ENORMOUS SHIPMENTS TO NEUTRAL NATIONS AROUND GERMANY

Are Shown to Have Grown in Great Volume - Foe Has Been Well Fed Despite the British Blockade.

By special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 18.—"The nation cannot feel secure until it learns that the control of the blockade has been taken from the foreign office and made over in its entirety to seamen, who alone possess the requisite knowledge and experience to conduct it," says the Mail, which copied the Post's Washington correspondence dealing with the blockade situation.

The Mail declares that Great Britain will be supplied by the astonishing figures of the exports to Germany from neutral nations, which prove that the foreign office has completely nullified the navy's work.

FIGURES GIVEN

London, Jan. 18.—The Post's Washington correspondent in a long despatch discusses the blockade problem, publishing parallel columns showing the 1913 and 1915 exports from the United States to Germany and adjacent neutrals of wheat, corn, flour, bacon, cotton and automobiles as evidence that the "blockade of Germany has been nullified and the power of the British navy destroyed by the failure of the foreign office to grasp the situation."

The Post, commenting on the despatch says: "The situation shown in the figures from Washington is that during the whole course of the war Germany has been permitted to import through neutrals essential supplies to an amount greater than in times of peace. Has the foreign office been aware of these things? If not it is dangerously incompetent."

The following are some of the figures contained in the Washington despatch:

Wheat from the United States to Germany in 1913, 12,000,000 bushels; 1915, 15,000,000 bush. Wheat to neutrals in 1913, 19,000,000 bushels; 1915, 50,000,000 bushels.

Flour exports to Germany in 1913, 140,000 barrels; 1915, none. To neutrals in 1913, 1,500,000 barrels; 1915, 5,100,000 barrels.

Exports of bacon to Germany in 1913, 1,000,000 pounds; in 1915, 273,000 pounds. To neutrals in 1913, 30,000,000 pounds; 1915, 21,500,000 lbs.

Exports of boots to Germany in 1913, 471,000 pairs; 1915 none. To neutrals, in 1913, 462,000 pairs; 1915, 4,800,000 pairs.

Cotton, exports to Germany in 1913, 1,700,000 bales; 1915, 194,000 bales. To neutrals in 1913, 53,000 bales; in 1915, 1,100,000 bales.

Death of Mr. Blachford.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 18.—Death this morning claimed John D. Blachford, head of the firm of Blachford & Sons, and one of the most prominent business men in Canada. He was 59 years of age and is survived by his wife, one son, A. C. Blachford, of Detroit, and two daughters. Deceased was a 32nd degree Mason and identified with many many other fraternal and charitable organizations, including St. George's Society, of which he was past president.

A Fierce Commercial Struggle is Anticipated

President of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris Gives Some Advice Regarding Tariff Equality.

By special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, Jan. 18.—"The world is soon to see an economic organization on an international scale far different in kind and extent from anything hitherto known," said M. P. Peixotto, president of the American chamber of commerce, at the twenty-second annual dinner of that organization held here last night.

"The European nations are laying plans for a fierce commercial struggle which will begin in the near future. In France this subject is being studied with passionate interest. One of the great results of the war has been to awaken France to a sense of the economic role which she can and should fill," he said.

"France will control her own commerce, Mr. Peixotto continued, but will need co-operation. One of France's prime needs, a need which will continue for some years, is the importation, not only of raw material, but also of machinery and manufactured goods. The allies of France cannot supply her needs. The United States can do so. To take advantage of the vast, and hitherto only partially utilized, source of supply from the United States, France must permit American manufacturers to compete on terms of tariff equality with other nations.

Alexander M. Thackara, American consul-general in Paris, said that the present appears to be the psychological moment for American chamber of commerce to use its best efforts to aid Americans to obtain favorable treatment in commercial alliances which may result from any movement in this and other countries of the allies to form combinations for the protection and extension of their trade after peace is declared.

The American chamber of commerce, besides electing Mr. Peixotto to head the organization for the ensuing year, chose George Munroe to be first vice-president, W. Morgan Day, to be treasurer and Lawrence Slade to be honorary secretary.

THE ALLIES ARE STILL LANDING FORCES ON THE GREEK SOIL

By special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 18.—Reports received this morning from German sources state that the allies have landed forces at Piraeus, besides those disembarked at Phaleron. The Saloniki correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the allies are continuing to land troops at Orfano, fifty miles to the northeast of Saloniki.

Piraeus, the port of Athens, five miles southwest of that city, is the second largest city of Greece. It has a capacious and excellent harbor on its northwest side and there are two small harbors on the opposite side of the peninsula. The modern town has been built since 1834, though Athens had a great port there in ancient times. There has been no communication from any previous source that the allies had landed troops at Piraeus, although the semi-official Overseas News Agency of Berlin, in a despatch dated January 17, said that the Berlin newspapers had published comments on the landing of troops of the allies at Phaleron. It is presumed that the allusion in this despatch is to the town of New Phaleron, on the Bay of Phaleron, east of the peninsula of the Piraeus and also about 5 miles distant from Athens, this despatch conveying the first word received here of the disembarkment of troops of the allies in the immediate vicinity of the Greek capital.

PREMIER BORDEN IN THE COMMONS

Emphasizes Anew the Determination of the Dominion in Connection With the War.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—"Are we fighting to win or to lose?" Sir Robert Borden flung this question at the House of Commons yesterday, and answered it. There was, he said, only one answer, and he reaffirmed the determination of the Canadian people to prosecute the war with all the Dominion's resources.

The Prime Minister delivered the fourth speech in the debate on the address, a speech in which was struck a note no less high, and which revealed a determination no less strong that the note and the determination which characterized Sir Robert Borden's first utterances on the outbreak of the war. Canada, he said, must make sacrifices, greater sacrifices, but the war would end triumphantly for the Empire and the Empire's allies.

England was now fully alive to the task to be performed, and France was determined. The Canadians had saved the day for the Empire and the allies in their splendid stand in the great April. "There is no doubt as to what the issue of this war will be if we in Canada respond to the spirit which animated those men that drove men that drove men that drove men."

NO CONSCRIPTION PROPOSED.

Sir Robert then dealt with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reference to conscription. During the first few months of the war, he said, he had made it clear to Canada that he proposed no conscription measure, and he repeated it now.

"We can win this war if we are willing to make the necessary sacrifices," continued the Prime Minister. "Are we fighting this war to win or lose? There can be only one answer to that. We cannot win without sacrifices. Thank God, we yet have time for effort and preparation."

Sir Robert quoted in this connection the famous "too late" speech recently delivered by Lloyd George, and concluded this part of his speech by stating that as a result of these facts he had suggested to his colleagues to propose to Parliament the increase in the Canadian forces in the measure which he had indicated. He thought the Dominion owed something to those who had died in its cause and to those who lived to avenge it.

LAMENTED LAVERGNE'S TALK

The debate was opened by Dr. Alfred Thompson, of the Yukon, and Dr. Paquet, of L'Islet, as seconder, the latter expressing regret at the recent utterances of Armand Lavergne in the Quebec Legislature. Much had been expected from the leader of the

THE BANKS

Feel They Are Doing Their Share in Men for the Front.

By special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 18.—Referring to the pressure being brought by Sir Sam Hughes upon Canadian banks to release more of their employees for active service, the London managers of Canadian banks consider that the limit has about been reached here.

The Bank of Montreal has released 50 per cent. of its eligible men, and is considering further cases, although its west end branch is doing a great deal of extra work in connection with the Canadian pay office and Canadian officer's private accounts. The Canadian Bank of Commerce and Dominion Bank have also done equally well, but they find it equally impossible to replace certain members of their staff by women.

SIR SAM

Is In Quebec With Reference to French-Canadian Brigade.

INCREASE PREMATURE

Sir Wilfrid then expressed the opinion that the announcement of an increase to half a million in the authorized total of Canada's overseas force was premature. He thought the half million was a "large order." He then repeated his objection which he took to the budget speech last session and criticized the government for commencing fifteen million bushels of wheat without, as he alleged any demand for it from the Imperial Government. He devoted still another minute period to the task of discussing conscription, although, as the Prime Minister afterwards reminded him, the conscription ghost had been laid a year ago.

Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, the only other speaker, deplored the shrinkage in imports from Great Britain and urged the Government to take no further action which would result in a still greater shrinkage. He approved of the extension proposal as revealing a proper pretention of the mind of the people.

MILLIONAIRE

Refuses to Furnish Bail for Two Sons Charged With Conspiring to Kill Him.

By special Wire to the Courier.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Further investigation into the alleged conspiracy of Irving and Herbert Uppike to kill their parents was undertaken to-day by the police who are co-operating with the Uppike family in clearing up the mystery still surrounding the case.

Furman D. Uppike, millionaire retired broker, to-day still refused to furnish bail for his sons, both of whom are in custody charged with conspiracy to commit a felony. Although it was said at the time of the arrest that Herbert Uppike was held only as a witness, a statement by the boy's father, that he considered his sons equally guilty, and the report that Herbert had married a Chicago cabaret entertainer, influenced the police to investigate further.

According to the police, Herbert Uppike on January 8 married Miss Nellie De Onsonne, at Crown Point, Ind. The authorities say a marriage license is on file at the county clerk's office in Crown Point, showing that the ceremony was performed by a justice of the peace. The young woman and Herbert, however, deny that they are married.

According to a report presented to the Manchester Medical War Committee, about 120 medical men from Manchester have joined the forces.

SOME RED HOT INTERROGATIONS IN THE REICHSTAG

Were Presented by a German Socialist - He Asks Information With Reference to Many Atrocities

By special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 18 (In Montreal Gazette)—A telegram from Berne says that several of the more important interpellations of which Dr. Karl Lebknecht gave notice in the Reichstag agenda, December 20, were not reached in the debate and their text was not published in the German newspapers at that time. Now, however, it has been disclosed by the Swiss Socialist press. The questions were as follows:

"1.—Is the Imperial Chancellor aware that during the present war in the allied Ottoman empire the property of the Armenian population has been looted and hundreds of thousands of inhabitants massacred. What representation has the Imperial Chancellor made to the allied Turkish Government in order that those responsible, as is necessary, should be punished and that further cruelties be prevented?"

"2.—Is the Imperial government prepared to present at the earliest possible date to the Reichstag the facts regarding the situation of the populations of foreign countries occupied by Germany, their provisioning, the conditions of health, their legal rights, the number, manner and causes of condemnations and punishments inflicted by the German authorities, the number of military requisitions made of the goods of citizens and their causes, and especially the amount of the contributions imposed upon the Belgian population?"

"3.—Is the Imperial Government ready to present to the Reichstag without delay, the facts concerning: (a) 'The measures generally adopted by the German military and civil authorities during the war for the abolition of the right of assembly and personal liberty, the disbandment of associations, the violation of private correspondence, police spying in regard to telephone users, arrests, requisitions, etc., and especially the number of civilians who in the course of the war have been arrested without judicial proceedings?' (b) 'The number of measures and causes of condemnations pronounced against soldiers in the course of the war and the state of German military prisons?'"

BLOCKADE OF GERMANY Would be Welcomed in the States, Says The New York World.

By special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Jan. 18.—The New York World this morning comments editorially as follows: "An actual blockade of Germany would answer most of the protests that the United States has made against British interference with American trade."

"A blockade would also interfere with our trade, but it would interfere in a law manner; for a blockade is a definite thing, subject to definite rules. Whenever the British Government is prepared to undertake a blockade of Germany that is effective, which is impartial, which is not a blockade of neutral nations, the United States is bound to acquiesce."

"This government has never recognized the orders in council, for the reason that it never recognized the German submarine zone. Both were lawless and one murderously so."

An Ultimatum Alleged to Have Been Sent by the Allies to Greece

By special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—(By wireless to Sayville)—A note to the Greek government, amounting to an ultimatum, is said by the Overseas News Agency to have been presented by France and Great Britain. According to a Sofia despatch to the news agency, Greece is required to deliver their passports to the ministers of the central powers, within 48 hours, failing which the Entente will take "necessary measures."

Berlin despatches of yesterday, which have not been corroborated from French or British sources, stated that unusual measures were being taken by the Allies in Greece. According to these reports allied troops were landed at Phaleron, five miles southwest of Athens, and also at Piraeus, the port of Athens. In this connection the Overseas News Agency of Berlin said:

"The fact that the British are blockading the Greek coast most tightly and are subjecting Greece to other inconveniences, is interpreted by Berlin newspapers as meaning that the Entente is preparing the overthrow of the Greek Government to substitute a republic with Venizelos at its head."

Troops of the Allies Have Now Landed at Corinth

By special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 18.—A despatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that French and British troops have been landed at Corinth, Greece, 48 miles west of Athens.

The message says that according to information received at Amsterdam

Music and Drama

A "Pair of Sixes" to be produced at the Grand Opera House to-night is one of the most amusing of modern comedies.

The plot deals with two partners, who disagree as to the relative importance in the conduct of a prosperous patent medicine business, and they decide, after much squabbling and irritation, to sever their business interests.

"Quineys" the play from the novel, took London by storm at the very time in May, when operettas were also trying to take it by storm, and ordinary theatre audiences were exceedingly small.

pressional purposes—all these were found. At first one was inclined to be distressed at the misrepresentation of the composer. As the movement wore on, the novelty and innate artistic beauty of the interludes became apparent. The Cherniavskys were compelling the audience to think. When they played the romantic Andante, the conquest was complete. Hardened musicians were wildly enthusiastic. The non-musical were also moved by the rare beauty of the performance.

The other concerted numbers were a group of three favorite melodies specially arranged by the brothers for trio. Brahms' Love Dance, so well known by lovers of orchestral music was one of the three. It was played with a surprising brightness and sonority of tone. In the ensembles there was blending at all times. The brothers—violin, cello and piano—were playing each for all and all for each.

Leo, the violinist, played as his share of the program, the amazing first movement of Tschaiakowsky's concerto. Its difficulty is enormous. The Cadenza in the first movement is probably the largest specimen in captivity. The young man's tone was beautiful and flowing. His intonation even in elaborate double and triple stopping was impeccable. His command of those wizard tones called harmonics was complete. Similar praise might be accorded to Mischel, the cellist, who played Gorterman's Concerto in A Minor, work more difficult than interesting. Jan is the pianist. He offered three Chopin numbers, and Liszt's pyrotechnics over the Quartette in "Rigoletto." His Chopin was Slavic rather than conventional. That he has the temperament qualities was displayed in the grace and elegance of his ensemble playing. All three brothers, who by the way, are tall young men of distinction, with great repose of manner, were recalled and played extra numbers.

These wonderful artists will give a return concert here on Thursday, February 3rd. The plan opens on Jan. 26th at Boles Drug Store.

An interesting statement has been issued by the Board of Agriculture as to the natural weights of the grain crops for 1915. These fall far short of those for the crops of 1914. In the case of wheat, in only two districts, South-West Perth and Dumfriesshire, the standard weight of 63 lb. per bushel exceeded by 1 lb. while in North-East Forfar, Berwick, Rosburgh, Selkirk, and Stirling the standard weight has been reached. The estimated weight in Central and South-East Perth, Fife, Kinross, the Lothians, Peebles, South Ayr, and Wigtown is 62 lb. The estimated yield of wheat straw per acre varies from 22 cwt. in East Aberdeen to a maximum of 45 cwt. in South-West Perth. In no district has the greatest estimated natural weight of barley, 68 lb. for the season of 1914, been reached, and only in South Ayr has the standard weight been exceeded by as much as 1 lb.

The last of the women who went to the Crimea with the Highland regiments, died recently in Dundee. Her husband was a sergeant. She possessed a remarkable memory and could give a vivid description of her experiences. She kept the hut in which Sir Colin Campbell resided. From a distance she witnessed the storming of the heights of Alma on 20th September, 1854, and was present at Balaclava with two other women belonging to the regiment. They were a little behind the spot occupied by Sir Colin Campbell and his staff, and in front of them was the famous "thin red line." She could recall the pleasure with which the soldiers regarded the coming of Miss Florence Nightingale and her nurses, and was herself for a time engaged in tending the wounded.

THE JAPANESE NAVY

Admiral Kato Dwells Upon Improvements--Thinks That Dreadnoughts Will Still Form Basis for All Powers.

Tokio, Jan. 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—One super-dreadnought, two cruisers, one destroyer, three submarines and two special service ships constitutes the program of naval building for Japan for the coming year.

The battleship will be about the same type as the Fuso and Yamashiro, which were recently launched, and will carry 12 14-inch guns and sixteen 6-inch guns.

The admiral further said that in deciding the armaments for new battleships the naval authorities preferred the twelve 14 inch guns principle to the eight 15 inch of the British and German navies.

Since resigning as minister of marine, Vice Admiral Yashiro, who won the applause of the public as leader of the navy cleansing in connection with the naval scandal of last year has been living a secluded life in a suburb of Kioto.

The changes are generally regarded in Tokio as indicating a commencement of the waning influence of the navy in the extraction.

Tables Turned With Vengeance By the Paris Hockey Players on the Brantford Team—Final Score Was 12 to 3.

Brantford put up the worst exhibition of intermediate hockey last night in Paris that it has shown this season.

One reason why the Brants couldn't get started was that the small little rink confused them.

Two more goals were scored in close succession. C. Gill shot the first and Johnson was responsible for the second.

The last quarter was a very poor exhibition on the part of Brantford. Klearcy tried at first to charge and Beckett played up.

The Situation.

It is very evident that the Allies expect some hard fighting in Greece, and the report to-day is that they are landing forces at Piræus. This is the port of Athens, and was connected with the Greek capital by railway in 1869. The harbor is both safe and deep. The struggle is not anticipated with the Greeks themselves, but with the Teuton forces, and it looks very much as if the country named will be the scene of sanguinary work in the not distant future.

The Washington correspondent of the London Post has been sending some pregnant figures to that paper, in which he shows that while, under the British blockade, imports of Germany from the States have dwindled in some instances to the vanishing point, shipments to adjacent neutral countries have advanced by leaps and bounds. There can only be one inference—that the Huns are getting plenty of foodstuffs and other necessary materials in an indirect way. The feeling is general in the Old Land that the magnificent work of John Bull's navy has hitherto been quite largely wasted in the particular named, and that it is time to institute a blockade to the extreme limit.

It is officially announced that the Montenegrins have agreed to terms. Italy seems to have abandoned them to their fate with a good deal of indifference, but she is promising activity with regard to Albania. This is most necessary, as the Allies have now been almost crowded off the Balkan peninsula. It is thought that with the men thus released in the Montenegrin operations Austria will send a large force to the aid of the Bulgarians, and it would seem to be likely that some lively doings in the region of Saloniki may soon eventuate.

No Election.

"Sir Robert Borden has taken a decision that he could better have taken eighteen months ago. He has officially declared that there shall be no war-time election; he has officially declared that such an election would lead to "distraction and confusion." If he had sooner come to this decision and made the declaration the interests of the war would have been promoted.—Peterboro Examiner.

The above remarks are most certainly not well taken. Election talk since the war started has emanated almost altogether from the Liberal ranks. In this riding the party bosses even went so far as to distribute campaign literature and no doubt the same thing occurred in other constituencies.

The life of the present Parliament did not expire until this year and there was no need whatever for Premier Borden to make any declaration. He took the dignified course of absolutely ignoring the Grit rumor-mongers, and of making his announcement where it properly should be made—to the House.

Canada's Prospects.

Mr. J. W. Woods, the retiring president of the Toronto Board of Trade, dwelt upon the fact that war had brought prosperity to the Dominion, and would continue to do so, when ended, if care and foresight were exercised. In this connection he pointed out that once hostilities were at an end the people of Europe would seek to escape from oppressive taxation and the tyranny of militarism. No country offered truer liberty, higher ideals or healthier climate than Canada, and last year's harvest had so abundantly rewarded the industry of the husbandman that Canada had been splendidly advertised. A special committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. L. H. Clarke, had given this question serious consideration, and the recommendation of the board was that there should be close co-operation between the Dominion Government, the Provincial Governments, and the transportation companies, to prevent waste and overlapping and that the strongest man that could be found should be appointed controller of immigration. It would be necessary to give special consideration to those of the soldiers who may desire to turn to agriculture. Many would doubtless wish to continue to live an outdoor life. The Empire owed a debt to these men, and they should be the first to receive consideration at the hands of the Government. Assistance should be given them to the fullest extent possible, that they may be able to make a comfortable living for themselves and their families. All settlers should be studied as to their fitness for different kinds of farming. Many a failure had resulted from a good man and a good locality not suiting one another. Homestead land might be surveyed into long rectangles instead of square blocks. With farms containing 160 acres, a mile long and a quarter-mile wide, there would be, when fully occupied, eight homesteads on each mile of road. In addition to encouraging social life in the new settlements, it would reduce materially the mileage of roads required. If these farms could be sold to groups of families agreeable to one another, on easy terms of payment, but under a joint guarantee, there would be mutual co-operation and neighborly supervision, which would mean much to the individual.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Just about now a large number of people would like to lose their grippe.

There's heroes at the front and there's zeroes here.

There has been quite a slump in verandah parties during the past few days.

Premier Borden has shown himself to be in fine fettle at the opening of the Dominion session, and his initial speech, as usual, gave evidence of the fact that he is a broad-minded statesman.

WITH A CARAVAN ON THE DARK CONTINENT.

Those who have visited Central Africa know that the arrival of a strange white man in any of the villages is quite an exciting event. Speaking of his personal experiences in this respect in his book "Among the Primitive Bakongo," Mr. John H. Weeks says—

"Every one passed remarks on my personal appearance, and selected my physical peculiarities for special attention. There were allusions to my youthful appearance, to my neck and nose and absence of a beard. Of course I was unable to understand them but my colleagues were only too delighted to give a very literal translation of the observations none too quietly passed by the facetious on-lookers.

"By-and-by the crowd parted, and I saw two lads struggling bravely with a pig, which after much trouble, they brought to me and said, 'The King has heard of the arrival of the new white man, and does not want him to complain of hunger, so he has sent this pig to remove his hunger after the long journey.' I looked ruefully down at the squealing, struggling pig, wondering what it was all about; but one of my colleagues translated the speech to me, answered it in my behalf, and accepted the dirty squealing animal in my name. I was a Londoner, and had never owned a pig in all my life; hence I was not sorry when two of the school lads removed it from the house, and promised to look after it, in hope of some day eating a share of it.

"The town was agog with excitement. There was bartering for food; the haggling about the price of the cassava, the plantain or the peanuts offered for sale, and the worth of the trade goods offered in exchange; the interchange of news; but the greater of all interest to the local natives centered in the white man. The inhabitants of the village formed a semi-circle around his newly-horrored hut and watched his every movement. He strips off his jacket, turns down his collar around his neck, rolls up his sleeves, preparatory to a wash, and there are audible remarks about the whiteness of his skin. They eye him critically at his toilet.

"What is that stuff he is rubbing on his hands," asks one ignorant.

"That," replies a much-travelled man, "is what they call soap; see what a lather it makes." And there is much amused contempt in his tones as he gives the bit of information to the untravelled folk in his village.

The ablutions are finished, and the white man is now drying himself; and, while two or three spectators are passing remarks on the using of so good a cloth—towel—for such a purpose, a woman on the outskirts of the crowd asks—

"Is that all he is going to wash? Why, we wash all over!"

"And there is disdain mingled with disappointment, as she puts the question, and a suggestion that the white man is not as clean as he might be. The white man's boy does not like the question in tone, and, as his honor is hurt, he answers her in a very angry way, and, while the crowd generally that his master bathes regularly in his own town. The woman is answered and information, which by-and-by is distributed among the neighboring villages; the white man's reputation for cleanliness is saved.

A Recount.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Port Arthur, Ont., Jan. 18.—In answer to the application of the local option committee for a recount and scrutiny of the vote of January 3rd, Judge McKay granted the recount, but refused the scrutiny. The local option committee had hardly expected to overcome the shortage of eight votes from a three-fifths majority by a recount, but claimed they had nearly sixty cases of irregularities to present in connection with the scrutiny.

BLOCKADE OF GERMANY

which the United States made against the "Triton" theory of a submarine zone. These protests on the part of the United States were vitally necessary if all international law were not to be repealed and the rights of all neutrals reduced to such concessions as the belligerents might be disposed to grant as a favor.

The British Government is much mistaken if it thinks American feeling against the orders-in-council is the product of commercial greed or the lust for dollars. That may be the case with certain American exporters who have suffered but the popular resentment against the orders-in-council grew out of a feeling that the British Government was not playing the game fairly or according to the rules in dealing with American commerce. Whether individual Americans lose money or make money by an effective blockade is a matter of indifference to the belligerent; he is bound to respect it as a very big matter and the British Government can hardly afford to ignore the sentiment in the United States. To meet it involves merely an assumption of the risks of war, such as are incidental to every effective blockade.

"The key of the international law back of the orders-in-council is the kind of international law that Germany imposed when the official announcement of a submarine blockade was construed as the 'warning' mercantile ships are entitled to.

"Whenever the British Government establishes a lawful blockade of Germany, one that meets the accepted requirements of a blockade, neither the United States nor any other neutral government can complain. Great Britain cannot expect to eat her cake and have it too.

She Gives Them All the Credit

Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her Well.

Miss Gertrude Newman, After Two Years' Suffering, Tells How She Found a Complete Cure.

Boyd's Cove, Notre Dame Bay, Nfld., Jan. 17.—(Special)—After two years of weakness and suffering I am again in perfect health and I give all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

That is the statement made by Miss Gertrude M. Newman, an estimable young lady living here. She is so overjoyed with her recovery that she wants all suffering women to know how she found her cure.

"I had a cold to start with," Miss Newman continues, "and all things seemed to go from bad to worse. My back ached, I had cramps in my muscles, and I suffered from headaches. My sleep was broken and my refreshing, my eyes were pained and swollen and I perspired freely with the least exertion. I was always irritable and in the mornings I had a bitter taste in my mouth.

"Reading of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills I decided to give them a trial. I took a dozen boxes in all, and you can see how they helped me. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all suffering women.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are suffering woman's best friend.

A RUNAWAY

Between 5:30 and 6 o'clock last evening, the horse on Mr. J. A. Mathewson's sleigh became frightened and bolted down Dalhousie Street at full speed. When it arrived at the Market street corner, it started to turn up that street. The runners caught in the car tracks and Mr. Mathewson was thrown out. Owing to the snow, however, he only received a shaking up and a few bruises.

TARIFFS AFTER THE WAR.

London Daily Express—It must be apparent that the entire new set of difficulties with which the country is faced makes it inevitable that all old conclusions should be reconsidered. We have to think both of today and to-morrow for the cost of the war must continue for generations. It is therefore necessary that the internal trade should be preserved now and stimulated after peace has been signed. This can be only achieved by tariffs imposed on imports from neutral countries, and to be imposed on the enemy when trade is to be resumed. France and our other Allies are already advocating a Zollverein within the alliance, and such a scheme is demanded not for sentimental reasons, but for the preservation of economic stability.

AFTER THE WAR.

London Daily News—At the close of the war, therefore, the reabsorption or redistribution of six million workers must be affected. In point of fact that estimate is an understatement, for it takes no account of the readjustment of industry that the inevitable flow of international trade into new channels will entail. The menace of the situation need not be labored. At least there will be no disposition to question the assertion of Lord Paoli that if he had some excuse for being unprepared for war, we have none for being unprepared for peace; or the suggestive declaration of Lord Home that it was our business to mobilize a general staff of peace that should embody in a "Peace Book" the experience and foresight contained in the War Book by the Committee of Imperial Defence.

To The Editor

AN ANSWER.

Brantford, Jan. 17, 1916.

Editor of the Courier:

Under the heading "Completely Refuted," in to-night's edition of the Courier, I notice our friend, Mr. G. Pickles, assumes to know of all the purchases in connection with the recent Christmas entertainment given to the 84th Battalion. We have no fault to find with Lt. Col. Stewart, whom we esteem very highly, and I am sure he would be the last man to trade with any but loyal subjects "in times like these," as Nellie McClung would say. As for the pickers not knowing the facts, will Mr. Pickles tell us where the thirty odd gallons of ice cream that soldiers of the 84th ate at their entertainment was bought. If he is no kicker he ought to know; but he doesn't know, evidently; so I'll tell him. It was bought not from British born subject, and I question if from a naturalized Britisher. It certainly was made by a foreigner, and a recent importation from Buffalo at that, who is still doing business on Colborne street. If the above statements are not true, I am prepared to make a contribution to the Patriotic Fund. Address at the Courier office.

Yours,
One of the Kickers.

TROOPS OF THE ALLIES

from Sofia, the allied troops which landed at Phaleron, re-embarked after a short inspection of the city.

"Among the wild rumors as to the intentions of the allies," the message continues, "is the statement that they intend to advance to Athens whence King Constantine, his court and the government will retire in conformity with the king's desire to maintain armed neutrality.

In Sofia despatches the question is asked what former Premier Venizelos will do in that event; whether he will proclaim a republic, and whether the army will side with him. These reports are said to have occasioned undisguised alarm at the Bulgarian capital."

GREAT TREAT

The Young People's Guild of Zion Church enjoyed a rare treat last night when Miss Emma Jackson gave a lecture-recital on the life and work of Dr. William Henry Drummond. She reviewed his boyhood in Ireland, his coming to Montreal, where he entered college, later starting on his career as a physician in the country. He wrote many poems and she gave the following characteristic selections from his works: "The Habitant; de Stove Pipe Hole; When Albany Sang; Dominique; The Family Lament; Johnnie Courteau. An instrumental solo by Mr. D. L. Wright and a vocal solo, "The Wreck of the Julie Plant," by Miss M. Campion was also much appreciated by the large audience.

ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

Despite the very cold weather there was a very good attendance at the Guild last evening. Mr. H. Banner acted as chairman. The "Gazette," which was read by the editor, contained some very interesting news from Signal Hill, Underwood, who is now at the firing line. Rev. J. W. Gordon read a letter received from Sig. Underwood, which proved very interesting, especially to a number of the 84th Battalion present. A letter had also been received from Corp. A. Young, who is now in England. A piano duet by the Misses Mitchell was very much appreciated. The topic, "Amusements worth while," was taken by Miss H. Crawford.

DIVISION COURT

A division court was held this morning in the Court House, but no cases of importance were tried.

SOLDIERS CONCERT

The usual splendid soldiers concert will be held this evening in the Y.M. More local talent has been secured for the evening.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

The Junior O.B.A. team of the Y.M. will journey to Berlin on Friday. The line up will be the same as was used at the last game.

INDEBTED TO HIM

The 125th Battalion is indebted to the George A. Ward Printing Company for 3,000 printed parade states. These are not supplied by the Government.

FIRST "BANTAM"

The first recruit for the Bantam Battalion being formed in Toronto, was signed up here today. He will still here with the 125th until a sufficient number have been obtained to form a draft.

RECEIVED RIFLES

Forty Mark 3 Ross Rifles of the latest type, were received this morning, at the 125th Brant Battalion armory. These will be issued to the young men by instruction until the full number arrive.

JUST TWO CASES

Only two cases were tried this morning in police court by Magistrate Livingston. William Gee, for vagrancy, at his own request was sent to the Industrial Farm at Guelph for two months. A man was fined $3 for drunkenness.

IS GETTING BETTER

A telegram from the Secretary of the British War Office was received this morning at the 125th headquarters. It stated that Lieut. Harry Gene, Royal Engineers, had been admitted to the convalescent hospital at Palermo. The young officer's condition was not stated however.

HAS ENLISTED

Mr. W. Bailey, of the office staff of the Slingsby Mfg. Co., has enlisted with the 125th Brant Battalion. Mr. Bailey is District Chief Ranger for Brantford District No. 10, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, and is Secretary of Court Industry. His many Brantford friends will wish him luck.

FINE DONATION

One thousand pamphlets have been presented to the 125th Battalion by Mr. E. Sweet. They are divine service, and hymns and have been compiled especially by the camp chaplains office for Canadian Expeditionary forces. They are the latest issue and contain a short service with prayers and 41 suitable hymns.

SKATING PARTY

Last evening about 40 young people of Eagle Place held a very enjoyable skating party at the Alfred street rink. After enjoying a couple of hours of the great winter pastime, the young people went to the Blue Ribbon Cafe where the happy crowd sat down to an oyster supper. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards. A number of the 84th Battalion were guests of the young people. The happy gathering broke up at an early hour, after everyone had expressed thanks as having a very enjoyable time.

SUDDENLY DISAPPEARED

Mr. Walter Menzies, a resident and merchant of this city, residing on the corner of Market and West Sts., was notified last evening that his brother in Toronto, had disappeared suddenly. This brother's name is James Menzies. He has resided in Toronto for many years, and is well and favorably known here. Whether he has gone to Peterborough, his former home, or something unexpected happened him has not yet been ascertained. But the cause of his disappearance would seem to be clear. His wife has been seriously ill for some time at his home, 388 Wellesley street, and it is assumed that he has worried until his mind has become a blank. An unfortunate man was connected with the Methodist Book Room as a printer.

CORPORAL PATTE

Tells of Christmas Spent in Rest Biletts.

Somewhere's, December 29, '15 Dear Dad,—Here we are again, up in the support trenches, after spending Christmas at our rest biletts. Started two letters to you from there, but something always turned up and they were never finished. We had as fine a time as it was possible to have under the circumstances. Lots to eat in the way of plum puddings, cakes and candies. It rained most every day and the mud around there was knee deep; couldn't put your foot down any place without going in over four shoe top. We came out of the front line two days before Christmas, and we will go in on New Year's eve, so you see we will be spending New Year's Day watching Fritz. Came out of the trenches fairly lucky last time, having only two casualties, two of our boys being wounded by a shrapnel shell which burst right over our trench. They were not seriously injured, though both having nice blighties. That is a great expression over here. If a fellow is wounded not seriously, he has a nice blighty, which means a trip to England and a couple of months in hospitals and convalescent homes. Saw one of our fellows who had been shot through the shoulder and was waiting for the motor ambulance to take him away. An English Tommy came along, looked him over and said: "Strike me pink, kid; I'll give you ten quid for that." You sure do hear some funny remarks going around.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID

Items of Interest Are Added to the Annual Reports Recently Presented.

To the reports recently published of the annual meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid on Friday, the 14th, a few business and other items might be added.

Fees were received from Mrs. McCann of Cainsville, and from Miss McEwen, Mt. Pleasant, and a Christmas donation of $10 from Mr. G. H. Muirhead, Toronto.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. WATEROUS. The yearly reports were then read and the retiring president, Mrs. Waterous, having vacated the chair, Mrs. Cummings Nelles, convener of the nominating committee, assumed charge and read the following address:

"Every member of the W.H.A. feels so grateful to Mrs. Waterous, that Mrs. J. E. Waterous' nine years, as president has meant to the society, that a vote of thanks seems almost an unnecessary formality.

Of her all realizations in the work, planning, her constant thought and unfailing tact, much of our work would have been impossible—nothing daunted her, obstacles only roused greater determination to succeed. Her time and strength have always been given to the society without stint,—often when she could ill afford to give,—and the debt of gratitude it owes her cannot be told. But we do tender to her our most heartfelt thanks, and express the hope that as Honorary President and member of the executive, she will continue to give the W.H.A. the benefit of her council and advice."

Mrs. Schell moved and Mrs. Digby seconded a motion complimentary of all the great helpers in the work, who were not, and could not be, too eulogistic. This motion was carried by a standing vote. Mrs. Waterous responded in feeling terms expressive of her great pleasure in the work, and thanks to officers, executive and members for their sympathetic cooperation at all times.

OTHER BUSINESS. The scrutineers appointed were: Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Bruce Gordon, Miss Wye. The election was by ballot, and contests were on in nearly all the offices. Mrs. Livingston, 1st vice-president, took the chair and votes of thanks were tendered to the nominating committee, scrutineers and to Mr. Hilton McKay for preparing ballot papers.

The collectors for last year were all re-appointed, with several additions in new districts. A list will be pushed after the next meeting. The office of President is now vacant, and all members, whether active or not, are entitled to send in written, and signed, nominations for the office. Nominations to do so must be sent to the office on or before Monday in January. These nominations to be sent to the secretary, Mrs. T. Wade, Brant Avenue.

At the hospital during the current month are Mesdames Mitchell and Jackson.

In Connection With Gifts Sent by Them to Front.

Miss Van Norman, Secretary Brant Chapter, I. O. D. E.

Dear Miss Van Norman: Many thanks for the jelly, fruit, etc. sent to the 7th C. M. R. The men are having it to-day for their Christmas dinner, and I am sure they will enjoy it. Thanking you again, and wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year, I am, Yours sincerely, J. B. STRATFORD.

Francis, 26th Dec., 1915. Miss Van Norman, Secretary Brant Chapter, I. O. D. E.

Dear Miss Van Norman: The barrels of fruit and jelly so kindly sent with best wishes by the Brant Chapter as a Christmas remembrance for the Brantford boys of the Front Contingent, arrived some days ago, and the contents have been distributed. It was indeed kind of you to remember us, and I assure you that your gift was greatly enjoyed. The Officers, N.C.O.'s and men thank you for your remembrance and send their best wishes to the Brant Chapter for a Happy New Year. Sincerely, T. P. JONES, Major, and in Command 4th Can. Batt.

Francis, Dec. 21st, 1915. Miss Van Norman, Secretary Brant Chapter, I. O. D. E.

Dear Miss Van Norman: I wish on behalf of the men and myself to express many thanks to the I. O. D. E. for their very welcome Christmas gift. The barrel of jelly arrived when we were up on the front line, and as we have very inadequate transport facilities, I was unable to hold it intact for us. I divided it up between all the 25th men in the different squadrons. It worked out one jar to two men. I am sure the men appreciated it, and they had just completed a hard tour of the trenches. The box of extras has not yet arrived but I notified Miss Plummer of the Field Contingent to that effect. Personally I thank the I. O. D. E. for their very useful present to myself. We have all received a number of boxes lately and I can tell you we are living de luxe.

We are looking forward to a quiet time at Christmas, but we notice by the papers that the Germans are not going to observe the holiday. With kindest regards to yourself and others associated with you in the I. O. D. E. Yours very sincerely, LIEUT. HARVEY COCKSHUTT, 25th December, 1915.

GREAT HOCKEY GAME

Who says "they never come back." It was demonstrated last evening by the Verity Plow Co's Foremen that it is possible to come back when teams from their number lined up for a hockey match at 6 p.m. in Alfred Street Rink, and it was a variety of old boys as their skates struck the ice, many of them for the first time in 10 years, and it was not many minutes till the game was in full swing and going at a fast clip. Of course many of them struck the ice with more than their skates, but it was done with such easy grace that the audience took it for their entertainment and enjoyed it accordingly. The stars of the evening were W. Davidson, who played a fast, strong game, and F. Hartley and R. Long, who also played well, while J. Kerr was the Stonewall Jackson of the hour, with H. Bond a close second. Hugh Batson showed fond affection for the goal post and stuck a tight Kingston and Frinter guarded their respective goals with keen judgment and saved the situation many times from quick rushes of Davidson and Clement. Other members of the teams played well and worked hard, in fact, on Clement's last rush as he gracefully hit the ice as the puck hit the net, he remarked that all he could see was "stars." The final score was 8 to 2 in favor of the team captained by Geo. Davidson, who played his position with all his old time diamond spirit. Line-up:—

Capt. W. Davidson, rover; J. Kerr, centre; S. Batson, right wing; J. Bedford, left wing; H. Bowden and W. Wilbee, cover; H. Batson, point; F. Kingston, goal.

THREE IN A ROW FOR BERLIN TEAM

Waterloo Acadians Were Defeated in Senior O.H.A. Match.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Berlin seniors made three in a row last night when they defeated the Waterloo Acadians here by the score of 6 to 2 in what was two periods of hockey and one of shinny. Berlin excelled in team play, and practically all of their goals were scored on fast combination rushes from end to end. The Acadians, while they put up good play individually, could not compete with the local machine, and whenever they did manage to break through Mainesworth was right on deck. The locals played an all star game. Hiller was responsible for four tallies, but the whole team aided in getting them there. Cody started for Acadians. The defence men played a stellar game, and Zinkm knocked out a good many that looked sure shots.

The second period was twenty minutes of the roughest hockey seen here this winter. It was getting the man not the puck. They came back with a clean break in the final section, and put up a stiff fight for the honors.

Referee—Benjamin Davidson, Toronto.

ELMIRA SENIORS WON ON PRESTON ICE

Preston, Jan. 18.—In the senior O.H.A. game here last night between Elmira and Preston Elmira by means of strong defence and good fast play outscored the local team by 7 to 1. The ice was in excellent condition, and the game fast, with some rough work on both sides.

The first period opened with Elmira had the best of it, but neither succeeded in scoring, although the goalkeepers were kept busy. The Elmira team had things pretty much their own way in the second period, scoring their first in five minutes, with one man off each side, by getting through the local defence. Their second was scored on a lone rush. They also scored two more in this period, making the score 4 to 0. Elmira defence work was remarkably good.

Elmira started the third period by a lone rush by Otto, who got their fifth. The sixth followed soon after. Schlaegel and Bowman then got through their defence, but were unable to score. Near the end of the game Arno Bowman put in Preston's first and only goal on a shot from the side. The local men being unable to break through the defence took to shooting from the side, and kept Elmira busy. In the last three minutes E. Ruppel of Elmira broke away, and added their 7th.

STRONG FINISH BY ELECTRICS
Peterboro, Jan. 18.—The 3rd Battalion team gave the Electrics a big scare last night, but with a lead of 2 to 0 at the start of the third period, they fagged and were beaten out by 4 to 3. Montgomery scored all three goals for the visitors. Three junior players were on the electric line-up.

BELLEVILLE WON
Belleville, Jan. 18.—An intermediate O. H. A. match was played here last night between teams of the 23rd Battery of Kingston and the Belleville team. The result was a win for the Belleville team by a score of 12 to 1. In the first period the score was 3 to 1, in favor of Belleville, and this was the only period in which the Battery was able to score. The match was decidedly one-sided in favor of Belleville.

MUST NOT THROW STICK.

President Emmett Quinn of the National Hockey Association announced Saturday evening that new rule would go into effect at midnight concerning the throwing of sticks. In the first period of the Ottawa-Canadian game Frank Nighbor poked the puck away from Producers, dodged McNamara and was going in on the nets when "Goldie" threw his stick and robbed Ottawa of a sure goal.

Between the first and second sessions there was a conference of the N. H. A. officials, after which it was announced that far stricter penalties would be handed out for offences. They are as follows: Stick throwing in the first period will be punished by a match foul, which keeps the offender out of the balance of the game.

Stick throwing in the second period, match foul and a fine of $5.

Stick throwing in the third period, fine of $5, match foul and suspension for one game.

Stick throwing in two games in third period, match foul, fine and banishment from the league.

"That's the only way to stop it," said president Emmett Quinn. "Stick throwing is the most unsportsmanlike foul a man could commit. It must be checked at once."

"Goldie" Producers has already drawn three majors for hurling his stick, while Corbeau has two, Canadians appearing to have made a practice of it. Tripping near the goal will also merit a match foul.

HOCKEY GOSSIP.

Riversides made strenuous efforts last week to secure Watson, the clever centre of St. Andrew's College, but this player played for his college on Saturday afternoon in the junior O. H. A. series, and therefore is not now eligible for the East End Club.

Had the Riversides secured him they certainly would have rounded out a great team, as they would have shoved Crane back on the defence with Merrick.

Argentans have a valuable man in Hicks, the former junior player of the Simcoes. He put up a very clever game on Saturday night against the 40th Battery.

Nighbor, the former Toronto player, and now with Ottawa, was the star of the Ottawa-Canadian game on Saturday night at Montreal.

GORDON MURRAY SIGNS WITH T. R. AND A. A.

T. R. and A. A. have strengthened for their senior O. H. A. game last night by signing up Gordon Murray, the former Toronto Canoe Club right wing. This gives the Black and White an evenly balanced forward line, and incidentally they should furnish a stiffer argument from now on.

On form Argos look like winners tonight, but Saturday's overtime game may have taken a lot out of them.

AURA LEE JUNIORS AT MARKHAM BY 14 TO 6.

Markham, Jan. 18.—The largest crowd of the season turned out last night to see the Markham junior O. H. A. team go down to defeat before the husky Aura Lee team of Toronto by the score of 14 to 6. This score does not fairly indicate the play, as the pace at which the game was played was at all times fast and furious. Markham held the visitors to an even score well into the second period, when the superior combination of Aura Lee began to tell, and this period ended 8 to 4, the score at the end of the first period being 1 to 1. In the last period the home boys made every effort to overcome their rivals, raining shot after shot on their goal, but the work of Wilkinson in the Aura Lee goal prevented this. Great credit is due to the Markham boys for the way they held their opponents, who are heralded as the coming junior O. H. A. champions. The game was clean throughout and almost entirely free of any rough work.

OTTAWA DEFEATED BY THE WANDERERS.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Wanderers lengthened their lead in the N.H.A. race at the Arena last night, when they defeated the Ottawas by a score of 7 to 3 after a rough, hard game. Wanderers secured a lead of two to nothing in the first period, and though Ottawa outscored them 2 to 1 in the second, the Red Bands came back in the third with four goals in five minutes, clinching it. Wanderers played great hockey at times, with Ode and Sprague Cleghorn and Roberts as the outstanding stars, while all the Ottawas were off color, apparently suffering from the effects of the Saturday game against the Canadiens. Gerard was the only local man to shine, though Ross worked desperately. In the second period

Gerard scored for Ottawa from a side shot, but Wanderers disputed the goal and Roberts struck Umpire Buterworth on the chin with his stick, inflicting a nasty gash. He was not penalized.

National Commission to be Abolished?

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Reorganization of the National Commission, the Supreme Court of baseball, and elimination of Garry Herrmann as its chairman, was spoken of yesterday in an article in the Chicago Daily News, which said—

"Dissolution of the National Commission and reorganization under a new regime is the plan of the American League. This includes the passing of Garry Herrmann as chairman of the Supreme Court of baseball."

The News quoted President Johnson of the league as favoring a "change in the methods of conducting baseball business."

President Johnson could not be reached for an interview on the report.

Benny Kauff Goes to the Giants

New York, Jan. 18.—At last the Giants have landed Benny Kauff. The slugging Federal league player yesterday was turned over to the New York Nationals by Harry F. Sinclair, a millionaire oilman, who held an option on his services.

The move consideration was not divulged by Owner Harry Hempstead. He said that was a secret between Sinclair and himself.

Two other Federalists turned over to the Giants by Sinclair are W. A. Rarden, catcher of New York, and Fred Anderson, Buffalo pitcher.

The players' signatures have not been received despite the transfer, but this will come about in the regular course of events.

Kauff's transfer to the Giants and Lee Magee's signing up with the Yanks last week constitute two of the biggest baseball deals of the winter league season. Both men should prove a tower of strength to the two local teams.

Phillies May Lose Star Battery

Reports are current that both ends of the Phillies' star battery—Alexander and Killifer—are in bad physical condition and neither may be able to play this season.

Alexander, who hurt his arm nearly a month before the end of the 1915 season, has been considerably troubled with it ever since and seems unable to make it swing properly when working out at his home. Killifer's shoulder went to the bad some time before the close of the campaign, and he could not take part in the world's series except as a pinch hitter in the last game, and the shoulder has not shown any improvement since. Without this battery the Phillies would have finished in the ruck last year, and if the two of them are unable to toe the scratch in the spring the team's chances of repeating will be greatly lessened.

EFFORTS TO AID FEDERALS.
It begins to look very much as if a concerted campaign is being conducted to aid the Federal League club owners in getting rid of their players. It is really remarkable the amount of publicity some of the Fed. players are getting, and it is hard to believe that all of it is spontaneous. Perhaps there is some inspiration behind it. Men like Konetchy, Oakes, Mowrey, Knabe and others are being boosted to the skies.

Big Grain Purchase.

New York, Jan. 17.—A news agency dispatch from Bucharest, published here to-day, says:

"An English syndicate to-day closed a deal for the purchase of eighty thousand carloads of Roumanian grain, paying $50,000,000 in gold. The entire Roumanian grain surplus will be purchased by the Allies, it is understood here, in conformity with the plan of 'starving out' Germany."

THE RING

PROPOSED BOUT BETWEEN WILLARD AND MORAN

New York, Jan. 18.—The proposed bout between Willard and Frank Moran is of unusual interest in that it brings to bear upon the heavyweight title several angles which are unusual in ring contests wherein this title has been involved. Under the laws of the state of New York the boxers will meet in what is termed a ten-round sparring exhibition without decision, and if both men are on their feet at the expiration of thirty minutes of boxing future ring records will carry the bout as a no-decision contest.

Consequently the only way in which the heavyweight championship could pass from Willard, the holder, to Moran would be for the latter to knock out his opponent or win on a foul so deliberate that there could be no question as to its intent. It can be seen therefore that the chief interest in the contest hinges on the possibility of either Willard or Moran knocking out his opponent, and thus demonstrating decisive supremacy.

Since the days when heavyweights first donned gloves and fought under Queensbury rules, the ring records show that knockouts in bouts in which champions have participated, have averaged well over ten rounds notwithstanding that the list includes such powerful hitters as Jeffries, Sharkey, Johnson and Sullivan. Going back to the year 1882 when Corbett won from Sullivan in 21 rounds, the list of heavyweights who have fought titleholders fought eighteen battles in which the championship was at stake.

These contests include those in which the latter terminated the bout out or a referee's decision. All told, 242 rounds were fought and the average rounds to a knockout was approximately 13 1/2. In this list of battles are included several in which poor opponents were quickly disposed of, such as the Jeffries-Munroe and Burns-Squires bouts. When the list is pruned to those in which the title actually passed, the average is still higher. From the time Corbett disposed of Sullivan until Willard punched Johnson into the championship class, seven title holders rose and fell and the total number of rounds necessary in the championship bouts was 118, which gives an average of very close to seventeen rounds per title battle.

From these figures it will be seen that the chances of a knockout in the ten round bout between Willard and Moran are against such a feat. The records of the boxers themselves when taken in connection with the performance of the prospective opponent would appear to be against the scoring of a knockout inside ten rounds.

Moran has fought 42 bouts, winning nineteen or about 45 per cent. by knockouts and the average duration of bouts ending in a knockout was five rounds.

Willard has engaged in thirty battles, eighteen of which he won by the K.O. route, giving him an average of about sixty per cent. The average of rounds to knockouts in the champion's case is 6 2/3 for these eighteen bouts. That either Willard or Moran can fight up to these averages when faced by an opponent of the calibre that he will be called upon to meet in this contest, is most unlikely.

FOUR LIVES WERE LOST IN A FIRE AT BRANDON

Many Employees Jumped From The Third Storey.

Brandon, Jan. 18.—Two bodies have been recovered and two others lie buried in the ice-covered ruins of the Syndicate Block, which was one of Brandon's finest business blocks yesterday, now a steaming ruin. The bodies recovered are those of Miss McCort and Clarence Walker.

When the fire broke out Walker was on a street car. He rushed from it into the burning building to the aid of some of the employees, and his body was found not far from that of Miss McCort in what had originally been the office.

The fire broke out from an unknown cause in Doig, Rankin and Robertson's departmental store, and spread so rapidly that many of the fifty employees had to jump from the third storey windows. In fifteen minutes it was all ablaze. Firemen made a gallant struggle, but their efforts and the brick fire wall were unavailing to keep the blaze from spreading to N. W. Ball's men's furnishings and MacPherson and Bedford's furniture and undertaking establishments.

All Women Need
a corrective, occasionally, to right a disordered stomach, which is the cause of so much sick headache, nervousness and sleepless nights. Quick relief from stomach troubles is assured by promptly taking a dose or two of Beecham's Pills.
They act gently on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, assisting and regulating these organs, and keeping them in a healthy condition. These famous pills are vegetable in composition—therefore, harmless, have no disagreeable after-effects and are not habit-forming.
A box of Beecham's Pills in the house is a protection against the many annoying troubles caused by stomach ills, and lays the foundation For Better Health.
Prepared only by Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Lancashire, England. Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes, 25c each.

Temperance Measures in War Time
THOSE who would enforce prohibitory law throughout the length and breadth of Ontario, under the guise of a war measure, should turn to the great European nations at war and learn what they are doing in the cause of TEMPERANCE, as a contributory factor in the winning of the war.
The Citizens' Committee of One Hundred recently made public statement regarding such measures, but twisted the facts until it looked as though the various countries at war were dry.
HERE ARE THE STRAIGHT FACTS:

ENGLAND
The Committee stated that in England the sale of liquor has been curtailed to five and one-half hours per day. This is only true in Munitions areas, and does not apply to the rest of the country. Indeed, in several districts the dissatisfaction caused by such penalization has caused the Government to withdraw several drastic proposals.
The British Government serves out to its soldiers 2 1/2 ounces of rum twice a week, with an additional half ration on each of the other days to the men in the trenches, while during the very bad weather the full ration of 2 1/2 ounces has been given daily to the men in the trenches. It is worthy of note that in cases where the hours of sale have been reduced the British Government have compensated the license holders affected, thus recognizing in principle the right of the latter to proper compensation.

RUSSIA
Russia's contribution to temperance reform is the abolition of the manufacture and sale of vodka, a cheap and dangerous spirit. Whether the results will be entirely satisfactory is yet in question, owing to the enormous increase in illicit stills, manufacturing vodka, wood alcohol and other noxious preparations. The element of compensation does not enter into the Russian question, as the manufacture of vodka was a Government monopoly.
The Minister of Commerce recommends the sale of beer and wines containing not more than 16 per cent. of alcohol. Ten thousand bottles of wine per day were distributed among the troops at Warsaw.

FRANCE
Apart from the abolition of absinthe, a very dangerous spirit, the French Government has not adopted prohibitory measures. In fact, the French soldiers are regularly supplied with wine, and, at times, spirits. The entrance of beer and wines into towns and cities of France is facilitated by the removal of the octroi duties.
In the matter of compensation the French Government has paid almost $3,000,000 to those injured by the abolition of absinthe.

BELGIUM
The last statistics supplied by Belgium form interesting reading, in view of the outstanding vigor and valor of her people. Apart from wines and spirits, the annual consumption of beer per capita in Belgium was 88 gallons—over a gallon a week—an astounding figure when one considers the corresponding figure in Canada is less than seven gallons per annum.

GERMANY
Germany might also be cited, but, unlike the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred, we do not care to go to our ENEMY to support our cause.

If in these countries where the problems of the war are closer home, Prohibition is not thought necessary, why does the Committee of One Hundred introduce Prohibition to Ontario as a Necessary War Measure?

JAEGER'S AGENT 4 MARKET ST.

The Diamond From the Sky

By ROY L. MCCARDELL

Copyright, 1915, by Roy L. McCardell

With his rising fortunes in the west, Arthur kept his secret agent in Richmond, Blake, the detective, well supplied with funds, though cautioned to silence, a caution hardly necessary with the taciturn Blake, the man behind the scene, who seemingly was at the bidding of all and yet was ever the master of his own deep methods.

A bootblack, a well grown youth of twenty, loitered by the Randolph mansion the day of Esther's return with Mrs. Randolph and Blair Stanley. A bootblack hastened to the private office of Detective Tom Blake and breathlessly reported the presence of Esther and of Blair in Richmond. Blake took half a dozen banknotes of large denomination from his wallet and enclosed them in a large plain envelope with a note that read, "Sent by Arthur to be used as necessary."

Twenty minutes later the bootblack furtively climbed the wistaria vine to Esther's window and a moment later dropped unseen down beside the Randolph mansion and hurried away. A little later Esther found on her bureau by the window the large envelope with the banknotes and the mysterious message.

Esther kissed the note because it seemed almost the personal proximity of Arthur. The money, which was $1,000, hardly concerned her at all except that she realized it would smooth the path of Quabba to the west in seeking Arthur. That Arthur knew where she was and had strong though secret influences working in her behalf was all well enough perhaps in his masculine manner of thinking.

But in Esther the eternal feminine manifested itself in the desire to be near the one she loved. Nothing else mattered.

Just then Mrs. Randolph's maid, the smiling Fifi, entered with a vase of Esther's favorite roses, chattering her happiness at seeing Esther again. Esther, who had secreted the note and the money at Fifi's knock, asked the maid to place the flowers in the window.

It was the old signal for Quabba, and when that faithful soul stole through the street on the watch for some sign from his young mistress he saw the signal, and Clarence, the monkey, was sent up the wistaria for Esther's message.

Clarence clambered down again with half the money that had been in the mysteriously placed envelope and with it a scribbled message requesting Quabba to go at once to Los Angeles to locate Arthur, where Esther had just directly heard of him. Quabba smiled, kissed his hand and doffed his cap to his fair young mistress at the window and hurried away.

But much was to happen ere Quabba left Richmond. Secretly he went to a street corner adjoining Clarence, the monkey, and Quabba, caused the latter to step in the path of a trolley car. Immediately he was struck and hurt, but not badly.

Blair Stanley had seen Quabba turn round the corner of the Randolph mansion and had followed him at a distance, wondering what might be the hunchback's reason for loitering near where Esther was, Blair, the traitor, intent upon his own query, did not notice that he in turn was trailed by a bootblack, a well grown youth of twenty. When Quabba was knocked down by the trolley and bruised and dazed Blair was among the first to come to his assistance. Quabba was able to give the address of his lodgings and to refuse to go to a hospital. He and Clarence, the monkey, were placed in a taxi and were driven off, to the cheers of the multitude, who regarded them in the light of heroes for the dangers they had passed.

It was Blair's perverse nature that saw in the accident a reckless way to trap Esther and search for the Stanley document his mother believed that Esther always carried with her.

He scribbled a note and, seeking a messenger, his eyes lit upon the bootblack. The note was to Esther and was written as though by a stranger witnessing the accident to Quabba. It gave the address Quabba had given after the accident and it requested Esther to come to see the injured man, reading as though Quabba had asked the stranger to send the word.

The bootblack bore the message promptly to his employer, Blake, the detective. That astute man behind the scenes calmly assumed the bootblack's guise and delivered the note in person. Mrs. Randolph plaintively objected to Esther's going alone to such a part of town as the address of Quabba's lodgings. But it was broad day and Esther laughed at her fears.

Meanwhile Blair Stanley had proceeded to the lodging house and, aided by the convincing argument of a ten dollar bill, had no trouble in convincing the landlady that he was a detective expecting to trap a shoplifter.

Blair proceeded to Quabba's room and, finding Quabba dazed with pain, bound and gagged him. It was an adventure just to Blair's liking. He had slipped on a mask before surprising and overpowering Quabba, and when Esther's light step was heard at the door, directed by the landlady on the landing below. Blair, still masked, opened the door and dragged Esther within.

If Blair had expected an easy victim he found he had caught a Tartar. Esther fought like a little tigress, and every effort Blair made to search her for the Stanley document was repulsed.

Blair's perverse nature rejoiced in this vigorous defense of the slight but wiry girl. Quabba struggled to free himself to assist Esther, but just then the door opened and a stalwart bootblack, who was none other than Tom Blake, the detective, joined in the fray. He owed Blair something on an old score, and right merrily he proceeded to pay it off.

Blair fought like a madman. And then Quabba, losing himself from his bonds and, forgetting the brags of his accident, joined in the melee. Blair was young and strong. Physically he was a match for the detective, even though the latter was aided by the active and supple Quabba.

The three sided fight boiled out of Quabba's shabby room and down the rickety old staircase. Halfway down the stairs, the batustrade on the upper landing having already given way, the detective and Quabba, punching, kicking and shoving, pushed Blair out against the rail.

The entire balustrade, banisters and all, broke out and fell over, and Blair went down with them backward and struck with a heavy thud on the landing at the side of the stairs in the corridor below.

Esther, with Quabba and Blake, ran down the stairs through the dust and wreckage beside the huddled insensible form of the masked man.

The detective lifted up the mask and laughed. Then, speaking still as a "booby," he said: "You recognize the gent? Let's take the lady away before the police come."

Old World Notes

The Dublin Police seized a large quantity of military equipment, ammunition, and some rifles at a house in Frownes street, Dublin, a few days ago. It is understood that the seizure took place at the direction of the military authorities. The equipment was taken to the Lower Castle Yard.

The Penny Dinners committee's report is a creditable record of practical sympathy with the very poor of Dundee. A warm meal, a rest, and a shelter are provided for applicants every week-day, between the hours of twelve and three o'clock all for a penny. The meals sold during the year fall only a trifle short of 20,000.

The number of emigrants from Irish ports according to a statement just issued by the Registrar-General, up to the end of November shows a decrease of 9,224, as compared with the corresponding eleven months of 1914. The provinces, so far as increase or decrease during the eleven months of this year, stand as follows: Increase—Leinster, 68. Decreases—Munster, 4,019; Ulster, 2,816; Connaught, 2,457.

An experimental farm for poultry has been established at Bridgmill, Wigtownshire, Scotland. The farm has been stocked with Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds. It is under the control of the West of Scotland Agricultural College and has been placed under the charge of a woman. The farm has been inaugurated with the object of demonstrating to farmers and poultry keepers the best methods of making the industry remunerative.

The revival of coursing in Dublin is at present engaging the attention of some leading Irish sportsmen. It is more than likely that next season one of the most valuable stakes ever competed for by greyhounds in Ireland will be run for. A Dublin gentleman has come forward with the offer of a massive, heavily embossed, two-handled silver cup, weighing 320 ounces and valued at 100 guineas, for competition at the inaugural meeting. A small syndicate will be formed for the purpose of leasing suitable land

A LIFETIME OF SICKNESS

Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

PALMERSTON, ONT., June 20th, 1914.

"Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives," your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, "I am taking Fruit-a-tives." He said, "Fruit-a-tives make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can."

in the vicinity of Dublin, stocking it with game, and laying out an up-to-date trial ground and coursing ground.

An earth tremor was experienced the other Sunday morning in the Arrochar and Tarbat districts, lying between Loch Lomond and Loch Long. This is the third earthquake in the district within recent years, but the inhabitants state that the recent one was the most severe. The occurrence was described as a crash, as if in the houses some heavy article had been dumped down on the floor. In Arrochar village a number of windows were broken and ceilings cracked.

An old custom was resorted to in the churches of Aberdeen the other Sunday night. The whole town was without light as the men at the local church works were on strike. Good churchgoers, however, overcame this difficulty by appearing for the evening service each with a candle in hand, which they placed on the book-board in front of them. Many of the older members of the churches remembered when this was the general custom, and everyone attended service with a "farthing dip."

The tinning industry in Scotland, says the Fishery Board's report, exhibited a decline last year, from 49,982 barrels in 1913 to 46,731 barrels, more than one-half of the total being contributed by Aberdeen, where seven firms were engaged in the industry. The volume of the trade is largely regulated by the price of the fresh herrings, as once this rises above 20s a cran the margins of profit becomes insignificant. The fish is put up in oval and in square tins, with tomato sauce, and each tin is examined by a Board of Trade official, who, if the condition is found satisfactory affixes an official label, with the date, to the tin. The introduction of a new machine for the sealing of the tins enabled the packers to dispense with the labor of thirty tinsmiths. The output of the machine is 20,000 tins a day. The principal distributing centre is London, but exports are also dispatched from Glasgow.
