

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 27, 1904.

It is to be hoped that the street authorities, as well as all the citizens, will do their utmost to make our town present an attractive appearance next week.

It is understood that Principal Britain has tendered his resignation, which is now being considered by the Board of Governors.

Next week will witness the closing exercises of Acadia College and affiliated schools. The past year has been one of the most successful in the history of the institutions.

THE ACADIAN would respectfully call the attention of the street authorities to the condition of the sidewalk on Acadia street particularly that portion between Highland avenue and the college.

Although the war in the far East, or, as it lies from us, the far West, is attracting most of the public attention, there are, at the same time, several other little disagreements being settled by force of arms in various corners of the earth.

Advancement and the growth of popular freedom.

The Colonies do especially well to keep it; for during the Victorian era, they attained their present status as the mightiest, the happiest, the most prosperous free Colonies which the world has ever seen.—Star.

The Cure of Consumption.

It has been announced that the executive committee of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption has appointed a committee to take steps to secure co-operation of municipalities and of governments for the establishment of a large sanatorium in each province for the treatment of consumption.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the effect of the campaign is the awakening of the local government, of this province to its responsibility in that matter. No menace in this country is so grave as the Great White Plague, and nothing has been more conclusively proved by medical science than that the disease is actively contagious and is amenable to only one remedy: open air, sunlight, nourishing food and care.

Private beneficence can and has done much good in this direction, but as private institutions cannot be otherwise than optional, and as the proper fighting of the plague demands compulsory attendance, it must soon be evident to all governments that the provision of public institutions for the cure of consumption and the quarantining of consumptives is a work as necessary as any that now falls in their province.—St. John Star.

Acadia's Second Forward Movement.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I desire to thank you very cordially for the space so generously devoted in your excellent paper to the commendation and support of the Second Forward Movement. I desire also to acknowledge through THE ACADIAN the public-spirited and generous response that has been, and is being, made to the appeal for pledges towards the movement. Each day makes some addition, larger or smaller, to the contribution by the Wolfville community; and by the time all who are proposing to respond have done so, the aggregate sum will, I feel satisfied, make a very creditable showing for the town.

As was confidently anticipated, others than Baptists are showing a generous and practical interest in the movement. This is very much appreciated. The occasion as you have pointed out, is one that has to do with the well being of the community as a whole, and the evident growth of genuine public spirit is highly gratifying.

With the desire to make as inspiring an announcement as is possible, at the College closing next Wednesday, I should deem it a great favor if the friends would, as far as possible, send in their pledges before that day.

Very truly yours, THOS. TROTTER.

Miss Linda Higgins, of this town, is one of the fortunate winners in the contributors contest, instituted by the Woman's Magazine of St. Louis. This prize gives a free return ticket to St. Louis, a week's board at the large hotel of the journal, and a week's free entrance into the fair. The only other winner of the prize resides in Halifax. Miss Higgins will probably visit the big fair in September. We congratulate her on her success.

THE ACADIAN is credibly informed that, with the renewal of the daily service on Minas Basin of the D. A. R. steamer, Wolfville would have been a regular place of call had the government pier here been in a position to permit. It is said that the contract as signed by the company provides for this as well as a regular mail service. This being the case we trust that the work of repairing the wharf will at once be set in operation. So that we may have the regular calls of the steamer before the summer is passed.

Sudden Death at Berwick.

Mr. John D. Sommerville died very suddenly at his home in Berwick, yesterday morning. He had just returned from making a purchase at one of the stores and had gone out to work in the garden. He was but a few steps from the door when he threw up his arms and fell to the ground. Mrs. Sommerville was at his side in an instant. He seemed to recognize her but passed away without speaking. Cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of his death.

Mr. Sommerville was about sixty-three years of age. He was born in Horton, the son of the late Rev. William Sommerville. The greater part of his life had been spent in this County, where he had an excellent reputation both as a conscientious man and as a superior workman. He leaves a widow, formerly Miss Bessie Murphy, of Wolfville, three daughters and two sons, who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.—Berwick Register, May 19.

Mr. Sommerville was well known in Wolfville, where the news of his death was heard with deep sorrow. The funeral took place on Saturday, and was very largely attended.

Retiring from the Dry Goods Business.

People in Wolfville who wear clothes will be interested in reading the big special announcement of Blanchard & Co. in this issue.

Such an opportunity is but rare and many will doubtless avail themselves of a chance to purchase clothes at less than wholesale prices. There is no reserve in the advertisement—everything is sold at a reduced price no matter how new or good value.

Mr. Blanchard is eager to have the entire stock sold by September 1st, and is making reductions in prices calculated to move the stock out quickly.

Mr. Blanchard will, after getting clear of this business, devote his attention to his other business interests. In the meantime anyone who is fond of buying a dollar's worth of goods for 75 cents had better visit his store in Windsor.

She was a member of the Division of the Sons of Temperance, and had a special interest in the welfare of the younger members. Mr. Shaw is a nephew of Mrs. Jno. O. Pines of this town.

A terrible disaster occurred at St. Paul's Island, May 20th, when the steamer Turret Bay, from Sydney for Montreal, with coal, struck near the southwest light at half past eight o'clock. A heavy sea and dense fog prevailed. The steamer backed off and sank in deep water twenty minutes after she struck. Fourteen men were taken off the wreckage, with boats, but five died without reaching shore. The survivors are doing well. She mistook the fog alarm for a steamer's whistle. The disaster occurred nineteen miles north of the northern point of (Cape North) Cape Breton. There is a lighthouse on the northeast point of St. Paul's Island, and also one on the southwest, and a steam fog whistle is situated near the southwest light. It was this whistle that the Turret Bay heard. St. Paul's Island is between Cape Breton and Newfoundland, and is about 30 miles from Cape Ray, Nfld. The steamer is owned in Newcastle-on-Tyne.

Let the Foretop Alone.

How often one sees the foretop of horses clipped off. Did the one who clipped this appendage ever stop to think of the cruelty he was inflicting on his horse or how it will injure the sale of the horse when he is put upon the market. When at the international show, a horse dealer remarked as a clipped horse was led into the ring: 'Horses that are offered in the wholesale markets with foretops trimmed short, clipped and otherwise disfigured, are looked upon by buyers with disfavor, and usually sell at low prices. Foreign buyers will not purchase a horse with his foretop cut off, as they cannot handle such animals to advantage, and home dealers always discriminate against such offerings.

When asked the reason for this he said: 'In the summer time when flies are numerous, horses whose foretops have been clipped often get sore eyes because they cannot keep the flies away from their heads and out of their eyes. If the foretop be permitted to grow, the hair will chase away the flies every time the horse shakes his head, and you will often see teamsters whose horses have been clipped, tie tags on the top of their bridles to take the place of the foretop. Thoughtless people often clip these horses' foretops, not realizing the cruelty they are inflicting upon their friends. The check rein and the clipped foretop should never be seen on a horse, and the time will soon come when they will not be.

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism.

A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely disabled by rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked in the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'Give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I use it in the house all the time to ease me.' For sale by G. V. Randall.

The Stopping Habit.

Dr. Madison J. Taylor, giving general advice to the aged in the Popular Science Monthly, says in effect that old people do not stop because they are old, but they get old because they stop.

The stiffening of the tissues, which is the sign and accompaniment of age, is ward off by exercise. Self-indulgence in eating and drinking and in lazy ways is the sure road to senility. 'I have often been surprised and gratified,' writes the doctor, 'to find that regulated movement of the neck and upper trapeus muscles, employed for the purpose of accomplishing something else, resulted in a conspicuous improvement in hearing, in vision, in cerebration and as a consequence, in a betterment in cerebral circulation, also in sleep.

Persons who habitually maintain an erect position in standing or sitting are stronger than those who slouch. A person who stoops and allows the shoulders to sag down and forward and the ribs to fall back toward the spin shortens the anteroposterior diameter of the thorax anywhere from two to five inches. The lungs, heart, great vessels and other important structures in the thorax cannot live, move and have their proper being under such circumstances.

Whereas the proper thing for persons who are not so young as once they were is to brace up, dress young and feel young. Sitting 'hunched up' over a fire wood.

WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It not only cures you if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cuts up sprains and other third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quins, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cents. For sale by G. V. Randall.

Umbrella Language.

There is a language of umbrellas as of flowers. Place your umbrella in a rack, and this will indicate that it will charge owners. An umbrella carried over a woman, the man getting nothing but the drippings of rain, signifies courtship. When the man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings it indicates marriage. To swing your umbrella over your head signifies 'I am making a nuisance of myself.' To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be lost by the man who follows you. Opening an umbrella quickly, it is said, will frighten a mad bull. To put a cotton umbrella by the side of a silk one signifies, 'Exchange is no robbery.' To purchase an umbrella means, 'I am not smart, but honest.' To lend an umbrella indicates, 'I am a fool.' To return an umbrella means—well, never mind what it means; nobody ever does that. To carry an umbrella just high enough to keep one's eyes and knock off men's hats signifies, 'I am a woman.' To press an umbrella on your friend, saying, 'Oh, do take it; I had much rather you would than not,' signifies lying. To carry it from home in the morning means, 'The rain will clear off.'

The Evils of Constipation Are Well known and the best thing is to know a reliable cure. Mrs. W. Eddies of Stony Mountain, Man. says: Dr. Hamilton's Pills are just the thing. They go right to work at once. I use only Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Price 25c. per box.

CLEANED BY THE WAY.

Wife—'Oh, John, you've waked the baby!'

Husband—'Serves him right. He kept me awake all last night.'

Mix—Where is the most fitting place to whisper words of love to a woman?

Dix (in secret confidence)—In her ear, of course.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The Wife (bitterly)—Our married life has been a long series of battles, beginning with our wedding day.

The Husband—Indeed, there was an engagement before that.

Wife—'What a lot of people stare at my new dress! I presume they wonder if I've been shopping in Paris. Husband—'more likely they wonder if I've been robbing a bank.'

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

'Do you buy condensed milk, madam?' 'I presume that you must, but I never thought of it before. I always order two quarts, and pay for two quarts, but it never measures more than three pints.'

Winks—'I had a beard like yours once; but when I realized how it made me look, I had it cut off.'

Binks—'And I had a face like yours once, and when I realized that I couldn't have it cut off I raised the beard.'

When a Sore Wound Heal

Because of the power to heal raw, burning flesh to allay the inflammation and stop the dreadful itching Dr. Chase's Ointment has a world-wide reputation. If you have become discouraged by the failure of other treatments put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test. Like thousands of others you will be delighted with the results.

Alf, she sighed; 'The great men are all dead.' But the beautiful woman are not,' he answered. Then she looked soulfully up into his eyes and he took him she had said, it just to be contrary, and not because she thought it for a moment.

Friend—I was surprised that it took the jury ten hours to reach a verdict. The evidence seemed to me quite clear. 'Ex-juryman—We agreed on the verdict at once, but someone commenced a discussion as to the literary merit of the judge's charge.'

Pitiful Helplessness

Victims of nervous diseases are most to be pitied because their ailment usually terminates in mental or physical helplessness. Paralytic, nervous or other ailments are the result of a failure of the nervous system at the first signs of trouble and there is no preparation so well suited for this purpose as Dr. Chase's Nerve Tonic, the great nerve restorative.

I suppose there is such a thing as kleptomaniac?

'Yes,' answered the physician, 'a man steals because he cannot help it.' 'That is the theory. But in the majority of cases he does so because he thinks the other fellow can't help it.'

'Twenty minutes for refreshments' bawled out the conductor, as he passed down the platform.

The little girl with the blackberry jam on her chin halted him.

'You needn't stop the train on our account,' she said, timidly. 'We're going to eat ours in the carriage.'

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

'Come and dine with us to-morrow,' said the old fellow who had made his money and wanted to push his way into society. 'Sorry,' replied the elegant man, 'I can't; I'm going to see Hamlet.' 'That's all right,' said the hospitable old gentleman; 'bring him with you.'

'Frankly, madam,' said the honest salesman, 'I wouldn't advise you to take that gown.'

'Why not?' asked the woman.

'It doesn't match your complexion,' he explained.

'Oh, well,' she replied carelessly, 'I can change the complexion.'

The editor of a New York journal once wrote an obituary notice on a man of some prominence, and among other things said: 'He was educated for the bar, but was tempted away from the legal profession by a love of letters.' He did not read the proof and the next morning was horrified on picking up the paper to read in the obituary notice: 'He was educated for the bar; but was tempted away from the legal profession by a love of letters.'

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burdette, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough, which he says, 'greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption. Mr. Burdette, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: 'I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five-cent size, was permanently cured.' Sold by G. V. Randall.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remember that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial. "I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—Mrs. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted having written her, and she has helped thousands.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as diarrhoea, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which once removes such troubles. Be sure to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Two Crushers.

After living for fifteen years near the quiet town of D—, we were suddenly called upon to move. Business interests made the change desirable, but leaving home and friends seemed almost like a sacrifice, and a feeling of sympathy for ministers and their wives grew within our hearts.

We arrived at our destination on one of those November days described by Longfellow, when 'The winds are never weary,' and the sun seemed to squint at us right through a mist of snowflakes. The only house or rooms we could secure were located midway between the crushers, which are the subject of this sketch.

From my back window I look out upon a rugged piece of land, where the earth seems to gape, and from its depths are quarried quantities of stone. The best are gested up for building purposes. The most, however, are loaded into cars, and drawn by cables up the incline track to the stone-crushers above, where the solid rock has hidden in the depths of the earth is crushed into stone-dust.

While watching a scene of men removing the layer of earth that covers the stone, I listen to the warning whistle when the power of dynamite is manifested and the stone is shaken from its bed; and then, hearing the heaving of the engines and the grinding of the crushers, I look in wonder on the work of God and man.

From my front window I am compelled to look upon another crusher, a soil-crusher. Across the way are two buildings whose doors swing on their hinges almost as often as the cars from the stone-crushers slide up and down their track. Over the door of one I see a sign which seems to say, 'Come. When you have been bitten by the serpent, we care not where. And over the door of the other I interpret the sign, 'Crusher for bodies and souls. In front of these signs stands a noble tree, whose branches sigh and moan in the night wind like a dirge for the souls of victims. Though the branches of the old tree sigh in the wind and the rain drops in tears of pity from its leaves, across the trunk of this noble tree I read the words 'Wine and Beer.'

I think of another noble tree whose roots were grown in a strife for liberty, whose branches have sheltered the homeless of other lands, whose 'leaves are for the healing of a nation,' and whose tears fall over the graves of the drunkards, but across its trunk I read the words, 'License Room,' and like the other tree its sign disagrees its sympathy.

Employed about the stone-crusher are scores of men, many of foreign birth, and whose loved ones are perchance still in the homeland across the sea. They are toiling day after day, or night after night in the intense cold of the winter, and while they toil the soil-crushers are preparing their cables to draw them in. One offers them hot soup at the noon and midnight hour, and music while they wait. The other has instituted a free barber chair and a graphophone to entertain them.

Are these inducements offered to the cold, hungry toilers because they love them? Ah, remember the stone cannot be crushed till the cable draws it to the crusher. These men are caught by the cable of temptation and carried on to these soil-crushers, where hopes are blasted, health is shaken and the soul is crushed till it is as the dust from the rock of true manhood.

How long must this be?

Liquor Advertisement.

Many of the secular papers throughout the country are working up to the evils of the liquor business and their own complexity with it in advertising its wares. A paper that advertises liquor is, in so far as that advertisement is concerned, nothing more or less than a drummer or an agent soliciting trade for the saloon. The 'Modern Farmer and Busy Bee' has the following to say regarding whiskey advertisements: 'Do not encourage or help any agricultural paper which admits whiskey ads into its columns. What right has the publisher of an agricultural paper to send a drummer for a saloon into the sacred precincts of your home? Whiskey, like all other poisons, is seldom needed, and, like them, should only be taken under the directions of a physician, if at all. Do not take a bad paper because it is cheap. Nothing is cheap which comes like a thief in the night to corrupt the morals of your children, and rob your friends of its joy and happiness. This is not a temperance lecture; it is only good horse sense, based on the experience of the ages and uttered long ago in thundering tones in that unalterable law, 'Whatsoever ye shall sow, that shall ye also reap.'

In this day of commercialism and greed the saloon has spread its withering blight over the cities of the land, corrupting the politicians, debauching their wives, and weakening many of the flowers of womanhood, and it is now trying to wreck the home of the farmer through his agricultural paper. Look your favorite family paper over, and if you find it flaunting in your face gaudy ads for cheap whiskey, order it stopped. The publisher evidently thinks more of the pay he gets for this business than he does for the morals of your family. Let him have his demoralizing ads, and you read clean papers. As we said in another paragraph, ads properly considered are news; but there are some kind of news which the farmer and his family had better not read, and we think a whiskey ad is one of them.'

Are You Nearing the Turn of Life?

Unmistakable signs of 'the change' are Headache, Sleepless Nights, Nervousness, Hysteria, and Melancholia—Watch for these Symptoms if past forty-five.

When the turn or change of life makes its appearance you will notice severe pains shooting through the loins. As a rule the change is gradual. In most cases it is marked by irregularity of the menstrual flow. It is most important to maintain as high a degree of vigor as possible. All strength should be conserved, and Ferronez should be taken three times daily until the crisis is past. Ferronez not only acts on the blood, giving it purity and richness, but acts directly on the sexually organs in such a way as to loosen the strain and severity of this trying time.

Mrs. Martha M. Macadam, of St. George, writes: 'About two years ago I was greatly run down and felt as if I was going to die. I was in a nervous excited state, and had the most dreadful pains every month. Irregularities that I never had before commenced, and I didn't know what was wrong. I consulted the doctor and learned I was approaching a very critical time. I started on a course of Ferronez, and took one tablet along with every meal for about six months. Ferronez had a direct action, and helped me immensely. My nervousness went away, and so did all the other worrying symptoms. Ferronez is a remedy that all women should use, because it insures regularity, freedom from pain and headache. It is a remarkable re-builder and tonic, and saw me safely through my trouble.'

Ferronez is exactly the remedy you need. Don't believe an unscrupulous dealer who may try to sell you a base substitute that affords him more profit. Insist on Ferronez. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists or by mail, from The Ferronez Company, Kingston, Ont.

The Dejected Left Hand.

The dejected left hand makes good its claims in many cases to be the deliver of the two. The fingers that touch and adjust with such nicety the strings of the violin are surely as cunning as those that move the bow. The hand that guides the reins and steers with exactness the horse through the crowded streets is quite as cunning as, one might say, much more than, the hand that wields the whip. But great is fashion; unscrupulous is the theory.

It would appear that as life becomes more and more complex we are becoming more and more specialized, and the difference between our limits is encouraged rather than hindered by every screw made in Birmingham and every stap administered to the offender's fingers that would dare to shake his hands incorrectly.—Chambers' Journal.

Baby Had Eczema

And Suffered what no Parent Ever Desires

Three Doctors Baffled.

MRS. WY. MILLER, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—'My daughter Mary, when six months old, contracted eczema, and for three years the disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst that had ever come under my notice. She was apparently suffering what no one could ever describe. I had three different doctors attend to her to no purpose, wherever. Finally I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and to my surprise she immediately began to improve. Within a few days the disease had almost entirely disappeared. She was four years old when we moved to Cornwall, Ont., and as she had no symptom had used the Ointment, the cure must be permanent. Mr. S. R. Hamilton, now a Public School Teacher and Sunday School Superintendent, writes:—'I am acquainted with Mrs. Miller, and know that she would not make a statement believing it to be in any way misleading or untrue.'

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a skin ointment. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on every box.
