NEGRO DESPERADO SHOOT UP TRAIN

Two College Men are Fatally Injured

Accused Part of Making Remarks About Young Mulatto Woman - A Desperate Fight.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.-Harrison Higbee and Leslie Lord, two young Yale graduates and prominent in North Jersey, were wantonly shot down and probably fatally wounded today by an uneducated negro in the smoking car of a Jersey Central train, in which they were riding to their homes in Newark.

Accompanying Higbee and Lord were Gale Young of York and his cousin, Roger Young of Newark, both Princeton graduates. Soon after the train left Jersey City the negro desperado, who was accompanied by another man of his race and a mulatto woman, accused the four young college men of making remarks about the woman.

Lord was about to reply, but Higbee told him to keep quiet. "Don't you tell me to keep quiet," yelled the negro, as he leaped to his feet and drew a revolver. "I'll quiet you," and he opened fire on the four young men. The first bullet went through Lord's stomach and he dropped to the floor. The second ploughed into Higbee's chest and then Gale and Roger Young leaped for the negro, but he continued shooting the shots causing a panic in the car and passengers stampeded for the doors or hid under seats.

Gale Young went down under a blow on the head, but Roger held on to the man, who had emptied his pistol and who was so powerful that he dragged Roger Young with him from the train while it was making twenty miles an hour. Roger Young went with him. In striking the embankment Young's grip on the negro was broken and the desperado disappeared in the darkness. His companions also leaped from the train and got away. When the train stopped the wounded men were taken to a hospital in Jersey City, where it was said they would probably die.

Roger Young was found on the track a half mile back, badly stunned but not seriously hurt.

NOT ONE FINE DAY IN THE WHOLE SEVENTEEN

C. P. R. Steamer Montcalm Arrives a Week Late

Har One Solitary Passenger Experienced the Worst Trip in Years - Movements of Other Vessels.

Seventeen days out from Bristol, C. P. R. steamer Montcalm reached port and docked at No. 1 berth at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The steamer has a very rough passage, terrible weather being encountered during the entire voyage. It was one of the worst trips that Captain Hodder has experienced in years. The Montcalm was considerably delayed by the storm. She should have arrived in port early last week. The steamer brought one passenger, an Englishman, bound for the west.

Captain Hodder said the Montcalm left Bristol on Sunday, February 8, after she had left port early and strong winds were encountered. During the trip across a succession of southwest and northwest gales were experienced. Up the bay to the Lurcheer the steamer was in a thick fog. A heavy easterly gale with snow, rain and strong winds was encountered. There was hardly one fine day in the entire seventeen. In addition to a large general cargo the Montcalm brought 40 sheep to this port. An extra crew will work on the steamer in order that her sailing will not be materially delayed.

ARRESTED IN GALIAS ON ARSON CHARGE

Harvey Dodge and His Housekeeper Both Implicated in Destruction of Dwelling.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Feb. 23.-Harvey Dodge and his housekeeper, Mrs. James Roix, were arrested in Galias this forenoon on a charge of arson. Dodge's house was destroyed by fire about ten days ago and the arrests resulted from investigation made by the Maine State insurance commissioner.

SCATHING DENUNCIATION OF JEWISH JUNK DEALERS BY JUDGE FORBES

Selig and Garson Told They are Worse Than Thieves - Seal Sentenced to Life in England - Copper Thieves Let Go to Appear When Called.

Proceedings in the county court this morning were somewhat exciting when His Honor Judge Forbes told Jacob Selig, a Russian Jew that he was as bad as a thief and that if he did not conduct himself better in the future, Dorchester was the place for him.

All this arose out of the copper stealing case and His Honor intimated that there were more than the prisoners and Selig implicated in these numerous Carleton robberies. J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., counsel for McCullum and Sullivan withdrew the formal plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty. His Honor allowed the prisoners their liberty upon their entering into a bond for five hundred dollars.

James Seal was sentenced to life imprisonment in any country other than Canada - preferably England.

When the court opened shortly after ten o'clock this morning Seal was brought into court. His Honor - "You are without any moral principle and I am afraid that your mania for stealing is too highly developed for me to cast you loose upon the country. You are not too far gone to reclaim - but that rests with yourself. If I were to send you to Dorchester Penitentiary, you would be a burden on the community when you are liberated. At the earnest solicitation of your friends I am going to suspend sentence on the condition you are shipped to England.

"It is a painful thing to see you standing in that dock, but I suppose it will be a lesson to you. You tell me that your father and brother are living in Brighton, England. Well, go back to them and lead a new life. You will be remanded to goal for the present until your friends raise sufficient money to procure your passage. However, if you are not on your way within one week after this court adjourns I will give you a long term in Dorchester Penitentiary."

Deputy Chief Jenkins assured the court that Seal had assisted the police in identifying some of the stolen property.

Seal was then taken back to jail. Sullivan and McCullum, together with Selig, were closed with their honor in his office for some time. Shortly before eleven o'clock his honor called the defendants on the bench and called Jacob Selig, a Jew, to the stand. The latter was not sworn.

"Chief Jenkins want you to tell the truth, Selig."

Selig - "Sure - Did you ever go to Carleton to buy copper from the prisoners?"

Selig - "No. They came to me. I bought five hundred pounds from a man last September."

The Court - "Have you a junk license?"

Selig - "Sure."

The Court - "Produce it."

Selig - "Killen has it."

NOTABLE ADDRESSES BEFORE THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

Problems of Conservation the Leading Feature - Our Greatest Natural Resources in Urgent Need of Protection - Eleventh Annual Gathering

FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 23.-The eleventh annual convention of the Canadian Forestry Association opened at the legislative building this morning at ten o'clock. The convention was formally opened by Lieut. Governor Tweedie. Addresses by Premier Hasen, Hon. C. W. Robinson, Hon. B. F. Pearson, and others followed.

Three very interesting papers were read at the morning session by Messrs. Jones, Miller and Whitman, which are given elsewhere.

Hon. W. C. H. Grimmer, surveyor general, one of the vice presidents presided in the absence of the president and Senator Edwards, the 1st vice president.

Lieut. Governor Tweedie formally declared the convention open. He expressed gratification at the great interest manifested throughout Canada in forestry and its problems. People had been aroused to the necessity of forestry protection, the rapid decrease in the quantity of standing timber having pressed the matter on their attention. The forest were a great asset and as such should be preserved for posterity. In future the government which expected to have the confidence of the people would take steps to protect the timber. Two great questions of the day with which the government must deal were "back to the farm" and "protect the forests." (Applause.) Secretary Lawlor read a number of letters expressing regret on account of inability to attend.

PLOT TO OVERTHROW SPANISH GOVERNMENT

Japanese Assassin Blown Up by His Own Bomb

Chinese Troops in Possession of Tibetan Capital - Emperor and British Viceroy Appealed to in Vain.

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 23.-By way of the Spanish frontier - The Government apparently is greatly perturbed by the discovery of a wide-spread revolutionary plot. Arrests of suspects are being made daily. Confidential information has reached the authorities that a cargo of arms and ammunition for the revolutionists is being brought from Germany.

A keen watch at all ports has been ordered and the coast is patrolled by troops.

AMOI, China, Feb. 23.-A Japanese was killed here today by the accidental ignition of a high explosive concealed in his clothing. It is suspected that the man had planned an assassination.

CALCUTTA, British India, Feb. 23.-Chinese troops today entered Lhasa, the capital of Tibet, and the residence of Dalai Lama, the supreme head of the Lamaist hierarchy who upon the approach of the soldiers fled with several of his ministers into India. Serious trouble has been anticipated owing to the action of the small Chinese army which, marching from Sze Chuen, China, subdued eastern Tibet, leaving contributions on the Chinese army showing no respect for the monasteries. The Tibetans resenting the desecration of their holy places, petitioned the Emperor of China interfere in the interests of the Dalai Lama. The Dalai Lama appealed to Lord Minto, the Viceroy of India, but the latter refused to intervene. When the Chinese troops were reported as moving from the province of Khan ostensibly to strengthen the garrison in Lhasa, the Lama hastily quitted the capital and proceeded toward Barjiling.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 23.-There is such a demand for help from all parts of the province that the provincial government immigration office and employment bureau are urging the press to assist in securing men. Provincial immigration superintendent, just returned from a trip east, says he found conditions in Ontario and Quebec just as serious as in Manitoba.

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 23.-C. T. Connor, who claims that his daughter died as a result of cross-infection from the bottom of the hospital, has given notice that he will sue the board of governors of the hospital for damages. He claims his daughter was sent to the isolation hospital to get treated for diphtheria and that while there she contracted scarlet fever.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 23.-J. W. Murray, travelling auditor of the Canadian Northern Railway, between Edmonton and Humboldt, has disappeared. He is believed to be financially involved.

ANOTHER DISASTER IN KENTUCKY MINE

First Blast in Conger Charges - Sugar Cane Strikers Killed - Accidents Dying of Smallpox.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 23.-An explosion has occurred in the mine of the Iron Mountain Coal Company near Central City, Ky. It is not known how many men there were in the mine at the time of the explosion. The mine is now closed.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 23.-There were some anxiety in the State Capital this morning when Senator J. F. Aldis opened his defense in the Conger bribery charges. The first sensation came from the very opening of Attorney Littleton's address. He announced that Aldis had filed with the clerk of the Senate his resignation pro tempore of the Senate.

POINT A PITRE, Guadeloupe, Feb. 23.-During a clash between the sugar cutters, who are on strike, and the soldiers, three strikers were killed and several wounded. Two gendarmes received wounds. The sugar fields are burning, having been fired by the strikers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 23.-Madame Vera Kommissaroffskaya, the actress, is dying at Tashkent from smallpox. She contracted the disease there where she insisted upon filling an engagement after smallpox had been discovered in the city.

BANK CLOSES WITH SHORTAGE OF $144,000

Inspectors Discover Deficit - Not Known Yet Who is Responsible.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.-The National City Bank of Cambridge closed its doors today. The bank was closed by order of the comptroller of the currency at Washington. A bank examiner is now in charge of the institution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.-A shortage of $144,000 in the individual deposits caused the closing of the doors of the National City Bank of Cambridge, according to information received by the comptroller of the currency. It is not known here who is responsible for the shortage.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.-The National City Bank was organized in 1885 and has a capital of $10,000,000. Of late years its business has been small, owing to the competition of several trust companies. Its last report showed a surplus and undivided profits of $46,000. Its deposits are $454,000.

The Moncton hockey team will arrive this afternoon for their match with the All-St. John team this evening. Interest in the game is keen. The rivalry between the two teams is intense. The railway town boys form a fast septette and intend to give the locals a hard match. The All-St. John team will line up as follows: Cribbe, goal; Tully, point; Philip, cover point; McQuarrie, rover; Clawson, centre; Parker, right wing; Paterson, left wing. The men will face George Blizard as referee.

MURDERER GIVES SIGNS OF BEING INSANE

Charged With Brutal Murder of an Old Lady - Tells Many Fantastic Stories.

PETERBORO, Ont., Feb. 23.-Robert Henderson, in jail here charged with the murder of Martha Henderson near Newwood, is apparently unaccountably over his position and the impression is gaining ground that he is insane. Henderson has instructed lawyer Kerr to leave no stone unturned in his defence as he claims to have moneyed friends in England. He has told a many absurdly contradictory stories, however, that little credence is placed in him. His deliberate attack on two old ladies from whom he could not expect to get money, is in itself strong evidence of insanity.

CO-OPERATION TO BENEFIT THE PUBLIC

Mr. Platt's Definition of the Coal Trust—
Control of Coal Lands by Railway a Boon to the Consumer, He Says.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 22.—That the Lehigh Valley Railroad is in any conspiracy to stifle competition or injure the public by raising coal prices was denied today in the United States circuit court by Frank H. Platt of New York, one of the company's attorneys. He declares that whatever combination of anthracite coal-carrying railroads exists is simply co-operation to aid transportation and to benefit the public.

CAUSE OF ECZEMA EXPLAINED

GERMS FEETER IN THE SKIN AND BLOOD CURE ARE IMPOSSIBLE.
After years of debate medical authorities are now agreed that eczema and other skin diseases are not caused in the blood, but are caused by germs in the skin. Myriads of microscopic animals gnaw the flesh just below the epidermis. The patient is perfectly healthy, it is only the skin that is diseased. Hence, eczemas are now agreed that you must cure the skin through the skin.

RAILWAYMEN LOSE

Winston S. Churchill Voices
Government's Policy

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Speaking from carefully prepared notes, which showed that he was mouthpiece of the government, Winston Spencer Churchill declared today that the cabinet would stave off its whole existence upon the passage of the veto bill and he promised that a resolution embodying its principles would be brought forward at the earliest possible moment. He did not think that any responsible member would recommend that the house exercise its power of refusing the necessary supply.

THE PROVINCIAL HOSPITAL.

There is no more important institution in New Brunswick than the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases, and that the present government, realising the wisdom of this course, has continued to second the efforts of those in charge who are endeavoring to bring the institution to the highest possible state of efficiency. This is money well spent and although municipalities may from time to time object to what they are inclined to regard as excessive expenditures, still in view of the importance of the task which involves the care of the most helpless of beings there can be no criticism of the methods now employed.

FORESTRY CONVENTION.

The forestry convention which is expected to develop a valuable discussion along the lines of conservation opened this forenoon at the capital. To it have been invited many eminent men, including particularly numbers of those who interest themselves in the protection of natural resources and who by experience and study have acquired a clear understanding of the most profitable measures to be adopted for the material and economic benefit of the people and of the province. It is not to be supposed that all will be high-minded and unselfish patriots at this convention. There are no doubt a majority who, in engaging in this work, have in view only the good of the province, but there are others with little axes of their own to grind who will endeavor to influence the assembly to the advocacy of a policy which, while disastrous in the long run, offers immediate benefits of considerable attractiveness. Yet without these speakers, it might be difficult to bring out all the arguments to which the government will look in its adoption of a definite forestry policy.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Premier Asquith has, to avoid defeat, submitted to the dictates of the Nationalists, but is permitted whatever said concession may be gleaned from the presence that his policy as announced on Monday, led to a misunderstanding which was the cause of the whole trouble. The premier having outlined his course with the utmost clearness found his ministry facing defeat through the revolt of the Irish members. A truce was hurriedly arranged, and, having secured Reidmond's promise not to precipitate a crisis for a few days, Churchill was put up to almost daily contradict everything Mr. Asquith had said. Mr. Churchill announced that the government instead of giving priority to the budget, as stated by his leader, will devote first attention to the Lords. Mr. Churchill also touched on the premier's ambiguous references to guarantee and gave to these expressions an interpretation widely different from that taken by those who heard the premier on Monday.

That the people of St. John appreciate something new and worthy in the way of a vaudeville and motion picture programme was evidenced by large and well pleased audiences at the Bijou last night, and Mr. Blay's monologue and the one act comedy, "The Actor and the Ancient Mariner," were greeted with an amount of applause and laughter seldom heard in a vaudeville or motion picture theatre in St. John. The pictures change today, and among the new pictures are a big comedy picture, "The Aeronaut Keesa the Ground," said to be one of the funniest comedies ever seen in a motion picture, and "The Doctor's Nephew," both by Gaumont. Tonight is the last chance to see "The Actor and the Ancient Mariner," as Thursday, Blay and Mallory will appear in one of the strongest dramatic acts ever seen in this city. On Thursday also Mr. Blay will appear in a new monologue. These young men have been most successful so far in giving the public what it wants and during their management, the Bijou will undoubtedly be St. John's most popular theatre. Matinee daily at 3. Evening at 7, 8.10, 9.20.

FACTORY LAWS ARE NOT WELL OBSERVED

Inspector Kenney Points Out Undesirable Conditions But Hopes for Improvement—Child Labor in the Province.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Feb. 22.—John Kenney, factory inspector, has presented his annual report to the government. Mr. Kenney deals fully with the act and his work during the time he has filled the office of inspector. He has found that the dangers to which employees are most exposed are in the most dangerous machinery, imperfect steam boilers, improperly guarded elevators, and defective fire escapes. The inspector discusses these at some length in respect to sanitary conditions he had found them most disappointing, and in several cases deplorable. As to child labor it was difficult to say much as it was impossible to ascertain the exact age of those employed. Forty-four had acknowledged that they were under the age of sixteen, and most of these were engaged in dangerous places. He was led to believe that over 200 were so employed, but he had every hope that in time the matter would reach a satisfactory settlement. He has found that in many cases the Factory Act was not understood and in order to overcome this lack of knowledge one thousand copies of the act have been printed and circulated and he had no doubt this would result in much good.

EATON IS IN SAME GLASS WITH COOK

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 22.—John Eaton, of Little Deer Isle, Me., perpetrator of such a marine hoax as has seldom been supposed upon the life-saving and revenue cutter service tonight still enjoyed a bed and board at the Newburyport life-saving station. His Spanish steamer in distress, resting only in his imagination, doubtless tossed heavily in his dreams, rather than on the sea off Cape Ann, like the "Flying Dutchman." It eluded the search today of the revenue cutter Gresham, even as it did that of two tugs yesterday. The Gresham now has abandoned the search. Eaton's two days of enjoyment of the hearty food and inviting bed of the Newburyport life-saving station will be ended tomorrow. He announced that he had and his little pet rabbit which he brought with him to the "steamer" are to go to Boston tomorrow.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

At the next table to me at dinner the other night sat a pretty young girl with a blue ribbon in her hair and a nice looking man who was evidently desperately in love with her. Of course there is nothing at all of the ordinary about that. The noteworthy thing was the fact that his affection had affected the nice young man in most unfortunate way. For it was evident to everybody in his vicinity, including, of course, the young woman herself, that he was simply scared to death of her.

She was evidently afraid of the knives and forks, fumbled at them nervously, stumbled in giving her order to the waitress, dropped a spoon, started to pick it up, and then blushed scarlet when the waitress bore it off and brought him a fresh one. All of which awkwardness and nervousness was plainly just a tribute to the lady's effect upon him. And yet I know of no worse way to go about to win a woman's love.

Every man living, an old bachelor once told me, is more or less afraid of the girl he loves simply because he loves her. That's all right. I think he should be. But he shouldn't show it. Any more than you should let a spirited horse that's half a mind to throw you know that you expect any moment to be thrown as well.

The slightest show of fear is often fatal in both cases. It is not in human nature to recognize as an equal any one who shows fear of you. The fear might be inspired by the highest and most admirable motives, by love or admiration, but that makes no difference. If any one insists upon looking up to you, you are pretty apt to look down upon him.

Emerson says—
"We are such lovers of self-reliance that we excuse in a man many sins if he will show us a complete satisfaction in his position, which asks no leave to be of mine or any man's good opinion. But any deference to nobility. He is an underling, I will have nothing to do with him. I will speak with his master."
This demand for self-reliance and self-esteem holds good in all the relations of life, but most of all in the love relation. Humility is a beautiful sentiment, and one healthy for the soul, but masterfulness is a very much better equipment for a wooer.

A woman likes to be put on a pedestal well enough, but she likes to be put there by a masterful and not a groveling lover. She wants to be made to feel that it is her extraordinary goodness and sweetness and charm that makes him put her there, and not his defects. She is willing he should call himself unworthy, but she must make it clear that he is unworthy because she is superior to the ordinary mortal, and not because he is inferior.

If I were a man and wanted to win a woman, I think I should exalt her to the skies, but not humble myself; flatter her as skillfully as I knew how, but not indulge in self-depreciation, and last, but not least, feel as much afraid of her as I wanted to, but act as masterful as if I didn't know what fear was.

ROMANCE

"Wasn't there some romance about your courtship?"
"Yes, the one he told her about his vast wealth."
"How time does fly!"
"I know it; we've only just about got settled, and here it's nearly time for spring cleaning again."
ERASED.
"Is there any soup on the bill of fare?"
"No, sir—there was, but I wiped it off."
SPIRITUAL GIFTS.
"Did you like the branched peaches I sent you, dear?"
"Yes, my dear, and particularly the spirit in which they were sent."
WALTER—"And how did you find that chop, sir?"
FAT CUSTOMER—"I really don't know how I happened to it. It was pretty small now, wasn't it?"
SOMETHING SWELL.
Mr. Righeart—"Wiggins, old boy, we have raised $50 to 'see the boss a Christmas present, and we want something that will make a show for the money—something that will look big, you know. Can't you suggest something?"
Wiggins—"Sure. Buy $50 worth of rice and boil it."

C. P. R. MAY BUILD THE VALLEY RAILWAY

Rumors of Plan to Shift Competition of an Independent Road—Would be Electrical.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 22.—It was reported here today that the C. P. R. proposed to build the Valley road and operate it as a part of the company's system. The C. P. R. would deal strictly with the local government and create the new railway as an electric road.

A. R. Gould, manager of the Maine and N. B. Electric Power Co., and Traffic Agent Macdonnell of the C. P. R. are in the city, and it is said that their visit is in connection with the new scheme.

Follow this advice.
Quaker Oats is the best of all foods; it is also the cheapest. When such men as Prof. Fisher of Yale University and Sir James Crichton Browne, L.D., F.R.S. of London spend the best parts of their lives in studying the great question of the nourishing and strengthening qualities of different foods, it is certain that their advice is absolutely safe to follow.

Professor Fisher found in his experiments for testing the strength and endurance of athletes that the meat eaters were exhausted long before the men who were fed on such food as Quaker Oats. The powers of endurance of the non-meat eaters were about eight times those of the meat eaters.

Sir James Crichton Browne says—eat more oatmeal, eat plenty of it and eat it frequently.

Household : Hints

Whitefish that is to be boiled will be greatly improved in flavor if lemon juice is rubbed on it generously before cooking. All porcelain yellowed with iron sediment may be cleaned with mercuric iodine, but this must not be allowed to touch the hands. To test tea, put a little of it in a pan and touch a match to it. The best tea leaves very little ash; inferior tea leaves considerable.

One housekeeper prevents her salt crust from molding by rubbing every fortnight with white of egg, mixed in a little salt water; about equal parts of the egg and water. If water is spilled on a book, do not try to dry it by the fire, as this will ruin it. Moop it as dry as possible, and then put it in the open air. To whiten tea towels, wash them in the usual manner, then boil in good suds containing a large amount of borax; then rinse it several times.

Butter-Nut Bread is a favorite bread because it is a flavor-right bread. Beware of imitations. Examine the label.

EDITORS WILL DISCUSS WELFARE OF PROVINCE

The New Brunswick editor, to the number of thirty have been invited to meet here on March 10th next for an informal interchange of views looking to a concerted effort toward the general advancement of the province, the development of its resources, the increase of hope and confidence among its people, and the spread of information among strangers concerning the opportunities which this country offers. The conference is to begin at three o'clock in the afternoon and in the evening there will be an informal dinner at the Union Club.

PEOPLE'S MONEY PAID FOR THE LIQUOR

THURON, N. S., Feb. 23.—The Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance in annual session here yesterday reported that the province has paid for liquors consumed at the government house. The alliance has proof that the people's money was paid for the liquors, which were used at a recent state function.

To Be DYSPEPTIC Is To Be MISERABLE.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters has an established reputation, extending over thirty-four years, as a positive cure for dyspepsia in all its forms, and from all diseases arising from it.

THE R. K. Y. C. SMOKER

The most successful smoker of the season was held in the R. K. Y. C. rooms last evening. About two hundred members and their friends were present. The most important event of the evening outside of the programme was the fact that "Billy" McLaughlin, ex-foot captain, for the first time in his life smoked a cigar. Yes, sir, and enjoyed it too. After this sensational event an interesting programme was carried out in which the following took part: Selections, R. K. Y. C. Glee Club, comic songs, Fred Hunter; cornet solo, H. C. Creighton; solo, Fred McKean; readings, John Powers; selection, quintette of E. Bennell, K. Bennell, G. Brown, A.

Young, The R. K. Y. C. orchestra under the leadership of Howard Holder was present and rendered excellent music during the evening. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served and a general "talk" was held. The gathering dispersed with the singing of the national anthem. In the absence of Commander Robert Thomson Vice-Commander Merrill occupied the chair.

Chief Crawford of Campbellton brought a long thief chase to a successful termination on Saturday when a Frenchman whom he had captured in Glace Bay was sentenced to a month's imprisonment before the Campbellton magistrate. The man was accused of the larceny of a gold watch and chain. These were found upon him at the time of his arrest. Chief Crawford, who was formerly of the St. John force, was assured that he was going on a wild goose chase, but, after following the trail to this city and then to Nova Scotia, he found his man working for the Dominion Coal Company at Glace Bay.

Certain Proof Will be Made That Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Cure Stomach Trouble.

A TRIAL PACKAGE SENT FREE.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made to give to the system, through the digestive tract and the stomach, the necessary chemicals not only to digest food, but to enrich the fluids of the body so that it may no longer suffer from dyspepsia or other stomach trouble.

We will send you a quantity of these tablets free, so that their power to cure may be proven to you. Thousands upon thousands of people are using these tablets for the aid and cure of every known stomach disease. Know what you put into your stomach, and use discretion in doing so.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain fruit and vegetable essences, the pure concentrated tincture of Hydrastis, Golden Seal which tone up and strengthen the mucous lining of the stomach, and increase the flow of gastric and other digestive juices; Lactone (extracted from milk); Nux, to strengthen the nerves controlling the action of the stomach; and to cure nervous dyspepsia; pure aseptic Pepsin of the highest digestive power and approved by the United States Pharmacopoeia.

One of the ablest professors of the University of Michigan recently stated that this Pepsin was the only aseptic pepsin he had found that was absolutely pure from all animal impurities; Bismuth, to absorb gases and prevent fermentation. They are deliciously flavored with concentrated Jamaica ginger—in itself a well known stomach tonic.

Liquid medicines lose their strength the longer they are kept, through evaporation, fermentation and chemical changes, hence Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are recognized as the only true and logical manner of preserving the ingredients given above in their fullest strength.

If you really doubt the power of these tablets take this advertisement to a druggist and ask his opinion of the formula.

It is due your stomach to give it the ingredients necessary to stop its trouble. It costs nothing to try. You know what you are taking and the fame of these tablets prove their value. All druggists sell them. Price 50 cents. Send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address P. A. Stuart Co., 110 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

MORE HOT SHOT FOR THE GOVERNMENT

Mr. Bentley Makes Good Impression—Gov't Member Declares for Valley Railway—Reply Adopted.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 22.—The debate in reply to the speech from the throne was concluded yesterday, after several members had addressed the House. A number of reports were presented by the Government department heads.

Mr. Tweeddale, continuing the debate, criticized the local Government's action in respect to a steamship line between Cuba and St. John. Until the Federal Government had stepped in no action had been taken. The Government members claim that the Blue Bell land purchase was a planter scheme. The speaker could sell the land for $250,000.

Hon. D. V. Landry expressed his pleasure at hearing the references in the speech from the throne to agricultural matters. He thought the farmers were well pleased with the Government's policy. He claimed that the horse importation had been most successful. He paid a tribute to the Government's school book policy and in conclusion gave a history of the development of the potato trade.

Mr. Sweeney, who followed, made an admirable address. He scored the Government had promised an economical policy and a reduction in the public debt. Yet the expenditure showed a large increase. The cost of game protection rose from $15,000 in 1908 to $45,000 in 1909.

Hon. Mr. Grimmer claimed the crown lands department was in an excellent condition. He said the department had accomplished a great deal since the Conservatives gained the reins of power. He thought increased expenditure was justified.

Mr. Smythe, St. John County, made a fine impression in his maiden speech on the floor of the House. He appreciated the public utilities commission bill, as he was a native of Nova Scotia where a similar bill was working very satisfactorily. He thought no item should be lost with the Valley Railway.

Mr. Munro defended the Government's policy in respect to the horse importation. He stated that the people of the valley counties would insure the construction of an independent valley railway.

Mr. Byrnes regretted that the speech had not made reference to the export duty on pulp wood, which was an important issue in public matters today. The teachers' pension bill was little more than a slight recognition of long service.

The address in reply to the speech from the throne was adopted.

WATERBURY & RISING ENTERTAIN EMPLOYEES

Sleigh Drive and Dinner at the Clairmont House Greatly Enjoyed.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the annual sleigh drive and dinner tendered by Waterbury and Rising to their employees last evening. The sleighs were led by the King Street store in three large sleighs. The sleighing was in excellent condition, and in less than an hour the party were gathered around the temptingly arranged tables at the Clairmont House. Mr. C. L. Rising occupied the chair supported on either side by the two oldest employees, R. J. Walsh and C. H. Smythe. The lavishly decorated came in for much admiration. The floral arrangements were particularly proved eminently satisfactory.

The following participated in a musical and literary programme—Joseph O'Brien, Donald Bridges, Steve MacLaws, I. B. Patchell, John O'Brien, Wm. Bridges.

The tug of war which was pulled off in the ball room caused much excitement. The teams were chosen from the Wholesale and Retail Departments and after a terrific struggle the medals were awarded the Wholesale team. A couple of hours were then spent in listening to Steve Mathews tell these inimitable stories that have won for him a wide celebrity. A little before midnight the entire party gathered in the dining room and three cheers were given with a royal will for the firm of Waterbury and Rising.

Manager H. J. P. Good and Secretary H. A. Porter leave this morning on the early train for Fredericton, where they will do some canvassing in the interests of the Dominion fair. Owing to the fact that the annual convention of the farmers and dairymen of the province is being held at the capital now, as well as the meetings of those interested in forestry, the manager and secretary deem it an opportune time to pay a little visit to the capital. They hope to secure a forestry exhibit, and also expect to entice the farmers and dairymen in the exhibition and encourage them to make preparations to exhibit their stock. A canvass of the Fredericton manufacturers will also be made with a view to securing exhibitors.

THE FORESTRY COURSE IN A LUMBERING REGION

By Robert Barclay Miller, M. F., Professor of Forestry in the University of New Brunswick.

Prof. Miller, who is the head of the Forestry Department of the University of New Brunswick, spoke first of the recent conference of forestry education in Washington, called together by Mr. Clifford Pincher, when all kinds of forest schools were represented from the range of graduate institutions, there was a unanimity of view as to certain main lines of forestry instruction. He showed how Prof. Fisher of Harvard in order to give his students practical experience had had them conduct actual logging operations on a two thousand acre tract belonging to the University, in New Brunswick, where lumbering was the leading industry and where students might observe wood operations close at hand, such department was necessary. He proceeded to explain the four year course in forestry in the University of New Brunswick. The first two years the course is affiliated with the engineering course as forestry is a branch of engineering. In the subjects of silviculture, dendrology, forest mensuration, topographical surveying and map-making, the student is given a practical course. Part of this will be got in a tract of 3,000 acres of woods just back of the St. John River at the lumber camps in the province. The nearness of the forest to the school is a great advantage over those localities far away from woods operations, and sawing the export trade, and the subsidiary industries as the making of pulp, paper, bark extracts, wood

DROPS $10,000,000 IN FIGHT WITH STANDARD OIL

Sir Westman Pearson's Appointment to Peagee Blocked by Losas—Mexo—the Sage of Struggle.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—After a great Liberal reception at the home of Earl Crewe yesterday, there was a secret meeting of government leaders to discuss the advisability of raising Sir Westman Pearson to the peerage with the title of Lord Cowdray, after the just acquired.

head of the great English engineering firm of S. Pearson & Sons Limited. On the other the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, which is another name for Standard Oil in that southern territory. The fight is over the control of the Mexican oil business, and so far, according to English experts the honors have all been with the American company, the cost to Pearson being estimated at $10,000,000 last year and no end in sight. These heavy losses crippled Pearson so much that the government leaders here yesterday seriously questioned his ability to maintain the prestige of the friendly Mexican Government, but President Diaz decided to remain neutral. It is said that he even appealed to No. 28 Broadway, but was told that he must fight it out with H. Clay Pierce, recently he has been buying oil of the Texas company, of which John W. Gates is president.

THE OTHER SIDE. Pearson's enemies say that his entrance into the Mexican oil field was a direct attack to force an alliance with the Standard Oil Company, and a division of the Mexican monopoly. Last April he tried to effect a compromise, but overtures were refused by the Waters-Pierce officials. He threatened to use the power of the friendly Mexican Government, but President Diaz decided to remain neutral. It is said that he even appealed to No. 28 Broadway, but was told that he must fight it out with H. Clay Pierce, recently he has been buying oil of the Texas company, of which John W. Gates is president.

FORESTRY IN NOVA SCOTIA

By F. C. Whitman, Esq., Annapolis Royal, President Western Nova Scotia Lumbermen's Association.

Owing to the way nature lavished an accurate survey of both Crown and private lands, that they might be defined and separated. Referring to what was being done in the forest here, he said that about six years ago by co-operation of the Government and the Lumbermen's Association, the best protection of forests against fire was put into effect. The system adopted had been proved in the past by the experience of the people. He had been told by leading men in the province when the law was first enacted that the idea of preventing or fighting forest fires was chimerical and that destruction was inevitable and that the master was so well in hand that buyers were investing their money in forest land on which timber was growing. These maps were now being prepared to see in the future that the forest was not being cut down and that the land was not being sold to speculators. Mr. Whitman then detailed what had been done so far toward making a forest survey of Nova Scotia, quoting from the article on the subject in the Canadian Forestry Journal for December. The map of the province (about 8,500 square miles), was covered by a reconnaissance survey last summer by Dr. B. E. Fernow, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry of Toronto University and his assistants. The eastern half of the province was surveyed last year. The low cost of the survey (less than twenty cents per square mile), was particularly noteworthy. A high degree of accuracy was aimed at, the object being to furnish approximately correct information regarding the character, extent and condition of the province's forests. Such information was vastly more reliable than the haphazard guesses which up to the present had been made on the basis of old maps. The information was as far as possible plotted on maps on the field and these maps were now being prepared for publication. It was found that in the timber country not ten per cent of the area was fit for farming. Regarding reforestation Dr. Fernow wrote that if fires were kept out, there was no difficulty in re-stocking by natural means the cut over areas if not too severely culled. Reforestation of cut-over areas was particularly prevented by fires especially on abandoned pastures.

AN EXPENSIVE STRUGGLE

On one side Sir Westman Pearson. signed a petition to Governor Carleton asking that a clergyman be hired in the Parish of Kingston. James Moore was of the old time scholars, very well known in the Province of Nova Scotia, he died November 24th, 1820, aged 82.

MEXICAN INTERESTS.

Pearson became interested in Mexico when called upon to build a drainage system of Mexico City. He engineered the harbor works at Vera Cruz, and following a conference between Tex Rickard, Eddie Grogan, Superintendent of the Peagee, and Sir Westman Pearson, he secured a contract for $5,000,000 in exploration work.

PRESIDENT'S REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S WORK

Mr. Thos. Southworth Refers to the Marked Change in Public Opinion—His Report Read by the Chairman.

The annual review of the president, Mr. Thomas Southworth, was read by the chairman of the association, Mr. J. E. Zavis, at the meeting held at the last moment, referred to the work of the association in arousing the attention of the public, being largely in the cause of the formation of the public opinion which made the Conservancy Commission a possibility; also the appointment of a permanent secretary and the imperative need of a permanent office in all parts of Canada to save the forests and all that depended upon them. Legislatures were aware of the change in public opinion and legislation would likely shortly be enacted with the object of more successful conserving forest wealth. This was particularly true of Ontario, Quebec, the territory of the Northwest, British Columbia and British Columbia. British Columbia had withdrawn all remaining timber lands from sale pending the report of a special commission. Quebec had taken an advanced position and in Ontario the last convention of the Canadian Forestry Association at Toronto, gave a clear intimation that a change in the relations of the province to the forest was being considered and that the forest was being treated as a public asset, and not as a private property, and possibly to the lumber-

THE EDUCATIONAL ASPECT OF FORESTRY

By Dr. C. C. Jones, M. A., Ph. D., Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick.

Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, which has a course in Forestry, gave an address instead of reading a paper. He contrasted the educational aspects of forestry with regulatory restrictions, and showed that education was essential in order to get the best results. This was needed in the country where the fact that boys even in the country did not know the names and characteristics of common trees. Following this up, he should be taught the uses and comparative values of the different woods. This would lead to a consideration of the dangers which threaten these friends of man, especially the danger from fires. If this thought of the extent of the fire loss impressed upon the children each school would become a centre of fire-fighting instruction. Children in wooded districts often cause damage by starting fires either carelessly or to make berry patches. This would cease as soon as the old idea that every tree was an enemy was eradicated, and besides the influence on the general public and in after life would be immense. On these educational lines there was much important work to be done for forestry.

SIXTY DAYS OF INSOMNIA END

Girl Student's Black Coffee Diet for Examination Nearly Fatal. Special to "The Record." DES MOINES, Ia., May 17.—Sleep came for the first time in two months to Miss Esther Chibberg, of Odebolt, Ia., a student at Simpson College, Thursday night, starting 60 days ago when she contracted the illness. She had been drinking black coffee and taking other steps to keep her mind sharp until she found she had herself awake until she had contracted the illness. She had been suffering from insomnia for 60 days, and had been unable to sleep for a long time. She had been suffering from insomnia for 60 days, and had been unable to sleep for a long time. She had been suffering from insomnia for 60 days, and had been unable to sleep for a long time.

Outside Evidence

This news item, clipped from the Philadelphia Record, points out the powerful effect that coffee exercises upon the nerves and brain—a fact we have often cited. Small doses of coffee "get on" the nerves in a small way, and in most cases it takes some time before the nervous system and stomach are seriously affected. Miss Chibberg's experience is exceptionally correspondingly quick results. The caffeine

DURING SLEEP

Nature Repairs the Human Engine. The activities of the day cause more or less waste of tissues in the human engine, which is repaired at night during sleep. The man or woman who can sleep well at night is sure of the necessary repairs, other things being right, to make each day a time of usefulness and living a real joy. But let insomnia get hold of you and the struggle begins of trying to work with a machine out of repair. A woman's experience with coffee as a producer of insomnia is interesting. She says: "I used to be a coffee drinker and was so nervous I could not sleep at night before about 12 o'clock, unless I would take some medicine. I was under the doctor's care for about five years and my weight got down to 32 lbs. The doctor said I would have to quit drinking coffee. Then my father got me to try Postum which he said had done wonders for him. I am past 40 and before I quit drinking coffee my heart would jump and flutter at times, miss a beat, then beat so fast I could hardly breathe in enough air and I would get smothered. "My tongue would get so stiff I could not talk and I could not hold a glass to drink from. Since I have been drinking Postum, in place of coffee, I can sleep sound any time I lie down, and I feel I owe everything to Postum. I now weigh 120 lbs. and am well."

OBITUARY. Entered into rest 6th February, John W. Moore, in the 84th year of his age. Funeral was held from his late home, Long Beach, Kingston, Kings Co., Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30. Besides his wife, Mr. Moore is survived by one son, Walter, at home; four daughters, Mrs. J. Dunlop, Mrs. F. Johnson, Mrs. G. Wilson and Mrs. Sheehan. Mrs. Charles McAnulty of Albert Co., and Mrs. W. J. Kerr of this city are nieces. The deceased had been in failing health for some time. He died of paralysis, which occurred on Sunday, 28th December, he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered. He spent all his life on the Long Beach farm, was of gentle and unassuming disposition, respected and loved by all who knew him. He was one of the near heirs of the Fulton-Moore estate and the last surviving member of a family of ten. Mr. Moore was of direct Loyalist stock, being the son of the late Walter and Phoebe Moore, and the grandson of the late James and Eleanor Moore (whose maiden name was Fulton). They came from Strirling, near Glasgow, Scotland, to New York James Moore was in the army, and at the time of the Revolutionary War, filled with all the pride of his ancestors (who were distinguished warriors) and rather than submit to the power that would be untrue to his King and Country—as he was called—he came to Nova Scotia as a Loyalist in the spring of 1783, took up his abode on the St. John River. They brought with them their black servants, who probably was the first black person on the river. James Moore was one of the vestry clerks at a meeting held in Kingston on the 19th May, 1784. He was also one of those who in March 20th, 1788,

DR. ANGLIN'S REPORT SHOWS MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN PROVINCIAL HOSPITAL

Building Better Equipped; Grounds Beautified; Splendid Results From the Farm--Number of Patients the Same But Percentage of Cures is Higher--Economy in Administration.

The annual report of the medical superintendent of the Provincial Hospital for the Treatment of Nervous Diseases for the year ending 31 Oct. 1922, which has recently been submitted to the lieutenant-governor by the provincial secretary contains a large amount of interesting information and reflects the progress which has been made in the care of the unfortunate for whom the institution is conducted.

For 35 of the 120 patients admitted, the fees provided to pay maintenance towards their maintenance, but very few are deterring the entire cost. Not many come from the class that is most amenable to treatment, but frequently take their afflicted ones to hospital for treatment. Possibly if we had special accommodation for patients with means, more would take advantage of it, and the profit derived from their care would help to maintain the less fortunate who burden the province. This plan is in vogue elsewhere in Canada, and the United States, and is commended by many.

For the Home Dressmaker

Our Paris Letter

PARIS, Feb. 23. THE weather here has taken on a hint of spring and the feminine mind of the Parisienne is greatly agitated over the modes for the "semi-season"; for what is more difficult to decide than costumes for this time, when the weather is unsettled and the fashions are as yet but arranging themselves in the thoughts of the great couturiers?

The burning question at the present is the tulle, which held its place of vantage for so short a moment and has now given place to the semi-tight skirt for afternoon and the extremely simple little "trotteurs" for the morning.

"On dit" that it must be but a passing fad that afternoon dresses and "pantlions" cannot remain popular for summer costumes and only the very slightest women can attempt to wear them with success anyway; but here it is in this snaky skirt, white in even the fine overskirts the trimming and bias bands, instead of dipping in front, are slipped to the back.

Happily the extravagantly large hat has become "de mode," and the toque is retaining favor. White swans-down and marabout are the latest fancy, for they may be worn till late spring, while fur must be discarded earlier. Military fashions are returning—the dashing Hussar alpagettes, the military collar, the heavy brass buttons, the stiff braided vest.

With the departure of the "cloche" hat the hair dressing has returned to its former state of comparative plainness. Even side partings are "bonne fi fault" and the irrelevant curls so much the rage are no longer seen. The peasants may keep their hair.

In fact, the great extravagance has brought about a return to great simplicity. Frenchwomen no longer disfigure their feet with the long-toed shoes of two months ago, but again adopt the natural size. Smartest boots have tops of antelope or suede and patent leather vamp, while stockings are worn to match the tops.

A gown recently seen, destined for an afternoon reception at the Elysée Palace, was of soft fawn-colored chiffon—request, the skirt long, plain and very light; the corage, high-belted, of course, was composed of silk flat lace insertion in the same shade over white and bands of fawn velvet embroidered with silver thread.

The same idea is carried out in the underblouse, while the yoke of the blouse is made of the lace used to make the jabots.

A blouse of blue chiffon taffeta is trimmed with flat net, covered with a design in bands of silk, while the linen underblouse is fastened from neck to waist with a jabot. It has the same effect as the ruffled white blouse of just a year ago, except that the middle pleat in this new creation is but one-half inch wide. In speaking of last year, both the jumper and ruffled blouse are combined in these latest waists, which is shown by the last illustration. This is made of white taffeta, heavily embroidered in white silk flowers, while a band of net, covered with orchids, holds the shoulder strap together at the front. This shows the jabot in the ruffle of the underblouse, while the tiny buttons used down the front are covered with taffeta and finished around the edge with a trim of lace.

The costume described above would be ideal when made up in voile, for the season is now too late for velvet. The silver embroidery could then be well omitted and darned net could take the place of the flat lace. It is now too late to indulge in such toques as velvet or marabout, but some charming hats may be made of net, and straw toques are increasing in popularity every day.

The Hungarian alpagettes are not these feathery affairs popular for so long; they are much stiffer and heavier, and are far nearer than the fancy plumes recently worn.

American women never did take up the fashion of wearing shoes three sizes too large, but the colored tops for patent leather boots are extensively worn, and they are really most attractive when the cloth matches the suit. However, the women of France never at any season wear the half shoes that we adopt so early in the spring, and it is for this reason that the cloth tops will never become universal in this country, for we, with our pumps, wear any shade stocking that suits our fancy.

New Girdles

CURT of the new high belts are finished in one long and with a tassel. This idea is derived out even in morning dresses, voile or pique, and is becoming to the average figure, particularly as the new semi-princess dress is so much the rage. The belt at present is not fastened directly around the waist line, but slightly above it to give the skirt a very long line in front and on the side.

Some dresses of light materials are finished in front directly below the girdle in a large bow of the material. This is not unattractive for very slim figures, for it adds several inches to the bust measure. There will be, owing to the present increasing popularity of the girdle waist, a decided leaning toward the very low line of the corage, for it is becoming to every woman, and the girdle will add whatever is necessary for the sake of modesty. Decolletage, however, can be overcome, and those who wish to keep the pretty girdle in vogue must do all they can to see that it is not abused, for a peculiar thing about fashions is that the moment any one line is overdone a reaction is sure to come.

Colors on Lingerie Dresses
THE new white dresses shown in the shops have some touch of color in embroidery or lace, but the silver and brocade dots have taken its place, and even white linen suits will not be worn this year. Of course all of the suits such as have been worn will be discarded for dresses with girdles and cuffs of white lace and Eton jackets of some contrasting color or material. This a white flannel skirt will be worn with a striped three-quarter jacket, or a blue-and-white striped linen semi-princess dress will be finished with a coat of dark blue. This new fashion will be very convenient for those who wish to wear the same coat with several dresses, but it is not so becoming as the white of last year.

Some suits are made of the natural pique, with the skirts of the plain material, while the skirts of the pique shape, embroidered with hand in large black dots. The same idea can be carried out in suits of cloth, of even mohair, and at least, if the fashions are peculiar, it is new and smart.

Children's Coats and Frocks From Paris

THE French modistes are particularly clever in designing suits for little girls that will carry out the ideas shown in the reigning fashion, and they still maintain that simplicity of line necessary and appropriate for little tots. In the illustration shown today the single-breasted cut-away jacket, the pleated skirt, the panel front, the long shoulder line and the button trimmings are all shown, but adapted to the size and age of the little wearer.

A smart little suit of white or scarlet serge is fastened down the front with three brass buttons, and is cut with a round hem at the bottom of the coat. The skirt is side pleated and the jacket is trimmed with a narrow soutache braid. The white hat is simply adorned with a bow of ribbon to match the suit. A more dressy little frock is that of light blue linen, with a ruffle of batiste or allover embroidery. It is, in spite of its appearance, very easy to make, and the result is charming. The linen hat is finished with a draped crown to match the little dress.

A suit of plaid and navy blue cheviot is cut in quite the latest style, whether for mother or big sister. It is made with a very long-waisted effect, and the loose coat is trimmed with small brass buttons. The plaid is of shaded blues, and the cuffs and collar of the jacket are finished in bright green velvet. The basin hat intended to wear with the suit is trimmed with velvet to match the collar.

A pink linen with the mikado sleeves and pearl buttons from shoulder to hem is worn with collar and undersleeves of baby Irish lace. The front of the skirt is finished in a box pleat with the belt at each side, so that the front line is unbroken. This dress is a fascinating design for quite a little girl, and the white canvas hat, with a knot of soft pink ribbon, gives a complete look to the costume.

All of the models given are very simple, and the two little dresses are just enough modification of a Russian blouse to make a distinction between frocks for little boys and girls. Instead of using allover embroidery and lace for the girdles, they may be batiste or tulle handkerchief lined, and if pearl buttons are not used, wooden buttons covered with scraps of the dress material may take their place.

The little white suit would be most attractive if made up in some darker fabric, and it would then be far more serviceable, while stitched bands of itself might be substituted for soutache braiding.

The little plaid dress would be a most attractive style for a checked gingham jumper, to be worn with a reefer of blue serge, with collar and cuffs of the same.

Hats for children of this size are most easily made of heavy blue and white linen to match the suit. For that matter the hat may be all white, with only a change in trimming, a bow or a wreath to match each costume of the wardrobe.

Blouses with Jabot Trimming

THE newest blouses are made of every conceivable shade and material—chiffon, silk, satin, flat net—and all of them have introduced somewhere in the decorations the emphasis of flat lace or material named in the title.

A blouse of violet chiffon is finished in front in three deep tucks, which at both sides of the front breast is bound in satin and the jabot of lace is introduced. The same idea is carried out in the underblouse, while the yoke of the blouse is made of the lace used to make the jabots.

A blouse of blue chiffon taffeta is trimmed with flat net, covered with a design in bands of silk, while the linen underblouse is fastened from neck to waist with a jabot. It has the same effect as the ruffled white blouse of just a year ago, except that the middle pleat in this new creation is but one-half inch wide. Odd Combination in Spring Suits

WHITE, that beautiful and always becoming color, has gone out of fashion, for in the new clothes shows for early spring stripes and huge embroidery dots have taken its place, and even white linen suits will not be worn this year. Of course all of the suits such as have been worn will be discarded for dresses with girdles and cuffs of white lace and Eton jackets of some contrasting color or material. This a white flannel skirt will be worn with a striped three-quarter jacket, or a blue-and-white striped linen semi-princess dress will be finished with a coat of dark blue. This new fashion will be very convenient for those who wish to wear the same coat with several dresses, but it is not so becoming as the white of last year.

Some suits are made of the natural pique, with the skirts of the plain material, while the skirts of the pique shape, embroidered with hand in large black dots. The same idea can be carried out in suits of cloth, of even mohair, and at least, if the fashions are peculiar, it is new and smart.

Huge Designs in Vogue for Spring

FLOWERS for the spring hats are of the most enormous size—huge roses and anemones, morning-glories—white even panicles, have a forced look to which the real flowers never attain.

It is a most remarkable reversion to hats of some time ago. Such modest blossoms as forget-me-nots, rosebuds and violets will find no place in the fashions of the year, but calla lilies, Easter lilies and hydrangeas will be in great demand.

This same mammoth taste also seems to have influenced the designs of foulards and chiffons, for the season's designs are out of proportion—gigantic in fact. The little old-fashioned prints have given place to huge sketches of orchids and sunflowers. These many tucks and pleats to reduce the size of the designs to manageable proportions.

A costume for spring garden parties is composed of a small tulle trimmed all round with huge sunflowers and a flat net dress with a huge design of becoming Easter lilies, embroidered

Evening Gowns
In heavy white floss. It looks at a distance as if a costume for a student, but when worn the effect is original and good.

Evening Gowns

SO MANY of the new evening dresses show the influence of the position jacket that it has become a very important thing to have lace drapery around the back and hips. The jacket runs over the shoulders and down both sides of the figure almost close to the armholes. It necessitates all of the evening dresses being made with a square neck.

The dresses under the jackets are made princess, but many of them hang quite loose in front, and are only held close to the figure by a gold braided belt fastened each side of the jacket and tied in a knot in front, allowing the ends to hang to the knees. To give the necessary severe lines and breadth to the shoulders, folds of velvet are used, which curve from the waist line in back to the waist line in front.

These bretelles are sometimes as wide as eight inches, so that they give breadth to the shoulders and that small appearance to the waist that the clumsy folds of the lace coat almost obliterate.

Melon Bonnets

ANY caps for spring are made of three pieces, cut like the sides of a circular triangle and sewn together with a fancy stitch or a strip of lace insertion. Sometimes the sections over the face and at the back of the neck are made of dotted swiss, while the middle section is of baby Irish lace. In other caps all three sections are of fine raincoat, but the middle section is heavily embroidered. This new style is very becoming to the baby's head and brings the joining of the sections just behind the ear, so that whatever lace is used as trimming will converge toward this point.

A very attractive cap may be made of allover embroidery, using Valenciennes insertion between the sections, and for very plain bonnets pink linen may be used, with a little hand embroidery around the face. This cap is known as a melon bonnet, and bids fair to become the reigning favorite in juvenile fashions.

ALTERING GORES IN SKIRTS

Line on Straight of Material
Band at Bottom of Skirt
Bands Velvet or Braid

Now that circular skirts have returned with such force to popular favor, those women who have suits and dresses made with the ordinary gored skirts, seem crushed with their misfortune. "What shall we do?" they cry. "This suit is too good to throw away, yet how can I disguise these awful errors?"

Three models to hide the old-fashioned seams are shown today; each of them requires the additional purchase of the minimum of material. All of these allow for a circular ruffle.

In the first model the seams are ripped, the breadth nearest the front is turned, two pleats are made of new material and set in, and all are attached to the hip line. If a circular ruffle finishes the skirt, graduated bands of braid may be used to hide the joints, but the straight line look better without any break between them, so the second method may be used to better advantage. In this false box pleat of new material, made with the straight of the goods, are laid over the seams and false tucks are made on the hem of the ruffle and around the bottom. This method enables the skirt also to be lengthened both at the bottom and at the top of the ruffle.

A panel effect is added by false tucks beginning close together at the waist line and extending to a curve around the line of the ruffle. The little straps may be added across the front, if desired, also the braid around the skirt.

In all of the models shown new material is required. If it is impossible to match the old skirt, then some other material may be used, providing it is of the same shade. For instance, in the first model broadcloth may be used to alter the velvet skirt, or even pleats of taffeta.

In the second, if it is impossible to secure material to exactly match that of the skirt, some other variety may be used in its place.

The third model should be altered with material to match, otherwise the false tucks would look out of place.

Of course, in the question of an evening dress line or chiffon may always take the place of the dress material. As for the lines of the skirt, the first and second models are most appropriate for small women, while the third model would have the effect of shortening the figure and is therefore only desirable for a tall woman or a woman of average height. The bands added at the foot of the skirt may be used to lengthen the back, for in some cases last year's dresses were not as long as the skirts of the latest style.

Three other models will be shown next week suggesting ways of altering gored skirts without requiring material to match.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

C. Fred Chestnut, mayor of Fredericton, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city. He mentioned the importance of the forests as play grounds and hunting grounds.

Hon. B. F. Pearson, of Halifax, followed. He expressed his gratification at being present. Nova Scotia had a forest area naturally small but which, he was sorry to say, had been greatly depleted.

CROWDED HOUSES AT NOONDAY MEETINGS

The Audiences are Eager and Responsive

Dr. Gray Heard at the Nickel and Mr. Matheson at the Unique—Cheers for Dr. Smith.

The noon meetings were well attended today. Although these meetings have been running now for two weeks the people do not seem to tire, but are willing to forego their meals in order to take part in them.

At the Nickel today the service was led by Rev. Dr. Smith, Mr. James McGinn sang the hymn "Full Surrender." By special request Mr. Frank Bowdoin sang "Does Jesus Call?"

Ora Samuel Gray delivered an eloquent address which was listened to with rapt attention. Praise the speaker said that a cheer ought to be given for Dr. Smith, to whose untiring efforts was made possible the preaching to thousands of outcasts in the city of New York.

At the Unique today the service was led by Rev. Dr. Smith, Mr. James McGinn sang the hymn "Full Surrender." By special request Mr. Frank Bowdoin sang "Does Jesus Call?"

Dr. Smith was accorded rounds of cheers. Dr. Gray took as the subject of his address John 1: 49—"Behold Him Who is to Come in the World."

Another Big Lot of that English Longcloth At 10 Cents a Yard.

There are 2,000 yards in this lot, and you can buy it by the piece of 40 YARDS FOR $2.50, or by the SINGLE YARD FOR 10 CENTS. This Longcloth is as good as English Longcloth selling in other stores at 14 cents a yard.

MORE OF THESE PILLOW SLIPS to be sold AT 10 CENTS EACH, 2 for 25 CENTS and 14 CENTS EACH.

- 40 inch; plain hem, 1 yard long, 10 cents.
- 42 inch; plain hem, 1 yard long, 12 1-2 cents.
- 40 inch; hemstitched, nice fine cotton, 12 1-2 cents.
- 42 inch; hemstitched, nice fine cotton, 14 cents.

If you will consider the width and quality of the cotton in these Pillow slips which are ready to be used, you will find that the price is lower than you would pay for the cotton by the yard. We do not know of any cotton on the market 40 inches wide that can be bought at 10 cents a yard, but these pillow slips are already made up and sold at 10 cents each.

OUR NEW SPRING PRINTS are a delight to ourselves and to those who have looked them over. The patterns have the 1910 appearance and the qualities are A1. The prices are 11, 13, 14, and 15 CENTS. All 32 inches wide, note the extra wide width.

Henry Bilzard was reported by the police a few days ago for driving a team without a license. A son of the man reported appeared this morning and informed the court that his mother owned the team and that he only drove it three days removing snow. The case was dismissed.

Rev. Robert Johnston, of Montreal, passed through the city at noon today on his way to Halifax, where he will address the alumni of the Ladies' College. Arrangements for having him here are being made in this city on his return, but they will not be put into effect on account of the evangelic campaign.

The lectures in the free course of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, to have been given on Thursday afternoon, in their rooms, Union street, by Mrs. George Murray, will be postponed until next week on account of the meeting for women to be held in St. Andrew's Church.

PROBLEMS OF THE CITY WILL BE HIS SUBJECT

Principal Magill, of Dalhousie University, will lecture before the Ladies' Canadian Club this afternoon.

Principal Magill, of Dalhousie University, Halifax, will address a meeting of the Ladies' Canadian Club at 2.30 this afternoon. He will discuss some of the problems relating to the life of a city. Dr. Magill has just returned from Ottawa and Toronto at both of which places he delivered addresses before the Canadian Clubs. He leaves tomorrow for Amherst where another Canadian Club will have the privilege of hearing him and will return to Halifax on Friday.

Speaking in the Star this morning he said that while there was nothing particularly new about the work of the university of which he is the head, it is in a most satisfactory condition. He said that the year is one of record breaking proportions. Prof. Magill is staying at the Royal Hotel.

ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW OPENED

Fine Exhibit in Sutherland Building—Judging Commenced This Morning.

The second annual show of the New Brunswick Poultry Association opened this morning in the Sutherland building, on Union street. The exhibit of birds was the finest seen in the city for a long time. Upwards of 500 entries were received and the majority of the birds were on exhibition at the opening of the show.

George Robertson of Ottawa commenced the judging shortly before noon. This morning he judged the following classes: Buffalo Africans, Black Hamburg, Spangled Hamburg, Light Brahma, and White Wyandottes. There is a fine exhibit of White Wyandottes, which are being much admired. The pullets, Leghorns and Orpington classes, are also well filled.

The Greenwich Poultry Yard have a large entry at the show.

The committee look forward to a large attendance at the show this evening. H. C. Lemon has over forty entries in the show. The local government has assisted the association with a grant of $100.

WILL ISSUE TICKETS FOR THE NEXT SONG SERVICE

Twenty-five Cents Admiss on to be Charged to Saturday's Meeting in Centenary.

Ever since last Saturday evening the executive committee in charge of the Evangelic Campaign have been attempting to make suitable arrangements for the Saturday evening song-service. Last Saturday evening hundreds were turned away, but in spite of that fact the church was illegally over crowded. The committee were face to face with the necessity of either limiting the attendance to the actual capacity of the building, or abandoning the service. Moreover, they were reluctantly forced to admit that the only practical method of limiting the attendance would be to issue tickets to cover the seating capacity of the house, and place these on sale, so that every person would have an equal chance to obtain admission.

Tickets have therefore, been issued at twenty-five cents each. The proceeds of this sale will go to the executive committee for the local expenses of the campaign. No singer or evangelist will profit one cent by the admission charge. It should be clearly understood that the committee issue the tickets in order that they may comply with every necessary legal requirement, and not that the song service may yield the financial return. Tickets will be on sale on Thursday morning at the following book stores: E. G. Nelson's, Hall's and McArthur's, at E. G. Mackenzie's drug store and with F. S. Thomas.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT SAND POINT TODAY

One Man Sustained Compound Fracture of the Leg—Another Badly Bruised When Wreck Broke.

As a result of a serious accident at No. 1 shed this morning, John Riley, a stevedore, lies in the General Public Hospital, suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg. William J. Maxwell was also injured in the accident. He sustained nasty bruises about the back and feet. He was removed to his home on Duke street, West End.

The accident occurred on the C. P. R. steamer Montcalm, shortly before ten o'clock. The steamer had docked at No. 1 shed, when a large gang plank was being raised the monkey derrick broke. Riley was sent backward and pinned to the deck. Maxwell was knocked to the dock, falling over twenty-five feet. With a crash the heavy gang plank fell to the shed floor. The men were picked up unconscious and carried to the office in No. 1 shed.

Dr. Comber, the Emperor of Ireland's doctor was summoned. He found that both men were quite badly shaken up. A coach was procured and Maxwell was driven to his home. The ambulance responded to a call and conveyed the injured men to the hospital. Dr. Comber refused to discuss the nature of the man's injuries. Dr. Grey informed the Star that the fracture of the leg is serious although Riley is now resting easily.

The man had narrow escapes from more serious if not fatal injury.

ASKINS RELENTS WHEN MONEY IS PRODUCED

Wants the Court to be Lenient With the Young Fellow He Charges With It.

George Pearl Anderson, a bright looking chap, 18 years old, was before the police this morning on suspicion of having robbed Joseph Ashkins, a Brussels street merchant of ten dollars.

Ashkins gave evidence that he employed Anderson on November 22nd and the following day he saw a customer pay one dollar for goods to the defendant and the latter put the money in his pocket. When spoken to defendant gave the money to his employer, Anderson was discharged but entered the store on Monday, 24th. The safe was open and after Anderson left the store Ashkins found that a roll of ten dollars in silver was missing. His suspicions were that Anderson took the money, but he could not have him arrested because he left the city. When Anderson returned to the city yesterday Ashkins swore out a warrant and had the young man arrested.

This morning the complainant asked that the court be lenient with the prisoner as the latter's mother had been to see him and promised to make good the loss.

The young fellow was remanded to jail.

Two drunks, one aged but 19 years, were fined $4 each.

DEATH OF MR. PETER D. WILSON.
