UNDER THE OLD ELM.

She gave it, with a beautiful blush and an upward glance, full of love coquetry, at her newly-made husband, that brought the hot blood to his face. But some speechifying is to be made. The lord of the county rose with a gracious, even benevolent smile, and requested all to fill their glasses. Then he commenced a long speech. He could not say too much for the brides—their beauty, their amiability, their angelic qualities in general. He could scarcely say too much for the bridegrooms.

He dwelt upon Sir Charles's character—his last one fortunately—amidst enthusiastic applause. Then he handled Hugh in his best vein. His words were happily chosen, with frequent parentheses of "wonderful adventures," "noble courage," "princely magnanimity," "pattern landlord," etc., and his encomiums called forth such tremendous cheering and other demonstrations of delight that the glasses on the table jumped and leaped like sportive lambs and the footmen danced about with frantic endeavors to remain careless spectators and refrain from joining in the cheering.

Hugh was rather pale with emotion; Grace was very much so, and her beautiful eyes were filled with grateful, happy tears. She looked over at Rebecca, and thence to Mrs. Lucas—both were weeping; and Mr. Reeves, who should be above that sort of thing, was blowing his nose to hide the tear-drops that were trickling down his cheeks. Sir Charles, when the cheering had somewhat subsided, rose and spoke again. He was no speech-maker, he said; but he made them a very eloquent little speech and, very hot, flushed, and happy, resumed his seat.

Then all eyes were turned to Hugh—Hugh, the brave, the strong, and the true. Grace glanced up at his set face and pressed his arm. He rose. "Friends," he said, "Sir Charles tells you he is a man of few words.

and yet makes a speech equal to a member of parliament. I tell you I am a man of no words, and that if I tried from now till doomsday I could not express one tithes, one shadow of the emotion with which my heart now throbs. Thank you—thank you, one and all—and may Heaven be as bountiful to you each as it has been to me." And with a glance full of loving pride at the beautiful bride by his side he resumed his seat.

The cheering was deafening; the glasses clattered again with renewed activity. My lords and ladies applauded as if they were plain masters and mistresses, and when they would have left off, or whether they would have closed at all of their own free will, must remain a mystery, for suddenly the enthusiasm was hushed by the appearance of a gentleman who, with a very red face, pushed his way past the footmen at the door and, hurrying up to the table, grasped Hugh's hand. Before the assembly could ask who the old gentleman—in the knee-breeches and farmer's cords—was, an exclamation burst from Grace, who cried, with a burst of joyful surprise: "Mr. Stewart!"

Mr. Stewart it was, and in a state of excitement, and, notwithstanding his burned-up station, evidently prospering. Still wringing his old friend's hand, he turned to the guests and, in a voice trembling with emotion, commenced an account of Hugh's bravery at the station, and his heroism on the homeward voyage, but was so overcome by his emotion and by the universal cheering that he allowed himself to be pushed into a chair by Hugh, and contented himself with shaking hands with everybody near him and telling them that he had come post-haste from Liverpool to be there in time to see his brave Hugh and still braver Grace married.

And now they are gone. But they are gone for a little while only; the Warren is too dear to Sir Charles and Lady Anderson, the Dale is too precious to the new squire and his beautiful bride, to be left lonely for long.

They look forward to a speedy return and long and happy lives. Warren and Dale are knit in closer bonds now even than of yore—knit with the bonds of brotherly and sisterly love, with, perchance, the happy harmony in years to come of children's voices, children's laughter—still further on, perhaps, youth's and maiden's love may join the two homes in one.

Is it fair to peep into the carriages that bear the happy couples to their honeymoon? Well, no; but we can not resist taking a peep at Hugh and Grace.

He is leaning back among the white satin cushions with all his old, easy, graceful air; but a new light lies in his eyes and it shines down upon the beautiful face that lies upon his breast.

His lips are trembling with unspeakable words of rapturous love; his hands, clasping the lithe, supple form nestling to his heart, are trembling with eager and passionate delight; but as her eloquent, love-thrilling eyes are raised, and tremble beneath the passionate fire of his, he can say nothing, do nothing, but clasp her still closer and watch her eyelids close with excess of love and joy, and kiss them and the sweet lips beneath.

If Hugh Darrell had had cause in the past to regret his troubles and trials, he has only one feeling now, and that is an overbrimming one of gratitude for his last turn of Pickle Fortune.

For Daisie's Sake

THE OTHER ONE.

But she was so infatuated with the fellow she wouldn't even let me hint such a thing to him, and he's as reticent over himself as if he were an escaped convict—which he may be, for all we know," argued Royall.

Daisie suppressed a sigh, and asked carelessly:

"But doesn't he seem very nice? Isn't he well educated, and—doesn't he write a fine hand?"

Royall fell into her little trap, and answered:

"Oh, his manner is charming; that's what made me take up with him first, you know—so frank and friendly; and he seems to be college bred. As for his writing—see," and he exhibited to the trembling girl some random papers from his note-book, scribbled over with his friend's name and some poetical quotations.

He did not notice that Daisie trembled, that the color rushed to her cheek and the light to her eyes, from pure joy.

The writing was identical with the poem. Her heart told her the truth. Dallas Bain had written her those sweet verses. He loved her, after all.

"I see how it is," she thought, with keenest pain. "When he first saw me, his heart went out to me, as did mine to him in the thrilling glance we exchanged. But he was already pledged to another, and could not retreat in honor; so he dared not trust himself to know me better. That was why the verses breathed such hopeless sadness."

There was balm in the thought, for his avoidance had wounded her cruelly until she thought she had fathomed the cause.

Alas! Alas! Strange decree of fate. Between this pair, who had never even spoken to each other, only looked into each other's eyes, love had been born full-grown, though each tried to thrust it away—she, believing it was hopeless; he, because he had been told by a false schemer that she was as silly as she was fair.

"I am sorry now that I sent her the

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N. Y.—"When my first child was born I did not know about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspaper about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and childbirth was a hundred times easier. Ever since then I have used it without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound and keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so."—Mrs. C. WESTMORELAND, Harrison, N. Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, allocation, backache, headaches and nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

poem. I hope she will never find me out, and gratify her vanity by telling her girl friends about it. When girls are very silly they always boast of their conquests," thought the young man; and it vexed him sorely that so fair a face should go with a shallow mind—vexed him, too, that her beauty should haunt him so, not dreaming yet that its spell was immortal.

He thought that he must go away, and presently forgetfulness would come. He ought to go away, anyhow, for Royall Sherwood did not seem as friendly as of old—had grown careless and neglectful; and, as for Mrs. Fleming, she was too kind, that was all; and he was afraid that she might assume the supposed prerogative of the new woman, to woo and win.

In a very gray mood, he excused himself from her company one day, saying that he had an engagement to ride with a fellow. The fellow was himself; but he deemed any subterfuge permissible, since she had made him read poetry to her till he was hoarse as a raven, and he was wild to escape.

So he went to the livery stable, secured a light buggy, and set off for a solitary ride along the beach.

"The only chance a fellow can get to think, with so many women about, always chattering like magpies!" he muttered to himself, as he was returning at a slow pace along the level sands, and watching the setting sun as it spread long lanes of rosy light across the restless waves.

He had quite decided that he would leave Sea View to-morrow, and return to New York.

There would be no trouble in getting away from Royall Sherwood, who seemed already weary of him, and if the little widow got hysterical he could say he had important letters calling him away.

If he had not been so absorbed in half-sad thought, and secondarily interested in the sun-set on the sea, he would not have forgotten what a timid animal he was driving, and that it was unsafe to leave the reins lying so slack on his back.

The beach was deserted, he thought, although only this morning it had been alive with gay bathers and fearless bicyclists. So, unthinking of danger, he drove on, and the voice of the sea, so solemn and profound, bending with his pensive thoughts, drowned the voices of two fair young girls wheeling toward him on their bicycles, one dark and sparkling, the other very fair and lovely.

Suddenly the spirited pony, looking ahead, saw the shining wheels spinning toward him, and took unexpected fright, and swerved from his course. Whinnying with fear, and plunging forward before Dallas could restrain him, he dashed upon the very object of his fright, his forward hoofs striking the wheel and overthrowing the fair rider before she could turn out of his way, just as Dallas reined him in with a grasp like steel.

Oh, horrors! There lay the poor girl on the sands, beneath her wheel, still as death! And as Dallas sprang from the buggy the other girl jumped from her wheel in grief and reproach. "Alas, alas! You have killed sweet Daisie Bell!"

Communist Government Set up in Rhenish Prussia---Poles Take Thousands of Prisoners---Saskatchewan Crops Damaged by Frost---Irish Disorders & Crimes Continue---Raw Sugar Prices Declining Heavily---A narchy in Mesopotamia.

COMMUNIST OUTBREAK IN PRUSSIA.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 22. A semi-official telegram from Dusseldorf says that an insurgent Government allegedly emanating from the German Communist Party has resulted in the proclamation of a Soviet Republic at Velbert, Rhenish Prussia. The despatch stated that Communists had seized the town hall, extorted money from the richer inhabitants, and forced the local branch of the Reichsbank to hand over a million marks. Notices were posted inviting workers at Essen and Remscheid to join them.

FRENCH GARRISON'S GALLANT DASH.

PARIS, Aug. 22. The French garrison at Adak, Alaska, which had been besieged for two months, made a sally on Friday, and, according to the Foreign Office has now virtually been relieved. Eighteen United States relief workers were with the garrison. The Foreign Office says that the garrison badly defeated the besiegers and that the situation is no longer critical.

WRANGLER'S ACTIVITIES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 21. General Wrangel, anti Bolshevik commander in Southern Russia, has landed three additional invading forces, aggregating over ten thousand, it is said, in Kuban ports, with the purpose of encouraging Kuban uprisings against Bolshevik French warships covered the landing, which apparently had as the design, the envelopment of Novorossisk and Ekaterinodar, and severing of the Bolshevik railway and highway communications southwards.

15,000 PRISONERS.

WARSAW, Aug. 21. The Poles have captured 15,000 Soviet prisoners up to Thursday, it was announced here to-day.

FROST IN SASKATCHEWAN.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22. A special despatch to Winnipeg papers from Brendenburg in Yorktown district of Saskatchewan says that twelve to fourteen degrees of frost at that place on Friday night caused tremendous damage to the late grain crops and completely destroyed all garden stuff.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22. Three persons are dead, and twenty homes were destroyed and a new school building was razed, because of bush fires, which swept through the village of Malvirill, a hundred miles north of Winnipeg on Saturday. The dead are the wife, mother and father of George Ward. Crops throughout a wide region have been destroyed by the flames, which have been burning slowly for several weeks. High winds during the last two days fanned them into greater force and volunteer fire fighters were unable to check the spread before the village was endangered.

A CANADIAN ECHO.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21. A resolution strongly endorsing the action of the British Trade Unions in threatening a great strike, if war was declared on Russia, was read and adopted by a meeting called under the auspices of the Independent Labor Party.

BUT NOT IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

HALIFAX, Aug. 21. The recent slump of twelve cents per pound on the New York Raw Sugar Market has not yet affected prices for refined sugar here but dealers predict a considerable reduction in the near future.

BOLSHEVIKS WITH TURK REBELS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 19. (Delayed)—Two Bolshevik cavalry regiments have passed over Southern Armenia into Turkish territory and lined up with Turkish Nationalist followers of Mustapha Kemal Pasha at Balazet according to advices reaching here to-day.

FRENCH FOR SILESIA.

FROM JAIL TO HOSPITAL.

CORK, Aug. 21. Four hundred strikers in jail were removed yesterday afternoon to hospital.

POLICEMAN MURDERED.

BELFAST, Aug. 22. Rioting is in progress at Risburn as the result of the assassination to-day of Inspector Swinny. An attempt was made to wreck the shop of a Sinn Fein leader within forty yards of the scene of the crime, and only the intervention of the Ulster volunteers prevented it. A crowd then attacked the residence of a Nationalist Republican who fired from the window. His assailants returned the fire and wounded him. A police patrol was ambushed on Sunday afternoon at Runkalk. One constable was shot dead and two constables were wounded.

OLYMPIC RESULTS.

ANTWERP, Aug. 22. Hans Kolhemainen running for Finland won the Olympic Marathon Race to-day. Lossman of Estonia was second.

A MANNIX MESSAGE.

DUBLIN, Aug. 22. Through the Freeman's Journal Archibald Mannix of Australia has addressed the following message to the Irish people. "I appeal to Irish people to be calm and firm under the insult offered them and me. Ireland can afford to be patient, her cause is almost won. The recent English naval victory has but added fuel to flames which it was meant to extinguish."

ANARCHY IN MESOPOTAMIA.

LONDON, Aug. 21. Fears are expressed here that events in Mesopotamia will involve Great Britain in a costly military campaign. Official reports show that the country is in a state of anarchistic rebellion against the British Administration, particularly northeast and west of Bagdad, and between Bagdad and Mosul. British garrisons have been invested, railways cut, and British officers murdered. According to official reports the situation is much graver than has been revealed in the official despatches.

MAYOR'S HUNGER STRIKE.

LONDON, Aug. 21. Miss MacSweeney yesterday saw her brother, the Lord Mayor of Cork, who is in Brixton prison, under sentence of two years imprisonment by court martial, on a charge of sedition. She said she found him very weak but determined to continue his hunger strike to the end.

ARAB UPRISINGS IN MESOPOTAMIA.

BOMBAY, Aug. 21. Another tragic chapter in the series of Arab uprisings against the British in Mesopotamia has been received here. The message says Mr. Drigley, political officer, Bradford, Commandant of Lewis, Mr. Buchan irrigation officer and two British non-commissioned officers were killed at Shaaraba, Mesopotamia, last Sunday, by Arabs. With dramatic brevity the message adds "the officers sold their lives gallantly, and resisted overwhelming numbers for three days, until their ammunition was exhausted. The Arab levies were loyal to the end and died fighting side by side with the British."

THE NEW IRISH BILL.

LONDON, Aug. 21. The act for the restoration of order in Ireland gives the authorities wide powers to suppress disorders. It will set up new tribunals for the trial of all crimes and offences which, in effect, means court martials. In cases of capital offenses, provision is made for modification in the court so as to bring in the civil element as well as the military. The act also gives military and police wider powers for apprehending suspended persons. Inability of government authorities to arrest criminals and obtain juries in south and west Ireland caused the breakdown of Crown Courts, it was explained at the time the bill was under discussion and forced the government to resort to the juryless system.

Bay de Verde Notes.

The trap fishery has ended for the season and all the traps have been taken ashore. The majority of traps have secured very poor catches, only a few having done fairly well. The voyage, on the whole, is at least 8000 qts. behinds that of this time last year. Hook and line men have, with a few exceptions, done very poorly. Since the coming of squid, practically no fish have been procured. Baccalieu Ticks have been almost a total failure, both with traps and hook and line, and nothing has been done at Red Head Cove and Baccalieu Island, where the fishery is prosecuted by a large number of fishermen.

Large numbers of men are abandoning the voyage and leaving to seek work elsewhere, and every train is taking scores of young men out of the country.

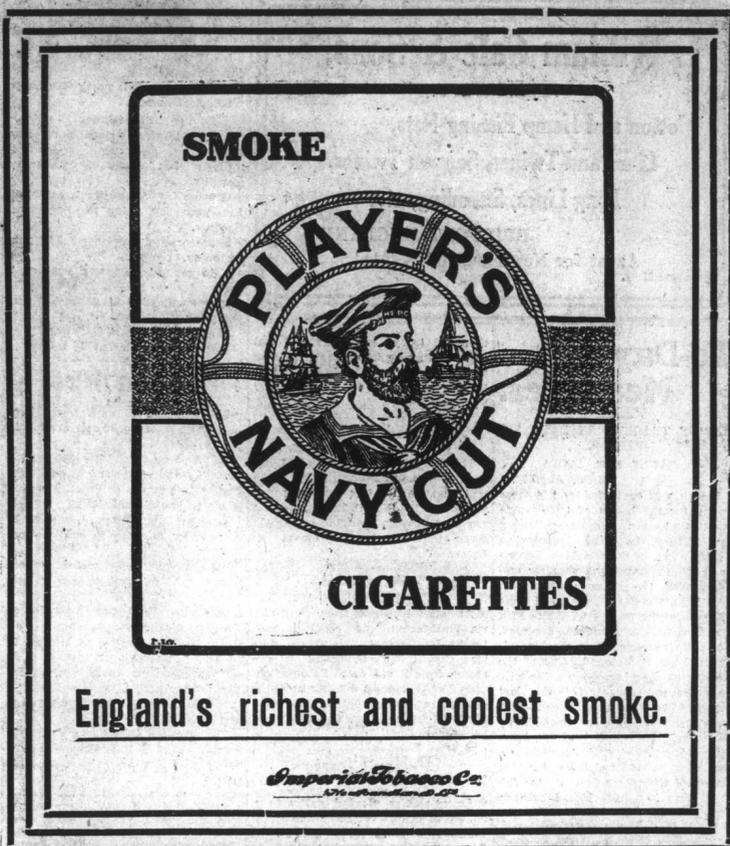

The Fish Regulations are strongly condemned here, and people consider it a great injustice to place an embargo on merchants from shipping fish to their regular connections. That more attention should be given fish in curing it is evidently a necessity, but to carry out Coaker's rules is an impossibility and cannot be done, except we are given nothing but fine weather. The fishermen are desirous of curbing their catch well, and realize that an improvement is essential if we are to make our fish a prime article of food, but at the same time there is danger of carrying this to extremes and reducing fishermen to poverty and want.

In this district we have no safe harbor, and consider it a great injustice that a standard cull should be adopted on this shore, where schooners are difficult to get in the fall to take cargoes to St. John's, and when they call for a fish cargo it invariably has to be rushed aboard.

In the elections held last spring, which resulted in the election of Cave, we were promised a tual cull, and $12.00 per qnt. for sweet pickled fish.

Cave and Prosperity.

Dodgers bearing the above, printed in large letters, were circulated all over the district last spring and the people were duped and fooled into voting against their best interests. They now realize their mistake, when not a business man here will take a quintal of fish—eye in trade—as they do not know how to discriminate between No. 1 and No. 2. We consider such a policy spells ruin, and that Coaker acted too much on his own initiative in refusing to follow the suggestions of Hon. W. B. Grieve and other experienced exporters, who were conversant with market conditions and who were trusted by the people. A storm of indignation is

Lake Fish Frozen to Death.

The Fishery Overseer at Wadena, Saskatchewan, reports that when the ice melted in Little Quill Lake, fish were piled upon the shore in drifts. The fishermen are at a loss to account for this heavy mortality, the only theory available being the firmness of the ice throughout the winter. In previous years the surface was rent by large cracks, but this year such was not the case.—The Canadian Fisherman.

Was At End Of His Row When He Began Taking Tanlac Says Newtown Man.

"It's a good thing I got hold of Tanlac when I did," said William Dalton, of Newtown, St. John's, Nfld., recently, "for I was played out and was about at my row's end."

"I was in an awful weak, run-down condition," continued Mr. Dalton, "and was nearly past going. My stomach was all out of order and my appetite was so poor that I often sat down to the table and would not take more than one or two mouthfuls before I had all I could eat. Sometimes just the sight of food turned my stomach, and nothing I ate ever seemed to agree with me. I lost considerable weight and got so I could hardly work. What sleep I managed to get did me no good and of mornings I always had a mean taste in my mouth. I felt listless all the time and it looked like I had lost all the strength and energy I ever had."

"A friend of mine, who, I knew, had been in a bad fix, told me that it was Tanlac that had put him back in fine shape, and I said if it helped him, like that, it ought to help me, too. So I started taking it and I can say now it has done everything I thought it would and more too. Why I feel like a different man altogether, and while I have taken only two bottles of Tanlac I have already picked up about ten pounds in weight. My stomach is in fine shape and I eat three of the biggest kind of meals every day without a bit of trouble at all. That had taste has left my mouth and I get up in the morning, after a good night's sleep, feeling fine and ready for a big day's work. I have been built up in every way and feel strong and healthy like a man ought to feel. I've never seen the equal of Tanlac, and I recommend it heartily."

Evening Telegram

Monday, August 23, 1920.

His Excellency and the Prime Minister.

The publication of the correspondence between His Excellency the Governor and Sir Michael P. Cashin, Leader of the Opposition in the House of Assembly, touching the statements of the Prime Minister, Honourable R. A. Squires, as made when giving evidence before the Commission of Enquiry appointed to conduct an investigation into certain charges arising out of the now celebrated Woodford Affidavit, has left the Chief Adviser of the Crown in this Dominion, in an ambiguous position, and one from which it is obvious that he will find it exceedingly difficult to extricate himself. The accusations made against the late advisers of the Governor were of such a nature as to cause those directly concerned to take immediate steps to deny them. But the involvement of His Excellency by the Prime Minister made this situation most delicate. It placed the Governor in an awkward dilemma, because it was his prerogative to deny or affirm the allegations in such a manner as would give the least publicity to such an unprecedented mix-up. But the withholding of the correspondence from the press—as was suggested at the outset—would have had the effect of denying to the public the actual facts of all the circumstances surrounding the case, and such a proceeding would have left the smirch of responsibility for the Prime Minister's oral statements upon the personality and character of His Excellency. It was therefore a pursuance of the wisest course in publishing the entire correspondence, and His Excellency's categorical denial of the statement attributed to him by the Prime Minister, leaves the latter gentleman in the unenviable position of having libelled the representative of His Majesty without cause or justification.

There have been a number of unwholesome episodes in political life developed during the few short months of the Squires regime, but none we think more scandalous than that under discussion, or more calculated to bring odium and obloquy upon the person responsible, and that person is no less an individual than the Honourable Richard Anderson Squires, Prime Minister and Colonial Secretary of the Dominion of Newfoundland, Chief Executive member and Adviser to His Excellency the Governor, and the chosen of the people. His very position and high office should have precluded him from bringing the Governor into the realm of politics, and even had conversations between them taken the turn that Mr. Squires stated in his evidence—now so thoroughly refuted by the Governor—he should at least have possessed sufficient of the instincts of a gentleman to have refrained from ever repeating it. He would in that case have commanded the respect of friend and foe alike. But coldly and deliberately to introduce the name of His Excellency into evidence which was being given before a Commission that did not ask for such, and which furthermore was altogether irrelevant to the case at issue, was the act of a man lost to all sense of political decency. It is now up to the associates of Mr. Squires in the Government to act. Naturally it is not to be expected that his own immediate following will make any move, but the Acting Premier—Hon. W. F. Coaker—owes it to himself and his colleagues to condemn the conduct and repudiate the leadership of a man who to save his own skin descended to such political immorality. If the President of the Fishermen's Protective Union is sincere, he will hesitate to remain in his present company, and will make haste to remove himself from association with one who attempted to fasten a glaring falsehood upon His Excellency the Governor, without reason or excuse.

Up to the Board.

The debate by the members of the Board of Trade on the Fish Regulations, on Monday and Thursday, cannot help but raise feelings of anxiety over the present situation, not alone on the part of those directly interested in the exportation of fish, but also by any one who has the welfare of his country at heart.

To our mind the responsibility for the present condition of affairs must be placed on the shoulders of the exporters themselves, and a resume of the events leading up to the present situation will bear out this contention.

In February last several meetings of the Trade were held, and certain resolutions dealing with this matter were passed and forwarded to the Government and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a speech in the House of Assembly, expressed the intention of the Government to accede fully to the prayers of the trade as expressed therein. An Advisory Board, consisting of six Exporters and Mr. Coaker, was appointed to draft Rules and Regulations. It appears to us that they are the parties who are directly responsible for existing conditions.

The Advisory Board has the power to make rules and regulations in the best interest of the Trade. Mr. Coaker has not, and these gentlemen cannot escape responsibility by allowing Mr. Coaker to usurp the powers which are vested by legislative enactment in themselves, and if they have not sufficient courage to insist that the desires of the Trade be carried into effect, than they are remiss in their duty and must share the blame for any loss and suffering that may be caused as a result of any unwise restrictions to foreign trade.

LEAGUE FOOTBALL — St. George's Field, this evening, at 7.15 o'clock: Britons vs. Feildians. Admission 10c. Ladies free. Grand Stand 10c. extra.

Concert and Garden Party at Ferryland.

Some two hundred people from the city attended the Sacred Concert and Garden Party at Ferryland yesterday. The concert was most faultlessly rendered and some of our leading local talent took part. The Mozart's Gloria rendered by the G.C.C. band, under Mr. Carroll was wonderful, and was encored twice. After the concert the party proceeded to the grounds for the Garden Party, the principal feature being a game of football between the Ferryland and Cape Broyle teams, resulting in a win for the former by 1 to 0, silver medals being the prizes. Mr. J. Vincombe refereed the game. After the sports tea was served, after which the band played the Gloria for the Nuns and Father Meher, which was followed by a few selections. At 7.30 the dance started, the C.C.C. band playing a couple of waltzes and onesteps and a set of lancers for the benefit of those from the city. The dance was kept up till 10.30 when the party entrained for town.

Coal Inspection Tour.

OPINIONS OF SOME OF THE PARTY

The party, who left here last week to visit the coal areas on the West Coast returned to the city at 10 a.m. yesterday. Having first visited South Branch, where they saw the Reid workings, they afterwards returned to Robinson's, where a section of the St. George's coal fields was visited. They were agreeably surprised at the showing of coal in the Jukes, Cleary and other nearby outcroppings recently exposed.

Hon. W. W. Hallyard, one of the visitors, said he was surprised at the evidences of coal and was not a bit disappointed in his visit. He thought the properties well worth expending money on to develop.

Mr. Hall, the Government Engineer, thought it a good proposition and well worth working.

Hon. Mr. Browning said there seemed to be lots of coal in the areas as far as a layman could judge. The quality of the Cleary seam looked exceptionally good.

The report of the Railway Commission dealing with this and other coal deposits appears in another column.

Rev. Dr. Porter, District Secretary of the Canadian Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society, is making his first official visit to Newfoundland. Before reaching the city he visited most of the large centres in Twillingate and Fogo Districts and Westleyville, in Bonavista. Yesterday Mr. Porter spoke three times. In the morning he was with the Presbyterians; in the afternoon he delighted the young men of Wesley Adult Bible Class, and in the evening he delivered a most interesting and inspiring message to a large and appreciative congregation in Gower St. Methodist Church. On Tuesday Mr. Porter leaves for the West Coast, taking in Bay of Islands and Channiere, an exceptional achievement, because handicapped by illness. She was suffering at the time from tonsillitis, and had to take the first part of the examination in bed; and for the remainder was fortunately sufficiently recovered to be driven daily to the University. Miss Herder was the Head of her House, and held in the highest esteem and confidence of the Principal and staff of the college, as well as by her comrades. To the fair undergraduate, to her mother, and to Newfoundland's veteran journalist, W. J. Herder, Esq., of the Evening Telegram, we extend cordial congratulations and in doing so voice the good wishes of their many friends.

Wins Memorial Prize.

(Daily News.)

Miss Phyllis Herder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Herder, of Renzie's Mill Road, is winning laurels at St. Margaret's College, Toronto. She has won the Mary Tait Flett Memorial Prize for the highest standing in English, also first class honours in Literature, Geometry, French and German. At the recent Matriculation examination for entrance to Toronto University, she passed with honours, an exceptional achievement, because handicapped by illness. She was suffering at the time from tonsillitis, and had to take the first part of the examination in bed; and for the remainder was fortunately sufficiently recovered to be driven daily to the University. Miss Herder was the Head of her House, and held in the highest esteem and confidence of the Principal and staff of the college, as well as by her comrades. To the fair undergraduate, to her mother, and to Newfoundland's veteran journalist, W. J. Herder, Esq., of the Evening Telegram, we extend cordial congratulations and in doing so voice the good wishes of their many friends.

Personal.

Capt. Fred Coady, formerly of Job Bros. & Co.'s employ is at present in the city on a visit. Since leaving here he has obtained an American Master's Certificate in addition to the English one he held already, and now has command of a large steamer sailing out of New York. She is at present in dock being overhauled.

Capt. Harris Oke, M.C. and B.A. is doing well in the Imperial Service at Northern Nigeria. He is stationed at Horin, a town of some 30,000 population, about 500 feet above the sea level. His health is good, and in letters to his friends here he speaks of his work as thoroughly congenial. Recently he has been acting as Commissioner of Police, in addition to performing his other civil duties, amongst these being the presidency of the District Court. His many friends in St. John's will rejoice to learn of the success which he has achieved.

The Railway Commission

The special which took out the Railway Commission, and Messrs. Brownrigg and Hallyard, on Tuesday, returned to town yesterday, having visited Grand Falls, the Grand Lake Coal Basin, St. George's Coal Basin, the coal mine at South Branch, and Port aux Basques. Work will immediately start to complete the road to the coal mine at South Branch, where a seam 12 feet wide, 300 feet deep and 1400 feet long has been discovered. This coal will be used by the railway. At Port aux Basques arrangements were made to begin the work of equipping that station with modern facilities suitable for the requirements of present and future traffic. It is hoped to complete this work within six weeks. Twice the present storage accommodation will be provided and facilities for handling freight will enable the railway to handle ten times as much freight per day as have been handled in the past.

Coal boring by the same company that bored last year will be continued at Grand Lake, and it is the intention of the Government to continue boring until the question of coal or no coal at Grand Lake is determined once and for all. Professor Dowling had a high opinion of the Grand Lake area and recommended the starting of boring again, and if coal exists it is thought it will cover an immense area.

At Howley, the Government and the A.N.D. Co., have been boring for three years past. The Government has decided to discontinue, but are ready to hand over the sixteen inch seam uncovered to the A.N.D. Co. to operate on a royalty basis, which the A.N.D. Co. are willing to accept. The A.N.D. Co. expect to take about 10,000 tons per year from the Howley seam, which they will use at Grand Falls.

At St. George's two seams have been shown to be of commercial value under present conditions—the Jukes about 4 feet wide and the Cleary about 24 inches wide. These seams are estimated to contain 2,000,000 tons. Mr. Noel, who has been at St. George's surveying the limits, has discovered that the lines have been incorrectly drawn and that over half of the seams supposed to be in the Freenan area are in Reid's block, the section mostly demonstrated being in the Reid Block. This complicates the matter, as nothing can be done until arrangements can be completed with the Reid Nfld. Co. and possibly with the St. George's Coal Co. as well. Eight miles of railroad require to be built to connect the trunk line with this coal area.

Mr. Coaker says the track is in a fair condition all over the system. The train that brought him to town travelled over some sections at a rate of 30 miles per hour. He considers the West Coast our best farming section and believes St. George's and Bay of Islands can support a population of 250,000 by agriculture. He says it is a pity that such a large quantity of agricultural land is uncultivated, and thinks an agricultural policy to place settlers on partly improved farms will have to be undertaken sooner or later.

Within a month the South Branch coal mine will be producing 50 tons per day, and if arrangements can be entered into immediately with the R. N. Co. and St. George's Coal Co., the coal areas at Robinson's River will be producing another 50 tons daily by the end of the year, and 100 tons per day by next spring, and 300 tons per day next August.

McMurdo's Store News.

MONDAY, Aug. 23.

For a good many of our customers, Duggett and Ramsdell's Toilet Goods will need no introduction. They are recognized as in the very front rank of American specialties; and indeed, it has been in answer to several requests that we have stocked up with these goods. The line that we have just opened includes, D. & R.'s Perfect Cold Cream, in tubes (50c.) and jars (30 and 50c.); D. & R.'s Perfect Shaving Cream (this is a shaving and cold cream in one 55c.); and Poudre Amomette (assorted tins 85c.). All these goods are daintily put up, and we recommend them to our customers as worth a trial.

Seal's Report.

The S.S. Seal arrived in port Saturday night from the Labrador, having brought along some 10 passengers and a small freight. The Seal reports fish very slack north of Grady, but from Grady down there is a good sign all along the coast. At Battle Harbor fish is plentiful but there was a salt shortage which should be relieved by the Grantell trawler LR-27 which left St. Anthony on Friday last with a supply.

Susu's Passengers.

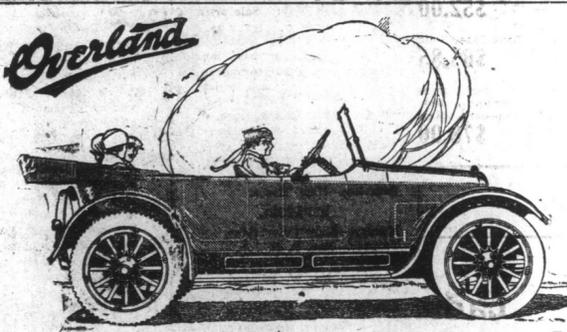

The s.s. Susu, which arrived from the Fogo mail service yesterday, brought the following passengers: Mrs. E. Vivian, C. J. Winsor, Mrs. C. J. Winsor, T. Winsor, Miss B. Winsor, E. Spurrell, L. Harding, C. Boone, Mrs. Roberts, Lloyd Roberts, Mrs. Humphries, W. Coombes, M. Dwyer, Mrs. G. G. Fitzgerald, Miss Foley (2), Miss Daws, Mrs. E. Mews, Miss B. News, K. Way, W. H. Wright, Miss J. Mainly About People.

The church in Wales, after 700 years of dependence on the See of Canterbury, has been re-established, and Dr. Alfred George Edwards, bishop of St. Asaph, who was the chief opponent of the separation from the province of Canterbury, has been enthroned as archbishop of the principality. It has been known for some time that H. G. Wells, author of "War of the Worlds," and many other books, was turning his brilliant pen to the writing of a general history of the world. Mr. Wells aims to tell in one continuous narrative the whole story of the life of mankind. He has written it, he says, because of his conviction that there is a very urgent need for a common knowledge throughout the world of the general facts of human history. Florence Walton, the musical comedy star, has been touring France and Italy by motor car. "The gaities in Paris have been seriously affected by the new tax regulating restaurants and cafes," she writes. "This has put a stop to dancing as the orchestras ask for 50 per cent. of the gross receipts. It is such a pity because Paris was fast resuming its old pre-war spirit." Miss Walton adds that motorists on the continent are being charged $1 and 1.25 a gallon for gasoline, and the garage men do not even take the trouble to wear masks and dark lanterns. MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

Wedding Bells.

LEMESSURIER-PUSHIE.

A very pretty wedding took place at the C. of E. Cathedral, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3.30 p.m., when Miss Helena Ada Gertrude, daughter of Mrs. Arthur J. LeMessurier, and Alex Duncan, son of the late Nathan Pushie (engineer of R.N.Co.) were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. E. M. LeMessurier, (of Allan Goodridge & Sons), who acted as father giver, looked charming in a pretty costume of white cashmere cloth, embroidered with silk and pearls, with trimmings of lace and orange blossoms over which she wore a bridal veil wreathed with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas, and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rita LeMessurier, and her cousin, Miss Eva Hall, who wore pretty dresses of blue and fawn silk, with black picture hats and carried bouquets of carnations and variegated flowers. The little Misses Alice Hayward and Gladys Edney acted as flower girls, looking pretty in dresses of white silk, poke bonnets and blue ribbons. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Ray Pushie, and Mr. Leonard Garland, cousin of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Brinton, while Prof. F. J. King presided at the organ in his usual faultless manner; Messrs. R. Learning and C. Noseworthy acted as ushers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, where over 50 guests were entertained, the health of the bride and groom being enthusiastically toasted. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch, and white fox furs, to the bridesmaids gold brooches flower girls necklaces, and to the groomsmen gold scarf pins. The happy couple left by the 6 p.m. train for Brigus, Carbonear and Heart's Content, where their honeymoon will be spent. The bride looked pretty in a travelling costume of navy blue cloth, and white fox furs. After their return they will leave by the S.S. Rosalind en route to California, where they will make their future home. The presents were many and costly, showing the esteem in which both bride and groom were held.

Motor Car Owners, Attention!

Mr. Claude Rendell, late of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, has been appointed collector for the Newfoundland Motor Association. The Executive of the Association hope that every motor car owner and every motor cycle owner will become a member of the Association, and all subscriptions handed Mr. Rendell will receive the best attention. It is also hoped that all firms owning motor trucks will register themselves as members of the Association. The Association, at present, has several gangs of road repairers employed keeping the Topsail Road and other roads in the vicinity of St. John's in as good a state of repair as is possible. An effort will be made to give the Waterford Bridge Road immediate attention. The special road equipment ordered from Canada and costing over ten thousand dollars, is due early in September. An experienced superintendent will come with this machinery, and when it is received it is expected to be able to keep all the roads in a permanent state of good repair. That the work of the Association deserves the commendation and support of all motor owners and, in fact, all drivers of vehicular traffic is evident.

Visiting Press Delegates.

ENTERTAINED BY LIEUT. GOVERNOR OF MANITOBA. Winnipeg, August 17.—(By Canadian Press.)—Delegates to the Imperial Press Conference closed their two days visit to Winnipeg at midnight last night with the ending of the formal dinner at which they were the guests of the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, Sir James Aikins, and the Government of the Province. The dinner was well attended by representatives of official life of the province, of the judiciary, and of the press. To-day the visiting newspaper men spent in the wheat fields of the Province. There were four addresses at last night's dinner, Sir James Aikins, who presided, traced the development of Canadian nationality since Confederation and John W. Dufoe, of the Manitoba Free Press, assured the guests that they would observe in the West evidence of a "newer Canadianism, the Canadianism of to-morrow; not hostile to the East, but we think, a little better." Lord Burnham and Sir Patrick McGrath spoke for the visitors and were eloquent in admiration of Canadian hospitality. Lord Burnham, who described Winnipeg as "the guardian angel of the Prairie Provinces," predicted that in a hundred years, "the greatest strength and power of the Empire," would be in Canada. He said Manitoba's new parliament buildings were "magnificent beyond conception." The delegates spent a busy day, seeing Winnipeg as the guests of the city and the Provincial Government.

DERBY RACE—SPORTS AND GALAXY OF AMUSEMENT—SPLENDID WEATHER—THOUSANDS IN ATTENDANCE.

The annual Bell Island garden party was held on Saturday, August 14th, and proved an unqualified success in the annals of Bell Island, winding up with a grand dance at night; while on Monday evening the finals of the Derby race and football series took place, followed by the presentation of prizes and a dance, at which the C. L. B. Band furnished the music. In the absence of Rev. Fr. J. J. McGrath, P.P., who was on visitation with His Grace Archbishop Roche, the affair was most competently managed by Rev. E. J. Rawlins, assisted by various energetic committees comprised of citizens of the parish. Early Saturday the beautiful Star Athletic Grounds were bedecked fittingly with bunting and laid out for the various sports, which included for the first time in the history of Bell Island a Derby race, which was undoubtedly the attraction of the season on the Iron Isle, and which drew thousands to the grounds, including many visitors from St. John's and other parts of Conception Bay. Weather conditions were ideal and everything went off without a hitch. Teas, suppers, refreshments, etc., were served by the ladies of the parish who, as usual, most willingly came forward with their services and by their endeavours contributed largely towards the success achieved. The following programme of sports was then gone through and competition was very keen, particularly in the football and relay races; the former being carried by the Swando Athletic Club and the latter by the C.C.C. Herewith we append the programme:

100 Yards Dash—(Prize donated by J. M. Greene, Esq., silver medal) Won by John Butler (Dominions). Time 10.4-5; 2nd, Ed. Farrell, (C.C.C.)

One-Half Mile—(Prize donated by S. E. Tuma, Esq., gold medal.) Won by Leo Kennedy (Star). Time 2.31; 2nd, Peter Jackman (Star).

Relay Race—(Prizes donated by Drs. Caracochan and Lynch.) In this race 4 teams entered with 3 men each, who ran 220 yards each man. Swandos, Star, Dominions and C.C.C. Athletic Clubs competing. After a very exciting and interesting contest the C.C.C. boys came home first, the winners being Matthew Farrell, Edward Farrell and Michael Dobbins.

Throwing Hammer—(Prize donated by Wm. F. Billingsley, Esq., gold medal.)—In this event several competed and an exhibition of skill, strength and muscle was witnessed. After the first round the contest lay between Thomas Blackwood (Scottia), and James Ryan (Scottia), and after a tie in the final Ryan won out by throwing the iron 66 feet, 4 inches, Blackwood, 55 feet, 4 inches.

Football Five—(Prize donated by Rev. Fr. McGrath. Medals donated by Mr. J. P. Kiely, manager Nickel Theatre.) The football five caused great excitement and rivalry both amongst the players and their respective supporters was very keen. In the first round the Swandos won out over the C.C.C., while the Dominions won from the Star in a very hard fought contest. In the second round the Swandos won from the Fire Brigade, while in the finals the Swandos defeated the Dominions and thus won the cup and gold medals. The excitement during the final game was at fever heat and "Rocky" and his team were loudly applauded for their victory. The winning team were: Jas. Ryan (Capt.), "Rocky" Whelan, "Din" Rose, "Georgie" George, "Bennie" Searle.

HORSE RACES.

The Horse Races provided the greatest enthusiasm, however, and the heats were closely contested. Owing to injuries, the doctor's horse could not compete at the last minute, while the race settled down to a contest between Kavanagh's, Kehoe's, Miller's and Flynn's "Carter-Scottia." "Carter" did not arrive on time to compete in the preliminaries, much to the regret of the Scottia fans. In the first heat Albert Miller's pony, jockeyed by young Ralph Martin, came home first. Kavanagh's bolted from the course and the young jockey, Kelly, was thrown, receiving a bad toss. In the second heat Kelly, plucky to the finish, came back and with Kavanagh's horse again tried conclusions against Kehoe's and Miller's. For over four laps young Kelly led and with victory in sight, in turning the last corner, his pony again balked and again bolted down the field, throwing Kelly again, but luckily without his receiving injuries. In this heat Kehoe's won out and in the final on Monday night, Kehoe's, Miller's and Kavanagh's lined up for the start. Immediately at the start, Kavanagh's jockeyed by Kelly, took the lead, but once more bolted from the course and after a most exciting finish with not six feet difference, Miller's won out from Kehoe and secured the Bell Island Championship for 1920. Young Martin deserves great credit on his good horsemanship. A free-for-all was the final event and betting odds went on Flynn's "Carter-Scottia." He was jockeyed by "Bill Stone," who proved as hard as his name and who made a spectacular spurt at the finish, but Carter insisted in going towards the grand stand instead of the winning tape and Miller passed him when assured of victory. Miller was, however, disqualified, and Stone bringing Carter home a few seconds later, was awarded first prize. In this race Kehoe's pony bolted and her jockey, young Ned Dwyer, deserves congratulations on the manner in which he clung to his pony when she was galloping wildly. Dwyer was almost thrown, but getting his feet around the horse's head and with his hands on the bridle and head down, he was whirled around the field several times till he eventually brought his horse to a standstill.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES.

At the conclusion of the final sports on Monday evening, all gathered in the Knights of Columbus Rooms in the Star Hall for the presentation of prizes, which were presented to the various winners by Rev. Fr. Rawlins, who on behalf of Rev. Fr. McGrath, in an eloquent address thanked all who assisted so materially towards the success of the affair. A feature of the presentation, which was indeed a sad item—at least for the Garden Party Fund—was that the young jockeys all became "professionals" by accepting money prizes, instead of expensive watch fobs, of which they had their choice. At the conclusion of the distribution of prizes, Fr. Rawlins, in thanking the ladies and all who assisted in the success of the Garden Party, made special reference to the grand spirit exhibited by the people of all denominations in their whole-hearted support.

With such a spirit of unity and good-will we can confidently look forward to years of happiness and prosperity for the people of Bell Island. The prizes for the horse races, which were most expensive, were very generously contributed by Messrs. J. J. Farrell, J. A. Hughes and Dr. H. A. Giovannetti, J.P. After the distribution of prizes a most enjoyable dance and sociable followed, which successfully terminated the garden party for 1920. The Committee of Management comprised: Horse Races—Starters, Messrs. Andrew Murphy, John Connors, Jas. Fynn and Sergeant J. A. McLean; Time-keepers, Dr. Giovannetti, Messrs. C. F. Taylor, J. A. Hughes and J. J. Farrell; Herald, Mr. J. M. Greene; Sports Committee—Referee Football, Mr. Ed. S. Spencer, Messrs. Jas. Connors, B. Costigan, J. J. Carow, Charlie Peddie, R. Burnham and J. M. Greene. The Field Committee was under control of Mr. Dan Steele and his able assistants and the Dance Committee comprised representatives of the Star of the Sea Society and Knights of Columbus, Messrs. Costigan and Burnham acting as floor managers.

College of Science.

PLEA THAT IT SHOULD HAVE POWER TO GRANT ITS OWN DEGREES.

At a crowded and enthusiastic meeting of the Royal College of Science, held in the Central Hall, Lord Morris moved a resolution urging the Government to give power to the College to grant an Imperial College Degree. Never in the history of the Empire, he said, was it more necessary to encourage the study of science and its application to industry. Mr. H. G. Wells, in supporting the resolution, said he thought the one thing which barred the way was the suspicion in certain quarters that the College's culture was not an all-round, broad-minded culture. Speaking of his own student days, Mr. Wells said: "I was a student at the College of Science for three years. In my second year I began to realize that the prospect of my going on with research was not very strong, and that I should have probably to teach. For that purpose it was necessary that I should get a University degree, and I shirked my three-year course in order to secure the B.Sc. degree of the London University. Could anything be more ridiculous than a student being kept out of his laboratory in order to get a degree?" Others who supported the resolution were: Sir Ernest Rutherford, Mr. J. A. Spender, Sir Richard Redmayne, and Sir Alfred Keogh. The meeting resolved to ask Mr. Balfour to receive a deputation from the students to urge that the Charter of the College should be altered in order to meet their just and unanimous claim.—London Daily News.

ELIZABETH WHELAN.
There passed away at her residence, Central Street, on Saturday night, after a lingering illness of ten months' duration, Elizabeth, wife of William J. Whelan, in the 42nd year of her age. The deceased—who previous to her being stricken down with the illness which proved fatal, enjoyed normal health—received all the aid that medical skill and loving care could give, but all proved unavailing. Mrs. Whelan was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Caul of this city. Left to mourn are a husband, five brothers and three sisters, to all of whom the Telegram extends sympathy.

BEAVER BOARD

Beaver Board is real board, real lumber, free from knots, is sanitary, draught proof, vermin proof and labor saving.

Beaver Board, unlike lath and plaster, will not crack and is not messy, it's a guaranteed product warranted to give satisfaction.

Beaver Board is particularly adapted to "Housing Plans", costs can be figured with exactitude.

The Corona Co. of New York built two model houses, using plaster in one and Beaver Board in the other, as a test.

Beaver Board was chosen as being most desirable and accordingly 98 homes were then completed with Beaver Board.

Numerous houses, offices, schools, halls, churches, etc., in Newfoundland were completed with Beaver Board.

Beaver Board is not a fad, not an experiment, it has made good; ask us for proofs.

Soviet Propaganda.

The Canadian Associated Press continues to advertise the big orders that the Russian-Soviet Government is going to place in Canada. THE FINANCIAL POST has repeatedly pointed out that the Soviet Agency in New York is not in a position to place any orders. Over two years ago their agents and printed matter told Canadians that they had $200,000,000 in gold to spend in Canada and the United States in buying for the Russian Government and that the orders would be paid for immediately the embargo was lifted and they were able to ship to Russia. Investigations showed that: first, they had not the money; next, that they had not placed a single order; and, finally, that the so-called Soviet Embassy was in charge of Ludwig Martens, who was not a Russian, but a former German officer, and that they were engaged entirely in propaganda work; also, that they were at the back of the Winnipeg strike, of the Vancouver trouble, of the Toronto troubles, and had their agents in Montreal and the Maritime Provinces stirring up strikes. It seems to make no difference to some of these men who supply the Canadian Associated Press with news that Martens has been arrested and many of his associates deported, that Nuorteva, the man who arranged this fake $5,000,000 order, was exposed by THE FINANCIAL POST and was arrested on his arrival in England. Reputable publishers have of course no sympathy for the Soviet, but they should see that their papers are not used to spread Bolshevik propaganda.

In Canada. These stories have been used to influence Washington and London, and created such a misunderstanding in the U. S. that Sir George Foster, our Minister of Trade, issued an official denial of much of the propaganda given in these despatches.—Financial Post.

BY F. O. D.

(In Saturday Night—Toronto.)
Just now there seems to be a tremendous lot of interest in yachting. Perhaps a new impulse has been given to the ancient sport by Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth and huskiest effort to lift the America's Cup. Or it may be due to an outbreak of sea-faring blood. Or, for that matter, yachting may appeal to certain adventurous classes of the population for the opportunities it offers of sailing out beyond the three-mile limit where no dull Prohibition law has domain.

Talking of Sir Thomas, do you think he really was anxious to lift the Cup, anyway? Personally, we do think so, being of an extremely simple and credulous nature. Little given to probing for obscure motives in other people's actions. It seemed to us that no man would spend all that money and undergo the agonies of having his picture taken so often, unless he really meant business. But some people seem to have thought otherwise. We met a friend of ours just under the bulletin board announcing the result of the last race—"Resolute Wins, Cup Stays in U.S."

"My, what a relief this must be to Lipton!" said our friend.

"Relief? What d'you mean by 'relief'?" we asked in not unnatural surprise. About the only "relief" we could imagine Sir Thomas desiring was the good luck to "relieve" the Americans of the Cup.

"My dear chap, think what a calamity it would have been for him, if he had won! He would have had to go on indefinitely, until they took it away from him again—in which case he would simply be regarded as a dud. Even successful defenders are never very popular. Public sympathy is nearly always with the other chap. How popular in the United States is the New York Yacht Club right now? Half the American papers have been roasting them on account of the conditions of the race, while Sir Thomas is a sort of national hero. I'll bet there are millions of patriotic Americans inundating their in-laws with Lipton's tea just to show their sympathy with him. Would they drink it if he took the old mug away with him? Certainly not."

It was a new and interesting point of view, and our friend stated it with obvious conviction. While we did not accept it in its entirety, we could not help recalling the hardly disguised growls of disapproval which went up from the exploring fraternity when the late Commodore Pery discovered the North Pole. They seemed to feel that he had spoiled the game for all of them. So long as the Pole was undiscovered there were pleasant little jaunts to the Arctic Circle, where a fellow might eat pemmican and hunt Polar bears and flirt with Eskimo lasses to his heart's content. But once the trick was turned, once an explorer had the bad taste to find the Pole and carve his initials on it and stick his national flag in the top of it, the public naturally lost interest in the whole proceedings. It wasn't a race any more. It was just a surveying job on the ice.

Possibly European yachtsmen would have felt somewhat the same way if Lipton had succeeded in lifting the Cup. That would be an end of those little excursions to New York and all the jocular hullabaloo they lead to, and they would simply have had to settle down at the proaic business of building defenders.

Now there is talk of some of our own Canadian amateur Jack-tars challenging for the America's Cup. They want to get into the game, too. But it seems to us a mistake to send a Nova Scotia boat after the trophy. Not that the blue-noses aren't excellent sailormen. That is not the point. Nova Scotia is "dry," and there would be no inducement to the New Yorkers to lose if it meant a subsequent visit to a country as arid as their own. Better send a boat from Montreal, and give notice that if it wins, the Cup will thereafter be sailed for right out in the St. Lawrence opposite the brewery.

That ought to bring results. Personally, our experience of yachting has been limited and not especially happy. We never seem to know what to wear or what to do, and what one wears seems to be even more important than what one does. For instance, the first time we were invited to a yachting party, we got into the oldest and most disreputable suit we had and a pair of "sneakers" that had been lying around in the cellar and were so shabby the plumber had disdained to steal them.

You see, we had a vision of ourself hauling on tarry ropes and breaststing the spray and tumbling into the bilge and doing all sorts of reckless and jovial sea-faring things. We thought of yachting as a rough sport in which a fellow had a filthy and amphibious but very bracing time of it, shivering his timbers and boxing the compass and all that sort of rot. Our notions of yachting had probably been derived from a youthful perusal of adventures on whalers and privateers.

When we arrived at the wharf, we found a very neat and shiny rowboat waiting for us. They called it the "tender"—possibly because a boat like that is so easy to damage. Our host was sitting in it, and when he surveyed our costume his face visibly lengthened. But he struggled heroically to live up to the traditions of bluff hospitality characteristic of those who go down to the sea in ships.

"Tumble in, old seaman," he shouted, "and we'll take you out to the Gwendoline—she's at her moorings around the point."

Very gingerly we lowered ourselves over the edge of the wharf and down the rickety ladder that was fastened there. It was not an especially seamanlike performance—rather more like an elderly spinster trusting herself to a fire-escape at a fifth-story window. But then a rowboat does look very small as seen from the top of a wharf, and there is a terrifying amount of oily water to fall into.

When we got into the boat we took a good look at our host, and noted that he was clad in spotless white ducks and a blue serge coat with brass buttons, the whole surmounted by one of those regulation yachting-caps which make even a bond-broker look like Admiral Beatty. He also took a good look at us, and—well, you know what he saw. We began to feel we had made a mistake.

It was worse when we got to the Gwendoline. She was all resplendent in white paint and polished decks and cute brass fittings, just like one of those lovely toy-boats they sell to little boys whose fathers have made a lot of money unexpectedly. The company was gathered on the deck or loitering about gracefully in the cockpit, and some of the hardy mariners were getting ready to pull up the snowy canvas into position. They were dressed like our host, as though they were prepared to jump right in and lead the cotillion at the yacht-club ball. There were several ladies, too, all in the kind of nautical costumes they make on the Rue de la Paix for about six hundred dollars each.

We clambered aboard, hoping in our heart that our foot would slip and we would sink to a watery grave right there and then. But we had no luck. We tumbled the wrong way—into the cockpit, those slippery decks are the devil to stand on when one isn't used to them. Our host dragged us out and presented us to our hostess. She seemed surprised—probably she thought we had been hired to bale the boat out or something like that. But our host was splendid. He made the very best of us. He said something light and pleasant about us being a real old salt-water doggie, one of those tarry veterans who disdained the lighter and more social aspects of sea-faring life.

Our hostess looked rather unconvinced, but we could see that she was wavering in her first judgment. That was the time for us to jump in in a breezy way and slap her on the back and call her our "heartys" and invite her to "avast." But we didn't have the nerve. We didn't even know how "avasting" should really be done. Instead, we mumbled something inarticulate, reached for her out-stretched hand, stepped on a brass arrangement for fastening ropes, and nearly plunged into the cockpit again. Our host caught us in time.

"You seem to like that place," he said in a weary sort of voice, and then turned away to give a lot of complicated orders to his brother yachtsmen.

Nobody seemed to have anything special to say to us, though we heard our hostess remarking to one of the other ladies that "newspapers are such an unconventional lot." Then they both looked at our trousers and looked hastily away. To hide our embarrassment we seized a rope—they were busy hoisting the sail. We must have pulled the wrong one, for the sail proceeded to buck and swell in the most extraordinary way. Our host got very red in the face, but he still strove to be a gentleman.

"Perhaps you had better let us do this, old man," he said, after swallowing hard once or twice. "Probably you are used to a different sort of gear."

Then we went up in front and hid behind the mainmast. We stayed there for the rest of the trip. We were very lonely, and the deck grew harder and harder after we had been sitting on it for three or four hours. In that time there wasn't any wind to speak of—not enough to frighten an America's Cup racer. But nobody seemed to mind we must have travelled two miles. They hadn't come out to do any sailing. They weren't dressed for it in the first place. They devoted themselves to light conversation, eating, and singing. We didn't take part in any of it, though someone did pass us a sandwich after a while. But we were too miserable to eat. There were times when we thought of slipping gently overboard and swimming to shore. No one would have missed us.

Altogether it was a very dreary experience. We could get all the same sensations by moving the kitchen table in beside the bath-tub and lying on it and gazing down into the placid surface below.

Naturally we resolved that if ever again we went on a yachting trip, we would not be caught in such a condition of sartorial unpreparedness. In fact, we bought a blue coat and a white cap so as to be ready—we already had a pair of white pants. We had our yachting clothes laid away in camphor for a couple of years before an opportunity arose to use them.

But finally an invitation came—oh, from another person entirely—and we got our duds out with all their pristine splendor unsubdued by anything but a faint aroma of moth-balls. When we got to the wharf this time we would have made Sir Thomas Lipton himself blue in envy.

for a yachting party. This time our host wore a torn jersey and a pair of soiled overalls. And he had nothing at all on his feet. The two other pirates who formed the crew had even less on—and dirtier. When they saw us they gave a howl of derision.

"For the love of gawd!" they shouted. "What d'you think this is—a yachting scene in a musical comedy? Get on to Willie and the crew in his pants!"

It is very hard to preserve one's dignity under such circumstances, especially as the lake proved decidedly rough and their dingy old tub pitched about in a frantic endeavor to get under the waves instead of over them—several times it nearly succeeded. The only consolation was that they did speak to us—they swore at us and once another in a way that Captain Kidd himself couldn't have bettered.

We have never gone yachting since.

An Act to Provide for the Better Obtaining of Information Respecting the Codfishery.

Be it enacted by the Governor, the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Legislative Session convened, as follows:—

1. The Master or owner of every ship, vessel, schooner, craft or boat which shall arrive at any port in Newfoundland from fishing in any of the places following, that is to say, on the Banks, on the Coast of Labrador, in the Straits of Belle Isle, or elsewhere out of Newfoundland, and on the coast of Newfoundland in the District of St. Barbe, shall within 48 hours after arrival at his destination report by telegraph at the expense of the Department from the nearest telegraph station to the Department of Marine and Fisheries at St. John's and the nearest Customs Officer, stating the quantity in quintals of fish on board such vessel.

2. As a part of said report the said Master or owner shall state whether the number of quintals reported is reckoned as of dry fish, Labrador fish, salt bulk or green fish, or otherwise as the case may be, and shall state whether it is the intention of such master or owner to cure such fish (if the same be not cured) at St. Labrador, dry Labrador, or dry Shore.

3. If any such Master or owner shall fail to report as aforesaid or shall willfully report incorrectly, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $100.00 or more than $100.00, to be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate, or in default of payment, to imprisonment not exceeding one month.

4. In publishing information or statistics of the fisheries, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries shall not be bound to make public the name or catch of any specific ship, vessel, craft or boat.

5. Every licensed exporter of codfish shall report to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries on the last day of every month, or within 48 hours thereafter, stating the quantity and quality of all fish then held in store by such exporter. The said report shall be verified by affidavit, and the said Minister shall not publish or allow any person whatsoever (except in pursuance of legal process) to have access to any such report; but the sum total of the quantities and qualities so reported shall be indicated by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to the President of the Newfoundland Board of Trade for the information and use of the Trade generally.

6. If any such exporter shall fail to report as hereinbefore provided, or shall knowingly make any false or incorrect report, he shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $1,000.00, which may be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate, or in default of payment, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months.

7. If any person publishes, writes or disseminates any false information or statistics respecting the quantity of codfish caught or held in store, or otherwise in Newfoundland or exported, he shall upon conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding One Hundred Dollars or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month for each offence.

8. All penalties recovered under this Chapter shall be paid to the Minister of Finance and Customs for the use of the Colony.

9. Any person aggrieved by any conviction under this Act may appeal to the next Session of the Supreme Court in St. John's or on Circuit upon giving notice within fourteen days of his intention so to appeal.

10. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Codfish Report Act, 1920."

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

Codfish.—The shipments for the week to foreign markets amounted to 8,882 quintals, 5,187 from St. John's and 3,795 from Change Islands. The price of hard dry shore cure No. 2 is $9 per quintal delivered at the wharf in St. John's for the present. The same fish "white naped" well cured $11.00 and will rate an extra No. 1 merchantable. Prime No. 1 merchantable over 10 inches and up to 18 inches hard dry cured will be $10.50 with black nape. Ordinary Labrador will be $7.50 in St. John's and extra No. 1, up to standard, $9.00. These prices are taken from a circular being sent out by Messrs. Job Bros. to their dealers. Codliver Oil.—There is no change in price and notwithstanding the very short supply of oil this season, there appears to be no probability of any advance. Norway has manufactured a very large supply and is pushing the sale of it in every direction. We hear that $1.50 had been paid this week, but it must have been an exceptional case, if true, as the general price is $1.20 per gallon. The export this week was 200 gallons to Quebec. Common Cod Oil.—We hear of sales at $200 per ton this week is general. A few small lots, however, brought $220. There is going to be a very small supply of this oil obtained in Newfoundland this year, owing to the very poor shore fishery and the poor yield of oil from the livers. By the S. S. "A Tremblay" 950 gallons were shipped to Quebec this week.

Lobsters.—No shipments made from St. John's this week. Very few cases coming in from the West Coast. The price quoted here is still $25.00 outright sales, and exporters express the opinion that they will not be more than this, as the demand in the United States and the price that dealers there are satisfied to give does not warrant buyers to any extent this year. Pork.—The market is showing some strength this week, which is said to be due to the political situation in Europe. The general tendency, however, is downward and there have been so far no static development to change the outlook for lower autumn prices that has prevailed all the summer. The total stocks in the United States are exceptionally large and the Packers have been greatly disappointed over both the falling off in home consumption, and shipments to Europe. Local prices range from $42.00 for Mess to $5.00 for Ham Butt.

Beef.—The market shows additional strength this week. This applies especially to Boneless for which the demand has been rather brisk of late, according to latest cables from Chicago. Most handlers of this quality are short of supplies, and Packers have none to offer for prompt shipment. The same strong tendency though in a less degree, applies to other grades to the extent of 75 cents to $1.00 per barrel according to grade. There is a fairly good supply of Boneless here. Prices of Beef run from $29 to $35 per barrel according to quality.

Flour.—The Trade is still marking time on flour and so far there are no definite and satisfactory quotations to be had for new wheat. News may arrive now any day as to new flour rates. The crop is large and the wheat is now being harvested. Meantime local importers are anxiously awaiting quotations on the new crop. Chicago option prices for December wheat during the week showed $2.35. The crop report published last week reduced the estimate fifteen million bushels.

Sugar.—There can be no change in Sugar prices unless the Government intervenes as prices are irrevocably fixed till New Year by the Food Control Board, which means that the Consumer will have to go on paying 32 cents a pound in the City and 34 to 35 cents in outports. Sugar has been offering in the States to dealers here at $20 a hundred pounds the past three weeks, but no one can move. Yesterday cables were received by holders of big accumulations begging for an offer, and this assumes that even lower than $20 would be accepted.

Molasses.—The import record for St. John's to date is 4,523 puncheons, as against 7,310 at same date last year. Fancy in puncheons is selling for $1.80 and Choice for $1.65 to $1.70. Tierces three cents and barrels five cents per gallon over the price of puncheons. The Dazle is at Barbadoes and the Sunset Glow on the way there, and it is presumed that each will bring back cargoes.

Potatoes.—The old potatoes are nearly all gone and new are now arriving. The "S. S. Rosalind" brought a considerable quantity this week from New York and Halifax, which sold at $9.50 to 10.00 per barrel. We look for lower and lower prices every week, now throughout the fall. The Potato crop in Canada is simply enormous. It is the biggest crop ever known in Quebec, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The local crop too is going to be big and we should see potatoes down to $5.00 and $4.00 a barrel in October.

AT THE BALSAM.—The following are guests at the Balsam:—Mr. W. H. Greenland, Coley a Point; Capt. H. Bartlett, Brigus; Mrs. L. Ash, Carboneau; Mrs. Ellen Dundas, Chatter; New York City; Mr. R. F. W. Strong, Ft. Grace; Miss M. E. Smith, Owen Sound, Ontario.

Weather Handicaps Fish Drying.

For two weeks the Nova Scotia coast, from Cape Sable to Cape North, has been engaged in dense fog, and coastal as well as ocean shipping has been greatly handicapped. Nova Scotia always has had its foggy periods, but this year the period is a longer one than previously and came later in the year. A shipping man stated yesterday that he never remembered the fog continuing so long. This foggy weather has not only caused the shipping men anxious hours, but also the fishermen, who are trying to get their fish dried. This is particularly true of Lunenburg County where it was estimated by a coastal captain yesterday that from 30,000 to 40,000 quintals of fish are being dried at this time. The fishermen cannot proceed with their daily labor of laying the fish out in the morning and picking them up again at night, owing to the fog. The result is that the fish are stacked on a continuous damp and foggy period means ruin.—Morning Chronicle.

The Stock Market!

Within the last fortnight the "bears" made the most of the Polish-Russian situation by hammering security values in many instances to the lowest prices for over a year. This war scare however, seems to be over-estimated and it is quite evident that the general market has discounted the worst that could happen, as the London Stock Exchange has not manifested any appreciable anxiety over the situation.

While prices are low the time is ripe for investors to pick up bargains or to average down on stocks already purchased. We are fully equipped to handle your orders either outright or on margin, and will be pleased to submit a list of good purchases upon request.

Bedrooms & Beds

There's nothing more important to the bedroom than the Bed itself, is there? From the point of usefulness or ornament it ranks first. Does your Bed suit your taste? Does it harmonize with your room? Does it give you the sleep-comfort you need? No? Well, then it's time to discard it and get another, quick.

We are showing All-Brass, Brass and Enamel, and All-Enamel Beds in all sizes and very fine designs. Each and all of which Beds can be fitted with Springs and Wool or Felt Mattresses if desired.

Prices quoted on request.
