HEAVY DAMAGES AGAINST A CREMIST FOR A FATAL ERROR.—Langard (Admiral) travels by Clay and Abraham.—This was an action tried before Mr. Baron Pigott at the Liverpool Assizes, on Wednesday.

The action was brought under Lord Campbell's Act for the loss of a husband, the damages claimed being £3,000.—Mr. Langard met his death owing to an unfortunate mistake by Richard Poole, an assistant in the establishment of Messrs. Clay and Abraham, chemists, Liverpool.

A number of physicians and chemists attended to show that the mode of keeping the poisons in Messrs. Clay and Abraham's establishment was the common and most approved mode.

It was announced, however, that the parties had agreed to a verdict of £1,500, in which was apportioned thus:—One shilling to the eldest child who inherits his father's death, £500 to the widow, and £500 to each of the other children.

THE INCREASE OF PASSENGER TRAFFIC AND FREIGHT BETWEEN CANADA AND THE STATES.—The amount of passenger traffic and freight between the Grand Trunk Railway and the States at this point is steadily increasing.

The number of passengers that crossed the river in the railroad ferryboat during the last month, was nearly 3,000—the greater part being during the last two weeks of the month.

The amount of freight during the summer has been about 60 car loads of ten tons each, plus 45 car loads of iron, and the average amount of wheat has been during the same period, about 45 car loads per week, of which twenty were of live stock.

We are indebted for these facts to Mr. Samuel Green, an intelligent officer of the Grand Trunk Railway Company.—Prescott Telegraph.

A good-looking young lady, dressed in black, appeared among the press-gang at the Chicago Convention as a correspondent for a Philadelphia paper.

She wrote nimbly away until she had filled two or three large pages, and after the adjournment hurried off to the telegraph office to send special despatches.

The Spectator states that everything has been done to make the buildings adapted for the purposes they are to serve.

The sheds for cattle have been increased and now number 76 stalls, with accommodation for about 500 cattle. There is room for about 100 horses. The Crystal Palace has been recovered from a barack to its former condition, and the grounds are being suitably prepared.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—We have much pleasure in noticing a very successful entertainment, in connection with the Episcopal Church Sunday School in this place.

At an early hour in the forenoon, the children of the Almonte and Innesville Schools arrived in the village, accompanied by their teachers and a large number of their friends.

They then proceeded to the church, where an excellent sermon was preached by the Rev. J. Wilson, of Grafton, from the text, Eccles. xi, 6, "In the morning sow thy seed and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good."

At the conclusion of the services a procession was formed of the School children, each clan attended by its teachers, and carrying banners. The procession then marched down to the beautiful grove opposite the Railway Station, where several swings had been erected, which were soon in lively operation.

In the meantime a long table was spread with a plentiful supply of eatables of every description, and the children were summoned to one of the most important operations of the day. We need not say that "simple justice was done, &c.," both by young and old.

At the conclusion of the report, Rev. M. Preston called the children around him, and very briefly addressed them. In the course of his remarks he said that the present gathering was merely an experiment, as the custom of holding an annual Festival had long fallen into disuse in Carleton Place.

He was glad to see so many of them present, and to see that they were enjoying themselves so well. He then called for three cheers for the Queen, which were given with a will by the young people.

After cheers for the Rev. gentleman who had addressed them in the forenoon, cheers for the ladies and cheers for Mr. Preston, the juveniles again resumed their sport, which they only abandoned at the summons of their teachers to start for home.

We heartily congratulate Mr. Preston on the success of his experiment, and hope that a custom so well calculated to promote harmony and good feeling will not again be discontinued.

The Grand Trunk Railway company has published reports or reports from the different station masters, on that line of railway, showing the probable yield of the crops in the districts through which the road runs.

We believe that, in a general way, the crops are not as bad as was, at one time, feared. The report states that the yield throughout the country is much greater than commonly believed.

In many parts of Lower Canada the crops are unusually good. The dry term seems to have affected the yield of the West far more than that of the East.

In the Upper Province, the crops are on the whole below the average, if not to the extent believed; while in many parts of the Lower Province they are above the average.

Coarse grain appears to have yielded pretty largely in both sections, fully coming up to the usual product. The root crops are below the average, as are also, on the whole, Spring and Fall wheat.

Barley and Peas are a good crop. Hay in the West is light. The returns with respect to Maize are scanty, but in Upper Canada the crop will be generally poor; in Lower Canada good. Flax figures in the reports much more than in previous years.

The breadth of sown appears to have been comparatively large. The results appear to be on the whole satisfactory.

The following notices of declarations of insolvency are published in the Canada Gazette:—John James Inghs, Bramford, C. W.; Henry Wilkinson, Bramford, C. W.; Amos James Fisher, Peterborough, C. W.; George P. Brewster, Montreal, C.E.; Hiram Sedgwick, Peterborough, C. W.; John Strathairn, Bramford, C. W.; Robert H. Gardner, Bayfield, C. W.; John Campbell McNaughton, Whiteby, C. W.; Remy C. Co., Montreal, C. E.; Strobidge & Botham, Bramford, C. E.; Sidney Smith, Peterborough, C. W.

There is some irregularity in the carriage of the mails on the Grand Trunk Railway, or in some of its connections. The daily papers from Montreal and Toronto being sometimes delayed for days at a time and then coming two or three together. This is not a rare occurrence. It takes place every week, to the great annoyance of subscribers to the daily papers.

PROVINCIAL STATUTES.—We have received a copy of the Provincial Statutes, passed the last session of Parliament. They are contained in a volume of 671 pages, and are printed and bound in a style reflecting credit upon the publishers, Messrs. Desbarrats & Cameron.

There is nothing transpiring in politics this week.

The Confederation scheme for uniting the Provinces appears to be absorbing all attention at Quebec. A telegram from St. John's says:—"There was a splendid gathering in favor of Confederation here last night. The delegates got up to visit Lieut. Governor Gordon to-day (15th), except Messrs. McGee and Brown, called back to Canada by urgent private business. The cause of the confederation has made substantial progress, and it is now understood that formal negotiations will be opened at Quebec as soon as possible on the 10th October—not in January as at one time talked of."

An accident happened on Friday last, to the steamer "City of Ottawa" in coming down the Rideau canal, near Berry's wharf. A heavy crash was heard in the engine room, when the cross head, walking beam and cylinder head were found to be completely smashed, and the piston rod badly bent.

At first it was feared and a cry was raised that the steamer was sinking, or that she might blow up, and the consequent consternation on board was very great, particularly among the lady passengers. It was soon ascertained, however, that the danger was only imaginary.

Some boys, large enough to be men, are in the habit of helping themselves to boats and canoes about the river whenever they want such articles, without asking for them. The practice has now grown to be a nuisance and we are glad to hear that the owners have determined to punish, severely, every case of the kind that may be discovered. We mention this so that they may take warning and leave off such dishonest practices.

To the Editor of the C. P. Herald. Toronto, Sept. 16th, 1864. DEAR HERMANN:—I have the honor to read in the way of general news has occurred since I last wrote, I will devote this letter to military affairs, in which I know you take a deep interest, and first I shall give you some information about the military school, in the hope that it may induce some from the County of Lanark to attend the Government—thanks to the measures prescribed by the Reform party when in power—are determined to make the Militia as effective as possible, and to this end will not appoint any person to a commission unless he holds a certificate from the School. Candidates for commissions will be examined in the usual way, and the regulations of the "price ring" followed out in every particular.

As soon as all the preliminaries had been arranged the two women commenced to fight, the crowd cheering and encouraging them with coarse, brutal jests and gibes. The girls were conveyed to a quiet spot near the "Peace" hall, where they had been formed, the women took off their clothes, with the exception of one or two articles, and in this almost nude condition entered the ring. There were quite a number of persons present, all of whom, excepting the principals, were men. Seconds were appointed, and the regulations of the "price ring" followed out in every particular.

The Authorship of "Junius."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY TELEGRAPH."

SIR.—It may not be interesting to many of your readers to know that, whilst arranging some papers for Mrs. Ryves, present next in the Probate Court, I accidentally found, among other manuscripts, the following:—"London, January 3, 1772."

"Lord Chatham hereby agrees to indemnify Doctor James Wilnot for all the risks and dangers that the said Doctor J. Wilnot may be subject to in the continuation of the letters of Junius. Authorizing the payment of £170 to J. W., on account of printing and publishing the work."

Signed, "CHATHAM."

Also there was a paper note or memorandum written on what appears to be pocket-book leaf—

"I consent that Dr. Wilnot may * * * my letters of Philo-Junius." "J. DENNING, 1771."

The foregoing seems to authenticate the article on the subject of "Junius" in the Panorama for November, 1813, which was a few months since. It is asserted also in this magazine that Mr. Woodfall, the printer, recognized the initials "J. W." as the author of "Junius" and that he also received a gratuity from Lord Warwick in order to meet the expenses for printing.—I remain, Sir, yours, &c.

DISGUSTING AFFAIR.—We have been informed that one of the most disgusting affairs that it is possible to conceive, took place near "Peacock" Tavern, five miles from the City of Montreal, last night. A number of fellows known as "roughs" knowing the two unfortunate girls named Brawley and Cloan, were at enmity, induced them to settle their difficulty by fighting. As an extra inducement, two of the men made a bet of twenty-five dollars on the result.

The two girls were conveyed to a quiet spot near the "Peace" hall, where they had been formed, the women took off their clothes, with the exception of one or two articles, and in this almost nude condition entered the ring.

THE PROVINCIAL FAIR.

(From the Hamilton Spectator.)

We allude (the other day) to the forward state of the buildings and grounds for the use of the approaching exhibition; since then we have been enabled to examine the whole more closely, and, speaking from actual observation, we can safely say that the arrangements for the show so much improved those of any previous year. The accommodation will be better, and the arrangements altogether are thorough and complete.

The buildings erected for the convenience of the military formerly stationed at the Palace, take up considerable room, but do not detract from the space for the show so much as might have been expected. In order to give more room, a large piece of ground has been taken in, and fenced round in a most substantial manner.

At the previous exhibition the room for cattle was too limited; but this year two long sheds, giving seventy-six stalls, have been erected, and there is ample room altogether for about five hundred cattle. The stables, we need hardly say, are in the best order—most of them having been used by the military and much improved. There will be room for about 100 horses, and if the large military stables can be had, there will be room for some few more.

It is asserted also in this magazine that Mr. Woodfall, the printer, recognized the initials "J. W." as the author of "Junius" and that he also received a gratuity from Lord Warwick in order to meet the expenses for printing.—I remain, Sir, yours, &c.

DESTRUCTION OF THE QUEBEC CUSTOM HOUSE AND OTHER BUILDINGS BY FIRE.

(Condensed from the Morning Chronicle.)

The Custom House, a new out-stone two story and basement building, with a magnificent portico and colonnade, looking towards the river, was discovered to be on fire about five o'clock, when a dense column of black smoke was seen issuing from the cupola. The alarm spread through the city with great rapidity.

Of the origin of the fire there were many surmises. The Royal Engineers occupied the room immediately beneath the dome as a work-room—it being well-lighted, and therefore, very well adapted to their work. The possibility, however, of the fire originating in their room is set aside by the fact that they used no fire or light in the place; that smoking was not permitted, and that they had left at four o'clock—more than an hour before the first indications of smoke were observed.

It is much more probable that the fire may have been in some way caused by the plumbers work which had been going on for several days, for the purpose of repairing the roof. In this work, fire was necessarily used, and it is possible that it may not have been removed or properly extinguished when the work was suspended for the day.

In fact, it appears that some such omission a few days previously, but that the flame, which was seen coming from a small furnace or brazier, was extinguished before it had done any damage.

The fire progressed very slowly, but when the flames once got through the dome, they rose wide and high, fanned by a high breeze, so that in a few minutes the whole looked like a section of an immense globe on fire. The flag staff stood for a few moments tottering over the blazing abyss, and then fell. Within half an hour after the first alarm the dome itself fell upon the roof.

The fire, by this time, got a thorough draught throughout the building, and began to move slowly along the roof towards the north-eastern end. Shortly before seven o'clock a portion of the roof fell in, and it was found to be utterly impossible to save the building. The flames soon reached the ground floor, and then moved along to the south-western end, and with a howling noise destroyed till a late hour of the night. It was a melancholy sight, for from within the massive walls of the building, which was one of our few architectural ornaments, flames rushed as from a great furnace, while crowds of able-bodied men, capable of effecting almost anything under a proper system of control, were employed to prevent its destruction. Fortunately the flames did not pierce to the basement, which was filled with the winter's supply of fuel. Had they done so, there is but little doubt that the foundations would have been utterly ruined by the intense heat.

SAVING THE PAPERS.—Owing to the nature and course of the fire, there was ample time to save the books and documents belonging to the several offices; but there was a good deal of rowdiness displayed by a portion of the crowd, which hung about the building as long as possible, judging the propriety for destruction by the flames everything that was could be laid out through the splendid windows, and getting drunk on the samples of spirits which were found in the building.

THE POLICE AND FIREMEN.—THE NECESSITY OF A BETTER SYSTEM. The police and firemen were early on the ground, no fault can be found with them in this respect, nor indeed in any other, but there were at least half a dozen different drafts, any one of which was sufficient to mar their efforts. The water-works had not been introduced into the building, although a good sized tap, with hose ready to be attached, is some convenient spot in each story, would have afforded a very convenient means to the fire men.

The next place the tide was out, and water could not be conveniently procured from the river. There was no water-works hydrant nearer the fire than St. Peter Street. A considerable length of time had elapsed before water could be obtained, and when it came it was allowed a jet of water to escape through every coupling and from every length. Some of these jets were almost as powerful as the steam issuing from the nozzle of the pipe. It was impossible to throw a stream upon the flames until they had worked down to the second-story so as to have a convenient reach. A steam fire-engine could have thrown such a copious supply of water upon the fire, within the first ten minutes, as to completely extinguish it. We have, however, neither a good hose, nor a steam fire-engine, nor even a properly organized fire-brigade.

THE BUILDING WAS INSURED FOR £20,000 in the Royal, and £2,000 in the Quebec, this will hardly suffice to replace the building. During the fire there was a row amongst the firemen, when axes were raised, knives drawn, and things looked quite ugly, but no blood was shed.

THE ROYAL ENGINEERS lost the whole of their plans of the ground surveyed on both sides of the River St. Lawrence, in the neighborhood of Quebec, during the past summer. This is indeed a very serious loss, involving a great deal of extra labor, and considerable trouble and expense.

FIRE ON THE ESPLANADE. About half-past two yesterday morning a fire broke out in Major Knight's stables, in the rear of his residence, No. 16 D'Autoull Esplanade, destroying three horses, carriages, harness and about eight hundred bundles of hay. The adjoining streets and structures of the poor horses were awoke. Mr. C. M. Cauchon, who resides next door, and who immediately gave the alarm. Had the fire remained unnoticed fifteen minutes longer, there can be no doubt that it would have rapidly extended, notwithstanding the stable was of brick. The Police were soon on the spot and worked with a will. It was a melancholy sight, however, to see their efforts likely to prove abortive by the villainous state of the horse. Not less than twenty water-spouts from their rotten hoses were noticed between the corner of St. Lewis street and the middle of the Esplanade, where the fire occurred. One of the hoses wasted nearly half the water. Quebec will soon be a heap of ashes, unless a change is made in our fire department.

FIRE IN KING STREET, ST. ROCH'S. The upper part of the building in which the fire originated was burned, and the two adjoining houses on either side were gutted. Fortunately the supply of water in this case was speedy—withstanding the extremely defective condition of the hose.

THE DANO GERMAN QUESTION. The Vienna general correspondent of Aug. 23, says:—"The Conference, which was to be held to-day, has been adjourned, probably because the Danish plenipotentiaries are still awaiting several necessary documents."

THE PRESSE SAYS.—"Up to the present the Conference has been occupied solely with the territorial question. It has been resolved to appoint a committee as soon as possible for the regulation of the frontier line."

MR. HOOKER'S STEAM SAW FACTORY AT FERRIS has been burned down. Loss about $5,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

CARLETON PLACE.

Wednesd y, Sept. 21st, 1864.

Our readers are, probably, all aware that the next Provincial Exhibition will be held at Hamilton, to commence on Monday next the 26th instant.

It is said that the first day will be devoted to the arrangement of articles, and only judges and attendants will be admitted. On Tuesday, the charges for admission will be 25 cents to non-members. The ploughing match is to take place on this day. On Wednesday and Thursday, the fee for admission will be 25 cents. The annual meeting of the Provincial Agricultural Association will be held on Friday, and on Saturday, the treasurer will pay premiums, the grounds will be closed to visitors, and the goods shown will be removed.

The Spectator states that everything has been done to make the buildings adapted for the purposes they are to serve. The sheds for cattle have been increased and now number 76 stalls, with accommodation for about 500 cattle. There is room for about 100 horses. The Crystal Palace has been recovered from a barack to its former condition, and the grounds are being suitably prepared.

The exhibition has thus every opportunity to be what we are all anxious these exhibitions should be—a fit indication of our annual progress in the various arts. Some cloud was thrown over the prospect of the Hamilton exhibition by the unfavorable action of the Mayor and City Council; but a public subscription has overcome the obstacles the Council left in the way, and now nothing mars the prospect of a good show being held in the year 1864.

We have no doubt many of our readers will avail themselves of the opportunity of marking the progress that is being made in Canada.

Those who are in the habit of repeatedly carrying off prizes at the various county and township ploughing matches throughout the Province, ought to bear in mind the grand Provincial Ploughing Match at Hamilton, on Tuesday the 27th inst., the second day of the Provincial Exhibition. Four prizes are to be awarded at this match, of the respective values of $150, $40, $30 and $20. For the best ploughing, the prize list in forms will, there will be awarded a prize presented by Joseph Hall, of Ottawa, one of his Old-fashioned reaping and mowing machines, with all the latest improvements, finished in a superior style, valued at $150.

Our readers will note the change of time in the running of the trains on the Brockville & Ottawa Railroad. We have copied the time table in our advertising columns.

The Richmond Examiner tells the story of the capture and death of the guerrilla chief J. Moran. He was on a reconnaissance, and took lodgings at a house near Green Hill, Tenn. He was surrounded by a party of the wife of an officer on Burnside's staff named Williams. While he slept Mrs. Williams mounted his horse, rode fifteen miles, and returned with a squad of soldiers. Moran broke from the house but was surrounded. He drew a revolver, swore he would be taken alive, but was shot through the head and killed by a volley.

THE FIVE BROTHERS.—The women and children belonging to this regiment arrived here yesterday from London, and report that the entire regiment left that city on an early hour the same day on route for Hamilton. They will encamp in Bradford on Sunday next, and arrive in this city on the following Tuesday.—Hamilton
