Tales That Will Startle

Prolonged Their Meeting With The Piscatorial Literary Artists.

A Huge Dog Fish and a Lizard Play The Principal Roles-Veteran Introduces a Moral

While a coterie of members of the Maple City Gun Club were sitting in the parlors of the Grand Central Hotel yesterday waiting for the meeting to be held, some of those present indulged in fish stories.

A. C. McKay led off with a fishy tale that would have lost a Sunday school superinten-would have lost a Sunday school superintendent his job.

Here it is and, according to the Maple City sportsman, it is true.

A piscatorialartist, plying his art in Hamilton Bay, fished up a jug from the bottom of the water. The hook had caught in the handle and the man with the pole wondered what he had landed. He found, however, on pulling it up that he had an old bait jug.

Out of curiosity the man emptied the water from the jug and hearing something flopping around inside be broke the ex-booze holder and found within a 7-lb. dog fish. When the fish was small it had sought the comforts of eucasement by entrance at the mouth of the jar and rapid physical development had prohibited its getting out.

All this club needs is Vitel Goudreau and George Heyward and we would have three of the best ——" was the of the best —," was the only comment of Secretary Wilson when the story ended.

"Best What?" queried John Piggott, jr.
"Best fish story tellers", responded the secretary with a smile and emphasis on the story.

Thos. Nicholl, who is 73 years old and can shoot with any of them yet, told a fish story too. He had a moral in keeping with a tale told by a man of Mr. Nicholl's years.

"No matter how humble or insignificant you are," said the veteran trap shot, "you have a power for good or bad. Be careful how you exert it. I once knew a large mill to be stopped for over a week by a water lizard. The hobo of the water had secreted itself in the pipe supplying the boiler and before the trouble was located the mill was idle a week."

There was no comment on this anecdote.

A GOOD SHOW

At the opera house next week. The talented artiste Miss Clara Mathes and her excellent company of players with elegant special scenery and every attention to detail, will present on Monday evening the new military drama, "South Africa," to be followed by the furor of London, Paris, and New York, "Nell Gwynne" a comedy drama replete with wit, charm and romantic action and as clean and sweet as a breath of new mown hay.

The new romantic drama, "The Legion of Honor," a story of the Franco-Prusian war, Hal Reid's masterpiece, "The Queen of Hearts;" the great melodrama, "Just Before Dawn," and the sensation of the day the famous "Sapho," in Miss Mathes version of Sapho all objectional features have been eleminated and it is a charming comedy offering. The above repertoire is of a higher order than is usually presented by a popular priced organization. The company are just returning from an extensive tour from the coast and have been meeting with a succession of crowded houses at every city visiced and will doubtless meet w.th a cordial reception here.

"The ARK"

A LESSON TO A BOER.

Merriman the Boer politician now in the British Isles advocating pubficly the Boer interests and denounce ing the British authorities, recently addressed a big meeting in Edinburgh. There was a good deal of hostility shown him and 80 policemen were necessary to keep the peace inside the hall while a large force of mounted constables were engaged outside in preventing the crowd from raiding the hall. There were 15,000 people waiting to see Mr. Merriman outside, but he sneaked out by a side door and escaped.

If Merriman has the sense of an ordinary hen he ought to realize that the interest of the Boers will be well looked after in the hands of a power which protects such incondinty speak ers as himself from the maducal an ger of an indignant public.

PARLIAMENTARY INDEMNITY

Theoretically a member of parties ment gives his services free to the country. Practically he does not, says the Ottawa Chines. The mamber of men in the House who could afford to spend from three ub five months each year graduitously serving their country is very limited. Such being the case the members are allowed an indemnity allowance which is intended to infray their expenses while attending the session. Prior to confederation in the old parliament of Canada the indemnity was $800. At confederation it was fixed % $1,000 and at that figure it remains though the business of the House has increased five-fold since that time. In the matter of the estimates alone, from 130 items they have increased in volume to over 706 items, each necessitating a certain amount of explanation and discussion and a separate vote. In the same way other business has expanded and now instead of averaging three months, as they did when the indemnity of $1,000 was fixed, the sessions average over four months. Last year the session was 168 days, only five short of the record breaker of 1885, and the past five sessions have averaged over four months. This is the argument in favor of an increase of indemnity, that the amount of time consumed in transacting the public business is so much greater now than when the indemnity was fixed that it should be increased corresponding ly to meet the additional expense a member is put to. It has been argued on the other hand that the sessions are unnecessarily long; it has also been alleged that the members have been "making out a case" by spinning the sessions out. It is difficult to believe that the members would lend themselves to the latter scheme, but if it should by any chance be so the permanent increase of the indemnity would be the recipe for shorted sessions because the ob--jective would be removed. On the cother hand there is no doubt public business has very much increased since the indemnity was originally fixed and if the laborer is worthy of his hire the members are honestly entitled to more salary. Many question the wisdom of making the indemnity so large as to approximate a salary. Still, there is this to be said, now that the precedent of voting extra indemnities for long sessions has been established, that there is a tendency to drag the sessions out unnecessar ily. With the indemnity permanent ly increased there would be no incentive to that sort of thing and the amount of the increase would be nearly saved on the printing bill for

THE DOMINION SWEAT-BOX.

Of late the Laurier government has been in much the same position as the school-boy, standing on one leg, confused and at his wits' end, entangled in a network of self-woven falsehood, while his stern inquisitor stands over him with a whip, trying to get at the truth of the matter, says the St Thomas Times. All through the present session of parliament the government has had to be strictly and alertly on the defensive upon every question brought up for discussionexcusing, explaining, equivocating and denying. The opposition has relentlessly pursued the government into a corner on many questions which show up the methods of Liberal leaders in an exceedingly bad light-methods which were never intended to withstand the scrutiny of opposition searchlight. It is almost superfluous to enumerate any of these . The government does not seem to learn prudence by the successive disreputable revelations dragged forth for public inspection. One after another instances are brought forth which are not only discreditable to the Liberal party, but an actual disgrace to the entire country. It is only necessary to scandal; the Clergue contract and the pitiful exhibition of guilt by Mr. Blair; the fraudulent census circulars admittedly issued for the purpose of obtaining "useful" political information; the stealing of the Nipissing seat, and the complicity of the government in the same-all these must surely impress the honest electors of Canada with the fact that every move of the Liberal party leaders has been actuated by a desire for party, or individual, political or monetary aggrandizement. It is well for the country at large, as well as for the Conservative party, that such at man as Mr. Borden is at the head of the opposition, and is eminently fitted to confound the knavish tricks of an unscrupulous hive of self-seeking politicians in league with the Dominion government. The Liberal leaders, at least, will be sincerely thankful when the present session of the House is at end, for it has been one continual sweat-box experience for them on almost every question brought up.

A GREAT CHANGE,

There's something seriously wrong with the Toronto Globe, comments the Hamilton Spectator. A wonderful change has come over our esteemed contemporary Here is the evidence of it :

If there is too much talk about race in Ontario, there is also too much in Quebec. It does look as if there are politicians there who rather enjoy being persecuted by the "Ontario fanatics," and being represented as champions of their race; while, of course, the exercise is equally enjoyable to the Ontario gentlemen who pose as defenders of the country against the terrible Frenchmen. What does that good Liberal journal, the Montreal Herald, mean by condemning those "who improperly sought to make use of the census takers for political purposes?" Does not the Herald know that Hon. It looks like a very shabby piece of business, the attempt to deprive Mr. Thornton of his seat, because he made his election deposit by marked cheque instead of cash. When the Dominion Government went so far as to legal ize deposits by marked cheque, it might have made the law retroactive so as to have covered Mr. Thornton's case; but this the government distinctly refused to do. Mr. Thornton was properly elected and there can be no moral objection to his taking his seat. A LAME BACK

CAUSES MR. C. H. WILCOX YEARS OF GREAT SUFFERING.

Injured His Spine While Lifting, and the Doctors Told Him He Would Never Fully Recover-But He is Once More Free from the Trouble

From the Brockville Recorder. In the western section of Leeds county there is no man better known than Mr. Chas. H. Wilcox. He has resided in the vicinity of McIntosh Mills for years, and during much of the time has conducted a very successful saw-milling business. All of Mr. Wilcox's neighbors know that he was a great sufferer for years from a lame back, and most of them know lame back, and most of them know that this affliction has now happily passed away. Mr. Wilcox says he owes this happy release from pain to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and those who know him will not for an instant question the sincerity of his statement. He gives the story of his suffering and subsequent cure in the following statement: — "One day while working in the mill, and engaged in lifting lumber I had the misfortune to severely wrench my back. I was so badly injured that I had to be carried home, and for six months I was practically unable to move, and suffered great torture. The doctor told me that I had injured my spine and that I would never fully recover from its effects. At last I was able to go about again, but was far from being the man I had been before. For years I suffered almost continually from pains in the back, and was unable to lift any heavy weight. At times the pain was so bad that I was unable to work at all, and I was often confined to the house for days, at a time. During this time I was treat ed by four different doctors but their treatment did not seem to do me any good. They told me that owing to the injury to my spine my back would always be weak. Seeing that the doctors were unable to help me and having read of the many cures resulting from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I decided to give them a trial, and procured a supply Very soon I could see that they were relieving me a little and this encour aged me to continue their use. In all took about ten boxes and when they were finished my back was as strong as ever. The pains that had racked my body for so many years had entirely disappeared, my back felt as strong as before the injury. It is now two years since I discor tinued the use of the pills and in all that time I have not had an ache of pain, so that I may safely say that my cure is permanent. I would advise all similar sufferers to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills, for knowing what they have done for me, I an confident that they cannot be less successful in other cases."

These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not take any substitute or any other remedy alleged to be "just as

KEEP THE BALANCE UP. It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this bal-ance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness or debility. The system needs a tonic, crares it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength,

SUMMER AND WINTER

PROVIDING FOR THE FUTURE.

Go to the Ant, Thou Sluggard, Consider Her Ways and Be Wise, Which Having No Guide, Overseer or Ruler, Provideth Her Meat in the Summer and Gather eth Her Food in the Harvest."

Washington, April 28 -In this discourse Dr. Talmage draws his illustrations from a realm seldom utilized for moral and religious pur poses; text, Proverbs, vi, 6-8, to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise, which, having no guide, overseer or ruler, providher meat in the summer gathereth her food in 'ne harvest." The most of Solomon's writings have perished. They have gone out of existence as thoroughly as the 20 books of Pliny and most of the books of Aeschylus and Euripides and Varro and Quintilian. Solomon's Song and Ecclesiastes and Proverbs, preserved by inspiration, are a small part of his voluminous productions. He was a great scientist. One verse in the Bible suggests that he was a botanist, a zoologist, an ornithologist, an ichthyologist and knew all about reptilia. I Kings iv, 33, "He spake trees, from the cedar tree that is Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall; spake also of beasts and of fowl and of creeping things and of fishes.' Besides all these scientific works, he composed 3,000 proverbs and 1,005

Although Solomon lived long before the microscope was constructed, was also an insectologist and watched and describes the spider build its suspension bridge of silk from tree to tree, calling it the spider's web, and he notices its skillful foothold in climbing the smooth wall of the throneroom in Jerusalem, say-The spider taketh hold her hands and is in king's palaces." But he is especially interested in the ant and recommends its habits as worthy of study and imitation, saying, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise, which, having no guide, overseer or ruler, provideth her meat in the summer and gathereth her food in

But it was not until about $360 rears ago, when Jan Swammerdam, he son of an apothecary at Amsterdam, Holland, began the study of the ant under powerful lens that the full force of Solomon's injunction was understood. The great Dutch scientist, in his examination of the insect in my text, discovered as great a display of the wisdom of God in its anatomy as astronomers discover in the heavens and was so wonders he discovered in the ant and other insects that body and mind gave way, and he expired at 43 years of age, a martyr of the great

No one but God could have fa'hfoned the insect spoken of in our text or given it such genius of in-stinct, its wisdom for harvesting at the right time, its wonders of antennae, by which it gathers food, and of mandibles, which, instead of the motion of the human law up and mastication, move side to side; its nervous system, its enlarging doors in hot weather for more sweep of breeze, its mode of attack and defense, closing the gate at night against bandit invaders; its purification of the earth for human residence, its social life, its republican government, with the consent of the governed; its maternal fidelities, the habit of these creatures gathering now and again under the dome of the ant hillock, seemingly in consultation, and then departing to execute their different But Solomon would not commend all the habits of the ant, for some of them are as bad as some of the habits of the human race. Some of these small creatures are desperadoes and murderers. Now and then they marshal themselves into hosts and march in straight line and come upon an encampment of their own race and destroy its occupants, except the young, whom they carry into captivity, and if the army come back without any such captives they are not permitted to enter, but are sent forth to make more successful conquest. Solomon gives no com-mendation to such sanguinary behavior among insects any more than would have commended sanguin ary behavior among men. These lit tle creatures have sometimes wrought fearful damage, and they have undermined a town in New Granada, which in time may drop into the abyss they have dug for it But what are the habits which Solomon would enjoin when he says "Consider her ways and be wise." First of all providence, forethought, anticipation of coming necessities. I am sorry to say these qualities are not characteristic of all the ants. These creatures of God are divided into granivorous and carnivorous The latter are not frugal, but the former are frugal. While the air is warm and moving about is not him dered by ice or snowbank they import their cargoes of food. They bring in their caravan of provisions; they haul in their long train of wheat or corn or oats. The farmers are not more busy in July and August in reaping their harvest than are the ants busy in July and August reaping their harvest. They stack them away; they pile them up. They question when they have enough. They aggregate a sufficient amount to last them until the next warm season. When winter opens, they are ready. Blow, ye wintry blasts! Hang your icicles from the tree branches! Imbed all the highways under snow-drifts! Enough for all the denizens of the hills. Hunger shut out, and

The dizziness and faintness from which women suffer may be due to one of several causes. But the most common cause is disease of the delicate womanly cause is disease of the delicate womanly organism. The story of Mrs. Brown, told in her letter below, gives a fair example of the conditions under which so many women work: "I had a sick headache nearly all the time, was so weak around my waist could hardly bear anything to touch me.

I would work a tiltle while and then lie down a while."

Failing to obtain more than tempor-ary relief from her Mrs. Brown began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, with the usual result—a complete cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for the cure of diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"A few years ago I suffered severely with female weakness and had at times dreadful pains," writes Mrs. Mary V. Brown, of Creswell, Harford Co., Maryland. "I went to my doctor, and he gave me medicine which did me good for a while, but I would get worse again. I had a sick headache nearly all the time; was so weak around my waist could hardly bear anything to touch me. My feet would keep cold and I could hardly do my work. I would work a while and then lie down a while; was completely run down. Suffered from disagreeable discharge and also severe pans at times. After using five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of Dr. Pierce's, Pleasant Pellets, and following the advice you gave regarding the Lotion Tablets, I can truly say that I am cured. The doctor said it was uterine disease I had."

plenty sits within. God, who feedeth every living thing, has blessed the ant hill.

In contrast with that insectile be havior, what do you think of that large number of prosperous men and women who live up to every dollar that they make, raising their families in luxurious habits and at death expecting some kind friend to give their daughters employment as music teachers or typewriters or government employes. Such parents have no right to children. Every neighborhood has specimens of such improvidence. The two words most strike me in the text are "sum-mer" and "winter." Some people have no summer in their lives. From the rocking cradle to the still grave it is relentless January. Invalid infancy followed by some crippling accident or dimness of eyesight or dullness of hearing or privation or disaster or unfortunate environment make life a perpetual winter. But in most lives there is a period of summer, although it may be a short summer, and that is the time to provide for the future. One of the best ways of insuring the future is to put aside all you can for charitable provision put a crumbling stone in the foundation of your fortune if you do not in your plans regard the that you may alleviate. You will have the pledge of the high heavens for your temporal welfare when you help the helpless, for the promise is: Blessed is he that considereth the poor. The Lord will deliver him in time of trouble." Then there is another way of providing for the fu-ture. If you have $1,000 a year income, save $100; or $2,000 a year, save $500; or $3,000, save $1,000. Do you say such economy is meanness? I say it is a vaster meanness for you to make no provision for the future and compel your friends or the world to take care of you or yours in case of bereavement or calamity

There are women who at the first increase of their husband's resources wreck all on an extravagant wardrobe. There are men who at the prospect of larger prosperity build houses they will never be able to pay for. There are people with $4,000 a year income who have not $1 laid up for a rainy day. It is a ghastly dishonesty practiced on the next generation. Such men deserve bankruptcy and impoverishment. In almost every man's life there a winter of cold misfortune. Prepare for it while you may. Whose mometer has not stood sometimes find that last summer's supply is not yet exhausted. Examine them next July, and you will find them being replenished. "Go to the ant, thou replenished. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise, which, having no guide, over-seer or ruler, provideth her meat in the summer and gathereth her food in the harvest." But my subject reaches higher than temporalities-foresight for the soul, provision for eternal experiences, preparation for the far be Ant hills, speak out and teach us a larger and mightier les son of preparing food for the more important part of us! Do you realize that a man may be a millionaire o a multi-millionaire for time and a bankrupt for eternity, a prince for few years and a pauper forever? The ant would not be satisfied with gathering enough food for half a winter or quarter of a winter. But how many of us seem content, though not having prepared for the ten-million th part of what will be our exist-ence! Put yourself in right relations to the Christ of the ages, through him seek pardon for all you have ever done wrong and strength for all you will be called to endure, and there will be no force in life or death or elernity to discomfit you. I declare it! There is enough of transforming and strengthening pow-er in Christ for both hemispheres. Furthermore, go to the ant and consider that it does not decline work because it is insignificant. The fragment of seed it hauls into its habitation may be so small that the unaided eye cannot see it, but the insectile work goes on, the carpenter ant at work above ground, the ma son ant at work under ground. Some of these creatures mix the leaves of the fir and the catkins of the pine for the roof or wall of their abode, and others go out as hunters looking for food, while others in domestic duties stay at home. Twenty specks of the food they are moving toward their granary put upon balance would hardly make the scales quiver. All of it work on small scale There is no use in our refusing a mission because it is insignificant. Anything that God in his providence puts before us to do is important. The needle has its ofice as certainly as the telescope and the spade as a parliamentarian scroll. You know what became of the man in the parable of the talents who buried the one talent instead of putting it to practical and accumulative use. His apology was of no avail.

Furthermore, go to the ant and consider its indefatigableness. If by the accidental stroke of your foot or the removal of a timber the cities of the insectile world are destroyed, instantly they go to rebuilding. They do not sit around moping. At it again in a second. Their fright immediately gives way to their industry. And if our schemes of usefuless and our plans of work fail, wh sit down in discouragement? As large ant hills as have ever beer constructed will be constructed again. Put your trust in God and do your duty, and your best days are yet to come. You have never heard such songs as you will yet hear, nor have you ever lived in such grand abode as you will yet occupy and all the worldy treasures have lost are nothing compared with the opulence that you will yet own If you love and trust the Lord, Pau looks you in the face and then wave his hand toward a heaven full of palaces and thrones, saying, "All are yours!" So that what you fail to get in this present life you will ge in the coming life. Go to work right away and rebuild as well as you can knowing that what the trowels of earthly industry fail to rear the scepters of heavenly reward will more than make up. Persistence is the lesson of every ant hill. Waste not a moment in useless regrets or un-healthy repining. Men fret themselves down, but no man ever yet fretted himself up. Make the obstacles in your way your coadjutors, as all those who have accomplished

Furthermore, go to the ant and consider that if God honors an insect by making it our instructor in abuse the lower orders of creation. insects transfixed in the case of a museum have been alive and in torture for years. How much the insect and the fowl and the brute may be rightly called to suffer for the advancement of human knowledge and the betterment of the condition of the human race I do not now stop to discuss, but he who uselessly harms any of God's living creation insults the Creator. Alas, for the horrors of vivisection! I have no confidence in the morality of a man or a woman who would harm a horse or a dog or a cat or a pigeon. Such men and women, under affront, if they dared would take the life of a human being. You cannot make me believe that God looks down indifferently upon the galled neck of the ox or the cruelly curbed bit of the horse or the unsheltered cattle in the snowstorm or the cockpit or the bear baiting or the pigeon shooting or laceration of fish that are not used. Go to the ant, thou miscreant, and see how God honors it.

Furthermore, go to the ant and learn the lesson of God appointed order. The being who taught the insect how to build was geometer as well as architects. The paths inside that little home radiate from the spring treatment of the spring treatment of the spring treatment of the spring meaning many treatment of the spring meaning meanin door with as complete arranger as ever the boulevards of a city radas ever the boulevards of a city rad-iated from a triumphal arch or a flowered circle, And when they march they keep perfect order, moving in straight lines, turning out for noth-ing. If a timber lie in the way, they climb over it. If there be a house or barn in the way, they march through it. Order in architectural structure, order in government, order of move-ment, order of expedition. So let us order in government, order or ment, order of expedition. So let ur ment, order of expedition. So let ur ment, order of expedition.

and take satisfaction in the third that things are not at loose ends in this world. If there is a divine regular lation in a colony or republic of insects, is there not a divine regulation in the lives of immortal men and women? If God cares for the least of his creatures and shows them how to provide their meat in the summer and gather their food in the harvest, will he not be interested in matters of human livelihood and in the guidance of human affairs? I preach the doctrine of particular providence. "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God? Are ye not of more value than many sparrows?" Let there be order in our individual lives, order in the family, order in the church, order in the state. In all the world there is no room for anarchy.

After what Linnaeus aad Pierre Huber have told us concerning these living mites of the natural world, are we not ready to believe that the God who turns the wheel of the solar system and the vaster wheel of the universe regulates the beehive and the ant hill and that all the affairs of our mortal lives are under divine management? When some one usked a hermit on the top of a mountain in Italy if he did not feel it dangerous to live so many miles from hu-man habitation, he replied: "No. Providence is my very next door neighbor.' Before we leave this subject let us thank God for those who were willing to endure the fatigues and self sacrifices necessary to make revelation of the natural world, so re-enforcing the Scriptures. If the mic roscope could speak, what a story it tell of hardship and poverty and suffering and perseverance on the part of those who employed it for important discovery! It would tell of the blinded eyes of M. Strauss, of the Hubers and of scores of those who, after inspecting the minute objects of God's creation, staggered out from their cabinets with vision destroyed. This hour in many a pro-fessor's duty the work of putting eyesight on the altar of science is going on. And what greater loss can one suffer than the loss of eyesight, unless it be loss of reason? While the telescope is reaching farther up and the microscope is reaching farther down, both are exclaiming There is a God, and he is infinitely wise and infinitely good! Worship him and worship him forever!"

And now I bethink myself of the fact that we are close to a season of the year which will allow us to be more out of doors and to confront the lessons of the natural world, and there are voices that seem to say, "Go to the ant; go to the bird; go to the flowers; go to the fields; go to the waters." Listen to the cantatas that drop from the gallery of the tree tops. Notice in the rest the tree tops. Notice in the twhere you walk the lessons of Notice in the path dustry and divine guidance. Make natural religion a commentary on revealed religion. Put the glow sunrise and sunset into your spirit-ual experiences. Let every star speak of the morning star of the Redeemer, and every aromatic bloom make you think of him who is the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley, and every overhanging cliff remind you of the Rock of Ages, and every morning suggest the "dayspring from on high, which giveth important lessons we ought not to light to those who are in darkness, and even the little hillock built by It has been found by scientists that the roadside or in the fields reminds you of the wisdom of imitating it temporal and spiritual things insectile forethought, "which having no guide, overseer or ruler, pro videth her meat in the summer and gathereth her food in the harvest,

Edward Smith, of Harwich, Passed Away in the Maple City this Morning

There passed away in this city this orning one of the pioneers of Harwich in the person of Edward Smith. Mr. Smith was born in Dumfries, Scotland, 83 years ago, and came to DIG WADTEM Canada in 1832. There were 27 in the party that came to Canada, all relatives, and they settled in this county. Mr. Smith, up to the time of his death, was the oldest living member of the party. He settled in Harwich just beyond the cemetery, where he owned a fine farm. fifteen years ago he retired and has since been living on Lacroix St.

Besides his widow he leaves a large family. They are Christ. Smith, Mrs. R. O. Miller and Mrs. William Paxton, of Chatham; Mrs. (Capt.) Shanks, of Spokane, Wash.; Thomas and John, of Raleigh, and Edward, of Harwich. John Smith, Water street, survives his brother. The late Robert and the late James Smith, of Harwich, were

"This was somewhat of a stunner. I told the fellow that Judge Houston could give sentences but not life sentences such as he wanted. He asked me what he would have to do and I told him. The recital of how to do and I told him. The recital of how he would have to secure a license at a cost of $2, a minister, etc., kind of took me back to the days when I was a boy. I gave him all the information necessary, found out he was a Presbyterterian, told him where both ministers of that denomination lived. I saw the man get the license and pretty soon I had the satisfaction of seeing him and his young lady going away to get spliced. Both were well dressed and good looking. are lots of lotions, oils and alves that will, through their influence, relieve temporarily the pain in-cident to piles. But is that all the sufferer requires? Isn't it a horrible thought to realize that the ease is only temporary and the disease goes on under the surface without a moment's interruption? Wouldn't it be wiser to interruption? select a remedy that seeks the source and regulates these deep scated disor-ders which induces the disease? Pyramid Pile Cure not only relieves the ramid Pile Cure not only relieves the pain at once, but effects a permanent cure of the worst form of piles.

You don't have to go through a tedious course of dieting while using it either. It strikes through those delicate membrances and tissues and sets the blood in healthful circulation, reducing at once the painful inflammation and congested tumors.

This reinedy is not a haphazard combination of drugs, but is a remedy invented by specialists who have treated piles and blood disorders successfully for years. Manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co., at Marshall, Mich. Almost any first-class druggist has it on sale. has it on sale.

Don't treat this disease with every lotion and salve that comes along. Remember the parts affected are among the most delicate in the human absolute safe. body. This remedy is absolutely safe and no one need fear to apply it freely on the most inflamed parts. The speed with which it allays the pain is an agreeable surprise to the sufferer.

International Bible Lesson for To-morrow-Jesus and Peter-John 21, 15-22.

By the same sea shore where He called them to follow Him three years before, He now calls them again. They followed Him then, ex-pecting an earthly kingdom; now they are to follow in affliction and service to a heavenly one. A miraculous draught of fish precedes both calls, but they are to be fishers of men. Mark our Lord's tenderness towards Peter in restoring him thus publicly; He replaces Peter to play the leading part at Penticost. Our Lord's question to Peter, "Lovest thou Me?" is the vital question of every life. Love to Christ is Christianity. On our answer, not in lip, but in heart and life depends the answer of a good conscience toward God by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. Do I love Him?

THE WESLEY PORTRAITS.

Unique Collection of Portraits for Victor'a University.

The portraits of the Wesley family which have been painted by Mr. J

W. L. Forster will be a distinct acquisition to Toronto art. They will be finally hung in the Victoria

University. The unveiling took place in the Metropolitan Church parlors on Monday, April 22, 1901. There are three portraits, representing John Wesley, the father of Methodism; Charles Wesley, the poet of Me thodism, and Susannah Wesley, the mother of Methodism. The portraits are the result of much travel and study by Mr. Forster in England, and he has omitted no detail of study which would assist in assuring accuracy of detail in the pictures and of likeness. The portrait of John Wesley is already well known to the art public of Toronto, as it is now on view at the Academy Exhibition. It represents John Wesley expounding a passage. His right hand is held aloft, and his right foot advanced. He is robed in black. The

an be seen the strength of convic tion and purpose which enabled him to carry out his great movement so successfully. The portrait of Charles Wesley shows him standing before a

and in his right hand a quill pen He is robed also in black.

tures are seen to resemble strongly those of his brother, and in the eves and forehead is the same light of in telligence and firm will. The por-trait of Mrs. Wesley is most interesting. Mrs. Wesley sits in her little study, her back to the window, through which is seen. Epworth the grave of her husband. It was refused admittance to the church.

Mr. Forster has devoted the min utest energy and skill upon this work. Toronto will in a sense be unique in possessing such an excellent collection of absolutely authentic pictures of the Wesley family. There is no other such collection anywhere in the world.

VIVID AND GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF "THE PACE THAT KILLS."

ment of Charities and Correction, New York City, As a specialist Tells How "The Wages of Sia Is Death-Germ of the morals of the tenements are na-

The weaknesses of human nature are confined to no class of men. Wealth is not necessary for the pace that kills and poverty is no bar to Knowledge is not a preventive nd ignorance is only an acceleration. Health sometimes prompts it and disease is often its excuse. Gentle birth and careful training only stimulate it in some instances, while ommon origin and coarse breeding are accepted by it as a welcome variation. In the parlance of the race track-it "plays no favorites." The race is open to all comers, and no question is raised as to pedigree, age or previous performance. The nominator can make his own regulations. He can go the long course or the short course, over the flat or the hurdles, as he chooses. The only condition imposed is that he shall keep at it, and in the end the prize shall be his. For to everyone that goes the pace that kills and keeps at there is a prize—the prize of shame, disgrace, demoralization, death.

There is no need of preaching about it For centuries good men have inveighed against it from the pulpit and the rostrum. Learned scientists have written endless books against it. Saintly women have uttered their most devout prayers And yet it goes n and will go on. There is a germ of degeneracy in mankind that deelops under all conditions, and for which no remedy can be found. Its development is sometimes fast. But unless a check is put on it in its early stages the end is always the ame-the madhouse or the morgue. The department of public charities of the City of New York is the dumping ground of the refuse humanity of the second greatest city in the world. Here are deposited those creatures whom no other agency will care for. The sick, the pauper, the inebriate the idiot, the epileptic, the paralytic, the insane. Hundreds of these come every day. The gate of the public charities is always open, and no one is refused. Each day, too, is gathered the city's dead. From the river, from secluded corners of the parks, from little rooms in obscure hotels and from meager apartments of poor tenements are gathered day not worth living, or whose end came in such poverty that their only chance of interment was the potter's field. there one above the other in the compartments of the morgue, each corpse is the dumb witness of some life tragedy, some driving on to was no escape. If one were to take from this granary of the dead individual cases and trace them through all the steps that brought them to the morgue, one would find that directly or indirectly the end was due to the pace that kills. same is true of New York City's 10,-000 insane people and of its countless feeble-minded idiots and epileptics. Somewhere at some time some body has gone the pace that kills and not only has plunged himself into destruction, but has carried others with him, or has left seeds of dissipation that have sprung up after him. I never go through the morgue but that I feel that above its door should be written:

THE WAGES OF SIN IS DEATH,

I never visit the idiots, the feeble minded, the epileptics and the crippled children in my department but that I am reminded that the sins of the father shall be visited upon the child. I never see decent old women come weeping to the almshouse but that I am sure there is a relentless fate that mixes up the lives of men and makes the innocent suffer with

But while the germ of degeneracy may not be eradicated or even regulated, there is no doubt in my mind that its effect can be minimized and that through the active agencies now at work it is being minimized. There is always the fool to be parted from be the powder of reduction that his money and there is always, that must be periodically appeased whether it manifests itself in drink or ripped off its hinges and fell down impetuousity of temperament gambling or any other form of dissi- blam! The alchemist scuffled out pation. But statistics will show, I from under the ruins of the furnace, believe, that urban people are better to-day than at any other period in the world's history. The pace that self, and wondered what had struck kills is a vice that comes with civili- him. He tried it again and again, zation and its accumulation of wealth and its prevalence of poverty; for, as the fortunes of a few men in-crease the fortunes of many men decrease, and the fool without money goes the pace quite as disastrously to himself as the fool with money. Some men go it because they are and some becuase they are rich poor, some because they are well and ome becuase they are sick, some because they are happy and some beause they are unhappy. Their attitude is much the same as that of the man who drank in cold weather to man who drank in cold weather to keep himself warm and in warm weather to keep himself cool.

As I said before, the germ of degeneracy works in all kinds of people and under all kinds of conditions.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

Prescott is a town in Wisconsin with not more than 1,000 inhabitants, not counting its dachshund horse, which is its oddest and most noted resident. The body of this queer little horse is as large as usual, but its double jointed legs are only 18 inches long. It is a 3-year-old, and its sire and dam are regularly formed, weighing about 2,280 pounds each, while their frisky offspring is only 650 pounds in weight. Its disposition is as gentle as that of Mary's little lamb or of A Queer Horse. gentle as that of Mary's little lamb or of her Shetland pony. It looks just as sol-emn as the dog after which so many

Germany gave to the world one of the most mirth producing of beasts, the dachshund dog, and Wisconsin has had the honor of adding to the gayety of nations by turning out the dachshund horse.

The Easter Rabbit.

There is a curious and very sweet little legend cherished by German children concerning the Easter rabbit. Once upon a time, they tell us, a nice, kind rabbit, who was walking along a quiet woodland road, came across a fine, large nest filled with eggs. The poor mother hen had been seized by a wicked fox and could not go back to her darling nest, so this kind rabbit slept all night upon it, and when he woke in the morning-it was Easter morning-the nest was full of little, downy, yellow chickens. chickens thought the rabbit was their own mamma, so they cried out for some thing to eat, and the rabbit ran about and fetched food for them and kept them warm and fed until they were all old enough to take care of themselves. Ever since then the rabbit has been the special genius of Easter time, and this holiday is not complete for German little folk with-out an "Oster hase's nest." It holds many a favor and present, serving the same purpose that Christmas stockings and wooden shoes do at Christmas time. —Mrs. A. G. Lewis in Woman's Home Companion.

A Way to Make Smoke Rings. Here is a simple way to make smoke rings: First procure a cubical cardboard box with a small, round opening in two of its opposite sides; fill it with smoke from burning paper and send the ring into the air by hitting the palm of the hand against one hole so as to eject the smoke wreath at the other. In this way most excellent rings are formed, and if received on a piece of damp glass the rings can be caught and held for a few room, free from drafts, the regularity and duration of the rings will provide a sur-prise for those who have not tried the ex-

The Game of Proverbs.

The game of proverbs is always a good amusement for a party. One child is chosen as the guesser and leaves the room, while the rest select the proverb and divide the words between them in order as they sit in a circle. The guesser returns and asks each person a trivial question, and the player in answering must introduce the word of the proverb intrusted to him or her. Another way of playing the game is to choose a proverb containing as many words as there are players and all shout the words together when the guesser enters the room.

Water Rats of Naples. In this picture are shown two of the water rats of Naples. They are only harmless boys who have been brought up close to the water. These boys can swim like so many rats and are as hard to catch by the police as are our boys who live along the wharfs. These boys of Na-

When the big ocean steamers come to Italy from America, the water rats surround the boats and cry, "Penny, penny in the water, please; hurry up, please," and few can resist their pleadings. So over goes a penny and into the water all the water rats dive at once, and soon up comes the lucky one with it in his mouth. Then it is "Penny, please," again until the ship leaves port. These boys are mostly fishermen's sons.—W. Schmedtgen in Chicago Record.

The penalty is to take the place of the leader and start another letter.

Pure Blood.

Your blood is pure when it contains a certain amount of nutrition, when the blood cells are in a certain healthy condition, and when there is oxygen enough to neutralizeany impurities that may get in.

The poison that gathers in your system during the winter is forming germs constantly, and if your blood has not enough condensed oxygen you'll be very sick and liable to fevers.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is antiseptic, and furnishes the system with condensed oxygen. It is especially adapted for blood disorders because it acts directly on the blood to purify it. MISS LILY HALL, 12 Sully Street, Toronto, says:-

A year ago I was unable to go out of doors without a veil covering, on account of eczema on my face, and was unable to get it cured. I was doubtful but persistent with Ozone, and have been thankful ever since it cured me.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is $1.00 a bottle, large size; 50c. small size; at all druggists. Write The Ozone Co., of Toronto, Limited, 48 Colborne St., Toronto, for Health Literature.

SPRING SHIRT MODEL

LONG SHOULDER EFFECTS ARE PRESENT ITEMS OF FASHION.

Plaits About the Hips-Fashion Move if Cycles--Embroidered Bands of Velvet-Belts a Great Feature of the Spring

Fashions and customs move in cyiles. Here we are harking back to the much ridculed "Grecian bend" of thirty years ago. Look on this and of the figure, pose and costume fashor that, a faithful representation ionable in 1870 and of that of the smart young woman of to-day. The large bustle and the hunched up drapery in the back of the skirt are not blicated, but the dipped belt, the forward incline and the "kangaroo walk" emphasize the resemblance to the bend our mothers affected. The walk really is the chief feature. acquire it girls spend hours in the fashionable gymnasiums perfecting themselves in the "chesty" attitude. with the abdomen drawn in, the chest thrown out, hips well in place and shoulder blades flattened, the modish girl is ready to swing forward with the ungraceful but smart gait that brings out the curves of the bend in Fashionable girls seem to grow er now than in other days, and it is the tall girl that carries off the forward, bend and the "kangaroo" walk most effectively. Its popularity may be traced partly to their cultivation of the fad and partly to the affectation of an attractive young actress who carried it with her from the stage to Fifth avenue, where it won the commendation of the men and the envy of If imitation is the sincerest flattery, then the young woman from stageland must have been overwhelmed by seeing her gait so generally copied. The dipped belt was seized upon eagerly to accentuate the new figure. The waist line was kept well up in the back, as that is an indication of youthfuiness, the physical'culturists say, but in front the dip deepened unil there was no waist line at all, only an inward curve extending downward from the protruded

The corsetmakers seized upon this tendency to get out "new figure corsets," which help out the similarity. Even the sleeves have helped out the putlines of the figure of 1870 by reshaping themselves over the old pat-terns, with the outward flare above the under sleeve gathered into the wrist. The new century girl does not lose the lines of the bend even when she rits down, and her back comes no nearer touching the back of the chair than did the back of her of the Grecan bend period. The fashion plates of the early '70s do not show figures so remotely different from our own is those of the first years of the '90s, when the straight up and down line and broad shoulders extended by volaminous sleeves were in vogue. We lave about completed a cycle, and are waiting for the next mandate of Fashon to begin another.

Any very definite conclusions as to adical changes in fashions for spring are hardly in order at this early date; but whatever develops later on there are certain to be variations enough to drive all womankind to the point of revolutionizing their wardrobes. Changes have come to be expected as regularly as the seasons revolve, and something must be furnished to meet the demand, even though the new things may not be so pleasing as their predecessor. However, that is not a point to be considered in the case; that mysterious source of fashion sends forth the decrees, and we bow to them, learning to like the fashions we have if we cannot have those we want. Fortunately the tendencies are loward gradual changes rather than udden transformations. Still a revorution must come now and then as a stimulant for the fashion business; so there is no telling what may be in store for us. The sudden appearance of the eel-skin skirt, and that monstrosity called the umbrella skirt are aot yet forgotten, but we have no reason to look for any such extreme variation in style just at present.

The only changes in skirts with which we are threatened so far, are the plaits about the hips, and a fuller skirt of some sort wheher it is gath-tred or plaited. The very latest nodels show conclusively that this is ard's Liniment in the ard's Liniment in the seen. The much prettier effect of more plainly stied hips will not be discarded without many vigorous pro-

There is a subtle motive in bringing out this mode with the thin fabrica which prevail in summer, for they express all the charms and graces of which it is capable, and very little if any, of the clumsy effects which the thicker winter fabrics produce. There is, therefore, a more encouraging prospect for a favorable reception for it than in the autumn when the first few tentative models appeared. Shirring, in great profusion, is promised as one of the coming features of dress and skirts of thin fabrics will be shirred around the hip to form a yoke, The entire bodice and sleeves may be shirred if it suits your fancy, and provided the material is thin and soft, it will be good style. A point in the coming fashions which seems to stand out rather prominently as an already assured fact is the Directoire effect. It is most decidedly noticeable in the new boleros with their deep pointed revers, or cape collars. One new model is very short in the back, sloping down longer directly in front The collar is one of the straight bands worn so much this winter, and extends down either side of the front like stole ends.

Embroidered bands of velvet are used to edge the cloth boleros, and very effectively too, on the low cut ones, where they cross in front and extend around the lower edge of the jacket. All the reports about the demise of the bolero seem to have been without foundation, for it has figured largely in our winter fashions, and here it is again in new and revised ecitions. One style of gown which has been slowly but surely pushing its way into favor for some weeks now is the princess surmounted by a short bolero. It is really a princess skirt extending up into a corselet belt. Sometimes it is fitted plain, if the figure will admit of it, or it may be tucked in vertical lines from the upper edge well down over the hips. Bias folds a half inch in width, lapping a bit over one another around the body and down over the hips far enough to form a yoke, make a very becoming finish.

The bolero, which is the crowning feature, is necessarily very short, but all the same it succeeds in sporting the broad pointed revers, and the deep collars which fashion favors at the present moment. There seems to be no limit to the variety which can be wrought out in this one accessory dress, and in one street cotsum of brown velvet the bolero is draped about the shoulders with folds of brown chiffon, forming a fichu effect fastened at one side with a rosette of pale blue panne, and trimmed all around the edge with lace studded here and there with turquoises. A deep waistband of blue panne completes the contrasting effect of color and bands of sable trim the skirt collar band and cuffs on the short sleeve which falls over a loose full undersleeve of brown chiffon.

Belts are a great feature of dress now and give promise of still greater variety when the thin gowns materialrowing down to almost nothing in front have been and are still worn, but among the latest ideas is a belt on the reversed order, being wide in front and ending narrowly at the back above a postilion, or perhaps narrowing to a point where the coat tails begin. Very wide girdles in straight around and pointed effects, either in empire shape or Peasant form, assume a prominent position among the belts. The finished girdle, as well as the broad frame on which to make it, can be purchased all ready for use. Very graceful lines are given to the figure by these elastic frames, which furnish a good foundation for variety of effects outside. Two lengths of wide soft ribbon are sed one being carried up at the side n front where it ties in a bow. Or a ash may be draped around the frame wice and carried down to the waist line or a little below, in the back, where it fastens with a buckle and alls in long ends. Narrow ribbon and bias folds of silk or velvet are also employed.

ed the girdle may be made of the material like the gown, laid in plaits if it is soft and thin, and trimmed on either edge with an embroidered band of panne or lace. The foundation frame laces up the front, so it is a very easy matter to adjust any covering which may be desired. Girdles of cloth to match the tailor suit are pein /made for some of the new spring suit / and are a very desirable additich to the short coats, which hardly reach the waist line. But this effect is carried out in the Princess skirt with corselet extension, mentioned matters pertaining to health and life men and women cannot afford to experiment foolishly. This is especially true in regard to the use of medicines that have no established merit or reputation. When the physical powers are impaired, when you are weak, nervous, irritable, despondent, sleepless, weighed down with dull, tired feelings so common at, this season, it is wis and prudent to use the medicine that has given health, vim, and vivacity to thousands of weak, and diseased peo-

STILL ANOTHER SOLUTION. If given an opportunity Pierpon Morgan will stock Aguinaldo for more than he is worth, and take him off the government's hands.

A grain of sand in the eye can caus excruciating agony. A grain of pep per in place of the grain of sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of that little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The disorder may seem trivial, but the whole body feels it. The nervous sys-tem is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, sullenness and de-pression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the organs peculiarly fem-inine. Remove the drains, ulcerations bearing down pains, and other afflic-tions of woman, and the whole body feels the benefit. ACTOR'S ADVENTURES IN AFRICA

Reginald H. Barlow, tegltimate actor,

Reginald H. Barlow, legitimate actors, and sometime soldier in Her Majesty's service in South Africa, arrived at his home in this city last Friday. He was the centre of considerable interest as he made his way from the station to report at the Actor's Society headquarters, for he wore the picturesque uniform of the Canadian Imperial Volunteers, a costume hitherto un-known to New Yorkers, only through the illustrated periodicals. He walked with a good swing, too, the deep tan on his cheeks proved that he had lately seen active service afield, and the Rialto dwellers rubbed their eyes again before they recognized in the seeming stranger their former comrade, Reginald H. Barlow, leading and

The returned soldier had the appearance of a man with an interesting story to tell, and it was not long af-ter his arrival, that Mr. Barlow was seated opposite a Mirror reporter at a familiar oak table upon which were marshaled two "Scotch highballs."

As the highballs gradually lowered in the glasses, the following tale was told: To begin with, said Mr. Bar-low, the war in South Africa was none of my business. I am a native of Harvard, and after entering the profession played almost entirely in the United States, but when the call for volunteers came fourteen months ago I was playing with the Valentine

Occasionally our larder became almost like Mother Hubbard's cupboard. At Paardeberg we lived on one biscuit a day and when we were forcing our way to Conje's laager we were doing hard work on empty stomachs. Once inside the laager we found a vast store of flour—but only flour. How to make it eatable was a difficult question until one of the fellows discovered that very tasty cakes could be made by frying it in vaseline. Each man had a bottle of good American vaseline in his kit. A very welcome addition to our menu through the courtesy of Charles Arnold, who with his company was playing "What Happened to Jones," in Cape Town. Mr. Arnold devoted the receipts of a benefit performance that he gave to the purchase of grapes, which he forwarded to us at the tront. There never were better grapes and there never will be better grapes than those grapes were. During the whole campaign I was wounded only once, and long ago I entirely recovered from the hurt. Of Tommy Atkins, speaking as a the represent ative of the Canadians.

When we got back to Cape Town we stopped awhile, and Lappeared at the theatre there as "Middlewick" in "Our Boys," of which a special performance was given. We came home by way of England and during the ten days we spent on English soil we enjoyed the most generally beginning.
