ROMAN EVENTS.

Mgr. Montagnini's New Post.

When French gendarmes at the bidding of their Masonic masters conducted Mgr. Montagnini to the frontier, two years ago, as if he were a common malefactor, there was a lack of sympathy for the outraged diplomatist in quarters whence it should be forthcoming. Even high ecclesiastics are said to have been unsympathetic, passing over the fact that if the Auditor of the Papal Nuncio were an American, a German, or an Englishman, the French authorities would never have dreamt of offering him such an insult. It was believed in Rome that through having allowed the famous "dossier" to get into the hands of the French officials, Mgr. Montagnini fell into disgrace at the Papal Court, so that some time ago when Pius X nominated him to a canonry in St. John Lateran, the appointment was regarded by many as a method of shelving the ex-Auditor by way of punishment. Within the last fortnight, however, the air has become considerably cleared; for a proof of confidence in Mgr. Montagnini is given both by Pius X and the Cardinal Secretary of State at the very time that an official investigation held in France over his expulsion from French territory two years ago is concluded. In the temporary absence of Mgr. Canali, Mgr. Montagnini has been appointed to the office of Deputy to the Secretary of State and Secretary of the Cipher, a post, needless to say, of delicacy and importance. This appointment, combined with the fact that no compromising or important document was found in the "dossier" during the investigation made by the French government, and the effect of removing some very serious impressions from men's minds in Rome.

Pius X. and the Irish Race.

At the audience given by the Holy Father a few days ago to the Right Rev. Dr. Duhig, Bishop of Rockhampton, Australia, Pius X gave striking testimony to the part which Irishmen have played in the building up of the Catholic Church in places and their own shores. In the course of conversation Dr. Duhig related that he had been born in Ireland, that nearly all the Catholics scattered over his immense diocese, which covers an area of 250,000 square miles, are Irishmen. On hearing this the Pope made use of the following words: "I am well aware of the constant fidelity of the Irish people to the See of Peter. And I well know the great share they have had in building up the Catholic Church in Australia and in the United States of America. This great fidelity and missionary zeal of the Irish race I am most anxious to acknowledge." Speaking with your correspondent over his audience, the Bishop of Rockhampton said that what was most striking in this declaration of the Pontiff was not so much the words as the earnestness of manner with which they were uttered, for the Holy Father expressed himself with deep feeling. Dr. Duhig left Rome on Saturday for Ireland, whence he starts after a visit to Limerick, his birthplace, for the United States. His Lordship returns to Rome in October for a stay of several weeks.

The Rector of the Catholic University of Washington.

One of the most interesting foreign visitors to the Vatican palace during the week was the Right Rev. Dr. Shahan, newly-appointed rector of the Catholic University of Washington. The nomination of Dr. Shahan to direct the destinies of this seat of learning had come directly from the Pope himself, and the present occasion served as an opportunity of thanking the Holy Father for the honour done him. Pius X discussed at length the affairs of the University, and passed half an hour conversing on its past achievements and the great future which he believes lies before it. Then his Holiness gave Dr. Shahan an autograph letter of two pages, in which he bestows the highest encomiums on the Irish-American ecclesiastic, conferring on him at the same time the title of Monsignor of the first order. Dr. Shahan left Rome on Thursday, accompanied by the Right Rev. Mgr. McGoldrick, of the diocese of Brooklyn, and the Rev. Dr. Pace, Professor of the University of Washington.

The Codification of the Canon Law.

During the present week preparations are being made for the despatch of the third part of the newly codified law of the Church to all the Bishops of the world for the purpose of having their opinion and hearing of the changes which may be deemed necessary in the great work. European Bishops are to send their replies within three months. Six months is the time allowed to those outside Europe. It is confidently expected that within two years the new Code of Canon Law will be completed.

Prince Max of Saxony.

The appointment of the Rev. Prince Max of Saxony to the rectorship of the Austrian College and church, Dell' Anima, in Rome, will recall to English readers the apostle of the slums of London some years back. This nomination of the Prince-priest is looked upon in Rome as being one of importance. Undoubtedly the position will afford a wide field for the spirit of zeal which Prince Max has shown since the first day of his elevation to the dignity of the priesthood.

STORY OF THE LATE BISHOP CURTIS.

The Ave Maria, tells this anecdote of a beloved American prelate: "Preaching at the anniversary Mass for the late Bishop Curtis, Father Mickle, a friend, of thirty years' standing, of the deceased prelate, said of him: 'It was always: Follow me.' I remember on one occasion, when I was rooming with him in some out-of-the-way little place, awaking in the morning to find he was up before me and quietly blacking my shoes. He was my bishop at the time. 'You shall not do that.'—'Why not?' said he. 'I may as well do it, as I have finished my own.' The only undignified thing for a man in sin, he would say, and menial occupation lowers no man. Who could help learning a little in such a school as that and with such a teacher? His introspective power was strong, and, as his ideal was perfection, he would ever see in what he differed from it. Let each of us reform himself, and that will be the best way to reform and convert the country. Such was the method he proposed to use, and himself ever followed. And how successful the method proved in leading its follower to a notable degree of Christian perfection is becoming better and better known as the months go by."

KITCHENER, FIELD MARSHAL

Lord Kitchener, commander of the British forces in India, has been appointed to succeed the Duke of Connaught as inspector general of the Mediterranean forces. Lord Kitchener will take the rank of field marshal and will become a member of the committee of imperial defence. The inspector general has command of the garrisons of Malta and Gibraltar and all the British troops in Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus. Lord Kitchener will represent England at the Japanese manoeuvres in November.

TO SECURE SALVATION.

Replying to a correspondent who asks, "What is the Catholic idea and belief with reference to the future, after death, of non-Catholics, such as —?" (several specifically named individuals), the Bombay Examiner, answers: "We do not profess to know the future fate of any man except by forming a judgment from his manifested conduct. According to our theological principles, every man who dies in what we call a 'state of grace' is saved, and every man who dies 'out of the state of grace' is lost. In speaking with outsiders, it will be enough to explain the 'state of grace' as a state of friendship with God, implying a good life according to the man's lights, and either freedom from grievous sin or else sincere repentance. This rule applies not only to Catholics, but also to non-Catholics, so far as they are sincere in their convictions, and fail to realize the claims of the Church and their duty of joining it. These being our principles, their application depends on a question of fact. Do the various persons enumerated answer to the above description? If so, we may assume that they will be saved, through God's accepting their good faith and their good intentions. This is all we can say on this subject. Apropos of this question of the salvation of non-Catholics, it is to be remarked that the more extended becomes the knowledge of Catholic doctrines among those outside the Church—and missions to non-Catholics are certainly disseminating those doctrines very widely—the less likely is the plea of 'invincible ignorance' to be valid. Most educated non-Catholics, it would seem reasonable to suppose, must nowadays entertain at least a doubt as to the fact of their sect's being the true Church of Christ, and another doubt whether the genuinely true Church be not that of Rome."

MEETING TODAY.

The New Brunswick High School Teachers' Association will hold its third and most important session in the St. John High School building on Saturday August 14, at 2.30 p.m. Reports of committees on salaries and curriculum will be presented. A full attendance of high school teachers is expected.

Red Rose Tea is Good Tea

CARDINAL GIBBONS ON CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE,

ITS UNITY, SANCTITY AND INDISSOLUBILITY ESSENTIAL CHARACTERISTICS.

Christ Began Work of Social and Religious Regeneration by Purifying Nuptial Bond—Church Woman's Champion and Defender.

Our Divine Redeemer was more in the habit of frequenting scenes of sorrow and suffering than those of joyous festivity. But we are told in the Gospel that he attended a wedding feast at Cana in Galilee, accompanied by His mother and His disciples, and He signalized the occasion by performing His first miracle, when He changed water into wine.

Christ came on earth to reform and uplift humanity. And like a wise reformer, He commenced the work of regeneration at the foundation head, by purifying the marriage bond. For the married couple is the source of the family, and the family is the source of society. He knew well that a stream would not be pure unless the fountain was clear, and that sweet and delicious fruit can only come from a sound and healthy tree. "Men do not gather grapes from thorns, nor figs from thistles."

Marriage is the oldest contract ever formed on earth. The terrestrial Paradise was the scene of this compact. Our primitive parents were the contracting parties. God Himself was at once the minister and witness of the nuptial tie, and their union was solemnly ratified by Him in these words: "Wherefore a man shall leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they shall be two in one flesh."

Christian marriage, with which alone we are here concerned, has three essential characteristics, namely, unity, sanctity and indissolubility.

A Sacred Covenant.

The Christian Lawgiver restores marriage to its primeval unity, as it was originally instituted by Almighty God, and He ratifies and confirms the words of Genesis: "For this cause shall a man leave father and mother and shall adhere to his wife, and they shall be two in one flesh." And St. Paul declares that a husband shall be content with his own wife, and a wife with her own husband. This law of monogamy has been the unvarying teaching of the religion of Christ from its foundation to the present time.

Christian wedlock is a sacred covenant. It is holy, because it has God Himself for its primitive Founder. And our blessed Redeemer was pleased to stamp it with the seal of His special approval and blessing when He attended the wedding feast at Cana.

It is a holy union also, because Christ has raised it to the dignity of a sacrament. Speaking of matrimony St. Paul says: "This is a great sacrament, but I speak in Christ and in the Church." The union of Christ with the Church is the symbol of the union of the husband with his wife. As Christ is allied to His Heavenly Spouse by an inseparable union, and as He manifested His love for her, even to the shedding of His blood, so should the husband be attached to his earthly spouse by pure conjugal affection and by unvarying loyalty, even to death.

An Inviolable Contract.

Marriage is also the most inviolable and the most irrevocable contract that can exist. Every human compact, but this, may be lawfully dissolved. Nations may be justified in abrogating treaties with each other. Merchants may dissolve partnerships. Brothers will eventually leave the parental roof and divide their inheritance. Friends like Abraham and Lot may part company. But the marriage bond can never be dissolved except by death. No earthly sword can cut the knot that God has tied. "A man shall leave father and mother and shall adhere to his wife." For "what God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

It is worthy of note that three of the four Evangelists, as well as the Apostle of the Gentiles, all proclaim the indissolubility of the nuptial bond, and forbid a married person to engage in a second wedlock while his or her spouse is living. The reason, no doubt, for emphasizing this law was because the divine Legislator, who knew so well the heart of man, foresaw that the most clear and imperative ordinance was necessary to serve as a barrier against the passions of men, who are ever prone by their degenerate nature to yield more to their inordinate appetite than to follow the voice of conscience.

In the Gospel of St. Matthew, our Lord declares that "Whoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery, and he that shall marry her that is put away, committeth adultery." The clause "except for fornication" may permit a legal separation, or a cessation from cohabitation, but it can never justify either party to contract a subsequent marriage while both parties are living. St. Mark and St. Luke forbid absolute divorce without any qualification whatsoever. And St. Paul says that the wife may not depart from the husband, nor the husband from the wife. But, if they depart, that both remain unmarried or be reconciled to each other.

No Divorce.

The Church, following the light of the Gospels, absolutely condemns divorce a vinculo, that is, she forbids the divorced consort to engage in a second wedlock. This is the law she has proclaimed in the face of powerful kings and emperors. This is the law she has upheld in spite of the resistance and rebellion of lascivious consorts.

Christian wives and mothers, what a debt of gratitude you owe to the Catholic Church for the honorable position you now hold in family and social life! If you are no longer considered as the slaves, but the mistresses of your households; if you are no longer regarded as tenants at will, but the queens of the domestic kingdom, and the peers of your husbands, you owe your emancipation to the Church of Christ that contended for your rights at the cost of her blood. You are especially indebted for your elevation to the Popes who stood up in all the majesty of their spiritual authority to redress the wrongs of injured woman against the lust and tyranny of her unfaithful spouse. If such is the holiness and the binding character of the marriage bond, how pure and upright should be the disposition of those who aspire to that state of life! The candidates for wedlock should first of all, submit the matter to God, imploring the Father of light to guide them in their choice. For, a virtuous consort is eminently the gift of Heaven. "House and riches," says the Book of Proverbs, "are given by parents, but a prudent wife is properly from the Lord."

NEW HEAD OF THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

In electing Mr. J. J. Flaherty, of Philadelphia, Grand Knight of their organization, the Knights of Columbus have given a signal proof of their determination to choose only the best man for that distinction, and to reward the eminent services of one who has devoted himself to their welfare. No action on the part of the general body could give greater assurance to the bishops and priests of the country who are concerned about the Catholic interests of this Order. Embracing as it does in its membership the rank and file of our Catholic young men, it can easily be made an agency for their betterment or an instrument for their destruction. More than any other form of organization secret societies need the direction and control of authority to prevent them from causing evil even where they intend to do good. The Knights of Columbus form a body which is capable of immense good for religion and morality. As Catholics they can accomplish their excellent purposes only in so far as they are submissive to the authorities of the Church. They appreciate this fact so well, that, whether officially or unofficially, they have seen fit to seek approbation from the authorities at Rome. They do not need to go to Rome. They need but the favor of their bishops and priests here. Without this Rome will never countenance them; with this Rome will give them the most cordial approbation. In selecting for their chief office a man whose entire life has been devoted to Catholic interests, they have given the best possible proof of their own Catholic spirit and of their loyalty to the Church. In his own community, Mr. Flaherty enjoys the reputation of a public-spirited citizen; in his profession he ranks among the first; in his social life he is beloved by all who know him, and we are satisfied he has accepted his new office only because of the opportunities it will afford him of doing good.—America, New York.

THE AUGUST HOME JOURNAL.

Thirty-two pages of select reading including new fashions, short stories, and beautiful illustrations, make the August issue of The Home Journal the best ever published of that progressive woman's magazine.

Special articles and illustrations on "The Pure Milk Campaign" tell about the splendid work being done in the vicinity of Toronto. "Regatta Day in St. John's, Nfld.," is a graphic description of one of the greatest celebrations of that ancient colony. It is written by Lady Gay and is in her best style.

The second big instalment of the serial, "The Mystery of Barry Ingram," will doubtless be read with interest by those having read the opening chapters of this absorbing mystery story in the July issue.

"Wild Flowers of August" will be closely read by those interested in nature study. Agnes Norton has contributed "East is East and West is West." It takes one back to the days when warships and sailors made life happy at Halifax.

The "Household Hints" and "Culinary Conceits" pages are brim full of interesting notes. "Cabbages and Kings" and "But That's Another Story" are in a lighter vein and the splendid illustrations and descriptive matter of fashions for young and old help to make the August issue the largest ten cents' worth ever offered to Canadian women. The special fall fashion number will be out Aug. 25.

CITY CORNET BAND.

That the efforts of the City Cornet Band are appreciated is shown by the fact that recently Mr. Jas. Connolly, manager, has received subscriptions towards the King Square stand from persons living outside the city. One subscription of $25 came from Mr. J. F. Murphy, of Tacoma, Washington, a recent visitor here. The other—a check for $10—is sent by Mr. H. W. Woods, M. P. P., of Welsford, in the name of the Foresters of that place in appreciation of the satisfactory way in which the band has in the past served the music loving public who attended the Foresters blueberry excursions at Welsford. The Band still owes a substantial sum on account of the stand, so the subscriptions were greatly appreciated.

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION.

The St. John City and County Agricultural Association, of which Mr. Frank V. Hamm is president and Mr. R. R. Patchell is secretary, will hold an exhibition on Moosepath Park on September 29th. There is quite an extensive prize list for competition by members.

SISTERS OF CHARITY.

At St. Vincent's Convent on last Saturday morning eight new sisters were received among the Sisters of Charity in the diocese of St. John. Bishop Casey officiated at the religious profession, said the Mass and addressed the sisters at some length. The new sisters are: Sister Mary Christina, Miss Daley, of Prince Albert; Sister Mary Catherine, Miss Mutter, also of Prince Albert; Sister Mary Oatherina, Miss Lamb, of St. John; Sister Mary Stanislaus, Miss McGourty, of St. John; Sister Mary Augustin, Miss McDonough, of Hampton; Sister Mary Regis, Miss McCarron, of St. John; Sister Mary Mercedes, Miss Sweeney, of Melrose; Sister Mary Anna, Miss Maillet, of Buctouche.

TO WASH CHAMOIS GLOVES.

Many women like chamois gloves, but they refrain from wearing them because they do not know how to wash and care for them, consequently find the indulgence of their fancy rather costly. A girl who wears them a great deal and finds them very satisfactory, says: "I always wash my gloves myself, using a half basin of tepid water, pure white soap and one teaspoonful of sweet oil. How do I keep them from shrinking? Well first I rub them in the ordinary way, then I put them on and rub the seams with a small hand brush. If very dirty I use two waters for the washing. The rinsing, however, is the main point, and I always use tepid water, adding to it a teaspoonful of sweet oil. The drying process is tedious, so it is a good idea to keep two pairs on the go and let each pair get thoroughly dry after the laundering process. While drying, I let them hang by the wrists and when dry crush softly between the hands to soften them."—Eagle.

PLENARY COUNCIL.

First National Council of Church to Open September 19.

The meeting of the first Plenary Council of Canada will take place at Quebec in the Basilica of Notre Dame on Sunday, September 19. The Archbishop, residential Bishops, vicars and Prefect Apostolic, and the administrators of the vacant sees will be the Fathers of it. There will also be present at this council the Auxiliary Bishops and titular Bishops of the province, the Mitred Abbot Oka, the proctors of the absent Bishops, the delegates of the chapters of the metropolitan and cathedral churches, the Vicars General, the domestic prelates of His Holiness, the rectors of the Catholic universities, the superiors of the higher seminaries, the provincials of the religious orders and the theologians and canonists of the bishops.

His Excellency, the Apostolic Delegate, president of the council, will be received on his arrival with all the honors due to his high dignity.

The two days preceding the solemn opening of the council will be spent in nominating the officers, the members of the commissions, in determining officially the order to be observed in the examination, discussion and approval of the Conciliar decrees. These decrees studied by special commissions, will be discussed in the plenary meetings of the bishops and theologians, examined again by the Fathers of the Council assembled in congregation, sanctioned by them, and then promulgated publicly in the solemn sessions which will be held every Sunday in the Basilica of Quebec. The acts and decrees of the council must be sent to Rome to be submitted to the examination and approval of the Holy See.

REBUILDING WORK AT THE BREAKWATER.

Contractor J. W. Long is Doing a Good Job in Concrete.

The concrete work on the breakwater being done by Contractor John W. Long is progressing rapidly. From 50 to 60 men are now at work. The breakwater was originally built in much the same style as our wooden wharves i. e. the frame was filled in with broken stone and then large rocks were placed on top. In time, however, the wooden structure broke away and the storms opened great gaps in the rocks. With the advent of concrete it was thought more feasible to use it and make a solid structure upon which winds or storms would have very little or no effect.

The men at work remove the large blocks by means of a derrick and then outside the wooden frame of the old breakwater and when they get down to the filled in part, consisting of gravel and broken stone they bored in preparatory to placing the new block of concrete. Each block contains on an average about forty cubic yards. Of course the blocks are often of different depths, this depends on the foundation. After a block has been made it is left about two days or more to dry and the wooden boxing is removed and the remaining three sides of the quadrilateral boxed in. The boxing is lined with jute so as to keep the water from running out. The proportions of material used are four of sand six of broken stone and one of cement. These are laid down in the order of sand, cement and then stone and shovelled into a portable gravity concrete mixer which has valves for regulating the quantity of water used in the mixing. From the mixer the concrete pours into the boxing. About ten buckets of water are used to each barrel of cement. About 12 blocks of cement have been placed during the last month. It will be some time before the breakwater is completed.

On Monday the block placed required about 76 barrels of cement, which is the Sydney material. Mr. William McKee is foreman of the job.

YES!

I popped the question to Marie, Like any other beau, She blushed and smiled and answered "Oui."

For she is French, you know. "My dear," I asked her, bending low (I feared my cake had turned to dough)

"Whom do you mean by we?" "O. U. and I," she said.

A GOOD MOVEMENT.

Winnipeg, Man., July 15, 1909. Dear Sirs: At a recent meeting of the executive of our club a suggestion was made that a movement be started to organize a federation of all Catholic Clubs in Canada.

For the present our proposal is that any member in good standing of an allied club should be supplied with a travelling card which would entitle him to the privileges of any other club while a visitor there, or a transfer card, admitting him to full membership, without payment of initiation fees. Later on we might arrange for a convention at which delegates from the various clubs might discuss problems of Catholic Club life, and plans for mutual advancement and encouragement.

We enclose a list of clubs now known to us, a glance at which will, we think, show the advantage and desirability of such an organization as we propose. If you know of any other clubs in Canada not on the list we shall be obliged if you will pass the suggestion along, and send us the names and addresses of their officers.

We shall be pleased to hear from you, and have the views of your executive upon this subject, with any suggestions you may have to offer.

Yours fraternally,
The Catholic Club of Winnipeg

HEALTH ON THE FARM.

The neglect of the body is one of the evils of the time. The body is a machine with which men have to earn a living, yet they neglect it as they would no other piece of machinery they use.

Not only ought we to keep it going but we ought to keep it in perfect condition. The value of health is being recognized more and more throughout the whole country. There is a world-wide movement for eradicating tuberculosis, which in the old days we called consumption. In those days we treated a patient with consumption as though he were a martyr. Now we treat him as a victim of disease, as one who may contaminate the house in which he lives and the family who is devoted to him. It is possible to protect the family, and at the same time serve the patient.

It is not possible to estimate the tax imposed upon the human race by unnecessary ill-health—that is, by diseases that are preventable by conditions of the body which ought to be avoided.

Cities are cleaning up. They are improving their water supply. They are inspecting their milk supply. They are spending millions for drainage purposes.

These things are not all possible on the farm, but much is possible. Typhoid fever is a disease which sweeps over the whole country, and is especially malignant in country districts, yet typhoid fever is entirely a preventable disease. It must enter the body through the mouth, through the food we eat, through our milk or water. Now, if we can keep our food supply free from contamination, and our milk supply and our water supply: if we can banish the house-fly, we can be reasonably certain of protecting our family against typhoid fever.

Let a sick man stop commiserating himself and consoling himself. Let him begin to inquire, What have I done I ought not to have done; what have I eaten that I ought not to have eaten; in what have I failed to take care of this body of mine?

If, after the simple remedies of the household, we are still unable to regain our strength and health we should go to the doctor and go to the best doctor in reach. If he promises to cure all our ills with one prescription let us go to some other doctor. There is a science of medicine. It is not exact; it is not complete; but to the trained physician the symptoms of a patient can, under ordinary circumstances, reveal his condition. When that is known, it is possible in most cases to restore the patient to health.—Selected.

CATHEDRAL BELLS BLESSED.

(Chatham Commercial). An interesting and impressive ceremony took place in the upper church of the new Roman Catholic Cathedral Sunday afternoon, when the three bells for the handsome edifice were consecrated. The service was the first to be held in this portion of the Cathedral and was attended by a very large congregation.

The bells were arranged at one end of the Church and were prettily decorated with flowers.

The large bell weighing 4,200 pounds, was dedicated to St. James, in memory of the Rt. Rev. James Rogers, first Bishop of Chatham.

The second weighing 1,200 pounds, was dedicated to St. Thomas, patron saint of Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Barry, present Bishop of Chatham.

The third weighing 1,000 pounds, was dedicated to St. Pius, in honor of Pope Pius X, gloriously reigning.

The service was conducted by Bishop Barry, assisted by Rev. Father O'Keefe, deacon; Rev. Father Hart, sub-deacon, and Rev. Father O'Leary, master of ceremonies.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Ethelhurst, O. F. M., who in an eloquent manner showed how the bells brought a message of peace and joy, and of conferring of grace from on high, while at the same time they pealed forth the joyous, sorrowful, as well as the prayerful sentiments of the faithful below. He explained the ceremony and hoped that the sound of the bells would mean the participation by the congregation in the celestial jubilee in time and in eternity.

The smallest bell will be placed in the present tower at the Pro-cathedral, and the bell now there, weighing 2,000 pounds, will be placed along with the other two in the tower of the new Cathedral.

At the close of the ceremony the congregation sounded the bells in turn, and made offerings to the amount of $270.

A HANDSOME DONATION.

John McKane's Gift of $11,000.

Chatham, N. B., Aug. 11.—The Rev. Superior of Hotel Dieu confirmed tonight the report that John McKane, the North Shore copper king and millionaire, had made the generous donation of $11,000 to the institution. The gift was given in memory of his mother and in appreciation of the great work that is being done by the reverend sisters among the sick and needy of all classes.

The gift enables the trustees to proceed at once with their long-cherished wish for the building of a wing on the east side of the present building.

This will be four stories in height and will contain operating rooms, hydraulic elevator of most approved pattern for hospital, new pharmacy, consulting room doctor's sterilizing and dressing rooms, a dispensary and additional rooms and the most up-to-date appliances in surgery will be procured.

The Hotel Dieu has long been noted as one of the most comfortable and excellent hospitals in Canada, but when the new wing is finished it will also be one of the best equipped for surgical and general work. The contract has been let to Walsh Bros., and the work will be started at once so the buildings may be about completed when cold weather sets in. As the cost of the work alone will be about $10,500, Mr. McKane's gift will nicely cover this, but the equipment and finishings will cost much more and it is hoped that others will follow Mr. McKane's generous example and aid the sisters in their work by enabling them to enter into the new wing without the burden of any additional debt.

A STARTLING MOTTO.

A travelling salesman died very suddenly in Pittsburg. His relatives telegraphed the undertaker to make a wreath; the ribbon should be extra wide, with the inscription, "Rest in Peace," on both sides, and if there is room, "We shall Meet in Heaven."

The undertaker was out of town, and his new assistant handles the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides, and if There is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

M. BRIAND AND HIS COLLEAGUES.

Quite astonishing are the virtues which correspondents discover in men who rise to power. Paris representatives of the English papers are lost in admiration of the endowments of the new Premier, M. Briand. They have not much to say for M. Clemenceau. He has disappeared for the moment from the political horizon and can scarcely be of much use again for newspaper purposes. With M. Briand's advance to the head of the Cabinet his capacities have, it appears, almost suddenly undergone a most notable improvement. His action in exchanging the portfolio of Justice for that of the Interior and retaining the post of Minister of Public Worship is, the correspondents assure us, approved of in all quarters. Even the Catholics, we are solemnly told in the columns of the London Times, and the Daily News, are beginning to admit that M. Briand is a man of a conciliatory spirit. We need not dwell on the worthlessness of these journalistic eulogies. M. Briand is a politician without spark of originality in his mental composition. He has retained in his Cabinet six members of the Clemenceau Ministry, including the notorious M. Viviani, who boasted that he and his colleagues had deprived French workmen of the light of Christianity. M. Briand will strive to pursue the old policy by suppleness and subtlety, and will, it may be predicted, fail more lamentably than M. Clemenceau.

CATHOLIC NEWS IN DAILY PAPERS.

People who depend on the daily papers to supply them with all the Catholic news they desire must have noted the columns upon columns devoted to the Catholic Educational Association Convention. Two ten line despatches furnished by the Associated Press covered the proceedings which extended over three days and in which non-Catholics as well as Catholics were interested. Nobody expects verbatim reports of the delegates' speeches to be flashed over the wire. Neither do we look to our great news agencies for the all but ignoring of a national convention in which a considerable portion of the reading public is concerned, says the Catholic Transcript. See how the fraternal orders fare in the matter of newspaper publicity, and contrast with this the meagre mention that will be accorded a body of Catholic delegates like these who assemble next week in Pittsburg for the Federation convention.

SUNDAY'S FEAST.

The Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin is the greatest of all her festivals. It commemorates the reward given by God for the perfect correspondence to grace for which her life on earth is so renowned. Christ ascended into Heaven to prepare a place there for each of His faithful servants, but for His Mother He reserved the highest honours. She was indeed to receive a crown of glory and a radiant throne far beyond any reward bestowed upon even the high est saints, but she was also to pass swiftly from this world to her reward, exempt by special privilege from the long separation of soul and body which all others have to undergo. For it is a traditional pious belief that her body was assumed into glory soon after her death, without waiting the general resurrection, and it is this belief that the Church countenances by the Feast of the Assumption.

It is not certain whether Our Lady passed away at Ephesus or at Jerusalem; the opinions of authorities are much divided on the point, though the weight of evidence seems to favour Jerusalem. The feast was celebrated in the east as early as the fifth century, and some writers would have us believe that it dates from apostolic ages.

The consideration of the eminence to which Our Lady has been raised by her triumphal entry into Heaven on this great festival should lead us to contemplate the means by which she arrived at so singular a height of glory. Her highest dignity, was that of Mother of God, but it was not this alone which procured her so great a reward. Her close relation with God caused her to be endowed with marvellous graces, and it was her fidelity to these that was the measure of her glory. Her ardent charity, her profound humility, her spotless purity, the patience, the meekness, the zeal for God which distinguished her earthly life, these were the sources of her heavenly exaltation.

She gained her reward by the practice of every virtue, and we must follow in her footsteps if we, too, wish for eternal happiness. The same path that led her to glory will lead us thither, and this must be our encouragement in our earthly career. Let us beg her powerful prayers that we, too, may faithfully tread the path that leads to glory. Her prayers were powerful while she was on earth, they are no less powerful now. May she gain for us all that gift of final perseverance that we who love her and strive to imitate her here on earth may come one day to share her glory and blessedness in our heavenly home.

THE POPE'S SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.

On Monday Pius X. kept the sixth anniversary of his coronation. Each year adds cubits to his ecclesiastical stature. Catholics realize that the Pope has a long arm and a strong one. The reforms inaugurated by the Vicar of Christ affect church chant, the teaching of catechism, the practice of daily communion, the solemnization of marriage and the conduct of seminaries. He has placed the Church in Canada under the general ecclesiastical law removing us from the category of missionary countries. While there are those who will not admit him to the noble army of world-diplomats his solution of the troubles in France proclaim him a statesman and churchman of an uncommon order. The Christian world can never forget the apostolic fervor with which he stormed the citadel of Modernism. That alone should give him a high place in the list of Roman Pontiffs.

THE PRESS AND THE LATE FATHER TYRRELL.

The comments of the English Press on Father Tyrrell's case mark what we may call the general tendency and set of the religious current. It is easy to see that the gentlemen who libelously settle all these matters and teach philosophy, theology, and canon law to the public, think it is not worth their while to find out what the deceased priest really taught. In no one account is it fairly stated what he taught, and why he was condemned. All that is said is that he took the liberal line and advocated a "liberal tendency." Exactness and precision are put aside, and no one takes the trouble to seek out the information he would feel bound to procure in regard to other matters. This can only be taken as the fruit of indifference. It is a bad symptom of itself, quite apart from any question of controversy. There is really no sign that these writers have read any of Father Tyrrell's works—still less the Pope's syllabus of Modernist errors and his Encyclical. There is no sign either that they had or have the least intention of taking up the rev. gentleman's views or following his opinions—least of all of being what he was or wished to be, a member of the Catholic Church. Some time ago a learned professor wrote an article in a well-known quarterly to the effect that the Modernist movement was to him a kind of variegated panorama in the Catholic Church, which afforded him great interest and amusement, but to which he had, no relation except as a spectator. He looked on at it as he might look at a cricket match. Such was his tone of mind; and many others share it. These people are mistaken, however, in the course they take, for the Modernist movement will affect their lives whether they will or not. The better course for them is to treat it seriously, to find out what Rome really meant, and to study the rising of the tide upon the shore where they themselves stand.

THE UNCHARITABLE RICH.

Addressing the Catholic Charities Fund Association in Milwaukee, Hon. Bourke Cockran said:

"Charity is the activity that gives the millionaire opportunity to sign a check. And the average millionaire wants to sign checks. How otherwise should he use his wealth? He has money, but no appetite; he generally confines himself to a diet of bread and milk—so why shouldn't he sign checks? Or, if he wants to dress well he has the clothes, but not the figure to carry them. So there is charity wherein he is permitted to reconcile himself with himself. Gloom impenetrable—misery absolute. Where do you find them? Not in the country's prisons, not in the slums, the poor house, the wretched tenement. There is no human condition so hopeless as to preclude a flashing smile; a touch of laughter. Men that are about to die—and I have known prisoners condemned to death—are yet ready to smile at a joke; laugh over a good story. No! the spot where reigns melancholy supreme is in the safety deposit vault. When you and I meet in the vicinity of our safety deposit vaults, when we see before us the locks and bars and keys that snap on the wealth we have gathered through the year, we forget to smile; our nods are curt and fraught with suspicion; our attitude is one of defense. There is only gloom about us.

"Therefore, I talk to you of charity. I address people of my own religious faith. The Catholic Church was the first to bring into the world the meaning of the word 'charity' in its present accepted sense. In Rome was built up the first hospital, many years ago. And the charity that reigns today has sprung from that first effort made to care for the sick and the weak in the first hospital of Rome, established by the Catholic Church.

"Nothing is easier today than raising money for charitable purposes. I witness the array of beauty about me. In the women gathered here is an example. Would you work for yourselves with the fervor equal to that with which you devote yourselves to the work of charity? I hardly think so."

"SHE MADE HOME HAPPY."

"She made home happy!" These few words I read Within a churchyard, written on a stone; No name, no date, the simple words alone Told me the story of the unknown dead A marble column lifted high its head Close by, inscribed to one of the world had known; But ah! that lonely grave with moss o'er-grown Thrilled me far more than his who armies led.

"She made home happy!" Through the long, sad years The mother toiled, and never stopped to rest Until they crossed her hands upon her breast, And closed her eyes, no longer dim with tears.

The simple record that she left behind Was grander than the soldier's to my mind! —Henry Coyle [Youths' Companion.]

WOODSTOCK, N. B.

The picnic held last Tuesday under the auspices of the congregation of St. Gertrude's Church was successful in every particular. The ground was crowded with hundreds of picnickers who enjoyed themselves to the uttermost. The noon trains brought crowds from up and down river and we saw many visitors from different points in this vicinity. It is understood that financially it was everything that its promoters could wish for. The exact figures, however, are not at present available. While many members of the congregation were indefatigable in their efforts to make the picnic a success, which it was, there is no doubt that the chief credit belongs to Rev. Father McMurray, who spared no endeavor to ensure a pleasant time for all who attended the picnic and it need only be said that the results were in keeping with the extent of his efforts.

The Woodstock Band furnished sweet music throughout the afternoon and evening and rendered their long program exceptionally well.—Sentinel, Aug. 6th.

TO BE MARRIED NEXT MONTH. GREAT IRISH GATHERING AT GROSSE ISLE, QUE.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ethel Lawlor, daughter of R.A. Lawlor, Judge of Probate, and Mr. Joseph Paterson Quigley, M.A., M.D. of Kingsclear, Ont., a graduate of Kingston and London, Eng., universities. The marriage will take place early in September. Miss Lawlor is not only one of the most popular young ladies of the Miramichi, but is also a leading social light among the younger set on the North Shore.

REGARDING NAPOLEON.

A recent account telling of a plan to provide Napoleon with a refuge on this side of the Atlantic describes him as "the embodiment of the best features of the Gallic character." And Napoleon was a Bonaparte, a Corsican with a long and well known Italian lineage. Moreover his career is plainly that of a Condottiere writ large. Napoleon was as much a Gaul as Francesco Sforza.

AMUSEMENTS. The Nickel.

Armchair strategists are wont to tell what will happen if the Japanese ever invade North America and today at the Nickel the great Kalemp picture will give a visionary conception of the result. It is an excellent war picture and with artillery thundering, spirited cavalry manoeuvring, infantry in great battalions and a thrilling plot to the string of film watchers will be greatly interested. A distinctly other class of picture is the Biograph story, The Cardinal's Kindly Conspiracy. Two foreign pictures are Brown's Moving Day (Gaiety) and the Rival Sisters (Lux). Last evening the Bush string quintette charmed several housefuls of fashionable people to another delightful bill, which is to be repeated today. Miss Mary Wylie Bush was enthusiastically encored for her artistic cello solo, Evening Star, from Wagner's Tannhauser. The ensemble numbers were: Schumann's The Voice of Love and Keler-Bela's wild skirl Hungarian Lutspiel. Mr. Buchanan made a sensational hit in Tosti's Good-bye to double orchestral accompaniment. Big shows today with funny novelties for the children and half-holiday folks.

SUSSEX PICNIC ON TUESDAY.

The large number of St. John people who attend the annual picnic at Sussex will be glad to know that this outing will be held on Tuesday next, August 17th, on the Military grounds.

The City Cornet Band will be in attendance, and discourse its sweetest music.

There will be excursion rates from this city and other points along the I.C.R. railway.

Great efforts are being made by the congregation of St. Francis Xavier church to make this picnic the best yet. The various committees, under the direction of Rev. Joseph McDermott, the popular pastor, have practically completed all their arrangements for the gathering.

There will be the usual games and amusements. Meals and refreshments will be provided in abundance.

GREAT IRISH GATHERING AT GROSSE ISLE, QUE.

Monument to Memory of Ship Fever Victims.

The eyes of the Irish people will be turned on Sunday, August 15, toward the city of Quebec, and to Grosse Isle which lies some forty miles outside Quebec. The dedication of a monument at Grosse Isle on that day recalls one of the darkest and saddest pages in the whole tale of Irish famine and exile in the earlier years of the Nineteenth Century.

Fifteen members of the Hibernian Knights in St. John left for Quebec on Friday evening to take part in the celebration.

CHAMPLAIN MEMORIAL.

His Worship, the Mayor, Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, Messrs. John R. Armstrong, D. K. Jack and John V. Ellis attended a meeting of the committee Thursday morning and talked over several matters.

Mr. McCarthy, the artist, asked for some information as regards the nature of the site upon which the statue is to be placed. It was determined to facilitate him in getting this information by referring him to the city engineer.

The matter of inscription for the monument was left to a committee consisting of the Mayor, the Archdeacon, and Mr. Jack, and their selection is as follows:

1604—Champlain—1904
Samuel de Champlain.
Born at Brouage, France, 1570.
Died at Quebec, 1635.
Discovered and Named the River St. John, 24th June, 1604.
This is quite sufficient and will no doubt be satisfactory to everybody. The probability of having the statue up this fall was canvassed, but nobody would risk a certain opinion. In the meantime unpaid subscriptions or new ones, should go in to the treasurer, Judge Armstrong.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

There was a large attendance at the picnic of St. Peter's and Holy Trinity churches held at Torryburn, on Thursday, and a pleasant day was spent.

I consider your liniment a splendid remedy and I have placed an order for your goods in my drug store and will put it on its merits. Yours very truly, J. W. McLean.

Help Us to Save the Negro

For twenty-five years the Josephite Fathers have labored among the Negroes of the State of Virginia.
Already nine mission stations have been established, these are supported by St. Joseph's Mission House. Others are badly needed to reach our unfortunate colored brethren. We appeal to the generosity of the faithful to come to our aid in this glorious apostolate.
St. Anthony's Union has been established to support the priests who so generously devote their lives to the salvation of this people. There are 400,000 negroes in the State of Virginia, but only 2,000 of them are Catholics; the others are ignorant of the blessings that Christ bequeathed to mankind through His Church. Our desire and efforts are to erect a new Mission each year. Each Mission station costs $2,500 to erect. Will you join St. Anthony's Union, and help in the salvation of the souls that cost the blood of Jesus Christ to save?
"Of all things the most divine is to co-operate in the salvation of souls."

IF SOMEBODY CAME TO US FROM MARS.

Arthur Preuss, in the Catholic Fortnightly Review: "The hypothetical and somewhat overworked visitor from Mars, who would pick up a copy of one of our popular magazines, could not help being struck by the difference in spirit between the literary and advertising sections. If he concludes that the earth is inhabited by two races of men, a race of stumbling, bungling, unhappy failures and pessimists, and a race of vigorous, successful radiant optimists, we can scarcely blame him. In the literary pages the world is the worst of all possible worlds; in the advertising supplement it is the best of all conceivable worlds. In the magazine proper everything goes askew. The railroads cheat us and kill us. The food manufacturers poison us. The liquor dealers destroy our moral fibre.
The army is depleted. The navy has its armor-belt in the wrong place.
Workmen go about without work. Lack of sanitation kills its thousands.
Automobiles do their share—the list is endless. But a reconstructed world of heart's desire begins with the first page advertisement. Here, no breakfast food fails to build up a man's brain and muscle. No phonograph record fails to amuse. No roof paint cracks under cold or melts under the sun. No razor cuts the face or leaves it sore. Illness and death are banished by patent medicines and hygienic shoes. Worry flees before the model fountain pen. Employers shower wealth upon efficient employees.
Insurance companies pay what they promise. Trains always arrive on time. Babies never cry; whether its step or creak, or camera, or talcum,
it always laugh in the advertising supplement. A happy world indeed, my masters."

FIRE IN GIRL'S HAT.

Atlanta, Ga., August 3.—A fire on the roof of a hat of a pretty girl traveller at the Union Station this evening called out two fire companies, a hose cart, a score of willing amateur firemen, delayed a fast train and destroyed about $30 worth of finery upon the 'peace basket' aforesaid.
The young woman, on her way to New York, rushed into the station for something to eat. In paying her check she swung the hat too close to the cigar lighter. In an instant it was a mass of flames. A waiter sent in a fire alarm.

'ROUGH-HOUSE' AND THE CHILD.

The mother who wishes her boy or girl to be a pink of propriety, who wears good clothes and repressed above the healthful, rosy, and natural noisiness of childhood, is laying up for herself disappointment.
Either her children will fall short of her foolish ideal, or meeting it she learns too late she has reared Miss Nancies and invalids.

An old doctor who lived next to a big primary school was asked if the noise and romping of the children at recess did not annoy him.

"Not half so annoying, madam, as if they were a set of silent little prigs, for I'd know that the parents of those children would be bothering me with their ailments. Youth needs to romp to keep well."

There is an old saying: "It is better to wear clothes than blankets."
If you do not hanker after nursing let your boy and girl rough-house to their heart's content. What if it does tear their clothes to wrestle, to roll down hill, or jump in the hay-mow? Bodies cost more to repair than frocks, and doctors' bills come higher than worn-out shoes and stockings.

There is nothing more pitiable than the child who is under constant restraint. As one woman said recently to the mother of an active and naughty child: "It is refreshing to hear of her pranks. Most children now-days are so repressed with governesses tagging after them with constant
'don't' that they have all originality destroyed."

Let your children romp all they will. Choose places for their rough-housing. Let the children understand that romping in the drawing-room or in the presence of company is not to be tolerated, but the rest of the time permit play, though it verges on boisterousness.

What if rough-housing is hard on the nerves of older people? It is excellent to prevent nerves in the kiddies themselves. Less restraint of children is needed than most mothers will believe.

The old cat can teach a lesson to many a human parent when she limbers herself to play with her kittens' string.—The "Times."

WILD BEASTS ON STREET.

Norris & Rowe's Daily Street Parade
a Sensational Affair.

A feature that has been planned as carefully as the programme of the big show is the daily street parade of the Greater Norris & Rowe Circus. Here-before, other circus owners have carefully and jealously guarded the secrets of their animal dens until show time, but since the last visit of the Norris & Rowe Show, the organization made a tour that embraced the wild Canadian Northwest, where Indians, mounted police and ferocious wild animals are plenty. From the Indians the showmen acquired a large number of wild beasts. Then upon the recent tour of the Mexican Republic, the menageries of the two Mexican circuses were purchased and added to the already large collection owned by Norris & Rowe, so that the young showmen can well afford to open all dens in the street parade and still have a complete collection in the menagerie tent. Every morning at 10.30 finds the picturesque cavalcade upon the streets. A blare of trumpets and a crash of music by the various bands announce the coming of the parade. Elephants march abreast; camels, dromedaries and elk, march behind a herd of demure Shetland ponies, and these in turn are followed by the plumed Knights and their ladies on prancing, thoroughbred, educated steeds. Then come the beautiful draft stock drawing the long lines of open dens containing the wild beast collection. This is the twentieth year of the Norris & Rowe Circus, and from season to season they have acquired wild animals, until now there is no other show that contains more wild animals in their huge double menag-eries than Norris & Rowe. Everyone should turn out for the parade, for it is a pleasingly picturesque and sensational feature. The show exhibits in this city on the 24th at the Shamrock grounds.

"I've got a dog that's a year old and he can walk twice as well as your baby can."
"Well, he ought to," was the reply,
"he's got twice as many legs."

THE REDEMPTORISTS'
SILVER JUBILEE.
 Closing Services Held on Monday.

There was a large congregation at the service in St. Peter's on Friday evening, the Rev. P. Leonard, C.S.S.R., being the preacher. His subject was "The King of the True Church."
 On Saturday evening, after the recitation of the rosary, there was a sermon by Rev. J. Barry, C.S.S.R., Father Barry taking as his theme "The Queen of the True Church." After the sermon there was a procession in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary. It was led by the rector, Rev. A. J. Duke, C.S.S.R., after whom came the altar boys. Then came the children, Rev. Fathers Barry, Leonard and Schauer following. Father Schauer carrying the Blessed Sacrament.
 On Sunday forenoon Solemn High Mass was celebrated, and His Lordship Bishop Casey gave the Papal Blessing.

Sunday afternoon the task of removing the bodies of the deceased Redemptorists from St. Peter's Hall to St. Peter's Church, was carried out with solemn and impressive ceremony. Last Friday morning the six bodies were exhumed and taken to St. Peter's Hall, where they were placed in new metal lined coffins. The bodies were kept in St. Peter's Hall, Friday night, all day Saturday, and Saturday night. They were watched over by a death watch chosen from the men of St. Peter's congregation.

On Sunday the caskets were slowly borne out between a double file of the parishioners and were placed on two funeral cars which were heavily draped in black. Three bodies rested on each car. Over each of the three caskets was spread a heavy pall, on which was emblazoned a large white cross.
 Headed by the City Cornet Band the procession moved slowly down street and along Main to the dirge of the "Dead March from Saul." Immediately following the band was the crucifix bearer and two acolytes bearing their red lamps. After them were the boys of St. Peter's school in charge of Maurice Coll and M. D. Sweeny. Next followed the single men of the Holy Name Family in charge of Joseph Gallagher, Frank DeGrasse, Edward Mahoney, and Alfred Dever. They were followed by the married men of the Holy Name Family in charge of W. Murphy, Thomas Creary, I. Hurley, and Leo Conlogue.

Immediately preceding the biers came the altar boys and the clergy men. Those clergymen present were Rev. Father Schauer, Rev. Father Wynn, Rev. Father Butt, Rev. Father Leonard, Rev. Father Maloney, Rev. Father Holland and Brother Hugh.
 The bodies borne by the first car were those of Father Corduke, Father Trimpell and Brother Jeremiah. Immediately following were their pall bearers. Dr. McInerney, Dr. Quigley, W. Doherty, James Howard, Michael Coll, James Morgan, Timothy McGowan, Daniel Conlogue, John Hillis, James Kennedy, Thomas Gillen, Thos. Cosgrove, E. Connors, Thos. Buckley, Hugh Montague, Richard J. Walsh, Thomas McCarthy, Herbert Lyons.
 The second funeral car bore the bodies of Brother Leo, Father Kreintz and Father Jentsch. The pall bearers were Thomas Reardon, Samuel McCormick, Wm. Dalton, James Gosnell, Daniel Geary, Joseph Quinn, James Quinn, Charles O'Hara, Thomas Brosnan, Wm. Grannan, Wm. Kelly, Patrick Marry, John Lloyd, Dr. Maher, James Duffy, Thomas Creary, L. Gosnell.
 On the arrival at the church, after a short prayer, the bodies were taken in the church and placed just outside the altar rail.
 The bodies remained in the church all night, the following beings guards of honor, relieving each other hourly: Louis Murphy, Henry Dever, John Hillis, Thos. Gibbon, James Dever, William Kelly, Wm. Murphy, L. Gosnell, Wm. Grannan.
 The burial of the dead Redemptorists who were on Sunday removed from the Old Catholic cemetery to St. Peter's church took place Monday morning in the newly prepared burial plot at St. Peter's churchyard. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock, Rev. E. Schauer was the celebrant, Rev. Andrew Wynn was deacon, Rev. Henry Bott sub-deacon and Rev. A. J. Duke master of ceremonies. Rev. A. J. O'Neill and Rev. P. Leonard assisted in the sanctuary. The Mass was followed by the Solemn Libera.
 The biers were then carried by the pall-bearers to the churchyard. Here the prayers for the dead were recited by Rev. Father Schauer, after which the caskets were lowered one by one into the places prepared for them. Each of the priests then threw in a shovelful of earth. The Psalm De Profundis was then recited in English by the rector, Rev. Father Duke, and was followed by five Our Fathers and five Hail Marys for the souls of the departed Redemptorists.

 The services at the grave were simple and very impressive. The exhumation and re-burial of the dead Fathers and Brothers was conducted under the supervision of the rector, Mr. O'Neill performing the undertaking duties in connection with the re-burial.

ST. DUNSTAN'S COLLEGE.

Antigonish Casket: "The rectorate of St. Dunstan's College, Charlottetown, has changed hands, Rev. Dr. T. Curran goes to the parish, whilst Rev. T. Campbell takes his place at the college. St. Dunstan's loses a solid, efficient and practical man, but the choice of his successor is a happy one. We had the pleasure of knowing Father Campbell intimately at the College of the Propaganda. He is a gentleman of sterling character as well as unusual acumen. He is a nephew of the late Archbishop of Halifax, and possesses, in large measure, the literary vein that runs in the family."

A DOUBLE MEDALIST.

Owing to a mistake in tabulation by one of the University matriculation examiners, Miss Rosalie Waterman's marks in the mathematical subjects were placed at 156, whereas her correct marks were 209. The correction gives Miss Waterman the Parker medal for highest marks in mathematics of any St. John student. Miss Waterman, who is now visiting at Jemseg, made an excellent showing in the examination, winning both the Corporation gold and the Parker silver medals.

INDIAN RELICS.

As a result of the researches of Mr. Wm. McIntosh, A. Gordon Leavitt and party in the vicinity of Maquapit Lake and French Lake, the already fine collection of Indian relics in the possession of the Natural History Museum. Very little Indian pottery was found, but they got many specimens of flint and chalcodony implements, including a fine chalcodony borer, spear heads, arrow heads and hammer stones, all in good condition. They also received several donations of Indian relics from resident collectors.

ST. JOHN MAN'S SUCCESS.

The many friends of Mr. William H. Robinson, a popular Boston hat buyer, but formerly of St. John, will be glad to learn of his appointment by the Luke Horsfall Co., Hartford, Conn., to the responsible position of manager and buyer of men's, boys' and ladies' headwear, and also of the furs, trunks and bags. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are now visiting Mr. Robinson's sister, Mrs. James H. Hamilton, Pampdenec.

A HARDER JOB.

"It's hard to lose a beautiful daughter," said the wedding guest sympathetically.
 "It's a blamed sight harder to lose the homely ones," replied the old man who had several yet to go.

A SECULAR EDITOR'S TRIBUTE.

Editor Stead, of "The Pall Mall Gazette," and well known for his efforts in the cause of social purity, lecturing on this subject recently at Edinburgh, said that while he himself was a Protestant, and he presumed most of those present were Protestants, there was no blinking the fact that if they took a Protestant family and a Catholic family, and put them into a London slum, they would find that three or four years afterward half of the Protestant family had gone to the bad, while every member of the Catholic family had retained his or her virtue." Mr. Stead went on to say that it is the same with Catholics in Ireland; no matter what the circumstances are, they are virtuous. On this point, and perhaps on this point only, does the testimony of Protestant travellers in Ireland agree. "I was astonished," continued Mr. Stead, "to see people in Ireland living in poor cabins, who, whatever else they might be, were most virtuous. This I attribute to the instructions of their priests in the confessional and in the family, and of their insistence on the duties of parents to their children and of children to their parents and towards one another. The result is a moral miracle at which we, as Protestants, Presbyterians, or whatever we are, have reason to bow our heads in shame."

THE WOES OF THE WEAK-STOMACHED MAN

Relieved by Father Morriscy's "No. 11"
 Did you ever see a happy dyspeptic? Or a man cheerful over his indigestion? No wonder you didn't, for the man who cannot digest cannot enjoy very much. When the stomach refuses to work the whole system goes wrong, and there follows heartburn, headache, constipation, bad breath and severe pain. Then the mind is affected; a person becomes irritable, sarcastic, surly—in fact, almost unbearable.
 Father Morriscy gave this matter special study, and devised a tablet now known as "Father Morriscy's No. 11," which relieves the misery. Each tablet is capable of digesting 1 1/2 pounds of food—a good square meal. One tablet after eating, with a half tumbler of water, insures perfect digestion, providing reasonable care is taken to avoid foods that have been found especially disagreeable to the stomach.
 If you have suffered from a weak stomach, why not do as thousands have done—take Father Morriscy's No. 11 Tablets and be cured? See at your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B. 50

DEATHS AND BURIALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Campbell took place on Saturday morning from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John W. Hamilton, 236 Waterloo street. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Wm. Duke, assisted by Rev. D. S. O'Keefe, and M. O'Brien, as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. The interment was made in the old Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. James McDade took place on Saturday afternoon from her late residence, 11 North street, at 2.30. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Jas. Coll, John Coll, James Howard, M. F. Mooney, James McDonald and P. Driscoll. The burial service was read by Rev. M. O'Brien, and interment will be made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock of Miss Nellie Dwyer, daughter of the late Mr. Henry and Catherine Dwyer, from the residence of her uncle, Mr. John McIntyre, 46 Broad street. Services were read by Rev. W. Holland at St. John the Baptist church. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. Shortis, J. McAddy, George, Joseph, John and Gregory McDiarmid.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Maxwell will learn with regret of the death of their daughter, Miss Agatha R., which took place suddenly at Public Landing on Sunday at the early age of twenty years.

Miss Maxwell was a graduate of the St. John High School and Currie Business University and was exceedingly popular with all who knew her. Her mother, sisters and brothers were with her at the time. Miss Maxwell leaves besides her parents three brothers and three sisters. They are John, George and Robert, at home; Mrs. Charles E. Cowan and Miss Ottilie of this city, and Miss Marion, a nurse in the Oshing hospital, Oshing, N. Y. Miss Maxwell was a clever reader, having on different occasions delighted audiences in this city with her talent. She was a very estimable young lady, and her death is regretted by a large circle of friends.

Mr. Hurd Peters, C. E. for nearly half a century the engineer of St. John and the builder of its new wharves, as well as of most of the streets and many other of the public utilities, died on Monday evening after a brief illness, at his residence, No. 167 Paradise Row. The news was heard with sincere regret.

The sudden death of Mr. Thomas Furlong, of 43 Queen street, which occurred on Monday will be learned with regret by his friends. It was only last Thursday that Mr. Furlong was out and seemingly well. He leaves a wife, five sons, and three daughters. The children are Robert, Redmond, Maurice, Gerald, Edward, Evelyn, Mary and Grace.

The death took place on Tuesday morning at her residence, Regent St., Fredericton, of Mrs. Hannay, wife of Dr. James Hannay, following a long and severe illness with cancer. Many friends made by Mrs. Hannay during her long residence in St. John will learn of her death with regret. Mrs. Hannay was the daughter of the late Mr. Elias T. Ross, of St. John, and was born August 22, 1847. She was married to Dr. Hannay on January 26, 1866. They had no children, but she is survived by two adopted daughters, children of a sister, Mrs. H. R. Edmunds, of Menzies, West Australia, and Mrs. W. J. Bright, of New York.

Her many friends will hear with regret of her death. She leaves one son Denis, of Loch Lomond, and three daughters, Mrs. W. Marley, Mrs. John Callaghan and Miss Annie, also several grandchildren, among them Leo Callaghan, the baseball player.

SIGN OF THE SEVEN DEVILS.

A distinguished doctor some time ago wrote to a professional friend saying: "I would rather see a patient with almost any other disease enter my consulting room, than one afflicted with the seven devils of indigestion and dyspepsia." That doctor knew exactly that indigestion is difficult to cure—that it poisons the blood, starves and weakens the body and nerves. But he didn't seem to know that Mother Seigel's Syrup has cured tens of thousands of cases of indigestion. Simon Briand, Cape August P.O., Richmond Co., N.S., wrote us on January 27th last, saying: "For over 3 years I suffered from stomach troubles. The little food I ate gave no nourishment to my body. Three months ago, I tried Mother Seigel's Syrup and two bottles of it completely cured me." He adds that it also cured a number of his friends.—Price 60 cts. per bottle. A. J.
