The 1923 voters' list for the village of Watford is printed and has been posted up in the required places by the clerk. Twenty-one days are allowed by law for making appeals. The list shows that there are 351 voters on division No. 1 and 298 on division No. 2; that there are 621 persons entitled to vote at elections to the Legislative Assembly, and that 179 men are qualified to serve as jurors.

We would suggest that the Village Council pass a bylaw making the first Monday in August in each year a civic holiday. This would do away with the uncertainty that now exists as to the date of the much-prized holiday. The first Monday in August is now observed by many small towns as well as the cities and falls at a nice time for a holiday—midway between Dominion Day and Labor Day.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"The wets," says R. A. Walker of Chicago, "are the Philistines of today." Correct, all but the spelling. The wets are the all-a-stains of today.

The Deputy Police Commissioner of New York predicts that England will be dry in ten years. If he means as dry as the United States is to-day there will still be plenty of moisture.

The Milwaukee Journal says the average life of a five dollar bill is eight months. We have never had one to live with us any such time as that. Our experience is, they pass away in their early infancy.

Business is not as good as it used to be, but we have got to live just the same. In times like these every business man who takes life at all seriously should be at his business place every day and all the day.

Armprior Chronicle.—Wonders of the Ford never cease. An advertisement recently came under the Chronicle's notice reading that a certain gentleman had bought a car and "is now supplying his neighbors with butter and fresh eggs."

A few weeks ago we told the story of a farm mother who had been carrying water from the well for 50 years at half a cent a mile. That is half a cent a mile would have paid for a force pump and some pipe and a tank upstairs. Many other women are carrying water at half a cent a mile. Many of them are wearing out their backs over a wash board.—Prairie Farmer.

Winnipeg Tribune.—It is becoming abundantly clear that there will be no great war in Europe if Great Britain can prevent it. There is an increasing tendency among the people of Great Britain to keep in mind the lessons of the late war, and to think in positive terms of peace. This tendency, which may be found in all classes of society, may be the means of saving Europe.

"It is advisable and mandatory under section 297 of the Municipal Act, for every municipality to adopt an annual budget and to levy taxes sufficient to cover the expenditures fixed by such budget. But it is more important to adhere to the principle of keeping the expenditures well within the limit of the anticipated revenues. No expenditures should be contemplated before the money to pay the same is in some way secured. Every municipality should be run on a cash basis and the running up of overdrafts or floating indebtedness of any kind should be considered a breach of trust on the part of the Government."—Municipal World.

Vancouver Province: Lieut. Maughan has not crossed the continent from New York to California between dawn and dark, but he has shown that it can be done. At 5 o'clock he was within 600 miles of the end of his journey, and needed only to keep the same pace to arrive in daylight. He was physically able to complete the journey. An oil cooler connected with the engine leaked, and he had to stop after flying 15 hours at speeds ranging from 130 to 170 miles an hour. At a time when the attention of the continent is called to mercenary slugging matches it is refreshing to record an achievement of skill, courage and endurance, performed in a useful purpose. For this flight is a memorable stage in a great economic and scientific development in transportation.

Asthma No Longer Dreaded. The dread of renewed attacks from asthma has no hold upon those who have learned to rely upon Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. So safe do they feel that complete reliance is placed on this true specific with the certainty that it will always do all that its makers claim. If you have not yet learned how safe you are with this preparation at hand get it today and know for yourself.

YOUR VACATION

The Bishop of London once said, in order to ensure domestic happiness every married couple should be separated for at least two weeks every year.

Now just a minute please! We are not holding any briefs for foolish husbands "goin' gallivantin'."

Don't you think, however, that possibly His Lordship had summer vacations in mind when he made the above statement.

There are very few men brave enough to admit that they are glad when the family is gone to the country. On the other hand most of us are proud to boast that we are wedded to our work. So if the idea of separation holds good in domestic matters why not in the business world?

To be of any real value, a vacation must mean a complete change. After a whole year of close attention to work we are more than liable to have a distorted viewpoint of life.

The purpose of a vacation, therefore, should be to exercise our minds as well as our bodies in a manner different from the demands made upon them by our daily task—something that will recreate in us a true perspective of life, of our job, and of our relationship to our fellow-men.

Absolute idleness is not restful. Everybody should consider not only what place he is going to, but what he plans to do when he gets there.

NEEDLESS HURRY

An asylum official has expressed the alarming opinion that the world is growing insane, and a contemporary, while not absolutely agreeing with him, speaks of the impatience of the present generation, the inference being that there is too much nervous strain, which may unsettle the mind. There is no doubt a good deal of needless hurry. Modern inventions, such as the railway, the telegraph, the telephone, and the typewriter, ought to give us more opportunities for leisure. But the leisure is not fully enjoyed.

The reason may be that these inventions convey to the mind a suggestion of speed, which is accepted without thought. The man thinks he must work fast because the machine works fast. If he has an automobile that can travel forty miles an hour he feels that he is wasting time when it goes only fifteen. He can travel from Toronto to Montreal by night without losing an hour of business time in the journey. He has, therefore, more leisure than he would have had in the days of the stage-coach. But the suggestion conveyed to his mind is that he must do his business at express speed. He is dominated by mechanics, instead of using them as his servants. He is afraid to do business in a leisurely way lest the clicking typewriter reproach him with idleness.

The habits thus fostered are carried even into amusements. Reading and conversation are too slow; people must go somewhere, see something, hear something. The motion pictures must have plenty of action, and crowd as many sensations as possible into an evening's amusement. Graceful movement and social enjoyment are not sufficient for the dancer; the limbs must move at top speed until the muscles are exhausted and the brain reels. It is all unnecessary, and if it does not produce insanity it does lay an undue strain on the nerves and rob the mind of rest and reflection.—The Globe.

FALLACY OF BUYING BY MAIL

How would you like to journey to the nearest city for a pound of sugar or a yard of muslin or a spool of thread or a smoke? And how would you like to make the trip when you want a prescription filled in a hurry with death running you a race?

You would make some noise if you were forced to such extremity and then some more noise.

You would say—and justly so—that a town in which you cannot buy a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin or a spool of thread or a smoke, or not even get a prescription filled, is a mighty poor excuse of a town and not worth living in.

Yet our merchants can only afford to keep these things for your conveniences as long as you buy other things from them.

It is not doing this town any good to buy the little things here and then chase off to the city or send to the catalogue house for the things on which the merchant has a chance to make a dollar. Neither is it doing you any good, for the prosperity of each citizen is dependent to a large extent upon the prosperity of the community as a whole.

We are not telling you something you do not know. We are simply refreshing your memory in hopes that the time may come when all our people will conclude that a town is worth living in only when it is worth trading in. That's all.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

During the last session of Parliament many things were said which did great injury to Canada. It was stated by more than one of the Progressive members that no man could succeed in farming in the West and that immigration should be discouraged. The statements were promptly challenged and disproved, but the harm was done, nevertheless. In spite of pessimists of all kinds, Canada is making progress in every department and will continue to do so with economy and wise government.

"It is not so long ago since I could have bought the land a city of over 40 thousand people stands on to-day for two thousand dollars!" says a recent writer. That was a chance, was it not? Well, that is the kind of a chance Canada offers now. There is land to be bought at from thirty cents to three dollars an acre in many parts of Canada, which in a young man's lifetime will sell at from ten to a hundred dollars an acre; or more. So it has been in the past, and our country is still in its young stage. There is hope here, a future opening before one constantly. A man was in here a day or two ago who said he had worked twenty years on his place—originally free grant land—and all he had in the bank wouldn't buy a tin lizzie! "How much is the farm worth?" he was asked. "Well," he answered, "I was offered eighteen thousand for it, but I want twenty-five!" And he thought he had done badly after living comfortably off, and raising a fine family, in his place? Not many men in his station in England would do as well, I am certain of that!

SEVEN YEARS

Mrs. Anna Ross' Key to the Clouds

Again we had ample seed-time rains, and the crops looked well. This time there was a disposition in our little community to begin in time. About the middle of March it was proposed in our little S. School that we begin steady covenant prayer for the weather needed to mature the grain.

The first week passed without any rain; but that was all right. Though it would have been welcomed, it was not sorely needed. But we took hold again on the second Sabbath.

Still no rain came. But a thought was given me that kept me calm and happy about it. The next Sabbath was to be my last amongst them, as I was then on the wing for Canada. I felt sure there would be a larger attendance on that last Sabbath, out of kindly respect to myself, and I saw it was surely better that the rain should not come until a larger portion of the community should know what we were doing, and have the opportunity to join in the petition themselves.

I think that Sabbath was April 8. We had a good attendance and they were all cordially invited to join in our covenant prayer for the rain that was now very much needed. The closing words might have been somewhat as follows:

"Now my dear neighbors, I think you shall have the needed rain this season, but I want to speak to you earnestly about the next. Which of you is going to lead the rest in taking fast covenant hold if the 'latter rains' are short next year?" Some instructions were added to help them in the work.

I left on Tuesday, April 10th, and went to spend a day or two with an old Highlander and his wife, living forty miles away. I left confidently expecting the quick coming of the rain for the crops were now in real need.

But day after day passed and the skies were blue without a cloud. My knees began to shake under me. What if the rain should fail me! Where had I gone wrong?

Early on Saturday I asked my host and hostess to excuse me as I felt I must spend the morning alone. I must get down low and find out what was the matter.

It is good to get down low and ask the old question, "Lord is it I?" Was it my fault? Was I at all mistaken in my conclusions? I went over my scripture grounds again, and sought fresh light.

I was led to a verse that morning which I had never before seen to have any bearing on the subject. Psa. 65:1 "Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion, and unto thee shall a vow be performed." It was the last clause, "unto thee shall the vow be performed" that shed light and certainty upon my path. But that the reader may understand the courage that came, I must go back a little in my story.

That first Sabbath, when we began to pray for rain, Farmer B., took me home from S. School in his automobile. Before he left me he said: "Mrs. Ross, if I get one inch more of rain, I am going to give 500 sacks of wheat to the poor. I mean to have it crushed into porridge meal, and send half to the poor of San Francisco, and half to Los Angeles, that is if I can get a sure way to get it to them."

He did not tell me that he had vowed this. He was a modest man, and that was not his way. But I knew at the time that the words he had spoken to me were only an echo of words he had already spoken to God. Wheat was then $2 per bushel, and there are more than two bushels in a sack. That meant about $2500 worth of wheat.

All this came to mind as my eyes rested upon the words, "Unto thee shall the vow be performed." "Unto thee shall Mr. B.'s vow be performed for he shall get the rain." I knew quite well, if he got the rain, he would amply pay his vow. This word was to mean absolute assurance that the rain would come and that vow would be performed. The word that followed was in strong accord with it, "O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come." The burden was quite rolled away.

The Sabbath that followed brought nothing encouraging but the word. Monday morning I took an auto stage, going 40 miles to the railway town where I was to get my ticket for Canada. On the way we were met by a sharp shower. But looking in the direction of our S. School region, what was my delight to see the blue black clouds piled deep in the sky, and to actually see the sheets of rain as they were falling earthwards. When I reached the railway town the telephone from Farmer B.'s assured me that it had been raining when they got up in the morning, and had been raining ever since. I took my ticket and started for Canada the next day with "joy and gladness" singing in my heart.

A few weeks later I had a letter from Farmer B. telling me that that whole S. School region had been blessed with a banner crop. He had had a $20,000 crop, another dear neighbor a $21,000 crop, and another who had come through very hard times, a $16,000 crop. He added, "I have already given over $3000 to the poor, and the Red Cross, and other places where I thought it was needed." He wanted me to know that he had done as he had promised. The letter contained a $50 check for myself, as a thankoffering for the prayer which he considered had done the work.

Symptoms of Debility

How to Tell Whether Your Blood Needs Revitalizing.

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause, but weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance.

If you have any or all of these symptoms try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the new blood courses through your veins there should be an increase in your appetite, a better digestion and soon a renewal of strength and vigor.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, postpaid, at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. DECISIONS RESPECTING NEWSPAPERS

Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether addressed in his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.

If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken or not.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and having them unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intention of fraud.

PETROLEA

Miss Blanche Jackson arrived yesterday from California to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Jackson, Greenfield street.

A colony house, brooder and over one hundred and fifty chickens, owned by Rev. Hall Woods, west of Petrolea, were destroyed by fire on Tuesday afternoon. The explosion of the heater under the brooder is thought to be the cause.

Mrs. Otto Christopher the Chicago lady who with her husband, was hurt in an automobile accident on Wednesday night when their car collided with a car filled with hydro employees from Petrolea, driven by W. Smith, is reported as resting easily. The extent of the internal injury received has not been fully determined but it is not believed that it will prove very serious.

A fire at Kerr's mill about 6.30 Wednesday evening caused quite an alarm here. The fire did not gain any headway before it was put out by the watchman and some citizens. The fire might have proved more dangerous and destroyed the main part of the mill where it started had it not been discovered so quickly.

THE LATE MRS. JOHNSTON

The funeral of the late Mrs. Richard Johnston, which was held on Wednesday, July 18, was largely attended. The large procession of friends and acquaintances, which followed the remains to their last resting place in Alvinston cemetery, was a fitting tribute to the esteem and regard in which Mrs. Johnston was held by all who knew her.

The deceased, who had been in poor health for years, was taken to her bed on April 17th, where she remained until her death on July 16th. She bore her suffering with true Christian patience and fortitude.

She was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston of Collingwood township, Grey county. She was born on March 18th, 1855. She was married to Richard Johnston of Bothwell, where the young couple resided for several years, later they moved to Brooke township, and in 1900 they moved to lot 31, con. 6, Enniskillen township, where she resided until her death. She leaves to mourn her loss her bereaved husband, two sons and one daughter, Herbert George of Brooke, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, of Inwood, and Basil D. at home. She is also survived by five brothers and two sisters, David of Parry Sound, Ont., Richard of Toronto; Robert of Milton, Ont.; John of Kitchikatack, Wash., and William of Collingwood township, Grey county, Mrs. Edward Gallows, Revenna, and Mrs. John Ferguson, Thornbury.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Hosford of Watford assisted by Rev. Mr. Mac-Vicar of Inwood. The pallbearers were Messrs. Dan Johnston, Hugh Johnston, John Johnston, Henry Johnston, Theo Johnston and Jas. H. Johnston. Friends and acquaintances were present from Sarnia, Pt. Huron, Corunna, Sombra, Wallaceburg, Watford and Bothwell.

WHY I AM A CHURCH MEMBER

Because if nobody belonged to the church there would be no church; and if the church left the town, I would want to leave on the next train.

Because if I share the blessings and privileges of the church, I want to be square enough to have a part in its work.

Because, as the greatest organized force for righteousness in the world, it offers to me a better chance for the real service of humanity the world over than any other institution.

Because while it may be abstractly possible to live a Christian life outside the church, I know that about 99 out of every 100 Christians are members of the church. I'll take my chances with the 99 rather than the lone one.

DISCOUNTS THE BUGABOO

President Harding of the United States Says Scheme of Annexation Has Disappeared Years Ago.

Over 40,000 persons welcomed President Warren G. Harding and heard him speak at Vancouver last Thursday, on the occasion of his visit to Canada, the visit being with one exception the first of a President of that country to Canada while in office.

"The ancient bugaboo of the United States scheming to annex Canada disappeared from all our minds years ago," declared President Warren G. Harding, speaking before a huge crowd in Stanley Park. "Heaven knows," he continued, "we have all we can manage now and 'oom enough' to spare for another hundred millions, before approaching the intensive stage of existence of many European states.

"And, if I might be so bold as to offer a word of advice to you, it would be this: Do not encourage any enterprise looking to Canada's annexation of the United States. You are one of the most capable governing peoples in the world, but I entreat you for your own sakes to think twice before undertaking management of the territory which lies between the Great Lakes and the Rio Grande.

Co-operation only. "No, let us go our own gait along parallel roads, you helping us and we helping you. So long as each country maintains its independence and both recognize their interdependence those paths cannot fail to be highways of progress and prosperity. Nationality continues to be a supreme factor in modern existence. Our very propinquity enjoins that most effective co-operation which comes only from clasping of hands in true, fast and good fellowship.

"It is in that spirit that I have stopped on my way home from a visit to our pioneers in Alaska to make a passing call upon my very good neighbors of the fascinating Iroquois name, 'Kanada,' to whom, glorious in her youth and beauty and strength on behalf of my own beloved country, I stretch forth my arms in fraternal greetings with gratefulness for your splendid welcome, in my heart and from my lips the whispered prayer of our famous Rip Van Winkle: 'May you all live long and prosper.'"

Canada an exception.

Referring to the fact that he was, with the single exception of his immediate predecessor, the first president in office to set foot on political foreign soil, the president stated that such inhibition, which, developed into a tradition, may have been desirable in the early days, when time was the chief requisite of travel. Assuredly, too, at present, the chief magistrate of a great republic ought not to cultivate the habit of wandering over all the continents of the earth. But, Canada was an exception, a most notable exception, from every viewpoint of the United States.

"You are not only neighbors," he said, "but a very good neighbor, and we rejoice in your advancement and admire your independence, no less sincerely than we value your friendship. We think the same thoughts, live the same lives and cherish the same aspirations of service to each other in times of need. Thousands of your brave lads perished in gallant and generous action for the preservation of our union. Many of our young men followed Canadian colors to the battlefields of France before we entered the war and left their proportion of killed to share the graves of your intrepid sons.

"What an object lesson of peace is shown to-day by our two countries to all the world. No grim-faced fortifications mark our frontier, no huge battleships patrol our dividing waters, no stealthy spies lurk in our border hamlets. Only a scrap of paper recording hardly more than a simple understanding, safeguards lives and property on the Great Lakes, and only humble mile posts mark the inviolable boundary line for thousands of miles through farm and forests.

"Our protection is our fraternity in our armor is our faith, the tie that binds more closely year by year is ever increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens, and the compact is not of perishable parchment, but of fair and honorable dealing, which, God grant, shall continue for all time." "Our natural advantages are manifold and obvious," he said in conclusion. "We live in the power and glory of youth. Others derive justifiable satisfaction from contemplation of the resplendent past. We have relatively only our present to regard and that with eager eyes fixed chiefly upon our future. Therein lies our best estate. We profit both mentally and materially from the fact that we have no 'departed greatness' to recover; no 'lost province' to regain; no new territory to covet; no ancient grudges to gnaw eternally at the heart of our national consciousness."

FERGUSON—MUXWORTHY

On Saturday, July 21st, in the Methodist church, Dresden, at two o'clock the marriage took place of Margaret Blanche younger daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Muxworthy, formerly of Watford, to John Neil Ferguson of Forest. The marriage service was read by Rev. S. W. Muxworthy assisted by Rev. Dr. H. W. Crews, of Chatham, uncle of the bride, in the presence of many friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, E. N. Hopkins, M.P., of Moose Jaw, Sask., wore a handsome gown of grey braided French crepe with orchid and grey hat with ostrich plume and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily-of-the-valley. The only ornament worn was a brooch and earrings set with diamonds the gift of the bride's father to her mother on their wedding day just thirty-six years ago. The happy couple were supported by Mr. Jack Madden and Miss Beatrice Howey of Exeter, wearing a gown of orchid georgette with leghorn hat with orchid trimmings and carried a bouquet of Ophelia rosebuds and sweet peas. Little Kathleen Craven in a dainty white swiss organdie, was flower girl and Master Billie Israel was ring bearer. Miss Eva Aiken presided at the organ and played softly throughout the ceremony. During the signing of the register, Miss Aleda Crews sang "All Mine Alone." The ushers were Messrs. Don and Kenneth McKellar of Forest, nephews of the groom. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with orange blossoms palms and ferns by the popular bride's girl friends. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the parsonage, which was decorated with pink and white carnations. The happy couple left by motor amid a shower of confetti to take a boat trip to Detroit and Cleveland.

ARKONA

Mr. G. N. Brown, an Arkona old boy, has been appointed Assistant General Manager of the Standard Bank. He is being congratulated by his many friends on his promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson motored to Chatham on Sunday visiting friends there and relatives at Erie Beach.

George Martin spent Sunday with his mother at Chatham.

The rumor that some of the bandit gang who held up the bank messengers at Toronto were in hiding at or near Arkona, excitement ran high here all day Sunday. After a fruitless all night search, Inspector Putman, Sergt. Proctor and a detachment of provincial constables from Windsor besides, Provincial Constable Oliver, of Sarnia, and another from Chatham, returned to London Monday morning, tired and weary, yet anxious to continue the search should any new developments arise. On the strength of a tip received by Provincial Constable Oliver, Inspector Putman and every nook and cranny in the neighborhood of Arkona was investigated but no trace of the robbers was revealed. It was said that the bandits were barricaded near here but a thorough scouring of the countryside, including part of Middlesex County, proved fruitless, though the officers still think that the gunmen may be hiding in that neighborhood, due to the search having been made during the hours of darkness. "We searched with difficulty a deep chasm close to Arkona," said Sergt. Proctor, "but the darkness made it particularly hazardous and there is a chance that we might have missed our quarry."

The regular meeting of the U.F.O. Club was held in the school house Thursday evening last with a good attendance. A deputation from the ladies club was present and extended an invitation to a picnic at Bright's Grove on Wednesday, Aug. 1st, which was accepted. It was decided to hold the third annual field day on Wednesday afternoon, Aug 22nd. Remember the date and arrange to attend.

The club will ship again on Saturday, Aug. 4th. The last shipment consisted of two cars of hogs and lambs. Four new shippers were received with inquiries from several more. The volume of business handled by the Wanstead Farmers' Club so far this year has broken all records. Farmers ten and twelve miles distant are bringing in hogs which looks as though co-operative marketing on a graded basis pays. Some people who for some reason or other oppose the farmers marketing their produce co-operatively expected the results of the recent election would put an end to these activities but such does not appear to be the case. Co-operative marketing will yet prove to be the sheet anchor on which agriculture must depend and if Hon. John Martin, Minister of Agriculture, is alive to his responsibilities, he will do all possible to improve and extend the co-operative idea introduced and encouraged by the late Minister, Hon. Manning Doherty.

MR. ARTHUR HUME

The late Mr. Arthur Hume, notice of whose death appeared in last week's issue, was one of the oldest and most widely-known residents of this section. He passed peacefully away in his sleep on Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. J. Osborne, Alvinston, with whom he had lived for six or seven years, going to Alvinston from Watford when Mr. Osborne was transferred there. The cause of his death was heart failure.

The late Mr. Hume was in his 85th year. He was born on the second line of Warwick and spent his entire life in this district, living in Watford for many years. He was much esteemed by all who knew him. He was a man of very retentive memory, possessed of a vast fund of useful information and an authority on data of local events. He was never married, and is survived by one brother, Joseph, in Chicago, Ill., and one sister, Mrs. Robert Gault, Sr., of Warwick township.

The body was brought from Alvinston to the residence of his nephew, Thomas A. Gault, on the second line south, Warwick, where service was held Wednesday afternoon. Rev. W. K. Hager, B.A., pastor of the Methodist church, officiated both at the house and the grave. Interment took place in Watford cemetery, the pallbearers being three nephews, John Gault, Thomas A. Gault and Robt. Gault Jr., also Hamilton Taylor of Plympton, Harvey Parker, of Brooke and John Osborne of Alvinston.

Norwich is receiving two cars of Alberta coal which sold at $14 a ton before the shipment arrived. The Alberta government is forwarding 4,000 tons of this coal to Ontario, to be distributed throughout the rural sections, with an allotment of one car to each municipality. The fact that Norwich was instrumental in starting the movement for Alberta coal, they are receiving two carloads instead of one.

One coke worker in the United States is going to travel to his daily toll by aeroplane. What will the plasterers do about it and what are the bootleggers going to do about it?

At London they are giving you the choice of taking your Sunday ablutions in the family bath tub or hiking to the devil's playground at the lakeside and sporting with the half-clad beach beauties.

Charles Dickens' famous home, Gadshill, near Rochester, England, for which the author paid £8,000 was put up at auction last week and only £5,000 was bid. The auctioneer withdrew the property and an attempt will be made to sell it privately before it is again auctioned.

Hon. Mr. Henry's first official move as Minister of Highways is to suspend highway widening operations. About 500 miles of highways, chiefly in the Northern and Western parts of the Province, are affected by the Minister's decision, so instead of 86 ft. the roads will be kept at their normal width of 66 ft.

Here are some slogans for auto-ists written by a Detroit flapper: "Drive right and there'll be no more pedestrians left." "Taking the other fellow's dust is better than—to dust returneth." "Six feet" have been the final reward of many a driver who would never give an inch." A wise head on young shoulders.

When the West prospers, then all Canada is the beneficiary. Thus it is with exceeding joy that the favorable outlook for a record grain crop in Western Canada is broadcasted throughout the Eastern provinces. Reports indicate that the weatherman has been unusually gracious to the Western farmer, and as a result the crops are in an excellent condition.

Standing on a seat in a street car on Richmond street, London, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, and with his head and shoulders out of the window, Ernest Stark, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stark of 194 Huron street, was instantly killed. The lad was dragged from the car window and buffeted between the wheels, finally being thrown under the wheels. His body was terribly mangled.

Designed to make the reading of time an even more simple matter, a clock with one hand has made its appearance. Between the usual hour markings eleven equal divisions have been made bearing numbers from 5 to 55, inclusive, in multiples of 5 indicating the minutes. As the hand moves around the face, the point thus indicates the exact time. The makers of the instrument point to frequent errors in telling time made because of confusing the two hands of an ordinary clock. The new instrument is made up in forms suitable for use on automobiles and in watches and desk clocks.

Canada's cattle market is being rapidly transferred from the United States to Great Britain. Over 13,000 cattle were exported during June, and of that number 10,473 head were shipped to the British market, and 1,785 to the United States. During June 1922, approximately 600 cattle went overseas and 3,600 to United States points, indicating a striking reversal outlet this year. During the first six months of the present year the volume of exports has been particularly encouraging when compared with the same period of 1922. The total to date is 55,583 head, as compared with 19,867 last year. Of these amounts 30,029 and 4,195 respectively went overseas, and 23,659 and 12,795 respectively to the United States.

The Western Fair of this year will without a doubt be the largest and best ever held in London. The new manufacturers Building holding over 300 exhibits of all kinds of manufactured goods will occupy at least a whole days time for any visitor to see all that will be on Exhibition both upstairs and down. This building is costing the Exhibition Association over $160,000.00 and will fill a long felt want for suitable space for Exhibitors. It is situated in a prominent place on the grounds and will be one of the attractive features of the Exhibition. Admission at the gates 25 cents, every day. Usual prices on the Grand Stand with reserved seats on Wednesday and Thursday. All information from the Secretary, General Offices, London, Ont. The dates this year are Sept. 8 to 15th.

Mr. J. M. Denholm, editor of the Blenheim News-Tribune, who is holidaying in England, in a letter to his paper, refers as follows to English railways, which are thought to be behind the times by many people in Ontario: "For instance we are riding on a train now of comfortable coaches that is tearing along to Newhaven at the sea, at a speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. And this is not a matter of anything extraordinary but as a regular run. Many of their trains travel at this speed, and some as high as seventy miles an hour, with no stops, no doors banging open and shut, very little dust or smoke and seldom a stop. These express trains run without slackening of speed through the middle of cities of 50,000 to 100,000 population, where always we run along under enormous station roofs larger than any I have seen in Montreal, Toronto or Detroit. Yet there is the most considerate regard for human life. Nowhere in either urban or rural localities are there any level crossings, which in our country take such enormous toll of life, not even in any of the stations. Where traffic must cross the tracks substantial stone, brick or concrete bridges overhead provide for it. Inside the stations the platforms are some three feet above the tracks so that they are level with the floors of the railway coaches. The railway property is always rigidly fenced, and in fact it is an indictable offence to be found on the tracks. With all these safeguards is it any wonder that British railways have not more than something like one accident to the public to 500 we have in America? All this is commonplace to the boys who were overseas or to others who have visited Great Britain, but I can well understand those who have not been across the sea having no comprehension of these things."

NEXT WINTER'S COAL SUPPLY

The memory of a hot July never yet comforted an icy January. But the memory of that freezing January—in July!—will do a great deal to make future Winter months more comfortable for Canadians. In other words, it is easy to remember to order coal and find storage room for it in Winter, but it is wise to order it now.

Central Canada is, of course, completely dependent on the American coal fields for coal.

But, worse than that, she is completely dependent on heavily burdened foreign railways to get that coal into cars and to get those cars away when loaded.

It is not just a matter of Canadians having money to pay for the coal.

The miners may strike again. Production may fall again! American home demand may increase again! There may be no coal!

And, even if the coal is ready to be shipped, cars to ship it in may be short next Fall and Winter.

If cars are available they will have to wait for the opportunity to be loaded.

Loaded, they may have to wait for engines to draw them away.

On the road they face heavy traffic movements, snow storms, snow plugged terminals, and all the difficulties of Fall and Winter railway operations.

All of these factors menace Canada's fuel supply for next Winter; possible mining strikes or lockouts! Lowered production! Increased American domestic demand! Car shortage in the United States! Rail congestion! Power shortage! Snow-storms!

But the Canadian who orders his coal to-day and takes delivery today can be almost sure of getting his order filled, loaded, moved and delivered. Mining conditions are fairly good. The United States railways have on their side cars, power and summer operating conditions. Coal-handling can be accomplished quickly and easily to-day which later on will be many times as difficult.

On small users and on large users we urge, therefore, the wisdom of ordering your coal at once, and taking delivery at once—for unless you do the latter you congest the coal yard, which congests the rails which in time, congests the mines.)

Estimate your needs at once! Order at once! Take immediate delivery so as to release the cars quickly for another run. It is more than a duty! It is a necessity!

Summer never yet fooled a squirrel—don't let it fool you. The squirrel who only begins hoarding nuts next January, has a poor prospect ahead of him.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

MIKE'S RISE TO FAME
Michael Hooley relates his experience to a group of men:
"When I was a navy I was called 'Mike'. Then when I was made a ganger, they called me 'Michael Hooley.' I started in business as a contractor and was 'Mr. Michael Hooley.' After a time I was elected to the council and was called 'Michael Hooley, Esquire.' Then, gentlemen, they honored me by making me mayor, and last Sunday, on the occasion of our first church parade, as I was walking up the aisle, the congregation rose and sang: 'Hooley, Hooley, Hooley, Lord God Almighty.'"

In the Crow's Nest

CROW'S NEST, ON THE WAY TO CROW'S NEST—THE HIGHEST WOODEN BRIDGE IN THE WORLD.

Rolling up to the Crow's Nest Pass are olive green foothills without a tree upon them—natural cattle runs clothed with succulent short grass. Here are seen occasional outcrops of rock, which in their four or five feet of height show all the characteristics of a mountain range; miniatures of the Rockies, with crag and precipice and col reproduced on the smallest scale. With a bag of salt one could lay on glaciers, touch the peaks with white and have a toy range which any Eastern schoolteacher could set up in her classroom with advantage to herself and her pupils. Canadians east of Medicine Hat know too little about the construction of this Continent and about the glorious engineering of Nature.

Consider the Crow's Nest itself. The name brings before some of us a schedule of railway-rates; to others, a series of coal mines. These are derivative impressions. The original Crow's Nest is a mountain rising to 9,000 feet and more above sea-level and visible for many miles. The rock-peak, as one looks from the foothills is set like a fuzzy, round crow's-nest on the sky-line. Leading up to it are the olive-green billows fading into a soft, blue haze.

In the distance near the peak is a snow-white precipice, which they tell us is two miles wide and a mile high. It is all excellence and loveliness until one travels twenty miles farther. Then it gleams like the fangs of a wolf. It is the rock-fang of Turtle Mountain, cleft from top to bottom in 1905 to the destruction of the mining town of Frank.

To-day the whole valley, two miles wide, is a tempestuous chaos of white stone blocks, some of them as big as a house, all with jagged edges and sharp corners. They are piled from fifty to one hundred feet high above the original valley level. The railway line climbs over the debris. Beneath it lies the broken city. On either side of the avalanche stand a few deserted houses, windows out, glaring like skulls upon the newer town. The whole valley spells terror and tragedy. Even yet people talk of Pompeii and Herculaneum, but they are like to forget the more terrible fate of Frank when rock by millions of tons fell a mile out of the sky.

Just a Comparison.

The First Locomotive in America and the Latest.

THIS picture might almost be entitled "Ancient and Modern." It shows the "Sampson," first locomotive in America which was first used at Albion mines in 1839, and one of the new Pacific type locomotives which have been placed in commission by the Canadian Pacific Railway on all main lines, and which are chiefly responsible for this company's "on time" feature of service. The Canadian Pacific Railway have now definitely adopted this design for their heavy main line service, as representing the most desirable and efficient locomotive for economy and reliability of service, as this particular design reduces to a minimum, consistent with capacity, the number of moving parts which is essential for reliability of service under the most exacting and severe conditions.

The capacity and weight of these locomotives rank them among the biggest of their type in the world, and the largest of this design in operation in Canada. The haulage capacity of the 2300 series is 42,600 lbs., which is obtained with 200 pounds boiler pressure, cylinders 25 inches in diameter, 30 inch stroke and with driving wheels 75 inches in diameter. The weight on the three pairs of drivers of engine is 180,000 pounds and the total weight of the engine and tender in working condition is 495,000 pounds, the tender having a capacity of 8,000 gallons of water and 14 tons of coal.

The design of these locomotives was given very careful study, a trial order of engines constructed in 1919 having been made, with tests under all Canadian conditions, which fully justified all expectations for reliability and economy of operation. The boiler has been carefully proportioned and the inter-relationship of grate area, fire box volume, heat absorption capacity of different lengths of tube and gas areas more carefully thought out than is usual in most designs, which, coupled together with an extremely accurate distribution of steam by an improved type of Walschaert valve gear, has given exceptional economy for a locomotive of this size.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it before each of my children was born and afterwards and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Mr. and Mrs. Coke and family met with a very pleasant surprise on Thursday evening, July 19th, when their neighbors assembled at their home and presented them with a handsome library table and the following address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Coke and Family, Your many friends of the tenth line of Brooke have gathered here to spend another pleasant evening with you prior to your departure from our neighborhood.

We have known you long and have always found you kind friends and true. You have always taken a keen interest in every cause that has been for the betterment of our community. In all our social functions you have ever taken a leading part and did your utmost to add to the cheer of the occasion, but when sorrow and a shadow entered our homes you were ever ready with words and deeds of comfort and love to make the burden lighter.

We feel that you have always tried by precept and example to do your part in the uplift of mankind. Our lives are better by your sojourn here and in your going we feel a decided loss.

We rejoice to know that after an arduous, faithful life on the farm; you feel inclined to give over the strenuous farm duties, and spend your declining years in a well earned rest.

As souvenirs of your many kind friends remaining behind we ask you to accept this token of the many happy days we have spent side by side.

Our earnest prayer is that you may long be spared to enjoy your new home and life in Watford.

Signed on behalf of your many kind friends on the tenth,
Richard McMurray,
Edgar Peasley.

Mr. Coke made a reply in which he referred to the very pleasant associations which he had enjoyed during his residence among them. A short program of speeches and music was given, Mr. B. Henderson acting as chairman in his usual happy manner, after which lunch was served.

CHOP STUFF

Mrs. Reg. Heaton of Essex was the victim of a burning accident about 10 o'clock Friday morning last, that has caused her a great deal of pain. Mrs. Heaton was engaged at her home on Talbot street in putting up fruit, and was sealing the cans with paraffine wax, which she heated over an oil stove. In heating the wax same boiled over, and ran onto the blaze, and was set fire to, the blaze from the wax catching the upper part of Mrs. Heaton's dress, and burning her about the arm, breast, shoulder and lower part of the face. Mrs. Heaton had presence of mind enough to grab a cloth and smother the blaze, otherwise she would have been more seriously burned. While the burns have been painful, they are not serious, and it is hoped she will soon recover from the effects. Mrs. Heaton was alone in the kitchen at the time of the accident.

Every time the devout farmer discovers that his cherry orchard or his strawberry patch or his potato plantation has developed a new pest, he bows his head reverently, or passes on thoughtfully, and murmurs: Let us spray.

A very disastrous fire occurred at the home of Mrs. Harry Martin, South Colchester, on Tuesday afternoon, caused by the explosion of an oil stove. Mrs. Martin, who has a number of summer boarders at her home, had just finished work and was lying down, when she was aroused by Miss Daisy Brush, who is helping her. When Miss Brush entered the place it was a mass of flames and the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save much. The summer boarders were at the beach at the time, some in swimming; these lost all their clothes and any money left in their rooms.
