Among the arguments of this kind deduced from history is the statement that all the wealth and luxury the world has enjoyed from the industry of brass-working would probably have been lost but for the sacking and burning of the city of Corinth in the year 146 B. C. In Corinth there were immense quantities of gold, silver, and copper, and it is said that the violence of the conflagration was so great that these precious metals were melted and ran together, and thus the famous Corithian brass was first manufactured.

That seeing a batch of hig, gold in-crusted, snowy while loaves, that you have baked from PURITY PLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-abilityand proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour. You will admit, too, that we are justified in the pride we take in milling this superb flour.

"More bread and better bread"

PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Westcrn hard wheat-the world's finest. Morethanthat, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat. The low-grade pertions are separated and excluded during the PURITY process of milling. Such high-class flour, of course, expands more in the baking. It makes "more bread and better bread."

It makes lighter fall a pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURI's Y FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR pride in recommending it.

Wild Oats and False Wild Oats

According to a bulletin recently sened by the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Octava. mere is a type of more or less harmless Wild Oat that is frequently confused with the true Wild Oat which s recognized as being one of the worst of weeds. This publication, prepared of Mr. Norman Ceiddie. describes field experiments with these two plants and explains by means of charts and descriptive matter their distinguishing characteristics. Actording to this authority, it is a comparatively simple matter to distinguish the two sorts in the growing stage as the false variety shows the same manner of growth as the cultivated cat while the true Wild Oat exhibits a different habit. In the seed form, the TOWN COUNCIL difficulty of telling them apart is greater more especially in so far as some of the smaller varieties of the False Wild Oatsare concerned. With the larger sorts, the difficulty of distinguishing them is more easy as an experienced eye will at once detect the False Wild Oat by its larger size and its usual close resemblance to the cultivated variety in which it is found. Generally speaking, too, the outer seed coat is more open in front with cultivated forms and False wild Outs so that the inner coat is broadly visible, whereas in Wild Oatc, the Newsattle Town Council met in Clifford Macdonald, Samuei Matte-Readers interested in distinguishing
