NOW ON THE WAY TO GOLDEN WEST.

Large Number of Laborers
Passed Through St. John.

Exodus From Maritime Provinces Was Unusually Large and They Are Remanded to Go Yet.

About 2,700 laborers from different sections of the maritime provinces are now well under way toward the golden grain fields of the west. The first train, which left at 8:25 last evening, carried about 600 laborers. Of these some 300 purchased tickets to St. John, many of the number coming here by boat from the Annapolis Valley. The excursionists from north of McAdam and Fredericton left last evening on special excursion cars attached to No. 10 train. These were accompanied by about fifty who came from Bangor and purchased tickets at McAdam. The second and third trains which arrived here carried respectively 525 and 580 passengers from Halifax and east. The fourth extra carried P. E. Island laborers, 380 in all, who arrived in St. John at seven o'clock this morning. These remained only a few minutes in the city, as they were not required to change trains. A special I. C. R. train was engaged to carry them from Saint John to Moncton. The fifth and sixth trains carried some 400 passengers each, coming from points between Sydney and Truro. The last excursion train left here at 9:45 this morning. Newfoundland furnished seventy-five laborers for the excursion. The Prince Rupert yesterday brought 360 across the bay who took the train for Moncton. A few arrived on the West India boat this morning in time for the last excursion train.

Each train leaving St. John was equipped with five special constables from Montreal, to keep order on the way and assist in looking after the comfort of the passengers. The trains will make Winnipeg in about three and a half days. The excursionists passing through here were an exceptionally orderly crowd. No disorder of any kind prevailed, and the passengers all seemed well satisfied with the accommodations provided. Each car was equipped with a cooking range to allow the passengers to make tea and coffee and do any cooking they wish to do on the journey.

VACANCY ON STAFF OF MONCTON SCHOOL FILLED.

Miss Edith Davis Succeeds F. G. McNally
—Funerals at Moncton

(Special to the Star.)
MONCTON, Aug. 7.—About seventy young men from Moncton and surrounding districts, left for the west on today's C. P. R. harvest excursion. J. J. Walker, accountant to the I. C. R. mechanical department, has been appointed to the newly-created position of auditor of disbursements. This is the first chief appointment made in connection with the inauguration of the inter-rail commission system of railway bookkeeping.

A special meeting of the board of school trustees was held this afternoon, when the vacancy on the High School staff caused by the departure from the city of F. G. McNally, was filled by the appointment of Miss Edith R. Davis. Miss Davis is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick, trained at the Provincial Normal School, and was for a year, principal of the Riverside, A. C. school. She has also supplied on the school staff in Fredericton. Harold Brown, the well known organist, has been appointed organist and musical director to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at Moncton. Mr. Brown is a native of Sussex, King Co., and his first position of importance was as an organist at St. David's Presbyterian church, St. John, when he was only eighteen years of age. Later, for a time, he was organist in St. John's Presbyterian church of this city. He takes charge of St. Andrew's church on the first communion in September. The death occurred on Thursday morning, at his home in Palace, of G. Winfield McDonald, aged nineteen years. He was buried on Saturday afternoon.

The funeral of the late Geo. Small, who was killed at Fort William, Ont., took place this afternoon, under the auspices of the local Oddfellows, and was very largely attended. Rev. E. B. Hooper conducted the service.

ASSAULT CASE COMES UP MONDAY

Adjourned This Morning After Some Evidence Was Taken.

Assyrian Woman Identifies Youth Who Entered Her House Late Last Night
—Remanded to Jail.

The preliminary hearing into the case where Mrs. Michael Shannon claims that Elias Salay, a youthful Assyrian, broke into her house on Erin street late last night and attempted a disgraceful assault on her, was commenced in the police court this morning. Salay is a well built Assyrian youth 18 years of age, tall, well dressed, and claims to know little of the English language, and this morning seemed considerably worried over the fact of his having to spend some time in jail for a serious crime which he and others claim he is innocent of. His aunt and brother were in court ready to testify that at the time the assault on Mrs. Shannon was committed the youth was at his home in bed with his brother. There were also in court the complainant and a witness who say that they positively identify Salay as the criminal wanted in the affair.

The court room was cleared of others than those having business with the court and R. S. Ritchie, informed the magistrate that he had been retained to defend the young Assyrian who pleads not guilty to the offence. Just what defence will be put forth for the prisoner is not stated, but his aunt and brother will try to prove an alibi to the effect that the prisoner was at his home when the plaintiff claims that he was in her house. The case is the chief sensation in the Assyrian colony and quite a number were in court this morning but were excluded from the court when the hearing was commenced. It is stated that the best of feeling towards the Salay family does not exist in the colony. The plaintiff was the only witness examined. She is a pretty little woman and told her story to the court in clear voice and in words of broken English. She is the wife of Michael Shannon. Her husband is a peddler and is at present selling his wares in Charlottetown. She occupies the lower flat of the Erin street house and has only her seven months old baby with her. She said she knew Salay well for the past year and that he lives in a house on Brunswick street. Last night, at eleven o'clock she was in bed nursing her baby when she heard footsteps in the kitchen, then a man came into the room and made proposals to her. She screamed for help and leaving her baby on the bed ran to the kitchen screaming. The man attempted to force her back into the bedroom, but her cries brought Mr. Hatty to her assistance and he saw the intruder run away from the house. About a quarter past eleven o'clock the police were brought to the house and she identified him as the man. She looked at Salay on the prisoner's bench and said he was the man alright.

ALMOST A WRECK ON THE I. C. R.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 8.—An attempt to wreck an I. C. R. train, the result of a boyish prank but which might have had very disastrous results, was discovered last week at Culligan siding, a short distance this side of Campbellton. As No. 40 freight train in charge of conductor Sweney, was pulling out just at the siding the locomotive ran over a large iron bolt over an inch thick, which had been placed on the rail. Fortunately the train was going at a very slow rate of speed at the time and the damage was done. The matter was reported to the chief of police and Policeman Noble, Campbellton, after investigating the matter arrested a sixteen year old boy named Joseph Deagle. The latter stoutly protested his innocence but just as he was to be placed in the cell at Campbellton jail he broke down and confessed. It was fortunate that the freight train crew discovered the bolt for the result would have been very disastrous had an express train which does not stop at this point, gone on and a wreck would have been inevitable.

SCH. REBECCA W. HUDDOLL
WAS IN COLLISION

Bound from St. John for New York—
Collided With Steamer City of Tainlon.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 8.—The schooner Rebecca W. Huddell, from St. John, N. B., for New York, was in collision with the steamer City of Tainlon at 1:30 this morning while off Saybrook, the fog, it is said, being responsible for the accident. The schooner lost all her head-gear and several feet of her bow was torn away. After it was seen that the schooner was not damaged below the water line, the City of Tainlon took her in tow bringing her into the port. Damage to the steamer was very light, and she left for New York after dropping her tow. The City of Tainlon, a freight steamer plying between New London and New York.

WILLIAM CLARK AGAIN IN COURT.

Little Train Girl Positive He is the Man
Who Assaulted Her Near Millville

Wm. E. Clark, who is held on the charge of raping little Ellen Train a few days ago, has secured the services of J. B. M. Baxter for his defense. The prosecution has a large amount of very damaging witnesses against Clark, and from what can be learned, he will be identified as having attempted to take other young girls into the woods.

This morning Clark was brought into the police station from jail. He was without his coat, and wore an old pair of boots that were loaned to him. The police are holding his canvas shoes and torn coat as evidence. He was attacked in these shoes and coat. On the witness chairs were two women and a little girl of tender years. Clark glanced at them and said he knew them. The police said that he was the man who was taken to the court to put on his hat, and on walking from the court he was told that he would be again remanded until Friday and was then taken into jail.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning John Mosher, aged 16 years, and Edward White, aged 17 years, were charged with not giving a satisfactory account of themselves having been found on the Marsh Road, near midnight, by Policeman Marshall. The boys claimed that their homes were in Amherst and that they ran away from home and their destination was St. John, where they expected to get work. They beat their way here and obtained a living during their tramp by singing and dancing. They were remanded by the magistrate and a communication regarding them will be sent to their parents in Amherst.

Wm. Hayes, an old man, for the second time in a month, has escaped from the almshouse and this morning again begged that he be sent back to the institution and not be sent to jail. He was remanded.

One well dressed city drunk was sent to jail until he got clear of the liquor. John O'Keefe and wife, of Peabody, Mass., are visiting Mr. Wm. O'Keefe at 344 Union street.

A meeting of the Fenian Raid Veterans will be held in the Foresters' Hall tomorrow evening.

It is said that there will be another liquor selling case in the police court in a few days, and the supposed offender of the liquor act is a prominent west side merchant.

The Success base ball team would like to play a game with the West End Martellos on Friday evening either on the West End or Shamrock grounds. A reply through the Star is requested.

The steamer St. John City of the Furness Line, arrived in port at 11:30 o'clock this morning from London and Halifax.

The steamer Elsie will leave her wharf at 1:45 o'clock for Westfield and after viewing the salmon boat races will return to the city in time to leave for Georgetown on her regular trip at 5 o'clock.

Post Offices, Treasuries and Mails Broken Into and Valuable Property Destroyed—Premier Stolypin Gone to Consult Emperor About Appointments—Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch May be Given Command of Whole Army.

WARSAW, Aug. 8.—The terrorists are continually attacking and robbing post-offices, government spiritshops, treasuries and the mails. The Governor General has ordered that henceforth the inhabitants of villages, communities and cities in or near which such crimes occur shall pay the losses from such robberies.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—Premier Stolypin has gone to Peterhof to secure the Emperor's approval of the appointments of Prince Vassilichoff as Minister of Agriculture; M. Filosofov, as Minister of Commerce and M. Jewolsky, brother of the Foreign Minister, as Procurator General of the Holy Synod.

Vassilichoff is a marshal of the nobility of Novgorod. M. Filosofov was controller of the empire under Count Witte. M. Jewolsky is now assistant minister of education.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A cable despatch to a morning paper from Vienna says: It is rumored that it is the Czar's intention to abdicate. The reiteration of this report is ascribed to the reactionary councillors violently opposing Premier Stolypin's reform scheme which the Czar supports. The story adds that the Czar will appoint Grand Dukes Vladimir and Nicholas Nicholaievitch as co-regents.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—Notwithstanding the improvement in the situation produced by the collapse of the strike the Novoe Vremya announces that it is still the intention of the Emperor to place Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch in immediate command of the whole army, concentrating the direct authority over the troops composing each separate corps and division in his hands. The paper adds that the announcement of his appointment may be expected in a few days and also says that this will not make the Grand Duke a dictator as the administrative functions will remain in the hands of the minister of war, Minister Rudiger is understood to have protested vigorously against the step and this led to the report that he would be succeeded by General Trepoff. But it appears now that General Rudiger will probably remain in office.

JAPANESE RAIDERS SHOT AND KILLED; GAVE REVENUE CUTTERS MUCH TROUBLE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A special despatch to the Herald from Dutch Harbor, Alaska, says: The schooner Tokwa Maru, a schooner, was overhauled by the cutter Perry on July 6 off the new volcanic island which rose near Bogoslof, 40 miles from here, last March. She was crowded with Japanese, but seal skins were found aboard. Suspicions of Captain Dunn of commerce and labor on July 17, as the result of a raid by four Japanese schooners on the seal-rookeries.

The revenue cutter McCulloch reached here today from St. Paul with two Japanese prisoners, two seriously wounded, who were turned over to Deputy Marshall Harmon.

The raiders were discovered lying near Northeast Point, St. Paul, by the native lookouts of the North American Commercial Company, which leases the seal privilege from the government. Word was telephoned from the patrol station, near the rookery for which the raiders were aiming and the special agent, Lempe, of the department of commerce, and on duty in the Pribyloff Islands, arrived on the spot as the Japanese reached shore. He ordered the coast to be kept under observation. On climbing the promontory at the end of the cape, overlooking one of the larger rookeries, a schooner was seen close in shore. Looking straight down over the cliff, the patrol saw a dozen or more Japanese skinning a great number of seals, which had been slaughtered indiscriminately. The raiders refused to surrender when Lempe reached the scene and tried to make off with their booty in small boats, several of which were drawn up on shore. The patrol then ordered his guard of natives to open fire. The Japanese offered no resistance, being without firearms. Three of the raiders fell dead on the beach, a fourth was seen to be thrown overboard from one of the boats that escaped and a fifth body drifted ashore later in another boat.

The men had killed more than 200 seals, many of them cows. Those who escaped carried away about 120 skins. The raid is believed to have been a concerted effort by the Japanese who have been hanging around the island for months and giving the revenue cutter much trouble.

RECENT CHANGES IN I. C. R. POLICE SYSTEM

It has been felt that some change should be made in the I. C. R. police, and a plan to have three police inspectors for I. C. R. has been adopted by Mr. Emerson, who appointed the following for the different districts: Policeman Bernard Dunn, of the Halifax depot, inspector for Halifax, the Oxford branch of the I. C. R. and the district east of Truro and the Sydney. Duncan Noble of Campbellton, inspector from Chatham Junction to Moncton. St. John, Chatham and Fredericton.

MARINE AFFAIRS.

The Larcher, Lightspeed, will, this month, be given another vacation from the dangerous rocks off the Nova Scotia coast near Yarmouth. On the 25th of the month the Lightspeed will be taken off for repairs and will be off again station until September 1st.

On Monday the marine department placed a gas buoy to mark the rocks at the end of the reef to the eastward of Partridge Island. The large bell buoy which has been at this point in Lower Cove ship, being fitted with the gas appliance so that by night it will throw a warning flash over the waters, as well as the sound of the bell. The bell buoy has been in for repairs for some time and the buoy in its place was hardly discernible. The gas buoy there now is a great improvement.

Policeman Hamm shot and put out of misery a dog that had been injured by the street cars on Douglas avenue last evening.

At a meeting of the C. M. B. A. last evening reports of committees were satisfactorily heard regarding the society's picnic, to be held at Watters' Landing on August 12. A sub-committee was appointed who will distribute the tickets and report at another meeting to be held.

FREDERICTON NEWS

FREDERICTON, N. B., August 7.—The moonlight excursion under the auspices of the Bicycle and Boat Club this evening in the steamer Victoria was attended by about 80 persons. It was a most successful affair and the weather all that could be desired.

The yacht Gracie M. with a party including Misses McLaughlin, M. McGuire, D. Gatonagay, Mrs. J. Lawlor, Austin McLaughlin and Louis McDonald arrived this afternoon from St. John and is anchored opposite the boat house. John C. Galick, H. Scott, Jr., and James McGinley, of the New York Athletic Club, arrived on this afternoon's boat with their bicycles and return to St. John in the morning. They are making a bicycle tour of the country.

THE ESKIMO AND THE TALKING MACHINE.

A Protestant missionary was in the habit of introducing among the Eskimos many modern devices to gain their good-will and attention to his preaching. But what these sons of the Arctic regions appreciated best was the white man's canned food, which he used himself and occasionally offered to them as a product of Christian civilization. One day the missionary decided to spring a genuine surprise to the natives. He had with him a talking machine, with records in the Eskimo tongue. He in the little meetinghouse and started the machine. "Everybody was puzzled. At last a smile broke out upon the face of one 'Canned white man' he said in glee.

THE CORPORATION CUP.

At a meeting of the R. Y. C. held last evening the question of sending a challenge for the Corporation Cup was considered, but as the expected entry from Montreal did not materialize, nothing definite was done, and the matter is still open. It is unlikely, however, that the club will send a challenge this year.

The motor boat race recently held was so successful that it was decided to hold another on the harbor during exhibition week, as it was thought that such an event would prove a novel and attractive feature for the visitors.

A. E. Prince was elected a member of the club.

THE COWES REGATTA.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 7.—The interest in the yacht racing here today was in the contest for the King's cup, for which there were four entries. Emperor William's schooner, Metoon, Sir Maurice Fitzgibbon's yawl, Satanita, Sir James Pender's cutter, Karaid, and Viscount Trevelyan's schooner, Cetonia. There was almost an entire absence of breeze at the start and a sluggish contest was anticipated. Satanita took the lead heading to the eastward with a favorable tide, with Karaid, Cetonia and Meteor following. In the order named.

Karaid finished first but Satanita, arriving 6 minutes 30 seconds later, won on time allowance. Meteor third, Cetonia retired from the contest.

AQUATIC

NAVAL CARNIVAL.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—Features of the carnival here today were races between crews from the battleships, the 12-oared cutter, which was won by the Illinois, and the Prince of Battenburg cup for 16-oared barges was won by the Missouri boat.

Both events were over a straight away two mile course. The first race was for the 12-oared cutter, which was won by the Illinois, which were offered by the carnival committee. Eight crews were entered. They represented the Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Kentucky, Maine, Indiana, Alabama and Iowa, and finished in the order named.

The Illinois crew covered the distance in 18 minutes 10 seconds, defeating the former champion, the Kenan crew, by nearly a minute.

Immediately following the cutter race the 16-oared barges went over the same course. The event attracted much attention, as the ownership of the cup presented by Prince Henry of Battenburg during the visit of the British fleet last year, depended upon the outcome. Crews from the same battleships participated, finishing in the following order: Missouri, Kentucky, Kentucky, Maine, Illinois, Indiana, Alabama and Iowa.

The winning crew covered the course in 18.0.

The battleship Illinois sailed for the Brooklyn navy yard today for repairs. She was recently in collision with the flagship Alabama, off Brenton's Reef, during the regatta.

The battleship squadron sails tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock for Rockport, Mass.

ROLLER SKATING

DEAN AND LONGLEY TO RACE.

At St. Andrew's Rink last evening, "ladies' night," was another success. The City Comet Band furnished music, and everyone present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. On Thursday night the 6th Band held their annual ball at the conclusion of the last band there will be a one-mile match race between Dean and Longley, both of this city. Dean defeated Longley in the first race held here, time 3.40. Longley won the race on last Thursday night, time 3.24. Dean has since his first race bettered his time, and on Thursday evening the time will undoubtedly be lowered several seconds. The men are to skate for a silver medal, and the winner will receive a half-mile race between three skaters employed in the rink, Nixon, Finley and Smith. The latter will have a handicap of sixty yards. Both Nixon and Finley have skated a mile in 3.40, and this should prove a most exciting race. There will be no extra charge for admission. Billy Merritt, the well known skater, who arrived from Boston yesterday morning, was at the rink yesterday and after skating, pronounced the floor to be the equal of any he ever skated on. Friday night will be men's night.

BASEBALL

BIG LEAGUE GAMES.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Following today's National League baseball game on the south end grounds there was a serious personal encounter between Manager Fred Tenney of the Boston team and Umpire Klem. Tenney accused Klem of neglecting to deliver over to him the balls used in the game, which are always considered the property of the local club. He then attempted forcibly to reach the umpire's pockets.

An exchange of blows followed and Klem, it is alleged, threw one of the balls at Tenney, hitting him in the face. Both men bore marks of the fray.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—At yesterday's game there was a good deal of ill feeling shown on both sides on account of decisions rendered by Umpire Johnstone. When Johnstone and Emmie, the umpire assigned by President Pulliam, arrived at the entrance to the Polo grounds today, Johnstone was refused admittance, and Emmie, who accompanied him, declined to take any part in the game so long as his associate was not allowed to perform his official function. Johnstone then declared the game forfeited by New York to Chicago, basing his decision on the local club's refusal to admit him to the grounds.

Manager McGraw of New York called upon his utility man, Strang, to officiate as umpire, but Manager Chance refused to appoint a man from his team to act in conjunction with Strang, saying that the game had been forfeited under the rules. Strang thereupon declared the game forfeited to New York, and the spectators were told that there would be no game.

day, fell rapidly, but when the rain ceased the heat did not seem to have passed, and thousands suffered in the congested districts of the city tonight.

While the temperature during the day was perceptibly lower than on yesterday, the humidity remained high and the cumulative effect of the heated term was shown in the record of ten deaths attributed directly to the heat. There were also many scores of prostrations.

At the height of the thunder storm a large water main broke and spent its contents into the subway at Franklin and Lafayette streets, seriously interfering with train service. There was some excitement among the hundreds caught in the trains.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 7.—Two deaths from heat occurred today before 8 o'clock, making a total of nine fatalities since the beginning of the present hot and humid wave. After a night of almost intolerable heat and humidity the temperature at 8 o'clock was 81 degrees, with 67 per cent. humidity. At the various hospitals a total of 48 cases of heat prostrations were reported.

LITTLE COOLER IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—A cool breeze from the ocean brought relief tonight to the people of this city, who for three days have suffered from the intense heat.

Today's maximum temperature was 86.6 degrees, registered at 1 p. m. From that time the mercury fell steadily, and at 8 o'clock tonight the temperature was 69. A cool breeze blew in from the ocean, and it seemed to the suffering Bostonians that the heat scourge had been driven away.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A heavy thunderstorm accompanied by a deluge of rain tonight brought brief relief from the torrid heat of the past three days. Lightning struck in several places in the city, but no serious damage was done.

With the appearance of the storm the temperature, which had ranged between 85 and 90 degrees during the

MINERS FINED FOR

ATTENDING FUNERAL

CARDIFF, Aug. 6.—Twenty-two colliers of the Plymouth Merthyr pits were summoned at Merthyr yesterday for attending themselves from work on the occasion of the funeral of a comrade on May 22. The case had been adjourned, and it was stated yesterday that the men were about to confer with the managers on the question of their customary attendance at such funerals. The pit manager proved that the loss to the company owing to the men's absence was $150, and the magistrate fined each defendant $1.25.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—At the thirty-seventh Lincolnshire agricultural show, which opened at Gainsborough yesterday, the champion ram was Derby Champion, for which the record price of 1,450 guineas was given at a public auction last Thursday, and which is shortly to be sent to Buenos Ayres. The champion bull was of enormous proportions and weighed no less than one ton and one hundred-weight.

A CITY OF AMUSEMENTS.

Once inside the St. John exhibition grounds next month and a sound of the most engrossing amusements awaits the visitor, whether he or she be young or old. If amusements of an educating character are desired above all else, there are the natural history, scientific, mechanical, agricultural, live stock, automobile, and shows of that character; if it is something in the zoological line that is wanted the herd of trained elephants, Wormwood's monkey circus, the trained dogs, the clever cockatoos and so forth will delight thousands. Musically there will be the Bostonian Band of Ladies—a star attraction, as well as local bands twice daily, and orchestras and musical instruments. The Marconi Wireless Telegraph will certainly be a source of much interest to all, particularly those who have not seen this great mystery explained. Then there will be the fireworks and "Sings of Gibraltar," the Pike with its side-shows, gladiators, but no fakers. With the dog show, the poultry show, the fruit display, open-air feasts and parades of prize stock the immense grounds will be a city of amusements, verily.

THE GROWTH OF SOCIALISM.

There is a vast difference between the socialism of today and the socialism of fifty years ago. The word socialism has come to contract a new meaning, and is now generally defined in a way that would exclude the very theories it was originally invented to denote. Its political element—its desire on the public power in behalf of the laboring class—is taken to be the pith and essence of the system. Socialism has reappeared in a form which may be described as revolutionary or radical democracy. It may be divided into two great branches—socialism proper, or collectivism, as it is sometimes called, and anarchism. There are socialists who are not socialists but they are few. Practically speaking, anarchism is but an extreme phase of socialism. It indulges in more violent methods, and in a more optimistic spirit of destruction. Its fury takes a wider sweep; it attacks all current beliefs and all existing institutions; it puts its hopes in universal chaos. Outside of this, about the only point of principle that separates anarchism from socialism is the question of future government. The old doctrine, the old hopes of socialism have gone. Now political socialism may accordingly be said to have disappeared.

But socialism—the socialism of today—is in many respects making rapid strides, especially in Germany where we find all the conditions necessary to the growth of this great movement. Here the socialists are united and they are seeing to it that everything possible is being done to further their cause. In France there is much animated socialist agitation, but no solid and coherent socialist party such as exists in Germany. The movement is disunited and fragmentary, and confined almost entirely to the large towns, where many circumstances conspire to favor its growth. The French working class are born to revolutionary traditions. The better portion of them, moreover, though they long since gave up all belief in the old native forms of socialism, never ceased to be imbued with socialist ideas and aspirations. And it is well known that there is in France a larger proportion of the working class than in most countries, who are kept in constant poverty and discontent by their own improvident habits.

The United States have done more for experimental socialism than any other country. The old socialism failed entirely, with the exception of certain religious communities whose success has been due to their religious discipline and their celibacy. But the followers of these sects are comparatively few. Nor has the new or political socialism of which there are various indigenous forms—found any better success in the States. It is surprising but true that the trend of the labor movement in America seems away from socialism. The development of socialism in Italy is astonishing. There is a distressed peasantry and a distressed working class, a distressed body of university men. For a month or two of the year, Italy is a national workshop; everybody is out of employment, and has to get work from the State. In Spain we find that the bulk of socialism still belongs to the anarchist wing, which in Portugal which received its socialism from Spain, the movement from the first has advanced slowly and quietly.

England, which was the country last reached by the wave of revolutionary socialism, is alternately the hope and the despair of continental socialists. Every requisite of revolution is there, and yet the people will not rise. The Yeomanry are gone. The land has come into the hands of a few. Industry is carried on by great centralized capital. Every tenth person is a pauper. The material for the general spirit and revolutionary passion is dead.

In Russia—well, we all know what the condition of Russia is at present. The revolutionary passion is there, but the ability to bring it to one great focus is lacking. There is no organization. The long-looked-for general strike has been called off. It will probably come sometime, but not before the Czar and his staff of fendiish rulers have inflicted more suffering on the common people. Just how strong socialism is in Russia is hard to determine. It is not so difficult to estimate its importance in other countries, and today it would seem that while the socialist movement, in the countries where it is most advanced and powerful, seems getting into a practical labor movement, the labor movement, in the countries where it is most advanced and powerful, is steering furthest and clearest from socialism.

Russell Sage, says the Victoria Colonist, after a long and not altogether complimentary criticism of the financier's life and character, have excited since the first date in human history and they will continue to the last chapter.

AFTER THE SILENCES.

Hot blows the southwest wind all the long summer day; Silent the song of birds and the voices of children at play, Asleep is the cricket, underneath a tuft of wind-blown hay; Still is the katydid—no music in all the haunts

Of birds and singing things, and Nature's loving taunts, Slowly the twilight creeps, sweet falls the evening calm, Till, like a benediction of peace, breaks forth the old world's psalm— Cricket and katydid, robin and thrush combined,

After the silence, each with a melody refined, Through this terrible, tremendous summer heat Which broods all day long o'er fields and deserted street.

Slowly the long shadows creep forth from the hills and lay Like the hand of infinite love on the throbbing brow of Day, And the angel of Rest, white-winged, and gentle of touch and grace, Stood by the baby's crib till a smile came into its white, wan face:

And weary women, looked up and laughed, and tired men sighed relief, And hearts took hope again, long hushed with voiceless grief; So, in the midst of all, when Sorrows dug your neck a fiddle and you was up, Into our desolate homes, He giveth His beloved sleep!

And more and yet more—He giveth them songs in the night! As sweet and strong as the song that thrills In the twilight calm from the heart of the hills!

—Charles Blanchard.

LUCKY DOG.

A Dutchman, addressing his dog, said: "You was only a dog, but I wish I was you, when you go mit your bed in you 'shut turn around three times and lay down; ven I go mit the bed in I haf to lock up de place, and wind up de clock and put de clock out, and outdrenk myself, and my four Yakes up and scolden de baby vakes up and cries and I haf to walk him mit the house around, den maybe, ven I gets myself to bed, it is time to get up again. Ven you get up you shut stretch yourself, dig your neck a fiddle and you was up, I haf to light the fire, put on de kiddie, scrap some mit my life already and get myself breakfast. He play around all day and have plenty of fun. I haf to work all day and have plenty of drubble. Ven you die you was dead, ven I die I haf to go to—some-where—yet."

IN THE WRONG POCKETS.

Mark Twain had finished his speech at a recent dinner party, and, on his seating himself, a lawyer rose, shook his hands deep into his trouser pockets, as was his habit, and laughingly inquired of those present at the society dinner:

"Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a professional humorist should be funny?"

When the laughter that greeted this sally had subsided Mark Twain drew out:

"Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a lawyer should have his hands in his own pockets?"

TWO WITNESSES.

In order to test a Chinese witness' qualifications for taking the oath an English magistrate asked him the other day where he expected to go when he died. He replied, "Peking," and was dismissed.

One in another English court, a little girl, in answer to that question said, "I don't know." The horrified counsel called the judge's attention to the answer. "Oh, I don't know, either," said the judge. "Sweet the witness."

SUN WORSHIPPERS.

One of the worst-behaved the tailor has is a spool of warm, bright sunshine. It shows up the shabby portions of dress and reveals its faded parts in unmistakable fashion, with the result that the wearers soon find their way to the tailor and order a fresh supply of up-to-date styles.—London Tailor and Cutter.

MIRACULOUS MULTIPLICATION.

A lady who recently bought a dinner service consisting of fifty-four pieces for £1. 5s. was informed by her housemaid the next day that the bargain had become still more wonderful, for it now consisted of 1,125 pieces.—Punch.

JUST LIKE A MULE.

"Is your machine broke?" inquired the wayfarer, observing the chaffeur prone beneath it and perspiring mightily.

"Not well, thank you," replied the chaffeur, who formerly was a horse-trainer. "It whiled at that last bridge, bucked a few times, and now it has balked."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Middle-aged Gentlemen (to demure young lady behind him)—You have been driving me for nearly an hour. May I ask to what agreeable circumstance I am indebted for it?

Young Lady—O, your walk reminds me so much of my poor little Philo, who died the other day.—Salon Whiteblatt.

TRUTH AT LAST.

"Of course," said the smart quack, "the sea serpent is a species of water snake."

"Not by a jugful," rejoined the old sea captain, "makes a liquid much stronger than water to produce a sea serpent."

JAPANESE COLONY TO BE FORMED.

Wants to Buy Land in Alberta
For This Purpose.

The Better Class of Japanese Would be Imported and All Would be Well Adapted to Farming.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7.—Canadians have admitted to participate with them in virgin resources of their country, Britons, Americans, Icelanders, Norwegians, Swedes, Galicians, Italians, Germans and Russians. Up to the present the land settlement, but whether for wool or woe, Asia, in the person of its most vigorous and enterprising race, the Japanese, is now to be represented amongst us as a settler, promising to become a permanent resident of the soil. A scheme to bring this about is active in the mind of B. R. Nagatany, of Klotu, Mr. Nagatany, who has friends in high circles in the Mikado's empire, has been in Canada four years studying its conditions. At first he learned in Queen's University, but during the last two years, he has been in the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph. Now he returns to his native country with a project to found a college. In answer to enquiries, Mr. Nagatany explained that his idea was to acquire a large tract of land in Alberta. "I had an interview with the minister of immigration, Mr. Smith, and also Mr. Griffin, of the C. P. R. land department, this morning," he said, "and we had a very interesting talk on the prospects of a Japanese colony in Alberta. Mr. Smith's advice to me was to go in for the government grant, but, although I might be able to bring over many who would take up the homesteads, I rather prefer my own scheme of buying a large tract of land in the centre of Alberta, between 20,000 and 100,000 acres, owned by the C. P. R."

"As you know probably, we are more adapted for extensive cultivation of the soil than for the raising of stock, and we also take up the growth of the sugar beet, and all kinds of vegetables, and any other products, which are produced by other nationalities are doing. As the Japanese are doing, we are more adapted for extensive cultivation of the soil than for the raising of stock, and we also take up the growth of the sugar beet, and all kinds of vegetables, and any other products, which are produced by other nationalities are doing."

"At present, you must understand, I am acting purely as a private individual. When I return to Japan, I will submit my proposals to our government and acting in conjunction with prominent public business men in Japan, I may form a company to promote the scheme."

"The plan of this experiment will result in very much immigration from Japan in the future, Mr. Nagatany?"

"I think so," he answered. "I believe that when once we have proved that the Japanese will follow a very large immigration of our people. The Japanese are not very well informed about Canadian conditions, and this is what Japan has been waiting for some time. There is no reason why the Japanese cannot do as well as any other nationality. So far, we have not seen any of their immigrants taking up lands in the Northwest, as people of other nationalities are doing. As far as I am concerned, experience in the war with Russia, shows that we can endure either heat or cold. I am not intending to get any financial help from my government. All the money I can come out will have to be raised by the Japanese themselves. I am going to bring the well-to-do. If the colony is founded, I shall always keep in touch with it, and may myself become a Canadian in time."

"In further conversation the visitor explained that it was realized they must begin on farming, but later he thought some Japanese manufacturers might be established. For Canadian flour he saw a good market in Japan. It is only to become a great article of export from the Northwest to his own country."

"We can send silks, tea, marmalades and fine art goods. Personally, I am looking forward to a prosperous reciprocal trade," he continued, "as I said before, however, Japan does not know much about Canada yet, and perhaps I shall be the first man in Japan to moot such a scheme as I have suggested."

ENGLISH POSTAL SAVINGS.

Englishmen are thrifty. It is reported that more than $760,000,000 are now deposited in the postal savings banks of Great Britain. When it is remembered that not more than $200 can be deposited in the course of a single year it will be seen that the amount reported indicates widespread thrift. In Great Britain the post office not only receives letters, but telegrams, telephone messages and savings. This has been going on for years, and consequently, the public is well served by clerks who hold the honorable position of government servants and have a pension in store for them in old age.

ADVERTISE IN THE STAR

THE BALL IN LAWN TENNIS.

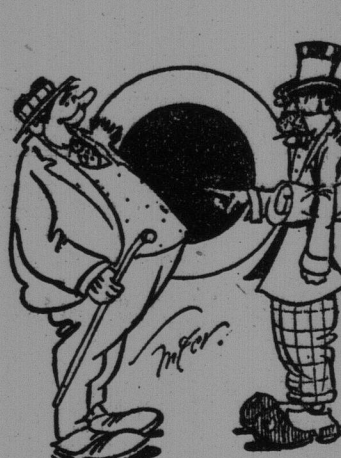

It is a curious fact that every book written in lawn tennis cautions the player to keep his eyes on the ball at the moment of striking it, yet there are very few expert players who do so. A rifle shot looks at his target, a bowler looks at the pins, and a billiard player generally looks at the object ball, not the cue ball. I have found it next to impossible to carry my mind, while moving rapidly to play a flying ball, the exact height of the net, the direction of the lines of my opponent's court and his position, so that it has become second nature with me and with most other players to look up in the direction that the ball is to go before it actually leaves the racket. It is principally because the reverse of this is necessary in golf that lawn tennis players have so much trouble in mastering the old Scotch game. From tennis habit they take their eyes off the ball too soon for golf success. J. Parnley Faret in Country Life in America.

It is my belief that every advertisement should have an impressive individuality of its own. It should be powerful, presented, stand out from its companions as conspicuously as a second nature with me and with most other players to look up in the direction

NOT THE SAME.
"Was it the earthquake?"
"No, miss. A race horse. She came in last."

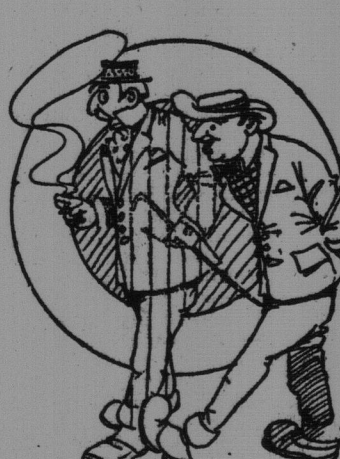

His Limit.
"When does your little boy retire at night?"
"Usually about the fourth question."

There Are Others.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"
"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

BAKER THE WINNER

AT LOS ANGELES

Neil Denounces Decision Against Him by Referee Tommy Burns—Both Finished Strong.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 8.—Harry Baker of San Francisco, amateur featherweight champion, and Frankie Neil fought 20 rounds before the Pacific Athletic Club here last night and Baker was awarded the decision. Tommy Burns refereed the bout, and his verdict in favor of Baker was loudly cheered. When the decision was announced against him, Neil stood in the center of the ring dumbfounded. He then rushed to his corner loudly protesting and denouncing the decision. Neil showed severe marks of the encounter. His right eye was badly battered and swollen and his left eye and mouth also showed evidence of having received hard punching. Baker showed no marks at the conclusion of the fight. They were both strong. The fight was at catch weights.

TRACK WASHED AWAY;

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED

PORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 8.—At Tynola, Indian Territory, on the Atoka-Oklahoma city line, almost a mile of track has been washed away. Amarillo, Texas, in the Panhandle, reports a severe electrical storm and has news that Clouston City, a small town, was wiped out by a tornado that killed several persons. At Amarillo four members of the family of a farmer named Riggs were killed by lightning. It is impossible to get even an approximate estimate of the crop damage, but it is believed the loss will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"IRISH JOAN OF ARC" LEAVES HUSBAND.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The civil tribunal of the Seine today confirmed its decree granting Mrs. MacBride (known as the "Irish Joan of Arc") a judicial separation from her husband, Major MacBride, who was a prominent member of the Irish Brigade of the Boer army during the war in South Africa; but the tribunal refused to grant her an absolute divorce on the ground of her Irish nationality. Mrs. MacBride was awarded the custody of her child. The major's cross bill was overruled.

SHOCKING AFFAIRS

OF DEFUNCT BANK

President Plundered Systematically Through a Period of Years—Cashier May be Implicated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The Tribune today says: "A state of affairs more startling and shocking than had been hinted previously in connection with the collapse of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, was revealed last night when it became plain that through long-continued frauds President Paul O. Stensland had plundered his own bank systematically through a period of years. The question arose whether Cashier Henry W. Herling profited to any extent by this plundering. His friends say he did not, though acknowledging that he may have knowledge of what Stensland was doing. At any rate, there has been discovered in President Stensland's safety deposit vault box memoranda detailing how the bank was looted. The amount thus taken is set down in Stensland's handwriting at $1,000,000. The money went to support his real estate speculations, his co-operative building and business and his line household in Irving Park."

EIGHT YACHTS FOR

EMPEROR'S CUP.

COWES, Aug. 8.—Eight yachts started this morning in the race for Emperor William's cup, which after the contest for the King's cup is the event of the greatest interest during the yachting week here. The yachts crossed the starting line as follows: Lesperance, Stantania, Crole, Corsica, Cotelia, Betty, Adela, Clara and Nyria. A special race was sailed between the Navaho and White Heather.

MEDICAL FEES.

(Montreal Star.)
It is encouraging to note that some physicians are outspoken in their criticism of the fee charged by the doctor who attended Marshall Field during his last illness—$25,000 for a plain case of pneumonia lasting a week. The medical associations had far better discipline members guilty of this sort of thing than of the heinous crime of advertising. This is a period in our development on this continent when the people are pulling things up by the roots to see how business are growing; and no profession enjoying the special privileges of the medical fraternity can afford to permit such cases of greed to go unrebuked. Their privileges rest upon a public belief in their high professional honor; and when

STEEL SITUATION SOUND.

(Montreal Star.)
Regarding the steel situation, a director of the Republic Iron and Steel Co. says: "The fact that the blast furnaces of the country have sold almost their entire possible production for the remainder of the year is the best indication that the iron and steel business is prospering. Prices for all lines of iron and steel are holding firm, and will hold firm until the mills get hungry for new business. There are no indications of

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say:—Wholesale trade generally has shown rather more activity during the past week. Seasonable lines of drygoods are reported as moving more briskly and there is continued activity in the delivering of fall lines. Manufacturers' agents are seeking wholesale orders for drier goods and are encouraging with encouragement despite the fact prices are so high. The demand for hardware lines is generally active. The movement in heavy metals is brisk. Prices are generally steady. Groceries are quiet with the exception of sugars for which there is a heavy demand. Collections continue generally fair to good. Trade in dairy products continues active. Shipments of cheese are very heavy and prices hold fairly well although an easier tone is reported at country points. Butter is also easier. Trade in hides is more active and prices are firm. Boot and shoe manufacturers are busy on fall orders and are taking good supplies of leather. Prices are firm. Wool is quiet and firm in tone. The trade in export cattle continues light. Hogs are very firm and scarce and provisions are high priced in sympathy. The general outlook for trade is very satisfactory, reflecting the promising outlook for crops in all parts of Canada. Toronto trade reports to Bradstreet's say:—All lines of wholesale and retail trades here continue active. In drygoods the demand for fall lines is brisk and good orders are being placed covering a wide range of lines. Woolens, cottons and linens continue very firm and in some cases stocks are light. This is practically the case in cotton goods, deliveries of which have been slow. Groceries are without special features. It is reported the pack of peas will not be above 65 per cent. and they are firm. The pack of raspberries will be a fair one. Sugars are firm. All lines of hardware goods are moving well and heavy orders are being received from Western Canada. Western orders for the fall trade are also as heavy in all other lines of goods. Country trade is being favored by the harvest, but crop prospects are bright and, with higher prices for all kinds of farm products, the farming community is in a position of prosperity such as has seldom been known. The grain and stock market is quiet and prices easy following the advent of the new grain. Hides and leather hold firm. Cattle and hogs continue scarce and very firm. The wool trade is rather more active and prices are more ready to accept prices offering. Winnipeg trade reports to Bradstreet's say:—There has been a good business in retail trade here during the past week and there has been a good re-order business in a number of lines of wholesale stocks. The movement in fall lines continues active and hardware continues unusually active. The weather has been favorable for growing crops. Stories of rust are not well borne out and trade is stimulated by the bright prospect for a heavy yield of grain. Collections are generally fair.

Vancouver and Victoria trade reports say:—Wholesale trade along the coast continues very active. There is a good coast and local trade in groceries with teas and coffees very firm. The volume of drygoods business shows a large increase over previous years and there are evidences that the buying at eastern markets is not so easy as it has been heretofore. Local dealers getting the benefit of the trade. The metal trade is active and the demand for hardware lines is brisk. The trade of the interior is moving well and provincial industries show continued activity. Country trade is also active and deliveries of country produce here are fair. Local manufacturers are busy and collections are falling so good. London trade reports to Bradstreet's say there is a feeling of buoyancy regarding the trade in general. The movement of stocks at the moment is quiet. Orders for fall lines, however, are good. Collections are coming forward fairly well.

Ottawa trade reports say there is little change to trade conditions here. The demand for summer lines is fairly active and deliveries of fall lines are heavy. Farmers are busy taking in crops of which prospect well. There is continued activity in the trade of dairy products. PORT ARTHUR MINES OPENING UP. PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 6.—The silver district adjacent to Port Arthur, which has been dormant for years, is to be reopened, and in the course of a few months mining camps that formerly employed hundreds of men will be again in full operation. Silver Mountain, Badger, Beaver and other properties have been purchased by a syndicate of American capitalists, and thousands of dollars will be expended on machinery and development. M. A. Meyers and Mr. Hanson, of Buffalo, who are largely interested in the syndicate who own properties, arrived in town yesterday en route to Silver Mountain, where a large force of men is engaged in pumping out the shafts preparatory to commencing active mining operations. Other mines also will be pumped out and operated. Mr. Hanson stated the district would produce silver in richness, and that it would become the largest silver-producing camp in America. Up-to-date machinery will be installed.

ional banks have, since the fire, loaned in New York, on six months' paper, $30,000,000, at rates of interest ranging from 4 1/2 to 6 per cent. There is a superabundance of money here at present and bankers are finding the New York field a fertile one for short time loans, for terms not exceeding six months, and with the best of collateral security. Bankers say that loans for rebuilding the burned district will not be required in the next five or six months.

The possible production of the Sloss-Sherfield Steel and Iron Co. for almost the remainder of the current year has been sold at satisfactory prices. A person in close touch with the affairs of the corporation says the company would experience difficulty in finding 5,000 tons for sale. The Sloss-Sherfield is doing well from the standpoint of earnings and production.

Reports from Eastport, Me., state that sardines are now very plentiful there, but that the factories have not the help necessary, as the busiest sardine season is generally expected in June or July and as a result they are not prepared for the large quantities at the present time, and as a result large quantities of the fish are being used as fertilizer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Wall Street—At the opening today changes from last night's level of prices were generally narrow, many of the prominent speculative leaders selling at unchanged quotations. Business was on a fairly large scale in spite of the narrow transactions. Exceptions to the generally sluggish movement were Great North, End, which rose 2 and Reading 1-1/8, while Colorado and Southern fell nearly a point.

Morgan & Co., acting at the request of holders of large amounts of the stock of the Hocking Valley Railway Co., and the Kanawha and Michigan Railway Co., give notice that they have prepared a plan for the consolidation of these companies and have consented to act as managers in carrying the plan into effect.

The plan provides for the retirement of the preferred stock of the Hocking Valley Railway Co., which, by the terms of its issue, is redeemable at par, and the issue by the new company of a general lien mortgage, under which provision is to be made for funding at a lower rate of interest, outstanding equipment obligations and floating indebtedness of both companies.

ANOTHER ARREST FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Attempted Outrage on Mrs. Michael Shannon of the Assyrian Colony--A Compatriot, Leo Sully, Charged With the Crime--She Positively Identifies Him, But He Protests His Innocence.

Leo Sully, aged eighteen, a native of Assyria, was arrested last night charged with entering a house and attempting to rape Mrs. Michael Shannon, a compatriot.

The victim of the attack is only seventeen years old. Her husband is at present away from home, and Mrs. Shannon was alone in the house with her infant. They occupy the ground floor of the large wooden building about opposite Peter's tannery, the basement of which is occupied by Hatfield, Mylins and Hatfield.

About eleven o'clock her assailant entered the house through a window in the alley and after passing through a couple of rooms reached the bedroom in which Mrs. Shannon was sleeping. She was awakened by his violent attack upon her.

She fought him off and shrieked for help. Frightened by her cries the intruder fled and, jumping out of the window, ran up Erin street.

The occupants of the upper stories of the house were aroused by the outcry and rushed down to see what was the matter. The fleeing figure was identified as Leo Sully by both Michael and Tom Hattie and a Miss McDonald. Mrs. Shannon explained to them what had happened and then, giving way to the shock to which she had been subjected, fainted.

The police station was promptly notified and Deputy Jenkins started for the scene of the outrage. Meeting Sergeant Campbell and Officer White, the case was put in their hands.

Arriving at the house they found the street in an uproar. Nearly the whole Assyrian colony seemed to be present. Some were hurrying to the scene of the crime, others were vigorously defending his name.

Proceeding to the home of the Sullys on the corner of Erin and Brussels street, Leo was found in bed with his brother Fred. Sully absolutely denied any knowledge of the crime. At the officers' command he got up and dressed, completing his costume with a white cloth cap. The policemen escorted him to Mrs. Shannon's home and she promptly identified him as her assailant. When asked if he had worn the same cap when he had broken in before, she said that he had then worn a brown soft felt hat. A hat of this description was found in his room. Fred at first claimed that it was his property, but their aunt, with whom they live, acknowledged that it belonged to Leo.

Fred Sully was vehement in his denials of his brother's innocence. He said that Leo had spent the evening in the house and had retired before he was taken to the central station and turned in about this time and was in bed with his brother at the time the outrage of which the latter was accused, had taken place.

The evidence against young Sully was deemed too strong, however, and he was taken to the central station and placed in a cell.

Mrs. Shannon, who is a very pretty young Assyrian woman, is highly respected by her neighbors and much sympathy is felt for her.

THE PROVINCES GAVE LIBERALLY

Over 4,000 Took Advantage of Harvesters' Excursion

Remarkable Scenes at the Depot as Six Special Trains Were Being Made Up

The harvesters' excursion, composed of over 4,000 persons, passed through the city last evening and this morning. The C. P. R. have been busy for some time making preparations for the crowd, and as matters were all well arranged everything passed off without a hitch.

The first of the travellers to arrive in town came in on the Calvin Austin yesterday morning. Quite a few of these men were Canadians, who had been working in the United States, and some of them were young Americans, college students, who had come over in the Ruper, had quite a crowd of youngsters around his window in the car. At first evening went well, he was having a good time and the crowd round enjoyed his practical jokes. At last he reached out the window and smashed a man's hat. He threw some beans at the crowd, and this caused them to scatter for a while. Finally he and another man left the car, and the station. They were "wiping out" the station. They were not far from the door when they met a policeman, who put them back.

The men were quiet for some time and the crowd dispersed to hunt up new attractions. However, in a short time these two men again became the centre of attraction, as they had quarrelled with another. One of the men pointed a loaded revolver at the other, but before any harm was done he was put on the board, being considerably sobered up by his varied experiences.

A special train arrived about an hour after the departure of the first train. There were quite a number of "Tommy" men in this party, who went west to join their families. Many of the Nova Scotia men intend settling in the west, and several family parties were among this train load.

A middle aged man, who was a patriot, if nothing else, stood on one of the car platforms and expatiated on the greatness of Her Dominion in general and of Nova Scotia in particular. When requested by the crowd to deal in more up-to-date topics than patriotism, he delivered a political speech, giving the information that he had once spoken on the same platform as Mr. E. Foster. He said he was the speaker to follow the Hon. Geo. E., but neglected to mention how many hours after.

He also delighted the crowd with several witty remarks, which included singing, step dancing and instrumental music.

The next train was one from Truro and Sydney, which left about 12 o'clock. The Point du Chene special passed through the city about 1:30 and two more train-loads from New Glasgow will leave the city about five o'clock this morning.

In all there were six special trains, and it is estimated by Mr. Downie that 4,120 passengers took advantage of the cheap trip.

For the protection of the passengers there are five policemen aboard each train. They have a section reserved in the last car for unruly passengers. The police are all experienced men, twenty-five of them belonging to the Montreal city police force, the rest being C. P. R. regular policemen.

Each train is made up of about fourteen cars, and there was no spare room on any of the cars leaving town, some of the passengers being placed three in a seat.

The excursion trains were all made up in this city, with the exception of that from Point du Chene, where C. P. R. cars were available.

The Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island men arrived in town on I. C. R. specials and were then transferred to the C. P. R. cars, which were lined up on the new siding outside the station. The trains are all bound for Winnipeg, and upon their arrival there, the "harvesters" will be shipped to the different points where men are needed.

In the 4,000 there were not more than 150 men who were at all advanced in years, and in the small towns along the line of the I. C. R. the absence of the ablest young men of the towns will interfere materially with the progress of industry.

John Fleming, of New York, a native of St. John, arrived by the Prince Rupert last night via Yarmouth. N. S. He was the husband of the late May Agnes Fleming, the authoress.

STRIKE HAS ENDED IN FAILURE; STOLYPIN'S NEW PLANS OF REFORM

Regiment Patrolling the Streets of St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—The real intention of the government, as revealed by a number of the cabinet to the Associated Press this afternoon, shows that Premier Stolypin at least intends to pursue and hold an affirmative policy, amounting virtually to a determination on the part of the administration to settle the agrarian question according to its own lights and irrespective of parliament and then go to the country upon this issue.

The government expects to rally not only the landed interests but the mass of the peasantry to its side by actually giving the latter some immediate relief instead of merely holding out hopes of a more advantageous settlement in the indefinite future, which has been the stock in trade of many performers.

Politically this move may prove very strong. The actual bestowal of land, even if in smaller quantities than was expected, and the divisions of communal holdings will, it is believed, make the peasantry disinclined to vote for candidates to the lower house who might propose a totally different solution to the question. But above all, individual possession, the government calculates, will indicate that very respect for property, the lack of which, under the system of communal holdings, has made many peasants such easy converts to the nationalization of land. The crux of the question is its financial aspect. It will be a herculean operation to find the funds required to purchase the private holdings which the project of Minister of Agriculture Stuchinsky contemplated acquiring through the land banks, even though the owners, under the special of the Agrarian disorders, are ready to sell at most moderate prices. The character of these disorders has been shown again in a despatch from Potava describing the destruction of an estate owned by Prince Kotchinsky, whose breeding stud of 200 horses and more than 600 sheep were locked in burning buildings and vainly left to the flames. The government is holding strict accountability the responsible officials of the government institutions which were affected by the strike. Director Suworoff of the large printing establishment attached to the Official Messenger, where the compositors struck Monday, has been discharged and the minister of railways has demanded the resignation of Superintendent Laurence of the Irkutsk railway for permitting strikers to interfere with traffic on his road.

There is continued preparation among the revolutionaries for an armed uprising in the south, is believed to be indicated by the interception by the police of shipments of arms and ammunition, including rifles and submachine guns, at Potava and Theodosia.

GENERAL STRIKE WAS FEARED.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Several red flag demonstrations were broken up last night by dragoons, but the city generally is quiet. The central committee of the Railroad Men's Union has refused to co-operate in the movement. Many of the factories are resuming work, and the electric plant is again in operation. The social revolutionists favor a strike in the autumn.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7, 3:30 p.m.—The workmen's council has decided to call off the strike in St. Petersburg. The announcement will be issued tonight or tomorrow. The union does not apply to the provinces, but there is little doubt that the workmen there will follow St. Petersburg's example.

More than half of the factories here resumed work today, and while the strikers of some of the establishments at Moscow are still out on one of the petitions of the strike organization were fulfilled.

Many of the trades unions totally refused to join in the movement. The railroad men, whose co-operation was vital, could not be induced to give the signal for a strike, and there was no sign of a serious peasant movement. While the repressions and arrests of the personal opinion of the factor in bringing about the present situation, it is apparent that the movement was ill-timed to people who were not in a temper to support it. As a consequence the revolutionaries tionary leaders, who inspired it with the intention of transforming the movement into an armed uprising, have suffered a severe loss of prestige. The government, which had prepared for the worst, holding military trains in readiness at all the centres and had even made arrangements to send out the foreign mails by torpedo boats from St. Petersburg, naturally is greatly rejoiced at its victory.

The leaders of the non-revolutionary parties do not conceal their satisfaction at the defeat of their old allies of the extreme left, as they feared that a great strike, with widespread disorders entailing repressions, might be used as justification by the government to postpone the elections and the assembling of a new parliament. With comparative tranquillity ahead they can hold the government to its promises.

CAUCASUS STILL CRITICAL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—Despatches received here from Yellavsk depol announce that another "perpetual peace" has been arranged between Turkestan and Armenians at Shumai, but advices from Tiflis show that the situation is still critical, especially in the adjoining district of Samtskhe.

GOVERNMENT STILL SOLVENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—A semi-official statement referring to the conclusions deduced abroad from an article in the Russia saying it was the intention of the government to suspend cash payments, is published tonight. It says these conclusions are based upon gross misunderstanding and that no such intention exists.

The article in the Russia says the statement does nothing more than indicate an issue of paper money as an extreme measure to which the state may have recourse in the event of the total arrest of the normal financial functions of the country. It represents merely the personal opinion of the writer. Any inference that there is an intention to suspend cash payments is possible only to people who everywhere are seeking some pretext for creating disquiet and even panic.

CHIEF CLARK IN HERO ROLE

At Great Personal Risk He Jumped From Street Car and Caught Runaway Horse, Preventing Disaster

Chief Clark, through his skill and presence of mind, prevented a serious runaway last evening. A lady and gentleman were driving down Mill street about 7:30 o'clock in a light rubber tire rig. The horse was a very skittish animal and was hard to handle. When they approached the depot the horse reared and plunged, as an engine was backing across the tracks. The engine was making quite a loud noise, blowing off steam, which together with the bell ringing caused the horse to become frightened. The driver did his best, but the horse reared and plunged, finally backing up against a post and partly overturning the carriage. The crowd around advised the occupants of the rig to jump, but Chief Clark, who was in a street car, saw what was going on and jumping from the car grasped the bridle of the horse. The chief was dragged along the street a short distance, but still kept a firm hold and at length conquered the maddened animal. After quieting the animal the chief let go and the horse started away. The large number who witnessed the action of the chief were enthusiastic in their admiration of his courage and strength.

SYDNEY INVADDED BY ODDFELLOWS

H. E. Codner of St. John, Elected Grand Marshal—Moncton Ladies Elected Rebekah Assembly Officers

SYDNEY, Aug. 7.—The city is beginning to feel the effect of the meetings of the Grand Encampment, Grand Lodge and the Rebekah assembly. The lodge held its session in O'Leary's hall at 10:30 this morning, with Mrs. Emma McDowall, the president.

The reports presented by the officers showed a gain of 42 members for the year. The total membership is now 2,250. Five new lodges were instituted since last annual meeting, including Sapphire Lodge at St. John North.

The delegates in attendance from St. John are Miss Henrietta Smith and Miss Maggie Peters, Judge Lodge, Carleton, and Mrs. C. W. Segge of Sapphire Lodge.

The Grand Encampment also met at 10:30 this morning, holding its session in the Y. M. C. A. hall. P. A. MacGowan of Moncton, Grand patriarch, presiding.

After the usual opening ceremonies the Grand Encampment degree was conferred on a number of delegates.

Following this the report of the grand patriarch was read, as well as that of the different officers. Those were referred to the usual committees.

DREDGING NEEDED AT PETTINGILL'S WHARF

Master of Steamer Memnon Has Made a Complaint of Insufficient Water and Uneven Bottom

The berth at Pettingill wharf is said to be badly in need of dredging.

The master of the steamer Memnon, which was lying at that wharf last week, has lodged a complaint concerning the depth of water there. His vessel was drawing about twenty-two feet of water when aboard, but as the tide receded she grounded and at low tide showed a depth of only fifteen feet on her lines.

The depth of water did not seem to be even, there being a greater depth at both bow and stern than amidships. There was apparently a large bump in the middle of the timber, which it is thought may have been caused by previous steamers dumping ashes overboard.

The matter is being investigated by the city officials, and if conditions are as bad as described it is expected that an immediate step will be taken to put the berth in condition. This wharf is almost constantly in use, being used by both the Furness and West India lines, and it would cause considerable inconvenience if it were found too shallow to be used by the boats of these lines.

Miss Kitty Wood left yesterday on a visit to friends in Gagetown.

Hon. C. N. Skinner left yesterday for Sydney to attend the Oddfellow's Grand Lodge.

A Story of France in the days of Louis XV., and how the work of a traitor was foiled by the energy of Madame Pompadour.

Confession and absolution! The mummy of priests. She at least had shined from ambition, because the flesh and spirit would not permit her to remain Antoinette de Poisson. But she was a bourgeois and they were noble. For all that could those noble women or these men ever understand—would the world ever understand—before it judged the heart of such a woman as the Pompadour? To him, perhaps, alone some of the intricate riddles of the spirit had been revealed because his heart, too, beat as hers did, and assuredly to that hater and feared woman today the bitterness of death would be sweet and welcome compared with the bitterness—the tragic bitterness—of failure. God alone—if there was a God—could know all and judge aright. For her and for him, in this hour of defeat, a great pity was surest fittest.

No one came to speak to him. The renegade Vicomte de Nerac, alone there in the window, scarcely moved even compassion. He had deserted his order; he deserved punishment—to be an example to traitors who betrayed their blood and their dignity—and the punishment had begun. No one? Yes, one; the Chevalier de St. Amant. Andre was surprised—touched.

"Pardon my presumption," the young man said, "but you and I, Vicomte, have more than once crossed swords. I at least have done my best to defeat you; you have done yours to defeat me."

"Certainly," Andre admitted readily, "and you have won."

"Have I?" Andre smiled as he looked down the crowded street, where they stood.

"Yes, Vicomte, you are victor!" His tones trembled with emotion. "Victor in the prize that matters—a woman's heart. Do not you forget that, I at least cannot."

Andre looked into his eyes, but he said nothing.

"Whether," the Chevalier continued, "it go to Italy or you go to Nerac is a little thing; but the other is a great thing, and the result will always be what it is—always. It has been a fair fight if rights for woman are to count ever be fair. Will you give me the pleasure of shaking hands?"

"Yes," Andre answered, with some emotion. "And I am not sent to Nerac you shall not go to Italy."

"We will see," the Chevalier had resumed his teasing tone, for they were both being jealously watched. He added, and slipped away. Andre murmured, "Always, always," slipped away, too. "Always," was Denise still to be won, or why had a tear stood in the boy's eye when he had spoken?

"Madame!" he cried, aghast, as he stepped into the Marquis de Pompadour's salon.

"She was sitting in her pique in front of the fire, her hair about her lovely shoulders, staring at the smoldering logs. Trunks had packed littered the room. Papers torn up and drawers half open met the eye in every corner. And when she warily turned round at his exclamation her face was the face of a woman sleepless, haggard, and worn—the face of one quieted by fear, misery, and failure."

"Ruined," Vicomte, she muttered hopelessly, "ruined, and you, too."

"Not yet," he answered, with such poor courage as he could summon. She flung back her hair and pointed at him, with a bare arm. "Look in the glass, miserable fellow-gambler; your eyes are as mine, hunted by despair and defeat, and we are both right. My God, have I ever passed such a night? And unless I am gone from this palace in six hours—oh, they have warned me—I shall sleep in a cell at Vincennes. Courage, please! The King alone could save me and I have lost him for ever."

"Are you sure?"

"She waved the question on one side, 'it is a plot,' she cried passionately, 'a plot of my enemies. They tried to murder you and they failed. Now this—their last device. They have poisoned the King, that his sick body may fall into the hands of the priests, who will torture his soul till they have frightened him into dismissing me. What can one woman do against the Church whose bishops keep mistresses as the King does? Nothing, nothing. I am ruined. I fly from here that I may leave Versailles free. Do you save yourself. I can protect you no longer. Give me up, go back to the Court, trample on the unfortunate—it is not too late for you. Even my wretches know that, and dare to insult me."

"No, Madame, I will not give you up."

"For, mad fool!" But the sudden, radiant flush in that haggard face would have inspired a man under sentence of death to hope and joy.

"And I will save you yet, Marquise." She looked at him fixedly. "Vicomte," she moaned, with an exceeding bitter cry, "save me. Yes, save me, I implore you."

Her helplessness and her misery, she, who twenty-four hours ago had been the Queen of Love to the Sovereign of France, did not appeal in vain. "The King may recover," he said, "do not fly yet. If in twelve hours I do not return you will never see me again. Then, but not till then, for God's sake save yourself, Madame."

"You have a clue—know something?"

"Adieu," she said, and he bowed himself resolutely out, and he knew she had flung herself back into that chair in front of the fire to watch her fortunes and her ambitions flicker out with the dying flames in the remorseless march of the hours.

Twelve hours! Twelve hours! He had no clue, no information. He had spoken from the intuition of sheer pity; alas! he had nothing but a fierce and meaningless resolve.

"Andre," called softly a voice he knew only too well. Denise was standing in the empty gallery, and in the hunted despair and fear Madame de Pompadour had read in his.

"Andre, you mean to see her?"

"She is ruined," she paused, "and she will ruin you, too. Let me save you, I can."

"No," he said, very quietly, "you cannot. Denise loved me, I tremble at once on my knees to my foe. 'We will see,' I said, and I am not sent to Nerac you shall not go to Italy."

"We will see," the Chevalier had resumed his teasing tone, for they were both being jealously watched. He added, and slipped away. Andre murmured, "Always, always," slipped away, too. "Always," was Denise still to be won, or why had a tear stood in the boy's eye when he had spoken?

CHAPTER XXV.

The excitement was rather diminished by the report of the king's recovery. Indeed, throughout, men's and women's thoughts were absorbed far more feverishly with the fortunes of Madame de Pompadour than with those of Louis himself. A palace revolution was what was desired, vengeance on the woman who had threatened to become dictator, a happy return to the old order; the king's illness was only important as the extraordinary miracle which would accomplish what was so passionately prayed for. The noble gentlemen and ladies spent the next hour in agitating suspense. And when it was reported that the king had rallied so marvelously as to be out of bed, to eat and to talk, the high hopes sank. Another miracle had supervened to undo the work of the first.

"A fig for miracles," said Pontchartrain. "Voltaire and the philosophers are right; they are either stupid, useless, or meaningless. We can get on so much better without them."

"The saints of the circle in the queen's ante-chamber were inexpressibly shocked. And they sighed at the insupportable and irritating way in which things in this world were ordered by Providence."

"Your theology, my dear duke," savors of bourgeois vulgarity and ignorance. Heaven will only help those who help themselves. That woman must be ruined before the king is well enough to become insane again. If we can only drive her from the palace today she will never return."

"And," Mont Rouge added significantly, "there is a pleasant pit into which we can drive her. The fall will break her of her bad neck."

"He began to explain very earnestly his scheme, which was listened to with the most eager attention."

"We have her," he wound up, triumphantly. "I shall not spend the winter at Mont Rouge."

The next news was very surprising. The king, on the advice of his physicians, was to be taken to the chateau of Rambouillet, where change of air, and, presently some of his favorite hunting, would complete about his health.

"He was to leave that afternoon, accompanied only by his confessor, his physician, and the Duke's hands."

"Yes, because there are no limits to mon cher," she retorted, "to what wiles must endure."

"Ah, we shall make you a vulgar and ignorant philosopher yet, there am I, as His Majesty said to the aristocratic, yours is an education which promises me infinite amusement."

But the best part of the new information had yet to come. Madame de Pompadour had tried again to see the king, but His Majesty had listened to his confessor's warning and refused.

The doctors, too, had forbidden any such interviews. The king must be kept in the best of health. Physicians said alike had their cure from the ministers; and the King, sublimely indifferent to the gloomy remorse and superstition, was again ready, after his illness, to listen to the solemn remonstrances from the Church on his evil life. Nor did the Court know that the mystery of the apparition, which had been the cause of his collapse, had played its part in strengthening his determination to free himself from Madame de Pompadour.

"She, too, must leave Versailles," St. Amant urged. "Mont Rouge has shown us how we can complete the victory once we have driven her out. When the king returns from Rambouillet, must find her fled and then—He and they all smiled. As soon as the king could hear exciting news there would be exciting news for him with a vengeance."

David Hagarty was brought into the city last night on the Shore Line from New River Mills and was taken to the hospital, where he will be attended for a severe attack of erysipelas.

Vice-President of Suspended Bank Arrested

Bank's Affairs Were Conducted With Most Incredible Irregularity—President and Cashier Gone

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Theodore Stensland, vice president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, was arrested late this afternoon on a charge of violating the banking laws of the state. Earlier in the day the institution was placed in the hands of a receiver, and Paul O. Stensland, president of the bank, and Cashier Hering, were officially declared fugitives from justice and their personal descriptions placed in the hands of the police throughout the country.

The warrant was taken by J. P. Straub, a liquor dealer, who declared that last Saturday he had been told $500 of the bank and that Theodore Stensland as one of the officers of the institution had knowledge that the bank was insolvent.

But the best part of the new information had yet to come. Madame de Pompadour had tried again to see the king, but His Majesty had listened to his confessor's warning and refused.

The doctors, too, had forbidden any such interviews. The king must be kept in the best of health. Physicians said alike had their cure from the ministers; and the King, sublimely indifferent to the gloomy remorse and superstition, was again ready, after his illness, to listen to the solemn remonstrances from the Church on his evil life. MINISTER WILL ISSUE NEW PASS ORDER

Delegation Representing all Branches of Railway Service were Given This Assurance in Interview

MONTREAL, N. B., Aug. 7.—Within the next few days a new order in regard to passes to L. C. R. employees will be issued by the minister of railways. Hon. Mr. Emmerson was waited on by a delegation tonight in regard to this matter and promised it immediate consideration, also intimating that he would issue a new order in regard to this matter during his eastern trip on which he leaves tomorrow morning.

The order will probably be issued from Halifax. While the proposition of the delegation has not been definitely accepted, it is understood, their request was for a monthly number of local passes to cover short suburban trips and three per year to more distant points. The delegation represented all branches of the railway service.

Steamer Empress is making a special trip tonight to convey six hundred islanders who are going west on the C. P. R. harvest excursion and the train will arrive at St. John early tomorrow morning. The new Glasgow train is expected here at one o'clock.

Mrs. Florence Ferguson, of Chicago, leaves this morning for Gagetown, where she will spend the next week.

DROWNED AT FREDERICTON

George G. Pike Knocked Overboard From Victoria

Accident Occurred as the Steamer was Docking—Sank Immediately—Body Not Recovered

George G. Pike of this city, a dock-hand on the steamer Victoria, was drowned yesterday afternoon at Fredericton. A despatch from there stated that the accident took place on the arrival of the steamer shortly after five o'clock.

The steamer had been drawn up to the wharf to land her passengers and Pike, as customary, started to assist laying the plank for the gangway. One plank had been laid. In placing the second one, Pike had the end on the boat while one of the other hands was at the other end. The plank slipped and striking Pike, hurled him into the river between the boat and the wharf. The man, unable to swim, sank immediately and failed to rise to the surface.

Captain Taylor lost no time in having three boats launched from the steamer and each manned with a crew and grappling irons used every effort to get the body. Large crowds gathered on the wharf. Up to a late hour the body had not been recovered.

He was very popular with all the passengers of the boat, and his sudden death cast a gloom over the place. The deceased was in his fiftieth year and leaves a widow and one child, a little girl, three years old.

As soon as the accident occurred word was sent to the Star Line Co. here and they immediately had the sad intelligence communicated to his wife. The news of her husband's death was a great shock to Mrs. Pike, but she bore up bravely. On being informed of the accident, Mrs. Pike went to the home of her brother, Chas. M. Clark of Metcalfe street. Mr. Pike came here from Fredericton, and has been no more heard of in this city. His father is William Pike, at present in New York city. His mother died when he was but a small boy. The deceased was married on the 30th day of April, 1902, to Annie B. Clark of this city, and they lived at 18 Adelaide street.

The deceased was well known in St. John and is highly spoken of. Prior to this summer he had always been engaged as a teamster, and for a long time drove the Indiantown express.

Pike, however, he lost both of his horses and engaged with the Star Line Co. to work as a dock hand on the steamer Victoria, and has been with her since her first trip this season, soon after the middle of April.

Pike is the second man drowned from the Victoria within a month. About three weeks ago a colored man coming aboard late at night, a little the worse of liquor, fell overboard and was drowned. It is strange coincidence that both accidents happened at about the same place.

UNSAVORY HARTJE DIVORCE CASE ENDED

Lie Passed Between Opposing Counsel—Hartje Accused of Having Forged "Madame" Letters

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—The now famous divorce trial of Augustus Hartje was closed yesterday. With a brief address by Attorney J. Scott Ferguson, the arguments were ended today but not before Mr. Ferguson's word was declared to be false in open court by Attorney John M. Freeman, senior counsel for Mrs. Hartje, the respondent. At the close of Mr. Ferguson's brief argument Mr. Freeman advanced to the rail and said he wanted to correct Mr. Ferguson's account of a conference in Attorney Watson's office.

"What you say took place did not take place," he shouted at Mr. Ferguson, who colored and cried out: "That's a matter of veracity between us. I'll put my word against yours any day."

"Gentlemen, we can't permit this," said Judge Fraser, and this incident closed the trial.

Hartje sat in the court today under a storm of criticism from Attorney Freeman who made the closing argument for Mrs. Hartje.

Freeman accused him of being the forger of the alleged love letters from Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje to Tom Madine and the main spring of the alleged conspiracy to blacken his wife's name. As Judge Fraser stepped down from the bench, he said:

"I'm glad it's over. When this case started I thought it would take no longer than a week. I had no idea it would be so long. I am going on my vacation now and won't be back until the Saturday before the first of September. I will take up this case after that. My decision may not be given until late in the fall."

Herman Stubb and John Anderson, the two detectives who were charged with having stolen letters and other articles from the trunk of Tom Madine during their search for evidence prior to the Hartje divorce case, waived hearings today in the court of Alderman P. M. King. Attorney Edward J. Hartje, who defended them, furnished bonds in the sum of $2,000 for each man.

GEORGE C. KIERSTEAD WINS PARKER MEDAL

Led at St. John Matriculants in Mathematics—His Totals Reached Fourth in Whole Province

George C. Kierstead is the winner of the Parker silver medal, awarded to the leader of the St. John matriculants in mathematics in the U. N. B. matriculation examination. The mathematics consisted of two papers, one algebra and arithmetic and the other geometry. On the former, out of a possible 150 Mr. Kierstead made 134, and on the other paper out of a possible 125 his mark was 84, thus giving a total of 218.

Mr. Kierstead was closely followed by Mary Gilliland, whose total was 214, and by Robert Johnson, whose total was 211.

For the vacant Ontario high court judgeship, there are mentioned the names of Robert Sutherland, M. P., speaker of the commons; H. A. Clarke, M. P. for Middlesex; T. McBeth, county court judge for Middlesex, and F. R. Latchford, late minister of public works for Ontario.

The report is sent out from Montreal that there is to be no inter-provincial conference. No such decision has been reached. Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated last session that there would be such a conference. It is certain that, as the provincial authorities wish it, the conference will be held.

AMHERST IS BOOMING

W. S. Fisher says That St. John Needs Awakening Just Now

W. S. Fisher, who spent part of a day in Amherst last week, says that that town is progressing at a very rapid rate, a number of large business blocks as well as a good deal of house building is going on, evidencing the faith of the people in its future.

A committee of the Amherst Board of Trade are engaged in preparing a programme of deep interest for those who will be in attendance at the meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade which begins its session there on Wednesday, the 15th inst. St. John should send a large delegation of business men to this gathering. Our citizens need awakening at the present time and probably nowhere else can they gain the same amount of inspiration.

SMALL BOY BUILT

AUTOMOBILE.

Machine Will Be Shown at St. John Exhibition.

Jack Rosier, of Yarmouth, the Builder, a Bell Boy at Royal Hotel, in This City.

One of the novelties which will be shown at the exhibition this fall is a miniature automobile which was built by Jack Rosier, a bell boy in a Yarmouth hotel.

Young Rosier was formerly a bell boy in the Royal Hotel of this city. He has always shown a great mechanical taste and those who have seen his little automobile say that it is the work of a genius. The automobile is 16 inches long and four inches wide. The bottom is made of cigar boxes, the sides of tin, back of pasteboard, the wheels of wood, the tires of rubber tubing, the cushions of old cloth and it is run by an alarm clock.

The music for the exhibition will, however, be one of the greatest attractions, and all lovers of good instrumental music will have much pleasure in listening to the famous ladies' band of Boston, which has been specially engaged. This band has a high reputation in musical circles in the United States and the coming engagement will afford our citizens the first opportunity to hear them and enjoy their performances. The band numbers eighteen members, all artists on their respective instruments, and they will play each afternoon and evening during the exhibition, in the main building. A rare treat is therefore in prospect for all patrons.

BISHOPS PICNIC

BEING HELD TO-DAY.

A large crowd of people lined the streets this morning to witness the procession of the Sunday school children marching from the St. Malachi's hall to the Union Depot to depart on a special train for Torriburn to enjoy the annual picnic of the Cathedral.

It was 8:45 o'clock before the procession started from the Sidney street hall, and headed by the City Crier and Band, marched to the depot via King square, Charlotte, King, Dock and Mill streets. The line of little girls in their white dresses and red sashes, the children of the Dufferin Hotel, and the children with happy faces and neat clothing, presented a sight to be remembered. The little girls who were in the majority, presented a beautiful picture as they marched down King street. The procession was looked after by the priests at the Cathedral.

The marching of the Cathedral children is an annual event and is undoubtedly one of the prettiest sights to be seen in the year.

The first train left with its happy crowd at 10:30 o'clock, carrying over one thousand persons. The second train, with another large crowd, left at 12:30 o'clock; the third at 2:30 o'clock.

At four o'clock this afternoon the first train will return and the last special will return to the city at seven o'clock.

STREET STEADILY

DROPPING LOWER.

The dredge on west side is working day and night, the edge of Union street and is near the end of the extra one hundred feet contract. Meanwhile the street is continually dropping lower and the probabilities are that at the next high tide the place that was once Union street will be reclaimed by the ocean, at least a hundred feet or so of it. When once the water reaches the wide gully that has opened up inland it will only be a matter of a short time when a large part of Union street and the land in that vicinity will be washed into the harbor. There is a possibility that these conditions will necessitate later on the moving of the Shore Line office and track farther inland.

AN UNFORTUNATE MAN.

George Pike, whose death is chronicled in another column, was surely pursued by a nemesis. His misfortunes included: the death of his first wife, by falling from a window while hanging out clothes; serious illness of both himself and wife; almost a fatal runaway accident on King street, which placed Mr. Pike in the hospital for a long time, being in that institution at the same time as his wife; loss of several houses; legal entanglements with teamsters over the right to haul certain freights; and finally Pike's own death by drowning yesterday. In all his troubles the late North End man was quite philosophical. He was genial and obliging and undoubtedly a strenuous worker.

Captain Seeley of the "Martello" would like to call the attention of the St. Luke's baseball team to the fact that the insertion in the Telegraph concerning them was not authorized by him. He is very sorry that any offense was given them on account of their friendly challenge. It would not matter to him what class the team belonged to as long as their challenge was issued in a proper manner.
