ANGES AND STOCKS

MONTREAL, THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 29, 1836.

Past and Present. From Blackwood's Magazine for August.

I saw a little merry maiden, With laughing eye and sunny hair, And heart and spirit light as air ; And hand and fancy active ever,

Devising, doing, striving still; Defeated off-despairing never-Up springing atrong in hope and will. saw her bounding in her gladness, on a wild heath on dowy morn, Weaving a gissening wild-loss parland. With clusters from the senited thorn,

Law her singing at her needle.

But that of fairer still, a vision Rose to the happy creature's night. And to a fairy world of fancy The mind was gone, more swift than

I saw her smiling in her slumber. The blissful day-dream not gone by I saw her weep—but bosom sunshir Broke out before the tear was dry

I saw her, "troops of friends" encircling Read kind good-will in many a face-With a bright glance, that memed exultin
"Oh happy world! oh pleasant place!"

I saw a dim-eyed dark browed wannan Declining in the vale of years?
Pale attents among the dull looks gles

I saw her wandering in her loneness Among the tombe at even tide, When autumn's winds with hollow murmurs,

I saw the sere leaves failing round her, I heard a voice-I caught a murmur,

I thought upon that merry maiden-I looked upon that woman lone;

MAMMOTH SHEET.

THE very liberal patronage bestowed on the Saturday News, since its commencement in July last, and a desire to meet that patronage by corresponding exertion, have induced us this week to multish a Double Number—being the largest sheet swenginted to Philadelphia for any pergone, and the largest literary paper over printed in the United States. To these of our friends ed in the United States. To these of our friends who are practical printers, it need not be mentioned that this undertaking has involved serious mechanical difficulties. The largest—or cheef the largest presses in Philadelphia is used for our ordinary impression—but this would ecommodate only a single page of the mammoth sheet, and we were obliged, therefore, to work four forms at different periods. The care used in preparing the paper—in removing and folding the sheets, &c. can only be estimated by those who have seen the experiment made; and, added to the necessarily, increased amount of added to the necessarily increased amount of composition, presswork, &c., these supplemen. composition, presswork, etc., these supplemen-tary expenses have made an aggregate cost, which would have deterred many from engaging in the outerprize. A gain of two thousand new subscribers will not repay the actual cost of this food a number.

subscribers will not repay the actual cost of this single number.

We flatter ourselves that, besides its extraordinary size, this number presents attractions that entitle it to some attention. It contains the whole of Prisadship's Offering for 1837, the London copy of which costs $4, and has 364 closely printed pages of letter press. Distinguished as the present age, and particularly our owngoughty, has been for cheap reprints, we believe this surpasses any former instance. lieve this surpasses any former instance. For four cests subscribers to the Saturday News receive, in addition to their ordinary supply of Miscellaneous matter, an English annual, the largest put received for the coming season; and they receive it, moreover, in a form that, from its coverly, gives it additional value.

Of the general observator of the Saturday News we need not speak. That has now become se well known as to require no comment. We may take occasion to say, however, that in enterprise and resources we yield to no other publishers in this city or elsewhere, and we are determined that our paper whall not be curpassed. We have embred the field prepared for realous competition, and we are determined that our paper whall not be curpassed.
