THREE PROMINENT BURGHERS KILLED IN O. R. COLONY

Steyn's Narrow Escape—Boers Shot Down British Wounded—Reitz' Sensible Conclusion Upheld by Steyn.

London, July 18.—Lord Kitchener, commander of the British forces in South Africa, reports to the war office as follows:—

"Elandsfontein, July 18.—Captain Charles Botha, son of Philip Botha, and Field Cornets Humann and Oliver have been killed in the Orange River Colony."

STEYN'S NARROW ESCAPE.
London, July 18.—The Pretoria correspondent of the Standard, describing the recent escape of President Steyn from the town of Reitz, when that place was captured by General Broadwood's brigade, said that Mr. Steyn was asleep while the British were surrounding the town. When the alarm was given he rushed out of the house in his night shirt, sprang upon a horse and galloped away. A rifleman fired at him, but missed him.

THE BOER CRUELTY STORIES.
London, July 18.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Pretoria, telegraphs that the Vlakfontein stories of Boer cruelty in killing British wounded are not well authenticated. Any outrages that occurred were the work of one or two Boers. The correspondent testifies that throughout the war, except for the "allmoss" of certain white flag incidents, the Boers on the whole have behaved creditably, courageously and kindly. They have rarely maltreated prisoners, hardly ever when officers were sent, and have been usually generous and tender towards the wounded. He says that instances to the contrary have possibly occurred, but they were most exceptional.

THE CHARGE PROVEN.
Johannesburg, July 18.—In the course of an inquiry conducted under oath to-day, various non-commissioned officers and men of the British army confirmed the statement that the Boers shot the British wounded at Vlakfontein.

REITZ AND STEYN.
London, July 18.—The war office issued late to-night a despatch from Lord Kitchener, giving the correspondence between Mr. Reitz and Mr. Steyn that was captured with the latter's baggage near Lindley, July 11.

Mr. Reitz, under date of May 10, wrote Mr. Steyn that a meeting of the Transvaal government had been held, attended by General Botha, General Viljoen and Mr. Smuts, to consider the national situation. He went on to catalogue the difficulties, the numerous surrenders of burghers, entailing a heavy responsibility on the government, the rapidly decreasing supply of ammunition, the disintegration of the government, and the lack of any definite assurances of European intervention.

"In view of these facts," he said, "the government has decided to address a message to President Kruger pointing out the terrible conditions. The time has passed for us to let matters drift as at present. We must take a final step."
Mr. Steyn, replying, May 15, upbraided Mr. Reitz with weak-headedness, saying:—"There is still sufficient ammunition to continue the struggle. You ask what prospect there is of a successful termination. I ask what chance there was for two small republics, when they declared war against the mighty power of Great Britain. You will answer that we trusted in God and in foreign intervention. What reason is there now to place less trust in God? I have seen recent European newspapers, and I firmly believe that complications will occur in Europe in the course of a few months which will secure our good fortune."

Mr. Steyn also says the fact that Mr. Kruger and the Boer delegates remain in Europe convinces him that they consider the case not beyond hope, and adds that he has summoned General De Wet and urges Mr. Reitz to take no steps until he has heard further from him.

TRIAL AND SENTENCE OF ENGLAND'S EARL RUSSELL

Quaint and Brilliant Scene in the House of Lords—Attended by Middle-age Ceremonies—Earl's Plea that he Acted in Ignorance and With no Intent to Defy Law.

London, July 18.—Lord Russell, arraigned at the bar of the House of Lords to-day for trial on the charge of bigamy, pleaded guilty, after lengthy arguments against the jurisdiction of the court.

Earl Russell, as reported in yesterday's Planet, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment as a first-class misdemeanant.

The trial of Earl Russell began at eleven o'clock this morning, and was carried on with all the quaint and middle-age ceremonies. The arguments lasted one hour. Both the Earl and Countess Russell and their counsel pleaded they did not know they were doing wrong, but had acted on the best legal advice obtainable in Nevada. The Peers reached their decision after consideration of the case lasting twenty minutes.

The scene in the royal gallery, temporarily converted into a court of justice, when the Lord High Chancellor, Lord Halsbury, who had been appointed Lord High Steward for the occasion, took his seat upon the dais and the quaint ceremonial commenced, was most picturesque. The hall was a magnificent blaze of color, produced by the robes of the peers, the academic robes of the judges and the brilliant uniforms of high state officers. Although the House of Lords was not represented in its full strength, about 200 of Earl Russell's peers attended his trial, and made an imposing array as they filed into the hall, two by two, from behind the throne. Lord Salisbury, the Premier, brought up the rear of the procession, and was almost unnoticed as he took his seat near Lord Halsbury. Immediately beneath the latter's dais sat the ten judges in their gorgeous robes, surrounded by a phalanx of lesser legal luminaries. On either side of the judges were ranged five benches filled with peers, whose rank was distinguished by the varying number of rows of ermine and gold lace on their scarlet mantles. The benches reserved for peeresses were well filled, while the space allotted to distinguished strangers was crowded with diplomats and their families, including the U. S. ambassador, Joseph H. Choate, and the secretary of the U. S. Embassy, Henry White.

Mollie Cooke, otherwise Mrs. Somerville, Earl Russell's present wife, entered the hall by the side of the benches occupied by members of the House of Commons. She appeared no more concerned than the other witnesses of the interesting scene.

Wm. Gray, Esq., counsel for the Earl, was formally opened by a series of quaint ceremonies, and the exchange of stately phrases prescribed in the ancient legal procedure. Beside Lord Halsbury, in his Earl's robes and a full bottomed wig, stood General Sir Michael Biddulph, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, and William Henry Weldon, Esq., the Norroy King of Arms, in a resplendent tunic.

"Our Sovereign Lord and King," shouted the Norroy King of Arms, "charges and commands all manner of persons to keep silence on pain of imprisonment."

Another official, on bended knee, handed the commission to the Lord High Chancellor, who, while handing it back to another kneeling clerk, said:—"Let all be uncovered while the commission is read."
After the necessary formalities, Earl Russell was conducted to the Bar. He was dressed in a gray suit, and wore a tie. He calmly surveyed his judges and his peers. Then a clerk of parliament cried loudly:—"John Francis Stanley, Earl Russell, come forth and surrender to bail or forfeit recognizances."
Black Rod, bedecked with medals and in uniform, approached the bar, which was raised as the Earl drew near, and surrendered Earl Russell. Upon reaching his appointed seat, Earl Russell stood leaning against the table and then made obeisance three times to the Lord High Steward. He remained with bowed head until the latter addressed the accused. Then the indictment was read by the clerk, who concluded with these words:—"How say you, my lord, guilty of felony or not guilty?"

Before Earl Russell could answer, his counsel objected to the indictment, on the ground that the alleged offence was committed outside of the dominions of His Majesty King Edward VII. During the course of the technical and the tiresome argument by the Earl's counsel, the prosecution summoned Judge Currier, of Nevada, without the bar to confer on certain points raised in counsel's argument.

After the reply of the prosecution to the argument of counsel for the defence, Earl Russell, in a voice scarcely audible, pleaded guilty.
His counsel then addressed the House in mitigation, pleading the accused had acted upon the best legal advice obtainable in Nevada, that the offence was merely technical and that no harm had been done Mollie Cooke. Lord Russell then addressed the House in the same strain, saying the decree obtained in the United States gave social sanction to the new marriage. Earl Russell said he proposed to remarry Mollie Cooke as early as possible. Concluding, he said that he had acted in ignorance, and with no intention of willingly defying the law. The Peers retired to consider their verdict. When they had reassembled, the Lord High Steward called for the prisoner. The whole House rose to its feet when the Lord High Steward proceeded to deliver the judgment.

After intimating his opinion relative to the defendant's plea, that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, that King Edward had a right to legislate to his subjects all over the world, Lord Halsbury commented on the historic name of Russell. While the crime could not be passed over, said the Lord High Steward, at the same time there were several mitigating circumstances. Lord Russell had passed through long periods of trouble; he had experienced extreme provocation and suffered much torture in consideration of, and as a result of these circumstances, their lordships, not desiring to inflict the full penalty upon Lord Russell, had unanimously decided that justice would be satisfied by his being imprisoned in Holloway prison for three months as a criminal in the first division.

Lord Russell then passed out of the House in company of the Yeoman Usher of the Black Rod. Near the door of the House, Mollie Cooke joined her husband, and before he was removed to Holloway prison, the couple were allowed to confer in a room near the royal gallery.

The commission was then dissolved by the High Lord Steward breaking his wand of office, and thus dispersed. In anticipation of the arrival of Lord Russell, the officials of Holloway prison have prepared for his reception rooms formerly occupied by Wm. T. Stead, the editor, and members of the Jamieson raiders. It is a commodious apartment, in which His Lordship can be supplied with his own food and wines.

A SPECIAL

City Council Will Meet on Monday to Consider the Laying of Water Mains.

A special meeting of the Council will be called next Monday evening to deal with several minor matters which will come up.

The most important business will be that of granting the putting down of a water main to the Dowseley factory. Mr. Jones, the superintendent of the waterworks department, is now working on the estimates of the cost of the work. They will be ready for next Monday night. There will be about 200 feet of 4-inch main to put down. The cost of the work is roughly placed at about $150. The work of putting down the pipe will be commenced at once as the water will have to be used for building purposes.

"There will not be very much gained by adjourning the council for a couple of months," said an alderman to the Planet this morning. "Things are happening every day which need the attention of the council. Special meetings will have to be called for every two or three weeks."

THE U. S. AT THE CORONATION.

Washington, July 18.—The suggestion was made to-day by a rear admiral in high standing that Admiral Dewey should be given command of a large squadron comprising the best types of our new ships to be present at the coronation of King Edward VII. The navy department has not thus far taken up the question of naval representation at this event, but the suggestion concerning Admiral Dewey and a large squadron of fine ships meets with general approval among high naval officials.

COMPLAINTS SUBMITTED

Maple City Shippers Present Them to Government Commissioner McLean.

Complaints are Generally in Regard to Classification—Others May be Forwarded.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board of Trade to investigate the various grievances in reference to the railroad freight rates, met Mr. McLean, the commissioner of railway rates, in the parlors of the Hotel Garmer yesterday afternoon and presented their various complaints.

There were present Messrs. W. R. Landon, John Waddell, N. H. Stevens, W. Ross, Will Hadley, Manson Campbell, Mr. McLean, and J. R. Marlow, travelling freight agent for the C. P. R. railway.

The most of the grievances were in regards to classification. Mr. Landon expressed his opinion that if this grievance were remedied, he thought that the others would necessarily follow.

The Canadian Manufacturing Company entered a complaint that the classification on wagons was too high as shipments to the lower provinces. They had no complaint about the rate to the Northwest.

N. H. Stevens, President of the Canada Flour Mills Co., drew attention to the partiality shown by the C. P. R. to American shippers, as a result the dealers were not able, in some places to successfully compete with American shippers.

John Waddell, of the firm of J. B. Stringer & Co., complained of the high rate on beans and upon the difference in the rate on car lots and less than car lots. He claimed that it restricts local trade.

Wm. Gray & Sons and The S. Hadley Lumber Co. also entered complaints as to classification.

W. D. Ross, President of the Western Fruit Growers Association, complained of the high rates on fruits, especially apples.

After the hearing of the complaints the meeting adjourned. If there are any complaints that have not yet been entered they can be sent to Mr. McLean, care of the Department of Railways, Ottawa.

A HEROINE DROWNED.

Halifax, N. S., July 18.—Miss Mary Mitchell, aged 20, lost her life yesterday afternoon, while heroically attempting to save a young girl from drowning. The girl was bathing and got beyond her depth. Miss Mitchell rushed into the water and took the child upon her back, but her weight was too much for her and she sank. The little girl was rescued.

MUST TAKE ACTION.

Day by day complaints are made to The Planet of the conduct of numerous boys who bathe in the river these sultry evenings. This journal is informed that these youths almost invariably deposit themselves in a nude condition and accompany their disgusting actions with filthy and profane language.

These charges are serious. One hesitates to think that they can be accurate. But the authorities should see to it that they are thoroughly investigated and—if true action must be taken, sternly and severely, to stamp out such a blot on the fair name of the community.

THE HALF-HOLIDAY.

Maple City merchants, who yesterday inaugurated the early closing movement, by which all their employees are given a half holiday every Thursday during the months of July and August, deserve much credit and endorsement at the hands of the community.

The action is an evidence of the generous and enterprising character of our merchants. It testifies that they have the interests and welfare of their numerous employees at heart. This interest will be appreciated. It will mean increased returns in the activity, loyalty and business devotion of those who serve. (And it should.)

All honor to the merchants who genuinely closed their doors yesterday afternoon in the interests of their clerks.

And The Planet would be pleased to see the movement extend—to learn that others, too, had seen their way clear to identify themselves with the holiday project.

Everyone endorses the business men who have inaugurated it. And it would be a grand thing to make it as universal as possible.

REV. SAM TALKS GUFF.

Many Canadians who attended the Pan-American on Saturday last heard Rev. Sam Small, of Georgia, deliver a speech that will cause them to keep away from this reverend gentleman if he is ever again brought to Toronto to talk. It was a rare bit of guffade.

He described the United States as being bounded, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and on the north by the aurora borealis. He predicted that one of these days Canada would be taken into the union, where, in reason, it belonged. His country was the greatest on earth. It could feed and clothe itself and have enough left to feed the starved people of Canada, Europe and Asia.

If Sam Small were seriously minded to do the people of his own country a service he would not thus intoxicate them. There is nothing they need less than stimulants to vanity. That the people of Canada are not starved Small knows very well, for he has marketed some of his sensational preaching here. Not only can this country feed her own people, but the United States finds it necessary to maintain a tariff of about 60 per cent. to keep out our produce and manufactures, while this country keeps up a tariff only half as high. The great nation bounded by the aurora borealis seems to find it necessary to resort to very elaborate devices to reduce the competition of this young country in the trade of the continent, and yet the percentage of growth in trade is greater here than in the United States. Canada is coming along in spite of the "heads I win, tails you lose" policy followed at Washington for twenty years.—Toronto Star.

STICK TO THE TEXT BOOKS.

Woodstock High school trustees are not to be blamed for dispensing with the services of any teacher who cannot induce his class to the beauties of literature and the truths of history without at the same time obtruding his personal opinions as to the origin and justice of any war in which the British Empire may be engaged, says the St. Thomas Times.

Why should a teacher of history or literature imagine that he has a divine call to frame his crude or finished ideas into a creed applicable to the details of every national or international question? Teachers have plenty to do if they dwell on the broad outlines of history and the principles of literature without assuming that the essence of final truth is condensed in their views of the Boer war.

It is the teacher's duty to deal with principles, and leave the scholar to apply these principles to the details of every question as it arises. A high school education should empower pupils to think out questions for themselves. Free thought and liberty of speech for the teacher on controversial questions would imply equal rights for the pupil.

Canadians are not sent to the High school to be supplied with the teachers' ready-made opinions on the Boer war or any other question. History and literature can be taught without reference to existing problems, and no sympathy is due the teachers who mix their personal opinions on the general state of the race with the lessons they are paid to teach.

THE BREATHING CURE.

Anything and everything which tends to the amelioration of the heat is interesting in these days when the thermometer is working overtime to make man uncomfortable. A New York physician says a deal of the discomfort due to extreme heat may be obviated by proper breathing. This seems to be his general idea.

When the temperature of the air is normal we receive the proper amount of oxygen without effort.

There is less oxygen in a cubic foot of free air at 95 degrees Fahrenheit than there is in a cubic foot of free air at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, because air is lighter when heated than when cool. Therefore, in order to secure enough oxygen we must take in a greater quantity of air when it is lighter and heated than when it is heavy and cool.

This can be done by exerting ourselves to breathe.

Breathe oftener and deeper, so that you know that you are consuming more air than you do while the temperature is normal.

It is necessary to take the air in through the nostrils.

Make the system of breathing at such times so that you feel you are regulating the body to the unusual conditions surrounding you, and you will find that instead of being uncomfortable you will feel exhilarated.

ANOTHER COUNTRY HEARD FROM

Arnprior Chronicle.

Many citizens of the town are of the opinion that the council should make an endeavor to have the Duke of Cornwall and York pay Arnprior a visit, be it ever so brief, when en route west from the Capital in September. They contend that since the Duke's sire, the King, was here in 1860, there should be little difficulty in prevailing upon the son to pay a call at this place and view the scene which came before the eyes of royalty 41 years ago.

VALUE OF NEWSPAPER CRITICISM.

London Spectator.

Two years ago we should have felt inclined to express the opinion that it was not likely that the newspapers could teach the admiralty its own special business. But the history of the war has shown that trust in the expert, even on technical matters, is not to be given without very strict limitations. The war office might have been expected to give us a sufficient quantity of modern artillery to know what was a proper supply of ammunition to prevent it being depleted, and to realize that a war against Boers must be a war for mounted troops, and not an infantry war. And yet we know that in all these particulars the war office with its expert knowledge failed us completely. The truth is there is no expert opinion which cannot be, and ought not to be, corrected by common sense, and newspapers often show not only quite as much, but more, common sense, than the departments. It is never safe for the public to dismiss newspaper agitations with the answer that the government must know all this as well as the newspapers.

Township Councils.

Harwich Council.

A special meeting of the Municipal Council of Harwich was held in the Township Hall on Thursday, June 20th at 10 a. m. subject to the call of the Reeve, to consider the Spring Creek Drain. Members all present. The minutes of the Court of Revision of May 25th and June 12th were read and approved.

A communication was read from Messrs Wilson, Kerr and Pike re Spring Creek Drain, also re H. Ensigns notice to the cleaning out of the English branch of the Union drain.

Harwich, June 16th 1901. I hereby beg leave to report to Adam Henry and damages claimed by him from the road ditch, that I found him willing to make a friendly settlement on the following terms:—Harwich to pay him Mr. Henry seven hundred dollars damages and place the culvert across the Communication road near the catch-basin where the old culvert originally was. Mr. Henry would not sign a petition for the Drainage Act and Mr. Roe also refused to sign a petition for the same. All of which is respectfully submitted.

(ed.) Jonathan McCully, Reeve. Buchanan—Morrison—That where, for the better maintenance of the McArthur Middle Level and Tap Outlet drain—a drainage work party in Harwich constructed under the provisions of the laws respecting drainage by local assessment—and to prevent damage to lands and roads to be deemed expedient by this council, whose duty it is to maintain the said drain in Harwich, to make a new outlet for the said McArthur Middle Level and Tap Outlet drain, or otherwise improve, extend or alter the same.

Be it therefore resolved that Wm. G. McGeorge, O. L. S., Civil Engineer, be, and he is hereby appointed to examine the said drain and to prepare a report, plans, specifications and estimates of the drainage work necessary for such better maintenance, new outlet, improvement, extension or alteration, and to make an assessment of the lands and roads to be benefited by such work, and of any other lands and roads liable to be assessed as provided by the statute in that behalf.—Carried.

Several parties from Shrewsbury appeared and made complaint as to the filling up of the outlet of the Willow Creek.

Buchanan—Morrison—That complaint having been made by a number of the ratepayers of Harwich about hogs being buried in their graveyards at the station, resolved that the council offer a reward of $5 for such evidence as will convict the guilty parties, said reward to be paid upon conviction.—Carried.

Also, that the county treasurer be instructed to strike from his roll the arrears on the following lots in Shrewsbury, as they have not been paid:—S.W. St. Patrick St., 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15; also from Bk. H. 6 and 7, and Bk. 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 in Buckhorn, as the same are and have been assessed in with farm property.—Carried.

Morrison—Buchanan—That the original committee of Harwich and Howard reapproach to Kent Bridge, and the Clerk of Harwich meet at Ridgeway at the township hall, to come to some terms with some party for the earth to the said approach, the clerk to notify the reeve and clerk of Howard, and Messrs. J. C. Williams, and P. Arnold, of Howard, and E. P. Langford, of Harwich, to meet on Saturday, June 23rd at 1 p. m.

Young—McCormick—That A. Fabe be paid the sum of $10 for damages to his horse and rig, claimed on a defective culvert, this not being accepted the following resolution was submitted in lieu thereof:

Young—McCormick—that after hearing the complaint of A. Fabe concerning an accident to his horse and wagon in crossing a culvert on concession 4 R. T., resolved that we pay $15 for the accident to the horse and $1 for damage to the wagon. If this offer is accepted it is to be considered as settling the claims in full. Carried.

The following accounts were paid: Municipal World, Voters' list supplies, $1.88; Banner-News, advertising Court of Revision, $4.50; Planet Publishing Company, $3.60.

Meeting adjourned. A meeting of the Council of Harwich was held in the township hall on Monday, July 8, at 10 a. m. Members all present. The minutes of the meeting of June 29, were read and approved.

Communications were read from J. C. Fleming, County Clerk, re the amount of the county rate for Harwich for the year 1901, being $6151.88 also as to the amount of the legislative school grant being $531.1; also from Angus Smith C. E. re the Union drain report; from the Canadian Bank of Commerce as to the balance at credit on June 30, $2678.22.

An application was received from Robert L. Smyth for collector for 1901.

The assessors for the various municipalities in which union schools required equalization this year reported as follows:—Harwich 75 per cent., Raleigh 25 per cent., U. S. S. 3—Harwich 47 per cent., Raleigh 53 per cent., U. S. S. 4—Harwich 44 per cent., Raleigh 56 per cent. Harwich, Howard, Camden and Chatham, U. S. S. 3—Harwich 19 per cent., Howard 74 per cent., U. S. S. 3—Camden 50 per cent., Chatham 14 per cent.

James McCormick reported having his work on the Fargo covered drain completed at a cost to the Township of $105.20. He said he was enabled to keep the cost down to this sum through the voluntary assistance of S. W. White, A. Caughell and other residents of Fargo who agreed to put in the pipe and cover it up free of cost, and he tendered his appreciation of their public spirited action. He also reported that the bridge over McGregor's Creek on Concession 1, E. C. R., was

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a goddess. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicine. Using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' these medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better today than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the ill habit.

In a dangerous condition, and had closed it to public travel and asked that a committee composed of Messrs Young, McCormick, Morrison and Buchanan be appointed to examine it and report what was best to be done.

The above reports were adopted.

Young—McCormick—That in the matter of the grievance of J. K. Wilson in regard to drainage, that C. Buchanan inspect the locality and report.

The Reeve returned a check placed in his hands some time ago to aid Badgley, a pauper, to get to his friends, said aid not having been accepted, on motion of Buchanan, McCormick said check was accepted and order credited back to the Poor Fund.—Carried.

Young—McCormick—That the committee re the earth at Kent Bridge meet at Kent Bridge on Tuesday, July 16, at 10 a. m., and either sign the agreement with Mr. Arnold or Mr. Langford, or failing in this that each council make terms with their respective men, and the contract sold in such a manner that an equal quantity of earth be taken from each man.—Carried.

Morrison—Buchanan—That as the time has long passed for the report of the Union drain to be in, that the clerk be instructed to notify Engineer Smith that unless it is within 10 days that we cancel the order and will dispense with his services.—Carried.

Buchanan—Morrison—That the clerk correspond with Messrs. Henderson & Small, Toronto, in connection with a gravel-pit on their property on the Gore Line.—Carried.

Young—Buchanan—That in reply to the communication of the County Clerk regarding Badgley that the council adopts and confirms the action of the reeve and councillors Buchanan and Young and deny all liability for Badgley's keep and discharge said Badgley, and pay him as a charity on such discharge, $5.00.

The following accounts were, on resolution, ordered paid:—R. Hazleton, damages to truck on defective bridge, $5.50; J. & J. Oldshaw sewer pipe, $175.10; James Green wood, ditching and grading, $15.38; George M. Baird, sundries, $1.50; George M. Baird, stationery and postage, $3.00; George M. Baird, salary to June 30th, $25.00; James Leslie, balance salary to June 30th, $50.00; William Saddington, balance salary as assessor 1901, $40.00; Newcome and Co., stationery, $2.75; A. Denholm, printing voters' lists, advertising Court of Revision and etc., $66.31; Addison Smith, assistance, $3.

The Council adjourned.

J. WELSH, Clerk.

SCORE ONE FOR THE YOUNG WOMAN.

If the two young people of whom Answers tells the following story did not find reconciliation in a laugh, they at least afford amusement to others:—

They had been engaged, but they had quarreled, and were too proud to make up. Both were anxious to have people believe that they had entirely forgotten each other.

He called a few days ago at her home to see her father—on business, of course. She answered the door. Said he: "Ah, Miss Jepkin, I believe. Is your father in?"

"No, sir," she replied; "father is not in at present. Do you wish to see him personally?"

"I do," was his response, feeling that she was yielding; "on very particular personal business," and he turned proudly to go away.

"I beg your pardon," she exclaimed after him, as he reached the lowest step; "but who shall I say called?"

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Harry Stevens has returned from a business trip to Blenheim.E. Blonde returned to-day from a trip North, purchasing lumber.Major Coogan was out in the country yesterday on official business.Mrs. S. J. Merritt and Mrs. Seward have moved from St. George street to Amelia street.Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Morley, Hesperi, are visiting Mrs. Nicholas Bogart, Adelaide street.John Rush, who has been in St. Joseph's hospital for a few days suffering from a poisoned wound in his hand, went home to-day.Miss M. McFarlane, formerly of this city, now of Detroit, passed through the city yesterday enroute to the Pan-American exposition.The lawyers of this city have concluded an agreement to close their offices at one o'clock each day during the term of July and August, excepting Saturday, commencing on Monday next.The bowlers that went to Ridge-town to compete with that town on the green to-day were Messrs. Hutchinson, J. A. Wilson, O'Keefe, W.
Thrasher, McDonald, Tillson, N. H.
Stevens and one other.George Jacques and Reginald Oldershaw, the two industrious and capable clerks employed by Grocer John McKerrall, claim to hold the record for putting up a barrel of sugar, and offer the challenge to any two other clerks in the city, for money or oysters. There are 310 lbs. of sugar in a barrel. Yesterday afternoon Messrs.
Jacques and Oldershaw put up the barrel in 50 cent packages in 81-1/2 minutes. A little over eight lbs. is put in each package.M. Wilson, K. C. city solicitor, has written to C. L. McMurry & Co., solicitors for the C. P. R., Toronto, asking them to see that the train hands responsible for the stopping of the funeral parade are properly punished and that remedy be provided against any similar transgressions in the future. Mr. Wilson enclosed with his letter Mr. Collett's statement of the case and a copy of the newspaper reports of the occurrence.Dredge No. 1, of the Chatham Dredging Co., is in the city undergoing repairs. Dredge No. 2 is taking her place on the work of cutting out the bar at the mouth of the river.Speaking of the work being done at the mouth of the river, ex-Mayor S.
T. Martin said, "A cut 12 feet deep, 100 feet wide, and a mile and a quarter in length is being made through the bar. Already two and a half grafts have been taken off the bar. Three more cuts will have to be made, and we expect to be through by the end of August."

PARDON

Earl Russell's Offense a Technical one
Only Demanding a Normal Penalty.London, July 18.—It is stated that a bill influentially backed will be introduced in the House of Lords next session, abolishing the trial of peers by peers in cases of felony.It is reported that a petition to the Home Secretary is being organized to ask for Earl Russell's immediate release. The movement is based on the view that his offence is virtually a technical one, and did not demand more than a nominal penalty. Some lawyers declare that if he had been tried at the Old Bailey the extreme penalty imposed on him would have been a day's imprisonment.

BAD FALL

Workman on the Binder Twine Building Severely Injured
To day.Charles Gonyou, son of Chief Gonyous, of Dresden, who has been working on the Binder Twine building, met with a bad accident about noon today, falling about 20 feet.He was brought immediately to Dr.
Hall's office by Mr. Dezella, of S. Hadley Co., who happened to be there with a buggy.Gonyou was then taken to his boarding house, Wellington St., where it was found that his wounds consisted of an injured shoulder, wrist and
hip. He will be laid up for a few days but that may be all.

FIVE CENTS

Pay Cheques of Census Enumerators
Made out at the Rate per Name.The government pay car was in Hamilton on Wednesday, July 17, and the census enumerators there have received their cheques. Commissioner Waugh, of this city, expects the car here almost any day now. The cheques are being made out at the rate of five cents a name.In Hamilton the enumerators are not at all satisfied. Only three of them—Charles Staunton, Peter Nicol, and C. R. Fessenden—received the $9 promised for the three days spent receiving instructions. And the others cannot understand why these three should be treated differently to the others. Acting for the enumerators, J. V. Testet has written to the government asking how it was that only three of them received the extra $9.

LAST SPEECH

Sensational Scene in Court When the Biddles Were Sent to the Gallows.Pittsburg, Pa., July 18.—Edward
and John Biddle, of the gang of crooks that killed Grover Thos. D. Kahney and Detective P. J. Fitzgerald in April, were sentenced to hang to-day.Both came from St. Thomas, Ont.
Walter Dorman, of Cleveland, was remanded to jail, and will be sentenced to-morrow. He turned State's evidence, and on his testimony John Biddle was convicted. Jennie Seeb-ers and Jessie Bodyne, Milwaukee chorus girls, reputed wives of Dor-man and Edward Biddle, were released from custody.The Biddle brothers, both being under thirty years of age, denied killing Kahney. Each said he did not have a fair trial, and the faces of both blanched when the death sentence was pronounced by Judge Shaffer. Edward Biddle made a sensational statement. He said:"I could be happy if I could only see Dorman swinging on the end of a rope beside me. I want to see that white-livered scoundrel crossing the line of eternity before I do myself.
May God curse him. Jennie Seeb-ers, who helped him to swear away the lives of my brother and myself, is a thief, and has been a thief, and knew Dorman was one before his arrest.
She dressed up in men's attire, and went out in the streets at night robbing people and houses and stores with Dorman. She would pull her hair up like a man and spit at, and black handkerchief around her ears, turn up her coat collar, and then would pass for a man anywhere."Miss Seebers was taken home by her mother. Miss Bodyne will go to an Episcopal Church home in Connecticut.Miss Mina Dougan has been appointed Town Treasurer of Thorold.Three sons of Albert Sweede of Huddersfield were drowned.—That tired feeling is a burden you need not carry. Hood's Sarsaparilla

Chatham Cricketers Dismiss the Aylmer Club for This Score This MorningChatham and Aylmer are playing a game of cricket on Tecumseh Park to-day. The Aylmer club to-day would up their tour. They have now been out for a week, and during that time they have played with Forest, London Barracks, Cleveland, Watford and Chatham. Up to the present time they have won every game they have played. E. C. Monteith is the captain of the club and he feels very proud of his team, and well he may be. Richard Godbold, one of the Aylmer club, made a "century" in the game with Forest, and so has the honor to be the only cricketer in Ontario who has made 100 runs this year. John Horstead, who until a few weeks ago played with the Chatham team, is wicket keeping for Aylmer and is as usual making a record for himself as a batman. His average, previous to the present game, is 40 runs. The highest he made was 62. This score was made in the game with Watford.
In the game to-day, however, he met with bad luck. He made a fly out of the first ball bowled to him, which was sensationally caught by Hutchinson. Robert also deserves credit for some splendid catches. Ait-kins and Kenny did the bowling for Chatham, and Campbell and Godbold bowled for Aylmer. The Aylmer club went in first to bat and were put out after they had scored 51 runs.At the time of going to press the Chatham club were still at bat.AYLMER.

Great Clearing Sale of Boys' 3 Pc. Suits

Every Suit Must go COMMENCING Every Suit Must go

Saturday Morning, July 20

It's time to make a complete clearance of all summer garments and odd lines to make room for our big fall stock. Leastwise, that's the way we look at it. It's a rule of ours—that each season must consume its own merchandise and none to be carried over to another season. Its a good rule, too, and even the prospect of losing some money won't induce us to infract it. Let every suit go!

The Dowsley Company Purchased the Land for Their Factory to-day.The Dowsley Company this morning purchased an acre of ground on St.
George Street from Col. Sam. Holmes as the site for the new factory. They paid $500 for the property, which com-sists of an acre of land on the rear of Col. Holmes' five acre lot. The portion purchased by the Company adjoins
the railway track. Mr. Sainsbury has a crop of corn on the land but the Dowsley Company have bought this for $17, so that the site cost them $517.
As mentioned in The Planet last week, they have been negotiating for this site, for some time, but the purchase was only completed this morning when Mansson Campbell handed the check to Col. Holmes.Twenty years ago Mr. Holmes bought this land for $300 an acre.

ENGINEER

Indignant Citizen Expresses Himself—Believes the Official is Altogether too Much so.

"I think that the city engineer is over-reaching his duties," said a prominent King St. merchant to The Planet this morning. "I see by last night's paper that he complains of the merchants keeping boxes on the sidewalk in front of their stores. There are a number of the merchants who have no other way to take in their goods except by the front. I think, just to state it in plain language, that this matter is none of his business. He is not hired for that purpose. If he has succeeded in so over-awing the council so that they are no longer able to keep him in his place it is time for someone to show him his duty. It is the duty of the police to keep the sidewalks clear from boxes and our very competent engineer is exceeding his duties when he bothers his head about it."

"The matter re the logs lying at the mouth of the creek is another thing which is not connected with his duties. They are not left there longer than he can be handled by our mills."

"The engineer's action in discharging James McMahon and John Dittmar, I consider, was a piece of officiousness. He might easily have overlooked the offense of both of these men, who have been faithful employees of the city for years and are here. It is a well known fact that 'Dutch John' earned more from the town than he ever got from it, and the engineer will have to look for a long time before he finds a man to equal John Dittmar on the public streets."

"It is time that the Council should give this man to understand that he has a place in the city and he ought to keep it, and that he is not engaged to run the city in every particular."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A TORNADO

Curious Details of the Destruction Wrought Near Naper, Neb.

Lincoln, Neb., July 18.—The tornado is nothing if not original. It seldom repeats its freaks. Here is what one did at Naper, Neb., the other day:

Killed one man and seven children; and injured two others. Every bit of clothing was stripped from the ten bodies.

Rolled up a man's body into a ball, twisting the legs and arms about the neck, as was to make a compact mass.

Killed twenty head of stock, tearing the horns out of the heads of a third of them.

Stripped the feathers off every young chicken in a flock, while the feathers of some of the older ones were driven into their bodies several inches.

One of the small children of a stricken family was pinned under a large timber, when she heard her sister calling for aid. Almost immediately the cloud descended again, lifted the child and threw it against the other child, killing her instantly.

One man had just built a new house, and had placed the money to pay for it in a trunk. The trunk was carried off by the wind, and nothing has been seen of it or its contents with the exception of a silver dollar which was found cut almost completely in two, the parts hanging together by a slender thread of metal.

Not a piece more than a foot long of the timber of any of the houses struck could be found. The timbers were reduced to masses of splinters hanging together.

The path of the storm was but a quarter of a mile wide. The black cloud quickly formed on the open prairie, and after pacing six miles across country, leaped into the air and was dissipated. It came whirling down upon the small town of Naper, but halted just as it reached the outskirts, and then disappeared, scattered trees, animals and household goods over the town.

Most of these details read like fabrications, but they were attested by a dozen or more persons who visited the scene of destruction.

NO HOME should be without it. Pain-Killer, the best all-round medicine ever made. Used as a liniment for bruises and swellings. Internally for cramps and diarrhoea. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. 25c. and 50c.

THE HIGHLANDS

Ex-Mayor Smith Visits the Scottish Home of Barrister George G. Martin.

Barrister George G. Martin has received the following interesting letter from ex-Mayor J. A. Smith, written at his home in Kingussie, where Mr. Smith was the guest of Provost Macpherson, F. S. & Kingussie, July 8th, 1901.

Dear Friend Martin.—At last I am at the place of your birth. I was shown it by your friend Provost Macpherson, and I can truly say it is one of the most beautiful and romantic spots I ever saw. Surrounded by mountains, glens and roaring torrents, it is a place for a poet to conjure with. I delivered your letter of introduction to the good Provost, who at once received me with the genuine Highland welcome of your countrymen. The Provost is a distinguished scholar and author and a lawyer by education. He is the manager of the British Linen Bank at Kingussie, and chief factor of the great estates and castle of Cluny Macpherson. The Provost insisted upon my visiting his beautiful home, which I reluctantly did, as I was somewhat dust-stained and unpresentable. Here I was introduced to the Provost's lady, a most charming and refined woman, who vied with the Provost in showing me courtesy and kindness. I had tea with his grand family, and was urged to remain with them several days. This was, however, impossible, and I started for Edinburgh that night. Your birth place—"Mill of Tromie"—is some two miles out of Kingussie, but the Provost drove me there over a road and scenery that would make the Chatham city engineer envious. I find you have a number of influential relatives here, and the Provost himself is a near Kinsman of yours, as he was pleased to inform me. Kingussie is the capital of Badenoch, Inverness-shire, a section of the country renowned in war and romance. It is the birth place of Macpherson, the translator of Ossian from the original Gaelic. His descendants have a beautiful estate there now. Kind regards to all friends in Chatham.

Yours very sincerely,

T. A. SMITH.

WHY HE LIKED AMERICA

Rev. Mr. Crowe Compares some American and Foreign Institutions.

The Rev. W. B. Crowe of the Church of the Eternal Hope, West Eighty-first street, New York, preached last Sunday on the subject: "Why I Like America Better." The sermon embodied a series of comparisons of foreign national life with that of America. Mr.
Crowe has spent the past three months in Europe. He said in part:

"This is an age of fault finders opposed to national ambitions, of those who sigh for the good old times, and seem to believe that politics, religion and business are going down hill. My purpose this morning is to measure a few home things which we are in the habit of criticising, with things in other countries. Let me speak first of American and other newspapers. I heard the president of one of our great universities, not long ago, say that the country was being hurried into a political and moral abyss by the sensational lies of the American press. You will appreciate the worth of American newspapers when you have struggled with what they call newspapers in other countries. They have not learned abroad to procure news. All summer the British and Continental press quoted the latest Chinese word from the American press. The people of other countries have only a local habitation. Our newspapers have trained us to cosmopolitan habits of thought.
They widen our minds, and mutual awakening means moral awakening.

"A word on politics in America and elsewhere. We are in danger of becoming blind to the virtues of American politics. There is no greater danger of suspicion of every one in office. Our modern presidential campaigns are unspeakably cleaner than a political campaign anywhere else. It is the business of our politicians to take up an issue
and make the people familiar with it.
They teach the meaning of money, trusts and business combinations. In England a campaign means vituperation.
Here are some headings copied
from prominent English political papers: 'That Old Hypocrite, Salisbury';
'The Villains of the Rosebery gang';
'Chamberlain's Lies, Old and New';
'I felt that I had stepped into a higher civilization when I saw in this country political foes treating each other with personal respect. A political campaign in France or Italy is a thing for mortals to blush at and for angels to weep over.'

"As to American and foreign morality: Here it is the unwritten law among the humbler classes that women who are otherwise respectable shall not frequent the saloon. Abroad that barrier is broken down; the lower classes
in the cities are debauched drunkards, repulsive in appearance. Here they are healthful in looks and apparently decent. The problem with us is to keep American mothers, of every class, healthy, intelligent, and pure.

"A newspaperman in Paris said to me: 'This is true of Paris—it is the most artistic, the most cultured, the most conscientious, the most fatally depraved city on the face of the earth.
The government has adopted the cultivation of vice as a business policy.' New York, by contrast, seems to me to be almost puritanical, a safe and wholesome city in which rear children."

Bladder in the Cylinders.
In his mail-scented blue shirt, Herr Hoepf sought the vagrant breezes of his dearstep. The interior of his big carved cigar was glowing and the strong fumes were emanating in clouds when the suave young man arrived.

"How are you, Mr. Hoepf?" greeted the suave young man.

"Well," grunted the Teuton.
"That's good. Mr. Hoepf, do you want a talking machine?"

"No! I have a frau."
"Oh, I mean a steel and rubber kind. In other words, a phonograph?"

"Vot do-it-fo?"

"Sings and talks. I have here a $10 beauty. Just to think of a phonograph for $10. Unheard of, but as there is nothing mean about me I throw in six records free."

"Records?"

"Yes, songs. I have twelve in this case.
Six are for you and six are for another customer. Yours are all selections of the fatherland. Listen!"

The suave young man placed the cylinder in position and then wound up the machine. There was the usual preliminary clicking and then the clear strains of "Watch on the Rhine" drifted from the funnel. Herr Hoepf was charmed. So was the frau, who left her soup to hear a beloved melody. They heard the remaining five airs and then the swift became the property of the Teuton.

"Thank," said the suave young man,
as he gathered up the remaining cylinders. "I am going down to my other customer."

A few hours later some friends of the Hoepf family called and the phonograph was proudly displayed to render the beloved air. But instead of "Watch on the Rhine," there came the hoarse voice of some one singing "The Wearer" of the Green." In the uproar came the suave young man.

"Give me those records!" he shouted.
"I got them mixed and took all of those German songs down to Murphy's saloon.
They've sent in a riot call."

Certainly.

An old gentleman when passing a little boy selling newspapers at a street
corner remarked:

"Are you not afraid you will catch cold on such a wet night, my little man?"

"Oh, no," replied the boy; "selling newspapers keeps up the circulation
air."

Wonders of Memory.

"Isn't it wonderful how a man's memory is stimulated as he sinks for the third time, in drowning?"
"Wonderful indeed! I was just reading of a well-attested case of a politician who upon sinking that he actually remembered the pledges he had made to his constituents before election!"—Detroit Journal.

A TIPSY DUKE'S PRANK.

The Story of How Mrs. Connolly Became Lady Michael.

A. Hilborn of Liverpool, in speaking of the "old" country, said: "In former times
there used to be a certain Duke of Richmond, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,
who belonged to the half-fellow well met species. With his boon companions it was his almost daily habit to go to a certain fashionable inn at Bray, kept by one Michael Connolly. There much wine was consumed during his incumbency of the lord lieutenantcy, and many and wild were the nights that the little inn at Bray witnessed. Connolly had a reputation as being the best cook in Ireland, and it was said his wine was the best to be found within the confines of the Emerald Isle.
The Duke of Richmond said so, and he ought to have known. He had eaten some of the one and imbibed some of the other."

"Connolly's cooking and Connolly's wine
were popular themes of conversation with his lordship, and he was not niggardly with his praise of either. Wine is a great leveler of ranks, and so it fell out one night that the duke, carried away by his admiration for Connolly's talents in kitchen and taproom, committed an unfortunate, amusing mistake. The night in question had been an even more than usually wet one at the inn at Bray, and the duke, the innkeeper himself and all of the duke's companions were lost to all sense of either proportion or the eternal stages of things."

"Therefore," continued Mr. Hilborn,
"no one thought it strange when the duke sent for mine host, and, after a speech of praise of his virtues, the way in which they were prepared and especially of his wine cellar, bade him kneel. Then, striking him across the shoulders, he said:
'Rise, Sir Michael Connolly!' and Sir Michael rose amid the rapturous applause of those present. It seemed quite the proper caper then, but the next morning, as it came back to still further jar the aching head of the duke, it bore a somewhat different aspect, and the principal question that agitated the ducal mind was how he was to get out of the scrape."

"Connolly was summoned and, in the faint hope that the ceremony had made no impression, asked if he remembered what happened the night previous.
Sir Michael did and manifested a disquieting determination to hang on to his newly acquired title. But, as have lesser and greater men before and since, he fell a willing victim to bribery and finally agreed not to press his claim to knighthood.
The price was heavy, but not too high to pay for the suppression of a tale that would make his grace of Richmond the laughing stock of London, and so the duke was turning satisfied with his Michael's work when the late Sir Michael dashed his self congratulations to the four winds."

"Yix, your grace, I'll keep quiet," he said as he jingled the price of his title in his pocket, "but I thoughtfully—but it will take more than the likes of me to keep my wife, Lady Michael Connolly, quiet about the matter. And it did. Michael was right. She was Lady Michael to her friends from that day on and always laid claim to the title. The duke was the laughing stock of London, as he had feared, but a reformed man as well, for he dared take no further risks."

The tongue usually has more to do with honor than the conscience has.
A second-class joke has caused many
a man to lose a first-class friend.

No man has ever lived long enough to get square with this big round world.

LITTLE LILLIPUTIAN CASTLE

Curiously to Be Seen Among the Mountains of Virginia.

In a recent number of St. Nicholas, Ellen Garnett tells of a miniature stone castle in the mountains of Virginia, and how it came to be built:

While spending the summer of 1897 at Earlehurst, Virginia, amid the wild rugged scenery of the Alleghany Mountains, two young ladies who were fond of exploring the beautiful country, were seated one afternoon at the base of a waterfall. Being deeply impressed by the beauty of the spot,
one exclaimed: "How charmingly romantic! I can't but believe that Flora MacIvor will at once believe that this is the spot for her castle."

Carried away by such romantic thoughts, they began to build an imaginary castle, peopled with baron and serf, besieged and defended, of a captive princess and valiant warrior knights.

"Let's make one!" they cried. Accordingly, the next day the undertaking was begun.

A large purplish boulder, overgrown with moss and lichen, on the lava of Earlehurst, the summer home of the builders, was selected as the site on which to construct this miniature castle. Building material there was in plenty, but sand and mortar had to be carried for some distance. Tools were limited, and using a screwdriver in lieu of a chisel to enlarge the slight indentation in the foundation rock, which was designed to be the dungeon, proved but slow work.

This task accomplished, a square box was placed over the excavation, in which were cut openings for windows and a door. The windows—eighteen in all—were put together in the greatest care, every stone being crossed and recrossed with a heavy wire to imitate gratings, then built in the stone walls
over the openings.

They vary in style and size, from the large casements in the protected parts of the structure to the small windows in the watch-towers. After the box had been built over on all sides with rocks, held in place by mortar, another smaller box was placed on top of it, and covered in like manner.
Both were first roofed with tin to prevent leaking; but this has been carefully concealed. There are also hidden drains both in the castle and causeway. The towers are built solid, except behind the windows, where spaces are left to give the effect of interior light. After four months of not uninterrupted labor the castle was finished. One of the architects carved little figures out of wood, and dressed them to represent the household of a baron. The knights are clothed in chainmail armor, each carrying a lance and battle-axe; all the ladies are arrayed in brightly colored silks. An armed sentry stands on guard in each water tower, and a three-foot princess looks through the bars of a lofty casement, imploping aid from every brave
knight-errant.

The castle's height is about two feet and a half, and the rock on which it stands measures ten feet in circumference, and is three feet high. The approach to the castle is by a causeway rising gradually from the ground
at the rear, and forming a semi-circle of wall until it reaches the entrance gate, where it stops abruptly. Across the space between the castle walls and the causeway is thrown a drawbridge, which can be raised or lowered by its iron chains at a moment's notice.

On the platform of the causeway stands the handsomely caparisoned war-steed of a knight who has just dismounted to pay his respects to the lord and lady of the castle. They wait to receive him at the entrance gate, surrounded by their household retin-
ue. A diminutive page, clad in silk, eagerly doublets and hose, stands at the household's bridle, while beyond the courtyard can be caught a glimpse of the fools motley. The banner which floats from the highest tower, has the armorial bearing, or, a lion rampant, gules, three in a rampart red lion on a yellow field. The same standard waves proudly over the great gate.

Many-bladed Knives.
This knife, known as the "Norfolk Knife," made at Sheffield, and containing ninety-five blades and instruments, no two alike, has been shown at several English exhibitions.
On its large mother-of-pearl handles

are carved representations of a bear hunt and a stag hunt. The blades are all etched with pictures of some kind —Windsor Castle, Westminster, the Queen and so on.

A giant knife made by a Sheffield firm contains as many blades as there are years in the Christian era.

Second Sad Fate of Bachelor's Cricket Team.

W. B. Wells Will Try his Colts Again, However—Some Good Work Done Yesterday.

Another practice game of cricket was played yesterday afternoon on Tecumseh Park between the Bachelors and the Benedicts.

Much interest is being taken in these games, both by outsiders and by the players themselves. There are a lot of young members to the cricket club who are fast developing into able cricketers. This is a capital idea, namely, encouraging these young players, for in future years these are the men who will be the players.

There is no other place in Ontario where the young boys have such a chance to learn to play cricket as in Chatham, and there is no reason why we should not have one of the best junior teams on the field. A good junior team would be an advantage in Chatham, as they could be used as a means of resource to the senior team. A match between a local junior team and Kingsville is now being spoken of. The following are the teams who played yesterday. The Bachelors were allowed to strengthen their team by adding a few married men to their list of players.

BYES.

Hutchinson is a splendid long stop.

Dennis has not forgotten how to play cricket.

"Chum" Addicks did most of the effective bowling.

Rutherford promises to become one of the best juniors.

Pritchard made a nice catch during the Bachelors' innings.

Why didn't you let the youngster have that fly, William?

Kenny and Nicholls again did the bowling for the Benedicts with the same result.

"Robbie" Cook, the popular football player, is also a good man in cricket.

Will Foreman looks some splendid work. He took every inch a cricketer.

The feature of the game was Wells' effective bowling. He carried his bat throughout the whole innings of the Bachelors.

Perhaps one of the most pleasing features of the game was the kindly manner in which the veteran Wells coached a knee-high youngster who played his first game yesterday.

When the batsmen caused a warm drive from Cook, Mr. Wells heartily applauded him.

CURIOUS CASE

Mother Cannot Get Possession of Daughter to Change her Religion.

Toronto, July 18.—Mr. Justice Robertson this morning gave judgment in a curious case, involving the relations of mother and daughter. The plaintiff was Mrs. Margaret Downey, of Albion, Peel county, and the defendant Mrs. Ruth Austin and members of her family. Mrs. Downey desired the custody of her sixteen-year-old daughter, who she said Mrs. Austin had enticed away. The evidence showed that the girl, Mary Downey, who is sixteen, had lived with the Austins for ten years, and wished to do so. Her mother made no objection until she learned that the girl had become a Protestant. The Downeys being Catholics. The judge held that under the circumstances shown, the wish of Mary Downey to remain a member of the Austin family must be respected.

How a Sprain Does Hurt

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nervine into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nervine on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nervine. Large bottle 25c.

HUNGERFORD RE-ELECTED

Again Chosen as Grand Master of Masonic Craft in Canada.

Other Officers Elected—Congratulation From Grand Lodge in England—Next Meeting at Windsor.

Hamilton, July 18.—The 46th Grand Lodge resumed its session at 11 o'clock, the attendance being larger than on the previous day. The time from 9 to 11 o'clock was taken up in the election of District Deputy Grand Masters, and on several of them spirited contests took place. Immediately after opening the election of officers was called on by Grand Master Hungerford, eighteen scrutineers having in the meantime been appointed.

The following District Deputy Grand Masters were chosen for the ensuing year:—
No. 1—R. W. Bro. Edward Worth, Kent Bridge.
No. 2—R. W. Bro. Alex. Saunders, Watford.
No. 3—R. W. Bro. Fred. Guest, M. D., St. Thomas.
No. 4—R. W. Bro. Geo. T. Mackay, Hespall.
No. 5—R. W. Bro. Henry Clark, Walkerton.
No. 6—R. W. Bro. W. A. Karm, Woodstock.
No. 7—R. W. Bro. Robert Irvine, Orangeville.
No. 8—R. W. Bro. A. M. Cunningham, Hamilton.
No. 9—R. W. Bro. Richard Raikes, M. D., Midland.
No. 10—R. W. Bros. G. W. Connolly, Dunville.
No. 11—R. W. Bro. J. W. St. John, Fiskdale.
No. 12—R. W. Bro. John Watson, Toronto.
No. 13—R. W. Bro. W. H. Walkey, Peterboro'.
No. 14—R. W. Bro. C. H. Tumilty, Madoc.
No. 15—R. W. Bro. J. M. Smith, Tamworth.
No. 16—R. W. Bro. A. E. Cumming, Lynn.
No. 17—R. W. Bro. William T. Franklin, Franklin Corners, Prescott county.
No. 18—R. W. Bro. Robt. H. Knight, Sault Ste. Marie.
No. 19—R. W. Bro. H. S. Barber, M. D., Easdale.

The notice of motion No. 3, offered by R. W. Bro. Scott, of Kincairdine, was carried, after a brief discussion. Grand Lodge was then called off until 2 p. m.

GRAND MASTER RE-ELECTED.
Grand Lodge resumed at 2 p. m. The Grand Master announced the receipt of following telegram from Grand Secretary Retchford, of Grand Lodge of England in reply to message for ward- ed by him on Wednesday: "His Royal Highness and Grand Lodge received congratulations of Grand Lodge of Canada with greatest satisfaction and most heartily reciprocate good wishes."

The scrutineers reported the unanimous re-election of R. W. Bro. Hungerford and R. W. Bro. Harding, as Grand Master and D. G. M. respectively, and no election for Senior Warden, Junior Warden, Chaplain or Registrar on first ballot. For Senior Warden, T. Clappison was leading; for Junior Warden, Dymond led, with Findlay second; for Chaplain, Von Pierce led, and for Registrar the voting was much scattered.

Windsor has been chosen as the next place of meeting.

The scrutineers reported the result of the second ballot as follows:—For Grand Senior Warden, Thos. Clappison, Hamilton, was elected; A. E. Gwynne, M. P., for Algonia, was elected Grand Junior Warden, and no election was announced for Grand Chaplain or Grand Registrar.

A third ballot for the two last mentioned offices was ordered, with the following result:—Rev. Von Pierce as Grand Registrar.

"We were very much pleased with the design you sent. It was beautiful and appropriate." The Victoria Ave. Greenhouses receive such words of commendation every day. Telephone No. 181.

Capt. Stevens Again Contributes to the Series of Piscatorial Tales.

Capt. Stevens came in from the Eau this morning with a fish story in which are mentioned Archie Park, a watch chain, a watch spring, a fish hook and a fish, but no snakes. Mr. Park was out fishing last evening when a bass, attracted by his gold watch chain, made a spring for it, and yanked so hard on the chain that the main-spring in Archie's yellow-metal repeater was broken. The fish, as it went back into the water, fell on Mr. Park's hook and that instrument of torture pierced the tail of the fish, the intrepid angler landed the would-be watch chain stealer.

As proof of the authenticity of this story, Archie can show the fish and the broken main-spring.

A BIT OF TRADE REVIEW

When our Stratford store was opened in 1888, good ready-made clothing was not easy to buy in Ontario. Few particular men were then wearing "store clothes." The cheapest fabrics and the roughest work were thought good enough for ready-made—in short the trail of the sweatshop serpent was over it all.

The merchants who sold these goods were not satisfied with them. They hated the sleazy stuffs and the slovenly stitching, but still they bought the garments and passed them on to the public, because better were not to be had. There are ten men who take things as they are for one who sets out to make them better.

We resolved to at least try and see what could be done. Our first venture was a strike for better material—cutting out a lot of garments from our own imported goods and sending them out of town to be made. Then followed the factory—a mere acorn in size, but it struck root firmly in the soil—and the Stratford men began to find that they could wear ready-made clothing. Many men in many cities wear T. & D. clothing now.

The trade has progressed greatly in a dozen years. We do not claim to be the only makers of good wear. But we are still as we started out, followers of a high ideal in the manufacture and sale of men's garments.

Not the best available, but the best possible is the goal we aim at.

ROSEBERY'S LETTER

British Liberals Wrong on Imperial Questions.

The Divisions, he Says, are Fundamental, and Will not end When the War Concludes—Comments of the British Press.

New York, July 18.—The Sun's London correspondent gives the following report of Lord Rosebery's manifesto in response to an invitation from the City Liberal Club to address them on the political situation. Lord Rosebery introduces his statement with a personal explanation, saying:—

"The Opposition in the House of Commons has met and united or reunited on the double basis of hearty and undisputed allegiance to its leaders and complete liberty of action and dissent in regard to the one vital question before the country. Under this remarkable charter I desire to register my claim to the freedom accorded to all, not necessarily to exercise it, but to enjoy it. In 1896 I laid down the leadership of the party with the hope rather than the expectation of promoting its unity. For the same object I have since then effaced myself, and have refrained from word or deed which would disturb unity or embarrass my successors. That line of conduct has not been generally understood. It was simple, obvious and loyal, and so it has been called mysterious. In any case it had no effect on the unity of the party. That party, in order to preserve the appearance of harmony, has conceded liberty of action and speech in regard to the war, which in effect is a universal liberty. I hold myself, therefore, absolved from the restraint I imposed upon myself nearly five years ago. Not that I desire to re-enter the arena of party politics. Far from it. I shall never voluntarily return to it. On the contrary, I believe there is a useful, unexcused place in the commonwealth for one who, having held high office, and having no desire to hold it again, can speak his mind with absolute independence. I speak, therefore, for myself alone."

After referring to the great opportunity facing the Liberals in regard to domestic policy, Lord Rosebery declares that the party can only become a power when it has made up its mind on the Imperial question which at this moment are embodied in the war.

"The whole empire," he says, "has rallied to the war. What is the attitude of the Liberal party? Neutrality and an open mind. Now, I contend this is an impossible attitude, and that it only spells Liberal impotence. No party can exist in such conditions. Morally, either the war is just or unjust; either our methods are uncivilized or legitimate. If the war is unjust and our methods uncivilized, our Government, our nation, is criminal, and the war should be stopped at any cost. If the war is just and is carried on by means which are necessary and lawful, it is our duty to support it with all our might, in order to bring it to a prompt and successful conclusion. These are supreme issues. None greater ever divided two hostile parties. How, then, can one party agree to differ on them? Cavaliers and Roundheads might almost as well combine on the basis of each maintaining different opinions on the policy of Charles I."

Lord Rosebery does not think it is a transient difference as is contended. He recalls that Fox, when he opposed the war with France, disrupted his party and excluded it from power for nearly forty years. "The truth is," he adds, "that statesmen who dissociate themselves from the nation on a great national question such as a war in which all strive and suffer together, dissociate themselves for much longer than they think. That is a consideration which should not weigh for an instant against conviction but it is one which should not be forgotten by politicians who do not desire to see the government of this country fall permanently into the hands of their opponents and an indefinite postponement of their own domestic policy."

Lord Rosebery contends that the present is no sudden cleavage, but is one of long standing. He complains that every one seems anxious to ignore or evade the real truth as to the condition of the party. That condition, he says, is not the result of accidental, ephemeral causes or personal jealousies. The root of the trouble is much deeper and far more permanent and more decisive. "The severance," he declares, "is not simply on the war, which will terminate with the war, but on sincere, fundamental and incurable antagonism of principle in regard to the empire at large and our consequent policy. One school, blind as I think to the developments of the world, is a voraciously insatiable. The other places as the first article of its creed the responsibilities and maintenance of our free and beneficent empire. The party cannot contain these two schools and remain an efficient instrument. The sections may call themselves by the same name and row in the same boat; but the boat will never advance, for they are rowing in opposite directions. Until the row make up their mind to what part to row their bark can only revolve."

Lord Rosebery sums up the real cause of weakness as "an honest, irreconcilable division of opinion on a group of questions of the first importance. It is not the fault of any leader, nor is it in any sense a personal matter. It is the avowed enemy of respect and Imperial feeling during the past twenty years which have produced the divergence. It could not, perhaps, have been avoided. It cannot now be healed or even concealed by a party meeting. One section or the other must prevail if the Liberal party is to once more become a force."

Lord Rosebery concludes by remarking upon the seriousness of the position in view of the foregoing, but fails in a manner which his political opponents will regard as eminently characteristic to offer any remedy. He says:—"It must be sorrow and anxiety to see a weak Government faced by a weaker Opposition at a juncture of foreign hostility and international competition, which needs all the vigilance, power and ability at our command. I believe that public opinion is becoming aware that this is a crisis in our history which may have an unlimited effect on our future, yet for the moment I see no favorable issue. The nation has only just chosen its Parliament and Government by an overwhelming majority, and for five or six years, therefore, our domestic destinies seem to be fixed. Even then a homogeneous opposition might make itself felt in the wavering councils of the country."

Lord Rosebery's pronouncement is considered by the Daily Telegraph as "severing his last connection with a hopeless Opposition."

The Daily Chronicle says:—"It is destined to have a profound effect upon the country, pointing to the formation of a national Liberal party, numerous materials for which are scattered within easy reach." The Daily Chronicle meaningly asks "if Lord Rosebery will take his part toward realizing the desired end."

The Daily News regards Lord Rosebery as "standing outside the vineyard and throwing stones at the workers." Going on to analyze the letter, the paper defines it as "a deliberate and mischievous effort to prevent reunion."
