

GEN. MAURICE'S CHARGES PRECIPITATE CRISIS IN OLD LAND

Vote of Censure of Government to be Moved To-morrow

CHARGES AGAINST CABINET IMPERIL ITS EXISTENCE

Serious Political Situation Arising Out of General Maurice's Accusations PUBLIC IS IN ARMS Press Divided on Issue; Asquith May be Backing Maurice

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—The action of General Maurice, former chief director of military operations at the war office in impugning the veracity of ministers of the government, has created a most serious political situation and one which is of vital importance to the cabinet's existence, according to the views expressed by several of the morning newspapers. Papers which have consistently supported the present administration rally to its side and insinuate or assert openly that former Premier Asquith and his followers are back of General Maurice and that the affair is a manoeuvre to oust the Lloyd George cabinet and put in its place a cabinet headed by Mr. Asquith, Viscount Grey and the Marquis of Lansdowne. Thursday's debate, The Daily Telegraph thinks, will be the most serious that the government has had to face involving the question of its continuance in power. The paper is convinced that the ministers acted in perfect good faith when they made the statements which have been reported and believes they merely repeated information supplied by their military advisers. The Daily Telegraph believes the country has complete and justified confidence in the government, but adds: "There is no doubt that the opposition led by Mr. Asquith regards the time as ripe for it to accept the responsibility of office. It is for the House of Commons to choose. The alternative government would exclusively be a radical one."

Asquith Blamed The Daily Mail, which strongly supports Premier Lloyd George and is as strongly inimical to former Premier Asquith, says the debate on Mr. Asquith's motion will afford him the needed opportunity for an attempt to bring about a parliamentary crisis. It remarks that when General Maurice said that no soldier had seen his letter, he did not say that no politician had seen it.

"This omission," The Daily Mail adds, "coupled with Mr. Asquith's manoeuvres in parliament on Tuesday, suggests that the old gang believes it has found a weapon which will destroy the government. We believe these infatuated partisans have made one more miscalculation. The nation has no confidence in the discredited and dilatory politicians and their pacifist hangers-on who were driven from office eighteen months ago."

The Daily Graphic says: "Mr. Asquith's intervention indicates that the political truce is now at an end. We must anticipate a new political struggle centering around the question of the Premier's honor."

Premier Blamed The Conservative Morning Post says that the premier's own act brought the government to the present serious pass. He refused, it declares, to take the advice of soldiers, the Germans took advantage of the situation and the premier threw the blame on the soldiers.

"In the interview this person gives a very dark picture of conditions in the dual monarchy. He declares that Austria especially is in a bad situation. Famine conditions prevail and general discontent was never so great, he says. "The different nationalities regard each other like hungry wolves," the interview says.

MERCHANT SEAMEN ON DECK STILL

Germany Made Great Mistake in Hoping to Drive Them to Cover

TRIBUTE TO MARINES

By Courier Leased Wire Liverpool, May 8.—Germany has made many mistakes in the course of the war, but never made a greater one than in thinking she could end the war by driving British merchantmen from the seas, declared Vice-Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, first sea lord of the Admiralty, at the annual meeting of the Mercantile Marine Association here to-day.

In a letter to the convention, Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, wrote: "The officers and men of the grand fleet send greetings to their brother sailors in the mercantile marine and express admiration for their gallantry and devotion to duty. The importance of the part they are playing in the great war cannot be over-estimated."

AUSTRALIANS ADVANCE

By Courier Leased Wire With the British Army in France, May 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Australians last night made another advance, pushing forward their lines five hundred yards along a front of six hundred yards near Sully-le-Sec, on the sector west of Amiens. They also pushed back the Germans 300 yards along a front of 500 yards west of Morlaucourt, just above Sully-le-Sec. Notwithstanding a heavy barrage, the Germans were unable to prevent their advance.

CHURCHILL SAYS THE WEST FRONT WILL HOLD

Anglo-French Defense Can Stand Through Summer, Awaiting Aid From U. S.; Allies Determined to Hold and Win

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—The Anglo-French front in France will stand firm and husband its strength throughout the summer, while waiting for aid to come from the United States, says Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of munitions, in reply to a resolution of the executive of the National Brass Workers and Metal Mechanics Union. The resolution exhorted all workers at home to help the soldiers in the trenches, not only by sympathy, but by doing their utmost to increase the supply of war munitions and to swell the fighting forces. Colonel Churchill in his reply, expressing appreciation of the worthy part played by the Metal Workers, says: "Although the crisis is grave and will continue so for many weeks, I have profound confidence that we shall not be beaten down; that right and freedom will not be beaten down. In the present battle the Germans are attempting to destroy armies nearly as numerous as their own and quite as well armed. We are seeking only to maintain the position against them, which is a very different thing. I do not believe the German reserves are sufficient for their ambitious program."

"Although the German commanders declare their readiness to sacrifice a million men, or it need be, a million and a half, the French and British armies will not be overcome. They will maintain a firm front throughout the summer, using their deadly weapons upon the German masses and husbanding their own strength. Meanwhile, our kith and kin from the United States are coming to our aid as fast as ships can steam, and many are coping with the submarines and our airman see mastery of the air in view. "If we hold, we win. If we win, the cruel system which let loose these hordes on the world will perish amid the execrations of those who are its dupes or slaves. Then and then only will there be lasting peace."

After a full discussion it was decided to hold a meeting of representatives of the Municipal Councils, Board of Trade, Merchants' Club, to endeavor to arrange for a meeting with the City Council, with a view to the immediate consideration of the question as to whether County Toll Roads should be acquired from the present owners. The following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas under the authority of the Planning and Development Act, 1917, Chapter 44, Clause 16, the City Council may appoint a Commission to inquire into the Town Planning Commission of the City of Brantford, consisting of the mayor and six persons, being ratepayers, to hold office for three years, or until their successors are appointed; and Whereas such Town Planning Commission when appointed, shall have and exercise all the powers and discharge all the duties of the Town Planning and Development Act now vested in and exercisable by the City Council, and Whereas the population of the city has increased threefold during the last thirty years and will at the same rate of progress have a population of one hundred thousand at the end of a similar period; and Whereas with this end in view, plans should be made and adopted for the growth and extension of the city on right lines;

Therefore be it resolved: 1. That the Brantford Board of Trade believes that the appointment by the City Council of "The Town Planning Commission for the City of Brantford," should be immediately made by the City Council, and that such appointment is in the best interests of the city. 2. BLAZE AT RIDLEY COLLEGE

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—The sinking of enemy submarines has increased steadily and the sinking of merchant ships has fallen steadily, declared T. J. McNamara, M.P., for North Cambuswell, and parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty, in a speech at Bristol last night. The output of tonnage month by month is well ahead of last year. Large plans have been laid by the United States and Great Britain for the output of new tonnage, but the plans must take time to mature. Meanwhile, he added, the onus of immediate output was on the United Kingdom.

PREMIER ABOUT TO SPEAK PLAINLY IN THE HOUSE; WILL TELL A FEW THINGS

Is Likely to Give Parliament Facts and Figures "Hither to Withheld for Military Reasons"; Asquith Motion Will be a Vote of Censure of the Government.

By Courier Leased Wire LONDON, May 8.—As a consequence of the political situation, brought about by General Maurice's letter, Premier Lloyd George, according to the lobby correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, considers it unavoidable to disclose facts which have been withheld up to this time for military reasons. The premier, it is added, intends to give facts and figures when he speaks on the Asquith motion on Thursday.

The government has issued a summons to its supporters requesting their attendance in the House of Commons on Thursday when "Mr. Asquith will move a "A division is absolutely certain," says the call.

According to the press association, the proposal to refer the Maurice affair to two judges may be regarded as withdrawn, as the suggestion did not appeal to the members of the House, and its rejection by Mr. Asquith and his followers rendered it worthless.

On the other hand, it is added, it is doubtful whether any other form of inquiry will be held, and it is likely the premier will give the House the fullest possible information consistent with public safety, citing figures in proof of his statement of the relative strength of the army in January 1917 and January 1918. As regards other matters involved in the statement of General Maurice, it is understood that an explanation perfectly consistent with both versions will be made.

CABINET MAY BE FORCED TO RESIGN

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—The Evening News, which is credited with being in very close touch with Premier Lloyd George, says of the letter written by General Maurice: "We understand that both Mr. Bonar Law and Mr. Lloyd George are anxious to meet the General's charges at once, and consider they have a very good answer indeed to them. The premier, when he made his statement as to the strength of the forces in France and Flanders at the beginning of this year, and as to the number of white divisions in Palestine and Mesopotamia, was basing it on figures supplied to him by the war office authorities. It is stated he has had no reason since to doubt the correctness of the figures. The Central News makes this announcement: "We understand the government regards Mr. Asquith's motion for a select committee to inquire into Gen. Maurice's allegations in the light of a vote of censure and in the event of it being carried, will consider whether it is possible for them to continue in office."

City Council Gave an Additional Thousand Dollars Today

MAYOR IS CONVINCED

The civic grant to the Red Triangle fund was increased to $5,000 at a special meeting of the city council this morning, upon the recommendation of the Mayor. "On Monday night," stated his Worship, "I called upon the Rotary Club to prove to me that the Y.M.C.A. supplied its comforts free of charge to the men in the trenches. This they have since done, submitting proof that free coffee, chocolate and other refreshments are given. In the early days of the war it was found necessary to charge for these comforts because the institution was not then on its present self-supporting footing. I am thoroughly satisfied that the Y.M.C.A. does a great free service in the front lines."

Heavy Gunners Reported Also on French Sector Near Amiens

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—Successful minor operations last night resulted in the advance of the British lines a short distance in the Amiens sector, between the Somme and Ancre Rivers, the War Office announced to-day. Increased activity was developed by the hostile artillery early this morning on the Flanders front, between Meteren and Kemmel. The text of the statement reads: "As the result of successful minor operations carried out last night, our line between the Somme and Ancre Rivers has been advanced a short distance in the three localities. We captured several prisoners. "The hostile artillery has been active during the night between Locon and Robecq, and in the neighborhood of St. Julien, Early this morning the enemy's artillery developed increased activity in the Meteren-Kemmel sector."

Paris, May 8.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night on both sides of the Ancre River, southeast of Amiens, the War Office announced. The statement follows: "There was great activity of the artillery on both sides during the night north and south of Avre. "Raids attempted by the enemy west of Montdidier and in regions of Oulchy and Givry were broken up by the French, who took prisoners. "There is nothing to report from the rest of the front."

One thing is certain, insurance may be bought and sold up till midnight or later if necessary, until such time as a more stringent measure is passed. In the long run, those who see nothing but financial loss, may find that their forebodings were built on miscalculations, and one year hence all may be agreed that the buying public has adapted itself to the change and the domestic circle has gained enormously. The banks would do business if they kept open till midnight, and though not included in the restriction, they appear to get the business in before 4 o'clock—for the greater part. Personally, we favored at least a Wednesday evening open, even if the closure came at 10 o'clock on Saturdays. There appeared to us some point in the contention that farmers like to do their shopping of evenings in the summer, and there is a big farmers' trade here.

SIMCOE CADETS' INDOOR SPORTS

Series Now at an End, And Boys Will Turn to Field Athletics

Simcoe, May 8.—(From Our Own Correspondent) The Boy Cadets brought their indoor sports to a close last night by holding an informal banquet at the Armories about seven o'clock. There were about seven hundred of them, and the tables about one hundred of them and their girl friends, chaperones and enough adults to see the matter through.

Another hundred accepted the invitation to join the young people after the tea hour and an interesting exhibition of indoor athletics followed. Action was everywhere evident. Many of these same boys have assisted in clearing vacant land for garden or vegetable crops and if the same ardor impels them to the work of production they will accomplish much during the next four months. And more they will enjoy their prospective summer athletics all the more.

The matter in question, The Times adds, cannot be settled by an ex-certe statement, however aptly convincing from the premier.

"The premier may have an unanswerable case against the charges of General Maurice," it continues, "but the inevitable restrictions in a speech on military disposition, in a growing public distrust of all official statements, whether by Generals or ministers, and the premier's own incurable habit of protesting too much, makes it hopeless to expect any end to this controversy except through an entirely disinterested inquiry."

MAY MODIFY TAX ON MOVIE FILMS

Customs Likely to be Made Lighter and Small Excise Imposed Instead

Ottawa, May 7.—The Customs tax of five cents per foot on moving picture films, as announced in the Budget speech, is likely to be re-adjusted so as to bear a little less heavily on the film exchanges which import them for distribution among the film users. A new resolution, the film Hon. A. K. Maclean has given notice, provides for an excise tax of fifteen cents per day on each moving picture film for each day upon which such film is used. This tax will have to be paid by the users, namely the moving picture show proprietors. The Customs duty of five cents per foot, which is equivalent to about sixty per cent, and valorem, fell only on the direct importers, and the exchange people have made representations that they should not be made to bear the whole burden of this new and comparatively heavy taxation. It is probable that the Customs duty will be reduced a little. At the same time the imposition of a small excise tax will make up for this in so far as the total revenue from the taxes on films is concerned. The object in view is to equalize as far as possible the burden of the new taxation, taking part from the hand-leters of films and part from the users.

Lemons Beautify!

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Wind-chafe, roughness, tan and redness are washed off, and those tell-tale lines of care or age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier. At about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it. Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and see for yourself.

Allies have Discovered Many Signs of Treachery In the Balkan Campaign

PERSONS in this country must have been surprised by the first announcement that Gen. Sarrail was mixed up in the charges of treason that are now shaking France. The case against him is rather unique. It will be remembered that Vigo, one of the alleged conspirators, died in his cell while awaiting trial. It is supposed that he was murdered at the instigation of his alleged accomplices, who feared that he might give evidence against them in order to save his own neck. But though Vigo was put out of the way, the authorities secured a number of documents which constitute the famous "Oriental Question." These papers are said to consist chiefly in exact copies of the confidential reports sent by Gen. Sarrail from Salonica to the head of the French Government. They were not entrusted to the mails, of course, but were carried by Capt. Matthieu, Gen. Sarrail's most trusted aide-de-camp. It is alleged that Matthieu, either on Sar-rail's order or his own initiative, showed all these despatches to Caillaux and to Malvy, at that time Minister of the Interior, and acknowledged to be Caillaux's representative in the Government.

It is alleged that copies were then made, which were handed by Malvy to Vigo, the editor of a Paris newspaper, and a close friend of Malvy's, and by him turned over to a German named Goldschild, masquerading as a naturalized Frenchman of Polish birth under the name of Goldsky. Then Goldsky, provided with all necessary passports by Malvy, went to Switzerland, where he met a German agent, to whom the documents were given. It is said that these reports of Gen. Sarrail all dwelt upon the wonderful strength of the Bulgarian positions, and urged that no attack should be made upon them. Despite Sarrail's recommendation, however, the allied Governments were determined upon an advance, whose purpose was to aid the Roumanians, then known to be on the verge of entering the war. Nevertheless, Sarrail's army did not move, and while Sarrail may be able to give sound military reasons for his failure to follow the instructions he had received from headquarters, his enemies say that he is responsible, jointly with German agents in Russia, for the disaster to the Roumanian army.

It is said that the Germans knew exactly what was happening at Salonica and exactly what Sarrail would do just as they knew what was going forward in Petrograd and what action their agents there would take to betray Roumania. What remains to be proved is the responsibility of Caillaux, Malvy and Sarrail for this state of affairs. Their intimate connection cannot be denied, for, according to Cunliffe Owen, who writes on the subject in the New York Sun, Caillaux has long considered Sarrail his particular representative in the army. At one time, when the Premier had more influence than he has to-day, when as the real head of the Socialists in the Chamber, he could command 200 votes, he planned to have Sarrail brought back from Salonica and imposed on the allied armies as generalissimo. What disasters might then have been expected one does not like to consider. Caillaux has long been a notorious hater of England, Sarrail shares these views, and his reports to the French Government are said to have been loaded with venomous remarks about his British colleagues. It is known that this sentiment was heartily reciprocated and that Gen. Sir Bryan Mahon insisted upon being recalled rather than longer associate with Sarrail.

Licking Stamps is Very Unsanitary. Use a dampened sponge to seal your letters and to moisten the stamps, advises the Popular Science Monthly. The glue used on stamps and envelope flaps is made of bones and hoofs of cattle, and all sort of germs are used in paper. Besides, although they may have been sterilized, the articles pass through many dirty hands while on their road to you.

BRITISH BRAVERY PRAISED BY TURKS

Ottoman Version of the Retirement by Allenby Over the Jordan

Constantinople, May 7.—The Turkish version of the evacuation of Es-Salt by the British, who subsequently crossed to the western side of the Jordan, reads as follows: "On Sunday the British made an attack on the eastern side of the Jordan, but were repulsed. They had made extensive preparations to capture the connecting roads east of the Jordan. On the morning of April 28 troops and artillery assembled on the heights and crossed the Jordan; others advanced near Arifa Aselt with the intention of attacking our rear, but our troops, in conjunction with the Germans, frustrated the enemy's intention. Col. Ali Fudai Bey's troops withstood for eight days the stubborn assaults of the brave enemy. "In various engagements our orders were speedily executed and the reserves came up quickly. The British retreated toward the Jordan, suffering heavy losses in men and material. They are being pursued by us. The booty has not yet been ascertained."

Another Version.

London, May 7.—The version of the Turkish official statement as sent by the Reuter correspondent after the reference to Colonel Ali Fudai Bey's stand, reads: "Our troops were brought up by forced marches to the battlefield under command of Colonel Boehm and Colonel Essad, who, at the head of his brave cavalry, charged forward until he was wounded, and completely defeated the enemy cavalry. "Colonel Boehm's troops captured during these engagements the guns of an entire enemy cavalry division. (The abandonment of these guns was reported in the British official.)

"Thanks to excellent transport work and railway service, the orders of our commanding officers were transmitted to their destination, and reinforcing troops were brought up in good time. The British retreated across the Jordan."

The German official report said: "The advance by English brigades from Jerico across the Jordan (Palestine front) has been frustrated after bitter fighting, which lasted five days. The enemy was driven back into the positions from which he departed. Here German units distinguished themselves by the side of their Turkish comrades. The booty captured from the English was considerable."

THE SITUATION

The renewed German offensive on the Western front still remains in abeyance. Meanwhile, the Allies are busy bringing up reinforcements and strengthening positions.

Both the German and Turkish official reports depict the British in Palestine as having sustained serious setbacks, but there is no reason to doubt the accuracy of the official statements of General Allenby, who reports the continuance of satisfactory operations.

Major General Maurice has certainly set the political pot boiling in the Old Land in marked style. It is inconceivable that either Lloyd George or Bonar Law would knowingly give out misleading statements, and investigation is almost sure to prove that any announcements made by them were received from the war office staff.

Sir,—Has not the time arrived when Canada should revise its treatment of our Indians? While in many ways the Indians as a conquered race have been humanely treated in the past, probably in the best way that might have been devised.

The Indians themselves speak of their reserves as corrals, and feel the bondage far more keenly than the average white man is aware of. Let them out of these corrals, or burn them and let them live as free men, no longer as children.

What an inestimable boon this would be to the Indians, and what a benefit to the country? Hence as they are now in their reserves, their individuality crushed, without incentive to work or to better their condition, the situation is hopeless unless changed.

Under the above conditions a remedy is impossible. Preventative measures only can be followed. Apparently from last year's experience beans planted previous to June 1st or after June 15th escaped. The soil should be in good condition, so that the beans come quickly. Fall manuring rather than in the spring is wise, as fresh manure attracts the fly.

By Courier Leased Wire Dawson, Y. T., Monday May 6.—The first gold clean-up of the Klondyke this spring was made here to-day by a dredging company. There is every indication that the gold yield of the Klondyke this year will equal that of last year, when the output was valued at $3,671,000.

DISTRIBUTION MANAGER By Courier Leased Wire Washington, May 2.—C. P. White, until recently vice-president and general manager of the Clarkson Coal Mining Company of Ohio, has been appointed manager of Lakes and Canadian Coal Distribution, the Fuel Administration announced to-day.

KILLED BY TRAIN. Guelph, May 8.—Henry Watson Campbellville, in charge of the pumping engine at the tank, was instantly killed at Guelph Junction on the C.P.R. last night by being struck by a train. After filling the tank last night he started down the tracks toward his home. He saw a train coming and stepped from one track to the other, only to get in front of another train going in an opposite direction.

Refusal to be vaccinated brought Pte. E. N. Olson, of Gooderich, Minn., a fifteen-year sentence from a Camp Dodge, Iowa, court-martial.

Y. M. C. A. WAR ACTIVITIES

In connection with the Triangle campaign which is now on in this city, the following birds-eye view of the splendid war efforts of the Y. M. C. A. should help loosen pockets:

There are 79 branches of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in England. Last year there were 9 branches. 96 branches of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France. Last year there were 53.

Y.M.C.A. established branches in 20 Canadian Forestry Camps last season. Three hundred thousand letters a day are written in Y.M.C.A. overseas buildings.

Troops are furnished with athletic requirements. One single order for baseball equipment totalled $25,000. Estimates this year for athletic equipment, $133,000.

Y. M. C. A. saved hundreds of lives at Vimy Ridge by caring for "walking wounded."

Circulating libraries in many branches. Y. M. C. A. spends its money in actual service for soldiers.

Sixty to seventy thousand cups of hot tea and coffee distributed, free daily in France. Estimated cost of material only for this service for eight months $48,000.

One hundred and forty thousand magazines purchased and distributed free overseas every month. Cost to Y.M.C.A. for eight months $15,000.

Entertainments, Bible classes, sing-songs, good-night services and personal interviews energetically conducted. At one meeting 100 men definitely announced their decision to go into ministry or Y. M. C. A. work after the war. Estimated expenditure for concerts, lectures, etc., per month $5,000.

Y.M.C.A. conducts a Red Triangle club in Toronto, St. John, Montreal and other cities for returned soldiers and enlisted men. A large Y.M.C.A. branch has been opened in Paris, France, for Canadians on leave, and a large building known as the Beaver Hut, on the Strand, London, England.

Y.M.C.A. service for soldiers extends from Vancouver to the firing line and then back to the patients in hospitals until the men are discharged. After this point the local Y.M.C.A. interests itself in the soldier.

Y.M.C.A. secretaries accompany troop trains. Between 400 and 500 millions of letters and cards have been written and posted in Y.M.C.A. tents, huts, and dugouts since the beginning of the war.

Special attention is given hospital ships and trains. $125,000 were absorbed in the building of huts in the Corps Area in France in 1917.

BEWARE OF THE BEAN MAGGOT This troublesome insect did much damage in Brant County last year, especially in the Burford district. The tiny worm or larva that does the damage is the larva of a small fly about one-fifth of an inch long. Unfortunately its life history has not yet been carefully studied, but present information indicates that of the eggs being laid in the ground on or near the beans just about planting time. The tiny worm hatches out and immediately enters the bean and commences feeding upon the young leaflets, destroying the would be plant.

Under the above conditions a remedy is impossible. Preventative measures only can be followed. Apparently from last year's experience beans planted previous to June 1st or after June 15th escaped. The soil should be in good condition, so that the beans come quickly. Fall manuring rather than in the spring is wise, as fresh manure attracts the fly.

This pest usually does most damage during an adverse season, and may not be a serious pest this year. It is to be hoped that the life history of this insect will be given careful study in the near future and that literature more definite may soon be available.

THE MASONIC CHORAL SOCIETY

Score a Big Success With Their First Concert A Delightful Program and Notable Assisting Artists

The "Brantford Masonic Choral Society" gave their first concert in the Grand Opera House last night before a crowded house and the event proved a brilliant success.

It is quite understood that members of the craft comprise to a marked degree the virtues and the abilities of any community but it is safe to affirm that no one for a moment anticipated that the local brethren could turn out such a bunch of singers. Under the skillful conductorship of Mr. J. T. Schorfer the members had been steadily practicing for the event and the outcome was certainly a revelation.

For the most part the numbers were rendered without accompaniment but time and time again the balance was maintained. First and second tenors, baritone and basses were out in full force and under the baton of Mr. Schorfer the most harmonious results were attained.

Margaret Garrett's Husband

By JANE PHELPS

AN INTRODUCTION Chapter XLIX A few days afterward I had a little necessary shopping to do. I had not finished by one o'clock, and, as I felt a little faint, I dropped into the Halpin for a bite. I had nearly finished when a slight stir near me attracted my attention and to my surprise I saw Bob coming toward me closely followed by a petite young girl of about twenty one or twenty two years. She was very lovely and beautifully dressed.

"Where in the world did you come from Margaret?" Bob asked, as he stopped at the table where I was just finishing my simple luncheon. "Miss Riggs, my wife, Mrs. Garrett," then as we acknowledged the introduction he added, "bring me another chair waiter, we will sit here, my table was a small one for two."

"Perhaps Mrs. Garrett would prefer not to be disturbed," Miss Riggs remarked. "I have nearly finished," I replied, coldly. I wondered what Bob was doing in that part of the town at noon, and why Miss Riggs should be with him.

The waiter quickly placed another chair and Miss Riggs and Bob sat down. "I don't suppose you will join us Margaret?" Bob remarked casually as he studied the menu. "No thank you, as soon as I finish my coffee I will be excused and finish my shopping. Mother is taking care of Donald," I added.

"Mr. Garrett told me you had a little son," Miss Riggs said to me. "Then to Bob who had just consulted her as to her appetite. "You please order for me Mr. Garrett, I really prefer you should."

Bob ordered quite a substantial luncheon, while Miss Riggs made an attempt to be pleasant to me. It was so evidently an attempt, she was so plainly surprised and embarrassed at meeting me, that her conversation was, or at least appeared to be, forced; and I imagined both she and Bob wished to be alone. But Bob soon dissipated that idea for when he had finished ordering and the waiter had left us he turned to me and said:

"I'm so glad we ran into you Margaret! Miss Riggs has written a novel which promises to make her famous. We must have her and Kendall up to the house some evening soon, and perhaps a few others." "Your husband is sort of a hard worshipper, isn't he Mrs. Garrett? you notice he says nothing about me personally, it is all my book," but I could see that she was pleased.

I had been simply furious ever since they sat down with me. Not that I was jealous of Miss Riggs, or that I thought anything wrong; but why in the world couldn't Bob have come in alone? Then I could have consulted him about some purchases I was to make that afternoon, and we might have had a nice time together. As it was I could say nothing of a private nature to him; I had no desire that my private affairs should be known, and discussed by Miss Riggs, and her friend Mrs. Root. I was thinking of this when Bob spoke, and he started me so that I dropped my tea cup and spilled the hot tea on my lap; and on the cloth. I was horribly embarrassed, especially as Miss Riggs made so much fuss that she attracted the attention of all sitting near us.

"I'm so sorry!" she gasped, "I do hope you haven't ruined your dress." "You should be more careful, Margaret," Bob broke in, "you might have scalded yourself severely."

"It is nothing!" I exclaimed, annoyed, "but will you call a cab at once and take me home, Bob? My shopping will have to be postponed another day." "I will call a cab for you at once,"

Margaret, but it isn't at all necessary for me to take you home; you will do very well by yourself!" "Don't let me keep you," Miss Riggs spoke.

"Miss Riggs is looking for a country home where she can be undisturbed at her work. We take a train for Jersey as soon as we finish luncheon. I have several on my list I think will suit her."

"Very well, put me in a cab, and I'll go home by myself," I said with an injured air; yet satisfied now that I knew it was business instead of a silly manuscript that interested Bob.

When he put me into the cab he said: "I may be late to-night, don't wait for me!" "You know I will, that I never eat anything until you come home!" "Well, good bye," and he returned to his luncheon, and I drove home, disconsolate because I could not do my shopping as I had planned; and just a trifle uneasy because Bob had added another authoress to his list of friends, another one of that set of whom I already felt he knew too many for my happiness. Of course I wanted him to tell properly, how else would we live? But I did wish that I could think of some way to wean him from men and women he knew, and with whom he spent his time, before I married him.

Mother left directly I reached home, and after I changed my clothes I sat down to sew and wait for Bob. All the time making plans to do something to keep him at home; and away from his Bohemian friends.

He came in about seven o'clock, all excitement over the sale he had made to Miss Riggs. His commission had been large, and he said he would take a trip to Atlantic City to celebrate.

BIRD HOUSE COMPETITION

The pupils of the Manual Training classes of the Collegiate Institute have recently competed for prizes offered by the local committee for the South of France Relief Association for the most artistic and well-executed designs in bird houses. The first prize was awarded to Cyril Stubbins of the Industrial Class for a neatly constructed log cabin intended for a wren house; J. Bowie won the second prize for a bark-covered cottage, made for the same purpose. Other designs good enough to warrant special mention were submitted by J. Collins, R. Sutherland, W. Terrie, H. Nelson, H. Shoemaker, G. Wedlake and T. Strong.

These boxes will be sold for the benefit of the funds of the Association. Mrs. Kohl of Dufferin Avenue and Mrs. Towers, Jarvis St., are conducting the sale.

It has been stated that crops will save the allied cause and that birds will save the crops. It is also true that bird houses will help to save the birds, hence, purchasers of these shelters will at once discharge a patriotic duty in aiding conservation, and a charitable one in subscribing to a most worthy cause.

CANOE CLUB HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

Marlboro Street Church Organization Celebrates its First Birthday

The Marlboro Canoe Club celebrated its first birthday last evening in the Marlboro Street Church. The gathering was called to order by the chairman, Mr. G. Batson, and the Rev. Mr. Peters led in prayer. The chairman addressed the club, thanking the members for the way they had worked. Rev. Mr. Peterson spoke to the boys about working together and further benefiting the club. The Secretary then read a report for the past year, which was met with approval by all. The Club then voted that $5.00 should be given for Missionary purposes, after which the President, Mr. G. Felton was called upon to speak a few words. He thanked the secretary for the way in which he had carried out his duties and also thanked the members for the support that they had given him during the past year. He then resigned his chair and an election of officers for the ensuing year followed.

The officers elected were: Pres. G. Felton; Vice-Pres. G. Batson; Sec.-Treas. D. MacDonald; Convener Social Committee, L. Sovereign; Convener Sports Committee, J. Stuart. After the election, Mr. Lamb addressed the boys on the importance of honesty. A beautiful supper followed when the "inner man" was satisfied. The merry evening closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and the National Anthem.

We are more than pleased to report that the hospital grounds have been taken under the supervision of the Parks Board. The past two years on account of building and extensive work, putting in of coal vault and opening up the entrances from Elizabeth streets, etc., the grounds have had to be more or less neglected, but hope to see our very beautiful grounds better cared for the coming season.

The joint meeting of the House Committee and Executive of Women's Hospital Aid was held Tuesday, April 30th. An increased effort for the Annual Hospital Ride Day was discussed from all sides. The essential need of our hospital at this time is the enlargement of the nurses' residence, to relieve the overcrowding, which is being resisted by the proletariat at large.

Trotzky is now accused of the same treason of which he himself formerly accused Kerensky. The Council of National Commissioners is being compelled to fight anarchists in the street just as Kerensky's Government had to fight the Bolsheviks during the July revolution last year.

Another Reassuring Feature.

Next to the establishment of a new army the most reassuring feature is that the officials of the Kerensky regime, who, at the downfall of his administration refused to serve under new masters, have resumed work. This has had the effect of restoring order to a remarkable extent, which is especially visible in the distribution of foodstuffs. The feeling that underlies this work of reconstruction seems to be a growing antipathy for Germany.

Many things which no amount of exhortation and urging could formerly induce the people to do are now being done under the inspiration of the steadily-growing hatred on the part of the Russian nation for the German professor.

Times' Advice to Allies.

Commenting editorially on the above telegram The Times says: "It is the plain duty of the well-wishers of the Russian people on both sides of the Atlantic to give the Russian people all the assistance in their power in the great work of national reconstruction."

"It is certain that, whether they venture to speak or not, the aid of the Allies would be cordially welcomed by great numbers of sensible and patriotic Russians."

"It is gratifying to know that the only one of the Allies who would be able to afford this assistance promptly and effectively in the present state of the world struggle is also willing to afford it. Japan's appearance as the disinterestedly mandatory of the greatest civilized powers that the hemisphere could not fail to secure for her an addition of international prestige which would repay her manifold for any measure of generous sacrifice and sober self-restraint."

Officials of the Kerensky Regime Resume Work and Restore Order

London, May 7.—A despatch from Christiania to The Times says on the basis of fragmentary news lately received from Russia through independent Swedish and Danish channels that the situation may be summarized as follows: Rumors of the overthrow of the Bolshevik Government are unfounded, and are probably due to the fact that the Soviet administration contemplates consolidating itself so as to move in the direction of greater moderation. Trotzky, too, has developed into an advocate of a general compulsory service, including workers and peasants.

A committee of the all-Russian Soviet Congress at Moscow has agreed to these proposals, which, however, are still being resisted by the proletariat at large.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, May 7.—Nicaragua to-day declared war on Germany and her allies. The declaration of war was adopted by Congress at the suggestion of President Chamorro with only four dissenting votes.

Congress also adopted a declaration of solidarity with the United States and the other American republics at war with Germany and Austria and authorized the President to take steps for utilization to a full measure of the nation's forces in the war.

HAPPIEST MAN IN CANADA, HE SAYS

"It's All Because of What Tanlac Did For Me" States Ward

"I believe I am the happiest man in all Canada to-day and I want to tell the public it's all because of what this Tanlac has done for me," said Henry Ward, who resides at 20 Batavis avenue, Toronto, and is employed by the Swift Canadian Company.

"Sometimes," continued Mr. Ward, "when I stooped over a pain would catch me in the small of my back and I could hardly straighten up again. My kidneys were all out of order and disturbed me so I could scarcely get any rest at night. My stomach was so out of fix that I couldn't eat like other people and for fifteen years I have simply suffered torture. Many a morning my back hurt me so bad and was so stiff that I could hardly get out of bed, and I would actually have to roll out of bed. I have gone to work hurting so bad that I could hardly drag along and felt that I would be compelled to go back home. I have had to quit work many times on account of my condition and last spring I got in such a bad shape I had to stop off for more than a week, and I can't describe my suffering. Then my legs became affected with something like rheumatism and there were sharp, cramping pains going through my muscles that made my legs feel like they were drawing double. Many a night I have had to crawl out of bed, walk the floor and rub to get relief from those awful cramps, and I just tell you I was in misery nearly all the time."

"This is just the fix I was in for fifteen years and while I doctored in weight which I think is wonderful for one of my size, as I am six feet four. I haven't been bothered with my stomach and kidneys since I took my first bottle of Tanlac and I believe these troubles are gone for good. All signs of the rheumatism have left me, too. Mr. Grace said the corporation would not have to do financing to pay its excess profits taxes as it had sufficient treasury certificates of indebtedness to take care of these.

LLOYD GEORGE AND BONAR LAW CHARGED WITH MIS-STATEMENT

Accusation Against Leading Members of the British War Cabinet Made by Major-General Maurice; Court of Honor to Investigate Matter

London, May 8.—Andrew Bonar Law, Government spokesman in the House of Commons, announced today that the Government proposed to ask two Judges to act as a Court of Honor to investigate the charges made by Gen. Frederick B. Maurice, who was recently removed from the post of Director of Military Operations at the British War Office.

Mr. Bonar Law said the Army Council was dealing with questions of discipline growing out of a letter written by Gen. Maurice.

The announcement was made in response to a query by Mr. Asquith as to what steps had been taken regarding Gen. Maurice.

Discipline and Veracity

"Gen. Maurice's letter," said Mr. Bonar Law, "raised two questions: the question of military discipline involved in writing such a letter, and the question of veracity of Ministerial statements."

"As regards the first question, that is being dealt with by the Army Council in the ordinary way. As regards the second question, though it must be obvious to the House that the Government could not be carried on if an inquiry into the conduct of Ministers should be considered necessary whenever their action was challenged by a servant of the government who has occupied a position of the highest confidence, it affects these and the honor of the Ministers, so it is proposed to invite two Judges to act as a Court of Honor to inquire into the charge of misstatements alleged to have been made by the Ministers, and to report as quickly as possible."

Former Premier Asquith gave notice that he would move for the appointment of a committee from the House of Commons to investigate the Maurice affair, instead of having the inquiry made by Judges. The motion will be debated on Thursday.

Mr. Bonar Law's statement gave rise to a lively series of questions, in reply to which the Chancellor said that as most of the secret documents would have to be gone into it would be unadvisable to appoint a select committee from the House of Commons, but, he added, a day would be given for discussion after the Judges had reported. The disciplinary proceedings against Maurice will not be suspended pending the finding of the court of inquiry.

The Government View

"The Government have considered the best method of doing what they deem necessary to satisfy the House that we have not made misleading statements, and in our opinion that can best be done by the court suggested," said the Chancellor.

He thought that everyone involved would be glad to place his information at the disposal of the Judges, and if the Judges were to give everything they wanted they would certainly let the government know.

"Sick at Way Things Go."

Admiral Sir Sedworth Meux declared that the answers given by Mr. Bonar Law would be received with the greatest dissatisfaction in the army and navy.

"They are sick to death," he said, "with the way things are going on in the House of Commons."

Replying to further questions by Sir Edward Carson, Mr. Bonar Law said that the Judges would decide whether the members of the Cabinet and former members of the Cabinet should be called as witnesses, and allowed to state what had transpired in the Cabinet. There should not be any feeling in the House that there was any desire to burk the examination of this question, and he was willing to allow Mr. Asquith to select two Judges as proof of that.

Opportunity For Discussion

Repeating that the disciplinary proceedings against General Maurice would not be suspended pending the inquiry, the Chancellor said: "Even if every statement were true, discipline in the army would be impossible if such letters were permitted to be published."

Mr. Asquith said: "This is a matter which we ought to have the opportunity of discussing in some form of a motion, and will the Government give us a day for that purpose?"

Mr. Bonar Law replied: "Certainly, if you desire it. Am I to understand that the right honorable member desires that we should not set up our court until the discussion takes place?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Asquith.

The Government will set a day to discuss Maurice, Bonar Law said.

Transferred to Field

General Maurice last month was transferred from the British War Office to active duties in the field. His position as Chief Director of Military Operations was taken over by General Delma Radcliffe, formerly Chief Staff Officer of the Canadian Army and Chief of the British Military Mission at Italian Headquarters.

Shortly before his transfer General Maurice, in one of his customary weekly interviews with newspaper men, made remarks which were considered in some quarters as reflecting on General Foch, the Commander-in-Chief of the combined allied forces. At one point in the interview he drew a parallel between the situation on the battlefronts in France as it stood then and the battle of Waterloo when Wellington was awaiting the arrival of Blucher.

General Maurice then asked "What is happening to Blucher? What has become of the reserves?" On the following day General Haig, Commander of the British forces, announced that French reinforcements had reached the British front, and this was taken as proof by military critics that Foch was slow in coming up was unjust.

Press Comment.

No attempt is made by the London newspapers to conceal the gravity of the charges made by General Maurice, and a searching Parliamentary inquiry is demanded. The Westminster Gazette finds there is a widespread uneasiness regarding what it terms the tendency of public officials to withhold information from the public, and it demands more plain dealing by the Government.

"Citizens have not been at all exacting in their demands for information from the Government," says The Westminster Gazette. "They have cheerfully submitted to the familiar plea that it is not in the public interest to give this or that information. They have suspended their right of private judgment even when the reasons for reticence seem remote and far-fetched, but they expect such disclosures as are made to be truthful and honest, and when they are mystified and puzzled, when they are asked to believe that some answer to questions in Parliament means something different from what it appears to mean."

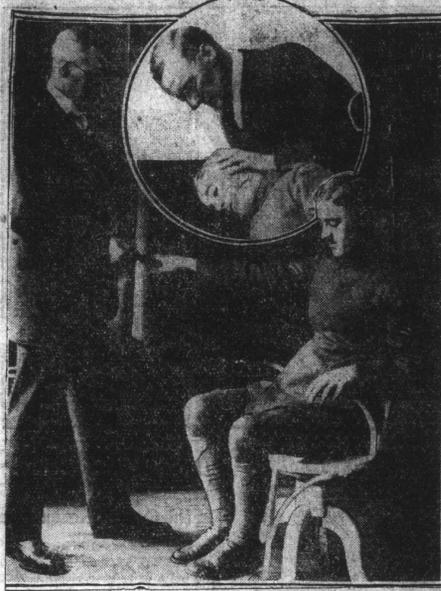

Must Be Change.

"There must be a drastic change in all this, and if it involves a change in Government, that must come, too."

The Globe says: "The question is one of fact and of two contradictories, one of which must be false. We suspend judgment. We hope the public will do the same, but the only condition on which that can be done is the immediate promise of a searching inquiry conducted by men with the highest authority and above all suspicion of either military or political influence."

The Star says that Gen. Maurice's action, coming after the loss of Jellicoe, Robertson and Trenchard, shows beyond question that there is something wrong with the present Government in its relations to the army and navy. The investigation Gen. Maurice demands must be ordered; it must be a secret inquiry entrusted to an absolutely independent and impartial body, with instructions to report without delay.

The Standard regards Gen. Maurice's action as the most important issue raised by the letter, adding: "We deprecate emphatically any acceptance of the principle that a disgraced soldier may compel the Ministers to submit to a formal inquiry concerning points in their administration of which he disapproves."

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEY HURTS

Stop Eating Meat for a while if your Bladder is Troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

UNIFY FRENCH-CANADIANS

By Courier Leased Wire
Quebec, May 8.—Les Soleils rejoices in the happy change in public opinion outside of the province regarding the attitude of Quebec in the matter of military service, but it wants the French-Canadian soldiers grouped in units with French-Canadian officers over them. Le Soleil says:

"It would be an unpardonable stupidity to refuse them the legitimate satisfaction of keeping their French-Canadian individuality. Has not this wisdom been justified in the case of the 22nd? All of our young recruits have one ambition, and that is to emulate their glorious example and, if possible, excel them. We hope, therefore, that Ottawa will take the necessary steps to secure the co-operation of the British authorities in view of the formation of French-Canadian units."

Music and Drama

AT THE GRAND.

The Boston English Opera Company, which by its excellent work during its four months run in Chicago, has become the talk of the musical world, comes to the Grand Opera House May 11.

With such artists as Joseph F. Sheehan, John W. Warren, Hazel Eden, Florentine St. Clair, Elaine De Solem, Alice May Carley, Arthur Deane, Francis J. Tyler, W. R. Northway and many others, there can be no doubt as to the excellence of the performance, particularly when augmented by a chorus such as one seldom hears nowadays. It is not surprising that the advent of this organization in the west, has proved just as welcome, and is the talk of theatrical circles here, as it was in the east, during its four months' season in Chicago.

The press and public of San Francisco endorsed the verdict of the east and proclaimed the Boston English Opera Company America's finest singing organization. The company will present "Martha" at Matinee and "Bohemian Girl" at the night performance.

MAURICE—THE MAN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CRISIS TO-DAY

A MILITARY MARTINET

Gen. Maurice Would Readily Pass for Typical Prussian Officer

By Courier Leased Wire
London, May 8.—The most-talked-of man in England to-day is General Frederick B. Maurice, formerly chief director of military operations at the War Office.

If some volunteer general or some soldier who had graduated from business into soldiering had defied and trampled upon all the laws and traditions of the British army and all armies, he would not have excited such enormous surprise as the dizzy Maurice in his newly famous letter, impugning the veracity of the ministry. Had some less well trained officer written the letter it would have been put down to lack of tradition and to a disregard of the conventionalities by a citizen soldier.

But General Maurice in his personality, his record and his career has been the personification of all that is conventional, austere and quiet in the professional soldier. His weekly and recently his bi-weekly conferences with newspaper correspondents have impressed them with his wide knowledge, a passion for accuracy in details and his personal aloofness as though he were performing a function that professionally he rather disliked and resented. Barring his uniform he would readily pass for a typical Prussian staff officer of the Moltke school.

His receptions to the correspondents have not been interviews but lectures. The correspondents filed into the sanctuaries at the War Office at the appointed minute. Any man who was late found the door barred against him. Military usage demanded promptness and General Maurice would not forgive or excuse a lack of it.

A tall, blonde gentleman with a fresh pink complexion and a monocle, surrounded by maps of all sorts—contour maps, flat maps, maps of elevations—all marked with flags with numbers and with red, blue and yellow pencil marks, faced the correspondents. General Maurice dealt with all those maps as Paderewski dealt with the keys of a piano. He knew every detail of them.

"Good afternoon, gentlemen," was the greeting; never anything more. No word was wasted in gossip or persiflage. Standing before the maps with a professional manner and in a language so precise that his stenographer would not need to correct it, the general stated the military situation.

Having finished, the general paused for questions. All answerable questions were replied to promptly and incisively with no elaboration. He was one of those "who suffer fools badly." Foolish questions occasionally were asked by amateur strategists. He crushed them quickly and curtly. He did not parry with them.

"Good afternoon, gentlemen," he said, having finished; never anything more. The correspondents left with more real knowledge in their

BOY'S SUIT.

Isn't this a cunning suit for a little lad to wear? It is a variation of the Dutch style and makes up wonderfully well in wash materials. Combinations of colors are very good for this suit, and one of the best liked is a white linen or lawn waist, with trousers, collar and cuffs of Delft blue linen. The separate trousers are cut in peg top style, and pockets may be inserted at the sides if desired. The sleeves may be in long or short length and they are finished with turned back cuffs. The trousers are buttoned to the waist at front and back.

The boy's suit pattern No. 5733 is cut in three sizes—2, 4 and 6 years. The 4-year size requires 1 1/2 yards 27 inch light material and 1 1/2 yards 27 inch or 1 1/2 yards 36 inch dark material.

WHO IS THE MEMBER?

Yukon Case Comes Before Election's Committee

Settlement Finally Left to Legal Decision

By Courier Leased Wire Ottawa, May 7.—The Commons committee on privileges and elections was able this morning to proceed with the hearing of the claims of Dr. Alfred Thompson and Fred Congdon as to their right to represent the Yukon in parliament.

Mr. Congdon, who has been hastening to the Yukon to the capital and who was given until today to arrive, was present. He arrived from Dawson City yesterday after exactly three weeks of steady travel.

The chief point at issue is that Mr. Congdon claims that the soldiers' vote should not be counted because it was cast subsequent to nomination day. Mr. Congdon won on the home vote but the soldiers' vote gave Dr. Thompson a majority of 151.

The committee decided to hear Mr. Congdon first. He asserted that his objection to the taking of the soldiers' vote after nomination day was a valid one. Apart from this, he said, the soldiers' vote had been taken in an irregular manner. The receptacles for the taking of the vote were left open for weeks.

A discussion arose as to the right of committee to consider the manner in which the vote was taken. Mr. Congdon maintained that he should be allowed to make specific charges before the committee. He desired to show that 198 soldiers' votes had been illegally taken; that illegal posters had been placed in the polling booths; that soldiers had been compelled to vote in the presence of their officers and that soldiers had been told that conscription was the only issue.

Mr. Tweedie of Calgary, objected to the scope of the committee being widened which would necessitate referring the matter back to the House. He intimated that the opposition had recently received information from the old country as to the soldiers which it was proposed to use before the committee.

Mr. Jacques Brethou said he thought the matter should be settled on its merits, even if it was necessary to ask the House for more power.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, chairman of the committee, ruled that the order of reference to the committee would not allow consideration of the question of the election irregularities.

Mr. Devlin moved that Mr. Congdon be allowed to proceed and discuss the allegations in detail. Mr. Guthrie ruled the motion out of order, and Mr. Devlin appealed from the ruling.

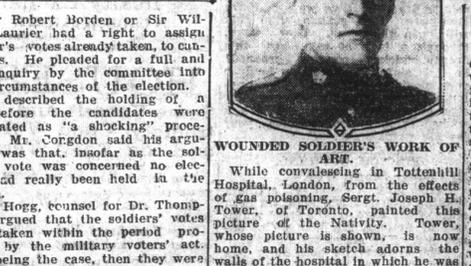

The chairman was sustained on a vote of 3 to 7. Mr. Congdon proceeded to criticize the report of the Returning Officer, maintaining that it contained many inaccuracies, his argument being of a technical character.

Mr. Congdon asserted that neither Sir Robert Borden or Sir Wilfrid Laurier had a right to assign soldiers' votes already taken, to candidates. He pleaded for a full and fair inquiry by the committee into the circumstances of the election.

THANKS TO THE STATES

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 8.—(Via Reuter's Limited)—Thanks to the United States Government for valuable assistance given in connection with the supply of silver in India, was expressed by Lord Chelmsford, the Viceroy, at the recent war conference of the members of the vice-regal and provincial councils and of the ruling princes at Delhi, according to a delayed telegram received by Reuter's Limited. The Viceroy invited co-operation in securing success for the coming Indian loan, and said he proposed to consider in conjunction with the legislative council how far it might be feasible for India to increase the direct financial contribution she already has made to the British Government or to assist financially in any other way. He declared that if additional taxation was necessary, there would be no hesitancy in proposing it, and he thought that India would gladly bear it.

Mr. Keefe said he would strongly oppose any action on the part of the committee that would disfranchise the soldiers who had voted. The committee, he thought, should render a decision.

Ottawa, May 7.—A legal tribunal will settle the right of Dr. Alfred Thompson or Mr. Fred Congdon to represent the Yukon in parliament after a long sitting of the committee this morning and when a vote was about to be taken, Mr. D. D. McKenzie, Liberal member for Cape Breton, moved that a report be prepared for submission to the Supreme Court of Canada or to any two judges of the Ontario Supreme Court.

In making the motion, he said that this was purely a legal question which the committee as a petition body should not be asked to decide. The vote was then taken and Mr. McKenzie's motion was adopted on a division of 13 to 12.

The vote was on party lines with the exception that Mr. James Douglas, Unionist member for Stathcona, and Mr. Read, Unionist member for MacKenzie, voted with the Liberals.

SHOWN IN A CAGE

Treatment of U. S. Railway Engineer Who Was Captured by Chinese Bandits

A Pacific Port, May 7.—After being captured in Chinese bandits, robbed of a fortune of China in a through the river he was exhibited to the natives like a wild animal and from which he finally escaped by bribing a guard, E. J. Purcell, an American railway engineer, arrived at this port today en route from the Orient to New York. He was accompanied by his wife and three children, who were in Pekin during the time Purcell was held prisoner by the bandits.

The engineer said he and C. A. Kyle, also an American engineer, left the village of Yen Chang, in the province of Kouan, China, on March 2, on a surveying trip. They took with them a number of Chinese assistants, twenty soldiers and carried seven large boxes of American currency, totalling about $125,000.

On the fourth day out they were overpowered by bandits, who took Purcell, put him in a cage and transported him 200 miles into the mountains, subjecting him to all manner of humiliations and hardships, including that of being exhibited as a "fresh" Kyle, he said, was taken into custody by another bandit band, but was rescued by Chinese soldiers.

Purcell bribed a guard and escaped, eventually reaching Pekin. Efforts to recover the money failed, he said.

NATION UNITED

By Courier Leased Wire Montreal, May 5.—Declaring that a mass of misconceptions with regard to labor conditions in Great Britain throughout the world has arisen in the western hemisphere because of comparatively meagre cable information, S. THE U. S. RED CROSS MISSION

Was Fired on During Flight From Jassy

By Courier Leased Wire London, May 7.—In an unexpected flight from Jassy, the Roumanian capital, the American Red Cross mission to the Roumanians, which has arrived in London, escaped from Odessa 36 hours before the Germans entered it, only to be fired upon by a German battery in the Ukraine, 200 miles north of the famous Black Sea port. The German shells did no damage to the Red Cross train, falling about half a mile from it.

When the mission left Jassy, it was known that the journey likely would be a dangerous one. Reports in Jassy as to the whereabouts of the Germans varied greatly, but it was fairly certain that the Germans were within 50 or 60 miles of Odessa and that their advance parties might be encountered along the line. Most of the passengers on board the train were officers and privates of the French military mission to Roumania and it was hardly to be expected that German or Austrian bands would make any careful distinction in favor of a few American Red Cross uniforms.

Prof. Mulveney ANSWERS Telephone Call Hello! Is that Prof. Mulveney, Parkdale 4830. Yes, lady. Is Prof. Mulveney there? Yes, Prof. Mulveney is speaking. Have you a worm remedy for children? Yes. Could you tell me, if I brought my little girl down, if she had worms? No, lady, I cannot tell by looking at children if they have worms? You can't? No, madam. Couldn't you tell me if I told you all the symptoms? No, madam! My remedy, called Mothers' Friend, expels worms, is an excellent Tonic and Builder, good for the Nerves, and is an excellent medicine for Regulating the Bowels; it brings away all fluff and small intestinal Worms, is perfectly harmless, and can be given to the smallest infant without fear of doing harm. A lady who is living on Shaw street got a bottle of this medicine for her baby's 2 years old. She said she had no peace with this child night or day for 4 months; the doctor was calling regularly and did not help the child in the least; the little one took a bad spell and was choking, the mother opened his mouth and pulled out a stomach worm that was strangling the child. She rushed over to me and brought the child, also the worm, which measured 2 1/2 inches long, with her. She purchased a bottle of Mothers' Friend, and the second dose brought away 27 more. She was horrified at the sight and brought the worms to me, which I have here in a bottle in my office, and many others from other happy mothers. So if you think it a good investment to try Mothers' Friend, it is $1.00 per bottle, and 6c for postage in the city, and 20c extra for postage outside Toronto. Now, my friends, it is not necessary to waste car fare bringing your children here, as I do not practice medicine, but have cast the cure remedy for sick children which expels Worms if they are there. It has cured many little ones of St. Vitus' Dance and Convulsions, also Fits. Call or see Mr. J. J. Mulveney, 1100 Parkdale 4830. Mothers' Friend in powder form (each package makes twelve doses) for $1.00, no danger of breaking and no cost for sending. Just send $1.00.
