BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN POSITIONS EAST OF HOOGHE AND RETAKE WEST HOEK

Assaulting Forces Gain Virtually All of Their Objectives to the Depth of Several Hundred Yards in the First Rush.

GERMANS EXPECTED BY BRITISH TO COUNTER-ATTACK IMMEDIATELY

Enemy Offers Considerable Resistance at Several Points East of Monchy-le-Preux and Severe Casualties Are Inflicted on Teutonic Troops.

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Aug. 10.—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig's forces at daybreak this morning attacked and captured virtually all the German forward positions east of the Belgian town of Frezenburg and the Ypres-Menin road.

The assaulting forces gained virtually all their objectives to the depth of several hundred yards in the first rush.

This section of the front was the scene of the hardest fighting on the first day of the battle of Flanders, south of Westhoek the terrain is marshy in places, and in the wooded section the Germans had strengthened their positions by constructing deep dugouts. These obstacles, however, did not deter the onward rush of the British troops this morning.

Details of the fighting are not yet available, but it is known that the British troops forged forward in the wake of a protecting barrage from their artillery, and achieved most of the objectives in a remarkably short space of time.

WALTER INCHES OF ST STEPHEN PASSES AWAY

Border Town Loses Prominent and Popular Citizen—In Young Days Was Resident of St. John.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, Aug. 10.—The death of Walter W. Inches, which occurred this afternoon at his home on Marks street, was heard of with sincere regret by all classes in the community, for he was universally respected and esteemed. Mr. Inches had not been in robust health for some years but bore suffering with great resignation and only his intimates knew anything of what he endured. On Saturday he started with a party of gentlemen for an auto trip through Aroostook county, Me., a guest of J. W. Graham.

On reaching Houlton that evening he complained of illness, but rather than interfere with the pleasure of the trip for his companions, he insisted on continuing and reached Presque Isle through Houlton physicians had advised against it. There it was realized that his condition was critical and he was brought home on a cot on the C. P. R. express, accompanied by two members of the party, M. W. McCormack and C. W. Grimmer, arriving here Monday evening. He sank gradually from that time and entered into rest at about three o'clock this afternoon. His death was due to a stoppage of the bowels, complicated by a weak heart.

Formerly of St. John. Mr. Inches is survived by his wife, who was Miss Maria Grimmer, and one son, Lieut. G. Inches. One daughter predeceased him by some years. He was singularly devoted to his home and in their great loss the wife and son have the sincere sympathy of the community. He was fifty-six years of age. In religion Mr. Inches was a Presbyterian and very regular in his attendance on the services of that Following the usual tactics the Germans undoubtedly will counter-attack almost immediately. In an attempt to regain these important positions.

The text of the statement reads: "In the course of a successful local attack delivered early this morning east of Ypres our troops completed the capture of the village of Westhoek and secured the remaining positions held by the enemy on the high ground known as Westhoek ridge.

On the left flank of the battle front our allies continue to make progress east and north of Blacchoote. "Our raiding parties entered the enemy's positions yesterday evening on a wide front, east of Monchy-le-Preux, blew in his dugouts and did great damage to his defenses. The enemy offered considerable resistance at several points and severe casualties were inflicted on his troops during the period when our troops were still in occupation of the German front.

"A hostile counter-attack was stopped by our machine gun fire. We captured two machine guns and a number of prisoners."

SIXTY MILE GALE STRIKES MONCTON

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Aug. 10.—A gale blowing sixty miles an hour struck Moncton this evening, blew down trees, broke telegraph wires and quickly scattered pedestrians in their homes. The tempest was the heaviest mid-summer gale felt in Moncton for years. Rain accompanied the big blow.

Mysterious Man Still at Large; Inquest Was Begun Last Night; Dr. Dunlop's Important Evidence

Herewith is shown a plan of the Main street district in which the murder was committed. The Williams shop on the corner of Main and Elm streets is shaded. It will be seen that the Wilkins house, at which distance it has been stated crimes were heard, is at a considerable distance from the scene of the crime. The beginning of Lansdowne Avenue is shown as is also the cooper shop near which the mysterious unknown was first seen running away from the Williams store.

The veil of mystery surrounding the murder of Harry L. Williams was not lifted yesterday. The police are scouring the country for a trace of the strange man seen in the vicinity of the Williams premises the night of the tragedy but he is still as elusive as ever.

The coroner's inquest was opened last evening when the evidence of four witnesses was taken but with the exception of Dr. Dunlop they failed to throw any new light on the case.

Dr. Dunlop, who performed the autopsy on the body of the murdered man, gave it as his opinion that the revolver from which the fatal shot was fired must have been held quite close to the victim's head; otherwise the bullet would have penetrated the lobe of the ear, which it did not do.

The report that Williams had a disagreement with a customer in his store on Tuesday was run to earth and proved to be groundless. The incident giving rise to it occurred in another store but Mr. Williams was not concerned in it.

The body of the murdered man was buried yesterday after it had been viewed by the jury and the inquest proceeded in the evening.

That the case has stirred St. John as this city has not been stirred since the days of the Rockwood Park murder and the Tanyard Gang was evidenced by the crowd of interested spectators in the courtroom last evening. They hung with morbid interest upon the testimony of the various witnesses but, with the exception of Dr. Dunlop's opinion, nothing developed to support new theories or to open untraveled trails of evidence.

The general view in regard to the murder still is that it was the work of a lunatic, but as far as can be learned so far, a motive—that centre from which the solution of criminal cases usually starts—is absolutely lacking. Williams was a hard working, good living, inoffensive citizen, as far as a known, without an enemy. This makes it more difficult to understand why anyone should wish to stain his hands with his blood and leads again to the theory that the terrible crime was suggested by a diseased brain.

The man is charged with being drunk and also with having in his possession six bottles of alcohol. It is stated on authority that the young man declares that he drank some of the alcohol and became intoxicated. It is further stated that he did not obtain the liquor for the purpose of drinking but had it to bathe sore feet. He had over forty dollars in his possession when arrested, but last night friends could not get his release from the cells by making deposit of money, and he will be dealt with in the police courts this morning.

DR. F. T. DUNLOP TESTIFIES REVOLVER WAS HELD CLOSE TO HEAD OF MURDERED MAN

This Was the Chief Feature at Coroner's Enquiry Last Night—Courtroom Crowded to the Doors—Will Resume Monday, August 20.

"From all appearances I would say that the revolver was held very close to the head, otherwise had the pistol been discharged from a distance the bullet would have penetrated the lobe of the ear"—Dr. F. T. Dunlop's statement at the coroner's inquest which is investigating into the death of Harry L. Williams, who died from the result of a bullet wound in the head on Tuesday evening.

Last night's proceedings at the court house did not reveal anything of a startling nature, with the exception that Stanley Hawkhurst, the last man seen to enter the store by William James McGuire, swore that the window blinds on Elm street were up while Police Officer Jones in a statement to the Standard said that the blinds were down when he passed the store at 11:30.

The court house was crowded showing the intense interest manifested in the tragic and lamentable death of Harry L. Williams. A feature of the evidence produced last night was the statement of Dr. Dunlop, who contends that the gun was held very close to the head. He said that he noticed in the post mortem examination the hole in the head through which the bullet passed showed a blackened area about a quarter of an inch in width around the entire circumference made by the bullet.

None of the witnesses examined heard anything which resembled the report of a revolver, neither did they see any person enter the store with the possible exception of the clerk, Stanley Hawkhurst. However Leo McMinimen, who was the first to notice the body in the store said that about the time he noticed Detective William Duncan, he saw a man walking up Main street towards Douglas avenue.

Dr. F. L. Kenney at the conclusion of the examination of the witnesses said that the inquest would be adjourned until Monday, August 20th, in order that the police might have time to make further investigation. The jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Harry L. Williams is made up of the following members: A. A. McIntyre (foreman), E. L. Robertson, William Crosby, Charles Gurney, W. N. Springer, and T. W. Thompson.

DR. F. T. DUNLOP.

Dr. F. T. Dunlop was the first witness called. He said that he held a post mortem on the body of Harry L. Williams and found discoloration of both eyes. Behind the left ear a wound, on the outside of head saw another wound smaller than one on right. The wound on the left side more pinched out than that on the right. About the hole was found a blackened area extending around the hole. In the brain substance were found small pieces of fractured bones. Dr. Dunlop stated that from his examination of the wound he did not think that it could be caused by anything else but a bullet. From the appearance of the wound on the left side he felt sure that the bullet entered that side of the head.

I would think from the condition of the wound that the gun was held very close to his head. He expressed his opinion that had the bullet been fired from any distance it would have penetrated the lobe of the ear. From all appearances he said he thought the gun was held very close. The wound of exit was about one inch higher than the wound of entrance. Mr. Williams might have lived a very short time after receiving wound. He might have been able to call out but it would hardly be probable. Dr. Dunlop stated that it was possible for the wound to be self-inflicted. The witness would not state if it were probable that the wound was self-inflicted. Dr. Dunlop stated during the course of examination that the man probably held with the muzzle pointing to the back of the head in an elevated position.

Had No Quarrel Saturday.

William Stanley Hawkhurst who was in the employ of the deceased, was the next witness called. He said that he drove the car for Mr. Williams and also worked in the shop. He was working in the shop Tuesday afternoon. Left about 3 o'clock, went to the bar and took out the car. Came back to the store and after delivering another parcel went home. After supper he went to Seaside Park. Left Seaside about ten o'clock. From there the witness said he came in the car and went down as far as St. Patrick street. On his way back he saw a light in the store. He knocked on the window and Williams asked him to come in. The witness said he asked Williams if he missed the train. To this deceased replied "I must have or I would not be here." The witness said that the door was closed, but not locked. The blinds on Main street were up a piece, and the door blinds on Main street were up about a foot. The witness said he asked the deceased how long he was going to stay there. The deceased said that he had started some work and he was going to finish it. The witness said he left the store at 11:05 and went home. He said he came back to the store when notified by the police.

Continuing, witness said: "I have been working for Mr. Williams since the first week in February. He used to take the cash out of the till and put it in the safe. I could not say if he did this on Tuesday night. On my way back from Seaside in the car, I noticed the light in the store. At the end of the month Mr. Williams used to stay at night and fix the books up. I never saw any firearms around the shop. Williams used to carry a watch but something went wrong with it and he took it over to Mr. Tait's and since then I have not seen him with it."

Regarding the report of a quarrel in the store one night with a customer, the witness said that he did not hear of any, and that he (the witness) only worked from 5 o'clock until 7:30 on Saturday night. "When I saw Mr. Williams last the left side of his face was facing Main street."

Leo Vincent McMinimen.

Leo Vincent McMinimen, a clerk employed with T. Durick, said that he was in the Williams store about 11:20 o'clock. Previous to that he was to a show in the Opera House and after the show took a car at the head of King street for Seaside Park. The witness said that he attended the first show at the Opera House. On his return from Seaside he got off the car at Douglas Ave. and in company with a friend he walked down to Adelaide street. He said he left there about 11 o'clock. On his way back to Durick's store he saw a light in the store. He did not notice any light in the store, neither did he notice the store. He said he did not pass any person on the street coming down from the store. He stated that he was in Durick's store from 11:20 to 11:55 and left then for home. He said that he saw with Mr. McGuire. The witness said that there was a light in Williams' store and he thought it was unusual that he was there so late. The Elm street blind was up to the top. The blinds on Main street were up about the same height as those on the door. The witness said he had been troubled with broken arches and he partly stumbled and in so doing noticed the body of a man on the floor. He thought it best to get in touch with some officials and then noticed Detective Duncan and told him what he had seen. Duncan entered the store first followed by McGuire and witness. When they got into the store things did not look as though they had been disarranged.

Witness said he knew Williams about ten years, and with the exception of Saturday night never knew him to be working that late. About the time witness saw Duncan, he saw an individual walking up towards Douglas avenue. He did not see any person going up Elm street, while he was in Durick's store, for he was in the dispensing room.

The witness said he never heard of Mr. Williams having fire arms in his store.

William James McGuire. William James McGuire, also in the employ of T. J. Durick, said that he went to work at 6 o'clock. He said that he did not notice the store of Harry L. Williams being open until he wanted to borrow a window brush. The Elm street blind was up, and the door blinds were all the way down. Mr. Williams was sitting down facing Main street, when witness went in to get a window brush. Williams said that he did not think that the window brush was much good. He got it from the back shop. "There was no one else in the shop that witness knew of." When the witness left the store he said he closed the door. He said that he was escorted for

NO FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS

No further information.

The man seen coming from the door of Harry L. Williams' store at 11.30 o'clock the night of the murder, then seen a few minutes later running on Sandown Avenue from the scene of the murder, and later seen on Magazine street, is much wanted by the police. It is firmly believed that he is the assassin of Williams. No further information has been received by the police regarding this mysterious individual, since he was last seen going down Millidge street from Rockland Road in the direction of Paradise town. A man answering the description, however, had been seen on Union street early Wednesday morning, on the Marsh Road Thursday, also on Main street early Wednesday morning, but there is nothing to show that this man is the same person seen on Magazine street and on the present time who has been connected with the murder.

Police Chief Asks Co-operation.
The following description, which is the same as given in yesterday's Standard, of the man supposed to be the murderer, is given out by Chief of Police Simpson:
Age, forty or forty-five years.
Square shoulders.
Stocky build.
Very red face.
Clean shaven, or might have had light moustache.
Five feet, eight or nine inches in height.
Dressed in blue suit of clothes.
Wore broad brimmed hat, possibly imitation Panama.
Chief Simpson asks for the co-operation of the general public, both in the city and the surrounding country, in locating this mysterious person. The chief requests that any person who sees a man answering the above description, kindly telephone to the police headquarters, Main 107, and the matter will be immediately investigated. The chief further states that the name of any person telephoning will be kept strictly confidential and will not be given out at any time.

Running Down Rumors.
The members of the police force, especially the officers in the detective department, have been working hard since the murder of Williams was discovered. Every clue and rumor has been thoroughly looked into. The rumors circulated about the city have been many, but every such rumor has been proved groundless and in no manner have had any bearing on the murder.
Every possible phase of the case as been investigated and the only connection with the murder of Williams was discovered. A peculiar thing in this connection was that the man had come down Main street, seemingly without realizing that his destination lay in the direction back of him. The citizen told him that if he retraced his steps he would reach the North End in a short time, and, as he was walking the same way, he invited the stranger to accompany him. The man appeared to be about thirty years of age and he was of a swarthy complexion, dressed in dark clothes and talked with a slight foreign accent. As cripts might have seen the man answering such description, but up to late last night no person had informed the police department that such a person had been seen.

Other than this mysterious individual there is no clue for the detectives to work on and unless something unforeseen happens the murderer of Harry L. Williams will still remain at liberty. Every effort at the disposal of Chief Simpson and his force is being made to locate this strange man. The city has been searched thoroughly and officers have scoured the surrounding country to learn if such a person had been seen but nothing new in the case has developed.

A strange Acting Man.
A statement is given out by Joseph Flynn of Somerset street regarding the actions of a strange man on Rockland Road, near the iron railing leading up from Main street by Fort Howe. Mr. Flynn says that his wife and a couple of lady companions were walking up the street by the railing. A man hurried off Main street and accosted the women. He had a newspaper clipping in his hand and began to explain in a weird fashion the Williams' case and give reasons why murder mysteries could not be solved. He had a piece of paper on which were some figures and he explained that there were things on it which had made many homes unhappy. As the women started away from the strange acting man he said that he could stop them with one move of his finger.
He is described as being a man of about six feet in height, wore dark clothes and a wide brimmed straw hat. The description tallies somewhat with that of the man who was seen on Magazine street shortly after Williams was murdered.

Seen on Union Street.
A business man stated yesterday that about fifteen minutes after midnight Tuesday, or three-quarters of an hour after the strange man was seen to leave Harry Williams' store door, he and his wife were crossing on the corner of Charlotte and Union street, they saw a man running quickly along Union street from the direction of Dock street. When the man neared the corner of Union and Charlotte he stopped running and the last seen of him was walking quickly down Union in the direction of Waterloo street. The mysterious man is described as being about six feet tall, wore dark clothes of a brownish color and a wide brimmed hat.

Was it Same Man?
A citizen, who was in the North End shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, was accosted by a young man at the corner of Mill and Main streets, who wished to be directed to the North End. A peculiar thing in this connection was that the man had come down Main street, seemingly without realizing that his destination lay in the direction back of him. The citizen told him that if he retraced his steps he would reach the North End in a short time, and, as he was walking the same way, he invited the stranger to accompany him. The man appeared to be about thirty years of age and he was of a swarthy complexion, dressed in dark clothes and talked with a slight foreign accent. As they walked up Main street the man kept up a constant flow of conversation, repeating himself several times. His talking was confined almost entirely to the fact that a short time previous, he had met a woman on the street, who asked him the whereabouts of her daughter, saying that she was on her way to the North End police station to make enquiries concerning her. He also said that he was employed at the Atlantic sugar refinery and was on his way back from a celebration at a friend's house. The two parties, company at the corner of Elm street, the stranger continuing up Main street.

The Meat Store Affair.
There was a report in the press yesterday that there was reason to investigate an alleged argument in the store of Harry L. Williams on Saturday night last. That two North End men stated that a discussion took place between the deceased and a customer, in regard to an order of meat; that a woman purchased the meat, and that the man returned with it, and in the argument angry words were used; that the murdered man was threatened but was not struck as he had a cleaver in his hand with which he was cutting meat.
This matter has been thoroughly investigated, and there is no truth in the report that Harry L. Williams was connected with it. There was an argument, and hot words were used, but the dealer was not Harry Williams and the affair did not take place in his store.

From good authority last night, it is learned that some meat was purchased in a Main street store by the wife of John Williams, that the purchase was not satisfactory, and John Williams returned the meat to the dealer, and requested that he be refunded his money. The dealer refused to pay back the money, and this led to a very hot exchange of words between the two men, but did not go farther.
When asked about the report last night, police officials who had investigated, stated that the exchange of

ABBE BOND WINS BIG PACING EVENT

Columbus, Aug. 10.—Two very desperately contested races furnished the best thrills of the entire week on get-away-day of the grand circuit meeting here. The 2.18 pace, in which Marjorie Kay was a first choice, furnished the sensational work. Not until the end of the seven heats was Abbe Bond declared the winner over Robert Gatewood, the three-year-old pacer that Ed Geers gave his maiden race this afternoon. Both these horses were in a $7 field on a ticket worth $77.
The Weed won the first heat in 2.04.
The Nelhouse, 2.07 trot, purse $3,000, was won by Wilkes Brewer, the original favorite. In the 2.13 pace Butthale won his second race of the week. The last half of the first mile was paced in 59%. The first half of the second heat was paced in 1.01 1/2 in this event.

about twenty minutes or a half hour washing Mr. Durick's windows. The witness said that he saw Mr. Hawkhurst go into the store but he did not see him come out. He stated that he was on the sidewalk for about five minutes after Hawkhurst went in the store.
Mr. McGuire in conclusion said that he never knew of Mr. Williams being in his store so late unless it was on a Saturday night. His statement of leaving the store corroborated that of Leo McMinimen.
Coroner Kenney here stated that the inquiry would adjourn until Monday, August 20th.

Was Buried Yesterday.
The funeral of Harry L. Williams took place at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, from his late residence 146 Durham street, and was attended by a very large number of friends. The services at the funeral and grave were conducted by Rev. George Steele. During the course of the sermon Mr. Steele made mention of the high standing the deceased had in the community and how he would be missed by his wide circle of friends. Interment took place in Cedar Hill cemetery, and the funeral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

SUMMARY OF TRAGEDY.
At 3105 Stanley Hawkhurst swore that the window blinds were up on Elm street and partly up on Main street.
At 11.20 Police Constable Jones says that the only blinds raised in the store were the door blinds, and they were up about fifteen inches.
Hawkhurst swore that he closed the door.
Detective Duncan found the door open about three inches. But one light was burning in the store the night of the crime, and it was near the place where the deceased was last seen standing.
At 11.55 body discovered by Leo McMinimen and James McGuire. About this time a man was seen by the above gentlemen on his way up Main street.
From 11 o'clock until 11.30 W. J. McGuire was engaged in washing Durick's windows, opposite Williams' store. He saw but one man go into the store, Mr. Williams' clerk.
Mr. McGuire did not hear any revolver shot.
Mr. McMinimen heard no commotion or any noise to arouse his suspicion.

A Mistake of Motorists

"One Tire is about as good as another"

Veterans know this is not true. The road-test has proved it wrong. If you are not riding on DOMINION TIRES, you will realize your mistake with the first set of "NOBBY TREADS" or "CHAIN TREADS" that you put on the car.
"NOBBY TREADS" are the heroes of the highway; as nearly puncture-proof as any tire can be; 100% motoring ease, pleasure and economy. Costing more to begin with, they give a net service in mileage and freedom from tire troubles, that make these "Aristocrats of the Road" the most economical on any car.
One tire isn't as good as another. DOMINION "CHAIN TREADS" are not as good as "NOBBY TREADS"—not as heavy; probably won't give the mileage; but then they don't cost as much. In their price-class, however, these is nothing to touch them for service.

Russians and Roumanians Repulse Attacks of Considerable Intensity on the Roumanian Front South of Aeruth as far as Village of Selka.

exploring party had land mines exploded in front of them near a crater which was the scene of lively fighting earlier in the week. Undisturbed by these explosions they pushed on and encountered an enemy patrol of thirteen men, who took shelter in a dug-out. Only two answered the call to surrender and the remainder were killed in the destruction of the dug-out.

British Statement.
London, Aug. 10.—The official communication issued by British headquarters last night reads:

"Artillery activity on both sides continued in the neighborhood of Ypres. There was no infantry action. Successful raids took place early in the morning in the neighborhood of the east and north of the British front. We secured a few prisoners and killed many Germans. Our troops entered the enemy positions at all points attacked and, after destroying the dugouts and wrecking his defenses, returned with slight casualties. Hostile artillery has been more active than usual in the morning, although bad weather interfered. In air fighting, two German airplanes were brought down and another driven down out of control. None of ours is missing."

French Made Gains.
London, Aug. 10.—The French forces on the left flank of the British lines in Belgium made further progress last night, according to the official report made to the war office today by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig. British raiding parties blew up the German dugouts on a wide front east of Monchy-Le-Freux, on the Arras front, the report adds, and greatly damaged the Germans' defenses.

Russian Successes.
Paris, Aug. 10.—French forces last night made further progress against the German positions on the Belgian front. The Frenchmen broke into the German lines, occupied several farms to the east of Bixchoote and west of Langemark, and captured a number of machine guns, according to the statement given out today by the French war department.

Roumanian Statement.
Petropolis, Aug. 9.—The Russian war office statement issued today reads as follows: "The Russian army has repulsed the attacks of the Roumanians on the night of August 7-8. There were casualties of greater intensity in the direction of Brody. On the Roumanian front, south of Aeruth, as far as the village of Selka, the enemy conducted a series of attacks of considerable intensity. All were repulsed. "In the region northwest of Sipot and Katergal, the enemy, after obstinate attacks, occupied a series of heights, forcing back our troops slightly eastward. "Between rivulets Sluzca and Destina—a number of enemy attacks were beaten off. The enemy succeeded in penetrating our trenches on one of the heights, but he was ejected by a counter attack. The retirement developed into a fight. We captured eight prisoners and a machine gun. "After artillery preparation the enemy attacked the Roumanian positions in the region between the Rivers Sita and Kanino and in certain districts pressed back some of them. An attack south of the River Kanino was repulsed by the Roumanians."

OBITUARY

John D. McAuley.
Newcastle, Aug. 10.—Death claimed one of Northumberland's best known and most respected citizens this morning in the person of John D. McAuley, who for upwards of eighteen years has conducted the Union Hotel here. Mr. McAuley's death came as a shock to his many friends, as few, if any, knew of his illness. About three weeks ago his barn was destroyed by fire. In his endeavors to save his property he was affected by the smoke and water, which later developed into bronchitis and pneumonia. The deceased was born at Whiteville, seventy-one years and six months ago, and has resided in this vicinity about all his life. In politics he was a staunch Conservative. He was also a strong temperance advocate. He leaves a widow, formerly Miss Mackintosh, of Iowa; three sons, Oran G. Moncton, Murray, Fall River, Mass.; Frank, at home; six daughters, Mrs. John McDonald, Roxbury, Mass.; Mrs. Robert Norris, Fall River; Mrs. Alfred Bowser, Amherst; Mrs. Charles McCulloch, Lower Onslow, N. S.; Mrs. William Barton, Moncton; Miss Nina, Dorchester, Mass. The funeral will take place at three o'clock Monday afternoon.

City Physicians Explain Why They Prescribe Nuxated Iron

To Make Beautiful, Healthy Women and Strong, Vigorous Men NOW BEING USED BY OVER THREE MILLION PEOPLE ANNUALLY

Quickly Transforms the flabby flesh, toneless tissues, and pallid cheeks of weak, anemic men and women into a perfect glow of health, beauty and vigor, because the strength of delicate, nervous, run-down folks 100 per cent. in two weeks' time.

New York, N. Y.—It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually in this country alone are taking Nuxated Iron. Such astonishing results have been reported from its use both by doctors and laymen, that a number of physicians in various parts of the country have been asked to explain why they prescribe it so extensively, and why it apparently produces so much better results than were obtained from the old forms of inorganic iron.

Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author says: "There can be no vigorous iron without iron. Pallor means anemia. Anemia means iron deficiency. The skin of anemic men and women is pale. The flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fags and the memory fails and they often become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. From the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks.

In the most common foods of America, the starched sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degenerated cornmeal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cookery, by throwing down the waste-pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked are responsible for another grave iron loss.

Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of organic iron just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt.

Dr. A. J. Newman, late Police Surgeon of the City of Chicago and former House Surgeon, Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, in commenting on Nuxated Iron, says: "It has been my particular duty during the past six years to assist in keeping Chicago's five thousand bluecoats in good health and perfect fighting trim so that they would be physically equipped to withstand all manner of storms and the ravages of nature's elements.

Recently I was prompted through an endorsement of Nuxated Iron by Dr. Schuyler C. Jacques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York, to give it a trial. This remedy has proven through my own tests of it to excel any preparation I have ever used for creating red blood, building up the nerves, strengthening the muscles and correcting digestive disorders."

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European Medical Institutions says: "As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run down, instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart troubles and other dangerous maladies. The real and true cause never before given out any medical information or advice for publication as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to furnish it, because the strength of delicate, nervous, run-down folks 100 per cent. in two weeks' time.

my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy.

Dr. N. Horstman, for ten years in the Department of Public Health and Charities of Philadelphia, said: "After carefully examining the formula of Nuxated Iron I realized that here at last was organic iron—the only kind I could conscientiously recommend, prepared in such a way that it could be taken as so easily assimilated and calculated to act as a quick revitalizer of the blood and a true strength builder. In my opinion the widespread cases of stupor cases where other tonics had utterly failed only served to convince me absolutely of the remarkable and unusual power of Nuxated Iron. When I personally took it I found the rapidity with which my energy and endurance increased most surprising. In my opinion the widespread use of Nuxated Iron is bound to make a nation of stronger men, lovelier women and healthier children."

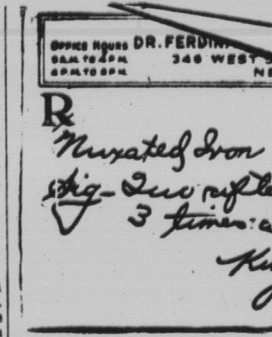

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if it cannot be used by any man, or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent. or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed at this city by Wagon's Drug Store and by all good druggists.

which started their diseases was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man. In fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 40 he was careworn and nearly all in now at 60 after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to take the following test: see how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run-down people who were all in all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that is easily absorbed and assimilated to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete and prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena; while many another has gone down in ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron."

Dr. Schuyler C. Jacques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have

ABBE BOND WINS BIG PACING EVENT

Columbus, Aug. 10.—Two very desperately contested races furnished the best thrills of the entire week on get-away-day of the grand circuit meeting here. The 2.18 pace, in which Marjorie Kay was a first choice, furnished the sensational work. Not until the end of the seven heats was Abbe Bond declared the winner over Robert Gatewood, the three-year-old pacer that Ed Geers gave his maiden race this afternoon. Both these horses were in a 87 bond on a ticket worth $77.

The Wood won the first heat in 2:04 1/4. The Neilhouse, 2:07 trot, purse $3,000, was won by Wilkes Brower, the original favorite. In the 2:19 pace Butthals won his second race of the week. The last half of the first mile was paced in 56 1/2. The first half of the second heat was paced in 1:01 1/2 in this event.

FAVORS CONSCRIPTION AT THE PRESENT TIME TO PREVENT RECURRENCE OF WAR'S HORRORS

Scholarly and Impressive Address by Hon. Pascal Poirier of Shediac in Senate Opponent of the Permanent Compulsion Policy of the Old World.

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—The following is the address of Hon. Pascal Poirier of Shediac in the Senate on the Military Service Bill.

Hon. Pascal Poirier: Honourable gentlemen, when the House adjourned last night, my honourable friend from de Lorimier, as a last argument in his eloquent speech, told us that by opposing the Military Bill now before us, he was simply showing his greater love for the Empire, that by keeping our young men at home to harvest our fields he was working in the interests of the Allies better than by forcing them to enlist. This speech of argument reminds me of the story of Naolin de Plaa, during the wars between the Guelfs and the Ghibellines, in Italy. He was taken prisoner with his two sons by his enemies, and thrown into a dungeon, there to die of hunger. After a couple of weeks his captors went down with some friends to see what had become of his starved enemy. He found him alive and in good shape. "Where are your sons?" he said to him. "I ate them," he replied. "And why did you eat them?" he asked. "Because I loved them. I ate them to keep their father alive." This, by reversing the notes, is the sort of love my honourable friend bears to England and France. He will let them perish if only Canada is prosperous and content, and his friends are in power.

My honourable friend made a long and in less momentous times, interesting incursion into the history of the province of Quebec. What bearing has all this past history on the urgent requirements of this moment? Are we going to do as the Byzantines did when the Turks besieged Constantinople, their capital—keep discussing the controversial points of history, or some untouchable attributes of divinity? While they kept arguing and fighting among themselves, the Turks took Constantinople, and have held it ever since to this day. It is folly to discuss the quality of water when the house is afire. Any water will do. We will analyse that water after the flames are put out, and your house is saved; but by putting out the fire and saving your house; bring the water first.

Another argument was put forward by the honourable gentleman from de Lorimier (Hon. Mr. Dandurand) which failed to impress me. It is this, and he built a scale upon it. Our citizens enlist in this war in inverse ratio to the duration of their sojourn in Canada. For example, among English-born citizens, 50 per cent of eligible young men have enlisted, because they have but lately settled here; the reason why French-Canadian-born are slower to join the colours is because our forefathers have been here from the beginning, some three hundred years ago. If there is anything in this argument, it is that the longer one stays in Canada the denser one becomes. This is a doubtful compliment to the pioneers of Canada. The habitant might well say in the present instance, "O lord, deliver me from my friends!"

Let me try to put in a word for them in order to put them right before the English-speaking public.

If their response to the call of arms has not been, if statistics be true, as numerous as that of the English-speaking inhabitants, it is not because having lived in Canada two or three hundred years, their intellect has become slow; it is not that the beating of their heart is less generous; it is not that they are unwilling; it is not that they love Canada less than their fellow-citizens do. It is because they have been misguided—and by whom? Here I would refrain from going into details. But misguided they have been, and it is a pity that through this misguidance they should now

FIGHTING FOR HAPPINESS

When you get into a frame of mind that makes life seem one tiresome duty after another with no pleasure in it; when ill-health seems to take all the joy out of life and you worry over things that are really not worth worrying about; when your nervous system is becoming exhausted, and you are on the way to a general breakdown in health; in this condition your health and happiness is being fought for and good, rich, red blood is what your system needs. It is a hopeless task to try to restore your health while your blood is deficient either in quantity or quality. And remember that no medicine can be of any use to you that does not build up your weak, watery blood.

To build up the blood and strength on the nerves there is one remedy that has been a household word for more than a generation—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is the actual mission of these pills to make new, rich, red blood, which strengthens the nerves and tones the entire system. They give you a new appetite, make sleep refreshing, put color in the lips and cheeks, and drive away that unnatural tired feeling that oppresses so many people. If you want to experience new health and happiness give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

covers this case of lunacy: "Thomme absurde est celui qui ne change jamais." Instead of the fire chief himself it is the surrounding crowd or mob who oppose the calling out of the whole brigade, of all the resources of the city of Ottawa, when the fire brigade, when all the available resources are needed, and at once, to save the city, the roles are merely reversed, but the obligation remains the same, why? because I have publicly declared that I am a peaceable man. I will allow those of my kin and blood to be deluded and murdered before my eyes, without making an effort, a supreme effort, to save their honor and lives? I will not rise to defend my benefactors, my countrymen, my friends, because for so long I have declared myself a man of peace.

Will Not Deceive.

All the good reasons all the justifications, all the excuses I may give for not doing what it is my humane duty to do, will be of no avail to me; but they will not delude other men; they will not deceive future historians.

I do not regret that in this controversy some orators, mostly out of the precincts of this Chamber, have gone beyond the issue raised, and have assigned to every body, and have assigned to every body, intentions of men differing from their own. Personal attacks upon Sir Robert Borden have been particularly regrettable. Now, I hold no brief for defending Sir Robert Borden; he is well capable of defending himself and if he is too proud to do it, his deeds will care of him. I have only to say to my compatriots that when certain facts now hidden are revealed, when for example, the history of the formation of his first cabinet is known, the trauducers of Sir Robert Borden will be forced to acknowledge that in those trying hours he showed himself and proved himself to be their most enlightened and trusted friend of those of my creed and race today. His constructive work is now obscured by the smoke and the dust of clouds; but when the sky becomes clear again he will be shown to all to be a totally different man from what he is represented to be by some extremists.

The world today is waging a war for which there is no equal in the annals of the world, saving possibly two—the Crusades and the invasion of Greece by the Persians. The Crusades were religious wars, the fighting for supremacy between Islam and Christianity. The invasion of democratic Greece by the Persians, the Persians were absolute kings of the east, was a war parallel to the present one, where republican France and democratic England are assailed by autocratic Germany, and all the reactionary powers of the world. History is likely to repeat itself. The flower of the Persian army of Miltiades, practically alone, just as a million and a half of picked Teutons were lifted off their feet, beaten and hurled back by Joffre and the French at the battle of the Marne. Then came the invasion of Laedemond and the penetration of the Thermopylae Pass by the three million men composing the army of Xerxes. Everything seemed lost; the Athenians deserted and burnt their beautiful city, and the whole of the peninsula prepared to die fighting for country and liberty.

What saved Greece and civilization at that time? The naval battle at Salamis, won by Themistocles over the Persians. May we not hope and expect another Salamis naval victory to be won by proud England, determining the fate of this war?

Fleet of England.

The fleet of England is protecting the whole world including the United States and Canada, and saving it.

Honorable gentlemen, when this war is over, and the battle is won, and the world finally saved, accounts will have to be rendered; there will be a reckoning. The book of deeds will be open to the whole universe. What sort of a page will the slinkers, will the slinkers show? By slinkers and slinkers I mean no particular section of Canada, but all of them; and there are some in each and every province of the Dominion—English slinkers, Scotch slinkers, Irish slinkers, French-Canadian slinkers, French-Acadian slinkers.

If you want to know, go back and see what became of the Greek slinkers at the time of the invasion of their country by allied countries by the Persians. What remains of the grandiloquent speeches of their Aora demagogues? What is thought now, and what was thought then, of the reasons they put forward for not fighting alongside the soldiers of Miltiades at the Thermopylae, for not taking part in the naval battle of Salamis? Nothing remains of them but oblivion and shame. The same will be the fate of our deserters if there should happen to be any in Canada.

Many persons have been given for Canada discontinuing its participation in the war. I find none that is not dominated by this warning of the Lord of Hosts: He who does not stand with me perseveres unto the end. In sporting parlance they have another way of putting it: A quitter is a licked dog.

All Agreed.

We are plunged into this war, honorable gentlemen, our swords deep into the hilt in blood. Canada went into it freely, deliberately, unanimously. Tories and Grits agreeing, the records of both Houses bear this out. Are we going to quit now, when the crisis is supreme? Will the leaders of the ring order our Canadian fighters to go to their corners, letting our allies—French, English, Americans, Australians, Italians—fight our battle, the battle of civilization? A blush rises to my forehead at the thought.

But let us examine some of the reasons that were given out to persuade us to desert the rest of the civilized world now fighting for freedom and liberty, abandoning at the same time our heroic soldiers now at the front who, one and all, are calling for further help.

"This is England's war," I hear it shouted: "Let England fight out its own battles, and fight them without our participation; we owe nothing to England." We owe England nothing? These words sound strange in the mouth of a daughter colony, referring to its mother country. Even had Great Britain not granted us the federal charter which has made Canada practically an autonomous country; which has made us all free citizens in a free country, she all the while protecting our first attempts at walking alone among the nations of the world; these words, "We owe nothing to England," would still sound strange. There is a ring of unnatural ingratitude in them. If we in Canada owe nothing to England, the rest of the civilized world owes its civil and political liberties. They alone deny this debt of gratitude who have not tasted true liberty, who have not drunk its wine, who, knowing nothing of its intoxication, have no craving for it. These are more to be pitied than angered. We owe nothing to England? Why, if England and France fall, and the struggle for freedom will have once more to be fought over again along the old lines, against the old-time tyrants and usurpers, and another Germany will have to be resuscitated, when the measure of oppression is once more full to overflowing; and the horrors of the French revolution will have to be repeated, and the citizens of the United States will have to fight again, not to liberate the negroes, but to free themselves from the bondage of militarism.

But who says that this is England's war? Did England declare this war? Did it prepare it, or prepare itself for it? Did it desire or provoke it? It is needless to recall what everybody knows. This war was forced on England by Confederate Germany arrogantly starting on the conquest of the world, for which it had been preparing since 1872. The Hun plan of campaign, which is becoming better known, was to stagger France by a first fell blow, invade England by way of Calais, take Canada—which no Munroe doctrine could have defended—and make this magnificent country the premier Hun colony, while the same wave of conquest would have flooded the Balkans down south to Bagdad.

Hellish Design.

The mighty feet of Britain has rendered vain this hellish design, has saved us from German domination, has preserved for us our heritage of human freedom and political liberty. Who will say after this that Canada owes nothing to Great Britain?

So much for old England. The same has been said of France, and worse. He who says that we owe nothing to France, that humanity owes her nothing, might as well say that we owe nothing to the sun which illuminates the heavens; that its light is offensive, because it dazzles; that its heat is dangerous, because it burns. And true enough some spectacles in creation shun heat; and to the owl light is offensive; it prefers to it the darkness of night. "If all European nations had to perish except one, and that one were to be chosen for being the best fitted to continue civilization, that one would be France." This is a quote from an American author. "Every man has two countries, his own and France." Who first uttered this acronym? An Austrian statesman, long before this war. France and England stand today hand in hand at the head of human progress. With the United States are the guardians of human rights and liberties. But of the three, France, perhaps is the loveliest, France, better than any other nation, either ancient or modern, has taught the masses and shown the value of the word Chivalry, glory, liberty, honor. To constitute true civilization and Christianity. She is among the nations of today what Greece was in ancient times; she has the soul of free, esthetic, heroic Greece; while in Rome dwells the spirit of ancient Rome. The two, England and France necessary: God has planned made them necessary. Let France cease to exist, and the world would be a wilderness, and freedom will "shrink and human progress will soon come to a standstill. If they be replaced by the Prussians, if the trade were passed into the hands of Kaiser's Sultans, then higher civilization would be disrupted; humanity would be face backward; tyranny of the new world would once again enshroud the world just as they did in the fifth and sixth centuries, when Attila and Huns, sires of Kaiser William an subjects, succeeded in destroying Rome and overrunning Europe.

Nothing To France.

We owe nothing to France? principles for which France? are not worth fighting for? But to what the French nation has three years ago, when practicing alone on the western frontier, to the flood of Prussian invasion, at what she has been doing ever since. Look at what she is doing now, entire world is amazed at the fact. Had the battle of the Marne been or had the French, after winning, deserted their allies, and been peace with Germany; then the world would have walked untrammelled in the sea of peace. The world would have brought a million more to Calais; would have sent the North Sea with mines just as going around the island of Heligoland would have planted along the eastern shores of France and Belgium shrapnel cannons which he was alone to possess; would have the strait of Dover less secure ships than that of Gallipoli; and the mighty and otherwise unaccountable English fleet would have been immobilized in reverse to dislodge the Germans from Zep then, with the aerial fleet of Zepp in readiness, the invasion of England would have been consummated. Consider, if you can without a shudder, what would have happened to Canada if the United States had at that time been prepared to let England win; you see we owe nothing to France.

Strange enough, the victory Marne is but a repetition of France has, in centuries past, on that occasion, done to the rope from barbarians when all resources and hopes were exhausted. At Solon and at Tolbiac saved Europe from the Hun; she is saving it today, and at Ploeghem Charles Martel hurled back the racers and Turks in their victory march over Christian Europe. For these and similar deeds a poet has said:

The soul of France is like a tree That goes before the nations; Her glory has crowned her; truth made her strong; Her soul is freedom, and her song!

France at this moment is bleeding from wounds all over her body; she is bleeding from the head, she is bleeding from the feet; she is bleeding from the hands; she is bleeding from the eyes; she is bleeding from the ears; FRANCE'S CONSCRIPT TO THE RESERVE TO PREVENT RECURRENCE OF WAR'S HORRORS

(Continued from page 4) progress. With the United States they are the guardians of human rights and liberties. But of the three, France, perhaps the most noble, either ancient or modern, has taught the meaning and shown the value of the words: Chivalry, glory, liberty, honor. These constitute true civilization and true Christianity. She is among the nations of today what Greece was in olden times; she has the soul of freedom, the heroic Greece of the past, and she is the spirit of the great Britain dwells the spirit of ancient Rome. The two, England and France, are necessary. God has apparently made them necessary. Let France and England cease today leading nations onward, and freedom will "shrink," and human progress will soon come to a standstill. If they are replaced by the Prussians, if the trade were to pass into the hands of Kaiser and Sultan, then higher civilization would be disrupted; humanity would turn its face backward; tyranny and darkness would once again enshroud the world just as they did in the fifth and sixth centuries, when Attila and his Huns, sire of Kaiser William and his subjects, succeeded in destroying Rome and overrunning Europe.

Nothing to France. We owe nothing to France? The principles for which France stands are not worth fighting for? But look at what she has done for us since 1914. Look at what she is doing now. The entire world is amazed at the sight. Had the battle of Marne been lost; or had the French, after winning it, deserted their allies, and concluded peace with Germany, then the Kaiser would have walked untrammelled over Russia, in the east; and, in the west, he would have brought a million men more to Calais; would have strewn the North Sea with mines just as he is going around the island of Heligoland; would have planted along the northern shores of France and Belgium long-range cannons which he was then alone to possess; would have made the strait of Dover less secure for ships than that of Gibraltar; and when the mighty and otherwise unconquerable English fleet would have been immobilized and rendered powerless to dislodge the German from Calais, then, with the aerial fleet of Zeppelins in readiness, the invasion of unprepared England would have been consummated. Consider, if you can without a shudder, what would have happened to Canada, the United States, and the British Empire, less prepared than England was. And you say we owe nothing to France? Strange enough, the victory of the Marne is but a repetition of what France has, in centuries past, on more than one occasion, done to save Europe from barbarians when all human resources and hopes were apparently gone. At Solissons and at Tolbiac, she saved Europe from the Huns just as she is saving it today, and at Potters Charles Martel hurled back the Saracens and Turks in their victorious march over Christian Europe. It is for these and similar deeds that a poet has said:

The soul of France is like a torch That goes before the nations, Her glory has crowned her; truth has made her strong; Her soul is freedom, and her name is song!

France at this moment is bleeding from wounds all over her body; she is being white. Two millions of her sons have perished; as many more are wounded; she is using her last reserves; when Joffre came to Montreal and was asked what the Allies stood more pressing in need of, he answered "men." The other day, when the American contingent marched through the streets of Paris, children, orphaned by the war, knelt in reverence to the American flag, thanking, with tears, the great American republic for sending men over. Are we Canadians not morally bound to do all we can possibly do to help these heroic and silent defenders of Canada in Europe—to save them and to do it quickly? But Canada is not at war. I hear a great many people say, and this war for which we have been asked and money is not our war; it is none of our funeral. It would be folly to try to convince a blind man of the existence of light, more especially if he has made up his mind not to be convinced.

Germany's Aim. Germany's aim and plan, honorable gentlemen, was primarily to get possession of the colonies of Great Britain and France and more especially of the Dominion of Canada, after England has been invaded by way of Calais and reduced to submission. As late as the week before last a supreme effort was made to break through the Yser river and reach Calais. Even to-day, when the Allied victories at La Mame and at Ypres have shattered these hopes, the Junkers of Prussia still cherish the old dreams. Speaking about the indemnity they intend to exact from England after the war is over, Prince Frederick of Lowenstein recently, at Munich, proposed as an installment the cession of Canada to the fatherland.

One of the many excellent reasons why Germany so ardently covets this fair Dominion of Canada is to be able to exact from the British Empire the Rhienland Westfaelische Zeitung of late publication: Germany will claim Canada as an indemnity of war, because this is the permit of the German Americans to shake the dust of the United States off their feet and pass across the line to Canada, where they would live under the folds of the German flag. But the yell is heard: "We will fight and die when Canada is actually invaded." Canada, honorable gentle-

French colonies on this continent, will sit silent, indifferent, unconcerned. If no one else from Canada would volunteer to join the colors and cross over to the gory plains of France, we of French origin should. This war is presently a Latin war. It is a struggle for supremacy between the Huns on the one side and the Latins, the Saxons-Celts and Slavs on the other. It is also a religious war in the widest sense of the word religion, Prussia representing brutal Christianity and the rest of the world humane Christianity. My present attitude, honorable gentlemen, and coming vote on this question, is not wholly one of optical partiality. It is one of deep conviction, born of the duty I owe to my country, of the allegiance I have sworn to my King; it is innate in my French heart. My vote, more especially in the Maritime Provinces, took the same attitude at the beginning of the war; in fact, the leading Acadicians in New Brunswick might say, the leading Prince Edward Island, did so. Some, and more particularly the late Chief Justice, Sir Thomas Lacombe, the leading Dominion government asking for laws making enlistment compulsory.

Shortly after the war had been declared Mr. LeBlanc, the Acadician Bishop of St. John, N. B., at a public meeting of citizens of all creeds and nationalities, political preferences made a most impressive appeal to his people and to all Canadian peoples to enlist and to fight. And to fight for what?

For England, our mother land, and France, the land of our ancestors, the two nations that are in the forefront of civilization and human liberty. Among other reasons for enlisting, he gave the following: As the Dominion of Canada is a political unit, made up of and diversified by several distinct elements, I will take up one of those elements, the French and from among the French I will deal more particularly with the ethnic group to which I belong, the French Acadicians. I need not refer to any more to the French Canadians. The descendants of the heroes of Chateaugay can well take care of themselves. Their history contains many, if not most, of the glorious pages in the annals of old and new Canada. En passant, let me regret that the proposition of my honorable friend the senator for Montserrat (Hon. Mr. Choquette) to establish a commission to review the finding of the Department of Militia, has not been agreed to. The figure 14,100, which is given out as being the total number of French-speaking-born soldiers who have enlisted in this war, seems to be erroneous. There are French Canadians, possibly thousands of them, having English surnames, were put down by the department as of English or Scotch, or Irish extraction and nationality, who in reality are French. The same natural error has no doubt been made in the count of the Acadicians, amongst whom are John Young, White, Parry, etc., with not a drop of English blood in their veins. These were put down respectively as English, Scotch and Irish. Some, unfortunately too large a number, of Acadicians, have taken English names upon enlisting. The figure 14,100, some nine months after the declaration of war, a cablegram came with the news that a Sheldias lad, but the name of Patterson had been dangerously wounded and was being sent home. We knew of no soldier of that name having enlisted at Sheldias; however, we prepared to receive him well. On his coming out of the train it was found out that the hero Patterson was an Acadician by the name of Pettipas. If you, honorable gentlemen, take into consideration that the proportion of recruits is greater in cities than in rural districts, and that, except for minor towns, the Acadicians are mostly in the cities, you will arrive at the conclusion that those of our nationality in the Maritime Provinces have done fairly well. We have one or two Acadician battalions 40 or 40 per cent of Acadicians are to be found in New Brunswick alone.

I heard it said, or read in an English paper that in Prince Edward Island my compatriots had taken the cake, had beaten the record, stood on top of the list. Bravo for them! And why not? While the English and Scotch, and Irish and Welsh of this Dominion have one good reason to fight in this war, we French have two. Not that we love England more than the Loyalists or the Scots do. We love it not at all, if we were to go back to 1765 and recall the horrors of the deportation and spoliation of our forefathers. But we do not go back to 1765, except for matters historical. As a philosopher has put it, human eyes have been placed in the forehead that men may look forward and onward and upward.

The generations today are not necessarily responsible for what generations have done centuries ago; nor, in the affairs of today, is the whole Empire to suffer because we may have faults to find with a few—because some of our rights are denied us. What we Acadicians in the Maritime Provinces look to and expect at the hands of the English majority is fair play meted out to us with a liberal hand, in return for our absolute loyalty to them and to the Crown. We either have fair play now or have it not. If we have it, we will make it more secure and permanent by doing our full duty as British subjects and Canadian citizens. If we have it not, our refusal or hesitation in doing our full duty at this moment of supreme crisis will simply make it more difficult to obtain, at the hands of the majority, in school matters and other matters.

The Other Motive. This is merely a digression. The other motive, the double motive, the Acadicians have for joining the colors is because, alongside England, there stands the beloved and beautiful France, the land of our ancestors, prostrate, reeking in blood, terrible. It will not be said that when England, Italy, Serbia, Rumania, Roumania, Russia, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Greece, San Marino, Portugal, Cuba, Panama, Japan, the Fiji Islanders, the Slavians, the United States of America, the savages of the United States, our own Canadian Indians, are joining in a common effort to repel the Huns, liberate Belgium, save France and civilization, Acadia, the oldest of the

UPWARD CAMPAIGN
IN NEW COAL STOCK

Reported Big Speculative Load Has Been Removed from Steel Group, Including U. S. Bethlehem and Lackawanna.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, Aug. 10.—Listing of several new coal stocks on the New York stock exchange is believed in some quarters of the street to be a prelude to an important upward campaign in this group which is going to be greatly influenced by the huge and increasing demand for fuel.

It is rumored that a big speculative load has been removed from the steel group, including Bethlehem, U. S. and Lackawanna. According to gossip this load overhanging the entire metal group and now that it is eliminated advances may be more permanent if Washington news progresses along compromise lines recently noted.

Conservative quarters suggest a stricter censorship by editors in news agencies relative to sensational price fixing takes which have been scattered broadcast in the last few days only to be denied by authorities. "While we are well informed that the condition of General Motors earnings and properties is satisfactory there is no aggressive support and quite a little selling is noted, says a private communication from a good source.

SCOTIA STEEL STRONG STOCK

Advances to 107 1-4 in New York and to 105 1-2 in Montreal, Raising 4 1-2—New Record.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, Aug. 10.—The indefinite course of prices at New York kept the local stock market in an uncertain mood today. There was little pressure to sell, but concurrently there was no renewal of the better demand of a few days ago and the market drifted idly, with only a few important price changes to be recorded at the end of the day.

Some strength and activity in Scotia Steel furnished one of the features of interest in the day's business. On buying amounting to about 600 shares the price rose 1/2 to 105 1/2 bid, with no offerings under 107 1/2. In New York the advance made further progress, a high price of 107 1/2 being established in the afternoon dealing, with only moderate recession at the close.

The special character of the advance was reflected in the inactivity and relative heaviness of other Canadian steel issues. Dominion Iron sagged 1/2 to 61 and offered at that price at the end of the day. Steel of Canada was barely steady at 58 1/2 in light trading and was offered at 58 1/2 at the close.

The rise in Scotia was therefore viewed as very largely a New York affair and without significance as to the state of the speculative sentiment here. For this matter, too, it was something apart from conditions in the other steel stocks of the New York list, for these ruled heavy through the greater part of the day.

Changes elsewhere included declines 1/2 to 1/2 for Car at 31, Bridge at 144, Smelters at 29, MacDonald at 14 1/2, Locomotive and Cement at 62 in each case unchanged, but Cement was offered down a small fraction at the close.

There were freer offerings of 1937 war loan and price receded 1/2 to 95 1/2. The 1925 issue sold in one lot transaction at 97, decline of one from last board lot transaction, 121 1/2, in the afternoon and closed at the latter price bid against 117 1/2 at close on Thursday.

FINANCIAL COMMENT
(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, Aug. 10.—Wall St. Journal—"The bullish crowd predicts 300 for Ann. Tobacco and ninety for Tobacco Products on the basis of the special successes of the individual companies to be made public shortly."
Sun—"With the unsettled conditions in Washington it seems almost certain that the market will be nothing more than a buyers' affair."
Financial American—"Government and private finance are beginning to come into conflict. Individual enterprises must take a back seat while the needs of the government are being satisfied."

STEEL SHARES SOFTEN, SUFFERING SEVERELY

United Steel Corporation's Unfilled Tonnage Statement for August 1 Disappointing—General Motors Off.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, Aug. 10.—Steel stocks suffered declines running to a point or more in the early afternoon, apparently on the decrease of half a million tons in the Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage of Aug. 1. This reflects the attitude of the domestic trade, which is waiting for the government to announce its price fixing program. It is recognized in the trade that the effect of the government's action upon the price of steel is a matter of some importance, but it is not expected that prices might be serious. Steel stocks made a fair recovery however before the close.

General Motors was attacked with success the price being forced below 108, a new recent low. Here again part of the loss was made up. The high priced rails turned soft, C.P.R. and St. Paul losing one to three points.

Secretary McAdoo stated that Congress would shortly be asked to enact additional bond legislation which is nothing new but confirms the belief in the street that public offering of remaining $4,000,000,000 already authorized is not far distant.

Wage adjustments expected to obviate a strike have been made in the coal mines of Kentucky and Tennessee and the Archison announces an increase of about 15 p.c. to its shopmen. These incidents suggest that the general wage scale is still going up.

NEW BRITISH LOAN IS PROBABLE SOON
Old Lady of Threadneedle Street Working Overtime—Working Classes Prosperous and Money Superabundant.

Special to The Standard.
London, Aug. 10.—Money is superabundant this week owing to large government disbursements. The military outlook is hopeful and the Russian situation considered to have improved greatly.

The volume of holiday travelling shows that prosperity is widespread among the working classes. The crop situation is good, though some damage by recent rains is reported.

It is understood that the Bank of England is taking on clerks for overtime from other banks to accelerate uncompleted work in connection with the last loan. This it may be assumed means clearing the decks for the next loan. It is recalled that when the last loan issued the Chancellor of the Exchequer said no later opportunity would be given for subscribing to British government bonds on such liberal terms as those which are now being regarded the terms of the next issue. The 5 per cent. loan is quoted at one-half per cent. below issue price.

LABOR TROUBLES AFFECT STOCK QUOTATIONS

Diverse Elements Bearing Upon Quoted Values Doubtless Accounts for Much of Depression in Prices.

New York, Aug. 10.—Diverse developments bearing upon quoted values doubtless accounted for the lower trend of today's restricted operations in the stock market. A decrease of over 500,000 tons in unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation for July, a new record for Russian remittances, and the expansion of labor troubles were among the principal drawbacks.

On the other hand, call money relaxed from yesterday's opening rate of four per cent. and several of the leading industrial and producing companies submitted favorable financial reports. Among the more noteworthy of these were the annual statement of the Maxwell Motor Company and the quarterly return of the Utah Copper Company.

Professional Pools.
Apart from shippings, tobacco, sugars and oils, which seemed to derive much of their irregular strength from pools and other professional interests, war shares continued under intermittent pressure. U. S. Steel reacted two points to 122 1/2, with substantial recovery; Bethlehem, new stock, 2 1/2; General Motors 4 1/2 and a few high priced specialties lost one to three points.

Rails manifested a sudden reversal from their recent firmness, dividend paying issues like Reading, St. Paul, C. P. R. and Delaware and Hudson breaking one to three points on comparatively small offerings.

CANADIAN BONDS LIST SHOWS DECLINE IN N. Y.

Issue of 1921 Slumps to 96 1-2 and That of 1926 to 94 7-8.

Special to The Standard.
New York, Aug. 10.—The natural consequence of the payment for the Canadian loan of new treasury certificates and the necessity for providing for the Canadian loan was an advance in call money to four per cent., the ruling rate in yesterday's market.

The ease with which large security offerings and particularly the Liberty loan, have been absorbed without deranging the money market has surprised no one so much as bankers in the closest touch with the situation. They have to revise their estimates of the ability of investors to take subsequent war loans and they are much more optimistic regarding chances for successful flotation of the second big war offering.

Canadian bonds again declined yesterday. The issue of 1921 was quoted at 96 1/2 against 98 on Wednesday; that of 1922 was offered at 94 1/2 compared with 95 previous day and 1921 maturity was quoted at 95 1/2 against 98 on Wednesday. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

STILL DESIROUS OF UNION

The Borden Government and Conservative party still desire that the affairs of Canada shall be entrusted to a Government representing both great political parties and administered on an absolutely non-partisan basis. It is by such an administration that the troublesome questions now facing Canada can be most satisfactorily solved, that is, solved without the handicap of the solid opposition of one of the parties.

If there ever was a time when Canada required a Government representing both political parties and consecrated only to the winning of the war, that time is now. And it should be distinctly understood that this does not mean that the Borden administration has failed in the tasks it has undertaken. Premier Borden has been called upon to face the greatest responsibilities and most arduous duties that have ever confronted a Canadian public man and he has done well. But the needs of the war and our men at the front have made it necessary that this country shall undertake a new policy of securing soldiers. It would be idle to attempt to say that there has not been a stiff opposition to that policy, an opposition which, unless the weight of British Canada is solidly arrayed against it, may threaten serious consequences, not to any political party, but to the welfare of Canada as a whole. This is the situation which makes union a necessity. This is the situation to deal with which all loyal Canadians, irrespective of political affiliations, should be willing to come together, for the country's welfare is above and beyond all questions of party politics.

That Sir Robert Borden has recognized the need for union was shown by his offer of coalition to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He still recognizes it and it may be that his goal will yet be attained. Much will depend, of course, on the reports yet to come from the Liberal convention at Winnipeg. The official statements—that is the cut and dried announcements handed out by committees appointed for that purpose—have already appeared in the press and from a perusal of them it appears that the majority of western Liberals, judging from the action of the Winnipeg delegates, are more concerned in winning the elections than in winning the war.

The Telegraph's report of the convention in the Manitoba capital declares that the delegates were strongly in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership and also passed resolutions condemning the Borden Government. Reports from special correspondents of other Canadian newspapers, now coming to hand, indicate that the convention was not nearly so unanimous as the Telegraph would have us believe, that the vote in favor of Laurier was only reached after a day and a night of active lobbying, and that the Quebec leader owes it to the work of the Oliver-Cross sections of the Alberta delegation that the resolution expressing confidence in him was passed. That is as it may be. The "inside" of the convention will probably be known in time. But no matter whether the vote of confidence was unanimous or represented merely a majority, it is regrettable, from the Canadian standpoint, that it was adopted. It places the convention on record as supporting a man who has bitterly opposed the plan for securing soldiers by selective draft, and it may prove a menace to that coalition of which the country stands in need. The next few days will probably tell whether Canada is to go on with her war effort unitedly, or whether partisan considerations are to rule with all their possibilities for strife and discord.

MEATLESS DAYS.

It has been said that the only way to reach some men is through their stomachs. If that be true, then the decision of Food Controller Hanna that Canada is to have two meatless days in each week may succeed in convincing some citizens of this great country that a war in which we are all vitally interested is being fought out on the other side of the world. Aside from those Canadians who have relatives facing death at the front many of the residents of this part of the American continent have not yet fully grasped the fact that we are engaged in a struggle the issue of which will mean life or death to the British Empire and to British institutions. Early in the war it was felt that the proper slogan for Canada was "business as usual," that affairs here should go on undisturbed while alterations were being made to the map of Europe. The day for that sort of thing has long passed. Every Canadian now must realize the magnitude of the struggle in which Canada is engaged and be willing to do his share to bring that struggle to a victorious conclusion. The elimination of waste and extravagance is absolutely necessary. Luxuries, and some staples, must be given up if by that means the effectiveness of our war effort can be increased. Britain has known meatless days and stringent food regulation for a long time. Canada is to enter upon her first experience of them. The new order of things will be of assistance to the Empire and, perhaps, of value to Canadians, inasmuch as it will teach that it is neither an impossibility or a hardship to reduce our consumption of meats. In this matter as in others the Canadian Food Controller merely requests, but if the request does not win speedy compliance he can easily secure the authority to enforce obedience. The best, the easiest and the patriotic course for Canadians is to obey the request with the full knowledge that it would not be made if it was not deemed necessary.

WHERE THEY WERE INCONSISTENT.

The Liberals who met in the "win-the-war" convention in Winnipeg claimed to favor conscription. Yet the amendment of Mr. Turriff mentioning conscription was voted down by a large majority.

The Liberals who met in the "win-the-war" convention in Winnipeg claimed to be opposed to immediate conscription by a political party. Yet they passed a resolution endorsing Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose sole idea is to get an opportunity to give Canada that sort of government.

THE TELEGRAPH'S GOAL.

Judging from the glee with which the esteemed Telegraph featured the portions of the Winnipeg resolution which did not express approval of the Borden Government, Mr. Pugsley's organ would be more pleased by the defeat of the Canadian administration than by a decisive British victory in France. In the editorial mind of the Pugsley paper it is more important to beat Sir Robert Borden than to beat the Huns.

WEDDINGS

Bailey-Lister.
 Hillsboro, Aug. 10.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lister on Wednesday, August 8, at high noon, their only daughter, Harriet Mabel, was united in marriage to Arthur Gordon Bailey of Woodstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Tilley of the Hillsboro Methodist church, in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives. In the home the decorations were very pretty, being of roses and ferns and potted plants. To the strains of the wedding march rendered by Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Woodstock, the bride becomingly gowned in a dress of blue Georgette crepe with trimmings of gold and blue entered the parlor on the arm of her

MOVEMENT TO RE-ORGANIZE PROVINCIAL BOY SCOUTS

New Brunswick Council Holds Annual Meeting at Fredericton—Life Saving Medal for Walter Allen of St. John Who Dived from Wharf.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Aug. 10.—Sir Robert Borden left this afternoon to spend the weekend at Hon. Dr. Reid's summer home on the St. Lawrence, and get a much needed rest. He looks tired out. With his departure political excitement of the last two days, which was occasioned by the now famous Rideau Hall conference, subsided and there will be no new developments until after his return next week.

That there will be a reorganization of the cabinet is certain, and there is still a strong probability that it will include some prominent Liberals, although Sir Wilfrid Laurier has refused the second offer of the premier to join with him in the formation of a Union Government. The offer made by Sir Robert to certain Liberals to enter his government is still open and the time is approaching when an announcement will be made.

Rowell May Enter. With regard to Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the opposition in Ontario, it is understood that he is willing to enter the government provided he has the assurance that he has a strong body of Liberal opinion in the province behind him.

His action upon the matter will depend upon this.

The Western convention at Winnipeg has had one notable result. It has brought to the government an unexpected flood of correspondence and messages from many parts of the country, particularly from Ontario, conveying the assurance that the tide of public opinion is flowing strongly in favor of conscription. There is now absolutely no doubt that Ontario will give the government a tremendous support. It is fully expected that only two anti-conscriptionists will be returned by this province.

TRAIN STRIKES TWO AUTOISTS FROM THIS CITY

Mrs. Waldo F. Lowell of Calais Severely Injured on Outskirts of St. Stephen.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, Aug. 10.—At a late hour this afternoon a collision between an automobile and a freight train occurred at the C. P. R. crossing on the Valley Road just at the outskirts of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo F. Lowell of Calais were returning from a visit in St. John. It was raining hard and the sides of the car were all closed in and as the car approached the crossing the occupant failed to hear or see an outward bound freight train and realizing that it was some time before the outward bound evening express was due there they were making the crossing just as the freight train was going out. The engine struck their car which was thrown to one side of the road in a badly wrecked condition. Mr. Lowell escaped uninjured, but Mrs. Lowell was not so fortunate and was unconscious when the train passed over her. She was placed in the caboose of the train and brought to town and taken at once to Chipman Memorial Hospital where later it was found that she had escaped with a dislocated hip and some bruises.

That the accident did not have a fatal termination was due to the fact that the train had seen the approaching car in time to greatly slacken the speed of the train before the collision.

AN ORDER PLACED FOR THREE THOUSAND GUNS

American Brake, Shoe and Foundry Co. Gets $60,000,000 Government Contract.

(McDUGALL & COWANS). New York, Aug. 10.—Slight reactions occurred in the steel group during the early afternoon with B. S. B. regarding its own. Unfilled tonnage of U. S. Steel Corporation showed a loss of over half a million tons, which cannot be attributed to lack of demand, but rather to non-acceptance of orders with books filled to overflowing combined with hesitation on part of domestic consumers to make commitments pending government price adjustments.

One of the biggest munition orders ever placed with a single company by the U. S. government has been closed with the Am. Brake Shoe and Foundry Co. The order is for three thousand six hundred guns. Amount involved in the contract is not known but $60,000,000 would probably be a conservative estimate.

Back to Nature

For common ills that flesh is heir to, old Mother Nature gives us the cure in her simple, healing herbs. When the Liver gets sluggish when the Blood becomes laden with impurities—and that miserable dragged-out feeling comes over one—then it's time to go back to Nature for the remedy and take
 This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a chemist. It is called freezeone, and can now be obtained in tiny bottles as here shown, at very little cost from any drug store. Just ask for freezeone. Apply a drop or two directly upon a tender corn or callous and instantly the soreness disappears. Shortly you will find the corn or callous so loose that you can lift it off, root and all, with the fingers.
 Not a twinge of pain, soreness or irritation, not even the slightest smarting, either when applying, or when the freezeone is frozen out.
 This drug doesn't eat up the corn or callous, but shrivels them so they loosen and come right out. It is no humbug! It works like a charm. For a few cents you can get rid of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of your feet. It never disappoints and never burns, bites or inflames. Genuine freezeone is sold only in these small bottles packed in a little sealed wood case, bearing a yellow wrapper. Beware of imitations.
 Shediac, Aug. 10.—The weather at the seaside is fine and warm and numerous auto parties daily arrive to enjoy our cool, refreshing breezes.
 Hundreds of visitors are on the Hanington grounds today in connection with the united congregational Baptist churches from Moncton.

APPOHAQUI

Apohaqui, Aug. 10.—A pleasant surprise was in store for Sergt. George R. Pearson and Sergt. Major Bert M. Ward on Saturday evening at 301 Princess street, St. John, when these two returned soldiers were honored by their friends about thirty in number, both heroes received solid gold cuff links with their initials engraved on them. Speeches were made telling their experiences in France, also thanking their friends.

Sergt. Major Bert M. Ward passed through the South African war and enlisted with the seventh Western Battalion early in the present war, he was severely wounded in the battle of Feurburg and has since been well cared for in the Duchess of Connaught Hospital, Eng. Lady Astor made her daily rounds in that hospital with fruit and comforts of all kinds.

Sergt. George R. Pearson, enlisted with the 6th Mounted Rifles and arrived in England on July 27th, 1916, and his first son was born that very day, so now on Sergt. Pearson's return it is natural he is a proud father. Both these men are from the small village of Pearsonville, Kings County.

Apohaqui, Aug. 10.—On Monday evening last a large number gathered at the Baptist parsonage, Lower Millstream, for the purpose of welcoming their new pastor and wife, the Rev. C. S. and Mrs. Young, who follow the Rev. Mr. Tingley.

ROTHESAY

Rothessay, Aug. 10.—The monthly report for July by the secretary, Miss Muriel Robertson, at Tuesday's Red Cross meeting, included the proceeds from the garden fête, held last month on the grounds of Hon. Wm. Pugsley. A very complete statement prepared by Mr. Frank West gave the returns from each booth and the balance of whole over expenses, which amounted to over $2,886. The suggestion that we purchase a second motor ambulance for service in France was heartily approved, cost of which will probably be $3,000. Reports of the comfort to the sick and wounded conveyed to hospitals in the one sent over from Rothessay Red Cross Society in 1916, are received from time to time and keep the interest warm. The amount of work done and sent off during July was encouraging. Attendance at the two weekly meetings continues good and both the afternoon tea and "shop" table have done splendidly. Everybody is asked to contribute at least one pair of socks before end of August which closes our third year of Red Cross Society work. An inspiring address given by Miss Susan Cameron of the faculty of McGill University, was listened to with deep interest. Miss Cameron, who is just now guest of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Blair, at Gondola Point, is visiting a friend when the war began, visiting a friend who became intensely interested in the thousands of children refugees with no one to care for them, who found their way to Paris. Arrangements were quickly made and a society formed to find homes and clothing for these and it has been wonderfully successful. Miss Cameron helped in this work and mentioned in passing that she was able to aid in the distribution of boots sent from the United States and explain that No. 13, The French are a wonderful people, everything they do is done with a purpose. She spoke of the Scottish Women's Hospital in France and the fine Canadian ward. A beautiful picture, every day do to have the privilege of speaking in Rothessay to people who talked casually about buying a $2,000 ambulance. MOTTO: "KINDLY DE... MAKE HAPPY"

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

My Dear Kiddies:— How the weeks are flying by, now that the end of the holidays is drawing near, but I expect you do more withy than be reminded of that, eh? Of course, I don't mean to say that many of you do not want to get back to school, but still vacation time is great in it not the best of your time, and then when study begins again you will be all the better prepared to commence.

That reminds me, I wonder how you are looking forward to the new school year, as many of you will have changed your grade. You will have to remember that each teacher has his or her own way of teaching, although the lessons and programme may be the same. Some tutors appear at first to be severe, but perhaps that is because you have previously been under, but if you have patience you will nearly always find that they turn out to be just generous and kind to you.

Don't give your new teacher reason for getting vexed with you, by neglecting your lessons, or playing behind her back. You go to school to learn, and make yourself up to take a place among the grown up people when you get older, and therefore do your best to get to the top of the public school. There is a time for everything under the sun, and that includes the time for study. When you have to do your lessons, make up your mind to do them, set your undivided attention upon them, and it will surprise you how they will become more easy, how you will get them right, and how afterwards, when other lads you have laid your books aside, and school is closed, you will enjoy the play hours, feeling satisfied that you did your best.

You will be surprised to see how teacher is encouraged to teach you, and help you to make progress. Now just try that bit of advice when school starts, and let me know how it works.

I have had a letter from a little girl saying that her prize has not, as yet, arrived. Will any other kiddie who has not received her or his prize please write and tell me, also saying what the nature of the prize was, as it may be sure to trace same at the post office or elsewhere.

You would see by last week's Corner, that there are to be new features introduced into the page next week. I am not going to say what the nature of the features will be, but I know they will be a most pleasant surprise, and so be sure to keep your eyes open, and on no account miss the Children's page next Saturday.

Just as soon as school starts, I have several new kinds of contests in preparation for you, which I am sure that you will enjoy, as they will give you a chance to win one of our prizes, which the Standard has been giving away for over two years now.

In another column you will see a guessing contest, and I hope you will give a most splendid effort to compete in it, as it is very easy, and the young ones, as well as the oldest member will have a chance to win a prize. Please send me your guesses, and I will send you a picture taken by you Kiddies whilst on your holidays. Are you saving them up until the end of the year? I think vaccination is the most because it is nearly always in arms." Boy number one is still wondering what struck him.

PEACE!

With German Powerless or Germany Free—Which?

As the War enters its fourth year, the German Emperor proclaims that the thoughts of the German people stand resolute in the determination to prosecute this righteous war of defense to a successful termination, and tells his soldiers "we are invincible. We shall be victorious. The Lord God will be with us." But while the thunder of British guns in Flanders and the shout of advancing German regiments in Russia seem to be the loud echoes of these confident assertions, - representatives of both sides were at the same time contributing to a symposium of peace. Mr. Balfour declares that Germany must be "either powerless or free" before peace can come.

German peace-hints are prefaced with assertions that German armies in Belgium and Roumania are fighting a purely defensive war. Chancellor Michaelis denies imputation of coldness toward the Reichstag declaration for a peace without conquest, while Count Czernin, Foreign Minister of Austria-Hungary, admits that his country is quite ready for an "honorable peace." While Austria's readiness for peace has long been evidenced by American editors, they suspect that Germany's outgivings and the firm grip of the military regime conceal an almost equal longing.

CORNMEAL IN THE KITCHEN.

Many persons who never cooked before are learning to cook now. And really, the satisfaction in finding that it is possible to substitute something economical and good for something costly and no better in either food value or taste, is great.

A Soft, Clear Skin

THERE is a very good reason why so many women always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment at hand. The reason is apparent if you will but notice the soft, clear skin of the person who uses it.

Unlike pore-clogging powders, Dr. Chase's Ointment promotes the healthful action of the pores of the skin, and while it heals and cures eczema and every form of irritating skin disease, it is also equally effective as a beautifier of the skin.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied at night after a warm bath. Write to us for a free sample box, or buy a large box from your druggist and put this ointment to the test. You will be surprised and delighted at the results obtained.

WAR HATH ITS VICTORIES!!!

We have received from a reader in Interlaken the following recipe for 'hoe cake.'

Put one quart of white corn meal into a bowl, add one teaspoon of salt, add to it sufficient boiling water to moisten, stirring all the time to make a stiff batter. Moisten the hands in cold water. Take a large tablespoon of batter in your hand and press into a thin, round cake.

When done pull apart, butter and send to the table hot. This is the recipe we have been hoping for. We have tried it and instead of making it into round cakes, put it in a pan and baked it in the oven.

Suppose we turn over a new leaf and say 'I like to help in any way I like to do my share. I dislike a slacker above all things. I hate a coward who shirks any responsibility.'

AMERICA TO HER ALLIES. I send my men in khaki With singing on their lips— My engineers and artisans, My captains and their shtps; But yet another sending Shall greet your lifted glance, When the eagles of America Are on the wing to France.

My fierce, white eagles— They shall gather for their flight, In hundreds and in thousands They shall circle for the fight With wings that bear the lightning, With eyes that pierce the night.

My soldiers and my sailors Shall prove their wrath and will, My engineers and artisans Shall serve you of their skill; But yet a greater service The four winds shall advance, When the eagles of America Are on the wing to France.

My fierce, white eagles— They shall gather for the feast, Like a swift cloud of judgment They shall turn them to the East, And God shall steel their talons For rending of the beast.

LIKES AND DISLIKES. Have you ever been on a committee to distribute tickets to be sold for some most excellent purpose and in the course of your work have you met with this remark 'I don't like to sell tickets'?

Our returned men ask for assistance and someone says 'Oh I hate to sell tickets.' Is this a time to be seeking our own pleasure? Can you really enjoy parties or picnics or just idling when the money over there needs supplies? Don't you see that the humble task of selling tickets, collecting cakes for pantry sales or that sort of thing may be all you can do but is your special bit?
