Is hung above and because of having no under-shadow throws its beautiful, brilliant light everywhere. It cannot explode, can be filled while lighted and is always out of the way. It burns "old fashioned" kerosene, giving an intense, clear, soft light. Its soothing rays invigorate the skin and rest the eyes. It is always ready, easy to operate, no smoking, no odor, no glass-ware to remove in lighting or extinguishing. A better light at one-eighth the cost of other illuminants. Instead of the trying light and dangers and trouble of Gasoline and Acetylene use the soft, cool light of The Angle Lamp to work or play by. 20 styles.

FIVE MEN MASSACRED BY YACQUI INDIANS.

Only Two of the Entire Party Escaped Death.

Were Fired On from Ambush—Bodies
Were Stripped and Robbed and Considerably Mutilated.

NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 21.—Four Americans and one Mexican were ambushed and killed by Yaqui Indians on Thursday, four miles east of Cochachil, thirty-five miles east of La Colorado, state of Sonora, Mexico. The bodies are now at La Colorado and will be brought to this place tomorrow morning.

The dead are: Dr. C. B. Coy, Chicago; John K. MacKenzie, Chicago; M. A. McCall, Toledo (Ohio); Walter Stubbinger, Kewanee (Ill.); Mexican driver, name unknown.

H. L. Miller and a man named Tarleton, both of Chicago, and a second Mexican escaped and made their way to Cochachil, where they were met by Miller, who was slightly wounded, but the others were unharmed.

Dr. Coy and MacKenzie left Nogales a week ago yesterday for Hermosillo, on the main line of the Benson Guaymas Railway, the two men named accompanied by other members of their party, went to camp Toledo, seventy-five miles east of Cochachil, for the purpose of examining properties owned by a syndicate of Chicago men.

The party left camp Toledo Wednesday morning in two four-horse stages on their return trip to La Colorado. Coy, Miller and MacKenzie were in the first stage, which was driven by a Mexican. In the second stage were McCall, Tarleton, Stubbinger and a Mexican driver. The party had just emerged from the hills and were entering into the flat country when suddenly, without the least warning, a volley of shots was poured into the first party from behind a pile of rocks on the roadside. One of the horses attached to the first conveyance fell, and the vehicle was brought to a sudden stop.

Coy, MacKenzie and the driver were killed almost instantly by the hail of bullets. The Indians poured another volley into the second vehicle and McCall and Stubbinger were shot dead.

Miller, Tarleton and the driver of the second team jumped to the ground and fled, making their way toward Cochachil, where they arrived about 7 p. m. MacKenzie was shot through the head and Coy through the body.

A group of Indians, who were composed of rancheros and Yaqueros, who took the trail at once in pursuit of the Yaquis. They failed to overtake them, but they were reported to Cochachil bringing the bodies of the dead men.

The Yaquis stripped two of the bodies of clothing and contents, burned one of the vehicles and fled to the mountains. Rings, watches and other jewelry worn by Coy and MacKenzie were stolen from the bodies, but no mutilation was attempted.

NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 22.—H. L. Miller and Charles E. Tarleton, who escaped in Thursday's Indian massacre in Sonora, Mexico, passed through here today with the bodies of Coy, MacKenzie, Call and Stubbinger, bound for Chicago.

It now appears that the party asked for an escort from the Mexican authorities at Hermosillo and an order to the military at La Colorado was issued. Upon reaching La Colorado the order was requested, but the Mexican officials replied that there was so many in the party that an escort was unnecessary. Thereupon the party left for Camp Toledo and reached there without difficulty.

Alfred Garretson, wife and child, went over the same road last Wednesday or Thursday, but were undoubtedly safe in their camp. Garretson is from Buffalo and is engaged in mining in the Sahuaripa district, Sonora. A Mr. Pelletier, mining engineer, recently employed by the Searosa Mining Company, is with Garretson. All the mining men in the district where the massacre took place are coming in from camp and the country will undoubtedly be in a feverish state for some time to come.

It is stated on high authority that a month ago Governor Ysabel held an extended conference with a large number of Yaquis at San Miguel to see if all differences could not be adjusted, and the Yaquis said that they demanded all the land along the Yaqui River and wanted all the Mexicans and other settlers there to vacate. Governor Ysabel replied that that was impossible and the conference came to an end.

Dr. Coy's body and head were mutilated, his head being smashed in with stones. His body was stripped of its clothing as were the other dead. The survivors escaped with their clothing only, all their money, tickets and papers being taken by the Indians.

TOGO GOES TO REJOIN HIS FLEET

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent reports that Admiral Togo, Vice-admiral Kamura and Rear-admiral Kato, will leave Tokyo today to rejoin the fleet.

TOKIO, Jan. 23.—11 a. m.—Vice-admiral Kamimura left today to rejoin his fleet. It was recently announced that the Russian Vladivostok squadron was believed to have been repaired and it was thought it might come out at any moment. The navy department is strenuously preparing for the second stage of the war.

RUSSIA'S CAPITAL IS QUIET TODAY.

Great Excitement in Other Parts of
The Vast Domain --- Admiralty
Works at Sevastopol Destroyed
By Fire---Uprising in Poland

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23, 12.45 p. m.

The military had complete possession of the city this morning, and quiet prevailed in all sections.

After the last volleys in the Vassili Ostroff quarter at midnight the men abandoned the few barricades which they held until that hour and retired. The word was passed around by the leaders to remain quiet for the present.

During the night a fine, damp snow fell covering the ugly red stains and obliterated all traces of the conflicts of yesterday and with the break of day the city, except for the presence of troops in the streets, had resumed its normal appearance. The shops had reopened and general traffic was partially resumed.

The men appeared at work in several of the factories and mills, including the works of the Russian Westinghouse Company, but the managers in a majority of the cases told them to remain away for a few days and that in the meantime they would receive their pay. The people generally were nervous and apprehensive and kept indoors.

The strikers looking weary and haggard after the excitement of yesterday, collected in sullen little groups in the vicinity of their various headquarters and yesterday's barricades awaiting the decision of their leaders regarding the plan of action. They were in an ugly mood and broke out in curses whenever soldiers marched by.

An early morning tour by the correspondent of the Associated Press showed that a cordon of troops barred the entrance to the city from the big industrial sections. The bridges were still held by the guards regiments, it being rather strange to see the officers of the Imperial Guard, the pets of the St. Petersburg drawing rooms, riding thoroughbreds and doing police duty in the streets around the Winter Palace.

There was no trace of excitement. The big square which yesterday was filled with troops was empty, but inside the palace court beyond the right of the entrance a regiment of dragoons and several companies of infantry were quartered.

The authorities have advised the factories not to admit the men as they had stolen a lot of dynamite bombs and might destroy property.

Rumors were current that the strikers proposed to proceed to a general strike, but the labor leaders denied this in the most vigorous terms. One of the strikers, a Lieutenant, declared that the leaders of strikers had resolved to preach the gospel of armed resistance and the overthrow of autocracy, but that they did not carry with it a threat of pillage on property. The police have not yet been able to locate Father Gopon, though they are searching for him everywhere. His whereabouts are known only to half a dozen trusted lieutenants, through whom he issues orders. No newspapers have been issued since Friday except the official Messenger, containing the government decrees, which is printed under military protection at the office of the state bank, where the bank notes are issued.

Official accounts of yesterday's affair were posted on all the bulletin boards. Strikers who came to read spat upon them.

It is reported that at one of the meetings in the early hours this morning some of the strike leaders discussed the advisability of sending delegations to the various embassies to appeal to the foreign powers for protection but no action was taken, at least no deputations had appeared at any of the embassies up to noon. The situation continues to be very critical. The military have the upper hand in St. Petersburg, and so long as the troops remain true they can crush any attempt at resistance in the capital. But the eyes of all are turned towards the interior for the effects which the news will produce in the big centres. Considerable excitement, the Associated Press hears, by telephone, exists at Moscow, but no open demonstrations have been reported. The workmen and several demonstrators are planning a complete strike at the old capital for Wednesday.

At Sevastopol the admiralty works, as already cabled are reported to be in flames.

No confirmation is obtainable of the reported revolt of troops in the Caucasus; there are continued rumors of dissatisfaction among the troops here. It is now reported that in addition to the Moscow guard regiment, the Finland and Izenallosky regiments declined to obey orders to fire yesterday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23, 10 a. m.—In the centre of the city all is quiet at present, but ferment continues in the outlying industrial quarters. During the night police-made house that the rioters are threatening to divide into groups and sack the town.

TO HOUSE VISITS, WARNING HOUSEHOLDERS

The Official Messenger announces that up to eight o'clock last night the total killed was 76, wounded 233. The paper adds that the same precautionary measures used yesterday have been adopted for today.

ALL QUIET AT NOON.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—11 a. m. Up to this hour there has been no renewal of disturbances. The city is quiet except for the presence of troops in the streets, had resumed its normal appearance. The shops had reopened and general traffic was partially resumed.

POLICE DID NOT HAVE TO INTERFERE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—Inter- for Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky at 11 o'clock this morning telegraphed orders to close Workmen's Union. This was done by the workmen themselves without police interference.

TROOPS ASSEMBLING IN FORCE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The troops, most of which had been withdrawn from the streets in the centre of the city during the night, were reported during the forenoon to have assembled in considerable strength at the principal points. Traffic across the bridges and the principal streets was freely interrupted. Street cars, including the electric lines, were running and over the frozen Neva sledges as well as heavy vehicles were circulating.

The strikers apparently finding it impossible to reach the centre of the city in organized masses are entering it singly or in small groups, travelling to consumers. Mr. Tieshausen over the streets suddenly without stopping to converse or look at the windows as has been their custom. Many of the principal shops are closed.

ALL QUIET AT MOSCOW.

MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—All was quiet here at noon.

ADMIRALTY WORKS AT SEVASTOPOL DESTROYED.

SEVASTOPOL, Jan. 23, 11 a. m.—The vast admiralty works here are ablaze.

Sevastopol is the principal military port of Southern Russia, and is the best port in the Black Sea. It was founded in 1784 and is strongly fortified.

VIC-CONSUL INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Paul Tieshausen, the second vice-consul of the Russian consulate general here, said last night at his home in speaking of the riots in St. Petersburg, according to the Tribune, the agitators in Russia had taken advantage of the war, when people were discontented, and that it was not of special significance.

Nicholas De Lodysensky, the Russian consul, said that he had received only the Associated Press despatches, and that he was not at liberty to make any comment thereon for publication.

Meetings of Russian workmen and women will be held in this city this week to consider the uprising in St. Petersburg and take ways and means of aiding the Russian strikers. One of these meetings has been called by the Russian Revolutionary Societies, composed of workmen, and will be held on Wednesday night. A mass meeting will be held on the Thursday evening which will be attended by Russian workmen. As a rule the Russian working people and leaders of labor unions, composed principally of people from Russia or with Russian sympathies do not consider the present movement a revolution. They regard it merely as a strike.

bishops the Catholics are excited and it is impossible to keep them from participating in popular movements especially in Poland, where even part of the lower clergy have joined the people. The pope was most distressed at the news contained in the latest despatches communicated to him by Papal Secretary Merry del Val and expressed the hope that the internal situation in Russia was not so black as depicted.

END OF AN INTERESTING CASE

Verdict Given in Circuit Court Today for Plaintiff in Case of W. H. Thorne vs. Bustin.

A verdict for the plaintiff was delivered today in the case of W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., vs. S. B. Bustin. Chief Justice Tuck, in charging the jury, dwelled on the circumstance that the question was largely one of fact, and therefore within the province of the jury to determine. He reviewed the salient features of the evidence, and very impartially presented them for the jury's consideration.

Before concluding he took occasion to compliment Attorney General Pugsley and E. T. C. Knowles for the defence, and J. D. Hazen and W. H. Harrison for the plaintiffs, on the able way in which they had conducted a complicated suit.

The jury in returning the verdict answered the following questions: Question submitted by judge: Question.—After November 8th, 1902, to whom was credit given by W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd.—to Bustin or to Segge?

Answer.—Bustin.

Question.—At what amount do you place the damages?

Answer.—$418.04.

Question submitted by Mr. Hazen: Question.—Were the goods, for the recovery of the price of which this action is brought, sold by W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., upon the credit of Bustin or upon the credit of Segge?

Answer.—Bustin.

On behalf of the jury R. R. Patchell, foreman, made some appreciative remarks of the Chief Justice's long judgeship, coupled with the wish that he might continue for years to preside over the New Brunswick Supreme Court.

THE TSAR AND THE STRIKERS.

Why should not the Russian monarch
have been allowed to meet and talk to the strikers? They expressed the greatest loyalty to his person and officers. He could at least have given them assurance of his sympathy in their troubles and his interest in their welfare.

In a country which has responsible government and representative institutions there would be no occasion for such a demonstration. Representatives of these men would appear before ministers or sovereign and say what needed to be said.
But the workmen of St. Petersburg have no representatives. Russia is without a parliament. The Tsar is an absolute monarch. No one stands between him and the people to express to him the will and desire of his subjects. His ministers are responsible to him alone. They have no more mandate from the people than he has. The people cannot appeal to them any better than to him.
When, therefore, the subjects of the Tsar express a desire to state their case to him they are proceeding according to the spirit of the Russian system. An absolute monarch ought to be accessible to any of his subjects.

THE ST. PETERSBURG SLAUGHTER.

Sunday's slaughter at St. Petersburg appears to have been an unnecessary sacrifice of life. Only as a last resort would an army be expected to fire on a mob of citizens. It does not appear that the disturbers were harmful, anybody, or destroying property. They were probably wedged so closely together that many of them could not get away had they desired to do so after the last warning was sounded. In the nature of the case a large proportion of the people killed would be innocent of a desire or intent to do harm.
The proceedings show a disregard for human life, which will strengthen the public feeling against the military and civil authorities. It will make the soldiers unpopular and increase the unpopularity of the war in the East.

Newfoundland is waiting to hear what this last arbitration will cost.
The one before resulted in the award of $854,000 to the Reid Company, with $62,000 added for the cost of the reference. The telegraph claim has also been decided against the government, but the amount of the award and costs is not yet announced.

The Moncton Transcript says that the Ontario Liberals are not to be caught napping "and will bring out their vote."
No one objects to their doing this. But heretofore the Ontario Liberals were not content with bringing out their own vote. They switched the Tory ballots.

POLITICS IN FRANCE.

A change of government in France
does not imply the retirement of all the ministers and the installation of new heads of departments, with a new cabinet policy. President Combes has been obliged to resign, but his successor is M. Rouvier, his late minister of finance, while M. Delcasse, who has been foreign minister not only under
M. Combes, but also under M. Waldeck-Rousseau and M. Dupuy, is to hold the same post under M. Rouvier.
Changes of government are frequent in France though they do not follow
each other so rapidly as in the second decade of the present republic, and when they do happen a remnant of the old government is usually found in the new. Sometimes the new government is the old one with a new head and something of office. Sometimes, as on this occasion, a number of new men are brought in. But never is there such an overturn as is found in a country which clings to the party system. Professor Goldwin Smith should be pleased with the French method, for there are so many parties
and divisions of parties in that republic as to do away with the conditions which he deprecates.—Sun.

KING EDWARD.

When Queen Victoria was alive it was frequently said by foreign writers that the loyalty of the British people was largely a sentiment personal to that beloved lady and would not be continued in the same degree to her successor. The history of the first four years of King Edward's reign gives an effective contradiction to this prediction. There is no doubt that the British people whether they live in the United Kingdom or over seas are better satisfied with the monarchical system as they have it than they would be with any other form of government.
No other nation in the world has a population better contented with the system of government under which they live, and there is no other whose domain covers so large a portion of the world. King Edward is ac-knowledgeed sovereign of many self-governing dominions and commonwealths, whose freedom is found to be greater than states under the republican form of government. Yet it is admitted to be true that King Edward not only exercises much influence in the empire of which he is the head, but is a power for peace and good will on the continent of Europe. A king less sagacious, less just, and less sympathetic could not retain as His Majesty

does the sincere affection of his own people and the respect of the rulers
and statesmen of other countries.
Long may he reign.—Sun.

GENERAL BARON NOGI.

The Man Who Played Such a Great
Part in the Reduction of Port Arthur.

Gen. Baron Nogi, whose leadership of the Japanese third army has played so great a part in the reduction of Port Arthur, came to a close, not can any special knowledge; for when his country seized it from the Chinese in November, 1894, he was in the forefront of the attack.
The siege, however, was a very simple affair compared with the Titanic struggle which has now, to the world's relief, come to a close, nor can any memories of the defenses as they then existed have been of the smallest service to Gen. Nogi as he entered upon the task of retaking the citadel, this time from Russia. The defenses which Gens. Kondrachenko and Stoessel had devised were not only new to General

GENERAL NOGI.

Nogi, but without parallel in modern or ancient warfare, and the fact that they taxed not only the skill of the Japanese general but the valor of his incomparable troops to the utmost has been proved to the hilt.

Gen. Nogi's spirit, however, never failed him either under reverse as a soldier or bereavement as a man and the loss of one after the other of his two brave sons, leaving him childless,
only seemed to brace him to greater efforts against the foe. Although still only fifty-four, the Japanese commander has seen more fighting than most men. Having entered the army when little more than a boy, he fought in almost every battle and skirmish in the Satsuuma rebellion, and was twice seriously wounded, and with China, and done it well, he received from his sovereign, at the outbreak of the present conflict, the rank of lieutenant-general,
which included the fifth, tenth
and twelfth divisions, from Hiroshima, Himeji and Marugame. He has the reputation of being beloved by his men, looks like a born fighter, and

CROKER'S SON KILLED.

Heir of Ex-Tammany Chief and His Driver
Killed in Automobile Accident.

ORMOND, Fla., Jan. 22.—Frank H.
Crocker died shortly after six o'clock
this morning from the effect of injuries
he received yesterday in an automobile accident. His death came as a stunning blow to his friends here, for it was reported late last night by his physicians that he was doing fairly well and that they hoped for the best.
DAYTON, Fla., Jan. 21.—While speeding his racing automobile on the beach today Frank Crocker, son of R.
Crocker of New York, collided with a motor cycle and was driven by one of the Ormond Hotel help. Mr. Crocker's leg was broken. His chauffeur, Raoul, was thrown forty feet in the air and landed on his forehead, killing him instantly. The chair driver had both legs broken.

Mr. Crocker was in his car, an 80-horse power machine, when a forty-second to a mile clip. Just ahead of him coming up the beach from Dayton to Ormond was a man on a motor cycle,
which was wobbling badly. Mr.
Crocker was driving his racer and started to turn out of the way of the motor cycle. As he did so one of the front tires of his machine flew off and it plowed into the sand. The machine turned over three times. The first turn threw Mechanician Raoul and the machine crushed his life out instantly.

Mr. Crocker went out on the second turn and sustained a fracture of the right leg at knee, a fracture of all the bones of the left arm at the elbow
and three broken ribs. One of his ears is also badly torn.
The machine in turning went toward the ocean and was partly submerged by the tide. It was understood that the man on the motor cycle whose machine was used by Mr. Crocker's racer, was sustained a broken leg. He was put in a carriage and taken to Dayton. Mr.
Crocker lies this evening in reported as getting along as well as might be expected, having rallied from the shock
and subsequent operation satisfactorily.

His father is abroad but the news of the accident has been sent to his mother in New York and she will probably come south.

LOCAL NEWS.

The steamers Stanley and Minto are doing good work between Pictou and Georgetown. They are making daily trips, but lost one trip last week
owing to the excessively cold weather.
The steamers are carrying full cargoes of hay to the island and are bringing back good loads. Passenger travel is quite brisk.
On Saturday evening a slight accident occurred on Paddock street. One of Sanja's delivery teams collided with a bank of snow, which projected somewhat into the road. The collision caused the sled to upset and frightened the horse, but the plucky driver held the reins firmly and quickly succeeded in controlling the animal, not however, before he had cleared himself
from the sled and then the top off.
Two Carleton men, Thomas Lynch
and John Fox, had a cold experience Saturday. They were driving in from Lepeaux and were about ten miles from the city, their horse broke the ice when crossing a lake. In their efforts to save the horse they became mired with cold, and had to get out for some on foot. Their feet were badly frozen, but after obtaining medical assistance they were able to proceed home.

The Seamen's Institute, Chipman's
Hall, was filled last evening with nearly a hundred seamen, attending the usual religious service. Rev. W. F.
Pittman of the Congregational church, presided and gave a strong address. Miss R. M. Smith led the singing and an address was delivered by H. C. Riley. The board of management will meet Tuesday night at eight o'clock in the institute. All are asked to attend.

ST. PETERSBURG'S STREETS RUNNING WITH BLOOD.

Hundreds of Striking Workmen, Women and Children Shot by the Czar's Troops--- Further Trouble Feared Today.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 22.—This has been a day of unspeakable horror in St. Petersburg. The streets of the city, gashed by a day of violence, are running with blood. A state of open insurrection against the government, a condition almost bordering on civil war exists in the terror-stricken Russian capital. The city is under martial law, with Prince Vasiliyev as commander of the crack fifty thousand of the emperor's guards. Troops are bivouacking in the streets tonight, and at various places on the Nevsky Prospect, the main thoroughfare of the city. On the island of Vasiliy Ostrov and in the industrial sections, infuriated men have thrown up barricades, which they are holding.

EMPEROR SOUGHT REFUGE.
The emperor's daughter has hastily sought safety at the Tsarsko Selo, where Emperor Nicholas II. is living.

WOMEN SHOT DOWN.
Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented to his majesty last night the invitation of the workmen to appear at the Winter Palace this afternoon and receive the emperor's answer. A decision to show a firm and resolute front and the emperor's answer to the 100,000 workmen were made their way to the palace square today was a solid army of troops who met them with rifle, bayonet and sabre.

The priest Gapon, in his golden vestments of the men, in his golden vestments holding aloft the cross and marching at the head of thousands of workmen through the Narva Gate, miraculously escaped a volley which laid low half a hundred persons. The figures of the total number killed or wounded here, at the Moscow Gate, at various bridges and islands at the Winter Palace vary. The best estimate is five hundred, although there are exaggerated figures placing the number as high as five thousand. Many men were accompanied by their wives and children and in the confusion, which left no time for discrimination, the latter shared the fate of the men. The troops, with the exception of a single regiment, which is reported to have thrown down their arms, remained loyal and obeyed orders. But the blood which crimsoned the snow has fired the brains and passions of the strikers and turned them as well as men into wild beasts; men as well as men into wild beasts; men as well as men into wild beasts; men as well as men into wild beasts.

MOVEMENT WAS WELL TIMED.
The sympathy of the middle class is with the workmen.

If Father Gapon, the master mind of the movement, aimed at open revolution, he managed the affair like a genius to break the faith of the people in "the little father," who they were convinced, and whom Father Gapon had taught them to believe would right their wrongs and redress their grievances.

Gorky, the Russian novelist, expresses the opinion that today's work will break the faith of the people in the emperor. He said this evening to the Associated Press:
"Today inaugurated revolution in Russia. The emperor's prestige will be irrevocably shattered. The shedding of innocent blood. He has alienated himself forever from his people. Gapon taught the workmen to believe that an appeal direct to the 'little father' would be heard. They have been deceived. Gapon is now convinced that peaceful means have failed and that the only remedy is force. The first blood has been shed, but more will follow. It is now the people against the oppressors, and the battle will be fought to the bitter end."

"EMPEROR MAY LOSE HIS HEAD."

The military authorities had a firm grip on every artery in the city. At daybreak guards, regiments, cavalry and infantry held every bridge across the frozen Neva, the network of canals which interlaces the city and the gates leading from the industrial section, the white in the police square, as the storm centre, were massed dragon regiments, infantry and Cossacks of guards. Barred from the bridges and gates, men, women and children crossed the frozen river and canals on a raft by twos and threes, hurrying to the palace square, where they were sure to hear them. But the street approaches to the square were cleared by volleys and Cossack charges. Men and women, infuriated by the loss of loved ones, cursed the soldiers, while they retreated. Men harangued the crowds, telling them that the emperor had failed them and that the time had come to act. Men began to build barricades in the Nevsky Prospect and at other points, using any material that came to hand, and even chopping down telegraph poles.

A member of the emperor's household is quoted as saying today that this conflict will end the war with Japan and that Russia will have a constitution or Emperor Nicholas will lose his head.

INCITING THE POPULACE.

With darkness it was feared the mob might begin to loot and pillage, and even burn, but beyond the breaking of a few windows in the Nevsky Prospect and the pillaging of fruit shops, little disorder was reported. Most of the theatres were closed, but at the People's palace, which was open, two liberals attempted to harangue the audience, proposing at the close that the audience testify to their sympathy with their fallen brothers. The orators were promptly arrested, but the audience walked out.

phase in the character of the patient masses. Many special correspondents give extravagant reports. For instance, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says that 20,000 people from Kolpino were met at the Moscow arch on the confines of St. Petersburg with six volleys, and that a thousand fell dead and 1,500 wounded. Other correspondents state that the workmen have proclaimed their intention to attack the palace property and that the Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky has consented to receive a deputation of workmen today.

A DRAMATIC SCENE.
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 22.—There was a very dramatic scene at the Narva gate when Father Gapon, in golden vestments and bearing aloft an ikon and flanked by two clergymen carrying religious banners, approached at the head of a procession of eight thousand.

Whistling and shouting the casualties at anywhere near 2,000 killed and 5,000 wounded, there is everywhere conclusive evidence of the impossibility of yet estimating with any degree of accuracy.

At a big meeting tonight the following message from M. Gorky, the novelist, was read:
"Beloved associates—We have no emperor. Innocent blood lies between him and the people. Now begins the people's struggle for freedom. May it prosper. My blessing upon you all. Would I might be with you tonight; but I have much to do."

A workman, who was instructed to speak in Father Gapon's name, made a fiery speech. He appealed to liberals to furnish arms. The meeting adopted a letter denouncing the officers and regiments that fired on the workmen and another letter extolling the Moscow regiment which refused to fire.

FATHER GOPON'S LETTER.
The workmen tonight were arming with every available weapon for a renewal of the struggle tomorrow. They have few firearms, but are improvising trade implements into weapons.

The following is the text of a letter addressed by Father Gapon to Emperor Nicholas last night:
"Sovereign—I fear your ministers have not told you the full truth about the situation. The whole people, trusting in you, have resolved to appear at the winter palace at 2 p. m. in order to inform you of their needs. If, vacillating, you do not appear before the people, then the moral bonds between you and the people will be broken. I am the representative of labor, and my brave workmen and comrades guarantee the inviolability of your person."

LIKE ANGRY HORNETS.
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23, 2.30 a. m.—The Associated Press correspondent was present when the first barricade was constructed on Vasiliy Ostrov Island, where fighting occurred during the killing of thirty of the defenders of the barricades. The strikers drove from the river, had gathered in front of the Union headquarters out of sight of the soldiers. Buzing like a nest of angry hornets, a hundred men, brandishing handless sabre blades, secured from some junk shop, which were the only weapons seen in the hands of the strikers during the day. Others swarmed up poles and cut down telegraph, telephone and electric light wires, which they strung from lamp post to lamp post across the street to break up charges of cavalry. At first none of the leaders seemed to have any plans. Suddenly two men appeared, carrying ladders, and others pushed up with more ladders, timber and lumber from incomplete buildings and with old sieges. In the twinkling of an eye a substantial barricade had been constructed, bound together with wires and ropes. On this water was poured which immediately froze. As a last contribution Christmas trees were added to the pile and the crowd rushed to repeat the process at the other end of the block.

Meanwhile others were bringing on brick and breaking them for missiles. When the troops advanced the strikers fired the barricade and with half of the infantry retreated their lives on a barricade and volleyed, the others demolished the obstructions and marched over the street, which was then encumbered with fifty dead or wounded and the snow which was crimsoned with human blood.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Such phrases as these, extracted from editorial articles in the London morning newspapers sufficiently indicate the opinion held here of yesterday's events in St. Petersburg.

"Revolt has been quelled, but revolution begun."
"The bureaucracy has declared its policy; it is the policy of Blagovestchik—massacre."
"The inevitable reaction has begun and with it a new chapter in Russia's history and probably also in the history of Europe and Asia."
"The revolutionary movement in Russia has received its baptism of blood, its crown of martyrdom."
"Is there a Mirabeau or even a Danton in Russia today?"
"A very grave responsibility lies today at the door of the Czar, who has failed to grasp his unique opportunity."

"The 'Little Father' has become the murderer of his people, and it remains with him to save the country from disaster. Even at the eleventh hour he may do so, but only by recognizing that autocracy has gone forever."

It is pointed out that the fate of Russia does not depend upon the people of St. Petersburg alone, but on the masses throughout the country, and it is considered that the events of recent days connected with the agitation for constitutional reform, sufficiently attest the people's temper.

Some of our special dispatches from St. Petersburg this morning comment upon the unexpectedly determined attitude displayed by the Russian workmen yesterday as revealing a new phase in the character of the patient masses. Many special correspondents give extravagant reports. For instance, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says that 20,000 people from Kolpino were met at the Moscow arch on the confines of St. Petersburg with six volleys, and that a thousand fell dead and 1,500 wounded. Route Preferred.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—While the election in Carleton has been issued, Nomination day is fixed for Feb. 4 and election Feb. 11. As it is definitely settled that Mr. Borden will be elected by acclamation he will be able to take his seat after the lapse of the legal four days after February, and will probably be in the house about the 8th, exactly one month after opening of parliament.

While the G. T. P. surveys through New Brunswick are being pushed forward vigorously enough, information is not yet in the hands of the commission for them to choose between the rural routes that province. At present the St. John valley route has the preference because it has been definitely determined that a line can be run around the shoulder of Maine to Grand Falls, down the valley to Fredericton, and across to Moncton via Chipman, with grades that are said to be more favorable than was expected. Surveys are now being carried along the shorter but more difficult route across country from Grand Falls through Beletown to Chipman. If grades equally favorable cannot be obtained here the other route will be adopted, as the difference in distance will be more than overcome, even slight lessening of grades. The commission do not expect to be able to announce a decision for about three months.

Canada's new governor general had a narrow escape one day last week. Accompanied by Lady Laurier and her guest, Mrs. Willard, wife of Lieut. Governor Willard of Virginia, he drove out to inspect Clark's dairy on the Aymer road. Just after the occupants of the sleighs had alighted the horses took fright and dashed away, overturning the sleigh and throwing the coachman and footman off the box seat. The frantic animals were stopped after a time, when it was discovered that one of them was badly injured. Earl Grey, Lady Laurier and Mrs. Willard were obliged to return to the city by the electric cars.

Geo. W. Fowler of Kings, N. B., arrived in Ottawa today.

BOTH LEGS BROKEN.

Halifax Man Injured in Tobogganing Accident.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 22.—A. O. Sanderson, a former Montreal man and manager of the Carleton Place Manufacturing Co., in Halifax, met with a tobogganing accident on Saturday night in which both his legs were badly broken. He had spent the evening at a toboggan party and was on his way home with friends. Near his residence they started on a slide down an unfrequented street, which was icy. Mr. Sanderson saw a fence post ahead on the side of the street, and directly in his course. As it was, by a great effort he succeeded in partially averting the toboggan off sufficiently to save the two who were with him, but colliding himself, his legs striking the post violently and breaking one of them, a compound fracture. Mr. Sanderson was quickly removed to the hospital. It is feared one leg will have to be amputated.

WOOD WAS IN AMHERST.
The St. John papers of yesterday stated that an Englishman named Wood, who had recently been in that city, had disappeared and that his friends were anxiously inquiring about him and feared the worst. He was reported to be in St. John from England a few weeks ago. He stated that he was an electrical engineer and endeavored to find employment in St. John, but without success. We think that the friends of Wood are worrying unnecessarily. A man giving the name of Wood was in Amherst about three weeks ago. He applied to J. A. David, secretary of the Canada Electric Co., for a position, but Mr. David had nothing for him. Our opinion is that he proceeded from Amherst either to Halifax or Cape Breton, and here we think his anxious friends may find him—Amherst Telegram.

Rev. Dr. Trotter, president of Acadia College, was in the city Saturday. For a week and more Dr. Trotter has been at Moncton affording the friends of Acadia in that city an opportunity to join in the Forward Movement. Moncton has given a cordial reception and has promised about two thousand dollars. These pledges were given with urgent solicitation as Dr. Trotter considers it sufficient to simply state the case and leave the matter to the judgment and conscience of the people. He has not found anywhere a more sympathetic and generous acceptance of the movement than in Moncton.

JOHN DUNLOP.

The death of John Dunlop, the well known ship builder, occurred on Monday morning, the 22nd inst., at his home, corner of Waterloo and Golding streets, after an illness of nearly three years. He is survived by his wife, a daughter of the late Gavin Rennie, sr., and four children, John R., William J., Fred T. and Miss Jennie E. ST. JOHN STAR, MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1905.

Not What a Person Makes But What They Save Is What Makes Them Rich.

If the ladies of St. John would take advantage of this January Clearance Sale of ours, they would retain many of the dollars they now have, and which they would have to part with in buying the goods under ordinary conditions. Certain lines in every department are being cleared out without a thought as to their cost in order that room might be made for the new spring arrivals.

LADIES' FLANNELETTE NIGHT DRESSES.

A clean sweep sale of all the lines. One third less than their values. Prices start at 39c. and run up to $1.50.

CHILDREN'S FLANNELETTE SLEEPING SUITS at 30c. Each.

They are the regular 60c. quality. These prices would not pay for the materials in them.

REMNANTS OF CLOTHS AND DRESS GOODS.

Stock taking has revealed many remnants and these have been placed on one counter and marked at half, and in some instances less than half their value. The lengths range from one to seven yards, and the prices vary from 20c. up to $1.00 a yard.

BROKE INTO LIQUOR STORE.

Two Young Men Held on a Serious Charge—Strong Evidence Against Them.

Over fifty spectators were in the police court this morning when His Honor Magistrate Ritchie took his seat before a full bench of prisoners, who were there to answer charges of a most various nature, from thieving to drunkenness.

It was not the common drunks nor the men of profane language, nor yet the debauched colored man that attracted the large crowd. At one end of the bench were two boys about 18 years of age who were arrested on suspicion of breaking into Phillip J. McGuire's liquor store on Mill street early Sunday morning and stealing therefrom a quantity of liquor, cigarettes and other goods.

One said: "Give me a drink out of this—bottle." Then the voice became indistinct. Later he heard the same voice say, "I ain't no robber, but we could steal them out of house and home." Some more conversation of like nature was carried on, and later the thirsty youth demanded more liquor. Someone replied, "You're too full now. You'll blow the whole thing in the morning." Officer Finley left Officer McCallum guarding the barn and went for Officer Rankine. They returned, but the boys refused to open the barn. R. N. Abbott, of the Express Company, came, but as the key was in the door on the inside he could not unlock it. He called Donovan, who opened the door. They searched the barn and found Maher and McIntyre hidden in the manure heap. They found five packages of cigarettes and 65 cigs in the ashes under the fire box of the store.

In the manure heap they found an empty bottle which contained whiskey. Maher's clothing was somewhat torn. Thos. Donovan was next sworn. He had a room fitted up for sleeping purposes in the barn. At nine o'clock Saturday night he and McIntyre went to the barn and about an hour later Maher and McIntyre came. Maher went out after a few minutes and Donovan went to the train, which was an hour and a half late. When he came back Maher was in the barn. He put up his horse and went into the office and saw a bottle of liquor. They all had a drink and retired for the night. Donovan was awakened by Mr. Abbot calling him, he opened the door and the police came in and found McIntyre was drunk. Witness knew nothing of the cigarettes or money.

Samuel Gilbert, who sleeps over the store where he was arrested by the noise, and looking out saw two young men running with parcels in their arms.

McIntyre testified to the same story as Donovan told, adding that he heard McIntyre say: "We ain't burglars, but we could steal them out of house and home." He did not hear anything else for he had been asleep. He saw a bottle on the desk and thought it was whiskey.

McIntyre and Gilbert entered into recognizances on their own account, and Officer Finley for McIntyre to appear at the county court as witnesses. The case was adjourned till Wednesday morning.

TEAMSTERS ON STRIKE.

Those Engaged in Hauling Snow from the City Streets Carry Their Point.

A novel sight on the Market Square at noon today was nearly a half hundred teams, which have been employed in freeing the streets of snow, bunched together in disorder. The central portion of the square was completely occupied by the teams and passersby were filled with wonderment as to the cause.

The bunching of the teams in such promiscuous array was due to a command issued by the walking delegate of the teamsters' union. The reason for the command was the presence of a non-union team among those engaged in taking the snow from the streets. It was a plain refusal to work longer for the city while the non-union team was employed. The union gained their point and the non-union team was dismissed.

The non-union team was owned by W. W. Howe, who has a stall in the market.

The union could not have selected a better time to dictate terms to the city, as the streets are still encumbered with the last heavy snow fall.

POLICE COURT.

William Dixon Denies That He Frequents Houses of Ill-repute and is Remanded.

Three common drunks were fined $3 each at the police court this morning. One of these, John Quinn, was arrested yesterday. He was asked where he got his rum Sunday and replied that he had carried it with him from his supply of Saturday. He refused to tell the officer where he got his liquor. Police Magistrate Ritchie said that if he could give him thirty days without the fine he would do so, as he would then be safe for next Sunday.

Charles Meyers, a German, was fined $3 for using profane language on Dock street.

Thomas Madden was fined $3 for being drunk and profaning the name of the Saviour on Union street.

William Dixon, colored, was charged with being an habitual frequenter of houses of ill-repute on Sheffield street. Dixon pleaded not guilty.

Promise of a Lively Discussion at the Meeting of the Conservative Club Tomorrow Night.

A new subject—new, because it has not been mooted since Confederation—will be raised for discussion at the weekly meeting of the Conservative Club, at Breeze's corner tomorrow night. It will be "Maritime Union," or the uniting under one government the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. There are yet strong advocates of such a union. The economical advantages and disadvantages of maritime union will be thoroughly discussed and every man with an opinion will be asked to express it. J. B. M. Baxter will introduce the subject.

The subject under discussion at the last meeting—The Employer's Liability Act—will be revived for the purpose of hearing the opinions of some workmen. Workmen were not afforded the best opportunity of testifying before the Factory Act Commission and this discussion will enable them to speak untrammelledly.

The weekly meetings of the club are growing in interest and crowds are attending.
