SET-BACK TO CHAMBERLAIN SENSATION OF THE HOUR

Hicks-Beach's Sweeping Attack Was Unexpected.

CABINET AT SIXES AND SEVENS

Opinions of the London Partisan Press—Sir Charles Dilke Resumes Debate.

London, June 10. — Perplexity is the keynote of this morning's ebb on the outcome of yesterday's extraordinary debate, and much ironical comment is made on the figure of "each for himself," that the cabinet cuts. The Tory Morning Post described the situation as a "spot barred" debate, in which one played the "spot stroke." and says the debate has not cleared the air, but shows that the air wants clearing. This idea permeates the comments in this morning's papers: That even if the cabinet sits content with its "open mind," and Mr. Chamberlain retains his seat on the ground that he has invited the country to discuss the question, such a patching-up cannot possibly last long, and that a cabinet break-up and a dissolution of Parliament is not far distant.

WILL NOT RESIGN.

The latest gossip in best-informed quarters is to the effect that Mr. Chamberlain will not resign while the Government will endeavor to dispose of the Irish land bill and stave off a crisis until October.

It is generally agreed that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's onset was a surprise to Mr. Chamberlain, who had not expected such wholesale protests against his proposals.

The Daily Chronicle (Liberal), referring to the secretary of the Birmingham Liberal - Unionist Association, points out that Canada gives a bounty on steel and iron, and asks whether Mr. Chamberlain would put a countervailing duty on bounty-fed Canadian imports. This, it is said, would be to embark on a tariff war with the colonies.

The Times believes that the Premier will exert his influence to the utmost, to preserve harmony in the cabinet, in the hope of postponing a dissolution of Parliament until it has passed the domestic bills now in hand.

That the interest in the political situation had been enhanced by the dramatic developments yesterday, was fully evidenced today by the remarkable animation and alertness of everybody in and about the Houses of Parliament when the time approached for the resumption of the debate in the House of Commons on the amendment of Henry Chaplin to the budget bill.

The debate was resumed by Major Seely (Conservative), who, as a convinced free trader, rejoiced in the repeal of the grain tax.

Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Radical) contended that the House had the right to demand an opportunity for pronouncing judgment on this important fiscal question. The speaker denied that protectionists countries were cutting out Great Britain from the markets of the world. Germany had not even hurt Great Britain's market in South America, and when one considered the great natural advantages of the United States, her size and her highly cultivated population, it was marvelous that she had not years ago attained the first place in trade. The commerce of the United States had progressed independently of protection, but it had been retarded rather than advanced by the adoption of protection.

H. H. Asquith, Advanced Liberal, declared that the reason for the abandonment of the grain tax remained an "unsolved and inscrutable mystery." Mr. Chamberlain had told the public that the tax did not fall on the consumer. If that was so its repeal was a "magnificent display of international attachment." As it practically meant that Great Britain was making a present to the United States of the $12,500,000 which the tax brought in.

Comedy and Tragedy.

London, June 10.—The absurdities of the situation, in which the Opposition benches were the stronghold of the defense, demoralized the Government, and the Ministerialists, conducting a noisy sham fight against their own leaders, imparted to an extraordinary session the aspects of a Gilbertian opera. Yet there was a tragic element. The smiling Prime Minister, who assumed a jocular air, was discredited by his lack of strength, and reproached and ridiculed by some of the staunchest of his own supporters, and Mr. Chamberlain, who returned a few months ago from South Africa, like a victorious pro-consul, was taunted with being a renegade free trader and the destroyer of the Unionist party.

THE ATLAS LOAN COMPANY

The President Writes a Letter to Stockholders.

St. Thomas, June 10.—A. E. Wallace, president of the Atlas Loan Company, writes a letter to the shareholders, in which he says: "It is with heartfelt regret that I ask your indulgence with me in connection with the Atlas Loan Company affairs until I have had an opportunity of ascertaining as nearly as possible out standing. It shall be my aim to try and arrange its affairs in such a manner as to minimize the loss to everyone. When I tell you that I had $162,100 in the capital account of the A. E. Ames Company, in Toronto and $50,000 of cash in stock in the Atlas Loan Company, together with a cash deposit between both of $125,000 or $337,000 in all, and in addition to this all the moneys of relatives very close to me, you can realize the confidence I had in the soundness of both."

He winds up by saying that he has only his health, now, to depend on, but he hopes to pay everyone in full.

COCKRAN WILL MARRY

Famous American Orator Engaged to Miss Matthew.

New York, June 10.—Bourke Cochran's engagement to Kathleen, the youngest daughter of Lord Justice Mathew, of the English supreme court, will be formally announced shortly, says the London correspondent of the World.

Miss Mathew is about 20 years old, and is extremely bright and clever, as well as exceptionally pretty. Bourke Cochran is an old friend of the family. Lord Justice Mathew is a nephew of the historic apostle of temperance, Father Mathew. His eldest daughter is the wife of John Dillon, M.P.

The American orator will be entertained at a banquet by the Irish party in the House of Commons on Saturday. He is at present traveling in Ireland.

N. B. BUSH FIRES

Appalling Loss of the Finest Forest Timber.

Fredericton, N. B., June 10.—W. J. Scott, lumber operator, has returned after visiting part of the fire swept district around Magaguadavic Lake. He says that one hundred thousand acres of forest have been burned over, meaning probably the destruction of thirty million to fifty million feet of lumber. Part of the burned district contained some of the finest timber in the Province. Mr. Scott lost three camps, and says that three men who were caught in one by the fires had to rush into Duck Lake for safety and remain there four hours with only their heads above water.

BRITAIN IN CHINA

Her Position Not as Favorable as Other Powers.

London, June 10. — The Times' correspondent at Pekin sends full details of the railway concessions secured by the Russians in Shansi, the Germans in Shantung, and the Belgians in Honan, and says that, compared with these successes, the British position is not encouraging. Even in Yangtse the British position is materially worse than ever before, the Chinese refusing, on account of the French protest, to grant a concession to the Pekin syndicate for a railway connecting the Shansi miles with the Yangtse River, though this right has been twice expressly admitted by the Chinese authorities.

Attacked a Keeper.

Kingston, June 10.—Yesterday a convict, whose name the warden will not give, attacked Keeper William Kenny of the binder twine factory at the penitentiary and made a bad wound with a knife in the keeper's neck. The convict was overpowered, and put in the cells. Kenny's injury is not likely to prove serious.

Gov. Bailey Marries.

Kansas City, June 10.—Willis J. Bailey, Governor and Kansas, and Mrs. Ida B. Weed have been married in this city. Immediately after the ceremony Gov. and Mrs. Bailey left for Topeka. An interesting incident of Gov. Bailey's recent campaign was a story that he had promised to marry if elected governor. He denies this, however.

Lightning Kills Two.

Oswego, N. Y., June 10.—Winfield Taft, deputy sheriff of Fulton, and John Wood were found dead under a tree near Lake Neaththewanta early today. They were struck by lightning during last night's storm. Both men had been fishing and during the storm sought refuge under a tree.

Hard On the Companies.

Santiago De Chile, June 10.—The Chamber of Deputies has passed a bill imposing onerous restrictions on foreign insurance companies. The chief clause provides that a guaranee of $100,000 must be deposited by all such companies.

Looking For a Site.

Brantford, June 10. — The American Sedding Company, of Springfield, are looking for a site in Canada where a factory will be established to employ 300 men. Representatives of the company were in Brantford Monday after having been in Stratford, Guelph and several other cities, and were very favorably impressed with the outlook here.

Queen Attends Wedding.

London, June 10.—Lady Juliet Lowther and R. C. Duff were married at St. Peter's Church, Eaton Square, yesterday, in the presence of a very fashionable gathering, including Queen Alexandra. Among those who sent presents were the King and Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Christian of Denmark, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, and fully half the members of the aristocracy.

Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, British Colonial Secretary.

A STAGE HOLD-UP

Masked Robbers Clean Up the Money and Jewels.

Redding, Cal., June 10. — A stage, traveling between Weaversville and Redding, has been held up and robbed by two masked and heavily armed highwaymen, who secured about $400, and some valuable watches from the eight passengers.

James Wilson, the stage-driver, did not hear the first command of the highwaymen to halt, but a dozen shots and the killing of his two leading horses brought him to a standstill. The robbers lined up the passengers and driver and searched them carefully. Valises were slashed open and two express boxes smashed to bits.

A woman passenger was not molested, but on leaving the stage, at the command of the bandits, she left $45 under a seat cushion. The robbers found the money and considerable more that was similarly secreted. The robbers made their escape.

GRAND BANQUET TO THE BACKERS

Dunn & Co. Representatives Entertained at Aylmer.

A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Promoters of London and Aylmer Electric Road Much Pleased With the Route.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Aylmer, Ont., June 10. — The business men of the town tendered a banquet to Messrs. Ulysses D. Eddy, of New York, president, and F. H. Wells, superintendent of construction, of the firm of F. C. Dunn & Co., of New York, last evening, at the Palace rink. Between 150 and 200 gentlemen were present. The gallery was filled with ladies, whose presence added very materially to the success of the affair. The Alylmer I. O. O. F. Band and Tony Cortese's orchestra, of London, furnished delightful music during the evening.

F. C. Dunn & Co., of New York, are the company who will build the London, Aylmer and North Shore Electric Railway, and the banquet was tendered the representatives of the company to show the kindly feelings of Aylmer people towards the road.

Mr. Eddy and Mr. Wells, with the president and trustee of the road, drove over the line of the route between London and Aylmer yesterday, and Mr. Eddy remarked that he had never seen a better farming country.

Rev. J. W. Rae responded to the toast of "Our Country and our Sister Country," in a masterly manner.

The chair was filled by Mayor W. S. Caron, and the vice-chair by Mr. D. Marshall, of Aylmer. The following was the programme of toasts:

"The King," the band playing the National Anthem.

"The President of the United States."

"Our Country and Our Sister Country." Song, "The Maple Leaf"; quartet; address, Rev. J. W. Rae; song, James Lees.

"Local Promoters," responded to by Messrs. Stevens, Dr. Hassler, Messrs. Lyons, Connor and Warnock. Baton exercises, Fred Love.

"Our Guests," responded to by Messrs. Eddy and Wells.

The Palace rink has been handsomely decorated and fitted for a summer theater, and considerable of the success of the banquet is largely attributed to the commodious facilities of the building.

BUILDING STRIKE ENDS

130,000 Men Returning to Work on Manhattan.

New York, June 10.—The great building tie-up practically ended today, when the lumber and brick yards throughout Greater New York were thrown open for business. Delivery of material was begun at once. Skilled mechanics returned to various jobs, where work was resumed immediately while thousands made preparations for returning within the next few days. By the end of the week it is expected that between 100,000 and 130,000 men, idle since May 5, will be at work.

CONFESSED MURDER

Man Tells of the Killing of Miss Keating.

Rochester, N. Y., June 10. — The mystery of the murder of Theresa Keating, committed Nov. 20, 1900, has been solved by the confession of August Russell, who was arrested last night. Russell admitted to Chief of Detectives Hayden this morning that he killed the girl. Russell says that on the day of the murder he had been drinking heavily. That evening he met the girl coming along the street, says Russell, and made a proposal, which she resented.

FIRES DYING OUT

All Danger in the Affected Districts Is Over.

Montreal, June 10.—The C. P. R. reported yesterday that all danger from bush fires was over in the districts which had been so seriously affected, namely, St. Jerome and St. Agathe. There had been a slight rain, but even apart from that the fires had consumed most of the available material. Reports from other points say there has been a dying down of the forest fires.

Motor Cars Burned.

London, June 10.—A special dispatch from Cannstatt, Wurtemberg, today announced that the Mercedes motor car works had been burned, that cars built to compete in the race for the James Gordon Bennett cup were ruined and that a large stock of other cars was destroyed.

BIG GATHERING AT VANCOUVER

Twenty-Ninth General Assembly of Presbyterians,

REV. D. H. FLETCHER, MODERATOR

The Sermon Was Preached by the Retiring Moderator, Professor George Bryce.

Vancouver, June 10. — The twenty-ninth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada convened in St. Andrew's Church, Vancouver, last evening, and was opened with religious services and a sermon by the retiring moderator, Professor George Bryce, D.D., LL.D., of Winnipeg. The attendance of citizens was very large, crowding every part of one of the largest churches on the Pacific slope. This is the first occasion on which the supreme court of any Canadian church has met in British Columbia. Public interest is very great, and is by no means confined to Presbyterian circles.

The unanimous election of the Rev. D. H. Fletcher, D.D., of Hamilton, to the moderator's chair was a foregone conclusion, and on his appearance in the robes of office he was greeted with great applause. The business of the assembly will begin this morning. There are no great controversial questions to come before the assembly, which will devote a large part of its time to church extension in Western Canada and missionary work abroad.

The attendance of commissioners is not yet complete, and will be smaller than at Toronto last year. Not only had many of the members to cross the continent, but the representation of presbyteries was last year reduced from one in four to one in six, making the possible attendance of ministers and elders about 400.

Many of the fathers of the church are absent, and reference was made to the death of some who were regular in attendance in past years, among others the late Principal MacVicar, of Montreal. Great regret is felt because of the serious illness of Principal Caven, and the absence of all the other professors of Knox College, and of the chairman of the board of management, Lieutenant - Governor Mortimer Clark. Dr. Warden was detained a few days after the rest of the Toronto delegation, but he and several others arrived in time. The arrangements for the entertainment of the commissioners is most complete, and is marked by true western open-handedness and hospitality.

ON THE ASSEMBLY TRAIN.

The special assembly train reached Vancouver at noon yesterday. The trip ended as delightfully as it began. Ideal weather, congenial company, unfailing courtesy of officials, combined to make the excursion one of the largest and most successful that has crossed the continent. The train was stopped at several points to enable the tourists to see the sights of this wonderful country. It left Banff early on Monday, stopped at Field, and at Glacier, where the passengers were delighted with the grand scenery. A stop was made at Revelstoke, where there was an impromptu concert platform. A romantic wedding took place on the train near Ruby Creek. The bride was Mabel Margaret Lennox, Rexton, N. B., who was met at Field by the groom, George F. Knight, Vancouver, a native of Moncton, N. B., Dr. E. D. McLaren, assisted by Rev. D. McOdrum, W. H. Sedgwick, W. N. Townsend and H. Morrison, conducted the impromptu wedding, and the passengers gave $40 and their best wishes.

The reception committee, headed by Rev. R. G. Macbeth, boarded the train at Mission Junction and received the delegates. The scene in Vancouver was impressive, crowds gathering to greet the commissioners. The Synod of British Columbia, which had been in session at New Westminstes, adjourned to allow members to meet friends on the train. The city is crowded with delegates and their friends.

A Crown Prince Coming.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 10.—Prince Gustavo, Crown Prince of Sweden and Norway, has announced his intention of visiting the St. Louis Exposition.

Grain Ship Damaged.

Buffalo, June 10.—The steamer Niagara, with grain, which was aground on Seneca shoal, has been floated and has arrived here. A large portion of her cargo was lightened. She will be docked.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Wednesday, June 10.

Sun rises..4:36 a.m. Moon rises..8:17 p.m.
Sun sets...7:58 p.m. Moon sets...5:19 a.m.

Tomorrow—Cloudy and Cool.

Toronto, June 9—8 p.m.

The weather has been fair and warm today in Ontario and Western Quebec, with just a few scattered showers, while in Manitoba and the Maritime Provinces it has been cloudy and showery. A cool wave now approaching from the Northwest promises likely to bring a decided change to cooler conditions in Ontario, while on the other hand high temperatures will probably cause heavy floods in British Columbia.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 54—78; Calgary, 34—66; Prince Albert, 34—68; Qu'Appelle, 38—54; Winnipeg, 54—60; Parry Sound, 54—72; Toronto, 56—79; Ottawa, 62—82; Montreal, 62—80; Montreal, 62—80; Quebec, 52—62; Halifax, 38—56.

Wednesday, June 10—8 a.m.

WEATHER NOTES.

Local showers have occurred in Ontario and Western Quebec, but the weather has been for the most part fair and warm. In Eastern Quebec and the Maritime Provinces showers have been heavier and more general. The cool weather of the past two days in the Northwest Territories is now likely to be followed by a pronounced change to higher temperatures.

SEA OF PUMICE STONE

A Strange Phenomena of the Southern Seas.

Melbourne, June 10. — The French bark Vincennes, from San Francisco, with wheat, passed when about 18 miles south of Pylstarri Island, south of the Tongan group, through a sea of pumice-stone, six miles broad and of a length extending as far as eye could reach.

The depth of stone under water was about three feet, and the entire floating mass was of a consistent thickness throughout. The stones varied in size considerably; some were two feet square, but the majority were smaller. Pylstarri Island is of volcanic formation, but no traces of any recent eruption were seen upon it. The conjecture, therefore, is that the remarkable phenomenon was the result of some submarine disturbance.

THE THUNDERER ON THE CLEAVAGE

Thinks It Will Tend to Unite Liberals Once More.

GOVERNMENT HAS IRISH VOTE

And Will Be Enabled to Pass Wyndham's Measure Despite Unionist Hostilities.

London, Wednesday, June 10.—The Times lobby correspondent, who is usually very reliable, in summing up the excitement and bewilderment produced by the debate, especially by Mr. Ritchie's statement, says: "The only point upon which all sections of Parliamentarians are agreed is that Mr. Chamberlain's proposals have produced a cleavage in the cabinet as well as among the Unionist rank and file, a result which is naturally hailed with satisfaction by the Opposition, seeing that it must tend to reunite the scattered forces of Liberalism.

"In official circles the greatest reticence is observed concerning the future. There seems to be reason to believe that Mr. Balfour will exert his influence to the utmost to preserve harmony in his cabinet, in the hope of being able to postpone dissolution until legislative effect has been given to the domestic reforms which the Government have taken in hand. Fears are expressed in some quarters least the luke-warmness of certain Unionists in regard to the Irish land bill may develop into active hostility, now that the existence of friction on the treasury bench has been revealed. Experience has shown that although individual members hesitate to disregard the behests of the whips when the ministers are working amicably together, cabinet dissensions are apt to provoke laxity in party discipline. Backed up by the solid Irish vote, however, the Government feels assured of its ability to pass Mr. Wyndham's measure before the end of the present session, even should the Liberals display indifference during the committee stage. Altogether the position is one of singular interest. Certainly nothing comparable to it has occupied the attention of politicians since the Liberal disruption, which led to the overthrow of Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Government in 1886."

The Times, assuming that it is the intention of the Government to leave its fiscal policy an open question, Messrs. Chamberlain and Ritchie being at liberty to hold and proclaim diametrically opposite views, says is greatly doubts whether such action is practicable.

LATEST MILITIA ORDERS

Three Toronto Corps to Be Formed Into a Brigade.

Ottawa, June 10.—The principal item of interest in yesterday's militia orders is the announcement of the formation of the Toronto Infantry Brigade, consisting of Second Queen's Own Rifles, Tenth Royal Grenadiers, Forty-eighth Highlander. Lieut.-Col. J. I. Davidson is to command the brigade.

Other changes are: The Governor-General's Bodyguard—To be veterinary major, Veterinary Captain F. A. Campbell.

Second Regiment Queen's Own Rifles of Canada—To be second lieutenant, provisionally, E. H. Thompson.

Forty-eighth Regiment Highlanders—To be second lieutenant, provisionally, K. R. Marshall, vice A. A. Miller, promoted.

Corps of Guides—To be captain, Capt. and Adjutant W. B. Anderson, from the Ninety-seventh Regiment, upon organization.

To be captain, Major V. Sankey, from the reserve of officers, upon organization.

POET LAUREATE FAILS

Flodden Field Condemned as Stupid by Critics.

London, June 10. — The best that can be said of Beerbohm Tree's production of Alfred Austin's "Flodden Field," and its curtain-raiser, a dramatization of Kipling's "The Man Who Was," at His Majesty's Theater, is that through the personal patronage of the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and the leaders of society, a handsome contribution was made to the funds of Guy's Hospital, for which the performance was voluntarily given.

Seats cost 3 guineas each. The house was full and £2,100 was netted, Mr. Tree refusing to deduct anything for the cost of the production.

Of the poet laureate's dramatic effort the less said the better for his reputation. All the critics condemn "Flodden Field," some of them politely, but those who do not mince their words declare that it would be hard to find anything more stupid, more inept and more ineffective.

Toward the dramatization of Mr. Kipling's story the critics are hardly more indulgent. Mr. Peile, the dramatizer, added a quantity of un-Kiplingesque matter, which is weak and unsympathetic and spoiled the story.

EAST ST. LOUIS IN PERIL FROM THE RISING WATERS

To Arrest Captains.

Paris, June 10. — A dispatch from Marseilles to the Matin says it is considered probable that Captains Lacotte and Arnauld, of the French steamships Liban and Insulaire, which were in collision off Maire Island on Sunday, will be arrested for negligence.

Some 187 lives were lost through the collision, and the Liban was lost. No accident in recent years has caused so much excitement, and the cowardice of the officers is generally condemned.

PICKERING FATALITY

Young Man Accidentally Killed by a Train.

Pickering, June 10. — Malcolm Thompson, of Collins' Bay, aged about 19 years, was killed near the station of the G. T. R. here yesterday, about noon. He was resting close by the side of the track and rising up suddenly, stepped by accident in front of the engine. Coroner Bateman, after examination of the case, decided an inquest was not necessary.

CONDEMNED HIMSELF

Murderer Tells the Jury to Send Him to the Pen.

Chicago, June 10.—"Gentlemen, I ought to go to the penitentiary," said William Wardner to a jury in Judge McEwen's court yesterday. "I am no more crazy than you are."

The twelve men on the jury agreed with the prisoner, and sentenced him to state's prison for eighteen years for the murder of Walter Osborne on Feb. 2. Wardner's admission that he deserved punishment came after an elaborate "insanity" defense. It was a feature of the shortest murder trial in the records of the criminal court. The case was called at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the verdict was entered at 5:30.

DISSOLUTION JUNE 16

License Renewals Cause a Delay in British Columbia.

Victoria, B. C., June 10.—The Legislature will be dissolved on the 16th inst. This was decided on at a meeting of the executive yesterday morning. The reason for the delay is that the half-yearly renewal of licenses takes place on the 15th. Applicants must be on the voters' list, and, if the House were now dissolved, without the machinery for at once getting the prospective applicants on the lists, these men would be disqualified. By deferring till the 16th, applications can be made on the 15th for licenses on the old lists. The elections will likely be held in September or October.

LAST OF THE HALL GANG

Mrs. Melvin Hall Is Held for Trial at Cornwall.

Cornwall, June 10. — The court of general sessions of the peace and county court for the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, opened yesterday morning before His Honor Judge O'Reilly. There are several civil and two criminal cases on the list, one of the latter being that of Mrs. Melvin Hall, wife of the celebrated Melvin Hall, of Morrisburg, who with his gang of outlaws terrorized the people of Dundas County for several years, and were rounded up by Chief of Provincial Detectives Murray. The members of Hall's gang were sent up for periods of from four to seven years, while Hall got a term of ten years. Mrs. Hall seems to have continued the life her husband led, and was arrested on a charge of stealing a quantity of clothing and jewelry. She is confined in the Cornwall jail, and will come up for trial at this court. This is the last of the Hall gang to be dealt with.

ST. PETERSBURG FUN

How the Festivities Were Planned and Run by Police.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The bicentenary of the founding of this city, has passed without the upheaval and bloodshed feared. This is how it happened.

The entire celebration was managed by the police. Nothing was planned nor done without their sanction. They vigorously controlled and examined every suggestion by the city corporation, by learned bodies, by trades and private associations, and in nine cases out of ten rejected the suggestions as dangerous and as opposed to public order.

The press proposed to celebrate with a banquet. This was refused and no reason for the refusal assigned. The physicians and surgeons made a similar proposition. It was declined on the ground that a number of St. Petersburg doctors are not in favor in Government circles.

The actors and actresses wanted to give a ball. This was too frivolous for so solemn occasion and it was refused.

A rich merchant named Tarakanoff offered to feed the poor. No, said the police, this would make Tarakanoff too popular, and almsgiving in this indiscriminate way is bad for the poor.

The university students and professors pestered the minister of education with programmes for festivities, well knowing that they would not be accepted.

In fact nothing was accepted, and the police prescribed the programme, any deviation from which was prohibited.

Urges Arbitration.

Geneva, June 10.—At today's session of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention, Father Hyacinthe addressed the delegates, urging an agitation in favor of submitting international difficulties to the international court of arbitration at The Hague.

Gra ve Fears That the Town Will Be Submerged.

DEAD NUMBER ABOUT THIRTY

Five Thousand People Driven From Their Homes—State Militia Called Out.

St. Louis, June 10.—The river this morning rose to 37.9 feet, the highest point reached during the present flood. East St. Louis, opposite here, with a population of 32,000 having large manufacturing interests and the terminal point for railroads from the north, east and south, is partly under water and will probably be totally submerged. The southern half of East St. Louis this morning was deep in the flood, and the 2,500 levee builders retreated to Missouri avenue, in the attempt to save the remainder of the city menaced by swelling waters from three sides. Broadway, the central thoroughfare, has been abandoned to the flood. Lee Harper, former city engineer, says that the water will be two feet deep in front of the city hall before evening.

Seven miles of water, pressing from the south and southeast, overcame the city's line of defense shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, and 5,000 persons were driven from their homes. Numerous reports of drownings have been received, but the East St. Louis police have thus far learned no names of victims.

One thousand men were working on the present levee which broke. For twelve hours before the final break they had the active assistance of hundreds of woman and children. The break came at the St. Louis Valley crossing of the Illinois embankment, 2 miles south of the relay depot. While as many men, women and children as could stand on the embankment were heaping sand bags between the rails to prevent the menacing waters from mounting over the top, the current broke through the lower part of the wall of earth and spurted in rivulets in the faces of those who were carrying sand bags up the bank. Bags thrown into the openings by dozens of men were tossed aside by the waters like feathers. The alarm was given by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles in every part of the city. A few of the workers on the embankment remained at their posts until the rushing waters made it necessary for them to swim for their lives.

Awakened families saw the water in the streets. When they were ready to leave with their hurriedly collected stock of necessities the flood was at the doorsills. All fled to the north. The Washington school was the nearest point of safety.

Undismayed by the defeat which has come in their seven days' battle with the flood, the greater part of the levee builders began work at Missouri avenue and the street was rapidly transformed into a dike of sandbags and clay.

An appeal from Mayor Cook to the Governor of Illinois for state troops to aid in guarding property was answered by the promise that militia would be sent to East St. Louis at once.

A few hours before the break in the levee, Ned Robers, a negro employed as a levee builder, was killed by members of the levee patrol for attempting to tear down a portion of the dike. The negro was angry because he was not allowed to draw his pay at once.

Relief boats started from St. Louis for East St. Louis early today. At 9 o'clock this morning the water was threatening to the north and the east sides and was approaching the city hall.

A telephone message says 30 lives have already been lost in the East St. Louis flood. A break in the Baltimore and Ohio levee on the north is reported menacing the city from that point.

The utmost confusion reigns in East St. Louis, and it is impossible to confirm any of the reports of drownings, which may aggregate 50, but which are pretty much less. Congressman Rodenberg gives it as his opinion that the number will be about 30. The only drownings coming under his personal observation were those of two women and a man.

Numerous drownings are reported among levee workers, who were caught asleep by the flood, but their number is not known.

All railroad and wagon communication with East St. Louis has been cut off. Only a limited number of pedestrians are allowed to cross the viaduct to East St. Louis. Refugees from East St. Louis are allowed to use the viaduct. Although water has entered the first floors of the buildings occupied by the telegraph and telephone companies the instruments have been elevated out of its reach and the managers say that they will maintain service to the last.

Fight With Lynchers.

Lincoln, Neb., June 10.—A dispatch from Atwood says that early today an attempt was made by a mob of 200 armed men to secure possession of Chauncey Depew, Clyde Wilson and J. C. McBride and lynch them. The fight is said to be still in progress.

Literary Notes.

COLLIER'S HOUSEHOLD NUMBER FOR JUNE.

Collier's Popular Household Number for June presents a choice variety of instructive and entertaining reading. King Edward's visit to Paris is well described by Richard Harding Davis, while Frederick Palmer tells of the British sovereign's sojourn in Rome—both articles being liberally illustrated with photographs. "Why Mr. Cricket Has Elbows On His Legs" is lucidly explained by Joel Chandler Harris, in the first of a new series of "Uncle Remus" stories, which form a feature of this number. The story of the "Incomparable Belairs" is continued, and is illustrated by Orson Lowell. Oother articles of interest are: "Seen From the Study Window," by Norman Hapgood; "Social Problems in the Home," by Lavinia Hart, besides the usual comprehensive summary of current news under the heading of "Men and Doings," editorials and the regular departments—making altogether an attractive budget of reading.

THE RED BOOK.

The June number of the Red Book" fully redeems the promises of success which the earlier issues gave, its literature, art and typography being thoroughly good throughout. Mr. David Graham Phillips opens the June number with a striking story in dramatic form, entitled "A Point of Law," and a dozen other writers of recognized merit contribute short stories. The admixture of gay and grave, romance and mystery, adventure and character, is proportioned in a degree to please the most exacting seeker for good short action. The Red Book adds materially to its attractiveness by introducing halt-tones as illustrations, where in the beginning only line drawing were used, and altogether the magazine is one of the most attractive of all the lighter periodicals.

TOWN TOPICS.

A strong story of life in the inner circles of New York society is "The Curse of Hymen," by J. H. Twells, jun., the compiete novel of "Tales From Town Topics" for June. The tragic incidents of an unhappy marriage form the basis of the story, and the social conditions that make such marriages too common are not spared. The best of the short stories are "Dmitri of the Don," by Anneta Josefa Hainday; "A Modern Gabrina," by Chas. Stokes Wayne"; "The Warrington Divorce," by Kate Masterson"; "An Adventure Which Taught," by the Divorcee, and "In Silk Attire," by Percival Pollard. For variety there are light, clever essays on Saratoga, Newport and on "The Hotels of Manhattan," some good verse, one or two amusing little burlesques, and many witticisms.

BOOKLOVERS' MAGAZINE.

There was always something fascinating in Bill Nye's personality, as well as in his humor. Now, seven years after his death, the Booklovers' Magazine, in the June number, renews public interest in him by a full-page portrait and a series of illustrated articles, in which some of the famous cartoons of Walt McDougall and F. Opper, with which they illustrated Nye's writings, are reproduced from the original drawings. One of Nye's best stories is printed side by side with a critical estimate by Professor Hancock, of Haverford College, and glowing tributes follow from Nye's intimate friends, James Whitcomb Riley and Walt McDougall, and from Nye's publisher, J. B. Lippincott.

150th Anniversary.

Greenfield, Mass., June 9. — Greenfield today celebrated the 150th anniversary of its incorporation. The principal address was made by Senator Lodge. The Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts were among the guests.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"My health was poor and I suffered much from hives and kidney trouble. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was cured. I regard this medicine as superior to all others." MRS. JOSEPH HOLLINSHEAD, Harrison, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Township Councils.

WESTMINSTER.

Minutes of a meeting of the Westminster Township Council, members all present. A communication was read from Mr. E. Meredith, asking damages to the amount of $300 for a mare belonging to Mr. Fitzpatrick, of Belmont, claiming that she was injured on a defective road in Belmont village, between Westminster and South Dorchester. A committee was appointed to attend to the same.

Mr. Fred Hubbard asked the council for aid to clean out ditch opposite Mr. Dick's hothouses on baseline. H. Mair is to attend to same.

Mr. Hiram Jones was promised bounty on wire fence on west side of road south of White Oak, between cons. 4 and 5.

Bylaw No. 605, re London, Aylmer and North Shore Electric Railway, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Buchanan and George Trigger applied for grant of gravel on Yarmouth townline. A committee was appointed to meet a committee of the Yarmouth council on Monday, June 15.

The court of revision of the assessment of the Township of Westminster was then opened. The members subscribed to the legal declaration of office and elected Jos. Dale chairman. The following complaints were considered: Robert J. Beattie protested against $2,200 assessment; raised to $2,300. Thomas Walker, Belmont, against $200 assessment; reduced $100. The folowing owners of dogs were struck off the roll—one dog each: John Nichol, sen., Mr. Pearson, Lawrence Deadman, Walter Trumpidge, Peter McMillan, George Willsie, S. McCallum, Mrs. Orman and Richard Pincombe.

The court then adjourned until the first Monday in July.

Before final adjournment, Mr. Gartshore and Mr. A. Stewart addressed the council, asking them to consider the advisability of opening certain roads south and east of McClary's new works, as they intended to build a bridge over the river if the county would assist them.

Moved by J. Dale, seconded by J. H. Mair, that this council is of the opinion that it would be in the interests of the Township of Westminster and of the county generally, to have a bridge built across the River Thames on Adelaide street, a site would afford a more convenient entrance from Westminster to certain parts of the city, and it is desirable to take such steps as may be found most expedient by opening certain township roads to make efficient use of the proposed bridge, if built, and the council recommends the building of the bridge to the favorable consideration of the county council.

Bylaw No. 606, to commute statute labor in the police village of Belmont, was read a second time.

Bylaws No. 607 and 608 were read the third time and passed, to borrow money until the taxes come in.

Bylaw No. 609, appointing township officers, was read the third time and passed.

Next meeting of council, first Monday in July. George Riddell, clerk.

McGILLIVRAY.

Town Hall, McGillivray, June 1.—Council met, pursuant to adjournment. Present: M. Miller, reeve; D. Dorman, A. H. Hodgins, J. McGregor and W. Mawson, councilors.

Moved by J. McGregor, seconded by A. H. Hodgins, that whereas it has been stated by railway officials in authority that the Grand Trunk Railway Company intend to close up or otherwise change several of the culverts or bridges on their roadway, which have been used as cattle passes by the ratepayers; therefore, we, in council assembled, ask that the said company still maintain the said culverts or bridges as heretofore. Carried. A copy of this resolution will be forwarded to C. S. Hyman, M.P., chairman of the railway committee of the Dominion Parliament.

Accounts were passed as follows: F. Cunningham, ditching and graveling, $12; A. Shouldice, tile, $4; R. Sceli, plank, $17 65; A. Banting, plank, $2; J. W. Mathers, road work, $109; E. Darling, ditching, $4; J. Robinson, ditching, $8; W. Fenton, burying dead lamb, 50 cents; D. Mitchell, tile, $6; W. Donaldson, building a bridge, $7; J. Thompson, repairing culvert, $1 50; C. Canadian Northern Crop Report.

Winnipeg, June 9. — The Canadian Northern crop report for the week ending Saturday showed a continuance of most favorable growing conditions. Light rains are abundant, and growth of crops in some districts as reported as "wonderful."

MISSOURI FLOOD BRINGS DISTRESS

Smallpox Breaks Out in the Vicinity of St. Louis.

WATERS COMMENCE TO RECEDE

The River Is Half a Mile Wide and Ninety Feet Deep—Many Lives Lost.

St. Louis, June 9. — At the rate of from 8 to 10 miles an hour, the Mississippi River, over half a mile wide and 90 feet deep in the channel, is pouring past St. Louis toward the gulf. For a week the river crept out of its ordinary confines, until yesterday it had established a mark of 37.5 feet, the highest flood tide since 1858. Today the river is receding.

The crest of the flood passed St. Louis early today, and any further destruction to be wrought will be from the possible crumbling of undermined buildings, and to the country below this point, danger of which is lessened by the spreading of the river over the lowlands. Reports from Madison, Granite City and Venice indicate that the death list may be larger than first estimated. A report was received early today from Newport that a school building, in which were sheltered fifty children, was tottering, and threatened to collapse at any moment. Appeals were made for assistance, but there was no way to reach the children from St. Louis or East St. Louis, the only places that can now tender aid. In one party of refugees near Edwardsville, four cases of smallpox developed yesterday. The officials of Madison county are doing all in their power to isolate the cases and prevent a spread of the disease.

Numerous families, penniless, and having no friends to whom they can go, refuse to leave their flooded homes. In many cases these people are actually starving and food will be furnished them by men in skiffs at once.

W. R. Wilkinson, a commission merchant at Cape Girardeau, 150 miles below St. Louis, arrived here last night by boat, after a long, hard struggle, against the current, and reports that the damage to crops between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau will amount to $2,000,000. Many refugees were seen, clinging to floating houses, and Mr. Wilkinson thinks it probable that several lives have been lost.

GLITTERING PRODUCTION

Ringling Brothers Present Jerusalem and the Crusades.

Jerusalem and the crusades is the subject of a magnificent spectacle produced by Ringling Brothers with their world famous shows this season. There are 1,200 people in the cast, a ballet of 300, and a singing chorus of 200. The music is original, and is rendered by a superb grand pipe organ, the only portable one ever made, and a selected band of 50 soloists. The scenic embellishment is gorgeous in the extreme, painted by the greatest American artists, and the 2,000 costumes worn by the vast company are of Parisian make and design. The fabrics are of the costliest texture and richest coloring, and the fashions of exquisite picture effects, and classical. The days of chivalry, "when knighthood was in flower," are reproduced with faithful portraiture of splendid men and women and their exhilarating pastimes and enjoyments. The great stage is larger than a hundred theater stages combined, and the massive settings and historical properties require a special train for transportation. Never in the history of the circus has a spectacle been produced of the magnitude and regal splendor of this Ringling Brothers performance. All the pastimes of the middle ages are exemplified in thrilling action by dueling experts of skill and strength. Jousting tilts, sword combats, spearing contests, acrobatic exploits, equestrian trials, riding accomplishments, and many other exciting sports of the chivalric age, are illustrated in whirling tourneys. The radiant costumes and blazing jewels of royalty, its courtly dignitaries and smiling favorites; the imperial purple and sparkling gems of ecclesiastical rank; the glitter and clatter of armored soldiery; the charm of dancing girls with garlands, singing maidens and devout matrons; the shield and helmet emblazonry of mounted knights; the prismatic coloring of the swirling scenes, animated by ever going and different throngs; the majestic music of a soul-stirring grand organ, blending harmoniously with 50 solo instruments; all these brilliant features, and many more of fascinating importance, enthrall the senses of the spectator, and make the production the most munificent and attractive ever offered the American public. The grand pageant in honor of the departure of the crusaders on their holy mission is a processional display in which are presented more interesting historical types, more beautiful costumes, more elaborate scenic decorations, more novel and enjoying features, and more men, women and children, and horses, than ever seen in a huge spectacle at any other time in the history of the world. The voluptuous amusement of the Egyptian court is depicted in a grand Oriental ballet. This reveling scene is beyond the power of words to describe in its actual splendors and delights. The enormous stage is taxed to its utmost by the bewitching dancers, and the tremendous assemblage of variously dressed and enchanted Egyptians. For cost of production, originally, enormous number of people employed, and overwhelming success, this gorgeous spectacle rises superior to anything of similar effort ever spread before the human eye. In the grand street parade show day morning tableau floats, bearing national types and characteristic scenes from all over the world, will be a novel and attractive feature. All the people with the great shows will participate in this free display of the wonders with the circus, and the costuming is the richest ever attempted. Forty elephants, 650 horses, 108 cages, lairs and dens, 12 bands, 20 camels, 40 jolly clowns, troops of gaily accoutred soldiery, lady riders in Easter-like finery, children's chariots, fairyland pictures, aristocratic whips, and a multitude of other distinctive features will be illuminating factors in the largest and grandest circus pageant ever organized.

Ringling Brothers will exhibit here Monday, June 15, and give performances in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and evening at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats, numbered, and admission tickets will be sold at Nordheimer Piano and Music Company, 188 Dundas street, show day at the same prices charged in the ticket wagons on the show grounds.

THE CABLE DISPUTE

Australian Representative Supports Canada's Views.

London, June 10.—Sir Horace Tozer, the agent-general for Queensland, has a long letter in the Times contradicting Sir John Cockburn's statements on the Pacific cable. He thinks that the Commonwealth, and particularly New South Wales, has acted shabbily. He quotes Hon. A. J. Thayne, one of the Australian representatives to the Ottawa conference, who says he entirely sympathizes with the view of the Canadian Government, and does not think the English language strong enough to adequately condemn the action of New South Wales.

CAN TAKE THOUSANDS

Canada Ready to Absorb All Kinds of Immigrants.

London, June 10.—The Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council's letter, advising people to stay away from Canada, is again appearing in the country press. Mr. W. T. R. Preston, the Canadian commission of emigration, is consequently issuing a letter to every paper in the three kingdoms. He says that the Canadian Government is more immediately interested in the emigration of agricultural workers, but he, himself, has received applications for assistants from Canadian employers of labor to the number of 20,000. Moreover, Canadian newspapers declare that but for the lack of labor building operations on an unprecedentedly large scale would be undertaken everywhere in Canada. A large Toronto employer writes that Toronto alone could absorb 25,000 men. Mr. Preston suggests that the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council has some sinister motive in view, rather than an honest warning.

Questions Answered.

COMMON NUISANCE.—The owner of a row of cottages is almost daily hauling sand, ashes or dirt to fill up the back part of the lots, and in crossing the sidewalk, which is higher than the rest of the street, and has no approach, or bridge, to it, the wagon is shaken, so that the sidewalk is peppered with the contents of the wagon. The sidewalk is never swept, and is no sooner partially cleared by the traffic—chiefly by a woman, or a wind or rain storm—than a fresh deposit is made. This has been going on since the winter. Is there no remedy for this kind of nuisance? Ans.—Yes. It is an indictable offense by the criminal code to interfere with the comfort of the public, as this does. The city bylaw No. 760, section 12, forbids depositing dirt or rubbish on the street, on penalty of a fine. Section 16 also provides that the owner of any house or lot must construct a bridge across the gutter and to the sidewalk if he wishes to drive across the sidewalk to his property, and on failure to do so he is liable to be fined. The fact that the offender does not take the trouble to sweep the sidewalk should be visited with a heavier fine.

OWLET.—What is the least covering a man or a woman is permitted to wear in public places? Ans.—This is a question of fact dependent upon time, place, season and the public frequenting the public place. There is no rule of law as to the quantity of covering for the body. 2. What is the least covering a man or woman may wear when bathing in the river within the city limits? Ans.—There is no rule of law as to quantity. The body, particularly the lower portion, must be covered loosely. 3. In opera posters and other public advertisements on the streets, what part (if any) of the human form is required to be draped or covered? Ans.—The lower portion of the body. 4. What governing powers legislate on this question in Canada? Ans.—The Dominion Parliament and the local municipal council.

Sackville-West Case.

London, June 10.—The court of appeal on the appeal of Lord Sackville, yesterday reversed the decision of the chancery court, on May 7, which granted the application of Henry Sackville-West, claiming to be the legitimate heir of Lord Sackville, former British minister at Washington, for the appointment of a commission to examine witnesses in France and Spain in support of his claim. The judges of the appeal court held that there was no need for the appointment of such a commission.

A True Brain Food

must replace the feeling of lassitude and mental tiredness by clearness and strength of mind. Not that it goes directly to the brain—that were foolish. The true brain food must be carried by rich, red blood. If mental fatigue worries and alarms you, look not to the brain, but the stomach and assimilative organs. No remedy yet discovered possesses the marvelous brain strengthening power that Ferrozone has demonstrated in thousands of cases. Ferrozone does not stimulate the brain into a fitful glow, but by improving digestion, strengthening the nervous system, stimulating assimilation, giving new strength to the heart, it sends a stream of red, vitalizing blood to the brain. Thus it is a true brain food. Ferrozone is sold by all reliable druggists.

GREAT MEDICINE.—Tonti, one of the pioneers of French Canada, lost a hand and wore an iron hook as substitute. He was in the habit of boxing the ears of refractory Indians with this iron hand, and they have remarked that it was "great medicine." Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is great medicine. It takes hold of pain with an iron hand and knocks it out of the system.

PETROLEA.

Petrolea, June 8.—The Walter L. Main circus, which visited Petrolea on Friday, June 5, had a very large patronage from town and country.

Mr. J. Franklin Chapman, druggist, now of Chicago, but formerly of Petrolea, was united in marriage to Miss Cora P. Stokes, of Queen street here, on Wednesday last. The ceremony was performed by Pastor L. Brown, in the First Baptist Church, of which the bride was a member. The happy couple received the hearty congratulations of a large circle of friends.

Rev. J. W. A. Stewart, of Rochester, N. Y., conducted anniversary services in the Baptist Church here on Sunday and Monday of last week, preaching eloquent sermons on Sunday and delivering a very helpful address on "Culture" on Monday evening. The audiences were large and appreciative at all of the services.

Petrolea business men are planning a monster demonstration for July 1, to surpass all others in the history of the town.

Rev. J. Livingstone is in Wingham, attending the Methodist Conference.

Rev. A. A. Graham is in Vancouver, B. C., attending the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

BELMONT.

Belmont, June 10.—On Friday, May 8, the members of the Belmont Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met at the manse and presented Mrs. Currie with a handsome mantel clock, accompanied by a kindly-worded address. The address was read by Mrs. Charles Abbott, and the presentation was made by Miss Webster. Mrs. Currie was totally surprised, but made a suitable reply, thanking the ladies for their kindness. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. The following is a copy of the address:

"Dear Mrs. Currie,—We, the members of the Belmont Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, deem this a suitable occasion for conveying to you our appreciation of your devotion to the highest interests of this society.

"By you we were organized, and you have labored with us with progress in view, so that year by year we have been enabled to see more of the growing need and our responsibility, and to put forth greater effort to meet it, and as a society we have held an honorable, and even foremost, place among the auxiliaries of the presbytery.

"In all the work of the congregation your efforts to further the Master's cause have always been characterized by zeal and earnestness, but especially in this department of his work do we realize that you have given the best that heart, intellect and untiring energy can yield, and your influence has been a matter of no small moment, nor will it be the shadow of the passing day.

"We cannot think lightly, either, of the duties and responsibilities devolving on you as our pastor's wife, and we here take occasion to sincerely thank you for all your hospitality, for your kindness shown in your home and in our homes, especially in the time of trouble or sickness.

"As an evidence of our goodwill and appreciation, we ask your acceptance of this mantel clock.

"May it often recall the past as a pleasant memory, and foreshadow the future with a bright hope, and may you be long spared to enjoy it.

"We are pleased to remember that upon this token of our love and appreciation you will have occasion to look frequently, and while it ever reminds you that time is passing, may it assure you that the love and appreciation remain, and may it deepen in your heart the hope that when time is no more, we, with you, shall forever rejoice in the presence of him whose name is Love.

"Signed on behalf of the society, Mrs. Garton, Mrs. W. Campbell, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Manning."

KOMOKA.

Komoka, June 8.—The Sabbath school convention, which was held in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday last, was largely attended by representatives from the different schools of Lobo Township, and was a complete success. Both afternoon and evening sessions were thoroughly enjoyed, beneficial addresses being given by Rev. Messrs. Hoste, Knox and Bridgeman, and Mr. German, on Sunday school work. Music was furnished by the choir.

Miss Maggie Stewart is spending her vacation at her home here.

Miss Bessie Ryan, of Hyde Park, visited here last week.

Rev. W. A. Wylie, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, went to Vancouver, where he is attending the general assembly. His many friends wish him an enjoyable time.

Mr. Charles Frank, of Sarnia, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Wilkie's new house is quite an addition to the village, as are also the improvements Mr. Lofthouse has been making to his residence.

Miss Minnie McKellar is spending a short time at her home here.

Strawberries are quite plentiful around here.

Miss Rachel McIntyre spent Sunday in London.

Mr. Ab. Ford intends removing to his home soon.

Mrs. Foster is slowly improving.

THE DUTTON CASE

Child Came to Its Death by Unnatural Causes.

Dutton, Ont., June 10.—The adjourned inquest into the death of the infant child of Adelia Smith, of the Township of Aldborough, was resumed in the town hall here at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon before Coroner Ling, and the jury empaneled at the opening of the inquest on May 26. At 7:30 p.m. the jury retired, and during the night returned the following verdict: "That the infant child of Adelia Smith came to its death from unnatural causes unknown to the jury."

Sore Throat and Hoarseness

with their attendant dangers may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster, and more convenient for the outside. Nerviline penetrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain, allays inflammation, and cures sore throat and hoarseness simply because that's what it is made for. The large 25 cent bottle of Nerviline is unexcelled as a household liniment. It cures everything.

IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD.—When the action of the kidneys becomes impaired, impurities in the blood are almost sure to follow, and general derangement of the system ensues. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will regulate the kidneys, so that they will maintain healthy action and prevent the complications which certainly come when there is derangement of these delicate organs. As a restorative these Pills are in the first rank.

Deranged Nerves AND Weak Spells.

Mr. R. H. Sampson's, Sydney, N.S., Advice to all Sufferers from Nerve Trouble is

"GET A BOX OF MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS."

He says: "I have been ailing for about a year from deranged nerves, and very often weak spells would come over me and be so bad that I sometimes thought I would be unable to survive them. I have been treated by doctors and have taken numerous preparations but none of them helped me in the least. I finally got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before taking them I did not feel able to do any work, but now I can work as well as ever, thanks to one box of your pills. They have made a new man of me, and my advice to any person troubled as I was, is to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or

CONGREGATIONAL UNION HOLDS ITS FIRST SESSION

Fiftieth Annual Meeting Held at First Church.

Extensive Amount of Business Attended To—The Delegates.

The fiftieth annual meeting of the Congregational Union of Canada opened this morning in the First Congregational Church of this city, with about 60 delegates present. The church interior was bright with daisies and palms, supplemented by several flags.

Rev. J. P. Gerrie, B.A., the presiding officer, called the meeting to order shortly after 9 o'clock and began proceedings by devotional exercises. The hour of devotion was followed by a business session.

The union committee which met last night presented its report. This was the fourth meeting of the union in London. All the officers of the last meeting here in 1893 were still alive, but only 14 ministers were in the same place. This being the fiftieth meeting it was arranged that a veterans' meeting should be held. The English delegations' challenge would be presented by Mr. J. C. Copp, offering to provide ten per cent of any considerable amount raised by the churches in Canada. The report advised that in view of the temperance situation in Ontario the union should give some pronouncement. The report was referred to the business committee.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED.

Election of the following officers then took place:

Minute secretaries, Revs. W. R. Harvey and H. A. Morton; membership committee, Revs. Hugh Pedley, T. B. Hyde, W. T. Gunn, E. M. Hill, D.D., and Messrs. J. C. Copp and W. Woodly; business committee, Revs. Dr. W. H. Warriner, J. K. Unsworth and F. J. Day and Messrs. H. Yeigh and J. R. Barber; nomination committee, Revs. D. Silcox, W. H. A. Claris, D. S. Hamilton and J. W. Pedley; finance committee, Messrs. T. Moodie, Wm. McCartney and McLeod; press committee, Revs. H. T. Thomas, C. C. Claris and A. B. Rose.

Knox Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, B. C., applied for membership in the union, stating that by unanimous vote they had decided to become Congregational, and had called Rev. Merton Smith, a Congregational evangelist, to be their minister. The application was supported by Rev. W. J. Hindley, of Vancouver, and was referred to the membership committee to be accepted.

Rev. James Billington renewed his application for membership.

Rev. J. Edward Flower, secretary of the Church Aid and Home Missionary Society of England and Wales, was made a corresponding member of the union.

Greetings of the union to the Presbyterian General Assembly now in session in Vancouver, were telegraphed by Rev. Merton Smith, for presentation to the assembly.

Revs. Frank J. Day, T. B. Hyde and Principal Hill, D. D., delegates to the Congregational Union of England and Wales, the Presbyterians and Baptists of Canada, respectively, reported, expressing fraternal feelings from those bodies.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS.

At 11 o'clock the Home Missionary Society held its meeting, Mr. Charles Cushing presiding. The hour was devoted to the reading of the reports of the secretary and treasurer. The former, Rev. Wm. McIntosh, told of some of the momentous changes in the past fifty years, and spoke of the various pastorates and the work that was being done in each. The church, he said, was healthier in Quebec than in any other part of Canada. This country was only in a formative period and the needs were great.

The treasurer, Mr. Charles R. Black, of Montreal, was unable to be present and his report was read by the president. It showed receipts for the year of $27,816 88, and disbursements of $19,413 06. In the general mission fund the disbursements amounted to $14,567 20, and the receipts only $11,435 10. The debit balance of $3,132 10 was a serious matter, and the treasurer pointed out how necessary it was that this should not occur again.

To this "scolding," as one member called it, there was some objection on the ground that no business-like proposals were made by which the difficulties could be overcome. There was considerable discussion on the two reports, both of which were adopted, and between 1 and 2 o'clock the meeting came to adjournment.

During the progress of the meeting, Rev. J. Edward Flower, of London, England, was escorted to the platform by Revs. Prof. Warriner and E. D. Silcox.

This afternoon is being devoted to committee work, and this evening, as has been announced, a public meeting will be held, at which delegates will be welcomed and an address given by Rev. J. P. Gerrie.

The delegates who had registered up to 1 o'clock this afternoon are as follows, with names of parties with whom they are staying:

Rev. A. B. Ross, of Frome, with Mrs. J. Cook, 206 William street.

The Plague in Berlin.

Berlin, June 10.—It is thought that one of the attendants who looked after the late Dr. Sachs, who died of bubonic plague last Friday, is suffering from the same disease. The attendant's name is Otto Marggraf. He is only 22 years of age, has a strong constitution, and his recovery is not despaired of.

Blames Anarchists.

London, June 10.—The London Times today prints a dispatch from Valparaiso, Chile, which says the engines of some of the steamers in the bay there have been tampered with, presumably by Anarchists, a nortorious leader of whom is at Valparaiso conducting an agitation. The correspondent adds that this possibly explains the delay in getting the engines of the British steamer Arequipa to work the night she foundered off Valparaiso.

Stabbed a General.

Kieff, Russia, June 10.—While a Jewish midwife, named Frumskin, who was arrested on a political charge, was being interrogated by Gen. Novitzky, chief of the gendarmerie, she rushed upon him with a knife, which she had concealed in her dress, and inflicted a wound in his neck. The general's injury is not serious.

New Missionary Officers.

Clifton Springs, N. Y., June 10. — The twentieth annual meeting of the International Missionary Union was brought to a close last evening after electing the following officers: President, Dr. J. T. Gracey; vice-president, Rev. T. L. Gulick; secretary, Mrs. C. C. Thayer; treasurer, Dr. C. C. Thayer; librarian, Mrs. C. W. P. Merritt.

A. O. U. Convention.

St. Paul, June 10.—The supreme lodge, Ancient Order United Workmen, is holding its biennial session at the State capitol. In his report, Supreme Recorder M. W. Sackett gave the total membership at the close of 1902 as 451,510; the amount paid to widows and orphans during the year, $9,860,416, and the death rate during the same twelve months, per 1,000, was 11.84. Dr. D. H. Shields, supreme medical examiner, said the largest number of deaths in the order were due to consumption.

Nerves Were Entirely Unstrung

Threatened With Nervous Prostration But Was Restored to Health by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. A. E. Taylor, 442 Pall Mall street, London, Ont., whose husband is a bookbinder, states: "For some months my health has not been up to the mark. I felt very tired and languid in the morning, and at times suffered a great deal from headache. My nerves seemed entirely unstrung, and what sleep I got did not refresh me. On the advice of a friend I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after having used several boxes I am pleased to say that my health has been completely restored. I consider I am indebted to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for this change in my condition."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food soon wins the confidence of all who are pale, thin, weak or exhausted, for by noting your increase in weight while using it you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added to the body, and realize that weakness and disease are giving way to strength and vigor. Fifty cents a box, 6 boxes for $2 50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies.

The Pleasures of Married Life.

[Boston Traveler.]

Penelope—Charley called last night.

Justine—That's twice in a week, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"I suppose he'll come three times in the next week?"

"That's what my brother says."

"And five times the next?"

"That's what my sister says."

"And six times the next?"

"That's what my aunty says."

"And seven times the next?"

"That's what my papa says."

"And then what?"

"Then we'll get married; that's what everybody says."

"And then what?"

"Then I sha'n't see him any more of an evening; that's what mamma says."

Leads the World's Rich Men.

John D. Rockefeller is now classed as a billionaire, and reported to be the richest man in the world. Before the South African war Alfred Beit, of Kimberley, was, according to an English list published in 1900, the world's only billionaire. Li Hung Chang, of China, stood second in the list with $500,000,000, and John D. Rockefeller third with $250,000,000. Only seven others were given fortunes of over $100,000,000. Prince Elim Demidoff, of Russia, $200,000,000; Cornelius Vanderbilt, of New York, $125,000,000; Andrew Carnegie, $120,000,000, and William K. Vanderbilt, John Jacob Astor, Wiliam Rockefeller and William Waldorf Astor, each $100,000,000.

Lord Rothschild, of England, was credited with $75,000,000 and Alphonse Rothschild, of Paris, and Baron Albert Rothschild, of Vienna, $70,000,000 each. The English Dukes of Devonshire, Bedford, Norfolk and Buccleugh each had $50,000,000. Alfred Krupp, gunmaker, had $45,000,000. Claus Spreckels and P. D. Armour each $40,000,000. Collis P. Huntington, George J. Gould and J. Pierpont Morgan each $35,000,000, and Marshall Field, Harold McCormick, W. L. Elkins and James J. Hill each $25,000,000, all of them ranking in wealth with Russian and Austrian princes.

Fifty years ago the millionaires were confined mainly to the princes and dukes and bankers of Europe. The American millionaire came with the era of development of railways and the mineral and manufacturing resources of the country. Since the census year of 1900 there have been great changes, Mr. Rockefeller having doubled his wealth, and the South African millionaires having lost ground. Many Americans who were simply hard workers 20 and 30 years ago have advanced to the rank of millionaire.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Attacks On the Members of the Gamey Commission.

We are far from holding that judges are infallible and above criticism. On the contrary, we are rather inclined to believe that a wholesome public criticism and public opinion has a good effect on all men, including judges. Too many are apt to let everything go as right if it emanates from a judge. A judge joke is always laughed at. It may be as weak as water, and from an ordinary man would provoke only contempt, but from a judge it is not so apt to be criticised.

We are quite well aware, too, that judges are quite as human as other men, some of them may be even mentally, as Richard the Third described himself to be physically, "halt and maimed, from his birth," their minds are as various as their faces, yet we must admit, too, that in Canada there has been little cause for complaint. Here and there, perhaps, a little too hot-tempered, but, on the whole, discharging their duties to the best of their knowledge and ability, honestly and fearlessly.

There is a pride, a just pride, in Canada on the administration of justice. The judges are proud of the good opinion of the people and strive to deserve it. The bar is proud of the bench, and to attain a position on the bench is a proper ambition. The training at the bar of every judge before he is even considered for the bench makes him a man in many respects superior to the men of any other walk in life. They learn the highest morals. The atmosphere in which they live causes them to strive after the best ideals, not only of their own time, but of all preceding times. From the ranks of such men, tried and proved, our judges come.

Politics have not entered much into the appointments made. It cannot be said that politics had anything to do with the selections of Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge to preside over the Gamey investigation — neither of them ardent politicians, and if anything, Conservative. Notwithstanding this fact attacks are made on their finding. It must be plain to the mind of any reasonable man that no other finding would be consistent with the truth. Chancellor Boyd, an equity lawyer, and Chief Justice Falconbridge, a common law lawyer, both reach the same conclusion, a conclusion that was anticipated by all right-thinking men. Certain it is that these men have the respect of the bar and the public, and if there is any section of the Conservative following that desires to stick to Gamey even until it insults the administration of justice and endeavors without reason to drag the judges down to the level of Gamey, such section will only injure itself. The Reformers and the Government can let them go on and calmly watch the result.

Time and sober thought will convince those who now strike blindly at the members of the commission that their findings have the confidence and respect of the whole people. Let Gamey go and let the confidence and respect always entertained for the judiciary remain.

Arbitration.

[Chicago Tribune.]

"Williams, have you named the baby yet?"

"Almost. We've got the two grandmothers to agree to arbitrate the case."

An Actium.

[Toledo Blade.]

"This," said Caesar, squinting through his binoculars at Pompey, as his fleet of oar manned vessels swept down upon the foe, "is what I call giving 'em galley proof that I can lick 'em."

The Right Hand and the Left.

[Boston Herald.]

One of the previous few gifts whose givers will forever remain unknown is the $250,000 which a gentleman handed to the late Mr. Hewitt one day, telling him to give it to the Cooper Union and never reveal the name of the giver. Mr. Hewitt accepted the gift with the conditions attached, and he died without revealing the secret. At the annual meeting of the union the other day it came out that none of the present trustees knows or suspects the name of the donor. And they will not try to find out.

Boswell Converted Him.

[New York Sun.]

The actors in the company playing "Everyman" are supposed to be different from other members of their profession in view of the fact that they are appearing in an Elizabethan production expected to appeal most strongly to cultivated persons. So a member of the Players who met one of them was a little bit surprised at his remark after they had been discussing the future plans of the company.

"You're going to play Ben Jonson's 'Sad Shepherd'?" the host remarked.

"Yes," answered the actor, "and I am so glad of it. I've been a great admirer of Ben Johson ever since I read Boswell's biography of him."

Diversely Viewed.

[Harvard Lampoon.]

Miss Splash—Oh, isn't he a dear?

Mr. Dash—Well, he always struck me as more or less of a goat.

A Fortunate Circumstance.

[Washington Star.]

"There's wan lucky thing about work," said Mr. Dolan.

"What's that?" inquired Mr. Rafferty.

"The fact that it's a graddeal easier to lave off than it wor ty begin. If it worn't fur that beautiful provision in nature we'd all be dead wid industhry."

For a Clean Slate.

[New York Press.]

A man can be almighty mean to his wife and yet wipe out the score if he will only remember, when they are dining in a swell restaurant, to say he can ever eat roast beef except in his own house.

Unspoken.

[Ethelwyn Wetherald.]

My lover comes down the long, leafy street,
Through the tenderly falling rain;
His footsteps near our portal veer,
Go past—then turn again.

O, can it be he is knocking below,
Or here at my door above?
So gentle and small it sounds in the hall,
So loud in the ear of love.

But never a word of love has he said,
And never a word crave I,
For why should one long for the daylight strong
When the dawn is in the sky?

O, a dewy rose-garden is the house,
A garden shut from the sun;
The breath of it sweet floats up, as my feet
Float down to my waiting one.

But if ever a word of love thinks he
It falls from his heart stillborn;
Who bends to the rose does not haste to close
His hand around bud and thorn.

The beautiful soul that is in him turns
His beautiful face agleam;
My own soul flies to feast in his eyes
Where the silent love-words teem.

Our talk is of books, and of thoughts and moods,
Of the wildflowers in the rain;
And he leans his cheek, when we do not speak,
On his chair where my hand had lain.

Yet never a word of love does he say,
And never a word crave I;
For the faint green May would wither away
At the quick touch of July.

And at last—at last we look our last,
And the dim day grows more dim;
But his eyes still shine in these eyes of mine,
And my soul goes forth with him.

For though not a word of love does he say,
Still never a word crave I;
For the words of earth are of little worth
When a song drops out of the sky.

Miss Hanna Married.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 10. — In the presence of a large and distinguished assemblage, including the President and Miss Roosevelt, Miss Ruth Hanna, youngest daughter of Senator and Mrs. M. A. Hanna, was married to Mr. Joseph Medill McCormick, of Chicago, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here today.

Central Park Suicide.

New York, June 10.—A well-dressed man was found in Central Park early today with a bullet wound in his head and a pistol by his side, one chamber discharged. He died on the way to the hospital. There were no papers in his pockets by which he could be identified. The police believe it is a case of suicide.

Disfranchised Dioceses.

Toronto, June 10.—The fact that 28 of the 115 parishes in the Toronto diocese have been disfranchised, was the mournful topic of discussion at this morning's meeting of the Synod. Hon. S. H. Blake considered this the most severe blow received recently, as indicating indifference to the church's affairs.

Niagara Power Deputation.

Toronto, June 10.—A large deputation from Niagara Falls waited on Premier Ross this morning in support of the private bill limiting the assessment of the Ontario Power Company, and fixing $10 per horse power as the rate to be charged the municipalities for power. The deputation included Mayor Hannon and other officials of the town, and Reeve Ellis, of the village.

Germany Alarmed.

Berlin, June 10.—Considerable uneasiness is felt in official circles over the steady increase in the Russian naval force in the Far East, and in what is regarded as growing signs of serious complications in Chinese waters. For these reasons the Government has resolved to reinforce the East Asiatic fleet strongly.

Several of the finest ships in the German navy will be added to the Asiatic fleet at once.

The Humberts Indicted.

Paris, June 10.—The Chamber of Indictments holds that there is sufficient evidence against the Humberts, of "Crawford millions" fame, to warrant their commitment for trial, and has returned formal counts of forgery, using forged documents and swindling.

In a recent article in a widely-read magazine on "Niels Finson and His Heating Rays," it is said: "All the world might now have smallpox without fear of disfigurement." The red-light treatment was experimented with long before and much since that publication, and the results show the quoted statement to be unwarranted.

SHORTHORN CATTLE SALE

From the Herds of Hon. John Dryden, Capt. Robson and Others.

Hamilton, June 9.—A sale of Shorthorn cattle took place at the stock yards this afternoon. Forty-three head were sold from the herds of the following dealers: Hon. John Dryden, of Brooklin, Ont., W. C. Edwards & Co., of Rockland; Capt. T. E. Robson, of Ilderton; W. B. Campbell, of Campbellcroft; R. Mitchell & Son, of Nelson; A. J. Watson, of Castlederg, and J. Gibb, of Brookdale. The auctioneers were Capt. T. E. Robson, of Ilderton, and George Jackson, of Port Perry. The total realized was $8,205. The highest price paid was $500, for W. C. Edwards & Co.'s Pride imp. by Hon. M. H. Cochrane, of Hillhurst, Quebec. Mr. W. R. Elliott, of Guelph, paid $425 for Ruby of Pine Grove III., bred by W. C. Edwards & Co., this being the second highest figure paid. Mr. W. D. Flatt paid $355 for Rose of Towie VI., from Hon. Mr. Dryden's herd. Mrs. W. D. Flatt bought Salty of Pine Grove II., from the Edwards' herd, and paid $300.

NOTABLE FEATURES OF THE MODERN NILE

What the Traveler Sees on the Way from Alexandria to Omdurman.

Traveling by the ordinary methods you may go from Alexandria to Khartoum in about six days. Easily and smoothly you swing through the fertile cotton fields of the delta, and its populous cities and villages, prosperous but dirty, and at Cairo you settle down into a most comfortable sleeping-car for the night journey to Luxor. Early next morning you are in the cane fields of upper Egypt, with the river close on one side and the desert on the other.

At Luxor you must change to the narrow gauge for Assouan, and there is time to refresh yourself with bath and breakfast and to look across at the plain of Thebes and the valley of the tombs of the kings, or to ride a donkey out to Karnak. From Luxor to Assouan it is hot and dusty enough, and you are glad to rest there for the night. Next day you embark at Shellan, above the dam, for Wady Halfa, a leisurely voyage of three days. It is a most beautiful reach of the river; the hills come down to the water in bold, rugged outlines, showing to perfection in the pure, dry, desert air. The effect of the dam is clearly seen as far as Korosko. First of all, at Shellan the boat is moored amid a grove of palm trees, the temples of Philae are knee-deep in water, and the Nubian villages look quaint enough as they stand on the edge of the desert, forlornly mourning their strip of cultivated land, most of which the greedy reservoir has swallowed.

The boundary between Egypt and the Soudan, settled by the convention of 1899, runs along the twenty-second parallel; not far beyond this is the frontier town of Halfa. There is no mistaking the signs of British rule. The whole place is rigidly clean, an extraordinary contrast to the filth of the Egyptian villages. The streets are well laid out and scrupulously swept, and shady avenues of trees are springing up. Halfa is the railway terminus of the Soudan. It is twenty-eight hours to Khartoum. Nothing can be more comfortable than the well-appointed sleeping-car train, which runs twice a week. Starting at 8 o'clock in the evening, you strike right across Baynda desert, most desolate and forlorn of countries. The stations have no names, but are known merely by their numbers. In the morning you come to Abu Hamed—back to the Nile once more. Here was the scene of one of the stiffest fights in the Soudan campaign, when General Hunter made his rush from Korki, and here are the graves of the white officers of the 10th Soudanese Battalion, round which the black soldiers who died with them keep ghostly watch and ward forever, and so redeem the credit of the regiment, which came back from the battle without its leader.

From here onward the journey is full of interest. Berber is springing up again from its ruins; it even boasts two stations. Then comes the Atbara, with its famous bridges, and then Matiner, where there is this year a camp exercise for the Egyptian army. The camp had a most business-like appearance. Just as we arrived a train came steaming in with a battalion of infantry, all in full marching order; it was exactly like a regiment detraining at the front in real war. Shendy is the Crewe of the Soudan, and, an hour or two later, we ran into the terminus at Halfaya.—London Standard.

Cats Dislike Snow.

"Dogs," said Prof. Von Joggleby, "appear to like snow. You see them sometimes rubbing their heads and shoulders in it, and rolling in it, and appearing fairly to revel in it. But not so with cats. I should say that cats like snow about as much as the devil likes holy water.

"In view from my study window is a range of yards back of a line of dwelling houses, these yards being separated by board fences, each fence surmounted by a narrow coping board, while across each one of these yards, their ends resting on the tops of the fences, there are two beams to which clothes lines are tied.

"The fence tops, as these are finished, together with those transverse beams, make a back yard paradise for cats; and rarely do I look from my study window without seeing one or more cats strolling leisurely on those airy promenades.

"That is, when those promenades are unobstructed. But let snow come, and pile up three or four inches deep on those narrow walks, and the cats stay away from them until the snow is melted off or been blown off or been broken down by some more adventurous member of their tribe.

"Soon after the storm has ceased there are likely to be seen one or two cats making their way along the snowy fencetops somehow. Whether these are doctor cats that have to go, I don't know, but there are likely to be out a cat or two soon after the storm.

"But these cats don't like the snow. They proceed along the fence tops shrinkingly and with great caution. They don't go at the snow boldly and beat it down, or brush it off, but they walk along astride of the snowy ridge as well as they can, disturbing the snow just as little as possible, their feet always near the outer edges of the coping strip.

"Sometimes the feet on one edge will slip off, the claws don't get a good hold; and then down will go the cat, its body smashing down the snow ridge, and bringing up on the fence top. But it scrambles out of the situation again, and gets up on all four feet again as soon as it can; to go on carefully and cautiously again along over the snow ridge, disturbing it just as little as it can.

"But this first cat breaks down the snow somewhat, and though it may be hours before another braves this obstruction on its favorite walk, still sooner or later another cat does brave it, finding the way a little easier than did the brave pioneer, and itself breaking down a little more of the way.

"And then gradually more cats come out, and among them all they tread the snow off, or the wind blows it off, or the sun melts it, and at last they get their promenades back again as they were and once more come out in full numbers.

"This may not be a question of large scientific interest, but as a result of long observation, I now set it down, for the benefit of those who may be interested in the subject, that cats do not like snow."

The bursting of a 12-inch gun on the U. S. cruiser Iowa is under investigation, but it is known that with the quarterly target practice for six years, the bombarding of San Juan and the battle with Cervera it had been fired more than 200 times. The average life of the large bore, built-up gun is estimated as ranging from 150 to 200 rounds, so the gun has had its day.

IN NATURE'S STOREHOUSE THERE ARE CURES.—Medical experiments have shown conclusively that there are medicinal virtues in even ordinary plants growing up around us, which give them a value that cannot be estimated. It is held by some that Nature provides a cure for every disease which neglect and ignorance have visited upon man. However this may be, it is well known that Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, distilled from roots and herbs, are a sovereign remedy in curing all disorders of the digestion.

In a gorge of rock little more than 200 feet wide the United States Government has decided to construct a dam of solid masonry, at the Tonto basin site, that will create in the valleys of the upper Salt River and Tonto Creek the largest artificatl lake in the world. It will irrigate 200,000 acres.

IT SOOTHES the CHILD, SOFTENS the GUMS, ALLAYS all PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHŒA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's," and accept no substitute.

Newcastle-on-Tyne municipal tramways have resulted in a profit to the town of $40,000 since their inauguration 15 months ago.

PAIN IS A PUNISHMENT.—Pain is a protest of nature against neglect of the bodily health, against carelessness regarding the physical condition. It steals in at the first opportunity and takes up its abode in a man, and it is sometimes difficult to eject it. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will drive it out in short order. Pain cannot stay where it is used, but immediately flees away.

"A New Woman."

Disease makes many a woman prematurely old. Dark-rimmed eyes, hollow cheeks and wasted form are accompanied by listlessness and loss of ambition. Home duties are a weariness, and social pleasures have no attraction.

One of the commonest expressions of women cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is this: "It has made a new woman of me." There's a world of meaning in the words. It means the sparkle brought back to the eyes; the complexion tinted with the rosy hue of healthy blood; the form rounded out anew in graceful curves; the whole body radiant with health.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes new women of those prematurely aged by disease.

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are the best I have ever used," writes Mrs. C. Nelson, of Chemawa, Marion Co., Oregon. "My health was badly run down when I consulted him by letter. My limbs were cold and my head hurt me continually. I was so nervous that the least thing would startle me almost into convulsions. I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I could scarcely walk sometimes. I felt utterly discouraged, but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' made a new woman out of me."

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in my back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., President Household Economics Club.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

A SENSATIONAL SITTING OF THE BRITISH COMMONS

In Debate on Chaplin's Amendment to Budget Bill the Chancellor Repudiates New Fiscal Policy.

SIR HICKS-BEACH ALSO LEADS A VIOLENT ATTACK

Sensational Rumors Are Prevalent Throughout London That Both the Colonial Secretary and Premier Balfour Contemplate Resigning.

London, June 9.—Continuing his attack on Chamberlain's policy, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said:

No money was worse spent than money expended on the army. He earnestly appealed to the Premier to assure the House that he was determined to stop the increase in the normal expenditure. Sir Michael said he was opposed to Mr. Chaplin's amendment, although he sympathized with the latter's objection to the repeal of the grain duty; but he believed the alternative policy to be a greater evil. Referring to the suggested preferential tariff, the former chancellor of the exchequer declared he yielded to no one in appreciating the splendid work of Mr. Chamberlain. The repeal of the grain duty appeared to the speaker to be a direct bar to the speaker of preference principles. A continuance of the Premier's attitude of suspended judgment was impossible. Mr. Chamberlain's proposals would do more to disunite than unite the empire, and if he persisted in them they would destroy the Unionist party. Such a change could only be made with the consent of the general opinfon of the United Kingdom. Did Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour really think they had obtained such a general assent? He appealed to them to reconsider their position.

Sir Michael was repeatedly checked by the Speaker, and thus was unable to fully develop his anti-protection arguments.

MR. RITCHIE'S REPLY.

Mr. Ritchie, who made a general reply, read a carefully prepared statement. The Government, he said, thought there should be an inquiry into the matter of preferential tariffs; but he would be surprised if the inquiry showed any practical means of carrying out a policy of preferential duties. He avowed himself to be an out-and-out free trader, and added that with his present knowledge he could not be a party to a policy which he believed would be detrimental to the interests of both Great Britain and her colonies, and he believed that the inquiry, from which he would not shrink, would confirm his present views. Mr. Ritchie justified the remission of the grain duty, and contended that the millers and farmers had not benefited by the tax. All that had thus far been suggested was that the matter should be discussed and inquired into. Mr. Ritchie said he thought, in common with his colleagues, that such an inquiry was eminently desirable. He denied that there had been any inconsistency, and while he regretted that the Government had wounded the feelings of some of its supporters, he believed its action would be indorsed by the country. It was the foreign and not the British farmers who had gained by the tax.

Mr. Ritchie's outspoken repudiation of Mr. Chamberlain's proposals caused an immense sensation in the lobbies of the House. No such situation had arisen in the parliamentary world since the memorable split on the home rule bill, and the keenest interest was manifested in regard to the possible developments.

It was freely predicted this afternoon that the Government will relegate the thorny question of tariff preference to a royal commission, which will insure time for a full consideration of the matter and for testing the growth of popular opinion.

HAS CHAMBERLAIN RESIGNED.

The rumored resignation of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain is the most startling development of the proposal of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Ritchie, to abolish the corn tax, the debate on which kept the House of Commons today packed and spellbound until midnight. Even if Premier Balfour persuades Mr. Chamberlain to remain in the cabinet the Colonial Secretary's preferential tariff programme is hopelessly snowed under and his influence as a political power in Great Britain temporarily eclipsed. All the members of the Government who contributed to today's debate vigorously declared themselves as free traders, and frankly opposed Mr. Chamberlain's proposals. Except for Mr. Chaplin not a voice on either side of the House was raised in effective support of Mr. Chamberlain's campaign. Former members of cabinets and private members, irrespective of party, protested against any tinkering with Great Britain's fiscal policy. The Unionists vied with the Liberals in declaring themselves out-and-out free traders. All that was lacking in the complete route of the protectionist cabinet minister was Mr. Balfour's official pronouncement, as Premier, and on behalf of the Government, that the cabinet, as a whole, refused to adopt Mr. Chamberlain's views. Both the pronouncement and the Premier were absent from the debate, because, according to report, Mr. Balfour was spending the evening endeavoring to persuade the Colonial Secretary to remain in the cabinet, notwithstanding his differences with his colleagues.

The debate was adjourned at midnight, when, midst a sensation, Chancellor of the Exchequer Ritchie said he hoped Mr. Balfour would be able to give the House on Wednesday a definite statement on behalf of the entire cabinet, though he could not promise it.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS.

There are many members who believe tonight that Premier Balfour will also resign, and that a dissolution of the House is involved, but these rumors lack confirmation, the best opinion being that a solution of the crisis will be arrived at by Mr. Chamberlain's resignation or by an open declaration that he is willing to drop for the present his preferential tariff proposals. Until midnight the fight, if such an undefended struggle could be so described, raged around Mr. Chamberlain. "Oil and vitriol" is the only adequate description of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's speech, which started the revolt. Amid intense silence his famous Tory ex-minister extolled the Colonial Secretary's virtues and damned his programme. "Black Michael," as he is familiarly called, was never seen to better advantage. The ministers sat with troubled faces, Mr. Balfour looking especially dejected. Mr. Chamberlain, deserting his usual place, paler than usual, stretched himself nonchalantly at the end of the treasury bench. Throughout the afternoon he never exchanged a word with his colleagues. After Mr. Ritchie had renounced the Colonial Secretary's ideas, Mr. Chamberlain stalked out of the chamber without even a nod to Mr. Balfour.

After the dinner recess came another sensation when the Hon. Arthur Elliot, the financial secretary to the treasury, made a bitter attack on protectionists and preferential tariffs. He declared that the financial policy of the Government was clearly exhibited by its decision to revoke the corn tax which savored of protection. "I am sure," he said, "that the more the people inquire into the subject the more they will find it is essential to the prosperity of the country that this country should remain a cheap country, and the more they will be convinced that the basis on which our financial and commercial system has been conducted since the days of Sir Robert Peel should not lightly be dismissed as of no account.

This direct attack on Mr. Chamberlain by a member of the Government who, it is believed, must have spoken with authority, elicited loud cheers.

The debate was adjourned after severe criticism of Premier Balfour's absence.

GAMEY EVIDENCE WAS DISCUSSED

Government Thinks It Should Not Be Printed.

EXPENSIVE AND UNNECESSARY

The Routine Business of the House Is Well Advanced—Municipal Act Amendments.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, June 9.

Good progress was made today in clearing the Legislature's order paper, and the province's business was advanced expeditiously. There is now nothing to hinder an early termination of the session. Mr. Whitney and his followers seem disposed to insist upon the province incurring the considerable and altogether needless expense of printing the Gamey commission evidence in full. Mr. St. John made the altogether uncalled-for statement that the judges' summary was a misleading one.

Mr. Adam Beck, M. P. P., was in his place in the House both at the afternoon and evening sessions. At his present rate of attendance, Mr. Beck will get in fully 20 days in the House before his four-year term expires.

TRACTION COMPANY'S BILL.

Mr. Taylor's bill respecting the Southwestern Traction Company, passed its third reading, and will be assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor without further consideration.

A prominent member of the Opposition stated in conversation that there would be no prorogation until the printed Gamey evidence was laid before the House.

Mr. Whitney opened the discussion on the printing of the Gamey report by remarking that he did not quite understand whether the Government proposed to print the evidence or not, and he would like to know definitely what they intended to do.

Mr. Ross—The addresses of counsel will be printed, but not the evidence.

Mr. Whitney—The evidence should certainly be printed, and as soon as possible.

Mr. Ross—It would be a very expensive undertaking and I don't think it is necessary.

MASS OF EVIDENCE.

The Attorney-General said there was such a mass of evidence that even if it were printed no one would use it. All the evidence which the judges referred to in their report, however, would be printed and copies would be available for the members. An objection to printing all the evidence was that the judges' report contained the numbers of the typewritten pages on which the evidence they quoted was to be found, and if these typewritten pages were printed it would be seen that the judges' report would have to be altered, as the number of the pages given in it would not correspond to the printed report.

Mr. St. John, who followed, said that there was no contention that the judges were acting as judges while sitting as members of the commission. They were paid employes of the province, acting in an extra-judicial capacity. The only judges in the case were the members of the Legislature. Mr. St. John said he had no hesitation in saying, on his responsibility as a member of the House, that the summary of the evidence as made by the judges was in many respects an erroneous one. There were many misstatements in it and many misquotations. It was the right of every member of the House to have before him every shred of the evidence, in order that he might be in a position to give the question at issue the consideration it required. The summary brought in by the judges was not by any means the evidence in the case, and it was not sufficient for the purposes of the House. The members should have the full evidence before them, printed on the authority of the Government, and bearing the seal of the King's printer. At this point he was interrupted with cries of "Question, question," whereupon Mr. St. John decided to let the matter drop.

THE TORONTO B'LL.

Mr. Crawford, in explaining his proposed amendment to the city of Toronto bill, said that it provided that after an amount equaling 10 per cent of the capital stock of the Consumers' Gas Company had been set aside from the surplus earnings of the company the excess should be applied to the reduction of the price of gas. The amendment was lost.

REGULATION OF AUTOMOBILES.

Before Mr. Preston's automobile bill received its third reading, Mr. Stratton proposed an amendment providing that the permits required by the act should be issued by officials to be named by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Mr. Whitney said he hoped it was not the intention to create new offices for the purpose.

Mr. Stratton answered that the duty would be delegated in most cases to city, town or township clerks.

The amendment was adopted, and the bill received its third reading.

The House spent half an hour on the bill respecting the assessment of the property of James Playfair in the town of Midland. Its third reading was moved by Mr. Tudhope and a repetition of the discussion which has marked its various stages through the House, followed. The bill was carried on division.

The following bills were given third readings:

To amend the municipal waterworks act—Mr. Brown.

To amend the act to permit municipalities to use voting machines—Mr. Pettypiece.

To amend the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway act — Mr. Latchford.

Respecting boards of education in certain cities—Mr. Harcourt.

Respecting the town of Aurora — Mr. Davis.

To incorporate the Midland Terminal Railway Company—Mr. Tudhope.

Respecting the town of Port Arthur—Mr. Conmee.

Respecting the town of Rat Portage—Mr. Cameron (Fort William).

Mr. Harcourt's bill to amend the separate schools act passed committee of the whole without alteration.

NEW TORONTO LIBRARY CLAUSE.

Mr. Gibson introduced a number of amendments to his statute law amendment act of 1903. One of the most important was one removing the restriction imposed by the present statute, which provides that only one-quarter of a mill of the general tax rate may be applied to public library purposes. Under the amendment the city council may increase this proportion, or may submit to the electors a proposition to do so.

Another amending clause provides that the head coroner for Toronto, to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, shall be paid a yearly salary of $1,500 in lieu of fiefs, one half the sum to be paid by the province and one-half by the city.

Another clause introduced by Mr. Gibson gives the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council the power to impose a fee on extra-provincial companies in addition to that already imposed by the Dominion Government. The Provincial Secretary explained that this was designed to protect the interests of companies licensed by the Province.

The provision restricting cities from making grants exceeding $3,000 to agricultural fairs is removed, and these corporations can make as large grants as they desire.

GAMEY OBJECTS.

The proposal to extend for one year the time in which the contructions of the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway may be commenced drew a protest from Mr. R. R. Gamey. The people of Manitoulin, he said, wanted to see if the company really meant business, as otherwise they would make overtures to the C. P. R. for the building of a branch line to a point opposite Little Current. The Manitoulin people wanted to see the M. and N. S. Company start operations on their line from White Fish River to the island. Mr. Gamey was in favor of giving the M. and N. S. Company reasonable time, but he wanted to be sure that they meant to go ahead.

In deference to Mr. Gamey's objection the Premier said the clause would be laid over for further consideration.

The time for the completion of the James Bay Road is extended for three years.

The House rose at 5:45 and resumed its session at 8, sitting till 11.

MUNICIPAL ACT.

The major portion of the evening session was devoted to a discussion of the amendment to the municipal act, providing for a return to the old system of county council representation by reves. The measure was first introduced by Mr. Taylor (North Middlesex) and adopted as part of Mr. Davis' omnibus amendment bill. The House, on a non-partisan division, declared in favor of the principle of the amendment, 49 voting for it. Messrs. Ross, Gibson, Stratton and Latchford voted with a majority, including most of the Opposition members. Mr. Whitney and Mr. Harcourt voted with the minority.

STRONG PRAISE

From One Who Has Proved the Value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"We have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in our home for the past eight years for various troubles, and have always found them successful." Thus writes Mrs. H. Heveror, of West Gravenhurst, Ont., and she adds: "At the age of eight years, my little boy was attacked with la grippe, and the trouble developed into St. Vitus' dance, from which he suffered in a severe form. He was under several doctors at different times, but none of them helped him. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they restored him to perfect health, and there has not since been any return of the trouble. More recently I have used the pills myself for muscular rheumatism, and they were equally successful in effecting a cure. The pills have saved us many a dollar in doctor's bills, and I would like every one who is sick to try them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all troubles due to poor or watery blood, or weak nerves, and that is the reason why they are the most popular medicine in the world, and have a much larger sale than any other remedy. They cure such troubles as rheumatism, sciatica, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, anaemia, indigestion, neuralgia, heart troubles, and the ailments common to women simply because they make new, rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves and thus drive disease from the body. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer, or they will be sent post paid at 50c per box, or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around every box.

THE TORONTO SYNOD

The Attendance and Finance Figures of the Diocese.

Toronto, June 10. — The Anglican Synod of the Toronto diocese convened in St. James school house yesterday morning, and listened to the address of Bishop Sweatman. His lordship reported 1,594 confirmations this year, a decrease in membership of 1,720, but an increase in average attendance at morning service of 921, and evening 156; there was an increase in communicants of 739, and 17,000 took communion on Easter Sunday. The Sunday school reports were less satisfactory; there were 14 less schools and 40 less teachers; the decrease in average attendance was 472, although the numbers on the rolls increased 61. The country's general prosperity was shown by increased givings of $6,500 towards clerical stipends, $29,145 to parochial work, and $1,231 to diocesan missions. About 40 parishes are disfranchised for not having made a return of their synod collections.

A FRENCH VICTORY

Algerian Punitive Expedition Destroys Village.

Beni-Ounif, Algeria, June 10. — The Figuians yesterday advanced cautiously to the edge of the hills occupied by the French forces, but no renewal of the action of Monday occurred. Several of the native leaders entered the French camp and solicited an interview with the commander. The result is not known. The natives report that 300 were killed and many wounded, as a result of the bombardment yesterday of the Zenaga village, which was almost completely destroyed. The figures are not official, and it is considered possible there are more dead under the ruins.

STIRRED UP SOCIALISTS

German Cardinal Issues a Pastoral Letter.

Berlin, June 10.—The pastoral letter of Cardinal Kopp, Bishop of Breslau, against Socialists and the Polish Nationalists, which was read in all the Catholic churches of Upper Silesia on Sunday, instead of the sermon, caused an outburst of feeling in the Polish press and political clubs. Disturbances took place in the churches during the reading of the letter. There were murmurings and loud coughing, and even curses were uttered. The clergy are circulating a blacklist of the names of the newspapers which their parishioners must not read. Boisterous political meetings were held Monday night.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT

Four Sisters Upset From Boat—Two Drowned.

St. John, N. B., June 10.—A dispatch from Kent County says that a sad drowning accident occurred at South Beach, Richibucto, on Saturday evening. Four sisters, two young women and two girls, daughters of Marshal Sencau, of Peter's Mills, started to row from the South Beach to the mainland, in a small dory. The dory was accidentally upset, and all the girls were thrown into the water. There was no assistance, but the eldest of the girls, who is a good swimmer, strove heriocally to save her sisters, but two of them were drowned, one young woman and the youngest girl. The eldest girl herself would no doubt have been drowned but for the assistance of Richard Robichaud, who happened along and assisted in rescuing her and one young sister. One of the deceased young women was to have been married on July 1. Coroner Bourke held an inquest, when a verdict of accidental drowing was given.

NO TONIC LIKE THEM

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Vernon Bromley's Rheumatism and Sciatica.

Trenton, Ont., June 8.—Vernon Bromley, formerly clerk at the Gilbert House here, but now a resident at Morristown, N. Y., has given for publication a statement that has been received with general satisfaction by his numerous friends in Trenton. Mr. Bromley's statement reads:

"The citizens of Trenton all know what a cripple I was from Rheumatism and Sciatica. I could not work and I could scarcely lie down, the pain was so great. I could get no relief till I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Twelve boxes cured me completely.

"I am thoroughly convinced that my cure is a permanent one, and so highly do I think of Dodd's Kidney Pills that I am never without them in the house. I think there is no tonic like them."

BAER ON THE STAND

He Tells of the Increase in Wages and Supplies.

New York, June 10.—In the interstate commerce investigation of the Hearst complaint against the coal carrying railroads yesterday, President Baer, of the Reading, was recalled, and testified that the rate on coal charged from the anthracite region by the Reading system, about 180 miles to tidewater, is $1 55 a ton. "Notwithstanding the enormous increase of traffic," he said, "the cost of transportation has increased. The rates have not increased, but the cost of all supplies, except steel rails, has advanced within the last few years. In wages alone on the Reading stystem the increase last year was $1,200,000." During the strike Mr. Boer said the Reading system lost more than $1,500,000 in freight alone on anthracite.

She Got the Drop.

Butte, Mont., June 10.—Dick Stanifer, a cowboy, was shot and killed here yesterday by Mrs. Leo Brown, who formerly was his wife. Stanifer, it is said, after twice knocking the woman down, drew his pistol. Mrs. Brown, however, was the quicker and her bullet sped true to its mark.

STATE OF DENOMINATIONAL EDUCATION IN ENGLAND

Dr. J. Munro Gibson, of Old London, Speaks of This Subject and of Church Union.

Dr. J. Monro Gibson, of London, England, was received by a large audience last evening at the First Presbyterian Church, when he appeared to lecture upon the every interesting English controversy of national vs. denominational education, as well as upon the subject of church union. The choir rendered two selections, and the balance of the evening was given to the lecturer, only a few minutes being occupied by the chairman, Rev. W. J. Clark, in introducing the speaker. In doing so, Mr. Clark referred to Dr. Gibson's long service to the Presbyterian Church in America, as well as in the old country, and to the honored place he now holds in the church in England.

Rev. Dr. Gibson thanked the chairman for the kind welcome. He at once applied himself to the subject. He believed that the union of churches in England would lead some day to the union of evangelical churches in Christendom. While Canada was taking the lead in the union of churches, of one denomination, England was taking the lead in the union of various denominations. He then proceeded with a history of the union movement in England.

TWO IDEALS OF UNION.

There were two ideals of union, both of which could not be right. There was the ideal of an outward and formal union, the idea of all being bound to one fold. That was an idea of the Roman and High Anglican Church, the fold being the central authority of Rome. The other ideal was the inward and spiritual alliance—the way of free federation. That federation might get closer and closer and end in organic unity. It was a unity and a common trust in the Lord. Where Christ was, there was the church. There were different ways of administration, but they were all loyal to God. The great conception of the unity of the church was to make it inward and spiritual.

The Romanists held that according to John there was "to be one fold and one shepherd." The new version of the Scripture showed that the corrected translation of the apostle was "one flock" and not "one fold," which was vastly different, as he pointed out. There could be a multiplicity of folds in the flock and this did not interfere with the church's unity.

The time might come when they might have fold unity, but they did not need to wait for that. What they wanted was unity, fellowship and brotherhood, and this they had in England and Wales now. Federation was a growing idea. In politics it was to be found and he referred to his having been in Canada when Confederation was considered. For the first time, the idea of federation had been put in practice in England interdenominationally. Many Anglicans were sympathetic with them, but they could not claim the Established Church.

They had other churches in the alliance, however, and first in the matter of administration was their "local councils," the meetings of which were held monthly. In England and Wales there were 800 councils. Then some of these councils were federated in certain areas constituting further unity. The National Council composed of representatives of the latter bodies, met once a year. Since 1895 they had encouraged the idea of individual representation so that the National Council was like a parliament. It was a coincidence that movements towards the two ideals began at one time. The Pope himself, however, had shut the door against the movement to bring all within the fold of Rome.

The churches that united had practically become one in doctrine and there was united action in evangelization. It had meant the avoidance of a church's working for its own ends, and was intended to prevent overlapping. While it was hard to get one church to close up in a community where more than one was necessary, still the alliance had made it that public opinion would prevent overlapping in the future.

EDUCATIONAL CONTRIVERSY.

Having spoken at some length on church union, Rev. Dr. Gibson took up the subject of the educational controversy. National education, he said, meant as far as possible the best education of all the children of England, while denominational education meant the splitting up so that each church could run its own schools. In England it would be impossible to inaugurate purely national schools as there were in existence so many Anglican schools, which had done good work. He traced the history of the controversy from 1870, when in Mr. Gladstone's time a compromise was made by which it was agreed to establish national schools where denominational schools did not already cover the work, the latter to receive half support from the Government. This had gradually increased, until after the last elections there was a movement to give them full support.

The bill had been arrived at without any consultation of both sides and the principle to which objection was taken was that it meant voting money by a public who had no control. He explained the details of management, showing how the High Anglicans had the control, and gave a warning as to the future, with the growth of ritualism and Romanism. The people were compelled to pay for schools where their children were taught it to be a sin to be Methodist, Presbyterian or Baptist. Yet there were 80,000 parishes in England where there was only one school which the children were compelled by law to attend. It would gradually turn into a Romanist propaganda and lead to the Bible being taken out of the schols altogether. Since 1833 there had been an extraordinary development of ritualism among the clergy, who now wanted it carried to the children, and that was why the free churches strenuously opposed the education law.

THE QUESTION OF PROTECTION

Introduced by the Leader of the Opposition.

DUTIES ON IRON AND STEEL

Mr. Borden's Amendment Inopportune—Voted Down by a Majority of 44.

Ottawa, June 9.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Tarte asked when it would be convenient to have his protection resolution taken up.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that Thursday would be suitable.

On motion to go into supply, Mr. Borden moved his amendment calling for duties on iron and steel products. Mr. Borden argued that every civilized country possessing all resources for the production of iron and steel granted protection to that industry. In Great Britain, a free trade country, he said, the industry was fully established before the necessity for aid arose. Canada had in many places all the natural resources at hand for carrying on the production of iron and steel, and had ample means for assembling the products at the seaboard at Nova Scotia and the great lakes. He said that if the iron and steel industry had not been successfully carried on in the past, that was no reason why it should not be made profitable in the future. Mr. Borden went on to argue that the growth of the iron and steel industry in Germany and the United States was due entirely to a protective policy. He quoted statistics in support of his contention and claimed, first, that there was no country which did not require protection for iron and steel manufacturers; and, second, that if we were possessed of a proper measure of protection we could develop our industries to an extent hardly to be believed unless actual results were placed before us.

Mr. Borden stated that he had carefully abstained from incorporating in his resolution anything that would constitute a vote of censure. He wanted to see Canadian industries flourish, and that was his only object in pressing upon the Government the necessity for action. He did not believe that bounties without protection could ever result in lasting good, but that unless adequate protection was extended to the iron and steel industry, so as to give it home markets it could not stand. He challenged the Government to point to one individual case in which an industry stimulated by protection had exacted undue prices. He asked the Government to at least restore the iron and steel duties to the position they occupied in 1894. Immediate action, he said, was necessary, in order to prevent loss of home to thousands and some fortunes to many. In Nova Scotia the great industry was threatened and might come to a standstill. From 10,000 to 15,000 persons would be involved. The Opposition was willing to remain at Ottawa and assist in any revision of the tariff that might be necessary to prevent trouble, and time could not be better spent than in making such revision.

Mr. Fielding took great comfort from Mr. Borden's admissions that great reductions had been made in the duties on iron and steel products, although the Opposition had declared for the past seven years that the National Policy still obtained. He did not intend to discuss the resolution at length, as the time was inopportune. He had heard that the Government had dealt too generously with the iron and steel manufacturers, but this was the first time he had listened to the charge that sufficient encouragement had not been given. He accused the Opposition of endeavoring to make political capital by bringing in the resolution at the present time. If any changes were to be made an opportune time would be when the tariff changes proposed early in the session were under discussion. The Government would not do anything now. In its present form the motion was a vote of want of confidence, and he asked the House to vote it down.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred to tariff as a moderate one. A tariff suitable in 1897 was not necessarily suitable in 1902. Disappointment attended the operations of the Conservative tariff, and business had never prospered in Canada as it had under tariff of 1897. He referred to the Dominion Steel Company as having met financial difficulties, and it had come to the Government seeking consideration. In these circumstances he pleaded they naturally expected the company would show a statement of its affairs, and how its expectations had not been realized—whether the cause was in the tariff or some other conditions. The Government had therefore asked for a statement, which would require time, to reflect on and study. This was why the Minister of Finance had held Mr. Borden's resolution to be inopportune. The proper time for dealing with the issue raised would be when the House was in committee of ways and means, and he therefore asked Mr. Borden to withdraw his amendment.

The debate was continued after recess by Messrs. Clancy, Pringle, Tarte, Oliver and Pope.

The question was put at 11:25 and declared lost, a division being demanded, Hon. J. I. Tarte voting for the resolution and Messrs. Calvin and McGowan against. The amendment was lost by 47 yeas to 91 nays—majority against, 44.

The House then went into supply.

HEAVEN WILL REWARD

Roumanians Urged to Imitate Kishineff Massacres.

Vienna, June 10.—Two hundred Roumanian Jews passed through Vienna on their way to America. They asserted that the conditions in Roumania are daily growing more perilous. The anti-Semite press is openly inciting the people to follow the example of the Russians at Kishineff. The Vocea Tutovei, of Berlat, Roumania, concludes an article on Kishineff, as follows: "The orthodox Russian priests have done their duty. It is your turn, Roumania priests. Raise the cross and begin the battle here against the wretched Jewish horde, which has brought the Roumanian people to beggary, and your reward in heaven will be greater."

CANCER OPERATIONS A FAILURE.

The Constitutional Method, the Only Rational Successful Treatment.

Carefully compiled statistics of operations for cancer show that fully 85 per cent of those operated on have a recurrence of the disease, usually within a year after the operation is performed, and the results in these cases are rapidly fatal.

By the new method of Constitutional Treatment, the horrors and dangers of the operating table are avoided, and the cancer completely cured. Our simple vegetable remedy searches out the cancer germs and poisons and eliminates them from the system, and cures the disease in the quiet of your home without pain or inconvenience. Gauthier Committed.

Ottawa, June 10. — Thomas Gauthier, of Lasham, Quebec, charged with the murder of Joseph Veillard, has been committed for trial by Judge Talbot, in Hull. Gauthier struck Veillard on the head with a stick, but the evidence goes to show that it was done in self-defense, as the murdered man was the aggressor and seemed desirous of having a vengeance on Gauthier for some reason or other.

Van Horne Back.

Montreal, June 10. — Sir Wm. Van Horne returned from Cuba yesterday. He stated that he had not yet received official notification of his appointment to the chairmanship of the railway commission, and until such time as he was notified he would not say anything about that matter. He reports his Cuban enterprises in a flourishing condition.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Co. today:

New York, June 10—Noon.—Pennsylvania and St. Paul, as has been the case for some time, resisted the pressure better than any other stocks, St. Paul being picked up by good houses. Towards noon the pressure decreased and a sharp rally ensued. Houses which have been conspicuous sells for some days are turning buyers. The feeling continues nervous, it being feared that heavy liquidation will again break out, but at noon the market had a better tone. Sales to noon, 695,300 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Wednesday, June 10.

There were quite a lot of strawberries offered for this day of the week; about 15 loads sold quickly at 5c per box by the load.

Several loads of oats went at 92c and 93c per cental.

Sixteen cents per pound was paid for washed wool.

About a dozen loads of hay were on the stand; the demand was fairly good at $8 to $9 per ton.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The markets held here during the past six days have been of the ordinary kind for this season of the year, with the exception of the advent of the strawberry season, of which fruit there have been large quantities offered, especially the past two days. Sales for most of the produce offered was quite brisk, and prices were about steady.

Grain—As usual, oats were the principal offering in this line; sales were made mostly at 92c and 93c per cental. Wheat sells at former prices, $1 20 to $1 21 per cental.

Hay and Straw—Not nearly as much hay offered as the previous week, and prices are firmer; sales were at $8 50 to $9 50 per ton. Straw is not brisk, at $5 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter is only fairly brisk, at 16c, and occasionally 17c is obtained for crocks; pound rolls sell at 17c and 18c by the basket lot. Eggs are firm at 13c per dozen by the basket.

Potatoes—There were quite a few offered on Saturday, but since then very few bags have been offered; sales are brisk at $1 20 and $1 25 per bag.

Fruits—Strawberries are the feature in this line on the market at present, and prices for the past couple of days have been from 4½c to 6c per box, according to the quantity purchased. Apples are about done, very few being offered; prices are as quoted.

Poultry—Spring chickens, alive, sell at 50c to 70c per pair; dressed, 60c to 80c; last year's birds sell at 70c for live ones and 80c to $1 for dressed. There are not many turkeys offered, and practically very little demand.

Dressed Hogs—The warm weather prevents the butchers from using many at present; sales are made mostly at $8 per 100 pounds.

Live Hogs—The price last Monday was $5 65 per 100 pounds; the same price will likely be paid next Monday.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, receveid the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Co. yesterday:

Chicago, June 9.—The wheat market was nervous and recorded several quick changes of front. Southwestern houses became buyers towards the close on reports of more rain in sight. Weather conditions were generally favorable except on the Pacific coast, where drought continues. The routine news was without influential features. The Illinois State report is said to be bullish. Weather conditions in the United Kingdom and the Continent were favorable, and the Liverpol market easier, with Paris ¼c to ¾c higher. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 15 cars.

Corn—The market was quiet and firm, with little life in the trade. There was no pressure on prices at any time, and the recent sales seem to have gone into good hands. Favorable weather conditions prevail in the west, and farmers are now having an opportunity to cultivate the early corn. Local receipts are showing indications of falling off. Liverpool cables were lower, in anticipation of heavy shipments. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 200 cars.

Oats—Prices were steady at a small decline early, and firm towards the close, with a moderate trade. The eastern drought situation was relieved by general showers. The weather in the west is seasonable. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 90 cars.

Provisions opened firmer, with higher hogs and lighter receipts, and ruled dull, with scalpers playing the long side, and closed strong on buying by the smaller packers. Smaller receipts of hogs, owing to floods, and delayed farm work, make conditions easy to advance the market, and we are surprised the market did not do better today. The leaders apparently gave the market no support, while there was July lard and ribs for sale all the time. We feel bullish for the near future and believe it a buy. Estimated hogs for tomorrow, 36,000.

TOLEDO.

Toledo, O., June 9.—Wheat—Cash, 76c; July, 75½c; Sept., 74½c.

NEW YORK.

New York, June 10.—Flour—Receipts, 26,443 bbls; sales, 4,500 pkgs; flour was firm and more active. Rye flour—Easy. Wheat—Receipts, 15,600 bu; sales, 1,150,000 bu; wheat was irregular but generally firm on cool weather in the Northwest, higher cables and covering; July, 81 7-16c to 81⅝c; Sept., 77¾c to 77⅞c; Dec., 78 1-16c to 78¼c. Rye—Steady; state, 56½c to 59c, c.i.f., New York; No. 2 western, 58½c, f.o.b., afloat. Corn—Receipts, 135,500 bu; sales, 40,000 bu; corn was active and stronger on fears of cold weather west; July, 56½c to 56⅝c; Sept., 54¼c. Oats—Receipts, 82,500 bu; oats advanced moderately with corn; track, white state, 40c to 46c. Coffee—Quiet; No. 7 Rio, 5¼c. Lead—Quiet. Wool—Firm. Hops—Dull.

SUGAR MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

New York, June 9.—Sugar—Raw firm; refined steady. Molasses—Quiet.

LONDON.

London, June 9.—Raw sugar—Muscovado, 8s 9d; centrifugal, 9s 9d; beet sugar, June, 8s 1½d.

OIL CITY.

Oil City, Pa., June 9.—Credit balances, $1 50.

LONDON.

London, June 8.—Petroleum, American refined, 5 11-16d; spirits, 8⅜d.

BEAN MARKET.

Detroit, June 16.—Beans are firm and inactive; cash beans are up 1c and the options unchanged. Cash and July, $2 25; October, $1 76.

HIDES, SKINS AND TALLOW.

TORONTO.

Toronto, June 9.—Baled Hay—The offerings are quite liberal, the demand is not very active and the market is steady. Cars of No. 1 timothy on the track here are quoted at $9 per ton.

Baled Straw—The offerings appear to be sufficient to comfortably meet the demand here. The market is steady. Cars on the track here are quoted at $5 per ton.

HAY MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Toronto, June 9.—Hides—The offerings are fair, and there is a firmer feeling in sympathy with the advance in the Chicago market. The demand is fair. Local dealers quote green at 8c for No. 1, 7c for No. 2 and 6c for No. 3. Cured are 8¼c for cows and steers 9½c.

Lambskins and Shearlings—The offerings are fair and the market is steady at 30c for lambskins, and 20c for shearlings.

Calfskins—Are a cent lower at 9c for No. 1 and 7c for No. 2.

Tallow—Is weaker. Local dealers are offering 5c and asking 5½c.

WOOL MARKET.

TORONTO.

Toronto, June 10.—The offerings are not large. This is attributed to the fact that there is a disposition on the part of the growers and country buyers, owing to the advance in fine and medium wools in the outside markets, to hold their wool in the expectation of an advance in price. Pulled wools are quiet. Fleece—The receipts are not large, there is a fair demand for all the wool coming forward, but local buyers' views are below those of sellers as to values, and this tends to restrict business. Prices quoted here by local dealers are unchanged at 15c to 15½c for washed and 8c to 9c for unwashed. Pulled Wools—Are quiet; extra is quoted at 19c to 20c and super at 16c.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

LORD DUNDONALD IS IN COMMAND AT THE CAMP

General Officer Commanding Comes to London—Work on the Heights.

Were it not for the announcement in the newspapers that Lord Dundonald was to reach the camp today, at noon, it is not likely that very many of the volunteers would have been aware of the presence of the distinguished soldier. Lord Dundonald arrived in the city shortly before 12 o'clock, coming on the C. P. R. express from the east, and he proceeded immediately to the camp grounds, where he will have his headquarters until Monday morning next. His coming was not marked by any demonstration of any kind—Lord Dundonald is strongly opposed to any display—and when he later appeared on the field he was accompanied by some of the divisional staff officers. Lord Dundonald has with him Col. Beech, Capt. Newton, A.D.C., and his private secretary, Mr. McAllister, all of Ottawa. He will devote his entire time to the camp, and on Saturday evening he will be tendered a complimentary dinner at the barracks. It is understood that there will be a large party of guests.

The instruction in musketry is to be one of the most important features of the camp work this year.

The instruction is to be superintended by Col. Young, of No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I., with Capt. McCrimmon, of the Seventh Regiment, as assistant, and Sergt.-Instructor Price, Sergt. Farnsworth and Lance-Corp. McFadden, all of No. 1 Company, also identified with the work of instruction. Every man in camp will have exercises both at the miniature ranges on the camp grounds and at the new cove ranges. The intention is to have the regiments taken in their turn to the miniature ranges, where practice with the Morris tube apparatus will be held. The regiment will next proceed to the cove, where each member is to have 20 rounds at the 200 yards range. After every regiment has visited the cove, it will make a second trip, and engage in a practice at the 400 yards range. The question might be asked why a regiment should not have the practice at the two and four hundred yards ranges on the same day. The arrangement was made in order that during the interval the men might have some work handling the rifle at the camp, and this would better fit them for the practice. The regiments going to the cove in the morning will leave camp about 6 o'clock, returning in time for dinner. Six men are to be told off from each regiment to act as markers at the ranges. They will not be called upon to take the journey every day, but will act for the entire time of the camp, and will have their tents pitched at the coves, where their meals will also be served to them.

Today was straightening up day at the camp, the bulk of the time up to noon being taken up in getting everything in order. Col. Peters, D. O. C., was among the lines early, and later he inspected the infantry regiments separately.

Sergt. M. O'Connell, of No. 1 Company, R. C. R., has been appointed orderly to Lord Dundonald during the latter's stay in camp.

The Y. M. C. A. has followed out the course of other years by erecting a tent on the east end of the grounds, adjoining the lines of the Thirty-third Regiment, for the use of all the men in camp. The tent is supplied with the best magazines and other reading matter, together with writing material, which is furnished free of charge. Services for the volunteers are to be held regularly at the tent.

Large straw hats, with red bands, have been issued to the men of No. 1 Company, for use during the camp. Some of the regiments are also to be supplied with the same class of articles, which in the past have been found to be a great protection from the sun.

A member of the Twenty-ninth Regiment was kicked on the knee by a horse yesterday and had to be removed to the divisional hospital, where he may be compelled to spend the remainder of the time of the camp.

SEVENTEEN SUMMONED

Owners of Dogs Must Pay Their Annual Tax.

Today There Was an Unusual Silence in the Courtroom.

A visitor to the police court this morning would have thought that there was nothing doing had he counted the number of prisoners that stood up for trial. As it happened there was not a person in the dock, neither was there anyone ready to answer a charge of breaking a bylaw and what was more strange, there was no public.

Still the register showed that there was something doing. In the first place there was the name of a man who had been arrested the day before yesterday for being drunk and was let go today previous to court. It had been his first offense. There was also a case against a man for immoderate driving, but he came up ahead of time and paid a fine of $1. An assault case charge laid by Frank Robinson, of South London, against Charles LeClair was not pressed. The charge was that the defendant had struck the complainant without any provocation, and as the circumstances were such that the complainant was willing to withdraw the case, the costs, amounting to $1 85, were paid by LeClair.

Even this was not all that there was to dispose of by the magistrate. There were no less than 20 names of citizens summonsed for not paying their dog tax. Seventeen of these charges were withdrawn, the men having come up and settled. Three of the names were called out in the almost empty court, but no offenders against the dog tax law appeared. Their cases were adjourned until tomorrow to give them one more chance. The magistrate announced that this first lot of offenders would be let off by settling, but that after this the next lot of people charged with having a dog and not paying for it will not only have to pay the tax but a fine for the trouble of having it brought to court.

Joseph Blaney Had to Pay Only $20 After Pleading Guilty.

Jury Sitting on the Assault Case of Edward Luckhurst.

Joseph Blaney pleaded guilty to a charge of assault upon Turnkey Poole at this morning's session of the June sessions of the peace, before Judge Edward Elliott. This was the only case settled this morning, the case of Edward Luckhurst being heard by the jury, who left the courtroom to consider it at 12 o'clock.

The punishment inflicted upon Blaney was $20 fine, or, in default, one month's imprisonment. In passing sentence his lordship said that he would act leniently with the prisoner, although the offense was a serious one. Blaney argued that it was ignorance of the law that impelled him to act as he had.

The jury will likely give their verdict regarding the case of Edward Luckhurst, charged with assault this afternoon, and a civil case will also be heard. Court resumed at 2 o'clock.

WESTERN OLD BOYISM

Londoners in California Asks About the Reunion.

From California comes a message that even the spirit of London Old Boyism lives. Today a letter was received by a London young man in which the writer seeks information about the reunion. The writer is Mr. J. E. Betts, who lived here not very long ago and who is now with the Continental Casualty Company at San Francisco. The letter has been referred by the recipient to the secretary of the local Old Boys.

Mr. Betts says among other things, that London and its pleasant associations always have a place near his heart, and more than once he has wondered what the arrangements were for the reunion. He says he has endeavored to locate a delegation there, but in vain, and asks information to to whether there will be a representation from California, as he would like to accompany them.

NEW CAR IN USE.

One of the street railway company's new cars made its initial trip this morning. Manager Carr and a number of guests traversed the city in it, and took a spin down to Springbank. The handsome and well-equipped interiors and fine appearance of the car was much admired.

—A boy named Risler, about 12 years of age, was thrown from the rear platform of a street car on Monday afternoon, and received a concussion of the brain, which has since confined him to bed. He was standing on the platform of the car, and as the latter was going down the grade at English and Dundas streets, it rocked so vigorously that Risler was thrown over the back railing. He was picked up unconscious. No serious results are anticipated.

Y. M. C. A. TENTS IN CAMPS.

Toronto Globe: Mr. T. J. Wilkie, district secretary of the provincial committee, assisted by several others, has been in charge of the Y. M. C. A. tents at the military camps since 1871. At the close of the camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake, with his staff of assistants, he will go to Kingston. The Y. M. C. A. has established a tent at London, where Rev. W. Spence, of London, and W. J. Hopkins, of Woodstock, are in charge; and at Three Rivers. The latter tent is in charge of Mr. D. A. Budge, of Montreal.

A PANICKY MARKET

Bad Break in Stocks on the Montreal Exchange.

Montreal, June 10. — The stock market was again in a panicky condition today, owing to the continued liquidation in many stocks, notably traction issues. The most sensational decline was in Montreal Street Railway, which broke to 220, compared with 235 at the close yesterday.

Brokers are thoroughly alarmed over the situation.

The break in the street is 40 points, compared with a couple of weeks ago. Forced liquidation is the only explanation. Many new low levels are made on the decline. Low prices in Canadian Pacific in London and New York helped to break that stock to a fresh low level at 117½.

Storks as Messengers.

A German nobleman of experimental turn of mind, curious as to the migratory habits of the storks which return each spring to his park, caught one last autumn and affixed to its neck a silver plate on which were engraved the words: "This stork comes from Germany." The bird has just returned to his summer haunts, still wearing the silver neckpiece, on which had been engraved beneath the original inscription the words: "India returns him with a gift to his German owner." Attached to the collar was a small parcel wrapped in waterproof containing a ring of unmistakable Indian workmanship. When the bird flies south this autumn he will be the bearer of a message of inquiry as to the identity of the donor of the ring.

MARVELOUS EFFECTS OF HEART MASSAGE

Has Been Known to Restore Life After the Organ Ceased to Pulsate.

To the modern surgeon nothing seems impossible. He will probe the innermost regions of a patient's anatomy, deprive him of a stomach, cut away a third of his bodily substances and produce other amazing changes in the course of a simple day's work. People have grown so accustomed to hearing of these wonderful feats that they look on them more or less as a matter of course. But the very latest achievement of surgery is calculated to astonish even those in whom use has bred a large amount of indifference. At a recent clinic in England the operator actually started a man's heart working after its functions had ceased by massaging the vital organ with his hands. Imagine having the delicate pump which you associate most intimately with your tenure of life worked up and down and squeezed and churned about in the hand of an outsider.

Surgeons had talked the thing over for some years past as a possibility of their science, but only a short time ago was the thing definitely accomplished on a human subject. Of course, animals have been subjected to innumerable such experiments, but the surgeons only consider results when a man or woman has been successfully operated upon. It was at a meeting of the Society of Anaesthetics in England the other day that Dr. E. A. Starling reported the first successful use of heart massage in practice. The case was one of appendicitis. The patient was a man 65 years of age. Ether and nitrous oxide were the anaesthetics employed to render him unconscious. It is always considered a risky matter to use the knife extensively upon a person over 60, and in this instance the operators were well prepared for emergencies. Therefore, when, after the operation had proceeded for some minutes, the subject's pulse began to slacken and his breath to come very faintly there was no flurry among the surgeons or nurses assisting.

At first they tried artificial respiration, drawing the tongue in and out to induce resumption of the natural functions. But the lungs failed to respond, and finally both pulse and respiration ceased altogether.

Then the surgeon, W. Arbuthnot Lane, pushed his hand up through the abdominal wound and grasped the motionless heart through the diaphragm. He squeezed it and felt it start pulsating, though no radial pulse could be felt. Artificial respiration and other restoratives were continued, and in about twelve minutes natural respiration reappeared and the pulse became perceptible at the wrist. After that the surgeon wielded his knife as before the interruption and proceeded to complete his work in businesslike fashion. He did not use an anaesthetic while performing the final work. There was no complication in the case, and the old man made what the doctors call "a good recovery." Commenting on the success of the experiment in this case, the Journal of the American Medical Association says:

"This rough-and-ready method and its success in this case are suggestive of important possibilities, and demonstrate that cutting operations in these cases are not essential and can be avoided. The previous failures followed extensive exposures of the heart either by rib resection or incision through the diaphragm, as recommended by Mauclaire (in two cases). This of itself introduces a serious complication, and Lane's success was probably mainly due to his avoidance of this. The case, as the Lancet remarks, 'justifies us in saying that if during laparotomy the patient's heart stops the case should never be abandoned as hopeless until the manual compression of the heart through the diaphragm has been performed.'"—Philadelphia North American.

HER EARNEST TROTH

Dan held out his hand, and the two men clasped hands together to clinch the bargain. Bethel looked with eyes glistening with gratitude. Then she beckoned Mrs. Frost upstairs and soon returned a la grande dame in all the glory of purple and fine linen.

Dan started at the sight of her, and both men laid down their pipes as she seated herself by the hearth. Dan felt bitterly the contrast between his rags and Bethel's splendor, but Bethel noticed it not at all. Placing her hand in that of her old lover, she smiled up into his eyes fondly, amused at his awe and admiration; then, in her quick, decided manner, she arranged with David as to getting more suitable clothing for Dan, and in whispers they arranged a plan for his escape to London to complete his disguise.

Old Mrs. Frost held her breath, listening to Bethel's daring schemes, and the quick, clever manner in which she settled it all, with but small regard for risk or danger; then she threw her arms around Dan's neck and fervently wished him good-night.

Just outside, coming toward the cottage as quickly as the mud would allow, she met Brinley, who dismissed David Frost, but the man said he had better lead them to the carriage, as he knew a nearer and cleaner way.

Seated in the carriage, Bethel leaned forward, to the great scandal of her maid, and shook hands with David as she thanked him, bidding him call upon her at the manor the next day.

Brinley, who hardly liked seeing his lady-love on familiar terms with those so much beneath her in position, told her so when they were alone, in such tender, well-chosen words, that Bethel wondered how she dared resent them so proudly, but she did, and Brinley subsided into a pained silence.

That night Bethel's guests said they had never seen her in so many moods before. She seemed wholly changed, and amused them,first by unusual mirth and excitement, and then by her reckless snubbings of new and old admirers.

The next day David Frost called as appointed. Brinley bit his lip and returned a proud silence when Bethel challenged his displeasure by asking him if he would like to stand by during the interview to see that she did not damage the dignity of Lady Lufton.

When Bethel sailed into the morning-room, where she had elected to see her visitor, David rose respectfully, but she gave him her hand, rang for cakes and wine, and bade him tell her how his charge fared.

"Well and happy, my lady."

"So he should be," she said softly, "since I can make him both."

Then she gave him a purse, begging him to use it as he thought most expedient for Dan's comfort. In whispers they discussed matters of business. Puck, coming with the wine, felt a little frightened, for he dared to listen at the door, and was never certain but that his mistress by some witch's art would discover his transgression.

The black page had conceived an intense dislike to his hot-tempered mistress, and hoped to avenge himself on her for his imaginary wrongs by finding out any trifling matter which he fancied it was desirable to his mistress to conceal. Now he had seen money pass between her and this strange man and felt inquisitive as to the reason. Like many a wiser person he had a firm belief in motives, and, like most cowardly natures, hated those he feared.

Bethel, in her superb disdain, had often smiled to see the black monkey's dislike of her, yet the time was to come when even such a feeble foe as this should be confessed dangerous; the smaller the nature, the greater its concentrated malice.

When Bethel dismissed David openly, promising him better employment, she thought she had given sufficient explanation to her betrothed by simply saying she knew the man when she was a child.

But Brinley thought so many old acquaintances cropping up unpleasant. You see, he had been born to the purple, not to the plow.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A Visit to Barber Baldpate.

A few days later Bethel astonished her guests by saying she would be obliged to leave them for a day or so to settle some important business. As she held a letter in Lawyer Lovell's well-known legal hand, of course, her statement was received in good faith.

After breakfast Brinley asked:

"When do you set off?"

"Oh, in a few hours."

"I shall, of course, accompany you."

"There is no need," said Bethel,flushing with annoyance. "Lucy West travels with me."

"Nevertheless, with your permission, I shall go, too, as I have business in town."

"Do as you like," said Bethel, ungraciously.

"Come, come, my queen, 'tis hardly kind in you to treat me in this manner; how have I incurred your displeasure?"

They were alone, so he caught her hand and held her near him, saying:

"Bethel, you make me very unhappy: I love you so dearly and you are so cruel to me. Why do you dislike me so?"

"Because you wrong me by compelling my consent to a marriage which must bring misery to both," said Bethel, bitterly, though the pleading eyes so near her own disarmed her wrath.

"And are you alone wronged, Bethel? Have I no cause for complaint?"

Bethel took a new turn, saying softly as she smoothed his brown hair:

"Brinley, I am a miserable woman, and if you love me as you say, I wonder you try to make me more wretched."

"Indeed, darling, I would die to save you pain; but I cannot live without you."

"Well, well, let sleeping dogs lie, is a good proverb; we'll not quarrel, you and I, dear boy, though perhaps there is greater cause for quarrel between us than either of us desires."

"No matter, sweet, since it is still dumb. Give me one kiss by those soft lips, and I'll forgive you anything except saying you will not be my wife."

Bethel stooped her proud head with a strange sense of disgrace, then she cast off her gloom gayly and ran away to prepare for her journey.

As the carriage passed down the village street, Bethel turned suddenly pale and broke off in the middle of a merry sentence without any apparent reason.

Brinley and Lucy followed her eyes, and saw a stout old widow woman in seedy black pass them, laboring under a wheezy cough and a club foot, which dragged uncomfortably as she walked.

"What a strange old creature! I declare, she gave me quite a turn," said Bethel in her former light tone.

They arrived comfortably in London and enjoyed a cosy little dinner at a hotel. During the repast Bethel confessed to feeling very lazy, and asked Brinley if he would do her the favor of calling that evening on his way to the club, on Lawyer Lovell, and request him to wait upon her in the morning, as she did not intend to stay more than two days in town and wanted to do a lot of shopping.

Of course, he readily agreed, and after taking an affectionate leave of her, told her he should expect her to accompany him to the theater the next night to recompense him for losing her society now. She agreed and he left her.

Directly he had gone, Bethel went into her chamber with Lucy. Then commenced a strange performance. Bethel changed her costly robes for Lucy's plain garments, and fastened on her head a flaxen wig fashioned in the manner Lucy wore her hair; then she put on a pair of blue spectacles and a thick crape veil, and slipped out unnoticed, amid the many fresh arrivals. A porter, seeing her pass, decided in his mind that she was that grand actress' lady's-maid.

WESTERN BANK ROBBERS

Attempt to Enter a Portage La Prairie Bank.

Portage la Prairie, June 10.—A daring attempt was made by burglars to gain entrance to the Bank of Commerce Monday morning at 2 o'clock. The junior clerk, Mr. Lount, who occupied a room in the rear of the bank, was awakened by hearing voices at his window, which was up. Thinking it was some of the boys paying him a midnight visit, he jumped up and called out to them, when, to his surprise, one of the visitors opened fire on him, the bullet whistling past close to his head, smashing a picture on the wall and lodging itself in the plaster. Mr. Lount seized his gun and sent two shots after the would-be-burglars, who were hastily beating a retreat. It was very dark, and they made their escape unhurt. On examination of the premises the bars in the window were found to be almost off. Lount could not see the features of either of the men. The police are investigating the matter, but have found no clues.

BIG BLAZE AT PEKIN

Chinese Attempt to Douse It With Banners and Gongs.

Pekin, June 11. — The extensive buildings occupied by the board of revenue and rites are in flames from end to end. The revenue building contains four million taels. The burning buildings adjoin the legations, and the foreign military guards are doing effective service. The Chinese fire department, equipped chiefly with banners and gongs, is helpless. The board of revenue buildings were totally destroyed by the fire, and the soldiers demolished the board of rites building to prevent a further spread of the flames to the foreign section. No estimate of the loss is obtainable at present.

Will Receive the King.

Dublin, June 10.—It is becoming daily more clear that the increase has made up its mind to disregard the mischievous advice of Redmond and other Nationalist politicians relative to the King's visit. The Corporation of Waterford, the most important public body in Redmond's own constituency has unanimously decided to present an address of welcome to the King.

GOING TO TELL IT.

The Great South American Rheumatism Cure; the kind that cures in a few days the most obstinate and painful cases.

If you have a friend suffering from that horror, or from lumbago or neuralgia, it is your duty at least to offer it to him. It will relieve, with the first dose. You too.

William Marshall, of Varney Post Office, County of Gray, Ontario, writes:

"For the last year I was continually in bed. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring and medicines which proved of little relief. The first dose of South American Rheumatic Cure gave me instant relief. I am completely cured."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC builds up into vigor and health the most shattered systems. It is unmatched in female complaints, or general debility in either sex.

Reading May Replace Rochester in the Eastern—Test Races Again Postponed.

BASEBALL.

MAY ENTER THE EASTERN.

Reading, Pa., June 9.—The Reading baseball club today received an invitation to enter the Eastern League in place of Rochester. The matter awaits the sanction of Manager Lawson, who is out of the city. It is believed that Reading will decide to enter the league.

AN EXCHANGE EFFECTED.

Detroit, June 9.—Norman Elberfeld, suspended shortstop of the Detroit club, has been transferred to New York, and will begin playing with Griffith's nine inside of a week. An official statement covering this point is looked for in a day or two. The consideration will be the exchange of Herman Long and Courtney, at present with New York, the first named to play short field in place of Elberfeld, and Courtney to cover third base, vice Joe Yeager, elected to slab duty once more.

Advertiser Score Cards.

The Advertiser has prepared a large number of score cards for the benefit of its baseball friends. These can be had on application to the business office. When a game has been played, fill in a complete summary on a card and send or bring it to this office. The Advertiser's sporting columns are open to every team in the city, both for challenges and scores of games.

THE EXPLANATION OF IT.

Prof. J. J. Thompson, who came over from Cambridge, England, to deliver the Benjamin Silliman course of lectures at Yale this year, said, when asked what effect the establishment of the Rhodes scholarships at Oxford would have on the cause of education, that he feared the benefits to physics would be more than offset by the American strengthening of Oxford's athletic material. He was asked to give the explanation of a curved pitched ball. Said he: "The ball follows its nose, so to speak, if it leaves the pitcher's hand revolving downward on a horizontal axis it is bound to drop. If it leaves revolving upward on a horizontal axis, its follows its nose and rises. When the ball travels on a vertical axis, revolving outward from the batsman, the outcurve is the result, and similarly on a vertical axis, with an inward revolution the reverse is the result. The out-drop is the result of the ball's traveling on a slanting axis, with an outward revolution, and so on. The axis and revolutions are determined by the manner of the sphere's leaving the pitcher's hand, and there you are."

THE TURF.

AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—The weather was clear and the track fast at the Fair Grounds today. Little Scout won the feature. Lady Strathmore, the favorite, ran into a pocket and finished third. Found was second and ran a good race. Cherished, at 7 to 2, beat the even money favorite in the last race by five lengths. Summaries:

First race, 4½ furlongs, selling—Lady Ray, 3 to 2, 1; Pinky B., 2 to 1, 2; Loka Noel, 20 to 1, 3. Time, :56¾.

Second race, 5 furlongs—Miss Crawford, 9 to 5, 1; Matt Wadleigh, 10 to 1, 2; Don Alvaro, 5 to 1, 3. Time, 1:01¾.

Third race, 7 furlongs, selling—Hilee, 1 to 2, 1; Orleans, 5 to 1, 2; Vestry, 5 to 1, 3. Time, 1:28.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—Little Scout, 4 to 1, 1; Pound, 9 to 1, 2; Lady Strathmore, even, 3. Time, 1:47¼.

Fifth race, 1 mile and 70 yards, selling—Lunar, 4 to 5, 1; Ladas, 7 to 1, 2; Cardian, 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1:46¾.

Sixth race, 1⅛ miles, selling—Cherished, 7 to 2, 1; Chickasha, even, 2; Tammany Chief, 30 to 1, 3. Time, 1:56.

AT HARLEM.

Chicago, June 9.—It was a great day for long-shots and second choices at Harlem today, the favorites suffering defeat in all but the fourth race. Weather fine; track improved. Summaries:

First race, 5 furlongs—Ralph Young, 5 to 1, 1; Lady Free Knight, 11 to 5, 2; Banwell, 7 to 1, 3. Time, 1:02⅘.

Second race, 7 furlongs—High Carnival, 30 to 1, 1; Prodigal Son, 4 to 1, 2; Enue, 9 to 5, 3. Time, 1:28⅘.

Third race, 1 mile and 100 yards—Loon 4 to 1, 1; Havilland, 7 to 5, 2; Montana Peeress, 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1:49.

Fourth race, 7 furlongs—Talpa, 8 to 5, 1; Jack Rattlin, 3 to 1, 2; Wartenicht, 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1:28⅘.

Fifth race, 4 furlongs—Handsome Florry, 13 to 2, 1; Determination, 9 to 2, 2; Ida Davis, 5 to 2, 3. Time, :48⅗.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 100 yards—Blue Mint, 4 to 1, 1; Goldaga, 6 to 1, 2; Myth, 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1:50⅘.

AT GROSSE POINTE.

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—The Grosse Pointe race track was in poor condition today, being very muddy, the result of showers last night and this morning. Horses are still coming in for the meeting. The latest arrivals were the Stueve Bruhens and Dyment stables. The former is from St. Louis, and the latter from Toronto. There was an outside path and all lucky enough to strike it won. The steeplechase was cleverly captured by Daryl over a soft course, but there were no spills. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs, purse $600, for 3-year-olds—Luckett, 110 (Helgeson), 6 to 2, won by 1½ lengths; Prism, 112 (O'Connor), 6 to 1, 2; F. A. Bullock, 112 (Williams), 12 to 1, 3. Time, 1:23½.

Second race, 7 furlongs, purse $300, for 3-year-olds and up, selling—Insolence, 107 (Munro), 6 to 5, won by 2 lengths; Rotterdam, 114 (Williams), 10 to 1, 2; Dr. Moody, 98 (Burton), 4 to 1, 3. Time, 1:39¼.

Third race, 1 mile, purse $400, for 3-year-olds and upward—Joe Lesser, 113 (Batiste), 7 to 2, won by 3 lengths; Easy Street, 105 (C. Kelly), 7 to 2, 2; Bank Street, 100 (Munro), 10 to 5, 3. Time, 1:50⅖.

Fourth race, short steeplechase course, purse $400, for 3-year-olds and up—Daryl, 144 (Doane), 3 to 5, won by 3 lengths; Capt. Canover, 141 (Bowser), 8 to 1, 2; Belcourt, 132 (S. Higgins), 8 to 5, 3. Time, 3:25½.

Fifth race, 5 furlongs, purse $300, for 2-year-olds—Tom Moore, 101 (Roberts), 8 to 1, won by a neck; Chocoattol, 108 (Travers), 5 to 1, 2; St. Juvenal, 112 (J. Walsh), 4 to 5, 3. Time, 1:08.

Sixth race, 7 furlongs, purse $300, for 3-year-olds and up—The Stewardess, 109 (Helgeson), 6 to 1, won by 2 lengths; Bean, 109 (Romanelli), 8 to 1, 2; Magoni, 100 (C. Kelley), 9 to 5, 3. Time, 1:39¼.

AT GRAVESEND.

New York, June 9.—The Parkway handicap, the feature of a very ordinary card at Gravesend today, was won by the favorite, Major Daingerfield. The time, 1:49 2-5 for 1 1-16 miles, was very good, considering the bad condition of the track. Merry Acrobat and Major Daingerfield ran like a team to the stretch, where the Major moved out and won, ridden out, with Merry Acrobat second, and Rightful third. Grenade, Major Daingerfield and Baseful were the winning favorities, the other races going to well-played second choices. Summaries:

First race, about 6 furlongs—Captivator, 115 (Rice), 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, 1; Royal Summons, 123 (Burns), 13 to 5 and even, 2; Lord Badge, 122 (Adams), 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, 3. Time, 1:12⅘.

Second race, 1 mile and 70 yards, selling—Star and Garter, 103 (McCafferty), 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, 1; Knickshaw, 106 (O'Neil), 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, 2; Scoffer, 107 (Michaels), 7 to 1 and 5 to 2, 3. Time, 1:50.

Third race, 5½ furlongs—Grenade, 104 (O'Neil), 11 to 20 and out, 1; Cascine, 112 (Waterbury), 8 to 1 and 2 to 1, 2; Harbor, 107 (McFadden), 200 to 1 and 40 to 1, 3. Time, 1:09⅘.

Fourth race, the Parkway handicap, 1 1-16 miles—Major Daingerfield, 118 (Odom), 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, 1; Merry Acrobat, 97 (Martin), 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, 2; Rightful, 93 (McCafferty), 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, 3. Time, 1:49⅘.

Fifth race, 5½ furlongs—Baseful, 112 (Hoar), 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, 1; Pirouette, 109 (Gannon), 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, 2; Bronx, 112 (Minder), 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, 3. Time, 1:10⅘.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles, selling—Knight of the Garter, 113 (Byer), 5 to 2 and 7 to 10, 1; Bar Le Duc, 99 (Schor), 3 to 1 and 9 to 10, 2; Northbrook, 101 (Michaels), 3 to 2 and 1 to 2, 3. Time, 1:58⅘.

YACHTING.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT.

New York, June 9.—Fog again today prevented a race between the three rivals for selection as cup defender. The start was set for 11:30 a.m., but at that hour a thick bank of fog overhung Sandy Hook where the racers lay. It was clear within the Hook when at 1 p. m. the Constitution left for the starting line; The Reliance and Columbia followed half an hour later, all three boats in tow. Carrying only mainsails and club topsails in a 12-knot wind they sailed too fast for their tugs to keep ahead of them, and had to ease off their sheets to keep the tow line taught. The Reliance and Columbia were two miles from the starting line when the fog shut down and they returned to the Hook followed later by the Constitution. The fog then lifted in the lower bay, but was still thick over the race course. The yachts will race tomorrow, weather permitting, under the auspices of the Atlantic Yacht Club.

THE RING.

GANS AND BRITT MEET SOON.

New York, June 8.—Indications point to an early meeting in the roped arena between Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, and Jimmy Britt, of California. Gans has announced his willingness to meet the Californian in a 20-round bout under the auspices of the International A. C., of Fort Erie, Ont. The Canadian promoters have offered the crack light-weight a purse of $6,000. Gans has sent his acceptance of the offer to the club officials. Britt is yet to be heard from in the matter. In order not to give the Californian a possible chance to evade the issue, Jack Hermann, manager of the Canadian organization, has offered to pay the traveling expenses of Britt from California to Fort Erie. It is quite probable that the match will be made, as Britt is anxious to win the light-weight championship. The only point in dispute between the rival light-weights is the question of weight. Gans wants to make the articles read for the boys to weigh in at 133 pounds six hours before fighting time. Britt insists that both men weigh in at 133 pounds at the ringside. If the contest be arranged it will take place the latter part of next month.

BOWLING.

THAMESVILLE WON.

Thamesville, Ont., June 9. — In the first game of the Kent County Lawn Bowling Club League, Thamesville defeated Ridgetown here today by 18 shots. The game was contested by four rinks on each side.

POPE HONORS CANADIANS

Three Hundred Pilgrims Granted an Interview.

Rome, June 10.—The Pope yesterday received three hundred pilgrims who are returning to their homes from the Holy Land. They were mostly French. Among them were Abbe Bonin, of Montreal, Canada; Abbes Clairoux and Roberge, of Joliette College, Montreal, and Canon Decelles, of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec. The audience lasted twenty minutes. Only a dozen of the leaders of the pilgrimage were permitted to kiss the hand of the Pope, who addressed a few words to them and gave the apostolic benediction to all. Then, turning to the French pilgrims, the pontiff urged them to "pray fervently for dear France, which needs it so much." A dispatch to the Paris Temps from Rome, says the Pope's reception of the French pilgrims was due to the fear of the Vatican authorities that his failure to received them would cause exaggerated reports of his ill-health. The correspondent adds that the pontiff is certainly weakening, but he says the Pope continues on foot, directs the affairs of the church with his accustomed clearness of mind, and yesterday discussed the affairs of the Oriental missions with Manager Savelli.

CLOSED THE BARS

Chicago Saloons Are Closed at Midnight.

Chicago, June 10.—All saloons in Chicago were ordered closed at midnight last night by Chief of Police O'Neill, in accordance with the resolution introduced by Ald. Dunn and passed by the city council on Monday night. The licenses of those saloon-keepers who violate the ordinance will be revoked.

Investigation early today showed that the order was generally observed.

IT'S MIRACULOUS.

Catarrh, Colds, and Headache Can Be Relieved in 10 Minutes and Cured. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is a Wonder Worker.

WEAKNESS

PECULIAR TO MEN AND WOMEN

It is sad to contemplate the unfortunate condition of so many men of our day and generation. At 30 they feel 50; at 40 they feel 60, and at 50 when they should be in the very prime of life, they are almost ready for the grave. The fire of youth has gone out, the fountain of vitality is exhausted. Premature old age! No matter what produced it, whether evil habits in youth, later excesses, or business worries, the one thing for you to do is to get back the vim, the vigor and vivacity of manhood. Don't lose your grip on life. There are yet many happy, golden years for you if you only get help. We can and will not only help you, but cure you to stay cured. Curing diseases and weaknesses of the nervous and sexual system has been our exclusive business for the past 30 years, during which time we have cured enough fallen men to make an army. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will restore to you what you have lost.

It purifies and enriches the BLOOD, strengthens the NERVES, vitalizes the sexual organs, checks all unnatural drains and losses and fits a man for the active duties of life.

Cures Guaranteed or No Pay.

We treat and cure Blood Poison, Varicocele, Stricture, Gleet, Urinary Drains, Sexual Weakness, Kidney and Bladder diseases. CONSULTATION FREE. If unable to call, write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment.

LONDON AND DISTRICT.

—A picnic was enjoyed by the choir of Knox Church yesterday at Springbank.

—Mrs. F. D. Sharman, of this city, is visiting Mr. James Sharman, of Stratford.

—Miss Lilian J. Renwick, of Chicago, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Westman, of Queen's avenue.

—Mr. Richard Nash, a former resident of this city, died in Toronto Sunday, the funeral taking place yesterday. He was 47 years of age.

—Miss Ruby Gordon, of Wallaceburg, is visiting friends in this city. Before returning home she will spend some time in Toronto and Montreal.

—John Norton, the alleged pickpocket, who claims to come from this city, was tried by Police Magistrate Farrell, of Kingston, and sent up for trial.

—Mr. F. W. Wheatcroft, of Cleveland, is in the city. He speaks encouragingly of the excursion from that city to the Old Boys' reunion in August.

—West Middlesex farmers to the extent of ten carloads went through the city yesterday on their excursion to the Agricultural Farm at Guelph.

—Among those who attended the funeral of Mr. Joseph Bilton yesterday, was Mr. J. D. Wray, formerly proprietor of the Britannia House, Wellington street, but now of the Royal Hotel, Stratford.

—The condition of Rev. James Kennedy, of this city, who was taken ill at Wingham, is such that Drs. Wishart and W. J. Stevenson, of this city, were called there last night. They may find it necessary to perform an operation.

—Mrs. Agnes Patterson, widow of the late John Patterson, one of the best-known farmers in Westminster Township, died yesterday at the family residence, lot 14, concession 3. The interment will take place at Pond Mills Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

—Mr. Alex K. Wanless, of Sarnia, who has been visiting relatives in South London for a time, has gone to St. Thomas, where he will visit before returning to his home. His stay in this city and St. Thomas is being made in the hope of improving his health.

—The police have been furnished with their new summer uniforms. They are of the regulation blue serge, but the tunic is made differently from those which have been worn heretofore, there being two breast pockets and a strap on each shoulder, each with a silver button, giving them more of a military appearance, but also a look of ease and comfort.

REMOVING TO HAMILTON.

Miss Williams, who for the past three years has been bookkeeper in the London branch of Grafton & Co., has been notified of her transfer to the Hamilton branch, and she will leave for the latter place tomorrow. During her stay here, she was popular among the staff of the big clothing house, and before allowing her to return to Hamilton, where her family reside, they decided to show their appreciation of many kindnesses. This afternoon she was waited upon by the employes and presented with an address and a purse of gold. The presentation was made by the local manager, Mr. J. M. Hickey, and the address, which contained expressions of regret at the departure of Miss Williams, was read by Mr. A. J. Gahagan.

FUNERAL OF LATE T. BLACKWELL.

The funeral of the late Thomas Blackwell took place yesterday afternoon, from the family residence, to Woodland Cemetery. The pall-bearers were sons of the deceased. Services were conducted by Rev. R. D. Hamilton.

TAKING THEIR TIME.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. are not hurrying themselves in the selection of a successor to Mr. C. R. Sayer. At present Mr. William Spence is filling the position temporarily, and the directors and the provincial committee are both keeping on the lookout for a good live secretary—one who will hold the association in the place it has attained after many years of hard effort. The kind of men desired are none too plentiful.

PRESIDENT BOWMAN'S SUCCESSOR.

Another meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the association parlors last night to consider the election of a successor to Mr. John Bowman, who retired from the presidency after several years' service. Mr. C. E. German has been mentioned as the likely successor of Mr. Bowman, but he declines to take the position owing to the fact that he will be unable to devote the required time to it. Last night Mr. German was induced to give the matter further consideration and the board adjourned for two weeks to await his final action.

CAPITALISTS DECIDE TO BATTLE WITH CONSUMPTION.

An event recently occurred in Toronto which is of deep interest to thousands of people in Canada; a long established and very progressive concern, the T. A. Slocum Company, has been recognized by well-known capitalists, the stock of the company having been increased to $100,000. In future it will be known as the Dr. Slocum Company, Limited, but will be continued under the same able management as heretofore.

The history of this concern has been one of continual and substantial progress, and today its products are found in almost every drug store in Canada, being known as the Dr. Slocum System of Remedies for the cure of consumption and allied diseases, consisting of four valuable preparations; Psychine (pronounced Sikeen), a general remedy for consumption, throat and lung troubles; Slocum's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, a wonderful flesh and strength producer; Oxojell, the greatest of catarrh antiseptics, and Coltsfoote Expectorant, a postive cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, etc.—a most worthy and specific series of remedies.

No remedy of modern times has conferred more lasting benefit upon sufferers from throat and lung troubles than Dr. Slocum's System of Treatment. An eminent specialist's prescription of medicinal and tonic food treatment — a complete system of rapid germs destruction and body building — it has been the means of curing thousands of cases — positively permanent cures after skillful doctors had given up all hope.

This is attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials which are on file and are being received daily at the office of the company; everlasting and enduring testimony from all classes of society.

The generous dealings with the public of the T. A. Slocum Co. have gone far in placing the Dr. Slocum remedies in the prominent position they now occupy. This policy is to be continued, and if any of our readers are suffering with coughs, sore throat, pains in the lungs or chest, loss of flesh, etc., symptoms of consumption, and will send their names, post and express office addresses to 179 King street west, Toronto, they will receive Dr. Slocum's Free Trial Treatment consisting of four large packages, one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1 25), worth of medicine, absolutely free. This goes to show the great faith the company have in the Dr. Slocum System of Treatment.

The directors of the Dr. Slocum Company, Limited, are to be congratulated upon this important step forward in furnishing the means whereby a more vigorous crusade may be waged against one of the greatest plagues the world has ever known—consumption.

French drivers and firemen, and even French fuel, will be imported for the trial in England of the De Glehn giant locomotive engine, which is being built in France for the Great Western Railway.

Plenty of Strawberries.

Berries have commenced to come into the city, the rain of Sunday and Tuesday ripening the luscious berry, and to a great extent saving the crop. It has been proven that the best berry to preserve is the large dark variety. This berry keeps its color and has the richest flavor of any grown. It is better satisfaction to the housewife, who prides herself in canning and preserving strawberries, to buy the fruit which retains its color, appearance and flavor, and although it may cost a trifle more in purchasing your supply, in the end you are better pleased. It is always advisable to order your berries a few days before you want them, and you will then receive the choicest fruit, as your grocer knows that you want the best. This year Messrs. T. A. Rowat & Co. are making a feature of handling strawberries, and have secured the control of the best berries that come to London. Today's shipment was a criterion of the excellence of the berry. Each day large shipments will be received.

CAUSE OF FLAT WHEELS.

"Flat wheel," growled the old railroad brakeman, as the trolley car in which he sat went thumping along at twelve miles an hour, shaking the passengers uncomfortably at every revolution of the wheels. "What makes flat wheels?" asked the man sitting next the old brakeman. "Darn fools," said the brakeman. "It's this way: If a man doesn't know how to stop his car he makes a flat wheel. On the steam roads some brakemen flatten a wheel every time they put on the brakes. When the wheel suddenly stops revolving and the momentum of the train carries it on, the wheel slides along the track and a flat is started. Next stop, perhaps, makes it worse, and so the thing goes until the wheel is no good. If a brakeman knows his business he need never make a flat wheel unless he has to stop suddenly to avoid an accident. If he keeps his wheels turning slowly they don't flatten. Now these fellows on the trolleys take no care at all, and every other car in some places has a flat wheel."

FOURTEEN HUNDRED MEN UNDER CANVAS ON HEIGHTS

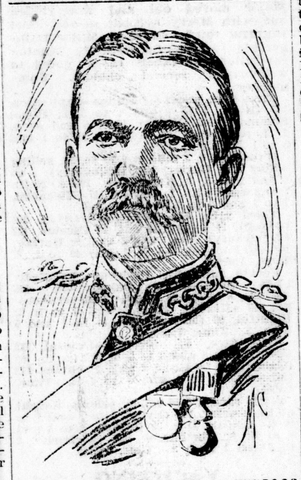

Annual Drill Instruction for No. One District Begins.

Lord Dundonald Will Oversee All the Work This Week.

Many Old-Time Officers Come Again With Their Regiments—Notes of the Day.

The sounding of the first post on Carling's Heights at 9:30 o'clock last night saw the annual camp of instruction for the London military district under way, and London enjoying the protection of a larger force of militia than it has had for two years. Fourteen hundred men, or more, were under canvas, and every one of them was tired—tired either from the trying work of pitching tents and getting the camp into shape for the arrival of the rural regiments, or tired from the weary hours spent on trains coming from headquarters to the city.

It was a busy day on the hill, which has been the scene of so many gatherings of the militia forces of the district. It was marked by the activity usually attendant upon the opening of the camp, and when the night closed in there was still a little to be done in the way of preliminaries. Everything will be in tip-top shape early today, for the head of the Canadian militia, Lord Dundonald, is coming to camp to oversee the instruction for the better part of a week.

LIEUT.-COL. J. C. GUILLOT, OF WINDSOR

Officer who has been prominently identified with the Twenty-first Regiment, of Windsor, for many years, will act as brigade major of the first infantry brigade.

RED MEN GOOD SOLDIERS.

The first of the eight organizations under canvass arrived shortly after dinner, but the last did not reach the grounds until between 8 and 9 o'clock, it was the Huron Regiment. The Middlesex Regiment (the Twenty-Sixth) came partly by train and some by wagon, but it made good time, notwithstanding. As in years past this is the only regiment in the district that has Indian companies in it. Three of the eight companies are now companies are now composed of red men, and it may be said of them again, as if yore, that they are likely to be the ablest bodied looking lot in the camp. There is this to be said of the Indians—and it can not always be said of their pale-faced brethren: They are keen every year to come to camp, for they are fond of the red coat and the handling of the rifle. The more drill they get the better they appear to like it, and the day of breaking camp is not one of pleasure for them, as it is with the average volunteer. It is told by the officers of some of the Indian companies that if they wanted double the number allowed under the regular establishment they would have no difficulty in getting them, the chief trouble being to pick out the best of the men who offer themselves as recruits.

MEN ARE SCARCE.

From one end of the camp grounds to the other last night, the officers invariably had one complaint to make. They could not get enough men to fill up the companies even with the strength limited to 21 private and six non-commissioned officers, making the total strength 27, as against 42 in previous years. There was too much work everywhere and wages were so high that men as a rule would not sacrifice a goodly number of dollars to come to camp. Where men had before been under canvass they felt inclined to stay at home this year and earn their good wage, while there were many instances where men would have joined their corps were it not for their employers refusing to allow them to do so, as they could not be spared from their work. The consequence is that the camp is not up to the strength allowed with the limited number of noncoms and men per company. There were exceptions, of course. The First Hussars, for instance, will be well up to the mark. The Hussars are the only cavalry corps in the London district, and this, if no other reason, would have a tendency to make it easy to obtain recruits for it, as compared with the infantry regiments, which have to depend solely on the young men of their respective counties to fill their ranks. Then again, the Hussars are favored by the fact that the majority of the members are farmers' sons, and it is possible for them to get away from their work at this particular time.

MILITARY SPIRIT THERE.

Down in the good old county of Wellington there is a military spirit that never seems to die out. It has always been lively, and promises to remain so. The county boasts of a regiment of ten companies, with an established strength of 457, the largest in the London district, and rightly named, many years ago, "the Jumbo battalion." Whatever is responsible for this military enthusiasm cannot be explained, but it exists nevertheless, and the regiment is all the better for it. It seems as if the people cannot do enough to help the corps along. The county council makes an allowance every year of one-half the pay given by the Government, and one year it went so far as to allow every man the same pay as the Government gave him. It matters not what the council does for the corps, the people approve of it. To show further the disposition of the county towards the militia, it may be said that the men who offered themselves for service in South Africa received on their return a check for an amount which allowed them so much a day for every day that elapsed from the time of their departure until they reached home. In the case of those who died in action or from other causes the county allowed their relatives so much per day from the time the deceased left until the day their respective corps arrived home again. All these things, one of the old school officers explained last night, served as booms to the regiment. The corps now is looking forward to an outing at Hamilton in August, an invitation having been extended by the authorities of that city, when it is expected they will invade the Ambitious City fully 500 strong.

VETERAN OFFICERS.

There are numerous changes in the staff and company officers of the several regiments since the last camp here two years ago. Particularly in the company commands are there many new faces. The commanding officers of the regiments are practically the same. There are many old-timer officers in the camp again, of whom a few might be mentioned. Among them are Col. Stothers, of the First Hussars; Capt. George Baxter, of the same corps, who has worn a uniform for 35 years, and was commissioned only two years ago; Lieut.-Col. Weir, commanding the Thirty-second (Bruce) Regiment, who has a distinction which few, if any, of the other commanding officers in camp enjoy. Lieut.-Col. Weir has been connected with the regiment for a long period, first enlisting as a private and gradually working his way up step by step, until four years ago, when he was called upon to take the place of Col. Scott, retired. To him very largely is due the credit of the standing obtained by the regiment, for, as one of the officers said last night, he is well liked by every officer and man in the organization. The Twenty-sixth (Middlesex) has a few of the veterans also, without whom the camp would seem to be wanting. Two of them are Major McIntosh, of Strathroy, quartermaster, and Major Stevenson, of this city, the paymaster. Both are among the oldest of the standbys, the former being a veteran of 1866, and attending many of the camps of instruction since that time. Lieut.-Col.

LIEUT.-COL. C. S. ELLIS, SARNIA.

The former commanding officer of the Twenty-seventh Regiment, will command the first infantry brigade at the camp.

Mutrie and Capt. Crowe, of the Thirtieth, are on the list. Capt. Crowe is known the Dominion over as one of the best riflemen in the country, and on more than one occasion has been on the Bisley team.

THE STAFF OFFICERS.

The staff officers of the several corps in camp are as follows:

FIRST BRIGADE.

Number Six Field Hospital Corps, Sarnia—Major Hayes, in command, Lieuts. Bentley and McDonald.

First Hussars—Lieut.-Col. Stothers, Crumlin, in command; quartermaster, Capt. George Baxter; adjutant, Lieut. St. Clair Balfour, Hamilton; medical officer, Lieut. J. D. Balfour; veterinary, Lieut. J. H. Wilson.

Twenty-sixth (Middlesex)—Lieut.-Col. McEwen, in command; Major Welch, Major Robson; Capt. A. V. Becher, adjutant; Major Stevenson, paymaster; Major McIntosh, quartermaster; Capt. Berdan, Strathroy, surgeon; Rev. Canon Dann, chaplain.

Twenty-seventh (Lambton) — Lieut.-Col. Kenward, in command; Major Kittermaster, Major Mackenzie; Capt. J. B. Watson, paymaster; Capt. Clarke, quartermaster; Capt. McMillan, adjutant; Capt. Henderson, surgeon; Rev. Canon Davis, chaplain.

Thirty-second (Bruce) — Lieut.-Col. Weir, commanding; Major Hugh Clarke, M. P. P.; Major Douglass, Tara, Honorary Major Henderson, paymaster; Major Sinclair, surgeon; Capt. A. McLean Moffat, adjutant; Capt. Richardson, quartermaster; Rev. Rural Dean Robson, Walkerton, chaplain.

LIEUT.-COL. A. WEIR.

Commanding officer of the Thirty-second (Bruce), joined the corps as a private, and worked his way to the top of the regimental ladder.

SECOND BRIGADE.

SQUADRON WAS OVER STRENGTH.

The First Hussars are out in good force this year. A Squadron, of this city, went into camp with six men over strength, and the result was that a number of the surplus was handed over to B Squadron, also of London, to bring it up to the mark. Capt. Harry Abbott is again in command of A Squadron, with Major McCoomb at the head of B Squadron. C Squadron, from Courtright and Sarnia, is commanded by Major J. G. Merrison, of Sarnia, and D Squadron, from Kingsville and Ridgetown, is commanded by Capt. John Gartshore, of Hamilton, brother of Col. Gartshore, of this city, who preceded Lieut.-Col. Stothers in command of the Hussars.

While the establishment of the Twenty-ninth Regiment includes only seven companies, the corps has come into camp this year with eight companies. The Leamington Company of the Twenty-first (Essex) Regiment is attached to the corps, under Capt. Mosie, for the purposes of the camp, the idea of the militia department being to give the company the benefit of the ten days' instruction, in view of its being the only part of the regiment that has not its headquarters at either Windsor or Walkerville, and therefore does not enjoy the advantage of the regular drills. It is understood that the company will be disbanded next year.

There is but one band in camp this year, and that is attached to the Twenty-ninth Regiment, of Berlin. The band is under the direction of Mr. Zeller, and will have to perform all the camp duties of a band. It is said to be an A1 organization.

ALL HAVE MESS TENTS NOW.

One thing noticeable about the camp this year is the number of large mess tents provided for the non-coms. and men. Where a few years ago not a single regiment had a mess tent, and the men had to eat their meals on the ground, there is not a regiment in the district at the present time that is not provided with one. Each tent is equipped with benches and tables, which means that the comfort of the men is increased and cleanliness is added to the camp grounds. The officers of the Twenty-sixth were the first in the district to show sufficient interest in the welfare of their men to introduce a mess tent.

Lord Dundonald will reach the city at noon today and will remain in London until the end of the week, when he will leave for Niagara-on-the-Lake. All of the brigade officers for the camp have arrived and will begin work today.

TANTON'S STORAGE GUTTED BY A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Loss Will Approach $10,000—Cause of the Blaze Unknown—Firemen's Good Work.

Damage to the extent of about $10,000 was last night done by fire in the warehouse of John Tanton & Son, situated on the south side of York street, between Richmond and Talbot streets. Five streams were kept on the flames for over three hours, and it was only the hard fight on the part of the fire department that saved the entire building, with its contents, from total destruction.

The fire was discovered by Mr. John Cousins, of Bathurst street, who was sitting in front of his residence at the time, and saw the flames breaking through the windows on the second story, towards the rear end of the building. Mr. Cousins sent in the alarm, and meeting the firemen at the corner of Richmond and York streets, he gave them the location of the blaze, thus affecting a saving of several minutes in getting the men to work. The warehouse, which is used for general storage purposes, extends from York street through to the Grand Trunk tracks, a distance of two hundred feet, and it is three stories in height, with basement. The fire originated in the basement at the rear end, and with an elevator shaft close at hand it soon spread to the upper floors. When the firemen arrived the back half of the structure was wrapped in flames, and the heat was so great that it was impossible to enter the building. Five streams were brought into use, two being operated from windows on the east side, and three from windows on the west side, one of the latter streams being devoted largely to keeping the fire from spreading to the front end of the place.

By 10:30 the fire was under control, but it was not until after 1 o'clock in the morning that the firemen returned to their halls, weary after their hard fight. The damage has not been fixed by the insurance companies, but it is altogether likely that it will be in the neighborhood of $10,000—possibly more. The building will need a large amount of repairs, the roof at the rear end being completely destroyed. The bulk of the loss will be on the contents of the warehouse. They included a vast amount of furniture and household goods, which had been stored there, besides hardware, grains and seeds and cheese. Those in the rear section are almost a total loss, while the contents in the York street end suffered little damage except by smoke. The stored goods belonged to persons in Chatham, Toronto, Hamilton and many other places.

The wonder of the firemen is that a large quantity of oil in the basement of the building did not take fire. There were about 75 or 100 barrels of it stored immediately next to the south wall, and although the flames were within a few feet of it, and the floor was saturated in places with the oil, it did not ignite. The firemen were unaware of the existence of the inflammable material until they had been working for a time, and the knowledge that such a quantity of it was in the place did not bring them any satisfaction or comfort.

Mr. Tanton's loss is fully covered by policies amounting to $7,000.

Pay to Go to Church.

Denver, June 10.—The Rev. B. B. Tyler, of South Broadway Christian Church, charges an admission fee of 10 cents to the Sunday evening services at the church. The plan was started last Sunday for the first time. The new departure had the effect of raising the collections from $20 to nearly $50.

Mr. Tyler said in explanation: "Our church has been crowded every Sunday night for six months by non-members attracted by the music and the discourse. The collections have been ridiculously small and we have determined that this steady stream of strangers should pay for what they get."

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.—The intrusion of uric acid into the blood vessels is a fruitful cause of rheumatic pains. This irregularity is owing to a deranged and unhealthy condition of the liver. Anyone subject to this painful affection will find a remedy in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their action upon the kidneys is pronounced and most beneficial, and by restoring healthy action they correct impurities in the blood.
