ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 23, 1903.

ON THE ALERT.

This is a time of expansion in Canada. All parts of the country have their ambitions, and are pressing upon the government their own particular claims for subsidies or other concessions.

St. John has to bear this fact in mind in connection with its own plans for harbor improvement. It must not for a moment be taken for granted that the rest of Canada has its eyes on St. John and is in deep sympathy with all our aspirations.

The rest of Canada is busy, each part with its own particular concerns, and a great many Canadians have yet but an ill-defined idea of what St. John is and may become. It is fair to say that in a general way the policy of diverting Canadian trade to Canadian channels is approved, but there must be a definite reference to St. John in the public mind in that connection, and the country must be impressed with the fact that here is the winter port and here must be provided the facilities to handle the trade. The joint committee which has been appointed to outline a satisfactory plan of harbor improvements will, of course, lose no time in setting down to work, and when that work is done prompt and strong pressure must be brought to bear to have the plans carried out.

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE.

The new government Bureau of Manufactures in the United States is slowly getting into shape, and is expected to be of great service in extending trade in American-made goods. A Washington letter says it is to be a practical bureau, producing something better than meaningless collections of statistics. The letter adds:—

It is believed that some of the features of the methods of the Department of Agriculture to promote the sale of American farm products abroad will be adopted by the Bureau of Manufactures. The Department of Agriculture has a number of trained specialists who travel through Europe and other foreign countries picking up information about the possibilities of establishing new markets for American fruits, cereals, meats and other products. When it is believed that an American product can be introduced into a new field with success, the government undertakes the responsibility and the cost of the initial shipment. For instance, the first consignment of pears from Niagara County, New York, to London, was made after the department agents had thoroughly gone over the ground, and the government assumed the risk of loss in the venture. The shipment was successfully made and the fruit was sold at a large margin of profit. It resulted in regular shipments of pears, apples and other fruits to foreign countries and a profitable trade has been built up.

It is proposed that the Bureau of Manufactures operate on much the same line. Government agents can personally ascertain the prospects of the adoption of American-made machinery or machine or reaper in a foreign section where modern implements of this kind are unknown. The government representatives will make arrangements for the shipment of the machines, and insure the manufacturer against loss in the experiment. If the shipment is a success it will naturally be followed by the purchase of other machines, and thus a new market for American goods will be created. It has also been suggested that agents of the Bureau of Manufactures be sent abroad to study industries that thrive elsewhere, but which are unknown here, and then have the government encourage individuals to establish similar enterprises in this country. Something of this sort was proposed by the Department of Agriculture when it sought to establish a macaroni factory in one of the middle Northern states. The department introduced macaroni wheat into that section and then endeavored to get some one to put up a factory to make macaroni, modeled after such institutions of France.

It is believed that the development of the plans which Secretary Cortelyou has in view for the Bureau of Manufactures will make this branch of the new Department of Commerce second in importance only to the Bureau of Corporations.

OF THE LIVERPOOL LUMBER MARKET THE Timber Trades Journal of April 18th says:—

"There is a fair amount of retail trade in progress locally, owing to the large amount of building going on in the suburbs of this city. This leads to a good consumption of spruce deals of the ordinary sizes for builders' purposes. Still, we should like to see the stocks here and adjacent ports reduced before the opening of the shipping season. Prices for ordinary specifications; say, 40 per cent. of 7 in. and 8 in., are remaining at the normal price of 27 10s. c. i. f., but for better specifications much higher prices have to be paid."

It is stated that work on the dry dock will be begun this year. This should be a busy summer in St. John.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The provincial legislature yesterday adopted resolutions paying a high tribute to the memory of the late Sir Oliver Mowat. A number of bills were introduced and Hon. Mr. Lablache, replying to enquiries, gave particulars of the new Department of Commerce second in importance only to the Bureau of Corporations.

The bill to incorporate the New Brunswick Abattoir Company was agreed to. The bill relating to water supply in the parish of Lancaster was struck out. The bill relating to the Portland Milling mill which had been amended in committee, was agreed to.

FIRE INSURANCE.

To the Editor of the Star.—

Sir,—A rather interesting paper, called an Abstract of the Business of Insurance in Canada for the year 1902, has been recently published by order of parliament. It gives, respecting property insurance, the names of the companies doing business in Canada, the amount of premiums received, value insured and losses paid; and respecting life insurance, it states the amount of premium, the value of policies, the sum of the claims paid and claims resisted in 1902.

The returns further show that the amount of premiums received during 1902 was about the same as in 1901, the amount of claims paid and claims resisted in 1902.

MRS. NEAL'S MURDERERS.

Verdict Expresses Suspicion of John R. Woodworth and Henry Brown the Bank Burglars.

The investigation into the death of the late Mrs. Margaret J. Neal was concluded at Fairville last night, and resulted in a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to her death by violence, and that there was strong suspicion upon John R. Woodworth and Henry Brown, who are now serving a term in Dorchester penitentiary for burglary. No new evidence was given.

The coroner took up considerable time in summing up the evidence, dealing first with that of Mr. O'Reilly, the young man who found Mrs. Neal lying unconscious by the road side about 10 o'clock on the night of the 13th of last March. Miss Dunn's testimony simply corroborated that of Mr. O'Reilly, with whom she was driving at the time.

The evidence of Mrs. Martin showed that Mrs. Neal left her house about 8 o'clock on the night of her death. She was in good health. Just before leaving Mrs. Martin she took a pocket handkerchief from her breast and put it in her satchel. It was supposed that what money she had was in the handkerchief.

The evidence of James Bond was to the effect that he was on the night of the murder stopped in Lancaster by two men and asked for money. Mrs. Neal passed them just at that time. When the two men left Mr. Bond they proceeded in the direction in which Mrs. Neal was going. Mr. Bond recognized a photograph of Woodworth as being that of one of the men who stopped him.

The evidence of Geo. Williams showed that they had been at the Shelter of the Seamen's Mission; that Woodworth went away on the pretence of visiting his father, who, he said, was at the point of death. He was accompanied by Brown, one of the most reputable characters from boyhood up ever in St. John. They returned to the Shelter within a few days. During the whole of the murder they were out of the whole of one night.

Robert Lawson recognized a photograph as being of a man whom he saw in Fairville about the time of the murder. Four ladies' pocket handkerchiefs were found on them having an initial of Mrs. Neal's name. Why would men have ladies' handkerchiefs, and how was it that the handkerchiefs referred to had an initial of Mrs. Neal's name on them? Mr. Hennessey had a stock of handkerchiefs identically the same about a year ago. Of course Mr. Hennessey did not know of selling any to Mrs. Neal.

Then there was the post mortem examination conducted by Dr. Lunn, which in the opinion of Dr. Hetherington, a practitioner of over 20 years, showed that the deceased came to her death by violence.

Continuing, he said he knew bad in the record of Woodworth while in St. John, but the fact that he associated with Brown, who had had a bad record, was nothing in his favor. After leaving St. John these men robbed a bank in Nova Scotia, and when arrested were armed with self-cocking revolvers ready to shoot any one who might attempt to take them into custody. Would such characters hesitate to knock over an old woman for the sake of small gain?

Continuing, the coroner said that he thought the police had done their duty well. Their efforts to bring the culprits to justice deserved the greatest praise. Chief of Police Clark and Deputy Chief Jenkins were present.

RECENT ACCIDENTS.

A young daughter of William Murray of Wheaton Settlement, Westmorland Co., came very near losing her life recently. She, in company with another child, was crossing one of the public bridges on the North River and fell through a large hole in the plank of the bridge to the stream below. She was apparently dead when rescued from the water, but after working over her for about an hour, some indications of life were apparent, and she was finally restored to consciousness.

Melvin Dunn, son of S. M. Dunn, of Harcourt, Kent County, met with a serious accident last Wednesday evening. He had loaded his rifle, after which it was suddenly discharged, the contents entering his face.

Frank Campbell, a native of Bras D'Or, was seriously injured last week, while employed in the International mine of the Dominion Coal Co. He was engaged in timbering in the pit and while in the act of capping a prop, a fall of stone, weighing about three-quarters of a ton, came upon him and crushed him to the bottom. When the stone was removed it was found that the unfortunate man's back and both legs were broken.

Rupert Cox, who spent the winter in Nova Scotia, has gone to Dawson via Seattle, to take command of the Dominion government river steamer Vidette, which will be commissioned this spring for service on the Yukon river, in the government service, chiefly for N. An audience that filled the school room of Brussels street Baptist church to its doors listened with pleasure last evening to a pretty entertainment given by the members of the Junior Mission Band. The programme consisted of choruses by the band, recitations by Vera McKay, Kate Dismart, Annie Reid, Helen Genter, Grace Colwell, Percy Belys, Irene Genter, Stewart Kierstead, Harold Vall and Howard Smith, duet by Vera Wilson and Beryl Blanche, solos by George Bain, Ida McKay, Mabel Currie, Kathleen Golding, Willard Reid and Beryl Blanche, a dialogue in which the participants were Hattie Dismart, Kate Dismart, Nita Brown, May Gowin, Eddie Straight, Stewart Kierstead and Herbert and Harold Vall, a pretty drill, Little Sheaf Bearers, by Lily Smith, May Goodwin, Kathleen Golding, Irene Genter and Mabel Currie, club swinging led by Albert Hoar and a graceful flag drill by twelve little girls.

During an intermission in the programme confectionery was sold for the benefit of the band. The entertainment was such a success that it will probably be repeated next week.

Disorder reigned at the docks. In one of the disturbances, Joseph LaRocque, a Kent County man, was shot in the leg by Stevedore Wm. Quinn, who was attacked by the man he wounded. A furious mob chased LaRocque. He escaped, but later he was arrested.

Before the troops reached the wharves tonight the strikers set fire to the cargo of the Lewis and Clark, an Andrian, lying near the Canadian Pacific wharves, which were endangered by the blaze. The crew of the vessel extinguished the fire before it made much headway. A striker named Geo. Donaldson was arrested for setting the fire. Six other arrests were made in connection with the disturbance.
