BOMBARDMENT WAS TERRIFIC

Seddul Bahr Fort Smashed by Fleet, Which Maintained Continuous Fire Night and Day--Land Forces Control Long Tongue of Gallipoli Peninsula.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, April 29. (The British official "eye-witness" in a narrative of the battle of Ypres, says the Germans had prepared to attack the allied line on the 29th, but the wind not being favorable for their use of asphyxiating gases, they postponed it until the 30th.)

All day the firing continued, and night brought no cessation of the bombardment. The darkness was lit up by alternate flashes of searchlights and big guns, while the roar sounded thunderously across the waters. The noise of the bombardment was heard in the villages on the north coast of the Island of Mitylene, 45 miles away.

Tremendous firing. I left the town of Mitylene at midday yesterday in a powerful motor catamaran. As we sailed up the strait between Tenosos and the mainland I had my first view of the bombardment. This was about midday, and by this time the noise had become terrific. After midday the firing grew heavier, and about 1.30 o'clock a tremendous column of smoke began to pour up from Kum Kale. (A minute later the village of Ypsa Shehr nearby was pouring forth smoke and flame. At 1.30 o'clock it was opposite the entrance to the Dardanelles and could see four large ships heavily engaged.)

A quarter of an hour later a big fire burst out on the heights above Seddul Bahr, and for a considerable time the smoke ascended in a thick dense mass from the spot.

Grew in intensity. About 2 o'clock I landed on this island in the Rabbit group, and from its cliffs looked to the Dardanelles and the entrance to the straits six miles away. I watched the fascinating spectacle of the bombardment until about 2.30 o'clock, when the bombardment became more intense. Great warships sent forth shattering volleys of sound and new fires could be seen at several points along the Asiatic shore. An English warship, evidently one of the Lord Nelson type, and another of the type of the Lord Nelson type, were kept up a continuous cannonade.

Shells were hurled at it at the rate of about 20 a minute. When the smoke cleared it was evident that all resistance had been broken down, the ships moved from their places and directed their fire higher up the strait.

This movement of warships enabled Seddul Bahr fort, which appeared to be utterly knocked to pieces.

Landing of Troops. Towards 2 o'clock the firing reached its maximum of intensity. Big battleships were engaged in the long the flat shores of the Gallipoli Peninsula and of ten miles from the harbor, less than ten minutes. Meanwhile the allied troops had been made by the good progress has towards the reduction of the narrow fords.

Landed at Three Points. LONDON, April 29. (The British official "eye-witness" in a narrative of the battle of Ypres, says the Germans had prepared to attack the allied line on the 29th, but the wind not being favorable for their use of asphyxiating gases, they postponed it until the 30th.)

TURKS SOUNDLY BEATEN. LONDON, April 29.--Victory for the allies in an engagement with the Turks on the Gallipoli peninsula, the Asiatic shore is reported here today in a despatch from Athens. A stubborn resistance was put up by the Turks, but they were flung back in a 12-hour battle on Wednesday. The Turks retreated under cover of darkness. They suffered serious losses, including an entire battalion, which was surrounded and captured. Some despatches place the number of the enemy on the peninsula at only 60,000 men.

Practically all the French forces are concentrated along the littoral east of the peninsula, since the enemy before them, as they proceed. In the meantime the Anglo-French fleet is heavily bombarding the forts of the straits.

To Occupy. The British forces so far landed have been estimated solely with the task of occupying the Gallipoli peninsula. The British-German statement that 30,000 British troops had been put ashore on the peninsula taken from the enemy is probably an exaggeration. It is believed that the British have overcome by superior numbers the German forces which were hurriedly ordered to Constantinople from Berlin.

ZEPPELINS BUSY AGAIN

German Aircraft Dropped Bombs on Ipswich, Whittton and Bury St. Edmunds, But Damage Was Slight.

IPSWICH, April 30.--2.22 a.m.--A hostile aircraft--whether a Zeppelin or an aeroplane is not known--raided Ipswich early this morning. Several bombs were dropped. One struck a house in Brookshill road. It was an incendiary bomb and it pierced the roof and fell into the bedroom of a little girl. Some of the furniture was set afire, but the child was rescued by her father, Harry Goodwin.

The flames spread to two adjoining houses, which within an hour were almost destroyed. Other bombs were dropped on Waterloo road. The aircraft then passed on to Whittton, where it also dropped explosives. So far as is known, nobody was injured.

Ipswich is in Suffolk County and is a town of considerable commercial importance. It has a population of some 15,000. Central News despatch says that a Zeppelin was seen during the night at Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, County, where it dropped bombs and set several buildings on fire.

German Blows Exhausted

All Remains Well on Yser

Surplus Troops of Kaiser Believed Being Transferred to Eastern Front Again, To Check Some New Movement of Russians.

LONDON, April 29.--A significant note in the general fighting and German offensive, which has apparently been turned to the defensive again by the allied superiority in France and Flanders, is noticeable from the official communique both of Berlin and Paris. The fury of the German blow, which attempted to pierce the allied lines at Ypres, has exhausted itself, a sporadic action being reported only against the Belgian trenches, and this being easily beaten off. It is significant that while it took the allied three weeks to stop the German onrush at the first battle of the Ypres, it only took the allies about three or four days to stop the German onrush at the second battle of the Ypres. This is taken to indicate that the allies have so greatly strengthened their lines that it is an impossibility for the Germans to burst thru them at the present time.

Whereupon on the French line the allied attacks being repulsed, indicating that the enemy has been beaten down to the defensive, a condition intolerable to the doctrine and training of the German imperial staff. It is thought that the enemy might have persisted a little longer against the impossible in the west, but for the arising of some new anxiety on the eastern frontier, and it is taken as quite probable that the Russians have commenced to deliver some stroke that is creating immense alarm in Berlin. The reported capture of Von Hindenburg, who is believed to have engineered the poison gas episode, is peculiar of Von Hindenburg to be always trying some new trick, which usually gets him nowhere important. It is believed that Sir John French is preparing a big attack on Arras, to offset the second battle of Ypres.

REGIMENT OF AGED DONKEYS WAS ANNIHILATED BY TURKS

Allies Used Clever Ruse in Landing Troops on Gallipoli Peninsula--Turks Shot By German Officers.

By Hugh Martin. The regiment of donkeys, which were decrepit animals purchased in the islands for a mere song, was annihilated. Prisoners taken by the allies in the Gallipoli peninsula, including many German officers, who have been sent to Malta. Among the prisoners are not a few Turks with revolver bullet wounds inflicted by German officers in driving them on to attack, or in desperately endeavoring to prevent retreat. One soldier now in hospital at Mudros has three such wounds in the head.

FORCES STEADILY LANDED ON GALLI POLI PENINSULA

TURKS SOUNDLY BEATEN.

PARIS, April 30.--12.50 a.m.--A despatch to the Havas Agency from Athens dated Thursday says: According to Mitylene advices received here the landing of the allies on the Gallipoli peninsula continues this afternoon. Turkish aeroplanes endeavored to drop bombs on an allied ship in the straits. An allied squadron entered the straits and bombarded the Turkish forts for seven hours in co-operation with another squadron posted in the Gulf of Saros.

LIQUOR DUTIES IN BRITAIN TO BE INCREASED

Proposals May Be Modified, Owing to Opposition of Nationalists

TO CURB DRINKING EVIL

Heavy Wine and Spirits Imposts and Beer Tax Advocated

LONDON, April 29, 9.40 p.m.--The proposals introduced in the house of commons this afternoon by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, to double the duty on spirits, quadruple the duty on wines, and to substitute an increase by graduated tax on beer--were strongly opposed, and it is generally believed that the new taxes will have to be moderated before parliament will accept them.

The O'Brienites, as a protest against an additional taxation on Irish whiskey and beer, brought about the first division in the house since the outbreak of the war by taking the unusual course of voting against the provisional resolutions bringing the taxes into force at once, to prevent withdrawals from bond while parliament is dealing with the matter. The resolution relating to spirits was passed by a vote of 83 to 5, the minority being composed of O'Brienites.

Nationalists Protested. The Nationalists also protested against the measure, but did not vote. The Unionists, who withheld criticism until all the facts could be placed before them, also abstained from voting. Usually these provisional resolutions are carried without division.

KOLBERG'S SINKING SEEMS CONFIRMED

Lifebuoy Found at Lerwick Marked With Name of German Cruiser

LOST IN NORTH SEA

Statement of Sir David Beatty Borne Out by Latest Discovery

LERWICK, Scotland, April 29, 8 p.m.--The finding today near the south end of this island of a lifebuoy marked Kolberg is believed here to confirm the report made at the time the German cruiser Kolberg was sunk in the battle in the North Sea, Jan. 24.

In his report on the battle in the North Sea last January the British admiral, Sir David Beatty, after mentioning the destruction of the armored cruiser Blucher, said the German light cruiser Kolberg also was sunk. The German Government, however, later declared that Admiral Beatty's report concerning the Kolberg was false.

Genuine Hat Value at Dineen's. There is no store in Toronto can give better hat value than Dineen's. 40 Yonge street, including quality and exclusiveness. In style are considered. Are you aware that such celebrated hat makers as Henry Heath and Hillygate, London, Eng., and Dunlap, New York, the recognized authorities on American shapes, are exclusively represented at this home of quality hats? Stiff hats from $2 to $5. Silk hats from $5 to $8.

AN INVOCATION.

Offered by His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto at the Empire Club Luncheon Yesterday.

"Almighty God, who dost look down in fatherly love upon all who suffer, we beseech Thee to hear our humble prayers for the wounded and the sick; give to each one of them Thy help, in spirit and in body, according to his need; sanctify him, cheer him, and if it be Thy will, restore him; and in Thy redeeming love have mercy on the fallen. All this we ask thru the mediation of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

Toronto Officers' Losses

Twenty-one of 36 Company Officers in the Toronto Battalion Have Been Put Out of Action and Only Two Commanders Are Left Out of Eight.

BY JOHN A. MACLAREN. No battalion suffered so severely in the battle of Langemarck as the third, commanded by Lt.-Col. R. Rennie, M.V.O., and consisting principally of Queen's Own Rifles with a comparatively small quota of Royal Grenadiers and Governor-General's Bodyguards. The Toronto battalion lost 21 officers--6 killed, 8 wounded and 7 missing--while the fourth, tenth, thirteenth and sixteenth also lost heavily. Of the original establishment the Queen's Own have 26 officers left, but three of these have been sick for several weeks and are now about ready to return to the front.

It seems that "F" company, commanded by Captain Straight was the most severely hit of all, two officers being killed and the other two wounded. The officers killed were Lieuts. Kirkpatrick and Jarvis; Capt. Straight and Lieut. G. A. Smith were wounded. This company consisted chiefly of members of the Bodyguards who were embraced in the third or Toronto battalion.

Of "A" company, Captain W. D. Allan was wounded and Lieut. Medland killed. The other two officers, Lieuts. Alley and George have been ill and were replaced them on the day of the glorious but costly victory it is impossible to say.

In the case of "D" and "E" companies of the eight officers none is reported to have been put out of action. "G" company lost one killed and one wounded. "H" company lost three wounded, "C" company one wounded and "B" company two wounded.

Of the 36 companies' officers, according to the original establishment, only fifteen are left. Six of the eighth company commanders have been put out of action, one Captain Byerson being killed. This regiment has suffered the loss of two majors (three including Major Higinbotham, M.V.O., who died some time ago) and 12 lieutenants. The only commanders left are Capt. F. O. Tidy and Capt. A. E. B. Hovell.

Following are names of 24 officers of the battalion of whom no ill tidings have been received: Lt.-Col. M. Rennie, B.V.O., officer in command; Lieut. M. B. Duncan, adjutant; Lieut. M. S. Gooderham, assistant adjutant; Lieut. W. H. Vandermissen; Lieut. C. L. Clarke; Lieut. J. B. Rogers; Lieut. Walter Nicholas; Lieut. D. D. Haggerty; Capt. F. O. Tidy; Lieut. W. B. Crowther; Lieut. C. A. McCormack; Lieut. T. W. Anderson.

There are four non-combatant officers: Capt. John Hutcheson, quartermaster; Lieut. J. Cameron, transport officer; Lieut. A. K. Hoywood, medical officer; Hon. Capt. H. G. Wickens, paymaster. These officers have been sick for several weeks: Lieuts. H. R. Alley, R. George and J. B. Neale, and were not in the engagement.

The splendid resistance of the French (Canadian), who saved the situation, already has been mentioned by the commander-in-chief.

Meanwhile, apparently waiting until their infantry penetrated well behind the allied line, the Germans opened a hot artillery fire upon various tactical positions, the bombardment being carried out with the ordinary high explosive shells and shrapnel of various calibre, and also with projectiles containing asphyxiating gas.

Germans Deferred Attack Two Days Until Wind Was Favorable--Advanced Until Two Miles From Ypres When Bayonets Drove Them Back--Canadians Undoubtedly Saved the Situation.

LONDON, April 29.--The British official "eye-witness" in a narrative of the battle of Ypres, says the Germans had prepared to attack the allied line on the 29th, but the wind not being favorable for their use of asphyxiating gases, they postponed it until the 30th.

The gas, the narrative says, was distributed along the German front line in front of the French position, and the wind being from the north it was blown directly on the French. The German plan, according to the "eye-witness," was to make a sudden onslaught southward, which, if successful, would enable the Germans to gain crossings of the canal south of Elschote and place them well behind the British line and in a position to threaten Ypres.

Unable to Resist. "As long as the wind kept blowing to take full effect on the troops facing them," says the "eye-witness," "the Germans charged forward over the previously unsuspected enemy in their immediate front, and pushing thru the gap thus created, pressed on silently and swiftly to the south and west. By their sudden irruption they were able to overrun the French trenches, and a large proportion of the French troops killed behind the front line in this area, and with some of the French gas, as well as our own under a hot rifle fire at close range.

Canadians' Fine Resistance. One of the finest examples of the troops were ordered to retire on St. Julien, with their left flank parallel to, but to the west of the high road. The splendid resistance of the French (Canadian), who saved the situation, already has been mentioned by the commander-in-chief.

CAMP COMMANDANT SEVERELY INJURED

Col. Logie Pinned Under Auto When it Turned Turtle

BATTALION RETURNS

Twentieth Back From Long Branch, and Others Go Out

Colonel W. A. Logie, commanding officer at Exhibition park camp, sustained injuries to his shoulder in a motor car accident yesterday afternoon. He was riding with his chauffeur on the track at the grounds when the accident occurred. A horse ran in front of the motor. When the car was swerved out of the way, one of the wheels collapsed and the car turned turtle and threw Colonel Logie and the chauffeur out. The commandant was first attended to by two of the contingent doctors, Lieut. Park and Lieut. Pearson. He was taken to the administration building and from there was taken to the Toronto General Hospital by Lieut.-Col. Marlow, A.D.C., of the camp.

The general hospital an X-ray picture was made of Colonel Logie's injured shoulder.

Were Camping Out. The 20th Battalion, 2nd contingent, returned to Exhibition park yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from Long Branch, where they have been camping out for the past two days. The 19th Battalion left the park at two in the afternoon for Long Branch for two days of training similar to that just gone thru by the 20th. It will be away for two days and two nights. The men took all their equipment with them including their cooking utensils, and the 19th Battalion they established camp at a different locality from where the 20th had been, erecting tents which the other battalion purposely took down on striking camp.

Motorists and Troops. The letter sent by the Ontario Motor League to Col. Logie telling of the association's desire to prevent interference by motorists with troops marching in the city streets, has been replied to by Col. Logie. He says the cases of motorists obstructing parades and endangering the lives of the soldiers have been reported to the police under the provisions of the Motorists Act. I shall be glad to co-operate with the league in bringing such reckless drivers to justice.

An inspection of the Cadet Corps of the University School was held yesterday afternoon at the university stadium by Major R. K. Barker. About 100 are in the corps.

Mother Hears from Son. Mrs. Isabella Barfield, 129 Argyle street, who has just received official word that her son, Pte. Henry Barfield, has been wounded, says: "I know I'll see him again, but hope he's not badly wounded." She is proud of his "bad scars" and "not a bit downhearted."

Capt. Edwin F. Carson, cousin of Sir Edward Carson, has arrived in Toronto for the purpose of enlisting in the second contingent. He says his chances of going as an officer are slender, as the contingent is already overfilled, but he is willing to go as a non-commissioned officer. Carson fought in the Boer war and was in several fierce engagements there. He expects the present war to be a long one.

Near Centre of Battle. Dr. S. Linnell, at the front with the Royal Army Medical Corps, has written to his friend, Dr. P. C. Harrison, Toronto, telling of his experiences at the front. His dressing station, he says, was only a short half-mile from the centre of the battle.

Postal Notes Are Under Restrictions. Measure Necessary Because of the High Rate of New York Exchange

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, April 29.—The postmaster-general announces that, owing to the high rates of exchange on New York, it has been found necessary to restrict to $5 the total value of postal notes which may be sold to one person on the same day for remittance to the United States.

It is also announced that until further notice money orders only must be used in remitting to that country sums in excess of $5.

Patriotic Dinner Arranged. Under the auspices of the Sir William Ooster Chapter, I.O.G.E., a luncheon and dinner will be served at 81 Lawrence Market in aid of the University Base Hospital.

Contributions of provisions and money will be thankfully received by Dr. Caroline Brown, regent, 323 Ossington avenue, or Miss Bradley, 21 Naim avenue, Earlscourt.

SANITARY CONDITIONS VERY BAD IN SCHOOLS

Opinion of Trustee Dr. Hunter at Management Committee Meeting

CLOSE ON JUNE 25

Date Set When Holidays Commence and Forest School Opens

It is the opinion of Trustee Dr. Hunter that the sanitary conditions in some of the Toronto Public Schools are abominable. He declared at the management committee of the board of education yesterday that in some of the schools the sanitary conditions were so bad that the trustees were ready to face them before a gathering of the Ontario Medical Association and substantiate his charges.

The matter arose over a motion of Trustee Dr. Noble that the sanitary conditions in the Toronto Public Schools be reported directly to the school committee, and it was decided that this must in future be done.

Dr. Noble expressed the opinion that unfavorable reports on sanitary conditions in schools were choked before the trustees heard anything of them.

A suggestion from the chief inspector's department that additional accommodation be made at St. Clair Avenue School was turned down. It was pointed out that the close proximity of the present school building to the stock yards was not healthy for the pupils and encouragement is to be given to have children attend neighboring schools.

Close June 25. The public schools will close for the summer holidays this year on Friday, June 25, and the high schools on Friday, June 11. The forest schools in Victoria Park and High Park are to open on May 13.

Inspection of the high school cadets will be held on June 3, the King's birthday.

Miss Grace Gray, Miss M. F. Galbraith and Miss J. F. Glass were granted leave of absence to join the Canadian overseas force as nurses. Teacher Archibald Duffin, Street School, was granted leave of absence to go with the Machine Gun Battery of the contingent.

The following teachers were appointed to the temporary staff of teachers: Misses M. Meldrum, Mamie Robertson, Christina Knott, P. Somerville, E. A. MacDonald, F. C. McDonald, M. Johnston and Mrs. Alice Outram.

Appointed to Staff. Twenty-five school teachers and 14 kindergarten teachers who had satisfactorily served the term of probation, were appointed to the regular staff.

A deputation of parents from the Palmerston Avenue district appeared before the committee to urge that a domestic science room and a manual training room be included in the new building being erected for that school. The matter was referred to the property committee.

Dr. J. T. Hughes appeared before the committee to request that permission be granted for a lacrosse organization to be formed among the schools of the city, and that a member of the National Lacrosse Association be permitted to address the scholars at the various public schools on the matter. The request was granted.

START TRAINING AVIATORS TODAY

Pupils Will Enlist in Royal Flying Corps or Naval Wing

FRENCH PILOT COMING

Viscount George de Mauduit de Kerver, Who Was Injured, May Help

The first people in the aviation field in Toronto, the Canadian Aviation Co., and on Monday the first flights will be made. The pupils who will be taught are required to enlist in the Royal Flying Corps of England or the naval wing, and as training men any flights that may be made during their instruction will not be prevented by the military authorities. At least this is the newest way suggested for avoiding the order in council against flying over Toronto and vicinity.

Enlistment forms are being signed by the prospective pupils, whom about a dozen will constitute the class that will get into swing during the next few weeks. W. A. Dean, the president of the company, says he can pick out about 40 or 50 men who have the requisite qualities and fitness, and train them for service in the flying work of the army and navy.

Mr. Dean has a well equipped plant for training men. He has a Curtiss flying boat for water work, and while building an aeroplane for flying over land, will have the use of Capt. Janney's aeroplane.

Mr. Dean's aeroplane is to be ready June 1. He is now negotiating with Viscount George de Mauduit de Kerver, a French pilot, who was brought down and injured at Lille, after six months' straight war service, to bring to Toronto a speedy monoplane which the viscount is now having built in New York.

It is almost certain that arrangements will be made that will attach the viscount to the Dean school.

Frank Burnside, who was instructor at the famous Thomas school in New York, joins the Dean force early next week. The school has its hangars on the east end of the R. C. Y. C. Arrangements have been made with the parks commissioner so that pupils who care to camp right on the job may put up tents nearby. Mr. Dean's 35-foot power boat which made such a stir on the bay when introduced last year, will take the men back and forth from the city.

MONEY SHOULD GO WHERE REQUIRED

Question of Paying Insurance to Well-to-Do Families is Up

WHO WILL BE CHOSEN?

Some Want Firefighter for Chief; Others Say Commissioner

Some of the soldiers who have been insured by the city have no dependents and their relatives are well-to-do, and Controller O'Neill believes that the money in such cases should go to relieving distress where it is necessary. This applies in the case of John Beakley, one of the members of the first contingent, killed in action, who leaves no dependents.

In order to settle the matter, as there will doubtless be many cases of the same kind, the city solicitor will be asked to report as to whether the city is bound to pay the money to a man's relatives when they are in good circumstances.

Talking Fire Chief. Indications are that Col. Langton will not become head of the fire department as a majority of the aldermen have expressed themselves as being against the appointment. There are those who want a fire-fighter and not a commissioner, and some of those who want a commissioner are not in favor of Langton.

As fire-fighters the names of William Smith and Alexander Gunn are proposed, and the names of W. J. Evans and A. E. Burgess are suggested as commissioner. There is a feeling, however, that before anything is done the board should inquire into the investigation of the matter and it is possible that the whole matter may be laid over until another council meeting, so that the members may have an opportunity to discuss it.

Regulate Concerts. If the city can find any way to do it, means will be adopted for the regulation of so-called patriotic concerts. The Women's Patriotic League appeared before the controllers yesterday and asked that something be done along these lines and as a result the board will ask for a report from the city solicitor.

A permit has been taken out by the Bell Telephone Co. for a new exchange in North Toronto, to cost $100,000. Permits for dwelling houses totaling $7400 were also taken out yesterday.

The Civic Bureau will be moved from West Adelaide street to 120 West Richmond street today. The saving in rent is $60 a month.

The contract for the island incinerator has been awarded to J. T. Macdonald, Limited, of Toronto. It will be located at the new filtration plant and will be commenced immediately.

Will Go to War. The board of control yesterday gave four civic employees permission to go to the front. They are H. Birchard, T. V. McCarthy, W. F. Cates and A. F. Margerison, all of the works department. They will receive the difference between their present wages and what they are paid by the government as soldiers.

The activity in the building trades throughout Toronto is shown by the rush in the city architect's department. Plans for new buildings are coming so fast that the plan examining staff is unable to cope with the business, and two temporary examiners have been added.

Wants the Reason. Dr. J. B. Frazer, in his report to the medical department of health regarding the pasteurization of milk, has prepared some figures to show that the process has not reduced the infant death rate in the city, as claimed, and he thinks the board of health should give a reason for the increased deaths.

Increased Revenue. The chancellor estimated that the double duty on spirits would yield the same total as heretofore, allowing for decreased consumption. Beer would bring in $1,600,000 ($8,000,000 extra) and wines $1,600,000 ($7,500,000) extra.

In the controlled area the government is to have the power, for the period of the war, to close any saloon considered injurious. Compensation will be paid to all those whose property is appropriated.

Driven By Necessity. Continuing the chancellor of the exchequer said that nothing but real necessity had driven the government to submit proposals on this subject, but it was above all important that the country be able to utilize every available resource to increase the supplies of munitions of war. Victory was largely a question of material, he said, and when the time came to drive the Germans out of Flanders and France the expenditure of ammunition and other war material must be on a greater scale and of a more sustained character than anything yet witnessed in any war. The nation must subordinate everything to the present struggle, and the government was entitled to ask every one to clear all obstacles out of the way of winning a struggle which means life or death of the empire.

Will Hasten Triumph. "These are necessary," he declared, "to insure victory; not ultimate victory, but victory soon with unnecessary loss of life."

Don't Drink with Excessive Drinking. Among some workmen, the chancellor of the exchequer remarked: "Everybody agreed on the existence of this evil until the remedies were foreshadowed. The facts show that the evil is so serious that nothing but strong action will enable the country to cope with it."

Mr. Lloyd George deals at length with the loss of time due to drink, showing that in some cases men were going fewer hours than in ordinary peace times. He attributed this to the fact that the men were "earning more money than they knew what to do with."

In introducing the present bill to amend the Defence of the Realm Act, the chancellor said he was not proposing a solution of the temperance question, but only an act or discipline during the war.

Prohibition Later? Continuing, Mr. Lloyd George said the government had concluded it was not justified in instituting prohibition until it had tried everything else. It would be too serious an interference with the habits of the people. The government, therefore, had adopted the plan of restricting as much as possible the sale of spirits and most alcoholic drinks.

The time lost by drinking, the chancellor said, was equivalent to the services of 150,000 men, and the whole community was being asked to make sacrifices because of the weakness of a section of the workers.

gravity, there is to be no change. Above that there will be a graduated surtax to discourage heavy brewers, rising to 36 shillings ($9) per barrel. The duties on wine are to be quadrupled. Sparkling wines will pay 14 shillings ($3.75) a gallon.

Blow to Ireland. Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, reserved until later his criticisms of Mr. Lloyd George's plan. Mr. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, and William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, condemned the chancellor's proposals as prejudicial to the trade of Ireland.

Mr. O'Brien declared that the chancellor was killing the trade of Ireland by inches. If he succeeded in his new tax the results would be as horrible for Cork as if that city were bombarded and sacked by the Germans. The only just and logical course was to exclude Ireland altogether from the operation of the plan.

Lloyd George said that in areas producing materials of war or in which transport work is performed, and in some camp areas, the government is to have complete control of the sale of drink.

Increased Revenue. The chancellor estimated that the double duty on spirits would yield the same total as heretofore, allowing for decreased consumption. Beer would bring in $1,600,000 ($8,000,000) extra and wines $1,600,000 ($7,500,000) extra.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 30

The Real Question

Reduced to its last analysis, the real question which the prime minister is called upon to decide may thus be stated:

Shall we have a general election in June, 1915, or in June, 1916?

All agree that if the election is to be held in June it may as well be held in June as in September or October...

The suggestion that we might extend the lifetime of the present parliament is no doubt meritorious, but it is not within the realm of practical politics...

Let us then see where we will be, in June, 1916. Let us concede that by that time hostilities will have ceased and peace negotiations be well under way...

Can Sir Robert Borden at that time and place speak for Canada? Will he speak with any authority knowing that a general election is to be held immediately? He will be the leader of a dying government...

A year from today at the latest our prime minister must go to the imperial conference. In the meantime he must hold a session of parliament, which under all the circumstances should be summoned not later than next October...

The year 1916 rather than 1915 bids fair to be the historic, momentous and decisive year in the history of the British Empire...

The question we have asked should be considered and decided upon not only from the national standpoint but from the imperial standpoint as well.

vice had been brought into use, and that it was not clear whether the use of gases was not as humane as the use of torpedoes and other murderous devices...

When the United States takes this position, and Germany violates her honor, such as it is, in order to use poisonous gases, it is clear that the nations are on the high road to the condition of society indicated by Lord Lytton in 'The Coming Race'...

Public interest is more apt to suffer from bi-partisan agreements, undertakings and saw-offs than from differences of opinion rigidly adhered to and even insisted upon for the time, with a certain degree of bitterness...

Canada Should Be Proud

Rochester, N.Y., Union and Advertiser: While naturally the reports of the scene of the recent severe struggles on the western battle front in Europe have been a source of pride to many of our neighbors, but we may also avail ourselves of the opportunity to give hearty recognition to the heroism of Canada's sons, the living as well as the dead...

Canada has made many sacrifices in this war. She has given without stint of her means and her men. Now that she has been called upon to make her greatest sacrifice of men, she will bear it with fortitude and courage. Indeed, the prevailing sentiment expressed there since the news of the loss of so many of her sons came has been one of complete willingness to give more of them, if necessary, to the upholding of the empire, of which she is proud to form a part.

GERMANS ADMIT COSTLY FAILURE

Retirement Accelerated by Incessant Attacks of British and French

FOE'S ELATION BRIEF

Counter-Attacks Are Feebler, and Artillery Fire Has Slackened

LONDON, April 29.—The correspondent of The London Daily Express on the Belgian frontier telegraphs:

The Germans admit the failure of their costly attempt to take Ypres by storm and crumple up the British left wing. There are several indications of this. Their retirement from positions northeast of Ypres is being steadily accelerated by incessant attacks by fresh British and French troops. Moreover, the German counter-attacks have been much fewer in the last two days, and their artillery fire has slackened.

Elation Has Gone. The British are giving them no rest. Detachments of exhausted infantry from Paschendaele have been sleeping by the roadside while waiting for their return in the congested traffic which fills all the roads of western Flanders.

The Germans are still trying to hold their ground with grim determination, but the enthusiasm evoked by their first successes near Ypres has vanished.

There has been great delay in the railway service in northern Flanders since Tuesday morning and many trains of wounded from the front have been held up.

THEY DIED FOR US AND HUMAN LIBERTY

N. W. Rowell, K.C., Delivers Eloquent Address and Honors Canadian Fallen

ASKS 'ARE WE WORTHY?'

What an Inspiration if Canada Cabled 'Sending Hundred Thousand More!'

One of the most moving and eloquent patriotic addresses which have been yet delivered in Toronto was that of N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.L.A., before the last luncheon gathering of the season at the Empire Club yesterday. Mr. Rowell spoke on "Militarism vs. Democracy," and in referring to the Canadian soldiers who have died at the front, he said: "They have died for us and for all of us and for every lover of human liberty. They are worthy of Canada. All nations will join in paying that tribute to their memory, but a much more searching question for you and for me is, 'Are we worthy of them?'"

"Does their death, of which we learn and the sympathy which we extend to the ones who are bereft, inspire us with a new and strong resolve and with a nobler faith and passion that will yet remain in the trenches, is it within us, we will take up the task which they have laid down and carry it thru to a successful issue? What an inspiration it would be to the men who yet remain in the trenches, to the people of Canada, to the peoples of the empire, and what a note of courage and confidence it would give the daily lives of the ancient Egyptians were no garbage men in the ancient Empire, gave an interesting lecture last night before the Metropolitan Men's Club on the wonders of the "Buried Cities of Egypt." There were no garbage men in the ancient days, he said, and the cities grew up into the air, because everything that was thrown away was allowed to lie where it had fallen, and the high winds buried everything in dust, creating one new level on top of another, at the rate of approximately 20 feet a century. When the Egyptians built a new house they simply tore down the old one, leveled off the ruins and rebuilt in the same spot.

On account of this curious fact, it was possible by digging to reconstruct the daily lives of the ancient Egyptians with an accuracy impossible in any other land. He estimated that objects buried one foot under the surface would remain there in a good state of preservation for a thousand years, provided they did not come in contact with the infiltration water. Such articles of common use as dice used by Egyptians in gambling, schoolboys' playthings, dolls, kitchen utensils, and discarded papyrus, were found in great profusion.

The ancients had also hidden their valuables by burying them, to be found in later centuries. Mr. Rowell exhibited a small collection of jewelry and other objects which he had discovered during his research work on the sites of the ancient Egyptian cities.

Grand Trunk Campaigns to Bring American Tourists to Canada.

The Grand Trunk System, by giving the widest possible circulation to the beautiful "Canada and Beyond" general advertising, is inviting the thousands of United States tourists who ordinarily seek vacation pleasures in Europe, to visit Canada this year.

"The most charming summer resorts in America," is the claim put forward by the railway for these Canadian beauty spots. Among the literature which is being used in this campaign is a handsome illustrated booklet of "Playgrounds of Canada." It deals with practically all the Dominion's summer resorts and gives visitors full information as to game and fishing laws, customs regulations, etc. It is an admirable guide for Canadians who are planning vacations as well as for their cousins to the west, and it can be obtained on request from C. E. Hornum, district passenger agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

CITIES GREW INTO AIR SAYS RESEARCH WORKER

Charles T. Currelly Gives Interesting Address on Egyptian Customs and Methods

Charles T. Currelly, curator of the provincial museum, and one of the most noted Egyptologists in the British Empire, gave an interesting lecture last night before the Metropolitan Men's Club on the wonders of the "Buried Cities of Egypt." There were no garbage men in the ancient days, he said, and the cities grew up into the air, because everything that was thrown away was allowed to lie where it had fallen, and the high winds buried everything in dust, creating one new level on top of another, at the rate of approximately 20 feet a century. When the Egyptians built a new house they simply tore down the old one, leveled off the ruins and rebuilt in the same spot.

SCARCITY OF WATER. TIES UP LOG DRIVES

Unless Rain Comes, Timber Will Not Be Moved This Year

Unless some heavy rainfalls occur in the north there is likely to be a serious blockade of the lumber industry. Log drives brought down during the winter are now lying in the original dumps because of the lowness of the water.

Aubrey White, deputy minister of lands and forests, received word yesterday that an immense quantity of timber was tied up in the Sudbury region, and that conditions there were typical of those throughout the north.

Unless more water is gained the logs will lie in the driveways until next spring.

OPERATION OF N.T.R. UNDER DISCUSSION

No Thru Service Before the Autumn Grain Rush is Contemplated

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, April 29.—Mr. Gutelius, manager of the Intercontinental Railway, arrived here tonight to confer with Hon. Frank Cochrane and complete arrangements for the temporary operation of the Transcontinental. There will be no thru service till the autumn.

The immediate object being to give such transportation facilities as are needed for settlers along the line. Grain will be carried in the fall, however, if the government cannot make a suitable arrangement for right of way through the Lake Superior branch of the G.T.P. has authority from parliament to take over that line.

In case of a bumper crop in the west and navigation of the Transcontinental would be in a position to carry it economically.

A considerable amount of rolling stock can be spared from the L.C.R. just now. This may be supplemented by the acquisition of other rolling stock later.

RESPONSE LIBERAL WITH RESPIRATORS

All Needed Already Supplied Army by British Women

ENOUGH IN TWO DAYS

Every Woman in England With Time to Do So Supplied Safeguards

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, April 29.—One day's appeal thru the press has given the army all the respirators needed. The press bureau issued the following notice this afternoon:

"Thanks to the magnificent response already made to the appeal in the press for respirators for the war office is in a position to announce that no further respirators need be made."

"It looks," says The Daily News, "as if the every woman in England who could find time for it made respirators. No doubt reports from the soldiers who had suffered from the fumes had a tremendous effect in prompting an instant answer to the appeal of the army, but the response was of such an extraordinary nature as to set up a record. It was only on Wednesday morning that the request was published. It was understood that about half a million were required. This afternoon the appeal had been hurriedly withdrawn. The army clothing department at Finsbury was overwhelmed the office there, even at the time the press bureau issued its notice that no more respirators need be made, was full of women examining the patterns and samples, and it had been since the opening time. Some idea of the energy put into the supplying of this urgent need may be gathered from the fact that most of the big drapers and chemists were sold out of material during Wednesday afternoon."

GRENADIERS SALUTE FALLEN CANADIANS

Impressive Portion of Last Night's Farewell Parade to Comrades Who Are Going

All the galleries at the armories were crowded with spectators last night to see the special parade of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, the parade being in the nature of a farewell to the members of the regiment who are now in the 35th Battalion of the third overseas contingent. Two hundred and fifty of the overseas men gave a splendid exhibition of physical and bayonet exercises. This was gone thru to music by the Grenadiers' Band. The fine five band of the regiment paraded up and down the armories and evoked much enthusiasm and approval.

After a brief march out by the regiment the officers and men were drawn up facing the officers' gallery. Lieutenant Colonel H. Ernest Barker, commander of the regiment, made a short speech to the men, referring to the casualties sustained by the Canadians in their gallant fight in the recent battle of Langemarck. He then asked the regiment to give a salute in memory of their fallen comrades and the band played the British Grenadiers.

Last night's parade was attended by 543 members of the regiment. Two hundred members of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club Corps also paraded.

THEATRES

SPECIAL RECITALS.

The second of the special series of spring commencement recitals at the Toronto Conservatory of Music will be held in the music hall on Wednesday evening of next week. The program will include piano concertos and solo by Beethoven, Macdowell and Liszt; Bruch's violin concerto and vocal solos by Verdi, Massenet, Tschalkowsky and Chopin; the performers will be Misses Pearl Burford, Muriel Bruce, L.T.C.M.; Alma Cockburn, Madeline Davoy, Marguerita Haynes, Ellen Kemp, Constance Martin and Frances Wood and John Burnet Bailey.

GERTRUDE DRUMMOND TONIGHT.

One of the most pleasing concert events of the season will be the professional debut this evening at Foresters' Hall of Miss Gertrude Drummond. Supported by a notable array of assisting artists, including Frank Blackford, violinist; Frank Fulton, bass; James Fildes, Scottish tenor; and Dr. Harvey Robb, solo pianist and accompanist, Miss Drummond, who is a graduate pupil of Owen A. Smyly, will be heard in a choice program of readings, which will display her talent as a dramatic entertainer. These include one composition of her own, "A Chase in the Night," three poems with music by the poetess, "The Squire's Tale," "The Squire's Tale," and "The Squire's Tale," a humorous recitation in negro dialect.

ALICE VERLET COMING.

Alice Verlet, the Belgian soprano, who will appear in a concert which she is to give with Leo Ornstein and Boris Hambourg at the Massey Hall on May 1, is the beloved darling of the opera goers of Brussels and Paris. Her repertoire includes the operas of Montecarlo and Buenos Ayres, the spoiled child of fortune, the possessor of a most unusual voice, and a singer of extraordinary histrionic talent, also of extraordinary histrionic talent, also of extraordinary histrionic talent.

THRU DESOLATE BELGIUM.

The extensive advance demand for tickets to believe that the illustrated lecture by Dr. Charles T. Baylis of New York on "Thru Desolate Belgium With a Camera" at Massey Hall next evening, under the auspices of the Toronto Women's Patriotic League, will prove one of the most interesting and tended gatherings of its kind seen here in years.

"EAST LYNNE" AT LAST.

It would be difficult to tell during the six years Miss Percy Haswell has been coming to Toronto the number of requests that have been sent her asking her to present that famous old drama of love, pathos and intrigue, "East Lynne." Miss Haswell, with the wish to please many patrons and will make a sumptuous revival of this old favorite at the Alexandra Theatre next week.

LOEW'S WINTER GARDEN.

An all-star aggregation of black-face comedy in the best vaudeville act of the season will be the headline next week at Loew's Winter Garden. They are the seven original "Honey Boys." Another feature on the bill will be the famous Broadway comedienne, Alice Hanson, known as the "Laugh Girl," and whenever she appears she is sure to make the audience laugh with twenty minutes of side-splitting laughter. Isabella Miller & Co. in a rural playlet called the "New Boarder"; Odome, the "Laugh Accordion"; Sastry Brothers, acrobats; Lucy and Ethel Baker, comedienne, and Cammie's Dogs complete a good show.

"SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

One of the strongest of English dramas and the one in which Tyrone Power achieved his greatest success, under the management of Henry Miller, has been selected by Albert Phillips and Miss Lillian Shaw for presentation at the Grand Opera House next week as the opening offering for their return engagement in this city. In selecting "The Servant in the House" for the opening offering Mr. Phillips kept in view the fact that the play had never been offered before at less than a dollar-fifty scale of prices, and that it was a drama that would require the services of an exceptionally strong company, such as he has in his support.

BILLY WATSON AT GAYETY.

U.S. STEEL PIVOT IN N.Y. MARKET

Reports of Additional War Contracts Had Lifting Influence on Stock

MOVEMENT WAS BROAD TOOK IN ALMOST EVERY DIVISION OF THE LIST—RAILWAY SHARES PROMINENT

NEW YORK, April 29.—Circumstantial reports to the effect that additional war contracts for war supplies had been awarded to American manufacturers...

Also the volume of business was below that of recent active sessions, today's movement was very broad, taking in almost every division of the list...

Easy Tendency. Rates for time showed an easier tendency, a natural result of the large cash supplies now available at most reserve centers.

CAN. LOCOMOTIVE BECAME FEATURE

Spectacular Advance Was Made in Montreal Trading, The Market Was Quiet

MONTREAL, April 29.—A spectacular advance in Canadian Locomotive common, a new high record for Dominion Bridge and a new high for the movement in Montreal Power...

CAN. LOCOMOTIVE ROSE SIX POINTS

Maple Leaf Also Strong—Petroleum Below Ten Dollars

Yesterday was another quiet day in the Toronto Exchange, both sessions being marked by irregularities in prices.

A six point jump in Canadian Locomotive featured the trading. It is believed additional war contracts has received additional war contracts.

Consols Steady. In London yesterday consols closed unchanged from Wednesday at 86 1/2.

WHEAT AVERAGED SOMEWHAT LOWER

Due in Part to Lack of Fresh Export Demand

DIFFICULT TO FOLLOW PRICE-MAKING INFLUENCES WERE MORE MIXED THAN USUAL

CHICAGO, April 29.—Wheat averaged lower in price today, affected somewhat by the lack of any important fresh export demand.

Traders found the wheat market difficult to follow, as the price-making influences were more mixed than usual and were in general of an indecisive character.

Corn sawed in much the same manner as wheat. Favorable weather for planting counted against the bulls, but speculative support developed on the breaks, pit offerings being surprisingly light, and Argentine cables adverse to the bears.

MINING SHARES VERY IRREGULAR

Profit-Taking Depressed Cobalts and Porcupines Alike

Yesterday's mining market on the Standard Exchange was very irregular. Profit-taking depressed several stocks, but several of the cheaper issues came to the fore and in many cases showed remarkable advances.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT IN FOREIGN DEMAND

Prices Bid for Manitoba Wheat Were Out of Line Yesterday

MONTREAL, April 29.—There was a slight improvement in the demand from foreign buyers for new crop American wheat and sales of a few loads were made for August-September shipment, but prices bid for Manitoba wheat were out of line.

Spring wheat flour in fair demand. Local trade in flour quiet. Millfeed steady. Butter 1-1/2c to 2c per pound and silver leaf came to life and advanced to 4.
