Meat Inspection. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Dr. Niven, chairman of the board of health, is quoted as saying that he thinks we should have meat inspection by a qualified inspector, but as such is not at hand he would offer two hundred dollars to the present dairy and when necessary, making a microscopic examination of such. To do this to such. It would therefore be necessary to offer him a salary commensurrange from $1,200 to $1,500 per annum to start with.

The board of health can rest assured that when the citizens of London realize that from 10 to 12 per cent of the hogs slaughtered in this district are affected with tuberculosis and that the same disease is very prevalent in our cattle, they will insist on a thorough inspection of all meat sold in the city of London, and the stamping of the same at time of slaughter, showing that it has been inspected and passed according to regulations governing the same.

MALACHY HOGAN ON GEORGE DIXON

What the Celebrated Boxing Referee Thinks of the Dead Pugilist.

Chicago, Jan. 16. - Malachy Hogan writes as follows of George Dixon: George Dixon is dead. This news which was flashed across the country last week, caused as much genuine regret as any similar item I have knowledge of.

Dixon was one of those boxers who brought his race into prominence in the regard of followers of the sport not only by his perfect mastery of the game and his high class work in the ring, but by the fashion in which he conducted himself, at all stages. Always quiet and gentlemanly, always a lean boxer, always following the highest ethics of his calling, he was a credit to the boxing game at every stage of the career.

When George was sent south in 1892 to take part in that memorable tournament of three night, at which Jim Corbett won the world's title from the presumably invincible John L. Sullivan, many shook their heads. They claimed that the feeling in New Orleans against the colored boxers was so intense that it was bad policy to send a black man down there to meet a white one.

But Dixon took his opportunity and opened the south to black sparrers. He most prejudiced against his color. And As Sullivan, and O'Connor who is after his victory over the white boy I refereed two bouts in which Dixon

WHERE IS JAP FLEET? WASHINGTON NERVOUS

Tokio, Jan. 17.—The foreign office is in receipt of a dispatch from Washington pointing out that there is much uneasiness in America in consequence of sensational reports emanating from Europe concerning the distribution of the Japanese naval fleet. While not inclined to treat the matter seriously, the Japanese officials have assured the Associated Press that the governments of the various countries are in possession of all the facts connected with Japan's distribution of their warships through their attaches at Tokio.

Admiral Salo, minister of marine, said today that he was willing to make a full statement, if it would in any way allay excitement, but he considered the rumors from Europe hardly

SCHUBERT QUARTETTE

Wins Praise in the West-A Sterling Organization.

The Daily Democrat, of La Junto, Col., has the following to say: The reading and club rooms would not hold the crowd which greeted the Canadian Schubert Ladies' Quartette, of London, Ont., last night.

Few ladies' quartettes that are touring the country these days succeed in pleasing the public with their entertainments, yet we are pleased to say this is not true of the Canadian Schubert Ladies' Quartette which appeared here last evening at the Santa Fe Reading and Club Rooms. They are a well-organized and well-trained sextette. Their programme was well adapted to the audience, and each number brought forth a well-deserved encore. Miss Harriet E. Westman's selections from Wagner-Liszt were superb, and her ability as an accompanist is seldom met. The work of the quartette was the most pleasing that has been heard in La Junta for years.
