

COUNTY RESIDENTS WILL SEEK JAIL PROBE

Herbert Wilson Escapes Jail At Los Angeles

SHOOT DOWN 2 GUARDS BARRING WAY TO LIBERTY

Makes Sensational Getaway From Prison With Two Desperate Companions.

POLICE SCOUR COUNTRY

Believe Powerful Criminal Friends Have Aided Prisoners to Disappear.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 17.—Shooting down two guards who barred their way, Herbert Wilson, former evangelist of London, Canada, convicted of first degree murder, and two companions escaped from the Alameda county jail here today.

After first shooting the gate-man at the jail, Wilson turned and shot one of the turnkeys, appropriated his keys, and opening the doors, fled to liberty. Two other prisoners accompanied him, both considered equally "hard" men, Adam Ward, convicted murderer, and Fred Spagnoli, alleged bank bandit. It is believed that a third man also escaped.

Wilson had been convicted of shooting his pal, Herbert R. Cox of Detroit, during an attempted "get-away" in April last.

Gaining the outside of the jail grounds, the trio held up a post-office employee, using his automobile to effect a complete disappearance.

The jail break was carefully timed for seven a.m. when the guards were being taken from the guard house. The shifts were changing. Henry Purrier, night turnkey, was also badly beaten. It is thought the revolver was smuggled into the prison.

Federal, state and city police are scouring Los Angeles and neighboring country for the men. They have disappeared as from off the face of the earth. It is known that they have many powerful friends and associates among the "master" criminals of the Pacific Coast.

For several years Herbert Wilson was in charge of the City Mission, at London, Ontario. He left the city in 1914, proceeding, it is claimed, to the Pacific Coast.

One of the most daring jail breaks in the annals of California crime, the attempted "getaway" of April 9 last, was only eclipsed today.

Herbert Wilson was first held on a charge of robbing the United States mails of more than $1,000,000 on the night of March 3, 1921.

He was considered the "brains" of a gang of "master" crooks, which included, federal authorities alleged, his brother Lewis, Herbert R. Cox, and two others who subsequently escaped.

On April 9 last Wilson, Cox and a third prisoner, Eddie O'Brien, arrested in connection with a mail robbery at Toledo, Ohio, also in 1921, had made a successful "getaway" from the jail proper, and were stealthily making their way across the "Bridge of Sighs," a passageway leading to the hall of justice, when deputy sheriffs closed in on them, hopelessly.

Cut One Cent a Gallon Off Price of Gasoline in Toronto

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Gasoline prices in Toronto have taken another drop. Dealers in the city dropped the price wholesale to 32 cents yesterday, a decrease of one cent a gallon. The retail price today is 36 cents at most of the service stations.

This is the second drop in price within two weeks. On October 11 the gas price was cut 1 cent a gallon.

"This has no direct relation to the drop in New York prices yesterday," said an official of the Imperial Oil Company. "It is indicative of a general softening of prices all over."

FIGHT TO KEEP LIQUOR ON SHIPS

Companies Take Appeal Against Daugherty's Ruling to U. S. Court.

Brilliant Array of Lawyers to Wage War Involving Millions.

New York, Oct. 17.—Wet and dry forces face each other today before Federal Judge Learned Hand in the first pitched battle between United States federal prohibition enforcement authorities and foreign and United States steamship lines over the validity of Attorney General Daugherty's liquor ruling.

The calendar of Judge Hand's court was cleared for the hearings of temporary injunctions returnable today enforcement of federal authorities from putting into effect the ruling forbidding United States and foreign ships leaving port after Oct. 21, from carrying liquor under seal to or out of U. S. ports.

A distinguished array of counsel was engaged to represent the federal prohibition authorities and the Cunard, Anchor, White Star, French, Holland American, American, Red Star and United American lines, and the International Navigation Company.

Millions of dollars in property, trade rights and goodwill are said to be at stake, while counsel for foreign lines have claimed that infringement of treaties between United States and foreign countries and violation of foreign laws are points involved.

CLAIMS SURPLUS IN CITY WATERWORKS

Officials Believe 1922 Will Possibly Eclipse Record of 1921.

The London waterworks department of the public utilities department will finish 1922 with a substantial surplus, it was predicted by city officials Tuesday.

Just what the figures will be at this moment, however, is somewhat difficult to determine precisely, but it is firmly believed that the sum will certainly be gratifying to the officials of the department and to the general public as well.

This announcement will be particularly reassuring at this time, and it is calculated that the record of 1921 will be easily maintained, if not eclipsed.

As last year, it is thought, at this time, that a considerable portion of this amount will be devoted toward the purchase and installation of new meters and similar equipment, essential for the work. These expenditures are to be considered, however, more in the light of an investment than otherwise.

London's public utilities are certainly in a flourishing condition this year, the officials maintain.

ASK THEATRE IN QUEBEC TO PLAY FRENCH DRAMA

Montreal, Oct. 17.—Encouragement of the French drama by the provincial government to the extent of subsidizing or building a theatre in Montreal which would educate the people in the works of Moliere, Corneille and Racine, was the request which a delegation laid before Premier Taschereau on his visit to Montreal yesterday.

SENT TO JAIL FOR ASSAULT. Halifax, Oct. 17.—Louis Finestone, Ferguson avenue north, was sent to jail for one month by Magistrate Jeffs for indecently assaulting several girl pupils of Victoria avenue school. The magistrate said imprisonment was the only adequate punishment for such offences. Finestone is a young married man.

Many Eminent Surgeons Visit London For Convention

CUNNINGHAM SCORES OPPONENTS OF TUBERCULAR CATTLE TEST

Points Out Government Report Shows Out of 108 Animals Slaughtered in London District 101 Were Definitely Infected.

Scoring the critics of the federal government tubercular test for cattle, Ald. Dr. O. I. Cunningham, a member of the board of health, reiterated Tuesday the determination of that body to stand behind the city council's move in this respect.

In a public statement, Dr. Cunningham, 8-ham divulges facts and figures, which he contends most emphatically to be correct, declaring that certain of them has just been furnished for the first time by the officials at Ottawa.

"A certain milk dealer has written to The Advertiser disputing my previous figures relative to the slaughter of infected cattle," Ald. Cunningham declared Tuesday. "I have the statement, as made by the federal authorities. One hundred and eight head of cattle were slaughtered in the London district."

"Of this number, 101 showed definite traces of tuberculosis. The other seven were in the incubative stage. The disease had not progressed sufficiently to reveal definite traces on any one organ. Of the entire number eight were unfit for human consumption, as I have already claimed."

"This first test is known as the inter-dermal (between the skin), and is used by the United States and Canadian governments as the most satisfactory preliminary tubercular test. I maintain that these authorities would not employ this test if it were not considered adequate."

"This is not the only test, however, as 60 days later they undertake the sub-cutaneous test. If deemed imperative a third test is made as all cattle do not react toward the same test. Thus it can be readily understood that no cow is passed as tubercular free until after several tests."

Never Been Passed. Touching upon an incident of the last week-end referred to Monday by Mayor Cameron Wilson, whereby it was claimed a certain cow, which died after being proclaimed fit and was subsequently discovered to be overcome with tuberculosis, Dr. Cunningham asserts that this animal had never been passed as tubercular-free by the government officials.

"Only one test was undertaken and the cow would have revealed traces of tuberculosis on the second test, more than likely," he explains. "Soon or later the inspectors would have been passed as tubercular-free by the government officials."

Members of the city council, who two weeks ago passed unanimously the bylaw compelling the issuance of two types of milk licenses, Class A for tubercular-free milk and Class B for milk not tested, still express readiness to stand behind their action and the board of health.

As an instance Ald. Dr. Leonard Douglas declared Tuesday that he still favored the test of cattle, with the added provision that the cost should not become a burden upon the public.

RAILMEN REFUSE 2-CENT WAGE RAISE

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17.—The United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-way employees and railroad shop laborers will not accept the two cents an hour wage increase announced by the labor board Saturday without a protest, according to Frank Finnson, spokesman for the brotherhood's convention, now in session here. A new request for an increase of at least ten cents an hour is being drafted by the convention, Finnson said last night.

CRUMLIN PARISH held a mass meeting Monday night in aid of their fund for re-shingling the church roof. Rev. A. L. Beverley of St. Mark's Church, London, addressed the meeting.

Fire Destroys Dirigible Which Flew Across Continent

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 17.—The United States army dirigible C-2, which recently completed a transcontinental flight and had reached San Antonio on its way back to Washington, took fire this morning while being taken from its hangar at Brook's Field, preparatory to a flight over the city.

Several members of the crew were hurt, one seriously. The dirigible was destroyed. It caught fire on the framework of the hangar as it was being taken out. The bag split, and the gas ignited. In the car of the dirigible at the time were members of the crew and several passengers.

OTTAWA OFFICIALS TO SUPPORT TEST

It is definitely assured that the federal authorities will not favor any change in the present tubercular test for cattle.

That this fact will be impressed upon the members of the board of health in regular session Tuesday night by representatives of the Ottawa department, was the announcement by local health authorities at the city hall Tuesday morning. Dr. Hall, of Ottawa, chief inspector for the district, is expected to be in attendance.

The latter state that the Ottawa experts have already informed certain members of the health board that in their opinion the test is adequate and sufficiently scientific for the purpose, despite the opposition vigorously registered in certain quarters.

In view of this attitude the local officials state emphatically that there can be no change of any sweeping nature ordered by Ottawa, and that the test must proceed in the same manner as previously, if at all.

From present indications this means the termination of the controversy that has waged for several days locally following Mayor Wilson's stand against the test, when he attended a public mass meeting of milk dealers who had voiced a protest.

In the meanwhile the test is still being undertaken in the district, and herds are being inspected for possible traces of tuberculosis daily.

Those who gave clinics to the many visitors included Dr. Alex. Primrose and Herbert Bruce of Toronto; Dr. Leonard Rowntree of Rochester, Minn., a former Londoner, and Dr. Hadley Williams, E. Hodgins, A. J. Grant, E. Seaborn and Septimus Thompson of London. Luncheon in the War Memorial Sick Children's Hospital, with the hospital trust as host, followed the clinics.

Through the action of Hon. R. Grant, minister of education, Ontario, a splendid school hygiene exhibit, including posters and types of meals most favorable for nutrition of growing children, has been forwarded to London, and is on view at the Memorial Hospital for Sick Children. This exhibit, which is in charge of Miss Laidlaw of the school domestic science department, was arranged by Dr. J. P. Fair, chief inspector of public schools in Ontario.

The exhibits at the Children's Hospital will be on display to the public of London and district Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m.

WINSTON CHURCHILL ILL WITH ACUTE GASTRITIS

London, Oct. 17.—Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies, who was taken ill yesterday, was somewhat better today. The colonial secretary took to his bed yesterday with an attack by a motor car driven by George of acute gastritis.

HAS MONEY FOR NEW CITY HALL

Treasurer Shows No Need for Debentures If Erection Decided On.

Question Will Again Be Submitted to Ratepayers for Approval.

Should the citizens of London at the next civic election decide that 1923 is the ideal time for the construction of a new city hall, there will be no need to appeal to them for the approval of further debenture issues. City Treasurer James Bell explained Tuesday.

For the benefit of the ratepayers who will be asked to again express their approval of this proposal, the city treasurer reviews briefly the city hall issue of the past few years.

The sum of $100,000 was obtained from the sale of the old Richmond street building and site.

Then upon two subsequent occasions the citizens sanctioned the issuance of debentures aggregating $325,000.

Of these sums, totalling $425,000, between $60,000 and $70,000 was expended on the present site and buildings, while $265,017.73 was spent on the federal square.

The city treasurer points out that should the electors agree with the proposed sale of the federal square and the construction of a new office on the present site, there will be approximately $350,000 now available for the purpose.

It is fully believed by the mayor and councilors that this sum will be sufficient for the contemplated undertaking. In any event they do not propose at this time to ask for further assistance.

RECORDS SHOW 21,827 LONDONERS ABLE TO VOTE

Londoners to the number of 21,827 are entitled to vote at municipal elections, according to a complete detailed statement announced Tuesday by City Clerk Sam Baker. While this is an increase of 1,366, it is not as great as was anticipated.

The votes, compiled in wards, are as follows, revealing the increase over 1921:

Ward	Men	Women	Total
Ward 1	4273	1385	5658
Ward 2	2829	1009	3838
Ward 3	4757	1449	6206
Ward 4	4449	1676	6125
Totals	16308	5519	21827
1921	15046	5055	20101
Increase	902	464	1366

A second division of the vote is as follows:

Starts War on Smuggling of Wearing Apparel at Frontiers

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—A special squad of customs officers has started operations along the Windsor-Niagara-Sarnia frontier to watch attempts at smuggling wearing apparel, raw silks, and other textiles, according to Hon. Jacques Bureau, federal minister of customs, who is in Toronto today.

This action follows statements made by prominent manufacturers that textiles to the value of a million dollars annually were being smuggled onto today.

SEEK MINIMUM FOR PREACHERS

London Presbytery Moves to Secure $1,800 Stipend in All Churches.

Committee Instructed to Lay Matter Before Congregations Paying Less.

Moving toward the enforcement of the General Assembly regulation of the $1,800 minimum stipend, the London Presbytery, at its regular meeting in the First Presbyterian Church, Tuesday morning, empowered its home missions committee to visit all congregations within its bounds, which are not already paying the new minimum, with a view to laying the situation before them and urging, where possible, that the minister's salary be raised to the required amount.

Although there were none in the presbytery who felt that $1,800 was any more than a fair and adequate amount for the support and education of their families, there were several who felt that the present was not an opportune time for pressing the question, and stood ready to consider the welfare of their congregations in preference to the new minimum.

"We are dealing with a matter of grave importance," Rev. Dr. William Beattie said, "and there are ministers who rather than stir up trouble with their congregations would rather do with the old minimum, in spite of the feeling that they really needed a higher stipend. Are we prepared to enforce regulations which were protested against by ministers who were more interested in the spiritual welfare of their congregations than over their own pockets?"

Holds Same View. Holding the same view, Rev. Mr. Geddes of Alisa Craig said: "The furthest we can go is to say that the market is so tight that they cannot get loans, and for that reason, I believe it would be a grave mistake to insist on the new minimum."

LOOK FOR CUT IN FORD CAR PRICES

Windsor, Oct. 17.—The cut in prices of Ford cars in the U. S., announced today, will be followed by price reductions on the part of the Ford Company of Canada. The management of the Canadian company expect to announce their new prices on the various types of Ford cars later this afternoon.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17.—The Ford Motor Company today announced a cut of fifty dollars in the price of all passenger cars, establishing record prices. No change has been made in the price of Ford trucks. Hereafter five-passenger touring cars will list for $298; roadster, $269; sedan, $235; coupe $330 and sedan $355.

The price of the self-starter remains at $70 and demountable rims are unchanged at $25.

CHARGE DAWSON MADE POSITIONS INSUFFERABLE

Former Night Turnkey Claims Lengthening of Hours Forced Resignation.

ALLEGED MISMANAGEMENT

Will Ask Raney to Investigate Governor's System of Hiring Help.

County ratepayers have instituted steps toward an investigation into the whole conduct of affairs at the county jail since Governor Byron Dawson was appointed, and particularly into the question of conditions under which some of the officials under Governor Dawson's control were engaged.

Apparently Dissatisfied. Last week, Night Turnkey John Burdon and Mrs. Fred Last, matron, resigned. Little information as to the cause of their quitting was given out at the governor's office, excepting a general statement that they were "apparently dissatisfied."

"Conditions became unbearable," Turnkey Burdon stated. "When I started I was allowed two nights a month off. Then I was cut down to one night a month. I worked about ten and a half hours a night at first, and later I had to work eleven and a half hours a night. At the time I resigned I was working an average of 345 hours. I simply had to quit."

Conditions for Mrs. Last, the matron, were also described as "unbearable" by those who are pressing for the investigation.

Aid of County Crown Attorney J. C. Elliott and Attorney-General W. Z. Raney will be sought in the matter.

Disclosures Promised. Other startling disclosures are promised when the evidence, which several prominent Middlesex men claim they have at their finger tips, is brought out.

Governor Dawson, of whose management of the jail this group of county men is asking a probe, has held office several months, succeeding Governor James Carter, who held down the post in an efficient manner for fourteen years, and who resigned last fall. Dawson was appointed on the recommendation of Sheriff Donald A. Graham, who also was appointed to office at the first of the year.

Mrs. Last, the former matron, who had been living in the matron's quarters from which Miss Minnie Harris, assistant matron was evicted last May by Sheriff Graham, has left the premises since her resignation. Her husband, Turnkey Fred Last, had also been residing there. Their household effects are still at the jail. A matron has not been appointed yet to succeed Mrs. Last, the officials declaring there is no need for haste in this matter, as there is only one female prisoner in the county jail at the present time.

James Gumb, who has been acting as relief man at the jail, was appointed to take Night Turnkey Burdon's place temporarily.

DELAY OCCURS IN BRITISH EMPIRE STEEL SITUATION

Officials Declare No Serious Hitch Attached To Proceedings.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—There was no announcement forthcoming yesterday regarding negotiations in the British Empire Steel situation, but it is understood that the delay is not significant of any serious hitch.

Principals in the deal involving proposed changes in the corporation and the new financing upon which the public and the financial community seems to be depending for the placing of this great industrial enterprise upon an economic and confidence-inspiring footing, are in Montreal today.

It is understood that there remains but one step to complete negotiations satisfactorily, the financing having been arranged for and other important arrangements having been completed.

REDS THREATEN VLADIVOSTOK CITY

Tokio, Oct. 16.—Special dispatches from Vladivostok report that city in imminent danger of invasion by Soviet troops. Members of the Vladivostok "White" government have boarded a steamer ready to depart. General Dietrichs, commander of the "White" army, is reported to have retreated to the Russo-Chinese border.

BELIEVE BRITISH TORY MEETING PREDICTS CRISIS

Parties Speculate on Possible Truce Being Patched Up.

LOOK FOR DISSOLUTION

Insurance Companies Offer Odds of 2 to 1 in Favor of Election in 1922.

London, England, Oct. 17.—(Associated Press).—The meeting of the Unionists, called for Thursday at the Carlton Club, will be of great importance as it is almost certain to bring the political crisis to a head. Until its decision, whether to break up the coalition or stand by Prime Minister Lloyd George is known, the situation is not expected to develop materially in any direction.

The attendance at the meeting is to be confined to the Unionist members of the House of Commons and the Unionist peers who are members of the government. Thus it will not be representative of the entire party.

Party Leadership Vacant. The explanation of this arrangement is that, when Austen Chamberlain was elected in March, 1921, to lead the Unionists in the commons in succession to Andrew Bonar Law, he was not chosen to succeed the latter as leader of the whole party, and that, in fact the leadership of the party has been vacant since Mr. Bonar Law retired because of ill health.

Accordingly, it is declared, Mr. Chamberlain is not answerable to the party as a whole, and only feels called upon to explain or defend his declared faith in the premier to the commons and his ministerial colleagues.

While it is agreed everywhere that the meeting will lead to events of utmost consequence, opinions are much divided as to exactly what will happen on Thursday. It is admitted as just conceivable that a temporary truce may be patched up, but nobody places much faith in this outcome.

The alternative views are: first, that Mr. Chamberlain's defence of the coalition, and his adhesion thereto, backed as it will be by Lord Birkenhead and Sir Horace Kitchener, and perhaps other ministers, will bring him a vote of confidence by a large majority. A second view is that the meeting will declare against adherence to the coalition, which would be equivalent to a vote of no confidence in Mr. Chamberlain as Unionist leader in the commons. Those holding to the latter expectation support it by contending that practically half the constituencies represented by Unionists have declared against continuance of the coalition, and will look to their representatives to stand by them.

Don't Want Re-Election. It is a fact, however, that many of the Unionist members do not intend to seek re-election to Parliament, and may prefer to adhere to the coalition ticket on which they were elected, notwithstanding the changed opinions of their constituents.

Speculation is busy as to what will follow the meeting's decision, whichever way it goes. Some observers suppose that if Mr. Chamberlain gives his vote of confidence, Mr. Lloyd George will take advantage of this encouragement to dissolve Parliament and arrange an immediate election.

On the other hand, if the Unionist leader is turned down by the meeting he is expected to resign, being accompanied in this step by some of the coalition Unionist cabinet members, notably Lord Chancellor Birkenhead and Sir Robert Horne as chancellor of the exchequer. Such a result, it is assumed, would lead to a breakup of the cabinet.

Whatever happens, accentuation of the existing cleavage in the Unionist party is foreseen, leading, perhaps, to the formation of a new party consisting of the supporters of the coalition in both of the present parties. A straw pointing to the direction of the political wind was the sharp rise in the London insurance market yesterday to cover the risk of a general election before the end of the year. Last week the odds were 2 to 1, against this contingency, but yesterday they were 2 to 1 in its favor.

ASSERTS C. P. R. MUST HAVE KNOWN OF AWARD

Union Official Claims Company Evidently Had Fore-Knowledge of Rate of Pay.

Calgary, Oct. 17.—The Canadian Pacific Railway must have had some knowledge of the conciliation board award before it came out in order to pay its men off on the wages set, stated E. Redfern, chairman of the Federated Ship Trades Union, late last night, in reply to the Montreal denial of the Canadian Pacific Railway that it had no fore-knowledge.

"There was a case in Calgary of a machinist who was paid off on the Thursday prior to the Tuesday the award came out, and he was paid on the wages fixed in the award as it came out," declared Mr. Redfern. "We wrote to Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, advising him of this case, and he replied that it appeared as though the C. P. R. evidently had some fore-knowledge of the award to pay this man off," he said.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press Cable).—There is a disposition in the North of England to believe that Premier Lloyd George is leaning towards the Radical-Labor side of politics. Significance is attached to the fact that his latest speech contained no attack on any section of the Labor forces. Labor, however, has been one of his most severe critics for a long time past.

GAINS MEDAL FOR RESCUE OF GIRL FROM TRAIN WHEELS

PENDLETON MAN WINS HONOR.

PENDLETON, Oct. 17.—The Royal Humane Society bronze medal for gallantry in saving the life of Miss Amelia Boudreau from beneath a moving Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train on February 11 last was presented to Samuel Jacob Dixon of this place at midday today. The presentation was made by Assistant General Superintendent W. J. Uren of Montreal, who in a laudatory speech congratulated the recipient upon his courageous action. H. B. Spence, superintendent of the Ottawa division, was also present.

The event took place in the Orange Hall, amidst townspeople and friends, and was presided over by the Rev. Mr. Oliver of the local Presbyterian Church. In presentation of the medal, Mr. Uren, in pluming the medal on Mr. Dixon, said: "This gathering has been arranged in honor of one who by his promptitude, courage and presence of mind, saved the life of a young woman who otherwise would have been crushed beneath a moving passenger train. The association of which the Royal Canadian Humane Association is a branch, was founded in England in 1776 by two prominent physicians, and since that time has done extensive work in various branches for the purpose of rendering first aid. It has upwards of 280 depots throughout the United Kingdom."

"It was on February 11, when train No. 593, which had stopped at Pendleton station, was proceeding westbound, that Miss Amelia Boudreau, who was late in arriving to take the train, attempted to get aboard while it was in motion. She grasped the handrail of one of the coaches toward the rear of the train, but was unable to gain entrance, as the vestibule doors were closed. It was while she was in this position, clinging to the handrail, with the train moving, that the attention of Mr. Dixon was drawn. He immediately hurried to her assistance, but before reaching her she fell between the platform and the train, her head coming in contact with the truck of the coach, and rendering her unconscious, thus throwing her across the rail. Mr. Dixon pulled her from under the wheels of the approaching rear truck of the coach, and held her in a safe position until the train had passed."

"The officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when full particulars were obtained, notified the Royal Humane Association, who have awarded this medal in recognition of his gallantry, and which I am proud to have the honor of that worthy association and the Canadian Pacific Railway to present. Permit me to congratulate Mr. Dixon on this splendid recognition of his noble deed, and may he live long and prosper."

Mr. Dixon, a Canadian, has been farming in this locality for many years. He is the father of four sons, one of whom at the age of 17 went overseas and gave his life for his country. It is evident that heroism runs in the Dixon family, for the son before going west two years after his enlistment was then awarded the military medal for bravery. After the presentation, Mr. Spence entertained Mr. Dixon, the Rev. Mr. Oliver and a number of other friends at luncheon.

noted the disease. Nevertheless this report is just an example of how the wrong impression is being imparted to the public. It is unfair criticism. "In any event this statement just shows that the cow was tubercular. Our critics admit that the cow was infected, and that goes to prove that people in London, no doubt including children, were consuming tubercular milk within the past week."

Ald. Cunningham is steadfast in his declaration that practically all the criticism emanates from those who have not allowed their cattle to be subjected to the test. The majority of those who have been will-

TRY 20 ALLEGED U. S. PLOTTERS

Arraign Men Accused of Seeking to Overthrow the Government by Force.

Arrested at Meeting of Communists in Woods in Michigan.

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 17.—Arraignment of 20 alleged Communists charged with plotting to overthrow the government of the United States by force was set for today, the first test of Michigan's anti-syndicalism law, which was passed as a wartime measure.

Sixteen of the 20 men arrested Aug. 22, when Charles E. Ruthenberg, a wooded glen near Bridgman, this county, and interrupted what the government charges was the national convention of the Communist Party of America, representatives in this country at the third international of Moscow. Between 70 and 80 radicals had been at the meeting in the wild dune country along Lake Michigan. The government agents claim, but all but 16 fled before the raiders arrived. Three men, including W. Z. Foster of steel strike fame, later were arrested at Chicago and extradited. Another, Joseph Zeak, was extradited from New York.

A farmer boy, whose curiosity had led him to spy on the woodland meeting, told the raiders the men arrested had buried something in the woods, and he led them to a spot where they dug up three barrels filled with typewriters, duplicating machines, papers, manuscripts, reports, stationery and printed propaganda of the Communist party.

Radical newspapers have advanced the explanation that those arrested merely were holding a picnic.

Today's hearing corresponds to grand jury action in some states. Eleven of the defendants have been confined in the Berrien County jail here since the raid, unable to raise $10,000 bonds.

Charles E. Ruthenberg, of Cleveland, secretary of the workers' party, a branch of the underground Communist organization; Wm. E. Dunn, workers' party candidate for governor of New York, and the six others who are at liberty under bonds, arrived in St. Joseph yesterday.

Federal agents who watched the gathering of the defendants reported that Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, noted labor attorney, was with them.

blunder to set my congregation all agog at this inopportune time. I for one, consider it inadvisable for the presbytery to press the matter."

However, the majority felt that, in visiting the congregations, they were by no means going with the idea of dictating to the congregations what they should pay the new minimum, but rather to put the case fairly and squarely before them and confer with them on the matter. Where it is evident that a congregation cannot afford to pay the minimum, or where they have definite reason for their refusal, the matter will be again referred to the presbytery.

Presbytery sustained a call to Rev. N. Stevenson of Delaware to go to Appin, with the minimum of $1,800 and manumission.

Committee Gratified. London presbytery has for some time been concerned over the welfare of the various churches within its jurisdiction, which have been under the consideration of a home mission committee, and it was with much gratification that they heard the report submitted by Rev. Dr. D. C. MacGregor, who was one of the committee appointed to visit the different congregations.

"In visiting Knollwood Park," he said, "we saw everywhere evidences of new progress. During the church year, between $1,600 and $1,700 was contributed, which was considered the size of the congregation. It is evident that some people are giving with the utmost liberality."

Presbytery passed Dr. MacGregor's resolution, that it go on record as expressing its appreciation of the board of managers of Knollwood Park Church in increasing its missionary stipend by the amount of $5 a week.

With regard to the suggestion that Knollwood Park be united with St. George's Church, Dr. MacGregor had reported that the former congregation had been most emphatic in their disapproval of this plan.

Help Smaller Churches. Speaking of these smaller congregations, Dr. MacGregor concluded his report by saying: "It is important that the farmers have said that this is going to cost him something. There is no reason why it should. The authorities are assuming the financial burden. He is paid $40 and given the carcass, for which he may obtain an amount that may bring this figure up to $60 or $70 if the meat is fit for consumption."

Hogs and Chickens Infected. Dr. Cunningham holds further that 25 per cent of hogs have tuberculosis and a vast number of chickens, as well as other farm stock, and that practically all of this is a direct result of tubercular cows.

In conclusion, he declared that the board of health is prepared to stand behind the test, and Londoners need not worry that they will have to pay one copper for the undertaking. Even should they ever be compelled or asked to believe that they would be only too willing, order to as some themselves that they are drinking tubercular-free milk.

He adds that he is fully prepared to stand behind and prove any statement that he has made.

16 RAILROADS COMPLETE AGREEMENTS WITH MEN

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—Sixteen U. S. railroads have completed agreements with new organizations of their shopmen by which in effect the men waive the right to strike and the companies pledged themselves not to litigate, both parties agreeing to abide by the decisions of the United States railroad labor board, it became known today.

Notice of the completion of the agreements has been filed with the labor board.

FRENCH RAILWAYS ADOPT CHANGE IN WORKING HOURS

Length of Day To Be Determined By Labors During Entire Year.

Paris, Oct. 17.—The modifications in the 8-hour law recently decreed by the government became effective on the railroads in France yesterday. As a consequence, a large number of men went on a 9½-hour day basis, while employees at small stations where there is little real work were put on shifts of from 12 to 15 hours.

The order marks the amount of actual work done, the criterion for the length of a day, and authorizes the railroads to average hours over an entire year, instead of making each day a unit in itself. The extra 480 hours to be worked by a majority of the men will be paid for, and vacations are not affected.

The decree affects highly-skilled workers, such as engineers, and firemen only slightly, but it is anticipated that the cases of hours of the other employees will bring about gradually a reduction in the railroad force to 35,000 men, and ultimately effect an economy estimated as high as a billion francs.

JOHN EDMUNDS, FORMERLY OF PARIS, DIES IN TORONTO

Three Cases of Clothing Donated to Northern Distress.

Special to London Advertiser.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The funeral took place yesterday of John Edmunds, whose death occurred in Toronto on Thursday. The late Mr. Edmunds, formerly proprietor of the Bradford House, Paris, now known as the Arlington Hotel, passed away at the age of 65 years after a lingering illness. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Edmunds, well known in Paris, and was an active member of the Paris Club of Toronto. Surviving him are three sisters, Mrs. J. H. Markel and Mrs. J. F. Martin, Toronto, and Mrs. Walter Carruthers, Paris, and one brother, Alexander, Chatham. The funeral was conducted from the residence of Mr. Edmunds's brother-in-law, Mr. Walter Carruthers, Dundas street, to Paris Cemetery, Rev. J. C. Nicholson officiating.

Three cases of clothing, blankets, boots and shoes donated by many people of Paris, were sent to the Northern Ontario fire relief committee by Mr. J. P. MacCormack, secretary of the board of trade.

Several music services were celebrated at the Baptist Church here yesterday. Rev. E. C. Gonnell was the speaker at both services. Special music was rendered by the choir.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO SKILL OF BRITISH FINANCIERS

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Admiration for the mastery in which Great Britain is weathering the economic and financial depression resulting from her heavy war burden, was expressed by Umehiro Suzuki, independent member of the Japanese Diet, who has just visited Europe, studying the social and political problems arising out of the war, and who is now in Ottawa for the purpose of pursuing his investigation into parallel "Canadian conditions."

Mr. Suzuki paid tribute to the skill of British financiers and the application of their comprehensive knowledge of world finance in solving Britain's financial problems.

DELAWARE.

DELAWARE, Oct. 16.—Miss S. E. Conwell, who has been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Lowthian, returned on Saturday to New York.

Mrs. L. Vail left last week for Edmonton.

Children's day service was held in Christ Church on Sunday morning. Rev. E. T. Crosby, rector of the church, gave a very interesting talk.

The Mount Brydges School Club of the continuation school voted of thanks were unanimously passed to the men who assisted the school on field day; to the ladies who served refreshments; to the school board and the individuals who contribute to the prize funds, and to Miss Conwell, who made the pennant.

It was also decided that Delaware School would present Kenneth Campbell of Melbourne and Robert McKim of Lambeth with medals, and the Mount Brydges School with a shield in honor of its junior relay team.

THORNDALE

THORNDALE, Oct. 16.—Miss Leda Guest of Thorndale, student of London Normal School, met with a painful accident on Saturday evening, when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a car driven by C. Thompson of Kintore. Miss Guest was thrown through the windshield and received several injuries about the face. Dr. H. M. McEachern attended her. The accident occurred on concession 2, West Nissouri.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church are packing a bale for the fire sufferers of Northern Ontario. The bale will be shipped on Wednesday.

Mrs. P. Starny has returned home after spending three weeks with her daughter at Bryanston.

John Logan, who was severely injured a couple of weeks ago by a fall from a stack at a threshing bee at John Orchard's, has taken to his home the week and is recovering.

Fred Mossip has returned home after spending a couple of months in Saskatchewan.

Miss Georgia Duffin and Miss Roberta Duffin of St. Catharines, spent the week-end at their home here.

Miss Jane Farley of Pottersburg, spent the week-end in the village renewing old acquaintances.

Anniversary services were held in the Methodist Church on Sunday, Rev. J. Reid of Pottersburg, preaching at both services. Special music was rendered by the choir, assisted by Messrs. L. and E. Gumb of the Anglican Church choir. A delightful solo was rendered at the evening service by Miss Mildred McGuffin of London. Miss Marie Hueston of Pottersburg, former resident of West Nissouri, spent Sunday in the village.

TURKS DISLIKE L. GEORGE TALK

Kemalists Declare Confidence in Great Britain Is Shattered.

Allied Generals Report Situation at Thrace "Fraught With Danger."

Constantinople, Oct. 17.—Premier Lloyd George's Manchester speech on the Near East, of which a summary reached Constantinople last night, has created a furore among the Kemalists followers here. The entire summary was telegraphed immediately to Ankara.

"This speech," said the Kemalists representative here, "completely shatters the confidence which we were reposing in Great Britain after her assurances to us at Mudania."

The phrase in which, as received here, the Kemalists were compared with "wild animals" particularly displeased the Nationalist delegate.

Very disturbed conditions exist in Thrace, which the Mudania armistice agreement provided should be evacuated by the Greeks within fifteen days, it is revealed by a British official statement issued today. "The population of eastern Thrace is undoubtedly in a very disturbed state," says the statement. "Although no concrete cases of serious disorders are reported, the allied generals feel that there is a time when everyone should keep his head and not lend himself to panic."

A Constantinople message Monday night announced that the French military commander at Adrianople had requested General Charpy, French commander at Constantinople, for immediate reinforcements in eastern Thrace, declaring the situation was "fraught with danger."

GALT DONATES $1,000 TO FIRE RELIEF FUND

Special to London Advertiser.

GALT, Oct. 16.—The city council at its meeting tonight unanimously voted a grant of $1,000 to the Northern Ontario fire relief fund.

A special committee was appointed to arrange for a civic reception to the Galt Ball Club, to provide them with suitable mementoes in appreciation of what they have done for Galt.

Mayor Charlton has proclaimed a half-holiday for Wednesday afternoon, so that all Galtians can attend the first of home and home games between Belleville and the Terriers to determine Ontario's amateur ball champions.

EXPECT MANY REFUGEES FROM SOUTH ANATOLIA

Mitylene, Oct. 14.—A new flood of refugees is expected early next week from the cities of Southern Anatolia. This district was controlled by the Turkish Nationalists throughout their war with the Greeks, and the Christian and Moslem populations lived in close proximity without serious friction. Now, however, all the women, children and old men have been given seven days to leave the country while the men of military age are to be taken into the interior by the Turks.

This move is taken to indicate the Turks' intention of removing the minority populations from all parts of the country.

HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES AT GILLIES HILL CHURCH

GILLIES HILL, Oct. 16.—Anniversary services were held in Gillies Hill Presbyterian Church yesterday. Rev. John Hosie of London, a former pastor, preached both morning and evening.

This evening a supper and entertainment were held in Elderslie township hall, followed by a program of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, speeches, etc.

WEEK RECEIPTS OF GRAIN IN STORE SHOW INCREASE

Fort William, Oct. 15.—Total receipts of all grains at the head of the lakes last week were a million bushels more than those of the previous week, but shipments were four million bushels greater, so that the stocks of grain in the elevators, which rose by nearly eight million bushels a week ago, have only increased by four million this week. Of the receipts, sixteen million bushels of wheat accounted for the greater part, while receipts of both oats and barley were over a million bushels of either grain. There was no decrease in the stocks of any kind of grain in the elevators during the week.

KING THANKS CITIZENS FOR RECENT RECEPTION

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Oct. 16.—Mayor Greb announced today that he was in receipt of a letter from Premier King, in which the prime minister expressed his sincere gratitude at the excellent civic reception tendered him upon the occasion of his visit to this city a month ago.

In the concluding paragraph of the letter the premier stated that he carried away with him one regret, and that was that his mother and father were not living to share with him the "demonstration of whole-hearted goodwill so greatly in evidence on every side."

GREEK ROYALIST PRESS OPPOSES REPUBLIC IDEA

Believe People Will Be Overwhelmingly Against Scheme at Next Election.

Athens, Oct. 17.—The campaign to make Greece a republic, launched directly after the return from Paris of the new foreign minister, Nicholas Politis, prominent Venizelist, has strongly aroused the royalist newspapers.

Nea Himeria declares that in its judgment the Greek people will overwhelmingly oppose the idea of a republic at the coming elections, and that at any rate they would distrust a republic presided over by M. Venizelos.

"If the people accept a republican regime," adds, "we will accept without hesitation, but if they decide to maintain the regime of constitutional monarchy, it will be the duty of the republican advocates to retire definitely from political life."

The other royalist organs also defy the Venizelists to go openly before the people as sponsors of a republic, believing they would meet with an unprecedented electoral disaster.

SIFT PROBLEM OF LEGAL DOMICILE FOR DELORME

Judge Refuses Request for Transfer Case From Montreal to Quebec.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—The question of the legal domicile of René Adelaire Delorme, at present in Beauport, Asylum, near Quebec, to which institution was committed following the verdict of insanity brought in against him by a special jury after he had indicted by a grand jury on a charge of killing his half-brother, Raoul, was settled this morning by Mr. Justice Bruneau.

Mr. Justice Bruneau rejected the petition of the abbe's lawyer, Leopold Houle, who asked for the transfer of the interdiction case inaugurated by Adelaire Delorme, by the law of Delorme, and the family coming from Montreal to Quebec. Mr. Justice Bruneau decided to take the case up here next Friday, when evidence for and against the interdiction of Delorme and the appointment of a curator for his large estate will be heard.

CHARGE HAMILTON MAN WITH THEFT

Kitchener, Oct. 14.—H. Swirling of Hamilton was brought back to Waterloo today by Chief MacIntosh on a charge of theft. Swirling was arrested in Hamilton yesterday.

It is alleged he came to Waterloo in June with an American, who is charged with having a sum of money. He is charged with absconding. Magistrate Weir remanded his case until Wednesday, when the American will appear against him.

COST OF LIVING DROPS SLIGHTLY

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The labor department's cost of living statistics show an average level for September 30 of 78 per cent above the pre-war figure, compared with 79 per cent on August 31. Last month's level is the lowest since October, 1917.

ST. CATHARINES COUNCIL REAFFIRM VOTE ON RADIAL

St. Catharines, Oct. 15.—The city council, in special session Saturday night, reversed its action of Oct. 2, and reaffirmed the vote of the ratepayers taken January, 1917, in favor of construction of Port Credit-St. Catharines hydro radial line, and it will not be necessary for the ratepayers to vote again on the bylaw in January next unless a petition signed by fifteen per cent of the ratepayers is presented.

715 REGISTER AT DAY TECHNICAL

Daily Attendance Averages
598, Including Full and Part Time Pupils.

Evening School Shows Total
Registration of 638; List
Incomplete.

Monday evening's meeting of the advisory vocational committee of the board of education, at the London Technical and Art School, was confined solely to the secretary's report for the month of September.

Principal H. B. Beal reported that the average daily attendance for technical day classes was 598 out of a total enrollment of 298; commercial day, 302 out of 319; and adolescent day classes, 41 out of 28. This seemingly low average did not mean that pupils were not attending, said Mr. Beal, but it was due to the fact that most of the students were there only two days in the week.

The evening classes opened on Monday, October 2, and 638 have registered to date. The registration, Mr. Beal said, was still incomplete. During the month the government grant on equipment and salaries, from January 1 to June 30, was received, amounting to $13,165.05. This, Mr. Beal said, was somewhat larger than expected. Together with the previous grant of $11,893.20, the total grant for the year was $25,058.25.

The diploma forms for the various departments have been issued, authority for which was given previously. Mr. Beal reported that in pursuance of the authority granted at the previous meeting, A. Ritchie had been appointed to assist in the wood-working department, temporarily, at a salary of $180 per month, to include two evenings per week.

The part time adolescent classes have been organized and 164 in attendance. The regular academic work for these students has been arranged, comprising English and mathematics. The English is composed of syntax, short composition, letter writing, etc.

Mr. Beal asked that permission be arranged some practical shop work for these classes. A. W. White moved that the matter be left to the secretary and it was unanimously passed.

Accounts for equipments totaled $498.61; supplies and expenses, $1,018.29; and light, power and fuel, $240.22, making a grand total of $1,757.12.

CANADIAN ADVERTISERS ELECT MEN OF LONDON

Association Honors G. L. Spry and
Col. A. A. Campbell With Important Posts.

Two London businessmen were honored at Toronto Friday by being elected to important positions on the Association of Canadian Advertisers for the ensuing year. G. L. Spry of the Huron and Erie Corporation, w. chosen as one of the vice-presidents, while Colonel A. A. Campbell of the Battle Creek Toasted Corn Flakes Company, was elected to the board of directors.

The annual convention was well attended, representatives being present from almost every part of the Dominion. Several Londoners were in attendance.

The officers for 1922-1923 are: President—H. S. VanScyoc, Canada Cement Company, Limited, Montreal.

Would Ban Posters From Hydro Poles

PRIVATE citizens or organizations who have the best interests of the city of London at heart should refrain from pasting or nailing posters, cards, or similar forms of advertisement to hydro or other poles throughout the city, suggest public utilities officials.

The latter explain that they do not desire to bring any person into the courts in this respect, as they must under the provisions of the by-laws, but merely ask that care and judgment be exercised in the future.

Exclusive of other reasons, affecting hydro employees, the officials point to the unsightly appearance of the poles when plastered with cards, etc.

BISHOP FALLON TO AID SCOUTS

Will Do Much to Help Boy Movement in London.

Opinions on Organization Changed by Recent Visit to Italy.

As a result of Bishop Fallon's recent visit to Rome, the Boy Scout movement in the London Diocese will be given an added stimulus in the near future.

His lordship, in addressing the children of the separate schools of the city, who were gathered in the auditorium of St. Peter's Parish Hall, to welcome him, Monday, described the wonderful organization and useful efficiency of the Italian Boy Scouts, and stated that his ideas on the Boy Scout movement had been somewhat changed by this visit.

Bishop Fallon complimented Jack Cook, who read the address of welcome, on behalf of the children, and expressed his pleasure and appreciation at the tremendous welcome of the children, and at their massed chorus singing. Much credit was due the sisters for their untiring work, he said.

Scout's Work.

The bishop asserted that he was never aware that Boy Scouts could actually be so much through benefit to a community as they were in Rome during the Eucharistic Congress.

In the past he had not been quite in favor of the Boy Scout movement for Catholic boys. What he had seen in Rome had quite changed his opinion.

Boy Scouts there directed traffic. They took charge of visitors as they arrived in Rome and took them to their headquarters. The scouts had some charge of the available quarters for visitors to the Eucharistic congress, and they located each visitor in suitable lodging. Boy Scouts acted as official guides for the visitors, many of whom were from all parts of the world, and visitors soon found that they could be in no safer hands.

The bishop marveled at the fact that although the scouts were all Italians, almost all of them were proficient in the use of English. And more marvelous still, though the bishop was the way scouts directed the surging mass of people along the route during the procession; 40,000 people and more, stopped and started; stood, or knelt at the silent signals of Boy Scouts. The scouts had complete charge of traffic, and their every movement was respected.

Proficient in Venice.

In Venice again the same proficiency was exhibited. On arriving in Venice the bishop said that his party was met by Boy Scouts. One boy in directing the way to their lodging, asked the bishop if he might be permitted to conduct His Lordship to the Cardinal Archbishop. When Bishop Fallon told him that he did not intend to visit the cardinal until the next day, the scout replied: "The cardinal is not busy today; he will be busy tomorrow."

Bishop Fallon said that he had thought his own London boys in the schools were well trained in gymnastics, and that he had always been well pleased with their periodic demonstrations, but he had never seen such a wonderful exhibition as the Boy Scouts went through before the Cardinal Archbishop of Venice. "Stunts" so marvelous for boys, stunts that would be a credit to men on the professional stage, were one after another exhibited, without a single flaw or hitch. In every branch the Scouts were highly trained.

The bishop then took occasion to tell the London boys and girls that in the near future he wanted the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movements to be thoroughly organized in the Diocese of London. He wanted every boy and every girl to take an enthusiastic part in the idea which would soon be started here.

BOY DIES, 6 HURT AS AUTO
HITS CAR HAULING WOOD

Nanaimo, B. C., Oct. 17.—John Mercer, aged six, is dead; Daniel Healy, aged 12, is dying, and five other boys injured, more or less seriously, following an accident here last night when a light horse wagon in which the boys were hauling wood was struck by an automobile, driven by Wm. Horton, a stevedore foreman. The accident occurred at a street crossing.

6 RETIRED MEN GAIN BY RULING

Superannuated G. T. R. Employees Will Benefit by Return of Seniorities.

Change Will Affect Amount of Pensions Received For Long Service.

Six former employees of the Grand Trunk Railway living in this district who participated in the strike of 1910, and who have since been superannuated, will have their pensions rights restored to them as a result of the new ruling of the road. This announcement was made by G. T. R. officials Tuesday morning, after a checking up of the list of conductors, trainmen and yardmen had been made.

In all, 40 employees, including conductors, trainmen and yardmen, residents of London and district, will be affected by the recent action of the G. T. R. The majority of these, however, who walked out in 1910 are still in the employ of the road, and will have their seniority rights restored.

John Maloney, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Thomas Todd, general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, after a conference with the heads of the railway in Montreal Thursday, October 12, announced the good tidings to the men. Ever since the end of the strike the men have contended that they understood that the conditions under which they returned to work included the restoration of their pension and seniority rights.

W. D. Robb, the new vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, is said to be mainly responsible for the rights being restored, as he has declared at different times that in his opinion there had been a misunderstanding between the railway and the employees who returned to their jobs. Approximately 1,200 men in the train service of the Grand Trunk will benefit by the new ruling.

ARTHUR LUKINGS, through his solicitors, Graydon & Graydon, has issued a writ in the county court against Thomas J. Coulter and John J. Coulter of Westminster Township for $480.00, which he claims is the amount due on a promissory note dated March 25, 1922.

GEORGE GRIFFIN, of the real estate firm of Griffin & Co., London, wishes it made known that he is not the George Griffin responsible for the accident reported in Friday's edition, stating that Richard Dawdy of Alberton, who was leading a cow on the Hamilton road near "ainsville, was struck by Griffin's London.

FRONT STREET RESIDENTS need not entertain fears that the public utilities employees will undertake any work in that district that will be left unfinished or in such a manner as to add to the danger from spring flooding. Officials of that department gave assurance to that effect Tuesday, incidentally alluding to the innocent manner in which one civic department may be "dragged" into a controversy that has nothing to do with any appreciable danger, viz, the front street breakwater issue, that confronts the city council from time to time.

POSTPONING their session scheduled for Monday, the members of No. 3 committee of the board of education will gather Tuesday at the usual time to tackle a very intricate and long-standing problem attending the construction of the Central Collegiate Institute. No definite action is anticipated, however, in view of the fact that the courts have yet to hand down judgments in connection with liens placed upon the structure by sub-contractors, who claimed certain monies from the Kingston Construction Company.

NORMAN BELCHER, who appeared in police court on a vagrancy charge this morning after being on bail for a week, was remanded for another week by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. He is being held until a parole officer arrives for him. Complaints were filed with the police some time ago that Belcher was not reporting to Dr. Arnott regularly, as he was supposed to do under the terms of his parole. It is months, it is claimed, since he made his last report. Belcher will probably be taken back to the Ontario Reformatory to serve the remainder of his term.

DOMINION EXPRESS MAKES TRANSFER OF QUARTERS

Will Vacate Richmond Street Site for Corner Dundas and Talbot Streets.

Announcement is made that the Dominion Express Company will take over the building at the northeast corner of Dundas and Talbot streets, moving there from present quarters at the corner of Richmond and Carling streets, the latter place having been sold for use as a restaurant. Such alterations as are necessary will be made for the express company business.

The Dominion Express Company has had a number of its agents from outside points calling on business men in London asking for comments or criticism on the service given. About 700 calls will be made in this city. Montreal was similarly visited a week or so ago where a force of agents drawn from various parts of the system called on 3,700 offices for the same purpose. All the comments made are carefully noted and compiled at the end of the trips.

ARMENIANS STRIVE TO REACH NEUTRAL ZONE HAVEN

WOULD ESCAPE TURKS.

ADRIANOPLE, Oct. 17.—Thirty thousand Greeks and Armenians have passed from this city to the west since Saturday, and the road between here and the Maritza River is an unbroken line of men, women and children, with ox carts, camels and cattle.

With a steady downpour of rain they are plodding doggedly toward their unknown destinations, driven forward by the nameless fear which has gripped the whole populace of Eastern Thrace since the government's bulletins were posted on Saturday announcing the terms of Mudania armistice which provides for occupation of the province by the Turks within 45 days.

The pressure has been orderly, but the misery of the refugees is already extreme, and pneumonia will claim many victims if the present inclement weather continues.

Meanwhile from the countryside a similar exodus is under way, and every road leading to the Maritza is jammed with humanity, cattle and wagons. This whole flood converges upon a single road as it approaches Karagallith bridge across the Maritza. The refugees believe that if they can reach Karagallith they will be safe from the Turks, and the village, which is just across the boundary line, will be in neutral territory until the peace conference decides its fate.

Although the railway is moving a considerable number of refugees westward from Karagallith, the station there is becoming the centre of a vast concentration camp. The rain has flooded all parts of the village, forcing the refugees from the low-lying into new camping places in the higher areas.

DIBSDALE SENT TO ASYLUM AT GUELPH

Escorted by Provincial Bailiff
J. J. Ryan Late Monday Afternoon.

Gordon Dibsdale, who was found not guilty at the recent assizes of the murder of his young sweetheart, Christina Near, on grounds of insanity, was taken to the asylum for the criminally insane at Guelph, by Provincial Bailiff J. J. Ryan, late yesterday afternoon. It was expected at first that he would be taken to the Hamilton institution. He had been incarcerated at the county since his trial awaiting the pleasure of the lieutenant-governor in council, in accordance with the instruction of the jury which heard his case.

His removal came as a surprise to officials at the court house and his relatives as well. His brother, James, who was with him, was told that he was being sent to a mental hospital, but he was not told the full truth.

The Guelph asylum is a branch of the Ontario Reformatory at that place. Inmates, who are not violent, are employed at light work there. It is thought this will be Dibsdale's fate.

84,959,196 BUSHELS OF GRAIN MARKED BY C.P.R.

44,817 Cars Also Shipped, Which Is Equivalent to 65,219,498 Bushels.

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—From Sept. 1 up to and including Oct. 14, the Canadian Pacific Railway has marketed 84,959,196 bushels of grain on western lines. During the same period 44,817 cars have been shipped, which is the equivalent to 65,219,498 bushels according to a statement issued today at the local offices of the company.

Our money will be printed on a better grade of paper soon, but it won't last us any longer.

Work Many Hours Before They Succeed in Resuscitating Victims

Windsor, Oct. 17.—Victims of the icy cold waters of Lake St. Clair for a half hour following the capsizing of their boat off the Canadian shore shortly after 5:30 Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Delmar McDaniel, 767 19th street, Detroit, were rescued from their perilous position by James Green, a Windsor man, employed in the vicinity.

Dr. Paul Polsson and others worked for several hours resuscitating Mr. McDaniel, aged 23, whose hold on the rowboat was loosened twice by reason of the cold water. The second time McDaniel lost his grip on the frail craft, Green, who had set out from shore in another boat, arrived just in time to keep the man from going under. Mrs. McDaniel, aged 25, soon revived from the exposure.

The two victims were taken to the Beach Grove Country Club nearby, where they were given first aid treatment.

They said they had been fishing.

BAKER LOSES TO NIMBLE THIEVES

City Clerk Falls Victim to Pickpockets on Windsor Visit.

Trio Tries Luck on Two Occasions and Lifts $7.00.

A sharp tussle with pickpockets upon two separate occasions, during which he experienced the loss of $7 cash, featured a visit to Detroit Saturday last by City Clerk Sam Baker.

The trouble started, the city clerk relates, just as he was leaving the train at Windsor. In the vestibule of the coach he was jostled into a corner by two or three of the light-fingered gentry, one of whom volunteered to relieve him of his hand luggage while another essayed a deliberate tug at his watch-chain.

Not to be nonchalantly pushed to one side or out the door by the strangers, the city clerk, not at first anticipating their real motives, offered a certain resistance and kicked one of the gents severely in the knee, as his hands were fully occupied with care of his baggage.

When he finally alighted, the crowd of passengers from behind had swarmed on each side and the aggressive strangers had departed without waiting for any further encounter with the city clerk, who by this time was fully aroused. It was during this melee that Mr. Baker evidently lost his money.

This was not all, he relates, as subsequently on the ferry boat, one of the same trio endeavored to get his long talons into the city clerk's pockets while one of his companions boldly "worked" passengers to his left. Mr. Baker immediately voiced an alarm, but the culprits were able to escape in the big crowd at the dock.

A complaint to the American immigration authorities availed nothing more than a sympathetic remark that "there ought to be more police on the docks as these thieves have been operating on the boats and trains for two or three days."

ACCEPTS CALL TO LONDON CHURCH

Rev. R. J. Murphy, B.A., of Niles, Ohio, To Be Pastor of Wortley Rd. Baptists.

Rev. R. J. Murphy, B.A., of Niles, Ohio, is to be the new pastor of Wortley Road Baptist Church. Two weeks ago at a special meeting of the church members a call was extended, and it was announced that Sunday's services that it had been accepted.

Mr. Murphy will begin his pastorate in London Sunday, Nov. 19. He comes with a good record, and leaves a thriving church behind him at Niles, Ohio. When he was there three years ago it was to a small group of 40 Baptists, meeting in a condemned dwellinghouse. There is now a membership of over 300, and a new church building, which is more than half paid for.

The new pastor is a deep Bible student, and in taking up systematic studies in the word at his mid-week meetings has so stimulated interest that the attendance now ranges from 60 to 100 each week.

Although coming from London to the United States, both Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are Britishers, having come from Ireland eight years ago.

Wortley Road Church has been without a pastor since the first week in September, when Rev. N. S. McKelvie accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church at Belleville.

GIVE ENTERTAINMENT AT BYRON SANATORIUM

London Variety Entertainers Delight Patients With Program of Singing and Dancing.

The inmates of the Byron Sanatorium were entertained by the London Variety Entertainers Monday night.

Miss Kathleen Taylor sang comic songs, and then fancy dancing was performed by Miss Marjorie Taylor and Miss Peggy Robbins.

Gordon Johnson and Frank Hockney, black-faced comedians, danced and sang to the further delight of the audience. Edward Taylor and Frank Johnson rendered several selections, while Earl McAllister impersonated a woman with considerable success.

As an added attraction Melvin Abel danced Scotch and Irish dances. H. Johnson acted as chairman for the entire performance.

The entertainers were under the management of Edward Taylor.

HONOR DR. CRILE WITH FLOWERS

A group of grateful London patients of Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland called on him at the back of the stage, following the community health mass meeting in the Majestic Theatre Monday evening, presenting him with a magnificent basket of roses, which, owing to an error, had failed to reach him when he gave his address. Dr. George McNeill put his offices at the service of Dr. Crile on Monday afternoon, and London friends of the eminent American surgeon much appreciated the opportunity thus afforded of visiting and chatting with him.

Obituaries

MRS. JANE OLIVER.

Mrs. Jane Oliver passed away at her home, lot 11, concession 3, Westminster, Monday at noon. Mrs. Oliver was stricken with heart failure, and although Dr. Colling of Lambeth was called to her assistance, she died within a few minutes. Mrs. Oliver was 59 years of age, and is survived by her husband, Alexander Oliver and city. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. to Woodland Cemetery, and Rev. Mr. Crawford of Wilton Grove will conduct the services.

ELIZABETH ANN SHARMAN.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Sharmar, wife of the late James Sharmar, occurred at her home, 125 Briscoe street, this city, on Oct. 16. Mrs. Sharmar was 81 years of age, and had been ailing for some time. She is survived by two sons, Thomas of this city and John of London Township. The funeral will be held from her late residence Thursday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. to Woodland Cemetery, and the Rev. Mr. Bright will hold the services.

News From City Churches

In charge of the missionary committee, and with Miss Rita Barlow as chairman, the Epworth League meeting at Dundas Centre Church on Monday night proved a most successful affair.

Dealing with the subject in a very comprehensive manner, Miss Ella Thompson gave an interesting address on the ignorance of the Chinese with regard to other countries of the world, particularly with regard to their geography.

Miss Grace Godwin also aroused much interest by her talk on the Chinese "kitchen" god, and the bundle in which the Chinese are held by this paper god.

Miss L. McMechan assisted in the brief but pleasing musical program.

A letter received by one of the members of the league from a missionary in China, and giving a graphic account of some phases of Chinese school life, was read by Miss Mildred Pocock.

ADDRESSES KING STREET YOUNG PEOPLE.

Addressing the members of the Young People's Society of the King Street Presbyterian Church Monday night, Miss Helen McIntosh gave a most interesting talk on the work of the Student Conference held recently at Elgin House, Muskoka, and at which Miss McIntosh was a delegate.

Walter Skinner, president of the society, took the chair. Adding to the success of the meeting was a social half hour, which followed a brief program consisting of a reading by Allan Miller and a song by Miss Crichton.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING.

The meeting of the Epworth League of St. Andrew's Methodist Church Monday night was in the hands of the literary committee and featured by a splendid paper given by Will Parsons on "Shakespeare, the Man and His Works."

The paper was considered by all present as exceptionally clever and comprehensive.

An impromptu musical program lent much to the pleasure of the meeting. Arthur J. Guymner, the president, acted as chairman.

KNOX CHOR TAKES TRIP TO KOMOKA.

Knox Church choir enjoyed a trip to Komoka Monday evening, delighting a large audience by presenting a concert in the town hall. Conducted by Charles Percy, organist and choirmaster, the choir gave four numbers, amongst them a bit of an unaccompanied work, the Russian anthem, "Bless the Lord." Soloists of the occasion were Mrs. Phillips, the Misses Olive Rouson, Gladys McEvoy, E. Campbell, M. McCulloch, Myrtle Rouson, Messrs. Chadwick, Westman, Kingston, Patterson, and Master Harry Jackson. Assisting artists were Miss Hilda Rowell, elocutionist, and Mr. Milner, violinist.

Mr. Graham, minister of the Presbyterian Church, presided, and at the close of the entertainment the artist quartet were entertained at a bountiful supper. Motors to take out the choir were provided by members of Knox congregation.

ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY BEGINS FALL PROGRAM

Dr. H. R. Kingston Delivers Instructive Lecture on Stars at Western University.

The London centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada held its opening meeting of the fall term Friday, October 13, in Western University. The president, Dr. H. R. Kingston, presided. Four new members were elected.

Dr. Kingston gave a brief demonstration with lantern slides of the use of a simple star map, and later in the evening guided the members in an observation of the evening sky.

Rev. R. J. Bowen, F.R.S., gave an address on "The Astronomy of the Bible." Mr. Bowen, from his great knowledge of the Bible, was able to treat this topic in an exceedingly interesting and instructive manner.

A. D. JORDAN TO GIVE TWILIGHT RECITALS

The organ of the First Methodist Church will be heard monthly when A. D. Jordan, the organist of the church, will appear in a series of twilight recitals, the first of which is announced for next Saturday, Oct. 21, at 4:30 in the afternoon. Mr. Jordan will be assisted by Miss Hilda McMillen, soprano, and John Cortese, flutist. Miss McMillen will sing "To Hear the Gentle Lark," with the Gallucci cadenza and with flute obligato by Mr. Cortese. An offering in aid of the organ fund is asked for.

ROLLO TO SPEAK TO CITY LABOR

Provincial Minister To Attend Meeting at Temple, Wednesday.

Public Invited to Thursday Discussion on Annexed School Tax.

Indicating the approach of the municipal elections the Labor Temple will be a busy place every evening this week.

On Wednesday the Hon. Walter Rollo, Ontario's minister of labor, will be the chief speaker, coming to the city from Toronto, upon the invitation of the London Trades and Labor Council.

The head of the provincial labor department will deal specifically with the "fair wage clause" in public building contracts. There has been considerable discussion back and forth between representatives of the local building trades and Western University authorities upon this question, and while Mr. Rollo's invitation and opinion was sought, it did not seem likely to meet with the approval of all the local delegates.

Another special meeting has been set for Thursday night at the Labor Temple, to which the general public is invited, and at which Ald. Mr. E. Ashplant and others will speak upon the "annexed school tax" issue as it applies to East London.

On Friday night a general session of the London Labor Party will be staged in the same building, when several new delegates will attend, including those from the new branch of the party, who were selected a week ago. Consideration of civic affairs in general will claim attention of the gathering.

WEDDING BELLS

NOPPER—MORKIN.

A pretty autumn wedding took place Tuesday at 8:30 o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Kathleen Edna Morkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Morkin, was married to John Earl Nopper, son of Mr. Nopper and the late Thomas Nopper. The ceremony was performed by Monsignor McKean.

The choir sang during mass and at the offertory an Ave Maria was sung by Miss K. McLaughlin and Mr. Mackie. The bride wore a navy blue tulle gown, with a smart black hat, and a corsage of Sweetheart roses and orchids. Miss Stella Morkin was her sister's bridesmaid, and wore a brown suit, with hat to match. Her corsage was of Sunset roses. Mr. Nopper, brother of Something Wrong.

HERE is another case, brought to light in Chatham, where punishment in the way of a jail sentence turns out to be punishment for the community.

The Chatham Planet tells of a man who was sentenced to jail under an O. T. A. charge, being sent down because he was not able to pay the fine that was imposed.

There is nothing unusual about the case, and when it is traced all through it will be seen that the law functioned strictly according to the rule.

The man was arrested, found guilty, fined, with the option of jail. He went to jail, and is being kept there, while the wife and eight children are being looked after by the ladies of the Home for the Friendless, civic funds being used for the purpose.

So we have the spectacle of a man in jail, comfortable, and the citizens putting up the money to keep his family while he finishes out his term in prison.

The family of the Chatham man are fortunate in that they live in a place where such care is coming to them. Only a few weeks ago a Montreal woman, in somewhat similar circumstances, surrendered her three children to the court because she could not take care of them.

Almost every community can furnish similar cases, and the matter has been before us for a long time. One solution, of course, is putting the prisoner at work, and turning the price of his labor back to those who are dependent on him. There used to be the objection to this that it was bringing free labor into competition with prison labor, but if that labor were paid for at anything approaching a decent figure, that argument would be done away with to some extent.

It seems out of the question that we should continue to go on with a method such as is being exemplified in the Chatham case, of a man in jail for punishment, and the citizens in general keeping his wife and family while he rests in jail.

Stopping War.

WOULD the nations of the world be more inclined to stop fighting if there were fewer shiploads of munitions available?

The Times of Los Angeles holds that millions are made in United States out of the manufacture of munitions and tools of war.

It claims that the republic sends out many missionaries, but more machine guns, and that the latter quite overcome the former.

Constantine of Greece quit his throne with a protest against one of the allied powers supplying the Turks with munitions to use against the Greeks.

The fact that money is made out of war implements is the reason for making them.

Suppose the manufacture of machine guns, explosives, cannon, rifles, poisonous gas, etc., were all stopped—what then?

According to the Los Angeles paper, nations would not then make war one upon the other. The things they use for purposes of slaughter would be taken away.

An easy way out, isn't it? The only thing wrong is that it wouldn't work.

It would simply set war back a couple of hundred years, or perhaps more.

As long as one nation hates another nation—as long as there is distrust and suspicion—there will be the seed of war be planted, and if the hating parties cannot blow each other to pieces with sixteen-inch guns that shoot 20 miles, they will come in hand-to-hand combat with clubs that batter or swords that cut.

Taking away weapons to which men are accustomed might for the time being change the form of war, but it certainly would not stop it.

Blaming the Police.

BANDITS operating in Vancouver got $75,000, and one of the city messengers lost his life.

As usual, following such an occurrence, some person is sure to bring up the point that the police were not on the job, or else the thing could not have happened.

In this case there was no appeal made to the police department by city hall officials for officers to accompany those entrusted with carrying $75,000 in money.

It is a strange turn we have in our natures, and it comes to the surface quite often. No matter with what skill a crime is planned, the first question that the public hands out is, "Where were the police?"

No police force ever brought together can gather up all the criminals. Police, like any other body, get their reputation from the results they secure. For instance, a boy who carries papers for THE ADVERTISER came into this office a few days ago with the complaint that his wheel had been stolen. He had worked for the wheel himself, and his disappearance was to him about as large a calamity as could happen to any boy. The police department was communicated with, and a description and number of the wheel given. In order to make the boy realize that the police would act a visit was made to the station and the description of the wheel repeated. That boy was very much in doubt about the matter, and had very little idea that the wheel would ever be recovered. Two days later he was notified to call at the police station and get his bicycle. To that boy the police department stands for something, and it also stands for something to the boy who had stolen the wheel. You may contend that there was luck or something else in it, but that matters not. Results were secured, and it is on results that the reputation of any police department is determined.

In London, for instance, there are 55 men on the police force, and we have in the city as a general thing over 60,000 people. That means that each policeman has to look after over 1,000 people. Of course, there are many thousands who do not need any looking after, but it is quite possible to conceive of a fairly big robbery being well planned and carried out in some part of the city without the police getting wind of it until some time after, for in these days of waiting high-powered cars this sort of business is cleaned up very quickly.

A police force will act quickly if it gets a chance. It wants to—in fact it likes action rather than routine. It should be at its best when people are at their worst.

LITTLE TISERS

Don't have appendicitis unless you can afford it.

A lot of folks would rather be called unfortunate than lazy.

One thing generally leads to another—lawsuits, for instance.

The same men who want a front seat in a show get the back seat at church.

The office boy penned this one: "It's amazing how few brains it takes to be good looking."

It's a question who gets into the most trouble, a widow with children or a widow with property.

A couple of grand exhibitions of faith are to be found in hair-growing tonics and bust developers.

The man who has rheumatism can't help wondering why they ever blow the wind from the east.

Drug stores keep busy because so many people keep on showing their plates back for third helpings.

Let's see, who wrote this famous passage: "More victories are won with tears than rolling pins?"

The fact that he's got $10 in his pocket isn't much comfort to the chap who runs out of gas 20 miles from a filling station.

Modesty is a fine thing, but the man in business who refuses to advertise because he is too modest, very seldom drives to work in a sedan.

Now here's a California hen that has laid 32 eggs in a year. That leaves 41 days in which to shed her feathers, raise a family and do other odd jobs that occur to hens' minds.

In Tokio engineers are ready to build a system of underground street railways. This ought to be sufficient cause for some of the Jap haters on the Pacific coast of United States to have another war.

It's well there was no war in Southern Mesopotamia, for in Busra, between the Syrian Desert and the Persian Gulf, the temperature runs over 125 in the shade every day. They can guess what it is in the sun.

Some cities are making it an offense for people to walk across the streets at the middle of a block, compelling them to go to the corners to cross. It's so much harder to have them all hit at the same place rather than picking 'em up all along the street.

The New York Sun believes that a mistake is made in having a tariff policy that shuts out Canadian produce from United States market, because it will also shut out the desire of Canada to buy in that market. In other words, the vicious circle becomes operative once more.

A renewed interest is noted in Northern Ontario mining, and several companies report progress in greater development. These are the places that will succeed because they are dealing with a low-grade ore on a basis of known costs and known results. One drawback has been the presence in the market of the doubtful proposition, or one that has nothing but the say-so or the guess-so of the promoter to back it up.

Some of the American papers claim the fact that Canada has the largest wheat crop since 1915 does not interest the States since the Fordney-McCumber tariff keeps it out of that country. Very well, for the moment, but very short-sighted. Is not Canada's exportable surplus of wheat likely to come into competition with what the republic has for export? How much is United States going to gain by refusing to meet Canadian competition in wheat, right from the start?

Why is it that shipments of wheat from Canada have to be tampered with, so that in the end the British buyer, although not being cheated, is not getting the quality that he anticipated? The president of the Corn Trade Association, with other interested parties, and a representative of the Canadian high commissioner's office interviewed the United States consul-general at London in connection with the mixing which takes place while the grain is passing through the United States from Canada to Great Britain. Cargoes which came through Philadelphia and Baltimore, it was stated, on examination showed evidence of having been mixed with other grades, but shipments via New York offered no cause of complaint. One speaker reported the receipt of cargoes of wheat with which other grades had been mixed to the extent of 20 per cent. This sort of thing, it can be conceived, will lessen the reputation, and the price, of high grade Canadian wheat on the market where much of it has to be sold. Certain it is that this sort of business is something that takes place after the grain leaves the hands of the grower, and yet produces a result that may very seriously injure his reputation.

JEST

A FISH STORY.

A couple of city chaps summering in the mountains overheard sufficient fish stories to stir them to the desire to emulate the native anglers. Not having equipment, they persuaded the village storekeeper to lend them some of his own personal outfit with the understanding that any parts lost or broken would be paid for or replaced. They had been out on the lake in a boat about half an hour when one of them inquired of the other:

"What do you suppose Ezra Hawkins calls that red-and-blue thing that floats around on the water?"

"Why, I believe he calls it a float or a floater or a bob or something of that nature. What made you ask such a question?"

"Well, we'll have to buy one of those. The darn thing has sunk."

POETRY

MY GRANDMOTHER.

(On Her Birthday.)
Seventy years her feet have trod
The hard and beaten paths of men.
Many her kin are 'neath the sod,
Now's passed her three score years and ten.
She toils for God and for the right,
And all times works with all her might.
—My grandmother.

Her hair has turned from gray to silver
Or silver bright; her face is lined
With all the cares that she has seen,
And for two sons for whom she's pined.
She's old, and yet she loves the gay,
And every night for her I pray—
My grandmother.

With heart so pure it lightens up
Her seamed and careworn face,
Which she alone can bear. Her cup
Of happiness now flows above
The brim. Today her birthday 'tis;
I'm very proud to say she is—

GET READY FOR THE CHASE.
SPECIAL TRAIN FOR HUNTERS.

The open season for hunting deer and moose in Northern Ontario is rapidly approaching. South of the French and Mattawa rivers, Nov. 5 to Nov. 20 inclusive; north and west of these rivers, Oct. 25 to Nov. 30 inclusive. North of the Transcontinental Railway line, the season is from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15 inclusive.

The Canadian National Railways traverse the finest hunting territory in this country. This fact, with their special and regular train service, makes "The National Way" the premier line for the hunter. The hunting grounds are so vast there is game for everyone.

The selection of grounds is most important matter, and one which requires careful study. The territory reached by the Canadian National lines, north of Parry Sound, is already a favorite one, but the new country east and west of Capreol is as yet comparatively little known to the hunter and should, therefore, be highly attractive to the follower of the deer and moose.

The Canadian National Railways are providing special train service, which, with regular trains, will meet all demands. Special trains will be operated as follows: Leave Toronto Union Station 11:15 p.m., Oct. 31, for Capreol and intermediate points, and 11:15 p.m., Nov. 2, 3 and 4, for Key Junction and intermediate points.

The usual ample accommodation of sleeping cars, baggage cars and coaches will be provided.

The Annual Hunter's Leaflet, issued by the Canadian National Railways, is now ready for distribution, and may be obtained on application to any agent of the company, or write General Passenger Department, Room 607, Royal Bank Bldg., Toronto.

Germany Today.

RETURNING from an extended trip through Germany, Herbert Swope, executive editor of the New York World, adopts the novel plan of giving his impressions by the publication of notes made in his book during the trip. He has the faculty of touching on a lot of material, and in these notes giving a very good picture of what he saw. Some of his notes follow:

"Germany today is like a great beehive in which every bee is busily engaged in and outside the hive, working with feverish energy but unable to store up honey. Everything is shadowy; there is no substance."

"The Germans say they cannot pay the reparation bill. It must be added, in the interest of truth, that they do not want to pay it and would not if they could."

"In Germany Great Britain is easily the most popular of foreign nations. France is regarded as seeking only the destruction of Germany. America is considered to be false to its promises."

"The only sure thing about Germany is that nothing is sure. That is why Germany is becoming all things to all men."

"If monarchy returns to Germany I doubt if it will be a Hohenzollern. The throne is more likely to be offered to a Bavarian."

"Eventually, however, Germany will become a real republic; the time will depend on her work-out of the processes of political education."

"In the first six months of 1922 almost 700 newspapers and other periodicals were forced to suspend publication in Germany because of the tremendous increase in the cost of production."

"Russia no longer looms as the promised land for Germany. The average German thinks of Russia with dread, for fear that what occurred there may be repeated in his own country by its own Reds."

"As one travels through the countryside one sees the fields alive with the very young and the very old, and almost all of them women. Scarcely a man between 20 and 45 is to be seen at work on the farms. Most of the men between these ages were killed in the war. For every man or boy seen in the fields, there are 40 women or girls."

"There are few cows visible in Germany, most of them having been seized for reparations."

"In the villages and on the farms one seldom sees the inhabitants in shoes; they all go barefoot."

"Shaved heads among the men are rapidly becoming a national characteristic; it saves hair-cutting expenses."

"In the larger cities every well-to-do family has to take in at least one or two poor students as boarders, either free or for nominal sums."

"The German attitude toward the Kaiser varies, but on the whole, the bulk of the people seem to feel that he should have gone down with his ship—that he should have died with his troops. They talk of the Kaiser of the period before 1914 with veneration; they speak of the Kaiser at Doorn with contempt."

CANADA'S BUFFALO HERD.
Q.—What is the number of Canada's buffalo herd?

A.—Canada's buffalo herd, at Wainwright, Alta., numbered 6,146 in August of 1922, a natural increase in a year of over a thousand.

PROBLEMS IN HISTORY.

Do You Know—The fundamental differences between Aryan and Semitic languages?

Do You Know—How Chinese grammar differs from English grammar?

Do You Know—Why literal translation from Chinese into English is impossible?

Do You Know—The romantic story of the development of languages?

Answers in tomorrow's installment of H.G. Wells' "Outline of History."

languages are not different things, they are variations of one thing. The people who use these languages think in the same way.

At one time in the remote past, in the Neolithic Age, that is to say, 6,000 years or more ago, there may have been one simple original speech from which all these Aryan languages have differentiated. Somewhere between the Black, Caspian and Aral Seas of today. Perhaps it sent out arms to the Arctic Ocean. It must have been a pretty effective barrier between the Aryan speakers and the people in Northeastern Asia. South of this sea stretched a continuous shore from the Balkans to Afghanistan. Northwest of it a region of swamps and lagoons reached to the Baltic.

Tomorrow—"Languages East and West of the Red Sea."

Age, which was a spoken speech perhaps 4,000 or 3,000 B. C., was by no means a primordial language or the language of a savage race. Its earliest speakers were in or past the Neolithic stage of civilization. It had grammatical forms and verbal devices of some complexity. The vanished methods of expression of the later Palaeolithic peoples, of the Azilians, or of the early Neolithic kitchen-midden people, for instance, where probably much cruder than the most elementary form of Aryan.

Where Aryan Developed. Probably the Aryan group of languages became distinct in a wide region of which the Danube, Dnieper, Don and Volga were the main rivers, a region that extended eastward beyond the Ural Mountains, north of the Caspian Sea. The area over which the Aryan speakers roamed probably did not for a long time reach to the Atlantic or to the south of the Black Sea beyond Asia Minor. There was no effectual separation of Europe from Asia then at the Bosphorus. The Danube flowed eastward to a great sea that extended across the Volga region of Southeastern Russia right into Turkestan, and included the Black, Caspian and Aral Seas of today. Perhaps it sent out arms to the Arctic Ocean. It must have been a pretty effective barrier between the Aryan speakers and the people in Northeastern Asia. South of this sea stretched a continuous shore from the Balkans to Afghanistan. Northwest of it a region of swamps and lagoons reached to the Baltic.

URGE EFFICIENT HOSPITAL WORK

Better Standards Is Plea of Surgeons At Opening Session.

192 Delegates Register For Convention At Western University.

Better standards of efficiency for hospitals of the province was the plea of all speakers at the opening session of the Ontario congress of the American College of Surgeons which opened at Western University Medical School, Monday afternoon. "Hospital Day" saw 192 delegates to the two-day convention registered, and these along with several score Londoners packed the Medical School auditorium to capacity to hear the addresses of brilliant speakers.

Possibly the most outstanding feature of the afternoon was the complimentary praise accorded London for the splendid hospital facilities here by all visitors who took part on the program. The session opened with Dr. George McNeill of London, chairman of the Ontario section of the American College of Surgeons, presiding.

Dr. Franklin T. Martin of Chicago, director-general of the American College of Surgeons, was the first speaker. Taking for his subject, "The Hospital Program of the American College of Surgeons," this surgeon gave a resume of the history of hospital standardization on this continent, since it was started by the American College of Surgeons, in 1916.

Inspect Hospitals.

"We first decided on a minimum standard for hospitals," said Dr. Martin, "and sent out eight young medical men who had served as internes in hospitals to inspect the hospitals of United States and Canada with over 100 beds."

He pointed out that the first year saw 85 out of 700 hospitals meeting the standards laid down, while this year 600 of those hospitals have so improved in efficiency that they have been admitted as standardized institutions. This fact showed the value of the program as carried out by the American College of Surgeons.

The surgeon's viewpoint of hospital standardization was then presented by Dr. John Osborn Polak of Brooklyn, New York.

"Your slogan should go out in this country to make the community safe for the sick by better hospitals," he began. "By the methods of improvement in standards as laid down by the American College of Surgeons, the patient is the gainer. The American College of Surgeons is striving to make the surgeon more careful. His work is reviewed by his peers, and he has got to stand on his feet before his peers."

Must Stand Criticism.
"The surgeon must stand the criticism. That is what the American College of Surgeons means to the surgeon, because it gives better service. It is subjecting us to the criticism of our peers, and we cannot stand that very long if it is unfavorable."

The attitude of the Ontario Medical Association toward hospital standardization was then laid before the meeting by Dr. T. V. Routley, secretary of that body. He declared that the Ontario Medical Association is ready and willing to co-operate in this movement for better hospitals.

Answering the criticism that the American College of Surgeons is a United States body, the speaker asserted that this is not the fact, but that the organization is international in scope, although the official name may be regarded as not applicable by some Canadians. He suggested that this fact be considered by officials of the college with a view to adopting a more suitable name.

"The Soul of Hospital Standardization," was the subject chosen by Rev. C. B. Moulinier, president of the Catholic Hospital Association of America, who delivered an inspiring address.

Points Out Danger.

"There is a danger in anything standardized that it will be externalized," he began. "Review may become a burden. This afternoon I have come to the conclusion that you know more about the soul of hospital standardization than I do. You seem to be making for the real thing here in London. Diagnosis is the heart and soul of the whole medical profession, and that has improved fifty per cent in the last five years because of hospital standardization. There are few in the medical profession, thank God, who have not the sense of conscientious responsibility."

Regarding the excellent medical system observed in Victoria Hospital the speaker said, "Where does most of your knowledge in medicine come from? It comes from records 11-100 years old, and conscientiously kept for centuries. The rest comes from your research laboratories. The medical profession in every phase of its work is being bettered by this so-called hospital standardization. Who cares where it comes from, and who cares where it goes to?"

"I say take it for what it is worth, no matter where it comes from, and bless those who gave it to you."

Discusses Relationship.
Expressing much pleasure at the opportunity to be back in London, again, Dr. D. A. Craig, formerly medical superintendent of Queen Alexandra Sanatorium and now provincial commissioner for the Canadian Red Cross in Nova Scotia, discussed the relation of the hospital and the community.

"Are we making use of the opportunities in our hospitals?" he queried. "The opportunities to teach health. The biggest thing in public health today is to teach it. That is making people willing to be healthy. Let them go out from the hospitals healthy and also carrying the seeds of a health lesson to the community."

"The hospital is not giving returns in dollars and cents to the community, but in the repair of human bodies. Hundreds of dollars are involved for every person returned to health. In people there is an inherent fear of the hospital, but we should get them to feel that the hospital is a splendid place to receive the best scientific treatment.

"We should give the patients a kindly welcome at the door," continued Dr. Craig. "Little things often turn the people against a hospital. When I come to London to tell the people about hospitals I feel like the chap whom it is related, tried to tell Noah in heaven about the Johnstown flood, and was surprised that he was not interested."

"There are no better hospitals than these in London, where I am proud to say I live."

Explains Records.
An illustrated lecture on the value of hospital records was given during the afternoon by Dr. George Ramsay of London, and his remarks were followed by an address by Dr. Roy Kingswood, chief resident interne of Victoria, who explained the splendid case record system inaugurated at Victoria Hospital.

"A hospital may be described as a public utility filling a position of need," began Dr. Ramsay. "As such its function is to give service, and that service to be effective must be efficient. What place, then, have records in that service?"

"The patient has the priority of claim and has a right to expect that

There was also an effort made to link in harmonious union with hospital records those documents required in dispensary and follow up social service. Six months later we had the satisfaction of seeing almost an identical system described in the Modern Hospital for a hospital that compared with ours in size and service."

"I wish to acknowledge the pioneer work of the late Dr. J. L. Stapleton in laying the foundations of our record system in Victoria Hospital, London, which has been carried on by Dr. J. R. N. Childs," concluded Dr. Ramsay, "also the sympathetic support of trustees, staff, internes and record clerk in making the effort possible."

The meeting was concluded by a round table discussion led by Malcolm T. MacEachren, M.D., president of the American Hospital Association and Associate Secretary for Canadian Affairs, the American College of Surgeons, continued by E. R. Secord, M.D., of Brantford.

On Tuesday, which is "Doctors' Day," clinics and clinical demonstrations will be held at Victoria and St. Joseph's Hospitals during the morning, followed by luncheon in the Children's Hospital, with the members of the hospital trust acting as hosts.

At one p.m. the surgeons were the guests of the board of governors of Western University at luncheon at the War Memorial Hospital for Sick Children.

PAYS $50,000,000 IN WAR LOAN INTEREST TO U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A check for $50,000,000, drawn to order of the treasurer of the United States, was deposited today by J. P. Morgan & Co. in the Federal Reserve Bank as the first payment on account of interest on British war loans. The British government has been sending large amounts of gold and United States dollars to the Morgan firm, the fiscal agents, for many months in anticipation of this payment.

Today J. P. Morgan & Co. presented a large number of checks and United States treasury certificates, maturing today to a member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and received in exchange the check for $50,000,000, which was deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank.

Eminent Convention Guests Inspect Children's Hospital

Voice Admiration for Beautiful Building, Cheery and Bright from Basement to Roof.

"Beautiful, beautiful," was the murmured comment heard from Rev. C. B. Moulton, S.J., president of the Catholic Hospital Association, as he descended the steps of the War Memorial Children's Hospital on Monday afternoon following a tour of inspection. His enthusiasm for the beautiful new building, completed all but equipment and patients, was shared by the many other delegates and visitors attending the convention of the Ontario Section of the American College of Surgeons, who visited the new institution during the day.

The sunniest building in all London smiled a welcome in the cheerful October sunshine, which obligingly lasted all day long. Never was there such a bright, clean and cheerful-looking place, both outside and in, the ideal setting for boys and girls on the road to health and happiness, to release from bonds of sickness, and pain.

From basement to "roof garden" not a nook was left unexplored, and so glorious was the autumn-painted panorama that lay in all directions, so clean and satisfying the air, that those who climbed to the top were loath to go down to earth again, almost envying the little patients who are to be privileged to have cots up there.

All day long Mrs. Arthur H. Smith and other members of the War Memorial Children's Hospital were on duty in the small reception hall to the right of the entrance to welcome and give information. Each hour a staff of assistants, members of the various women's organizations in the city, letter perfect in guiding, owing to the assistance of blue prints, conducted parties through the hospital.

A marked personage in the throngs of guests, hostesses and demonstrators was Master Bobbie Huntley, aged 15, who knows perhaps better than anybody else in all of London what can be done by medical science to make it possible for a crippled child to walk about like other boys, to take his place creditably in school and look forward to a life of usefulness as a good citizen. Once upon a time Master Bobbie's only means of locomotion was a little express wagon, which he managed to push around in the sun room of Victoria Hospital. Doctors and nurses persisted in their efforts to win for him freedom and strength, and Bobbie himself put up a valiant fight. He was assisting in demonstrating on Monday the light celluloid splints which support his spine as he walks about, emancipation after the weight of plaster casts that were formerly necessary, but torturing. The boys and girls treated in the children's hospital are going to enjoy the advantage of the new kind of splints, or jackets, which have been in use in Victoria Hospital since last spring.

The young pioneer is in the third grade in Lorne Avenue School, and hiking it immensely, though he was glad to take a day or so off for a good cause. While much is still left to the imagination in the way of furnishings of the new hospital, one room, all complete, which evoked much enthusiasm, was the milk room, all finished in spotless white enamel, even to the iceless refrigerator, exterior, and the steel shelves on which are kept fascinating blue and white bowls, scales, measuring cups, and babies' bottles in wire baskets, all ready to be plunged into the hot water for sterilization. One beautiful feature about the bottles is that they are to be exclusive property, names written on frosted strips to tell which belongs to Tommy Jones and which to Nellie Smith.

Dolls and Black Cats. "I want a kitten just like that," sighed more than one home-maker enviously. Talking about bottles for babies, upstairs in the exhibit of linen for the hospital, and other necessities, are little bottle covers, so the glass containers won't slip in baby hands. And that reminds that just nearby is a fascinating boy doll, one of an enormous family of dolls which awaits the pleasure of small patients after opening day. If the little ones do not like dolls, then they are sure to be overjoyed by the most fascinating cats, some elongated cats with long, curly tails, others cats with short, furry tails.

On the ground floor, which boasts the ideal milk storage room, is also located the detention ward, kitchen, out-patient department, clinics, etc. The diet kitchen, office and waiting

THAMESFORD W. M. S.

Despite the very disagreeable weather of Wednesday afternoon, about sixty ladies were present to listen to a very inspiring address given by Mrs. D. C. McGregor (Marian Keith) of London, at the annual thank-offering meeting of the W. M. S. of St. Andrew's Church, Thamesford. Mrs. McMillan, a former member of this society, but now of London, also addressed the meeting. A vocal duet was given by Rev. and Mrs. Galbraith. Lunch and a social hour followed the meeting. The offering amounted to over two hundred dollars. The society is planning to hold a bazaar early in November.

THANKOFFERING BRINGS $28.

A collection of $28 was taken at the thankoffering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Knox Church, Embro, last week, when Mrs. Miller, vice-president of Glenora, W. M. S., gave an address on missionary work.

EMBRU SEWS FOR NORTH.

Embro Women's Institute is busily engaged in making up flannellette and children's clothing for the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario, planning to send along as well second-hand clothing in good condition. Decision to do so was reached at the October meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Montgomery.

Mrs. E. J. Cody gave an excellent paper on current events. Other interesting part in the program were Jean Holmes and Mrs. W. J. Hetherington.

"WATCHES STEP" IN DUBLIN, ESCAPES SHIPWRECK IN FOG

Exciting Experiences Mark Other-

McIntosh.

To narrowly escape shipwreck in a fog on her way back to Canada and be obliged to "watch her step" very carefully, were incidents of an otherwise happy summer for Mrs. James McIntosh, 68 Bruce street, who arrived home Monday forenoon after spending several months in the old country, making her headquarters in her old home in Aberdeen, Scotland.

The Metagame, on which she sailed home, just escaped being rammed by a Norwegian freighter in a few yards through the timely reversing of the engine. The boat was held up for an anxious period.

Dear Cynthia Grey:
Once more a contribution comes from The Advertiser Mail-Box for the War Memorial Children's Hospital, this time for $37, bringing the total up to $755, and leaving just $245 to collect. As the hospital will soon be opened, the Circlettes should make a special effort to make up the balance. I am anticipating a speedy response to the call. With best wishes to the members. The Advertiser Mail-Box, Sincerely yours,

L. K. CAMPBELL,
Hon. Treasurer Hospital Fund.

GIVEN FAREWELL.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker, Fullerton street, last week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker and Miss Anna Walker, who are leaving the city. A happy feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Walker of a pipe and case; Mrs. Walker, a purse, and to Miss Anna, a pair of ivory bird vases. The address was read by Mr. Archie Campbell, and the presentation was made by Mrs. Flurschnetz. Cards were enjoyed during the evening, followed by a dainty supper. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Flurschnetz, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Troups, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Keniff, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. Snellgrove and Miss Helen Snellgrove, Mr. Cecil Walker, Miss Brothers, Mrs. White, Miss Cadoo, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley, Mr. Klein, Mr. Tafford, Mr. and Mrs. Deluca, Mr. and Mrs. Garside. The prizes were won by Miss Cadoo, Mrs. Cook, Mr. Dawson and Mr. Troups.

REPORT LOSS OF 1,000,000 PESOS IN TAMPIO FIRE

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—Property valued at more than a million pesos was completely destroyed by fire at Tampico today, according to dispatches received by the newspapers here today. The destroyed property covered five blocks. The original of the fire is unknown. This is the third destructive fire that has occurred in Tampico within a few months.

Laundering Linen For S. C. H.

CONTRIBUTIONS of service much appreciated by the War Memorial Children's Hospital committee are offers which have come from the Parisian and Forest City laundries to launder the linen for the new hospital before it is marked. The big task will be divided between the two institutions.

Following a rousing meeting in London in connection with the Western Ontario publicity campaign, the Ilderton Red Cross Society, of which Mrs. A. Shore is president, has guaranteed $500 for the hospital. The balance has been received of $300 from the Ivey estate, a memorial to the late Helen Ivey, to take the form of endowment of a crib, and St. Peter's Church Patriotic Society has given a donation of $50.

"A CROP OF TIMOTHY."

Keen interest has been awakened in the humorous lecture to be given by Rev. Dr. Sowerby of Maitland Street Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, in Robinson Memorial Methodist Church, under the auspices of the choir. His theme is "A Crop of Timothy." A musical program of exceptional merit is promised as well, in which the Excelsior male quartet and Miss Cahill and Mr. Wells, violinists, will take part.

WOMAN TEACHERS' GUILD.

An address by Miss Topley, Thomas on "Canadian Authors" was an informing and interesting feature of the October meeting Monday afternoon of the Woman Teachers' Guild, held in Alexandra School. Arrangements were approved with regard to the lecture course, to be given by Prof. Hodder Williams Nov. 10 and 11, and arrangements made for a rummage sale, to take place Oct. 27. A part of the proceeds of the latter will go for the relief of the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario.

ATTEND WOMEN'S BOARD.

London will be represented by six delegates at the annual meeting of the Dominion Board of the Women's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of England in Canada, to be held in St. Thomas Parish House, opening Tuesday. Mrs. Frank Anderson, new Huron diocesan president, who has just arrived in Canada, after spending the summer in England, stops over in Toronto for the meeting on her way home. Other diocesan officers present will be Miss Gower, Dorcas secretary; Miss J. Moore, literature secretary; Mrs. Arthur Shaw, girls' secretary; Miss Adelaide Smith, treasurer, will attend as a Dominion life member, and also Mrs. David Williams. Mrs. Williams went down to Toronto the end of last week to attend a preliminary executive meeting, representing Mrs. Anderson.

GIVE SPECIAL SUPPERS.

Meeting Monday afternoon, the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. J. P. Finnegan is president, completed arrangements for the series of three special suppers in connection with the membership campaign in progress, the first to take place after the meeting on Monday, the second on Thursday evening next, and the third Monday evening, Oct. 23. Mrs. A. J. McTavish was appointed convener of the special suppers for the season. The regular suppers, under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Wigmore, were inaugurated for the season a couple of weeks ago, with the reorganization of clubs and classes. Mrs. Oliver Keene, convener of the house committee, reported that a number of new curtains had been made and hung, all the old curtains laundered, and several towels purchased for the Y. M. C. A. The program included a Bible reading by Mr. J. M. Thomson and solo by Miss Kunz.

HOLD RED CROSS ANNUAL.

The annual meeting of the London Branch of the Canadian Red Cross is announced for Thursday afternoon next, October 19, at St. Andrew's Hall.

GIVE DOLLAR EACH

London Teachers' Association Aiding Educationists in Fire-Swept North.

A dollar from each member will be the contribution of the London Teachers' Association for the assistance of teachers in fire-swept areas of Northern Ontario. This decision was reached at a well-attended meeting of the association, held Monday afternoon in Alexandra School, presided over by Principal F. G. Newhouse of Riverview School. It was further decided to send the contribution through Mr. Charles G. Fraser of Toronto, who for years has taken charge of arrangements for the teachers' excursions through New Ontario.

Announcement was made with regard to the educational excursion of the teachers to Windsor on Friday before Thanksgiving, the second day's program of the London Teachers' Association. The Windsor Board of Education is entertaining the London educationists, and has arranged to close all Windsor schools that day but the two new ones, the special objectives of the visit, in order to afford the Windsor teachers an opportunity of meeting the London guests and exchanging ideas with them. Windsor has adopted a platoon system, in which the London association is particularly interested.

Miss Manton of Winnipeg arrived in town Monday evening to assume duty on the nursing staff of the Victorian Order of Nurses in London, to which she has just been appointed.

Among the hostesses who entertained in honor of Miss Edna Morikin, whose wedding is taking place Tuesday, were Mrs. E. Nopper, Mrs. William F. Clark and Miss Madeline Christopher.

A number of parties have been arranged for the informal dance being given at the Winter Gardens Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Janey Canuck and Overseas Chapters, I. O. O. E.

Mrs. Jack Barnard entertained at a Winter Garden party, Monday evening, in honor of the McConnell-McPhillips wedding party. Later Mrs. Barnard took the guests, numbering 35, on to her home in King street, where supper was served.

Sir George MacLaren Brown and Lady MacLaren Brown of London, England, who have recently arrived in Canada, will be week-end visitors in town, the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Ernest Brown Smith, "Tuelly."

The choir of St. Peter's Cathedral marked its appreciation of the service of the church and Mrs. John Nopper by the presentation on the eve of their nuptials, of a very handsome and useful piece of household furniture.

Mrs. Edward Horsey of London, England, who is visiting at present in Ottawa, where she is the guest of Miss Horsey, is coming back to London for a further visit with her parents, Dr. Peter Macdonald and Mrs. Macdonald, before returning to England.

Among other guests in town for the McConnell-McPhillips wedding are: Mr. Charles McCarthy of Minneapolis, who is to be best man; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Coad of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McConnell of Omaha. The latter are guests with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cook, Queen's avenue.

Miss Doris Belton was the hostess of a charming handkerchief shower and tea Monday, given at her home in Richmond street, in honor of Miss Eleanor McPhillips a bride-elect of this week. Pink and mauve flowers decked the attractive tea table, where Mrs. Wilso-Purdum presided at the tea hour.

An interesting event of Monday for the members of Trinity Chapter, O. E. S., was the official visit of the worthy grand matron for Ontario, Mrs. Rockwood of Toronto, who was the guest of honor at a dinner, previous to the meeting, at which the executive had the pleasure of meeting her. Mrs. B. Noble, worthy matron, graciously performed the duties of hostess.

Mrs. F. Dewey, sen., of Highbury avenue, was the charming hostess of a handkerchief shower, held at her home on Friday evening, in aid of the coming bazaar of the Church of Christ, corner Dundas and Elizabeth streets, to be held Dec. 7. The evening was spent in games and music, after which a dainty supper was served. An interesting feature of the shower was the presence of so many gentlemen as well as ladies.

Following the Rotary Club luncheon on Monday, at which Mr. R. I. Watson, director of the Western Ontario campaign on behalf of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, asked for 20 men with automobiles to finish up the grand drive this week, a gentleman from New York, a guest of the day, inquired of Mr. Watson

Are Invited To Hear Dr. MacEachern.

ALL members of women's organizations in the city, and any others interested in the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses, are included in the invitation to hear the director-general of the order, Dr. M. T. MacEachern, president of the American Hospital Association, in room 116, new Medical College, at 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, the meeting to be held under the auspices of the local board of the V. O. N. Dr. MacEachern is illustrating his lecture on the work of the Victorian Order in Canada with a number of fine lantern slides.

about memorials in the hospital. Finding that he could endow a crib for $500, the visitor promptly gave his check for that amount, refusing to permit his name to be published.

A jolly children's party took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mockler, 1085 Oxford street, when they entertained a number of little folk in honor of the birthday of their daughter Reta. The house looked very pretty, decorated with bright-colored balloons, ferns and autumn flowers.

A dainty supper for the little guests spent the evening in games and music. A number of grown-ups came in to join in their merriment, and Mrs. A. Mason, Mrs. F. Mason, Mrs. C. Kinsley acted as tea assistants. The guests present were Mary Belcher, Helen Belcher, Teresa Kinsley, Marjory Mason, Nora Mason, Jack Kinsley, Jack Mason, Jimmy Belcher, Harry Belcher and the little sister and brother in the house, Angela and Vincent Mockler.

Miss Phyllis Wilson was the hostess of a delightfully informal tea last Saturday afternoon at her home on Queen's avenue. At the tea hour Mrs. E. Brown of Montreal poured tea at a table decked with dainty pink rosebuds, maiden hair fern and glowing pink candles. The guests included Miss Kitty White, Miss Helen Talbot, Miss R. Nichol, Miss Elsie Wood, Miss Jean Meek, Miss Helen Lindsay, Miss Verda Vincent, Miss Muriel Wainwright, Miss Jean McIntyre, Miss Norval McDougall, Miss Gladys Sharpe, Miss Helen Gillespie, Mrs. F. Burgess, Mrs. L. Summers, Miss Marjorie Archer, Miss Marjorie Haskett, Miss Dorothy Haskett, Miss Katherine McDermid, Miss M. Ballantyne and Miss Lillian McDougall.

Golden October sunshine made "Wintertime," the country home of Dr. Hendry, and Mrs. Williams, doubly attractive Monday afternoon for the tea, given in honor of Mrs. Franklin Martin, wife of Dr. Martin of Chicago, and Mrs. M. T. MacEachern, wife of Dr. MacEachern, president of the American Hospital Association, and director-general of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Many of the guests took advantage of the splendid "Wintertime" golf course, while others enjoyed a stroll over the spacious grounds. "Wintertime" was served later indoors, where cheery grate fires burned, and excellent music was supplied by an orchestra. Masses of autumn flowers were tastefully arranged throughout, and were also used on the tea table, where Mrs. Gordon Ingram and Mrs. George Grange presided. The many guests were ushered to the tea room by Mrs. F. B. Ware. A number of young girls acted as assistants, including Misses Louise Duffield, Margaret Seachard, Jessie Gillespie and Kathleen Cowan.

Very few people who enjoyed the act "A Doorstep Romeo," presented by Len Carle and Dolly Inez at Loo's Theatre last week, were aware that the talented Miss Dolly Inez was a Western Ontario girl, whose real name previous to her marriage was May Martin. Born in St. Thomas, she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin, to Saginaw, where she continued her study of music. Her voice and dramatic ability there attracted much attention, and she eventually went on the stage, enjoying success in both light opera and the drama, before marrying and going with her "partner" into vaudeville. Playing the "Big Time" circuits with Mr. Carle, she arranged a side trip to London, in order to visit her old home in St. Thomas and relatives in this city. While in London she was a guest in the home of her cousin, Mr. Raymond Evans and Mrs. Evans, 4 Kennon Place. A holiday was also taken last week, in order to visit her aunt, Mrs. Peter Wilson, 34 Forest avenue, St. Thomas. She has left for Toronto, where she will pay visits in the homes of several relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gough, Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. Neil McGill. After playing in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal she goes to Pittsburg and Rochester, and thence to New York.

Individuality!

Every woman does love individuality in her millinery. She loves her hat to be "something different"—and hers alone. With a Gainsborough you are sure of this individuality. For your Gainsborough will be ever so smart—and not another like it in town.

And Gainsborough models—beautifully made—and from the very best materials—combine all the beauty of line, the daintiness and the chic of their Parisian patterns. In the more exclusive shops, you will find these hats of individuality. And every one of them has the Gainsborough label in the lining.

The FLAMING JEWEL

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

For the second time, Love made its appearance in the whirlpool of passions that surrounded the flaming jewel, that priceless gem, stolen first from the COUNTESS OF ESTHONIA by the great international thief, QUINTANA, and stolen from Quintana by MIKE CLINCH.

It was love of the now beggared countess that made JAMES DARRAGH swear to restore the jewel to her. He traced it, to Clinch's disreputable hotel in the Adirondacks, where he worked under the name of Hal Smith. Now love was appearing in the life of beautiful EVE STRAYER, Clinch's step-daughter, and the one influence for good in Clinch's crime-stained career. Eve, captured by Quintana and threatened with torture to make her reveal the flaming jewel, escaped from his savage clutch and was brought to camp by STATE TROOPER STORMONT.

Stormont stood guard while Clinch and his gang, went into the night to wipe out Quintana's gang, and with them KLOON, the rum-runner, and LEVERETT, the trap-thief, who had escaped with the jewel packet when it slipped from Eve's arms as she was being carried into the camp after her escape.

Go on With the Story.
CHAPTER V.

IN the hot, uncomfortable silence, neither spoke. Trooper Stormont seated himself after a while. And after a while, Eve turned on her pillow and part way toward him.

Somehow they both understood that it was friendship which had subtly filled the interval that separated them since that amazing day. "I've often thought of you," he said—as though they had been discussing his absence.

No hour of the waking day that she had not thought of him. But she did not say so now. After a little while:

"Is yours a lonely life?" she asked in a low voice.

"Sometimes. But I love the forest."

"Sometimes," she said, "the forest seems like a trap that I can't escape. Sometimes I hate it."

"Are you lonely, Eve?"

"As you are. You see I know what the outside world is. I miss it."

"You were in boarding school and college."

"Yes."

"It must be hard for you here at Star Pond."

The girl sighed, unconsciously:

"There are days when I—can scarcely—stand it. . . . The wilderness would be more endurable if I were alone."

But even then:

"You need young people of your own age—educated companions."

"I need the city, Mr. Stormont. I need all it can give; I'm starving for it. That's all."

She turned on her pillow, and he saw that she was smiling faintly.

Her face bore no trace of the tragic truth she had uttered. But the tragedy was plain enough to him, even without her passionless words of revolt. The situation of this

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

JACK rushed across the field, soon meeting a farmer. "Hurry," pleaded Jack, "my horse just fell, and I think his neck's broken." "All right, sonny, I'll take care of him," the farmer said and rushed across the field.

"WELL," said the farmer when he returned, "your horse's neck isn't broken, but his feet are. It may be months before he'll be able to walk again. I think you had better leave him here until then." Jack was broken-hearted.

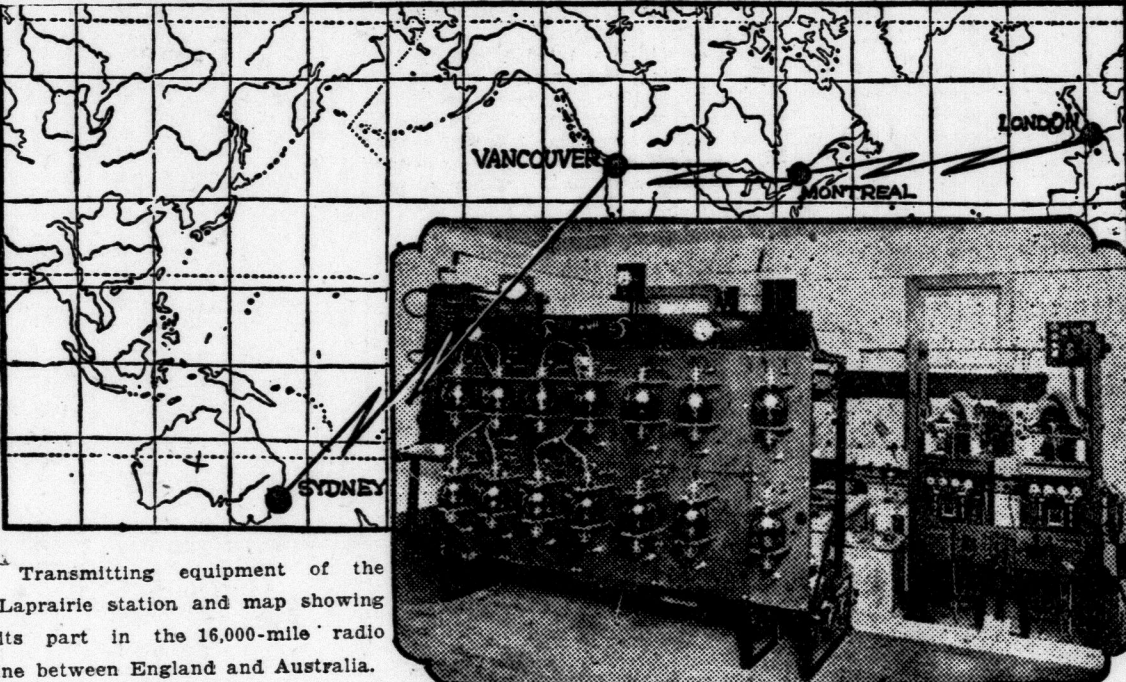

JACK then hurried on as there was nothing to be gained by staying. "Well, I must be nearing the end of my journey," the boy said to himself, after he had read a warning sign by J. B. OGRE. "I must be near his dungeon." Continued in next chapter.

Radio Radiations

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 16.—Completion of the new Marconi wireless station at Laprairie, near here, is expected to reduce the time between England and Australia, to a matter of only a few minutes.

By means of this and other similar stations messages will be flashed from London to Sydney faster than they have ever been sent. They will leave London on an air route of some 16,000 miles and will be relayed automatically through stations at Louisburg, N. S., Laprairie, Winnipeg and Vancouver, to their destination in Sydney. Perhaps, with the further development in the efficiency of radio, some of these stations will be eliminated in the span of space between London and Sydney.

Transmitting equipment of the Laprairie station and map showing its part in the 16,000-mile radio line between England and Australia.

Experiments have been conducted at this new station, by which it is expected revolutionary changes will be made in the transmission and reception of radio messages. All are directed toward the elimination of time over large distances.

"Duplex Service." The most notable series of experiments still going on lies in the development of "duplex service," in which receiving and transmission are carried on simultaneously. This has already been accomplished and there is only the development of efficiency and details before the system can be put into practice.

Use of an earth screen system of wires has also been the subject of experiments considered of high scientific value.

As part of the worldwide wireless chain planned by Great Britain, the Laprairie station is considered an important link. Every detail of its construction is a top-notch product in the series of radio advancement.

The aerials are strung between two towers 300 feet high and 600 feet apart. There is a six-wire transmitting aerial, besides a receiving antenna. Two more transmitting aerials and apparatus are contemplated on the same site. The earth screen obviates the necessity of any ground connection.

The transmitting equipment consists of eight oscillating tubes of three kilowatts each and six rectifying tubes. Messages are sent out at a 3,000-meter wave length, on continuous waves, and do not interfere with the sending or reception of ordinary broadcasting programs in the vicinity.

Thousands of girls were in the contest and thousands were eliminated because they had followed the present fad of plucking or shaving the eyebrows to attain the slender penciled effect.

The artists who judged the beauties said this practice destroyed the natural beauty of the eye, and took away the character from the face.

Mrs. Martha Schaffner, head of the beauty parlor of the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York, who studies women from all parts of the country, says that plucking the eyebrows has ceased to be a fad, but has become an established practice.

"Practically every woman we treat has her brows shaped into the line she prefers. I will not say that this destroys the natural beauty of the face, but it does take away a little of the character."

"You can tell much about a woman's disposition and natural tendencies by studying the eyebrows," she continued.

"When I see a woman with heavy, clearly marked eyebrows, I know she has physical vigor and exceptional powers of observation and perception."

"Thin eyebrows tell me a woman is physically weak and vacillating in her opinions. She'll never take a firm, decided stand on any matter and stick."

What Smoothness Shows. "Even, smooth hair indicates evenness of thought and orderly mental habits."

India prints are popular as wall hangings. Some of the best have patterns very similar to an Oriental rug and give the effect of a rug when applied to the wall.

THE actual changes in the fashionable silhouette are not startling. Paris has made few radical alterations.

All the more reason, then, for the insistence this season on trimming, materials, detail of every kind.

One of these minor newnesses is the bertha collar. Another is the high collar—seen on the jacquette blouse and daytime dress—which is stiffly frilled or boned to give the proper height and flare.

Another is the continued extravagance of sleeves. Still another is the importance of the waistline and of belts.

The newest belt, by the way, is the "bolster" beltrolls of the material as thick as one's finger twisted together to make a heavy cord about one's waist.

Plucking Eyebrows Destroys Natural Beauty of Eye

BY MARIAN HALE.

PARIS recently held a contest to find the woman with the most perfect pair of eyebrows.

Mademoiselle Myrtle May won the first prize because of the extraordinary length and slenderness of her brows, while the alluring quality of her dark, oriental ones won second place for Mademoiselle Estelle Gresso.

Thousands of girls were in the contest and thousands were eliminated because they had followed the present fad of plucking or shaving the eyebrows to attain the slender penciled effect.

"IT SCARES ME TO REMEMBER WHAT I TRIED TO DO!"

"I am," she said in a smothered voice. "You'll stay here with me, won't you?"

"Of course, I will. It's just the reaction. It's all over. You're safe. That's all dear. You're safe. Nothing can harm you now."

"Please don't leave me."

After a moment: "I won't leave you. . . . I wish I might never leave you."

In the tense silence that followed her trembling ceased. Then his heart, heavy, irregular, began beating so that she started pulses in her body awoke, wildly responsive.

Deep emotions, new, unfamiliar, were stirring, awaking, confusing them both. In a sudden instinct to escape, she turned and partly rose on one elbow, gazing blindly about her out of tear-marred eyes.

"I want my room to myself," she murmured in a breathless sort of way. "I want you to go out, please."

A boyish flush burnt his face. He got up slowly, took his rifle from the corner, went out, closing the door, and seated himself on the stairs.

And there, on guard, sat Trooper Stormont. Rigid, unsmiling, hour after hour, facing the first great passion of his life, and stunned by the impact of its swift and unexpected blow.

In her chamber, on the bed's edge, sat Eve Strayer, her deep eyes fixed on space. Vague emotions, exquisitely recurrent, new born, possessed her. The whole world, too, all around her seemed to have become misty and golden and all pulsating with a faint, still rhythm that indefinably thrilled her pulses to response.

Passion, full-armed, springs flaming from the heart of man. Woman is slow to burn. And it was the delicate phantom of passion that Eve gazed upon, there in her unapertured chamber, her 'sun-tanned fingers linked listlessly in her lap, her little face like bruised white flowers drooping above the floor.

Hour after hour she sat there

Refugees Improve Shelters in Smyrna Ruins

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—Like their Bedouin ancestors, these refugees in Smyrna have erected Arab-like tents to give them temporary shelter in the charred ruins of the ill-fated city. This exclusive photograph shows a family housed in a rude shelter of stone walls and blanket roof.

he will give him a percentage of his fee. The American College of Surgeons very early in its career attempted to standardize the environment in which surgeons work, and doctors in standardized hospitals sign an iron-bound resolution that they will not split fees.

Explains Objects.

"I am very glad to say that several of your hospitals are on the approved list, and therefore there is no fee-splitting in them. Dr. Martin explained the aims and objects of the American College of Surgeons, which he termed a guild rather than a college, and he also set forth the requirements for membership to this organization.

In conclusion he urged every person present to enjoy good health by safety-first methods of having a physical examination performed by the family physician every birthday, in order to detect disease conditions as soon after onset as possible.

"What Can Be Accomplished by Routine Pre-Natal Care" was the subject of an interesting address delivered by Dr. John Osborn Polak of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"If I can demonstrate to you the actual economic value of pre-natal care perhaps my message can be applied to Ontario," he said in part. "Did you ever realize that perhaps today there is a child born who is going to be a leader of men, and it is you who have got to give that child his birthright of health?"

Dr. Polak pointed out the tremendous infant mortality due to social diseases of the parents, and asserted that the foetal deathrate can be reduced by proper pre-natal care, in addition to better health provided for the women of the country. He used many lantern slides to illustrate his remarks.

Lauds Medical School.

"An audience like this is sure to make better hospitals," said Rev. C. B. Moulton, S.J., president of the Catholic Hospital Association, in his opening remarks. "You have a wonderful new medical school building and a most attractive War Memorial Hospital for Sick Children. Victoria and St. Joseph's Hospitals are also splendid."

"The medical profession is gradually assuming the proud position it has held in the past with honor and power that the world has never seen the like of before. You have the right to medical service whether you can pay or not, and the profession of medicine deserves more than we can ever give. But their skill is not theirs. It is yours. If the public will only appreciate that the medical profession knows this, and wants it understood hardly a day will pass but that a hospital will be standardized or become worthy of standardization."

Speaking on "Modern Public Health," Dr. D. A. Craig, provincial commissioner for the Canadian Red Cross in Nova Scotia, kept his audience in an uproar by the witty sayings which interspersed his brief and sage remarks.

"Health is a national problem," he asserted. "It is a patriotic duty. That duty begins with you in your own home. Are we patriotic in our daily duty? We want you to pledge to do all you can in spreading health. The greatest thing today is health education. Have we the vision of a great national life which leads us to go right home for better health and personal service?"

"Go home with a personal resolution to put your shoulder to the wheel of progress for health," he concluded. Dr. M. T. MacEachern, director-general of hospital standardization in Canada for the American College of Surgeons and president of the American Hospital Association, urged those present to insist that accurate records be kept of their individual cases.

Dr. Crie Speaks.
Dr. George W. Crie of Cleveland, known to many Londoners by reason of original work on human emotions, was the next speaker. Taking for his subject, "Experimental Medicine," Dr. Crie pointed out the many advantages to be obtained as a result of this branch of study.

"I have no quarrel with death," he began. "I cannot conceive of anyone living a thousand years. The type of death we object to is the untimely death, cutting off the value of the scientific medicine can increase the security of life and greater efficiency of human beings in the period of their usefulness."

"The average period of life has been increased fifteen years in the career of scientific medicine. Goitre has been found out to be preventable being due to lack of iodine. That is a result of experimental medicine. It is the duty of this generation to the next generation to have an entirely goitre-free community. It might well be done."

Some results results of experimental medicine were taken by Dr. Crie from army reports, showing the enormous decrease in the prevalence of typhoid fever, tetanus or lockjaw and wound fever during the war, in comparison to previous campaigns. Dr. E. R. Secord of Bradford, president of the Ontario Medical As-

Scientists Will Probe Uses of Soft Coal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—The personnel of a special committee of government scientists under the direction of Dr. Charles Campbell, deputy minister of mines, created for the purpose of investigating the feasibility of adapting Canadian soft coal to furnace use, has been practically decided upon.

In addition to other duties the committee will also give considerable attention to educating the public with regard to the best means of using coal.

Regarding these critics, he said in part: "They have asked in no uncertain terms why an American organization should come over to Canada, and try to tell us what our hospitals should do.

Traces Improvements.

"Probably the best answer to that is that the sick man making a fight for his life recognizes no geographical boundaries, that the word American is continental rather than political, and that in the decade, more or less, of its existence the American College of Surgeons has had and has among its regents the outstanding figures in Canadian surgery, has had a Canadian president—no less a revered person than my distinguished friend, Dr. George Armstrong of Montreal, and has had one of its annual meetings in this Canadian city, and last, but by no means least, that all the inspection of Canadian hospitals has been done by Canadians, particularly by Dr. Ponton of Vancouver, and by our distinguished friend, Dr. Malcolm McEachern, born in Ontario, trained in the medical sciences in Ontario, for some time superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, the greatest medical center in Canada, associate director of the American College of Surgeons, and, mark you, now president of the American Hospital Association."

He traced the improvement in hospital conditions in Canada, but deplored the fact that Ontario is away behind the other provinces in this regard.

"What can you do to help?" he asked. "See that your hospital is standardized."

In opening the meeting Dr. George McNeill outlined the objects of the meeting, one of which, he asserted, was: "The American College of Surgeons wishes to take the public into its confidence."

"I wish to thank the local papers for their generous and loyal support," said Dr. McNeill. "They have lived up to the best traditions of the press."

Mayor J. Cameron Wilson, M.D., officially welcomed the visiting speakers to London, and expressed pleasure at their presence. The meeting was under the patronage of the municipal bodies of London, the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine and the board of governors of Western University. During the evening Mrs. Robert Durst and Mr. A. L. Christiani entertained by solos. Charles E. Wheeler presided at the piano.

REMANDS A. TIEDERMANN ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Alfred Tiedermann, arrested by County Constable William Fifield on a charge of assaulting C. H. Webster of Manor Park and occasioning bodily harm, appeared before Squire W. H. Chittick in county court late Monday afternoon. He was remanded for one week.

Webster appeared in court with a discolored optic and injured back. Human bones used to be kept as amulets and charms, and the oldest known fetish is the thigh bone of a mammoth.

LONDONERS EAGER FOR GRAND OPERA

Stirs Up Interest in Musical Circles.

So we are going to have grand opera in London: the first announcement, made on Saturday, has stirred our musical circles and has awakened a general interest. It is not often that we are favored here with entertainments of this high order, and especially by a company which is proclaimed by the Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa press as the "best opera company that ever visited Canada."

London will not belie its reputation of an artistic and musical center; the five performances given here can accommodate about 8,000 people, and we are sure there are more than 8,000 among us who are anxious to hear good music.

It cannot be repeated too often that the De Foe Grand Opera Company, which is to give this season of grand opera, is undoubtedly the best that ever came here; the success obtained by them at the Toronto Exhibition, where they played before 60,000 people during one week, is ample proof that they have the goods, as they say across the border.

The repertoire chosen for London is the most attractive and the most varied that could be desired; every school of music is represented there; Verdi is a masterpiece of the romantic period. Butterfly and Tosca are the best works of Puccini, the master of melody; Carmen is the masterpiece of the French school, and Cavalleria Rusticana and Pagliacci are the beloved twins of every body.

The company, with its 30 members, including its own orchestra of 25, carries three cartloads of scenery and costumes, and it is to be wondered at, at the low prices which are charged for these performances. It will almost be a moral crime to miss any of these performances when so much trouble and pain is taken to give Londoners what is best in lyric drama.

There is more than one surprise in store for the public when the casts are announced and the pedigrees of the principal artists are given. The sale of the seats starts today at the Grand Opera House.

KOOTENAY COAL FIRMS SECURE HYDRO POWER

Company Closes Contract With Hillcrest Collieries and Sells Electricity to Whole Territory.

CRANBROOK, B. C., Oct. 16.—The East Kootenay Power Company has closed a contract to supply its electric power to the Hillcrest Collieries, Limited, and is now selling power to every one of the coal mines in this territory.

These coal companies find they can buy hydro-electric power more cheaply than they could manufacture it from their own coal at their own pit heads.

BUTTERNUTS PLENTIFUL IN HARRISTON DISTRICT

Special to London Advertiser.
HARRISTON, Oct. 16.—If an abundance of nuts of all kinds, the supply of squirrels and other rodents may be taken as an indication of a severe winter, then that is certainly in store for us. Nature, during the present season, has been lavish in this as in other directions. There are many trees in this vicinity of butternut variety which are loaded heavily this year, and especially those in front of the McKenzie home on King street, where the small boys gather in multitudes with sticks and stones for the purpose of securing their supply of this nut fruit for the winter.

Everywhere in this locality this species of tree seems to thrive well, and considering the value of the wood, like walnut, and the demand for the nuts, the wonder is that more of them have not been planted on streets and grounds and farms.

The forestry department is ever willing to supply trees of many varieties to those desirous of reforesting woodland or establishing a new forest.

GAINS LIBERTY AFTER FIVE TIMES TRIED FOR MURDER

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 16.—John Paris, who was held in custody for more than a year and who was tried five times in connection with the murder of Sadie McAuley, on Aug. 2, 1921, in Riverview Park, was this morning given his liberty by Chief Justice McKeown, upon entering up his own recognizance for $1,000.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE DELIGHT AT GRAND

Crowded House Applauds
"Bringing Up Father On His Vacation."

"Jiggs and Maggie" long ago "fought" their way into the somewhat wayward and changeable affections of the general public, and in proof that the amiable couple are yet far from being ousted, that same general public, family turned out to the Monday night performance at the Grand Theatre in full force to strengthen their friendship with this human, humorous, quarrelling, comical pair.

The theatre was completely packed. After the management had provided extra chairs there was still a large number who took advantage of standing room.

It would have been lamentable if the crowd who turned out in such an eagerly expectant mood had been disappointed, but there was no room for disappointment in the laughs which followed as Jiggs appeared—the real Jiggs, who comes with Sunday breakfast and the weekly paper, Maggie, with the inevitable rolling pin in hand, the semi-rolling pin, together with Dinty Moore, of doubtful repute, but useful on occasion, and the beautiful daughter and her handsome, heroic lover.

Most of the adjectives with which to describe a really good musical comedy, could be used to advantage in an account of "Bringing Up Father On His Vacation," and then we still have Jiggs and Maggie as an added attraction.

Not only are they true to their popular representation in cartoon form, but they are a pair of extremely clever players who in a score of ways demonstrate their immense ability and versatility.

Jiggs and Maggie are true comedians, able to intersperse their characterization with a bit of dancing here and a song there, always highly enjoyable and without a doubt the most amusing couple who ever appeared here.

Sassafras, Maggie's butler, is not so well-known a character, but he came well to the force in the performance with his clever impersonation of a negro butler and his brief, bright flashes of black-face comedy.

The entire cast were well chosen and able. Kitty, the Mahoney's daughter, was a particularly charming and vivacious dame, who made a success of her songs and dancing, not only by their merit, but by her quaint and fascinating personality. She is a type very different from the usual musical comedy belle and very worth while seeing.

If the satisfaction of the audience is sufficient proof, "Bringing Up Father On His Vacation," went over big, leaving Jiggs and Maggie more than ever firmly entrenched in the affection of the public and also leaving those who witnessed the performance highly delighted with it and its rollicking hilarity and fun. And just one more word—the jokes in the show are not only new jokes, but real jokes, that will stay with the listener long after the performance.

The cast:
Jiggs, Mahoney, the same old father, Danny Simmonds; Maggie, his same better half—only worse, Alice Dudley; Kitty, their daughter, Gertrude Morgan; Jack O'Connell, her sweetheart, William Frick; Miley, a scheming young widow, Nicodemus Glynn; Dinty Moore, Jiggs' pal, the same dead beat, Edward J. Morris; Sassafras, the Mahoney's butler, Nick Glynn.

ST. THOMAS MEN TO STAND TRIAL OCT. 30

Will Face Charge of Breaking Into Home of Alderman
Boehmer.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 16.—Dates for the trials in the Boehmer robbery case were set Monday morning, when Robert McGuire and Clarence Campbell appeared before Judge D. C. Ross and pleaded to the charge.

On the Boehmer charge Campbell pleaded guilty. On another charge of breaking and entering the home of George Laur, Aylmer, on Sept. 1, he pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by Judge Ross, without a jury. This case will be heard Oct. 30.

McGuire pleaded not guilty to the Boehmer charge, and will be tried on Monday, Oct. 23, with a jury.

It is alleged by the crown that McGuire and Campbell were among those who broke into the home of Ald. E. O. Boehmer, Margaret street, in the early morning of Sept. 12, during Mr. Boehmer's absence, and tried for six hours to obtain from Mrs. Boehmer the combination of a vault in the basement, in which they believed a stock of liquor was kept.

MRS. L. J. HILL, OF ST. THOMAS PASSES, AGE 68

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 16.—One of St. Thomas's most respected citizens, Louisa Jane Hill, wife of Thomas J. Hill, passed away at her home, 23 Queen street, on Sunday evening. Mrs. Hill (formerly Miss Louisa Davis) was born in Brighton Sussex, England, on September 1, 1854. She came to St. Thomas in 1872, and was married by the Rev. Mr. Caulfield on November 20 of that year to Thomas J. Hill, completing, at the time of her death, within almost one month fifty years of happy wedded life.

Mrs. Hill was a member of the First Methodist Church of this city and was a member of the Bible study class. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her death four daughters and five sons: Mrs. John McEain, 17 Margaret street, city; Mrs. Arthur Jones, Toronto; Mrs. Ernest J. Reed, Adrian, Mich.; Mrs. George Pirie, Niagara Falls, Ont.; William G. Hall, Windsor; Frank B. Hill, Wainwright, Alta.; Herbert T. Hill, Montreal; Harold L. Hill, city, and Gordon J. Hill, at present with his brother in Wainwright, Alta.

The funeral, which will be private, will take place on Wednesday from the family residence, 23 Queen street.

Do you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?
Do you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?
Do you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.
If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.
The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

The Kaiser's Memoirs

By WILHELM VON HOHENZOLLERN,
(Former Emperor of Germany)

CHAPTER IX.

MY close relations with the army are a matter of common knowledge. In this direction I conformed to the tradition of my family. Prussia's kings did not chase cosmopolitan mirages, but realized that the welfare of their land could only be assured by means of a real power protecting industry and commerce. If in a number of utterances, I admonished my people to "keep their powder dry" and "their swords sharp," the warning was addressed alike to foe and friend. I wished our foes to pause and think a long time before they dared to engage with us. I wished to cultivate a manly spirit in the German people. I wished to make sure that, when the hour struck for us to defend the fruits of our industry against an enemy's lust of conquest, it should find a strong race.

In view of this I attached high value to the educational duty of the army. General compulsory military service has a social influence upon men in the mass equalled by nothing else. It brings together rich and poor, sons of the soil and of the city; it brings acquaintance and mutual understanding among young people whose roads, otherwise, would lead them far apart; the feeling that they are serving one idea unites them. And think what we made out of our young men! Pale town boys were transformed into erect, healthy, sport-hardened men; limbs grown stiff through labor were made adroit and pliable.

I stepped direct from brigade commander to king to repeat the well-known words of King Frederick William III. Up to then I had climbed the steps of an officer's career. I still think with pleasure of my pride when, on the 2nd of May, 1889, during the spring parade, I first stood in the ranks before my grateful subjects.

Relations with the individual man have always seemed valuable to me, and, therefore, I particularly treasured the assignments, during my military service, where I could cultivate such relations. My activities as commander of a company, a squadron and a battery, likewise as head of a regiment, are unforgettable to me.

I felt at home among my soldiers. In them I placed unlimited trust. The painful experience of the autumn of 1918 have not diminished this trust. I do not forget that a part of the German people, after four years of unprecedented achievements and privations, had become too ill to withstand being corrupted by foes within and without. Moreover, the best of the Germans lay under green sod; the others were slain in the events of the revolution which had been held to be impossible that they could not spur themselves to act.

Compulsory military service was the best school for the physical and moral toughening of our people. I created for us free men who knew their own value. From these an excellent corps of non-commissioned officers was formed; from the latter, in turn, we drew our government officials, the like of whom, in ability, incorruptibility and fidelity to duty no other nation can show.

Believe me, officers still loyal. And it is from these very elements that I receive nowadays signs of loyalty, every one of which does me good. My old Second Company of the First Infantry Guard Regiment has shared, through good and evil days, the vicissitudes of its old captain. I saw them for the last time in 1913, in close formation—still 125 strong—under that excellent sergeant, Hartmann, on the occasion of the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of my accession to the throne.

In view of its proud duty as an educator and leader of the nation in arms, the officer corps occupied a particularly important position in the German Empire. The method of the officers' vote, had been lodged in the hands of the various bodies of officers themselves, guaranteed the needed homogeneity. Harmful outcroppings of the idea of caste were merely sporadic; wherever they made themselves felt they were instantly rooted out.

I entered much and willingly into relations with the various officer corps and felt like a comrade among them. The materialistic spirit of our age, to be sure, had not passed over the officer corps without leaving traces; but, on the whole, it must be admitted that nowhere else were self-discipline, fidelity to duty and simplicity cultivated to such an extent as among the officers.

A process of weeding out such as existed in no other profession allowed only the ablest and best to reach positions of influence. The commanding generals were men of a high degree of attainment and ability and—what is even more important—men of character. It is a difficult matter to single out individuals from among them.

Though the man in the ranks at the front was always particularly close to my heart, I must, nevertheless, give special prominence to the general staff as a school for the officer corps. I have already remarked that Field Marshal Count Moltke had known how by careful training to build up men who were only up to requirements, technically speaking, but also qualified for action demanding willingness to assume responsibility, independence of judgment, and far-sightedness. "To be more than you seem" is written in the preface to the "Pocket Manual for the General Staff Officer."

Field Marshal Count Moltke laid the foundations for this training; his successors—Count Waldersee, that great genius, Count Schlieffen, and General von Moltke—built upon them. The result was the general staff, which accomplished unprecedented feats in the world war, and aroused the admiration throughout the world.

I soon realized that the greatest possible improvement of our highly developed technical department was absolutely necessary and would save precious blood. Wherever possible, I worked toward the perfection of our armament and sought to place machinery in the service of our army. Among new creations, the very first place is taken by the heavy artillery of the army in the field. In bringing this into being, I was obliged to overcome much opposition—particularly, strange to relate, in the ranks of the artillery itself. It is a source of great satisfaction to me that I put this matter through. It laid the foundation for the carrying out of operations on a large scale, and it was long before our foes could catch up with us in this direction.

Better Military Equipment. Mention must also be made of the machine gun, which developed from modest beginnings to being the backbone of the infantry's fighting powers; the replacement of the rifle by the machine gun multiplied the firing power of the infantry while, at the same time, diminishing its losses. Nor can I pass over without mention the introduction of the movable field kitchen, which I had seen for the first time at some manoeuvres of the Russian army. It was of the greatest value in maintaining the fighting efficiency of the army, since the possibility of getting sufficient nourishment kept our troops fresh and healthy.

All human work remains unfinished. Nevertheless, it may be said, without exaggeration, that the German army, which marched to battle in 1914, was an instrument of warfare without an equal.

Whereas, at my accession to the throne, I had found the army in a condition which merely required development upon the foundations already laid, the navy, on the other hand, was in the first stage of development. After the failure of all the attempts of Admiral Hollmann to move the recalcitrant reichstag to adopt a slowly progressing, systematic strengthening of German sea power—largely due to the cheap catch-words of Deputy Richter and the lack of understanding of the Liberals of the Left, who were fooled by them—the admiral requested me to retire him. Deeply moved, I acceded to his request; this plain, loyal man, the son of a genuine Berlin bourgeois family, had become dear to me through his upright character, his devotion to duty and his attachment to me. My friendship with him, based upon this estimate, lasted for many years up to the moment of the admiral's sudden death; it often caused me to visit this faithful man, endowed with fine Berlin wit, at his home, and there to associate with him as head of the German Oriental Society, as well as to see him, in a small circle of intimates, at my own home, or to take him with me as a treasured travelling companion. He was one of the most faithful of my faithful friends, always retaining the same in his disinterestedness, never asking anything for himself. Happy the city which can produce such citizens! I preserve a grateful memory of this tried and trusted friend.

Admiral Tirpitz succeeded Hollmann. In his very first reports, which laid the foundation of the first naval law, he showed himself thoroughly in accord with me in the belief that the sanction of the Reichstag for the building of warships was not to be gained by the old form of procedure, as I have already pointed out, the opposition was not to be confined; the tone of the debates conducted by Richter was unworthy of the importance of the subject; for instance, the gunboat obtained in the reichstag by the Poles, under Herr von Koscieska, was jokingly dubbed "Koscieska." Ridicule was the weapon used, though future of the fatherland was in question.

It was necessary that the representative of the navy should have a solid phalanx behind him, both among the ministers of state and in the reichstag, and that it should, from absolute conviction, energetically support him and the cause. Therefore, there was need of communicating to the reichstag members, still rather ignorant in naval matters, the details of the great work; moreover, a great movement must be engineered among the people, among the "general public," indifferent as yet, to arouse its interest and enthusiasm for the navy. In order that pressure from the people itself might be brought to bear upon the reichstag members. To this end, an energetic propaganda was needed, through a well-organized and well-directed press, as well as through eminent men of science at the universities and technical high schools.

Fight in the Reichstag.

There was need of a complete change in the whole method of handling the matter in the reichstag, about individual ships and docks. In making up the military budget, no arguments arose over the strength of the army, unless it was a matter of new formations. The make-up of the navy, like that of the army, must be settled by law once for all, its right of existence recognized and protected. The units composing it must no longer be a matter for debate. Moreover, not only the officer corps but that of non-commissioned officers must be strengthened and trained, in order to be ready for service on the new ships. At the beginning of my reign, sixty to eighty cadets, at the most, were enrolled every year; in the last few years before the war several hundred asked admission. Twelve precious years, never to be retrieved, were lost by the reichstag; it is even harder to create a navy overnight than an army.

The goal to be striven for was implied in the law, which expressed the "idea of risk"; the aim was to cause even the strongest hostile fleet to think seriously before it came to blows with the German fleet, in view of the heavy losses that were to be feared in a battle, which put the foe in danger of becoming too weak for other tasks. The "idea of risk" was brilliantly vindicated in the Skagerrak (Jutland) battle; the enemy, in spite of his immense superiority, dared not risk a second battle. Trafalgar was already dim; its laurels must not be completely lost.

The total number of units (ships) on hand—it was principally a matter of ships of the line—was taken as a basis for the naval law, although these, with the exception of the four ships of the Brandenburg class, were little better than old iron. The naval law was looked upon by many laymen, in view of the numbers involved, as a naval increase. In reality, however, this was a false view, since the so-called existing fleet was absolutely no longer a fleet. It was slowly dying of old age—as Hollmann said when he retired; included in it were almost the oldest ships still in service in all Europe.

Why Are Good Eggs So Hard To Get?

"Mother, it can't be done; I've tried all the varieties of 'Strictly Fresh,' 'New Laid,' etc., etc., but I cannot depend on them at all."

THE old story, and repeated daily in thousands of Canadian homes. The egg of quality, for which there is a natural demand and eager desire, is hard to obtain.

There is a solution and it rests with the consumer to demand eggs that are graded according to the Government standard grades.

A Universal Food

Few people realize how large a share of the world's food supply is provided by the hen. Eggs serve as human food the world over, and the variety of dishes in which eggs are included is well-nigh infinite. In Europe, Asia, darkest Africa, America—among civilized nations and barbarous people alike—eggs have been an important item in the food of mankind since history began. Their value as nourishment ranks even ahead of milk. They contain all the elements needed by the human body for energy, growth and repair. Eggs contain the vitamins necessary to life and health.

Eggs are easy to digest, easy to cook and prepare. Use more eggs—eggs on the table, eggs in puddings, cake and custards, but make sure that you ask for graded eggs.

Ask for 'Specials,' 'Extras,' 'Firsts' or 'Seconds'

Eggs displayed for sale in containers which are marked or labelled with the name of any Government grade, must be equal to or better than such class or grade. This is your guarantee that the eggs you buy, if so marked, are according to Government standard grades.

Scrambled Eggs
Country Style
Heat omelet pan, put in two table-spoons butter, and when melted turn in four unbeaten eggs. Cook until white is completely set, then stir until cooking is completed. When whites will be thoroughly set. Season with salt and pepper.

Curried Eggs
3 Hard-boiled Eggs,
2 Tablespoons Butter,
2 Tablespoons Flour,
¼ Teaspoon Salt,
¼ Teaspoon Curry Powder,
¼ Teaspoon Pepper,
1 Cup Hot Milk.

Melt butter, add flour and seasonings, and gradually pour in hot milk. Cut eggs in eighths lengthwise and reheat in sauce.

Proper Way to Poach Eggs

Fill two-thirds of frying pan with boiling salted water, allowing ¼ tablespoon of salt to one quart water. Put two or three buttered muffin rings or egg poacher in water. Break each egg separately into saucer and carefully slip into muffin ring or poacher, so that water covers the egg. When top films over and white is firm, carefully remove with buttered skimmer and serve on buttered toast.

Eggs in Batter
Mix 1 egg,
¼ table-spoons of thick cream,
2 table-spoons fine stale bread crumbs and ¼ teaspoon salt. Put one half tablespoon of mixture in egg shirrer. Slip in egg and cover with remaining mixture. Bake six minutes in moderate oven.

How to Boil Eggs Properly

Place carefully into boiling water deep enough to cover and remove saucepan to back of stove, where water will not boil. For eggs "soft boiled," leave in 6 to 8 minutes. For eggs "hard boiled," leave in 10 to 15 minutes. To be perfectly cooked they should be placed and kept in water at a uniform temperature of 175 degrees.

If hard-boiled eggs are needed for preparation of salads or other dishes, when cooked plunge into cold water to prevent discoloration.

Scalloped Eggs

3 Hard-boiled Eggs,
1 Pint White Sauce,
¼ Cup Chopped Cold Meat,
¼ Cup Buttered Cracker Crumbs.
Chop eggs finely. Sprinkle bottom of a buttered baking dish with crumbs, cover with one-half the eggs with sauce, and then sauce with meat. Repeat. Cover with remaining crumbs. Bake on centre grate of oven until crumbs are brown. Ham is best, but chicken, veal or fish may be used.

Frank White Presents Trophy At Banquet For Girl Teams.

As a wind-up for a successful season the Y. W. C. A. Girls' Softball League held a banquet Monday evening in the Smallman & Ingram's dining-room.

A happy feature of the evening was the presentation of a trophy, a silver cup, by the donor, Frank White, M. P., to the Smallman & Ingram's, who won first place in the league, beating the Shamrocks in the finals. Miss Curran, captain of the team, received the cup on behalf of her team.

A silver basket, containing roses, was presented to Miss Edith Dewar, vice president of the league, by the donors.

Short addresses were given by the various captains of the teams. The guests included Mrs. Donald McLean, acting president of the Y. W. C. A., in the absence of Mrs. C. B. King, Frank White, M. P., and Mrs. W. J. Gordon, M. P., who was the physical education committee of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Gordon, who is the physical education committee of the Y. W. C. A., was assisted by Mrs. Dennis, John Petherbridge, who has taken a keen interest in the league all season, and the umpires, Messrs. J. B. Ferguson, W. Legg, and J. B. Ferguson, who were the referees of the league's games. The banquet was a success, and the girls' softball league will start next Tuesday with six teams—two from London, one from London and one from London.

FIVE INTERNATIONALS DROPPED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The list of players selected to represent England against Ireland in the international next Saturday, discloses the fact that five forwards who played against Scotland in the final international last year have been dropped from this year's team. It is evident that the selectors think that an attempt must be made to build up an attack that will show more penetrating power than in the last campaign, when only two goals were obtained in three matches, and many fine opportunities to score were lost.

The players selected, according to the announcement made today, follow: Taylor, Huddersfield; Smith, West Bromwich; Hartow, Charlton; Moss, Aston Villa; Wilson, The Wednesday; Grimbell, Tottenham; Carr, Middlesbrough; Sed, Tottenham; Osborne, Fulham; Chambers, Liverpool; Williams, Clapton Orient.

Reserves—Watson, Burnley; Elliott, Middlesbrough.

MAJOR LEAGUERS SAIL FOR JAPAN THURSDAY

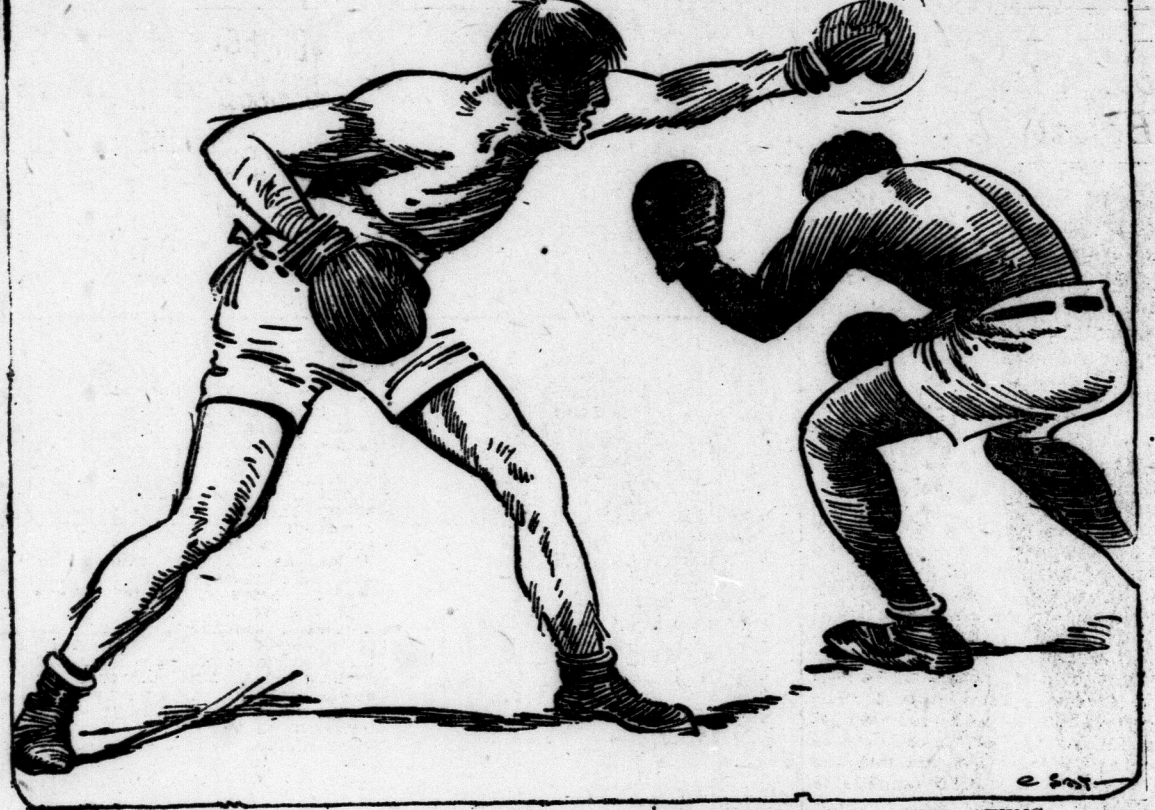

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The group of major league baseball stars who will undertake to instruct adaptable Nipponese in the finer points of the game departed last night for the first leg of their trip to Japan. The team, under the direction of Harry Hunter and Frank F. (Chuck) O'Neill, will sail next Thursday from Vancouver, returning in February by way of Honolulu.

INGERSOLL'S WEDNESDAY RACE CARD FILLS UP

INGERSOLL, Oct. 16.—Ingersoll's big race meet on Wednesday is already assured a splendid field of horses. Entries have been pouring in, and the announcement was made today that every class will be filled. JACK WOULD GET IN CLOSE ON SIKI Can't Understand Carpenter's Defeat by Black.

CARPENTER LIKES TO STAND OFF AND START THAT LONG LEFT SWING

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—"Either Siki is quite a fighter," remarked Jack Dempsey, "or else Carpenter either is through or he entered the ring against the Senegalese in poor condition."

"I'm inclined to the last opinion," Dempsey is a great ball fan.

"Carpenter," Jack continued, "is a fine chap, and I felt his defeat keenly."

"He used poor tactics in playing constantly for Siki's jaw."

"The only way to beat those fellows is to get in close and hammer away."

"Carpenter likes to stand off and start that long right-handed swing."

There was nothing discouraging in the defeat handed London's rugby teams Saturday, and there was a great deal of encouragement in Elks' fine showing against Woodstock College.

Elks undoubtedly deserve a great deal of credit for the way they are carrying on, independently and with little blare of trumpets attending their efforts.

Elks will probably be able to enter Junior O. R. F. U. next year with but very little strengthening. The O. R. F. U. management would be only too glad to use several of their players right now, and it would be to Elks' advantage to allow their members to play for the big team. It would not mean the disbanding of their team in any way, and for those selected for the intermediate team it would be the best training in the world.

There is little cause for discouragement on the part of the Western players. The team depends too largely on Traynor's kicking ability and possesses no outstanding feature outside this dependability of the half-back to boot the ball. The team is, therefore, as a whole, decidedly average, and great credit is due not only to Coach Reid, but the team members themselves, for reaching the stage they have. It's been hard, steady grinding, and the results of it shows even in defeat.

Last night the members of twelve girls' softball teams of the Y. W. C. A. League sat down to a splendid banquet, marking the close of a highly successful season. The banquet was held at the Hotel Hamilton, and was a most enjoyable affair.

The "death" of "Midge" Craven, former big league and once manager of the St. Thomas team in the old Canadian League, has brought forth many anecdotes of his "heady" plays in the days when baseball strategy took many unexpected turns.

Midge started his career in Sarnia with the old Independents, and then moved to London, where he was a professional ball team, and was a member of the Port Huron Mint League Club, was manager. He played with Petrolia for a while when the Hard Oil team was a professional ball team, and was a member of the Port Huron Mint League Club, was manager. He played with Petrolia for a while when the Hard Oil team was a professional ball team, and was a member of the Port Huron Mint League Club, was manager.

Other estimates also predicted double the number of softball teams next year. A conservative estimate will probably have been triple the number.

TERRIERS READY FOR BELLEVILLE ONLY 19 MINORS UNDER THE DRAFT

GALT, Oct. 15.—Galt is all "hot up" over Wednesday's big ball game. Petitions were in circulation in the shops today asking for a half-holiday Wednesday after the game, and all the stores will close.

The Terriers had a two and one-half hours' practice today, and battled against the shoots of Marsland, the young Guelph southpaw, and Nickolls of Preston, also a southpaw. They are getting ready to meet "Lefty" Williams.

SELECT LAWYER AS MAGISTRATE

Charles S. Woodrow of Sarnia Receives Lambton County Appointment.

Will Work in Conjunction With H. J. Gorman, of City Court.

SPECIAL TO LONDON ADVERTISER.

SARNIA, Oct. 15.—Charles S. Woodrow, of the legal firm of Macneil & Woodrow of this city, was today notified of his appointment as police magistrate for Lambton county with authority to take over the duties of local magistrate throughout the county, along with Magistrate H. J. Gorman of the city court.

Just at present Magistrate H. J. Gorman has been made in other counties of the province, it is believed that the intention of the attorney-general is to create a closer and trained supervision over the local magistrates of the county who are without legal training.

Woodrow is a native of England and very well known throughout Lambton county. He has overseas with the 14th Lambton battalion, attaining the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

A deadlock has ensued as a result of the notice of dismissal given by Chairman James S. Crawford of the hydro commission to Manager James E. B. Phelps. The latter has consulted legal opinion, and today declared his intention of continuing to sit in the managerial chair on the basis of a yearly contract.

Phelps, in his own defense, points to the success of the local hydro office which last year showed a net surplus of $48,000, and states that personal animosity actuated the chairman.

Mr. Phelps claims that the improvements made in the rented building by the National Engineering Company, including heating and lighting system, more than insures the city against loss. The hydro commission will obtain the opinion of the city solicitor at once.

Chambers of commerce members, who have returned from the provincial meeting at Lindsay, stated today that the outlook is most favorable for Sarnia as the venue of the 1923 and the extension of the Lindsay to Sarnia workers platted the town with placards and banners headed "Lambton—Let's Go—1923." Decision will not be made until February.

Giants. However, he added that, as a baseball expert, he wears no medals. He picked the Yankees to beat the Giants last year.

"He has a lot of swings, but, say, when he meets one right, the old pill certainly takes the count."

Desiring to know how much Dempsey knows about baseball, I asked him if he didn't like the finer points of the game—the bunt, the steal, the hit-and-run, any other plays involving the so-called strategy of the game.

"Sure I do," he answered.

"I enjoy that inside stuff, but the big thrill to me is to see the fellow who packs the home-run wallop."

"It's the same in baseball as in the boxing game."

"The fancy-stealing boxers with the cream puff punch never make the promoters hang out the standing room only sign."

"Ruth won fame in baseball because he could hit farther than any other batsman in the game's history."

"He has the punch."

Favored the Yanks.

Judge Quashes Recent Conviction Against Druggist in Woodstock

SPECIAL TO LONDON ADVERTISER.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 15.—Judge Wallace this afternoon allowed the appeal of E. A. Rea, local druggist, against the conviction registered against him by Magistrate Bell on September 20 on a charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to Thomas Carney in the form of a bottle of invalid wine.

When the case came before the magistrate, Mr. Rea was found guilty and fined $200 and costs. After hearing argument of counsel on the evidence given at the police court trial, Judge Wallace quashed the conviction and allowed costs to the appellant. He could not understand, he said, how and why the magistrate made the findings he did on the evidence submitted, and he disagreed with him on all the points made in the police court judgment.

R. N. Ball, crown attorney, in arguing the case, held that the judge could not review the evidence in the case, taking the stand that so long as the magistrate found in fact that there was evidence to support the charge the evidence could not be reviewed. Judge Wallace disagreed with this argument, saying it would make the appeal judge simply an echo of the police court, which he certainly did not intend to be. Mr. Ball asked for a stay of execution of the judgment, and the case may be taken to a higher tribunal.

CHATHAM TENDERS TRIBUTE TO STAR

Pantomime of Flowers Presented Renowned Artist At Charity Recital.

SPECIAL TO LONDON ADVERTISER.

WALLACEBURG, Oct. 15.—A large number of citizens went over to Chatham to hear Jeanne Gordon, the brilliant star of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, and the company which was accorded to her was one which would stir the innermost feelings of the greatest artist in any country, so enthusiastic was the welcome which awaited her. Miss Gordon, who was accompanied by Giulio Crimi, the famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, came to Chatham for a charge to sing to her own people for a patriotic cause, the War Memorial Hospital Memorial Fund and Needy Returned Soldiers.

An appropriate address of welcome alone had been delivered by R. L. Bracken, K. C., on behalf of the City of Chatham, and J. S. Fraser, on behalf of the citizens of Wallaceburg, Miss Gordon's home town. Mr. Fraser referred to the father and mother of Miss Gordon, pointing out that the father had been a soldier in the war, and the mother had been a nurse.

The flowers presented to Miss Gordon were of the sweetest voice ever heard in Wallaceburg, which sweetness her daughter has inherited, and from her father, the late D. A. Gordon, Miss Gordon inherited her power and timbre.

He also pointed out another inheritance which was shown by Miss Gordon on this occasion, her thoughtfulness and generosity in using her wonderful talent for public good, and made reference to the splendid contribution Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Gordon had made in their love and enthusiasm for music, and now, through their world-renowned daughter, the pleasure derived was universal.

OLD DOCTRINES URGED BY PASTOR

Rev. John Holmes of London Denounces New Theology in Blenheim Sermon.

SPECIAL TO LONDON ADVERTISER.

BLENHEIM, Oct. 15.—Rev. John Holmes of London, a former pastor of the Methodist Church, occupied the pulpit here on Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. N. Hazen, who has been attending the general conference in Toronto and the board of missions of which he is a member.

Rev. Holmes preached two intensely inspiring sermons. His morning theme was, "Let me die the death of the righteous and may my end be like His." From this text the speaker pointed out how all may have just such an end, namely, by living our best with God, our conscience and ourselves. He denounced strongly the tendency today of cleaving away from the traditional doctrines of the church, and reasoned how such new theology, as it is termed, leads to doubt and dismay and loss of hope in the Christian and Saviour of the world.

Such teaching he had observed does not give peace, joy or hope. "I still believe in the old traditions of the church and preach them," asserted the speaker in concluding.

Rev. Dobson of Tilbury, was the preacher at the harvest festival services in the Anglican Church yesterday. From his evening text he drew many helpful lessons for the harvest festival. He, too, remarked that we are living in a great age, but in an age in which materialism seems to be taking a great hold on the minds of many people. He deplored the condition in which some people get where they believe only what they can see, feel or hear. He feared the very bulwarks of the church are being attacked in this age. He pointed out that a harvest festival teaches us to believe in God. The church was beautifully decorated with fruits of the soil. The choir, under the leadership of E. S. Flint, rendered splendid music.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 15.—On payment of costs amounting to $72.50 each, sentence was suspended Monday morning in the case of William Jackson and James Couch of Owen Sound, who were charged with being implicated in the theft of an automobile from P. Carins, Talbot street.

The automobile had been driven to Owen Sound, and the costs included railway fare and damage to the car.

TO PROVIDE a reserve supply of fuel in their yards here, the Pere Marquette Railway have unloaded two cars of soft coal within the last few days. During the strike nearly all the coal stored locally was used, and it is proposed to place a much larger quantity here each winter to take care of any emergency.

UNIONIST PARTY TO MEET OCT. 18

Will Decide Whether To End Coalition or Support Premier.

Austin Chamberlain Will Ask For Vote of Confidence.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—This has been a day of feverish activity in Downing street, the chief development being a summons to the Unionist members of the cabinet and 350 Unionist members of the House of Commons to a conference at the Carlton Club on October 18 to decide whether to break up the coalition or stand by Lloyd George.

The decision to call this meeting was taken at No. 11 Downing street, Austin Chamberlain's home, after consultation of Mr. Chamberlain with his Unionist colleagues and the chief party organizers, among them Sir George Younger, who, it is recalled, "scotched" the premier's general election plan a few months ago on the ground that the party machinery was not ready.

Mr. Chamberlain, as party leader, will preside at the Carlton Club meeting, the result of which the prime minister will await before deciding on his line of action. Mr. Chamberlain will ask for a vote of confidence, and on this will depend his remaining in office and the end of the coalition.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disastrous diet, avoiding all that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can take the most in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the most delicate naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Adv.

Make Desertion of Family Extraditable Offence.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—Wilful desertion or wilful non-support of minor or dependent children has been added to the list of extraditable offences as between the United States and Canada.

The addition was made as the result of a supplementary convention signed in London on May 15, 1922, by Hon. George Harvey, U. S. ambassador to London, and Lord Curzon, British secretary for foreign affairs.

During general election. It accorded, it will be left for the premier to indicate his course, which, in any case, will not be divulged until after he attends the Prince of Wales' public welcome home at the Guildhall on October 20.

The participation of Winston Churchill, the colonial secretary, in the campaign has been suddenly cut short by an attack of gastritis, which has obliged him to cancel all public engagements. Prior to Mr. Chamberlain's consultation, the premier held a war council, at No. 10 Downing street, with the members of his cabinet, including Mr. Chamberlain, after which he departed for Chequers Court.

Ominous rumblings are heard from labor headquarters. One prominent party official having been quoted as having declared that no fewer than 120 labor candidates would appear in the next election, of whom sufficient would be returned to make it most difficult for any government to resist them.

J. H. Thomas, speaking at Newport, delivered a scathing indictment of the government, which, he said, had lost all prestige and honor. He predicted an election before Christmas and roundly condemned Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion of other parties combining against labor as depriving labor of the right to vote and forcing the men to direct action.

Walter Runciman, at a Liberal meeting at Liverpool, made another onslaught on the government, which, he declared, was vacillating in its foreign policy and inefficient in finance. Lord Gladstone, replying to Premier Lloyd George's attack on him in his Manchester speech, writes to The Times charging the premier with responsibility for menacing a recurring Turkish aggression against the Christian populations, and Europe itself.

URGES BANNING OF TURK FROM EUROPE

Henry Morgenthau, Former U. S. Ambassador To Turkey, Visits Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—"Do I think the Turk should be banned from Europe? I most certainly do," the speaker, Henry Morgenthau, an interesting figure in diplomatic circles and United States ambassador to Turkey in the early days of the war, explained to newspapermen here today the Turkish people as he said them during his two and a half years' term there of office.

Mr. Morgenthau arrived here yesterday, and this afternoon addressed the Canadian Club on conditions in the Near East. "Few perhaps understand who the Nationalist party responsible for the Turkish trouble is," he said. "They are the same people who cowed the old sultan. Those in power in Turkey were not elected by the people, but by an inside ring."

"The ordinary Turkish peasant is docile and good natured, but their leaders will stop at nothing to accomplish their purpose. The original Turk was rough—a marauder—with the nature of a conqueror. I was told once while in Turkey 'Our national game is warfare—we know no other.'"

SCHOOL PUPILS PRESENT DELIGHTFUL OPERETTA

"The Quest of the Pink Parasol" Pleases Wallaceburg Audience.

Special to London Advertiser. WALLACEBURG, Oct. 16.—The concert given by the pupils of the separate school was a gratifying success, and the capacity audience was pleasantly entertained by the clever performance, which was a delightful little operetta, entitled "The Quest of the Pink Parasol."

The following was rendered: "Welcome," by vocal class; drill, Little Wee-Wees, operetta, act one. "Vanity and Discontent," piano duet, Lucy Carey and Elmo O'Flynn, act two. "Moonlight Revels," "The Brownie Autumn Fairies," piano duet, Raphael Rooms and Jack Flanagan, act three. "Retribution and Happiness," "Canada," by the vocal class. Reading of prize essay, "The Future of the Entrance Class of 1922," Harold Hinnegan. "The Pinafore Song," by the senior girls, the "Drill of the Season," by the boys. "God Save the King." The accompanist was Zita Mullins.

FOUR MUNICIPALITIES FAIL TO APPLY RADIAL ACT

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—The provisions of the Drury radial act, permitting municipal councils to call for the construction of a railway between Toronto and Port Credit, and of another railway between Port Credit and St. Catharines, without a further vote of the people, ceased to apply yesterday, as the time limit was put at October 15. Only four municipalities out of 21 affected failed to pass the resolution. The city of Hamilton and the townships of Nelson, Clinton and Grantham neglected to take advantage of the act. As a result, a vote of the ratepayers must be taken on January 1 next, and if the ratepayers of any community other than Toronto wish to have a vote, notwithstanding the act of their council, they may force a vote by presenting a petition signed by 15 per cent of the electors.

CLAIMS GREEKS MAY BURN CITY

Hamid Bey Appeals For Help To Prevent Incendiarism At Adrianople.

Allied Mission Reports Principal Lawlessness by Circassian Irregulars.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—Hamid Bey, in a statement to the allied commissioners appealing for stringent measures to prevent "serious incendiarism at Adrianople," declares that the Kemalists have unquestionable evidence of a plan by Greek irregulars to burn the sacred city.

The allied mission, in a report from Eastern Thrace, reports that the principal lawlessness there is by bands of Caucasian irregulars who came into Asia Minor with the refugees.

Denies Incendiarism. CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—Lt. Gen. Harrington, commander of the allied forces, today denied emphatically that there had been any widespread burning of villages in Thrace and appealed to the British and United States correspondents to use the utmost caution and discretion in reporting events in the evacuated areas, where the situation is most delicate.

"We have airplanes flying over Eastern Thrace," he said, "and they have been unable to detect any fires. On the contrary, they report that evacuation is proceeding satisfactorily."

"The Greek general staff has issued the strictest orders to the population and soldiers against incendiarism or disorders of any kind. The allied armies have made thorough preparations for orderly and peaceful evacuation, and I am confident we shall succeed in carrying out a most difficult task."

Gen. Harrington said that in order to convince the Turkish Nationalist government there was no truth in the widespread reports of burnings he had invited Hamid Bey or his representatives to fly over Eastern Thrace with British aviators.

Asks Reinforcements. CONSTANTINOPLE, 16.—The French military commander at Adrianople has requested Gen. Chapp to send immediate reinforcements into Eastern Thrace, while he declares that the situation is "fraught with danger."

OPEN VAULTS AT HAILEYBURY

COBALT, Oct. 16.—The vaults at the courthouse and at the land titles office in Haileybury were opened today by the provincial police, and their contents were found to be in satisfactory condition. The records and other official documents had been slightly affected by the heat and smoke, but the damage is not serious. It is stated that the district and supreme court sitting, scheduled for the early part of December, have been transferred to New Liskeard.

With the funeral tomorrow morning of H. H. Elphick, secretary to the late Col. A. M. Hay, all but one of the bodies recovered in Haileybury will have been interred. The exception is that of the young girl lying in the New Liskeard morgue, unclaimed and unidentified.

GRANT 8-HOUR DAY TO 25,000 YARDMASTERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—An 8-hour day with overtime, which is said to amount to nearly a 25 per cent increase in pay, was granted to approximately 25,000 yardmasters on 21 class one railroads, and six switching terminals in the United States by the United States railroad labor board today. This is the first time the board has established rules and working conditions for yardmasters, who are now classed as subordinate officials and subject to the board's jurisdiction under the transportation act.

Special to London Advertiser. DELHI, Oct. 16.—Large numbers of black hornets are entering the houses and buildings in this district and hanging in clusters from the ceilings. This is thought to be a sign of an early and severe winter. As a rule they are quiet, but in one of the rural churches last Sunday they became disturbed and flew about, causing some commotion and stinging several people.

FINISH EVIDENCE IN BANK HEARING

George Edwards, Toronto, Accountant, Withdraws Some Former Positions.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—All evidence was completed in the court of sessions here today in the case of Sir H. Montagu Allan, former president of the Merchants Bank of Canada, charged with negligently signing, as president, the October, 1921, return of the bank to the government, alleged to contain false statements.

The principal witness was the Toronto accountant, George Edwards, who was engaged by the government to investigate the bank's affairs and on whose report the minister of finance took action.

Under searching cross-examination by counsel for the defense, Mr. Edwards withdrew from some of the former positions taken up by him in regard to the classification and laid down the view that while he did not think certain transactions had been properly classified, he was not called upon to state under what heading in the October government return they should have been placed.

COMING ELECTIONS AROUSES WOMEN

British Suffrage Constitutes New Force For Politicians To Reckon.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prospects of general elections during the next few weeks has acted as a "call to arms" to the women of the United Kingdom, who, in the event of a parliamentary dissolution, will have their first participation in general elections. (British women were granted the right of suffrage for general elections by the representation of the people act, 1918.)

Already male politicians are attempting to reckon with this new force, which is calculated in some quarters to overwhelm the practice of established party procedure.

It is asserted in some quarters that this is one of the reasons why Prime Minister Lloyd George is so slow in asserting his position in regard to a general election. His party scouts are reported to be already sounding the leading women on their probable attitude at the polls. He also has promised to see many women of the various organizations in the near future.

STRATFORD YOUTH SHOT BY ACCIDENT

STRATFORD, Oct. 16.—Alvin Muir, aged 15 years, lies in a critical condition in the General Hospital, as a result of a shooting accident which occurred Saturday afternoon just outside the city. A rifle bullet entered his head behind the ear. The young lad was in company with several other boys, taking turns in shooting at bottles. Muir reached over to take the rifle from one of the boys and stepped in front of another rifle as it was being discharged. The bullet either lodged in the brain or was deflected from the wound. He is still in an unconscious condition.

FIRE DESTROYS LAKE STEAMER

Crew of the Arrow Cuts Ship Loose From Docks.

Hundreds See Vessel Burn To Water's Edge Off Put-in-Bay.

Special to London Advertiser.

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—One of the most spectacular fires in the history of the lower lakes destroyed the passenger steamer Arrow, of the Sandusky and Islands Steamboat Company, at its dock at Put-in-Bay shortly after midnight.

No passengers were aboard when the fire broke out. The crew were asleep below. They were awakened by the watch, and the fight against the blaze was begun. All efforts to quench it were fruitless. Concluding that the steamer was doomed and fearing for the safety of the dock the crew cut the ship loose. The current and a strong off-shore wind carried it out into Lake Erie, a blazing torch. The entire shore line of the bay was lighted up, and people lined the shores to watch the spectacle. The Arrow was of steel hull construction, 63 feet long. All deck structures were destroyed by the fire and the hold was burned. The damage is estimated at $75,000.

Built in Detroit in 1895, the Arrow has plied ever since between Sandusky and the Lake Erie islands, carrying passengers and freight. She was the only vessel of any size covering this route, and islanders depended on her for mail and food deliveries and carrying of crops to market.

It is understood that the owners are attempting to arrange here for the chartering of the steamer Frank E. Kirby, owned by the Nicholson Transit Company, to cover the Arrow's route for the remainder of the season.

OXFORD BREEDERS WIN HIGH HONORS

Holsteins Take Two Grand Championships At National Show in St. Paul, Minn.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 16.—Oxford County Holstein breeders did remarkably well at the big national dairy show just closed in St. Paul, Minn. Fred W. Lee of Springfield, who had charge of the exhibit of the Ontario Holsteins Breeders' Association, has just returned from the show. He reports it as the best ever held over there. For the first time in history two grand championships were won outside of the United States, and both these came to Oxford County. Aggie Sylvia, bred and owned by McGee Bros., Beachville, won the Holstein female grand championship, defeating the unbeaten champion of six states. The junior male champion was won by Sir Ross Monted Colantha, owned and bred by Haley & Lee, Springfield. This animal the judges considered the most perfect individual they had ever seen. He was afterwards sold for the sum of $2,000 to John A. Bell of Pittsburgh, Pa., to be delivered after the Canadian Royal Show in Toronto.

On Fair day a car disappeared from the street where it was parked in Embro. Next day it was found outside Woodstock city limits. A few days later three young men were arrested in Brantford charged with stealing the car. One was let go on account of his youth. The other two, named Reeves and Youngs, pleaded guilty to the offence before Magistrate Paterson. They had no previous convictions against them and sentence was suspended on payment of costs, which amounted to $91. Reeves managed to secure his freedom, but Youngs was not so fortunate, and is still in jail awaiting the money to pay the costs.

The death took place in Toledo, O.

of Mrs. Dr. Coulter. The deceased was formerly Elsie Munro, and she was a native of West Zorra. She is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. Rush of Bothwell, and two brothers, Duncan of this city and Alex. J. of West Zorra. The funeral takes place in Toledo tomorrow.

BREAKS NECK IN FALL FROM ROOF

BRANTFORD, Oct. 16.—A. Murrell, 17 Alfred street, was killed at noon today, when he fell from the roof of a house that he was repairing. Murrell was working on a contract of his own and was alone at the time. He lost his footing on the roof and fell to the concrete sidewalk, breaking his neck. He was an elderly man with a wife and several children.

Two ways found

Then dental science, after long research, found two ways to fight film. One acts to curdle it, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists the world over began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Those two great film combatants are embodied in it for daily application.

Its new effects

Pepsodent brings other effects which research proved essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the

Must fight film

Dingy teeth and most tooth troubles are now traced to film. One must fight to avoid them.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Stains discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

FARMERS MAY JOIN LIBERALS

Members State Fusion Will Be Discussed At Meeting in Winnipeg.

Hon. T. A. Crerar Claims There Is Nothing To Declarations.

Special to London Advertiser. WINNIPEG, Oct. 16.—Fusion with the Progressive party with the Liberals will be decided upon at a meeting of the heads of the Crerar party to be held in Winnipeg this week, from statements made by members of the party interviewed today.

While the Hon. T. A. Crerar dismissed the subject with a curt, "I have nothing whatever to say," and "there is nothing to it," J. L. Brown, M.P., Pilot Mound, over the long distance phone today, stated that he had heard about the meeting to be held in Winnipeg, but would not say when it was to be held.

R. A. Hoey, M.P., Springfield, is in the city today and has arranged a meeting with Crerar. Hoey is mentioned as successor to Crerar as head of the party in case the fusion plans are not acceptable to the majority.

Crerar is credited with being prime mover in a proposal to form a working alliance with Liberals. At the time this was first moved, he received strong support from several Manitoba and Saskatchewan members. There was strenuous objection to the move, however, from Alberta.

It is stated that Robert Forke, M.P., and J. F. Johnston, M.P., believed there was willingness to examine the terms in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

DISMISSES $20,000 ACTION OF FARMER

Justice Lennox Refuses To Grant Damages To Lorenzo Wiggins.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—Mr. Justice Lennox, at Osgoode Hall today, dismissed the action brought by Lorenzo Wiggins, a farmer of the township of Colchester South, Essex county, against the public school board section No. 10 of that township, for $20,000 damages for illness contracted by his daughter.

His daughter, aged 9 years, was attending the school in the section and in going to an out-building had to cross a pool of water by means of a plank. In doing so she fell off the plank and wetted her feet and legs which, it was alleged, caused her illness. She has been for some time under medical attention and the illness has resulted in a deformity of the spine which will make her a cripple for life.

The plaintiff claimed that the school board was guilty of negligence in allowing the pool to form there. Mr. Justice Lennox, while dismissing the action, did so without costs. He found that the girl may have contracted her illness through exposure in going home from school, or from a chill at an auction sale which she attended. He, however, said that the board had been negligent in the discharge of an important duty and therefore refused costs.

TOTAL POPULATION OF KITCHENER IS 23,571

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Oct. 16.—The annual report of Assessment Commissioner Huehnberg was adopted by the city council at the regular meeting tonight. The report showed an increase in the population of 854, bringing the total population of the city to 23,571, as compared with 22,715 for 1921. The total assessment of the city for this year is $19,598,879, as compared with $18,732,174 for last year, which gives an increase of $866,723. Exempted property is valued at $1,777,861. The number of school children this year is 3,571, as compared with 3,341 for last year.

MILDMAY RUNAWAY TEAM BREAKS WAGON

Special to London Advertiser. MILDMAY, Oct. 16.—A team of horses, owned by Matthew Weiler, broke loose from a shed at the rear of Helwig Bros' store Wednesday morning and galloped madly along Abelson street.

In making the turn at Fred Arnold's store corner, wagon and harness were demolished. The runaway steeds were caught, however, before any further damage was done. No person was hurt.

WINDSOR GRANTS $2,500 TO SUFFERERS OF NORTH

Special to London Advertiser. WINDSOR, Oct. 16.—At a meeting of the finance committee of the city council this morning, a grant of $2,500 to the fund being raised for the fire sufferers of Northern Ontario was approved. As the committee had power to act in the matter, the money was forwarded immediately.

METHODISTS LIFT AMUSEMENT BAN

Adopt More Modified Attitude, But Urge Care and Discrimination.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—Canadian Methodism is now adopting a more modified attitude toward amusements. Years ago there was a positive command in the Methodist discipline to the members to refrain from indulgence in cards, dancing or theatre-going. Later there was a footnote appended to the discipline, removing the barrier, and while leaving the matter to the individual conscience its effect was unfavorable to these amusements.

Now the church instead of banning amusements calls on her people to use care and discrimination to distinguish between the wheat and the chaff. One of the final acts of the general conference was to give approval to the following findings of the committee on the state of the whole work:

"We desire to recognize the liberty of all people to a full measure in regard to all legitimate pleasures, and yet urge that in pursuing the things of passing happiness we do not let our liberty become a cause of offence to others.

"We urge our people to exercise all care and discrimination in all our amusements.

"This is a pleasure-loving age, and our citizens must be the disposed to become careless on many things which mean much to the life and welfare of the church.

"The moving picture is a great means for education and inspiration and amusement, but here also we urge the need of the closest discrimination.

COUNCIL AT KITCHENER APPROVES $500 GRANT

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Oct. 16.—The recommendation of the finance committee that the city grant $500 to the fire sufferers in the township here Saturday for a discussion of the proposed Port Elgin-Saugen memorial arch.

On account of the fine weather, the farmers were too busy to attend a meeting held in the afternoon, and on account of the slim attendance the meeting was postponed.

SIMCOE PRIEST RETURNS FROM TRIP TO EUROPE

Special to London Advertiser. SIMCOE, Oct. 16.—Many friends of Rev. Charles F. Nogle, B.A., rector of the Catholic parish of Simcoe, extended to him a hearty welcome on his arrival home from Rome and other European cities on Friday last.

At the Sunday service of the Catholic parish he was the recipient of a handsome and suitable gift and an address of recognition of the splendid services rendered by him in the interests of Catholics of this community.

MITCHELL RESPONDS TO APPEAL FOR RELIEF

WILL RENDER JUDGMENT IN DELOME CASE TODAY

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—After ascending the bench this morning, Mr. Justice Beaudry announced that he would render judgment in the Delorme case tomorrow.

The question which will be settled by his decision is whether the local courts have jurisdiction to hear the intervention proceedings asked by Adolphe Tetreault, brother-in-law of Abbe Delorme.

GERMANY ARRANGES REPARATION PAYMENT

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The German delegation delivered to the reparations commission treasury 6 per cent notes of approximately 47,500,000 gold marks to cover the $50,000,000 payment due Belgium on Oct. 15. The balance of the amount is already before the commission in the form of miscellaneous receipts.

BOY ATTEMPTS TO STEAL PURSE

Three Holdups Reported At Stratford Over Week-End.

17-Year-Old Youth Said To Be Assailant.

Special to London Advertiser. STRATFORD, Oct. 16.—Three hold-ups are said to have taken place over the week-end, and in each case the assailant is said to be a boy of 17 or thereabouts. Two young ladies had a tussle for their purse with a lad, finally securing it away. A similar attempt at purse-snatching was made on a lady on Douro street. In the third instance the lad obtained the purse, but on being pursued by a man, threw the purse away. It was later found.

Twice knocked down by an enraged steer, Peter Steuck of North Easthope had a narrow escape Sunday. The steer had a broken leg and when Mr. Steuck went to attend the steer it attacked him.

Word has been received here of the death of John Livingston in Chicago, formerly of Stratford. He was manager of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway. He was born in Perth County in 1862.

Wally Horn of Stratford has been appointed Ontario representative of the men's wear and furnishings section of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada on the Dominion committee of the association.

"Fifty thousand dollars will be expended by the Bell Telephone Company in Stratford before June 1 next year," declared J. J. Griffin, local manager of the company. This will be divided as follows: $25,000 for laying underground cable, $10,000 for the installation of an addition to the switchboard, and $15,000 for improving overhead cables.

RAINS AID FARMERS IN FALL PLOWING

Record Acreage Being Turned, Competent Help Handicap in Many Sections.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press).—Recent rains throughout the province have put the land in good condition for plowing and many farmers are turning under all they can. Other fall work is also being pressed, but competent help is hard to procure in many quarters. Opinion is divided as to the acreage of fall wheat sown, some counties showing an increase, while others report a shrinkage. On the whole the area seems to be somewhat less than that of last year.

The apple crop in Norfolk County has been a disappointment, both in yield and quality and the bulk of the crop in that county will be domestic packed. In Welland County apples are selling from $1 to $1.50 a bushel, depending upon variety and quality. The grape harvest is practically over in the Niagara peninsula. Prices have averaged from $60 to $75 per ton. In South Simcoe potatoes are selling at 40c a bag at the elevators. Roots are being lifted, and on the whole are promising well and the weather so far has been favorable for the work. In Lambton County sugar beets are yielding from 8 to 15 tons to the acre, with a sugar test of from 12 to 15 per cent.

MAKE RECORD IN HAULING GRAVEL

Special to London Advertiser. SIMCOE, Oct. 16.—Friday, the 13th, held no terrors for road workers on the Pond Road near Simcoe. It proved a record day for gravel work in this vicinity and for Head Cranesman D. D. Kitchen, on the Norfolk gasoline shovel, who loaded 94 loads of gravel in three hours and fifty minutes, which was hauled immediately to the dumps by six teams, making 16 trips each. It was a speed record for loading and transporting gravel in this vicinity.

HOWICH TOWNSHIP BABY WINS NUMEROUS PRIZES

Special to London Advertiser. MILDMAY, Oct. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor of Howich township are the proud parents of a little baby girl who is winning the medals at all the baby shows of the district for beauty and perfection.

The child won first prize at the baby show in connection with the Mildmay fall fair, while at the Wingham fall fair she won first prize with twenty entries in her class.

HAMILTON PRESBYTERY SANCTION REMOVALS

HAMILTON, Oct. 16.—At a special meeting of the Hamilton presbytery today calls tendered to three ministers were considered and mentioned. Rev. E. C. Cuthbert of Niagara Harbor in the Barrie presbytery; Rev. ROBERT MEAD DIES AT HIS HOME IN SIMCOE

Well-Known Oddfellow Was Victim of Pernicious Anemia.

Special to London Advertiser. SIMCOE, Oct. 16.—A highly-respected Simcoeite and distinguished member of the local order of Oddfellows, passed away on Friday in the person of Robert Waddle Mead at the home of his daughter in Port Dover. Deceased was in his 70th year and had been affected with pernicious anemia for the past ten or more years. His widow and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Dyer of Port Dover, remain to mourn his death. The funeral is being held on Monday afternoon at Port Dover, after which the remains will be brought to Oakwood Cemetery, Simcoe, for burial.

The rural center of Walsh, southwest of Simcoe, was on Saturday afternoon a mecca for thousands of farmers and townspeople from every section of Norfolk County, who gathered to celebrate the annual "Donnybrook" fair in that place. While the innumerable stalls of the fair, the old-time rivalry between rustics from the various sections of the county was abundantly displayed in the marvelous exhibits shown. The Donnybrook assumed the appearance of a wide open market, and scores of loads of pumpkins and other vegetables were sold at a sacrifice by their auctioneer owners.

URGE SARNIA TO SUPPORT HIGHWAY

James Armstrong Addresses Chamber of Commerce At Weekly Luncheon.

Special to London Advertiser. SARNIA, Oct. 16.—Get behind the blue water highway, James E. Armstrong of Petrolia, ex-member for Lambton East, urged the members of the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce at the weekly luncheon tonight. Mr. Armstrong's address was a vigorous appeal to Sarnia to combine with the remainder of the county in obtaining government assistance for roads which the county should have if it is to have an equal share in the activities of the department of roads and highways with the other counties of the province.

Mr. Armstrong made the statement that there were only 40 miles of provincial highway in this county and not a mile of this was south of the London road. In Kent County there are 80 miles of designated highway, and Toronto is taking every advantage it possibly can from government expenditures, the speaker said. What proportion of the expenditure had come in the way of Lambton County? he asked.

GALT REAL ESTATE BEGINS TO MOVE

Fairview House and Grounds On East Main Street Sold.

Special to London Advertiser. GALT, Oct. 16.—Real estate is again beginning to move, and one of the most important transactions to be put through lately was the sale of the Fairview house and grounds on East Main street.

In addition to the 30 bales of clothing, food, etc., sent to the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario, the Red Cross has received donations amounting to $226.11, and tomorrow night a big dance for this purpose is to be held at the Armories by the H. L. I. of C. Chapter, I. O. D. E.

At a tea the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Waterloo Health Association, Hespeler, collected 250 jars of fruit for the Freeport Sanatorium.

Ten carloads of coal for Preston are now on the way, and are expected within a week. This town has received no hard coal since the settlement of the strike. The price to be asked for it has not been fixed by the council.

FINES WINGHAM MAN FOR BREACH OF O. T. A.

Special to London Advertiser. WINGHAM, Oct. 16.—Herbert Fowler of this town appeared in police court here today, held by Magistrate C. A. Reid of Goderich charged with keeping liquor in other than a private dwelling, contrary to the O. T. A., to which he pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $200 and costs of $22, and in default, three months in jail.

This is the outcome of a visit that Inspector Pellow and Constable Wallace made here on the last Saturday in September, about 9 o'clock in the morning, and found Fowler drunk in bed, and also home frequenters to the place drunk.

PREPARES REPORT FOR OPENING OF PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—(By Canadian Press).—Though the opening of Parliament is still some months away, if plans for calling the house early in January are to be adhered to, preparations are already under way in at least one of the departments, that of auditor-general.

With the opening of the next session, expected in January, it is planned to have the entire report ready for presentation.

HAS JAW BROKEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. M. Sheerer Lies in Serious Condition in Kitchener Hospital.

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Oct. 16.—Mrs. M. Sheerer of New Hamburg, was brought into the Kitchener-Waterloo hospital here today suffering from a broken jaw and three broken ribs as a result of a motor accident near that village late last evening.

She was driving with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheerer of Toronto, and was sitting in the back seat with Mrs. Bert Hewitt, who was also injured. Owing to poor lights the driver failed to see the side of a culvert into which he crashed. The impact threw the car into the ditch where it turned turtle, pinning the occupants beneath. Mrs. Hewitt was unconscious for some time, but it was found that the extent of her injuries were minor bruises. Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheerer, who were in the front seat of the car, were uninjured. The top of the car was badly smashed. They were picked up by a passing motorist and taken to New Hamburg where Mrs. Sheerer was cared for at the home of her son, F. Sheerer, before being removed to the hospital here. Her condition is considered serious.

SPEAKS IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITION

Special to London Advertiser. LISTOWEL, Oct. 16.—A largely-attended mass meeting in the interests of the Dominion Alliance was held tonight in McDonald's Hall after the church services. Rev. John Bailey, Toronto, made a brief address, proving that prohibition was not a failure, and that government control was the only way to deal with the problem. Mr. Greenlaw of Detroit sang three times, and was well received. T. L. Hamilton, police magistrate, presided, and appealed to the audience to generously support the Dominion Alliance by a liberal subscription.

Anniversary services were held today in North Mornington Church. Rev. John Little of Eden Mills, a former minister, preached very able sermons to large congregations, who welcomed him in his old charge.

Antiques decorated the art of engraving on emeralds, which were in great demand.

RESIGNS POST ON TILBURY COUNCIL

Councillor George Billings Leaves in Near Future For Buffalo.

Special to London Advertiser. TILBURY, Oct. 16.—At the last regular meeting of the town council, the resignation of Councillor George Billings, who is leaving Tilbury in the very near future for Buffalo, was accepted with deep regret by the council.

Mayor Odette, Reeve Scharp and the other members of the board all spoke highly of the faithful services performed by Councillor Billings, and stated that the town was losing a valued official by his removal.

On behalf of the town council Mayor Odette presented Mr. Billings with a beautiful club bag. As a personal tribute the mayor presented the retiring councillor with a box of choice cigars, stating at the same time that George was one of the best councillors with whom he had been associated during his municipal career, and also that he was one of the best of good fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. Billings and son are moving to Buffalo, where their son Maurice will undergo treatment at one of the city hospitals, in the hope that he may ultimately be cured of malformation of his lower limbs.

THOMAS HENDERSON OF SEAFORTH DIES, AGE 74

Special to London Advertiser. SEAFORTH, Oct. 16.—The funeral of the late Thomas Henderson, a highly-respected resident of Seaforth, who passed away at his residence on East William street on Wednesday, Oct. 11, in his 74th year, took place on Friday afternoon, Oct. 13, from his late residence to the Maitland Bank Cemetery.

The deceased was born in McKillop Township, where the greater part of his life was spent. In 1874 he was united in marriage to Margaret Dickson, daughter of the late George Dickson of McKillop, residing for many years on his farm on the 11th concession. He afterwards purchased a farm on the 5th concession of Hullett, where he continued to live until about thirteen years ago, when he removed to Seaforth, where he has resided since. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and a man who possessed

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

As a health builder, Royal Yeast is gaining in popularity every day. It is a food - not a medicine. It supplies the vitamins which the diet may lack. Royal Yeast is highly beneficial in cases where the system seems "run down". Royal Yeast is the richest known source of vitamins, and when taken into the system acts as a corrective agent. Royal Yeast Cakes are recommended for their purity and wholesomeness. It is the purest, the most convenient and economical yeast on the market.

Two to four Royal Yeast Cakes a day will work wonders. A full day's supply can easily be prepared at one time by using one glass lily warm water and teaspoon sugar to each yeast cake. Allow to stand over night in moderately warm room. In the morning stir well and pour off liquid. Place in refrigerator or other cool place and drink at intervals as desired throughout the day.

TAVISTOCK MEN INJURED WHEN SCAFFOLD BREAKS

STRATFORD, Oct. 16.—Three Tavistock men, George Eifert, Henry and Conrad Hitzroth, were severely injured Saturday, when a scaffolding on which they were working broke, causing them to fall to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. Eifert suffered the most severe injuries, having several ribs broken.

HOLD FUNERAL OF DETROIT RESIDENT AT MITCHELL

Special to London Advertiser. MITCHELL, Oct. 16.—The funeral of Miss Abigail Levy, who died in Detroit, was held on Thursday from the residence of her brother-in-law, George C. Kidd, to Woodland Cemetery. Miss Levy was born in Fulton and resided in Mitchell for a number of years before going to Detroit. She is survived by four brothers, George of Norfolk county, William, James and John of Blainshard county.

CANADA AND U.S. TO NEGOTIATE NEW TREATY

Agreement Will Be Relative To Armament On Great Lakes.

TO SUPPLANT 1817 PACT Direct Negotiations Would Tend To Closer Understandings.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 16. (By Canadian Press).—Prospective direct negotiation of a new treaty relative to armament on the Great Lakes, and other subjects between Canada and the United States is looked upon here as the real opening of a new era of direct relationship between the two countries. The state department has been informed that Great Britain has given assent to such negotiations, which were discussed informally last July, when Premier Mackenzie King visited Washington. The Canadian government will at an early date send one or more representatives to Washington to conduct negotiations.

The new treaty will supplant the 1817 treaty and nominally, at least, relates to armament on the Great Lakes. However, there are intimations that it will be of broader scope and will include waterways and fisheries.

As understood here the Canadian government has thus far not looked upon the time as ripe for negotiations over the St. Lawrence waterway. Nevertheless the hope is indulged in Washington that at least the way will be paved in the forthcoming negotiations for an understanding over the St. Lawrence channel. Not only that, but in many quarters there is growing apprehension here over the lessening of the trade with Canada, and the symptoms of diversion of the trade from the United States to South America and elsewhere. It is not expected that trade relations will be included in the forthcoming negotiations, but it is pointed out that the way may be paved for closer trade relations to mutual advantage of both countries.

REACH UNDERSTANDING

No increase of armament on the Great Lakes is desired by either country. A clearer understanding upon the time as ripe for negotiations over the St. Lawrence waterway, and the conditions of 1922 legislation by each country, without in any way entrenching upon the spirit of the original agreement.

CONFIRMATION LACKING

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—It was impossible to obtain confirmation from Washington to the effect that Canada would negotiate directly with the United States in the framing of a new treaty to regulate naval armament on the Great Lakes. Premier Mackenzie King is out of town and could not be reached, and Mr. George P. Graham, minister of national defence, who accompanied the prime minister to Washington last July, when the proposal to revise the Rush-Bagot agreement into permanent treaty form was made, stated that he had not discussed the matter since that time. Therefore he could not comment on the Washington dispatch. If, as stated, it has been decided to conduct negotiations directly, Mr. Graham, who is minister of defense, might be selected to represent Canada during the negotiations. There is, however, no official intimation to this effect.

The proposal to perpetuate the essential features of the Rush-Bagot agreement in treaty form was made by Premier King and Mr. Graham at Washington last July. In a statement issued following this conference "the Canadian ministers expressed themselves as being well pleased with the sympathetic manner in which their representations were received, by Secretary Hughes."

The understanding at that time was that negotiations would be proceeded with by correspondence, and no mention was made of another visit to Washington. However, following the Washington conference, Mr. King drew attention to the fact that the Rush-Bagot agreement was subject to cancellation by six months' notice on the part of either of the parties.

EXETER

Special to London Advertiser. EXETER, Oct. 16.—Caven Presbyterian Church held its anniversary on Sunday, when Rev. C. Evans of St. Marys preached morning and evening. The morning service was held in the Presbyterian Church and the evening in the Methodist Church. At both services the churches were packed, especially in the evening. The October meeting of the Horticultural Society will be held on Wednesday evening, October 18, in the public library. Mr. S. Hogarth will address the meeting on "Preparation for Winter." Let there be a good attendance.

Miss L. Hastings's sale, held on Saturday, was well attended. All articles sold brought good prices. The house was not sold.

Rev. Mr. Foote took the service in St. Marys on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gladman of London called on friends here on Sunday.

CANADA AND U.S. MANDROWNS IN COURTRIGHT WELL

Joseph Boothby, 75 Years of Age, Found Dead in Ten Feet of Water.

Sarnia, Oct. 17.—Joseph Boothby, 75, a resident at the home of Albert Muxlow, an employee of the Salt Company, at Courtwright, was found drowned at eight o'clock this morning in a well in the Muxlow yard and is believed to have committed suicide while in a despondent mood.

Boothby was missed this morning at Courtwright, where the cover of the well, which is usually in place and which Mr. Muxlow states was over the well late last night, had been removed. The body of Boothby was twelve feet of water in the well and the man's hat floating on the surface of the water.

WARDSVILLE

Special to London Advertiser. WARDSVILLE, Oct. 16.—Rev. Mr. Bridgett continued his talks on the Parables last evening, taking the Parable of the Mustard Seed, bringing out the general thought that the growth of the kingdom was going on often unnoticed, as the steady growth of a larger tree is unnoticed, but the growth is surely going on from within.

The Union Young People's meeting was held at the parsonage on Friday evening with a good attendance. A choir committee was formed, consisting of Mr. T. Walterworth, Mr. Wilson Turk, Mr. Frank McGregor and Mrs. Dennis Elwood. Practice Tuesday evening at the parsonage.

The Young Ladies' Circle will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. Haggitt. A bazaar is being planned for.

The Women's Institute is packing a bale for the northern fire sufferers on Monday in the town hall.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church is also packing a bale for Northern Ontario at the home of Mrs. Cornwell.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Palmer on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. D. Farquharson preached a fine sermon Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church, taking as his text "Thou art not far from the Kingdom of God."

Several from the village attended the service at the home of Mrs. Henry Saitor, conducted by a Menonite minister from Waterloo, on Sunday evening.

Rev. R. J. Murphy held a prayer service at the home of Harry Irving, Woodgreen, on Monday evening.

EMBRO

Special to London Advertiser. Embro, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Clayton Woodstock was the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith this week. Bert Stevenson of Woodstock was in the village on Tuesday and Wednesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Givens of Millbrook are visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Montgomery.

Miss Margaret Farrell of Woodstock was the guest of her friend, Miss Lillian Green, for a few days.

Mr. R. H. Hill of Hamilton is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. B. McKay.

There were twelve well-filled boxes of second-hand clothing, hats and shoes, also several pairs of new shoes and new underwear and stockings packed by six members of the Women's Institute Society at the home of Mrs. Wm. Daves yesterday afternoon and sent on today's train for the needy of the north.

The dance which was held in the town hall here last night was well attended, so many were present from Woodstock and Ingersoll. The music by the Versatile Orchestra of London was excellent.

COURTRIGHT

COURTRIGHT, Oct. 16.—Mr. Hoskins is moving his household furniture to Stratford.

The Red Cross Society is sending a shipment of clothing to the fire sufferers in the north.

Mrs. Jas. Kittermaster is putting in the water which supplies the village.

SPARTA

Special to London Advertiser. Sparta, Oct. 15.—The choir of the Baptist and Methodist churches spent a delightful social evening last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cox.

McKenzie. Between 30 and 40 were present.

The apple evaporators are doing a rushing business these days trying to handle the large quantities of apples that are coming in. Silo filling and threshing are about over throughout this district. Digging potatoes and gathering apples are now occupying the farmers.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, together with the Ladies' Aid of Union, will furnish meals for the plowing match to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 17 and 18, north of Union.

There never will be enough happiness to supply the demand.

UNDECIDED ON S.S. TRUSTEES IN 1923

Father W. Brisson Declares Question To Be Taken Up by Board.

Whether the customary number of separate school representatives will be delegated to sit on the London board of education in 1923 has yet to be decided by the former body, according to Father W. Brisson, superintendent of the separate schools.

The superintendent explained Tuesday that the question had not been considered this year as yet, and could offer no definite assurance that any action would be immediately undertaken.

Although the separate school representation was withdrawn at the close of 1921 the board of education authorities accounted for them as though they were still present or to be subsequently appointed. They have been represented on the Collegiate Institute committee since the first of the year, although they have not appeared.

PINE LAWN BOARD HOLDING SESSIONS

Ed. Weld Presides Over Meeting at County Buildings Tuesday.

Several pages of alleged defects, involving, it is stated, every one of the city's houses at Pine Lawn, will be considered by the special arbitration board now in session at the Midwestern County Buildings, with Edmund Weld, clerk of the peace, presiding.

When the complaints were first registered in connection with the new structures, the roofs only were mentioned, but as time passed other defects were made to the London housing commission, affecting all manner of construction.

Building Inspector Walton of Sarnia is representing the commission, while the contractors, Hayman & Willis, are being represented by Thomas Tarry of this city.

The session will last several days and no report will be announced until all negotiations have ceased. The chairman declared Tuesday, repudiating certain reports that had been given publicity that the members of the board were already engaged in a dispute before they actually commenced.

SHOOT DOWN TWO GUARDS OF PRISON

frustrating the success of their bid for freedom.

Turns Revolver on Cox. Then Wilson pulled the trigger. Officers said there had been "bad blood" between the men since shortly after their arrest, when Cox was said to have made a statement to federal officers, and the report became current that he would testify for the state at Wilson's trial.

Frank Wilson, brother of Herbert, Miss Helen Gillespie, Herbert's sweetheart, and Mrs. Herbert R. Cox, widow of the slain prisoner, were taken into custody by sheriff's deputies a short time after the shooting. The man was held, and the women were permitted to return to their homes.

Prior to the time that the fatal shot was fired by the former pastor, silencing forever the voice of his alleged accomplice, authorities had entertained hopes that Cox would turn "state's evidence," revealing what he is said to have known concerning a gang of hoodlums led by the police charge, by the Wilson brothers.

When first arrested, Cox is contended by postoffice officials, made important statements involving the Wilsons and two other men, one of whom fled immediately over the Mexican border, while the second departed, as far as can be learned, for points east.

Cox Pleaded Not Guilty. Cox first pleaded "not guilty," and although Richard Kittler appeared in his behalf, he positively declined to be represented by him.

The discovery in Detroit, Michigan, strengthening the belief of federal officers here that the Wilson gang had been responsible for a series of sensational and productive robberies on the Pacific Coast during 1921, netting them probably $3,000,000, the discovery of which is "cached," they believe, in Detroit, or near it.

Herbert Wilson was a few weeks ago convicted by a jury of the murder of Cox, despite the plea by the defence that the latter was shot by deputy sheriff who engaged in rifle fire on the "bridge of signs" during the attempted escape.

The jail-breakers were armed with revolvers, evidently smuggled in by a friend. Wilson was one of the most spectacular prisoners in their jail, having been captured by federal authorities after a search for many months extending throughout the country and resulting from mail and store robberies estimated to reach over a million dollars. He was widely known in Canada.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Oct. 17.—12:30 p.m.—The textile group was the most interesting on the Montreal Stock Exchange during the forenoon session, not so much by reason of any special activity, but by reason of the steady strength in their issues. Dominion Textile made a new high record at 18 1/2, representing an advance of over 4 points since yesterday morning. Canadian Convertibles also sold at the highest price in history at 94, which compares with 92 1/2 yesterday. A jump of more than 5 points from 89 1/2 to 94 1/2 was made by the high market record, which is 110 1/2. Rumors of a street raid against certain amalgamations, in which Dominion Textile will be the pivot. Details are lacking at present.

MANY VEGETABLES ON LOCAL MARKET

Potatoes, Turnips and Beets Offered in Quantities, But Sales Are Slow.

The local market was light today, due to the inclement weather early this morning. Vegetables complained of by the vendors were potatoes, which were much in evidence and sold for $1.50 per bushel or 50c per basket. Potatoes were coming at $1.25 for single bags and $1.10 for bag lots.

Turnips sold for 60c per bushel, and onions for $1.25. The prices of apples ranged from $1.25 per bushel. A few pumpkins were shown at prices ranging from 15c to 20c. Two bushels of green peppers, which the vendor guaranteed to have been untouched by frost, were offered at 20c per dozen.

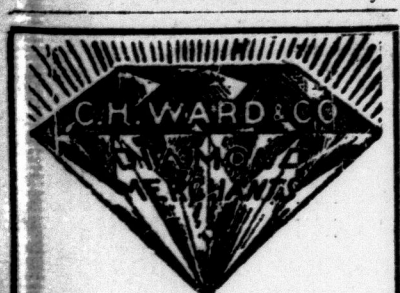

A few green tomatoes were on sale and brought 50c per basket. Cauliflowers and cabbages ranged from 10c to 15c per head. A few quinces were on hand at 1c per basket, but sold very slowly.

A great deal of celery was disposed of, and seemed to be of good quality. This sold at prices ranging from 10c to 15c per bunch. A few bunches of radishes found a ready market at 50c for six-gate baskets. The demand for grain was light, but a few loads of hay found sales.

BRITISH REJECT PLAN OF U. S. TO EXTEND SEARCH

Ambassador Geddes Hands Reply To Secretary Hughes' Note.

NEXT MOVE IN DOUBT

American Officials Wanted Limit Increased To 12 Miles Off Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—British rejection of the United States proposal for a treaty to extend the right of search of vessels up to twelve miles off shore was contained in a note handed to Secretary of State Hughes today by Ambassador Geddes. The communication was in reply to Mr. Hughes' note of June 26, setting out difficulties encountered by United States prohibition enforcement officers in checking the illicit flow of intoxicants into the United States. Secretary Hughes made public his correspondence with the ambassador without comment. There was nothing to indicate that any further step to extend the right of search for United States prohibition officers beyond the three-mile limit was in prospect. Action of the cabinet recently in approving the abandonment of such search presumably of possible international difficulties, coupled with the British reply today, appeared to indicate that operations would continue to be confined within recognized territorial waters.

The United States note dealt particularly with smuggling operations from British possessions in waters adjacent to the United States coast, and suggested "methods by which the existing extremely unfortunate conditions might be remedied."

Urges Supervision.
Among these was a proposal for careful supervision of registry and clearance papers granted to suspected vessels, and "an international arrangement between the United States and Great Britain, under which the authorities of each nation would be authorized to exercise between the three-mile limit of territorial waters, a measure of control over vessels belonging to the other."

There was appended an inquiry as to whether the British government was disposed to agree to the reciprocal right of search up to twelve miles from shore, which, it was pointed out, would imply no inconvenience to the legitimate trade between Nassau and Halifax, passing at no point within 40 leagues of the United States shore.

In reply Ambassador Geddes pointed out that his government had already taken steps before Mr. Hughes' note was received, to prevent the practices as to registry issuance and clearance papers to which attention had been drawn. These steps had been supplemented since then, he stated, and the British government hoped "that the measures taken will prove successful in preventing any breaches in the local law."

Instructions Issued.
After pointing out that his majesty's government desired to prevent breaches of the law in the British West Indies, the note states that in this connection traffic instructions had been sent to the governor of the Bahamas before the receipt of the representations made by the United States government.

The note continues:
"Instructions have also been given to the local registrars of shipping which will, it is anticipated, have the effect of preventing any future transfers of United States vessels to the British flag until a complete investigation of the circumstances can be made."

"Investigations which it is hoped will shortly be concluded are being made into the position and proceedings of the vessels, a list of which was enclosed in your note of June 26. In dealing with the precautions to be taken to control transfers from the United States to the British flag, the suggestion that in such cases the local registrar of shipping should require the production of a certificate from the United States shipping board has been carefully examined. It has been found that there would be great difficulties in the adoption on British territory of such a requirement, and it would be still more difficult to give such a requirement the force of law. With a view, however, to meeting the wishes of the United States government on this point as far as practicable, instructions have been given to the registrar of shipping at Nassau to the effect that, in transfer cases in which possible doubt exists as to the bona fides of the parties to the transaction, the non-production of the shipping board certificate should be taken as a ground of suspicion, involving reference of the case to the board of trade in London for further directions. The delay necessitated by this procedure would, it is hoped, be in itself sufficient to reduce to a minimum the danger of transfers being successfully effected in improper cases."

"His majesty's government had thus taken steps even before the receipt of representations from the United States government to prevent practices to which attention has now been drawn. They have now, as already indicated, issued supplementary instructions in the matter, and hope that the measures taken will prove successful in preventing any breaches of the local law."

ELECTORS TO DECIDE TECHNICAL SCHOOL

Will Ask St. Thomas Ratepayers For Approval of $370,000 Bylaws.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 16.—A technical school bylaw for $260,000, of which one-half will be paid by the Ontario government, will be placed before the electors at the municipal elections this fall.

This bylaw was submitted to the electorate several months ago, but failed to pass, but the board of education decided Monday night that an industrial school was the most economical, and, in fact, the only solution to the crowded conditions which prevail in the Collegiate Institute.

A new bylaw for $110,000 to provide money for annexes to Balclutha and Myrtle Street Schools will also be submitted.

Speaking in favor of the technical school, Trustee A. P. Connelley declared that in building a school where all classes would receive various kinds of education, suitable both to rich and poor, the board would construct a magnificent monument to the spirit of democracy, and that it would have a tremendous value in giving to the man who worked with his hands an opportunity to provide himself with education which would make him suitable as a legislator, if the chance came to him to represent the people.

COUNCIL SECURES BRANTFORD DEPOT

Lumber From Old Building To Be Used in City Work.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 16.—The board of works committee of the city council has purchased the old Colborne street station and will use the lumber for city works. The purchase was made on Friday by Ald. W. H. Ballantyne, who stated that the building had been obtained at an "absurdly low figure." The building will be used for shelter for the city coal and the lumber will be used in various sections of the city. Work of tearing the building down has already been commenced.

812 FUR FARMS NOW IN CANADA

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—The number of fur farms in operation in Canada in 1921 was 812, according to the bureau of statistics. They comprised 775 fox farms, 12 mink, 10 raccoon, 3 muskrat, 2 skunk, 3 beaver, 3 muskrat and 4 karakul sheep farms. The total increase over 1920 in the number of fur farms was 225, covering increases of 197 in the number of fox farms, 16 in mink farms, 8 in raccoon farms and 3 in karakul sheep farms.

What Was Left of Haileybury After Forest Fire

Sorry. The buggy was badly damaged. The auto driver got away before his name could be ascertained or his number taken, and the matter was reported to the police, who are trying to locate him.

Brantford residents can expect to see two new, up-to-date stations, equipped in ultra-modern style, in the city before the bad weather sets in, according to Alderman Ballantyne, chairman of the board of works committee. Alderman Ballantyne, together with a number of G. T. R. officials, made a survey of the grounds this morning and was informed that material had already been purchased for a new station at Colborne street and a new shelter in West Brantford. Both of the buildings will be of the best material and workmanship, and will be a distinct asset to the city.

Major G. B. Johnson, who has for several years acted as Canadian government trade commissioner to Scotland and Ireland, will be visiting Brantford tomorrow and Wednesday for the purpose of interviewing exporters to the old land. Tuesday noon the major is to address the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon on "Canada's Export Trade," with special reference to Scotland and Ireland.

American, French, British and German wireless companies have formed a pool to establish one large station in Argentina.
