Season of Good Cheer Brings Many —K. C.'s Hand $500 to Sisters of Charity

This is the season of peace and good will, as usual, is marked by general gift-making and the contributions learned of today in the form of the handsome sum of $500 by the St. John Knights of Columbus to the Sisters of Charity for their new infirmary. The money was given by Mr. Walter MacPherson this morning by John McDonald, Jr., treasurer of the council and the following acknowledgement was received:

St. Vincent's Convent, St. John, Dec. 24, 1913.

John McDonald, Jr., Treasurer of the Knights of Columbus, Dear Sir—I have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of $500 from John Connell No. 397, Knights of Columbus for our new infirmary. I am deeply grateful to the Knights for their handsome donation and very good wishes, and on behalf of the community wish the Knights every success in their great work for the Church and extend greetings for the holy season. Gratefully yours in the Sacred Heart,

MOTHER MARY THOMAS.

Gen. Sister of Charity.

In most of the homes presentations were made. In some the returns were not yet given but will be this afternoon. In the Royal Hotel this morning W. J. McDonald, manager, made the recipient a handsome silver bell and a fountain pen. He presented gifts in gold to the members of the staff. The waiters in the hotel remembered Frederick W. L. Weller, waiter, who was cut glass punch bowl and a silver tray.

The members of the staff of the Victoria Hotel presented a valuable silver lamp to Mrs. Philip, the proprietor, and Mrs. Philips. Each of the members of the staff received a gift from Mr. Philips.

McDonald, a ton and a quarter of turkeys, numbering 276 birds, were given by the St. John Street Railway to their regular employees. This lot of turkeys had been intended to be delivered to the Empress, but on account of the steamer not coming home Manager Hopkins of the street railway secured them. They were fine weighing about ten pounds. This form of membership has been the custom in the street railway company for a number of years.

The lodgers in Leinster Hall, Leinster street, presented to the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dummer, a handsome silver bell. The recipients thanked their friends for the gift and the good wishes that went with it.

Grand Bros. Waterloo street, presented a plump turkey to each of their employees.

MANHOOD! The quality which rules the world today. My friend, there never was a time in the history of the human race when manly manhood was so much in demand and highly regarded, counted for as much as now, this very minute. No matter what your years, whether you are 20 or 60, you must either be in the race or entirely out of it. It is remarkable the fellow who proves up strength in this human strength that forgets to the front, what weakness stands aside. He is born in manhood and most sought after by women and men of his community, simply because he radiates that marvellous magnetic in-

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Each year at Christmas time thoughtful persons ask themselves whether the spirit which prevails or is supposed to prevail at this season is really making much headway in the world. Those who are doubtful appear to be able to find much that is confirmatory of their lack of belief in the world at large. Few point to the most important movements in which the greatest offenders are the most intelligent of the Christian nations of the earth, and also to the unrest which prevails in each. The labor troubles, the social inequalities, the reckless display of wealth on one side and the dreadful poverty on the other—all these and other evidences of a lack of the Christmas spirit are cited, and the cynic would us that if we really want peace we must go among the savages to find it.

But there is another and brighter side of the story. Never in the history of the world has there been such a wide consciousness as keenly alive to wrong as it is at the present time. If the nations continue to increase their expenditure for armament, it is not because the war-spirit is growing; and the time cannot be much longer delayed when the voice of those who stand for peace will be much more potent in the world's council-chambers. The struggle for better social conditions reveals much that is regrettable and even injurious. In the fraternalism that is spread out to some of the unfortunate beings whose life is an almost hopeless struggle for mere existence let us see, as in the trend of legislation today in England, a recognition by society in general of its obligation, and a sincere effort on its part to improve the conditions of life for even the meanest, the poorest and most neglected of all the children of men.

The spirit of sacrifice and service is not fading from the earth, it manifests itself in a steadily larger degree in human life. The present is an age of intense activity, and we scarce see so many forms of life as the history of the world, nor is still even of the rights of the individual, and beneficent forces are reaching down to lift to a higher plane those who have been submerged in the great struggle of life. There are still in the world many men who are not men of good-will, but their number will diminish as the centuries pass. The tide of universal peace and goodwill is still far off, but there is nevertheless no room in our human life for the sceptic which would mock at Santa Claus and all he represents in our common life.

HOUSING IN ST. JOHN

As soon as the holiday season is over, it will be the duty of those concerned to take up the question of the proposed survey of a district in this city to discover the exact housing conditions. The question was asked at a recent meeting of a committee which this subject was under discussion: "Do you really think the housing conditions in St. John are bad, and would a survey be likely to surprise the citizens?" In reply to this question, one who has had considerable personal knowledge of the general sanitary and other conditions which affect the public health in the city said that while the conditions might not be any worse in St. John than in other cities of equal population, yet believed conditions would be revealed by a survey which would certainly surprise the average citizen who lives in a very comfortable or perhaps luxurious home, and does not give much thought to how others may live who are not so well circumstanced.

The Times prints today a review of the report of the medical health officer of Toronto on a survey of six districts in the city two years ago. Most surprising results were discovered, such as many people in Toronto did not believe existed. Doubtless some such conditions will be found to exist when a survey is made in St. John.

The first step in connection with housing reform must be of course to get full and accurate information as to the conditions and the need. Hence the proposed survey should be made, and the city council will no doubt heartily co-operate with the board of health and the housing committee of the board of trade.

THE EDITOR'S MISCHAP

The editor of this journal of the household underook to put up a Christmas tree last evening. When the doctor had finished his gentle ministrations the editor had lost a lock of hair and some vital fluid, and acquired some sticking plaster and a bandage, and was prepared to subscribe to the doctrine that fools rush in where prudent fears to tread. The neighbors put on a couch and led to the children about the height of the trees he used to climb when he was a boy, and the distance could fall and then run miles. His wife says that next Christmas he can dress the dolls and stuff the turkey, and perform other menial tasks, while she attends to the work that calls for nerve and a modicum of horse-sense. She made these remarks while standing on the top of a step-ladder, performing feats of balancing which really hurt the editor's feelings. He is afraid to hang up his stocking tonight lest Santa Claus all it.

The Potato Question

The United States yesterday sent to J. B. Daggett, provincial secretary for agriculture, the official announcement that a temporary quarantining had been placed on all potato tubers being brought from Canada to the United States, to prevent the spread of powdery scab and wart. R. P. Gorham and D. B. Flewelling have been appointed by the provincial department of agriculture as inspectors who will have jurisdiction over all the province. An embargo will be placed upon the localities affected by the potato diseases.

Lobster Regulations

A meeting of the fisheries inspectors for St. John was held with J. F. Calder, chief inspector of lobsters yesterday afternoon. The principal consideration was the question of carrying out the lobster regulations, and the violation of the law prohibiting the sale of undersized lobsters.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24
His Honor Sir Francis Langelier, lieutenant-governor of Quebec, celebrates his seventy-fifth birthday today. He was born in Ste. Rosalie, Que., and came originally from the Lower Town of Montreal. He has had a distinguished career as lawyer, judge and legislator. He sat for some time in the House of Commons, held a seat in the provincial legislature, later became a member of justice of the province, and was appointed lieutenant-governor in 1911.

Lt.-Col. F. S. McIver, oldest son of the late Robert McIver and now one of the prominent business men of Montreal, was born in Montreal, Dec. 24, 1848. He entered the employ of the Grand Trunk in 1879 and has risen through all the ranks to his present position.

FRANK SCOTT, treasurer of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, Montreal, was born in Montreal, Dec. 24, 1848, a native of Burlington, Ont., and a lawyer by profession, practicing in Windsor. Since 1899 he has represented Morris in the legislature.

J. G. Rutherford, former live stock commissioner for the province, was born in Peebles, Scotland, fifty years ago. He practiced veterinary medicine in Canada, the United States and Mexico, and then entered the service of the Manitoba government as inspector of cattle. He transferred his commission service in 1904.

A. F. McIntyre, of Ottawa, for many years dominion government solicitor, was born on this date in the year 1847 in Williamson, Ont. He practiced law in Williamson for some time and then in Ottawa until 1876. He transferred his active practice there since.

Loyalty seems to have ceased to be a virtue with the tory leaders in the United Kingdom.

May the spirit of Christmas seek out and find every child in every troubled soul within our borders a new birth. That is the sincere wish of the Times.

A pre-Christmas exchange, in urging the need of organized effort for the distribution of Christmas cheer, tells of three turkeys last Christmas while some others equally or more deserving went without any. To prevent such an occurrence there should be organization, for unhappily there are persons who would reluctantly welcome all-comers and have no disposition to make any particular needs of their nature known.

For the few not known of families to whom a Christmas visit would be a burst of sunshine may easily get the information from some one of the organizations which give special attention to the needs of the poor.

THE AUDIENCE

As a lecturer on his experience Archibald Forbes was very popular, and he was fond of recounting an experience of his debut in that capacity as teacher. Last year the Edinburgh Association of St. John asked the Board of Education of this province to make such provision at the Normal School, but though expressing sympathy the Board was not in a position to undertake the work. McGill has now taken it up, and we shall soon have thorough supervisors of physical culture in Canada. Looking back ten years, and remembering the utter lack of public sentiment in relation to supervised play, those who advocated the movement and were termed "radicals" have reason to rejoice in the change that has taken place in a decade.

THE AUDIENCE

As a lecturer on his experience Archibald Forbes was very popular, and he was fond of recounting an experience of his debut in that capacity as teacher. Last year the Edinburgh Association of St. John asked the Board of Education of this province to make such provision at the Normal School, but though expressing sympathy the Board was not in a position to undertake the work. McGill has now taken it up, and we shall soon have thorough supervisors of physical culture in Canada. PRINCE BECOMES VERY POPULAR

Promises in That Respect To Rival Grandfather

A MEAN PIECE OF BUSINESS

Ne'er-do-well Husband of Fashionable Dressmaker May Have Ruined Her Business — Canadians in London Society

(Times' Special Correspondence)
London, Dec. 14.—The Prince of Wales is developing in an astonishing way. He now gives every evidence of being much more genial and companionable than his father, and in that respect begins to bear a striking resemblance to his grandfather. With his two motor cars he is a familiar figure round about Oxford. The King of Spain is said to be quite anxious to give him a comfortable lead in motor racing, but King George is opposed to any risking of his heir's neck.

Many of the more adventurous young girls of Oxford have learned of these royal motor cars and are taking advantage of them, to boast of having had a conversation with the prince. A few days ago two of these daring girls risked the life and the prince's health to such an extent. Driven in a little "tub" cart they saw the prince's car coming and purposely and quite suddenly drove into it. The prince was not at all annoyed. In his efforts to prevent a collision, the prince ran his car into a ditch. The two girls immediately became very profuse in their apologies, but beyond admitting that they had been driving too fast, the prince said not a word, worked his way out of the ditch and drove off.

He received hundreds of letters of apology, and the girls were laud to the skies his taste in dress, while others wrote of his evident interest in all forms of sport. "Women are determined to spoil him," the man said. "I am not a friend, but he is not very open to flattery. I am proud of him, for, although so young, he has a lot of common sense."

A Small Business

In the vestibule of one of the smartest hotels in town, an unpleasant scene took place the other evening just as some people had arrived for a dinner party, the guests including among others, the Asquiths, Lord and Lady Annesley and several of their set. One of the waiters owned a small sum in West End dressings which had been given her by the dressmaker's husband, a "ne'er do well," found out about the debt, and the time had come to collect. The dressmaker, getting up all sums of money out of her. He called on the day of the dinner-party and, being refused money, he resolved to have revenge, and so he did before his friends. He took the precaution of wearing evening dress and got well into his speech in the hotel vestibule before any one would notice what had happened. After this he had himself slipped away while his victim fainted. When she recovered, she vowed it was a case of insanity or else that the man was a lunatic. Of course everybody agreed with her.

As a matter of fact, the business of the dressmaker is not a small one. Society never forgives an outrage on one of its members, and though the unfortunate tradeswoman knew nothing about her husband's behavior until it was over, she will have to pay the price. The wife of the dressmaker never makes a runnus with her clients because she is ever so badly treated. "That is why we have to charge $200 per cent profit," said the head of one of the big houses. Down street to me where we discussed the incident. "We make such piles of bad debt that we cannot realize any profits unless we have extremely wealthy customers who don't like anything unless they pay a fabulous price for it."

News of Canadians

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Armstrong, painters, have left Paris and are now in Bizerte, Algeria, where they will stay and work for several months. Last year they did considerable work in Constantinople, but found it impossible to secure Turks as models, as it is against their religion to allow a portrait to be made. The Arabs of Bizerte, however, do not seem to have the same objection, owing most likely to so many artists having painted there. On the return journey to Paris, and while in Algiers, Armstrong will make a stay in Tunis and there they will confine their work to street scenes and surrounding landscapes, as the Tunis Arabic object on religious grounds to serving the needs of art. J. W. Morris, of Montreal, also painting in Algeria.

People of special prominence here are keenly interested in the doings of titled Britons who are farming in Canada. Mrs. Holme, daughter of the late Sir George Holme, recently returned from Canada, has been giving interesting accounts of the activities of Colonel and Lady Neave Campbell, on their farm in the Rockies. The Campbells have been in Canada for nearly two years and are so much enjoying their life there that they do not intend to come home for a holiday for at least another year.

Lady Ilene enjoys an unconventional life and does not understand why she should be held responsible for the late Earl of Huntington, and inherited a keen love of sport and open air life, and as a girl she enjoyed her brother's pastime of shooting in Ireland. She is no novice in farming, having spent a few years after her marriage she took over the management of a large dairy at her Sutton, England, home, and then took the task by learning to churn and make butter. Her husband is a cousin of the Duke of Newcastle. At their place in Argyllshire, Scotland, resides Lady Ilene as an expert in all matters connected with the dairy and the farm-yard.

Lord Hyde, too, has been surprised by events in Canada since his return from Canada with Lord Hyde two weeks ago. His friends are suggesting that she ought to record her experiences in a book, and I understand she has read one or two papers at some of the women's clubs in London.

Miss Mary Tupper and Miss Frances Tupper-Wilson have arrived to spend Christmas with their grandfather, Sir Charles Tupper, in his Kent home. Like his son, Sir Charles has been away from home, though he has not said the other day, he cannot indulge in his favorite game of golf as much as he would like. He maintains a keen interest in public affairs and his letters to "The Times" on serious questions are

MRS. YOUNG TO GO BACK AS HEAD OF
CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 24.—Although she did not receive the unanimous vote of the members of the board of education when she was reinstated yesterday afternoon as superintendent of Chicago schools, by a vote of 13 to 1, Mrs. E. B. Flagg, 62, will accept the re-election according to the understanding between Mayor and Mrs. Harrison, and Peter Reiningberg, president of the board.

At the annual meeting of the board two weeks ago Mrs. Young declined to stand for re-election after she had not chosen the first ballot. She said she did not want the position unless she could have the undivided support of the board members.

John D. Sheep, who was elected superintendent to succeed Mrs. Young, will continue as the school head in the capacity of assistant superintendent until Mrs. Young's return from North Carolina, where she is at present.

Woman Head of School Board

Calgary, Dec. 24.—That the honour of the chairmanship of the Calgary Board of Education will this year fall to a woman is the consensus of opinion in school circles. Miss Foot is slated for the position, and it is thought that a majority of the members of the board will vote for her. Miss Foot is the first woman ever elected to public office in Calgary.

CAR BLOCKADE.

A string of seven or eight cars was held up this afternoon in Market square, Dundas, Ont., for a time because of one being all kinked back. After a little work the car was set on the tracks again and the obstruction cleared.

It is stated that a test for the compressed air coal mining machines in the Grand Lake district is proving successful and will greatly increase the output of coal produced.

The good roof at Gibson Company's mines is particularly favorable to the working of coal mining machines.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY
MATHEWSON
THE GIANT'S STAR PITCHER

(Copyright, 1913, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The lobby of the Windsor Hotel in New York has never been looked upon or advertised as a dressing room, but the uniforms of a great many ball players have been changed there from time to time. Some lightning shifts were made during the early days of the National League meeting week, and the big trades and sales, which included the Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, New York and Brooklyn clubs, have changed the whole complexion of the game, according to my judgment.

Fred Clarke, who is a wry sashay manager by his deal with St. Louis, whereby he got three great ball players for five men whom lost with him.

He got a good ball player but as a first baseman he does not rank with Konetchy. Wilson has been a fine outfielder, but he is getting along in years and is failing. As far as I can judge lately as he did three or four years ago, "Rube" Robinson is a good pitcher and he is the greatest loss to the Pirates, and the best pitcher I have ever seen has had a chance to show.

He may grow into a star, but he has not displayed any vivid indications so far, and I do not think he will play "Cosey" like he did and he works hard and that about lets him out.

The trade that Clarke made may give Pittsburgh the best next year, and am going to try to show you why.

Frequently one deal will make a ball club if some apparent gap can be filled.

It was well known last summer that got, and the St. Louis climate is liable to have the reverse effect on the five who go to the Cardinals. Do you blame them?

THE NEW STAGE

Tomorrow afternoon at the Christmas matinee the new stage at the Opera House will be christened by the Thompson-Woods company in Belasco's Charity Ball.

St. John is to be congratulated on the play selected and the company which has put it up. As a matter of fact, it is not a new play, but it is one of his best efforts and will remain something of a Belasco classic long after his other works have been forgotten.

A few St. Johners who have followed theatricals from the time the Opera House was built, declare that the present organization is superior to any but the very highest priced attractions that have been produced in St. Louis.

Konetchy will be glad to go to Pittsburgh, but I do not doubt that he would rather have gone to New York. Most ball players on teams out through the country cast longing eyes at the Giants because they feel that they are more desirable to play in the big towns, and them, too, the notion prevails that a man in a little town of evening in on a world series coin in the hands of McGraw. I know that Konetchy is dissatisfied with conditions in St. Louis, and that he did not get along with Miller Huggins. As a matter of fact, he told some of the New York players he might as well leave the city and go to the trolley houses.

At the way Konetchy was sent at the way he was, he was doing all he could and refused all offers. He thought the big boss had been "lying down" and "dodging it." I don't believe so. He is not that kind.

"He is going to finish the season out with us," said Huggins to his law wife, McGraw. He approached him on a trade. Miller was very determined, and "Bobby" was very determined, so like many men small in stature, is always expecting somebody to try to put something over on him and knock out for it. Konetchy finished the season at St. Louis.

Konetchy finished the season at St. Louis.

Konetchy will be glad to go to Pittsburgh, but I do not doubt that he would rather have gone to New York. I know that Konetchy is dissatisfied with conditions in St. Louis, and that he did not get along with Miller Huggins. As a matter of fact, he told some of the New York players he might as well leave the city and go to the trolley houses.

At the way he was sent at the way he was, he was doing all he could and refused all offers. He thought the big boss had been "lying down" and "dodging it." I don't believe so. He is not that kind.

MORE CORN VIA BELFAST

The sum total of corn from ports at which transhipment had been made is not yet over. The Bengore Head is expected to sail from Belfast tomorrow with a cargo of maize which was imported from America, but due to the shortage in Canada has caused it to be embarked on the Bengore Head for transit to St. John. The Bengore Head will go to Halifax from St. John to complete loading cargo for England.

WILD CAT XMAS GIFT

Last summer Mr. E. V. Williams presented to Rockwood Park a fine specimen of the native wild cat, lynx canadensis. By its activity, its wild disposition and its ferocious appearance it soon proved to be the most popular animal which have recently been added to the park. It appeared in perfect health until showing signs of progressive poisoning in the case of its captors could not be learned and rapidly succumbed. Every effort was made to secure a substitute, but without success, the animal being a difficult one to capture without injury. In the same time Mr. Williams had promised to make his best efforts to fill the gap, and he has presented one to the park. It was recently seen in the vicinity of Fredericton. The former wild cat cage is now occupied by the most harmless white rabbits, but a new habitation will be constructed at once for the care of the pet which can presently be seen by visitors to the park.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICER DEAD

Captain John Minnade of the Salvation Army, who had been ill for some time, died this morning at the residence of a friend in Fredericton. He was twenty-eight years of age, and had been with the army for about five years. He was a native of Scotland, and joined the army in Glasgow. Captain Minnade has been stationed in various places in the maritime provinces. His last appointment was in Moncton, where he came to St. John about three months ago.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, and a memorial service will be held in Charlotte street church on Sunday evening.

THE STEAMERS

Allan liner Constitution from London and Havre, arrived in port this morning and docked about eleven o'clock after a rough, though uneventful voyage across the Atlantic. She brought about 200 passengers and a good cargo of general freight.

Steamer Kvarwa got away this morning for San Juan with a large general cargo, including general freight provisions. She took away a number of automobiles.

The Manchester Corporation, of the Dominion Liner Dominion was 220 miles east of Cape Race, bound east at 12.30 o'clock this morning.

The Allan Line Grampian is making good time on her trip to St. John. At 6.30 o'clock this morning she was sixty-five miles east of Salter Island, and is expected to arrive here tomorrow at noon.

With the Virginian, which is due here on Saturday, this will make two main boats arriving here this week.

The Virginian was 820 miles east of Cape Race at five o'clock last night.

The Briardene, of the West Indies service, is on her way here now, and is expected to arrive about Sunday.

AFTER LONG ILLNESS

After suffering from locomotor ataxia for about eleven years, Alexander J. Keay died this morning at the Hospital for Incurables. He was sixty-five years of age and a native of Ireland. He came to this country when quite a young man and was employed as a book-keeper for two years by Mr. C. C. Christie & Sons in Fredericton. In the early eighties he went to Halifax and spent ten business there, carrying on an extensive business in that line. He came to St. John about the year 1900 and continued in the express business here until 1905.

Mr. Keay was an expert tenter. Some after coming here he became ill with locomotor ataxia and was obliged to enter the Home for Incurables.

In his younger days Mr. Keay took a great interest in amateur sport and even after entering the home he wrote several articles for sports journals in England, United States and Canada. He was also a good dog fancier.

Mr. Keay was never married and has no relatives in Canada. He will long be remembered.

He was a devoted member of the Church of England. The funeral will probably be held on Friday.

POLICE COURT.

The prisoners who were arrested last night were awakened early this morning and brought up to the court room where the trial cases were disposed of about six o'clock, as Magistrate Ritchie wished to leave on the early morning train to spend Christmas out of the city.

Three prisoners, arrested for being drunk, were fined $4 or ten days in jail and ordered to go to the Water street.

Gianna Olsen, a Swede, who was arrested in Water street last night, on charge of assaulting persons, was rescued by his wife, Mrs. Agnes E. Moore, a deferred member of the Church of England. After being severely lectured she was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

TOBOGGAN SLIDE

Rockwood Park Now Has One Ready For Snow and Sport—Miscreants at Work

At the last annual meeting of the Saint John Horticultural Association it was suggested by Dean Gandy that a toboggan slide would add to the attractions of Rockwood Park and its construction was decided on. It was then agreed to have it built during the winter, but this autumn work was begun and is now being completed by the head keeper of the park, John Head, and his son, John. A site was selected, a ditch through the woods hewn down, stumps removed and interfering boulders rolled to either side. The whole surface is covered with snow and is easily covered with peat, making a capital sporty, yet safe, and double slide.

In the course of the run towards its end across the Allison Playgrounds it is a ditch through which the waters of Lily Lake flow. A suitable wide space between them, across this water course and a second narrower bridge has been constructed to the west, and a foot path laid out in the direction of the slide.

It is now in readiness for use awaiting only snow.

In order to make it safer for the course across the level portion of the course across the Allison Playgrounds approaching the bridges was marked out with brush placed either side, and two trees were planted beside the course to make it more prominent and permanent than the ordinary markings. This latter work has just been completed.

It is the first toboggan slide ever to be constructed at once for the care of the pet which can presently be seen by visitors to the park.
