

ROBINSON IS ACQUITTED OF BABE'S MURDER

After One Hour's Deliberation Jury at St. Andrews Frees Farmer on Trial.

ENTERED WITNESS BOX IN DEFENCE

Four Hours' Cross-Examination Failed to Shake His Evidence.

Special to The Standard. St. Andrews, N. B., Oct. 29.—Albert Robinson was acquitted tonight by a jury here of the murder of Mrs. Louisa Matthews' babe here last May. The jury returned a unanimous verdict at 1.30 after having been addressed by counsel for Crown and prisoner, and Judge. Mrs. Matthews, mother of the child, was cross-examined at great length today and pressed strongly at times by R. D. Hanson, counsel representing the prisoner, Albert Robinson. He dwelt for some time and pressed especially for her reasons for allowing Robinson to take her baby away from her on the night of May 27, and make no outcry, and why she did not dare to tell any person, even after leaving Robinson when she had the protection of the law.

She simply replied she "was afraid" of Robinson, and did not dare to tell on him.

Mrs. Blakney was called for the Crown and testified regarding being shown through Robinson's house by Mrs. Matthews, and there was no baby in the house, she was down picking flowers with Mrs. Matthews near the river that same day.

The Defence Starts.

Mr. Hanson opened the case for the defence to jury and outlined what his defence would be. He called Wm. Barter, of Milltown and his wife, who were Robinson's neighbors, and who were passing and parking every day during the last week in May, morning and afternoon. This contrasted Mrs. Matthews' story that Robinson was seen all morning on May 27th, the morning after she says he drowned her baby. The next witness on the defence was Miss Freda Brown, who taught school at Upper Mills last spring. She produced school register which showed Mary Blakney was in attendance every day, morning and afternoon during the week in May which contradicted evidence given by little Mary Blakney that she was home from school on Friday. (Supposed to be the day after the disappearance of the child on May 27th) when Robinson, she says, was home and would not give her the child. (Continued on page 3)

BRITISH TOLERANCE SHOWN BY CARE AT MACSWINEY FUNERAL

No Other Nation in World Press Declares, Would Have Acted So Generously.

London, Oct. 29.—The London press today declared that the orderliness of the MacSwiney funeral exposed the bitterness of Sinn Fein claims of religious tyranny in the government of Ireland. "Here is a man claiming to be at war with England, whose coffin bore the legend 'Murdered by the foreigner' borne along London streets with sympathizers carrying flags and declaring their enmity toward the people whose tolerance they enjoy," the Morning Post said.

Shows British Tolerance

"In what other country would such tolerance be possible. World America has tolerated in the streets of New York a demonstration of secessionists." Would relatives of a murdered British soldier have been permitted a procession with Union Jacks in the streets of Cork or Dublin? "It was a most amazing example of English tolerance," the Daily Graphic said. "Picture thousands of rebels marching openly, guarded by police for their own protection. Such a procession would have been impossible in any other capital. The United States would not have tolerated it, if she were to die of self-murder as MacSwiney died and such a procession were attempted, it would have been broken up by the Irish policemen of New York City."

FORTY MOUNTED POLICE HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Brandon, Man., Oct. 29.—More than forty horses were burned to death and the old winter fair building destroyed as the result of a fire which started shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at about $50,000 with insurance amounting to $150,000. The horses belonged to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The firemen did excellent work in extinguishing five fires which started in adjoining premises, without serious loss in any instance. The big winter fair arena was damaged by smoke to the extent of $1,000.

JUDGE IS SURE MIXED WEDDINGS "CIVILLY" LEGAL

Mr. Justice Bruneau at Montreal Questions Catholic Church Court's Rights.

SUPREME COURT OF CANADA DECIDED CASE

Decree from Archbishop Bruchesi Submitted to Court for Its Ratification.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—Without making a definite pronouncement on the issue raised before him late this afternoon in the Superior Court by the petition of a Protestant woman asking for annulment of her marriage to a Roman Catholic on the main ground that the marriage had been performed by a Protestant minister it was valid, Mr. Justice Bruneau declared from the bench that it was his opinion—especially in the light of a stated opinion on the question by the Supreme Court of Canada—that "mixed" marriages were civilly legal when performed by a competent Protestant minister.

The petitioner was Lillian Mary Gillespie who asked that her marriage to Phileas Adelard, alias Dolard Decarie, be pronounced void by the court. The pair were married in 1919 by the Rev. Stewart Oxley, Minister of West-stewart.

Brought Church "Divorce"

Petitioner produced an edict of Archbishop Bruchesi declaring that he was null and invalid, "the Catholic Church not recognizing the validity of a marriage contracted by two Catholics, or one Catholic and one Protestant, in the presence of a minister who is a non-Catholic." This document is dated February 8, 1920. His Lordship when reminded that judgments had been delivered in tax court holding that mixed marriages before Protestant ministers were null and void replied: "That may be, in the event, I will take this case on and give judgment later."

NO HOLIDAY ON ARMISTICE DAY

Federal Powers Leave Celebration of Day to Individual Communities Alone.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Thursday, Nov. 11 (Armistice Day), will not be declared a public holiday by the Dominion Government. There has been requests from a number of cities and towns that a public holiday should be proclaimed, but it was deemed advisable to let the decision rest with the mayors and municipal authorities.

MODERATION BEST COURSE FOR CANADA

Premier Meighen in B. C. High and Low Tariffs Must Accept Middle Course.

BIG INTERESTS NOT FAVORED AT CAPITAL

Charges Liberal Leader Has No Definite Tariff Policy to Offer the Nation.

New Westminster, B. C., Oct. 29.—Before an audience which packed the Opera House here last afternoon, Premier Meighen and J. A. Calder delivered brief addresses, describing their party's attitude on various questions of public interest.

En route to New Westminster, the party stopped at Burnaby, where Reeve Thomas Sanderson presented an address of welcome to the Premier, and a similar presentation was made at New Westminster by Mayor J. J. Johnston, on behalf of New Westminster and surrounding municipalities. Discussing the tariff, Premier Meighen said he thought the best plan would be to pursue a course of moderation; find a common middle ground between the two extremes of high protection and free trade. The leader of the opposition had not stated how he would frame a tariff policy, he asserted. Not Favorable to Interests.

The cry frequently raised that the administration favored the big interests was without foundation, he said. Had the nationalization of 20,000 miles of railway been in the interests of big business? Mr. Mackenzie King knows, he said, that was not the intention of the wish of big business interests.

Hon. J. A. Calder said that Canada had a bigger job after the armistice than before the war, and were the Government to have gone to pieces, as some persons had suggested, it would have been a criminal act. There were grave problems to be solved. While mistakes were made, no belligerent country in the world had done the good Canada had done.

The appointment of a Canadian customs officer at New York was also asked for. Mr. Meighen promised consideration of both requests.

WINNIPEG TRADE DULL

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—With the exception of men's clothing there appears to be a little more movement in business at least so far as wholesale and manufacturing there are concerned. Retail trade, however, still seems to be hanging fire, despite the approach of the holiday season and this seems difficult to account for, states one of the weekly trade reports of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association.

SHOES FOR HORSES GOING HIGHER TOO!

Fredericton Blacksmiths Will Raise Rate About Twenty-Five Per Cent.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 29.—The peak of high prices in all branches has evidently not yet been reached here as owners of local blacksmith shops are publishing notice today that after November 1st the cost of horseshoeing will be advanced.

One of the proprietors said today that the new scale meant an increase of from 20 to 25 per cent. The charges would be based upon the size of the horse, and thus the size of the shoe required, as with present prices the quantity of stock used is an important factor.

The average charge for horseshoeing here has been about $2 a set and the new figures will be from $2.40 to $2.50.

NINETEEN MEN ON CAPE FEAR MAY BE LOST

Vessel Sank in Narragansett Bay Three Minutes After Collision in Dark.

CONCRETE VESSEL SHATTERED BY BLOW

Fifteen Seamen Clambered on Board Second Vessel and Escaped Death.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 29.—The concrete vessel Cape Fear, a United States Shipping Board vessel, was sunk in the deepest part of Narragansett Bay tonight in a collision with the Savannah Line steamer City of Atlanta. At a late hour 19 of the crew of 34 of the sunken vessel were unaccounted for. The Cape Fear sank in three minutes, about half-way between Castle Hill, on the Newport shore and Rhode Island, going down bow first in 125 fathoms.

The Cape Fear was outward bound from Providence for Norfolk, in ballast, and carried only her crew, 23 did the City of Atlanta, which was bound from Savannah for Providence with a cargo of pig iron.

Weather Was Clear

Just how the accident happened was not definitely determined tonight, especially as the weather was clear, with only a slight cloudiness and a light sea running. The City of Atlanta's bow was badly damaged, the result of hitting the Cape Fear amidships, but, although there was a seven foot hole above the main deck, the bulkheads held and she anchored in the bay. Of the fifteen men saved from the Cape Fear five slid down lines to the City of Atlanta and the others were picked up from the water by ropes or by boats that were lowered for them.

Captain Tells Story

Captain Garfield of the City of Atlanta, in describing the accident said that he picked up the lights of the Cape Fear and signalled with one whistle, which was answered: He was bearing steadily to port, he said, with plenty of clearance room when suddenly the Cape Fear swung across his bow. He blew two whistles as a signal for the ship to pass on the other side and ordered full speed astern but could not avoid the collision.

Concrete Crumbled

The City of Atlanta struck squarely with her bow the blow cutting a deep hole in the Cape Fear and shattering the concrete. Lines immediately were thrown aboard and the crew of the Cape Fear three were slightly injured. The rescued, except for the one injured man who was taken to a hospital, remained aboard the City of Atlanta tonight, which will proceed with them to Providence tomorrow. The Cape Fear registered 1,893 tons and was said to be one of the last of the concrete built as an experiment during the war which had remained in commission. The City of Atlanta registered 4,111 tons. The City of Atlanta will be repaired at Newport.

LABOR AND LIBERALS REFUSE TO DISCUSS

Measure Already Passed Through the Committee Stage in the House of Commons.

Some important amendments are intended by the Government, including the question of making candidates for parliament take the oath of allegiance. COCHI KILLED RUTH CRUGER

Girl Was Murdered in New York City in Feb., 1917, and Body Found in Cellar.

Bologna, Oct. 29.—Alfred Cochi on trial here for the murder of Ruth Cruger, in New York City in February, 1917, was today found guilty on four charges. The prosecution asked Cochi's conviction for murder in the first degree, attempted criminal assault, falsifying passports and false enrolment in the military service. Cochi was sentenced to 27 years imprisonment.

Ruth Cruger, an 18 year old student at the Wadleigh High School, New York city, disappeared in February, 1917, after a visit to Cochi's bicycle shop, where her skates sharpened. For almost six months nothing was learned of her whereabouts. When the bottom of the cellar in Cochi's shop was dug up in June her body was brought to light.

VICE RING PANIC STRICKEN WITH ITS PLANS ALL KNOWN

Agent Housed "Deal" to Protect Houses But Court Officer Heard it All.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—As a dramatic consequence of the recent amendment of the criminal code which makes prison sentence compulsory after a third conviction of a keeper of a disorderly house, the Vice Ring called on an official of the committee of sixteen and intimated that there was something very profitable in it for that official if a string of houses in the central part of the city could be protected from the operations of the law.

A number of interviews were arranged, and at the final one the leader appeared, with a list of houses he wanted protected. The court stenographer was in hiding and took down the whole conversation. Now the Vice Ring here is in a panic.

NO SINN FEIN BANNERS WILL BE AT BURIAL

Body of Late Lord Mayor MacSwiney Arrives at Cork on Admiralty Vessel.

FUNERAL PARADE QUARTER MILE LONG

Family Refused to Accept Body and Only Did So After Much Debate.

Cork, Ireland, Oct. 29.—The body of Terence MacSwiney, late Lord Mayor of this city, arrived here on board an Admiralty tug at four o'clock this afternoon. The tug, whose flag was flown half-mast, docked at the custom house quay. Enormous crowds lined the opposite quays and the nearby bridges.

The government authorities in Cork immediately notified Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and the Bishop of Cork that no military display would be permitted at the funeral of MacSwiney and that neither drilling uniforms, nor republican army badges would be allowed.

Only One Flag

Irish Republican flag in the procession, it was stated, must be placed on the coffin, and the procession must not exceed a quarter of a mile in length. The troops will line the route to see that these regulations are obeyed.

The funeral party, which refused to board the packet Rathmore at Holyhead, arrived in Cork shortly before seven o'clock this evening. The mourners were accompanied by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and Count Plunkett, a well-known Sinn Feiner and member of parliament for North Roscommon. A delegation from the city council met the mourners at the station.

Leave it to Government

Later the council men went into consultation with MacSwiney's relatives and Mr. Griffith and Count Plunkett at the City Hall. The belief was expressed that the relatives were inclined to leave the disposal of the body of the late Lord Mayor to the government to do with it as it might see fit.

During the conference the coffin was transferred to the dock, and the tug departed on its regular trip to Queenstown. For several hours doubt prevailed as to whether the body would be claimed or left to the military.

Body is Removed

After a prolonged conference in the City Hall, however, it was decided to claim it, and shortly after nine o'clock this evening a company of Irish Volunteers and relatives of the dead Lord Mayor went to the dock and took formal possession of the coffin. A huge crowd was present at the docks. Immediately afterward the coffin was removed to the City Hall, where it will lie in state until the funeral is held on Sunday. There was an impressive scene when the body was borne into the City Hall and laid on the bier.

Warning From Britain

London, Oct. 29.—A despatch to the Central News from Cork reports that the relatives of Lord Mayor MacSwiney were warned that unless the body was removed from the quay by 11 o'clock on Friday evening it would be taken to Cork barracks and buried there.

COAL SITUATION IN FREDERICTON NOT IMPROVING

Light Receipts Insufficient to Bring About Substantial Relief is the View.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 29.—While there have been a few cars of anthracite coal coming in to dealers this week, the fuel situation remains most acute.

Coal dealers declare there is evidently but little chance of prices being reduced, and the few tons they are able to allot to customers are being sold at $25, although one dealer has been selling at $24 this week as a cash price.

It is said that large quantities of cordwood are being cut in this district and that there will be no shortage of fuel wood after the snow comes, and it is possible to cut out of the woods. At the present time hardwood in 4 foot lengths is selling at $16 and $17 a cord.

JUDGE BARRY'S RESCRIPT ON THE COUNTY RECOUNT

In a Very Lengthy Document Orders Judge Armstrong to Go on With Count.

In a rescript of 5,000 or more words Judge Barry announced his findings, refusing the master of the recount of votes cast in St. John County, Friday afternoon.

After going into the pros and cons of the case he decides that Judge Armstrong is legally out of joint with election laws and orders him to proceed with the count of the votes in compliance with the request of Mr. McKinnon.

The following are excerpts from his rescript. An application having been made to me for an order in the nature of a mandamus to compel the Judge of the County Court to resume and complete the recount, the several objections which were urged against the learned judge's entering upon the recount and final addition of the votes polled at the election, were again debated before me by the Hon. Dr. Beyer, K. C., on the one side and the Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., on the other. Although some of the objections seem to me at first blush, if with every deference, may be permitted to say so, to be of a highly technical character, and entirely lacking in merit, it is my duty to examine them in detail, which I shall proceed to do, however, I may say, that on the return of the order nisi which I granted, the point was taken by Dr. Beyer, that I had no jurisdiction to order Judge Armstrong to proceed, because, to use the language of the enactment conferring jurisdiction in certain contingencies, he had neither omitted, neglected nor refused to proceed with the recount. For reasons which seemed to him sufficient, and, as it is said, after consulting other judicial authority, he had concluded that no sufficient foundation had been laid for the exercise of his jurisdiction; he delivered a written judgment giving his reasons for dismissing the application; his act proceeded from no improper motive, was a judicial act, and was neither willful, negligent, malicious nor contumacious; and it was only to meet an act bearing some of these characteristics, that the extraordinary mandatory powers conferred upon a single Judge of the Supreme Court were intended to be exercisable or exercised. That is the argument. But the act of the learned judge though it may have been, and doubtless was, actuated solely by the single desire to discharge in a judicial way the duties imposed upon him by the legislature, had, nevertheless, the result of preventing a recount, and according to my conception of the enactment, it was precisely to obviate a result of this kind that the powers which I am now asked to exercise were conferred upon the individual Judges of the Supreme court by the legislature. I therefore, over-rule the objection.

In regard to the first objection urged before the learned County Court Judge and which he overruled, and as I think, quite properly overruled, nothing more need perhaps be said. Then it is said that there was no applicant. What we ordinarily understand by the word "applicant" is one who makes an application or request in there any difficulty, at all, in discovering who was the applicant here, I should not think so. In his written judgment the learned judge says: "That the only paper handed me on the application for this recount was the affidavit of John McKinnon," and again: "In this case the petitioner could not did not represent himself as appearing for any particular person." If Mr. McKinnon is correct in the affidavits which he has made, then I think Judge Armstrong must surely have forgotten at least two outstanding circumstances in connection with the application for a recount. The former statement of the learned judge is clearly erroneous; the latter is contradicted by Mr. Trueman.

Although copies of both Mr. Trueman's affidavits have, it appears, been served upon Judge Armstrong, he says nothing in answer. While disclaiming any idea of questioning in even the slightest degree the good faith of the learned judge in making the statements which I have quoted, sitting here as a court of law, I am bound to accept the sworn statement of the putative witness such as Mr. Trueman against the sworn and casual statement of another party, even though that other party be one of the judges of the land. I am therefore, perforce, obliged to conclude because it is sworn to by a reputable barrister and is not contradicted, that at the time of making the application for the recount Mr. Trueman did dedicate to the learned judge in a manner not possible of misunderstanding the party for whom he was making it.

Then as to the third objection, the one which the learned judge has sustained, and which he holds to be fatal to his jurisdiction. The provisions of the N. B. Elections Act, with which we have to deal are intended to provide a summary, inexpensive and speedy means of determining the result of an election.

Such being my opinion, it follows that I think it is in order in conformity with the terms of the Act, commanding the judge of the St. John County Court to take such action as will comply with and complete such recount. By such final addition of the votes cast, by such final count on both sides, there will be no order as to costs.

JUDGE REFUSES TO GIVE CERTIFICATE IN RESTIGOUCHE

Ballots Were Not Replaced in Original Initialed Envelopes or Sealed Packages.

Dalhousie, Oct. 23.—This morning, the fourth day of the Restigouche recount, Judge McLatchey announced that he would not give his certificate to the returning officer, Sheriff Craig. It was impossible for him, he stated, to do what he was asked to do, that he meant disfranchising a large proportion of electors of Restigouche. Out of the twenty-eight polls seven only are recounted.

The statement of these polls is as follows: Campbellton, eight polls, one counted, seven refused; Dalhousie, three polls, all refused; Balmar, two polls, one refused and one counted; Durham, three polls, all counted; Maplegrove, one poll, counted; Bel River, one poll, counted; Colborne, one poll, refused; Tobique, one poll, refused; Kedgewick, two polls, both refused; St. Quentin, three polls, all refused.

Reasons Given.
The reason for refusing to recount is chiefly because the ballots were not replaced in the original initialed envelopes, or in sealed packages. The declaration day figures are as follows: LeBlanc, Government, 1645; Harrison, Government, 1645; Stewart, Conservative, 2109; Diotte, Conservative, 1763; LaBilais, Liberal, 1590; Duncan, Liberal, 1062.

The result as found by the Judge, although not officially announced by His Honor, are as follows: LeBlanc (G.), 255; Harrison (G.), 269; Stewart (C.), 779; Diotte (C.), 735; LaBilais (L.), 369; Duncan (L.), 240. This, of course, is only for the seven polls that were recounted.

At the close of the court Mr. A. J. LeBlanc, defeated government candidate, made a strong plea to the judge to disfranchise Lower Durham and one poll in Campbellton, the only one counted. Even if the judge had granted the request, Stewart and Diotte, Opposition members elected would have the majority. At the close of the court the Judge said he would give no certificate of the recount, but he had made a recount but would issue a statement according to his records on Thursday next.

termining, in case the returning officer's return is questioned, one very simple, single, though important matter that he should do is to examine the affidavits of the candidates had a majority of the legal votes cast at an election. And although certain judicial officers have been designated by the legislature to conduct recounts, the duties assigned to them are not very onerous, and are to be regarded as perhaps it would be more correct to say, artificial rather than judicial. The judge has simply to examine the ballots cast, see whether they are proper votes, reject those that are not, and count those that are good, and that, I think, is all. No directions are given in the Act in regard to procedure, excepting that before seizing upon jurisdiction, it should be made to appear to the judge on the affidavit of a credible witness—and it does not, in my opinion, matter whether such a witness be a candidate for voter or not—that irregularities have occurred in regard to the counting or rejection of votes, adding them up or making the final statement. So this is required to be his procedure, that the affidavit forming the basis of the recount need not be entitled in any matter or cause. With the Controversed Elections Act before it, in which, in express terms, the Legislature has said that a petitioner must be either a voter or a candidate, it seems to me to be fairly obvious that it could never have been intended that an applicant for a recount, else it would have said so.

It is the duty of the judge to make such construction of a statute as will suppress the mischief and advance the remedy; it is always safer to adopt what the legislature has said than to conjecture what it meant to say; and I think that the learned judge has no warrant in law, according to the accepted canons of construction, to import into the statute something which has no place there, and which, in my opinion, the legislature never intended.

Judge Armstrong suggests that for aught disclosed to the contrary in the affidavit, Mr. McKinnon, although describing himself as of Fairville in the Parish of Lancaster of the County of the City and County of Saint John in the Province of New Brunswick, may be a foreigner—or to be exact "an elector in some other county, or a resident of some other Province, or put these questions beyond peradventure, it should have been stated in the affidavit that he was not an alien, and that he was either an elector of the County of Saint John and entitled to the vote at the election, or that he was a candidate. Failing that, the learned judge holds that Mr. McKinnon has no personal status as an actor in the proceedings, and that the County Court had no jurisdiction. He therefore nullifies the order which he had made for a recount, as having been made with no proper foundation. With every deference, I cannot assent to this reasoning.

Such being my opinion, it follows that I think it is in order in conformity with the terms of the Act, commanding the judge of the St. John County Court to take such action as will comply with and complete such recount. By such final addition of the votes cast, by such final count on both sides, there will be no order as to costs.

Secrets of London Complexion Doctors

Famous London specialists who cater to titled ladies and others of social prominence employ a remarkable method of complexion rejuvenation. One undergoing this treatment visits the beauty doctor late in the afternoon, has something dabbed over her face, then heavily veiled, departs in her motor car. The repeated daily for a week or so, when a complexion of snowy purity and exquisite delicacy is in evidence. The secret of this method is a simple home treatment, to all like cold cream before retiring, and washed off mornings. Its success is due to a peculiar absorbent property of particles of starch, revealing the younger, healthier skin beneath. A wonderful wrinkle-chaser, also in vogue among Englishwomen, is prepared by dissolving an ounce of powdered axotite in a half-pint of witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion, this completely and quickly effaces even the deepest lines.

ROBINSON IS ACQUITTED OF BABE'S MURDER

After One Hour's Deliberation Jury at St. Andrew Frees Farmer on Trial

ENTERED WITNESS BOX IN DEFENSE
Four Hours' Cross-Examination Failed to Shake Evidence.

The prisoner Robinson was called and denied any knowledge of the disappearance of child. He Mrs. Matthews was at his home he went to work on May 27th. He returned that night both the baby were gone and he never saw baby alive again. He did not Mrs. Matthews for two days, when he came home from work May 28th about nine o'clock. Matthews was sitting alone on front steps waiting.

Robinson asked her where her was and she replied, "At her near Eastport." Robinson told the same story as told on the trial Mrs. Matthews.
On cross-examination he was asked closely by the Attorney-General as to the location of the light rock in the St. Croix river, from the theory is the baby was put in the river. Robinson, although he lived at Upper Mills some years, disclaimed any knowledge of this and did not know anything about location of booms and rocks on river at his farm. He also gave evidence as to roads and paths leading from his property, down to the St. Croix river. He admitted buying a bottle of gork and two apples at the store of Mrs. Matthews soon after the baby born, and he found the paragonite empty in the house the day of disappearance of child.

Saw the Body.
He told of looking at the body of a child after the inquest at the house at Milltown, and he thought was the same child born in his home but he was not positive. He was at St. Stephen's rural cemetery the baby's body was exhumed and clothes taken off of it. The only he recognized was one napkin which he gave to Mrs. Matthews some time of the baby's birth. This napkin was put in his grip at Eastport by some young ladies, and he thought it was a joke. Robinson contradicted Mrs. Matthews as to several details of the important conversations were contradictory. He bore up well under severe cross-examination by the Attorney-General for four hours. Evidence closed the testimony, which addresses were given to jury by the counsel representing prisoner and the Crown. His Honor then charged the jury until six o'clock when recess was taken until the next day. After recess the jury deliberated, and after an hour's deliberation, a unanimous verdict of not guilty was rendered.

BIG DECLINES

 AND FINE SHOES

Shoes to Fall $2 Per Pair—
 Some Even Cut $4 to $6 Already.
 Montreal, Oct. 29.—The cut price campaign appears to have struck Montreal in earnest. Shop windows display advertisements announcing reductions of many commodities ranging from 30 to 50 per cent. Some call them "confession sales." One big firm announces that "it is leading the public out of the wilderness of high prices." Suits formerly advertised at $45, are now offered at $30, and $75 suits for $50.
 Boots selling a few days ago at $12 to $15, are offered at $8.75. Stoves and furniture are advertised as big values at reductions of 20 to 33 per cent. In some stores white sugar is offered at 15¢ cents per pound, and brown at 15 cents.

Shoes to Fall
 Toronto, Oct. 29.—From one to two dollars a pair is the extent of a cut in shoe prices expected by a well-known local shoe dealer. The reduction in prices will come gradually by the next spring, he stated.
 He stated, however, that there was no possibility of a return to pre-war prices, because while the cost of leather had decreased, labor and overhead expenses had greatly increased, and these were the big items in the manufacture of footwear.

MINISTER FALLS DEAD ON GRAVE OF WIFE
 Started to Conduct Funeral Service But Strain Proved Too Great.

Special to The Standard
 Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding his grief over the death of his wife, the Rev. Dr. Thomas E. List insisted upon conducting her funeral services yesterday at the West Laurel Hill cemetery. In a choking voice he began the final rites at the grave.
 At the mention of her name he faltered, gasped and fell forward on the grave unconscious, never to speak again. Friends rushed to his side, but were unable to revive him, and he was carried to an automobile and taken to the Presbyterian Hospital.
 While the clergyman was on his way to the hospital, his friend, the Rev. Dr.
 Albert E. Clay, concluded the service. At the hospital, Dr. List was pronounced dead.
 Mrs. List, who had been ill two months, died on Saturday. Friends and relatives, seeing how the minister was suffering, urged him not to conduct the funeral services, saying the strain would be more than he could bear—but he insisted that it was his duty.

 en, Graham Co. of Ottawa, passed through the city last evening to Hal-fax where he is to sail on the Dela-wana in the Canadian-American schooner race between the flag ships of the Lunenburg and Gloucester fishing fleets.
 Mr. Sonns sailed on the Delawana
 when she won the Nova Scotia sailing trophy a short while ago, and has been requested by the Nova Scotians to sail on the winning boat again, his presence being considered as that of a mascot.

Mr. Sonns says that Captain Himmelmann of the Lunenburg boat knows the sailing game from start to finish and he has picked him to win.
 He thinks however, that the American boat has slightly the advantage in that she is a foot narrower and a foot deeper than the queen of the Blue
 No. 4 fleet.

The race is to take place off Halifax

 TO FIND THE MISSING LINK

American Museum Natural

 This Big Effort.
FUND OF $250,000
 TO FINANCE TRIP
 Expect to Bring Back Biggest Natural History Collection in the World.

New York, Oct. 29.—(Special service for the well-advised but undiscovered "missing link"—the remains of the near man that scientists since the day of Darwin have longed to examine in the flesh. For a five-year period, beginning next February, an expedition, financed by a $250,000 fund with the remote regions, and even if it fails to uncover remains of man's rude prehistoric forebear, it is planned to bring back to New York "the greatest natural history collection the world has ever seen."

The American Museum of Natural History, which is sponsoring the expedition, announces that its associates are the American Asiatic Society and the Asia Magistra. These three will finance the expedition, with the help of private contributions by Mrs. Willard Straight, J. P. Morgan,
 George F. Baker, Childs Frick, W. A.
 Harriman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L.
 Bernheimer.

Expect Great Collection.
 Huntsmen and cowboys, as well as scientific professors and scientists, will be included in the big party, for it is planned to trail some of the wildest wild animals in the world in the Gobi desert and bring them back to New York alive.
 "Antelopes that can run sixty miles an hour," wild horses with less speed, but more control in their striking appears, and wild cats, wild dogs and long-haired tigers "can be run down in motor cars, lassoed by Mon-gel cowboys, and some of the spectacular brought back alive to New York Zoological Parks," said the statement announcing the expedition.

"On the Tibetan steppes are enormous yak, snow leopard, wild pandas and beautiful golden monkeys with blue upturned noses," the statement continues. "In China is the taking, a creature with a veritable golden fleece," a strange ox-like animal that roams the highest mountain valleys and actually represents an intermediate stage between the antelope and the goat."
 It is the hope of finding the bones of a prehistoric form of man, however, that is held highest by Roy Chapman Andrews, associate curator of mammals in the American Museum of Natural History, who will be in charge of the expedition, and his associates. The party will have its headquarters in Peking.
 In 1921, a Dutch army surgeon, while excavating for fossils in central Java, discovered part of a skull, two molar teeth and a thigh bone, and thereby unearthed one of the most perplexing conundrums in the study of human ancestry," said the statement.
 "Were the remains those of an extremely early type of hominid, or like an ape? If so, this specimen must have lived approximately five hundred thousand years ago."
 "With the exception of the Java specimen, all fossil human fragments have been discovered in Continental Europe or England. Nevertheless, the leading scientists of the day believe that Asia was the early home of the human race, and that whatever light may be thrown upon the origin of man will come from the great central Asian plateau."

If Back Hurts Use Salts For Kidneys

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers.
 Most folks forget that the kidneys,
 like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatism twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.
 You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.
 This famous salt is made from the act of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless, it flushes clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending Bladder disorders.
 Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.
 A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble
 while it is only trouble.

SOVIET URGING GERMAN MINERS TO QUIT WORK

Seize Pretext of British Walkout to Breed Unrest
 in Ruhr.
 By S. B. CONGER.
 (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
 Berlin, Oct. 2.—The German Communist, strengthened by the adhesion of the radical wing of the Independent Socialists, have lost no time in embarkment on a program of action designed in accordance with the instructions of Zindov, Soviet representative at the Halle congress, to increase unrest among German workers, involve Germany in difficulties with the Entente and encourage the Russian Communists by a further appearance of impending revolt in Germany.
 The first move is the appeal to German railwaymen to interfere with the coal shipments under the Spa agreement and to the miners for a strike, ostensibly as a demonstration of solidarity with the British miners, but more probably to furnish breeding ground for disorders.
 The railwaymen and miners are informed in today's issue of the Red Flag that foreign shipments of coal from the Ruhr district increased suddenly last week, coincidentally with the outbreak of the British strike and are now running 45 p. c. above the Spa requirements, the excess undoubtedly reaching England. The railwaymen are instructed to exercise supervision over the coal trains, similar to their control of munition trains, which almost produced a breach with the Entente, and to stop any trains which

KING MAKING HIS APPEAL TO FARMERS

North Battleford, Sask., Oct. 29.—
 There is nothing in the programme of the Farmers which is not in the programme of the Liberal party, O. Turgeon, Member for Gloucester, N. B., this evening told an audience which was composed very largely of Farmers, many of them members of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association and some of them cattle raisers.
 Mr. Turgeon was the only member of the visiting party to speak besides Mr. King, who addressed himself closely to the farmers in the audience.

 and the simultaneous appeal to the miners not to work for English mis-capital" is fraught with the most dangerous possibilities.
 The assumption that the Communist leaders are bent upon a policy of provoking local disorders, regardless of chances of success, is borne out by a warning from the radical Socialist forces agency to the workmen not to be led astray into the paths of violence to the advantage only of the counterrevolution. It is definitely established, according to the warning, that attempts are being made to rush the working classes against their own better judgment into a general rising by starting local disorders, and that special attention is being devoted by the promoters of this policy to the unemployed, whom they hope to convert into shock troops in the revolutionary campaign.
 Labor is warned not to participate in "such senseless undertakings, the product of a dime novel fantasy, striving not the interests of the proletariat but of the reactionaries."
 The Communists, themselves, are none too confident of their strength for such a policy at the present moment, when the fusion with the radical wing of the Independent Socialists has not yet been accomplished. They are still at odds with the radical and extreme left.
 Belfast, Oct. 29.—The Sinn Feiner order for the suspension of business today in honor of the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney was generally complied with. In the Falls district shops were closed and blinds were drawn in private homes. So largely attended was the Requiem Mass at St. Paul's Church that many persons could not gain entrance. They knelt in the street outside the church and prayed.

Body of Racing Captain Found

Master of Schr. Ruby Pentz in Carnival Race Found in Halifax.

Halifax, Oct. 29.—The body of Captain Calvin Lohnes, who was lost from his schooner, the Ruby L. Pentz, Oct. 15, off the Ocean terminals, was found floating in the harbor about 50 yards northeast of George's Island at 3:45 yesterday afternoon by Constable Conrad of the Royal Canadian Military Police stationed on the island.

At the time he was lost Captain Lohnes was starting on the trip home with his schooner, after participating in the Nova Scotia Fishing Schooner Race the previous day. On seeing the body, Constable Conrad, accompanied by Sergeant Austin, took a boat out and brought the body to shore. Police headquarters were telephoned and arrangements made there to have it taken to Snow's undertaking parlors.

The body was then taken from George's Island ashore to King's wharf by the two men who picked it up as assisted by S. T. Howells of 56 East Young street, who was on the island at the time.

He was known throughout Nova Scotia West and his reputation was the kind to be envied most. At 11:45 on the morning following the race this schooner pulled out from her docks for the return home. Off the Ocean Terminals Captain Lohnes, smiling as was his wont, came from his cabin, and while the big mainsail was being hoisted aloft he prepared to take his place at the wheel. A puff of wind came, he was struck, and thrown overboard.

Counter Proposal To Larker Plan

Chicago, Oct. 29.—A counter-proposal to the "Larker plan" for the re-organization of baseball was made here today by the Board of Directors of the American League in executive session. The proposal was in answer to the ultimatum of the National League and three American league teams—Chicago, New York and Boston—which declared they would organize a twelve club league if the five American league clubs "go" to the National League.

The plan decided upon today is to form a committee of nine members—three each from the National League, American League and National Association of Professional Baseball leagues (minor leagues)—to work out a project of the re-organization.

McGILL ASSOCIATION.

The recently formed McGill Association of New Brunswick will hold an informal dinner at the Manor House on Tuesday evening, at which Dr. Adams, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science at McGill, will be the guest of honor.

Three New Records Hung Up Friday

Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union in Successful Meet.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Three records were by the board at the meeting of the Canadian Inter-Collegiate Athletic Union at Varsity Stadium this afternoon. One of the newly established marks, that of Meredith of Manitoba University for throwing the discus 119 feet, six inches, broke the Canadian inter-collegiate record for the event. The reduction of the old record of 17 seconds for the 120 yard hurdles, to 15.25 seconds, which was accomplished by Farthing of McGill in the final heat of that event, and the clipping of 3.45 seconds from the old figure for the three mile run by Leigh of Toronto University, constitute the other new inter-collegiate records. Incomplete weather was the one factor which militated against the complete success of the meeting.

McGill won the dual contest for total points, scoring 62 to Varsity's 55. Foster of Varsity, won the individual championship with 16 points.

Jackson Wins Over Fitzsimmons

Scored Knockdown in Sixth Round With Right to the Jaw.

New York, Oct. 29.—Willie Jackson, of New York, scored a knockout over Eddie Fitzsimmons, of New York, in the tenth round of a fifteen round match at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Referee Bill Brown stopped the contest with Fitzsimmons hanging on the lower rope as the bell ended the round. Jackson scored a knockdown in the sixth round with a right to the jaw. Fitzsimmons taking a count of eight. The referee was forced to take an other count of eight and went down again before a rain of blows just before the bell. He was unconscious, and had to be carried to his corner. The two men had opposite styles of fighting. Fitzsimmons, a left-hander, standing with right foot foremost.

BYPLAY OF FRENCH OVER REPARATIONS

Paris, Oct. 29.—The French are making a hard fight over the Reparations. The newspapers tonight carry a remarkable, inspired suggestion involving no less than four successive conferences. The first conference of the Reparations Commission, with its nominees with Germans at Brussels. The second would be a meeting of the Allied premiers to meet the Germans on level terms and discuss reparations with them. That even if a conference of experts should first be held at Brussels, the French had agreed to accept the conference of the Allied premiers and the Germans at Geneva. That the French had agreed to the fixation of the global amount of the reparations debt as soon as possible.

An inspired Reuter message stated these facts quite frankly and distinctly ten days ago. The French declined to accept the challenge and not a line of comment on, or reference to the Reuter message appeared in the French press. Now the French are once more raising objections and putting forward new suggestions. It is unlikely the British Premier will give way but even if the first meeting of experts is held without delay at Brussels the question of subsequent procedure may drag on until the French Parliament re-opens on November 4.

Schooners All Ready For The Contest

Esperanto Given a Work-out Yesterday and Moved "Right Smartly."

Halifax, Oct. 29.—Captain "Tommy" Himmelman and his husky crew, gay in suits of special white drill, are here along of the Delawana. Lunenburg's fleet defender in the International ocean race series, which commences off Halifax harbor tomorrow. Their ship, as sleek and shiny as Shamrock in her palmest days, came in this afternoon out of the light mist and hung at anchor harbor mouth, and craft and crew were given a warm welcome. Thus cheered they are primed for the fray.

Captain Marty Welch and his Gloucester men are ready, too. They had a run out today, manning around one of the courses laid down for selection by the sailing committee. Esperanto showed speed, the waterfront watchers said, and one or two experts who were taking a very casual glance at the racing mackerel seiner noted seawards, opined that Captain Marty was no slouch when it came to finding the wind. There was not a regular breeze—certainly not the "gale of wind" that both crews so ardently wished—but there was enough to let the wharf world know that Marty handles a ship that can move along right smartly in light weather.

University of New Brunswick and Mount Allison in Tie Game.

Moncton, Oct. 29.—After a trying game on the Mount Allison campus this afternoon the University of N. B. football team could not do any more than come out even with the Mount Allison aggregation, both teams scoring three goals. The game was very hotly contested and was a brilliant exhibition of football.

JENNINGS GOES TO THE GIANTS

New York, Oct. 29.—Hugh Jennings, who for two years was manager of the Detroit Americans League team, signed a contract here today as assistant manager of the New York National League baseball club. This was announced officially tonight by Vice-President and Manager, John J. McGraw. No details as to the terms of the contract were given out.

Hard Fight Regarding Procedure of Conference—Four Meetings Suggested.

Fine Golf Course For Country Club

Westfield Country Club Have Voted to Purchase Two Tracts of Land.

The Westfield Country Club have decided to purchase two large tracts of land and increase their present five-hole golf course to a full nine-hole course of 2,200 yards. Two new tennis courts will also be made probably next year. These were the important matters decided at the Fall meeting of the club held last evening in the Board of Trade rooms. The president, D. W. Ledingham, was in the chair, and the attendance of members was large. The land to be purchased consists of about 150 acres on the McCordick and LeBlanc farms. Work on the course is already begun, and it is hoped to have at least two new greens ready for next year's play. Plans for extending the tennis courts will give four courts instead of two for the club members.

PEER CHALLENGED TO DUEL BY COUSIN

Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, 73, Tells Lord Kenyon Apology is Alternative

London, Oct. 29.—An echo of the middle ages, of armor, knights and the clash of swords has been heard in London.

As a result of a quarrel of long standing Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, 73 years old, has challenged his cousin, Lord Kenyon to a duel to the death. He made no choice of weapons, but is willing to fight with either swords or pistols at the earliest possible moment in spite of the fact that he says his right arm greatly resembles a cork screw. Lord Kenyon has made no answer to the challenge and indicates that he will ignore it as he did one sent him in Athens a few years ago. Friends and relatives of the peer-challenger are trying to patch up the quarrel and his two appointed seconds have resigned, but he declares only an apology or a duel can satisfy his honor.

MARYSVILLE BOY ENLISTS IN U. S.

Joined McLean Kilties When Only Fourteen Years of Age and Got Over to France

Special to The Standard

Marysville, N. B., Oct. 29.—Herbert C. Harris, son of Wm. Harris, has enlisted in the 42nd Battery, U. S. Coast Guards, with headquarters in West Virginia. With a party of other American soldiers, Harris has been engaged in recruiting work for some weeks in the New England states, and recently returned to headquarters. For a youngster, Harris has had a wonderful military experience. When but fourteen years of age he enlisted with the 236th Battalion, McLean Kilties, of American, and went overseas with that unit. Later he went to France with the 72nd Battalion, Canadian Highlanders, and served at the front for several months, until his correct age was ascertained, when he was sent back to Canada.

Much Depends On Game At Rothesay

The St. John High School football squad and the Rothesay Intercollegiate team will meet at Rothesay today in inter-scholastic series.

As matters now stand, Fredericton, by her win from Rothesay last Saturday, is ahead of the league. If Rothesay loses today, the supremacy of the league will remain to be settled between the two high school teams of Fredericton and St. John.

St. John boys have been working hard under their coach, Sandy Thorpe, and expect to make an even better showing this afternoon than they did in their last game with Rothesay. The Blue and White players will no doubt do their best to redeem themselves on their own field, and the chances of their winning are good, for they do not lack in pluck and a fighting spirit. Frank Webb is to referee the game.

INDICT OWNERS OF BASEBALL POOLS

Chicago, Oct. 29.—True bills against three owners of baseball pools were voted today by the special grand jury investigating baseball. Owners of the Great Western, Universal and American National pools are named in the bills. All are Chicago men.

Where Fud Started.

The feud is said to have originated at the time of the marriage of Lord Kenyon during the war when the baronet sent him a white feather wrapped in wool and later took exception to the portrait of Lord Kenyon in a service uniform. Heated correspondence followed and resulted in the challenge to a duel.

Sir Claude states it would be imprudent to fight the duel in England because of the complications that might arise if one of them were killed and suggested that it be staged on the continent where the law is less antagonistic to dueling. He is quoted as having said a more fresh wound will satisfy his honor and desires a combat to the death.

His Remarkable Career.

The challenger has had a career rivaling that of Marco Polo or Sinbad the Sailor. Descendant from an ancient Norman family that fought in the first crusade, he enlisted in the British navy at the age of thirteen, served in the balloon corps of the army, acted as war correspondent in the Sudan campaign and was afterwards decorated for bravery. Nearly every bone in this dour nobleman's body has been broken in accidents which happened in all parts of the world. He was nearly eaten by sharks in the Pacific, by a tiger in India, hurt by a falling tree in Florida, narrowly escaped being crushed to death by a python and was the only European to swim the pool below the first cataract of the Nile. He engaged in fat fights with two coaches, one of whom came out victor and was then entertained at dinner by Sir Claude to celebrate the occasion and offered to whip a journalist who misquoted him.

Lord Kenyon is fifty-six years old, has been lord-in-waiting to the King and is the tallest peer in the House of Lords, being six feet four inches tall. The last duel fought in England was that in which Lieutenant Hankey killed Lieutenant Seton in May, 1845.

Hydroplane Races Arranged

Contests for Fisher Trophy Will be Held This Winter and Next Summer.

New York, Oct. 29.—The second and third hydro-plane races for the Carl Fisher trophy will be held this winter and next summer at Miami, Fla., and Buffalo, N. Y., respectively, it was decided by the American Power Boat Association, which ended its annual meeting here last night. The first race was held in Detroit last summer.

Albert L. Judson, who was re-elected president of the organization, predicted that a motor-boat will soon be built that will make 100 miles per hour. Within the last six years, he said, the speed had been developed from 51 to 75 miles.

CONDITIONS IN IRELAND.

With Bishop LeBlanc's statement that there is something terribly wrong in Ireland no one will want to disagree; but when he says that the sympathy of all mankind is with her he makes an assertion that can hardly be borne out by facts. A certain amount of sympathy of a kind is undoubtedly felt for the Irish people; but it is the sympathy that regrets that as a people they are so misguided in their efforts to improve their position.

How is it that Ulster is prosperous, while the remainder of the country is in such a state of trouble and unrest? If one section of the people can thrive and be contented, what is there to prevent other sections from being the same? The answer, we fear, is to be found in the fact that the Ulster people are industrious and not afraid of work; but with regard to the people of the other parts of the country the reverse is the case. Why do Irishmen when they go over to England—as they do by the thousands—every year to work in the harvest and potato fields, save money, and go back to their own country at the end of the season with good hump sums in their pockets? Why do they not use the same diligence and care in their work for themselves at home as they do for their employers in England? The land laws in Ireland provide for land being obtained for farming purposes on infinitely more favorable terms than it can be got in England, and if an Irishman is inclined to work at home, he has just as good an opportunity to do so in his own behalf as he has by coming to England and working for wages. But the trouble is that he won't. And if Ireland were to be proclaimed a Republic tomorrow, conditions would remain the same. The Irishman can no more change his easy-going, don't-care nature than the leopard can change his spots. Ireland will never be anything else but poor until her people change their ideas and modes of life, and they are not likely to do this under their present instructions. It is not a question of government at all.

There is one matter on which all can agree with Bishop LeBlanc, and that is his desire that Ireland's difficulties may soon be settled. But it is, we fear, useless to look for very much improvement so long as bands of agitators are allowed to roam the country stirring up strife and discord; as long as emissaries of organizations frankly hostile to all rule and order in Ireland are sent to other countries to collect funds to be used to further spread the incendiary doctrines, the following out of which has brought Ireland to the condition it is now in.

THE TENDENCY OF PRICES.

In practically all business centres in Canada a condition is developing in which labor has to seek employment, whereas from the beginning of the late war until the present time the supply of labor has not been equal to the demand, says the Canadian Bank of Commerce in its October letter on trade conditions. Employers are now in a much better position to adjust their labor forces so as to obtain more efficiency, and the effect of this has been in evidence for some time past. On the other hand, there has been a marked diminution in the demand for many classes of commodities. These two tendencies—the one towards greater efficiency in production, and the other towards more careful purchasing—will accentuate the trend towards lower prices.

In the absence of any marked change in wage schedules, however, and with only a slight surplus of labor on the market, it would appear that the decline in prices cannot be rapid. Retail merchants in all parts of the Dominion continue to purchase on the basis of their day-to-day requirements, and as a rule are taking steps to reduce their stocks to conform with the present situation. Public discussion of the downward trend of prices in the case of certain commodities has left an impression that the country has entered upon a period of sharp decline in all markets. This view has apparently been accepted by a large section of the general public, but does not appear to be justified so long as wages, transportation charges, and other factors in the cost of production remain on their present basis.

Slackness exists only in a limited number of industries; the majority continue active and have orders on hand which will keep them busily occupied for some months. It is obvious, however, that output is nearer the point at which it will be equal to demand than has been the case for some years. This is due in a measure to the moderating of demand, a tendency which may be covered by the distribution of the proceeds of this season's harvest. It is not unlikely that the decision of the fact that labor generally is becoming more settled, so that there is less industrial strife and more evidence of efficiency.

WHEAT SPECULATION.

Is market manipulation at the bottom of the recent decline in the price of wheat? A member of the United States Senate says that it is, and a Commission has been appointed by the United States Government to find out whether it is or not. The Commission has completed its investigations at Chicago and will go the round of all the grain centres in the United States. The report of the Commission will be awaited with interest by grain growers in Canada as well as in the United States.

The charge that prices are controlled by the operation of speculative dealers has often been made. Of course "bear operators" could not drive down the price if circumstances did not favor them. It has been pointed out by a contemporary that the principal condition necessary for the success of a campaign to beat down prices at the beginning of a crop marketing season is a large supply of grain. A big crop may come on the market before the whole of the last year's crop has been disposed of. This state of affairs would tend to depress prices even if there were no speculative dealers trying to make money by selling short. Another condition whose influence on prices is downward is the rush to market new wheat because farmers need the money. If such conditions were not present, "bear speculators" would not be able to hammer prices down very far. It is difficult to say what degree the depression of prices at the beginning of a selling season is to be charged to manipulation, and what degree to the actual weight of offerings.

There is another factor to be taken account of, and that is the deliberate withholding of orders on the part of grain merchants and flour manufacturers in a year of large grain offerings. At the present time British importers of wheat are not coming on the market. They are holding off. They are of the opinion that there is enough wheat and other grains to make impossible the maintaining of anything like war-time prices. They believe that by keeping off the market they can wear down prices considerably below the present levels. They are not at the moment obliged to buy in any market at which the grain is held for prices ruling above those now current. They may be right or they may be wrong. The effect of such a deferring of demand on the part of the importing market that has most to do with making the price cannot but be depressing to the price.

SYLVIA PANKHURST'S WISDOM.

Sylvia Pankhurst's declaration in her treacherous letter to Lenin, the rascally head of the Russian Soviets, that she didn't think she would go on a hunger strike because the British Government had adopted a policy of permitting hunger strikers to die and hence made hunger striking useless, reveals another phase of the MacSwiney case that too often lost sight of. That hunger striking as a method of defeating the ends of criminal law has, fortunately, become unfashionable is illustrated by the announcement that hereafter it will not be adopted by Sinn Feiners who may be arrested. Good business.

By the way, as the Ottawa Journal points out, this same Sylvia Pankhurst tells Lenin that she is desperately in need of financial help from Russia in the publication of her Bolshevik sheet in England and that she had had to borrow paper from the London Herald—the alleged "labor" organ published by the precious Lansbury with Soviet assistance—in order to supply a request for 50,000 copies to be distributed to South Wales coal miners now on strike.

The cause of true labor, like the cause of the true Irishman, suffers more from the conduct of its questionable friends than from the attacks of its open enemies.

It is most earnestly to be hoped that the prospects which are now held out for a settlement of the miners' strike in Britain will materialize, and that there will very soon be an end of the trouble. The arrangements proposed for a settlement appear to be in the nature of a compromise, but that they should be satisfactory all round is all that is needed. A strike of the present time, if carried to a bitter end, would have led to a period of trouble and distress that would have exceeded anything that the people were called upon to endure during the war.

It will doubtless be a source of gratification to the Globe and our other daily newspapers that the decision of Mr. Justice Barry in the county court matter relieves them of the necessity of publishing any further samples of "Sunday-school-debating-society-journalism."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The Value of a University.
 (Melbourne Argus.)
 The value of a university is to be gauged not only in the number of its graduates, but in its influence on the mass of the people, and in most unexpected places this may be observed. Thus Sir John MacFarland says, "There is no citizen of the State who does not benefit directly from the existence of our University." This being so, citizens should do their best by assisting the appeal to ensure that the University shall not be hampered in its beneficial work.

Diving Rods.
 (Portland Oregonian.)
 We are inclined to accept with reserve the report that the French Government has decided to test the value of water-divining in its African colonies and has appointed a number of hazel-twig experts as members of a scientific commission consisting of other geologists and surveyors to hunt for new oases in the Sahara desert. The divining rod has been pretty thoroughly discredited by consistent non-performance in the countries during which superstitious belief in its efficacy has prevailed. The pioneers of the west, particularly those who settled in the little watered sections, were familiar with it. If the divining rod had had the power that is claimed for it, the country would now be dotted with flowing wells and rich mines.

The Modern City.
 (Westminster Gazette.)
 One cannot, certainly, find new horizons in this sense—of wild, but to those who are adventurous, not only in their actions, but in their reading. Their thinking, and their desire for new experiences, their desire for things likely to come more fully and more fruitfully. It is bad to look always in the same place, whether physically or mentally. Even fields, fair rivers, and high mountains can make a prison in which the captive, dulled by habit, carries out his daily task mechanically, and sinks at the end of the day, almost like an animal, to sleep. A city, on the contrary, which is so often compared by poets to prison, need not really be so, for all its stiff array of houses, its stony pavements, its smoky air. The larger the city of today the easier to get away from it.

A BIT OF VERSE

A FRIENDSHIP.
 The lift of a great impulse up and up, Oh, thou art as a billow bearing forth,
 Urged by the insistent Wind of the North,
 Inevitable, eternal, blinding-bright, foam-soft!
 Of that great power bearing it aloft; Trembles and aways before the resist- ing surge,
 While a pure wind blows keen upon my brow,
 This is thy friendship now,
 A mighty power. Oh, thou hast seemed to sup,
 At God's great feast of wisdom and of love,
 High in the glowing halls of heaven above,
 To drain immortal nectar from Christ's cup,
 That meant to earth no idle purity,
 But a vision high, strong as the sea—
 The lift of a great impulse up and up!

Y.M.C.A. Authorities Ask Assistance At Natural History

Many Volunteers Needed to Carry on the Good Work Begun in Foreign Fields.

The local Y. M. C. A. are expecting a visit next week from J. H. Fowler, a Canadian Y. M. C. A. Secretary, who has been serving under the Foreign Work Department of the Association in India, and has recently returned on furlough.

Mr. Fowler is to visit the local "Y" on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, and will address the members on the work being done by the Foreign Department and its great need of assistance. On Thursday he will address the High "Y" Club at their luncheon at the "Y" at 12:15 and will meet the board of directors at five. On Friday at one a special luncheon will be held at Bond's when those interested in boys' work will be addressed. On Saturday Mr. Fowler will address the Trail Rangers at their gathering.

His recent report to the local board of Y. M. C. A. directors, Secretary Stokes, speaking of Mr. Fowler's approaching visit, said: "The evidence from foreign fields is convincing that in every land, the time has come for a vigorous advance in the association's work."

"The years of faithful service of our men in the Foreign field have brought results. The Foreign Field looked to Canada and North America for leadership. During the war period the opportunity and work of the field increased greatly, in many places doubling.

"At the beginning of the war there were on the Foreign staff 167 men. At present there is 189. The National Committees of the China, Japan and South America ask for 94 after reducing their needs to the lowest possible figure. The three countries have been given 8 men, the other 86 await the securing of necessary funds.

The need of heroic action is illustrated by the following examples. Calcutta with five branches has lost both its secretary and physical director and has no one to replace them.

The central office for South Africa had three American secretaries, one is in the hospital, one on an extended furlough, and the other in Europe.

Hong Kong has two modern buildings and 3,000 members. It had three American secretaries, two are untried home and no one to replace them. In India 17 posts, formerly filled by Canadians and Americans are vacant. Five men are due for furlough with no one to replace them.

Unless thirty new men reach India within the next year the development of the work and the morale of the men in India will be greatly curtailed. There are many similar situations where the work is in great danger unless further relief is sent."

"This does not take into account the many new doors opening to the association as a result of the work of the Red Triangle amongst the soldiers during the war."

It is interesting to note that of the 189 secretaries from North America engaged in the Foreign department, 22

Damage Caused At Natural History

Steam Heater Burst, Followed by Section of the Ceiling Falling.

Troubles never come singly. They came in duplex form at the Natural History Society recently. One of the steam heaters burst, necessitating a hasty call for the plumber. That worthy individual had scarcely finished his task when the ceiling, or a section thereof, became suddenly possessed with a desire to seek new fields of adventure.

Although to all appearances a perfectly staid, and absolutely above board ceiling, it became imbued with a desire to emulate the example of the heater, and so pounced down upon the society's case of uncut jewels, upon which it had cast many covetous glances in the past, and no doubt had been planning a get-away for some time.

Its methods were altogether too noisy, and the crashing woodwork and tinkling of glass soon brought attendants to the scene. The wood, as a consequence, were placed in more protected quarters. The plaster caught in the act red-handed, lost all claim to respectability and its former Victorian respectability had secured it, and so it was taken in charge by a dust pan and broom and banished forever from the museum.

Charged With Stealing Cheese

Harold Guilfoil Captured in C. N. R. Yards — Evidence Heard in Liquor Case.

A charge of stealing a cheese from the C. N. R. transfer shed of Mill street was preferred against Harold Guilfoil in the police court yesterday, and the accused was remanded to jail.

He was only arrested after a sharp chase by C. N. R. Officer Ryan, who pursued his man across the C. N. R. yard and into Sheriff street, where he finally overtook him. Officer Ryan noticed the accused taking the cheese from a car in the depot yard shortly after 12 o'clock. When the officer approached, the accused dropped the cheese and took to his heels.

Thomas Parks was charged with having liquor in his livery stable in Pond street. He pleaded not guilty. Inspector Arthur told of searching and among the hay and oats finding a suit case in which were two bottles of whiskey. He also found a small bottle said to contain alcohol, also several bottles and empty gin and liquor cases.

The defendant said that the stable was always open and any one could enter and leave as they chose, and articles could be left there without his knowledge of the goods found. The magistrate imposed a fine of $200 and costs.

John Siljioja, of Poland, was charged with breaking windows in the residence of Charles Dauby, 83 Simonds street, the damage amounting to $3. He pleaded guilty and was remanded.

Harold Lawson, charged with being drunk and also with damaging an automobile belonging to Joseph Wenzel, pleaded guilty to being drunk, but did not know anything about the other charge. He was remanded.

Bradford Day, said to come from Chipman, was before the court on a charge of wandering about in Bridge street and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself. He was sent to the workhouse until some inquiries could be made. He is eighty-eight years of age, and told the police that he is a native of Chipman, but no information regarding his relatives could be obtained.

A juvenile on truancy charge was allowed to go with a caution.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR BOYS' WORK

Representative Business Men Met to Consider Welfare of the Boys.

A meeting of the Boys' Work Conference was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Mayor Schofield, officiated as chairman. Representatives were present from the Boy Scouts, Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus, Play Grounds Association, North, South and East End Improvement Leagues, and the Board of Trade.

General talks relative to boys' work were given by A. M. Belding, R. S. Patterson, Mr. Broderick and Mayor Schofield.

Talk of further organization was recommended. This was opposed by Mayor Schofield, who advised that it would be more advantageous to form a committee from the various organizations to act in an assistance capacity in furthering boys' work.

Some of the speakers made an appeal for the Playgrounds Association, which should be encouraged as it was doing a great work.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of P. L. Connor, who died in Boston, was held from the Cathedral yesterday, service being conducted yesterday afternoon by Rev. C. P. Carleton. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Charles Stewart was conducted from the Fitzpatrick Undertakers' rooms yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Stewart, pastor of St. Phillips church, assisted by Rev. H. W. Pinkett. The funeral was largely attended.

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS

"FIRELIGHTER"

Our Boys' Work Conference is over, materially a thing of the past, but the work which will remain long in every boy's heart is "Service." The Methodists headed the list with the largest number of delegates present, following came the Baptists, Presbyterians and Anglicans. The Conference spirit was splendid and some real good friendships were formed.

Let every square attempt some piece of service for their church or community.

Another thing which the conference reminded us of, was our badges. Mr. N. F. McEwen is a very able and eloquent talk, told us the importance of the badges in our "Tuxis" programs and their place in our movement. Every "Tuxis" boy should try to win one badge a month. A good idea is to ask your Mentor to explain one badge a week.

The conference resolutions were fine, and the "Trail Ranger" Camps can look to having every support if the "Tuxis Boys" stick to the spirit of their resolution. The conference placed itself on record as being strictly opposed to "Tuxis" or "Trail Ranger" smoking.

St. Mary's have favored me with their weekly report. The "Trail Ranger" boys held their election on Tuesday and Jack Lippett was elected Chief Ranger; Hassen Lipssett, Deputy; Harold Armstrong, Tally; Lee Roy Long, Cache. They are all very much interested in the programme and one new member came forward for initiation. The "Tuxis Boys" took the role of waiters to the C. G. I. T. Banquet. This shows a fine spirit between the boys and girls at this particular Church.

The co-operative plan, that is—monthly meetings at the Y. M. C. A., will be started Saturday, Nov. 6th, for "Tuxis Boys." See that you are in on it. A fine thing to bring up at your next meeting.

St. Mary's "Tuxis Boy"—Have you been charred? If not, see your Mentor. It is imperative that you get charred in order that you can see just how you stand.

Let me have reports of your square or camp meetings; it only takes a few minutes and then it lets other squares and camps know that you are on the job. Mr. Mentor: Please see that this is done. Thanks.

"Firelighter, Care The Y. M. C. A. will get me.

"Service." Upon his entry into that company of "The Knights of the Round Table," King Arthur took from him that vow which may well thrill men till the end of time.

"I made them lay their hands in mine, and I swear.

To reverence the King, as if he were their conscience and their conscience as his King;

To brook no heathen, and uphold the Church;

To ride abroad redressing human wrongs.

To speak no slander, nor to listen to it.

To honor his own word, as if his God's.

To lead sweet lives in purest chastity.

To love one maiden only, clear to his hair.

And worship her by years of noble deeds.

Until they win her; for indeed I know Of not more subtle master under heaven.

Than is the maiden passion for a maid. Not only to keep down the base in man.

But teach high thoughts and amiable words.

And courtliness, and the desire of fame.

And love of truth, and all that makes a man."

"The keynote of Sir Galahad's life of service was 'If I lose myself I save myself.' His courtesy was that of the true knight, ever alert to defend the weak and espouse the cause of womanhood."

"My, You Are Looking So Much Better!"

"YES, I am feeling fine, too." "And how is baby?" "He is just dandy and as good as can be."

"And what have you been doing to look so well?" "Oh, I got run-down nursing baby and began to get discouraged I was feeling so miserable. I suppose it was my nervous condition that got baby restless, and then, of course, it worried me trying to look after him."

"I thought you looked so worn-out when I was in last time." "Well, I was feeling so discouraged that I sent for mother to come and she was not here a day before she had me using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

"I should have told you about it, for we always use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when any of us get nervous or run-down."

"For the first few days I could not see that it was doing much good, but soon I found myself sleeping better and feeling less worried and irritable during the day."

My appetite improved and as I gained strength baby seemed to sleep better and be less trouble. He is just fine now and as good-natured as any baby ever was."

"How do you take the Nerve Food?" "One pill after each meal and at bedtime. I will soon be able to discontinue using it, but want to be sure that my system is thoroughly built up before quitting."

"That is great. It gives me more confidence than ever in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and that is saying a good deal, for you know what it did for me when I had that nervous breakdown. Has your mother gone home?"

"Yes, and I tell you it was a lucky day for me when she came to the rescue with her help and good advice. Her experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proved to be a blessing for me."

Catechism For Canada's Citizens

Interest is Challenged by a Question—Daily Problems for Standard Readers.

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

- 1.—Canada has different sets of rates or tariffs. One of these is called the British Preferential Tariff, and is the set of rates levied on goods coming in to Canada from Great Britain and from certain of her colonies. These are lower than those on the same goods coming from other countries, and since in this way Great Britain and her colonies are given a "preference," the tariff is spoken of as "preferential."
 - 2.—Yes, a tariff may serve another purpose besides that of raising a revenue. Sometimes the object of customs duties is to "protect" the home manufacturer or producer, that is to say, the duties make it impossible for merchants to sell imported goods cheaper than those produced in Canada, and hence the latter are sold.
 - 3.—Practically the only important matter in which Great Britain still claims her right to interfere with Canadian legislation is in the control of merchant shipping. Canada cannot make laws regarding merchant vessels even in her own waters, because the British Parliament has the sole right to control merchant shipping.
 - 4.—Besides the two historic political parties—Conservative and Liberal—there are several small parties or groups. The Labour, Socialist, Nationalist and Farmer groups are the chief of these.
 - 5.—Honorary officers, such as patrons, honorary president, and honorary vice-president, are created by the vote of the society, and hold office subject to the will of the members. They have no vote, as such, unless the ruling of the society permits it. They have no duties and are usually exempt from dues.
 - 6.—The usual procedure of a business meeting of a Society is as follows: 1. Roll Call (if customary); 2. Reading and approval of minutes; 3. Reports of officers; 4. Reports of standing committees; 5. Reports of special committees; 6. Unfinished business; 7. Unfinished business; 8. New business; 9. Notices of motion; 10. Adjournment.
 - Regarding Minutes, those of the last preceding regular meeting, and of any meetings which have been held since, should then be read by the recording secretary. The minutes of one meeting should be approved before the minutes of the next meeting are read.
 - 7.—It is always well to remember that the officers, with the exception of the president, during the meeting of the society have merely the rights of ordinary members.
- Today's Questions.
- 1.—Is it customary for a presiding officer to enter into the debate? Are there any exceptions to this rule?
 - 2.—Are the constitutions of all societies exactly the same?
 - 3.—Why is it necessary to have a Quorum?

Tomorrow Night Is Hallow'en

Strange Customs Associated With Unique Celebration from Days of Romans.

Tomorrow night will be Hallow'en or All Hallow's Eve, and the celebration of this anniversary will be held tonight. It, like many other festivals, is an observance of old tradition, the carrying out of which is left almost entirely to young people. Few pause to think of the origin of many of the customs and symbols used on this the last day of October and their religious significance.

For some time past the shops have been selling novelties in paper and cardboard for the evening. Black and orange are the prevailing colors, and rickety cats and witches scamper over scraps of paper of a brilliant hue, while pumpkins, miniature, or of large size, show weird faces with grinning mouths.

Classic mythology, Druidic beliefs and Christian superstition are joint partners in the mysterious happenings which are believed to occur on Hallow'en. Away back, in the days of the Roman Empire, the Romans had a celebration on November first in honor of Pomona, the goddess of fruits and seeds. It was at this time that the stores laid up during the summer for the lavish use of apples, nuts and pumpkins on Hallow'en.

November first was also the time of the great autumn festival of the Druids. They believed that, on the eve of this festival, a Lord of Death called together the wicked souls that had been condemned to be put in the bodies of animals for punishment during the preceding year. Hence the persistent belief in the gathering of the spirits of the departed on Hallow'en.

TODAY'S TALK

Be A Many-Time Man

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

I was dining with a friend at his club. "Do you see that chap yonder?" he asked me. "Well, I knew him 20 years ago. He is the man who produced one of the greatest musical comedy hits of his day. But he hasn't done a thing worth mentioning since, though he is bubbling with ability."

The world is filled with such "one-time" men—those who let a single success kill them.

I have in mind an actor who scored a tremendous success in a play that everybody was talking about many years ago. But he never rose to set upon an effort that isn't the best that he can do. He also, was a "one-time" man in a "one-time" job.

It never pays to become satisfied. Glory is to the alert! Keep studying, keep thinking, keep trying. Never allow a single sun to set upon an effort that isn't the best that you can do. Take the job up again in the morning. Steer clear of ever becoming a "one-time" man or woman.

Hit while the iron is hot—but keep the iron hot all the time! Never allow a single effort to settle you in a "flowery bed of ease." The most thrilling thing in the world is achievement. Yet not ONE—but many—after the effort. And the greatest achievement of all is to pass and to surpass—yourself!

Be a many-time figure in the world.

Treats Given At Kindergartens

Hallow'en Was Celebrated Yesterday in North and South Ends.

Hallow'en was celebrated in the St. John Free Kindergartens, the rooms being gaily trimmed with suitable decorations, many of them made by the pupils themselves. A treat was given the little ones, who thoroughly appreciated it.

At the North End Kindergarten, where Miss Ross and Miss Edna Colwell are teachers, the pupils of Miss Estey's Kindergarten on Union street were entertained. After going through the circle games, and a march, the children went into another room while a treat provided by the Y. W. P. A. was served.

At the South End there were twenty-five present, the small attendance being due to the rainy weather. Here also the children were treated, and visitors to the school admired the Jack-o'-lantern and other Hallow'en decorations. The Marsh Bridge Kindergarten pupils were also treated, and the day celebrated.

Mrs. A. F. Robinson, supervisor of kindergartens, was a visitor at two of the schools.

When the boys have had their fill of athletic and aquatic sports, they will proceed to the auditorium where a treat of apples and light refreshments will await them. The balance of the evening will be devoted to a sing-song and also musical selections by the Y. M. C. I. artists. All the boys are looking forward to a good time.

MRS. J. M. VIETS DEAD.

Special to The Standard.

Digby, N. S., Oct. 29.—Jane Snow, widow of John M. Viets, for many years collector of customs in Digby, died this afternoon. Mrs. Viets was a daughter of the late Capt. Roberts of Liverpool, and was born in that town. Although she has been ailing for some time, her death was very sudden, as she was only taken seriously ill yesterday. She leaves five sons, Guy, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Westville; Harry, in Brooklyn, N. Y.; Robert, the Dept. of Finance, Ottawa; Alexander and Gerald, both in Toronto, and two daughters, Kathleen, wife of W. E. Tupper, and Caroline, both of Digby.

Increased Interest In Missionary Work

Services at St. Luke's Attended by Large Crowds to Hear Mr. Williston.

Increased attendance and interest marked the last week day of the Missionary Institute at St. Luke's. At the children's service in the afternoon nearly three hundred boys and girls listened to Mr. Williston as he told the story of the Cross just as he tells it to the Chinese boys and girls. In the afternoon a number of boys and girls surrendered their lives to Christ.

The congregation at the evening service was by far the largest of the week. Mr. Williston took for his theme the words of the Gospel, "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."

One of the first difficulties in presenting the Gospel to the Chinese is the fact that Jesus is God for everlasting. In their own minds they can readily understand the idea of man becoming God, but the doctrine of God becoming man for our sake requires the explanation of sending missionaries to these people. In the word seek, we have the method employed by our Lord in His evangelization. He went to the streets, the homes, the market-places, and where ever men were to be found. This is the method of evangelization which is most effective in the Mission Field.

Mr. Williston told of a department store in the city of Shanghai which is operated as the same of the modern department store in Canada. It is owned and managed by two young Chinese Christians who have carried their Christian principles into their business with marked success. Each day, the employees are open to ring in twenty minutes before the time for opening the store. There in a hall provided for the purpose, the employees are gathered together, not to ring in twenty minutes before the time for opening the store, but to sing a hymn, to listen to the Scripture read by one of the partners, and to join in prayer that they will keep them free from the temptations which are common to so many of the bustling men in China. The books of the company are open to all who may care to see them and among the books to be found on the debit side, all the contributions to Christian work in the city of Shanghai.

It was while he was attending high school in Boston and hoping that he might go to college that he first began to give "gift" portraits and he with Harry Lanigan, an amateur theatricals. Later when he found that college was out of his reach he accepted an offer from a New York manager and introduced his "perfect ladies" into vaudeville.

He was possessed of a natural justice against such imperfections, common as they are on the stage, and just after Shakespeare's day, he tried to impart to his maidens fair a wholesome, ingenious refinement that made them devoid of aesthetic shocks. He own pronounced success abroad in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. He also appeared with George Cohen in Cohen and Harris' minstrels and with Harry Lanigan and "The Crispoline Girl," and "Cousin Lucy."

In pictures he appeared in "Over the Rhine," "Cottontail Charming," "The Widow's Tears," "The Widow's Might," and others.

His full name, by the way, is Julian Dalton Ellingie, and they say that he is not the least bit effeminate of stage. He is, as a matter of fact, something of an athlete.

Ambulance Society Plans Winter Work

A meeting of the St. John Ambulance Society was held in the Natural History Society's building on Thursday night to perfect plans for the holding of a Ladies' First Aid Class during the coming winter. Some eighteen persons were present. Col. Murray MacLaren, provincial president was in the chair.

It was decided to hold the class every Thursday evening at 7:30 in the N. H. S. building. Jack Redfern, sergeant-major and instructor with the Canadian troops on First Aid work will conduct the classes and it to be assisted by Mrs. Mowry, who is also an expert in First Aid work.

A course on home cooking is to follow the first aid lectures. Each course to consist of five lectures. Dr. Skinner, the local president of the association, and Dr. Stanley Bridges, the local secretary, were present at the meeting.

Sergeant-Major Redfern is an instructor of marked ability. A class of his pupils were winners in a competition open to all the troops in Canada during the war.

IS BLUE BEDROOM A POSSIBILITY?

Cerlean Walls and Moonlight Pictures Make An Attractive Color Scheme.

(By F. E. R. in The Daily Mail.)

Many self-opinionated psychologists and pseudo-psychologists have claimed it to be the world for the past ten years that to use blue for house decoration is to invite merriment and melancholia. I can only say, for myself, that some of their own orange and vermilion efforts have driven me to frenzy in the course of half an hour's visit. What would have happened if I tried to live in their rooms I dare not conjecture.

The condemnation of a blue general color scheme as a mistake for all colors because one has once been near a lampriser. There are blues that are quite impossible, but as one can select from about thirty shades of blue for house decoration there is no reason to ban the lot.

A very famous artist-decorator has recently completed a blue room in a London house that is as warm as cheering, and as attractive a nook as I have ever seen. The walls are painted, the tone being a cerulean blue just tinged with grey; a summer sky flecked with faint cloud gives the best idea of it.

"The lining is not whitewashed; it is blue washed, a faint tinge of blue only, but just enough to carry on the

Women Smokers Take To The Pipe

Especially Dainty Briars Being Made for Those Who Adopt Custom.

London, Oct. 24.—Another stronghold sacred to men has fallen before the advance of modern woman—the briar pipe.

For some time past the Continent has accepted the coming of the pipe for women. The new fashion has now reached this country, and pipes of dainty appearance, graceful outline, and elegant proportion are now being made by experts in the West End of London.

These pipes have tiny bowls, some of which are shaped like an egg or bell and hold about the amount of a dainty cigarette. Some of the pipes are made of a special kind of mild tobacco which contains in a couple of cigarettes the same amount of nicotine as a pipe of the same size. Some of the women smokers like them with a plain gold band for mounting, while others favor a dainty circle of jewels round the stem. They are about six inches long and weigh only a quarter of an ounce.

"We have on the average five new customers a week," said a member of a firm which is specializing in this work, "and there are many hundreds of women pipe-smokers in England. We are taking to the briar is because they like to be companionable with their husbands, and they want to join him in a pipe in the evening. They find that it costs less than cigarette smoking. Some of our customers are but twenty years old, while others are as much as fifty."

There are half a dozen pictures or so on the walls, all of moonlight scenes, thus continuing the blue note, warmed by the glow of the moonlight, which is repeated again in the narrow gold frame. The carpet is of a deep doll blue, the furniture is painted in blue, picked with gold.

So far the scheme has nothing strikingly original in it, though the selection of the blues is clever enough to pass for original. It is in the hangings that the innovator shows. All the curtains are of a delicate rose shade. The few cushions are covered in the same material, and one of the chairs is upholstered in it.

AS STORM CLOUDS GATHER

The International Sunday School Lesson for October 31 is "New Dawn The Corrupt Tree—World's Temperance Sunday."—Matt 7:13-25.

A distinguished newspaper editor sat on the corner of the table, his legs swinging and his face bent over...

is explained by the simple fact I have stated. Even the most charitable inclined person knows that no man can properly grow rich by preaching the Gospel; the situation is an anomaly, a contradiction in nature.

That is putting a finger on the centre of things. Our ears are deafened with jangling voices, clashing opinions, confusion of philosophies. There never before were so many speakers and writers telling people what to do...

Such one appears in today's Lesson. When Jesus had concluded His discourse upon the principles of the Kingdom of Heaven...

That same Authority is the One available and adequate Leader for our groping, bewildered world. The wise Christ who has outlasted all the ages; the sure Christ of the fearless brow; the understanding Christ of our groping, bewildered world.

"In every land a constant lamp flames by His small and mighty camp. That is not strange and distant place. That is not gladdened by His face."

"Clattered beside the shouting street, silent, He came to His rest. And through my lips that uttered sin The King of Glory entered in."

A Brave Man's Warning. Sentimentalists and mollicoddlies have usurped the leadership of Jesus in His church. The predominant religious teaching of the day is "soft and unreal."

"Beware of the false teachers—men who come to you in sheep's fleeces, but beneath that disguise they are ravenous wolves."

"Not every one who says to me, Master, Master, will enter the Kingdom of Heaven; but only those who are obedient to My Father who is in Heaven."

"Master, Master, have we not prophesied in Thy name, and in Thy name cast out devils, and in Thy name performed many mighty works?"

Prophets For Revenge Only. One reason why so many leaders are halting and flustered is that they are after something for themselves.

George Richardson, Veteran Hunter and Trapper, Had Exciting Time.

Special to The Standard. Sussex, N. B., Oct. 29.—Bears, apparently increasing in numbers in Kings' County, and as they grow numerous are becoming more of a menace to sheep and young cattle.

Mr. Richardson reset his trap and returning in a day or two found it had again been carried away. He followed the tracks for nearly a day but was not successful in locating his bearship.

SMUGGLERS USE ARMORED CARS ON THE FRENCH BORDER

Use "Tanks" to Get Goods Across from Belgium—Nightly Battles.

(Copyright, London Daily Mail; Gros Atlantic.)

Paris, Oct. 29.—Desperate smugglers in armored motor-cars and armed with automatic pistols, rifles, and hand grenades are making the work of the Customs guards on the Franco-Belgian frontier very difficult. These cars are laden with tobacco, spirits, lace, saccharin and other highly dutiable articles which can be obtained cheaply in Belgium and have ready sale in the populous regions in the north of France.

Reorganized since the war, the Customs guards have captured some of the cars, but have not arrested any leading members of the gangs. The smugglers first send scouts on motor-cycles ahead of the expedition. They see if the way is clear, and, if there are no awkward barriers to cross, signal back the signal and the motor-cars dash over.

At Bailieux the Customs men had a running fight with the crew of one of these cars. The smugglers threw burning cans of petrol into the road behind them to try to stop their pursuers. The frontier guards, however, shot and killed the smugglers on the driving seat. The other members of the gang escaped across the country. The car contained three tons of tobacco.

Another car, in which were six men armed with rifles, broke across the frontier at Valenciennes through the guards amid a hail of bullets. A short distance along the road another detachment of Customs men had been warned by telephone and set up a barrier of barbed wire. The car dashed into this, but owing to the fact that its front axle carried powerful wire-cutting blades, it got clear. A chance shot from one of the guards, however, penetrated its petrol tank and it was found abandoned and burning a couple of miles away. The smugglers escaped.

OFFERS ORIGINAL "SERPENT'S TONGUE"

Sir William Watson Will Auction Manuscript of Poem That Created Furore.

London, England, Oct. 29.—The storm which has raged about "Margot's Memoirs" will get added filippic with the announcement that Sir William Watson is prepared to sell to the highest bidder the original manuscript of his poem "The Woman With The Serpent's Tongue." This poem was published in 1909, and then it was generally assumed that it had been inspired by Mrs. Herbert H. Asquith, then presiding at 10 Downing Street, and Sir William has never denied the report. In a manner to silence effectively persons who connected her with such lines as: "The poisoned words that wildly and fly"

"Who slights the worthiest in the land, Sneers at the just, contends the brave And blackens goodness in its grave."

Sir William to-day refused to discuss the genesis of the poem, but in reply to a telegram addressed to him at his country home at Windermere, where he is staying until Christmas, admitted that the manuscript was for sale to the highest bidder. He said it was written on ordinary copy paper in his own handwriting and that it is in thirty lines, with all the emendations and corrections which as it went to the printer.

Mrs. Asquith Inspiration Irrespective of the author's silence regarding the inspiration of the poem, reports that Mrs. Asquith was this inspiration cannot help but be recalled in the face of the aptness of many of the lines to the present criticism of her published memoirs.

The Sunday Times, which published the memoirs serially here, cut out many offensive paragraphs which London has now learned were included in the version as published in America. One of the things seized on was the frank discussion of the physical unpleasantness of having Robert Louis Stevenson at her house when he was suffering from tuberculosis and the description of the unpleasant details regarding his manner and his disease. Scots who know Stevenson have been busy all this week writing to the Sunday Times that it was a gross libel of the writer's memory. At the time the poem was first published Mrs. Asquith was both shocking and charming London, with the gaiety of her entertainments in her official residence and the fight-ness on her part at entertainments elsewhere.

There have just been published the gossip letters of one of her men contemporaries in that circle called "The Scots," in which he describes the "first lady in the land" dropping her skirt and dancing in her petticoats a pas seul before a dinner party.

ARMY OF OCCUPATION IS POPULAR BRANCH

Young Men of United States Anxious to Serve in Germany.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.) Washington, Oct. 2.—Recruits for the most popular branch of the American army—the army of occupation—will be accepted again beginning November 1, it was announced today by the War Department. Two hundred men are wanted for duty along the Rhine, of whom 12 must be clerks. Three hundred and ten men who were wanted for this service on October 1 were recruited in less than a week.

"The service in Germany has proved to be so attractive that the ranks there are always filled," said Major General P. G. Haris, adjutant general. Our chief difficulty is that regiments are apt to be over-enlisted before we can stop the recruiting officers from accepting more applicants, and we must send such men to the station for which they were accepted."

ATLANTIC SUGAR MAY MERGE WITH DOMINION MILLS

Rumor Persists in Montreal That Two Great Mills Are Likely to Unite.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—The rumor persists on the street that an amalgamation is on the tapis between Atlantic Sugar and Dominion Mills. As may be known Atlantic manufactures cane sugar in the east while Dominion makes a beet sugar in Western Ontario, so that the deal would have its advantages from more than one standpoint. Doubt is thrown upon the story in some quarters, but in good quarters on the street the rumor is credited.

SIXTY THOUSAND GALLONS PER HOUR FROM OIL GUSHER

Fort Norman District Thought to be Scene of Great Industrial Future.

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 29.—One thousand gallons a minute is the production of the first well brought in in the Fort Norman district and the Imperial Oil Company is preparing to punch a district 200 miles in width and nobody knows how long, full of holes for wells. That these will all be producers is the word brought down from that district by Alf Patrick who drilled the first well which has excited so much curiosity in the oil world.

On Mackenzie River
The location of this first well is on the bank of the Mackenzie River, and speaking of the possibilities of getting the oil out of the country, Mr. Patrick is of the opinion that the Northern route will be the more feasible, although there are difficulties in the way in that direction in the way of rapids in the Behring Straits, and also the fact that the river is open for only a few months of the year.

Dredging and ice breakers might even overcome these obstacles. In his opinion should the field develop as he anticipates, it will warrant such procedure.

WOOL MARKET IS GAINING STRENGTH

Canadian wools showed more activity during the past week, especially for the lower grades. Considerable inquiries are being made for Western bright quarter and prices quoted are 29 cents to 30 cents. Sales of semi-bright and dark low quarter were made at 19 cents to 20 cents while steady and soft cotts were moving at 18 1/2 cents and 19 cents. Many of the mills are still running on 'full orders and there is a strong inclination to clean up all stocks on hand before buying further supplies of wool, hoping that in the meantime wool prices will have reached a more permanent level of values.

PLANETS CAUSING LONGER SUMMERS

Youngstown, Ohio, Oct. 29.—old mother earth may be in one of those glacial epochs, says the astronomer, who is seriously mentioned as a possibility by John H. Chase, a city, whose articles on astronomy gained wide attention. Mr. Chase is supervisor of playgrounds in Youngstown, and who after graduation from college has spent his studies in astronomy, and almost exclusively in the present autumn as a probability of the rare alignment undergone by certain planets in his theory in this respect is he regards the phenomenon of a runner of a glacial slide, which only would wipe out Australia, part of Africa's surface and marked change in the climate continent.

"It is possible we are experiencing the first effect of the remarkable alignment which occurred on the subject.

If you recall the planets Uranus, Mars and Saturn were direct line with the earth for the first time in many centuries, it is a possibility that the earth was certainly to effect the earth in the way of less and lessening the ellipse.

"It that occurred we could longer summers in the northern hemisphere, and more in than this is the likelihood of ever may form, covering all the part of Africa.

"Just such a fascinating angle of the earth's orbit that years ago caused a glacier over North America as far as Louisiana, twenty miles a year.

This may not be the exact but it is a possibility based on known to have happened once before in the world's history.

The Art Club Studio in the Reformed Presbyterian church, was entered on Thursday night and all the drawers and cupboards ransacked, but the operator cannot find that any property is missing. The rooms were entered by some person who forced the gate of the adjoining garden of the Misses Patton, and broke through the side of a shed formerly used for fuel, broke a door panel, into splinters and drew a bolt obtained access to the vestibule. The door into the studio being unlocked, they went all over. Muddy footprints indicated a small man, or a boy as the culprit. Even the opossum, about one hundred, in the kitchen cupboard were set out, but not taken. The streets in that neighborhood are very quiet, and police do not often visit, as churches are supposed to be immune. A bottle with some grape-juice was left in the vestibule.

The Old Country Club held its semi-monthly meeting last night in the Orange Hall, and the attendance was a particularly large one, over one hundred and fifty people being present. Herbert Dickinson, vice-president of the club, presided in the temporary absence of the president, Walter Brindle. After the minutes of the last meeting had been read, the suggestion was put forward that dramatic and soccer football teams should be organized, but no definite decision in the matter was reached. It was decided, however, to hold a box social on Nov. 16th, at which boxes will be auctioned, and the proceeds will be credited to the club's exchequer.

Fake Prospects. F. E. Sharpe, provincial superintendent of Immigration, after being introduced by the chairman, spoke on the building up of the Maritime Provinces and stated that there had been many fictitious advertisements regarding prospects in the West for British settlers. Mr. Sharpe pointed out that some times their hopes were blighted for the reason that the available farms were many scores of miles distant from railway stations, and many had consequently returned to Old Country, which action was detrimental to the interests of immigration. The speaker also mentioned that the Farm Settlement Board had made all necessary preparation for incoming prospectors to New Brunswick, and provision had also been effected in the way of lands and farms in this province, whereby the settlers would not have to pay the full amount of the purchase price at once, but on the other hand were given lengthy periods in which to make payment.

Assistance For All. Mr. Sharpe also declared that great assistance would be given by the Farm Settlement Board in selecting suitable farms for applicants seeking new homes in the province, and that many of the British born, who had bought farms out west, had found, in many instances, that their produce was unmarketable, owing to the long distances it had to be conveyed. He also stated that quite often for one good season in the western provinces there were usually two or three bad ones which followed, and more than counteracted the good results. In concluding, the speaker said that he hoped that the good feeling which was a dominating factor of the club would in time become the sentiment of every citizen in the British Empire.

The president, Walter Brindle, who, owing to an important engagement, was unable to open the meeting, cordially thanked Mr. Sharpe for his remarks and briefly referred to the advantages of the society which had already been made apparent by its ability to place several cases in positions after all other efforts had failed. During the course of the evening local solos were rendered by J. Rossiey, Mrs. E. Smith, F. Shields, Herbert Dickinson, E. F. Fiedle, and on each occasion Mrs. B. Smith acted as accompanist.

Valuable Fossils To Natural History Soc.

Rare Species of Crab and Giant Sea Urchins Now Among Collection. A valuable donation of fossils, a very rare species of crab, and two giant sea urchins were received by the Natural History Society yesterday from Ira E. Cornwall, of Williams Head, Victoria, B. C.

The donation has a particular interest for geologists, and especially for paleontologists. With the exception of one specimen of a leaf impression, the fossils are all shell formations. They are of a class but recently discovered, and for that reason, much prized by scientists. Very few museums have been able to acquire the fossils, and the Natural History Society may be congratulated for its acquisition by being donated such splendid specimens. Mr. Cornwall, the donor, is a brother of Mrs. Brown, wife of Dr. Chester P. Brown, port physician, Partridge Island. He was formerly a prominent citizen of this city, and at one time secretary of the St. John Exhibition Society, while in St. John, was always actively identified with any movement that had for its object the betterment of the community. He is to be congratulated on his attachment to his old home town, which he evidently has not forgotten, though absent from it for a number of years, and living at a considerable distance from St. John, Cornwall is himself a naturalist of some note, and an enthusiastic student of all natural phenomena.

Merchant Tailor Is Interviewed

A. R. Campbell Gives Some Sound Reasons Why There Will be No Decrease. "Despite any occasional rumor to the contrary, we cannot see how there can possibly be any reduction in our lines, and the quotations for next spring are higher than those now prevailing," stated A. R. Campbell, of A. R. Campbell & Son, merchant tailors, when interviewed in the master yesterday afternoon. "It is an admitted fact that the chief item in determining the price of goods in our business is the cost of labor, and owing to the scale of wages now in force any temporary reduction in the price of wool does not affect the cost of the article to any perceptible extent."

Condition of Market. "What is the real condition of the market today in respect to wool?" the reporter asked him. "The situation in regard to wool today," Mr. Campbell answered, "is that more than two hundred millions of people in Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Greece, Bulgaria, Serbia, Roumania and the principal cities of Turkey and Russia, have practically exhausted their stocks of wool and manufacturers of wool. The woolen industry in these countries is totally disorganized, and in some cases, he doubt on account of the scarcity or total lack of raw material, the machinery has been dismantled and the metal used for other purposes. This information I have obtained from various sources, and I may also state that about three hundred and fifty millions of people in North and South America, Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Portugal and other countries are carrying less than one-half of the stocks of manufacturers of wool which they normally carried in 1914."

Sad Fatality Occurs At Lime Hill Siding

Laborer Knocked Down and Run Over by Freight Train No. 811. A particularly sad fatality occurred last night in the vicinity of the Lime Hill siding, at Lessor Lake, on the St. John to Moncton line, when Fred Fisher, of Halifax, aged twenty-six years, was killed by freight train No. 811. It appears that the man, accompanied by his brother-in-law, J. W. A. Bower, was on his way to St. John in search of work. According to reports he became confused by the sounding of trains, and was knocked down by the engine of the freight train one of the cars passing over his abdomen partly severing him. Brought to City.

After permission had been obtained from the coroner, the body was brought to St. John last night on the suburban train and placed in Brennan's undertaking parlors. The deceased man leaves a widow and two children aged two years and fourteen months respectively, and word of the accident had been conveyed to the wife by wire. An inquest will likely be held today.
