DRY CHEEKS AND GOOD HEALTH
Come Through Keeping the Blood in a Rich, Red and Pure Condition.

When a girl—or a woman—finds her face fading, when her cheeks and lips grow pale, and she gets short of breath, and her heart palpitates after the slightest exertion, or under the least excitement, it means that she is suffering from an anemia—thin, watery blood. Headaches and backache frequently accompany this condition, and nervousness is in the foreground.

There is a remedy for this condition, it is to get the blood, and for this purpose there is no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They build up and give the blood, bring brightness to the face, color to the cheeks, and a general feeling of renewed health and energy. Only other treatment needed is plenty of sunlight, moderate exercise and good food. The girl or woman who uses this treatment a fair trial will soon herself enjoy perfect health. Mrs. M. A. Shook, R. R. No. 1, Lyndhurst, N. J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I believe they saved my daughter's life. She was terribly run down, pale, and despondent, and people who considered her in a decline. The doctor who treated her did not help her, and then I decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This decision proved a wise one, for before six boxes used she was much better. I got six boxes, and before they were gone was in the best of health. When she used the pills she weighed 90 pounds, and under their use her weight increased to 127 pounds. I strongly urge all mothers of weak girls to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at any dealer in medicine, or by mail. A box or six boxes for $2.50. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass.

THIS IS garden party week.

Ford size guaranteed tires at $17.00 up.—RAY MORNINGSTAR.

NEXT Tuesday is Dominion Day and a statutory holiday.

THE July and August meetings of Tecumseh Chapter, I.O.D.E., have been cancelled by order of the executive.

RUNNING and Tennis Shoes for women and children. All sizes, best make.—P. DODDS & SON.

DETROIT has given up the idea of holding a World's Fair in 1922. The business men of the city opposed it.

THE Andrews Wire Works Co. staff and employees will hold their annual picnic to Pt. Frank next Saturday.

A CORNELL professor says the world will freeze solid within a few thousand years. Wonder if it will make ice any cheaper?

It is to be hoped that that 1000 mile hole in the sun does not get any larger if the heat is governed by the size of the hole, as astronomers aver.

WITH a Waterworks system the cost of oil for the streets will be saved. This is getting to be a heavy expense and should be taken into consideration when you cast your vote on Monday next.

JUNE, leafy June, with its roses and weddings and all the rest of it will soon be gone. Where in the world could you beat old Ontario at this glorious time of year?

HELP WANTED—Male and female. Steady work. Good pay. Nine hours per day, five hours Saturdays. The best of working conditions. See W. L. MILLAR, Superintendent, The Andrews Wire Works of Canada, Ltd.

A FAR greater trade in Canadian farm stuffs is done in our own cities and towns than is done abroad. This fact is mentioned by the Canadian Trade Commission, not minimize exports but to show the unrecognized importance of our home markets.

"You can't rub rheumatism out," says an article in a Toronto paper. No, nor drive it out, nor coax it out, nor frighten it out, nor get it out by any means under the sun yet discovered. It may occasionally go away on a visit, but it is certain to come back as an undesired cat.

AT Washington reception a lady whispered in a shocked voice to Senator Nelson: "Look at that girl! I never saw such a décolleté blouse, and such a short skirt, and such transparent stockings. I'm shocked beyond words, for I always thought her a very quiet creature."

"Perhaps," laughed Senator Nelson, "she is one of those who believe and practice the good old saying that young girls should be seen and not heard."

THE wide lawns, beautiful flowers and luxuriant shrubbery of Mr. A. G. Brown's residence have seldom shown to such advantage as on last Friday evening when they were so hospitably thrown open to the public and Tecumseh Chapter, I.O.D.E., added to the general attractiveness by serving a delicious supper, in which strawberries (donated by Mrs. Brown) formed the leading feature. Guests were present from Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon and Capt. Bury Binks, who is visiting at Mr. E. D. Swift's, and who has lately returned from overseas, contributed very materially to the success of the evening by playing several piano solos with his well-remembered brilliancy. The proceeds of the social amounted to $20.

WITH the rapidly increasing number of autos the dust is getting worse each year. With a plentiful supply of water at each street corner the entire town could be sprinkled throughout the dry season at less expense than oil for the main street.

THE funeral of the late Mrs. Elijah Lambert was held from the family residence, Simcoe street, on Thursday afternoon of last week at the Watford cemetery and was private. Rev. J. C. Forster conducted the service, assisted by Rev. E. H. Sawers. The pallbearers were six nephews, C. Boyle, R. Boyle, T. Ward, C. Wright, J. Lambert, and W. Lambert. Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. James Ward, Mrs. John Wright, D. Lambert and T. Ward of Oil Springs; Mrs. D. Boyle, C. R. Boyle of Port Huron, Mrs. Ladell of Forest, C. J. and W. Lambert of Longwood, Mr. and Mrs. Agnew of Toronto, Gordon Lambert of Detroit.

THERE is a good deal of speculation going on about the probable effect of the Senate's stand upon the coming referendum in Ontario. It is considered altogether probable that the blocking of the Federal order will mean a verdict of "No" to all four questions to be submitted. It is reasoned that the man who would have voted for one of the middle courses, believing that an extreme prohibition law was not advisable, will now favor the Ontario Temperance Act as it stands. He will not favor further changes for securing liquor when any man may readily have it delivered to his home. Government sale in shops for home consumption will not interest the average man much when he is able to get it in other ways.

THE DOMINION is fifty-two years old next Tuesday.

ALVINSTON lawn bowlers play a league game at Watford next Wednesday.

WHITE SHOES and Oxfords for women and children. All summer shoes at a reduction.—P. DODDS & SON.

THE SARNIA TUNNEL station will in future be known as Sarnia. The change comes into effect next Sunday.

REV. MR. RATCLIFFE, of Arkona, will occupy the Presbyterian church pulpits at Watford and Knox, Watford, next Sunday, morning, afternoon and evening.

WATERWORKS will make a substantial reduction in your fire insurance premiums. Take this into consideration when you record your vote on June 30th—next Monday.

UNCLE RASTUS says: "The politician these days am like ma turkey gobbler—he hops up on de fence and makes observations an' tries to hop down on de side where am de mos' co'n."

REV. W. J. FORD of Glencoe and Mrs. Hopkins of Hamilton were united in marriage at that city on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Hopkins formerly resided in Glencoe.

THERE were thirty-one autos parked on the government lot at 10 o'clock last Saturday night. It is a nice, convenient place to park cars and would be still better if the weeds thereon were cut.

THE one-hundred-year old hand engine is about on its last legs. What do the ratepayers intend doing about fire protection? Are you going to risk the chance of all the end of the month. The property wiped out some stormy night or be on the safe side. The Waterworks proposition is before you as a solution. It is for you to decide next Monday.

THE BRITISH army clothing department have made the first issue of a ribbon for the new general war service medal. The decoration will be issued when ready, to all men and women who have served anywhere during the war in any capacity. The Allied Victory Medal ribbon and design, which have also been decided upon, will be issued only to those who have served in a theatre of war.

THERE is a great demand for farm help in Ontario, and the High School boys and girls, who, during the past two seasons, were allowed to leave school early in June in order to help fill the gap, are greatly missed this year owing to the regulations being fulfilled in pre-war years requiring their attendance at exams. until the end of the month. The provincial bureaus cannot begin to cope with the demands for adult labor that are coming from nearly all rural sections in addition to the requests for the boys and girls for lighter work.

MRS. J. J. LOVE of Hespeler will give an address in the Methodist school room here on the subject of "Our Aims and Hindrances," on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. THREE more of Watford citizen soldiers arrived home this week, Murray Mitchell, Walter Restorick and Samuel McLung, all in the best of health. The last named was a member of Lambton's 149th and was eye to three years' service. Walter Restorick joined the 63rd Battery and was on the battle front about two years, and Murray Mitchell was attached to a Victoria battalion and was overseas for about a year. They have all done their bit for King and Country and their services are duly appreciated by those who stayed at home, who extend to them a hearty welcome home.

HAVE you ever heard of "The Miracle Nation of the World"? Do you know the nation that is going to surprise the world? On Sunday evening in the Watford Congregational Church the pastor, Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner, is going to tell about this wonderful nation, in his series of messages on "Prophecy and the Present World Crisis," this one being "No. 3, God's Plan for the Jews." The World's future is bound up so inseparably with the destiny of the Jewish nation that we need to keep our eye on the Jew. You are invited to the service. Bring your Bible with you. The morning topic will be "Voices of God," being the second of the series of "Songs of the Heart."

A CONNECTICUT soldier, Gunner Harry Smith, who enlisted in the Canadian army, writes the New York Times expressing his gratitude for his treatment by this Dominion. He is worth quoting: "I was discharged one hour after arriving in Canada from overseas, and equipped with my first month's gratuity allowances, transportation, and service badge, was on my way home to the United States in 'jazz time.' We were also allowed $85 for civilian clothing. I am now receiving $70 and my wife $30 per month for the time stated. My wife received $30 per month during my absence plus foreign exchange money. I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful country which treated us American volunteers like 'gentlemen.' Gunner Smith, who feels he was treated like a gentleman, has acknowledged it like one.

WORD has been received that Gunner Murray Forster who has been with the North Russian Expeditionary Force at Archangel arrived in England last Friday and has gone on a short visit to Belfast, Ireland.

WITH a Waterworks system installed the Andrews Wire Co. will increase their plant and employ more hands. Remember this when you cast your vote next Monday.

THE Methodist garden party held on the church grounds on Tuesday evening was a splendid success in every sense of the word. The weather was ideal and the arrangement for convenience and comfort of the great throng of people attending from miles in every direction was splendid. The supper could not be surpassed and too much cannot be said for the character and quality of the program which was given entirely by local artists excepting several readings by Rev. J. C. Reed B. A. of Strathroy. The proceeds were highly satisfactory. All were much pleased with the festival.

Brakeman Loses Both Legs

J. N. Smith, of Sarnia, suffered the loss of both legs as a result of his stepping from behind the freight train on which he was working, directly in front of the Petrolia train at Wyoming at 9 p.m. Saturday night.

He was hurried to the Sarnia General Hospital in a caboose and Dr. Hayes found it necessary to amputate both his legs. His condition is reported favorable. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Smith, 413 Wellington street, Sarnia, a brother of Walnut, and nephew of Wm. Smith of 6th line. He is about 20 years old.

Rev. S. J. T. Fortner preached in the Methodist Church, Strathroy, last Sunday.

J. E. Davis, Sutorville, who is with the Robert Simpson Co., has gone to Regina where he has charge of the drug, toilet goods, stationary and hardware departments at the Company's Regina branch.

A pretty marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hill, con. 9, Brooke, on Wednesday, June 11th, when their daughter, Carrie, was united in marriage to Mr. Archie Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell, of Brooke. About fifty guests were present.

L.O.L. No. 1029, Warwick Union, will attend divine service in Christ Church, Sutorville, on July 6th at 3 o'clock p. m. All sister lodges are invited to attend. The brethren will assemble at the home of Thos. H. Lucas at 2:30 and from there march to the church.—JOHN SAUNDERS, Master.

The lawn social held at Sutorville, on Tuesday evening on the lawn of Mrs. J. H. Lucas was largely attended. The gate receipts amounting to nearly $250.00. A first-class musical program was given by Mr. Cameron of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. McLeish of Adelaide, Capt. Bury C. Binks acting as accompanist. Addresses were given by Dr. Martin M. P. P., and others. The Petrolia Orchestra was present and gave many selections. Mr. John Farrell was very much at home in the chair.

A most delightful anniversary was held in the Salem Methodist church last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Donnelly, of Alvinston, preached in morning and evening to very appreciative audiences. On Monday evening a lawn social was held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid on the lawn of Mr. Jas. Fair, ideal for such an event. After an elaborate supper the audience was entertained by The Brunswick Trio, of London, and Miss Tanner, elocutionist of Petrolia. The crowd expressed its appreciation by many hearty applause.

The Walnut garden party held on the spacious lawn of Mr. Jno. Zavitz last Friday evening was a decided success. A very large crowd attended and a bountiful supper was served. So abundant was the supply that it was a surprise to the participants. The program was delightfully entertaining throughout, and was of an exceptionally high order, characteristic of Prof. Gordon. The usual rag-time stuff was eliminated and the audience was treated to two and a half hours of classical, vocal and instrumental entertainment furnished by Prof. Gordon's orchestra of Strathroy. The gate receipts amounted to nearly two hundred dollars.

There was a big time at the barn raising on the old Reycraft farm, lot 6, con. 12, now the property of J. W. Bryce, on Friday last. Tom Hately and Sanford Lucas were the captains and the race was a close one, Tom's side winning. Everything went together like clockwork. After the last tap was given there was a road race to the house for supper. There were over twenty autos and about as many horse drawn rigs, the first man arriving at the goal being Jacob Saunders. All present did full justice to the plentiful supply of choice victuals provided by host and hostess and nicely served by the ladies. The barn is being erected for Leon B. Palmer, grand-nephew to Mr. Bryce, who recently returned from France. The framers are T. J. Oakes of Inwood and Wm. Henderson of Brooke, brother-in-law and nephew, respectively, to Mr. Bryce. Everyone had a good time and the raising will be long remembered by all who were present.

Leamington Daughters of the Empire met with a deficit of $100 in bringing the Dominion Chautauqua to that town.

Patriotism and Profit

It is patriotic to buy War Savings Stamps because Canada must have money for reconstruction.

But it is also profitable to buy War Savings Stamps because you are investing in Government Bonds yielding over 4 1/2%.

You don't need to be a capitalist. You can start with 25 cents. Buy a Thrift Stamp for a quarter. When you have sixteen of them, exchange them for a War Savings Stamp, and you will have laid the foundation of a solid investment with your odd savings.

You can add to this investment as often as you save $4.00, and in 1924 the Government will pay $5.00 for every War Savings Stamp you buy now for $4.00 odd.

This is the biggest opportunity ever afforded to wage earners to become investors.

Make Your Savings Serve You and Serve Your Country—Invest Them in War Savings Stamps.

War Savings Stamps can be bought wherever this sign is displayed.

THE DOUKHOBOR.

Strange Citizens of the Far West May Move Again.

If the published reports from Western Canada concerning contemplated changes in the ownership of Doukhobor lands in favor of Canadian soldier settlers are true, one more migration, total or partial, of these Russian peasant communities may yet be witnessed. And so the question is instinctively raised, Whither would they go?

One has associated the Doukhobors so long and definitely with Western Canada that the part of their career which has been the most formative in their history is apt to be overlooked. Their manner of life in the sparsely populated prairie sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, or amid the partially cleared but potentially fertile valleys of British Columbia, is the direct outcome of those peculiar conditions which they were compelled to endure in their native Russia. An agricultural folk, with the instinct for settlement highly developed, their migratory movements began when Tsar Alexander I banished the Doukhobortsy, as the community is more correctly termed, to the banks of the River Molochnava, in the neighborhood of the Crimea. Their original home was Kharkov, a city several hundred miles to the southwest of Moscow. The movement south so rapidly from his common centre that governmental hostility was aroused against them, and their enforced settlement on the Molochnava was the result.

Just 100 years ago, the Russian Government resumed its hostile measures, which culminated in the final deportation of the community to Transcaucasia; Pobiedonostsev's policy of bringing all religious elements of the empire into conformity with Greek Catholicism being responsible for the severities which attracted the world's attention to the Doukhobors in the nineties. Their refusal to obey the law afforded a pretext for this persecution. In the inhospitable and barren region to which they had been banished, and which was to be their final home in Europe, they nevertheless, by dint of sober living and dogged perseverance in the face of perpetual hardship, managed to prosper. In 1895, burning their weapons and refusing to submit to the tyrannies of the Cossack soldiers. Eventually, through the good offices of Count Tolstoy and of the Society of Friends in England, some 8,000 were despatched as emigrants to Canada, and there again they not only toiled and thrived, but succeeded, where others indubitably would have failed, in converting to privately used hundreds of acres of apparently waste land. They amassed comparative wealth as a community, and despised it as individuals. They paid their way. They bought land in province after province, and now they are almost in sight of the waters of the Pacific.

The Doukhobors are a people exiled from their original home, but one cannot live in their vicinity without receiving the impression that they have long lost the sense of country, as the average person understands it. One asks himself: "Are these Russians?" and finds oneself answering: "Scarcely." And if they are not Russians in their allegiance, they seem to be just as improbable Canadians. Standing in their presence, talking with them, watching the men and women at work from morning

THE RIGHT IN THEIR RESPECTS, OF partaking of the rude, rough hospitality of their community houses, this peculiar neutrality does not strike one as difficult to understand. The community is exactly what it is, unprogressive if not stagnant, partly through its odd religious convictions, partly through the stress of political persecution which made its early Motherland impossible to it. The Doukhobors are strangely out of sympathy with the average man's ambitions, or wholly unconscious of them. The one thing certain is that they are peasants. They evidently love work for work's sake, and not for what it may bring to them in this world's goods. They apparently see very little horizon above the furrow which they are ever throwing up. They crave no fortune, no ultimate migration to the city, with its stimulating pleasures, its intellectual entertainment, the thousand and one delights that come in the course of a life spent in the crowded highways of men.

Doukhoborland is truly a topsyturvy world. Sitting by the great steams of the Doukhobors, one is strangely conscious that where the Doukhobor is, there is his home. Put him elsewhere, and like the spider which has found his web rudely disturbed or rent, and mends the torn meshes again and again, he will, out of the compulsion of that simple, primal instinct of his, toil and spin as if nothing had happened, and as if toil were the one thing that counted in the sum total of his universe.

A Glorious Record.

The magnificent record of Canada's national game was made the subject of Brig.-Gen. Gunn in a recent speech. He said that the editor of one of Canada's leading papers had informed him that lacrosse had a larger proportionate representation at the front than any other game played in the Dominion. It was due to the manner in which lacrosse players had responded to the call to enlist that the game had languished since 1914. It had the distinction of being the only game in Canada to be practically killed out by the war.

Young Breeding Cattle for Belgium.

Officials of the Belgian Government are in the West in an effort to buy 50,000 young breeding cattle as part of the plan of that nation to rehabilitate its dairying industry, according to well defined rumors in live stock circles.

Traveling.

It takes a powerful locomotive drawing a train of 10 passenger cars, rises a distance of five miles to reach a speed of 60 miles an hour on a straight and level track. The brakes will stop the train in 700 feet.

Warts are unsightly blemishes, and corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them.

GOOD POINTS IN AMERICANS

Mexican Recognizes Attributes He Believes Latins Might Copy to Their Advantage.

Let us recognize this: The poetry of the American character is shown in four devotions—to women, to children, to trees and to birds. These men, whom many people unjustly suppose to be rude; these men, who make millions; these men, who maintain the trails through immense deserts; who build up formidable industries, have in their spirit these four devotions, which honor them vastly and which not a few of us Latins would like to have for the better honor and embellishment of our common existence.

There are in compensation many children and flocks of birds. Children are the kings of the parks. Everything there is for them. They rule over all, and you may see them, as I did, in Rock Creek park (Washington), with their naked legs wading in the many small streams and shouting charmingly while splashing in the crystal of the water. Notwithstanding they are smaller than the children, the birds are little kings as well. Little kings that are respected not only in the air but on the ground. Sparrows I have found on the sidewalks among the hurrying throngs of people, jumping and hopping about—Carlos, Gonzales Pena, in Universal Illustrated, Mexico City.

One's Own Interests.

The woman no longer young who is earning her livelihood should make it a point to save a certain portion of her salary weekly, no matter how small it may be. Systematic saving leads to habits of thrift and gives the person dependent upon her own efforts a feeling of security. Furthermore, the woman past her first youth will do well to pass by many dress fads of the hour. Fashion is as wavering and as changeable as an April day, and the woman who must toil on alone will assuredly serve her best interests by clinging to quiet, conservative effects.—Exchange.

Special Pleading.

Mrs. Pester—You never pay me any compliments on my appearance as you did when we were first married.

Her Husband—That's all right. I paid fully in advance then.

MAN CONVICTED OF NEGLIGENCE IS EMANCIPATED AFTER NEW TRIAL.

A case which deserves much thoughtful consideration is that of Wm. H. Barron, 103 Morgan Street, Bennington. For ten years Mr. Barron suffered the agonies caused by Rheumatism. At times he was bound hand and foot by the grip of Rheumatic pains. On the advice of a friend he stood for a new trial and used T.R.C.'s.

Read what he has to say:—

"I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for ten years. Have been so bad at times I could not move hand or foot for months. A friend advised me to try Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules, and I have been thankful ever since. They worked wonders for me, and I have never felt any return of the disease."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Salmon In Puget Sound.
L. H. Darwin, State Fish Commissioner of Washington State, says the signing of a treaty between the United States and Canada for the protection and replenishment of the sockeye salmon in Puget Sound and British Columbia waters depends largely on the action to be taken by the Washington State Legislature at Olympia. Nothing, he says, has so far been done in regard to recommendation of the United States and Canadian Governments that have been forwarded to Olympia. The proposed federal recommendations are the result of the work of the joint American-Canadian commission which met in Seattle last year. Similar regulations will be submitted to the Legislature of British Columbia, and, if adopted, a treaty will be drawn up between the two countries. If the State of Washington fails to take action at the present session, nothing can be done for a year. So far, there is no knowledge of the proposed arrangement being considered by the Provincial Legislature. It is acknowledged by all the fisheries interests affected in the Puget Sound and British Columbia areas that drastic action is necessary if the sockeye salmon supply is not to be eliminated. Joint action must be taken by Ottawa and Washington to make any conservation method have the desired results. The sockeye spawning beds are mainly in the Fraser river in British Columbia, so that action by the Canadian and Provincial Governments is essential.

A Venturesome Calf.
A seven-months-old calf belonging to D. Ridwell, 6th concession, Uxbridge, climbed on to a straw stack, then scrambled to the roof of the driving house; from this it was only a step to the roof of the stable and from the stable roof it got on to the barn. Not satisfied, it scrambled to the hip or peak of the barn, slipped down the other side, and fell 15 feet to the ground, receiving injuries so serious that it had to be killed. The calf was well bred.

Oh! Such Pain! dizzy—dragged-down! With dull headache, backache—racking with pain here or there—a poor woman, she's one of many. On those days each month, when in other circumstances she would go to bed, she must still be at the desk or counter, or struggle through the day as best she may with her household or her family cares. Usually she who feels those dragging-down or dizzy symptoms, and other pains caused by womanly disease, can be cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the cause of these pains. Faded, jaded, tired, overworked, weak, nervous, delicate women are helped to strength and health by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. In liquid or tablets.

CHATHAM, ONT.—"Being a nurse I have had occasion to use 'Favorite Prescription' quite a lot. I recommend it to my patients and it has been a wonderful help to many of them. I never knew of a case where it failed. I have a patient who is using it now and is doing fine. I have taken it myself and got the very best results. I consider it the best medicine there is for women who are ailing."—Mrs. EDITH MOORE, 50 Devere Street.

ELECTRIC TIME SAVER WASHER

THIS IS THE SAFE WAY TO DO YOUR WASHING

Many housewives prefer to keep the washing in the home. This is the safe and sanitary way. Clothes sent out to be washed are mixed with everybody's, and come in contact with contaminated linen. Also by keeping the washing in the home you can supervise it closely and often prevent the ruin of some delicate garment. Clothes last much longer when washed in the home.

With a Time Saver Electric Washer you can easily get all the washing done in your own home. It saves three whole hours on wash day and makes the day an easy one. Both washer and wringer are driven by electric power and run for 2c. an hour. It is moderate in price. It pays back its cost in a year in the saving of laundry bills or washer woman's wages. We have a machine in the store for you. Let us demonstrate it in your home. Phone or call.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

An event of unusual interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Millar, of Harriston, on Monday, June 16th, when the golden anniversary of their marriage was celebrated.
Mr. and Mrs. Millar were both born in Godrich township, Huron county. Mr. Millar was born on August 1, 1842, the son of Jacob and Catherine Millar (nee Bible). Mrs. Millar was born on January 28th, 1848, the daughter of George and Mary Hanley (nee Bacom). Their wedding took place at the parental home of Mrs. Millar, Rev. J. Shaw officiating. They resided in Clinton for a number of years and in the fall of 1878 came to Harriston. Their union was blessed with eight children, six of whom are living. They are: Emma (Mrs. W. Wiggins) of Park River, N.D.; Etta (Mrs. H. Carlisle) of Winnipeg; Catherine (Mrs. A. Embrey) of Locust Hill, Ont.; W. Loftus Millar, of Watford; Pearl (Mrs. Stewart Hood) of Toronto; and A. Leslie Millar, of Hanover, Ont. The second daughter, Evelyn, died about 20 years ago and a son Harvey died in infancy. There are 12 grandchildren. With the exception of Mrs. Embrey all the family were present at the anniversary.
The others present for the occasion were Mrs. Loftus Millar and three children, Mrs. Leslie Millar, Stewart Hood and two children, Howard Carlisle, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grisch of Harriston.
At the conclusion of the dinner the bride of fifty years ago cut the wedding cake, which had been artistically decorated, and a toast to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Millar was drunk. The gift from the family was a handsome Brunswick gramophone. Mr. Leslie Millar made the presentation in a few touching and well chosen words and Mr. Loftus Millar, on behalf of the parents, replied. Mr. Grisch also made a brief congratulatory speech.
Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. George Green, of Drayton, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkinson, of Swift Current, Sask., came to tender their congratulations. Mr. Green is a nephew and Mrs. Jenkinson a niece of Mrs. Millar.

The bride was gowned in white silk crepe de chene, with pearl and fringe trimmings, and travelled in a sand-colored serge suit, with flesh-colored crepe de chene blouse and large white Milan hat. The happy couple are spending a few days in eastern points, after which they will be at home to their friends on the 10th con.

The Florence Patriotic League disbanded with a social function.
Newbury, Wardsville and Mosa will unite in a monster soldiers' home coming celebration some time in August.
The bylaw voted on to enlarge the town hall at Wyoming at a cost of $3000 was carried by a majority of one.
Geo. Eccleson, of London, is building a 50x150 ft. cement block dance hall at Grand Bend. It will have a 10-ft. verandah all round.
The Highgate hotel, which has been closed for the past two years, is now open and ready to supply the requirements of the travelling public.
Wyoming has secured a resident dentist through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Alvin W. Jones is his name and he has just returned from Greece.
Mrs. Nelson George of Sarnia is dead, following an accident in which the car she was driving colliding with a street car last Saturday afternoon.
The Misses Stapleton of Petrolea lost their house and contents by fire on Tuesday night of last week. Only a few articles of furniture were saved.
Windsor has formed a Liberty League to fight the Lord's Day Alliance on the issue of Sunday aeroplanes and the sale of newspapers and ice cream.
Among the list of graduates of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons, we notice the name of Lucy Grace Neelands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neelands, 12th con. of Plympton.
Dr. E. T. Adams, of Toronto, who served in France with the sanitary corps of the Canadian army for more than two years, has been appointed medical health officer for the Canadian border district, recently created by special act of the Ontario legislature.
The Soldiers' Monument to be erected at Alvinston will cost $4,000. It will be in the form of a peace memorial, showing a soldier shedding the clothes of war and sheathing a sword. It will be of Scotch granite.
Frank Thompson secured a separation from his wife, formerly Mrs. Oakes, in Police Magistrate Kelly's court, Petrolea, last week. He is to pay her $5 a week and gets the custody of his two children, Mrs. Thompson retaining her own two children by a previous marriage.
The hot weather has caused the weeds in the Marsh onion fields to grow like magic and it is only by extra effort that they can be kept under control. J. A. Campbell, one of the heaviest growers, finding it difficult to secure help, has had nearly 100 school boys at work weeding, paying them $3 per day.
The wattle fly, which is supposed to have been brought here by eastern cattle, is beginning to cause trouble among cattle in some parts of the county. The fly lays an egg in the skin of the animal. This hatches out and causes a lump to form the size of a walnut. The grub grows and eats its way around under the skin, unless squeezed out by hand, or the lump is rubbed with axle grease, which closes the tiny aperture in the skin of the animal through which the insect gets air, and it dies. If not gone after vigorously it will cause much trouble.

HAD UNIQUE HONOR.

Toronto Officer Led Way Into Sea of Marmora.

The first unit of the British navy to pass up to ports on the Sea of Marmora after the declaration of the armistice was a motor patrol launch, which was in command of a Canadian officer—Lieut. Lawrence Goad, of the Royal Motor Boat Patrol, who comes from Toronto.

As the launch landed its crew, the Greek women of the district strewed
the way with flowers, and an old Greek priest came and paid homage.
Evidences of the Turkish abominations were to be seen on the passage through the Dardanelles, the bodies of Anzacs and Imperial troops, who had fallen in the glorious attempt at Gallipoli, having been dug up merely for the clothing which was upon them.

At the time the armistice was signed Lieut. Goad was patrolling the Bulgarian coast. A great attack had been planned, and preliminary preparations were being made, but the cessation of hostilities frustrated this.
For over three years Lieut. Goad had been on this patrol work in the Aegean Sea. At Mudros he frequently came in contact with the Canadian hospitals, one of which came from Toronto. In addition to keeping a constant vigilance for mines and submarines, he carried British spies, landed them, and then picked them up again when they had spent a week or two on shore. He was busy on mine sweeping after peace was declared, and said there were probably about ten thousand mines strewn in these seas.

This record is more interesting when the circumstances surrounding his joining the navy are known. A Toronto friend in London, Mr. Lachlan Gibb—approached the Admiralty and enquired whether Mr. Goad could enter the Royal Motorboat Patrol.
The latter had had considerable yachting experience. A verbal assurance was given, and Mr. Goad reached London, and went with confidence, to the Admiralty. But there was a rebuff; there was no room, it was said, and he could not be accepted.

The sympathy of the late Earl Grey was enlisted, and through the medium of his nephew, Capt. Rex Benson, Whitehall red tape was finally vanquished. Lieut. Goad was put in charge of a patrol. It was only a converted collier. At Malta waiting. These "got" two of the colliers, but Lieut. Goad's was the lucky third, though he had that trying experience of seeing his companions hit while, acting under Admirality orders, they were obliged to get themselves out of danger.

With him was also A. C. Turner, of Toronto, but although they were both accepted, the ways parted after the initial stages. After three years of such active service without a leave, Lieut. Goad has returned to be demobilized.

HUN CHILDREN DECEIVED.

What Their Geographies Taught
About Canada.

Germany has captured all the United States and a part of Canada, startlingly announces the Rocky Mountain News. The conquest took place ten years ago, all on the quiet and unknown to the inhabitants. The Kaiser at the time admitted the occupation and subjection of this territory and issued maps for the edification of the little Hunns in the public schools of the atherland, whose able schools left them believing that the select and rich parts of the world belonged "by divine right" to the German people, and all the rest was inhabited by swine and heathen.

But America has at last come to the full knowledge of its predicament by reference to page 55 map
No. 1, of the Volksschul-Atlas von C.
Diencke (public school atlas), used in the schools of Germany ten years ago.

As the youthful Hun struggled through his geography lesson he became "enlightened" about the world.
He knew Germany, for he had seen the great pompous dignity of its emperor reviewing the imperial troops,
Germany was a reality to the child.
But about the rest of the world, Bah!
They were but then and "low brows."
And then the teacher came to page 5 of the lesson and then to map No. 1.
It is titled "Verteilung der Men-schenrassen," or the division of the human race. In great, stirring red ink the pupil was at once attracted to a vast area covering the whole of the United States and almost half of Canada.

And across the whole was written "Germanen," meaning Germans. To the north was a strip of green designating that there was the home of the "Noramericanische Indianer," meaning the North American Indians.

But the skillful art of lying, even in the face of an untruth, because they thought they could get away with it, led the aughty ones of Germany to step farther, and behold, the race that gave to Germany the race and knowledge of telephones and first telegraphs, the submarine and airplane, through American inventions, was transformed into "heathen."

While wall papering one day recently,
Mrs. McKellar, Alvinston, had the misfortune to fall and fracture three ribs.

COLD AIDS EXPLORERS.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson Explains the Reason.

One of the curious errors about the north that are prevalent among those few who have any ideas about the north at all, writes Vilhjalmur Stefansson in Harper's Magazine, is that cold is the chief enemy we have to fight beyond the Arctic Circle. I am sure that all those who have traveled extensively on the moving polar ice would agree with me that the cold is our best friend. For that reason February is a better month than March for sledge travel, and January would be as good as February were it not for the fact that it is then too dark for safe working among broken ice, where waterholes are an danger everywhere. In April, when the temperature, seldom goes lower than 30 degrees below zero for a night, if a gale breaks up the ice, as often happens, forming open leads that crisscross each other in all directions, it takes several days for the frost to cement the broken places and form ice over the lanes, which are impassable months while they remain unfrozen, but which become smooth boulevards when covered by six inches of young ice. In February, when the temperature is seldom above—30 degrees and frequently goes down to—50 degrees, the same lanes would freeze over in a night, saving many a tedious delay.

It was therefore heart-breaking to lose by the delays in outfitting, as it proved, the whole month of March, for, although we were ready to start on the 22nd, a gale which had just swept the country had broken up all the ice to eastward, and with regular March temperature dropped to zero and occasionally went as high as 28 degrees above.
With regular March temperature
—30 degrees, the gale would have delayed us only two or three days.

Aircraft for Surveys.

Among the peace time possibilities of aircraft are forest fire patrol and aerial photography. It is now expected that fire patrols by flying boats will be established during the current year by the British Columbia Forest Branch and by one or more of the forest protective associations of Quebec, assisted by the Quebec Government. The St. Maurice Forest Protective Association is the leader in this respect in the east, as the British Columbia Forest Branch has proved in the west. It is believed that there are large possibilities also in connection with aerial fire patrol
on Dominion lands in the west, through the Dominion Forestry and Parks Branches. Many men, whose experience in aviation overseas shortly after the war, have expressed thoroughly practical opinions, state that, beyond question, these things are eminently feasible.

Similarly, there is undoubtedly a large field for developments along the line of actual photography, both in conjunction with forest protection and independently. The recent exploration of Col. Cull before the Geodetic Society of Ottawa showed some of the possibilities of aircraft in furthering the line of work with which the Geodetic Survey is partially concerned.

The possibilities in connection with forestry work are also very great. There are vast areas of relatively inaccessible lands in all the provinces, where only fragmentary data are available as to drainage and topography, or as to the extent, composition and volume of the forests.
As a result of war developments, the importance of our forests in the national economy is now recognized as never before. An adequate knowledge of the character, location and extent of the forests of Canada is essential to the proper administration and exploitation of this vital resource.

The Commission of Conservation made a survey of the forest resources of British Columbia and Saskatchewan, although the data available as to extensive areas were of the most fragmentary character. Similar work in other provinces is planned, as rapidly as the necessary funds are secured. The prosecution of such projects would be enormously simplified, and the results would be much more accurate and valuable, if necessary work on the ground could be supplemented by systematic surveys made by means of aerial photography. Such surveys might of course serve other public purposes as well. This suggests the extreme desirability of co-operation between all agencies interested, Dominion and Provincial, as well as private.— Conservation.

Not a Swimmer.

The orderly officer was on his usual round. "Any complaints?"
His voice sounded above the din of knives and forks.

"Yes, sir," answered a healthy looking representative of the Tommy Atkins tribe. "This 'ere blinking joint's raw!"

"Look here, my man," said the officer, after due examination, which proved this complaint to be justified.
"Do you know that Capt. Webb trained on raw beef in order to swim
the channel?"

"Oh," said Tommy Atkins, "I thought as 'ow we was goin'
across in boats!"

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

It contains: Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycophosphates, Casein.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

The Extra Feature

By S. B. HACKLEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

For a quarter hour only the crickets had broken the silence in the Compton orchard, where old Tobias and Minerva and Minerva, their granddaughter, asserted some mighty mounds of fallen vinesaps. Then Minerva spoke.

"Zack wants me to run off and marry him, grandpappy, after fodder strippin's over."

"Lord, Nery, don't ye!" old Tobias faded eyes were piteously beseeching. "Stay by me honey. No body feels for us old ones like you do, Nery!"

Minerva smiled faintly. "I told Zack, grandpappy, I couldn't marry him if ma wasn't willin'. She'd drive me off and surely mistreat you and grandmammy if I married against her will."

"Was Zachariah fretted?" the grandmother asked anxiously. Minerva crimsoned. They must not know how much Zack was "fretted!"

"He—he said he'd stay away until I sent for him. I—there's ma!"

In southern Appalachia it is customary for the aged father and mother to live with the youngest son in the old home. But old Tobias' log dwelling was an unusually large one—a most desirable home, and Eliza, the wife of the eldest son, by skillful machinations contrived to get Charley, the youngest son, and his wife, Phoebe, away and to get her own family installed.

Lazy herself, she depended almost entirely on her young daughter, her only child, to do the work of the house, and to keep her services she had determined Minerva should not marry any but some young man she could take into her house and rule, as she did Joshua, the girl's henpecked father.

By her orders, Zachariah Burden, who was not the "humble sort" she desired for a son-in-law, stayed away from the Compton house, but Zack was resourceful and managed often to see the gentle little creature who was like a guardian angel to the old ones.

"Cryin', Jiminy?" old Tobias, sitting smoking on their bedroom hearth that evening, asked uneasily. Jimina wiped her eyes.

"I got to studyin' about Minerva a waitin' on her happiness on account of us and it worried me some, Bias!" she confessed.

After Jimina slept, Bias still sat on the hearth. Minerva was delicate, like their little Hettie who had died sixteen years before, three months after the soldier sweetheart they had not been willing for her to marry had been laid under Cuban palms.

"Little Hettie! Little Hettie!" he murmured. "Lord, if I'd let her had her way about Jess Duty, she might not have pined away! Jess, he wasn't a bad boy—I wish I hadn't stood in her way—I do wish it, Lord!"

His pipe clattered on the hearth. His heavy groans awakened Jimina.

"The pain Doc Higgins said was from my heart, it's pinchin' a little!" he labored out, his hand clutching his chair rungs, his rugged old face chalky.

Jimina trembled as she measured out the drops the young doctor had left for him. The doctor had warned her all worry must be kept from Tobias, and he had worried because he had caught her crying about Minerva!

"You reckon you worked too hard at the apples, Bias?" she asked him when at last she got him between the bed covers.

"No. I got to thinkin' about our little Hettie. I was wishin' I could go back them sixteen years and tell the little, lovin' thing her and Jess might marry before he went to the fightin'. Then the pain struck me."

She patted his hands in gentle soothing. "Hettie and Jess wasn't long separated, Bias, honey! The Lord saw to that! Now try to go to sleep."

But it was long before he closed his eyes.

"They could come and live with us and things would be all right," Jimina heard him murmuring over and over in his fitful sleep, "if Eliza was willin'!" Then once he cried out:

"She's a goin' like Hettie, Jiminy—like Hettie! Can't you see it?"

When he was quiet again, Jimina arose and dressed herself. If he worried himself much more he might bring on another attack, and Joel Higgins had said two attacks close together might kill him.

"I can find my way to Aaron Burden's," she said to herself, "some way, dark as it is. I'm bound to see Zack!"

Two hours later she stood breathless in the suncens yard on the top of the mountain. The dog slept, but fear of him set her knees shivering. With a trembling hand she tapped on the window of Zack's bedroom.

Near the dawn, when Zack helped her off the gentle mule he had led down the mountainside, her old face was shining like the eastern star.

A few days later when Eliza came home from Miranda Mulliken's "quitting," she was consumed with wrath. Naomi Rouse, whom she hated of all women, had bragged to Ran that her daughter, Magnolia, had taken Zack Burden "away" from Eliza Compton's Minerva! Long before the "fodder-pulling" was done, officious neighbors began to predict Zack's early marriage to Magnolia.

Minerva drooped visibly. Her grandfather fretted.

"Jiminy, ain't she takin' it to heart too much? Lemme give her a hint; it's just play-actin'!"

Jimina shook her head smiling. "Don't worry about Nery. She'll come out all right. Zack don't want her told until the show day, and that ain't long off, Bias!"

The circus coming to Caneyville had advertised a prize of $10 in gold to be given to the young woman not afraid and willing to be married on an elephant's back in their ring, which advertisement doubled and tripled the size of the attending crowd on the "show day."

Early that morning Zack Burden's two mules passed the Compton wagon, en route to Caneyville. Zack rode one mule, Magnolia Rouse the other. Eliza could not restrain a look of displeasure.

"Them two are the pair that's to be married on the elephant's back!" old Bias volunteered cheerfully. "Zack's done arranged with the show folks."

This news was the last straw. Eliza turned to her daughter, her face white with wrath.

"Nery Compton, before I'd let everybody in the county see that low-down Rouse girl take my feller right before my eyes, I'd jump in Caney river!"

Minerva smiled. "Their weddin' won't discredit me, ma. Zack's not my feller no, and all the folks know he wanted to marry me and you wouldn't let him!"

At the close of the circus performance, the largest and gentlest elephant, with a howdah on his back, was brought into the ring.

"Will the gentleman who wishes to be married please present himself?" the ringmaster called out.

Zack arose and took Magnolia's arm, but she pulled back, screeching foolishly. "I'm afraid of the elephant! I'm afraid to get close to the thing!"

"Will the gentleman try to persuade another lady then? We're bound to have a wedding!" The biggest clown rolled over in a gale of merriment, but it was tragedy to Eliza.

Zack looked about him. "I see one lady I know is not afraid of the elephant that would maybe marry me, but she's afraid of her ma!"

Eliza sprang to her feet.

"If you mean Minerva, Zack Burden," she shouted, "she needn't be afraid of me objectin'! I've concluded I'm perfectly agreeable to her marryin' a young man as industrious and well-behaved as you are!"

Tears of triumph were in Eliza's eyes when, twenty minutes later, she saw Zack lift his bride to the ground.

"Where's your gold piece, Nery?" happy old Bias whispered that evening.

"Magnolia's got that one," she whispered back, "but I've got another one just like it the show folks gave Zack for what they called the 'extra feature!'"

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful curative agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify.

KILL ROADSIDE WEEDS

Cultivation Stores Water in Soil for Crops.

Grasshoppers Cheaply and Quickly Destroyed by Treating With the Poisoned Bran Mixture.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

"A STITCH in time saves nine." This is especially true in the case of weeds. When one considers that a single specimen of many kinds of weeds may produce over 10,000 seeds, and that many of such seeds may be blown far and wide by the wind, one begins to realize just what a source of contamination is a weedy roadside, a fence corner or a waste place.

In Ontario it is too common a sight in the fall of the year to see a farmer busy with his fall cultivation, attempting to clean his field and preparing a good seed bed for next year's crop. At the same time on the roadside near the field or in the fence corners or some waste place near it such weeds as Perennial Sow Thistle, Canada Thistle, Milkweed and Wild Lettuce are maturing seeds by the thousands, to be blown on to his well tilled field and reseed it with enough filth to markedly lessen his crop and increase his labor next year.

When labor is so scarce and when the maximum quantity of grain should be produced from every acre under cultivation, no man can afford to allow weeds to seed anywhere in the neighborhood of his farm. A few hours spent now and again during the summer cutting weeds on roadsides, in waste places and fence corners is a good investment for the future, which will pay handsome dividends in labor saved and increased crop.—Prof. J. E. Howitt, Ontario Agricultural College.

Conserve the Soil Moisture.

Moisture is the most important soil property. Without it a crop is absolutely impossible, no matter how much fertility may be present. With the proper amount large crops are obtained while on the other hand if moisture is excessive or deficient the yield is diminished according as the excess or deficiency increases. If all the water necessary for the production of a full crop could be collected on the surface of the ground at one time, it would be about 18 inches to 24 inches deep, depending on the crop and the season! During the growing season only 10 or 12 inches of rain falls in Ontario, and this is only half the amount required by the crops. Hence it becomes necessary to store up in the soil as much of the winter and spring rains as possible, while at the same time guarding against excess.

The amount of water a soil may contain depends on the pore space in the soil. Sands have less pore space, loams and mucks most, and clay is intermediate. The porosity of a coarse sand is about 35 per cent., of a loam or muck about 50 per cent., and of a heavy clay about 45 per cent. From these figures it will be seen that a soil may contain only as much water as soil grains, since the plant roots require air it is not desirable to have all the soil pores filled with water; some free air space must be left, hence drainage becomes necessary.

There are three ways that water may be lost: first by run-off, secondly by drainage, and thirdly by evaporation. Of these three the greatest is evaporation. It may amount to half the total rainfall. As long as the soil is wet in the spring we want all these at work, but as soon as the soil is dry enough for cultivation we want the losses cut off. And cultivation is the only direct means by which this can be done in summer. Cultivation should begin just as early as the soil is dry enough. To delay one week may cause the loss of as much as 1 1/4 inches of water, and this is as much as falls in the month of April, a very serious matter when the needs are so great and the supply so limited. In the fall of the year cultivation should be deep to increase absorption and retention of water; in the spring shallow, in order to produce a dry layer of soil on the surface to cut off evaporation.—Prof. W. H. Day, Ontario Agricultural College.

A Cheap and Efficient Method of Controlling Grasshoppers.

Grasshoppers may be easily and cheaply controlled by poisoning with the bran mixture, which is made as follows: 20 lbs. bran, 1 lb. Paris green, 1/2 gal. molasses, 2 gals. water, 2 or 3 lemons.

The bran and Paris green should be mixed thoroughly together when dry. This should be done the night before using. In the morning squeeze the juice of the lemons into the water, run the pulp and rind through a meat chopper and add this and the molasses to the water. Stir well and then pour the liquid on the poisoned bran and mix so thoroughly that every part is moist and will fall like sawdust through the fingers. The mash should be applied early in the morning between five and seven o'clock, by scattering thinly over the infested field, in the fence corners and on roadsides, where the insects

The European Ox Warble Fly Found in Warwick

Mr. W. G. Connolly discovered a strange fly on cattle on his farm on 4th line. He forwarded the specimen to the Department of Entomology at the O.A.C. and received the following letter from Mr. A. W. Baker, describing the specimen as the European Heel Fly and describing its habits:—
Guelph, June 18th, 1919.
Dear Sir:—I was much interested in your letter of June 12th and also in the specimen fly which you forwarded. This fly is the European Ox Warble or Heel Fly. The last few years it has been giving considerable trouble in parts of Oxford County, but I did not know that it was present in Lambton. The cattle gad or run when the female fly is laying her eggs. Unlike the ordinary Warble Fly, the European Warble or Heel Fly lays its eggs in flight, darting in and laying the egg on a hair near the hind-quarters of the animal, darting out and flying in and laying another egg. It is as a result of the fly repeating this performance that the cattle are frightened. These eggs hatch into small maggots which pass through the skin and wander through the body of the animal, passing the water in the wall of the gutlet and the next spring appearing as warbles or grubs beneath the back of the animal. The life-history is very similar to that of the ordinary Warble Fly, which we have had in this country for years, and the grubs beneath the back are practically identical in appearance with those of the ordinary Warble Fly. The difference in the life-history lies in the fact that the Heel Fly, as I have said, lays its eggs when in flight, whereas the ordinary Warble Fly lays its eggs almost entirely when at rest and when the cattle are lying down; hence the cattle have never been driven or gaddied by the ordinary Warble Fly as they are by the Heel Fly. There is at present no satisfactory means of control other than the squeezing out of the warbles. If all the men in a district would squeeze out all the warbles in their cattle there could of course be no flies next year unless infested cattle from another district were brought in. The egg laying by the fly and hence the gadding of the cattle takes place almost entirely on bright, sunny days, and if flies are present the cattle, particularly milch cows, should be kept in at these times. I have been looking into the occurrence and distribution of this fly this season, and would be glad if you would let me know when the cattle first began gadding this year and how extensive the occurrence of the fly seems to be.
Yours very truly,
A. W. BAKER.

A year ago Clyde Wilcox, of Raleigh township, lost a gold watch while working in a tobacco field. Plowing in the same field last week he found the watch. He wound it up and it is now running very satisfactorily.

BARBERRY CAUSES RUST

Provincial Campaign Advocated to Destroy This Shrub.

Current and Gooseberry Worms Causes Great Losses — How to Identify It—Simple Measures of Control—Spraying With Arsenate of Lead Solution Most Effective. (Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE Barberry should not be tolerated by the farmers of Ontario. It is a thief in their midst, which every year takes money from their pockets, by increasing the amount of rust upon their grain, and thus reducing their crops.

The Barberry increases the Amount and Severity of Rust. It is not necessary to go into the complicated life-history of the fungus which causes stem rust of grain. Scientists have known for many years that one phase of its life-cycle is passed on the Barberry, and all who have made a study of this matter agree that the amount and severity of stem rust is very much increased by the presence of the Barberry in the neighborhood of grain fields. While scientists do not expect to see rust entirely disappear if the Barberry is destroyed, the general consensus of opinion is that if it were completely exterminated the chances of severe epidemics of stem rust occurring would be greatly reduced.

Enforce the Law Regarding the Barberry.

In Ontario legislation has been passed regarding the destruction of this shrub. Let all concerned realize that the Barberry does increase the amount and severity of stem rust and a sentiment will be created for the enforcement of the present act. This act should be enforced. The Barberry in Ontario should be destroyed. There is strong evidence to show that Barberries are centres of infection which in wet seasons may give rise to severe epidemics of rust.

The Common Barberry and Its Purple-leaved Variety the Culprit.

The Common Barberry and its purple-leaved variety harbor grain rust. The average man does not know this shrub when he sees it. It is a spiny shrub from six to nine feet high, with yellow wood, arching branches and gray twigs. The leaves are bright green, smooth, somewhat oval, from one to three inches long, the margins with bristly teeth. The flowers are small, yellow and borne in long, drooping clusters. The berries are oblong, red and sour. The purple-leaved variety is similar except for the color of the leaves, which are purple. Unfortunately, the Barberry has been much planted in some sections of Ontario for ornamental purposes and has become wild in many localities.

The Japanese Barberries Harmless.

If Barberries are required for ornamental shrubs the low growing, small leaved Japanese Barberries (Berberis thunbergii, D.C.) may be planted, as this species does not harbor the rust.—Prof. J. E. Howitt, O. A. College, Guelph.

R. M. Pincombe will build a 250 barrels a day flour mill on Albert street, Stratford.

Current and Gooseberry Worm.

The most common insect enemy of currants and gooseberries is the Current and Gooseberry Worm. The larva is a greenish caterpillar, about three-quarters of an inch long when full grown, with a black head and numerous black spots over the body. The larvae attack the foliage of gooseberries and of red and white currants but seldom injure that of black currants. At first they work chiefly in the central part of the bush, stripping the leaves nearly all off there, and doing much damage before they are observed. Later they may devour the foliage any place. It is common to see nearly all the leaves eaten off numerous bushes.

The life history of the insect is as follows.—The adults,—which are known as Sawflies—are small four-winged flies, about a quarter of an inch in length. The female has the abdomen yellowish and the rest of the body blackish in color. The male is for the most part blackish or black. The flies appear in spring very soon after the leaves have expanded. Eggs are laid on the under surface of the leaves in chains along the main veins. The young larvae on hatching feed upon the foliage and become full grown in two or three weeks. Then they drop to the ground and form little cases in which they pupate. A new brood of flies emerge, lay their eggs and from these there comes a second brood of larvae, which may be seen on the plants at the time when the currants are ripe. When these larvae are full grown they enter the soil, form little cases or cocoons, and remain there till the next year, when they pupate and emerge as adults.

Method of Control.—These are easy insects to kill. All currant bushes and gooseberries should be sprayed with from two to three pounds arsenate of lead paste or half that amount of the powder form in forty gallons of water as soon as the leaves have become well expanded. Particular care should be taken to spray thoroughly the inner parts of the bush. This will kill all the first brood. If a second brood appears the hellebore should be used instead of arsenate of lead, in the proportion of one ounce to one gallon of water. Arsenate of lead would be dangerous on the ripe fruit. The insect occurs everywhere in the province, and everyone should prevent his plants being weakened and seriously injured by it, especially as it is so easy to control.

Note.—Hellebore loses its insecticidal properties unless kept in airtight packages.—Prof. L. Caesar, O. A. College, Guelph.

Death of Mrs. W. W. Robson

The Winnipeg Free Press of June 19th had the following notice of the death of Mrs. Robson. Her husband conducted a photograph gallery in Watford many years ago. Mrs. W. W. Robson, 243 Ruby street, died at 12 o'clock Wednesday night. She had suffered for the past year and underwent a second operation yesterday in the hope of saving her life, but she did not rally after it. She had many friends in Winnipeg. Mr. Robson is a well-known photographer of the city. A Nova Scotian by birth, Mrs. Robson came west with her husband and family in 1906. Her death is keenly felt in a large circle in which she was highly esteemed.

The immediate family who are left are Pte. James Kenneth, just returned from overseas; Alan, of the bank of Nova Scotia; William, absent with a survey party in Saskatchewan; Eleanor and Laurie; besides the husband, whose curling, church and Rotary friends expressing deep sympathy with him. The body is at Clark and Leatherdale's, and the funeral will be delayed until word is received from the son in the west.

FATEFUL YEARS FOR ALL WOMEN

How Best to Overcome the Troubles That Afflict Women Only

The most fateful years in a woman's life are those between forty-five and fifty. Many women enter this term under depressing conditions through overwork, worry or a neglected condition of the blood, and so they suffer heavily. Still, variations of health at this time can be relieved by home treatment.

Among the commonest symptoms are headaches and pains in the back and sides, fever-flushes, palpitation, dizziness and depression. Women stand in need of rich, red blood all their life, but never more so than in middle age, when the nerves are also weak and over-wrought. Now every woman can prove the prompt help afforded to her health by renewing her blood supply. It is a test that any ailing woman can make by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For these pills make rich, red blood, which in turn helps the appetite, strengthens the nerves and restores robust health. Thousands of women have found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the means by which new health and a brighter outlook of life were gained.

In proof of this is the voluntary testimony of Mrs. H. S. Peterson, Milford, Ont., who says:—"I have suffered greatly from those troubles that afflict my sex, and I have found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in such cases not only do all that is claimed for them, but more. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done so much for me that I urge every weak woman to try them, and they will soon realize the great difference in one's health they make."

If you suffer from any of the ills that particularly afflict womanhood you should avail yourself at once of the health help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get them from any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
