CANADA'S GREAT EXHIBITION TO BE OPENED BY BORDEN TODAY ONE MILLION MARK IS SLUGGED

Exhibits Are All in Place to Greet Crowds on Opening Day, and Executive is sanguine That Attendance Record Will Be Easily Established for This Year's Fair.

The Canadian National Exhibition this morning is a huge ant-hill disturbed by the toe of enterprise. It literally swarms with industry. About its spacious grounds and in and out at the buildings streams of humanity cross and intercross each other's traffic, apparently stumbling over each other in haste. The big fair is being laced into shape for the opening ceremony this afternoon.

Confusion is obvious; noise is rampant. Yet in the midst of all may be traced a certain methodical precision. This is seen in the last few dabs of paint which the white clad workmen splash on. They seem to bring out the finishing effect. So it is in all departments. The incessant din of hammer and saw which reigned all Saturday has died away into desultory action. The exhibits duly modified and labelled are on the shelves and pedestals, and busy clerks sweep out the packing. By 11 o'clock the big preliminary hush will settle over the grounds and everything will wait the opening strains of music.

The little tent village known as the Midway is a stage in setting. Outside the "barbers" with voices well edged with their huge tin trumpets and wait the influx of "the public." Inside the trained monkeys, the boat-constructors, the bears and all those necessary adjuncts of the animal kingdom, as well as other useful members of the supporting castes are receiving final admonitions. Soon an impatient frier spying the venerable head of a numerous family bearing his way, will break into raucous shouting. Behind him the horns will take it up, and the steam callopes and the thousand others. And with the clamor the Midway declares the big fair to be "on."

Expansion the Slogan. There is something unusually attractive about the Exhibition on its latest anniversary in the avowed object of expansion. Admiration grows rapidly into enthusiasm when enterprise steps boldly into broader channels and seeks larger objects. And the directors are dreaming big dreams this year. A million attendance is one of these.

Never have things been so well under way for an opening day, declare the authorities. Well-laid plans were brought into operation in plenty of time to make the demonstration of the different products a success. The condition of the government building excited the attention of the world's eyes. Today there is no more beautifully attended or splendidly decorated section on the grounds.

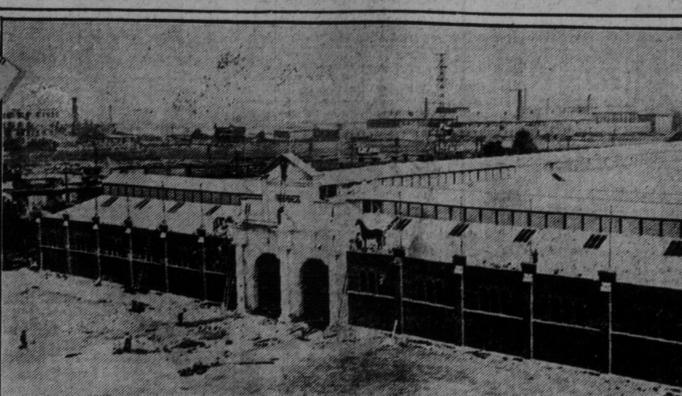

Significant Features. In this building, too, there is a feature which will attract attention out of the ordinary. The contribution of the Austrian Government is held by some to possess the significance of the exhibition graduating into the world's.

NO REAL CLOUDS SAYS PREMIER

Alarmist Utterances Not Warranted by Business Outlook — Redistribution Bill at Next Session.

The Right Hon. R. L. Borden, premier of Canada, who today opens Canada's National Exhibition, arrived in Toronto Sunday night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Borden and Hon. George H. Parley and Mrs. Parley. The premier is to continue his visit in Toronto over tomorrow, when he is to lay the cornerstone of the city's new technical school. He will leave for Ottawa on Tuesday night.

When seen by The World at the King Edward Hotel last night, Premier Borden was in the most optimistic frame of mind in regard to the general business outlook. As to the "hard times" that a section of the Liberal press was prophesying, he said he did not wish to appear in the light of a prophet, but he declared that he had seen no disturbing evidences.

As far as the financial stringency was concerned, he said that, according to his information, it was not greater in Canada than in other countries, and that it was due to world wide conditions.

GEORGE HENRY WAS NOMINATED BY EAST YORK CONSERVATIVES CONVENTION LARGEST ON RECORD

Secretary-Treasurer of Good Roads Association Chosen at Meeting to Contest Riding at Forthcoming By-Election — Selected Candidate Had Eighty-Nine Majority Over Nearest Competitor.

At the East York Conservative convention on Saturday at the Y.M.C.A. Hall in East Toronto, George S. Henry was nominated as candidate for the forthcoming by-election, resulting from the appointment of Alexander McCowan, M.L.A., as sheriff of York County. Never in the Conservative annals of the riding has there been a larger convention or a keener contest for the nomination, and Mr. Henry received a majority of eighty-nine votes over H. H. Ball, the next in line.

Mr. Henry has had many years of active service in municipal and political life. He was in the York township council for eight years and was reeve of the township for four, besides being warden of the county council. When the good roads movement started and the York highway board was formed Mr. Henry was appointed a member of it, and he has since been made secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Good Roads Association. His farm in East York is about three miles east of Laning and four miles south of Agincourt.

Addressing the convention after the delegates on the way they had struck by the convention. He expressed his gratitude to those who had supported him and hoped that since the contest was over there would be no ill-feeling. For his own part he wanted to make it clear that he would devote his best energies to the interests of the riding when elected and that he would not be considered.

MYSTERY VEILS DUAL DROWNING IN LONELY ETOBICOKE RIVER VICTIMS WENT TO DEATH UNSEEN

F. H. Taylor and L. L. Findlay Disappeared From Cottage in Lonesome Bend on Tuesday Night and Are Believed to Have Been Drowned While Bathing — Dragging Operations Being Conducted.

Lonesome Bend, a quiet, secluded little valley thru which the Etoiboke River winds a narrow way, claims a mystery. Somewhere hidden under the surface of the placid stream are the bodies of two Toronto young men, and all attempts by the authorities to pierce the veil surrounding the case have proved in vain.

Under circumstances unknown to a living person F. Harry Taylor, aged 28, 114 Bond street, and Lloyd L. Findlay, aged 26, 346 Markham street, were drowned in the river early Tuesday evening. Their absence was not regarded with anxiety until Friday night. Despite numerous efforts no trace of the bodies has as yet been discovered.

Situated on the western bank of the river near the lake, and only about half a mile west of Long Branch Park, Lonesome Bend is, indeed, an ideal spot, a splendid location for cottagers. The resort consists of about a dozen small houses and a few tents, the owners sometimes spending the summer there and on other occasions just staying for week-ends.

Last spring Ernest R. Bruce, 51 Fairview avenue; S. W. Ross, 196 Baldwin street, and two friends rented the cottage Idlenook for the season. It was quite a common occurrence for other boys to go out to the cottage and spend a few days each week. On Monday Findlay, Ross and Bruce were all swimming in the lake. They then went to the city, with the understanding that Findlay and his friend, Taylor, would go to the cottage about the middle of the week.

On Tuesday morning Findlay and Taylor went out to the cottage. In the afternoon the two boys were seen swimming about in the creek. At 6 o'clock Mrs. Will Crawford, who lives next to the boys' cottage, noticed Findlay and another young man diving off the spring-board in front of their camp. She then went into the house to get supper. A nasty wind was blowing in gusts from the south and the usually still waters were beaten into turbulence by the breeze.

Desiring to go for a row about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Mrs. Crawford and friends walked in front of the other cottage and noticed the rowing boat. It was the custom of the men in the cottage to always take the oars from the boat after being out for a row and to remove them to the house. Mrs. Crawford remarked at the time that it was fortunate that the boys had neglected to take the oars out. She naturally supposed that they had dressed in a hurry and caught a car to the city.

S. W. Ross visited the cottage at 4.30 Thursday afternoon. He decided to go in swimming. On entering one of the rooms he found Findlay's clothes on the hangers and surmised that he was in swimming. Not being able to find his own suit, he appropriated one belonging to Ernest Bruce.

Shortly after Bruce arrived at camp, having just finished playing with the 48th Highlanders at Long Branch. He called to Ross to come out of the water and get ready for the city. There were also friends at the cottage. Both men noticed that Taylor's clothes were in one room and Findlay's in the other. But they were not alarmed, thinking that the two friends had just gone out for a short while.

There was no one at the cottage on Friday, but Bruce at the last moment discovered the bodies of the two boys.

FOUR MEET DEATH BY DROWNING IN HAMILTON WATERS ON SUNDAY

Man and Woman Whose Identity is Unknown Were Capsized From Rowboat Off Oaklands Beach and Sank Before Assistance Came — Cook Disappears From Steamer, and Young Boy Was Drowned When Rowboat Overtaken.

Four people were drowned in a motor boat in the vicinity of Oaklands Park about 2.30 o'clock last night. Quickly bringing about they sailed at full speed for the point whence the cries appeared to come. After a few moments' search during which time the cries for help had ceased abruptly they found an overturned rowboat and a short distance away a pair of oars, the seat of the boat and a cushion. Stopping their motor the men shouted at the top of their voices in an effort to locate those in distress, but they received no response.

The two young men towed the boat to Bastien's boathouse at the foot of Picket street and telephoned the police. Constables Kay and Burtelle were sent to the boathouse and quickly taken in the launch to the spot where the accident was believed to have occurred. It was pitch dark and the young men had considerable difficulty in locating the place. No trace of the victims was found.

A young man said that he had been sitting on the north shore of the bay just opposite the scene of the tragedy and heard cries for help repeated about 25 times.

AUSTRALIA WILL SEND DELEGATES

Commonwealth Will Be Represented at Imperial Defence Conference to Be Held in Canada.

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 24.—(C. A. P.)—It is officially stated that Australia will be represented at the imperial defence conference, which is to be held in Canada at the end of the year. The delegation will be chosen here and will include either Premier Crook or Minister of Defence Millen, probably the latter. The date and place of the conference are now subjects of negotiations.

Mr. Millen, referring to the suggestion that the dependencies should supply the nucleus of an eastern force for the defence of the empire, suggests that the matter should be referred to the forthcoming conference, adding that "anything that will tend to establish in the Pacific that naval power which he thought was secured by the 1909 agreement, must be agreeable to Australians."

WHY SHOULD INVESTORS EAGER FOR G. T. R. ISSUES

Harry Thaw Tells Reporters That He Has Twice Faced the Death Chair and the Probability That He May Be Returned to Matteawan is Not Worrying Him.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 24.—(Can. Press.)—A. W. Smithers, chairman of the G. T. R. board of directors, arrived from England Saturday night, on the steamer Laurentic, on his annual visit to Canada, and was met in this city by Chamberlain, president, and W. W. Wright, vice-president, of the G. T. R. and G. T. P. system, and together they got over the Transcontinental Railway to Winnipeg on Monday, on a tour of inspection.

Mr. Smithers, in an interview with the Canadian press, said he wished it made clear that the G. T. P. would not divert the western trade of Canada via the Cochrane Junction to U. S. ports. The company never had any such intention or any wish to act disloyal to the Canadian Government and people, and the company realized that the success of the G. T. P. depends on the good-will of the Canadian people.

His statement as to the two voices was corroborated

JAPANESE TYPE SHOULD SURVIVE

Former Ambassador Bryce Hopes Western Civilization Will Not Destroy Tradition

In the course of a notable speech made at Tokyo, the Hon. James Bryce, former British Ambassador at Washington, said he hoped that Japan would retain her own form of civilization and not permit the west to swallow up the civilization of the western world. He thought it was refreshing to meet a type that was just as good as the west and not at all monotonous.

Recently Mr. Powell was having trouble with a sore hand and said that the affected part was quite hard. He had forgotten about the shot until his daughter probed the sore spot and found the pellet.

seven children, had been in delicate health, and engaged as cook on the steamer, in the hope that the trip on the water would do him good.

The officials of the company feel that it will be next to impossible to find the body.

John Farr, aged 16, the only son of John Farr, who resides at 24 East Barton street, was drowned and Harold Mills, aged 16, of 28 West Murray street, and John Clinton, aged 15, of 2 Tiffany street had a narrow escape from the same fate when the rowboat in which they were seated capsized about three-quarters of the way to Oaklands on a direct line from the foot of James street about 4.30 last evening.

Alberts Bries, three young men employed on the Steamer Modjeska were sailing in the vicinity when they imagined they heard cries for help coming about. They saw in the dim light the upturned boat.

There had been a remarkable calm upon the bay for some minutes previous to the accident, but a sudden gust of wind filled their sails and they were quickly upon the scene. It was then they saw the two boys struggling in the water and with some difficulty they succeeded in pulling them aboard.

The boys were so exhausted they could not speak coherently of the accident.

The three young men at last learned from them that there had been a third person in the boat, 10-year-old John Farr, but that when the boat capsized he had struggled about for a few moments and sank before help arrived.

When taken aboard the Modjeska, which was lying at the wharf, they were stripped of their wet clothes and wrapped in warm blankets.

Changing Cars. They explained to P.C. Duncan that they were in the act of changing cars when they were moving about in the boat when it capsized and all three were precipitated into the water.

The two older boys were able to keep their heads above the surface until the timely arrival of the three men in the sailboat. Their young companion, however, sank almost immediately despite their efforts to save him.

The two rescued were at the point of exhaustion when picked up, and it was only the prompt and heroic action of the three young men from the Modjeska in answer to the cry of distress that prevented a triple drowning.

It was stated that there were several motor boats in the vicinity at the time.

An official of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is in receipt of a letter from Rev. Robert Johnson, D.D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Montreal, dated at Portland, Oregon, in which he entreats over a ledge, received by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway through the Yellowhead Pass to Tete Jaune. He says in part: "There are splendid possibilities there. The territory Athabasca is so wide that the mountains do not crowd in upon you as upon some other routes, but you get such a splendid and continuous view and the panorama is so constantly changing that the effect is indescribably grand. The boat trip, too, up to Prince Rupert and Stewart was particularly pleasant."

Give your family substantial foods that nourish and have all things in your home as well arranged for your own loved ones as you would have for guests, then when you hear company is expected you can treat them as they will like to be treated, like one of the family and you will not have to turn the house upside down from attic to basement for fear all will not come up to a critical standard. If you are comfortable you will be cheerful; you cannot be comfortable if you are always tired.

There is a great difference among persons in regard to their power of accomplishing work. Some are mere chips on the current of life drifting aimlessly, others have always "something accomplished, something done, to earn their right's repose."

Beacon wrote that "there is no impediment in the wit that may not be wrought out by its studies; if the wit be wandering, study mathematics; so for every defect there is a remedy." So all faults may be cured and good habits may be made to replace bad ones. It is an easy matter to spend day after day, week after week, going thru the same forms of work and have but little to show for effort. The butterfly visits as many flowers as the bee, the grasshopper covers more ground than the ant, but what different results? One moves in a beeline toward a definite purpose; the other has been so persistent that for three thousand years the ant has been an example of industry.

True Economy

OF ALL the wastes in the world there are none so much to be deplored as that of wasted time; money we value too highly, but time, because it is like the widow's cruse of oil, which, the divided among millions, still remains the same, we hold cheap.

As an instance of direful waste of time of which I speak I have only to call your attention to the fact that the large number of householders in our country spend twice as much time in the performance of their home duties as is necessary.

Many of these have only small families to do for, yet they adopt such hard ways to accomplish their work that it is impossible for them ever to have any leisure to devote to the training of the children, the discharge of other pressing duties or for personal recreation.

They have no time for pleasure. In fact, they have denied themselves all pleasure until they have lost all capacity of enjoyment and are no longer entertained by anything but work. Happily there is a way of working that is not so laborious as these exasperating women would have you believe; in the "new style" housekeeping the brain directs the hands and feet and a saving of time, steps and strength results, but you must have your wits about you if you are to become a heretic and break away from old-time women-killing ways; you must do your work well, but not live for the sake of work alone, that benefits neither yourself nor a single member of your family.

Give your family substantial foods that nourish and have all things in your home as well arranged for your own loved ones as you would have for guests, then when you hear company is expected you can treat them as they will like to be treated, like one of the family and you will not have to turn the house upside down from attic to basement for fear all will not come up to a critical standard. CARMELITE SISTERS ESTABLISH THEIR HEADQUARTERS IN CITY

Seven Members, All Foreigners, Are Doing Noteworthy Work in Caring for Neglected Children and Aiding Parents as Need Arises—Clothing Provided in Some Cases.

A lately added proof of the increasing needs and activities of Toronto along the lines of charity is the establishment of the Carmelite Sisters of the Divine Heart of Jesus, now domiciled at 52 Ossington avenue.

The coming of this new community has more than a local significance, as it means that their institution has chosen this city as the headquarters for the order in Canada.

There are seven members at present, all foreigners, the Superiores, a bright little Italian, who, however, talks English, German and kindred tongues are spoken by others of the newcomers.

The work of the Sisters is something which must attract the kindly disposed everywhere, the care of neglected children, principally foreigners. So far the Sisters have eight in residence.

They are doing everything for them that their means permit. They also care for the children of mothers who have to work by the day or of fathers who have no one to look after their little ones.

Those old enough attend school and return after school hours to their parents at home.

Practical Methods. Visiting and concouraging families in their own surroundings and reminding them of their duties as Christians, is another part of their work.

On one occasion recently the Sisters were successful in overcoming the objections of having no clothes, no boots, and such like, and were rewarded by seeing twenty of those whom they had visited, at church on the following Sunday. Any found either sick or in straitened circumstances are attended to by the Sisters.

The children are without exception those of very poor families, and while a small fee is asked where possible everything is done free of charge where the case demands it.

The community has no revenue except what comes to it from the charity of the donors. His Grace, Archbishop McNeil, has established them in their present home, and the new occupants have scoured, painted and polished, until things are fairly shining.

What is troubling these good women now is where will the boots and other warm clothing come from to protect their little charges during the winter?

Comparatively New Order. It is a long time since the name of Carmel has been associated with things extraordinary. Elijah and many ancient hermits were familiar with the caves and grottoes of that eastern country.

The miraculous feeding of the prophet by the ravens may have had something to do with the adoption of the name by those whose subsistence is often provided for them by means of extraordinary and unexpected.

The branch of the Carmelites now in Toronto belongs to an order established on August 2nd, 1891. It is thus comparatively new. The mother house is in Rome, and there are twenty-two other houses in Europe and America.

There are four hundred members who are caring for one thousand children between the ages of one and fourteen years in their institutions, besides a many more living with their families.

A PRETTY GOWN OF BLACK AND WHITE FOULARD.

WHITE foulard dotted with black makes an especially attractive summer material and this gown is smart and attractive, and, at the same time, essentially useful and practical.

The blouse is made in the kimono style that is such a pronounced favorite. It is perfectly plain without fuss and feathers and closes right down the front.

The collar makes an important feature. It can be rolled over the shoulders or it can be buttoned up about the throat and the sleeves can be made longer or shorter.

The skirt is cut in three pieces, the edges all being overlapped in the center. In one view, it is shown with drapery in the left front and, in the other, it is shown plain.

It is not often that one design can be made to take such different aspects but this one can be made with plain or draped front and, when the drapery is used, the edges can be either straight or curved.

The waist line also can be adjusted at or above the natural line as becoming. The foulard gown is always a desirable one for summer wear but the season offers a wide opportunity in its wealth of fabrics and this design can be copied in any material.

For the medium size, the blouse will require 2 1/4 yards of material 27, 2 1/2 yards 36 or 3 1/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 1 1/2 yards 27 inches wide for the collar and cuffs; the skirt 6 1/2 yards 36, 5 1/2 yards 36, 4 1/2 yards 44 inches wide. The width of the skirt at the lower edge of the blouse 7832 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches waist measure; of the skirt 7833 from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Sunflowers

The old-fashioned large-flowered sunflower has grown to be almost entirely neglected of late years. Why, we do not know.

A sunflower is a curious thing to watch—and an educational thing to watch as well. Have you ever watched its great wide-open face staring full at the sun, no matter where he goes to?

gun that could do anything any pitcher in the world could do. It could throw a curve ball or a fast ball, or a drop ball or a raise ball. It could even throw a spit ball. And speed? Why, Billy, it had Joe Wood and Walter Johnson beaten to death. No human being could have the speed that gun had. All you had to do was wind the spring to the desired speed and press a trigger.

"That gun could hurt a ball further than anyone could hit it, and so high in the air that you could hardly see it. I used to place the gun in the pitcher's box and, with Steve, a little colored boy on my place to pull the trigger, I would practice batting by the hour. Steve would set the spring to suit himself, and the way those balls used to come whizzing across the plate was a caution. I got more batting practice in a day than any other ball player gets in a month. Is it any wonder that I was able to win those games for you down in Atlanta, or that I was able to win that game for the Red Sox this afternoon?"

"And as for my fielding, where could you get a fango hitter that would give me the practice that gun gave me? You know how fast I can run. Billy, I developed that the same way I developed my batting and fielding. Undoubtedly I am naturally a fast runner, and doubtless I am what you might call a natural ball player, but without that pitching gun, 'how did you learn to play the outfield and bat—basically?'"

BIG ATTRACTION AT PRINCESS THEATRE

"Count of Luxembourgs." Huge Minstrel Success, Will Open Season Tonight.

No attraction in recent years has been so widely heralded as "The Count of Luxembourgs," Klav and Erlanger's huge musical success, which attracted crowds at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, for months together.

will be seen at the Princess Theatre tonight and for the balance of the week, with regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees, and with the original production intact. It ran for 280 performances in Berlin, duplicated this performance in nearly every city of note on the continent, including Paris and Vienna, while Londoners revelled in it for two years.

The fame of Franz Lehár's music preceded the production to this country, and today many are familiar with several of his numbers. Everyone who has seen "The Count of Luxembourgs" confesses that the musical is one of the most brilliant achievements of Lehár's brilliant career.

Besides the brilliancy of the music, Glen MacDonough has provided a most interesting libretto. The clever lyrics of Adrian Ross and Erlanger have been retained. Klav and Erlanger have provided an exceptional cast and stage settings, that are gorgeous. In this production is the famous Staircase Waltz, that has attracted no end of attention. In the second act, is a huge grand staircase, and the members of the company actually dance up and down this to the strain of the entrancing Lehár music.

FAREWELL WEEK FOR MISS HASWELL

Popular Actress Will Be Seen in "Sauce for the Goose" at Royal.

Tonight Miss Haswell will begin her farewell week at the Alexandra Theatre. For the "goodbye," Miss Haswell has chosen to present "Sauce for the Goose."

"Sauce for the Goose" is a play that is especially to women, as it tells the story how a clever young wife who is neglected by her husband, turns the tables on him and succeeds in making him realize that there is more in a pleasant home-life than doing too much like to worldly affairs.

The lesson taught in "Sauce for the Goose" will appeal to every right-thinking young married man. Especially to those who are perhaps even going to do too much in the way of neglecting those with whom they should devote more attention to at home.

While the author did her best to teach a moral, she did not forget that the public like to laugh and there are many situations in the play that are really mirth-provoking. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given for Miss Haswell's farewell week.

McINTYRE AND HEATH COMING

McIntyre and Heath, the famous back-face comedians, will be the opening attraction at the Alexandra Theatre for work beginning at, start Monday, Labor Day matinee, under the management of the great success, George V. Hobart, and Jean Schwartz's musical comedy, "The Hat Trick." The production, staged by Ned Weiburn, has an exceptional dancing chorus.

WILLIAM CORBETT IN "SILVER KING"

Famous Dramatic Revival at Attraction at the Grand This Week.

The Grand Opera House opens its 42nd season tonight with a great revival of Henry Arthur Jones' famous drama, "The Silver King."

William Corbett, one of the most prominent of the younger English actors now in the United States and Canada, will be seen in the role of Wilfred Denver, and has surrounded himself with a cast of exceptional ability and has a production that is the equal of that offered the public when the play was the sensation of two continents.

With My Corbett is J. S. Ryan, the brilliant and talented Australian actor, who introduced the plays of that erratic genius, George Bernard Shaw, to the Australian theatregoers, and who will be seen in the role of the Soldier—a part which he plays admirably with wisdom for many years, and in which he is said to have no equal.

This revival is under the personal direction of Mr. Corbett, and he has spared no expense in securing a production and cast that is in keeping with the correct staging of the popular and interesting drama. During the engagement at the Grand the usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

JAMES E. COOPER AT THE GAYETY

Great Laughter-Making Trio Act Piece is "The Blue Rose."

"The Beauty, Youth and Folly" company will be seen at the Gayety Theatre this week. It is an entirely new organization, with James E. Cooper at its head, appearing in a new two-act piece called "The Blue Rose."

Mr. Cooper has retained his original character of Gus Groutch, which has been completely re-written and is the central figure of the burlesque. The new piece is said to be extremely funny, with bright lines and many lively situations and incidents that keep the spectators in constant convulsions of laughter, and Mr. Cooper is credited with having provided a wealth of gorgeous scenery and pretty costumes.

Among the talented people who appear may be mentioned Tom McKee, Joe Madden, Eddie Foley, Lucie Cooper, Dolly Webb, Jennie Ross, Lottie Blackford, Mabel Webb, and a chorus of 24 attractive girls.

"PINAFORE" KIDDIES AT SHEA'S THEATRE

Company of Clever Artists Head the Bill at Local Vaudeville House.

This week's bill at Shea's is full of novelty and comedy, and each feature has been seen here for the first time. Heading the list is the Pinafore Kiddies, a company of 30 young people, principals and chorus, who are presenting an up-to-date variety of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera success, "Pinafore."

Other features are Bowers, Walters and Crooker, Julia Curtis, Shiner and Richards, Red Bros. Pope and Dna and the Kinetograph.

MONDAY MORNING, AUG. 25. EAST YORK CONSERVATIVE NOMINATION.

In Mr. George Henry East York will have an excellent representative in the provincial legislature. He has had extensive experience in public life, having sat successively in the township and county councils, and held other important offices.

A HAGUE PRECEDENT FOR THAW.

In connection with Thaw's escape from Matteawan and flight to Canada the decision of the Hague Tribunal in a somewhat similar case appears to have an important bearing. The point submitted to the international court arose out of the escape of Savarkar, a native of India, who was being conveyed back to that dependency to stand trial.

This precedent was successfully cited at Marcellus on Friday last in the trial by court-martial of a French soldier named Vogel, who was charged with assaulting his superior officer and with desertion.

FIRE AND WATER SERVICES.

There seems to be a doubt on the part of some local authorities whether the judicial investigation into the fire and water services will occur. At any rate a vast amount of information is reaching the public thru the usual evening channels which the board of control, unaided by Controller Foster, seems to have been unable to elicit.

So we are carried back to the time when the city council refused to listen to expert advice, gathered at enormous cost, but negligible in the face of the immediate necessity for aldermanic votes.

CHANGING WITH THE TIME.

There is a time for everything, we are reminded by the ancient sage known to scholars as "The Preacher." The Globe seems to have imbibed the idea, judging from the difference in treatment it has for different political contests.

put in practice as well as professed in theory. Anyhow, the tone was quite different from the tone adopted in the North Gray election, where it seemed there was a fair chance of retaining Hon. A. G. MacKay's seat.

But it is different in East York. Brother Chamberlain leads a forlorn hope, and the high moral attitude is regarded as correct under such circumstances. If The Globe was really in earnest East York might awaken to the significance of the phenomenon, but porphyry pillars are only stucco nowadays with rusty iron underneath.

Most of Sir James Whitney's strength consists in the fact that he is no worse than he seems, but rather better, with the rust on the outside. In the fiscal year 1906 the Galician immigration into Canada was 14,268. In the following year it dropped to 6,644, and to 3,368 in 1910, but increased in 1911 to 3,552. In 1910 258,737 arrived in the United States, and in 1911, 159,057 from Austria-Hungary.

The population of Galicia is about 8,000,000, over 50 per cent. being Polish and 43 per cent. Ruthenian. The Austria has few industries, but exports lumber extensively. Agriculture is poor, and socially and educationally the people are backward. It is therefore not surprising that they should seek to escape from their depressing conditions.

Strange it may seem, but true it is that the man on the street looks forward with languid interest to what may be said and done at the meeting of the American Bar Association at Montreal on September 1, 2 and 3. He is interested in the coming of the Lord Chancellor as a figure historical and picturesque; he may glance at the address delivered by former President Taft and fall to musing over the stirring campaign struggle of 1911, but the subjects discussed by lawyers, and the recommendations agreed to, will make little impression. Yet the administration of justice is the prime object of government, and the forum has in bygone days furnished inspiration to the popular literature of the world.

Are the courts getting out of touch with the people? Do the masses of people any longer look upon the bench and bar as great pillars, upholding the temple of free institutions? Is there not a widespread, if erroneous conviction, that an appeal to the courts means endless delay, great expense, and the entrance into a region where common sense is often lost sight of in a maze of artificial rules and distinctions, and where the rich have undue advantage over the poor?

The great number of appeals allowed in civil cases in Canada, and in the United States, will account in part for the general disposition on the part of the people to pocket any loss rather than submit to the uncertain arbitrament of the courts. But there is another reason which goes far deeper. So long as the rich man or corporation can always retain the most able men at the bar, and the poor must be content with lawyers inexperienced and inexperienced, it is idle to say that rich and poor stand upon an equality. If the lawyers, like the judges, were appointed and paid by the state, and required to represent the community, the correct administration of justice would be the goal kept in view by bench and bar alike, and we would return to a simpler and more expeditious administration of justice. One, too, that would guarantee equality of treatment to all classes in the community.

LET EVERYBODY GO. Anyone who thinks conventionalities of speech are necessary in commending the Toronto Fair, knows nothing about it. There's nothing else in the world like it, except that one in Russia, which is not in the same class anyway, and hasn't six tickets for a dollar, so that you can go every day, and you can get lovely fans at nearly every stall for nothing. It appears there are calliffs—if we knew anything worse to describe these people by we would use the epithet—calliffs, who do not visit the fair every year. If everybody in Toronto went twice that would be a million. All the others from Hamilton and Bobcaygeon would be surplus. But the fair has yet to cross the million mark. Hamilton has done nobly, and so has Bobcaygeon; what is needed is for the people in Toronto, who haven't been going to get up and see the biggest thing of its kind in America. It is a positive wonder as it stands, the great buildings grouped carelessly in the pleasant lawns of the big park, and the glorious lake view stretching away on all sides from it. There is a hugeness and comprehensiveness about it which is not unworthy of the vast Dominion it illustrates. This year the unusual attractions are augmented by the new live stock arena, and foreign countries and the sister provinces are taking a more animated interest in the exhibits. The Irish Guards Band is a guarantee of excellent music, and other bands will contribute to the dozen concerts a day, which will be at the choice of amateurs.

It should be remembered that the greater numbers expected do not involve greater crowding. The area of the grounds has been about doubled, and with the new train services, the transportation accommodation should be better than ever. There should be no calliffs or traipsers in Toronto this year. Everybody go. A doctor has just died of vaccination in London, Ont. Step up and get vaccinated.

The Philosopher of Folly

Deep into prehistoric mists the visiting geologists have delved while in our fair young land—the members of the learned band have handed many a telling rap at divers places on the map. With little hammers they have whacked our famed Niagara cataracts; they've known our famous mountain peaks—in short, for many, many weeks, these scientists have "spiced" our continent with a thump and pound the smiling land which gave us birth, to find out its intricate structure. While on my porch the other day, I saw a man who passed that way, and quicker than a flash I wist that he was a geologist. My neighbor's fence he soon applied, and quickly I was at his side, as from that obnoxious fence the savant knocked off chunks immense and dropped the pieces in a sack which he was wearing on his back. "Most learned sir, good morn to you," I spoke in all the tongue I knew. "I fain would learn if all is well with this here land in which we dwell." The man of science nodded his head, and he held up his advice: "The stuff of which this country's made is of the very finest grade and should produce a splendid race well qualified to hold its place among the greatest of the earth—this land was noble at its birth and has the genius to hold its own in the 'logis age'—then with apologies ornate he knocked the knob from off my gate.

MILITARY MEN AND ATHLETES AT WAR

CALGARY, August 22.—The controversy here between local military and athletic organizations of the city over the site of the proposed armory has taken a new angle. The athletic people as a protest against the council voting away a portion of Mewata Athletic Park for armory purposes last night, captured by military men. The election of Major Attkin to the chairmanship of the athletic committee was the signal for the military to retire, and they organized a second meeting at which proceedings were started to prevent the transfer of the property to the government. In the meantime the military men, and various athletic organizations, passed resolutions endorsing the action of the city council. At the same time in another hall a few doors away, the trades and labor council passed a resolution condemning the city council for its action, while at a meeting of the board of trade, held during the afternoon, the attitude of the council was approved of.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE SAYS BROTHER WAS STARVED TO DEATH

Owner of London Daily Mail Visits Canada to Seek Golf Championship. LONDON, August 23.—Lord Northcliffe, owner of The London Daily Mail, and a majority stockholder of The London Times, to say nothing of fifty other papers and periodicals, sailed for Montreal yesterday on the Empress of Britain. He will then go to Newfoundland to look over some property there, but one of the objects of his trip is to be present at the golf championship in which English professional cranks are taking part. Lord Northcliffe is putting up the money for Ray Vardon's expenses in America, and has guaranteed to make good any amount that may be needed. It was he who persuaded the English professional to take part in the American competition, for he is tremendously interested in the "ancient game," and has set his heart on England winning the trophy. "I don't mind what it costs," he is reported to have said to Ray Vardon when the players left for America, "but bring back the championship." So keen is Lord Northcliffe on the game that he has laid out on his estates, close to his magnificent home, Sutton Castle, Surrey, private links for himself and his friends. He is interested in all forms of British sports and is one of the large financial supporters of the Olympic games. It is said he offered to put his name down for the whole of the $500,000, which now is being subscribed for training the English competitors, on conditions that he should be allowed to choose the English team, and practically to run the show, apparently for the benefit of his newspapers. The Olympic games committee, however, it better that contributions should be national.

A strange wild man, who has been living in the woods of Durham near the Hilltop, is believed to be a crazed Shilohite. Recently he held up William Welch, a farmer, and threatened to kill him. Welch escaped and gave the race well known to the public. It had been organized and visited the place where the wild man had been seen, the only evidence of his presence were the imprints of his bare feet in the dirt. Welch said the man was nude except for a piece of burlap draped about his body, that he had a beard, long hair, was lank and bony and looked half wild. This creature has been prowling about the Durham woods for days, and on several occasions has chased women and children who have been berry picking. The present case of capture has been offered and a posse of fifty men has been organized to search for the wild man. The town authorities of Durham feel that this is only an evidence of contempt for the Shilohites, but to protect the property and citizens of the town of Durham. A Wild Man. It is also alleged that there is a general shortage of rations; that children are not allowed proper medical attendance and that there are no funds in the treasury at Shiloh. George A. Allen of Auburn, agent of the Children's Protective Association; County Attorney W. H. Hines, Dr. W. S. Carleton, chairman of the board of health, and Freeman B. Taylor, chief of the Auburn police department, inspected the Hilltop this week. While they have not yet made an official report, it is said their purpose to continue their probe with a view to making one of more arrests. It is also alleged that there is a general shortage of rations; that children are not allowed proper medical attendance and that there are no funds in the treasury at Shiloh.

FRANCE EXHIBITS UNDER CONDITIONS

Display at Frisco Depends on Passing of Copyright Bill by Congress. Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The World and N. Y. World. PARIS, Aug. 23.—The French Government's attitude toward the Sacramento exhibition is that, although the government has already agreed in principle to participate on a large scale, particularly in the extension of copyright, suppression of false origin marks and the granting of special customs privileges. If Senef's bill for the extension of copyright to foreign designs, making manufactured articles valid for five years, passes, the French contribution to the exhibition will probably be large, but the government insists on protection for its exhibits from foreign free imitations. GRACE CHURCH WINS B CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeating St. Barnabas by Three Runs in Exciting Finish.

Grace Church defeated St. Barnabas in the final City League game of the B Division at Riverside Park Saturday by two runs and one wicket, the score being 41 to nine in favor of Grace. The game was very close and exciting, which set everyone on edge, until the winning run was made. St. Barnabas won the first six runs, but Grace took the lead by a fine ball from Murray. Six wickets down for 39, it looked as though the former was caught by Neale at point off Marden for a carefully-played 11. Shortly afterwards Robert was caught by Neale behind the wicket for 9. The balance of the wickets fell quickly for a total of 41.

Grace, on going to bat, looked for a heavy run, with only 42 to make to win. They also started off badly, with three wickets down for nine runs. With Marden and Paris both out without scoring, things looked rather blue; but, thanks to Peel for the splendid stand he made for his 20 runs, the highest of the game, it looked bright, when he was bowled by a fine ball from Murray. Six wickets down for 39, it looked as though the former was caught by Neale at point off Marden for a carefully-played 11. Shortly afterwards Robert was caught by Neale behind the wicket for 9. The balance of the wickets fell quickly for a total of 41.

NATIONALS MOVED UP TO SECOND PLACE

Beat Torontos in Listless Fair—Ragged Play and Lalonde the Features.

The Nationals practically put themselves up in second place for the rest of the season when they defeated the Torontos at Scarborough Beach on Saturday by the score of 5 to 3. The Nationals on the play deserved to win the contest by an even greater margin, but they played rag in the final moments of the struggle and spoiled their recovery and were loosely played game and neither team put up what you might call real lacrosse. There seemed to be a lack of the life and spirit that is usually seen on the blue shirt field.

The much-advertised Neway Lalonde was stopped suddenly in the first period by a slash across the face from Barry's stick. Nevertheless after a brief rest he returned to the field and displayed such speed that the blue shirts who were detailed to watch him had one of the merriest dances they have had this year. The versatile and nimble footed Neway was not lost any of his old tricks while returning to the field. He exhibited some of these on Saturday, much to the delight of the Toronto crowd.

After a much delayed start the Nationals started a bombardment of the Toronto goal and aided in some way in the scoring of the first goal.

Lalonde returned with the opening of the second quarter and eventually saw Lachapelle score. Gauthier relieved a scrappy combination which eventually saw Lachapelle score. Gauthier relieved a scrappy combination which eventually saw Lachapelle score.

The fourth quarter was a continuation of the tactics which had been the feature of the entire game. The Nationals continued to buzz around the Toronto net, but Warwick finally broke away and deposited the second goal for the blue shirts. The play became more varied and variety and the Frenchmen began to play rag and no more scoring was done in the third quarter.

The Toronto (3): Goal, Holmes; point, Harrison; cover, Powers; first defence, Barry; second defence, Harrison; third defence, Fitzgerald; centre, Dandeno; third home, Warwick; second home, Longfellow; first home, Barnett; outside, Donihue; inside, Kalls.

Nationals (5): Goal, L'Heureux; point, Cattarone; cover, Duckett; first defence, Dandeno; second defence, Brault; centre, Degray; third home, Gauthier; second home, Lalonde; first home, Pitt; outside, Lamoureux; inside, Boulaine.

Referee—E. C. St. Pierre. Judge of play—Billy McIntyre.

INDIANS' LAST HOPE SWAMPED BY IRISH

Tecumseh's Lost Grueling Struggle at Mascote Park by Odd Goal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—Irish-Canadians took a stronger hold on the Big Four championship by defeating the Tecumseh here today by the odd goal in nine. From the beginning the winners were the aggressors, and the Indians equalled the score on more than one occasion.

There was no advantage gained by either team until the last quarter, when Cummings scored by scoring twice in quick succession. The home players of both teams showed weakness in shooting, and many opportunities to score were thrown away.

Penalties were more numerous than in any game this season. In the first quarter, no less than eleven players being sent to the bench in Montreal, the mixing it up. There were twenty changes made, the majority of them in the third quarter. The slippery conditions for the ground, along with the closeness of the play, gave the game an appearance of being rougher than it was, also on several occasions players accepted an opportunity to stop up scores, as this was the final meeting of the Irish and the Indians this season.

The line-up: Irish-Canadians, Seville, Cameron, White, Baker, Appell, Munday, Kane, Fred Scott, Cummings, C. George, Roberts.

Wilson and Brady Lost First Race of Season by Bad Luck.

At the C.W.A. bicycle races held at the Island Stadium Saturday night, the Toronto pursuit team of Wilson and Brady suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Buffalo team.

PARKVIEWS TURNED TABLES ON RIVALS

Sunderland Beaten by Them—Overseas Swamped Pioneers—Meeting Tonight.

When a season in athletics has reached the time when finals are being arranged, one does not look for surprises in the ordinary run of things, but the T. and D. results for Saturday show several of these, and the wise ones' speculations were turned topsy-turvy. Parkviews furnished the first one of the day by turning the tables on the lordly Sunderlands to the tune of 2 to 1. There was never any doubt as to the supremacy of the winners, and they won on their merits alone. Overseas had no difficulty in blanketing their rivals, the Pioneers, but the latter were working under a decided disadvantage, as they only had nine men on hand, and three of those were reserves. Of course, the excuse of players not turning

WINDSOR STAKE GOES TO MILTON STREET

Giddings' Pair Run First and Third in Race for Canada Breds.

WINDSOR, Aug. 23.—Before the largest crowd which has seen the races during the present meeting at Windsor, Milton Street, running in the orange and white of R. J. Mackenzie, the Winnipeg railroad-builder, won the Windsor Stake and never relaxing his courage for a moment during the race of the mile, came Terrible Bill, from the Milton stable, Rifle Brigade, from the stable of G. M. Andrie, being third. The mile was run in 1.42—remarkably fast, considering the condition of the going, and giving weight to the opinion that Trainer J. D. Arkin, who along has held, that Milton Street only will race at his best when the underfooting is soft.

DAMAGE TO CORN CROP SEVERE BUT BLOW IS NOT STAGGERING

Investors Are Showing Caution, Pending More Definite Information, But Situation is Not Disheartening—Development in Mexico Closely Watched—Less Gloom in Financial District.

(Specially Written by S. S. Fontaine for N. Y. World and Toronto World) There seems to be a general disposition upon the part of the banking interests as well as the speculative element in Wall street to mark time until there can be obtained more definite information as to the final outcome of the crop.

They realize the consequences of such a step and cling to the hope that President Wilson will find a way to avoid it, but they admit that a repetition of some of the events of the present week might make such a movement inevitable.

The financial district has some surcease from lugubrious foreboding on the currency question during the week as the reports of the departed glory of the so-called good old days when Wall street fixed the rates for the whole country and doled out to the country districts the funds needed to send their crops to the market have transferred the scene of their lamentations to Chicago.

It seems to be taken for granted that the corn, which the experts claim to have been "burnt up," is a total loss. It must be remembered that the crop was not as large as it was in previous years.

It is always a very important part of the corn crop in the economy of the middle west just as it has done in the past. The corn crop in the United States is a very important part of the economy of the middle west.

THE NEW MILLINERY

Of the thousands that have passed through our Millinery Showroom in the last few days, their expression and comment are most encouraging. One is easily convinced that there are many customers and visitors who appreciate what we have to show from the world's great arbiters of fashion, Paris, London and New York; modelled from these, and shown along with these are our own productions. Three of our most noticeable models are:

By Germain—An exquisite set of mole fur, of two pieces; the toque is oblong in shape, having a curved brim, the front of which completely hides the crown, but curves toward the back, and shows a full soft crown of fur; the only trimmings is a rich, extra full sweeping mount of Bird of Paradise, caught directly in front, over which, and around centre of the brim, runs a small crushed corded silk rope. The muff, which is very large, has graduated stripes of mole fur, alternating with stripes of shirred corded silk ribbon, forming the muff, which is trimmed with selected skins of sable, and lined with rich corded silk. Price Tuesday... 400.00

By MARGUERITE & LEONIE. A rich prune-colored toque of erect pile velvet, has a crushed brim of medium height, and an "aeroplane" crown, all of velvet; over the brim are two full skins of Russian mink. The dark shading of the fur is most exquisite against the rich velvet. Price... 45.00

Another is a set of new blue velveteen, Marguerite & Leonie; the muff is very large, and has a crushed effect, over the folds of which are white, ermine, fine; the practical and becoming toque is draped with white ermine fur at the side and over the crown. The set is beautiful, stylish and serviceable. Price Tuesday... 400.00
