OIL AND SHALE.

Borings at Memramcook—British Capital for Albert County.

MONCTON, N. B., May 28.—A meeting of the New Brunswick Petroleum and Oil Company was held yesterday. The company is now boring on the grounds of St. Joseph's College, Memramcook, about a hundred yards from the site of last year's borings, where a quantity of oil was struck. When oil sands are reached it is proposed to use explosives and generally to test the value of the property.

DOWIE'S ZION IS UNHEALTHY.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Preliminary steps toward establishing a coroner's office at the headquarters of John Alexander Dowie's "Zion," Twelfth street and Michigan avenue, were taken yesterday by Attorney J. S. Stokely of the state board of health. Working in conjunction with the coroner's office Attorney Smejkal has been busy gathering a mass of evidence to lay before the state board of health at its meeting here today. The grand jury today will commence its investigations into the methods of treatment that obtain in Zion, bearing especially upon the death of Mrs. H. Worthington Judd. Dowie's attorney last night conceded that the inquisitorial body would vote an indictment, but added that an indictment did not mean conviction.

MEDAL WINNING CHINAMAN.

CHICAGO, May 28.—A special to the Tribune from Nashville, Tenn., says: "At Vanderbilt university, as a culmination of the Founders' Day celebration, a custom instituted in honor of the benefactor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, the medal in history, the highest honor in the university, was awarded Charles Yun Marshall of Foo Chow, China, and caused a great demonstration of approval by the Chinese. His subject was 'Miracle of the Twentieth Century' and he gave an eloquent appeal for his country, he argued, yet to be allowed her place among the greatest nations, who so long had misunderstood her. Marshall has been here three years, but goes home this year via Europe.

SHAMROCK I. COMING TOO.

This will cost an additional £4,000, but Sir Thomas is confident that the advantage to be gained justifies the expense. Captain Wringe will command the Shamrock I. with the same crew.

SOUTH AFRICA.

CAPE TOWN, May 28.—The dash of Kringers' invaders of Cape Colony to the south was checked at Vandoosburg by the swift movement of Geringers' and other columns. The invaders, finding their way barred, swerved to the northeast toward Cleece. The continued capture of horses by the British is appreciably impairing the Boers' mobility.

POLICEMAN'S SON SHOT.

CARROLLTON, Mo., May 28.—Chas. H. McKinney, son of a policeman, was killed early today while assisting his father in arresting a gang of tramps. Three of the gang were placed in jail. Half a dozen others escaped; were pursued by the sheriff and a posse, surrounded, and after a lively fight, in which many shots were exchanged, two men were captured.

IN OLD TOWN.

Fredericton Parties Figure in the Municipal Court.

Patrick Donahue Charges James Haney With Adultery—The Wife's Story.

(Bangor Commercial.) An adultery case occupied the attention of Judge Whiting in the Old Town municipal court, Friday afternoon, a warrant having been sworn out by one Patrick Donahue against James Haney of Stillwater, formerly of Fredericton, N. B. The story told the judge by Donahue was to the effect that he lived with his wife and family of five children in Fredericton, and all lived happily together until hard times came on and he moved his family to Vanceboro, where he obtained work. All went well there until he again was out of work, and leaving his family well supplied with groceries and a small sum of money he walked to Houlton, looking for work.

He found employment at Houlton and was doing well there when he learned that his family at Vanceboro had been broken up and that his wife had sent four of the children back to Fredericton as parish charges and with the baby she had gone to Bangor and had been seen in company with one Haney, who was a friend of both when in Fredericton. For more than two years Donahue had lost trace of his wife until this week when he came to Old Town and discovered that his wife was living in a small house at Stillwater and that Haney was living with her as her husband, and besides the youngest child of Donahue there was still a younger child.

City Marshal Gates served the warrant on Haney and brought him to Old Town and the hearing was before Judge Whiting, Friday afternoon, when the respondent was held in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next criminal term of the supreme court at Bangor, which will be in August. Donahue was placed under $200 bonds for his appearance as a witness, and neither of the parties had friends to put up for the bonds and they were placed in the lockup. Saturday no one appeared to help either of the men out of their troubles, they were taken to Bangor and placed in jail.

The wife's story which follows is somewhat different than the story told by Donahue. She says that when her husband left her to go to Houlton, it was with threats and blows; that there was not a mouthful to eat in the house or a bit of fuel; that she was practically deserted. She found kind friends who helped her to send her children back to Fredericton, where she knew they would be cared for, and then with her youngest, which must have a mother's care, she came to Bangor. She sought in vain for work and was almost in despair, when she happened to meet James Haney, whom she had known in Fredericton. Haney was well supplied with money, having just come off the drive.

He bought her fuel and clothing, and in short took care of her and her child, and has been doing so ever since. About a year ago Haney secured employment in the mill at Stillwater. They moved into the small house on the Stillwater road and had been living comfortably and happily as man and wife.

INDIANTOWN NOTES.

The Fisheries Almost a Failure This Season. At Indiantown today about the only thing to be heard is the grumbling of the fishermen, which on account of the quietness in all lines of business, is more audible than usual. They claim that never since the year of the '89, when the rapacious fishing was almost a complete failure, has there been such a poor season as this one. A certain firm on the shore, which at this time last year had sixteen hundred barrels of fish have now only one hundred and fifty. A few fishermen, a very few, have done comparatively well this spring, but by far the greater number are working almost at a loss. They will in many cases scarcely more than pay expenses, to say nothing of making a profit. Shad, too, are very scarce and it looks as though they will be more of a failure than the gaspeaux. At present, when the best returns from shad fishing should be coming in, scarcely any fish are being taken.

In payment of a bet, two men, who work in Indiantown, today placed a companion on a little truck and wheeled him along Bridge street, from the Hampton wharf to Dalton's. The river steamers all brought small cargoes and few passengers down today. Traffic on the river seems to be almost entirely governed by the weather.

CREED REVISION.

Report of Special Committee Was Unanimously Adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—By a unanimous vote the Presbyterian general assembly today adopted the report of the special committee on the revision of the confession of faith. The debate on this important question had extended into the fourth day, and to Rev. Dr. James D. Moffatt is due the credit of having brought the commissioners to such a harmonious conclusion.

When recommendation B was, on Saturday, adopted by a comparatively small majority, Dr. Moffatt announced that in view of the divergency of opinion he would today offer an amendment which he hoped would meet with the approval of the entire assembly. When he presented this amendment today it was instantly accepted by the commissioners and the adoption of the report as a whole followed with but little delay. A viva voce vote was taken, and when 40 ayes responded to the question, the commissioners arose and sang, "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow," which was followed by a prayer of thanksgiving by Moderator Minton. New York was selected as the meeting place for the next general assembly.

LABOR TROUBLES.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 28.—The Otis Elevator Company, the big trust concern, with a dozen or more branch establishments in various cities throughout the country, including Rochester, has signed the new agreement which has been the bone of contention, and the striking machinists will go back to work next Monday. No reason for the concession on the part of Otis syndicate has yet been given. Yawman and Erbe, have also signed the agreement, and their men are at work today.

The striking laborers in this city are settling down to a hard, long fight, having made preparations for continuing the fight another month. Committees of the strikers are constantly going about among the other trade organizations collecting funds. It is reported that one local contracting firm, the Hollister Lumber Company, is prepared to sign the agreement, recognizing the union, and a committee of the strikers will wait upon the officials of the company today.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' PLAIN TALK.

LONDON, May 28.—The pope had a long consultation with Cardinal Gibbons, says the Rome correspondent of the Daily News. "Regarding the position of Catholics in Cuba and the Philippines. According to authoritative information the pope sees the necessity of compelling the monastic orders to adapt themselves to the situation created by the American occupation. Cardinal Gibbons made it clear to the pope that unless they would give way the American government might expel them altogether. Reports received at the vatican are much more serious than those received from Cuba. The monks in the Philippines are accused of all kinds of atrocities. It is reported that the spread of concubinage is due to their refusal to perform the marriage service without large remuneration."

FOR AN EIGHT HOUR DAY.

LONDON, May 28.—The international miners conference now in session in London, and which is attended by many continental delegates, passed a resolution today in favor of a universal eight hour day. The chairman, William Abraham, M. P., expressed the belief that parliament would pass an eight hour law in 1902. M. Coite, delegate of French miners, said that if the eight hour bill now before the chamber of deputies did not progress rapidly enough the French miners were prepared to declare a general strike.

A conference between the members of the New York chamber of commerce and the London chamber of commerce has been arranged for June 1. Morris K. Jesup, president of the New York chamber of commerce, will preside.

THE WORK OF DYNAMITE.

EVERETT, Wn., May 28.—A push cart loaded with 48 boxes of dynamite was struck by a Great Northern freight train near Skyhomish, a terrific explosion followed. The engine was hurled some distance up the mountainside, three freight cars were demolished and about 500 feet of track torn up. A stone shovel standing near was reduced to scrap iron. Engineer McGrouty was seriously hurt.

ALL ABOUT AN OILCLOTH.

James Fawcett, the Winter street gardener, is in trouble. A short time ago he bought from a Jew who lived in his house a large piece of oilcloth, which was said to be in good condition. After obtaining possession of the oilcloth and paying for it Mr. Fawcett discovered that it was worn through in a number of places, and was not by any means as good as represented. He took it back at once and demanded his money, on the ground that the goods were not good goods. The Jew however failed to see the point and kept both oilcloth and money. After some little difficulty Mr. Fawcett regained the oilcloth, and with it proceeded to the police court to enter a complaint against the Jew.

SHOT-GUN NEEDED. It is a pity that to the many powers accorded the keeper of the public gardens that of taking stray dogs into custody was not added. It is a very difficult matter to keep these animals off the square at the best of times, but when a number of them get together and deliberately post a sentry to give notice of approaching danger while the others playfully gambol on the flower beds, the simple action of driving them away is not sufficient to relieve the feelings of the caretaker.

A VIOLET TEA. The violet tea which the Young Women's Guild of Trinity church are giving this afternoon bids fair to be a great success. As the name implies the decorations are violets—violets everywhere. With here and there banks of ferns and wild cherry blossoms. The candy table is heavily laden with violets, ferns and candy of course. Those in charge are Miss Patten, Miss B. Robertson and Miss Munro, while Miss Gillis and Miss L. R. Robinson have charge of the violet and fern table.

The following young ladies are in the tea: Miss G. Robertson, Miss Hayes, Miss Chalmers, Miss Ingersham, Miss Jarvis, Miss Schofield, Miss Wright, Miss Bruce, Miss Tingay, Miss Brennan, Miss Beckwith. The ice cream table is under the supervision of: Miss G. Scammet, Miss L. Patten, Miss Simpson, Miss Hoyt, Miss Northrup, Miss Leeds, Miss Jordan, Miss Dodge, Miss Currie, Miss Flewelling, Miss Taylor, Miss Broad and Miss Elin Payne.

Dainty little tables in plenty are scattered about the room, each with a pretty vase of violets upon it. The menu cards are delicately tinted mauve, having a cluster of purple violets attached to one corner.

The young ladies who devote efforts to the pretty effect due deserve much credit for the distaste displayed and the success of the tea, even though the weather is adverse cannot but be assured.

THE LATE MISS BRADLEY. The funeral of the late Laura Beatrice Bradley, which took place this forenoon, was very largely attended. The body was taken from her late home, 126 Main street, at a quarter past nine to St. Peter's church, where requiem mass was celebrated by Fraser Souly. During the service Miss Julia McCarthy sang Angels Ever Bright and Fair, with a pathos which moved many to tears.

After the service in the church the body was followed to the new Catholic burying ground, where interment was made.

The casket was literally imbedded in flowers, sent by Miss Bradley's numerous friends. Among the pieces was a large basket of roses from the I. C. R. Fall Mass conductors; a beautiful cross from Miss Bradley's friends in the employ of Manchester, Robertson & Allison; a very pretty star of pink roses from the members of the Willow club; a magnificent basket of pink roses from T. J. Morgan, and a pillow of cream roses and calla lilies, sent by R. J. Ritchie.

A TRAGEDY. Ellis Goodine is dead. The tragedy of a life is played out. A voice that in childhood rang clear in happy innocence amid the green fields will be heard no more. It had vibrated to every human emotion, had caught the wailing notes of an infinite pain, and so fell in silence. A heart that throbbled with life and hope had learned the age-long lesson of human weakness and its punishment—and then the curtain fell. Peace! Let her sleep. She abides in the measureless pity of God.

Somewhere a man lives who laughed at the vows he made to two women, and one his wife. Hard he may be, and dull; but he remembers. In the darkness a dead face; in the silence the cry of a little child.

LOTS OF BORROW.

Officer White Makes a Haul—Barney Undergoing Repairs—An Assault—Naughty Words.

Barney Devine went to see Maxson last night and was so overcome by the incidents of the play between the acts that in the words of the police he "drived H—". Subsequent to his removal from the Opera House, Barney dodged several times, but at last became such a nuisance and caused such a disturbance on the streets that it was considered advisable to give him shelter for the night. He, however, was not by any means anxious for such shelter, and objected to walking the streets in such company as that of Officer White. Mild persuasion, however, at last prevailed, and Barney, with his head tied up in a handkerchief—a dirty one by the way—mournfully leaped down the curbside where the cause of the accident which threatens to accomplish the destruction of his natural good looks, but Barney declares that the skin left his face in company with a club which happened to pass that way.

"What do you say to being drunk?" "Guilty."

"What about taking the name of God in vain?" "I don't know nothing about it."

"What do you say in regard to resisting?" "Oh let White come on. Don't bother me. He'll tell you all about it."

Officer White explained how he had resisted and stated that the damage to the prisoner's face was caused by him striking the pavement. He resisted arrest.

"It's enough to make anyone kick when they get hit like that."

"Berrymann says he is not hurt."

Devine did not wish to call any witnesses. He was remanded.

Samuel Cunningham had a warrant issued against some man for assault. He had been told what the man was and upon that information, an arrest was made. The circumstances surrounding the affair are these. Cunningham was walking on King street and passed two men who immediately said some naughty things about him. He turned round, and at that instant got a "smash on the jaw." He at once ran for a policeman, not waiting to have a look at his assailants. A man by the name of Kelly told him who it was that struck him, and he accordingly gave information. This morning Cunningham was unable to identify any person in court as the man who caused the trouble, but stuck to his statement that Kelly said the name was Hennessey.

"Who is this Kelly?" "Mr. Kelly!"

"What Kelly?" "Jimmy Kelly!"

"It may be a compliment to Jimmy Kelly, but I would like some further particulars. Who is he?"

"Mr. Jimmy Kelly," with emphasis on the mister.

"What does he do?" "Well, he has some position some-where, but I don't know what it is and he used to do something else."

"But you have sworn that this man Hennessey is the one who struck you, and now you say he did not do it?"

"Well, I didn't mean to swear to what wasn't true, but I will send for Jim Kelly."

The case was adjourned until tomorrow, pending the appearance of James Kelly, who has some position.

The magistrate stated that up to the present only twenty-six dog licenses have been taken out, while at this time last year over nine hundred had been issued. All parties owning dogs who have not taken out licenses are warned to do so, as proceedings will be taken shortly against such, and instead of the one dollar which a license costs, will be liable to a fine of four dollars and costs. The police have been instructed to be on the look-out.

Bernard Clark was arrested upon complaint of his wife on a charge of assault and non-support. A short time ago Clark was before the court on a similar charge, but was allowed to go upon promising that he would drink no more and would be kind to his family. He kept sober for at least two days, and the failed to furnish food or money. His wife was compelled to take a boarder to keep the house going, and Clark went home last Saturday and endeavored to eat the food intended for the boarder. His wife objected to this, and he caught her by the throat and ran her into the kitchen. On the charge of assault he was fined twenty dollars or two months, and remanded on the other and more serious charge of non support.
