Pan American Club Meet; Uruguay Naval Club Meet

The first meeting of the Pan American Club will be held on Monday, February 2, in the Engineering Building, commencing at 7.30. This club is bi-lingual and is aimed to make all interested better acquainted with Spanish and Portuguese countries.

A very interesting program has been arranged. Spanish songs and lantern slides of Spain will form part of it and also anecdotes which will be given in Spanish and translated by Professor Mercer and Janet Conrad. The main topic will be a Panel discussion carried on along the lines of "Court of Opinion". The participants will include six Naval Officers from Uruguay. There will be questions under discussion such as: Have Canadian girls too much liberty in society? Should Canada join the Pan-American Union? Why is Spanish not taught in Canadian secondary schools? The Panel will try to answer these questions and others submitted by those attending. Questions can be asked in Spanish or English and translation will make the answers clear. Three films will be shown, two in Spanish and one in English. One is entitled "Hot Ice" and pictures a Canadian hockey game. Another is about Panama and the last is entitled "What's on your mind".

This club is a great opportunity for those interested in Spanish and Portuguese speaking countries to become more informed about them. It is not necessary to speak Spanish and the discussion will be open to all attending. So come and learn more about these countries and Spanish in an easy and informal way. Refreshments will be served.

Treasure Van Of India

Profits from the recent sale of Indian Handicraft totalled $1,200, with a total sale of $2,900, it was announced at a meeting of the Dal MUSC committee Jan. 19. Sale of the goods took place in the Arts Building and at Simpsons. The committee wished to thank the Commerce Society and all others who helped in the sale. Proceeds will go toward aiding Indian Universities.

The committee is continuing its plans for the publication of the annual YUSC edition of The Gazette, which will appear some time in February.

DGDS Orchestra

The Glee Club needs YOU, if you play a musical instrument, to join the orchestra which is currently preparing the music for Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore". The orchestra rehearsals are held Tuesday nights, 7 o'clock, at the gym, in the music room.

All musicians are urged to attend the next rehearsal with their trumpets, violins, flutes, clarinets and enthusiasm. Come on, kids, let's help the production by helping out on the orchestration end.

Big Week Coming For Gals; Delta Gamma; Sadie Hawkins

Delta Gamma held a meeting yesterday to make their final plans for Sadie Hawkins week, which will begin on Monday evening. The girls on the committees are working hard to make this an overwhelming success, and by all reports the programme is better than ever.

On Monday night the girls will take a man to the show. Tuesday night, starting at 9 o'clock, there will be an informal dance and bridge in the Men's Residence instead of the moccasin dance, since the committee was unable to obtain the rink. This dance should be fun. The girls may ask a guy or else come stag. The men on the campus are also invited to come stag. On WEDNESDAY night at 8 o'clock the girls will serenade the men at the Men's Residence, King's, and finally take the long and narrow path to Pine Hill. THURSDAY night there will be skating at the rink. Just think girls! You can go skating and ask a guy to skate with you. FRIDAY night the big dance will be held in the Gymnasium. Dancing will be to the tune of Les Single and his orchestra and dress will be barn style. Admission will be $1.25 and don't forget to bring a box of goodies for you and that lucky guy. Chaperones for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Grant and Professor and Mrs. Aitchison.

This is one week in the college year when you can ask out the men of your choice, so let us all be out there to take advantage of this opportunity and take part in all the week's activities. Besides this being a chance to ask out the man you wish, it is also a break for the men. I have heard some girls say that they don't think they should ask a guy out because they don't know him well enough, or some such excuse. Aren't you often asked out by a guy who you don't know very well? Just think, gals! There is no better way to get to know someone. Certain boys on the campus say they "have given their telephone numbers to several girls and they hope they will take the hint". That is how the fellows feel, so come on girls, let us not disappoint them.

I. V. C. F.

An Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting will be held at 12 noon on Saturday, Jan. 31st, in Room 203 of the Arts Building. The topic for discussion will be "What future is there in Christian life?"

Arts Meeting

Because too few students showed up at the last meeting of the class of '53 another one is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 3, in Room 21 of the Arts Building. Lifetime officers will be elected at this meeting and a good representation of students graduating this year is urged. Students in the professional schools who are graduating this year are reminded that they are expected to attend this meeting.

Senior Class Meet

At a meeting of the Senior Class held in the Arts and Administration building last Tuesday, it was decided that the life officers of the class of '53 would be elected next Tuesday, Feb. 3. Students of all faculties who are graduating this year are entitled to vote at this meeting and are requested to be present.

There was some doubt at this past meeting as to the eligibility of members of the professional schools to vote at these meetings. The issue was settled when the Senior Class extended this privilege on a motion.

As a result any student who expects to receive a degree from the University this year is entitled to vote for and to hold office on the life executive of the Class of '53.

The meeting will be held in the English 2 room in the basement of the Arts Building at noon next Tuesday.

Cercle Francais

The Cercle Francais held its first meeting of the New Year Monday night in the engineering building. A good number of interested students attended to enjoy songs, games, movies and refreshments. Professor Chavy announced that Cercle Francais, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Chavy and Dr. Smith, will present a French "fete" some time before Munroe Day, consisting of plays and songs performed by the students. Last year this evening was most successful and a lot of fun for the participants, and the new one promises to be just as enjoyable.

Blood Drive First Results

Released at press time today the unofficial announcement on the Blood Drive gave Dalhousie a total percentage of 58.9%, which will top last year's winner, University of British Columbia, by 4.9%. The inter-faculty competition, which is extremely keen, has not been officially estimated, so that the precise winner of the Oland Trophy will not be forthcoming until Monday.

Pi Beta Phi and Zeta Psi were the joint winners in the inter-fraternity competition, and holders of the Butsie Trophy, donated for the fraternity having the highest number of donors. Each of these had 100%, which is an amazing record.

ON STAGE Sunday in the gym for small parts in the play.

Poor Man's Law Ball Tonite Feature Alf Coward; Dancers

Tonight, January 30, is the night of the Poor Man's Law Ball, and if this Ball is like the Poor Man's Law Ball of last year, it will most certainly be a great success. The Ball is being held at the Sea Gull Club.

An enjoyable evening has been planned for everyone. Smooth music will be provided by Alf Coward and his Orchestra. As an added attraction a group of dancers under the direction of Marilla Merritt will perform the can-can. These girls are studying ballet un-

Mock Parliament Under Way See 11th Province Coming

The 6th session of the Dalhousie Mock Parliament got off to an impressive start on Tuesday night with all the traditional pageantry and customs being observed. On the first night, following the Speech from the Throne, debate in reply took place, in which speakers from all three parties took part.

The Speech from the Throne was delivered this year by Carl Bethune, President of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society, in the Senate Chambers (Moot Court Room). The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod (Prof. J. Hendry) informed the House of Commons seated in the Library that the Governor-General required the members' presence in the Senate Chambers.

Led by the piping of clansman Bill McCurdy, the members went to the Senate, but had to return according to custom to elect a speaker. The speaker elected was L. W. Fraser, Q.C., who has held this post on several occasions before.

The Speech from the Throne carried news of legislation on the Immigration Laws and on the establishment of a committee to investigate the possibility of acquiring Bermuda and the West Indies as an 11th province of Canada.

Taking part in the debate in reply among others were James

Camera Club Meet

Mr. William DeGarthe is scheduled to give a short discussion on Color Photography on Thursday, February 12th. It is to be held at the Dalhousie Camera Club, beginning at 8 p.m. Mr. DeGarthe is a very capable authority in the field of color photography, and he will illustrate his lecture with sketches and projections.

Also on the agenda for the evening will be the announcement of the Dalhousie Gazette Photo Contest, which is open to all enthusiastic camera fans on the campus. There are three cash prizes to be won and those who are interested should send their negatives or 8x10 prints into the Gazette office no later than February 15.

Outside Lectures

The Committee on Outside Lectures in Arts will hold a meeting on Tuesday, February 3, at 8 p.m. in Room 21 of the Arts Building. An address will be given by E. K. Ford, Director of Vocational Education, Province of Nova Scotia. There will also be a discussion led by J. H. Aitchison, Professor of Government and Political Science at Dalhousie University. The subject will be "Palestine, the Arabs' Story". No admission charged and the public is cordially invited.

Sodales Society

The Sodales Society of Dalhousie University announces that the tryouts for the debates against St. Thomas University and the University of New Brunswick will be held next Wednesday. They may choose either side of a discussion which will be announced in the next issue.

Nesbit, P.C., Jean Vincent, P.C., the Right Honourable Robert McInnis, Prime Minister, Ronald Stevenson, Leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, Jacques Levesque, Liberal, Bert Wyman, Unitary State, and Benson Douglas, Unitary State, Wels McArthur, Independent Pictovian Liberal.

On the second night, leading questions were aimed at Ministers of the Government, all of which were ably answered or circumlocuted.

Following this, debate on the two Government bills commenced. The first bill which was discussed was the Act to establish a committee to investigate the possibility of acquiring Bermuda and the B.W.I. as an 11th province. Debate on this was lively and interesting.

An especially interesting speech was made by Benson Douglas (Unitary State—Upper Kushmakluge), who spent some of his days in the British West Indies. He said that to take in the British West Indies and Bermuda would be to take on a political, economic and social boiling pot which would be nothing but a financial liability to Canada.

David McKeen (Conservative—Maplewood) suggested that if Canada were to take in this new province, the Leader of the Opposition would be able to go south for his honeymoon and still spend it in Canada.

The bill passed its second reading. The evening closed after debate on the Immigration Bill.

Last night, the other parties were to introduce their bills. It was expected that the Government would be overthrown by a vote of the house at the close of the evening.

Next DGDS Production

Rehearsals for "The School for Husbands" have been held for the past few weeks and the amusing comedy is being readied for production during the second week in February. The members of the cast are working hard to make this a top-notch show, but several more people are needed.

New members of the cast include Dennis Madden as the Magistrate, Allan Marshal as a Lackey and Fred Matthews as Lysander. There are about ten more people needed for crowd scenes and bit parts, and anyone who is interested in taking one of these parts is asked to attend the rehearsal on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 in the Gymnasium. These small parts all give points toward a silver or gold "D" and will not require very much work, but they are necessary for the play to be presented.

"The School for Husbands" is one of Moliere's most enjoyable plays. It tells the amusing tale of a young girl with two suitors, one of whom she detests and one she loves. This does not appear as a difficult situation, until it is learned that the one she hates, her guardian, has a right to marry her because of her father's will. The complications that now arise lead to several comic situations as more and more people become involved. The sub-plot of the romance between servants is very cleverly done, with Anna MacCormack and John Nichols taking the parts. The eventual happy ending is worked by a trick of mistaken identity, and Isabelle and Valere are married, to the chagrin of Sganarelle. The plot moves quickly and has several musical numbers worked into it. Production is slated for the second week in February, with student night on the 11th, Wednesday.

Health Service

At the request of "Buzz" Kerr, President of the Student's Council, we print Section 2 of the article concerning the Students Health Service. Owing to the number of queries about this relatively unknown organization, it is felt that publication would be timely.

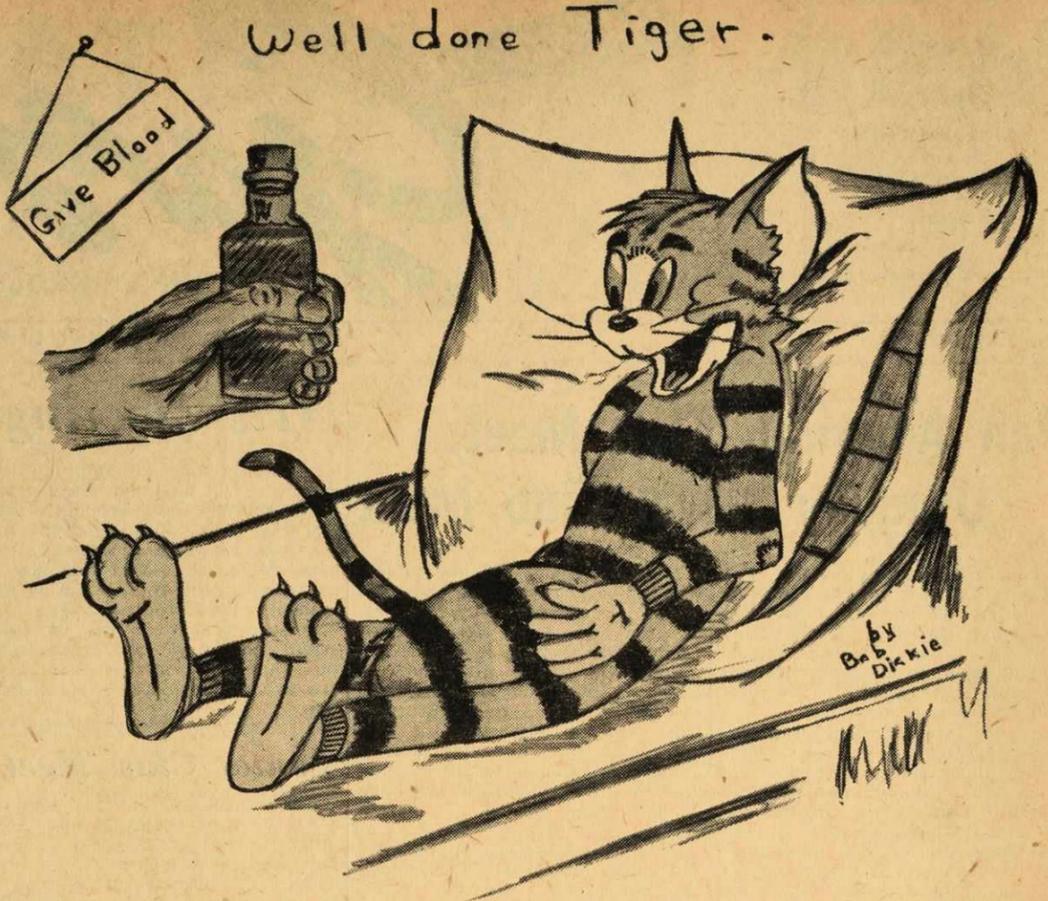

2. The service provides for the following:

- (a) A medical examination at the beginning of each session.
- (b) X-ray examination of the chest each session.
- (c) Medical service for minor ailments at the Dalhousie Public Clinic from twelve noon to one p.m. daily, except Sundays.
- (d) Such medicines (except antitonic sera, Insulin or other unusual preparations) and dressings as may be prescribed.
- (e) A free clinic for immunization against diphtheria, scarlet fever and smallpox (vaccination) is held every Wednesday at 2.00 p.m. at the Dalhousie Public Health Clinic.
- (f) A student who is too ill to attend the noon clinic, or, if taken ill in the afternoon or evening may call any doctor practising in Halifax or Dartmouth. If a student wishes advice in the matter of selecting a doctor he should telephone the Students Health Service, 3-8348 (9 a.m.)—5 p.m. daily except Sunday), or the Dalhousie Public Health Clinic, 2-3363 (at any hour). He will be furnished with a list of doctors who are willing to attend students for the minimum fee suggested by the Medical Society of Nova Scotia. At the conclusion of the doctor's attendance, the student should pay the doctor, obtain a receipted bill stating the number of visits made and the diagnosis of the illness, and then present the receipt to the Director of the Student's Health Service. The student will be reimbursed by the University Business Manager at the rate of two dollars per visit, with a limit of five dollars for each illness. Veterans enrolled in the University are receiving benefits from the Department of Veterans of these benefits. The doctors attending them should render their accounts to the D. V. A.

Hospitalization.

If required to enter any hospital for observation or treatment a student, on discharge from the hospital, should present the receipted bill to the Director of the Students' Health Service, who will forward it to the Business Manager. The student will be reimbursed at the rate of three dollars per diem for each day in hospital, to the extent of five days.

Students are advised that the public ward rate at the Victoria General Hospital is three dollars per diem, which includes medical and surgical attendance, medicines, dressings, laboratory tests and X-rays.

How would you spend a million dollars?

I'd buy some candy, some funny books, and spend the rest foolishly.—Patty MacLeod.

I'd give it all to Dalhousie for scholarships.—Ralph Garson.

I'd give it all to The Gazette so they have a better paper.—Peggy Preston.

Well, ah,—no, I wouldn't do that either.—Dave Pigot.

We'd buy a first hand flea with a diamond studded saddle and go on a trip to the North Pole.—Foo Grant and Jane Cox.

I'd get it all in one dollar bills and see how high a pile they'd make.—Pat Brodeur.

I'd buy three Cadillacs, a yacht, a South Sea island, and live in perpetual drunkenness.—Fred Cowan.

I'd buy a skating rink for STUDENTS.—Jim Keating.

I'd build a radio and TV station on the Dal campus.—Martin Smith.

I won't tell.—Edeanor Woodside.
 One whole set of Mickey Spillane books, and stay home from lab all week to read them.—Shirreff Hall ground floor girls.

I'd build a respectable million dollar compost pile on the Dal campus.—Jim Smith.

It's not fit for publication.—Irwin Nudelman.

I'd take the shortest road to Hollywood, find Marilyn Monroe, and go with her on a south Pacific excursion.—Wilf Crouse.

I'd buy an escalator for Forrest Building.—Vicki Xidos.

I'd invest it at 10% interest and retire.—Ron Stevenson.

And Gus would like to add that Jean Vincent's column (q.v.) is not the only one that suffers at the hands of some unknown power. Gus has the same trouble, and you may have noticed his absence last week. Dreamer, aren't I?

ACP Notes

A CHARMING THEORY, BUT ..

The faculty at Wheaton College, Ill., has turned down a student council proposal which would permit unlimited class cuts. The vote was close.

Supporters of the plan felt unlimited cuts would give students a healthier attitude toward classes; they cited statistics indicating good attendance records at schools having unlimited cuts.

But the opposition declared that all this was "more theoretical than anything else." The plan, according to the dean, will not be discussed again this year.

CRIME, PUNISHMENT AND TREATMENT

Two students at Ohio State University have been suspended for attempting to steal final examination questions.

At Michigan State, college officials have decided not to press charges against a student involved in a series of campus thefts, on the theory that "he needs treatment instead of punishment."

The student stole articles having a total value of $5,800, including $4,000 worth of photographic equipment.

THE VOTE FOR 18-YEAR OLDS?

Senator James H. Duff (R. Pa.) said last week that 18-year-olds should be permitted to vote in every state. He was interviewed by four college students on "Junior Press Conference" televised over ABC-TV.

"If a boy is old enough to risk his life for his country," he said, "he should be permitted to vote. It has been my experience that, by and large, the 18-year-old is just as wise as people in other age brackets."

The movement to lower the voting age has already received support from segments of the college press and from various student organizations. The National Student Association, in a recent meeting of its executive committee, voted to "put its enthusiastic support behind the movement."

At Minnesota, a bill to lower the voting age to 18 years has been introduced in the state legislature. Supporters of the bill say it has "better than a 50-50 chance of passing."

"Junior Press Conference" originates in Philadelphia at 1.30 p.m. every Sunday. Begun last October, its contract has just been renewed for another 13 weeks.

THE DRAFT: "AN APPRAISING EYE" TOWARD COLLEGES

Student deferments may not be here to stay, according to Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

"The time for action is almost here," says Hershey. "... Now that the drafting of fathers looms as an imminent necessity in the not so distant future, 'we certainly must look toward the colleges with something more than an appraising eye.'"

Draft boards are already beginning to dip down into the 19-year-old group, and it appears inevitable that at least some college students will be deprived of deferments.

The Daily Reveille, Louisiana State University, recently ran a cartoon depicting a hunter, labelled "Selective Service," aiming his rifle at a bird labelled "College Deferments." The caption was, "Dead Duck."

Let's Be Logical

It won't enable you to make eighties on all your exams, it won't explain the mechanism of a woman's mind and it won't cure hangovers.

Yet, a knowledge of logic will act as a compass to guide you through the engulfing fogs of fallacious thinking.

We live in a scientific age. During the last century and a half the natural sciences have received a tremendous impetus, their scope of investigation has been widened to a remarkable extent, their achievements have been of extraordinary nature, and their material benefits to mankind have been phenomenal.

Accompanying this unprecedented emphasis in Natural Science there has evolved and developed a lethal dislike for non-factual studies such as philosophy. As a result the study of logic, a branch of philosophy, has become a lost art.

A logician might define the study of logic as the science of those principles, laws and methods which the mind of man in its thinking must follow for the secure and accurate attainment of truth. Or more succinctly, the science of straight thinking.

It is not a study reserved for the intellectual elite or the bearded scholar, but rather it should be employed by all of us in our daily reasoning.

Straight thinking does not depend entirely upon logic but it does demand that we take time to think clearly and intelligently. I am not suggesting that in every thought you express you employ a written syllogism, such as:

All men are mortal.
Fred is a man.
Fred is a mortal.

No! I don't suggest this, but rather you should know at least the fundamental rules of logic, which you will evoke, sub-consciously, in all your thinking, and thus attain a fuller and clearer understanding of people and things.

We are all aware that we have been endowed with some innate logical talents, which philosophy calls innate ideas or natural logic, while we call it horse-sense. The difference between a person having natural logical talents and the person with trained logical talents, is the difference between an amateur actor and a professional.

Unfortunately, as in all ages, people have detected our weakness, lack of rational thought, and are taking advantage of this serious weakness. Today we live in a world of propaganda. Through the medium of the press, radio, movies and television someone is grappling desperately for control of our minds and purse strings. These people are not using subtle tricks of magic but rather they are making remarkable use of our apathy and complacency in illogical thinking.

The battle of propaganda is a serious business. We live in a country where propaganda comes from all sides. If you lived in a totalitarian country, you would know how difficult it is to keep up the fight against one-sided propaganda, trying desperately to keep your head above the sea of fallacious arguments. What makes the struggle so hard is the fact that the totalitarian's strongest weapon is not logical, but psychological. It relies on the tremendous power of repetition. After the steady hammering of the propaganda machine, millions of Germans were sincerely surprised to learn that New York had not been bombed to ruins and that Roosevelt's real name was not Rosenfeld.

Who is immune to such trash as: Wash your undies in Lux—Ava Gardner does. Drink Gilby's Dry Gin—Aga Khan does.

Perhaps the most ludicrous advertisement of late is the following for Black Panther perfume:

"The slumbering first of Black Panther attacks a man's heart, attacks a woman's, until the two hearts merge in a flame of ecstasy. Wear this new perfume for an unforgettable evening, but only if you dare risk the danger and dark delight of stirring primitive emotions. Sold at all 5 & 10c stores."

The deplorable fact is that such frivolous trash brings results, at the expense of the day-dreamer, who scorns the basic rules of straight thinking.

Logic will enable you to soar at times into the rarified regions of the stratosphere of clear reason, where, it is true, breathing becomes exceedingly difficult, but the outlook upon the thinking of the world as a whole is so far-reaching and magnificent, that the shallowness and foibles of human reasoning disappear from view in the realm of CLEAR, INTELLIGENT THINKING.

The Kansan Dialogues
This filial exchange appeared in the Daily Kansan, University of Kansas:

Father?
Yes, my son?
I have a problem.
What is it, my son?

I have allowed myself to become mad at another's opinion.

I am disappointed in you, my son. Have I not told you to think rationally at all times—and that only fools allow a discussion to deteriorate into an argument?

Yes, my father. But this is a bad situation. My efforts and the efforts of my friends have been belittled by a powerful man in local affairs.

Oh? my son? What could a mind no older than yours fashion in the way of opinion that would draw the ire of an elder?

Politics, my father.
Politics?

Yes, my father. I chose to believe that one man would have been better as president for this country than did a majority in this area. The powerful voice in local affairs has said in a public statement that "An occasional error in judgment or selection of editorial personnel is to be expected. It happens in the best of newspaper organizations." He is referring to me and my friends, father.

Listen, my son. Do not dignify this statement with an answer. Though every bone in your young body cries out at the injustice of the falsehood, think tolerance. You can do nothing.

This I do not understand, my father.

Hush, my son. Listen. You are young. Wisdom is gained only through the years, therefore only the elder may be deemed wise. This is a premise on which many men have built their lives. Education is chopping away with relentless strokes at their life's beliefs—and they find the strokes no more pleasant than you do their cries of pain.

I am beginning to see, my father.

SCHOOL FOR HUSBANDS needs you to exist. Come on!

Poem

Dalhousie Pete is a man you should meet,
A kind of guy who is wise and discreet.
His story is short, but fitting you see,
For he brought fame to our university.
Although he is lanky and looks sort of ill
There's a lot of blood in old Pete still.
At the Red Cross, he chanced to meet,
A fair young maid, who was mighty sweet.
As he lay there sort of still
A pint of blood, he there did spill.
The nurse she was a kindly sort
And Pete and her began to court.
Now in the latest Dal Gazette
Hero Pete is giving yet.
For in the spilling of his blood
He caught a wife within the flood.

CLIPPINGS

From Coast to Coast

by JEAN DENIS VINCENT

Well, another week has gone by and I have nothing to say, strange though it may seem. So I'm reproducing a letter which nobody would print and adding to it certain items which the printer was kind enough to cut out of the previous issues. Printers are a funny lot; ours seems to think that it is more important to have ads. than features. (I use the term loosely).

So that next week, if you read about "Sludge" where my column is intended to be, do not be surprised. Or have you heard about Sludge, the new miracle breakfast food. Sludge does not snap, crackle or pop. It just sits in the bowl and stares at you. It does come individually wrapped, it does not come in a handsome package, you just go to the grocer's and he pours it in your pocket; and furthermore, Sludge corrects ir- about Sludge, that is why my column is irregular . . . too much Sludge.

Dear Fellow Traveler:
I have the distinguished honor of being a member of a committee to ask for a donation to be used for placing a statue of Harry Truman in the Hall of Fame.

We have decided not to tease it by placing it next to George Washington (who never told a lie), nor next to Thomas Jefferson (who spurned a third term). It has been decided to place the statue next to Columbus, who, after all, did not know where he was going, did not know where he was when he got there, nor where he had been after he returned home. But he did the whole trip on borrowed money.

The inscription to be engraved on the Truman statue will read: "I pledge allegiance to Harry Truman and the intention for which it stands: one man indispensable and with corruption for all."

Five thousand years ago Moses said: "Pick up thy shovels, mount thine asses and camels, and I will lead you into the promised land."

Five thousand years later Truman said: "Lay down your shovels, sit on your (donkeys), light a camel—this is the promised land."

If you are one of those who seem to have anything left after your taxes are paid, we will accept a liberal contribution.

Yours sincerely,
A FELLOW TRAVELLER.

Noticeably enough, Eastern papers took all the awards in CUP competitions this year, though UBC seems to have lost out on a lapse in the judging point system. Jean Yves Pilon, national secretary of Nifous, during his recent visit to Dalhousie, gave some interesting statistics concerning the organization and aroused more interest in it than I have seen displayed in a good many years. . . . Acadia University, in case you should worry, which I doubt, is still there. . . . Toronto's The Varsity is now publishing without a sports section; devoted reverently a whole issue to civil liberties, and in certain articles was very violent in its attacks.

A Russian flag was found flying one morning not long ago from the mainmast on McMaster University's campus. The act was termed by authorities a prank, the kind of a prank that leaves in my mouth the same taste as would swallowing a glass of iodine.

There is a $10 fine imposed on all Queen's students who fail to get themselves X-rayed, as they should according to university regulations. Times are difficult when you have to force a horse to drink or the Queen's people to pay such royalties.

And there is the story of this homesick Polish girl-student, who was smuggled aboard their ship and hidden in a lifeboat, under a tarpaulin, by three sailors, only to find eight weeks later that she was on the Dartmouth Ferry.

And not long ago a policeman who stopped a College student driving backwards received this explanation: The car was rented on a mileage basis and the student was driving that way because the speedometer didn't register in reverse.

For Three Professors Three Suspensions

Three veteran New York City college professors last week were suspended because they refused to answer questions asked by the McCarran senate subcommittee on Internal Security.

The questions concerned the professors' past affiliations with the Communist party. The professors cited the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution in support of their refusal to answer the questions. It states that a person does not have to testify against himself if he feels it will incriminate him.

The New York Board of Education, in dismissing the teachers, claimed that they violated a clause in the city charter which holds that a city employee can be dismissed if he refused to testify before such an investigating committee.

Basketball

At the end of the third week in inter-fac basketball Law A and Law B are leading the field, neither having suffered a loss. Law A had a close call in the big game with Engineers on Saturday, but they pulled out a 29-27 win. Scotty Henderson was the big gun for Law A, notching 17 points, while Gordie Weld led the Engineers with 10.

The vaunted Med A team came into its' own by sweeping three games after dropping their first two. In a close affair with Commerce they finally came out in front by the score of 33-31. Ross was high man for Commerce, while Kinley and Brown paced the doctors. Parker and Janigan paved the way for a Med A victory over Pre-Med. The Meds were never headed in this game and came out on top, 44-24. Roger Patrel was outstanding for Pre-Med, netting half of their points. Med A's third victory of the week was a convincing 56-32 victory over Pharmacy. Janigan, Kinley and Wickwire starred for the Meds, while "Bebo" MacKeen, as usual, paced the Pharmacy squad, scoring 27 points.

Law B handed Dents their first defeat of the schedule as they swamped them under 51-13. Nowlan swished 14 points to lead the Law B's.

To round out the week the luckless Pre-Meds dropped their fourth in a row as Law A went on a scoring spree to defeat them 54-12. Henderson connected for 13 and Palmeter 12 for Law, while Jollymore led the Pre-Med's cause with 6 points.

ICE HOCKEY

Last Saturday at 2 o'clock the Dalhousie girls hockey team downed the telephone operators 3-0 in a rough and ready game. This was the second game of the season with the operators and the raging tigresses found it much more difficult to push through their defense than in the first game. In the first period the game was evenly distributed and at the end of the period there was no score. At the beginning of the second period the tel. operators pucked in a goal but as it was kicked in it was not counted. In this session the forward line of F. Hiscock, E.

Lane and P. Barrett were outstanding with Barrett scoring two goals and Lane one. The forward lines were sparked on to score by the dependable defence of B. Melanson and P. Staples, who kept the puck inside the blueline. In the third period the play was again on even terms and although the line of J. Petrie, J. Wilson and P. MacLeod kept the puck in their opponents end they could not seem to score. The game ended 3-0 for Dalhousie.

The team was entertained after the game by an amusing recording of the game made by some King's boys.

In the first game of the newly-formed Intercollegiate Hockey the Dalhousie Tigers defeated Nova Scotia Technical College by the score of 4-1, due chiefly to the work of Don Smith in the nets for Dal. Smith was brilliant throughout the game and the one shot that beat him was a rebound that the defence failed to clear. Three players were brought up from the Junior Varsity team for this game and all three—Nason, Kennedy and Hill—looked good.

The game opened with the Dal squad appearing greatly disorganized. Tech took advantage of this and at 9:18 Bowes batted in MacDonald's rebound. At 13:00 Ducky Scarfe, who was really flying all night, raced down the left side and passed out front to Sprowe. Whitey rifled it home from about 15 feet out to tie the score. Dal's second goal came after a beautiful passing play by Scarfe and Tremblay. Scarfe passed in the corner to Tremblay who flipped it back out to Scarfe. Before Scott could move in the nets for Tech, Scarfe fired a low one into the right hand corner. The period ended with Dal out in front 2-1.

Lick MacDonald set up the next Tiger goal early in the second period as he carried the puck over the Tech blue line and passed to Tom Kennedy. Kennedy shot and hit the goalie. Beck, following up the play, swooped in and back-handed the rebound past the defenseless goalie. Tech came alive at this point and controlled the greater part of the play for the rest of the period, but Smith was played a good defensive game for Dal.

Pat Barrett of Dal opened the scoring, closely followed by team mate Barb Walker. For three Dalhousie went on to chalk up 12 points without a reply from King's.

King's rallied in the second quarter when Helen Boiduk sunk the first King's marker. Dal picked up five more and the half ended 17-2.

The second half got off to a much faster start. King's managed to push through Dal's defense and pick up two more baskets. The final form was roughly played. King's tried to increase their score but only picked up 4 points to end the game 31-10.

unbeatable between the pipes for Dal. The fast pace began to tell on both teams and play slowed up towards the end of the period.

The game roughened up in the third period. Dal played smart defensive hockey to maintain their lead. At the twelve minute mark hard-skating Steve Pephany scored for Dal on a pass out from Johnson to end the scoring.

The game was a hard fought, close-checking affair with the play at times being ragged. Smith, Scarfe and Sprowe stood out for Dal, while MacPhee, Bowes and Centa were the pick of the Tech squad.

Tomorrow afternoon at University rink the Dal Varsity Tigers will take the ice to do battle with the Mount Allison Varsity squad at p.m. This is the second game in a home and home series between these two clubs, the opener ending in defeat for the Tigers.

Last Saturday in Sackville Dal dropped a 6-2 decision at the hands of the "A" aggregation. After a tiresome journey to the New Brunswick town the Dal squad found it difficult to get untracked and before the chance came, the hustling, hard working Mount "A" group skated off the ice with a four goal victory under their belts.

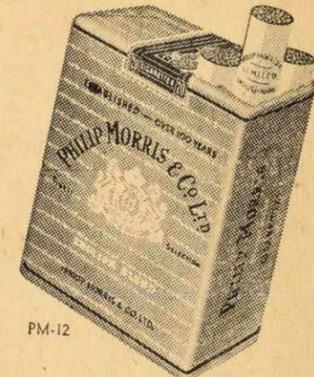

The Tigers have been working hard at practice all week and it is expected that they will square the series tomorrow, so let's go all Dal supporters, let's boost the team on to victory.
