BULGARIA THROWS UP THE SPONGE

Armistice Complete on The Allies' Terms

Probably Means Occupation of Country by Allied Troops With Assistance of Bulgarian Government; Germans Rushing Troops There; Further News of Victory by Allied Forces

Paris, Sept. 30.—An armistice has been concluded between the Allies and Bulgaria on the Allies' own terms. This announcement was made officially today.

Bulgarian representatives agreed to an armistice—probably the first step in Bulgaria's withdrawal from the alliance with the Central Powers—a few days less than three years after the entry of the war on the side of Germany. It was on October 9, 1915, that Bulgaria issued a manifesto announcing her decision to cast her lot against the Entente Alliance. She had been fifteen months in deciding her course.

As the armistice has been arranged on terms laid down by the Allies it is probable that it calls for the occupation of Bulgaria by Allied troops with the assistance of the Bulgarian government.

What It Means.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Associated Press today issues the following:—Bulgaria has signed an armistice with the Allies and the first break in the alliance of the Central Powers has come. Terms laid down by the Allies were accepted by Bulgaria, and hostilities between that nation and the Allied powers cease. The Allied terms, it is reported from semi-official sources, included the demobilization of the Bulgarian army and Bulgarian withdrawal from Allied territory.

The armistice probably will ensure the signing of the armistice, the first step toward peace negotiations between Bulgaria and the Allies.

Rec. on Delegation.

London, Sept. 30.—It is pointed out that the fact that M. Radoff, former member of the Bulgarian cabinet, and former Bulgarian minister at Bern, has been added to the delegation, shows that the Bulgarian government is earnestly offering M. Radoff as one of Bulgaria's most skilful and experienced diplomats, and is an eminent writer and orator.

other Serbian Victory.

London, Sept. 30.—Charevo, east of and six miles from the Bulgarian border, has been captured by the Serbs, and the retreat of the Bulgarian army has been cut off, says the Serbian statement of Sunday. More than 20,000 prisoners and twenty guns were captured at Charevo. This was effected by a maneuver.

the western front the enemy tried to send reinforcements to defend St. Nicholas, our strong attacks compelled them to abandon his positions. In the wing around St. Nicholas, the Serbs have captured the Bulgarian army.

Amsterdam, Sept. 30.—King Ferdinand and Bulgaria has telegraphed to Emperor Charles of Austria, assuring him of his loyalty to the quadruple alliance, and to the Neue Freie Presse.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The Bulgarian king is expected to reach Vienna soon, according to a German despatch. When the two daughters of King Ferdinand reached Vienna late last week they said that they expected their father to follow them soon. The princesses brought with them a large quantity of baggage.

Germany Sending Troops.

London, Sept. 28.—Great masses of German troops are on their way to Bulgaria and will pass through Sofia so the Bulgarian population will see that forces are being sent to their assistance, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen, quoting the Deutsche Tages Zeitung of Berlin.

American Has Part.

London, Sept. 30.—An American, said to be the United States charge d'affaires at Sofia, accompanied the Bulgarian delegates to Saloniki to confer with the Allied command relative to an armistice, according to a Berlin telegram received here by way of Copenhagen. It is said by the telegram that "he apparently played a very important part in recent events."

Guns Number 350.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The Anglo-Greek forces are moving forward north of Saloniki in the direction of Paevo. They are advancing toward Paevo along the valley of the Strumitsa. The number of guns captured in the present offensive now is more than 350. Serbian cavalry have reached the Bulgarian front.

BULGARIAN NEWS EFFECT IN WALL STREET

New York, Sept. 30.—Announcement that Bulgaria had accepted the terms of an armistice imposed by the Entente Allies, furnished a firm foundation for the daily trading on the stock exchange today, although the standard issues were not of the so-called group. Oils, notably Texas Company and Mexican Petrol-

BRITISH PRESS ON; SUBURBS OF CAMBRAI ENTERED

Further Gains Reported, With Capture of Many More Prisoners but at Several Places There is a Check

London, Sept. 30.—British, Australian and American forces pushed forward last night to the front between Bellouze and Comandieu, in the face of the strongest opposition, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

On the front southeast of Douai, the British have withdrawn from Arleux and Aubencheu-Au-Bac.

Heavy rain has fallen during the night and the weather is still stormy. Forty thousand prisoners were taken by the Allied forces yesterday to the north of St. Quentin, and forty guns were captured there.

On the front northwest of Lacatelet German counter-attacks pressed the British back to the outskirts of Villers-Guislain, while to the southwest of Lacatelet similar pressure sent Field Marshal Haig's troops back to the edge of the village of Bony.

A LICKING IN FLANDERS

Have, Sept. 29.—The Belgian and British troops defeated the Germans today in heavy fighting on the Flanders ridge and on the Messines-Wytschaete positions.

Have, Sept. 30.—The Messines-Wytschaete ridge has been occupied and the Germans have been defeated in efforts to defend the approaches to the river Lys.

King Albert's forces at dusk last evening were attacking the Germans at St. Pieter on the Douters-Menin road, and at Collemontel, two and a half miles west of Rooden.

The Allies' Work.

London, Sept. 30.—The work of the air force co-operated in every phase of Saturday's operations. Patrols carried out flights far behind the German lines, reconnoitering roads and railroads by day and night. In spite of the clouds and rain successful observation for the artillery was accomplished.

Twenty-two hostilities were reported to the headquarters of the formations.

Enemy troops were bombed and machine gunned from extremely low heights and heavy casualties were inflicted.

WRESTING FRANCE FROM HOLD OF THE ENEMY

Now Not One Department Entirely In Hands of the Germans

Paris, Sept. 30.—The progress in wresting France from the hold of the German invaders on French soil is shown by the fact that no longer is any of the French departments entirely occupied by the enemy. This situation was established by the capture of four communes of the department of the Ardennes.

BRITISH AND AMERICANS IN TERRIFIC BLOW AT HUNS

Joint Attack on Sunday At Strongest Point On Hindenburg Line

"LUSITANIA" IS CRY

Soldiers From U. S. Over the Top With This Slogan—British Division Swims Across Canal in Frosty Morn—Canadians Take Part—Success Early and Pronounced

British Headquarters in France, Sept. 30.—(Reuters)—Striking at the strongest point of the Hindenburg line, between St. Quentin and Lacatelet, British and American troops launched a terrific attack at six o'clock this morning. Forty-eight hours before the infantry advanced against the German lines the British artillery had maintained a terrific fire against the enemy positions.

For the last ten hours of the bombardment gas shells by the thousands were hurled against the Germans, causing a comparative silence to fall over the enemy lines.

During the night a preliminary infantry attack developed between Marais and Mesnières against the main Hindenburg line and met with satisfactory success. Under a creeping curtain of flame, the main assault was launched this morning.

A large force of American troops, shouting "Lusitania" advanced in the first waves with splendid dash, their war cry being a ringing shout of defiance.

A large number of tanks went out with the first wave, being directed against a front of 6,000 yards south of Vendegies, where the St. Quentin Canal passes through a tunnel.

Foch Fighting Five Battles At Once and Is Winning Them All

All Working Like a Perfect Machine—Huns May be Forced Back To Antwerp-Brussels-Mezieres-Metz Line

Paris, Sept. 30.—Marshal Foch is fighting five battles simultaneously and successfully—a feat unparalleled in the history of war. Each battle is so timed and placed that each army supports another, all forming an indispensable part of the whole effort.

There may be more battles tomorrow, all inter-related and working as smoothly as the cylinders of a well-adjusted automobile engine. All are directed to the same end—to wear down the enemy's strength. Marshal Foch alone knows when the Allies will strike the decisive blow. The enemy is still fighting well. He is still offering splendid resistance west of the Argonne; but how long can he keep it up?

Expert commentators agree that the enemy's withdrawal to a shorter line, probably that of Antwerp, Brussels, Mezieres and Metz, is imminent. Some believe he has hung too long, and that he will have great difficulty in preventing his retreat from degenerating into a rout.

GERMAN THREAT TO AMERICANS

Protest Against Use of Shot-guns in War

Washington Will Reply that it is Quite in Order and if There are "Reprisals" Look Out

Amsterdam, Sept. 30.—Germany, through the Swiss legation, has sent an ultimatum to the government of the United States to the effect that if no satisfactory answer is forthcoming by Oct. 1 to the German protest about the use of shot-guns by American soldiers "reprisals will be taken."

It is pointed out to the government of the United States that a prisoner on whom a shotgun or shotgun ammunition is found forfeits his life.

Washington, Sept. 30.—"Two can play that game," will be in effect the American government's rejoinder to the German government's ultimatum.

The answer to Berlin will be sent by the state department, and will challenge the right of Germany to take the lives of any American soldiers captured with shotguns. The position of the government will be as follows:

1. The use of shotguns will be continued wherever and whenever considered necessary for the military operations of the United States.

2. There is nothing in The Hague conventions forbidding the use of shotguns in war, and the American government is well within the right accorded under the rules of civilized warfare in using shotguns.

3. The American government denies the right of the German government to adopt the principle that reprisals occasioning physical suffering are necessary to enforce the demands from one belligerent to another.

4. Any such reprisal by the German government will invite similar reciprocal action on the part of the United States.

It is said that the number of cases at St. Johns has increased during the last few days, there being about 500 on the list, of which about eighty per cent are convalescent. Three more deaths were reported yesterday from pneumonia consequent upon Spanish influenza.

CAPTAIN ROY FOUND GUILTY

Breaks Down and Cries as Court-Martial Proceedings go On

Montreal, Sept. 30.—On the charges that he had attempted to obtain $400 from Maurer Prevost to secure the exemption of Wilfrid Melancon from military service, and that he had taken $2,200 from Oswald Tetreault for the exemption of Felix Demaris, a draftsman, Captain Aureo Roy of the Canadian Army Service Corps, who had been medical officer for the 2nd depot battalion, was found guilty by standing general court martial under Lt. Col. F. Mindein Cole, D. S. O., on Saturday night.

Captain Roy, who broke down and wept bitterly during the proceedings, will be kept under close arrest until the pronouncement of the sentence after it has been approved by the governor-general.

FRENCH CAPTURE VITAL SECTOR; URVILLERS WON

Important Step in Investment of St. Quentin; Attack in Champagne Resumed This Morning; All Goes Well

Paris, Sept. 30.—French troops in the Champagne resumed their attack at daybreak today. The Germans violently counter-attacked last night southeast of St. Quentin, in the Urvillers region, south of St. Quentin, in an attempt to recapture Hill 28. All these efforts were broken up by the French defence. Rather violent artillery fighting occurred between the Ailette and the Aisne. In the Champagne there was no infantry action during the night. The battle began about daybreak.

With the French Army on the St. Quentin front, Sept. 30.—(Reuters)—French forces attacked and captured the dominating point in the German line of resistance between St. Quentin and the Oise River yesterday. This line follows along the ridge parallel to and immediately in front of the Hindenburg line.

Urvillers was its strongest point. From there the line ran over Hill 120, to the south. This was captured by assault. The village of Cerisy was also taken and the French troops advanced in the wood between Urvillers and Cerisy. The Urvillers fell.

By the capture of this vital sector, especially Urvillers, the investing line around St. Quentin advanced an important step. It now also forms a semi-circle around the western and southern sides of the city.

FRENCH STRIKE AGAIN

Paris, Sept. 30.—(Havas Agency)—General Gouraud's army attacked this morning on the northern slopes of Bellevue Heights, Mount Cuvetot, and Bouconville.

AIN BROOK, which flows northeast toward Challerange, has been crossed and heights dominating the village of Maure, on the west side of the brook, have been taken.

Saturday and Sunday.

With the French Army on the Champagne front, Sept. 29.—(Reuters)—German forces are resisting with desperate energy the further advance of General Gouraud's army. Yesterday's fighting was of a bitter character, the Germans clinging with determination to the ridge north of the River Py and the village of Bernouville. Furious counter-attacks were made at every opportunity, the enemy command bringing reinforcements into the light trenches.

Between the Ailette and the Aisne we today realized an advance of about two kilometers along the Chemin des Dames and have occupied Fargy-Elaine, Flain and Ost.

On the Champagne front our troops have continued their attacks and have obtained important results. Upon the right we have passed the village of Bouconville and hold the positions north of this village. Farther west we have taken Mont Cuvetot, which was strongly defended by the enemy. Our troops have pushed farther north and taken the village of Sechault, progressing about two kilometers in the direction of Challerange. Farther west we have taken Ardeuil-Eth-Montfauxelles and Vicux and carried our lines toward Aire.

"Upon our left we have penetrated the village of St. Marie-A-Py.

Important Gains.

With the French Army in Champagne, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The capture of Montcuvetot and Bouconville by the French is most important and has already borne fruit. These heights permit the French to overlook the valley of the Aisne, and the important railway junction of Challerange. They also can see the mouth of the valley through which flows the river Aire. Along this river a railway runs eastward from Mousson to Grand Pre. It is the only route possible for troops passing through the Argonne Forest. South of the Aire the forest is a mass of impassable

Haig Breaks Hindenburg Line North of St. Quentin—Big Gain in Flanders—Fall Of Cambrai and St. Quentin Near

WHAT IS LUXURY? Impossible to Make a Definition Applicable in All Cases.

A luxury, as commonly defined, is something that gratifies a nice or fastidious appetite; is something rare, delicious and dainty, and any article that ministers to comfort and pleasure yet is not necessary to life or to what is regarded as an ordinary degree of comfort.

It is an open question, therefore, whether tobacco is a luxury, it is evidently a matter of opinion.

What The River Rhine Means To Germany

Its Main Artery

Right of Access Through Holland of Utmost Importance to Industry and Commerce—Scheldt of Almost-Equal Usefulness

Although there appears to be a general if vague belief that the Rhine River is the western boundary of Germany, a moment's reflection would suggest that if this were so the Rhine would be also the eastern boundary of other countries and that they would have as good rights as Germany to sing its praises, just as Canadians and Americans take equal pride in the Great Lakes. So it is an error to speak of reaching the Rhine as though we should then for the first time look over German territory. If it is necessary for the Allies to advance as far as the Rhine before they have put out of action the German armies in the field, they will have passed over much German ground in their progress. A considerable part of Germany will be already in their grip. It is by no means necessary to cross the Rhine in order to inflict upon Germany some of the suffering she has inflicted upon France and Belgium and Serbia.

The Mouth of the Rhine.

Not only is the Rhine not the boundary river of Germany, but neither its mouth nor its source is in German territory as Charles M. Pepper points out in the Washington Star in the course of a discussion of the Rhine as a factor in peace negotiations. This has long been a cause of mortification to Germany, and it is partly due to the rise of the pan-German movement and the dream of a Mitteleuropa. The Rhine flows into the North Sea at Rotterdam in Holland, just as the other great German river, the Scheldt, flows into the North Sea through Belgium. Even the Danube pours into the Black Sea, but this fact was not felt as a humiliation by the Pan-Germans because of the subordinate relation of Austria to Germany. But for a long time it has been their business to assert, sometimes in the most fanatical language, that Germany must control the Rhine and the Scheldt to the mouth.

It is true that various treaties guaranteed Germany the use of the Rhine as a highway to the sea, but it is not the Rhine itself, but the right of access to the sea, that is the vital factor here, as established by the treaty of Paris in 1814. In subsequent treaties this principle was upheld, but many, naturally, does not put much value on it, and has long desired the sole ownership of the Rhine. All of equal importance in her view is the control of the mouth of the river, and on this account it will be a blow to her when she is obliged to surrender Belgium and to withdraw from the treaty that practically internationalized the Scheldt, and that in the future German vessels could not use the mouth of this river. If in this decision she had the support of the Allies she could inflict enormous economic losses upon Germany's lifeblood.

But should the Allies insist that the Rhine is no longer to be free to German commerce to its mouth at Rotterdam, this would be almost a deathblow to Germany. It would wipe out many of her industries and remove her people for all time to come, as an economic competitor with the rest of the world. We may be sure that in all sections between Germany and Holland there is in the minds of the representatives of both countries possibilities of the mouth of the Rhine. Germany must fear if she forced Holland to the war, the treaty of peace would be her of the rights she has enjoyed up to now in Rotterdam. On the other hand, there is the lure of becoming master of Rotterdam, and this securing in her own right the ownership of the mouth of her greatest river. The war is that earlier in the war, when the German armies were enjoying their triumphs, the Kaiser did not force Holland into the war, either as an enemy or as an ally, in order that he might come master of the mouth of the river.

Switzerland's Desire. The Rhine is important to Germany because it is the main artery of her industrial life. The vast Westphalian coal fields are tributary to it. The iron ore which is imported from Sweden and her countries flows down it to the last furnaces. Cologne, Mannheim and Frankfurt are dependent on the Rhine. Vital as the Rhine has been in the up-building of the German empire in the past, it is planned to make it more so in the period of reconstruction that will follow the war. The intention is to make use of the Rhine as the source of electrical energy that will operate many of the great manufacturing plants within the empire. This will mean that the Rhine is to become a canal instead of a river, and oddly enough it is Switzerland that files a mild protest to the cause. Switzerland has ambitions to secure free access to the North Sea, and since the Rhine is by treaty free for purposes of navigation to all the nations of the world there is nothing extraordinary in Switzerland's ambition. But since Switzerland would be sending Rhine manufactured goods in competition with those which Germany ships to the four corners of the world, it is not likely to get much cooperation if Germany is left to decide the Rhine shall be canalized or not in this account, it seems likely the Rhine in its mouth and its use to be made of it, are matters all come up for discussion when stalls of peace are being arranged.

FACTORS COME TO STAY.

Beautiful things are everyday things now—

Look around you. See the large number of dainty silk blouses in beautiful tints that are being worn. And the quantities of dainty underwear the stores are showing—sheerest, most beautiful things you have ever seen. It was not so a few years ago. What has caused the difference?

Certainly and surely—one big factor has been Lux. Women would not buy these things right along unless there was a gentle, sure way of washing them—without discoloring, warping or fading.

There is—it's the Lux way. Won't turn silks yellow—won't hurt chiffons—won't shrink woollens. Lux won't hurt anything that pure water itself may touch.

use of the tractor in farm work, for example, has proved its value to the most skeptical. At the same time it has paved the way for better co-operation than formerly existed. New York State authorities set the pace by purchasing a large number of the big machines and sending them to associations of farmers formed expressly for the purpose of using them. The result has been not only that man power has been saved on already existing farms, but that considerable areas have been restored to cultivation which had been abandoned for lack of help.

The tractor has been accompanied by two other machines also important to agriculture—one for digging ditches in land which required drainage and another for spraying the crops after they had been planted. The ditching machine, even more than the tractor has taught a lesson in the value of united effort. It costs more than the ordinary tractor, only beginning to dawn—Oregonian

FAMILY PRAYERS.

Theory Advanced to Account for Decline of an Old Custom. I see that Sir Joseph Maclay wishes that Englishmen should return to the habit of having family prayers. My fellow sociologists have given various reasons for the abandonment of the practice in many families. One of them has pointed out that the household prayers remained the order of the day as long as the family breakfasted together. "Disruption came in with the institution of a bath room in houses." This breakfast became a series of semi-detached meals. Thus the family circle was broken, and family prayers gradually disappeared.

When I was a boy in a town that had the doubtful honor of being celebrated in verse by J. G. Holland, family prayers were regarded as more important than breakfast. The head of the household read a chapter of the Bible, often stumbling over the names of persons, tribes and towns. There are fathers who read in a voice that convinced the listener that the reader had himself written the text and was laying down his own parental laws. There were also fathers who read the prayer that followed the reading. I doubt if in this town today there are many families that unite in reading and prayer.

Charles Lamb argued against pious grace before meat, "blessing" we use to call it, when if a minister were at table the host would ask him to "say the blessing," as he would afterward inquire "before that, in England, morning habits were taken in bedrooms, and members of the household went downstairs practically together. When there was a succession of bathers in a room where there was a set tub, the first had finished his breakfast before the last had begun." This breakfast became a series of semi-detached meals. Thus the family circle was broken, and family prayers gradually disappeared.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Bulgaria is out of the war. An armistice was concluded at Saloniki this morning on the Allies' own terms. A Serbian statesman last week warned the Allies to beware of the Bulgars, but the Bulgars have evidently been so thoroughly beaten and starved that he is ready for peace on any terms now rather than remain the ally of Germany and be a still greater loser in the end. There will perhaps be some fear that this is a trick to gain time for German reinforcements, but Germany needs all the men she can muster on the western front, where Foch is striking blow after blow, while the British and Americans yesterday, following the smashing drive of the Belgians to the north, launched a terrific and successful attack between St. Quentin and Le Cateau. British and Canadians are in the outskirts of Cambrai, and the Hindenburg line and Chemin des Dames no longer prevent the Allied advance. The enemy's communications in the St. Quentin-Cambrai sector are threatened. Despite desperate resistance and fierce and frequent counter-attacks at points of strategic importance, the advance continues. The Americans, whose battle-cry is "Lusitania," are fighting with superb courage and dash. Nowhere is there a ray of hope for the Hun. His defenses are going down, large numbers of prisoners and guns and great quantities of war material are taken daily by the Allies, and progress on the western front that would have been deemed impossible a few months ago now gives the assurance of still greater success before the fall campaign closes.

If the Bulgarian surrender is as complete as the first brief cable indicates, then Germany is cut off from Turkey, and the latter, thoroughly beaten in Mesopotamia and Palestine, will not long keep up the struggle. The announcement of the Bulgarian armistice is official and will cause the greatest consternation in Vienna, Constantinople and Berlin itself. It will also have a profound effect in Roumania, where there has been of late a growing disposition to renounce the agreement with Germany. To the Czecho-Slovaks in Austria it will be a bugle-call, and the troubles of the Austrian government will be increased a thousand-fold.

Today's news marks the entry upon a new phase of the war. The Russian people will be profoundly stirred by the collapse of Bulgaria and the prospective collapse of Turkey; and resistance to the Bolsheviks and other pro-German influences will be further encouraged by the news from northern Russia, where the Allies are advancing, and from Siberia, where the Czecho-Slovaks and Japanese are gaining fresh successes.

It is doubtless true that Austria will now launch a new peace offer, and perhaps this time she will not be quite so considerate of German opinion. The Quadruple Alliance has been broken, and every new announcement of Allied success on the western front will add to the political ferment in Germany as well as in Austro-Hungary.

We must not indulge in too much optimism, but the news of recent weeks, and especially that of today, brings the end of the war appreciably nearer, with complete victory for the Allies.

There is a curb event and absolute finality about American replies to German threats which it is very pleasing to observe. The Hun, who likes to kill children, objects to the use of shot-guns by the Americans, and threatens to retaliate. Uncle Sam first proceeds to remark that there is nothing in international law to condemn the use of shot-guns, and then proceeds to observe that he will go on using them, and if the Hun retaliates there will be two in the game. As the Americans are now piloting long lines of German prisoners to places behind the lines, and will continue to do so, there will be no lack of subjects for retaliation. Moreover, the Americans and other Allies are going into Germany, and when they get there the opportunity to square accounts will be theirs to use at their discretion. The rattle of the German seaboard does not frighten anybody.

Says the Toronto Star: "Now that the Allies are setting up a unified diplomacy, with a central council in conference, similar to the unified command with a military council, the last hope of the Hun dies out. They will not be able to divide the Allies on the terms of peace by making different offers of settlement to different powers. If the Central Empires want to 'settle' none of the parties to the suit will make any answer but that the matter is in the hands of their lawyers, the well-known firm of Foch, Lloyd George, Wilson & Co."

The advertisement of meat prices in Manhattan Market, New York, quotes hindquarters, Canada lamb at 24 cents and forequarters at 20 cents. How does that compare with prices in St. John? Here are some other New York quotations: Rib roast, 22 cents; sirloin of porterhouse steak, 30 cents; cross rib roast, 28 cents; veal, 15 to 16 cents; corned beef, 16 cents; chuck steak, 22 cents; top sirloin roast, 28 cents; fricassee chickens, 25 cents. New Yorkers are fortunate.

The suppression of any newspaper, in Montreal or elsewhere in Canada, which utters disloyal sentiments is in the public interest. In American theatres when five minute patriotic talks are given, the audience is urged to report the least disloyal utterance, in order that the authorities may act with promptness. There is no compromise with public enemies.

The Canadian food controller declares that 4,750,000 people in Europe have died of starvation since the war began, and that even more than this number will die in Russia during the coming winter. That is why the cry for conservation of food is still heard in all countries.

The French are creeping ever closer to St. Quentin, and the British are in the outskirts of Cambrai. Today's reports tell of further brilliant and successful fighting along the Hindenburg line.

Marshal Foch is now fighting five battles on as many sectors of the western front, and each fresh assault is so timed as to support the other. The enemy must withdraw to a shorter line, and give up much territory now held.

Improvidence is wrong at all times but particularly during these days of war. Save and save and put your money into victory bonds. By doing so you'll help win the war and you'll have a nice return in interest.

We can imagine the cheering when the weary American ranks opened at a tense moment of one of yesterday's battles and the Australians in support swept through to carry on the assault on the enemy's lines.

It is hoped to have at least two thousand acres of idle land near each of two hundred Canadian cities cultivated with tractors to add to next year's crop. All that can be raised will be needed.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is expected to visit Vienna. The Bulgarian people are evidently not greatly interested in his movements. They appear to have taken the bit in their teeth.

The storming of the Bourlon Wood by the Allies added another brilliant chapter to the story of their achievements.

German troops, if they go to Bulgaria, will receive a cold welcome. They are too late.

Last week the Allies captured over a hundred thousand prisoners and nearly a thousand guns.

Have you prepared your War Garden exhibit? As many as possible should do so, to encourage production next year.

Tomorrow the increased power company rates come into effect. What about improved service?

WOMEN M. P.

It was announced at a conference of the National Federation of Women Workers, held at Manchester, Eng., that Miss MacArthur, the general secretary, had been adopted as prospective candidate for Stourbridge, and that the National Labor party had endorsed the nomination.

Miss MacArthur said that the Labor party were about to start a big agitation to establish the right of women to enter parliament, and that a bill, which was being promoted to this end, would be moved immediately on the resumption of parliament.

Mrs. Fawcett raised the question of the investment of funds, and said she thought that it was a deplorable thing that the National Federation of Women should invest money in war loans. In her view it was nothing less than blood money.

Miss Maud MacArthur said that the executive were there to carry out the wishes of members as a whole. As many as 90 per cent of the members were engaged on the manufacture of munitions.

Bonar Law, in reply to Sir W. Dickson, in the House of Commons, said in the unanimous opinion of the law officers of England, Scotland, and Ireland a woman was not eligible to be a candidate for parliament. The subject had not been considered by the government.

TIMOR BELL

"Timor bell" is the name given by British army doctors to a disease that is not at all common among Allied soldiers, but found often enough in civil life everywhere. For the benefit of those who may not recognize the complaint under that designation we should explain that "timor bell" is slang for cold feet.—Sioux Falls Press.

Daring Strategic Plan for Crossing the Supposed Impregnable Canal Du Nord Was Carried Out in Spirit Dash

With the Canadian Forces in France, Sept. 28, via London, Sept. 29.—(By J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press Correspondent)—Some connected account may be now written of the battle for Bourlon Wood, which presented some extraordinarily difficult tactical problems, surmounted only by the skillful leadership and brilliant artillery work and gallantry of all arms. The attack was a complete surprise. Captured staff officers admit that the Canadian corps yesterday penetrated five miles and captured more than 4,000 prisoners and more than 100 guns, these including two complete batteries with horses and limbers. An attack somewhere was anticipated but not where it took place. The enemy regarded the line of the Canal du Nord as impregnable. It was so from the Scarpe River as far south as midway between Sains-les-Marquins and Inchy-en-Artois, that shut out the canal front which the Canadian corps established itself early this morning.

Swamps and flooded areas made the line of the canal impassable, but immediately east of Inchy-en-Artois a canal stretch of 3,000 yards was still uncompleted and the ground was dry. These areas are not situated in the valley bottom but form an embankment on its eastern slopes. The Canadian plan therefore was to attack the canal at a point where the ground slopes up to the dominating heights of Bourlon Wood, these slopes being intersected by the Marston trench system on the river above looking down on Cambrai between Hillecourt and the Canal de St. Quentin. All this was made familiar by the battle of Cambrai in last November.

A purely frontal drive, only 3,000 yards in length, was planned. It was to be a failure. Its momentum must have broken down before heavy flanking attacks from invisible northern enemy defence. The daring strategic plan therefore decided upon and to be carried to success only by each unit engaged fulfilling to the minute its allotted task, was to use the practical 3,000 yards as the handle of a fan whose ribs would open out once the canal was passed. Thus the movement initiated by a line due east would develop northeast and so gradually sweep north until all the canal was captured.

It was this fan-like movement that netted the bulk of the prisoners. Those troops entrusted with the storming of the canal had a sharp and bitter contest. Infantry units fought every province of the dominion took part. All reached their first objectives to the minimum trench spade, and the wire was passed over them on to further objectives. They would not be denied, and although they had spent a cold, wet night in the open their dash and teamwork were not less than they had displayed before Amiens. But superhuman efforts by the infantry would have gone for naught had not the Canadian artillery proved equal to the solution of this new and difficult problem.

THE CASUALTIES

George H. Gale, of Young's Cove, Queens county, was advised yesterday that his son, Ralph C. Gale, had died in a German prison camp at Munster, on July 29. Death was due, the despatch said, to lung trouble. This young soldier was but twenty-three years of age and the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gale, of Young's Cove. He went overseas with the 64th battalion and later saw service with the 2nd Nova Scotia regiment, and is at present in England convalescing from wounds, and Harry, at home. Mrs. Lee Ferris, of Young's Cove, Miss Minnie Gale, of Westboro (Mass.), and Miss Alma, of the local high school staff, are the sisters.

Mrs. F. Petrie of Millbank, Northumberland county, has received word that her son, Pte. Alex. Petrie, was killed in action on September 8. This is her second son who has made the supreme sacrifice.

Joseph Gorman of Burt's Corner has received a notification that his son, Lieut. Elwood Gorman, had been killed in action on September 20. He was twenty-seven years of age. But survived by his wife, his parents, three brothers and one sister.

GERMAN BOMBING OF HOSPITAL TRAIN

London, Sept. 6.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Major John Van Schalk, deputy commissioner for Belgium of the American Red Cross, who spends practically all his time at the Belgian front superintending relief work there, has reported the bombing, by the German, of a hospital train in the Belgian army zone. "The train was made up of six cars," he writes. "A bomb made a direct hit on the baggage car, which was carrying all the stores for the train, most of the kits and personal belongings of the staff. The car was completely demolished, but the German was once again foiled, for the American Red Cross was able to replace nearly all the material lost within a few hours."

You Can Buy Quality Shoes at Fair Prices

EVEN today—when the cost of every item in the make-up of a shoe is far above the normal—you can get satisfactory shoes at fair prices if you will buy prudently. The service you get for your money will largely depend upon your own wisdom and foresight when buying.

As Canada's largest manufacturers of shoes, we ask you to buy prudently, to practise true economy, to avoid extravagance. There are three things you should do:

First: Buy for service rather than merely for appearance.

Second: Go to a reputable dealer and benefit by his knowledge and experience.

Third: Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy.

If you will do these things, we can assure you of the best possible value for your money.

A. H. M. War-Time Selections offer special value for men, women and children. Ask your dealer for them.

Daily Fish Bulletin

Issued by Canada Food Board.

A VISITOR FROM NORWAY

The care of fish is a fine art in Norway and an interesting tale of the fishing industry was recently related in the Food Board office by Meinert A. Wick, a Norwegian now resident on the Gaspe coast, Que.

In every telegraph office in Norway, he declares, a daily bulletin is posted showing where the runner is, the depth at which caught, the bait used, the size of the nets and any other information of value to commercial fishermen. Furthermore, inspectors see to it that all fish taken is properly handled.

Mr. Wick declares that the codfish caught at Gaspe is better than the world—better even than Norwegian cod. It comes from a shell and rock bottom and for this reason is better than the codfish caught off the coast of Nova Scotia.

Food Board Flashes For Feminine Folk

Every housewife should make a point of knowing prices. That is to say, she should be able to tell at a glance when they are legitimately and when illegitimately high. The lack of such accurate information can keep her from doing her duty to her family, both in the matter of nutrition and economy.

A knowledge of prices comes from careful surveillance of meat and grocery ads and from a study of market fluctuations. Clothes, ads are astoundingly followed by most women. Why not food advertisements? Buying at a certain store simply because it is "convenient" is not good business when you can get exactly the same quality of goods at a lower rate somewhere else. Pay more attention to your household shopping. Cultivate the market and encourage your dealer to handle substitutes; display your posters, and otherwise help along the cause of conservation.

Almost Lynched

NEWS OF THE SOLDIERS

Sergeant Craig, of local military headquarters, who has been attached to the General Staff Officer's post, will leave this evening en route to the west, where he will be attached to the staff of the Base Commandant under Colonel Powell. Sergeant Craig is a highly efficient military clerk, and Colonel Powell, it is said, was keen on obtaining his services, which he has succeeded in securing. Sergeant Craig belongs to Vancouver and volunteered with an overseas draft, and upon reaching England was sent to France with the 1st C. I., with which he served with distinction.

Miss Pearl Warren, of 222 British street, received a cablegram on Saturday telling of the safe arrival in England of Gunner Roy E. Wallis.

SIFT ASHES AND SAVE COAL.

N. Y. Fuel Administration Sends Out an Appeal to Women.

The New York State Fuel Administration has sent out an appeal to women to conserve coal by sifting it that the fires in the kitchen ranges, in heating stoves, and in furnaces be run just as economically as possible.

"There is a wasteful and there is an economical way of minding the fire in the kitchen or in the cellar," says Mr. P. Moseley, chief of conservation, yesterday, "but the latter way is the only one that the housewife can follow at night, one-quarter of a ton of coal may be saved in every household every month. That saving makes the individual coal bills and helps win the war."

"The same thing may be done with such kitchen fires as are burned all night. And then, when grates are dumped, let the ashes be sifted, and coal that is only partly burned be picked out and saved to be burned again. There is no city in the world that is more dependent upon coal than New York, and there is nothing the government needs more. Sift the ashes and save the coal ought to be a winter slogan for every woman who keeps house."

GERMANS MAKE BREAD FROM LUPINE PLANT.

Amsterdam, Sept. 2.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Germany is threatened with a new war food called lupine bread. To work a process for converting the lupine, a leguminous plant into food for man and beast on a large scale a company has been formed at Chemnitz, Saxony, with a capital of 8,000,000 marks.

The lupine was held in no particular esteem until about fifty years ago, when a German chemist discovered a process by which the bitter taste of the plant was eliminated and the vegetable fat and albumen which it contains were made serviceable for human consumption. Now a German food expert has taken up and perfected the old recipe. It is said that lupine meal makes quite a palatable and wholesome "bread," while the refuse is excellent food for cattle. The German government, it is announced, is about to take the lupine cultivation under its official wing.

IN THE CHURCHES

St. Mary's church, Waterloo street, was taxed to its capacity last evening when the pastor, Rev. R. Taylor McKim conducted a memorial service for Private William McKenzie and Private James W. Paterson. He referred very feelingly to the loss felt by the congregation and expressed deep sympathy for the widows of Private McKenzie and his three children whom he loved dearly and with whom he had hoped to spend Christmas. The pastor referred to his career as a soldier, he having served three years in France without a scratch until he was killed in action on August 28, while serving with the Princess Pat's. He also spoke with high praise of the life of Private Paterson who enlisted with the 115th, and expressed the sympathy of all for his sorrowing mother.

The Dead March in Saul was rendered by the organist, Miss L. Brownfield, after which the last post was sounded by Bugler Shattford of the depot battalion. The honor roll of St. Mary's church consisting of 123 names is now dotted with twenty-four stars as a fitting mark to those who have laid down their lives in the cause.

Rev. J. W. Williamson preached to a packed audience in Victoria street Baptist church last evening, the occasion being the opening of rally week service.

Eldon Merritt, who went as a lay missionary to the blonde Eskimo in 1914, sent from St. John's (Stone) church, addressed that congregation at the service yesterday morning.

Mr. Merritt, who was entitled to a furlough after three years' service, has been in the field for four years and came home by a steamer from a Hudson Bay post landing at the mouth of the MacKenzie River, traveling from there to Edmonton, whence he came to St. John by train after traveling more than 5,000 miles on route.

Many classes showed full attendance at the rally service of St. Andrew's Sunday school yesterday. Addresses were given by the superintendent, J. B. Magee, and the minister, Rev. F. S. Dowling.

A rally day was observed at both morning and evening services in the Congregational church yesterday, addresses of an inspiring nature being given by A. W. Brooks.

The rally service in the Charlotte street Baptist church, W. E., yesterday afternoon was marked by the presentation of bouquet of roses to the superintendent, D. C. Clark, on behalf of the young people's society. Miss Meathy,

Are Trying Hypnotism On The German Nation

Political Leaders Attempt By Assuring Talk to Make People Stick Still Harping on Peace; Admit Defeats, But Rely on U-Boats and Past Successes

Amsterdam, Sept. 27.—Vice-Chancellor von Pappe, speaking before the main committee of the Reichstag, declared the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk must stand. The vice-chancellor said it would be a mistake to abandon those treaties insofar as they regulate the relations between the signatories, and he added: "If one day we are able to display so much insight, self-control and unselfishness that we can withdraw our troops from the eastern front, we can, after all, come to an understanding with those who, with us are concerned, whether we discuss on the basis of reciprocity these questions also with our enemies."

General von Wisberg addressed the Reichstag on behalf of the minister of war. He explained, according to a telegram from Berlin, that the failure of the German offensive on the western front was due to the failure of the German army to surprise the Entente Allies and to the necessity of assuming the defensive on the arrival of the English home army in the theatre of war; to the employment of colored troops and to the intervention of American divisions.

Referring to the Entente Allied attack on the Marne salient, General von Wisberg said the withdrawal of the German troops was necessary "for strategic reasons, and was completely successful." "That the first offensive of the enemy," he added, "brought him a tactical success, but, considered in the light of his great strategic aims, it can be regarded as not having succeeded."

by the pronouncements that are reaching our ears from across the ocean.

"The wildest war fury is at present raging in the United States. The people are intoxicated with the idea that America must bring the blessings of modern liberalism to the enslaved peoples of Central Europe, while at the same time they are rejoicing at the many millions of dollars worth of war armaments, causing to flow into the pockets of the business men.

"Theory and practice are two different things. The old proverb of the mote in another's eye and the beam in one's own finds constant illustration in the machinations of the Entente. They are never tired of condemning our march into Belgium, but they pass over the oppression of Greece, the interference with that country's internal affairs and the enforced abdication of its king as if they were matters of course. They assert that they are fighting to protect oppressed nations, but the century-old sorrows and the justifiable grievances of Ireland nowhere find a hearing, not even in America, where the people are acquainted through the numerous Irish immigrants. The British government, which is especially fond of talking right, has recently found it compatible with those principles to recognize the conglomerate rabble of Czecho-Slovaks as a belligerent power.

"The hour will come, because it must come, when our enemies will see us no ground for deep depression. The iron wall of the western front is not broken, and the U-boat is slowly but surely fulfilling its task of diminishing and restricting reinforcements of men and material from the United States.

"The period after the war will also be a period of new domestic problems. I will not speak of these now, as I know that the prevailing discontent is influenced alone by the sufferings and worries of war-time, but also by quite definite cares and grievances of a political nature. I will make some brief remarks on the subject.

"Since taking on my shoulders the burden of the chancellorship I have always endeavored energetically to carry out what was still lacking in this respect. I am, of course, allied to that great reform bill which, it is true, does not fall within the jurisdiction of the Reichstag, but nevertheless engages political circles in Germany far beyond the Prussian frontiers."

"Above all," he said, "it is restricting the transportation of reinforcements of men and material from the United States."

The Diary of a New Brunswick Battalion

A Glimpse Into The Daily Life of Our Boys at the Front—An Officer Who Considered Deadly Peril a Huge Joke—Behind The Lines

(By Lacey Amy, Special Correspondence of The Times.) With the Canadian Forces, France, Aug. 25—if you want to see how they mix 'em up over in France, read a battalion diary. I picked up the diary of a New Brunswick battalion and read the following within the space of a two weeks' record.

"C and D companies attended lecture on Yellow Cross Gas, given by Divisional Gas Officer. A demonstration was held at 10 a. m., showing aeroplane flying at various heights, after which training company in attack was carried on. In the afternoon battalion paraded by companies to see baseball game between us and 4th. Score 2 to 9 in our favor. Lieut. J. G. awarded M. C."

"Held at 9.30 p. m., daylight. One officer and six O. R.'s rushed enemy post and threw bombs into full post heavily manned. Germans all ran. No prisoners. Party unable to overtake them. One wounded.

to the machine gunners to open fire, and that was about all there was to it. But my officer friend couldn't free his mind from the picture of a German vaulting a parapet, afraid to come on for the revolver waiting for him, afraid to fall back for the officer's glowing aim on the hind. And the surprise blurt of four lone men jumping up in the open where a thousand rifles might have cornered them, in order to frighten a party three times their size, had its entertaining features in retrospect.

The Colonel at Play. Then we retired to the court-yard where a volley ball net was set up in the mud between the cook house and the chateau, and cheered two teams of officers, one captained by the colonel himself. The football used had the nasty habit of dropping in the mudiest places and transferring its collection to the faces and shirts of the players. The twist that gave the colonel a beautiful game was enjoyed by no one more than the colonel himself. And since his side won, the laugh remained longest with him.

A thunderstorm interrupted proceedings. A band of pipers that had been entertaining us bolted for the trees—until an over-familiar clap of thunder drew them pell-mell to the tents. The rest of us retired to tea.

In the messroom the paymaster was hard at work. He had been working for hours. He was tuning a piano which had served its usefulness to a Y. M. C. A. But that, with no need to be over-particular about the quality of its music, had been forced to remove the instrument in self-defence.

One sees little of Collars—favored shades are Hienna, Soldat Blue, Capuchin Brown, Reindeer and Caramel, are smart, while Navy Blue ranks high. Prices range from $25.00 to $85.00.

SIR WILFRID SPEAKS

Montreal, Sept. 29.—Addressing a house crowded to capacity at the St. Denis Theatre tonight and with many hundreds outside unable to gain admittance, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking of the war, added his allegiance to the idea of a league of nations after the war but stated that this could never be a success so long as one great nation is willing to abide by its pledged word, was left outside. Such a nation, he considered, was Germany, in which country he saw little change of heart from one period just prior to and at the beginning of the war. Declaring himself a pacifist of old, Sir Wilfrid said that the allied nations could not enter into peace negotiations with the Central Powers on the basis of recent speeches made in Austria and Germany.

In regard to policies for Canada in the future Sir Wilfrid declared that the long strife between labor and capital must be brought to an end. He believed that all labor in Canada demanded was a fair wage for good work and workers should have a protection in old age from sickness and unemployment. Sir Wilfrid expressed a preference for old age pensions and for insurance against unemployment, and sickness.

THE RECALL MOVEMENT. That the labor interests had secured 200 names for its petition for recall on Saturday was the statement made last night by Fred Campbell, who said that the petitions were printed on Saturday and circulated.

At a meeting held yesterday in the ship carpenters' hall it was decided to push the recall, and a committee was appointed to look after this phase of the work. Mr. Campbell felt that by tonight nearly enough names would be secured on the petitions to demand a recall and a new election.

CLYDE SHIPBUILDERS ORDERED BACK TO WORK. London, Sept. 29.—Although the strikers in the Clyde shipyards had voted by a small majority against returning to work their executives have ordered them to resume operations.

CABINET CHANGES? Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 29.—The appointment of Major-General W. A. Logie, of Hamilton, who has been commanding officer of the Toronto Military District for the past three years, to the Ontario high court bench in succession to the late Mr. Justice Leith will probably be announced in a day or so.

The prospective retirement from the cabinet of Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways and canals, and his appointment to the senate, is rumored in usually well-informed political circles here. A place for Dr. Reid in the senate will, it is said, be made by the resignation of Senator Clive Pringle, of Ottawa, who is slated for the position of chief counsel for government railways. As to Dr. Reid's successor various names are suggested. Hon. Frank Carvell may take the railway portfolio, and F. F. Pardee, M. P. for West Lambton, come in as minister of public works, thus evening up the Ontario cabinet representation between Liberals and Conservatives. It is also reported that Dr. Reid is retiring on the understanding that Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, minister of lands, forests and mines in the Ontario government, will succeed him.

CASES IN COURT UNDER MILITARY SERVICE ACT

George M. Dufferford and Howard W. Zicker were brought before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning and charged with not having required documents on them to show their status with reference to the Military Service Act. The former said that he was only eighteen years of age and an American subject. He explained that his family is at present residing at Jordan Mountain and that he came to the city to comply with the United States order to register. While about to return home he was accosted in the station and, as he was unable to show his baptismal certificate, was apprehended.

The latter said that he is a married man and belongs to Grand Manan. He said that he was a fisherman, but lately had been doing some diving for the government. Both said that they had sent for their papers and expected them this afternoon.

A military representative said that it was a test case and asked that both men be punished, quoting sections of the law dealing with the case.

Magistrate Ritchie said that under the circumstances he did not feel disposed to either send them to jail for thirty days or fine them $50. He said he would allow the case to stand until this afternoon. He said that if they did not procure the necessary documents in due time he would deal with them.

The military officer present explained that the enforcement of the act was costing the government thousands of dollars and he thought that both should be punished as they had not obeyed the law.

Magistrate Ritchie acknowledged that they were technically guilty, but was not disposed to punish them if they could procure their papers. However, he said the case could be taken up again this afternoon.

LARGE GAIN IN BANK CLEARINGS FOR MONTH

The bank clearings for the month ending today were $9,814,847, corresponding month last year $7,477,827, and for the month ending September 30, 1916, $6,962,621.

LAKE FITZGERALD WORK MORE COSTLY

Finding More Rock Than Expected—Heavy Rains Add to Expense

Unforeseen difficulties are adding greatly to the troubles of the contractors on the water main renewal at Lake Fitzgerald. The first difficulty encountered was the presence of a much larger quantity of rock to be excavated than had been estimated. As the work proceeded it was found that ledges of rock appear in most unexpected places, cropping up in the immediate vicinity of places where borings had indicated only loose soil. As the contract for the excavating is on the basis of so much a yard for rock and earth, this will add considerably to the cost.

Owing to the formation of the land a certain amount of trouble with water was expected but the unprecedented rains, producing almost freshet conditions, have filled the trenches and made continuous pumping necessary to keep the cuts empty enough to permit of the pipe laying being carried on. The walls of the water soaked trenches have collapsed in several places, giving the contractors that much extra work to do without remuneration.

The original estimate for the job was $40,000 but the final cost, according to a statement made by Commissioner Hillyard this morning, will be almost $22,000 more. Of this additional cost $15,000 is accounted for by the substitution of the reinforced concrete for the cast iron pipe. While this is an increase in actual cost, the city saved money on the change, as the iron pipe had increased in price by more than that amount from the time it was purchased to the time the change was made. This pipe is still on hand and will be used when the twenty-four inch main is extended out the Marsh road. The balance of the additional cost is accounted for by the extra rock excavation which had not been included in the estimates.

THE RECALL

Meeting of Common Council Committee is Off Till Tomorrow

In the absence of the mayor, who has been out of the city for a few days, there was no meeting of the common council committee this morning. As they had been advised of this, delegations from the board of trade and the labor unions which were to confer with the council did not arrive at city hall. The board of trade delegation will ask the council to consent to the appointment of a conciliation board and the labor men will make a last effort to settle the matter.

Meanwhile the recall petitions directed against Commissioners McLellan and Hillyard are being circulated and those in charge profess to be well satisfied with the number of signatures which are being secured.

Mayor Hayes is expected in the city this evening. The weekly meeting of the council will be held tomorrow, being instead of in the afternoon, owing to the fact that the quarterly meeting of the municipal council is being held at 2:30 o'clock.

WANTS BOND ISSUE OF $25,000 TO PUT IN NEW SEWERS

Commissioner Hillyard wants a bond issue of $25,000 to enable him to replace some of the old wooden sewers which have outlived their usefulness. These ancient conduits have been causing the city an immense amount of trouble in recent years, as the coverings have rotted away and permitted the earth to fill in and block the passages. From time to time, sections have been replaced with terra cotta drains and some of the sections in fairly good condition have been repaired.

It is felt that the time has come, however, when these temporary measures do not seem to be sufficient and the commissioner said this morning that a bond issue to permit of extensive renewals seems to be the only remedy. The city workmen had an unpleasant job on their hands all day yesterday, when a sewer in Wright street became blocked and flooded the street. A gang was assembled and put to work as soon as the matter was reported.

SAYS 100 CARS WERE OUT THE MANAWAGONISH ROAD ON SUNDAY

The use of automobiles for Sunday driving is evidently on the increase again, judging by the observations of a resident of the Manawagonish road, which has become one of the most popular sections for joy riding.

According to this man, he counted in the vicinity of forty autos on Sunday, three weeks ago, when the use of cars was supposed to be suspended as a war saving. Two weeks ago on Sunday the number increased to about sixty-five, while yesterday the gentleman estimated the number passing his door had jumped to more than 100.
