German Government to Accept
Whether or Not Reichstag Approves.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 27.—A sitting of the Reichstag was suspended temporarily today when, during debate on acceptance of the Dawes plan London agreement, the Communists caused an uproar by demanding that their expelled and imprisoned members should be allowed to vote tomorrow, according to a news agency despatch from Berlin.

There was a free-for-all fight between the Communists and the Democrats. A Communist struck a Democrat member in the face and this encounter led to a general melee and great uproar. The president, after vainly trying to restore order, finally suspended the session for a period and left the House.

WILL SIGN ANYWAY.

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, Aug. 27.—The German government will sign the London agreement whether or not the Reichstag approves of it, it was officially announced today. If the Reichstag rejects the pact on the Dawes plan, the government will sign it anyway, according to the announcement.

HERIOT EMPOWERED.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Aug. 27.—By virtue of the senate's approval last night Premier Herriot now is fully empowered to sign the London agreement, and do everything possible to put the Dawes plan into effect, as the Chamber of Deputies previously sanctioned this course by a vote of confidence Sunday morning, after an all-night session. The vote in the senate, which came after a long debate, was 250 to 40.

M. Herriot and the reparation commission now are awaiting the vote in the German Reichstag before taking further action. But in the meantime the weakening of nationalist opposition little doubt is felt here about the German acceptance and the final signature of the agreement on Saturday at London.

The Belgian cabinet has already given its ratification without bringing the matter before parliament, and there is no appreciable controversy in that country over the acceptability of the accord.

M. Herriot's big vote of more than three to two in the chamber and his even larger majority in the senate, where he expected and met with bitter opposition from nationalists, have strengthened the premier's hand and given him prestige to deal with many other problems yet to be overcome.

These include the Franco-German commercial treaty to be drafted in Paris in October, and financial matters such as the distribution of the reparation money and merchandise among the allies, and even inter-allied debts all of which are expected to be discussed at a later conference.

HERE'S WHAT THE KIDS WAITED A YEAR TO SEE!
Above an Advertiser photographer shows parts of the great circus parade which wended its way through the downtown district this morning. The street was crowded with excited groups of old and young—all young on circus day. Animals of all sorts, funny clowns, bands and picturesque riders made up the great parade. And with each wagon was a group of London's small boys in all their glory were following their favorites—what mattered a five-mile walk?

Inquiry Comes as Direct Result of Recent Gas Boat Explosion.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Windsor, Aug. 27.—Although officials of the customs department here are silent it was learned from reliable sources today that a thorough probe into the liquor export business along the Essex border will be instituted shortly by the government. It is common talk along the river front that more stringent regulations are in prospect which will make the export business much less profitable than it is at present.

The probe is said to be a direct result of the recent explosion which blew up the motor launch Owl with four fatalities.

Exporters who have made fortunes in the beer trade are said to be disconcerted by the rumormongers.

CANADA'S TRADE BALANCE

British Heir Appears To Be Having Time of Life on Trip Over.

S.S. Berengaria, Aug. 27. — (By Wireless).—The Prince of Wales was awarded the "booby" prize for his costume at fancy dress ball held last evening. It had been stated that His Royal Highness would not appear in costume, but at a late hour he entered, made up to represent an apache.

There was repeated cheering when he and a lady dressed as a boy received the booby prize dolls. The prince wore a saucy cap and a sweater turned inside out, in simulation of one of the denizens of Limehouse, London's Chinatown.

The masquerade was a brilliant affair, the beautiful jewels and costumes worn by many of the women lending magnificence to the scene.

The prince appears to be enjoying the voyage thoroughly and is winning the golden opinions of the other passengers by the spirit with which he enters into the games and other amusements. For his part, he is delighted over the attitude of his fellow travellers, giving him unbounded freedom from special attention.

Wales practiced twice yesterday with his tug-of-war team, which is to compete with a team composed of Americans. The latter outweigh the prince's team, but have offered to adjust weights so as to equalize things.

The prince rises at 7:30 a.m., boxes, exercises and promenades the deck vigorously. He has a cheery greeting for the newspaper correspondents who seek him out, and altogether appears happy and carefree. Occasionally he has a private card party in his own suite, but he is generally out revelling in the fresh air and sunshine.

Morrison Suggests Industrial Peace League, Amos Says
No Politics.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 27.—Leaders in all branches of Ontario industry assembled at Queen's Park this morning at the request of the special agricultural investigation committee of the legislature to endeavor, through the medium of a mutual exchange of ideas, to improve conditions in the agricultural industry. There was a large gathering of representatives of every walk of life, farmers, bankers, brokers, transportation men and representatives of the boards of trade and other bodies. Hon. Dr. Jamieson, chairman of the committee, expressed the opinion that the interest taken by the various leaders of industry in Ontario indicated that the spirit of co-operation was necessary for the good of the province. He briefly outlined the functions of the committee and urged a full and frank discussion of the problem before them.

Advices Industrial League.

J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., expressed the opinion that an industrial peace league was required. He pointed out that the lack of co-operative effort had brought about a sad condition of affairs. In his opinion labor organizations controlled production and sought higher wages and shorter hours. They also held in reserve large funds for strike purposes, which created an unfriendly situation. He believed that the country had come to an extravagant standard of living that it was impossible for industry to support.

MERCURY JUMPS UP TO NINETY DEGREES

Today Is Second Hottest in Year—Record Is 92.

FELT IN CITY

Cooling Showers Are Promised, and 92 Appears Year's Record.

Related summer is here with a vengeance. August is not going to depart without leaving a taste of the real old summer time for stifling mortals to grumble over.

This is the second hottest day of the year. It is just 90 in the shade; not such a high temperature for the amount of heat. It is the old humidity again.

The barometer is low. The heat is hot, sticky and oppressive. Clouds do not seem to ward off the heat. The humidity has settled over London for today at least.

There is a promise of cooling showers before tomorrow; in the meantime the weather man says that it is not so bad as it seems. On June 20 it was 92 in the shade. That was the hottest day of the year.

With only a few more days of August it seems highly probable that 92 will stand on record as London's hottest day for 1924, unless September has a surprise in store.

The weatherman is in a quandary. One day it rains and all the instruments he had said "fair." Then it is fair on the day it wasn't meant to be. The only information he feels like handing out as reliable is when it registers "cooler."

Yesterday the sky was full of stars and suns, and the poor chap was kept busy answering the questions of inquisitive citizens. Then he hopped into his chair this morning, and it should have been "hot," but none came. Then a little shower early in the afternoon raised his hopes, but as soon as he began to smile it quit. Wrong again! The weatherman is waiting for winter.

CHINESE FACTIONS ARE

Associated Press Despatch.
Shanghai, Aug. 27.—The Shun Pao, a leading vernacular newspaper, received a despatch today reporting an outbreak of warfare between the forces of Chi Shieh-Yuan, military governor of Kiangsu Province, and General Lu Yung-Hsiang, Tsuchan of Shiekang Province.

The outbreak occurred at Quinsai near here, on the line of the Shanghai-Nanking railway. Numerous refugees are pouring into Shanghai from Sunksian and other border cities.

C. P. R. WILL DISCONTINUE
HARVEST TRAINS TO WEST

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Aug. 27.—The Canadian Pacific Railway will run no more harvest trains to the west this year. It was stated at headquarters here today.

While none had been definitely scheduled it had been thought that another train might be run from Ontario, but a message from officials of the railroad announcing that the western harvest requirements could be met locally, has ended this possibility.

Ontario Farmer Needs Tariff Protection, Manufacturers' Official Declares

R. R. MOODIE SAYS REFORMS NEEDED

Manufacturers' Official Testifies Before Government Agricultural Committee.

TARIFF PROBLEM

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 27.—Belief that the farmer in the Province of Ontario needs tariff protection was expressed today before the agricultural inquiry committee of the province by R. R. Moodie of Hamilton, Ont., chairman of the Ontario division of the Ontario Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Moodie also dwelt on the necessity of co-operative marketing and the building of good lateral roads for those farmers who do not have the advantage of being located on main highways. Continued co-operation between the farmers and manufacturers was also advocated as being highly desirable in the case of both these classes of producers.

Mr. Moodie pointed out that the municipal taxation under provincial legislation, as well as direct provincial taxation such as licenses, inspection fees, workmen's compensation, etc., bore very heavily on the manufacturers of this province.

Greater in Ontario. "Under the business assessment and municipal income tax," said the C. M. A. chairman, "greater contributions to the public revenue are exacted in this province than in any other province where there is no municipal income tax and business tax is imposed on a much lower scale."

As to tariff protection for the farmers of the Province of Ontario, Mr. Moodie further said:

"We consider it unfortunate that the subject of tariff protection is essentially an economic one, has become so clouded with political considerations. We are dealing with agricultural and industrial questions in Ontario, but what is good for Ontario is good for the whole of Canada. Ontario, held crops are largely consumed in this province and we consider it as particularly distressing that a large amount of produce that can be grown in Canada is imported. This produce comes in when our market should be most profitable to the farmer and the market gardener."

"With sufficient protection to provide for distribution of both farm and factory products within our home market and proper co-operation in marketing," Mr. Moodie pointed out, "manufacturing in Canada would be further extended, more people employed, more food production required and so resulting in the greater prosperity for farmer and manufacturer alike."

Mr. Moodie explained that while the provincial agricultural committee would not have any legislative power in the federal government, protection, the result of the investigation would be a matter of public record. It was essential that the truth be known and understood by the people.

"The conclusion that your committee may reach will have a considerable educational value," said the speaker, "and we respectfully submit that it is proper to place before the people of Ontario the disadvantages we are under as to home-grown products and manufactured articles."

MAH JONG AND CHESS PART OF DAILY LIFE OF CIRCUS FOLK

Reporter Takes Trip Behind the Scenes in Search of Truth.

SEVERAL CLUBS

Have Teams and Play Games at Different Cities Visited.

Gangs of workmen, laboring with extraordinary vim, were erecting great poles, digging drains, pitching canvas and making ready for the big Sparks circus at Queen's Park. Property men shouted directions, while a band of uniformed huskies scurried here and there, carrying pails of water, lifting weights and attending to all the thousand and one details involved in making a circus "or grand show."

Over in the southeast corner of the midway a small tent had already been pitched. A curious reporter poked his head through the curtain inside, seated around a card table, were four women. They gave the intruder a friendly glance and said, "Come in, if you like."

The reporter saw numerous little tiles staved up on the table and later discovered to be Mah Jong. The wire walker, explained, "Do you want to cut in?"

Then the reporter made known his mission. He wished to learn something about a circus. He was told to get a story about circus life and circus folk. Perhaps the ladies could help him.

Immediately the game was forgotten and the ladies packed away into a box. Certainly the ladies would help him. They would give him the real "dope." It would be a pleasure.

Just the Same. An hour's conversation with the four performers showed that through the grounds and the reporter thought he had absorbed everything necessary to form fairly accurate conclusions on circus life. And his conclusions were that circus people are just about the same as any other people.

Every day the circus people are just about the same as any other people. Sparks circus the Mah Jong enthusiasts have their little game. Nada Miller, Florence Harris, rider of fancy-garbed horses; Lucille Mann, prima donna, and Mrs. Bert Mayo, of the equestrian director, are midwinters look on and give advice, and Jack Posey, the boss hostler, is allowed to cut in whenever he feels like it. Usually, however, the four ladies play together. They are the Sparks Mah Jong Club. There are also a Sparks bridge club, a Sparks swimming club and a Sparks baseball team.

"Next to swimming, Mah Jong and bridge are our favorite pastimes," Miss Aubrey stated. "Of course, nearly everybody has some particular hobby. Mine is collecting old lamps."

Pete Mardo's is golf. Mardo is the chief clown. Golf with him, some say, is almost an affliction. Every day he does 18 holes if at all possible, and in his spare time he practices his masher shots on the circus grounds. Pete frequently does his clown acts in golf knickerbockers, so he can easily get after his clowns and indulge in his beloved sport.

Chess is Favorite. To Esau, one of the sideshow midwinters, the game of chess is almost food and drink. Esau once won the honor of playing with Lasker, the internationalist. Now he and Charles chess supremacy. Esau has games to his credit, while Henry has 612. The first man to get 1,000 games is Esau. Henry, head steward, is a year's salary, because his weekly envelope is not quite so bulky as the midwinters', and declared today that he would reach the 1,000 mark first or bust in the attempt.

Sparks circus boasts of several men who went the rounds with late Mr. Barnum. John Burns, chief butcher, was 18 years with the king of circus producers, and Harry Willis, the calliopter, accompanied Mr. Barnum on his European tour. Willis was the man who consigned his lord and master the night that Jumbo, the big elephant, met his doom. He stayed up with Barnum until three o'clock in the morning, and then he ordered to take his mind off the loss of the greatest attraction of the big showman had ever owned.

Drove Forty Horses. Jack Posey, the hostler, is another man of renown. Posey was presented with a medal in Paris for driving forty horses in a parade, a feat that only he has been equalled by one other man.

The Sparks swimming club has forty-six members. The president of the association, Miss Flora Bedini, the equestrienne star, is one of the most finished mermaids in America. "If we can possibly make it, we intend going to Port Stanley," she confided. "Everybody here is fond of the water. We are just like a big family and our interests are the same as those of the ordinary respectable citizen. We have a reading club, and every member is pledged to contribute a book a week. One of our members is wild about Oscar Wilde's poetry. Once a month we hold a recital, and then he is permitted to quote his favorite poet."

"A man or woman who belongs to a circus and gets the spirit of the circus into his soul doesn't have much to worry about. Circus folk will always help a comrade who is in trouble or broke. We are all sisters and brothers."

When the reporter had collected sufficient material he bade all his circus friends farewell and started to leave. As he walked through the park a be-whiskered veteran carrying a riding whip stopped him.

"Say," he said, "if you want to write something snappy why not say that the heat in Sparks circus was in tents this afternoon. Do you get the joke—intents?"

Storm Likely To Delay Hop-Off

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 27.—The United States round-the-world fliers may be prevented from hopping off from Iqviut, Greenland, for Indian Harbor, Labrador, tomorrow morning, if a severe storm which is sweeping over Newfoundland today continues and if it extends towards the north, according to marine experts, who forecasted today that the storm area seemed to be moving towards Labrador.

SAFER CROSSING TO BE DEMANDED

Knollwood Park Improvement Association Condemns the Quebec St. Crossing.

CHILDREN IN DANGER

At a meeting of the Knollwood Park and District Improvement Association held last night in the Knollwood Park school, the problem of having a protected crossing made at Quebec street and the C. P. R. tracks occupied most of the evening. The matter was placed before the city clerk six months ago, but no definite action was forthcoming, and more effort will be made to have this protection at this reason for the fact that a number of children from Knollwood Park have to cross the tracks to attend the Boyle Memorial School, and also the Quebec street bus crosses the tracks eight times in every hour.

Not Thought Sufficient.

At the present time there is no aid to persons or vehicles to warn them of an approaching train except a bell, and this is not considered sufficient.

The school accommodation problem for this district will be presented to the board of education at the next meeting by a committee composed of H. Taylor, G. Beadle, J. Robbins, W. Benford and A. A. Williams.

When the schools are opened in the fall there will be 100 pupils in this district going to Boyle Memorial school. These pupils are children of the Knollwood Park school for three years, and because of lack of accommodation it is necessary for them to go outside. The consequence of this is that the children are not able to come home for dinner, and add to this the danger of crossing the C. P. R. tracks, and the fact that this district is positive that they are just in demanding more school room nearer home.

Hall Is Proposed.

A motion to build a community hall was tabled until the next meeting of the association, when it will be discussed fully, and plans will be shown and the price of the venture will be available.

A corn roast and dance is scheduled by the association to take place in the latter part of September. Final arrangements will be completed at the meeting on Sept. 23. Petitions for the collection of garbage in this section were distributed to the members. There is no garbage collection made in Knollwood Park and as the section is growing rapidly it is felt that it will be necessary in a short while. The success of the association in having the storm sewer on Quebec street put in was gratifying to the members, and proves that it is progressing in a splendid manner.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lavender for the use of their farm on Aug. 2, when a picnic of the association was held.

TECUMSEH OUTFIELDER LEAVES HOSPITAL TODAY

George Tice, outfielder on the London baseball team, who was hit on the head by a ball last Friday, left Victoria Hospital this afternoon. He was running from first to second when he was struck by the ball and rendered unconscious. After being revived, Tice went to his hotel, but the pain in his head was so severe that it was thought best to have him removed to Victoria Hospital. It was discovered that he had received a slight concussion of the brain. He will not be able to participate in any ball game for several days, but it is believed that his injuries will have no effect on his playing.

BRITISH HOUSE ATTRACTION ANY

Commons Building Proves Historic, But Lacks Modern Improvements.

DEBATES ARE KEEN

This is the sixth of a series of articles by Rex of Rarebits fame about a summer in Europe.

Colonists visiting Old London usually try to hear a debate in the British House of Commons. And most of them, after soliciting the influence of parliamentary doormen and members, give up the attempt in despair. For the historic chamber in which England's lawmakers sit cannot hold more than seventy persons in the visitors' gallery. And to be numbered among them one must obtain a personal introduction from an M. P. Quite by accident, however, a writer was permitted to "snoop in" on a debate. Before gaining entrance it is necessary to fill in a card giving particulars of one's nationality, business, etc. This is an essential precaution, the police say, in order to prevent possible dangerous fanatics from gaining admission.

After answering a series of questions satisfactorily and being vouchered for by a member, the writer was allowed to climb two flights of stairs and found himself finally in the visitors' gallery. There one can get a full view of the ancient chamber where, through the centuries, the House of Commons has debated the nation's history.

One's first impression of the House is of a dark and dusty, old county council chamber, with cobwebs hanging from the ceiling. The air is impure, the whole atmosphere stuffy and uncomfortable of the kind that can be imagined. The home of the mother of parliaments, in fact, is out of date, overcrowded, and plainly insanitary. But its dark interior has rounded with the voices of illustrious men and the old floor bears the imprint of royal feet. And who is there that would change its ancient traditions for something new and elaborate? Certainly not the Englishman.

Mildly Animated. It was 3.30 p.m., and the gaunt, ugly walls seemed to become mildly animated as the members strolled in to listen to the final stages of the budget. The speaker of the House, the chancellor of the exchequer, was bringing in the first Labor budget England had ever known, and opposition to many of the provisions was especially strenuous.

The front benches on which Baldwin, Lloyd George, Asquith, Webb and other notable names had sat were the last to be filled. About 10 per cent of the assembly were in full dress. Many kept their top hats on throughout. Some sprawled in their seats, assuming undignified positions, and others put their feet up on the Speaker's table. The man in the crowd spread himself out on a back bench and fell into slumber. His snores could be heard plainly in the gallery.

To the visitor all this seemed a bit shocking. It was not at all in keeping with the dignity of a great British institution. But after an hour or so of debate one realizes that laughter, yells and cat-calls cannot mar the tranquility of this musty old room which is still in the tradition cherished by every Englishman. Its grim walls seem to maintain at all times an immovable dignity which makes only with the passing of time. Within those walls the whole legislative history of England has been enacted, and no amount of hilarity or rowdiness can mar the tradition of that austere wisdom, which seems to radiate from every crack and crevice.

Precise Speaker. Philip Snowden, one of the shrewdest parliamentarians of the age, is a speaker one could listen to indefinitely. His precise, cultured English is a contrast to the language used by many Liberal members, who are not blessed with the extraordinary mental endowments of the chancellor of the exchequer. The arguments advanced by the opposition seemed strangely perfunctory when compared to the easy flow of logic and eloquence that came from the lips of Mr. Snowden. It would be a most prosaic and uninteresting subject from others is blended with a keen, cynical humor when he has the floor.

A Conservative member had offered an amendment to the budget, which called for the expenditure of £100,000 on hospitals. Snowden opposed this, claiming it would tend to discourage private donations to hospitals. He declared $400,000 would be only a drop in the bucket when distributed among the hundreds of hospitals in England.

The Conservative member then accused the Labor government of duplicity, stating that when the Conservatives were in power the Laborites made the identical budget amendment which they now opposed. Mr. Snowden admitted this. But he charged the Conservative member by showing that when the question came up last year the (Conservative) Chamberlain then arose and delivered an amendment, punctuated by laughter and cat-calls from the Liberals and Socialists. In his speech he read from 1923 parliamentary reports, which indicated that the Conservatives all voted against the measure, which they at present opposed, and that they were supported by the Liberals.

Honest Party. "This shows," a Liberal interrupted, "that we are the only honest party."

The Liberal was told to "shut up" and "sit down." But his contention was nevertheless true. In this particular discussion the Liberals had never changed ground, while both the Conservatives and Laborites had done the "right-about-face" maneuver.

When the House went into division the amendment was defeated by a substantial majority. During the debate Mr. Asquith, Lady Astor and other well-known political figures, walked in for a few moments and departed. Premier MacDonald was not present, but members of his cabinet were on hand, dressed in ordinary street clothes. Looking at the government benches one sees a large group of rather ill-kempt men, most of them wearing bushy moustaches, and still seeming a bit strange and out of place in their seats. The Opposition

M. G. CAMERON, K.C., of Goderich, who has been appointed judge of Northumberland and Durham counties. Judge Cameron succeeds Judge Ward, who has recently retired. He will take up his residence in Cobourg in the near future.

FRENCH SENATE RATIFIES PACT

Only Twenty Members Vote Against the Lausanne Treaty.

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Aug. 27.—The French Senate today ratified the treaty of Lausanne with only twenty negative votes, after a debate of two hours. The chamber had voted ratification on Monday, and thus the Senate's action today gives official French adherence to the treaty, which was signed July 24, 1923, re-establishing peace in the Near East.

France is the fourth power to ratify the treaty, which became effective Aug. 6, on its third ratification, that of Great Britain, Italy and Japan previously had voted adherence.

The French chamber and Senate probably will adjourn this afternoon.

UNEMPLOYED ASK STOP IN IMMIGRATION PLAN

Delegation Seeks Council's Aid To Halt Activities Pending Change.

A delegation from the unemployed of the city will attend the next meeting of the city council on Tuesday of next week with a strongly worded resolution, for which they will ask the backing of the council, urging the cessation of the activities of John Farrell of Forest, the provincial immigration inspector for this district, pending the present unemployment condition in the province.

William Tite, who is one of the spokesmen of the delegation, states that this resolution is being presented in view of the very large number of men, who, though placed on farms, do not stay there and eventually, as the winter approaches, drift back to the cities and become a charge on the city.

With the present unemployment situation as urgent as it is, he says, "it is fantastic to bring out any more men to work on farms unless there is some definite plan of keeping them there, just as there is no sense in them to be any such plan. The majority of the men placed by Mr. Farrell on farms come back to the city in the winter time, and this creates an unfair burden on the municipality. Our argument is that the activities of this immigration officer should cease until such time as all the men now over here are at work again. We do not think that we are asking anything unreasonable, and, of course, our action has nothing personal against Mr. Farrell."

BOTH ABSENT FIREMEN SEND BACK UNIFORMS

George Scott, one of two firemen who was suspended by Chief Aitken for being out of the city without permission, has turned in his uniform. Fred Kerr, the other man to be suspended, turned in his fireman's clothes last week. Chief Aitken said this morning that he did not know whether this meant that they had resigned, but is of the opinion that both men will not come to the city to face the council to ask for reinstatement.

NORTHERN CHIEF REVISITS LONDON

"Sandy" Borland Was London Fireman 19 Years Ago.

NOW IN TIMMINS

"Sandy" Borland, nineteen years ago a member of the London fire department and now chief of Timmins, New Ontario, was in the city this morning for a visit to some of his old-time friends. The chief, who is looking wonderfully well, is accompanied by his son, a husky youngster, with all his father's energy and friendly personality.

Speaking of his new city, up in the north, now with a population of 14,000, he said that the city was largely unknown by the people of old Ontario, and that its climate was in reality a great deal better than was imagined. He did admit, though, that in his first year up there he had seen a water main nine feet below the surface dug up in July with the water frozen solid.

He has a force of 29 men under him in the mining town, and prides himself on the efficiency and loyalty of the force. All this summer, he has been an unusual cool one, which has been no bush fires in Timmins, and that is something for which the town is duly grateful. While the town has a large foreign-born population, the government is entirely in the hands of the old Anglo-Saxon stock. The council and the police and fire forces being composed of old pioneer types. There is also, he states, a large number of French-Canadians in and around the town.

He paid a visit to Chief Aitken this morning, and dropped in on City Treasurer James Bell, both of whom welcomed him with proverbially opened arms, and exchanged stories of twenty years since. Neither of them believed that it was nineteen years since "Sandy" had lived in the city and, judging by the hale and hearty appearance of the man from Timmins, either he was a mere stripling when he left or the climate up there is beyond all comparison.

ECONOMY ADVISED TO CUT TAX RATE

Kitchener Official Gives Sound Advice at Municipal Conference.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—In his annual address to the members of the Ontario Municipal Association, which opened its twenty-sixth annual meeting here today, President M. Huener, assessment commissioner of Kitchener, spoke of the unemployment conditions throughout the Dominion, declaring that Canada was being made the dumping ground for a good many articles that could be manufactured here.

"Councils of our provinces have wide powers under the local improvement act and the municipal act in expenditures," he said. "They should exercise great care and wisdom in the conduct of municipal affairs. Extravagance should be studiously avoided by those municipalities that now conserve their finances most wisely. In order to reduce the burden of taxation on the people."

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Hiltz.

MATTHEWS WILL FACE TRIAL ON FIVE CHARGES

J. C. A. Matthews, Jr., Committed For Trial by Toronto Magistrate.

NOVEMBER SESSION

Defense Will Carry Fight For Bail To Supreme Court.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 26.—Charles A. Matthews, Jr., former deputy provincial treasurer, was committed for trial this afternoon by Magistrate Jones on charges of violating the secret commissions act, conspiring with others to affect the market price of sterling bonds of the province, and charges of fraud and a breach of public trust.

Counsel for Matthews will appear before a county judge Thursday morning in an effort to obtain bail for his client, and if his request is refused application will be made to a justice of the supreme court of Ontario.

The trial will take place at the sessions commencing November 2. L. C. Mason was placed under bond in the sum of $10,000 to appear at the trial as a material witness.

The Five Charges. The five charges on which Matthews stands committed for trial are, in effect:

1.—That in the year 1921, being an agent, he accepted, agreed to accept, or attempted to obtain from Garnet M. Hart, Alexander Ross and L. C. Mason for himself or other persons unknown, gifts or consideration as an inducement or reward for showing favor or forbearing to show disfavor.

2.—That in the years 1921, 1922 and 1923 he unlawfully conspired with L. C. Mason, Alexander Ross and G. M. Hart and other persons that sums of money and other securities be given him in his official capacity as assistant treasurer of the province of Ontario as inducements in violation of the provisions of Ontario.

3.—That in the years 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923 he conspired with L. C. Mason, Alexander Ross and G. M. Hart and other persons to defraud the public or to affect the public market price of sterling bonds of the province of Ontario.

4.—That in the years 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, being a public officer, committed a fraud or breach of trust affecting the public, by deceit, falsehood and other fraudulent means to defraud the public or to affect the public market price of sterling bonds of the province of Ontario.

5.—That in the years 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, he conspired with G. M. Hart, Alexander Ross, E. C. Mason and other persons to commit an indictable offence.

Use Some Evidence. It was agreed by both the prosecution and the defence that the evidence taken at the preliminary hearing should apply to all five charges.

"I do not think the defendant is in any better position than a man who has skipped his bail, and I do not think that the evidence taken at the preliminary hearing should apply to all five charges," said Matthews, who was represented by J. C. A. Matthews, Jr., in refusing bail to Matthews.

The preliminary hearing today was featured by the evidence of L. C. Mason, stepson-in-law of the accused, who was called by Assistant Crown Attorney J. C. McKiernan as a crown witness, and who admitted that Matthews had shared in the profits of at least two transactions involving the sale of succession duty free bonds to the Ontario government, and who also had shared in the profits of a third transaction in which the defendant acted for the province.

He contended, however, that sums received by Matthews, part of which were in the form of bonds and part in cash, were to meet a moral obligation he owed him for public services, including free board he had enjoyed for a time as his guest. He further contended that Matthews had objected to the sale of the first sum he had received as being in excess of any obligation owing him, but admitted that the defendant had accepted the second payment without question.

Scrubs Cells. When asked this afternoon whether the crown was acting fairly towards Matthews in setting him the task of scrubbing his cell, Attorney-General Nickle said he did not like the idea until he found out that it was in accord with jail regulations.

That being the case, there was nothing more to be said about it. He had sent for the rule book and had found that the governor of the jail had authority to compel prisoners waiting for trial to keep their cells "clean and in order."

At the noon adjournment Matthews met and shook hands with Mason, who had just stepped from the witness stand.

"Don't you worry, boy; keep a stiff upper lip, and everything will come out all right," Matthews told him.

Perjury Charge May Be Laid.

A white-haired father, distracted by the troubles caused by his middle-aged son, took the witness-stand in court today, and as a result of his statement a charge of perjury may be laid against the son, William Letbridge, 581 South Vidal street, who had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication. When questioned by Magistrate Gorman as to the source from which he had obtained the liquor, Letbridge said he had broken up the family home, and had been placed on oath and questioned closely as to his movements yesterday, and in the statement he denied he had been in a certain house on Sharnock street during the day. His father, Charles Letbridge, stated in court that Chief Lammitt that William was charged with perjury, and that he had evidence against his son. The gist of the evidence was that he saw William in a certain house which had been mentioned in the son's statement.

M. P. OFFERS AID IN UNEMPLOYMENT

Frank White Will Join Delegation If Requested by Mayor.

Frank White, M.P., announced this morning that he was willing to join the delegation on unemployment to Ottawa if the mayor desired or thought it would lend strength to the appeal.

Mr. White has received a letter from Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, saying that though London has not received an official invitation to the unemployment conference on Sept. 3 he will do what he can to see that the city's representatives get a hearing if they come down. He states that if the conference is in the same position, having received no official invitation, but that the representatives are going just the same.

Mr. Murdock says that while the attitude of the federal government to unemployment has been that each municipality should take care of its own unemployed, that if the capital is besieged with determined representatives of all municipalities, whether they were invited or not, that possibly the attitude might undergo a change. He believes that London should take the same chance as Bramford and send its delegates to Ottawa.

The mayor is considering the situation and has not yet decided whether to attend the conference or to go to Ottawa later as a special delegation.

The staff applauded heartily. Mr. Sylvester thanked the staff and hoped that his reputation as a golfer would come up to the standard of a possessor of so fine a golf bag.

BIBLE CONFERENCE HEARS ABLE TALKS

Port Stanley Gathering of Anglicans Attracts Many Visitors.

CONTINUES FOR WEEK

For several years past the Anglicans of Port Stanley have been looking forward to the Bible conference, somewhat on the lines of those that have been held elsewhere. This summer the conference has materialized, and several able speakers from outside points are announced to speak at the gatherings. The conference meetings began on Monday night at Harrison's place, East Orchard Beach, when the Rev. Canon Howitt of Hamilton, gave a synopsis of some addresses delivered at the recent Hamilton Bible Conference by Dr. Scroggie of Edinburgh.

On Tuesday morning the conference meetings were resumed, and two remarkable addresses were given by Canon Howitt, Hamilton, and Archdeacon Sage, London. Canon Howitt based his remarks on the first seventeen verses of the fifteenth chapter of Genesis, where an account is given of God's first covenant with Abraham. Some interesting points in connection with the interpretation of this passage were made by the speaker. What Canon Howitt called "the law of first occurrence"—the theory that "the first usage of a word or phrase gives it its meaning throughout Scripture"—was, he said, illustrated in this passage in connection with certain words and phrases bearing on the subject of justification.

Archdeacon Sage followed with an able address on "The Psychology of Religion." Psychology is a subject on which the archdeacon is an expert, and he made an extremely abstruse phase of psychology fairly clear to an audience, giving homely illustrations of those portions of his remarks which are ordinarily beyond the intellectual comprehension of the average individual. The archdeacon pointed out that psychology, though a big word, was in reality exceedingly simple, as "everybody psychologizes at least a thousand times a day," he said with a smile.

Recent Theories. He proceeded to deal with some recent psychological theories relating to what is known as the "subconscious area," in each one of us, an area, he declared, "which is a great little about, though a great many were discussing, or at least, pretending to discuss, it. Someone had described this subconscious area as 'the meeting-place between the human and the divine,' but the archdeacon did not quite agree with this definition. He believed that God had direct dealings with the conscious part of man, and it was the aim of religion to develop the higher faculties of man, so that he could reach out more thoroughly in his approach to God.

An interesting discussion followed the conclusion of the archdeacon's address, and Dr. Scroggie, who had read certain portions of his address in reply to inquiries.

Continues for Week.

The conference meetings will continue during the week of the present week, and Dean Tucker of London, Canon Hague of Toronto, and the Rev. George W. Tibbs are announced to be among the speakers. The Right Rev. Dr. Williams, lord of New Huron, was unable to be present owing to pressure of other duties.

The welfare of those attending the conference is of the greatest importance, and the Rev. J. R. Bythell, rector of Port Stanley, the conference is being held in a splendid location at the waters of Lake Erie. The most appropriate place for a conference of the gospel message can be found anywhere. It was on a lakeside that the Founder of Christianity delivered those wonderful discourses that have so wonderfully moved us; and those in charge of the Anglican Bible Conference send out a hearty invitation to the permanent and non-permanent students of Port Stanley to hear the Word of God, and to be refreshed by some of our ablest preachers. Facilities are provided for recreation in the afternoon; we all need a little spiritual idealism as an antidote to the materialism so universally rampant around us; and where can God's Word be so satisfactorily studied as under God's blue sky and beside the blue waters of Lake Erie?

The mayor is considering the situation and has not yet decided whether to attend the conference or to go to Ottawa later as a special delegation.

COD LIVER OIL SAVES TEETH, IS CLAIM OF BRITISH DOCTOR

Noted London Specialist Declares Oil Gives Needed Vitamins.

CEREALS HARMFUL

Declares Oatmeal and Rice Bad For Children's Teeth.

Canadian Press Despatch. Victoria, Aug. 26.—Regular doses of cod liver oil may save children from bad teeth. This was the message of Dr. B. H. Burn, of the Medical Research Council, London, well-known biochemist in a lecture last night.

"The formation of good teeth depends upon the rate of growth of a child, and a rapidly growing infant is much more likely to have bad teeth than one growing slowly," he warned. "It is a mistake for mothers to regard their apparently vigorous children as being in good health, when in fact they are suffering from a lack of vitamins."

"The latest researches have shown that in so far as teeth are concerned, the rapid growth of the body as a whole is a matter for anxiety. Rapid growth is largely due to the eating of large quantities of cereals, and the excessive eating of cereals, which the appearance of bad teeth, Oatmeal is the worst of all, although rice and white flour are also detrimental."

"That had effect of the cereals may be counteracted if the diet contains quantities of large amounts of vitamins," he said. "The only material containing this mysterious substance in sufficient quantities to make sure that no risk is being run is cod liver oil. If, of course, small doses are first given, it is exceptional for children to dislike it. Bad teeth which first given, it is exceptional for children to dislike it. Bad teeth which first given, it is exceptional for children to dislike it."

The Ilderton Fruit Growers' Association has sent in an entry list that will make the fruit growers of Western Ontario sit up and take notice. They state that they are out to win in every class in which they are represented, and are determined to bring in a class of goods that will be hard to beat.

RIVALRY IS KEEN

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Aug. 26.—The Junior Farmers' inter-county judging contest and Elgin Girls' Institute field day was held this afternoon at Pinafore Park, hundreds of sons and daughters of the soil attending.

The Middlesex girls carried off the honors judging cake, bread, school lunches and house dress, with a fair margin of points above the other two contesting teams from Dunwich and Southwold. The Middlesex team was composed of Margaret Campbell, Marian Campbell and Annie McCallum. The Dunwich team, which won the second place, included Alice McCallum, Margaret Campbell and Grace Farr, and the Southwold team was composed of Phyllis Raynam, Jeannette Begg and Greta Baldwin. Phyllis Raynam was first in the contest of individual scores and Margaret Campbell won second.

This competition, which was supervised by Miss Gordon of Shedd, comes as the result of two weeks' training by the department of agriculture. A team from each township will be permitted to compete in the grand contest at Toronto Exhibition Wednesday afternoon.

Elgin county won the second contest for the Middlesex cup in the judging and classification of stock, necessitating a third event, as Middlesex has also won an event. The Elgin team, which won by 130 points, was made up of the following: Carroll, D. A. Turner, D. A. Brown, P. Campbell, H. Comfort, H. Gawn, Miller and A. McTavish, while the Middlesex team was composed of D. McTaggart, W. Toulthart, S. McTaggart, B. Curry, K. Crinklow, M. Allen, R. MacFie, J. Wright, G. Taylor.

Children's Picnic Held.

The campus of the Alma Ladies' College was brightly decorated this evening on the occasion of the annual Kiwanis Club garden party. Hundreds of people, young and old, showed their appreciation of the good work of the Kiwanis Club by attending the function and contributing freely at the various booths.

The Salvation Army band, augmented in numbers by some of the London band, very generously contributed to the program with many fine selections. The hot dogs and greatly enjoyed by the changing crowd. The playground children, in whose interest the party is being held, assisted with the program. The beauty of the party was heightened, being capably supervised by the members of the club. Bob Christie looked after the ten-pin alley, Herb College dispensed the hot dogs, and gave Frank Holcombe a stiff run at his ice cream booth. Walter Becker offered beautiful bunches of choice fruit and a prize for the best fruit basket. The party was a great success, and the members of the club were well known in the city.

DOG SHOW PROMISES TO ECLIPSE RECORDS

Western Fair Officials Ready To Handle Unusual Number of Entries.

The dog show at the Western Fair this year is expected to surpass all held in the history of the show. As the entries do not close until Saturday, Secretary Jackson could not say definitely how many dogs will be entered, but he is sure that there will be enough to make a two-point show. If there are 350 dogs entered it will make a three-point show, and this will be the first time in history that this number has been reached.

Larger and better quarters have been provided this year. The competition will house the dogs, and this will also improve the accommodation for spectators.

FENIAN RAID VETERAN HUNTS FOR OLD FRIENDS

On the 8th of March, 1866, Pte. W. R. Hodgins marched out of London en route for Sarnia, with the highly laudable intention of putting the warlike Fenians in their places. With him marched most of his friends, all of them in number one company, mobilized in Lucan, Ont. Today, 58 years of age, Mr. Hodgins is wondering if any of that company are still alive and healthy as he is, and would like to see any of his old brothers in arms.

Lure of Dance Gets Prince For First Time During Trip

Associated Press Despatch. On Board the Berengaria, Aug. 26.—The Prince of Wales this evening, for the first time, appeared in the ballroom, which was crowded with passengers taking advantage of their first opportunity to see him at close range. The prince danced several times with Lady Mountbatten and other members of his party, and later with Miss Cahill, an Irish-American passenger who is travelling with her aunt, Mrs. Burke. At one time it became necessary for the prince to retire to his room and change his collar, which had become wilted, but he immediately returned to the floor and danced with unabated enthusiasm. Astrid early in the morning, the young prince was having his boxing bout at 7.30. This he followed with a swim and other exercises in the gymnasium. It is reported that he will probably take part in a tug-of-war which is being organized for the sports day program, and will attend the masquerade Wednesday evening. It has been intimated to the newspapers that the prince appreciates the respect the passengers now show for his incognito, and he is thus able to move about the ship without exciting noticeable interest.

ELLA MAE SCOYNE GAINS HONORS AT DRESS CARNIVAL

Girl Wins Daring Sprint With Auto

Fails To Notice Machine Crossing Main Corner.

Noonday crowds at Dundas and Richmond were given an unusual thrill today when they witnessed a half-minute race between an auto and a little girl of four or five summers, who had suddenly darted in front of the fast-moving vehicle. The youngster won the daring sprint, but her fleetness of foot undoubtedly saved her from injury, as she little more than topped the massive front bumper on the car. The little tot failed to notice a machine proceeding south on Richmond street. She was almost in front of the car when she realized her danger. With great presence of mind she wheeled and took the same course. The bumper grazed her, but another few steps brought her to the sidewalk and a thoroughly angry big sister.

On Famous Story.

Among other striking situations developed in "Bread," the new Metro-Goldwyn film to be shown at Loew's Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week, occurs a sequence in which a woman surrenders her husband robbing her own household of its savings. This startling scene is a turning point in the famous Charles D. Norris novel, about which so much discussion raged a year ago. It tells the story of a woman's struggles as breadwinner, and reveals the inside story of an unhappy marriage. Jeanette, a spirited, proud and impetuous girl, finds the poverty in which she lives unendurable, when her shabby clothes become the occasion of a public humiliation at a dance. After seeing her sister Alice sink further into poverty by marrying a poor youth by the name of Roy Beardsley, Jeanette turns her back on marriage and goes into business.

Success In Business. At the business of breadwinning she finds herself successful. She becomes private secretary to Mr. Corey, her wealthy employer, and, after reaching this point of vantage, is forced to relinquish it by the ill-founded jealousy of Mr. Corey's wife. In a moment of depression she marries Martin Devlin, a spendthrift salesman, and finds herself drifting back into poverty.

At this point occurs the intolerable discovery of the theft. The young wife, heart-broken, leaves her husband and goes back into business. Mrs. Corey learns that her jealousy was unfounded and Jeanette is reinstated as Mr. Corey's secretary. She devotes her entire energy to success, and within three years has become an important member of the firm.

A Plain Misunderstanding. Meanwhile, the deserted husband has become a successful auto sales manager, but, in the belief that he was wronged his wife too deeply, has made no attempt to effect a reconciliation. Alice and Roy have meanwhile established a happy home, which has been blessed by two children. They have saved enough money to purchase a Ford from Martin, and Roy brings Martin back in the machine to the house. There Martin finds Jeanette at play with the children and the meeting is followed by a happy reconciliation.

A distinguished cast has been utilized in the telling of this unusual story. Mae Busch, as the wife, and Robert Frazer, as the spendthrift husband, score dazzling personal successes, while Wanda Hawley, Pat O'Malley, Hobart Bosworth, Eugenie Besserer, Ward Crane, Myrtle Stedman, and Eugene Besserer.

"Bread" was adapted by Lenore Coffey and Albert Lewyn from the novel as published by E. P. Dutton and Company. It is presented by Louis B. Mayer.

Attendance at "Young Canada's Day" exceeds Last Year's by 27,500.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 26.—The attendance today at the Canadian National Exhibition (Young Canada Day) was 293,000, as against 175,500 for the corresponding day last year, a gain of 27,500.

The figures are the largest for any corresponding day at the fair in its 45 years' history, apart from Young Canada Day in 1921, when the record was 230,000.

For the three days of the 1924 exhibition the total is 354,000, as against 319,000 for a like period in 1923, a gain of 35,000.

Three thousand orphans from the different Protestant and Catholic institutions in the city and poor children from many districts in the city were the guests of the Shriners and Knights of Columbus today at the city camp. The kiddies were made welcome everywhere.

WHEAT AT GUELPH IS BEST IN YEARS

Yield On Experimental O. A. C. Plots Heaviest Since Year 1900.

Special to The Advertiser. Guelph, Aug. 26.—According to Dr. C. A. Zavitz, head of the field husbandry and experimental department of the Ontario Agricultural College, winter wheat in the experimental plots has yielded higher this season than in any other year since 1900.

Yield of grain per acre per annum of 14 varieties, grown for the past twenty-nine years is 44.5 bushels, while the average yield per acre for the same varieties for 1924 is 63.4 bushels or an increase in 1924 of fully 18 bushels per acre.

Within the last 34 years over three hundred varieties, selections and crosses of winter wheat have been tested on the experimental plots for at least five years. In 1924 and in the average of the past five seasons, varieties giving the highest yields per acre have been originated at Guelph by hybridization and by selection.

The new hybrid, O. A. C. No. 104, has surpassed the Dawson's Golden Chaff at the college by an average of 5.3 bushels per acre, and it is now being increased rapidly in the winter wheat sections of the province.

POSTAL OFFICIAL HELD IN ROBBERY

Police May Have Master Mind in $2,000,000 Mail Robbery.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Aug. 26.—William Fahy, regarded as one of the aces of the local force of postal inspectors, was arrested in his own office in the Federal Building late today, charged with being the master mind in the recent $2,000,000 mail robbery at Rondout, Illinois.

The arrest was made by Chief Deputy United States Marshal Sam Howard, after Fahy had been under the surveillance of Charles H. Olara, head of the postal inspectors' service in New York for three weeks.

"We have obtained enough evidence to convince us Fahy was the 'inside man' in the robbery," Olara said tonight. "He knew the movements of the trains and what they carried. We can show that he had a leading part in engineering the robbery, although he took no actual part in the holdup of the train."

William Newton, Willis Newton, Jeff Newton, Herbert Halliday, James Murray, Walter McComb, Carlos Fontana and Ernest Fontana had already been taken into custody in connection with the robbery. Two others are being sought.

Fahy had been assigned to the Chicago office for four years, prior to which he was in the federal secret service in Philadelphia. The Rondout robbery occurred late on the night of June 12. A special mail train of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway was stopped by eight men 34 miles north of Chicago. The clerks barred the doors of the cars and turned out all lights, but the bandits forced entrance by hurling tear bombs through the windows. The bandits escaped in two motor cars.

When news of the robbery reached Chicago Fahy was one of the postal inspectors notified, and he left his home immediately, heading a posse through the woods where it was thought the bandits were hiding.

HOUSE, SCHOOL PLANNED FOR NURSES' QUARTERS

Estimated Cost For Two Years Will Be in Neighborhood of $4,000.

OPERATING ROOM

School Board Provides Hitch, Asking Fifty Dollars Per Month Rent.

At a special meeting of the Hospital Trust held in Victoria Hospital last night the most important item dealt with was accommodation for the class of nurses which will enter the hospital for training in the next few weeks. After much deliberation it was decided to build a new building for the class of nurses, and the Colborne Street School as temporary quarters, also if possible to acquire the old McClary home on Wellington street for two years and use this as a dormitory.

Both places will have to be remodelled extensively, and the matter of spending the money to fix these places brought considerable discussion from the members. It was estimated that if both places were taken for a period of two years that the total expense for the two years would be $4,000. If the building can be obtained for a shorter period, it will not be necessary for a longer lease on the building.

These two places will accommodate 45 nurses, 15 in the school building and 30 in the McClary home. It is positively necessary that more accommodation be added, for at the present time the hospital is off the list of standardized hospitals, and this does not permit the nurses graduating from Victoria to go to New York State to practice.

The only hitch in the renting of these buildings is the rent wanted by the board of education for the school. They ask $50 a month, but the hospital trust was of the opinion that the lower fee should be asked by the board. As the building is not in use at the present time, they would be helping to defray the expenses of up-keep on the building.

The proposal for a subway to be constructed between the administration building and the isolation wards was discussed, but tabled until next meeting to give Engineers near an opportunity to prepare new plans. It was shown in the plans before last night's meeting that the subway

Horses At Work Stung To Death By Bee Swarm

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Hyacinthe, Que., Aug. 26.—Three horses employed in moving loads of gravel were killed today on the high road between St. Damase and Rougemont, near here, when thousands of bees settled on the animals and literally stung them to death. The horses were completely covered by the bees and, maddened by the stings, tried to kick themselves loose from the heavy wagons. The harness was eventually severed by knives and the animals, too weakened to bolt, were sprinkled with poison to get rid of the bees. They died shortly afterwards.

would go through a conduit that now houses steam and drainage pipes. This conduit would have to be enlarged and walls strengthened. On the suggestion of A. J. McGuffin, it was decided to have Mr. Near draw up plans that would have the subway come under the out-patient department and nurses' home. He said if this was done no walls would have to be strengthened, and just as good service could be carried on. The appointment of an operating-room supervisor was announced by Dr. Clegg. Miss Dorothy Dickinson, formerly of the McKellar Hospital, St. William and now working in Ohio, received the appointment. Miss Hilda M. Stuart of this city has been appointed assistant supervisor of nurses.

DRAFT PACT OPPOSED BY NORWAY AND SPAIN

Associated Press Despatch. Geneva, Aug. 26.—Norway and Spain have swelled the ranks of the states opposed to the draft pact for mutual assistance which France recently approved. The document emanating from Christiana is one of the most outspoken communications ever reaching the league. It declares that Norway has always attached the greatest importance to maintaining absolutely intact the right of its constitutional authorities to decide for themselves regarding participation in military operations.

POLICEMEN STORM SPRINGBANK PARK

London Stalwarts Hold Picnic—First in Twenty-One Years.

The members of the police force held a picnic at Springbank Park yesterday afternoon. With them were their wives, children and friends. The day was a joyous one from start to finish, and all were confident that the picnic would become an annual event.

It was the first time that a picnic of the force had been held in 21 years, and some of the old-timers were recalling the last time they gathered at the park. The one thing that would not let the policemen forget their duty was the "traffic cop" had to be stationed on the tracks to prevent somebody from getting a leg cut off or a sore toe from the train running over it.

Sergeant Tom MacDonald with two Scotch lasses provided plenty of music for the afternoon. It could be plainly seen that women would make poor guardians of the law by the manner in which they took part in the picnic. The women were featured by a spill, and the wheelbarrow race was amusing to say the least. When the contestants had traversed half of the course all seemed to take a spill, and some of the "barrows" became separated from the "wheels." Every minute was confusion for several minutes, but finally they got straightened out again and the finish line was reached by most. The race for policemen under six feet had to be called off because of lack of entrants. Sergeant Mackey was presented with an immense screwdriver in recognition of the splendid work he had done in repairing a watch belonging to a policeman. The screwdriver was the greatest race of the day was the visitors' 100-yard dash. He who is mayor of our fair city won. The nearest man to him at the finish was 6 inches in the rear, and this shows that the mayor was entirely out of his class and should be running in the Olympics for Canada.

Harry Downs had his trusty gat there and used it in starting off the contestants. Walter Harpur, finger-print expert of the force acted as clerk of the course. The picnic committee included William Middaugh, Morley Leach, William Snell, Earl Knight and Merwin Coxworth.

Race results: Boys, 6 years—Reggie Pilgrim, Bruce Colter, Lorne Lyons. Girls, 6 years—Mary Langford, Alice Mackey, Mary Mackey. Potato race—Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Monahan. PLANS CAFETERIA AT WESTERN FAIR

I. O. D. E. Chapters Make Final Arrangements and Appoint Conveners.

Several chapters of the I. O. D. E. are already busy making arrangements for their various activities at the Western Fair. As formerly, the charge of the kitchen near the King street entrance, and the Overseas members will serve meals to the Fair directors, but this year the Campbell Becher Chapter has taken a wider step and will open a cafeteria.

This is a new venture and it is expected that the cafeteria will prove most popular. The cafeteria will be held in the upper story at the west end of the Crystal Palace, and the cooking will be done within sight of the customers. The receipts are to be used for charitable and welfare work during the winter. The conveners for each day are as follows: Monday, Mrs. Wilfred Hodgins; Tuesday, the regent, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway; Wednesday, Mrs. R. Hookway; Thursday, Mrs. Claude White; Friday, Mrs. (Dr.) Steele and Mrs. Leonard Douglas, and Saturday, Mrs. H. Bell.

The Loch Lomond Chapter check-room has been most popular for the past two years and the members are confident that the proceeds will be equally as large this year, as the charge for checking is but five cents per parcel. The conveners are Mrs. James Hendry and Mrs. Edward Sutherland. Final arrangements for the work of the Overseas Chapter have not

Leap For River As Fire Ignites Hair, Clothing

Canadian Press Despatch. Belleville, Aug. 26.—Frank Fitzgerald and Fred Croft are in Belleville General Hospital suffering from serious burns sustained in an explosion at the former's clothes pressing establishment here. The men had a very narrow escape. Both were over the shop pressing when an explosion occurred. The sound of the blast had not died away before the building was in flames and black smoke. Both men jumped into the Moira River at the back of their premises to extinguish the flames in their hair and clothing. They will recover. Firemen soon got the blaze under control in the building.

REBELS OF SUDAN GET PRISON TERM

Three Ringleaders Get Two Year Sentence As Result of Outbreak.

PUNISH TEN OTHERS

Associated Press Despatch. Khartoum, Egypt, Aug. 26.—A court-martial, composed entirely of Egyptians and Sudanese, has sentenced the three ringleaders in the disturbances, which occurred recently at Atbara, to two years' imprisonment. Ten others of the prisoners were each sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

British official despatches regarding the disturbance at Atbara said the trouble there started August 5 when military cadets, who had paraded with rifles, refused to give up their arms on returning to their school, and they were surrounded and arrested by British troops.

The following day the Egyptian railway battalion at Atbara made a demonstration, after which the Egyptian soldiers were confined to barracks. During the demonstration they attacked the British troops with bricks and other missiles, and the British soldiers fired, causing 15 casualties.

ATTRACTIONS: DAILY—AFTERNOON AND EVENING GRANDSTAND PERFORMANCE

The Vaudeville Performance in front of the Grand Stand will maintain the high standard set in previous years. The various acts have been selected with painstaking care and will meet with the approval of all who can crowd the stand to see them.

LENOR'S LONDON STEPPERS.—Introducing Russian, Spanish and acrobatic dancing, and the famous Dance of the Wooden Soldiers. A splendid troupe of performers, trained by Miss Lenor, late of the famous John Tiller Dancing School.

DE KOCH TROUPE.—Acrobats and equilibrists extraordinary, introducing RAGS, the famous and only canine acrobatic understander in the world.

DARING CROMWELLS.—The snappiest, peppiest, darest double-trapeze act in existence. Watch for the breakaway drop.

EUGENE RANDOW.—The cyclonic laugh-producer and two distinct acts. Act I—"Bump the Bumps," a screaming absurdity intermingled with feats of sensationalism. Act II—"The Great Comedy Act."—One man wrestling match. "A Riot." Also "Randow" works throughout the program burlesquing incidents of the show.

BUD SNYDER AND "BULCH" CO.—Indisputably the most excruciatingly funny act extant. They wanted to give "Bulch" the New York Hippodrome, but he had no place to put it, see "Bulch" and be convinced.

EQUESTRIAN CABARET.—An equestrian divertissement of exceptionally high class calibre, introducing original and hazardous riding feats with excellent light comedy. An act full of "pep" from start to finish.

HORI JAPS.—An astounding presentation of various forms of equilibrium, an act of distinct individuality.

THE FAMOUS BELLOCLAIRE BROS.—The recognized "Crowd Getters." The international sensation, a symphony of desire, concluding with "Looping the Loop" to catch in backward bend.

D'LONRA.—The most thrilling, awe-inspiring act the world has ever known. A thoroughly original and ingenious thriller.

THE AMERICAN FIREWORKS CO.—The vaudeville performance each evening will be concluded by a spectacular display of fireworks. There are no words to describe the transcending beauty of the many and varied displays presented by the American Fireworks Company. The greatest of all fireworks exhibitors.

THE MIDWAY

The Johnny J. Jones Exposition Shows, which will occupy the midway this year, are in a class by themselves for clean, healthy amusement. The midway will consist of numerous rides and shows, providing a whole exhibition of itself for the amusement of everybody, the kiddies, the young folk and their parents. You cannot afford to miss this.

HIS RECORD.
"What's been coming off, Gump?" asked an acquaintance, as Mr. Gump Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, limped in to the crossroads store, and with a groan, sank down on a nail keg.
"Well, I'll just tell you, Life," was the reply. "I swopped for a mule yesterday, put a bridle on him and hopped onto his back. He jumped and threw me off, and kicked me before I hit the ground."
"Huh! Every time one of my mules throws me off he kicks me twice before I strike the ground!"

Without the Family.
Dudley—"I think you were foolish, old man, to cut your vacation short and hurry back to the hot city."
Byron—"Perhaps I was; but I needed a rest."

Ballade of Maidenly Popularity.
She's such a demure little wren.
You don't notice the twink in her eye.
But when she's around with the man,
There's no one who passes her by.
The reason it's plain to decay:
If you ever come under her fist,
You'll notice—as frequently as I—
She closes her eyes when she's kissed.

You ask how this comes to my ken?
Observation amends my reply:
For when men are together, and when She lightsomely trips her way by,
Her glance at the party is sly.
And before you can bid them desist,
In chorus the fellows all cry out:
"She closes her eyes when she's kissed!"

L'Envoi.
Though she's most undeniably shy,
In view of this amazing list,
Don't you think there's a good reason why
She closes her eyes when she's kissed?

"Yessah, pap," said little Washington. "Ah guess yo' did."
"Well, yessah, I went over to dat watermelon patch," continued Tobe, "for 't git a melon, and day ain't none dere—How yo' gwine t' splain dat?"

Dizzy Walking.
Blake—"Hear about Jennings' accident? No? Well, he broke a leg."
Drake—"How did it happen?"
Blake—"Well, you know that he walks in his sleep? Well, he had to make a trip last week, and he took an upper berth."

Slight Changes.

Willie—"Their tails were different."
Teacher—"Wrong."
Willie—"But, teacher, the other day you said that the changes were mostly details."

RAILWAY BOARD ASKED TO GIVE RELIEF TO MEN

Engineer Near States He Has Reached Limit of Expansion.

SPRINGBANK DAM

Having concentrated for an hour yesterday on the problems of local unemployment, the local board of works unanimously carried a motion coming from the mayor informing the C. N. R. of the increased difficulty of the city in dealing with this matter, owing to the action of the railroad in laying off a large number of men within the last few weeks, and urging such relief action by the railway in providing work for its men as might prove feasible. It will be forwarded to the railway executive and the minister of labor.
To this motion was added a clause
on the suggestion of City Engineer Near that the attention of the railway officials be drawn to the particularly large amount of relief work undertaken by the city this year in order to cope with the situation.
Mayor Wenigke also introduced a motion calling for the immediate start of all possible work by the engineer's department. He explained that this should be carried on by the city even if it meant an increase in the supervisory staff of the department. The engineer stated that with the relief work already ordered by the council he had been able to take care of from 90 to 100 men who otherwise would have been out of work, but that he had almost reached the limit of his expansion. He emphasized the difficulty of getting competent supervisors.

Another effort in the same direction of meeting the unemployment situation was seen in a further motion of the mayor that the question of building the Springbank dam should go to the people this year at the municipal election. He thought any work was better than relief, and that work of some kind was needed was obvious to anyone. The planning of this dam would take some time, and the work could only be done in the warm weather and at low water. The board, however, was in favor of the work, and admitted the possibility that there might be some men out of work next summer.
City Clerk Baker was instructed to write to other municipalities, asking what action they had taken in the matter of meeting the provincial highways bill. London has been working on a bill for $16,143.33 work on the provincial highways done in the years 1921, 1922 and 1923 by the provincial government, and as there are no funds in the estimates, it cannot be met at present. The right of the provincial authorities to collect this road maintenance levy was questioned by members of the board.

SEEK TRADE PACT WITH WEST INDIES

Canada May Send Representatives To British Colony
To Negotiate Treaty.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Aug. 26.—While no announcement has been made respecting the appointment of a Canadian to investigate trade conditions in the West Indies with a view to negotiating a new trade agreement between the Dominion and that colony, it is probable that Hon. Thomas A. Lew-minister of trade and commerce, will go south to carry on the preliminary work.

The government is committed to an examination of the possibilities of developing trade with the West Indies, and as the work would come under the department of trade and commerce, it is quite possible that the minister himself will carry on the investigation.
Though it is understood that appointments were made at cabinet meeting today which will be announced upon the approval of the governor-general, it is also understood that several of the important vacancies will not be filled until the early fall. Dr. S. J. McLean will likely act as chief railway commissioner throughout the hearing of the protests against the Crow's Nest Pass rates which will commence on September 17.

The trade agreement with Australia, which has been pending for some time, will not be disposed of until after the return of Hon. J. A.
Robb, late this week. Mr. Robb, as minister of trade and commerce, was in charge of negotiating the agreement in its early stages.
The cabinet will not meet again this week. Premier King, accompanied by Hon. Geo. P. Graham, minister of railways, will speak in Peterboro on Thursday, in Windsor on Friday, and in St. Catharines on Saturday.

MISSING MAN'S BODY DISCOVERED IN RIVER

Body of Carl Manninen Is Found in St. Clair Near Port Huron.

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Aug. 26.—The body of Carl Manninen, Sarnia, carpenter, who has been missing since Wednesday night of last week, was found this afternoon floating in the St. Clair River, opposite the Port Huron Terminal Company's premises, and was taken to a Port Huron undertaking establishment.
Relatives later identified the body.
Manninen went fishing in a row-boat at Point Edward Wednesday night and failed to return. On Sunday the rowboat minus the oars was found near Froomfields, south of this city.
How Manninen came to fall into the water will never be definitely known, though it is believed that he fell asleep in the boat.
His widow and 15-year-old daughter survive.
The family is of Finnish nationality.

spector, on Tuesday morning. This came from Barons, in the south

The sample was of good color, the kernels being fine and plump. Mr.
Hill stated that the sample was quite as good as any wheat produced in Alberta last year.

BENGAL REFUSES TO PAY SALARIES

Motion Re-Submitted Before
Indian Governor Is Again
Rejected

BY MAJORITY OF TWO

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 26.—A further stage of the struggle between the Swar-ajists or Indian home rulers who are demanding immediate responsible government, and Lord Lytton, governor of Bengal, is marked by news from Calcutta that the Bengal legislative council has again rejected, by a vote of 68 votes to 66, a motion to pay the salaries of the ministers.
The Swarajists on March 24 last carried a motion in the council by a majority of one, declining to pay the salaries. Lord Lytton proposed to re-submit the issue to the council in July, the ministers meanwhile remaining in office, but the Swarajists obtained a high court injunction ordering the president of the council to disallow the motion for reconsideration of the salary question. In consequence of this step the British secretary for India, Lord Oliver, sanctioned an amendment to the rules governing the procedure of the legislative assembly and the provincial legislatures, whereby the establishment of the salaries of the ministers could be re-submitted. The issue has just been re-submitted under the new rule and again the council has refused to pay the salaries.

Official intimation was given recently that in the event of such rejection, the administration would be conducted without ministers.

MANITOBA LIMITS SALE OF LIQUORS

New Regulations Permit Purchase of Beer in Bottles Only.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Drastic regulations, governing the sale of beer in the province, have been recommended to the government by the Manitoba Liquor Commission, and the cabinet at a meeting today passed an order-in-council bringing the new recommendation into immediate effect.
In future no beer can be sold except in glass bottles, the sale of draught beer being entirely cut out. A permit holder is limited to the purchase of not more than 24 quarts or 48 pints of beer per week or in alternative, a statement showing the purchase of 72 quarts or 120 pints bottles of beer per month. The sale of beer in kegs, barrels or any other cask, but in glass is absolutely prohibited. A further regulation provides that the brewers shall at the end of each month deliver forthwith to the liquor commission a statement showing the number of permits, name of purchaser, description and quantity of goods sold, together with date of sale and delivery of the goods. A regulation where beer is delivered.
Regulation two, which forbids the sale of draught beer, will likely be questioned by some who have been expressed as to whether the government has power to make such a regulation. The regulation, however, will be enforced and prosecutions will follow any infringements of the new rules.

Stolen Papers Delay Results

Theft of Exams at Peterboro Thought To Be Cause.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Peterboro, Aug. 26.—Stolen examination papers may be the cause of the delay in announcing results of the recent departmental examinations in the Peterboro Collegiate Institute.
It is thought, but the authorities refuse to make a statement. With only a few days intervening until school reopens, students who sat for the examinations are still uninformed of the result, and are unable to make arrangements for continuing their education.
It is claimed that on the eve of the departmental examinations, formerly the matriculation examinations, a youth entered the collegiate institute with the aid of a passkey.

MISSING OWEN SOUND GIRL MAY BE IN TORONTO

Passenger On Street Car
Claims To Be Margaret Boyd.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 26.—A story was published today to the effect that a woman travelling on a Toronto street car yesterday attracted by the striking resemblance of one of the passengers to Miss Margaret Boyd, the Owen Sound girl, who has been missing from her place of employment in Los Angeles since last November, attached to the girl and asked her if she were Margaret Boyd.
They received an answer in the affirmative and in the short conversation which ensued were told that she was working in the city and gave an address which they did not clearly hear.
Relatives of Miss Boyd, living in Toronto, express doubt that it was the Owen Sound girl. One of the women who spoke to the stranger yesterday, stated that she had known Miss Boyd in Ottawa having worked in the same office, but Miss Boyd's relatives state that she never was employed in the capital.
A letter received by Owen Sound yesterday stated that Miss Boyd was alive and residing in Los Angeles, but her whereabouts was not disclosed in the letter.

School Togs for Tots to Teens

School days are just around the corner! Less than a week and there will be the first glowing accounts of "Oh, Mother! teacher said—" And mothers must commence anew to solve the clothes problems which keep her own little youngsters smartly and jauntily dressed. Vacation time has given sturdy limbs and pink cheeks, but it has taken heavy toll of summer clothing. Stout little sweater coats are needed for cool days, rain capes and hoods for rainy days, and new gingham and wash dresses for the bright sunny days. All of these you will find in our "School Week" merchandise and your shopping hours will be spent to best advantage if you visit each department with its newly-opened stock for fall school wear.

To-day I saw

I've often wondered if Pandora's Box were a hat box, which malicious fairies had filled with evil sprites. Of course, if it were a hat box, Pandora can't be censured—any feminine mortal would have lifted the lid!
And if she had found, deep down in the box, a pansy-purple hat hidden away in soft tissue paper —probably Pandora could have been quite philosophic about the whole disastrous affair.
Really they would be sufficient compensation for most of the ills that flesh is heir to—these new fall hats that I saw today.

They have softly squared crowns and a whimsical way with their brims—they tip them up at one side, they tilt them down at the other; they broaden them at the sides, and they narrow them to nothing at the back.
They trim them with ecaden of bright ribbon, with birds of shell or embroidery; with velvet fruit and flowers. Their colors will lend a bit of blossom-time beauty in gray November days—the nasturtium shades, the new Venetian fuchsia, carmine and the pansy tones.
When you are in the Millinery Department, look for the pansy-purple hat, with velvet birds antiquated against the upbrim, and a twelve-dollar price ticket on the under side.
