GREAT WARSHIP FOR GERMAN NAVY

The Biurecher Launched From the Imperial Navy Yard at Kiel this Morning

Kiel, Germany, April 11.—The armored cruiser Biurecher was launched from the Imperial Navy Yard at 11 o'clock this morning in the presence of Prince Henry of Prussia and many high officials of the admiralty. General Baron Von Der Goltz, commander of the army corps, delivered address. Countess Biurecher christened the war ship. A line of battleships, in all except name, the cruiser is built entirely of steel, with a displacement of 15,000 tons. The Biurecher, which displaced only 11,600 tons, was hitherto the largest German cruiser. The estimated cost of construction is $2,815,000, of which $4,625,000 will be spent on the hull and machinery, while her artillery will cost $2,125,000 and her torpedo armament $105,000. Her complement will total 700 officers and men, as opposed to 600 on the Schernholtz. Her contract speed is 25 knots an hour. She is to carry ten 11-inch guns, 45 feet in length, throwing a 760-pound projectile, besides a number of transformed 3.12-inch quick-fires, discharging a 26-pound shell, defense against torpedo attacks. These smaller weapons are to be fitted with a net and extremely simple automatic loading and ejecting attachment just invented at the Krupp works, by means of which the rate of fire, hitherto ten shots per minute, is increased to nearly forty shots. In case the attachment gets out of order, the gun itself is not affected, and can still be fired at the former rate of ten shots a minute. The new vessel, which was planned as an experimental ship, will be alone in her class, as during her construction, it was decided that the later cruisers to be laid down, of which the "Biurecher" is under construction at Hamburg, are to displace 20,000 tons and to be fitted with turbines.

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

River Ice Expected to Run Out Next Week --- A Hunter Finds a Bear's Den

Fredericton, N. B., April 11.—(Special).—The ice in the river here is becoming rather shaky, and if the soft weather continues it is liable to go out some day next week. Work on the new spans of the highway bridge is well advanced and teams will be able to cross on Monday. The Presbyterians will hold a congregational social for Rev. E. E. Annand, acting pastor in the Auld Kirk on Monday evening. Rev. Mr. Annand and wife will leave on Tuesday for Manitoba, where they intend locating. Benjamin Griffin of Dumfries, while out in the woods a few days ago came upon a bear's den containing a bear and two cubs. The old bear succeeded at his approach but he was unable to secure the cubs and take them home with him. Rev. B. H. Spence of Toronto is here to take a hand in the Scott Act campaign, and will address two meetings in the open house tomorrow. It is said that the local government and city and county councils will co-operate and have the highway bridge lighted by electricity. Butter sold for thirty cents per pound in the market here this morning. A movement to organize a social club here on the lines of the Union Club, St. John, is on foot here and is receiving much encouragement. The residence of Dr. Torrens on Queen street may be acquired for the purposes of the club. The river steamer Sinesmeas met with quite a severe accident while being towed through the falls this morning. A number of drift logs and pieces of ice struck her wheels which were lashed, and ripped quite a number of the paddles off.

SALVATION ARMY INSTITUTIONS HAVE HAD A VERY BUSY SEASON

Increasing Demands Made Upon the Travelers' Home and Metropole---Winter Was Marked by Scarcity of Work and Adjt. Bowering Says There Has Been More Poverty Than For Several Preceding Years

Adjutant James Bowering and those associated with him report an unusually busy winter at the Salvation Army, Travelers' Home and Metropole. The winter season has been marked by a scarcity of employment and there has been more poverty than for several preceding years. Adjutant Bowering says that large numbers of unemployed flocked to St. John from Upper Canada, and the eastern states, many of them thinking they would be able to work their way back to their homes in the old country. The majority of these were, of course, disappointed as the steamship people could take only a limited number. As usual, quite a number of stranded gentlemen drifted in, but most of them were disposed of in one way or another. Statistics in connection with the work show as follows:

Table with columns: Bed, Meals, Work, Appl. called to, Work, Appl. called to. Rows for Jan, Feb, Mar, Apr, 1907-8 and 1907-8.

A comparison of totals for 1906-7 and 1907-8 shows that during the present season, 1234 more beds and 2560 more meals were furnished than for last season. The number of applications for work increased by twenty and employment was found for four more.

ONE DEATH, TWO LOVE AFFAIRS, A STOWAWAY AND ROUGH TRIP

This in Brief is the Story of the Voyage of the Empress of Ireland Which Landed 1,452 Passengers Here This Morning

The big C. P. R. steamer Empress of Britain, Captain Murray, from Liverpool, via Halifax, docked at No. 3 berth, Sand Point, at 6:30 o'clock this morning. She had a large passenger list, there being in all 1,462. The new comers are about as fine a looking lot of people as have arrived at this port this winter. With the exception of 84, who are Scandinavians, they are English and bound for the Canadian west or at some intermediate point. There was one death aboard a Dane, Margus Laurensen, who succumbed to congestion of the lungs on the 7th, and was buried at sea. The unfortunate man was a result of his illness, developed melcholia, and died a raving maniac. It was necessary to put him in a strait jacket. Laurensen was 32 years of age, was accompanied by his wife. He was an American citizen, a resident of South Dakota, and had been visiting his home in Denmark. The circumstances surrounding his death were of a most heart-rending nature, and his young wife was heart broken. The steamer had a good trip across, excepting when off Sable Island, when the British ran into rough weather, with a big sea running. It is told that there were two romances aboard, one of which was a decidedly pretty nature, and when the customs officers were examining the baggage of the pair referred to in the latter case, they had ranged their baggage side by side, the intention being evidently to be united either here or at some intermediate point. In the one case the couple, when the matter was hinted at by friends, would neither deny nor affirm, but in the other there was no secret made of their intentions. The male and first-class passengers went forward shortly after the boat docked, and the remainder went west in two special trains, leaving at 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Two special trains bearing immigrants from the city today on their way to the west. On the arrival of the steamer, Captain Murray handed over to C. P. R. Detective Crawford Meak Donahagrow, a

George Black, of Kennedy street, one of the oldest residents of the north end, is very seriously ill and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mr. Black formerly lived at Washbrook Lake and was well known as a woodboat captain. Thomas Black, of Black's bowling alleys, is a son. Ten burial permits were issued by the board of health during the present week. Deaths from the following causes: heart disease, broncho-pneumonia, two each; old age, paralysis, pneumonia, bronchitis, tuberculosis, cystitis and congestion of lungs, one each. The funeral of Mrs. J. E. Bryant was held at 2:30 o'clock afternoon from her late residence, Harding street, Fairville. Services were conducted by Rev. L. A. McLean and Rev. Mr. Townsend, minister was read in Cedar Hill cemetery. Mrs. D. J. Purdy is reported today as showing much improvement and present indications give hope for her complete recovery. At Chubb's corner today, auctioneer Lantaulm offered a property situated on Main street north end, and it was withdrawn at $500. Allan line steamship Tunisian will be here tomorrow from Liverpool via Halifax. She will probably leave Halifax tonight.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

AN OLD FRIEND. "I see by the Sun this morning" said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "that they've shut down the street railway in Moncton. I ain't been in Moncton for years an' a town now. What was the trouble with the street cars? Didn't they pay?" "I fear," said the Times' new reporter, "you didn't read the story in the Sun. The Moncton street railway hasn't been shut down. It's the Times' new reporter. 'It ain't.' But this here story was a special despatch to the Sun." "From Boston," said the new reporter.

er. "It was also copied into the Times from the New York Sun as a dope story some weeks ago." "By Hen!" said Hiram. "I remember that year. An' it's the same thing? Well, I'm stumped. It's like readin' them there patent medicine advertisements. You think it new an' it turns out to be dope. Hey, what?" GREAT INDIGNATION. The rumor that the members of the City Corner Band will be arrested on a charge of conspiracy to drive the dogs off King Square flower beds next summer, appears to be well-founded. There is said to be a very strong feeling of resentment toward the band for their persistent onslaught upon the poor and homeless dog, which, if driven off the square might not be able to get another scratching ground, in the city. Anyhow, the band has insulted the people and ought to be put in jail. Any organization that would offer to receive the city with anything should receive a cordial reception.

ANNA GOULD AND PRINCE HELIE SAIL

But Not Together---They are Bound for Europe on Different Liners

New York, April 11.—Madame Anna Gould with her children and their tutor sailed for Genoa and Naples today on board the North German Lloyd steamer Frederick der Grosse. About the same hour the Prince de Sagan, who has been paying assiduous court to Mme. Gould, sailed for Europe on the American line steamer St. Paul. Mme. Gould and her children passed in on board the Frederick der Grosse. She was registered on the private list as Miss Annetta Chapin. The Gould party arrives on the pier about midnight last night in five automobiles. Mme. Gould was accompanied to the steamer by the Prince de Sagan, and Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Morse, her friends whom she had been visiting. The sailing party was assigned to the captain's suite on the upper deck in another portion of this suite. The hope was expressed that these men would accept a nomination, as it was generally conceded they would easily be elected. It is understood that nomination papers for the various candidates are being circulated. It is interesting to note that an old section of the provincial statutes, 18 Victoria, chapter 37, provides that citizens duly nominated for and elected to the office of mayor or alderman must serve their term or forfeit a fine of £25.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AMHERST MAN

William F. Wheaton Succumbed Last Night to Attack of Paralysis

Amherst, N.S., April 11.—(Special).—The sudden death of Wm. F. Wheaton took place at Highland View hospital last night. On Tuesday of this week, Mr. Wheaton left Amherst for Mount Usacke, N.S., to work in the mill of his nephew, Elmer Anderson. He had not had much to do with keeping the ice cold but the mild weather during the days has rotted it considerably. Last year the river opened on April 25, in 1906 it was April 20, in 1905 April 19, in 1904 April 29, in 1903, April 7, and in 1902 April 3. The fishermen on the Kennebecasis are bringing in quite a lot of gasperous, and they report the fishing very good. I.C.R. WILL HAVE A NEW COALING PLANT

Work Will be Started at Once in the Island Yard---Flood and Bates Have Contract

Work will be continued immediately on the erection of a modern coaling plant for the I. C. R. in the Gilberts Island yard. Flood & Bates have secured the contract and the site was decided upon yesterday. The new plant will be located about 300 yards east of Gilberts Lane on the bank of the March Canal. The work of putting up poles for the electric lights that are to be installed all along the rails between the depot and the round house is proceeding rapidly. More than 100 poles have been erected and the balance will be in readiness and the lights turned on in a couple of weeks. As considerable blasting has to be done in preparing for the poles, this has delayed matters somewhat. The Wall street and Stanley street bridges will soon receive attention again and it is hoped by residents of that section that the work will proceed more quickly than was the case last year. The monthly exchange of pulpits in the local Baptist churches, goes into effect tomorrow morning as follows:—German street, Rev. M. E. Fletcher; Waterloo street, Rev. E. J. F. Talbot; St. John's, Rev. D. Hutchings; Ludlow street, Rev. B. H. Nobles; Charlotte street, West end, Rev. W. W. McMaster; Main street, Rev. J. W. Kenward; Victoria street, Gideon Swin.

MORE ABOUT CITY ADVERTISING

What Was Done in the City of Montgomery, Ala.

One of the most extensive and best prepared city advertising campaigns has been conducted by the city of Montgomery, Ala., commencing last fall. The secretary of the Commercial Club of that city gives the following description of the movement: "Unquestionably the most important work undertaken by the club was what is termed 'the 1910 movement.' The Ways and Means Committee raised over $10,000 for a fund to be devoted to giving publicity to the opportunities offered by Montgomery as a place of residence and of business to home seekers, investors and business men. "Before placing our order for advertising space we prepared and printed 10,000 copies of a descriptive and illustrated brochure of Montgomery and its advantages, at an expense of $1,000. We secured the services of an advertising expert from Atlanta, who planned the advertising campaign, furnishing copy, etc., $6,568.30 was spent for space in magazines and daily papers. "The first ad. appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, October 29th, 1906, and from that date to February 15th, 1907, 568 inquiries had been received from the city with anything should receive a cordial reception. "Inquiries have reached us daily and from nearly every state in the union. Letters have also reached us from Canada, Mexico, Japan, Germany, Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Isles. These replies have not come from any one class, but from all. "The results up to March 1st may be summarized as follows: The money spent with the big dailies was practically wasted. The money expended with the monthly magazines brought fairly good results, but the Saturday Evening Post the best. From this source we obtained at least seventy per cent. of the inquiries received, which came from every part of Canada and the United States. "The total number of inquiries to March 1st amounted to 629. We have located six families and two factories. Our manufacturing committee has appointments with six more factories, and we are confident others will follow. "The business organizations everywhere seem to be convinced of the idea that to keep abreast of the times it is necessary to advertise. "In St. John going to keep abreast of the times or not?"

LOTTERY CLOSED AND MANY MEN ARRESTED

Last of Three Big Lotteries Operating in United States Put Out of Business

Chicago, April 11.—Thirty six men arrested in various cities south, east, and west on charges of conspiracy to operate a lottery will be arraigned today before Judge Bethes in the Federal District Court. These men, of whom David Jones, 70 years old, is said to have been the chief, are charged with conspiracy in causing the transportation of lottery tickets by express companies. Jones was arrested in his office in this city May 1 and since then the secret service men have been gathering up his so-called agents in various cities. The alleged lottery is the Old Reliable Guaranty Loan and Trust Co. It was organized under the pretense that it was a loan association, the lottery prize representing a loan. It is said Jones had $2,000,000 out of the business but lost a greater part of his wealth in board of trade and other speculations.

THE OPENING OF THE RIVER

The Big Stream Expected to be Ready for Navigation in a Week or Ten Days

Judging from present indications, the river will be open for navigation in about a week or ten days. The weather of the past few days has had considerable effect in softening the ice, and north end people are looking for a breaking-up of the frozen barriers toward the latter part of next week. The cold nights lately have had much to do with keeping the ice solid but the mild weather during the days has rotted it considerably. Last year the river opened on April 25, in 1906 it was April 20, in 1905 April 19, in 1904 April 29, in 1903, April 7, and in 1902 April 3. OLD SWEETHEARTS ARE RE-UNITED NOW

Detroit to See Culmination of Romance Which Began in England Forty Years Ago

Hamilton, Ont., April 11.—(Special).—James Paget and Mrs. Mary Trevelyan are in the city en route to Detroit where they will be married, thus putting the finishing touches to a romance which began forty years ago. Mrs. Trevelyan, then Miss Burdon and Mr. Paget were lovers at Paignton, a seaside village in Devonshire. They had disagreements and finally Mr. Paget in a huff went to the States. Ten years later he got word that Miss Burdon had married. Last year Mr. Paget met with an accident, on account of which he wrote to his old home. The letter fell into the hands of his former sweetheart, whose husband had died in the meantime and she wrote a letter of sympathy to him. This opened up the correspondence and the discovery being made that the old love was as strong as ever, it was arranged that they should be married. Mrs. Trevelyan was met at Halifax by Mr. Paget and the couple stopped here to visit friends, on the way to Detroit.

MACFARLANE AND BRITT

They Will Fight 20 Rounds at Colma Cal. This Evening

San Francisco, April 11.—Paddy MacFarlane and Jimmy Britt will meet this evening in the Colma Open Air Arena in a twenty-round contest. Both were training yesterday and were both pronounced by the physician to be in good condition to battle for the light heavyweight title. The fighters were weighed at ten o'clock this morning. The articles call for 130 pounds at that hour. In view of the outcome it being MacFarlane's, an essential appearance on the coast. There is much betting on the result with the odds favoring the Chicago fighter at 10 to 9. One bet of $100 was registered on Britt at the prevailing odds and MacFarlane is reported to have wagered a large sum on his own chances. They will enter the ring at 3 o'clock. Jack Welch will referee the bout, which will be governed by straight Massachusetts rules.

CHAPTER XII. By Condemned's Lake.

Shivering, all out of heart, I crouched upon the steps listening to the sweep of the oars in the darkness to the trickle of the water from my dripping garments, and then with every sense alert, could have sprung to my feet with a shout of triumph. The enemy was in our hands, his retreat out of the chance to which the Spaniard had trusted had come indeed. Fortunately was it that I had dropped the auger, fortunate that the craft were unharmed.

ing the distance between us unobserved. The Count's temper was short that night. Roundly he cursed this unlovely fisherman; but I was too intent on gaining on him and his guests to heed his speech. Scant heed, it seemed, paid the culprit to his lord's challenge; and then as von Wegen's voice rose hot with passion, not more than a dozen yards ahead, I checked the boat to stare into the night. For a moment I could see nothing, but, peering into the gloom, at last described two dim grey figures looming before me. Next a darker form above a shapeless hull, was outlined in the shadows—the Count it appeared was kneeling upon the thwart nearest the bow of his craft. Then came a cracked voice, piteous and pleading, the voice of an old man, though I guessed the speaker to be no older than the Spaniard.

"Look to thy wherry, old dotard!" he cried, "to thy nets, to thyself. Who art thou? What brings thee loose thy hold of the gunwale, knave?" "So my comrade has him fast, thought I, as with a long pull, I surged towards them. And then, as the Count raised an oar to free himself of the fisherman's grip, the Spaniard sprang upright in the boat and full on von Wegen fell a shapeless mass, wreathing his head, entangling his shoulders better than had been for that struggling wretch that the net had never left the water. A cry of terror escaped Elsa von Rohn.

"Inez!" I heard her gasp as she clutched her sister in her fear, and at the same instant the heavy load I carried against the one in which they sat. At the sight of a second assailant, the screams of the younger Countess redoubled, while Leon de Portugas cried to me that I should spring from my boat into our enemy's.

Why am I so persecuted? What have I done? But I have not been accused on the stand to save my husband I am hounded, spied upon, lied about. I can't live in New York. Just as soon as the proceedings to annul my marriage have been completed I am going abroad and I am never coming back to New York."

It was Evelyn Thaw who spoke, and as I looked at her, sitting in the

to her that this phenomenon was easily explicable. Here is a girl who, whether we explain her divergence from the ordinary rules of conduct, by helplessness, childishness or cold blooded choice, has undoubted brains. A girl who, notwithstanding all that has been written of her beauty, is not vain of her personal appearance; who, though columns have been devoted to saying that love of dress and luxury procure her ruin, really does not care about clothes at all, and who told me once that her ideal of happiness was to live on a ranch and never wear anything more decorative than a shirtwaist and skirt.

office of Daniel O'Reilly, I faced the most amazing spectacle I had ever seen. For Evelyn Thaw was crying. She who without tears had bared her young soul in a public court in the effort to save the man from whom she had just divorced, who had just divorced her, was weeping now as if she were a child.

"What will you do in Europe?" I inquired. "Is it true that you are writing a book?" "Yes," Mrs. Thaw admitted, "but I do not expect to publish anything until I am thirty. I intend to study perfect my rhetoric. You know I want to write something worth while."

"I have done everything I could to escape notice. I dress differently; I do my hair differently. You saw me at both trials and you know that this is so."

Paris, April 10.—At Callot's, the famous dressmaker, they say they would rather dress a stylish woman than a pretty one. Of course, every woman's dearest wish about dress is to be stylish. But just look at the first hundred women you see today. How many of them by any stretch of courtesy could you call stylish?

RURAL PROBLEMS

In the article from the pen of the Rev. Hunter Boyd, which the Times reprints today, there is not only a strong vein of optimism which commends it to the people, but it is filled with suggestion such as students of sociology will very heartily welcome.

Mr. Boyd speaks from the standpoint of a minister, who is familiar with rural conditions in the maritime provinces, and who has given much thought to problems affecting the welfare of the agricultural community. He has seen the drift to the cities and to the west and to the United States, and has taken note of the pessimism which takes hold of the older members of a community, and even the younger ones who remain, when there is a continuous drift away from the old home.

Mr. Boyd, speaking as a minister, makes a suggestion that ministers generally might well endorse—especially those dwelling in rural districts. The material success of the farmer means much to those agencies which operate for the moral and spiritual good of the community.

Mr. Boyd makes a pointed reference to several matters which affect very seriously the moral as well as the material welfare of rural communities. We are familiar with districts against dishonest politicians, but Mr. Boyd turns the eye of criticism upon careless or fraudulent fruit-packing, and general indifference to results in stock-raising and agriculture in general.

BRITISH POLITICS

The London Express sees much trouble ahead for the Liberal government in England. Commenting upon a speech delivered by Mr. Asquith prior to the retirement of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Express said: "Mr. Asquith has taken the first opportunity of making evident the wide and impassable gulf between genuine liberals and the socialists, and the semi-socialist. The chief government whip in a recent speech emphasized the difference. There is, he said, 'as great a divergence between liberals and socialists as between liberals and unionists.' There is indeed, the unionists and the socialists agree in recognizing the necessity for social reform, and they both are ready with plans to alleviate distress. Liberalism is uninterested. It will abolish church schools, ruin brewers, even rewrite Irish Home Rule upon its banners—if we are to trust Mr. Redmond—but it has nothing to offer the unemployed English workman. It is quite evident that no considerable number of intelligent humane men can for long be content with this attitude. Already the best of the government's supporters are in revolt. How long can the cabinet itself be relied on to follow meekly the negative lead of Mr. Asquith and Mr. Burns? Mr. Lloyd-George is a practical politician, with a very open disregard for the late Mr. Cobden. As it is, the Spectator tearfully writes him down, as 'at heart a protectionist,' and there is reason to think that he is impressed with the necessity of formulating some positive proposals to meet a great national evil. Whether Mr. Lloyd-George will become the leader of an openly-declared radical-socialist party or whether he will find salvation, and join in the ever-growing demand for tariff reform remains to be seen. But two things stand out from the recent debate. One is that old-fashioned liberalism is absolutely dead as a political force, and the other is that the great alternative—tariff reform or socialism—is the one vital issue before the British people."

Of the progress of the province of British Columbia under the rule of a Conservative provincial government the Victoria Colonist says: "Premier McBride, during the course of his address to the electors of Esquimalt district on Tuesday evening, made one statement which even his bitterest opponents must admit is warranted by the facts. This was to the effect that the results, after five years' control of the affairs of this province by the present administration, have been eminently satisfactory to all classes. It is absolutely indisputable that order has been brought out of chaos, industry has been lifted from the slough of despond in which it was cast by the ruinous tinkering of previous governments, confidence has been restored in the financial centres and conditions generally throughout the whole province are buoyant and full of promise for the future."

The new commissioners of the Central Railway are competent men. Mr. P. S. Archibald is an engineer and railway man of long experience, and may be relied on to have an intelligent oversight of the roadbed and rolling stock of the Central, and to see to it that construction and repair work are properly done.

Some fifteen millions has been added to the debt of Canada during the past fiscal year. How much of the total expenditure of $110,000,000 was waste or graft, as indicated by the report of the civil service commission?

Congratulations to General Booth, who at seventy-nine is still able to direct the affairs of the vast and world-wide organization which he has developed from his East London mission of more than forty years ago.

An illustration of Standard Oil methods comes from Haverhill, Mass., where the company reduced kerosene to five cents per gallon to kill off competition.

There is a continued falling off in railway earnings in Canada compared with the corresponding period last year. Less freight is being moved.

If the C. P. R. should decide to tap the Queens county coal fields the railway situation thereabouts would become decidedly interesting.

AN EASTER WISH

To those who bear a heavy load Of sorrow, pain or grief, May Easter come with blessed hope And help those ills to bear.

To those whose way is shadowed o'er By memory of sin, May Easter come with help and strength A better life to win.

To those whose favored lot in life Seems crowned with blessings rare, May Easter whisper, "Seek the poor"— Their griefs and trials share.

To those who quiver 'neath the smart Of wrongs unjustly borne, May Easter bring the grace of Him Who wore the crown of thorns. SARAH BOLLES.

Mrs. Geo. Thompson and Mrs. Daniel Hatfield, of St. John, and Mrs. John Montague, of Sydney (C. B.). The time of the funeral has not yet been arranged.

Mrs. W. A. Quinton. The death of Mrs. Kate Quinton, wife of W. A. Quinton, steward of the provincial hospital, Lunenburg, occurred at her home, Manwagonsiah road, yesterday. Mrs. Quinton, who was a daughter of Robert R. Allen of the firm of Allen Bros., leaves, besides her husband, one brother, C. B. Allen of this city, and a sister in California. She had been sick only a short time.

John Wiggins. John Wiggins, at one time a resident of this city, died on the 4th inst. at his home in New Westminster (B. C.). He came here with his parents from Ireland while still an infant in 1839 and remained till he was in his eighteenth year. After that he went to California and spent his life prospecting for gold. A despatch from Victoria thus describes him: "Over six feet tall, with flowing white hair, and as straight as an arrow, in spite of his years, his form was regularly to be seen in the public streets here, and his death will remove another of those old pioneers whose number is rapidly diminishing as the years roll on. He was for some years chief of police in this city. Among his relatives were Mrs. J. A. Robinson, New Westminster, and Mrs. P. E. Peels, wife of the collector of customs at White Horse, niece of the deceased, and H. Wiggins, his nephew, who is at present connected with the Vancouver province."

James McCafferty. Richibucto, April 9.—Richibucto has lost a respected resident in the person of James McCafferty, whose death occurred very suddenly at his home, about 8 o'clock, last evening.

Mr. McCafferty had not been in good health throughout the winter, but had not been confined to the house. Yesterday he was about as usual, and was up street, as far as the post office in the afternoon. He had not quite completed his fifty-second year, having been born at Belknap, Ireland, April 24, 1856. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Charles, at present of Roxbury, Mass., and Daniel, at home; and four daughters, Mrs. A. E. Ethel, each of St. John, and Miss Minnie, at home.

Interment will be made at Kouchnigouque.

The engagement of Miss Jette, daughter of Sir Louis Jette, to Dr. Grondeen of Laval university, is announced.

RIOTS IN PENSACOLA

Union Men Attack Strike Breakers and There is Much Fighting

Pensacola, Fla., April 11.—The bringing of a carload of strike breakers from St. Louis by the Pensacola Electric Company was the signal for rioting and disorder which resulted in the injury of fifteen of the imported men.

No sooner had the strike breakers arrived and started for the street car sheds than a fight occurred between them and the sympathizers of the union men and from the corner of Balboa and Wright streets, where the first trouble occurred, there was a running fight in which bricks, bottles and shells were hurled at the strike breakers who in turn fired shots, used heavy sticks and bricks. For over an hour the riot continued, the strike breakers gradually getting near to the car barns, but before they reached there fifteen had been wounded.

When near the car barns and barricades, the onslaught on the body of imported men that they separated and fled, thirty running into a negro's house while the remainder reached the car barns and barricaded the doors and the men who gained the negro's house barricaded the doors and it took the police over an hour to disperse the mob and remove the men to places of safety.

Last night there were great crowds on the streets. The mayor has issued a proclamation closing all saloons and the board of public safety has ordered the marshal to swear in a sufficient number of deputies to quell the disturbance.

Seventy strike breakers have been marched to the city jail where they will be kept in safety.

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Having been tendered the unsolicited support of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to accept nomination for the Mayorship and trust I will receive your endorsement.

If elected, I will endeavor to give you safe, progressive and business-like administration.

During the time I have held the position of Alderman and discharged the duties of chairman of the treasury department, I have given very full attention to the city affairs, and while I have no doubt that the progress and development of the city (increasingly manifested during several years) will be continued, I realize fully that the taxation of the citizens must not be materially increased, but that as far as possible the rate of assessment must be reduced.

Soliciting your vote and support on Tuesday the 21st inst. Yours respectfully, THOS. H. BULLOCK.

To the Electors of Queen's Ward:

Ladies and Gentlemen: At the earnest solicitation of a large number of the Electors of Queen's Ward I have consented to be a candidate for Alderman of the ward at the election to be held on the 21st inst. If elected, I will do all in my power for the good and economic government of the city.

Respectfully yours, AMON A. WILSON.

NEW STRENGTH FOR THE SPRING

Nature Needs Assistance in Making New Health-Giving Blood.

In the spring your system needs toning up. In the spring to be healthy and strong you must have new blood just as the trees must have new sap.

Without new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism, or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia, or there may be disgusting pimples or eruptions of the skin, a tired feeling in the morning, and a variable appetite.

These are some of the signs that the blood is out of order, that the long trying months of indoor winter life have told upon you.

A purgative medicine, such as too many people believe, spring can't help you. Purgatives merely grip through the system, and further weaken you. Any doctor will tell you that this is true.

What people need the spring is a tonic medicine, and in all the world there is no tonic so equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every ounce of this medicine helps to make new rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring.

This new, red blood clears the skin, drives out the humor, makes weak, easily tired men, women and children bright, active and strong. Try this great blood-building medicine this spring, and see what new life and energy it will give you.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SENATOR ELKINS TIRED OF GUSH

He Hedges the American Papers to Refrain from Publishing Nonsense About His Daughter's Reported Engagement

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins, in view of the reports which have appeared concerning the engagement of his daughter, Miss Katherine Elkins to the Duke of the Abruzzi had been confirmed there, and that matters had progressed so far that the royal family have placed orders for the wedding gifts, tonight sent to the associated press, a statement deprecating the current reports as follows:

"If you can consistently, will you kindly cease the publication of despatches and rumors of the reported engagement of my daughter, and the master has occupied the attention of the press so long and to such an extent that I feel called upon to make this request."

"While making it, I wish to state that I appreciate the kindly expressions that have been made in connection with her reported engagement. Whenever there shall be any reason to make an announcement about this matter, I will be glad to give it to the press in an authentic form."

DRIFTING TO MONARCHY

Mr. Max Nordau has discovered that the masses of the United States are naturally aristocratic, and Mr. Sidney Brooks, who writes to the London Chronicle, thinks he notes in that country a "fast drift towards monarchy."

His says that, "The masses are rapidly becoming the American centre of fashion and that from year to year the number of the aristocratic and monarchical capitalists is increasing."

Jefferson could afford to ride up to the White House and change the almost sacred motto to be sworn in president, but under the present conditions things are very different.

"The President can no longer do as he pleases, and he must be content to be invited to his hospitable board, it is no longer a matter of a royal command, which must not be disobeyed. If he is asked to do anything, he must do it, and if he is asked to do anything, he must do it."

My son finished last year and this year he'll get $2,500. Hudgins—Where is he teaching? Judges—He isn't teaching—he's pitching.

To the Electors of Queen's Ward:

Ladies and Gentlemen: At the earnest solicitation of a large number of the Electors of Queen's Ward I have consented to be a candidate for Alderman of the ward at the election to be held on the 21st inst. If elected, I will do all in my power for the good and economic government of the city.

Respectfully yours, AMON A. WILSON.

Undigested Food

When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence.

So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of stop all fermentation, sweeten the contents of the stomach and give natural assistance that relieves the sufferer of his burden. The use of Beecham's Pills gradually strengthens the stomach nerves and soon restores them to a normal, healthy condition.

Beecham's Pills positively cure all stomach troubles, while their beneficial effects on the liver and kidneys greatly improve the general health.

Beecham's Pills have been used and recommended by the general public for over fifty years.

Prepared only by the Proprietor, Thomas Beecham, St. Helen's, Lancashire, Eng. Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes 25 cents.

We honestly and firmly believe that unless you have seen the clothing now in our stock you have no idea of what has recently been accomplished in ready-to-wear clothing. We know that nowhere in St. John, except in this store, is clothing of this grade to be found.

If you are now paying good prices for made-to-measure clothing and not getting satisfaction, we are now able to assure you of fine tailoring, proper fit, and correct style; to do it at a THIRD LESS THAN THE TAILOR'S PRICE.

The clothes we are selling are right INSIDE as well as outside. The good looks they have they will keep, BECAUSE THEY ARE TAILORED. It is the TAILORING that makes them fit, that gives you comfort in them. It is the TAILORING we count on to bring you back again and again as a satisfied customer.

This clothing, in which we have so much confidence, costs no more than ordinary sorts. It costs even less in many instances because our expenses are low. But in no case is the tailoring skimped to lower the price.

PROPOSES A SUMMER SCHOOL FOR PREACHERS

Rev. Hunter Boyd Has an Interesting Plan to Enable Ministers to Make a Practical Study of Rural Conditions

Eastern Canada has problems to solve that are as great, and as urgent, as those which confront the West. But they are different. The West has helped to create some of our perplexities, but no matter how they have originated, they have to be faced. There are not wanting those who have contracted the habit of blaming the West, or the United States for adverse conditions of every kind. There are farmers who continually find fault with the weather, but the weather is still with us, and it will be long ere either the West or the States are absorbed into the provinces by the sea. The average natural increase per 1,000 population in 1901, for the combined provinces by the sea, was almost up to the normal rate for the entire Dominion, which is 12.70 per cent, but if we examine the figures for the past 20 years it will be found that the combined population in 1881 was about 871,000, for 1891 about 881,000, and for 1907, 884,000.

On the other hand, if we consider the increase for Canada, we find it is 11.14 per cent, and New Brunswick, 3.06; Nova Scotia, 2.84, and Prince Edward Island, minus 5.34. These figures merit careful inquiry, and, in the judgment of many, it would seem that the time has arrived when a careful attempt should be made to appraise the social and economic forces that are operating in the older provinces. It is possible for some ministers to become fatalistic, through dwelling too much on these materialistic factors, and many will admit they are discouraged as they see signs of depopulation.

Some have fled to the West or to the South to escape paralysis, and some who once entertained hopes of becoming pastors of self-supporting churches have relinquished sanguine hopes. This spirit has not been confined to those who have labored long, but it has affected the choice of vocation or location on the part of youthful aspirants.

II.—THE CHEERFUL VIEW.

There are others who feel that obligation rests upon them to care for the old folk who have renounced and courageously tend the boys and girls they scarcely hope to retain for effective citizenship. They rejoice to think that thousands have passed on to other parts to work for the cause of God, under the same flag, or may be another. These men are patriotic, but they are also humanitarians.

Another and increasing section of the cheerful ones are confident that the tide will turn. They believe that the wheat system alone will not produce genuine homesteads, they look for improved methods in every branch of industry in the East, and anticipate that the better provinces will claim a share of the homeseekers who pass through our portals. They are firmly convinced, also, that no branch of industry here has yet had its full opportunity, and they contend that the chief need of the farms in the provinces by the sea is better farming.

III.—MARITIME ADVANTAGES.

The alternation of hill and dale, the abundant water and wood, climatic conditions, and shipping facilities appeal strongly to thoughtful men, and they regret exceedingly that so many children have been early inoculated with "Western fever."

The accounts of distribution of seed grain this spring remind them that not all is gold that glitters, and instances of over-cropping here point to the inevitable effects that will be produced there unless mixed farming is adopted.

The proximity to ocean steamers, the increased cold storage facilities, and the special advantages for branches of husbandry are good assets amid the discouraging items of depleted farms, and a new hope is springing up in the East.

IV.—THE OUTLOOK OF THE CLERGY.

All these matters are of deep interest to the ministers of all denominations. There are some preachers who have been so deeply affected by the economic problem that they have become strong advocates for church union. But a desire to secure coalition in order to reduce expense is indicative rather of proclivity than of broad catholicity. There would rarely be found either too many churches or too many ministers if our farms could be reduced in size, and better work accomplished upon them.

Cromwell is reported to have said, "Trust in God and keep your powder dry." The leader of today might well say, "Put soul into your soil," or "Spray as well as pray." A minister is performing his duty if he urges his people to select the best seed; to make judicious use of good feed, and trains the children under his care to handle seed and encourages them to ensure its extermination.

Ministers would find it to be a great advantage everywhere if they help to create a strong sentiment in favor of the Fruit Marks act, and urge the extinction of the small yield cows.

Many church finance problems would be solved if the people used business methods all the week. There are chances lost every year, by families in all branches of the church, which do not reflect the credit of Christian character. Two hundred thousand dollars were lost this season by careless packing of apples in Nova Scotia. In Prince Edward Island where it formerly stood in its reputation for honesty? The coves of these provinces do not yield one-half what they should.

It might be a healthy tonic if the people of these provinces, who have been blaming climate and weather, and government and fiscal systems, and everything but poor management, would get information on the progress in many branches of industry in Quebec, and still more if they would read exhaustively on the movements in Denmark and Japan. The farmer is too individualistic, and the social instincts must be cultivated right early, and restore prosperity by intelligently conducted, persistent co-operation.

V. WHAT CAN BE DONE?

Other countries have passed through our phases. The clergy in Denmark, led by Bishop Grundtvig, have turned the tide back to the country. Cannot the clergy of all denominations attempt work just as necessary, just as essential, and just as noble as that which they have made a united effort to achieve this end. There is no thought here of so-called church union, or, rather, the churches are united, and there is no need for rigid uniformity. We have rigidly enough. We need a new springtide when the angustines shall disappear only to reappear in living verdure. Let our rural clergy search for records of the life and work of John Francis Oberlin and emulate his spirit. There is no need to attempt his work, for there is not a place in the provinces where his congregations are typified.

When art became conventional in England it was necessary to return to nature. Many eminently good men have been vainly endeavoring to perpetuate ideals of method that are well enough in a highly complex, well ordered, long established community, and their youths have been slipping past them all the time. If we cannot detain their bodies in these provinces, we have little scope for affecting their spiritual nature.

VI. "BACK TO THE FARM!"

Probably the majority of ministers of all the churches in these provinces were raised on the farms, and therein is found no small merit for the old order of things. But possibly the clergy need to modify plans as rapidly as the people amid whom they labor. If they are to justify their continuance as a separate order, it must be partly because they fill a function. Public worship is an indispensable part of life in the community, but religion and worship, as these terms are ordinarily understood, are not synonymous. They are contributory.

Sacredness does not reside in the profession as things now are, but in the spirit in which the work of the profession is conducted.

Someone has said, "It is better to pound anvil and make a good horseshoe, than to pound a pulpit and make a poor sermon." Most of the Old Testament prophets as well as the people amid whom the Bible is permeated with the spirit of devout husbandry. Would it not be well if all the rural clergy of the provinces could gather at the Agricultural colleges, in Truro, this summer, and hold such a school as the clergy of Massachusetts and Rhode Island have arranged for at Amherst, Mass.? Not the least certain note that is being sounded in these provinces comes from the institute workers who are influencing our youth. Would it not be well to mingle with these men who indirectly inculcate ethics, morality and patriotism? The education of more than half the self-population requires modification and the clergy should have a clear and uniform message to parents, trustees and educators. We need a federation of all rural forces for a general educational uplift, and surely it's the function of the church to be inspirational. Would it not be well to Rev. Hunter Boyd in the Maritime Farmer.

NOTED MEN SEND GOOD WISHES TO DR. HALE

Congratulations Upon 86th Anniversary of Author's Birth.

The Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the venerable chaplain of the United States House of Representatives, on the 86th anniversary of his birth by offering, as usual, the invocation in the senate when that body was called to order. Since Thursday congratulations have poured in upon him from distinguished men all over the country, but he has borne these good wishes as modestly and unassumingly as he does his years.

One would well believe that Dr. Hale was born in Boston in 1822, for it would be untrue to say that he does not show his years, and he bears unmistakably the stamp of the sturdy New England stock from which he sprang. The distinguished author and clergyman spends much of his time in an easy chair in his residence in Washington, and even the brief service at the senate fatigues him somewhat, for he suffers considerably from a fall received in California several years ago, and is not as active as might be.

His face is marked with deep lines, lines not only of intellectuality, but of age; but his eye is as bright as it ever was, and his mind is as strong and vigorous as three-quarters of a century ago.

Dr. Hale takes a great interest in current events and is "abreast of the times." He is interested in politics and to an reviewer from the Herald he talked entertainingly on a variety of subjects, from statesmanship to the press, regarding which he holds some emphatic views. He does not believe that the newspapers of today wield anything like the influence of journals of the past, and regrets to think of it. However, he would not be quoted, either on current politics or on the public press.

"I have nothing to say to the people of New England," said "for I do not see why I should issue a statement or give an interview for them. 'Story, God bless you; I've none to tell, sir. This about sums up my attitude.'"

"Doctor, how does it feel to be 86?" "It feels just like it always did," he answered. "There is no difference." And plainly to this man the mere fact of being far past three score years and ten has no terrors, and holds no disadvantages. He looks upon life with the same youthful zest as in the past.

A magazine writer, with a scheme to ensnare the human race to live 150 years, a short time ago called upon Dr. Hale. The author of "A Man Without a Country" was the perplexed man in his project.

"I should as lief," said he, "live in one world as another."

Dr. Hale was remembered by the Land-Harm Society, of whom he was the founder, the remembrance taking the form of messages of congratulation and flowers.

MACEDONIAN CRY FROM WOOLEN MANUFACTURERS

Ottawa, April 10.—A deputation from the woollen sections of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, Messrs. McKay, Murray and Smith, of Toronto; Ouellette, of Chambly (Que.); and Grant, of Montreal, waited on the government today with a request for increased customs protection to the Canadian woollen industry.

The deputation was received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier with Hon. Messrs. Fielding, Fisher, Gwynne, Pugsley and Sir Frederick Borden and was the result of a meeting of the Canadian woollen manufacturers in Montreal on Thursday at which a general complaint was made of the existing state of the industry.

The existing rates on imported woollens from Great Britain are as follows: Tweeds and cloth, 30 per cent.; knitted goods (underwear), 22 1/2 per cent.; hosiery, 25 per cent.; all-wool blankets, 30 1/2 per cent., and shoddy blankets, 30 per cent.

It was stated by the tremendous influx of new settlers of recent years the makers of Canadian woollens were deriving benefit therefrom, although in many cases the imported goods, which were preferred to our own, very often lacked the substantial value of the home-made product.

It was stated also that British exporters are in the habit of dumping woollen goods in Canada at much lower prices than are obtained in the British market and that this adds to the severity of the competition which Canadian woollen manufacturers must meet.

The average customs appraiser was not at all competent to pass judgment on the qualities or values of woollen goods and for this reason they urged that the government should add to the staff of the customs department men who were fully familiar with both woollens and cottons.

The ministers promised that consideration would be given to the representations made, and it was understood that the manufacturers on their part, would supplement their representations in a memorandum of what they desire.

C. P. R. MAY BUILD FROM FREDERICTON TO MINTO COAL FIELDS

Reported the Company Has Applied for Coal Areas, and Will Construct a Line of Railway.

Coupled with the announcement from Fredericton yesterday of the appointment of J. R. Stone and P. S. Archibald as commissioners of the Central Railway there is an interesting rumor in circulation that the C. P. R. propose to build a line of railway from Fredericton into Minto, for the purpose of taking out coal from the mines.

It is said also that the C. P. R. have made application for coal areas in the Minto section, presumably for the purpose of obtaining coal at first hand for their locomotives.

While no definite confirmation of the report was obtainable last evening it is generally believed to be correct. Should the extension be carried out it will open the Central when the extension will be built of a Queens county coal, not only in Fredericton, but throughout the western part of the province.

It is said also that the C. P. R. have taken hold of the project it may be confidently expected that the extension will greatly benefit by the increased market.

IS CHARGED WITH SUNDAY SELLING

W. H. McQuade Charged With Selling Liquor to Frank Nowlan on March 29

In the case of W. H. McQuade, charged with selling liquor to the late Frank Nowlan on March 29, two witnesses gave evidence in the police court yesterday afternoon. Police Clerk Henderson, who conducted the prosecution, intimated that an important witness had left the city and some time would elapse before he could be secured to give evidence.

Robert King, the last man to see Nowlan alive, was the first witness. He told of spending Sunday morning in company with Nowlan. Nowlan had left for the corner of Mill and Pond streets. The Miller in the fight, escaped unscathed. Marshall Miller received word by telephone from Orleis that five armed high-women had held up and robbed Patrick O'Brien in the streets of that town and that they would reach Kent in an hour.

On cross-examination the policeman said that it was possible he may have been mistaken about seeing Nowlan entering the hotel. Mr. Mullin charged that the prosecution had subpoenaed Mr. McQuade's brother and had not called him when they were in the city. "They knew he would swear that Nowlan came in the hotel and was ejected," said Mr. Mullin, "and he will swear this before the trial is over." The defendant positively denies the charge.

OFFICER WOUNDED IN REVOLVER FIGHT

Kent, Wash., April 10.—City Marshal Harry Miller of Kent, was fatally wounded in a pistol encounter with five high-waymen last night. Night Marshal Charles Guberson, who helped Marshal Miller in the fight, escaped unscathed. Marshall Miller received word by telephone from Orleis that five armed high-women had held up and robbed Patrick O'Brien in the streets of that town and that they would reach Kent in an hour.

On cross-examination the policeman said that it was possible he may have been mistaken about seeing Nowlan entering the hotel. Mr. Mullin charged that the prosecution had subpoenaed Mr. McQuade's brother and had not called him when they were in the city. "They knew he would swear that Nowlan came in the hotel and

NEGRO LYNCHED BY ANGRY POSSE

Fort Worth, Tex., April 10.—Following an attack on a twelve-year-old white girl, May Morris, at Longview, Texas, yesterday, Albert Temple, a negro, was captured by a posse and lynched. The negro confessed his crime after he had been identified. He was taken to the court house yard, a rope placed around his neck, a horse driven from under him and he was left hanging. The mob which consisted of several hundred, then quickly dispersed. While returning home from a visit in the neighborhood, the girl was seized by the negro, who attempted to carry her into a nearby thicket, but dropped her and ran when her screams attracted the attention of an old negro who started to the rescue.

FIRE AT ONE MAN, KILLED ANOTHER

Cassopolis, Mich., April 10.—Carleton Marvin, aged 33 years, of South Bend, Ind., was shot an instantly killed here today in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Greene. It is alleged that Mrs. George A. Metzger, of South Bend, wife of a saloon keeper there, who is under arrest here with her husband, fired the shot. Mrs. Metzger denies it. Marvin, who is said to have recently inherited a considerable sum of money, came here last night with Metzger. Mrs. Metzger followed them on a later train, and met the men at the entrance of Mrs. Greene's home. The officers allege that Mrs. Metzger fired at her husband and hit Marvin. Mrs. Metzger, however, says that a mysterious unknown person fired the shot. Marvin leaves a widow and a year-old child.

The Spring Millinery - Becoming Shapes and Artistic Trimmings.

The most distinctive feature of the season's millinery is the high crown, which is the newest models showing this departure from the modes in vogue heretofore. In its exaggerated form, although many of the new hats have the brims showing, the line across the side and drooping line across the side and back, but all around down-turned brim is no longer smart. One of the most attractive and becoming shapes to be seen is on modified sailor-crowns, the brim curling up slightly from the front toward the left side and also showing a line of the underlacing across the back. This shape is sketched in the middle drawing among the hats pictured. This model was especially designed for wear during the early spring, and would be very smart with tailored or street frocks. It was a blocked shape in black Milan straw, faced to the edge under the brim with light blue taffeta with a tiny cord piping at the edge. The crown was encircled with a narrow folded band of black taffeta ribbon, and a huge rosette made of loops and ends of the ribbon was placed at the left side of the crown. This same shape was also seen in a stunning imported hat which would be charming for wear with white linen frocks or coat suits during the summer. Dead white Milan straw faced with black velvet to within an inch of the edge formed the hat, the only trimming being three white ribbons, which were placed with upstanding wings together at the left side. A slight difference was made in the shape of this hat, in that the crown was in bowl shape instead of being square, as in the first model described. Another very effective little hat was smaller in size and was turned up rather sharply at the left side. This model was of black Milan, with an inch and a half band facing of white taffeta, placed an inch from the edge under the brim. The crown was quite high and was trimmed about with wide soft white satin ribbon which was formed in a series of knots at the left front. Several white wings spreading smartly toward the left were attached under the knots of ribbon, through which a couple of large set pins were thrust. For the early spring a great many of the models show trimmings of aigrettes, fancy feathers and wings, and for dress hats ostrich plumes are very fashionable, both the curled, willow and uncurled plumes being used in all black, in Neapolitan braid. A very attractive model on which ostrich plumes were used was in all black, in Neapolitan braid. The shape was very large and very much on the shape of the hat first described, the crown being about five inches in height. This hat was faced with black velvet and about the crown was a little band of half-inch velvet ribbon tied in a bow at the left side. The trimming on this model was massed at the right side, and consisted of three full ostrich plumes, which were together with the ends gracefully drooping at the side of the crown. Another model of the same sort was in gunmetal gray, with a wide band of soft satin ribbon of the same shade around the high crown, and gray feathers massed at the left side of the crown. As to the flower hats, they are especially delightful, and exquisite combinations of color are shown. Berries and tiny fruits are also seen in some of the newest French hats, especially planned for wear during the early season. One white goodlooking model was of pure white Milan, faced with black velvet to within an inch or so of the brim edge, the crown being garlanded with lovely red cherries and glossy green foliage, with a graceful cluster of loops and ends of black velvet ribbon two inches in vere crown is very trying to most faces.

Mention must also be made of the pongee hats, which are among the novelties and which are especially planned for wear with tailored linen and pongee frocks.

Many of the straw shapes have facings of pongee in color and some of the models show pongee hats with straw facings.

Plain Tailored Gown

The illustration shows a typical model for the plain tailored gown, suitable for linen or cloth. These plain costumes are really smart wear for street and for morning wear, and the results than are the trimmed suits, but they must be faultlessly made and fitted to be especially attractive in the original in coloring and style. Gray linen of a becoming bluish light shade in rather a rough weave was the material used, the collar being faced with linen in a decided black and white stripe. The little coat was made with dart sleeves—that is, the fulness at the top of the sleeves was taken in by flat darts in place of the usual gathers. This gives a most becoming broad, flat shoulder line. Pockets were placed at the left side, and plain white pearl buttons were used. The skirt in this model was on the gathered circular order, but the plaited styles are still much used, the plaits being very close together and stitched to deep yoke depth about the hips.

Helps for Spring Cleaning

The shops are filled with a great variety of articles especially designed for the assistance of the housekeeper and to make housecleaning less laborious, and discrimination in selecting these articles. Many of these aids to labor are, however, excellent, and it is worth the while of the housekeeper to make a few trips to the department in the shops where such things are sold and investigate for herself. For instance, all sorts of brooms may be had for the different uses—there are different sorts of hair brooms and to reach the indentations in carved wood there is a pliable, but stiff, brush, the bristles of which are cut in a point, so that any little crevice can be reached. Then, there is a three-cornered stiff brush, with a handle in the middle, which is excellent for polishing a table of highly finished surface. The brush of lamb's wool is now used for polishing hardwood floors, and many of the new brushes come with detachable handles so that they can be put to various uses. Either a short or long handle can be screwed in, so that it can be used for woodwork in any position. There are also different sorts of mops to be had, for glass, china, etc., and there is a long-handled brush,

Homemade Candle Shades

The three little shades pictured in the small sketch may offer some suggestions to the homemaker, these embroidered candle shades being very new and attractive. Washable material is generally used, so that the shades may be removed from the wire frame and laundered after they become soiled and dusty. The first sketch at the left shows a square

A certain theatrical troupe, after a dreary and unsuccessful tour, arrived in a small New Jersey town. That night, though there was no furor or general uprising of the audience, there was enough hand-clapping to arouse the troupe's dejected spirits. The leading man stepped to the footlights after the first act and bowed profoundly. Still the clapping continued.

When he went behind the scenes he saw an Irish stage hand laugh heartily. "Well, what do you think of that?" asked the actor, throwing out his chest. "What d'ye mean?" inquired the Irishman.

"Hand-clapping?" "Yes," said the Theban, "they are giving me enough applause to show they appreciate me."

"D'ye call that applause?" inquired the old Irishman. "What, tho't not applause. Tho't the audience killin' mosquitoes."—Everybody's Magazine.

FROM ANOTHER VIEWPOINT. "Anyway," said her husband, "you'll give me credit for having sense enough to say nothing."

"Oh, I don't know," rejoined his wife. "Perhaps you haven't sense enough to say anything."—Chicago News.

POLICE COURT

Riotous Sailors From S.S. Cassandra Before the Police Court This Morning

"Birds of a feather flock together," quoted Judge Ritchie, as he disposed of a trio of Scotchmen who were in court this morning, charged with assaulting and beating Andrew Petropoulos in his shoe shine establishment, Mill street, late last night.

The offenders were Ernest Boyle, James Sinclair and James Gunning, of Glasgow, Manchester Importer, and all denied the charge against them.

After hearing of evidence, his honor directed that arrangements be made for the prisoners to leave the city.

"The evidence shows that Boyle, Sinclair and Gunning entered Petropoulos' premises last night and created a disturbance wherever they were out and managed to get them as far as the door when one of the trio struck him on the head with a bottle, inflicting an ugly cut, while the other two proceeded to assault him. Patrolmen Marshall and McNamee intervened and after a lively sprint landed one of the offenders. The remaining two were arrested later.

One of the prisoners stated that he could find employment in Quebec. "How will you get there?" queried the judge.

"I'll walk," was the reply.

Mary Ann Brookings was sent into jail for two months on a charge of drunkenness.

Patrick Kenney was fined $4 or ten days for a similar offence.

John Clegg, an Englishman, reported for working in the city without a license was sent to city hall to make the necessary arrangements.

THE SUN AND STAR

(From The Daily Telegraph) Trouble over the Sun and Star is likely to come to a head before the Liberal convention. It is said now that Liberals will bring the matter forcibly to the attention of Dr. Egger, but it is scarcely likely that he can succeed in restoring satisfactory conditions. The difficulty is causing much talk in political circles throughout the city. It is reported that an offer has been made to sell the Star, but it is pointed out that the Star is dependent upon the Sun plant. At last accounts the bidding was not exceedingly brisk.

SWEET THINGS ARE ON THE JUMP

How Sugar and Molasses Have Advanced and Some of the Reasons for Present High Figure

Probably many people who may have noticed from time to time an item in this paper telling of an advance of ten cents a hundred pounds in the price of sugar; have taken little interest in the announcement, yet these advances have resulted in putting the price of sugar and also of molasses and many goods of which these commodities form a large part, up considerably in price.

Standard granulated sugar is now quoted at $5.25 per hundred pounds wholesale, which is an increase in price of sixty cents a hundred pounds in three months.

Molasses is selling now at 32 cents a gallon wholesale, an advance of 3 cents a gallon in the past few weeks.

All of the cheaper grades of confectionery have been advanced half a cent a pound as a result of the increased cost of sugars.

Yesterday the New York and Montreal refiners made another advance of 10 cents a hundred pounds. The local dealers have not yet increased their prices but they will probably do so in a day or two.

These advances in sugar are due to the large shortage in the crop of cane sugar this year both in Cuba, Porto Rico, San Domingo and Java. The shortage in cane sugars and the extra consumption this year would be sufficient to absorb one and a half million tons of sugar.

The situation in the raw sugar market is exceptionally strong, and already cane sugar has been purchased by New York refiners at prices equal to the present cost of raw sugar. New York will be compelled to buy beet sugar sooner or later, (paying the heavy duty thereon) in carrying over the heavy duty on the crop of Cuban and Porto Rico sugar and the outlook is for further advances in the near future.

It is interesting to look back over the past few years and see how the market has fluctuated. Last year, varied only 40 cents a hundred pounds and at the close of the year the price had risen ten cents higher than it was in January. This year from January 1 to March 31 there has been an advance of 60 cents in the price of yellow sugar while Austrian granulated has advanced 90 cents in the same period.

Not since 1904 has there been as sharp an advance as has been experienced this year. In 1904 there was a gradual increase in the price of all grades of sugar from June to December, amounting to $1.10 per hundred pounds for the seven months. This was followed by a rather rapid decline early in 1905 until the market reached a point within 60 cents of the low figure from which it started in June 1904. Proportionately the present advance is about the same as in that period. There has now been an advance of 60 cents in three months as compared with $1.10 in seven months.

The following statement shows the average wholesale price of standard granulated sugar in this market in the past eight years:

Table showing average wholesale price of standard granulated sugar from 1901 to 1907.

The highest price at which sugar sold in this period was $6.10 which was the wholesale price in January, 1905 while the lowest figure was $3.95 which ruled from June to October 1902.

The advance in molasses is in consequence of the high prices of sugar and the indications are that the price will go still higher. Fancy Barbadoes molasses is quoted now at 82 cents which is an advance of three cents a gallon since the first new stock came in and there was another advance of a cent a gallon in Barbadoes yesterday which will no doubt be followed by local dealers at an early date.
