GEORGE MURDOCH.

The Weekly Monitor.

BRIDGETOWN, NOVEMBER 7, 1877.

GALE.—On Friday afternoon the most severe gale of wind which we have yet experienced this fall, commenced blowing from the southwest and steadily increased during the night, and about two o'clock on Saturday morning it howled around us as only a November blast can howl—everything movable was whirled away by the storm. Several trees were uprooted and the vessels lying at the wharves broke from their moorings and sustained some damage. The gale continued up to Sunday afternoon. From our exchanges we learn that considerable damage has been done in the eastern part of the Province, both on sea and land, and we fear that the worst has not yet been chronicled. Owing to the storm the steamer "Empress" did not cross the bay on Saturday.

The many friends of Miss Bessie Brown of Paradise, will be pleased to learn that at the recent Provincial Exhibition at Kentville, she was awarded first prize for her charming little painting in water colours—"A group of Pansies—from Nature." We congratulate Miss Brown upon her well merited success, and most apologetically for omitting this notice in a previous issue.

Owing to the space taken up in our columns in this issue by the proceedings of the General Sessions of the Peace held at Annapolis last week we are compelled to hold over a quantity of matter which should appear. We will attend to the same in our next.

ATWOOD.—The schooner "Atwood" of Corbitt's Packet line arrived in Annapolis on Sunday evening. Parties wishing to ship by her should forward freight immediately.

Miscellaneous.

A HORRIBLE SUICIDE.

From the St. Louis Republican, Oct. 24.

There lies at the Morgue a corpse the appearance of which is just a little more shocking than that presented by any which has been exhibited there in many months. Its trunk is intact and bears no outward abrasion. Its head is where the horror comes in. The top part of it has been crushed entirely off at a line just above the upper lip. On the right arm, hand and chin, as they remain, is calculated to cause one's flesh to creep. The body is comfortably dressed in brown jeans pantaloons, red checked flannel shirt, blue and black striped coat and vest and brown boots. The left arm is tucked all over, and bears a figure of a ship, a United States flag and a bracelet. On the back of the hand a star is tattooed. On the right arm is tattooed a gunboat and the faces of two women. Over one of the faces are the initials "E. H." Near the elbow the letters "J. M. H." are printed. On the back of the hand is an anchor.

Not only knows who the man is, as there was nothing in his pockets to indicate his name. All that is known about him is the manner of his death. About half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon the man was seen walking among the railroad cars of the North Missouri road in the vicinity of Wright street, and now that it is dead some of those who at first saw him remember that he seemed very much preoccupied in mind. Switch engine No. 21, Engineer Ludlow, engineer, was running at moderate rate of speed on one of the tracks between Wright and Palm streets, and the man stood by the side of the track and watched its approach. He was bent on self-slaughter, and no one suspected it. It would hardly be a sure thing to throw himself in front of the pilot as he might only be crippled and shoved off to the water's edge, and he plunged headlong forward. His head alighted on the track just in front of the ponderous driving wheels, there was a horrible crunching of skulls, bones, and blood and brains splattered across under the engine to the other track, the arms and legs worked convulsively a second, and all was over. The engine ran a few yards before the shocked engineer succeeded in bringing it to a standstill, and then its works were beamed in a disgusting manner. The body was picked up and sent to the Fourth district police station and thence to the Morgue.

A HUMBLER EMPIRE.

An edifying instance of the straits to which an empire, ambitious beyond its means, may be reduced by disaster, is afforded by the spectacle now to be witnessed at St. Petersburg of gangs of women sweeping the streets. Such a sight as this does not altogether harmonize with the impression formerly prevalent with respect to the resources of Russia and bears out the opinion we expressed at the outbreak of the war, that the empire, in spite of its apparent abundance of population, was not able to exert so much physical force as was currently supposed. A good deal of Russia's ability to maintain a large army arose from the practice of Government of letting out soldiers on hire, and thus, although on paper the peace force at the disposal of the Emperor was of imposing proportions, it did not really exceed in number under actual training the troops which we possess in India and at home. A capitalist in want of navvies, a farmer anxious to get in his crops, or a municipality in search of street-menders has only to go to the market place of a garrison town, where a bargain could be struck with the non-commissioned officers for as many soldiers as were required. It was therefore the withdrawal of the standing army quite as much as the mobilization of the reserve which caused such a strain upon the manual resources of the country, a strain so great that artisans, taking advantage of the opportunity, adopted the civilized system of strikes, and have thereby in many places succeeded in wringing from their unwilling masters an addition to their wages of not less than 100 per cent. This enhancement of the price of labor, coupled with the eager demand for it, has begun to inspire the sorely oppressed Russian workman with notions of self-respect, and he is already accused of exhibiting signs of importance which seem to forebode evil days to the autocratic system of government of the Czar.—Fall Mail Gazette.

Queer prize fight at Wolverhampton, Eng., makes £50 a side, contestants, a member of the county police force and the Town Crier. The Town Crier won, by a four round knockout.

PALESTINE AND SYRIA.

Now that the Turkish troops and protection—such as it was—is withdrawn from Syria, the fierce roving Bedouins are taking their turn, and rendering Palestine anything but a safe and pleasant country to live in. A British exchange gives the following extract from a recent private letter of a resident of Syria:

The Bedouins are out foraging. Two months ago they pounced down on Tiberias and got £200 out of the people. The Fasha of Acre went out with every man he could muster, but it ended in a parley, he feeling himself no match for them. They numbered at least 2000 horsemen. Since then the Arabs in the town have been crowding a disposition to be troublesome, and three murders have been committed among themselves. (A scene is then described, in which a European was assaulted and could obtain no redress.) The people of Nazareth are in a panic, as the Bedouins are at a place called Ikkral, and are simply eating the country up. Ikkral is about ten hours ride from here, just at the other side of Nazareth.

A detachment of artillery, while recently practising among the Shropshire hills, miscalculated the range and threw thirteen cannon balls into the village of Minton, two miles away. One building was knocked to pieces, and the women and children fled screaming from the village.

A family near Noughtonville, Ky., has been driven from home by rattlesnakes which have taken up their quarters under the house. The neighbors have rallied, and at last reports had killed 27, and were still on guard.

FIRE RECORD.—The Boston Post says:—The record of fires in this country and Canada during the nine months ending Sept. 30 shows a loss to the nation amounting to $52,000,000. In Canada the loss was about half as much, making a total in the Provinces and this country of $79,728,300, an excess of nearly $23,000,000 over the same period of 1876. The loss to insurance companies was $37,148,000 this year against $28,810,100 last. The fires have averaged one for every fifty minutes throughout the year.

Three highwaymen and four officers had a hand to hand fight in Deadwood. The room was lighted at the outset, but the lamp was overturned, and they were left in perfect darkness. Six of them were coupled in the struggle, and had there not been a seventh no misunderstanding would have ensued; but this seventh man, by coupling in the struggle, confused the combatants. Soon nobody knew whom he was fighting, and the result was that friend grappled with friend. Revolvers and knives were used, and one death and many wounds resulted.

Mr. J. F. Wright, of Glasgow, has patented a new musical instrument, being a combination of the pianoforte and harmonium. The instrument is so arranged that the harmonium may be detached from the piano and both used separately. By a simple process the instrument may be combined, and the harmonium is then acted upon by the keys of the piano, and at the player's will the wind instrument can be played as usual, or both may be brought into action. The advantage gained is that in slow music the notes of the piano are sustained by the harmonium, while in quick movements the slowness of the latter is corrected by the quick action of the strings.

VISITING FREDERICKTON AFTER HALF A CENTURY'S ABSENCE.—The "Frederickton Reporter" says that Mr. William C. Williams, an old resident of that city, who left Frederickton in 1817, and has been living in Yarmouth the past fifty-three years, is there on a visit to his friends. Mr. Williams distinctly remembers the circumstances of the drowning of the Rev. Mr. Cooke, the first Rector of Frederickton, and his son, which took place in front of that city, during the winter of 1785. Of all his recollections in life, Mr. Williams does not recognize one. He distinctly remembers the setting out of many of the trees in front of the officers' quarters, and organized the first Sabbath School in that city. He is in good health and vigor.

THE BRITISH POST OFFICE.—The total number of letters which passed through the post offices of the United Kingdom last year was 1,018,925,200, equal to 31 letters per head of the population; the number of post cards was 92,035,700, and of newspapers and book packets 238,790,700, of which the newspapers alone numbered 125,085,800. The number of 3d letters was 5,897,724. Upwards of 33,100 letters were posted without addresses, some of them containing sums of money. There were many revelations of ignorance. It is not easy, for instance, to gauge the state of mind of the person who, most likely to save postage and registration fee, attempted to smuggle in one case four letters, and in another a gold pocket, within the folds of a newspaper.

Judge Hilton was recently asked how many people were employed in the Stewart family the corner of Broadway and Tenth Street, and replied, "Three thousand, all told." In reply to an inquiry as how the female employees got lunch, he led the way to an immense loft, at one side of which were two long lines of tables. Young girls were busily arranging them. "There," said he; "we accommodate 500 at a time. We furnish tea and coffee, and they bring for lunch whatever they like. They have half an hour for their meal, and seem to like it. We are rather proud of our work-women, and take good care of them." Judge Hilton also said that lace curtains made by machinery, and durable for a life time, are sold at $16 a pair, that in other days, when made by hand, would have cost $300, and that a pair used by Mrs. Stewart at Saratoga, costing at retail $25, were valued by experts at $500.

When the head of a Bulgarian family sees that he is about to die he sends for the priest and begins to bargain about the cost of his funeral. The moment he dies, all the pots, pans and kettles in the house are turned upside down to prevent his soul taking refuge in any one of them, and great care is taken to prevent either man or animal—especially a cat or dog—from stepping across his body, as otherwise, in the opinion of his family, he would turn into a vampire and be a continual nuisance to them and to their neighbors. The body is buried without a coffin in a shallow grave and left there for three years, during which time many offerings of food and wine are placed upon it. At the end of the third year the bones of the dead man are dug up, carefully washed, put into a linen bag, laid before the altar in the village church, and after receiving the blessing of the priest, are finally buried for good.

EUROPE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 1.—It is officially announced that 226,197 men are to be immediately called out for active service. The majority of these are of the reserve draft, and will leave 333,412 regular members of reserve. A considerable force of Russians is concentrated in Haid Boghar pass.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—A Russian official despatch says that the number of prisoners captured at Dubrik and Teliache was 7000, including 2 Pashas, 300 officers and an English colonel in the Turkish service. After the victory at Dudrik and Teliache, the Russian columns approached Baidomirze, and Chevet Pasha with 12 battalions fled from there without waiting to destroy the bridge, which is now intact in our hands. Our cavalry is pursuing Chevet Pasha.

A telegram from Constantinople reports that 20 battalions of Turks have taken up positions at Kurudjik near Dene Bayon. The Russians are advancing by the way of Oitic to turn Kasimian. In official circles Chevet Pasha's position is considered critical, but not desperate. The "Standard's" Vienna correspondent says 8000 regular troops now remaining in Constantinople have been ordered to the front.

The Belgrade correspondent of the Times telegraphs that all the Serbian militia brigade except one are ordered to the front. Preparations seem making in various quarters with a view to the restoration of peace, if a decisive Russian victory is gained at Plewna. England is sounding the Powers as to the practicability of mediation, on a basis of programme of late Constantinople conference.

It is not anticipated that any decided response to England's overture will take place until after some decisive operation. Numerous contradictory rumors are in circulation on this subject. It is said the Czar has notified Prince Milan that Serbian co-operation is unnecessary. Mehmet Ali Pasha waited for his Herzegovinian command. His head quarters at Novi Bazar, which is convenient for operating against Montenegro or Servia. Militia will be sent from Constantinople to reinforce him.

A strong force of Russians are trying to turn Mukhtar Pasha's army and prevent his retiring to Erzeroum. His position is considered very desperate. Chevet Pasha is attempting to recapture Teliache was repulsed with heavy loss. English Government has offered the Porte mediation on the basis of the Bosphorus, Bulgaria, and Herzegovina may obtain local and administrative autonomy. The Russian adhesion to these terms is doubtful.

An attack by the Russians on Teliache simultaneously with the capture of Dubrik on the 24th ult. was repulsed with the loss of 1000 men; loss at Dubrik 3000. Every brigade and regiment commander was killed or wounded. LONDON, Nov. 3.—The King of Abyssinia again threatens to invade Egypt with 120,000 men. It is reported that the Russians are forming an army of seventy thousand, which is designed to cross the Balkans and advance upon Adrianople without waiting for the fall of Plewna.

The Porte has issued to the populace an official assurance that Plewna is amply provisioned and can hold out for months. The Times Paris correspondent says the ministers have decided to be governed by the result of the elections for councils general. LONDON, Nov. 4.—A Russian despatch says, yesterday the Grand Duke Nicholas inspected the positions we have occupied at Gornj Dubruk, from which the Turks on approach of the Russians on the 21st ult. withdrew during the night to Plewna. Thus this important point has passed into our hands without bloodshed.

A Russian official despatch dated Bogot, November 2nd, says, "General Kenezoff announces the capture of Dar Towein, north-east of Orhanie, where there were seven large and thirty small fortified positions. The Turks left upwards of one hundred dead on the field. Our loss is insignificant. We seized a large quantity of provisions, tools for intrenchments, cartridges and a herd of cattle. There is a semi-official contradiction that English soldiers were engaged in the practicability of future mediation.

A Sofia despatch on Thursday says fighting continues on the Orhanie and Plewna road. Chevet Pasha occupies a position commanding the junction of the Orhanie and Lovatz roads. The Russian advance has been repulsed with heavy loss. Reinforcements are arriving rapidly. The intention is to retake Teliache will be made immediately.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt throughout the whole of the city shortly before two o'clock Sunday morning. The quantity of crockery smashed is very large, but no estimate of the damage done can be arrived at till the opening of the stores to-morrow. A number of people were so frightened that they rushed into the streets and waited for some time in expectation of a second shock. Telegrams from Ottawa and various places in this Province mention earthquakes felt there.

UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—The storm yesterday morning, confined in lower lake region, has moved north-easterly and lower. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The gale on the lakes was very severe. Several vessels are ashore. A schooner near Buffalo is ashore, with nine men in the rigging.

—At Brooklyn, N. Y., the other day, Barrett caused the arrest of his daughter, Mary E. Barrett, a good-looking girl, seventeen years of age, on a charge of being a vagrant. She surprised Judge Barry and her father by producing a marriage certificate. It was found that she had married a negro named Payne Odell, who is very black. Mr. Barrett gave up his case.

POTATOES IN DEMAND.—A Halifax produce merchant received an order by cable yesterday, to ship twenty barrels of potatoes by to-day's Allan steamer for England. The fact of such a small order being sent by cable seems to indicate that potatoes are in great demand in England. Unfortunately, the Nova Scotian has a full cargo of freight, and consequently the twenty barrels cannot be taken.—Chronicle of last week.

In 1848, the year in which Great Britain had a protective tariff, the population of the United Kingdom was 28,000,000; her imports, $380,000,000; her exports, $680,000,000, and her domestic trade, $1,000,000,000. In 1876, after thirty years of commercial freedom, the figures were: Population, 33,000,000; imports, $1,875,000,000; exports, domestic, $1,000,000,000; exports, (foreign and Colonial) $280,000,000; total trade, $3,155,000,000. Thus, while in the thirty years the population increased less than eighteen per cent., the trade of the nation was nearly trebled. In other words, trade increased fifteen times as rapidly as the population of the Kingdom.

SEE WHAT THE CLERGY SAY. Rev. R. H. CRAIG, Princeton, N. J. says:—"Last summer when I was in Canada I caught a bad cold in my throat. It became so bad that often in the middle of my sermon my throat and tongue would become so dry I could hardly speak. My tongue was covered with a white parched crust, and my throat was much inflamed. An old lady of my congregation advised me to use the 'Shoebones Remedy,' which she was then using. The first dose relieved me and in a few days my throat was nearly well. I discontinued the use of it, but my throat not being entirely well, became worse again. I procured another supply, and was again cured. My throat is now entirely well, and the white crust has disappeared. I wish that every minister who suffers from sore throat would try the 'Great Shoebones Remedy.' Rev. Geo. W. GARDNER, Sterling, Ont., says:—"Mrs. George Francis was severely afflicted with kidney disease, and had been under the care of three physicians without any beneficial result. She has since taken four bottles of the 'Shoebones Remedy,' and now enjoys the best of health."

Rev. T. C. BROWN, Brooklyn, Ont., says:—"My wife was very low with long dry cough, and given up by her physician. I bought a bottle of the 'Shoebones Remedy,' and at the end of two days she was much better. By continuing the 'Remedy' she was perfectly restored." Price of the Remedy in pint bottles $1; Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by W. W. CHELSEA, Bridgetown, N. S.

CHAPTER III. AND LAST.
It was such a merry, genial dinner-table and Katie, the little stranger, the shabbily-dressed, faded, and wrinkled old woman, seated alongside her kind hospitable uncle, seemed to anticipate her every want.

What a queer girl you are, Ethel! exclaimed her uncle, laughing.
You're not the first who has made that discovery, dear! said Ethel. And now I'll leave you to finish dressing.

A COMPASS WHICH IS INSENSIBLE TO LOCAL MAGNETISM. From the Wilmington (Del.) Commercial Oct. 18.

Mr. Stephen Longfellow, of Cambridge, Mass., now of St. Louis, a nephew of Henry Longfellow, the poet, has recently invented a ship's compass, designed to overcome variations of the needle due to local causes.

Now in the possession of the widow of the late Hon. J. C. Troop. There are eight acres of land under a high state of cultivation, and a comfortable Dwelling House, a New Barn, other out-buildings in good repair.

By reading and practicing the instructions contained in this book, you will be enabled to cure all kinds of ailments.

It is to be hoped that President Hayes don't read the Burlington Hawk-eye. It says that the other night, after a late Cabinet meeting, when he went home and set the night lamp on the floor, and then sat down and tried to read his paper with a button hook, without taking his shoes off, Mrs. Hayes, who was awakened by his gurgling, said she never would have believed it if she hadn't seen it.

CURE FOR WORMS.—Dissolve salaratus in water as much as it will take up, and apply four or five times a day; it will soon dry up and disappear. The salaratus water should be kept closely corked. I have tried it for bad seed worms and know it will cure.

POTATO CAKE.—Wash the potatoes, and while warm knead some flour into them to make a smooth paste; add nothing except salt. Then cut into cakes rather more than half an inch thick; bake over the fire on a "griddle" butter them, and eat hot.

Overboil a large Spanish onion, and beat it hot with three or four times its bulk in potatoes, hot; add a little butter, salt and pepper to taste. Form into balls and brown in butter. With good thick gravy this dish may form a separate course, or it can be served with roast meats.

RAISED CAKE.—Three-cups of dough, one cup of butter, two cups of sugar, two eggs, one cup of raisins, one tablespoonful of yeast, a little salt, and one teaspoonful of soda. Work the dough and shortening together, beat the eggs thoroughly, then add to the dough the yeast and butter, and the raisins rolled in a handful of flour, add cinnamon and nutmeg to taste, pour into tins, let it raise till light, and bake. I make it when I want bread, and it has a dough as stiff as bread ready for the oven.

THE GLORIES OF BASE BALL. Now that the base ball season is ended, let us review the following experience of an old hand at the game:

"That was an eventful chap who first invented base ball. He's such fun. I've played five games and he's the result." Twenty-seven dollars paid out for things. One bunged eye—badly bunged. One broken little finger. One broken on the head. Nineteen lumps backs. A sore jaw. One thumb dislocated. Three sprained ankles. Five swollen legs. One dislocated shoulder from trying to throw the ball a thousand yards. Two hands raw from trying to stop hot balls.

A lump the size of a hornet's nest on left hip, was badly jammed, and five uniforms spoiled from rolling in the dirt at the bases. I have played two weeks and don't think I like the game. I've looked over the score's book, and find that I have broken several bats, made one tally, broken one umpire's jaw, broken ten windows in adjoining houses, killed a baby, smashed a kerosene lamp, one-fourth of getting drunk two or three times a day, and the more it drinks the better it seems to thrive.

Miss Pope was one evening in the green-room, commenting on the excellencies of Garrick, when among other things, she said, "He had the most wonderful eye imaginable—an eye; to wit, a vulgar phrase that would penetrate through a deal board, 'Ay,' cried Wevitzer, 'I understand—what we call a gimlet eye.'"

It won't be long before bare-footed boys will be drawing their legs up turkey-fashion to warm their feet. Patti is to receive two thousand dollars a night. Through our editorial duties are pressing still at this figure we might be induced to favor an audience with a solo or two ourselves.

"Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" has stood pretty well the wear and tear of a conundrum's experience, but a tougher one is why should a barber cut onions.

There is nothing more harrowing to the sympathetic mind than to see a steer trying to frighten a horse off the top of his back with a two-inch romanus.

Yesterday afternoon, a tramp who was looked up for stealing a soup bone and three pair of trousers on South Hill confessed to the officer who arrested him, that he was Osman Pasha.

Just as we expected. General Tchavshvaidzenichka was wounded in the repulse at Shipka pass, and the papers are spelling his name wrong, and it is such an easy name to spell too! Have you ever met the school-teacher whom you threatened, when a boy, to lick as soon as you got big enough? If you have, ten to one you didn't think you were quite big enough yet.

A competent author says you must always lie with your feet to the equator. We have known several excellent liars who have shortened their lives many years by neglecting to observe this rule.

No young woman of any pretensions whatever thinks of wearing anything now-a-days but blue stockings and sandals.—Montreal Star.

This is rather absurd of the Georgia costume of a shirt collar and spurs.

It is enough to bring tears to the eyes of a potato to see a Burlington man on "lodge night" braze himself up against the office door and try to open a postal card to see what is in it and who it's from.—Hawkeye.

Three months ago a young Rhinobacker parted his hair in the middle and bade his sweetest good-bye. Last week he returned and found that she had married a cross-eyed man with a wart on his nose.

"My poem is rather lengthy," she said, "and may be you won't have room for it this week." The editor yawned and replied, "Oh, yes, we could find room for it if it was twelve times as long—or if it was a large one, you see."

When a boy was asked "Where was the text this morning?" he replied "It was somewhere in hats." "In hats?" "No, it was in 'Acts.'" "Well, I knew it was something that would cut," said the boy, triumphantly.
