Tidal Wave Broken Says General Foch

All Going Well Is Comment Of Generalissimo On West Front

British Position South of Somme Improved and Germans Fail Along North Front—Hun Attack on French Has Ceased, Says Paris Official Statement

Paris, April 5—General Foch, the commander-in-chief, and under whose orders more than 100,000 American troops are ready to aid the French and British, declares that the Boche tidal wave is broken. "All is going well," he adds, and expresses confidence in the future. As proof of his statement is the fact that in the last two days the enemy has made only slight gains on a thirty-eight mile front, and these have been equalized in part by Franco-British advances at some points.

BETTER ON BOTH FRONTS.

London, April 6—The British position south of the Somme was improved to some extent by a counter-attack delivered in the neighborhood of Hangard late yesterday, according to today's war office announcement.

Along the whole front below Arras, in the sector north of the Somme, the struggle continued with violence until late last evening. Although the Germans made incessant attacks they met with no further success than attended their efforts in the morning.

Paris, April 6—The German attack along the French sector of the battlefield has ceased. Today's official statement says there was violent artillery fighting last night north and south of the Avre, but that no infantry actions occurred.

ATTACK THIS MORNING.

London, April 6—The Germans at daybreak this morning attacked the little town of Corbie, in the valley of the Somme. Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports. The enemy advanced in dense waves. The outcome was not known at the time the despatch was filed.

The main German thrust, says the correspondent, appears to be west of the Vaire Wood, toward the principal Amiens road.

London, April 6—The British improved their positions east of Fougnyville, north of the Somme, in their successful attack yesterday morning.

The weather yesterday improved and the barometer is rising, although the aviators continue to be handicapped by very poor visibility.

AIRMEN SEND TEN SUBMARINES DOWN WHERE THEY MURDER NO MORE

Details of Destruction of U-Boats Obtained in London

VERY EFFECTIVE WORK

Seaplanes Get Eight and Dirigibles Account for Two—Some of Them Caught in the Effort to Destroy Merchantmen

London, April 6—Details concerning the destruction of ten German submarines by naval aircraft recently—eight by seaplanes and the others by dirigibles—have been obtained by the Associated Press from the admiralty. The first case is described as follows:

"While on patrol in the English Channel a seaplane sighted a submarine eight miles away, directly in the path of an oncoming convoy of merchant ships. The seaplane dived at ninety miles an hour. The submarine attempted to escape, by submerging, but was just as the seaplane reached a bombing position and released two bombs, one of which exploded on the conning tower. The seaplane dropped two more bombs on the conning tower, causing the submarine to surface. The U-boat collapsed. The second case: 'At dawn a seaplane sighted a large submarine on the surface. The seaplane dropped a bomb which exploded on the conning tower. The U-boat collapsed. The third case: 'Two seaplanes attacked a large submarine traveling on the surface at fourteen knots, with two men in the conning tower, causing the submarine to surface. The seaplanes began to sink stern first. A bomb from a second seaplane completed the work. The U-boat was submerged and dropped two bombs close to the conning tower. The U-boat collapsed. The fourth case: 'Three patrol planes sighted a large submarine as it was submerging and dropped two bombs close to the conning tower. The U-boat collapsed. The fifth case: 'A seaplane sighted two submarines on the surface. One was dropped two bombs. One bomb was ineffective, but the other hit the deck fairly amidships. The submarine was sunk by the smoke of the explosion. The second submarine was sighted as it was sinking with both ends in the air. The sixth case: 'A seaplane saw the track of a torpedo fired at a merchantman. It dived toward the surface and sighted the black shadow of the submarine well below the surface. It dropped two bombs, which both exploded close to the submarine, resulting in a large quantity of oil, bubbles and wreckage. The seventh case: 'Two seaplanes sighted a U-boat on the surface and dropped a bomb each. The first bomb caused a heavy list to the U-boat, which began to sink by the stern. The second bomb exploded in the centre of the swirl, annihilating the U-boat. The eighth case: 'A seaplane dropped a bomb on a submarine just emerging, and the U-boat disappeared with a heavy list to port. The pilot dropped a second bomb into the swirl, and a few minutes later a patch of oil 150 feet long and twelve feet wide appeared on the surface. The ninth case: 'A naval airship at midday sighted a suspicious patch of oil and circled it in an effort to ascertain the cause. Suddenly a periscope broke the surface in the midst of the oil. The airship dropped a bomb close to the periscope, and a series of bubbles began appearing, indicating that the damaged submarine was moving slowly away under the water. Several more bombs were dropped in the path indicated, until satisfactory evidence of the enemy's destruction was obtained. The tenth case: 'An airship dropped two bombs over a submarine which was engaged in attacking merchantmen. Great patches of oil and bubbles indicated severe damage, and trawlers made this complete by depth charges."

PRESIDENT FREES ALLEGED LEADER IN DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY

O'Connor Not Given Free Hand as Cost Of Living Commissioner

Had Resigned Twice or Three Times Before; This Time Quit in Support of His Deputy

Ottawa, April 6—It was learned last night that the resignation of W. F. O'Connor, K. C., a cost of living commissioner, was preceded by that of the deputy commissioner, J. C. Inlay, and that Mr. O'Connor's resignation was in support of Mr. Inlay's action with respect to a matter of administration of the duties of the commissioner's office. It is said that Mr. O'Connor's views, in support of Mr. Inlay, being overborne by the minister, Mr. O'Connor felt that he could do nothing else but resign. There have, it is contended, been interference with Mr. O'Connor's control of the staff, hence the resignation. Questioned by a representative of the Canadian Press last night, Mr. Inlay confirmed the report that he had resigned. "The administration has been interfered with previously," Mr. Inlay declared. "Mr. O'Connor, to my personal knowledge, has tendered his resignation on two or three occasions, but on these occasions the matters in dispute were adjusted. On this occasion he withdrew from the department."

IRISH QUESTION AT CRUCIAL STAGE

Report to Government Decided on by Convention, But it is Not Yet Given Out

London, April 6—The question of Ireland's future has reached a crucial stage with the management of the Irish convention has finished its work, and decided upon a report to the government. While it is not permitted to reveal the proceedings for the present, the nature of this report and the general work of the convention are well known to public men in England and Ireland.

Premier Lloyd George declared before the convention was organized that if agreed upon any plan for a government, his plan would be embodied in a bill and placed before parliament.

Whether a mere majority report in favor of some home rule plan, if such a report is presented by the convention, will be supported by the government, remains to be seen.

Premier Lloyd George also strongly intimated that the government might proceed to a settlement of the Irish problem by legislation even if the convention failed to find some ground for settlement by consent. Therefore, new Irish developments are expected in the near future, although the first business before the government must be in dealing with urgent war measures, chiefly that for increasing the army.

ALLEGED SINN FEIN MESSENGER CONVICTED

New York, April 6—Thomas Welsh, alleged to be a Sinn Fein messenger, was convicted yesterday of violating the trading with the enemy act by bringing a written communication into the country without making use of the mails.

Welsh was employed on a steamer which arrived here from Liverpool in last November. He denied, according to witnesses, that he carried any written communications, but a search revealed a letter which he attempted to destroy. The fragments of the letter, when pieced together, showed that the communication, which was unsigned, related to the Sinn Fein movement and contained messages to various Sinn Fein leaders in this country.

Welsh asserted that the letter was given to him at the dock at Liverpool and that he was ignorant of its contents.

PAYS GLORIOUS TRIBUTE TO MEN FROM DOMINION—WON PRICELESS VICTORY AT VIMY RIDGE—BRITAIN NEVER WILL FORGET

Toronto, April 6—There is in England no starvation or any prospect of it, let no friend of the enemy persuade you there is," declared Lord Rev. Cosmo Lang, Archbishop of York, in his first Canadian address before an audience of 4,000 people in Massey Hall here last night, "but there is real shortage of food, and that tells on a people's nerves. Remember that when anything is put before you regarding the conservation of food, don't say it does not matter. It is not only the food saved, it is also the knowledge of your self-sufficiency will put reality and moral power into our share of this great struggle."

Two things were needed, the Archbishop declared, a deepened faith in our cause, realizing what it would mean if the spirit of Germany should prevail over the world, and such moral strength as had never come into our lives before. "We are learning," he said, "that religion is the only kind of patriotism that will see our nations through."

STEAMER IN WITH MORE RETURNING BRAVE

PERSONALS

The engagement south of the Somme yesterday, which resulted in the British being pushed back to their defenses east of Villers-Bretonneux, was hard fought. Early yesterday morning the Germans began a tremendous bombardment of the British lines south of the Somme and then moved forward for the attack. The fighting continued throughout most of the day. The main weight of the enemy thrust was against the French on the right of the British. No fewer than fourteen German divisions were employed in this offensive, which the Germans will strike another great blow with vast forces against some portion of the long battle front.

STEAMER IN WITH MORE RETURNING BRAVE

CITY MEN MUST PRODUCE FOOD NEEDED TO WIN WAR

Backyards and Vacant Lots May Turn Scale; Some Valuable Hints in Condensed Form for the Benefit of the Amateur Farmer

If plans of the United States National War Garden commission go right, backyard and vacant lot planting will go far in the coming season toward winning the war. Last year the work succeeded as an experiment. Real work is expected now. As the time for spring planting is near, P. S. Ridsdale, secretary of the commission, tells what ought to be done and gives instructions to beginners, in an article in the current issue of Township Magazine.

"The work looks to the United States for food," he writes. "Just the other day announcement was made that 88,000,000 men are under arms. It is estimated that it costs forty cents a day to feed a soldier, which means that the armies of the world are eating food at the rate of $18,800,000 a day. We hear that the United States will have 8,000,000 men under arms. If so, the daily food bill to Uncle Sam for soldiers alone will be $1,880,000. This does not include the thousands who have suddenly become war workers of one kind or another. There are 40,000 of these strangers in Washington alone. War workers, like the soldiers, have become non-producers, and they must be fed. Under the strain of war time preparations, the government has taken over the railroads. Here the war garden plays a big part, for every ounce of food that can be raised close to the kitchen door saves the handling time of the railroads just that much.

Every state should feed itself. West Virginia sent $7,000,000 out of the state last year for food. It is now organizing an active garden association in every township to keep the money at home and to relieve the railroads of the transportation burden. Illinois has a plan along the same line. The American Red Cross planted gardens covering 217 acres. The Y and Yacant Lot association of Newark, N. J., in its annual report shows that garden produce valued at $14,000 was raised there. In South Bend, Ind., $60,000 worth of produce was raised within the city limits. In Cincinnati 286 acres of vacant lots valued at $14,000 was raised there. In Norfolk, 1,500 vacant lots yielded food valued at $75,000.

"President Pack of the War Food Garden commission estimates that 1,150,000 acres of city and town land were

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 6, 1918.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE POWER LOBBYISTS

The New Brunswick Power Company has had emissaries at Fredericton all this week. They were not there in the public interest. They were seeking to influence the members of the legislature in favor of the proposal to make the people of St. John to pay interest and dividends on watered stock.

This is all humbug. The St. John Railway Company was able to pay dividends and its stock was at a premium. It was a flourishing corporation. The new owners have not added anything to the plant and they have given a much worse service.

The citizens of St. John do not accept the figures submitted by the company. They challenge them, and demand a full exposure of the financial operations since the deal began which ended in the control of the property by the present company and its audacious and outrageous demand for higher rates.

DR. ROBERTS' BILL

The medical health officer of Nova Scotia, which province is far in advance of New Brunswick in regard to health legislation, says in his annual report: "All of what was said in the last report relative to the need for greater activity along public health lines is still applicable. We are losing year by year quite too many of our people, and we fail to fully realize that the greatest asset of the province, a healthy and virile population, is not being conserved as it might be."

Hon. Dr. Roberts introduced in the New Brunswick legislature yesterday a public health bill that should receive the most sympathetic consideration from every member. The criticism that the passage of the bill involves expenditure of money should be brushed aside. A law is useless unless carried into effect, and that can only be done in this case by specialists who must be paid. The money secured by financial specialists in connection with the crown lands and Valley Railway in recent years would pay all expenses of the health department for years to come.

The landing of Japanese troops at Vladivostok may have far-reaching consequences. Germany's far-east ambitions are a menace to Japan and China as well as to England.

Montreal is to be governed by a commission. It has been the worst governed city in Canada. The commission will have a lot of work to do, but it appears to be made up of able men.

The order-in-council to suppress idleness, if properly enforced, would give quite a number of bootleggers and others in St. John a little useful employment. Let us have it enforced—and at once. It will help to solve the labor problem.

Great quantities of onions have been spoiled because the holders would not put them on the market at a lower price. What is the matter with the government at Ottawa?

Large quantities of spoiled eggs have been burned at the incinerator in this city. They had been held in storage till they were spoiled. What is the matter with the government at Ottawa?

The late Judge Wedderburn in his palmy days was one of the most brilliant orators of this province. His was a long and useful public career, and he enjoyed to an eminent degree the friendship and esteem of his fellow-citizens.

There are very large quantities of potatoes in this province that will rot if not sold at a reasonable price. Potatoes would take the place of what needed in Europe. What is the matter with the government at Ottawa?

THAT $100,000. Fredericton Mail: Does any sane man believe that if the old government had remained in power there would have been evidence brought out at the Gould arbitration proceedings to show that Mr. Gould had turned over the sum of $100,000 to J. Kidd Fleming, the then premier? The counsel employed by the old government never once hinted at the transaction when he had Mr. Gould on the stand. It was not until Hon. F. B. Carvell and P. J. Hughes took charge of the case that this material fact was placed in evidence.

The best news of the day comes from Gen. Foch. "All is going well," he says, and declares further that the Boche tidal wave is broken. Since Thursday the Germans have hurled great masses of men against a narrow front, determined to win through to Amiens, but they have made only slight gains which have been counter-balanced by Franco-British advances at other points. The week-end therefore finds us more confident than at its beginning.

Raw sugar is hauled from St. John to Montreal and refined, and the refined sugar brought back to St. John and sold half a cent lower than the product of St. John and Halifax refineries. What is the matter with the government at Ottawa?

STRADIVARIUS

A century its branches sighed To every wind, to every woe, Had sobbed for every heart that died And slept beneath the sward below. A century its branches sang The melodies of every breeze— For so the passingephyrs twang The harpstrings of the forest trees.

The joy of Summer, Winter's storm, The aging Autumn, and the Spring, The snowy blast, the waters warm— All these it learned to know and sing. Then came its own, its final hour; An axe that glittered in the sun; It whispered to its dying flower, "Now, daughter, is our singing done."

But genius fashioned from the wood With hands of skill and tender care A thing of beauty and of good, A thing of wonder everywhere. An elderly lady of very prim and correct aspect seated next a young couple, who were discussing the merits of their motor cars. "What color is your body?" asked the young man of the girl on his side, meaning, of course, the body of her motor. "Oh, mine is pink," she replied. "Mine," replied the man, "is brown with wide yellow stripes." This was too much for the old lady. Rising from the table, she exclaimed: "When young people come to asking each other the color of their bodies at a dinner party it is time I left the room."

It don't say buy one chicken, or beg one chicken, or borrow one chicken; it say, 'take one chicken.' And it don't tell you whose chicken to take; so I took the best chicken I could lay my hands on. John D. Rockefeller was seeing two friends off. When they entered the waiting automobile he noticed that one of them had no overcoat, although the weather had become chilly. He immediately asked that a coat be brought from the house for his friend.

The friend—a young man—protested that he did not need the coat. Mr. Rockefeller insisted. The friend again assured him that he had enough clothes on.

ELECTION CARDS

Your Support Will Mean Efficient Service

For a period of four years I have served the electors of the city of St. John as commissioner. Again I offer myself for re-election and solicit your support. During my four years of office St. John has taken a high place among the empire ports and the harbor has been my chief interest. I have given my best effort to this department and I appeal for your support at the forthcoming elections backed by my record of service.

The next two years promise to be a testing period for every city in Canada and St. John requires men at the head of civic affairs who have stood the test of service. No other test is equal to this one in any public office. My record I feel will be sufficient to cause the approval of the electors to my request for support at the coming elections.

Yours faithfully, JAMES V. RUSSELL

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen: I will be a candidate for the office of commissioner at the coming civic election. If you think that my services will be of value, in a most critical period, please vote for me. I have no other interest in the City of St. John directly or indirectly than they are at your disposal. My record in civic affairs is yet fresh in your minds and if it appeals to you as one worthy of commendation and support, I will feel honored by an expression of your confidence at the polls on Monday next.

Yours truly, JAMES H. FRINK

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

This is to advise you that I will be a candidate for Commissioner of the City of St. John at the election to be held April 8th. You know, as well as I do, that expenses for all civic departments seem to be out of proportion to value received, and it is my purpose, if elected, to do all in my power to eliminate all unnecessary expenditures. I also promise to stand by the labor men and that they shall get a square deal for services performed.

The high cost of living is a most serious question in this city, and I purpose, if elected, to use every effort that proper justice be meted out to all proletarians. EDWIN J. HILYARD 7616-4-8

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Having already announced my candidature for City Commissioner, it but remains to make this formal intimation. May I be pardoned for suggesting that my years at the Council Board, preceded by a life-time of business experience, might reasonably be expected to provide a fairly reliable knowledge of Civic and Municipal matters.

During the critical period ahead for the Civic Government, while the war is creating new conditions and difficulties, I am desirous of bearing my burden of citizenship. Soliciting your support at the forthcoming election, I am, Yours respectfully, THOS. H. BULLOCK -T-F-

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen: I am a candidate for the office of Commissioner at the forthcoming Civic Election. I would like personally to ask each and every elector for his or her vote. You will readily understand how impossible it is for me to call on each of you. Therefore, I take this opportunity of soliciting your support. I believe in Municipal ownership of Public Utilities; am in favor of the Public Utility; am in favor of the electors of the citizens, generally, at heart, and will endeavor to serve all to the best of my ability.

Thanking you in anticipation of your co-operation and support, I am, Yours respectfully, JOHN THORNTON. 7649-4-8

Robbers Get More Than $5,000 in Daylight Thug Work in Montreal Outskirts

Montreal, April 6—Two heavily armed thugs entered the branch of the Royal Bank of Canada on the outskirts of Cote des Neiges at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, ordered the teller, J. A. Bertrand, aged twenty, to throw up his hands, and with a revolver the other entered the cage and secured what cash was easily available. Thereupon the teller was struck down with the butt of the revolver and partially stunned, while his assistant, a youth named Miron, was compelled to retire to a back room.

The robbers got away with about $5,000 in bills and $40 in silver. They tried to rifle the safe, where a locked box contained considerable money, but were unable to get it. A few minutes after the robbers had decamped the teller telephoned the police. Only the two young men were in the bank at the time of the hold-up.

Police Probe In Vanwart Case

Commissioner McLellan to Hold Public Inquiry—No More Draffees To Police Headquarters Cells

There are more developments in the matter of James Vanwart, a young St. John man taken under the Military Service Act here last month and who died on the next day in a military hospital.

The facts are still fresh in the public mind and it is remembered that the young man was placed in a cell at police headquarters and kept over night.

Commissioner of Safety McLellan said this morning that he intended to hold a searching inquiry, open to the public, into the police end of the sad business and meantime he had given instructions that no more draffees under the M. S. A. be placed in the police cells; in fact, if necessary, it has been arranged that they will be taken to the county jail.

The inquiry will be held some time next week, just when it is not settled, as the commissioner has to go to Fredericton. Mr. McLellan said this morning that there had been no suspensions in the police department over the matter but that Detective Briggs, who had wanted leave of absence, had been instructed to remain on duty till the inquiry is over. It was to Briggs, it came out in evidence, that F. Lucas of the dominion police had handed over young Vanwart.

WHY DIFFERENT PRICES IN VARIOUS PARTS OF CITY?

Housewives League to Get After Matter And Make Comparison

The Housewives League has set out to learn why grocery prices differ so much in different parts of the city. At a meeting yesterday it was shown that shelled almonds sold in one store for sixty-five cents and in another for ninety cents, and many other illustrations were given.

It was decided to appoint reporters for the various sections of the city, to get the prices of goods. Comparisons will then be made and the results announced. The league is to continue its educational courses in dress-making and millinery.

WHAT ABOUT THIS?

Sugar Refined in Montreal Cheaper Than Local or Halifax Product

The people of the maritime provinces are paying more for most of their sugar than they should pay. Sugar refined in Montreal is sold here wholesale at forty to forty-five cents a hundred pounds lower than the product of St. John and Halifax refineries.

It will at once be asked why the Montreal article does not get the market. The answer is that under food control regulations each refinery gets only its proportion of the raw sugar, and therefore cannot manufacture and sell only that quantity. The Montreal refinery supply is therefore limited.

But how is it that raw sugar can be hauled to Montreal and refined, and the refined product hauled back to St. John, paying twofreights, and then sold about half a cent a pound lower than the price of the St. John and Halifax refineries?

That is the question that is puzzling the trade and exciting the interest of the consumer who pays.

DEAD IN BOSTON

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning one prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $5 and remanded on a charge of having liquor in his possession.

A deserter from a ship in port was brought before Magistrate Ritchie but at the request of the captain was discharged. Another charged with desertion from a vessel in port was remanded to jail.

Five men were before the magistrate charged with breaching cargo. F. R. Taylor appeared for the prosecution in the interests of the C. F. R. The men are William Garrett, George Nobes, William Townshend, Frank Wright and James Sands. Detective Duncan testified that he had had information that Garrett had sold some goods in Gilbert's second-hand store and had asked Inspector Catlow if there had been any purchasing. As a result the arrests were made. Inspector Catlow said that although no goods had been found in the possession of the men, a quantity of articles had been found stored in various hiding-places on the ship. D. W. Gilbert testified. The men were remanded to jail.

CARRY YOUR CERTIFICATE

Frederick Gleaner—Ralph Shepherd, one of Fredericton's popular and progressive business men, got caught in the meshes of the M. S. A. police at Moncton this morning. Mr. Shepherd was on his return from a business trip to Amherst, and was questioned at Moncton by the Dominion Police. He had unfortunately neglected to fortify himself with his marriage certificate. Looking youthful and capable of battling with the Huns, he was held there until he could get into communication with Chief Finley. The chief was able to vouch for the Fredericton citizen, and Ralph was allowed to depart in peace. Don't forget that certificate when traveling.

SAYS GERMANS ARE DEFEATED IN THE DRIVE

Boston Editor Gives Address In Bangor. Just Why They Can't Win—One Reason is Because Americans Are in It.

"Germany is defeated already in the present drive on the western front. She has failed to achieve that for which she strove at an enormous cost of life—to deliver a knockout blow, push through and overrun the enemy's territory."

"The Germans cannot win because we are in it," Mr. Balch said. "We are a continually increasing power, while the Central Allies are a continually decreasing power."

"It is up to every man here to put forth his strongest efforts for the success of America in the war. Must we wait until black is the only fashionable color in Bangor before we become stirred to the necessity of working desperately for our common cause?"

PROVIDE AGAINST FUTURE RIOTING

Strict Regulations Adopted By Government—Speeches by Sir Wilfrid and Premier

Ottawa, April 5—Strict regulations for the suppression of rioting have been adopted by the government. The order-in-council to give them effect was read by the prime minister in the house this afternoon. It deals, in the first place, with the opposition in Quebec to the enforcement of the M. S. A. and intimates that the civil authorities made no requests for military assistance.

It affirms the legality of the military intervention which actually took place and in the future authorizes the officer commanding a military district to intervene with troops under his command and "to use such force as he may determine to be reasonably necessary to quell and suppress rioting, insurrection or civil disturbance and to restore the peace, whether or not any requisition be made upon or order given to such officer or to any military authority by any civil magistrate or civil authority."

Opposition Leader

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that for forty years he had been representative in parliament for the constituency in which rioting took place. He knew the people well, he said, and there were not in Canada any more peaceable or more law-abiding people. They were a sensitive population, sensitive to any injustice would be ill advised in calling out the disturbances were so contrary to what he knew to be customary in Quebec East that he had made inquiries as to the genesis of what took place.

As the prime minister had said, the beginning of the disturbance was the fact that a young man named Mercier did not possess his exemption papers, but that was not the whole story. On Thursday evening, Mercier, in company of a young man named DesLaurier, went to the Salle Frontenac Bowling alley, in Notre Dame street. Mercier saw two constables come in, one named Evrard and the other Belanger.

"This man Belanger," Sir Wilfrid declared, "is as well known in Quebec as Barabaz was in Jerusalem."

"For most of his life Belanger had been a bar-tender. Some years ago Belanger got a tavern license, but had it taken away from him for cause. This was the character of the man put in charge of the enforcement of the act in Quebec."

Shame! cried a number of opposition members.

"Evrard," Sir Wilfrid went on, "came of a good family, but had come down in the scale of life and was not low acceptable as a respectable citizen. This is one of the officers entrusted by the government with the enforcement of the act."

He continued that Mercier and DesLaurier went upstairs and were stopped by two spotters and asked for their papers. Mercier did not have his papers and asked for permission to telephone home for them. But the officers would not allow this reasonable request.

"This was the first act of the drama. As to the event of Friday, Sir Wilfrid said his conclusion after investigation was that they were caused by some secret association of some kind. What it was he did not know, but he was sure that the origin was not in Quebec. The

CONSERVATION OF HEALTH AN IMPORTANT DUTY

CARE IN DIET SAVES BOTH FOOD AND HEALTH

The Use of a Tonic to Keep the Blood Built Up and the Nerves From Being Undernourished Strongly Recommended at This Season.

Nature is always fighting to keep us well. Under normal conditions the forces of health within our bodies keep the disease germs in subjection. They are not expelled entirely, but they are kept harmless. Some indiscretion in diet and the digestion is upset; overwork and worry disturbs the nervous system, the blood gets thin and watery and the ever-present disease germs assert themselves. The blood fights the body's battles, but the blood can only keep you healthy when it is rich, red and pure. That is why it is of the greatest importance that thin-blooded people, people with pale faces, or those troubled with skin blemishes, or indigestion, or rheumatism, or any of the many ailments due to poor blood, should fortify themselves with a safe and effective tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills purify and strengthen the blood and bring good health and efficiency to weak, ailing men, women and children.

PALE AND WEAK

The blood is responsible for the health of the body. If it is bad disease is bound to appear. One person may be seized with rheumatism and sciatica, another with anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, headaches or backaches, or unstrung nerves. There is just one certain, speedy cure—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood, and this good blood strengthens the whole system and brings good health and happiness. Miss Devina Laliberti, St. Jerome, Que., says: "Last year I seemed gradually to grow weak and run down. I did not sleep well, had a poor appetite and grew pale and generally languid. I consulted a doctor who told me I was anemic, and gave me a tonic. This I took faithfully for some time, but it did not help me, and I appeared to be growing worse, and finally I was hardly able to go about the house and almost wholly incapacitated for work. While in this condition a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got several boxes. It was not long after I began their use when I could see an improvement, which first manifested itself in an improved appetite and better rest at night. From this on the improvement was rapid and I was not long in regaining perfect health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a real blessing for all weak girls."

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Nourish your nerves—that is the only way you can overcome life's worst misery—nervous exhaustion. The fits of depression and irritation, the prostrating headaches, the weakness and trembling of the legs, the unsteady hand and the imperfect digestion that mark the victim of nerve weakness, must end in nervous breakdown if neglected. Your nerves are crying out for pure blood and the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to make new, rich blood. This explains why these pills have proved successful in so many cases of nervous disease that did not yield to ordinary treatment. For example, Mr. Wilfrid Donald, West Flamboro, Ont., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a serious condition. I was not only badly run down, but my nerves seemed to be completely shattered. I slept badly at night, and when I got up in the morning was as tired as when I went to bed. I seemed to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. At this stage I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt much relief, and continuing the use of the pills they completely restored my health. I can now sleep soundly, eat well, and am enjoying complete freedom from the old nervous troubles."

INDIGESTION CURED

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of the blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make the rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity, and the dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasure. Miss Edith M. Smith, R. R. No. 4, Perth, Ont., says: "I can honestly say I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My stomach was terribly weak and I suffered from indigestion and sick headache, and was always very nervous. I was seeking this way for a great deal of doctors' medicine, which, however, did not help me. I could not eat anything without experiencing the most agonizing pain. My sick headaches were most violent and I could not rest at night or day. I was asked one day by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. After taking them some time I found they were helping me, and in a few days I was able to eat several meals, until I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

Do not be persuaded to take a substitute. See that the full trade mark name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around the box. If you cannot get these Pills through your dealer they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

leaders of the trouble were not Quebec men. "My impression is," Sir Wilfrid went on, "that it is the same gang who attempted to terrorize the city of Montreal last summer. This gang was composed of the scum of Montreal as scum is to be found in every large city."

Speaks of Dynamiting Gang

Here Sir Wilfrid referred to members of the alleged dynamiting gang in Quebec who were convicted and released by the department of justice. One had committed suicide to avoid arrest. Another member of the gang, he said, was a detective employed by the department of justice. It had been shown that this man, named DesJardins, was the instigator of the trouble in Montreal. He was now out on bail for $10,000, furnished by the department of justice.

Sir Wilfrid added that he had reached the conclusion that the Montreal gang was responsible, by reason of the fact that, in St. Roch, the same placards had been posted up as were posted up in Montreal last summer. The words were "Quebec is the only place in Canada in which there had been disturbances. He pointed to disturbances in Toronto, in Calgary and to the fact that the prime minister of Ontario a month ago had taken refuge from a hostile crowd. But the trouble was not all on one side, maintained Sir Wilfrid, and he held up a copy of the Montreal Gazette, pointing to an article headed "civil powers make trouble for military."

"This is a serious thing to say," said Sir Wilfrid, "and, from information I have received this afternoon from Quebec, I learn that the allegation is untrue and that the civil and military authorities are working in perfect harmony."

Sir Wilfrid, judged that he had said enough for the government and he hoped it would be heeded. "It would be an unfortunate thing," he said, "if the government of Quebec overtook the military authorities and ignored the civil authorities. Let them work together and there will be no trouble at all." He said he would be obeyed, "properly respected and peace preserved."

Sir Wilfrid then dealt with some of the statements made with reference to his attitude since the commencement of the war by Col. Currie.

"I have always wanted to do my utmost to win the war. The sentiments I expressed thirty years ago," said Sir Wilfrid, "I have never departed from." He said that his speech in Quebec in November last was rendered in precisely the same vein. He denied friendship with Henri Bourassa or with Lavergne.

"Why did I oppose conscription?" queried Sir Wilfrid. "Because I am a man of common sense. I knew it wouldn't work. My countrymen have too much Celtic blood to be coerced." He went on to say that the people of Quebec had been persuaded rather than compelled.

Colonel Currie—"Why did not the honorable gentleman speak in that way to his people?"

Sir Wilfrid declared that he had done so. He might not have met with a great measure of success, but that was partly because he had to fight extremists at both ends.

"Standing here in the closing years of my life, but still able to defend myself, I say the only policy that will unite this country is one of conciliation," asserted the leader of the opposition. But today, he went on, the premier had brought in an order-in-council applicable to the Quebec situation, which was the reverse of conciliatory.

Referring to the other order-in-council amending the Military Service act, Sir Wilfrid declared that he was not prepared to agree that the government had authority to amend the law by order-in-council. If the law could be amended by order-in-council, the prime minister had power to conscript every person in the country by order-in-council under the War Measures act. This would be in absolute opposition to the British principles of freedom and liberty.

"My last words," concluded Sir Wilfrid, "are: We must have peace, we must have order, we must have protection of property, and the law must be observed. I was not in favor of the Military Service act, but it has been passed. It has received the sanction of the people of Canada, and it must be obeyed."

The Premier's Reply.

Sir Robert Borden, who rose as soon as the leader of the opposition had concluded, remarked in opening, that the members for Simcoe (Colonel Currie) and Vancouver (H. H. Stevens) seemed to be under the impression that the military service act was being enforced with laxity in the province of Quebec.

The leader of the opposition, on the contrary, was convinced of the opposite. The policy of the British government, since the beginning of the war, asserted the premier, had been not to interfere with free speech. As far as the speech of Colonel Armand Lavergne in Quebec, in which he had been perfectly authorized to act as an intermediary between the government and the people was concerned, Sir Robert said he had no objection to his possession from Registrar Taschereau and Colonel Machin which went to show that Lavergne had no authority to make this statement.

Sir Robert said that he was perfectly aware of the fact that conditions in Quebec made it difficult to enforce the law there expeditiously, but he expressed the hope that it would ultimately be successfully carried through. Under the military service act, said the premier, we have during the past seven weeks, brought 16,000 men to the colors. No such results could have been obtained under the voluntary system. If plans were carried out successfully at the end of this month 47,000 men would have been sent overseas.

In parts of Quebec, went on Sir Robert, exemptions had been granted almost wholesale. At the present time there were about 30,000 appeals waiting to be dealt with by the central appeal judge. Results were slow in coming in Quebec, but ultimately the enlistment under the act might be quite large.

"We are in time of war," Sir Robert continued, "and it is there to be a riot in Quebec, or anywhere else, because a young man had to telephone a message from the police station."

That was the point of Sir Wilfrid—that and nothing more.

Sir Wilfrid had said that the men selected to enforce the act were not men of a proper type, but the opposition leader had no fault to find with the higher authorities in the province, although the constables were no doubt selected by the higher authorities.

THESE PHYSICIANS WARN PUBLIC AGAINST TAKING SUBSTITUTES FOR NUXATED IRON

Say That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give the Same STRENGTH, POWER AND ENDURANCE

As Organic Iron. Besides they may upset the digestion, disturb the secretions and thereby do more harm than good, and that Health Officials and Physicians everywhere should caution the public against accepting inferior substitutions in medicines.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. A. J. Newman, former Police Surgeon of Chicago; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, and others give valuable advice and information on the use of organic iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder.

Dr. Nuxated Iron, Dr. Sullivan says: "I pallor means anaemia. The skin of the face is pale, the muscles are flabby, the memory fails, and the secretions of their weak, anemic, run-down bodies are disturbed."

Dr. A. J. Newman, late Police Surgeon of the City of Chicago and former House Surgeon, Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to mention it. I have taken it careful investigation by designated physicians among druggists and patients has revealed the fact that there are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and that such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek, simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. They seem to think iron is down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body, something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

"But in my opinion you can't make strong, vigorous, successful, sturdy iron men by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a semi-digestive process to iron on a good deal the same theory that a potato would be a potato whether cooked or raw, entirely ignoring the fact that the cooking process makes certain important cellular changes in the potato that renders it far more easy of assimilation by the blood and tissues. No one would hardly expect to derive the same strength from eating raw potatoes that he would from eating cooked potatoes, yet, according to the opinions of some physicians who have made a study of the subject, taking raw, unprepared, metallic iron is somewhat like eating raw potatoes.

Therefore, physicians mentioned below advise those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder, to go to their family doctor and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed there. Not Nux and Iron nor any other form of iron, but NUXATED IRON.

The remarkable results produced by Nuxated Iron and its widespread sale (it being estimated that over three million people annually are today using it) has led to the offering of numerous substitutes and these physicians say that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron, which, instead of being organic iron may be nothing more than a metallic iron compound which may in some cases produce more harm than good. The widespread publication of the above information in all Nuxated Iron advertisements has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician in Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), N. Y., and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, and others, so that the public may be informed on this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron, or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron. myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

Dr. A. J. Newman, former Police Surgeon of Chicago, and former House Surgeon, Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says: "It has been my particular duty the past five years to assist in keeping Chicago's five thousand blue coats in good health and perfect fighting trim, so that they would be physically equipped to withstand all manner of storms and ravages of nature's elements. Recently I was prompted to give it a trial. This remedy has proven through my own tests to be of great value in building up the nerves, strengthening the muscles and correcting digestive disorders."

Dr. Ferdinand King says: "Doctors should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for the nervous, run-down, weak, haggard looking patients as Nuxated Iron. In regard to the val-

AGAINST RELAXATION OF THE GAME LAWS

Declared That Work of Years Would be Undone and Food Supply Would Not be Materially Increased

(Conservation.)

The scarcity of food has resulted in various government organizations, directly concerned, being flooded with suggestions for the relaxation of game laws, and the Commission of Conservation has taken some pains to ascertain just what effect such a course would have. The conclusion reached is that it would have no appreciable effect in relieving the shortage of meat and would result in the very serious depletion, and in some cases the total extinction, of valuable game species. Many well-intentioned persons in making such suggestions overlook the fact that wild game, once it is depleted to a certain point, will, even under natural conditions, continue to decrease until extinct and can never, as in the case of domestic animals, be restored.

Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion Entomologist, in referring to such proposals, said in part: "While these suggestions are undoubtedly made with the best of intentions, they would, if put into practice, undoubtedly result in consequences of a most serious nature which are not realized by those unacquainted with the present status of our wild life and with the progress of game legislation and its enforcement. The chief cause of depletion has been either the absence of game laws or laxity in their enforcement. The struggle to prevent extermination has been very uphill work, but, owing to the attitude of the real sportsmen, as opposed to the market hunters and 'game hogs' and of the public generally, steady progress has been made."

"To relax these efforts at the present time would more than undo the results of the hard work and effort of years and would be catering to those individuals who have been the greatest enemies to game conservation, men who are entirely selfish in their point of view and who have very little interest in the welfare of the country as a whole. In the west, this class is largely made up of foreigners. To all these persons who violate the game laws on all occasions, food conservation has no meaning and any relaxation of the game laws would simply legalize their destructive tendencies to the detriment of the rights of game and the rights of those who are accustomed to observe the law."

"The amount of wild meat that would be obtained would be comparatively small but the destruction involved in obtaining it would affect, in the most serious manner possible, the future of our game animals. In cases of absolute want or necessity it is always possible for the provincial game officers to make special arrangements under permit."

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

Urge for Compensation Act in Entirety; Matter of Moving Day Prices

A regular meeting of the local Trades and Labor Council was held in Oddfellows hall last evening, with the president, John Kemp, in the chair. Reports of delegates from the recent provincial labor convention and from the special delegation which appeared before the local government relative to the Workmen's Compensation Act, were received and accepted. It was decided by the council to send communications from all local unions to urge upon Premier Foster and the local government the necessity of passing the present compensation act in its entirety and have it become law at this session of the legislature. It was brought to the attention of the meeting that local teamsters were contemplating charging from $5 to $8 load for moving on or about May 1. It was shown at the meeting that it was, generally speaking, the poor man who moved, and the opinion was expressed that this price was exorbitant. It was decided to bring the question before the local common council and ask them to take action against the proposed increase on the part of city teamsters in their charges for moving day.

A feature of the meeting last night was an address by J. W. Bruce, general organizer of the plumbers. Reports were received at a committee from the journeymen plumbers and a committee from the master plumbers had recently conferred and an agreement was reached to settle the local strike, but when the report was presented to the Master Plumbers' Association it was shown to have been rejected.

The council decided to hold an open meeting in their rooms in the Oddfellows' hall for all workers, organized or otherwise, for the purpose of discussing the merits of the Workmen's Compensation Act and other labor legislation before the present session of the local legislature.

Referring to the order-in-council relating to riots, Sir Wilfrid had said that the government should have come to parliament.

gentleman to challenge our action by a vote of this house, if he desires.

"The leader of the opposition has referred to the civil authorities. Why did the civil authorities in Quebec not act when the riots first broke out? The civil authorities do not act, are we to hold our hands? No. We are not to hold our hands. We are to use such force as may be necessary to prevent disturbance, preserve the public peace and permit the enforcement of the Military Service Act."

PROTEST AGAINST MORE ALCOHOL IN BEER

Fredericton, April 5.—Vigorous protests against the suggestion that a larger proportion of alcohol should be permitted in beers were registered by a delegation from the New Brunswick branch of the Dominion Temperance Alliance which waited on Premier Foster today. The delegation also expressed disapproval of the requests that should be shared with the municipalities in which they are collected. The reason for the latter protest was the fear that, if the cities or municipalities derived any revenue from the act, the province might be inclined at some future time to turn over to them the enforcement of the act. This, it was argued, would make the act a local issue in every municipal election, and would defeat the principle of independent enforcement by the province free from local sympathies or animosities.

Members of the delegation heartily congratulated the government on their support of the principles of the act and of the chief inspector, Rev. W. D. Wilson, in his work of enforcing it. They also paid a warm tribute to work of Mr. Wilson in this capacity.

A Ford Car Takes the Place of all These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitch-forks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

HEALTH BILL INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY

Hon. Dr. Roberts Makes Stirring Speech on Needs for Such a Measure—Quotes From Prominent Experts in the Matter—Money Invested Returned Many Times Over—Medical Inspection in Schools—Moncton Debentures—Other Business.

Fredericton, April 5.—In a speech full of facts and figures to support his closely reasoned argument, Hon. Dr. Roberts today laid before the legislature the principles and provisions of the new health act which he introduced. It was a convincing argument for the new measure.

Hon. Dr. Roberts argued the need for the new act by references to conditions as they exist in the province and to the possibilities for improvement.

The fact that public health is purchasable and is worth purchasing was emphasized.

Flagrant neglect of the public health was shown to exist in some parts of the province and the failure of the present methods was also shown.

That the passage of the act should not be delayed was argued from the fact that the conditions have made the need for such legislation greater than ever.

On motion of the speaker, the order of the day which included the presentation of the budget was postponed until Tuesday next. He promised consideration to the request of the opposition leader that the estimates should be brought down on Monday evening.

A large amount of routine business was disposed of before the house adjourned at 5.30 to resume on Monday evening.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A Few Applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Bring Back its Vigor, Color, Gloss and Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn grey, streaked and faded hair black and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness.

By darkening your hair with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness of the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way.

sufficient importance to warrant the best organization possible, but under conditions necessarily obtaining during an extended war period, the civil had increased by leaps and bounds, and until more effective work came as a result of organized effort, it would take precedent over their own interests.

Regarding the death rate from preventable diseases, the immortal Pasteur had said that "it is within the power of man to make all infectious diseases disappear from the world."

He did not believe that there was one honorable member who had not at some time or other during the last year or two realized the need of reformation along public health administration in this province. Some one had said that all laws—natural or man-made—are to last; and capable of being enforced.

Mr. Hall's report to show that the health laws in many sections of the province were administered in a perfunctory manner, that many local boards were absolutely useless; that no accurate vital statistics were kept; that the mortality of children was much greater than in other countries; that there was general indifference in many sections as to health conditions.

He said that the conditions which Mr. Hall had found to exist in the province were part of an argument in the public health, but he was free to say, as people were viewing matters today, it was not the least important.

He held that medical inspection of public schools had into effect in the province would be a step in the direction of an entirely different type of physiology, both in men and women.

I have spent two hundred dollars on Catarrhozoon, and have been completely cured, and, in fact, have been well for some time. Catarrhozoon is the only medicine I have been able to find that would not only give temporary relief but will always cure permanently. Yours sincerely, (Signed) WILLIAM RAGAN, Brockville, Ont.

New York and Montreal Went Wild Over The Bold and Startling Inpeachment

"The Kaiser, Beast Of Berlin"

A 7-Reel History of Germany's Game to Enslave Us

With the Broadway Theatre's first showing of Rupert Julian's super-sensation, blaze New York went wild.

At last, red-blooded Americans had before them a picture—no, a revelation, that set them boiling with rage, fighting mad. At last they saw the thing they are battling against. At last, they know they have good right to be made.

"Thank Heaven!" says Burr McIntosh, "little old New York finally got up nerve enough to publicly call the Kaiser. Just what he is."

A picture not of battlefields, but of one man's treacherous, war-loving soul.

A drama of ruthless ambitions, exposes secret instincts of the German ruler.

An absorbing, thrilling, dramatic story that reaches the pinnacle of artistry through its daring conceptions and splendid settings. Photographic effects such as are seldom seen.

At the very first showing at The Broadway Theatre, men and women stood up and cheered like mad. The New York American said:

"Polite playgoers became a cheering mob." They'll do the same thing in St. John next week.

Carry Boy Scouts Step Further

Joe Page sees Great Possibilities for Future Defence in Youthful Organization, Draws Lesson from German Preparedness and Makes Suggestions

How often we look back into the dim past of the long ago and see ourselves as children once again. Looking back at our childhood days, probably the most of us, dear readers, who have passed the half century mark will remark with me, "Well can I remember my first hobby-horse? Why, in fact, I almost rode him to death in my waking hours. As we grew a little older, why? It was necessary to have a company of soldiers, with paper cockades, wooden swords and miniature tin guns. Oh! what a brave and intrepid army we were in those long ago, never to be forgotten, happy and innocent childhood days.

"At the age of ten, why, we were regular men, with our little blue and gray cadet caps of the same pattern as the blue and the gray during the civil war. We had our miniature fights (sham) too, and so it went, as we climbed each grade of the grammar school, so we climbed to added years and stronger, heavier sport until at the top and out of school we settled down to work and make our way through business life."

Up until a decade ago the great majority of the boys of America have gone through this performance. At least since the civil war and in fact a great way beyond that. There were no laws from babyhood to manhood that compelled the youth to devote so many years before majority to the military service and throw up schooling or business work at the command of their country and to submit to this same military command. But we do know that before and ever since the war between France and Germany in 1870 the latter country did exact from each and everyone of its youth, physically able, a stretch of years from their youthful lives for military service, so that when the call came the military department would be able to say that each and every man throughout the German empire, who was physically fit at the age of sixteen, had had his full army training.

Just imagine, readers, what this really meant to German arms! If we allow that it was only in force since 1870, born in that year, every male child born during the next twenty-eight years, or until 1898, and passing the doctor's examination, had a trained soldier's certificate of from one to three years' service when war was declared in August, 1914.

So, one who reads that Germany had been preparing for this present war for the last forty years can at least say there was one item on which they had been at work for that length of time. And that was the one great item of any and all wars, a well trained and efficient army.

But, remember, this was all accomplished under compulsion, and furthermore I would like to say this same compulsory service at times, when it suited those in command or was so ordered, took on the lowest, meanest, vilest and most hideous methods of coercion. In these days of enlightenment would Great Britain or America stand for any such demands of the school youth of their country? No, a thousand times no! But what Germany did under a compulsory law—and made the greatest trained army the world ever knew—Great Britain and America can in time or in the same space of time that Germany had, acquire in each of the respective countries fully as large and as efficient a trained army as Germany ever had at the best. And, what is more, voluntarily and without the loss of home ties, school or business time.

Great Britain and America are (leaving war questions alone) well on their way to the attainment of this now, thanks to Sir Baden Powell, who originated the Boy Scout movement a decade or more ago. Since this movement was started I have seen it grow by leaps and bounds from the Atlantic to the Pacific. From Quebec to Florida and from all accounts it is moving even faster in the British Isles.

But in speaking of its growth throughout the United States and Canada I found in a great majority of instances there was something lacking. While the boys were on march, at camp, ambulance aid, nature study, etc., they always appeared bright and cheerful. However, something seemed amiss, especially on street parade.

One afternoon I happened into a prominent picture house when the weekly events were being shown. Flashed on the screen was the title of the next picture, "The California Boy Rifle Club." Looking at the picture there were seventy-five or more boys to be seen ranging from twelve to sixteen years of age. There were no uniforms, just appeared as if they had come from school. However the picture was certainly a study of boy nature and his love for firearms. Not only were they one and all crack shots, but they knew each and every part of the different mechanisms of their guns and how to take them apart and put them together again, and when they left the field in regimental order, after going through the manual of arms and several other difficult feats, Col. Dupont, head of the famous Dupont Powder Co., had he been at the actual scene, would have undoubtedly donated to the rifle club some splendid trophy, in view of their magnificent showing, as drilled soldiers and rifle shots.

This picture set me thinking, but for some time after I did not get the key to its possibilities. It was some time after—I think it was at St. John, N. B.—I saw a body of Boy Scouts swinging up the street in regimental order behind a life band. Each and every one of them carried a rifle at the slope and, say, it gave me quite a jolt. Every one of them seemed years older than they were. Heads up, eyes straight ahead and, believe it or not, every musket was just at that angle that it seemed as if the point of all bayonets were perfectly aligned and even from point to point. What perfect evolutions, too, they too went through, and I venture to say that the eldest scout of the troop was not more than sixteen years of age. It was then I began to realize the possibilities of what the California Boy Rifle Club might mean.

At home a short time later I said to one of my boys, an Aboerna Boy Scout, aged eleven years:

"Well, how is the scout troop getting along?"

"Fine," said he. "Woodcraft, first aid, drilling, signalling (flags), etc. Had them all at his finger tips. Suddenly, I said where do you keep your rifle? Down at the armory?"

"Yes, we don't have any rifles, all we have is a staff."

"Well, that's just as good for the purpose as a rifle."

"No, it's not. We can't learn to shoot and fix a gun with a staff, and what's more we'd feel more like soldiers if they would let us march with guns."

There was the lock and the key to the situation.

As stated in the forepart of this article, it is only natural for a youngster from the time or even before he puts on knickerbockers to have a wooden sword or gun as it is for a wee girl to want to own and nurse a dolly, and as the boy grows older he begins to want to handle the real thing. I don't know why it is, but it is a fact. They, the boys of today, have and have had since the Boy Scout movement was inaugurated, something their elders did not have in their time. Had the Boy Scout propaganda been in effect since 1870, instead of ten years ago, and each and every member of a scout troop during their period of volunteer apprenticeship been instructed fully in military training and the use of arms, Great Britain and the United States would have had today at the least calculation from four to five million trained soldiers who would have been fit for active service within one month of being called to the colors. All brought about through the voluntary love of youth for the arms and their liking to be soldiers at play, over which, in ninety-five cases out of one hundred, he becomes more enthusiastic from year to year or until he becomes of age.

I honestly think, in order to meet the Boy Scouts movement as it should be met, looking the matter squarely in the face, that means should be taken by the various governments to see that each and every official body of Boy Scouts should not only arrange to see that they are equipped with arms required, but also where armories are situated they should have proper recognition. Also rifle ranges in different parts of each and every state and province should be arranged for, where the number of scouts was large enough to justify this expense.

Saturdays, holidays and certain evenings give them ample opportunity to carry out and learn successfully all that may be required of them. The summer vacation gives them the time of their life for one or more large outings, when sham battles and other tactics could easily be gone through with, all in the way of play and one good time. A boy may forget what he has learned from a book, but what he has learned from play he rarely if ever forgets. He may, by reason of age, not be able to do what he did as a youth, but forget how-never.

Another thing, it brings the various Boy Scout bodies within a radius of a few miles of one another into friendly competition, and as they vanquish or eliminate one another, the victorious troop looks for further fields to conquer until the movement becomes not only national, but international in time. The thousands of friends of the scout movement in the various states and the provinces of Canada would, I am sure, be only too delighted to offer trophies for competition in their own districts, and when it became national or international competition, many great firms such as the Du Pont Powder Co. or others too numerous to mention, would be among the first to arrange suitable trophies for such competitions, which, while it is competition, is at the same time getting in a clean voluntary manner what Germany has acquired in the hideous and vilest compulsory manner possible—a trained army.

Remember, Dear Reader, this may not reach you just as I want it to. But again, remember, "In Times of peace, prepare for war."

Germany did. We didn't. At that we'll win.

Had what I suggest been true on our part since 1870, the war would have been over long ago, and Germany out of business.

Parents: Let your boy enroll in the S.O.S. Soldiers Of the Soil

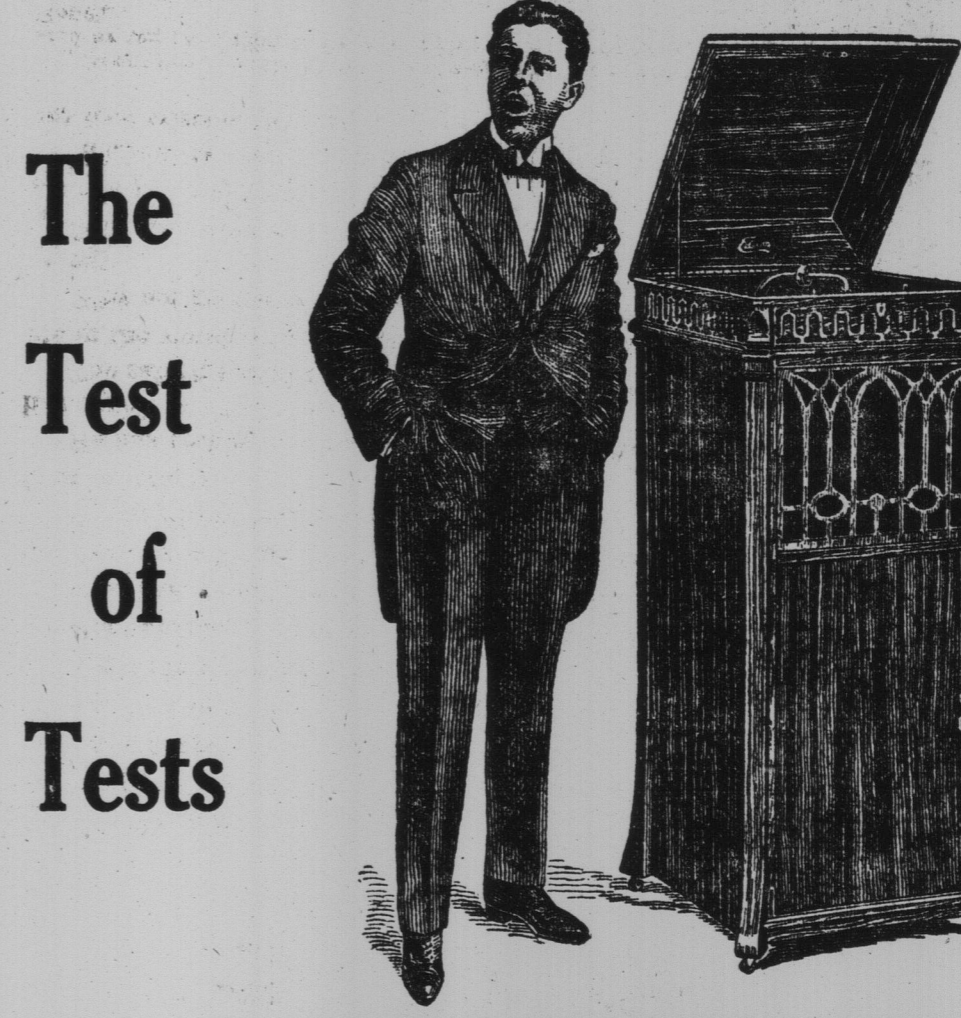

SUPPOSE your boy joins the Soldiers of the Soil and patriotically helps to increase Canada's food production:

- And suppose he likes the work and the life;
- And he decides to make farming his vocation in life;
- Wouldn't you be glad?

What business or life is more assured than the farmers? War and famine and pestilence may ravage the world, but these misfortunes seldom ever reach the farmer to make him suffer. He may have lean years, but he also has fat ones and his larder is never empty. He has problems to solve and sometimes they are difficult, but who has none? The safest, soundest, most healthful, most assured and independent life in the world is that of the Canadian Farmer. Why not give your boy a chance to see whether he will like the life or not? Why not have him enroll with the Soldiers of the Soil for a few months and learn a little of the work and the life. While at the same time he helps Canada to meet this, the most serious food crisis of the war?

Every boy, besides earning fair wages, will be decorated by the Dominion of Canada with a Bronze Badge of Honour. Enrollment begins April 8 and continues until April 13. Enroll with High School Teachers, Y. M. C. A. Secretaries, Boy Scout Masters and others. Don't forget Canada wants 25,000 boys from 15 to 19 years, inclusive, for the Soldiers of the Soil.
