ED. MACK'S FIRST "LONELY SALE"

The Big Selling for Fall Has Left 135 Mavericks.

The Suits and Overcoats Which Will be Separated From Their Badge of Honor and Sold for the Price One Pays for Common Stuff.

"My January 'Lonely Sale' of Semi-ready suits and overcoats will be a limited sale, but none the less attractive in getting from a busy establishment sufficient goods to supply our patrons.

"But the selling has been fast and furious. Some lines of fine worsteds are all sold, with the exception of a few stragglers. Every business man knows how hard it is to keep track of the odd stock. We call them 'Lonelies.' To save them from becoming derelicts, or, as the rancher would describe them, 'mavericks' we are going to sell them all within the fortnight.

"Here's how:—There are 150 fine suits, ranging in prices, $15, $20, $25 and $30, in fancy worsteds and British tweeds. These I will sell at $10, $14.75, $18 and $20.

"And about the overcoats, some of them came to my stores just too late for the fall trade, valued at $20, $25 and $30. These I will sell at $15 to $20.

"Then there are 40 splendidly tailored tweed overcoats, in all the new Scotch and English styles. These I will sell at $10 each, and the buyers will pocket $5 and $10 savings.

"At these prices, Mr. Mack does not anticipate that the January 'Lonely Sale' of 'Semi-ready' mavericks will last more than a fortnight. In the meantime there is a size and type for every man.

RUSSIAN POLICE ROUND UP HUNDRED "RED" LEADERS
 Men and Women Accused of Spreading Sedition in the Army and Navy.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 31.—Acting on information furnished by a traitor, the police during the last few days captured over a hundred leaders and members of the Social Democratic organization of the Social Democrats, who were conducting a propaganda and nationalist faction. Among those taken into custody was the editor of a paper secretly published entitled "The Barracks," 20 soldiers and several women. The police also arrested many members of an important group of terrorist social revolutionists and a secret committee, a list of 27 officials, who had been selected to die. Finally it is asserted that the police accidentally obtained information which frustrated a plot to blow up a number of persons at a conference which was to be held in the near future.

Sleeping Car Comfort.
 The palace sleeping cars of the Canadian Pacific Railway, leaving Toronto daily for Ottawa, Montreal, Detroit, Chicago, Winnipeg, Calgary and the Pacific coast, are built in the company's own shops at Montreal, and are built a little higher, with berths a little wider (giving increased comfort and better ventilation) than the usual sleeper. Passenger comfort is studied in every way, soft berths and dainty bedding for the weary body, harmonious and restful decorations for the eyes, perfect cleanliness and plenty of fresh air for health's sake. Smart porters to look after you, ready to do anything the passenger may desire, and that "fresh" feeling in the morning only to be enjoyed in a heavy C. P. sleeper, smoothly rolling over a perfect roadbed.

FREE TO MEN UNTIL CURED. With good, vigorous health everything is possible—wealth, happiness, success. Without it there is only failure. Electricity furnishes all that goes to build up a strong, hale, confident, successful man—iron for the blood, vim and fire for the nerves and brain, strength for the muscles, good disposition. It does all that medicines do, as well as what they fail to do. In my forty years' success I have proven this by the thousands of wrecks I have restored after other treatments failed. To convince every sufferer from debility, varicose, loss of power, rheumatism, case back, etc., I give my famous Electric Belt absolutely Free Until Cured. Not asking a penny in advance or on deposit. You only pay price of belt when cured, and in many cases as low as $5, or for cash, full wholesale discount. Forty years' continuous success has brought forth many imitators. Beware of them. You can get the original, the standard of the world, free until cured, then pay for it. Charged With Assault. On a charge of aggravated assault upon the person of William Myers of 133 Strachan Avenue, William Sheehan, 4 Logan Place, and Dalton Heron, 60 Main Street, were arrested last night and taken to No. 3 Police Station. Myers alleged that the two men knocked him down without any provocation and kicked him in the face.

DEATH LIST FIFTY-THREE MAY BE RAISED TO SIXTY

Operator of Block Signal Station Exonerated and Engineer Held to Blame.

Washington, Dec. 31.—The terrible character of the Baltimore and Ohio train wreck at Terra Cotta last night grows in magnitude as the hours pass. The most conservative estimate of the dead to-night is 53, while 60 are in hospitals, or at home suffering from injuries sustained in the crash and the wreckage, which completely demolished the two day coaches and the smoker attached to the local Frederick, Md., express.

Several of the most seriously injured are expected to die during the night and the death list may reach sixty or more.

Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are conducting an investigation of the wreck in Baltimore to place the responsibility for the disaster. General Superintendent Todd exonerated Milton Phillips, the operator at the Takoma block station, the last signal before the equipment train passed before it crashed into the passenger train at Terra Cotta. The superintendent declared that Phillips was obeying instructions when he went home at 6:30 o'clock, leaving the "double green" signal burning.

Blame on Engineer. While making no positive charge Superintendent Todd intimated that the burden of blame would fall on the engineer and crew of the extra. The five members of the crew, who were arrested shortly after the accident, are now being held to await the result of the official investigation. They are: Harry H. Hildebrand, engineer; Ira C. McClelland, fireman; Frank F. Hoffmeister, conductor; Ralph Ritter, brakeman; and William A. Morris, baggage-master. Hildebrand, who is locked up, is too full of emotion to make any definite statement. "It will all come out at the investigation," he said, "I don't believe that there is anything for me to say, and I could not say it if there were."

Before he was arrested he made a statement to the Associated Press in which he declared that if the danger signal light was displayed at Takoma he failed to see it on account of the dense fog.

Probe to Bottom. C. W. Galloway, general superintendent of transportation, Baltimore and Ohio, concentrated the company from Takoma and put the responsibility on the engineer of the equipment train or the operator at Takoma block station. "If the coroner's jury fails to hold the engineer or the block operator," he said, "we shall not consider the matter settled. We shall go to the bottom of the wreck. This horrible catastrophe could have been averted."

As a manifestation of sympathy for all afflicted by the disaster the commissioners of the District of Columbia ordered that flags on the public buildings in the district be displayed at half mast until after the funerals of the victims.

The funerals of many of those who resided in Washington and suburbs will be held to-morrow. The bodies of other victims will be forwarded to their homes by the Baltimore and Ohio officials. The company is sparing no expense in caring for all the injured at the hospitals.

COUNTRY GIRL AT PRINCESS

WELCOMED BY FINE AUDIENCE

"Sunday," a Western Drama, at Grand—Holiday Vaudeville at Shea's.

With a splendid company and an all-new production so far as staging and scenery goes, "A Country Girl" more than won her way into favor again last night.

The audience was the biggest first-night of the season, and many were content to stand during the three hours of solid enjoyment, which the piece provides.

An informal luncheon was held on the stage after the close of the performance. Miss Genevieve Finlay acted as hostess and she and Mr. Stewart were the light of the company.

They were ably assisted by Sam Collins, and he added much fun and jollification. Many pretty speeches were made by the different members.

Mr. McDermott, the genial and big-hearted manager, was all smiles and good nature. He spoke of the "New Year" just dawning upon them and the work before them, and urged them not to overlook the fact that they had a duty to their church as well as their profession, and trusted that they would not neglect services in the city.

Over Sunday. He also urged upon them to be faithful and abide by all the good resolutions they had already made for the coming year.

"A Rocky Road to Dublin"—Majestic Barney Gilmore makes a pronounced hit with this week at the Majestic in the new comedy drama, "A Rocky Road to Dublin."

songs and a harp solo adds pathos in demonstrating Irish patriotism. Mr. Gilmore is ably supported by Miss Mina Shirey, a beautiful blonde heroine, who acts the part of Bernadine Ferguson, Robt. Daly's sweetheart.

Vaudeville—Shea's. An act which will be highly appreciated by music lovers who put in a bit of New Year's week at Shea's is that of the Durant trio, Italian character vocalists, and their efforts to make the audience forget that they are in a vaudeville.

There is humor and pathos in Lester and Manning's production of "The Little Emigrant" and it is in parts a clever satire on the methods of the immigration department in New York.

"Sunday"—Grand. There is a great deal of human interest in "Sunday," the offering at the Grand Opera House this week, and that Toronto theatre-goers are acquainted with the good things of the stage, was evidenced by the large audience that witnessed the first performance last night.

Instructions drawn from a tattered notebook. The pathetic earnestness of this scene is far-reaching. The story of the play is that of the doubly orphaned child of an Englishman, born in a mining camp in the west and confided, on the death of her father, to the regime to be followed for his cure according to fragmentary matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday. The Star Theatre will start the New Year aright with the cracking good show given by the New Century Girls.

UTILIZING STOCK MANURE

Tons of valuable manure are produced on every stock farm annually. Much of this soil-building material is wasted. An agricultural writer who has travelled extensively in this country says that he is sure more than 50 per cent. of the manure crop is not utilized in a way to produce best results. He claims that it is worse than wasted. Every stock farmer ought to assign a fair valuation to the manure crop of his farm. It is worth so much, and should be used accordingly. Scientists tell us that the manure produced in a year by a mature cow is valued at $27; of a hog, $12; of a pig, $12; of a sheep, $2. The fertilizing value of feed for live stock is only slightly diminished by passage thru mature animals, which means that in feeding farm crops to live stock the farmer is killing two birds with one stone; he may eat his cake and have it.

The highest type of farming demands that soil fertility shall be carefully preserved; this bars the selling of crops, especially grain, from the farm. It requires that the crops shall be converted into meat, milk or wool. In this process feeds lose but a small amount of their fertilizing value, from 10 to perhaps 25 per cent., but unless the resultant manure be applied at the right time and in the right way the land that produced the feed will surely deteriorate.

Every farmer ought to feed his soil. The greater the crop harvested the larger the restoration of plant food should be. The man who expects the soil to yield bountiful crops without receiving food will be disappointed. Soils require food just as do animals. We need more land-feeders in this country. Every stock-feeder ought to be a liberal land-feeder.

Stock manure is land food. It can be applied with manure to almost all types of soil. It is common testimony that stable manure applied with a spreader pays handsomely; in fact, we have never heard of negative results following its intelligent application. Manure will pay even if spread by hand the old way, but it will pay materially better if applied with a spreader. Actual experiments on dozens of farms substantiate this assertion.

It is bad practice to apply large quantities of manure at one time for ordinary farm purposes; it is best to apply a little at a time and often. It should in all cases be applied with a spreader. A spreader will pay for itself in a year's time on many a farm where stock is bred and fed.

Scientists claim that liquid manure is worth about $7 per ton; solid manure about $2.50 per ton. It therefore is important that the liquid manure be saved. Some people build water-tight floors in their barns and catch the liquids in tanks and apply it with sprinklers. But that is ordinarily too expensive to be practical.

When the stable is cleaned out there should be at least a foot of straw, worthless hay or shredded fodder put in for bedding. This should be replenished from time to time so it will absorb all of the liquid manure and allow none of it to go thru the ground.

But that is not all, for if left like that a great deal of it will evaporate and ammonia and other gases be allowed to escape. To prevent this a sack of land plaster should be kept on hand and a liberal sprinkling thrown over the manure from time to time. This not only acts as retainer for the gases, but also neutralizes the acids.

KEEP UP THE SUPPLY

F. B. Ball, the Canadian commercial agent at Birmingham, England, in a recent departmental note speaks favorably of the outlook for Canadian hogs in the British markets. He cites the case of an English firm which has lost money during the last year owing to the high price of pork, the average cost of which was higher than at any time in sixteen years. Mr. Ball also reports a shortage in Britain of hogs and suggests that the prospects should act as an incentive to Canadian breeders. The domestic hog market the last few months has not been entirely satisfactory to our farmers, but the recent low prices are due to the large marketing of hogs during the fall and may not portend a continuous low range of prices. Working against the prices of all agricultural products of late is a very tight money market, and it is doubtful whether hog quarters and hams will be sold for more than some other farm commodities. The low recent hog prices, therefore, should not be taken as indicative of the future and farmers should continue to keep up the supply if not even a larger supply of these money-making animals.

The Good Stock is the Best. The agriculturalists of Ontario, according to The Calgary Herald, have learned the lesson that it costs no more to raise good stock than poor stock, and that superior quality ensures a market at remunerative prices, while the inferior article finds little sale, and then only at a price that leaves no margin of profit.

HOME CURED BACON.

Practical Directions for the Production of Good Bacon.

There is more than one way of doing it, but the real old practical way is right in line at this time of year. It is the season of the year when the butchering on the farm is about at hand. Many an old-time farmer or farmer's wife can give the experts cards and spades in a test of curing hams and bacon for use later in the winter and spring, but there are some young farmers here and there who never having lived on a farm in their earlier life or others having taken too little interest how father or mother did it when at home, now may be a bit at sea about the process when it comes time to cure the bacon.

There are other recipes, of course, that are good, but here is one that has been tested and found excellent by many.

Take a gallon of pure water, hard or soft, and every gallon of this liquid needed to cover the meat one and one-half pounds of salt, one-half pound of sugar and one-half ounce salt-pepper. Place the meat in a crock, preferably to a wooden oak, as the former may be cleaned absolutely free from any impurities imparting any flavor to the meat, as is the case frequently when wood is used. If a wooden crock be used it should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected with lye down in the crock before pouring on the brine, which must be cold, with all ingredients well dissolved.

To make good bacon the pigs must have been properly fattened, pigs ranging in weight from 170 to 210 pounds before slaughter being the most desirable kind, and such as are not too short and greasy fat. The pigs are regarded by the experts in the market as the best for bacon use, and the product of these expert bacon makers brings fancy prices.

There is no reason why every family on the farm, however, should not have a savory bacon for the family on the farm, and the best tables of fashionable city families and at half the cost. It will afford a very acceptable variety from the routine of the city.

After it has been in the brine for a considerable time lift from the liquid and hang it in the smoke for two or two and a half days before starting to smoke. Sound hickory or sugar maple wood is best and the fire should be small and low enough so that little heat is generated. When started the fire should be kept going steadily until the bacon is a rich brown, dark enough to suit the taste.

If the meat is good and everything is kept sweet and clean, the smoking is not a difficult matter, and the family will have a good share cure, superior to the good share cure of the bacon that is found in city and town markets.

ADULTERATED BUTTER.

The University of Leeds and the Yorkshire Council for Agricultural Education have issued a pamphlet on "Variation in the Composition of Butter." The evidence gathered has been aroused amongst butter-makers by the evidence given in a case that came before the Leeds Petty Sessions, in which a farmer was accused of having adulterated his butter with nearly 34 per cent. of margarine. The evidence adduced on behalf of the defendant proved beyond doubt, however, that the butter was perfectly genuine, since further samples prepared on his farm under strict supervision gave analysis by different chemists practically the same figures as those on which the West Riding County Council analyst has based his certificate of adulteration. In other words, the supposed adulteration of the butter must have taken place before the milk left the udders of the cows, or, as it has been expressed, the butter was apparently adulterated with margarine thru the cows.

This conclusion, if true, is calculated to excite grave misgivings in the minds of butter producers. Hence it is desirable that they should be fully aware of the facts as to the adulteration of the production of butter which, on analysis, is found to be so different in character, from the average as to give rise to doubts as to its genuineness. The object, therefore, of this pamphlet is to supply information as to the chief causes of adulteration, the composition of butter-fat, and the measures that may be adopted with a view to reducing this variation to a minimum. The pamphlet is intended for the subject of a large amount of experimental investigation in recent years in Holland, Denmark and Germany. In order to secure as far as possible the production of butter rich in volatile acids (present as fats)—in other words, butter that shall not be liable to be regarded by the analyst as adulterated, the butter-producing farmer is recommended to pay special attention to the following points: (1) It is particularly important that the times of milking should be so arranged as to secure as far as practicable, six or seven milkings in the twenty-four hours. (2) Every attempt should be made to secure the comfort and regularity in treatment of the animals. In particular, care should be taken to protect them from adverse climatic conditions, or sudden and repeated changes of temperature. (3) When oil-cakes are fed to the cows, the quantity should never exceed 4 lbs. per head per day. This precaution is especially important during the later stages of lactation, when the milk yield is small.—Ayrshire Post.

HOW THEY FARM IN GERMANY.

Cattle Fetching High Prices—Some Interesting Information.

The new German tariff is said to greatly please the shippers, and in small German towns as well as the farmers, because it is giving them an excuse for asking more than formerly for their products. The tariff is the result of investigation made thru a farming district near Achem, Baden. I learned some rather interesting facts regarding the agricultural situation. The season has been very favorable for hogs, and the farmers were cutting up a great deal of fine, soft meadow grass and clover. For the privilege of cutting the first crop the owner receives $18.50 for 100 lbs. of the second crop $9.90. Thus each acre yields a profit of $23.40.

The grass is cut with scythes and raked by hand. Hay sells for $19.05 to $23.30 per ton for the best grades and from $13.50 to $14.65 for poorer grades. Meadow lands are thus valuable and have advanced in price, some selling as high as $71.20 per acre.

Cattle are in demand in the market to supply feed for cattle, as the raising of domestic animals has been greatly stimulated in consequence of the exclusion of foreign meats. These lands are further rendered valuable by persistent fertilization of water distributed in a system of trenches, which are flooded Saturday evening, when the mists along the small rivers cease to work. Monday morning at 6 o'clock when work is resumed at the mists the water is turned off.

Cattle bring high prices, an ordinary cow selling for $71.40 to $95.20, and finer grades from $119 to $166.50. In the community I visited cows are used on the farms almost invariably, instead of horses, for drawing wagons and plows. On the farms I visited the best quality of water was sold for $3 to $5 cents each, ducks for 95 cents to $1.66, geese for 18 to 25 cents per pound, and turkeys at 25 cents per pound. Eggs sell for 1.9 to 2.35 cents each, according to season. I was shown pigs five weeks old which sold for $3.37 each, and hogs of moderate size for which the owner asked $59.50. Milk sells for 4.28 to 5.62 cents per litre (1.057 quart), and vegetables and fruit of all sorts bring good prices.

I found that farm labor had not advanced in proportion to farm products. The laborers employed in harvesting are chiefly women, who are usually hired by the year. An able-bodied experienced woman receives as her year's wages $59.50 to $71.40 and her board and lodging. Girls 15 to 16 years old get $14.25 to $21.42, with board and lodging; also plain clothing. These women are expected to do ordinary farm work in all seasons. Many of the Baden farmers are wealthy, they live without luxuries, and many of them without what an American farmer would call necessities.

The Half-Fat Yearling. If there are one class of calves that does a rougher row in stock yard circles than another, it is the half-fat yearling. Finished baby beef is popular, but the other kind is not wanted so badly that anybody can taste it. These thin yearlings that have been on the farm less than 100 days are not to be shipped. Baby beefs, unless well fattened, sell very badly and it is a great mistake to put them on the market unless they are sufficiently fat to command good prices. They do not need to be fed nine to twelve months, but they should be fed six months at least, and a trifle longer would do no harm, as they keep growing and do not fatten as fast as older cattle.

CANADIAN HAY TRADE

Impression is That Prices Are Now at Their Highest Point.

There is an impression in the trade here that prices have about reached their highest point, as there are said to be considerable quantities held in the hands of country dealers whose stocks were bought at lower prices and who could accept one to two dollars per ton under present prices and still make good profits. Now that navigation is closed and prices here are too high for export to Great Britain there is only the home trade and the American market to be supplied, and it is claimed there is a surplus over and above the requirements of the local and country trade. Stocks in the city at the moment are ample for the wants of the trade, and material increase would cause a easier market and lower prices. On the other hand, it is asserted that as long as the American market remains as high as at present, New York and the New England States will take enough of our hay to keep our prices high and prevent any decline in prices.—Montreal Trade Bulletin.

PROVINCIAL HORSE INTERESTS.

Editor "Pop": I have read the remarks of "Pop" in The Sunday World with a deal of interest. I take exactly the same view as he does, that the Hon. Nelson Monteth, provincial minister of agriculture, has destroyed a broad, useful, liberal society in practically wiping out the Canadian Horse Breeder's Association and forming the Ontario Horse Breeders' Association, that latter to all intents and purposes, never consist of more than half a dozen breeders and importers located within a few miles of Toronto, who will attempt on a large scale by the importation of their own selfish aims, while the old organization has no other function than to self-seekers.

Mr. Monteth has been badly advised by himself.

Mr. James, who, I am told, cut rather a poor figure as representative of the Ontario breeders at the meeting, said that the old association had been practically left, as it had previously been, with sufficient funds to continue its accustomed path. How that could be when the Ontario Breeders' Association is, so far as the directorate is concerned, controlled by the same people, I cannot see. The latter will necessarily be a close corporation—its members will be those who are seeking to run the Ontario Horse Breeders' Association was shoved into the newly-created office of treasurer of the old association, but entirely and solely to advance the interests of the breeders.

Might ask where is Mr. Robert Miller of Stouffville while all this is going on? There is a gentleman whose advice, if the minister could secure it, would be most valuable. Mr. Dryden in many things consulted Mr. Miller, and if he had not done all he might have done for the horse he at least made less fuss, accomplished quite as much, and avoided surrendering affairs to a handful of selfish grafters.

POULTRY NOTES.

Be sure your hens have tight roofs over their heads. Indolgent feeding is the ruin of many fowls.

Now get rid of all your scrub fowls before they eat their heads off. Darkening the rooms where nests are placed tends to prevent the fowls from eating their eggs.

Care, handling, exercise, kind treatment, constant attention, have much to do with the fowls' welfare.

A piece of burlap sack, tacked over the roost and kept soaked with kerosene will keep the lice away.

Change and turkeys make a good feed for the fowls during the winter season. The fowls like a variety.

Clover heads or cut clover for the fowls should be placed where they will not be picked or wasted.

Dry poultry sells the best. When sickly lay it in the animal house, all out there packed firmly in clean barrels or boxes.

Give ducks plenty of litter—straw, hay or leaves to "roost" upon, and do not compel them to get their bed under the hen's roost.

Clear out all cockerets that are not needed for breeding purposes; they are better in the pot pie than the hen yard at this season of the year.

For winter eggs keep pullets or young hens, give them a warm house, exercise, plenty of green food, meat and grain in addition to grain and pure water.

Now that the garden season is over, turn the chickens out to forage for themselves, only be careful to give them one good feed at night, and have plenty of fresh water for them to drink.

If you think the poultry business is too small for you to putter with be man enough to have things so convenient for breeding purposes, they are better in the pot pie than the hen yard at this season of the year.

There was only one session of the Toronto Exchange today, and this sufficed for all the business offering in this market. Prices as a rule were easier, and, if gauged by the general market, the situation must be classed as weak. Considerable selling of Twin City and Toronto Electric took place, and at lower levels, but both were held in tact at the close, denoting that the supporting interests were prepared to face further liquidation before lower prices were made. The market was small, viewed in any way, and was not taken as indicating more than the desire of some holders to get out. The money situation can scarcely be worse, and the market is more inclined to watch events than to participate in the transactions. The last market of the year is not exactly propitious, and unless some unlooked-for change occurs, bullish sentiment seems difficult to arouse.

As compared with that of London, their reserve power is much greater. Wages have been increased substantially in leading directions, and there has been greatly increased liberality in disbursements to stockholders of railroad, industrial and banking corporations. Stock sales at this centre were $21,500,000 above the previous high record, while bond sales fell $303,000,000 below the record. There has been a wave of legislation and litigation against corporations and individuals to correct existing evils. Turning to the outlook for 1907, we think that commodity prices will not advance further, except perhaps temporarily. During the year there should be an advance in freight rates, which have remained about stationary in face of general advances elsewhere. Some sort of currency legislation will probably be passed. Various dividend increases are in prospect. The railroads will prepare to segregate their industrial and transportation investments to comply with the new law, which goes into effect in May, 1907. Acquisition and construction of railroads will proceed with a view to secure benefits of the Panama Canal traffic. High-priced stocks will, however, continue to be split into shares of smaller size, affording an easier trading basis. Should any reaction develop in general business, the first market centre would be dullness or positive weakness; money tight, and a heap up in great volume at this centre. The world would then assume one of the greatest eras of bullish stock speculation in history, and a public enormously enriched through low-continued prosperity. We expect to our friends, present and prospective, our best wishes for a successful new year.

Stories of E. H. Harriman's illness are exaggerated. Serious wreck on B. & O. at Washington with heavy loss of life. Union Pacific will sell its rights on its holdings of the Hill streets. Colorado Fuel for four months ending Oct. 31 shows only .43 per cent. earned on common, with inadequate provisions for depreciation. Light demand for stocks in loan crowd. Gold to the amount of $200,000 offering in the London market, but the Bank of England will probably take. Western coal trade situation somewhat easier. Southern needs for cash well satisfied, except at New Orleans and return flow of currency generally to New York is getting stronger. The December production in the Hamamies is estimated by Kaffir houses at 550,000 ounces, fine gold, another high record. The New York market was 232.37 fine ounces, October 540,000. Value of the gold estimate is $11,087,500, as against $11,228,125 in November, and $9,169,475 in December last year.

Henry Clews, in concluding his annual review of the New York market, says: "The prospects are distinctly in favor of another good business year, with four principal provisions: 1. We must be favored with an over-confidence and reckless speculation. 2. We must correct the present strain in the market by the natural process of liquidation rather than depending upon artificial means. 3. We must remove causes for speculation and political discontent by compelling big corporations to obey the law and the rules of the market. 4. We must remove the four great monopolistic operations. Here are four great possibilities which, if satisfied, may assure a further period of recovery to a more normal level."

NEW ENGLAND WAGE EARNERS BEGIN YEAR AUSPICIOUSLY

Substantial Increases Which Go Into Effect To-Day, Benefitting Thousands.

Boston, Dec. 31.—With the close of the year the wage schedule of many New England corporations, employing thousands of persons, disappear, and give place to pay lists which provide for substantial advances.

In numerous cotton mills, in Northern New England, an advance of about 5 per cent. went into effect to-day, while in other manufacturing plants the increased rate will become operative tomorrow.

At the same time the Boston Elevated Railway Company; Boston & Worcester Street Railway Co.; the Portland Street Railway system, and other lines, will give a general advance to their thousands of employees. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Last night we closed by far the biggest year in the history of this business, and this morning we're ready with a hearty greeting and a "thank you" for your encouragement.

For the New Year we promise an improved store and service wherever we've the wit to better it. January will be a month of money-saving chances really too good for you to miss. Watch the papers!

THE PASSING OF 1906.

Congregation at St. James' Watches the Old Year Out. With a shrieking of steam-whistles from the street railway power house and other downtown factories, 1907 was ushered in at a fraction past midnight.

We thank our patrons and friends for the "favors" of another year—the measure of success that is ours has come through your appreciation of us in serving you to the best we could buy in the lines we sell.

Our heartiest wish for you is that "1907" may have full 365 days of happiness and prosperity for you.

Good! Ale for a dollar a drop, couldn't be better and couldn't be purer than Port Hope Pale Ale. brewed in the old-time way from Highland Spring water (clear as clear air) and Kentish hops (finer than hops do grow anywhere in the world) with the finest quality malt (richest of all malts). Flavor that pleases the taste, quells the thirst and enriches the blood.—Port Hope Pale Ale does people real good and agrees with anybody. Try it in pints or quarts—order from all reliable dealers.
