Various Compromise Suggestions Made About Salaries.

But the Commissioners Finally Agreed to Disagree.

"I'm through" said Judge Hardy, Chairman of the Police Board, in disgust, this afternoon, at another meeting to fix things up. .The police will get no increase this year either in pay or in number." The session thereupon broke up. It was a real hot affair. Read the full story in The Courier to-morrow.

Federal Act.

The Expositor last night; with characteristic effrontery, published à report that, so far as a proposed temperance vote in this city and Paris was concerned, there was nothing doing. The Courier's exclusive story of Monday was widely read, and the Expositor endeavored, as usual, to do the crawl act when it missed the news. The story was to the effect that a campaign was under consideration in Brantford, and Rev. Ben H. Spence was quoted to that effect. It also stated that the submission of the Canada Temperance Act, which straight majority vote might be taken. It was further stated that the anti forces had learned that there was a possibility of a campaign, when either local option or Scott Act would be voted upon, although no definite decision had as yet been ar-

That it is possible to have a straight majority vote in the city of Brantford was the information received by the Courier from Rev. Ben H. Spence to-day over the wire. Mr. Spence

"The unit for Canada Temperance Act is county or city. If Act is carried in Brant it would include in its operation all municipalities within county bounds except Brantford. The new Canada Temperance Act is radically different from the old Scott Act The penalties are more severe and the provisions for enforcement immensely better. The law is working well in eleven counties and cities out of seventeen in New Brunswick, also in a

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The cheers were all for Bryan at the inauguration of President Wilson. Why not; he was the man who mansuccess. It isn't always the man who wins a public position who deserves the credit.

If there is an early election, the Conservatives will win again as sure as anything. Among others, for the following three reasons:

1-- The Liberal party is still clinging to that fool device-Reciprocity. 2-They are in wrong on the naval question.

3-The average man desires to swat any party which precipitates a general election without cause. XXX

In the Old Land it is announced that men from the ranks, on show of merit, will in future have a chance to rise to the highest positions in both trable to, the president but with the army and navy. DEALING WITH A THIEF.

It Was an Unusual Method, but It

Proved Effective. Governor Thomas Chittenden of Ver-nont is remembered for his great kindess of heart as well as for his ability and force of character. He was the first governor of the state and lived in the liberal manner that befitted his office. His cellar, as was the custom of those days, was well stocked every fall with provisions.

One winter night the governor's rest was broken by sounds coming from his cellar. He left his bed quietly and, with a candle ready to light, made his way in the direction of the noise. As he reached the cellar he struck a light and saw a man taking great pieces of pork out of his meat barrel and stowing them away in a bag.

The governor approached the introder and in a commanding voice said: "Go on, sir! Fill up that bag and be off. You ought to be asbamed of your self to disturb honest people at this time of night!"

The thief shrank back, evidently much frightened. "Be quick!" continued the governor "It is no fit time to keep me shivering that the man was compelled to obey. "Now, begone!" went on Governo Chittenden. "When you are again in need of food come to me and say so. and I will give you more. Do not pfllage my house at night. If I ever have the smallest reason to suspect you of another such act you shall be punished for this offense as the law provides." It is pleasant to know that the man came to the governor the next day to ask for employment, in order that he might pay for what he had taken, and that work was found for him, which be performed steadily and well.-

Youth's Companion.

The Only Judicially Accepted Ghos

Stromboli, the island volcano, knows as the lighthouse of the Mediterranean which is in violent eruption, once fig ured in a court of law in connection with one of the most circumstantia. ghost stories on record. In 1688 a Mrs Booty brought an action of slander against a certain Captain Barnaby for saying that he had seen old Booty running into the flames of hell, pursued by the devil.

The words were admitted, but for the defense it was proved that May 15 1687, the day of old Booty's death, the captain, with a large party of friends went ashore at Stromboli to shoot rab bits. At about 3:30 in the afternoon two men were seen running toward the volcano. Captain Barnaby exclaimed "Lord bless me, the foremost is old Booty, my next door neighbor!" They then vanished in the flames, a fact of which every one took note.

In addition to the testimony of Cap tain Barnaby and his friends, old Boo ty's clothes were brought into court and identified by several witnesses as being similar to those worn by the fore most man who ran into the crater. The judge, Chief Justice Sir Robert Wright, was so impressed by this evi dence that he said: "Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three may be mistaken, but not thirty." Mrs. Booty lost the day, and the case still remains the only judicially ac cepted ghost story on record.-London

Family Complications.

Many ingenious complications in genealogy have been compiled, but the following one has the merit of being definite as to time, place and people. It concerns a family living at Faversham. in Kent, in February, 1760. Old Hawood had two daughters by his first wife, of whom the elder was married to John Cashick, the son, and the younger to John Cashick, the father. Cashick senior had a daughter by his first wife. This daughter old Hawood married and by her had a son, which led to the complication summed up in the following distich, supposed to be spoken by Cashick's second wife: My father is my son, and I am my moth-

Paternal Germany. A government, says a writer in the Twentieth Century Magazine, which tells you how to carry your umbrella. which forbids ladies who wear long hatpins to enter railway trains, which fines you if you throw cigar stubs or papers on the street, which does not permit your children to make a noise so that others are disturbed-such a government does restrict individual liberty, but just as certainly it enlarges the common liberties and pleasure of everybody. The government thus eulogized is that of Germany, which the writer quoted prefers to our "go-as-

INJURED FOOT CURED.

"I speak for Zam.Buk because it cured me of a terribly bad foot," says Mrs. Alice Berryman of 190 John St. North, Hamilton. She adds: "The injury was caused by a wagon wheel, and the sore was on my right foot. It became very inflamed and swollen and so painful that I fainted away. In spite of treatment, the wound got no better and the foot became more and more swollen until it was several times its usual size. The flesh was terribly bruised and blackened and it was quite impossible for me te walk. My husband's mother at last brought me a box of Zam-Buk. This was applied to the foot and it was surprising how soon I found relief from the severe pain. A further supply of Zam-Buk was obtained and I persevered in using this balm alone. In a couple of days the swelling had gone down considerably, the discoloration was less distinct and the pain was banished. In four days I could go about as usual: the bruised and injured foot had been thoroughly cured by the timely use of Zamghly cured by the timely use of Zam-

Zam-Buk is actually more powerfully antiseptic than crude carbolic acid. Yet it stops instead of causing pain and smarting when put on a

It heals more quickly than any known substance, abscesses, ulcers, eczema, blood-poisoning, cuts, scalp sores, chaps and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send le stamp for trial box.

Mrs. Frank St. Denis of 305 Thompson St., Winnipeg, speaks for Zam-Buk because it cured her of a poisoned finger, which had caused her days of agony. Hear her experience. She says:

"One morning, while washing, I felt a slight pain in the end of my finger. This gradually got more acute until by the evening of the next day the end of the finger had become swollen and hard and so blue I became alarmed.

SMALLEST BEEST DE PHEY It is a True Wessel, but is Only About Six Inches Long.

The smallest carnivorous, animal in the world is an American weasel which numerous in northwest Canada and Alaska and is occasionally seen about the great lakes. It is a true weasel, but only six inches long, with a tail only one inch in length. All its upper surface is in summer pure umber brown, but the throat, abdomen and inside of the legs are pure white, and, unlike any other weasel, it has no black at the end of the tail; hence, although the animal turns white in the north in winter, it does not show the black tipped tall which characterizes an ermine pelt, and so it is not sought by trappers and fur traders. This fact, with its small size and secretive life, has made its habits very little known, but they seem to be much are not hampered by skirts and pettilike those of other weasels. It feeds on insects, which it finds alive in summer and in winter digs out of rotten logs; upon small birds, etc., but lives sort of harmony between the amplimainly on mice. It is frequently caught by naturalists in their mouse traps. An old Indian told W. H. Osgood of the biological survey, who thus captured one in south ern Alaska, that it was a promise of rare good fortune. His brother, he related, had taken one when a boy and had in consequence become a big chief. A good name for this least of the carnivores would be "mouse hunter." Fifty-one private letters of Dr. E. Barthez, physician to the prince imperial, have been translated by Bernard Miall to form "The Empress Eugenie and Her Circle." A letter from Biarritz (1856) describes the empress personally and discusses the fabulous amplitude of the dresses she wore:

"All this stuff is supported by a sort of skeleton of flexible iron. The empress is greatly attached to this cage, which to us seems very ungraceful and inconvenient. She sticks to I in spite of the quips of the emperor, to whom she simply replies that she does not know how she lived so many years without a cage.

DO FLYING FISH FLY?

Science Thinks Not, but Many Ob servers Say They Do. The much mooted question, "Do flying fish fly?" is discussed by William Allingham in the Nautical Magazine. The orthodox scientific opinion is that the "wings" of the flying fish merely serve as a parachute to sustain the fish for a brief period in the air after he has launched himself out of the water by a powerful screwlike movement of his tail. According to this view, the fish has no power of directing his flight after he has left the water.

However, Mr. Allingham, who is nautical expert attached to the British meteorological office and is in constant intercourse with seamen, reports many observations that tend to controver this opinion. Certain observers claim that the wing fins are in constant rapid vibration and seem actually to serve the purpose of dight. One vessel master watched a fish that had attained ar altitude of twenty feet above the water and was flying toward the mizzen rigging of his ship when, apparently noticing obstruction, it changed its course about 60 degrees, crossing the vessel's stern to regain the water. Many other similar observations are

The Turk in Constantinople. Terrible scenes were witnessed Constantinople when Mohammed 11, captured the city in 1453. When the conquerors entered they slaw 2,000 and made slaves of all who took refuge in the sanctuary of St. Sophia. Gibbon records the fate of the 60,000 prison ers: "Male captives were bound with cords, the females with their vells and girdles. The senators were linked with their slaves, the prelates with the porters of the church and young men of whose faces had been invisible to the sun and their nearest kindred, and in this common state of captivity the ranks of society were confounded, the ties of nature were cut asunder, and the inexorable soldier was careless of the father's groans, the tears of the mother and the lamentations of the children."

Purifying the Air In Rooms. To purify the air of offices or sickrooms soak a few pieces of brown pa-per in a solution of saltpeter and allow them to dry. When desired for use lay a handful of flowers of lavender, which can be got at any drug store, so signal in its importance. In 1847 on a tin pan with a few pieces of the Antoine, the slave gardener of Teles paper and light. The aroma is refreshing and agreeable and drives away insects. If hot water is procura-ble a few drops of oil of lavender in a glass of very het water is good. It purifies the air at once and effectually rids the room of files and insects of all kinds.—Scientific American.

Ship fouled ship amid the cries of ter ror and the erash of falling spars, and, though the Spaniards finally succeede in getting to sea, the fireship attack completely disorganized and demoral ized them and helped largely to make the eventual battle of Gravelines the success it was.

The most recent and at the same time one of the most interesting fire-ship exploits which ever took place was that carried out against the French fleet in Basque Roads in 1809 by Lord Cochrane. His explosion vessel, in-tended to destroy the boom behind which lay the French fleet, was a truly awful contrivance. Cochrane piloted the vessel and lit the train at the last moment, and on the evidence of a French captain whose ship was close by it did its work well, for the air was filled with shells, grenades and blazing debris, while the explosion tore a huge rent in the boom.-London Globe.

strongly to the modern imagination than the doings of the fireships. The idea of using incendiary vessels for the destruction of a bostile fleet was of great antiquity. They are said to have been employed at the siege of Tyre in 333 B. C. and ugain by the Rhodians about a century and a half-infer. By the English, however, they were first used in 1370, and two centuries later had come to be looked upon as a legitimate naval weapon, their at tacks being regarded and dreaded to much the same way as are those of the torpedo craft and submarines at

The explosion vessels, or "infernals," invented by the Italian engineer Giand bell! were the most formidable. "The designer procured two vessels of about eighty tons each and laid along their bottom a foundation of brickwork. Upon this he erected a marble chamthis chamber was a six foot layer of

This fact, with its small size and secretive life, has made its habits very little known, but they seem to be much like those of other weasels. It feeds on insects, which it finds alive in summer and in winter digs out of rotten logs; upon small birds, etc., but lives mainly on mice. These it can follow into their narrowest holes and runways, for it is scarcely larger than a field mouse itself, or, striking the trail of one, it will trace all its wanderings and as soon as it catches sight of its prey will spring after it with amazing and fatal rapidity.

There are the stage carpenter and the assistant stage carpenter, who build scenery; there are the property man and the assistant property man, who make and shape all kinds of things out of papier mache for properties and look after the furniture and decorations of the stage; there are the fly men, who manipulate the ropes at the top of the theater, hoisting and lowering scenery and also raising and dropping the curtain. The natural habitat of these fly men is on platforms up in the flies, many feet above the stage, and when not otherwise employed they have the disconcerting habit of audibly gossiping and playing cards. Then there are the electrician and his assistants, whose business it is to operate the lights. The humblest of the regular staff is the "grip." This man handles scenery and does general utility work about the stage. When exigency demands the force is added to from the roustabouts who usually infest the stage entrance, eking out a miserable existence through casual jobs and "sponging" upon the members of the regular staff.-Mary Shaw in London Strand Magazine.

TEGAL CURIOSLATICAL Poetle Title Deed That Stood the Test

The curio Nothing in the thrilling narratives of nany old sea fights appeals more strongly to the modern imagination than the doings of the fireships. The idea of using incendiary vessels for the destruction of a bostile flee complies with every requirement of law and has more than once been dewas of great antiquity. They are said clared by the courts of that state to be entirely valid. It reads as follows:

DO FLYING FISH FLY?

-St. Louis Republic.

Science Thinks Not, but Many Observers Say They Do.

The much mooted question, "Do flying fish fly?" is discussed by William Allingham in the Nautical Magazine. The orthodox scientific opinion is that the "wings" of the flying fish merely serve as a parachute to sustain the figh for a brief period in the air after he has launched himself out of the water by a powerful screwlike movement of his tail. According to this view, the fish has no power of directing his flight after he has left the water.

However, Mr. Allingham, who is nautical expert attached to the British meteorological office and is in constant intercourse with seamen, reports many observations that tend to controver this opinion. Certain observers claim that the wing fins are in constant rapid vibration and seem actually to serve the purpose of flight. One vessel master watched a fish that had attained an altitude of twenty feet above the water and was flying toward the mizzen rigging of his ship when, apparently noticing obstruction, it changed its course about 60 degrees, crossing the vessel's stern to regain the water. Many other similar observations are

Lady Marjorie's Love

"My good child, as the most sen- things, human or otherwise, Jack v

"My good child, as the most sensible thing you could do would be to marry him and make yourself virtually the mistress of the Holt, I have no doubt you do," Lady Marlingford returned with her former resignation. I really can't compliment you on your common sense, Marjorie—you seem to me to be curiously lacking in that respect. But your poor father was just the same, as your present most unfortunate position sufficiently, proves, I am sure. Well, it is of no use going into that; the mischief is done, and we are both reaping the fruits of it. You had better go out this morning; your headache has made you look wretchedly pale."

Marjorie mechanically left the room; the shock was still vibrating through every nerve of her body; she felt stupid, sick. The Countess, as the door closed, gave an impatient laugh, "The little fool," she ejaculated, with angry contempt. Will nothing open her eyes If Loftus Bligh did not come here yesterday deliberately meaning to break off that most ridiculous engagement, I am as blind as she is. Got Rid of Bronchitis

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives away to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta.

writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl 7 years, had bronchitis, and the
