GERMANS FALL IN LINE WITH ARMISTICE PLEA

Sunday Next Set as Date for Negotiating Terms of Truce—Bolsheviki Leaders Display Signs of Distrust of Enemy

London, Nov. 28.—Sunday next has been set by the Germans as the date for a conference with the Bolshevik leaders with the purpose of negotiating an armistice. The arrangement for the discussion followed a visit of representatives of the Bolsheviks to the German military authorities on the Teuton side of the fighting front in Russia. The Germans apparently gave quick acquiescence to the proposals of the Russians for an armistice looking to an ultimate peace, for only a few hours intervened between the visit of the Bolsheviks to the German line and the acceptance by the Germans of the proposition that was made to them.

NEVER-ENDING SURGE OF MACHINE-GUN BULLETS SWIRLS ACROSS RUINED HAMLET FROM RIVAL TROOPS STATIONED ON EITHER SIDE.

By R. T. Small, Special Correspondent Associated Press. British Headquarters in France, Nov. 28.—Fontaine Notre Dame was today virtually No Man's Land, over which swirled a never-ending surge of machine gun bullets from the ranks of the opposing regiments, drawn up on either side of this blood-drenched little hamlet. A bright, warm sun was shining down from an almost cloudless sky, but it brought little cheer to the battle-worn German and British troops, for it only served to throw into bold relief the awful picture of desolation and carnage within the confines of this village thru which all day yesterday grim death stalked among the crouching warriors.

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED

A. Not a converted vase, as you might suspect, but a new design in Chinese lamps, made of wood and lacquered in the Chinese manner in rose, gold and the dulcet of blue or dark green. It is a most effective piece of decoration, the coloring such that it will look well in almost any room. Price, $6.75. For a shade to go with it, what think you of this four-sided one of amber silk, the little panels of printed silk to ring beautifully with the lamp? Price, $5.00.

B. A useful, practical, everyday sort of lamp is, perhaps, your idea of the most suitable. Then look well at the beautifully-proportioned example sketched below. It is of mahogany, with very graceful stand, and about the height to answer general living-room purposes. The price, too, is very moderate at $6.25. The shade, also of the simple type, is made of drawn silk in a rather deep shade of rose, edged with gold braid. Its price is $5.00.

C. For all the world like a mahogany candlestick, here is a splendid little lamp for work-table, writing-table, or even for a bedroom. Price, $2.25. And the quaint little shade is another attraction, for it is made of amber silk, edged with amber braid, the price being $5.00.

D. A most fascinating small lamp, isn't it, this quaint little vase, just saved from being a rickety affair by its four ball feet? And perhaps you'd never suspect it, but it's made of mahogany. Price, $5.50. The little drawn silk shade is in a particularly pretty soft rose shade, edged with gold fringe. Price, $1.75.

E. 'Twas the Chinese from whom we of the West first copied our shaded floor lamps, and that China and Japan are still past masters of the art of lampmaking you may see from the a c o m p a n y i n g sketch. The stand is of black wood, lacquered in gold and rose, and Chinese lacquer is so very much the vogue. The moderate price, too, is an attraction, for it is only $14.50.

F. The pagoda-like shade shows Chinese figures under a gable; from the curly ends swing purple tassels and blue balls. Price, $16.50.

G. Here is a floor lamp that will look well in sunroom or living-room, or any room that is furnished with wicker. It holds its here in this very interesting floor lamp of Japanese metal wicker work, the thin strips of metal interwoven in cunning manner, just as if they were split cane. Indeed, you are quite likely to think it is cane until you realize how much heavier it is than the ordinary wicker lamp. The shade which is attached is also made of metal, lined with green silk. Price, $19.50.

H. There's many a woman who owns a palm who wishes she had a nice big, artistic jardiniere that it might stand in. And here is a beauty, made of dull metal, finished in antique Japanese fashion—a particularly heavy cauldron style, the feet implanted in a wooden base, the sides ornamented with Japanese figures and scenes, and every smallest detail showing that careful Japanese finish, even the handles being made with grotesque heads. The diameter is 14", the price $8.00.

I. The phoenix—Japanese harbinger of happiness—bearer of good tidings—is pictured on this pretty acid etched brass tray. And the woman who realizes the charm of brass, who loves a gleaming tea table, will rejoice in the possession of such a well-ornamented tray. The price, too, is very moderate, being $3.00.

J. M. Perhaps you know it—that metal work beautifully enamelled in color—an art which is so typically Oriental? Well, here are two charming specimens. 'L' at the top, is a slender, graceful vase, in yellowish bronze, with two broad bands enamelled in terra cotta, white and gold on a turquoise blue ground. Price, $5.50. 'M' is the beautifully proportioned large vase, has a band of enamel round the widest portion, beneath a dispersed band set with colored stone bosses. The band of enamel round the top has ring handles. Price, $15.00.

N. Think of the joy brass candlesticks would bring to the woman who does not possess a pair. The one sketched is made of a very heavy brass, with a six-sided column, six-sided column, the price being $2.00. Others, most of them taller and with columns slender and tapering, or bulbous, are procurable at from $1.75 to $2.75 each.

O. A quaint little pot, isn't it? The sort of jar that is always useful on writing-table or mantel-piece, and such a useful size and shape for the short-stemmed spring flowers. Of lacquered metal, so dark that it is almost black, it is inlaid with silvery white lines, like Damascus work. Price, $3.50.

P. Can you picture this little trough, with small, feathery ferns growing in it, or a few gay crocuses or narcissi, Japanese fashion, in the center? It is a delightful affair, made of heavy cast metal, ornamented with a Japanese motif on a 'disperded' ground, and having elephant's head handles. Price, $2.75.

R. From a huge family of jardiniere in bright brass, the one above has been selected for illustration. It is a very graceful bell-shape, 9 inches in diameter, and long-handled, long-tailed tines in high relief frolic round its sides. Price, $3.50.

Others in the same heavy Japanese brass, with incised designs of various kinds and converging tops, may be had 8, 9 and 10 1/2 inches in diameter, priced respectively at $6.00, $8.00 and $17.00.

The cauldron shape on a wood base is obtainable with 12-inch diameter at $8.00.

Very artistic are certain straight jardiniere, ornamented with deeply incised bands, at $4.00, $5.00 and $7.00.

TEN THOUSAND IN VICTORY PARADE

cession left the starting point, Queen's Park, and it was 3 o'clock by the time the last unit of the parade was on its way. A crowd of several thousand gathered at the point of assembly, waiting for the parade to move off, and cheered lustily as the various units got into position and headed down University avenue, with Chief of Police Col. Grasset in the lead. The parade route followed the University avenue, Simcoe street, along King to Jarvis, up Jarvis to Carlton, west along Carlton and College streets and back into Queen's Park again. A notable fact connected with the procession was that as the last section was leaving Queen's Park the van of it was being swung into its position after completing its triumphant march. The parade was divided into eight prominent sections, publicity, military, hospital, veterans, juvenile, fraternal, societies, industrial and civic. Due to the wet weather the 4000 school children who were to have marched in the parade were unable to participate, but several hundred boys and girls marched in the juvenile section, including boy scouts, De La Salle and St. Mary's cadets, a boys' marching brigade, and those accompanying a mounted "submarine" from Brown School. Boys also carried a number of monster-sized flags, stretching from curb to curb. The coming into view of each of these flags, especially the Union Jack, was a signal for the spectators to break into enthusiastic applause. A Red Cross banner was carried by uniformed nurses. A very effective flag feature in the parade was a detachment of about fifty boy scouts marching in street-wide formation and each carrying an immense flag, the countries they represented including Great Britain, Canada, Ireland, Scotland and the various nations composing the allies.

There were so many floats, great and small, in the parade that scores of vehicles had to be used to transport them. Several of the floats were of the Mardi Gras order, glittering in gorgeous colors and impressive in design, examples being the floats emblematic of the Victory Loan campaign, the Knights of Columbus and that of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. Floats showing in a realistic way the active part women are taking in the work of the imperial munitions board formed another intensely interesting section of the parade. Over a dozen brass, bugle and pipe bands headed the parade's various sections and by their spirited playing added to the general enthusiasm of the occasion.

The 48th Highlanders, under command of Lieut. John Elster, headed the procession. They were followed by the huge R. F. C. airplane, the Victory float, the publicity committee, and the Victory Loan committee, these forming the publicity section. Next came the military section, headed by Lieut. Col. C. Arnold, commander of the Artillery Brigade. The military section was composed of the Royal Flying Corps band, including the Royal Flying Corps Cadets, float with airplane workers, Royal Flying Corps mechanics, the band of the Queen's Own Rifles, Royal Canadian Dragoons, Canadian Artillery, float of munition workers, band of the Royal Grenadiers, C. O. T. C. Battalion, C. A. S. C. Brigade and the Army Medical Corps.

Other sections which took part in the procession were: Hospital section, Marshal F. E. Robson—Band, Red Cross flag, St. John Ambulance Corps, ambulances, float of hospital commission, and wounded soldiers.

Veterans' section, Marshal R. F. Smith—Band of Great War Veterans, Great War Veterans marching band, wives of soldiers at front marching, float emblematic of war and children of soldiers at front.

Civic section, Marshal S. B. McMichael—Band, mayor and council in autos, fire brigade, street department, juvenile section, Marshal D. J. O'Connor—Bugle Band, Royal Grenadiers, float, naval brigade, naval cadets marching, float, mounted submarine from Brown School; cadet band, collegiate institute, cadets marching, Technical School Band, Technical School cadets, cadet band, public school cadets, band of De La Salle Institute, De La Salle and St. Mary's cadets, float showing work of girls' guides, float supplied by boy scouts, and boy scouts.

Society section, Marshals Messrs. Fudge and Fitzpatrick—Band, mounted Arab patrol of Ramesses Temple, Arab patrol drill corps, Knights Templar marching, Knights of Columbus float, Knights of Columbus in decorated autos, float of Columbus in decorated autos, float of Imperial Order of Daughters of Empire, band, Independent Order Oddfellows uniformed drill corps, floats supplied by Somers School, mounted corps of ladies from Somers School, Somers School marching, Rotary Club float, Rotary Club in decorated autos, float supplied by Loyal Orange Association, Independent Order Foresters returned veterans float supplied by Y. M. C. A., and float supplied by trades and labor council. Industrial section, Marshal Mr. H. G. Colebrook—Band, special mounted corps of ladies carrying flags of allies, Canadian Pacific locomotive, float, Adams Furniture Co., float, Canada Steamship Lines; float, Harris Abbatoir Co., float, the T. Eaton Co., Ltd.; float, Canadian Northern Railway; float, Oxo, Limited; float, Robert Simpson Co., float, F. S. Williams Co. with band; float, the Loblaw Co., stores; float, Grand Trunk Railway; float, Toronto Board of Trade, and trench float.

Speeches in Queen's Park. At the conclusion of the parade all the bands marched into Queen's Park and encircled the band stand to the north of the parliament buildings, playing their respective regimental airs. The bands then all lined up and rendered as a grand finale "The Maple Leaf," "O, Canada" and "God Save the King." A large crowd of citizens which gathered around the band stand were addressed by Controller Cameron and Pte. John Brice, M.M., a returned soldier who had served at the front with the 21st Battalion.

Controller Cameron, speaking on behalf of the Victory Loan, said: "We are not asking you to give your money—it is the best investment one could have. So put your money into Victory bonds and bring your boy back. Last Sunday I spoke to some newspaper boys, many of them small and poor, and who had to stand out in the rain and snow, yet many of them bought bonds. One small lad in particular—I did not think he smelted cigarettes—but he said he would 'cut it out' and buy a Victory bond by instalments."

Pte. John Brice, M.M., pointed out that at no time more than at the present should citizens be more keen, more self-sacrificing. "It's the last round that counts," he declared. "Invest every cent you can raise. You are fighting not only for yourselves but for your children's children. By subscribing generously to the Victory Loan you can thereby do four things: Your duty, help yourselves, help my comrades in the line and make good the sacrifices of the past."

The Victory Loan festivities were continued far into the night, a procession led by a band of giant Highland laddies playing the pipes marching thru the principal streets of the downtown section of the city. The principal street corners were thronged with citizens shrilly blowing thru the horns provided by automobile parties coursing down the thoroughfares.

Rich and poor alike gave vent to the enthusiasm of the hour and one was enabled to watch usually staid and correct men and women blowing horns and occasionally throwing them pell mell into the throngs on the sidewalks. King, Convent was in his element, and for the moment one was transported as it were into the lands of the Mardi Gras fête.

In taking the public into their confidence the members of the executive committee, thru J. W. Mitchell, the chairman, declared with frankness that on the public who could invest large sums equally with that section that could purchase bonds of smaller denomination. Toronto reached its objective of seventy-five million dollars. The campaign closes at midnight on Saturday and the applications mailed before midnight will be in time. The final returns will be announced at a special meeting at the armories on Monday night.

This morning at every home in the city there will be delivered a card, with the message, "I want to buy a bond. Citizens who desire to subscribe to the Victory Loan are asked to place the card in a conspicuous place that canvassers may see it."

At the civic luncheon yesterday, President Samuel Compers handed to H. H. Williams, chairman of division E, the application for cheque for $10,000 from the American Federation of Labor.

Gratifying Results. Victory Loan enthusiasm is still running at fever-heat the country over, and it appears practically certain now that the majority of the provinces will exceed their objectives by a large sum. Canada will subscribe over the $300,000,000 west has done remarkably well, nearly having set new objectives, which they are now rapidly approaching.

But the most gratifying feature is the manner in which Ontario has responded. Its gain, and yesterday the rest of the province were the largest of any day since the campaign opened. The total for Ontario, a total, including Toronto, of over $18,000,000. Ontario has now subscribed a grand total of $78,000,000 and there are indications that the province will show $90,000,000 by the end of the week. G. H. Wood, provincial chairman, is now fully looking for more.

PAPERS WERE DESTROYED IN THE ABERDEEN FIRE

Documents in Connection With Estate of Late J. J. Foy Probably Lost, Says Witness.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday Justice Middleton resumed the hearing of the action by the estate of the late Hon. J. J. Foy against Mrs. E. J. Peterson, to recover a considerable sum alleged to be owing on a mortgage on the Ansonia Apartments, Spadina road. The first witness called was Mr. Miller, lawyer, who, examined by Robert McKay, K.C., appearing for Mrs. Peterson, said that he had seen Mr. Foy in connection with the divorce proceedings undertaken for Mrs. Peterson. In answer to the question the witness said that he had told Mr. Foy what he was doing, as the witness knew from Mrs. Peterson that Mr. Foy knew a great deal about it. To Mr. McKay, K.C., appearing for the estate, Mr. Miller said that Mrs. Peterson had come to him after the death of Mr. Foy with regard to some papers in the vault of the Toronto General Trusts Company and this impression was that she asked for some papers relating her from the mortgage. He stated that Mrs. Peterson had first come to him in March, 1910, about the divorce.

"What did you say to her?" asked Mr. McKay. "I told her that I did not think a divorce worth the cost of getting unless you want to get married again," said the witness, and added that the case had been twice before the court, and Mrs. Peterson seemed critical about the way things were going. H. P. Rogers, agent, told the court that some of his papers, destroyed in the fire in the Aberdeen Chambers about six weeks ago, Miss Dorothy Peterson, daughter of the defendant, Mrs. D. M. Peterson, told of an occasion when Mr. Foy had visited her and Mrs. Peterson was away, and he wanted Mrs. Peterson to take some papers of hers, and she had better come back and get them. Later Mr. Foy took a cheque and he would not take it. The witness tore it up. The case is proceeding.

LEGAL QUESTIONS BOTHER TRIBUNALS

Naturalization Problems Bring Up Many Interesting Legal Points.

Many legal questions arise at the exemption tribunals these days. Each tribunal has a legal light as one of its members, but sometimes even that light is questioned. This was the case at tribunal 160 yesterday over the case of Bingeman Cohen of 41 Clarendon street. On May 24 his father applied for naturalization papers. On June 1 he became 21 years of age. On June 7 the papers came thru. Question: Is Bingeman a Canadian or a Rumanian? On this question hinges the fact as to whether he will have to serve in the army or not. N. B. Cash, K.C., said that Bingeman was 21 when the papers were received and therefore not now a British subject. O. Hezellewood said he was not up in the law of the country, but his law was that of common sense. He maintained that when Cohen, sr., applied for naturalization papers, he carried with him automatically the application of all the members of his family under age at that time, among whom was the applicant. The fact that the government did not finish the process of naturalization until Bingeman had turned 21 did not change the moral aspect of the case. Mt. Hezellewood, and so he would not consent to exempting him as an alien. The tribunal disagreed, the case will go to the appellate court.

Question of Bankers. The question of exemption of Canadian bank clerks employed in other countries than Canada was brought before tribunal 351 by Staff Superintendent Foster of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The list totaled 24, and after consideration the tribunal decided to grant exemption until such time as their physical fitness is determined and their services required. The bank is to report to the registrar when they return to Canada. Their category not being at present known, it was considered this was the best course to adopt.

An odd mix-up occurred at Tribunal No. 355 when two young women appeared on behalf of Samuel Snider, printer, 60 Augusta avenue. His wife, aged 18 years, came to tell the tribunal her husband was under age, being only 19 years. The age given was 29 years. With the wife came her sister-in-law, another Mrs. Samuel Snider, wife of Samuel Snider's brother, also called Samuel. Her husband is 29, has been married 19 years and has a large family. It took some time to straighten matters out, but finally the decision reached was that the one who had registered by mistake was the married man and he was exempted as ineligible.

"You are too young to be married," said General Denison to the 18-year-old bride. "You are only 18, aren't you?" "No, I'm 18. It is not the looks," answered the young woman.

Buy Victory Bonds

That the World May Be Made Safe For You and Me!

Loosen your purse strings, men and women of Canada---buy more and more Victory Bonds---buy them till the pinch of buying brings to your heart the glow of a good investment and a good deed done. Buy Victory Bonds. If you have bought one---buy another---and try to get other people to buy them.

Victory Bonds are your answer---Canada's answer, the one answer as a people---as a nation---loyal to the cause of right and liberty---that we can make to the World War.

The eyes and ears of the world are strained for our answer, and the eyes and ears of our common enemy more than those of our allies.

Strike the answer home then that there may be no doubt of it.

Our young manhood answers as our boys go to the firing line---our farmers answer in food for our fighting men---our manufacturers in clothing---big guns and little guns---powder, shot and shell---but they speak the answer of individuals.

Canada's Victory Loan speaks for all Canada---let the answer tell friend and foe that we are fighting for victory---liberty and security---for ourselves and for our children.

The world must be made safe for us---and them.

So put every dollar you can spare into Victory Bonds---never before could your money count for so much in your country's service---it buys life and liberty, now---and for all time.

It fights for us and pays for the privilege of fighting---it fulfils a duty which has the double reward of a good deed and a good investment.

Buy Victory Bonds---the best investment in all Canada---a Victory Bond is money invested at 5 1/2 per cent, always safe as gold, always worth its face value.

Men and women with few or many dollars to invest can put them to fighting for the home and at the same time bring you an income.

Canada has done well in men and money---but how little in sacrifice compared to Belgium and France!

Victory Bonds! Buy them freely---as a privilege---as a duty---lend to your utmost dollar, now---Buy Victory Bonds.

Buy and in buying strike Canada's answer home---that the world must be made safe for you and yours.

If your income is $2,500 or over do not buy a couple of bonds and then sit back satisfied you have done your whole duty. You can do more---you are not giving---you are lending---at good interest with all Canada as your security.

NO ICE ALLOTTED TO SENIOR CLUBS

Slow to Line Up—News and Gossip of the Hockey Players.

No senior teams have applied for ice at the arena as yet and the make-up of the local group is not available. Details of St. Patrick's are sure starters, but who the other two clubs will be is what is worrying the fans. St. Patrick's are hustling after players and have a good squad lined up. The details will be even stronger than a year ago and the two other clubs that will compose the group will have a lively time digging up the necessary material.

It is rumored that a soldier team from Exhibition camp will be one of them. There are several who would like to play and a first-class outfit could be rounded out. The fourth entry will likely come from the east end. Just who will manage this club and who will be the backers is not yet known. The O.H.A. meeting on Saturday will clear up the situation and the fans will know next week.

Charlie Querre passed up the management of the pro. outfit and again will be found looking after the amateur teams in the interest of the arena this winter. Charlie is popular with all the players and is the right man in the right job.

That idea to stop the prep. college teams from getting outside talent is a good one. It will make the rivalry much keener and it will be a fight to maintain the honor of the school in every case.

There is no chance of Bill Box jumping to the pros. He is a member of the Dental Corps and will stay in khaki and give his hockey services to the O.H.A. champions.

Jimmy Murphy is back from Montreal and has not as yet decided on the offer to manage the Toronto pro team. Mr. Murphy says he will give his decision today. It looks as if Jimmy is just waiting until the official announcement is given out from headquarters in Montreal.

The greatest interest centres in the annual convention of the Ontario Hockey Association to be held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Temple Building, Bay and Richmond streets, Toronto, inasmuch as a number of very important amendments to the regulations and rules of the game are to come before the delegates for consideration.

The most important amendments will be one introduced by Mr. G. B. Dawson of Sarnia, seconded by Mr. W. A. Fry of Dunville to change the penalty system so as to permit of six-man hockey. Sarnians have also been introduced which practically make it the same O.H.A. game as before, with the exception that this year there will be six men a side on the ice instead of seven. As a war measure it will likely meet with the approval of the majority of the delegates to the convention. No change will be made in the number of players on the ice, viz., that a player who commits a foul on the ice will be ruled out, just the same as before. As the six-man game is very hard on the players physically, an amendment has been introduced which gives one extra player for each team for each game as a substitute, enabling the teams to make changes on the ice, at their discretion, by using the extra player as a substitute.

Good-bye, Paddy Moran! It will be noticed that the celebrated goalkeeper of the Quebec Club was not drawn by any of the clubs in the new National League. Mike Quinn announced that Moran was thru and Paddy's name was thus rubbed off the list. Moran played goal for Quebec for about six years and was one of the greatest that ever strapped on the pads. Last year he became a visitor, where he will judge the close of the season by Sammy Hebert of Ottawa. Hebert is likely to play this season with the Toronto Club.

George Vesina, the greatest hockey goalkeeper of the last half-dozen years, writes to Montreal from the banks of the Saguenay River that he will be there with bells on for about six weeks and will be in charge of the coaching hockey season. He is the first Canadian player to officially accept a position on next season's team.

VISITORS FROM EDMONTON.

W. J. Stark, manager of the Edmonton fair, is again a visitor, enroute to the hockey winter fair, where he will judge the hackneys, roadsters, saddle horses and ponies. The president of the Edmonton fair, W. R. West, is also making the trip.

Thirteen Hendrie Horses Won Money

The fortune of the G. M. Hendrie stable of 1917 moved in much the same groove as 1916, altho there was a slight improvement in money won. The stable total for 1916 was $17,375, this year showing a gain of $1,351 over that amount. Five English-bred horses were inmates of the stable, and it is quite probable that their indifferent showing in racing was a sharp disappointment to their owner. It is reasonable that one who goes to the expense of purchasing fashionable-bred blood stock should expect to entertain ardent visions concerning their future excellence on the turf. Jack Shippe, Sharp Frost, Freeppector, Ekharter and Sunby are well enough bred to suit the most exacting, but their racing was not in accordance therewith. The native-breds, Rancher, Sands of Pleasure, Stormbount and Sweet Alyseum, proved the mainstays of the stable, and collectively won $14,686 of its total for the year.

The executive of the Provincial League met at the Oddfellows' Hall, College street, last night, and arranged the final of the challenge cup between the Royal Flying Corps and Toronto Scottish. PRIZES PRESENTED CRICKET CHAMPIONS

Albions, Winners of the C. & M., Handed Over the Eastmure Cup.

Toronto & District Cricketers' Association held their fortnightly assembly at the Occident Hall last evening, in the form of a smoke with Dr. E. B. Smith in the chair. Songs, recitations and musical items were followed by the presentation of the Eastmure Cup and badges to the Albion team, as 1917 champions of the C. & M. League.

Mr. Eastmure, back from a successful hunting trip, made the presentation, and congratulated the winners. Mr. Seal (captain) suitably responded to a call for a speech. Then followed more harmony, and the West Toronto team were presented with the Shield, as runners-up in the league.

Mr. Green (West Toronto) received the bat presented by Rev. A. E. Vesey for the best batting average, and Mr. E. Tunbridge the bat presented by Senator A. C. McDonnell for the best bowling average.

Mr. T. P. Woods, secretary of the league, was presented with a purse of gold, as a small appreciation of his services to the league since its inception 17 years ago. Mr. Foster, in a very able speech, made the presentation. Messrs. Dancocks, Seal, Shelling, Dawson, Paris, Jones, Hopkins and Roberts provided an excellent entertainment, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was the outcome. The hall was packed with cricketers and supporters.

War Caused Big Slump In the Business of Golf

New York, Nov. 28.—It all depends upon the duration of the war, but at this writing the golfers of the metropolitan district believe that in 1918 they are to have another season as barren as the one thru which they have just passed. Members of the clubs are making their arrangements accordingly. With little prospect of competitive play, they reason the boys who had known him in athletics and who were also class-mates of his. Lieut. Montgomery was only recently returned to France after a long tour in England, where he held a reunion with Lieut. Art Brown, who is now at his home in London, and Lieut. Chuck Waterous, who is also at his home in Brantford, Ont. On return to active service Lieut. Montgomery was wounded, and never recovered.

Death of McGill Captain Recalls Varsity Game at Grafty

Montreal, Nov. 28.—Lorne C. Montgomery, another famous McGill athlete, has made the supreme sacrifice. Word of the death of Lorne C. Montgomery was only recently returned to France after a long tour in England, where he held a reunion with Lieut. Art Brown, who is now at his home in London, and Lieut. Chuck Waterous, who is also at his home in Brantford, Ont. On return to active service Lieut. Montgomery was wounded, and never recovered.

NEW PISTON RING.

A new piston ring, having no outside joints to permit leakage and no exposed ends to score the cylinder, consists of two identical circular members, each with a flange-like extension midway between its ends. The two parts fit together so that each flange overlaps and protects the ends of the other member, thus forming a ring requiring no device to unite the halves.

Professional Hockey Line-Ups Look Pretty Good on Paper

All Four Teams With the Quebec Players Scattered Around Appear About Equal in Strength and an Even Race Should Result

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The distribution of the Quebec players will make the National Hockey League line-ups this winter look something like this:

Ottawa—Goal, Bonfield; defence, Shore and Crawford; forwards, Gerard, Nigh-Mooney, Lowrey, Bruce or McKersie.

Canadiens—Goal, Vesina; defence, Corneil and Hall; forwards, Lalonde, Pihre, Malone; subs, Smith, Laviolette, Marks, Berlanquette and Couture.

Wanderers—Goal, Lindsay or Hague; defence, Ross and Ritchie; forwards, Hyland, Carey, Odie Cleghorn; subs, McDonald, Bell, Thompson.

Toronto—Goal, Hebert; defence, Cameron and Kyle; forwards, Skinner, Noble, Corbett, Dennoy; subs, Gowenlock, Mackenzie, Harry Meeking, Harry Mummy, Walter Mummy, Johnson, Randall, Coughlin.

While Ottawa and Canadiens may appear to shade the Toronto and Wanderer teams, on paper at least, look to be prettier, the Ottawa and Canadiens are the best of the championship should be in order from the first game.

The Ottawa team, as it now stands, is an evenly-balanced one, with speed both on the defence and attack, and a great goal-getter in Nighor. Of course, the latter may not be here, and his absence would make a big difference in the strength of the team, even tho a strong line of subs is available.

Canadiens, with Malone on the ground forward line with Pihre and Lalonde, will have three players up at the front who can get goals. The offense will be a little weak without Mummy; and the subs do not appear any too strong.

Wanderers, with a good goalie, would have to be classed with Ottawa and Canadiens. That would be the case only if Odie Cleghorn and Hyland are available. Art Ross and Dave Ritchie will make a pretty fair defence. But the Red and subs are very weak.

Toronto will be a hard team to bat. They will have all of last season's outfit and some new ones. They are all youngsters, and have speed and ginger to burn. Altogether it looks as if the eastern pros will be able to give the fans just as good hockey as ever this winter.

WORLD'S MOST CURIOUS TREE.

Found in Switzerland by Louis Pir, President of the Royal Botanical Society of Belgium.

What is claimed to be one of the most curious trees in the world was found in Switzerland by M. Louis Pir, president of the Royal Botanical Society of Belgium. It is a fir tree still standing at last account, in the forests of Alliaz, Canton of Vaud.

"This particular tree," reports Prof. Pir, "stands 4500 feet above the sea and is surrounded by a forest of fir, which it exceeds in height by 30 to 40 feet.

"The trunk of this tree is 10 meters, or a little more than 30 feet, in circumference at the base. At about a third from the ground it puts out, on the south side, seven offshoots, which have grown into trunks as strong and vigorous as those of the other trees in the forest. And, in fact, in the bottom, these side-branches soon straighten themselves up and rise perpendicularly and parallel to the main stem.

"Another most curious fact is that the two largest side-branches are situated in the manner in which the growing of branches, which, common enough among the angio-sperms, is extremely rare among conifers.

"It has been impossible to ascertain the manner in which the growing of one branch into the other has been effected. The adaptation by which a limb, originally destined to grow free and bear foliage, has been converted into a living sick of timber, is a strange one, and affords a new illustration of the power of nature to fit itself to circumstances. The space between the rough flooring formed by the growing together of the offshoots, and the trunk, is large enough to admit of building a comfortable hamlet's hut within it.

"It seems that in studying a vast collection of growing trees, such as may be found at the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University, that the unthought-of new laws of nature at work. So strikingly are the sizes and shapes of certain trees for methods of growing that even an amateur soon learns something of their care and the attention and conditions for growth that they require. In fact, Prof. Bergens, the director of the Arnold Arboretum, says that 'trees are as varied in their ways and methods of works as is man.'

New Orleans, Nov. 28.—The winter race meeting at the Jefferson Parish track opens tomorrow with a card of six races, the Thanksgiving Handicap, at a mile, has the biggest entry and should furnish a great contest.

The office of the racing association was moved from the Fair grounds to the new track yesterday morning. It will only be kept open at the old place now for the reception of entries for the Jefferson Parish racing each morning until 1.30 o'clock.

There has been received from Frank Herold that he will bring down twelve horses from Bowie with him to the new track. Some of them are the property of E. F. Whitney, while the others belong to the Quincey stable.

Dr. J. S. Tyree will send five horses here, William Oliver four, Senor Yaguelo a small band, Jack Odum two, A. L. Ake seven, J. Lumsden five and D. D. Miskel three.

success, it would be expected that the Germans would do all possible to exploit it. They have been able to do nothing beyond following up the Italian retirement. Even now there is no sign anywhere of the vast German reinforcements which it might naturally be expected Germany would rush up to strike a decisive blow at the enemy.

Of the western front he said: "The battle of Cambrai is still in the melting pot. The attack was a great success. The British in this case had no definite objectives. We intended to get as far as we could, and I can tell you we established ourselves a deal further than Field Marshal Haig expected."

"The actual positions captured were very interesting, showing the tremendous amount of work put in on the triple Hindenburg line by the German soldiers. Each line was defended by strong trenches, dugouts, tunnels and a triple line of barbed wire, each line fifty to sixty yards in depth. The villages behind the line had beneath them great chambers which were made of concrete and were very strong. They were made of concrete and were very strong. They were made of concrete and were very strong."

General Maurice declared that the British position in the Cambrai salient was one which would be of the greatest service in further operations against the Germans.

some high political or religious motive. In the present case, if it should prove true that Germany is proposing such an armistice, it is probably because of internal pressure by the masses, clamoring for peace, as well as from a distinct realization that the Russian should be of no further assistance to the allies, the situation in Italy and on the western front, as well as in Palestine and in Mesopotamia, and at sea, is such that crushing defeat cannot be avoided during the coming year, when the full strength of the United States will have made up for the loss of Russian support.

The Bolshevik formula has been the proposal of an armistice to all the belligerents, with a view to the conclusion of a general peace. The proposal has fitted in with the admitted desire for peace by the Allies, and the peace offer and in the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace note, as well as a view to the conclusion of a general peace. The proposal has fitted in with the admitted desire for peace by the Allies, and the peace offer and in the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace note, as well as a view to the conclusion of a general peace.

The proposal seems to have been launched at a time when representatives of the allied powers are in Paris for a conference in which the future course of war activities probably will be decided. The French leaders have been joined by the representatives of Great Britain, Italy and the United States. A basis for joint action against the central powers is to be determined at the conference, it is indicated, and the future policy toward Russia may be decided upon.

PLENTY OF NURSES IN CANADIAN SERVICE

Dominion Government Has More Applications Than Vacancies to Fill.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—In view of the many applications to join the Canadian nursing service being received by the militia department makes the following statement:

"As a great number of Canadian nurses were appointed and sent overseas as nursing sisters of the Canadian Army Medical Corps during the first two years of the war the requirements in Canadian nursing service have to a large extent been filled. Only small drafts are asked for from time to time to fill the place of members resigning or invalided from the service."

"In response to an appeal made by the British authorities in 1914 up to the month of 350 Canadian nurses were sent over for duty with the Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service. Numbers of these are being absorbed into the strength of the Canadian Army Medical Corps nursing service overseas as their term of service with the British forces expires."

"In view of the fact that the surplus in Canada over Canadian requirements is still large, and as letters are being received from eminently qualified nurses offering their services overseas, an enquiry was recently made to the war office as to whether the surplus in Canada could be put to use in the service. A reply has been received stating that they have sufficient nurses for immediate requirements."

THE STRENGTH OF WOMAN.

"The work women are doing in this war is wonderful!" exclaimed a member of the railroads war board at a banquet. "Driving ammunition trucks, digging trenches, even, as in Russia, fighting in the front line!" "Woman comes more and more to resemble Cornelius Husk's daughter Mame. When Husk Mame, as she was known in the township, presented her future husband to the old man, Corn Husk sighed and said: "Take her, son, but take good care of her, for the little ladybird has been ever at her to plow, and two acres of corn is all she's been used to hoe 'twixt sun-up and dark. She kin do light work, she kin do heavy work, she kin do such as rail-splitting, an' well-diggin', but she ain't used to rough work, an' you must be gentle with her. I tell you, son, it's hard for the old man to give his own wood and tend his own stock now."—Exchange.

CITIZENS STILL OBJECT TO PARK HOSPITAL SITE

Ratepayers of Wards Six and Seven Will Make Further Representations to Council.

Citizens of Wards Six and Seven are still showing pronounced signs of discontent over the building of a military hospital in High Park. Despite the unsuccessful efforts of the deputations of ratepayers who appeared at the city hall in objection to the proposed site of the hospital, the city still has the intention of proceeding with the project.

The question with a view to checking the commencement of building operations in the site. Although the matter has now passed its final stage, the authorities have every intention of constructing the hospital in the site still contemplated. The city will put up with the objection. W. H. Weir has the names of two gentlemen who will contribute $100 each to the purchase of a suitable property elsewhere.

TWO MEN AND TWO WOMEN.

Surfrage was the subject. The speakers were the joy of the morning. An American newspaper man, the place before the war.

"We have the suffrages," said the speaker, "and you are excited. You in America will have them in time. It's written on the wall. But why worry? For every suffrage we have a hundred mothers to continue the world and propagation. Did you ever hear of the ill-assorted couple during one of their lives?"

"Mrs. Troth, an ante and postnatal suffrage," was reading from The London Times about a man who had just died. "He reached the age of 40," the speaker said, "without learning how to read or write, and for her sake, after meeting the woman he loved, he made a scholar of himself in two years."

"That's nothing," replied the acid profane to each, to the purchase of a suitable property elsewhere.

LIBERALS HAVE MOTOR BUT NEED CHAUFFEUR

This is the Way Mrs. G. G. S. Lindsey Explains Political Situation to Women Voters.

The 75th Battalion Women's Club was addressed yesterday afternoon by Mrs. G. G. S. Lindsey, who began her remarks by asking the women if they wanted their man to return from overseas. The response of "Yes" from all over the hall showed how many there were in that crowd of women who have friends across the water. Mrs. Lindsey urged every woman to do her duty to the men at the front by voting and seeing that the man who has a vote polls it for the Union government.

Mrs. Lindsey said some were calling her a traitor because she left the Liberal party. She declared it was not the case of her leaving the Liberal party, but the party leaving the front for what was right.

The machinery of the present government must be used, Mrs. Lindsey said. The Liberals had the motor, but they needed a chauffeur, and the Laurierites would not let them choose.

Six months ago Mrs. Lindsey declared there was not a stronger party woman than herself, but the present issue transcended in importance anything which ever came into Canada before.

Mrs. Alex. Keith, the president of the club, expressed the pleasure of the members to Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Henderson in a vote of thanks.

AN ARTISTIC TREAT.

Professor Coleman's Lecture on "Picturesque South America" is Delight.

An artistic and intellectual treat was given the members of the Women's Art Association yesterday afternoon when Professor H. P. Coleman delivered his latest lecture on "Picturesque South America," this being the first address given by the professor since his return from touring the country of which he spoke.

The address was illustrated with a number of realistic views of the cities of the south and of the Andes, the wonderful chain of mountains which traverse this interesting part of America.

Prof. Cameron, husband of the president of the association, introduced the speaker. There was a large attendance, whose appreciation was expressed in a vote of thanks given by Miss McKay. The hostess at the tea was Mrs. Watkins.

WOMEN WERE DISAPPOINTED

The Women's Canadian Club, whose members turned out in large numbers in the Guild Hall, McGill street, yesterday afternoon, was disappointed when informed by the president, Mrs. James George, that there would be no speaker. Samuel Gompers, the great labor leader, to whose address the women had been looking forward, had sent word early in the afternoon, that he would not be able to address the club as he had to speak elsewhere, and again in the evening.

THE LEADERS HAVE UNITED THE PEOPLE MUST UNITE

They Called for Union Government and They Must Support Union Government

THE PURPOSE of Union Government is to overcome the forces of disunion.

It is to ensure that those who are against the war shall not prevail at the polls, and that Monday, December 17th, shall not be a day of humiliation and dishonor in Canadian history.

It is to guarantee that while our sons advance in France and Belgium we shall not retreat in Canada.

It is to prevent domination by a single Province which has done little in the war, and to ensure at least proportionate authority to the other eight Provinces, which have done much in the war.

It is to dedicate Canada to service and not to faction, to patriotism and not to party, to freedom and independence, and not to the narrow interests of any race or creed or group or section or Province.

The Germans Favor a Referendum

The Germans are in favor of a referendum in Canada. They are in favor of every attempt to excite farmers against compulsory selection. They are behind all those who seek to inflame labor against the most democratic and progressive Government that has ever held office in the Dominion. They are pleased when British patriots are driven from public platforms, and when stories of dissension and division in Canada are spread abroad.

port elements hostile to the war, or careless about it, to embarrass Governments engaged in its prosecution, to defeat measures necessary to strengthen the allied forces, and to direct attention to issues which have no relation to the war, but which divide classes and breed unrest and confusion.

The Union Government has no entangling alliances with groups or interests. It has no debts to discharge at the expense of the public. This is proved by what has been done, which is nothing to what will be done. In the Government there is a strong representation of the radical forces of the West and the progressive influences of the East. It is supported by most of the newspapers which have been the chief advocates of social reform and the most independent mouthpieces of democracy. Aside altogether from its freedom from the narrowing influences of party, Canada never has had a Government so close to the masses of the people and so independent of organized interests. Nor is there any prospect that such a Government can be formed out of the disorganized factions and remnants which follow Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

That is the way Germany works. In proportion as the allied nations are divided Germany is strengthened. If Canada hesitates Germany will rejoice. The German people will be told that the first of the British Dominions is weary of the struggle. It will be declared that the war is shattering the British Empire. Canada will be ranked with Russia. Through the assurances given to Germans that the British Empire is not holding together, they will fight with new hope and confidence, the war will be prolonged, and the death-roll among Canadians will be lengthened.

In Canada there are all the elements and conditions which offer a fruitful field for German agents. They work in the shadow, concealing their identity and their real purposes. They will triumph if the Union Government is defeated, and for such a triumph they will plot boldly and spend freely. And thousands of those who took orders from these masked enemies will never know at whose command they marched into ignominy and dishonor.

In the motley ranks of the Opposition are all those who are against the war, all those who would disorganize agriculture and business by renewal of voluntary recruiting, all those who are partisans before they are patriots, all those who set sectional and racial considerations above national considerations, and all those who trade in the inevitable losses and miseries of war for personal or party advantage.

We are not fighting for Great Britain any more than Great Britain is fighting for us. What would be our position if we should withdraw from the war and separate from the British Empire to-morrow? We would have slunk out of a conflict into which the United States has entered in sheer concern for freedom, humanity and civilization. We would be the only English-speaking community in the world unwilling to suffer and sacrifice for the elementary rights of mankind. We would desert our own sons in France and turn our backs upon 30,000 graves of those who went away at our appeal and died in our defence. We would shame those who have made Canada glorious among the nations and become helots among the English-speaking peoples.

The Union Government is a union, not an absorption. Its success in the elections will not be a victory for the Conservative party or the Liberal party. In the Cabinet there is an equal representation of Liberals and Conservatives, united for the war, for Canada, for the Empire, for freedom, for civilization. They have abandoned no principles, nor sacrificed any convictions. They are inspired by a common patriotism and a common determination to reinforce the brave men at the front and employ all the energies and resources of Canada in the great struggle. They will take wealth by compulsion, more freely than they will take men. They will hesitate at no measures necessary to care for those who will return from the trenches broken in health and maimed in body, and for their dependents, to whom the obligation of the State can never be fully discharged.

The people demanded a Union Government. They have got it. It embraces all the Provincial and National leaders of the Liberal party but one. It includes all the Provincial and National leaders of the Conservative party. Shall one man block the way? Shall the people who called to the leaders to unite refuse themselves to unite in support of those who cast aside personal and party differences and prejudices in obedience to the people's demand and in loyalty to the great obligation which lies upon every Canadian patriot to fill up the ranks of the Canadian regiments, so sadly depleted in the long and desperate struggle against a brutal and arrogant despotism, and in defence of the institutions under which we have freedom and security.

German agents have been active in the United States, in Australia, in Russia, in Italy and in every other country where they can make mischief and create division. Why do we imagine that they are not busy in Canada? Their method is to organize and sup-

Already the Union Government has abolished patronage lists, which were the source of great waste and many political evils, prohibited the use of grain for spirituous liquors, established control over packing houses and cold storage plants, and limited profits to 11 per cent. on capital, greatly increased the powers of the Food Controller, and provided for control over exports.

POLITICAL NEWS

THE REAL ISSUE IS CONSCRIPTION

Laurier Has Made It So, Says Hugh Guthrie at Timmins.

Special to The Toronto World. Timmins, Ont., Nov. 28.—The Union government campaign in the District of Timiskaming was centered from Timmins today, where Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Hon. F.G. Macdormald held two rousing meetings.

In a forceful and convincing address Hon. Hugh Guthrie presented the case for Union government. It had been said by some that the proposal should have come from Sir Robert Borden two or three years ago, but it was better to have union now than none at all.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the war would not end until the Germans were driven across the Rhine he wondered whether he meant that the war would be won by the British, Australians, New Zealanders and gallant French, while Canada should stop her aid.

ACCUSES BORDEN OF EVERYTHING BAD

J. S. Ewart Asserts Borden Caused Disastrous Cleavage.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The Evening Journal today says: J. S. Ewart, K.C., the well-known publicist, has issued a pamphlet entitled "The Disruption of Canada," in which he says that "after many years of abstention from politics I venture at this moment to offer counsel to my fellow-citizens."

He says that in his opinion "Sir Robert Borden is in very large measure responsible for that most deplorable situation, namely, the disruption of the Dominion."

Mr. Ewart concludes by declaring that "the only way to save Canada from such disastrous cleavage is to elect Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

M'COIG REFUSES TO SIGN AGREEMENT

Will Not Give Unequivocal Support to Union Government.

Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, Ont., Nov. 28.—A. E. McCoig today threw this riding into what promises to be one of the hottest campaigns in the history of Kent when he refused absolutely to sign an agreement, presented by the win-the-war and Unionist party, which embodied an undertaking that he would, if granted the seat by acclamation, support unequivocally the Union government.

The Laurier Liberal decided, at a large meeting of his followers this afternoon, called for the purpose of discussing the concessions of the Unionists presented to him in writing, that the proposal to give him the seat under those conditions was absurd.

West Hamilton Women Complete Their Organization for Union. Special to The Toronto World. Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 28.—The West Hamilton Union Government Women's Association completed its organization at a well-attended meeting in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon when Mrs. George Hope was elected president of the association.

Quebec, Nov. 28.—The controversy between J. E. Bernard, editor of "Le Journal," and Hon. L. A. Taschereau, continues. The affair began Monday afternoon last, Sunday, when Dr. Taschereau insinuated that Mr. Bernard should edit instead of calling on his opponents.

FONTAINE VILLAGE IS NO MAN'S LAND

Of Germans were still clinging to their secret strongholds among the ruined buildings and that British guardsmen also were hidden among the cellars at various points. But for the most part Fontaine Notre Dame was a place of dead; they lay about the streets to tell the story of the cruel tragedy enacted about them.

German prisoners from the 2nd guards division and 46th Regiment were in the British cages this morning as a result of the battle, and among the captives was a battalion commander who was caught with many of his men in the midst of the British thru the village.

A German counter-attack with fresh corps, which resulted in the British being pushed back thru the hamlet, gave the enemy a claim to the reconquest of the place, but, as has been stated, the Germans were unable to remain in Fontaine in force, so that, to all intents and purposes, they lost Fontaine, altho the British did not gain it.

The fighting at Bourlon Village yesterday was very severe. The English began their attack about this place in the face of extremely heavy machine gun and rifle fire. Bourlon was strongly held and was crowded with rapid-firers, which held all the approaches. Tanks worked around to the east of the village and drove a hole in the enemy's defenses. Here they were closely followed by the infantry. The machine gun outposts, however, prevented the infantry from working their way further north on the western side of the place.

The attack progressed, however, on the east side of the village and the British proceeded to the northeast corner, thereby drawing the net closer around the village. At the same time the Germans hurried their counter-attack against Fontaine they threw a large number of fresh troops against the British around Bourlon, and hard fighting ensued. This attack, however, was beaten off and this morning the British appeared to have a footing in the southeastern outskirts of the village.

The Engineers Corps is asking for four recruits who are experienced printers. Applicants are requested to apply at the Engineers' office in the armories.

Leut. W. J. Smallcombe received appointment to the Machine Gun Corps, the 205th Battalion, and the appointment of Leut. E. R. Ross to the 2nd Central Ontario Regiment is announced.

A verdict of wilful murder was returned at the inquest at the morgue last night into the death of Frank Maletto, an Italian, who lived at 23 Mansfield avenue, and who was shot and instantly killed by another Italian while at work at the Grand Trunk Railway's paint shops on Nov. 30. The murderer is still at large.

TRAP DOOR ALWAYS OPEN TO ABERDEEN CHAMBERS

Several More Witnesses in Fire Enquiry Were Examined, and Hearing was Again Adjourned.

The investigation into the cause of the fire in the Aberdeen Chambers on Oct. 24 last, was continued last night before Fire Marshal E. F. Heaton in the city hall. The first witness called was E. Schofield, who had an office in the building. He said that he was generally in the office at night, but on the night previous to the fire had left about 8 o'clock. He had not seen anyone around the building, and did not know of any person being there. When asked if he had gone into the building with some boards and bulky parcels some time before the fire he stated that he could not recollect having done so. He gave the name and address of a woman with whom he had been seen in the building on several occasions.

Mrs. Emily Collins, one of the women who cleaned the Aberdeen Chambers, gave evidence to the effect that she had seen Schofield (she did not then know his name) and another man enter the chambers carrying some boards and several parcels on one Saturday night some time before the fire. She had also seen him there with a woman. When Schofield was called again he said that he remembered the night in question that it was his brother who was with him, and that he was not carrying boards, but pieces of metal. The parcels, he claimed, were samples of glass, as he is the agent for a glass manufacturing company in the United States.

Mrs. Dickie, who is the wife of the caretaker, said that she had not noticed anything unusual around the premises. Henry Pringle, who was called on Tuesday night in regard to the insurance on the building, was called again and questioned about the fire in the Aberdeen Chambers in 1904.

Richard Massey, foreman for the Pees Oil Burner Co., was installing the tank for an oil-burning furnace at the time of the fire and testified that there was an entrance into the building thru a trap door in the sidewalk, thru which anyone might enter at any time. He had used cans similar to the exhibits, but the cans he had used were still in his possession. The investigation was adjourned until Friday night.

BOY SCOUTS PARADED.

Many of Them Have Been Giving Good Help During Campaign.

One of the most successful sections of the parade yesterday was that of the Boy Scouts, who displayed a Canadian flag manned by 50 boys, district No. 2, Toronto, followed by their massed troop colors guarded by scouts. Then there followed three decorated floats, the first representing ambulance, showing first-aid in the field; the second a boy scout camp, and the third a representation of the provinces mounted by a scout in full dress uniform. About 500 scouts paraded, and added considerably to the display, which was organized by Commissioner C. Mitchell. The boy scout organization has supplied about 200 boys to help in the various offices of the Victory Loan, and these boys have given good service all the time and have contributed largely to the efficiency of the organization of the campaign.

ENDORSED UNION

Meeting of Waterloo Board of Trade Passes Resolution. Waterloo, Ont., Nov. 28.—The board of trade, at a representative meeting, adopted a resolution endorsing the Union government, on the ground that it is the imperative duty of every loyal Canadian citizen to use every legitimate means to secure a return to power to the government. There was no dissenting voice raised to prevent the passing of the resolution, and when it was put to a vote the meeting was unanimous. Prominent citizens of Waterloo, who spoke in support of the resolution, were Thomas Hilliard, Fred Halstead, E. W. N. Grigg, Julius Ross and Dr. Webb.

PATRIOTISM IN LABOR'S MESSAGE

faithfully and well to the people who elected him," said the premier. "I welcome him for another reason, for the land from which he comes, our new and powerful ally." (Loud cheers.) "He is a man born in the good old motherland and trained and finished in the United States. What better qualifications could any man have?" He spoke of the Victory Loan. "Let us put our full force into this war, in order that you may welcome to your home again the boys who are fighting for you overseas; the boys who are fighting so that democracy may be established forever in this great world."

Samuel Gompers was accorded a great reception, the band playing the national anthem, followed immediately by the "Star Spangled Banner." Every one rose to their feet in honor of the visitor. Following that and when the three cheers had subsided the speaker commenced. He said, in part: "It affords me more gratification to be with you than I can find words to express. Somehow or other there is a destiny which shapes our ends round new them how we will, and it is pressing thoughts upon my mind that thru this destiny is keeping all we hold dear. There are some people who, touched by the enormity of the sacrifices which have been made and which perhaps will have to be made, are terrified-stricken at it, and in a large part I share this feeling of horror and terror. I ask you to believe me when I tell you that about three years ago it was my proud boast, as well as it was my belief, that there would not occur a large interruption in the international peace of the world. I was a pacifist par excellence. I belonged to every peace society of which I knew anything about." (Laughter.) "I was a member of the board of directors of the International Peace Society, and also of the state and local organizations of peace, and enjoyed my tranquility with such passion that I nearly hugged it to death." (Loud laughter.) "I was a delegate for the Associated Federation of Labor to the Paris conference. I have been approached on many occasions to have my peace utterings done up in some kind of book form and they were in the hands of the printers when in 1914 I found myself howling in the wilderness. I had been fuddled and fooled in a way unparalleled in the history of the world and then came the declaration of war by the Kaiser. At the command of the imperialist the world was set at each other's throats. I immediately went to the printer and got hold of that damned stuff and took it back." (Loud cheers and laughter interrupted the speaker for several minutes.)

"Those utterings of mine with regard to eternal peace did not have to be revised at the close of the voting on the war, for I verily believe that when we shall have triumphed in this war, there will be no more international preparations for great wars. I ask you to consider for a moment if those false pretenses made by the Kaiser were not really to lull the people of the world into a fanciful security, so that it would not be necessary for them to prepare against any aggression on his part."

Attacks Socialists.

He was extremely bitter in his attacks on the Socialist party, which he said was in opposition to the great labor movement as expressed by the great labor parties of the whole world. "And I say this even if there be any members of the Socialist party in this city or in this room," he declared amidst loud cheers. "Under the scheme of the German school of socialist plutocracy, there is the endeavor to foster, not the labor movement, but German Socialism. In the face of everything that has been done, the violation of international law, the violation of every moral law, and pledges, it is not time that the manhood of our countries should rally in defence of all that is left of mankind and womanhood?"

"You have heard as I have of the conscientious objector. I want to ask you to transplant your minds to Berlin and there enquire of yourselves what you think his imperial majesty would do if there was anyone there who would declare himself a conscientious objector or a pacifist. There was a pacifist in Germany, Dr. Karl Liebknecht, and the Kaiser put him in prison. Is it possible that we have so far forgotten the spirit of our races? Have we so far forgot our appreciation of the human race that we cannot do our duty? Do you know that several of your neighbors have been killed, robbed and ravished? Where is the conscientious objector who will not rise in defence of his own or his family? Whether I am a pacifist or a fighter, now that fact has been brought home to me, I hold that we the dominions who enjoy the freedom and the privileges of freedom, who will not fight for them is a coward and a poltroon." Cheers greeted this announcement.

Grow Rich on Hope. He touched on the question of neutral countries, and asked them which of the countries were neutral. "Holland, Switzerland, the Scandinavian countries have grown rich upon seeing the needs of Germany," he said. "Should Germany win then these countries are rich, but let Germany lose 'Should Germany win then these countries are poor?' Neutral countries" continued the speaker in scorn, "there ain't no such animal." (Loud laughter.) "The time has gone by," he continued emphatically, "when we can view this war as a proposition academic in its character, and we are in the arena of the world's fight for life. I hold it the duty of every Canadian by birth or citizenship to do everything in his power to unite the people to win this war. I know something of the strife of your political parties. You may differ in many things, but the fact is you are at war and the Dominion of Canada has entered the war, and has entered into it, Canada, without regard to politics, language or religion, united to bring victory and glory to Canada and all the other nations in the world."

Must Obey Law.

Speaking of conscription he said he was opposed to force wherever and whenever it could be avoided. "But the congress of the United States in its lawful right advocated that we should have selective draft of conscription. I opposed that, but the decision was made; and I rule it now that it is the duty of every lawful citizen to obey in time of war, when the authorities in time of war arrive at a conclusion it is no longer a matter of discussion, but a duty. This is war, and when the government of the United States or Canada has agreed upon a certain law it is the duty of everyone to see that that law is put into successful operation, just as it is the duty of every soldier to obey."

Dwelling on the past, when he said that America was a nation "proud to fight," and the president had been accused of "writing another note," he said there had never been in the history of the whole world a country that had exhibited more patience than the United States. "But now we are in it," he continued amidst the applause of the people. "And take my word for it, we are in it for fair." Dealing with the after-war conditions he told them that there would be new thoughts, new conceptions and new responsibilities. "Do not think we shall be able to go back to the old conditions after the war," he said. "There is a new responsibility on the part of the government as well as upon the masses, and the men and women of labor can never more be disregarded by the powers that be. The degradation of war will be obliterated, and never again will we return to the old conditions of misery, poverty and degradation. There must come out of the war something that will compensate us for all the sacrifice that have been made; but the conclusion he said that before peace could ever be thought of the German must be driven back. "They must be driven back from Russia. They must be driven back from France, and they must be driven back from Belgium, and back to their own territory." In conclusion he told them that all the men if they could fight must give themselves voluntarily. "Don't wait for the draft," he said. "There are many men and women who cannot physically fight, and to these it is your duty to do everything you can. And you can help fight at home. Buy bonds."

When he had finished he was greeted with ringing cheers, and he said that he might come back again. "If I live," he told them, "I promise you that I will come back when the war is over."

Canada's Victory Loan

THE executive committee wishes to take the public fully into its confidence with respect to the present situation as to Toronto reaching its objective of $75,000,000 by Monday night. Everything depends upon the definite action of the great body of our citizens, both among those who can invest large sums of money and those who can only buy bonds of small denomination. The committee is confident that our citizens will make the necessary response and that the $75,000,000 will be realized.

All workers on the general canvassing force and all the volunteers who are helping so magnificently should bear in mind the following facts:

FIRST: The campaign actually closes at 12 o'clock on Saturday night (midnight). All subscriptions must be closed up before that time; if possible, they should be handed to a canvasser or at some booth or district headquarters or at the Toronto headquarters, 15 King street east. If, however, this is impossible, applications mailed before 12 o'clock on Saturday night will be honored.

SECOND: The final returns for the campaign will be reported at the Armories on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Each division of the extension committee will report the results of its canvass to its own headquarters on Thursday and Friday nights and on Monday before noon.

THIRD: All organizations and groups of people, as well as individuals, who are intending to subscribe should be sure to do so before Saturday night, if possible on Thursday or Friday, so as to prevent disappointment and undue congestion of business at the very end of the campaign.

J. W. Mitchell, Chairman.

SURMISE ON HOLLY IS PROVEN CORRECT

Opening Up of Great Ore Body Has Fulfilled Expectations.

HUGE YIELD IN SIGHT

Recent Discoveries Add Immensely to Great Resources of Hollinger.

On the 13th of September last we stated in this column in reference to the Hollinger Cons that "during the present season there will be opening up of the greatest ore bodies ever found on this great property."

This forecast was based on information obtained from a geologist holding a responsible position in the active development of the mine. The forecast was based on the fact that the crosscut at the 800-foot level should show a large new ore body about 150 feet wide and 150 feet high.

On Sept. 20 we dealt with this forecast of our item of the 13th, and said that we saw no reason either to withdraw or modify it, and now The Globe has obtained some new light on the subject, who more than two months ago our publication of the forecast.

This complete reversal of its former pronouncement fully vindicates our forecast and also makes the situation of the mine very much better than we anticipated on the 13th September and if the correspondent of "The Globe" is right we may now consider the most remarkable ore body ever opened up in any age or climate.

There are no doubt some changes in this really wonderful ore body since our first announcement, but it is highly improbable that average values have increased from $10.50 to "approximately one and one-half ounces of gold per ton" on several occasions of late we have found the items of news contributed by this correspondent very misleading.

ISBELL-PLANT Mining Talks

Isbell, Plant & Co. in their weekly market letter this week have the following on the markets:

Confidence, that necessary element to the stability of any market, seems to be returning to Wall street, and with it a better tone has become apparent in the trading during the past week.

The market is in an interesting phase, the rise and fall of prices now being largely determined by the war news. Evidence of this was forthcoming in the latter part of last week when stocks displayed some buoyancy on the news of the British victory in France.

The uncertainty also of the proposed pooling of the resources of the eastern railways constituted one of the chief deterrents in the market, especially in the rails, where stocks were offered at concessions on Tuesday, and this weakness quickly communicated itself to the standard industrials.

Fortunately the more farseeing investors have not let themselves be carried away by the temporary state of semi-panic which wrought such havoc with market values, and steady absorption by strong interests is reported from time to time.

In the Canadian markets proceedings are entirely overshadowed by the nation-wide Victory Loan campaign, which is reaching its final stages. That the loan would be a success was a foregone conclusion, but the aggressive measures adopted by the campaign leaders, coupled with the remarkable response of the people, has guaranteed a result beyond the hopes of the most sanguine.

The trend of the mining stocks during the past week has been generally steady, with some slight irregularity in spots. But while the market for these issues is more or less neglected, great progress is being made at the mines in the north country, and when public interest returns it will find that in their absence from the market some marked changes have taken place.

The trend of the mining market has been quite steady, with an evidence of increased buying power, which, when the Victory Loan campaign has been concluded, should become a dominant factor in the market.

While the market has been neglected by the public lately, great progress has been made in the mines of the north country, and when interest returns it will find that marked advancement has been made in the physical condition of the properties, which will justify higher prices.
