ANOTHER SCHOONER TOTALLY WRECKED.

Capt. L. W. Williams, of St. John, and Three Men Drowned—Three others were Saved—No More Bodies Recovered yet from the Lost Wentworth.

Highland, Light, Mass., Oct. 15.—In a furious northeast gale the schooner Elwood Burton, Captain Williams, struck on Peaked Hill near the tip end of Cape Cod last night, and the captain and three of the crew perished. The vessel was literally ground to pieces.

After a long struggle in the heavy seas, the mate and two other seamen were rescued from floating wreckage by Captain Cook and his men of the Peaked Hill life saving station. Quilty as did the life savers respond to their apparatus when the vessel went to pieces so suddenly that it was too late to do anything but pick up the exhausted seamen struggling in the water.

The Elwood Burton, bound from St. John, N. B., to New York, with a cargo of laths, was caught in a squall and driven on the bars. It is considered probable that Captain Williams and the three of his crew drowned were killed during the wreck.

When the life savers arrived the mate, whose name is Judson Stackhouse, and two sailors, were tossing in the breakers clinging to wreckage. They were dragged from the water and all were unconscious. Later two bodies were washed ashore. The schooner Burton was a three masted schooner of 384 tons burden. She was built at Bath Me., in 1872.

The schooner Elwood Burton, which was wrecked today, on the sand bar at Peaked rock, on the extreme point of Cape Cod, sailed from this port on Wednesday morning last for New York, carrying 1,835,600 laths for Stetson, Curtis & Co.

The vessel was in command of Captain L. Woodman Williams, of St. John, N. B., and the crew was composed of the mate J. W. Stackhouse, Frank Holder, of Sweden, aged 24, M. Lear, of Holland, aged 24, J. Jorgensen, of Denmark, aged 28, and Al Janson, of Sweden, aged 25, and Al Janson, of Sweden, aged 25, and Al Janson, of Sweden, aged 25.

CAPTAIN BELONGED HERE. The Elwood Burton was built in 1872, and was 224 tons register. She was constructed mainly of oak and had a hull of iron. She was wrecked on the sand bar at Peaked rock, on the extreme point of Cape Cod, on Wednesday morning last.

OWNS AN ANCIENT TITLE; CHARGED AS COMMON THIEF. Toronto, Oct. 15.—(Special)—Although Hans Waldheim, is of princely family and in speaking terms with the 400 of the continent including the Swiss president, he faces numerous charges for burglary committed here during the past six weeks. It is alleged he has helped himself liberally, from different houses, at four o'clock in the morning, when the policeman are off their beat. Twelve victims already have identified their property found in his room. It appears that Waldheim is wanted in Hamilton, to answer similar charges. From correspondence found on his person he seems to be Baron De Valzeim, German aristocrat, and graduate of a German University although he seems to have been in his water even at home. Mr. T. C. Robinson, K. C., is communicating with the German Princes, a relative, regarding the whereabouts for his defence.

Hemming, The Adventurer

Hemming had been working with his little army all day, and after dining at the mess, he changed and relieved Miss Teton and the doctor before leaving the room...

"Did you see Valentine last night?" she asked. Hemming told her that Hicks had come to his room for quinine...

"I should want me in the night, please call me. I will not be asleep," she said. Hemming, for all his rolling, had gathered a good deal of moss in the shape of handkerchiefs and out-they-way knowledge...

"But I am, sir," blustered the major. "Heaven, man, I'd like to know who has been American consul in this hole for the last seven years, and to get checked out last May by a low plebeian politician..."

"That's who I mean," replied the major, and pushed the dice-box toward him. O'Rourke made no objection to a pair, and had to pay for thirteen drinks...

"Do you think, Mr. O'Rourke," continued the other, "that simply because I'm stranded in this hole, on my beam-ends (to use the language of our worthy table-top) that my brain is past being offended? You are wrong, then, my boy..."

in common but their weather-beaten faces. Their manners were of various degrees, running from the height of civility of a Liverpool "tramp" with his elbows on the board, his greasy and-bitters sloped about, and his voice high in argument...

The Englishman gazed his eyes into place, and glared at her unasily. "Hicks is a good sort," he said, "but he is not the kind for a squinty. Neither are you, Miss Teton. But it's nuts for me, this playing soldier at another man's expense..."

"I am sorry I was rude, sir," explained O'Rourke, "but I had to be grabbed by the arm that way. I must have a nerve there that connects with my temper..."

word to a woman, white or black, for about as long as you have used a razor. But I don't hate womanhood. I'd give my life, such as it is, to any minute of the first woman who would look at me without curling her lip—that is, the first well-bred white woman. Ask Hemming what he thinks, and he will tell you that, in spite of the men, women are still the best creature God ever invented...

"You are right, major, and I gladly confess I used a dashed stupid expression—so now, if you don't mind please shut up about it," replied O'Rourke. To his surprise Farrington smiled, nodded in a knowing way, and leaped into silence...

"Come along, major, you and Jeeves promised to lead with us to-night," said one of them. "If your friend there, Mr. O'Rourke, will overlook the informality of so sudden an invitation," he continued, "we'll be delighted to have him too..."

"That's who I mean," replied the major, and pushed the dice-box toward him. O'Rourke made no objection to a pair, and had to pay for thirteen drinks...

HOMELESS LONDON.

Gen. Booth is once more pointing out to Londoners the duty of taking the outcasts of their city off the streets. There are, according to his estimate, two or three thousand people in our city who are without homes or the means of obtaining shelter...

What Sulphur Does For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily doses of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit. The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Spang's Calcium Wafers.

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

THE SIDE SHOW AT THE FAIR.

A Humorous Plea For Its Abolition or Retention—Which?

He introduced his remarks by referring to the demands of high-minded and public-spirited citizens for the removal from Toronto Exhibition and its many rivals throughout the province of the side-shows and amusement features which call for the annual patronage and condemnation of the visitors.

"I cannot understand," he began with a lofty gesture, "why the directorate should encourage and cater to the taste of the vulgar. I am sure that a more elevating or instructive form of amusement could be provided."

PASSING COMMENT.

Taking one consideration with another, the wearing of open-work underclothing is not advisable just now.—Brantford Courier. "You have evidently seen more of these vulgar exhibits than I," I suggested. "Smith left me, but I saw him later buying tickets for another show. I can only repeat my opinion that the Midway will have to go, as long as the crowd does."

AN OPTIMIST.

Let there should be any doubt about it in the west, an enterprising Moncton correspondent has sent this political forecast to the Winnipeg Free Press.
All indications point to a clean sweep for the liberals from the borders of Quebec down to the borders of St. John city, without the exception of a single constituency. St. John city is debatable ground. Every north shore county is liberal, with the exception of Northumberland, and reports point to a union there of local government and federal liberals, who were dismantled last time. Northumberland county will be redeeded. Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland, Kent, Westmorland, Albert and St. John counties will be in the liberal columns, Westmorland county, which was redeemed four years ago, is through excellent work by county liberals an impregnable stronghold of liberalism.

The Windsor, Ont., board of trade is asking the co-operation of other boards in an endeavor to secure the equipment by the Dominion government of the entire telephone service of the country. It is urged that the telephone service of the whole country should be a national one for public protection, and that the question is a national one, even more so than that of telegraph service. It is strongly recommended that boards of trade and other commercial bodies should take steps to bring about this result. The contract is a large one.
The gentle yet courageous woman who has to-day come to St. John to face her own people, will not find her friends confined to the ranks of the Army. The personality of Commissioner Eva Booth has impressed itself upon all who have heard her impassioned plea for the welfare of the submerged portion of the human society. She said that she loves Canada, and it may be as truly stated that her affection is returned by the Canadian people. St. John welcomes her, and regrets that she has come to say farewell.

NO FRIEND OF LABOR.

Evidence submitted in court in New York this week shows that the fate of Sam Parks has not frightened the labor agitators, who squeeze money out of contractors for their own personal benefit. A plumbing contractor testified that he gave a labor leader $3,000 before the latter would permit his men to go to work. He said that in the course of this conversation with the labor leader the following dialogue took place:
'But wait a minute,' he said, 'I'm not in this business for my health. Neither are you. Now, you're getting $40,000 out of this job. You're making $15,000. I want $3,000, or you or no other man will go to work on that job.'
'I listened and asked him how much he wanted. I want $1,000 in cash and no checks,' he said. 'They don't catch me the way they caught Sam Parks. You can think this over and let me know.'
Q. Did he tell you how to reach him?
A. Yes; he gave me his card and telephone number.
Q. Did you meet him again?
A. Yes; on the following day, at 95 Nassau street, I offered him $1,500. 'I can't take that,' he said. 'I want something like $3,000. The least I can do is $2,700; $1,000 in cash, the rest in notes.'

'He asked how long it would take to finish the job. I told him and begged him not to hold me too tight to the notes, but he wouldn't let go until I sat down and wrote out the notes. He told me to leave the name blank, and he would pay me at my shop. The name could be filled in at a moment's notice. The others were due at intervals of a month.'
Another contractor testified that the same labor leader demanded $3,000 from him, with a threat that unless it was paid no work would be done. Members of New York labor unions may well pray to be delivered from their friends.

RUSSIAN DEFEAT.

St. Petersburg is reluctant to accept the significance of the result of this week's fighting. It is nevertheless more significant than the defeat at Liaoyang. Gen. Kuropatkin this week took the offensive and hurled the whole strength of his army against the Japanese. Had he succeeded in forcing them to abandon their positions the possibility of farther success, or at least of completely checking the Japanese advance for some time, would have been conceded. But he has failed to dislodge the enemy, and has even been compelled to abandon his own former position. However great may have been the Japanese losses, those of the Russians must have been greater, and the Japanese army should be in better condition than that of the Russians for aggressive action. It would not be at all surprising if Kuropatkin should be compelled to abandon Mukden and retire on Hsiao-n. The reports of the battle indicate that the losses were heavy on both sides, and that every inch of ground was

ENGLAND IS VERY DIRTY.

ARE MANY NEW SMOKERS?

Foreigners Complain That it is Impossible to Keep Clean There, Because of Soot and Smoke.
A writer in the Manchester Guardian says that foreigners who visit English cities and towns have a real grievance on the score of the dirty atmosphere. It is smoky and soot-laden, the streets are dirty and after a few hours' sight-seeing the foreigners take they have found adequate explanation of the national devotion to the tub. The writer proceeds to ascribe the blame for this state of uncleanliness.
'For long one has been content to blame the smoky atmosphere of English cities on the belching stacks of factories and workshops. Yet recent years have seen much advance given to the worse offenders among the factories and workshops, and a great improvement in their furnace appliances, so that in many towns there is little room for complaint. Nevertheless, the smoke nuisance is still a serious problem, and one has only to visit some commanding position whence the town as a whole can be seen, to be struck by the hundreds of domestic hearths and large responsible for this state of things. The domestic hearth on the continent is a free from smoke in spite of the fact that they are made of wood and are of a class which is not usually found in this country. FROM BONDAGE TO DEATH.

(From the London Daily Mail.)
A British child was taken, and a slave of the West coast of Africa, the human society. She said that she loves Canada, and it may be as truly stated that her affection is returned by the Canadian people. St. John welcomes her, and regrets that she has come to say farewell.
The great Manchester trade that is done on the west coast claims him and his country, as in this city, there is not complete harmony at the present stage of the campaign. Mr. Robinson has represented the county of Northumberland since 1890, and prior to that has been six years a member of the legislature. He is a strong candidate and has been a good representative.

SIR WALTER SCOTT LETTER.

It is significant of the determination of the community to wage a hot fight that they will oppose the veteran John Costigan in Victoria, Madawaska, Hon. He was a member of the conservative government at Ottawa from 1882 until the defeat of the party in 1896.
It is happily seldom that this community is shocked by such tales of tragedies of the sea as those of yesterday and today, following immediately upon the report of the loss of the schooner Wentworth to Miss Jane Johnson, the widow of a Lieutenant in the King's Hussars, to Miss Jane Johnson, the widow of a Lieutenant in the King's Hussars, to Miss Jane Johnson, the widow of a Lieutenant in the King's Hussars.

REPORT COURTESY.

Pett Ridge, the London journalist and author, is the opinion that the least reputable after all is that half-conscious sort which springs so wholeheartedly from the masses, and here is a story he tells in support of his theory.
A woman who had been selling fish entered an omnibus with the empty basket on her arm, still giving forth an unmistakable odor of the fishy folk who carry it. She took a vacant seat next a young 'gentleman,' who drew his coat-tails away and plainly showed his disgust.
'I s'pose,' remarked the woman presently, 'that you'd rather there was a gentleman sitting beside you?'
'Yes, I would,' was the prompt reply.
There was a moment's pause and then came, 'So would I.'—W. J. Price, in Lippincott's.

HERE'S A PUZZLE FOR SOMEBODY

AND ALL ON ACCOUNT OF 'ROYAL HOUSEHOLD'
'The hold upon the people of Annapolis county which this 'Royal Household' flour has secured of late is one of the most remarkable things I have seen in my eighteen years' business experience," said an Annapolis county merchant who attended the Halifax Exhibition. I find that the majority of my customers absolutely refuse to take anything but 'Royal Household' and I tell you it is almost as to how we are going to sell the stocks we have of other fairly good flours.

PATHTIC TALE.

As a Widowed Mother, One Sister and Two Brothers of Capt. Priddle of the Schooner Wentworth Live in This City.

Tragic indeed was the fate of the crew of the masted schooner Wentworth, of Moncton, which went ashore Thursday night on Chatham, Mass. Bar, during a raging northerly gale, carrying to their doom, Capt. Esau Priddle, his seven sailors, and also his wife and three children.

Not a soul on board-lived to tell the tale and only a small portion of the forward section of the hull and a slanting foremast stand as a mute reminder of another ocean tragedy. The names of the ill-fated crew are as follows: Captain Esau Priddle, master, St. John, (N. B.); George Campbell, first mate, 30 years old, of P. E. I.; J. J. Godfrey (colored), boatswain of Grand Cayman, West Indies; James S. Stewart (colored), steward, 24 years old, Barbados; Edward Burnett, seaman, 32 years, Barbados; Thos. Ferguson, seaman, 20 years, Norway; John Johansen, seaman, 24 years, Norway; John Dillon, seaman, Ireland; Mrs. Priddle, wife of Captain, Jas. aged five; Maggie, aged three; Nellie, aged six months, children of Capt. and Mrs. Priddle. It was just before dark when the keeper of the Naumet light, saw a schooner flying south before the gale with her foremast set. Two hours later the vessel was discovered on the bar, ten miles below. The storm was terrific and the life saving crew at Old Harbor dare not put out. A line was fired but no sign came from the vessel although lights were shining in the cabin. It is thought the heavy sea had washed the crew overboard, then it was only a little shower—One family in St. John are prostrated with grief over the terrible occurrence. At 109 Sydney street reside Mrs. John Buckley, the sister, and Mrs. Priddle, the widowed mother of the unfortunate captain. When they first heard of the disaster about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the mother became hysterical and remained in this condition for some time. Kind neighbors tried to soothe her but she bemoaned her loss bitterly. Toward evening, however, she became resigned somewhat.

Captain Priddle was thirty-three years of age. His wife was twenty-five years old. Both were natives of Carbonar (Nfld.). They were married six years, and their children were all born here. The eldest was Jimmy, aged five, and his sisters were Maggie and Nellie, the former being three years old and the latter six months. Mrs. Priddle's parents still reside in Carbonar.

Captain and Mrs. Priddle took up their residence here shortly after marriage, but Mrs. Priddle often accompanied her husband on his voyages. The last time the family was in the city was early in July. Then Mrs. Priddle and the children went to Halifax, where they joined the captain, and have since been sailing with him.

He has two brothers living here, Captain Edward and Hayward Priddle, but both are at present absent from the city. The only relative of the woman whose life went out in the tempest at Chatham is the wife of Captain Edward Priddle, whose home is in High street. Only last week she had a letter from Mrs. Priddle, who was then with her husband at Hillsboro, where the Wentworth was loading. The letter was written just on the eve of sailing and all were looking forward to a most successful trip. It is probable that the bodies will be brought here for interment. It is the wish of Mrs. Priddle that interment take place in this city. Mrs. Margaret Priddle, mother of the captain and Mrs. John Buckley, a sister, visited the home of the deceased on St. James street last evening to make arrangements for the reception of the bodies. It was a sad duty. Another sister of Captain Priddle is Mrs. Samuel Lilley, of Harbor Grace (Nfld.). Two more brothers live in P. E. Island. Mr. Buckley says that Capt. Priddle did not wish his wife and children to accompany him on this voyage, but requested them to visit Mrs. Priddle's mother at Harbor Grace (Nfld.). Mrs. Priddle, however, wished to make the voyage to New York schooner flying south before the gale with her foremast set. Two hours later the vessel was discovered on the bar, ten miles below. The storm was terrific and the life saving crew at Old Harbor dare not put out. A line was fired but no sign came from the vessel although lights were shining in the cabin. PALMER'S CROSSING.

Scene of Fatal Accidents Will be Closed-Interesting News From Dorchester.

Dorchester, N. B., Oct. 14th.—W. Frank Tait, the popular proprietor of "Hotel Windsor" was completely surprised by the permanent guests of his house on the evening of the 12th, it being the anniversary of his birth. He was the recipient of an address, couched in felicitous terms, accompanied by a beautiful gold ring, set with a costly stone. Mr. Tait made a happy reply. Mrs. Tait in honor of her husband's birthday, served the guests of the house with a most inviting oyster supper. Speech making and songs terminated a very pleasant evening.

Rev. E. W. Gardner of St. John's Nfld., is in town the guest of Rev. B. H. and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Gardner has charge of the Episcopal Missions in and around Battle Harbor, Labrador. He is an enthusiastic confederationalist. He is of the opinion that the ancient colony will in the near future become a part of the great Canadian Confederacy. Work has already begun on the proposed new grade crossing, near the Dorchester Cape Road. Palmer's Crossing, the scene of sad and fatal accidents in the past, will now be closed, by the opening up of this new roadway. The railway department have already placed large quantities of dressed stone on the proposed site of the new crossing. A gang of men are at work excavating.

Mrs. B. P. Steves recently served a "divo o'clock tea" to a number of her friends. The affair was of a very highly enjoyable character. The rush of visitors to the Maritime penitentiary of late has necessitated the issuing of a new order from Ottawa, greatly restricting the number of callers. The question of organic union with the Free Baptists will be submitted to vote in the First and Second Baptist churches, next Sabbath, Oct. 16th. About one hundred invitations have been issued, by Mr. and Mrs. William Beck of Dorchester Cape, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, S. Lena, to Mr. Charles A. Phillips of Amherst, N. B., Wednesday, Oct. 19th. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. B. H. Thomas of the First Baptist church, at five o'clock.

HAD A ROUGH TRIP.

On account of the recent storm along the coast, the steamer St. Croix, Captain Thompson, did not reach Boston, until last night, about thirty-two hours late.

The steamer left here last Wednesday for Eastport, and very high seas and a gale were experienced before the vessel arrived there. After leaving that port the Croix had one of the roughest passages she ever experienced, but being a good sea boat, she weathered the gale in grand style. Captain Thompson, her commander, says that the steamer behaved magnificently. He tried to make for Bar Harbor, but concluded to anchor her outside of that place. After waiting some time the anchors were weighed and the steamer continued on her destination, only again to meet the high seas. The whole trip was the worst experienced in thirty odd years. The steamer left Boston, this morning for this port and will be due to arrive tomorrow afternoon.

CAMPBELLTON NOTES.

Steamer Restigouche has taken the place of the steamer Admiral, made regular trips to all points between Dalhousie and Gaspe. The election does not take place in Gaspe until the 6th of December. This is to allow more time for the return-officer to give the proper notice to the electors of the county. A movement is on foot for the erection of a public hospital in Campbellton next summer. The Orange-men intend building a large hall and it is said that a company will be formed to lease part of the building for a public hospital. Bishop Kingdon of Fredericton administered the rite of Confirmation to about 18 persons in Christ church on Sunday evening. The church was given an impressive service was conducted by his Lordship. Mrs. H. E. Thomas left this morning to visit her mother who is seriously ill, at Woodstock. Mrs. Thomas was accompanied to St. John by Mrs. McMichael (Events).

WILL BE WELCOMED.

The Halifax Performers Who Come to the Opera House Tuesday Evening.

Next Tuesday will be the opening night at the Opera House of the nautical extravaganza, Captain Bosc of the Mantelpiece, which the people of Halifax are sending over for St. John's inspection. Reports speak very highly of this production, and it is certainly not likely that the sister city would give an opportunity for any remarks otherwise than complimentary to their work. The book of the words is extremely clever and is being furnished with local hits and allusions. An influential committee of ladies is looking after the interests of the production and the initial sale of tickets is already very large. Halifax possesses an unusual advantage in having both the army and navy to support its theatrical ventures. In this instance the extravaganza is written by an army man, Captain Campbell Todd, and the music is supplied by an excellent orchestra composed of well known Halifax players.

DAYS OF INTERSESSION.

Tomorrow and Monday, the 16th and 17th are to be observed throughout the Anglican church as days of intercession for Sunday Schools. In St. John appropriate services will be preached in most of the churches and on Monday there will be held, under the auspices of the church of England, S. S. Teachers' Association. A united communion for teachers at 10.30 a. m., at St. John's church, and a devotional service at 5 p. m. at St. Paul's church. Owing to disappointment in securing selected speakers the public meeting which was to have been held in Trinity school house in the evening has been cancelled.

MARINE NOTES.

While hauled off the route a week ago, the Calvin Austin was fitted with a new propeller and cleaned, which greatly increased her speed.

The mate and crew of the Norwegian barque Brodrene, which loaded for Buenos Ayres, went ashore near Weymouth and was condemned, arrived in the city yesterday and will likely go to London by the Furness liner Florence, Capt. Lindstal remains by the ship until she is sold.

ALL READY FOR WINTER.

The number of visitors to the public gardens is fast dwindling, as the season advances, and the grounds now have an almost deserted appearance. The flower beds are no longer bright with bloom, and everything gives evidence of Jack Frost's approach. The water will shortly be drawn from the fountain and the basin protected from the cold weather. The flower beds are being dug up, the foliage plants being taken in doors, and general preparations are being made for a cold and inclement winter. Some of the bulbs have been stored, while a few still remain to be taken in. The hot house is still bright with flowering plants. The begonias are gradually going back, but there is still a good showing. A sufficient quantity of flowering plants have been placed under cover to supply slips for the coming spring. A number of bulbs will be planted, but gardener Stephens does not know, at present, how they will be arranged. When the bloom leaves bulbs plants, the tops are cut off and the bulbs placed in flower-pots and covered with fertilizer. A number of the foliage plants have been attacked by the frost, but most of them are doing well. Everything in the hot house is in a flourishing condition, and Gardener Stephens has a fine collection of foliage plants. Most of the bloom however, is confined to geraniums, as many of the others will not bloom again until the spring. Many of the more delicate plants have to be watched very closely and nursed in the most careful manner, and Mr. Stephens has proven himself fully equal to the task. The house is provided with a first class heating apparatus and everything is now in readiness for the winter.

TO DANCE IN CHURCH. Jersey City Minister Plans to Fight the Devil

ON HIS OWN GROUND. No Reason Why Christians Should Not Dance or Play Cards if They do it Properly.

New York, Oct. 15.—A Jersey City church has undertaken to fight the devil with some of his own weapons. A week ago it opened a "house of pleasure" for the public to obtain recreation there instead of at saloons and dance halls.

There are more than 100 billiard and pool tables, as well as a billiard room, billiard parlors, and a billiard parlors, and the boys may box and wrestle and the men may smoke.

At Mr. Scudder's aid at the corners of the building will be given to the building. The People's Palace will not let the devil have a monopoly of them. It will keep boys of the streets, young men out of saloons and young women out of dance halls.

Every since it was announced that there would be dancing at the People's Palace, the pastor had been receiving letters which denounce his countenance of this sort of amusement. At last the letters came so thick and fast that he was obliged to speak from the pulpit.

"I do not know a jack from a king when it comes to the game of cards," said Mr. Scudder, "but I am objecting to the playing of cards and checkers because they are a waste of time and money."

SHE COULD PLAY POKER. The Great American Game Figures in New York Divorce Suit.

"CANADA'S UNSWerving LOYALTY TO THE EMPIRE." This Was What Most Impressed Sir Howard Vincent During His Recent Dominion Tour.

Sir Howard Vincent, M. P., who was in Canada on his way to England, from the World's Fair, written to the Winnipeg Free Press as follows: To the Editor of the Free Press.

Sir—It may interest your readers to know the impression deeply planted in my mind by my recent tour of the Dominion, in Britain and the British Empire, Canada already has by far the best market, and if the United Empire League is as successful in the next ten years in winning converts to its standard as it has been in the past, no other market will be the slightest comparison.

Sedalia, Mo., Oct. 13.—"Robbing a Pullman is a dead easy trick," according to James O. Ramsay, who confessed today to the chloroform hold-up of the "Katy" flyer between Franklin Junction and this city.

The bandit's confession revealed the existence in Chicago of a gang of train robbers—intelligent young crooks who use chloroform instead of guns to put the traveling public at their mercy.

A DESERVING CHARITY. The free kindergarten committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon. The object of the kindergarten is to do something for the children in the vicinity of Hay Market Square, and Brussels Street. It was carried on last year by friends of the kindergarten, and contributions are now being asked for, in order that it may be carried on this winter. Contributions of clothes are also asked for, and may be sent to the rooms any day, where Miss Burditt will distribute them. Money contributions may be sent to the treasurer, Miss Gunn, King street East, or to Mrs. H. H. Pickett.

ANOTHER BIG ONE IS ASHORE.

John E. Moore Has Word that Schooner Annie M. Allan is Unwrecked.

Word was received this morning by John E. Moore, that the American schooner Annie M. Allan, Captain Rocker, had dragged ashore at Gloucester, during Thursday night's storm and is a total loss.

The Allan was on the voyage from Hillsboro N. B. to Newark, New Jersey, with a cargo of plaster rock.

No further particulars were received and it is presumed that the crew were saved.

The Annie M. Allan was a very large schooner and registered 435 tons for some years she sailed out of this port.

During Thursday a fifty mile gale blew all day.

The wreck of the John C. Smith on Chatham beach broke up during the gale, portions of the hull and cargo of fish came ashore.

The schooner Ada G. Shortland, bound from Augusta, Me. to New York, spilled her deck load of fish this way, from Chatham to Cross Rip Lightship.

The schooner wrecked Saturday morning, was apparently full of water. The tide made deep breaches in her hull.

Several men were seen on the schooner's watch house on Monocoy beach, near Hillsboro, New Brunswick, when it was wrecked and several shanties wrecked.

The rain turned to snow and sleet, winter conditions prevailing as far south as Westport.

This is a gala day among the Salvationists in this and the surrounding places, the occasion being the arrival of Commissioner Eva Booth, the fourth daughter of General Booth, the founder of the arm.

Commissioner Booth is no stranger to St. John. She has been here on several occasions and has visited throughout Canada, she has won a warm place in the hearts of not only her followers but the public generally.

Consequently when she arrived on the C. P. R. express this morning, there was a very large crowd present at the I. C. R. station.

The appearance of the Commissioner was the signal for enthusiastic cheering and the promiscuous fluttering of kerchiefs.

The programme for tonight and tomorrow is as follows: At 7 o'clock Saturday evening a council of officers, soldiers, recruits and ex-soldiers will be held in the corner of King and Charlotte streets.

At 10.45 Sunday there will be a holiness meeting and at 2.45 p. m. crushed his legs so badly that leg amputation was necessary.

Monday at 3 p. m. Col. Pugmire will lead a holiness meeting in the Opera House, the commissioner will give her farewell address.

FAMILY OF SEVEN CAN FEED WELL ON THIRTY-FIVE CENTS.

Of Course This Won't Buy Terrapin or Cover the Wine But it Will Provide a Wholesome Meal... Mrs. Hall Talks on Household Economy.

"Much of the misery and distress with which the Associated Charities have to deal is due to bad management rather than lack of funds. Many families on my list are really suffering for want of food, simply because they do not know how or what to buy."

The above statement was made to the Times today by Mrs. Hall, secretary of the Associated Charities in the course of a conversation on the association's work and the prospects of its help being often asked for by St. John's poor.

Continuing she said: "A plentiful meal of good, nourishing food for a family of seven may be had for less than thirty-five cents," and in support of this she gave the following menu:

- "A loin of beef, or some meat08
drippings02
A loaf of bread, (two days old)04
A pint of milk ... 4
Mixed vegetables05
Sugar05
Butter08

"I have seen this tried time and again," said she, "and I am sure there is practically no need of starting with it."

As to the prospects for this winter's work she said:

DEATHS OF THE WEEK. There were fourteen deaths in the city during the week, from the following causes: Pneumonia, 2; and one each from old age, drowning, asthma, consumption, typhoid fever, malarial fever, diphtheria, endocarditis, cholera infantum, cancer of stomach, chronic alcoholism and heart disease.

Winter Overcoats. THE 20th CENTURY SORT.

If you were to ask us why our garments were entitled to the special consideration of men in general, we would say on account of their fit, style and service. Every garment is cut and fashioned individually. Every yard of fabric has been thoroughly shrunk before its employment. Every phase of making has been at the hands of tailor-men who, by their ability and experience, have stamped themselves as masters of their craft.

Probably we sell more fine clothing for men than any other store in town—clothing of aristocratic style; out of the common sort; exclusive. That's a knowable fact. Every season's turn brings back men who have learned how superior Our Clothing is to ordinary ready-made and custom tailoring; how close it comes to the product of the best tailors—at a much lower price.

We want you to buy your Winter Overcoat here, and after a winter's wear, see how well it wears and keeps its shape.

We think if you once come here we can keep your trade. See our specials at $10.00, $12.00, $13.50, $15.00 and $16.00.

Then the grey old tower with its heavy crooked gables and ancient, ruined abbey, and over all the kindly sunshiny of a Scottish summer day.

IN RURAL ENGLAND.

The condition of the leading manufacturing centers of Great Britain is most deplorable. Complaint is universal. Manufacture in many districts is at a standstill and the greatest anxiety exists as to the outcome.

All this, of course, lends force to the agitation for a modified tariff started by Mr. Chamberlain, but the cry of cheap food for the workmen still continues to be the controlling force in industrial agitation.

The sorry fact is that while England is enlarging her cities, building larger factories and crowding the laboring classes closer together, she is permitting the rural classes to degenerate.

Automobiles who have "done" England cross this summer find the ancient manor houses with their windows boarded up, their gardens grown to weeds and things generally in a tumble down condition. Dilapidation seems to be the rule everywhere.

Meanwhile 77 per cent. of England's population lives in cities, and the percentage is rapidly increasing. It is bad enough in the United States, where 40 per cent. of the people live in the cities, but as a matter of fact, no country in the world is so badly centralized as England.

The opportunities for the people to expand are more than 20 times greater in the United States than in England, while 85 per cent. of England's agricultural area is rented.

The immediate problem in England is how to save the English farmer. The salvation of the crowded laboring population of the cities will much depend upon this.

AUTOMATIC COUPLERS.

A member of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants of Great Britain, in making a complaint against the present coupling methods in use there, cites the following interesting statistics: In 1893 about 180,000 trainmen were employed in coupling and uncoupling cars in the United States. Of these 11,710 were either killed or injured. In 1903, owing to the compulsory use of automatic couplers, despite an increased number of trainmen, the killed and injured had fallen to 2,400.

"This some 64,000 men in the intervening period who would otherwise have died or suffered, and left widows or orphans, were spared to their work and to their families by the legislative enforcement of automatic couplers." In England on the other hand, during the same period there has been an increase in yearly coupling accidents of over 2,000.

Most of our maps of Asia are drawn to a small scale, and on such maps the Japanese Archipelago fills little space, but she is larger than England and more populous. She has 63,000,000 more people than France. She sent an armie over sea within six months, every one of which was as big as either army that met at Waterloo. She has sent to Manchuria twice as many soldiers in six months as England sent to South Africa in two years.

Aunt Jane—"I suppose that little book you carry in your bag contained improving quotations, but the leaves were all blank. You said it was your book of self-help, you know." "Heuretic!" "Do it. It's the latest thing in toilet powder."

Bertie—"You don't mean to say you have refused Frederick?" "Edith had to tell me he had never done anything for me, and I was ashamed of a never could think of marrying a shameless man, you know."

She—"There's nothing so beautiful as a mother's love." "Yes—"And there's nothing so just as a boy's love for his mother. The hair and make him look like a guy."

Felix—"And where did you get the check?" "It was given to me by a girl who was quick at repartee. I saw she was a liar, and he replied by giving me a punch in the optic."

HIS INTENTIONS.

Has the man who has been asked his intentions by an irate parent ever given a satisfactory account of himself?

Long before the Pilgrim Fathers knelt on Plymouth Rock, Mexico boasted of society. Following the Conquistadores came families introducing refined Latin civilization as it was known in Europe.

Hence Mexican society of today has a tradition. Unlike the mushroom growth which is known in more pretentious countries this Mexican society does not want itself. Like the charity recommended by the Apostle, it is not put up. It is stately and exclusive.

It has to be sought. It has the charm of quistade. When found it opens with warmth. It is the essence of hospitality. It is self-contained, free from arrogance, and content.

The patios and corridors of the homes are bright with foliage. The atmosphere is musical with the chirping of birds, and the dreamy splash of fountains. The paintings on the walls suggest a spirit of devotion. The welcome extended is genuine and cultured. The visitor feels at once at home.

CANCER IS INCREASING.

Dr. Roger Williams, in the Lancet (London), treats of the prevalence of cancer. He states that it is reported that the Imperial Research Fund has come to the conclusion that there is no real increase in the number of cases of cancer. This statement he disputes, and gives his reasons for believing in a most decided increase.

His statistics from 1840 to 1900 show that the death-rate per thousand has changed from 177 at the earlier date to 828 in 1900, and that the proportionate number of cases to the population has changed from 1 in 5048 to 1 in 1,207.

According to these figures, which are presumably trustworthy, there is no question of the increase. He then takes up the various ways in which this apparent increase is explained. Many have thought this increase due simply to the increase in the population, but it is shown that the cancer mortality has increased threefold, while the population has doubled. It is not true that it is an increase of average age, because of better hygienic conditions, for this increase is in the ages below those most subject to cancer.

He then takes up the claim that the increased number may be due to more accurate diagnosis, and claims that this is balanced by the fact that old practitioners classed as cancer many tumors not of a malignant nature. The greater increase in men as compared with women he explains as probably due to urbanization, by which men are to a large extent living under conditions to which women were formerly more especially subject.

Lady Marcus Belford, who founded England's cat club, is said to have the best cat in the world. It contains over 150 felines. She has, of course, the cat breeds, rare Persian Chinchis, and with bushy tails and Manx cats with out any tail whatever. She has a cat cottage where every provision has been made for comfort and cleanliness, ventilation and warmth.

COMING TO THE POINT.

The lovely girl lapped softly at the doop of her father's private office. There was no response. She tapped a little louder.

"Come in." She turned the knob and entered. The girl's hair money grabber looked up at her little head.

"Hello, Lucie!" "Hello, pa!" "Anything wrong?" "No, pa." "Well, you see, pa, I want—" "How much, my girl?" "Well, you see, pa, I want—" "Wait, pa. Give me time." "That's something I can't spare." "Just a minute, pa. I want to give—" "What will it be?" "Well, don't think to me. I haven't any idea what a young man wants." "But I have, pa. I-I know just what he wants." "Oh, that's all right, of course. Give him anything you please. Want a check?" "No, pa." "Oh, speak up." "I want you to say it's all right, pa. I want you to say again that I can give him anything I please." "Silly girl. Of course you can. You've always had your own way. Is that all?" "Well, he wants it." "Well—" "Tablets—Manchester (England) Chronicle.

GENIUS NOT HEREDITARY.

Famous Men Have Sprung From Oblivion, But Their Fame Rarely Descends to Their Sons.

A family pursues its commonplace existence for several generations, and then, without any apparent reason, a son or a daughter, endowed with faculties quite foreign to parents and relatives, mounts to the highest pedestal of fame.

Genius, however, does not beget genius, and so, as soon as nature has sported with the one shining example, the glory dies away, and once more the dead level of common humanity is resumed.

WINTER WINDOW GARDEN.

Simple Hints For This Method of Beautifying the Home.

There is nothing prettier or cheaper than a windowful of thriving plants. To have an attractive plant window, follow these four simple rules:

1. Choose plants adapted to room culture and to the amount of sunshine they will receive. 2. Feed them well. 3. Keep them clean. 4. Keep all insects from them.

GINSENG MADE THIS MAN RICH.

Now he Owns What is Probably the Most Valuable Quarter of Farm Land in the World.

Perhaps the most valuable quarter acre of ground in the world is situated in one corner of the private garden of a country merchant living in Houston, Texas, county, Mo.

This patch of Missouri is planted in ginseng. The country merchant who owns it is G. F. Millard, who has lived in Texas county all his life, who has made a modest fortune in the mercantile business, and tried stock raising as a "side line" and suffered a heavy loss, and who then, although still continuing in the mercantile business, took up the study and culture of ginseng.

CHEAP FEED FOR HORSES.

Molasses Mixed In Rations Greatly Reduces Cost of Feeding - Practical Horsemen Talk.

A Brooklyn dealer in superior truck horses advertised in the Eagle a few weeks ago, his possession of the largest horse in the world, stating its weight to be 2,000 pounds.

Not long before his translation he was one day walking in the suburbs of the English capital, when he chanced upon a little girl who was standing looking up somewhat wistfully at a four-barred gate.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S JOKE.

His Grace of Canterbury has a Pleasant Wit Even when the Laugh is on Himself.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is known among his friends as especially partial to two things—children and jokes. As Bishop of London he won no little of his great influence in the alms districts because of his immense popularity with the small citizens whom he so truly loved, and as for the 30000 men used but to hear the famous prelate tell one upon himself to realize how keen is his zest for humor.

THE DRESSMAKER'S SLAVE.

What mockery to praise of the equality of the sexes when one sex possesses the freedom of uniform, and the other is the slave of ever varying costume!

When we are all our days panting and playing with scholarship or politics condemned to spend merely on keeping our sleeves in sight! Talk of our equality of the sexes when one sex is just a little ahead! Yet dress reform is the first article in our creed of antipathies, and it is for one an last of women to declare herself a heretic.

JAPAN'S 8,000,000 GODS.

It is said that there are no fewer than 8,000,000 gods worshipped by the Japanese. Praying is made very easy.

In the streets are tall posts, with prayers printed on them, and with a small wheel attached. Any one can give the wheel a turn, and that accounts for a prayer. The people in the second largest of the 8,580 islands of which the empire is composed worship the bear and reverence the sun, moon, fire, wind, and water—Exchange.

THEY MUST HAVE POCKETS.

There is a rumour that women are rebelling at their pocketless gowns, especially those designed for street wear.

Even now designers are being besieged by women who are in favor of this important addition to their gowns. One ardent exponent of independence declares she will not get the fashion herself if her dressmaker does not fall in with her ideas and gratify her desire for this one comfort at least.

A young woman who considers pockets a necessity, defied the tailor and secured in her jacket five depositories for such utensils and treasures as she felt constrained to carry daily. Within the front of the jacket two pockets held her letters, notebook, pencil and checkbook.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

Wonderful System That Outshines Marconi's Discovery... How the Mirror is Used-Experiments in Germany.

Telephoning along a ray of light is seems incredible, but it has been accomplished. Science has harnessed to this end world many helping hands, but none more wonderful than this, delightfully simple though it appears to be.

How is it done? It all hinges upon the peculiar property of selenium of altering its resistance in the light.

Use of the Mirror. The mirror, which serves as a front-phosphor diaphragm, is placed in a tube of a resonating chamber and the slightest sound makes it vibrate, and thus alter the intensity of the beam of light.

These changes in the beam of light affect the selenium in the receiver, and so the message finds its way through space.

It is to be noted that the credit of this discovery is due. In 1880 he devised the "photophone" and subsequent experiments all acknowledged their indebtedness to him.

He discovered that selenium is sensitive to other than red and yellow rays, such as blue, violet, and ultraviolet, or invisible rays—otherwise it would have been impossible to use the apparatus when the sun was shining.

Wonderful System. The reader may wonder what are the advantages of this system of wireless telephony over the ordinary system. There are three, at any rate.

Messages can be sent rapidly than at present, replies to messages received can be sent instantaneously, and perfect secrecy is insured.

ABOUT LADY CURZON. Lady Curzon, whose illness is so widely deplored, has been well described as one of the most beautiful women of two continents.

SERMONS IN STONES. Gravestone inscriptions are responsible for many lapses into unconscious humor, as well as expressions of sadness for the bereft and of hope for the life beyond.

Lady of the House. "I'm afraid you're a fair-weather friend," said a regular customer to a woman who was a regular customer.

A PRETTY TALE.

Thousands of years ago there lived a beautiful princess; she was the most beautiful princess that ever lived.

Sometimes a youth would see this castle in a cloud which looked as if it sat right on top of a mountain, and so he would climb to the top of the mountain, but when he got there he saw this wonderful castle sailing off, far, far away.

At last he came to the princess, and you may be sure that she was much surprised to find a young man in her bedroom, sitting on one of her golden chairs.

"Why, what is the matter, dear heart," she cried, "but I have no wings to go with you to the earth," she replied.

"Oh, nothing, only a dream I had last night," he answered. But he continued to see her all day, so he decided to tell her his dream.

"If that is the only thing that troubles you, I can soon relieve you of that trouble," said the princess.

The best consequences are poor, and are only awkward mixtures of the two forms, which yield confusion and indecision during the entire subsequent life.

At the battle of the Yalu. Soldier Suzuki was shot through the stomach and fell down. But he cried out: "You, it is only a scratch."

VOICED ORGANS OF BIRDS. Birds have no vocal chords in the larynx, but they possess a unique voice organ in the syrinx.

JAPAN SHOWS NO SURPRISE.

Nation Takes Remarkable Statements of Finance Minister on Cost of War as Simple Matter of Course.

The theory that modern Japan is merely a mosaic of borrowings from western civilization, and that the composite structure is not organic and animated by life of its own, has received many rude knocks during the year.

Imagine a chancellor of the exchequer or our own secretary of the treasury making a financial statement of similar import! One can almost hear the shriek as the money must be prepared for sacrifices.

SCOTCH BONE SETTER.

The most remarkable pilgrimages of modern days are not found on the continent or in the far east, but in said, sober England and Scotland.

In spite of his fame Rae still occupies the humble cottage in Blantyre where he lives when unknown to the world, and his time is so wholly given up to his patients that he probably has small opportunity of considering removal to a more exalted sphere of labour.
