Ottawa, Oct. 6.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon, Sir Wilfrid Laurier tendered the resignation of himself and colleagues to His excellency Earl Gray.
 Before leaving for Rideau Hall, the premier assembled in his office all the staff of the privy council and in a few sincere and graceful words expressed his personal thanks to each and all for their uniformly faithful and efficient services. He assured them that he would always be glad to be of any possible service to them in promoting their welfare and happiness.
 Then he drove alone to Rideau

Hall, where he formally tendered his government and recommended his excellency to call on R. L. Borden to form the new government. After that Sir Wilfrid drove home, and this evening spent his first real care-free hours in the welcome quiet of his library.
 Mr. Borden was summoned by his excellency at 6 o'clock this evening, and immediately drove to Rideau Hall.
 The incoming premier accepted the trust which his excellency imposed in him, and in accordance with the usual procedure asked for a brief interlude to select his colleagues.
 Mr. Borden has intimated that he will not be ready to submit the final state for his cabinet before Monday, and possibly not until Tuesday.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—The Borden cabinet will not be sworn in till noon on Tuesday, Earl Gray afterwards leaving by special train for Montreal to catch his boat.
 The new ministry is yet uncompleted, but while this is so, there are a dozen men who are regarded as certain selections.
 These include:
 Nova Scotia, R. L. Borden.
 New Brunswick, J. D. Hazen.
 Quebec, Doherty, Perley, Pelletier, Monk.
 Ontario, Cochrane, Foster, White, Broder, Hughes.
 Manitoba, Rogers, Roche.
 British Columbia, Goodeve.
 Col. Sam Hughes will, it is expected, take the militia portfolio and W. T. White, of Toronto, is a certainty as minister of finance. Mr. White is in Ottawa today.

MARITIME PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD

Take Strong Ground on Many Questions—Declare Relations of Employers and Employees Are Not Satisfactory.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 5.—The Maritime Presbyterian Synod opened this evening. Rev. Dr. W. P. Archibald of Springhill, N. S., was elected moderator.
 Among North Shore clergymen present are: Revs. S. J. MacArthur, Newcastle; F. C. Simpson, Douglastown; E. Mowatt, Loggieville; J. M. MacLean, Chatham; J. M. McLeod, New Mills; J. R. Miller, Bass River; T. P. Drumm, Campbellton; A. D. Archibald, Rexton; R. H. Stavert, Harcourt; J. H. Kirk, Dalhousie.

A conference on Sunday School work favored employment of S. S. teachers.
 The Conference on Evangelism recommended:

- (1) Wherever practicable Presbyterians should be encouraged to continue evangelical effort.
  - (2) Ministers should use all diligence to lead children in the congregation to definitely accept Christ.
  - (3) Where suitable leaders can be secured, ministerial conferences should be held for the deepening of spiritual life.
  - (4) The committee on evangelism be instructed to confer with the faculty of Pine Hill College as to the feasibility of holding examinations on certain special courses of lectures.
- Charlottetown, Oct. 4.—The next synod will meet at Pictou.
 The Aged and Infirm Ministers' fund showed receipts of $7,000 and expenses of $9,000. Sixty congregations gave nothing to it.
 The foreign mission debt, thanks to the W. F. M. S., has disappeared. There are vacancies in Demerara, Trinidad and Corea, and great need of men and more money.
 Dr. W. H. Smith in reporting on moral and social reform said that Sabbath desecration by fishing and picnic parties was on the increase. The Lord's Day Act did good work but much yet remained to be done in re-training large corporations. Systematic instruction in temperance was needed in the churches and Sunday schools. Nova Scotia was satisfied with prohibition, but complaints were made about the indifference of the people and lack of enforcement. Industrial relations between employer and employee were not satisfactory.

Rev. Dr. Stewart, convenor of the home mission committee, reported lack of candidates for the ministry. There are today thirty vacant congregations, twice the number of the largest graduating class that ever left college.
 Charlottetown, Oct. 5.—Rev. H. R. Grant said more education in total abstinence principles is needed among the people, as the brewers are conducting an active propaganda to convey the false impression that the use of beer and wine promotes sobriety. He declared prohibition the greatest remedy for the intemperance evil. In scathing terms he scored what he termed the lax enforcement of the Nova Scotia temperance law. The minimum salary for ministers was fixed at $900.
 The Synod directed the assembly to take up the whole of the teachings of standards, and that induction vows be carefully considered in order to preserve the peace and purity of the church.
 The amount of systematic giving estimated for next year is $1050,440 from 22,233 families.
 There are 100 young people's societies a membership of 6,000, and receipts of $3,000.
 Rev. Dr. Smith of Fredericton moved a resolution denouncing the New Temperance decree on various grounds, for instance, that it declares mixed marriages void unless performed by a priest; that it is contrary to public policy and is the enemy of domestic peace and social welfare. The synod calls upon the people to resist the decree and legislators to render it impossible by law. The synod approves of one federal law dealing with all aspects of the marriage relation.
 This resolution, and the reports on Moral and Social Reform and Evangelism were adopted.
 Synod adjourned.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, is expected at Quebec October 13th. He will be escorted to the parliament building and at noon the oath will be administered by Sir Louis Davies, senior puisne judge of Canada. His royal highness will then be tendered a luncheon at Chateau Frontenac, and at night Lieut. Governor Langelier will give a dinner in his honor, after which a reception will be held at parliament building. He will board the special train for Ottawa at midnight.
 Lieut. Gov. Tweedie of N. B. will meet the new Governor General at Quebec.

WORLD'S METHODIST CONFERENCE

Delegates Represent 30,000,000 People—Better Conditions for Workmen Demanded.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—The fourth Ecumenical Methodist Conference opened here to-day.
 Delegates representing 30,000,000 adherents are present.
 Toronto, Oct. 5.—Dr. Carroll stated that in ten years the membership had increased only about 1,000,000 considerably less than for previous decades.
 Of the representatives from England nearly one-half are laymen, but nearly all are preachers. Of the 20,000 sermons that are preached every Sunday in Wesleyan pulpits, 16,000 are by local preachers.
 Rev. S. Ogata of Japan advocated union of all Christians into one church.
 Toronto, Oct. 6.—During the last year there were 2,528 Methodist foreign missionaries. These included 918 ordained men and 120 physicians—53 of the doctors being women. Native workers numbered 20,847; missionary stations and sub-stations, 6,762; presenting 708,105 baptisms; Christians, and 1,444,294 adherents of whom 458,195 were Sunday school teachers and scholars.
 The ordained ministry of Ecumenical Methodism at the beginning of 1910 was 52,968 of whom but 2,322 or five per cent. counting foreign and native were in the mission fields.

 Our means as expressed by the income of the missionary societies in 1910, totalled about $7,000,000, representing about eighty cents to each of the 8,715,434 Methodists.
 W. C. Pearce is responsible for the statement that during the past two years 500,000 men have taken up the systematic study of the Bible in the Sunday schools of America.
 Toronto, Oct. 7.—Papers on Christianity and social problems by two British M. P.s and former Vice President Fairbanks of the U. S. A. were features of to-day's session.
 "The keynote of the church should be more religion in business and more business in religion," said Charles W. Fairbanks, "in-being women. Native workers women, working under like conditions and stations, is an affront to the spirit of Christian religion."
 A paper by Arthur Hender son, M. P., of London who was detained at home by government duties, was read by T. R. F. M. P.

THE WAR FOR POSSESSION OF TRIPOLI

Indian Moslems Appeal to Britain to Interfere in Behalf of Turkey.

The bombardment of the city of Tripoli (capital of the province of Tripoli and a town of 40,000) began on October 3rd, and the batteries were silenced next day. The people of the town had retired inland. The forts were demolished and many Turkish soldiers killed. Not a Turkish shot reached the Italian fleet.
 The Turkish soldiers gave proof of extraordinary courage. Frequently they exposed themselves unnecessarily. It appears from statements made by the prisoners taken that the Turks did not at first realize their inferiority.
 Despatches reaching Rome from Tripoli indicate activity among the Italian forces at various points along the coast in preparation for the landing of troops. The Turkish soldiers in Tripoli are said to be in a demoralized state, and although some of them are camped five miles from the city of Tripoli and are protected by small forts on the hills, they have not even attempted to molest the invaders.
 The Italians have hoisted their flag at the ports of Bomba and Tobruk.
 Lucerne, British India, Oct. 7.—The Moslems of all India appealed for the intervention of the British government in behalf of Turkey, it has advised also a boycott of Italian goods.

 "The laborer is worthy of his hire, but not infrequently the hire is not worthy of the employer," was one of Mr. Henderson's striking sentences. "We English speaking people have given to the world a priceless idea and the labor world is listening for a message to the underworld of unrequited labor and toil. When we are willing to take commercial failure rather than to rob our fellows in God's good time there will come a better day for those who toil. Let us be faithful in the ante chamber to the great responsibility."

NEW AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY LAUNCHED

Crop and Poultry Experts to Lecture at Whitneyville next Saturday Night

Pursuant to the call of President McColm and secretary Butler, the recently organized agricultural association, No. 122, for the parishes of Newcastle, North Esk and South Esk, met in Town Hall yesterday afternoon, for permanent organization and election of permanent officers.
 There were some 25 men present. John McColm presided.
 Acting secretary Butler, after outlining the association's history since its inception last March, explained that the yearly dues were $1.00, and that the government grant was about $60 and a certain bonus. Officers were to be elected, bye-laws adopted and funds appropriated.
 There was a time, said Mr. Butler, when only dull boys were destined for the farms, but now a higher compliment could not be paid a man than to call him a farmer.
 The great difficulty of farming is our want of faith in our occupation and in our soil. No better land and water and no more honorable and hospitable people than those of the Miramichi. And yet neither has been advertised in the outside world. A peasantry once destroyed can be revived. Encourage the boy and girl to stay at home. Give each the same education. Encourage them to multiply and replenish the earth.
 To-day the present state of the value of raw wool is such that wages paid

The farmers should get together with the consumers directly and agree upon prices.
 We are raising cattle—let us get together and raise ONE kind. Potatoes of a special kind would bring $1.75 a bush; but Miramichi could not provide a carload of any particular kind of potatoes.
 Let us raise one kind and push its sale.
 Following officers were re-elected:
 Pres. John McColm, Northesk Boom.
 Sec'y. T. W. Butler, Newcastle.
 Treas. H. Williston, Newcastle.
 After adoption of bye-laws following directors were chosen, besides above officers:
 Everett Goodfellow, Southesk, and Hiram Whitney, Whitneyville, vice-presidents; William Taylor, Southesk; David Power, George Sutherland, Cassilis; Allan Tozer, Redbank; John Cain, Boom Road; James Young, Whitneyville; Wm. J. Sherrard, Edward Keating, Strathadam; Phineas Gunn, Protectionville; Samuel Kingston, Chaplin Island Road, and Edward D. Travis.
 It was decided to have Andrew Elliott of Galt, Ont., and Seth Jones, experts respectively on crops and poultry raising, speak in Whitneyville Hall next Saturday night at 7 o'clock.
 A resolution of confidence in Hon. Dr. Landry, commissioner of Agriculture who was unavoidably absent was voted.
 Balance on hand over $160.
 Adjourned.

MARD ON FATHER.

Croquet Season Is Opened Again and Papa Knows.

As the croquet season is with us, notices it first when papa comes home from lodge. He slips in the side gate and walks across the lawn so as not to disturb the dog. He wears his way carefully toward the door where a light is dimly visible.

There is a slight knock on his door about four inches above his ear. He doesn't notice it.

"The next instant he is on his feet, his nose twitching, the vestibule of a flower bed, with his other hand he upsets a stand full of flower pots.

"What in the lovely, charming, pleasant and agreeable circumstances is this?" asks papa.

The dog bays a mournful answer to the moon. A window is opened and a sharp voice says:

"Come in the house, you fool, before you fall over another croquet wicket."

Then father knows the croquet season is on and he announces at breakfast next day that if Willie forgets to bring in the wickets at night he'll burn the damned outfit.

For the next few weeks the boys and girls come over and plant their wickets in the flower beds and play rover among the geraniums. In the evening, sometimes, pap will play a game with mamma just to square himself for the nights he goes to lodge.

THE KING'S THRONE.

Hard to Say Which is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the worm-eaten, battered, iron-footed old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely the most ancient, and inasmuch as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain ingle-nook," because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands, year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I. and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set under the lantern, between the choir and the altar.

Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dais in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like "his occurrence," Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this matter, and to the chair from the steps of the "throne." A beautiful rail separates this "Royal seat of Kings" from the faithful peers.

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards' Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Aloof to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swartly savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

Stories of the Prince of Wales.

Many quaint and amusing anecdotes are related of the Prince of Wales as a small child, one being that he and his sister and brothers were invited out to tea at some Court lady's house, and when the hour for departure came he could nowhere be found to say good-bye to his hostess.

On investigation it was discovered that he had hurried downstairs alone to secure what he considered his proper place in the carriage.

It is also reported of him that, on his first attending afternoon church one Sunday, he remembered how often he had been told to thank his entertainers for their hospitality; so at this occasion he looked anxiously about for someone to be grateful to. The only person who came handy was the verger, who, rather to his discomfiture, had his hand grasped by the little prince, and was informed in a childish voice:

"Thank you so much for a very pleasant afternoon!"

Ben's Logic.

"Ben," said his friend, waking up from a reverie in which he had been gazing abstractedly at the shiny expanse of Ben's skating-rink-for-uses. "Is there nothing you could do for your baldness?"

"No," said he, "I'm only forty."

"No," said he, "I'm only forty."

"Fifteen years ago I was coming strong, and I tried lots of things. But about that time I Prince of Wales—Edward, you know, Prince of Wales—opened a new hospital, and I said to myself as soon as ever I saw him I'll hit his hat to 'em. Then, my lad, he can give it to me as a bad job, and save thy brass. If there was only 'at 'ud cure a bald head they'd be cured his."

John Jacob Astor was fine, so a shun in London for auto speeding. He's an Anglo-American now.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bellevue, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home weak and discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Bellevue, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—"I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all thumbs. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that every one who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and backache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice."—MISS TULLIS FLENGIG, 33 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

On Saturday last while Dr. Pinault was coming down Gerard Street in his auto little Jenny Smith (9 years) ran on to the street from behind a barn running right into the automobile. The doctor swerved but the rear wheel caught the girl inflicting a nasty wound. She was immediately taken up into the machine and rushed to the doctors house where every care and attention was paid her, and she is now reported to be doing well. No blame can be attached as the occupant of the auto could not see the child hidden as she was behind the team.—Campbellton Graphic.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this week's paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

KINGS COUNTY GIRL DIES AT CAMPBELLTON

The many friends of Catherine Louise, daughter of Charles and Rebecca Reynolds, of Barnesville Kings county, will regret to hear the news of her death which took place at Campbellton Oct. 5th, morning, after a brief illness. She left here five weeks ago, enjoying the best of health and entered a hospital in Campbellton for the purpose of studying nursing. She was in the twentieth year of her age. In addition to her parents she is survived by three brothers and one sister. The news of her death came as a great shock to her friends.

We regret to announce the death of Miss Catherine Reynolds of Barnesville, King Co. who after two weeks illness of typhoid fever passed away on Monday last at the hospital here. Her friends have the sympathy of the entire community.

THE POWER OF SYMPATHY.

Mothers Too Often Form a Habit of Constant Reproof.

Although conscious of the power of sympathy, many loving but over-tired mothers not only forget to show affection but form a habit of constant reproof. Naturally enough, the children, unless exceptionally callous to their surroundings, become sulky and resentful. How can they realize that the nagging is an expression of anxious affection?

When Johnny comes rushing into the house full of excitement over some new play or new idea, and eager to tell his plans, such a mother exclaims, "How many times have I told you to wipe your feet before you open the door!" The energetic child, who is enthusiastic and hurt and wounded, he draws back into himself, and will not again expose himself to such a snub. He confides in her less and less as he grows older, and she wonders why.

There is sound psychology in the statement that if you believe a man is honest he will be honest; that if you trust a young man he will prove trustworthy; that if you praise a child he will deserve praise. Benjamin West's mother kissed her boy when he showed his drawings to her; and the boy, when grown to manhood, said that her kiss made a painter of him.

A RAVENOUS INDUSTRY.

How the Paper Makers Are Destroying the Forests of the United States.

The forests of the United States now cover 550,000,000 acres, or about one-fourth of the area of the country. Forests publicly owned contain one-fifth of all timber standing. The timber privately owned is not only four times that publicly owned but it is generally more valuable.

Forestry is not practiced on 70 per cent of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent of the total area of the forests.

The original forests of the United States contained timber in quantity and variety far beyond that upon any other area of similar size in the world. They covered 850,000,000 acres with a stand of not less than 5,200,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber, according to present standards of use. There were five great forest regions—the northern, the southern, the central, the Rocky Mountain and the Pacific.

The present rate of cutting is three times the annual growth of the forests of the United States. The great plains of the Lake States are nearing exhaustion and great inroads have been made upon the supply of valuable timber throughout all parts of the country.

The heavy demands for timber have been rapidly pushing the great centers of lumber industry towards the South and West. In consequence, the State of Washington has led for several years in lumber production, followed in order by Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Wisconsin and Arkansas. In 1908 the production of yellow pine lumber amounted to over 1,000,000,000 cubic feet; the Douglas fir of the Northwest held second place, with three and two-thirds billion feet; while white pine came third, with three and one-third billion feet.

The annual cut from the forests, including waste in logging and in manufacture, is 20,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood.

There is used in a normal year 90,000,000 cords of fire wood, 40,000,000 board feet of lumber, 118,000,000 bawn ties, 1,500,000,000 staves, over 122,000,000 sets of heading, nearly 100,000,000 barrel hoops, 3,000,000 cords of native pulp wood, 125,000,000 cubic feet of round mine timbers and 1,253,000 cords of wood for distillation.

In 1909 4,002,000 cords of wood were used in the manufacture of paper, of which 794,000 cords were imported from Canada. The demand for pulp wood is making a severe drain on the spruce forests, which furnish the principle supply. The Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations to determine what other woods, such as scrub pine, white fir, tupelo and the like, can be successfully used.

A larger drain upon present resources is made by the demand for railroad ties, of which 122,754,000, equivalent to three and three-quarters billion board feet, were used in 1908. White oak, hitherto the chief source of supply, is not plentiful enough to meet this demand indefinitely, and in many parts of the country the supply of chestnut, cedar and cypress is dwindling; however, seasoning and treating methods are being found, largely through the work of the Forest Service, by which cheaper and more plentiful woods, such as lodgepole pine in the Northwest and loblolly pine in the South, are made fit for use as ties. Timber to the amount of two and one-half billion feet was used in 1907 for mine timbers. A great saving has been effected in the naval stores industry also largely through the work of the Forest Service, by the introduction of the so-called "curry" system of turpentine in place of the old destructive system of "boiling". The new systems insure a larger product of better quality and prolong the life of the loblolly pine forests upon which the industry depends.

BATHURST MAN REMEMBERS COLLEGE

J. H. Dunn Gives $25,000 to Delahouise His Alma Mater.

Halifax, N. S. Oct. 3.—George S. Campbell of the shipping firm of G. S. Campbell & Co., who returned from England a day or two ago brought with him a cheque for $25,000, a gift to Dalhousie university from J. H. Dunn, a loyal graduate of the college.

Mr. Dunn is a native of Bathurst, N. B., and spent three years at Dalhousie law school, then being admitted to the bar of Nova Scotia. After practicing here for some time he removed to Edmonton and later to England where he is now head of the banking firm of Dunn, Fisher & Company. Mr. Dunn recently gave $100 for equipment of a biological laboratory at Dalhousie.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning. Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing the tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delormier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema.

His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. Today—over three years after his cure of eczema—he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

It has been felt from past events that the cause of temperance in this town must again be taken up and in the formation of the Bruce Memorial League the promoters have taken a step forward but so far have left all others behind.

In this great question you must be on one side or the other. To stand between two opinions is to ruin any cause no matter how good and it is the bounden duty of every man who has the good of the community at heart, to step boldly forward and say on which side he stands.

What are you doing? Are you willing to forward your name as a member of this league which carries with it the promise on your personal honor not to use intoxicating liquor and to discourage the use of it at all times, or by your silence do you prefer to be enrolled alongside those who say that Daniel J. Bruce was a martyr to the cause of temperance and he WOULD NOT BE THE LAST! What are you thinking about? Is it too difficult a question to answer off-hand? or are you in full sympathy with this dire evil, which would sweep all who stand in the way, crushing with relentless hate all who would dare stand up for their own opinion and brave all the force that this thing has behind it. Surely not! Out of all the men in Campbellton it is possible that there are who desire to say that they are on the side of temperance!

It was thought by the promoters of this league that there was a goodly number of temperance people in this town, but they have been woefully disappointed. Are your temperance principles only a cloak to cover other things? Are you ashamed of the course of temperance, or of the sneers of the other man, or will it interfere with other things you are tied up by?

Look at the matter squarely. There are over 1200 men of age in Campbellton and more than two-thirds of them voted for Local Option. Was this voting done for fun? If so there is more honor attached to the loyal one-third who voted for liquor and were honest about it, but for the poor puny vacillating majority "who would like and who would not like," who stand shivering afraid to make the plunge, the temperance question has no use. If there be any temperance men among you it is your duty to enroll your name on it is league thereby taking your stand on one side or the other, but without think and ponder. Has this great question to be shelved as is the case with everything in Campbellton? Is the public spirit so dead that even blood cannot awaken it?

DR. W. W. DOHERTY HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDER

An obituary was called and being sworn, said:—I reside and practice in the Town of Campbellton. I am a duly registered medical practitioner and have been practising eleven years. Mr. Powell—"Long enough to kill a number of people," to which Dr. Pinault replied—"and to save a good many too." I was called by Dr. Lumann at 9 p. m. and saw Mr. Bruce at his residence. He was in bed, unconscious. Respiration was a little labored and irregular. He had a dressing soaked with blood over his left eye. Dr. Lumann and I removed the dressing, examined the wound and found the left eyelid badly swollen and a cut on the upper left eyelid. There was blood issuing from the wound, which we washed, and put on a new dressing. We applied an ice bag to the top of Mr. Bruce's head, hot water bottles to his feet, and then I went away. I did not make further examination of the wound or of the body at all. I saw Mr. Bruce the next day, 22nd of September, in the same room. He was then dead. I had orders from the coroner, Dr. A. Martin, to make a post mortem examination of the body of Daniel J. Bruce. I made the examination and this is what it revealed:—The body was in a state of rigor mortis, no sign of putrefaction, hypostatic congestion on the back of the body. No wound on the body except the cut on the upper left eyelid already referred to. This cut was 3-4 of an inch long and was situated at about 1-4 of an inch from the edge of the eyelid, the middle of the cut being about in a line with the external corner of the eye, half inside and half outside of that. The external 2-3 of the cut were not quite through the skin. The inner 1-3 of the wound was deep and directed towards the orbit. It was about 1-3 of an inch deep by diameter of 1-3 or 1-4 of an inch. The fatty tissues of the orbit were the seat of extravasation of blood. The flesh immediately surrounding the eye ball was torn on the outer side of the eye ball. The direction of the wound in the orbit was inwardly and slightly upward. The envelopes of the brain seemed to be normal except at a point corresponding to the posterior side of the orbit where a fragment of bone turned towards the brain had torn the membrane of the brain. The base of the brain was the seat of hemorrhage, clots of blood covering the base and extending to the top of brain. The brain itself seemed to be normal, although it was bloodless. At the base of the skull, at a point corresponding to the posterior part of the orbit, (the injured portion) there were four pieces of bone which had been fractured, and which could be easily removed with the fingers, leaving an opening large enough to admit the tip of the finger. By passing a probe into the wound on the eyelid it would come directly against the fractured bone. Examination of the other parts of the body did not reveal anything abnormal. The wound would be caused by a blunt instrument. I would consider the point of an umbrella a blunt instrument. The post mortem revealed that the cause of death was due to hemorrhage at the base of the brain, caused by the fracture of the skull, produced by a blunt instrument. Dr. Pinault was here shown the umbrella and expressed the opinion that the point of it would cause a wound of such a nature.

Continuing the witness said:—It would certainly require some force to inflict such an injury, and the main resistance to the blow was the skin. The optic nerve was not injured. Mr. Graham was with me all the time of the post mortem, and Dr. Lumann was there when I made the examination of the brain, the wound and the skull. Four pieces of bone were cracked from the skull, but not detached, except one piece which was turned inward, and was hanging by the membrane. One piece was 1-3 of an inch long, the others smaller. The blood vessels were ruptured by this blunt instrument passing through the orbit.

From the examination made I would say that death had been caused by that wound. There was no other injury.

Cross examined by Mr. Powell, witness said the bone of the skull at the injured part was much thinner than the rest, but he would not say it was as thin as a piece of paper. The bone is of a brittle nature.

Dr. Lumann, recalled, stated that he was the first physician of Mr. Bruce. Mr. Bruce had no organic disease the day he died. From the examination, witness said, death was caused by internal hemorrhage of the membrane of the brain from the wound. The brain itself was not injured. Hemorrhage was slight. It was a large artery that was ruptured. I could not say how much force was used to fracture the skull. It is thinner at this point, but is generally thick. The injury was about 3-4 of an inch from the optic nerve. The injury to the covering of the brain was not directly opposite the external wound but you could follow and reach the internal wound by passing a probe from the outside.

This concluded the evidence. Judge Matheson asked Doherty to stand up and said he was not called on to plead, but if he wished to say anything he might do so, but warned him that anything he might say could be used in evidence against him. Mr. Powell then said "My client is innocent of the charge," and Doherty said "Not Guilty."

The magistrate then said it was not within his power to find prisoner guilty or not guilty, but if he found the evidence sufficiently strong to remand prisoner to a higher court. He then said: I therefore find the evidence sufficiently strong and therefore remand prisoner to the common jail at Dalhousie, there to await his trial at a higher court on the charge of murder.

Doherty was then placed in the cells and later on removed to Dalhousie jail.

NEWCASTLE, N. B., OCTOBER 11, 1911

LET JUSTICE BEDONE,

One of the gross injustices tolerated by the late government of Canada was the inequality of the populations of the various parliamentary constituencies. For instance in New Brunswick, Sunbury and Queens, whose united population in 1901 did not exceed 17,000 returned one member to Parliament while Westmorland with 42,000 people returned only one Restigouche, with less than 11,000 people, returned one member, while York with about 31,000 had no more representation than Restigouche. And so in many other places. While each province, as a whole, had its right number of members, there was no justice in the arrangement of many constituencies. As a rule, however, the sparsely settled country districts were favored at the expense of the industrial centres like Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. Montreal which had 267,000 people in 1901 and was therefore entitled to ten members was given only five. Toronto, whose population of 208,000 entitled her to eight representatives, was compelled to get along with five. Halifax, County with over 70,000 people, had only two members, while Antigonish with about 16,000 was allowed one. The great city of Winnipeg has only one member in Parliament. And we might name many more cases of glaring inequality, in nearly every one of which the townsmen were allowed much less representation than their due while country districts got more.

The same thing is noticeable in the arrangement of constituencies for provincial elections. For local election purposes, Sunbury County, with only 5,500 people, elects two members of the Assembly, while Moncton with double Sunbury's population, is allowed only one representative! That is, a Sunbury man's vote at provincial elections has four times the weight that a Moncton man's will have. Similarly in Britain, where the City of London has some 30 members too few, and the country districts far too many in proportion to their population.

In Germany, the populations of single-member constituencies range from 20,000 or less to 700,000! It is time that in New Brunswick and in Canada the larger centres of population got their electoral rights, and we trust that the redistribution measure which the new government must soon submit to parliament will be a just one, dividing each province into electoral districts having as nearly as possible equal populations, and, until proportional representation is introduced, having each constituency elect one member only.

SOCIAL RECONSTRUCTION

Rev. Dr. Charles Gore, Anglican Bishop of Birmingham, England, and who is about to become Bishop of Oxford, in his farewell letter to the clergy and laity of Birmingham, has the following to say on Social Reconstruction, which we earnestly commend to the careful consideration of our readers:

There is one special sense of failure which weighs upon me which I cannot keep to myself. I feel that among the objects which I most seriously set before myself there is no one in which I have failed more signally than in stirring among Churchmen in general a sense of their duty to contribute to the social and industrial reconstruction of our nation. There is a profound sense of unrest and dissatisfaction among the workers. Recently society has been deeply alarmed at its symptoms. I cannot but believe that this profound discontent is justified through some particular exhibitions of it are not. The longer I have lived in this great industrial centre, the more I have felt that as Christians we are not justified in tolerating the conditions of life and labor under which the vast mass of our population is living. We have no right to say that these conditions are not remediable, and we have no right to expect that they will be remedied until Christian hearts and Christian heads energetically command and insist that they shall be altered. Social science will help us to avoid mistakes, but only the real love of man can give the needed impulse to effective reform. The preventable lack of equipment for life among the young, and later the insecurity of employment, and inadequacy of remuneration, and consequent destitution and semi-destitution among so many of our people, ought to inspire in all Christians a profound and passionate determination to devote themselves to the reform of our industrial system. I cannot but pray from my heart that my successor may be enabled to bring home to Churchmen generally a deeper sense of their social obligations.

SWALLOW'S NEST OF BANK-NOTE

Also How a Mouse Stole $40 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fiberbrunn, in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kroner bank-notes to line their nest. The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest and the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground. This feat has been equalled by that of an enterprising mouse in Toronto, which abstracted a number of twenty-kroner notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish-brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the mouse, and found the nest under the eaves. He carefully swept out the remains of the notes and returned them to the bank where they were placed together. The butcher recovered his teeth.

Last Call.

Professor Leacock tells the following story about a young man who sometimes drank more whiskey than was good for him. He had been making a night of it, but had forsaken his companions. He was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and got the crazy notion at three o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man. Accordingly, he found George's undertaking establishment, over which George had his sleeping apartments. The intoxicated young man rang and rang George's bell, and at last awoke him. The undertaker put his head out of the third-story window, expecting to find that his funeral services were required immediately. Instead, he recognized his friend Frank. "Well, Frank," he exclaimed crossly, "what do you want?" "I just want to tell you, George," said Frank, "that you're the last man in the world I want to do business with."

Very Convenient.

An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built. Of which a gentleman arrived who had lived in one of the jerry-built cottages, and the matter was referred to him. "Well, sirs," said he, "I can assure you they are the most convenient houses I ever abode in." "But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient do you say?" "Oh, had yer wheat till I explain. When first I came to live in Mr. Jerry's house, I had to use 't the middle o' the night an' open the door to let out the cat; but the cat can gang out an' come in thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot o' bother."

As regards the potato crop it had turned out exceptionally well, and the indications were that the prices of this article would be high this fall, as the reports indicated that the Ontario potato crop had proven a failure, and there would be a big demand for New Brunswick potatoes from the Montreal market.

No one saw the accident. The young fellow had gone into the stable for a box, and later was found insensible, and, as he could never make any clear statement of the accident, it is thought he ventured too near one of the horses and was kicked as he stooped down, to pick up the box. Dr. McKenzie was summoned and everything possible was done.

Your money back if Purity Flour does not prove entirely satisfactory in the baking.

DON'T simply buy flour from the dollar and cent side of it. Buy high-quality flour. That means PURITY FLOUR. The first little extra cost is more than made up by the extra number of loaves of bread it makes—by the superiority of the bread and pastry in sweetness of flavor and nourishing qualities. Buying Purity Flour is a safe investment. You get large returns, not only on account of Purity's ability to produce more, but because Purity contains the greater nutriment and the vim of a strong hard wheat flour. Food made from Purity Flour gives the consumer health, snap and force, which cannot be gained from the use of the weaker soft wheat flour.

JERUSALEM'S PUBLIC OVENS.

One Cave-like Vault Running Below Street Level.

There are public bakeries in Jerusalem. The dough is kneaded at home and carried in great lumps to the public ovens. These are to be found in almost every street. They are cave-like vaults, running down below the street level. At the back of each vault is the oven, with a sort of well before its open door. In the well stands the baker, with a long paddle in his hand, upon which he puts in and takes out the loaves.

The oven floor is marked out in blocks, so that the baking of each family is put on a separate block. The loaves, which are about an inch thick, are of the size of a tea plate and have a hole in the centre. The baker makes them from the dough, bakes them, and returns them hot from the oven to the customer. He receives two cents for each half dozen loaves, or he may instead take a toll of one loaf for each dozen. Before starting the baking he greases the floor of the oven with olive oil.

DR. W. W. DOHERTY HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Full Text of Evidence Taken at the Preliminary Examination Held

REMANDED TO JAIL TO AWAIT TRIAL

The preliminary examination of Dr. W. W. Doherty was begun last Friday before Police Magistrate Matheson. Mr. Geo. Gilbert and Mr. E. R. Richard represented the Crown and Mr. H. A. Powell, K. C., appeared for the accused. On Doherty being brought before the magistrate, the Crown made application that the former charge be withdrawn, the new indictment reading "That W. W. Doherty of the Town of Campbellton, on the 21st of September, 1911, did commit murder by killing Daniel J. Bruce." After reading the charge the magistrate informed the Court that, as this was a preliminary examination, accused was not required to plead. Evidence was then led and Dr. Lunam took the stand. On being sworn Dr. Lunam stated in reply to Mr. E. R. Richard that he was a duly licensed practitioner for the Province of New Brunswick and was resident and practising in the Town of Campbellton. He had seen D. J. Bruce on the 21st of September at the Hospital between 4 and 5 p. m. He was conscious, sitting in a chair, and had a handkerchief soaked with blood, covering his left eye. He removed the handkerchief and on examination found a wound in eyelid of left eye, on the upper lid, about 1/2 or 3/4 inch in length. The lids were swollen and witness thought there might be perforation of the eye, but did not examine further at that time.

The eye was still bleeding when the bandage was removed and the wound was a recent one. Would say it had been caused within half an hour. The white of the eye was blood-shot, but there were no clots. Witness did not see Bruce again till after eight p. m., when he was unconscious. After examining the eye in the afternoon, he dressed the wound with the assistance of Dr. Price, and when he left Bruce was conscious. Deceased had made no declaration to witness or made any statement to anyone to witness's knowledge. On cross examination by Mr. Powell, witness stated that both he and Mrs. Bruce had expressed the desire to have Bruce taken home. Witness stayed one half hour at the hospital. After dressing the wound Bruce walked from the chair to the bed, and witness understood, but his speech was not natural, which would be due to the shock. Witness stated that he knew Dr. Doherty and that he was a medical doctor.

Re-examined by Mr. Gilbert, witness stated that he detected no other wounds on Bruce's face and considered it quite safe to say that he was dead.

Dr. Price was then called and being sworn, said:—I reside in Campbellton and am a duly licensed medical practitioner for the Province of New Brunswick. Have been practising for seven years. I knew Daniel J. Bruce, the deceased. I saw him on the 21st of September in Ferguson's store about half past four. I was passing the store and was called by Mr. Wm. Ferguson, who came out of Lounsbury Co's store and said Mr. Bruce had his eye put out. I entered the store and found Bruce leaning over the show case and Mr. McGinn holding him. I hastily examined the eye and found the eye closed, the lids swollen and the eye bleeding. I got a clean handkerchief from Mr. Ferguson and bandaged it up.

I got a team to the door, got Mr. Bruce into it and sent him up to the hospital. I followed him in an auto. I got there at the same time as Mr. Bruce. It would take about six minutes to get from the store to the hospital. I assisted him into the hospital, by holding his arm. He was able to walk. This would be about 20 minutes or a quarter to five. I instructed the nurse to prepare dressings and by the time they were ready Dr. Lunam arrived. This would be about 15 to 20 minutes from the time I was called into the store. I just separated the lids at the hospital and found the eye blood-shot. The outside of the eye ball was wounded and there was a cut on the upper lid of the eye. The wound on the lid would correspond with the wound on the eye, if the lids were closed. I did not further examine Mr. Bruce. As far as I could see he was in normal condition. There were no other wounds round the head. The wound was shaped like a puncture. I did not probe for the depth of the wound. I stayed with Mr. Bruce at the hospital about half an hour. He was conscious. I assisted Dr. Lunam to dress the eye. I had seen Mr. Bruce two or three times that day and he appeared in normal condition. Dr. Lunam was Mr. Bruce's family physician.

Cross examined by Mr. Powell, witness said he could not say if there was inversion of the wound. It would be probably 1-2 inch long. The edges of the wound were ragged or separated.

By Mr. Gilbert:—Mr. Bruce got out of the wagon at the hospital with the assistance of Mr. Graham. He was examined and treated on the ground floor. He was conscious but a little dazed and could walk. The blood was still oozing from the eye. It was blood, not serum. In further examination by Mr. Gilbert, witness stated that there was an aperture behind the eye which leads into the brain. The optic nerve comes through this and the bone round this is very thin and easily punctured. From what witness could see he was quite able to be moved home. From my examination could not say if the optic nerve was destroyed or not.

Allan A. McGinn was then called and being sworn, said:—I live in the City of Montreal and am a commercial traveller. I was in Campbellton on the 21st of September. I was standing in front of Ferguson's store between 4 and 5 p. m. Wm. Ferguson was with me and Mr. Bruce. I was facing into the store. I saw the accused. He came up the street and was carrying an umbrella in his right hand. I would not know the umbrella again. Doherty said, "Come here Dan, I want to speak to you." Accused did not stop. He walked right into the store and stood on this side of the cash register, about 15 or 20 feet from the door. Mr. Bruce followed Doherty into the store. He passed Doherty and turned around, facing the accused and myself. Doherty had his back to me and the street. There was a conversation but could not say what it was. The accused spoke and Bruce nodded his head and his lips moved. I could not tell what he said. I then saw Doherty with both hands holding the umbrella, jab Bruce in the eye. He had the handle of the umbrella in his right hand, and the left hand towards the other end. There was no altercation, no loud words. It was no more than a minute from the time Bruce entered the store till he was hit. I could see him in full view and Bruce had his hands in his pockets when he was struck. When I saw Doherty strike Bruce I jumped into the store. Doherty had turned to come out and I put out my hand to hold him but when I saw Bruce nod I went to his assistance. After the accused struck Bruce, he said, "Now, take that," right after the blow. Bruce's left eye was bleeding when I went to his assistance. The accused made no movement to assist Bruce. After striking him the accused walked out towards his office. I held Bruce up and called Ferguson to get a doctor, which he did about 5 minutes after the blow was struck. This was between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. Dr. Price was got by Ferguson. I helped Bruce into the wagon but did not go to the hospital. I saw him at the hospital later, about 8 p. m. He seemed to be conscious when he was in the store, but he appeared to be asleep when I saw him at the hospital. His eyes were closed and I did not know whether he was conscious or not. Bruce, to my knowledge, said nothing after he was struck. I only saw one blow struck in the store, but Bruce had his hands up as if to ward off another blow. It was a beautiful clear day and the sun was shining. As far as I knew Bruce was in normal condition. I did not hear him complain in any way. There was nothing wrong nor was there any wound round the eye before Bruce went into the store. I saw the wound made by the accused. It was bleeding and swollen. I did not examine the wound. When accused was arrested by the police he asked Ferguson and myself where Bruce was and I replied he was in the hospital.

Cross examined by Mr. Powell:—I first saw the accused in Ferguson Bros' store in the morning. I saw him again on the street about 2 p. m. and later between 4 and 5 p. m., when the occurrence happened. I saw him coming up the street alone. I did not see him speak to anyone. He had his umbrella with him. He spoke to Bruce in an ordinary tone and did not, as far as I could see, indicate anger or excitement. He just asked Bruce into the store. I was farthest down the street. Bruce was sitting on the steps quite close to me and Ferguson was further up the street. I was facing into the store. I did not hear what they said, but could not help but see them. Witness swore that Bruce did not hit the accused. When I jumped into the store accused had turned round facing the street. I held the accused till I saw Bruce reel. Accused said nothing to me. My holding him might have stopped him for a second. I did not go to the hospital at first. I went there after tea. Bruce was carried out to an automobile. He was apparently asleep and I did not speak to him. In the store there was a large flow of blood over the show case, about the size of a man's hand, which continued till Dr. Price arrived.

Re-examined by Mr. Gilbert:—I was in a position to see both the accused and Bruce in the store. I was able to see a blow had been struck. I took hold of accused's arm to prevent him from going out. Witness at this point was shown the umbrella but could not identify it.

By Mr. Powell:—Witness brought the umbrella upon a level with Bruce's eye, (then witness showed how the blow was struck) and held the umbrella, apparently parallel to the floor.

On cross-examination after lunch, Chief of Police Fruges was called and being sworn gave evidence of arresting Doherty for assaulting Mr. Bruce and being previous bodily harm. When arrested Doherty, upon request, showed the chief the umbrella, which he took with him. Shown the umbrella in court the chief identified the umbrella which was then marked by the magistrate and retained as part of the evidence.

Wm. Ferguson was then called, and being sworn, said:—I am a merchant, and reside in the Town of Campbellton. I knew Mr. Bruce and was in his company with Mr. McGinn on September 21st, inst. between 4 and 5 p. m., at the front of my store. Dr. Doherty came along the street and spoke to Bruce who followed Doherty into the store. Mr. McGinn then called out "Look," and I turned round and saw the accused just striking Bruce with an umbrella. I could not say what position the umbrella was in for sure but he seemed to have it in both hands, the point facing Bruce and the handle in his right hand. I could not say how he hit him. I heard no conversation in the store, but had they been talking above an ordinary tone I certainly would have heard it. It was somewhere around one or two minutes from the time Bruce entered the store before I saw the blow struck. After the blow was struck I heard Doherty say, "Take that." Those were the words to the best of my knowledge. I was standing facing the street and McGinn was facing the store. When Doherty came up I could not say whether Bruce was sitting or standing. I was standing on the steps in front of the collar show case at the front door. I could see right in the store by turning round. McGinn was standing more in front of the door than I was. The doors were wide open. I did not see anything the matter with Mr. Bruce's eye when talking with him at the door. After the blow was struck I saw his eye bleeding, but did not examine it closely. Blood was dropping on the show case. I went into the Lounsbury store and telephoned for Dr. Price. I happened to see him passing down the street and called him into the store. He looked at Bruce's eye and asked for a clean handkerchief, which I gave him and he told me to phone for Dr. Lunam. I did not see what Mr. McGinn did when he went into the store. I was a little excited and was looking at Bruce.

Cross examined by Mr. Powell:—Mr. Bruce was quite friendly. NA. we were not as thick as brothers. Mr. McGinn was quite friendly with Mr. Bruce, as became a man selling goods. When I first looked Doherty was between Bruce and myself. I saw Mr. Bruce's hands up after the blow. I was not in a position to see Bruce's hands before the blow. He might have had his hands up and I not see them. At this time I was facing into the street. I only turned round at the time the blow was struck. I did not hear any conversation in the store. Mr. McGinn was facing into the store. I was above him on the steps. I did not seem a peculiar position for two men to be holding a conversation. Mr. McGinn was more or less in front of me. In order to look into the store I had to turn about half way round.

The blood I saw was on the show case. I did not see McGinn hold the accused. I could not swear at the time the blow was struck that Mr. Bruce had not his hands up. I could not see if I did not hear Mr. McGinn say anything. He called out "Look Billy," just before I turned round. It was then I saw the blow struck. I could not say what step Mr. McGinn was on. There are three steps up on the first step from the top. He might have been on the top step altogether. Witness was here shown the umbrella but could not identify it.

LORD ROSEBERRY'S BEZ.

How the Great English Politician Gave a Good Tip.

On one occasion Lord Roseberry was in a railway carriage on his way to a race meeting at Ayr. Opposite him sat a country gentleman, who was rather inclined to be talkative. Seeing his lordship (who, of course, he did not know) reading the "Racing Calendar," he remarked: "Suppose you are going to the Ayr meeting?" "I am going as far as Ayr," replied his lordship. "Pity young swells get fleeced by blacklegs. Some noblemen I hear, drop fortunes on the turf." "Indeed!" "Do a bit myself sometimes—about a tanner or a pony is my cut. Know anything good for to-day's work my while touching?" "I am not a tipster." "Beg pardon. Saw you reading the "Racing Calendar," so thought you might know." "Well," replied his lordship, "if I give you the straight tip will it be of service to you?" "Depends if I fancy it." "Put your tanner or pony on Lord Roseberry's Chevronel for the Welter Cup."

"Not for Joseph! I never back Lord Roseberry's horses. They say he's a regular chumpkin." "Indeed! Perhaps they're right. However, you asked me. I can only add that I heard Lord Roseberry himself tell what you term a chumpkin to back his horse."

"Depend upon it, if it was all right, he would not let you overbear his conversation. Mum would then be his game. Why, there's a lot in that race! I'll bet you a pony Lord Roseberry don't win it."

"Really! I am not accustomed to bet in railway carriages with strangers."

"There's my card. Fact is, you ain't game to bet."

"I think you'll lose your money, but as you challenge me, let it be a bet. You'll see me in the stewards' enclosure at the course. I have no cards with me."

"Agreed! It's a bet. I bet you an even pony against Chevronel for the Welter Cup. But what's your name, young fellow?"

"Primrose. Sometimes I'm otherwise addressed."

"All right, young Primrose; pay and receive after the race."

The companies separated at the station. Chevronel won in a canter, and the commercial received the following morning a short note by a messenger from the stewards' stand: "Mr. Primrose (Lord Roseberry) would feel obliged by Mr. Primrose to his servant £25, which his lordship will have much pleasure in forwarding as a donation to the Commercial Travellers' Orphan Asylum."

The "barman" paid his money, looking very crestfallen, and was heard to ejaculate: "Don't! Who on earth would have dreamt that the good-looking, affable young fellow, whom I imagined was a chumpkin, was in fact none other than the Earl of Roseberry, giving me a good honest tip about his own horse, by which I was fool enough to lose £25? Any way, he's a regular trump, and he's right—I'm the chumpkin after all!"

ON A GRAIN OF WHEAT.

Prayer Containing 656 Letters Inscrbed and Four Figures.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many very small objects, but only one person ever has been so patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day, Sir Moses Montefiore, the great Jewish financier of England, received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written: "A Prayer for Moses Montefiore, by Dutch Mendel, son of Zehi, Czech Scheinmann, of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which was inscribed, in characters so small that they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope, the 656 Hebrew letters of the prayer, and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5644. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his desk until he died, and it is now preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

BALANCE THE WRONG WAY

United States Exports of Manufactures.

An examination of the trade statistics of the United States shows an interesting fact. Right upon the country's present overtures for reciprocity with us. For the nine months ending September, 1910, our exports of domestic merchandise of every kind were $1,190,523,922, of which $210,490,296 were manufactures for further use in manufacturing, and $980,033,626 were manufactures ready for consumption. The sum of these two, $1,190,523,922, amounts for 81 per cent. of all of their exports put together. But this is not crediting the exports of manufactures with a class known as "foodstuffs, partly manufactured," which are valued at $180,163,193. If we regard this also as legitimately forming a part of the exports of manufactured goods, it means that of every thing the United States exported for the nine months ending September last, manufactured goods amounted to over 66 per cent.

GLADSTONE'S FAVORITE GRANDCHILD

It is Vain for You to Rise Up Early.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Drew to Lieutenant Parish, one of Lord Gladstone's A.D.C.'s, recalls the fact that Miss Drew was the favorite grandchild and companion of the late Mr. W. E. Gladstone. She has been the subject of many pretty stories, one being to the effect that she once nonplussed the G.O.M. on a Biblical subject. The famous statesman was trying to induce her to get up earlier. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, grandpa?" rejoined Miss Dorothy, "didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" "Yes, certainly," said Mr. Gladstone. "The little girl then proudly opened her Bible at Psalm xxviii. and read the second verse: "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICARDO'S REPLY.

Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshmen class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness. "Mr. Ricardo," said the great scientist, "you may recite." The freshman opened his eyes, he did not change his somnolent pose. "Mr. Ricardo, what is work?" "Everything is work," was the drawing reply. "What! Everything is work?" "Yes, sir." "Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?" "Yes, sir," replied the youth, who is: "wood-work."

French Language Used in England

Though we are in the twentieth century the Norman French of the twelfth century is still in use in the legal voice of England. It is never a Bill has passed the House of Commons, the Clerk, before he forwards it to the House of Lords writes upon it according to ancient usage: "Soit baillie aux Communes (let it be sent to the Lords). If it is sent from the Peers to the Commons, it bears the like inscription: "Soit baillie aux Communes" (let it be sent to the Commons).

Always the cookbook says: "Sift Your Flour." No lumps, you see. Aerates the flour, making it lighter. Put FIVE ROSES in your sifter. Never soft and sticky—never lumpy, musty, woolly. Never coarse. Milled superfine from Manitoba's grandest wheat. Fine, granular, very dry. Nothing remains in the sifter—FIVE ROSES is free, heavy. And your bread is more porous, more yielding, more appetizing. And more Digestible. Because the particles are finer, easier to get at by the stomach juices. Use this very fine flour—superflour. FIVE ROSES.

DEATH OF PENAN RECALLS OUTRAGE.

Joe Casey, Center of Gun Powder Plot, Passes Away in Paris.

Irishmen all over the world have heard of the Clerkenwell explosion that formed the climax of the Penan outrages of 1867 in London. The story is recalled by the death in Paris of Joe Casey, who was a star actor in the terrible drama. He and a fellow-Penan named Burke were locked up in Clerkenwell prison, but the Penans determined to liberate them. A barrel of gunpowder was placed against the wall of the cell by Michael Barrett, aided by Casey's two brothers, Pat and Andrew.

They planned to blow a hole in the wall at the time the prisoners were exercising and then help the pair to escape in the confusion. But the authorities smelled trouble and shifted the exercise to an inner yard.

Bang went the powder just before 4 in the afternoon, killing 11 bystanders outright and fatally wounding 11 others, while no less than 162 lost eyes or limbs. It cost $100,000 to repair the surrounding property.

A few weeks later Michael Barrett was denounced by another Penan named Mullany, arrested and hanged. The Caseys got clear away to France under the name of the Joe Casey and Burke, were recruited at their trial, and Joe joined his brothers in the French capital. They all fought for France in the Penan wars in 1870 and Joe became a Frenchman.

EXCHANGE CHILDREN FOR VACATION TIME

Growing Curious in Europe Which Aided in Education of Youth.

Though only started five years ago, the system of exchanging children between families in many, France and England, has attained wonderful popularity. In Berlin alone, 10,000 have enrolled themselves as parents for reception of children in the whole of Europe. The same ambition, France and Germany, their traditional greatest parties, but the English of Lord Wessborough and their own section. Currents are less than a year ago, a number of the working class, who have been able to afford to send their children to the country for a few weeks, but the system has been established.

$3,600

in Cash Prizes for Farmers

Your Photograph May Win a Prize

AMONG the prizes we are offering in our big Prize Contest is one of $3,600 (Three "C's") for the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with a photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. For this prize, work of every description is invited.

Now just as soon as you finish that new silo, barn, feeding floor or dairy, that you've been thinking of building, why not photograph it and send the picture to us? The photograph doesn't necessarily have to be taken by a professional or an expert. In fact, your son's or your daughter's camera will do nicely. Or, talking this, you might use the kodak of your neighbor's son nearby. In any event, don't let the idea of having a photograph made stop you from entering the competition. Particularly as we have requested your local dealer to help in cases where it is not convenient for the farmer to procure a camera in the neighborhood. By this means you are placed on an equal footing with every other contestant. Get the circular, which gives you full particulars of the conditions and of the other three prizes. Every dealer who sells "CANADA" Cement will have on hand a supply of these circulars—and he'll give you one if you just ask for it. Or if you prefer, you can use the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—send it to us and you'll receive the complete details of the contest by return mail.

If you haven't received your copy of "What the Farmer Can Do with Concrete," write for it, too. It's a handy illustrated book of 100 pages full of useful and practical information of the uses of concrete.

Write us to-night, and you'll receive the book and the circular promptly.

Do not delay—sit right down—take your pen or pencil, and fill out the coupon NOW.

Please send Circular and Book.

MOVEMENT AGAINST NE TEMERE DECREE

Toronto, Oct. 7.—With the church courts of every Protestant body in Canada committed to a policy of opposition toward the Ne Temere decree, a new movement has been started by the evangelical alliance of Canada, at a meeting held in Toronto. Every leading church of Canadian Protestantism was represented. A public educational campaign by means of a large mass meeting will be at once inaugurated. Finally a petition will be taken to the Government, and a demand made that the marriage laws of Canada will be placed beyond church interference. Petitions will also be laid before every provincial government in the dominion. As British Columbia and N. B. control their own marriage laws and retain the privilege of granting divorces, separate appeals will be made to them. The government of Ontario will be asked to take steps at the earliest possible moment to have the court of appeals determine the extent and jurisdiction of the province and of the parliament of Canada on the subject of marriage laws.
