride and groom from Duncan, Nanaimo and the surrounding district, Mr. R. Kirkup of this city, acting as best man. The happy pair motored to Duncan after the ceremony, where they took the train for Victoria, and will later go on a short tour of the upper end of the Island ere returning here to reside.

FORTY-THREE BILLION CROWNS COST TO AUSTRIA

Amsterdam, Dec. 5.—Count Czernin, Austria-Hungarian Foreign Minister, in discussing the budget with an Austrian delegation, said the cost of the war during the past three years has been 43,000,000,000 crowns, a Vienna dispatch today states. The budget for 1917-18, if the war lasted the entire budget year he estimated at 20,000,000,000 crowns.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

Yours truly,

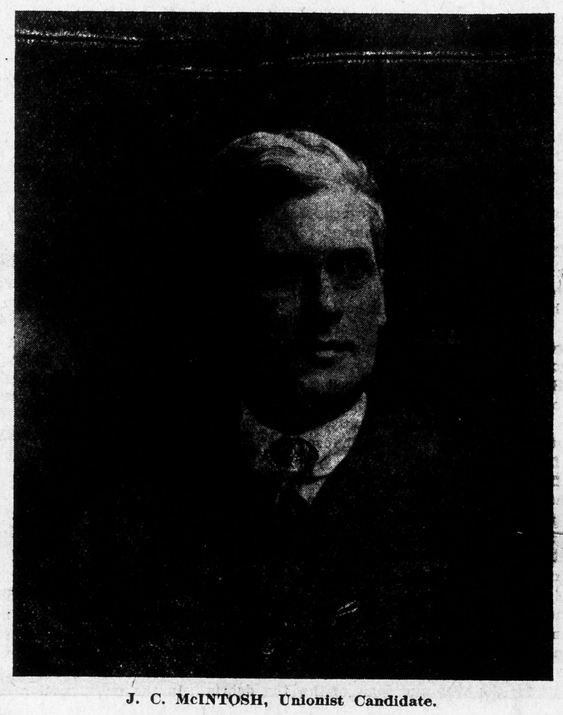
When We Say

That the Heintzman & Co. Piano is the most popular and most beloved Piano in Canada, we can substantiate every statement we make conclusively. There are at present over Sixty thousand (60,000) of these instruments in Canadian homes, and we are manufacturing more Heintzman & Co. Pianos than ever we did, in fact our output is greater than any other Piano manufacturer in Canada. Our pianos are used and endorsed by the world's greatest artists.



In Colleges, Schools and Acadamies the Heintzman & Co. Piano predominates, wherever real genuine piano-worth is exacted, you will find the Heintzman & Co almost exclusively used.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations leit to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

~~PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.~~

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.
UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

CLEARED THE WAY FOR PROMPT ACTION

Washington, Dec. 5.— Congress cleared the way to-day for prompt response to President Wilson's call for a declaration of war with Austria Hungary. A joint resolution, approved by the President and the State Department declaring the existence of a state of war between the United States and the Austria-Hungarian Government from to-day noon, was introduced in the House and unanimously approved by the Foreign Affairs committee. It will be reported tomorrow for the beginning of the House debate on Friday, with final action in the Senate late in the week or early next week. Conforming to the President's recommendations the resolution, which authorizes and directs the employment of the nations armed forces against Austria and pledges the country's resources to victory applies to Austria alone. Germany's other allies, Turkey and Bulgaria are not mentioned.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Fifty Dollars To Herald Patrons

The Herald it putting up a Victory Loan Bond, value $50.00 for competition among its Subscribers and Customers. Every person paying 50 cents to The Herald between now and the 31st of January, 1918 has an equal chance of getting this Victory Bond. The conditions are very simple.

There is a jar of beans in The Herald window, and with every payment of 50 cents to The Herald a ticket is given, entitling the person making this payment to make an estimate of the number of beansin the jar. The estimated number is written on the ticket, together with the name and address of the estimator, and the ticket deposited in a sealed box in The Herald office.

The person who estimates the correct number of beans, or the nearest correct number, gets the Victory Bond. In case of a tie another contest will decide.

The jar in the window is sealed and nobody knows the number of beans it contains.

The chance of securing this fifty dollar Bond is equal to all, and it costs nothing.

A subscriber to The Herald gets the same chance as the person who buys advertising, stationery, printing, or Christmas cards.

NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA
"The Human Phonograph"
In your Home for 3 days

When you put an orchestra record on the New Edison Diamond Amberola, the Amberola becomes an orchestra; when you put on a vocal record, it becomes a singer; when you put on a violin record, it becomes a violin; when you put on a piano record it becomes a piano. And so real, so "human" is the reproduction that it is difficult to believe that the singer or player is not actually in the room

When you own a New Edison Diamond Amberola you do not even think of needles, because there are no needles nor any other kind of reproducer "points" to change. The stylus (or reproducer point) of the Amberola is a genuine diamond that never wears out. Neither do you have to worry about wearing out and breaking expensive records, because Edison Blue Amberola records are almost unwearable and unbreakable. They have been played three thousand times in Laboratory tests without showing a sign of wear.

permits you to have an Amberola and a choice selection of Blue Amberola Records in your home for three days without costing you one cent nor obligating you in any way. We make this offer so that you will be sure to at least hear the Amberola before you consider purchasing any phonograph or talking machine whatever name it might have.

And when you do hear the Amberola we want you to hear it in your own home, right where you would expect to use it after you bought it.

Why wait? Why deny yourself the delight of having "real music" of all kinds in your home? Come in today and get full particulars of our FREE trial offer, an offer without a string of any kind attached to it.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, DEC. 8, 1917. NUMBER 227.

Made Stirring Appeal on Behalf of Union Government

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the Unionist candidate, opened his campaign in Nanaimo last night with a mass meeting in the Opera House, which was largely attended. Mr. McIntosh had with him Mr. Martin Burrell, Minister of Mines in the union government Mr. F. Stacpoole, K. C., of Esquimalt, and Major Harvey, while of local men on the platform there were Senator Planta, Messrs. F. C. Cunliffe, J. P. McGill, S. Tippett, F. Busby, H. McAdie, Dr. Brown, Harvey Murphy, F. Jepson, J. C. McGregor, J. M. Rudd, Dr Unsworth, L. C. Gilbert, and others. Ald. J. W. Coburn presided, and the meeting passed off very successfully. There was no opposition, and those present showed themselves keen supporters of unionism, and keenly appreciative of the need of sending help to the boys at the front.

The speaking throughout was excellent. Senator Planta opened with a frank, fighting speech, and was followed by Major Harvey who gave a manly support to the condidate and appealed to his friends to back Mr. McIntosh. Mr. Stacpoole was in fine trim and made a very impressive and instructive speech which was warmly applauded throughout. The Hon. Martin Burrell is a very pleasing speaker, and his position as a member of the union government lent additional weight to his remarks.

Mr. McIntosh made his first appearance on a Nanaimo platform. He is not a political barnstormer, but talks straight from the shoulder, tackling the issues of the campaign with absolute fearlessness. He will have all the more friends in town as a result of his speech last night, a full report of which will be found below.

The meeting started promptly on time, but those who took their seats early had the tedium of the wait very pleasantly relieved by selections by the Olympic orchestra. The audience had a further musical treat in the presence of Mrs. Macdonald Fahey, of Victoria, whose singing has so often delighted local audiences. She was in magnificent voice and has never been heard to better advantage than last night. She sang several songs between the speeches and the audience simply insisted on encores. It was a delightful innovation for a political meeting, and, indeed some of her songs were calculated to do as much for the cause of unionism, which is the cause of the boys at the front, and the cause of Canadian patriotism, as the most eloquent addresses.

A Serious Situation.

In his brief opening remarks chairman Coburn said that in Canada today the people were face to face with a situation in which they must take action one way or another. So far as his opinion went there was only one issue, and that was the winning of the war. There was no question of politics, for their only object was to help Canada carry on in the war to the best advantage. He asked a fair and patient hearing for the various speakers.

The first speaker was Senator Planta, who explained that he had been called on without notice. However, just to show them that he was game, he would offer a few remarks. There were no surprises these days, not even in politics, as witness his presence there that evening on a platform with men who previously had been his political opponents. But he had no excuse to offer. He was there because he believed that the time had come in which it was necessary in the interest of the Dominion to sink all political affiliations. He was out as all present on the platform were out, to do all in his power to help Canada in her gigantic struggle, and help the boys at the front particularly. He could not understand how any one could think differently, or act differently, when it was a question of helping the boys at the front. He paid generous tribute to the great services Laurier had rendered the Dominion, and expressed his admiration for the loyalty Laurier's followers had shown him. But as between loyalty to their leader and loyalty to the boys at the front, these Liberals had decided to stay with the boys. It was not a question of Laurier versus Borden. It was a question of going on with the war or quitting, and it was to go on with the war that the union government had been formed. And it was for this reason that he supported the principle of union government, and was now supporting Mr. McIntosh. He looked to see him elected and was pleased to be able to do what he could to bring about that result.

MR. J. C. McINTOSH

The Unionist candidate was given a most cordial reception and introduced his remarks by expressing his pleasure at the privilege of addressing a Nanaimo audience and at the presence of so many ladies who were taking an active part in the campaign, some thirty f whom were on his campaign committee in Esquimalt and forty in Oak Bay. He had been born and raised a Liberal, but he appeared before his audience as a Canadian, having put aside his party affiliation in favor f the Union government, such a government as President Lincoln had referred to in his Gettysburg address as "of the people, by the people and for the people." The Union government as at present constituted, declared Mr. McIntosh, is an ideal form of government and is only brought into use when a great crisis arises in the affairs of a nation. There were many precedents for a Union government, and Canada had one in the days of Confederation, when with keen foresight Sir John A. Macdonald advocated the union of the two provinces of Canada, upper and lower Canada, now the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. In opposition at that time, stated the speaker, was George Brown, who was not only the founder of Liberalism in Canada, but also the founder of the Toronto Globe, which was supporting the Union government in the present election campaign. Brown did not oppose Confederation. He stood by Macdonald and the Union government and as a result Canada was made a united nation. The crisis today, continued Mr. McIntosh, was greater than that which existed in the days of Confederation. The world war now being waged was a struggle for democracy, a struggle whether democracy or autocracy should rule. There was a great peril to face today, a peril which had drawn Liberals and Conservatives together. Lloyd George had said it was the silver dollars that would win the war and the nation that could put the last gold sovereign into the scale would come off victorious. The speaker did not agree with Lloyd George and expressed the conviction that it would be men who would win the war. Out of a population of 8,000,000, Canada had only 143,000 men on the firing line and the heroes of Ypres, Passchendaele, Vimy and other battles were sadly in need of reinforcements. If the same were not provided it would not be long before the Canadian army would be reduced to a few corps, the corps in turn reduced to a few battalions and eventually disappear as a seperate unit from the Empire's fighting forces. President Wilson declared the war would be continued until the wrongs to Belgium had been righted and until Germany had been brought to realize the futility of its realizing its dream of world power. Surely, declared the speaker, Canada will not forget the boys who are fighting its battles so nobly, the troops than whom no braver ever fought in Flanders and who were led by Sir Arthur Currie, of whom an Imperial officer had said no officer stood in higher esteem. The French lost 130,000 men at Vimy Ridge and did not gain a foot of ground and the British losses totalled 50,000 in the same section without success and it remained for the Canadian troops to win the position and add to the lustre of Canadian arms. Surely, said the speaker, such heroes are not the men to leave in the lurch and the responsibility of providing them with reinforcements was placed squarely upon the shoulders of all.

Must Be Conscription.

If Canada intended to fight to win the war, to aid our British brothers then conscription must be put in force and he believed that with the conscription of men there should also be the conscription of wealth. Wealth, re declared, could be replaced; it was not lost, but only changed hands, but life once given could never be replaced. Some system, he believed, must be and would be inaugurated by means of which the wealth of the country would be reached in a more effective manner than in the past. Profiteering, the curse of the party system of government, he declared must be stamped out. It was hard to believe that in the days of national stress and peril there were men who would take excess profits from the pockets of the consumer and, declared Mr. McIntosh, "I hereby declare increasing war on the profiteers of Canada and if I had my way some of them would be in the penitentiary today."

Continuing in his remarks, the Unionist candidate stated there was only one issue today and that issue was "Is Canada to continue the war or was Canada to quit. Which would Germany prefer? he asked, a Union government with a fighting nation behind it or a Referendum government. Canada, he declared, would be forever disgraced if it refused further assistance, and in this election we must remember that Russia was defeated, not by military force, but by reason of base Hun propaganda, which conditions also obtained in Italy, and there was no doubt but that Germany would not hesitate to take similar measures in Canada. Germany was in this election contest, he declared, and he would leave it to his audience to say whether the Huns would support the Union or the Referendum government. The great question Canada would have to settle after the war continued Mr. McIntosh, was that of the returned soldier, the man who had gone overseas and fought for those at home. To those who have already returned nothing was too good and for those who would return crippled and their earning power decreased, some assistance must be given. In this connection he would advise the inauguration of a Department of Demobilization with a Minister and Deputy Minister, and Boards in each province on which the returned soldiers would have representatives.

Two Great Armies.

Referring to the part taken in the war by organized labor, Mr. McIntosh stated that Great Britain had sent forth two great armies, one to Flanders and the other to the shops and fields to provide supplies for the fighting forces, one army depending on the other. President Gompers and Treasurer Tobin had expressed the views of the American Federation of Labor in regards to the war, and the speaker expressed the hope the trades unions of B. C. would say we are trade unionists but are Canadians first.

Another question that will come with the days of peace, stated the speaker, will be an influx of population, some of which will come from war wrecked Europe and to meet the situation it will be necessary to establish more industries. Vancouver Island, he declared, was rich in minerals and here was the opportunity for the establishment of steel plants such as were advocated in resolutions passed recently by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. Nanaimo had its opportunity in this connection, and such a movement would have his hearty support.

In conclusion, Mr. McIntosh stated there was no room in Canada for the alien, whose sympathy and services were not with us in this period of stress. They were in the future and they are not bearing any of the burden of the war. If it was found necessary for the operation of the mines to employ these men, he would say to the companies pay such men $1.10 a day, the same as the soldier receives and pay the balance into a fund for the Returned soldier or his dependants, and if elected he would do what he could to carry such a proposal into effect. If medically fit, he declared such men should be handed over to the consuls of their respective nations and sent to the firing line to do their bit against the common enemy. He was not asking the electors to vote for him on election day, but to vote for Canada. Sir John A. Macdonald said, "I am British born and I will die British." Can we say that at the present time, asked the speaker, who, in conclusion said, "It may be possible if we do not do our duty that we will die German subjects."

Thanked His Supporters.

Major Harvey, who was a candidate for the nomination at the Unionist convention at Duncan, thanked those who supported him at the convention, and while disappointed at his defeat, had laid aside his disappointment because of the greater issue at stake and with him there was only one issue and that from the soldier's point of view was the necessity of sending reinforcements to the brave boys at the front as soon as possible, and the only way this could be done was by supporting the Unionist candidate. Major Harvey pleaded for the return of Mr. McIntosh, and severely criticized Mr. McInnes and those who talked of a referendum, declaring such action was nothing less than base and cowardly desertion of the boys at the front.

HON. MARTIN BURRELL.

The Minister of Mines complimented Nanaimo on its candidate, declaring that Mr. McIntosh was the type of man coming into politics in Canada at the present that, under other circumstances, might never have entered the political arena. He criticized the Laurier Liberals for their lack of any constructive policy to replace the policy of the Unionists whom they took to task so much. The main part of their argument, he charged, was a criticism of the late Borden government, which was not the present government at all. One need only read the papers of recent date he declared, to realize the gravity of the war, the recent drive on Italy, the removal by Germans of soldiers from the Russian front for an attack on the western lines. The Halifax disaster he stated had brought home to Canada some idea of the horrors of war, but the people of Canada did not realize they were in a conflict in which millions were suffering and countless horrors being enacted in order that this world would be made safe for democracy. He had come to Nanaimo free from a contest by reason of the fact that the electors of his district had returned him by acclamation and he stood today as an elected member of the Unionist Government. In ordinary elections while a candidate criticized his opponent he generally had a policy of his own to promulgate, but a peculiar thing about the present election contest was that while the opponents of the Union government had all kinds of abuse to hurl they had nothing in the way of a constructive platform. He appeared before a Nanaimo audience as a supporter of the Union government and a member of the Borden government since 1911. He would like any man who scoffs at the idea of the Union government not being representative of the two political parties to name one prominent Liberal utside Laurier or Frank Oliver who was not a member of it.

Continuing in his remarks, Mr. Burrell advised Mr. McInnes and others it was a very poor way of getting good government if public men were blackguarded in the manner they were doing with the present leaders in Canada.

Tribute to Borden.

These Laurier Liberals, he declared, all agreed in a wholesale denunciation of the Borden government, the members of which they urged were in league with the profiteers and talked of such things as conscription of wealth. It was regrettable that the man who had been placed at the head of affairs in Canada should bs subjected to such a terrific onslaught. The very men knew that they were not true. Mr. Burrell paid a high tribute to the Premier than whom he said there was not a bigger nor cleaner man in Canada. Sir Robert Borden's first and last thought was always, not what was best for the party, but what was in the best interests of Canada.

Referring to Mr. W. W. B. McInnes recent criticism of the "awful economic condition of Canada," Mr. Burrell said that during the last fiscal year the country had reached the high water mark of its existence, when the exports exceeded the imports by $314,000,000. Canada's income was now greater than its expenditure, he said, by $60,000,000. Profiteering and conscription of wealth were beautiful words, he said, to be bandied about the country.

"The Union government should, and it will, place the war burden on the shoulders best able to bear it," Mr. Burrell said amidst applause. "We have as heavy a taxation of wealth as any country in the world, heavier than even the United States. For 1915, 1916 and 1917 a strong measure for taxation of wealth had been imposed by the government. Twenty-five per cent, over 7 per cent, profits, and up to 15 per cent, were confiscated by the government and the government also took 50 per cent of the profits of everything from 15 to 20 per cent, and 75 per cent of everything above 20 per cent. The United States started taxing at 9 per cent of profits, and their maximum figure for confiscation of profits was set at 60 per cent. In some respects Canada's taxation of wealth was greater than that in England."

Tax on Wealth.

Mr. Burrell ridiculed the statement of the Laurier Liberal advertisements that the business profit tax was going to cease at the end of this year. When the measure had been introduced no one could forsee that the war was going to last three years and he quoted the remarks of the finance minister who said that if there was going to be any alteration in the system it was going to be a heavier tax on wealth. "The Union government is pledged to go the limit," he declared amidst applause. The Prime Minister had already announced what it was going to do in the future with the profits of the meat packers.

Referring to the baronetcy conferred upon Sir Joseph Flavelle, Mr. Burrell said the former Borden Government had nothing to do with that. Honorary titles, he said, were absolutely objectionable to the genius of the country. The British Government had chosen Sir Joseph Flavelle for the head of the Munitions Board and so far as that board was concerned, to give Flavelle the credit due him, the board had been well administered. The government, however, had had nothing to do with his appointment to that board, his retention in office, nor the administration of that board.

As regards the profits made by the Davies Company, the minister said that these were all accumulated in connection with the export trade. The contract was given by the British Government, which chose its own prices.

The government view was that it would come down and confiscate the most of the profits. It would take 50 per cent of everything made over 7 per cent. profit and this year would take 86 1-4 per cent of the profits.

Copied Laurier Act.

Taking up the criticism levelled at the Election Act, Mr. Burrell said that it was practically the same act that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had placed in Alberta in 1905. He explained how the act had been safeguarded by the appointment of a judicial board and that any man who was not on the lists and thought he should have a vote could still cast his ballot and have judgment passed on his right to vote afterwards.

It was an extraordinary thing that the Laurier people were so concerned about the alien vote, he said.

"One could almost think they knew where the votes were going," he added. "What a singular thing it would be to give the vote to aliens

FORD—HIRST WEDDING

An unusual pretty wedding took place Thursday morning in St. Ann's Church, French Creek, when the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock united in marriage Miss Rachel Margaret Hirst, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Hirst, Parksville, and Mr. Allan Walter Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford, of Coombs. A large number of friends of both contracting parties attended the ceremony. The bride was given away by her brother Mr. Thomas Hirst, and was attended by her sister Miss Leah Hirst. Mr. Robert Kirkup assisting the groom. The wedding march was played on the organ by Mr. Johnston.

The bride was dressed in a cream broadcloth one-piece dress with ermine furs, wearing a small white hat and carrying a bouquet of roses and carnations. The bridesmaid wore a cream tailored suit with large black picture hat, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

The gift of the groom to the bridesmaid was a gold brooch set with pearls, and to the best man a silver cigarette case.

After the wedding luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Ford motored to Duncan and caught the afternoon train for Victoria en route to Hedley, B.C., where they will visit Mr. Ford's sister Mrs. (Dr.) Elliott, the bride travelling in a brown broadcloth suit with fur trimming and hat to match.

Judging from the number of wedding presents Mr. and Mrs. Ford have a host of friends who will no doubt wish them every success and happiness in their new venture.

London, Dec. 7.—Premier David Lloyd George is slightly indisposed. The dinner arranged for today where it was announced, he would reply to the Lansdowne letter, has been postponed for a week.

CONDITIONS IN HALIFAX BEGGAR DESCRIPTION

St. John, N.B., Dec. 7.—The battlefields of Europe do not furnish a parallel to the scenes witnessed at Halifax, in the opinion of Duncan Grey, who arrived here today. He was engaged in inspecting shells on the waterfront when the devastation began, and barely escaped before the building collapsed. This is his story:

"A few seconds after the roar of the explosion, a gust of wind swept through the shed, and then down came the boards, pillars, and beams. I rushed to the open and the sight that met my gaze was the worst that I ever hope to see in this world. I have been in the trenches in France, I have gone over the top, friends and comrades have been shot in my presence. I have seen scores of dead men lying upon the battlefield, but the sight that met my eyes yesterday was a thousand times worse and far more pathetic.

"I saw people lying around under timbers, stones, and other debris, some battered beyond recognition, and others groaning in their last agonies. Rushing here and there, I struggled to assist them, and, as near as I can remember, pulled out 22 men and children from under the wreckage.

"As I was right in the affected district, I witnessed the whole horror of the situation. Partly blinded by the smoke from burning buildings, I groped around, assisting some poor mothers and little ones, who were running about, screaming and searching vainly for lost ones, in many instances never to be seen by them again. I struggled on, coming across more and more bodies of dead men, dead women, and dead children. Death was everywhere.

"Flames were sweeping a wide pathway for themselves. Doomed structures were belching forth great volumes of smoke from the doors. Half strangled by smoke, I kept pulling out bodies from under beams and fallen chimneys and under wreckage. Some of the bodies were without clothing. Many were so mutilated that it was difficult to realize they were human.

"Some men were virtually demented. Thinking only of their wives and children, they dashed about in burning debris, hazarding their lives with the single thought of rescuing them. I shall never forget how I felt in that hour. I saw little kiddies running along, some with blood streaming from them, all crying for their parents, while fathers and mothers ran about in frenzy. I have never seen anything so pathetic, even on the battlefields."

Injured at Truro.

Truro, Dec. 7.—The Truro Academy, court house, fire hall, and military hospitals were filled tonight with wounded who have arrived from Halifax in an endless procession all day. The Red Cross worked hard to relieve the sufferings. Hearts are heavy, but their minds are fastened on the urgent work before them. There are no figures of the injured have died on the trains after reaching Truro. Operating rooms have been improvised, and numbers of serious cases requiring the surgeon's knife, have been operated on, the best professional skill the province commands being employed. Hospital records already show instances where whole families have been wiped out.

New York Sends Relief

New York, Dec. 7.—Several special trains provided by the New York Central Railroad were speeding from here to Halifax tonight with every facility for supplying aid to the stricken city. One carried 600 men, together with $15000 worth of tools, $150,000 worth of lumber, 1,000 portable houses, and 25 motor trucks. The party includes a special salvage corps, under twenty expert engineers who will restore whatever houses can be saved, and direct the construction of temporary shelter. The train is expected to arrive in Halifax at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

Dr. Darlington former health commissioner of New York City, who also is on his way to Halifax, has been placed in charge of temporary housing problems. Articles, valued at more than $200,000 have been sent by the American Red Cross.

IN SUPPORT OF THE CANDIDATURE OF

Mr. H. S. CLEMENTS, UNIONIST CANDIDATE.

A meeting will be held in Willey's Hall, Wellington on Saturday night, Dec. 8th, at 8 o'clock sharp.

Speakers: H. S. Clements, Unionist Candidate; C. F. Campbell, Liberal-Unionist; Wm. Boulton, Conservative-Unionist. Everybody Welcome.

Children Like It

It is not an easy matter to get a medicine that children like, or to force them to take one they don't like. Most mothers know that a cough medicine, while palatable, should contain no drug injurious to the child. The great popularity of is explained by the fact that it contains no opium or narcotic of any kind, and at the same time is so pleasant and agreeable to the taste that children like it. For this reason it is a favorite with the mothers of young children.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Yours for health,

—Geo. Chamberlain

THE ISSUE

It is a noticeable feature of the present election campaign that the candidates who are opposing union government utterly fail to stick to the main issue. It is all very well to pour criticism upon the late Borden government. The weaknesses and mistakes of the Conservative government are really not an issue in the present election. It has to be remembered that the union government, as it exists today, is composed of some of the strongest Liberal leaders in the Dominion, and the principle of union government cannot be attacked because of the record, good, bad, or indifferent, of the preceding government. Indeed, the reason for a union government is to be found in the failure of the Borden party government. In hammering at its mistakes, real or imaginary, Laurier candidates are only establishing all the more the necessity for a union non-party government.

There are indeed, only two issues that matter. The elimination of the party system in this grave national crisis is one, and compulsory military service is the other. All the rest is mere political camouflage. With the best and the strongest of the Liberal leaders supporting unionism, it is impossible that Laurier, if he were elected, could give any better government than Borden did with his party. It is after all a question of country and not party. And since the election began events in the great war have only increased the necessity for compulsory service. The situation on the western front, it must be admitted, is none too encouraging. The defection of Russia has immensely increased the fighting strength of the enemy on the western front. The Italians are engaged in a life and death struggle to hold their country inviolate against a stupendous enemy offensive. General Byng has had to relinquish some of the fruits of his great victory at Cambrai. The reason is clearly due to the additional reserves the Germans have withdrawn from the Russian front. All the indications are that the British troops will very soon be battling against just as formidable an offensive as the Italians are now resisting with the most desperate courage. Canada in this crisis in the fortunes of the allies, must keep her pledges, and pour all her available resources into the great struggle. General Sir Arthur Currie ought to know as much of the needs of the Canadian army as say the redoubtable Mr. McInnes. Reinforcements are urgently needed, and with the best possible speed, Sir Arthur says, the gallant Canadian force will be feeling the pinch before reinforcements reach them. Every passing day makes it clearer that the only issue in the election is shall Canada "carry on," or shall Canada quit? There should be no doubt of the answer of the Canadian people.

BIJOU THEATRE

Charlotte Walker does some of the best work of her very successful career in the five-reel feature, "Mary Lawson's Secret," in which she is appearing today at the Bijou. She is an emotional actress of the highest grade and the leading role gives her splendid opportunities of which she takes the fullest advantage. This week's instalment of "Patria" now nearing its end is even more exciting than its predecessors, which is saying a lot, and you will not want to miss it.

DOMINION THEATRE

Some of the Dominion patrons who witnessed 'Countess Charming" yesterday at the Dominion, are not yet convinced that Julian Etinge is a man, and they are not much to be blamed for their doubts, for his counterfeit of a beautiful wo[illegible] is certainly wonderful.

There is a very [illegible]some Luke comedy [illegible]ing weekly on the p[illegible].

DOMINION [illegible]

The Dominion ma[illegible]ement has been able to secure for [illegible]t Monday and Tuesday only, one of [illegible] film attractions now before public. Every one has read or heard of the famous Thaw case. Evelyn Nesbit, the heroine of that drama, will, with her son Russell Thaw, appear in in a photo-play founded upon her own life and entitled "Redemption" at the Dominion, Monday and Tuesday, December 10 and 11. Everyone will want to see this noted woman.

MADE STIRRING APPEAL ON BEHALF OF UNION GOVERNMENT

who would not go to fight for Canada."

As regards the complete franchise to women, it would have been impossible to get this passed in time for this election, but the Union Government was pledged to give all the women a vote at the next election.

The one big question of the election declared Mr. Burrell was whether or not Canada was to continue to take an active part in the war. All the questions that had been raised by the Laurier critics were not the questions before Canada, he continued. The sole issue was whether we should send men to reinforce our troops.

"The Union government," declared the secretary of state, "stands or falls by the enforcement of the Military Service Act." The problem of Quebec he stated was profound, fatal and tragic. Laurier had it in his power to save many grevious things in this country—for no one knows what yet may come—but Sir Wilfrid had refused to join the coalition government. When the vote came on the Military Service Bill there were only ten votes against it outside of Quebec, and only two of these were west of the Great Lakes, to the everlasting credit of the West.

"In the words of Dr. Michael Clarke what more inducement is necessary for men to enlist under the voluntary system than their own fiery patriotism; ruined Belgium, devastated France, where young girls had been torn from their homes, and all the other unspeakable atrocities of the Hun. The responsibility for the tragedy of Quebec lies at the door of its leading citizen, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who for three years had had the opportunity of rousing the people of that province to a realization of its duty."

Knows McInnes Well

Reverting to critics of the Government the speaker stated he remembered Mr. McInnes well. He remembered his break with Laurier, of his going to the Yukon, and of his coming down with the object of saving the Liberal party, but the party turned him down. He was then appointed a County Court Judge, declared the speaker and had made a good judge and he was quite surpised to see him resign from such a safe and comfortable position to the uncertainties of an election which would be the certain defeat for Mr. McInnes on Dec. 17th. Referring to criticisms levelled at the War Times Election Act the speaker severely criticised those who were much perturbed over the fact that the alien enemy was deprived of a vote. "We are not disfranchising these aliens declared Mr. Burrell, for when the war is over they will step right back into the rights of citizenship which have been taken from them only during the period of the war. Some of the men, he declared, have been citizens of Canada but a few years, who know nothing of the traditoins of the British race and it would not be fair to give them a voice in the affairs of the nation at this point of national peril. The time had arrived, he declared, when citizens of the state enjoying the privileges of the state must show their obligations. There are in our midst today, Grecians, Italians and other citizens of friendly foreign countries who by virtue of the fact of their not being citizens of Canada are not where they should be, fighting with their kith and kin, and arrangements were now being considered with the consuls of the several friendly nations whereby their citizens in Canada should either be drafted into their respective armies or lined up with the Canadian forces.

The Elections Act.

Again referring to the War Times Election Act Mr. Burrell stated a great deal had been said of the horrible government which had disenfranchised the women of the country, while at the same time the critics knew women never had the Dominion franchise. The War Times Election Act gave the vote to certain women of Canada and he felt if any other than the men in the trenches were entitled to a vote it was the women who had suffered at home and who had labored early and late towards the securing of necessities and comforts for the soldiers on the firing line. Four hundred thousand of the best blood of Canada, he declared, had gone overseas, leaving behind the slacker, the pacificist and the enemy at home, and the War Times Election Act is saying to the men overseas that during their absence from the Dominion they shall be represented by their wife, mother or sister. It is obvious there will be thousands in the front line trenches who will not be able to cast a ballot, as will also many prisoners in Germany, and 30,000 lie buried in the fields of France and Flanders who will be unable to raise their voices, but the Government has determined that they shall be represented through the person of their women relatives. What is Canada going to do asked the speaker, in this gigantic struggle in order that the world be made safe for democracy. What was going to be done to honor the men by reason of whose heroic deeds and actions Canadians at home were permitted to move about in peace and security. Canada would in all probability never had a Union Government had it not been for the introduction of the Military Service Act and that Act would be the rock upon which the Government either stands or falls. The late Government, Mr. Burrell declared, was loathe to introduce the Conscriptive measure, but the time arrived when such a measure had to be introduced or Canada cease taking an active part in the war. There was only one country left which had not put conscription into force, viz., Australia, and Australia was pointed to by Laurier as an example for Canada to follow. But, continued the speaker, Australian was 90 per cent British born and had not been behind in the number of its volunteers. Every nation had been compelled to adopt conscription and it was to the glory of Canada that it had done so well under the volunteer system. He was proud of the fact that Canada had sent 400,000 men overseas, but what a tragedy was shown when out of 295,000 who went to the front but 8,192 were French Canadians from Quebec. Had French Canada responded like B. C. Canada would have enlisted 160,000 men but such had not been done. The reason why it was not done was not because the French Canadians were cowards and could not fight, for Courcelette had demonstrated the fighting qualities of the French Canadian. It was not done because the French Canadian had no incentive for the home of his ancestors wer being ravaged and laid waste by the Hun and France was bleeding at every pore and one would have thought that this would have aroused Quebec to action. That it did not do so is the fault of no one but the leaders of the French Canadian people. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and others. The opposition leader had been asked to enter the Coalition Government but had refused and the situation today in Quebec was that Unionist candidates were being opposed by either followers of Laurier or Bourassa. The speaker ridiculed the idea of a candidate calling himself a Conscription Liberal, which, he declared, was a coptradictory statement. Men must be elected who were going to give their whole hearted support to the Unionist Government which had been given the biggest mandate ever given in the 58 majority for the Military Service Act. We want to win this war, declared the speaker, in such a manner that it will not have to be fought over again by our children. Let us not forget the men who are facing death every day in order that those at home may live in security and comfort and, continued Mr. Burrell, let us not forget the ravages of the smaller nations and on the day when we go to the poll and say what the Government of Canada shall be let us ask ourselves what it best for Canada and for the men who have gone overseas.

Mr. F. C. Stacpoole.

Space will not permit of but more than passing reference being made of the address delivered by Mr. F. C. Stacpoole, of Esquimalt, which was well delivered and favorably received. He urged the election of Mr. McIntosh and spoke of the necessity of reinforcements being sent to France which he declared, could only be got by means of the Military Service Act. He strongly advocated support of the Union government and ridiculed the idea of a referendum being taken, thus causing unnecessary delay at a time when urgency was most needed. He expressed his regret at the attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of whom he had always been a great admirer and follower, and if he had forsaken his old leader at the present crisis in the nation's history, it was because he had placed fidelity to his country ahead of fidelity to his leader. Mr. Stacpoole severely scored the French Canadian press, which in its attitude in the present crisis had openly insulted the heroes who fought at Mons and on other battlefields of France and Flanders and criticized the plea of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the volunteer system be given another chance in Quebec which had not been moved to action, even though the church it held dear had been desecrated by the Germans and the land of their ancestors ravaged and laid waste by the invaders. Quebec, he stated, out of a population of 2,000,000, had sent only 8,000 men overseas, while B. C., with a population of 400,000, had contributed 40,000 to Canada's fighting force, and in conclusion stated the French Canadians of Quebec and those who would have Canada cease its efforts in the war seem to forget the blood that has been shed in France and Flanders, that the off-spring of the Scottish, English, Irish and Welsh, when they had once put their hand to the plough never pull back. They forget, he declared, that we come from a race that fought an autocratic king at Runnymeade; they forget we are the off-spring of a people that beheaded a despot king; are first cousins to the great republic to the south, who fought for liberty against a despot monarch and are descendants of a race which defeated Napoleon. Canada, he declared, will not forget the heroes who fought and died in France and Flanders and on Dec. 17th there will be such a reply that in the future no one will dare raise his head and object to full reinforcements being sent to the fast-weakening Canadian line overseas.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

LORD ROBERT CECIL ENTERS A DENIAL

London, Dec. 6.—In the House of Commons today Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, denied England and France entered into any treaty or understanding to support Italy against the Holy See if the Holy See attempted to take steps toward peace. Asked why no reply was made to the Pope's note by England, France, or Italy, he said:

"The British, French and Italian Governments considered no reply necessary beyond that returned by President Wilson."

SUGGESTS CAMPAIGN FOR HALIFAX RELIEF

Calgary, Dec. 7.—R. J. C. Stead, of the Southern Alberta Victory Loan organization, has sent the following wire to R. A. Stephenson, chairman Dominion Publicity Committee for Canada's Victory Loan at Toronto:

"I suggest that Victory Loan organization be used for a special three-day campaign throughout Canada beginning Sunday, to raise Halifax relief fund; fund to be administered by government commission and surplus, if any, held in trust for similar disasters which may occur in Canada before end of war. All Canada is eager to help if given opportunity. Please consult proper authorities and advise."

CALGARY EXEMPTION TRIBUNALS' WORK

Calgary, Dec. 7.—The following figures for Alberta were given out here today: Cases heard by exemption tribunals, 21,996; total exemptions granted, 13,777; temporary exemptions granted, 1,206; refused, 4,459. Of the last, 2,264 are appealing from the decision of the local tribunal.

Suffering Cats! Give This Man The Gold Medal

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soont he entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shriveels up the corns without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

SUPPORT UNION GOVERNMENT

Women of Canada:

"Be True to the Boys At the Front"

Sir Robert Borden in his manifesto says: "The franchise will be extended to women, not chiefly in recognition of devoted and capable service in the war, but as a measure of justice too long delayed. If men die, women suffer; if they are wounded, women heal; if they are maimed, women labor."

The franchise is extended to the women relatives of fighting Canadians, in order that they may help hasten Victory and bring the boys back from the trenches covered with the glory they have won.

A Vote for a Unionist Candidate Is a Vote for Reinforcements

The Union Government is pledged to carry on its work of raising the 100,000 reinforcements so urgently needed to support the Canadians at the front. Laurier and his adherents would stop this work, take a referendum, and experiment with voluntary enlistment, the possibilities of which have been exhausted. The most clear-headed, right-minded Liberals have gladly and without coercion helped to form the Union Government; they have weighed the pros and cons, they have not allowed politics to interfere with their patriotism, or their promise to our brave boys in France to "see them through."

WOMEN WHO CAN VOTE

Every woman may vote who is a British subject, 21 years of age, resident in Canada one year, and in the constituency 30 days, who is the mother, wife, widow, daughter, sister or half-sister of any person, male or female, living or dead, who is serving or has served without Canada in any of the Military forces, or within or without Canada in any of the Naval forces of Canada or of Great Britain in the Present War, or who has been honorably discharged from such services, and the date of whose enlistment was prior to Sept. 20th, 1917.

Every ounce of strength in Canada should be exerted to help right a monstrous wrong the Prussian hierarchy would inflict upon the world. That is why the vote is placed in the hands of those most dear to our soldiers, trusting that the wifely love, and motherly devotion, and sisterly care, will vote as the boys would vote to carry on the work begun, and so far continued in the heroic spirit of self-sacrifice.

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"
CANADA'S GREATEST PIANO.

Personality in Many Parts

More than 3600 separate parts are involved in building the Modern Piano.

That leaves every scope for the maker to prove his honesty of intention and purpose, his commercial and business ability, his personal interest in the constant changes and inventions, his good-will and good name.

From the castors upon which it rests to the top cover, every Gerhard Heintzman piano is built to sustain the half-century reputation of its maker—a Dominion-wide reputation—for in thousands of Canada's homes this great piano has been a wonderful exclusive gift for all the family—a possession of joy and natural pride, deep and powerful and fruitful for good through a score of years.

In buying such intricate construction, so much power for enjoyment, so much lifetime value as the piano involves—you, too, should be guided by a name of known esteem.

UNIONIST RALLY AT WELLINGTON

Mr. Clements Reviewed His Record as Member for Comox-Alberni and Made Effective Reply to Statements Made by His Opponents.

Mr. H. S. Clements, the Unionist candidate for Comox-Alberni, held a meeting at Wellington last night, which was very well attended. Mr. R. Wallis presided, and the meeting was both harmonious and successful. Mr. Clements had with him on the platform Messrs. F. Campbell, and Wm. Boulton of Vancouver, both of whom delivered strong speeches in support of Mr. Clements' candidature.

Mr. Clements, after a few introductory remarks said that in 1911 the electors of the Comox-Atlin constituency had honored him by returning him as their member in the Borden government.

He had no idea then of the extent of the constituency, but he had endeavored to do his best since he had been their member. He preferred to leave his record to his constituents in dealing with his opponent. In anticipation of a party fight two years ago, he had been tendered the unanimous nomination by a convention at Courtenay. However, different conditions had arisen owing to the war. He could say that Sir Ribert Borden had for a year been trying to form a union or coalition government. Sir Robert had not succeeded in this object when the speaker left Ottawa. However, on arriving at Vancouver, after the session had closed, he had announced that he would support any union government which might be formed. He believed a union government was necessary, that the interests of the Dominion demanded it. And that was the reason that he stood before them as a Unionist candidate, knowing no politics and recognizing no political affiliations. He asked for their suffrage as a straight Unionist.

Mr. Clements then dealt with his record as member for the constituency. As he had said it was a huge constituency and it was difficult to look after, but he had always done his best. The Federal government was no the spending government. The provincial government was the spending government. But he had to tell them that as a result of his earnest efforts with the government he had secured three million dollars for the constituency for required improvements and public services. In particular he had looked after postal matters and had done everything in his power to open communication between the settlements in the northern country. Thousands of miles of telephone and telegraph wires had been put up, and there was open communication between every point in the scattered and extensive constituency. He had gone into this mail and telegraph services because it was necessary for the proper development of the resources of the constituency and because of its public utility. Largely as a result of this work he could say that fifteen million dollars had been invested in industrial prospects.

Mr. Clements then outlined what he had been able to accomplish in regard to aids to navigation, such as lighthouses, buoys and fog alarms, with the result that passenger traffic on the local waters had been rendered much safer. As for the fishing business, he mentioned that 5,000 Orientals had been replaced by 4,000 whites, and he hoped to see the day when fishing would offer permanent employment to the men engaged in it. There was much more he could say, but he would state that every request made to him had received his attention.

He next dealt with his opponent, Mr. McInnes, who, he said, was the only outstanding Liberal who was opposing conscription. His opponent made his speeches to suit his audiences. At one point Mr. McInnes had told the meeting that if elected he would have conscription repealed. He (the speaker) might as well tell them that there was no more chance of conscription being repealed than there was of them jumping over the moon. The difficulty was to find out where Mr. McInnes was. It may be that Mr. McInness railed about profiteering. Well, some of his audience might know Mr. McInnes better than he, the speaker, did, but he knew him as much as he wanted to do. But speaking of profiteering he wanted to say that Mr. McInnes was himself the greatest individual profiteer in Canada.

After touching upon the first shell orders, Mr. Clements referred to the abnormal profits the Davies Company had made out of ham and bacon. The Dominion government had nothing to do with it. He condemned Sir Joseph Flavelle, but the latter was appointed by the Imperial authorities and the contract made by the Imperial authorities. The Borden government had nothing to do with either, no matter what Mr. McInnes might have said.

Dealing with the Ross Rifle, Mr. Clements stated that it was established as the Canadian rifle by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his government. The only Conservative who supported it was Sir Sam Hughes. Sir Wilfrid Laurier entered into contracts worth millions of dollars for the manufacture of the Ross rifle, and the Borden government had fallen heir to these rifles. Thus, when the war broke out there was nothing to arm the Canadian soldiers with save Ross rifles. Then came complaints and disputes. He was not going to say but what the Ross rifle conotracts should not have been cancelled sooner. But as soon as it was proven beyond all doubt that the Ross rifle was unserviceable, the government had cancelled the contracts, and ordered Lee Enfields in their place.

Discussing the Canadian Northern question, Mr. Clements contrasted it with the Grand Trunk Pacific and asked what Mr. McInnes had to say about that. He then explained the action of the Borden government in the matter of taking over the Canaddan Northern. It was a question of loaning more money or taking over the enterprise by the country, and this is what the government had done. The bargain made by the government was the very best possible that could have been made.

The speaker thought he had met the issues as raised by Mr. McInnes and warned them not to be misled by his opponent's talk and steam, and lavish promises. But Mr. McInnes made promises which he could not carry out. Mr. McInnes had left a position on the bench worth $4,000 a year, and he was contesting two constituencies. Did they think he would stay with Comox-Alberni if he were elected for Vancouver. Mr. McInnes would give his eye teeth to get elected for Vancouver. But never mind, he was resigning a job worth $4,000 because he couldn't live on it in order to go into Parliament at an indemnity of $2500. He would let them find the solution. In a previous election at Wellington, he had asked them to send him to Victoria so that he could fight Dunsmuir, the coal baron, who was sucking their lifeblood. Well, the Wellington people sent him to Victoria and in six weeks Mr. McInnes had a portfolio in the Dunsmuir Cabinet. Could they trust a man with that kind of record?

In conclusion Mr. Clements said he was going to be the Union government member for the constituency, and he asked the electors of Wellington to get on to the band wagon. They were to vote on the 17th of December, and he left to them his record as member for the past six years to determine how they should vote.

DEAD NOW TOTALS FOUR THOUSAND

Latest Estimates Places the Number of Dead in the Halifax Disaster at Four Thousand—Many Bodies Are Recovered From the Harbor.

Halifax, Dec. 8—Four thousand persons were killed in the burning and destruction of buildings resulting from the explosion on the munitions ship Mont Blanc in the harbor on Thursday, according to estimates tonight by officials. This estimate, higher than any other heretofore, was made after a survey of the devastated district of Richmond, where acres of debris probably will not be cleared for months.

Halifax, Dec. 8.—Men of the naval forces dragged the waterfront today and recovered the bodies of 200 sailors, soldiers and workmen.

Halifax, Dec. 8.—The casualties in the Wellington street Barracks, announced tonight were: Killed, 6; missing and presumed dead 27; badly wounded, 141; slightly wounded, 96; unaccounted for 44. Total 314.

In the married men's quarters 160 women and children were reported killed, missing and badly wounded.

Thirteen sailors and petty officers were killed on the Canadian cruiser Niobe. Fifteen other men are missing and cannot be traced.

Halifax, Dec. 8.—The total lives lost may never be known, but for the moment the number is of secondary importance. But the outstanding fact faced by the local authorities is that twenty thousand persons are destitute and of this number perhaps one out of seven is suffering from injuries which in many cases are bound to prove fatal. Tonight the work of organizing various relief units into workable whole, with general direction that would avoid the duplication of effort and tend to the greatest efficiency was well under way.

TEUTONS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES

Washington, Dec. 8.—The Austro-German invaders of Italy have suffered enormous losses in their new drive, semi-official dispatches from Rome say, and in one instance they were decimated by their own artillery.

The regular monthly meeting of the Nanaimo Board of Trade will be held on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is to be transacted and a full attendance is requested.

Ald. Ferguson of the Council's Returned Soldiers' Committee has been advised that Pte. John McGill of this city, and Pte. John Burgess of Qualicum Beach, left Quebec on Thursday and are expected to reach Vancouver on Tuesday next.

Mrs. J. Young, Commercial street, received a telegram yesterday from Halifax, informing her that her son John, who was a member of the Niobe's crew, was safe.

GERMANS MAKE DESPERATE EFFORTS

Terrific Struggle Is Being Waged on the Asiago Plateau Where Huns Are Attempting to Break Through Italian Line.

London, Dec. 8.—Military interest centers at the present time on the Italian front where the Central Powers are declared in Rome dispatches to be developing their maximum military effort of the war.

The terrific struggle still finds its focal point on the Asiago Plateau, where Field Marshall Conrad von Hoetzendorf's army reinforced to a great strength, is trying to force the passes which lead to the Italian plains. His troops so far in the fighting have captured 16,000 Italians, according to the German reports, and have succeeded in pushing some distance into the Italian defensive positions.

The bravery of the Italian troops who have sacrificed themselves in large numbers in blocking the enemy advance, has kept holding the line intact, however, as it receded even the heaviest enemy masses thrown against its defences seemingly regardless of losses have not sufficed to effect a break in the chain of strong positions in which the Italians are now continuing their stand.

There has been little fighting in the last 24 hours in other war theatres. The Cambrai area in which the line has shifted rapidly as the British and German armies swung back and forth over it in the last few weeks, is witnessing a let-up in intensity of activities probably preparatory to breaking out of new engagements. The French front continues virtually stagnant.

In the east front from the Baltic to the Black Sea is quiescent under the influence of armistice negotiations. These have been suspended seven days according to advices from Petrograd so that the Allies may have an opportunity to express their attitude toward the parleying.

Within Russia, where the Bolsheviki are in control of the reigns of government, there are rumors of internal developments of potential importance. One such is to the effect that former Emperor Nicholas has succeeded in effecting his escape. Little has developed as to what action moderate forces of the nation may be contemplating in combatting Bolsheviki measures, one of which is reported to be the impending repudiation of all of Russia's foreign loans.

The American navy has suffered the loss of a new type of destroyer, Jacob Jones, which was torpedoed and sunk while on patrol duty in the war zone on the night of Dec. 6 with only 37 of her officers and crew known to have been saved, out of a total of approximately 100 aboard.

Ecuador has joined the important group of South American nations which have broken relations with Germany.

FIGHTING ON THE CAMBRAI FRONT

London, Dec. 8.—"On the Cambrai battlefront some local fighting occurred this afternoon east of Bourlies," says the official report from the British Headquarters in France tonight. On the remainder of the front there was no infantry action. The enemy's artillery activity during the day was directed principally against our positions in the neighborhood of Flesquieres, Monchy, Le-Preux and Passchendaele sectors.

NOT A SHOT FIRED ON RUSSIAN FRONT

Petrograd Dec. 8.—For the first time since the war began, not a shot was fired today on the Russian front from the Black Sea to the Baltic.

The cessation of hostilities only began at noon when the ten day armistice, signed last Wednesday, became effective. Notice of this truce reached the armies on the northern and western fronts yesterday.

U. S. TORPEDO BOAT LOST.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The American destroyer Jacob Jones was torpedoed and sunk in the war zone on Thursday with the loss of a large part of her crew.

The sinking occurred on December 6 at 8 p. m., while the ship was on patrol duty. She was commanded by Lieut.-Commander David Worth Bagley, brother of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy.

W. W. B. M'INNES HELD FORTH

Largely Attended Meeting Last Night Heard Denunciation of Union Government by Ex-Judge McInnes, W. Thoreson and H. Stewart, Liberal Candidate.

Standing room only was available last night in the Opera House on the occasion of a meeting held in the interests of Hugh Stewart, Laurier-Liberal candidate in Nanaimo Riding, which was addressed by the candidate, H. Thoresen, a returned soldier and W. W. B. McInnes. The latter spoke for two hours and was given a good reception. His speech consisted entirely of a criticism of the Union government, which he claimed was union in name only and was the same Conservative party with Borden at the head. Despite the fact that in this contest there were Liberal, Conservative, Liberal-Conservative, Labor, and other candidates it was the same old fight, he declared, between the forces of autocracy represented by the Conservatives and the forces of democracy represented by the Liberals. The Elections Act he described as a most infamous measure to enable the party in power to win the election and to retain power so that the monied interests could still retain control and the profiteers and food hogs continue their rampage of graft and extortion. He was opposed to Union government under any conditions and believed the best form of government was that in which there was strong opposition always on the alert. Six of the eight Liberals in the Union government, he stated, were friends of the profiteers and the Liberal party were the better off for their absence. Only Carvell and McLean were true Liberals, he believed, who had been misled, and who would soon cause a rumpus in the Government. Borden, he claimed, had been in power five years, had allowed graft to go on unchallenged, and at the eleventh hour in order to save himself from defeat had formed a so-called Union government and brought forth the conscription cry to rally voters to his support.

Mr. Stewart the Liberal candidate, stated he was opposed to the so-called Union government, formed nominally by Borden, but in reality by Clifford Sifton, with the object of keeping the profiteers in control in Canada. He was also opposed to the Conscription Bill as unfair to British Columbia, which had sent 14 per cent of its white population to the front, while certain sections of the east had sent only from 3 to 5 per cent. He charged the Union government was representative of the monied interests of the Dominion and that Finance Minister White was simply a tool of the C. N. R. He criticized the claim that the present Union government was a Union affair when, as a matter of fact it consisted of 14 Conservatives and 8 Liberals, and of the latter only two viz., McLean and Carvell were real Liberals, the remaining six being millionaires who could be depended upon to support the financial interests and profiteers who controlled the affairs of state in Canada.

W. Thoresen, a returned soldier, also addressed the meeting, and charged the government was not sincere in its efforts to put conscription into force. He also charged the administration of the Patriotic Fund was rotten while the fund itself was good and was constitutedeehcvarm good and was contributed to by persons with the best of motives. He criticised the attitude of the government in paying soldiers $1.10 a day while it permitted alien enemies to work in the country and earn from $6 to $10 a day being guarded by soldiers at $1.10. He charged the Borden government with the death of 2,000 Canadian soldiers by reason of the fact that they were furnished with the useless Ross rifles after that weapon had been condemned by the British Military authorities as not fit for active service.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

MR. McINTOSH'S STAND

One result of the Unionist meeting in the Opera House will be to emphasize the fact that there is only one issue in the election. This issue is the winning of the war, in which is wrapped up the keeping of the faith with the boys now at the front, and the honor of Canada as a nation. The Dominion went into the war with the consent of all parties in the country. Even if the government had hesitated at the beginning, subsequent events have shown that Canada could not have kept out of the war. If any proof of this statement is needed, the case of the United States furnishes it. No statesman could have done more to keep his country out of the war than President Wilson did, but he was forced to take the plunge as the growing menace of German domination became clearer. Germany is warring upon the civilized world for its own interests, and to satisfy its own national ambitions and establish its own commercial ascendency. The fate of Canada is as much in the balance as that of Britain, France, Italy and the United States.

This being so, there only remains the question of continuing the struggle. All the speakers at the meeting in the Opera House made their positions as clear as possible. If Canada is to exist as a free nation then it must fight for its existence with every ounce of its power and strength It is all very well for the Laurier Liberals to argue that to continue the fight means the loss of individual liberty, and for the Socialists to declaim that the people of Canada have never known liberty. The only alternative to present conditions is existence under German rule, and if the German flag flew over Canada there would be less declamation by the Canadian Leninites, and less licence for the Bourassas and Lavergnes who are supporting Laurier. At all events as between liberty under the Kaiser, and liberty under the Canadian flag, there can be no choice for the Canadian people. We have got to go on with the war.

We can only go on with the war under the Union government, and the candidate of the Union government is Mr. McIntosh. He gives a very clear and straightforward exposition of his position. As a Canadian, he says, Canada must continue her part in the war and keep faith with the boys who have given their lives, and are now fighting, that the liberties of all Canadians may be secured. Reinforcements must be sent, and the only way to get them is by compulsory service. He is a Unionist and supporting the Unionist government because it stands or falls on the issue of sending reinforcements. He is also a Unionist because he believes in such a crisis the country should have a national, non-party government to carry on the business of the war. He is not concerned with any mistakes the Borden government may have made, or any weaknesses it may have shown. For himself he will do everything in his power to wipe out profiteering, and he was equally outspoken in his reference to the alien question. Those of eligible age for military service, and medically fit to serve he would have conscripted, and those ineligible for any cause whatsoever he would keep at work but on the basis that the greater part of their wages be taken for patriotic purposes. The electors of Nanaimo may be quite sure that Mr. McIntosh will see that this question is taken up and adjusted to everybody's satisfaction. After his speech not a single voter in his constituency who wants to see Canada continue to do its share in the great struggle for national freedom, and to keep faith with boys who have gone to the front, can have any doubt as to how to mark his or her ballot.

CLASSES IN ENGLAND FOR DOMINION MEN

London, Dec. 7.—(Via Ottawa Reuter's Agency.)—Four thousand Canadian soldiers have volunteered for classes which the Canadian military authorities are conducting at various English camps under the supervision of Sir Richard Turner assisted by a representative committee. Instruction is given in all subjects desired, including agriculture, business, English and modern languages and classics. Officers not available for active service form the instructional staff, provided they were prominent in educational work in Canada. These classes are designed to form the basis of work which the Canadian universities plan for vocational training of troops, which Dr. Tory of Alberta University, was appointed to organize.

English opinion holds that Canadian authorities are very advanced in all that concerns affecting the welfare of the soldiers.

DOMINION THEATRE

Everybody has heard of Evelyn Nesbitt (Thaw). Everybody knows by hearsay of her life story. Well, in "Redemption" you can see her life story acted by the central figure in this great life drama. It is striking, but not sensational. Telling the story with relentless accuracy, but withholding from the screen anything which might offend or displease—"Redemption" is a play which leaves a deep impression on the minds of all who see it. Here only two days—Monday and Tuesday next.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store.

HEALTHIEST ONE IN THE FAMILY

No Sign Of Dropsy And Kidney Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

HATTIE WARREN

Port Robinson, Ont., July 8th, 1915.

"We have used "Fruit-a-tives" in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with Kidney Disease. The Doctor said she was threatened with Dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for "Fruit-a-tives" and would never be without them".

BEST FAMILY PATENT — VANCOUVER MILLING & GRAIN CO. LTD. — ROYAL STANDARD

With the experienced housewife it's not merely a question of getting any sort of flour to do her BAKING. When she phones her grocer you'll never find her saying: "Send me a sack of flour, please!" That doesn't cover her needs. With a multiplicity of flours to choose from, she avoids error and all sorts of baking troubles by saying clearly and emphatically—

"A SACK OF FLOUR, AND MAKE IT

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

PLEASE!"

If you've been a trifle careless about ordering flour, and don't happen to think of the name—ROYAL STANDARD—at the time you're doing your ordering, all you've got to do is suggest to the grocer that you want the "Circle V" Flour—the well-known "Money-back" Flour. He'll know at once you mean "Royal Standard"—the flour that gives you the highest food value, and the big, finely-textured, pure wholesome loaves. The grocer 'll know.

FIRE DESTROYED BUILDING OF POLSON IRON WORKS

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Fire which originated in the pattern shop of the Polson Iron Works on the Toronto waterfront at 6.15 o'clock tonight completely destroyed this building, a number of smaller sheds and badly damaged a large freighter and trawler, the total damage being estimated by the president of the concern, Col. J. B. Miller, at about $250,000 or $300,000, the loss covered by insurance.

How the fire started is a mystery, but a significant remark was made by Wm. Newman, manager, when asked about the number of aliens employed at the plant and whether they might be responsible.

"I don't know," he replied, "but remember we are at war."

Three large ocean freighters of 3,000 to 4,000 tons displacement are under construction as well as two trawlers. Two of the freighters were overboard but the other was on the ways, and was so badly damaged that its launching will be retarded for some weeks. The trawlers were saved.

LARGE FLOW OF OIL EXPECTED

Prominent Vancouver Citizens Made Trip of Inspection to Scene of Oil Boring Operations at Pitt Meadows

A number of Vancouver citizens made a trip of inspection to the scene of the oil boring operations at Pitt Meadows on Saturday. The work there has been going on for four years and the promoters believe that a large flow of oil is well within sight. The first hole was sunk to a depth of 1600 feet through a formation that seemed almost impenetrable and at that depth the tools were lost. The second hole is now down 1965 feet.

Six weeks ago, the promoters state, oil shales were struck. A few days ago traces of oil sands were encountered and every day stronger accretions of oil are recovered from the water which is brought up in the dipper. Tests of this matter have been made and the experts pronounce the samples to be paraffin base oil, practically the same as the well known Peruvian oil, not a fuel, but a lubricating oil.

The trip on Saturday was made to New Westminster by the B.C. Electric, the balance of the journey up the river on the steamer Skeena. The weather proved unfavorable, but the outfit was given a look over, many of those interested took samples of oil-saturated waters, and after partaking of a light lunch in the quarters, started on the return journey.

Address by Expert.

On the trip down, Mr. J. M. Lacey, one of the experts employed by the company, made a brief address to the party. He outlined the difficulties with which the company had had to contend. There has been consistent opposition from the very first. People in high position had stated from the outset that there was no possibility of securing oil in the formations which all the recognized geological reports said would be encountered. And when their "log" showed that these men were absolutely wrong in their premises, the company had been actually accused of salting. Every contention made by the men behind the company had been proven true, and the men who had knocked in the beginning were now being put to it to find excuses for their errors.

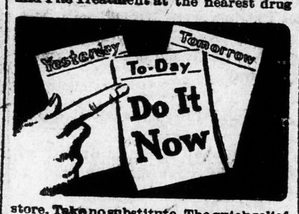
Continuing, Mr. Lacey outlined what the opening up of a good producing oil field would mean to the province. If this field proved what they had confidence it would prove to be—what other fields with less promise had proved to be, it would positively dwarf into insignificance every other natural resource in the province.

"The day of plugging wells has gone by," said he. "They have got to have the oil now, and every well in America today which can produce at all is being drained to the dregs.

"One good oil field properly developed will support hundreds of thousands, and will mean the establishment of industries in this province hitherto undreamed of."

As Good As In.

Referring to the indications now being secured at the company's well, he said, that the colors on the water and the residue of paraffin were considered everywhere as an unfailing sign. He did not wish to set any time, but he was confident the well was "as good as in."



And that time would only be the beginning of great things. The bringing in of one good well was a sure indication that there were others and would mean a rush to the field which would dwarf anything the province had ever seen. The matter was one of real national importance, the government and industry everywhere was begging for the oil. The fulfilment of the hope of those who had stood behind the enterprise, both big and little, would be realized soon. "We are not far from home now."

Among the Vancouver men who are directors of the company are: G. W. Gillies, president; C. D. McRae, manager; J. A. Harvey, K.C., Dr. Robert Telford, W. Innes Patterson, H. J. Bishop, Stewart Wade, J. A. McLuckie, and J. M. Lacey, directors.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage — do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eeat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your fool is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Monsieur:

For 15 days in the month of January I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT; as soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good; I tell you this remedy is very good; I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.

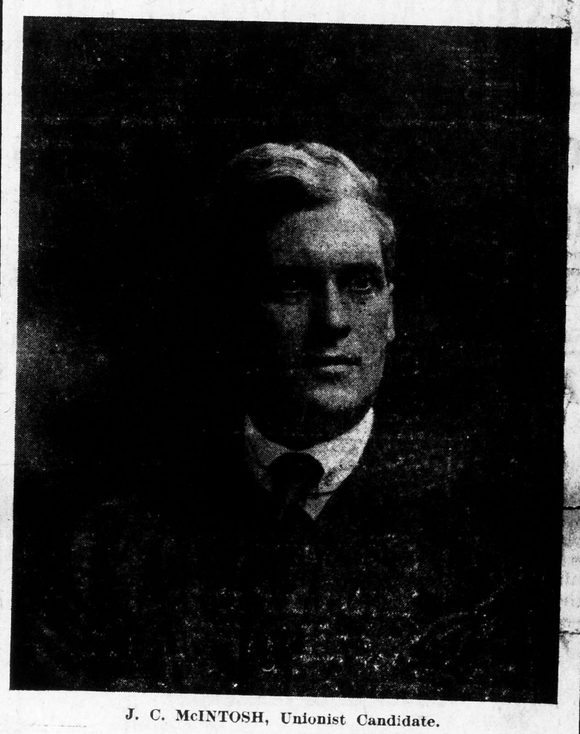
Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.



The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors
Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.
UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, DEC. 11, 1917. NUMBER 239.

HON. WILLIAM SLOAN MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING THE CROW'S NEST COAL FIELDS

Action Taken to Prevent Accidents; Many Advances on Scientific Lines Follow Submission of Report of George H. Rice; Summary of Methods Proposed and Adopted.

Announcement was made by Hon. William, Minister of Mines Saturday morning, regarding the action already taken and contemplated by the Provincial Government in connection with coal mining conditions in the Crow's Nest Pass and in particular relation to the report on the subject made specially for the department by George H. Rice, Chief Engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines. It will be recalled that Mr. Rice , who is probably the most eminent expert on coal mining on the American continent, was commissioned by the late Government, when the Department of Mines was administered by Lorne Campbell, to make full investigation into the cause and prevention of "bumps," from which source accidents occurred in 1916. The programme already commenced, as well as the extensions contemplated by Hon. William Sloan are in accordance with the report of Mr. Rice.

In the report submitted to the government Mr. Rice points out that the Crow's Nest field is regarded by Canadian geologists as the most important coal field in British Columbia. On account of its unusual natural difficulties it is impossible to reach coal except through outcrop while he says coal under heavy load requires great care in mining to prevent "squeezes" and "bumps." The coal beds he describes as very gaseous; that is, they have large menthane (firedamp) flows at Coal Creek and Michel, while at Morrissey the outbursts are unequalled, except in certain mines in Belgium. He goes on to say: "If the measures proposed are carried out, viz., of taking out less than fifteen per cent. of coal on the advance, and taking down the rash and roof coal in the working places in No. 1 mine, there is comparatively small danger to life for the men employed underground." He further sets out in detail preventative measures to deal with impending outbursts of gas in dangerous zones and the flows of menthane, while he says that a permanent commission should be formed consisting of a geologist, a mining engineer, a chemist and an experienced mine operator, to review all evidence secured.

He summarizes the inquiries as affecting the situation in the Crow's Nest locality and gives his full reasons. He advocates among other things the making of a careful topographic survey in the vicinity of all operating mines, the establishment of seismographs registering vertical waves at two or preferably three points on the face of the mountain above No. 1 south; the carrying on of experimental methods of mining the coal at the face in a practical manner; in the matter of occluded gas the gathering of samples in various beds with laboratory tests, etc.; continued investigations, already begun, for the protection of fire; to determine the amount of gas from a given exposure of surface by a process of hole drilling, all of which is explained in technical detail.

But, Mr. Rice points out in his report the greatest function of a commission such as he suggests would be to determine how the collieries may be so laid under the difficult conditions which confront mining operations in the Crow's Nest field, that all the coal that is now considered as "reserve" may be ultimately obtained. When it is considered, he states, that it is practically impossible to sink shafts into the larger part of the field and that, if the coal has to be attacked from the outcrop, to mine in the interior of the field will require entries or tunnels, six or eight or ten miles in length, the magnitude of the problem is apparent.

The Minister of Mines has for many weeks past had the matter of Mr. Rice's report well in mind and the following is an outline of the policy adopted to date:

"The matter of making a topographical survey and the establishment of monuments in advance of mine workings is being looked into. The season in which this work can be done in this field is very short—some four months in each year.

"In reference to the establishment of seismographs the Department of Mines have been in conference with Napier Denison, Superintendent of the Dominion Meteorological Service in British Columbia, as to the instruments best fitted for this class of work. As a result, the department now has on order a machine which, in addition to giving records for scientific purposes, will also give visible readings of movements of strata whereby warning may be given in time to withdraw the workmen from the mine before a heavy bump takes place. This instrument, which besides will record the slow rock movements which may precede abnormal escapements of gas into the mine, is under construction and will be installed as soon as available.

"As to experimental methods of mining the coal at the face in a practical manner, when the bump area is re-opened in No. 1 East Mine the methods to be adopted are as follows: A large pillar of solid ground will be left to support the bump area Main entries will be driven through the temporary prohibited area, and driven on until a selected boundary is reached, when retreat would begin. A pair of parallel rooms would be driven on either side for airways, making six advance headings extending right into the coalfield. Off the main heading there will be turned at right angles side entries every 800 feet, and from these will be turned pairs of rooms, each room of the pair 60 feet apart from the centre, and each pair of rooms to be 200 feet apart. The rooms to be driven 600 feet, this leaving a barrier of 200 feet between the ends of the rooms off one pair of entries and the ends of the rooms off the next pair of entries in by. Under this plan less than 15 per cent. of the coal would be extracted in the advance.

"When the seams are adapted to longwall mining, it is contemplated using this method of mining.

"The rash and top coal along all the main haulage roads and airways have now been stripped down and when the faces are reached the rash and top coal which has been timbered up, will in future operations be stripped down to the hard rock, therefore removing the danger of men being smothered by falls of this material simultaneously with the bumps.

"In reference to the gathering of samples in the various beds as outlined, this has been started, and the analysis of the samples have proved that the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Field is the most gaseous field in the world. In the matter of establishing if there are any movements of shrinkage going on in the roof, sides, ribs and floor, the same is under careful consideration.

"The taking of mine samples is being vigorously carried out by the Mines Department. During the idle period of April, May and June this year, samples were taken regularly to see the gas yield of the mines when idle. It was proved that some of the mines were giving off as much gas after being idle for 90 days as they were when in operation,

"It is contemplated putting in a gas testing station at Fernie, and appointing a chemist to be stationed at that point, to analyse the samples of mine air immediately. The Department of Mines now has under consideration the types of gas testing machines with a view to selecting the most suitable for the purpose in British Columbia, and the Burrell Gas Detector is being tried out in this field. This, according to the manufacturer, will detect as low as one-tenth of one per cent. of methane. If this detector proves to be all they claim it to be, it will revolutionize the system of gas detection in mines.

"From a series of tests made with analyses gas samples taken at the same time in reasonable velocities, it has checked out with the samples taken very closely, within three-tenths of one per cent. In high velocities it did not check out so well, but further tests are being made in the higher velocities.

"Large improvements are being inaugurated at the Fernie mines. Edison electric safety lamps have been installed to replace the Wolf flame lamps. Larger fans are being installed at No. 1 east and No. 3 mines, with capacities of 300,000 cubic feet per minute to carry larger volumes of air at safe velocities, six parallel roadways will be driven,

COUNCIL PASSED CIVIC ACCOUNTS

Expenditure for November Exceeded Six Thousand Dollars—Made Grant to Halifax Relief Fund—Report by Club Committee.

The City Council met in regular session last night, the full Board being present, His Worship Mayor McKenzie presiding.

His Worship informed the Council immediately upon learning of the terrible calamity at Halifax, he telegraphed the sympathies of the citizens of Nanaimo and proffered what assistance Nanaimo could give, the Mayor's actions being approved by the Council on motion of Ald. Coburn, seconded by Ald. Morton.

Ald. Coburn moved the Council grant the sum of $250 toward the Halifax Relief Fund and that the City Treasurer be instructed to wire that amount to Mayor Martin of Halifax, the money to be applied to the best advantage, also that the Council form itself into a committee of the whole to organize a canvass of the city for subscriptions to the Halifax Relief Fund. The motion was seconded by Ald. Morton and adopted by the Council.

A communication was received from Capt. Troup of the C. P. R. steamship service stating the willingness of the company to change the sailing time of the S. S. Princess Patricia on Election Day for the convenience of voters, from 8:30 to 9 a.m., and from 3 p.m. to 2 p.m.

A communication from the Liquidator of the Dominion Trust Company, asking for the payment of an account of $15 owing by the city as premium on a bond for a civic official, was referred to the Finance Committee for investigation, and if found correct to enter the account in the December Warrant Book for payment.

The Finance Committee presented the Warrant Book for the month of November, carrying accounts totalling $6,914.48, the principal items of expenditure being: Streets, $556.00; Water Works, $433.00; Police $463; City offices $424; Schools, $3.054; Fire Department, $308; Council, $175; Hospital $150; Pound $81; Street lighting $520; Visit of Governor-General, $256, and Athletic Club $173.

The Finance Committee reported it regretted its inability to make a money grant to the local lodge of Elks on behalf of the Christmas Tree entertainment for soldiers' kiddies, but recommended the Athletic Club building be lent for the occasion.

The Athletic Club Committee reported as follows:

Gentlemen,—We, your Athletic Club Committee beg to report that we have gone thoroughly over the Athletic Club Building and find that it will require an expenditure of approximately $1450 to put same in anything like shape. This amount being made up as follows:

$200 to repair the foundation.

$600 to shingle the sides up as far as the rustic.

We therefore recommend that this work be proceeded with and that applications be called for a janitor for the building.

Respectfully submitted.
E. W. HARDING,
A. FORRESTER.
JOHN SHARP
Athletic Club Committee.

On motion of Ald. Coburn, seconded by Ald. Morton, the report was laid on the table for one week.

Applications, which must be received not later than Saturday, Dec. 15th., are invited for the position of Secretary to the Nanaimo Retail Merchants' Association. Apply by letter, stating fullest particulars as to qualifications, etc., to Box 845. Nanaimo, B. C. 39-3t

Board of Trade tonight, 8 o'clock.

BIJOU THEATRE

Theda Bara the incomparable is at the Bijou today in one of her very latest successes, "Her Greatest Love." It is strong in both plot and sentiment and calls for the star's very best.

With this is shown an extremely funny two-reel Fox Comedy, "His Merry Mix-up." The Fox comedies are now firmly established in Nanaimo favor, and this is one of the best yet.

HEALTH OFFICER MADE REPORT

Sitting last night as a Board of Health, the Council was in receipt of a communication from City Health Officer Drysdale, stating, during the month of November there had been no quarantinable or infectious cases in the city. Dr. Drysdale also appeared before the Board in person, and gave a verbal report of the recent convention in Vancouver of the Health Officers of the Province, which he stated was not so successful as previous conventions owing to the absence overseas of a large number of the fraternity. A number of interesting papers were read to the convention, three of the number being particularly instructive, one being a paper on Tuberculosis, the second on Infantile Paralysis, and the third on Milk, its production and marketing. Referring to the paper on Tuberculosis, Dr. Drysdale informed the Board he had never heard the subject dealt with in a more lucrid and practical manner. The writer expressed the opinion it would be necessary to build more sanitariums, and he advocated the inauguration of an educational campaign by means of which the public would be warned of the danger lurking in tubercular germs.

As regards the paper on Milk, the Board was informed the writer contended the collection and distribution of milk through depot was the only way of handling milk both from a health and financial standpoint. In conclusion Dr. Drysdale informed the Board that the convention was so instructive and interesting that he was amply repaid for the time he had spent, and he expressed the belief the conventions should be held annually.

Ald. Harding was of the opinion copies of the papers read before the convention should be secured by the Council, and he moved the City Clerk be instructed to write Dr. Young with the request that copies be forwarded, the motion being seconded by Ald. Morton and adopted.

On motion of Ald. Forrester, seconded by Ald. Sharp. Dr. Drysdale was thanked for his services at the convention, and for his report of the proceedings thereof.

MODEL FURNITURE CO. ENLARGES

Business is Prospering Under Mr. Conroy's Management, and the Firm is Taking Over Whole Ground Floor of the Brumpton Block.

The Model Furniture Company is branching out in a style which speaks in most decisive fashion for the increasing business prosperity of the city and the enterprise of the management of the company. The firm has made arrangements to take over the whole of the ground floor of the Brumpton Block. The change will exactly double the present floor space, and this is just what the company needs for its rapidly increasing business.

The Model Furniture Company is the youngest furnishing establishment in the city. It set up here just in time to share with every other business in town a period of trouble and depression. From 1913 on it has been a hard and trying time for the business houses of Nanaimo. There was first of all the local troubles, followed immediately by the convlusion in Europe. To come through at all has called for the exercise of the rarest business qualities; and these qualities the Model Furniture Company found in expecial degree in Mr. Peter Conroy.

Few people would take Mr. Conroy to be over 60 years of age. Yet it is so, but it will be admitted that the young man who can get around any quicker than Mr. Conroy must be very sprightly and then some. It is only his hustling qualities, his assiduous attention to the store, and his keen business management that have pulled the firm through and established it on a sound basis. In particular Mr. Conroy has adhered to the three business principles of no substitutes, free delivery and a guarantee for all goods sold, and no doubt much of his success is due to this policy.

Now he is looking forward to easier, brighter and more prosperous times. A large consignment of new goods is now due, and in a day or so will be on display. With double floor space and bright, well-finished modern premises, the Model Furniture Company will be one of the finest furniture stores on the Island.

JERUSALEM IN BRITISH HANDS

With the Fall of the Holy City Teutonic Dream of an Invasion of Egypt is Shattered—Revolts Against the Bolsheviki in Russia.

London, Dec. 10.—Jerusalem is in the hands of the British after having been for virtually twelve hundred years in control of the Moslems. The Holy City of the Christian religion, capitulated to General Allenby's forces, consisting of British, French and Italian troops, after it had been entirely surrounded, and with its fall is swept away the dream of the Germans and Turks of driving southward through Palestine, capturing the Suez Canal, and invading Egypt.

Since the recent taking of the town of Jaffa on the Mediterranean Sea and the gradual closing in on Jerusalem by the allied forces the fall of the ancient city has daily been anticipated. It was not the lack of strength that prevented its capture, but rather the desire of Gen. Allenby to carry out the plan of enveloping the city and forcing its capitulation as a frontal attack would have endangered numerous sacred places inside the city.

A counter revolt against the Bolsheviki regime in southeastern Russia is apparently gaining momentum. Already the movement is spreading fan-like from chosen bases every day while preparations are hastening to extend it southward into the Caucasus. Meanwhile the Bolsheviki government continue to issue manifestos calling on its followers to resist the attempt made to overthrow it.

From his base in the river Don region, General Kaledines, Hetman of Don Cossacks, is moving toward the borders of Ukraine which already has declared its independence of an hostility of Bolsheviki elements, and at the same time forming a menace to Moscow, where the Bolsheviki is in control. In the center other of the revolutionaries are making their way northward while from Orenburg, near the Siberian frontier, General Dutoff is proceeding in a northeasterly direction with the object of capturing Cheliabiask junction at a point on the Trans-Siberian railway in order to prevent food and other supplies reaching European Russia from Siberia and Pacific ports.

Although it has not definitely aligned itself with the revolutionary movement the new Republic of Siberia has issued an order that promises materially to aid Kaledines' forces. This order forbids the shipment of food supplies into European Russia, that they may reach the Germans.

From the Baltic Sea to the mouth of the Danube an armistice between the Russians and Roumanians and Austro-Germans is still in operation. Agreement for cessation of hostilities between Roumanians and the Teutonic Allies covers the region running from the Dneister river to the mouth of the Danube, according to the Berlin War Office. An official dispatch from Jassy, the Roumanian capital, says the armistice is to continue for three months and that the Teutons have agreed to all proposals made by the Roumanians except that providing that troops shall not be removed to other fronts. This proposal is still under discussion.

HOT-SHOT AND OTHER SHOT BY THE GREAT W. W. B.

Everybody knows what political hot shot is. There was a lot of it flying around on Saturday night. The one and only Billy McInnes is generally credited, and rightly so, with being hot stuff, and his principal ammunition is hot shot.

Still the hottest of hot shot is no more effective than dead shot if it is not aimed aright, and Billy's aim could certainly be improved. Some of the shots he fired on Saturday night were mis-shots, and others again were blown-out shots. Miners will understand the closeness of this simile, and for the uninitiated it may be said that a blown-out shot is one which makes a terrific noise, and dust, and smoke, but does not do anything else.

Mr. McInnes claims that the present Union government is union only in name. The only reason he can have for making this assertion is that he himself is not in it. If only Billy had been in on it, the government would have been oozing over with unionism.

At the same time, Mr. McInnes to the contrary notwithstanding, the Liberals who have joined the Union government, and the Liberals of Dominion reputation who are supporting it, are just as good Liberals as ever this hot-shot artist knew how to be. They have proved their Liberalism, their honesty and political integrity, which is perhaps something that Billy has not yet done.

It is just as absurd to argue, as McInnes did, that this election is one of the same old time fights that Canada has always known. The only men who are fighting as of old are Laurier and his followers of every hue and description, including the genial Billy. It is just plain politics with him. The other Liberal leaders whom he insults and blackguards have subordinated their party principles to the common interests of the nation. Billy is sacrificing the country to take part in an office hunt.

Figure it out. He held a judgeship which was given him, not because of any legal reputation he possessed, but because of his political record. He was a Canadian judge because of the Canadian patronage system, and, it is to be supposed, through the gift of the very men he is now assailing. There are more ways than one of political grafting, but there is only one form of political ingratitude.

But this apart, W. W. B. was drawing down something like $4,000 a year as a servant of the Canadian people. Apparently it was not enough, did not measure up to his own ideas of his worth. It follows then that he has more in sight than a mere seat in the House at Ottawa. Genial and popular as Billy is, no one is fool enough to think that he is out for anybody but himself. His record is there to speak for him.

Many, many years ago, he told the men of Wellington that he was their man. Send me to Victoria, he said, and I will fight Dunsmuir to a finish—Dunsmuir, the coal-baron, who was sucking their blood. Well, they sent him to Victoria, and in a few weeks Billy had taken a seat in the cabinet with Dunsmuir, and joined the coal baron in his blood-sucking.

He is opposed to Union government, he says. He does not believe in it. Is there anything that Billy believes in except always and only William himself? Does any one imagine that Billy could not have talked just as furiously on the side of unionism. He wanted something better than a judgeship, and sizing up the situation he came to the conclusion that Laurier was going to win. If he had decided otherwise he would have been flaying Laurier and Bourassa and the renegades who are betraying the Dominion in the hour of its great trial. Well, Billy's language would, of course, have been stronger than that, but that is how it would have gone.

Of course he is great fun, and as a spouting machine simply unapproachable. Hence the meetings he gets. A good clown does the same thing for a circus. But no one credits him with sincerity or honesty of conviction. If he had been sincere in his convictions, and honest in his political dealings, he would have been one of the biggest men in Canada, with his personality and gifts of oratory. Instead of which he is—well he is just Billy McInnes.

And even Billy never travelled in such company. Just recall how he slashed and hacked at the Elections Act. Why should he be so worked up over this measure? Is it because of his keen and heartfelt sympathy with the enemy aliens who have been disfranchised, the Austrians and Germans who, in spite of the privileges and protection they have enjoyed in Canada are heart and soul with the Fatherland in this fight. Of course, the Germans and Austrians in Vancouver and in the Comox-Alberni district would have been sure votes for Billy, but is that any recommendation for Billy to the Canadians in these ridings?

Billy says in his own inimitable flamboyant style that the issue in this election is between autocracy as represented by Borden and the members of his government, the best of whom until a few months ago were household words in Liberalism, and democracy as represented by Laurier, McInnes, Bourassa, Marcil, and Lavergne. Laurier stands for the common people, and the union government for the big interests.

Who are the common people that Laurier and McInnes stand for? Where are they? Obviously a little mistake has been made in this. It is the Quebec people Laurier is with, and it is the Quebec people that McInnes is with. The common people that Laurier stands for are the people of Quebec who by their lack of Canadian spirit have made compulsory military service necessary.

Does our fiery orator imagine that Quebec will do any better in the future because of his presence in the House at Ottawa. Is it at all likely that in the event of Laurier being returned, Bourassa and the other Nationalists would allow even Billy to proceed with the war. It isn't a bit more likely than thatd graft would cease from the time that Billy landed at Ottawa.

As a good genial fellow at anybody's expense Billy is all right, and as a fast talking machine he is a marvel, but what more is there to it or to him? This is not an election nor a time for verbal fireworks or oratorical mountebanks. They are out of place. The one issue in the election is: Shall Canada keep her pledges with the other nations fighting against the enemy of mankind,

THE LAURIER CANDIDATE

Mr. H. A. Stewart, the Laurier-Liberal candidate for this riding, addressed his second meeting in Nanaimo on Saturday night. In previous references to Mr. Stewart's candidature, we have pointed out that he had failed to give any satisfactory, or sufficient, reason for his entry into the contest. He is by no means a politician, and personally a very estimable gentleman, and as a consequence, it is all the harder to understand his present action and attitude. He says, as his leader and political mentor, Mr. McInnes says, that the Union government is union only in name. By some mental process peculiar to himself he arrives at the conclusion that it is not a Union government because it is not composed of an equal number of Liberals and Conservatives. More than that he sees in its organization the dark hand of Clifford Sifton. Now how the fact that there are more Conservatives than Liberals in the Cabinet prevents it from being a Union government, or in any way affects the principle of unionism, Mr. Stewart does not say. It may be clear enough to him, but how it is only Providence can tell. It is surely puzzling logic. Omitting Laurier, the government represents the union of all the strongest leaders in the two political parties in Canada. Frank Oliver is certainly not of the calibre of his fellow Liberals who have joined the Borden government, and of the others who are supporting the government, though not in it. Mr. Stewart says that Messrs. Carvell and McLean are the only two real Liberals who have joined the government. Even if this were true, the government would still be a union one. But it is not true. Rowell was leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, and nobody can cast any aspersions against the Liberalism of Calder or Sifton And even Fielding, who has been a staunch supporter of Laurier for over a generation, has expressed his approval of the Union government, and is supporting the Liberals who have joined the Cabinet. Not even McInnes can rank as high as Fielding, and no matter what McInnes or Mr. Stewart may say, the government truly represents a union of the leaders of the two parties for the purpose of carrying on the war business of the country.

Mr. Stewart rails about the monied interests and declares that they are behind the Union government. It is a very dangerous assertion to make, especially when, as he does, he contrasts it with Laurier's stand for the common people. Is Mr. Stewart one of the common people? and who are the interests behind Laurier? It is a fair question to ask, which government, a Union government united on the one object of winning the war, or a Laurier government, whose support is drawn principally from those in the Dominion who are opposed to doing more in the war, would be most pleasing to the Kaiser? The question answers itself. Laurier has a solid Quebec, and it is solid against the war. At least it can be said that the interests behind Laurier are not British interests, and they will be further strengthened by interests which are not Canadian.

Mr. Stewart is just as wide of the mark when he says the Conscription Bill is unfair to British Columbia because of the much larger percentage of men this province has sent to the war as compared with some of the eastern provinces. The eastern provinces can be boiled down to Quebec, and how would Mr. Stewart have us make up the difference? There is only one way in which Quebec can be made to do its share, and that is by compulsory service. Does Mr. Stewart imagine that Quebec will do more than it has done if Laurier is returned along with Bourassa, Marcil, Lavergne and the others? Has not Laurier taken the side of Quebec as against the rest of the Dominion, and does not the return of Laurier mean the triumph of Quebec. In quoting the enlistment figures for Quebec Mr. Stewart supplies one of the strongest arguments there is for the enforcement of the Military Service Act.

And there still remains the point as to when, how, and why Mr. Stewart discovered these new convictions. A few days before his nomination he was an avowed supporter of Union government, and a such pledged to support the Military Service Act. The Union government which he now declares to be a Union government only in name has then been constituted, and he was apparently satisfied with its personnel. Nothing has changed either in the constitution of the government, or in the programme which it had then announced. The Military Service Act is still the same and the necessity for its enforcement is as urgent as ever. If we are correctly informed, he was willing to accept nomination as a unionist candidate, and, we are told, even signed a union pledge. What has happened to bring him out as a Laurier candidate? Was his only idea and object to get nominated, and since he failed to get the Unionist nomination we have him out on the Liberal ticket. This is quick work even for these days of political surprises, and it calls for an authoritative statement, as it will most assuredly have a strong effect upon Mr. Stewart's candidature.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Try this! Your hair gets wavy glossy and abundant at once.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lott of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now for a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshen, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use,, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine, and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

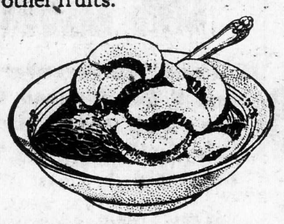
FORMER PREMIER IS DEAD

Belleville, Ont., Dec. 10.—Sir William McKenzie Bowell, ex-premier of Canada, died this morning, following a week's illness.

Johnny Clark Victim of German Gas



Relatives of John T. Clark are in receipt of a letter penned by him somewhere in France. "Johnny" it will be remembered, left as a member of the band with one of the British Columbia battalions, but on arrival in France, he dropped his clarionet for a rifle. And like "Johnny" he is staying with the game, although the strenuous life in the trenches, with all its hardships, is just a little to much for his physique, although it does not daunt his spirits.

So far, he says, he has spent his time about fifty-fifty between the hospital and the firing line. He was again in the hospital at the time he wrote, this time suffering from a dose of gas. However, he says, it was only a slight dose. He could not say, however, how long he would be in. He was up and about, but feeling anything but like a real fighting Canuck.

He has also a little interesting news which he tells in his own modest way. Last time he was in the line, he says, his name was taken, and a recommendation went in for him for the Military Medal.

All his numerous friends in Nanaimo will join in the wish that Johnny's Christmas will be made all the brighter and prouder for him by the possession of this much coveted decoration.

HARD AND SOFT OR ANY KIND OF A CORN

Tells how to loosen a tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pested with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and is said to simply shrivel the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce will cost very little at any drug stores, but is sufficient to rid feet of every hard or soft corn or callous.

The Issue in this Election!

Shall Canada continue to Fight, or shall she slink from the field?

This Election is the most awful crisis in our history:—

Are we going to retain the honor of Canada, or are we to be known to the world as a nation of quitters?

Are we going to retain our place in the world's markets, or are we to lose both foreign credit and trade?

Are we going to place ourselves under the domination of the French Canadians, who, by spurning their duty in this war, made Conscription necessary?

Patriotic Canadians Carry On!

On December 17th these questions will be answered by the voters of Canada at home and overseas. The brave men and women in France who have sacrificed home comfort and loved ones for our liberty, the men and women at home who believe in Canada, believe in the cause and in the maintenance of Canada's honor, will cast their votes to

Support Union Government

The representative men of the two great political parties came together in Union Government to make Canada's effort in the war most effective in the support of our men at the front with additional forces, and to direct and control the industrial and economic life of Canada to the one end of winning the war. An additional 100,000 reinforcements are urgently needed. Union Government will continue to raise the force quickly and impartially under the provisions of the Military Service Act, 1917. Laurier, Bourassa and Quebec think we have done enough, and are in favor of deserting our men, breaking our pledge, ruining the country's credit with our Allies, and trailing Canada's honor in the mud of world opinion. Quebec, having failed to do her duty, is now trying to bend the rest of Canada to her will.

Wives, Mothers, Daughters and Sisters—You Have a Vote

Every woman may vote who is a British subject, 21 years of age, resident in British Columbia six months, and in the constituency 30 days, who is the mother, wife, widow, daughter, sister or half-sister of any person male or female, living or dead, who is serving, or has served without Canada in any of the Military forces, or within or without Canada in any of the Naval forces of Canada or of Great Britain in the present war, or who has been honorably discharged from such services, and the date of whose enlistment was prior to Sept. 20, 1917.

really making three intakes and three return airways for each mine.

The aims of the Department are:

Firstly: To get larger quantities of air circulating through the mines at safe velocities to prevent the air currents being charged with methane.

Secondly: The installation of electric safety lamps and prohibiting of blasting as much as possible, to minimize the points of ignition.

Thirdly: The treating of dust by watering and rock dusting, and the erection of rock dust barriers at the entrances of the various districts to localize any primary ignition that may take place and stop the propagation of the explosion through the mine, if possible to do so.

"In reference to drilling boreholes in advance of the working faces when the advance work is started again in No. 1 East Mine, drilling operation will be started, the mine workings in the bump area have not been working since the bumps of November 7 and 8, 1916.

"To further safeguard operations in the Coal Creek Mines, it has been deemed necessary to set a standard withdrawal point. The British Columbia Act at the present time does not state the percentage of gas to be in the air when a place is deemed unsafe, but left it to the judgment of the official making the examination. After consideration the Department of Mines deemed it advisable to adopt the standard of the British Coal Mines Act and suggested to the management the adoption of this in the Crow's Nest Pass Mines, the management readily agreed to this, and have adopted this withdrawal point which reads as follows:

"'For the purpose of this section a place shall be deemed to be dangerous if the percentage of inflammable gas in the general body of air in that place is found to be two and half or upwards.'

"The management of these mines have also ordered two Burrell Gas Detectors so that the overman of the mine can detect lower percentages than what can be detected with the Wolf Safety Lamp, meanwhile, from tests made by the Wolf Safety Lamp at the same time as the Burrell Gas Detector was used and also analysis made of the gas, it has been determined that two and a half per cent. of gas represents about a quarter inch gas cap on the Wolf Safety Lamp. Orders have been issued to the effect that when a quarter-inch gas cap is visible on the Wolf Safety Lamp throughout the general body of the air in the place the workmen shall be withdrawn.

"It has also been deemed advisable to allow an interval of four hours between the end of one shift and the commencement of another, and instructions have been given to that effect, a series of inspection tests made by the Mine Inspectors between the hours of 7 a.m. in the morning and 11 p.m. at night showed conditions to be much worse at the end of the afternoon shift than they were at any other time during the day. Hence the necessity of an interval between shifts to allow the mine to clear off from the effects of the previous shift."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

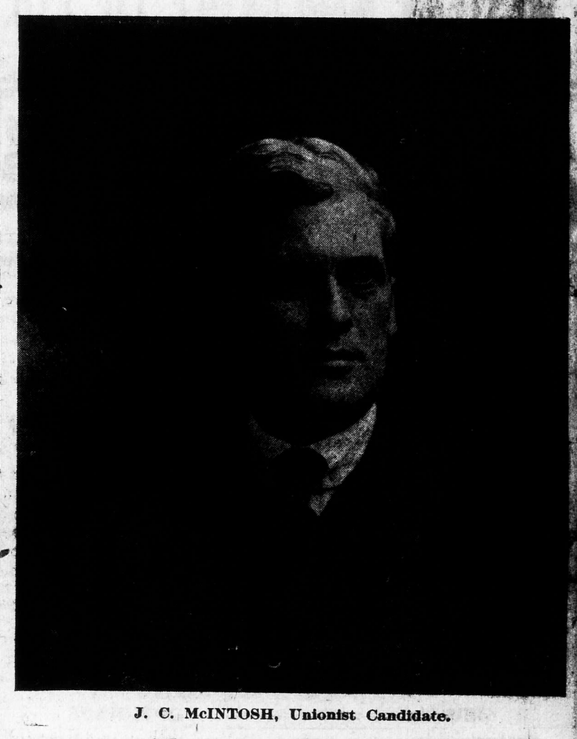
BEST FAMILY PATENT
ROYAL STANDARD

With the experienced housewife it's not merely a question of getting any sort of flour for her BAKING. When she phones her grocer you'll never find her saying: "Send me a sack of flour, please!" That doesn't cover her needs. With a multiplicity of flours to choose from, she avoids error and all sorts of baking troubles by saying clearly and emphatically—

"A SACK OF FLOUR, AND MAKE IT

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

PLEASE!"



If you've been a trifle careless about ordering flour, and don't happen to think of the name—ROYAL STANDARD—at the time you're doing your ordering, all you've got to do is suggest to the grocer that you want the "Circle V" Flour—the well-known "Money-back" Flour. He'll know at once you mean "Royal Standard"—the flour that gives you the highest food value, and the big, finely-textured, pure wholesome loaves. The grocer 'll know.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an "Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.

The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

There are some things you can buy by the makers name alone, and a Good Piano is one of them.

All Pianos look much alike on the outside—many bear similar names—but unless you are craftsman enough to judge the merit and structural refinement of a Piano, unless your ear is trained to detect the beauties and shades of its tone, there is but one safe and sound basis for preference—the INTENTION, ABILITY, and REPUTATION of the maker.

No better Piano can be made than

REGULAR MEETING BOARD OF TRADE

Committee Is Appointed to Act With Representatives of the City Council in Regard to the Conservation of Food.

The Nanaimo Board of Trade at its regular monthly meeting last night appointed Messrs. Geo. S. Pearson and Geo. A. Beattie to act with a committee of the City Council as a local committee for the conservation of food, with particular attention to increasing the consumption of fish.

A communication was received from the Victoria Board of Trade stating at the quarterly general meeting of that Board a resolution was adopted calling forth the repeal of the Half Holiday Act and asking the local Board to support its action.

A lengthy discussion followed the reading of the communication, it being pointed out the Half Holiday was quite satisfactory in Nanaimo and on motion of Mr. Knarston, seconded by Mr. Freeman, the appended resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Resolved that this, the Nanaimo Board of Trade go on record as not in favor of the repeal of the Half Holiday Act, but is in favor of amending said Act so that in the week when a general holiday occurs, the half holiday be not observed, and also that the scope of the Act be extended to include stationery and other stores not at present included in the scope of the Act.

On behalf of the Trade and Commerce Committee Mr. Dakin reported the committee had had an interview with Post Office Inspector Fletcher on matters pertaining to the collection and distribution of mail and the service rendered the public by the post office staff, and that Mr. Fletcher gave the assurance the representations made by the Board of Trade would be given every attention upon the receipt of a written statement from the Board setting forth its complaints.

The meeting declined to accede to the request of the Vancouver Board of Trade that the meeting place of the proposed conference on Pilotage matters be transferred from Nanaimo to Vancouver, and the secretary was instructed to communicate with the Vancouver Board of Trade informing that organization the Nanaimo Board considered this city the most central, and advantageous point at which to hold the conference and that the original resolution that the conference be held here be carried out.

Mr. L. H. Kidd, C. A., of Messrs. Bawden Kidd & Co., chartered accountants, is up from Victoria for a few days in the interests of the firm.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' AID ELECTED OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of St. Paul's Church Ladies' Aid, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mr. Samuel McCourt of Vancouver, returned home yesterday after a week-end visit to friends in Nanaimo.

MAKING APPEAL TO NANAIMOITES

Clothing and Bedding in Large Quantities Are Needed for Those Made Homeless by Explosion at Halifax.

The Red Cross Club and Daughters of the Empire are making an appeal to every resident of Nanaimo in behalf of the destitute and needy of Halifax made such by reason of the recent disastrous explosion.

The two local organizations have opened headquarters in the premises lately occupied by the Victory Loan Committee next Mr. Thorneycroft's Jewelry store, which will be opened all day Friday and Saturday to receive donations of clothing and bedding. Every donation, however small, will be most welcome, but it is desired that whatever is given be in good condition is it would be inadvisable to send worn out or discarded clothing or bedding to the residents of Halifax who are in the midst of most severe winter weather.

Anyone having parcels too large to carry to the rooms will confer a favor by telephoning 347 or 332 when a messenger will be despatched for the same.

MOSCOW SCENE OF FIGHTING

Force of Bolsheviki Troops Defeated Near Shlobin by "Battalion of Death"—Cossacks Prepare to fight.

London, Dec. 11.—The Cossacks are preparing to fight, the Petrograd correspondent of The London Daily Mail reports. Three trainloads of Cossacks are said to be at Bielord, and three at Sumy, commanded by General Korniloff. Extremist Red Guards to the number of about 1000 are expected at Kharkov from Moscow.

The correspondent says General Kaledines, the Cossack leader, is disbanding infantry regiments in the Don territory and sending them home on account of their extremist opinions.

Petrograd, via London, Dec. 11.—A "battalion of death" which left Staffka is reported to have defeated a force of Bolsheviki troops near the town of Shlobin, in Mohilev.

London, Dec. 11.—Meagre reports from Russia indicate that the Bolsheviki are meeting with difficulty in maintaining control of Moscow. The situation there is reported grave with the Bolsheviki garrison refusing to obey its commander, who has ordered machine guns placed in the streets in anticipation of an uprising.

London, Dec. 11.—Street fighting has occurred in Moscow and the Swedish consul there has advised all Swedes to leave the city, according to advices received in Haparanda and forwarded by the Stackholm correspondent of The London Morning Post. It is added that starvation seems to threaten Moscow. Most of the Swedes there are said to have taken the consul's advice.

London, Dec. 11.—The situation at Moscow is reported to be grave, according to a dispatch to The London Times from Petrograd. The Bolsheviki, according to Petrograd newspapers, have placed machine guns in the streets, fearing an uprising of hostile parties. The garrison, however, shows signs of insubordination and is reported to be disobeying the Bolsheviki commander, a private soldier named Muranoff.

COSSACKS ARE IN CONTROL

General Kaledines Issues Proclamation Declaring the Cossack Government Has Taken Over Power in the Donetz Region of Southern Russia.

Stockholm, Dec. 11.—A proclamation of General Kaledines, Cossack leader, declaring that the Cossack Government has taken over power in the Donetz region of the southern Russia is published in a newspaper of Kharkov, a copy of which reached Stockholm having escaped the Bolshevik censorship. General Kaledines declares that the Cossacks have means of maintaining order and intend to use their whole power to oppose the Bolsheviki. The newspaper publishes sharply worded protests against the Bolsheviki from seven different army corps. Turkestan is reported to be mobilizing all men between the ages of 16 and 45 who will be sent to Tashkent, capital of that Government to fight the Bolsheviki who now control that city.

AFTER RECRUITS IN NANAIMO

Lieut. Phillips of the Royal Flying Corps is over from Vancouver on business in connection with the securing of recruits for the aerial branch of the service.

Lieut. Phillips visited Nanaimo two months ago at which time he appointed a local committee consisting of Senator Planta, Mr. J. M. Rudd and Mr. E. H. Bird to look after recruiting in Nanaimo. The committee has done good work for the R. F. A. and has secured a number of splendid recruits. The Corps is taking on men from 18 to 30 years of age as pilots and Lieut. Phillips will be at the Windsor Hotel or at Senator Planta's office for several days, when he will be pleased to meet any young man who has ambitions to join the most interesting branch of the service.

Mr. John Shaw has received an interesting war souvenir from his son Bert who is doing his bit somewhere in France with the Army Medical Corps. The souvenir consists of an inkwell made from the nose of a shell, in which all the timing marks are all plainly visible. Coming as it does from the very firing line of this great war, and from his son Bert who has done so well in the great adventure, Mr. Shaw may well take pride in the curious momento.

A considerable force, the dispatch adds, is being detached from the western Russian front to be sent against the Cossacks.

Copenhagen, Dec. 11.—As the Bolsheviki government had proofs that Generals Kaledines and Dutoff had been arresting workmen and Soldiers' Councls and tryng to disarm revolutionary garrisons, according to a dispatch received here today from the official Petrograd telegram bureau, the government decided to make an end to the counter-revolutionary movement. It has ordered enough troops to suppress the movement to be transferred from the Caucasus. It is explained that the troops in the Caucasus were chosen so as not to diminish the forces on the eastern front.

AN ELECTION IN BRITAIN URGED

London Daily Express Says Lloyd George's Position is Threatened by Growing Strength of His Enemies.

New York, Dec. 11—An Associated Press cable dispatch from London, dated December 10, received here this morning says:

"The London Daily Express features in its biggest type what it describes as 'Lloyd George's Danger.' It represents the Prime Minister's position as threatened by the growing strength of his enemies in the House of Commons, adding:

"'Parliament is weary and worn out and the last rags of its representative character have dropped away. The war has driven a plowed dyke across the old boundaries and cut through the road, deek, new furrows of public opinion and policy. The pacifists seem to be growing in numbers. Time is wearing away the loyalty of the Liberal Lloyd George gates. It only requires an occasion and an old parliamentary hand to throw down the Government.'

"The Express urges an early appeal to the country. It exhorts the Prime Minister to realize his danger in time and to come forward and lead the masses against the pacifists and inefficients. It expresses confidence that he would be victorious, obtaining a decisive majority and a long period of unquestioned power.

"In this connection it is worthy to note that the Tory Post and the radical Daily News made vehement attacks on Mr. Lloyd George last week on the occasion of his anniversary as Prime Minister declaring he had lost the confidence of the people."

CPL. RICHARDS WAS WELCOMED LAST NIGHT

A reception was tendered Corporal Tom Richards at the Somerset Hotel last night by Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Carr, and a large number of his old friends in Wellington. Richards left Victoria in March, 1916, with the 67th Western Scottish Battalion, and was sent over to France in the August of that year. He was about a year in the fighting, and in that time took a hand in most of the big pushes.

He first of all made his acquaintance with Fritz in the Ypres salient, and after some stiff experiences there was drafted to the Somme. For two months he took part in the fighting there, and among other engagements helped in the capture of the Regina trench, one of the dashing feats of Canadian arms in this war.

From the Somme his division was drafted to the Arras sector, and he was one of the gallant Canadians who went over the top at Vimy Ridge. He was shot in the arm by a German sniper in the fighting there, and just before the attack on Messines was laid out by a bomb. His strong constitution stood him in good stead, and in spite of his wounds and all he has gone through he looks in good shape today.

His many friends in the Wellington district gave him a royal welcome last night, and Tom must have felt it good to be home again.

WAS VICTIM OF HALIFAX EXPLOSION

Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Wilson of the Reserve Cottages have been officially informed that their son, Carl of the Canadian Naval forces was killed in the Halifax explosion. The young man was but 18 years of age and joined the service three years ago.

Their eldest son, Rupert Wilson, gave up his life for his country at Vimy Ridge.

Former Alaska Governor Dead

Oil City, Pa., Dec. 11.—James Sheakley, the first governor of the territory of Alaska, and former Pennsylvania congressman, died at his home in Greenville, near here, today, aged 90 years. He was appointed governor of Alaska in 1893.

FORCE DOWN PRICE.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Forced sale by German interests were charged with responsibility for the selling of Liberty bonds below par by Secretary McAdoo in an address today before a conference of about 100 representatives of Liberty Loan Committees from all parts of the country.

GERMAN DEMANDS FROM RUSSIANS

London, Dec. 11.—The Petrograd correspondent of The London Times attributes to a responsible source the statement that during the informal conversations between the Russian and German representatives at Brest-Litovsk regarding the amistice on the Eastern front, the Germans indicated that the following points were likely to be included in any of their peace negotiations:

"Germany to have control of the Russian wheat market for fifteen years.

"All German goods to be admitted into the Russia duty free.

"No territory now occupied by the Germans to be surendered"

The correspondent says the Bolsheviki were disappointed by the reserved attitude of the German negotiators and their lack of sympathy with the Bolsheviki delagates' political idealism. Other causes contributed to their depression, but it it stated they are determined to conclude an armistice at any cost if the latest appeal by the Russian Commissioners to the Allies fails.

CHURCHILL SOUNDS WARNING NOTE

London, Dec. 11.—Speaking at Bedford on the subject of the Allies war aims, Winston Churchill, minister of munitions, said that the situation was more serious than had been reasonable three months ago to expect. The country and the Allied cause Col. Churchill added were endangered.

"When I say the country is passing through a time of danger Col. Churchill continued, I mean there are people who wish to bring about a premature peace. They are listening to sophistries and dangerous counsel of certain politicians. People who say "restate your war aims really mean to make peace with the victorious Huns.

"The British do not mean to put up anything but legitimate and righteous aims with which we entered the war, and if such a issue as this were seriously raised it could be decided only by whole action. I cannot see that there is the slightest danger in submitting that question to a free decision of whole nation."

SAPPER "SALTY" SHEPHERD GETS MILITARY MEDAL

Mr. Harry Shepherd, Nicol street, has been advised that his son Sapper Walter Shepherd of the Engineers has been awarded the Military Medal. A cousin of Sapper Shepherd, viz. Sergt. J. Hope of Chesterlea St., Eng., son of Mr. Joseph Hope of Nanaimo, has also been awarded the Military Medal for distinguished conduct in action.

ALLOWED TWO APPEALS FROM THE TRIBUNAL FINDINGS

Sitting yesterday as a Judge of Appeal under the Military Service Act Mr. Justice Barker heard twenty appeals against he findings of the local exemption tribunals. In two cases, those of Messrs. Willey and Cassidy, both of whom are farmers, the appeals were allowed, but in the other eighteen instances the findings of the tribunals were upheld.

ENEMY LOSSES HEAVY

London, Dec. 11.—Infantry fighting has stopped momentarily at least on the Italian front from Asiago to the Piave river. The Austro-German captured some terrain, but without improving their tactical positions and at a heavy cost. An apparently local attempt to cross the lower reaches of the Piave has been checked by the Italians.

GOING TO REGINA.

Guelph, Ont., Dec. 11.—Archdeacon Davidson, who for the last 17 years has been rector of St. George's Church here, has tendered his resignation to the Bishop of Niagara, the same to take effect at Easter. He has accepted a call to become rector of St. Paul's church, Regina.

MUST KEEP OUT OF BARS

Montreal, Dec. 11.—Orders have been issued by Major General F. Wilson, general officer commanding, debarring any Canadian officer or soldier in uniform from drinking intoxicating liquor in places of public refreshment in the United States. An order along this line was received from Ottawa today.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ALONG THE ENTIRE WESTERN FRONT

Big Teutonic Offensive Expected Before American Troops Can Take the Field—Counter-Revolution Under Kaledines is Growing in Streng th in Russia.

London, Dec. 12.—Along the entire western front from the north to the Adriatic Sea artillery duels of great magnitude are being fought, which doubtless are the forerunners of the expected great offensive the Teutonic Allies have in view before American troops can reach the battle fronts in great numbers.

On the Yyres and Arras fronts held by the British, on the various sectors eastward from St. Quentin to Alsace, in the hill country bordering the Italian plains, and on points along the Piave river, big guns are everywhere in operation.

On the British front huge numbers of airplanes are continually engaged in battles in the air, or searching out points where troops are being concentrated. The only infantry action taking place on any of the fronts is in the nature of raiding operations.

The Teutons daily continue to reinforce by large numbers their already superior forces on all fronts. In the rush of troops and munitions to the theatre in which the British are operating one German train is reported to have collided with another resulting in a great explosion, in which several hundred soldiers were killed.

Between the Brenta and Piave rivers on the northern front in Italy, artillery fighting is described by the Rome war office as intense, and there is similar activity in the coastal region near the mouth of the Piave, where the Austrians on Monday captured a position in the Caposile region, but later were driven out with heavy losses in killed and men made prisoners.

In Russia the revolutionary movement headed by General Kaledines is growing in strength. Realizing the seriousness of the situation, considerable forces of troops from the Russian front are being rushed from the trenches to give battle to Kaledines' Cossacks.

The situation in Moscow, which is held by the Bolsheviki is said to be serious. Unofficial advices say that street fighting has occurred there, and that the garrison is showing signs of mutiny against the Bolsheviki, who have placed machine guns in the streets to combat the threatened uprising. Starvation is menacing the populace of the city.

BIJOU THEATRE

This popular play-house today will start one of the greatest serials ever screened. It has everything that a serial should have. It was written by Louis Joseph Vance, the distinguished novelist, is produced by the Vitagraph Company, and features Charles Richman and Dorothy Kelly, artists of the highest reputation and standing. It has mystery, thrills, sentiment and romance. It has a punch in every episode and suspense until the end of the last reel. Two full episodes will be shown today. Get started right.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Bab's Diary," the charming Paramount photoplay starring Marguerite Clark, is the first of several of the famous "Sub Deb" stories by Mary Roberts Rinehart, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

It is a comedy-drama of the type best suited to Miss Clark's winsome personality and as the irrepressible "Bab" she has achieved one of the best character portrayals of her career. "Bab's Diary" is to be shown at the Dominion Theatre today and tomorrow.

Nothing better or more thoroughly enjoyable has been shown in this theatre for many moons and dainty little Marguerite Clark has in "Bab" the role of her career.

LEVINSKY IS WINNER

Boston, Dec. 11.—Boxers from among the soldiers of the National Army at Camp Deveas were among those who took part in the patriotic boxing tournament of the New England Amateur Athletic Union here last night.

Battling Levinsky, world's light-heavyweight champion, and now boxing instructor at Camp Deveas, had the better of John Jacobs of Camp Deveas, in a three-round bout.

McAllister of Nanaimo, and George Moore of Hillier's Crossing are due to arrive at Vancouver on Thursday at 9.45 a.m. from overseas.

Drummer Alex. McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McAllister of this city is the youngest soldier to go from the province. He has been in France 2 years and 4 months and is now only 16 years of age.

WILSON TO CONGRESS ABOUT RAILROADS

Washington, Dec. 11.—President Wilson will go to Congress for special legislation to bring about unification of the railroads during the war.

The fact that the President has decided definitely upon such a move became known last night after he had gone over the whole transportation situation with Senator Newlands, the chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. He probably will ask for the legislation in an address he will deliver before the Christmas holidays.

A meeting of the members of the Bastion Chapter I.O.D.E., who have sons at the front, will be held at the headquarters on Thursday at 3 p.m.

The Sunday School Board of the Wallace St. Methodist church have decided to hold their annual xmas entertainment on Wed. Dec. 26th.

A COMPARISON

We do not profess to be able to explain the political psychology of our contemporary. We were just as much surprised as all the others who have been actively identified with the Win-the-War Movement at its sudden transformation from belligerent unionism to a form of benevolent neutrality. The change seems to have taken place over the week-end. In its Saturday issue it was, if anything, a little more militant and aggressive on the side of unionism than ever it had been. In its issue of Monday a three column editorial leaves the reader just about where he was when he began, so nicely are the scales of comparison balanced throughout. Mr. McIntosh, the Unionist candidate, may have a featherweight the best of it, but as Mr. McInnes would say there is good argument on both sides. The extra featherweight on the side of McIntosh is no stronger than appearance, and even then is conditionally expressed. The final reading of the scales is that McIntosh "would seem" to be entitled to the verdict.

As we have said this air and pose of benevolent neutrality is distinctly surprising after the snap and vim the Free Press has hitherto displayed in the campaign, and there are one or two points which should be corrected. In the first place by a merely technical error Mr. McInnes is credited with being in favor of sending reinforcements to the front. It is just as well, when Mr. McInnes is in the case, that Mr. McIntosh should have the credit of this point. Mr. McInnes takes the view that there is no need for conscription, that there are enough soldiers in England for all present needs. Both candidates alike take the view that a referendum would be unnecessary. But in the case of Mr. McIntosh, his view is that reinforcements are needed now; that any further delay would be an injustice to the boys at the front; and that in any case the issue in the election is conscription versus anti-conscription, and that there will be absolutely no need for a referendum. Mr. McInnes agrees with this last conclusion, but in the meantime denies the necessity of conscription. In other words he is seeking to get away from the issue as easily as possible, and also at the same time to shelve it for good and all. For other definitions and logical consequences of his attitude listen to Bourassa and the rest of the Nationalist gang in Quebec.

The Free Press also joined issue with Mr. McIntosh in regard to the Flavelle incident. Why it should have joined issue with Mr. McIntosh on this incident except for the purpose of evening up the scales of its comparison, Heaven alone knows. As a matter of fact Mr. McIntosh has never mentioned the Flavelle incident specifically in any of his speeches at this end of the riding. Certainly he never referred to it in his speech at the Opera House. What he did say was that so far as he was concerned any man who made use of the conditions created by the war, and the war needs of the country, to exact exorbitant profits, should go behind the bars. The Free Press joins issue with him on a point he has never taken up, and very naturally has all the best of it.

Merely as an aside, there is more in this Flavelle incident than a text for the flaying of the Borden government. After five minutes of Billy McInnes, one can only wonder that, with such a bunch of bunglers and boodlers, grafters and robbers as the Borden government was composed of, the business of Canada should still be going on. If the members of the government had been all that McInnes has painted them, the Dominion would have been in a worse condition than Russia long ago. Sir Joseph Flavelle has been convicted as a profiteer, and his victims are the people of the United Kingdom. Now every once in a while critics of the late Borden government refer to the example of the United Kingdom and what Lloyd George has done and is doing there. Well, the government of which Lloyd George is the head, appointed Flavelle to the chairmanship of the Munitions Board and it was largely as a result of this position that he was able to make the huge profits he did. It was on the export business of his company to the United Kingdom that he made his great turnover, from which resulted his conscienceless profits, and still he holds down the position. So far as the Borden government can go, it has exposed Flavelle and his methods, but apparently the British authorities are slow to move. It is up to the Union government to insist on his removal, and we believe it will do so, but in the meantime is it not clear that the Borden government has done better by the British people than even the British government.

From this point it is an easy step to our contemporary's third plank in its policy of benevolent neutrality. This is that the Union government has had as yet no opportunity of doing anything either right or wrong. This savors rather more of wilful blindness than of neutrality, especially following, as it does, the references to profiteering and the Flavelle incident. The Union government is conducting the business of the country, and it has already tackled this very question of profiteering. It has gone further than the British government, and in many respects further than the United States government has gone, in its treatment of war profits. By the Order-in-Council published the other day, it can be safely said that further profiteering is impossible in Canada. As a result of this new legislation, the manufacturer who makes more than a reasonable profit is simply working for the government. In effect the legislation is drastic conscription of profits, and surely the Union government should have the credit of it.

For the rest, let us say without any beating around the bush, that Mr. McIntosh is the only candidate in this contest entitled to the support of all those voters who wish Canada to go through with this war. There is no other issue than that of going on or of quitting. Mr. McIntosh is for going on; the others are for quitting. There can be no mistake as to this and every voter will govern himself or herself accordingly.

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

JEPSON BROS.

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an "Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.

The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared, and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.
UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum ?

REFUSED TO MEET LAURIER.

Winnipeg, Dec. 11.—F. W. Law, secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, when invited to meet Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the reception in Fort Garry Hotel, said that in view of the attitude taken toward sending help to the men at the front by Sir Wilfrid, he (Law) must respectfully decline.

Owing to sickness, the public and high school in Grand Forks will be closed for two weeks.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

BORDEN'S MONTREAL MEETING CANCELLED

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 11.—Sir Robert Borden's Montreal meeting on Dec. 12 has been cancelled. It was impossible to secure a suitable hall for the meeting, the owners fearing destruction of their property. Sir Robert's Montreal supporters desired the meeting cancelled, as they were unable to provide sufficient protection against disorder.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

VOLUME XVII. NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, DEC. 13, 1917. NUMBER [illegible]

ENEMY'S HUGE ATTEMPT FAILED

Huge Waves of Bavarians Were Thrown Against the British Line in an Attempt To Break Through—British Troops Held.

London, Dec. 12.—The Germans, following their heavy artillery preparations of recent days have attempted to drive a wedge into the British line west of Cambrai, but although they used numerically superior forces their effort brought them only minor gains.

The attack launched between Bullecourt and Queant was similar to that adopted by Crown Prince Rupprecht's troops when they pierced General Byng's front southwest of Cambrai nearly two weeks ago and caused the retirement of the British on the salient General Byng previously had driven toward Cambrai. A like purpose doubtless was involved in the latest offensive and for its execution huge waves of Bavarians were thrown upon the sector in an endeavor to overpower the defenders. The British, however, held tenaciously to their ground except at one point, where the enemy penetrated a front line position. As in their previous attempt to wreck the Cambrai salient, the Germans lost heavily in the enterprise, the British mowed them down with machine gun fire and rifle fire in fighting lasting from dawn until one o'clock in the afternoon.

The spot chosen for the attack was similar from a strategic standpoint to that near Gonnelieu where the offensive of a fortnight ago, began and had it succeeded another retirement by the British on the Cambrai sector probably would have been necessary.

Notwithstanding their failure, the Germans are keeping up an intensive bombardment of the British and French lines all along the western front and are daily receiving additional reinforcements in men and guns from the eastern front.

Snow is falling heavily in the mountains along the northern Italian front and optimism prevails among the Italians that this will aid them definitely in holding the Austro-Germans back from the Italian plain. Amid the first flurries of the storm on Tuesday the enemy renewed his attack among the hills and was rewarded by the capture of several positions. Later, however, the Italians in a counter attack regained their lost terrain after which artillery duels were resumed but with less strength than previously had been shown.

Cossacks under General Kaledines and Bolsheviki forces are reported to have met in at least two fights with counter revolutionists the victors in both. The engagements occurred at Mosilev and at Tamananovka and the Bolsheviki losses are declared to have been heavy.

General Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine, has entered Jerusalem and taken over control of the Holy City.

SHIPPING LOSS INCREASED.

London, Dec. 12.—A slight increase in the losses of merchantmen by mine or submarine in the past week is noted in an admiralty statement tonight. Fourteen vessels of more than 1,600 tons were sunk, as well as seven under.

FELT OUT THE FRENCH LINE

Paris, Dec. 12.—German parties felt out the French lines at points northwest of Rheims last night, according to an official statement issued here this afternoon. No activity of importance elsewhere is reported, although there was artillery fighting of some liveliness in the Verdun region, where also a raid was attempted by enemy troops.

The text of the report follows:

"Northwest of Rheims several enemy attempts upon our small posts were repulsed by our fire. There was somewhat lively artillery activity on both banks of the Meuse River. North of Hill 344 an enemy raiding party was driven off.

AUSTRIANS ON WESTERN FRONT

Advices From Berne State Austrian Troops Will Take Part on a Big Scale in Operations Against France.

Paris, Dec. 12.—"It is common talk in Vienna and throughout Austria," says a letter from Berne, "that Austrian troops will take part on a big scale in the operations that the Germans are preparing against France in order to obtain a definite result in the West before the American army is ready to prevent the realization of such an enterprise."

The letter comes from a trustworthy Swiss in Berne who has passed two years in Austria, and it is published in The Matin. The writer adds:

"I myself met in a Prague hotel Austrian non-commissioned officers who told me that they were going to the French front. Without specifying their purposes, they continued: 'Our officers had warned us that as soon as our offensive against Italy was stopped we should be transported to France to give the Germans the same assistance as they had given us against Italy."

In an earlier part of the letter, the Swiss remarks:

"Austrians of all classes say that there must be peace in the spring because it would be impossible to bear the war burden any longer."

"This is owing to the food shortage, the lack of men and labor and infernal political troubles."

Other dispatches received here from neutral sources indicate the same probability that Germany, faced by political troubles, is going to make a supreme effort in the near future, a last desperate attempt to gain victory before the Americans turn the balance against them.

GOES TO CUBS.

The Chicago Cubs will have the services of Alexander and Bill Killifer next season. A deal was consummated yesterday whereby the star battery of the Phillies becomes the property of the Chicago Cubs. Chicago will pay over $50,000 and give a Cub battery in return for the service of these two stars.

MASQUERADE ON MONDAY.

A Masquerade Ball will be held in Richard's Hall, South Wellington, Dec. 17th (Election night). Prizes will be given for:

Best dressed lady or gent in Masquerade costume.
Best comic, lady or gent.
Best sustained character.
Best comic group of not less than three.

VALUE OF FUTURITY STAKE WILL BE THIRTY THOUSAND

New York, Dec. 12.—The Futurity, long a classic of the American turf, will be worth $30,000 next year, according to action taken at a meeting of the Westchester Racing Association here. It paid only slightly more than $15,000 to Papp, winner of the 1917 race.

GENERAL ALLENBY ENTERS JERUSALEM

British Commander Was Well Received by the Population of Palestine's Capital—Holy Places Under Guard.

London, Dec. 12.—Mr. Lloyd George announced in the Commons today that General Allenby, the British commander in Palestine, entered Jerusalem on foot on Tuesday.

Guards have been placed around the holy places, the Prime Minister said. The Mosque of Omar has been placed under Mohammed control.

The Prime Minister said General Allenby's proclamation insured maintenance and protection of all sacred buildings and holy places.

General Allenby was well received by the population.

American and other military attaches entered Jerusalem with General Allenby, the general reported today.

A dispatch from London Tuesday night said the British authorities had prepared a proclamation to the people of Jerusalem which was sent to General Allenby to be issued on his formal entrance into the city on Tuesday. It was a shorter message than the famous one "to the people of Bagdad," when that city was taken, but it was in the same vein and was prepared by the same hand.

The arrangements made at Jerusalem provided that the sheiks of the Mosque of Omar, the patriarch of the Latin Church and the patriarch of the Eastern Church were to form local committees to welcome the British commander and receive the proclamation.

The dispatch said the British as wardens of the Holy City, would do impartial justice to Christians, Moslems and Jews, confirming the Moslems in their office as doorkeepers of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, which office they have held uninterrupted since the days of Caliph Omar, except for the time of the Crusaders.

A special service in recognition of the fall of Jerusalem was held yesterday by a Jewish battalion which is in training in West England.

Turkish Statement.

London, Dec. 12.—The following statement issued by the Turkish War Office on Monday has been received here:

"During the fight west of Jerusalem the enemy succeeded in pushing his attack as far as the outskirts of the city and our troops west and south of Jerusalem were transferred to the east of the city."

RETURNED FROM FIRING LINE

From the battlefiiels of France and Flanders forty more British Columbians returned to Vancouver yesterday afternoon by the C. P. R. No. 1 train. The majority of the boys walked about with the aid of sticks and crutches but despite this handicap they seemed quite free and plainly happy. Their wounds clearly showed that they had been over the top and through the barbed wire, had crawled into and out of shell holes and this for many months.

Among the number were Pte. John McGill and Pte. J. Vipond of Nanaimo, and Pte. J. Burgers of Qualicum Beach.

Pte. John McGill, who went across with the 72nd Battalion, brings back with him a shattered and paralyzed arm, the result of shrapnel wounds received at Vimy.

"They are all for conscription," was the summing up of Pte. J. Burgess, who enlisted with the 2nd C. M. R., and who got his "blighty" in the foot at Vimy.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of John Murray, loving son of John and Jane Murray. Died at South Five Acres on December 13, 1916, aged 14½ years.

Away from all pain and woe,
That he did suffer here,
Away to be with Jesus now,
Far in another sphere.
Oh! it was hard to part with him,
Never to see him more.
Until the resurrection dawns
On yonder golden shore,
Yet again we hope to meet him,
When Death's gloomy night has fled.
There in Heaven we hope to meet him,
Where no bitter tears are shed.

DEATH OF MRS. THOMAS BELL YESTERDAY MORNING

The death occurred yesterday morning at the advanced age of 76 years, of Mrs. Ann Bell, wife of Mr. Thomas Bell of Haliburton St. The deceased lady who was born at Whitehaven, Cumberland, Eng., had resided here for the past ten years and was very widely respected by a large circle of friends in the city.

She is survived by her husband, four sons, Thomas in England, and William, George and Albert of this city, and three daughters, all resident here, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Ridley, and Mrs. Adderson.

The funeral, arrangements for which are in the hands of Mr. D. J. Jenkins, will take place from the family residence on Haliburton street on Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, the Rev. J. S. Green officiating.

J. C. WATTERS

TO INQUIRE INTO BRITISH REVERSE

London, Dec. 12.—There will be a thorough investigation of the recent operations on the Cambrai front in which the Germans broke through in the southern sector, Major-General F. B. Maurice, Chief Director of Military Operations at the War Office, stated today. The truth regarding the incident will be told in due course he promised.

The London Times this morning printed conspicuously an editorial demanding such an inquiry. Owing, it said, to disquieting first-hand amplifications of censored accounts, these were said to include charges of blundering and assertions that the British were caught unready.

AUSTRIAN WARSHIP IS TORPEDOED

London, Dec. 12.—The Austrian battleship Wien was torpedoed and sunk on Sunday night according to a Vienna official statement received in Amsterdam and forwarded by the Central News. Most of the crew was saved.

The battleship Wien displaced 5,512 tons, having been completed in 1895. She had a complement of 441 men. Her largest guns were four 9.4-inch and six 5.9-inch pieces and she had four torpedo tubes above the water.

RELIEF SHIP REACHED HALIFAX

Halifax, Dec. 12.—Flying the Stars and Stripes, the Union Jack and Red Cross flags, the United States shipping Board recruiting service relief ship Calvin Austin, from Boston docked this morning. The ship was greeted with cheers as it came up the harbor and its load of supplies amounting to some 1,000 tons was speedily unpacked. The boat left Boston shortly before 4 o'clock and experienced one of the roughest trips in its history. Monday she had to put into Yarmouth on account of the terrible storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Isherwood, Milton street, are in receipt of a letter from their son Pte. John Isherwood stating he has fully recovered from his wounds and is back in the trenches. ATTACK RESUMED ON ITALIANS Few Positions Abandoned to Teutons in Early Stages of Fighting Were Recaptured by Italian Forces.

Rome, Dec. 12.—The enemy has resumed the attack. Today's official statement says that the Italians resisted stubobrnly yesterday throughout the day and night and a few positions which were abandoned in the beginning of the fighting were reoccupied in nearly all cases. In the evening the enemy's effort was reduced to the normal artillery fire.

With the French Armies in Italy, Dec. 11.—Via Rome and London, Dec. 12.—(By the Associated Press). —Snow which had been eagerly awaited and long delayed, began to fall this morning in the mountain districts, where the Austro-Germans are striving to break through. The beginning of the snowfall adds to the optimism of those who have been confident that the drive would be checked within the present limits.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Dec. 11, via Rome and London, Dec. 12.—(By the Associated Press.) —The first American shot against Austria was fired when Representative Tinkham, of Boston, on the Lower Piave, pulled a string which sent a shell hurtling across the Piave to the Austrian postions at Gonfo. A huge cloud of black smoke marked the place where the shell burst.

The Italian batterymen gathered around the gun and raised a cheer as the American Congressman fired.

Chairman Kaplansky of the Elks Soldiers Kiddies' Christmas Tree Committee is anxious to get the names of the children in Nanaimo whose fathers are at the front, in order that presents may be purchased for them. The committee already has the names of the children whose mothers are beneficiaries of the Patriotic Fund, but there are a number of soldiers' wives in the city who are not receiving an allowance from the Fund and it is the names of the children of these parents which Mr. Kaplansky desires.

ANOTHER DECLARATION OF WAR.

Havana, Dec. 12.—The House of Representatives tonight adopted a resolution declaring a state of war to exist between Austria-Hungary and the Republic of Cuba.

DECLARED WAR UPON AUSTRIA

Panama, Dec. 12.—Panama has declared war on Austria-Hungary. The Government, co-operating with the canal zone authorities, is interning Austrians. The zone has now been cleared of Germans and Austrians, in accordance with President Wilson's recent order.

A meeting of the Unionist Campaign Committee will be held at headquarters tonight at 8 o'clock sharp to make final arrangements for polling day. It is imperative that there should be a full attendance and every member is requested to be present.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS WINNER

New York, Dec. 12.—In the international catch-as-catch-can wrestling tournament here last night "Strangler" Lewis, American, defeated Ivan Linow of Russia. Yussoff Hassane defeated George Mannich, Serbia.

JIM THORPE RETIRES.

New York, Dec. 12.—Jim Thorpe, famour Indian athlete, has retired from sports for all time, according to reports here today. Thorpe, it was said, intends to devote all his time next year to oil lands he holds in Oklahoma.

There are 78 polling stations in the Nanaimo Federal Riding, located as follows: Nanaimo City, 13, Newcastle 7, Cowichan 10, Esquimalt 16, Islands 15 and Saanich 17.

TO LEAVE REMAINING SON.

Ottawa, Dec. 12.—Where, of a family, the sole remaining member is not in the Canadian expeditionary forces, he should be granted exemption, especially when one of the family already has been wounded or killed. This, in brief, is the ruling of Hon. Justice Duff, on the second test case brought before him as central judge, under the Military Service Act.

COUNT CZERIN IS ILL.

Amsterdam, Dec. 12.—The visit of Viscount Czerin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister to Berlin, has been cancelled owing to his sudden illness, according to a dispatch received here from Vienna.

CARGO OF HORSES LOST.

A Gulf Port, Dec. 12.—The American schooner Herward, with a cargo of horses, sprang a leak and sank at sea last Sunday while en route here from Cuba. Her master, who was rescued with the crew, arrived here today.

WANT HUN ON RUSSIAN THRONE

London, Dec. 12.—The Central Powers appear to be willing to evacuate and restore Russian territory on conditions that a new dynasty be established, the new sovereign to be a sympathizer with the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs says a despatch to the Manchester Guardian from Petrograd.

On the other hand the message states the Bolsheviki are carrying on republican agitation in the Russian army.

HALF BILLION POUNDS ASKED

Chancelor of the Exchequer Has Introduced in the Commons a Vote of Credit for Over Half Billion Sterling.

London, Dec. 12.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the Commons today a vote of credit for £550,000,000 making a total of £2,450,000,000.

London, Dec. 12.—Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, Chancelolr of the Exchequer, introducing a vote of credit in the House of Commons today, said he estimated that the present vote would carry the expenditures to the end of March, 1918. He declared that the average daily expenditure in the last 63 days had been £6,794,000, and for the period since the end of the last financial year £6,686,000.

The total excess expenditure over the budget estimate, the Chancellor said, had been £3,500,000, and £10,000,000 was made up of miscellaneous items, including shipping and advances connected with the military progress in France and Palestine.

The belief was expressed by the Chancellor that the advances made to Russia would be recovered sooner or later.

If the war should be in progress when the new fiscal year began, Mr. Bonar Law said, it would be the duty of the Exchequer to devise additional taxation, so as to make certain that when the war ended there would be no possibility of having to impose new taxations.

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF MARRIES AN AMERICAN

Berlin, Saturday, Dec. 8.—(Via London, Dec. 12.)—The marriage here today of Count Christian Gunther von Bernstorff, son of the former ambassador to the United States, to Mrs. Marguerite Vivan Girton Thomason, of Burlington, N. J., is reported by the Berlin newspapers.

GERMAN AIR STRENGTH.

On the French Front in France, Dec. 12.—What are considered approximately exact figures of Germany's air strength, which have reached the correspondent, show that the German army possesses 273 squadrillas, comprising about 2,500 airplanes.

The squadrillas are divided as follows: One hundred of artillery spotters, 80 of scouts, 23 of bombers, 40 of chasers and 30 battle plane squadrillas for the protection of the bombers.

SEATTLE HAS NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

Seattle, Dec. 12.—Charles L. Beckingham today resigned as chief of police, of Seattle, and J. F. Warren, former chief of police, of Spokane, and one-time United States marshal of Nome, Alaska, was named in his stead.

Again the name of Stanley Dollar, son of Capt. Robert Dollar, the well-known shipping man of the Pacific coast, will appear in reports of movements of vessels on this coast. In April of this year the Robert Dollar Steamship Company sold the steamer Stanley Dollar to the Alaska Steamship Company. The sale of the vessel meant the passing of the name Stanley Dollar as the new owners rechristened the vessel Skagway before placing her in the Alaska trade.

MADE ATTACK ON BRITISH LINES

Germans Made Fierce Mass Attack Upon British Positions Ten Miles East of Cambrai — Enemy Losses Heavy.

London, Dec. 12.—A fierce mass attack was made by the Germans today against the Elbow in the bend of the British between Bullecourt and Queant about 10 miles west of Cambrai says, Reuter's Correspondent at British Headquarters in France. Their intention was to overwhelm their opponents by sheer weight of numbers. Owing to the staunchness of the British opposition the attack enabled the Germans to get a footing in only about five hundred yards of the British front line when the attack was arrested.

London, Dec. 12.—German attack, morning east of Bullecourt was repulsed by the British except at one point, according to Field-Marshall Haig's report tonight. The Germans suffered heavy losses, many dead being left behind on their retirement.

SOME CONSCRIPTION.

Under the above heading "Canadian Finance," a trade journal with no politics, has a striking article on the union government's legislation with regard to profiteering. Seeing that so much is being heard on this subject these election days, and that even the union government is coming in for such violent and extreme criticism on this head, "Canadian Finance" may well be quoted. In part it says:

"Less than fifteen cents out of every dollar of its profits for the year ending March last, is all that the Wm. Davies Co. would have been able to retain had the Union Government's regulation of packing houses been then in effect.

"As Hon. N. W. Rowell said lately in addressing an Ontario audience: 'Wealth is going to be made to make greater contributions than wealth has yet made in this war. What the Prime Minister has promised in behalf of his government, his government returned to power will carry out. The recent order limiting profits of the packing industry was but an earnest of the government's sincerity, and the government intends going on in order that the whole nation will be organized for the war. More recently the government has passed an order-in-council conferring upon the Food Controller general powers to control the profits on all foodstuffs, and, in this way, to regulate prices so far as it is possible to do so, in view of world-wide conditions.'

"The effects of further action along lines of price-control and conscriptive taxation of wealth are clearly indicated by what has already been done with regard to the packing industry. There are two limitations of packers' profits—the net result of which is much more stringent than any regulation in effect in the United States or even in Great Britain. In the first place, the profits in any one year must not exceed two per cent of the annual turnover; that is, two per cent of the total sales during any one year. But there is a very important additional limitation. Under terms of the government's recent order-in-council, packers henceforth can make by way of profit only a maximum of 11 per cent on investment. They can retain 7 per cent clear, and one half of earnings between 7 and 15 per cent on the money invested. Above 15 per cent all profits are to be taken for national use—a restriction much more drastic than any adopted even by Great Britain's unprecedented war taxing.

"To recapitulate: The new method of price control and of profits taxation would in the case of the Wm. Davies Co., cut gross profits in two, and in so doing would reduce prices by some $300,000 to the public—though, on sales aggregating something over $40,000,000, the reduction per pound would of course not be great. Then, out of every dollar of remaining profit made by the company (after allowing also for ordinary interest on borrowed money) only a trifle over one-third could be retained by it, the remaining two-thirds being paid over in taxes to the government. Or putting it another way: Out of the profit of $1,400,000 left to the company after payment of interest on borrowed money in the year ending March 31st, 1917, only $190,000 would have come to its own coffers if the regulations now introduced by the Union Government had then been in force. That is, out of every $1.00 of profits made under the former regime, less than 14 cents could now be retained by the company; the remaining 86 cents would either be saved to the public through lower prices, or paid over to the government by taxation. Even our most extreme Socialist friends will surely admit that this is some conscription of wealth."

HAWTHORNTHWAITE AGAIN.

After a silence of many years Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite has again taken the public platform, and he has again announced himself as an extreme Socialist. It was as a Socialist that he represented Nanaimo in the provincial house, but at that time his Socialism was not extreme enough for his immediate followers and the Socialist local here. The comrades of that day practically read Mr. Hawthornthwaite out of the party and their reason for this action was that Mr. Hawthornthwaite was looking more after himself than he was after them. Mr. Hawthornthwaite's socialism had, or so they said, an individual turn which was not permitted by the text books as made in Germany. At all events Mr. Hawthornthwaite got out and has ever since remained out of the fold.

Whether or not he has been taken back officially we cannot say, but at least he has announced himself as an extreme revolutionary Socialist. We doubt, however, that even his extreme expression of his extreme views will secure him recognition from the gang which still carries the Red Flag as the banner of the workers in this part of the province. Mr. Hawthornthwaite is still playing a lone and an independent hand, and he is playing with the same old courage as of old. He is flatfooted in his support of conscription, and of carrying on the war against Germany with the last man and the last dollar available in the Dominion.

Conscription may be merely an incident as he says. In our view it is the one issue in Canada today, and Mr. Hawthornthwaite is the first labor leader of Socialistic profession to take this stand. His reasons are logical and convincing enough. Boiled down they are that if Germany wins the war there would be an end of liberty in Canada, as in other civilised countries in the world. The German people had been debauched by their writers until they had become as beasts, fit to carry out in its entirety the policy of atrocities and frightfulness devised by their leaders. It was this wild beast of a nation which they had to control, said Mr. Hawthornthwaite, and they must use every means to their hands. Conscription was a weapon in their hands which will produce both men and money wherewith to make the world safe for all time against this desperate throw of a gambler in a high place. Seeing that they have heard so much on the other side the workers of Nanaimo will perhaps give some consideration to Mr. Hawthornthwaite's words.

One Meatless Meal Day" is a good food plan for war time, or any time—better make it two meatless meals a day—it would mean health and strength for the nation. But be sure and get the right substitute for meat in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the ideal substitute for meat. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two or three of these little loaves of baked whole wheat make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of only a few cents. Delicious with milk or cream or fruits of any kind.

'NUFF SAID.

Our apologies to the Free Press. After all it is something of a feat for a newspaper to find such a cover in mere verbiage that not even a gnat could find out where it was. There does not seem to have been any errors in the points we raised or no doubt we would have heard of them. Canada and the Free Press now standing where they did, let us consider the incident closed. Strike up the band.

M. L. MASTERS

Odd Fellows' Building, Commercial Street, Nanaimo

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an 'Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.
The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

TEN SONS FROM ONE HOME IN VANCOUVER KILLED IN ACTION

Vancouver Dec. 12—Ten sons from the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Ball, Vancouver, have been killed in action during the war. This fact was revealed in a routine application made to the City Council in regard to a pavement.

Mrs. Ball, a widow with five sons, six years ago married her present husband, a widower with eleven sons. Since the war began sixteen of the combined family enlisted in the various branches of the service, and ten have been killed.

Mrs. Ball, herself was wounded in the Boer War, serving as a nurse.

DOMINION THEATRE

Dainty little Marguerite Clark has never had in her long and very successful career, a role which suited her better than that of Barbare, heroine of the famous Sub-Deb stories which had so many millions of readers when published in the Saturday Evening Post. This picture is called "Bab's Diary" and as interpreted by the famous little actress is a delight.

With this is also presented a rollicking L-Ko comedy in two reels, "Street Cars and Carbunkles," which is one long continuous laugh.

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.
UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

TRY "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS IF SICK OR BILIOUS

Tonight! Clean your bowels and Stop Headache, Colds, sour stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

GERMAN CLAIM IS TOO MUCH ONE SIDED

Berlin, Dec. 12.—Aircraft losses suffered by the Entente in the month of November totalled 22 captive balloons and 205 aeroplanes, the German general staff announced today. The German losses in aerial battles, the statement adds, were 60 aeroplanes and two captive balloons. The text of the statement follows:

"In November the enemy's losses on the German fronts were 22 captive balloons and 205 aeroplanes. 85 of which fell behind our lines. The others were seen to fall in the enemy positions. We lost in battle 60 aeroplanes and two captive balloons."

BEST FAMILY PATENT — ROYAL STANDARD

With the experienced housewife it's not merely a question of getting any sort of flour to do her BAKING. When she phones her grocer you'll never find her saying: "Send me a sack of flour, please!" That doesn't cover her needs. With a multiplicity of flours to choose from, she avoids error and all sorts of baking troubles by saying clearly and emphatically—

"A SACK OF FLOUR, AND MAKE IT

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

PLEASE!"

If you've been a trifle careless about ordering flour, and don't happen to think of the name—ROYAL STANDARD—at the time you're doing your ordering, all you've got to do is suggest to the grocer that you want the "Circle V" Flour—the well-known "Money-back" Flour. He'll know at once you mean "Royal Standard"—the flour that gives you the highest food value, and the big, finely-textured, pure wholesome loaves. The grocer 'll know.

WINDING UP THE CAMPAIGN

Successful Meetings Held This Week in the Interests of Unionist Candidate in Nanaimo Riding—Final Meeting Here Saturday Evening.

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the unionist candidate, is winding up his campaign in the north end of the constituency. Meetings were held in Cedar District and Ladysmith on Wednesday, and yesterday Major Harvey and the Rev. Mr. Dean addressed the electors of Gabriola Island, while Mr. Warnicker, of Victoria, and Messrs. F. S. Cunliffe, and Captain Gilchrist, of Nanaimo, held forth at Northfield. All the meetings were very successful and augured well for the success of the union candidate's campaign. Mr. McIntosh will address his second meeting in Nanaimo on Saturday night, and will have with him on the platform Mr. Wm. Boulton, of Vancouver, and the Rev. George Dean of the Islands. The meeting will be held in the Opera House, and no doubt there will be another large crowd present. Mr. McIntosh will be able to sum up his campaign, and both the other speakers are exceptionally strong platform men. Nanaimo is privileged in having the winding up meeting of the campaign and with such strong speakers to review the issues which have been raised, there should be a run on the seating capacity of the Opera House.

The meeting at Gabriola yesterday was one of the most successful ever held on the Island in any political campaign. Major Harvey and Rev. Mr. Dean both delivered strong addresses and made an effective appeal for the return of the Unionist candidate. The Major, who was given a splendid reception, told his audience of the necessity of sending reinforcements to the boys in the trenches and stated the ears of every Canadian soldier in France were turned to hear the verdict on election day, which verdict would be either inspiring or discouraging as the case might be. Should Canada decide to turn down the Military tired of the war, such a moment, declared the Major, would be the physchological one for the Germans to make a determined attack upon the Canadian soldiers who would be correspondingly downhearted by the action of their compatriots in Canada.

Referring to the charges against profiteers made by Hector A. Stewart, the Laurier Liberal candidate, Major Harvey told his hearers of certain profiteering which was done in the Yukon when Col. Boyle who organized a machine gun section at his own expense gave one Hector A. Stewart $10,000 with which to buy mounts for the Company composed of men over six feet in height who, of necessity required the best horses. Instead of purchasing the best of stock at $200 per head this Hector Stewart stated the Major purchased cayuses at from $35 to $40 per and appropriated the surplus to his own use. In this Hector A. Stewart who was guilty of such action, the same Hector A. Stewart who is the candidate in this constituency?" asked the Major, who left his audience to supply the answer.

Rev. Mr. Dean spoke at length on the imperative need for the return of the Union government if Canada was to continue in the war and referred to the actions of Major Harvey who, though defeated for the nomination by Mr. McIntosh and considerably disappointed by reason of his defeat, was out working to the fullest extent of his ability to secure the election of Mr. McIntosh in the present contest.

Attorney-General Farris announced yesterday that the Provincial Government had declared a legal half-holiday next Monday afternoon. In view of the fact that the election polls will close at 5 o'clock, it was deemed advisable to give every opportunity to voters to cast their ballots.

At last night's meeting, Queen Alexandra Lodge donated $10 to the Halifax Relief Fund.

HOSTILE POST WAS WIPED OUT

Garrison of German Post South of Villers-Ginslain Was Either Killed or Taken Prisoners by British Troops.

London, Dec. 13.—An official report from Gen. Haig in France tonight says:

"A hostile post south of Villers-Guislain was successfully attacked by us this morning and its garrison were killed or taken prisoners. East of Bullecourt bomb fighting has taken place this afternoon in a portion of the trench into which the enemy penetrated yesterday and a few additional prisoners were taken by us. Enemy artillery has shown some activity at different points south of the Scarpe and also northeast of Ypres.

Major J. G. Anderson, M. C., who at one time taught school in Duncan, is now reported killed. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge. His relatives are in Victoria.

Mrs. Holt of South Wellington is in receipt of a letter from her son Pte. Henry Holt who after eighteen months in the trenches has enjoyed his first leave of ten days and is now back in the firing line. Pte. Holt spent part of his leave with a brother and sister at Blackpool, eng., and before returning to France visited his brother John of a London Artillery Regiment who is recovering from wounds received in action.

REPORTS FROM RUSSIA CONFLICT

Result of Battle Near Bielgorod Between Bolsheviki Forces and Troops Under Korniloff Is in Doubt.

London, Dec. 13.—A battle has occurred near Bielgorod, in Southern Russia, between Bolsheviki forces and troops under General Korniloff, but the outcome has not been established, and Petrograd advices are conflicting. The Petrograd correspondent of The London Daily Mail reports that General Korniloff was defeated and wounded and his capture was expected. A dispatch from the Petrograd representative of The London Post, however, denies the reported Bolsheviki victory, saying General Korniloff has routed his opponents and will soon join General Kaledines at Novo Tcherkask.

The correspondent of The Post, who received his information from an unnamed source, sends a detailed description of the battle. He says General Korniloff had about 3,000 men making up what is known as the "Wild Division" of Cavaliers of St. George, "battalions of death" and some artillery. When the Bolsheviki troops were encountered General Korniloff divided his artillery and sent part forward by train. This was soon swallowed up by the Bolsheviki, who promptly trumpeted a great victory. General Korniloff, however, in the meantime manoeuvred his main force near the Bolsheviki and attacked with artillery. Some of the opponents fled and others surrendered or joined the Red Guard section of the Korniloff army. The remaining Bolsheviki were surrounded and dealt with very drastically.

London, Dec. 13.—Fierce fighting still was in progress near Bielgorod on Wednesday, Reuter's Petrograd correspondent reports in a dispatch filed that day. Both sides were losing heavily, it was said.

General Kaledines is besieging Rostov-on-the-Don, according to a wireless message sent from the city by way of Sebastopol. Reuter's correspondent also reports fighting was in progress near Nakhitchevan, in the vicinity of Rostov where a river transport was firing on Cossack cavalry arriving from Novo Tcherkask. The Maximilists also were supported by guns of detachments from the Black Sea fleet.

PERSHING'S TROOPS THANKED BY HAIG

With the American army in France, Dec. 12.—Via London, Dec. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—Field Marshal Haig, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces in France, has expressed to General Pershing in a letter his thanks for the assistance given by American army engineers around Gouzeaucourt on November 30. The field marshal's letter follows:

"General Headquarters, British Armies in France, December 6, 1917.

"My Dear General Pershing:

"I have much pleasure in forwarding herewith for your information, a copy of a report submitted to me by General Byng, commanding the Third British Army, on the gallant conduct of companies of railway engineers of the United States Army in and near Gouzeaucourt on the 30th of November.

"I desire to express to you my thanks and those of the British forces engaged for the prompt and valuable assistance rendered, and I trust that you will be good enough to convey to these gallant men how much we all appreciate their prompt and soldierly readiness to assist in what was for a time a difficult situation.

"I much regret the losses suffered by these companies.

"Yours very truly,

"D. HAIG."

ITALAINS REPEL TEUTONS ATTACKS

Enemy Abandoned His Efforts at Night to Break Italian Lines After Having Sustained Heavy Losses.

Rome, Dec. 13.—Attacks in force were renewed yesterday by the enemy upon the Italian lines east of the Brenta, the War Office announced to-day. The attacks continued the entire afternoon, but because of his heavy losses the enemy at night abandoned his effort.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Dec. 12, via Rome and London, Dec. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—General von Buelow's German troops have joined the Austrians and Bohemians under Field-Marshal Conrad von Hoetzendorf in a series of heavy assaults during the last two days between the Brent and Piave Rivers just north of Monte Grappa. The fighting has been severe and has been attended with large losses, but in the main the Italian line has been sustained with one slight indentation at Monte Spinoncia, where the enemy secured a temporary footing which is still being contested by the Italians.

Artillery preparations early yesterday was followed by infantry rushes with the Austrians on the right and the Germans on the left. The fourth Austrian Division on the right, had a number of Bohemian regiments in the front line. These were fresh from the Russo-Galician front.

A desperate struggle went on around Col. Baretta, where the Austrians were aided by enfilade fire from batteries on the west bank of the Brenta River in positions established when the lines were reformed last week. For some time the Beretta positions were in the hands of the enemy, but a brilliant counter-attack has restored nearly all the Italian positions.

German reserve forces were engaged for the first time since they were used in the big Isonzo drive. The fighting was bloody around Monte Spinoncia and Col. Orso ("Bear Hill") with the enemy gaining a foothold.

The result of the two day's fighting has not advanced tactically the enemy's positions to any great extent.

HELMSMAN OF IMO ARRESTED

Halifax, Dec. 13.—John Johansen, helmsman of the Norwegian steamer Imo, the Belgian relief ship whose collision with the ammunition ship Mont Blanc led to the disaster of last Thursday, was detained as a German spy suspect today and was turned over to the military authorities by the officials of the Massachusetts relief hospital where he has been under treatment.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Bell will take place from the family residence, Haliburton street, this (Friday) afternoon at 2.30, Rev. S. J. Green officiating.

No. 2240 won the drawing at the Nanaimo Pool Room last night.

FOR HALIFAX RELIEF FUND

City Council Has Arranged for Individual Canvass Being Made for Subscriptions in Aid of the Destitute of Halifax.

Following its actions of last Monday evening in deciding to organize a canvass in Nanaimo for funds for the relief of Halifax sufferers, the City Council has appointed sub-committees, one of which has interviewed the management of the local mines, as a result of which a collection is to be taken up among all their employees and it is hoped other employees of labor in the city and district will take similar action.

The Council has also decided to open subscription lists to the general public at the local banks, both paper offices and at the City Hall, the lists to be open Saturday morning and remain open for seven days.

In order to avoid any delay and misunderstanding it is requested that all donations to the Relief Fund be forwarded through the City Comptroller.

BLANKETS AND CLOTHING NEEDED

Daughters of Empire and Red Cross Club, Are Appealing to Nanaimoites Today for Donations to Relieve Suffering in Halifax.

Today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, committees representing the local Red Cross Club and Daughters of the Empire will be on hand at the premises lately occupied by the Victory Loan Committe next to Thorneycroft's Jewelry store to receive contributions of clothing and bedding for those made homeless and destitute by the terrible explosion at Halifax on Thursday of last week.

The explosion and the fire which followed the blowing up of the munitions ship Mont Blanc rendered 25,000 residents of Halifax homeless and it is for the purpose of providing the destitute with clothing and bedding to withstand the rigors of the eastern winter that an appeal is being made all over Canada for supplies. Heavy clothing and blankets are the principal articles asked for and every donation, however small, will be most welcome, but it is desired that whatever is given be in good condition as it would be inadvisable to send worn out or discarded clothing or bedding to the residents of Halifax who are in the midst of most severe winter weather.

Anyone having parcels too large to carry to the rooms will confer a favor by telephoning 700, when a messenger will be dispatched for the same.

MADE PRESENTATION TO DR. INGHAM

The local talent which is preparing to present "The Lass of Limerick" in the near future held a successful rehearsal last evening in the Assembly Hall at the close of which an interesting function took place in the form of a presentation by members of the troupe to their director, Dr. Ingham, the presentation taking the form of an initialed silver mounted baton, together with the following address:

Dear Dr. Ingham:

We, the members of "The Lass of Limerick" Company, take this opportunity of presenting our valued director with this baton as a token of the esteem and appreciation in which we hold you.

May this little gift not only direct to the highest success every musicale you may have, but may every venture throughout your whole life be guided by the same spirit.

Wishing you and yours a very merry Christmas and the best of luck for the coming year.

Signed on behalf of the entire Company.

HAZEL MARTIN
"BETTY" WILCOX.

Dr. Ingham made a reply appropriate to the occasion in which he thanked the members of the troupe for their outward expression of appreciation and stated his pleasure of being the director of such a talented organization.

THIRD ATTEMPT WAS SUCCESSFUL

Enemy Succeeded, After Twice Failing, in Penetrating Obliterated British Trenches in Angle Near Bullecourt.

London, Dec. 13.—Three attacks were made by German troops in yesterday's battle east of Bullecourt, the War Office here reports. The first two were repulsed. At the third attempt enemy troops penetrated the obliterated British trenches at the apex of the angle in the British lines near Bullecourt.

Local fighting continued until late in the evening without changing the situation.

The announcement says:

"Accounts of the fighting yesterday in the vicinity of Bullecourt show that two attacks were made by German troops at dawn after a heavy preparatory bombardment. The first was delivered from the north against our positions in the Hindenburg Line immediately east of Bullecourt, and the other on a wider front from the northeast and east, against the angle formed by our trench lines of Riencourtles-Cagnicourt. Both were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy.

"Shortly afterwards another attack was made on the latter front and parties of the enemy penetrated our obliterated trenches at the apex of the angle in our lines. A few Germans who reached our trenches at other points were killed or taken prisoner. Local fighting continued all day and until late in the evening in a small portion of a trench in which the enemy had obtained a footing, but without change in the situation.

"A hostile raiding party was repulsed last night southeast of La Bassee.

"We inflicted casualties on the enemy and secured a few prisoners as a result of patrol encounters east of Zonnebeke."

French Report.

Paris, Dec. 13.—Active artillery fighting is in progress along the whole front, the War Office announces.

The text of the report follows:

"Along the whole front the artillery on both sides is showing a moderate degree of activity.

"We repulsed a raid in strength undertaken by enemy troops in Caurieres Wood.

"From December 10 to 13 nine more aeroplanes were brought down by our pilots. In the same period our aviators carried out various effective bombing raids, in which projectiles weighing 2,200 pounds were thrown down, especially on the aviation grounds at Kolmar and Schiesmaldt, warehouses at Dogelbach, factories at Rombach, in the region of Waville and at Juniville and Amagne-Lucquy. Good results were observed."

KILLED BY HUN AERIAL BOMBS

With the American Armies in France (By Associated Press), Dec. 13.—A number of American railway engineers have been killed by German aerial bombs in a town somewhere behind the British front. Details are not yet known.

WAKELEM-MEREDITH.

A quite wedding was solemnized at the parsonage of the Wallace St. Methodist Church Wednesday, when Rev. Frank Hardy united in marriage Miss Beatrice Meredith of Northfield and Mr. William Wakelem of this city. A brief honeymoon will be spent visiting the cities of the mainland, after which the young couple will return and reside in Nanaimo.

ALLIED LINES ARE HOLDING AGAINST TEUTON ONSLAUGHTS

Although Heavily Reinforced From the Russian Front German Forces Were Unable to Penetrate British or French Lines on the Western Front—Italian Armies Repel All Attacks Made by Austrians.

London, Dec. 3.—British, French and Italian lines are still holding positions. Snow and mist are hampering operations in this region.

Reports as to the progress of operations between the Bolsheviki and Kaledines forces in Russia are beclouded by reason of variant statements of results. Both sides are credited with victory in different unofficial versions. One report says Kaledines is besieging Rostov-on-Don and that fighting is in progress in the vicinity of that city, where men and guns from the Black sea fleet are aiding the Bolsheviki. Another despatch asserts that General Korniloff has routed the Bolsheviki near Bielgorod, while still another says that Korniloff has been wounded and in danger of capture and that attempts by Kaledines' followers to cut off food supplies to the Bolsheviki in Moscow and Petrograd from Siberia failed.

The German submarine menace is being held but has not yet been mastered, according to the First Lord of the British Admiralty. In a statement the First Lord says the downward trend of mercantile marine losses, the construction of merchant ships and the number of enemy submarines that have been destroyed all are satisfactory. Another high naval authority says the Germans have been attempting a submarine offensive of the greatest possible magnitude but that they have signally failed and had to pay a heavy price in vessels lost at the hands of the American and Entente naval forces.

Aerial bombs dropped by the Germans on a town behind the British front have resulted in the death of a number of American railway engineers. In another town German aviators attempted to bomb a marching American column but all the men escaped unscathed, although the missiles exploded dangerously near them.

SIR WILFRID AND CONSCRIPTION.

Speaking at Regina Sir Wilfrid Laurier described the Union government as "the same old Conservative party with some veneer upon it." The veneer, we suppose, will be composed of the Liberals who, until they joined the Union government, were regarded by himself and the country generally as his strongest supporters and ablest lieutenants. Now even Sir Wilfrid debases them into a veneer, covering up the real nature and qualities of the Union government. Sir Wilfrid is paying a poor compliment to the intelligence of the Canadian electorate, and it is a dirty insult to men of the calibre of Carvell, McLean and Rowell who have worked so loyally with him, and for him, in the past. Sir Wilfrid must indeed be feeling bitterly the turn of events, and he must also be feeling the pressure of the campaign when he indulges in insults of this kind.

He shows even greater weakness when he comes to the issue of conscription. He says that England defeated the greatest colossus of all, Napoleon, with voluntary enlistment. When it comes to that England is today fronting a greater colossus than Napoleon, and England has found that she could not continue the struggle with voluntary enlistment, in spite of the great Kitchener army which she raised. It is more aggravating than anything else for Sir Wilfrid to compare the struggle with Napoleon with the fight for existence in which the world is now engaged with Germany. And in any event England did not carry through the war with Napoleon with voluntary enlistment. It was the British navy more than the British army which defeated Napoleon, and men for the navy were conscripted.

The most striking article we have yet read on this issue appeared in a recent issue of the Victoria Times, the leading Liberal newspaper of the province. We cannot do better than quote it, with the advice that our readers of every political shade of opinion will think it over, seeing that it gives a historical resume of Sir Wilfrid's connection with the Militia Act.

During the session of 1904, it says, while Sir Wilfrid was in power, Parliament revised the Militia Act. One of the purposes of that revision was to remove every uncertainty that existed in the old Act relative to the power of the Canadian Government to dispatch Canadian troops overseas in a war in which the vital interests of Canada were at stake, a sharp controversy having arisen in Quebec on this point during the Boer war. Compulsory service had been prescribed in the statutes since pre-confederation days, in the provision which stated that "all the male inhabitants of Canada, of the age of eighteen years and upwards, and under sixty, not exempt or disqualified by law, and being British subjects, shall be liable to service in the militia;" but the matter of overseas service and Canadian control was not sufficiently clear, so the law was revised by the Laurier Government to read as follows:

"The militia, or any part thereof, or any officer or man thereof, may be called out for any purpose, other than drill or training, at such times and in such manner as are prescribed. The Governor-in-Council may place the militia, or any part thereof, on active service anywhere in Canada, and also beyond Canada, for the defence thereof, at any time when it appears advisable to do so by reason of emergency."

Another section provided that within fifteen days of the placing of the militia on active service Parliament should be called in Session, presumably discuss ways and means in connection with war. The Act also states that if a sufficient number of males do not volunteer to complete the quota required for service they "shall be drafted by ballot."

Thus the Government of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the head not only ratified the law providing for compulsory military service, but made its terms more drastic. Nobody arose in the House in the Session of 1904 and demanded the insertion of a clause calling for a referendum before the powers given the Government by the Laurier Act should be enforced.

Not even Mr. Bourassa suggested provision for a referendum. Indeed, the present Nationalist leader, who then represented Labelle in Parliament, complained that the law of 1855 was objectionable because it limited the authority of the Government of Canada to send Canadian troops overseas. Mr. Bourassa said that under the old law, "not only could not the militia of Canada be sent abroad to defend the Empire, but if the Empire had been at war with Mexico it would have been impossible for the Commander-in-Chief to send troops to defend Canada against an attack from Mexico. Under the working of the new clause there is ample room to send the militia anywhere for the defence of Canada."

Discussing the revision by the Laurier Government, Mr. Bourassa said it would clear up this uncertainty and observed:

"I do not think we should frame a law so narrow that the Canadian Government should not be free to send our militia beyond the borders of Canada for the defense of Canada."

Now, if Sir Wilfrid has always been against compulsory military service on principle as he says, why, when he was in office, did he put through legislation providing for a much more drastic form of compulsory military service than the present Military Service Act prescribes? Why did he not provide for a referendum, in any case? Undoubtedly the Militia Act should have been enforced at the commencement of the war, the reason why it is not enforced now, the Prime Minister says, is that it is too drastic especially in its provisions of the balloting system instead of the selective draft. But, according to his present declarations, Sir Wilfrid would have opposed the enforcement by the late Government of the very legislation which he himself passed to meet the very emergency that had arisen.

JEPSON BROS.

FREE PASSAGE FOR WIVES.

Melbourne, Dec. 13.——The Australian Government is providing free passages for returned soldiers' wives who married in England.

The Russian consul-general at Victoria, repudiating the Bolsheviki, informed Premier Hughes that if a seperate peace were concluded by Russia he would offer his services to Australia in any capacity.

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an "Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.
The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

TO PROTECT FRONTIERS.

The Hague, Dec. 13.—In the second chamber yesterday War Minister De Jonge, in answer to a question, said that in order to protect Dutch frontier towns from damage by air raids the Dutch flag would be flown from church steeples but no effective measure has been found for night time. Foreign governments he added, have not refused to pay compensation for damage done by their airmen.

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech, —wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

HEAD AND NOSTRILS STUFFED FROM COLD

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores.

DOMINION THEATRE

Japanese folk lore and queer, antiquated customs of that country which will throw a light upon many of their mannerism, are to be found in abundance in "The Call of the East" in which Sessue Hayakawa is starring at the Dominion Theatre today and Saturday.

Kwannon, the Japanese Goddess of Mercy plays an important part in shaping the destinies of the hero and heroine, and in and around the old Japanese estate of Takada, there are scenes of wonderful beauty and interest.

Billie West the famous comedian who appears in the two-reel comedy scream "Back Stage" is Chaplin's only rival. It is almost impossible to tell them apart on the screen, as in appearance and style of work they resemble each other so closely. If you have never seen Billie West, go and see him in "Back Stage."

BIJOU THEATRE

Heading the bill at the Bijou for today and tomorrow comes Pearl White, a noted screen artist in one of the Pathe Co.'s beautiful colored photoplays "Mayblossom." These special features are revelations in colored photography.

Accompanying this on the programme is another thrilling instalment of the exciting serial "Patria," featuring Mrs. Vernon Castle.

KRAMER SHOWS SPEED.

New York, Dec. 13.—Frank Kramer, of Newark, N. J., defeated Arthur Spencer of Canada, national bicycling champion, in a mile event at Madison Square Garden last night in two minutes and 56 3-5 seconds. Spencer, who won the title from Kramer last summer after the latter had held it for eighteen years, defeated Al Goulet of Australia, winner of the six-day race last week, in the qualifying heat and Kramer defeated Francisco Verri of Italy.

ALL CHILDREN LOVE "SYRUP OS FIGF" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give it when feverish, cross, bilious, for bad breath or sour stomach.

Look at the tongue, Motner! If coated it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrnoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful hcild again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

FINAL APPEAL TO THE ELECTORS

Unionist Candidate and Other Speakers Will Address Public Meeting in Nanaimo Tonight on the Issues of the Campaign.

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the unionist candidate, will wind up his campaign with a mass meeting in the Opera House here tonight. Mr. McIntosh has now been all over the riding, having spent probably the busiest two weeks in his life in getting round. The Nanaimo constituency is one of the hardest in the province to cover, and the period between nomination day and polling was too short to enable the candidate to reach every point. However, Mr. McIntosh went into the fight full of vim and enthusiasm, and has put all his strength and all his heart into the contest.

He found lots of encouragement in the reception he everywhere received, and he is confident now that he will be returned on the 17th. Nanaimo has not always voted in accordance with the rest of the constituency in former elections. but on this occasion, when national and not political issues are at stake, there is hardly a doubt that with all the other British Columbia cities of British Columbia it will be found behind the union government and voting to help the boys at the front.

Mr. McIntosh had a very sucessful meeting a week ago, and he should have an even better one tonight. The fact that he is holding a second meeting here shows that he recognises its importance and that as its representative he will do his very best to look after its interests. This evening he will have assisting him on the platform Mr. Boulton of Vancouver and the Rev. Mr. Dean from Salt Spring Island. Mr. Boulton was at one time stationed in Nanaimo, and those who have heard him claim that he is one of the best speakers in the province. Since he has been hot on the trail of Mr. McInnes throughout the campaign what he has to say should be more than usually interesting. The Rev. Mr Dean has proved one of the most successful speakers of the campaign, and has carried every audience he has [illegible] this evening.

The meeting starts at 8 o'clock sharp and all those intending to be present would be well advised in getting there early and securing their seat before the rush.

WENT DOWN IN TERRIFIC GALE

At Atlantic Port, Dec. 14. — The foundering at sea of the British steamer Knight of Thistle, was announced in a radio message received tonight from the steamer which reported she would land 84 passengers here tomorrow. It is thought probably that the Knight of Thistle went down during one of the series of terrific gales that swept the north Atlantic during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wakelem returned last evening from their honeymoon trip to the Mainland.

Two Nanaimo soldiers returned home last night from overseas, viz., Drummer "Alex" McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McAllister, and Sapper William Inee of Prideaux St. Both have seen active service at the front.

MISSING HUNTER AT HORNE LAKE

J. J. Clarke of Hilliers Who Was Lost in the Woods Since Monday Found Yesterday by Search Party .

Lost in the dense forest between Little Qualicum and Horne Lake since Sunday last without food during that period was the trying experience of J. J. Clarke, a resident of Hilliers, aged 50 years, who went out hunting deer on Sunday last and losing his bearings, began an aimless wandering which carried him to Horne Lake where he was found yesterday afternoon at 3o'clock by a search party which included two members of the provincial police force.

The lost hunter was found lying under a log. He was in a terribly weak condition and had given up all hope of ever being found or of again reaching civilization by his own efforts. He was carried to Mr. Sloan's cabin at Horne Lake and given stimulants and at the latest report was recovering from his terrible ordeal. If in condition to travel Mr. Clarke will be brought out today.

Come with the crowds to the Oddfellows' Hall tonight. Clark's Orchestra. 1t

Change in Boat Schedule.

Capt. Troup, manager of the C. P. R. steamship service, has notified the Mayor that on Monday next, being Election Day, the Princess Patricia will not leave Nanaimo until 9.30 in the morning, returning from Vancouver on the same afternoon at 2 o'clock instead of at 3 o'clock, as on ordinary days.

BOLSHEVIKI HURRY TOWARD PETROGRAD

Petrograd, Dec. 12, via London, Dec. 14.—Bolsheviki delegates to Constituent Assembly are hastening toward Petrograd from all parts of Russia in response to an appeal from headquarters here. None of the Bolsheviki attended the preliminary meeting, believed they are holding on until control is assured by sheer force of numbers.

The preliminary meeting was attended by about 70 delegates, mostly Social Revolutionists. Mayor Schreider, of Petrograd, who presided, made a speech in which he declared that the Assembly had been opened, but that delegates later compromised by adopting a resolution declaring that the Assembly would have all power after it was legally opened, which, according to their view, would be when a quorum as fixed by the old committee should be present. It was determined to hold sessions daily in the meantime.

NO TEUTONS ABOARD IMO

Halifax, Dec. 14.—There were no Germans or Austrians aboard the Imo when it collided with the Mont Blanc, Alex B. Bjorsen, second officer of the Imo testified at today's session of the Government inquiry into the explosion. So far as he knew the captain and pilot were both on the bridge of the ship until after the collision. He had noticed no change in the Imo's course prior to the collision. Twenty minutes elapsed, he said, before the explosion occurred.

MR. STEWART PLEDGED SUPPORTER OF UNIONISM

At a Win-the-War Meeting at Duncan on October 24, Mr. Stewart, now Laurier Candidate, Pledged Himself to Support Union Government and Immediate Enforcement of Military Service Bill.

Pledged over his own signature to support a national union non-party, win-the-war government, Mr. Hector A. Stewart, present Laurier-Liberal candidate in the federal riding of Nanaimo is now appealing to the electors of this district on the straight party ticket. Despite the fact that he has unequivocally given his word and put down his pledge in writing that he will stand for union, Mr. Stewart is now actively arraigned on the side of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and against the Union Government, the first and chiefest of the platforms of which is the initiation at once of a win-the-war policy.

At not one of his meetings at which he has made his appeal to the electors for support has Mr. Stewart recalled his pledge given on October 24 at the Win-the-War gathering at Duncan. Not once in his attacks against the very government, the organization of which conforms strictly with the principles adopted at that gathering has he attempted to make any excuse for what must have been his deliberate repudiation of the pledge he then subscribed to.

On the circular calling the meeting was set forth the resolution to be presented and at the bottom was left a space for the pledge which all supporters of the win-the-war policy were expected to sign. Mr. Stewart signed his pledge the original of which is in the possession of the committee. Below is an exact reproduction of the pledge as given by Mr. Stewart to the win-the-war principle and in support of the principle of union which, by his subsequent action in coming out as an candidate in the Laurier-Liberal interest he has deliberately repudiated. Follows the reproduction of the circular bearing Mr. Stewart's signature.

WIN-THE-WAR MASS MEETING

DUNCAN OPERA HOUSE

Wednesday, Oct. 24th, 8 p. m.

CHAIRMAN: HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR OF DUNCAN

Explanation of the Movement by

R. G. DUGGAN, VICTORIA; B. J. PERRY, VICTORIA;

A. S. BARTON, ESQUIMALT; and other visiting speakers.

Short Addresses by Local Residents.

The following Resolutions will be submitted:—

RESOLVED—That this meeting demands:

(a) The formation of a national, union, non-party, win-the-war government.

(b) The immediate enforcement of selective conscription by the Military Service Bill of 1917.

(c) The immediate conscription of war profits, as in England, and the utilization of the whole resources of the Dominion for the prosecution of the war.

(d) Immediate and adequate provision for the welfare of returned soldiers and the dependents of those who have fallen.

And for the purpose of making the foregoing effective, we each pledge ourselves to support no candidate for election to the House of Commons who will not subscribe to the above principles.

I hereby subscribe to the above Resolutions

STEADY MARCH TOWARD VICTORY

British Premier Declares Allied Forces Are Making Steady Progress Toward Victory in Their Struggle With the Central Powers.

London, Dec. 14. — Notwithstanding untoward occurrences, Allied forces in their warfare against the Central Powers are making steady progress toward victory, and peace proposals to Germany's militaristic party, which at present is drunk with boastfulness, would be a betrayal of trust."

Thus in forceful form the British Premier, Lloyd George, has summarized the situation in the world war from the view point of himself as the head of the British Government and of his colleagues. The Premier said it was folly to exaggerate the situation by the events in Russia and the possibility of the release of hundreds of thousands of the enemy to attack Great Britain, France and Italy, but if Russia had decided to abandon the struggle, American democracy was taking it up. Germany, he added, was gambling on the failure of the United States to transport her army to Europe and the future of the world depended on efforts of Great Britain and the United States to increase their ouput of ships next year.

FURTHER HONORS FOR R.N. COLLISHAW

London, Dec. 14.—Sir Douglas Haig's dispatches last night, mentioning many hundreds for distinguished service, include the following Canadians:

Flight-Lieut. Raymond Collishaw; J. J. Malone, Regina; P. G. McNeil, Toronto; Brig.-Gen. G. S. Denison, Engineers; Capt. A. E. Grahett; Lieut.-Col. B. J. Hayter; W. C. G. Heucker; A. C. Joly de Lotbiniere; Lieut.-Col. W. B. Leslie; Brig. F. W. Flamsden; Major-General L. J. Lip-

LIBERAL LEADER VISITS VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Dec. 14.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier today brought his election message to the Pacific Coast. In his first visit to Vancouver since 1910 he stayed less than nine hours but spoke to five gatherings of electors, one of them exclusively for women. Women filled the ball room of the Hotel Vancouver where at four o'clock the Liberal leader delivered his first and longest address. From there and in succession he went to four theatres all filled to the limit of their seating capacity. He spoke, in all to about 8,000 people. He was received everywhere with hearty cheers and was heard with close attention. At eight o'clock tonight he and his party left for the east. They will reach Winnipeg on Monday morning and will receive election returns in that city.

Sir Wilfrid devoted the greater part of his time to the conscription issues. He declared his belief that by persuasion, and not by coercion he could bring the province of Quebec into line with other provinces of the Dominion in the matter of enlistment. He held the Borden Government responsible for Quebec's showing and charged that there has been an alliance between the Conservatives and Nationalists which spent Conservative money in teaching Quebec not to fight in the Empire's wars.

"If Laurier wins the election," he said, "Canada still is in the war, and in it to the finish."

An order-in-council has been passed authorizing the minister of customs to issue licences permitting foreign tugs to be chartered for use in Canadian waters without payment of customs duties, during the war.

STANLEY WARN WED ENGLISH NURSE

Private Stanley Warn Marries English Girl Who Nursed Him Back to Health.

An interesting war wedding took place at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, on Wednesday at 11 a. m., when Miss Alice Eldridge, daughter of John Eldridge, of St. Leonards-on-Sea, became the bride of Stanley Harcourt Warn, of Vancouver, [illegible] of the 29th Battalion, [illegible] Warn, of Southampton, England. Right Rev. Dean Quainton officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by Clifford Warn, brother of the groom, and F. Gordon, of Vancouver, supported the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of C. C. A. Warn, Rockland Avenue. The happy couple left on the 4.30 boat for Seattle en route to the South, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will take up their residence in Victoria.

The wedding is the happy culmination of an interesting war romance. Seriously wounded in the head and hip while serving with the 29th Battalion, Private Warn, with two other badly wounded comrades, found themselves cut off in a shell-hole in "No Man's Land." Rather than leave his two comrades, who were too badly wounded to move, Private Warn sent off carrier pigeons announcing their plight and appealing for assistance.

No assistance being forthcoming, however, after four days, during which the men suffered fits of delirium, Private Warn decided to crawl back to the British lines.

Leaving the shell-hole, after struggling for some distance he found himself unable to proceed further owing to an intense barrage fire, and falling exhausted remembers nothing further until he was discovered five days later by a British sapping party, after being nine days in "No Man's Land."

After lying delirious in a base hospital in France for fifteen days, he was sent to an English hospital, where Miss Eldridge, who was on the staff, nursed him back to health, and it was as a result of the acquaintance so romantically begun that Wednesday's ceremony was the happy sequel.

The Ge[illegible] mans are carrying out a heavy bom[illegible] ardment in the latter region.

Big guns are doing most of the work on the Italian front, where the Italians still are barring the way of the Teutonic Allies toward the plains. In Thursday's fighting the enemy in attacks between Brenta and Piave Rivers again made an insignificant gain but as on the previous occasions only under huge sacrifices of men.

The situation in Russia, where the Bolsheviki and counter revolutionary forces are arrayed is still obscure, unofficial despatches reporting successes for each side. Negotiations for an armistice continue between the Teutonic Allies and the Bolsheviki, official advice attributed to Bolsheviki foreign minister makes the announcement that if an armistice is signed Russian delegates will be empowered to enter into peace negotiations.

LAID AT REST.

[illegible] OPENING NEW FLOOR SPACE TODAY

Mr. Peter Conroy of the Model Furniture Company opens for business this morning the entire ground floor of the Brumption Block. The steady growth of business compelled him to enlarge his floor space and in the premises he now occupies Mr. Conroy has a store second to none in the city.

The work of remodelling and renovating the premises, and of arranging the large and varied stock for display was completed yesterday and everything is in readiness this morning so that the management will be enabled to cater to the trade more expeditiously and satisfactory than was possible in the past.

The store occupied by Mr. Conroy in the past will be used exclusively for hardware, stoves and crockeryware, with the smaller floor space adjoining Tom Weeks' Garage used as a shipping and receiving room. The main store is given over entirely to household furnishings of of which The Model Furniture Company has an excellent choice.

BOMB DISCOVERED ON NORWAY STEAMER

An Atlantic Port, Dec. 14.—The report that a bomb was found in the shaft alley of the Norwegian steamer Bergsdall, which sailed from here last week for a foreign port, has been verified by a letter received today. It stated that the infernal machine was discovered by the chief engineer.

When it was timed to explode was not disclosed.

WILL COMBINE NAVAL FORCES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—The creation of an Allied Naval Council to co-ordinate naval operations of all the nations at war with the Central Powers was announced tonight in a cablegram to the Navy Department from Vice-Admiral Sims at Paris. Members of the council established in accordance with plans of inter-allied conference will report to their respective governments with recommendations for action.

The Montreal Transportation Co.'s barge Ungava is reported to have been sold to French interests. She was built at Collingwood in 1906, her dimensions being: length 200 ft., breadth 41 ft., depth 17 ft.; tonnage, 1,226 net tons.

R. STEWART'S POSITION.

n the few references the Herald s made to Mr. Stewart and his ndidature in this riding under the Laurier standard, the point has been raised that he had never given a satisfactory or sufficient reason for entering the field. The Herald has insisted on this point because of the information it had that Mr. Stewart had, so to speak, changed his political coat and did not want anybody to know about it. As we had the story, Mr. Stewart was a supporter of the union government right up to the day that the union candidate was selected. Up to that time, apparently, he was not without hope that he himself would be the unionist candidate. Disappointed in this hope, he at once forswore his unionist convictions, and on the instigation of Messrs. McInnes and Martin, came out as a Laurier candidate.

In this issue we are able to offer proof that Mr. Stewart is a record holder as a policital quick-change artist. On the front page will be found a reproduction of a dodger which was used in Duncan on October 24th, in connection with a Win-the-War meeting there. This dodger sets out the objects for which the meeting was called, and the principles which were to be discussed. A space was left on the dodgers so that any one attending the meeting could pledge himself to the principles adopted at the meeting. Among those present at the meeting was Mr. Stewart, and among those who signed the declaration of principles was Mr. Stewart. On the front page of this issue will be found a fac simile of the dodger and of Mr. Stewart's signature.

Any further comment is unnecessary. Any man who can pledge himself to the support of one set of principles one month, and come out publicly and oppose them the next, cannot look to get any public support. There are only two conclusions that can be drawn from his action. The first is that he is a man of no convictions, and that he pays no more regard to a solemn pledge than the German Chancellor. The other is that he allowed himself to be made a tool of by the wily William to his own discomfiture. At all events we know now bevond all question of doubt that Mr. Stewart at the end of October was a pledged supporter of the union government and that since the end of November he has been contesting this riding as a Laurier candidate. We have no quarrel with the man who conscientiously follows Laurier in this crisis, much as we disagree with him; but we do not know what to say of the man who inside of a month has boxed the political compass. Mr. Stewart is in a hopeless position, such a position, indeed, as we never remember a candidate in this or any other riding to have been in. His election is impossible.

COMMUNICATION

Civic Expenditure.

Editor Herald:

Dear Sir—I see the aldermen have agreed to consider for another week the suggested expenditure of $1450 on the needed repairs to the Athletic Club buildings. A good motto at such a time is "First Things First." In the matter of necessary expenditure, other things come before the Athletic Club.

The School Trustees need money. Their appeal to the Council was turned down because of lack of funds.

I notice the Mayor wisely suggested caution and delay, "because both material and labor are at top prices." He might have added all but school teachers and civic servants' labor. Some one will remark "these don't belong to the Labor party. These belong to the professional class and they can live on little." May I remind such that the Labor party in the old country has enlarged its membership by opening it to brains as well as muscle.

The war has radically altered the opinion of the Labor party re the man who works with his brains. All brain workers are now admitted to [illegible] and it is interesting to notice that even earls are seeking membership.

No one can now say that the teachers and civic servants are not of the Labor party.

Then again, it is imperative that the health of our boys and girls should be conserved so that they shall be fully equipped for the great work of Empire building which lies before them.

The School Trustees need money for health purposes. Allow me to mention the High School again, during the dark days this week the scholars could not read the lessons on the blackboard in the forenoon, and in the afternoon they had to give it up altogether. The temperature in one of the rooms was 46 degrees. The ventilation is as bad as it possibly can be. Surely these things have the first claim. The Council urge the Trustees to cut down estimates, etc. There is no artificial light in the High School. This should be put in at once. Surely our school doctor would support this! The heating apparatus should be such that the scholars and teachers can breathe properly. Surely our school doctor would support these things. These have the first claims for funds; so that the Trustees can remove this strain on the eyes of the scholars. Brain fag, and risk of tuberculosis. Give the scholars a chance to pass their examinations. Our Councillors and Trustees are good men together. But it would be to the great advantage of the schools if the School Trustees were not on the Council, so that they could give all their attention to the schools, it would make for efficiency and success.

I am, yours sincerely,

F. G. WEST.

BIJOU THEATRE

Pearl White one of the most popular of film stars does some excellent work in "May Blossom," the Pathe special now being screened at the Bijou. It is one of those colored films, which only the Pathe Co. seem able to put on successfully. With this feature is shown two reels of the stirring serial "Patria" with Mrs. Vernon Castle and a snappy one reel comedy, making up a very attractive programme.

DOMINION THEATRE

The real actor is shown in "The Call of the East" now being presented at the Dominion. It is something finer, more thrilling, more sincere, than Hayakawa has ever done before His supporting company is of the very best and as to settings and photography, they are simply wonderful. The two reel comedy "Black Stage" offers Billie West the only real rival of Chaplin and if you call him only an imitator, you must admit that it is extremely well done.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With c[illegible]ory military service there should be the same measure of co[illegible] mere figure of speech, —wealth can be [illegible]en and can be more readily spared and can [illegible]e cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING

It is regrettable that hu[illegible]vity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

PERUVIAN COMPLICATIONS.

Lima, Peru, Dec. 14.—For lack of a quorum the extraordinary session of congress called to begin yesterday was not opened. The political situation at present is complicated.

NEW YORK BOLSHEVIKI IN TRIUMPHANT ORGY

Anarchists, Socialists, I. W. W.'s, and extreme left wing radicals, hailing themselves as the Bolsheviki of the City of New York, held a meeting at the Park View Palace, at 110th Street and Fifth Avenue, yesterday, to celebrate the triumph of their cause in Petrograd. They jeered and hissed the name of President Wilson; they denounced governments, institutions, and society. They hailed the approach of social revolution and the destruction of the existing order of things.

It was a demonstration of the Bolsheviki in action, and it wound up in a frenzy of music and dancing, with a long-haired Bolsheviki reeling through the ranks of whirling comrades with a bottle of whiskey in his hand. He wore shabby clothes, his brown hair hung to his shoulders, and a loose tie flowed from his neck. Holding the bottle aloft as he danced, he invited all to drink, and if none would drink with him he drank by himself, carressing the bottle as he did so, and wafting kisses after each drink to the spirit of freedom, to the triumph of the social revolution and the salvation of the proletariat.

He was a living representation of the Bolshevist banner displayed in front of the stage. On it was a picture of a moujik steeping himself in liquor, while the inscription underneath read: "Hail, Bolsheviki! Drink, brothers. Life is short, but vodka is plentiful!" Some one asked the drunken Bolsheviki whether he following this practice, and he replied defiantly: What practice? I believe in no practice." And then he took another drink.

STEGNER LOSES TO "KID" IRISH

Tacoma, Dec. 13.—Corpl. Lloyd Ireland ("Kid" Irish) successfully defended his title last night of featherweight wrestling champion of the world, when he defeated Sergt. Guy Stegner in straight falls, one in fifteen seconds and the second in 20 minutes and five seconds.

The champion took his opponent unawares in the first bout and won with a Japanese leg and ankle hold. The second fall came after some thrilling defensive work on the part of Stegner. Ireland won after 20 minutes and five seconds with a body scissors and arm hold. Ireland announced his retirement from the mat game after the bout.

Christensen Defeated.

New York, Dec. 13.—Wladek Zbyszko of Poland defeated Harry Christensen of Denmark in 27 minutes and 25 seconds in the international catch-as-catch-can wrestling tournament here last night. Joseph Rogers, American, threw Pierre Le Belge, of Belgium, in 11 minutes.

Dr. Benjamin F. Roller, of Seattle, defeated John Heracle of Wilmington, Del., in 14 minutes and five seconds.

PRESIDENT OF SWITZERLAND

Berne, Dec. 14.—Felix Calonder, head of the Department of the Interior, today was elected president Vice-president of the Republic and of Switzerland for 1918.

National Unity Essential to VICTORY

To-day, Canada, like the other fighting nations, has Union Government. War has proved its absolute necessity. It is the ONLY way in which Canada can throw her whole strength into the business and finish the war victoriously. Party must give way to the supreme concern for the safety and continued existence of the state.

Any opposition to national unity at such a time as this must, if it is not to plead guilty to a charge of utter disloyalty, arise from thoughtlessness, rank prejudice, or narrow party spirit. The following extract from de Tocqueville written half a century ago, condemns such opposition as is being launched by the Laurier-Bourassa faction—"For a generation which is manifestly called upon to witness the stern and terrible changes of the constitutions of the empires of the earth, the deadliest sin is thoughtlessness, the most noxious food is prejudice, and the most fatal disease is party spirit."

Patriots will Support Union Government

The faintheart's, the indifferents, and the quitters in the province of Quebec must NOT be permitted to interfere with the will of the people as represented in the leading men of both the great parties, brought together in Union Government. If Laurier prefers Bourassa to the great Liberal leaders who have thrown in their strength and influence with the great Conservative leaders for the Winning of the War, Laurier must be prepared to lose his personal following while there is real work to be done.

The Vote is your Seal of Approval

Union Government is formed by the union of men who have sunk political differences in the hour of great national danger. It has come into existence in order that the whole moral power of Canada could be organized for victory. The task of getting these strong men together has been accomplished; all that remains is for the people to put their seal of approval on the best Government Canada has ever had.

Support and Reinforcement of our Fighting Forces Supremely Important

Union Government is pledged to supply reinforcements of men and money at the earliest possible moment. The rejection of Union Government and all it implies would be disastrous, and its effects far-reaching. This war is a test of civilian morale as well as of military efficiency. Behind the armies stand the people, if they break no valor in the field can avert defeat.

The Kaiser hopes the Laurier-Bourassa faction will accomplish in Canada what Lenine is achieving for him in Russia. Your interests and the Kaiser's are absolutely opposite—and it is YOU who have the vote.

WOMEN WHO CAN VOTE

Every woman may vote who is a British subject, 21 years of age, resident in Canada one year, and in the constituency 30 days, who is the mother, wife, widow, daughter, sister or half-sister of any person, male or female, living or dead, who is serving or has served without Canada in any of the Military forces, or within or without Canada in any of the Naval forces of Canada or of Great Britain in the present war, or who has been honorably discharged from such services, and the date of whose enlistment was prior to September 20th, 1917.

COAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

With the production of coal in British Columbia for the first ten months of the year at the 2,000,000 ton mark, it is assured that the output for the entire year will be considerably larger than that of last year, when the total production was 2,048,000 tons. Interesting figures of production for the year to date have been compiled in the office of the chief inspector of the Department of Mines. They show that the production of the Vancouver mines is considerably in excess of those in other portions of the province, the figures for the ten months being: Vancouver Island, 1,431,552 tons, and for the balance of the province, 540,929 tons: a total of 1,962,481 tons. This, too, in the face of the strike in the Crow's Nest Pass section, which seriously reduced the output for the province in April, May and June.

The fugures for the Province by months were as follows: January, 197,636 tons; February, 212,050; March, 244,145; April, 167,033; May, 155,617; June, 150,870; July 192,610; August, 216,037; September, 195,487; October, 230,996.

The ten months' output for the five concerns mining coal on Vancouver Island was as follows: Western Fuel Co., 535,827 tons; Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, 683,456 tons; B. C. Coal Company, 62,363 tons; Pacific Coast Coal Company, 131,527 tons; Nanoose Collieries, 18,579 tons; total, 1,431,552 tons.

On the Mainland the ten months production of the Crow's Nest Coal mines wes 418,224 tons and that in the Nicola field was 122,705, a total of 540,929 tons.

These figures indicate that, while earlier in the year when the strike troubles in the Crow's Nest Pass district occurred it was thought this year's output for the province would fall far behind that of last year, the fact is that production, at the present rate will show an increase over that of 1916.

BRITAIN CONSIDERS POST-WAR PROBLEMS

London, Dec. 14.—Sir Albert Stanley President of the Board of Trade, was entertained at dinner last night by the officers and directors of the American Chamber of Commerce. His address dealt largely with conditions after the war.

The Government he said was giving serious attention to the trade problems which would confront England in the new world in which the nations would live after the war, for which she must be prepared before the conflict ends. Referring to the pending bill designed to give the Government control of all dealings in non-ferrous metals, destroying the German monopoly, he said it was an attempt to protect English industries against the sweeping German scheme for control which if successful would give a strangle-hold upon England's greatest industries.

America would find a stronger and keener competitor in England after the war, the speaker said.

India ink originally came from China, but now it is successfully made in this country of lamp black and glue.

Fifty Dollars
To Herald Patrons

The Herald it putting up a Victory Loan Bond, value $50.00 for competition among its Subscribers and Customers. Every person paying 50 cents to The Herald between now and the 31st of January, 1918 has an equal chance of getting this Victory Bond. The conditions are very simple.

There is a jar of beans in The Herald window, and with every payment of 50 cents to The Herald a ticket is given, entitling the person making this payment to make an estimate of the number of beans in the jar. The estimated number is written on the ticket, together with the name and address of the estimator, and the ticket deposited in a sealed box in The Herald office.

The person who estimates the correct number of beans, or the nearest correct number, gets the Victory Bond. In case of a tie another contest will decide.

The jar in the window is sealed and nobody knows the number of beans it contains.

The chance of securing this fifty dollar Bond is equal to all, and it costs nothing.

A subscriber to The Herald gets the same chance as the person who buys advertising, stationery, printing, or Christmas cards.

The 'Daily Herald'

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an "Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.
The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

Hacking Coughs

For hacking coughs—the kind that make your throat sore and your head ache, that rob you of your sleep until you are so run down that you are in danger of pneumonia or consumption—take

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

It soothes and heals the inflamed "Canny" Chamberlain air passages, stops the tickling in the throat, and by its tonic effects helps you to throw off the disease.

Chamberlain's is quite different from the ordinary cough medicine, for it not only soothes but also heals, restores the affected parts to a healthy condition. I believe it is the best and most reliable preparation ever produced for coughs and colds.

SNOW HOLDS UP COAL TRAINS.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Railroad and street car traffic throughout the state was badly crippled by the sleet, rain and snow in last night's storm, followed by freezing temperature. Telegraph and telephone wires are reported down all along the path of the storm, while in the coal regions the snow was so heavy that through trains were stalled for hours. It was feared here today that the coal stringency would be aggravated because hundreds of coal cars are held up by frozen switches.

CAILLAUX CASE CONSIDERED

Paris, Dec. 14.—The Chamber of Deputies today appointed a committee of eleven to report to the House concerning General Dubail's demand for the suspension of immunity of M. Caillaux. Four of the members of the committee favor the suspension in principle, desiring fuller information of General Dubail's letter, while two oppose suspension unless clearer proofs are produced than are contained in the letter.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

The Coming of a GREAT ENGINE

It Makes High Power Out of Low Grade Gas

Men who drive cars are face to face with a condition that becomes more and more serious each day.

That condition is the constantly declining grade of gasoline.

Nearly every engineer has said goodbye forever to high-grade gas.

For the moment, and possibly for all time, multi-cylinders, counter balanced crankshafts, and little tricks with valves give way in engineers' discussions to the "gas problem".

Every alert engineer is bending his utmost to make "one drop of gas now do the work of two".

Just as great situations produce great men, so out of this condition has come a great engine.

It is a Chalmers.

It makes high power out of low grade gas.

Compared with other engines of the same size or thereabouts, it shows:

More power More rapid acceleration
Greater economy Greater length of life
Greater smoothness

And an amazing ability to start quickly on a cold day, and to "warm up" without delay.

The Chalmers engine is a simple one. That is one reason why it is so good.

In many engines of the moment the gas passes on its way from the carburetor to the cylinder through a tunnel, which runs all the way through the engine block.

Before the gas gets to the cylinder it is forced to turn many sharp angles and does not become completely mixed with the air.

This results in raw gas running into not only one but all the cylinders, particularly when the car is cold, and especially when running for the first five or ten miles.

In the case of the Chalmers engine this type of intake manifold has been completely eliminated.

A new manifold termed "The Ramshorn," has been constructed of simple piping. It is on the exterior of the engine. It is a manifold of easy curves so that there are no sharp corners for the raw gas to lodge against and be pushed into the cylinders.

The next development was to give the gas the proper amount of heat after it came from the carburetor.

What is termed a "hot plate" is built in at the top of the throat of the carburetor so that the gas coming straight up from the carburetor hits the "hot plate", the dimensions of which have been worked out very scientifically, and then passes around the easy curves of the smooth manifold in perfect state of mixture and at the proper temperature to each of the cylinders.

The case of this Chalmers engine has been proved.

1. On August 1 and 2, Joe Dawson drove a Chalmers equipped with this same engine 1,898 miles in 24 hours—faster and farther than anyone ever before had traveled on land, sea or air.

If there's a flaw in pattern, or part, a solid day of bitter, brutal speed will find it.

2. There are over 1,000 Chalmers containing this engine now in use. They check up past all expectations.

Therefore, the Maxwell Motor Company, which has leased The Chalmers Motor Company, has put its O.K. on this engine, and accordingly on the Chalmers car.

90 per cent. of any automobile is the engine; and no car can be a bit better than its engine.

So you are safe in writing your check for a Chalmers.

As A Family Christmas Gift This Wonderful Instrument

How much is spent in your family for Christmas presents given one to another? Amounts to a substantial sum in the aggregate, doesn't it? And, after all, many of the gifts aren't perhaps exactly appropriate.

Nowadays many families are eliminating the numerous small presents. They achieve the little personal touch thru a card or leaflet.

And they pool their Christmas funds for the purchase of one really worth-while gift, one which will pay far bigger dividends in real solid enjoyment to each member of the family.

UNIONIST CAMPAIGN BROUGHT TO CLOSE IN NANAIMO

Mr. J. C. McIntosh, the Unionist candidate, brought his campaign to a close last night with a mass meeting in the Opera House. Due no doubt to the very inclement weather the audience was not as large as is usually to be found at political meetings in Nanaimo, but it can be said that it was more than usually enthusiastic. With Mr. McIntosh were Mr. Wm. Boulton, of Vancouver, Mr. Hart, Provincial Vice-President of the Great War Veterans' Association, Mr. G. Gaunce, of Victoria, and the Rev. Mr. Dean of the Islands. All alike were very able speakers, and they had the audience with them every minute, while Mr. McIntosh received a hearty and most encouraging reception.

Dr. Brown presided, and in his brief opening remarks referred to the great issue before the country, the issue of winning the war, on which men of all parties had united. Mr. Wm. Boulton was the first speaker called.

Mr. Boulton.

In his introductory remarks he recalled the fact that eight years ago he was stationed in Nanaimo, and still claimed many friends among Nanaimoites. He brought to them a message of good cheer from the Mainland. In every constituency in Greater Vancouver and New Westminster, the Union candidate would be elected. He had also spoken at several meetings in the adjacent constituency, and he was satisfied that Mr. Clements would be elected by a large majority.

Today they were no longer thinking in the terms of individualism. They were thinking of unionism and the larger necessities of the nation. In the present campaign they had political opponents lined up on one platform, united on the policy of winning the war. And he would say that the calibre of the men running under the Union flag was superior to that of their opponents. He referred to the example of Great Britain, South Africa and Australia, where the same coalition of opposing parties had taken place.

The speaker reviewed the men who had joined the Union government from the Liberal party, his remarks [illegible] bringing a hearty round of applause. He then took up Mr. McInnes' statement that the Union government was the same old Borden government. He declared that the brainiest men in the Dominion had joined the cause of Unionism. And there was the singular circumstance that the press from Halifax to Victoria was almost unanimous on the side of Unionism. The churches also were supporting Unionism, and all the English-speaking Catholic churches were on the side of Unionism. Mr. McInnes had sneered at the elements supporting Unionism, but he (the speaker) could say that no better type of Canadianism could be found than that which wes identified with Unionism. He would also say that if the brainest men from the Liberal party, the brainest men in Canadian journalism and the best men in the churches were united in favor of Unionism Mr McInnes was not worthy of support when he charged that they had been bought. His view was that as a result of the present movement there would be cleaner politics and better government in Canada.

Referring to the speech made in the Opera House by a returned soldier last week, the speaker asserted that the man had never been in the fighting line. That was his information, and if he were wrong he would apologize. But he had heard returned soldiers who had actually been to the front declare that the only politics they knew was the war.

He would never suggest that the Liberals were not loyal. They had Currie who had brought such honor to Canada and other local men who had died, all Liberals. He would not suggest that Liberals were disloyal, but he would say that every slacker in the Dominion was behind the Laurier campaign.

The speaker next dealt with the material available for Cabinet positions if Laurier were elected. The question to be answered was what would happen to the boys at the front, to Canada, and to Canadian citizenship if Laurier were elected. The one issue was winning the war, and this brought up the question of conscription. As he understood it, it simply meant tabulating the manpower of the Dominion with a view to employing the men where they could give the best service in the fight against Germany. Mr. McInnes had said there was no hurry, that there was no needs for compulsory service. The need was never so urgent, declared the speaker. Taking the recruiting figures, and the wastage, he would say that a few more battles like Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele would wipe out the Canadian expeditionary force. Reinforcements for the boys at the front were the first need in Canada.

Mr. Boulton argued that conscription was the only fair and democratic method of continuing the war. He had heard a Union man who had been at the front declare that compulsory service was the method of labor. Labor unions were maintained by compulsion, hours regulated, wages settled, strikes called and ended all by compulsion, and, said this union man, he was for compulsory service as being the method of labor. The speaker made a strong point of the mercenary twist Mr. McInnes had given to the question of the soldier's pay. If the services of the men at the front were reckoned up in dollars and cents, it was impossible to pay them. After dealing with the War Times Election Act he compared the manifestos of the two candidates and entered a strong plea for support for Mr. McIntosh.

Mr. McIntosh

This was the last talk of the campaign, began Mr. McIntosh, and they were talking with the reverberations of the shot fired in Flanders sounding in their hearts. He had left a solid south and arrived in a stalwart north. He had been asked in the south what of Nanaimo, and he had told his questioners that he had no fear of Nanaimo, that he was convinced that the people of Nanaimo would live up to their traditions, and the reputation for loyalty and service they had established during the war.

There were 140,000 Canadians fighting in the mud of Flanders and these men were asking what of Canada. Two weeks age he had gone to the trouble of finding out just how many Canadians were in the fighting line and he had been told that there were 143,000. Two days ago he made the same inquiry, and learned that now there were only 140,000. These 140,000 were their brothers, bone of their bone and flesh of their flesh, and they were asking what of Nanaimo? They were getting smaller and smaller because they were not getting reinforcements. What were they in the meeting and Nanaimo going to do about it?

The war was not a British war, nor a French war, nor an Italian war. It was Canada's war just as much as any of these countries he had mentioned. Canada was fighting for herself just as though some of her cities were surrounded by enemy troops. If they had this condition, though, would they waste time in talking and disputing as they were doing. No. The fight was on, and they were in it, and it was for them to take it on their shoulders as a united nation.

Look at Russia, poor bleeding Russia, shattered by the intrigue and propaganda of Germany, and by Russian traitors who had taken German money. The fate of Italy was also hanging in the balance, and from the same causes which had led to the debacle in Russia. The same propaganda was being carried on in Canada, and the issue lay with the people. The issues were greater and the results would be more momentous perhaps than they had realised, and they had a sacred and solemn duty to discharge on Monday

They had seen the intimidation practiced in the United States. President Wilson had received hundreds of threatening letters with the object of intimidating him in his decision, and terrorism had been generally practiced by means of dynamite outrages and arson. And now they had this disaster at Halifax. This disaster was no accident. Let them look at the objects which would have been served had Halifax been ruined as a port. Halifax was a great national port of Canada, and with the closing of Montreal and Quebec was Canada's one clearing house for the war. Immense sums of money had been spent on its improvement, even since the beginning of the war, until the Scientific American had said that there was not a port on the continent to compare with it. Just when the disaster occurred the American ports were congested with war traffic, and had the port been ruined the transportation of men and supplies from Canada would have been held up.

After touching upon the labor aspect of the war and quoting extensively from Gompers, the President of the American Federation of Labor, he went on to deal with the condition of labor in Germany. Coming then to the alien question Mr. McIntosh said enemy aliens were a menace to Canada, and if he had his way they would be locked up as they deserved. What would happen to British subjects in Germany in this war. Here in Canada enemy aliens were allowed their freedom and were earning large wages. This ought to be stopped. He would be in favor of paying these aliens a bare living wage, and taking the balance for the state to form the nucleus of a fund to be used for the dependents of the men who had fought for Canada. Some arrangement of this kind would have to be made, and if he was elected, he would make it his duty to see that it was carried out.

With regard to friendly aliens, they should be liable to military service just as Canadians were. Australia had passed an act for this purpose and he would support a similar act for Canada. Mr. McIntosh spoke very feelingly on the necessity of making permanent provision for the returned soldiers. The men who had fought their battles at the front, and were spared to return home again, deserved the very best treatment they could be given, and he would support any movement to make permanent provision for them after the war.

In conclusion Mr. McIntosh reminded his hearers that momentous issues would be decided on Monday. He would not ask them to vote for him. He would ask them to think only of Canada and the interests of Canada. If, when they entered the polling booth they thought of Canada, its needs and its interests, they could not vote wrong.

H. W. Hart

Mr. H. W. Hart of Vancouver, vice president of the Great War Veterans' Association, was given a rousing reception. He stated he felt in whatever loyal town in Canada he was in he was at home and he felt at home in Nanaimo. He was glad to be in a mining town, not that he was a miner for he had never been down a mine, but he had read of the danger existing in mines, and knew that when a call for assistance was made, the call was not made in vain. Such a call he stated, was coming from France today. The tapping was heard and he felt sure the miners of Nanaimo would respond in no uncertain manner. The question to be decided on Monday, he declared, was a clear-cut one and was simply "Are you going to support the boys in the trenches or desert them?" Germany's force has got to be met with greater force and Germany's sacrifices with greater sacrifices. The Canadian lines have been decimated, Canadian soldiers were dying for those at home. And are they to be deserted? No, a thousand times No. The Union government, he declared, was not a panacea for all ills but it was the only kind of a government today and if the Allies did not win this war nothing else mattered, but the Allies will win because they must win, and the Huns had got to be so squashed that they will never rise again and the world again witness such horros as had been enacted the past three and a half years. Conscription was necessary declared the speaker, and not only conscrption of men but also of excess profits. He favored putting Canada on a war footing and thought the government should conscript the wealth of the country. (A Voice: "Yes, but will they do it?") "Yes, they will do it," replied Mr. Hart, and the Union government is already doing it. But whether excess profits are confiscated or not, the Canadian forces have got to be reinforced. On Dec. 17th the electors hold the destinies of the children of Canada in their hands. Remember what happened to the women and children of Belgium, and Serbia and when you cast your ballots on Monday cast it for the children of Canada. If Prussianism is not crushed today there will be another war, which will have to be fought by those who today are the children of Canada. The man who says we have done enough, declared Mr. Hart, are the men who have done nothing and such men he would like to ship over to the Kaiser and let him do with them as he seen fit. A vote for a Laurier or a Labor candidate, is a vote for a man who should be overseas doing his bit. Laurier is telling the country that if elected he will secure sufficient men by the volunteer system. Such a thing was not possible for the volunteer system had had over three years' trial and had proved a failure, and if Laurier can get the men of Quebec to line-up why has he not done it before now?

Continuing in his remarks, Mr. Hart branded as an insult to the soldier, the suggestion that more men could be secured if the soldiers' pay was increased for, declared the speaker, if a soldier's wife and family is looked after he will go to the front for nothing. Laurier's proposal for a referendum, the speaker stated, was synonmous with disertion and disgrace and the opposition was constantly drawing red herrings across the path for the purpose of befogging the real issue. They talk of Flavelle and the excess profits made by him and others in Canada, but personally the speaker did not care if Flavelle or anybody else made $500,000,000 in profits for they could be made to disgorge, but the grave will not give up its dead and there is only one thing to do and that was to win the war. Mr. McIntosh would be elected on Monday because the electors realize what it means to return the Union government, a vote for which was also a vote for the boys in the trenches.

W. G. Gaunce.

Mr. W. G. Gaunce, of Victoria, the next speaker of the evening, informed the meeting he was only a plain spoken man, but he knew something of the country's institutions, and he knew they were in danger, and he knew they could be saved. He ridiculed the suggestion of a referendum on the question of conscription at a time when it was imperative to send reinforcements overseas and stated in order that Canada should contribute to the limit Canada should contribute to the limit of its resources in men and wealth, men had forgotten their political beliefs, their old rituals had been replaced by a new one entitled "From the Huns deliver us," and he hoped on Monday the electors would say "Amen" to the prayer. In Mr. McIntosh was a candidate who stood pledged to a principle which demanded that the young men of the Dominion suffer as the women had suffered. Some say Canada has done enough, remarked the speaker, but Canada will have done enough when it has done its best, and Canada will have done its best when it has done its all. He looked to the Union government to see that the greedy gains were snatched from the men who would rather have a baronetcy than good red blood, and severely criticized the actions of Liberal campaigners in Victoria who were telling soldiers' wives if Laurier was elected he would withdraw Canada from the war and they would have their husbands home with them again. Such nonsense, declared the speaker, for imagine Canada making a separate peace. She could not if she would and she would not if she could. The wastage in the Canadian army, he declared, was far greater than the number of recruits, and in the past four months more men had been put out of commission than Sir Wilfrid Laurier's pet province of Quebec with a population of over two millions, had given to the cause since the commencement of the war.

In conclusion Mr. Gaunce advocated the return of Mr. McIntosh and severely arraigned Mr. Stewart, the Laurier Liberal candidate for his quick change in becoming a Laurier candidate after signing a pledge to support a Unionist government. Who [illegible] A. Stewart, asked the [illegible] who wanted to know if anybody slandered him. Mr. Stewart was in the audience, and he raised his voice in defence of its actions. Called to the platform and given ten minutes in which to make an explanation, Mr. Stewart admitted signing the pledge cards, but stated he had changed his mind when he discovered the so-called Union government comprised 14 Conservatives and 8 Liberals, the majority of whim were allied to the financial interests of the Dominion, and he (Stewart) was out against the profiteers and the monied interests of the country and he also denied the charge that he had profitted to the extent of several thousands of dollars by reason of the sale of horses for use of the army.

Rev. Mr. Dean.

Rev. Mr. Dean, of Salt Spring Island, was the last speaker of the evening, and owing to the lateness of the hour his remarks were brief. He commended the spirit which prompted thousands of Canadians to forget party at the present crisis in the affairs of the Dominion and stated he blushed for his old leader Sir Wilfrid Laurier who, by reason of his opposition to the Military Service Act, was once again demonstrating his unfriendliness to the Motherland. Laurier declares he wants to win the war, but he proposes a long process in order to bring this about, declared Mr. Dean, while on the other hand, the country had the conscription bill which was working smoothly and lining up reinforcements for the boys in the trenches. The speaker criticized many of those who were so flippant in their attacks on profiteers, and stated he had no doubt if Mr. Stewart had a million feet of timber and could bet a dollar a thousand more for it tomorrow he would do so. All the profiteers are not Conservatives, declared the speaker and nobody knows this better than Laurier for the Liberal Party of today was not the party of forty years ago, when such a thing as graft was unknown in its ranks. Laurier, the speaker charged, had on more than one occasion, shown his disloyalty to England and contrasted his high-sounding oration of 1897, when he stated "If England needs assistance all she has to do is to sound the bugles and Canada will come to her assistance," with his offer of a referendum when the bugle call has been sounded in Britain's hour of need.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, and three rousing cheers and a tiger for Mr. McIntosh.

DRIVEN FORWARD BY OWN GUNS

Austrian Army Lost Heavily by Fire from Own Guns, Which Drove Teutons into the Struggle.

With the Italian Armies, Dec. 15. —(By the Associated Press).—Austro-German troops are being driven to the attack against the Italians. Prisoners taken by General Diaz's forces today declared the losses in their ranks had been increased to staggering proportions by their own artillery, which under orders had put a moving curtain of fire behind the attack waves to force them into the charge.

The commanders of the Teuton forces, they also asserted, are adopting other coercive measures. All Austrian and German troops have been coaxed with great promises of better food and quarters if they reach the Italian plains.

The enemy's efforts today were concentrated in two wedges astride the Italian salient at Solarola. If he can keep constantly on the offensive his position is fairly secure, but the moment he lapses in his attacks and permits the Italians to assume the initiative his line of communications will be seriously menaced.

Heavy fighting is in progress on the mountain front in the north, east of the Brenta river. The enemy is attempting to advance his positions, as he has those west of the river, which would give him two lines of approach to the Brenta Valley and the open plain.

Rome, Dec. 15.—After an all-day battle yesterday on the Italian mountain front the enemy reached Col Caprille, the War Office here announced today. Nightfall stopped the fighting. The Italian troops held firmly on positions a little to the rear of Col Caprille.

London, Dec. 15.—While a report comes that Kaiser Wilhelm will make a Christmas peace offer to the enemies of the Central Powers, Germany and Austria-Hungary are continuing their military drive southward from the Alps and coupling this attempt to crush Italy with the menace of a German offensive on the Western front, a menace rendered more serious by the release of hundreds of thousands of troops from the Russian front [illegible] of the virtual elimination of Russia from the war.

The attack in its present phase is centring upon Monte Beretta, northwest of Monte Grappa and just to the east of the Brenta. Advices from the front report only a very slight yielding in the face of several attacks in which the enemy sacrificed large numbers of troops.

The tentative thrusts which are being made by the Germans on the Western front of the Allies, as if a weak spot in the Entente line was being sought, are being countered after each hostile movement.

AMERICAN ARRESTED

Petrograd, Dec. 15.—Charles S. Smith, of St. Louis, a member of the staff of John F. Stevens, head of the American Railway Commission of Russia, is reported to have been arrested.

WAR SITUATION ON ALL FRONTS

Italian Line, Though Almost Ceaselessly Assailed, is Still Intact—German Thrusts on British and French Fronts Prove Futile.

London, Dec. 15.—Nicholas Romanoff, the former Emperor of Russia, is reported to have made his escape. This report, unlike previous rumors, to this effect, came through the Bolsheviki headquarters in Petrograd, but later the report was officially denied. Previous reports of the escape of Nicholas had him making his way out of Siberia through Harbin, Manchuria. The effect of his escape upon the Bolsheviki plans for the future course of Russia could scarcely be even surmised so enigmatic in many ways has been the recent course of the Lenine-Trotsky government in Petrograd, which now appears to be getting the upper hand in parts of the country outside the northern centres, overcoming the opposition of the more conservative elements. Some English correspondents in Petrograd indeed, have latterly come to take the view that the Bolsheviki leaders were planning eventually to put monarchical form of government in force after they had established their sway by drastic measures, coupled with their hold on the proletariat through the popularity of their land reform and peace measures.

Russo-German peace negotiations are reported proceeding apace. A German official announcement says conditions and draft of "treaty" have been formulated, discussions having been put over from Friday to Saturday, however, as the Russian delegates desired to obtain supplementary instructions from their Government. Whether the word treaty refers to a formal peace treaty or merely to an armistice agreement, pending is not clear from the German announcement.

The Italian front remains the only major field of military operations in which there is more than local activity on the part of infantry.

The Italian line, though almost ceaselessly assailed in the mountain regions is still intact and holding well, except for a small recession here and there, forced at the cost of extremely heavy casualties upon the part of the Austro-German invaders. Berlin claims the taking of more than 3,000 prisoners in fighting of the last few days, and the repulse of Italian counter attacks on positions won by the Teutons.

The Franco-Belgian front is inactive except for local fighting mostly due to German thrusts here and there, delivered with the seeming intention of keeping the Anglo-French command guessing as to the enemy intentions.

In Palestine the British have scored a further advance northeast of Jerusalem. In making known the sinking of two more Norwegian steamers, the Norwegian government announces that five thousand Norwegian sailors have been lost during the war.

BIJOU THEATRE

It is an exceptionally good bill which is offered to the patrons of the Bijou for the first two days of the week. First comes a five-reel Fox Feature "Melting Millions" presenting that popular young star, George Welsh, in a role which gives him full play for his athletic stunts and all-pervading smile. With this will be shown one of those Fox two-reel comedies, simply crammed with laughs. Come and see this bill and forget that you ever had any worries.

DOMINION THEATRE

New Role Delights Joyous Mae Marsh

In the constant endeavor to equip its stars with roles which are best suited to their particular talents, Goldwyn Pictures has once more used excellent judgment in the selection of "The Cinderella Man" by Edward Childs Carpenter, as another starring vehicle for Mae Marsh.

It is difficult to imagine Mae Marsh more excellently cast than in her role in "The Cinderella Man," which in play form was one of Oliver Morosco's greatest Broadway successes. This part of a dainty, sweet girl, romantic but genuinely human, gives Miss Marsh a wonderful opportunity to display her aptitude for changing moods. It has been said of Miss Marsh that she is a girl of a thousand faces, because of her faculty for expression before the camera.

There is only one Mae Marsh. She is probably the one living cinematographic star who has never been imitated successfully. Her quaint charm supplemented by genuine histrionic ability, has made her one of the greatest actresses of the screen since the beginning of the industry, which means a star value of the highest order.

STRENGTH OF AUSTRIA'S ARMIES

With the French Armies in France Dec. 15.—The total man-power of Austria-Hungary's armies, the latest enemies of America now has reached 1,170 battalions of infantry, 240 squadrons of cavalry, 2,950 field guns, 1,150 light howitzers and 922 heavy guns, according to approximately exact figures.

THE ONE ISSUE

The campaign for the federal election of 1917 finished last night. Tomorrow the electors of Canada will take their stand on the issue which has been presented to them. They will say what shall be Canada's policy in this great crisis, the greatest which the Dominion has ever been called upon to solve.

The Herald has been solidly on the side of unionism. Many months ago it took the stand that no party government could properly and efficiently manage the business thrust upon it by this war. The issues raised by the war were in themselves too important and too vital to allow politics in the government. The Dominion was fighting for its very existence, and to carry on this fight required the best brains of the country irrespective of politics and parties. Our point all along has been that there ought to have been union government long ago in Canada. The interests of the country demanded it and still demand it. We have then in this election candidates on the side of unionism, and opposing them straight party candidates. The straight party candidates are supporters of Laurier, who refused to enter the Union government, and who is appealing to the country on straight party lines.

Let the electors ask themselves this question. The Borden government proved unequal to the task of carrying on the war business of the country. How then can it be expected that Laurier with the handicap of Quebec, and the loss of his ablest followers in the English-speaking provinces, will be able to do anything like as well as Borden did. And then in this case Borden is offering a Union government strengthened by the inclusion of some of the ablest Liberals in the Dominion. Where and how could Laurier get together a cabinet such as Sir Robert Borden now leads, and how could he attempt even to carry out the policy the Union government is pledged to?

The Union candidate in this riding is Mr. J. C. McIntosh. He has frankly declared that up to this election he has been a Liberal in politics, but that now he is out as a Canadian. Apart from the issues which he represents there is no doubt that the interests of the constituency may be safely entrusted to his hands. He has gained in strength from the opening day of his campaign, as was to be expected from a man of his personal qualities, mental keenness, and straightforwardness. He is a Unionist and supports the whole policy of the Union government. The first issue with him as a Canadian is to "Carry on" in the war. He believes that the honor of the nation is at stake as well as its good faith with the boys at the front. The only issue with him is: Shall Canada keep on in the war, or shall Canada quit. Mr. McIntosh should get the vote of every elector who wants Canada to keep on in the war and send help to the boys at the front.

NEW MANAGEMENT

For the past few months this school was closed owing to our inability to secure a manager who measured up exactly to the Sprott-Shaw Standard, but now we are pleased to announce that our new manager, Mr. Norman E. Carter, fills the bill in every particular. He is one of the very best in Western Canada.

New vim, new vigor and new ideas will make the Nanaimo Sprott-Shaw a leading western school. Up until Dec. 19 send all communications to R. J. Sprott, 336 Hastings St. W., Vancouver, B. C. After that date to Norman E. Carter, c-o Sprott-Shaw School, Nanaimo, B. C.

RUSSIAN PROBLEM IS PUZZLING

Fog of War Has Settled Down all Over Russia Although Very Little Actual Warfare Has Developed.

London, Dec. 15—Press dispatches from Petrograd throw little light on the military situation in Southern Russia. The official statements issued in Petrograd are confusing and there are various reports regarding General Kaledines and General Korniloff, whose present whereabouts and fortunes are not known definitely. The fog of war has settled down over all Russia, says the Petrograd correspondent of the London Post, although very little actual warfare has developed.

The people of Petrograd are said to be more interested in the attitude of the Bolsheviki toward the Constituent Assembly than in the Russo-German negotiations or the civil war in the south. The Bolsheviki still are represented as being determined to prevent the Constituent Assembly from taking on any complexion except a reflection of their own views, but there apparently is a sharp disagreement among the leaders as to the best methods, and angry discussions are reported to have occurred.

Petrograd, Dec. 14.—(via London, Dec. 15.—The cities of Rostov, Nakhitchevan and Taganrog, in the Don Cossack territory, are in the hands of Bolsheviki troops, according to a report issued by the official news bulletin here. General Kaledines, leader of the Don Cossacks, the announcement adds, has been arrested.

Generals Kalkin and Bototsky and their staffs have invited the mayor of Rostov to go to Novo Tcherkask the Cossack capital, to discuss a suspension of military operations.

London, Dec. 15—A Petrograd dispatch bearing date of yesterday says Bolsheviki units at Kiev have been disarmed by the Ukrainians and sent to their homes. In one instance Bolsheviki troops at Kiev resisted disarmament and numerous casualties resulted.

The Bolsheviki committee of the 12th Army Corps has asked for the recall of Major Pinchon, head of the French Military Mission to Russia, for protesting against agitation in the army against the Entente.

WILL MANUFACTURE NO MORE SCHIEDAM

Amsterdam, Dec. 14.—The 200 distilleries of Schiedam, which produce vast quantities of gin and other liquors, have been notified by the government's grain bureau, the Telegraaf reports, that after this week no more grain will be supplied for conversion into alcoholic products. This means the paralysis of one of the industries for which Holland is best known abroad. Thousands of men will be thrown out of employment.

CHILDREN UNDERNOURISHED

New York, Dec. 14. — Henry Dwight Chapin, head of the children's divison of the Post Graduate Hospital, declared in an address here today that 110,000 out of the 1,000,000 public and parochial school children in this city are undernourished and in need of attention. The condition of 590,000 others is only "passable," he added. Dr. Chapin attributed much of the malnutrition to war prices.

TO EXAMINE "GARABED."

Washington, Dec. 14.—A special rule for consideration of a bill to authorize investigation of the mysterious "Garabed' discovery was approved yesterday by the House rules committee. The bill provides for protection for the rights of the discoverer, who claims "Garabed" is a power that will drive anything from an airplane to a battleship without fuel. Features which caused President Wilson to veto a similar measure last session have been eliminated.

DYNASTY OR REPUBLIC?

London, Dec. 14.—The Central Powers appear to be willing to evacuate and restore Roumanian territory on condition that a new dynasty be established, the new sovereign to be a sympathiser with the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs, says a dispatch to the Manchester Guardian from Petrograd.

On the other hand, the message states the Bolsheviki are carrying on a republican agitation in the Roumanian army.

MEETS GOVERNMENT NEEDS,

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Copper producers today assured the War Industires Board that they are able to meet the Government's war needs. Labor conditions were said to be much improved and general satisfaction was expressed with the distribution system of the present total output. Only from 65 to 70 per cent was now required for Government contracts.

To the Electors of the Nanaimo Federal Riding

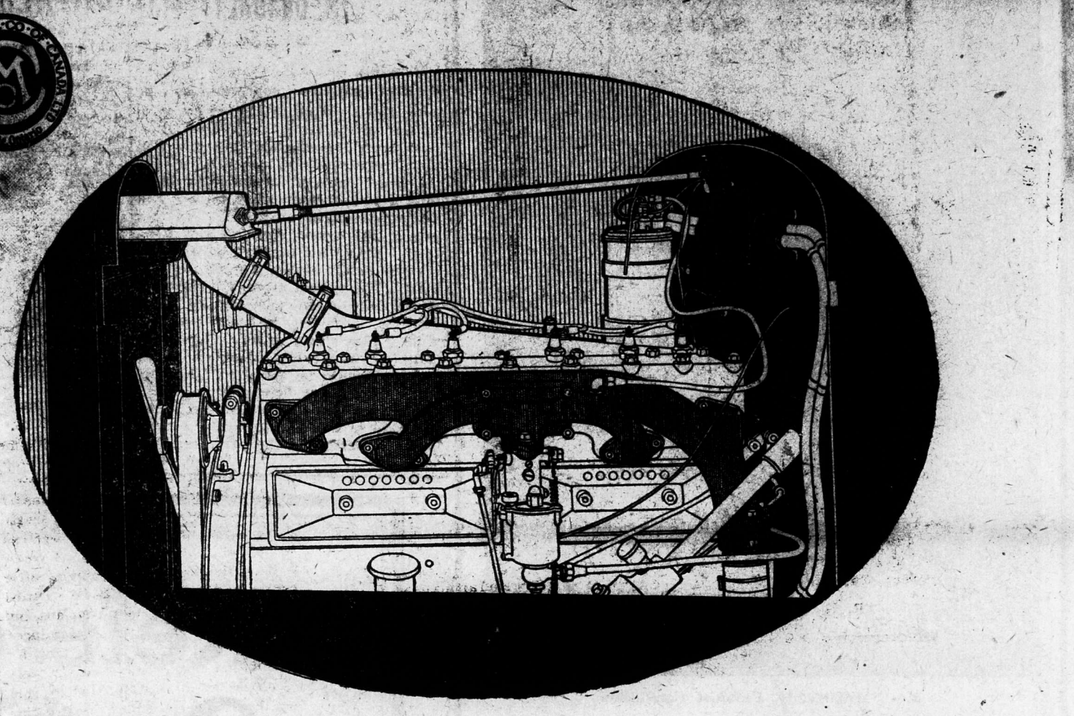
Mr. Hector Allen Stewart, of Tyee Siding, the Liberal Candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election, is a lumberman with large interests in the district. He is opposed to the so-called Union Government, formed nominally by Sir Clifford Sifton and the Big Interests of the East, in the hope that the predatory interests of Canada and the hosts of profiteers that have been fattening on the war pangs of the nation under the guise of patriotism, may be allowed to continue their work as long as the Great War lasts.

He declares that the Conscription Act, introduced at the last moment, on the eve of an election, was designed for the purpose of rescuing a thoroughly discredited Government from certain defeat. This act is unfair as against British Columbia compared with Quebec and some other Eastern Provinces, in that a much greater proportion of our laboring population is being drained and their places being taken by foreigners, mostly Orientals.

We have already sent overseas a greater percentage of our population than any other Province. Exemption tribunals in Quebec, supposed to carry out the policy appointed by the Government and of the Government, are exempting 94 per cent. of all who are applying for exemption, and practically all in Quebec are applying for exemption. This is permitted there, while in B. C., where already 14 per cent. of the population have enlisted, further drafts are being made without regard to equality throughout Canada and without regard to industrial and labor requirements. It is an "Election Act' pure and simple, and not an Act for national service.

Let it be emphasized again that from B. C. we have already sent 14 per cent of our whole white population, while Eastern Provinces have sent from 2½ per cent. to 6 per cent. of their population. Mr. Stewart holds that before B. C. is asked to contribute more men, the proportion of men from the Eastern Provinces should be brought up to B. C.'s present record.

Mr. HECTOR ALLEN STEWART
Tyee Siding.
The Liberal Opposition candidate for the Nanaimo Federal Riding in the forthcoming election who stands opposed to the so-called "50-50" Union Government—a cabinet consisting of fourteen Conservatives and eight Liberals.



Mr. Stewart believes that a truly National Government can and will be formed after the people have expressed themselves at the polls on December 17th, and that, as a result, we will have a thorough organization of the wealth, resources and man and woman power of Canada consecrated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Stewart pledges himself, if elected, to do everything in his power as a Member of Parliament, to win the war and punish profiteers and divert the money more into the hands of the soldiers and their dependents.

Mr. Hector Allen Stewart was born in Prince Edward Island, and came to B. C. as a boy of seven. He was educated in Vancouver and has spent the whole of his life in the Province with the exception of seven years in the Yukon, where he worked as a miner, owned and operated steamboats and ran a sawmill. He was the first man to bring the mail into Dawson in the Winter of 1897-98.

He is resident at Tyee Siding, where he is actively interested in the Eldorado Lumber Co. Among his interests on the Mainland is a large stock farm at Sumas Prairie. He was the largest breeder of registered Shorthorn cattle in B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have two children.

BE A CANADIAN AND SMASH THE PROFITEERS AND THE POLITICAL MACHINE

The Coming of a GREAT ENGINE

It Makes High Power Out of Low Grade Gas

Men who drive cars are face to face with a condition that becomes more and more serious each day.

That condition is the constantly declining grade of gasoline.

Nearly every engineer has said goodbye forever to high-grade gas.

For the moment, and possibly for all time, multi-cylinders, counter balanced crankshafts, and little tricks with valves give way in engineers' discussions to the "gas problem".

Every alert engineer is bending his utmost to make "one drop of gas now do the work of two".

Just as great situations produce great men, so out of this condition has come a great engine.

It is a Chalmers.

It makes high power out of low grade gas.

Compared with other engines of the same size or thereabouts, it shows:

More power — More rapid acceleration
Greater economy — Greater length of life
Greater smoothness

And an amazing ability to start quickly on a cold day, and to "warm up" without delay.

The Chalmers engine is a simple one. That is one reason why it is so good.

In many engines of the moment the gas passes on its way from the carburetor to the cylinder through a tunnel, which runs all the way through the engine block.

Before the gas gets to the cylinder it is forced to turn many sharp angles and does not become completely mixed with the air.

This results in raw gas running into not only one but all the cylinders, particularly when the car is cold, and especially when running for the first five or ten miles.

In the case of the Chalmers engine this type of intake manifold has been completely eliminated.

A new manifold termed "The Ramshorn," has been constructed of simple piping. It is on the exterior of the engine. It is a manifold of easy curves so that there are no sharp corners for the raw gas to lodge against and be pushed into the cylinders.

The next development was to give the gas the proper amount of heat after it came from the carburetor.

What is termed a "hot plate" is built in at the top of the throat of the carburetor so that the gas coming straight up from the carburetor hits the "hot plate", the dimensions of which have been worked out very scientifically, and then passes around the easy curves of the smooth manifold in perfect state of mixture and at the proper temperature to each of the cylinders.

The case of this Chalmers engine has been proved.

1. On August 1 and 2, Joe Dawson drove a Chalmers equipped with this same engine 1,898 miles in 24 hours—faster and farther than anyone ever before had traveled on land, sea or air.

If there's a flaw in pattern, or part, a solid day of bitter, brutal speed will find it.

2. There are over 1,000 Chalmers containing this engine now in use. They check up past all expectations.

Therefore, the Maxwell Motor Company, which has leased The Chalmers Motor Company, has put its O. K. on this engine, and accordingly on the Chalmers car.

90 per cent. of any automobile is the engine; and no car can be a bit better than its engine.

So you are safe in writing your check for a Chalmers.

For Canada and the Empire

J. C. McINTOSH, Unionist Candidate.

To the Electors

Nanaimo Federal Riding

As Unionist Candidate for this Riding, duly selected by Convention as representative of the Liberals and Conservatives, Labour, Win-the-War League, Returned Soldiers, and Farmers, I call upon you in the name of Canada for your whole-hearted support.

We all have a duty to perform, not only to Canada, but to the whole world in the cause of LIBERTY and FREEDOM.

A great National peril has arisen in this WORLD WAR, and the opportunity of choice is here before us to survive as a Democracy or become lost in a state of Feudalism.

Russia is out of the war in a state of Anarchy—the fate of Italy trembling in the balance, with France and the two Anglo-Saxon nations left to bear an almost unsupportable burden.

The great issue before us is a very simple one. Do we wish to retain our nationality? If so, we have come to the point where we must fight for it, with our men, and with all the resources of the whole country. We have given, and we must continue to give, if we wish to survive as a nation.

With compulsory military service there should be the same measure of conscription of wealth. This is not a mere figure of speech,—wealth can be reached as easily as men and can be more readily spared and can be replaced, whereas life cannot be restored.

PROFITEERING MUST CEASE.

It is regrettable that human depravity can be so low as to stoop to the taking of undue and unfair profits on war supplies, when men are giving their lives to the cause of Freedom. This must cease, and I here pledge and charge myself to make war upon those trafficking with the vital resources of the country by conscripting all war profits, past, present, and future.

PARTY GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN THE CAUSE.

UNION GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY.

The remedies are now being applied as witness Government control of packing house profits, and the controlling of food prices.

We have no room for the alien in Canada who is not prepared to be one with us at this time.

Generous provision must be made for the returned soldier, of a constructive nature and not merely temporary.

The avenues of his return to civil life must be kept clear and no obstacle placed in his way.

A better and fairer system of pensioning those who are disabled must be inaugurated, taking into consideration the decreased earning power.

Medical boards ordering such matters, should have had experience at the front.

The welfare of dependents of those on active service must be assured by the country.

LET US TEST THE ISSUE

Would the Germans prefer a Union Government with a fighting Canadian Nation behind it, or a Government fortified only by a referendum?

LET US STAND TOGETHER THEREFORE,—stand as the Romans stood in the days of old, when NONE were for the Party, and ALL were for the State.

BRITISH SPORTSMEN IN CASUALTY LIST

London, Dec. 11.—Names of noted British athletes continue to be sprinkled through the latest casualty lists from the front.

English sportsmen heard with keen regret of the death of David Gallaher, captain of the New Zealand Rugby team, who toured the United Kingdom in 1905. He was one of the brave men of New Zealand. As a wing forward he was frequently foully abused on the field of play. The notion seemed to be that if Gallaher were successfully manhandled half the engagement was won. That was a mistake, for while Gallaher was being attended to F. Roberts would be speeding the ball away in another direction.

Gallaher enlisted when he might easily have avoided doing so, and he came to Europe in the early summer to fight.

Second Lieut. Daniel Drummond, R. N. V. R., who formerly played for Queen's Park, and later for Motherwell, is reported wounded.

Fred Griffiths, formerly goalkeeper for Preston North End, South Shore and Blackpool, has been killed in action. He played for Wales against England and Scotland in 1899-1900.

Second Lieut. Donald Arthur George Buchanan Ryley, North Staffordshire Regiment, a prominent oarsman at Cambridge in the two seasons preceding the war, is officially reported as presumed killed.

Lieut. James Haslam, London Regiment, killed in action in France, was one of the most successful oarsman on the upper Thames during the ten years preceding the war. He stroked the Reading four for the Wyfolds at Henley in 1905, 1906 and 1907, and stroked Reading crews to victory at Molesley, Marlow, Reading, Maidenhead, Henley Town and other regattas.

INSURANCE CLAIMS.

Halifax, Dec. 11.——The interesting question of the settlement of insurance claims has arisen here. It is understood that some insurance experts in Montreal have decided that only those losses which were caused directly by fire should be met.

Ernest F. Boyle, a local barrister, gives the opinion that as the whole disaster was caused by fire on board the Mont Blanc, igniting the cargo of T. N. T., therefore, every loss can be considered as a straight fire loss, and that, therefore, all policy-holders can collect.

TO INTERCHANGE SPEAKERS.

With the American Army in France, Thursday, Dec. 13. — To strengthen mutual sympathies, arrangements have been perfected by which the British Y. M. C. A. in France is to send influential and well-known British public men, such as Viscount Bryce, to speak in the American Y. M. C. A huts. The American Y. M. C. A. in turn will provide well-known American lecturers to speak in the British huts. The interchange of speakers will begin probably about the first of the year.

ITALIAN LINE HOLDING FIRM

Enemy's Third Successive Attempt to Break Through Italian Front Onto Venetian Plains Ended in Failure.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Dec. 13, via Rome and London, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—After three days of fighting on the mountain front between the Brenta and Piave Rivers the enemy is holding some trenches on Col Beretta and the summit of Monte Spinaccia, but all the rest of the Italian line is in its original position. This is the enemy's third successive attack with the object of breaking through to the plains.

The backward season continues to be a strong factor. A downpour in the last two days has filled the Piave, which had nearly run dry, obliterating the water barrier as it existed with the enemy trenches only a few hundred yards away.

The water in the inundated section along the lower Piave also had fallen from five feet to a foot. The rains have effectively flooded it again.

Taking advantage of the lower water, Austrian troops occupied a villa near the Lagoon of Venice, in the vicinity of Borocavallino. The Italian destroyer Sauro managed to work into the lagoon and landed a party of sailors, who destroyed the villa, together with the telephone and machine guns which had been installed.

German Statement.

Berlin, Dec. 14. — At isolated points between the Brenta and Piave Rivers, in Northern Italy, the German War Office announced today, violent artillery fire supported minor operations.

Marine Navigation Company, Ltd., a Canadian company, is reported to have purchased the sailing vessel Juteopolis, built at Dundee, Scotland, in 1891. She was owned by G. Windrum & Company, and is 2,852 net tons.

Referendum Would Leave Our Fighters in the Lurch!

Hon. N. W. Rowell said in Toronto--"On Dec. 17th you must choose a real Union Government, or you must choose a Government that will abolish conscription and leave our men in the lurch!"

IT is imperative that the Canadians at the front be reinforced at the earliest possible moment. Union Government asks for your support that it may continue raising the necessary 100,000 reinforcements from CLASS ONE.

Laurier and his adherents propose delaying the sending of those reinforcements about a year to tinker with a referendum. Modern warfare is a matter of hours and minutes. Armies cannot wait!

Therefore

Support Union Government

Vote for the Unionist Candidate

He represents a Union of those men in both great parties in Canada who place the winning of the war above all else; who are resolved that nothing shall interfere with Canada's participation and who realise that the future history of the Dominion is now being shaped.

The Ballot is a Weapon in Your Hands

Oppose Union Government now and you turn that weapon on your own soldier relative or friend in the trenches. Therein lies the issue and you cannot close your eyes to it—

Vote for the Unionist Candidate and thereby

Defend the Men Who are Defending YOU!

SIGNALS BY S.S. IMO CONTRARY TO RULES

Halifax, Dec. 15.—Jean Baptiste [illegible], chief officer of the ill-fated munitions ship Mont Blanc, testifying today at the resumption of the Government inquiry to determine responsibility for the collision between that vessel and the Belgian relief ship Imo, which caused the Halifax disaster, said that the signals given by the relief ship just before the collision were contrary to the rules of navigation.

Testifying that the munitions ship had followed the rules through the whole happening, he said he was surprised at the signals given by the Imo while the two vessels were heading toward each other in the narrows of Halifax harbor.

FURTHER GAINS FOR ALLENBY

London, Dec. 15.—British troops have made another advance in Palestine northeast of Jerusalem the War Office announced today in the following report:

"General Allenby reports that he further extended his line to the north east of Jerusalem on Thursday, capturing 140 prisoners. Otherwise the situation is unchanged.

"Since Wednesday three enemy aeroplanes have been destroyed and another has been brought down."

OVER 200 HALIFAX PEOPLE BLINDED

Halifax, Dec. 15.—The directors of the Bank of Nova Scotia at a meeting voted $100,000 to the Halifax relief fund.

Sir Frederick Fraser states that a committee for Halifax blind relief work has been formed. He received several letters and telegrams offering help. The situation in Halifax, he says, is appalling, with 210 blinded as the result of the terrific explosion. Sir Frederick says that as a result of careful investigation he believes the estimate of 210 blinded is below rather than above the mark.

WAR COUNCIL ORGANIZED

Washington, Dec. 15.—The organization of a War Council of the War Department to co-ordinate all matters of supplies for the armies at home and overseas and military relations between the armies in the field and the department was announced tonight by Secretary Baker.

The Red Rash of Dyspepsia

Stomach Trouble May Ruin a Most Beautiful Complexion. Prevent Such Disaster with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"It isn't Extreme Care that Preserves my Beauty. It is a good Stomach Kept Sound by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

Hundreds of otherwise pretty girls have a regular stomach face. Little pimples break out. Then bigger ones, all the result of undigested food in a weak digestive system. If these girls would take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after meals the pimples would go away, the skin would be clearer and the pinched, haggard expression would give way to smiles. It isn't what you eat not the quantity, it is the ability of the digestive organs to turn food into pure blood. When food lays in the stomach and sours, ferments, becomes gassy, causes rumblings and belching, there is trouble ahead unless Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are relied upon. Get a 50-cent box today at any druggist and avoid spoiling your complexion.

MEN AND WOMEN OF CANADA

DO YOU realize the momentous duty, the tremendous opportunity your vote places upon you on Monday, December the seventeenth, nineteen hundred and seventeen? Everything is at stake---everything that your forefathers have fought for--everything that you have lived for---every good thing you have hoped for will stand or fall as you vote on December the seventeenth.

This is not an Election It is a Battle with the Hun

Whose cause will be injured WHEN you cast your vote for the Unionist Candidate---The Kaiser's.

Whose cause will be supported WHEN you cast your vote for the Unionist Candidate?----Canada's and the Allies.

Whose cause will be injured IF you vote for Laurier and Bourassa?---Canada's and the Allies.

Whose cause will be supported IF you cast your vote for Laurier and Bourassa---The Kaiser's.

NEVER BEFORE IN THE HISTORY OF THIS GREAT DOMINION HAS SUCH A TERRIBLE CRISIS APPEARED AND YET IT IS CALLED AN ELECTION, AND SOME ELECTORS APPEAR NOT TO UNDERSTAND ITS AWFUL IMPORT. UNION GOVERNMENT, FORMED OF REPRESENTATIVE MEN BOTH LIBERAL AND CONSERVATIVE, HAS REALIZED THAT IN THIS CRISIS PARTY AFFILIATIONS MUST BE CAST ASIDE AND EVERY ENERGY EXPENDED TO WIN THE WAR. ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND REINFORCEMENTS ARE DESPERATELY NEEDED BY OUR MEN IN FRANCE. UNION GOVERNMENT IS PLEDGED TO RAISE THEM UNDER THE JUST PROVISIONS OF THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT, 1917.

YOUR DUTY IS CLEAR

SUPPORT UNION GOVERNMENT

BOURASSA HAS JOINED FORCES WITH LAURIER AS HE KNOWS THAT THE LAURIER POLICY CAN ONLY MEAN ONE THING—QUIT—TAKE CANADA OUT OF THE WAR—BREAK OUR PLEDGE TO THE BRAVE BOYS IN FRANCE—DRAG CANADA'S FAIR NAME IN THE MUD OF WORLD OPINION—AND CLEAR THE ROAD FOR THE KAISER.

Shall Ouebec Force Her Will on Canada?

Quebec, who has spurned her duty to Canada in the war, made Conscription necessary. Had the French-Canadian done his duty under the voluntary system of recruiting, the Military Service Act, 1917, would not be in force today. Are our boys in France and Flanders fighting for the liberties of all the people in Canada, or for only part of the people?

Shall Union Government be returned to power to enforce impartially the Military Service Act and procure the 100,000 reinforcements from ALL of Canada, making each Province do its full duty, or shall Laurier and Bourassa annul the Military Service Act?

IT RESTS WITH YOU----YOU HAVE THE VOTE FOR THE BOYS----OR THE KAISER

Re-Creation of Music Not Merely Its Reproduction

Music's Re-creation is an new art, invented by Thomas A. Edison, whereby all forms of music are actually Re-created, Re-created so perfectly that the trained ear of the musician can detect not the slighest variation in volume, tone or theme.

MR. GLEN ELLISON

one of New York's most famous baritones proved this positively and conclusively on Dec. 6th., when before an audience that completely filled the BALLROOM of the HOTEL VANCOUVER and included many well known NANAIMO people, he sang in direct comparison with

The New Edison

"The Phonograph With a Soul."

Re-Creations of his own voice. The entire audience of over One Thousand were held spellbound by the daring test, and not a single person in the audience could distinguish Mr. Ellison's voice from Edison's Re-Creation of it.

LOCOMOTIVE STRUCK SIR GEORGE FOSTER

Toronto, Dec. 15.—Suffering from a fractured collarbone, a scalp wound and several minor abrasions on the body, Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is confined in a hospital here. Sir George was struck by an engine while walking to his private car in the Union Station yards last night. He was thrown clear of the rails and was able to get back to the station, where a doctor was summoned. He will be confined to the hospital for some days. Sir George passed a good night.

Anyone Can Have Whipped Cream

Pacific Milk is so rich in cream that it whips as easily as most of the fresh cream sold around the Province.

Mrs. McCary of New Westminster wrote in to say that she whips Pacific Milk regularly for a treat for the youngsters for breakfast.

All she does is to set aside the amount she wants in a cool place for a time and then beat it with a seive egg beater. She puts this on toast and gives it to the children for breakfast.

You'll find it is good on cakes and puddings.

Canada Returns the Unionist Government to Power

ONTARIO AND THE WEST MADE CLEAN SWEEP FOR UNIONISTS

Latest Returns Give Majority of 46 Seats for Unionists With 12 Seats to Hear From—French Portion of Canada Went Heavily for Sir Wilfrid Laurier While English Constituencies Have Supported Borden and Unionist Measures

Provinces.	Unionist.	Liberal.
Prince Edward Island	Nil	4
Nova Scotia	7	7
New Brunswick	6	5
Quebec	3	62
Ontario	72	10
Manitoba	13	1
Saskatchewan	16	Nil
Alberta	8	Nil
British Columbia	10	Nil
Yukon	Nil	Nil
TOTAL	135	89

There are two deferred elections in Nova Scotia, one in Manitoba and one in the Yukon. Eight seats are still in doubt, one in Manitoba, four in Alberta and three in British Columbia.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—The Union government has been returned and conscription confirmed by the Canadian domestic vote.

Returns received from all over Canada indicate that the Government of Sir Robert Borden has been elected to administer Canadian affairs for another five years and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is as definitely defeated as in the Reciprocity election of 1911.

Returns indicate that the French portion of Canada has gone heavily for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and English constituencies have returned men who will support the Union government measures and maintain Premier Borden in office.

The vote has been very heavy everywhere and the majorities are very large. The soldier vote which will not be ascertained for some days, will increase the already heavy majority of the government members and will probably increase the number of government supporters elected.

Official returns announced shortly before midnight, showed that with 8 districts to be heard from Unionists had won 135 seats and the Opposition 89, with four deferred.

Some of the Returns.

Westminster District—Steacey, Unionist, elected.

Practically complete returns are Steacy 1912, Ramsay, Liberal, 1025.

New Brunswick—Govt.—Charlotte Carleton, Victoria, St. John (2), York-Sunbury and Royal. Total six.

Opposition. Gloucester, Kent, Northumberland, Westmoreland and Restigouche, Madawaska. Total 5.

Burrard, three polls to hear from, —Crowe, 9,368; Donnelly, 4,496; Midgley 1,668.

Vancouver, South—7 polls to hear from: Cooper 4,133; McDonald 1,937; McVety, 1045; Gold 42.

Vancouver, Centre—Eight polls to hear from: Stevens 6,759; McInnes 4,474; Pritchard 737.

All three Unionist candidates elected.

Brantford elected Cockshutt, Unionist by big majority.

Quebec. Final majority, Dorchester Cannon, Liberal, 4,300.

Temiscouati, Gauvreau, Liberal, majority, 5,000.

Kamouraska, Que., Lapointe, Liberal, 5,000 majority.

South Winnipeg. Thirty-nine polls out of 45 give Allan, Unionist, majority of 12,000.

Champlain, Quebec. Desoultlier, Liberal, defeats Blondin government by 486 majority. Opposition gain.

Montreal. The final result of the voting in New Brunswick gives the government six and the opposition 6.

Fort William city polls, complete. Stewart, Unionist, 4873; Rollo Liberal, 3377; McLaren 2084.

Toronto, Unionists returned in all Toronto constituencies and east, west and South York.

In South Toronto, Dr. Sheard, Unionist, elected by 3,000 majority.

North Toronto. Sir Geo. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, will have a majority of approximately 11,000 over J. M. Young, Liberal, in East Toronto, with only 15 sub-divisions to hear from. Sir Edward Kemp, overseas Minister of Militia, has a majority over J. T. Vick, labor candidate, of 6,000.

Westmoreland. Copp, Liberal, elected, majority about 100; no change

Kent County. A. T. Leger, Liberal, elected by about 1600 majority. Liberal gain.

Toronto. All the Torontos and Yorks, ten in all, have returned government supporters, except North York, where returns are incomplete.

Parksdale, where Major McCormack, soldier conscription is running, may have elected him instead of Mowatt, government.

Wentworth, Ont. Wilson, Unionish, elected by 1000 majority.

MacDonald, Manitoba. Henders, Unionist, elected by large majority.

Sunbury, N.B. McLeod, Unionist, elected by 1700 majority.

Quebec, West. Geo. Parent, opposition, elected.

PEACE CONFERENCE NOW OPENED

Armistice Signed Between the Bolsheviki and the Germans is to Continue Indefinitely.

London, Dec. 17.—With the going into effect at noon today of the armistice agreement between the Bolsheviki government in Russia and the Central Powers, the emissaries of the two sides were to begin peace negotiations looking toward peace between Russia and her former enemies, according to an official statement issued in Berlin.

The armistice is to continue for 28 days and for an indefinite period afterward, unless a seven-day notice is given. Both sides agreed not to carry on military transfers affecting the eastern theatre except those begun when the treaty was signed.

Newspapers here forecast that the Allies will give recognition of the the Bolsheviki "in order to prevent Russia from passing under the political and economic heel of Germany."

The British government is said to have decided to release Tchitcherin, a Russian political prisoner, and the Bolsheviki now are permitting British subjects to leave Russia. To the American delegates at the Paris Conference is said to belong the credit for the tempering of the attitude of the Allies toward the Bolsheviki.

Labor strikes appear to be the great obstacle before the Bolsheviki at present, especially in the Petrograd district. The railway and fuel situation are serious. The counter-revolt is still more or less of a menace to the Bolsheviki authority, and the Constituent Assembly is another knotty problem. The confiscation of all property, lands and money of the Russian Church has been decreed by the Bolsheviki, who also have abolished all privileges of the clergy.

Berlin, Dec. 17.——An armistice agreement between the Bolsheviki government in Russia and the Teutonic allies was signed Saturday, according to an official statement issued here yesterday, which said:

"An armistice agreement was signed at Brest-Litovsk yesterday by representatives of the Russian army administration on the one hand and those of the army administrations of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey on the other. The armistice will begin at noon, December 17, and will remain in force until January 14, 1918, and unless seven days' notice is given, will continue in force automatically. It will extend to all the land, air and naval forces on the common fronts.

"According to Clause 9 of the treaty, peace negotiations are to begin immediately after the signing of an armistice."

ACTIVE ON THE ITALIAN FRONT

Only Infantry Fighting of the Day Is Reported From the Northern Italian Front—German Naval Force Made Foray.

London, Dec. 17.—A period of virtual inactivity continued in France and Belgium, except for reciprocal bombardments on various sectors, and here and there small operations by reconnoitring parties.

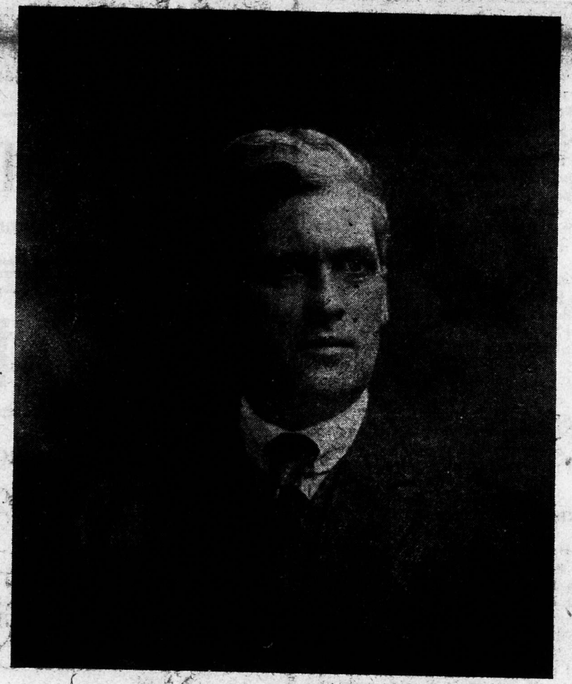
Only on the northern Italian front has there been sanguinary encounters between the opposing infantry, and in those the Austro-German forces again have met with defeat in attempts to pierce the Italian front and advance toward the Venetian plains. Caprille Hill at the head of the San Lorenzo Valley where last week the Italians were forced to cede ground again has been attacked by the enemy, but the operation brought him nothing but heavy casualties as he was driven back to his former line.

German naval forces again have made a foray into the North Sea and surprised a convoy of British ships, sinking one British and five neutral vessels and four mine sweepers. Of the two British destroyers escorting the vessels, one was sunk and the other damaged. The German forces so far as is known, consisted of four destroyers, and whether any of their vessels were hit during the fighting with British destroyers is not known

That German war craft recently have been operating close to the English coast was made known officially in the House of Commons by Financial Secretary to the Admiralty who announced that on December 12, two neutral merchantmen and a trawler were sunk off the mouth of the Tyne River.

The official text of the armistice between the Russians and the Teutonic Allies confirms official reports that it is to run from December 17th to January 14th. The compact embraces all the fighting fronts where Russian troops have been engaged and also extends to naval forces of the contracting parties.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON HAREWOOD ROAD



Alexander Rowan, who, for some time past, has been employed as a driver for the Auto Transfer Co., had what might have been a serious accident on Saturday night. While on the way to Harewood with four passengers, his car took a bad skid nearly opposite the bridge between the two city dams, and owing to the bad turn, the narrowness of the road and its greasy state after the prevailing rains, the car skidded through the rail of the bridge side on and landed right side up in the sluice way between the two dams. With the exception of a few cuts his passengers were uninjured. Rowan escaped with a broken rib and severe bruises on the back which confined him to his bed for two days. Rowan's passengers stated that he slowed up to between ten and fifteen miles an hour at the turn and their escape from serious injury they attribute to the slowing down of the car on the turn. Expert opinion states that the car could not have been making over ten miles an hour or it would have been smashed to kindling, and the passengers killed or very badly hurt. Outside of a broken wheel, radiator and fenders bent, the car is not seriously damaged.

The Local Temple of Pythian Sisters voted $15 to the Halifax Relief Fund and not $50 as erroneously stated in these columns in Sunday's issue.

NANAIMO ELECTORS.

Victoria, Dec. 17.—The free born citizens of Nanaimo District have spoken with the voice of their forefathers who gave them the liberties which they have so ably defended. The call of our soldier heroes in France and Flanders has been answered. My thanks to the men who, despite party ties, saw their clear duty to their country.

J. C. McINTOSH.

Mr. J. C. McINTOSH

Unionist Candidate elected in Nanaimo Federal Riding by a Majority Which, When Final Returns Are in, Will Exceed 4,000.

MADE A RECORD

The town of Virden, Manitoba, made a record for the West, giving 508 to 11 for the Unionists.

WOULD FIGHT FOR RED CROSS FUND

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 17.—Jess Willard announced tonight that he would re-enter the prize ring for the benefit of the Red Cross.

He declared he would defend his title against any person anywhere, and at any time, the sole provision being that all of the receipts should go to the Red Cross.

TO TALK PEACE WITH RUSSIANS

Amsterdam, Dec. 17.— Richard von Kuchlman, German Foreign Secretary, says a Berlin dispatch, is proceeding to Brest Litovsk, during the course of the week to take part in peace negotiations with Russia.

DOWN TO VOTE ON HIS EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

Mr. W. F. Archibald, Selby Street, yesterday celebrated his 80th birthday, and was down town to cast his ballot for the Unionist candidate. Mr. Archibald has been in B. C. 42 years, and prior to his retiring to private life was manager of the local C.P.R. Telegraph office. Despite his four score years, Mr. Archibald is enjoying fairly good health.

NO CHANGE ALONG BRITISH FRONT

Heavy Artillery Fighting Occurred in the Vosges—German Lines Raided in Vicinity of St. Quentin.

London, Dec. 17.—"There is nothing of importance to report," says a report from Field Marshal Haig issued here today.

Paris, Dec. 17.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night in the Vosges, the War Office here reported this afternoon. French troops successfully raided the German lines in the vicinity of St. Quentin.

The announcement follows:

"We made a successful raid on the enemy lines south of St. Quentin.

"Our patrols carried out operations on the right bank of the Meuse and brought back prisoners.

"In the Vosges the artillery activity was intense in the region of Lathur.

"On the remainder of the front the night was calm."

Washington, Dec. 17.—Reports heralding an imposing German offensive on the Western front are attributed to "hold enemy advertising" by Secretary of War Baker in his weekly review of the military situation published today.

"The German higher command apparently is eager to have us believe it is about to win a great victory, says the statement, "but no element in the military situation should lead us to conclude that the initiative in the West has passed from the Allies to the enemy."

The review is devoted largely to the German advertising of the impending great offensive.

LIGHT INFANTRY CHAPTER SENT SUPPLIES TO FRONT

This week the Light Infantry Chapter, I.O.D.E. South Wellington, dispatched 6 cases of jam for the front. With the 6 cases already sent this makes a total of 576 pounds made by members and their friends in South Wellington and neighborhood. Twenty-eight parcels containing cake, etc, and 24 boxes of candy are now on their way to local boys in the fighting line.

At a recent meeting of the Chapter, it was decided to send a cake, mince meat and cranberries to the Convalescent Home at Qualicum for Christmas, Mrs. Brodie kindly offering to make the cake.

The Nanaimo Federal Riding assisted in the return of the Unionist government to power by electing J. C. McIntosh, the Unionist candidate by a handsome majority, the vote at midnight being McIntosh 3961; H. A. Stewart (Liberal) 1167, and Joseph Taylor (Labor) 904.

There are still 31 polls to hear from, every one of which will increase McIntosh's total, and when the final figures are in his majority will be in excess of 4,000, the largest majority ever given a candidate in this district. Nanaimo City, which includes the Five Acres, Chase River and Brechin, polled 2139 votes, of which number McIntosh received 1,209; Stewart, 507, and Taylor, 423. Esquimalt and Duncan gave big majorities for the successful candidate and in only one poll, that of South Wellington, was the Liberal candidate given a majority over his opponents.

Both the Liberal and Labor candidates lose their deposits.

CARD OF THANKS

The I.O.D.E. Light Infantry Chapter, South Wellington, desires to tender a cordial vote of thanks to the merchants of Nanaimo and South Wellington for their generous contributions to the Masquerade Ball held on Hallowe'en Night.

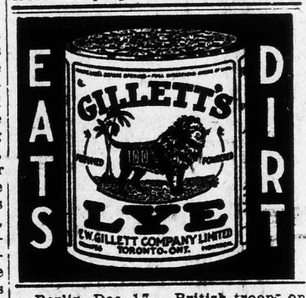
THE ELECTION.



At the time of writing it seems clear that the official estimates of the election will be confirmed and that the unionist government will be returned by a majority of around forty seats which is better than was expected. Quebec, as was expected, went solidly for Laurier, while the English-speaking provinces were firmly behind the union government. It is too early as yet to discuss the causes of the Quebec slide. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has said that he still believed that recruits could be obtained from his native province by the voluntary system if a proper campaign was organised. As to this it may be said that the war has now been going for over three years, and Quebec has had the same chance as the other provinces to rally to the flag. It also follows that if Sir Wilfrid believes that better results could be obtained, he has not done all he could while the war has been going on. There is no other alternative, and he must, more than any other man in the Dominion of Canada, take the responsibility for the conditions existing in Quebec. As it stands now, Quebec stands alone among the provinces in the Dominion in its opposition to Canada's participation in the war. For this, in the last resort, is what the issue in the election amounted to. Had Laurier been returned to power, Quebec would have been the dominating influence in the government, and it would have mant quitting in the war.

Canada has indeed escaped one of the greatest dangers with which it has ever been confronted. Not only the honor of the Dominion was at stake as a nation, but the faith of its people with the boys at the front. Just imagine what would have been the condition had Laurier been elected? There would have been no more reinforcements for the boys at the front. As a matter of fact the whole war effort of Canada would have been arrested. With the feeling in Quebec as it it, and Laurier elected even by a small majority, there would have been no other alternative for Canada than quitting. The old Liberal chieftain covered the issue up as well as he could, but the only issue in the election was "carrying on." or quitting, and it is good to think that the people of Canada have shown by their votes today that they are not a race of quitters.

So far as the province of British Columbia is concerned it has done well. The only doubtful seat is Prince Rupert, which, at the present writing appears to be a Liberal seat as distinct from a unionist seat. The most gratifying feature in the election in the province so far as the people of Nanaimo are concerned is the handsome majority by which Mr. McIntosh was returned. Mr. McIntosh was a stranger to Nanaimo, and the best he asked for was an even break. Nanaimo came through away ahead of all expectations, more than justifying the views we have all along expressed that in this supreme test she would measure up to standard. It was not to be expected that a city, which, a week or two ago took the blue ribbon in the whole Dominion of Canada for its subscriptions to the Victory Loan would fall behind on election day. Nanaimo is for the war and for winning the war.

Another gratifying feature is the defeat of the great W. W. B. McInnes. In a sense he is a Nanaimo man, and quite a number of Nanaimo people have a very soft spot in their hearts for the silvery-tongued William. We were told here a few days before the close of the campaign that the betting in his favor in Vancouver was 4 to 1. The information was all wrong. McInnes was badly beaten in Vancouver, and there seems little chance of his being elected for Comox-Atberni. We can only say that all those who had the interests of the Dominion at heart will be delighted with the results. Mr. McInnes had never any reason to be in this election. He was in it purely and simply for himself and purely and simply as a politician of the old gang. He got off wrong, and we are glad that he finished wrong. If any man in the Dominion of Canada got what was coming to him, then it was the great W. W. B. McInnes. He had not realised that the times had changed since he used to pull off his political stunts, but now he will have leisure enough on his hands to take it to heart.

For the rest, Canada has come through the crucible as we thought it would. What the results will be we cannot say. Quebec, backed by all the influence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has taken its own course, and it is not the course of the rest of Canada. Here is a clash which must be settled and settled at once. It was entirely due to the action of Sir Wilfrid that this election was held, and he must abide by the result of it. Canada has decided that it will "carry on" in the war, and it is now up to the government to see that it "Carries on." Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues could not have hoped for a more encouraging message than this they have received from the people of Canada.

Berlin, Dec. 17.—British troops on the Italian front yesterday launched an attack against the Austro-German lines south of Monte Fantana Secce, but it broke down before the Teuton positions, the German War Office announced today.

TURK NOT WANTED.

Rome, Dec. 17.—According to the Messagerom, the Pope has addressed a circular letter to all Bishops in belligerent countries declaring that if any Christian state aids the Turks in an attempt to retake Jerusalem, it will be condemned by the Holy See.

In These War Times you want real food that contains the greatest amount of body-building material at lowest cost. The whole wheat grain is all food. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the whole wheat in a digestible form. Made in Canada

NOW—ALL TOGETHER.

Oh, give three cheers and a tiger too,
For the Right has won again;
And the good old town has proved to all
That it stands by its fighting men.

We have fought the Hun and the Lau rierite,
The slacker and Socialist too;
We fought—and won—and our boys will know
That the old town has "come through."

We cast our votes for our flesh and blood—
Those gallant lads and true—
Who fight—and die—for Canada.
And the old Red, White and Blue.

So give three cheers with a three times three,
For the Right has won again;
And our boys will know that the good old town
Is true to its fighting men.

MINISTER HOPES FOR UNIONIST TRIUMPH

Ottawa, Dec. 17.—Sir Robert Borden has received the following message from Mr. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia:

"Melbourne, Dec. 15, 1917.

"Sir Robert Borden,

"Prime Minister, Ottawa:

"I earnestly hope that the electors of the Dominion will give you and your government a triumphant majority in order that Canada may put forth her full strength in this mighty struggle between liberty and despotism."

It is reported from Ainsworth that the men who were engaged in constructing a wagon road from Kootenay Lake up Coffee Creek toward the Eden-Crescent mine, have had to discontinue work for the winter before the road was completed.

Anyone Can Have Whipped Cream

Pacific Milk is so rich in cream that it whips as easily as most of the fresh cream sold around the Province.

Mrs. McCary of New Westminster wrote in to say that she whips Pacific Milk regularly for a treat for the youngsters for breakfast.

All she does is to set aside the amount she wants in a cool place for a time and then beat it with a seive egg beater. She puts this on toast and gives it to the children for breakfast.

You'll find it is good on cakes and puddings.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,

DOMINION THEATRE

Mae Marsh, who is appearing in her third Goldwyn, starring vehicle, "The Cinderella man," from the famous stage success of the same name by Edward Childs Carpenter, at the Dominion Theatre, enjoys the distinction of being the one motion picture artist who is so versatile that critics have been unable to find a phrase describing her in all of her plays. She has beene called, among other nicknames "The whim girl of the screen," "the girl of a thousand faces," "the quaint actress," "the girl who has everything," "a song without words," "the chameleon of the screen," "the goddess behind the mist," "the Bernhardt of the screen," and "Ellen Terry at seventeen."

BIJOU THEATRE

George Walsh is making a big hit in the Fox Feature Film "Melting Millions," which heads the bill at the Bijou today. Those who like the athletic type of hero, who throws around men as if they were footballs, certainly get their money's worth in Mr. Walsh. Anna Luther makes a delightful heroine and the supporting cast is up to every requirement. There is also a two-reel Fox comedy on the programme, which furnishes an abuadance of laughs.

HANDED OVER TO NEXT COUNCIL

Task of Raising Funds to Repair Athletic Club Property is Referred to the Incoming Council for Attention.

The City Council at last night's meeting decided to hand over to next year's Council the task of providing the money to put the Athletic Club building into condition for the use of the citizens of Nanaimo, who a few months ago voted for the purchase of the property with the object of making use of the same as a community centre.

The question was brought to the attention of the Council in the form of a report by the Council's Athletic Club Committee which, after making a thorough investigation of the premises recommended an expenditure thereon of $1450.

Ald. Harding moved, seconded by Ald. Forrester that the recommendation of the committee be adopted.

In moving an amendment that the report of the Committee be received and filed and the question of repairing the building referred to next year's Council, Ald. Coburn informed his confreres he had looked into the condition of the city's finances and found it was absolutely impossible to raise the necessary funds out of current revenue much as he would like to see the building put into condition for the use of the citizens.

Ald. Ferguson seconded the amendment and in doing so stated he could not see where the money was to come from for in his opinion it would require from $150 to $200 to repair the roof in addition to the amount asked for by the committee.

Ald Forrester remarked he would like to see the building put into shape for use and Ald. Harding stated, as one of the Committee, the only thing for him to do was to put the question up to the Council. The committee, he stated, had been asked to make an investigation of the premises and report to the Council, and had done so, but he realized the situation and, considering the present Council was nearing the end of its term, he was in favor of referring the question to the incoming Board.

His Worship remarked it was an unusual thing to vote a heavy expenditure at the end of the year, especially when the estimates at the commencement of the year showed practically no money available for necessary expenditure on streets..

Ald. Sharp realized the need for putting the building into condition for use, but since learning the condition of the finances he was in favor of letting the necessary expenditure stand over to next year.

The amendment to refer the matter to next year's Council was then put to the meeting and adopted.

A communication was received from Mr. George W. Beattie, manager of the Dominion Theatre, complaining that by reason of repair work which city workmen had done on Skinner street, water was running onto the theatre premises, converting it into a veritable bog, and seriously interfering with the furnace in the basement of the theatre.

Ald. Ferguson informed the Council the matter had been attended to and the communication was received and filed.

A communication was received from Mrs. Margaret Porter, secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Nanaimo Hospital, inviting the members of the Council and their wives to visit the hospital on Christmas Day between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. on the occasion of an entertainment which was to be given for the patients.

The invitation was accepted on motion of Ald. Coburn, seconded by Ald. Forrester.

A communication was received from Mr. Kaplansky, the Mayor ruling that it be not read, as it was of a personal nature and had nothing to do with the affairs of the Council.

The Street Foreman reported an expenditure on streets during the past two weeks of $139, and the Water Works Manager reported an expenditure of $144.35 during the same period.

His Worship reported the Council sitting as a Committee of the whole to consider the question of subscriptions to the Halifax Relief Fund, had appointed sub-committees which had interviewed the managements of the local and South Wellington mines as a result of which collections were being taken up at both places, and he had been informed had met with a liberal response. The Mayor also reported the Canadian Explosives Co. had donated $160.50 and a number of local organizations had also contributed, lists having also been opened at the local banks, newspaper offices and City Hall, and would close on Saturday after which a full report would be made.

Under the heading of new business Ald. Ferguson replied to certain criticisms of the Returned Soldiers' Reception Committee which was contained in a recent issue of the Free Press. As chairman of said committee, Ald. Ferguson related the handicap the committee faced in not knowing definitely as to the time of the arrival of returned soldiers, the committee on a number of occasions being on hand to welcome soldiers home only to find they had stayed over in Vancouver or go on to Victoria.

Ald. Harding stated the present arrangements were very unsatisfactory as it was impossible to know the exact date upon which the returned men would arrive.

His Worship expressed the opinion that Ald. Ferguson and the Committee had been faithful in their duties and that if one soldier received a different reception than another it was by reason of conditions over which the committee had no control. He felt some arrangement could be made whereby a reunion of the returned soldiers could be held at stated periods and by this means the community could be kept in touch with the boys who returned to the mutual benefit of all.

TEUTONS ANXIOUS FOR EARLY PEACE

Germany and Austria-Hungary Will Lose No Time in Bringing About a Separate Peace with the Bolsheviki

London, Dec. 18.—Germany and Austria-Hungary apparently will lose no time in bringing about a separate peace with the Bolsheviki government in Russia, now that the armistice between the two sides has become effective. Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German Foreign Secretary, and Count Czernin, the Austrian Foreign Minister, were to arrive at Breest-Litovsk today to begin negotiations looking toward peace.

A semi-official statement issued in Vienna declares that the Central Powers will follow up the armistice "as speedily as possible" with peace parleys, and it is added that Bulgaria and Turkey also will join in the negotiations.

According to Petrograd advices, Leon Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, has notified the Allied Embassies that peace negotiations are to begin and asked them to participate or state whether they wish peace An informal conference of the Allied diplomats is said to have reached no definite decision on the subpect.

There has been virtually no change in the internal situation in Russia.

Petrograd, Dec. 17, via London, Dec. 18.—The German and Austrian Foreign Ministers, Dr. von Kuehlmann and Count Czernin, have notified Leon Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, that they will arrive at Brest-Litovsk Tuesday to begin negotiations for a general European peace.

The evening newspapers announce that Trotsky has notified the Allied Embassies that the armistice has reached definite results and that peace negotiations will begin and asked them to participate or to state whether they wish peace or not.

Up to this evening the Embassies had not received the communication and an informal conference of the Allied diplomats is reported to have reached no decision.

BORDEN CABLES PREMIER HUGHES

Wishes Australia Every Success in Its Splendid Campaign for Reinforcements for Heroic Australian Army.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—Premier Borden has sent the following cable to Premier Hughes of Australia:

"In yesterday's election the enforcement of compulsory military service to sustain Canada's effort in the war and to provide adequate reinforcements for the Canadian army corps was directly in issue. The government has been sustained by a majority of at least 50, which probably will be increased to 60 by the soldiers' vote. The democracy of Canada has magnificently sustained the highest test of its courage, vision, and endurance. Canada has watched Australia's magnificent effort with the deepest admiration, and we send the warmest wishes for every success in the splendid campaign now being carried on in your country to provide reinforcements for the heroic Australian forces whose wonderful achievements in the cause of Liberty and civilization brought world wide distinction to your great commonwealth.

"(Signed) BORDEN."

PORTUGESE ARE TRUE TO ALLIES

New Government's Attitude Defined in Statement Issued at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The allegiance of the new Government of Portugal was pledged to the Allied cause to-day in a statement issued at the Portuguese legation here, which also denied that the recent revolution had been brought about in the interests of Germany. The statement follows:

"Efforts are being made in certain quarters to suggest the idea that the recent revolution in Portugal was carried out in the interest of the monarchy, with the assistance of the Spanish and other foreign elements, and that it was essentially a movement in favor of Germany and against the Allies.

"There is not a scintilla of truth in any one of these suggestions. They are merely one more device of the all-pervading German propoganda intended to sow dissension among the Allies. Their character can easily be appraised by noting the quarters in which they are put forth.

"The foreign policy of the new Portuguese Government rests and will continue to rest on the maintenance of alliance with England in hearty co-operation with the other Allies.

"The hostile attitude of the German press towards the new situation in Portugal and the bombardment of the Portuguese port of Funchal by a German submarine directly the success of the revolution became known clearly show the flimsy nature of the German propaganada's latest strategem."

SNOW FALLING ON THE BRITISH FRONT

London, Dec. 18.—Snow has falling heavily on the British front in France and only small isolated raids have occupied the infantry. The gunners on both sides are active.

A report from Field-Marshal Haig, issued here to-day said:

"There is nothing of special interest to report."

French Report.

Paris, Dec. 18.— Heavy artillery fighting continues on the eastern end of the French front near the Rhone-Rhine Canal, according to an official report issucd here this afternoon, which says:

"Our patrols carried out operations in the region of St. Quentin and brought back prisoners.

"South of Juvinocourt enemy efforts directed against our small posts were repulsed by our fire.

NIGHT SCHOOL STUDENTS SPENT SOCIAL EVENING

The students of the Nanaimo Night School together with a number of their friends spent a social time last evening in the Foresters' Hall, a concert, supper and dance providing entertainment up to an early hour this morning.

Principal Hughes presided, and during the course of the evening a splendid program of vocal and instrumental selections was rendered.

J. A. CAMPBELL, B.A.
Unionist Candidate in The Pas, Manitoba. The election in this constituency has been deferred. Campbell's election in view of the result Monday in Manitoba, is conceded.

RAIDED ENGLAND

London, Dec. 18.—German airplanes raided English coast towns tonight. Some of the raiders reached London where they were met with heavy fire. Numerous bombs were dropped.

GOVT. MAJORITY IS INCREASED

Additional Election Returns Show Unionist Majority in Commons will Probably Reach Fifty.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—Additional returns from the West and other parts of the Dominion do not indicate much change in the result of federal general elections. It looks as if the number of Laurier supporters elected in the West may be increased from one to three.

In Skeena, B.C., Stork, the Liberal, has a lead of about 500 over his Unionist opponent. Colonel Peck, while White, Liberal candidate in Alberta, has a lead of 59 with 61 out of 195 polls heard from. Should these two seats finally go to the Liberals, the result in the various provinces is likely to be approximately as follows:

Prince Edward Island—Unionist, none; Liberal, 4.

Nova Scotia—Unionist, 5; Liberal, 9; deferred 2 (Halifax).

New Brunswick—Unionist 6; Liberal, 5.

Quebec—Unionist 3; Liberal, 62.

Ontario—Unionist, 72; Liberal 10.

Manitoba—Unionist 13; Liberal 1; deferred, 1 (Nelson).

Saskatchewan—Unionist 16; Liberal, 0.

Alberta—Unionist, 11; Liberal, 1;

British Columbia——Unionist, 12; Liberal, 1.

Assuming that these figures are correct, the government, apart from the three deferred elections mentioned and the Yukon, will have 138 supporters, as against 93, a majority of 45. Should the deferred elections result favorably to the government, the majority would be increased to 49, and Unionists claim that it is likely to be still further augmented by the soldiers' vote.

The last parliament, elected on Sept. 21, 1911, consisted of 221 members, of whom 134 were Conservatives and 87 Liberals, the majority when the House met being 47 for the government. Owing to vacancies this had decreased to about thirty at the last session.

Later returns still further emphasize what was probably the most striking feature of the election, namely, the large majorities secured by Unionist candidates in the English-speaking provinces and by Liberals in Quebec.

It is altogether likely that more candidates will lose their deposits in this election than at any previous contest.

Returns of the overseas and North American naval and military vote, will not be available for five or six weeks. Votes cast on the continent of Europe will be allocated to the various constituencies and counted at the office of the Canadian commissioner in France at Paris; those cast in England will be allocated and counted at the office of the high commissioner for Canada in London. The results will be reported by cable to the general returning officer at Ottawa. Military votes cast in Canada will be counted at Ottawa.

KERENSKY IS NEAR PETROGRAD

Heavy Fighting is Taking Place in the Don Region and Reinforcements Have Been Sent from Petrograd by the Bolsheviki.

London, Dec. 18.—Reports of the Russian internal situation indicate that fighting is continuing in the Don region and that reinforcements have been sent south from Petrograd.

A Kiev dispatch reports that during the disarming of Maximalist units there Ukrainian troops seized 72 cannon, 350 machine guns and five million cartridges.

It is stated in other advices that Russian government commissioners are drafting an ultimatum addressed to the Ukraine Rade recognizing the independence of Ukraine, but demanding an immediate expression of the Rade's attitude toward the Bolsheviki authorities.

Copenhagen, Dec. 18.—A report that M. Kerensky, former Premier of Russia, supported by some thousands of troops, has appeared in the vicinity of Petrograd is contained in a dispatch from Haparanda, in Sweden at the Finnish frontier, to the Berlingske. The Bolsheviki are said to have sent troops against him.

FLOOD CAUSED HEAVY LOSS

Heavy Rains Caused Englishman's River to Flood, Resulting in Big Loss to Mr. Marriott.

The heavy rains of last Saturday caused Englishman's river to go into flood, causing considerable damage along its course with heavy financial loss to Mr. Walter Marriott to the extent of many thousands of dollars. Mr. Marriott's loss consists of a new 90-foot scow with all the necessary loading machinery, lumber camps, skid roads, booms, cedar timber and shingle bolts, all of which were swept out into the Gulf of Georgia and scattered to all points of the compass, none of which has as yet been recovered. The river rose no less than 9 feet in the one day and was at its height at 10 p. m.

Saturday's loss was the second Mr. Marriott has sustained by reason of floods within three weeks.

D. TWEEDHOPE IS MISSING

Well Known Nanaimo Men Went out Duck Hunting Monday and Was Overtaken by Heavy Storm.

Fears are entertained for the safety of Daniel Tweedhope, son of Mr. N. Tweedhope, of Nicol street, who went out in a skiff Monday hunting ducks near Beaver Creek Point and has not been seen or heard of since.

The missing man, who was employed by Mr. Charles Hardy at his mill at Beaver Creek, after casting his ballot on Monday, went out for a duck hunt in a 14 foot green skiff. Shortly after his departure from the camp a heavy gale sprang up, the storm continuing throughout the afternoon and night and upon his failing to return a search was instituted but without finding any trace of the man or boat.

The Provincial Police Office was informed yesterday of the occurrence and a search is to be made today of the gulf in the vicinity of Beaver Creek, the probability being that Tweedhope was driven by the gale onto some island in that vicinity.

ITALY CALLS MORE MEN TO THE COLORS

Rome, Dec. 18.—New contingents have been called up by the Government. The classes of troops already moblized consist of all eligible and fit men between the agos of 18 and 43.

BORDEN PLEASED AT THE RESULT

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—Sir Robert Borden to-day issued a statement expressing his satisfaction with the result of the general election and thanking both Conservatives and Liberals for the efforts they made on behalf of the Union Government. He said:

"The people of Canada have fully realized and splendidly fulfilled their duty. The Union Government will have a majority of at least 50 in the new Parliament. The result of the soldiers' votee is not yet known, but it may increase the majority to 60 or more.

"It was not a party victory in any sense. If party lines are to be taken in account, it is triumph as much for the Liberal party who worked so strenuously and with such magnificent results in every province except one are to be congratulated equally with the Conservatives, who, regardless of party affiliations, supported and elected Unionist-Liberal candidates in many ridings.

Sitting as a Judge of Appeal under the Military Service Act His Honor Judge Barker yesterday morning heard four appeals against the findings af the local exemption tribunals. James Rollo and W. H. Coates, both of Gabriola Island, were granted exemptions until July 1, 1918, on the grounds that the industry of farming in which they were engaged, was essential to the country's needs. Thos. Douglas was declared to be not subject to call owing to medical unfitness, and the appeal of Peter Aitken was disallowed.

TEUTONS AGAIN ON OFFENSIVE

Austro-Germans Throw Themselves Against the Italian Line with Usual Fierceness in Utter Disregard of Heavy Losses.

London, Dec. 18.—Various reports continue to come in with regard to operations of revolutionary and counter revolutionary forces in their struggle for supremacy, but out of the maze it is impossible to gain an accurate idea which side to the controversy is in the ascendency. Meanwhile preliminary peace discussions between the Bolsheviki representatives and delegates of the Teutonic allies are in progress at Brest-Litovsk. Real negotiations having in view the bringing about of peace and the consequent retirement of the Russian army as a belligerent against the Teutonic Allies, are expected to begin next Tuesday.

The German and Austrian foreign ministers both astute politicians, are speeding toward Brest Litovsk to take part in the parley, and in the battle of wits which will take place it probably is reasonable to infer that the Teutonic Allied representatives will not be at disadvantage in dealing with the Bolsheviki.

On none of the battle fronts, except that in northern Italy are military operations of great magnitude ensuing. Heavy snow and bad weather generally brought fighting almost to a standstill on the western front in France and Belgium, except for small encounters by outposts and reciprocal bombardments.

On the Italian front around Monte Solarolo, the Austro-Germans again have taken up a vigorous offensive, throwing their troops against the Italians with the usual fierceness, disregarding losses inflicted upon them. The Rome War Office reports that the eenmy in his latest attack was completely repulsed.

English east coast towns again have received a visitation of German airplanes. The raiders penetrated to London, dropping bombs. Missiles also were dropped in Kent and Essex.

NANAIMO ASKED TO CONSERVE FOOD

J. W. Gibson, provincial organizer of the Food Conservation Committee of Canada, visited Nanaimo yesterday and last evening met the City Council and a committee of the local Board of Trade in connection with the organization of a general committee in Nanaimo with the object of Food Conservation in this city and district.

Mr. Gibson pointed out the necessity of conserving certain products such as wheat, beef and pork in order that additional quantities of such products be available for ship nent to the soldiers overseas. He pointed out that the United States is endeavoring to conserve one-fifth of its wheat production for shipment overseas and expects a similar movement in Canada where the wheat crop totals 250,000,000 bushels with half of the amount required for home consumption. The conserving of one-fifth of this total would release 25,000,000 bushels, making in all 150,000,000 bushels which Canada should ship overseas

The local committee will increase its membership to about 20 and organize into sub-committees with the object of waging a campaign of education among the public showing the necessity of conservation and the elimination of all waste.

The winning numbers in the Nanaimo Pool Room drawing last night were 2240, and 4558.

ORGANIZED LABOR

There is one feature in the election results which cannot be too strongly emphasized. We refer to the labor vote, and to the showing made by the candidates in the province who claimed to be leaders of labor. Before the election a good deal was heard of the attitude of organized labor, and even some of the politicians, in sizing up the situation, regarded the labor vote as a very considerable factor. The labor vote was indeed, a considerable factor, but it did not go, and was never likely to go, to the men who claim to be the representatives of labor. How it comes that positions in the local labor organizations should be grabbed by the furious exponents of wage-slavery we all know so well is something not easily understood. These men, the men who have been candidates in the recent election, do not represent labor. They misrepresent it, as they misrepresent everything and everybody else. They have been opposed to the war throughout, because, as they declared, it was a capitalistic war with which they, as workers, had nothing to do. As wage-slaves it made no difference to them if Germany did win. Their condition would be neither better nor worse under the German flag, and in their view Britain and France, and Italy, and Belgium, and Russia, and even the United States and Serbia, were as much to blame for the war as Germany, and all equally guilty. They have preached these things from the house tops without the authorities taking any steps to stop them. Their contempt for the British flag and British institutions suffered no dimunition though the empire was engaged in a life and death struggle and though hundreds and thousands and tens of thousands of their brothers had laid down their lives that the flag might be kept flying and the institutions might be preserved.

The country would not be worth living in if these men had any considerable following. But their ravings and rantings never amounted to anything more than noise. Thousands of men from the ranks of organized labor enlisted in the Canadian army, and as union men those staying behind take no exception to the Military Service Act. Apart from these so-called leaders and their immediate following, organized labor in Canada is as sound at heart and just as patriotic as their brothers in Britain and in the United States. It is as well that the government should take note of this fact and act accordingly.

The one and only W. W. B. says he is satisfied to have gone down fighting for a righteous cause. We cannot help thinking that Billy would have been better satisfied to have been elected without reference to the cause.

DOMINION THEATRE

A special treat is in store for the many admirers of Douglas Fairbanks in his newest Artcraft picture, "The Man from Painted Post," coming to the Dominion theatre today. The script for this photoplay was written by Douglas himself and is based on Jackson Gregory's recent magazine story "Silver Slippers." In the role of Fancy Jim Sherwood, the immaculate dude who wipes out a powerful gang of cattle rustlers, the smiling star offers a characterization that will meet with popular favor among patrons of clean pictures.

Bucking bronchos, crack-riding, trick roping and bull-dogging steers are among the interesting features offered by this comedy drama of the true west. Participating in these scenes are the champions of the world in their respective accomplishments, including Sam Brownell, the champion bucking broncho rider; John Judd, fancy rope artist; Tommy Grimes, H. A. Strickland and other winners at the last Rodeo Competition held in Cheyenne, Wyo. It was at this meet that Douglas Fairbanks signed up the champions for "The Man from Painted Post," and each individual gives a good account for himself in this picture.

With this great feature is shown "Her Nature Dance," which is said to be the funniest two-reel Keystone ever screened, and that is going some

BIJOU THEATRE

This popular house is showing today the favorite Earle Williams in a strong five-act photo-play "The Maelstrom." This picture is from the Greater Vitagraph studios and has created a great sensation wherever shown. With this will be offered the third episode of "The Secret Kingdom." Judging from the first two episodes screened last week, this serial bids fair to be one of the very best ever shown here.

Petrograd, Dec. 16, via London, Dec. 17.—Leon Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, declared at a meeting of the Petrograd Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates last night, that an armistice governing operations on the Russian front would be signed Monday. He added that peace negotiations would be begun immediately after the armistice had been signed.

The Foreign Minister announced that for a time a break in the negotiations seemed imminent because General Hoffman, the German negotiator, insisted on the right to transfer troops in small units. The German command finally accepted the Russian formula.

"We can not and will not aid militarism in any way," said M. Trotsky. "This question of transferring troops was most fundamental. I think our formula is considered by our allies to be satisfactory."

A HEAVY FALL OF SNOW IN FRANCE

Paris, Dec. 18.—Delayed.—The first heavy fall of snow of the season in this part of France occurred yesterday. Railroad and telegraph services were disorganized. The Paris boulevards were turned into quagmires on acount of the lack of labor for clearing the streets.

RUSSIAN FORCES INACTIVE NOW

The Bolsheviki Commander Has Ordered a Cessation of Hostilities on all Fronts.

London, Dec. 17.—A Russian government wireless dispatch received here says:

"Ensign Krylenko, Commander-in-Chief of the Russian army, in a proclamation addressed to all the army commanders on all the fronts and the military revolutionary committees, announces that in consequence of the signing of the armistice, which begins December 17, ' propose, until receiving the full text of the treaty, to cease all military operations.' "

Petrograd, Dec. 16, via London, Dec. 17.—The executive committee of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates by a vote of 150 to 104 today approved a decree declaring the Constitutional Democrats enemies of the people.

The Peasants' Congress by a vote of 360 to 321 denounced the arrest of the Constituent Assembly and called upon the country and the army and navy to defend the delegates with all their forces.

Leon Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, in an address today to a crowd of his opponents said:

"You are perturbed by the mild terror we are applying to our enemies, but I know that within a month this terror will take the terrible form of the French Revolutionary terror—not the fortress but the guillotine."

AUSTRALIAN TITLE IS WON BY JIMMY CLABBY

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 18.—James Clabby, of Hammond, has received a letter from Australia stating that his son Jimmy won a decision over Albert Lloyd in a 20-round contest, and is now heavyweight champion of Australia. Clabby will return to this country in March.

RESULT IN EAST CALGARY A SURPRISE

Calgary, Dec. 18.—The election of Major Lee Redman, Soldier-Unionist candidate in East Calgary, provided probably the biggest surprise in the seven Southern Alberta ridings.

Major Redman's opponent, Rev. Wm. Irvine, was running on the Labor and Non-Partisan tickets in a riding where the majority of electors are labor people. Evidently the soldiers and soldiers' kin vote turned the scale in favor of the Unionist candidate.

Dr. Clark, of Olds, Unionist candidate in Red Deer, leads with a majority of over 1,000, with many small country polls to hear from. His election is assured without the overseas vote.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid.

Deputy Minister of the Interior.

PROHIBITION PLAN IN UNITED STATES

Washington, Dec. 18.—The constitutional amendment for national prohibition today was finally submitted by Congress to the states for ratification or rejection within seven years. The Senate completed congressional action by accepting the resolution as passed yesterday by the House, 47 to 8 witout a roll call.

WAS FIRST MAYORESS

London, Dec. 18.—Elizabeth G. Anderson, the first woman to be elected mayor of a town in England, and a prominent physician, died at her home in Suffolk yesterday.

Anyone Can Have Whipped Cream

Pacific Milk is so rich in cream that it whips as easily as most of the fresh cream sold around the Province.

Mrs. McCary of New Westminster wrote in to say that she whips Pacific Milk regularly for a treat for the youngsters for breakfast.

All she does is to set aside the amount she wants in a cool place for a time and then beat it with a seive egg beater. She puts this on toast and gives it to the children for breakfast.

You'll find it is good on cakes and puddings.

ITALIANS DEFEAT AUSTRIAN TROOPS

Rome, Dec. 17.—Austro-German forces which attacked the Italian lines on the northern front from the direction of San Marino were driven back in disorder today.

In the Col Caprille region Italian troops attacked and then were counter attacked. Finally the enemy had to withdraw to the positions from which he had started.

LEONARD WON AGAIN.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 18.—Benny Leonard, of New York, champion lightweight boxer, scored a technical knockout over Chick Brown, of New Haven, here last night in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout. After two minutes of the fifth round was gone Brown had been floored for a count of nine, when Leonard drove his right for Brown's jaw and then repeated it. Brown got up but the referee stopped the bout.

TED LEWIS GETS DECISION

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.—Ted Lewis of England, welterweight title-holder, had a shade the better of Bryant Downey, of Columbus, in a hard 12-round fight here last night, in the opinion of fight critics. The champion used his left effectively but was forced to extend himself to the limit.

GREB BEATS CHRISTIE

Cincinnati, Dec. 18.—Harry Greb, of Pittsburg, was awarded the decision over Gus Christie, of Malwaukee, here last night at the end of twelve fast rounds. The men are middleweights.

LIEUT GORMAN KILLED.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 18.—Word was received here today that Flight Lieut. Joseph Gorman, R. N. A. S., has died as a result of a fractured skull and other injuries sustained presumably in a fall. The advices gave the date of death as Dec. 16th, at Ladua, Italy.

LANGFORD SCORED KNOCKOUT

Denver, Colo., Dec. 18.—Sam Langford knocked out Kid Norfolk, the Panama heavyweight, in the second round of a scheduled 20-round boxing bout here last night. Both are negroes.

Langford was the aggressor from the moment the gong sounded.

The first round was even but with the opening of the second Langford plainly had the best of it, knocking Norfolk down twice before the knockout blow, which was a vicious left to the jaw.

HON. A. L. SIFTON ELECTED

Medicine Hat, Dec. 18.—[illegible] Medicine Hat riding the returns are not complete, the majority of the polls being placed at country points, but reports received up to 1.30 a. m., show the Unionist candidate, Hon. A. L. Sifton, with a lead of 2,200 and assured of election.

TWENTY ROUND DRAW

New Orleans, La., Dec. 18.—Dutch Brandt, of Brooklyn, and Young Lawler of Kansas City, welterweights fought twenty fast rounds to a draw here last night.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS WINS

New York, Dec. 18.—Strangler Lewis of Kentucky, defeated Zbyszko of Poland with a head lock hold at the International wrestling tournament here last night. The American forced the Pole to quit after one hour and 24 minutes.

GERMAN SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Amarillo, Texas, Dec. 18.—Sol Ludin was arrested today suspected of being a German spy. He was en route from New Orleans to San Diego. A trunk, said to belong to him, was broken open in transit, revealing German soldiers' uniforms, several papers and notes and a number of handwritten toasts to Emperor William.

CANNOT BREAK ITALIAN LINES

Austro-Germans Suffered Severe Losses in Futile Attempt to Pierce Italian Line and Debouch on the Venetian Plains.

London, Dec. 19.—The Austro-Germans renewed in great strength their effort to pierce the Italian line and debouch out upon the plains of Venetia in the region of Bassano. In a fierce fight around Mont Asolsone in which the enemy again suffered severe losses and was several times repulsed, reinforcements in large numbers were brought up and the Italians compelled to give ground.

Fighting lasted throughout Tuesday and according to the German War Office, more than two thousand Italians were made prisoners.

Likewise along the southern reaches of the Piave river, the invaders and the Italians are engaged in heavy fighting. A crossing of the old Piave on a pontoon bridge was successfully carried out by an enemy detachment, but the Italians drove the Teutons back to the water's edge later.

Fighting on other fronts still remain below normal, although artillery duels on various sectors continue intense.

Artillery activity between French and Germans in the Champagne and in the mountainous regions near the Swiss border is increasing in volume.

Little material damage was done by the Germans in Tuesday night's air raid over London, Essex and Kent Ten persons were killed in London, and seventy injured. Outside the capital five persons were wounded. One enemy machine was brought down.

DRIVEN BACK TO WATERS EDGE

Headquarters of Italian Army, in Northern Italy, Dec. 19.—Extremely heavy fighting has again developed both in the northern mountain region and along the Piave. The enemy has made five desperate attempts to cross the Sile or old Piave. His main effort was about three miles above the mouth of the river, where pontoons and a bridge were used. The first party succeeded in getting across but after a series of furious attacks were driven back to the water's edge, where it is still held.

Four other simultaneous attempts in the same region were repulsed in the main, but fighting continues, according to the latest reports.

FRANK GOTCH IS BURIED.

Humboldt, Iowa, Dec 19——Frank Gotch, retired world's champion wrestler, was buried here today. Governor W. L. Harding was among the hundreds who attended the funeral services.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. PAULS

Mr. H. C. Stead of Victoria, was United in Marriage Yesterday to Miss Esther Baker of Nanaimo.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church yesterday afternoon, when Miss Esther Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Baker, of Haliburton street, was married to Mr. Henry Thomas Stead, of Victoria, youngest son of Mr. John Frederick Stead, of London, England. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Aldersen, and was attended by a large number of relatives of the family and friends of the bride, who has always been a favorite of the younger set of the city.

The bride was given away by her father, while her sister, Miss Pearl Baker acted as bridesmaid, the groom being supported by Mr. Chris Fiddick uncle of the bride. The groom's presents to the bride were a set of natural grey wolf furs and a pearl pendant, with brooch to match. To the bridesmaid he gave a pearl sunburst brooch and to the bride's youngest sister a shamrock emerald brooch.

Mr. and Mrs. Stead left on the afternoon train for Victoria, where a big reception was tendered them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Girdwood, Moss Street, by their friends in the Capital City. Late in the evening they left for Vancouver where they will spend a few days, returning to the Island for Christmas. After visiting their friends on the Island they will complete their honeymoon with a trip to Honolulu.

The Bastion Chapter I. O. D. E. meeting yesterday afternoon voted $150.00 for the Halifax Relief Fund to be sent through the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., at Victoria. The Bastion Chapter is giving a Christmas Tree with a gift for each soldier today at Qualicum. The mothers of the Chapter who have boys at the front are in charge of arrangements. As a result of the Jam Shower for the boys at Qualicum 117 jars of jam and pickles were sent.

IRISH "AMBASSADOR" IS UNDER ARREST

New York, Dec. 19.—Dr. Patrick McCarten, so-called "Ambassador to the United States of the Irish Republic," was brought here today from Halifax and will be arraigned tomorrow in the States District Court on a charge of fraudulently obtaining a seaman's passport. McCarten came to the States eight months ago and was associated with "General" Mellowes, another Sinn Fein leader who was arrested as he was trying to leave the country.

WORE UNIFORM OF ROYAL FLYING CORPS

Montreal, Dec. 19.—George Casasus, son of a former Mexican Ambassador to the States, is under detention her charged with illegally wearing the uniform of the British Flying corps. MINERS ASKED TO HELP NATION

United Mine Workers of America Are Asked by International Headquarters to Take Only Two Holidays this Festive Season.

Indianapolis, Dec. 19.—The coal miners of the country are called upon to forego their usual extended holiday this Christmas time and take only two days, Christmas and New Year's day, in a statement issued here today at the International headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America. The statement says:

"Out of consideration for the public need, we are calling on the United Mine Workers of America to take only two holidays, Christmas and New Years. Our patriotic duty demands this be done."

KHAKI CLAD HEROES RETURN

An Atlantic Port, Dec. 19.— Her rails lined with khaki clad soldiers of the Canadian overseas army returning home to recuperate from wounds, shell shock and other ailments, peculiar to modern trench warfare, a large British ship, originally bound for Halifax, docked here late today and the work of transferring the men for the railway journey to Canada was started.

The sight of an occasional crutch and limping soldier here and there, gave proof that "Somewhere in France" the homebound fighting men had "done their bit."

ENGINEER OF SARNIA TUNNEL SUCCUMBS

Hamilton, Dec. 19.—Joseph Hobson, a noted civil engineer, died here today at the age of 84 years. For many years he was chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, and after retiring from active service was employed in a consulting capacity.

Mr. Hobson had charge of the construction of the Sarnia tunnel. After completing this big engineering feat he was offered a knighthood, but refused it.

Robert Hobson, general manager of the Steel Company of Canada, is a son.

SANK IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

Paris, Dec. 19.—The old French cruiser Chateaurenault, employed as a transport was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean on the morning of December 14 and the enemy submarine which attacked her later was destroyed, according to an announcement made by the Minister of Marine here

The passengers on the Chateaurenault, all of whom were either soldiers or officers, were saved. Ten members of the crew were lost.

The French cruiser Chateaurenault was completed in 1898. She was 457 feet long, with a 56-foot beam, and displaced 8,018 tons, being armed with two 6.4-inch and six 5.5-inch guns. Besides being used as a cruiser formerly, the Chateaurenault had been fitted as a minelayer.

EQUIPMENT FOR THE U.S. ARMY

Washington, D.C., Dec. 19.—How the production of rifles and machine guns for the army was delayed during the early days of the nation's entrance into the war, but is now being speeded up, was recounted today in the Senate Military Committee's war inquiry by the heads of large private munitions plants.

Manufacturers enthusiastically pressed for both new types of American weapons. Orders for rifles placed several months after war was declared, the manufacturers agreed are far ahead of contracted deliveries without yet reaching the maximum factory capacity.

JERUSALEM WAS ROBBED BY TURKS

Washington, Dec. 19.—An official dispatch received here from France says that the Turks before surrendering Jerusalem to the British brutally mistreated Christian priests, carried off the famous treasure of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, valued at millions of dollars and sent to Berlin the church's celebrated ostensory of brilliants.

Special meeting of the Red Cross in the Work Room this (Thursday) evening at 7:30. Work will go on as usual after the meeting.

FISH HOARDERS ROUNDED UP

Fishermen of Western Lakes Told by Food Controller to Market Fish or Have Stock Taken Over by the Government.

Ottawa, Dec. 19.—The Food Controller will not allow any evasion of the order fixing maximum prices for Western caught lake fish. Information has been received that fishermen on the Western lakes have 300,000 pounds of whitefish on ice, and that they refuse to market it at the price named by the Food Controller. A telegram was sent them today stating that unless the fish were marketed, the Food Controller, in order to prevent waste would take possession of the entire catch and dispose of it in the public interest. In case this action became necessary, the price paid for the fish would not exceed the maximum price fixed by the Food Controller.

SUB VICTIMS FOR THE WEEK

London, Dec. 19.—Fourteen British merchantmen of more than 1600 tons and three under that tonnage, were sunk by mine or submarine during the last week, according to the Admiralty statement tonight. One fishing vessel was sunk.

Shipping losses by mine or submarine in the past week are slightly under those of the previous week when fourteen vessels of more than 1600 tons and seven under that tonnage were destroyed.

Paris, Dec. 19.—French shipping losses were one vessel over 1600. No others for the week.

LETTER CARRIER GETS A SENTENCE

Brantford, Ont., Dec. 19.—William Snider, a letter carrier here, who pleaded guilty to having systematically for the last year robbed letters on his route, was sentenced today to a three-year term with a fine of $1,000. In default of payment the term will be four years.

FOUR-FIFTHS ARE EXEMPTED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Dec. 19.—Out of 52,341 claims for exemption from military service in the Montreal Military District, 43,031 applicants have been granted exemption. The military representatives have appealed 14,395 cases.

Among those whose claims for exemption have been refused is Glen Hillier, McGill's champion 100-yard sprinter.

WOMEN'S PENSION SCHEME IS URGED

Vancouver, Dec. 19.—In response to a request from a large delegation of women who interviewed the City a resolution passed by the New Era League asking the government to establish a women's pension scheme.

DOMINION THEATRE

Never before has such a collection of cow-boys appeared in a motion picture as is displayed in Douglas Fairbank's new Artcraft Picture, "The Man from Painted Post," at the Dominion Theatre today. All the cowboys appearing in this picture are winners of championships in roping, riding, shooting and other Western sports. In addition to these experts are seven of the most fiery bucking bronchos used in the recent Frontier Meet at Cheyenne, Wyo. All of which promises some excitement for those who will view popular Douglas' new photoplay.

BIJOU THEATRE

"The Maelstrom" is an exciting five reel story of the underworld which gives Earle Williams and his talented company all sorts of opportunities for displaying their ability. There is action in every picture and the suspense is kept up to the very last.

Another episode is also shown of "The Secret Kingdom," the exciting serial which commenced last week.

AIRMEN ATTACKED HUN AERODROME

British Naval Aeroplanes Successfully Bombed the Engel Aerodrome Behind German Lines in Belgium.

London, Dec. 19.—German patrols were active last night in Flanders near Passchendaele. Otherwise there were no operations of consequence, the War Office here reported today in the following communication:

"Hostile reconnoitreing parties endeavored to approach our posts south east and northeast of Passchendaele. They were driven off by our fire. We secured a few prisoners.

"Elsewhere there was nothing of special interest."

Successful bombing by British naval aeroplanes of the Engel aerodrame, behind the German lines in Flanders, was announced today by the Admiralty as follows.

"Some of our naval aeroplanes dropped bombs which burst close to the sheds and ammunition dump and railway sidings at the Engel aerodrome on Tuesday. One enemy aircraft was ablaze and one out of control when our raiders departed. All our machines returned safely."

Paris, Dec. 19.—Two attempts by the German troops to approach the French positions in the Argonne near Four-de-Paris last night were defeated with losses, the War Office here announced this afternoon in the following report:

"The enemy's artillery during the night bombarded our first lines south of Juvincourt and in the Argonne at Four-de-Paris. Our batteries replied effectively At the latter point enemy forces which made two attempts to approach our positions were repulsed with losses.

"In Lorraine, in the sectors of Flirey and Nauroy, our patrols took prisoners, including an officer.

"There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front.

"Last night enemy aviators threw down 40 bombs in the region of Dunkirk. No victims have been reported thus far."

FAKE SOLDIER IS UNDER ARREST

Montreal, Dec. 19.—A man who posed as Sergeant Williams of the 48th Ammunition Column of Winnipeg, and who wore the uniform of a sergeant, with decorations to show that he had been twice wounded and several decorations such as are bestowed for bravery on the field of battle, was arrested at the Chateau Laurier, Ott wa, yesterday by Chief Moffat, of Westmount, Que., who had followed the supposed soldier there from this city for the purpose of taking him into custody on charge of theft and representing himself to be a soldier.

Williams pleaded guilty to stealing clothing from a boarding house in Sherbrooks street, and also to having impersonated a soldier. He will be sentenced Friday.

INDIAN REVOLT NIPPED IN BUD

Hindus on Trial Tell of Conspiracy to Establish a Revolutionary Government in India—Conspirators Halted at Calcutta.

San Francisco, Dec. 19—A band of over 200 Hindus from the United States, actually landed in Calcutta during the early part of the world war, for the purpose of starting a revolt in India, according to the testimony today at the trial here of several Hindus and others for conspiracy to establish a revolutionary government in that country.

"When we set out from Hongkong we had no arms," testified Nawab Khan, a Mohammedan Hindu, who said he was one of the leaders of the party. "We were told that we were to get arms in India and that if we did not get them we were to storm all police stations and stize the arms of the police. We were also told we must win the native army over to our side, wreck all telegraphs, railroads and other lines of communications and kill all traitors in our midst."

Nawad testified that the party was halted at Calcutta by a British military unit and all of its members placed under arrest, with the exception of himself and certain other Hindus."

ISLAND MINES LEAD IN OUTPUT

Coal output for the month of November for the Province aggregated 234,414 tons, compared with 230,996 tons in October. The November production proved to be the second largest monthly output this year, the largest being in March, when 244,000 tons were produced by the coal mines of British Columbia. Had it not been for the shutting down of the Jingle Pot mine at Nanaimo, because of fire breaking out in the workings, it is probable the output last month would have been the largest so far this year

The Coast district, which means Vancouver Island, produced by far the largest portion of the coal this year. In November the output was divided as follows: Coast district, 141,048 tons; Nicola, 16,613 tons, and Crow's Nest Pass district, 76,751 tons.

For the eleven months the output of the Province was as follows: Coast 1,562,600 tons; Nicola, 139,323 tons; Crow's Nest, 494,975 tons. Total, 2,196,898 tons.

Last year the total output of coal for the Province was approximately 2,400,000 tons. This year's output at the present rate of production should equal that of last year's despite the fact that the strike troubles in the Crow's Nest has had the effect of cutting down production in that district this year.

1,800 SLAVS ARE SET FREE IN ROUMANIA

Jassy, Roumania, Dec. 19.—Eighteen hundred Slavs who had been interned in Roumania since the beginning of the war, have been released by the Roumanian government. Their release was secured through the efforts of the American Minister.

"STRANGLER" BEAT ROLLER

New York, Dec. 19.—Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, of Lexington, Ky., defeated Dr. B. F. Roller, of Seattle, here last night in the international catch-as-catch-can wrestling tournament, in 38 minutes and one second. Dr. Roller had succeeded in getting a body scissors and arm hold just previous to the end of the bout, but Lewis wriggled out of it, obtaining a head hold and his opponent then retired.

ANOTHER RAID.

Things have not been breaking very favorably for Britain in the war the last two or three weeks. It began with the loss of ground at Cambrai after the surprising success of Byng's great tank drive. It was clear even from the guarded reports which were allowed to be put on the wires, that the British leaders were caught unprepared by the German counter attack. For the first time for many, many months, the British troops were compelled to give ground, and it was even admitted that a very serious setback was narrowly averted. The impression got out and grew in the mind of the British public that someone had blundered, and an investigation is being held into the matter.

While still unsettled by the turn events had taken at Cambrai, the news of another successful German raid in the North Sea has caused a general agitation. This last sortie by German warships is even more humiliating to British pride than was the first one. A convoy of merchant ships was sunk, together with a number of trawlers and a small destroyer, while a second destroyer was badly damaged. As in the previous raid, the real naval escort was nowhere about. Indeed, so far away were the ships that should have been protecting the convoy, that the German raiders got away without ever being tackled. The question agitating the British public is where were the ships of the escort, and why were they not with the convoy? This time the matter will have to be fully cleared up. If the Germans can carry off with impunity raids of this kind, so serious in the loss of life and in the destruction of shipping and cargoes, then, indeed, there is something radically wrong with the administration of the navy. There are bound to be mistakes in a war of this stupendous size, but there are some mistakes which should be avoided and this seems to be one of them

No doubt a full explanation will be forthcoming from the Admiralty. The British public are in the right mind to demand it. Losses the British people can stand, and they are not unduly cast down by reverses, but they will not tolerate the feeling that blundering and inefficiency are rampant in the administration of their affairs. Most assuredly they will insist on the Admiralty taking steps to render impossible the destruction of convoys in home waters.

MAY DISMISS TRIBUNALS

Vancouver, Dec. 19.—It is probable that some of the exemption tribunals in Vancouver will be dismissed, now that the big part of the work of the first call has been attended to. It probably will be judged necessary to retain in service only one, or at most two of the tribunals. Provincial Registrar Lennie has wired Ottawa for instructions in this regard.

REFUSED TO PRODUCE HIS NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Charles Werich, a farmer in the Parksville district, was summoned to appear in the provincial police court yesterday afternoon, to answer a charge preferred against him by Mr. Rushton, enumerator under the Election Act for that district for refusing to produce his naturalization papers when called on to do so, and further with having made use of most violent and abusive language when told by Mr. Rushton, in answer to his demand that his name be placed on the voters' list, that no such step could be taken unless his naturalization papers were first produced.

Mr. Werich, however, failed to put in an appearance at the time named in the summons, and on having been informed that the summons had been duly served upon the defendant, the magistrate issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

THOMPSON AND CONGDON IN YUKON

Ottawa, Dec. 19.—Lieut.-Colonel Alfred Thompson, medical superintendent for the Military Hospitals Commission and ex-member of the Commons for the Yukon, will leave in the course of a few days to conduct an election fight in the northermost constituency of the Dominion. Colonel Thompson has received word that he will be opposed by W. F. Congdon, a former Liberal member for the Yukon, and this makes it necessary for him to go to Dawson City. In order to reach the scene of the contest he will have to travel from White Horse to Dawson a distance of 360 miles, by stage.

The Yukon is one of the four constituencies in which polling was deferred. Voting will take place on January 28.

COMBINED CHOIRS TO PRESENT "THE MESSIAH"

Music-Lovers of the city are looking forward to the performance of Handel's greatest oratorio "The Messiah," by a combined choir in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Sunday evening, December 30th, at 8:30 p.m. The soloists for the occasion will be Miss Ebbie Harris, soprano; and Mr. John Graham, tenor, of New Westminster; and Mrs. H. Roberts, contralto, and Mr. Frederic Taggart, bass, of Vancouver. With these artists and a well balanced choir and orchestra, a first class performance is assured.

Mr. A. Dunsmore will conduct and will have the assistance of Mrs. H. McIndoo at the organ and Miss Grace Morgan at the piano. At the rehearsal last Sunday evening it was decided to give the proceeds to the Halifax Relief Fund, and a collection will be taken up during the evening for that purpose.

LARRY LAJOIE MAY JOIN CINCINNATI NEXT SEASON

Cincinnati, Dec. 19.—It was learned here today that there may be a change in the management of the Cincinnati Club next season. Larry Lajoie, the man who won a pennant for Toronto this year, is said to be the man selected to fill Matty's shoes if he is disposed of.

HUSBAND NOT WANTED

Winnipeg, Dec. 19.—Returning home, bearing scars of wounds sustained during the memorable battle of Vimy Ridge, to find another man occupying the comfortable cottage which he left in 1915, being told that he was not wanted any longer, and two days later returning to learn that his wife and three children had disappeared, was the experience of Pte. William Yates, C.A.S.C., who called at Central police station Thursday to ask Deputy Chief of Police Newton to help him locate his wife and family.

SPANISH SHIP SUNK BY SUBMARINE

Paris, Dec. 19.—The torpedoing by a submarine of the Spanish steamship Novriembre, of 3,654 gross tons, is reported in a dispatch from Biarritz to The Excelsior, quoting advices received there from Balboa. Thirty of the crew have been landed. They say their ship was torpedoed without warning at night and they were all thrown into the sea. After swimming about for an hour they were picked up by French patrols, which put the submarine to flight.

Ottawa, Dec. 19.—Further evidences of practical sympathy with the Halifax sufferers are to hand. The Governor-General received a cablegram today from Walter Long, Secretary for the Colonies, stating that Hong Kong had given 10,000 pounds "with an expression of deep sympathy for the colony in the terrible disaster which has befallen them."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia, at its next session for an act to incorporate an association known as "the engineering and technical institute of British Columbia," with power to promote and increase the knowledge, skill and proficiency of its members in all things relating to the architectural, engineering, surveying and technical professions and to that end to establish and conduct examinations and prescribe such tests of competency and moral character as may be thought expedient and to grant certificates of membership to those approved of and to purchase or otherwise acquire and hold real and personal property for the purpose of the institute and to dispose thereof and reinvest the proceeds in such manner as may seem fit, and to fix entrance fees and annual fees or subscriptions to be paid by the members and to vary the same from time to time and to provide for the management of its affairs by council to be constituted in such manner as may be provided for by by-law and to have its head office and hold its annual meetings within British Columbia and to have, enjoy and exercise all powers, rights and privileges necessary, usual or incidental to all or any of the aforesaid purposes.

Dated at Victoria, British Columbia, this 18th day of December, 1917.

BRADSHAW & STACPOOLE,
Solicitor for the Applicant.

BANK MANAGERS AND ACCOUNTANTS EXEMPTED

Calgary, Dec. 19.—C. E. Berth, superintendent of the Merchants Bank of Alberta, made application Tuesday to an appeal tribunal here for exemption for 13 employees. He pointed out to Mr. Justice Simmons that out of 874 employees, 640 had enlisted. The 13 specially asked for were employed where it was said to be impossible to find substitutes.

The judge's ruling was that managers and accountants should be exempted, because of the difficulty of replacing them, while tellers and all clerks beneath should be required to join the forces. He made a strong plea that volunteers be found for the positions.

The tellers were given six months before they need to report.

WANTS MILITARY SERVICE ACT ENFORCED

Toronto, Dec. 19.—A strong plea for the enforcement of the Military Service Act is made by A. J. Young, the defeated conscriptionist Liberal candidate, in North Toronto, who also is president of the Reform Association of Ontario, in a statement he has issued as follows:

"The election is over and outside of Quebec the electors of Canada have declared most emphatically in favor of the Union Government.

"Nothing should now stand in the way of the enforcement of the Military Service Act, and the people will expect prompt action."

CANADIAN CLUB OF NEW YORK GENEROUS

New York, Dec. 19.—The Canadian Club of New York on the recommendation of A. J. Morris, a member of the club's relief committee, now in Halifax, and endorsed by the restoration committee of Halifax, has negotiated with the Morse Steamship Company to charter one of its Hudson River vessels, which at this season is laid up. This craft, providing sufficient money can be raised, will be sent to Halifax for the winter and will shelter 2,000 homeless sufferers

In addition to the $3,000 sent to the central relief committee immediately after the disaster, the Canadian Club here has appropriated $2500 to the board of governors of the Orphan's Home at Halifax.

More than $15,000 already has been raised for all purposes, and contributions still are coming in.

ANNOUNCES WAR AIMS OF BRITAIN

Premier Lloyd George Declares Germany Must Make Full Restoration of Territories With Compensation—British Losses Fraction of Germany's.

London, Dec. 20.—Complete restoration of the territories taken by the enemy, together with compensation, was demanded by Mr. Lloyd George in explaining the war aims of the government in the House of Commons when adjournment for the Christmas holiday was moved today.

Mr. Lloyd George said that the margin of losses at sea was narrowing. The sinkings by submarines, he declared, was decreasing, while ship building was increasing.

The sinkings of submarines was increasing.

Although the merchant tonnage was down by 20 per cent. he added, the loss had been only six per cent. of imports over that of last year.

The losses in shipping had been lighter by 100,000 tons than he had anticipated in his August estimate.

Regarding the military situation Mr. Lloyd George said it was idle to pretend that the hopes formed had been realized. The disappointment he attributed to the Russian collapse.

The Germans, the Prime Minister said, had had only one success, which was due to surprise, and this was now engaging inquiry. The Germans had lost 100,000 prisoners, valuable positions and hundreds of guns.

The Prime Minister said that if the Russian army had fulfilled the expectations of its generals, by this time the pride of the German military would have been completely humbled. On the whole the British campaign had not achieved the expectations formed, but there had been military successes in Palestine which would have a permanent effect on the history of the world. Jerusalem never would be restored to the Turks.

As for the British casualties, Mr. Lloyd George said they had not amounted to more than one-fourth or one-fifth of those of the Germans. Opposed to Germany, Austria and their Allies, he asserted, were manpower and reserves more than double those which the Teutonic Allies possessed.

After referring to the Italian reverses, Lloyd George said it would be necessary for Great Britain to make greater sacrifices to strengthen her armies in the coming year. The need would arise to increase the nation's man-power by taking some men now exempted. The government, he said, would confer next week with the trades unions on the matter.

He dealt also with the problem of food. Two circumstances, he said, had contributed lately to the gravity of the situation—the failure to obtain margarine and butter from Holland and Denmark, and the fact that Britain had been required to make sacrifices in order to supply deficiencies of her Allies. Owing to the efforts of the Food Controller, an improvement was visible in circumstances which had caused so much anxiety in the past few days. More tea was coming in, and it was hoped by increased manufacture to improve the situation as regards margarine shortly.

Great Britain had not entered the war, the Prime Minister said, to increase by a yard the territory of anyone else, but because of Britain's honor, the question of standing by her word was involved.

The advant of the United States into the world's politics, he declared, was an event which would loom large in the future. This was true also of the establishment of the international council at Versailles.

As for the disposition of the German colonies, that must be settled by the peace congress. The future trustees of those countries must take into account the sentiments of the people themselves.

The Prime Minister told his hearers that a league of nations in which Germany was represented by triumphant militarism would be a hollow farce.

CANADA'S FISH CATCH INCREASED

Ottawa, Dec. 20.—The total catch of sea fish in the whole of Canada during the month of November realized a value of $2,145,240, at points of landing, according to a statement issued by the Department of Naval Service today.

In November last year the total catch was valued at $1,074,398. The great increase in the value of the catch is largely accounted for by the fact that prices paid to fishermen this year are much higher than they were last.

GERMANS REPULSED BY PORTUGESE

Enemy Worsted in Various Sectors—Good Work Done in the Air by Australian Pilots.

London, Dec. 20. — Portuguese troops near Laventie, north of Arras, last night repulsed an attempted German raid; according to a report from Field Marshal Haig, issued here today Artillery was active in the Ypres sector. The text of the report follows:

"A raid attempted by enemy troops last night southeast of Laventie was repulsed by Portuguese troops.

"Except for hostile artillery activity in the region of Passchendaele, there is nothing else to report."

"Good work was done in the air on Monday by Australian pilots," said an official report on aviation on the west front issued here last night. "Two of them, attacked by many hostile scouts when employed at artillery spotting, succeeded in bringing down one of them in our lines and dispersing the remainder.

"On Tuesday a thick haze again limited flying to the northern part of the front, where a great deal of photographic work was done. During the day 150 bombs were dropped on enemy railway stations, sidings and trenches and many rounds were fired from the air into trenches and billets.

"Fighting in the air on this part was intense all day and resulted greatly in our favor. Seven hostile machines were brought down by our aeroplanes and one was shot down in our lines by anti-aircraft guns and another by the fire of our infantry. Three others were driven down out of control. Three of our machines are missing.

"Yesterday some of our aeroplanes bombed the St. Denis-Westrem, Roulers and Lichterveldt aerodromes, and the Thourout, Ledgheim, Cambrai and Menin railway stations. All our machines returned safely"

Paris,, Dec. 20.—"There was moderate artillery activity along the front last night. There were no infantry actions," says an official report issued here this afternoon.

PEACE TERMS OF THE KAISER

Washington, Dec. 20.—What purports to be an outline of Kaiser Wilhelm's much advertised "Christmas peace terms" has been received here through neutral diplomatic channels. The so-called terms include the following.

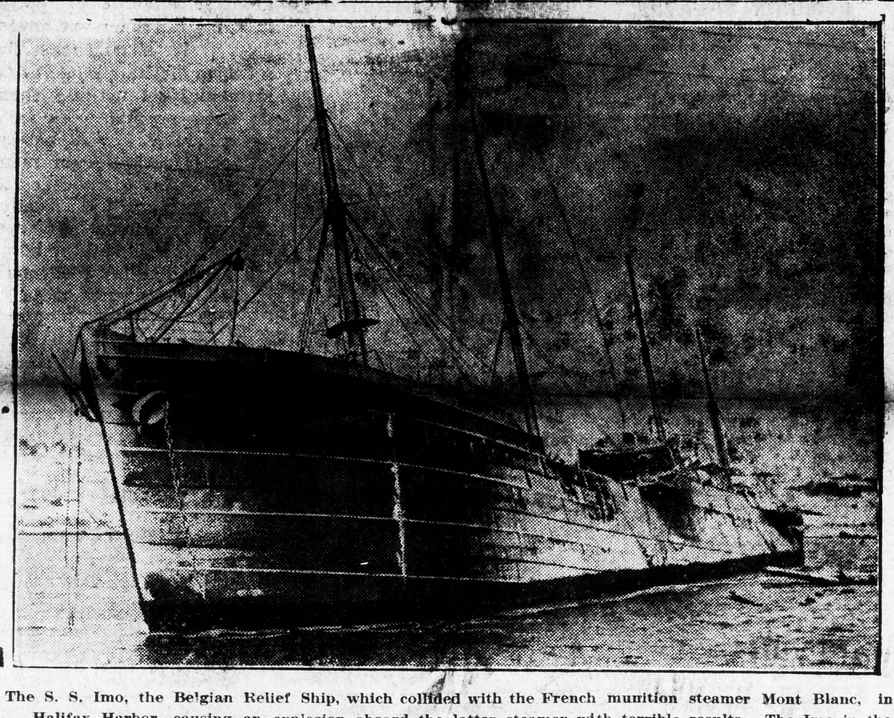
"To leave the disposition of Alsace-Lorraine to a plebiscite of the inhabitants.

"England to pay Germany for her lost African colonies, the money to be used for the rehabilitation of Belgium, Serbia, Roumania and Northern France.

"The Russian provinces bordering on the Baltic Sea, the Black Sea and Prussia to become independent under a German plan.

"Poland to become an independent state under Austrian suzerainty.

"Disarmament, freedom of the seas and commerce to be left to the peace conference.



"Roumania, Serbia and Montenegro to retain their original boundaries with a right of access to the sea being granted to Serbia.

"Turkey to remain intact.

Whether such a proposal of terms is merely another step in the German propaganda to impress the public mind that the Allies are responsible for a continuance of the war or whether it is really a feeler for peace, is a subject for the estimate of the governments concerned.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWELVE

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 20—Twelve men were killed in an explosion in the Dour Coal Company's mine near Nemo, Tenn., late yesterday afternoon.

The S. S. Imo, the Belgian Relief Ship, which collided with the French munition steamer Mont Blanc, in Halifax Harbor, causing an explosion aboard the latter steamer with terrible results. The Imo in the above picture, is shown ashore where it drifted after the collision.

ANOTHER PEACE ENVOY

TEUTONS FAIL TO BREAK LINE

Rome, Dec. 20.—The complete repulse of yesterday's attack by Austro-German forces which was delivered on the Tassen col del Orso front between Brenta and Piave was announced by the War Office today. The enemy suffered heavy losses.

New attempts by the enemy to cross the Piave were frustrated.

Mr. James Gray, of Gabriola Island, is in receipt of a letter from his son Pte. Robert Gray, who has just returned to the firing line after having spent an enjoyable leave visiting relatives in Scotland. Robert Gray, who is not yet 20, went overseas with the 88th, and has taken part in all the big battles fought on the western front of late. He was slightly gassed last winter, but apart from this has come through it all without a scratch.

EXCHANGE MEDICAL MEN

Berne, Dec. 20.—Germany and France have just completed arrangements for the exchange of a large number of medical and ambulance men from prison camps. A thousand Germans and 500 French nurses and members of the Ambulance corps will be exchanged by way of Switzerland in the next few days.

Mr. J. D. Ross, of Pine street, has received word of the death of his brother Daniel in Seattle, on Dec. 11th. The deceased was a native of Westwell, Nova Scotia, aged 45 years, and for a number of years resided in Nanaimo. He was on his way here on a visit when overcome by the fatal illness. The funeral took place in Everett.

STRIKE AT TRAIL IS CALLED OFF

Trail, Dec. 20.—The strike at the Consolidated Company's smelter at Trail was officially declared off at a mass meeting of the strikers this afternoon. Work will be resumed on the old basis of nine hours a day for 450 mechanics, whose demand for eight hours brought about the strike by all of the 1500 employees of the plant. Work will be resumed tomorrow, although it will be several weeks before the smelter is in full blast.

GERMAN FOOD SHORTAGE

KERENSKY IS MENACING MOSCOW

Despatch From Raparanda States Army Under Kerensky Is Marching on Moscow and Grand Duke Has Royalist Army in Caucasus.

London, Dec. 20.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Raparanda, reports that Kerensky with an army is now marching against Moscow, while Grand Duke Nicholas has gathered a great army of Royalists in the Caucasus.

Civil war in Russia apparently is increasing in intensity. Cossacks under General Dutoff are reported to have captured Tcheliabinsk, a junction point on the trans-Siberian railway, through which supplies from the east for European Russia must pass, and fighting continues in Odessa, in Ukraine, and around Astrakahan but with results uncertain owing to conflicting reports.

The Bolsheviki government is reported to have demanded that the chief governing bodies in Ukraine make known immediately whether Ukrainian troops will cease assisting General Kaledine's Cossacks and disarming the Bolsheviki troops. If the response of the Ukrainians is not a favorable one, it is announced that the Bolsheviki government will declare war on them.

LOCAL MEN WERE REFUSED EXEMPTION

Sitting yesterday as judge of appeal against the findings of the local exemption tribunals His Honor Judge Barker heard a number of such appeals, of which he disallowed ten.

Those whose claims for exemption were disallowed were H. A. Joyner, J Manzeni, A. G. Vincent, C. Finnemore, W. I. Emblem, W. Richardson, A. A. Walter, E. B. Thatcher, J. Sandland and J. Cunningham. Mr. A. H. Maude withdrew his appeal. Messrs. J. D. Hill and J. A. Webster were exempted as medically unfit. Mr. E. G. Heinel was exempted as being an American citizen who is duly registered in the United States. Mike Mali and Stephen Aigner are exempted by statute from combatant service.

Exemptions as long as the applicants remain in their present employment were granted to F. Degnen, J. Virotsko, A. White and D. T. Jones.

Temporary exemptions were granted until the dates mentioned to H.J. Wood, and L. Lawrence, Feb. 1st, 1918; J. P. Allison, March 1st, 1918; A. Miligan, July 1st, 1918; and to D. Buchanan for one month.

ENTERTAINED SOLDIERS AT QUALICUM WEDNESDAY

The Rev. F. G. West took a concert party to Qualicum Wednesday evening to entertain the boys who are convalescent there, this being the second visit which this party have made to Qualicum during the present winter. Those who made the trip were Mrs. J. R. Grayshon, Miss Gordon, Miss Bennett, Mr. P. McAlpine Mr. Fulton, while Miss Beckley and Mr. Dunsmore went as accompanists.

The men showed their appreciation of the visitors' efforts by demanding encores to every number, Mrs. Grayshon and P. McAlpine being recalled no less than three times, Mr. West briefly addressed the men on the battle of life and at the conclusion of the entertainment, the sergeant major who was in charge, returned very hearty thanks to all who took part, declaring that this concert had been one of the most enjoyable which had been given at Qualicum since the lads had been quartered there.

Mr. "Pop" Gouge, of the Eagle Hotel, is in receipt of a letter from "Billy" Miller, who, writing from "Somewhere in France" with the 6th Canadian Encampment Company, wishes to be remembered to all old Nanaimo and Ladysmith friends.

MANY KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. Hindmarsh will return to Nanaimo this evening and take up their residence on Fitzwilliam Street.

DROPPED BOMBS UPON BRUGES

London, Dec. 20.—A British official statement today says that naval aircraft dropped large quantities of explosives on the works at Bruges on Tuesday night, getting direct hits. Large fires resulted. Airplanes also bombed Vlissehem airdrome yesterday, securing direct hits. One enemy machine was destroyed and another driven down. One British machine failed to return.

TRADESMEN NEEDED FOR ROYAL FLYING CORPS

Senator Planta was in receipt yesterday of the following communication from the officer in charge of recruiting for the Royal Flying Corps in B. C.

Senator Planta, Nanaimo, B.C.:

Dear Senator Planta—I have this day received telegraphic instructions from my headquarters to accept a limited number of men for the following trades for service with the Royal Flying Corps:

Coppersmiths, cooks, engine fitters (motor mechanics), turners, shoemakers, sailmakers (tailors), tinsmiths.

These men must be proficient in their trades and upon passing a trade test at Toronto, they will be graded as second class air mechanics at the rate of $1.30 per diem.

Age limit 19 to 40, medically fit, (Category A), married or single, separation allowance will be granted to dependents.

I would feel obliged if you would make this fact known in your district, and to refer any applicant to me, asking them to give their qualifications, etc. in first letter.

Thanking you for the interest you have already shown in our work and hoping I am not imposing upon your good graces in this matter.

I am yours sincerely,
G. N. SHAW.

ATTITUDE OF ALLIES STATED

While Russia and Germany Are Talking Peace the British Premier Lays Down the Only Terms on Which Allies Will Stop War.

London, Dec. 20.—In the midst of pour parlers that are in progress between representatives of the Teutonic Allies and the Bolsheviki government in Russia, the war aims of Great Britain and doubtless all her Allies have been concertly set forth in the House of Commons by David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister.

Complete restoration of territory now in the hands of the enemy and compensation for havoc they have wrought is the price that will be demanded for the laying down of arms and the bringing about of peace.

Great Britain did not seek territorial aggrandizement for herself or for any of her allies when she entered the war, Mr. Lloyd George said but entered into hostilities merely for the sake of her honor.

As to Germany's colonies all of which are now in the hands of the Entente, Mr. Lloyd George said, their disposition must be determined at a peace congress.

Jerusalem, however, the Premier declared, would never be restored to the Turks.

The statement of the Prime Minister came almost simultaneously with the report that the Teutonic Allies intended to make peace proposals to the Entente and that Russia had been requested to take a similar step and was endeavoring to sound her former Allies in arms to their requirements for the cessation of hostilities.

FAREWELL PARTY TO MR. AND MRS. J. THOMPSON

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Cedar District were given a surprise party by a large number of their friends who gathered to give them a farewell. After residing in the district for fifteen years, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are leaving to take up their residence in Nanaimo. A most enjoyable evening was spent, dancing, playing games, songs and playing cards, which was kept up till an early hour of the morning, everybody enjoying themselves to their utmost.

During the evening Mrs. Thompson was presented with a cut glass sugar bowl and creamer, and Mr. Thompson a handsome pipe, together with the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson,

Dear Friends,—We, the residents of Cedar District, take this opportunity of expressing our sincere regret that you are leaving us. The many friends you have made during your long residence in the district speaks for itself, as to your value, in all social affairs, we desire you to know that we appreciate the kindly disposition you both have shown toward all those with whom you have come in contact. We ask you kindly to accept this small gift as a token of our regard, with best wishes to you and yours for a Merry Christmas, and much success for the coming year.

R. R. HINDMARCH

THE ENEMY ALIEN.

It was evident from a letter of General Mewburn, the Minister of Militia, to the local branch of the Win-the-War League, which was quoted in The Herald at the time, that enemy aliens would receive little consideration from him. Since his election as a Unionist member of the new parliament, he has taken firm and definite ground. He will take steps to curtail the liberty of these enemy aliens, and he will move to have their wages subject to a state levy which will leave them with nothing more than enough to live on. This is precisely the ground taken by the member-elect for Nanaimo, Mr. J. C. McIntosh. At both his meetings in Nanaimo, he was clear and outspoken on this point. He does not believe in mistaken toleration for aliens in the Dominion, who at heart, and in all their sympathies, are against Canada in her great struggle. He clearly sees the injustice of allowing these men full liberty and freedom in the present crisis. It really does not matter how they came to Canada. The only fact that counts is that they have failed Canada in her hour of need. They are not Canadians, but Austrians and Germans, praying, and as much as they can, working for the triumph of their native country and the downfall of Canada.

Now the safest place for an enemy in these times is an internment camp. We have the example of Germany, and we know how British subjects have been treated by the Germans. They have been forced to do all kinds of work, some of it under fire of British guns, without remuneration of any kind. General Mewburn and Mr. McIntosh do not propose anything so drastic as this. They merely aim to prevent alien enemies from filling lucrative positions, or from earning big wages, while Canadians are called up to fight for the safety and security of the country. These enemy aliens have no right to the privileges they are enjoying, since they cannot be called upon to fight for them. They can only be treated as enemies, and since the Kaiser can do no wrong, the very best they can look for is a living, neither more nor less, under such conditions and terms as the Canadian government may decide. This was the idea of General Mewburn, as it was also the idea expressed by Mr. McIntosh. No doubt it has been expressed by several others of the newly elected members, and no doubt some steps will be taken in the matter. The aliens have shown no appreciation of the mistaken toleration with which they have been treated, so that they can not complain if they are given a moderate dose of the methods of the Fatherland. It ought not to be difficult to arrange that, for so long as the war lasts, or for so long as it is deemed desirable, these aliens should be curtailed in their liberties, that they be allowed only a bare subsistence, and that their earnings in excess of this should be confiscated by the state.

"The Hunting of the Hawk," a 5-reel photo-play which heads the bill at the Bijou for today and Saturday, is one of the Pathe Gold Rooster features. It features the well-known legitimate star William Courtenay and is a thrilling story of the underworld.

With this will be screened another episode of "Patria," the Vernon Castle serial now nearing its end.

DOMINION THEATRE

Turbulent Ann Pennington never was more fittingly cast than in this rollicking story of girlish romance, tomboy pranks and riotous mirth, laid in that hot-bed of convention—a girls' seminary. In it she will wear some stunning gowns and display her prowess at high diving and dancing.

On the same programme will be shown a two-reel Billie West comedy, "The Fly Cop." A good many people in Nanaimo think this is Chaplin under another name. Go and see what you think of it.

RETURNED HEROES ARE ON CANADIAN SOIL

New York, Dec. 20.—The Associated Press today carries the following. "An Atlantic Port of the United States, Dec. 20.—Special trains left here today for Canada carrying the 1,200 invalided Canadian soldiers, who arrived here yesterday on a British steamship. With military precision they were transferred from the vessel to a railroad depot, and their only complaint was that they were not permitted to visit the city here."

Berlin, Dec. 20.—The property of Americans in Germany has been placed under the trusteeship of the German government. There is no intention, however, to confiscate the property or to infringe on the personal rights of property holders.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

URGES A CABINET SEAT FOR LAURIER

Montreal, Dec. 20.—The Montreal Herald today prints the following:

"Now that the election is over and the people have given a mandate to the Union Government, a mandate that says for the time being at least party politics are brushed aside, there is an opportunity for the Prime Minister to do the biggest thing, personally, that perhaps any Prime Minister of Canada has ever had the opportunity to do.

"The whole country would applaud the offer of a portfolio to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The French-Canadians 25 per cent. of the population of Canada, are without direct representation in the Cabinet.

"Whether Sir Wilfrid Laurier would accept the offer or not we are not in a position to say. There is no doubt however, that he would receive it with characteristic courtesy and give it due consideration. We sincerely hope he would accept it.

"Sir Wilfrid's inclusion in the Cabinet would be of the utmost value to the country.

"No small thing should be allowed to prevent this suggestion being carried into effect. It would be an occasion for national rejoicing."

POSSESS the POWER of ALADDIN

Anna Case of the Metropolitan Opera

Margaret Matzenauer of the Metropolitan Opera

Marie Rappold of the Metropolitan Opera

Thomas Chalmers of the Metropolitan Opera

Aladdin had merely to rub his wonderful lamp and instantly the slave stood at attention. Compared to the power which Thomas A. Edison offers you, Aladdin's was limited. For, ownership of, that wonderful instrument, the New Edison means that a group of the world's greatest artists is constantly at your service. A mere turn of the hand and presto! right there in the room peals forth the glorious voice of Anna Case, Margaret Matzenauer, Marie Rappold, Arthur Middleton, Thomas Chalmers, or any other of our eminent Metropolitan stars. It is exactly as though the singer were there in the flesh. No human ear can detect the slightest shade of difference between the living artist's interpretation and that of

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul."

Conceive yourself in a crowded concert hall. One of our Metropolitan stars, Marie Rappold, for example, begins to sing. Through the building soars her brilliant soprano voice. Now watch the audience. Note the sudden stir. See the amazement reflected in each face. What has happened? The singer's lips have ceased to move. And still the beautiful aria continues. Surely, Marie Rappold is still singing. She must be. Every lingering overtone, every subtle shade of color is there. But her lips are motionless. What is the answer?

In a sense Marie Rappold is still singing. The New Edison which stands beside her is playing a Rappold Re-Creation. The explanation is simple. First the instrument is started. Then Rappold joins in. Suddenly she stops and the Re-Creation continues. And so completely, so utterly satisfying is the Re-creation, that the listeners refuse to credit the evidence of their senses.

This is the famous Edison tone test; the demonstration which convinces the most skeptical that Thomas A. Edison has succeeded in actually re-creating music.

Come into our store and see for yourself just what we mean by Music's Re-Creation.

Marie Sundelius of the Metropolitan Opera

UKRANIAN TROOPS ARE IN CONTROL

Opponents of Bolsheviki Have Occupied the Headquarters of all Staffs on the Roumanian and Southwestern fronts

Petrograd, Dec. 22.—It is reported that Ukrainian troops have occupied the headquarters of all staffs on the Roumanian and southwestern fronts, seizing telegraph and wireless systems. Lieut. General Dmitrie Sterchbatcheff and his Ukrainian troops have moved to the borders of Ukrania, where they have taken up positions. Orders have been given to mobilize al Cossacks in Ukrainia. The Bolsheviki have refused the demands of Ukrainian sailors of the Baltic Fleet that they be allowed to return home.

London Dec. 22.—The resignation of General Kaledines and his associates in the Military government of the Cossacks, who have been resisting the Bolshevxiki, is reported in a Petrograd dispatch to The London Times. The purpose of this move is said to be to permit the formation of a strong popular government. General Kaledines explained that he had decided to withdraw on account of his unpopularity with the troops at the front, who refused to obey him in consequence of misrepresentations on the part of his enemies.

The dispatch does not suggest any weakening of the Cossack movement, which is represented in other reports as still progressing.

London, Dec. 22.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent reports that the premises of the Ukrainian revolutionary staff in Petrograd was invaded by the Red Guard and the four members who were present at the time arrested and taken to the Smolny Institute, the Bolsheviki headquarters, the guard then going in search of the remaining Ukrainian representatives.

This staff constituted the sole official representation of the Ukrainian Rada in Petrograd. It had been charged with the protection of lives and property in the Petrograd military district on extra territorial grounds.

TWO NORWEGIAN STEAMERS SUNK

Copenhagen, Dec. 22.—The Norwegian steamer Ingrid II. has been torpedoed and only four members of her crew were saved. The Norwegian steamer Borgeten also has been torpedoed and two of her sailors were killed.

The Ingrid II. was of 1,145 gross tons. Available maratime records do not give her recent movements. The steamer Borgeten is listed at 1,713 tons. She left an Atlantic port last April.

SETTLERS WANT THEIR COAL RIGHTS

Well Attended Meeting at Cedar, Passes Resolution Against Any Further Delay in Issuing of Crown Grants.

A well attended meeting was held at South Cedar schoolhouse on Thursday last in the interests of the settlers who have made application for crown grants under the Vancouver Island Settlers' Rights Act. Mr. J. S. Cairns occupied the chair, and briefly introduced Mr. J. H. Hawthwaite, after explaining that the settlers were very anxious to learn of the present status of the case.

The following resolution was carried unanimously and a hearty vote of thanks given to the chairman and Mr. Hawthornthwaite:

"Whereas, the Provincial Government at the last session of the House amended the Vancouver Island Settlers' Rights Act to allow all settlers entitled to crown grants to make application for the same, and

"Whereas, over one hundred settlers have complied with the law so far as it is in their power to do so, and have not yet received their grants or any explanation as to the cause of the delay;

"Therefore, be it resolved that this meeting protests against any further delay in the administration of the act and respectfully requests the Government to issue the crown grants, including mineral rights to which the applicants are entitled according to the decision of the Privy Council, at the earliest possible moment;

"And be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Honorable Minister of Mines, the Honorable Attorney-General, and the Premier of the Province."

ARTILLERY ROARS WESTERN FRONT

German Guns Bombard British Lines from Armentiers to Langemarck—The Enemy is Worsted in Encounter South of Cambrai.

London, Dec. 22.—A report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters tonight says:

"Patrol encounters took place during the night south of Cambrai in which casualties were inflicted on the enemy. Hostile artillery has shown increased activity throughout the day at a number of points along the front from Armentitres to Langemarck."

Paris, Dec. 22.—An official statement by the War Office tonight says:

"The two artilleries were active in the sector of Chenay, northwest of Rheims on the right bank of the Meuse and in upper Alsace in the regions of Thur and Doller.

"In the sector of Bezonvaux (Verdun sector) a German raid failed this morning.

KRUPP WORKS ARE ON FIRE

London, Dec. 22.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam, quotes the Echo Belge as follows:

"The Krupp plant in Essen is afire. Dutch workmen have been ordered to return to Holland."

It is officially reported that active work in opening up the coal properties close to Ladysmith will commence early in the New Year. Already practical men have been secured to take charge of the work and it may not be many months before coal in large quantities will be shipped from the new properties.

Little "Miss Win-the-War" was drawn for last evening by the local Red Cross, and was won by Miss L. Hathway with ticket No. 651, the buggy being won by Mrs. G. A. Slaughter with number 21. The lucky numbers were drawn from the box by Miss Amelia Quinn.

CAILLAUX MUST STAND HIS TRIAL

Paris, Dec. 22.—A resolution was adopted in the Chamber of Deputies late today depriving former premier Joseph Caillaux of parliamentary immunity in the accusations against him for alleged treasonable dealing with the enemy. The vote on the resolution was 417 to 2. A similar resolutfon in regard to Deputy Louis Loustalot was adopted with a show of hands by the Chamber.

There will be a rehearsal of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Choir directly after this morning's service. All members are requested to make a special point of attending.

NO INTOXICANTS AFTER MONDAY

Ottawa, Dec. 22.—Announcement was made by the Prime Minister at noon today of the prohibition of the importation of intoxicating liquors into Canada after next Monday. The only exception is in the case of purchases made before that date

The announcement reads:

On December 17 the people gave to the Government an unmistakable mandate for the victorious prosecution of the war and for the employment of all the country's energies and resources necessary to achieve victory. It is essential, and indeed vital, for the efficient conduct of the war that wasteful or unnecessary expenditures should be prohibited and that all articles capable of being utilized as food should be conserved. It is beyond question that the use of liquor affects adversely the realization of this purpose.

"The subject has been under consideration by the War Committee of the Cabinet and the following conclusions have been reached:

"First—Any liquor or beverage containing more than 2½ per cent alcohol shall be regarded as intoxicating liquor.

"Second The importation of intoxicating liquors into Canada is prohibited on and after December 24, 1917, unless it shall have been actualy purchased on or before that date for importation into Canada and unless, having been so purchased, it is imported into Canada not later than January 31, 1918. The final determination upon any question respecting such purchase shall rest with the Minister of Customs. This regulation shall not apply to importations for medicinal, sacramental, manufacturing or chemical purposes.

"Third—The transportation of liquor into any part of Canada wherein the sale of intoxicating liquor is illegal, will be prohibited on and after April 1, 1918.

"Fourth—The manufacture of intoxicating liquor within Canada will be prohibited on and after a date to be determined upon after further investigation and consideration of the actual conditions of the industry.

"As above mentioned, the prohibition of importation becomes effective on Monday next, December 24.

"The regulations to carry into effect the other provisions above mentioned are being prepared, and as soon as approved they will be enacted under the provisions of the War Measures Act.

"The foregoing provisions shall remain in force during the war, and for 12 months after the conclusion of peace."

BEACH'S "AUCTION BLOCK" HAS THE PUNCH

Film Produced Under Personal Supervision of the Famous Author, Has Message for Every Girl in America.

Rex Beach's greatest novel, "The Auction Block," has been brought to the screen. Picturized under the direct supervision of the famous author and released through Goldwyn, this stirring life drama of a million girls in America's big cities and small towns comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow and Tuesday.

The "Auction Block" will grip and hold you from the first moment to the last. The life action which has made Rex Beach's novels loved where ever books are known fills every reel; there is a "punch" in every scene. Among the more stirring moments are a fight in a New York gambling house raided by the police; the overturning of a great pot of molten steel in a Pittsburgh mill and the engulfing of a score of workmen; the lavish banquet given by the steel millionaires at which the "souvenirs" for the young women guests are golden meshbags, and so on almost with out number.

Rex Beach will long be remembered for "The Spoilers," and "The Barrier," but in "The Auction Block," he has fairly surpassed these wonderful pictures as they are.

Among the passengers from Vancouver last evening on the S.S. Princess Patricia, were M. Celle, Mrs. J. J. Grant, Mrs. W. A. Wood, Miss Wood, Miss Caldwell, Mrs. John Waugh, Miss Waugh, Mrs. George F. Wilson, Mrs. Roblin, Miss Thomas, Miss Cavalsky, J. M. Rudd, K. Gordon, James Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. Corcoran, Mrs. Ashman, W. Anderson, A. Menzies and Osmond Dobeson.

FURTHER GAINS FOR ITALIANS

Strategic Positions in Hotly Contested Area of Northern Italian Front Captured from Austro-German Forces.

London, Dec. 22.—Not only are the Italian lines holding in the Monte Asolone region on the northern front where a threatening salient was driven in them early last week, but considerable progress has been made toward restoring the original position. This process, begun by the Italians on Thursday, was continued on Friday, the Rome War Office reporting the re-capture of further ground in the hotly disputed area.

The Austro-German command evidently had in mind the expansion of the Asolone wedge in a way further to imperil the entire Monte Grapha position to the east of the Italian bulwark against an intended drive into the plains, and this possibility still remains. The Italians, however, negatived much of the enemy's advantage and even the German accounts of the fighting concede that for the present the aggressive is on the Italian side, with Asolone heights the objective of repeated attacks.

There has been no fighting of consequence in any of the other war areas, military activities being at low ebb everywhere else. Even artillery engagements along the French front appear to have lessened in intensity and there has been no indication of a revival of infantry activity in upper Alsace, where the German demonstration of Friday gave the enemy a temporary advantage, which was quickly wiped out by the aggressive French re-action.

In Russia, strife for control is assuming broader aspects. Apparently the solidification of the Ukraine-Cossack movement in Southern Russia seems to be giving the opposition to the Bolsheviki a firmer hold on that territory. The Petrograd commissioners themselves are considerably worried by a spread of the Separatist movement which prospectively is cutting huge slices off Russian territory not only in the direction of Ukraine and the Don region, but in various quarters Evidence of this appears in their sending emissaries to the disaffected district to line them up with the Bolsheviki regime at Petrograd.

The status of Russian peace negotiations continue unchanged. Reiterated reports are coming out of Petrograd that negotiations were broken off because of the objectionable nature of the German terms and that the Russian representatives have left Brest-Litovsk.

Up to a late hour there has been neither confirmation nor denial from official sources of these reports.

Some hint that the Teutonic offers not of an acceptable nature the Bolsheviki had indicated they were expecting may be found in a declaration by Leon Trotszky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, that the Russians would fight rather than submit to objectionable terms. This was coupled, however, with what appeared to be an admission of Russia's present military impotence and assertion that if the Russians were thus compelled temporarily to submit they would join with the German people in rising against German militarism—the familiar Bolsheviki prediction of a German revolution being thus echoed.

The British Admiralty has announced the loss of the British armed steamer Stephen Furness, which was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the Irish Channel with a loss of six officers and 95 men

The fire at the great Krupp munitions plant at Essen, Germany, appears to have been less serious than early reports indicated. Apparently the damage was confined to an electric power station, where an explosion occurred, due to a short circuit. This building, however, is reported from a Dutch source seriously damaged.

LOSSES HEAVIER THAN ADMITTED

Geneva, Dec. 22.—The Krupps have recently quadrupled their naval plant near Kiel, according to advices from Berlin by way of Berne to Lasuisse. This was done at the request of the German government for the purpose of making up losses in submarines which the dispatch asserts have been heavier than the German admiralty admits.

TRAIN CRASHED INTO CROWD

Seven Killed and Five Injured When Express Crashed Into a Crowd at Magnolia Station.

Baltimore, Dec. 22.—Seven men were killed outright and five others injured, two of whom died on a train on the way to Baltimore at 7 o'clock this evening at Magnolia, 20 miles from this city, when an express train ran through a crowd at Magnolia Station. The crowd on the platform started to push forward when the train was approaching. It was not the local for which they were waiting, but an express train that crashed into the men farthest out.

During the present month the pupils of the local public schools have contributed $103.40 to the Prisoners of War Fund.

TEUTON FORCES DRIVEN BACK

Enemy Was Dislodged from a Great Part of Monte Asolone by Italians in Succession of Brilliant Attacks.

Headquarters of the Italian Army in Northern Italy, Dec. 22—In a succession of brilliant attacks throughout yesterday and today the Italians succeeded in dislodging the enemy from a great part of Monte Asolone and driving him back more than two-thirds of a mile along a three-mile front. The enemy's occupation of Asolone was regarded as a serious menace, because it gave him partial control of the San Lorenzo Valley, leading to the plain and Bassano.

Rome, Dec. 22.—Italian forces in the region of Monte Asolone, on the Northern Italian front yesterday made further progress after lively fighting, in spite of adverse atmospheric conditions, it was announced today by the War Office here.

The text of the report follows:

"In the Monte Asolone region parties of our Arditi, despite adverse atmospheric conditions, kept the fighting lively and again realized some progress. A hostile counter attack was immediately repulsed.

All those taking part in the production of "The Messiah" are requested to attend rehearsal this evening at 8:30, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The orchestra will be in attendance.

GERMAN PAPERS STOLEN

Geneva, Dec. 22.—A valise containing diplomatic papers en route from Berlin to Berne was stolen yesterday at Basel station. The German legation at Berne is said to be greatly concerned at the loss.

Gibbons and Calderhead report the biggest day's business in their experience yesterday and they still have some splendid buys for Monday shoppers.

ENEMY LABOR.

The proposal of General Memburn to take the greater part of the wages earned by alien enemies for the use of the state is ridiculed by some of the so-called labor leaders in Vancouver. It would be quite impossible for General Mewburn or any other member of the Union government to make any proposal which would find favor in the sight of these labor Ishmaels. After the results of the election no one can mistake them for leaders, and their opinions only represent their own personal views. General Mewburn was fully aware of the difficulties in the way of carrying out his proposal. What he was conscious of most of all was the manifest unfairness of calling up Canadian men for service, and leaving the alien enemies to enjoy the very privileges Canadians are fighting for. It is to the General's credit that he should be so keenly desirous of removing this injustice, and his action will find support from the Atlantic to the Pacific. If enemy aliens should refuse to work at their own trade or calling there is other work in the Dominion which they can be given to do, and made to do at whatever terms the government may decide. These men are enemies of Canada and can only be treated as such. If their labor is necessary to carry on the industries of the country, then it should not be beyond the ability of the government to arrange that the country reaps the most benefit from it. The application of the principle of conscription to the labor of enemy aliens will most assuredly find its strongest support from the ranks of organized labor.

NO MORE WHISKEY

The Federal government has taken a long step in the direction of dominion-wide prohibition. From tomorrow the importation of alcoholic beverages into Canada is prohibited, except for medicinal and sacramental purposes. This means that whiskies, of all grades, wines and so forth cannot be sent into Canada, and as they cannot be manufactured in Canada the Dominion as a whole will be practically dry. There is of course a considerable stock of whiskies stored in Canada, and the thirsty ones will be able to supply their needs so long as this stock holds out. Just how long it will hold out, or at what price it will be available we have no means of saying. The primary object of the government is to put an end to Canadian money going out of the country in this business, and to that extent and as a war measure, the order of the government will be generally approved. After all it may be admitted that this is one of the least of the sacrifices the Canadian people have been called upon to make.

Rev. Dr. Hatt who, it will be remembered was in Nanaimo during the progress of the Y. M. C. A. campaign, has written Mayor McKenzie, informing His Worship that as a result of a ten weeks' campaign the sum of $50,000 has been raised for Y. M. C. MADAM LAPLANTE

85 St. Rose St., Montreal. April 4th. "For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant Headaches, and had Palpitation of the Heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the Constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease.

I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health".

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

FIVE BILLION FOR U.S. ARMY

Washington, Dec. 21.—The army appropriation bill for the next fiscal year, on which the House Committee is to resume hearings January 3, probably will carry close to $5,000,000,000 for the whole military establishment, exclusive of fortifications and field artillery guns, which will be provided for by the Appropriation Committee. The bill is expected to be ready about February 1. The total army appropriation estimates sent to Congress by the War Department aggregate $6,610,000,000.

"The Military Committee will give the War Department everything that it reasonably con convince the committee it needs," said Chairman Dent today. "We will call up the bureau chiefs and then ask Secretary Baker to appear to go over his military policies. The sessions will be executive, because of the military secrets involved."

BIJOU THEATRE

Nance O'Neil, the famous emotional actress, will appear at the Bijou tomorrow and next day in a powerful five act photo-play "The Love Question." Miss O'Neil is recognized wherever the English language is spoken as one of the world's greatest actresses, and she has been very successful in motion pictures. Accompanying this fine film will be shown another one of the two-reel Fox comedies which have proved so popular here.

BRANDON MAJORITY

Brandon, Man., Dec. 22.—Dr. H. R. Whidden is officially declared elected in Brandon by a majority of 8,103. A total of 10,577 votes were cast. Of these Dr. Whidden received 9,340, and H. S. Paterson 1,237. This is said to be the largest proportionate majority for any Unionist candidate.

ATTEMPTED RAID BY HUNS FAILED

Enemy Met With Defeat in the Neighborhood of Juvincourt, His Losses Being Considerable—14 Enemy Planes Downed.

Paris, Dec. 23.—An announcement of the progress of the campaign issued by the War Office today reads:

"Between the Oise and Aisne, patrols were quite active. In the neighborhood of Juvincourt, the Germans attempted a raid of our small posts but were repulsed with considerable losses.

"Other attempts in the sector of Godal, north of Courcy, gave no other results than to leave prisoners in our hands.

"In Lorraine our reconnoitring parties captured a few Germans near Limey.

"The night was calm elsewhere.

"In the period of Dec. 11-20, 14 German aeroplanes were brought down by our pilots; three others were forced to land in a damaged condition inside their own lines. In addition three enemy machines were brought down by fire of our guns."

FORMER NANAIMO BOY IS STILL MISSING

Nothing further has yet been heard from the War Office of Flight-Lieut J. F. McKinnon, R.F.C., who was reported missing on November 28. It is thought that he, like other aviators, may turn up as a prisoner of war in Germany.

With his brother, Lieut. T. J. MacKinnon, recently returned from overseas and now at Balfour Military Sanitarium, he enlisted in February, 1916, in the Mechanical Transport. Later he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps and went to Northern France last Summer. He recently returned to England and took a musketry course.

Flight-Lieut. MacKinnon before the war was prominent in athletics in Victoria, particularly in connection with the J. B. A. A.

His father, Mr. M. MacKinnon and two sisters, Miss Adelaide MacKinnon and Miss Bernadine MacKinnon, live at 130 Howe Street, Victoria. Another sister, Mrs. James Adam, also lives in Victoria. The youngest member of the family, V. M. MacKinnon, has been in France with the Canadian Artillery and is now in England.

HONORS OF WAR FOR CANADIANS

Seven Officers and Twelve Men in Canadian Army Have Gained the Coveted Victoria Cross.

London, Dec. 23, via Reuters.—Seven thousand decerations have been conferred to date on members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force for valor in the field and for outstanding war service. Seven officers and 12 men have gained the coveted Victoria Cross, 306 officers have received the D. S. O., six have gained the D. S. O., and 105 Canadian nurses received the Royal Red Cross. There have been one K. C. B. and 16 C. B.'s and three K. C. M. G.'s bestowed on Canadians. One thousand and ten officers and 26 of other ranks have been decorated with the Military Cross. One hundred and eighty-eight medals have been awarded to Canadians, 65 to officers and 128 to men. Men in the ranks have been rewarded with 676 Distinguished Conduct medals, and six received bars to D. C. M. Four thousand three hundred and twenty-four have received the Military Medal, and 125 received bars to the Military Medal and three received the second bar. Sixty-three have earned Meritorious Service Medals.

CHINA TAKING A FIRM STAND

Pekin, Dec. 23.—The Chinese commandant at Harbin, Manchuria, delivered an ultimatum today to Bolsheviki headquarters, giving the Extremists 48 hours to disarm and leave Harbin. Otherwise they are warned force will be used.

The Chinese are continuing to strengthen their military forces at Harbin. Lieut.-Col. Horvath, Russian commander at Harbin, is continuing to assist the Chinese. Because of existing conditions he has ordered his residence in the area under Chinese control.

ALBERT MEDAL FOR COWICHAN LAKE HEROES

CHRISTMAS EXAMS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Upwards of One Hundred Pupils Were in Attendance Last Term at Nanaimo's Institute of Learning.

The High School is increasing in numbers every year, 118 pupils having been in attendance this term. Of this number about half are in the Preliminary Junior Grade consisting of two classes, 24 in the Advanced Junior Grade, 24 in the Intermediate Grade and 4 in the Senior Grade. The tone of the school is bright and lively and while greater industry would be advantageous, it is seldom found that real progress is the result of unnatural Sobriety of thought.

The numbers indicate percentages and the names are arranged in order of merit.

Senior Grade — Wm. Philpott 60; Miss Reay 52; Miss Jessop 52; W. Pryde 38.

Intermediate Grade—Miss C. West 81; Cecil West 76; Miss M. Haddow 76; Miss Craig 74; Miss A. Robertson 71; Miss G. Bennett 68; Miss O. Lawrence 67; Miss I. Johnston 65; Miss V. Amsterdam, Dec. 23.—Five bombs have been dropped on the town of Gors in Zeeland, damaging several houses and seriously injuring one man. Zeeland is a Dutch province.

London, Dec. 23.—The German air raid on English coast towns Saturday night resulted in no casualties or damage, according to an official announcement today. One airplane was brought to earth.

London, Dec. 23.—Vienna papers, according to a Reuter despatch from Amsterdam, report the arrival of Count Czerin, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister and staff at Brest-Litovsk on Thursday.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 23.—Sir Robert Borden, after spending several months of strenuous labor, has left for the south where he will employ at least a fortnight's holiday. He left today, accompanied by Lady Borden. Hon. N. W. Rowell will be acting Prime Minister.

Petrograd, Dec. 23.—Socialistic Austrian prisoners in the Ukraine have petitioned Leon Trotsky, Bolsheviki foreign minister, not to make a separte peace with Germany. They assert that Germany, unwilling to recognize self definiton of nations would keep Austro-Hungary under the Imperialistic yoke.

Melbourne, Dec. 23.—By Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—Returns are now complete on voting on the conscription referendum and show that 938,000 ballots were cast, against and 764,00 for, a majority against conscription of 174,000.

The figures do not include the soldiers' votes, but refer to complete returns for Australia.

Winnipeg, Dec. 23.—Entailing a loss estimated at $250,000, a large terminal elevator of the Northern Elevator Company in St. Boniface containing 80,000 bushels of grain, was completely destroyed by fire which broke out at 5:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Kitchener, Ont., Dec. 23.—The congregation of Trinity Methodist Church by a unanimous standing vote and singing of the Doxology, expressed its hearty approval of the war time prohibition measure which was proclaimed by the Dominion cabinet yesterday.

Halifax, Dec. 23.—The latest estimate of the loss of life in the disaster of December 6 is placed at 1,500. Chairman Barnslead of the Mortuary committee said today that more than 1,100 bodies had been recovered and there are about 300 missing.

Petrograd, Dec. 23.—The breach between the Ukraine Rada and the Workmen's and Soldiers' deputies has been widened by the arrest of 40 members of the Ukraine revolutionary staff at Petrograd. The Rada has sent an ultimatum to the Bolsheviki headquarters threatening fircible steps unless the staff is released.

Geneva, Dec. 23.—According to a report to diplomatic circles in Berne, German representatives in neutral countries already received the German Emperor's Christmas proposals for peace, which will be divulged to the world on Christmas Eve. The conditions reported in the proposals are vague and elastic and with no explicit declaration of Germany's terms.

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—The danger of German propaganda designed to ruin the morale of the Allies was emphasized by Gerard, former American Ambassador to Germany, in an address here last night. "German propaganda in the United States, Russia, Sweden and Brazil," said Mr. Gerard, "is a great menace to an Allied victory."

Petrograd, Dec. 23.—A dispatch here from Finland says the Finns refuse to recognize the authority of the Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates pending the action of the Constituent Assembly. They also demand that the Russians keep their promise to remove Russian troops from Finland.

New York, Dec. 23.—The discontinuance of the manufacture of rifles for Russia by the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co. has been ordered by the British Government, which has supervision over the contract.

Amsterdam, Dec. 23.—The Berlin Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts has been obliged by the Government to suspend publication for three days.

FIGHTING FAVORS THE ITALIANS

Italian Troops Made Three Successful Raids While the Enemy Made Half a Dozen Unsuccessful Attempted Raids on Italian Lines.

Rome, Dec 23.—An official statement issued tonight from General Headquarters reports local encounters, detailing three instances in which Italian troops made successful raids on enemy posts and mentioning half a dozen places where the enemy unsuccessfully attempted raids on the Italian lines. On the Piave plain there were artillery actions of moderate intensity.

London, Dec. 23 — Under cover of heavy artillery barrage, says today's report from Field-Marshal Haig's headquarters, "the enemy yesterday afternoon made a local attack against our positions in the neighborhood of the Ypres Staden railway and succeeded in driving in our advanced posts for a short distance on a front of 700 yards. During the night hostile artillery was greatly active in the neighborhood of Poelcappelle and Gheluvelt."

PEACE CONFERENCE HELD SITTING

London, Dec. 23.—Peace negotiations between the Teutonic Allies and the Russians have been begun at Brest Litovsk and apparently the enemy played the trump card at the outset, for on the proposal of Prince Leopold of Bavaria, the German commander-in-chief of the Russian front, Dr. Von Kuehlmann, German foreign secretary, an astute politician, has been unanimously chosen official chairman.

A noteworthy fact in the composition of the delegations from the various countries allied with the Austro-Germans is that they include men who have stood in high councils of their respective countries, while men who are to handle Russia's interests for the most part are unknown in world politics. Still another outstanding fact in the meagre details of the formation of the conference that thus far have come through, is that Roumania is not credited with having sent delegates to Brest-Litovsk. The possibility is therefore, that Roumania has decided to hold aloof from discussing a separate peace.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES

Special Christmas services were conducted in the churches of Nanaimo last evening. There were large attendances at the several places of worship, where music appropriate to the occasion was rendered.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church the choir rendered a special service of Christmas music as follows:

Anthems—"Unto Us a Child is Born" (Nichol); "Sing O Heavens," (Clare); "Shepherds Abiding" (Simper); Soles, "Light of the World," Mrs. Drysdale; "The Star of Bethlehem" (Adams), Mr. T. Lewis. Organ "Andantino in D flat" (Lemare) "Christmas" (Oesten); "Postlade or Old Christmas Carols' (Calkin).

Anthem, "Oh, Sweetly Breathe," (West). Soloists, Miss Blundell and Rev. V. R. Kelly. Obligato, Mr. T. G. James. Solo, selected, Mr. J. Barsby. Anthem, "Daughter of Zion," (Clark). Solo, "Star of Bethlehem," (Adams), Miss Blundell.

PROPERTY OF ALIENS SEIZED

Trotsky Announces Property of Foreigners is Subject to Confiscation Equally with that of Russians.

Petrograd, Dec. 23.—Leon Trotsky the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, has informed Moscow representatives in the Foreign Office, that landed property belonging to foreigners is subject to confiscation equally with that of the Russians.

London, Dec. 23.—The Pravda, organ of the Bolsheviki, has begun the publication of Swiss diplomatic documents purporting to prove a constitutional democratic conspiracy against the revolution, according to a dispatch to the Times.

The first instalment implicates a university lecturer named Gromeff and Prince and Princess Kekonatoff.

The first number has been issued of Commissaries' newspaper Packel, printed in German, "for the establishment of spiritual connection between the revolution and German brother soldiers."

Large numbers of the publication have been sent to the front, and circulated among the German and Austrian war prisoners.

INTERESTING SESSION OF NANAIMO'S OPEN FORUM

Yesterday's session of Nanaimo's Open Forum was one of the most interesting held this season. Mr. George W. Beattie, manager of the Dominion and Bijou theatres, gave a most instructive and interesting address on the "Moving Picture in Modern Life," handling the subject in a manner which showed him to be master of all its details. Mr. Beattie reviewed the history of moving pictures, their influence in regard to education and the prospects for the future.

Rev. Dr. Unsworth led an interesting discussion which followed the address.

BRITISH ADVANCE IN PALESTINE

Commanding Positions North of Jaffa Are Captured by General Allenby — British Forces Are Two Miles North east of Bethany.

London, Dec. 23.—Further progress by forces of General Allenby at two points in Palestine was reported in a statement issued by the War Office.

Gen. Allenby reports that at midnight of Dec. 20-21, our troops crossing the Nahr El Auja (four miles north of Jaffa on the Mediterranean) on rafts and light bridges seized Khurdet, Hadrad, Seik, Maunnie, Teer Rekket and El Nakkhrae. These localities are near the mouth of the river and include commanding ground three miles north of it. They captured 305 prisoners, 11 of whom were officers, and 10 machine guns.

Other forces captured Rasez Sandy, two miles northeast of Bethany, taking 30 prisoners, two machine guns, and beating off three counter-attacks.

Gen. Allenby also reported the following captures since the commencement of operations:

"Ninety guns and howitzers with carriages, about 400 limbers, wagons and other vehicles, 110 machine guns, more than 7,000 rifles, 18,500 rounds of small ammunition and more than 58,000 rounds of gun and howitzer ammunition, besides various other stores."

Mr. Harry J. Curry of Vancouver is spending the weekend with friends in Nanaimo.

Miss Olga Cavalsky, of the nursing staff of the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster, is spending Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cavalsky, Esplanade.

CHRISTMAS AND PEACE.

Tomorrow will be Christmas day, and again it comes to a world locked in death grips in a war the like of which has never before been seen by mankind. Appalling damage and destruction have been wrought in this great struggle, and treasure and lives have been poured out in seas. Nor is the end in sight. The nations are war weary, and the peoples are staggering under their losses and their sufferings, but the decision for liberty and humanity has yet to be won. To think of Christmas and its great saving message of peace and goodwill to and among men, seems a cruel irony in view of the red carnage of blood which is dyeing the soil of Europe. It is over nineteen hundred years since the coming of Christ, and for a moment, considering the happenings in the world today, it would seem that his message and his mission is the one great failure in human history.

Yet it may be that out of this stupendous upheaval may come a quickened belief and faith in the great Christian peace message. Nobody dreamed four years ago that a war such as is now raging today would ever be suffered by mankind. It staggers one's understanding even yet to fully account for it. We know that it sprang from the insensate ambition of the Kaiser, a man whose sanity has always been open to question. But the Kaiser had with him to counsellors and conspirators some of the most enlightened men in Germany. Their great plot against the peace and security of the world was years in preparation, and when it was launched it received the united support of the whole German people both in and out of Germany. There is the amazing fact, let it be accounted for as it may. The chief result has been to implant in the hearts and minds of the peoples of the world such a desire for peace that nothing, no sacrifice however heavy, will be allowed to stand in the way of its accomplishment.

So far as the allied powers and the allied peoples are concerned this is now the only issue in the war. They are fighting for a peace with absolute securities that it will be lasting, a peace that no combination of circumstances will be able to break. In the last resort they are fighting that the great message of Christ of peace on earth and goodwill to men may and must prevail. It is only in the true independence of separate nations, and in the true and full liberty of all peoples, free from any form of military domination, that the world can know lasting peace, the peace which Christ came to give to men.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

ZBYSZKO IS CHAMPION

New York, Dec. 22.—Wladek Zbyszko, of Poland, won the world's catch-as-catch-can wrestling championship in the International tournament tonight by throwing Ed "Strangler" Lewis, of Lexington, Ky., in one hour and 47 minutes and 37 seconds, with a body scissors hold.

The contest was a gruelling one. Seven times one or the other was close to a fall and each time a toe-hold was used. The end came when Lewis, who was paying more attention to his seconds than to his opponent, was downed with a flying fall. Zbyszko then forced Lewis' shoulders on the mat.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL

Boston, Dec. 22.—Plans for a series of exhibition baseball games between the Boston Nationals and the New York Americans to be played on their way home from southern training camps in April were announced today by Walter E. Hapgood, business manager of the local club. The Boston team will train at Miami, Fla., and the New York players at Macon, Ga.

LYNCH BEAT MOORE

Providence, R.I., Dec. 22.—Joe Lynch, of New York, won a decision over Pal Moore, of Memphis, in the twelve-round main bout here last night.

The Conservatives of Alberni will hold a convention at Port Alberni on Friday, the 28th of December, when the standard bearer for that district will be selected. The delegates, representative of the various sections of the riding, have already been named, and there will be a fulll attendance at the convention. Vancouver and Similkameen will select their candidates early in the year. The contests will be on straight party lines in these three districts.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia, at its next session for an act to incorporate an association known as "the Engineering and Technical Institute of British Columbia," with power to promote and increase the knowledge, skill and proficiency of its members in all things relating to the architectural, engineering, surveying and technical professions and to that end to establish and conduct examinations and prescribe such tests of competency and moral character as may be thought expedient and to grant certificates of membership to those approved of and to purchase or otherwise acquire and hold real and personal property for the purpose of the institute and to dispose thereof and reinvest the proceeds in such manner as may seem fit, and to fix entrance fees and annual fees or subscriptions to be paid by the members and to vary the same from time to time and to provide for the management of its affairs by council to be constituted in such manner as may be provided for by by-law and to have its head office and hold its annual meetings within British Columbia and to have, enjoy and exercise all powers, rights and privileges necessary, usual or incidental to all or any of the aforesaid purposes.

Dated at Victoria, British Columbia, this 18th day of December, 1917.

VANCOUVER WOMAN STEALS DIAMOND RING

Vancouver, Dec. 23.—Wearing a demure smile, and informing the clerk that her "friend" had decided to give her a diamond ring for Christmas, a lady walked into Gow's jewelry store on Granville street on Friday afternoon and asked to be shown some. The obliging clerk did so, displaying three valued at about $150 each.

The prospective customer found the question of choice a very difficult one to solve after viewing the diamonds, and finally selected three which she requested be sent to an address for her "friend" to select from. It was not until the lady had taken her departure that it was found that one of the $150 diamond rings had also disappeared.

The matter was reported to the police, who are looking for the lady and the diamond.

RIFLE MANUFACTURE FOR RUSSIA STOPS

New York, Dec. 23.—Discontinuance of the manufacture of rifles for Russia by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has been ordered by the British government, which has supervision over the contract, it was announced today.

The original contract was for 1,800,000 rifles, of which 1,000,000 were completed a fortnight ago. At that time the British authorities took an option on the 600,000 additional rifles, it was stated, and had until January 1 to accept another option for 200,000 rifles, if they were needed.

"The company has been notified that the additional rifles are not desired," the announcement said.

Buenos Ayres Anti-German

Buenos Ayres, Dec. 23.—Only the utmost vigilance of patrols and mounted troops prevented an outbreak of anti-German rioting this afternoon and tonight. The down town streets are crowded with Christmas shoppers and several attempts have been made to organize a demonstration. Students and others marched to the La Union building chanting 10,000 pesos which was the amount of the monthly subsidy said to have been obtained from Berlin by Count Von Luxburg.

More furnaces will be added to the smelter on Bunker Hill.

GAS DETECTOR BEING TESTED

Existing Methods of Detecting Presence of Gas in Coal Mines It Is Believed Will Be Revolutionized by Use of Burrell Gas Detector.

An instrument now is being put through its final tests which, if it does the work claimed for it, will give immediate warning of the presence of smaller percentages of methane in the ventilating current in coal mines than can be detected with the safety lamps. It is known as the Burrell Gas Detector. If it is shown to be as effective as the present indications lead those interested to believe it will revolutionize the existing methods of testing air of coal mines and will prove of the utmost importance in safeguarding the lives of the thousands engaged actively in the industry.

Officials of the British Columbia Department of Mines are watching the developments in this connection with close attention. If the final tests to which the detector now is being subjected, are as good as anticipated, no time will be lost in introducing it, for official use, in the Crow's Nest Coal Field. The Minister of Mines is not satisfied with the method now in use of testing the air for smaller percentages than can be detected by the safety lamps in these mines, it being necessary to forward the air samples to Ottawa for analysis and wait their return, which involves a delay of upwards of ten days before the result is known. It is proposed placing a competent chemist, with the necessary equipment, at that point to analyse the daily samples on the spot, but this course, it is pointed out, is likely to be rendered unnecessary, and in fact entirely superfluous, should the detector be shown to be effective. In the meantime, therefore, the department is awaiting the results referred to and if there are what is confidently looked for it will not be long before the mines of Coal Creek, B.C., are provided with the necessary number of detectors to enable the mine officials to know from day to day just what percentage of gas is present in different parts of the mine.

From a series of tests made with analyses gas samples taken at the same time in reasonable velocities by the Burrell Detector and samples taken and dealt with in the ordinary way the two have checked out very closely, within three-tenths of one per cent. In high velocities the results were not quite so satisfactory, but further tests are being made under these conditions and it is these results which have yet to come to hand. It is interesting to quote some of the comparative figures, which speak for themselves:

OLD RESIDENT PASSED AWAY ON TUESDAY

The death occurred Tuesday morning at the family residence, 134 Irwin street, of John Simpson, a resident of Nanaimo for 24 years. The deceased was a native of Bradford, Yorkshire, England, aged 69 years. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and two sons, George and Joseph, both of this city. The funeral, the arrangements for which are in the hands of Mr. McAdie, will take place on Friday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, from McAdie's undertaking parlors, the Rev. F. G. West, officiating.

Mr. John F. Doyle returned last evening from a business trip to the Capital.

EXPERIENCE OF NANAIMO BOY

John Young Writes from Halifax Giving Details of the Big Explosion Which Wrecked That City.

There are a number of Nanaimo boys in H. M. C. naval forces who were at Halifax on the fateful Dec. 6th, when an explosion aboard the French Munitions ship Mont Blanc wrought wholesale death and destruction. Writing home to his mother in Nanaimo, Seaman John Young gives a vivid discription of the happenings immediately following the explosion. His letter reads as follows:

Halifax, Dec. 7, 1917.

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to let you know I am keeping well, hoping to find you the same. Well, mother, Halifax is nearly cleaned out, by one of the ships that exploded in the harbor yesterday. I thought the old world had come to an end and taking everything with it as it went. Yesterday at nine fifteen in the morning I was standing on deck when all at once came a flash and an explosion enough to deafen anyone. I felt myself carried off my feet and thrown against a hatch into the mess deck, and then came another report and lifted hatches, skylight, window panes, door, sailors and all in one deadly ruin, some sailors were in the water. Anyway after I found myself on the mess deck, I was dumbfounded for about five minutes before I could realize what had happened, but finally I collected myself together and beat it on deck. The first thing I saw were people stretched out and as black as niggers and the blood pouring from their faces, legs and arms, and steel stuck in the deck like darts in a dart board, and the bridge was all wrecked. In fact I could not make out what had happened; the deck was all covered with rubbish. Then I saw our ship clashing into another ship and then into the wharf; the water was like a whirlpool and took charge of everything in its possession.

I could see nothing but excitement. I looked out at the ship next to us and seen the funnels and mast gone, and then some more with boats davits, doors and everything just cleaned up off the deck and nothing but the hull drifting around all over. Some were piled high up on the beach. Finally we were docked along side the wharf again, and I saw fellows that were standing alongside ship just before that with their heads blown off. All the houses within a quarter of a mile of the explosion were blown as level as a plain, and the town was on fire which they have got under control by now. Then came another report that the dockyard magazine was going up, which made us all beat it for between-deck. Then there was a rumbling between one or two sailors, saying that, if another comes there will be no ship left. Someone beat it for the upper deck and on the wharf, and of course some had to follow like sheep. They ran up town, and of course I was with them, and the town was a mass of broken windows and houses without doors, and everyone was bandaged, some on stretchers. They were all deserting the town.

Then a rumor came that the magazine had been flooded and the shells had been put in the sea. Then the search began. There were hundreds of people, women and children dead, the majority of them being sailors' and soldiers' wives. There were lots of sailors killed. H. M. C. S. sent a steam pinnace with two firemen, and three or four sailors and an officer. H. M. C. S. sent a gig with 9 men and a captain. They all went to see what the fire was doing on the ship. When they were nearly there off she went. They never found the men nor the boat. Luck had it that there was a big hospital ship away down the harbor. It was brought up and was soon filled with patients, and also every ship that is not damaged is being used for the same purpose. The hospitals ashore are full of dead and dying; some with legs and arms gone and little children without fathers or mothers, crying for mamma. It would make a person heartbroken to hear their appeals We were all sent on picket duty, and no person to walk on the sidewalk. Blue jackets and soldiers are taking charge of the town, and anyone found touching or nearing a store is shot dead on the spot. I have heard that some have been shot down trying to steal. Believe me it's not safe to loiter around or "bing," and that is all you would be able to hear.

Bob Little of Nanaimo, is on our ship. He got shaken up, and it has affected his hearing, but I think he will be O.K. in a few days. I am a little bruised up and my nerves are shook up a bit, but I consider myself one lucky fellow. It's a good job I was blown down the hatch in safety from the lead pipe and steel rivets, etc, otherwise I am sure I would never have been able to tell the tale. Believe me, I experienced and felt the Protection mine magazine, and the Oscar and Powder Works, but that was just a morsel against this one. I don't want to feel no more like this. I have not heard full details yet of how everything has come out, but I know there are hundreds killed. I saw lots of them myself, but I don't wish to see such a sight again.

We were only about forty yards from the ship, so you can imagine what a shaking up we got when houses were wrecked six miles away, and they heard the report in Sydney two hundred and forty miles away. Well, it's sad to think of it, so I must finish, hoping to hear from you soon. Give my best regards to all, and not forgetting yourself.

I remain your loving son,
J. YOUNG.

RUSSIA HAS A NEW GOVERNMENT

Russian Counsel at Seattle Is Informed of the Establishment of a Russian Government With Capital at Voronege.

Seattle, Dec. 26.—Nicholas Boglolavensky, Russian counsel at Seattle announced today he has received a cable sent by way of India, telling of the establishment of a new Russian Government at Voronege, capital of a province of the same name, between Moscow and Rostov, on the Azov sea. The cable did not say who led the formation of the Government but it is believed leaders in the movement are members of the Kerensky provisional government who have fled from Petrograd

Petrograd, Dec. 25.—Via London, Dec. 26.—It is reported that the refusal of the German government to issue passports to the German Socialists Haase, Ledebour and Kautsky, who desire to go to Stockholm to acquaint themselves with the Russian resolutionary conditions, has produced in Russia an impression which may hamper the peace negotiations.

Bad Impression.

Leon Trotzky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, has sent a telegram to his delegates at Brest-Litovsk in this connection, declaring that if the Germans should refuse their Socialists passports, this would create such a bad impression at Petrograd that it was deemed necessary that the German official delegation, which is expected here Thursday, should go to Stockholm instead,

The Bolsheviki Commissaries have issued a manifesto to all Russian workmen declaring that, as the armistice probably will be transformed at an early date into a general democratic peace for all the European peoples, preparation of military equipment is a waste of national labor and funds, and that, consequently, the output must be stopped immediately and replaced by the production of peace supplies, which the country needs.

The Herald staff acknowledges the receipt of a Christmas gift, consisting of a consignment of Fairall's Ginger Wine, through the medium of the local agent, Mr. W. F. Norris. Call again "Bill."

SHIPPING LOSS SHOWS DECREASE

London, Dec. 26.—Losses to British shipping show a material decrease for the past week. According to the Admiralty report tonight eleven British merchantmen of 1,600 tons or over were sunk during this period by mine or submarine, as well as one merchantmen under that tonnage and one fishing vessel.

OUELETTE—ADAM.

Rev. Dr. Unsworth officiated last evening at an interesting marriage ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Adam, 813 Victoria Road the bride being their eldest daughter Miss Lillian Kathrine, and the groom Mr. Wilfrid L. Ouelette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ouelette, Crofton.

The groom who is taking an officer's training course in Victoria, was dressed in khaki, and was attended by his brother Walter, the bride being attended by Miss Eva Ouelette sister of the groom.

The home was beautifully and artistically decorated, the decorations being of a patriotic nature and at the close of the marriage ceremony an elaborate supper was partaken of by a large number of invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ouelette leave this morning on a honeymoon trip to Sound cities.

RIFT OCCURS IN PEACE LUTE

Reported That Russia Has Given Germany Forty-eight Hours to Either Accept or Reject Russian Peace Proposals.

Petrograd, Dec. 26.—It is reported that the German delegation which was expected in Petrograd on Thursday is proceeding to Dvinsk instead, fearing that a visit to Petrograd would be misinterpreted. There is an unofficial report, which cannot be confirmed, that the Russians have given the Germans 48 hours in which to accept or reject the Russian peace proposals.

Amsterdam, Dec. 26.—Berlin advices received here say that the commission provided for in the Russian-German armistice agreement proceeded for Petrograd today. It is headed by Count Von Mirbach, a former German Minister to Greece, and will undertake to reach a settlement with the Russian authorities for exchange of civilians and incapacitated war prisoners and also devise measures to restore friendly relations between Germany and Russia.

WESTERN PASTIME CLUB INSTITUTED

New Organization Has Been Instituted in Nanaimo for the Entertainment and Securing of Social Advantages for Its Members.

The Western Pastime Club is the name of Nanaimo's newest organization which has for its object the securing of social advantages for its members. The Club has received its charter from the Government, the applying directors being Messrs. R. R. Hindmarch, Geo. E. Norris, A. A. Davis and David Mottishaw, and at a recent meeting the officers were elected as follows:

Hon. President.—R. R. Hindmarch.

President.—Alf. Wilkinson.

Vice-President—George E. Norris.

Secretary-Treasurer — Harry J. Walton.

House and Management Committee.—The above named officers together with D. Mottishaw, C. Tembey, G. Langham, J. Millburn and J. Webster.

The Club which starts out with a membership of over seventy, has fitted up quarters in the Nanaimo Hotel Block which provide every convenience for the comfort and pleasure of its members. The Western Pastime Club has all the requisites of the modern social club and with the advent of prohibition provides for the social wants of the young men of the city who heretofore have not been affiliated with any organization of a similar nature.

WILSON TAKES OVER RAILROADS

American Government Will Assume Possession of All United States Railways And Operate Them on Friday Next.

Washington, Dec. 26.—President Wilson announced tonight he will assume possession and operation of every railroad in continental United States on noon Friday, December 28, and that he had appointed Secretary McAdoo director-general of railroads.

Washington, Dec 26.—Fuel administrator Garfield told the Senate investigating committee today that if the war continued very long the Government would be compelled to pool coal and sell it at reasonable prices. Some coal operators, he said, were making the greatest profits in their history but he considered high prices a stimulus to the great production the war demands. The Fuel Administrator said he saw little relief in prospect for the railroads until their operation was centralized.

ANZAC SOLDIERS VOTE AGAINST

Melbourne, Dec. 26.—The latest figures in the referendum are 870,000 for and 1,050,000 against conscription, including the first returns from the Australian military forces, which it is officially announced are 17,000 for and 23,000 against.

DEBUT OF SOUTH WELLINGTON BAND

Already famous for its fine coal, South Wellington seems destined to become even more so, if Tuesday's performance is a criterion of the ability of its new Brass Band to entertain.

Just at midnight Christmas morning the Band, under the able leadership of Mr. Tom Westwell, made its debut at the home of Mr. Joe Taylor, who has lent material assistance in its formation. Mr. Taylor congratulated the members on the finished and able manner in which they had rendered the various selections, and thanked them for the honor done him and Mrs. Taylor, who provided refreshments.

Thereafter the Band played in each quarter of the district, finishing up at 11 a.m., when Mr. Ed. Carroll had the pleasure of handing over to the treasurer a handsome collection, which will augment the Instrument Fund, (while everyone had hospitably entertained the players).

The very excellent instruments have been supplied by Messrs. Whaley, Royce & Co., of Toronto and Winnipeg.

A Grand Prize Drawing in aid of the Band is being held, the results of the drawing will be published in the Daily Herald of Dec. 30th.

Miss Patricia Kelly of South Wellington invited a number of young friends to her Christmas tree on Christmas morning, among the invited guests being the Misses Irene Bateman, Tris Smith and Lena Bateman and Master Norman Bateman. The children had a royal time and during the height of the festivities they were called on by the recently organized South Wellington Brass Band which rendered several appropriate selections which were much appreciated.

DIED.

At his residence, 134 Irwin Street, on Dec. 25th, John Simpson, a native of Bradford, England, aged 69 years, and a resident of this city for 24 years.

Funeral Notice

The funeral will take place from McAdie's Undertaking Parlors on Friday afternoon at 2:30.

No flowers by request.

Col. Lord Montague, advisory inspector of mechanical warfare for the government of India, who has arrived in the capital on his way from England to India, will, while in Canada, endeavor to stimulate interest in aviation. He will especially emphasize the necessity for a steady stream of recruits for all branches of the Imperial Air Service.

CIVIC ELECTIONS JANUARY 17TH.

Council Set Nomination and Election Dates—Ald. Coburn Submits Report of Finances of the City.

At the regular weekly meeting of the City Council Monday evening, on motion of Ald. Ferguson, it was resolved that nominations for the mayoralty, aldermanic seats and police commissionerships be received in the Council Chambers on Monday, Jan. 14th, and that should a poll be necessary, the same should be held in the Council Chamber on Thursday Jan. 17th between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Mr. F. G. Peto was appointed returning officer.

Ald. Morton was given permission to introduce the Bastion Property taxation exemption by-law, which was given first and second readings and will be considered in committee next Monday

Ald. Coburn brought up the question of the conservation of meat and the introduction of a greater amount of fish into the daily diet of the public, which had been raised by Mr. Gibson on his recent visit to the town. He was of the opinion that as the matter was one of such prime importance, the Council should resolve itself into a committee of the whole with the Mayor as chairman, to deal with the matter. He moved to this effect and the resolution was adopted.

The Mayor brought to the notice of the two committees concerned, the fact that as yet no final report had been made regarding the petition from the Gillespie Street residents, regarding the sewerage question, nor had the committee which had the request from the Nanaimo Building and Land Company in hand, made their report on this matter. He asked that in view of the fact that the present Council would go out of office very shortly, these matters be attended to without further delay.

Ald. Ferguson asked what had been done in the matter of insurance for the firemen. He thought that this also was a question which should be dealt with promptly. The Mayor replied that the Finance Committee had already made a suggestion to the men, and that this was still under consideration.

Ald. Coburn submitted a financial report covering the affairs of the city for the past eleven months, showing total receipts of $109,392.81, and expenditures of $97,426.24. In introducing this report, Ald. Coburn pointed out that the loan at the bank had been reduced $12,000, but at the same time he was afraid he said, that it might be found to be impossible to allow this reduction to remain at this figure. The cost of the street intersection paving would in all likelihood have to be met out of the general revenue, and the receipts during the next month might not be sufficient to cover this in its entirety. However, he thought that on the whole the report showed that the finances of the city were in a satisfactory condition. At the same time he pointed out that it would take almost another four years to pay off the loan to the bank in its entirety if only the present rate of reduction was to be maintained, and until this load was removed from the shoulders of the ratepayers the general finances of the city would be subject to a very grave handicap.

The report was ordered to be filed for future reference.

The Rev. J. K. Unsworth wrote to the effect that the social service council had appointed a committee to act with committees of the Council and other bodies with a view to making the best possible use of the Athletic Club Building.

Nelson has close to $40,000 of light and water rates in arrears at present.

WILHELM HAD A CLOSE CALL

British Air Squardon Came Mighty Near Getting Kaiser "Bill" During Reprisal Raid on Mannheim Christmas Eve.

Geneva, Dec. 26.—The German Emperor, returning [illegible] from the Verdun front had a narrow escape during the reprisal raid of a British air squadron on Mannheim, Christmas Eve, according to a dispatch from Basel. Only about an hour earlier the Emperor's special train left the station which was partly destroyed by several bombs and a section of the track was torn up, cutting communication north. In fact the Emperor's train was the last to leave Mannheim and no trains arrived at Basel yesterday from that city. Two bombs fell on the palace and one on the suspension bridge across the Neokah river, both structures being badly damaged. An ammunition factory in the north of the city was blown up and a few persons were killed. However, as the employees were having a holiday a considerable number of people were killed or injured within the town and several were blown into the Rhine.

London, Dec. 26.—An official report issued here last night, said.

"At daylight Monday one of our air squadrons bombed the German city of Mannheim on the Rhine with excellent results. A ton of bombs was dropped and bursts were observed in the large main station in the works and also in the town, where fires were started. Very heavy anti-aircraft gun fire was directed against our aeroplanes when they were over their objective. One machine was damaged and forced to land. Several enemy scouts made repeated attacks upon our formation, but were driven off. All our machines returned except one aforementioned."

SOCIAL TIME BY AMBULANCE MEN

Upwards of two hundred persons were in attendance at the Social evening given Christmas Eve by the members of the Western Fuel Company's Ambulance Class, and everyone present voted the affair an overwhelming success.

The entertainment consisted in a concert, supper and dance, and the manner in which each part was carried out, left nothing to me desired.

Mr. F. Johns presided, the music for the dance being provided by Lewis' orchestra, while the excellent repast was prepared and served by Mr. and Mrs. James Aitken.

The concert was one in which exceptional merit was displayed, pleasing features of the program being solos by Miss Hickman, but six years old, and Miss Moore, a talented young vocalist, who is sure to be heard from again in Nanaimo musical circles. Mr. George Mordue rendered a violin solo which was well received, and among those who contributed materially to the success of the concert, were Messrs. T. Lewis, W. Baxter, T. Mason, W. Fulton, A. Thompson and Dan Jones.

THE WAR.

The Germans on the Western front dressed themselves in white and tried to pay a Christmas visit to the Canadian trenches, but there was no fraternizing on the British war front as on the first war Christmas and Fritz's gang was dispersed with machine gun fire. Dispatches tell of heavy gun fire all along the Western front and desperate infantry encounters between the Teutonic forces and the Italians on Christmas Day. King Victor Emmanuel spent Christmas with his troops and the Christmas spirit only served to give strength to the Italian Army in the tremendous struggle which they are successfully waging against the enemy.

Last night's dispatches state that except on the northern Italian front military operations continue far below normal, and in France, where snow has fallen along the entire front, only bombardments and small raiding operations are taking place. West of the Brenta river in the Italian highlands, the Italians on Christmas Day continued their counter attacks upon the Austro-German forces, which previously had succeeded in making gains on Col Del Rosso, and Monte Del Val Bella. The battle raged throughout the morning with great violence and the Italians wrested several of their positions from the enemy, but owing to renewed onslaughts by the Teutonic allied forces they were again compelled to give ground

The Berlin War Office admits that the Italians threw heavy counter attacks against the invaders in Col Del Rosso and neighboring sections, but asserts that all of them broke down under heavy losses.

The situation surrounding peace parleys between the Austro-Germans and Russians is still beclouded owing to the lack of details being permitted to come through. At the last accounts the Germans had not only failed to return an answer to the demands made by the Bolsheviki delegates but had requested that negotiations be extended for virtually another month. Meantime the German commission has started for Petrograd from Berlin in an endeavor to restore relations between Germany and Russia and also to reach a settlement with the Russians for an exchange of civilian and incapacitated war prisoners.

ENEMY ALIENS

Sir George Cave, the British home secretary, has announced that the British government intends to introduce a bill to enable it to renew naturalization and to carry out denaturalization As naturalization is now an imperial question, the British government will make any changes in co-operation with the dominions overseas.

Necessity for changes in the naturalization laws has been brought to public attention by the fact that many naturalized Germans and Austrians have proved faithless to their oaths of allegiance. Such men have no right to continue to enjoy the privileges of British citizenship. But as the naturalization laws now stand they will remain British subjects unless they apply for naturalization as citizens of some other country.

The British proposal is that men of enemy birth or tongue who have been naturalized in recent years should be compelled to take out fresh naturalization papers, which would be granted to them only if they have shown themselves during this war, to be worthy of it. The man of enemy birth who, for instance, has shown himself hostile to the British cause would be denaturalized. The privileges of British citizenship would be taken from him and not renewed.

Such a measure should meet with the approval of the governments of all the overseas dominions.

APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS AND PRUNES

Are The Four Fruits Used In Making "Fruit-a-tives

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives", is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. ANOTHER PAPER LOAN

Of course Germany will exult over the "success" of the seventh war loan. Nearly 13,000,000,000 marks have been raised and one of its newspapers declared the other day that this was proof of "economic and financial strength." It is nothing of the kind.

In October, 1915, the secretary of the German treasury in introducing the third war loan admitted that the amounts voted up to that time equalled the value of all their railroads and equipment. That the burden was appalling he did not deny, but he declared that it would be met out of an indemnity to be paid by the allies. He could see no other way. Since that time the burden has increased. With the seventh loan the total amounts to 107,000,000,000 marks. German bankers have set 100,000,000,000 as the extreme limit Germany could bear.

Roughly the amount is 30 per cent of Germany's total wealth and she is borrowing in order to pay interest on outstanding loans. The limit of taxation was reached long ago.

Germany is living on incontrovertible paper. A year ago the amount of this stuff in circulation was over $2.000.000.000 and it has been enormously increased since. It is this paper and other that has even less backing which makes up the greater part of the seventh loan.

If Germany can avoid financial and economic disaster when peace brings its day of reckoning it will be little short of a miracle.

"LIQUID GOLD,"

correctly describes a flowing oil well.

Wyoming is today the centre of the biggest boom the old world has even seen. The best investment we know of in this great field is the Wyoming Apex Oil Co. which owns and controls by lease 6,000 acres of the Big Hollow. Practically all of this is proved by numerous wells. The last Well, No. 11, exceeded all expectations and is now running over the casing over 600 barrels a day. We secured options on a block of this stock not more than 24 hours prior to this becoming known, otherwise the price would certainly have been much higher. We cannot ourselves hold it all, and offer a portion at the low price of 8c PER SHARE.

Payable Cash, less 5 per cent or in 5 equal payments of 20 per cent each.

Get a block of this stock. You never will get a similar chance of a big winner on such easy terms. But you must get a move on. We have only a few shares, and the price is absolutely certain to advance right away. It is a safe bet that Wyoming Apex will duplicate the spectacular story of the Midwest which reads like a fairy tale. Last year we turned down this stock at 10c a share. In January, 1917, it was sold at 25c. On August 1st it advanced to $1.40. Two weeks later it jumped to $148, and in September it had reached $170. Today the company is capitalized at $100,000,000 and pays big dividends on that capitalization.

Remember this company started from nothing a few years ago to try out the Big Muddy Field, then a wild unknown territory, and 50 miles from a railway.

Wyoming Apex has infinitely better chances. One railway runs through the property, while Laramie on the Union Pacific is only 15 miles away. It is surrounded by productive territory, and its own holdings are now proven to be immensely rich.

Is there any reason to doubt this will be a BIG WINNER? Get some stock, all you can carry

"LIFE OF KITCHENER" IS IMPRESSIVE FILM

From Omdurman to Downing Street; from Palestine to Khartoum; Kitchener talking affairs of state and finance with Lord Rothschild; disguised in the more picturesque, if less characteristic garb of an Arab; out in the desert—so each incident is portrayed in the kinematographic study of "The Life of Lord Kitchener," which will be shown at the Dominion theatre next week The Council Chamber at the Foreign Office, with the members sitting, when Kitchener hurriedly visits England in order to obtain authority to advance on Khartoum; Lord Salisbury and Lord Lansdowne questioning him; before Omdurman, where the great chief forms a new page in history; and so on to the fateful August of 1914. Scenes in the House of Commons follow with Sir Edward Grey speaking; the meeting between Lord Roberts and Kitchener; the wireless across the sea gives out the declaration of war; and the scenes depicting the answer of the colonies to the call of the Motherland, are deeply impressive. It strikes home as perhaps it has never done before. The Government House in South Africa, where Boer and Britain are united, is shown, with General Botha making his famous speech in which he declared he would never forget his promise to Lord Kitchener. Kitchener reviewing his vast army with pardonable pride—now he is gone, but the army remains to carry on the work as he would have willed it. A view of St. Paul's, the Last Post, a golden sunset on a storm-swept sea, and from out of the depths rising the strong, stern face of Kitchener of Khartoum. It is promised to be a wonderfully impressive picture.

With this big feature is shown another exciting episode of "The Secret Kingdom," the serial unusual.

VICTORY LOAN

Payments due on January the 2nd may be made at any time to and including January the 11th. Scrip Certificates will be delivered in exchange for payments then due. Payments due January the 2nd must be made at the Bank branch mentioned in the application.

The extension of time to January the 11th is given for the convenience of subscribers and Banks so that subscribers will not be unduly detained waiting their turn at a Receiving Teller's wicket, as would most likely be the case if all payments had to be made on one day only. Subscribers should not wait until January the 11th, or a day or so before, and thus create the situation sought to be avoided. In every case, interest at the rate of five and one half per cent per annum from January the 2nd must be paid if payment is not made on or before the 11th.

For the convenience of subscribers, by arrangement of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Banks will remain open on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, January 3rd and 4th, and on the afternoon of Saturday, January the 5th. Evening hours 7.30 to 9.30. Saturday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock.

It has been brought to the attention of the Finance Department that a considerable number of subscribers, who have deposits with Banks, are under the impression that their Banks will take care of their January payments by automatically debiting their accounts with the necessary payments. This is incorrect. Each and every subscriber must personally arrange for these payments.

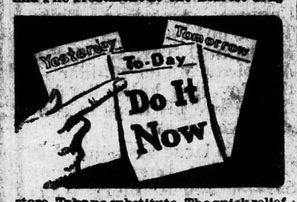
DOMINION THEATRE

When Hart made his whirlwind trip across the continent recently, and faced crowds in nearly four hundred theatres, incessant inquiries were made by enthusiastic fans about Fritz, who is almost as well known as the great delineator of Western characters himself. With some professionals, this might have led to a rupture of hitherto amicable relations. Few actors like to see a rival edging into the spotlight. But Bill, on his return to the ranch, not only greeted his old horse cordially, but in appreciation of his past loyal and conscientious work, vowed that in his next picture he would allot Fritz a role that would really stand out.



His "next picture" is "The Narrow Trail," the first release on Artcraft program, and in it Fritz gives the star a close run for honors. In fact, the story is so written that most of the scenec are built around the Pinto, and he is right on the job at every climax.

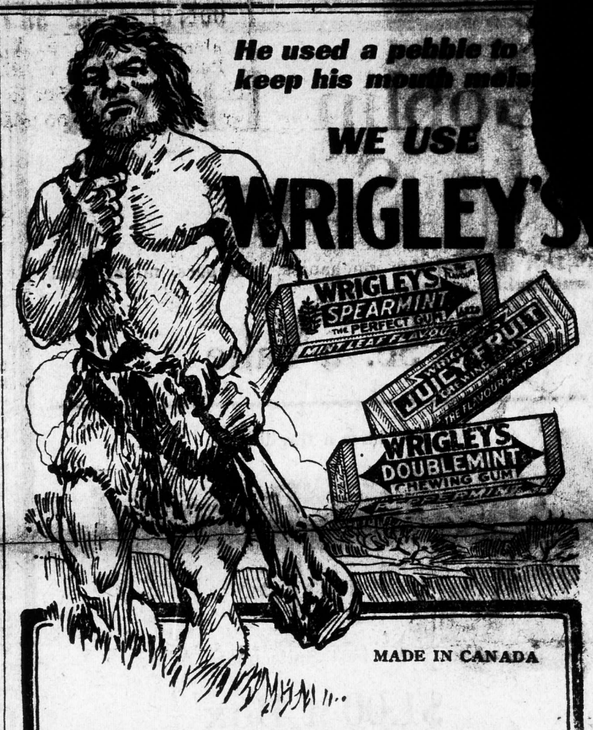
The production of coal from the Extension mines of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Limited, in the neighborhood of Ladysmith, during the month of November, averaged nearly 1,000 tons for every working day.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.



Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

TEUTONS NOW SHOWING HAND

Consternation Caused at Bolsheviki Headquarters by Demand of Germany That Teutons Hold Strategic Points in Russia as Guarantee.

London, Dec. 28.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times, describes the effect upon the Bolsheviki authorities of a rumored proposal of the German and Austrian delegates to the Brest-Litovsk conference that in a certain contingency various strategic points in Russian territory, should be occupied by the Central Powers. According to rumors it has been proposed by representatives of Germany and Austria that pending the resumption of negotiations, Russia should mediate between the Central Powers and the Entente Allies with a view to bringing about a general peace. Should the attempt fail the occupation of several strategic points by the Central Powers was proposed so that pressure might be brought upon the Entente. The proposal, says the correspondent, caused consternation at the Smolny Institute the Bolsheviki headquarters. Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German Foreign Secretary, is reported as having replied to the Russian complaint regarding the refusal of passports to the German minority Socialists by stating that he did not see any hindrance to peace in preventing communication between Russian and German Socialists. Reports of fighting and other military activity in the interior of Russia continue numerous, but they are so contradictory that it is impossible to get at the truth of the situation.

WITNESSED THE HALIFAX DISASTER

Seaman Alfred Bradford writes to his parents, Captain and Mrs. Bradford, Nanaimo, the following letter, describing conditions in Halifax at the time of the big explosion.

Halifax, Dec. 8, 1917.

My Dear Parents—As you know a most terrible thing has happened to Halifax. I had just gone to the office in the Dockyard, and was looking out of the window when I saw the first explosion, right after that the second one came and blew the window in my face. I received quite a few scratches about the face and head, but lucky for me no worse. The scenes in the city are most pitiful. The wounds that people have received are terrible and the list of dead is swelling to appalling proportions. Whole families have been wiped out of existence. Houses have caught on fire and people who have been unhurt but pinned down by debris have been burned to death. It is almost impossible to describe the terribleness of it all, and on the top of this a terrible blizzard is raging and the wind has reached the hurricane point and is a serious hardship to the brave men who are trying to help the poor homeless people. You will be able to get a better description in the papers than I can give you in the short time I have to write. Sunner and wife are safe, so I will now close with lots of love.

Your loving son

ALFRED.

MASQUERADE HELPED RED CROSS SOCIETY

A very successful Masquerade was held in McGarrigle's Hall, Northfield, on Christmas Night, in aid of the Northfield Red Cross Society. There was a large attendance and a goodly sum was raised to swell the funds of the Society and help carry on the good work

The Society wishes to thank all those who donated the prizes to be drawn for, and also the refreshments which were served during the evening.

The following are the prize winners:

Best Dressed Lady, Miss Jean Russell.

Best National Character, Mrs. W. Wilgress.

Best Red Cross Character, Mrs. A. Jones.

Best Original Character, Mr. C. Leynard.

Prize Waltz, Mrs. Biggs and A. Russell.

Floor Manager, Mr. S. Bennie.

The winners of the several drawings were as follows: Shawl, Miss Dulcie Jesserson; yoke, Mrs. Carr; doll, Mrs. Leighton; and candies, Mr. A. Cottle.

GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA BANKRUPT

Only Resource of the Bolsheviki Government is the Printing of Paper Money.

London, Dec. 28.—The Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent quotes from the newspapers there the report of the Finance Commissioner on the financial conditions of Russia, in which it is stated that all sources of the States income have been cut off. It shows the railroads entirely occupied with moving troops and members of the Red guard, who travel free, there being, therefore, no receipts from passenger traffic. The correspondent says the only resource of the State is printing of paper money and that the government is bankrupt.

A field headquarters' communique issued after a long interview, mentions only the western and southwestern front. It ignores the northern front, but indicates that there is still a Russian front in existence along about two-thirds the length of the Russian lines.

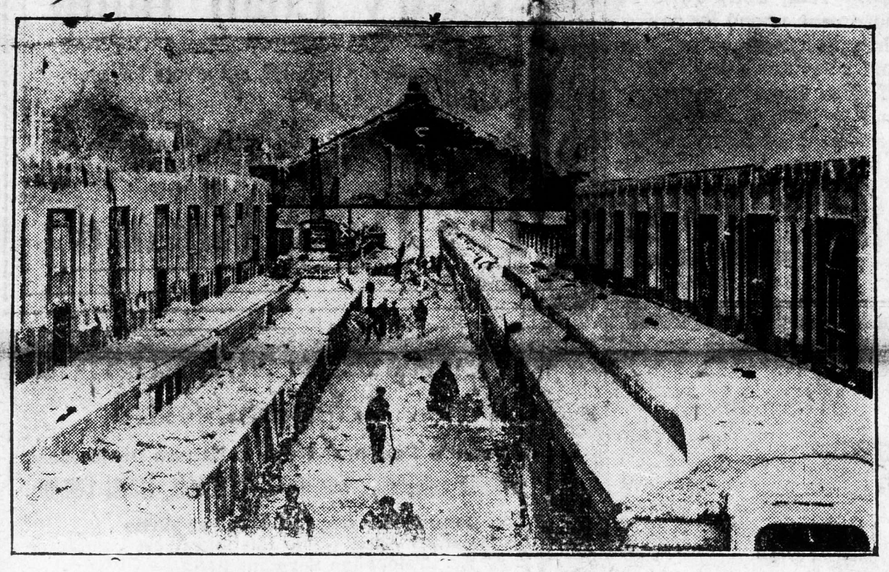
A semi-official Russian news agency reports a general meeting of representatives of the Petrograd garrison to examine the international situation. Leon Trotzky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, is quoted as declaring to the assemblage that as peace had not as yet been concluded, the front ought to be maintained intact and the Petrograd garrison ought to participate in holding it. Representatives of the garrison, says the Agency dispatch, voted in favor of sending detachments to points where they were needed.

HON. J.D. MACLEAN HOLDS CONFERENCE

Victoria, Dec. 28.— One of the most important conferences dealing with the future educational system of the Province of British Columbia opened its sessions at the Parliament Buildings this morning, under the presidency of the Hon. J D. Maclean Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary. Professor F. F. Wesbrook, of the British Columbia University; Dr. Robinson, Superintendent of Education; and representatives from the various classes of High Schools throughout the Province, together with a number of university teachers were in attendance.

The invitations to the gathering now in session were sent out by the Minister of Education some five weeks ago and his object in so arranging the conference was to afford ample opportunity to discuss very necessary improvements, additions, and general changes in the High School curriculums and also to bring about a closer co-relation of the work of the High Schools with that of the University. The aim Hon. Dr. McLean has had in mind from the moment he took office was that of bringing the whole educational system of the province within more practical realms, with a consequent general improvement all round.

LEGISLATURE TO MEET FEB. 7



Victoria, Dec. 28.—Hon. J. D. McLean, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, announces that the 1918 session of the Legislature of British Columbia will convene at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday, February 7, 1918. This decision was agreed upon at a meeting of the Provincial Executive this morning. In accordance with the usual custom the official proclamation, calling the members to their duties on that date, will appear in next week's issue of The British Columbia Gazette.

FRENCH LOAN IS OVER SUBSCRIBED

Paris, Dec. 28.—The ten billion francs asked for in the third war loan, has been exceeded, according to a statement made in the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Klotz said that returns for the loan were still incomplete, but subscriptions, not including those from abroad, aggregated 10,276,000,000 francs.

The Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Administrator of the Province during the absence of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, will hold the usual New Year's reception at Government House on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 p. m.

North Street Station Halifax after the explosion of December 6th.

RICH STRIKE IN MASTODON MINE

Eight Feet of Practically Solid Ore Carrying Silver and Lead Struck in Mine on Laforme Creek in the Kootenay.

Revelstoke, Dec. 28.—Word comes of a big strike on the property of the Mastadon mines in Laforme Creek. Eight feet of what is described as being practically solid ore carrying good values in silver and lead has been struck in a cross-cut in the 110-foot level. This is one of the biggest strikes ever made in Northern Kootenay and doubles renewed confidence of mining men in the resources of the district north of Revelstoke. Next season promises to see much mining activity in the north country in silver, lead and copper.

David Woolsey has bonded his Silver Creek property to Eastern capitalists. The deal was completed this week. Bond holders have supplied and are putting a crew of eight men to work for the winter. R. A. Grimes, manager of the Dunvegan mines has let the contract for another 100-foot development tunnel on the Dunvegan property.

FAILED IN RAID ON TREVISO

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Dec. 28.—Further reports of attempts of Austrian aviators yesterday to raid Treviso which resulted so disastrously for them, emphasize the brilliant work done by both Italian and British aviators. Although 11 Austrian machines were brought down, only a few Italian airplanes were damaged. Five Italians and one British soldier were killed. Six Italians and eight British soldiers were wounded. The British airmen brought down two machines and British anti-aircraft guns accounted for three more, six Austrians in these five machines being killed and four wounded. Among the prisoners is a young Austrian major, who is unwounded.

JAMES PATERSON PURCHASING AGENT

Victoria, Dec. 28.—By the decision of the Executive Council this morning to recommend to His Honor the appointment of James Paterson, of this city, as Purchasing Agent the organization of the Comptroller-General's branch of the Department of Finance becomes complete.

In appointing such an official the government is adopting the policy followed by all large corporations which expend millions of dollars annually.

Nearly thirty years ago Mr. Paterson came to Victoria and was associated with the Amos-Holden Company as a buyer for several years. Later he organized and managed the Paterson Shoe Company, Limited, in this city. About ten years ago he formed with his brother, the late D. M. Paterson, the firm of Paterson Brothers, which has since conducted a markedly successful wholesale business He is a member of the Board of Trade, in the work of which body he takes considerable interest.

NO BOLSHEVIKI PEACE FOR FRANCE

French Minister Declares no Matter What Russia Does War Against Prussianism Will Go On.

Paris, Dec. 28.—France will not accept a peace based on conditions before the war, Foreign Minister Pichon declared in replying in the Chamber of Deputies today to the peace terms of the Central Powers outlined to the Bolsheviki delegates at Brest-Litovsk He asserted that Germany was endeavoring to involve France in the negotiations with the Bolsheviki, but that the war would go on whether or not Russia made a separate peace.

The Foreign Minister said Germany was seeking to protract the negotiations with the Bolsheviki in order establishing commercial relations in the meantime, believing that in this way the Bolsheviki might be checkmated later. Referring to the terms which the Central Powers offered to the Bolsheviki, as published yesterday, he said:

"Germany is trying to involve us in her Maximalist negotiations. After suffering as we have we can not accept a peace based on the status quo ante. In agreement with our allies we are ready to discuss direct propositions regarding peace, but this is indirect.

"Russia can treat for a separate peace with our enemies or not, as she wishes. In either case the war for us will continue. An ally has failed us—an ally who in preceding years carried off great victories."

WILL CONTINUE PEACE CONFERENCE

Trotsky Tries to Get Allies to Participate in Peace Negotiations After Recess.

Petrograd, Dec 28.—The delegates of the Central Powers to the peace conference at Brest-Litovsk agreed to a ten-day recess in the peace negotiations, which will be resumed January 4 at a place not yet determined upon.

Leon Trotzky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, is reported to be drawing up a new note to the Entente Embassies, again asking them to participate in the peace conference.

Zurich, Dec. 28.—Count Julius Andrassy, ex-Premier of Hungary, writing on the peace question says:

"From the moment we were free in the East the whole situation fundamentally changed, and the Central Powers now also will gain supremacy in the West.

"It is no longer possible for the United States to give us the finishing stroke. She must save the Entente."

Petrograd, Dec. 28.—Soldiers acting under orders of Finance Commissioner Menshinsky today surrounded and seized all the private banks in Petrograd, including the branch of the National City Bank of New York. The manager R R. Stevens, was arrested and detained for a short time. Many bank directors were arrested. Several surrendered the keys of their bank vaults, but Stevens refused. J. B. Wright, Counsellor of the American Embassy, called upon Mr. Stevens during the afternoon.

FIRE IN BOSTON

Boston, Dec. 28.—Boston's wholesale paper district was threatened for a time yesterday afternoon by a fire which destroyed the five-storey brick building of the William Bevan Company near the India Wharf.

EXPECTS GOVT. TAKE RAILWAYS

Sir Donald Mann Declares It Is Naturally to be Expected That Union Government will Take Over the Railways of Canada.

Toronto, Dec. 28.—It is naturally to be expected that the Union Government will follow the example of the United States and place all railways under government control for the period of the war, said Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway. It is a natural assumption as conditions are at present, railway companies, other than the Canadian Pacific, have no money to provide for keeping their lines to a high standard of efficiency. No money received by the Canadian Northern from the government in recent years has been for utilization of such work. The Grand Trunk lines are similarly situated though to a less extent. The lump sum they received from the government last session was all for past expenditures, not for betterment anywhere, and without constant care of lines and effective maintenance roads cannot care for the heavy business they now should be handling. Deterioration too, is so rapid that if the government does not come to their rescue by one course or the other, the scrap heap is their inevitable destination.

FRENCH REPULSED SURPRISE ATTACK

Paris, Dec. 28.—The War Office here issued the following report this afternoon:

"In the Argonne we repulsed an enemy surprise attack.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the activity of the artillery on both sides continued very lively in the region of Caurieres Wood and Bezonvaux. Northeast of Bezonvaux an enemy troop concentration was dispersed with losses.

Belgian Communication—During the night of December 26-27 the artillery fighting was rather intense in the Dixmude sector"

London, Dec. 28.—"There is nothing of special interest to report," says a report from Field Marshal Haig, issued here today.

START WORK ON NEW PIT HEAD

Mr. L. C. Young, the well known local contractor, has been given the contract of erecting the pit-head and other necessary top buildings at the new mine of the Canadian Collieries at South Wellington. Mr. Young started work yesterday on his new contract which, it is expected, will take three months to complete.

In connection with the work of the Canadian Collieries at South Wellington, Mr. A. B. Beach, of Nanaimo, who has but recently returned from overseas, has been appointed clerk of all work.

Only three more days and then we will all be writing 1918.

SOLDIER'S KIDDIES HAD RARE TREAT

Entertainment Given by the Local Lodge of Elks in Opera House Last Night Was Big Success.

The Opera House last evening housed a large and happy throng when the local lodge of Elks, assisted by a number of ladies of the city, entertained to a Christmas Tree and concert several hundred wives and children of Nanaimo soldiers. The large auditorium was filled to capacity and was decorated appropriately to the festive season. The tree, which occupied a prominent position on the stage, was gaily decorated, while for the convenience of distribution the gifts were placed on the floor beneath the overhanging branches.

While waiting the arrival of Santa Claus a program of vocal and instrumental selections was rendered. Mr. Harry N. Freeman, Past Exalted Ruler of the B. P. O. E., officiated as chairman and in introducing the program expressed the pleasure it gave the lodge with which he was connected, to remember the wives and children of the soldiers overseas at this festive season of the year. He stated the intention of the Order to continue such entertainments but expressed the hope the war would be over and all the husbands and fathers returned home before another Christmas rolled around.

Every number on the program was exceptionally well rendered and favorably received, among those taking part being Mrs. Drysdale. Miss Martin, Dorothy Trawford, "Baby" Martin, Jean Patterson, L. Wilcox, Miss McLean, A. C. Foreman and P. McAlpine, while Miss Fisher made an accomplished accompanist.

During the course of the evening His Worship, Mayor McKenzie, delivered a short address in which he eulogized the motives of the Elks which prompted the entertainment and expressed the thanks of the members to those in attendance, particularly the wives and children of soldiers who were at present overseas fighting against Prussian militarism.

The arrival of Santa Claus, in the person of Al. Davis, who made his appearance down the chimney in accordance with tradition, was received with loud acclaim by the youngsters and the distribution of gifts was the most entertaining part of the evening's program. The expression on the faces of the young recipients spoke louder than words and amply rewarded the committee for all their labors in preparing the entertainment.

Those present expressed their appreciation by giving three cheers for Mrs. Lewis and the ladies who assisted her and the Elks' committee. The drawing for the pig was won by M. Wardill with Number 297, and the drawing for the cake was postponed for a few days owing to all the stubs not being in.

A number of those entitled to presents were not in attendance last evening and arrangements are being made whereby these will be distributed within the next few days.

THINKS PRICE TO HIGH.

Montreal, Dec. 28.—Alleging that prices of oleomargarine 37c is too high, the city council of Montreal passed a resolution requesting Food Controller Hanna to fix the price on oleomargarine with the least possible delay.

DOES NOT INTEND KEEPING FAITH

Parisian Press Lays Bare the Duplicity of Germany in the Farce Peace Conference — No Intention of Honoring its Signature.

Paris, Dec. 28.—The Austro-German peace offensive is freely commented upon by the Paris press. All newspapers realize its gravity and all present a strong front.

"In reality," says the L'Homme Libre, "the Germans seek, through the Russian delegates to influence the Entente by means of attractive words such as 'democratic peace,' they content themselves with opening pour parlers on particular and profitable points without the faintest intention of honoring their signatures when it ceases to be their interest to do so."

"The Germans," says M. Therry in L'Oeuvre, "are conducting diplomatic action with the same clearness and energy as they have done in a military sense. Meanwhile Entente diplomats have not yet succeeded clearly in stating their war aims. Will they now realize the necessity of revising and in view of the Russian defection, of revealing their general program? We have reached the hour when it is not enough to cry 'to the very end,' it is time to know what that end is and to show it."

Gustav Herve, director of the Victorre, writes:

"Let our soldiers in the trenches remember this prophecy, "Today the Germans, urged on by the Austrians, who are at the end of their resources offer us a German peace. In six months they will beg of us a French peace."

IS ESSENTIAL TO WORLD'S FREEDOM

London, Dec. 28.—"Achievement of the purposes for which the Allies are fighting is essential to the future freedom and peace of mankind," said Mr. Lloyd George in a letter which he sent today to the British Labor Congress. The Prime Minister's statement is regarded as the British reply to the German peace efforts.

Mr. Lloyd George said that a statement on war aims could be made only in agreement with the governments of the nations allied with Britain. The question of issuing a fresh joint declaration, he added, was being kept constantly in view by the Entente Governments."

OLD NANAIMOITE DIED NEAR CAMPBELL RIVER

Mr. Thomas C. Morgan, of Vancouver, formerly of Nanaimo, returned to the city yesterday from Courtenay, from attending the funeral of his mother, the late Elizabeth Knight, whose death occurred on Monday last.

The deceased was a native of Wales, and came to Nanaimo 26 years ago, residing here for five years prior to leaving for the Campbell River distrdict. She is survived by her husband, James Knight, and one son, Thomas C. Morgan.

VICTORY LOAN

Payments due on January the 2nd may be made at any time to and including January the 11th. Scrip Certificates will be delivered in exchange for payments then due. Payments due January the 2nd must be made at the Bank branch mentioned in the application.

The extension of time to January the 11th is given for the convenience of subscribers and Banks so that subscribers will not be unduly detained waiting their turn at a Receiving Teller's wicket, as would most likely be the case if all payments had to be made on one day only. Subscribers should not wait until January the 11th, or a day or so before, and thus create the situation sought to be avoided. In every case, interest at the rate of five and one half per cent per annum from January the 2nd must be paid if payment is not made on or before the 11th.

For the convenience of subscribers, by arrangement of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Banks will remain open on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, January 3rd and 4th, and on the afternoon of Saturday, January the 5th. Evening hours 7.30 to 9.30. Saturday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock.

It has been brought to the attention of the Finance Department that a considerable number of subscribers, who have deposits with Banks, are under the impression that their Banks will take care of their January payments by automatically debiting their accounts with the necessary payments. This is incorrect. Each and every subscriber must personally arrange for these payments.

T. C. BOVILLE,
Deputy Minister of Finance.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
Ottawa, Dec. 24th, 1917.

THE PEACE FARCE

There is not the slightest chance of the peace meetings now proceeding at Brest-Litvosk ending in anything better than further advantage to Germany. There may be some of the Bolsheviki delegates who are sincere in their desire to bring about peace, honest in their motives, and loyal to Russia. But this does not alter the fact that they are dupes of Lenine and Trotsky, who in turn are the paid agents of Germany. The whole business has been planned and staged by Germany, and it was only possible by an act of basest treachery on the part of the Russian people to their allies. The Bolshevikis have violated the pledged word of their country, just as the Germans did in their invasion of Belgium, and now they ask the allies to make a further agreement with both of them. In the meantime the Kaiser is making use of the treachery of the Russian people to try one last desperate attempt to break the allies on the west front before the United States can make its weight felt. It is not peace, but victory that the Kaiser is seeking to win from these farcical peace proceedings.

WILD TALK.

Some of the Quebec papers are indulging in very wild and very absurd talk, and ~~ridiculously~~ enough they are ~~bla~~ union of parties to win the war and not themselves for all their troubles and difficulties. It is all very regrettable that newspapers who know better should so wilfully seek to mislead their readers. There is neither wish nor desire on the part of the Western provinces to sacrifice Quebec, nor are they seeking the blood of French-Canadians. Neither is it the intention of the English-speaking provinces to make a slave of Quebec, no more than it is their intention to submit to the domination of Quebec. Canada went into the war with the consent of the vast majority of the Canadian peoples, and without any marked protest from Quebec. The election has just shown that it is the intention of the majority of the Canadian people to prosecute the war to a finish with every available resource of the Dominion. The other provinces are not asking a thing more from Quebec than they are giving themselves. All that is wanted, and all that is sought is that the people of Quebec should do their fair and equal share in the war with the people of the other provinces. If the people of Quebec had not been so wilfully and maliciously misled by their leaders there never would have been any trouble, nor any cause for trouble. Surely it is time that there was an end to this stupid misrepresentation, and an attempt made to bring the two races together on a basis of a strong and loyal Canadianism.

DOMINION THEATRE

Melbourne MacDowell, the well-known legitimate actor, makes his first appearance on the screen in the new Triangle play, "The Flame of the Yukon," by Monts M. Katterjohn, starring Dorothy Dalton. He appears as Black Jack, a dance hall proprietor and gambler, who is mistrusted, hated and feared by his neighbors. At the close of the story a much wronged miner volunteers to rid the camp of this curse, and what is said to be the most realistic fight ever screened ensues.

Those who recall his appearance in the great roles of the Sardou plays, in "Theodora," "La Tosca," "Gismonda" and "Cleopatra," will appreciate that this stage veteran would be a difficult match for even the most experienced of leading men to tackle. In this fight McDowell uses every artifice known in the ring in which he has had a long experience as an amateur.

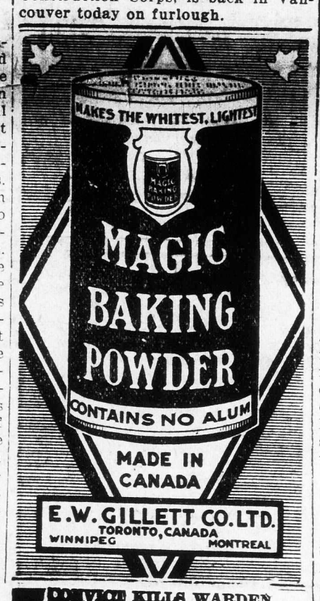
Don't miss this Fatty Arbuckle two reel comedy. Its a scream from start to finish.

AMERICAN MINISTER TO DENMARK IN U S.

An Atlantic Port of the United States, Dec. 28.—Dr. Maurice F. Egan, the American Minister to Denmark, and Mrs. Egan, arrived here today on a Danish steamship, which was the first to reach here from Denmark in several months.

FUGITIVE WAS KILLED BY ELECTRIC TRAIN

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 28.—W. L. Conlogue, of Coquille City, Ore., was killed by a Southern Pacific electric train as he was crossing the tracks of the terminal here in eluding police constables. Conlogue previously had dived headlong through a window of a moving train and landed unhurt.



He told a railroad company employee that he was a German and that Government men were after him Following this he ran and disappeared. He was killed by the electric train a few hours later.

FILIPINOS INTO ARMY OF UNITED STATES

Washington, Dec. 28.—President Wilson has advised Chairman Dent, of the House Military Committee that he desires the bills providing for the entrance of the Philippine National Guard and the Philippine Scouts into the national army to become law at this session of Congress. Rep. Dent purposes to press this legislation with a view to enactment. It is estimated that the organizations total approximately 25,000 men.

Hard to Drop Meat?

All depends on what you eat as a substitute. It is a good time to study "food value." You may be eating the wrong foods, the foods that cost most and give the least nutriment. Shredded Wheat Biscuit contains more real, body-building nutriment, pound for pound, than meat, eggs or potatoes and costs much less. Two of these Biscuits with milk and a little fruit make a nourishing meal at a cost of a few cents. Make Shredded Wheat your "meat." A satisfying breakfast on which to start the day's work. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Made in Canada.

WE THANK YOU MISS M. P.

This lady is kind enough to send in a recipe that has the advantage of being an inexpensive as it is good.

She says "Pacific Milk makes the pudding very rich."

"Mix together half a cup of cold water—half a cup of brown sugar—and one and a half cups of PACIFIC MILK, and put them on the stove. In another dish mix (thoroughly) 5 tablespoonful of corn starch with half a cup of cold water.

When the sugar, milk and water are Hot—not boiling—stir the thickening in gradually. Add flavouring to taste and set in mould that has been moistened with cold water. Serve with preserved fruit or jam."—M. P.

We are sending Miss M. P. a little surprise for her kindness.

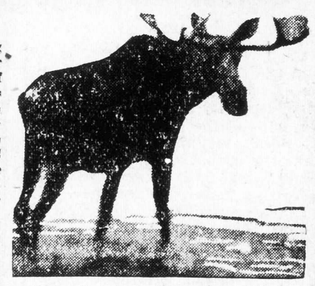
BIJOU THEATRE

Wm. Courtenay firmly established himself in the good graces of Nanaimoites by his fine work in "The Hunting of the Hawk," and he has confirmed that good impression by his performance of the leading role in "The Recoil," the Pathe feature which heads the Bijou programme today.

A stirring episode of the "Secret Kingdom" also figures on the bill with an interesting weekly.

UNION CANDIDATE SELECTED.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 28.— Robert Jacob, barrister, last night was unimously nominated Unionist candidate for North Winnipeg to fill the vacancy in the Provincial Legislature caused by the resignation of R. A. Rigg, Labor, who contested this constituency in the recent Federal election and was defeated.



ROBBERS PLEADED GUILTY.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 28.—Paul Serrati, Jos. Lebreque, A. Julien and Alfred Labarge who, it was alleged, robbed the teller of the Bank of Hochelega of about $10,000 last spring at the Vinent Terrace branch of the bank, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge St. Cyr They will be sentenced this week.

Unique Find In Ontario

The locked antlers.

A bull moose.

IN September and October during the rutting season, the hunter occasionally hears the sounds of terrific combat between those giants of the forest, the bull moose. With their formidable antlers these huge creatures can span a young birch tree like a piece of matchwood, and although it is only rarely that the bull moose will attack a man, if he does do so the man has little chance unless he is quick with his high powered rifle. The other day on Saltspring Island, twenty-one miles south of Rossport, on the C. P. R., a pair of locked moose horns was found as the tragic record of a combat. They had evidently been fighting when the antlers became entangled and unable to extricate each other the two animals died there of starvation, their remains being licked clean by the bears who prowl around in the forests of Ontario.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rat of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid. Deputy Minister of the Interior.

COMMUNICATION

Sir,—I read your editorial in Friday's issue. You handled that patron of the Creamery very gently who showed you his statement. You might have asked him what steps the Creamery patrons were taking to cheapen production? Have they formed a Cow-Testing Association for the purpose of finding out the dead beat boarders amongst their cows? The Dominion or Provincial government is ready at any time to send in a man to do the testing and weighing in a thorough manner, and show to the members of the Association the facts of what their cows are actually doing. It is true that it will cost money, but money has to be spent if the leaks are to be found out. That is one thing that the average patron hates, is to get face to face with the actual results of what each cow is doing. There is a Cow-Testing Association in Comox and the results are appearing every month in the Agricultural Journal.

Quoting from an item from the pen of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture in last month's Agricultural Journal: "At the present rate of progress it will not be long before B.C. becomes the silo province of Canada. Our silo expert has supervised and helped in the erection of 22 silos this year, and there are many more in all parts of the Province which have been erected by the farmers themselves. Dairymen cannot afford to pay the present impossible prices for concentrates and mill feeds. Many dairymen with silos have told me that they now wonder how ever they got on without one. They have to a large extent, and, in some cases, altogether cut out mill feeds, and are getting more milk with good ensilage and roughage than they did before with roughage and mill feeds. Investigate the silo. The counsel and advice of our expert is at your service. Over 500 silos are now in the province. Six years ago probably not a dozen."

What are the patrons of the Nanaimo Creamery doing about the silo? How many silos are owned by the patrons? So far as the writer knows there are only two. About 15 years ago Dr. Jas. Withycombe, director of Oregon Experiment Station as Corvallis, was engaged to lecture on subjects relating to dairying, and two of the subjects that he lectured on in the Nanaimo-Cedar Farmers' Institute were the growing of thousand headed kale, and the cultivation of the common vetch (vicia satira). About 5 or 6 years ago the Nanaimo-Cedar F. I. offered prizes for the best 1-4 acre of thousand headed kale, but there were no competition. Kale is a very profitable plant to grow. When I lived in the Nooksack Valley, Wash., there was a farmer in that valley named Gerdim, who owned a flock of sheep and he used to winter them on roots and hay. I advised him to try a patch of kale for the sheep instead of roots. He went at it and prepared his ground and manured it with a good coat of sheep manure put on with a manure spreader. The ground was marked off with a 3-ft. marker each way, and four or five seeds were planted to each hill. When the plants were two of three inches high the hills were thinned, one plant to the hill, the best plant being left. The patch was cultivated both ways. In the Fall several average sized plants were weighed, and it was found that the patch went 33 tons to the acre. The kale was cut daily as needed during the winter with an axe, close to the ground—a person can cut as fast as a person walking slowly. It is far easier harvesting kale than roots; there is no bach-ache taking up kale. The wagon is taken along side the cut plants and the kale is loaded on with a fork. When it came to clipping time it was found that there was an average of 3½ lbs. more wool per sheep than when roots and hay were fed. Kale is hardy and will stand within 3 deg. of zero. When fed to milk cows it has to be fed immediately after milking. It analyses 1.34 protein. The summer and winter vetch are soil enrichers. When Dr. Withycombe took hold of the Experiment Station at Corvallis the farmer who sold the land to the government could not make a living off it. Eight years afterwards that same land was able to produce 10 tons of green vetch to the acre, and 12½ tons of green clover, and 41 bushels of wheat The land was made to produce good crops by growing legumes; 12½ tons of green clover leaves 12½ tons of roots rich in nitrogen. The vetch is indigenous to this district; it grows wild, and is spreading every year on the E. & N. right-of-way. It is to be noted that the wild vetch is killing out the fern. Vetch hay contains 10.61 per cent. protein. A sack of shorts contains 15.5 per cent. protein At that rate 15 cwt. of vetch hay is equal to ½-ton of shorts. Why should the patrons of the Nanaimo Creamery be tied to the chariot wheels of the mill men when they can grow vetch which will enrich their land, and be 2-3 as rich as shorts weight for weight.

The annual meeting of the Creamery is not far away and it would be a good thing for the management to lay before the meeting a scheme for cheaper production.

There are some things you can buy by the makers name alone, and a Good Piano is one of them.

All Pianos look much alike on the outside—many bear similar names—but unless you are craftsman enough to judge the merit and structural refinement of a Piano, unless your ear is trained to detect the beauties and shades of its tone, there is but one safe and sound basis for preference—the INTENTION, ABILITY, and REPUTATION of the maker.

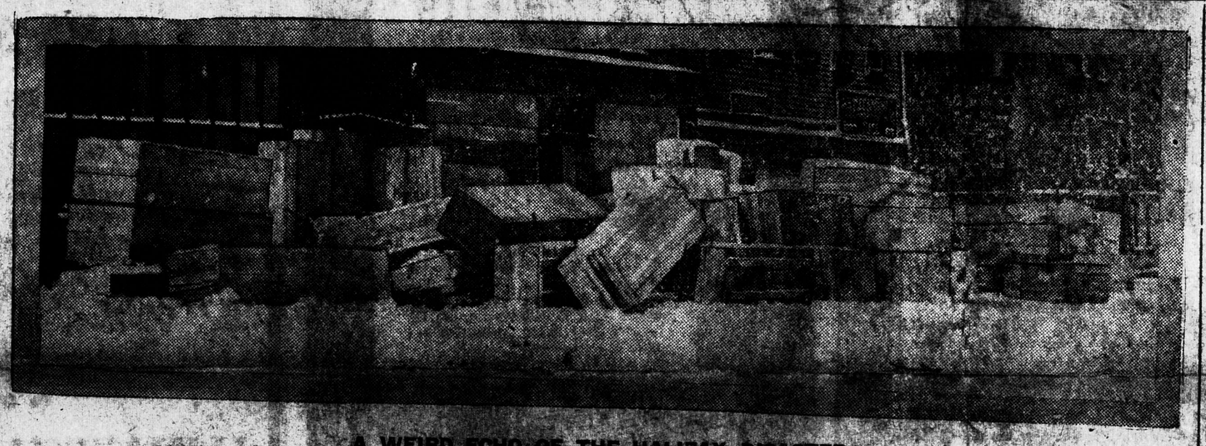
NOW OPERATED BY GOVERNMENT

Plans Being Drafted to Weld 250,000 Miles of Railways Into One Great Continental System for Winning War.

Washington, Dec. 29.—As the first practical step in the government's operation of railroads throughout the United States, which began at noon yesterday, Director-General McAdoo has drafted the Railroad War Board into the government service to work out plans for unified operation and submit them to him for approval.

The following five railroad executives, each a leader in the business of transportation, will work out the plans for welding 250,000 miles of railroad into one great continental system for winning the war: Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway; Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific; Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania system; Hale Holden, president of the Burlington; Howard Elliott, of the New Haven.



There appeared some doubt as to whether the railroad executives desired to continue the Railroad War Board. Fairfax Harrison, chairman, said it was purely a voluntary organization costing the roads $800,000 a year to maintain.

Asked what would be the practical accomplishments of the pooling of railroad traffic Mr. Harrison replied:

"Traffic pooling is a relic of the dark ages of railroad operation and I do not know whether it can be successfully established now. All the railroads have more traffic now than they can possibly haul. The companies believe that have operated the roads as efficiently as can be done under government or any other sort of control."

The financial question was touched but slightly at the conference Mr. McAdoo had yesterday with the rail-road chiefs. The railroad executives described the situation to Mr. McAdoo and told him just what they need of government guarantees and encouragement of security issues.

Operating problems were gone into at length and full co-operation is promised between the Director-General and the railroads in any steps he may think necessary.

A WEIRD ECHO OF THE HALIFAX DISASTER.

BRITISH SOLDIER IS WELL FED

Nanaimo Soldier Writes Home Telling of Conditions Under Which the British Are Called Upon to Fight.

Private F. S. Hansen writes from "Somewhere in France" to his mother, Mrs. F. S. Martin, Northfield, a lengthy letter descriptive of the conditions surrounding the soldier in France. He writes:

My Dear Mother,—The first thing is to tell you, is that we do not have to buy clothes of any description, as we are well supplied with everything and there is hardly a week passes that does not find boxes of comforts from the Red Cross, such as socks, mittens, cigarettes, tobacco, candies, and all sorts of things, and our Y. M. C. A's are to be found within a mile of the front line where you can buy almost anything you want, and everything sold by them is duty free, so we are able to get lots of things at half the price you would pay in England. Profits made by the Y. M. C. A. are spent in entertaining the men when they are out of the trenches. We have our sports, boxing, racing, football, baseball and picture shows, just as if there was no war on. We have bath houses, where we get clean clothes every time we bath, of course, in an attack or on a noisy piece of front it may happen that it is a month between baths, but thank goodness we are not always attacking.

Rations are good, in fact I don't know how they do it. I'd bet all the dollars I ever had that we are the best fed army in the world, bar none. You can work this out for yourself. Rations for sixty men in our section one two pound loaf to three men with biscuits, ten pounds of butter every other day, twelve pounds of jam every day, ten to fifteen pounds of cheese every day, one pound of meat per man, twenty-five to fifty fresh and the remainder "bully beef"; thirty pounds potatoes and the same of onions every other day, when fresh vegetables are not available pork and beans, tea, sugar and milk for tea three times per day, rice, oatmeal, tinned fish at times possibly once a week. Cigarettes once and matches twice a week, pickles work out about once a week.

I think I have given you the lot, may have missed a few things, salt, pepper, flour and mustard. There are times we get nothing but biscuits and bully beef, but it doesn't last more than a couple of days. You ask about apples. I think we have only had them twice, but I think apples and fish go to the hospitals. They also get more Red Cross stuff than the men in the line, which is only right. This is some letter, almost a book. I'm going to quit and write a letter tomorrow. So bye-bye until tomorrow.

From your loving son,

FRANK.

HANDEL'S "MESSIAH" THIS EVENING

Handel's greatest oratoria, "The Messiah" will be rendered by a combined choir in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, commencing at 8:30. Furnishing, as it does, the most appropriate and impressive Christmas and Easter music, it has been a standard work for choral societies the world over for years. Great and many have been the influences of "The Messiah," the hearing of which is said to have inspired Haydn to write his famous oratorio "The Creation."

As the performance is to be in aid of the Halifax Relief Fund, it is hoped that there will be a large audience.

The soloists are Miss Ebbie Harris, soprano, and Mr. John Graham, tenor, New Westminster; Mrs. H. Roberts, contralto, and Mr. Frederick Taggart, bass, Vancouver. All are experienced artists in oratorio. Mr. Andrew Dunsmore will conduct, and the accompaniments will be in the hands of a strong orchestra with Mrs. H. McLinden at the organ and Miss Grace Morgan at the piano.

OFFICAL COUNT OF ELECTION

Returning Officer Peto and Election Clerk Woodward had a strenuous day yesterday opening all ballot boxes in connection with the recent election in this riding and compiling therefrom the votes for the several candidates.

Commencing yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the two officials were still at the work at the time of going to press this morning, but expected to have all the figures ready for official announcement on Monday.

The official figures for Nanaimo City, including the Five Acres, Chase Rives and Brechin are: McIntosh, 1899; Stewart, 500; Taylor, 428. Rejected or spoiled, 19.

LATER—The final official figures are: McIntosh, 7,062; Stewart, 1,854; Taylor, 1,287. Spoiled or rejected, 99. Total votes cast 10,302.

MRS. SMITH A CANDIDATE

Vancouver, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Smith, widow of the Hon. Ralph Smith, former Minister of Finance in the Brewster government, today announced herself as an independent candidate for the Legislature in the Vancouver bye-election, made necessary by her husband's death

TURKS DEFEATED IN PALESTINE

London, Dec. 29.—British troops in Palestine repulsed a Turkish attack north and northwest of Jerusalem and made an advance of about two miles and a half on a front of nine miles along the Turkish right flank, according to a report from General Allenby, commander of the British army in the Holy Land, made public by the War Office here last night

WHITE RUSSIA IS A REPUBLIC

Legislative Body for New Republic Has Been Assembled at Minsk—Trotsky is Preparing New Message to the World.

London, Dec. 29.—The establishment of a republic in White Russia has been announced, according to Petrograd advices received here. A rada, or legislative body, for the territory, has been assembled at Minsk, at which place a decree will be issued proclaiming the independence of the state.

A dispatch received here stated that the Bolsheviki peace delegates were to return to Petrograd from Brest-Litovsk today.

It is reported that Leon Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, is preparing a new message to the people of the world.

London, Dec. 29.—An armistice is reported to have been reached between the Bolsheviki forces and the troops of Gen. Kaledines at Rostov with a neutral zone between the opposing lines.

MIGHT BE A GERMAN SPY

Chicago, Dec. 29.—At a hearing yesterday of charges of failure to report for the selective draft and violation of the Espionage Act against Paul H. Billhuber, until recently an aero engineer employed by the Dayton Wright Aeroplane Company, of Dayton, Ohio, in the planning and construction of aircraft for the United States army, Wallace S. Whittaker the traffic manager of the company, identified the correspondence file, together with maps, drawings and the secret minutes of the aeroplane company's strategy board outlining war policies, which were found in Billhuber's room at the Y. M. C. A. hotel in Chicago, where he was arrested several weeks ago.

The relations brought out at the preliminary hearing led federal officials to believe that Billhuber may be a German spy. He is 29 years old and gave his home address as Maywood, N. J.

Mr. Whittaker said that although Billhuber was a trusted employee he vould have no occasion to see most of the correspondence and records found in his possession.

Government agents have been carefully investigating Billhuber's movements during the last three years, with special attention to his connection with other aeroplane concerns. He claims American citizenship.

FURLOUGHS TO PARIS CANCELLED

Significant Order Has Been Issued by Commander of American Forces in France.

With the American Army in France, Dec. 28, via London, Dec. 29.—Gen. Pershing, the American commander in France, today issued an order suspending further Paris leaves of absence for both officers and men and cancelling the future leaves already granted.

There was considerable speculation in camp over just what the order means. Officers who were expecting a furlough to spend New Year's Day in Paris were merely told that leave was cancelled without any other place being substituted for Paris.

The usual New Year's goose and turkey shoot will be held at the Somerset Hotel on New Year's Day. 2

QUAKES DAMAGED GUATEMALA CITY

Thousands of Persons Rendered Homeless as Result of Earth Shocks in Central America.

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, Dec. 29.—Meagre advices telling of the damage done by the earthquake in Guatemala have reached here, but with enough detail to cause considerable apprehension. There are reports of heavy material damage and injury to many persons. Telegraphic communication between here and points in Guatemala is interrupted.

Various towns in Guatemala territory suffered earth shocks of slight intensity at approximately the same time Guatemala City was being more violently shaken.

Washington, Dec. 29.—At 6 o'clock on Thursday evening the earthquakes which destroyed part of Guatemala City were continuing. Thousands were without shelter. The American minister and other foreigners there are safe. The latest information coming to the state department is in a dispatch from the American consul there, added that water mains were broken and the sanitary conditions of the city were becoming bad. Relief parties already had been started and the final chapter of the Red Cross there is being collected for that purpose.

Red Cross headquarters here today telegraphed President Cabrera and the head of the Red Cross chapter in the Guatemalan capital offering any aid they might ask.

ZEPPELIN FELL IN NORTH SEA

London, Dec. 29.—A zeppelin and a seaplane accompanying it, have been wrecked in the North Sea, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen, quoting advices received there from West Jutland. The zeppelin is said to have fallen in flames into the sea.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

At the New Year's services to be held in this church today, the Rev. J. K. Unsworth will preach both morning and evening.

At the evening service one of the soloists engaged in the performance of "The Messiah" will be soloist.

"The Messiah" will be rendered at 8:30 p.m., and a collection will be taken up in aid of the Halifax Relief Fund.

RECOVERING IN EPSOM HOSPITAL

Pte. Donald Clarke Has Had Three Years' Experience Overseas—Expects to Meet His Brother Charlie.

Mrs. Ida Clarke is in receipt of a long letter from her son Donald who as previously reported in the Herald, was badly gassed in a recent Canadian attack. He is now recovering in a hospital at Epsom, and as his letter will show, writes in cheery spirits. He says:

Dear Mother.—Your letter, containing twenty-five francs has just reached me. I can easily get the francs changed into English money. I hope that before this you have received some of my letters, in which I told you I was in England. I am getting on splendidly and hope to be out and have my sick leave by Xmas and well as ever. You must have forgotten to put in all your letter as I only got four lines, but they did me more good than any medicine could. I was feeling a little blue when your letter arrived, but now I am feeling quite happy. It is absolutely the first letter I have had from you for over six months, nearly a year, in fact, Gee, Mother, it is good to be in England after being out there. The weather is splendid, so I can scarce be but happy. I only wish Charlie was here. He deserves to be. Still he expects his leave any day. I think I will go to Scotland on my pass, right to Glasgow. I have always wanted to see Scotland. We can go any place in England, Ireland or Scotland, free ticket. Yesterday I voted for the Union Government as did all the boys. The only way to end the war is with every man, Mother. I know you are as proud of us as we are of you, and no one can ever say your boys had to be fetched. How long I will be in England I cannot say, but there is a good chance of at least six months. Although one recovers rapidly from gas one cannot expect to be hale and hearty as before. After leaving here I will have to take physical training, but I would rather be coming home, such as I will enjoy the [illegible] is near three years since I [illegible] adventuring, I have had [illegible] world surprises [illegible] Leap in many [illegible] better [illegible] been, for [illegible] better [illegible] the [illegible] only ten miles [illegible] do not think much of it. At this evening's service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Mrs. H. Roberts will sing "Beyond the Dawn" (Sanderson), and Mr. John Graham will sing "Glory to Thee My God This Night" (Gounod).

Regular meeting of Light Infantry Chapter, I. O. D. E., will be held in Richard's Hall, Wednesday afternoon 2.30, Jan. 2nd. 2t.

BIJOU THEATRE

The Bijou will offer for tomorrow and New Year's Day, Stuart Holmes, the best of screen villains in a comedy role. He will appear in his latest success, "The Broadway Sport," in which he has made a tremendous hit wherever shown.

With this will be screened one of those screaming funny Fox two-reel comedies entitled "Film Spoilers."

STRUCK BLOW AT THE TEUTONS

Italians Struck at the Austro-German Line Near Monte Tomba and Berlin Reports the Attack Failed—Enemy Airmen Busy.

London, Dec. 29.—Cold weather and snow in the European fighting zone have reduced military activity to a minimum in most sectors. Only in Northern Italy has there been any movement of importance in the last 48 hours. Even there infantry operations is reported from only one point on the battle front. The Italians took the initiative, delivering a blow at the Austro-German line near Mont Tomba, on the mountain front just west of the Piave. The German War Office reports this engagement, declaring that the Italian attack was broken up by defensive fire.

The principal aerial activity is also reported from the Italian front. Austrian airmen recently beaten off from Treviso with a loss of eleven aeroplanes, carried out a bombing raid Friday night in which the city of Padua, rich in art and treasures, was attacked. None of the city's noted monuments were harmed, but eight bombs dropped in the most densely populated part of the town, and killed 13 persons and injured 60 others. Bombs dropped on Treviso and two other towns closer to the fighting lines than Padua, which is some 35 miles from the front, caused no damage or casualties.

JAPAN'S ACTION AROUSES CHINA

Shanghai, Dec. 29.—The establishment by the Japanese of a civil administration in Shan Tung territory outside of the Tsing Tao area, occupied by the Japanese from the Germans early in the war, is arousing considerable opposition.

This action by the Japanese thus replacing the military regime with civil administration was the subject of a foreign protest recently at Tokio.

Victoria passed away at [illegible] yesterday morning in the person of Mrs. Christiana Weiler, widow of the late John Weiler, founder of the well-known furniture house of that city. The death occurred at the residence of Charles Weiler, 922 Blanchard St. Mrs. Weiler was ninety-one years and ten months of age, and the members of the family still residing in Victoria had been daily expecting the end.

DOMINION THEATRE

"The Life of Lord Kitchener" which is offered at the Dominion for tomorrow and New Year's Day, represents the culmination of motion picture photography. It is forty years of the making of the British Empire, including scenes in England, India, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and Egypt. Owing to the enormous rental charged by the owners, we are compelled to raise our prices slightly, but we know that you will appreciate our efforts to get the best for you.

THE WORK OF THE COMBINES

Boston, Dec. 29.—Small dealers have been squeezed out of competition by the powerful grasp of the big packers of the United States upon the meat, rendering soap and fertilizer industries of the country according to testimony given by witnesses before the Federal Trade Commissioner here.

Witnesses engaged in the rendering business asserted that the packers stifled competition for the sale of waste products by bidding up prices beyond the reach of the independent dealers, by resorting to the scheme of giving short weight for refuse, by giving bonuses to retailers to break contracts with competing rendering firms, by fomenting agitation against the erection of new competing rendering plants and by dividing territory among themselves by gentlemen's agreements in which the trade of a man opening a new butcher shop was sold to the highest bidder, transactions in which the butchers had nothing to say. In New England, it was testified, rendering companies, which were trust-controlled, maintained a fund to pay bonuses for the trade of retailers at points where independent rendering companies tried to compete.

Not only the rendering business, but also the corner store trade in meats was sought by the packers, witnesses said. Large markets, they said, were established in strategic positions in various large cities where packers named the price at which meats could be sold at retail. These prices were said to be below those at which the small retailer could sell. As a result, it was said, the neighborhood butchers were closing up their shops in ever increasing numbers because customers were drawn to the larger stores.

Many of the witnesses gave their version of being driven out of business by what they termed "the trust" or of getting into the combine in order to live. Two of the witnesses enlivened the session by voicing their defiance to the packers.

At a special meeting of the Ladysmith School Board Friday evening, Mr. E. A. Waugh, of Victoria, was appointed to the position of assistant in the High School, recently made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Draeder, who has joined the teaching staff of the Cumberland school. Mr. Waugh taught school formerly in the Northwestern Provinces, and comes highly recommended to Ladysmith.

THREE BRITISH BOATS LOST

London, Dec. 29.—Three British torpedo boat destroyers, were sunk through being struck by torpedoes or hitting mines off the Dutch coast on the night of December 22, with the loss of thirteen officers and 180 men, the Admiralty announced today.

AN AMERICAN ARMY BALLOON MISSING

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 29.—An army balloon commanded by Capt. McCullough and carrying six student aviators, which left here at midnight on Thursday is missing. Another balloon which left at the same time, commanded by Capt. Cole, and also carrying six students, landed 80 miles from Fort McIntosh late yesterday afternoon. The missing balloon officials believe, may have been forced to land in Mexico.

VICTORY LOAN

Payments due on January the 2nd may be made at any time to and including January the 11th. Scrip Certificates will be delivered in exchange for payments then due. Payments due January the 2nd must be made at the Bank branch mentioned in the application.

The extension of time to January the 11th is given for the convenience of subscribers and Banks so that subscribers will not be unduly detained waiting their turn at a Receiving Teller's wicket, as would most likely be the case if all payments had to be made on one day only. Subscribers should not wait until January the 11th, or a day or so before, and thus create the situation sought to be avoided. In every case, interest at the rate of five and one half per cent per annum from January the 2nd must be paid if payment is not made on or before the 11th.

For the convenience of subscribers, by arrangement of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Banks will remain open on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, January 3rd and 4th, and on the afternoon of Saturday, January the 5th. Evening hours 7.30 to 9.30. Saturday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

It has been brought to the attention of the Finance Department that a considerable number of subscribers, who have deposits with Banks, are under the impression that their Banks will take care of their January payments by automatically debiting their accounts with the necessary payments. This is incorrect. Each and every subscriber must personally arrange for these payments.

1918 AND THE FOOD SITUATION.

What will the historian say about the year on which the world soon will enter? We may be sure the food situation will bulk voluminously in his chronicles, and it may receive more prominence than even the progress of the war. The withdrawal of 30,000,000 men from the productive pursuits of peace; the destruction of shipping; the reduction and, in some cases, the paralysis of land transportation, have created a world shortage of basic commodities such as has not existed since the Middle Ages. To meet that emergency there must be a world readjustment of habits and customs. This process already has gone on among the belligerent countries in Europe where the exigencies and consequences of war are most thoroughly realized. How far will it be possible to convince the non-European peoples of the gravity of the outlook, of the need of food conservation and economy?

This continent is expected to play a decisive part in the defence of civilization against the famine menace just as it will play a decisive part in the military campaign against the common enemy in arms. It is expected to furnish its less favored Allies, who have borne the chief burden of the war for three years, with their most pressing food needs. For instance, Great Britain, France, Italy and their smaller associates will need at least 450,000,000 bushels of wheat before the next harvest. That is their irreducible minimum. Canada has an exportable surplus of 110,000,000 bushels on the basis of normal consumption and the United States has none. But by strict economy and substitution of other cereals it is hoped that this Dominion will be able to export much more than 110,000,000 bushels, while the United States by similar means is expected to create a large surplus for this purpose. If the shipping situation were easier it would be possible to utilize the surplusses of Argentine, Australia and India, but at best only a fraction of this supply will be available. The largest part of the demand must be met by improvising, economy and self-sacrifice on this continent.

Bacon is another urgent requirement abroad. North America must raise more hogs and consume less bacon. In this the Governments must become an active factor. They must see that feed for hogs must be obtained by those raising the animals at reasonable prices, and that substitutes for bacon shall be available to the public on the cheapest possible terms. Canada's fisheries should play an important part in meat substitution, but whether they will do so will depend upon the price of fish on the retail market. It is useless to pass regulations governing the price to be paid to fishermen, to the cold storage and the express companies and leave the price of the retail-

...only playing with ...g requirement is sugar. In Great Britain the per capita consumption, which before the war was 96 1-3 pounds per year has been reduced to 26 pounds a year or an ounce per day. In France the sugar ration is one and one-tenth pounds per person per month. In the United States and Canada the per capita consumption of sugar is seven and seven-tenths pounds per month. The Canadian public is asked to reduce its per capita consumption to seven ounces per week, and if this is done the total saving would be 56,000,000 ounces per week. If the American reduction were the same the total saving would be 770,000,000 ounces per week. If the Canadian and American per capita consumption were cut in two the saving would be 450,000,000 pounds per month, and even then they would be using more sugar than their Allies now consume.

Canada and the United States are at war, but they are better off in regard to food supply and other commodities than even the European neutrals, and the difference would be more pronounced than it is if they were organized for war as completely as their overseas Allies, and subject to the same discipline and restrictions. If they had to treble their supplies of food and other necessaries for Europe the effort would not produce, except in a very minor aspect, conditions of living approximating those which exist in Great Britain, France and Italy.

NOT ALLOWED TO ENTER RUSSIA

Stockholm, Dec. 28.—An American diplomatic courier on his way to Petrograd has been refused admission to Russia on the grounds his passport had not been signed by M. Borovsky, Bolsheviki minister at Stockholm. This is to first time that a regular courier pass has not been honored. It is assumed here that the Bolsheviki hope this way to exert pressure and compell the indirect recognition of the Government by the States.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years renewal for a further term of 21 years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of section, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only.

For full information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Raising Live Stock In Western Canada

ACCORDING to a recent statement by Prof. W. L. Carlyle, late Dean of the Oklahama State College of Agriculture, the live stock outlook in Alberta could hardly be excelled anywhere. Stockmen all over the country are looking to the Pacific slope sections for improvement in breeding, and Western Canada is admirably suited for raising stock. It is generally recognized that increase in live stock in future years must bring an improvement of the present breeding stock. The west was looked upon as the base of future supply for the eastern breeders. The live stock industry in the west was never better than it is today. A recent official report issued by the Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Saskatchewan by the Secretary of the Provincial Livestock Board shows that returns were never more satisfactory. The value of the live stock in Saskatchewan is estimated at $173,207,848, and these returns deal with conditions only up to April 30th last. There has been a great increase since that date as farmers realizing the value of mixed farming have taken to raising stock. They find that the straw from the wheat can be utilized as a cattle feed in the winter time, consequently there are not so many straw fires to be seen burning in the extensive wheat fields along the C. P. R. as in former years. In Alberta the other week a carload of 20 three-year-old Aberdeen Angus steers was sold at Calgary to a Chicago firm at 12 cents a pound, or a total of $3,427.20. Their average weight was 1,428 pounds. Recently one of the largest single cattle deals in Canada was closed in Edmonton, consisting of the purchase of 2,500 head of choice beef steers, weighing not less than 1,350 pounds each, the sum involved in the transaction being between $300,000 and $325,000, and it will require 140 C. P. R. cars to transport the animals to their destination. Summer feed is cheaply raised in great abundance.
