ASK WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS FROM HAITI REPUBLIC

Arrange to Send Delegation to Washington—Not Taken Seriously by Authorities.

Port au Prince, Dec. 22.—(Associated Press correspondence.)—Reports that Haitians formerly active in the politics of the republic were trying to put forward a movement looking to the withdrawal of American occupation forces have been widely circulated in Port au Prince.

Discussion of this possibility, the president has declared that under the treaty, the occupation forces will remain until the Washington government is convinced that the gendarmerie is prepared to deal with any situation.

The freedom with which some of the Haitian newspapers have attacked and attacked marines has helped stimulate the demand of some of the old political leaders that they be sent home.

CURFEW HITS DUBLIN HARD

Ten O'clock Closing Affects Theatres and Picture Houses—Tramways Also Feel It.

Dublin, Dec. 30.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—The 10 o'clock curfew, lately put into effect, hit Dublin a hard blow. The city had accommodated itself easily to a midnight closing hour previously in force, but the 10 o'clock embargo on all activity meant the complete abandonment of all social functions in the evening.

The theatres are suffering most. At one house the first night after curfew, there were only eleven people in the auditorium. The moving picture houses are doing better, but they all have to close at nine to enable their patrons to get home before the curfew hour.

The tramway company's cars are now nearly empty in the evenings. They lately raised the fares by parliamentary authority to enable them to meet increased expenses, but the drop due to the curfew has more than wiped out the additional receipts.

The regulation is declared to be imposed in the interest of the public to induce them to avoid the risks of being abroad after dark. In present conditions, even if there were no curfew, many people would be too timid to leave home in the evenings.

THE FUTURE OF JAPAN.
A New York Journal sets forth very clearly in the following paragraph one of the chief causes of anxiety in Japan regarding the future of that country:—
"Corrected figures of the new Japanese census show a total population of 77,005,000 in the Empire, on an area of 380,000 square miles. The population of Japan proper, without Korea, Formosa and Sakhalin, is just short of 56,000,000, upon an area of 148,000 square miles. The density of the population is almost identical with that of the United Kingdom, or about 380 to the square mile. The population of Germany before the war (1910) was only 510 to the mile; that of France (1911) was 189,5, and that of the United States is now about 85. Our four States of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Ohio have about the area of Japan. These figures show why Japanese statesmen find the question of guaranteeing sustenance and improved well being to their teeming millions an urgent one. Nor do mere figures of population and area tell the whole story. In no other nation except the United States is population rising so fast. Japan was outstripping Europe even before the war. In the decade 1910-1911 the population of England rose 10.3 per cent, while the decennial increase in Japan revealed by the latest census is 12 per cent. We think of the Germans as a fertile stock. Yet the surplus of births over deaths in Japan in 1914 was 718,000; the surplus in Germany, with its one-fifth greater population, was very slightly larger—756,000."

BETTER DAYS IN MEXICO
That conditions are greatly improved in Mexico is the view of one hundred and fifty-eight business and professional men of Los Angeles, who made a day-long tour in that country and witnessed the inauguration of President Obregón. In their report to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce they discount the correspondence sent out by those who would like to convey false impressions concerning Mexico, and say:—
"The truth is that the better class of Mexicans are striving for a stable government, for the development of their lands, mines and commerce, and are sincerely trying to see their country right before the world. A new era is dawning in Mexico. The next decade, we believe, will see great progress and development in our neighboring republic."

WHY DOES THE STANDARD MISREPRESENT THE CASE ABOUT THE NEW RAILWAY BRIDGE PLANS? It is not true that the civil authorities were consulted or advised concerning the height of the bridge. It was only when the facts were learned last June that the demand for a change was made. The city was ignored in the matter and has a perfect right to ask for a change in the interests of navigation of the river. That change will still be asked for—at Ottawa.

CITY AND COUNTRY.
It seems a ghastly pity that all the girls and boys are thronging to the city, grown tired of village joys. The city bids them enter, gives them the cordial hand; and down, in old Hay Centre the empty buildings stand and "Aw, chee!" the kids are saying, "the old town is a frost; we'll go where bands are playing, regardless of the cost." The country town is shrieking. It's known a dismal slump, with only graybeards drinking around the village pump. The sad-eyed merchant prices gaze down the dusty street, and wishing absent worn quines, invoke the name of Pete. The young folks all are leaving, they go on every train, to search for joys deceiving, and pleasures all in vain. Adventure is the mentor that counsels them to go; and shining down in old Hay Centre the line is pretty slow. Hay Centre's ways are quiet, she's calm, without, within she has no mid-night riot, or garish brands of sin. Her people all are sleeping when village clocks strike ten, and no cheap sports are keeping high wassail in a den. They go to church on Sunday to hear the pastor shout and all the dames on Monday still hang the washing out, Hay Centre has no pink uns to chronicle life's game; but from such towns our Lincoln and other great men came. It's sad to see her dying, abandoned, dusty, gray; but all the kids are signing to tread the Great White Way.

THE MICMACS.
When the early explorers came to the present Nova Scotia province they found the land in the possession of bands of Indians whom they named Micmacs. The Micmacs were in comparative peace among themselves, although there was always danger of an attack from the Micmacs in the present time the United States. With the coming of the whites and the subsequent war between the Micmacs and the English the Micmacs were driven westward. At present a constant warfare for the Micmacs is being conducted by the English in their campaigns against the Micmacs.

RED AND GREEN.
She had very red hair. A rude youth teased the railway carriage in which she was seated, glanced at her once or twice, tittered, and then edged away to a farther corner.
"Excuse me, miss," he giggled, "but I must not get too close to you or I might get burnt, you know."
"But she, a Lancashire lassie, was quite equal to the occasion."
"Don't these fret, lad," she replied, "but I'm not much too green to burn."

CAN'T TELL HIM.
He stood upon the Catalina pier and watched the fishermen bring in the giant blue-fish tuna. Wide-eyed, he gazed upon the 400-pound catches, and gazing he saw the huge swordfish swung up from the boats. Finally there was hoisted up a black bass, a 500-pounder. It was too much for the tourist. Pointing his finger at the monster, he paled and retorted wildly:

COMMON COUNCIL
The civic estimates for the current year will be made public at a meeting of the common council in committee next Monday morning. This decision was reached at the adjourned meeting of the council committee yesterday afternoon.

YORK CO. COUNCIL AIDS NEW HOME
Fredericton, Jan. 6.—The York county council yesterday voted $3000 for the municipal home now under construction at Nashwaakias. The total cost of property construction and equipment is estimated at slightly more than $45,000. Of the $30,000, $10,000 is to be assessed for this year and $25,000 is to be raised by a ten year bond issue.

DROWNED IN RIVER
Monroe, Me., Jan. 6.—Edwin S. Curtis, one of the best known and highly respected residents of this town, lost his life by drowning in the stream not far from his home. He left his home to go to his woodlot, not far distant. It was found that he had broken through the ice and been swept down stream by the swift current. His body was soon recovered.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA.
London, Jan. 7.—The text of two long telegrams exchanged during the last week by M. Tchitcherine, Russian Soviet foreign minister, and Earl Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs, each seeking to blame the other side for the protracted trade negotiations, are interesting only as showing that the chief point of contention is Great Britain's insistence upon modifying the preamble of the July agreement by defining precisely the geographical areas within which the Soviets pledge themselves to refrain from anti-British propaganda.

SWEDEN RATIFIES.
Geneva, Jan. 7.—The Swedish government has notified the secretary of the League of Nations of the ratification of the protocol establishing the court of international justice. Sweden thus is the first of the signatory countries to ratify. As soon as a majority of the members of the league take similar action the statutes of the court will come into force.

TOOK DIMENSIONS OF GIANT STAR

Successful Measuring of Betel Geuze Described—Marks Great Step.

Dr. George Ellery Hale, director of the Mount Wilson Observatory, near Pasadena, Cal., gave to the Associated Press an article he had written describing the successful measuring at the observatory December 18, of the star Betel Geuze, in the Constellation of Orion, showing its diameter to be 600,000,000 miles.

"On Dec. 13, 1920, the diameter of the bright red star Betel Geuze (Arabic for 'The Giant's Shoulder') in the Constellation of Orion, was successfully measured on Mount Wilson," Dr. Hale writes.

"The stars are so remote that hitherto it has not been possible to measure their diameters. In spite of the fact that many stars must be much larger than the sun.

"In his presidential address last August before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, Professor A. S. Eddington, of Cambridge, remarked: 'Probably the greatest need of stellar astronomy at the present day, in order to make sure that our theoretical deduction are starting on the right lines is some knowledge of measuring the apparent angular diameter of stars.

"He then went on to predict that the star with the greatest apparent diameter is almost certainly Betel Geuze, diameter 0.031 seconds of Arc. This result was just obtained, and is a remarkable verification of the prediction.

"The measurement was made with the one-hundred inch Hooker telescope by Messrs. Pease and Anderson, of the observatory staff.

"No telescope is powerful enough to measure accurately the extremely small angle subtended by a star.

"This very difficult and delicate task is rendered possible by a method de-by subsequent measure, it is probably correct within ten per cent.

"To learn the linear diameter of the star we must know its distance from the earth. The three available measures of the distance of Betel Geuze are not in very close agreement, but the average is probably fairly reliable. Using this value, the diameter of the star comes out three hundred million miles. In other words, it would fill the orbit of Mars.

"The colossal size of Betel Geuze will be recognized when it is compared with the sun, which is less than a million miles in diameter. The sun, if it were a hollow sphere, would contain a million bodies as large as the earth, or if the earth were fixed as its centre, the moon 240,000 miles away, could move in its orbit and have much room to spare. Yet, when we remember that the sun, in a state of very attenuated gas, many millions of years ago, must have filled the entire solar system, we recognize the possibility that stars even larger than Betel Geuze may exist.

"The new result beautifully confirms the recent calculations of Russell, Hertzsprung and other students of stellar evolution. A few years ago Russell showed that there must be two great classes of stars; the 'Giant's'-large gaseous body in an early stage of development, and the 'dwarfs' which have condensed to the stage represented by our sun.

"The successful measurement of the actual diameter of the stellar 'giant' now furnishes the last link in the chain and prepares the way for a promising extension of our investigations on the formation and development of the stars."

EXECUTIONS BY THE MILITARY NOT UNFREQUENT

Conditions in Halifax More Than a Century Ago—Slaves Were Offered for Sale—Much War Loot.

(Occasional in Halifax Recorder.)

During the war of the French Revolution (1793) British cruisers and privateers often arrived at this port with prizes. On one occasion thirteen of these were brought in by two cruisers. Cargoes of flour, wine, fruit, etc., were often captured, and the market here was abundantly supplied with good things, and there was no luxury tax. Halifax was destined to hear, but only to hear, of "the battle's distant din." The militia manned the forts, and the Nova Scotia regiment manned some of the men-of-war who went in pursuit of French ships of war, in southern latitudes.

At the close of the legislative session, 1799, Mr. Speaker Uniacke referred to the fact that fifty years had elapsed since the foundation of the town. "There are members both of the council and the assembly who recollect when the first tree was felled on the spot where you now preside over a flourishing and happy colony." (He referred to the site on which the present post office stands.)

This year (1799) the Duke of Orleans, with his two brothers, exiles from France, visited Halifax in November. Another distinguished visitor was Wm. Cobbett, returning from New York to Great Britain. While here, he dined with the Duke of Kent. Tradition says while in Halifax Cobbett resided in the little old house, still standing, at the top of Blowers street. He first landed in Halifax as a corporal of the 54th regiment. The regiment had come to Halifax at the close of the Revolutionary War, from New York, and Cobbett was sent out from England with a detachment of recruits to reinforce that regiment.

Military executions were not unfrequent at this date and later. Four were Little Lesta Chetley, 26 Bryden street, came to the Times office today with a living butterfly, caught in the dining room of her home on Wednesday. It was flying about the room as if in summer.

THE LATE MRS. W. J. NELSON

Besides those mentioned yesterday, Mrs. W. J. Nelson, whose death occurred in the hospital on Wednesday, is survived by a brother, George. The funeral will be held on Monday, January 11, at 2.30 o'clock from her late residence, 274 Princess street.

TRAFFIC CASES.

Two by-law cases in which James H. Williams, chauffeur for Thomas Parks, was reported for having no front or rear light on January 4, and Max Lamont, charged with exceeding the speed limit, were taken up in the police court this morning. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each.

THE FUND SWELLED.

The magistrate made an appeal for the "down and out fund" at the morning session of the police court, and the sum of $5.49 was collected to help some poor unfortunate to get to his home when stranded in the city.

NO INQUEST.

Coroner H. A. Porter said this morning with reference to the death of Marguerite McNeil, who died in the General Public hospital after being struck by a street car in Brussels street, that as there was nothing to show that death was caused by anything but accident, an inquest would be unnecessary.

IN MEMORY OF HERO SON.

Mrs. E. J. McCarron of Hampton, recently received a silver cross from the department of militia, Ottawa, in memory of her son, E. J. McCarron, Jr., who was killed in action during the world war. He enlisted with the sportman's battalion, Winnipeg, and was in St. John while they were quartered here. A brother, Matthew McCarron, is chief train dispatcher for the C. N. R., Moncton, and a cousin, Patrick McCreeary, was the first New Brunswicker who was killed in the South African war.

Returns of salaries of employees, dividends to stockholders and payments to beneficiaries of estates must be filed not later than March 31st. Individual and corporation income returns must be filed not later than April 30th.

A HANDSOME CALENDAR.

In sending the Times a calendar and new year greetings, Irving D. Appleby, retail merchant, corner St. James and Charlotte streets, says: "Your paper has proved a tremendous asset to my business, my ads meeting with big results at all times." The handsome calendar Mr. Appleby sends bears a copy of a famous painting in the London and Globe Division of Indian troops against the German wedge at Ypres, on April 25, 1918, so well described by Sir Conan Doyle in the Strand Magazine.

Our Pre-Stock Taking Sale A Big Drawing Card

The prices that are governing at this store now during this pre-stock taking sale sort of sound like pre war times. It is to be remembered in connection with this sale that the furniture affected is in no way of the shop worn variety or originally bought for the purpose of "selling below cost" but an actual legitimate effort on our part to dispose of odd pieces at prices that will do this prior to taking stock.

You'll want to take advantage of the opportunity thus offered and we'd suggest coming in at once as the piece you'd particularly want might be taken up.

REPORT ON WORK OF THE RED CROSS

Meeting of Hospital Committee Held Today

What Was Done at the Joyous Christmas Season—Other Reports on Activities of the Society.

Small card on which was "From me to you." Mrs. W. P. Bonnell presented the report of the buying committee. Mrs. W. H. Shaw announced that Charles A. Munro had donated to the committee all magazines unsold at the end of each month. A large number of thanks was extended to Mr. Munro. Mrs. W. Forster reported for the following committee. It was decided to abolish this name and to merge the work of the committee into the work of the hospital committee as a whole. Mrs. Anglin asked for an expression of opinion on the part of the members as to the advisability of the committee continuing the work as a whole and continuing to embrace all the various activities in which it was now interested. Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley made a special appeal for the continuation of the drives for the soldiers' comforts. Mrs. Frank White thought the committee very successful in reaching and keeping in touch with individual cases. Mrs. Tilley moved that the work of the committee be continued on the same lines as now without any limitations. This was carried unanimously. The committee worked between $5,000 and $6,000 a year in its various activities. Mrs. J. H. Duddy reported for the following committee. Mrs. Tilley said that Mrs. Fred Fisher had reported that St. John's (Stone) church had sent ice-cream, flowers and books to the hospitals and had provided a special treat at New Year's. Local Society. At a meeting of the local Red Cross Society this morning, with the president, Mrs. Frank White, in the chair, Miss Ethel Jarvis was appointed secretary pro tem. A motion was passed that the request that she send in some supplies of which the society was short, and a special appeal was made to dress gowns and bed jackets. On the request of the president, Mrs. Richard O'Brien agreed to enlist the aid of the Catholic ladies in making some needed supplies. An invitation was read from the Knights of Pythias for representation of the Red Cross Society to be present at the dedication of the new Pythian Castle in Union street. Mrs. G. F. Smith and Mrs. Stewart Sawyer were appointed.

WORK OF RED CROSS IN NEW YORK CITY

School Children Will Be Fed and Health Information Centre Established.

(New York Evening Post.) Since health work on an unusually large scale is to be carried on by the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross this year, and nearly a million persons in Manhattan will be reached by it, it was said today by John S. Ellsworth, chairman of the board of directors. Although the work will be largely preventive and educational, much of it will be actually curative. Fifteen hundred undernourished school children will be given expert care at the Red Cross child health stations of the city, and in addition to being brought up to normal weight will have all other physical ailments such as diseased tonsils and adenoids, ear and eye defects, remedied. In co-operation with the City Health Department experimental work is to be undertaken at Public School 43, which Dr. S. Josephine Baker of the Health Department has selected as a typical old-fashioned, overcrowded school to demonstrate what can be done for New York children through an efficient health service.

At Dr. Baker's request the Red Cross will operate several nutrition classes, conduct a dental clinic and give instruction in dental hygiene at the school. A hundred and fifty dietitians and public health workers from Teachers college will use the school as a practice laboratory.

To Open Health Bureau. A health information bureau is to be opened at Greenwich House, 27 Barrow Street, where, through the speakers' bureau, lecturers on health will be provided for mothers' clubs, shops, settlements and other organizations. During the past eight months 34,650 persons have attended lectures planned by the bureau. Temporary and permanent invalids of the city will be able to get at cost, home-cooked food at the diet kitchen run in connection with the Red Cross teaching centre, 24 Fifth Avenue, and it is hoped eventually to have these supplies taken to the homes of the sick.

Needs of transient soldiers and sailors will continue to be cared for and it is expected that last year's record of 70,000 will be passed. The disabled in hospitals, those who have been discharged as cured but still need help of some kind, nurses who have been incapacitated through service, and their families will be the organization's particular

CAPACITY OF ELEPHANT FOR LIQUOR IS QUESTION Chicago, Jan. 7.—The question of how much liquor can legally be prescribed for an elephant, camel or a dog is in the hands of the federal grand jury today. The grand jurors are investigating the case of Dr. Bert Franklin, owner of a veterinary hospital, arrested for issuing too many liquor prescriptions. Franklin's defense according to District Attorney Clyde, is that the prescriptions were issued for animals treated in his hospital, but the government alleges that owners of the animals drank the medicine.

61 LYNCHINGS IN UNITED STATES

All Saye Eight Are Colored Persons, 1920 Records Show.

Tuskegee, Alabama, Jan. 7.—Lynchings in the United States were less numerous in 1920 than in 1919, according to records compiled at Tuskegee Institute, and made public today. Sixty-one persons, including eight white men, were lynched this year as compared with 83 last year and 64 in 1918, the statement said.

In 66 instances in 1920 officers of the law prevented lynchings, the reports showed, 10 of these instances being in the Northern and 46 in the Southern States. Armed force was used to repel would-be lynchings in 14 cases, and in four of these mobs were fired upon, seven of the attackers having been killed and a number wounded. In 42 cases prisoners were removed or the guards were augmented, or other precautions taken.

Of the 61 lynchings, 52 were in the south and nine in the north. One was a negro woman. Eighteen of those lynched were charged with attacking women.

The offenses charged against the white men were: murdering, insulting women, one; "no charge except being a foreigner," one; killing officer of the law, one.

By states, lynching occurred as follows: Texas, 10; Georgia, 9; Mississippi, Alabama and Florida, 7 each; Minnesota, Michigan, Carolina, Oklahoma, California, 3 each; Arkansas, Kansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, South Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia, one each.

EIGHT NEAR DEATH FROM DRINKING WOOD ALCOHOL

(Boston Globe.) Through testimony today in the Municipal Criminal Court it developed that eight men were near death for a few days in City Hospital from drinking wood alcohol.

Late last Saturday afternoon the patrol wagon from the division took in eight men who are accustomed to stay about Blackstone square. When they arrived at the station house it was observed that one man was very ill. They were rushed to the hospital in charge of special officer William J. Trainor.

Dr. Menary, as soon as he saw them, ordered the use of stomach pumps. Even after the wood alcohol was removed from the stomachs of the men they were very sick, and for a time two seemed likely to die.

This morning five of the men appeared before Judge Cread in Municipal Court. They all pleaded guilty to being drunk, and their cases were placed on file. Three others were reported still too ill to come to court.

One of the men told special officer Trainor that he made some moonshine for his own use, enough to "hide him over" the holidays, but that he used a paint pail as the "still" and he thought the paint mixed into the "moonshine," making him ill.

"I had no idea you operated such an enormous establishment!"—so said a prominent citizen who visited our Montreal plant for the first time.

If our building were in the heart of the city, every Montrealer and stranger would know it for what it is—"The Home of the Largest Exclusive Tailored-to-Measure Clothing Establishment in the British Empire"—but if we had to pay the enormous uptown rent to show you this plant, we would not make such wonderful Tailored-to-Measure Clothes of known worth at our low common-sense Standardized Prices. So we prefer to keep our building where it is and save 50% to 100% in the cost of your clothes.

NO CONNECTION WITH ANY OTHER CONCERN IN CANADA.

If you will visit one of our 38 Quality Tailor Shops you will realize that there is no place else to go for good clothes.

A VERY small proportion of the men of Canada can afford the prices many Tailors and "Ready-Made" stores charge for clothes nowadays even at their sale prices—No man can afford in justice to himself to buy inferior clothes with nothing more to recommend them than a low price.

English & Scotch Woollen Co. Tailored-to-Measure Garments cost enough to ensure the worthiness of the materials employed, and a thoroughness of workmanship that lends endurance and ensures satisfaction. Ours is practical tailoring on a large scale—we tailor for the masses at a very small margin above the actual expense of production, this in turn being computed at the lowest cost basis of any tailoring concern anywhere. Give us the pleasure of taking your measure today.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1921

ACTORS STRANDED AS COMPANIES FAIL

(New York Evening Post)

One of the principal causes of the fact that there are now approximately 5,000 actors and actresses out of employment in New York is the widespread failure of road companies, according to employment managers and officers of the Actors' Equity Association.

Last season, from September, 1919, to May, 1920, there were between twenty and thirty companies which failed on the road. This season, up to date, there have been twenty-five.

The great proportion of road failures are due to irresponsible managers, who came into the business during the war, and who find it easy to finance their projects on account of the phenomenal gains made in the theatre business during the two years. It is stated.

Six Companies Stranded.

Six companies failed in December, and either all or some of their members were rescued by the Actors' Equity Association, which sends funds for the return home of its members in stranded companies.

The total bill incurred by the Actors' Equity Association for the month of December totalled more than $2,500 in rescuing members of stranded companies.

For the girls in the stranded companies are not apt to go easy. In this country or in the British Dominions they can usually find work doing housework for the Y. W. C. A. But many of the companies go as far as Porto Rico, Australia, or South America, and the return fare takes a long time to earn. There is a dark aspect to the stranding of girls in South America. The Actors' Equity Association has reports received through the English Actors' Association which describe the organized and skilful methods used by agents of the white slavers in Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires to abduct girls who find themselves stranded in hotels of these cities.

Equity Shop Proposed.

It is as a cure for this stranding of companies that the Actors' Equity Association advocates the principle of equity shop. The council of the association passed a resolution last August, in accordance with which a referendum is to be held in the near future among all equity members to decide whether or not the association shall adopt this principle.

The adoption of equity shop would mean that equity members will not act in the same companies with non-equity members, according to equity officers. Irresponsible managers will be black-listed after they have stranded one or two companies, so that unless they can find a whole cast of non-equity players, they will not be able to get a company at all.

There are two differences between equity shop and cess shop, according to officers of the A. E. A. In the first place equity shop makes no attempt to stop managers from producing plays with non-equity casts. It only says that they must be all non-equity. In the second place membership in the Actors' Equity Association is not restricted.

Any man or woman who has spoken one line upon the stage, or who has been engaged by a manager to speak a line, act as understudy, or act in a picture can become a junior member of the association on payment of $12. It is said.

The principle of equity shop would not, according to officers of the association, go into effect against managers belonging to the Producing Managers' Association, with whom the Actors' Equity Association has a five-year contract, which still has three years to run. It would, however, they feel sure, greatly modify the operations of the unscrupulous managers who have come into the business since the war.
