THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 18, 1902. GENERAL O'GRADY-HALY AND HIS PREDECESSOR.

We have at last one case of a commander of the Canadian forces who has got away from the country without incurring the serious ill-will of any prominent persons.

It does not follow that General Hutton was less capable and efficient than his successor. On the contrary, his trouble was due to two causes, in both of which he was right.

The other cause of offence was the zeal shown by General Hutton in promoting the despatch of the contingents to Africa.

General O'Grady-Haly has merits too, but he is more "at ease" in Zion than General Hutton. No doubt he had his ideas of militia reform and development, but he did not take them so seriously as to quarrel with the ministers who vetoed them.

The hard coal strike is so serious an affair for the public that there is a general demand for government interference. No one has been able to suggest a practical method of intervention, but some way will certainly have to be found.

Uniform time has had one day's trial and so far has worked very well.

The Ontario investigations have not yet gone far enough to show how general were the frauds in the last election. Judging from the past they will not get that far if "the gentlemen of ability and probity" can prevent it.

But it is a fact that notwithstanding the election crimes proved, and those confessed in not a single case has the government of Ontario caused one of the criminals to be punished.

Former Member of the St. John Police Force, and Now Chief Armorer to a Division, S. A. C.

Thomas Johnson, well known in St. John as a member of the city police force for some time, writing to Colonel Markham from Head Quarters, A division, Southern African Constabulary, on May 10th, says, among other things:

"Dear Colonel:—I duly received your letter, dated 26, 3'02, yesterday. I also got four Sunns from you at the same time. Sorry to tell you I have not received the papers you so kindly sent me regularly, owing to forgetting from place to place on the veldt, but now that I have been fortunate enough to secure a billet on the staff, I shall no doubt get all correspondence, etc., quite regularly."

The whole of the Canadian S. A. C. contingent are looking very fit and happy. They are all very well and are enjoying a sound reputation for themselves. The sport here suits them better. On column they are spoken of as the boys who are not afraid of work. This division as a whole contains most of the shining lights of the S. A.
