Ogilvie Brothers, Now of Maine, Say They Are Heirs Of Earl of Airle

WORTH $10,000,000

Sons of George Ogilvie Who Moved From Scotland to Moncton and Afterwards Lived in This City and Fredericton

Bangor, Me., July 2—James Harvey Ogilvie, a teamster of Bangor; William Ogilvie, a car inspector at Northern Maine Junction, near here, with a residence in Bangor; and George Ogilvie of Washburn, Aronook county, expect soon to share the estate left by the late Earl of Airle, in Scotland, while William says that the earldom is rightfully his, he being, as he says, the next in line for the title. These men are sons of the late George Ogilvie, who came from Scotland to Moncton, St. John and Fredericton in the same province. They say that their father was a direct descendant of the Earl of Airle, and that several sisters living in Maine and Minnesota.

James Harvey Ogilvie, who manifests the liveliest interest of the three brothers in the prospect of riches from Scotland, said to a reporter: "My father was a direct descendant of the Earl of Airle. I often heard him speak of the noble ancestor of our family and of the great estate and lands in Scotland. When the earl died it was found that all the near descendants had passed away before him. At any rate, there was none to be found in Scotland, and the solicitors came or sent to this country to find if there were any heirs here. The solicitors found James Harvey Ogilvie, who for many years was vice-president of the Union Trust Company in New York, and the following is a partial list of the injured as compiled at midnight: Patients in the general hospital are: Ernest Blenkhorn, head cut and back injured. Ed. Bowden, legs bruised, arms cut and suffering internal injury. Alex. D. Bruce, face smashed, arms cut and bruised on back. Thomas Buherville, thumb broken and arms badly cut. Miss L. Bates, arms cut and bruised on face. John Dawson, legs and arms bruised. Mrs. Dunn, legs and arms bruised. Kenneth Dunn, chest and shoulders bruised. Thomas Buherville, ankles and feet in very bad condition, arms slightly bruised. Leslie Evans, ribs broken. William Evans, arms, legs, and face smashed. Wm. Edwards, shoulder and arms badly injured. Regina Now Under Martial Law—Measures For Relief of Stricken Ones—Babe of Chatham Parents Among Those Who Lost Lives

Regina, Sask., July 2—From all reports received the worst now seems to be known in connection with the cyclone. The finding of the body of Scout Master Appleby, between Seventh and Eighth avenues in Cornwallis street, brings the total number of men dead up to twenty-six. It is said that no action will be taken to drain the lake at present for fear of typhoid. The lake will be, however, dragged for dead bodies. The finance committee has decided to accept all offers of help which have been made, among them being those from Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Moosejaw, the government of Manitoba, the dominion government and the Winnipeg Telegram. A relief committee with ex-Alderman McCannell, has its headquarters in the mayor's office. Citizens whose homes escaped destruction are offering for the accommodation of the destitute. Engineers Allen is the head of this work and has a gang of carpenters making houses habitable. Another large gang of workmen are busy cutting off the wires of the devastated area and stringing them west so that the people west may have lights. The local militia units have returned from the camp and have taken over, with the mounted police, the task of protecting the affected area from looters, and the authorities have proclaimed the city under martial law, and the citizens must be off the street after ten o'clock unless supplied with passes signed by the officer commanding. Chatham Babe Among Killed (Special to Times)

Chatham, N. B., July 2—Word was received here yesterday that in the tornado which swept Regina on Sunday afternoon the house in which Mr. and Mrs. N. Loggie lived was demolished and their seven-month-old baby, Donald, was killed; also that the boarding house of Jack Loggie was levelled to the ground though he himself escaped uninjured. Other word was that Jack Loggie, son of Mrs. M. R. Loggie, was killed at the time and was all right and that Mr. and Mrs. D. C. MacDonald and family were also killed. The injured: Ernest Blenkhorn, head cut and back injured. Ed. Bowden, legs bruised, arms cut and suffering internal injury. Alex. D. Bruce, face smashed, arms cut and bruised on back. Thomas Buherville, thumb broken and arms badly cut. Miss L. Bates, arms cut and bruised on face. John Dawson, legs and arms bruised. Mrs. Dunn, legs and arms bruised. Kenneth Dunn, chest and shoulders bruised. Thomas Buherville, ankles and feet in very bad condition, arms slightly bruised. Leslie Evans, ribs broken. William Evans, arms, legs, and face smashed. Wm. Edwards, shoulder and arms badly injured. Frank Eston, fingers cut and arms bruised.

BALLOON AFIRE; FIVE ARE KILLED

Fearful Tragedy of the Air Near Atlantic City—Men Imprisoned in Car, Headless Body of One Plunges into The Water

Atlantic City, July 2—While 3,000 spectators stood to start to utter a sound, the big dirigible balloon Akron was shattered by the explosion of the gas bag and blown to atoms at half past seven o'clock this morning, a half mile off shore, over Absecon Inlet. Melvin Vaniman, who had built the airship with the idea of flying across the Atlantic ocean; Calvin Vaniman, his younger brother; Fred Almo, Walter Groat and George Brilliant, his crew, were instantly killed. The dirigible was sailing at a height of 1,000 feet, and had been in the air since a quarter after six o'clock, when the accident occurred. She was a quarter of a mile south of Brigantine Beach, which is across the inlet from the Vaniman's cottage just across from the Hangar at the foot of the Vaniman Villa. The huge envelope containing thousands of cubic feet of gas, was rent by the terrific force of the explosion, probably caused by expansion from the sun's rays. It burst near the middle. A mass of flames hid the ship from view for a space of possibly ten seconds, the half million dollar dirigible was invisible, while the air about the spot where she had been hovering, seemed to be all flame. The fire disappeared and then the ship, outlined against the sunset, was seen to fall like a plummet. First the understructure, or car, in which were penned the unfortunate men, held its place for a moment, but then it fell to the water, the three turn-of-war pumps, which were used to pump the gas into the envelope, it up-ended, the bow turning first up and then down. Then it reversed and plunged downward. Directly above it a long spiral was the gas bag, a smoking mass of rubber and silk, with the flames shooting out from a dozen sections as it collapsed. Headless Body in Water It floated a moment, and then streaked down after the car. In the body, something which appeared to be the foot

Lor Haldane's Successor—
Stories of the Noted General Tucker

Lord Haldane's successor as secretary of state for war, Lieutenant Colonel the Right Hon. John Edward Seely, has the misfortune of being an amateur soldier and is said to be extremely opinionated. Lord Haldane, although by reason of his profound knowledge of chemistry an expert in everything concerning explosives, realized his limitations in military matters and was willing to seek and follow the advice of professional soldiers. His counsellors, unfortunately were selected from among the group-headed opponents of England's best generals, such as Lord Kitchener, Lord Roberts, Lord Grenfell, and others, whose ability and experience entitle them to consideration.

Colonel Seely's knowledge of war is derived from his experiences as a volunteer of Yeomanry in South Africa, where he bore himself with such gallantry as to win the Distinguished Service Order. Since then his time has been taken up entirely by his parliamentary duties.

Like Winston Churchill, whom he succeeded from the Unionist party, he has plenty of pluck. He has done excellent service as a member of the House of Commons, and has been awarded the Legion of Honor and the gold life-saving medal for swimming out with the life-line in a storm to a French government steamer on the rocks just beyond the reach of the rocket apparatus. By this means he was instrumental in saving his ship.

He is a younger son of Sir Charles Seely, first baronet of his line, and a married to Miss Emily Crichton of Nairn Castle, Southampton, a granddaughter of the Earl of Erna.

Winston Churchill being First Lord of the Admiralty, Seely's appointment to the secretaryship places the control of Great Britain's navy in the hands of two men, both comparatively young, and both without professional experience in the services which they respectively command. Englishmen should hope for what benefits may be derived from the close friendship between them and the probability of their co-operation with one another.

General Sir Charles Tucker, who has just received the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, on King Edward's birthday, is noted throughout the service for the picturesqueness of his language. It has won for him the nickname "The Duke of the Trench," in order to distinguish him from General Tucker, who, being more in the African war, "Salvation Tucker." In spite of his peppery diction, Sir Charles is immensely popular, not only with his own troops, but with the rank and file and all sorts of aristocratic circles. He is especially noted for his "swearing" among the soldiers about "swearing Dan" and "swearing Tucker," who he called "Dan" because he is married to a "Dan" (Mrs. Tucker), the Liberator. Or perhaps his name reminds the rank and file of the Negro song, "Ole Dan Tucker."

Bennett Burleigh, a veteran war correspondent, tells a characteristic anecdote about Sir Charles. During the Boer war, Tucker came across Burleigh, with a kokak hanging from his shoulder. "What's the thing you're around your neck?" "Well, General," answered Burleigh, "I'm sorry to say it's only a kokak, for if I'd known I was going to meet you today, I would certainly have brought a photograph instead."

An another moment in the war, the men of the 1st Buffs, who were in the front line, complained that they could never get their regulation allowance of grog. At last they decided to try the matter before the general. He listened in silence, and then remarked, "There's an old saying that if you can't get what you want, you must take it." And with that he dismissed them. The men took the hint and, making their way that night to the commissariat depot, helped themselves to a couple of bottles of rum. The next day there was a terrible row about the missing casks, and a commissariat officer went to Tucker to say that suspicion pointed to his men. The general assumed the most serious manner, and cursed the commissariat officer up and down, and then, turning to the men, he said, "I'm glad to come here and see you, but my men have stolen your . . . beastly grog!"

I never heard such . . . impertinence! And with a remark that he would complain to Lord Kitchener about it, and never touched spirits, he drove the unfortunate man out of his tent.

One of the general's funniest encounters was with the late Duke of Cambridge, then commander-in-chief of the army, and not far from the Duke's residence, in the language. During the course of a field day at Aldershot, Tucker, who was then a lieutenant, came in for some picturesque abuse on the part of this hot-tempered old cousin of Queen Victoria. The duke, like others of the older members of the English family, was a very kind-hearted man, and quick to make amends when he thought he had hurt anyone's feelings unduly. So when at the close of the manoeuvres Tucker rode up with the other field officers of the day to the knoll whence the duke had been watching the final operations, he, in his customary generous manner expressed his regret for having sworn at him. "That's all right, Sir," exclaimed Tucker, "I never mind being called a fool by your Royal Highness. The only thing I don't like about it is being sworn at before those—fools over there," pointing at the snickering members of the duke's brilliantly arrayed staff.

The duke, who had a keen sense of humor, glanced from Tucker to the now indignant faces of his suite and, patting Tucker kindly on the shoulder, burst into a roar of laughter.

One word in conclusion about "Damnation Tucker." If any of my readers should ever meet him, and should like to hear a sample of what he can do in the way of language, he has only to mention in his presence the name of General Sir Arthur Paget, or speak of the latter's military effectiveness in South Africa.

Enrico Malatesta, an anarchist philosopher leader, has succeeded in obtaining from the English court of appeals a revocation of the order expelling him from British territory, issued by the lower courts at the instance of the police. The judges of appeal were moved to this step on a consideration, first, that he had been guilty of no actual crime while in England; and second that, having suffered imprisonment and expulsion at the hands of every other European government, other countries were virtually closed to him.

Luke Rakounko, Prince Peter Krapotkin, Prince Vistor Nakashidze, the Sicilian Prince Tasso, etc., he is one of those anarchists of birth, breeding and education, who have sacrificed rank, position and fortune to their strange doctrines.

Malatesta is a count of the Holy Roman Empire, and is of very ancient lineage. The ancestor of his house was Malatesta de Verrucchio, who at the close of the thirteenth century flourished as sovereign lord of Rimini, which was ruled for some three centuries after by his descendants. His oldest son was Giovanni, husband of Francesca di Ravenna. How she fell in love with his younger brother, Paolo Malatesta, and how the couple were slain with a sword by the betrayed Giovanni, has been immortalized by Dante in the "Divina Commedia," and celebrated by the poets of every land. Perhaps the English judges of appeal may have had this illustrious and romantic lineage in mind when they decided to accord an English refuge to this

COUNTRY SOUP.
Required: Two ounces of butter, three quarters of a pound of flour, half an ounce of cream of tartar, a quarter of an ounce of carbonate of soda, one ounce and a half of sugar, one ounce of salt, and a half of pepper. Rub the butter into the flour and cream of tartar, the soda and sugar, mix into a stiff dough with nearly half a pint of sour milk or buttermilk.

Roll out into a round cake, brush over with egg and bake in a hot oven.

APPLE CAKE
To two cupsful of lukewarm milk add one cake of compressed yeast, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of salt and flour enough to make a stiff sponge. Let it rise for three hours. Stir one cupful of sugar and one of butter to a cream, then add, one by one, four eggs and the grated rind of a lemon, beating until it is very light. Add this to the sponge and enough flour to enable it to roll very thin. Too much flour will make it tough. Put on well-greased pans and let rise. When ready for the oven put on the top apples, peeled, cored and cut into slices. Sprinkle with sugar, and cover with melted butter. Bake in a moderate oven.

What Can You Give?
By EVEL CAMERON

"Give what you have. To some one it may be better than you think."
—Longfellow.

A CERTAIN young girl who acts as assistant in a doctor's office collects all the old magazines every few months and personally carries them to a charitable organization, which sees that they are distributed to people to whom they mean a good deal.

This girl does not earn a large salary, and she has very little actual money to give away, but there is no doubt in my mind that if a list of the largest givers in this city were made out by a superhuman personage, somewhat after the fashion of the list which Ben Adams' angel visitor compiled, this girl's name would not be far from the head of the list.

Another woman, whose means are rather limited, always puts up a supply of preserves quite disproportionate to her small family. "They are one of the few things I can afford to give," she says, "and I take real comfort in being able to pass them on to people who don't have anything but store preserves." When anyone in the neighborhood is ill this woman is sure to appear with a cheery word and a tumbler of delicious currant jelly or toothsome marmalade, or whatever happens to be the invalid's favorite preserve—for a wonderful memory of her friends' likes and dislikes is an important part of this dear lady's givings. And on Christmas and Easter and all the little gift-giving days, she goes about surprising the shut-ins, or the lonely old person with a humble but welcome little gift.

Can you doubt that she, too, would be on the new Ben Adams' list?

Still another woman, who has not much money to give, takes great pride and pleasure in her charity bag. In the first place, she makes it a point not to keep any garment which can really be dispensed with on the chance of one more wear. In the second place, she does not rip off the pretty buttons, the braid, etc., thing she gives is clean and neatly mended. "I'd like to give money," she says, "and I can't, but these are things that I can give." Doubtless to the unknown recipient of her charity, who finds a clean, whole, pretty garment in place of the denuded, ragged and often soiled junk she has been accustomed to, this woman's gifts prove far better than she thinks.

The very poorest of us have many little things to give. They may be even less than such things as the sound of a happy laugh, the companionship of a cheerful personality.

Did whatever it is, don't neglect to give this little gift of yours and give freely. "To some one it may prove better than you think."

MAINE'S LAST SQUARE-RIGGER

Having completed discharging a cargo of lumber at Portland, Me., the barkentine Mabel I. Meyers, of Searsport, the only barkentine sailing from a Maine port and one of the few square riggers now flying the American flag, has sailed for Turks Island, where she will load a cargo of salt to be taken to Providence, R. I.

The Meyers registers 700 gross tons and was built at Searsport, twenty-one years ago, and has been engaged in off-shore trade during the greater part of her time afloat. The barkentine has made many voyages to the West Indies and to South American ports, and her master, Captain Meyers, has made only one coastwise trip in the twenty-five years he has followed the sea for his livelihood.

Records show that in 1874 Portland was the halting port of twenty-one ships, fifty-one barbs, seven barkentines and sixty-one brigas. Today not a single square-rigger sails from that port, as the last of the "square riggers" of the Portland fleet, the Carrie Winslow, was sold about two years ago.

While the Meyers is now twenty-one years of age she is in excellent shape and is capable of making many voyages to South America before she is discarded or rebuilt into a barge. Many of the finest Maine ships have become barges and are now carrying coal between Portland and Southern coal ports.

ARRIVES HOME ONLY TO LEARN OF FATHER'S DEATH
Roxbury Girl Reaches Boston in Sad Home Coming From Europe
Boston, July 2.—Miss Florida B. Akroyd of Roxbury, a returning cabin passenger by the Arabic of the White Star line, was laughing and happy and gay as the liner came up from quarantine, at the prospect of being reunited with her family after several months' absence in Europe. Her face was wreathed in smiles as she stepped her sister, Miss Lillian Akroyd, among the hundreds waiting for the giant steamship on the pier.
A few moments later her smiles had faded, and instead tears were streaming down her cheeks. She had learned that her father was dead.
The death of the father, Vincent Akroyd, a composer, and a former member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, occurred some weeks ago. But it was deemed best not to tell her at that time, as it would only spoil her trip. But her home-coming was the saddest seen at this street in many years.

STARVING BECAUSE OF THE DOCK STRIKE
London, July 2.—Dean Ring, rector of St. Mary and St. Michael's church, Commercial Road, in the East End, says the families of the dock strikers are starving on account of the prolongation of the strike.
"It is no exaggeration to say that people are dying of starvation. There are cases before my committee where people have sworn that they have not eaten for two days. Some are so racked with hunger that they spend their time in bed saying there is nothing to get up for. One man was found dressed in a sack."
GIBBONS SCORES KNOCK-OUT
New York, July 2.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul knocked out Sid Burns, middleweight champion of England, in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

GEORGE TAIT BLACKSTOCK ON IMPERIAL MATTERS
Toronto K. C. Speaks at Canadian Club Banquet in Chicago
Chicago, July 2.—There is no problem of today that creates as much sentiment as the peace and good feeling between Canada and the United States, and one sentiment we have is that true to our mother country, we shall remain a portion of the British empire," said George Tait Blackstock, K. C., of Toronto, at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club of Chicago last night.
"One hundred years of peace and prosperity binds us to that empire, much as we love our sister here. Many people think when Canada separated from the mother country she should have thrown her lot with the United States. I believe that Providence prevented them, we are both exploiting a new future and country."

TROUBLE FOR THE SPANISH GOVERNMENT THREATENS
Madrid, July 2.—Spain is again threatened with a ministerial crisis over a bill to increase the powers of the provincial councils. Premier Canalejas declares that he will resign unless the bill is passed.
Ex-Premier Moretland and a majority of the liberals oppose the bill. They consider that the government is treating what is merely a local affair, as a matter of national importance, and they ask that the bill be transformed in conformity with their view, declaring that a cabinet crisis at the present moment would be tantamount to an admission that the carrying out of the liberal programme is impossible.

THE BLOW TO REGINA All Canada is shocked by the news of the terrible calamity which has fallen upon Regina. The tornado has hitherto been unknown in the Canadian west, and such a catastrophe as that of yesterday was therefore wholly unexpected.

Along with the news of destruction, however, comes word that already the work of clearing up the wreckage and rebuilding the devastated area has begun; for the spirit of the west is indomitable. The fear of tornadoes will not effect the people, for such storms are not preventable; nor is the experience of Regina likely to be repeated.

THE PHARISEES There appears to be growing up in Canada, a pharisaical spirit which prompts the Canadian citizen who imbibes it to thank God with great noise and fervency that we are not as the Americans are.

Only one week remains in which to prepare for Back to New Brunswick Week. If the appearance of the city is to be made such as the citizens would like to see it when thousands of visitors are pouring in, there is much to be done, and there is need of united action.

WAS RESENTFUL A presiding elder, in charge of an old-fashioned camp meeting, used to blow a horn for the people to assemble for worship. One morning his six-year-old son, James, said, "Father, why do you blow that horn?" His father replied, "My son, to call the people together to make them good." James, who had been punished by his mother for disobedience, and was resentful, said, "Well, father, I wish you would blow it at mother!"

RECIPROCIITY TERMS WITH THE WEST INDIES

Provisions of Agreement Are Announced by Minister of Customs

ITEMS IN THE LIST Canadian Products Which Are Affected—Twenty Per-Cent Preference Over Goods of Other Countries and an Opening for Newfoundland

Ottawa, July 1.—Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister of trade and customs, today through arrangements with the home government, made public the reciprocal tariff agreement entered into with the Canadian government and a number of the islands in the British West Indies.

Briefly, the agreement provides for a preference of twenty per cent of the existing rates of duty upon a large number of articles specified in A schedule and text with a minimum preference in the case of duties on sugar.

Provision is made for taking in the islands of the West Indies not parties to the agreement, as well as Newfoundland, within three years from the time it comes into force.

Any of the parties to the agreement may provide that the concessions granted shall not be applicable unless conveyed by ship direct between the two countries concerned, provision being made, in this connection for the regulation of freight rates by the Canadian government.

The agreement is to come into force by proclamation after it has been ratified by the parties concerned and the secretary of state for the colonies and may be terminated at the end of ten years on a year's notice. The agreement in part follows:

The Agreement. Agreement entered into the 8th day of April by the government of his Majesty's Dominion of Canada, represented herein by the Hon. Geo. E. R. Foster, minister of trade and customs; the Hon. Wm. Thomas White, minister of finance, and the Hon. John Dewdney Reid, minister of customs; and the governments of Trinidad, British Guiana, Barbados, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Antigua, St. Kitts, Dominica and Montserrat.

It is agreed between the government of the Dominion and the governments of the above mentioned colonies severally that: 1. On all goods enumerated in schedule A, being the produce or manufacture of Canada, imported into any of the above mentioned colonies, the duties of customs shall not at any time be less than 10c per 100 pounds.

2. On all goods enumerated in schedule B, being the produce or manufacture of any of the above mentioned colonies, imported into the Dominion of Canada, the duties of customs shall not at any time be more than four-fifths of the duties imposed on similar goods when imported from any foreign country; provided:

Reduction in Sugar Duties. (A) That on raw sugar not above No. 16 Dutch standard, in color, and molasses, testing over 90 degrees and not over 75 degrees by the polariscope, when imported in favor of the colony shall not at any time be less than four and a half cents per 100 pounds and for each additional 10c per 100 pounds the preference shall not be less than half a cent per 100 pounds.

(B) On all goods enumerated in schedule C hereto, being the produce or manufacture of any of the above mentioned colonies, imported into the Dominion of Canada, there shall be no duties of customs; but on the like goods, when imported from any foreign country, the duties of customs shall not be less than those there in set out.

(C) The act of the parliament of Canada entitled "An act respecting duties of customs" assented to on the 12th day of April, 1907, as amended by chapter 10 of the acts of the parliament of Canada 1909 shall in addition to the amendments necessary to give effect to the foregoing provisions of this section be amended as follows:

1. Tariff item 135 C to be repealed. 2. Tariff item 137 A to be repealed. 3. So as to provide that upon arrowroot, the produce of any of the said colonies imported into the Dominion of Canada, the duties of customs shall not exceed fifty cents per 100 pounds. (D) It is understood that the Canadian customs tariff item 135 B shall not be affected by section 2 of this agreement before the end of December, 1914, when in force.

Frightened at a passing automobile, two heavy horses owned by the firm of DeLongy & McDonald, ran away on Saturday afternoon, and at the corner of Sydney and Waterloo streets seriously injured Mrs. Sarah Smith by striking a wagon in which she was driving with her husband. Here they collided with Mr. Smith's wagon and upset it. Both occupants were thrown out, but Mr. Smith escaped with a few scratches. Mrs. Smith, however, was rendered unconscious and was taken to the hospital, where it was found that she had fractured one of her cheek bones sustained bruises about the head and body and her left leg was broken above the knee. DRIVING HIM TO THE GRAVE

"Fruit-a-tives Saved My Life"

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 26th, 1911.
 "For thirteen years I was a terrible sufferer from the tortures of Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation and Vomiting. I could not retain much food, and this, together with the pain, and headaches, was driving me to the grave. Then I used 'Fruit-a-tives' and almost at once I got relief. 'Fruit-a-tives' stopped the vomiting, relieved the Constipation, tamed up the stomach, and gave me the first relief in years. I feel that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives' and for the sake of other victims of Indigestion and Headaches, I will allow this statement to be published."
HARRY DICKINSON.
 "Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.00, trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DAVE'S DEBTS $145,887

Convicted Boston Broker Declares Nearly All is Secured
 Boston, July 2.—Robert E. Davis, the boy broker, who absconded to Rio Janeiro a few years ago, and who is now serving a sentence at Deer Island for the larceny of large sums of money from his clients, owes $145,887, according to his signed schedule in bankruptcy, which have been filed by his attorney, Winfield C. Towne. Davis admits now that of his liabilities, $129,550 is secured indebtedness. To the Federal Trust Company he says he is indebted to the amount of $79,200, which is secured by 200 shares of Connecticut River Power Company and 1070 shares of American News Company. William Wheeler, Davis says, is a secured creditor for $30,000, and that the security consists of an equity in the shares held by the Federal Trust Company. Litigation has taken place over the ownership of the securities pledged by Davis since Mr. Towne filed the unsigned bankruptcy schedule, and consequently Davis is not prepared to count them among his assets.

FACE WAS LITERALLY COVERED WITH PIMPLES.
 Four Different Doctors Did Her No Good.
 Two Bottles of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Cured Her.

Bad blood is directly the cause of the face breaking out in pimples, and it is impossible to eradicate them unless you get your blood into good shape.

Burdock Blood Bitters is compounded from roots, herbs, barks and berries, and is without a doubt the best remedy procurable for the purpose of driving all the blood impurities out of the system.

Mr. Geo. E. Miller, Clavering, Ont., writes:—"Last fall I was very much troubled with pimples. My face was literally covered with them. I went to four different doctors, but they could do me no good. One day a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly disappeared, and by the time I had taken all the second one the pimples had disappeared completely. Thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I would advise anybody who is troubled with any blood trouble to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Four Different Doctors Did Her No Good.
Two Bottles of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Cured Her.

Burdock Blood Bitters is compounded from roots, herbs, barks and berries, and is without a doubt the best remedy procurable for the purpose of driving all the blood impurities out of the system.

Mr. Geo. E. Miller, Clavering, Ont., writes:—"Last fall I was very much troubled with pimples. My face was literally covered with them. I went to four different doctors, but they could do me no good. One day a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly disappeared, and by the time I had taken all the second one the pimples had disappeared completely. Thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I would advise anybody who is troubled with any blood trouble to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Matthew Basque Struck on Head With Blade of Windmill

Chatham, N. B., July 2.—The death of Matthew Basque occurred in the Hotel Dieu early on Saturday morning and was the result of an accident which occurred in charge of Snowball & Co's barge Kimberly. The barge was towing the Kimberly out of Tracadie when the mill pump refused to work. Mr. Basque found the valve clogged with a chip. Having overcome the difficulty he raised himself so that he put his head in the way of one of the windmill blades which struck and rendered him unconscious. Owing to the prevailing wind the tug was unable to come alongside the barge until Portage Island was reached where the unfortunate man was taken aboard and hurried to Loggieville.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

Leo Smith appeared in the police court again this morning. He brought charges against a whole family of Busharas. The father he charged with breaking and entering his house and stealing a mirror and two pairs of scissors; one of the sons, a nine-year-old boy, he charged with stealing a letter from his house; and the Bushara family in general he charges with allowing a cat to enter his house and kill one of his canaries.

The nine year old boy did not appear as his father thought that he was too young to appear before the magistrate. His older brother appeared in his defence. As to the charge of breaking and entering, George Bushara laughed and said that he owned the house and had been doing carpenter work in it. He said he stole nothing from it.

The older brother, appearing for the young boy, said that he did not steal the letter and knew nothing about it. He said that Smith was very careless, and left the door of his house open, so that anyone might go in and steal. He said that his little brother found the letter at the door and gave it to Smith, who was sitting in a chair.

Smith was eager to press the charge against the young boy, but the magistrate told him that he did not think he would likely be sent to Dorchester and dismissed the case, much to the amusement of the Busharas.

There were eight prisoners charged with drunkenness. Two of these were fined $5 or two months in jail and the others were remanded.

Frank Kavanagh, charged with breaking a man's ribs with a stone, was remanded to jail.

The magistrate said that the physician's bill amounted to $10.

John F. Gleason left last night for New York whence he will sail on Wednesday for Europe with a party of friends. They will go to Naples, then to London and then to the Continent.

Leonard T. Cronin, formerly of this city, but now of Montreal, is spending a few days in the city, visiting his mother.

BUBBLE FOUNTAINS PLACED IN ROCKWOOD

Four Now Replace Old Style Cups—Jail Squad Work Wanted for Park Improvement

Hitherto, drinking cups common to all, the use of which is now considered undesirable, were attached to the several drinking fountains of the St. John Horticultural Association. Thanks to the generosity of George Blake these have now been replaced by modern hygienic water bubble fountains from which refreshing drafts of nature's one and only beverage can be had in unlimited quantities and without fear of contamination. Four of these have been placed and are now in successful operation in the public gardens; another near the bear den, a third adjoining the pavilion and a fourth near the new hatchery.

Yesterday Councilor John W. Long, chairman of the committee appointed to act with the sheriff in regard to land labor sent in the jail, accompanied by J. R. Armstrong of the St. John Horticultural Association, proceeded to Rockwood Park to inspect work which is much needed there, and which the prisoners could well accomplish if the jail committee give their consent.

At present automobiles proceeding along Mount Pleasant avenue have to turn and retrace their way. It is proposed, by making a short road, to connect Mount Pleasant avenue with the continuation of Seely street, that motor cars can make the round without fear of interfering with the exclusive privileges now enjoyed by horse and carriage drivers.

During the last spring the need of raising the level of the road which skirts the south of Lily Lake was made more urgent as the water of the lake overflowed the road by cutting down the top of the hill to the west of the spot mentioned material can be used for this purpose, and this work which could also be well done by the jail prisoners.

INTERESTING CASES IN THE COURTS TODAY

Several Matters in Probate — A $5,000 Note Case in Circuit

Edworthy and Henry Herbert Simpson, on the petition of the widow and Joseph P. Edworthy, the personal estate in England amounts to $184. That in St. John amounts to some $1,500. The will leaves the property for the benefit of the widow for life and then to the two sons, Gilbert and Charles, both infants. Fred R. Taylor is proctor.

The June circuit resumed the sitting at 11:15 o'clock this morning. The case of the Bank of New Brunswick re. Joseph Boulter, of Campbellton, had been set down for hearing. This is an action against the defendant, as endorser, on a promissory note for $5,000.

The following were sworn in a special jury—Wm. E. South, Rupert G. Halsey, John Edgewood, H. Colby Smith, Horace McCarthy, John H. Kimball and John Collins.

Mackenzie, of Campbellton, are appearing for the plaintiffs, and Powell & Harrison for the defendant. The petit jury was this morning dismissed until July 15 at fifteen minutes past eleven o'clock.

SPENT NIGHT ON BOTTOM OF A CAPSIZED BOAT

A resident of Long Beach witnessed the dawn of Dominion Day under unusual circumstances. He started to cross the river from Brown's Flat during the previous night and while in midstream the row boat which he was using capsized. After some difficulty he managed to climb upon the upturned craft and remained there until morning. His courage rose with the sun and when daylight arrived he slipped and swam to the shore. He passed a cold and uncomfortable night but otherwise seemed little the worse for his experience.
