Definite Proposals for the Conference. Formula Agreed Upon by Secretary of State and His Colleagues of U. S. Delegation—Position of Great Britain and Japan.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Proposals to be made by the U. S. delegates to the conference on limitation of armaments, apparently constitute the only suggestion prepared in advance as to ways and means of curtailing naval expenditures without sacrifice of national security by any power. Great Britain is not known to have worked out any formula; Japan is awaiting the U. S. suggestion. France and Italy are more concerned with land forces than navies.

This much is known—A definite formula for agreement on limitation of naval forces has been reached by Secretary of State Hughes and his colleagues of the U. S. delegation. It is an entirely practical one. It does not attempt to state any general rule for establishing equitable relations of naval forces between the powers. It does not attempt to fix a common denominator by which all navies could be divided and each power assigned by agreement the number of units it could maintain with world approval.

The U. S. suggestion will deal with things as they are. It will be a plain proposition of ships, built, authorized, or naval bases; of the vital element of naval replacements, of which the United States has a large surplus. It also includes other concrete existing or planned weapons and auxiliaries of naval warfare.

Also it is regarded by those who framed the suggestions as a bold stroke for naval reduction, possibly too bold for immediate realization. Beyond this limited outline of what is going on behind the scenes, nothing has yet been available.

There is a feeling in some well informed circles that Baron Kato, head of the Japanese delegation, touched the heart of the matter in stating Japan's willingness to reduce her navy to a standard of eight battleships and eight battle cruisers. To that sentence it is added a third right, as under Japanese standards of naval excellence, a capital ship has a first life of but eight years and must be replaced by a new ship within that period.

The old British two power standard which governed the building programme that Japan has followed with the German fleet. Britain is not today building any capital ships. The new building programme authorized in the way of replacements for war losses and to balance that side of the fleet, is suggested that a cessation of naval increases for a period of years, perhaps a decade, may be proposed.

There is a growing belief that these figures may play an important part in the U. S. reduction proposals. It is suggested that a cessation of naval increases for a period of years, perhaps a decade, may be proposed.

It is regarded as probable that Great Britain would accept some such proposal as that of the Japanese. It is suggested that a cessation of naval increases for a period of years, perhaps a decade, may be proposed.

No Surrender of Ulster Rights, Says The Northern Premier

Definite Action Awaits Statement From Lloyd George, Which May be Received This Afternoon—Cabinet Was in Session at Noon.

London, Nov. 10.—A statement issued after a meeting of the Ulster cabinet members here this morning concluded as follows: "Sir James Craig (the premier) on behalf of the cabinet of Northern Ireland, wishes it clearly understood that there can be no surrender of Ulster's rights."

The statement promised by Premier Lloyd George outlining the negotiations with the Sinn Fein representatives had not been received by the representatives of Ulster this morning, but Lloyd George sent word that he hoped to be able to supply it during the afternoon.

The secretary of the Ulster party was keeping in touch constantly with Downing street, where the British cabinet met at noon, and it was announced that another meeting of the northern Ireland cabinet would be called so soon as the desired statement was received.

Lloyd George meanwhile suggested that his meeting with the Ulster cabinet go over until Friday. The Ulster communication, given out after the morning meeting, indicated that the communication, which concluded a statement, the Ulster cabinet was unable to make formal reply to the government. On this point the text of the communication said: "An apology to Sir James Craig was received from Lloyd George stating his document this afternoon, and he suggested the meeting of the northern cabinet with him should be deferred until Friday."

Five Inches of Snow in Parts of New York State—Expect Clearing—Weather Tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The storm which brought winter weather with rain and snow to wide sections of the middle west of the U. S. yesterday, was moving westward to the New England states today with weather bureau predictions of similar weather there, and in the north Atlantic states generally. The forecast was for clearing weather, however, later today in the north Atlantic section and for fair weather there and elsewhere generally west of the Mississippi River for Friday, Armistice Day. Considerably lower temperatures were expected for the eastern half of the continent.

Central and western New York continued in the grip of a snow storm which descended upon it yesterday in moving eastward, but clearing weather was predicted for that section also later today. An average of five inches of snow was reported to have fallen in the central and western parts of the state in the last 24 hours.

FINANCES OF MOTHERLAND

Estimated Surplus Has Completely Disappeared.

The Tax Collections Exceeded Expectations, Showing Reserves of Wealth in the Hands of People—House Must Cut Expenses Next Year.

London, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press cable)—When moving the second reading of the appropriation bill in the House of Commons, yesterday, Sir Robert Home, chancellor of the exchequer, said the budget estimated a surplus of £84,000,000 from ordinary revenue and £29,000,000 from extraordinary revenue. Eighty millions of the surplus was allocated to the sinking fund, leaving an estimated surplus of £27,000,000, which had completely disappeared, owing to the coal strike and payments to the railways upon cessation of government control. Supplementary estimates caused by unemployment added a further £20,000,000, but this was offset by equivalent savings.

Nearly all heads of revenue had been surprisingly good. The income tax, customs, estate and excise duties had exceeded expectations, showing the reserves of wealth in the hands of the people were greater than suspected. Other important items showed large reductions, of which the excess profits duty was the most notable.

The surplus, said Sir Robert, would be insufficient for providing a sinking fund of £20,000,000, which would be provided by borrowing. This would involve no deficit in the budget.

Sir Robert concluded his statement with a reference to fresh expenditures next year, namely arrangements to pay interest upon the American debt which would compel the House of Commons to cut its cost according to its cloth. He declared that the horizon was distinctly brighter, and he expressed the assurance that Great Britain's traditional tenacity and resourcefulness would carry her through the hard times.

WOMAN AND HER YOUNG SON RESCUED THROUGH DENSE SMOKE—SEVERAL FAMILIES AFFECTED. Three families were forced to flee for safety about five o'clock this morning when fire broke out in the rear of a house at 185 Leinster street, owned by the St. John Real Estate Company and occupied by S. Bustin, Lieut.-Col. H. C. Sparling and H. C. Schoobred. Percy Clark, who rooms at Mr. Schoobred's home on the third story of the house, was awakened to find a vivid reflection from the flames shining in his room. He hastened to the rescue of Mrs. Schoobred and her five-year-old son who were asleep in another part of the house which by this time was already filled with suffocating smoke. He succeeded in getting the mother and child to the head of the stairs when Mrs. Schoobred was almost overcome by the smoke. Mr. Clark rescued the child and policeman John McElinnigh who was coming up the stairs at the time carried Mrs. Schoobred to a place of safety.

The other families driven from their homes by the fire were those of Lieut.-Col. Sparling who occupied the second floor of the house, and S. Bustin who occupied the lower floor. The refugees found shelter in the homes of neighbors.

WALTER CAMPBELL, who first saw the fire, sent in the alarm. The fire consumed the interior of a large part of the house and burned clear through from the ground floor to the top floor. The front part of the building suffered no actual fire damage but the furniture and other things in the Schoobred and Sparling flats were considerably blackened and damaged by the dense smoke.

There was some insurance on Mr. Schoobred's house furnishings and the damage done by Sparling's property was covered by insurance. Mr. Schoobred is out of the city on business. Col. Sparling, who was also out of town, returned this morning just about the time the fire had been extinguished.

The Washington Conference and The Destiny of China

By C. Montague Ede of Hong Kong.

The opportunity which the forth-coming conference at Washington offers for extending to China the help which she so much needs is emphasized in a letter which Mr. C. Montague Ede of the Union Insurance Society of Canton, Limited, Hong Kong, has addressed to The Toronto Globe. The idea of a united China, Mr. Ede insists, must precede the idea of a peaceful Pacific, because the latter is wholly contingent on the former.

"No one would wish," says Mr. Ede, "to run the risk of wrecking the conference by the introduction into the agenda of subjects which might cause some of the nations concerned to refuse co-operation, but at the same time it is certain that very little practical good will result from an academic debate upon the advantages and blessings of universal peace.

A United China. "The specific problems of the Pacific and the Far East, highly controversial as they may be, must be frankly and fairly considered, and China—a huge country, torn asunder by the dissensions of its own people—is the breeding place of them all. A united China, at peace with herself, would ensure a long period of commercial and industrial development for which we are waiting. Let us suppose that the nations, profiting by the lessons which the European war has taught, and sincerely actuated by the high motives that are loudly proclaiming, do damage to agree upon some policy which will ally the distrust which each now has of the other, and present as a sovereign power in the council chamber, finding a group of nations united for a common end, could ask for assistance in putting her own heels in order with the fullest confidence that her rights would not be jeopardized by so doing.

Mr. Ede states that China's weakness arises from the fact that ambitious provincial commanders can defy the government with impunity. The great mass of the people, judging from their pathetic attitude toward political issues, would welcome any government which could save them from the rapacity of these adventurers. At present there is a president in Peking and one in Canton, and Tientsin will give allegiance neither to the one nor the other. The factions are continually at war; the treasurers of the North and South lie empty and commiserated at a standstill.

"If the Pacific Conference is to justify the hope that are placed in it," the writer continues, "the nations represented must come to an agreement under cover of which China will be given a real chance to reform her administration. An effective government could be elected if it were known that, when chosen, such government would have the fullest support of the conference powers.

Overcoming Rivalries. "International rivalries and jealousies have prevented any common action on China's behalf in past years. If the Pacific Conference overcomes these, it will co-operate unflinchingly in helping China to work out its own salvation, the beneficial results will be quick to manifest themselves. If the conference leaves these millions of peaceful people and this country of immense resources at the mercy of military stragglers, who have momentarily the power of the purse, it is certain that resolutions toward armament will do little toward preserving peace in the Orient."

Mr. Ede remarks that the problem to be confronted at the conference, and overshadowed the whole situation. "The peace of China," he says, "is an essential preliminary requisite to the peace of the Pacific, and the recognition of that fact must be made before one can focus upon the wider concord as between the several nations interested."

Mr. Ede points out that in the closing days of the late Empire the forces of reform in China were struggling for an outlet; and remarks how the establishment of a republic under Dr. Sun Yat Sen was heralded by the world at large as the starting point of a new and wonderful China. Men saw visions of a united people peacefully working out their own social and economic advancement. Instead of this, however, factional differences, the loss of the original ideal, the inadequacy of those to whom power has been given and the failure of effect domestic reforms have brought China to the unhappy position of a country violently torn against itself and unable to prevent an effective voice in the international affairs with which she is most vitally concerned. Factional fights between Presidents and powerful Tientsins are making confusion worse confounded. The situation is leaving China open to the exploitation of other powers skeptical and jealous of each other's opportunities. To remove that skepticism and jealousy the cause must be removed, and there must be co-operation in an effort to assist China to regain her lost homogeneity.

World Needs United China. "The world as a whole," the writer proceeds, "needs a united China; wants to trade with her, helping her to develop her resources, her labor, her minerals, her raw products. There is an immense demand for it all, for imports

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

HOLD YOUR HORSES! HERE TOMORROW

A unique theme is the basis of the latest Goldwyn picture, featuring Tom Moore, entitled "Hold Your Horses," by Rupert Hughes. It comes to the Imperial Theatre tomorrow and Saturday. From the old country, Daniel Canavan (Tom Moore) came to New York and followed the calling of street cleaning. One day while on duty he was in a blinding fog. A red flag was thrust in his eyes. He was told to keep the traffic back—his first taste of authority, and the "green dandruff" on it. He went home and gave his quarrelsome wife a dose of her own fistic medicine.

His growing aggressiveness attracted the attention of Jim James, political boss, and as a pupil Canavan will be in the line of his next authority of political boss that he next met the beautiful girl who had run over him. The subsequent happenings have been woven into one of the most delightfully stirring stories ever screened.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1921

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 10, 1921.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE FIGHT IS ON

With the completion of the Liberal ticket in St. John-Albert last evening the issue is fairly joined by the party throughout the province. There are Liberal candidates in all constituencies except Carleton-Victoria, where the fight is between Mr. Caldwell, the late Farmer member, and Hon. B. Frank Smith. The Conservatives have candidates in all but Restigouche and Kent counties, while the Progressives have thus far nominated men in only four constituencies, Carleton-Victoria, Royal, Westmorland and Kent. There is talk of several more Progressive candidates, and representatives of Labor, but this is as yet uncertain.

Last night's convention in St. John was not attended by delegates from Albert county, and some differences of opinion were freely expressed, but in the end the meeting chose Mr. McLellan and he and Dr. Byrdwick made vigorous speeches, urging party unity in the interests of the country at large. Mr. McLellan is a seasoned campaigner who can give and take with equal relish, and who not so long ago crossed swords with the minister of customs in a successful fight against the adoption of the harbor commission act. The battle is now fairly joined in this constituency and will be waged with steadily increasing vigor on both sides. The Liberal candidates have very strong grounds of appeal. The maritime provinces would stand to suffer from an increased tariff, since they would then be now shut out of a market by prohibitive freight rates and could not develop their industries. The people would be at the mercy of the highly protected interests of the central provinces. Maritime trade is the breath of economic life to these provinces, and they cannot get it under a high protective policy, nor can they hope for the development of their ports under a government which has acquired railways and terminals in the United States. The hope of these provinces, therefore, lies in a revised tariff and a continuation of the policy of nationalizing the ports which was so well begun when Hon. William Pugsley was minister of public works.

Apart from local considerations, which are also national, because the welfare of these provinces is a matter of concern for the whole country, there is the automatic action of the Meighen government in holding on to power without a mandate from the people; its failure to grapple with the tariff question which it now asserts is the only issue; its reckless railway policy, and its utter failure to place before the people a clear and constructive policy for the future. The Tory plan of campaign is to arouse fear and create prejudice against the United States, create if possible a belief that Liberal victory would mean free trade, and everywhere to assert that only the Conservative party can save the country from disaster. This is "old stuff." The country heard it in 1896 and paid no heed, and now desires a return of the Liberal rule which meant so much to Canada between 1896 and 1911.

A FORWARD STEP

Following the resolution adopted at the meeting in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, there will doubtless be such a strengthening of the hands of the Associated Charities and such a hearty co-operation between that body and the different church congregations and benevolent societies as will make the relief of distress in St. John more systematic, more thorough in reaching and following up all deserving cases, and more effective in exposing fraud and preventing the overlapping which too often enables one family to thrive, while others suffer. Organization and co-operation are the essentials. It is not necessary to create any new machinery. Every church and benevolent order has a relief committee. Perhaps some of these need to be strengthened and made more active by the addition of earnest and sympathetic workers who can always be relied on to give personal service, and all of them should be linked up with the Associated Charities, which could get from them the needed assistance in the investigation and recording of cases, and seeing that each was placed in the right hands to insure not only present relief but continued visitation and wise counsel. There is no desire on the part of the Associated Charities to usurp authority, but only to bring about a thorough, city-wide, co-operative organization, quick to act and prepared to follow up each and every case to the aid that the families relieved may as far as possible be made self-supporting.

ing again; and that in no case will there be neglect through misunderstanding or overlapping through ignorance. It is necessary that all the work be reported at one central bureau, where enquiries may be made with the assurance that prompt information as to the merits of the case will be forthcoming, and where information may also be lifted for the benefit of all. This does not mean publicity. The secretary of the Associated Charities has a record of about five hundred cases with which she has dealt in years past. This list is not open for public inspection, but if anybody wants to know whether a certain family listed there is deserving, or what has been done in the past for its relief, an enquiry will bring from the secretary a prompt reply, and any new case reported will be promptly investigated. That is the great merit of such a centralized system, and with reports coming in from all the churches and other organizations such a list would prove invaluable, while the co-operation would result in every case being placed in competent hands to ensure that the deserving family would not be helped for a time and then dropped, but would be aided over the whole period of distress and helped to become self-supporting.

A great deal of emphasis was placed yesterday on unemployment as a cause of present acute conditions, and this is a phase of the situation which cannot be overlooked. It is not one, however, with which the Associated Charities can deal, and even when work is most plentiful there are always cases calling for relief. The unemployment problem is one for all citizens to consider, but especially the civic authorities and business interests. Mayor Schofield made it very clear that some who are offered work will accept it only on their own terms, which means that some speakers who remain, that the citizens raise $50,000 to $100,000, and the relation of large expenditures to the tax bill of the people, of whom fifty per cent could not take advantage of the tax discount this year. It is much to be regretted that the city council will do a good deal to provide work and wages, and perhaps it might be persuaded to look with favor upon the plan suggested by Rev. William Dale, that the citizens raise $50,000 to $100,000, and the city grant as much more, the whole amount to be expended in providing work of a useful nature for the heads of families. One Ontario city has adopted this plan, and it is worthy of consideration here, since it is much better for the individual and the community to give men an opportunity to earn wages than feel them at public expense without work on their part. There is another way suggested by more than one speaker—and it is that every citizen who can afford it have as much work as possible done about his property during the winter months, and so give employment to someone who needs it. A conference of the city council with representatives of the business and commercial organizations on the whole subject would be of great value. The people must all be fed. If the money is not used to provide work, it must be raised and given out as doles. There can be no question as to which is the wiser course. If a system of relief for urgent cases is properly organized and headed up in the Associated Charities, and a certain amount of work can be provided, and an employment bureau can be established to which those in search of work may go and a record be kept for public information, the task before the citizens will be much easier of accomplishment.

BRITISH TRADE

The interest fact is revealed by an official review of British exports that taking the first six months of the years 1914 and 1921 for comparison the exports to other countries than Russia and Germany were as large or larger in the latter than in the former year. Detailed figures received by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York from the British Board of Trade, indicate that the first six months of 1914 British exports to Europe represented 36.1 per cent of the total exports, while in 1921 the percentage was 29.7 per cent. However, as there was a decrease, equivalent to 3.2 per cent of total British exports in the exports going to Russia and to 5.4 per cent of the total, in the percentage going to Germany, the percentage of British exports to other European countries really represented an increase in 1921. The following are some of the comparisons of British exports for the first six months of 1914 and 1921 respectively:

Europe	1914	1921
United States	292,223,000	210,735,000
South Africa	17,768,000	23,184,000
Dominions	17,764,000	31,087,000
China-Japan	24,241,000	18,109,000
China-Japan	13,891,000	24,301,000

ANXIETY ABOUT VESSEL

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 10.—The Norwegian steamer Borchholm, which sailed from St. John, N.B., for Halifax on Saturday morning, and whose previous non-arrival was the subject of some anxiety, came into port this morning. The delay was caused by extremely stormy weather.

DOBSON TO GOSSE

One of the most serious and playful poems Austin Dobson ever wrote was "Affable Hawk." He sent it to Edmund Gosse with a collection of essays. Here it is:

When you and I have wandered beyond the reach of call,
And all our works immortal lie scattered on the stall,
It may be some new reader, in that remote age,
Will find the present volume and listless turn the page.

For him I speak these verses. And, Sir (I speak him)
This book you see before you—this masterpiece of whims,
Of wisdom, learning, fancy (if you will please attend),
Was written by its author, who gave it to his friend.

For they had worked together—been comrades of the pen;
They had their points at issue, they differed now and then;
But both loved letters, and each had close at heart
The hopes, the aspirations, the "dear delays of art."

And much they talked of measures, and more they talked of style,
Of form and "lucid order," of "labor of the file."
And he who wrote the writing, at sheet by sheet was penned,
(This all was long ago, sir!) would read it to his friend.

They knew not, nor cared greatly, if they were spark or star;
They knew no more, in fact, of what they were for;
And, larger light or lesser, this thing at least he knew—
They served the Muses truly—their service was sincere.

This tattered page you see, sir, this page alone remains
(Yes—four pages is the lowest!)—of all these pleasant pains;
And as for him that read it, and as for him that wrote it,
No Golden Book enrolls them among its "Names of Note."

And yet they had their office. Though they marched that procession where it was no first or last;
Though cold is now their hoping, though they no more aspire;
They, too, had once their ardor—they handed on the fire.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.
He's Lost All Count.
Two young ladies on the promenade of a seaside resort had been looking through a telescope lent them by an old man. One of the ladies remarked that it was a very good one.

"Yes, it is," said the ancient mariner, "this 'ere telescope was given me by Lord Nelson."
"Good gracious! Why, Nelson has been dead nearly 116 years!"
"Well, I'm blowed!" replied the sailor quite unshaken. "I've the time, sir."

Habits Change.
A man employed at a cinematograph studio was directed by the manager to get in his line with a lion.
"You get into this bed," ordered the manager, "and we'll bring the lion and put him in with you. It will make a very comic scene."
"Put a lion in bed with me?" yelled the actor. "I'll not allow it. I'll hand in my resignation right away."
"But," protested the manager, "this lion will not hurt you. It was brought up on milk."
"So was I brought up on milk," complained the actor. "But I eat meat now."

Service a La Cafeteria.
Mrs. Clymer (giving a little dinner)—O, Julia, the maid just walked out on me—did she not serve?
Cook (firmly)—Not in the dining room. But I've had catering experience. I'll let you know when your guests and shoot them out with their plates. I'll see that they get all that's coming to them.—Buffalo Express.

A QUERY OR TWO.
Editor Times—Say, Mister, I seen by the paper that Canada needs Meighen & been wondering if Canada wants him. I seen by the same paper a while back that N. B. Wood got 2 the Div (or words to that effect) if she didn't want no Boose & the votin sheet N. B. didn't want no Boose. Say Mister, my old woman is dry, which means 2 dry. She sees she don't want her old man comin home drunk & soberin all over her & kickin the hods with nothin on a cold frostin mornin at 4 minutes to 3 A. M. Say Mister, what do your old woman say about it? Sum of them weagin gossamer. But what I want 2 git at is this & that is that if this here paper, was wrong about the leker question maybe she is right about this here politics business? Ain't so no no?
Truly yours truly,
ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 9.

They Met Next Morn.
New York, Nov. 10.—Arrangements for a return world's heavyweight championship bout between Champion Jack Dempsey and Jesse Willard, regarded as practically completed a few weeks ago, now appear on the verge of dissolution. Promoter Tex Rickard, who planned the battle for July 1, in his arena in Jersey City, has exhibited impatience with Willard's delay in returning a signed contract. Reports have been received here that Willard has made a "strife" in one of his oil investments, and, if the reports are true, it is regarded as unlikely that he will devote the necessary time to training for another match with Dempsey.

Jockey's License Cancelled.
Baltimore, Nov. 10.—The Maryland Jockey Club yesterday cancelled the jockey license of Carroll H. Schilling in Maryland and thus brought to a close a case which has been a source of trouble for the commission during nearly its entire existence. The action was taken at Schilling's request. He said that he desired to go to California as a trainer.

Buff and Sharkey Tonight.
New York, Nov. 10.—Johnny Buff will defend his bantamweight title tonight against Jack Sharkey in a fifteen-round bout. Sharkey was the only man in the U. S. good enough to whip Jimmy Wilde when the great little Welshman came over here, and Buff is prepared to defend his title with the best he has.

Dietician Shows Dangers of Too Sophisticated Modern Diet—Killing Vital Factors.

(Toronto Globe.)
The intangible and elusive vitamins in relation to the ill that flesh is heir to was discussed in an address on "Diet and Malnutrition" given before a large meeting of the Royal Canadian Institute, Saturday evening, by Lieut.-Col. Robert McCarrison of the Indian Medical Service, who is in America at present on the invitation of the Harvey Society, New York.

This recently discovered necessity to life, which has kept humans above the soil since life began without getting credit for it, was in a fair way of being eliminated from a civilized diet until the discovery of its existence and indispensable value. "Civilized man is not eating the perfect food prepared in nature's laboratory," said Col. McCarrison. "His food he boils and roasts and freezes and thaws, destroying the vitamins which are essential to life."

That some of the vitamins survived the efforts of chefs and housewives with their ovens, pots, frying-pans and preserving jars seems evident from the fact that life is still extant, but object lessons of what would result by complete elimination were given by a number of lantern slides showing pigeons and monkeys in varying stages of health following diets from which the vital vitamins had been taken. There were pigeons with feathers glossy and bedraggled, limp, almost lifeless. There had been natural polished rice, which loses most of its value in the process of becoming pretty. Monkeys with unattractive features, even more woebegone, divested of the spirit of play or mischief, were examples of the result of a diet of food with the vitamins sterilized out of it.

Col. McCarrison explained the part vitamins play in food. The necessary elements for life had been considered to consist of protein, carbohydrates, fats and salts. These had been extracted by laboratory methods instead of by nature. They were not sufficient to sustain life. It was found that natural food contained the intangible and necessary vitamins.

To Suit All Tastes.
Eggs, fresh fruit and leafy vegetables are the leaders of these "necessary food factors." Allowance was made for difference in taste by adding codliver oil to the above list.

Prudence, penury, ignorance and habit had to be overcome in the teaching of the benefits of certain vitamins. Prudence and the elimination of many diseases and disorders which result from their deficiency and unavailability. Treatment of the vital vitamins.

EVANGELIST FOR THREE MONTHS IN DOMINION
Report in Toronto on Signs of Great Forward Spiritual Movement.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—That signs of the coming of a great forward spiritual movement are evident on all sides, was one of the declarations made in the report of the committee on evangelism presented and accepted at last night's meeting of the board of evangelism and social service of the Methodist church of Canada.

The report expressed gratification at the increase in church membership during the year and also in the growing interest in evangelism.

As part of a definite evangelistic campaign the general secretary was authorized to secure an outstanding evangelist of international reputation to sing the year and also in the growing in Canada.

FIND CADMANS LETTERS IN CADMUS ANCIENT CITY
Athens, Nov. 10.—Dr. Keramopoulos, one of the Greek inspectors of antiquities, has accomplished some most interesting work in the ruins of the palace at Thebes. According to legend, this palace was founded by Cadmus, who is said to have first brought the alphabet to Greece.

In previous campaigns the remains of the fresco decoration of the palace, 1600 to 1400 B. C., were brought to light. This consisted largely of a fresco of elaborately dressed and coiffured women carrying flowers, painted jugs, or ivory like objects. This year the excavator has found some of the store-rooms of the later palace, 1400 to 1100 B. C. From these have been extracted a hundred or more big stirrup jars. They are unfortunately broken, but they can be put together again.

Painted on a number of these jars are inscriptions in the still undecipherable Mycenaean alphabet. The letters, rather signs, are of a hieroglyphic character, and are derived but differ from the well known and equally undecipherable Cretan pre-historic alphabet. Scientists believe it possible that the difference of alphabet means a difference in language.

However much professors may dispute about the meaning and character of these alphabets, Athens archaeological circles attach special interest to the fact that ancient tradition has once more been proved right by the discovery of what might be called Cadman letters in the ruins of Cadmus' city.

EXPLOSIONS FROM DUST.
U. S. Federal Bureau of Mines Seeking a Preventive.
The fact that coal dust has tremendous explosive powers is now demonstrated frequently by the Federal Bureau of Mines in its own coal mine at Experiment, Pa., near Pittsburgh. Pulverized coal, blown to the furnace through compressed air lines, is an ideal fuel in certain industries, but the bureau points out that clouds of dust released from such pipes are as dangerous as a body of unconfined natural gas when liberated in close proximity to open flames or red hot metal.

Rev. Neil MacLachlan officiated. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit and hat to match. She was unattended. After a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will reside at 90 Kennedy street. Vanwart-Young
In St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Fredericton, yesterday, Rev. J. S. Sutherland united in marriage Miss Gertrude Amelia Young of Fredericton and Charles Richard Vanwart of Evansdale. Mr. and Mrs. Vanwart left for Boston on their honeymoon.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Eleanor Sharp
The death of Mrs. Eleanor Sharp, a well-known resident of Sussex, occurred yesterday at the home of her daughter. She was one of the oldest residents of that place and her loss will be sincerely mourned by a wide circle of relatives and friends. She was a sister of Dr. Johnston, who was prominent in medical circles there many years ago. She had lived in Sussex and the vicinity almost all her life and was a loyal member and conscientious worker in the Methodist church there. She is survived by three sons, two daughters and several grand-children. The sons are: George, of Prince Edward Island; Dr. Warren, of Birmingham, and Beverly, of Sussex; also two daughters, Mrs. J. Frank Roach and Mrs. William Stockton, both of Sussex.

Mrs. John Young
After having seen her descendants reach the fifth generation, and after having lived during the reigns of six kings of England, Mrs. John Young died at the age of 102 years at Shelburne, N. S., on Sunday. Although her hearing was somewhat impaired, Mrs. Young's eyesight remained good and her powers of recognition continued fair until the time of her death.

Valuable Pictures in Paris Lost Property Office.

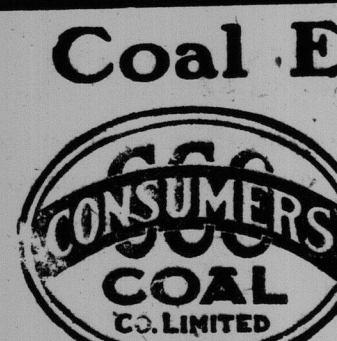

Paris, Nov. 10.—In the lost property office of the Paris police barracks, there is a picture worth half a million francs awaiting an owner. It was painted by Paul Veronese, and, according to all the experts who have examined it, it is genuine enough, but one has been able to trace to whom it belongs. It was brought to the lost property office by a soldier at about the middle of the war. He seems to have picked it up along the front somewhere in the accident that things were acquired in those days, and not sure what to do with it, he left it in care of the police when he came to Paris. From that day nothing has been heard of the soldier, and he left no name. Probably he was killed, but if he was

DROWNED IN A PIT OF BOILING WATER
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—The body of Peter Patos, forty years old, was found in an ash pit beneath the switch tracks of the Wabash Railroad, outside the roundhouse, off Harbaugh avenue. The man had been drowned in a pit of boiling water, into which the ashes from engines being returned to the roundhouse are dumped.

Patos was last seen Saturday noon, and the police believe he was walking along the tracks when he accidentally stepped into the pit. This is the fourth death this year in the same pit.

A MOCK TRIAL
One of the most successful ventures undertaken by the King's College law students was held last night when they staged a mock trial, the prisoner being charged with stealing a book from the law library. The identical procedure followed in the regular courts was carried out by the students and, besides being very humorous, it was instructive. Eleven tried and true students acted as jurors, the twelfth juror being one of the young lady students attending this year. The prisoner was found guilty of the offence charged and the sentence was that he be placed in the hands of the entertainment committee for the banquet next week.

CHORAL SOCIETY ACTIVE
The St. John Choral Society which last year, under the leadership of J. S. Ford, achieved such splendid success, held its first meeting of the new season in the Natural History Society's room last night and planned for an energetic campaign for members. The membership last year totalled thirty-five and all of the former members who are now in the city have enrolled again. A. C. Ritchie, the president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members, every one being pleased that the society was once more entered on an active programme.

Many Families in the City Will Require Aid

Preparations Made at Associated Charities Meeting to Handle Serious Situation This Fall and Winter—Churches and Other Benevolent Organizations Co-operating.

Representatives of several of the city churches and benevolent organizations pledged their support to the Associated Charities at a public meeting of that body yesterday and voted to appoint representatives from their respective organizations to act together with the officials of the Associated Charities as a board of general supervision and investigation of the distribution of relief.

Freshly to the general annual meeting the executive met to elect officers and hear reports. The following were re-elected: W. S. Fisher, president; Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. F. A. Stetson, J. Hunter White and Rev. D. Hutchinson, vice-presidents; William Young, treasurer; Miss Grace O. Robertson, secretary; A. M. Belding, C. Robinson, E. L. Rising, Mrs. T. Walker and Mrs. F. E. Marvin, members of the board of management.

In opening the meeting W. S. Fisher, the president, said that the gathering was meant to be a get-together meeting of the various organizations of the city which had for their objects the relief of the deserving poor. The coming winter, he said, would be the most serious.

Your Pretty Teeth—What have you done to them?

There is a new way of teeth cleaning—a way which fights film. To millions of people it has brought whiter, prettier teeth. Also safer teeth and cleaner. You see the results in every circle—see them in glistening teeth. This is to urge that you try this method. Ask for a ten-day test. Then mark the change which you see and your friend's see.

It combats the film

Most teeth are clouded more or less by film. The film is viscous. You can feel it with your tongue. But it clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And it often forms the basis of fixed costs.

How film ruins teeth

Film does more than mar the beauty. It is now regarded as the cause of most tooth troubles. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

A daily combatant

Two effective methods have now been found to daily combat that film. Able authorities

Mrs. Smith Endorses Idea Mrs. George F. Smith endorsed the idea elaborated by Mr. Belding and said that the board would hail with delight such co-operation as would prevent overlapping. She spoke of the prevailing condition of unemployment and suggested that some measures be taken to provide some class of work that would benefit the city, and at the same time give employment to needy people.

The commissioners of the general public hospital held a lengthy meeting yesterday and dealt with many matters of importance. Coal tenders were considered. The contract for bread was awarded to Lizard's bakery for a period of three months at seven cents a loaf. Bread tenders varied from ten and a half to a loaf to seven cents and the one offered was the lowest. The drawing of plans for an extension westward on the epidemic hospital and the calling of tenders for the erection of the extension were authorized. Reports given of many improvements made. The staff urged the immediate appointment of a radiographer and the use of an admission slip by patients receiving treatment free or at special rates, and also recommended that some arrangement be made for ambulance service to those districts outside the city ambulance area. Mayor Schofield wrote to compliment the board on the improvements in the hospital and to suggest some repairs to be made to the epidemic.

M. E. Agar was in the chair and the other commissioners present were Mrs. J. V. McLellan, William Emerson, Dr. J. R. G. Crawford, J. L. O'Brien, Hon. Dr. W. E. Roberts, J. King Kelley and R. H. The purchase of a generator now owned at a cost of $300 from R. S. Stephenson, and the sale of an engine in the power house for $100 was approved.

Dr. F. W. Lunney applied for a position on the medical staff. The advisability of the opening of a department for Pediatrics, (children's treatment) was reported on by a committee consisting of Dr. Roberts and Dr. Crawford.

F. Neil Brodie submitted three sets of plans for the new wing to the epidemic and was authorized to complete the set which provided for a wing westward and to call for tenders for its erection and present them to the municipal council.

An expert in radiography in consultation with the board had recommended that a full time competent radiographer be secured and a committee was appointed to ascertain the cost of one year's salary, further equipment and repairs to equipment in the X-ray department to submit to the municipal council. The superintendent of nurses had expressed dissatisfaction with certain conditions, and a committee was appointed to interview her.

The superintendent, R. H. Gale, in his monthly report, told of 167 patients admitted, 175 discharged, 110 remaining, forty-four operations in the operating room and fifty-four in the out-patient department, the appointment of Dr. H. B. Smith, of Ontario, to succeed Dr. Diann as interne. Superintendent's Report. The superintendent's report recommended that the incinerator be removed as in its present location it was a nuisance. Mr. Gale was authorized to look into previous records in regard to the proposed erection of a new incinerator. Financial statements showed receipts from seamen, $219; city chamberlain, $10,187.05; X-ray, $83.90; paying patients, $3,688.53; total $14,178.48. Expenditures in the month totalled $12,823.61. The board went into committee to discuss this report. On motion the term of the intermediate nurse's suspension was fixed for one month. The matter of the resignations was left in the hands of the commissioner of the month to investigate.

The report of the medical staff expressed satisfaction of improvements, urged the appointment of a radiographer as early as possible, favored the appointment of a masseur and thanked the board for the use of the lecture hall in

GO TO THE HOME OF THE SLEEPING SICKNESS TO WAGE WAR ON IT. London, Oct. 17.—(Associated Press by Mail)—An expedition formed by the Tropical Diseases Prevention Association will soon leave to make the first attempt to investigate on the spot the treatment of sleeping sickness, as distinct from the question of the mere transmission or cause of the disease. The expedition will be conducted by four physicians and two veterinary scientists and it is expected the work will occupy two and a half years. It is hoped that it will result in a general system of vaccination whereby all individuals arriving in a danger zone will be inoculated and so gradually rendered immune. The expedition will first work in Uganda. It will probably proceed later to the Belgian Congo and it is hoped to extend the work to Rhodesia and the Sudan where there is a big epidemic of the disease.

The sleeping sickness has been prevalent among the natives of West Africa for 100 years. It is generally attributed to a parasite carried by a species of the tsetse fly which infects cattle. The disease has caused heavy mortality among the natives of the Congo and Uganda for many years and is greatly dreaded by Europeans in the parts of Africa where it exists. Its origin has been the subject of much medical research.

Annual Meeting of Playgrounds Association Hears Reports on Plans For Better Facilities—W. K. Haley Again President.

At the annual meeting of the Playgrounds Association, held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. building, with W. K. Haley in the chair, election of officers for the ensuing year was held and reports dealing with the association's activities for the last year were presented. It was announced during the evening that the Canadian amateur skotting championships would be held on the East End grounds and also that the Boys' Club would open for the winter season next Monday night. Those present included A. M. Belding, Captain J. Mulcahy, Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, Mrs. W. C. Good, James H. Hamilton, P. Hamm, David Ramsey, Mrs. George Wilson, A. R. Crookshank, Mrs. A. C. D. Belding and L. M. Farquhar. After the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read by the secretary, L. M. Farquhar, the report of the superintendent, Miss L. Heffer, was heard; it told of the year's activities of the Boys' Club and the playgrounds. There was an average daily attendance at the city playgrounds of 928 children, an increase from the previous year of 408 per day. The report was adopted. James H. Hamilton reported for the South End Improvement League. He said that the rink in the south end probably would be enlarged to an eight or ten-jap rink. David Ramsey reported verbally for the East End Improvement League and told of improvements contemplated for their rink this winter. He announced that the Canadian amateur skating championships would be staged on the East End grounds. It was intended to build a club-house this winter for the club members and to accommodate the skating patrons. P. Hamm reported for the North End Improvement League. Mrs. George Doherty, treasurer, submitted her annual report, which showed a balance amounting to $9,284.83. Expenditures amounted to $2,284.83, leaving a balance of $7,000.00. There is a balance from the city of $1,621.38, with a few bills outstanding. The report was received and will be handed to the next meeting.

A report from the boys' committee was given by A. M. Belding, who said that the present quarters of the East End Boys' Club were very unsatisfactory, but that it would be necessary to carry on for this winter in the same building. The club will be formally opened next week. On motion, the secretary was instructed to write and thank the following for their assistance in the recent entertainment in the Imperial theatre—Walter H. Golding, manager; Miss Julie Pirie, who acted as accompanist, and the several men who assisted in shifting the scenery.

Election of officers for the ensuing year then took place. Mr. Haley announced that, for business reasons, he would be unable to continue as president, but that it would be necessary to consider his decision. Tributes were paid to Mr. Haley's splendid leadership during the last year and all present and finally he yielded and was duly installed as president. A. W. Covey was re-elected vice-president; Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy was elected second vice-president; L. M. Farquhar and Mrs. Doherty were elected to the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively. Executive representatives from the various improvement leagues are: East End, Fred L. Barrett; South End, J. H. but, but this announcement called for Hamilton; North End, Charles F. Stev-

The ladies' committee is composed of Mrs. Mulcahy, convener; Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson, Mrs. W. C. Good, Mrs. A. M. Belding, Mrs. George Doherty, Mrs. T. N. Vincent. Administrative committees for the several playgrounds are—West End, William Harding and Captain Mulcahy; King George, P. Hamm and George E. Day; Alexandra, C. F. Stevens and George E. Day; Allison, A. M. Belding and J. H. Hamilton; Aberdeen, John Kimball and G. Fred Fisher; Central, A. W. Covey and M. E. Agar. The last minutes of the meeting were given over to a discussion regarding the possibility of friction between the Allison playgrounds and those of the E. Z. I. league, but examination of the matter proved the fears groundless. Mr. Haley said that the city had expended a great deal of money in putting the grounds in shape and the city was looking to them to carry out their plans. Mr. Belding said that the seventeen acres of the Allison playgrounds could be developed into a real community recreation grounds, and suggestive engaging an expert to lay the grounds out before anything was attempted. "Who is really the boss in your home?" inquired the friend. "Well, of course, Maggie assumes command of the children, the servants, the dog, the cat and the canary, but I can say almost what I please to the goldfish."

WHEN ST. JOHN GETS HYDRO

Matters Discussed at City Hall Today.

Question of Costs and of the Probable Saving to the Consumer—Some Points Being Given Further Inquiry.

An informal discussion in the matter of the city taking over the current from the provincial government hydro development at Musquash was indulged in by the members of the city council at their committee meeting today.

The mayor informed the meeting that he had asked the hydro commission for a definite offer as to the amount of current available and the price they would charge the city for it. Regarding the proposed offer to Moncton of 4,000 horsepower at $36 a horsepower a year, the mayor remarked that at this rate the 10,000 horsepower which was said to be available would cost the city $360,000 a year, whereas the present contract cost was only $200,000 a year. He thought if the city took all the power, it should cost less than $36.

Commissioner Frink expressed the opinion that the commission could not make a definite offer as the Kenait report had stated that the steam stand-by would have to be maintained for at least two years.

The mayor answered that all the engineers did not agree with Mr. Kenait in this particular. He thought that the commission should now be able to say almost definitely what the construction cost would be.

Before taking any action, Mr. Thornton thought the city should ascertain what the cost of a distribution plant would be. The mayor placed this at $750,000.

Commissioner Frink said that the press reported recently that the Manitoba commission had made arrangements with the Winnipeg Electric Railway Co. for the distribution of hydro power. He had written to the company asking for the terms of their agreement.

Commissioner Bullock remarked that the engineers, while disagreeing as to the necessity for a steam stand-by, were agreed on the amount of power available. Mr. Thornton said that if the amount available was estimated at 10,000 horsepower, surely the commission could guarantee 8,000.

The mayor thought the government should be willing to accept a loss on account of the fact that building was one when the costs were higher than they are at present.

Commissioner Frink said that he regretted that, according to the Kenait report, the anticipated saving to the consumers of current for lighting purposes would not be greater than 1.6 per cent.

Regarding the action taken by the Halifax city council, the mayor said that the members simply voted to take the matter over from the Nova Scotia commission and then appointed a committee to take up the means of distribution. No action was taken.

Water and Sewerage Asked.

Mr. Jones said in 1918 Armstrong & Bruce entered into an agreement with the city for laying of water pipes in Lansdowne and Dufferin avenues. They now asked the city to put water and sewer connections into the lots in Dufferin avenue and were prepared to guarantee per cent of the cost. It had been done in Lansdowne Avenue. He said it was proposed to have the same done in Dufferin Avenue.

Dr. Frink said the city had not yet taken over the street and would not do so until the owners had submitted a survey of the street. Mr. Jones asked that he be authorized to carry out the work, the cost of each service to be charged against the lots which they served, the payment to be spread over a period of ten years. The estimated cost, $4,000, he proposed paying by bond issue, provided the owners submitted the survey referred to.

G. N. Hatfield, road engineer, said that Armstrong & Bruce had staked out the street in the street and he had tentative plans arranged for paving but could not go ahead until the water services were attended to.

The city chamberlain informed the mayor that the sewerage act did not allow the spreading of the payments over a period of years. It was decided to refer the matter to the city solicitor.

Construction and Bond Matter.

Commissioner Frink said the Stephen Construction Co. asked for release of a construction bond on the Douglas avenue work. The road engineer said there was still twenty per cent of the amount due the contractors, being held for sixty days from the date of completion, which would expire on December 17. The city also held a maintenance bond which would cover any repairs which would have to be made under the contract. The work was complete and satisfactory.

On motion of Commissioner Frink, it was decided that the construction bond be released provided the guarantee company expresses its willingness to be released of the bond.

Regarding a proposed retaining wall at 88 Prince Edward street, owned by the Nugent estate, Commissioner Frink read a report from the road engineer and building inspector in which it was recommended that some braces be placed at the back of the building and a chimney now raised off the ground be extended to the ground. The retaining wall could be put over until the spring when arrangements might be made to put a wall under the house, the cost to be shared by the owners and the city.

The report was ordered received.

Retaining Wall Claim.

Reporting on a claim made by Mr. Ryan, 39 St. Patrick street, that the city make good damage done by the failure of a part of a retaining wall on his property, the road engineer said that the wall was good except at one point where it had been broken to allow the placing of a sewerage pipe. As this work was done by the owner he did not think the city was responsible.

On Commissioner Frink's motion it was decided to notify Mr. Ryan that the city was not liable.

On Commissioner Frink's recommendation, authority was granted to the New Brunswick Telephone Co. to replace two poles in Horsfield street, lay an underground extension in the same street and another in Charlotte street, and renew one pole in Mecklenburg street.

Commissioner Thornton asked if two poles in front of the new Wakefield building in Prince Edward street could not be removed.

The road engineer said they were necessary.

SAYS FOCH PRAYED DAILY

Dr. Reiser Tells Hearers War Never Stopped Marshal's Devotions.
(New York Times.)
"Marshal Foch was never too busy to spend one full hour every day during the time wasted," said Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reiser in his sermon last evening in Chelsea Methodist Church, 178th street and Fort Washington avenue.
"During the dark days of the war an American fighting with the Canadian forces wandered into a cathedral in London and remained to worship," continued Dr. Reiser. "He noticed a distinguished military man enter, seek a secluded spot and kneel in prayer. With American curiosity our soldier watched the officer and saw that he remained on his knees for one hour. The American followed him out to find that this was Marshal Foch. The last wrote this fact to his mother in Iowa."
"It was reported that when the days were darkest, Clemenceau, who prayed no religious faith, grew almost hopeless in an interview with Foch. The latter rose before Clemenceau with calm dignity and said, 'God lives and the enemy shall not prevail.' And in this spirit he went out to continue his campaign when the British believed by the faith of God saw no hope ahead."
"Men like Foch, Beatty and Haig are not raised without religion, and no nations can endure without it. It will be well for the conference at Washington to remember that the Versailles Conference refused to recognize God by its public religious service of prayer such as Congress and every other public body observes. Without belief in such a God hope of disarmament will be futile."

Strikes It—Communication Interrupted.

A peculiar accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the main line of the C. P. R. a short distance west of the Mill street crossing. The door of a refrigerator car, which had been unloaded, was left open and when the car was moved the door came in contact with a large telegraph pole. The impact caused the pole to break off about twenty-five feet above the ground. There were four cross arms on the pole which carried the main lines of the C. P. R. telegraph and when the pole was broken communication was caused to the railway service. The Valley Railway train, due at 3:08 p. m., was held up for more than one hour before it reached the city. Telegraphic communication was interrupted for a short time only. A large crew of men was soon on the job making repairs and service was soon restored to normal.

HONOLULU GIRL PROVES
SHE IS LIKELY TO BE REAL SWIMMING MARVEL

Miss Marjorie Whelan, the sixteen-year-old wonder mermaid of the Outrigger Canoe Club of Honolulu, showed an amazing burst of speed in recent water carnival at Waialua, Island of Maui. She thrashed 220 yards in the striking time of two minutes fifty-seven seconds, a performance touched only once by a girl of sixteen or under. Miss Gertrude Ederer of the New York W. S. A. did 219 yards in two min. 35 1/2 sec. last summer, which means around 3 min. 30 1/2 sec. for the full furrow.

The achievement of the Honolulu lassie is particularly noteworthy in that it denotes she is progressing very rapidly. At the spring meet of the Hawaiian A. U. last May she could not beat 3 min. 10 sec. for 220 yards, so that she has improved her time for the distance by thirteen seconds in less than six months. Granting that she shows proportionate advance over the shorter courses, as reasonably to be expected, she may take a deal of beating in future for at the May fixture she swam Miss Ethelinda Bledtrey a dead heat at fifty yards in the world's record time of 29 1/2 seconds, then negotiated the classic century in 1 min. 52 1/2 sec. as against the international standard of 1 min. 32 1/2 sec. For the rest, only three champions now active in competition have demonstrated ability to do the furrow under 3 min. 37 sec.—Miss Bledtrey and Edie and Mrs. Charlotte Boyle Clune—which places Miss Whelan in the front rank of fair swimmers. And her prospects seem especially bright because she is endowed with exceptional physical resources. A strong, well built girl, unusually large for her age, she has the power and endurance to exploit fully her natural swimming speed and the fine stroke acquired. She should rise high.

DO YOU SMOKE
TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose health and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. The doctor's prescription, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, sets the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath, and loss of sleep.

HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results of the tobacco.

GIRLS! GROW THICK
LONG, HEAVY HAIR
WITH "DANDERINE"

Buy a 25-cent bottle of "Danderine." One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and lustrous.

JO-BEL
THE WONDER SALVE
WHAT A MOTHER SAYS

Mr. Murdoch, some time ago an eruption broke out on the faces of my children. I tried different remedies which did no good. A lady who had noticed them on the street gave me a box of your Jo-Bel salve to try. And now they are all healed. I never saw anything to equal it. No house where there are children should be without it. I am yours gratefully, Mrs. James Hurley, 248 B'fulton street.

Equally good for piles and all skin diseases. Sold by all druggists, $1.00 a box; trial boxes 50c.

JOSEPH A. MURDOCH,
137 Orange Street,

WAS TROUBLED
WITH HER STOMACH
FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millersdale, Sask., writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful for your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better."

I had stomach trouble so bad I could not bear the smell and taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

GREAT BRITAIN
WILL PAY DEBT

(Canadian Press Despatch). London, Nov. 9.—An arrangement has been made to begin paying the interest on the debt owed by Great Britain to the United States at the rate of $20,000,000 yearly, it was announced in the House of Commons today by Sir Robert Horne, the chancellor of the exchequer.

SEAGULL TAKES PART IN A GOLF MATCH

London, Nov. 10.—Just as the ball was being clipped on the green by a player at Port Erin, Isle of Man, golf course, a seagull swooped down, seized the stationary ball, and carried it off.

Pain in the Back
Just Behind the Shoulders or
Across the Hips?

Thousands are suffering today with a drawing pain behind the shoulders, at times almost dragging them down to the ground. Others have a dead pain across the hips. They let this pain go on, and all the time the disease is getting a stronger hold upon them. Now there's something wrong, one cylinder is not working. Redmac, the Tonic, acts as a new spark plug—after a few doses the trouble is made right. Redmac is the King of Tonics—it purifies the entire system. Don't go about feeling 80 when you are only 40. Take Redmac and feel young. Sold by one Druggist in every town.

NATURE PUT IRON FOR YOUR BLOOD

In the skins of grains and the peels and husks of fruits and vegetables but modern methods of cookery throw all these things away. Hence the alarming increase in anaemia—iron starvation of the blood, with its never-ending trend of symptoms of nervous irritability, general weakness, fatigue, disturbed digestion, headaches, pains across the back, etc.

Just a few cents bring the relief you would gladly give many dollars to obtain.

Kumfort
HEADACHE
POWDERS

Musterole insures quick relief from neuralgia. When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, just rub a little of this clean, white ointment on your temples and neck.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A new type of submarine, a combination of gas and electric propulsion, will be put in three American submarines of the V type, two of which have just been laid down at the Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard. Naval engineers are said to be watching the construction with great interest because of their expectation that improved operation of submarine warfare will result from the new power plant. A cruising radius of 10,000 miles is said to be one possibility.

Bishop LeBlanc to Catholic

The St. John sub-division of the Catholic Women's League met in the Knights of Columbus hall last evening with Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, president, in the chair. The address on the franchise which was to have been given by L. A. Conlon was cancelled because of Mr. Conlon's unavoidable absence. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, however, William Duke, who were present both gave short talks on the subject of the franchise. Bishop LeBlanc said that, as he had done in the past, he would again urge women to exercise their right to vote and after due consideration to cast her ballot in her conscience and best judgment dictated.

One of the men, Jacob Goldstein, twenty years of age, Montreal, ran away when he saw the constable coming, but he was caught later by Chief Patterson in a motor car five miles out of the city. The other two, Jack Daley, aged eighteen, and Jack Green, aged twenty, both of whom said they were from Toronto, made no resistance. The men pleaded guilty to breaking into Labane Bros., but denied other robberies. Each man was given five years in Kingston Penitentiary.

Peace Foundation Says They Account For Three-Fourths of Government Expenditures Since 1789. Boston, Nov. 10.—The World Peace Foundation in a statement gave figures compiled from reports of the Secretary of the Treasury which it said showed that the United States Government in the 131 years of its existence under the Constitution had spent nearly four-fifths of its total ordinary disbursements on war or things relating to war. Figures prepared by the foundation showed total ordinary disbursements from 1789 to 1920 of $66,228,409, of which the war items amounted to $62,407,489,927 or 75 per cent.

MIRAGE OF TUFTED PALMS FLOATS OVER LAKE ONTARIO

Unusual clarity characterized the atmospheric conditions over Lake Ontario Saturday morning following the snowstorms of the previous night and the accompanying drop in temperature. From the north shore near Toronto could be plainly distinguished the contours of the southern shore line, even from positions only a few feet above the lake level. Residents along the lake shore west of Toronto, in addition to a fine view of the opposite shore line, also had the seldom-enjoyed experience of viewing a mirage across the lake. This took an unusual form, as instead of a connected panorama of the countryside being projected upon the upper air strata, merely isolated clumps of trees were seen floating above the horizon. These appeared to be in the Grimby region, and resembled the tufted tops of palm trees floating above a tropic sea. No land was visible and daylight could be seen beneath the mirage. A flock of other swans watched the bird's death struggle in flight.

THEATRE NOT INCLUDED.

London, Nov. 10.—The London educational authority for the past year spent £2,000 in taking children to special theatre performances of Shakespearean plays, counting such attendance as school attendance. The auditor held that such payment from local taxes was illegal, and the Lord Chief Justice today on the appeal upheld the auditor. His Lordship remarked that it was difficult to think the framers of the Elementary Education Act ever foresaw the taking of children to the theatre, although elementary education had been much advanced in recent years. The court thought that the education authority was fully entitled to take children to such places as the House of Parliament, Westminster Abbey and the Tower of London, but declined to consider the theatre a place of educational interest.

Fishing For The Masses

Water Supply Reservoirs of Some English Cities Stocked With Brown Trout for Anglers and Fee Charged.

(Field and Stream for November.) Things don't stand still. The good for all sometimes hits a back eddy, seeming to reverse its course, but presently is racing on again in the current of what everybody desires. Put a law on the statute books that the majority don't want there, and you draw up torrents of indignation that in the end will wash away your silly obstruction as if it were of flour dough.

Field sports for the masses in England struck a back eddy, and for many years it looked as if the clerk and the factory hand would never again use a gun or rod. But listen! Some years before the great war a wonderful idea came to the sporting city fathers of the city of Bristol. The city owned a water-supply reservoir. Why not stock the reservoir with trout, issue fishing tickets to the citizens of Bristol and let them go out to fish, fish for brown trout?

"And listen!" And what follows is a neat jacket angle. The Bristol Blagdon water was stocked. And when the reservoir was thrown open to the angling public the fishing was so phenomenal that fishing tickets became in great demand. No wonder! Anglers daily caught such catches as the following: Remember, these are official figures: 30 1/2 pounds; largest trout, 9 pounds; 19 pounds; largest, 7 pounds. Catches by fly-fishing experts ran daily to forty and fifty poundal. Successive years showed an average weight for all fish taken varying from 2 pounds 11 ounces to 5 pounds 6 ounces. Shade of our dear The Walton! Public waters and catches that read like the opium dream of a drugged angler!

These facts were noted abroad by friends of the fishing artisans, and other cities fell into line. Before long, and up to the beginning of the war, sixty English cities, many of them immense manufacturing cities, stocked their city water supply reservoirs and opened them to the public. In the great manufacturing city of Sheffield there are more than 20,000 trout fishermen. Birmingham has probably more, and Birmingham has four great reservoirs, magnificently stocked with brown trout. Liverpool has eight reservoirs, and trout streams and brooks. Manchester also has eight reservoirs, and the low daily charge of this city is but 25 cents per day ticket, with over some of the city waters no charge at all. Huddersfield has eight reservoirs, leased to citizens' angling associations, but tickets to non-members are issued at 50 cents per fishing day. The cost of fishing tickets for the city of Birmingham is about the average for English city reservoir fishing; day tickets about 50 cents, or weekly tickets about $2.50. But season tickets for this city, as for many other cities, are high—$25. This is because there is a class of fishermen who take out a season ticket and then spend most of their time throughout the season in fishing. This sort of thing is not contemplated by the

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR
Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and youthfulness.
Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients—a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

city authorities; the fishing is intended for workers who can generally fish but one day of the week. However, some of the cities make a charge of only $5 for a season ticket. The average limit of catch over English reservoirs is eight fish, and the average minimum legal length to be taken is 11 inches, or a fish that would weigh about a half-pound. Shelters against storms are frequently provided, and fishing is limited in most cases to the banks, no wading being allowed. Keepers patrol the reservoirs day and night to prevent illegal fishing, and every effort is made to provide good sport for clerks, artisans and factory hands who a few years ago never dreamed of handling a trout rod.

"The world do move!" Why cannot American cities get into the sporting swim? What's to prevent stocking American city reservoirs and opening them up to the American fishing public?

Any contamination of city reservoir water injures the fishing. Hence, as has been proved, anglers not only do no injury to city reservoirs, but on the contrary, act as unpaid guardians for water purity. Why can't we have our American Blagdon water! What's to prevent the city of Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, any American city, from stocking its reservoirs and granting fishing privileges for a small fee? Those who are interested in what cities can do to promote for the masses one of the most healthful, one of the most delightful, and one of the very finest of all outdoor sports should buy or obtain from public libraries Mr. Ernest Phillips' "Trout in Lakes and Reservoirs." Longmans, Green & Co., London. Mr. Phillips proves that in providing splendid fishing for the workers of its great cities England is not by any means a country which in future intends that sporting privileges shall fall only to the landowners and to the upper classes. Indeed, after reading Mr. Phillips' book, the American angler cannot help wishing that his own city had the breadth of vision and the realization of the importance of promoting sport for all in the open air that are shown by scores of English cities.

Fishing Parks. (Ladd Plumley in Field and Stream.) Recently the Bronx River Park Commissioners caused a sign to be placed near the Bronx River at Crosswood, below White Plains, forbidding fishing. The Field and Stream writes these gentlemen to state their reasons why fishermen, the most quiet, the most law-abiding, the most unobtrusive of all sportsmen, should be forbidden the privilege of fishing the Bronx River. It would seem that there must be some reason for the sign in question. But—what reason? What is there concerning fishing that it should be forbidden along the wider portion of the Bronx River? It would hardly be a valid reason to say "There are no fish in the Bronx River." If a fisherman wanted to fish where there were no fish, it would seem that perhaps he was foolish, but why forbid him? He certainly cannot injure anything in casting a line into vacant water! The Bronx River should be stocked heavily with brown trout. It could be made a noble brown trout river. It should be opened to the fishing public perhaps only on stated days of the week and under certain specified conditions—say, the fishing limited to fly fishing only. Field and Stream courteously requests the Bronx River Park Commissioners to follow in the lead of more than sixty large English cities, among them Liverpool and Manchester, and give the New York City fly fisherman a little sport right in the very backyard of our greatest city.

H. R. McLellan Chosen to Complete Liberal Slate

Name of W. Frank Hatheway Also Before the Convention

Second Session of Convention for Constituency of St. John-Albert Held Last Evening—Stirring Appeal Made for Unity and Co-operation—Vigorous Speeches by the Two Candidates.

H. R. McLellan was chosen to complete the Liberal ticket for the federal constituency of St. John-Albert at the second session of the Liberal convention which was held last evening. When Mr. McLellan appeared in the convention hall, after he had been notified of his selection, he was given an enthusiastic reception. In accepting the nomination, Mr. McLellan made a vigorous speech in which he appealed to all members of the party to forget past differences and to unite for the success of their common cause. Dr. W. P. Broderick who was chosen at the first meeting of the convention also addressed the delegates.

The convention, which was held in the Moose Hall, Charlotte street, was attended by practically every city delegate and many spectators; the Albert county delegates were not present and there was considerable discussion regarding the course to be pursued in their absence but it was finally decided to proceed with the nomination.

The names of Mr. McLellan and W. Frank Hatheway were put before the convention and, on a ballot being taken, Mr. McLellan was declared the choice of the convention.

Dr. Ryan in the Chair.

In the absence of J. Fred Belyea, the chairman of the local executive, the meeting was called to order by Dr. E. J. Ryan and who, on motion, took the chair. K. J. MacLachlan was appointed secretary until E. J. Henneberry arrived. It was moved and carried that the committee which was appointed at the last convention to wait on Hon. William Pugsley and tender him the nomination of the party, make a report. Dr. Emery, the only member of the committee present, said he thought it unwise to make a report until Mr. Belyea and Mr. Henneberry returned. Michael Kelly asked if Hon. Mr. Pugsley had declined the nomination, to which Dr. Emery replied that he had.

Messages From Ottawa.

J. A. Barry said that he had an important matter to bring up. He had received a telegram from Andrew Hayden, of Ottawa, general secretary of the Liberal party, asking him to come to Ottawa at once. Mr. Barry said that Dr. Broderick and W. E. Scully, also had received similar telegrams. Considering the absence of Albert county delegates he was in favor of postponing the convention until the matter of the telegrams could be investigated, as he thought they had something to do with the convention. George Cunningham said that if the telegram concerned the convention they should have been sent to the chairman of the executive. Mr. Barry said that there was no executive at present. Michael Kelly spoke against postponement. The convention should take no outside dictation and the telegrams had nothing to do with the selection of candidates.

Dr. Broderick said that he had received a telegram similar to that sent to Mr. Barry. He took it as a personal telegram but did not know its purpose. He did not think it had anything to do with the convention.

The chairman said that the telegrams were personal matters and ruled discussion of them out of order.

Mr. Barry then moved that the convention be postponed until next Monday; this was seconded by M. T. Kane.

At this stage John B. Magee said that he had received official authority to say that the Albert county delegates would not stand committed to any candidates named at this convention. George Cunningham said that he understood that F. M. Thompson, of Albert, had told Mr. Henneberry to go ahead with the convention. Mr. Barry said there must be some reason if Albert county would not stand behind the action of the convention and the reason should be found out. An effort should be made to get in touch with Albert county between now and Monday and have things straightened out. It would be an injustice to the party to go ahead now, Mr. Magee said that his message was from F. M. Thompson who had been chairman of the previous convention.

At this stage in the proceedings Mr. Belyea and Mr. Henneberry arrived. Mr. Belyea said that they had been in conversation with Mr. Thompson, and it appeared that the Albert delegates did not want to come to the convention. If they were Liberals they would have to stand by the action of the convention, he declared.

E. J. Henneberry told of efforts to get Albert delegates to come to St. John and of a willingness to postpone the convention, as in no event would the received word that they would not come to the convention and would rather stand aloof. He asked Mr. Thompson if the Albert county Liberals would stand by the candidates named by the convention, and Mr. Thompson replied that he could not say. Mr. Thompson advised against postponing the convention, as in no event would the Albert county delegates come to St. John. Mr. Henneberry said he had written to Mr. Thompson saying that the method of polling the Albert county delegates would be acceptable to the convention.

In the opinion of William M. Ryan it made a great difference whether or not Albert county delegates were present. The election could not be won without their support. He asked Dr. Broderick's opinion of a postponement. Dr. Broderick replied that the convention was called together for a distinct purpose, but he did not want to antagonize Albert county.

A. F. Bentley told of the difficulty and sacrifice caused by delegates from rural districts coming to a convention, and said that Albert county could not be disregarded, as there was a hard fight ahead. In view of the telegrams from Ottawa and the Albert county situation, he thought a gain would be made by deferring action until next Monday.

Mr. Belyea said that Mr. Scully had informed him that the telegram had nothing to do with the convention. It was then decided to ballot by wards as to whether the convention should be postponed, and Percy McAvity, T. M. Burns and E. J. Henneberry were appointed scrutineers. The result of the vote was seventy-one to forty-seven in favor of proceeding.

While the voting was in progress, Edward Farren announced his resignation as chairman of Victoria ward.

D. Griffith again asked for a report from the committee that waited on Hon. Mr. Pugsley. E. J. Henneberry told of meeting Dr. Pugsley and of tendering him the nomination, which he refused for reasons given in confidence to the committee. Mr. Griffith was of the opinion that the convention should be held all as there had been many conflicting rumors. He then requested a report from the nominating committee. A. R. McLean reported for this committee and said that two gentlemen had been interviewed who had signified their willingness to accept the nomination and the secretary would announce the names.

Mr. Henneberry then announced that H. R. McLellan and W. Frank Hatheway were the gentlemen on whom the committee had called. On motion the report of the committee was received.

The chairman then declared the convention open to receive nominations.

The name of H. R. McLellan was then placed in nomination by H. S. Keith and that of W. F. Hatheway by James LeClair.

Mr. Barry began to discuss Mr. McLellan's qualifications but was ruled out of order by the chairman. Mr. Barry then said that Mr. McLellan had announced himself as an independent candidate and had said that he would still run as an independent if not nominated by the convention. Mr. Keith said that Mr. McLellan, in allowing his name to come up, would abide by the action of the convention. He was sincere in allowing his name to go before the convention. The speaker said that Mr. McLellan came from an old Liberal family and would do yeoman service for the delegates.

A. W. Carten asked how about Mr. Hatheway. He had heard he was going to be a labor candidate. The speaker was in favor of Dr. Corbet being nominated. The situation was getting intolerable.

Alexander Corbet said that his brother had considered that he had not received fair treatment from the nominating committee. They had said that they had telephoned him but he had never received the message. Mr. Carten asked Mr. Corbet if Dr. Corbet would run and Mr. Corbet replied that he would not.

John T. O'Brien said that the committee had not fulfilled its duties properly and should be discharged. He did not think the party would get anywhere with the present executive. It should be cleaned out and started anew from the ground up. Mr. Cunningham told of the difficulties experienced in securing suitable candidates and said that the committee had done the best it could and should not be blamed.

A motion was then passed that the present discussion was out of order.

A ballot was then passed that nominations cease.

Balloting was then commenced and the following were appointed scrutineers: Percy McAvity, T. M. Burns, L. J. McDonald, Alexander Corbet and E. J. Henneberry. The result of the balloting was announced as follows: McLellan, 71; Hatheway, 47. The chairman then declared Mr. McLellan to be the running mate of Dr. Broderick. The result was received with cheers and there were calls for Mr. McLellan, who was sent for.

James LeClair, who had nominated Mr. Hatheway, was asked to move that the selection be made unanimous, but this he declined to do, saying that he had worked too hard to unseat Mr. McLellan in the city council and could not now support him.

The question of giving the Albert delegates a chance to vote was then brought up and it was shown that if the thirty votes were given for Mr. Hatheway it would upset the election. The chairman said that the Albert delegates had been given every opportunity to attend and they had not come. When Mr. McLellan arrived he would tender him the nomination. An offer had been made to Albert county to allow them to vote on the delegates. Mr. Henneberry said that authority had not been given Mr. Thompson to hold a ballot; it merely had been suggested.

John T. O'Brien said that all complaints with the proceedings resign and that the Liberal party should start over again. No action was taken on this.

Michael Kelly moved that Mr. McLellan be given a nomination. W. M. Ryan said that Mr. Thompson was trying to get in touch with the other Albert delegates. Are we going to close the door to Albert county, he asked.

Mr. Griffith moved in amendment, seconded by Joseph Dryden, that the official notification to Mr. McLellan be deferred for forty-eight hours; meanwhile they could get in touch with Albert county and a ratification meeting could be held later.

L. J. McDonald said that every opportunity to be present and they had failed to appear. It would not be fair to allow them or any other absentees to ballot.

At this stage Mr. McLellan arrived and was greeted with cheers by the delegates.

The vote on the amendment was put and lost and the original motion that the nomination be given to Mr. McLellan was carried by a large majority.

The chairman, in a short speech, then tendered the candidature to Mr. McLellan and said that all should get together and carry the party to victory.

Mr. McLellan.

On arising, Mr. McLellan was greeted with cheers. He expressed his gratitude for the honor and confidence placed in him. He fully realized the difficulties and responsibilities that confronted him. The destinies of the port and of New Brunswick were at stake but he believed that the Liberals would rise superior to passions and past differences in the interests of the port and province. He was looking for a change by which greater prosperity would come to the country and by which the welfare of the city and province would be advanced. St. John and New Brunswick had not received the attention they were entitled to from the present government. St. John and Albert counties had common objects to maintain and members of the party must show a self-denying spirit and unite as one man for St. John and the province. He told his hearers to bury all past differences for the welfare of the party as in union there was strength.

He knew that a change of government was attended with some inconveniences to certain gentlemen but they would have to put up with it. It was much better that some inconveniences should occur than that the Canadian people should be governed by a party which had proved itself to be incapable of looking after the people's welfare.

Mr. McLellan then took up Premier Meighen's statement that a failure to maintain the present government would be detrimental to the country but, he said, Mr. Meighen had made no reference to the interests to which the great of the government would prove detrimental. He said that the tariff laws had been taken advantage of by the interests to increase their profits as they added the amount of the duty to goods made in this country and often further increased their profits by lowering the standard of the quality of the goods manufactured.

Another important question, the speaker said, was the railway question or rather it would be better described as the railway crime (laughter) which had placed such additional burdens on the taxpayers made the country a question of the present railway condition was a legacy of the Laurier regime.

Regarding the rights of the maritime provinces, Mr. McLellan quoted from speeches made at the time when the upper provinces earnestly wanted the maritimers to join in confederation. He said that the promises made to the maritime provinces to enter confederation never had been carried out and it was time that the latter should demand their rights. He referred to the present situation and the way in which the government had made it impossible for local manufacturers and merchants to compete in upper Canada and the west in trade owing to the high freight rates which the government had fixed for its railway lines. He said that his first effort at Ottawa would be to see that these provinces secured their proper confederation rights. He announced that he was a candidate solely to advance the interests of St. John and the province of New Brunswick and that, if he did not deliver the goods or at least part of them within one year, he would resign.

Mr. McLellan said that he was proud to run with Dr. Broderick and intended to hold no prejudice against those who had opposed him. There was Mr. Barry in the audience to whom he had not spoken in several years, he said, but if Mr. Barry would come forward he would be pleased to shake his hand. Mr. Barry came forward and they shook hands amid great cheering. He did the same with Mr. Dryden with whom, he said, he had not been on friendly terms during the last few years.

The candidate announced last night that his campaign would be to elect the ticket, the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket. He sounded a warning that if the government party resorted to mud throwing he would place tons of dynamite under them and their platform. He said that this election was an opportunity that the city could not afford to lose in the interests of its harbor work. He expected to shake a great many hands during the next few weeks and finally to shake down the present government. From now on he was at the disposal of the people for twenty-four hours a day.

Dr. W. P. Broderick followed and made a short but impressive address in which he congratulated Mr. McLellan on his nomination and expressed the hope that a calm had now arrived after the storm. It was the duty of the electors of this city to help elect Hon. Mackenzie King as the next premier of Canada, he said, and the only way to do this was for every full-fledged Liberal to work towards that end. He hoped that they would be able to make up in strenuous work for the Liberal to work towards that end. He hoped that they would be able to make up in strenuous work for the Liberal to work towards that end. He hoped that they would be able to make up in strenuous work for the Liberal to work towards that end.

At the conclusion of these remarks the chairman called for three hearty cheers for the two candidates, which were given with a will. The convention then adjourned.

A vibrant story of life and love in the northwest wilderness of the Canadian Rockies is told in "Snowblind," a Reginald Barker production for Goldwyn, which was shown at Queen Square Theatre last night. The author is Katherine Newlin Burt, who also wrote "The Branding Iron." Russell Simpson heads the distinguished cast which includes Mary Alden, Cullen Landis and Pauline Sylvia (Pauline Starke) for a fugitive from the law, Hugh Garth (Russell Simpson), who brought her to his cabin when he found her wandering about temporarily blinded by the snow. Gradually her affection is transferred to Peta (Cullen Landis), Hugh's younger brother. The struggle in the girl's heart between her wandering affection, and the jealousy of Hugh pitted against the magnanimity of his younger brother, develop into a series of powerful dramatic situations that are admirably carried out by the four sterling actors who tell the story.

Reginald Barker has again produced another of those massive photoplays which have won him an international reputation.

Your last chance to see this picture tonight.

Loveable Cinderella is with us again—or rather her new twin sister, whimsically appealing and sparkingly fresh. She is at the Imperial Theatre in the Metro special, "Cinderella's Twin."

Which is cause for rejoicing, for this picture is one delightful concoction with all the old never-fading charm. A piquant little Viola Dana is there—the star—the scullery maid who goes straight into a twentieth-century mansion to find the heart of the man she loves.

It has twists aplenty. One of them is the situation where Connie McGill, the little maid, suddenly has to flee the splendor of a ballroom, and in the act drops her slipper, which contained the key to a safety vault holding the jewels sought by thieves. Her Prince Charming, Wallace McDonald, formerly of the maritime provinces, gets the slipper, and arrested into the bargain for the theft.

In the old story, a fairy godmother does the trick; in the modern version, a gang of unscrupulous thieves assist the little maid to get the brilliant life.

It tells of Connie who is given to dreaming, and has for her hero a social light the saw photographed in a magazine. Her dreams come true, but only through a band of thieves, who make her a tool and are later frustrated by her action.

In addition to the above very amusing picture the Imperial has a mixed bill of news pictures (Pathé), the Literary Digest's "Topics of the Day" and the new highly entertaining "Aesop's Fables" in film. It is truly surprising the fun one can get out of a well-planned movie bill these days.

Tomorrow the Imperial has Tom Moore in his best characterization, "Hold Your Horses."

Y. M. C. I. Girls' League. The senior Y. M. C. I. girls' house basketball league was opened last evening. Miss Floyd's team won from Miss L. Flood's team, 9 to 0, and Miss Cooker's team won from Miss Collins' team, 29 to 0.
