LIFE-SAVING CREW HAVE BUSY TIME

Strong Gales Are Responsible for Many Capsized Boats

The strong gales and squalls that prevailed on the lake over the weekend were responsible for many water craft capsizing or being blown out into the lake. Consequently, the life saving crew had a busy time and although less than eleven craft of various description and their occupants were rescued from precarious positions, no drownings were reported.

At 4:45 Saturday afternoon Officer Milling in No. 3 lifeboat and Superintendent Saunders in No. 1 rescued two occupants of a dinghy which had capsized in the middle of Toronto Bay, the two men hanging to the side of their boat. They were P. McGowan, 548 Sheppard street, and A. Kelly, 31 Maple avenue.

The Humber crew came to the rescue of a canoe at 4:25 p.m. which was in distress in the lake at the Sunnyside beach. The backwash from the waves, each succeeding wave came in, would probably have overturned the craft had not the lifeboat made its early appearance. The occupants were T. Forbes, 119 Lappin avenue.

At 4:30 another dinghy capsized in the lake off the eastern end of No. 1 lifeboat, in charge of Superintendent Saunders, put out to the rescue. Two occupants were clinging to the side. They were F. H. L. Gallagher, 22 Walmer road, and M. B. O'Reilly, 20 Belmont street.

At 4:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon Lifeguards Smith and Price of the Harbour station noticed a canoe in distress two miles out in the lake off Leuty avenue and brought to shore W. Rans, 59 Sheppard street.

Five minutes later Officer Milling, in charge of No. 3 lifeboat, picked up Fischer, 51 College street, and Mrs. J. Callabock, 112 Victoria Park avenue, three miles out in the lake, whose wind had blown their canoe overboard. On the way back they took another canoe in tow and the occupants, James Walker, 74 Bond street, and Mrs. M. Boulter, a Irish massage, some hot drinks and were then able to proceed home.

MURDER DONE BY SON, BUT FATHER PAID THE PENALTY

Arnell Love Said to Have Confessed Killing His Mother. NOW IN CUSTODY

An awakened conscience, resulting from his attendance at a series of evangelistic meetings held at Pricewill village, near Owen Sound, is said to account for the confession alleged to have been made by Arnell Love, 22 years of age, that he had murdered his mother in December, 1912, and of which crime his father, Henry Love, then 46 years of age, was found guilty, and hanged on May 27, 1913. The alleged confession was supposed to have been made in the attorney-general's office in the presence of two witnesses, but Mr. Bayly, assistant to the attorney-general, said he had not seen the young man personally, nor did he think that any one in his department had an interview with him. Attorney-General Haney was out of the city on Saturday and could not be reached, and his assistant declined to be interviewed of the crime.

Story of the Crime. The crime for which Love senior paid the penalty of death was the murder of Mrs. Love, mother of Arnell Love and wife of Henry Love, who was hanged. The murder was committed on December 9, 1912, the body of the unfortunate victim being found by the husband on December 12, in the cellar of the house at Caylon, where the Loves resided. There was a deep gash on her neck, which apparently had been inflicted with a small ax, while other marks indicated that a knife had been used. An ax, a butcher's knife and a stick of wood were found later in the house. Henry Love was arrested and charged with murder, and also vehemently protesting his innocence, was after a trial which lasted three days, during which 23 witnesses were called by the crown, and two for the defence, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. It is worthy of note that the jurors were polled and each answered "Guilty." Young Arnell Love, then a boy of 14, was a student at Fieserton High School, and was the chief witness for the crown. In his testimony he swore that his father had instructed him to say that he "had seen strange man" in the vicinity at the time of the murder. He further swore that his father had some neighbors searched for his mother, and that on December 12 his father had said he thought he heard sounds from the cellar. The father, who was bound to the cellar and exclaimed, "My God, that's her," ac-

According to the evidence at the trial it was brought out that young Love was subject to epileptic fits, as was his mother. To the last Henry Love protested his innocence, and it is reported that when the executioner placed the black cap over his head he made a final protest. The execution was carried out on May 27, 1913, at Owen Sound.

Mr. H. D. Gamble, who conducted the trial for the crown against Henry Love had no very much to say on the subject when interviewed on Saturday. He considered the making of the statement by the young man in connection with the crime and telephone systems. Electric power services had several interruptions, but more damage was done outside the city than within its limits.

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE WAS DONE BY STORM

Deluge, However, Causes Great Deal of Inconvenience.

Altho a great deal of general inconvenience was caused by the storm Friday night, no very serious damage was done locally, except to telegraph and telephone systems. Electric power services had several interruptions, but more damage was done outside the city than within its limits. At 9:12 p.m. a clothesline conducted lightning to the home of H. M. McPherson, 144 Lee avenue, and caused $50 damage. Lightning also struck the gable at 15 Condon avenue and broke windows at 31 Condon avenue. According to officials of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, their whole switchboard at Guelph was burned out. One of the worst places damaged was a little flag station between Hamilton and Allandale, Mississauga, where the company lost two or three poles. About 100 poles were disabled, but the total damage had not yet been ascertained.

Electric Workers' Award. Asked Saturday whether the local Hydro Commission had accepted the award of the board of conciliation of the wages of electrical workers, E. M. Ashworth, assistant general manager, stated: "The commissioners have taken no formal action, but they understand that the men decided to accept the award, and as soon as they receive official notice of this they will take the matter up at once."

Woman Gets Land Title. It makes no difference how unskillfully a deed is drawn so long as the intention of the parties appears on the face of it, stated Mr. Justice Lennox, in a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall Saturday, vesting the ownership of certain lands in Francis Bull, to whom he gives title by right of survivorship.

GERMAN RAZORS AGAIN ON SALE

Sells for Almost Three Times Pre-War Price.

A World reporter on Saturday saw his first German article exposed for sale in Toronto since before the war. This was a Boker razor, which used to sell in competition with the Sheffield razor at about $2.50. The Boker is on sale at a Yonge street store, and on inquiry it was found that the price is now $7.00. Following the matter up further, it was found by deduction that in the old days the razor cost in Germany about five marks. With the mark at $1.20, and a duty of 30 per cent, this brought the cost with incidentals to about $1.50. Assuming that the ratio with the decline of the mark, which is now 25c valued in Canadian money, it would take nearly ten marks to equal the former one, and the German price would accordingly be some 50 marks for the razor. As the Canadian duty is collected on the normal value, the customs cost to the importer nearly $5. If, however, the razors were brought in through the States, where duty is collected on the current value of the currency of the exporting country, the price would work out something like this: German cost, 50 marks at 3 1/2 cents, $1.25; duty, say 40 per cent, $1.75; total cost, $3.00. If re-exported to Canada at $2.50, there would be duty, 30 per cent, 75c; and 14 per cent for razor cost by this route $3.60. Here is a nice question for the customs and for the people generally.

Railway Not Liable for Removing Poles. The city solicitor's department has received a copy of the judgment of the appellate division in the case of the dispute as to cost of moving the Hydro poles on Pope avenue. The Hydro poles on the wires put up for the Toronto Railway line were so close to their wires as to be dangerous. The Railway Board ordered that the company must pay for moving the Hydro poles. The appellate division has now allowed the appeal of the company, ruling that the chairman of the board was in error when he gave a minority decision in favor of the Hydro on the question of law, the dispute not being a question of law.

Injured About Head. While operating a machine in the factory of the M. Granatstein and Sons Company, 48 West Wellington street, on Saturday afternoon, William Artinall, aged 15, of 9 Brant Place, was injured about the head and shoulders. He was removed to the Western Hospital in the police ambulance.

ASSESSMENT FORMS WILL CAUSE CONFUSION

The new form for income assessments containing all the amendments passed at the last session of the legislature is published in this week's Gazette, but too late to be used by the city. In the meantime hundreds of the old forms which do not contain the amendments have been sent out by the assessment department, both in Toronto and other cities, and considerable confusion and inconvenience is likely to result.

Board Will Consider Electricians' Conditions. The conciliation board appointed to investigate the working and wage conditions of the employees of the Toronto Railway Company, the Toronto Power Company and the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, resumed its sitting Saturday morning at the county buildings. The parties could not agree on the wages for machinists and carpenters, and the matter was left to the board for decision. The demands of the electricians was under lengthy consideration. The representatives of the men and the company took issue on the question as to whether all the electricians in the various shops should be classified the same in respect to wages and hours of work.

Express Companies Ask Freight Increase. Following swiftly upon the application of the Canadian railways for a general increase in freight rates, the Express Traffic Association, acting on behalf of all the express companies operating in Canada, has made application to the board of railway commissioners for a general increase of not less than 40 per cent. The traffic department of the board of trade has received a copy of the application, which was made to the commission under date July 22. The matter will likely be set down for the hearings throughout the country by the railway commission, in order that an opportunity may be afforded the public and interested shippers' organizations for a thorough investigation of the facts, if any of the express companies.

Building Permits Issued. At the city hall on Saturday, a building permit was issued to the Public Cold Storage to build a one-story addition to its wood pulley at the foot of St. George street. Charles Spittal was granted a permit to construct a two-story brick dwelling at 88 Briar Hill avenue, to cost $4500. The assessment department was granted a permit to move 207 Hilldale avenue, on city-owned vacant land, 50 feet west of where it now stands.

THREE MILLIONS FOR COKE AND GAS PLANT ON HARBOR FRONT

New York Company Said to Have Acquired Twenty-Nine Acres. WILL PRICES DROP?

The report was current in Toronto on Saturday that the harbor commission had closed a deal with the Solvet Coke & Gas Company of New York State, which gives the Americans control of 29 acres of harbor front property on which a three million dollar plant will be erected. Officials of the harbor commission and the industries department were out of the city and the report could not be confirmed. Negotiations between this concern and the Toronto authorities were opened about three months ago, and it is understood that the Americans were prepared to undertake the manufacture of gas in the city and deliver it to the Consumers' Gas Company, who have a monopoly on distribution in Toronto, for 61 cents per thousand cubic feet, but that the Consumers Gas Company declined to make a deal with them. This is about half the price at which gas is being retailed at present in the city. The Solvet people are said to have big plans for manufacture of coke and gas for the industries on the new harbor commission property and also to carry on a number of subsidiary industries. The A. E. Rea building at 98 Spadina avenue, near Queen, is said to have been sold in the last week to a Toronto manufacturer of ladies' wear for about $160,000.

THOUSANDS HONOR SOLDIERS' MEMORY

Graves of Over Two Hundred Are Strewn With Flowers.

An estimated crowd of 15,000 people lined the sidewalks of West St. Clair avenue, and thronged the grounds of Prospect Cemetery yesterday afternoon to witness the parade and attend the exercises held under the auspices of the British Imperial Society of Canada, in memory of the soldiers who fell in the great war. The graves of the 20 veterans who lie buried in the special soldiers' plot at Prospect Cemetery were strewn with flowers by several hundred little girls from the Earlscourt district. During the course of the exercises, the gathering was addressed by Mayor T. L. Church, Major-General V. A. S. Williams and President Gershon Mills of the B.I.A., who all expressed the hope that one day each year would be set aside and observed all over Canada as a decoration day devoted to the memory of those who fell in any of the battles in which Canada has been engaged since the foundation of the country.

The parade formed up on the south side of St. Clair avenue, and headed by two mounted policemen, the Fairbank District Brass Band, marching along the avenue to the cemetery. Immediately behind the band was a floral piece symbolizing a grave in "Flanders Fields," borne by Sergeant J. Edwards, Corporal E. Barrat, the first P.P. to escape from a German prison; Corporal W. H. Wing and Private J. Sidthorp, all of the famous Princess Patricia Regiment. At the head of the "grave," on which rows of poppies blew, was a large floral cross, surmounted by the figure of a white dove. On the display was a legend which read "F.P.C.A., Not Forgotten, Flanders Fields, From B.I.A."

Next in line were representatives of the B.I.A., the G.W.V.A., the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A., and His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, including many "originals" of the late war and old soldiers who had fought in the Crimea, Egypt, Zululand and elsewhere. Amongst these were Sergeant Major-General V. A. S. Williams, a Canadian veteran organization, the V.A.D.'s, fraternal societies, choral groups, flower girls and musical bands made up of the rest of the parade.

Thousands Bow in Prayer. Upon arrival at the cemetery, Gershon Mills, president of the B.I.A., introduced the Rev. J. R. Robertson, M.M., as chairman, and after the playing of "The Maple Leaf Forever" and the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" by the assembled thousands, prayer was offered by Dr. John Neil, Dr. Neil prayed that a true sense of gratitude might always be felt towards those who had died in the great fight for truth, righteousness, King and country, and that liberty, unity and Christian love might reign thru all the land.

Sergt. Robertson then delivered an address in which he declared that the men who had died in the great war and to whose memory homage was then being paid, were no less deserving of immortal fame than the Greeks who held back the hordes of Persia at the pass of Thermopylae. He expressed sympathy for the loved ones who were bereaved and who must have asked what was the purpose of all this suffering. But he declared that it was all part of God's huge plan, which none could hope to understand here.

Major-General Williams said that it was not only the dead in this cemetery that were being honored, but all those everywhere that had given their lives in the cause. The graves should be decorated so that all should be proud to look at them and so that the relatives of the deceased should be assured that the dear ones were gone, they were not forgotten. General Williams referred in terms of high praise to the "Onward Christian Soldiers" and described the great contribution that Britain had made to the winning of the war. He stated that he had strong sentiments regarding the upkeep of military cemeteries and he hoped that to Wales last year. The mayor quoted the words he saw away out in front two arms waving to the child, who by this time had long ceased to cry. His worship handed the little tot over to a tall policeman, who bore her thru the crowd to her thankful family.

Mayor Church declared that he had not seen such an inspiring sight in Earlscourt since the visit of the Prince of Wales last year. The mayor quoted Lord Macaulay in support of his statement that this devotion to the memory of the dead adds strength to the state. "We must not forget the relatives and friends of the fallen," said the mayor. And, referring to the returned men, he declared that "the civic government is not unmindful of the efforts of the returned men. But the city council cannot do all; it must have the support of the provincial and federal governments."

The mayor drew a comparison between Canada and the United States, where on May 30, Decoration Day, is observed throughout the country in memory of the soldiers who died in American wars. He stated that the historic battlefields of Canada were left uncared for and the memory of soldiers who had fallen in past wars was left to be forgotten. He said that the scenes of fighting on the Niagara Peninsula should be marked by monuments and he hoped that the federal government would institute a Decoration Day in Canada.

City Fit for Heroes. "We want to make Toronto a city fit for heroes to live in," said the mayor. "We want to continue the great British way of life, which has been in the past, so that the flag will fly over it for all time." He said that there were disloyal elements in the city and characterized Bolshevism, socialism and Sinn Feinism as "European plan" and not "Canadian plan." At the conclusion of the mayor's address, Dr. Neil offered the closing prayer and as the Last Post was sounded on the bugle, the little girls strewn flowers on the soldiers' graves.

The widows of Earlscourt, Silverthorn and Fairbank were seated around the platform and as the hymns were sung a quiet sympathy went out to these bereaved ones, many of whom were sobbing.

The parade, which represented all the organizations in the northwest country and characterized by bands, strolled in a long line reaching from Oakwood to Dufferin street.

The first section formed at the corner of the parade, and included: Veterans' associations and guests, Fairbank Brass Band, G.W.V.A. band, Boys' Naval Brigade and band, nurses, Great War Veterans, Grand Army of United Veterans and veteran associations.

The second section formed up at Appleton avenue, comprising: Earlscourt branch of the Navy League, Earlscourt Salvation Army band, members and cadets, flower bearers, flower girls and united choirs. The third section were grouped at Laurier avenue, including fraternal societies, British Imperial Boys' Brass Band, Naval Brigade bugle band, officers and members of the British Imperial Association, Gen. Victor Williams and other officers, Orangemen, Sons of England, Oddfellows, Woodmen of the World, Boy Guides and Boy Scouts.

All the organizations carried wreaths and Mayor Church, sent one from the city of Toronto. The marshals of the parade were Comrades R. J. Kirk and J. Roughly, and so well were the crowd handled, by the help of mounted police, that not a hitch occurred on the entire line of route. Comrade Bentley led the children's choir and J. H. Harper conducted the massed singing. The officers of the B. I. A. are: H. Parfrey, first vice-president;

CHILDREN DECORATE SOLDIERS' GRAVES.

An impressive memorial service was held in Prospect Cemetery yesterday afternoon for veterans of the great war, who are buried in a large plot especially dedicated to the purpose. The laying of wreaths upon the graves was viewed by thousands.

SITUATION IN IRELAND GRAVE

(Continued From Page 1.) form, which is an independent republic. The Dublin correspondent of The London Times, who is the editor of the principal southern Unionist newspaper, The Irish Times, today urges the dominion form of government. He writes: "The vast majority of Irishmen would welcome any reasonable and honorable escape from their present situation. They are standing on the edge of a volcano."

The chief factor operating to bring Irish affairs to a head is the ceaseless phase of warfare of retaliation. The events of the past few days have shown that when assassinations occur it means an outbreak of revenge by the other party, in which peaceable people suffer. There is no prediction how far these outbreaks may go.

More Soldiers to Belfast. Another battalion of soldiers arrived in Belfast yesterday, making five on the ground. Three regiments of cavalry at Aldershot have been ordered to be ready to proceed to Ireland. The lord mayor of Belfast has issued an appeal to the citizens for aid in restoring order, declaring that the authorities are determined to use drastic measures to deal with disorder.

Small interest has been excited in Ireland by the tentative proposals attributed to Mr. Lloyd George regarding dominion home rule with the partition of six Ulster counties. Sir Horace and his followers declare that their belief is that a firm offer of dominion rule for all of Ireland, leaving the Ulster position for adjustment within Ireland, might have a calming effect on the situation. Most members of this section said they believed the quickest way out of the difficulty would be the establishment of a statutory elective convention of all Irishmen with the power to settle their own constitution.

There has been much activity during the past fortnight, and Sir Hamar has collected considerable opinion from the moderates, but the Sinn Fein is not committed to any definite policy. The latter are regarded as constituting a powerful influence against a compromise. Labor intervention thru Mr. Thomas is said to be provoking Sinn Fein irritation. The Sinn Fein press says it considers Mr. Thomas merely as Mr. Lloyd George's "bonnet," acting in the interest of England's domination and pushing forward dominion rule as a "red herring."

The Nationalist press continues its denunciation of Sir Hamar's speech in the house of commons on Thursday. The Freeman's Journal says: "Greenwood is the biggest bluffer Canada ever sent to the Carib." The Irish Independent says: "Greenwood falls in the part of Cromwell because he has no initiative and has taken orders from Carson." The death list as a result of the recent fighting between the Unionists and Sinn Fein factions reached 10 today when two more were killed, injured Friday in the attack on St. Matthew's Convent, and a man who was shot Thursday, died.

(Before Lennox, J.) Thompson v. Chasseworth; F. J. Hughes for plaintiff; I. S. Fairly for city of Toronto; Wilson for Venn & Evans; W. D. McPherson, E.C., for Chasseworth. Motion for injunction restraining city from issuing permit for installation of gasoline tanks, and restraining other defendants from establishing dry-cleaning plant south of the plaintiffs premises, 51 Penderith avenue, till the trial of the action. Judgment: As I simply decide that no irreparable damage and no injury for which he cannot be compensated will occur to the plaintiff if he be right by the delay; and that this is not a case into which an interim injunction should be granted, I think it judicious to refrain from expressing any opinion as to the effect of the cases cited; and the disposal of the motion, is of course, without prejudice to the ultimate liability or rights of any of the parties. The motions will be dismissed with costs reserved for disposal by the judge at the trial. If the action does not go to trial the defendants will have costs of opposing the motions, properly allocated. Re Billet & Davidson; J. M. Sullivan for vendor; J. R. Code for purchaser. Judgment: There will be an order declaring that the vendor, Frances Billet and her husband became joint tenants of the land in question under the deed referred to, and upon the death of her husband the whole estate in the land became vested in her in fee simple. By a clerical error the vendor is described in her affidavit as "Frances" instead of "Francis." The affidavit must be amended, and re-sworn before the order is issued, or a corrected affidavit, otherwise in the same terms, filed. There was nothing said, and there will be no order as to costs. Terms of order settled.

At Bangor and Lisburn, both within a ten-mile radius of Belfast, where many workers of Belfast reside, saunions and pawnbrokers were the chief sufferers. The crowds attacked such places indiscriminately. After considerable difficulty the police and military restored order without the use of firearms. How easily passions are aroused in the present circumstances is shown in the case of Bangor. A few nights ago a fire occurred in the Grand Hotel, necessitating evacuating by the guests. Last night a small force of troops arrived to take up quarters in the damaged hotel. The soldiers were received with enthusiastic cheers by the townfolk. Thereupon a crowd gathered, and began hustling a man believed to be a Sinn Feiner. The soldiers rescued and protected him. This seemed to anger the crowd, which began its march of destruction.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH. Simcoe, Ont., July 25. — St. James Methodist Church, reopened a fortnight ago, nine months after extensive damage by fire, was this morning dedicated by Rev. S. E. Marshall of Brantford, president of the Hamilton conference. The service was most impressive, especially when the key of the structure was given up by the trustees to the president. Rev. Dr. Day was present on behalf of the local Ministerial Association and gave a short address.

Why Cox and Harding Will Make League Chief Issue

Both candidates on the Democratic ticket declare that they will make their chief fight on the League of Nations issue. Replying, Senator Harding says that since "the President demands a campaign on this issue," since "the Democratic platform makes the issue paramount," and since "the Democratic candidates unqualifiedly acquiesce," then "the Republican party and candidates gladly accept the challenge." Altho the candidates have thus joined issue over the League of Nations there are independent publicists who agree that many citizens will vote their party ticket quite irrespective of what Governor Cox and Senator Harding may say about the League, and instead of the coming election being a great national referendum on the League of Nations it will be, in the opinion of The Lowell Courier-Citizen, "simply on which party is to be trusted—the Democrats after their prolonged exhibition of their quality or the Republicans after their prolonged absence, which may have made the heart grow fonder."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, July 24th, throws many side-lights upon the reasons why the candidates are pushing the League of Nations to the front as a dominant issue, and it will be highly interesting and instructive reading to the American voter just now.

JUDITH OF BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY.

Carson's eyes went swiftly to Bud Lee's. In Carson's mind there was a quick suspicion. The strain of life on the ranch was proving too much for a girl, after all that she had done.

"You're going to stick around just a little while, stranger?" Bud Lee was saying quietly to a shifty-eyed man in the corral. "Just why I don't know. Orders, you know."

"Orders be damned," snarled the newcomer. "I go where I please and when I please."

"You've got to be a little more respectful," said Carson. "You're a low-lived skunk!"

"You better tell me what's up," he said sharply. "I know something in that new guy that just come in is darned hard to keep. Just as quick as I grab a shotgun an' go to shooting pigeons he moseys out to the corral an' starts adding his horse."

"You watch him, just the same, Carson. We know that somebody here has been working against us. Some one who turned shorty loose. Maybe it isn't Poker Face, and maybe it is."

"He plays a crib game like a sport an' a gentleman," muttered Carson. "He beat me seven games out'n nine last night." And, still with that puzzled frown in his eyes, he went to watch Poker Face and the new man.

"You ain't got no call to keep me here," he said at last. "I ain't got to answer questions all day."

"You'll answer my questions if you don't want me to turn you over to Emmet Sawyer in Rocky Bend," she told him coolly. "How did you know this man was called Poker Face? Did you know him before?"

Lipton Confident That His Shamrock Will Lift the Cup

FIFTH AND FINAL RACE FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP TODAY OFF SANDY HOOK

Both Yachts Ready and Sir Thomas Confident That His Challenger Will Take Trophy Across the Sea—Ship Fisherman Aboard Shamrock to Tell Winds.

Sandy Hook, N.J., July 25.—Resolute and Shamrock IV, took sail-stretching spins this afternoon in the horseshoe preparatory for what promises to be the final race for the America's Cup tomorrow. Resolute, bent on a brand new mainmast, and after it was hoisted, set an outer jib and went for a 20-minute sail in the bay. A nice eight-knot breeze was blowing from the northwest and the water was choppy.

The skippers of the two racers are said to feel the critical moment has been caused by the postponement of the contest yesterday on account of too much wind. It was predicted that the starting knot of breeze above 10 is of no advantage to the skippers, since they obtain their maximum speed with that amount of wind and that as the wind increases above a certain point, it is necessary to shorten sail. The wind today was under Montauk today that the wind was about six miles an hour off the light when the racers reached the starting line. Rather than risk an accident, which is possible of loss of life and injury, it was decided to await the postponement of the race.

Still is Confident. Sir Thomas Lipton, the cup confidant, the Shamrock will lift the cup, and prefers not to talk about the possibility of another challenge until it is determined whether the Shamrock will be successful or not. Indication tonight was for a light westerly breeze, which would give the yacht a beat to windward 15 miles down the Jersey coast. It was learned tonight that Captain Andrew J. Applegate, the skipper of the Shamrock, who was engaged by Sir Thomas Lipton to sail on the Shamrock IV and assist Captain Burton in the knowledge of local winds and tide conditions, will be aboard the challenger again tomorrow. Captain Applegate was sent to the starting line, and when he went to the starting line, it was generally reported that the sailor had some differences with Skipper Burton as to the course called in Friday's contest.

Due to lateness in starting, the games between the Hillcrests and St. Francis, the first one scheduled on Saturday, was not completed, it being put off until Sunday.

The second game, played on a slow field, proved a free-hitting affair, each side amassing 11 blows, and the Hillcrests' bats being more timely of the two.

Three passes in the first, a wild pitch, three steals and four safeties, one a homer by Nicholson, gave Hillcrests six runs, which, with five more in the sixth, proved impossible to overcome. Always.

Pratt's victories in the second, third and fourth games, which were all won by Hillcrests, were due to the fact that they were better than the Hillcrests in the sixth.
