WESTERN FAIR IS NOW OPEN; BIG SHOW IS IN FULL SWING

Some Departments Better Than Formerly—Others
Pretty Much the Same—Same Old Midway
Is Again Lined Up.

The Western Fair is now in full swing, nearly all the exhibits being placed in position. The fair compares favorably with other years; in fact, in many departments it is superior. There was quite a large crowd in attendance this morning, and a large number went out this afternoon.

The exhibits are of a good quality, and are well arranged. The Palace is filled with the usual lot of stuff that generally is found there.

Some of the exhibits are not placed in position as yet, and that detracts considerably from its appearance. It will be filled up by night, and will present a good appearance.

The Machinery Hall and Carriage Buildings are well filled, although not yet equal to former years.

Horses Excellent.

The horses are an excellent lot this year, in fact, the finest that ever have been shown at the Western Fair. Stalls for nearly 100 more are required, and it is with considerable difficulty that the horses will be placed. It is expected that they will all be located by evening time. The quality is good. The harness events have drawn a good lot of horses.

This morning's show is about the same as in former years, not much change being noticed.

The sheep and hogs are some better than previous years.

The Midway is filled along the line. The same old shows, with the same old girls, with the same old songs, with the same old barkers, are back again. The other attractions are about the same.

The Dog Show.

The dog show is going to be a great attraction, and some fine dogs are coming into the city. A large number of them are being benched this morning, and it is expected that the entries will be in line by this afternoon. There are over 400 entries, with few withdrawals. The poultry show is as good as usual.

The board of directors met this morning, but there was little business in hand. Few complaints had to be dealt with.

An English Boy Will Be Deported

Three months in Canada and half of that spent in jail is the record of Arthur Swansborough, the 16-year-old English boy, who was arrested on July 1 on a charge of having stolen a watch belonging to Thomas Riley, a Biddulph farmer, for whom the boy was working.

Police Magistrate Smith, of Alisa Craig, sentenced the youngster, who, by the way, looks twenty at least, to six months in the Central Prison.

The Central Prison people, however, refused to accept the boy, and the case was placed before the Governor-General, who ordered Swansborough deported.

This morning at 5 o'clock Immigration Inspector Boston arrived and took the lad to Toronto where he will be taken in charge by the Barnado Home authorities and deported to England from whence he was brought by Barnado Home agents.

The boy is said to be a very bright youngster and to have some knowledge of drilling tactics.

When the prisoners were turned out for their daily exercise in the jail yard he used to amuse himself and the other prisoners by going through a series of drills with a broom.

Dundas street, seeks to recover possession of the store on the site, which is now occupied by W. B. Lawson, the boot and shoe dealer.

The plaintiff alleges that Lawson's lease has expired, while the defendant claims that it has not yet run out, and refuses to move until it does expire.

There is also some dispute as to the amount of rent to be paid.

Mr. Lawson alleges that he has paid what he agreed to pay as rental, while the plaintiff seeks to recover an amount sufficient to make up what he claims has not been paid. J. M. McEvoy for defendant.

Congregationalists are Opposed To Sunday Street Cars in London

Rev. D. S. Hamilton Preached on the Subject in the First Church on Sunday.

Rev. D. S. Hamilton, B. A., of the First Congregational Church, referred briefly yesterday at both services to the agitation for Sunday cars. While admitting that there might be an honest difference of opinion upon such a question, Mr. Hamilton placed himself on record as strongly opposed to Sunday cars in London, for the following reasons: 1. The city is not large enough to necessitate the running of Sunday cars. 2. While there are some good men who favor the running of Sunday cars, a very large number of those who back up such a movement are those who are continually rushing after empty pleasure and have no serious regard for God nor the sacredness of the Lord's Day. 3. The running of the cars to Springfield on Sunday would make that park a point of Sabbath desecration and would simply demoralize the young people who frequented it. 4. The adoption of Sunday cars would be against the best interests of the workmen, because it would call for Sunday labor on the part of many men, and would be a further encroachment on their right to have the Lord's Day preserved to them as a day on which they shall enjoy the liberty of rest and opportunity for worship. 5. In conclusion, Mr. Hamilton said, "If it be true that many men have to work such long hours that Sunday is the only day that they can enjoy an outing with their families, the remedy will not be found in making Sunday a general picnic day, but in changing the industrial conditions in such a way that every man shall enjoy a proper amount of rest during the week. If need be, let those who are overworked have a holiday or partial holiday the middle of the week, and leave the Sabbath a restful day for all to enjoy. The moral, mental and spiritual for each returning week." The speaker further said that the church cannot dictate as to what men shall do regarding the Sabbath, but she can set forth what she believes to be right, standard and unselfish. The Christian people are in advance of pleasure-seeking worldlings and greedy corporations on questions that concern the highest well-being of the community; the church will not be bearing a faithful testimony.

Fierce Riot in Vancouver; The Foreign Section Razed

Mob Was in Control for Five Hours—Attack on Japs and Chinese.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 8.—The intense feeling against the Oriental invasion of British Columbia broke out late last night and for five whole hours Vancouver was in the hands of a mob, which at times threatened death to all that stood in its way.

This morning about 8 o'clock the mob was dispersed, but not before large portions of the Japanese and Chinese section of the city was in ruins.

Nothing to equal the ferocity of these enraged crowds of men has ever been seen in this city. They were uncontrollable. Their attacks on the fear-crazed Orientals were with the ferocity of beasts. Sixteen of these foreigners were stabbed, but none fatally.

The feeling of antipathy to the coming of the Japs, Hindus and Chinese has been growing for some time and trouble has been feared for months. Repeated appeals have been made to Ottawa to adopt some measures that would prevent an open attack on these Asiatics. Nothing has been done.

Former Londoner Killed in Detroit

Mr. Thos. Hastings, the well-known photographer of this city, on Saturday night received word that his brother-in-law, Mr. Alex. C. Watt, of Detroit, had been killed in that city.

The only particulars received are to the effect that Mr. Watt, who was a bricklayer, fell from a building on which he was working and sustained injuries from which he died almost instantly.

The late Mr. Watt was a native of Chesley, Ont., but had lived in London for some years.

He was about 45 years of age, and left this city fifteen years ago.

Doesn't Blame People of the West; Mr. More Speaks of Jap Situation

In British Columbia—Has Just Returned From Four Years' Residence in Australia.

"I cannot blame the people of British Columbia for warring on the Japanese and other foreigners. The man who has lived amongst these people will sympathize with the people of British Columbia."

This is what Mr. William More, formerly of West London, and who has been for four years in the mining districts of Australia, told The Advertiser today.

Mr. More, who has just returned from the east, says that if the influx of Japanese, Hindus, etc., is not stopped, the west will be ruined. White men cannot compete with such people, and the fifth and immorality of them, as he saw them in Honolulu, for example, are abominable.

Mr. More thinks Australia is the only country in the world, and he advises young Canadians to go there.

"The country is run by the labor people," he said, "and all are beginning to realize that the Government of the country is the best for all concerned. The people there, of all classes, do more than exist—they live."

Londoners who are doing well in Australia are Mr. E. J. Martin, who now owns the Shamrock Hotel at Bendigo, and Mr. Cecil Murray, who is representing Parke, Davis & Co., in Sydney.

Mr. More brought back with him some very fine gold nuggets and ore specimens. He will remain in Canada till Christmas, when he will return to Australia.

NO THIRD TERM FOR ROOSEVELT

Congressman Longworth Says
Father-in-Law Will Not Accept Nominations.

New York, Sept. 9.—A special from Honolulu to the American quotes Congressman Longworth, who has just sailed from that port for San Francisco, as saying:

"President Roosevelt will not become a candidate for renomination unless the entire country demands it. He has firmly made up his mind to stick to this course, and only a more widespread demand for him to accept the nomination will alter his determination."

Jeremiah Had Too Much Timothy; Load of Hay Upset on Talbot Street

And Young Englishman Gave Vent to His Feelings Re the Whole of Canada.

Hubert Berry, a London Township farmer, has in his employ a farmhand whose name is said to be Jeremiah Shuttleworth.

Jeremiah doesn't like Canada, and has been heard to assert that he has met more misfortunes in the few short months that he has been over from England than he encountered in all his life before.

There is one thing, argues Mr. Shuttleworth, that he has cause to be grateful for since his advent into the Dominion, and that is that there is no trace of monotony about his troubles. Each new one is of an entirely different variety from the previous one.

Too Much Hay.

The climax of all Shuttleworth's troubles as a Canadian soil, however, took place this morning, when he hired out to Mr. Berry, and was sent to market with a choice load of Timothy (Continued on Page Eight.)

Gen. Welch Praises Boys of the 7th

Lieut.-Col. Frank Reid of the Seventh Regiment is in receipt of a personal letter from Gen. Welch of the Sixty-fifth New York Regiment, Buffalo, in which he compliments the boys of the Seventh on their excellent behavior during their trip to Buffalo. He speaks very highly of the work of London's soldier boys, and was very well pleased with their behavior.

"I saw the boys on the street several times," he writes, "and they always seemed to be enjoying themselves. Their behavior was excellent, and they are a credit to your command."

Gen. Welch was marshal of the forces on Canadian day, at Buffalo.

THE OPENING OF LEGISLATURE

Likely to Occur First Week in January—Ontario Ministers
Are Busy.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The Ontario Cabinet ministers will be busy from this time on preparing for the opening of the Legislature, which will take place in all probability the first week in January. The big item will be the re-distribution bill, and the session will likely be short, to be followed by an election next June.

If the present idea of some of the minister is carried out the Government year will end on Oct. 31, in order to allow the accounts and reports to be prepared and printed for the House. This will result in much shorter sessions, as the first few weeks of the Legislature are practically wasted awaiting the return of the accounts.

EDWARD ANDREWS BADLY INJURED

Workman at London Canning Company's Factory Fell Down Stairs.

Mr. Edward Andrews, 776 Hill street, watchman for the London Canning Company, met with a serious accident some time during Saturday night.

Sunday morning, Manager Hayes of the company, noticed a light in the factory, and going over, found that the door leading into the boiler-room was locked. He burst the door open, and found Andrews lying on the floor unconscious.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson was called, and the man was removed to Victoria Hospital. He was unconscious when found, and has not yet regained complete consciousness. It is feared that the base of the skull is fractured. His face was cut badly, and he was bruised considerably.

It is not known how the accident happened. Andrews is said to have been a first-class watchman, and he knows the works thoroughly. It was not dark. He could not have fallen down cellar in the dark, as the place is well lighted.

It is presumed that he was going down into the boiler-room and slipped, striking his head on the cement floor. His condition is considered serious.

YOUNG WOMEN IN STREET VAUDEVILLE

Put on a Lively Bout in Front of a Local Restaurant.

Two young ladies put on a vaudeville turn in front of a downtown restaurant Saturday evening that was a thing of beauty, and some joy to the spectators. One lady was a trifle older than the other, but that was not the argument.

A man entered into the case. One loved him, the other was smitten by his charms. Then the discussion started. They tossed several mangled masses of the King's English at each other until one of the ladies accused the other of not being a lady. Then the fight started.

The air was blue for a few minutes, and then the combatants were separated just before the approach of a policeman.

SHRUBB MAKES CANADIAN RECORD

Beat Kanaly Before Enormous
Crowd—Time for Five Miles, 25:25.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Nearly 8,000 people, the majority of whom were from the old sod, wended their way to the island Saturday night to see the Shrubb-Kanally five-mile match race, and the professional running events.

It was after 10 o'clock when Kanally of Boston, the American five-mile champion, jumped over the boards into the track, closely followed by Alfred Shrubb of England, the champion of the world. Both were given an enthusiastic reception, with the laurels going to Shrubb. Starter Joe Kelly soon got the pair away, Kanally taking the break only to be passed by Shrubb in 20 yards. The first mile was done in 4:47, the runners being even up. Kanally took the pace after the first mile, but only for half a lap, when Shrubb passed him, setting a terrific pace, increasing his lead by nearly 100 yards at 1 1/2 miles, when the lights went out and the remainder of the race was finished in darkness.

The two miles was done in 9:53, and the three in 15:11, while just after passing the four-mile mark, which was done in 20:27, Shrubb lapped his opponent. The five miles was done in 25:25 by Shrubb, who finished the last lap with a great burst of speed. Kanally was a lap and a quarter behind.

Shrubb's five-mile record is 24:23 2-5, and the Canadian amateur record is 26:25. After the race Shrubb was carried on the shoulders of his admirers into the club house.

LONDON MAN WAS HIGHLY HONORED

Mr. George Wilson, Formerly of This City, Presented With an Address.

A Guelph paper contains the following reference to Mr. Geo. Wilson, who is a former resident of this city:

"Last evening at the close of the day's work, the employees of the Taylor-Forbes hardware foundry gathered in the core room, the occasion being a presentation to the retiring foreman, Mr. Geo. Wilson. Mr. A. Calander, who was called upon to act as chairman, requested Mr. Wilson to come forward. Then in a few well-chosen words, on behalf of the men, expressed regret at Mr. Wilson's severing his connection with the Forbes Company, and wishing him every success in his new enterprise."

"He then asked Mr. Wilson to accept a handsome silver tea service as a token of their esteem for him as a man, as a foreman and as a shopmate."

Mr. Wilson made a feeling reply, thanking the boys for their gift and for their thoughtfulness. Mr. Wilson leave his present employment to assume charge of the foundry of the Gibson Manufacturing Company of Guelph."

Another Car Off Horton Street Tracks; Trolley No. 56 Runs for the Gutter

Fortunately No One Was Injured
—Differences as to the Speed of the Car.

Another run-off took place on Horton street, between Wellington and Clarence streets, Saturday night when Car No. 90, on the Oxford line, ran off the track, while traveling at what has been described by passengers as a high rate of speed.

The car was well filled with passengers at the time and was going east. Near Wellington street it suddenly left the track, plunged into the south curb and was turned completely around.

No passengers were injured so far as can be learned, although all received a severe shaking up, and suffered shocks from fright. This makes the second run-off at that point within a week, and on the first occasion two children playing on the sidewalk narrowly escaped death when the car left the track.

Manager King, of the street railway, when interviewed this morning, stated that the trouble was caused by the fact that at the point there were grooved rails when there should be "T" rails.

"Our tracks out on the Pottersburg line are much worse than those on Horton street," said he, "and yet we never have any trouble out there."

When questioned regarding the statements of passengers to the effect that the car which jumped the track on Saturday night was traveling at a very high rate of speed, Mr. King replied that "cars are always going faster than they should at the time of an accident, in the eyes of the public."

Mr. King Speaks.

Mr. King stated that the city bayload under which the street car company operates calls for the use of grooved rails, and that until a change is made, the trouble will continue.

Gillies Wins the Stevely Prize; Has the Highest Batting Average

East End Averages Given Out
by the Official Scorer, Mr.
Chas. Moorehead.

Mr. Charles Moorehead, scorer of the East End League, has made up the averages of the league for the season, and contributes the following comment on the work of the leading players:

Sherritt caught 7 games for the Ramblers. He had 30 put outs behind the bat and 5 errors. He would lead Dunn of the Somervilles at third base if this was not placed in his record.

Cochrane leads the first basemen, closely followed by Tanton, of the Wortmans. Shannon, the second baseman; Donohue, the Somerville shortstop; Hughes, of the Stars, and left fielder W. Penwarden.

Somerville Center Fielder Seltzer, of the Orlens, in 8 games, has a percentage of 1.060; Quinn of the Ramblers, in 13 games, has .857.

J. McConnell, of the Wortmans, leads the catchers with a high percentage of .991.

Fitzmaurice the pitchers with .947.

According to the rules adopted some time ago, batting averages must be compiled from 9 games or more, bases stolen, and the same number of strike-outs for the pitchers from five or more games.

Gillies, of the Ramblers, takes Ald Stevely's prize for the highest batting average—.387. Delaney, of the Orlens is second with .348. Cochrane, Richardson, Jeffries, and Seltzer, who did not play the required number of games, were all well up.

Delaney and Cochrane made a big run at the finish.

Brooks, of Somerville, wins Major Judd's prize for the strike-outs.

Brennan, of Orlens, won the medal from the Athletic Association for the largest number of stolen bases.

The road was cleared and the passengers were brought on.

The baggage car was smashed to pieces, and the baggage was supposed to be sent on today. The baggage of the vaudeville people has not arrived as yet. However, it is expected to be here this afternoon.

Among the performers who were in the smash were Walter E. Perkins & Co., Patsy Doyle, and Nagel and Hill.

"It was a narrow escape," said Mr. Doyle this morning to The Advertiser. "If we had gone down the embankment it would have been very serious. Still, we are thankful it was no worse."

Smerlies' Lawyer in London Again

Lawyer Kerwin, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is in the city, looking after the interests of his client, Peter Smerlies, in regard to the numerous suits that, it is alleged, will inevitably follow the Crystal Hall disaster.

He is collecting witnesses and gathering evidence.

During his stay in London the plans for the new building that, it is said, will be erected for Mr. Smerlies on the site of the old building will be gone over, and alterations suggested.

It is expected that the contract will be given shortly.

A conference between Mr. W. J. Reid and Mr. Kerwin was held this morning.

The Jewish New Year Ushered In

Rosh Hashonah, the Jewish New Year, was ushered in at sundown last night, and is being celebrated today in all the synagogues of the world.

Five hundred thousand Hebrews observed the day in New York, and scores of theaters and halls were transformed into places of worship, to accommodate the celebrants. Places of business were closed through the day.

Ghetto, while many large firms in other parts of New York observed the day.

In London the day was observed with all the ceremony of the Jewish custom. All Jewish places of business are closed here, as in New York.

There are many Jewish visitors in London from Detroit and outside places.

Mr. Borden Addresses Chathamites;
Meeting in that City Saturday Night

Expounds the "Halifax" Platform, But Says Nothing New
—The Usual Platitudes.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Sept. 7.—Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the House of Commons, addressed a largely-attended meeting in the Biscoe Opera House this afternoon. It was the opening gun in the west-end naturally many people were anxious to hear what the leader had to say. As was expected, Mr. Borden said nothing new but clung to the planks he floated in the east some time ago.

Prior to his speech, Chairman J. Pike presented him, on behalf of the Conservative Association of the city, with an address.

Mr. Borden's Speech.

"I would like to say," he declared, "that the fight of the Conservative Opposition since 1901 in Parliament has been a somewhat harder and sturdier fight than many of our friends realize. The Government which is in power has done its utmost to discourage us from Investigating conditions and keeping the people informed of matters as they stand at Ottawa."

He referred to the frequent allegations on the part of the Liberal press to the effect that were the Conservative party to get into power, it would not have a sufficient array of capable men from whom to select a cabinet. "With regard to this, let me say," he declared, "that no matter what their present opinion may be, when the Conservative party forms a Government, and that will be after the next election, I believe that we will not only have 75 good men, but the best men in the country will be among them."

Admits Prosperity.

It is said that the country is Continued on page nine.

SIXTY YEARS A PRIEST.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Very Rev. Deak O'Connor, of Marysville, stricken with apoplexy Saturday, died today, aged 82 years.

He was 60 years in the priesthood.

IF YOU ARE DEAF, SEE THIS MAN

Geo. P. Way, inventor of the Way Ear Drum, is stopping at the Tecumseh House, and will be pleased to meet all who are afflicted with defective hearing or deafness. He asks no fee for consultation and advice, and in all cases tells you plainly just what he can do for you. Mr. Way, whose home office is in the Majestic Building, Detroit, Mich., is visiting the principal cities of the country in order to meet personally those who are deaf, and will stay in London until Saturday night next. Mr. Way, who is an electrical engineer by profession, was himself deaf for 25 years and it was to relieve his own trouble that he devoted his genius and skill to solving the problem of an artificial aid of hearing. His theory that the human ear is only a delicate piece of mechanism has been proven true, and it is interesting to see Mr. Way remove from his ears the little devices he invented, and without which he is as badly off as those who are daily consulting him for defective hearing. All who are deaf should visit Mr. Way while he is in the city, as his success with the Way Ear Drums in relieving deafness is unquestionable. Nine out of every ten who have tried them have been helped. Is such a record not worthy of your confidence? Take the elevator and the attendant will show you to Mr. Way's parlors.

If you cannot call on Mr. Way at this time, write to the Way Ear Drum Company, 1320 Majestic Building, Detroit, Mich.

Londoners at the Toronto Cat Show; Local People Captured Prizes

Dr. Niven, Miss Knott and Miss Wood Did Very Well in the Competition.

The Toronto Telegram has the following article from a special correspondent:

For the benefit of those who were unfortunate enough to be prevented from attending the cat show at the exhibition I will endeavor to describe it.

First the dog building had been gaily decorated with colored bunting, and for the first time in the history of the cat shows the whole of the lower floor was used. This was the largest and best show ever held in Canada, 212 cats being entered. By the way, every cat entered in the championship classes and winning a first prize, is entitled to count three points towards the ten required to make it a champion.

Cats in Good Condition.

Many remarks were passed by American visitors about the splendid variety and condition of the short hair cats owned in Canada.

In the few years the Royal Canadian Cat Club has existed, it has done very good work for the cat in general.

Siamese Cats Shown.

It is most encouraging to see the interest that the girls and boys are commencing to take in this much neglected and abused animal. Two Siamese cats were shown, one belonged to Miss Jane Cathart, of Oradell, New Jersey; and the other to Mrs. Dykhouse, of Grand Rapids, Michigan. Peterkin, a Russian blue, who was imported by Mrs. Sage, of Rochester (who, by the way, lectures before the school children of the United States on behalf of the Humane Society), carried off a number of ribbons.

Silver Short-Haired Cats.

Mrs. Mitchellson, of Tariffville, Connecticut, brought her imported silver short-hair, who rejoices in the name of "The Buzzing Silver." Mrs. Keilher getting her first defeat with her cat Silver Heels, but she did particularly well in taking a second, so is not at all discouraged.

The largest class was really the Manx, and I was quite surprised to find that so many were owned in Toronto. Two very handsome blacks belonging to a little school girl, Carrie Cavan, were very much admired.

Cats Not at Their Best.

The majority of the long-haired or Persian cats were very much out of coat, but that was to be expected, as they really do not commence to get into condition until October or November.

Mrs. Dykhouse did not bring over Y. Brenin Gwyn, her splendid blue-eyed male, but brought Princess of Paris, her latest acquisition. Mrs. Jackson brought Saratoga Anfel, from the famous Osiris stock, giving Shuniah, belonging to Miss Cox, her last defeat. In Canada, Miss Cox showed Mitcham Liddle, an imported blue, who was a great favorite on account of her handsome blue kittens.

Blue and Cream Queen

Miss Annie Wood, of London, carried off her share of prizes and special. One of the most attractive cats was the one in which was a blue and cream queen, with her family of assorted colors, belonging to Miss Wood in the show.

Mr. Knott, of London, purchased a handsome orange queen, Princess Goldie, from Mrs. Dykhouse, as a mate to his splendid orange tabby, Alfonso.

Valuable Cat Lost.

Mr. Marshall, of Beamsville, entered Rusty, a magnificent orange male, but unfortunately he got lost between the Union station and the exhibition, consequently Red Prince of Gladfield had the field to himself.

A lot has been said on the superiority of the cats from across the border, but the Canadians can hold their own, as was shown by the winners.

Dr. Niven Won Cup.

Dr. Niven, of London, who is a well-known dog fancier, sent down a number of cats and kittens, including Albert Edward, a magnificent blue male, who won several prizes, including the cup for the best male in the show.

Mrs. Bell is justly proud of her splendid brown tabby queen Madame Bovary, who got wins in the Connecticut and Buffalo challenge cups for the best queen in the show.

Mrs. Hardy, of Detroit, got a win in the Gentian cup with Rajah, her brown tabby male, who, by the way, will be with Mr. Marshall, of Beamsville, for a time. Miss Champion, of Staten Island, New York, was the judge, and considering the size of the show, there was very little grumbling over the awards.

All are inclined to think their geese are swans, but must learn to take wins thankfully and defeat gracefully.

Sunday in the Churches of London; Many Interesting Sermons Preached

Rev. W. J. Clark in His Old Pulpit—Rev. Mr. Malott at the Sunday School.

Large congregations turned out both morning and evening, Sunday, to hear the Rev. W. J. Clark preach at his old church, the First Presbyterian.

In the morning Mr. Clark chose for his text St. John xiv, 12th verse. Mr. Clark began his sermon by making mention of the Lord's last supper, when the traitor Judas was pointed out as his future betrayer. "Treachery is one of the chief causes of earthly troubles," said the preacher. Mr. Clark pointed out that there was but one being whom we could absolutely trust, and that was God. Somewhat one's best earthly friend betrayed him, but in God all could find a fountain of everlasting trust. Those who had found God had prepared for themselves a home forever, and God's children need have no fear of treachery.

In concluding, Mr. Clark expressed his regret at Dr. Pidgeon's decision to not come to London, and hoped that in the very near future a man equally as good might be obtained for the First Presbyterian pulpit.

In the evening Mr. Clark selected for his text I. Peter ii, 2, 3, and dwelt at length on the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death.

"Today we live and formulate great plans for the morrow. Tomorrow we are as dust and our earthly castles have crumbled away."

Mr. Clark quoted scripture to illustrate the points. One of the quotations was from Peter I, 24.

"For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away; but the word of the Lord endureth forever."

The Rev. Dr. Ross' text for the morning sermon at St. Andrew's was "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

In part the speaker pointed out that the only true rest was to be found in God. He who is without God is aware of a great void in his life, and he who gave himself up to Christ found the blessed peacefulness which was denied the unrepentant sinner.

Yesterday was Sunday School day at the Colborne Street Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. F. E. Malott, M. A., preaching especially to the scholars. There was a very large representation of children present and the services were most inspiring.

The sermon was a historical resume of the work of the Sabbath school. When it was first founded none knew, but as far back as the time of Nebuchadnezzar the school was in active operation. This school was continued during all the time of the Jewish dispensation, and during the early days of Christianity it occupied a most important place. The modern Sunday school was the result of the Wesleyan revival. The movement was much opposed at its inception by church dignitaries, but it won its way and now was recognized as one of the most, if not the most, important features of the church.

ture of church work. He regretted that there was not as deep an interest taken in it as there should be. The work was exceedingly important, and should be well looked after. There were five reasons why the school should be supported.

1.—The school was saving the Sabbath. It was making a proper use of the Lord's Day.

2.—It was saving the Bible. In these days the Bible was in danger of being a lost book among men, but the school gave habits of study to the children that would tend to keep the Bible an open book ever after.

3.—It saves the home.

4.—It saves the church. The Sabbath school is the nursery of the church.

5.—The Sabbath school saves the boys and girls.

Installation services were held at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday morning, when Canon Daan was installed as precentor of the cathedral, and Rev. R. Hicks, rector of Simcoe, was installed as a canon in the cathedral. The impressive services were conducted by His Lordship Bishop Williams, assisted by Rev. Evans Davis, dean of the cathedral, and Major Hume Croxson, chancellor of the diocese. After the ceremony the bishop preached a splendid sermon on "We Look Not on the Things That Are Seen." In the evening Canon Hicks preached an inspiring sermon on "Abide With Us for It Is Toward Evening." Large congregations were present at both services.

Rev. E. B. Lanceley preached on "Temptation" in the Dundas Center Church. He alluded to the fact that youth was not the critical time of life, but middle age. More men go astray in middle life than during their youth. Men were always tempted, but they should learn not to be overcome.

Rev. A. K. Birks, of Askin Street Methodist Church, spoke on the subject, "What Think Ye of Christ." His sermon attracted a large congregation.

THE DRINK HABIT IN BRITAIN.

It is of course gratifying to the teatasters of Great Britain to find from the official statistics that there has been a falling off in the consumption of spirits and beer in the United Kingdom, but were there in these figures any encouragement for the belief that the coming years would see a continued and persistent decrease, the outlook from the viewpoint of the opponents of the drink habit would be far more harmful than it is. As a matter of fact there is reason to look for fluctuations, as in the past.The official report goes as far back as 1839 in dealing with the consumption of spirits, and places the quantity drunk in that year at 0.95 gallon per inhabitant. In 1840 it was 0.80 gallon,
in 1850, 0.88; in 1860, 0.90; in 1870,
1.01; in 1881, 1.06, and in 1888, 0.96.Thus in a period of nearly sixty years there was one decade which showed a marked decline, followed by an increase through four decades, and then another decline that brings very close together the last and the first figures. Coming down to more recent years it is found that the consumption in 1899-1900 was 1.13 gallons per head of population, which is the heaviest recorded. Since then, however, there has been a marked decline to 0.91 gallon, which is the third lowest point of which there is record.As regards beer, the average consumption in England and Wales was 30 gallons per head of population in the period from 1801 to 1830; 33 gallons in 1831 to 1860, and 36 gallons in 1861 to 1880. During the years 1899-1900 the beer consumption in the whole United Kingdom was 32.29 gallons per head, and in 1906-7 the consumption dropped to 27.81.On the whole there seems reason for the belief that permanent gains have been made throughout the country for temperance, for the decline of the drink habit has been attended with a substantial decrease in the number of persons engaged in the traffic. In ten years there has been a decrease from 8,305 to 4,985 in brewers' licenses issued; and from 232,702 to 222,394 in the number of licenses to traders in intoxicants.

THE NEWSPAPER BUSINESS.

It has been well said that nothing is so cheap as a newspaper, yet how few people stop to consider what the production of an up-to-date journal costs.
Features that in the course of a month
run the expenses of a newspaper office up to large sums are taken by the average reader as matter of course, and many appear to think that the few cents they pay weekly for their daily paper covers the cost of production and leaves a goodly balance for the publisher. These people, however, forget that not more than 50 per cent of the gross revenue goes into the pockets of the publisher, who shares at least equally with the vendors. To give to the public what in these days is considered a live newspaper costs more than ever it did, and the cost is constantly increasing. There are the paper, ink, telegraph, power, light and other bills to be met and salaries and wages to be paid, which in the course of a year mount up to a total that would astonish those on the outside.
It is, therefore, little wonder that capitalists seeking investment fight shy of the newspaper field, particularly when it is so well filled as it is in London and other Canadian cities.Nor does the increase in the cost of production in any way tend to rob the product of any of its features. Indeed the contrary is the fact, for never before has so much enterprise been thrown into the newspaper industry as is the case today. John Norris, who has been connected with the business departments of leading New York and Philadelphia newspapers for many years, and who may be regarded as an expert, seems, however, to fear that unless the steady increase in cost comes to a speedy stop, what little money there is in the newspaper business must soon disappear. His view of the situation is that the newspaper press of New York is confronted with a most serious menace, which is no less than an additional annual burden of $3,000,000 in the expense amount of the sixteen daily newspapers of that city. This includes $2,160,000 additional for white paper, $600,000 more for compositors' wages, an increase of $200,000 for stereotypers, and of $100,- 000 for other labor. Mr. Norris believes that on such terms as these not more than four of the sixteen papers would be able to pay their way. The only way out of it he can see is for thepapers to double the price. The immense sum of two and a half million dollars is annually paid out by one of these papers, the World, for labor alone, or $50,000 weekly, no less than 1,000 of the men on its pay roll receiving over $1,500 a year. From the sale of that paper the news vendors make an annual profit of one and a half million dollars, the smallest portion of the returns going to swell the company's receipts.Mr. Norris' estimate of increase in the cost of white paper is possibly based on the assumption that agitation
in Canada will result in the Dominion Government placing an export duty on spruce logs or prohibiting their export, and that as the United States
supply is said to be rapidly vanishing, American paper makers will soon be dependent on Canada for their raw material, if indeed, the newspapers are not obliged to rely on Canadian mills for their paper.

BRITISH TRADE EXPANSION.

There is every evidence that industrial and commercial conditions in Great Britain are still sound, despite the croakings of pessimists. According to official returns, great vitality is still shown at the end of three years of continuous growth of Britain's foreign trade. In that period the expansion has amounted to $585,000,000, or 40 per cent. There has been an increase in the net imports of 14 per cent. Notwithstanding the fact that since 1904
a vast amount of British capital has been invested abroad and a large revenue is now being brought into the country in the shape of dividends, interest and profits, the excess of imports over exports, or the "unfavorable balance," as some call it, has been diminished by $250,000,000. An interesting fact brought out by the trade returns is that the increase in exports is for the most part the result of the greater demand of foreign countries
for British products, both manufactured and partly so. The growth of the mother country's trade with Canada, Australasia, the other colonies and India is most encouraging, but owing to the needs of their vast populations, European countries and the United States continue to be Britain's largest customers, being credited with nearly four-fifths of the gain in exports. For instance, during the first half of the current year the United States purchased over $81,000,000 worth of British goods, as against a total during the corresponding half of 1905 of about $56,000,000. With the exception of South Africa, Japan and the Philippines, British exports to every country of the world have increased. For the present, at least, Japan has ceased borrowing, her policy apparently being to economize, stimulate home industries and buy as little as possible abroad.Britain's trade prospects, in which Canada and the other colonies share,
are undoubtedly of the brightest character, and there is every reason to believe that her export trade will continue to expand.

SCIENTIFIC WORK.

[Washington Star.]

The professor had complained that the world in general still looks on science in a slighting way, and that reminded one of his companions of a story of a western trapper.The trapper, noticing a place where roots
had been dug up, examined the spot carefully. Then, as he rose and brushed the earth from his knees, he said, with calm conviction:"This was done either by a wild hog or by a botanist."

A BAFFLED PLOT.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]

George wanted to make it disagreeable
for the unpopular aunt who was coming to visit them, and hired a hand organ to play in front of the house all the afternoon on the day she arrived. When he came home at night his wife met him at the door."George, there was a hand organ man playing in front of the house all the afternoon. I tried to drive him away, and he wouldn't go. It was really dreadful!"
George chuckled."And how did auntie like it?"
"Auntie! Why, she couldn't hear a sound. She's grown so awfully deaf, you know."

DYING.

[Pall Mall Gazette.]

A little shudder.
Is it fear?
A hand uplifted.
Who is near?
A gathering darkness.
Is it night?
The dear world passing
Out of sight.
A soft kiss falling.
As we were?
A sudden sobbing.
A closing door.
And then alone for evermore.

AUDIENCE READY TO HELP.

[London Express.]

At a representation of Schiller's "Don Carlos" in the Belgrade Theater, the platform with which Don Carlos should have shot
the Marquis de Posa, refused to go off, and the discomfited actors fled behind the curtain.Offers of loaded weapons were at once made by several members of the audience.

BUSH WITH 2,000 ROSES.

[Kennebec (Me.) Journal.]

Janitor Robert Bowker, of the Taconnet clubhouse, in Winslow, started the year with an attempt to raise 2,000 roses on the big bush which has been his care for several years. The last rose was picked Sunday.A careful count has been kept of the roses which have been taken from the bush with the knowledge and consent of the janitor, and they figure up to 1,821,
and it is believed that enough roses have been taken by people passing in the night
to have made the grand total at least 2,000.

ING.

[London Globe.]

Although the Viennese shop windows are generally considered to be the most artistically arranged of any capital in Europe,
the tradesmen complain of the increasing difficulty they experience in getting first-class artists for this work. A special window dressing school is now to be established, in which young men and women
may obtain a thorough technical training
in this branch of storekeeping.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

[Motor News.]

Clerk—How much shall I charge for this three-quarter-inch clip screw?
Manager—For a bicycle, I suppose? Oh,
a penny.
Clerk—No; it's for a motor car, sir.
Manager—Eh! Charge half a crown.

HIS LEGAL FRIEND.

[Philadelphia Press.]

"Didn't you win anything in your suit
for damages?"
"No."
"Why didn't you engage a bright lawyer to take your part?"
"I did, but he took my all."

UNNECESSARY.

[Judge.]

The Lady—My husband is particularly liable to seasickness, captain. Could you tell him what to do in case of an attack?
The Captain—Tain't necessary, mum.
He'll do it."

TO BOTH.

[Chicago Tribune.]

Nan (sighing)—Harold proposed last night.
Fan—Yes; I wasn't going to say anything about it. How did you find it out?

PROOF.

[New York Sun.]

Stella—How do you know she remembered your birthday?
Bella—By the ostentatious way she forgot it.

FOUND IN A TRUNKMurderer Tries to Hide by Fire
Evidence of a Terrible Crime.Rome, Sept. 7.—A trunk murder mystery, similar in many respects to that of Monte Carlo, is reported from Palermo.The victim is an unknown, well-dressed youth, about 21 years of age.
The body, which bore marks of pistol and knife wounds on the head and hands, had been cut into eight sections, which had been wrapped and neatly tied in linen cloths and deposited in a couple of trunks well saturated with petroleum.At about 10 o'clock in the morning three individuals were noticed by the tollgate keepers driving in a cab with these trunks in the direction of Bello-campo, a wild deserted country district on the outskirts of Palermo.
There they halted to convey their ghastly burden beneath the bridge,
where they deluged the exterior of the trunks with the contents of bottles of petroleum brought for the purpose.
Then they set fire to the whole and drove away at a furious rate.

Discovered by Peasant.

A peasant, chancing to pass and seeing the flames notified the toll-gate officers, who, in their turn, summoned the police. By the time the latter had arrived to make the horrible discovery of the crime, one of the trunks, containing the bulk of the body, had been completely carbonized,
but the other, inclosing the head, arms
and left leg, was intact, thus serving the authorities with precious means of investigation.Three men have been arrested, and one, George Sacco, confessed to the crime. He said that the murdered man was Henry Francols, a youth of 22, a deserter from a regiment at Tun-
nis. He came to Palermo, and there made the acquaintance of Sacco, with whom he lived. On Sunday they quarreled, and Francols threatened to stab Sacco, who fired three times with a revolver, killing him. For two days
the body remained concealed in the house.

Body Cut Up.

Then, in fear of discovery, Sacco
told of the occurrence to two friends, Dantoni and Messina, who helped him to cut the body to pieces with a knife, which they threw into the sea.
The body was then removed from the house in two boxes, which they brought in a cab outside the town, and set fire to with petroleum.
From police inquiries it seems that the Frenchman and Sacco were forgers,
and several counterfeit bank
notes were found in Sacco's house.
An arrest has also been made at Naples, where, it appears, the forgers had associates.

of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, Sept. 4, when their daughter, Laura Mabel, was married to Mr. J. Dewitt Mooney, druggist, of Elora, and son of the late Rev. James Mooney, of Hamilton.The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by her cousin, Miss Amelia Duncan, of London. The room was decorated with evergreens and flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S.
R. McVitty, of Essex, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hutton, of Delaware. The bride was assisted by Miss E. Mooney, of Elora, sister of the groom, and her niece, Miss Margaret Bole, of Newark, N. J., as ring bearer. The groom-smen were Mr. Aylmer Stoneham was groom-

very dainty wedding breakfast, after which the young couple left to spend their honeymoon in western points.The presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Mooney will re-

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years.
One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they had entirely disappeared. The Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and

The White Cat

[BY GELETT BURGESS, AUTHOR OF "VIVETTE," Copyright by Bobbe-Merrill Company.]

A great library table stood in the center of the apartment, one end of which was covered with magazines—everything from the Journal of Abnormal Psychology to the Pink 'Un. Upon the other end, resting on a hide of oze leather, were scattered tools and materials, and the unfinished chest upon which Miss Fielding had been working. This was covered with young calfskin, the soft hair still on, a pretty brindle tan and white, and it was bound on the edges with brass strips. These were fastened in place by close rows of brass-headed nails, which accounted for the pouncing I had heard. I was admiring the workmanlike way in which the chest was made, when Miss Fielding came in.

"What do you think of my 'bossy-coffee'?" she said. "Isn't it going to be a beauty? My own invention. Don't steal the scheme, and I'll show you how."

She stood up to the table, and taking one of the brass strips, laid off the divisions and punched holes for the nails, and then hammered it on. She kept up, meanwhile, a running fire of persiflage. Occasionally she would stop to toss her hammer into the air and catch it nimbly by the handle as it fell.

"I thought you were going to call me Edna," she said after a while, pausing with some nails in her mouth to look over at me. "Don't you like the name?"

"I thought you didn't like it," I said, my eyes turning from her brisk, clever hands to her absorbed face. A wave passed over it as I looked—that baffled expression I had noticed before.

"Did I say so?" Her hammer was poised in mid-air.

"Oh, yes, I suppose so. It doesn't matter. Nicknames seldom stick."

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

AN OUTFIT FOR THE BABY—4125

A pretty little set of dress, cloak and cap for the little one is shown for a suggestion to the mother who is fashioning such garments. Every little maid must have the fresh air and all that she can get of it for it is this and the sunshine which makes her grow. Warmth is a necessity with tender creatures and the cape has several advantages over the coat with sleeves because small arms do not easily go into sleeves and it saves precious time and trouble to slip the wrap around the shoulders and fasten it in front as shown. For very young babies, this style is far better than the coat with sleeves as any mother will agree who has attempted to dress her baby for the outdoor trip. The cap may be finished with the revers or not and it may be as elaborate or simple as desired. The dress is not fussy, having only a small round yoke and full sleeves. Cashmere, French flannel and broadcloth are used for cloaks while silk or lingerie material may serve for the cap. The pattern calls for 2-3 yards of 36-inch material for the dress, 2 1/2 yards of 54-inch for the cap and 3/4 yard of 20-inch goods for the cap.

happened only yesterday. I have great blank spaces in my life when I don't know what has happened. It's perfectly awful! Did you ever hear of anyone like that?"

"Do you really mean to tell me that you forget what you said to me about Browning?" I asked her, taking her hand, for I was filled with a sudden pity.

"Yes, Chet, sure, I do!" She rolled my seal ring between her fingers as she looked down.

"And about preferring 'Joy' to 'Edna,' too?"

"Oh, did I say that, too? Yes, I forgot."

"It doesn't seem possible!" I exclaimed. Then, tentatively, almost fearfully, for it seemed to be the crux: "And about the island?" I held my breath.

"What island?"

"I dropped her hand. It was too much for me. 'Oh, never mind.' I sighed. 'I'm very sorry. But I don't quite see yet. Has this anything to do with your refusal to play for me?'"

She rose now and tossed her head back, with that shake I had noticed before. The gesture seemed to be the only link between her two moods, and for a moment she seemed to be again the melancholy princess. But the phase passed instantly, and she grew petulant.

"I don't know how to play well enough. It bores me."

I refused to let her off, however. "Then how about playing chess?"

She shrugged her shoulders and said: "Oh, I haven't got the kind of brain for chess."

My mind leaped over the remark, obviously untrue, to get to the other side of the perversity, where I might see more clearly.

"But it's incredible!" I cried. "How do you get along? How do you account for things? Do you mean to tell me that you can't remember yesterday, for instance? Not even what you did?"

She was growing more and more impatient. "No—sometimes I don't know how much time I've lost at all. You see, it's like being asleep, that's all. That's what Dr. Copin comes down here for."

"Oh, I see!" I exclaimed. "That, and other things—she hinted coquettishly."

"Ah?" I raised my eyebrows. "Among the other things, I suppose, is the fact that you're perfectly charming?"

"Oh, I don't think he quite ignores that," she laughed and her head changed, as if it had been pent up by such serious discussion and sought relief, she bounded away and galumphed madly up and down the room, waving her hands.

After dinner we spent the evening by the fire. She had put on an evening gown of black net over silver tissue, in which she looked more like a princess than ever. But it was only the costume now; her demeanor was far from royal. She snuggled herself into a bunch on the fur rug by the hearth, disclosing one slender ankle and a stocking of snaky silver silk.

Had she not been so slender and petite, I might almost say she sprawled, though her holdenish abandon was not quite immodest. She had her coffee and a cigarette or two, chattering a steady stream meanwhile. I could get no more about her malady out of her; the subject seemed to annoy her. But I could not get it out of my mind. I went back over what had passed, and found that her explanation accounted for much that had baffled me. Still, it did not account for everything. It did not account, for instance, for the way she now treated me.

She got up, after a while, as if annoyed at my abstraction, and began to roam up and down the room.

"I guess coffee makes me a little drunk," she remarked. I did not quite get the point of this till she stopped behind my hair, and ran her fingers through my hair, caressingly.

"What a jolly jolly you've got, Chet! Your hair is almost as fine as mine!"

The familiarity made me, I confess, somewhat uncomfortable. I was neither a prig nor a prude, but her talk of the afternoon had wrought on me. I couldn't quite see my way. I didn't at all like, for instance, what she had said about Dr. Copin's coming down—for more than one reason. Perhaps it was this, more than any instinctive dislike of her unconventionality, that put me on my guard with her, and made me appear to ignore what I acknowledge, in other circumstances I might have been tempted to take advantage of. For she was distinctly making up to me. I could see that very plainly. She did like me. So I was unchivalrous enough or chivalrous enough, if you like, to try to keep her at arm's length, though that is putting it rather too strongly.

It was not so easy, though, that night with the secluded, comfortable open fire, the soft lights and the rain outside. The situation was romantic; I was alone with a pretty girl, prettily gowned and quite frankly desirous of a little more intimate companionship than I vouchsafed. Somehow I was rather proud of myself, having at that time, after all, such hazy reasons for forbearance. I scarcely need add that I was becoming fond of Miss Fielding, in spite of the puzzling mystery about her. She was alluring in any mood. My intuitions, however, were all for caution.

With such distractions the hours flew fast. The candles burned low and flickered till we talked only by the light of the fire. She told me a good deal of her life as a girl—there were no lapses of memory at that time—how she had been left an orphan and had always been more or less of a hermit thereafter. Part of the time she played with my hand, quite as a child might. Part of the time she sat, her chin at her knees, gazing into the dying flames in the fireplace. Then she would smile, look up suddenly, and quote some nonsense rhyme, or make fun of my distraction. Her body was never quite still; she was nervous and restless. If nothing else about her moved her toe would be describing little circles on the rug.

She and Leah helped me upstairs at ten o'clock. Miss Fielding flung me a cheery "Good night, Chet!" and went into her room alone.

A few minutes after, I heard a soft tapping at my door. Leah was there with a jug of milk and some biscuits.

LOST FOUR DAYS ON MOUNTAINS

With Leg Broken Man Could Not Move and Lived on Crusts and Water.

Cardiff, Sept. 7.—An Irishman named James Hurley is now undergoing treatment at the Pontypridd Workhouse Infirmary after a terrible mountain experience. Hurley has been engaged for some time on the tunnel which is being driven through a portion of Carn Nersau Mountain, above Treherbert, in connection with the water scheme of the Rhondda district council.

On Saturday night he set out to walk down the mountain side to Blaenrhondda. He lost his way and stepped over a cliff and fell a distance of about thirty feet.

Here he lay unconscious for nearly twelve hours. When he recovered he discovered that his right leg was broken above the ankle and he could not move. The pain was intense. Hour after hour passed away without anyone passing his way, and when darkness again set in on Sunday night he lay down, trusting that the morrow would bring him help. The rain that fell on Sunday night added to his trying ordeal.

Dawn broke, but still there was no sign of human beings. Hurley lay hour he lay in agony. Owing to his weakened condition, he was unable to eat the little dry food he possessed. During the prolonged vigil on Tuesday and Wednesday Hurley observed some pedestrians on the mountain paths, but at too great a distance for Hurley to attract their attention.

Gradually gaining strength the man made determined efforts to crawl along the mountain slopes to the tunnel, and the arduous task of dragging himself along was accomplished by Wednesday night, when, to his great joy, he found some of his comrades near the mouth of the tunnel. They attended to his immediate wants, and found him shelter in a hut until Thursday night, when he was removed to the infirmary.

CAUGHT MANY WHALES

Connecticut Vessel Returns With 3,000 Barrels of Oil.

New Bedford, Conn. Sept. 7.—The whaling brig Sullivan is back from a two months' whaling voyage, with a total catch of 3,300 barrels of sperm oil, 1,500 barrels of which she had on board. The Sullivan made a record of 375 barrels of oil in five days. So fast did the whales come those five days that there was no time to boil and all the crew could do was to cut the blubber, and let it be till the run of luck was over.

MANY DOCTORS FAILED

DR. HAMILTON AGAIN FIGURES IN A CASE THAT PUZZLED OTHER PHYSICIANS.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 8.—When the statement of Mrs. Stanley of 148 Argyle street, was first given it caused no small comment and again establishes that as a physician who understands his profession none excel Dr. Hamilton.

"For years," says Mrs. Stanley, "I have suffered greatly from a peculiar dragging weakness that resulted from pleurisy and asthma. Doctors prescribed but failed to advise anything of real benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and I bought five boxes. They gave me renewed strength and energy, toned my stomach, enriched my blood, and supplied just what my system needed. No medicine could have benefited more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and I believe every woman would be helped enormously by using these pills regularly. They did me more lasting good than all the prescriptions I took in five years."

No man or woman in poor health ever used Dr. Hamilton's Pills without benefit; the depressed, ailing and weak they uplift and strengthen as a trial always proves.

An Old Notion

still held by some women is that it is impossible to make good pastry from flour made of Manitoba Hard Wheat. Consequently they buy hard wheat flour for bread and soft wheat flour for pastry, and go to a good deal of unnecessary trouble.

Since the appearance of "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR on the market there is no need for any housekeeper to do this, as this brand is made by a process which renders it not only the ideal flour for bread, but which guarantees equally good results for pastry when used "Five Roses" way.

"FIVE ROSES" FLOUR will make lighter and flakier pastry than any ordinary brands on the market, whether made from hard or soft wheat. All we ask is that you give it a fair and unprejudiced trial for pastry on your next Baking Day. The result will, we know, more than satisfy you.

Ask your grocer for it.

Rugby Union Looks Like a Go Meeting Saturday at Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Jimmy Ray, captain of the Montreal football club; President Eddie O'Brien, of the Quebec Union; George Ballard, of the Hamilton Tigers, were in Toronto Saturday in connection with the forming of the new Inter-provincial Rugby Union, to comprise clubs from Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. J. P. Baskerville will look after Ottawa's interests and W. A. Hewitt the Toronto faction.

The delegates discussed the proposition with great favor, and it is expected that the meeting tomorrow will see the union a reality. The executive of the Montreal football club has decided to join the proposed new league, to consist of Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. The following conditions, however, have been decided upon: First, that the league must be purely amateur, with a registration system for the players, the president and secretary of each club to furnish affidavits certifying the amateur standing of the players. The other condition is that each club must pay its own traveling expenses, the home team to retain all gate receipts.

TIGERS WALLOP WHITE SOX IN RATTLING EXTRA INNING CONTEST

Detroit Rallies in the Eleventh and Bat in Three Runs.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 8.—After eleven innings of bitter battling, the Tigers were victorious over the White Sox this afternoon, six to three. In one of those old-time batting rallies they got to Walsh, and with the score tied, rapped in three runs. Eddie Siever was in for the Tigers, per schedule, but the Sox batted him in one round and netted three tallies. It was just the one bad inning. But it nearly lost the game.

One run behind, Mullin went to bat in the eighth and this took Eddie out of the game. Mullin made a hit, but no run was scored in that inning. Victory might not have been for the Tigers if it had not been for the erratic catching of Hub Hart, who took his place behind the plate for the Sox as Bully Sullivan is laid up with a split thumb.

The Tigers made but one tally in the first owing to Bill Coughlin's double and Cobb's single. Sam Crawford added the second with a home run, but this left them one behind at the close of the eighth for the Sox had landed three as the result of a base on balls, two singles and a double.

But in the ninth Cobb doubled with one out. He made third on Rossman's out and came home when Hart let one of Walsh's spitters get through him.

With the opening of the eleventh the pennant chasers landed on Walsh. Jones singled to left, Coughlin singled, Crawford singled, and one run was in. Cobb hit one in front of the plate and Hart lost his head. He held the ball and then threw wild to first, Ty being safe and Coughlin scoring.

Downs singled to center and Crawford scored, but Cobb was nipped at the plate.

Another remarkable crowd was out to see the Tigers. Fully 20,000 people packed the grounds to witness the fight and the rooters' club as usual was strongly in evidence.

The game was marked with some remarkably good playing when the crowd is taken into consideration and is also brought out some poor playing.

Sam Crawford was again the star of the day with his hitting. The big fellow practically saved the day for the Tigers with his home run hit in the sixth that pulled the Sox within reaching distance. It was one of the longest drives ever hit on the local park. It went into the middle of the stand in the right field. Bill Coughlin and Ty Cobb were other factors in the Tiger hitting.

Coughlin opened up in the first round with a two-bagger to right. He made third on Crawford's out to Rohe and scored on Cobb's smash to left. Ty was caught off first and run down, retiring the side in this round.

Siever looked good when he started off and was not really bad in the inning they hit him—the fourth. Fielder Jones drew a base on balls. Donahue forced him, but Davis singled to left. Dougherty hit a short fly back of third and it bounded into the crowd near the foul line, going for a two-bagger. This let in Donahue. Rohe lined to Jones and Davis beat the throw to the plate.

Tannhill hit a scratch to O'Leary, the ball taking a false bound, but Dougherty scored on it and three runs were in. Two runs behind and with two out, Crawford made Tiger victory look more possible by banging out his home run.

TORONTO HAS NEVER BEEN BELOW THIRD PLACE DURING THE SEASON

Toronto has not been below third place in the Eastern League standing all this season. The first week they led the league, but on May 16 they were forced into third place, Jersey City taking the lead. On the 21st the Kellyites went to the front again, and remained there for nearly a month when they were forced into second place, with Buffalo in the lead, on the 1st of July. On July 12 Toronto again took the lead and went down again when Dr. Adkins won two games in an afternoon at Diamond Park. They tied Buffalo for first on July 23. Winning next day, put them on top again, where they stayed until Clyde Holaday, when they were again forced into second place. On Aug. 8 they beat Buffalo at Galt, and assumed the lead, which they never again relinquished.

Tom Longboat Distances John Marsh

Hamilton, Sept. 7.—6,000 people saw Marsh, the Winnipeg runner, distanced by the famous Longboat at the Irish-Canadian Club games here today. Marsh was lapped several times and quit before the finish. The time for the five miles was 26:40.

In the 56-pound weight throwing high exhibition Con. Walsh, of Woodstock, established a new Canadian record of 15 feet 4 inches, four inches beyond the old record.

There were about 100 entries and 20 events, in which athletes from many cities took part. Hamilton and Toronto men were in the majority, however, and in the open events the Queen City men had a majority of winnings over the locals.

In the special mile walk Skeene, of Toronto, the Canadian champion, won by a big lead over Lumsden, of this city. Bainbridge, the Australian, of Chicago, proved unequal to the task and dropped out. Summary:

LONGBOAT SCARED

It's funny to hear Tom Longboat tell about his mile in relay race with the Irish-Canadians and the Garrison. It was even up until Longboat took up the last mile with Selby. The Indian started out at a terrific clip, and at the end of a lap had a hundred yards on Selby. Then the Garrison shoved in a couple of new men.

"Who, dammit all," said the red-skin, after the race, "I started out with a little fellow with white pants and a red and white jersey. I ran fast for a lap and a quarter, and then I looked around to see how the little chap was coming along, and right there at my shoulder was a great big six-footer in blue pants and a white jersey. Dammit all, I thought I had fallen asleep and the other fellow had growed up. Then I ran him awhile, and when I look around again there's another little fellow in some other colored clothes. My eyes never were very strong, and I think I've gone quite blind. I feel like I'm a little fellow, until they tell me what was up. That's not a fair deal to scare me like that."

ARISTOCRATS ONLY AT OLYMPIC MEET

Those Who Earn Their Own Living Are Barred From Competing in England.

The attitude of the English Olympic officials in ruling that no oarsman who earns his own living can be considered an amateur means there will be no American or Canadian entries to worry the Britishers in the scull events.

The same ruling applied to all branches of athletics would mean Uncle Sam would send no teams to compete in the next Olympics, and a possible chance for England to win something besides international tennis laurels.

KELLEY WANTED BY NEW YORK

Toronto, Sept. 7.—The Star says: It transpires now that a number of other National and American League clubs were after Manager Joe Kelley, of the Toronto Club, by the draft system, but that Boston Nationals were first in their claim.

Following President Dorey's announcement comes the report that the New York Americans are likely to enter into a deal with Boston to secure Kelley. This is followed up by another rumor that if Kelley is secured he is booked to succeed Clark Griffith as the manager of the Yankees next season.

Kelley's remarkable success here this season, where he made a record-winning team out of a tail-end aggregation, brought him out prominently as a player of extraordinary managerial ability, which attracted the attention of major league magnates.

Kelley, by his work on the diamond, also demonstrated that he is far from being in the "has-been" class, and is still capable of playing ball of big league quality. Kelley has been especially valuable to the Maple Leafs this season, because of his heavy batting and his ability to play the different positions. During the season he has played every position on the team, with the exception of catcher.

INDIAN REMEMBERED

Going to Buffalo Monday Tom Longboat and George W. Bonhag, who was beaten Saturday by Tom Coley, of the Irish-Canadians, were traveling companions.

Tom smoked and gazed at Bonhag thoughtfully a while. He has no love for Bonhag ever since Bonhag beat him three miles in 14:43 at Buffalo indoors.

"Say," the Indian finally said, tugging at Bonhag's sleeve, "you won't have quite such a swelled head now after Coley beating you?"

Bonhag laughed. "I never had a swelled head," he said.

"Yes, you had," insisted Tom, "after you beat me."

A Russian Journal tells the army of how the murderer of General Lunin, prefect of St. Petersburg, obtained admission to the semi-official party at which the deed was committed. After the crime all the guests were detained and their tickets were examined. There was one ticket the rightful owner of which was not present. It was no other than that of Premier Stolypin himself. The murderer was committed under cover of the invitation ticket of no less a personage than the Prime Minister.

Premier had not been able to go and his ticket fell into the hands of a member of the secret police named Zolopahad, and adds that it is unfortunate that Mr. Dickinson's bill could not be referred to the secret arbitration of Premier and Thummin. The same Journal mentions that one of the pioneers of the women's suffrage movement in America was a Jewess, Mrs. Ernestine L. Rose, who addressed meetings as early as in 1838. She attended the famous "Bloomer" convention at Syracuse in 1852.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—The Australian tour of the All-Canadian team has been a pronounced success.

It has opened our eyes to see some peculiar methods of playing lacrosse, but it cannot be said to have taught the Canucks many tricks they didn't know. On the contrary, the Kangaroo teams seem to be profiting by their games with Miller's tourists.

We have no information yet concerning the financial success of the trip, but the big crowds that have turned out at every town where the Canadians played would indicate that the gate receipts were comfortably large.

For instance, there was a 20,000 crowd at Melbourne to see the third game played.

Murphy recently turned out a crowd of over 10,000 to see the Irish-Indian game, and broke a record at that. But we have something to learn about handling crowds from our Australian friends.

The Canucks lost only one game on the trip. That was the great struggle with the All-Australian twelve—the pick of the players in the island continent—who had been training for weeks before in preparation for the event. The score was 5 to 3.

Eleven games were played on the tour, the Canadians winning the other ten of them with comparative ease, and generally by big scores.

The record of goals is as follows: Canadians, 117; Australians, 32.

The record of goals scored is as follows: Canadians.....6 Queensland.....3

Canadians.....11 New South Wales.....0

Canadians.....5 Victoria.....3

Canadians.....9 South Australia.....3

Canadians.....16 Western Australia.....5

Canadians.....13 Perth.....2

Canadians.....12 Goldfields.....0

Canadians.....14 West Australia.....6

The highest score against the Canucks was 6—in the final game; and the biggest tally they rolled up was 19.

Miller and his boys are on the ocean, going to Ceylon now. They will visit England before they come home.

It was a great trip—the most daring trip that a lacrosse team ever undertook.

John C. Miller deserves congratulations.

adrians, 554; Australians, 553; Britishers, 513.

At 1,000 yards—Americans, 549; Canadians, 551; Australians, 530; Britishers, 513.

The best previous individual score was 20, but this time fifteen individual marksmen did better than that.

A banquet was held after, at which Premier Laurier was present.

According to advices from St. Petersburg to the London Times, a syndicate has been formed there for the exploitation of the rich copper mines in Russian Turkestan. The syndicate has acquired rights over 15,000 acres of territory. The district is said to comprise the finest copper producing area in the whole of the Russian Empire. The company will shortly be formed with an initial share capital of 1,500,000 rubles ($750,000).

A public square in Tokio has been named after President Roosevelt.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Rain prevented baseball at Tecumseh on Saturday and it is not probable that the postponed games will be played off this season. Next Saturday will witness the closing of the local baseball season as far as the City League is concerned, although the proposed contest between the McClarys and the out-of-town teams are practically assured.

The Wellingtons have taken the Toronto City League race hands down to the Britannias of Hamilton, have shown that they can travel plenty fast enough for any of the London teams by defeating the crack Veritys of Brantford, in a 1 to 0 bout last Saturday.

The closing games in the City League should be second to none this season. Those great old rivals the Stars and the Champs hook up in fracas No. 1, and the two tallenders furnish the windup.

Previous to the departure of the Seventh from the Pan-American city arrangements were made to have the Seventy-fourth regiment indoor baseball team visit London some time next winter. A contest between the local soldiers and the Buffalo crowd should pack the armories to the doors.

The McClarys and the Ramblers will play a contest for the championship of the city one week from next Saturday.

A week later the Britannias of Hamilton, will journey here for a game with the Smiths, and on Oct. 5 the McClarys travel to Hamilton for a return game.

All arrangements for the use of Tecumseh Park for football practice will be arranged today or tomorrow. Secretary Dewan, of the City League, stated this morning that although he had not been approached on the subject, he had no doubt that satisfactory arrangements could and would be made.

The annual competition for the Ward trophy begins today at the Thistle Club greens. The trophy last year was taken by Bert Screation. The competition generally lasts several weeks, and consists entirely of singles.

At a meeting of the principals of the public schools last week it was decided to form a junior association football league. The proposition meets with much approval among the pupils and should result in some good sport for the boys.

This will be a busy week for the Rowing Club bowlers. Today they play Aylmer, Wednesday with Brantford and on Thursday they meet Paris.

FAVORITES HAD A BAD DAY SATURDAY

In All Races But One the Good Things Lost Out at Hartford

Hartford Conn., Sept. 7.—Favorites had a bad day in the one and only day's meet of the season here. Rain for four days made the meeting a failure.

In every race but one the favorites were beaten, the exception being the Futurity trot which Douglas won with ease. Sonoma Girl and Tempus Fugit of which great things were expected in the chief event, the Charter Oak trot, were keen disappointments, while Wilkesheart won for her owner $7,000 by taking all three heats, each one of which was a race. Jack Leyburn put up a desperate fight of this prize and missed it only by inches. His money winnings were $1,800.

In the 2:07 pace the big money getter was Kruger, which, by taking two heats, got $2,500. Douglas, in the Futurity trot, captured $7,500. The finishes were all close and the time good considering the conditions of the track. It was said that the management lost $25,000 by the bad weather.

Fur Repairing

A winter's wear has probably left some repairs to be attended to—a rip, a worn spot in the fur, a lining that needs replacing, or perhaps you have decided that the garment should be entirely remodeled. Allow us to attend to this at once. By October we are usually busy that we cannot give them prompt attention.

BELTZ
PRACTICAL FURRIER.

That effervescent musical cocktail, "Piff, Paff, Pout," appears at the Grand tonight and tomorrow evening. This season's production is quite up to that of the original, and the company engaged for the presentation is an exceptionally clever one. It is headed by Ben F. Grinnell, for two years featured as the leading fun-maker of the

PETER POUFFLE AND CORA MELON
In "Piff, Paff, Pout."

New York Hippodrome, the largest play-house in America, and Miss Lulu McConnell, the dashing comedienne, who has been featured with the production for the past two seasons, singing the famous "Dolly Dimple" song.

Porter J. White's "Faust" attracted fair sized audiences to the Grand Saturday afternoon and night. The performance was not a very strong one, but it appeared to please all present. Mr. Fred Wilson was one of the most capable characters in the play. It was noticeable that there was a "Katharine Goethe" on the programme, though it was not even hinted that she is any relation to the famous German author of "Faust."

New York, Sept. 8.—A circuit of opera houses, in which only the best grand opera will be produced, is the plan of Oscar Hammerstein. The cities chosen for the proposed opera houses are Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. Mr. Hammerstein said tonight: "For months I have been quietly perfecting my plans. I am going to erect new houses for grand opera in the fullest sense of the word. Judging from the state of my Manhattan Opera House, I am led to believe that the American people love good music better than we are credited with."

One of the most pleasing of this season's offerings at the Grand will appear on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, when Miss Grace Cameron, the dainty comic opera star, will make her initial bow in "Little Dollie Dimples." In this role, Miss Cameron has ample opportunity to display all her versatility as a vocalist, actress and a delineator of child impersonations; and this is said to be the strongest role, musically and dramatically, that Miss Cameron has yet appeared in. During the first act, Miss Cameron's part is that of a ragged, sympathetic, homeless little waif, twelve years of age, and the dramatic situations are strong in the extreme; while six years later—which is supposed to elapse between the first and second acts—finds Miss Cameron appearing in the delightful role of a French maid, in which she has gained such enviable notoriety, and praise heretofore in such productions as "The Telephone Girl" and "The French Maid."

MARRIED AT MAPLETON

Eldest Daughter of Mr. John Charlton the Bride of H. A. Cloes.

At pretty church wedding took place on Wednesday evening, Sept. 4, at Christ Church, Mapleton, when Miss Madeleine Charlton, eldest daughter of Mr. John Charlton, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Adelbert Cloes, ("Lohengrin"), played by Miss S. Altridge, graduate of Alma, of the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and took her place under a floral horseshoe. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Orton, of Dutton, brother-in-law of the groom. As the bridal party left the church, Miss Madeleine, "Wedding March" was beautifully rendered by Miss Altridge. The church was prettily decorated with plants, flowers and ribbons.

The bride looked charming in a gown of point de esprit, over cream tulle, with modillions, Valenciennes lace and duchesse satin ribbons. She wore the veil and orange blossoms which were worn by her mother when a bride, and carried a shower bouquet of cream roses, maidenhair fern and anemones.

Miss Lyla Hughes, ex-student of Alma, the first bridesmaid, was attired in cream peau de soie, trimmed with real point lace. Miss Opal Cloes, sister of the groom, the second bridesmaid, wore cream calicote, trimmed with lace. Miss Myrtle Charlton, ex-student of Alma, sister of the bride, wore cream silk tulle, trimmed with silk fiber lace; they also carried asters and maidenhair ferns. Miss Vera Harris, of Arlmer, the little flower girl, wore cream silk tulle, trimmed with ribbon and lace, and carried the ring on a silver tray.

Mr. T. Culver, of St. Thomas, assisted the groom, Mr. Gordon Cloes and Mr. Charles Martin, London, acted as ushers. Mrs. G. S. Dale and Miss Grace Johnston presided during the reception and congratulations. The bridal party and guests were ushered to the lawn, where the wedding lejeuner was served, assisted by ten lady friends of the bride, attired in white.

The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with bunting, evergreens and flags, and the residence was lighted with candles and decorated with palm, ferns and garlands. They were driven to St. Thomas, going thence by M. C. R. to Detroit, then by boat to Port Huron, for a trip up the lakes.

REV. MR. MARTIN
ON SUNDAY CARS

Preached on the Subject Last Night in Hamilton Road Methodist Church.

In the Hamilton Road Methodist Church last evening, the pastor, Rev. D. E. Martin, took as his subject "Cutting Down Fruit Trees," based on Deuteronomy 20-19-20.
The preacher pointed out that: Human life is one continuous warfare. That victories may be won at too high a cost. That there is a high and low of everything.

Reference was made to some of the fruit-bearing trees of life—the home, the Bible, the Church, and the Sabbath. The fruits of the Sabbath unmeasured. The agitation for Sunday cars is an interference with the fruit-bearing tree of our Christian civilization.

Isaiah 58 and 11th verse and the Decalogue were quoted in this connection. Mr. Martin warned his congregation not to be hoodwinked. In the main two classes are seeking this innovation—those who desire more opportunity for pleasure and self-gratification, and those who think to make more money by it. It is argued that other cities have them, but two wrongs do not make one right. London no more needs Sunday cars than a wagon needs five wheels. The preacher reserved a full discussion of the matter later on if necessary.

A MECCA FOR BUSINESSMEN

Businessmen who spend the time visiting the Fair in quest for new ideas, will find it to their advantage to visit our store and look over the new Underwood Billing machines, the greatest office appliance of the age. One man says: "Our billing is now done more quickly than ever thought possible. We are sorry the Underwood typewriter had not been brought to our attention before."

Remember the address, 441 Richmond street, three doors below the postoffice.

AN EXTRA ATTRACTION.

For the Fair This Week—One That Lovers of Art Will Appreciate and Something New.

The Western Fair will be bigger, better and more interesting than ever before. It will be an exhibit that all Western Ontario will be proud of. Then there are to be a number of exhibits that are entirely new and in the way of art and music have never before been attempted. One of the most attractive of these will be the exhibit of Gourlay, Winter & Leeming, Manufacturers of the Gourlay Piano.

This exhibit will be at the left of the entrance to the main building, and one who fails to visit this spot will not have seen the fair. Aside from the renowned Gourlay tone, which is of itself a treat to the ear of everyone who loves music, will be the art displayed in the elegant designs of cases, some of which will be of Louis designs, not in name only, but in every line, the carvings being in the solid and part of the main structure, a decided advance over anything hitherto attempted in piano art manufacture. There will be the Mission in satin finish mahogany, the Seventeenth Century English, Art Louis, Fourteenth and Fifteenth, the Sheridan and others, each one a treat to the eye and mind of lovers of art.

All these instruments together with the stock at the factory-store, 155 Dundas street, Advertiser Building, will be on sale during fair week at special prices and terms. If one intends purchasing within a year they cannot afford to miss selecting a Gourlay this fair week. Store open evenings.
