...Show Us, Commissioner...

The project is on foot to incorporate the town of Dawson. A splendid idea, that; it sounds fine. But on second thought, what inducement is of fered the people for the change. Can we, for instance, have a voice in the affair, or are we to be placed in the position of the Britisher in the Transvaal. Are the people who pay the principal part of the taxes of this territory to be allowed a vote in the municipal affairs. We understand as the law now stands an alien, with certain property qualifications, has that right. Is it the intention of the Yukon council to change the law for the purpose of disfranchising the alien residents of this city? Commissioner, you will make a mistake if that policy is carried out. The best interests of this country can be better subserved by giving to the people more generous laws than in stultifying those which favor us.

When Father Carves the Duck. We all look on with anxious eyes When father carves the duck, And mother almost always sighs When father carves the duck. Then all of us prepare to rise And hold our hibs before our eyes And be prepared for some surprise When father carves the duck.

He braces up and grabs a fork Whene-er he carves a duck, And won't allow a soul to talk Until he's carved the duck. The fork is jabbed into the sides, Across the breast the knife he slides, And every careful person hides From flying chips of duck.

The platter always seem to slip When father carves the duck. And how it makes the dishes skip! Potatoes fly amuck, The squash and cabbage leap in space We get some gravy on our face, And father mutters Hindoo grace Whene'er he carves a duck.

We thus have learned to walk around The dining room and pluck From off the window sills and walls Our share of father's duck. While father growls and grunts and
