WANTED TO KILL HIS BOY.

Brantford Father Crazy by His Son's Arrest.

Italians Shoot Live Stock—Was Body Robbed?

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Brantford, May 10.—High Constable Fred Kerney and party yesterday raided the Italian colony of cement workers at Blue Lake where a series of lawless acts have been reported for a number of weeks. Horses, cattle and sheep have been wantonly shot in the fields, and the vandals have been members of the Italian gang who live apart from any settlement on the border of the main lake. Neighboring farmers have been threatened at the point of revolver several times, and the Italians boast of their marksmanship. When the constable appeared yesterday a shot was fired, but the party did not stop. One of the gang afterwards stated that they were firing a robin in a near by tree, but the visiting police were of the belief that the discharging of the revolver was meant for a threat. The constable seized some 10 revolvers and took the ringleaders to Paris, where they will appear before Magistrate Patterson.

BOY BURGLARS.

The police detained on Friday night a 14-year-old boy named Hunt, suspected of having knowledge of a recent burglary at Cameron, and Higginbotham's drug store. The boy apparently knew something of it, and his father, a respectable resident of the East Ward was summoned. The father when he heard his son was carrying a body of stolen goods in the police station, and he wanted to kill the boy. It required the combined efforts of three policemen and the mother, who was also present, to prevent him from seriously harming his son. The effort proved fruitless and the man was carried bodily out of Chief Slemen's office and taken home. The son was cared for by friends and with another boy named Ward, will appear to-morrow morning to answer the charge.

JEWELRY MISSING.

Another phase of the gravest digging case recently heard at the police court this morning was the case of a woman who satisfied the mother, Mrs. Carolan, that they were those of her son and daughter, swore that a very large pearl rosary, also two gold rings, could not be found, and that only a part of the skeletons were in the graves. The finding has more than ever perturbed the mother, and L. F. Heyd, K. C., appeared for her to prosecute Wm. Dunne, the man charged with ordering gravest digger Jones to remove the bodies. Magistrate Livingstone adjourned the case in order that further enquiry might be made. There is a suspicion that the jewelry was stolen from the bodies when they were first removed.

GENERAL NOTES.

The Brantford Gas Company has changed its schedule of rates for the summer, consumers using $8,000 feet or over will be charged 35 cents, and under, 40 cents per thousand. A crisis has arrived in the affairs of the local street railway company. The city representatives are not satisfied with the security put up by the company, and the franchise may be claimed by default. Judge Hardy, in a recent report to the Library Board, urged that every means be exhausted to have the books placed in circulation, "as books out of circulation are as useless to the community as the organs of a human body that do not function." The library will secure more books offering technical instruction on trades and other matters.

GAVE NOBLY.

St. Mark's Congregation Wiped Out Mortgage Debt Yesterday.

The congregation of St. Mark's Church responded nobly to the invitation to clear off the mortgage on the church yesterday at both services by clearing that amount and giving enough besides to pay for the interior decorations of the church. Bishop DuMoulin spoke in the morning, and referred to the 32 years of service given by Canon Sutherland to that church. Canon Sutherland took the service in the evening. The amount asked for was $375, and the amount received was $570.

MISSIONARY LOSSES.

Constantinople, May 10.—A survey of the property losses during the recent anti-Christian riots in Asia Minor shows that the American missionary stations did not suffer heavily. It is believed $10,000 will cover the American property losses. The only loss of life was at Adana, where the Rev. Henry Maurer and Daniel Miner Rogers were shot down while attempting to put out a fire that threatened the missionary buildings there. The financial losses have been allotted as follows: In the province of Adana, $4,500; at Kessab, should the reported burnings of the missionary buildings be confirmed, $3,000, and in the city of Adana $1,500. This last was incurred through the pulling down or burning of buildings attached to the girls' school.

THE CZAR'S FAMILY HOME.

CZARINA A GRACIOUS HOSTESS, BUT SERIOUS MIND.

A Former Lady in Waiting Tells of a Visit to Tsarsko-Selo—The Four Daughters Dignified, but All the Family Unbends Before the Five-Year-Old Son.

St. Petersburg.—It is the Czarin's custom to keep in touch with those of her ladies who have married and left her service. At this Easter season each year Her Majesty sets apart some days for receiving the visits of former dames d'honneur, hearing the news of their families and for an hour or two reviving old companionships. The writer has just met one of them who has paid her annual private visit to court. Stories have been heard from abroad of the Czarin's being a wholly broken in health, mind and spirit by the gloomy oppression of the court's secluded life. This lady's experience of an afternoon visit to the Czarin's family is first hand evidence on the subject.

When she arrived at the little palace of Tsarsko-Selo, a mansion no larger than any rich family might occupy and not to be confounded with the great palace half a mile away, which is used only for state ceremonial purposes—the first of the Romanoffs that she saw was the Czarin's eldest daughter, the thirteen-year-old Grand Duchess Olga, a serious-faced girl, tall for her age, already almost her father's height. As she led the visitor to the Czarin's private apartments she told her that her mother was resting on a sofa to ease a pain in her left side. In the first minute or two of her meeting with the Empress the latter was visibly suffering, but her welcome was quite cordial and her animation came naturally as conversation developed. One would say that the Empress now looks decidedly more than her 37 years. She has become stouter than most matrons of 40, are, moves rather heavily, and her skin has a habitual, high colored and underfed quality, as is noticed often in people whose heart action is not satisfactory. Her expression and pose of features, always rather austere, have taken a fixed seriousness which is tracing lines on her face.

Yet the Czarin's was amiable and resourceful hostess. Other visitors came, also former ladies in waiting. Her Majesty played piano duets with one of them, and she sang in English and Russian. The Imperial children were brought in. The girls have a range of education far beyond what one would expect at their age. Their talk with each other is usually carried on in English, the language in which the Czarin paid court to her mother when she was Princess Alice of Hesse. The Czarin, however, has acquired perfect proficiency in Russian, an achievement which the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna, although it is well over forty years since she became consort to a Czarin of Russia, has never reached. The Dowager scarcely speaks Russian at all; mostly French and sometimes English.

The Czarin's daughters, as my informant noticed, "never let you forget that they are grand duchesses"; but they are not forgetful of the feelings of others. Their mother makes them work hard at their books—history, geography, literature and languages; so far none of them has shown their mother's taste and aptitude for music. Even when their mother is setting her range of education for their governesses. There has never been any trouble with them on the score of good behaviour; one after another as they grow up they become quiet, obedient, affectionate and very self-reliant and unobtrusive. It is only to their little brother "Aloischa"—as every one calls the five-year-old Czarvitch Alexis—that the entire imperial family unbends with a will. His favorite toy is a drum about half as big as his himself. With it he goes thumping and marching along the corridors of the palace, followed in military step by his four sisters in Indian file, his Amazon army. He has abundant animal spirits. It is only now that a government is being organized for him; hitherto his upbringing, outside of his family and nurses, has been entrusted to a herculean, good-natured sailor from the yacht Standart, whom Alexis himself chose as his playmate. The two children take their meals daily with the Czarin and the Czarin.

The private sorrows of an Empress are a fine theme for romantic speculation; but it is a certainty that Czarin Alexandra has no cause for the chief grief that the drama of history has ascribed to the consorts of absolute monarchs. Her husband is devotedly loyal to her and always has been. Her health is a real care to him; any wish she may express is his law; but, like most of the Russian princesses, she is not from Queen Victoria of England, she has practically no intellectual interests and little mental vigor. The fact that she is in a position of unparalleled power and opportunity to affect the government of millions of her fellow creatures has simply never occurred to her. Her range of interest is limited to her family and household; and for the rest she has the artistic accomplishments of a moderately gifted gentlewoman. She hates the struggle of politics. At the Winter Palace in St. Petersburg on the day of the opening of the first Douma she delayed the lunch to the great personages of the empire for half an hour while she wept bitter tears of outraged dignity at what she thought the brutal ill-breeding of the revolutionary majority of the Douma in not bowing in response to the salutations from the throne.

There are, however, outstanding facts in her life that have greatly deepened her nature's seriousness. Her three elder sisters—Princess Louise of Battenberg and Princess Henry of Prussia (both with genial sailor husbands), and the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, widow of the murdered Grand Duke Serge—made far less brilliant matches than she, but how much more sunshine is theirs!

In the delicate matter of marital propriety among the members of her husband's family the Czarin is out of sympathy with the sentimentality of the Russian masses and of the ruling families. Most of the Grand Dukes and a considerable portion of Russia's public men maintain or have maintained publicly their morganatic alliances, and it never occurs to the Slav mind to give the subject a thought. It is not that opinion is immoral; rather it is non-moral. To this the Czarin cannot reconcile herself. The widespread resentment felt among officers of both navy and army when she secured the expulsion of her husband's cousin, the Grand Duke Cyril, from the navy for marrying the divorced wife of her brother, the Duke of Hesse, was not died down yet, although Cyril has been reinstated. It is possible that she has confirmed the Czarin in her will to live strictly within

ANOTHER INCREASE IN PRICE ON MAY 11th

Better than Stocks or Bonds is an Investment in Lots in this Survey. Discriminating buyers have purchased over 80 lots in this fine survey. Westmoreland and Eastbourne avenues have fine grades, rising as they do from Main Street to 30 feet at Cumberland Avenue. The sidewalks from Delaware Avenue to Cumberland Avenue will be laid at once. Sewers and city water have already been laid throughout the whole survey.

The immediate location, as well as to the east, west, north and south are unexcelled. The Delaware Avenue Lots in this survey are lower in price than any other lots on the same street. Nearly, if not all, houses on this avenue are owned by the occupiers and none of these houses are for sale. This is the most popular street in Hamilton.

DON'T MIND IT?

Just now, you say? No, but, when the hot, sultry days come, that old coal stove will be most objectionable. Why not let us install a handsome new gas range right now at a reasonable figure and "cook in the shade" this summer.

A complete kitchen light is given away with each purchase of a gas range during May. Phone 89.

HE LIKED HIS STRAIGHT. Intemperance," said Horace Bixby, the oldest Mississippi pilot, "is what kills most of us off. Once we fished out a passenger who had been soaking in the river for half an hour. When the whiskey was brought, the victim's lips moved slightly, and I stooped to get his last words. "Roll me on a bar'l' fust and get some 'o' this water out," he said faintly. "It'll weaken the licker!"—Success Magazine.

STRIKERS BACK. Manila, May 10.—A legislative incident was terminated yesterday in the return to the Philippine Assembly of ten members of the Progressist minority, who have been on strike for a month. They withdrew from the House in a body when the Payne tariff bill was under discussion several weeks ago, and refused to attend the sessions or perform any legislative work.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

MONDAY, MAY 10, 1909.

FRANCE'S DANGER.

France has now to learn a lesson of the folly of plunging into a socialistic scheme of public ownership and operation under which the State becomes the employer of a huge army of civil servants who have combined to defy the Government and dictate its policy.

UNPATRIOTIC BUSINESS.

The London, Eng. Economist, a sane and patriotic non-party journal, points out that "in the last ten years the actual expenditure of our Admiralty has been about 300 millions, that of the German Admiralty about 108 millions, while our estimated expenditure for next year is 35 millions, that of Germany 18 or 19 millions, mostly borrowed; that our tonnage of warships actually built and ready for action was 1,853,000 tons, against a German tonnage of about 628,000 tons; that the trained personnel of our navy consists of some 128,000 men, while that of the German navy consists of about 45,000 men.

what is to be the outcome of this eager hunt for taxes. Foreign loans can now only be got by Germany by increasing the now very high rates of interest offered. The discounting of treasury bills is proving ruinous. In the nineties the average yearly amount of discount paid on Imperial treasury bills was between $75,000 and $100,000, last year it amounted to $3,400,000.

Germany has not to go from home to find her troubles. She will find them coming home to roost in swarms long before she realizes her naval programme expectations. Great Britain needs but to repress her blatant jingoism and calm her hysterical scare-mongers, and proceed upon her way without the apprehension and without warping her well-defined policy because of the Kaiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The April bond sales of the Dominion amounted to $4,000,088. The total for 4 months was $14,599,717.

Jail sentences of two months will quickly discourage extortion by drivers of conveyances for public hire. They have a wonderfully persuading effect.

Strikes seem to be taken by some classes of workmen as a sort of "spring medicine." They have a tendency to deplete the pocket and the pantry and prevent overfeeding.

The recent Canadian loan of $5,000,000 floated in Great Britain, and about the supposed "failure" of which Tory organs crowded so much now, sells at a premium of 3 1/2 per cent!

The Monetary Times estimates Canada's fire losses in April at $710,650. For the first four months of the year the losses were $4,325,345. The fire fatalities for the same period were 58.

The United Kingdom had an estimated bill for drink in 1907, amounting to $612,700. It was $29,000,000 less last year. How much of that was due to financial stringency and how much to real reform?

Re turns from Newfoundland are beginning to come in, and, so far, they indicate gains by the Morris faction, which has captured one seat which belonged to its opponents. The contest just closed has been a very bitter one.

The people of England are said to be the greatest consumers of liquor of the three kingdoms. The figures of per capita consumption this year are: Englishmen, $18.34; Irishmen, $14.95, and Scotchmen, $14.29. Pat and Sandy are pretty close together.

Mr. Duff may be able to get away with the city legal authorities now and then, and to make it interesting for the High Courts when they do not fall in with his ideas, but when he tackles the Police Court he gets brought up with a snap.

Why should some people exhibit such eagerness in pressing for the sale of the Public Library building? Who itches for it? Let the Council see to it that if it is to be disposed of sound business principles govern the transaction and that no "job" is worked to enrich the people in the deal.

In the city of Toronto last year the number of deaths of children under five years of age was 1,653. In 1906 there were 10,085 of children under five years in the Province. It is believed that the infant death rate could be very much diminished by the proper safeguarding of the milk supply for infants' food.

The Toronto World publishes the rumor that Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick, is to be dismissed. Contentable as his course in this Pugsley matter has been, we hardly think that the World's guess is correct. Some means, however, will probably be found to force Hazen into the courts and to make public his disgraceful turpitude.

to introduce, is showing the people a glimpse of what might be expected under municipal ownership and operation. And it is having its effect on the public too.

Magistrate Jells carries into the work of his own court the principles which rightly holds to apply to public business generally. Open trial is his rule. Hole and corner business is repugnant to a free people. They want to know not only how public business is disposed of, but the attitude of their servants—or masters—toward each question coming before them.

The Mayor and chairman of Finance ought to be a good pair to watch the city's interests in the disposal of the Public Library building, if such a course be decided upon. Can't they apply the principles which succeed so well in private business in such transactions, and get for the people not merely a trifling salvage, but the handsome profit a private owner would undoubtedly realize?

Fourteen years ago, when Bowell and Foster were running things at Ottawa, the Newfoundlanders sent delegates to try to arrange a union with Canada, on terms that will probably never be offered again. Foster and his Premier bungled the job and rejected the overtures because of a trifling difference in money. Much bitterness has resulted, and now union is an unpopular matter to take up there. A leading Newfoundland paper is stung a newspaper for representing him as favoring union.

The Canada Life bill has passed the Commons, and the action brought by William Laidlaw for a restraining injunction has failed. Mr. Justice Teetzel refused the motion with costs in the cause, unless the trial judge otherwise orders. His Lordship did not think there was sufficient reason shown for interference with the progress of the bill. The judgment just given does not, of course, lessen the rights of the plaintiff or any other policyholder; Mr. Laidlaw is still free to go on with his case in the courts.

The House of Commons in passing the Ontario & Michigan Power Co. bill with proper safeguards in the public interest is to be commended. Between those under the influence of the socialistic public ownership and operation craze and those who sought to offer hostility to the scheme from partisan reasons, making alleged provincial rights their excuse, the public was almost shut out from the facts of the scheme's importance as a matter of national and international development. Some of those "ownership" worshippers should take a look at the situation in France.

Dr. Bruce Smith, whose partisan attack on the Immigration Department in connection with the report on Ontario Asylums for the Insane was so thoroughly exposed in the light of the official figures showing the nationalities of the inmates and the length of time they have been in the country, tries it on again in connection with the report on Hospitals. It is a pity, for the usefulness of the inspection of these institutions that the public should be furnished with such reasons for suspecting the bona fides of the comments made therein. Has that view of the matter never occurred to the Inspector and the Department?

Pity those deluded Torontonians who have been counting on a great cheapening of their electric light for private use. The proposition, now announced as a great boon, is to charge a flat rate to householders based on 10c for every room in the house, plus 3c a kilowatt hour, plus cost of lamps and meter rent. It is figured out that a small six-roomed house would pay a flat-rate charge of 60c a month to which would be added another 60c for the metered current, assuming only 20 kilowatt hours to have been consumed. When meter rent and cost of lamp renewals are added, a net charge, which makes the present Toronto electric light figures look not unreasonable, is presented. Toronto is setting out to purchase some experience.

Suppose now that the government were to accept the offer of the syndicate, and that it should then turn out that some adventurer had closed to have "discovered" the Gilles limit and had sold his claims to another individual or company, and suppose that this company or individual were therefore to lay claim to the property for which the government has, according to report, been offered twenty million dollars; would it be deemed tyrannical and arbitrary and oppressive if the government, having clear proof that the new claim was fraudulent, were to refuse to allow its right to dispose of the property to be made the subject of litigation? We don't think so. And yet, because the government took this course in the Cobalt lake case, it was accused of violating Magna Charta and undermining the liberty of the subject.

That is pretty thin stuff. The object of the organization and maintenance of courts of justice is to adjudicate on the claims of rival litigants, and to compel them to abide by the laws which the people make to secure equity. What becomes of our boasted justice and security of rights if one party to a claim—even a Provincial Government—is to be allowed to say: "We know very well that the fellow who wishes to go into court with this case is a humbug and a fraud, therefore we will override the courts and shut him out." If there is "clear proof" that the claim is fraudulent, the courts would decide against it. What a lot of pitiful special pleading has been indulged in to try to obscure or minimize the villainous outrage perpetrated by Whitney in the Cobalt Lake case!

ONTARIO'S KING. (London Advertiser.) The Montreal Gazette (Conservative) says that Magna Charta has been repealed in Ontario. It was granted by King John, and has been nullified by King James.

NOT TRUE. (Toronto Mail and Empire.) The newspaper statement that the Ontario Government has been offered $20,000,000 for the mineral rights on the Gilles limit is untrue.

SHUT OFF. (Brantford Expositor.) Toronto was without Niagara power for nearly two hours on Thursday night last; a reminder of what Brantford's predicament might have been had she not the dual service which she at present enjoys.

LOST SIGHT OF HERE, ALSO. (Stratford Beacon.) Yesterday was Arbor Day, but it passed in Stratford as though it were not. Probably a few people planted trees and flowers, but if they did the majority of them probably did it without thinking of its being Arbor Day.

WORK FOR BORDEN AND WHITNEY. (Canadian Courier.) While the Conservatives at Ottawa, having no prospect of getting into power, are openly advocating the civil service reform which the Liberals advocated in Opposition, the Conservatives in the Provincial Governments are not so high-minded. The other day the distributor of law stamps at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, died and a new officer was required. Sir James Whitney's Government had the appointment because there is no Civil Service Commission in Ontario, and they immediately proceeded to appoint Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M. P. for East Victoria. Mr. Carnegie lived at Cobocook, and devoted most of his time to farming. Recently he moved to Toronto, and was apparently looking for an easy position in which to spend his declining years. He has been rewarded with one worth $2,200 a year. Just what value his experience in farming will be to him in the distribution of law stamps is not apparent, but no doubt he will make a creditable officer of the Crown.

IN TWO CITIES. Rev. Mr. Smith Will Preach in Hamilton and London. At the conclusion of the service at Unity Church last night a meeting of the congregation was held to consider the resignation of Rev. W. Dejos Smith, who has been instructed by the American Unitarian Society to take charge of the Unitarian Church at London. Arrangements were made with Mr. Smith to preach here on Sunday mornings, and he will preach in London in the evenings. The Rev. Mr. Smith preached just one sermon a day in the evening. In view of this arrangement Mr. Smith withdrew his resignation.

KNOX MISSION. Large Gathering of Men to Hear H. D. Cameron. There was a turnout of over 50 men at Knox Church Mission yesterday morning, in spite of the military parade, to hear the pastor, Rev. H. D. Cameron, B. A. Mr. Cameron spoke upon "Come with us and we will do thee good." He showed God's interest in man and the interest of Jesus Christ in mankind; pointed out the strength and beauty of the Gospel, and the blessing it brings to home and national life. Christian socialism, he said, is the only socialism that will endure—all others, based upon self-interest, will perish. He closed by calling upon the men to come into the church and help rectify the abuses that exist inside and outside of it.

Next Sunday he will speak on "Come in, for you will be eyes to us in the wilderness." Alvin Studholm, M. P., will speak on organization and co-operation among workmen on Tuesday evening.

TALES OF KING AND KAISER.

REWARDS OF EDWARD V. I. FOR ACTS OF KINDNESS. An Ink Stand, a Walking Stick and a Wager Won—How William II. as a Child Was Made to Submit to the Bath—Aid for a Princely Housewife.

Paris—"Sovereigns in Slippers" is the title of a new book in which Henri Nicole has collected anecdotes about the rulers of every country in Europe, containing nothing to annoy those with whom the stories deal.

In 1846 Burnard, the sculptor, was commissioned to model a bust of the little Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII. The boy, then 5 years old, soon grew tired of having to pose without moving and the artist gave him some modeling clay to play with. For a short time all went well. The boy imitated the artist and kept quiet until he had had enough of art and found out a more amusing use for the clay in bombarding the artist with bullets made of it.

As his goodness could not resist the temptation to play with the modeling clay, the Emperor, whose aide he was, apologized to the artist. The young Prince did so with the best of grace. Stretching out his little hand, he said: "Don't be angry with me, Burnard, I shan't do it any more, for mother has told me that I do it will change me into a donkey."

One day as the Prince of Wales was getting out of a cab he saw a blind man with a dog, evidently in despair, not daring to cross the street crowded with traffic. The Prince quietly took the blind man's hand, led him across the street and conducted both across the street.

His action was evidently seen by some one who recognized the Prince of Wales, for a short time afterward there arrived at Marlborough House, without the name of the sender, a massive silver ink pot with a note saying that it was a memento from the Emperor. It was the Prince of Wales who came to the rescue of a blind man bewildered by the traffic of a public street. He received another present in somewhat similar circumstances not long ago.

As some public function, as the police were moving back the crowd to let the King pass through, an infirm man in the crowd had his stick knocked from his hand. The King bent down, picked up the stick and restored it to the lame man. A few days later the King received from an admirer a walking stick with the date of this little occurrence and a few words of respectful admiration engraved upon it.

could he escaped from his nurse and fled to the end of the garden. There he delighted in walking past the sentry so that he could receive his salute. One morning when he had escaped the odd orderlies he was found by the grenadier apparently could not see him. He placed himself right in the sentry's way, but no salute was forthcoming. Angrily he rushed to the palace and found his way to his father's room, where he burst into tears and said: "What's the matter?" asked the Crown Prince Frederick. When the child explained the soldier's remissness his father took him on his knee, looked him over from head to foot and said: "Well, well, my boy, the sentinel only did his duty." More astonished than ever the child asked: "Why so, father?" "Because a soldier never should salute a Prince who is not clean."

There was never any more trouble in making little William take his morning bath. Distasteful as it was, it was more distasteful to risk the loss of his royal prerogatives. It need hardly be said that the grenadier had acted on orders from the Crown Prince. His love of his army has given rise to many stories. One that is well known tells how he dropped into the quarters of the First Royal Regiment of dragoons at Berlin very early one morning. The regiment was drawn up in readiness to march out of barracks, every officer there except the Colonel. The Emperor ordered the start to be delayed until the Colonel arrived, which was half an hour later. When the Colonel found the Emperor in the middle of the square he wanted to make some excuse for himself, but William cut him short and told him to take his men to the drill ground. All through the drill the Emperor said nothing, and when it was over he quitted the grounds still without a word, leaving the officer a prey to uneasiness.

That evening a small parcel arrived at the Colonel's quarters, sent by the Emperor, and the Colonel thought himself lucky in escaping with nothing worse than an ironical present for it proved to be an alarm clock. When the conscripts appeared for service one year there were among them two young men who belonged to a regiment of the Emperor's old army. They were to place themselves in a position where they might be called upon to shed human blood. They refused therefore to do their military service, but did not desert. This brought upon them a sentence of imprisonment.

The Emperor, whose sympathies one would not expect to be aroused by such a case, gave special orders that they should be well treated in jail and on the expiration of their sentence gave them enough money to take them to America, where they became missionaries. William II. has many acts of kindness to the poor to his credit. One day at the palace of Potsdam he noticed that one of the sentries seemed very melancholy. With much hesitation the man told his story, how he had been the point of getting married when he lost all his money and now hardly hoped ever to realize his dreams. The Emperor, after inquiry had proved that the man was speaking the truth, gave him a generous present for the expenses of his wedding, promoted him corporal and found a place for his wife in the service of the Emperor.

A poor sewing woman at Cologne, finding it impossible any longer to earn her living with a worn out old sewing machine, appealed to the Emperor for assistance. When later a new machine with all the latest improvements reached her from her sovereign. When the Kaiser told Prince von Bulow he was to be Chancellor it was evident from Bulow's face that something about the appointment did not altogether please him. The Emperor pressed him to tell what it was, and Von Bulow reluctantly explained that he was so pleased to be called to the office that he was finding her husband appointed Chancellor, she detected the palace of the chancellery, as she was a great housewife and he was sure that the thought of the two or three months that would be needed to clean the immense palace to the pitch she would want to work for.

Don't let that bother you, my dear Von Bulow. Present my compliments to the Princess and tell her that it will be a great pleasure to me to contribute to making that job less difficult for her. It was not a regiment of soldiers detailed for house cleaning purposes that came to the Princess, only a small parcel, which on being opened was found to contain a hundred pieces of soap. CASTORIA. BLINDED BY LIME

Two Ottawa Children Victims of Explosion. Ottawa, May 9.—Sparling Beach, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Beach, of 275 McLeod street, had an eye burned out and the other injured, and his four-year-old sister, Annie Beach, had her eyes also burned in an explosion of lime. The boy and his sister were playing in the yard with a tomato can filled with lime, and wishing to see it boil, poured water into the can. Both children were leaning over it at the time, when it exploded in their faces, with the results stated. Medical attendance was procured, and everything possible done for them. It is probable, however, that the boy will eventually lose his sight, while the girl will probably recover the use of both her eyes.

BOY AND GIRL DROWNED.

Rufus Snell Gives His Life to Save Another. Chatham, May 8.—At Dresden yesterday afternoon Vivian Talbot, the eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. A. J. Talbot, and Rufus Snell, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Joseph Snell, North Dresden, were drowned in the swollen water of Lang's creek. It being the afternoon of Arbor Day, the public school children held a picnic in Jeff's woods. The creek was swollen by heavy rains, but a fallen tree made a partial crossing, which the children completed by means of a plank. The Talbot girl was crossing when the plank gave way, precipitating her into the stream. Young Snell plunged in to the rescue, but was carried under by the current. About twenty rods down the stream the girl's body was brought ashore by her brother, Archie Talbot, and Harry Robinson, but attempts at resuscitation proved useless. Snell's body has not been recovered. Coroner Wiley deemed an inquest necessary.

TRIED TO KILL POLICE CHIEF.

Nihilist Fired at Moscow Official in Paris Hotel. Paris, May 9.—A Pole named Vitkoff made an attempt in a hotel here today to kill M. von Ketten, chief of the secret police of Moscow. He fired his shot at the police official, but all missed. M. von Ketten asserts that Vitkoff is a dangerous nihilist who escaped from Siberia. Vitkoff made the statement that he pretended to join the secret police in order to escape from Russia and he attacked von Ketten for the purpose of exposing the methods of the Russian secret political service.

Higher License in Cobourg.

Cobourg, Ont., May 9.—Cobourg's population is over the 5,000 mark, and as a consequence the West Northumberland license commissioners have raised the liquor license fees one hundred dollars per year. All the licensees have been renewed. Chinese Naturalization Laws. The Chinese Government has decided upon the following important naturalization laws besides others of minor significance: 1. Foreigners wishing to become Chinese subjects must first of all be without other nationality, and in the second place must have resided in China ten years; even then the sanction of the Ministry of the Interior must be obtained. 2. Chinese wishing to become naturalized subjects of other countries must under all circumstances obtain the consent of the Ministry of the Interior; they can do so in no other way than themselves of their Chinese nationality. 3. Chinese women wishing to marry foreigners must obtain the consent of the Ministry of the Interior before they can divest themselves of Chinese nationality. There is much in the above rules to clash with the European laws or rules on this subject.—Westminster Gazette.

METHODISTS OF WEST END

Held Anniversary In Garth Street Mission Yesterday.

Good Address by Rev. R. W. Allen in St. Peter's.

Last Reception Service in Present Methodist Pastorates.

The youngest branch of Methodism in the west end of the city, Garth Street Mission, held its first anniversary yesterday, and the little church was crowded during the day, especially last night to hear J. H. Robinson speak on "The Wholeheartedness of Man Towards Man."

He said that in studying Moses a great deal is found about wholeheartedness of service for the Master, and the manner in which it should be practiced by every true believer. To illustrate his meaning he said the children who were God's chosen ones upon being left without a leader while Moses was in the mountain drifted into idolatry. The Bible asks, "What does thy Lord God require of thee?" The same words were spoken first by Moses and then by Christ. The words spoken by Christ which had the same meaning were, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and Him only."

He said he reason God selected the race He did for His chosen people was not that they were the strongest, but because they were the weakest and needed His help the most. Even though they were persecuted and carried out of their own land God's hand was ever over them, and He was always willing to help them when they needed it. Mr. Robinson spoke of the bright outlook for Canada, and said that very few countries had the opportunities that Canada has today. Her resources, freedom of religion, and the strict observance of the Sabbath all show the great advantages she enjoys. He did not think there was another country in the world with such a heritage as Canada. He spoke of the trying conditions in some countries, and of the terrible tyranny in Armenia, where the Turks commit such terrible atrocities, believing them to be right. Christ says, "Lay not up treasure on earth, where moth and rust corrupt and thieves break through and steal, but lay up treasure in heaven."

At the evening service the pastor, Rev. E. G. Sanders, R. A., made an earnest appeal that $40 be given, and his appeal was not in vain, for the total collection at that service was $33.21, which, together with what was handed to the pastor by Mr. Robinson on behalf of about a dozen persons, who were anxious to see the work progress, made a total of $50.21. The pastor thanked the audience for their kindness in responding so nobly to his request, and said they were always glad to come to the assistance when the mission was in need of financial assistance.

In St. Peter's Church yesterday morning Rev. R. W. Allen, of the church, preached a large gathering. He spoke of "the attitude of man toward God," and in a forcible way endeavored to show that the ideas and characters of men are governed by their belief in God. If they have a low idea of God they are low-minded, and so, also, if they have a high opinion of God and His teachings they are high-minded. If they have an unbalanced idea they have a false mind and a narrow view of God's character leads to bigotry and persecution, but, he said, some men have low mental powers, while others have a higher nature. He spoke of the need of all to worship and trust in all the teachings of the Bible, and to place the fullest assurance in the message. The religion of man should and must begin in the heart, as at present there is a better knowledge of the Scriptures than in the olden times, because God has revealed Himself to men if they are governed by their belief in God. He said that God is always revealing His character, and we are living in a privileged age. The Jews looked to God's manifestations of mercy and justice, but we are living in an age of responsibility. The Jews took only half of His message, some taking to the mercy side and considering that God would forgive notwithstanding the lives they were leading; but the present generation is not following any mere theory. The Reformation of the 16th century had just begun when men began to abuse their freedom, and saw the uselessness of some of their ceremonies and corruptions, and drifted away from them. But they got the idea that God was an angry tyrant, whose joy was in thinking of the punishment of the damned. Persecution set in, and the creed, losing its influence, became wrong, and the reason was because of a narrow mind. In closing he said that to-day popery has gone too far, and people are looking too much to the mercy of God to cover their neglect of religion and of their God.

CENTENARY CHURCH. Though the weather was not very favorable yesterday, and the time of morning service came in contact with street attractions, there were large congregations at the services both morning and evening. The morning service was made especially attractive by being the time for monthly sacrament, and because it was the last reception service during the present pastorate. A class of thirty new members came forward to the communion rail for reception into church membership. The number taking part in the Lord's Supper nearly filled every alternate seat in the auditorium. Of the new members, several came as strangers, with letters of standing, others with letters from city churches, while some came from the regular congregation on profession of faith. It was a rarely inspiring service. The choir gave, as usual, an excellent service of song. Rev. R. Whiting, R. A., gave an inspiring address on the theme, "Losing and Finding."

The subject for the evening was "Overcoming Evil With Good." God marks out His program for His people, and He puts the same before us, that we may work for the world's betterment. This duty lies before us in our national life, whether applied to things civic or provincial or imperial. In our domestic life it is so far as it respects our home and family relationships. Also in commercial life in our constant dealings with one another in business. The unseen power in nature is evidently omnipotent, so it is according to the laws of God. A leaden bullet which will pierce through a piece of hard wood, may be captured by the soft embrace of the snow bank; so it is that human deeds and words, sent forth according to the law, may not deeply, yet these may be captured into hallowed, consecrated service by the warm embrace of Christian love, according to the Gospel of Jesus Christ. This is the only way of certain triumph in things secular and things religious.

RECEPTION AT FIRST. In First Methodist Church yesterday the last reception service in the pastorate of Rev. R. J. Treleven was held at the morning service, when quite a goodly number were admitted into church fellowship. The pastor preached an appropriate sermon. Communion services were held both morning and evening.

THE SODALES.

Annual Banquet to Wind Up Successful Season.

The Sodales Club of Central Presbyterian Church held its first annual banquet on Thursday night. Its success was beyond all expectation. About 75 gentlemen set down to a bountiful repast, while the young ladies of the church served with untrifling efforts the various delicacies of a choice menu. The club rooms were gaily decorated with flags and bunting. To the rear of the guests table hung the Canadian Club's historic flag, secured at Quebec tercentenary celebration last summer, it being kindly loaned for the occasion. Upon the flag gracefully rested a beautiful shield won by the Sodales in the final debate of the Hamilton Debating League series, of which the members are justly proud. The programme and toast list was of a very enjoyable nature, and was appreciated by all present. Many eloquent speeches, and musical numbers were rendered. During the evening telegrams of regret were received from a number of prominent men, including King Edward, Teddy Roosevelt, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Michael Joyce, but their absence was entirely forgotten amid the enthusiasm over the excellent speeches of the young orators. President C. H. W. Grace acted as toastmaster. The programme was as follows:

"The King"—National Anthem. "Canada"—Proposed by Arthur Mitchell, responded to by R. H. Balfour. Piano solo, C. Percival Garratt. "The Sodales"—Proposed by Jack Gay, responded to by R. H. Gilbert. "The Church"—Proposed by G. K. Fraser, responded to by Rev. Dr. Lyle, and Rev. W. H. Sedgewick, B.A., B.D. Cornet solo—Harold Cumming. "The Ladies"—Proposed by H. Morwick, responded to by C. Percival Garratt. "Sister Societies"—Proposed by Peter B. Pennington, responded to by President James L. Jolley, President of the Hamilton Debating League; Charles Finch, of St. Paul's Guild; R. Morrison, Y. M. C. A. Chapter; Allan Lancefield, Barton Street Methodist; Y. M. U.

ST. LAWRENCE. The opening service of the two weeks' mission at St. Lawrence's Church, conducted by Rev. Fathers O'Reilly and Doyle, of the Redemptionist Order, attracted congregations yesterday that filled the edifice to its utmost capacity. The order of the services was explained at the different masses. The first week will be for the women and children and the second week for men. There will be a service each afternoon for the children. Masses will be at 5.30 and 7 o'clock every morning, with a short instruction, and the evening service at 7.30. At the high mass yesterday morning Father O'Reilly emphasized that mission time was a time of prayer and sanctification. He spoke of the great blessings the mission brought, and exhorted his hearers to co-operate with the priests in making it a success. Father O'Reilly and Father Doyle are the priests who conducted the mission in St. Mary's Cathedral last March. Both are eloquent and impressive speakers and will doubtless draw large congregations to St. Lawrence's Church during the next two weeks. At the opening of the women's mission last night the church was filled to overflowing.

JUVENILE GOOD TEMPLARS. The regular weekly session of International Juvenile Temple, I. O. G. T., was held in the C. O. O. F. Hall on Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Robt. Morris, Superintendent, presided over a fair attendance of members. The plan of campaign for the summer months was submitted by the Executive, and was adopted. It was agreed that the Temple should hold its third annual picnic on the last Saturday of June, at Dundurn. At the close of the business the following programme was presented by the Chief Templar: Piano solos, Misses Margaret Stove, Irene Elford and Addie Ford; songs, Misses Lottie Hardy and Maryjane Lyle. Next Saturday afternoon Miss Beatrice Green, Vice-Templar of Temple, is due to entertain.

Nedore Thormalien, aged 74, a Carleton Place, died in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, from injuries received by being struck by a street car at Grandview on Friday night.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

The house fairly shook with applause at the several stages of the incident. Between the matinee and evening performances Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Crerar entertained the entire company at the theatre, Caterer Crawford providing supper, and a social hour being spent most enjoyably. It will take some little time yet to pay all the bills and balance the accounts, but the ladies expect that there will be a net profit of about $800. After the daintily served luncheon, came speaking by some of the more prominent members in connection with the work and there were several expressions of pleasure made by Dr. C. L. M. Harris, musical director, and Mr. Alex. Henderson, of New York, who had charge of the stage. To show their appreciation of the work that had been accomplished by Dr. Harris and Mr. Henderson the members of the chorus presented Dr. Harris with a beautiful travelling bag and a smoking set, and some gold mounted pipe. Dr. Harris referred to the members of the "Mikado" into a permanent organization. He was ably seconded in this matter by Mr. Henderson, who thought it was most advisable that the members be kept together.

"BREWSTER'S MILLIONS." Brewster's Millions, one of the best comedies seen here in a long time, comes to the Grand again to-morrow and Wednesday evenings. Though it has already been seen here with much emotion, but it is a play out of the ordinary. The yacht scene is one of the greatest effects ever produced on any stage, and is always worth seeing. The company, which is the original, could not be surpassed. The star part of that of Monty Brewster is played by Edward Ablet, one of the cleverest young comedians on the American stage.

MRS. P. D. CRERAR, Regent of Municipal Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, who was honored at Bennett's on Saturday night.

A GREAT MELODRAMA. Few plays on the American stage to-day have enjoyed the continued success that has followed "Shadows of a Great City." It is an old favorite with patrons of the Grand, where it will be offered again next Friday and Saturday. It is a big production for popular prices, and has a strong heart interest. Another feature of the play is its realism. It was written by the late Joseph Jefferson, and coming from such a man it could hardly be otherwise. A Proud Appreciation. "The Charities," as well as we who are so much indebted to them, should crown with glory and with love. The Empire's hearts united, we bring what we can do. So grandly, their renowned "Mikado." Though no one else can be the bearer of gifts like those of Queenly Kida, the birds acknowledge that her "Kido," both lady and lass, beat the best. Below the peak we are so proud to see. In short that every maid and man Among them spoke and spelt Japan. Nor has the Imperial Orchestra Been named by mistress made of No power or pain could ever embarrass The hand or hand of lovely Harris. The poor will never perish while, Below the peak we are so proud to see. Nor shall what they've so grandly done, Dismore the fame of Hamilton. W. M. Athol Bank, 10th May, 1909.

KIDD'S WORK. SHOULD GET MEDAL.

Man Who Got Half Million For Reclaiming Girl. St. Catharines Lad Saves Another Boy From Drowning.

(Special Despatch to the Times). St. Catharines, Ont., May 10.—The presence of mind and courage of Sydney Martin, aged 10 years, son of A. Sydney Martin, of this city, saved his 7-year-old play mate, Albert Kraft, from drowning in the Hydraulic raceway yesterday afternoon. The boys were playing in the vicinity of the Hedley Shaw Mills, when venturing too close to the edge of the bank, young Kraft lost his balance and fell into the water, which at this place is 6 feet deep and flows very swiftly. He had gone down twice before his companion could reach him, by getting into the water and catching hold of his clothing, in which manner he finally pulled himself out to safety. This is the second time within a year that young Martin has rescued a companion from drowning in this raceway. Albert Stone, a Thorold fruit dealer, had an almost miraculous escape from drowning on Saturday. He had left his horse and delivery wagon standing in the driveway at the side of his store for some time and the horse became restless. Consequently when he climbed into the vehicle again and was giving some instructions to his help before driving away the horse began to back the rig in the direction of the Dary Pulp Mill raceway. Stone was unable to stop it and presently horse and wagon had gone backwards into the swift running stream. Just before it reached the water Stone jumped, but owing to the steepness of the bank, had difficulty in maintaining his equilibrium. With the assistance of a number of men, who volunteered to help him, the horse and wagon were both pulled out to terra firma, very little the worse for their plunge.

U. S. FLEET AT JAPAN. Tokio, May 10.—The programme for the reception of the third division of the Pacific fleet of the American navy, which is visiting Japan, extends to the time of entertainment to Rear Admiral Harber and the officers and men under him until May 15. Several important affairs of both official and private character are to be given for the visitors, including a garden party by Prince Shimazu on Thursday.

The New York Central lines and the Pennsylvania system have authorized improvements on their road between New York and Chicago that will use a total expenditure of $22,500,000, according to the Cleveland Leader.

A short story—"I'm broke." A lame excuse is one that doesn't go.

A CLOSE CALL.

Miss Summers Injured on Railway at Port Arthur.

Miss M. Summers, daughter of Mr. Geo. Summers, the popular head of the Summers Stock Company, and a favorite in this city, met with a severe accident at Port Arthur, and the wonder is that she was not killed. The company were taking leave of Port Arthur, and in their hurry to get all their personal effects safely on board, temporarily overlooked the bulldog belonging to Miss Summers. Mr. Summers jumped from the train, caught the dog and placed it in the freight car. Being under the impression that all his company were safely encoached, he once more boarded the train, as it commenced to pull out. At that moment, Miss Summers, who had alighted with her father, unbeknown to anyone, was running to the train. She missed the hand rail and fell across the footboard, striking her head upon the platform several times. Owing to the shouting the brakes were suddenly applied, causing a sudden jerk, which threw her on to the rails, between the track and the platform. That she escaped without being killed is a miracle. As it was she received several nasty cuts, which will take some time to heal.

FATE OF A PERPETUAL CLOCK.

How Its Curious Mechanism Disappeared in China.

In the eighteenth century an ingenious jeweller named James Cox, of Shoe Lane, London, constructed a clock which was rendered perpetual by a cleverly contrived attachment which utilized the rise and fall of the barometer to supply the necessary energy. The movement of the mercury actuated a cog wheel in such a manner that whether the mercury rose or fell the wheel always rotated in the same direction and kept the weight that supplied the movement of the clock always wound up. The barometer bulb dipped into a mercury cistern. The cistern hung attached to the extremities of two rockers, to the left end of one of the right end of the other. The bulb was similarly attached to the other extremities of the rockers, which are thus moved every time there is a change in the amount of mercury in bulb and cistern respectively. The rockers actuated a vertical ratchet, and the teeth were so arranged that the wheel they controlled could only move in one direction, whether the ratchet ascended or descended. The clock itself was an ordinary one, but of very strong and superior workmanship, and was jewelled with diamonds at every bearing, the whole being enclosed in a glass case which, while it excluded dust, displayed the entire mechanism. The fate of Cox's clock was brought to light in a work called "Travels in China," published in 1804 and written by John Barrow.

In this book it is stated, that in the list of presents carried by "the late Dutch Ambassador" were "two grand pieces of machinery, that were part of the curious museum of Cox." One of these apparently was this perpetual clock, and it was taken by the Dutch Embassy to China, where in the journey from Canton to Peking both the instruments suffered some slight damage. Efforts were made to repair them at Peking, but on leaving the capital it was discovered that the Chinese Prime Minister Ho-tchang-long, had substituted two other clocks of very inferior workmanship, and had reserved Cox's mechanism for himself.—From the London Times.

ON A PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER CAR.

The Lady Inside Who Wanted a Transfer and the Obliging Conductor. You must get your transfer nowadays when you pay your fare, that is, if there are any transfers, and that's another. Aboard a Madison avenue pay as you enter came a woman with bundles about a million bundles—but managing so many stopped between her finger tips a nickel, which she handed to the conductor; after which she passed on into the car and sat down. One seated—perhaps she hadn't wanted to bother about it when all those bundles to hold she first stepped on the car—it occurred to the lady that she wanted a transfer; and now she called aloud, the rear door of the car being open, to the conductor standing outside, "Please put this place on the rear platform, which he couldn't leave. "Conductor, I want a transfer." Now that, to the other passengers in the car, who there are still courteous, obliging and able conductors, and that's another. "What?" said this gentleman, not understanding. "To the lady with the bundles about half way down the left hand side as you go in," said the conductor. "Why, certainly," said the gentleman. Which shows that where there's a will there's a way, and also that all's well that ends well.—N. Y. Sun.

French Village Ruled by Women.

In the village of Proissy, near Paris, nearly all the important posts are filled by women. Passengers alighting at the railway station are met by a woman, who is station-master, while her husband is only a guard.

Mlle. Jeanne will "honor" her customers only on Tuesday and Fridays, as she has undertaken other work.

"Mlle. Lasobre," is she. She walks on an average twenty miles a day. The municipal drummer is a woman in her ninetieth year.—From the London Standard.

At Montreal Agneline Marquis, a girl of twenty-three years, committed suicide on Saturday by swallowing Paris green. No reason is given for the rash act.

Toronto and Ontario houses are interested in the failure of Mr. Israel Crossman and Messrs. Shaer & Eliasoph, of Montreal.

Novel Street Lighting. The quantity of light with which it is now possible to obtain, at a reasonable cost, from tungsten lamps in series, has led to an innovation in street lighting in some Michigan towns, which, it is thought, may find wide adoption. In Grand Rapids, where the system seems first to have been applied, the tungsten lamps are strung across the street, between the eaves of the buildings, in such a way that they form the outline of an arch. The effect of a series of these illuminated arches at night resembles that of a canopy of ramps covering the street, and shedding down upon it a pleasing illumination. The same system has been adopted in Big Rapids, and is under consideration in Greenville and other towns. Spring flowers—Brooks. Men of science care less for the finding of the actual poles of the earth's axis than for the exploration of the lands and seas surrounding them. Dr. William S. Bruce points out that the only extensive work remaining to be done in the arctic region is the detailed investigation of the north polar basin. In the southern hemisphere almost everything south of latitude 40 degrees, corresponding with that of Philadelphia in the northern hemisphere, requires a thorough investigation. OLD EDITOR DEAD. # CANADA LIFE AND CONMEE.

Both Bills Passed Third Reading in Commons.

Senator Cox Attacked by Mr. Henderson.

Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Borden on Provincial Rights.

Ottawa, May 8.—After a mild parting kick administered by Mr. Borden and a division challenged by the Opposition on the third reading, Mr. Conmee's bill to incorporate the Ontario & Michigan Power Company completed its stormy passage through the House of Commons today.

Mr. Borden acknowledged that Mr. Conmee had met the objections originally urged to the bill very fairly, and that a great many of these objections had been removed. But he took direct issue with the Prime Minister on the question of the Federal Parliament's power to expropriate lands belonging to a Province. "This Parliament," he declared, "has no power whatever to expropriate lands belonging to a Province; such a power would lead to the most absurd conclusions. If this Parliament, acting within the limits of its jurisdiction, can expropriate or authorize the expropriation of lands belonging to a Provincial Government, then the Legislature of a Province acting within the limits of its jurisdiction can authorize the expropriation of lands belonging to the Government of Canada." Reverting to the bill, he recognized that in its amended form no such power of expropriation was asked for, and with all deference to the Ontario Government, he did not think they had anything to fear in that regard. The only objection he had to the bill was that the powers granted to the company would lead to a monopoly, which in these days, when every effort should be made to conserve the water powers of the country, was most undesirable.

THE PREMIER'S POSITION. Sir Wilfrid Laurier thought the leader of the Opposition was taking too wide a meaning from his words. He (Sir Wilfrid) had said that in his judgment the Federal Parliament has the power to expropriate, not in the broad sense referred to by Mr. Borden, who certainly would be carrying the doctrine to an absurd degree, but to give effect to legislation. The Federal Parliament had the right to make laws for the good order and government of the country; it had the power to construct public works, and that authority carried with it the correlative power to expropriate, if necessary, to give effect to its legislation. He welcomed Mr. Borden's declaration as to the supreme authority of the Provinces within their own sphere, for that was a good old Liberal doctrine.

A division was then taken on the third reading, which carried on a straight party vote of 76 to 39.

CANADA LIFE BILL. The fight over the Canada Life Assurance Company's bill was then resumed, Mr. Henderson leading the attack. In a speech extending over two hours, he elaborated all his previous objections and went out of his way to make a personal attack on Senator Cox, whom he referred to as a millionaire seeking to rob the widows and orphans.

Mr. Roy (Montgomery) doubted the wisdom of passing the bill until the policyholders had an opportunity to be heard.

Mr. Foster objected to the bill on the principle that it was ex-post facto legislation which sought to interfere with the contract between the company and the policyholders without the knowledge or consent of the latter.

Mr. Clarke (South Essex) in an able and convincing speech completely demolished the case set up by Mr. Henderson and his supporters. He pointed out that the directors of an insurance company were not bound to allot profits at all, and if the bill were defeated, the probable effect would be the ruin of the company. He submitted that the evidence was overwhelming that the intention of Parliament and of the company in 1879, when the act sought to be corrected was passed, was to place the construction upon it which had been acted upon for the past thirty years. Those who applied for the legislation in 1879 included some of the most eminent and honorable men in Canada, and it was a grave reflection upon the honor of these men to suggest that they had misled Parliament and then acted contrary to what Parliament intended by calculating the interest on capital stock before distributing the profits. He read a letter from Mr. Ramsay, the former president of the company, clearly showing that the intention in 1879 was that the company had all along claimed to be, and dwelt on the fact that although the course they were now seeking to have confirmed had been followed for thirty years, not a single policyholder had objected. Moreover, the representatives of the policyholders on the board had approved of that course. The object of the bill was simply to set at rest any doubts that might have been raised by Mr. Laidlaw, and there was absolutely no ground for the attacks which had been made on Senator Cox.

GIVEN THIRD READING. Mr. Lancaster and Mr. Turfitt followed for a half-hour apiece in repetition of their previous criticisms of the bill. Mr. Lancaster emphasized the sacredness of an act of Parliament once passed, and the wisdom of altering the letter of an agreement on the authority of which many hundreds of thousands of dollars had been invested. Mr. Turfitt dwelt on the cutting down of the profits of policyholders, and urged that the large salaries paid to the heads of the company were responsible for this.

Mr. Sharpe (N. Ontario) followed, using the argument that Parliament had no right to interfere in a legal action pending before the courts. He declined to give his opinion on the Premier Whitney's analogous policy in respect to the Cobalt Lake legislation.

That ended the discussion, and at 6 o'clock the bill was given a third reading and sent on to the Senate. The House then adjourned.

Four hundred and fifty Chinese arrived at Montreal on Saturday. The majority of them are to be taken to the West Indies to work on the sugar plantations.

NO CAUSE FOR PANIC

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford Lectures Englishmen.

Liverpool, May 8.—Lord Charles Beresford, upon whom the Liverpool University today conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws, took occasion to lecture his compatriots on the "deplorable physical defects that recently have developed in the race." Lord Charles referred especially to the naval scare that has dominated England of late, and declared that the nation had lost the old British habit of looking at things with calmness and dignity. If the Cabinet Committee now considering the question of the lack of naval readiness raised by himself found things unsatisfactory, as he had no doubt they would, there would be no necessity of panic and rearmament, but the nation would have to reassess the old British spirit, see where things were wrong and calmly put them right.

Anxiety at Rome Regarding Pontiff's Health.

Rome, May 9.—The health of the Pope is giving his entourage some anxiety, but this would not have been known by the outside world had he not held the late beatification, at which all the world could see that he was looking ill.

There is nothing the doctors can lay their hands upon—just a general and gradual weakness shown in his disinclination to exercise and a less keen interest in his work. It is hoped that this will pass with the extraordinary heat of spring, although indications point to a very hot summer, which would be exceedingly bad if his present condition holds.

ADRIFT ON LAKE.

Young Barnardo Boy Picked Up by Indians.

Chatham, May 9.—Drifting in an open boat on Lake St. Clair, Ernie Hawkins, a 13-year-old Barnardo boy, was picked up by Indians fishing at Walpole Island. To Constable McLaren he confessed that on Tuesday night he ran away from the home of W. F. Dick at Wheatley, with whom he had been placed, stealing a watch and chain, walked to Stony Point and there stole the boat and set sail upon the lake. He had only a paddle, and knew nothing of managing the craft. When picked up he had had nothing to eat since Tuesday.

He was brought to Chatham this morning, where Mr. Dick arrived this afternoon in response to a telephone message from Constable McLaren, having driven 36 miles. He will take the boy back with him. Hawkins says he was well treated.

LADY ABERDEEN'S VISIT.

Will Reach New York for Toronto on June 5th.

New York, May 9.—The Countess of Aberdeen, president of the International Council of Women, and the leader in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in Ireland, has written to friends in this city that she will cross the Atlantic early next month to reside at the International Council of Women at Toronto. She will remain here two days, leaving for Boston on June 7. From Boston she will go to Canada.

The freight handlers' strike at Owen Sound is still in progress.

THE TROUBLE IN FRANCE.

Civil Servants Threaten the State's Very Existence.

Defy the President and Preach Anti-Militarism and Anarchy.

Government Determined to Maintain Its Authority Over Them.

Paris, May 9.—The lure of the most splendid day of the season drew all Paris to-day outdoors, there to forget all about strikes and revolutions. Only at the riding school near the Bastille, 2,000 postal employees are assembled to debate what action they should take in reply to the Government's dismissal of seven men who took part in the recent strike. Half the gathering consisted of young women, telephone operators and clerks, gay with parasols and hats covered with flowers, which seemed to the great that came down through the glass roof. The scene was like a political meeting in America on a hot summer day, and afforded good opportunity to judge of the characters of the men and women who are causing the Government such uneasiness. They seem extremely intelligent, amiable and reasonable.

They elected one of the dismissed postmen chairman, and listened to a venerable orator ridicule M. Clemenceau's carrier pigeons. They shouted enthusiastic approval when a fervid speaker cried out that he didn't fear prison or the guillotine. They sang when a rosy spotted speaker's peroration. They listened respectfully to a man introduced as English, but named MacCarthy, who said he brought greetings from the London telegraphers. Then they passed the word to the men and fully home. The leader admitted that there would be no strike till Parliament, which meets on Tuesday, has a chance to hear the men's grievances. The general opinion to-day prevails that the strike will not result in any organization is further perfected.

GOVERNMENT'S FIRMLINESS HAS ITS EFFECT.

Paris, May 9.—Conditions are rather favorable to the Government in its controversy with the postal employees, and it is not likely that a strike will be declared for the present. The Government's firmness has made a deep impression on the public, and the leaders of the strike movement may conclude to postpone the battle until they are better organized and prepared for what would prove to be a hard struggle.

THE REPUBLIC IN PERIL.

New York, May 9.—A cable despatch to the Tribune from Paris says: The Government is resolved to stake its existence on its fight against the insurgent postal and telegraph employees and railway servants. Premier Clemenceau and his energetic Minister of Public Works, Louis Barthou, are now fully aware that the immense majority of the nation is supporting them in their struggle with the revolutionary employees. Even extreme radicals like Mascaraud deny that State servants have the right to strike. The Clemenceau Cabinet has taken extraordinary measures, and is fully prepared to crush the threatened revolutionary strikes.

The French Republic has never before been confronted with a more serious situation. Its own servants in the Postal and Railway Departments have been organizing themselves into groups and syndicates, fraternizing with the workmen of the mines and the workers of labor and with the proletariat under the dictatorship of "King" Pataud and his communist leaders, who shake their fists at President Fallieres and at all the representatives of civil and military authority. They preach anti-militarism and anarchy.

DANGER OF ANOTHER COMMUNE.

Capital is alarmed, and during the last six weeks over a hundred million dollars of French funds has been invested abroad. The agitation of the rebellious civil servants is steadily doing incalculable injury to the industrial and commercial prosperity of the country. M. Clemenceau knows perfectly well that unless this revolt of Government employees is nipped in the bud the parliamentary regime in France must disappear and be replaced by the Commune of 1871. No foreigners would feel secure in a country without law and order, and France, while retaining her intellectual, artistic, and scientific supremacy, would be politically and militarily, to the rank of a second-class nation.

All intelligent Frenchmen are fully alive to the national peril and stand firmly behind M. Clemenceau in the present life and death struggle against the anarchy and the proclamation of the Commune of 1871, which is personified by "King" Pataud and the insurgent strike employees.

THOUSANDS OF CARRIER PIGEONS.

M. Barthou, the Minister of Public Works, is of the opinion that even if a strike is called a considerable proportion of the State employees will stick to their posts, and that with the aid of soldiers and the co-operation of the Chambers of Commerce, and the Hotekeepers' Association, who are organizing auxiliary forces, the public service will be maintained. One hundred and fifty thousand carrier pigeons, trained for war service, have been placed at the disposal of the Government. The ships of the Mediterranean fleet received orders to-night to make preparations to take up their allotted stations at points on the coast, so that communication could be carried on by wireless.

The manifestoes of the Strike Committee, couched in the phraseology of the revolution, read as if they were manifestos to liberty. For instance, in announcing the refusal of seven postmen to appear before the Council of Discipline to-day on the ground that to comply would be an interference with their liberty these men are described as "going to the execution in charrettes," a term employed in the day of the terror to describe the carts which conveyed the victims of the revolutionary tribunal to the guillotine.

Many of the groups of railroad men in the provinces have voted sympathy with the postmen, and announced their support of the resolution of the railroad men's congress to go on strike if Parliament does not vote a pension bill.

Walter Emil Paul Henninger, a German, suicided at Vancouver by shooting after a quarrel with his betrothed on Friday night. The gold ring bought for the wedding was found near his dead body.

GIPSY SMITH.

THE GREAT REVIVALIST HAS BIG OPENING IN TORONTO.

Magnetizes Every Listener by His Preaching—Ten Thousand People All Told Failed in Effort to Get Into Massey Hall Yesterday.

Toronto, May 10.—If you've ever heard Gipsy Smith talk, if you have ever heard Gipsy Smith lead the singing, if you've ever heard him pray, or if you've ever listened to his fiery remarks as he leans over the railing of his raised platform, you will cease to wonder why his revival meetings have been successful. You won't wonder why he could lead a crowd of 25,000 people singing into the slums of the sixth largest city in the United States, and you will stop asking why the Toronto Ministerial Association asked him, as he says, "a party gipsy from his tent," to help convert Toronto.

If a sceptic could have seen the crowds which stood outside Massey Hall last night, while the doors were shut on nearly 5,000 people inside, and heard the crowds in the overflow meetings singing hymns, it would silence him at least. The Gipsy, himself, said that he never saw so many people get up and asked to be prayed for on the first day of his meetings. He was asked if he had anything to say at the meetings yesterday. "Only that I'm full of hope," the simple answer. "Look at that crowd."

Saturday night the Gipsy spoke to the workers, the choir and the ministers. It was said that he talked to them alone, but the public would stand for it. They clamored and were admitted. Gipsy Smith started by making the people sing "Where He Leads I'll Follow." He would point his finger at one of the ladies in the audience and they would sing; at another and they would sing; at another and they would respond. The speaker seemed to have a sort of magnetic power which his hearers could not resist. It was no wonder, one minister said, that he could lead 25,000 of the best people in Cleveland about the slums of that city.

"If you're praying for a revival," Gipsy Smith told them, "draw a chalk ring around yourself and pray. 'Lord begin the ring.' You're responsible for yourself as well as for your brother. Find out if you've been a hindrance to God or a blessing to the world."

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

"What will you get out of these meetings. That's what Peter asked Christ in the Scripture Dr. Taylor has just read. You're not worrying over that are you? No, you're wondering what I get out of it. Where does Gipsy Smith get off? I'm taken care of by my Church Council in London, but what will you get out of these meetings? Christ's religion is profitable. Say, business men, if you invest your surplus, or your principal, even here you certainly will get dividends. First of all, you'll get a clear conscience. You'll get the assurance that you're a new man. You'll get a bit of Heaven in your pocket. I never knew a man to go back on his mother's religion. Do you remember how good your mother was? Don't you remember how she used to pray for you? Don't you think that was good enough for you? Spend an hour or two to help Jesus Christ to win a world as well as to make a couple of hundred dollars and you'll be repaid."

"A few weeks ago a lecturing bureau sent me up and offered me something like $20,000 for a three weeks' tour. I said 'No. There's not enough money in the world to buy me away from soul-saving.' (Applause.) How much brain and brawn work are you men putting in towards the moral uplift of the city? What are you doing towards saving souls? 'Turn your face toward your mother's God, men. I'd like to do something for the mother. If you save a boy for his mother, you're doing a wonderful thing.' And that's the Gipsy asked for a prayer and there was hardly a dry eye in the house.

There was never such a crowd as attempted to gain admission into Massey Hall last night. The meeting began early because the house was packed by 7:15 o'clock.

Here are some of the things Gipsy Smith said at the night meetings. He said them at various times and in such a way as to either set the audience sobbing or laughing, or applauding frantically.

"Some people think Jesus Christ is just some sort of a fire escape. Do you suppose He converted you simply to take you to Heaven? If He had done that He would have taken you when you were converted, for some of you were much better then than you are now."

"Where will you be on the morning of the Resurrection? I'm talking to you who boast of your religions standing behind you and nominal members of churches. Do you know what 'nominal' means? It means unreal. Ask Webster. You who never led a drunkard to the light and you who never helped Jesus make a better world of this, what do you suppose the Lord will say? To His Apostles He said: 'How long will ye make Me suffer?' It's driving another nail into His hand every time you allow an opportunity to slip."

"If Jesus came to earth He would take a whip and drive the people all out of some of our churches, just as He did years ago on another occasion. He would need to begin all over again in some places."

"Perhaps you don't enjoy my preaching. Never do you enjoy a surgical operation. 'I don't want you to go away saying, 'Wasn't he sweet?' or 'Didn't he speak nice?' I want you to go out feeling sore at heart and ashamed of yourselves.'"

"I don't believe in working up a revival. I believe in praying it down. Prayer's the thing."

"Let me see your week night prayer meetings and I'll tell you the spiritual condition of your city. The prayer meeting on Wednesday or Thursday is the thermometer of the church. There's where you see the true light of Christianity."

"Gipsy announced a noontime prayer meeting every day from 12:15 to 12:45 o'clock. In the afternoons there will be meetings at 2:30 o'clock, doors open at 2 o'clock."

"Hands up," said Gipsy Smith at one time. "Everybody here who is really glad to be here put up his hand." Every hand went up. "Now down in your pockets and deep, too, for here come the collection plates."

"Big signs are up in the hall bearing the legends: 'Get Right With God' and 'Be Ye Reconciled Unto God.'"

CHURCH PARADE OF OVER 1,100 SOLDIERS.

Splendid Turnout of All the Units of Garrison For Service Yesterday Morning.

Archdeacon Forneret at All Saints' and Rev. D. R. Drummond at St. Paul's Preachers.

Despite the threatening appearance of the sky and the few drops of rain that fell early in the morning, the garrison parade yesterday was the best on record. Seldom have the troops been seen to better advantage, the efficiency and esprit de corps drawing forth the highest commendation along the route as the soldiers marched proudly along in step with the inspiring martial music of the bands. It was by far the largest parade since the brigade was organized, there being over 1,100 men in line yesterday, their bright uniforms and fine bearing making a picturesque sight, and one well calculated to make the heart beat faster. Lieut.-Col. Logie, brigade commander, and his staff of officers were delighted with the turnout. Both churches wherein the soldiers worshipped were crowded to capacity, and there was very little room for the congregations. The Highlanders and Battery at All Saints' heard a splendid sermon by Ven. Archdeacon Forneret, while Rev. D. R. Drummond addressed the Thirteenth, Army Service Corps and Army Medical Corps. The success of such a ceremonial event as a church parade must necessarily depend to a certain extent on the weather, and though conditions were not exactly ideal yesterday, there is very little cause for complaint. It takes more than a few slight clouds in the sky to scare away the sightseers, and the soldier has his reputation to uphold for scorn of all obstacles. Old Probs threatened all morning up to the time of the parade, but then became more considerate, and after that better weather could not have been desired. The orders called for the corps to parade at 10 o'clock, and promptly on time the uniformed men flocked in twos and threes to the armories, which were a scene of unusual bustle and activity until the command to march was given. An immense crowd lined both sides of James and Main streets along the route of the churches, admiring the men as they swung past in perfect line.

The parade state was as follows: Brigade Staff—Col. Logie, Brigadier; Major Roberts, Brigadier Major; Major Huggins, Brigade Sergeant Major; Major William Hendrie and Capt. R. R. Moodie, attached.

- The Brigade parade was:
- 4th Field Battery . . . . . 29
  - 13th Regiment . . . . . 484
  - 91st Regiment . . . . . 446
  - 8th Army Service Corps . . . . . 54
  - 12th Field Ambulance Corps . . . . . 59
- 1,075
- Veterans of '00 . . . . . 30
- 1,105

13th Regiment—Major Ross, commanding; Capt. Denville, Adjutant; Major Herring, Paymaster; Lieut.-Col. Griffin and Capt. Carter, Sergeants; Major Lester, Quartermaster; Major Forneret, Chaplain; Staff-Sergeants L. Buglers 45, Band 44, Bearers 8, H. C. 1, Cadets 4, A 31, B 43, C 33, D 48, E 42, F 58, G 31, H 54, total 484.

91st Regiment—Lieut.-Col. Bruce, Lieut.-Col. Moodie, Majors Roberts and McLaren, Capt. Bell, Adjutant; Captain Chisholm, Paymaster; Captain Dickson and Lieut. McDowd, Sergeants; Capt. Somerville, Quartermaster; Capt. Drummond, Chaplain; Staff-Sergeants 10, Buglers 31, Pipers 23, Band 49, Bearers 14, Signallers 11, A 40, B 32, C 37 D 40, E 32, F 42, G 35, H 40, total 446.

8th Army Service Corps—Lieut.-Col. (Colonel) Reanney, commanding the 12th Field Ambulance Corps, and Capt. Lawson, commanding the Army Service Corps; Major Tidwell, commanding the 4th Field Battery.

It was the first dress parade of the season, and for that reason there was unusual interest attached to the event. The artillery in their natty dark uniforms; the Highlanders, in their big bushies, red jackets and kilts; the Army Service Corps, in their neat blue and white dress; and last, but not least, the 12th Field Ambulance Corps, all had their host of admirers along the line. On every side were heard flattering encomiums for all the soldiers.

The brigade certainly presented a splendid appearance, as company after company swung along, heads erect, uniforms spotlessly clean and the sun glistening on their polished buttons and accoutrements. As the pipers struck up an air the "Kilties" lengthened step and strode proudly along. When the bagpipers ceased the buglers and bands played in succession and all along the line there was music. It was a scene to stir up enthusiasm and only the fact that it was Sunday prevented the crowds from indulging in cheering.

IN ALL SAINTS'

All Saints' was filled to its utmost capacity, and it was a splendid service. The singing of the men was inspiring, and the sermon of Rev. Archdeacon Forneret on calculated to leave an indelible impression on the minds of those present. Selecting as his text Timothy II, 3, "A good soldier," Archdeacon Forneret spoke for the course of fifteen minutes, in which he referred to the qualities necessary for the making of a good soldier. He welcomed the units to All Saints', and especially the 91st Regiment, as there had been an invitation of long standing to the regiment, but unfortunately the way had not been for every loyal man to rise up in the defence of his country. "The question has often been asked," said the archdeacon, "is it lawful for a Christian to be a soldier? To that I give a very emphatic 'yes.'"

The speaker went on to say that some Christians hold that war and the bearing of arms were wrong, and that was nothing short of legalized murder. That was an absolutely unrighteous view to take of the matter. That might be true where the strong oppress the weak, but there were some wars that were righteous in their cause. It has been said that self-preservation is the first law of nature, and it was true. Every man has the right to protect himself. To refuse to fight would mean the oppression of the country, and no protection given to the weak and helpless. Jesus Christ's rebuke to Peter who had cut off the ear of one of the high priest's servants was intended more to stop the use of arms in a carnal way. The general trend of the scriptures was not against the soldier or wars. When Christ was brought before the Roman soldiers He never rebuked them for being in that capacity. John the Baptist told the Roman soldiers that they must do violence to the innocent person, to accuse no one of speaking falsely, and to be satisfied with their wages.

The soldiers of Jesus Christ should let their life and influence shine on all about them. The speaker read from the articles of the Anglican Church showing that that church considered it lawful for a man to arm himself and go to war, if his country should demand it. War was regrettable, but one must take the world as it is to be found. One was too apt to idealize the world, when there was no reason for it.

There are people who object to military training of the school boy being trained to assist in the defence of his country if the time should ever come. Every young, healthy boy should learn his drill. The speaker said he was impressed with the Swiss system of military training, where every man had to put in a short time at compulsory drill. Archdeacon Forneret did not believe in the standing army, but considered that Canadians should always be prepared to defend the country they love.

Jesus Christ had said, "Without me, ye can do nothing," and that was true in many senses. To fight against temptation it must be done with the aid of Jesus, of the fight will not be a success.

Archdeacon Forneret's parting words

PENURIOUS AND LAZY.

PLANS FUNERAL.

Wealthy Parisian Will Have a Most Gorgeous One.

Paris, May 9.—Paul Chaudard, the wealthy Paris merchant, who is lying dangerously ill at his home, has signed a will in which he makes provision for the most magnificent spectacle in the way of a funeral that Paris has ever seen.

M. Chaudard long ago began a mausoleum, in which he intends to sleep his last sleep. This sumptuous monument is completed except for a bust of the expected inhabitant, which is not yet in place. The coffin is made of a work of art of amaranthine colored wood wrought by artistic hands in cunning designs.

It only remains to put these gorgeous but gloomy receptacles to their use in the ceremony for which M. Chaudard has set apart 200,000 francs ready to come to the aid of the day, during which the shop will be closed, the body will be placed in a magnificent car, preceded by 4,000 employees in habits of mourning and a guard of horsemen and borne to the Madeleine. The mourning coaches provided for the invited guests are all in the style of Louis XV, with clean-shaven coachmen and footmen in gala costume impressively trimmed in gold lace in a specially lavish design, and in knee breeches, wigs, and cocked hats.

Much attention has been given to the costumes of the participants, and will present a more complete mourning effect. The clergy of two parishes will join in giving adequate solemnity to the service, for which also an orchestra of eminent soloists of the opera has been retained. From the Madeleine the cortege will proceed to Pere la Chaise, the portals of which will be draped in black.

10 Years Rheumatism In Left Knee.

Treatment at Hot Springs and Years of Experimentation with Noted Physicians Failed. "NERVILINE" Cured Quickly.

Nearly every 5th person is troubled more or less with rheumatism, and few actually escape its manifold tortures. Some it deforms, others it disables, many it completely destroys.

"I was born with a strong and predisposing tendency to rheumatism, my first attack being when I was 10 years of age," writes J. H. Hunter, from Saratoga. "The aches, the pains, the throbbing muscles—I endured them all—but it was in my left knee that the disease had the worst hold. Pains of the most agonizing kind shot through my knee as if hot irons were piercing my flesh. Nothing did me any good till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it over the sore place four to six times each day and found warm flannel cloths. Every night I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water. My cure was completed after several months and I have never since had a single twinge. I strongly urge every sufferer from any rheumatic disease, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Toothache, or Earache to test Nerviline. I know its power over pain is simply magical."

There is not an ingredient in Nerviline that isn't good for pain. Young old can use it internally or externally. Safe, sure and 50 years in use. Beware of the dealer who offers you a substitute on which his profit is larger than on Nerviline. Large bottles 25c at all dealers.

LAMP EXPLODED.

Mrs. George Farrel Burned to Death Near Picton.

Picton, Ont., May 8.—A shocking accident occurred at an early hour this morning at the home of George Farrel, a prominent farmer resident in Sophiasburg, about ten miles from town, when his wife was burned to death. It seems that the unfortunate woman was asleep when a lamp by her bedside exploded, and soon the bed was a sheet of flames. The woman was rescued from her awful plight by her son, who was alone in the house with her, and who rushed to his mother's bedside at her shrieks for help. Very soon afterwards, however, she passed away, her body having been terribly burned.

LOOKS BAD.

Coat, Cap and Verse Describing Plunge Found on a Dock.

Port Huron, Mich., May 8.—"A plunge and a splash, The task is o'er. The waves will roll As they rolled before, The quick jump and all is done—"

This peculiar missive, found in a coat owned by Isaac R. Ellis, 67 years old, of 1,617 Riverstreet, leads the members of his family and the police to believe that he was drowned in St. Clair River, opposite the upper Grand Trunk bridges, shortly after 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The coat, which contained nothing but the above note, was lying on the dock. On it was the man's cap.

FLEET FOR NOTHING

Britain Retains Option on New Spanish Navy.

Madrid, May 9.—The decision of the Spanish Government to rebuild the Spanish navy at a cost of $40,000,000 was taken primarily with a view to restoring Spain's dignity upon the sea, but also for the purpose of encouraging a revival of the Spanish shipbuilding industry.

The decision has a particular importance for Britain, as the contract probably will go to Vickers, the English firm, and Great Britain retains an option upon the ships until they are completed, notwithstanding the fact that they are to be built in Spanish yards by Spanish workmen. In other words, during the pending naval rivalry between Great Britain and Germany, the former, without expense, has a fleet of new ships under way which can be taken over should war clouds suddenly darken the horizon.

It is, however, understood here that Great Britain is pressing Portugal to execute an agreement entered into by the late King Carlos, whereby four large new berthing docks capable of taking 24,000-ton ships are to be constructed on the Tagus opposite the site of the present arsenal. These docks are to be available for British ships in certain contingencies.

YEAR'S REVENUE.

Mr. Fielding's Estimate Has Been Exceeded.

Ottawa, May 9.—Hon. Mr. Fielding's estimate in his budget speech that the revenue of the Dominion for the fiscal year closing March 31st last would be found, when all returns were in, to be about eighty-four and one-half millions, has been exceeded by over half a million. The accounts for the year will not be finally closed for a month or so yet, but up to the end of April the books of the Finance Department show a total revenue of $85,955,427. There will be a few additional returns of revenue still to be entered up, but these will be comparatively small. The total expenditure on consolidated fund account will not be definitely known until June, but if it keeps within Mr. Fielding's estimate the surplus for the year will be over two millions instead of a million and a half as estimated in the budget speech.

DYING MAN'S DIARY.

Record of How Louis Fleitas Starved to Death.

Silverton, Col., May 9.—A diary found yesterday beside the body of Louis Fleitas, in his cabin, fourteen miles east of here, told the story of his slowly starving to death, and revealed that he had lived for at least three weeks under a snowslide, through which he was unable to dig. Here is the way the diary reads:

"December 13—Taken suddenly ill; in great pain.

"December 15—Am getting worse.

"December 16—Snowslide covered cabin to-day.

"December 25—Christmas day; too weak to dig out of slide; can't get to town.

"January 1—I believe I am dying.

"January 2—Too weak to get up.

"January 3—1 can't—

"January 4—1 can't—

"January 5—Unintelligible scratches."

Absolutely no food was found in the cabin, where his body lay on a rude bed.

MORRIS WINS A SEAT.

Carbonaro Turns Over in Newfoundland Elections.

St. John's, Nfld., May 9.—Only two constituencies have so far returned the results of the polling in yesterday's general Parliamentary election in Newfoundland. One of these, Carbonaro, elected Goddison, supporter of Sir Edward Morris, the Premier, by 44 votes to the seat which he lost by 23 votes at the last election in November. In Brigus, Warren, a Morrisite, retains his seat by a majority reduced from 17 to 24.

In view of the overturn to Carbonaro, the Morrisites to-night are hopeful that the general result will favor them.

The body of Mrs. Margaret Gibson was found in her home at Toronto. She had evidently been dead several days.

H. G. C. SHOOTERS LOST

Balm Beach Won by 2 Points.
Hamilton Boys Had a Pleasant Time.

One of the most pleasant outings the members of the Hamilton Gun Club ever had was the verdict of the shooters who were lucky enough to take in the trip to Toronto on Saturday. It was the occasion of the annual trip to the Balm Beach Gun Club. This trip is looked forward to, as the Balm Beachers are royal entertainers. The Hamilton boys fell off the train into the arms of the whole club and remained there for the rest of the afternoon and evening. The weather was ideal for shooting and the match one of the most exciting of the year held in past years by the two clubs, the Balm Beachers winning out by 2 birds. After the 25-bird match and the usual sweeps had been shot, the Hamiltons were entertained at a banquet at the Ontario Jockey Club room house, which adjoins the Balm Beach grounds. After the usual speechmaking and compliments and other things had been exchanged and the talent of both clubs displayed in a series of songs and entertaining, the Beachers conveyed the visitors to the theatre in a special car, where a large block of seats had been engaged. The boys returned to Hamilton on their special car at 11.10.

Any sport is surely elevated by the presence of such men as the Balm Beach Club is composed of, as they are in the trap shooting game for the pure love of the sport and the monetary end of it is never considered by them. They are never seen in money events or competitions in which other Canadian clubs participate, although they are splendid shots, and are probably to be commended rather than censured for the attitude they take in this respect. They are the kind of men who do the most to advertise a city because they are the kind one likes to be among.

The match was at 25 targets per man, and resulted as follows:
Hamilton—Balm Beach—
Court Thompson 24 Lynde 23

Court Thompson gave a fine exhibition of how to shoot through a pump gun breaking 94 out of 100, which was not too bad in face of a trick wind. Geo. Bontie, of the H. G. C., was second high scorer at Ridgeway on Friday with 177 out of 200.

From the Scrap Heap

Hugo Kelly and Billy Papke are commencing to fill the public eye once more. The match between the boys, set for next Saturday, May 15, is attracting a lot of notice out on the coast and bids fair to draw a large crowd. Both are said to be gradually working down to weight.

New Orleans, La., May 10.—Young Fitzgerald, of Milwaukee, won the decision over Bert Garie, of New Orleans, in a ten-round bout here on Saturday night at the Royal A. C.

In the third round of the semi-final Sailor Jimmy Fallon, of the United States battleship Mississippi, knocked out Kid Lewis of Cleveland.

Chicago, May 9.—Battling Nelson will fight Paddy McFarland on July 5, or a hit with the champion that he will not meet anyone before. The Colma Club on that date. This is the desire of James W. Coffroth, Nelson wired from Denver that he had Coffroth's permission to take on Thompson in place of McFarland for the rich July holiday date and meet McFarland on Sept. 9. The scheme evidently made so much sense to Coffroth that he immediately interviewed himself in place of Coffroth and announced that a go between himself and Thompson was on.

Coffroth evidently has not concurred with Nelson in the matter at all, for an enquiry as to his plans for settling the lightweight championship brought the following reply by wire:

I have no agreement with Nelson for Thompson fight. He signed for July 5 with McFarland, and I look to him to live up to his contract. He has wired me to substitute Thompson July 5, and he would take on McFarland Sept. 9. I replied that my arrangements had been made for the McFarland match, and that I could not change them. If he doesn't keep his contract I will ask Ketchell to box the winner of the Papke-Kelly go, or O'Brien or Langford on that day.

(Signed) J. W. Coffroth.
Nelson now is on his way to San Francisco to finish his training for Dick Hyland, whom he meets on May 29.

Philadelphia, May 10.—Paddy Lavin, of Buffalo, conceding twelve pounds in weight, defeated "Big" Russell, of this city, in a six-round bout on Saturday night at the National Athletic Club. The Buffalo man was too clever for the Philadelphia and outgeneraled him in every round. In the semi-wind up Jim Smith, of Brooklyn, beat Harry Mansfield, of England.

Paris, May 10.—Sandy Ferguson, of Boston, made his first appearance in Paris on Saturday night at the Cirque de Paris, where he met Herbert Hall, ex-champion of the London police, in a fight which lasted less than two minutes. The men had hardly put their hands up when Hall fell to the floor from a push, not a blow. His head struck the boards with great force, knocking the policeman unconscious, and he was counted out.

Honey Mellody, of Boston, also made his first appearance in what was to have been a 20-round bout with Willie Lewis of New York. Mellody went at his opponent viciously, but Lewis met him with straight lefts, punishing him badly. In the fourth round the New Yorker completely knocked out his opponent, and there finally remained, unable to respond to the call. The winner of this bout received $4,000, and the loser $1,000.

Toronto, May 10.—To-morrow night at the Mutual Street Rink Artie Edmond, the clever local featherweight, will meet Melly of Boston, and Jack Knight, of Bristol, England, for the Canadian championship title, and with the title will go the splendid silver belt given by the management, and a side bet of $200. Knight holds the English championship, which he secured from Joe Porter, and he is claimed to have never been thrown during his professional career, and as soon as he arrived here promptly took and put his money to show he meant business.

SOCCER GAMES.

Large Crowd Saw Kilties Beat Lancashires.

Three games in the Hamilton District Association Football League were played on Saturday afternoon. The Ninety-First team won from the Lancashires, 1-0; the Westinghouse won from St. Luke's, 6-0, and the Hamiltons and International Scots played a tie game.

At Cotter's Field—Fully 300 spectators witnessed this match. J. Newton started the game against a slight wind. The Scots made a breakthrough, but the city defence proved equal to the attack. The city early on showed splendid combination and E. Fennell narrowly missed scoring. Give and take play ensued, neither side being able to claim the advantage and half time arrived with the score sheet blank.

After the interval both teams played with great determination and some splendid football was shown by both sides. First one team and then the other being on the attack. Salmon, Newton and D. Robertson were combined with a combined effort, which resulted in the last named scoring the first goal of the match, amidst tremendous cheers. The game continued to be even when only three minutes were left to play. Beaumont equalized with a well directed shot from a corner kick, which was well placed. Nothing further was scored and a keenly contested game resulted in a draw.

Final score: Hamilton City 1; International Scots 1.

At Sherman Avenue grounds—A large crowd saw the Kilties' team defeat the Lancashires by a score of 1 to 0. The Ninety-First won the toss and set the Lanc's facing the sun. Rodgers set the ball rolling, but Lawrence got his forwards going, who were the first to attack, but Smith relieved with a ponderous kick, which placed the Kilties on the defence. Lloyd clearing finely. But clever work on the part of Coombs set Archer going, but he was not to be troubled as he was going to centre. Smith pretty work on the left saw Eccles centre right across the field. Archer returned it right into goal and Rodgers whistled well up promptly scored, but the whistle had gone for Hamilton fed Ralston, who allowed himself to be robbed by Brown. A splendid triangular movement on the Lancashires' left evoked the enthusiasm of the crowd. Eccles, Fennell and Wilkins participating, but Burt kicked into touch for safety. Eccles, however, was not to be denied tricking Hamilton. Then Burt centred right across the Kilties' goal, Rodgers and Archer missing easy chances. The soldiers now had a spell of attack. Wright only just stopped Armstrong, who was running right through. Hunter, who was stopped by Wright had a glorious chance after being well fed by Lawrence, but he failed miserably, Smith tackling him. Eccles then got possession and kicked to Fennell, who was in a difficult position; the whistle then sounded for the interval.

Immediately on resuming, the soldiers attacked, but First Wright, then Smith relieved Archer and Harris coming well, beating Stevens, and Lloyd sent the sphere to the other end, Lawrence feeding Armstrong, who took the ball down the field. The whistle sounded, but Armstrong centring right across the Lanc's goal, Hunter headed it through Dowell and Smith never attempted to stop it.

The referee and goal judge met in consultation and they awarded a goal. It transpired that Armstrong had run the ball into touch, hence the Lanc's hesitation. The Lancashires attacked, but Reeve cleared. Eccles was constant source of trouble to Hamilton, and Burt, Ralston falling back to help them, but Eccles, who was the delight of the crowd, through his clever play, was not to be denied, he won two corners successively, but he was not to be caught. Eccles again got going but shot behind. The Lancashires attacked desperately, but the Kilties' defence held out. Final result: Ninety First, 1; Lancashires, 0.

The teams lined up as follows:
Ninety First (1)—Reeves, goal; Burt and Lloyd, backs; Hamilton, Lawrence and Stevens, H. backs; Hunter, Ralston, Weir, Another and Armstrong, forwards.

Lancashires (0)—Dowell, goal; Wright and Smith, backs; Coombs, Brown and Wilkins, halfbacks; Archer, Harris, Rodgers, Fennell and Eccles, forwards.

PREPARING FOR THE PLATE.

Scud Has Been Declared Out of the Race For the Guineas.

Toronto, May 10.—The following horses have been declared out of the King's Plate: Hon. A. Beck's Moorshot, A. H. Brenner's Gold Bolt, Galdon Stable Pertinax, John Dymont's Courton II, H. T. Pierson's Merry and Wise, J. E. Seagram's Great Head, W. Thompson's Lady O'Connor, Valley Farm's Scud, Woodstock Stable's Table Bay.

At the Woodbine on Saturday Hon. Adam Beck's Plater, Generous Moor, and Jack Parker, the three-year-old brother to Charles Edward, went a mile nicely in 48.

Supper Dances had a good mile and a half in 2:52.

Better Half did six furlongs in 1:20.41, and will be sent a mile or farther this morning.

Trainer Ed. Whyte had more than a little uneasiness on Saturday over the condition of the champion, Courtenne, that looked like a cracked heel of the foreleg began to fill and the horse limped decidedly, but under treatment the swelling came down, the sore heel disappeared and he galloped yesterday without any sign of trouble. Whatever the ailment, it went away as rapidly as it had appeared. Waterbridge did six furlongs in 1:19.2.5, and the General Armstrong led Bursar a half in 53 seconds. Bursar is the Basselevan, a two-year-old, and is intended for next year's Plate.

The Platers Courrier and Tollend were accompanied by last year's winner, Seismic. Their task was a mile in 1:42.5. Dog of War went alone six furlongs in 1:19 and a mile a second slower than the lot which preceded him. He is a high-headed willing runner, and his early speed should out come figure in the running of the Plate. Lady Milner and Cruche 'O'R did their mile in 1:49.2.5, and the work was topped off by the rattling mile of Throckmorton's already noted.

Fort Gerry also gave an encouraging display when sent along a mile and a furlong with Cannie Maid. The rating was a trifle irregular, but the whole re-

STOCKS AND BONDS

COBALT STOCKS
Montreal Failures.
Montreal, May 9.—Two rather heavy failures in Canada recorded here on Saturday, the first for $85,000, and the second for $35,000. Israel Crossman, in business here for some years as the Canadian Shirt & Overall Mfg. Company, and as modern business in clothing Company, went under with liabilities of $85,515. His assets will be about $10,000.

The other failure was for $35,000, Messrs. Shaer & Eliassoph being the principals. They have assets of $7,000. Mr. Eliassoph was arrested, charged with attempting to defraud his creditors. He was liberated on $1,000 bail.

CLEWS' REPORT.

New York, May 8.—During the last few weeks the stock market has undergone a considerable advance. Some of its stocks are too high in view of their small returns to investors, while others are relatively low, having been neglected by both investment and speculative buyers. As a result we are likely to see more or less of the evening-up process in which medium grade investments, especially the better class of preferred industrials, may receive increased attention.

The industrial and commercial outlook continues satisfactory. In the Steel trade activity has been especially noticeable. April proving a banner month for the receipt of orders. Still another evidence of business improvement is the diminishing number of failures; the total of which in April were only 990, compared with 1,300 in the same month of 1908, the volume of liabilities for the same periods being $16,000,000 and $20,000,000, respectively. Our crop outlook, though rather anxiously satisfactory, is distinctly more assuring than a month ago.

The money market continues to show exceptional ease, loanable funds still being superabundant. Taking the favorable conditions into consideration, the outlook is for an active market.—Henry Clews.

New York, May 10.—Cotton futures opened steady; May $10.58, July $10.39, August $10.31 bid, September $10.28, October $10.26, December $10.23, January $10.19.

HORSE IN CELLAR.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)
London, Ont., May 10.—A fish dealer named Johnson took pity on a horse out in the storm on Saturday evening, and brought him into his kitchen. During the night the horse went through the floor into the cellar, and Johnson and his neighbors are still arguing how to get it out, as it is too big to come up by the stairway. A part of the house may have to be removed. The horse is uninjured by the fall, and is being fed in the cellar.

NINE DROWNED.

Every Member of a Rowing Party on the Susquehanna is Lost.

Wife of One Victim Restrained From Throwing Herself Into Water.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 9.—A small boat containing a party of nine was upset in the Susquehanna River at Port Griffith near here this afternoon. All the occupants of the boat were drowned. The victims were: W. A. Andrews, Port Griffith, 27 years old. Theodore Andrews, Providence, Pa., 36 years old. Thomas Andrews, Providence, 20. Frank Marianosky, Providence (married). Adam Strukus, Providence, 24. Frank Ganofski, Providence, 36. Mrs. Frank Ganofski, Providence, 32. John Ganofski, Providence, 12. Michael Ganofski, Providence, 7. Late tonight none of the bodies had been recovered. A squad of the state troops has been sent across the river from Wyoming by Captain Robinson, and they will take charge of the work of searching for the bodies. The boat was so heavily loaded that it sat low in the stern. One of the men in the stern moved forward to help Andrews with the oars. The movement caused the boat to rock and it shipped some water. Some of the occupants stood up to avoid getting wet. At that moment the boat capsized and the occupants were all thrown into the water. Whether any of the unfortunate could swim is not known. All nine were quickly swept away by the current. Some of them grasped each other and went down quickly. A couple clung to the boat for a few seconds, but others who hung on to them dragged them off and in less than three minutes floating bottom up and some distance down the river. As quickly as possible onlookers manned other boats and search for the bodies began. Andrews lived only a short distance from the river bank, and his wife and three children, who quickly heard of the accident, rushed to the shore. Mrs. Andrews, in an agony of grief, tried to jump into the water, and was only restrained by force.

TALKS LIBEL.

Umpire Burke Resents a Newspaper Paragraph.

Larry Burke, mixerologist at the Schmidt House, and for years a well-known umpire, is a very angry man. He has been mad since Saturday afternoon, when the Spectator published the following item on his sporting page: "Umpire wants a place in a good town or a league, where he will have a chance to show his ability. Can he be partial or impartial as required? Fearless in a tight place and willing to fight in a pinch. Police protection no object. Nationality, Irish. Address, Mike Burke, care of Schmidt House, Hamilton." Mr. Burke is considering the question of taking legal proceedings for defamatory libel. The only reason he can make, he says, for the attack on him is, in the Bradford-Hamilton League, which is being promoted by a number of the sporting fraternity. He says he was never accused of being partial, and he resents that part of the article, as well as the reference to the Irish. He is proud of his nationality, like every good Irishman.

MURDERS NEGRO.

Shoots and Knives Him in Presence of Woman He Attacked.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 9.—An unknown negro was shot to death by a mob in the suburbs of this city this morning, in the presence of Mrs. Andrew Deas, whom he assaulted last night. A posse, with dogs, chased the man all night, and caught him about 4 o'clock this morning. He was hurried back to the Deas home, where Mrs. Deas said: "He's the negro." The mob immediately poured a volley of shots into the man's body, and then hacked the corpse with knives almost severing the head. The body was left in front of the Deas home, and the mob scattered before the sheriff could arrive. Mrs. Deas' condition is serious.

SUIT OVER DOORS.

The suit brought in the Division Court some time ago by William Magill and Gill Blazas against Joel Jerome, David Hobbs and Mills & Company, was heard before Judge Snider this morning. The case arose out of the tearing down of some of the old houses at the corner of John and Hunter streets, where Mills & Company started to build. Jerome and Hobbs took away some of the doors that Jerome had made, Hobbs being the carter who took them away. Magill and Blazas objected to this, and sued the two men in the Division Court. The defendants asked that Mills & Company be added as a third defendant. This was done, and the case enlarged till today. His Honor after hearing the evidence decided that the defendants would have to pay the plaintiffs just $10 and costs. Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. J. R. Marshall for the defendants.

FOREIGNERS IN A MIX-UP AT COURT.

(Continued from Page 1.) To the charge of assault he said he was innocent, and declined to elect. The complainant, Richard Roach, said that on Saturday afternoon he was standing at the corner of MacNab and Market streets talking to a colored man named Ford when Mephram and his brother came out of a nearby saloon and began to walk in their direction. At the same time a heavy man by the name of Sam Thornton passed them and when he got opposite the brothers one of them made an insulting remark. Thornton paid no attention to this and continued walking up MacNab street. The brothers then spotted Ford and going up to him said they made an offense to him when they made remarks about Thornton. Roach claimed that not another word passed when suddenly Mephram struck him three times. He was dazed and did not clearly recollect what occurred after that. "Why did he hit you?" inquired the Magistrate. "I don't know, I suppose he was drunk and did not know what he was doing," replied Roach. The evidence of William Ford was substantially the same as that of Roach. P. C. Hay, who arrested the prisoner, did not see the assault. He passed the corner when the four men were standing there together and when he returned about two minutes later Roach's face was covered with blood. John Magistrate said the case was committed for trial. Tony Magushia, a Brantford Italian, came to Hamilton to have a time with some friends. After accomplishing the desired end Tony's next endeavor was to get back home, but unfortunately his feet started to tick on him. He was assisted to the Police station by P. C. Burlinghoff. "Drunk on Sunday?" queried the Bench. Tony replied that it was a fact, and was assessed $3 over the usual tariff. Albert Crowley was fined $10 or 21 days in jail for being drunk and acting in a disorderly manner on Saturday. P. C. Lowrey, who made the arrest, said that the prisoner had refused to move on after being requested to do so on two or three occasions and became nasty when force was used. John McAndrews and Peter Powlis were fined $2 for being drunk. Hector Shuttle, a young lad employed by the Bell Telephone Company to carry water, charged Peter Sheridan with assaulting him. Sheridan did not appear and the case was left over.

FUN FOR CONMEE.

Had Some Amusement Over a Railway Bill.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Maclean on the Divorce Question.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, May 10.—The Commons had a new arrival this morning in the person of Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, M. P., who is just back from the Orient, and took his seat in the House for the first time.

To Col. Sam Hughes Sir Wilfrid stated that the Parliament had not considered the establishment of a school of technology in Ottawa or elsewhere.

When in committee, a private bill respecting the Thessalon & Northern Ontario Railway, Mr. Conmee took advantage of an opportunity to have a little fun with the Opposition in retaliation for the manner in which his bill had been held up on the plea that it was an invasion of Provincial rights. The bill in question, which was in charge of a Conservative member, Mr. Smythe, of Algoma, seeks federal incorporation for a company which has already been chartered by the Provincial Legislature.

Mr. Conmee declared, amid laughter, that as Parliament had no instruction from the Ontario Government, either by order-in-Council or otherwise, he did not see how they could proceed with the bill.

Mr. Smythe explained that it was proposed to connect the railway with the C. P. R. and hence the Federal incorporation was sought.

Hon. Mr. Graham admitted that the bill did not invade provincial rights, but he was in favor of a policy of having all steam railways brought under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission, and giving them Federal charters.

Mr. Borden suggested that a conference should be held with the provincial Government and a definite position on the question settled once for all.

In connection with several divorce bills up for a third reading, Mr. Borden said he desired to concur in the Private Bills Committee against any tendency to make divorce easier in Canada.

W. F. Maclean advocated a divorce court for Canada.

Mr. Monk did not think the evil of divorce had become great enough in Canada to require the creation of a special court to deal with divorce applications.

Mr. Carvell concurred in the proposal for the establishment of a divorce court. He said divorces had been granted in the Senate on hearsay evidence, and would simply have been laughed at by a judicial tribunal.

Mr. Lancaster was opposed to anything that would make divorce easier. He should be made clear to young people that when they were married they should stay married, and forgive each other's faults.

ARE THEY IN MONTREAL?

Report That Mrs. and Miss Kinrade Have Gone There.

Pending the decision of the Provincial Cabinet as to what steps should next be taken in connection with the investigation into the murder of Ethel Kinrade, much interest is being taken, both in Hamilton and other places, as to the movements of the members of the Kinrade family. It was announced in one of the Toronto papers this morning that the family had returned to the house on Homewood avenue, Toronto, to which they went after the Abbey apartments were sold. Mr. Thomas Hobson, the family lawyer, stated that he had received no word of their going away, except what was in the morning paper, and Mr. S. F. Washington, K. C., stated that, as the Kinrades are free to come and go as they please, he had no information on the subject. Mr. Kinrade, sen., and his younger daughter, Gertrude, returned to the city this morning. It was reported to-day that Mrs. and Miss Kinrade had gone to Montreal. Members of the family in the city declined to speak on the subject.

PLUCKY RESCUE.

Banker Saves Boy and Girl From Drowning.

The Lad Had Clung to Girl and Called For Help.

Morrisburg, Ont., May 10.—While Eleanor Moorhouse, aged 10 years, daughter of Mrs. Moorhouse, was attempting Saturday evening to get into a punt in charge of Harold Murphy, 15 years old, son of E. L. Murphy, editor of the Leader, in order to cross to her home on the other side of the canal, she slipped into the water, pulling young Murphy in with her. The lad at once seized the girl, and managing to grasp a projecting stone in the canal wall, called for help. Mr. Fred H. Broder, of the Molsons Bank, who was on the opposite side, 200 feet away, heard the cries, and without stopping to remove his coat leaped into the water and swam across the canal. He was nearly exhausted when he reached the drifting punt, but succeeded in clambering in, when he rescued the two children from their dangerous position.

A BRAVE GIRL.

Fifteen-Year-Old Mamie Price is Made of Rare Stuff.

Had to Cut Her Father's Mangled Arm Off With Ax to Free Him.

Bowden, Ga., May 9.—Mamie Price, who is fifteen years old, went after her family with an axe last Friday night and cut her father's arm off.

For that the citizens of this place will ask the Carnegie commission to give the girl a hero medal, for the case is not what the foregoing bald statement of facts makes it appear.

One of those troubles that swept out to sea from the interior last week rushed over the little house where Mamie lives, a few miles from here, and the house went down with a crash. Every member of the family except Mamie was pinned under the wreckage.

The girl crawled out of the debris found an axe and a lantern—for it was pitch dark—and guided by the cries of the victims, began to hew away the timbers that held them. Her mother died as the girl cut away the last timber above her, but Mamie rescued her baby brother and a younger sister practically unharmed.

Her father had been pinned down by a timber so heavy that it meant hours of work for the little girl to cut it in two. The man's arm was crushed and he realized that it was lost, being held only by shreds of flesh and skin. He told the girl to cut it off with the axe.

The child objected, but the father insisted, so she brought down the axe and her father was free.

Under his direction, she made a tourniquet, stopping the bleeding from the stump, and then went through the darkness for assistance. Her father will recover.

A handsome memorial will be given the girl by the citizens of Bowden, and her name will be presented to the Carnegie hero commission.
