LOCAL NEWS CAPT. MORRELL'S REMAINS FOUND Picked Up in New York Harbor Captain Mysteriously Disappeared June 24—May Have Been Murdered

A telegram was received last night by C. F. Kerrison, shipping broker on South Wharf, from New York informing him that the body of Capt. Morrell, who mysteriously disappeared on June 24, had been found in New York harbor and would be forwarded to St. John immediately. No further details were given.

On Thursday the sad and distressing news of the disappearance was first received by the friends of Captain Morrell in St. John, and at first it was thought that some mistake had been made, but the telegram of yesterday dispelled all doubts.

It is thought that Captain Morrell heard a noise in the night and went out to investigate. Vessels in that quarter are often attacked by river thieves and Captain Lunn is inclined to think that something of that nature occurred and that the captain either fell overboard in his attempt to ward them off or received some injury and rolled into the water.

PEARY'S SHIP READY FOR SECOND TRIP Will Sail This Week as Planned, Peary Leaves New York in His Steamer

NEW YORK, June 27.—Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who will command the ship Roosevelt on her coming trip with Commander Robert E. Peary to the Arctic regions, today announced that the work of equipping the steamer and loading her with coal and stores was practically completed and that she would be ready to sail on July 1 as planned.

SPORTING MATTERS

LEADERS CAPTURE SATURDAY'S GAME EVERY DAY CLUB CAPTURES MEET

There was a good attendance at the Shamrock Grounds Saturday afternoon to witness the St. Peters defeat the St. Josephs to the tune of eleven to five. The St. Peters played a snappy game, with the exception of Charles McCormick's careless playing in the left garden. McCormick was not up to his usual form. There was plenty of hitting on both sides and the St. Peters managed to roll up no less than seven errors.

Each side scored one run in the first inning, and were both blanked in the second. The St. Peters were the first to score, with a hit by the third, while the St. Josephs were blanked. The Fairville boys managed to bunt their way into the fourth and got three runs in. In this inning they blanked the St. Peters.

WINNIPEG EXPRESS

Hon. Mr. Graham Says the Hudson Bay Road Will be Built at Once

TORONTO, June 28.—The train known as the Winnipeg express going west was derailed at Tottenham, Saturday night, and five coaches went down an embankment twenty feet high, turning completely over. The passengers were severely injured, several sustaining broken limbs, and two elderly women are supposed to be fatally injured.

Hon. George P. Graham and B. M. MacDonald, M.P. for Pictou, addressed a large Liberal rally at Galt, Saturday. Mr. Graham makes an announcement regarding the Hudson Bay railway which is regarded here as of first importance. He said: "I cannot say whether the government or a private party will build the railway, but it will be built and built right away."

The Teumessus beat Cornwall five to four in a fast game of baseball at the Island Saturday in the National League union series.

The citizens of Toronto voted on trust sewer and water filtration by-laws Saturday, entailing an expense of three million two hundred thousand dollars. Both were carried; the majority for the sewer, 3,178; majority for filtration, 1,878.

MAYOR OF BROUAGE WILL COME TO QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Q., June 28.—The mayor of BroUAGE, France, has accepted the invitation to attend the tercentenary jubilee of the city of Quebec.

In common with the other religious bodies of the country, the Methodist church of Quebec will arrange for special thanksgiving services in connection with the tercentenary and that this important religious body will probably be represented here at such services by the Rev. Chancellor Burwash of Toronto, the Rev. J. T. Mansell of Dundas, the Rev. W. Timberlake, president of the Methodist church of Quebec, and the Rev. G. Williams, pastor of the Methodist church, Quebec. There is a suggestion that representatives of France's Highlanders may be specially invited to attend a thanksgiving service in St. Andrew's church here and that possibly Rev. Dr. Duval, Rev. Dr. Gordon and "Ralph Connor" of Winnipeg will take part in the service. A meeting is shortly to be held to arrange all details.

For the service in the English cathedral to be attended by the Prince, the Lord Bishop of Quebec is to be home from England.

The solemn mass on the plains is expected to be held at half-past one o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Legal notarial insurance and other business of detail occupied much of the important business was transacted by the national battlefields commission, which closed its sittings here at half-past one o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Legal notarial insurance and other business of detail occupied much of the important business was transacted by the national battlefields commission, which closed its sittings here at half-past one o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Those present at the meeting were: J. B. "Tommy" Korman, chairman, Turgeon, Sir George E. Drummond, Col. Danison and B. E. Walker, Toronto, and Hon. C. Macpherson, members of the commission, also Col. Harry Williams, Joseph Pope, C. M. G. and J. J. B. Chouinard, secretary, treasurer.

PAID FOR PRIVILEGE OF SELLING THEIR GOODS

TORONTO, June 27.—During the recent "New" Toronto, which twenty-four members of the Fibre and Manilla Association were each fined $1,000 for making and selling their goods without a license, a letter was read from J. H. Parks, the originator of the Park road, showing that certain Canadian manufacturers, presumably of paper, had paid American competitors monthly amounts to keep their products outside of Canada. The letter is as follows:

NEW YORK, Oct. 3, 1906. To the Members of the F. and M. Association, re Canada: Gentlemen—Messrs. Jenkins and Hardy of Toronto, Canada, wrote Oct. 1, 1906, that they have been secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Paper Manufacturers' Association for several years, and ask me to send them a copy of your plan and say, viz: "It may be that, in the near future, we shall be glad of your assistance and co-operation in this country (Canada)."

It scarcely need say that I have not sent and will not send a copy of your plan.

Some of the associations clearing through my office have been able to obtain monthly stipends from their Canadian competitors to keep out their products out of Canada. The low Canadian customs tariff enables American manufacturers in certain industries to advantage export to Canada, whereas the high American customs tariff prevents Canadian manufacturers in the same lines from retaliating in kind.

Query: whether an international agreement with the Canadian manufacturer would be an advantage to you. Respectfully submitted, (Please name)

Yours truly, J. H. PARKS.

THE BRILLIANT HORSEMANSHIP OF INDIANS

"At the present time, when the periodical unrest on the Indian frontier seems once more to have gathered to a head, these notes upon the native Indian cavalry may have interest."

"The brilliant horsemanship of native troopers is a matter of common knowledge, but the amazing degree of skill and daring which they display is generally realized. To a great extent this is the natural outcome of circumstances."

"The men, who are drawn from a different class from the home cavalry, are mostly small landowners—yeomen, as we should call them—and are thus accustomed to the saddle from their earliest youth; while their lean, tall figures are of a physique which is ideal for the purpose of light cavalry. They have, too, a natural aptitude for skill at arms and horsemanship, and it is to this, perhaps, that they owe their astonishing facility in those feats which are sometimes contemptuously called 'cavalry tricks,' but are nevertheless only possible to a rider with so complete a mastery of his mount as probably no European cavalry can equal."

"To an eye accustomed to seeing European cavalry, the horses of the Indian cavalry appear very small. But experience has proved that small horses are more hardy and more capable of enduring the vicissitudes of a campaign than those of a larger breed. It must, however, be remembered, that the average weight of a regiment is usually under 140 lbs. Even with such light men it has been found impossible to reduce the total weight carried by the horse as much as would be desirable. As it is, regiments vary considerably as regards their weight in field service order according to the country they are equipped and trained. Comparing them to British cavalry, they are indeed light cavalry, as their average weight in field service order varies from about 126 pounds to 217 pounds, while British cavalry horses have to carry from 238 pounds to 284 pounds."

"To those not so acquainted with the subject it is no doubt a surprise to hear that such heavy weights should be necessary, but in practice it has been found that if a man stands in uniform 140 pounds, his arms, ammunition, saddle and equipment will at least weigh another 85 pounds."

SMALL HORSES

"To an eye accustomed to seeing European cavalry, the horses of the Indian cavalry appear very small. But experience has proved that small horses are more hardy and more capable of enduring the vicissitudes of a campaign than those of a larger breed. It must, however, be remembered, that the average weight of a regiment is usually under 140 lbs. Even with such light men it has been found impossible to reduce the total weight carried by the horse as much as would be desirable. As it is, regiments vary considerably as regards their weight in field service order according to the country they are equipped and trained. Comparing them to British cavalry, they are indeed light cavalry, as their average weight in field service order varies from about 126 pounds to 217 pounds, while British cavalry horses have to carry from 238 pounds to 284 pounds."

"To those not so acquainted with the subject it is no doubt a surprise to hear that such heavy weights should be necessary, but in practice it has been found that if a man stands in uniform 140 pounds, his arms, ammunition, saddle and equipment will at least weigh another 85 pounds."

AMAZING VARIATIONS

"The sport of tent pegging, a remarkable feat of horsemanship even when practised under the simplest conditions is not an easy one to do well, but the difficult variations which the native troopers invent and successfully carry out are amazing."

"There is, for example, the feat of double tent pegging, in which two men mount one horse, disengaging with saddle and stirrups. The front rider carries a lance in his right hand, according to the usual custom; the second who encloses his companion's waist by side a short distance apart, these being taken simultaneously by the pair of riders who recover in the usual way."

"Any one who has ever attempted tent pegging will be aware how easy it is to miss the mark by riding too directly over the peg, or, on the other hand, by passing it by too wide a margin, and the skill and judgment therefore necessary on the part of the rider to guide the mount so as to be simultaneously within striking distance of either peg requires exceptional skill of eye and hand."

"The art of riding is worth making, perhaps, that each peg shows only six inches above ground and is but two to three inches wide. Indeed, so accurate is the practice in many tent pegging tournaments that it becomes impossible to select the winners without the aid of a scale of the pegs. In the semi-finals the peg is often put edge-ways, so that greatly increasing the difficulty of taking it."

TRAINING FOR WAR

"As regards the training of the Indian cavalry for war, it has been said that to British cavalry they are indeed light cavalry, as their average weight in field service order varies from about 126 pounds to 217 pounds, while British cavalry horses have to carry from 238 pounds to 284 pounds."

"To those not so acquainted with the subject it is no doubt a surprise to hear that such heavy weights should be necessary, but in practice it has been found that if a man stands in uniform 140 pounds, his arms, ammunition, saddle and equipment will at least weigh another 85 pounds."

ALBANIAN OFFICERS COMPLAINT

"I heard the Occupation bitterly condemned by an Albanian officer in the Egyptian army, who had fought bravely under Kitchener and Grenfell, and bore on his breast a whole row of medals as proofs of his exploits. He writes Mr. Sidney Low in a Standard article. 'Yet this man, who had served faithfully under the English, and been rewarded and honored for doing so, wished us away, and talked of Egypt for the Egyptians; meaning Egypt for himself and his kindred. The feeling of the Turk is intelligent. He knows that he has more ruling capital than any other in the country except ourselves. If we left, he believes he would have the upper hand over all the good places and the dignified offices, and make himself comfortable in the old high-handed fashion. 'He cannot be expected to cherish any affection for an administrative system which puts him on the same political level as his former serfs and subjects, and makes no more of a disa cavalry officer than the Sultan, the little finger of the Sultan. If once he really got hold of the country, would they have not to carry out the 'Inglest,' and that no particular regard would be shown for Osmanli-blood when the genuine Turk came back, he probably would not be allowed to 'boast' the country again; but he thinks he would and could, and naturally resents his suppression.'"

NATIONAL PARTY AND MR. HALDANE

"The leader of the Egyptian National Party, Mohammed Farid Bey, has sent the following telegram to Mr. Haldane, Secretary of State for War, in regard to a statement made by him in the course of his speech on the Army Estimates in the House of Commons last Thursday:—'The Egyptian National Party energetically protests against your allegation on the subject of possible racial or religious conflict in Egypt. There is no ground for fear of any such conflict. The entire nation is unanimous in demanding the evacuation of the country.—Mohammed Farid Bey.'"

FIGHTING CONSUMPTION.

When Lady Aberdeen was governor general of Canada—during the time her husband held the title—she was regarded as a woman of remarkable energy. Many institutions in Canada which have in the past few years become very valuable owe their origin to her activity. She established hospitals, founded the Victorian Order of Nurses, instituted the system by which great numbers of periodicals are freely distributed throughout the more isolated sections of the west, and indeed made herself a leader in numerous beneficent undertakings. She has not ceased from her activity, but even now is engaged in what is perhaps the greatest work of her life. In Ireland she has taken the organization of a national campaign against tuberculosis. Although in England and Scotland the death rate from this disease has been decreasing as the result of hygienic measures adopted by the health authorities in these countries, in Ireland it has been steadily increasing, for nothing has been done to combat the disease. Indeed the death rate during last year—from consumption alone—was, Ireland 27 per thousand; Scotland 21, and England 16. In Ireland too the average age of the victims of this scourge has been decreasing.

Lady Aberdeen's first step was to bring up the example of the United States, Germany and some other places; she organized a Tuberculosis Exhibition, which was opened in the Dublin International Exhibition, 1907, at Bell's Bridge. This exhibition consisted of several sections, showing the different forms of the disease, the different appliances, etc., that were being used elsewhere for the prevention and arrest of the disease; and what other countries and large towns were doing to combat it. In addition, a series of lectures were given by eminent medical men and experts on the subject of tuberculosis in its many and varied forms, prevention, treatment, etc.; also on tuberculosis as it affects the lower animals and its relationship with milk. His success was so great that several towns asked for it; so many, indeed, that two exhibitions had to be prepared, one going north and doing the towns in the North of Ireland after visiting Belfast, the other one first going to Limerick, then Cork, and other important southern towns. Up to the present date the two exhibitions have visited over sixty towns, and over 700,000 people have attended—i. e., about one-sixth of the population of Ireland. Some have called it all the fuss, turmoil and excitement produce any lasting benefit. Already it has done so. In Dublin a system of home nursing for the consumptive has been introduced through the co-operation of the medical staff of the different clinical hospitals and the Women's National Health Association. The nurses teach the patients and their friends the ordinary preventive measures from spreading the disease, the great use of thorough ventilation, and the absolute necessity for strict cleanliness.

THE PATENT LAW.

The effect of the patent law which has recently been introduced in Great Britain was so obvious that it is a wonder the application of the principle has been so long delayed. It is simply that all articles covered by British patent, must be manufactured in Britain. The result so far, has been that one hundred and twenty-one million dollars have been invested in new plants by the producers desirous of securing a share of the British trade. Germany, which is Britain's strongest competitor, has been particularly effected, and indeed the Union of Industrialists in that country for the adoption of retaliatory measures. This position asks that Germany first negotiate with Britain with the object of placing the manufacturers of the two countries on an equal footing. Germany has for some time had a law similar to that recently introduced in Britain, and the suggestion is that some reciprocal arrangement might be effected under which the conditions could be materially amended.

THE BOHEMIAN GIRL.

AT OPERA TONIGHT.

A Splendid Treat in Store for Local Theatre Goers.

Will be One of the Best Operas Heard in St. John—The Halifax Amateurs Here.

The Bohemian Girl presented by the Halifax amateurs under the direction of Max Well, will open at the Opera House tonight continuing tomorrow and Wednesday nights with Wednesday afternoon matinee. The entire company of fifty members arrived in St. John this morning on the early express, the party occupying a special Pullman. On their last visit to St. John with "Captain Reese," the Halifax amateurs marked a new standard in St. John for amateur productions, a standard which any professional company would find hard to surpass. Talking to the Star this morning Mr. Well said that if St. John people liked "The Bohemian Girl" far better. The last show was more of a spectacular piece, but for beautiful music and real operatic value it will be far surpassed by this year's presentation. This is an appropriate time for a revival of this opera as this year marks the centenary of the birth of its author the celebrated Irish composer Michael Balfe. The opera has been staged and rehearsed by Mr. Well himself and the production is an elaborate one. Mr. Well's success with the previous operas which he has presented in Halifax such as "Martha," "Mariana," "Faust," and "Der Fruchtkorb," is a guarantee of the excellence of tonight's opera. The cast will be one of the best throughout ever heard here. Mrs. Covey, who is well known for her previous success, will take the role of Arline, which is especially suited to her. Mrs. Charles Colyer as the Queen, the success of her previous operas, and her friends the ordinary preventive measures from spreading the disease, the great use of thorough ventilation, and the absolute necessity for strict cleanliness.

BRYAN PARTY CONTROL OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Had but Little Difficulty in Selecting the Temporary Chairman—Other Offices Filled.

Expect a Stiff Fight on the Make-Up of the Platform—Injunction Plank Likely to Make Trouble.

DENVER, Col., June 28.—This city took to-day its last political slumber for at least a fortnight to come. The Democratic politicians of prominence who have already arrived for the national convention of next week left this morning for a pleasure trip into the mountains. By the time they are all on the ground one more tomorrow the advance guard of the state delegations will be here on their way and there will be an ever-increasing activity until the curtain has been rung down on the first scene of the Democratic national convention.

The Bryan men were today highly pleased with the ease with which Theodore Bell, California, was yesterday named temporary chairman. There were reports before Mr. Bell had been selected that a fight was to be made on him by Thomas Targart, chairman of the national committee, and Roger C. Sullivan, the national committeeman from Illinois, but the promised struggle did not materialize. This fact was taken by the Bryan men to mean that all opposition to the wishes of their leader had disappeared, or at least with the comparatively slight influence throughout the convention. They are now counting confidently on the selection of Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, for permanent chairman.

No particular opposition has been made to Mr. Clayton. Other names were mentioned, but none from the south, save that of Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, and it seems to be practically certain that he will not be able to attend the convention because of ill health. It is known that Mr. Bryan desires a permanent chairman from the south and the Bryan men believe that with Senator Bailey eliminated no other man than Clayton will be considered.

Very little has so far been heard concerning the platform, but it is generally believed among the recognized orators of the class of platform builders are fairly at work. It is generally understood that in the event of the resolutions committee the declaration of principles will follow closely the planks of the "Lincoln platform."

The vice-presidential situation from the present outlook offers the greatest encouragement to that class of delegates which is looking always for excitement at a political convention. It is expected that the first place on the ticket should demand of his friends the selection of a running mate on whom he may have set his heart, the indications would seem to point to numerous ballots in the completion of a ticket. That frequent balloting and spirited contests are wonderful features in creating enthusiasm is asserted by Democratic leaders now here and they are looking forward to a scramble over the vice-presidency, particularly if a nomination for the presidency is made on the first ballot.

GARRISON REINFORCED BY FIFTEEN HUNDRED TROOPS IN TORREON.

EL PASO, Texas, June 28.—Fifteen hundred troops have arrived in Torreon, Coahuila, as reinforcements for the garrison at that point. It is reported that the revolutionists had occupied Matamoros, Coahuila, about fifteen miles from Torreon and that Americans are sending their families away from there as rapidly as possible.

Two hundred of the 18th battalion, Mexican Infantry, arrived in Juarez this afternoon. In Chihuahua, patrols are stationed in the streets and public houses and the jails are guarded heavily.

KEPT POSTED ON PROGRESS.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 28.—Officers at Fort Sam Houston are kept posted on progress of the so-called revolution in Northern Mexico, but have received no orders to make preparations to march to the border. A despatch to the Express from Saltillo, Coahuila, says that the 7th regiment stationed in Saltillo were ordered to Vesico, this state, where, according to messages received, several persons being killed. The family of Senator Zertuche is reported to have escaped.

The rioters numbering about 200 cut the telephone wires and tore up the rails of the Coahuila and Pacific R. R. between Vesico and Torreon. A passenger train on this division was held up at Parras.

The cause of the riot is not known, but it is presumed that dissatisfaction with the mayor is the cause of the trouble. The local companies of cavalry left on a special train for the scene of the trouble.

CAPTURE JIMINEZ.

EL PASO, Tex., June 28.—Thomas S. Labrada, leader of the Mexican Junta at Austin, has received telegrams stating that the revolutionists had, in a surprise attack on Las Yucas, captured Jiminez, a town of 1,200 inhabitants in Coahuila, and that Ciudad Fortino, a small town across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, Texas, was soon to be attacked. Labrada also received a despatch that several companies of Mexican soldiers had taken sides with the revolutionists.

Jiminez, the town reported captured, was seized by revolutionists last year as a generally conceded fact by a noted revolutionary sympathizer.

BOSTON AND MAINE RY. EMPLOYES SECEDE FROM BROTHERHOOD.

BOSTON, Mass., June 28.—The secession of the Boston & Maine divisions from the International Brotherhood of Railroad Employees became known today when the Boston & Maine men's board of arbitration and adjustment met at the Quincy House and also received a despatch that several companies of Mexican soldiers had taken sides with the revolutionists.

The secession is a result of dissatisfaction with the acts of the officials of the International Brotherhood, dating from the recent convention held in this city. It is claimed there is nearly 50 per cent of the men of the Boston & Maine divisions in the new organization, numbering all told, about 1,600 men.

ZION CHURCH CELEBRATES ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY—REV. DR. SUTHERLAND IS PREACHER MORNING AND EVENING.

The services in connection with the 50th anniversary of Zion church yesterday were conducted by Rev. Dr. Alexander Sutherland, of Toronto. Large congregations were present at both services.

In the evening Dr. Sutherland preached from I. Cor. 11:15 in the two following verses. His subject was character building on Christ. It was an effort of marvellous beauty and power. The large audience was enthusiastic in its appreciation of the theme and of the way in which it was presented. The music rendered by the choir deserves special mention. In the evening a delightful solo was rendered by Mrs. Bonnard.

The church was artistically decorated with flowers.

REV. M. E. FLETCHER PREACHES A SCHOLARLY SERMON IN LUDLOW

ST. CHURCH TO CARLETON MASONS

The Carleton Union Lodge of Free Masons held their annual church parade yesterday.

Headed by the Carleton Cornet Band the members to the number of 75 marched from the Masonic Hall to the Ludlow street United Baptist church.

Where Rev. M. E. Fletcher was in the pulpit. He was assisted in the service by Rev. A. M. McNinch, Surrey, Albert Co.

The speaker took for his text Isaiah chapter II: 1. The subject of the sermon was the lessons we may receive from studying the sources of Freemasonry.

"Freemasonry was in the first place what we would call trades union of architects and practical builders," said the speaker.

"We hear of it in China, India, Persia and Egypt from the earliest times. From Egypt the science and secrets spread into Greece. About 1000

Young Assyrian Given Three Years For Passing Forged Notes

AMHERST, June 28--Moses Nelma, the young Assyrian who pleaded guilty to passing notes knowing them to be forged, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Russell of the supreme court to three years in the provincial penitentiary, Dorchester, N. B.

Jeremiah B. Embree, accused of slandering David Trenholm, was found guilty and sentenced to pay $150 damages. Trenholm's action was for $1,000.

Fire broke out in the Aberdeen rink at 10.50 and but for the prompt action of the firemen the whole rink would have been burned. As it was, considerable damage was done to one side. The origin is a mystery, but from the position where it occurred it looks as if it were accidental.

S. T. BASTEDO WILL ACT FOR CANADA

OTTAWA, June 28--It is understood that S. T. Bastedo, ex-fisheries commissioner of Ontario and at present special commissioner for the federal government, will be the Canadian commissioner on the international commission to draft joint resolutions respecting the fisheries in boundary waters between Canada and the United States.

The American commissioner, Dr. Johnston of Leland Stanford University, California, and Mr. Bastedo will meet in Maine early next month to make preliminary arrangements towards giving effect to provisions of the treaty recently passed. Mr. Bastedo was appointed last winter as a special commissioner of the federal government to carry on negotiations with various provinces looking to the reaching of an agreement as to respect jurisdiction of federal and provincial governments in respect to regulations governing protection of fisheries, issue of licenses, etc.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE STAGGERED HUMANITY

On the evening of May 17th, 1901, the steamer Prinz Carl left the Swedish town of Arboga for Stockholm. About twelve o'clock four gentlemen, who were sitting playing cards in the smoking-room, heard a sound of shots, and a man dashed in, pale and breathless, crying, "There's a massacre aboard!"

They started up, but immediately someone slammed the door from outside and locked it. Next moment a pistol was forced through the window pane, a shot crashed out, and one man fell dead.

THE SEA-FIEND. The other three burst open the door and rushed out. The pistol cracked again, and the first man, Lindqvist by name, staggered back with a bullet wound in the head. He pulled himself together and rushed after the assassin who fled to the smoking-room and shouted down the speaking-tube to the engineer, "Full speed ahead!"

But the engineer was suspicious, and put the engines astern, and excepting the murderer rushed below, but the engineer had barricaded himself in his cabin, and the man ran on deck again, dropped into the ship's boat, which was towing astern, and escaped.

It was found that he had killed seven people, including the captain, and wounded five more. He was chased and arrested next day, after a violent struggle, in which he nearly killed a policeman.

COOLLY CONFESSED. He was found to be a man named Nordlund, who had recently suffered imprisonment for incendiarism. He coolly confessed his murders, and declared that he had not been in the least touched by his victims' piteous appeals for mercy.

He was sentenced to death, but even now he is not complete. He broke a bedstead in his cell and ran amuck among his warders, killing one and maiming another.

The world is well rid of such monsters in human form, and the Americans will breathe more easily when they hear definitely that the "farm siver" is dead.

THE HUMAN MOLE. No country is free from such nightmare creatures, twisted nature apparently born without the slightest respect for human life. Some, indeed, seem actually to take a horrible delight in the destruction of their fellow-creatures. Such a one was Alfred Knapp, executed at Hamilton, Ohio, in August, 1903, for the murder of his wife and four other women.

After his conviction there was no hope of life remained, he coolly admitted that he had been a murderer for years, murdering his children, throttling them to death, and hiding their bodies.

The "Hunting" was a German degenerate, whose horrible crimes shocked not only Germany but the whole world. He was a weak-looking man, though thin and weak-looking hands and arms were abnormally developed, and his fingernails were simply claws. Without any other tools than his hands he could burrow into the solid earth.

AMUSEMENTS. Catholic Celebration at Nickel. Not only the Catholic people of St. John, but people of all religious bodies will be much interested in seeing the great celebration which is taking place at the Catholic celebration in New York.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN. This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean? It means that the public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs--without drugs? Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told? Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick women are asked to write? Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential? Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents? Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women? Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

Comfort is Assured at the Unique. The most comfortable place in town to spend these warm evenings is at the Unique Theatre. This house is never too warm, the large electric fans and the perfect system of ventilation supplies a current of fresh air continually.

The pictures for the first two days of this week are all new and should form good drawing cards. The leading film is named Judith and Holofernes, and is one of those beautiful Roman pictures that appeals to all lovers of art. The costumes were very beautiful; the scenery is also very grand. The Will, a dramatic story showing how an unfaithful guardian steals the will and property of his dead friend and tries to marry his ward, but who is discovered and meets his just reward in a tragic manner.

His Day of Rest--Jones, who is a hard-working man is allowed a day off by his employer; he just decides to enjoy himself and after breakfast lights a cigar and seats himself in the best chair in the house, but as it is the month of May his wife calls him to assist in house-cleaning. After numerous amusing experiences he starts with a lamp to find a leak in the gas pipe; the lamp explodes and Jones rests for more than one day. Two new songs, with the most beautifully colored set of slides ever produced, Tris For Ever Hearts, by Wm. Lanyon, and When the Sheep Are In the Fold, Jennie Dear, by Robert Butler. Watch for the special holiday programme.

Happy Half Hour. Another exceptionally good programme will be presented to patrons of the Happy Half Hour today. All the pictures are new and have been published since June 8th. The Romance of An Egg tells how St. Greena, young farmer, wished to get married. Being a great admirer of Laura Jean Libbey's works, and romantic, he decides to write his proposal on some eggs he is shipping to market. The eggs fall into the hands of a crowd of college girls who decide to look at them, and accordingly one of them writes him a note appointing a meeting place, and signs it "Your Affinity" Rose. St. keeps the appointment, so does Rose, her chums hiding close at hand. In a few minutes they surround St. and the things they do to St. would make a horse laugh, and if St. isn't cured of his matrimonial intentions he ought to be. If you would like to laugh see this picture. A Child Slave Freed is a beautiful dramatic story. Mr. Brown's The La Loosa is another laugh producer. A Just Reward is a powerful dramatic story. Harry Le Roy will sing Keep On Smiling and Prof. Titus will sing. Both are late songs.

Blanche at the Bijou. Miss Blanche Stanley didn't drift in. Oh no! We located her taking a little holiday handy to St. John; went after her and persuaded her to come to the Bijou for one week, and give the amusement loving people a little treat with her fascinating and graceful dancing. Miss Stanley is well known throughout the American cities where she has delighted the eyes and ears of thousands of people.

Country Girl's Fortune. This picture shows a little maiden tending the sheep a Gipsy fortune teller, and a Gipsy fortune teller on the ground, takes out her card and tells the girl's future. Each card with its significant meaning is explained by the fortune teller. The Child's Dream shows many pleasant and unpleasant happenings and how he awakes in the most unpleasant one, his father and mother, who rush in and comfort him. Then comes one full of fun, the Visit Auntie, and no sooner has he arrived than he starts in with his schoolboy tricks--smokes the pipe, and gets into a grumphone full of sand. But here's where he makes a mis--swaps clothes with another boy, and gets all that's coming to him. The Signs of the Times shows two burglars get into the hands of the police through rough usage of the man who has befriended them.

Mr. D. Higgins will be heard in a new song.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR HORSE THIEVES. Two cases of horse stealing have been reported to the police and every effort is being made to locate the stolen animals.

On Thursday night, Dr. Reynolds of Lereaux, while calling on some of his patients, left his horse and carriage near a house on the St. George road, and returned to find the animal had disappeared and no trace of it could be found. Two tramps had been seen in that vicinity earlier in the evening and it is thought that these were the guilty parties.

The horse was a dark bay with one white hind foot and a little white on one fore heel. The buggy was in good condition with wine colored wheels and gears. The horse weighed 1300 pounds and is mixed grade.

On Friday night Ernest Taber, who resides on the Belle Isle road, in Kings county, put his horse into the pasture, but when he returned in the morning the animal had been stolen. He discovered tracks of a two-wheeled wagon in the pasture and on the road leading from Belle Isle to St. John. This horse was a dark brown and weighed 1100 pounds.

It is thought that the horses were taken somewhere in the vicinity of St. John and anyone seeing or hearing of the same are asked to inform the owners or the chief of police at once.

THE VALIABLES. The man with a wife and seven children stopped in front of the hotel desk, stated his requirements, and was starting off to follow the boy in but when the clerk, thinking maybe he might jolly the new arrival called to him.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "but hadn't you better leave your valuables in the safe?"

"Do you think I ought to do so?" inquired the man in well-fledged innocence.

"Well, it is the best plan."

"All right," said the man, and turning to his wife, "Here, Mary, pass the children over to the gent behind the counter. He'll look after them and give us a rest."

Whereupon the clerk apologized.

FEATS OF STRONG MEN.

All the world loves a strong man. The possessor of mighty muscles has been ever a popular favorite, from the days of Samson to Sandow. Sometimes, as in the case of Hercules, the people have made gods of the bravest heroes.

One of the earliest strong men of whom we have exact historical knowledge was Formus, a native of Sicily, who flourished in the third century. His career was, however, happily cut short by the Emperor Aurelian, who ordered him to be beheaded, because he had espoused the cause of Zenobia. Vopiscus declares that Formus could support on his breast an ox while iron was forged there. In performing this feat, he made an arch of his body, supporting it only by the heels and shoulders.

In 1793, Joyce, an Englishman from Kent, displayed his ability to lift enormous weights, and successfully pitted his strength against that of a span of horses.

STRENGTH OF TRICKERY. Still another exponent of the muscular power of John Charles Van Ekeberg, of Harrogate in Aulstair. He travelled through Europe giving exhibitions of his extraordinary power. These were the more remarkable, inasmuch as the man was not of more than ordinary size, and had no appearance of excessive strength.

And just here we find the first positive evidence that strong men are much more than a matter of muscle. In other words, there is an art of strength. The enduring of terrific blows from sledge hammers, accompanied by the marquis of Pailhardine and two physicians, Dr. Stewart and Dr. Pringle. These spectators, accompanied by the marquis of Pailhardine and two physicians, Dr. Stewart and Dr. Pringle. These spectators, accompanied by the marquis of Pailhardine and two physicians, Dr. Stewart and Dr. Pringle.

Ultimately, Desaguieres repeated some of the most impressive performances in the presence of the Royal Society, and along with them gave explanation of how they were accomplished.

In the exhibition, the performer sat on an inclined board, so that his feet were somewhat elevated and rested against a heavy upright. He wore round his loins a heavy girdle of leather, having an iron ring, to which a rope was fastened by means of a hook. The rope passed between his legs, through a hole in the upright, and was then attached to the span of horses. The man laid hold on the rope with his hands, and pulled against it while the horses were urged forward. The best efforts of the team were powerless to move him from his place.

In another exhibition the performer exerted his strength against the weight of a cannon. For this, he employed a platform erected on a frame of pyramidal shape, where he took up his position standing, wearing the leather girdle as before. The rope from the girde ran down through a hole in the platform at his feet, and at the bottom of the framework was attached to a cannon, which rested on rollers. Again the man clung to the rope with his hands. Then the rollers were knocked from under the cannon, and the mass of metal hung in the air, supported by the performer.

THEIR EXPLANATION. In a third feat the exhibitor lay stretched at length and permitted an anvil to be placed on his breast. Then this was hammered with mighty sledges, or two smiths, with their hammers, cut in train a heavy bar of cold iron. Sometimes this performance was varied by sustaining a great stone on the abdomen and permitting it to be broken by the blows of sledges.

Now, as the clever physician proved by his experiments, these most striking features, in the exhibition of strength were in reality dependent on the operator's knowledge and skill rather than on his possession of extraordinary muscles. In the pulling against the horses, and in supporting the weight of the cannon, it is the use of strength seemingly so surprising lay in the position taken by the performer. Either in sitting or standing on the platform when holding up the cannon, the position was not carefully judged, so that the whole strain came on the leather belt about the loins. The use of the hands on the rope was for the purpose of decaying the position for the whole strain came on the leather belt about the loins. The use of the hands on the rope was for the purpose of decaying the position for the whole strain came on the leather belt about the loins.

DEPEND ON BONES. But a different principle is involved in the performance with the anvil. Here the sole difficulty is the initial force of supporting the anvil. The rest is simplicity itself. Given a man rugged enough not to be crushed by the iron weight, and all is achieved. If only a thin piece of metal was used, a single blow from the sledge would probably kill the man. The great bulk of metal used is the cause of safety. The immunity from ill effect is due to the fact that inertia increases with the increase in mass. The anvil, by reason of its size, transmits hardly a trace of the sledge's blow to the body of the man beneath.

The vibrations from the blow are distributed, diffused, lessened, and the atomic multitude of the performer's bulk, and the performer can experience no inconvenience beyond the original one of upholding a considerable weight.

In the case of the large stone that is broken the same explanation applies. An examination of the most advertised feats of more recent strong men shows that they too depend for their chief successful success on the strength of their bones rather than on their muscles. Thus the man kneeling on all fours, who supports on his back a heavily loaded platform, depends for his triumph on the bones of his ankles, which are placed vertically, and can in this position resist high pressure. Here again the muscles play a part comparatively unimportant.

But let none who reads be too rash in experiments; for mistakes may prove dangerous. One who tried to imitate Van Ekeberg took his position without due care. The result was that the strain on the rope did not run in line with the axis of the arch of the pelvis. When the horses were started he was instantly hurled against the heavy upright, and made a cripple for life.

The Amazon is navigable for 2300 miles from the sea; the Mississippi for about 2800 miles.

In Manila most of the houses and offices have tiny window panes made of translucent oyster shells instead of glass. An average window six feet high by four feet wide contains 350 shell panes which transmit the heat and light of the sun and prevent blindness.

Talks to the Men About
Keeping the Barbers Busy
—Orders for the Day

SUSSEX, N. B., June 28.—Today's church parade of troops in camp was one of the largest and best in years. The weather was magnificent, although a trifle warm. After church parade Col. White, D. O. C., inspected the lines of arrangements, and also the troops. Shortly after 10 a. m. the troops formed three sides of a hollow square facing the brigade lines. The 8th Hussars was on the west face of the square in squadron column. On the north face were the 15th and 16th Infantry Brigades, in battalion quarter column. The east side was formed by the 4th Brigade C. P. A. and 15th Field Battery, 1st Field Company Canadian Engineers, and sections of Canadian corps of gulfers, signalling corps and S. P. A. unit.

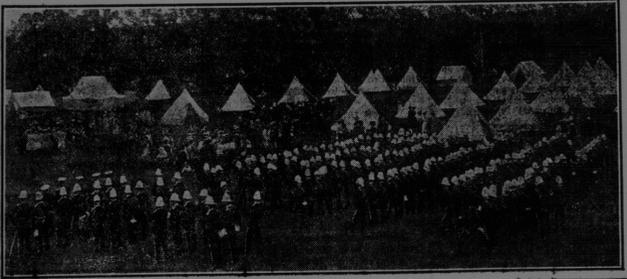

The corps with bands were played into position, while the pipers played at the head of the 1st Battalion. While the brigade was forming the Roman Catholic troops, commanded by Major Taylor, 7th Regiment, marched to church in Sussex, headed by the 7th Regiment band. Chaplain, Legard, of the 8th Hussars, presided on the altar. Chaplain Montgomery, 7th Regiment, Chaplain Neales, 7th Regiment, and Chaplain Alder, 6th Regiment, assisted in the service. The singing was led by the 1st York Regiment band. Chaplain Legard's discourse was brief. He drew a parallel between military service and life, pointing out the difficulties and dangers in the latter.

CHANGE IN THE SALISBURY
HARVEY TIME TABLE

HOPWELL HILL, June 28.—The summer timetable of the Salisbury and Harvey Railway goes into effect on Monday next, June 29th, and indicates a different running of trains from that of former seasons. The morning train from Albert leaves there at 7 a. m., instead of 10:30 as last summer, and will reach Albert at 10:30 a. m. This train arrives at Salisbury at 9:35 a. m. and leaves there at 1:30 p. m. for Albert. A second train leaves Salisbury at 10:30 a. m., going down as far as Hillsboro, and leaving the latter place for Salisbury at 1:30 p. m., arriving there at 2:30 p. m. Both trains are mixed, carrying both passengers and freight.

NASI, OUT OF JAIL,
SAYS HE IS INNOCENT

ROME, June 28.—Nunzio Nasi, former minister of public instruction, who on February 24, was sentenced by the senate, sitting as a high court, to eleven months and twenty days imprisonment, and to be debarred from holding office for four years and two months, on a charge of embezzlement from the state treasury, ended his imprisonment in his own home here at midnight last night. It is said that Nasi will dedicate the remainder of his years to an effort to prove his innocence. In a few days he will go to Sicily, where great demonstrations are being prepared in his honor.

Copyrighted, 1907, by Mary McKever. "Find trouble with us?" Archie regarded Deering with a sympathetic gaze. Deering nodded. They were good chums, these two. A couple of years before Deering had talked Mrs. Shelby into taking Archie out of the Hussars. Brown said he detested, and since then Archie had been Deering's sworn ally. But even Archie could not help much with Letty Shelby. At heart Letty loved Deering, but she was not to be easily won, and though Vance had proposed a score of times, she had turned aside the question without giving a decided negative. Letty was only nineteen and she had formed a theory that it would be foolish to marry early. "I like you," she admitted to Vance, "but you see a girl who marries too young loses an awful lot of fun. None of the boys pay any attention to a young matron."

Woman Burned to Death at

Young Fellow Drowned
Near Rochester and Two at Montreal

SHEDDIAK, June 28.—William McDougall, aged 22, son of William McDougall, jr., school keeper at Monmouth, was drowned shortly after noon today while bathing at Sheddiaik Cape in front of his father's summer cottage. The young man was subject to fits, and it is believed he had an attack while in the water, resulting in his death, as the water was only about three or four feet deep at the point where the fatality occurred. About one o'clock young McDougall went out alone for a bath, and was seen by cottagers on the shore about forty yards or so from the shore. Capt. R. C. Bacon, who lives very near McDougall's, was sitting in front of his cottage at the time and was watching the young man paddling around in the water. He supposed from his attitude he was trying to swim. Later he observed him disappear and supposed he was diving. He failed, however, to reappear, and Capt. Bacon, fearing something had happened, waded out and found the body lying on the bottom in about three feet of water. He carried the body ashore as quickly as possible and the others, who by this time were aware of something wrong, rushed to the spot. Dr. Chandler, who happened to be the guest of J. W. Y. Smith, was hastily summoned, and the effort was made to revive the body. He was useless when picked out of the water by Capt. Bacon. The deceased, who was about 22 years of age, conducted a restaurant in Monmouth and drove to the Cape this morning to spend Sunday with his parents. Where the drowning occurred was directly in front of McDougall's family summer cottage and in plain view of those on the shore. The body will be taken to Monmouth for interment.

Dwight T. Griswold Suffering From Nervousness, It Is Said.
THOUSANDS ISLANDS, N. Y., June 28.—Dwight T. Griswold, who leaves for Montreal today to take up more important duties at the Canadian metropolis, will carry away with him tangible tokens of the esteem of his co-workers and friends in this city. Saturday Mr. Gilliland was visited upon at his office on the West Side by a delegation from the general offices and staff, with a very handsome sterling silver tea service and a smoker's cabinet. The tea service, consisting of five pieces, was enclosed in an oak case and bore the following inscription on a silver plate: "Presented to James R. Gilliland by Canadian Pacific Railway terminal employees and friends, West St. John, July 27, 1908." The smoker's cabinet was mounted and divided inside into compartments for cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, matches, pipes, etc. The interior fittings were of cedar with silver mountings. The cabinet was inscribed like the other except that it was from the general offices staff.

IN A FIT, HE FALLS
FROM MOVING TRAIN

John Gregory, who resides near Robbsey, narrowly escaped being crushed to death by a passenger train while lying across the I. C. R. track near Robbsey on Friday. It appears that Gregory, who is subject to fits, had boarded a train at St. John. When the train reached a point about four miles from Robbsey he went out on the platform of the rear car and suddenly collapsed on the spot. He was thrown from the train and rendered unconscious. He lay across the rails in this condition some time.

WHEN GAS ESCAPES

It is at night time that ballooning is most impressive. Riding above the clouds one sees a heaven studded with brilliant stars, riding beneath, the world presents a beautiful appearance.

THE PLEASURES AND PERILS OF THE AIR.

The sensations of ballooning are quite different from those that might be expected. In making the ascent there is no sensation of flying into the air; indeed, the contrary is the case.

most essential subjects to master is the "go-ide-ropes." This is the long-rope which hangs from the balloon, and which drags along the ground when the balloon is low in the air.

SPHERICAL VS. CIGAR-SHAPED.

The navigable balloon is different from the ordinary balloon, owing to the fact that there is no free outlet for the gas. It is necessary in such a balloon that the gas-bag be properly distended.

PINE TREE BLIGHT COMMON IN MAINE

Forest Commissioner Says Many Trees Affected

Big Area of Penobscot County Suffers From the Ravages of the Disease.

BANGOR, June 28.—Maine's forest commissioner, Hon. E. E. Ring, at his office at the state house said Friday, in regard to the Pine Tree blight, which is causing such widespread concern throughout Maine and all New England.

"I do not wish to enter the class of the alarmist or to say anything that will discourage the owners of a pine grove, whether it is a small clump of trees for ornamental purposes or a stand of commercial pines. I do believe, however, that this disease is spreading throughout all sections of the state and the condition necessarily causes some alarm."

"I have devoted considerable time of late to the study of the question, have consulted forestry experts who can usually detect and determine the cause and nature of tree disease, but in the case of the pine tree blight I have up to this time been unable to find anyone who knows much about it, except as it appears to the naked eyes of all who have occasion to note the trouble."

"Having occasion a few days ago to drive some 40 odd miles in Penobscot county I took particular notice of the extent of the blight among the pines in sight and it is fair to presume that the trouble continued into the heart of such stands as were affected upon the edges."

"As soon as I learned of the trouble on July 16 I started an investigation and cooperated so far as I could with the United States department which sent me to Maine to learn of the extent of the blight and study its conditions. These men spent some time in the work but failed to get but little light on the subject."

"While the blight did not make its appearance until an alarming extent in 1907 it has undoubtedly been working among the trees for four or five years. Winter killing from the effect of the severe winter of 1906-7 was suggested as a cause but that apparently had nothing to do with it as trees that were healthy last year have this year succumbed to the disease. Some instances are noticed where the blight of last year is being over-

"This is the first time in the history of the state that disease to any extent has attacked the pine growth and it is a lamentable fact that the blight has made its appearance. Thus far commercially it has done but little harm but it is the spread of the disease that is to be feared. All it being done, however, that can be to ascertain the cause and a remedy as it is hoped that it will not be so serious as has been anticipated."

RACE DECLARED OFF.

BOSTON, Mass., June 28.—The free-for-all trotting race for a purse of $8,000 which was to have been run at the Readville track, July 4th, has been declared off owing to the withdrawal of Charlotte Crozier's Sonoma Girl, the feature of the race. Sonoma Girl is not believed to be in form just at present for a big race, it is said, and when the directors learned she would not compete the race was called off. This phase of the situation makes it somewhat perplexing to determine the extent to which the disease is communicable.

"Many inquiries come to the department and while the first complaints came from the southern counties letters are now coming from all over the state. Sometimes specimens of the diseased needles are inclosed with the letters and all samples bear the same stamp of the disease, a reddish brown or yellow tinge."

"As soon as I learned of the trouble on July 16 I started an investigation and cooperated so far as I could with the United States department which sent me to Maine to learn of the extent of the blight and study its conditions. These men spent some time in the work but failed to get but little light on the subject."
