Manila, April 13.—Three war vessels were signted at Batangas at 4 o'clock this morning. Their nationality is unknown. For some years past under the old Ross regime the Provincial Government has allowed unfortunates of unsound mind to be incarcerated for weeks-and even months-at a time in the Kent county Jail. This abuse inflicted a great injustice on the unfortunates themselves, who con-sequently could not receive the treatthis morning. Their nationality is unknown.

Where Rojestvensky is.

Tokio, April 19.—Rojestvensky's squadron of warships departed on Saturday afternoon from Kamranh Bay and last night was definitely located in Calao Bay, about 240 miles north of its previous position. The Japanese torpede flotilla "A." commanded by Lieut. Shigetaka Seki, ebserved the enemy's anchorage at 7.46 in the evening. No fewer than 26 colliers were near the battleships. The cruiser and volunteer division of the fleet were a little further south, at Cape Bantangs. Nine torpedo boat destroyers were with the fleet. It is now the opinion of the Admiralty that Rojestvensky has not been awaiting supplies, but the arrival of the ships which started from ment their cases called for, and must also have been a source of great annoyance and worry to the county and its officials. Repeatedly the late jailor, Mr. Robert Mercer, made protest and on one occasion-that of an unfortunate woman-members of the County Council expressed themselves strongly, while grand juries have repeatedly reported thereon without avail.

It is evident, however, that under the new and vigorous Whitney Gov-ernment, and with zealous and energetic representatives in the Legislature, this abuse and injustice is to be affectually and permanently stopped-a fact that will afford much satisfaction to every resident of Kent satisfaction to every resident of Kent County,

On Friday evening last The Planet drew attention to the fact that two of these unfortunates, Percy McIntyre, who was committed from Highgate; and George A. Wilkins, who was sent in from Tilbary, were confined in the jail at the present time, and asked that the Government's attestion or devoted to the matter. Promptly on the reassembling of Provincial Parliament yesterday Philip H. Bowyer, M. P. P., the earnest and energetic member for East Kent, brought the matter to the attention of the Government. He read the article from The Planet and asked the Government to take prompt action in haying the unfortunate men removed.

How. Mr. Hanna, the Provincial Secretary, in reply said that he had made enquiry, and found that no report on the subject had been made to the department. The presence of the two lunatics in the jail was due to the overrowding of the Asylum. He had given instructions to have an investigation made, and would arrange for the removal of the two men to a place where their own safety and that of the public would be assired.

Commenting on Mr. Bowyer's ment of the War Situation.

London, April 19.—Japanese diplomats in London and others regard the alleged breaches of neutrality by French in allowing the Russian second Pacific aduadron to remain overtime on the Cochin Chinese coast as one of the most serious developments in the situation. Minister Hayashi was particularly reticent and said he preferred to await confirmation of the report which have appeared to indicate a serious breach of neutrality. Baron Suyematsu, who took a view that was far from being alarmist, said that if the reports were true, Japan would have good cause to complain. Japan, however, had no intention of picking a Commenting on Mr. Bowyer's prompt action, A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., West Kent, said he was glad the worthy member for East Kent had taken up the matter as it saved him the trouble. H3 believed it was a move in the right direction.

The Provincial Secretary last even ing issued instructions to inspector Smith to deal with the matter promptly and have the unfortunates removed.

Speaking of the cases this morning Sheriff Gemmill said he had reported McIntyre's case on the 17th, asking their removal to the Asylum. The prompt and effectual action of Mr. Bowyer and the new Government is universally commended and, it is hoped, will put an end to a serious and unjust abuse which has long existed. Madagascar by the Russian squadron was a direct and prolonged violation of the principle of neutrality, but on account of the distance Japan in that instance simply lodged a protest. Japan, however, this is that Russia is now using Kamranh Bay as a base for action against her opponent, and says she intends to use it as the point for effecting a junction with the remaining division of the squadron.
"If the use of Kamranh Bay is continued," the paper adds. "Japan must regard its neutrality as completely ignored, and she will not be obliged to respect its neutrality. Violations of neutrality in distant ports are not important, but when close to the zone of war, it is impossible to view them with the same leniency."

"TO GET MORE BUSINESS."

A Boston deartment store recently published a communication ne of its customers, who asked: "Why do you advert so so much i I always buy from you when I want dry goods." The answer, though couched in more diplomatic language was virtually this: "We are much obliged to you for your patronage, but there are others. We advertise to get more business—to make new friends. The larger the business, the lower the prices." Advertising is thus not only directly helpful in spreading out before the customers a shopping program, but indirectly in increasing the purchasing power of his money by making possible a general lowering of prices.

As proving that the dissatisfaction with the Autocracy is deep seated and confirmed, Prof. Blind refers to the armed outbreak against the Government in 1825, and he gives an account of the noblemen and army officers who were involved in that unsuccessful at empt to estab ish decent rule in Russia.

Now, however, circumstances are more propitious to the popular cause and the discontent is much more widespread, as is indicated by various events to which Prof. Blind alludes; and he declares that, look wherever we may, the wal's of the great prison house, called the Czar's Empire, are showing cracks and signs of crumbling.

Referring to the public sentiment in Russia toward the war now wag-ing, Prof. Blind says:

Until lately the Russian landown er was rather averse to ideas of political opposition. The war has rous ed him. His laborers are taken from him by military mobilization. The wages he has to pay rise correspondingly in the absence of sufficient hands. His produce cannot be disposed of, as the Army Administration has seized hold of all the railway trains, There is a dangerous fermentation among the peasantry, threatening the life and the property of the landowner. Industry, too, is paralyzed among the manufacturing class and its. workmen. There is great fear as to the impossibility of maintaining the gold standard, which is but artificially kept up by continual loans abroad. Family life has become terribly disturbed, the upper into the military vortex. The Cleveland people also intend to hold an immense regatta at Rond Eau during the coming summer. The larger steam yachts will tow strings of smaller ones across the lake. WHAT CUTICURA DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itchings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains, and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalided by these distressing allments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as an æm ia, chlorosis, hysteria, and nervousness.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, certainty of speedy and permanent cure, absolute safety, and the great economy which have made Cuticura the standard humour remedy of the civilized world.

NEED NEW BLOOD IN SPRING TO BRING HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Spring blood is bad blood. It is clogged with impurities that make themselves felt in many ways, such as pimples and cruptions, poor digestion, occasional headaches, twinges of rheumatism, a lazy feeling in the morning and a strong desire to avoid exertion. Sometimes the nerves are unstrung, you feel dull and depressed and your strength is slipping away. You can only be put right by enriching the blood and driving out the impurities. Purgatives won't do this—they only make you weake? What you need is a tonic, and the best tonic that medical science has yet discovered is Lg. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood, brace the nerves and bring health and energy to weak, despondent and easily thred men and women, Mrs. Chas. Blackburn, Aylesford Station, N. SWIPED TICKETS

For the past month more gallery tickets have appeared in the box than had been sold at the ticket office. Every night Manager Brisco was out from two to three dollars and was at a loss to explain the discrepancy. About a month ago the box office was broken into and Mr. Brisco was of the opinion that the tickets had been taken then and were being sold outside the Opera House. He marked the tickets used Monday night, and it wasn't long before an unmarked ticket came up. This was spotted by Chas. Hicklin, and an investigation followed. Down stairs in the crowd a young lad was found selling anmarked gallery tickets. He was taken and searched, six tickets being found on him. The boy comes from a very respectable family and he was sent home with a warning to tell his parents and report to Manager Brisco park more. For the past month more galler, warning to tell his parents and re-port to Manager Brisco next morn-ing. The lad neglected to do so, and the matter was banded over to the police to investigate.

HAD A LIFE-LONG FIGHT

ALL LATE SIR H. M. STANLEY'S LIFE WAS A STRUGGLE.

on to Qualify for School Teacher They Appeared Thus Beady for Grea

Heary forton Stanley was a remarkable man, rather than a great one. For many years he was a force; that the influence he exerted will long survive him is doubtful. As an explorer his title to fame is secure. He discovered two sources of the Nile, and he traced the Congo to its mouth, a distance of 1,600 miles. So far as geography is concerned, he did more for Central Africa than any other man, with the exception of did more for Central Africa than any other man, with the exception of Livingston. These are his claims upon posterity. His fame among his contemporaries is based on several notable deeds, first, the search for Livingstone, second, the founding of the Congo Free State; third, the rescue of Emia Pasha. Surely his memory shall net be soon forgotten!

All Stanley's life was a struggle; but he foight like a brave man against the circumstances which combined against him. When he was a him. When he was ed against

BENRY M. STANLEY AND HIS BOY KALULU. boy, his fight was against his humble and obscure origin. He was brought up in a Welsh work-house, but received enough education to qualify for a school teacher. He knew enough to run away when the chance offered, and, shipping as cabin boy, he came to America. For a time fortune seemed to favor him. A wealthy American, Henry M. Stanley adopted him and he assumed his benefactor's name, discarding his own, which was John Rowlands. The death of his patron and his neglect to leave a will put an end, to the young man's good fortune, so once more he set out to win his way without a friend in the world. He Joined the Confederate army, and later fought in the Federal navy, without much idea of the merits of the great quarrel, no doubt, and with the sole desire to be doing something. After the war he secured a position with The New York Herald, and was sent by that journal to represent it in the Turkish war. Later on he visited MENRY M. STANLEY AND HIS BOY KALULU the war he secured a position with The New York Herald, and was sent by that journal to represent it in the Turkish war. Later on he visited Spain and other countries at the instance of The Herald. He was rapidly making a name for himself, when his great chance appeared. David Livingstone, the great African missionary and explorer, had not been heard of for two years. The outside world was anxiously expecting news of him. It was feared he was lost. The London Telegraph, edited at the time by Sir Edwin Arnold, and the New York Herald put their heads to gether and planned an expedition to go in search of Livingstone. Stanley was asked to command it. He saw his star, and accepted.

Struggles with poverty, struggles for a foothold in the world, were now a thing of the past. Stanley was now engaged in a still grimmer struggle—a conflict with unshorn nature in the heart of equatorial Africa. With the indomitable courage which none will gainsay him, he fought it way through lungle and desert and bloodthirsty natives, until at last he reached David Livingstone. Of the famous meeting both he and Livingstone have written. Stanley when the carry Livingstone back stone. Of the famous meeting both he and Livingstone have written. Stanley wished to carry Livingstone back with him, but that lion heart would not abandon his work. So Stanley gave him supplies, and after spending some weeks in explorations, they parted, and Stanley returned home. The reception he met was almost terrific. He was burdened with honors, mobbed with kindness. Hailed as the greatest of living explorer, his journeys everywhere were literally triumphal processions. So far swung the pendulum, and then it awing back, not, however, before Stanley had visited Africa again to trace the Congo to its mouth. On more than his early misfortunes. We have it on his own authority that he was the "thinnest-skinned man in the world." At the same time, he not always showed to others the consideration which was necessary to his own happiness.

MEETING OF H. M. STANLEY AND DR. LIV-INGSTONE. his return he found his greatest admirers comparing him with Livingstone, not altogether to the latter's advantage, while his enemies (and a strong, passionate man like Stanley was sure to make many) asserted that he was an auductous advertiser, reaping where Livingstone had sowed. They alleged that his treatment of the natives was harsh and unjust, that he traveled with an army, and that his explorations were explained by the superiority of breech-loading rifles to spears and war clubs. So the battle raged, and there can be little doubt that the things that were said embittered Stanley far more than his early misfortunes. We have it on his own authority that he was the "thinnest-schimed man."

It must have been with a feeling of relief that he embraced an early opportunity to plunge again into the wilds. This time it was as the representative of King Leopold of Belgium, whose dark ways in the Congo Free State have recer'ly attracted such unfavorable attention to His Majesty. Of course, it was inevitable that Stanley's connection with the colonization of the Free State should have been severely criticized, so when he again returned to civilization he found friends and enemies with fresh weapons with which to carry on the warfare. But Stanley's next movemed to silence his critics. He volunteered to silence his critics. He volunteered to lead the expedition to rescue Emin Pasha, without fee or salary, and forfeited seyeral thousand dollars to do so. In face of this, the allegation that he was a persistent sell-seeker falls to the ground. But the discussion threatmed to break out once more when he suggested that Zebehr Pasha, a noted slave dealer, should succeed him at Khartoum.

In 1890 Sir Henry married Miss at Khartoum.

In 1890 Sir Henry married Miss Dorothy Tennant, a beautiful artist, and sister of Hon. Herbert Asquitn's wife. The girls were brought some unenviable notoriety by E. F. Penwife. The girls were brought some unenviable notoriety by E. F. Peason's ''Dodo,'' which one of their was said to have inspired. It is said that when this interesting fact became known, the author sent the fol-that when this interesting fact became known, the author sent the following note to Miss Tennant:

"Dear Miss Tennant,—The whole world is talking about you and about my book. When may I call?"

To which the reply:

"Dear Mr. Benson,—Have you really written a book? How sweet of you! Call any time."

But she was never at home, ears the truthful historian.

Two years after his marriage Sir Henry became a naturalized British subject, and three years later took his seat in the House of Commons as the representative of North Lambeth. At his election the old discussion was renewed, for the last time, let us trust. Stanley would have been the last man to invite comparison with David Livingstone. The latter was a great man in any sense of the word, and a good man, a hero and a martyr. Stanley was a strong, courageous fellow, who regarded Christianity as a civilizing force rather than a path to eternal life. His dealings with natives were not marked by kindness, but by another virtue—justice, and this is all Stanley, if he were living, would ask from his biographers.

A Farm of One Acre.

At Orland, Cal., Samuel C. Cleek farmed for twenty-seven years on only one acre of irrigated land. He supported a wife, just before dying hought three other acres and left to his wife, $4,000 in bank. It is claimed that Mr. Cleek grew upon his farm a greater variety of crops than were produced from a single other acre in America. The remarkable fact that stands out clearly in the life of this man is the complete success achieved upon this tiny farm by the aid of irrigation water. In Japan an acre is considered a large farm, but, in this vestern country we are prone to also the land by leagues and sections.—Farm and Ranch. A Farm of One Acre.

Ex-Prmier Ross Returns Much Benefitted But Still Lame.

Toronto, April 19.—Hon. G. W. Ross. Miss Ross and Miss Mabel Ross arrived in the city yesterday morning after a six or seven weeks' sojourn in Jamalca. Their arrival was expected only by members of the family, several of whom were at the Union Depot to meet them. They drove direct to the family residence, I Elmsley Place.

The ex-Premier is tanned and looks exceedingly well. He was cheerful in manner and conversation, but naturally, owing to his absence from the scene, was not able to discuss Provincial or Federal politics. He intimated that he would not take his seat in the House until after the Easter recess.

"Although my rheumatism has not been very much relieved by my sojourn in Jamalca," he said in reply to several inquiries, "the rest has been most valuable to me. I come back almost entirely innocent of what has occurred here during my absence, as the last Canadian paper I saw, until this morning, was dated March, 30, and 1 had been wondering whither Mr. Whitney had got his address from the Throne through the House, and whether Sif Wilfrid Laurier had got over the initial stage of his autonomy bill. I have therefore some arrears to make up in newspaper reading, which no doubt will be exceedingly interesting."

Mr. Ross and his daughters left Toronto on Fabruary 22, and reached Jamalca on March 3. For three weeks they lived out in the country, near Kingston, and for the last three weeks of their stay at the hot sulphur springs forly miles from Kingston, and they had to drive that distance across the country to get their steamer.

Annual Gathering of the West Kent Institute Opened To-day

Civic Welcome From Mayor Cowan -Mr, Jewett's Good Address.

The annual convention of the Chatham District Teachers' Institute, which comprises the inspectorate of West Kent, opened this morning at the Central School, with a large and interested attendance of the teachers.

In opening the convention the Vice-President, Miss Georgia A. Mor-Vice-President, Miss Georgia A. Morrison, who presided, cordially welcomed the visiting teachers and appropriately expressed her regret at the unavoidable absence of the President, Mr. ff. M. Fleming, who had been a most earnest and capable official. Miss Morrison felt assured that the convention would prove of great interest and benefit to all present.

Inspector Park, the energetic Sec-Inspector Park, the energetic Secretary of the Association, submitted several communications, which were duly received and laid on the table. The acting president asked the secretary to appoint a committee to deal with the recommendations of the Provincial Educational Association.

Miss Alice F. Mounteer, delegate Miss Alice F. Mounter, nelegate to conference, furnished a most in-teresting account of the gathering, which was received with applaus2. THE CIVIC WELCOME.

Miss Morrison then introduced his worship Mayor Cowan, who delivered a cordial address of civic greeting to the Association. The Mayor expressed his pleasure at being present to welcome the delegates. "We are proud of our schools and of our teachers," he said enthosiastically, "and I heartily tender you the freedom of the city."

At the conclusion of the Mayor's address, Miss Morrison briefly expressed the Association's appreciation of the civic welcome.

NATURE STUDY.

NATURE STUDY.

The paper of A. E. Jewett, B. A., science master of the Chatham Collegiate Institute, on Nature Study, was of special interest to the teachers, in view of the fact that the course in Nature Study in the Public schools has recently been increased. The paper was full of excellent suggestions for elementary Nature Study work. He especially advised the leaving of the scientific aspect of the subject for more advanced students and the confining of the Public school work to observing the manner of life of the insects that the children are familiar with and learning facts about these, that every one should know.

Mr. Jewett was kind enough to bring several mounted specimens of local insects.

After the paper a short discussion worked Mr. Players Miss Irwin.

Cheaper in Canada.

London, April 19.—Application was made yesterday at Acton police court, by the Acton guardians, for necessary certificates for the emigration of 11 orphan and deserted children from the cottage homes to Canada. It was pointed out that the maintenance of these children in future would be £11 per annum, as compared with the present cost per child of £30 per annum. The magistrates granted the application.

Ottawa April 19.—The Easter exodus has begun and the whips are having a herculean task in keeping the necessary quorum in the House. Yesterday the front Government bench was entirely deserted after the orders of the day were called, and ten members of the Government side held the fort during the autonomy debate.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, in anywer to Mr. Boyce, of Algoma, made quite a lengthy statement regarding the extension of time of fishing off Norfolk County in Lake Erie.

In reply to Mr. Foster, Mr. Prefontaine said the ice-breaker Montcalm, in his opinion, was all right. It is now safely anchored in clear water, its winter task was done, and it was now resting quietly, though literally surrounded by mountains of ice.

Mr. Maclean asked the Premier about the Arctic expedition being fitted up at Cape Breton by Americans. It might not merely be a voyage of discovery, and Canadian interests should be safeguarded.

Luckily, the safety brake did its duty, and beyond some severe shakings and depleted vocabularies nothing more serious resulted. A year ago a similar thing happened. Mr. MacPherson was then in the cage. Mr. MacPherson brought the matter to the Government. He pointed out the dire possibilities of such occurrences, and an enquiry is to be instituted.

Brought the National to Its Knees and Has 11,000 Subscribers Lines Are Under Ground and Par liament Has Too Much Sense Assume Control of City's Streets.

Ottawa, April 19.—The story of mun-ipal ownership unfolded yesterday, riefly and graphically to the special elephone Committee, by Mr. Willocks. Telephone Committee, by Mr. Willocks, a member of the Glasgow City Council, was like a fairy romance. Mr. Willocks, who is visiting Ottawa, was invited to tell the committee of the working of the municipal relephone system in that paragon city of Sociland. He did so and stated that the system in question, was a success. Mr. Willocks was most emphatic in his belief of the good results accruing from municipal ownership of public utilities. He had the subject at his finger ends and so interested were the members that the discussion showed a tendency to wandar off into other fields of municipal ownership outside of the particular subject of investigation—the telephone. The Glasgow man outlined the system in his native city. The license to operate had been granted in 1900, over an area of 143 square miles. The license expires in 1913. The great competitor to the municipal system was the National Telephone Co., the telephone octopus of Great Britain. The Municipal. Co. had fixed a rate of 5 guineas ($25) a year for an unlimited service. The rates of the National were £10 ($50).

Brought to Time.

Municipal Co. had fixed a rate of 5 guineas ($25) a year for an unlimited service. The rates of the National were £10 ($50).

Brought to Time.

The competition of the municipal system had brought the monopoly to time in quick order. The people realized that fair and strenuous competition was the only manner in which an uprio-date and reasonable service could be obtained. Glasgow had in her streets and public places 300 public telephones, the municipal and the National side by side, where, by putting a penny in the slot, connection could be obtained in any part of city and suburbs.

Before the municipal came into the field there were practically no public telephones. The onslaught of the municipal 'phones had brought the National down to its knees there was no agreement between the two companies. The City of Glasgow did not allow poles to be erected in the streets. All lines were underground. No company could fill up the streets, to get to the conduits without consent of the city.

Mr. Maelean asked what would happen if Parliament ordered the city to allow poles, etc., to be erected in the streets.

Know Better There. "Parliament has too much sense for that," was the quick rejoinder.

The National had the larger number of subscribers, having been in the field much lenger. The municipal company had 11,000 subscribers. The result of the competition was that the National would now put a telephone in a residence for a nominal sum of $6 a year and charge one penny a cas. Had it not been for the strenuous municipal competition, the National would have Glasgow by the throat, $2 it had other cifes. Other cities, seeing the success of the Glasgow system, are now clamoring for teduced rates from the National.

The Only Way.

Mr. Willocks was enthusiastic over the general benefit that had accrued to the citizens through the municipal cownership of the telephones. In his opinion it was the only system that could give modern service at reasonable rates. He received the thanks of the committee for his very instructive statements.

Dr. Ochs, of Hespeler, testified briefly "Parliament has too much sen at," was the quick rejoinder.

Dr. Ochs, of Hespeler, testified briefly regarding a system absorbed by the Bell Co. in that vicinity. He was of the opinion that there was a demand for telephones among rural residents. The company to which he belonged was obliged to sell out to the Bell because they could not get connection with outside towns. For $15 to $20 a year a first-class service could be given by a well-organized independent company in the County of Waterloo.

A TELEPHONE ROMANCE

Glasgow Enthusiast Reveals It

At St. Andrew's church Sunday school room last evening A. E. Hardy, Provincial Secretary of the Sunday School Association, addressed 'those interested in Sunday school work. He said that the Sunday school was of inestimable importance to church and country. To the church it was close to being of vital importance. The Methodist church had the largest membership of any Protestant church. If the Sunday school were dropped that church would deteriorate and almost lose all its usefulness. The fundamental work of the Sunday school was conversion of the Sunday school was conversion of the scholars. The great question every person had to solve was "What is my relation to Jesus Christ?" While the Sunday school could not convert people of itself still it had its duty to perform, namely, to furn'sh spiritual nourishment. The next people of itself still it had its duty to perform, namely, to furn'sh spiritual nourishment. The next duty of the Sunday school was to train scholars in missions and in systematic giving. The children should be arged to earn the money they gave to missions. The Sunday school was almost of as much importance to the country as the church was.

No man could prophesy the future of this nation. No man could say that Canada would not be one of the greatest nations in the world. It is now the principal dependency of a great empire and may in future, be the greatest part of that empire with Winnipeg the capital, or should the Anglo-Americans, join together with Winnipeg might be the capital of America. A nation, however, could not be great without righteousness, no matter how large it might be. Therefore if Canada were to be great the people must be righteous. Of all great things in the boasted school system of Canada, the greatest were the teachers. Good equipment might help, but without good teachers good equipment and magnificent buildings and overything else would be quite useless. The same was true of the Sunday schools. Poor singing in Sunday schools was not excusable. With a proper book and proper work good singing could always be had With a proper book and proper work good singing could always be had where there were children. Gen-

GREAT BUT HARD WORK

THE RECLAMATION OF PRISONERS WITHIN THE DOMINION.

Many Are Apparently Mere Creatures of Circumstances, but Others Commit Crime Because of the Devilment That Is in Their Make-Up - The Question of Indeterminate Sentences.

Salvation Army, Dominion Commis-sioner for Paroled and Discharged Priners, writes of his work as follows:-

I am sure all question in connection with the work of parole will settle themselves if we keep faithfully at work on just and right principles. There is a great deal that is illuminating in the present duty faithfully discharged, and present duty faithfully discharged, and the light of it creates an ample amount of daylight in which to attend to the duty that comes next. It is like walking with a lantern on a dark night, so long as you keep going the light will keep far enough ahead to show you the way, which is much more intelligent than to sit down as many do with their problems and discuss the question as to how to get through the darkness that is a mile ahead of them.

Reconstruction of the Individual.

The fundamental principle of our

Reconstruction of the Individual.

The fundamental principle of our work is reconstruction—to make men new creatures. Everything else with me is subsidiary matter. Society cries punish the evil-doer. I say not only punish, but correct him. If a man has been in prison for 5 years it is a momentous instant for him when the guard slips the boit at the gate and he steps out a free man. But if this man was a criminal five minutes before he was discharged from prison, so is he five minutes after he had been let out into the fresh air. Moving the boit only resharpened his circumstances without doing anything to change the man, and the proof is often verified by this man's return to prison in a few days or weeks as the case may be. Change of circumstances is no index of change of character. Constructive work has first of all to be put into personality. It is not conditions that transform the man into the new creation, but conditions have both place and influence as a means.

Creatures of Circumstances. The Job a fellow soldiers on
Is one that's never through;
Each day's another chance that's gone
An' left us more to do.
Nobody else can do your work
Like you can anyhow.
The task grows bigger while you shirk—
It's best to "do it now."

form the man into the new creation, but conditions have both place and influence as a means.

Creatures of Circumstances.

It is a painful fact, but there is no denying it, the great mass of men living to-day are tools of circumstances; thistle down to the breeze, straws on the river of life, their course is shaped for them by the currents and the eddies of the streams, but only in proportion as they are things, not true men and women. Man was intended not to be the slave but the master of circumstances; and in proportion as he recovers his humanity, in every sense of the word, in proportion as he gets back his manilness, which is truly self-sacrifice, affection, loyalty to his nation and to a God above himself, so far will he rise above his circumstances. It would be nearer the mark to say that man is the architect of circumstances. It is character that builds an existence out of circumstances. Our strength is only measured by our plastice power. From the same material one man builds palaces, another villas. Bricks and mortar are simply mortar and bricks until the architect can take and make them something else. Thus it is that in the same family, in the same circumstances, one man rears a stately edifice, while his brother, vacillating and incompetent, ever lies among the ruins and finds his way at last to the felon's cell. The block of granite which was an obstacle in the way of the weak becomes a stepping stone in the pathway of the strong. True humanity consists not in the startling and shrinking at tales of misery we come in contact with in the prisons but in a disposition of heart to relieve it. True humanity appertains rather to the mind than to the nerves and prompts men to use real and common sense methods in extending to the fallen the helping hand in a practical way.

The Relapsed Criminal.

The great plague of society is the reddivist. He is the man or woman who has gone to prison half a dozen times, No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger. It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few dose of DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

One of the Chief Spots of Interest Is the Orient.

The city of Chafuhsien, the Mecca of the believers in Confuctanism, is in the grovince of Shangung, one of the most copulous districts of the orient. Here Confucius was born, and here his sacred bones lie buried. The tomb, which is located in one of the largest cemeteries in the province, about three nature of his offence. Under the German system he is regarded as a recidivist only when he repeats his offence.

There are recidivists who are professional and anti-spelal. It is the last, whether he be a general recidivist, committing a variety of crimes, or a special recidivist, committing a variety of crimes, or a special recidivist, confining his intractions to a single line, who is the most dangerous. The real problem in dealing with this matter is to distinguish between the accidental or occasional and the habitual criminal.

Discharged Prisoners.

We cannot separate the proper treatment of the discharged prisoners from the large and important question of prison administration. When a man returns to prison a second or third time it may be because when he went out he was not properly educated to so back into society, or if may be because society was not properly educated and prepared to receive him. If the convict has learned a trade, or has the manual treatment and employment in prison which lies at the basts of all trades, it is not so difficult to place him. But, if a man come out of prison without the fundamentals of industry inculcated into his life, it is hard to tell which is the more helpless, the prisoner who asks for work, or the man who would like to befriend him by giving his employment. I have come to the conclusion that our efforts, to be effective and lasting, must be carried on as a supplementary effort in behalf of the discharged or paroled convict, when he leaves prison, following up all the influences for his good during his incarceration, for he meet (as a rule) an apathetic and sometimes hostile society when he begins to breathe the atmosphere of freedom. This is where the services of the Prison Gate Department are active and potent. We stand by the man till placed in a situation, should he hold fast his determination to reform we encourage him in his good intentions till the man once whole empire.

The grave itself is surmounted by an sarth mound about twelve feet in height, the whole surrounded by a cluster of gnarled oaks and stately cypress frees. Before the mound is a tablet about six feet broad and wenty fort high mon which are inscribed the tablet about six feet broad and twenty feet high, upon which are inscribed the sames and deeds of the great founder of Confrictanism, a religion adhered to by over 200,000,000 human beings. The burden of this inscription, according to reliable translation, is "Perfect One," "Absolutely Pure," "Perfect Sage," "First Teacher," "Great Philosopher," etc. The avenue which leads up to the philosopher's tomb is even more interesting than the actual place of burial itself. On each side of the avenue are rows of figures of huge animals cut in stone-lions, tigers, elephants and horses, besides numerous mythical creatures, such as animals half dog and half frog, beasts with four legs and twice as many wings, besides a multitude of unnamable monsters that never lived on the earth, in the water or in the air. Taken thogether, the burial place of Confucius is one of the chief spots of interest in the orient.

feel his footing and in the course of time he becomes a social unit. Thus he is saved to the citizen and State. As to Indeterminate Sentences.

As to Indeterminate Sentences.

The indeterminate sentence system would greatly strengthen our hands in working out the problem in connection with the relapsed criminal in Canada. I would apply this system to everylman going to jail or prison on the third commitment, and sometimes on the first and second. If a man had made up his mind to follow a criminal life, he is better off in prison than at liberty. So clety also will benefit by this protection. When conditionally released he will have the opportunity of proving himself, and, if he should lapse into his former life he would immediately for fett his parole and he returned to prison. Let me cite the Swiss system in dealing or reducing the recidivists and discharged prisoners in the Canton of Neuchatel. The recidivists in their prisons in the year of 1870 number 75 per cent. of the total population. With discharged prisoners in the Canton of Neuchatel. The recidivists in their prisons in the year of 1870 number 75 per cent. of the total population. With the indeterminate seatence system from 1870 to 1892 recidivism decreased to 4 per cent. Now the recidivist is seldom found in their prisons. Our present system in Canada has but little effect on the recidivists. Very few relapsed criminals desire to reform or change their way of living, hence on their discharge they refuse any work offered or provided to assist them. Many have said openly to me, "I prefer to follow the graft." Something must be done to lessen this great evil. Give the indeterminate sentence system a trial and the axe will be laid to the be done to lessen this great experience system a trial and the axe will be laid to the root, and this persistent parasite will begin to diminish and disappear under the good and wise administration of our Canadian prisons.

Friend Poor Criminal Needs.

True friendship can only be made by true men. Hearts are the soul of honor. There can be no lasting friendship between bad men. Bad men may profess to love one another, but their friendship is a rope of sand, which shall be broken at any convenient season. If a man have a sincere heart within him he can be true and noble, and we can confide in him and lift him to his feet. It is all nonsense to say that all men are bad who are sent to our prisons. It takes years of study from practical experience to be able to determine which is the criminal by intent or choice and the criminal fallen by temptation. Friend Poor Criminal Needs.

Canadian Pacific Coast.

Indications how the progressive Japanese is turning the tables industrially on the Causian is well illustrated in the latest development of sealing industry. For years Victoria's (British Columbia) sealing fleet has crossed the Pacific to hunt along Copper Islands, and in waters contiguous to Japan. Lately a fleet has sprung up at Yokohama which has exploited waters on the Asiatic coast, not till this spring, however, have they crossed to this side. News received from the west coast recently by the steamer Queen City, describes the arrival at the old historic port of Nootka, of the Japanese séaling schooner Kinsel Maru. She came in for fresh water and to seek shelter from recent southeast gales. She left Japan on December 6, and has already been down the California coast after pelts, along the very routes followed by Victoria schooners. The fact that some of the best white hunters of the port of Victoria now hunt off Yokohama probably accounts for the Japanese knowledge of these waters. They have a coatch of a hundred skins, and after ably accounts for the squares accepted these waters. They have a catch of a hundred skins, and after leaving Nootka will hunt along the British Columbia coasts and Aleutian Islands and finish the season in Behring

The Hon. Edward Blake—presumably with the permission of Mr. John Redmond, who had allowed an hour to elapse without making a speech—led the resumed attack on the Commissioners. Mr. Blake is something of a Parliamentary mystery. He was a great politician in Canada, leader of the Liberal party, among other things. A learned man and an eloquent, he joined the Irishmen at St. Stephen's thirteen years ago amid a perfect salvo of flattering predictions of inevitable distinction.

Unhappily, his admirers have been disappointed. Mr. Blake has not moved. Why, a House cognizant of his great gifts often wonders. The only explanation is that Mr. Blake is too mild of manner and too moderate in language to become a successful Irish politician. He carries no rhetorical shillelah. As compensation, he can, and did yesterday, say some deliberately pointed things in Latin. This style, however, did not appeal to his Irish colleagues. In appearance Mr. Blake is the picture of cleveness. A finely-chiselled face is spanned by a pair of gold spectacles, and a mass of curiy mair, tinged with grey, is brushed back from a broad forehead. If the member for Longford were asked what other great man he most closely resembles, he would probably answer, and with truth, William Makepeace Thackersy.

A stale and unprofitable debate ended with a division on an amendment moved by Mr. Blake to reduce by £100 the Civil Service vote. The motion was defeated by a majority of 74—London Daily Mall.

Fall Wheat One-Third Crop.
Brantford, April 18.—Contradictory statements as to the condition of the fall wheat crop, led The Expositor to make some inquiry of farmers Saturday, as to how the crop stood, throughout the county. Reports to the effect that the crop has been killed outright are incorrect, but it is evident that wheat on low ground has suffered greatly from the fee which lay on it for a long period. On the higher areas the crop is coming along fine, and looking splendid. Some farmers stated this morning that in their locality fall wheat would only be a one-third crop.

THINGS THAT FEW OF ITS MYRIAD OF VISITORS KNOW OF.

Where the Thieves of the Great City Gath -Ways of the Vast East End Population-The Great Curse of the East End of London Is Drink-dews Care For Their Own Indigent Poor.

The shrines of men and places and things known to song and story usually occupy the time and attention of the visitor to Europe. England and its ancient capital are ho exception to the general rule. In London the House of Parliament; London the House of Parliament; that venerable structure erected in honor of St. Pater, Westminster Abbey, and that other noble church edifice, St. Paul's Cathedral; the ostentatious palaces of South African millionaires, the refined and luxurious city homes of the nobility, theatres, clubs, parks, museums, and all such essentials of modern civilization, each in turn receive their meed of praise and adulation; while almost within a stone's throw of these evidences of wealth and prosperity those unlovely appendages of the modern Babylon, South and East London, remain unknown not only to the sightseers but also to the dwellers in the metropolis itself.

The Thieves' Quarter, The following dramatic story con-nected with the royal opening of Par-liament is almost two centuries old, ac-cording to The London News. After The Thieves' Quarter.

The Thieves' Quarter.
In Southwark, on the Surrey side of the Thames, is a neighborhood, rarely ever visited except by the police authorities and a few self-sacrificing people, known as the thieves' quarters. This section, which is south of Guy's Hospital' and east of Bermondsey Market, occupies the space within a triangle, the base being Kent street. From this street radiate a number of long lanes and blind alleys. The houses in Kent street, the main thoroughfare, have an exceedingly poverty-stricken appearance, but are palaces in comcording to The London News. After Queen Anne had met her faithful lords of commons, at the beginning of one session in her reign, she held court in Westmin ter Hall. Eight thousand people are housed in this small space, consisting of dock laborers, costermonger ing of dock laborers, costermongers and makers of toys and ornaments. The remainder, a large proportion of the whole, are criminals, receivers of stolen goods, trainers of young thieves, false coiners and degraded women. There is scarcely a house in parts of this region of which some of its members have not had trouble with the police.

The moral depravity of the younger generation is so great that the various societies who endeavor to rectain these youthful criminals report more lapses from boys coming from their district and that of Drury lane than from all other parts of Lenden together. There are, how-ever, not a few honest people in this neighborhood, but more or less fami-liarity exists between them and the liarity exists between them and the criminal class. The same antipathy to the police exists among both, and criminals have often been notified by their honest neighbors of an intended police visit, after which capture is almost impossible. Kindness Breeds Consideration.

Many instances of the most devoted sell-sacrifice are to be met with the places. The parish physician and his belpmeet, the missionary and district visitor are all treated with the greatest respect and courtesy, and when on their errands of mercy may go into dark lanes, tumble-down tenements, filthy rooms, and even into well-known houses of thieves without molestation. A story is told that the parish doctor, while on his way to visit a bad case of tever, was relieved of his handkerchief by a boy thief lately arrived in the district. On his return he was met by the youth, who had in the meantime been informed of the identity of picking up things, or of 'laying a plant' where the jump and the proposal particular particular particular particular particular pa The Ideal Saddle Horse.

THE TONIC OF HEALTH,

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well. There is one medicine that is both a food and a tonic,—it aids digestion, promotes assimilation, converts food into nutriment that builds up nerves, blood, brain and bone. That tonic is Ferrozone, which contains exactly what a run-down system needs. Ferrozone supplies oxyg c fo purify the blood, phosphorous to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscless. No wonder it makes such vigorous men and women. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using Ferrozone; try it—now. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty chocolate oated Feyrozone tablets, at all dealers.

Strangers Not Wanted.

Should a stranger inadvertently entersone of these places, he must retire as soon as possible, or remain at his peril. Far away from the public fen and surrounded only by their own kind, plans can be discussed without danger. Usually, all the burglaries and crimes committed are known to the quarter, but the information is never allowed to leak out. Criminals pay enormous rents for the privilege of living together, and the most modern of conveniences and every known luxury are provided for those who can pay. The quarter has a world all its own. Balls and entertainments of all kinds are given, with which the police authorities, others are not, sucept that it is surmised they are probably like those with whom they are associated. When the quarter of one city becomes too hot for a criminal he flies to another, and there is fairly safe, unless the crime committed is of an exceptional nature. Where Labor is Housed.

That beehive of industry of over two millions of people, called East London, with little of beauty and nothing of history to commend it, the growth of little over half a century, its population the poorest of the poor, is a district known only by name to the residents of other parts of London and never visited by the stranger, yet this portion of the metropolis, with its interminable rows of low-fronted houses, earns a large part of the city's wealth; the producers themselves making barely sufficient to keep body and soul together without the assistance of all the members of the family, and for whom life contains so little brightness that to drown for a time the daily misery men and women have daily misery men and women have recourse to drink. The inhabitants of this quarter are Polish Jews, the makers of clothes and furniture, in or this quarter are other to the makers of clothes and furniture, in Shoreditch and Bethnal Green, boot makers on Mile End road, silk workers in Spitalfields and Bethnal Greea, dock laborers, factory girls, seamstresses, shop girls, who. Sir Walter Besant says, are sweated by sweaters, who are themselves sweated. The Jewish emigrants appallingly poor, upon their arrival in the city, are received by the Jewish Board of Guardians, and work is found for them at the lowest possible wage at which life can be sustained. As soon as they learn the ways of the country and something of the language they move, and in turn exploit their newly-arrived co-religionists and Christian neighbors.

The Gin Guyse.

St. Jude's Church on Commercial

St. Jude's Church on Commercial St. Jude's Church on Commercial road, decorated with paintings by Watts, is an oasis in this desert. Toynbee Hall, adjoining, is a memorial to Arnold Toynbee, originator of the University Settlement, in which highly educated young men, by living and working among the people in this region of ignorance and darkness, strive to raise them to a higher plane of living. The great enemy to all progress in South and East London, in fact everywhere among the laborisg classes, is drink. This curse is responsible for the majority of crimes, from common assault to the most brutal murder; for this men sacrifice their manhood, and go down, down until, brutalized go down, down until, brutalized and dead to all human feeling, they and dead to all human feeling, they live upon the degradation of wives and children; and the women, mothers of the future generation, strive whenever possible to forget the everpresent wretchedness of their existence by visits to the neighboring gin place, the very babes at the breast being stupided by the same soporific which unsexes the mothers. And all this that the rich owners of these leper spots may become richer; that high church dignitaries may live in a more princely style and entertain in a more lavish manner; or that a more principly style and the tendency in a more lavish manner; or that hereditary legislators of ancient lineage may purchase a few more old masters and articles of virtu, adding to their already priceless collection; or some lordling created from among the "noveau riche" may salve his conscience and debauch the public the "noveau riche" may salve his conscience and debauch the public mind by presenting hospital ships to the nation, building barracks known as "improved flats" or workmen's houses and other so-called charitable Real Christianity.

It is among the submerged tenth that brilliant syoung college men, clergymen, born in luxury and bred in refinement, men who might aspire to the highest position in the gift of the Church, cast aside all hope of preferment, subject themselves to insult, and even to death from disease, that they may carry to this region of Stygian night the Gospel. These humble followers of the lowly Nazarene are everywhere received with reverence, fights and rows are stopped, and mouths which but a moment previous gave utterance to oaths are silent until the "parson," as he is called has passed, perhaps on his way to comfort some poor as he is called, has passed, perhaps on his way to comfort some poor soul about to enter the valley of the shadow. In this manner these mea spend their lives, and when they become known are allowed to enter, freely and unharmed, dens which even the police dare not penetrate unless in force. In this strange quarter of the city, the East End, is to be found George's secondhand book shop, the largest in London, the specialty of which is matching odd volumes, the business being done principally from stalls in the open air.

A Writer on Canada.

Sir William Butler, who entertained the officers of the German fleet at Plymouth recently, is one of many Irishmen who have risen to fame in the ranks of the British army. But his chances in this respect looked slender enough at one time. Those were the days of purchase, and the £1,500 needed to get him his company were hopelessly beyond his resources. So he cabled to Wolseley, then in command of the Red River expedition, "Please remember me," followed the first Canadian boat "on spec.," and by the sheerest good luck obtained the appointment he coveted. Sir William is the author of several books of travel, the best knows and most popular of which is "The Great Lone Land," the outcome of a special mission to the Saskatchewan territories of Canada, which he undertook in 1870. In the following year he published "The Wild North Land," in 1875 "Akimfoo." and five years later a book of traveling reminiscences entitled "Far Out: Rovings Reto..." His recall from the command at the Cape at the time of the late war, and the subsequent vindication of his action by the evidence given before the War Commission, is recent history, of course.—Westminster Gazette. "Have by some surgeon, Shylock, on thy charge, to stop his wounds lest he do bleed to death." People can bleed to death. The loss of blood weakens the body. It must follow that gain of blood gives the body strength. The strengthening effect of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical, Discovery is in large part due to its action on the blood-making glands and the increased supply of pure, rich blood it produces. It is only when the blood is impoverished and impure that disease finds a soil in which to root. The "Discovery" parifies the blood and makes it antagonistic to disease. When the body is emaciated, the lungs are weak, and there is obstinate cough, "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the body on a fighting footing against disease, and so increases the vitality that disease is thrown off, and physical health perfectly and permanently restored. It has cured thousands who were hopeless and helpless, and who had tried all other means of cure without avail.

The number of blouses that are requisite to complete the wardrobe of the fashionable woman makes a very serious hole in her dress allowance. At the best of times there is very little wear in mousseline de soie or chiffon, and when it means, in addition, the constant drawing off and on of a fur coat or mantle the problem becomes quite a grave and important one. It is good hearing that some of the newest shantungs, both natural and dyed, are being fashioned in a chiffon weight, which offers a way out of the difficulty for reasons of economy as well as ex-pediency. There is a certain suggestion of plainness about a shantung, but it can be trimmed and decorated to the pink of modistic perfection. It is a point in its favor, too, that the natural silks of this description have the added ad-vantage of being none the worse for immersion in the washtub, which saves those alarming cleaner's bills which represent the heavy toll levied on extravagance.

The picture shows a white muli gown made over turquoise blue silk. It is trimmed with turquoise blue and white bowknots. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Some New Dress Skirts-Black and White Effects.

Much black and white are seen in the new spring millinery, and this was exemplified in a three cornered hat seen recently. It was of fine straw in a dead white shade, the upturned brim being of heavier black satin straw. The

WIN-DNE OLUB

The Win-One Club in connection with the young men of the William St. Baptist Church, held their regular meeting last night, with a good number in attendance.

An interesting debate furnished the program for the evening, on the subject, "Resolved that country life is more enjoyable than city life." On the affirmative side were Messrs. Ingram, Forsyth, D. Cameron and E. Stever, while the opposition was led by Messrs. Carns, Bensen, Burtch and Doolittle.

The judges considered the sides evenly balanced, and highly commended the young fellows in their first effort at public speaking.
