VOLGA VALLEY RATE OF DEATH TO SHOCK WORLD

Said to be Foreshadowed by Economic Situation in Russia

DECADENCE GENERAL

Agricultural and Industrial Activities Now in Stagnated State

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The economic situation in Russia foreshadows a death rate during the coming winter that will "stagger the world," according to information received by Secretary of Commerce Hoover and made public today.

General stagnation of agricultural and industrial activities have resulted in conditions appalling to officials of relief organizations who have acquainted themselves with the situation, it was stated.

While an unprecedented drought is credited with bringing to a head the present famine in the Volga Valley, from the Caspian Sea northward, it is stated that conditions "would not be of such fatal character but for the general decadence of agriculture in reduction of surplus in other regions, and in the decay of transportation."

This state of affairs renders most difficult the movement of such local surpluses as do exist, it is explained. It is reiterated that millions must die of starvation as help cannot be given them in time.

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—Fifteen thousand university students in the main educational centers of Warsaw, Lublin, Cracow, Lodz, Poznan and Vilna are being fed one meal a day by the European Children's Fund this summer.

Warsaw has five kitchens devoted to serving food to 3,264 students, the other towns having smaller numbers.

The Polish ministry of agriculture has been assisting in this work, having furnished the American relief workers with 180,000 pounds of potatoes at 50 per cent. below market price. Government authorities of Poznan made an out and out gift of 20,000 pounds of potatoes to be used locally in the student feeding.

The students benefiting by this special provision of the A.R.A. are all over 17 years old, the students paying the nominal price of ten marks a meal to assist in covering the rents service and supplementary foodstuffs purchased locally. At the present rate of exchange 10 marks is about one-half of an American cent in value.

In addition to this task, the A.R.A. is feeding more than 1,500,000 children in Poland up to the age of 17 years.

TWO BOYS DIE AS CYCLE HITS MOTOR CAR

Returned Soldier, on Motor Cycle, Which Crashed Into Machine, is Arrested

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—Harold Farmer, aged 12, 6 O'Hara Place, was almost instantly killed, and Percy Weymans, aged 12, of 1384 Queen street west, was fatally injured, when a motor-cycle driven by Ernest Hawthorne, a returned soldier, staying at the Christie Street Military Hospital, crashed with terrific force into a motor car in charge of R. E. Davidson, 184 Arlington Ave., at Brook Ave. and College street, last night. The Weymans boy died in the Western Hospital of a fractured skull early this morning, without properly recovering consciousness. Both bodies are now in the morgue, awaiting an inquest. Hawthorne, who escaped injury, was taken into custody on a charge of manslaughter by Detectives Silverthorne and Todd.

No statement nor confession, and in fact no word, was spoken by either man before the hanging. They both walked to their death with the utmost coolness, while Hotrum appeared to smile before he left the death cell.

They partook of breakfast at seven o'clock, consisting of fried eggs, tea, toast, bread and butter. They slept well during the night and were awake early.

Chaplain Brydges arrived at seven o'clock and was present while they ate breakfast.

Executioner Arthur Ellis carried out the dual hanging in less than four minutes.

Following an operation, Dorothea is getting along nicely at her home in Bristol.

400-MILE TRIP MADE BY CANOE

Chas. A. Keeber, Y.M.C.A., Physical Director Here, Back from Holiday

NEARLY A DISASTER

During Portage Canoes Spilled Over Ledge With Mr. Keeber under Them

Mr. Chas. A. Keeber, physical instructor of the Y.M.C.A., has just returned to the city after a month's absence.

His last ten days were spent on a four-hundred-mile canoe trip with a party of five boys. They left headquarters at Balsam Lake for Cobocook, crossed Mindrerie Lake, Moon Lake, Gull Lake, made a trip up to Minden and Mountain Lake into Twelve Mile Lake, Little Bushong, Big Bushong, Lake Kishnow, to Lake St. Nora, portaged to Wren Lake, passed two more lakes, made a four-mile portage into Dorset on the Lake of Rays, where they crossed. The party then entered Peninsula Lake and Mary's Lake and reached Huntsville. They paddled down the Muskoka River, across Fairy Lake, down to Bracebridge, thence across Muskoka Lake to Gravenhurst, portaged nine miles to Sparrow Lake, entered Severn River, crossed Lake Couchiching and Lake Simcoe arriving at Beaverton, and paddled up the canal to the camp.

Only one incident threatened to mar their trip. While portaging across to Wren Lake, the wagon on which their three canoes were loaded, slipped over a twelve-foot bank, the horses remaining on the road above. Mr. Keeber was under the canoes but escaped with only a scratch to his foot. One of the canoes was damaged but was given temporary repairs.

Mr. Keeber was acting as instructor at the camp of E. A. Chapman, physical director of St. Andrew's College, Toronto, at Balsam Lake. He has been engaged in this work for some years.

THIEVES IN MARMORA

Thieves entered the jewelry store of G. R. Hartley in Marmora village last night, by way of a side window and carried off a Stewart phonograph in a carrying case and a few smaller articles. A sum of money is said to have been taken from the house of D. Wright. A Ford car belonging to Phillip Sopha, a liveryman, is also missing. The robbers, no doubt, made use of the car in escaping.

LABORMEN HERE PLAN BIG DAY ALL THEIR OWN

Trades and Labor Council Will Not Affiliate With Other Societies

SOME PLAIN TALK

Criticism of Plan Whereby Foreign Labor Gets Alleged Preference

Labor Day is to be observed this year by local labor organizations under the auspices of the Belleville Trades and Labor Council and it is quite likely this demonstration will not be held in conjunction with any other celebration, as the labor societies feel that the day is theirs.

Discussion at last night's meeting at which this was decided, turned up civic affairs and there was some plain talk regarding municipal matters. The employment of foreigners on sewers was touched on and an explanation by an official who was present was offered.

The question of the depth of the Commercial street sewer came under the notice of the members of the Council. Discussion turned on the Public Works Department and the engineering branch of the public service. No resolution was passed, however, beyond that relating to Labor Day celebration.

WANDERLUST HIS TROUBLE INDIAN LAD CAUGHT HERE CAUSED POLICE SOME WORRY

Hailing from Golden Lake, a wandering Indian-French lad of fourteen, speaking the patois, was found on Victoria Park by caretaker, George Selcher today and brought to the police station. There he was wanted for taking a watch from an employee of the G.T.R. who had befriended him by taking him into a car and allowing him to sleep and feed.

The little Golden Lake boy at first denied possession of the watch saying he had stolen it but gave it to two other lads. A little later he handed it to a G.T.R. officer.

The boy is a victim of wanderlust, the little wigwam not being modern enough in his charm to hold him.

The authorities are having him held at the Shelter whence he will be taken to Pembroke to the Golden Lake Reserve. No charge of theft will be placed against him, the watch being recovered.

TEN PATIENTS FROM HERE TO FAMOUS EYE DOCTOR WHO HAS TREATED 50,000

Dr. R. J. P. McCullough, of Belleville and Toronto, specialist on diseases of the eye, conducted ten patients suffering with cataract to Grace Hospital, Toronto, yesterday where they were operated on by a very eminent surgeon, Lieut.-Col. Henry Smith of Amritsar, India. All the patients were reported doing nicely after the operation.

One patient followed the other into the operating room at short intervals. Each operation took less than five minutes. There was no undue hurry—everything was done carefully, but quickly.

The feature of the doctor's work is that one operation is sufficient. He does not come back to see his patient. And evidence of the success of the operations is shown in the fact that of six hundred cases handled by him recently in the United States, only four were doubtful.

No less than fifty thousand cataracts have been taken off by him in India. And it was the pressure of work there that gave him the opportunity of perfecting his skill, so that, he might finish his work at the one operation.

Ten Toronto doctors witnessed the latest thing in neat eye surgery.

CARUSO'S FORTUNE $6,000,000 PAID HEAVILY IN U. S. TAXES

NAPLES, Aug. 3.—Caruso, according to estimates in the newspapers, left a fortune of about thirty million lire. At the normal value of lire, this would represent about the sum of six million dollars.

Caruso's income.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The annual income in this county of Enrico Caruso, who died yesterday at Naples, was about $500,000, it was said today at the Metropolitan Opera House.

His operatic and concert appearances yielded $200,000, and the remaining $300,000 came from his voice records. Of this amount the Government took 71 per cent in taxes, 62 per cent, on the total income and 8 per cent. more for the reason that Caruso was an alien.

Although he was always prompt in the payment of his taxes, he delighted in singing out of the country because the $10,000 he nearly always received for each appearance in Mexico, Havana, Rio de Janeiro or Buenos Aires was, as he often expressed it, "My own money; that I can put in my pocket without tax."

In his living Caruso was a frugal man, his only extravagances being in the high rental he paid for the estate he occupied at East Hampton, L.I., and his own estate in Florence.

BOARD TO HANDLE THE CANTEN FUND

Western M. P. Says Money Should be Invested and Interest Given Needy Men

WINNIPEG, Aug. 3.—The Dominion Government would reconsider the composition of the board which would administer the balance of the overseas canteen fund allocated to Canada, Dr. R. N. Drake, M.P. for North Winnipeg, stated at a meeting of veterans here yesterday.

He thought the two million should be invested and the interest used to relieve distress in the first instance. Later the interest could be utilized for the creation of annuities. He strongly disapproved of the money being distributed by grants to individual organizations.

USE WIRELESS FOR PROPAGANDA

And Robert Donald Says Selection Should be Left to Experienced Men

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Robert Donald, a well known British journalist, writing to The Times, says: "As other countries are using wireless largely for propaganda purposes, we should do the same." As newspapermen instinctively suppress news selected for them by the Government Department, he suggests that the selection of wireless news service to foreign countries be handed over to an independent news agency.

5000 ATTEND G.T.R. PICNIC

Water and Highway Routes to Massasauga Heavily Patronized

RAIN DID NO HARM Fine Time Reported by Everybody—Two Boats to Handle Crowd

Big crowds, weather generally fair, a fine program of events, repeated the history of the G.T.R. picnic on Civic Holiday at Massasauga Park. It was the occasion of the annual outing under direction of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division No. 189.

The weather had taken a turn for cooler and rain did actually fall for the space of half an hour, but again the sky cleared and the temperature rose, so that the pleasures of the outing were not interfered with.

The Steamer St. Lawrence of Kingston took down a large number of picnickers on each trip, making in all nine voyages from the new dock to the park. The Brockville also carried a considerable number to the ground. At the gate of the park over five hundred people paid admittance, having come by motor.

The park showed signs of the care full hand of Mr. Robert Day, the new lessee, who had everything to entertain the visitors. It is his effort to make Massasauga the pleasure resort of the Bay of Quinte.

Chairman Jesse W. Barlow, and Secretary-Treasurer F. A. Pinkston with their committee performed their duties tirelessly from early to late.

YOUNG LADY NEARLY DROWNED Was Swimming Under Water When She Was Seized With Cramp

Kingston—What came very near being a fatal accident occurred at Sandy Bottom, near Lake Ontario Park, when Miss June Phillips, of Toronto, took a cramp while in the water and but for the quick work of Miss Dorothy Wilson might have been drowned. Miss Phillips is an expert swimmer and was demonstrating to the large crowd of swimmers and spectators at Sandy Bottom how to swim under water. She was some distance from shore when in swimming under water she was seized with a cramp. Miss Wilson was some distance away, but immediately seeing Miss Phillips' distress, went to her assistance, bringing her in a considerable way, when helping hands escorted Miss Phillips to shore.

GIRLS SMOKE START FIRE Two Buildings Burn at Clayton Park as Result.

Gananoque—Two old barns and an ice house at Clayton park were burned. It is said that girls were smoking cigarettes caused the fire. Between 200 and 300 cars, attracted by the alarm, went to the park. The department responded but the engine was not sent as word was received from the park that its services were not needed. The buildings were old and the loss does not exceed more than a few hundred dollars.

The buildings were burned to the ground and the many people present used brush to fight little flames caused by sparks from the burning buildings. The wind was heavy, 30 miles an hour, and it was feared that the park property was threatened.

TWEED UPSETS APPLE CART; TRIMS ST. MIKES 14 TO 11

Tweed upset the local dogs on baseball in the Trent Valley League, when they trounced St. Michael's, the leading team in the league by the score of 14 to 11. The early part of the game here on Saturday afternoon was a fairly good exhibition, but from the sixth innings on, it was quite a different story. The northern giants hit Harold Smith for three safeties in the opening innings and scored a trio of runs. The local club came back with two runs and two hits. The next three innings were hitless and scoreless for both teams. In the fifth the visitors by a pair of hits managed to roll two runs over the plate, while St. Michael's repeated their performance of the preceding innings. Tweed did nothing in the sixth, but the home boys here got what looked like a lead that could not be overcome. The visitors went to pieces with seven errors. St. Michael's secured only two hits, but on the tumbling of their opponents put seven men over the plate. But four well placed hits by the villagers with the help of two errors and two passed men, gave Tweed half a dozen counters. Tweed scored again in the eighth—three. In the ninth the home team made a grand attempt at a rally. With one man out, Armstrong got first on an error. The next man struck out, and Smith drove out a single, scoring Armstrong. Miles doubled, scoring Smith. Young was walked and Percy Cornell was hit, filling the bases. A hit would have practically tied the score, but Clapper flew out to short.

Watson, the Tweed heaver, is a little fellow, but he has lots of speed and in six innings struck out half a dozen, being replaced by Murray in the seventh, who fanned two. Smith gave eleven hits, Watson four, and Murray two. St. Michael's had forty men at bat, Tweed 49.

The game by innings:

1st Innings—Tweed—Elliott doubled over first, Brown was hit. Wagar doubled over short, scoring Elliott. Gerald flew to centre, Brown scoring, after the catch. Lesage bunted, and when Cornell held the ball everybody was safe. Murray bunted and Wagar was caught trying to steal. Houston was safe on second's error. Lesage scoring. Baker raised to left—3 runs, 4 hits, 1 error.

St. Michael's—Miles safe on third's error of his batter. Young fouled to catcher, Miles stole second. Percy Cornell singled over second. Miles going to third. Cornell stole second. Clapper sacrificed, Miles scoring. "Pat" Cornell tripled over centre, scoring Percy Cornell. Langdon flew to second—2 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

2nd Innings—Tweed—Watson whiffed. Elliott grounded to Percy Cornell. Brown bunted to Cy Young—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

St. Michael's—Armstrong grounded to pitcher. Hagerman grounded to third. Smith walked, Smith took second on a wild pitch. Miles walked. A double steal put Smith and Miles on second. Young struck out. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

3rd Innings—Tweed—Wagar safe, when Cornell fumbled his grass, cutter, Gerald shot to Cornell, and Wagar was forced at second. Lesage popped to Smith, and Gerald was doubled at first—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

St. Michael's—P. Cornell popped to first. Clapper struck out. Pat Cornell also struck out—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

4th Innings—Tweed—Murray grounded to Miles. Houston raised a skyscraper to Miles. Baker was thrown out by Cornell—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

St. Michael's—Langdon fanned. Armstrong lined to short and was safe on his error. Hagerman sacrificed him to second. Armstrong stole third. Smith walked, and stole second. Miles grounded to catcher—0 runs, 0 hits, 1 error.

5th Innings—Tweed—Watson was safe when H. Smith who covered first, dropped Young's throw, he stole second a moment later. Elliott singled over first and took second on the throw in to get Watson. Watson staying on third. Brown singled over second, scoring Watson and putting Elliott on third. Wagar sacrificed, scoring Elliott. Gerald flew to right and when Brown walked in thinking three were out, Langdon touched second for the third out—2 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

St. Michael's—Young grounded to third. P. Cornell fanned, Clapper followed suit—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

6th Innings—Tweed—Lesage grounded to pitcher. Hagerman grounded to third. Smith walked, Smith took second on a wild pitch. Miles walked. A double steal put Smith and Miles on second. Young struck out. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

7th Innings—Tweed—Watson rolled to third. Elliott raised to Miles. Brown beat out a hit to Young. Wagar singled through third, Brown going to second; a double steal advanced them a base. FIT BEES FOR WINTER Get Them in Shape for Their Long "Shut In."

Be Sure Your Queen is a Good One—A Strong Colony and Plenty of Stores the Next Requisites—Pay Less for Better Bulls.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

It is taken for granted that the beekeeper has introduced a vigorous Italian queen to every colony in which a falling or poor queen was found, late in July or early August. If this has been done and rosin provided, so that the queen could lay to capacity and the bees still store any surplus honey that might be harvested, then the beekeeper is in a fair way to winter the bees successfully. There are two other manipulations, however, which should be completed to assure successful wintering.

First, unless one has a first-class cellar, it does not pay to attempt to winter weak colonies in the cellar. Weak colonies or nuclei cannot be wintered outdoors with success at any time.

All colonies covering less than three frames, on both sides, should be united with other colonies. The best way to unite is to place a sheet of newspaper between each brood-chamber and allow the bees to unite without any further attention, except that in a week or two the paper should be removed and the bees left in one hive-body.

The second manipulation, and equally important, with having a good queen and a strong colony, is the question of the winter food supply. Beekeepers who are willing to make an investment of not less than fifty pounds of first-class honey per colony, are the beekeepers who next season secure the larger crops of honey. If the fall honey is not of known quality, then it will be better to feed each colony from ten to fifteen pounds of sugar syrup, mixed in the proportion of two of sugar to one of water. The sugar should be thoroughly dissolved, but the syrup must not be burned. This syrup should be fed while quite warm in an inverted Mason jar, far of honey pail with perforated cover; and if fed inside an empty super, with the entrance reduced, there will be very little fear of robbing. Feed the sugar syrup in the evening and before the end of September. Then if the colony has 50 pounds of natural stores and is headed by a good Italian queen, this colony will then be in shape to winter pack for outdoor wintering to the place in the cellar.

In the winter of 1919-1920 the winter loss throughout Ontario was over 50 per cent, yet even in a winter when the loss was so heavy, many successful beekeepers wintered practically without loss. It is unnecessary to have a heavy winter loss in bees, provided the beekeepers will give the same thought and attention to the wintering of their successful business men in all walks of life give to their individual business.

The office of the Provincial Apiarist, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, is always ready to assist beekeepers in any way to make beekeeping more successful. Consult him, if in doubt.—F. Eric Millen, O. A. College, Guelph.

Paying Less for Better Bulls. A survey recently made in connection with the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture shows a general ratio of one bull to every 12.9 cows. Experience, however, in Pennsylvania, the state which leads in the number of bull associations, shows that 93 bulls are sufficient for the 6,504 cows belonging to members of the bull associations, or an average of about one bull for every 69 cows. These figures are taken from the bull association directory recently issued by the Dairy Division, United States Department of Agriculture.

If the members of these associations owned their bulls individually, at the usual ratio of one bull for every 12.9 cows, they would need 236 bulls instead of 93. Yet the 93 bulls give the required service as effectively as 236 would do, and in fact better, because the resulting offspring are better. The association bulls are of better quality than the ordinary run of sires privately owned, and their daughters are apt to be better-producing cows.

Even this does not tell the whole story. After an individually owned sire has been used for about two years it is usually necessary to get a new one. In eight years, therefore, these Pennsylvania farmers, if they owned their bulls separately, would have to provide themselves with four times 236 bulls, or 1,184; whereas in the bull associations at the end of two years they simply move each bull to another block. The original 93 bulls, if they all live and do well, can be used for the whole eight years. There is quite a difference between the cost of 93 bulls and that of 1,184, to say nothing of the difference in their usefulness.

The members of bull associations sometimes pay less and always receive more for their money than cow owners who go it alone.

Clean Thrashing Saves Wheat. Members of the farm bureau of Kition County, Minn., last year saved $77,000, or about $500 to each thrashing machine, by using light-bottom racks, canvas under the feeder, cleaning up when required and after each setting of the machine during the thrashing season. A conservative estimate of the saving by clean thrashing in this county was 27,500 bushels of wheat, 20,400 bushels of oats, and 10,900 bushels of barley.

SPOKE AT PICTON

Mr. H. H. Horsey, Hon. Nelson Parliament and Others Address Big Audience

The Hon. Mackenzie King made a short stay in Belleville on Sunday and was entertained at luncheon at Hotel Quinte by a number of the Liberals of the city and district.

Last evening Mr. King spoke at Picton where he gave a review of the four addresses he delivered in Western and Central Ontario.

Lucien Pacaud, French-Canadian member from Megawick, Quebec, accompanied the Liberal Leader.

H. B. Bristol, a veteran Picton Liberal, presided, and among others on the platform were Hon. Nelson Parliament; W. V. Pettit, ex-M.P.; Dr. Morley Curie, ex-M.P., and H. H. Horsey, Liberal candidate for the next Federal election.

Mr. Bristol took the opportunity to put in a nutshell the effect of a high protective tariff on the articles used in everyday life. He showed where exchange, tariff and the further protection passed last session kept cotton away up in price.

Mr. Horsey said he had much in common with the Farmers' party, particularly those who favored broadening out to include all people, except the autocrats and profiteers.

Hon. Nelson Parliament said because of his position as Speaker in the Legislature he would refrain from talking partisan politics.

Mr. Pacaud said the first task to Canadian was plain. Let us clear the decks for action. Let us open a new chapter in national history by putting in a new Government fresh from the people with a clear mandate.

Mr. King praised the Liberals for choosing such a candidate as Mr. Horsey. Mr. King repeated that Canada is being governed by a Government which had received no mandate or authority.

Mr. King declared again emphatically that the Liberals were not advocating free trade-free trade was not possible in Canada—but what the Liberals did advocate was a tariff for the people and not for a favored few.

YORK NATIONALS DEFEATED LOCALS IN PICNIC GAME

York Nationals by a score of 2 to 1 defeated the Grand Trunks at the G. T. R. Picnic on Monday afternoon at Massassaga Park before several thousand people.

The game was stopped in the first innings on account of rain and was resumed half an hour later.

Nationals first run was scored after Marshall's two-base smash and Weir's muff of an infield fly.

The G. T. R. first and only run, was scored by Weir when he walked, was sacrificed to third and scored on Soup's single.

Ross made a sensational one-handed catch, grabbing the ball while on the run and cutting off a sure three-bagger.

A dispute arose in the first of the eighth on the base umpire's decision and the crowd surged on the field.

For a time there was danger of it developing into a Donnybrook Fair with everybody for himself but the field was finally cleared and play was resumed.

Skidmore cut off "Peeny" Mills' fine attempt for a home run by making a brilliant catch of Mills' long fly.

Plant scored the Nationals' second run.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons, and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headaches.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are under-nourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FARMER PUTS ABANDONED CAR TO SAWING WOOD.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—Set up on blocks to keep it in position, a Studebaker car was found at Boucherville hard at work sawing wood by means of a belt passed around its fly-wheel and connected to a circular saw. A farmer had seen the car lying abandoned on the road, and, as nobody appeared to claim it, he took charge of it and put it to work. The car, it turned out, was the property of the Dominion Whitewear Company, and had been stolen by three young men on July 28 and abandoned.

WRITER HELPED TO SAVE TROOPS AT DARDANELLES

LONDON, July 22.—(By Mail)—Lord Northcliffe recently revealed an interesting bit of war history concerning the evacuation of Gallipoli. The hero of the story was Keith Murdoch, an Australian Journalist, who is returning home to become editor of the Melbourne Herald, and the occasion of the telling of it was a luncheon given to Mr. Murdoch by the Times.

"It is an open secret," said Lord Northcliffe in proposing Mr. Murdoch's health, "that it was due to his initiative that the Australians and the rest were removed from Gallipoli. Coming to Europe for the first time he went to Gallipoli peninsula and for the first time the truth was revealed.

"He brought a dispatch, a very terrible dispatch which I believe was intended to be sent to Australia. He showed that dispatch to me and I suggested that the time which had been spent in carrying that ghastly record to the Antipodes could be better used for the purpose of immediate action.

"I asked him to take it to Lloyd George and one of the finest pieces of work the Prime Minister did in the war was to circulate the document to the whole cabinet, which then consisted of 20 persons. As a result of Keith Murdoch's dispatch immediate action was taken and that horrible story was concluded."

FIGHTING YET ON 8 FRONTS

Reds Have Their Troubles With Peasants and Others at Home

DEATHS PILING UP

Scores of Villages Have Been Devastated and Country Laid Waste

RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 3.—Guerrilla warfare with small bands of irregular or peasant troops was being waged by Bolshevik forces on eight "fronts," according to an official Bolshevik report of recent military operations, a copy of which has just reached Riga.

These irregulars, who interfere with collection of foodstuffs from the peasants and generally oppose the Bolsheviks whenever possible, are referred to by Moscow as "bandits."

The report, dated June 10 and describing among its operations a conflict with some 600 horsemen belonging to "General" Antonoff's forces in the Tamboff government, was a direct contradiction to Moscow's claim, made in May, that Antonoff's campaigns had been liquidated.

In these fights, most of them consisting of long, running skirmishes, scores of villages have been devastated or sacked and many hundred persons killed. In the June 10 report, for instance, describing a fight on June 7 with this Antonoff detachment, the Bolsheviks claim to have killed 70 of their foe in one skirmish and to have caught 300 of another detachment, "part of whom were killed." Similar numbers of casualties were reported in the fighting, day by day, with Makno's bands in the Ukraine.

The report covered fighting of similar character on the "West front," which covers the territory along the Polish-Ukrainian frontier, in the Ukraine, in the Tamboff government, in the Trans-Volga district, in the Ural district, the Caucasus, Don district, in Turkestan and in Siberia.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

House flies are known to be highly infecting to the human race as carriers of disease germs.

Decaying vegetable and animal matter, particularly manure, are the common breeding grounds for these dangerous pests. One fly will lay 120 eggs in each of two to four batches. In twelve days adult flies are ready to carry reproduction, as many as ten to twelve generations coming into being before the summer ends. The millions possible, therefore, are all equipped to carry on the nefarious business of germ distribution.

Preventive measures are highly important in combating the fly. Cleanliness is the greatest. Spraying manure heaps and refuse piles with formalin solution, two teaspoonfuls of commercial formalin to a pint of water, will keep down some of the multiplications of generations, and fipaper the same solution as above, sweetened with sugar and placed in saucers, will kill off those that get into the house.

TO WHEEL 1000 MILES

Three Peterboro Boys on Trip to States and Back

PETERBORO—Three Peterboro cycling enthusiasts, Frank White of White Bros. bicycle dealers, Hunter street, Jerry Loescher and Herb Tranter, left Peterborough on Saturday afternoon on the longest cycling trip local riders have tackled in many moons. White and Loescher were headed for Newcastle, Pa., a distance of 425 miles, while Tranter accompanied them as far as Buffalo, N.Y. The three boys were mounted on Massey bicycles and travelled light, carrying only a change of clothing and a sweater coat and expected to make the long journey without any particular difficulty. On the return trip Tranter will be picked up at Buffalo and the cyclists intend to pedal as far as Rochester and come over on the ferry to Cobourg.

Word was received Sunday from the trio that they reached Oshawa in good shape Saturday evening, and after spending the night there, went on to Toronto Tuesday morning. They were leaving for Hamilton that evening, according to their schedule. By the time they reach Peterborough they will have travelled about 1,000 miles on their bikes in two weeks.

Clotting Caught Fire When Replenishing Fire With Wood
 Kingston—Mrs. Nelson Longway, wife of a farmer residing in the township of South Gower, three miles from Kemptonville, was burned to death when her clothing caught fire as she was in the act of replenishing the fire with wood. There was no eye witness of the tragedy and the first known of it was when her husband and his brother, on their return from Kemptonville, discovered her dead body lying on the floor of the woodshed, with the hair and most of her clothing burned off. Nearby was a rug, still smouldering, with which the woman had evidently attempted to smother the flames.

RECOVERING FROM WOUNDS.

Cecilia Tryon to Testify Against Father in Shooting Case.

Kingston—Cecilia Tryon, the seventeen-year-old girl who was shot by her father, Kenneth Tryon, at her home at Kaladar, on June 10, is still a patient at the General Hospital, but is getting along nicely, and it is expected that she will soon be able to give evidence in the charge against her father. The latter is still in the Napanee jail awaiting his trial. The accused is about fifty-five years of age. He has been eating and sleeping well and does not appear to give much concern over his approaching trial. It will be recalled that the shooting took place near the Tryon home. It appears that no person was in the immediate vicinity at that time. Neighbors, hearing the report of a rifle, rushed to the scene, and Tryon was placed under arrest by Constable George Sedora. The bullet pierced the girl's body at her back, and penetrated the body, emerging at the right breast in a terrible wound.

CARUSO DIES IN HOME CITY

World's Most Famous Tenor Passes Beyond, Near Where he Was Born

BEST KNOWN IN U. S.

At Height of Career Got as Much as $10,000 for Single Performance

NAPLES, August 2.—Enrico Caruso, the famous tenor died here today in the city where he was born and where his great career as the world's most famous tenor was begun. He died of heart failure.

HAD AN OPERATION

LONDON, Aug. 2.—A despatch from Naples announces that Mr. Caruso reached Naples on Sunday night, when specialists decided an operation for an abscess between the liver and the diaphragm was necessary. He failed to rally from the operation. Until a week ago the tenor was on the way to recovery from the long illness which began in New York last winter. The breakdown in his health followed a series of mishaps and culminated on December 11th last in Brooklyn when he broke a blood vessel while singing at the Academy of Music. He sang after that; his last public appearance was on Christmas Eve at the Metropolitan. Later he was stricken with pleurisy.

Story of His Career

Enrico Caruso, for more than 25 years a celebrity in the world of song, the tenor with "his golden voice," idolized by millions, had an artistic career as well known as that of any famous statesman or military leader. He was born in Naples, Italy, February 25, 1873, the son of Marcellino Caruso, a mechanic who detested music but was persuaded to permit his son, when 11 years old, to sing in the churches of his native city. An unpromising pupil, for three years he studied under Guglielmo Vergine, pledging his teacher that when ready for a professional career he should pay him one-quarter of his earnings for the following five years.

He made his debut in "L'Amico Francesco" at the Nuovo Theater, Naples, in 1894; later toured Italy and Sicily and was engaged for four seasons at La Scala, Milan. Subsequently he sang in St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw, Rome, Lisbon, Paris, London, and the leading cities of Germany. When he came to the Metropolitan Opera House in New York on November 23, 1903, the critics did not go into ecstasies over him. One of them wrote, on the opening night, "Signor Caruso (as the Duke in 'Rigoletto') has many of the tiresome Italian vocal affectations which he neglects to cover his tones, as he always does when he becomes strenuous, his voice becomes pallid."

It is interesting to note that when Caruso made his Naples debut he sang the title role four times for which he received 100 francs, a pair of stage shoes, a suit of furnishings and a neckerchief. Some years later Maurice Grau, the impresario, negotiated with him to sing in America for $700 a month but thought the salary excessive and the deal fell through. Grau was quick to perceive the opportunity he had lost and finally engaged Caruso for 50 performances at $1,000 a night. But Mr. Grau became ill and Caruso when singing in Lisbon, received word that he must abandon his hopes of singing in America. Heinrich Comrod, who followed Mr. Grau at the Metropolitan, however, cabled Caruso an offer to cross the Atlantic and his ambition at last was realized.

Although no official statement of his earnings was ever made public, it is known that Caruso, at the height of his Metropolitan career, was receiving an average of $3,000 for each performance. On special occasions, such as his 1920 season in Havana, he was paid $10,000 a night. Never Spared Himself

The list of Italian and French operas in which the noted tenor's name figures since he first sang in New York revealed an amazing versatility. In 16 years he sang no less than 549 times in one season, 1907-08 making 51 appearances, a great test of endurance for any voice. He was unsparing, if not reckless, of his vocal powers.

Caruso, after his strenuous opera seasons, sometimes had trouble with his throat, which he usually overcame with a little rest and care and at certain intervals, rumors that "Caruso would never sing again" were frequently printed. In the winter of 1920, however, he suffered a serious affliction when a small blood vessel in his throat burst while he was singing in "Erlene d'Amore" in the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Recovered from this mishap, Caruso was stricken with pleurisy.

In the spring of 1921 for a time his life was despaired of and it was after a long convalescence that he sailed for sunny Italy to recover his health. There he was to die.

During his indisposition, Caruso was the object of devoted attention by his wife, formerly Miss Dorothy Benjamin, of New York, whom he married in 1914. One child was born to them; Caruso had a son by a former wife, a singer named Ada Ciachetti, with whom he had been associated in opera at Treviso and Bologna.

Mr. and Mrs. Caruso resided in New York City during the opera season. They had a summer home on Long Island and another residence, Villa alle Panche, at Florence, Italy.

MILK AT 12 CTS. STARTING TODAY

Dairymen in This District Get $2.50 per Cwt.—High Winter Prices

Milkmen are now getting twelve cents a quart for milk throughout the city. For some weeks one of the local vendors has been charging that figure. The advance in the price is a reflection of the drive upwards in cheese quotations, due to the foreign demand, as one of the dealers explained to The Ontario. This means that the producer asks more for the milk from the dealers. Some of the vendors increased the price yesterday.

Dairymen get about $2.50 per cwt. for milk today.

Last winter milk sold at 14c per quart in Belleville. It first dropped to 12c and then to 10c. To all appearances the price next winter will at least be as high as it was last winter; unless fodder prices are low, which condition does not seem likely.

Not Fair to Force Reduction in Canada Just Because Yankees do It

MR. MOSHER'S LETTER

Head of Canadian Brotherhood Writes in Reply to "Ontario" Editorial

The Ontario has received the following from Mr. A. R. Mosher, head of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, an organization of 12,000 men not connected in any way with American labor groups. The following communication outlines the Canadian Brotherhood view of the railway wages dispute and aims to show why in their opinion wages should NOT come down just because American wages are chopped. The letter follows:

Ottawa, July 30, 1921. Editor "The Daily Ontario," Belleville, Ont.

My attention has been directed to an editorial appearing in your issue of July 28 under the caption "Railway Wages." The statement is made that as Canadian railway employees accepted the increases as granted in past years to employees of United States roads, therefore they should accept the same wage decreases. In this respect I would like to direct your attention to the attitude of our organization, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, which has been the most active in opposing wage reductions as proposed by the railway managements, and which has asked for the board of conciliation referred to in your editorial.

The assertion that the same awards of increases given to workers on United States railroads have in the past been applied to Canadian railroads, is not quite in accordance with fact. It is true that increases were granted in Canada about the same time as they were granted across the border, but there was considerable difference, in many instances, in the amounts. The matter was only settled upon each occasion by a series of meetings between the employees' representatives and those of the railroads. No one will deny that these increases were not warranted, especially in view of the fact that for two years after the beginning of the war railwaymen worked for practically the same wages as prior to the war, although prices ascended rapidly.

Why should not the same wage decreases as proposed for application to United States railroads be put into effect in Canada? In the first place there is a tremendous difference in the economic condition of the two countries, whereas a few years ago there was very little difference. The cost of living in the United States has fallen to a considerable extent, while in Canada lower food prices have been offset by higher rentals, increased prices of fuel, light and other household necessities. A study of the cost of living statistics issued by the federal department of labor will show that the greatest reductions in prices have been on items that should be classified as luxuries, pianos, phonographs, furs, candies, motor cars, etc. Very few railroad employees are able to make purchases in these lines.

Another marked difference at the present time in conditions between the United States and Canada is the value of currency. The United States dollar will purchase one hundred cents' value, while the Canadian dollar is discounted from 12 to 20 per cent. This means that 15 to 25 per cent. is added to the cost of imported articles, and Canadian manufacturers have not been slow in bringing their prices on a par with imported commodities. A careful estimate by a financial expert holds that it requires twelve Canadian dollars to purchase the same amount as ten United States dollars.

There is a general impression that the proposed wage reductions amount to 12 per cent. of all employees' wages. I would like to point out that the heaviest reductions are to fall on those least able to bear them—the low paid men—and the high

Cold Wave Here? "Temp." Down to 50

The cold wave has struck! On Saturday the maximum was 88 and the minimum 63; Sunday, 74-50, and Monday 70-52. The highest temperature of the past three days has been below the lowest of the nights some two weeks ago, when the thermometer was as high as 77. The "break" promises showers and cool weather.

salaried executives are not called upon to participate, but in some instances are actually to be given increases. Freight handlers, carters, truckers, laborers and others who have been receiving from 48 1/2 to 55 cents an hour are to be reduced 8 to 10 cents. This amounts to more than 20 per cent. Men with wage cheques of $150 to $200 a month are only asked to accept five per cent. reduction.

Railroad employees are ready and willing to bear their share of the common loss, but they insist that such loss shall come to the greater extent upon those most able to bear it, graded down to the smaller cut in the wages of the lower paid men.

When in the past employees have asked for wage increases, the question has been settled by arbitration. Why should not the question of decreases be settled in the same manner? It will be only a matter of common justice if the request of our brotherhood for a board of conciliation, be granted. The issue at stake is as much a public concern as it is the concern of the railroads and their employees. The decision of an impartial board, in the appointment of which both employees and railroads should have an equal voice, will be abided by as far as we are concerned.

Yours sincerely, A. R. MOSHER, Grand President, Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees.

P. S.—For your information I may add that the C.B. of R.E. has a membership of over 12,000 and is the only organization on Canadian railroads in which the members have complete autonomy, free from the domination of officials in the United States. This will account for the fact that we have taken the lead in endeavoring to reach a settlement of the wage issue. We have a local division in Belleville, No. 128, of which H. J. Armstrong is president.

NARROW ESCAPE IN COSTLY FIRE ON FRONT STREET

Mrs. Bradford, Elderly Widow, Overcome by Smoke, is Carried Out

LOSS CALLED $8,000

Hanley Building is Cut-off—Apartment Dwellers Upstairs are Victims

A loss of about eight thousand dollars was caused by fire which broke out in the rear of the W. D. Hanley building on upper Front street. The damage not only affects Mr. Findlay, flour and feed merchant, but a large number of tenants occupying apartments upstairs, and the owner of the building, Mr. Hanley.

The origin is at present in doubt. The first of the blaze was seen in a loft over the storage at the rear of Mr. Findlay's store. The fire ate away the flooring and spread into the apartment occupied by Mrs. David Bradford, an elderly widow. Mrs. Bradford had been in another room, and on the alarm of fire ran into her room. She was driven out by the smoke. She fell in the hallway, overcome by smoke, and was rescued by Mr. Bert Asselatine and Mr. Charles Hick and was carried to the Hastings House.

Chief Brown and his fire-fighters had their work cut out for them, so difficult was the fire to handle. Still they succeeded in preventing the spread of the flames and did not let the fire get out of their control. The blaze was restricted to the rear portion of the building. The structure is an old one.

Mr. Findlay's loss will be heavy. A large amount of salt and grain was soaked with water. This is covered by insurance.

Mrs. Bradford lost a large number of articles of furniture and carried no insurance. Her loss will reach a thousand dollars. Among her lost possessions are a number of dishes which she had had for over forty years. The metal of these was melted into a solid mass.

Mrs. Susan Green, widow, carried $400 insurance on her possessions, but her loss will exceed this amount. Mrs. F. J. McGuinness' household effects were damaged by water and smoke.

Smoke and water caused a loss to Mr. Levi Burnett, who is insured. Mr. Imball, residing on the second floor, was affected by the smoke and water.

A Midnight Blaze

Fire at one o'clock this morning threatened to destroy the frame dwelling on Moira street west, opposite Hillside street, owned by Mr. John Kiser. When the firemen arrived it was ablaze from top to bottom but they managed to quench the blaze before any of the buildings was wholly burned. The house was unoccupied. There was an insurance of two thousand dollars on the structure. The origin is unknown.

FOUND HUMAN FRAGMENTS

Workmen Seek Shelter in Basement of Church and Find Bones.

Oshawa—While workmen were engaged in tree trimming near St. Gregory's Church a storm came up and forced them to seek shelter. They retreated to the basement of the church, where the discovery of some human remains, in the form of a lower jaw bone and a thigh bone were found. The workmen, not knowing what to make of their discovery naturally reported the same, and an interview was very happily held with Father Bench. It appears that it is not the first time some fragments have been discovered in the vicinity of St. Gregory's, the church having been erected near the site of an old, and now long forgotten cemetery. Excavations in the neighborhood frequently reveal the fact that a graveyard had been in existence probably a century ago, judging by the state of preservation in which the remains unearthed are found. In some instances, it has been thought that the remains were those of Indian warriors of the past.

KAISER WORLD'S STINGIEST MAN

Played Market, Grafted, Manipulated, Made Over $12,000,000

BIG BRANDY MAKER Has Now Curtailed Allowances to Sons—Book Tells the Tale

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—That Kaiser Bill was one of the world's stingiest men and amassed a private fortune of twelve and a half million dollars during his reign is shown in documented history of the Hohenzollerns under the auspices of the Majority Socialist party by Kurt Heintz, who spent years of studying in the archives.

The book is published today and shows the Hohenzollerns, impoverished when William ascended the throne, became one of the world's wealthiest families, thanks to the Kaiser's investments and grafts.

In the first year of his reign the Kaiser saved $45,000 from his regular income. Immediately the Kaiser began playing the stock market, where, in the capacity of ruler, he could upset prices or get real "tips." Among the Kaiser's investments were two companies which are now affiliated with American capital—the Hamburg-American line and the German General Electric. The archives show the Kaiser did not own Krupp stock but held their notes for several hundred thousand marks.

Just before the revolution the Kaiser had almost two million dollars invested in mortgages on Berlin homes. The archives show that the Hohenzollerns did not invest a fortune in German liberty bonds as claimed, but only $6,000,000, which is but a small fraction of the Kaiser's private wealth.

The archives show the Kaiser was one of the biggest brandy manufacturers, his fifteen estates producing half a million quarters, about a million and a half quarters of milk.

When the Kaiser fled he succeeded in taking 53 vans of furniture, 1,000 silver plates, 360 gilt silver plates and solid service for 100 guests.

Investigation shows the Kaiser now has curtailed his sons' allowances one-third. The Crown Princes are allowed $53,840 marks, which is just about enough for food, which even the Socialist expert deplors.

WILL FIND OUT IF CHILD LIVED

Inquest into Circumstances Surrounding Discovery in Trunk Was Began

ADJOURNED TILL 5TH AUG.

Dr. Wallbridge Instrumental in Aiding Police in Case— Jury Was Chosen

Only formal evidence was offered at the opening of the inquest on Thursday afternoon at Tickle's morgue into the death of the child whose body was found in an upstairs room of a Belleville residence.

Coroner Dr. Boyce outlined the story of the occurrence as known to the authorities. It might be at least a case of concealment. Time would be required in order to find out whether the child had actually lived. This would mean an autopsy and the jury decided to have two doctors perform the postmortem one to assist Dr. Wallbridge, whose attendance in the case led to the discovery and who was with the police when the discovery was made.

The jury after viewing the body in company with the coroner and Dr. Wallbridge, heard the evidence of Detective Sergeant Trausch as to the finding of the dead babe in a trunk.

An adjournment was made until August 5th to permit the coroner authorities to investigate and secure attendance of witnesses.

Mr. S. Burrows was chosen foreman of the jury, the other members being Chancey Ashley, H. A. Morgan, E. T. Cherry, A. G. Vermilyea, D. V. Sinclair, Dr. M. J. O'Callaghan, William Leslie and C. C. Walker.

Dr. Wallbridge stated that it would be at least two weeks before one of the witnesses could attend.

CANADA CLUB HONORS BYNG

Duke of Connaugh Presides at Farewell Banquet to Governor-General

DEVONSHIRE MESSAGE

Could Wish Nothing Better for Successor Than His Own Experience

LONDON, July 29.—The Duke of Connaught presided at a dinner last night tendered by the Canadian Club to Lord Byng, the new Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada, who sails from Liverpool on August 4th.

In proposing the toast to His Excellency, the chairman read a message from the Duke of Devonshire, the late Governor-General, wishing his successor an experience in Canada as happy as his own had been.

Lord Byng, responding, declared that if Canada as a whole extended to him the same spirit as the Canadian Army Corps in France did while he was its commander, he could readily hope that his tenure of office as representative of the King in the Dominion would be successful. If he should prove a failure in the important office it would not be because of any lack of affection on his part for the men of the Great Dominion, whom he had been proud to lead in the war.

Lord Byng concluded by paying a specially complimentary tribute to General Sir Arthur Currie, who succeeded him as commander of the Canadian Army Corps.

LONDON, July 29.—His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, late Governor-General of Canada, landing in Liverpool yesterday, said that the years he had spent in the Dominion were regarded by him as the happiest in his life. His Excellency spoke eloquently of the kindness extended to him by every section of the Canadian community. The future of the Dominion, he said, was the brightest in every respect and the country was not affected by bad dinners and watch the camels in the parts of the world.

The Duke and Duchess motored to Buxton where a civic reception was accorded them. His Excellency intends to visit Lord Byng, the coming Governor-General, before the latter sails for Canada, August 4.

ONTARIO K.C.'S PAY HIGHER INITIAL FEE

$100. Instead of $18 for Each of 91 New K.C.'s—Those Who Were Ignored Now Smile

TORONTO, July 29.—There is balm for the wounded heart of the aspiring barrister who does not find his name among those upon whom the powers that be have seen fit to confer, King's Counsel Honors. No longer is the "K.C." title obtainable upon payment of a paltry fee—the Ontario Government has decided to exact a good stiff one. One hundred dollars each of the honored '91 is to be assessed.

From time immemorial the assessment fee for entry to K.C. ranks has been $18. But, no sooner had Cabinet Council of the Ontario Government yesterday created 91 new K.C.'s than an order-in-council was passed raising the fee from thirteen dollars to an even hundred.

By William MacLeod Raine. Copyrighted by Theo. Allen.

Graham looked out of the window at the rushing landscape and tapped on the table with his fingertips absent-mindedly. Presently he announced a decision crisply.

CHAPTER XXXI. TWO ON THE HILLS TOPS

It was the morning after his return. Emerson Crawford helped himself to another fried egg from the platter and shook his knife at the bright-eyed girl opposite.

"I tell you, honey, the boy's a wonder," he insisted. "Knows what he wants and goes right after it. Don't waste any words. Don't best around the bush. Don't let any one bluff him out. Graham says if I don't want him he'll give him a responsible position pronto."

The girl's trim head tilted at her father in a smile of sweet derision. She was pleased, but she did not intend to say so.

"I believe you're in love with Dave Sanders, Dad. It's about time for me to be jealous."

Crawford defended himself. "He's had a hard row to hoe, and he's comin' out fine. I aim to give him every chance in the world to make good. It's up to us to stand by him."

"If he'll let us," Joyce jumped up and ran round the table to him. They were alone, Keith having departed with a top to join his playmates.

going to worry him about my feelings, Dad. He'll not have time to think of his own."

Joyce found her chance next day. She met David Sanders in front of a drug-store. He would have passed with a bow if she had let him.

CHAPTER XXXII. DAVE BECOMES AN OFFICE MAN

From Graham came a wire a week after the return of the oil expert to Denver. It read:

Report satisfactory. Can you come at once and arrange with me plan of organization?

Sanders was on the next train. He was still much needed at Malapi to look after getting supplies and machinery and to arrange for a wagon train of oil teams, but he dropped or delegated this work for the more important call that had just come.

His contact with Graham uncovered a new side of the state builder, one that was to impress him in all the big business men he met.

"Don't board them any more. Spend them," she urged.

"I'll take that prescription, Doctor Joyce. And he spent one as evidence of good faith."

CHAPTER XXXIII. ON THE DODGE

Up in the hills back of Bear Canon two men were camping. They breakfasted on slow elk, coffee, and flour and water biscuits.

The man who had spoken rose with one little twist of his big body. His eyes, hard and narrow, watched the shorter man disappear in the brush.

The man stripped from a scrub oak a handful of leaves. They were very brittle and crumbled in his hand. A match flared out. His palm cupped it for a moment to steady the blaze before he touched it to the crisp foliage.

"You won't lose him again," he answered, pushing into the hinterland of his mind the reflection that a man cannot change the color of his thinking in an hour.

"We thought he'd gone away for good. I'm so glad he hasn't."

CHAPTER XXXIV. A PLEASANT EVENING

Brad Steelman sat hunched before a fire of pinon knots, head dropped low between his high, narrow shoulders.

The man rose. On his brown face was an evil smile, in his broad eyes something malevolent and sinister.

"But he's sure in a kettle of hot water this time."

"Mr. Steelman is enterprising," Dave admitted dryly.

"What does the oil expert Mr. Graham think about our property?" she asked presently, greetings having been exchanged.

"He hasn't given out any official opinion yet, but he's impressed. The report will be favorable, I think."

Crawford, Sanders, and Hart." Eagerly Steelman clutched his arm. "You did it, then?" "Didn't I say I'd do it?" snapped Doble irritably. "D'ya ever know me rue back on a bargain?" "Never."

"What's more, you never will! I fired the chaparral above Bear Canon. The wind was right. Inside of twenty-four hours the Jackpot locations will go up in smoke. Derricks, pumps, shacks, an' oil; the whole choodle's doomed sure as I'm a foot high."

The face of the older man looked more wolfish than ever. He rubbed his hands together, washing one over the other so that each in turn was massaged. "Hell's bells! I'm sure glad to hear it. Fire got a good start, you say?"

"I tell you the whole country'll go up like powder." If Steelman had not just reached Malapi from a visit to one of his sheep camps he would have known, what everybody else in town knew by this time, that the range for fifty miles was in danger and that hundreds of volunteers were out fighting the menace.

His eyes glistened. "I'll not wear mourning' if it does just that." "I'm talkin' what it'll do," Doble insisted dogmatically. "Shorty with you?"

"He was an' he wasn't. I did it while he wasn't lookin'. He was saddle-dittin' his horse in the brush. Don't make any breaks to him. Shorty's got a soft spot in him. Game enough, but with queer notions. Some time I'm liable to have to—" Doble left his sentence suspended in air, but Steelman, looking into his bleak eyes, knew what the man meant.

"What's wrong with him now, Dug?" "Well, he's been wrong ever since I had to bump off Tim Harrigan. Talks about a fair break. As if I had a chance to let the old man get to a gun. No, I'm not so awful sure of Shorty."

"Better watch him. If you see him make any false moves—" Doble watched him with a taunting, scornful eye. "What'll I do?" The other man's gaze fell. "Why, you got to protect yourself, Dug, ain't you?" "How?"

drink and took it at a swallow. "I would, Brad." "No use puttin' yourself in unnecessary danger."

"Or you. Don't hand me my hat, Brad. I'll go when I'm ready." Doble drank steadily throughout the night. He was the kind of drinker that can take an incredible amount of liquor without becoming helpless. He remained steady on his feet, growing uglier and more reckless every hour.

Tied to Doble because he dared not break away from him, Steelman's busy brain began to plot a way to take advantage of this man's weakness for liquor. He sat across the table from him and sardonically stirred up his hatred of Crawford and Sanders. He raked up every grudge his guest had against the two men, calling to his mind how they had beaten him at every turn.

"O course I know, Lugs, you're a better man than Sanders or Crawford either, but Malapi don't know it—yet. Down at the Gusher I hear they laugh about that trick he played on you blowin' up the dam. Luck, I call it, but—" "Laugh, do they?" growled the big man savagely. "I'd like to hear some 'at laughin'."

"Say this Sanders is a wonder; that nobody's got a chance against him. That's the talk goin' round. I said any day in the week you had him beat a mile, and they gave me the laugh."

"I'll show 'em!" cried the enraged bully with a furious oath. "I'll bet you do. No man livin' can make a fool outa Dug Doble. Rustle the evidence to send him to the pen, snap his fingers at him, and on top o' that steal his girl. That's what I told—" Doble leaned across the table and caught in his great fist the wrist of Steelman. His bloodshot eyes glared into those of the man opposite.

"What girl?" he demanded hoarsely. Steelman looked blandly innocent. "Didn't you know, Dug? Maybe I oughtn't to 'a' mentioned it." Fingers like ropes of steel tightened on the wrist. Brad screamed. "Don't do that, Dug! You're killin' me! Ouch! Um! I'll tear your arm off."

Steelman told all he knew and a good deal more. He invented details calculated to infuriate his confederate, to inflame his jealousy. The big man sat with jaw clamped, the muscles knotted like ropes on his leathery face. He was a volcano of outraged vanity and furious hate, seething with fire ready to erupt.

"Some folks say it's Hart she's engaged to," purred the hatchet-faced tempter. "Maybe. Looks to me like she's throwin' down Hart for this convict. Expect she sees he's gonna be a big man some day." "Big man! Who says so?" exploded Doble.

cause he wanted to have his purpose of vengeance fed.

"Sanders never saw the day he could take me, dead or alive. I'll meet him any time, any way, an' when I turn my back on him he'll be ready for the coroner."

"I believe you, Dug. No need to tell me you're not afraid of him, for—" "Afraid of him?" bellowed Doble, eyes like live coals. "Say that again an' I'll twist your head off."

Steelman did not say it again. He pushed the bottle toward his guest and said other things.

CHAPTER XXXV. Fire in the Chaparral. Carpenter working on the roof of a derrick for Jackpot Number Six called down to his mates:

"Fire in the hills, looks like. I see smoke." The contractor was an old-timer. He knew the danger of fire in the chaparral at this season of the year. "Run over to Number Four and tell Crawford," he said to his small son.

Crawford and Hart had just driven out from town. "I'll snag up the tower and have a look," the younger man said. He had with him no field-glasses, but his eyes were trained to long-distance work. Years in the saddle on the range had made him an expert at reading such news as the landscape had written on it.

"Fire in Bear Canon!" he shouted down. "Quite a bit of smoke risin'." "I'll ride right up and look it over," the cattleman called back. "Better get a gang together to fight it, Bob. Like up soon as you're ready."

Crawford borrowed without permission of the owner the nearest saddle horse and put it to a lope. Five minutes might make all the difference between a winning and a losing fight.

From the tower Hart descended swiftly. He gathered together all the carpenters, drillers, enginemen, and tool dressers in the vicinity and equipped them with shovels, picks, brush-hooks, saws, and axes.

Each one he also gave a gunnysack. The foot party followed Crawford into the chaparral, making for the hills that led to Bear Canon. A wind was stirring, and as they topped a rise it struck hot on their cheeks. A flare of ash fell on Bob's hand.

Crawford met them at the mouth of the canon. "She's a rip-rarin', Bob. Got 100 big 'at start to beat out. We'll clear a fire-break where the gulch narrows just above here and do our fightin' there."

The sparks of a thousand rockets flung high by the wind, were swept down the gulch toward them. Behind these came a curtain of black smoke.

The cattleman set his cry to work clearing a wide trail across the gorge from wall to wall. The undergrowth was heavy, and the men attacked with brush-hooks, shovels, and axes. One man, with a wet gunnysack, was detailed to see that no flying sparks started a new blaze below the safety zone. The shovellers and grubbers cleared the grass and roots off to the dirt for a belt of twenty feet. They banked the loose dirt at the lower edge to catch flying firebrands. Meanwhile the breath of the furnace grew to a steady heat on their faces. Flame spurts had leaped forward to a grove of small alders and almost in a minute the branches were crackling like fireworks.

"I'll scout round over the hill and have a look above," Bob said. "We've got to keep it from spreading out of the gulch."

"Take the horse," Crawford called to him. One good thing was that the fire was coming down the canon. A downhill blaze moves less rapidly than one running up.

Runners of flame, crawling like snakes among the brush, struck out at the fighters venomously and tried to leap the trench. The defenders flailed at these with the wet gunnysacks.

The wind was stiffer now and the fury of the fire closer. The flames roared down the canon like a blast furnace. Driven by the intense heat, the men retreated across the break and clung to their line. Already their lungs were sore from inhaling smoke and their throats were inflamed.

A pine, its pitchy trunk ablaze, crashed down across the fire-trail and caught in the fork of a tree beyond. Instantly the foliage leaped to red flame.

Crawford, axe in hand, began to chop the trunk and a big Swede swung an axe powerfully on the opposite side. The rest of the crew continued to beat down the fire that started below the break. The chips flew at each rhythmic stroke of the keen blades. Presently the tree crashed down into the trail that had been hewn. It served as a conductor, and along it tongues of fire leaped into the brush beyond. Glowing branches, stung by the wind and hurried from falling timber, buried themselves in the dry undergrowth.

Before one blaze was crushed half a dozen others started in its place. Flats and gunnysacks beat these down and smothered them.

Bob galloped into the canon and flung himself from the horse as he pulled it up in its stride. "Sag's jumpin' outa the gulch above. Too late to head her off. We better get scrapers up and run a trail along the top of the ridge, don't you reckon?" he said.

"Yes, son," agreed Crawford. "We can just about hold her here. It'll be hours before I can spare a man for the ridge. We got to get help in a hurry. You ride to town and rustle men. Bring out plenty of dynamite and gunnysacks. Lucky we got the tools out here we brought to build the sump holes."

"Betcha! We'll need a lot o' grub, too." The cattleman nodded agreement. "And coffee. Can't have too much coffee. It's food and drink and helps keep the men awake."

"I'll remember."

"And for the love o' Heaven, don't forget canteens! Get every canteen in town. Can't have my men runnin' around with their tongues hangin' out. Better bring out a bunch of broncs to pack supplies around. It's a gun to be one man-sized contract runner's commissary."

ford's trying to hold the mouth of the canon. He's got a man's job down there. Can't spare a soul to keep it from scuttlin' over the hills."

Dave rose. "I'll gather a bunch of men and ride right out. On what side of the canon is the fire runnin'?" "East side. Stop at the wells and get tools. I got to rustle dynamite and men. Be out soon as I can."

Reports From Eastern Ontario Suggest Farmers Should Hold It

RUSH OF WORK LASTS

Flow of Milk Helped by Revived Pastures Due to Recent Rains

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture: Heavy rains early in the week in most parts of the Province revived pastures to a wonderful extent, and a marked improvement was observable in the milk flow. The root crops also were greatly benefited by the showers.

Harvesting operations are being rushed, and were never more varied. Middlesex puts it thus: "Oats are now being cut, three or four weeks earlier than last year, and it is rather unusual to have hay, wheat and small grains harvested at the same time."

Halfman says that fall wheat is threshing very well, both as regards yield and quality. Hay is selling in Kent at $20 a ton.

The second cutting of alfalfa is now being done, and is giving fair satisfaction. Halton, however, says that farmers who kept the first crop for seed report that many pods matured very poorly on account of the hot weather.

Peas have been badly scorched by the hot weather, and are not doing so well as usual.

Corn is making tremendous growth with timely rains and continued hot weather. It has reached the tasselling stage in most parts of the Province.

Essex reports that early tomatoes are at the height of their season. Lennox and Addington states that a large acreage of millet and buckwheat has been sown during the week.

In most counties the marketing of cattle has been thrust aside by the work of harvesting, although many good beef animals are ready for buyers. Perth, however, states that a number of finished cattle are changing hands, one load going to Great Britain.

Lambton says: "The first trial shipment of live stock to the British market left this county last Monday. Mr. John Zavitz and Fred Dolbear contributed 74 head. The success or failure of this shipment will greatly influence the method of disposing of the balance of heavy cattle in the country."

Middlesex also refers to the export of cattle as follows: "Some cattle are being shipped to England and will likely net about 11.5 cents. These cost about 14 cents per pound last fall, and from 2 1/2 to 3 cents to winter, or their total cost is around 17 cents, and they lose to the owner about five cents."

Lennox and Addington reports commodity prices for milk at $1.30 a cwt., for 3.5 per cent. milk. Hogs are scarce, and are selling at from $11 to $12.75 a cwt.

Recent rains have made the land easier to plow, and many hay fields are being prepared for fall wheat. Owing to the early harvest it is likely that an increased acreage of fall plowing will be done.

Wellington says that summer-fallowing will be more practised this year, as thistles and other weeds have been making great headway during the last two years.

Grenville is of the opinion that there will be a shortage of good seed grain in Eastern Ontario, and urges farmers who have good seed from last year to hold it.

Cobourg Failed in Pinches

COBOURG, July 28.—Yesterday the Cobourg team lost their second game of the second round of the Central Ontario League to Peterborough by a score of 3 to 1. While beaten the home team put up a good brand of ball and were ahead of the visitors most of the game. Try as they might the visitors could not get to Frank Shafer's offering and as a last resort tried the bunting game and this proved to be successful. In the first and fifth innings Cobourg had golden opportunities to put the game on ice, but a hit was not forthcoming at the right time. Cobourg were the first to score, getting one in the third, when, with two out, Jacob hit to centre field, the ball getting away from Jackson and Jacobs was safe at second; Tyson's nice two-bagger to left scored Jacobs with Cobourg's only run. Cobourg came near scoring in the 9th, when Baker hit through third to left, advanced to second on Butler's bunt, and to third on Turpin's bunt, but Shafer fanned. Peterboro did not get a hit off Shafer until the seventh, when Ross bunted safely, Swanson hit to short right field and Bill Skitoch fielded the ball but had to throw from an awkward position, and the ball went over Turpin's head, both runners advancing a base, Murray hit to right, scoring Ross and Jacobs' throw in went over Tyson's head, Swanson scoring. Murray scoring later on Hollyman's hit to right field. There were several brilliant fielding features, probably the most brilliant being a one-hand catch by "Gint" Butler, in left field for Cobourg in the 5th. Hollyman lined one that looked good for a home run, but Butler after a long run pulled it down in fine style. Score by innings: Peterboro . . . 0 0 0 0 0 3 9 0—3 Cobourg . . . 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1

GUNSIGHT PASS

They spoke quietly, quickly, decisively, as men of action do in a crisis. Joyce guessed the situation was a desperate one. "Is Dad in danger?" she asked.

Hart answered. "No—not now, anyhow."

"What can I do to help?" "What have hundreds of men in the field probably, if this fire has a real start," Dave told her. "We'll need food and coffee—lots of it. Organize the women. Make meat sandwiches—hundreds of them. And send out to the Jackpot dozens of coffee pots. Your job is to keep the workers well fed. Better send out bandages and salve, in case some get burnt."

Her eyes were shining. "I'll see to all that. Don't worry, boys. You fight this fire, and we women will tend to feeding you."

Dave nodded and strode out of the room. During the fierce and dreadful days that followed one memory more than once came to him in the fury of the battle. It was of a slim, straight girl looking at him, the call to service stamped on her brave, uplifted face.

Sanders was on the road inside of twenty minutes, a group of horsemen galloping at his heels. At the Jackpot locations the fire-fighters equipped themselves with shovels, axes, and brush-hooks. The party, still on horseback, rode up to the mouth of Bear Canon. Through the smoke the sun was bloodred. The air was heavy and heated.

From the fire line Crawford came to meet these new allies. "We're holdin' her here. It's been nip an' tuck. Once I thought sure she'd break through, but we beat out the blaze. I hadn't time to go look, but I expect she's just a'arin' over the hills. I've had some teams and scrapers taken up there, Dave. It's your job to go to it."

The old cattleman showed that he had been through a fight. His eyes were red and inflamed, his face streaked with black, one arm of his shirt half torn from the shoulder. But he wore the grim look of a man who has just begun to set himself for a struggle.

The horsemen swung to the east and rode up to the mesa which lies between Bear and Cattle Canons. It was impossible to get near Bear, since the imprisoned fury had burst from its walls and was sweeping the chaparral. The line of fire was running along the level in an irregular, ragged front, red tongues leaping ahead with short, furious, rushes.

Even before he could spend time to determine the extent of the fire, Dave selected his line of defense, a ridge of rocky, higher ground cutting across from one gulch to the other. Here he set teams to work scraping a fire-break, while men assisted with shovels and brush-hooks to clear a wide path.

Dave swung still farther east and rode along the edge of Cattle Canon. Narrow and rock-lined, the gorge was like a boiler flue to suck the flames down it. From where he sat he saw it raging with inconceivable fury. The earth rift seemed to be roofed with flame. Great billows of black smoke poured out laden with sparks and live coals carried by the wind. It was plain at first glance that the fire was bound to leap from the canyon to the brush-covered hills beyond. His business now was to hold the ridge he had chosen and fight back the flames to keep them from pouring down upon the Jackpot property.

Later the battle would have to be fought to hold the line at San Jacinto Canon and the hills running down from it to the plains. The surface fire on the hills licked up the brush, mesquite, and young cedars with amazing rapidity. If his trail-break was built in time, Dave intended to backfire above it. Steve Russell was one of his party. Sanders appointed him lieutenant and went over the ground with him to decide exactly where the clearing should run, after which he galloped back to the mouth of Bear.

"She's ruttin' wild on the hills and in Cattle Canon," Dave told Crawford. "She'll sure jump Cattle and reach San Jacinto. We've got to hold the mouth of Cattle, build a trail between Bear and Cattle, another between Cattle and San Jacinto, cork her up in San Jacinto, and keep her from jumping to the hills beyond."

"Can we back-fire, do you reckon?" "Not with the wind there is above, unless we have check-trails built first. We need several hundred more men, and we need them right away. I never saw such a fire before."

"Well, get your trail built. Bob oughta to be out soon. I'll put him for between Cattle and San Jacinto. Three-four men can hold her here now. I'll move my outfit over to the mouth of Cattle."

The cattleman spoke crisply and decisively. He had been fighting fire for six hours without a moment's rest, swallowing smoke-filled air, enduring the blistering heat that poured steadily at them down the gorge. At least two of his men were lying down completely exhausted, but he contemplated another such desperate battle without turning a hair. All his days he had been a good fighter, and it never occurred to him to quit now.

Sanders rode up as close to the west edge of Bear Canon as he could endure. In two or three places the flames had jumped the wall and were trying to make headway in the scant underbrush of the rocky slope that led to a hogback surmounted by a bare rimrock running to the summit. This natural barrier would block the fire on the west, just as the burnt-over area would protect the north. For the present at least the fire-fighters could confine their efforts to the south and east, where the spread of the blaze would involve the Jackpot. A shift in the wind would change the situation, and if it came in time would probably save the oil property.

Dave put his horse to a lope and rode back to the trench and trail his men were building. He found a shovel and joined them.

From out of Cattle Canon billows of smoke rolled across the hill and settled into a black blanket above the men. "This was acrid from the reasonous pitch of the pines. The wind caught the dark pall, drove it low, and held it there till the workers could hardly breathe. The sun was under entire eclipse behind the smoke screen.

The heat of the flames tortured Dave's face and hands, just as the smothered air inflamed his nostrils and throat. Coals of fire pelted him from the river of flame, carried by the strong breeze blowing down. From the canons on either side of the workers came a steady roar of a world's fire. Occasionally, at some slight shift of the wind, the smoke lifted and they could see the moving wall of fire bearing down upon them, wedges of it far ahead of the main line.

The movements of the workers became automatic. The teams had to be removed because the horses had become unmanageable under the tor-

NOTHING SECRET ABOUT DEATH OF KITCHENER

Allegations That London "Knew Things" Public Did Not, is Exploded

LONDON, July 29.—Sir Richard A. Cooper, Uptonist, in the House of Commons yesterday asked Lieut.-Col. Amery, parliamentary and financial secretary to the Admiralty, if he had any official information concerning the alleged divulgence by an officer on the staff of Lord Kitchener of secret information respecting the intended trip of the cruiser Hampshire to Russia. Col. Amery said that no such information was in possession of the Admiralty and that no facts connected with the loss of the Hampshire were being withheld from the public.

The question of Sir Richard probably was occasioned by the recent publication in a London periodical of an allegation purporting to explain the sinking of the Hampshire with Kitchener aboard.

Dives From Height of 20 Feet Water Below 5 1-2 Feet Deep; Anybody Else Who'll do This?

Mr. Herman Osborne, barber artist with Mr. Eddie George steps in to the sporting page today by reason of a magnificent performance he gave at Mr. L. B. Cooper's camp on the Front of Sidney last evening. Recently Mr. Reuben Cooper set up a scaffold for the purpose of diving, the platform being twenty feet above the water level, and the water being only five feet six inches deep at the foot of the structure. But after all Mr. Cooper's trouble no one would do the Annette Kellerman trick—chances being considered too great. Finally the structure was about to be torn down, when Mr. George phoned Mr. Cooper to let it stand as he had a champion diver to try out.

Early last evening the performer arrived—Mr. Herman Osborne. He climbed up the ladder to the top and gracefully dove into the shallow water.

Few rivals of Mr. Osborne will appear, says Mr. George, who would like to see any one who will try to repeat the performance.

PORT HOPE WEEPS OVER GAME

The Port Hope Guide speaking of Wednesday's game says: Had the Rev. Ramsey officiated as base umpire at the Belleville Port Hope game in Belleville yesterday the locals would, no doubt, have pulled out a victory. An unfair decision in the last of the eighth innings gave Belleville a decided advantage and were responsible for their five runs in that inning. Mills was leading off third base when Ware whipped the ball down to catch him. Fair had Mills off the bag easily four feet, but Mills jumped into the third baseman knocked the ball from his hand and his Ump's declared him safe. Fair was so badly used up that he was obliged to retire and before the team settled down to play again five Belleville players crossed the plate. Up to this time the score was 5 to 4 in favor of Belleville. Port Hope played snappily ball all through and if they continue the good work they will make it interesting for all the teams in the Central League.

How Greybirds Turned Trick

The Lindsay Post reports Wednesday's game as follows: The Lindsay Greybirds put both feet on the first rung of the ladder in the second half of the C. O. B. race with a great, big, satisfying thump on Wednesday afternoon when they took a fall out of the much-vaunted Oshawa starwars.

The nine-innings fixture gave Lindsay the verdict by a 2-2 score, with an innings to spare.

There was nothing loose or weak about Wednesday's game. Real baseball was played in a quick snappy way that kept the large crowd of fans on the bowl. Not weakened by last week's 26-innings battle, Oulette took the mound and with a real team behind him beat Oshawa to a standstill.

Art Carew jammed in the first counter in the first innings, scoring on Beiding's passed ball. This was matched by the visitors with two runs in the second but with two down in the third Carew stretched a two-bagger for three bases and scored on Bates' single, tying the game up. Two blank sessions fled by and then Molahan secured a base on fielder's choice, stole second, made third on Rowden's error and scored on Fair's error, stepping ahead while Oshawa threw the ball around. Oulette struck out the side in the seventh, struck out two in the eighth and with Stark's assistance retired the side. Two strike-outs and a fly to Starr ended Oshawa's last hope.

A great number of residents here have visitors. Mrs. Macintosh, of Montreal, spent a few days with Mrs. Charity Morden, and has now come to visit relations at Bloomfield.

Miss Elva Garratt, of Ottawa, is having a holiday with her father, Wallace Garratt. Mr. and Mrs. Christie Bates, Frankford, visited Wallace Garratt on Sunday. This party started on the journey to Wellington on Saturday night, but, owing to a mishap at a sharp corner in Concession, they had to go back home with a disabled wheel, but they got the car fixed for the journey on Sunday.

A few members of Friends attended the Westlake monthly meeting at Bloomfield on Thursday morning, and a car load attended the Bloomfield meeting on Sunday afternoon. The sympathy of all the friends of Mrs. J. U. Robins goes out to her in her bereavement. Her sister, Miss May Archer, who has been a great sufferer for a long time, died last week at Little Britain, and was buried on Thursday. Rev. J. U. Robins and wife attended the funeral.

Thursday last was a kind of gala day here, and many of our people had great enjoyment. Being the half-holiday for the storekeepers, there was an expectant crowd waiting just after dinner for the aeroplane that was billed to deliver some B.H. paint to T. M. Nash, hardwareman. At about 1.30 p.m. the aeroplane was seen in the distance, and after hovering round a little, it alighted in the field at the rear of the Dominion Cannery factory, and the pilots on board, Mr. Wiltshire and Mr. Charbon, had the pleasure of delivering their supply of Brandham-Henderson paint, the first shipment of goods ever delivered in Wellington by aeroplane. Owing to an electric storm a few days before, the big machine belonging to the B.H. Co. had to alight on an island in the St. Lawrence, but the B.H. Co., rather than disappoint their customers, according to advertisements, at once hired another Curtis aeroplane, which served their purpose. About 500 people turned out to see three or four of their neighbors loop the loop and take the nose dive, and perform other daring feats in the air with an expert pilot. Three hundred had registered for a free ride, the lucky numbers being 152, Sebun D. Cronk (his ride was transferred to his son Barton); 181, Morley Stephenson; 185, Walter Young; Clare Platt, head clerk in T. M. Nash's store, also had a free ride. The crowd in the field watched with great interest the marvellous demonstrations of the skillful pilot. The weather conditions were good, and those who liked ice cream were served on the spot by Alex. Dunn and helpers with Campbell's tea cream. Thanks is due to Mr. H. D. Clementson of the Dominion Cannery Farm for the loan of the field.

A happy group of ten, including three children, from the Old Country, had a picnic party in Samuel Saylor's summer cottage by the lake on Thursday afternoon. Rev. Wm. Miller and wife who were on holiday there invited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitt and daughter, and their visitor, Miss Alice Durdan, of Crowborough, and James Wild and wife. While enjoying the social cup of black tea, there was friendly discussion and comparing of impressions on the land of their adoption, and all were pleased with the strong hand of friendship that exists between Canada and Dear Old England.

The Ladies' Aid arranged a cake and ice cream social in the park on Thursday evening. The Picton band rendered selections, and Mrs. (Dr.) Gibson sang a solo. The Leyhew twins, Hugh and Lew, played a violin duet. R. W. Ireland presided and expressed words of welcome to all who were there, including members of other churches. He regretted the absence of the pastor and his wife, owing to the death of Mrs. Robins' sister. The crowd gathered enjoyed the music and the social fellowship, as well as the refreshment, and it is understood that over $100 was taken for the parsonage fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garratt, of North Bay, are on holiday at his father's, W. H. Garratt. Mrs. D. J. Isaacs and little son Frank from Toronto, are staying at J. Wild's. Mrs. E. B. Demille and daughter Theima, Toronto, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wildmer.

EUREKA LODGE PICNIC VOTED A GREAT SUCCESS

Masons and their wives and families to the number of 300, mostly of Eureka Lodge, were still discussing with pleasure today of their picnic yesterday to Herman's Grove, just east of Redversville where with the weather perfect, the arrangements all that could be desired, one of the most enjoyable outings of the year, passed into history. Fronting on the Bay shore the beautiful grounds include among other things a dancing pavilion and refreshment booth and both these institutions were employed to provide a good time. The Eureka band provided just the right kind of music, the races and contests of various kinds induced keener interest. Among the distinguished guests of the Eureka Lodge were La. Od. APPLES AND PLUMS New Varieties Tested—"The Portia" Found to be the Champion Strawberry

OTTAWA, July 28.—(By Canadian Press)—Efforts of the Department of Agriculture to improve the varieties of fruits and vegetables grown in Canada are meeting with considerable encouragement, officials of the department state. While special consideration is being paid by the Horticultural division of the Experimental Farm System to the cultivation of the apple as the most exportable fruit, much attention is devoted to plums and other fruits.

There is a great part of Canada where the European or domestic plum do not succeed, whereas the native plum is found in very cold districts. The Horticultural division is striving to find improved forms of the native species, and some excellent early types have been developed at the central and other farms. Breeding new types, not only of plums, but of strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries and grapes is one of the important lines of work undertaken, and it has been found that the "Portia," originated in the division, is one of the best canning, most productive and handsome of strawberries.

OSHAWA LOST TO GREY BIRDS

Oshawa lost to the Grey Birds in the third contest in that town in a week, the other two being the two famous 13-innings contests to decide the winner of the first C.O.L. series.

Oshawa got their two in the second stanza with three hits off Ouellette. The other frames showed duck eggs. The Greybirds collected 4 1/2 safeties off Fates while the Oshawa men only hit four safe singles. There were three or four fumbles counted against each team.

NOT QUITTING FOR BURNABY

Hon. W. L. M. King Opens Ontario Tour at Aylmer—Brampton Today

TELLS LIBERALS HOPES Deprecated Movements Which Set Class Against Class Group Against Group

AURORA, July 28.—Addressing voters of North York who attended the annual gathering of the Liberal Club of the riding here yesterday, Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, told them that he did not propose to quit the contest in the riding simply because Mr. R. W. E. Burnaby, President of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, happened to be in the field.

He made the declaration at the close of his address in touching upon the result of a three-cornered contest which he had reminded his audience might result in the return of the candidate of the Meighen Government if the forces of Liberalism and Progress were divided. Hon. Mr. King remarked that he had been nominated to contest the seat before the formation of the U.F.O., and stated that he was prepared to leave it to his opponents and those of Mr. Burnaby as to who had prior claim to the nomination.

Won't Leave Contest. "But I do not propose to leave the contest now simply because as is in the field," declared the Liberal leader.

Hon. Mr. King assured the gathering that he spoke only for the traditions of the Liberal party on all occasions when he told them that the great agricultural interests of the country would be taken care of. He added the Liberal party proposed to do its duty by industry, trade and commerce, Labor and Capital, and depreciated movements which set class against class and group against group, pointing out that progress would be made only by men and women of all classes and creeds working for the common good. It was the opening address of Mr. King in a series of meetings to be held in Ontario. He speaks in Brampton tonight.

WISCONSIN FARMERS SEND FOR RAINMAKER

Willing to Pay $3,000 an Inch to Hatfield if He'll Come Back to States

NEW YORK, July 28.—Edward C. Fomeroy, president of the Wisconsin Society of Equity, has telegraphed F. H. Hatfield, of Lethbridge, Alberta, to "make it rain in Wisconsin and we will pay $3,000 an inch for the use of your rain maker," says a special to the New York Times today. The society represents 3,500 Wisconsin farmers.

The Times correspondent states that Hatfield has successfully "made rain" in three counties in Washington State and that he has been paid $5,000 by Medicine Hat farmers for 4 1/2 inches of rain that has fallen since he arrived there.

WIRELESS CHAIN AT HEAVY COST

Hinted that Dominion Premiers Have Approved It—Cost Two Million Pounds

LONDON, July 28.—There seems to be some authority for stating that the Empire Premiers' Conference has approved of plans for an Imperial wireless chain at a total cost to the British Government of two million pounds. Matters down for discussion at the Premiers' Conference are understood to be nearly cleaned up, and it is thought the agenda of business will likely be concluded this week.

FROM BUFFALO TO LAKEFIELD

Americans Travel That Distance in a 14 1/2 Foot Dingy. LAKEFIELD—Messrs. Brown and Chisholm of Buffalo (the former an ex-"Grove" boy) made the trip from Buffalo to Lakefield, in a fourteen and a half foot dingy of their own manufacture. After camping a few days near the village they proceeded through the Kawartha Lakes to Bobcaygeon, returning again to Lakefield, which they claim is the best place of all. This trip, which was quite a remarkable one, was very pleasant, and they were highly delighted with their holiday.

LET THE POLICE DO IT

TWICE within the past two days people assisting victims of accidents have excitedly chased about the city hunting for doctors, to treat these emergency cases, but omitting, or forgetting, or not knowing enough first to telephone the police station.

Had they done so a doctor would have been notified and an ambulance would have been sent with all speed to the injured man.

In rare cases where a doctor could not be found at once, an officer from police headquarters would be sent with the ambulance, and first aid treatment given.

BY THE SEA SEA WAVES

MYSTERY ships of the Atlantic coast are at last being identified by press sleuths of New York and other pirate headquarters.

An Associated Press despatch from Philadelphia, tells of a small British schooner coming into Atlantic City "without her cargo of 1,000 cases of intoxicating liquors."

It is a sad climb down, from tales of the fearsome Bolshevik of the Atlantic to common bootleggers of the three-mile limit.

In the meanwhile, what has become of twenty or so missing freight steamers, that featured in the news when the mystery of strange ships at sea first thrilled the special correspondents of New York?

Coming closer home, however, how many Canadians would like to have their "prestige" as individuals subjected to the acid test which a continuous film of their daily lives would constitute?

RAILWAY WAGES

EMPLOYEES of the Canadian National and Grand Trunk Railways in arguing for the submission of the wage reductions to arbitration, urge as one of their principal reasons that the proposals for a cut in wages were based upon the findings of the United States Railway Labor Board and that the conditions here are not the same, so the question should not be settled until after a survey of Canadian conditions. This argument loses a good deal of any strength it might have had by reason of the fact that the increases paid Canadian railway men were based upon the wage awards made upon the American lines, the contention at that time being that the conditions on both sides of the border being similar, it was not fair to ask Canadian employees to accept less than railway men in the United States.

It is pointed out that exploitation of oil fields in Canada is confined to British registered companies, but it is worth noting that the most active company in Canada, in regard to imports and prospecting work, is the Imperial Oil Ltd., which is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, U.S.A.

In regard to British policy the memorandum says that while it is hoped that British interests will take an increasing share in the development of the world's oil resources, any suggestion that British domination is intended or possible is entirely unfounded.

It has been frequently alleged that Great Britain has secured control of half the petroleum deposits of the world, but statements of this kind are based on entirely inadequate data and are mere conjectures.

A QUESTION OF MOVIES AND PRESTIGE

IN every clime the position of the movie censor is one of peculiar difficulty. The human mind reacts to suggestion in such diverse and subtle ways that he would indeed be a keen psychologist who could rightly estimate the effect of all that passes before him on the screen.

The difficulty they find is this: The films, or 90 per cent. of them, portray characters who are white. These characters include villains of the male sex and vampires of the female.

The war hit the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club hard. It put an end to cup racing. G. Herrick Dugan, donor of this new trophy and designer of most of the cup boats, lost two sons in the struggle.

The war took many members of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, and gave few back; and these few have not had the experience with "B" class boats the challengers have had.

UNDERSTAND THE PEOPLES

TO understand the Irish question, says the Winnipeg Free Press, you have to understand the English and Irish peoples, and perhaps the Scottish and Welsh, although in the mass the latter pair do not figure much in the controversy.

One of the prettiest summer spots in the Ottawa district is McGregor Lake, eleven miles from Ottawa as the crow flies in the province of Quebec.—News Item.

It was Raymond Hitchcock who managed to get lost on a country road, and asked a native whom he encountered how far it was to the next town. "Bout four miles as the crow flies," answered the rustic citizen. "Just my luck," commented the comedian sadly. "I haven't got a crow with me."

men walk the streets without molestation. A scene of fighting and hate and passion is converted overnight into one of comparative peace and security.

It's a queer picture. But, as said before, all you have to do to settle the Irish situation is to understand the English and Irish peoples.

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND

THE British view of the rights of the landowner, as expressed in the housing and town planning act of 1919, was that no man had the right to withhold land from use in perpetuity and that the only right that he could establish was the right to use it.

NO APOLOGIES NEEDED

International races, contests, wagers, between Canadians and Americans continue to be held and rightfully so. And the Americans in the majority of cases defeat us.

Anyhow the Yankees won. How did it come about? As Mr. Worrell Clarkson, the Minnesota judge, said very gracefully: "Your boys were busy settling this German trouble for a long while, when our boys were busy designing, sailing and perfecting these 'B' boats."

The war hit the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club hard. It put an end to cup racing. G. Herrick Dugan, donor of this new trophy and designer of most of the cup boats, lost two sons in the struggle.

EMPTY WORDS, NOTHING MORE

The press of the United States as well as Europe comments upon the circumstance that the declaration that a state of war no longer exists between this country and Germany has been received without any show of enthusiasm, or indeed any feeling whatever.

THE MENACE OF THE HOUSING SHORTAGE

We are in danger at this moment of throwing away the whole of the work done in the thirty years before the war to raise the standard of life and housing. The irony of it is that vast numbers returned from the war with new ideas of cleanliness and decency.

GOOD FOR THE PUBLIC

One of Chicago's convicted gun ladies remarked to the judge who sentenced her that imprisonment would not do her any good. But maybe it will do the public good.—Chicago News.

COMMERCIALIZED SPORT

At bottom it would appear that the baseball scandal has been brought about because both owners and players think a good deal more about money than they do about sport or the honor of the game.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

IN SPITE OF PROHIBITION

The fact that Professor Stephen Leacock is building another house in Orillia, and building bigger and better, is one more expression of the sentiment, "Once an Orillian always an Orillian." Professor Leacock intends to stay.—Orillia Packet.

HE WOULD BE WELCOMED

Lord Northcliffe is probably making a bad guess if he is seeking to convey the impression that Lloyd George would not be acceptable to the people of the United States as Great Britain's representative at the proposed conference. It is probable that few men in the public life of England today have more favorably impressed the great bulk of the people of the United States than has the same Lloyd George.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

AS EACH NATION SEES IT

A SPIRITUAL BAROMETER

Whatever statistics may appear to prove, bank little on the spirituality of a church whose congregation shrinks grievously in hot weather. Hot-weather attendance is pretty nearly as reliable a gauge as attendance at the week-night prayer meeting.—Orillia Packet.

APPEAL TO MURDEROUS LADIES

Mrs. Kaber was found guilty of murder and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Really, ladies, you have carried this thing far enough! We don't like to be unpleasant, but it's very annoying to be assassinated with such frequency. We hope you will moderate your tempers.—Chicago News.

A GOOD SIGN

There is one feature to Canada's trade returns for June. While the reduction of $125,000,000 as compared with a year ago is unwelcome, it is encouraging to note that the reduction in imports was $77,000,000, and in exports only $48,000,000. Canada sent out more than she brought in during June.—Toronto Star.

RACETRACK GAMBLING DOOMED

The publication of the astounding figures in regard to race-track gambling in Ontario will serve to strengthen the agitation for its abolition. It may flourish during the life of the present federal parliament, but there is not the least probability that it will survive the next. It is hardly possible for the imagination to compass the tragic results represented in the wagering of $13,000,000.—Brantford Expositor.

GETTING OLD-FASHIONED

When the police matron declares that women are "far more moral, and finer in every sense, than men," she is probably generalizing from a state of things that is now rapidly passing out of existence. The segregation of women, their separation in large measure from the occupations and sports of men, the higher standards imposed upon them, may account for the greater morality and the finer sensibility, but these are features of an obsolete period.—Philadelphia Record.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

As we elaborate life the chances of mishaps are unavoidably multiplied. The motor car has come in as a distinct factor on the side of additional risk, and yet there is no reason why undue timidity should prevail. Out of every 1,000 accidents of all classes, it has been calculated that 195 occur to people while at work, 133 happen in and around the home, and 134 are met with on the street. Men and women are hurt while getting on or off street cars, while going up or down stairs, while playing and so on. In fact, danger in some degree lurks everywhere.

The truth is that automobile accidents are on the decrease in proportion to the opportunities created by rapidly increasing traffic. Drivers are growing more skillful and the tendency to run at high speed is diminishing. The situation would be entirely satisfactory if the small percentage of reckless drivers were brought under control. They are really cowards at heart; for the man who gratifies a selfish instinct at the cost of other people's safety is the most afraid of cowards. As that reproach would not be likely to restrain such a person, there remains the law. The penalties which may be imposed ought to be effective; but, despite much of speeding, they are seldom tried. The speeder goes scathless, and the danger he creates persists.

LONDON LIKES CANADIAN BEEF

Smithfield Market Buyers Eagerly Bought Big Trial Shipment

PAID GOOD FIGURE Bought More Than Argentine Chilled or British Frozen Variety

LONDON, July 28.—The first shipment of one thousand quarters of Canadian chilled beef arrived at the Smithfield Market, London, at 4 o'clock this morning and the whole consignment was sold by 10 o'clock. The quality was excellent, the Montreal Star learns from Parker and Fraser, who are handling the consignment for Harris Abattoir account.

The prices obtained were slightly above those for Argentine chilled beef and midway between that paid for English frozen and English fresh chilled beef.

British dealers predict a profitable trade in Canadian chilled beef to offset the effect of the new United States tariff against Canadian live cattle. The dealers, however, deplore the lack of transportation facilities which obliges them to ship to Liverpool and thus subject the beef to the deterioration of the two hundred mile railway journey to London.

SECURED MARBLE DEPOSIT Texture and Quality the Very Best For Monumental Purposes.

Kingston—Messrs. P. J. Kane and T. A. Baird, Perth, have secured a valuable deposit of blue marble in the township of Clarendon, county of Frontenac, which equals in texture and quality anything produced in the market for interior or monumental purposes. An expert quarry miner is now in charge.

BLOOD POISONING FATAL Inflammation Followed by Pneumonia Cause of Death.

Watertown—Mrs. Emaline Frances Morse Matzenbach, wife of Benjamin Matzenbach, passed away at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Morse, following a brief illness due to blood poisoning and pneumonia, aged twenty-one years. A small boil appeared on her cheek and it is believed that she irritated it with her finger nails. The boil became inflamed and her cheek was swollen, the infection gradually extending across her face. Later the infection extended and pneumonia developed, as is often the case in such streptococcal infection. She was ill with pneumonia only twenty-four hours when she passed away. Erysipelas contributed also to the condition.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT

NEW YORK, July 27.—The marriage by contract of Dr. Leslie Spier, professor of anthropology at Seattle University, who is now teaching at the Columbia University summer school, to Miss Erna Gunther, of Brooklyn, was announced today. The acknowledgment of their signatures to a marriage contract before Justice McCook constituted the ceremony. Such marriages are legal under a New York statute, but infrequent.

A NEAR ACCIDENT

Young Lady Did Not Notice Bridge Swung—Warned in Time.

Kingston—Miss Florence Johnson, of Brewer's Mills, had a very narrow escape from driving into the locks, she not realizing that the bridge was swung for lockage. Fortunately the lock master saw her in time and was able to give warning, thereby averting a nasty accident. This should be a warning to all motorists to keep a sharp look-out while crossing swing bridges.

Smart Sport Clothes at Ranelagh

LONDON, July 28.—Ranelagh, that most exclusive of London country clubs, never looked more attractive than the day after the big cricket match. Members are devoted to tennis and smogst, and the sports clothes worn by the women are very interesting, inasmuch as they are very varied and are representative of what is being worn by the smartest of women in England.

For tennis most women wore cream serge accordeon pleated skirts, with white woollen sweaters, made similar to a man's sports jersey. They just pulled down over the head, and carried elbow length sleeves cut very loose. Many of these sweaters had colored borders, usually the club colors. With these costumes were worn soft, pliable white felt hats, with a narrow white band.

The croquet players favored ermine or chintz dresses in very vivid colors. These were mostly made on the long straight lines, with a belt of the same material. The hats worn were of the same material, made large and floppy. During the intervals between the games many women carried parasols, many in crestone to match the frocks, others in black with large painted birds. The prevailing note of color was amber, many women choosing a costume composed entirely of this shade.

Organic frocks with hats to match, are gaining considerable popularity here this season, and both at Ranelagh and Henley Regatta many of these frocks were to be seen. Yellow and white seem to be a favorite color combination, one interesting costume being of white organdie, with scalloped oysterlike piped with yellow. The long waist was pulled with a wide sash of the yellow organdie. With this was worn a large white organdie hat, of the picture variety, with a stiff yellow bow in front.

Regarding the shoes worn by women tennis players this season, the old-time buckskin shoe with rubber sole has been replaced by a white canvas pinnel. Many players state they find this shoe far more comfortable. Very few women are wearing white silk stockings, the majority preferring a white hosiery stocking, usually with ribbed effect.

WOMEN TO HAVE FRANCHISE

OTTAWA, July 28.—In the next Federal general election women throughout all the provinces will be entitled to vote on the same basis or qualifications as men, and in the administration of oaths persons who object to kissing the Book do not need to do so.

In 1917 a limited number of women were permitted to vote. Since 1917 elections have been held in all the provinces, and except in the Province of Quebec women voted on an equality with men. They also voted on the Scott Act, or other temperance enactments. These processes have familiarized the women in the exercise of the franchise. They now are alert as to how to deposit their ballot. A considerable number did not desire, and some do not yet desire, to present themselves because of the solemnity that surrounds the taking of an oath. They appear to feel that on the rush of election day the solemnity is belittled. This is only a fear, and besides not many are asked to swear or affirm. The formalities through which an oath is administered are in accordance with the procedure in each province in this regard, and the "Kissing of the Book" is almost in the dead past. This is pointed out in a resume of some features of the amendments act by Alexander Smith, a well known authority on political law, who says that the Canada Evidence Act and the Elections Act also provides that persons anywhere in Canada who have conscientious grounds to be sworn may affirm, so many persons who object to the "Kissing of the Book" may affirm instead of swear, but the affirmation is subject to all legal effect of an oath.

In Ontario the law as amended in 1916 distinctly provides that "The Book" is to be held in the hand only when the oath is administered.

SPAIN GIVES TYPES IN FALL HATS

The influence of Spain has become very marked where early fall millinery is concerned, many of the imported hats showing this tendency in the roll of a brim or in the large Spanish combs that are used as trimming or perhaps in the hanging fringe that drops off the slanting brims.

For the making of sports hats an embossed Spanish leather is being imported. The marking in the leather is of small and indefinite pattern and in the same color as the leather itself.

More and more of the colored Spanish combs are being shown and, although a number of these are in the imitation tortoise shell, it is in the brilliant colors, such as the jade and rose tones, and the soft hyacinth blue, that they are employed for the most part, probably for the reason that the bright color distinguishes the pin as an ornament rather than as a hair dress.

The Spanish influence is shown, too, elsewhere, in the floating panels, which are versatile and graceful enough to fall in sweeping arrangement or become bloused at the wearer's will; in wraps which are wide enough to hang straight or draped about the form in tapering ankle-line fashion, and others which are essentially capes, or circular lines, or shawls of Spanish nature.

The newest silk Spanish shawls omit the usual rich embroideries, replacing them with hand-painted designs in Egyptian coloring and patterns.

Every now and then one finds metallic brocades, but these are being veiled with chiffon or georgette, and it is the latter which receives the fur trimmings generally.

Black duvetyne, it is anticipated, will be the thing for the first fall hat, though little is done with the colored fabric. Black felt, too, is mentioned favorably.

High trimmings are to be the thing, and there is much of the peacock and the ostrich and even coo used in this way, much on the order of a military pompon posed at the top of a high rolled front cuff shape and dropped low over the face.

The soft hat, say those who know, will be dropped this season in favor of the shape with more definite lines.

Of course the soft hat will continue to have its place for certain types of sports hats, and for the smartly embroidered novelty tams, but for the dress hat there must be distinctness of line.

All the leading French modistes have worked along the line of the clear-cut brim, and even the crowns show the result of this, for there is not nearly as much of the draping as has been evidenced in the past seasons.

That the season will see the end of the vogue for the simple and strictly tailored grey suits, now seen everywhere in Paris, is the forecast made by Mme. Charlotte, of the Maison Premier. "We may expect," she says, "the vogue of the embroidered suits and fancy materials, a great variety of which fabric manufacturers have prepared for the coming season."

"I also believe," she says, "that there will be a strong tendency toward the use of colors; skirts will be a little longer still, especially for evening wear, and I am sure that irregular effects in the length of skirts will still have some success."

"I do not see any success for high collars, and think that décolletés will be pointed or round, but the vogue for the "bateau" neckline is practically finished."

"We will see a lot of fringes, in jet especially, as the Parisian woman likes their light effect, even if it is not a very new feature."

At the Maison Drecoll also longer skirts are favored, and somewhat wider, to give room for free and graceful movement. As to sleeves, the Maison Drecoll has already predicted them as larger.

CUT IN WAGES TO EQUAL C.O.I.

John B. Carswell Spokesman for Builders of Toronto, Who Take Action

TORONTO, July 27.—Wage reductions "consistent with reduction in the cost of living" were made yesterday by general contractors of the Builders' Exchange and Construction Industries.

A general wage reduction was decided upon at a meeting of the contractors, who compose the principal section of the exchange, upon the refusal of the building trades union to voluntarily make a reduction of 10c an hour on present wage rates.

Mr. John B. Carswell, of the Carswell Construction Company, made the announcement on behalf of contractors. He stated contractors desired to have their action known so that the public would understand they had not accepted the decision of the building trades unions as final.

"Following the meeting in the Exchange, contractors held a meeting at which they agreed upon reduced rates," said Mr. Carswell. "As you know, the general contractors compose the large section of the exchange," he added. "These wage reductions go into effect immediately. What they are I will not state, is generally recognized as the reduction in the cost of living."

CREAR IN FRONTENAC!

Farmers Say he is Only Man Who Could Beat Edwards

KINGSTON, Ont., July 28.—It is learned from leading members of the Frontenac U.F.O. that there is a strong possibility of the Hon. T. A. Crear being asked to run for the riding of Frontenac in the next Federal election. Farmers consider that a man like Mr. Crear, who might be the next Premier of Canada, is the only man who could defeat Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P., in this old rural constituency.

ST. ANDREWS', N. B. ENJOYS OPEN FIRES IN EVENING

While Upper Canada Still Sweeters They Can Sleep O' Nights on the Coast

ALGONQUIN HOTEL, N.B., July 27.—Who could resist a dip in the briny deep when the water was 75 above? Katy's Cove was like one vast swimming pool, its water so sun-warmed that the bather might stay in for hours without no ill effects. No place in town was more popular. After the strenuous morning on the links the golfers appreciated the bracing influence of the sea water. This afternoon there has been a stiff southwest breeze, all the yachts are cruising around Passamaquoddy Bay.

Reports show that the cities still suffer from the excessive heat. Even though St. Andrews' is supposed to be having its warmest weather the thermometer will show only seventy-four at its highest. The nights are cool. One may even enjoy open fires. Here there is no difficulty in sleeping, for the salt laden breezes are a perfect soporific.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL GO TO COUNTRY ON IRISH PROPOSALS

Has Formed Definite Plan Which Valera is Now Considering With Colleagues—Lord Birkenhead Asks for Pledge by Country

The British Government, it was stated in the House of Commons by Lord Birkenhead, has formulated a definite policy on Ireland. This plan has been submitted to de Valera and the Government is prepared to fight a general election on it.

LONDON, July 28.—Speculations and predictions regarding the Irish situation have taken many peculiar turns as the result of developments featuring the negotiations during the past twenty-four hours.

Of these developments, perhaps the most talked of is the speech made in the House of Lords yesterday by Lord Birkenhead, Lord High Chancellor, in which he invited Parliament and country to have patience with the trouble Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader and his colleagues, may be having in Dublin to reach a decision on the British proposals.

Protests Delay The Marquis of Salisbury, inviting the Government to make a statement on the subject, complained of the indefinite delay, and protested that Unionist acquiescence in the delay may be interpreted as approval of the negotiations.

"The truth is," he declared, "we feel great shame and humiliation, and we are only awaiting a Government statement to make our position clear."

Birkenhead Explains "Some days ago," said Lord Birkenhead, in reply to Lord Salisbury, "I received proposals from representatives of Southern Ireland which it was hoped might serve as a basis of reconciliation and peace. If these terms are accepted it will, of course, be necessary to embody these in the form of an act of Parliament, and both Houses will discuss them in that form."

Then turning on Lord Salisbury, the Lord Chancellor declared "I do not know whom Lord Salisbury stands for, but so far as my Unionist colleagues are concerned we have a conscience clear of any shame in the matter."

Challenge Critics If the proposals of the Government were accepted, he continued, and the Government recommended them for the adoption of both Houses, they would not only welcome but would challenge the criticism.

He could not understand why Lord Salisbury should grudge the days that were required for an attempt at conciliation, days which were happily free from those outrages which had alarmed and distressed the whole country.

If He Did He Would Thus Recognize Right of London to Jail Them

Transfer of Prisoners Back to Erin Finds Them Cheering for 'Rebels'

LONDON, July 28.—It has been stated frequently that the British Government was willing to release thirty-six members of the Dail Eireann who are in prison or in internment camps if de Valera will but make the request.

If it is said on the other hand, however, that the Sinn Fein leaders are reluctant to ask for the liberation of their comrades, it is clear that they recognize Great Britain's right to imprison representatives of the Irish Republic.

How this difficulty, if it exists at all, will be circumvented is not apparent at the moment, but the view is taken that certainly before very long the Dail Eireann M.P.'s will be released to participate in the Irish Parliament's meeting, which it is believed in many quarters already has been arranged for.

137 CHEER FOR REBELS

LONDON, July 28.—H.M.S. Valiant reached Plymouth this afternoon with 137 Sinn Fein prisoners from Portlarn. They were from all parts of Ireland, and had been serving various sentences. About 45 armed warblers were in charge of the party, whose members were handcuffed in pairs. The prisoners were transferred in boats to the railway docks.

On reaching shore they started singing, and raised cheers "for the Irish Republic and the Irish rebels," continuing this demonstration until they were conducted to a special train for conveyance to the prison at Princetown. This is the second contingent of Sinn Feiners sent to Princetown.

PORT HOPE VANQUISHED 10-4; HEAVY HITTING FEATURED GAME; TWO HOMERS AND FOUR TRIPLES

Terrific hitting rallies combined with errors and clever fielding featured the game yesterday between Port Hope and the locals. The score was 10 to 4.

Two homers run, one by Harry Mills for Belleville, and one by Moise for Port Hope, brought the crowd to their feet, and sensational fielding by Chalk in centre field for the enemy brought well deserved applause. Weir, however, made the last play of the game, with a long run backwards, catching in one hand a fly from the willow in the hands of Hills, the Port Hoper's scrappy first baseman, and the game was on ice.

Weir just about needed a play like that to bring his record in the game to something one could talk about without seeing red, for he fanned no less than four times—every time he came up in fact.

There were several raw decisions and Jack Fahey, the umpire on base, was responsible for a couple of them, one at second when he called Meagher safe when Allen was out by six feet and again at third when Peeney Mills, who had started for home, ran back and pushed the third base man off the bag, whether intentionally or not.

Umpire Wilson was generally correct and prompt in his decisions, although Mills and he had one argument. None of these, however, really affected the outcome of the game and were just things that shouldn't have happened.

There were also a couple of bone head plays by the locals. Peeney Mills laid down a nice hit, and on his own tried to make second, but he was nabbed.

Again Ross tripped to right and was caught trying to stretch it out for a homer. Apparently, whoever was looking after him at third forgot his signals, for Ross hadn't a chance. It was bone-head work to let him get past third.

Port Hope is an entirely different team from the one that played here a few weeks ago and handle the dice like veterans. That man Deer packs along a lot of speed, which he sandwiches in with the odd bender to good effect. Just cast the eye over the local stalwarts who fanned, and see for yourself.

The two Chalks play a fine game and they certainly both can hit. Moise also is a bear with the hickory.

The game was not as free from fumbling and errors of judgment as it might have been and the locals appeared to be still a little off color, although they hit terrifically at times and played hard, but it was patchy, only very good in spots. But it must be remembered that they haven't had a game for several weeks.

For the first four frames, with the score one to nothing in favor of Port Hope and nothing doing in the way of a counter for the Trunks, some people had the beginnings of a case of wind up. But once the locals managed to get the lie of the land—once they began to land on Mr. Deer's slants, it was a foregone conclusion that they would win by a good margin.

Kellher pitched a good brand of ball all the way through and deserves a lot of credit for the game. He held the first ball batted out and got himself out of two or three nasty corners by steady work.

THE GAME BY INNINGS First Innings Port Hope—Rowden grounded to Kellher. Hills struck by pitched ball. F. Chalk flew to first. Moise singled over short. R. Chalk hit to home. F. Chalk flew to Ross—1 run, 1 hit, 1 error.

Deer—Weir fanned—0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors. Belleville—W. Mills singled to left field. Frank Goyer doubled to right. Smith had three strikes on him, but Ware dropped the ball. Casey singled to left scoring W. Mills. On Ware's overthrow to third Goyer and Smith scored. H. Mills tripled to centre scoring Casey. Kellher popped to first. Ross flew to left. Weir—who ran for Mills scoring. Meagher flew to short—5 runs, 4 hits, 2 errors.

Ninth Innings Port Hope—R. Hills in place of Deer struck out. Rowden hit by pitcher, out stealing second. Hills flew to Weir who made a running single hand catch—0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Summary Home Runs—Harry Mills, Moise. Three Base Hits—Belleville 2; Port Hope 2. Two base hits—Belleville, 1; Base hits—Belleville 5; Port Hope, 2. Struck Out—By Kellher, 6; by Deer, 9. Hit batsman—Kellher, 2; Deer, 1. Bases on Balls—Deer 2.

Score by Innings: Belleville .0 0 0 2 3 0 5 x-10. Port Hope .1 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 4. Umpires—Wilson, Oshawa, Fahey, Belleville, Bases.

It was the first league game Belleville has won without Freddy Goyer. He was there and warmed up, but his distinguished services were not needed. Kellher wavered in the first innings but after that was steady as a rock. He and Cap Smith were of good service to the team.

Soup Goyer was planted firmly on second and handled that corner well. His "bad day" against Petegorbo is forgiven.

It would be unfair and unjust to suggest that Umpire Fahey didn't do his best to be impartial but he made serious errors of judgment. It's another argument for the out-of-town umpire.

The crowd was not as large as it should have been but there were many counter attractions—mainly aquatic, and that took part of the crowd away.

The fielding was, on the whole, remarkably good and anybody knows that the outfield is full of shell-holes "n everything. That fellow Chalk had to reach about 19 feet to get Meagher's long fly, but he nailed it.

Deer always turns up smiling and takes his medicines like a little man.

KINGSTON TO HAVE NEW RINK

Kingston is going to have a new hockey rink this winter, to be known as "The Jack Hartly Rink." This, in brief, is the welcome announcement made by the Athletic Board of Control of Queen's University.

The proposed rink is to be a building 140 feet by 270 feet, with an elevation over all of 7 feet. The ice surface will be 20 feet by 200 feet, or practically the same as that of the Toronto Arena. The ice area of the present rink is about 60 feet by 175 feet, so that the new rink, as will be seen, will be materially longer than the present one. The building will be of steel and reinforced concrete, with a rough cast exterior. In planning the structure special care was taken to make certain that every seat should have a clear view of the ice surface at all angles. Thus 3,500 spectators may see hockey matches without crowding and without losing sight of the play, access to these seats will be by aisles from
